

CHRISTMAS BENEFIT

GLENDALE ELKS TO PRESENT ALL-STAR VAUDEVILLE PERFORMANCE

The Glendale Lodge of Elks are preparing to duplicate their big success of last year when they gave an all-star vaudeville show. It is seldom so much talent of the kind appears in one evening as the Elks were able to present at their last concert. Exalted Ruler George H. Melford, who is director of the Lasky Studios; James Horne of the Kalem Company and other members of the lodge were able to procure many of the leading lights of the movie world and an equally fine program is being prepared for the show which will be given on the evening of December 8 at the Palace Grand. Among the talent already secured appear the names of Miss Fannie Ward and Jack Deas, Mr. and Mrs. James Neil, Miss Mae Murray, Mr. Theodore Roberts, Mr. George H. Melford and about twenty others. Every act will be a star act.

Very elaborate advertising programs are being prepared for this event and those who wish to be represented should apply to C. O. Pulliam. The surplus proceeds of this show will be used by the Elks in their Christmas charity work.

RED CROSS PARTY

The card party given Friday evening under the auspices of the Glendale branch of the British Red Cross Society was a very successful and a very enjoyable affair. It was given at the pretty home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith, No. 110 South Louise, and forty guests participated. Progressive Five Hundred was the game of the evening, handsome prizes being awarded to Mrs. Kimberly and Mr. Pulliam. Following the games dainty refreshments were served. The hostess was assisted in receiving and entertaining the guests by Mrs. H. H. Farries, Mrs. Reginald Whitaker, Mrs. Frank England, Mrs. Helen I. Campbell, Miss Ina Whitaker, Miss Rosalie England and Miss Dewar. Proceeds of the affair were $10.50 and some who were prevented from attending by sickness or other engagements have signified their intention of contributing to the fund which will be devoted to the Red Cross work. At the next regular meeting of the Glendale branch in St. Mark's Guild hall next Monday the net receipts of Friday night's affair will be announced.

CELEBRATION OF BIRTHDAY

C. G. Farrow, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Farrow, celebrated his twelfth birthday with a party at the home of his parents, 1314 Doran street, from 8 to 10 o'clock Friday evening, when a number of his young friends gathered to help make the occasion a happy one and to be long remembered. The evening was spent in games, the old-fashioned Virginia reel and other pastimes. Delicious refreshments were served, the table decorations, favors and place cards, as well as the house decorations all being suggestive of Christmas and the festive holiday season. The cutting of the birthday cake caused considerable merriment among the young folks, Edytha Atkinson cutting the ring, Stanley Walker the dime and Robert White, Jr., the thimble. The first prizes for the evening's games were won by Ruby Haun and Maynard Toll, and the consolation prizes by Robert White, Jr., and Gladys Peckham. The young host received many beautiful birthday gifts. Those present were Misses Ruby Haun, Mildred Stanford, Dorothy Brown, Gladys Peckham, Vanita Brannus, Orrel Heeper, Edytha Atkinson and Alice Farrow; Masters Stanley Walker, Walther Puffer, Maynard Toll, Victor Colburn, Robert White, Jr., Francis Read and C. G. Farrow, Jr.

THE CHAMPION GAME

The Broadway and Columbus, avenue elevens met at the Third street school to decide the soccer football championship of the Glendale elementary schools.

It was a hotly contested game, resulting in the score of 1 to 1 which gave the Columbus avenue school the championship. It was the first goal to pass between the Columbus avenue goal posts this season.

TREE THOUGHTS

MR. HARTMANN TELLS OF SOME INTERESTING TREES OF HISTORY

Trees have in all ages exercised a great influence on the human race. In the early dawn of history the Druid centered his worship about the sacred oak and the Germanic tribes in their primeval forest glades venerated the pine tree. And today even the most matter-of-fact tourist gazes with awe on the giant trees of the Yosemite. What man could fail to feel puny and inconsequential while contemplating the Sequoias of California, "Nature's Forest Masterpieces," or the famous live oak in Audubon Park, New Orleans, said to be the largest in the world. Then there is that veteran of trees, the great Tule tree at Mitla, Mexico, estimated to be 150 centuries old. This patriarch may have watched the evolution of ape to Aryan and must have been of philosophic age when Adam and Eve and the serpent played their tragedy of the triangle beneath the tree of knowledge. This giant stopped growing about 400 years ago but is still in a green old age. Again what a thrill of romance is conjured up by the words "Cedars of Lebanon," "Royal oaks of England" or Macbeth's nemesis "Birnam Wood."

But aside from being merely interesting, trees are one of our most valuable possessions. There is no part of a tree that is worthless. Every portion may be converted into something for our use. Our fathers built their battle ships of wood and the early explorers roamed the seven seas in their wooden barks. Our own age manufactures an unbelievable number of articles, from a toothpick to a box car, from mouse traps to mansions, grand pianos, railroad ties, sandals, paper, garments, medicine, liquors, food and fuel.

It would seem then impossible for anyone to disregard the duty of planting trees. For the tree is a living monument, enduring for generations after the memory of the planter has faded from human recollection. For although, with few exceptions, trees have their diseases and enemies, modern tree surgery is working wonders in prolonging their lives and usefulness.

In this campaign of tree planting little has been said about planting fruit trees, although generally speaking they are the most profitable investment. To show how lucrative fruit growing is the United States Department of Agriculture cites the instance of a resident of Whittier, Los Angeles county, who gathered from a single avocado tree 3000 pears. These, together with the scions for budding from that tree, which he also sold, netted him the handsome sum of $3200 up to 1912.

In this genial climate many varieties of fruits and nuts attain perfection. Why not then plant fruit trees along some of our streets and highways? In a recent issue of the London Daily Mail appeared the following item: "The banks of the German State Railways are all planted with fruit bearing trees and it is announced that this season's crop will not, as is the usual custom, be put up to auction but will be reserved for the railroad employees at merely nominal prices, providing they do not resell it." Fruit trees are planted along both sides of all highways in Germany and the crop is auctioned off when nearing maturity. Were we to follow this example, in addition to having attractive and pleasantly shaded roads, the problem of raising revenue for their upkeep would also be solved.

MAURICE B. HARTMANN,
1020 Chestnut street.

PARTY TONIGHT

The monthly party of the Bird and Flower Club will be held this evening as usual at the home of Mrs. Nanno Woods, No. 1222 Milford street, between the hours of 7 and 9. All members of the club and their parents are welcome. Mrs. Woods has arranged a new game for the occasion, and a delightful time is anticipated. During the month of December no meetings of the club will be held. The two most active leaders, Mrs. Nanno Woods and Mrs. H. C. Ackley have devoted one afternoon every week since the end of June to the young people of Glendale, and they feel the need of a few Saturday afternoons to attend to their own households and to do some Christmas shopping. But on the first Saturday in January friends and members of the club will meet as usual at headquarters, No. 1111 Broadway, at 11:45, ready for their nature and outing trips for the year 1917.

WEATHER FORECAST—Increasing cloudiness tonight and Sunday. Northwesterly winds.

AT GLENDALE HIGH

BAN ON CHEWING GUM—VACATION FROM DECEMBER 18 TO JANUARY 1.

A ban was placed on chewing gum by Principal Moyses yesterday in the weekly assembly. The edict came after Mr. Moyses had observed numbers of students indulging in the jaw-exercising confection during his address. Gum chewing has at last taken its right place in the list of bad habits.

The assembly held yesterday was one of the most enjoyable yet held this year. Mr. Moyses made several announcements of interest. The most interesting to the students was the one about the Christmas vacation, which will start December 18 and close January 1. The day following Thanksgiving will also be on the vacation list. Upon giving out this information Mr. Moyses was cheered to the echo.

Another announcement was made regarding the lecture by Dr. Lincoln Wirt, to be given in the auditorium at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday. This promises to be one of the events of the year. Outsiders are cordially invited to come and bring 25 cents which will be accepted as admission to this regular dollar lecture. (No joking.)

The boys' glee club gave their first public recital yesterday and were allowed to ring the curtain only by the end of the period. They should prove a great benefit to the school before the close of the term.

Mr. Joy's commercial English and commercial geography classes journeyed to Los Angeles yesterday to view some of the wonders of the industrial world. Among the places they visited were the Moreland auto truck factory and the Los Angeles Examiner.

"Aunt Jerusha's Quilting Party" is the title of a play soon to be given by the junior class. The cast under the direction of Miss Terry, dramatic instructor, is working hard to make this production worth seeing.

When the students of Glendale High School went home Friday they carried with them their report cards. Some faces were glad as the sunshine itself. Some were not. For report card time is the time when the tables are turned on the butterfly who thinks mostly of social and frivolous things. Then the real student is the happier.

BIRDHOUSE ENTRIES

Boys and girls are reminded that all birdhouses are to be entered for competition on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons of next week at No. 327 South Brand, just south of the Palace Grand. Bring your birdhouses with you and leave your name, address, grade and name of school attended with Mrs. Woods, Mrs. Ackley, Mrs. Mills or whoever happens to be the official in charge. A free exhibition of these birdhouses will be held on December 1 and 2. Many people are coming out from Los Angeles, glad to have the opportunity of buying birdhouses. So all boys who wish may put a price on their houses and make some pocket money. Incidentally, it may be remarked that Glendale is the first city on the Pacific Coast to inaugurate a birdhouse contest. This contest is under auspices of the Glendale Garden Society.

BARACAS ENTERTAINED

Harry Chase was host Thursday evening at a supper given to his Sunday-school class, the Junior Baracas of the Baptist Church. After the feast every fellow present was called upon to make a speech.

"That bean soup," said Allan McPherson, "was the best bean soup I ever ate in my life." "Sonny" Latter declared that it went to his stomach. "Well, I haven't much to say, but—" most of the speeches started in this manner. Everyone had something of real interest to say, however. After the oratory several new members were initiated.

The young men present were Russell Tummell, Allan McPherson, Lawrence Rowe, Robert Abarta, Martin Abarta, Meredith Siple, Harry Shimp, Hugh Freeman, Archie Latter, Harold Latter, Earl Brown, Milton Brown, Fred Sanford and Kenneth Beldin.

LARGE GARAGE PLANNED

Arrangements are under way by which Charles Kent and son may erect a large garage 60x140 feet on the lot owned by Messrs. Kent and Platt on South Brand boulevard. The building will be used by the Maxwell and Chandler auto agencies, of which cars Custer and Clayton are distributors.

POST AND CORPS

MONTHLY ALL-DAY MEETING AT G. A. R. HALL, PLEASANT AFFAIR.

N. P. Banks Post, No. 170, G.A.R., met in Grand Army Hall on Glendale avenue Friday, holding its business meeting in the morning at 10 o'clock. At noon a bounteous dinner was served under the efficient direction of Mrs. Tina Hammond, chairman of the Hospitality Committee, and her assistants, Mesdames Dutton, Burns, Ogier, Richards and Peckham, from 100 to 125 people enjoying the good things provided. After dinner a very entertaining program was rendered. The talented Petersen family of Los Angeles, who were guests of Comrade Clark for the day, contributed their services, adding many enjoyable numbers to the program. The Misses Gladys and Alvina Petersen, with their accompanist, form what is known as the Orpheus Trio Concert Company. They sang in duet together, Miss Gladys having a very sweet contralto voice, and Miss Alvina a beautiful clear soprano. Miss Gladys Petersen also gave a few recitations and selections on the cornet, being very proficient on that instrument. Their father, Theodore Petersen, is a splendid violinist, and gave some very pleasing numbers. Dr. J. H. Henry gave a humorous reading.

Following the program N. P. Banks, W.R.C., held their business meeting, which was well attended and was visited by the department inspector, Mrs. Adelaide H. Imler.

On Friday, December 8, the Woman's Relief Corps will hold their annual election of officers and a full attendance of members is requested.

DONORS OF PRIZES

The following kind friends have offered through Mr. C. J. Orr, chairman of the Birdhouse Committee, prizes to the boys and girls sending in the best birdhouses. To these generous residents of Glendale we tender our warmest thanks:

C. S. Kellogg, C. Booth, Kent Bobertshaw, William Smith, Mr. Flower, James Wilson, R. Hinckley, Dr. Flint, Howard Oswald, Mr. Usilton, Ed Lynch, H. Walker, Dave Carney, Messrs. Cornwell and Kelly, First National Bank; Mrs. H. McMullen.

The semi-annual banquet of the Malaikah Temple Shriners is held this Saturday evening at 6 o'clock and 10 p.m. at the Shrine Auditorium. Among those attending from Glendale are T. H. Rosenberger, H. E. Betz, Julius Kranz, C. L. Peckham, Mattison B. Jones, George Mitchell, J. K. Hill, David G. Crofton, Jr., C. O. Pulliam, Dr. Bryant, A. M. Beaman, George Moyses, L. H. Smith, H. P. Coker and George H. Herald.

DAVIS FARM A WINNER

The University of California agricultural farm, at Davis, Yolo county, is one of the most successful educational enterprises conducted under the fostering wings of the State. There competent agriculturists and horticulturists are turned out every year. Their work and their influence is a wonderful power in the interest of the common good.

The work of the Davis farm is intensely practical. Theories, of course, are indulged in, but never at the expense of efficiency. As a prize-winner at shows where products of the field, the orchard and the breeding farm are displayed, the success of the Davis farm is almost sensational. One proof of this remarkable success is the scores of the farm live stock at the recent State fair in Sacramento. Not only did the university farm livestock win twenty-three first prizes, but also six championships, one reserve grand championship and three grand championships, latter being the highest possible honor. The farm also won ten second prizes, five third and one fourth prize.

All of which shows that the university is making good use of the taxpayers' money.

THE CURTAIN TO FALL AT SAN DIEGO.

The last act of a show that has made a world's record by a two years' run is now being prepared at the Panama California International at San Diego. Because the last day falls on Sunday the Exposition officials have chosen New Year's day for ringing down the curtain. The last weeks of the exposition are to be filled with events of great interest and the aim of the directors is to make the last month of the fair the best of its two year run. The San Diego show has been unique in many ways and all who have visited it will regret to contemplate its close. The site of the exposition was formerly a desert waste and the marvels that man accomplished in transforming this barren spot to blossom as the rose are indeed wonderful to contemplate. The adroit manner in which flowers, shrubbery and trees were made to "fit into" the landscape was extremely marvelous and many horticulturists and landscape gardeners have found the exposition to be worthy of continued study. The introduction of the old Spanish type of architecture in the buildings was another beautiful feature of the San Diego fair. The spirit of Old Spain pervading the place lends a romantic air that is very pleasing and the costumes of the guards and employes dressed as gay caballeros and the presence of the Spanish troupe of singers and dancers about the grounds adds to this charming effect.

As to the exhibits, the San Diego show did not compare with many previous exhibitions and yet one who was anxious to imbibe knowledge could spend many days viewing the exhibits and be well repaid. The addition of many of the exhibits from San Francisco after the close of the exposition was a good feature. Perhaps the best exhibit in the San Diego show is the Painted Desert, an exact reproduction of a Hopi Indian village. There were many beautiful and unique features about the Panama-California International exposition that distinguished it from other affairs of the kind, among these the outdoor pipe organ and open air concerts, but the beauty of the architecture and the grounds will linger in the minds of those who visited the place long after the exhibits are forgotten. It is sad to think that the fair must come to an end and it is hoped that the city of San Diego may be able to preserve many of the buildings and continue to care for the trees and shrubbery and flowers that have helped to make this exposition unique.

FULL MEASURE IN PUBLICITY.

The real asset of any newspaper is circulation. To determine the worth of a paper as a publicity medium it is necessary to know something concerning the extent of the circulation of that paper. Sworn statements by the publisher serve to satisfy the foreign advertiser and advertising agencies as to the circulation of a paper, but local merchants need not do more than to ask the publisher to produce for their inspection an up-to-date proof of the actual mailing list. The merchant has a right to ask the publisher for the privilege of viewing the mailing list just as much as a patron has a right to see the size of the measure the merchant uses when measuring you such articles as are sold by the bushel, peck, gallon, quart or pint.

The circulation of one paper in a community may be a half or a fourth of that of another. Advertising that is worth $10 in one would be worth only $5.00 or $2.50 in the paper that has the half or the fourth of the circulation of the paper to which $10 is paid. Merchants who are shrewd buyers from manufacturers and who are trained in publicity values are quick to inquire as to the extent of the circulation of the paper in which they wish to advertise. The merchant who satisfies himself by merely having an opportunity to see his advertisement in type without knowing the extent of the circulation of the newspaper in which the advertisement is placed is not well educated in publicity values. The management of the Evening News offers every dealer the opportunity of inspecting a proof of an up-to-date mailing list.

EXPERT TRADE BUILDERS

It is not everyone who is well adapted to the business in which he is engaged. The man who succeeds in business must first be a man of integrity and understand thoroughly the fundamental principles of business. He must be a man who is agreeable and is at all times desirous of pleasing his patrons. Rather more than a year ago there was established in Glendale the business firm of Payne & Moode. These gentlemen engaged in the grocery business, coming to Glendale as strangers. But so well adapted were they to the line of business in which they engaged that it was not many days until the old stock of merchandise was entirely cleared out and new, fresh, well selected stock took the place of the old. Their knowledge of the grocery business enabled them to buy well from the jobbers and soon their patronage became so great that it was possible for them to sell on a small margin of profit. This firm has followed the practice of making public their regular prices, a feature of their business of which their patrons show their appreciation by liberal patronage. Once a week The Glendale Evening News and the Tri-City Progress announce to their readers the Payne & Moode grocery and market prices. So great an interest is taken in those prices that complaint has come to the publisher that papers containing this price list delivered in front of the homes of subscribers have been picked up by those who are not subscribers that they may have the advantage of learning the very attractive offerings made by this firm.

VILLA VERY ACTIVE

Villa, who less than six months ago was ordered captured dead or alive on account of his terrible acts at Columbus, and who was the cause of United States soldiers being called to Mexico from all points of the United States is now a very important character in Mexico. If Villa was such a dangerous character last June, why is he not just as dangerous now? Why not capture this man now if he is capturable? Is it possible that the wrongdoings a man of his character can be so soon forgotten?

SEEING AROUND THE CORNER

It has been the pleasure of the people who have traveled over the world considerably to meet those who can besides seeing things straight ahead see around the corner. In other words, such people draw upon their imagination. The things that they cannot see by direct vision they imagine they see. In the past few weeks this matter of seeing around the corner and imagining thus and so has been illustrated by a few comments as to the outcome of Congressman Randall's appointment of postmaster and the probable selection of a site for a Federal building. The see-around-the-corner man usually gets his vision from a dry-goods box oculist and sometimes the lens through which he looks is not entirely perfect. The result is he sees many things that are entirely imaginary.

The history of every community has been that occasionally a see-around-the-corner man takes up his abode in that community and remains for a few months endeavoring to advise the substantial citizenship just how to do business.

THERE IS ALWAYS ROOM FOR BEAUTY

There is always room for beauty; memory
 A myriad lovely blossoms may in-close,
 But, whatso'er hath been, there still must be
 Room for another rose.

Though skylark, throistle, white-throat, whip-poor-will,
 And nightingale earth's echoing channies throng,
 When comes another singer, there will be
 Room for another song.
 —Florence Earle Coates.

A time will come when the science of destruction shall bend before the arts of peace; when the genius which multiplies our powers, which creates new products, which diffuses comfort and happiness among the great mass of the people, shall occupy in the general estimation of mankind that rank which reason and common-sense now assign to it.—Arago.

RHUBARB CULTURE

The production of rhubarb has been raised to an exceedingly high standard, and a much better variety is now to be obtained, because of the ceaseless efforts of propagators to perfect the various varieties. The eastern demand for California rhubarb during the past year has grown by leaps and bounds, because the public has become educated up to the fact that rhubarb is a most healthful and refreshing food.

A variety of rhubarb which seems to be best adapted to winter culture and which produces the finest results is that known as Giant Winter rhubarb. This particular variety has been in the course of perfection for the past 15 years, J. B. Wagner, the well-known berry, cactus and rhubarb specialist of Pasadena, California, having begun the propagation of the variety in 1901.

One advantage of this particular variety is that it can be planted in October, November and early December, and owing to its rapid growth, early spring cutting may be made.

Those who are authority on the development of rhubarb state that the prices range from 75 cents to $1.50 per box of 30 pounds, or $50 to $100 per ton, while from seven and one-half to ten tons is the average yield for the first picking and there is the possibility of two additional pickings. THE ROSENGARTEN

"To the east of Bozen rises the mountain group to which the poetical name of the Rosengarten has been given. The roses in this garden are of rock, and only bloom at sunset! They are literally flowers of stone. Their thorns are sharp pinnacles of chalk and magnesia, and their fragrance is the keen, sweet smell which rises from . . . wastes of stone, and stretches of summer pastures!"

"The finer the day, the farther it fades, this Garden of Roses. The more treacherous the weather, the nearer it draws. The hotter the morning, the redder the roses. The sun sinks behind the Guntzschberg, and the Garden of Roses, facing west, receives the full force of its parting rays. A violet twilight creeps over the plain, city and foothills. The roses blush then glow like red-hot iron. The violet pursues the red up the precipices. The shadows follow the colors foot by foot.

"Suddenly there are ashes of roses against the sky. The sun has burned up the flowers."

"There are three main entrances to the Rosengarten on the Teutonic side: one from Kardaun through the Eggenthal to Welschnofen, another from Blumau, by the valley of Tiers and Weisslahn-Bad, and a third from Waidbruck, over Kastelruth and Vols. But open the garden gate of your own choice, and pluck your own roses. You will soon find that some of these tall flowers are not to be picked by ordinary climbers.

"The English are said to have been the first climbers in the Rosengarten. Messrs. C. C. Tucker and F. H. Carson made the first ascents in 1874. Now, practically every tower and pinnacle has been ascended. Nothing is too steep, too exposed, or too smooth for the new school of Dolomite climbers. The German-Austrian Alpine Club has covered the approaches with signs and shelter-huts. In 1887, a student named Winkler, from Munich, ascended the most southern of the Vajolet towers, which had been considered impregnable up to that time. It has now been called after him the Winklerthurm. Then came another climber 'without guides,' Delago of Brixen, who conquered the last and most difficult of the Vajolet towers, and gave it the name of Delagothurm. Among the extraordinary feats in the Rosengarten must be mentioned the trip of Norman Neruda, son of the famous violinist; Lady Halle, with Dr. H. Lorenz of Vienna, and R. V. Arvay of Graz, who crossed over the Funnfinger-spitze twice in one day, from south to north, and from west to east. Two Englishmen, G. S. Raynor and P. S. Phillimore of Oxford, with two guides, also accomplished what must be counted among the most difficult feats in the whole range of the Alps: with two guides they climbed directly up the terrible eastern precipices of the Rosengarten to the top. A growing number of women also take part in this marvelous rock work. In fact, only the journals of the various Alpine clubs can do justice to this life above the snow line.

"The majority of visitors to the Rosengarten are happy if they can only wander about at the foot of these tall standard roses, and sniff their perfume from below."—From "The Fair Land Tyrol," by W. D. McCracken.

Facts and Comment

Orange county is considering a scheme of community milk testing, somewhat after the community health service idea of Dr. J. L. Pomeroy.

Fourteen cars of oranges were shipped from Monrovia fruit houses this week to catch the holiday trade in Canada and eastern points in this country. Good prices are being obtained for the fruit.

Sheriff Cline has announced a plan to solve the winter tramp problem in Southern California. They will be put to work on the county rock pile as soon as arrested unless they have an excellent excuse to offer.

Miss Katherine Stinson, an aviator, who left Los Angeles Wednesday for Japan and China, where she is under contract for $50,000 to make a series of exhibition flights in her aeroplane, promises to return to Los Angeles next April and stage a flight across the continent.

It was announced Wednesday that Inez Milholland Boissevain, the noted suffragist and beauty, who has been near death at the Good Samaritan hospital in Los Angeles, will probably recover. Last Saturday she made a faint rally that gradually developed into a permanent improvement.

Floral parade entries for the twenty-eighth annual Tournament of Roses, to be held at Pasadena on January 1, are coming this year from New York, Chicago, Portland and San Francisco hotels, the California Development Board, the Hawaiian Islands and Yokohama, Japan. Encouraging assurances of participation have also been received from Southern California communities.

Monrovia's board of city trustees plan to safeguard the motoring public and school by placing four danger signals at the intersection of Myrtle and White Oak avenues, four at Myrtle and Huntington drive and "school" signs within a block of each of Monrovia's school buildings. There have been many very narrow escapes from serious automobile collisions at the corners mentioned.

The district plan of sanitation and health work, advocated in California first by Dr. J. L. Pomeroy, former city health officer of Monrovia and now county health officer, will be placed before the next California Legislature as a bill to be made into a law that will enable every city and community in the State to join its neighbors in forming an effective and efficient health district.

San Bernardino went into court Wednesday in a struggle with Kern county to secure a decree that would give San Bernardino county a strip of land two miles wide, containing the towns of Randsburg and Johannesburg, the Yellow Aster mine and other rich properties, claiming that the Kern-San Bernardino boundary line should be a prolongation of the Los Angeles county line. Kern county resisted the action, and San Bernardino county will petition the state engineer to make the survey.

H. J. Webb of Pasadena was crushed beneath an auto which rolled over an embankment in the road near Owensmouth Wednesday. A. C. Carter, also of Pasadena was driving the machine and became blinded by the headlights of an approaching auto and swerved his machine too close to the edge of the road. Before he realized his danger the auto leaped the embankment and rolled over and over to the bottom. He was flung clear of the wreckage but Mr. Webb was pinned beneath the car and is in a critical condition, suffering from a basal fracture of the skull and other injuries.

The City Attorneys' Association of Southern California held a dinner meeting at Christopher's, Los Angeles, Wednesday evening, city attorneys from twenty cities and towns attending. Legislative matters pertaining to municipalities, that may come before this winter's session of the State Legislature, were discussed. Walter F. Dunn, city attorney of El Monte, recently elected president, presided. Judge Frank G. Finlayson, Judge J. Perry Wood, Judge Leslie R. Hewitt, Judge John W. Shenk, all of the Superior Court, who were the association's guests, and Walton J. Wood, public defender of Los Angeles county, were the speakers.

According to advices received at Long Beach the reports of Dr. J. W. Turrentine of the U. S. Agricultural Department to the Department have been of a nature to influence the department to increase the scope of the plans for the government experimental station on the Pacific Coast for the developing processes which will enable help products plants to operate at profit under normal conditions. Under the original plans the experimental station, which is to be located at Summerland, near Santa Barbara, was to have a capacity of handling fifty tons of help a day. The recommendations for government appropriation now will be for a plant with a capacity of from 150 to 200 tons of green help a day.

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale did, on the 19th day of November, 1916, by a vote of more than two-thirds (2-3) of all its members, duly pass and adopt a resolution determining:

That the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion, by said city, of a certain municipal improvement, to-wit:

The further acquisition, construction, extension and improvement of fire-fighting apparatus and equipment.

That the estimated cost of said municipal improvement and utility is the sum of Fifteen Thousand Dollars ($15,000) and is and will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the municipality.

Said improvement would require an expenditure greater than the amount allowed for the same by the annual tax levy; and

WHEREAS, said resolution was duly signed and approved by the president of the Board of Trustees of the said city on the 19th day of October, 1916, and was attested and certified to by the City Clerk, and was duly published on the 20th day of October, 1916, in the Glendale Evening News, a daily newspaper printed, published and circulated in the City of Glendale;

NOW THEREFORE, the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do ordain as follows:

Section 1. That a special election be held, and the same is hereby called to be held, in the City of Glendale, on Tuesday, the 19th day of December, 1916, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city the proposition of incurring indebtedness and issuing bonds of said city in the amount hereinafter set forth, and for the purpose set forth in said resolution hereinafter stated.

Section 2. That the objects and purposes for which said indebtedness is proposed to be incurred and bonds issued therefor are as follows, to-wit:

The acquisition, construction and completion by said city of a certain municipal improvement, to-wit:

Section 4. The polls of said election shall be open at six o'clock on the morning of the day of election, and shall be kept open until seven o'clock of the afternoon of the same day, when the polls shall be closed, except and provided, however, that if, at the said hour of closing, there are any voters in the polling place, or in the line at the door thereof, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote. But no one who shall arrive at the polling place after seven o'clock in the afternoon shall be entitled to vote, although the polls may be open when he arrived.

The ballot to be used at said election shall be printed substantially in the following form:

INSTRUCTION TO VOTERS. To vote in favor of the proposition stamp a cross (X) in the voting square to the right of and opposite the word "Yes"; to vote against the proposition stamp a cross (X) in the voting square to the right of and opposite the word "No."
