Fastidious Buyers To Blame For High Coal Costs In B. C.

Conference Realizes Consumers Only Have Power Over Fuel Prices; Dealers Resent Charges of Deceiving In Weight.

Coal operators, coal dealers and representatives of coal consumers of British Columbia got together to-day in conference with the Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, and Premier Oliver to try to see if they could not find something practical to bring down the price of coal in the coal enquiry commission report submitted to the Government by Alexander Henderson, K.C.

Coal prices in B. C. have increased only 5 per cent, since 1919, while prices in all other provinces of Canada have increased from 5 to 40 per cent, the conference learned.

It was brought out that people are holding back at present in the buying of coal because they think prices will be lowered soon through the results of the coal commission enquiry.

General business depression has also assisted in cutting down the demand for coal. Dealers, operators and others admitted that there will likely be a great rush for coal as soon as the cold weather commences as practically no one is taking the precaution of laying in a supply for that time.

After going through the thirteen recommendations in the Henderson report, there was general expression of the opinion that the only way of bringing down the price of coal is educating the public to buy run of the mine instead of only hand-picked lump.

It was asserted that dealers had to face the wrath of people who would take nothing but the most expensive hand-picked article.

Run of Mine. Coal experts explained that caloric value of "run of the mine" quality is just as high and in some cases higher than that of hand-picked grades. With the hand-picked grades there is the extra cost of handling, sorting and allowance has to be made for the sifted stuff which has to be thrown away or some other use found for it.

It was agreed that economies could be effected in delivering in bulk in certain cases, and through shoots and manholes, instead of in sacks. It was also agreed that there are too many grades of coal for economical handling and selling.

An Unfair Statement. Charges in the coal commission report of Alexander Henderson, K.C., that coal dealers in B. C. are guilty of the "practice of deception in weights and measures" were resented by the dealers through their representative, J. D. Kearns, at the opening of the conference.

"Dealers feel very sore that these words were allowed to get into the report that went out to the public," said Mr. Kearns. "We submit that the coal dealers are just as honorable a group of men as any other, and this statement is absolutely unfair and misleading. The dealers have methods by which they measure out and give standard full weight."

"This is a serious thing to get into a report like this as it practically condemns a class of men in the minds of people who are in an unsettled frame of mind."

Hon. Mr. Sloan declared that it was likely that report referred to the fact that there had been cases of short weight through somebody's deception, but not necessarily preconceived deception on the part of the dealers, as some had been pilfered in the course of delivery.

Mr. Kearns asserted that so far as the coal dealers association of Vancouver was concerned it was not a combine, although it was dissolved as soon as the report of the coal commission was published.

Uniform Prices. "Did you fix prices?" asked Hon. Mr. Sloan. "Our prices were uniform, but competition was not restricted," replied Mr. Kearns.

"If people are to get the advantage of any reduction in the cost of coal, some steps must be taken to prevent any increase in the number of dealers and in the cost of the coal," said J. D. McNeill of Vancouver.

Mr. McNeill declared that when there were only four dealers in Vancouver the consumer got his coal cheaper in proportion to the cost at the mine than he has done since and than he can do under present conditions. He asserted that an increase in the number of those in the business increase the charges and costs, and these have to be paid for by the consumer.

Six or eight dealers could handle the whole business in Vancouver satisfactorily, Mr. McNeill said, and they would keep down the cost. He asserted that he was willing to take his chance with the others in being eliminated as long as he was given a proper allowance for his equipment.

Alternative Delivery Forms. "Do you think that delivery by truck is cheaper or more expensive than delivery by horse?" asked Hon. Mr. Sloan.

"More expensive," replied Mr. McNeill. "For big operations team work is cheaper as the truck driver has to have two or three men with him as helpers and they talk Bolshevism and everything like that and don't do the work."

Hon. Mr. Sloan said the suggestion had been made to him that the most efficient way of delivering coal is to cut out the dealers and have all retail delivery made directly under the operation of the Government.

FRENCH OPINION NOT BRITISHERS'

Difference Over Property Russians Seized

Paris, June 9.—A demand that French property owners be exempted from the recent British court decision regarding property expropriation by the Russian Soviet Government has been made by the French Government in a note to Great Britain. This note, which was sent to London on May 25, protested against universal application of the decision which held that the Soviet Government was the owner of property taken over from private owners, and that when such property was sold in Great Britain, the former owners could not enforce their claims.

PRESBYTERIAN MODERATOR CONFERS WITH DISSIDENTS

Toronto, June 9.—(Canadian Press.) In the hope of healing the breach in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church of Canada caused by the vote for church union, the Moderator, Rev. Dr. Gordon, held a conference with the dissenters this morning but nothing has been given out. Following the meeting of the dissenters yesterday afternoon, individual members said no move would be made by them until a final step should be taken to bring union with the other churches into force.

RAINS IN CHINA

PROMISE HARVEST

Nature Aids Famine-Stricken Areas

New York, June 9.—Thomas W. Lamont, chairman of the American Committee for China Famine Fund, has telegraphed all local committees to cease taking subscriptions, as sufficient funds have been raised to meet the most pressing needs.

This action was prompted by a cablegram from Peking that falling in the famine-stricken areas had ensured harvest where none had been thought possible. The Chinese had made generous contributions in excess of estimates, the cablegram added.

Subscriptions made through the fund totaled $4,374,306, with smaller amounts to be reported. This sum, in addition to $1,000,000 contributed by the Red Cross, $1,550,000 by church agencies and $250,000 by Chinese in this country, makes a national total exceeding $6,574,306.

AN ACCOUNTING BETWEEN ALLIES

Paris, June 9.—The first accounting between the Allies on reparations was taken up within a few days, after the Allied experts have established the balance available of the sums paid by Germany in money and kind. While the Reparations Commission has not yet finally fixed the estimate of deliveries in kind, they are believed to total 8,000,000,000 marks gold. The cost of the Allied occupation of Germany, which must be deducted from this sum, is thought to be about 5,000,000,000 marks, leaving 3,000,000,000 to be recovered from the Allies benefiting from the deliveries. This 3,000,000,000, together with the 1,000,000,000 marks gold Germany delivered to the Reparations Commission as the first payment on reparations, makes the total balance in hand 4,000,000,000 marks. The latter sum just equals Belgium's priority share of 2,500,000,000 gold francs.

It remains for the Reparations Commission to fix the value of the deliveries to the Allies. The Commission never has recognized the Spa agreement fixing prices for coal deliveries.

Belgium's claim to priority is recognized by the Commission, but the question remains to be decided whether the 1,000,000,000 marks gold paid by Germany had better be held by the Reparations Commission as a guarantee of payment of interest on the international loan it is proposed to deal with the 1,000,000,000 marks in German gold bonds remaining on the first schedule of reparations payments as collateral.

HOUSING SCHEME FOR WINNIPEG

"Wage Earners' Residential District Suggested"

Winnipeg, June 9.—For the purpose of reducing to a minimum the local health department has suggested to the civic authorities the construction, by means of a huge municipal building scheme, of a "wage earners' residential district on property fifty to 100 acres in extent. The district, according to the scheme suggested, would be laid out in an attractive manner with good streets, boulevards, parks, playgrounds, library, picture theatre and stores, all designed and built as part of a general harmonious plan.

The proposal conforms with the former plan to construct dwellings wholesale with materials purchased in large quantities and so the same group of workmen and the same machinery could be employed at one place rather than distributed in different portions of the city as is necessary when individuals build on their own lots.

The report submitted by the department adds that "if, when the right time comes, a municipal housing scheme is inaugurated on the right lines, there is no reason it should not be successful."

TRADE INVASION OF SOVIET RUSSIA

London, June 9.—Lenine, Soviet Premier of Russia, is expected to visit London, according to a Berlin dispatch.

A dispatch from Berlin said: "Early collaboration between groups of German and British capitalists for economic exploitation of Soviet Russia is believed here to be certain. It is understood an agreement has been reached between men of the two countries as the direct outcome of the visit to Berlin of Leonid Krassin, Russian Soviet Minister of Trade and Commerce."

"One of the conditions named by the Western European financiers and construct the Moscow Government on the basis of a coalition including all parties except the former monarchists. Lenine, it is stated, will be accompanied by a large number of industrial agreement."

YUKON PROSPECTOR KILLED HIMSELF

Dawson City, Y. T., June 8.—The body of George Quirie, a pioneer prospector, was found in his cabin in the Upper Hunter Creek, thirty miles from here. His death was explained by a gun which lay beside him, its trigger still touching his toe, a bullet in his heart, and a note stating that he was dying by inches and would take a bullet for medicine.

The note said he had been ill for four days. Quite alone, with the nearest drinking water half a mile away, he was stricken by a fatal trouble "until the pain became unbearable."

Quirie was seventy years of age and was born in Aberdeenshire, Scotland. He was known to be suffering from heart trouble, and was urged by his acquaintances to take a cabin close to them, so they could look after him. He refused to do this.

The miners buried him near his own cabin.

OPJUM SEIZED BY CUBAN OFFICIALS

Havana, Cuba, June 9.—Selaure by Havana customs inspectors of several valuable contraband shipments of opium has given rise to the theory that a strong smuggling organization is working through the Spanish port of Barcelona. The drug captured has been found in the baggage of passengers arriving from that port. One consignment which was found in a warehouse here is valued at about $250,000.

MAN KILLED.

Alliance, Neb., June 9.—One man was killed, two were injured and three saw cars containing wild animals of a circus en route to Hot Springs, S. D., were thrown into a ditch when a Chicago & North-western railroad train was wrecked near Hot Springs, S. D. The accident was the result of the undermining of a trestle by flood waters.

MUCH MONEY SPENT

IN OIL FIELDS Fort Norman Discovery Basis of Confidence

Winnipeg, June 9.—Different companies and individuals interested in the oil fields of the north have expended close to $1,000,000 on development work, according to Col. J. K. Cornwall, a visitor here on his way to Edmonton from New York and Montreal, where he went in connection with oil development work.

The people of the North do not find the attitude of other parts of Canada very encouraging in view of their great faith in the possibilities of their northern oil fields, he said. On his visit east he found very little interest was shown in the development of the latest resources of the great Canadian North as disclosed by the Fort Norman discovery.

The initial cost of finding oil is considerable," Col. Cornwall stated. "Once it is discovered and transportation is arranged the cost of production is the lowest of any known resource with the exception of coal. Transportation in the North is not difficult. From the present end of steel at Peace River to Pine Point on Slave Lake, the southern edge of the oil fields, is a very fertile country. The character of the soil warrants railway construction in itself and the possible production of the area would support a railway. Settlement is pushing out in that direction.

"The eastern portion of Great Slave Lake, which is practically an inland sea, is very rich in mineral prospects," Col. Cornwall said. "Gold mining machinery is going in this year. Vast copper areas lie between Great Bear Lake and Bathurst Inlet. There is sufficient timber for all requirements of the country. Vegetables and all hardy cereals are easily grown as far as the Arctic Circle. It is a beautiful country and a very happy and contented and are looking forward to seeing their country developed.

"Ninety-five per cent. of the oil used in Canada at present is imported. The North looks forward to being able to stop this importation and to put Canada on the map as one of the great oil exporting countries of the world," the Colonel concluded.

SUPPORTERS OF MEIGHEN ORGANIZE IN SOUTH WINNIPEG

Winnipeg, June 9.—Organization of the supporters of the Meighen administration and the National Liberal and Conservative Party in the electoral district of South Winnipeg was effected last night in the Board of Trade Building last night, which was addressed by H. H. Stevens, M.P., Vancouver, Dr. R. J. Manion, M.P., Fort York, and George V. Chan, M.P., South Winnipeg, and Dr. M. R. Blake, M.P., North Winnipeg, Mayor Parnell presided.

The principal speaker was Mr. Stevens, who reviewed the legislation of the Government and outlined the issues of the coming contest and the Liberal Party and of the National Progressive Party. He claimed that the policy of the latter would wipe out half of the customs revenue and that he asked what they proposed to do. He contended that any scheme put forward as a solution would be ineffective.

Dr. Manion dealt largely with the social establishment and he and the other speakers said that Canada had done more for the returned men than any of the other Allied Governments.

TOM MOORE WAS HOWLED DOWN

Vancouver, June 9.—Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, was howled down in Dominion Hall here last night when he tried to make an unsuccessful effort to quiet the crowd. Mr. Moore's supporters dismissed the meeting.

The disturbance was confined to notes which appeared to come from a group in one corner of the hall. The hall holds about 1,000 people and was packed to suffocation. The speaker, Ernest Lapointe, president of the Vancouver Trades and Labor Council, was in the chair.

FUR AUCTION IN DENMARK

Copenhagen, June 9.—At the annual fur sale of the Royal Greenland trade here, the pelts of 2,192 blue foxes, 1,611 white foxes and 258 polar bears were sold at auction. 35,000 MILES WALKER'S RECORD

Dr. Massimo Leuret now in Italy

Milan, June 9.—Dr. Massimo Armando Leuret, aged thirty-six, a Swiss physician, has arrived here after walking 35,000 miles in both the old and new worlds. He asserts that his tour took him around the globe commencing in January 1, 1914, and cost him $40,000.

He says he left Switzerland, going north to Germany, Poland and Russia. He was in the last named country when the war began and continued the journey across Russia, to Siberia. He then visited China and Japan and later crossed the Pacific to America. He claims to have traversed both North and South America on foot. His trip from the Pacific Coast to New York was made alternately in Canada and the United States.

When he got to Switzerland, he decided that he had not yet seen Italy nor Africa and has commenced now his journeys through them.

DRUG STORES AND LIQUOR PROBLEM

Calgary, June 9.—Delegates of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association convention here yesterday passed a resolution favoring removal of the dispensing of liquor from the drug business. Since the delegates represented only a small portion of the drug business in the province it was decided that a referendum on three questions should be taken. These questions will be:

Are you in favor of continuing under present conditions?
Are you in favor of limiting the amount dispensed on one prescription to eight ounces?
Are you in favor of having the druggists relieved altogether of dispensing liquor?

M. Maybank, of Olds, is the new president, and H. McKechnie, of Coronation, is vice-president.

SASKATCHEWAN TO VOTE TO-MORROW

Regina, June 9.—A substantial sum will be paid as an honorarium to all Saskatchewan exhibitors who win a championship next fall at the Chicago International Livestock Exposition and Grain Show. The sum of $500 will be paid to the exhibitor who wins a grand championship prize for either livestock or grain, and $200 for exhibitors winning reserve grand championships. The Saskatchewan Government, as a further encouragement to exhibitors who are now preparing exhibits for this show, will pay this added bonus as well as paying the cost of transporting the exhibits to and from Chicago.

Saskatchewan has a fine record in the brief period that this Province has been represented at these international exhibitions, having the honor of winning the world's championship for the best wheat eight times in the past nine years, and Saskatchewan, Clydesdale breeders event the boards last year with exhibitors of other breeds making a splendid showing.

LAPOINTE URGED FREEDOM OF TRADE

Quebec, June 9.—A denunciation of the principle of Government interference in private business activities and the natural operations of trade was made yesterday afternoon by Ernest Lapointe, member for Quebec East in the House of Commons, before the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, at a luncheon tendered by delegates attending the annual convention of that body, in session here.

Mr. Lapointe argued that the economic normality after war conditions could be sooner brought about by the Government keeping to its proper duty of keeping the field clear for the operation of the ordinary law of supply and demand. Governments, said Mr. Lapointe, made poor traders, were indifferent to industrialists, and were poor railway operators.

Mr. Lapointe gave these three points as the basis for all conditions to aim at: Freedom of individual employer and employee, and a policy of national unity.

The Government had to leave the business man alone. Civilization did not warrant the idea that the people were to be a vast aggregation of wards.

Mr. Lapointe pleaded for unity between provinces and races in Canada. No society, he urged, could be successful if its members did not cooperate.

B. C. APPLES FOR PRAIRIE CONSUMERS

Calgary, June 9.—Everything points to a record apple crop in British Columbia this year, and if nothing unusual happens the prairie markets are assured of a good supply of high grade apples, according to J. A. Grant, British Columbia Fruit Commissioner for Alberta. Mr. Grant estimates that 5,000 cars of apples will be shipped out of British Columbia this year, which will be an increase of nearly 100 per cent over last year's output.

PREDICTS DEATH OF BOLSHIEVISM

Count Elias Tolstol now in Rome

Rome, June 9.—Count Elias Tolstol, a grandson of the famous Russian writer, who is here after a journey through China and Japan, having escaped from the Bolshieviki, predicts the sure and inevitable death of Bolshievism either through demobilization or starvation of the army.

been reduced to a quarter of a pound of bread and one-eighth of a sausage.

He added that Russia could not now afford to produce even a single bushel of wheat.

In 1918, after three days of married life, Count Tolstol had to flee from Moscow because he was condemned to death and now he is in ignorance as to whether his bride is dead or alive.

He joined Admiral Kolchak's forces and fought against the Bolshieviki, was stricken with typhus on three occasions and was nursed in the American hospital at Omsk.

WHISKY TO COST ABOUT FIVE DOLLARS

But Exact Price Not Fixed Yet, Attorney-General Says

Vancouver, June 9.—"I think we shall be able to sell under five dollars a bottle," said Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, when asked what probably would be the cost of Scotch whisky dispensed by the Government after June 15.

The Attorney-General remarked that a tentative scale of prices had been discussed at Victoria yesterday, but a detailed announcement was not ready yet, he added.

"I do not see how we can sell at less than $4 per bottle and give the Dominion Government nearly $2," he continued.

All of which apparently means that the price will be somewhere between $4 and $5 when the schedule is complete.

Mr. Farris does not expect to get his appeal against the Federal charge on provincial liquor before the Exchequer Court until the September sittings. The appeal will not be taken in respect to any liquor now in hand. After June 15 an order will be placed, probably in Scotland, and the British Columbia Liquor Board, on importing it, will take title to the stock and demand of Ottawa that it be allowed entry without payment of the new duty.

Mr. Farris vigorously denied a story that something like $230,000 had been lost by the Provincial Government because of failure to anticipate the coming into effect of the new tax.

"As a matter of fact, substantially all of the stock we had in hand was cleared before the day the new tax went into effect. Of course, there was some in transit, but we could not clear that until it had arrived," said the Attorney-General.

WELCOME RELIEF FROM ECZEMA

Complete Treatment That Gives Gratifying Results

Wasing, Ont. "I had an attack of Weeping Eczema so bad that my clothes would be wet through at times.

"For four months I suffered terribly, I could get no relief until I tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and 'Sootha-Salva'.

"Altogether, I have used three boxes of 'Sootha-Salva' and two of 'Fruit-a-tives,' and am entirely well." G. W. HALL.

Both these favorite remedies are sold by dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

"Fruit-a-tives" is also put up in a trial size which sells for 25c.—Advt.

TESTIMONY AT G. T. R. INQUIRY

Montreal, June 9.—Cross-examined yesterday by Grand Trunk counsel on his strongly adverse criticism of Grand Trunk and Central Vermont Railway bridges, Lieut.-Colonel C. N. Monsarrat, engineer for the Government, said if his evidence erred in any way, it was on the side of leniency.

Some time was taken up with Lieut.-Colonel Monsarrat's evidence and cross-examination upon it.

GOOD RED BLOOD A REAL NERVE TONIC

Weak, Watery Blood the Source of All Nervousness.

"If people would attend to their blood, instead of worrying themselves ill," said an eminent nerve specialist, "we doctors would not see so many nervous cases."

The sort of thing the specialist spoke of is the nervous, rundown condition caused by overwork and the many anxieties of today. Sufferers find themselves tired, low-spirited and unable to keep their minds on anything. Any sudden noise hurts like a blow. They are full of groundless fears, do not sleep well at night. Headaches and other nerve pains are part of the misery, and it all comes from starved nerves.

Doctors of the nerves with poisonous sedatives is a terrible mistake. The only real nerve tonic is a good supply of rich, red blood. Therefore to relieve nervousness and run-down health Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be taken. These pills enrich the blood, which tones the nerves, improves the appetite, gives new strength and enables to keep their nerve nerves people bright and cheerful. If you are at all "out of sorts" you should begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50. The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

TO ASK SUPPORT FOR NEW CHAMBER

London, June 9.—Col. Blaylock, late head of the Canadian Red Cross organization in London, is now en route to Canada to forward the interests of the newly-organized Canadian Chamber of Commerce in London.

Col. Blaylock will interview the Dominion Government, the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and other bodies interested in the endeavor to secure their support for the chamber, which has been inaugurated and is already practically in operation.

This enlistment of home sympathy was a condition attached by the Canadian High Commissioner, Sir George Perley, to his lending of active support. It has also been the experience of the American Chamber of Commerce in London that the co-operation of manufacturers at home is necessary to real success.

BURGLAR SUES ROME GOVERNMENT

Stole Plans From Austrian Consulate

Zurich, June 9.—In February, 1917, the Austrian consulate here was entered and the safe forced. Besides 1,000 gold pieces, 35,000 francs in notes and jewels worth thousands of francs, important documents connected with the Austrian espionage system and Austrian naval plans were abstracted.

At the time it was known that the burglary was committed solely for the sake of the papers and plans and that its motive was purely military.

Now the burglar, an Italian named Natale Papini, is suing the Italian Government for breach of contract, alleging that an Italian naval officer, Baron Aloisi, and another high personage apparently too lofty to be mentioned, promised that he should receive all money, bank notes and other valuables found in the consulate.

Papini was known as an expert burglar and public knowledge of his robbery of the consulate will certainly not lessen his reputation. Originally, he says, the Italian espionage department appealed to him on patriotic grounds, but without effect, and not until a promise was made to him of pecuniary assistance did he yield and embark on what he considered a perilous adventure.

He declared that he came to Zurich especially for the purpose, took impressions of the Austrian consulate's locks, had keys made from the impressions and that it took him a long time to succeed.

Six Hours. The actual burglary, he says, required six hours, and he filled four handbags with the contents of the safe, while two Italian naval officers kept watch outside and assisted him in carrying away the bags.

Now the question arises whether the Italian Government committed an international misdemeanor and infringed Swiss neutrality by having plotted to break open the consulate of a belligerent power situated in a neutral country and whether the Austrian Government has not a claim against the Italian Government. It is possible that the Italian Government did not know what the subordinate officials were doing and that the two have departed for London in the burglary were mere private citizens.

International law must be ransacked for precedents.

RAILWAYS PREPARE FOR CO-ORDINATION

Ottawa, June 9.—Co-ordination of the Grand Trunk and the Government-owned railways is not expected until after Premier Meighen's return in August. It had been intended to hurry on this process, but the Prime Minister's hurried departure for London made it necessary to defer this and other matters.

Sir Joseph Flavelle, chairman of the Grand Trunk Board, is in Ottawa and the temporary board under him has begun the work of preparing for co-ordination. While there are two boards, one under President D. B. Hanna and the other under Sir Joseph Flavelle, the fact that Sir Joseph is president of the Canadian National, is on both boards, will enable the arrangements to go ahead almost as well as though all were under one board, unless there is obstruction, which is not expected. Duplicate services will be eliminated as far as possible and staffs cut down where possible in consequence.

The appointment of the permanent board will await the Premier's return. It is expected that Sir Joseph finally refuses the position, President D. B. Hanna will probably carry on.

The Canadian National Act will be proclaimed when the Premier returns.

NAVAL CONFERENCE PLAN APPROVED

London, June 9.—The Spectator expresses hope that President Harding will summon a naval conference "quickly, or at all events that preliminary conversations will begin at once."

The Spectator considers it excellent that the formal proposal for a conference has come from the United States and argues that at the conference all outstanding differences between the United States and Japan can be settled, even including the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

It may be true, it says, that President Harding expects that a naval conference which conducted its discussion more or less publicly and to the accompaniment of a continuous clamor from the press of all countries concerned would accomplish very little, but if this means that some kind of a parliamentary understanding by private conversation is required, by all means let the ground be prepared in that way.

The anxious desire of Great Britain for general reduction of armaments is well-known. The United States, in inviting Britain to a conference, knows perfectly well that she is asking a guest who has been watching at the post for an invitation, adds the paper.

OUCH!

"How long has young Staller worked in our office?" asked the boss. "About half an hour," replied the superintendent. "Oh," he's been here longer than that!" insisted the boss. "Sure," replied the superintendent. "He's been here for two weeks."

A prominent Great Falls, Mont. man refuses to pay the $3.00 state poll tax on bachelors. "Tax the spinners of the same age and I will gladly pay," he is classed in legislation, and I stand upon my rights," he declared. "I refuse to get married to escape jail, and I refuse to pay a bachelor tax to escape jail."

Mrs. E. Gill, Copper Cliff, was injured when the steering gear of her auto went out of commission and the car turned over.

ADMIRAL SIMS AGAIN.

Nobody is really very much concerned about the exactions which are automatically imposed upon distinguished public men when they pay a friendly visit to what diplomatic usage looks upon as a foreign country.

But the average American and the average Britisher will not experience any sleepless nights in consequence of the type of "indiscretion" committed by Admiral Sims. He is the most outspoken diplomat of his time and his "outburst"—as The Manchester Guardian critically calls it—in London the other day is a fair sample of the diplomacy which the people of the world would prefer to the hole and corner processes of old.

Nor does the doughty Admiral propose to repudiate one single word of what he said upon the Irish question because Senator McCormick does not agree with the sentiments expressed. And it ought to be obvious by this time that the gallant officer who commanded the American fleet in the war zone is not guilty of borrowing other peoples' ideas.

It is quite true that the doubling of liquor duties by the Dominion Government has been responsible for dampening the ardor of the average Moderatorist; but the fact remains that the majority which abolished the British Columbia Prohibition Act is not the promise of financial success that it seemed to be a little while since.

FOREST FIRES.

As long as British Columbia possesses such a desirable Summer climate the camper and the woodland wanderer will prefer to spend much of his time as far away from the stuffy office and tiled roof as possible.

THE PRICE.

The death roll of the Great War, consisting of those who were killed in action, who died from wounds and injuries contracted in the battle areas, were drowned, and succumbed to pestilence and starvation, probably never will be fully known, but it is not hard to account for at least twenty million victims under those heads, not to speak of the millions maimed and otherwise physically incapacitated.

that was involved in the recent world war, which could stand another without blowing up, and no doubt most of them would blow up at the very prospect of one. If present indications in Europe mean anything, it is that if the war which ended in 1918 had been continued until 1919, adding more millions to the death roll and more billions to the national debts, world-wide anarchy and the complete collapse of civilization would have been the situation to-day.

THOSE PERMITS.

While it is quite natural that the average individual who desires to take advantage of the new liquor law should wait until he knows what he is going to be charged for his privileges under the Act before incurring the initial expense, the complete absence of anything like a rash for permits is an illuminating commentary upon the result of last October's plebiscite and its meaning. It would appear to emphasize the belief that the majority of the people in the Province voted more in support of a workable system of control than they did for extended facilities for the purchase of liquor.

There is obvious comfort in the suggestion that a successful operation of the new measure should contribute something towards the financial difficulties of the Province and its municipalities. On the other hand the people of British Columbia are not sufficiently interested in the consumption of liquor to pay a scale of prices which would be necessary to produce the financial benefits that were painted in such rosy tints a few months ago.

It is quite true that the doubling of liquor duties by the Dominion Government has been responsible for dampening the ardor of the average Moderatorist; but the fact remains that the majority which abolished the British Columbia Prohibition Act is not the promise of financial success that it seemed to be a little while since.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS.

A REASONABLE AMBITION. (The Kansas City Star.) When Governor Stephens of California was mayor of Los Angeles there was one man who, even more than others, harnessed the life out of him in regard to getting some kind of a job.

TURKISH AGGRESSION.

If the Turkish Nationalists intend to form an active and militant coalition with the Moslem Bolsheviks the sooner the Allied Powers have something definite to say the sooner will the Balkan powder fuse cease to be a menace to the peace of Europe.

IMMEDIAT ATTIRE.

To the warnings uttered by clergy of every denomination, from Cardinals and Bishops down, against the demoralizing tendency of the immodest fashions of the present day in feminine attire, are now heard words of wisdom from the Bench. One of the leading American authorities, Judge Arthur Tuttle, of Detroit, has just declared that "American morals—the future of our race—are speeding toward destruction, because of a growing delinquency among the country's girlhood, interlarded, yes, fostered by unympathetic and careless mothers and fathers. Modern clothes spell ruination for the young women of to-day; fashionable immodesty is the greatest menace to our national life, a disappearing institution—the family shrine—must be revived to save the American girl in her ideal form. As a nation we are losing our home life."

ter part of the last century. What is wanted now is definite action that will make the Angora Government respect the Allied will. Something more than the periodical naval demonstration—to which the Turk has become thoroughly accustomed by this time—will have to be resorted to if the dangerous programme of the Nationalist faction is to be curbed.

LIQUOR PROFITS.

Everybody will agree with the suggestion that the Government should be content with a moderate profit on the sale of its liquor under the provisions of the new law. But the general public will have to bear in mind that out of a tentatively proposed selling price of four dollars for a bottle of Scotch whisky nearly two dollars will be collected by the Dominion authorities by way of duty. Out of the balance the Liquor Control Board must provide the liquid and defray the cost of freight and eventual distribution. And on the assumption that it is in a position to buy its stocks in the neighborhood of fifteen or sixteen dollars per case—including freight—a simple process of mental arithmetic will indicate the narrow margin upon which the Board will be trading if it adopts an average selling price of four dollars. At the same time if that figure is found to be sufficient to cover all the associated costs and produce a small profit it should not be exceeded.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

General Semenov, who heads the anti-Bolshevik regime at Vladivostok, has made it known that the goal of his military activities is Moscow. Another gentleman who set out to conquer Russia had a similar idea about Moscow but when he turned his back upon it the city was in quite a nasty mess.

MAYOR TO REACH CITY ON SUNDAY. Will Be Back at Desk at the Beginning of Week.

Mayor R. J. Porter will return to Victoria on Sunday, according to a message received from His Worship by his secretary, Miss Kathleen O'Rourke, at the City Hall to-day. The Mayor will arrive here on the steamer from Prince Rupert with his wife and will return to his desk on Monday morning. It is expected that definite information that the Mayor would reach the City Sunday came as a great relief to Acting Mayor George Sangster who had feared that he would have to carry out a number of painful duties in his present capacity next week.

EXPECT BEER TO REMAIN IN CITY CABARETS STILL. City Anticipates Cabarets Will Become 'Clubs'.

Announcement that large numbers of bar owners are having their establishments incorporated as "clubs" in order to continue in operation after June 15, has convinced the civic authorities that they were wise in postponing the proposed reformation of local cabarets until they could see how the new liquor law would work out.

It is thought now that cabaret owners will incorporate their cabarets as clubs of some sort—"dancing" clubs, it is suggested. In this way, it is feared, beer drinking will still be possible after June 15. The new Cabaret By-law was drafted some time ago on the supposition that there would be "no more beer in cabarets." The Government Control Act came into force. Later, it was decided that the by-law should be pigeon-holed until the city could see for itself just what liquor conditions would be with the advent of the new law.

RAILWAYS ASKED TO AID DRAFT OF QUARANTINE RULES

Pest Control Experts Praise Assistance Given by Transportation Men

Cordial co-operation between employees and executives of transportation companies, and the Government officials of the Western states and British Columbia who are in charge of plant quarantine operations preventing importation of fruit and crop pests, was strongly emphasized at the third annual convention of the Western Plant Quarantine Board, held at the Provincial Parliament Buildings.

W. H. Lyne, Horticultural inspector for British Columbia, spoke in detail on quarantine and transportation problems, stressing the excellent relations maintained, especially with the Canadian Pacific Railway. He declared that the work of the plant quarantine officials does not cause damage to stock, as was commonly believed, and stated that in many cases trees and shrubs left the inspection station in better shape than they arrived.

Mr. Maakow of the United States Department of Agriculture touched upon the pest problem in California, getting the railway companies thoroughly to clean cars of crop pests. After a month test at Oakland, this work was impeded by its costliness, this working out at over $15 per car for inefficient work. As a consequence of this experience he had proposed an infestation with live steam, and this had proven so successful with box cars as to have become the standard practice, the cost working out at 45 cents a piece.

High Praise Given
"If the growers of California would only obey the regulations one-half as well as the transportation concerns do, the work of the quarantine office would become a sinecure," said Mr. Maakow in conclusion. R. C. Treherne of Ottawa, heartily agreed, and in a short outline of the campaign against the codling moth

THOMPSON WAS IN BED A MONTH

Says the Very Life Seemed Gone Out of Him When He Got Up

"The very first few doses of Tanlac I took made me feel better, and now my stomach seems just like a new one," said Samuel Thompson, 172 Peters Avenue, Winnipeg, Man. "I was in very bad shape before I got Tanlac. My health broke down a year ago, and I got to where I was little more than a physical wreck. I was flat on my back in bed for a month, and when I got up the very life seemed to be gone. I hardly had strength enough to get around, and my appetite was very poor. I soon commenced suffering from indigestion and for my food soured, and I was kept bloated and in agony all the time."

"I finally started taking Tanlac, however, and by the third day I was eating like a horse. I've taken five bottles now, and can eat and enjoy anything I want, and feel as well as I ever did in my life. I am glad to recommend Tanlac to others, for I believe it will help anyone suffering from stomach trouble, and I like to express my gratitude for the good it has done me."
Tanlac is sold in Victoria by D. E. Campbell and all druggists.—Adv.

These cars bring apples from the United States to the Prairie Provinces, frequently when travelling as empties to the British Columbia orchard centres they accumulate sufficient heat to incubate the codling moth eggs, and we have actually found the moths themselves in the cars when we have opened them at our stations," he said.
Great Market Gains
Mr. Maakow then remarked that in this connection he wished to speak plainly to the transportation men present. You are going to have few apples for transportation to Australia for many years to come. The Australian experts did not take their drastic action for protection against fire blight without thought. It will be a long fight to get the new prohibitory regulations repealed," he said, and expressed the hope that every effort be made against the Pacific Coast orchards highly productive would be made by the freight moving interests, if only in their own behalf.

CLUB OFFICIALLY OPENS NEW ROAD

The Victoria Automobile Club Takes First Run to Beautiful Uplands

The new link in the Uplands Shore Road, which now gives through connection along the waterfront from Victoria to Cadboro Bay, was officially opened last night by the Victoria Automobile Club, which turned out over 100 cars.

The members doubled up for the sake of sociability and over fifty cars were used to carry the merry crowd. The affair constituted the first club run of the Victoria Automobile Club and at tomorrow night's meeting of the club members the question of the first outing in the form of a picnic or a rural drive and luncheon, will be discussed. The meeting will be held in 313 Pemberton Building, commencing at 8 o'clock.

Mexican Force Casts Garments to Flames; Ends Weevil Peril
To cause a large Mexican army to make a bonfire of all its clothing, as a precaution against the importation of the cotton boll weevil into his infested territory, was the remarkable achievement of O. A. Pratt, Plant Quarantine Officer of Lower California, Mexico, and recited by him yesterday morning to the members of the Western Plant Quarantine Board, holding its third annual convention at the Parliament Buildings.

WATSON'S SHOE STORE TO BE REMODELED

Owing to the constant shrinkage of prices in the footwear market we have decided that the only way to do legitimate Shoe Business to-day is to do away with all surplus stock and replace from day to day. This enables us to secure the new goods and turn them over to the buying public at the existing market price. In order to do this we are going to remodel one of the stores we now occupy and clear out all our present stock regardless of cost in one

As was customary, Mexican warriors, each was accompanied by his womenfolk and a numerous family, and Mr. Pratt's worst fears were confirmed when he noted that everyone had a well stuffed sack of cotton for a pillow and batting filled mattresses, all being naturally the hosts of multitudes of weevils.

General Rodriguez was inclined to demur, claiming that clothing was just as hospitable a host for the cotton growers' chief enemy. Mr. Pratt thereupon made the startling proposal that all the clothing should be destroyed, having noted the extreme wariness of everyone within eyesight and remembering hearing a story of supplies of clothing for a Mexican army having been purchased in San Francisco.

Somewhat to his surprise, General Rodriguez agreed to the proposal, assuring Mr. Pratt of his overruling consideration, as a rancher, for his kindly interest in the welfare of the cotton grower. He then admitted that within a few days large supplies of new equipment would be arriving, and promised that no man should set foot in Lower California save in a new kit.

Giant Fires Start
On the day before the invasion took place therefore, a parade of the whole of the force was held, the new kit was served out, even to squeaky new boots, and the old rags were collected into great piles.

To these heaps were added the bedding, everything belonging to the women save newly washed clothes and garments made of cloth just

PROMISING YOUNG VOCALIST WAS WELL RECEIVED

The vocal recital given by J. H. Hinton, the vocal teacher of Vancouver, and his pupils L. U. Conyers, Jr., and Miss Ida Richards at Fletcher Bros. Music store on Tuesday evening last was remarkably successful.

The occasion served to introduce Miss Richards of Victoria as a most promising young vocalist. The programme was well arranged and of an high order. Miss Richards' tones were warm, well produced, and free particularly in the upper register.

The duet, a lovely "Ave Maria" which she sang with Mr. Hinton, gave her the added confidence which enabled her not only to sing beautifully, but to the extent of her power without forcing, balancing perfectly the part sung by her master, but also to show to advantage her power of control.

Mr. L. U. Conyers, although suffering from throat trouble, gave a magnificent rendering of Bemberg's "Hindu Song." Verdi's "Eri Tu" and a lovely cavatina from Donizetti's "Maria di Rudenz" in his singing, Mr. Conyers displayed again beauty of tone, fine control, and a remarkable emotional conception of the music. In response to an imperative encore, Mr. Conyers contributed another song. The recital was the first of a series to be given by Mr. Hinton and those who are studying with him.

A generous collection was taken during the evening in aid of the Jubilee Hospital.

"We find conditions so unsatisfactory that we thought that the contract should be ended, and we are going to have a schedule drawn up showing the food requirements of the school," said Major Riddell. It is planned to install in the High School supplies of food that will at once tempt the students and nourish them in accordance with the best scientific practice.

At St. John's Church, on Wednesday, June 8, the Rev. F. A. P. Chadwick solemnized the marriage of Anna, daughter of the late James H. Bentley of Manchester, England, and Mrs. Olsen of Orléan Point, B. C., to Robert W. Walker, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hampton Walker, 3310 Wark Street, Victoria. The bride who was attended by her sister, Mrs. Bertha Hunter, as matron of honor, looked charming in her traveling suit of blue with hat to match. Mr. D. L. Walker, engineer in charge of the Jordan River Power Plant, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Many immediate friends of the family witnessed the ceremony. The young couple left on the midnight boat for a honeymoon trip to the Mainland and United States cities and will later make their home in Victoria.

MRS. BRUCE RECEIVES JEWELLED BADGE

Presentation Made in Toronto to Late Treasurer of National I.O.D.E.

In view of the suggestion made at the annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter I. O. D. E. that a jewelled badge should be presented to Mrs. John Bruce, late national treasurer, in recognition of her ninety years of service to the Order, it is interesting to note that a presentation of this nature had already taken place.

Gift of Personal Friends

The Toronto Telegram of the date of June 1 contains the following item:

"Three Toronto women now have jewelled I.O.D.E. badges. Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, Mrs. Andrew Sim and Mrs. John Bruce. At a musical given by Mrs. A. E. Gooderham yesterday afternoon, Mrs. Bruce was presented with the emblem of the order set in jewels. Mrs. Joseph Taylor, regent of the Colonel A. E. Gooderham Chapter made the presentation."

Two years ago Mrs. Bruce was presented with an illuminated address by the Order at its annual dinner on her retirement as treasurer. Her jewelled pin comes as the gift of her personal friends as the result of the subscription started by Mrs. A. E. Gooderham, whom she served so faithfully. Not only was Toronto society largely represented among those who subscribed, but an informal invitation had been extended to her friends at the annual meeting to bring any who cared to come.

Twenty-one years' service to the Order, Mrs. Bruce's fine record of nineteen years of service as Treasurer to the Order, and her unremitting devotion to duty during all those years, which embraced the period of the great war. Regret was expressed that Mrs. Bruce resigned the Presidency after occupying it for only one year.

In conclusion, the address read as follows: "This twenty-first year of 'Canada's Century' marks your twenty-first year of service to the Order. May the coincidence of three times the perfect number be a happy augury of your being thrice blessed in the years to come."

The accompanying gift of a jewelled badge is but an inadequate token from these friends of the Order whose feelings toward you are love, admiration and respect.

"Signed on behalf of your friends in the Order."

"For her musical programme Mrs. Gooderham had selected Mr. Von Kunzels, Miss Margaret Brown, Mr. Victor Edmunds, and Mr. Reginald Stewart."

ANNABELLE.

Etymologists are authority for the contention that Annabelle is by no means a combination of the names Anna and Belle, and therefore does not mean "Fair Anna" as is generally supposed. On the contrary, Annabelle is one of the Ioniads, "eagle" names and is translated to mean "eagle-heroin". In her very earliest origin she is claimed by associated with Anubis, the name which was first borne by the granddaughter of William the Lion of Scotland who married Robert de Guin. But etymologists believe that Annabelle was originally Anubis and was cut down by the Romans and their Latin secretary into Annabelle. It was later amplified according to English fancy and in our present day has been contracted once more to Belle. There are various spellings for Annabelle; some prefer Annabell, Annabell, Annabell, and still others Annabel.

Edgar Allan Poe chose Annabelle as the name for the heroine of his poem of Love Eternal. Everyone is familiar with the exquisite lines:

"Neither the angels in Heaven above,
Nor the demons under the sea,
Can ever discover my soul from the soul
Of the beautiful Annabelle Lee."

The sapphirine in Annabelle's talismanic gem. It promises for his wearer happiness in love and constancy from those who love her. Saturday is her lucky day and 7 her lucky number.

FINE ENGRAVINGS AT LOAN EXHIBITION

Interesting Collection Assembled by Provincial Arts Institute. Opened

The Lieutenant-Governor, accompanied by Mrs. W. C. Nichol, officiated at the informal opening yesterday afternoon of the third loan exhibition of engravings, etchings, woodcuts and prints arranged by the Provincial Arts and Industrial Institute of British Columbia. The exhibition is being held in Room 214 Pemberton Building, where it will be open to the public for three weeks, and it is sincerely hoped that Victoria will realize this rare opportunity of inspecting the work of some of the most gifted artists of their day.

The exhibition comprises about one hundred and fifty pictures loaned from some of the finest private collections in the city. Among the artists represented are Landseer, Sir Thomas Lawrence, Gainsborough, Angelica Kauffman, Ramsay, Greuze, Jean Breugel, Rubens, Sir Joshua Reynolds, Seymour Lucas, Bonshausen, Turner, Hopper and Jones. A series of Morland prints, a lovely collection of sketches colored by Turner, some very old wood cuts, several fine etchings and some very fine specimens of engraving are included in the varied collection.

Of particular interest, from the historical point of view, is Dodd's print depicting the Spanish insult to the British flag at Nootka Sound. A quaint little print showing a horseman making a wonderful jump of twenty-six feet over an open spigot has a local association, as the gentleman depicted is a great uncle of F. B. Pemberton. Modern work is represented by two excellently executed black and white sketches, including an etching of Vimy Ridge by Bassin, and a clever study of Polius before Verdun, by Jones.

Owing to a delay in the printing, catalogue were not available yesterday, but the organizers state that this deficiency will be remedied almost immediately.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

SPOTTY CHICK LEARNS SOMETHING

Spotty Chick was one of a brood of fourteen chicks which proud Mrs. Hen showed to the barnyard folk one morning.

Spotty was smaller than the other chicks and was named Chicken Little, but when later it was discovered that he had on his back two small black spots his name was changed to Spotty.

Being so small, it was easy for Spotty to get through a very small space, and this he often did until one day something happened that nearly cost his life.

His mother warned him to stay at home, but Spotty did not like to be shut up in the yard where the farmer put him with his mother and brothers and sisters.

"I never shall learn a thing if I stay here, and besides I need large worms and bugs more than the others because I am so small and need to grow a great deal, and if I do get lost the farmer finds me and brings me home; so why should I worry? Mother does not know everything, I am sure."

Then one day the farmer took away Mrs. Hen and left the chick all alone, and there was no one to scold him if he ran away, and while the other chickens peeped and peeped for their mother, Spotty scrambled under the fence and off he ran.

Not far from the farmhouse was another house, and here lived Fluffy Cat, who was just as fond of a chicken for dinner as she was of a bird, and as Spotty wandered down the road Fluffy, who was taking a walk that morning looking for his dinner, saw him and decided at once that he was just about the right size.

But Fluffy did not care to have anyone see her doing such things as catching chicks, so she hid behind a rock because there were some large

THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

When Spotty started with the others toward the barnyard he was behind and Fluffy crept carefully from her hiding place, and with cat-like steps followed. She soon was near enough to spring, at poor, unsuspecting Spotty.

Spotty flapped his little wings and peeped loudly, and then he remembered his mother's warning about staying at home.

Now, it happened that Mrs. Hen had been put in the barnyard with the others and she was just scratching for worms and thinking about her children, wondering if they were large enough to care for themselves, when she heard Spotty's peep. Her legs were out in the road in a jiffy, cackling as she ran, and in a second she flew straight into the face and eyes of Fluffy Cat.

Fluffy dropped poor little Spotty and away she ran for home. Spotty stood up and waved his small wings and peeped to Mrs. Hen. She was alive, but no sooner did he stand up than over he tumbled, for Fluffy Cat had hurt one little leg.

Mrs. Hen cackled loudly; she forgot to scold Spotty for running away as she was so frightened, and out of the house came the farmer's dog, who had picked up poor little Spotty chick.

Spotty was put in a basket and doctoring until his leg was well, but he always limped a little, and when the other chicks saw him they always said: "Poor Spotty, if he had stayed at home as we did he would not have been hurt by Fluffy Cat."

Spotty hears them and knows it is true, but never since that day has he left the yard.

HORRORS!

A poor hypochondriac who was always imagining that there was something wrong with him called in the doctor one morning and told the doctor that he believed that he had swallowed a mouse during the night, because he could feel the mouse nibbling in his stomach. The doctor, to humor the poor cuss, told him to take a piece of cheese and get a cat. Then he went to place the cheese on his nose, lie flat on his back on the floor and keep the cat near him. The mouse would come up to get the cheese and the cat would catch it. The poor fellow went away and followed instructions. About four hours later the doctor was called to the telephone. The hypochondriac was screaming over the phone: "Oh, doctor, I feel so sick!" he said. "Something terrible has happened. While I was lying on my back, I felt asleep, and now the cat has disappeared. I think it went down after the mouse!"

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR TO-NIGHT

SPOTTY CHICK LEARNS SOMETHING

When Spotty started with the others toward the barnyard he was behind and Fluffy crept carefully from her hiding place, and with cat-like steps followed. She soon was near enough to spring, at poor, unsuspecting Spotty.

Spotty flapped his little wings and peeped loudly, and then he remembered his mother's warning about staying at home.

Now, it happened that Mrs. Hen had been put in the barnyard with the others and she was just scratching for worms and thinking about her children, wondering if they were large enough to care for themselves, when she heard Spotty's peep. B. C. EXTENDING IRRIGATION POLICY

Dry Belt Settlers Anxious to Benefit From It, Hon. T. D. Pattullo Explains

After loaning $1,300,000 for the development of irrigation works in this Province, for the benefit of settlers in the dry belts, the Government now is not changing its policy, but merely extending it, the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, said today.

The Colonist has an editorial in Wednesday morning's paper on "Land Settlement." Hon. Mr. Pattullo said, "It suggests with reference to my remarks concerning irrigation in the Province, that the suggestions I made indicate a change of policy and express the hope that when I bring down this new policy that the farmers will be consulted. Incidentally, the Colonist takes a crack at the operations of the general land policy of the Government."

Settlers Anxious for Extension
"The remarks I made with regard to irrigation are in no sense a change of policy but simply an indication that it is proposed that the present policy shall be extended as far as financial conditions will permit. I have been assisting settlers already on the land in respect of irrigation ever since the present administration took office and we have loaned out to date, for irrigation works, approximately $1,300,000. So successful has been this policy that settlers in all parts of the 'Dry Belt' where they have not already irrigation systems are exceedingly anxious to take advantage of the policy, which was carried out by the installation of irrigation systems."

"With regard to the land policy of the Government generally, while the development schemes, as evidenced in all parts of the world, are difficult undertakings, our policy, generally speaking, is working out very satisfactorily. I recently visited Camp Lister and also the irrigation project in the Osoyoos and the development in both areas is gratifying."

ST. ANDREW'S LADIES' AID
Held Social and Business Meeting at Home of Mrs. W. Head Yesterday

The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held the regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Head, North Quadra street. Despite weather conditions there was a good attendance. Mrs. W. A. Cameron, Mrs. Head and Mrs. Walter Scott were appointed delegates from St. Andrew's Ladies' Aid to assist at the luncheon on Wednesday, June 15, to be served to the delegates attending the W. C. T. U. convention next week in the Metropolitan Hall.

A special meeting of the society will take place next Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. B. McKilligan, Rockland Avenue, to make arrangements for a garden party and all members are particularly requested to be present.

When the business was concluded delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Head, assisted by the Misses Head, and an enjoyable time spent socially, after which a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the hostess, and the meeting adjourned.

ONE LOVE STORY YOU NEVER CAN FORGET.

The Romance of Two Sisters, Both Beautiful, One Demure, the Other Vampish—With Thrills in Every Chapter and an Unexpected Denouement.

CHAPTER XV.

"The Great Northern Hotel," Nina Rogers said as she stepped into the taxi.

Just a few moments before she had been with Varia. She was deeply touched. All that was best in her warm heart, her impulsive tenderness, had been roused by her younger sister. Varia loved her. She loved her even now, after she had discovered Nina's last act of unspeakable selfishness.

"I'll do something for her!" Nina told herself.

She leaned forward and tapped on the window. "I've changed my mind. I want to go to Lower Broadway, near Fulton Street," she explained.

Then she sank back with a little sigh.

Alice Dana would expect her, of course, and be disappointed but she would telephone later and give some excuse, a frightful headache, any other plausible fib.

Nina gave herself up to the luxury of the monotonous motion. She felt proud of herself for what she was about to do. For she had decided in that moment that she would go to John's office and tell him frankly that their friendship—must end.

What a volatile thing their relation had been! She knew that John still loved her, that she could make his heart beats quicken and his pulses throb just by the lift of her eyes, by the touch of her finger tips on his coat sleeves.

Her eyes narrowed as she remembered that scene she had with him when he had come to lend her the thousand dollars. How he had drawn back from her as she stood there in her room, with her negligee caught in the door! He had fought against her—he had left her without even saying goodbye. But if she chose she knew she would bring to his knees. "If I choose—but I don't choose any longer."

It was delightful to feel that she was being noble. That she was deliberately going to send back this man to his wife by her own power.

The actress in her was rising to the power of the part and she saw herself in John's office, telling him that he must forget her. She would say it with just the touch of a sob in her voice, that lit up his eyes. "I'll be here," she thought, "that would make one cry if one could even see her!"

When she paid the taxi driver at the door she felt a queer sensation that she was about to act.

"Mr. Amory," Nina said to the admiring office boy, "I want to see Mr. Amory in his office, if he is in."

"When will he be in?" she insisted. "Anything now," answered her question. She yawned; and her dramatic fervor began to ebb away.

"If John didn't come soon, she just wouldn't wait."

Nina saw a mirror hanging on the back of a door down the passageway. She stood up and went over to it, creating a reflection even in the dim light with pleasure.

How the softness of the mole skin became her! How dusky her hair was beneath the turban, and that pale feather that touched her shoulder was bewitching.

She powdered her nose daintily and smiled at her reflection. It was so difficult for any man to resist her.

"Mr. Amory can see you now," the lanky office boy told her.

"I thought you said he wasn't in!" she asked half-angrily.

"He wasn't in except to special appointments," he told her, "but he'll see you now."

Nina's mood had veered. She was annoyed that any one could treat her so. Men usually waited for her, and had she shown up to sit out in a stuffy office, while John sat complacently with—

The boy held open the door of the private office and Nina went in.

She held out her gray-gloved hand to John without a word.

John Amory was standing by the window. He bowed, but he did not seem to see the hand.

The annoyance beneath the surface of Nina's mood grew into temper. But she checked it with a smile.

"I hope I'm not in the way," she said, lifting her dark winkle brows and leaning on his desk.

"Won't you sit down?" he pulled a chair away from his desk at a good distance from his own.

His coldness infuriated her as nothing else could have done. She forgot her resolutions, she only had one desire, and that was to bring the old look back on his face, the old light into his eyes.

"You're angry at me, John?" she asked, feeling her way.

"No," he answered, tapping nervously on his desk with his strong fingers.

"You're not busy?" she said in that soft, pleading voice.

"No," he said again without looking at her.

"Look at me, then!" she implored. She tilted up her head, and her long, dark eyes, sensuously soft, were on his face.

He scowled and looked across at her.

"Well?" His face was hard and indifferent and unmoved even when she rose quickly and went over and touched his brown hair he jerked away from her.

"Oh, John, you don't love me any more," she breathed.

He laughed. It was not a pleasant laugh; it struck the tympanum of Nina's ears with a harsh sound. No one ever laughed at her—no one ever could—

Now John Amory kept his eyes on her face. They seemed to burn into her and the expression about his mouth was not pleasant as he talked.

"You call that love?" That rebelling that you aroused in me—I'd hate to tell you what I call it! I haven't been a fool. I would have known what you were when you ran off as you did. But men never know when they are being fooled, by such women as you."

"I suppose now you think I hate you—that feeling next door to love?"

"No, I know you. I've known ever since that last time when you were when you caught yourself in the door so cleverly."

"If you've wrecked my chances for happiness, that's neither here nor there. But you've come very near to wrecking your own. Do you know your husband came here to-day; demanded an explanation of me."

"The spots of rouge on your face stood out grotesquely against her sudden pallor."

"No, I didn't give you away. I'm going to meet the girls you ran up. I don't want to know one thing, where is that thousand dollars that I lent you?"

"That's it, of course, money!" Nina said with an unpleasant sneer.

"Whenever there's a question of money you see the real man!"

"You'll have it back—never fear!" her voice trembled with her fury.

"I told Mel Rogers to-day—"

"So you told him, did you?" sneered John unrepentantly.

"I'll have to ask you not to scream. I don't want the office force coming in."

"Wouldn't be sorry for this?"

"Nina," he said slowly, "we've had enough of this melodrama. I want you to stop this quietly what you did with that money. If there is no way of recovery, we'll let it go. That was my risk. I told your husband about you. I thought he was mistaken about you. You haven't the courage to be a bad woman—just a silly one."

Emotion had ravaged the face that Nina hid in the shadows.

"The thousand dollars is here," she said proudly. "This cloak I bought at Gunther's, like your heroic air, John, I think they're mistaken after what you have treated your wife!"

She pushed back her chair and left the office.

Thankful He Was Not a Woman

The late Lawson Tait, of England, the great woman's doctor, said he never went to bed at night without thanking heaven he was not born a woman. No doctor ever knew better than he what women have to suffer at some times of their lives. It was an American woman, long since passed to her reward, who introduced a combination of roots and herbs called Lydia's Compound, that has proved wonderfully successful in mitigating suffering and relieving diseases of women. It has brought relief to thousands of women who suffered from female ills. —Advt.

WOULD PREVENT SALE OF HEARST PAPERS IN CANADA

The Royal Society of St. George had a large attended and interesting social meeting Tuesday evening at Christ Church school, Dean Quanton presiding.

The secretary stated that the male membership had passed the 200 mark and that the Ladies' Auxiliary was going ahead even more rapidly, that one lady had introduced 60 new members in six months, and was determined to increase this to 100 within the year.

Accepts Challenge.
The secretary intimated that a few days previously he had been asked if the Sons of England Society sent a challenge to the St. George's Society for a game of cricket would the challenge be accepted? Without a moment's hesitation Mr. Farley asked, "Send in your challenge and I'll accept it instantly, without reference to my members." The English sporting element was strong, evident by the way the meeting received the intimation.

Mr. West of England Men.
Mr. Farley referred to the pleasure and pride given to himself by the discovery of so many West of England men in Victoria, and Wiltshire men in particular, a county famous for its English fighting spirit, remarking it was not without interest that Napoleon after his defeat at Waterloo and a prisoner at St. Helena, had as his personal custodian a Wiltshire man, who was armed with loaded musket and bayonet, and always accompanied "Bonny" on his walks. A few days ago the Prince of Wales, speaking at the unveiling of a West of England war memorial, Mr. Farley said, drew attention to the fact that the Devonian regiment had during the war sent upwards of 50,000 men to the various fronts—a just proud record for Devonians.

The secretary mentioned that the entertaining committee had not got into running order as a team, and no doubt before long would issue a programme of a series of meetings, which would largely increase interest in the work of the society.

Against Hearst Papers.
A resolution was proposed and passed unanimously, condemning the importation into and the sale in Canada of the pro-German Hearst publications, and the secretary was requested to forward the resolution to the Mayor and City Council asking their co-operation and backing in

EX-COUNT OTANI BOUND TO EUROPE

Distinguished Japanese With Democratic Ideas Passes Through on Suwa Maru

Ex-Count K. Otani, related by marriage to the Imperial House of Japan, was a distinguished passenger arriving to-day by the liner Suwa Maru from Yokohama.

The former Count has democratic ideas and for this reason he eagerly consented to the transfer of the title to his son-in-law and is now enjoying an extensive travel tour as ordinary Mr. K. Otani.

"After the war, you understand, I wish to see Europe," he smilingly explained when approached on board by a Times representative. "I have been to Europe on many occasions, but that was before Europe became devastated by war. My mission is one of pleasure and personal investigation."

The customary Japanese form of salutation was strongly in evidence on board the Suwa during the course of introductions and farewells as the distinguished but very natural Japanese personage was brought into personal contact with the members of the Japanese community.

Mr. Otani is a man of charming personality. His complexion is fair and in some respects he resembles the European. In greeting or dismissing his visitors he bowed low with the impressive formality of the Japanese salutation, or just as eagerly extended the democratic hand of friendship customary of the Occident.

The ex-Count is a widely-travelled man but during the war he remained in Japan. He is looking forward with pleasure to his trip to Europe and proposes to remain on the other side of the Atlantic until late in the year. He will cross the Atlantic by the Empress of France.

LINER SUWA MARU COMPLETES PASSAGE IN THIRTEEN DAYS

Japanese Ship Met With Head Winds on Arriving Off the Coast

On her twenty-first eastbound voyage, the Japanese liner Suwa Maru, of the Nippon Yusen Kaisha, reached port this morning after a passage of thirteen days from Yokohama. Head seas met with off the coast held the liner back slightly, but did not deter the ship from completing her trip right on schedule.

"We had a fine voyage. It was Suwa-weather," laughingly exclaimed Capt. M. Machida, commander of the big Japanese ship.

The ship docked shortly after 9 o'clock, and disembarked 23 saloon, 3 second, 3 intermediate and 30 steerage passengers.

Among the passengers arriving by the Japanese liner was Louis D. Stone, formerly in the United States consular service, and who has been in Tokyo and Yokohama on a business tour. He is now associated with an American business firm, and expects to return to the Orient next year.

Another representative of an American business house is W. L. Spurling, who has been travelling in the interests of his firm in Japan and China.

Capt. G. L. Schlesinger is a British military officer who has been studying military organization in Japan. He and his wife are returning to England.

Buddhist Priests.

Sotono Gotsubo, a Buddhist priestess, with glowing cheeks, kimono and sandals, arrived from Japan by the Suwa Maru, and was met here by K. Nishimoto, also of the Buddhist faith.

Mrs. M. J. Weiss has been touring China, and is so delighted with her experience that she proposes to return to Japan next year.

The Suwa Maru brought in 5,000 tons of Oriental cargo. She has 4,000 tons for Seattle and the balance is for British Columbia.

Eddie Hubbard, the aerial postman, arrived almost simultaneously with the docking of the Suwa, and left shortly afterwards with several mail bags for Seattle. His departure excited great interest among the passengers standing on the deck of the liner.

After discharging her local freight and mails the Suwa Maru cleared early this afternoon for Puget Sound.

Men are great bluffers. A lot of them who talk hasso when they are down town talk tenor when they are at home.

We do not know much. But we do know that the man who promises to make a woman happy has a bigger job on his hands that he imagines.

Why is it that those who are urged to throw bouquets at those who practice economy and also urged to throw rocks at those who are stingy?

BRIEF LOCALS

Automobile Club.—The Victoria Automobile Club will hold a meeting to-morrow evening at 313 Pemberton Building.

Bank Clearings.—Bank clearings for the week ending to-day were $2,182,912, as compared with $3,193,143 in the corresponding week of 1920.

Plan For Garden Fete.—The Esquimalt Chapter, I. O. D. E., held a meeting yesterday afternoon, at which plans for the garden party to be held on July 4, at the home of the regent, Mrs. Henry Croft, Mt. Adelaide, were discussed.

To Give Visitor Recital.—At the First Congregational Church on Friday evening, July 8, Edwin Cahn, of New York, a violinist who is spending a summer vacation here, will give a recital illustrated with luminous views. The concert will be in aid of the Victoria Seaman's Institute.

Ward Seven Cottage Gardeners.—A meeting of the Ward Seven Cottage Gardeners' Association was held last night at the home of the secretary, Mrs. Stewart, Vining Street. Mayor Hibben presided. The prize lists for the forthcoming Fall exhibition will probably be ready next week from the printers.

Census Taking.—W. G. Gaunce, Commissioner for Victoria, reports that the taking of the census in this city is progressing favorably and no trouble seems to be encountered by the enumerators in securing prompt and correct answers to the questions required to be answered by law. It is expected that the work will be entirely completed the week after next.

Will Fly Flags.—Flags must be flown regularly from all school flag poles. The City School Board decided last night. The Board had before it a letter from the British Empire League, signed by Brigadier-General R. P. Clark, protesting that school flags were not flown regularly. The League will be informed that janitors will be instructed to see that this condition is changed.

Successful Sale.—A very successful sale of work was held yesterday afternoon by the Ladies' Guild of the Oaklands Church. The affair was opened at 3 o'clock by the Rev. William Carroll, pastor of the church, and was well patronized by purchasers throughout the afternoon. The proceeds will be devoted to the funds of the Guild, and among the ladies who assisted were Mrs. S. H. Wilson, Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. Ashton, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Smith.

Address of Sunday School.—At a well-attended meeting held last night in the school room of St. Mary's Church an interesting address was delivered by William Moore on the methods of Sunday School teaching, outlining the nature of the work to the parents of the pupils. The speaker suggested that the parents help the children with the Sunday School lessons during the week, and in this manner would make matters easier for the Sunday School teachers. The Rev. G. H. Andrews presided. A picnic to take place June 25 was discussed, and a committee struck to manage the event.

DRUG VICTIMS PUT AWAY FOR OWN GOOD

Two Terms of Three Months Handed Out This Morning

In the course of a short police court hearing to-day H. H. Pownell and John Milne were each sentenced to three months in jail for being in possession of cocaine unlawfully. Magistrate Jay told the accused, who were both married men, that they were being put away mainly for their own good, and that the enforced abstinence from the drug might aid them in the breaking of the habit.

Jack B. Wilson, charged on remand with vagrancy, failed to appear and a warrant was ordered for his arrest.

MUCH VALUE ATTACHED TO WORK OF BOARD

Sessions of Quarantine Officials Marked By Much Business

Temporarily laying aside all thought of "Bugs and bugology," as Fred Maskew, of the United States Federal Horticultural Department, described their pest control work, the members of the Western Plant Quarantine Board, with the railway men and nursery men attending the third annual conference here, last night paid visits to the beautiful sunken gardens at Benvenuto, the home of R. P. Butchart, and to the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory on Saanich Hill.

While the weather condition were not of the best, the delegates to the conference expressed themselves delighted with the tour, the contrast between the artificial beauty of the sunken gardens and the widespread view from the summit of Observatory Hill being the subject of much delightful comment.

Valuable Sessions.
The conference being one of the most important events on the calendar from the point of view of western horticulturists and forestry men, its proceedings were scheduled to commence on Tuesday with a welcoming address by Lieut.-Governor the Hon. Walter C. Nichol.

Because of his recent illness this programme could not be adhered to, and Hon. John Oliver, as Premier, extended a Provincial welcome to the members of the Board.

The Western Plant Quarantine Board indirectly controls the importation of all plants, seeds and horticultural products into every state west of a line marked by the eastern boundaries of the States of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming and Montana and the Province of British Columbia.

This result is achieved by the submission of the recommendations of the Board to the State and Provincial Governments for enforcement.

While the representatives of the quarantine services of seven states and this Province are in session here, it was not until yesterday morning that it was definitely known that delegates from six other units would be unable to be present.

State representations are as follows: Arizona, Don C. Mote; British Columbia, W. H. Lyne; California, G. H. Heck; D. B. Mackie, deputy; Idaho, W. H. Wicks; Lower California (Mexico), O. A. Pratt; Oregon, Chas. A. Park; Utah, H. H. Hagan, H. J. Webb, deputy; Washington, F. M. Glyrd.

States not represented this year are Nevada, New Mexico, Colorado, Montana, Hawaii, and Wyoming.

Railway and transportation interests are represented before the Quarantine Board by the following: F. W. Graham, of the Great Northern Railway; E. A. Muncey, of the American Railway Express; L. A. Brockwell, of the Southern Pacific Railway; and Messrs. Elliott of the Union Pacific Railway and Gardner of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The Nurserymen are being represented by C. A. Tonneson of Burton, Wash., secretary of the Pacific Coast Nurserymen's Association, Mr. Cashman of the American Nurserymen's Association, C. J. Atwood of Topenash, Wash., R. Layriffs of Victoria and W. Brown of Vancouver.

An especially invited guests and speakers on special subjects the following Government experts are in attendance on the session: F. Maskew and S. B. Detweiler of the Washington D. C. Horticultural Department; R. G. Clark, Chief Dominion Forestry Inspector; R. C. Treherne, Dominion Assistant Entomologist; J. W. Eastham, Provincial Plant Entomologist and E. W. White, Assistant Provincial Horticulturist.

Nursery Stock Work.
Practically all of Tuesday's session was occupied with preliminary work, but yesterday saw a large amount of important business transacted, the proceedings being marked by unusually pithy speeches and discussions which held closely to the points at issue.

The afternoon session of the Board was mainly devoted to the nurserymen's side of the quarantine regulations, with W. H. Lyne of British Columbia, and D. B. Mackie, of California, speaking of the work done and suggesting improvements possible. S. B. Detweiler, of the United States Federal Bureau of Plant Industry, urged systematic codification of the regulations of the various States and Provinces, and pointed out the limitations of Federal authority as to destruction of infested stock. The views of nurserymen were well represented by Mr. Cashman, of the American Nurserymen's Association, and C. A. Tonneson, of the Pacific Coast Nurserymen's Association, both of whom assured the Quarantine Board of the hearty co-operation of their members.

The Scottish Rifle Association held their usual mid-week spoon shoot at the Clover Point ranges on Wednesday afternoon. Conditions were good, and some good scores were turned in. A feature of the shooting is the scores being turned in by Sir W. E. Mitchell, "Old Dad" is shooting with the best of them, and only last week got the possible at both the 600 and 500 ranges, and on Wednesday would have equalled the highest score but for the fact that he put a bull on the wrong target at 500 yards. Dad has passed his allotted span of three score years and ten. The following are the scores:

*Cpl. A. E. Ash	200	500	600	Tot.
S.G.M.S. D. Fyvie	31	30	30	91
*M. Longwell	27	31	32	90
Sgt W. E. Mitchell	24	28	27	89
Lieut. S. Henon	23	28	30	88
*Sgt W. Burton	22	25	28	85
*Capt. Gillespie	18	20	18	65
Cpl. F. Richardson	28	29	24	81
Albin Woods	25	23	27	75
*W. T. McGibbon	23	21	18	62

Fitz's Crew Looking For Victory To-night

Vics Are In Good Shape For Lacrosse Game to Be Played at Stadium With Vancouver; Hot Match Expected; Opposition Admits Jones Hurt Them Badly With His Free Gate In Vancouver.

Followers of Canada's great national game are slated for another treat at the Stadium this evening when the Vancouver and Victoria lacrosse teams hook up in another scrap for the bunting in the Pacific Coast Lacrosse Association. The ball will be faced off at 7 o'clock sharp and it is expected that a crowd in excess of last Wednesday will be in the stand to see the old rivals go after each other.

"Every man is in top form and we intend to make Vancouver step the whole route at a fast clip," remarked Billy Fitzgerald, manager of the Vics, this morning. "So far we have not a win to our credit, although we were going out with the intention of snubbing this Vancouver crowd to-night. It's going to be a grand old tussle, no matter who wins, but we hope to be on the crowd on the right end."

Vancouver Team O. K.
Ernie Murray, manager of the Vancouver boys, brought his boys into town this afternoon on the last visit. All the players reported in good shape and are looking forward for another win.
The interest which has been worked up over these games in the short space of time has created a profound impression on the Vancouver crowd as well as in this city. The folks across the gulf have discovered that the Capital will be seeing more over the sport and that they like to see a real hot battle.
Last week the teams went after each other like a pair of sharks and they do not want to see any less in the same manner to-night.
Jones Says Little
Con Jones, promoter of the league, arrived in town this morning and stated that everything was O. K. He admitted that there was something in the nature of a little double-crossing going on, but that it was not bothering him very much as he was well protected. The other league apparently is worrying more over the situation than the genial Conrad.

New Westminster, June 9.—Lacrosse players are to be had for the asking on or about July 1, with the pickings good, for Harry Pickering's Terminals.
Such is the opinion expressed in the Royal City following a visit paid by several members of the Vancouver boys, who are anxious to hook up with the Victoria boys in a game. The Victoria boys are B. C. L. A. And the chances of a three-team organization are none too bright, according to semi-official opinion, although the Victoria boys are determined until the B. C. L. A. get together early next week and dispose of the application made on behalf of the Vancouver boys by Ernie Murray.
Hurt the Other Outfit
Had the application been made two weeks ago, the Salmonbellies may have been inclined to have talked business with Murray. In fact, Tommy Clifford stated his opinion at that time when rumors were flying around that the new Vancouver-Victoria organization was meeting with trouble. To-day the sentiment is different.
The free game at the new Hastings Park last Saturday was a "masty" one, according to the Royals and Terminals, both of whom are anxious to see the new league was not content to cater to the public on its merits but that it went out of its way to put on a show at the stadium at Athletic Park, an effort which failed, seeing that there were over 3,000 fans who paid admittance to the park. That, according to officials, was connected with the welfare of the Westminster club, was the crowning blow and from now they intend following the Wilson policy of "watchful waiting" with the prospects, so they claim, of the new league busting up before the next holiday.
That's a pretty good alibi for the Picturing crowd, but Con Jones' free gate certainly upset the calculations of the opposition. As a result of his free gate Con had a park and thousands of fans inside his park and they liked his game just as well as that which was played by the other outfit. The Vancouver-Westminster outfit have got to admit that Con Jones may be forced to weaken before Jones.

SASKATOON PROVES EASY FOR SCOTTIES
Visiting Footballers Won Last Night's Game by 6-0 Before 3,000 Fans

Saskatoon, Sask., June 8.—The Scottish Internationalists defeated the local team, the Saskatoon Braves, last night, 6 to 0. The game, which attracted more than 3,000 persons, could hardly be called a match, but an exhibition of scientific football it was well worth watching. The visitors let Saskatoon down lightly; there was little doubt in the mind of the majority of the spectators that the tourists could have scored any time they wished.
The wonderful combination displayed by the visitors had the locals baffled on all occasions, and for the greater part of the game the visitors had the play in and around the Saskatoon territory. On few occasions were the locals able to get the ball past the half-way line, and on these few occasions the intervention of the backs prevented the forwards from showing anything like the form expected. Brownlie, the Scots' goalie, was only given a few opportunities to display his art, and only on one occasion did he have any difficulty in clearing.
Fans' Favorites
The spectators were pleased mostly with the work of Gordon on the half line, Rankin at outside right, and Wilson at centre forward. Wilson was slightly injured in the last early in the match and accordingly was slowed up considerably, although he never had any difficulty evading the local forwards. Rankin and Wilson divided the scoring of the goals between them, each getting three.

BIG CRICKET GAME EXPECTED SATURDAY
Victoria Holds Last Practice To-night Before Meeting Famous Incogs

This afternoon at five o'clock the final practice of the members of the Victoria Cricket Club is being held at the Jubilee Hospital grounds. At the conclusion of the practice the regular meeting of the club will be held at the Victoria Cricket Club, when the decision upon the eleven which is to represent the club in its match against the Incogs on Saturday.
According to the club's official statement, the winner of Saturday's match will be the favorite for the Virtue Cup, the present holders being the Incogs.
In a statement made by H. A. Goward, captain of the Victoria eleven, the match will commence promptly at 2 o'clock, so spectators who wish to witness the match will be assured that there will be no waiting. Tea will be served on the ground during the course of the afternoon, but no tea interval will be allowed the players. A large marquee is to be erected for the occasion, so that the ladies officiating at the tea will be protected from the heat of the sun.
R. H. Vaughan will be absent from the Victoria eleven owing to being called to Revelstoke on business, but with this exception the club will be at full strength.
No definite word has been received from the Incogs, but it is believed that they will field their strongest side, so a battle royal is looked for, with big scores and a close result.

STAGE INTER-ALLIED SPORTS IN GERMANY
Mayence, June 9.—The inter-Allied Olympic games opened yesterday with 500 athletes from the armies of occupation competing. Besides track and field events, the programme includes soccer, basketball, tennis and fencing matches.

J. SCHAEFER, BILLIARD STAR, VISITING CITY
John Schaefer, of San Francisco, one of the leading billiard players on the continent who recently obtained a victory over Edwards, Horvath, the Belgian cue artist, is visiting the city. He is accompanied by Mrs. Schaefer, George Kosher and A. B. Taylor. The party is registered at the Metropolitan Hotel.

Believe Carpenter Is Concealing Real Power

Manhasset, N. Y., June 8.—Polski hereabout who would like to see George Carpenter going through his paces during his secret training sessions but can't, have expressed the opinion that the challenger is fooling the public. They believe his somewhat nervous attitude when boxing his newspapermen is but a ruse to conceal his real powers. There is no doubt that the debonair prize-fighter has a race track full of speed, for he occasionally seems to forget himself when not causing one any pain. He is hitting him, and displays a few of the traits that have made him famous.
Dempsey Out of Luck
Atlantic City, N. J., June 8.—Sparring partners in Jack Dempsey's training camp will be compelled to wear head gears when boxing is resumed to lessen the danger of reopening the wound over the champion's left eye, which was split open last Sunday, when Larry Williams butted him trying to evade a punch. Since Dempsey has done no work with the gloves.
"I could resume boxing now," Dempsey said to-day, "as the wound is not causing me any pain. There is no use taking any chances until it is thoroughly healed."
Hitting Well
Dempsey, with boxing of the programme is concentrating on his famous shift. He stands before a heavy punching bag, first shifting for a right hook, and then landing a left. The champion is hitting his blows accurately and is hitting sharply and with great force.

New York, June 8.—Jack Dempsey was a 7 to 1 favorite over Georges Carpenter in Wall Street betting yesterday, the largest single wager being $5,000 to $1,000. A bet of $5,000 would score a knockout. There were no takers.

Manhasset, N. Y., June 8.—In four rounds of sparring yesterday Georges Carpenter tried out his defensive tactics, and neither Joe Gans nor Paul Journee could touch his smiling face.
Carpenter was at top speed and was working his left more than usual. Gans, the first man, gave Georges a good workout. Journee wielded his left at the air, "as the wound is not causing me any pain. There is no use taking any chances until it is thoroughly healed."

Walter Hagen Only American to Survive First Round of Thousand Guineas Tournament—Edward Ray Going Strong

Glen Eagles, June 8.—Walter Hagen, of Detroit, won his match in the first round of the thousand guineas professional golf tournament on the links here to-day, defeating Josh Taylor, Great Britain, 4 up and 3 to nothing.
Edward Ray, the British crack, holder of the American open championship, eliminated one of the other Americans who qualified for the match play in the tournament, Emmet French, of Youngstown, Ohio, in a close match play defeated French 2 up and 1 to play.
The other American, Jack Hutchinson, of Chicago, also was eliminated, being defeated by G. G. Mitchell, United States, in an even closer match, the Britisher winning by one hole.

SWIMMERS HAD GOOD TIME DESPITE RAIN
Elks Opened Their Clubhouse Yesterday; Played Tennis, Swam and Danced

A cool breeze and intermittent showers somewhat dampened the ardor of the members and friends of the Elks' Swimming Club who gathered at the George yesterday afternoon for the club's official opening. Despite the adverse weather conditions, the committee carried on the programme as far as it was possible. The chilly atmosphere kept the lady members out of the water.
Jimmy Muir won the 50 yards junior race in good style, and Jack Chadwick just nosed out R. C. Ross in the men's 50 yards. Two relay teams consisting of Spock, Ross and Muir, and Thompson, Stewart and Chadwick, swam a dead heat, which caused considerable excitement among the spectators.
Won Greasy Pelt
Fred C. Dillabough was the only contestant successful in reaching the end of the greasy pole, which he did amid much applause.
Weight kept the onlookers in good humor with his "One Man Show" in the water.
The result of the tennis games were as follows: Miss G. Fox defeated Miss Wood in the final of the ladies' singles; Jack Chadwick won a hard fought game with T. Stewart, in the

PASSING OF FREAK BALLS AIDS BATTING
Speaker Says Huey Hitting This Year Due to No "Spitters" or Shine Ball

New York, June 8.—Ineffective pitching due to the elimination of freak deliveries, is responsible for the rattle of extra-base hits off the fences of major league baseball parks, according to Manager Speaker, of the Cleveland Americans.
"The enemy ball, the shine ball and other extras to which pitchers resorted for many years kept down the batting," Speaker asserted. "Now they are illegal and spitball pitching has been virtually done away with. The heavy batting of this season is only a natural consequence."

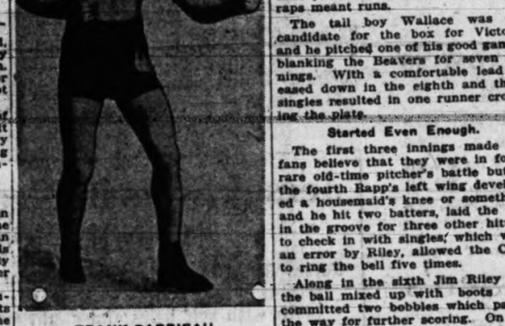

Two Games in a Day New Record For Caps

Ball Players Show Little More Form and Hand Beavers Third Straight Defeat; Wallace Had Vancouver Tamed In Afternoon Game But It Took Some Hefty Hitting to Win Evening Tussle.

First Game—Victoria, 7; Vancouver, 1.
Second Game—Victoria, 5; Vancouver, 3.
Things are beginning to look up in Victoria's baseball camp. Yesterday for the first time this season the Caps succeeded in grabbing both ends of a double-header and made it three straight from Vancouver. The local herd men, although nursing along a couple of cripples themselves, look to have their heads up at last and if they do not stop on a live wire the cellar position should soon be left vacant for some other outfit.
The Capitals could not boast of any great advantage in hitting over the Beavers, but when it came to showing fight and running bases the home brew looked close to one hundred per cent. Duplicate the of the Capitals has been good, the fielding has been fast and snappy and the hitting has been timely and fairly strong.

OBTAINS DRAW WITH GREAT JACK BRITTON
Vancouver, June 9.—Jack Britton, world's welterweight champion, successfully defended his title last night against Frank Barrieau, Vancouver title aspirant. Referee Harry Stout, of Milwaukee, Wis., giving the principals a fifty-fifty cut of the verdict. Britton received with few dissenting voices, although on the summing up an error by Riley, allowed the Caps to ring the bell five times.
Along in the sixth Jim Riley got committed two bobbles which paved the way for further scoring. On top of these errors Tony Rego got his hat in the way of a hot one and made two bases, while Shoets and Engle batted out singles bringing in two more runs.
Good Evening Game.
The evening game was a more even battle and in a couple of innings it looked as though the Beavers would obtain the upper hand and send Thompson, the local southpaw, to sample the temperature of the showers. Rego and Thompson did not seem to understand each other and Tony got so stormy behind his mask that you could hear him all over the grandstand. Tony and Thompson fought an olive branch in the fourth inning and after that the pair went along nicely and Vancouver had to take the small end once again.
Another twirler with a funny name, Brindis, was trotted out by Vancouver for inspection. Except for his offerings all over the part for extra bases, Brindis, got by as well as a wash-woman at a 4 o'clock tea.
The fans were kept uncomfortable by a slender lead and there was no telling when the Beavers might wag their tails and punch out the necessary hits to win, but fortunately that contingency opened the scoring in the second inning, two singles and Rego's peg to the outfield allowing Gleason to score.
Powerful Hitting.
The Caps came back with a wallop in their half of the second. Bankhead hit the center-field fence for three bases and Hanson planted another drive in the same place for a triple, scored in the ninth. Gatewood then completed a circle of the sacks. He hit a scorcher to left-field and Gleason let the ball get by him and it rolled to the fence. Gatewood hit the trail fast and reached the plate before the ball had been returned to the infield. With no one out things looked for a big rally but Brindis applied the air brakes hard and the next three men did not arise.
Riley's double and Wilson's single scored a second run for Vancouver in the third.
Two More Runs.
Extra-base hitting turned in two more runs for the Caps in the fifth. Shannon cut a hit to centre for three bases and Rego drove him in with a double to right. Shoets hit a sure one over the infield and Rego scored.
Riley's single in the seventh after Thompson had given two bases on balls resulted in the Beavers last score.
Big Jim Riley, the hockey star, came back into his hitting stride yesterday and he came close to grabbing his fourth hit of the evening in the ninth inning. He hit a wicked drive to right-field and Gatewood saved a hit by picking the ball off the boards in a spectacular manner. Both teams pulled out for Van-

MISKE HAD BEST OF BOUT WITH BRENNAN
Miske Won Five Rounds, Brennan Two and Three Were Even

St. Paul, Minn., June 8.—Billy Miske, of St. Paul, heavyweight, outpointed Bill Brennan, of Chicago, in a ten-round no-decision bout here last night in the opinion of a majority of newspaper critics present. Miske took five rounds, Brennan two and three were even.
Seattle, June 8.—Clumsing a speedy card in which little men dished up the mixing, Joe Harrahan, of Seattle boxed a draw with Johnny Fiske, of Rock Island, Ill., in the main event of the Northwest Athletic Club smoker at the Pavilion last night.
In the semi-windup Danny Edwards, the colored bantamweight from Oakland, stopped Ray Scriber of Anacortes in the third round.
Other results were: Eddie Neil, Anacortes, decision over Bud Manning, Seattle; Charley Jordan, Anacortes, decision over Pat Williams, Seattle.
Battling the June 8 boxing under regulations of a commission received the approval of the House of Representatives last night by a vote of 99 to 40. The bill now goes to the Senate. It provides for ten-round no-decision bouts.

Man o' War's Brother Looked Upon as Poor Skate, Galloped Into Fame

New York, June 9.—Playfellow full brother of the noted thoroughbred Man o' War, was a comparatively obscure horse until yesterday when his owner, J. F. Johnson, announced he had declined an offer of $100,000 for him.
The thoroughbred, once called a false alarm, and a disappointment in two races, has galloped into fame. Playfellow is a year younger than his famous brother and was bought for $1,800 as a yearling.

YANKEES HALF GAME IN REAR OF INDIANS

New York, June 9.—New York reduced Cleveland's lead to a half game by winning yesterday from the world's champions, 4 to 3, when they staged a ninth-inning rally. With the score 3 to 2 against them they put over two runs in their half of the final frame on singles by Meusel, Baker, Wang and Roth. Coveleskie was sent in by the Yankees, but he was unsuccessful. The finish was played under protest by Manager Speaker of Cleveland, after Baker singled in the ninth, Speaker claimed Baker had swung at the pitch previous for his third strike, but Umpire Wilson called it a ball.

VARIETY

Kate Davenport, granddaughter of McKee Rankin, whose family is closely connected with the Barrymores and who appears in the John Barrymore Paramount production of "Sentimental Tommy," which comes to this theatre carries a side line, so to speak, in a thriving jam-making business. Practically all Summer Miss Davenport spends her spare time making jam in the kitchen of the home of her mother, Phyllis Rankin, on a farm in Pennsylvania. The jam has been placed with several stores in New York and has a label bearing Miss Davenport's name. Miss Davenport says that though the stage and screen are her real vocations she believes every-

PRINCESS OFFERING IS ANOTHER COMEDY

Mildred Page Players Present "All the Comforts of Home"

The second of the series of musical comedies which the Mildred Page Players have decided to stage at the Princess Theatre during the Summer weeks was given its first night before an appreciative audience last night, the title of the offering being "All the Comforts of Home."

As in the case of last week's performance, the lines of the play are very clever and the two acts of the play are interspersed with catchy songs and dances. Throughout the play there is a good deal of love-making under rather strenuous difficulties.

Among the striking features of the performance is Eggon Alden's clever playing of the part of an old man, and of Miss Genevieve Berkeley, who takes the part of his wife. Miss Mildred Page, as Miss Tussel, the actress in the play, is the bright spot in the play, and carries off her part in her usual winning manner.

J. G. Coetz as a colored gentleman who didn't mind a "two once in a while himself, was responsible for a good deal of the humor and the musical entertainment of the show. He sang some southern songs with great effect, the stage settings and lighting arrangements being particularly well worked out for the presentation.

All the old favorites of the company have a good share of the work to do and they do it creditably. The musical numbers in the play are as follows: Opening Chorus, Ensemble; "Robinson Crusoe's Isle," Mr. Coetz; "Ohio," Mr. Jaxon and girls; "Make Believe," Miss Page and girls; "I Never Knew I Could Love Anybody As I Love You," Miss Mullally and girls; "The Vamp," Miss Page; "All-A-Moon," Mr. Coetz and girls; "Mammy," Mr. Jaxon and girls; "Don't You Cry, Ma Honey," Mr. Coetz; "He Knows His Wife," Miss Berkeley; "My Little Bimbo," Miss Mullally and girls; "All For You," Miss Page; "Robinson Crusoe," and "Make Believe," finale.

ROYAL VICTORIA

Dorothy Phillips, exquisite star of Allen Holubar's great First National drama-entertainment, now being presented at the Royal Victoria Theatre, has the support of a remarkable cast in "Man-Woman-Marriage"—the photoplay sensation of a decade. In the selection of the magnificent cast the entire motion picture field was combed with the object of affording this picture the best talent of the screen. Without regard to expense Allen Holubar secured the services of the men and women best fitted to portray the lesson this film cannot fail to teach. Among the great array of histrionic artists supporting Miss Phillips are: James Kirkwood, Ralph Lewis, J. Barney Sherry, Robert Cain, Margaret Mann.

THREE K'S CONCERT PARTY TO ENTERTAIN

Fine Programme of Varied Numbers at Shawnigan Lake Saturday

Shawnigan Lake—A programme of variety and comedy, together with a three-act sketch, "Katherine," or the "Bruised Heart," will be offered on Saturday evening, June 11, when the members of the Three K's vaudeville party of Victoria assemble in the S.L.A.A. Hall, Shawnigan Lake.

The party of Victoria, boys have given a number of successful concerts and have increased the funds of churches, the Navy League and other worthy organizations on the island.

The troupe will open with an old-time minstrel show, featuring some southern melodies. "Yorkie," the famous magician and ventriloquist, will provide amusement with his doll and later will perform feats of skill and magic as a conjurer. Popular songs will be sung by George Allen, George Anderson, Gordie Lesning and Andy Smilie. Eddie Blair as the village curate will furnish the vocal comedy, and "Yorkie" in his ten minutes of foolishness will be another scream.

The orchestra accompanying the party will provide the music for the dance, and everyone is assured of a good night of dancing, as the quality of the music is well-known.

KINGS DAUGHTERS NOW IN CONVENTION

Duncan, June 8.—Miss Letich, of Victoria, occupied the chair at the opening meeting of the King's Daughters' Convention here last night.

Before the session a visit was paid to the hospital, where delegates were welcomed by the matron. The principal question before the convention will be the financing necessary to extend the accommodation at the hospital. Among the extensions planned is an isolation ward. Among those in attendance at the convention are: Mrs. Hardie, Mrs. Morley and Miss Morley, of Victoria; Mrs. Henderson, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. W. E. Lewthwaite, Mrs. McNaire and Miss Ross, of Vancouver; Mrs. Welch of New Westminster, and Mrs. Curry of Burray.

Wedded at Nanaimo

Nanaimo—At St. Paul's Church on Tuesday a very pretty wedding was solemnized, when the Rev. E. Ryall united in marriage Miss Edith Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, Mackleary Street, and Mr. Frederick William Hughes, of Vancouver. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in ivory satin with an overdress of net embroidered in silver. She wore the regulation veil and carried a bridal bouquet of roses and pink carnations. Miss Wila McGirr, of Vancouver, who was bridesmaid, wore a dress of pink satin, with hat to match, and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by J. Keppel. The flower girls were Misses Frances Dunn and Betty Shank, who were attired in pink and white dresses, each carrying bouquets of roses and carnations. Following the ceremony a wedding luncheon was held at the home of the bride's parents, the happy couple taking the afternoon boat for Vancouver, where they will reside.

Lecture on Music. Parkville—The Parkville Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting Wednesday week, the president in the chair. Twenty-one members and sixteen visitors were present.

The date of the flower show was fixed for July 1. A directors' meeting will be held later to decide details. The roll call for the month, a quotation about a flower, took the members back to the days of poetry and romance.

Miss Lonsdale, of Shawnigan school, gave a very interesting lecture on music, illustrating the same by playing on the violin and piano. She played a selection from a composer of the fifteenth century, and then a piece from Beethoven, showing how the form and melody had improved phenomenally in late years. Miss Lonsdale explained that it was really very difficult to listen to music properly and appreciate the complicated work of the composer.

Presentation. Nanaimo—Rev. Mr. Vance, for the past three years pastor of the Wallace Street Methodist Church, with Mrs. Vance and family, left for Vancouver Wednesday morning, where Mr. Vance becomes pastor of the Kit-silano Methodist Church. Tuesday evening a farewell was given Mr. and Mrs. Vance by the congregation, during which Mr. and Mrs. Vance were presented with a well-filled purse while the Ladies' Aid gave Mrs. Vance a framed photo of the members of the Aid, the scholars of the Indian Mission also presenting Mrs. Vance

DOMINION

The kiddies of Santa Ana, California, were deep in mourning one day some weeks ago. The circus had passed them by! What was their loss, however, will be a gain to millions of other youngsters, for the show which would have performed before only a few hundred in Santa Ana will now have the whole world of children and grown-ups as its audience. For when the circus in question cancelled its Santa Ana play-date it did so because the leading boys engaged for scenes in Realiari's picture, "The Little Clown," Mary Miles Minter is the star of the production, being seen in a particularly appealing role as a circus orphan, brought up by "Toto," a clown who has been devoted to her since childhood.

The script of the story called for a "wagon show" variety—and fortunately the Escalante outfit, absolutely perfect for the purpose. There were elephants, camels, bears, coyotes, monkeys, all sorts of animals, in fact—not to mention clever riders and those agile individuals who swing through space on a frail trapeze.

Thus the circus of Santa Ana, lost out on a circus. On the other hand, the kiddies of Hollywood gained one. For the "Big Circus" is a picture, right on a main boulevard, and everybody and his dog—invited to attend, free of charge! Did they accept? Can a picture swim? The tent was crowded when the time for "shooting" began, and Director Heffron is said to have secured some of the most perfect crowd stuff in the history of the photodrama.

To make sure that the cinema players conformed exactly to strict circus custom, Realiari secured three famous circus people to act as technical directors of the scenes. Heading the list was Bert Leo, one of America's greatest clowns, for years with Ringling's and the originator of the famous "Mother Goose" act. Also assisting in the technical direction were Alice and "Mike" Brash, famous equestrians of the Hagenbeck-Wallace and other big shows.

Their talented horse, "King George" sprang into pictures. Bert Leo brought his trained horse "Mike" and dog "Queen," both of which add realism to the photoplay. "The Little Clown" will be shown at Dominion all this week. It is an Avery Hopwood play, and will be staged in New York following the screen success. Mr. Hopwood is the author of "Fair and Warmer," "Gold Diggers," and "The Bat."

PEARLS OF PEKING
PRANCE AT PANTAGES
 Attractive Musical Revue Featuring W. E. Bence is Vaudeville Headliner

"Pearls of Peking" is a snappy musical revue, artistically staged, and easily the best feature of a satisfying vaudeville bill which is offered this week for the amusement of the patrons of the Pantages Theatre.

In this excellently presented musical show, with its distinctive Oriental setting, is featured William E. Bence, who faithfully interprets the Oriental character of Adelyn Estee, and a whole variety of bewitching maidens who dance gracefully and sing tunefully.

William Bence's supreme in his characterization of the honest Chinese laundryman and the songs that are contributed by Miss Estee in an acceptable manner. The work of the show is marked by artistic taste and graceful movement.

"The Pearls of Peking" is a novelty of the kind that is sure to appeal in vaudeville. It is an exceptionally smart act, the songs are tuneful and catchy and the dance numbers are well executed.

Another act of exceptional merit is "The Stage Carpenter," a one-act playlet bristling with human interest and cleverly conceived situations in a Yuletide atmosphere. The act is admirably presented by Charles L. Gill and a company of competent artists.

A delightful instrumental and vocal offering is contributed by Arthur Green and Doris La Fell. Arthur Green is a pianist of considerable talent and the vocal work of Doris La Fell is pleasing to say the least. This is an act that will get a lot of appreciative applause during the run of the show.

Barton and Sparring are comedians and singers extraordinary with a breezy manner and imitable ideas. The team contributes in a large measure to the enjoyment to be extracted from a good bill of vaudeville. The "Ward Shattuck" appear in an entertaining act in which songs and patter are interwoven with dexterous club manipulation.

Refused to Bow to Baal

The Manchester Guardian Celebrates Its Centenary.
From The Nation and Athenaeum.

We know that in every country there are newspapers which refuse to bow their knees to Baal. One of the most justly famous of these is the Manchester Guardian, which has spent its century as hale and active as ever, and more influential in its age than its youth. And, every body, political friend and enemy alike, knows that this position has been won and maintained by performing steadily and consistently just that kind of public service which so many critics urge is incompatible with journalistic survival in the modern struggle for existence.

HERE IS ANOTHER WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP

LASKER-CAPABLANCA CHESS BATTLE AT CUBA

(From the chess correspondent of The Manchester Guardian.)

The match between Lasker and Capablanca for the chess championship of the world, which had been looked forward to for so many years, has proved a great disappointment. The games, instead of being interesting and instructive, have for the most part been extremely dull. Two were drawn, and in all of these both players appear to have aimed at exchanging the pieces as quickly as possible and reducing the game to its elements. Capablanca's plan seems to have been to play for a draw until his opponent made some slight error; but when once he obtained the slightest advantage he followed it up with relentless accuracy to the bitter end. In only one of the games had Lasker any chance of obtaining the superiority, and that was in the tenth, in which he had moved his queen instead of his knight to the square in front of the king's bishop.

OILS AND STEELS UNDER PRESSURE

(By Burdick Brothers, Ltd.)
New York, June 8.—The feature of the market here to-day was the inherent weakness in the oil and steel groups by the bullish government report on the oil issues, and heavy selling due to reports that an injustice had been done to the American oil operators by the new Oil Conservation Act. The State Department announced to-day that representations will be made to the Mexican Government in connection with the oil concession which the American oil operators are making their own. The steel market was also under pressure, with the steel department of the U. S. Government making it plain that a keen rivalry was making itself felt.

Classified Advertisements

Classified advertisements in the newspapers offer to the business man or woman many opportunities that cannot be duplicated through any other medium.

It is the mission of the classified ad to act as a sort of Master of Ceremonies between the man who has and the man who wants.

In the past few years classified advertising has attained that degree of efficiency, that is successful salesmanship.

The "tired business man" who uses the classified advertisements is the chap who isn't "tired" any more, and who has time to do the many things he used to be "too busy" for.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, June 8.—The local wheat market to-day, following the American market, worked upward, and at the close a gain of 2 1/2 to 3 per cent was recorded. Trade volume was not heavy, but the market acted nervously and prices changed quickly on either buying or selling orders. July advanced to 136 1/2, a big need to October to 136 1/2.

Lasker's Career

Lasker was born on December 24, 1868, at Berlinchen, East Prussia, and won his mastership at the German Chess Association's tournament at Breslau in 1888. Since then he has been first in eight tournaments—viz., the London Quintangular Tournament, 1892; New York, 1893 (with a clean score of thirteen wins); St. Petersburg Quadrangular Tournament, 1895-6; Nuremberg, 1896; London, 1899; Paris, 1900; St. Petersburg, 1909 (tie with Rubinstein) and Berlin, 1912. At Amsterdam, 1888, he was second to Burn (for many years the mainstay of the Liverpool Chess Club and the only English amateur of first class international rank who has emerged during the past forty years, while at Cambridge Springs, 1904, he tied for second place with Janowski, F. Marshall and the American, making the first prize. At Graz, 1890, and Hastings, 1895, he was third. Before winning the world championship from Steinitz in 1924 (6 to 5 and 4 draws) he won matches against Von Bardoloff, Bird (twice), Minkai, Kleses, England, Lee, Blackburne, Golmayo, Vanques, Snowater and Killinger. Since winning the championship he has played the following matches or series of games: Steinitz (return match), 1896 (10 to 2 with 5 draws); Marshall, 1901 (5 to 0 with 7 draws); Dr. Tarrasch, 1898 (8 to 3 with 2 draws); Janowski, 1909 (a short series of 4 games, each winning 2, with no draws); Janowski, 1909 (7 to 1 with 2 draws); Schlechter, 1910 (each winning one, with 3 draws); Janowski, 1910 (8 to 0 with 3 draws); and Dr. Tarrasch, 1910 (5 to 0 with 1 draw).

Capablanca's Record

Capablanca was born at Havana on November 21, 1888. He has been first on seven occasions—San Sebastian, 1911; New York, 1913; Rio Chess Club's Summer Tournament, 1912; the American, making the first prize. At Graz, 1890, and Hastings, 1895, he was third. Before winning the world championship from Steinitz in 1924 (6 to 5 and 4 draws) he won matches against Von Bardoloff, Bird (twice), Minkai, Kleses, England, Lee, Blackburne, Golmayo, Vanques, Snowater and Killinger. Since winning the championship he has played the following matches or series of games: Steinitz (return match), 1896 (10 to 2 with 5 draws); Marshall, 1901 (5 to 0 with 7 draws); Dr. Tarrasch, 1898 (8 to 3 with 2 draws); Janowski, 1909 (a short series of 4 games, each winning 2, with no draws); Janowski, 1909 (7 to 1 with 2 draws); Schlechter, 1910 (each winning one, with 3 draws); Janowski, 1910 (8 to 0 with 3 draws); and Dr. Tarrasch, 1910 (5 to 0 with 1 draw).

Financial Strength

THE principles upon which a Bank is founded, the number of years it has been in operation, and the policy followed during these years—these features, combined with its present standing, form the criterion of the strength of a Bank.

The Bank of Montreal began business in the year 1817, with a modest capital of $1,250,000, and for over a century it has followed a conservative-aggressive policy until to-day its capital and reserve fund total $40,000,000 and its total assets are in excess of $50,000,000.

DOCTORS READY TO TEST CHIROPRACTORS

But Drugless Healers Will Boycott Examinations by Physicians

As a result of the amendments to the B. C. Medical Act, passed at the last session of the Legislature, Dr. A. P. Procter, registrar of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia, has issued an official notice of examinations for chiropractors and drugless healers wishing to practice in the Province. The tests will be held in the university on June 27, at 1 a. m.

According to the opinion expressed by Dr. A. F. Lovering, president of the B. C. Association of United Drugless Physicians, the examiners, the pen and ink and the elimination papers, in fact everything, will be there on the day set except the candidates. Dr. Lovering, who was a leader in the

FILBERT GROWERS OF COAST FACE PERIL FROM EAST

Pest Quarantine Experts Take Steps to Forestall Ruin of New Industry

Fearing for the existence of the growing filbert nut industry of the Pacific Coast, the Western Plant Quarantine Board at Wednesday morning's session at the Parliament Buildings, decided to urge upon the United States and Canadian Federal authorities the need of prohibiting the shipment of all varieties of filbert tree stock from States and Provinces east of the Rocky Mountains.

Professor H. P. Barts, State Pathologist of the famous Oregon Experimental Station at Corvallis, Ore., brought the matter to the attention of the Board, declaring that so far as investigations had gone at present, all varieties of European filberts were victims of the Eastern Filbert Blight, which is a native pest of America making the wild filbert its host plant, this only growing to the east of the Rockies.

Professor Barts stated that while the blight had little effect on the wild filbert, it utterly wiped out the cultivated European varieties as soon as it was introduced, and had completely ended several attempts to grow this nut in Eastern orchards.

Strong Action Asked

After explaining that up to the present this blight has not made its presence known on the Pacific Coast, and referring to the rapidly growing acreage now being set out as a result of successful pioneering work by individual enthusiasts, Professor Barts appealed for cooperation between the States and Provinces, suggesting that importations be banned from all Eastern American sources and also from any of the Western States which do not protect themselves from infestation by quarantine regulations.

Asked as to the importation of stock from Europe, Professor Barts declared that such varieties of filbert trees were free from blight unless they should be old stock which had been planted out in the Eastern commercial nurseries, when they would certainly be infected.

Suggestion Approved

C. A. Park, President of the State Board of Horticulture of Oregon and F. H. Glynn, Commissioner of Agriculture of Washington, both agreed that the suggestion was very timely.

Fred Maskew of the United States Board of Horticulture said the proposal to bar importations was "just the thing," and recommended that the Federal Government be asked to take steps at once. In this connection he pointed out that the United States Department would undoubtedly call for a public hearing before taking action, and recommended that data be carefully compiled in readiness for a sudden call.

Hasty Action Opposed

After H. R. Hagen of Utah had protested against hasty action when representatives of Montana, Nevada, Colorado and Wyoming were absent, and after he had warned the session against a course which might possibly split the amicable relations "over an industry which at present is not of such importance," and so

SCHOOL BOARD TO APPOINT INSPECTOR IN JULY

If the School Board thought that it was going to finish its business last night without a typical protest from Trustee Mrs. Bertha P. Andrews it was mistaken.

Mrs. Andrews objected strongly and loudly to an item of $47.50 in the Finance Committee's report to be for expenses incurred in connection with the recent "Education Week." The Board had not authorized payment of this sum, she said. It was found, however, that this item had been approved before Mrs. Andrews had launched her protest, so that she could do nothing more than demand that her objection be recorded. She also objected to the payment of two teachers' salaries for one month in advance. It was a farce to bring in reports of money that had already been expended and ask the Board to authorize the necessary vouchers, she declared.

The Board decided last night to appoint a new municipal inspector to succeed Colonel W. N. Winsby in July. Secretary W. F. C. Pope was instructed to advertise throughout the Province for applications for the position. The Board received a letter from the Native Sons urging that a Victoria man should be appointed.

Resignations were accepted from the following teachers: Miss Mabel Miller, of South Park; Miss Edith Edwards, of Margaret Jenkins; Miss Erma C. Cessford, North Ward; Miss Aileen Cass, of Margaret Jenkins; Miss Lillian Johnson, Miss Dorothy Durick, of Boy's Central School.

One of the vice-principals appeared before the Board to protest against the recommendation of the principal of his school that he should be appointed to a less exacting position. He alleged inconsistency and inaccuracy in the report of the principal. The new municipal inspector will look into the matter.

The Board decided not to send a delegate to a convention of Island school trustees in Duncan, June 21.

RESIGNS AS HEAD OF SPECIAL SCHOOL

Miss Winn Retires; Trustees Discuss Child Problem

Miss Bertha Winn, principal of the Special School for retarded children last night submitted her resignation to the City School Board, explaining that she desired a change of work. The resignation was accepted with keen regret by the Trustees, who expressed their appreciation of the splendid work which Miss Winn had been carrying on for some years.

Some desultory discussion concerning the work of the Special School, occupied the Board for a short time, but a further consideration of the retarded child problem will take place at a subsequent meeting, when a report on the matter submitted by Miss Winn recently will be discussed.

"I don't consider that the school is really a sub-normal institution," Trustee Mrs. Coady Johnson stated. "It is—we have had sub-normal children there for years," Trustee Jay replied.

"Well, I found the children very normal when I was there," Mrs. Coady Johnson declared. "They may not be very bright, but I don't class them as sub-normal."

Mrs. Andrews urged the Board to be very careful in considering all matters connected with the Special School and she referred to Miss Winn's very satisfactory work with the retarded children.

Chairman Raynor thought that the cases of children who were retarded to be allowed entry into the Special School should be brought before the Government. It was thought that these cases should be cared for by some institution.

"There is no institution equal to a mother's love and care," said Mrs. Coady Johnson.

ATTACKS SECRECY IN SCHOOL BOARD

Can Trustees Do Business in Camera Is Question

Demand that the veil of secrecy be lifted from all school business and that all motions be considered publicly was made at the City School Board meeting last night by Trustee Mrs. Bertha P. Andrews.

Discussion of secrecy in School Board affairs arose when Secretary W. F. C. Pope was reading the minutes of the previous meeting. When he came to a part of the minutes dealing with a portion of the meeting held in camera he said he supposed that he should not read further. This seemed tacitly agreed among the trustees, but Trustee George Jay wanted the secretary to record his objection to a motion passed in camera. What the nature of this motion was or why Mr. Jay had objected was not explained as the minutes of the private portion of the meeting were not read.

"Has this Board any right to conduct business secretly?" Mrs. Andrews demanded.

"That's a matter for the Board to decide," Chairman Dr. M. Raynor answered.

"But can the Board decide this matter?" Mrs. Andrews persisted. "I want to know if this Board, elected to represent the people of Victoria, can conduct business secretly or not?"

Finally the incident was closed by the adoption of the minutes, though Mrs. Andrews expressed the fear that errors might have been made in the unrecorded portion of the minutes.
