HIGH SCHOOL VARIETY SHOW IS A TRIUMPH

Student Body Annual Show Is Most Creditable Offer

LIKE PROFESSIONALS
Repeat Tonight and Friday Program of Wednesday Afternoon

The initial public performance of the annual variety show of the student body of Glendale High School, presented Wednesday afternoon before an enthusiastic audience chiefly made up of representatives from other schools of the city, realized the hopes of teachers and others who have been watching rehearsals and was exceedingly creditable to the school. As one patron was heard to remark, in artistic detail and refinement it surpassed the average professional performance. From the monkey shins of the colored minstrels in the opening plantation scene by the boys' glee club, to the grand finale choruses—charming as anything to be seen in many light opera productions—it was all good.

The pantomime parody written by William Justema who took part of Liza Queenabeth, and was ably sustained by his art pal, Ralph Van Hoorebeke as Sir Ralder Waleigh, was altogether unique in its pure fun and artistic setting, an animated art poster, and it is not at all surprising to find that the program committee of the teachers' institute of Los Angeles desired it and also the beautiful little one-act play, "The Sweetmeat Game" as produced by these student actors.

It would be hard to imagine improvement on Mary Florence Pate's interpretation of San Chi, the blind, half-witted boy, and Virginia Huntley, who yesterday took the part of Woo-Liu-Mai, played her part beautifully and consistently, and Robert Fry as the Chinese merchant filled his role admirably.

The high school orchestra under the direction of Mrs. Dora Gibson, which opened and closed the performance, made a great hit with the tuneful "In Birdland" (Zamecnik).

Hazel Linkogel was at her best in the violin number "Spanish Dance," by Raffald, and confirmed the belief that she has a brilliant future in prospect as a musician.

The trio of two violins played by Genevieve and Julia Robinson, and harp of Marjorie Jean Bailey, was another artistic success which delighted the audience, the second number, "At the Brook" (Boisdefre) being especially charming.

Harold Sprague and Loren Patrick were decidedly clever as "Rummy and Dub" with their professional vaudeville patter. Grace Yarbrough's "At the Movies," was a triumph and couldn't have been better.

Glendalians who want to enjoy a real treat, something fresh and spontaneous, a program without a single unpleasant suggestion, should lose no time in getting tickets for the performance tonight or Friday if it is possible to obtain them. Not many are left.

HARRIS VICTIMS SHOW UP AGAIN

Another Instance of Alleged Forgery Brought to Light

Another victim of E. Harris, the painting contractor's alleged ability as a worthless check writer became known today. This new victim is the Stevens' Paint store.

Harris owed the store $8.75 for a small amount of paint. On Saturday afternoon he paid the bill offering a check for $32.50 signed by E. Cook. The difference between the amount of the bill and the check was paid to Mr. Harris in cash. According to an account there under the name of E. Cook.

Impossible Cannot Be Granted, Asserts Henry James Tonight

A request for the impossible must be denied, says Henry James, in his comments on the news of the day on the editorial page tonight. He refers to the insistent demand for instant and universal disarmament by women led by Jane Addams. He discusses the matter in a calm and dignified manner, and points out reasons why, in his belief, what they ask is not possible to grant.

Dr. Frank Crane writes of "The Lincoln Specification." He says that if we could apply the formula of Abraham Lincoln, that he believes that it would solve all the problems of the day. The formula: "With Charity to all; with Malice toward none, and with Fairness in the Right as God gives us to see the Right."

Says Dr. Crane: "If some potent spirit could breathe this Lincoln Specification into the minds of the nations and their rulers, the coming Christmas would be the happiest the world has ever known."

There are other gems on the editorial page. It is a mine of good things, this editorial page, and if you dig into the page you will find them.

DORMIE IS OUT ON BAIL BUT BEING WATCHED

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—With his trial set for a week from today, "Dormie," alleged canine murderer extraordinary, was jubilant. He learned that "Fritz," the state's star witness, had disappeared. "Fritz" is a Spitz and "Dormie," who is an aristocratic Alredale, was known to feel that "Fritz" was entirely too temperamental to be trusted. "Dormie" will be tried in police court on a charge of murdering "Sunbeam" and twelve other cats. If found guilty he is subject to the death penalty.

The prosecutors office declared today that every effort to find "Fritz" would be made. He intimated he suspected that "Dormie," who is out on bail, had made away with him.

"He can be recognized because he is suffering from a lame leg and one missing eye—the result of the brutal attack of this defendant, "Dormie," the district attorney's office said.

PHILIPPINES IN BRYAN'S QUERY

Commoner Asks Why
U. S. Fails to Give Them Freedom

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN
(Copyright, 1921, by the United Press.)

The four power treaty seems likely to be ratified by the four governments. Ratification by the United States senate is the only matter in doubt, and the opposition does not seem as strong as might have been expected, considering the senate's action on the league of nations.

Senator Lodge, who presented the four power treaty to the conference, led the fight against the covenant of the league and was especially emphatic in his condemnation of articles ten and eleven. He spoke for a majority of the senate when he protested against a surrender of the right of congress to decide for this nation questions of peace and war.

The league covenant required unanimous action so that the United States would have had to participate through its representatives in any action looking towards war; the four power agreement contains no provision safeguarding the United States in this respect. If a majority can determine the action taken under the four power agreement, it follows that Great Britain, Japan, and France can determine for the United States what action shall be taken "jointly and separately" to resist the aggression. Some of the senators opposed to article ten have already called attention to the moral obligation which seems to be implied in article two of the four power agreement.

The United States may be influenced by a desire for the abrogation of the Anglo-Japanese alliance, but if it was ever a menace to the United States, the danger was greatly exaggerated. The alliance was much more likely to restrain Japan than it was to embolden Great Britain and only the jingoes feared either. The four power treaty would be more universally satisfactory if it specifically reserved to the contracting parties the right to act independently at the conclusion of the conference, but being limited to island nations in the Pacific, it cannot involve this country in very serious risks.

But while they are agreeing, why do they not agree to the independence of the Philippines, when they are given the self government promised by the United States?

ATTORNEY FACING DISBARMENT NOW

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 15.—Attorney A. J. Morganstern solicited $1000 from her to "get out of the way" of the foreman and one other juror," Mrs. Agnes A. Gilman testified in the disbarment proceedings against Morganstern here today. Her husband was sentenced to San Quentin for life in the case.

Morganstern testified as to the disposal of the funds from Mrs. Gilman and later was confronted with a transcript of his testimony on the same subject in a recent bankruptcy hearing. Attorneys for the prosecution charged there were discrepancies in the two statements. The disbarment proceedings, are before Judge J. J. Perry Wood of Los Angeles, and were brought by the Lawyers' Institute of this county.

Mme. Katherine Tingley, theological leader and client of Morganstern's, has been subpoenaed as a witness.

Eagle Rock 100 Per Cent For High School Bond Issue

By JOHN H. GERRIE
Prosperity Editor Glendale Daily Press

Eagle Rock is STRONG for the high school bond issue. Eagle Rock KNOWS the value of education. Eagle Rock doesn't propose that the girls and boys of that smart little town shall play second fiddle to the girls and boys of any other town in the matter of educational advantages.

For that reason Eagle Rock plans to VOTE 100 PER CENT for the $85,000 high school bond issue of the Union High School district on December 29.

Eagle Rock HOPES that, after the bond issue has carried, the High School Board will select the East Broadway site, of the two Glendale sites under consideration, for that will make it easier for the girls and boys of Eagle Rock to attend the high school.

But Eagle Rock DOES NOT make the selection of the East Broadway site conditional for its 100 per cent vote on the bonds.

Wherever the high school may be located Eagle Rock will support it but Eagle Rock HOPES it will be located at East Broadway and Verdugo Road, for that site, besides being as central for Glendale as the alternative west side location, will be very much more convenient for the boys and girls of Eagle Rock.

That is a fine broad way to look at so broad a subject. It augurs well for the development of our nearest neighbor along lines other than education. The sentiment favoring the bond issue was voiced to the writer by a score of property owners and business leaders of the valley community. The thought was practically the same in every case.

"There's no division of opinion in the matter at all," said W. L. Miller, president of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce. "We are solid for the bonds and we naturally hope the East Broadway site will be selected."

"Eagle Rock interests are identical with those of Glendale," said C. W. Young, former member of the High School Board. "We are for a new high school that will come up to all requirements. I am of opinion that the East Broadway site is more central for Glendale than the site on the west side."

"Eagle Rock will vote as a unit for a new high school," said H. S. Bourne, business leader of the town. "There is no question how Eagle Rock stands on the High School bonds," said Mrs. Gardner, town librarian and High School trustee. "After the bonds are voted we hope for the selection of the East Broadway site."

"I haven't heard a single voice against the bonds but many in favor," said Mrs. C. M. Street, prominent Eagle Rock business woman and a leader in school work. "Geographically the East Broadway site is about the center of the High School district and I think also much nearer the center of Glendale population than any other possible location."

Other opinions were along these same lines. The BONDS FIRST, then HOPE for location.

In a statement prepared by a committee of the Glendale Welfare association and printed in this newspaper today the East Broadway site is claimed to be more central than the alternative site, not only in relation to the district but also in relation to present enrollment. It is shown that of the High School enrollment in Glendale 458 students reside west of Brand boulevard and 423 east of the boulevard, while 215 additional students from Eagle Rock, Tujunga, Sunland and La Crescenta give the east side location an advantage of 180 students, which is a factor to be considered. Also, it is claimed, the Broadway and Verdugo road site is better located for street car and bus service.

J. R. Gray, owner of the site at Patterson and Kenilworth streets, makes the point that it faces the 10-acre park site presented by him to the city; thus giving practically 30 acres for school purposes, including a swimming pool on the park site for which the bonds have been voted. He also plans a short cut to the Pacific Electric line across the Verdugo "wash."

It is not the purpose to espouse either school site in this column. Both are excellent. Those interested are advised to make personal inspection before stating preferences on the "straw" ballot.

A single point, however, must be emphasized again. The only issue to come before the voters on December 29 is this:

ARE THE GIRLS AND BOYS OF GLENDALE GOING TO HAVE THE VERY BEST IN HIGH SCHOOL EDUCATION OR AREN'T THEY?
If they are, VOTE FOR THE BONDS! Location is a secondary consideration. Eagle Rock has the right idea.

CURLY HACKNEY SOME COOL GUY

WACO, Tex., Dec. 15.—"Curly" Hackney directed his own lynching here last night. A mob of several hundred men took him from the jail a few hours after he was arrested for alleged assault of an 8-year-old girl and hanged him several miles from town.

Hackney gave his home as Atlanta, Ga., and is said by police to have confessed the crime. After the mob had carried him to the spot, Hackney leaped against an automobile and coolly directed the men how to adjust the noose.

JEAN LA MORE BELIEVED INSANE

DALLAS, Texas, Dec. 15.—Miss Jean LaMore, pretty French girl, was charged with murder today in connection with the shooting to death of Ras Cooks, Negro janitor at the federal building here last night. John Keith, special agent of the department of justice from Fort Worth, arrived to aid authorities in the investigation. He advanced the theory that Miss LaMore is insane. He said she had figured in four shootings within the past year.

PARTICULAR PEOPLE

MUSKEGON, Mich., Dec. 15.—Voters of Muskegon prefer street cars at 10 cents a ride to jitneys at 5 cents. At a special election, the city voted 4605 to 1256 in favor of continuing operation of street cars and paying a 10-cent fare.

DEDICATION OF CHAMBER POSTPONED

Fear Expressed That the Building Might Not Stand

EXCAVATION CAUSE

Will Await Time When Walls of Building Are in Place

The formal dedication of the new chamber of commerce quarters in the recently completed Citizens building has been postponed indefinitely. The directors of the chamber of commerce, the directors of the Citizens' building and the members of the Kent company who have the contract for the erection of the Pendroy Dry Goods store to be built next to the Citizens building, were in conference early today and decided that owing to the building operations on the structure to be used for the Pendroy Dry Goods company, it would be unsafe to hold the dedication exercises for the chamber of commerce at this time.

The builders of the Pendroy Dry Goods store state that the foundation of the Citizens building has a depth of only two feet below the surface of the ground. The building under construction next door will have a basement with a depth of about 50 feet.

In digging the basement for the new building it has been necessary to remove considerable of the supporting soil under the Citizens building. The builders state that while there is apparently no danger of the foundation of the Citizens building shifting, under ordinary circumstances, it is possible that with a large crowd such as would attend the formal dedication of the building there is danger of the sandy soil under the foundation shifting and causing the wall to buckle and possibly collapse.

Secretary James M. Rhoades of the chamber of commerce was notified this morning to call off all exercises for this evening. It is possible that after retaining walls for the new Pendroy Dry Goods store have been erected, plans for the dedication exercises will be completed.

MAKING ROOM FOR PARISH HOUSE

Old House Next to Holy Family Church Is Moved Away

Wednesday afternoon the old house adjoining the Holy Family church on the Lomita street side, which is said to be one of the ranch houses of the Goodale holdings before Glendale was thought of, left its moorings and was propelled by means of motor trucks to a new location on East Lomita, about a mile distant.

The place where it stood is to be occupied by a splendid parish house to cost in the neighborhood of $25,000 and serve as the home of Father James O'Neill, the pastor of the church and an assisting priest who will be appointed to this parish.

The Holy Family church had an uphill struggle for a good many years but now appears to be coming into its own and Father O'Neill is greatly pleased over the prospect.

A parish school is included in plans for 1922 which, it is said, will be ready to receive pupils next September.

PAPER EGGS NO LONGER ON MARKET

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The mythical hen that lays "paper" eggs was killed today. The Chicago Mercantile Exchange, known as the Egg and Butter Board, stopped operation following a restraining order issued by Judge G. Fred Russ. Barney Kauffman, commission merchant, started court action. He charged the board not only gambles in eggs, but sets prices, and declared eggs cannot be offered on the exchange unless they have been in storage thirty days. Chicago egg prices will not be quoted until final decision is made by the court.

FORTY MEMBERS JOIN SHRINE CLUB

Plan Entertainment for Early Part of Coming
Month

More than 100 Shriners were present at the second meeting of the Shrine club of Glendale Wednesday night in the assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce. The membership of the organization was increased by the addition of 40 new names.

The assembly rooms of the Chamber of Commerce have been engaged by the Shrine club for the first Wednesday night of each month and all meetings of the organization will be held there.

Plans are being made for a big feed and entertainment to be held on the night of January 4. Imperial Potentate Louis M. Cole and his Divan, the Al Malakah Shrine band, patrol and the chanters from Los Angeles have been invited to attend the entertainment. The committee appointed at the meeting last night to arrange for the feed is as follows: E. L. Jordan, chairman; Charles R. Snider, H. C. Vanderwater and David Crofton. The committee on entertainment for that night is composed of: Robert R. McKenzie, chairman; Charles R. Snider, William Ratray, Edward Waxman and David Crofton.

BURGLARS WERE ROUTED BY OWNER

C. A. Perry, 111 North Louise, telephoned to the police station at an early hour this morning and said that he had just returned to his home and found that a large hole had been cut in the screen door at the rear of the house. Officer Nunn found that while a hole had been cut in the screen, the house had not been entered. It is the opinion of police officials that the arrival of Mr. Perry frightened the would-be house breaker away before he had effected an entrance.

LAND ON LANDS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Declaring Federal Judge Landis is "putting on a spectacle of barnstorming as bad as Babe Ruth," Representative Lee, Republican, Brooklyn, today introduced a bill which would drive Landis out of his job as head of organized baseball. The bill, if passed, would forbid any federal judge from holding any other salaried office.

GOD'S STRATEGY SAYS BISHOP AT CONFERENCE

DENVER, Dec. 15.—The American people are the product of God Almighty, perfected to wage the last great campaign for the world's salvation, according to Bishop Homer G. Stuntz, Omaha, Neb. Bishop Stuntz told the Denver area conference of the Methodist Episcopal church here that "God had a great purpose in bringing us up."

"When we look at the Far East situation today and America's opportunity, God's vast strategy strikes us dumb," Bishop Stuntz declared.

MINNESOTA IS SECOND STATE TO RESPOND

2 Filled Stockings With
With Empty Mates
Are Delivered

FOR KIDDIES OF CITY

Other States Urged to Bring In Gifts for City's Poor

Minnesota is the second state heard from in the Glendale Daily Press appeal for Christmas stockings for worthy and needy children of this city. Ohio came across the line first with a well filled week and Minnesota came Wednesday with two stockings well filled with presents, and like the Ohio stocking, the extra stockings were attached to the ones with the presents bulging its entirety.

There are dozens of people in Glendale who can make some little child happy on Christmas day. It doesn't take much to make poor children happy. They have never had much in worldly goods and a little present looks as big as a mountain to them.

If there are people in Glendale who are seeking happiness, let them walk around the shopping district in the afternoon and watch the eager faces of little ones peering into the display windows of the stores carrying Christmas stocks. It is a sight that would melt the heart of a stone man. Dirty little faces—their bodies poorly clad with ragged clothes, the little ones are showing their faith in the Santa Claus who knows all children, whether rich or poor. They confidently believe Santa Claus is putting their names on his big list and it is going to be the pleasure of many Glendale people to see that Santa Claus gets their names on his list, just as in Glendale have done.

Isn't there someone from New York state who wants to make some child happy by filling a stocking and bringing it to the Glendale Daily Press, with the mate to the stocking attached? Isn't there someone from New Jersey, Maryland, Alabama, Florida, Maryland, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, and Louisiana? There is some one in Glendale from practically every state in the Union, and every state in the Union should be represented in the Glendale Daily Press campaign to bring cheer to the little ones this Christmas.

All you need do is to get a pair of child's stockings and fill it with little gifts—the more the merrier will be the Christmas of the boy or girl who gets it. Will you do it today?

They will go to Camp Baldy by machine and do their hiking from there. Those who attended were John Server, Don and Goldburn Danner, Pete Fruhling, Marshall Wilson, Glen Roberts, Bob Searle, Mesaro Hori and Richard Ryan.

No new homes have gone up here because gasoline did.

JILTED MAN TELLS OF KILLING GIRL

Woman Sheriff Is Skillful in Getting Man in Jail

WAUKON, Iowa, Dec. 15.—Earl Throst, 26, confessed early today that he killed Miss Edna Magnuson, pretty country school teacher, at her lonely school house near Dorchester Monday afternoon.

Being jilted by the 22-year-old girl was given as the reason for the assault and murder by Throst in his confession to Mrs. Gunda Martindale, woman sheriff of Alamakee county. Throst was taken from the Alamakee county jail early today because of fear of attempted violence against him.

A skillful ruse by the "lady sheriff" is smuggling the prisoner into the jail past a mob of 500 last night was thought to have prevented mob violence when Throst was arrested. The weapon used in the murder was a stick of stove wood. Throst said in his confession. The killing came after Throst, hidden in the basement until all of Miss Magnuson's pupils had gone home, attacked the girl. She resisted his attempted throttling, and he hit her on the head with the club, killing her instantly.

WILL DANCE AND DIVE FOR PRESIDENT TO THANK HIM FOR WASHINGTON KIDDIES

Washington kiddies class President Harding as a real friend. Some time ago a group of youngsters called at the White House to ask his support to a plan to build a swimming pool. The President was so enthusiastic that he was the largest contributor. Miss Ruth Ranson, 12 year old daughter of Lieut. Commander L. C. Correl, will be the first to dive into the pool at the formal opening and later dance at a society pageant during Christmas week which Mr. Harding will attend.

SUICIDE SHIP IN ON EXHIBITION

Neuse Was Built by Confederacy But "Done Went Down"

KINSTON, N. C., Dec. 15.—The bared "grave" of the Neuse, suicide man-of-war, has been visited by thousands here. It has been given to this generation to see what another may not, for only when the Neuse river reached the lowest level in its history as a result of this year's protracted drought was the long hulk of the old Civil War ship revealed in its bed of sand and mud.

The Neuse was built as a unit of the Confederacy's iron-clad armada. It was similar in size, shape and gun-power to the famous Merrimack and the Albemarle. Construction was started at Whitehall, up the river from here, and the vessel was brought here for completion. Low water, according to local historians, detained the ship at this point when she was needed in the sounds of Eastern Carolina, infested by Federal fleets.

In a land battle around Kinston the Neuse served as a floating fortress, hemmed in by the shallows below her. The man-of-war was threatened with capture. Her crew fired her and then left the ship. One of the Neuse's shotted guns, supposedly intentionally depressed, exploded and blew a hole in her bottom, and the suicide ram sank by the eastern bank of the Neuse.

When the water receded recently the big wreck was found to be covered with sand, with timbers, railroad irons and links of chain showing here and there.

THORN IN KNEE IS CENTER OF TRIAL

Physician in Burch Trial Says He Took It From Prisoner's Knee

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 15.—The prosecution today introduced witnesses in substantiation of its claim that Arthur C. Burch, minister's son, knelt in ambush and shot John Belton Kennedy to death at Beverly Glen on the night of August 5. Deputy Sheriff Charles Spranklin and Dr. J. J. Finley were the initial witnesses called.

"I saw Dr. Finley extract a thorn from Burch's leg, after Burch had been taken to the county jail," he said. The thorn, on exhibit, was said by the prosecution to be identical with those on a bush growing at the exact spot where Kennedy's assassin lay in wait. Dr. Finley was called next.

"Burch stopped me in the jail," the physician said. "He told me there was something wrong with his knee cap. I found a tiny thorn and extracted it with forceps. I thought at the time that the sticker might later be of importance in the coming murder trial, so I preserved it in an envelope."

Dr. Finley was himself a prisoner at the county jail at the time he extracted the thorn from Burch's knee. He has since been released.

HAYS OVERWORKED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Postmaster-General Will Hays has been ordered by his physician to take a rest of at least 10 days to two weeks, it was learned today at the post office department.

—More beautiful than the Hollywood foothill district--and it's right here in your own Glendale!

People of Glendale, do you realize that residence sites in the Hollywood foothills now range in price from $10,000 to $50,000? Do you know that 10 years ago these same sites could have been bought for as little as $2500? Do you know that scenic foothill property within reasonable distance of Los Angeles is what thousands of people intend to have when they can afford it? Do you realize that Verdugo Woodlands is the very last word in a foothill residence district—and that it is right here at your door—right in the progressive city of Glendale? Do you know that over a million dollars in property and a half million dollars' worth of public and private improvements is the amazing record at Verdugo Woodlands?

Do you know that keenly appreciative people from all parts of the United States are buying and building on these glorious wooded heights? Have you seen Verdugo Woodlands lately? Are you awake to the activities that are going on in the "Wilshire district of Glendale"? Do you realize the great potential investment-value of a foothill site in Verdugo Woodlands? Even if you don't care to buy for present home building purposes—think of what your purchase may be worth in 5 years from today! We offer artistic, ready-to-move-into homes at prices below what is asked in the flat, low-lying no-view sections. Big villa sites at $1000 and upwards. Five minutes' ride from the high and grammar schools, churches, stores, theatres, etc. The biggest value in high class restricted foothill property suburban to Los Angeles. F. P. Newport Co., 115 W. THE SHEIK MAKES BIG HIT AT T.D.&L.

Most Wonderfully Portrayed Scenes in History of Filmdom

Abounding in lavish color, gorgeous costumes, beautiful settings, splendid portrayal by well chosen players, and beautifully presented under the direction of George Meiford, "The Sheik," a production from the famous novel by E. M. Hull, showed to capacity houses at the T. D. & L. theater yesterday.

The public gave its unqualified approval of the costume picture by frequent applause. The story, which deals with the capture by a young Arab sheik of a haughty English girl and their subsequent strange love romance, with a wealth of thrilling episodes and incidents, proved highly effective. Agnes Ayres, a beautiful Paramount star, and Rudolph Valentino, a romantic actor who won fame in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," the featured players, were charming in their portrayals and headed an unusually clever cast of players.

The picture will be shown for the last time today. The Buster Keaton comedy, "The Boat," which is a scream from start to finish and considered the best comedy he has made to date, furnishes a continual laugh for the lovers of real clean comedy. The entire program is without doubt one of the best ever shown in Glendale.

EDITORIALS
By the People

Editor Glendale Press:—Some interesting news can now be discussed in regard to the location of the independent postoffice here in Glendale, which is now in the hands of Inspector Lare, of Los Angeles.

Among seven or eight propositions there was one by Anthony Ambrosini and C. E. Stanley and others who agreed to donate to the government a lot 50 x 147 1/2 on the southeast corner of Glendale and Wilson avenues, and further would include the erection of a suitable and acceptable building, and the devoting of the whole business to the postoffice department. Already the equivalent of fourteen or fifteen thousand dollars has been subscribed by progressive East Siders, and since the "cat is out of the bag" and some of our friends on Brand Blvd. are quite concerned about this, no harm can come from discussing the matter in a public way and making some suitable comments.

Before my time, quite a good many years ago, a very dirty piece of business was put over by somebody. I do not know nor do not care to know whom, in the surreptitious removal of the street car tracks running from Brand Blvd. to Glendale Avenue. This was a part of the concerted effort to decenter Glendale—and it succeeded. If it had been a proper procedure the street car tracks would not have been torn up during the night, between Saturday and Sunday, when no legal redress could be had, but the work would have been done in broad day light during ordinary working hours. Perhaps I am wrong, but some people may be forgiven for drawing conclusions from facts.

Now the postoffice in Glendale used to be on the southwest corner of Glendale and Wilson Avenues—right opposite the proposed site—but was moved by somewhat similar tactics to those just mentioned, and since considerably more than half of the present business of the postoffice comes from still farther East than this particular location, I was easily led into agreeing to cooperate with the above named gentlemen, and I do not think you blame me.

Now, my record here will show that I am perfectly willing that the majority should rule, and also that I am glad to work for what is

WATER USERS ASK FOR REDUCTION

Grand View District Declares New Rate Is Too High

Messrs. Botsford, Person, Black and Connors as a committee from the Grand View Foothill Improvement district appeared before the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their weekly meeting Tuesday in regard to the recent raise in the water rate.

The committee said that the rate as increased to 5 cents was more than the residents of that district could stand and wanted the Chamber of Commerce to co-operate with them in the matter of securing relief.

A committee composed of Directors Emery, Hantley and Hollister was appointed to meet with the committee from the Grand View Improvement district and discuss the matter in detail. After the meeting of the two committees they will go before the members of the city council and ask a hearing.

Peter L. Ferry, who is chairman of the chamber committee on the high school bonds, spoke to the directors and explained the bond proposition and urged the chamber's support on this issue.

Two committees were appointed for the coming year. The new finance committee is composed of C. E. Neale, E. P. Hayward and T. W. Watson. Fred Deal, Julius Kranz and Calvin Whiting were appointed a committee on committees.

for the good of most. If our friends on Brand Blvd. insist that the present Stanley plan is unfair, will they explain the history which I have related above, and also will they match up their perfectly good money and do as much in their part of the town as we are willing to do here?

A little opposition is sometimes a good stimulus, and in the particular instance whether the postoffice will be located on the East Side and donated to the Government or not, Uncle Sam will profit by some perfectly good shekels which the West Siders will have to cough up to be as decent to him as we are trying to be. How about it, Mr. Editor?

NEW MEMBERS OF CLUB HONORED

La Crescenta Club Activities During Past Few Days This Week

LA CRESCENTA, Dec. 15.—The members of the Introduction committee and the new members of the La Crescenta Women's club were charmingly entertained at tea last Monday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Seymour Thomas, she being chairman of that committee. Assisting Mrs. Thomas were Meses. H. S. Bissell, C. E. Culberson, E. N. Nettleton, J. L. Hauber and W. A. Brown. Mrs. F. H. Anderson presided. During the afternoon Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Bissell gave an interesting resume of the work of the club.

The members of the Tuesday bridge club were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dewey of La Canada last evening.

H. L. Carpenter and F. T. Carpenter and their families were guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Carpenter over last Sunday.

Dr. E. Wadsworth of Los Angeles will occupy the pulpit of the community church next Sunday. Rev. H. A. Kelso, pastor of the church, reports a splendid increase in membership and attendance in the church services which will be held at the 7 o'clock Wednesday evening.

S. Young has leased a room in the building on the corner of Honolulu and Montrose avenues and will open a paint, wall paper and wallpaper store. Montrose is also to have a new real estate firm, Howard & Taylor, who are building an office on Montrose avenue near Honolulu avenue.

DAVID BROWN HAS NEW AUTO AGENCY

David R. Brown has joined Glendale's automobile row. He will conduct an agency at the location formerly the home of the Velie car on South Brand boulevard. He will handle the new Earl car, the Brisco and the Kissle Kar. R. D. Otter, who has charge of the Southern California territory for these three automobiles installed Mr. Brown as agent and has already delivered a part of the first consignment of cars to the new agent.

ROBBERS ENTER A DETECTIVE'S HOME

H. Graves of the Burns Detective agency, Los Angeles, reported to the police department yesterday that some time during the night his absence on Monday night that their house had been entered and robbed of jewelry and other articles valued at several hundred dollars. Among other articles stolen was a Maltese Cross presented to Mr. Graves several years ago. A later report from the Graves home announced that all of the articles reported as having been stolen had been found with the exception of a small caliber revolver and a pair of cuff links. It is believed by Detective Sergeants Delgado and Herda who are investigating the case that the robbers had gathered the stuff preparatory to making their "get-away" and were frightened by the unexpected arrival of the Graves family.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, or suffering to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subjected to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever.

Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.—Advertisement.

Truths in Epigram

There are truths which are not for all men, nor for all times.—Francis M. Voltaire (1694-1778). A faithful servant is a real godsend; but truly 'tis a rare bird in the land.—Martin Luther (1483-1546). There is no vice so simple but assumes some mark of virtue in his outward parts.—Shakespeare (1565-1616).

FEARS OF COLLAPSE

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia, recently said to the Bar association of Illinois: "Those who preach the destruction of all individual property, and the substitution of communal holdings, have in mind the overthrow of all that we call civilization, and the stopping of all that we call progress." He seemed to imply by this and like utterances, that the government was in danger, and that civilization itself was getting shaky. At about the same time Dr. Livingston Farrand, president of Cornell, was sounding a similarly dolorous note. It is not likely that either of the distinguished gentlemen thought himself to be saying anything new. This particular shriek of alarm has stirred the calm on more than one occasion. It has started people to thinking; and because people are thinking, the danger may be averted. In this country the active exponents of communism, or anarchy, and of kindred mental ailments, are being fairly well attended to by the police. The active souls engaged in the policy of destruction are found to be of the low type that if not thus engaged, would be devoting themselves to some other form of crime. They have no influence that reaches above the level of vagabondage and ignorance. There are a few academic teachers of the doctrine, a large proportion of them doubtless paid propagandists. The voluntary teachers of discontent and violence are the failures in life. There is nothing in them to appeal to intelligence, or to influence any but the weakling. Rats may gnaw at a foundation, but an army of rats sufficient to bring the structure down, it is almost impossible to imagine. People who prophesy the collapse of civilization are too prone to overlook the saving potency of the little word "if."

If the human faith that built up civilization should vanish; If the human endeavor that accomplished the actual work should drop the task; If the aspirations that have fired the minds of unborn generations should fade to appear no more; If the sense of justice, the conception of honor, the "will to live" were to die out of the human breast; If conscience were to cease its appeal, virtue lose respect, courage be supplanted by universal cowardice, civilization doubtless would be in peril, and chaos a definite threat. It is well perhaps that college presidents and others of standing should on occasion shout the loud alarm. But civilization will continue to civilize, and the future will be cheered and uplifted by the presence of college presidents long after the speakers of today shall have become dust.

"TRIUMPH FOR ENGLAND"

Writers whose purpose is to be unfair proclaim the Pacific pact as a triumph for England. Of course it is a triumph for England. It is equally a triumph for the United States and France. It also is a triumph for Japan, even though the Japanese may not at this time fully realize it. The pact guards every member from the possibility of war. It was devised for this purpose. It shows the way to a partial disarmament, and this may open a way to disarmament on a far larger scale. It will be the fashion of objectors to sneer at the "Big Four" as having apportioned the earth among themselves. Such a view accepts as definitely established, the somewhat faulty theory that all diplomatists are liars, all nations banded thieves, and civilization not the outgrowth or the representative of culture, but of bloodthirstiness and greed. With four principal nations pledged to peace, the spirit of war will be everywhere discouraged. These nations, without firing a gun, could bring to bear so mighty a pressure as could be withstood. To some of the professional haters of England it is a bitter dose that that country should share in a notable victory of peace.

CHICAGO POLITICS

Chicago politics must be of a peculiar sort. At least if they are similar to politics prevailing in large cities generally, it is a wonder that the metropolitan population does not fade from view in a frantic quest for the tall timber. A few months ago there was some misunderstanding among politicians of one Chicago ward. Quite evidently the factions entertained an active distrust one for the other. So the killing began. One boss, or his right hand man, would be shot in the back. This meant that the rival boss or his right hand man must be shot in the back. Gory mortuary episodes piled high. Perhaps the coroner kept account of them. The newspapers lost track long ago. A killing in that ward is an incident. No Chinese songs ever carried the matter of reprisals on with more accuracy or speed. Lately a notorious murderer walked out of the Chicago jail. The fact that he had an engagement to be hanged a few days later failed to influence him to linger. The explanation is simple, as set forth in the dispatch: "O'Connor is a tremendous power in the underworld and can command the unlimited assistance of many politicians." Thus the cat is out of the bag, as O'Connor is out of jail, and a great light is thrown upon the machine that runs Chicago.

TREES OF LIGHT

The beautiful customs of Christmas lose nothing by repetition. Rather the charm of them is being enhanced because of the effort to send the radiance of holiday cheer into places that otherwise must be dark. "Trees of Light" as the outgrowth of the domestic tree shining with fairy tinsel and glow, appeal to the hearts of many communities now. They embody the spirit of Christmas, but ennoble it by the added virtue of unselfish kindness. Upon their branches they bear gifts for all. The community in the presence of Tree of Light, becomes as one great family. This phase of Christmas celebration originated in New York. The first tree of the sort blazed merrily in the open while snow was falling, but nobody cared about the storm. Out here there would be a great climatic advantage. No snow could interfere, and the chances would favor ideal weather. One delightful feature of a Tree of Light is that it is for everybody. It is not an advertisement for the persons promoting it, for everybody promotes it. Pasadena will have this year a Tree of Light. There is plenty of time for other cities to arrange a similar plan. The occasion centering about the laden tree may be marked by seasonal music or other features. The idea is fine. It affords charity a fresh and desirable form of expression. It sends happiness into every home that gives or receives. It deserves everywhere to be a regular part of the Christmas program.

THE AUSTRALIAN VIEW

A Washington correspondent says that an Australian gentleman now there is in favor of the unreserved admission of Japanese to California. This surely is very kind on the part of the Australian gentleman. Somewhat naive, too, it must be acknowledged. Doubtless many a resident of the East would be ready to accept the Australian's view. Neither of them knowing anything about the subject, of course, would qualify both to have opinions, and agreement of the opinions naturally would follow. The gentleman from Australia is counseled to go back there, but if he choose to pass this way, some may be found ready to debate the question with him. Australia does not admit Japanese, and has no intention of admitting them. Australia needs laborers far more poignantly than they are needed in the United States. In the former place vast areas are undeveloped because of lack of labor and for no other reason. California has its own problems to work out. For information as to whether it shall remain American territory or be changed to Asiatic territory, it has no inclination to seek the advice of an alien who speaks with the voice of ignorance, and has immeasurable cheek even in assuming to have the right to speak at all. It is plain that congress does not intend to leave the immigration law as it is. Certain countries are said to be sending their undesirables on condition that they never return. There are many indications that the United States is quite capable of producing more undesirables than may be conveniently handled.

THE LINCOLN SPECIFICATION

By DR. FRANK CRANE "With Charity to all; with Malice toward none, and with Fairness in the Right as God gives us to see the Right." That formula of Abraham Lincoln, if we could only apply it, would solve most of the difficulties that confront us today. It is a text that merits earnest preachment. After the manner of homiletics, let us note three points. What we do should be characterized by three qualities. First: "With Charity to All." Charity is not a condescending spirit, an attitude of mind we are to take toward those we pity. Charity rightly understood simply means the recognition of the fact that others who think differently from ourselves may be just as honest, sincere, and fair as we. This is one of the hardest things to learn, and as a rule most of us only get to it late in life if we get to it at all. It does not mean that we are to think that all men are right, for that would be absurd. But it does mean that we are to begin all negotiations with the assumption that every one with whom we have to deal really wants to be fair, and that if he is unfair it is either because he is uninformed or that he is a prey to certain passions and prejudices from which we should help him to free him. "Charity to all" means that we should not try to batter down our opponents, but to adjust ourselves. All the settlement of the Irish question needs is for both parties to have a little more charity to all. And the reconstruction of Europe would take place much more rapidly if this same sentiment could obtain in the minds of the wrangling nations. 2. "With Malice toward none" means that we are to get rid of vengeance. There is nothing constructive in the desire to get even with people. There is no progress nor prosperity that can be accomplished by hurting people. "With Malice toward none" means that we should discriminate between the man and his motives, and not that we should try to alter the motives and not to destroy the man. If a child's face is dirty, we wash it. We don't kill the child. And if a man's mind is cluttered up with error we should try to cleanse it, and not extinguish the man. "With Malice toward none" means that the best way to conquer an enemy is to understand him. 3. "With Firmness in the Right" implies that we are not to be so devoted to Charity and so anxious to rid ourselves of Malice that we are willing to discard our own convictions and principles. No man should yield on a matter of principle to gain advantage over another or to gain his good-will. For if he does so he is settling an example to his opponent. One may be perfectly firm in the right and yet be able to get along with people whose notion of right does not agree with his, if he will only keep in mind that along with his own integrity of purpose he must free himself of Malice and fill himself with Charity. If some potent spirit could but breathe this Lincoln Specification into the minds of the nations and their rulers, the coming Christmas would be the happiest the world has ever known. THE LISTENING POST

Now Old Subscriber wants to know how much of task and time it takes to make a Listening Post. To write it all in rhyme. * * * Well, that depends. Like all things else of labor's woe and weal. And whether it is hard or not depends on how you feel. Sometimes the words come skipping out. As children run at play. And sometimes you just creep along. Just why, it's hard to say. * * * Perhaps you've noticed it yourself. Somedays the world's all song. And someday for no cause at all. Quite everything goes wrong. The fault of course is not the world's. The course of that is true. The fault, if any fault there be. Is all in me and you. * * * And we may say the world's all wrong. That all the evil elves. Of chance and luck oppose us. But the trouble's in ourselves. And when we set ourselves aright. We find it is not long. Until we learn that we have lost. Our sorrows in a song. * * * And writing rhymes is much like that. A simple, easy thing. But we must have way down inside. The willing heart to sing. The soul may go on spreading wings. To spend itself in song. Or it may stumble in the dark. And merely limp along. * * * The songbird in the tree up there. He sings not for the squirm

And fatness in the mellow earth Of some prospective worm To slip down in his puffy crop. His trills and triplets roll Because, in all the world of grief, He has a singing soul. * * * The owl may hoot in his disdain. The frog may croak with gloom. And in the night deep in the marsh We hear his mournful boom. It's all the kind of soul that stirs. That makes for gloom or mirth. Hear how the cheerful cricket chirrs Somewhere beside the hearth. * * * And after all, if there is grief. If ills and woes are rife. A lot depends upon the way You come to look at life. And you can scold if you so choose. Or you can sit and wring Your helpless hands, or you can fret. Or you can strive and sing. * * * And if you scold or if you sing. And if you praise or blame. This world of ours goes circling on In manner much the same. And when the struggle of it ends. And when the tasks are through. If you are glad or sad depends Not on the world, but you. * * * So just a little friendliness. And just a little song. And just a little bit of cheer To help the task along. And just a lot of simple words. And just a little time. And just to FEEL like singing makes A Listening Post in rhyme. JAMES W. FOLEY.

SONGS OF THE POETS

Hidden Flame—By John Dryden (1631-1700) I feed a flame within, which so torments me That it both pains my heart, and yet contents me: 'Tis such a pleasing smart, and I so love it, That I had rather die than once remove it. * * * Yet he, for whom I grieve, shall never know it: My tongue does not betray, nor my eyes show it. Not a sigh, not a tear, my pain discloses, But they fall silently, like dew on roses.

Thus, to prevent my Love from being cruel, My heart's sacrifice, as 'tis the fuel; And while I suffer this to give him quiet, My faith rewards my love, though he deny it. * * * On his eyes will I gaze, and there delight me; While I conceal my love no frown can fright me. To be more happy I dare not aspire, Nor can I fall more low, mounting no higher.

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES Brisbane makes no secret of the fact that he could have done far better than Secretary Hughes. * * * The ease with which an assassin gets away after killing a Los Angeles policeman is very encouraging to murder. * * * Possibly Mrs. Peete merely desires to have the last word. * * * In his endeavor to "come back" Arbuttle has got as far as the newspapers. * * * Even Germany is cheered by the Pacific pact, the assurance of peace doing the whole world good. * * * It seems that certain elements in this country have not been fighting for Ireland at all, but merely out of love for a scrap. * * * Seattle is accustomed to heavy rainfall, but when it comes so fast that nobody gets a chance to measure it, then there is a kick. * * * China is asking no special rights. Freedom from harassing but friendly powers does not seem an unreasonable request.

JUST BETWEEN OURSELVES

By DELLA STEWART In certain of our newspapers are now appearing little items concerning what particular wives or husbands do that specially annoys their mates, contributed by the wives and husbands themselves. One husband, for instance, incurs his wife's disapproval because "he boasts to his friends," and one wife is found wanting because she "thinks herself without fault, always." * * * Now it must be admitted that neither of those traits is admirable, but why share the knowledge with the general public? If the mere telling in some mysterious way lets off steam, which would otherwise react on the offender, some good may be done. * * * Harmony or its opposite in daily living with those about us is mostly a matter of emphasis. No two beings, unless they are celestial, not of the earth, earthy, can always unvaryingly agree and be mutually attractive. Even the deepest of love does not presuppose no honest differences of opinion, no arguments, no disappointments. * * * But there's always the possibility of emphasis which helps over the hard places. One's mate may be obstinate and perfectly sincere at the same time—boastfully glad of the ability to supply comforts; self-satisfied and self-reliant. We can emphasize the quality we wish. It depends entirely on our angle of vision. * * * It's a distorted vision which looks for the faults and shortcomings and notes those instead of virtues. And so—my husbands' always most thoughtful—what's the chief virtue of yours?

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

LACK THE WILL TO PEACE [Worcester Telegram] How warily and how doubtfully the nations receive any suggestion of really enduring peace is suggested by the argument which favors modification of the proposed ten-year suspension in naval construction. It is pointed out that in these ten years ideas of naval architecture would atrophy, yards would close, artisans turn to other vocations. Then at the end of the decade people desirous of obtaining a powerful navy could find no place to buy it. There would be no power house of naval kultur. Too bad. * * * Of course if the holiday plan has worth that worth lies not merely in brief relief from intolerable taxation, but in such clear demonstration of the advantages deriving as to induce the extension of the ten-year recess indefinitely. * * * The underlying idea is that the world shall abolish the game of war; not merely that it shall divide the time of operations into halves with an intermission for the participants to catch their breath and listen to the shouts of acclamation from the spectators. Those who cannot without alarm view the deterioration of navy yards do not believe war can be abolished. They are descendants of people who didn't believe slavery could be. WARRIOR FOR PEACE [Pittsburg Chronicle Telegraph] "War," says Marshal Foch, "in itself and for itself is the greatest crime in the world, and the glory of victory pursued for itself is a crime. This world is made for peace and for work in peace time. The first duty is to work for our people, not to fight." These noble words and the mission which has

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES The women who, led by Jane Addams, demand instant and universal disarmament, labor under the disadvantage of not knowing what they are talking about.

Their request for the impossible will have to be denied. Nations are tired of war, it is true, and perhaps they would like to work miracles of peace, but they cannot. They are human organizations. Just at present there are more and bolder crimes being committed in this country than ever before. A demand that the police be abolished would be exactly as sensible as the demand formulated by Miss Addams and her following. Miss Addams has done much good. Her Hull House and its kindly activities have been a beneficence. This will be remembered in her favor. The time may come when the whole world will be unarmed and unafraid. That time is far distant at best. Meanwhile Miss Addams is in danger of wasting her energies in a bootless task. * * * Drilling for oil in Montana, a crew had the disappointment of striking water. The stream was tapped at 750 feet. A spurt of water shot 75 feet into the air. The estimated flow is 200,000 barrels a day. If this well should keep up its initial output, it would be of greater value than any oil well ever drilled. * * * Water is the great need of Montana. For a series of years in parts of that state crops have failed for lack of water. A well producing 200,000 barrels a day would redeem an area sufficient to grow crops worth millions. * * * This time the expected has happened. Mrs. James Edward Miller is in court for a divorce. A few months ago a Joliet school girl advertised that she would marry any man willing to pay for her education. Miller was the chump responding. Probably her education may be regarded as complete. She can look upon her decree of divorce as her graduation diploma. * * * Some transportation companies offer rewards for courtesy on the part of employees. Perhaps the effect is good; there really is no way to decide. A man to whom courtesy is natural would not be likely to be more polite because of the chance of winning a prize. The man of whom boorishness is characteristic would have to be a pretty good actor to get by with a pretense. * * * "No accident week" in Los Angeles showed an increase in the number of accident, but fewer deaths. Evidently the autoists continued to bump people, but exercised discretion as to bumping them too hard. * * * Mary Roberts Rinehart says she regards the arrangements entered into for preserving the peace on the Pacific as a blow to American independence. Doubtless Mrs. Rinehart has been led mentally astray by her recent associations. The arrangements were entered into chiefly at the behest of the United States. This country called a conference, informed the others what it wanted, and got it. * * * Mrs. Rinehart knows that this was a signal victory, and a blow only to the possibility of war. She could not help knowing it. Like the rest of the Hearst correspondents, she knows much that she could not get into the papers she serves. * * * "Famous Writer Shows Up Futility of Disarmament Parley." The famous writer in question is George Bernard Shaw. He is the same writer who declared that Dempsey did not have one chance in a hundred to defeat Carpentier. He is as ridiculous in his present statement. Representatives of several nations get together to accomplish a certain object. With celerity and wholly without friction, they accomplish the object. Shaw tells the world this is futile. Shaw is futile. * * * It is a singular reflection upon the adequacy of court methods that a statement from Mrs. Peete should be considered worthy of possible credence, and be permitted to reopen a matter that ought to have been regarded as settled. * * * Mrs. Peete was convicted of murder. She told many stories concerning her connection with the crime. She spun a veritable web of falsehood about herself, as many of the yarns were wildly ridiculous. Her lawyers did not dare to place her on the stand. After the conviction, they sought relief only in technicality that had no bearing on the question of guilt. * * * Now the woman declares that a word from her could have demonstrated her innocence at any stage of the proceedings, and the courts find time to listen to her. * * * Perhaps the courts have nothing really important to do, and learned jurists find time hanging heavily on their hands. * * * Mt. Popocatepetl has been throwing ashes to a height of 2500 feet. A mere nothing. In the eighties Krakatoa threw ashes so high that they were three years in coming down.

WATCHING THE PARADE

By JOHN PILGRIM The old gentleman said that he and Jim Tucker and Alabazam Wright were bound west on a train one day. They didn't have much money between them, he said, and the city marshal of the town they had just left had seemed right annoyed. So they determined to get a little change on board the cars if they could. "We cleaned one guy," said the old gentleman reflectively. "One of these small-town sports. Thought he could play casino. Didn't have any idea that me and Jim Tucker and Alabazam were not strangers." That gave them a little money. Then, he said, while he and Alabazam were in the forward coach Jim Tucker got hold of a poor old Swede. He and his wife were on their way up to Minnesota, where they had relatives. Nice, honest old people, who had had bad luck. Wore these kind of faded old clothes, he said. Jim Tucker got the Swede into a game of cards and then made him believe he had lost a lot of money. "But Ay not know we play for money," said the poor old Swede. Jim Tucker hollered and roared, said the old gentleman, until the old Swede dug into his pocket and pulled out a little faded roll of bills and was going to pay. "Ay bane honest," said the old Swede. His and his wife was crying softly at his shoulder, but he nodded her head at that. "Ve bane honest peoples," said the old wife. But just at this moment the old gentleman and Alabazam came in and saw what was going on and made Jim Tucker give back his money to the Swede. They dropped Tucker from their combination at the end of the trip. They might be card cheaters, said the old gentleman, but that was too raw for them. The moral was, as the old gentleman saw it, that he had been a pretty decent sort of a cheater and that fate had been unkind to him in leaving him strapped and friendless at the end of a lifetime spent in pretty decent sort of cheating. He felt obscurely that he deserved something better of fate. "Honest," said the old gentleman, "I never willingly cheated a man who couldn't afford to lose it." Somehow the old gentleman's argument leaves me cold. Maybe if he had been the sort of a cheater who would cheat an old Swede he would have been hung years ago, instead of reaching an overripe old age unprovided with cold victuals.

Just Between Ourselves

By DELLA E. STEWART

An odd story is going the rounds of the press concerning the New Jersey woman who felt that her husband, because of his constant fault finding, no longer loved her, and determined to rid him of her presence. Leaving her once happy home, she left a note telling him of her decision and ended the note with a woman's postscript: "You will find your soup in the kitchen."

PADEREWSKI WILL STICK TO HIS GROVE

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 15.—Ignace Paderewski, former premier of Poland and once known as the world's greatest concert pianist, may yet become an almond king. He announced today that he has abandoned his plan of selling his California ranch and returning to the concert stage, as a result of failure to secure what he considered a proper price for his land.

GERMANY CAN'T PAY

PARIS, Dec. 15.—Germany today forwarded a note to the allied reparations commission that she could not possibly meet her January 15 payment.

NAVAL PLAN NEAR COMPLETION NOW

British and Jap Ratios to Be Put in Harmony Today

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Limitation of naval armaments, with allied issues, was nearing reality in the arms conference today, with only two obstacles remaining. The first was how to realize Britain's about fifteen to one ratio to the Japanese navy, containing the Mutsu. The second was France's demand, made known through an official spokesman, for the theoretical right to a navy greater than Japan's.

Oklahoma Woman in Congress Is Much Displeased She Says

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—"The march of the 'Amazon army' of miners' wives, daughters and sweethearts on the Kansas coal fields is a spectacle to be deplored by the womanhood of the nation," Miss Alice Robertson, Oklahoma, the only woman in congress, declared today to the United Press.

YOUNG LADIES' INSTITUTE MEETS The Young Ladies' Institute had its regular meeting Wednesday at the home of Miss Gertrude Koverman on East Maple street with about fifteen members present. They were addressed by Father James O'Neill and Harry Girard in regard to the coming recitals for the organ fund and the organization was asked to take charge of program advertising.

PRESBYTERIANS HONOR THEIR PASTOR Members of the Glendale Presbyterian church to the number of 350 or more participated in the reception in honor of Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Edmonds which was given at the church Wednesday evening at the close of the prayer service. The Sunday school room, where the function took place, had been beautifully decorated in the Christmas colors with carnations and greenery, and a very nice program was presented which included vocal numbers by Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts and readings by Miss Anita Fletcher and closed with prayer by Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor.

The honorees were showered with gifts by the church in appreciation of the splendid service they have given during the decade in which Mr. Edmonds has been its pastor. Elder W. J. Clendenin gave them a purse of money, Elder H. L. Finley on behalf of the church presented a handsome table lamp, and to Mrs. Edmonds was given by Mrs. J. A. Newton a beautiful bouquet of red roses as emblem of the love the church bears for her. A happy response was made by Mrs. Edmonds for himself and his better half, and refreshments of fruit punch and home made cake were served by a committee of which Mrs. M. P. Harrison was chairman.

READING CIRCLE SESSION WEDNESDAY The last meeting which will be held by the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle before the Christmas holidays was held Wednesday at the city library and was well attended. Mrs. A. A. Barton, the chairman, presided, and the review of the day was given by Mrs. Donald A. McGill. She gave a fine summary of an article by Horace Crissey entitled "The One Cylinder Man."

The circle gave a vote of thanks to Mrs. H. V. Henry for her work in connection with the publication of its book of quotations, "Immortelles," and included in the vote Mr. Henry, who assisted his wife in the work. The books are in charge of Mrs. E. Johnston.

The last three chapters of the current book "All the Children of All the People," were read by Mrs. Henry. They concerned "Literature in the Schools," "Methods in the Schools," and "Religion." Discussion followed relative to the use of the Bible in the schools, the sentiment prevailing that it should be edited by competent representatives of the National Education association and presented in an unsectarian manner.

MRS. CAMPBELL WAS HOSTESS TO OFFICERS Monday afternoon Mrs. Daniel Campbell entertained at her home Ard Evin, Mrs. Sibley, grand conductress of the grand chapter, O. E. S., state of California, and Mrs. Holman, past matron of Pacific chapter, Los Angeles.

The three ladies participated in the work of the newly organized Burbank chapter Wednesday evening when it used for the first time its new altar. Mrs. Holman was the installing officer, Mrs. Sibley filled the office of marshal and Mrs. Campbell that of chaplain. Mrs. Holman was the first deputy district grand matron of Burbank chapter in 1919 when Mrs. Campbell was filling the office of grand chaplain. Mrs. Holman gave the charge a Bible which was presented by the grand marshal, Mrs. La Fountain. Mrs. Campbell presented a cushion to be used in the work when the candidate takes upon herself the obligations of the order. It was a gift of special significance.

Other guests of the chapter from Glendale were: Mrs. Fannie Parke, worthy matron-elect of Glen Eyrie chapter; Harry Leroy Redd, worthy patron-elect, and Mrs. Redd, Mrs. May Warrick, Miss Blanche Davenport and Daniel Campbell.

MRS. BIGGS ATTENDS COMMITTEE MEET Mrs. Margaret Biggs, president of the Glendale Business Women's club, attended the meeting of the executive committee held Wednesday evening at the Van Noy's building in Los Angeles of the Federation of Business Women's clubs. The chief theme of discussion was vocational guidance and placement which have become an outstanding problem in the business world because so many business women are coming here from other states, lured by the prosperity which reports credit to California.

Some time ago Mrs. Biggs appointed a vocational guidance committee for Glendale composed of Mrs. May Myton, chairman; Mrs. George U. Moyle, Mrs. Alma Danford, Mrs. McFarland and Miss Margaret Cross. That committee is now studying the plans worked out by the federation and will report at the banquet which the Glendale club is to have in January.

MRS. MAY LEE WAS HOSTESS TO CHAPTER L Chapter L of the P. E. O. met Wednesday at the home of its president, Mrs. May Lee on Belmont street, the assisting hostesses being Mrs. May Dickson, Mrs. Emma Burket, Mrs. Charlotte Goss and Miss Ruth Byram.

Roll call was answered by quotations in keeping with the Christmas spirit, and luncheon was served at noon, in a dining room full of Christmas suggestions with a Christmas tree centering the table.

Mrs. Josephine Bryant had charge of the program as chairman and excellent papers were read by Mrs. May Emery and Mrs. Pearl Tower, their themes being "Social Service," and "The Origin of the Photograph."

Mrs. Albert Pearce was initiated into membership, and donations were received of fruit and jelly for the disabled veterans at Thornycroft, and soap and fruit for the Truelove Home.

Guests of the chapter were Mrs. Roy Kent, Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Miss Beth Moore of Long Beach, and Mrs. Law of Kansas.

MRS. JOHN ROBERT WHITE HOSTESS TO FEDERATION The regular monthly meeting of the federation of Parent-Teacher associations opened its doors to department chairmen of all the P. T. A. in the city and entertained them at the home of Mrs. John Robert White Wednesday afternoon, about seventy being present. Special guests were Mrs. Charles E. Hutchinson, who for many years was prominent in P. T. A. work here and in Los Angeles; Mrs. Arthur C. Brown and Mrs. A. A. Barton representing the board of education; Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, and Albert Blanford, director of physical education in the city schools.

At the business session which preceded the social good time and serving of refreshments of coffee and cake the federation voted $25 to the Glendale float fund. Also a subscription was taken for the Salvation Army drive and turned over to Mrs. Hutchinson, who is local chairman of the drive. Red Cross stamps were sold and all in all it was quite a Christmas benefit.

Among the reports of committees that of Mrs. Pierson Hanning, the chairman of membership, was of outstanding interest, the total reported being 2488, or about 200 more than were enrolled at the close of last year. The list will continue to increase and Mrs. Hanning promises 3000 or more by the time the year ends. Her figures for the individual schools follow:

Acacia—Pupil enrollment 116. P. T. A. membership 108. Corritos—Pupils 458, P. T. A. membership 270. Central Avenue—Pupils 331. P. T. A. 275. Colorado—Pupils 366 P. T. A. 225. Columbus—Pupils 456, P. T. A. 262. Doran Street—Pupils 208, P. T. A. 85. Intermediate—Pupils 548, P. T. A. 225. Magnolia—Pupils 27, P. T. A. 13. Pacific Avenue—Pupils 378, P. T. A. 370. High School—Pupils 1248, P. T. A. 481.

As a supplement to Mrs. Hanning's report a clever little sketch descriptive of a P. T. A. drive was put on by Mrs. A. H. Brown, president of Doran Street P. T. A., and Mrs. E. B. Moore, one of the federation chairmen.

MARY JANE GilLETTE TENT ELECTION The annual election of officers of Mary Jane Gillette tent No. 18, Daughters of Veterans, was held Tuesday evening in American Legion hall, 610A East Broadway, and was attended by an exceptionally large number of members in anticipation of this affair. Complete harmony prevailed and all officers were elected by unanimous vote, there being no contest for any of the offices.

Those chosen for the year ending December, 1922, were: President, Mrs. Susie Peek; senior vice-president, Mrs. Pearl Moore; junior vice-president, Miss Irene Fuller; treasurer, Miss Audrey Hall; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Agnes Richardson; chaplain, Mrs. Dora Hall; counsel, Mrs. Cora Jones, Mrs. Daphne Lyons and Miss Annie Miller.

WEDNESDAY BRIDGE WITH MRS. ROBINSON

Mrs. George Robinson of North Jackson street was hostess to the Wednesday Afternoon Bridge club which met this week. In honor of its coming her home was beautifully decorated in the Christmas colors, a little Christmas tree centering her refreshment table where holly cards marked the places of guests, the favors being Christmas candies in little glass baskets. Her dessert was a Santa Claus in ice cream.

Mrs. Charles Carroll made high score and was awarded the prize, a lovely mahogany candlestick. The ladies present were Mrs. Clara Putnam, Mrs. Charles Carroll, Mrs. W. Walker, Miss Elma Meiss, Mrs. Robert Pease of Los Angeles, Mrs. E. E. East and the hostess.

TAKAHASHI GIVES APPROVAL PACT OF PACIFIC

Says Japan Will Give Every Aid to Make for World Peace

(Copyright 1921 by United Press.) TOKIO, Dec. 15.—Japan, speaking through her prime minister, Viscount Takahashi, today congratulated the United States on the success of the Washington conference. Takahashi, in a statement written exclusively for the United Press, pledged his empire to support the four-power Pacific agreement to the limit. He discerns in it the dawn of an era of world peace, through the cooperation of the nations that smashed Germany's scheme of conquest.

By Viscount Korekiyo Takahashi Prime Minister of the Japanese Empire

TOKIO, Dec. 15.—The people of Japan heartily rejoice at the news from Washington announcing that an agreement has been reached among the four powers for the preservation of peace in the Pacific.

Japan congratulates the delegates to the Washington conference who participated in formulating this agreement and the people of the powers whose representatives signed it. The people of Japan congratulate the peoples of these powers upon the approach of an era of peaceful development and friendly feelings, among the nations of the earth.

They expect great things from this new concert of the powers that once aligned themselves in a common cause in defense of civilization. We of Japan are ready to render all possible support to the four-power agreement, so that it may be a powerful factor for the preservation of peace, not only of the Pacific borders, but of the entire world.

WOMAN GIVES UP TELLS HER REASON

NEW YORK, Dec. 15.—Mrs. Lillian Shafer Raizen, 29, confessed slayer of Dr. Abraham L. Glickstein, was closely guarded today for fear she would commit suicide. Mrs. Raizen told Lewis that Dr. Glickstein assaulted her 8 years ago when she went to his office as a patient, and that he had kept her in his power ever since by threatening to expose her. She was married last spring, she said, and feared Dr. Glickstein would force her to continue relations with him.

AMAZON ARMY IS MARKING TIME

National Guard Has Arrived in Kansas Coal Fields Today

PITTSBURG, Kan., Dec. 15.—Rioting in the southern Kansas coal fields by the "Amazon army" appeared checked, at least temporarily, with arrival of national guard troops in the disturbed district.

Women leaders of the Amazon army will be criminally prosecuted, it was declared today. County Attorney C. A. Burnett announced that as soon as possible an investigation of rioting would be made and warrants issued as the facts justify.

MINERS' UNION IS UPHELD BY COURT

CHICAGO, Dec. 15.—The United States circuit court of appeals here today sent back to Judge A. B. Anderson at Indianapolis, the appeal of miners unions from his decision in an injunction abolishing the check-off system in the central competitive coal fields.

The Barton Bedtime Stories

A SQUIRREL CAN'T LIVE ON CHARITY

By JOHN BARTON (Copyright, 1921, by Associated Newspapers)

"I don't believe Chatter Squirrel is dead. His wife didn't think so," began Chips Beaver hopefully as the Woodsfolk tiptoed back to the flat stone in the bank of Dr. Muskrat's Pond where they always held their meetings.

"You'd better dig it then," replied Tad Coon with a gloomy shake of his head. "I never saw the doctor start a hole that hadn't something in the bottom of it."

"You'd better dig it then," replied Tad Coon with a gloomy shake of his head.

were taking care of the injured widow squirrel, he came hustling home. And wasn't he just a-burble with all the things he had to tell. Right off he settled the question. "Chatter is dead. You know the dog Madame Chatter heard barking? That was Tommy Peele's dog Watch. He came running just in time to see the man who shot him stuff him into the pocket of his coat. Watch gave the murderer a fine piece of his mind. I can tell you I guess he came mighty near to biting, only he couldn't quite do that, on account of the gun, you know. The man was mad enough to shoot him, too, only he wasn't quite sure Watch didn't have another man coming to help him."

The old muskrat panned a minute, as if he had to interrupt himself. Then he went on: "Anyways Chatter is dead. His widow is in our paws. We'll have to find Chatter's treasure before the deep snows come or she'll have a very hungry time. "She wouldn't eat much," said the generous Chips. "I have plenty laid by. She can have mine."

FLOOD VICTIMS IN NORTH INCREASED

Hunt Continues for People Still Missing Since Seattle Storm

SEATTLE, Dec. 15.—Wracks due to floods in the vicinity of Seattle have given up the bodies of two more victims. The bodies of Mrs. Samuel C. Andrews and her stepson, 5, still lie under the slide that wrecked their home in West Seattle.

Those of Mrs. Gerald Willis, wife of the engineer and her two-year-old daughter, are still in the debris. Trains were operating today over main lines of the Northern Pacific and Milwaukee east of Seattle. The Great Northern, heaviest sufferer, is still routing trains for the east through Vancouver, Wash.

CONSTRUCTION IS TO BE RESUMED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 15.—Additional construction work totalling $14,762,000 will be undertaken at once by the treasury department to help out the unemployment situation. Col. Arthur Woods of the President's unemployment conference, was notified today. The program calls for the completion of hospitals. Among the larger hospitals on which work will be started at once is Palo Alto, Cal., $1,500,000.

WHITE ELEPHANT NOW A RED DEMON

Knox Fire Engine Comes Back With Terrific Kick in Power

Wednesday afternoon the rebuilt Knox fire engine that has for more than a year been a bone of contention around the city hall, had its official tryout after having been completely overhauled and rebuilt by Fire Chief A. H. Lankford, and members of the fire department stationed at fire house No. 1. The engine made good.

With the six-cylinder Knox motor purring like a contented kitten, the engine, with a capacity for pumping 600 gallons a minute, threw a stream of water more than 200 feet with a force strong enough to knock a man off his feet.

The old city administration recommended that the Knox engine be junked and gave the opinion that it was worn out. This recommendation was passed on to the present administration and but for the strenuous objections of Mayor Spencer Robinson, Councilman Davis and City Manager Reeves, this recommendation would have been acted upon.

City Manager Reeves said that the engine could be redeemed and rebuilt so that it would be as good as new. This opinion was backed up by a mechanical engineer City Manager Reeves asked to inspect the machine. Mayor Robinson and Councilman Davis backed Mr. Reeves in his stand and fought so strenuously for rebuilding the engine that Fire Chief Lankford was ordered to do the necessary work.

Every part of the engine was gone over, worn-out parts replaced and a new type pump installed. As a finishing touch, a new coat of red paint was put on. At the test Monday, the machine worked equally as well as the new machine recently purchased. Fire Chief Lankford said that it was pumping all the water that could come through the four-inch main that feeds the fire hydrants and that if the hydrants were of larger capacity the engine could pump a larger stream of water and throw it several feet farther.

Altogether, the test was proof that Mayor Robinson, Councilman Davis and City Manager Reeves knew the possibilities of the machine that was consigned to the junk heap, and was also proof that Glendale has a fire department of able mechanics who are capable of doing mechanical work.

SONG

The world's at its winter,
The wind's bleak and cold.
The bare limbs are cheerless
And wrinkled and old.
But Hope somewhere singing:
"I'm coming and soon,
And I'll have May mornings,
And roses of June!"

The day's at the twilight
The night's coming fast,
The field's in the shadow
The skies overcast.
But Hope somewhere singing:
"Up, soul, up and on!
I'm bringing the morning
And sun at the dawn!"

The soul's at the winter,
The heart stripped and bare,
The wind bleak and cheerless
And gusty with care,
And still Hope is singing:
"The Springtime comes soon
And I'll bring May mornings
And roses of June!"

Oh, world at its winter,
And day at its dusk,
And Sorrow with shadows
And Grief with its hush,
Not once shall I fear thee,
Hope cries: "Up, and on!
I'm coming with morning
And sun at the dawn!"

And dead flower and cheerless,
And bleak wind and cold,
And bare limbs and leafless
And wrinkled and old,
For me Hope is singing:
"I'm coming and soon
With all my May mornings
And roses of June!"

Mrs. M. M. Houston of Manhattan Beach will be the guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Houston of 44 West Myrtle street until after the holidays. Mrs. Houston is rapidly recovering from a fractured hip.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Thomas of 339 West Milford street have as their guest this week, Mr. Thomas' mother, Mrs. Vern Roler of Laton, California. Mrs. Roler expects to spend the holidays with relatives, both in Los Angeles and Glendale.

'EAST-WEST' GAME SEATS BE ON SALE

Tournament Roses Association Gives Date as Dec. 20 for Sale

PASADENA, Dec. 15.—Announcement is made by the Tournament of Roses Association that the sale of seats for the annual "East and West" football classic at Pasadena, will open on the morning of Tuesday, December 20. There will be two box offices—one in Pasadena and one in Los Angeles.

The football teams to play this year are those of Washington and Jefferson, one of the three or four undefeated football teams of the Atlantic seaboard, and the University of California team. Neither team has lost a game during the season, and sport writers are a unit in stating that they expect the easterners will give the California "wonder-team" a hard tussle.

There are but two prices on tickets this year—$2.50 plus the war tax and $5.00 plus the war tax. The Tournament of Roses officials state that mail orders accompanied by check, money order or cash will be accepted and filled in the order of receipt and until all remaining seats are sold.

There will be no further sale of seats for the new stadium until after January 1. Those holding stadium receipts will have first choice of seats for the New Year's game this time and after that the general public will be privileged to purchase the remaining seats.

No individual is to be permitted to purchase more than ten tickets for the game with the exception of bona fide secretaries of Chamber of Commerce who may take orders and purchase tickets for the several communities they represent if they so desire.

The box office in Pasadena will be in the Chamber of Commerce rooms in the east building of the Hotel Green. Mail orders for seats should, however, be sent directly to the Tournament of Roses Association.

Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Chicago is visiting her niece, Miss C. C. Hughes of Cameron Place. Mrs. Hughes is spending the winter in Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Gill of 1023 South Virginia place moved Wednesday to Santa Monica, having rented their Glendale home. Mr. Gill is connected with the Westinghouse Battery service at Santa Monica.

Town Topics

Thornycroft Tree—All the boys at Thornycroft are going to have a Christmas tree. That is, if they can get enough decorations for them. There is to be one large one placed in the dining room and seventeen small ones in the individual rooms where the boys are unable to come to the dining room. Mrs. George E. Clayton at 200 South Orange asks that anyone who can or cares to donate any sort of decorations to help cheer these boys please phone her at Glendale 668-W and she will call for them.

Passion Play—In his reproduction of the Passion Play in pictures at the Pacific Avenue Methodist church Friday night, Dr. Harvey McClelland will exhibit a recent picture of Anton Lang, who has been chosen to play the role of Christus for the third time. Pictures of other players will be shown and Dr. Hadlock will relate how he visited their homes after the war, distributing American Red Cross relief supplies to the needy people of Oberammergau. The entertainment will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Elsa-Jane Co.—The Elsa-Jane Realty company, composed of Elsa McClelland and Jane Howe, has opened the doors of its attractive little orange and blue office at 1503 South Brand boulevard. Both of the members of this new firm are well known in Glendale, and by the way they have started out they promise to do real things.

Entertain at Dinner—Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Fitz of 308 North Louise street will entertain at dinner this evening Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Fullerton and daughter, Martha, all of Hollywood, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Woodard, Mrs. Morris O'Connor and Miss Anna Funk of Los Angeles.

Good Stunt—H. C. Ellis, realtor, of 128 North Brand boulevard, reports that he is running a classified advertisement in both local papers stating that any Glendale resident wishing to send literature about Glendale may get this literature free by calling at his office, where he has a number of little booklets. On Monday, the first day he ran the ads, there were ten people in his office asking for these booklets.

Take Flowers—A committee from the Women's Relief Corps went to Thornycroft Wednesday to visit the boys. They took flowers and the purpose of the visit was to find out just what they needed in the way of sleeping garments, etc.

so that they could supply their needs. The committee included Mrs. S. Houdyshell, Mrs. Jennie Tincher, Mrs. Martha Bolen and Miss Meryj Bolen.

W. C. T. U. to Meet—The city W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Edgar Leavitt at 212 South Orange street Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The subject will be "Publicity and Do Everything Policy." Miss Williamson, a teacher in Los Angeles schools engaged in Americanization work, will be one of the speakers.

Practice Game—Wednesday night a practice game of basketball was played by the team of Glendale High and a team made up of representatives of the National Guard, most of whom are graduates of Glendale High and still good players. The contest ended in a tie, 16 to 16. Another game will be played Monday evening.

Mass Meet—There are many affairs booked for Friday evening, but the promoters of the mass meeting to be held at Doran street school hope citizens will not fail to come out and discuss street improvement of grounds abutting on the Doran and other school campuses in co-operation with the city's program of street improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loose of Long Beach are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Camerer, 311 West Garfield avenue.

Large Orange Lots--Attractive Prices

—Reasonable Restrictions —Convenient Terms

Every Lot has from 10 to 20 15-Year-Old Full Bearing Valencia Orange Trees in the pink of condition. A heavy crop on the trees.

43 Lots Sold in 10 Days! There's a Good Reason!

Buy That Orange Lot Now

There is hardly a person in Glendale who does not expect some day to build a home of his own. That home means the purchase of a lot. The wise prospective home builder is looking for that lot RIGHT NOW. BEFORE A GREAT WHILE THE DESIRABLY-LOCATED, MODERATELY-PRICED LOTS WILL BE GONE. The lot buyer will be compelled to go farther and farther from the center of the city, which means that he will have a greater distance to walk to the nearest car line and the business center. The best location left is Meeker's Orange Manor at Colorado Street and Verdugo Road—over in the rapidly-growing east side, where property values and prices are rising faster than in any other part of Glendale. The east side of Glendale is rapidly coming into its own. Watch it grow!

Meeker's Orange Manor

Nature has been wonderfully kind to Meeker's Orange Manor. She has given it an unsurpassed climate, a remarkable location and the most beautiful surroundings and views. Each lot is a jewel in itself—a jewel whose real value is plain to be seen. Each lot is an admirable location for the home nest of which you are dreaming and longing but which you have not yet picked out. It is restful and quiet—over on Meeker's Orange Manor. It is a place where the tired business man can find rest after the grind of the day, and where the little ones can be reared in safety. It is close to the Broadway Grammar School and just a couple of blocks from the new Adams St. Bus Line. And best of all, the lots are WAY DOWN in price and the terms can be met by anyone. Look them over—you will be the most surprised person in Glendale.

How to Get There by Auto—Drive out to Glendale and then go to Colorado Street and Verdugo Road. If you have no Auto, please telephone us and we will send one of our Autos to bring you to the Manor.
