NIPPON TIMES -- 9 March 1949

REGISTRATION KEEPS TAB OF ALIEN RESIDENTS HERE

Koreans, Chinese Most Numerous; Bulk of Third Nationals in Osaka

Civil Affairs Bureau, Attorney General's Office
(From Nippon Shuho)

Before the war, the entry of aliens into this country and their residence here were controlled by Home Office Order No. 6, issued in 1939. Police control was, of course, the chief aim of this order, under which all aliens had to be registered at the police stations concerned. As the wartime structure was intensified, this Home Office order underwent frequent revisions, and with each revision it partook more and more of an anti-espionage character until in December, 1941, another Home Office order providing for the control of the travelling, etc. of aliens was issued with the prevention of espionage chiefly in view.

Prior to the termination of the war, the entry, residence and other movements of aliens were governed by these rules, but it is now impossible to ascertain exactly how many aliens there were in this country at the time the war ended and to what nationalities they belonged, because of the loss of records giving statistical figures.

After the war, the Home Office order of 1941 was abolished, and as the Home Office order of 1939 was practically inoperative, the Temporary Residence Law was then the only enactment in force with any bearings on the residence of people in this country. But because it was only perfunctorily operated, it was little better than dead letter not only for alien residents but also for native citizens. Japan was thus temporarily left with practically no means of accurately getting hold of the number of the aliens resident in this country.

Entrants Increase

In the meantime, the number of entrants into this country, mainly from Korea and Formosa, increased. For the prevention of infectious diseases and also for economic and other reasons, the necessity grew of controlling their entry. After the arrival of the Occupation forces, therefore, restrictions were placed on the entry of aliens into this country under the memorandums and directives issued by the Allied Supreme Headquarters. Then under AG Directive No.53 dated April 2, 1947, an embargo was placed on the entry of all nationals other than Japanese not belonging to the Allied forces without the permission of SCAP. And those admitted with his permission was called upon to report to the Home Office and be duly registered.

On the abolition of the Home Office, this business of registration was transferred to the Board of Justice. The number of aliens registered up to the present under this Directive is very small—a quite insignificant figure compared with the total number of the aliens hitherto resident in this country.

Although new arrivals became accurately ascertainable in this way, there was no reliable means of finding the exact number of old alien residents in this country, as there existed no effective rules stipulating for the residence of aliens or for the prevention of their illegal entry. The necessity was thus keenly felt of legislating for the entry into, the residence in and the departure from the country of aliens, and in consequence the Aliens Registration Ordinance was promulgated and put into force in May 2, 1947.

Regulates Entry

This ordinance aims, firstly, to enforce pertinent measures for regulating the entry of aliens. Concretely speaking, it prohibits, for the time being, the entry of aliens unless their entry has the previous sanction of SCAP, it being laid down that infractors of this rule or illegal entrants should be ordered out of the country.

Secondly, it provides for the registration of aliens at the offices of the cities, towns or villages within whose jurisdiction they reside so as to ensure fair transaction of all matters relative to their residence, taxation, food supply, etc. The register books kept at these offices furnish the necessary data in taking measures for the administration affairs concerning aliens.

As to the meaning of "aliens" in the ordinance, some explanation is necessary. Persons who do not possess Japanese nationality are, of course, "aliens", but the "aliens" in this instance do not exactly tally with aliens as they are understood in the nationality statute. To begin with, though: Koreans and Formosans are among "aliens," the officers and men of the Allied Occupation forces, persons attached to the Allied forces or their dependents, members of missions appointed or sanctioned by SCAP, their employees and their family members, those stationed in Japan charged with official business by foreign governments and their dependents do not fall within the purview of "aliens." Nor are persons of dual nationality—those who have another nationality besides Japanese—"aliens." Persons with no nationality are, needless to say, "aliens."

Must Register

Under this Registration Ordinance, aliens who enter Japan with the approval of SCAP must register at the offices of the cities, towns or villages, in which they take up their residence, within 60 days after their entry. So far there has been no case of neglect of this duty. Not so with regard to the registration of aliens who have been in Japan prior to the enforcement of this ordinance, however.

Under the Registration ordinance, such foreign residents had to register in the cities, towns or villages in which they live within 30 days after it came into force, that is, by May 31, 1947, but due to misunderstanding on the part of a section of foreign residents regarding this registration system, there was much delay in their registration.

They were under the misapprehension that the new Registration Ordinance, like the regulations for the control of aliens in force before the war's end, was effected for the police control of foreigners. Consequently they showed much hesitancy in going through the process of registration. Notwithstanding the strenuous efforts made by the authorities concerned, it was not until August 31 of the same year that their registration was somehow completed.

The total number of aliens thus registered stood at 566,642 as of September 30, 1947, the number of nationalities, including no-nationality, totalling 61.

Does Not Cover All

This figure does not, however, cover all the aliens to whom the Aliens Registration Ordinance is applicable. That quite a number of aliens are unregistered can easily be gathered from the following figures:

The total number of aliens registered:

As of October 31, 1947 ... 618,495
As of November 30, 1947 .. 637,409
As of December 31, 1947 . 629,260

There was no marked change in the total number on record during the period from January to July, 1948, the figure in each month being above 630,000, though falling short of the 640,000 mark.

Although the registration of aliens has thus been duly provided for, there are still many cases of illegal entry—so many, indeed, that the number of illegal entrants discovered by the authorities during 1947 exceeded 10,000. The census taken in October, 1922, also revealed the fact that the total number of aliens registered at the date was about 90,000 in excess of the actual number. From this it was inferable that many aliens were guilty of double or even treble registration. It was further discovered that about 180,000 more aliens than were duly registered were getting staple food supplies.

In order to ensure bona fide registration and obviate irregularities on the part of some aliens through the correction of these defects, the Board of Justice, acting in concert with the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry, ordered staple food supply pass-books to be checked with the aliens registration certificates when new pass-books were being issued in August, 1948.

Irregularity Checked

By this means, the illegal practice of double registration and dishonest acquisition of staple food supplies were eliminated, on the one hand, and registration by defaulting aliens was stimulated, on the other. Dishonest practices were so prevalent that in some prefectures over 2,000 aliens were found to be illegally obtaining staple food supplies. This remedial step resulted in an increase in the number of registered aliens.

To All Aliens in Japan

July 22, 1948

To ensure the enforcement of the Aliens Registration Ordinance, the Attorney-General's Office has this time decided to check up registration certificates with staple food-stuffs ration books. Therefore, all aliens to fall under the Aliens Registration Ordinance are requested to take the following procedures without fail until the end of this month:

1. All aliens are requested to present the registration certificates together with the staple food-stuffs ration books to the office of the city, ward, town or village concerned and get the certificates collated with the ration books.

2. Any person who is receiving rations in a city, ward, town or village other than the registered locality. shall first take the procedure of transfer into the registered locality, and the then get the registration certificate or nationality certificate checked up with the staple food-stuffs ration book. In case, however, any person is not allowed to move into the registered locality because of it's being one of the restricted localities for transfer (entry) of domicile, or any one desires on his or her own private reasons to change the registered locality to the city, ward, town or village where rations are actually being received, he or she may be allowed to change the former to the latter.

3. If any one has registered, or is receiving the distribution of staple food-stuffs, under a name other than his or her real name, he or she is requested to change the registration for the real name and to receive the distribution of rations by the real name.

If any one has questions concerning the above mentioned procedures, he or she is advised to refer to the office of the city, ward, town or village concerned.

VISIT TO OKAYAMA TEAM

Region Civil Education Officer visited Okayama Military Government Team to confer with the team civil education officer, 3 May through 6 May.

Miss Todd seems to be doing a very good job of becoming familiar with the various duties of the education officer, Several problems were discussed with Japanese education personnel in this officer's hearing which were well handled in each instance.

The Korean problem once more came to the front when the chief of the Social Education Section of the prefecture came in to report a conference held with the representatives of the Korean League on the afternoon of 4 May. The conference was notified of the official news released through News Service of the meeting in Tokyo of officials of the Korean League and the Ministry of Education. Two decisions were reached at that meeting: (1) The basic school education law must be obeyed. (2) The Ministry of Education will try to recognize the spedial characteristics of the Koreans in so far as regulations permit.

When this release was shown to the Okayama Korean representatives, they said the whole problem would now be solved.

This conference was reported to Col. Satterwhite on Wed. Morning and he gave the education officer the following information from Press Release on the conference in Tokyo:

Korean schools will apply for license immediately and will remain closed while the governor and the education authorities are considering that application. The children will not be required to attend school while their schools are closed.

Korean schools must meet the required standards of the Japanese School Education Law, but may teach Korean language and history as electives in the curriculum.

The Screening Committee, the governor and the prefectural education authorities are urged to work as quickly as possible on these applications so that very little time will be lost in school work. Any schools which do not meet the required standards will remain closed.

Col. Springer called a meeting of the prefectural education personnel, the governor (the governor was ill, so the meeting was attended by the vice-governor), and the representatives of the Koren League in his office at 1300 hours 5 May, at which time he gave to them the above press release.

SUBJECT: Press Release Relative to Activities of Foreign National Groups

TO : See Distribution

The following press release issued by the Army Commander relative to recent activities in the Kobe area is published for your information and guidance:

"On Saturday, April 24, approximately 1,000 Koreans gathered outside the Kensho building in Kobe where the governor, the mayor and the chief of police were holding a conference.

By their unlawful acts and assault upon these Japanese officials they coerced the governor to acquiesce to their demands relative to:

Firstly -- release of the Koreans held for trial for unlawful acts (resisting the school regulations.)

Secondly -- an agreement not to prosecute the released alleged violators of the law.

Thirdly -- vacation of the court order relative to the Korean schools.

Fourthly -- an agreement to take no action against the Koreans making the aforementioned demands.

Such agreements exacted under force and coercion have no legal status. I do not recognize as binding any agreement or promise made under duress.

In this case, the fact is that this Korean demonstration degenerated into mob action to such an extent that civil government ceased to function during a certain period. Owing to the unlawful severing of telephone communications, the occupational authorities were unable to communicate with key Japanese officials.

Such action is inimical to the occupation policies and to the security of the occupation.

As Commanding General of the Eighth Army, I am taking cognizance of the aforementioned unlawful actions and have directed prosecution of certain individual Koreans by military commissions and/or provost courts.

84.038

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3 402/NNSC NO.

In the case in question, certain foreign nationals, who, by their own free choice, are residing in Japan -- where they are gaining their livelihood--have struck at the very fundamental elements of civilization by their action with respect to the duly elected representatives of the Japanese people.

There can be no civilization without law and order. There can be no law and order without law enforcement and obedience of the law.

There will be no compromise with such subversive mob action no matter from what source it may arise. I hold the leaders of all groups particularly responsible when by their example they set the pattern for uncivilized behavior. Their punishment will be propertionately severe."
