

U. S. ASKS MEXICO TO FREE BANDIT VICTIM Sewer Compact To Be Considered Next Week

LOS ANGELES LEGAL HEAD AGREES TO CONSIDER PROBLEM

Official Says He Will Do All In His Power to Reach Agreement

LEGAL phases of the Glendale-Los Angeles sewer compact will be considered this week by City Attorney Jesse E. Stephens of Los Angeles, he has personally informed The Glendale Evening News.

It is expected by the Los Angeles city attorney that he will be free from the interstate commerce commission hearings on the terminal issue by Thursday afternoon and he assured this newspaper that the very next thing on his program is the Glendale sewer issue.

"I want you to tell your people for me that we are going to do everything in our power to bring about a satisfactory agreement. I have given my pledge previously that anything possible would be done for Glendale, as I realize their problem of sewage disposal is dependent upon action by Los Angeles."

Seek Lasting Contract Both the councils of Los Angeles and Glendale are anxiously awaiting the report of Mr. Stephens and depending upon his ability to frame a contract which will be lasting. There has been no inclination on the part of officials to delay this issue, which is more or less a serious block in Glendale's growth until solved.

So far as can be learned, every thing is favorable to Glendale's plan for building a trunk sewer line into Los Angeles to connect with the outfall. Special legislation was passed by the last legislature at the request of City Attorney Stephens of Los Angeles, and former City Attorney Hartley Shaw of Glendale. Assemblyman Frank C. Welser carried through this part of the program.

"Only the physical limitation of time keeps me from giving this matter immediate attention today," said City Attorney Stephens, when interviewed at the offices of the state railroad commission in the Pacific Finance building.

DENY REPORT OF 3-POWER TREATY

U. S.-British-Japanese Pact Would Weaken Disarmament Move, Jap Says

TOKIO, July 11.—Admiral Taramabe, naval minister, today denied that Japan had made proposals for a separate naval treaty with England and the United States.

"A tripartite pact would weaken the effectiveness of the disarmament move," he declared. He lauded the action of the French government in ratifying the treaties and declared he believed France means to live up to the terms of the Washington pact.

PROSPERITY! U. S. Makes New Record in Spending Business Conditions Will Continue Good

By W. H. ATKINS For International News Service

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Americans hung up a new record for free spending, especially for luxuries during the past year, the internal revenue bureau said today.

The bureau's records, classifying receipts for the eleven months ended May 31, latest data available from collectors, showed tremendous increases in business by manufacturers and merchants.

These figures, linked with those of the federal reserve board and the commerce department, revealed that the year's business was one of the best in history.

Treasury officials cited reports showing automobile taxes collected represented sales of nearly $3,000,000,000 by the automobile trade.

Taxes from this source in spring and summer have almost doubled figures for the corresponding periods a year ago.

MONEY IS PLENTIFUL, CLAIM More money is being spent for candy, jewelry, cameras, cigars and cigarettes, and a lengthy list of so-called non-essentials than has been reported in the history of the revenue bureau. Officials said this indicates that money is plentiful.

Government records offer substantial proof of the fact that farmers, as a class, are the heaviest spenders in the country. All merchants are feeling the effect of the farmers' better credit position.

Government business observers are convinced that the present era of prosperity gives no indication of abating, but there is every reason for belief, they assert, that American business will continue at its present pace, despite foreign disorders of a financial character.

PROGRAM BY EMPLOYEES SUCCESS

Glendale Sanitarium Plant, Now Building, Is Scene Of Social Affair

The first entertainment to be given in the new plant of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital was staged last night under the auspices of the employees who are spending this year upon its construction. About 500 persons were present and nurses who are attending the summer institute were guests of honor.

Dr. A. W. Trueman of Washington, D. C., medical secretary of the Seventh-Day Adventist church, expressed his admiration of the proposed new plant for ministrations to the sick. He called attention to the fact that the denomination now has thirty-four large institutions under its direction.

C. E. Kimlin, manager of the local institution, made a short talk in which he explained that the purpose of the Sanitarium and Hospital is to administer to the soul as well as to the body. He declared that it was in no sense a commercial enterprise.

Miss Kathryn Jensen, superintendent of nurses for the denomination who has charge of the institute, talked briefly upon the training required by nurses. She asserted that a nurse not only needs much professional training but a sense of humor as well. She expressed her opinion that the new sanitarium will be (Continued on page 5)

U. S. Ship to Remain On Seas, Decision

LONDON, July 11.—"The American merchant marine will never die," Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the United States shipping board, made this prediction to English reporters who surrounded him as he reached London today from Southampton.

"I do not favor government ownership," Lasker said, "but it probably will continue, because congress wants it in preference to a ship subsidy. Our efforts should be to stimulate shipbuilding throughout the world."

Representative Martin B. Madden, also a passenger on the Leviathan, told the English that it was not America's ambition to be the greatest sea power in the world.

"There is no reason why America should not be a seafaring nation," he said. "We don't want to be the greatest seafaring nation, but we do want to meet our needs in time of peace and supply our navy in the time of war."

CONCERT AT EXPOSITION BY LOCAL ARTISTS

Glendale Day at Monroe Show in L. A. to See Excellent Program

Ralph W. Browne, chairman of the committee that is arranging the program for Glendale Day, July 19, at the Monroe Centennial Exposition in Los Angeles, presented his report to the directors at their meeting in the Citizens Building last night, showing the brilliant array of talent he has secured for the entertainment that is to be staged that afternoon in the Woman's Court in the exposition grounds, from 2 to 4 p. m.

It is the desire of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce that all Glendaleans who purpose attending the exposition should try and arrange to do so on Glendale Day, in order to make as strong a showing as possible.

The concert to be given on Glendale Day will be free to everyone, and as the Woman's Court has a seating capacity of around 700, it is hoped that Glendale people will do their share toward filling the building during the presentation of the program.

Elaborate Program Spencer Robinson, "Glendale's Singing Mayor" is booked for a vocal solo. This will be followed by three numbers presented by pupils of the Pearl Keller School of Dancing and Dramatic Art. These will be a Russian dance by the Turner Sisters, a patriotic dance by Eleanor Marek and "The Powder Puff Dance" by Marie Louise Brown.

"The Lost Chord" will be sung from a double quartet from the Madrigal Club. Those who will take part will be Mrs. Virginia Freeman, Mrs. Helen Graham Cole, Mrs. Florence Parker, Mrs. Henrietta Chappel, Mrs. A. M. Draper, Mrs. C. H. Meadows, Mrs. John W. Cotton and Mrs. H. E. MacMullin.

"La Argentine Tango" will be presented by George Larkin and his wife, who is known upon the stage as Ollie Kirby.

Mrs. Eva Kurtz Christ, who will play the accompaniments, will play "The Prelude in C Minor" by Czernovsky.

J. Arthur Myers will sing two solos: "Lord Didn't it Rain" and "Let My People Go."

Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Cavanaugh of the Cavanaugh Studios will sing two duets: "Until" by Sanderson and Tosti's "Good-bye."

A dramatic playlet dealing with the psychology of honesty by George Kelly will be presented by a cast including Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Chase and Mrs. Malvern C. Barker.

COMEDIAN DEAD

LONDON, July 11.—Albert Chevalier, 62, noted comedian and stage writer, died here today.

LATEST NEWS

REPUBLICAN CHIEFS MEET FOR CONFERENCE CHICAGO, July 11.—Republican leaders from Illinois, Michigan, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma were assembling here today in response to a call from John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee for a "get together" conference tomorrow morning at the Drake hotel.

BEATEN, GIRL TRIES TO END HER LIFE SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Police are mystified by the attempt at suicide by Miss Joyce Hilbert early today. Douglas Campbell heard her scream at a lonely beach point, and found her in the surf. She said she had attempted to drown herself because her lover had beaten her, but refused to give his name. He is said to have driven away in an automobile.

COMPETITION KEEN IN GOLF TOURNAMENT INWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FAR ROCKAWAY, N. Y., July 11.—With about three-quarters of today's qualifying quota through the first round in the national open golf championship stroke test, there were fifteen records of 80 or better. These included the leader, Al Waterhouse, with 72, and the former British open champion, Walter Hagen, with 79. With competition as keen as yesterday, it seemed that 159 would probably be about the highest total to qualify. Only four cards under 77 were returned among the first sixty-four players to finish their morning tour. Mike Brady and Macdonald Smith each had 74 and W. R. Noon of Garden City, 76.

DIVIDED OVER METHOD OF IMPROVING ALASKA

Harding Hears Conflicting Stories on What's Need For Development

By GEO. R. HOLMES For International News Service

JUNEAU, Alaska, July 11.—President Harding left the Alaskan capital today with conflicting advice ringing in his ears as to what Alaska really wants. The president spent nearly twenty-four hours in the capital during which he saw and conferred with representatives of various schools, and few of them agree as to the most advisable methods of opening the territory to economic development.

Alaskans are generally looking on President Harding's visit as an opportunity to air grievances and get the ear of the chief executive and the cabinet as to remedial measures, but apparently are strongly divided on what is needed.

Opinions Differ Some prominent Alaskans with whom the president conferred at Juneau believed with Secretary of the Interior Work that the control of the territory should be centralized in a single department at Washington. Others equally representative, believe with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace, all that is needed is for the departments now controlling the territory's affairs to be faster in handling its business.

Instead of going to Seward direct from Juneau, President Harding decided today to put in at Skagway en route. The transport Henderson will probably arrive at Skagway by mid-afternoon.

The trip to Seward is a three-day voyage. Barring further changes in program, the president is expected to reach Seward early Saturday, where he takes the government railway to Fairbanks, a two-day journey.

Change in Plans Present plans call for a trip from Fairbanks to Cordova over the Richardson trail via Ford cars. Ordinarily in good weather this requires three days of motoring. But, if it rains, the party is likely to be mired down at some roadhouse for days because the roads become impassable with rain.

The Juneauans out-did themselves in entertaining President Harding and his official party. President Harding saw everything from gold mines to glaciers, and his reception culminated last night with a grand ball at Governor Bone's mansion in which the elite of Alaska society and business were represented.

Henry Ford's Denials Of Presidential Desire May Be Just Clever Politics

Henry Ford and (inset) Senator James Couzens. The automobile manufacturer says talk about his candidacy for president is "newspaper stuff." United States Senator Couzens was formerly a Ford official and retired, worth many millions. He intimates Ford will run.

Repeated Denials Of 'Auto King' Are Keen Strategy, Say Many Wise Ones; Obstacles to Getting Nomination Numerous

By GEORGE M. HEIL

WASHINGTON, July 11.—Will Henry Ford be a candidate for president in 1924? It may be said—perhaps without exaggeration—that more persons are interested in the answer to this question more than in any probable issue of the coming campaign. Ford himself has said "No," emphatically and repeatedly. But politicians, both Republican and Democratic, and political observers in general prefer to take that "No" in the diplomatic parlance as meaning about anything but what it professes to mean.

They profess to see in the repeated denials the keen strategy employed by clever politicians in practically every big campaign—the masking of the real intent until what is believed to be the psychological moment arrives.

Senators Say He Will Both United States senators from Ford's home state, Michigan, have intimated their belief that the auto king will make the race. Senator Ferris is more certain than his colleague, Senator Couzens, that Ford will run, but declares he will not support him.

Ford calls the talk about his candidacy "newspaper stuff." "But newspapers print 'news' and 'news' is what interests the greatest number of readers most. This would seem to indicate that there is considerable interest in the Ford candidacy."

Another evidence of the popularity of the Detroitier is the result of the nation-wide poll now being conducted by Collier's Weekly which at the time of this writing shows Ford leading Harding, his closest rival, by some 22,000 votes.

Of the 164,514 voters questioned 54,257 favored Ford, 32,924 were for Harding and the remainder were scattered. Another peculiar feature of this poll is that Ford leads in every state except (Continued on page 5)

Chinese Bandits in Fight With Soldiers

MANILA, July 11.—Advices to Chinese sources here today reported a battle between Chinese soldiers and the Canton bandits who looted a Kowloon train in which twenty bandits were killed. The outlaws succeeded in escaping, however, with their captives, all natives.

Sixty-four Die in Big Rumanian Train Crash

LONDON, July 11.—Sixty-four persons were killed in a train wreck near Klausenburg, Rumania, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch today from Carlsbad.

AMERICAN IS BEING HELD PRISONER FOR BIG RANSOM

Government Makes Formal Request He Be Given Freedom at Once

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The United States government has made a formal request upon the Mexican bandits, the state department immediate release of M. A. Newman, a Chicago citizen, who was captured and is being held now for ransom by Mexican bandits, the state department announced officially this afternoon. The department was informed of Newman's capture through consular channels.

Demand $15,000 Ransom CHICAGO, July 11.—Relatives of M. A. Newman, American, reported to have been kidnaped by Mexican bandits who threatened to kill him unless a ransom of $15,000 was paid, today expressed grave fears for his fate and appealed to the United States government for word of the missing man. The last heard of Newman was that the bandits threatened to shoot him unless the ransom was paid immediately.

Relatives of Newman had been hearing from him at frequent intervals and when his letters stopped they conducted an investigation with the result it was learned he had been kidnaped. The demand for ransom followed.

Washington to take action in an effort to save Newman from threatened death.

Radicals, Guilty, Get Sentenced to Prison

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Turbulent scenes were witnessed in Superior Judge Paul J. McCormick's court today when a jury brought in a verdict of guilty against twenty-seven members of the I. W. W., who were charged with criminal syndicalism.

The convicted men, not only leaped to their feet, making impassioned speeches, but they also demanded that they be sentenced to prison at once, waiving all their legal rights to ask for new trials or make other delaying motions.

Although such action following a conviction of this character is extremely rare, Justice McCormick accommodated the angry radicals by imposing sentence at once, the terms in prison ranging from one to 14 years, all to be served in San Quentin.

Picture Actor Tells About 'Petting Party'

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Gaston Glass, motion picture actor, on trial in police court on a vagrancy charge and of being a disolute person, took the witness stand today in his own defense, admitted certain allegations of the offered testimony arrested him during the course of a night "petting party" at the home of Mrs. Helen McCloskey in Hollywood several weeks ago, but denied the other charges made against him.

Louis Gasnier, prominent motion picture director, also arrested with Glass, followed the actor to the stand, and with marked embarrassment testified. Mrs. McCloskey was also called as a witness.

BOY'S BACK BROKEN

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—His back broken when the automobile which he was driving turned completely over, Joseph Almeraz, 17, and two male companions were also hurt, lay unconscious in a ditch near Downey on the Telegraph road early today when found by two patrolmen who rushed them to the receiving hospital.

MUSIC CLUB ACTIVITIES OUTLINED

Executive Board Meeting Takes Place at Home Of Mrs. M. B. Jones

Interesting plans for activities of the Glendale Music club for the coming year were formulated yesterday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Mattison B. Jones, at 727 Kenneth road, where an executive board meeting was held and the club officers and those participating in the club's membership drive were entertained informally at tea.

During the board meeting early in the afternoon it was announced that $1000 of the desired $2000 was in view in the purchase of patron memberships and that work will be begun immediately on the remaining $1000. Mrs. Jones announces that the $2000 is necessary to guarantee engagements with national artists to appear before the club during the year.

Secures Engagement An engagement has already been secured with Cecil Fanning, American baritone. Mr. Fanning is a real American artist, having received all his training in America before crossing the water. He went abroad to fill two engagements and was so heartily received that he was booked for many concerts and appeared before the king and queen of England.

It is the plan of the Music club to engage other prominent artists but, according to Mrs. Jones, the bookings must be made during the summer and in order to do (Continued on page 5)

COUNCILMEN SAVE SALARY TO CITY
Officials, With Financiering, 'Work for Nothing,' So Figures Indicate

The Glendale City Council in the last two years has "saved its salary," according to gossip current at the city hall today.

More than two years ago the voters refused a $30,000 bond issue for the purchase of land and the construction of a garage at the rear of the city hall.

It was necessary that provisions be made for housing the motor cars and material owned by the public service department so the new administration that took office a little over two years ago decided to obtain the site and build the garage building, giving them all credit, scouted around and obtained four valuable lots on Geneva street for $6500.

Less Than Bond Issue
The building was constructed, including offices for the plant production division of the public service department, a machine shop and garage and a large enclosed yard for the cars and supplies. The total cost was $20,000 or $10,000 less than the bond issue proposed.

The council, which can only draw $300 a month, cost the city perhaps $7500 during the period. Not figuring interest on the bonds, the city today has paid off its contracts and owns the property, at a saving representing more than the councilmanic pay.

BOXERS IN GOOD SHAPE FOR ELKS
Bouts in Vernon Ring Keep Scrappers in Training For Lodge Benefit

Some of Harry McCartney's scrappers who are to furnish the entertainment for the members of the Elks lodge tomorrow night have been getting in some practice for their bouts here. Billy Kennedy, who is scheduled to box Joe Layman lost a close decision to Young Datto at Vernon last night, making a whirlwind finish that came too late to offset the points piled up by his opponent in the early rounds.

George Sirey, who meets Young Sol tomorrow night, took a slap on the chin from Kid Louie and was counted out, but he is in shape for his bout with Young Sol, and promises to clean up on him well within the limit. Sirey and Sol boxed a fast draw about a month ago, and neither of them was satisfied with the verdict, so each of them will try and reverse it when they meet here. No ill feeling is understood, Maruss, but each boy is out to win in a way that will leave no room for doubt in the other fellow's mind when he comes out of his trance.

There will be action every minute the boxers are in the ring, McCartney promises. For every boy is in good shape and ready to travel the four rounds at a fast clip, and no stalling or "brother acts" will be permitted for a holy minute, he declares.

HELP! POLICE! IS CRY FROM CHIEF
Sees in Letter Sent by C. of C. Much Trouble And More Grief

Six secretaries and 600 assistants are needed by Chief of Police John D. Fraser, he believes, to handle the work connected with safely escorting President Warren G. Harding's party through Glendale on August 3.

At least he draws this conclusion from a letter addressed to him by E. F. Sanders, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, which, among other things, says:

"Please confer with Colonel Fraser, chief of police, arranging with him for space in line." To which the colonel says:

"If everyone in the San Fernando valley does this, and I expect they will, I will be in need of six secretaries to handle the detail work. I expect to enlist two local companies of National Guards, the Boy Scouts, all police officers and as many volunteers as possible, to police the course through the city."

VENICE REFUSES L. A. ANNEXATION

Beach City Turns Down 'Chance' to Be Swallowed By Larger City

Venetians will remain Venetians regardless of the strenuous efforts of annexationists to have the beach city of Venice gathered within the metropolitan boundaries of the city of Los Angeles.

This sentiment was voiced yesterday when Venice cast a ballot of 1849 against and 1503 in favor of annexation, the anti-annexationists being victors by 346 votes.

According to reports from the beach city only twelve ballots were disqualified, making a total of 3354 votes cast.

The only three polling places that carried a majority in favor of joining Los Angeles was the Rose avenue district, the south beach district and the Brooks avenue district.

From Campaign Heads Thomas Aisbitt, campaign manager for the annexationists, is quoted as saying that the result was a great surprise to him.

He is also reported to have declared that he had evidence that the anti-annexationists had some illegal voters, but stated that he would file no protest.

J. O. Stevenson, who headed the anti-annexationists, was congratulated on all sides, and declared that, while he expected a greater majority, he was well satisfied with the result.

Now that this vital issue has been settled I feel confident that many of the voters who worked so hard that Venice might retain its individuality will now put their shoulder to the wheel and work just as hard for the future good of the city.

FORMER EDITORS TO RESIDE HERE

Missourians Bring Families To Glendale to Make Permanent Homes

Glendale has acquired as residents during the past month three former newspaper editors, who have brought their families to California from the mid-west to reside permanently in Glendale.

They are H. T. Burkhardt, former editor of the Howard County Advertiser, in Missouri; Russell Blakey and Wallace Blakey, former editors of a newspaper in Oklahoma.

All three are former residents of Fayette, Missouri, the old home of James W. Pearson, local realtor.

The Burkhardt family has purchased a home at 460 Hawthorne street, and the Blakey families are anticipating buying homes shortly.

Iowans Will Picnic At Long Beach Park

Hawkeyes will rally at Bixby park, Long Beach, Saturday, August 14, announces Col. A. B. Shaw, president of the Iowa association, the affair being in the nature of a picnic reunion.

Many jolly features, in addition to the usual county registers, hot coffee, souvenirs, etc., have been provided. Picnickers will carry their own basket dinners.

All Iowans are urged to pass along the good word to fellow Hawkeyes.

The dog violet is so called by the English because it has no fragrance, "dog" being a term of contempt.

S. S. Beran Co. to Build New Spanish Type Bungalow On East Harvard St.

The S. S. Beran company, builders, of 305 South Brand boulevard, are preparing plans and specifications for an attractive Spanish residence with tile trimmings, to be erected on East Harvard street, for A. H. Harper, of Long Beach.

The house will contain parquet floors in the living and dining rooms, with black walnut borders. There will be a tile bath and shower, inverted lights in the ceilings of the living and dining rooms, built-in phone and phone seats, modern kitchen with drop-in cabinet, one-piece sink and drain board, unit system of heating and many other distinctive features.

Three rooms will be finished in gum-wood, with hand decorated walls throughout. Both exterior and interior of this model residence will bespeak taste and refinement, exemplifying the very latest developments in the building of high-class homes.

S. S. Beran, of the Beran company, states that he is just completing two very attractive five-room homes for Lily C. Richardson and Edna Stewart, at 3438-40 Atwater avenue.

These houses are finished with oak floors and ivory trimmings, small Mission tile being inlaid about the mantle and elsewhere, providing a very unique effect.

Pendroys Start East On Purchasing Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Earle C. Pendroy of Pendroy's Department store, corner Harvard street and Brand boulevard, left this morning for the Pasadena Santa Fe station for a visit to New York and other markets of trade in getting stock for the big department store here.

Mr. and Mrs. Pendroy will stop at Newton, Kans., to visit relatives.

MISSION WORKER TO HOLD SERVICE

Church Attendance Growing As Larger Quarters Become Available

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown will have charge of the Community Church Services on Sunday of this week, July 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown are engaged in Industrial Mission work under the direction of the Foreign Board of Missions in India and will sail for their home in Bombay on August 9. It is the wish of Reverend Kelso that the visitors be received by a large and enthusiastic congregation.

The attendances at Sunday School and regular church services have been greatly increased since they have been held in the school auditorium and will, it is hoped, keep on increasing with the population and until the new church is finished services will be in school auditorium. It is expected work will begin on the new Community church again in a few days which, when completed, will be a decided asset to the valley.

Prayer meeting will be held every Wednesday evening at Rev. Kelso's home on the corner of Los Angeles and Mayfield avenues.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bennett are the possessors of a new Studebaker touring car.

Lay Corner Stone A most impressive ceremony will be held by the school trustees with the laying of the cornerstone in the new Montrose school house, which is in reality a branch of the La Crescenta school house and under the jurisdiction of the board of this place.

The date of the ceremonial will be given later and the Montrose business men expect to hold a half holiday for the occasion.

The program has not as yet been completed, but Dr. Smith promises an impressive one worthy of the day. It is hoped there will be a community sing and no doubt Dr. Kelso, as resident minister of the valley, will read the invocation.

Mrs. Ruddock of East Hermosa avenue has sold her property at that location and will move tomorrow to her ranch in Sunland.

COMMUNITY SWIM TOMORROW NIGHT

Instructors to Give Lessons At Municipal Pool at Patterson Park

There will be a swim at 7 o'clock tomorrow night, July 12, at the Patterson avenue municipal pool located at the north end of Burckett street, announces J. C. Smith, chairman of the swimming committee of Community Service. There will be swimming instruction and fancy diving, among other features, Mr. Smith states. And after the swim, a wiener roast will be held.

"We plan to feel out the sentiment, tomorrow night, regarding use of the municipal pool by adults," says Mr. Smith. "If the idea meets with favor, it is our plan to conduct these events weekly, during the summer months, and perhaps we will arrange a beach party later in the season."

"At any rate, we plan to have a lot of fun tomorrow night and are hoping for a big turnout."

Mr. Smith received his appointment as chairman of the swimming committee from Mrs. J. R. Case, chairman of the recreation committee of Community Service, of which the swimming committee is a branch.

SHOWS GLENDALE IN ROTOGRAVURE

Paper of Million Circulation Devotes Page to City In August Issue

The attractions of Glendale, "The Fastest Growing City of its Size in the United States," are to be pictured in the August edition of the "California Illustrated Review," according to James W. Pearson, realtor of South Brand boulevard.

Some time ago Mr. Pearson, who is a loyal Glendale booster, wrote E. G. Lewis, editor of the Review, asking if space could be devoted to Glendale in one of the issues of the magazine.

A recent letter from Mr. Lewis states that in the August number, appearing this month, there will be one full page of the rotogravure section given over to Glendale pictures.

This will mean splendid advertising for Glendale, Mr. Pearson states, because the review has over 1,000,000 in circulation and can be bought at any news stand in the United States.

Will Spend Vacation In National Park

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Kirk, 1131 East Colorado, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. ## DECLARE SUNDAY GAME CANCELED

Lankershim's Pitcher Ruled Ineligible; Glendale Has Chance at Pennant

Glendale's chance to capture the pennant in the San Fernando Valley league loomed brighter this morning following the announcement that last Sunday's game, which was won by Lankershim, had been ruled out by the association and would have to be played over again. Lankershim's pitcher has been ruled ineligible, and the teams will meet again on the Glendale diamond, San Fernando and Park avenue, on Sunday, July 22, a week from next Sunday, when Glendale will make its big bid for the league leadership.

Next Sunday, July 15, Glendale will play an independent game on the home lot. The opposing team has not yet been selected, but it is certain to be a strong one, as all the top pitchers are scrambling for a game with Glendale, according to Manager Walt Heidler. The name of Glendale's opponent will be announced as soon as it has been selected.

Hagen and Smith in Golf Contest Today

INWOOD COUNTRY CLUB, FAR ROCKAWAY, N. Y., July 11.—This was "Hagen day" at Inwood. Walter Hagen, considered by many as America's greatest golfer, was to pair with Macdonald Smith, of Los Angeles, in the qualifying round of the national open golf championship. They are the only pair of first water stars in today's competition.

Both are expected to try to equal the brilliant performance staged by Joe Kirkwood, the former Australian, who yesterday shattered the course record by turning in a 70-four strokes less than Gene Sarazen, national champion, made in his qualifying round.

The weather this morning was cool with a stiff ocean breeze blowing across the course. Al Watrous, unattached professional, former Canadian open champion, led the field in the third qualifying round of the open golf championship, today with a card of 37-35-72.

Pitching Ace Wins Two Games Same Day

BOSTON, July 11.—The masterful twirling of Stuart, of the Cards, who performed the unique feat of pitching two full games against the Braves here yesterday, enabled the St. Louis visitors to trounce the Bostonians twice. The scores were 11 to 1, and 6 to 3, the latter being that of the curtain affair. Stuart allowed ten hits in the final and three in the first affray, making thirteen in all.

With the close of the series ending Sunday, July 8, the half way mark was reached in the season's play of the Pacific Coast League. That stage was reached with San Francisco in the lead by seventy-four points over its nearest rival, Sacramento. Incidentally, during the last three weeks these Sacramento have cut down the Seals' lead from 104 points, which may indicate that either the San Franciscans are not up on their toes as they have been, or the other teams are making a greater effort to make a race of it.

It is interesting to note that, with the exception of Oakland, which seems to be hopelessly out of it, that every other team in the league has a chance of finishing one, two, three, and with a little more slipping on the part of the Seals, even first place may be disputed ere long. At least there is a very spirited race on for first division places.

Boyles Thirty Acres, over Jersey way, is in the limelight again this week. For over there great tons of beef will mail each other into insensibility for the privilege of meeting one Jack Dempsey, and collecting the small fortune known as the loser's end.

Jess Willard, erstwhile king of the beefweights, hopes to put over a lucky lumbering right to the chin of one Louis Firpo, a 225-pound gent from the wilds of the Argentine pampas.

Notwithstanding the extremely high quality of the track competition that has been offered during the past intercollegiate competitive season, Maxey Long's old record of forty-seven seconds for the quarter mile, made away back in 1900, still stands the test of nearly a quarter of a century of time. He was pushed by Frank Sloman then the saner runner of the San Francisco Olympic club, and the eastern colored runner, Desmond.

Meredith and Sloman were undoubtedly two of the greatest quarter milers the country has produced since the days of Long. Sloman, at the exposition, three times ran the quarter under forty-eight seconds. In two of these races the figure was not allowed on account of the wind. He won the junior quarter in forty-seven, one of the disallowed performances.

Followers of sport will remember the grand "come-back" staged by Meredith when he was selected as a member of the American Olympic team to go to Antwerp. In the national events that year, which also were used as trials for the Olympic, Meredith took his trial heat in forty-five and three-fifths, and the next day took second in forty-nine seconds flat.

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—Jack Dempsey, champion heavyweight boxer, was back at his home here today looking none the worse for wear after his tiff with Tommy Gibbons on July 4 and ready to discuss the battle on for tomorrow night between Jess Willard and Luis Firpo at Jersey City.

The champion refused to pick the winner of the Willard-Firpo match because both are contenders for his crown, but did make a few remarks about the fight. "Eastern boxing experts, I am told, are picking Firpo to win from Willard," Dempsey said, "but, to me, if Firpo is to win he will have to beat Willard in the early rounds. MARKETS

NEW YORK, July 11.—The stock market closed dull and heavy today. Trading in the closing period was very sluggish and without feature. Some further selling took place in Baldwin Locomotive forcing this issue down to 115 1/2, later rallying to 116 1/2. Woolworth dropped below 5 points at 225. United States Steel hung around 89 1/2. Studebaker 100 1/2 and New Haven 11 1/2.

Government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds were steady. Sales today stocks $70,500 shares; bonds $9,243,000.

CHICAGO, July 11.—With the exception of July contracts, wheat passed under the dollar level today at the close. Prices were weak from the start. Corn movements were opposite. Strength developed early in this trade and held good through the session. Reports of good crop weather abroad had an effect on the market.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 3/4 off. Corn finished unchanged to 1/4 higher. Oats were 3/4 to 1/2 lower. Slight advances were made in provisions.

EMPLOYEES GIVE CLEVER PROGRAM

Glendale Sanitarium, Now Building, Is Scene of Social Gathering

The very finest under the control of the Seventh-Day Adventist Church.

Alfred F. Priest of 1422 North Central avenue, architect for the new plant, was called upon for a short speech. He congratulated the workmen on not only being able to build a sanitarium but also being able to arrange a first class program.

W. E. Whalin, superintendent of construction, also made a brief talk. He said that the work had presented wonderful opportunities for the making of new acquaintanceships.

A colored quartet, composed of men who are employed on the premises, was one of the hits of the musical program. It was scheduled for one number but was encored so vigorously that it sang three encores. Selections included "Wait 'Til I Put on My Robe," "Oh Mary," "In the Evening by the Moonlight" and "Sweet Adeline." Members of the quartet were C. S. Robinson, Fred Matthews, K. C. Payne and C. R. Echols.

Numbers Please

Three vocal solos were sung during the course of the entertainment. Mrs. J. D. Knotts sang "My Wild Irish Rose," Miss Anna Margaret Whalin sang "Marcheta" and A. E. P. Billington sang "The Old Refrain."

Ed Whalin and Mrs. A. E. P. Billington sang "The End of a Perfect Day" as a duet.

An instrumental trio was composed of Mrs. W. J. Johnson, piano, Mrs. Charles Swartzfager, violin, and Ed Moore, cello. They played a Hungarian dance and "The Swing Song."

Other musical numbers included a mandolin solo by C. A. Bergman, "Over the Waves," a pianologue by E. Miller, "Out where the West begins," a violin solo by Rae Frisbie, "Intermezzo from Vavaleria Rusticana," and a piano solo by Miss Mavis Smith.

The Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital Orchestra opened and closed the program with "Sweet and Low" as a prelude and "Three o'clock in the Morning" as a postlude.

An abundance of refreshments were available and ice cream and macaroons were served to all present. This combination was followed by punch.

The committee on arrangements consisted of A. E. P. Billington, Ed Miller and Charles E. Swartzfager. Financial details were handled by E. E. Covert.

Glendale Boys At Home From Two Weeks In Camp Of Y. M. C. A. On Catalina

THERE were 138 sun-burned smiles that greeted Glendale, Burbank and Annandale parents last night when Rex C. Kelley, camp leaders and boys arrived home from two weeks' outing at Camp Leon V. Shaw on Catalina Island. Leaving camp yesterday morning at 11 o'clock with bag and baggage and several live little mountain goat mascots, the Y. M. C. A. campers boarded the glass-bottomed boat Empress for a trip through the submarine gardens for Avalon.

Their departure marked the close of one of the most successful and enjoyable camps in the history of the island, and it was with keen regret that the boys and their leaders packed their kits for the homeward trip.

Final events of the camp were the awarding of honors. To the first-year boys were given the "Y" letters with triangle for their sweaters, while the second year boys received the "Y" letter bearing the letters C. S., for Camp Shaw.

A feature trophy was a fine silver cup, given by Dr. John Anderson of Glendale, for the "Teasquare" boy of the camp, William Ballson, the only Los Angeles boy in camp, was the winner.

Other Prize Winners

Three other prizes, to be given by T. Kuranga of the Japan Art and Tea store, will go to William Ballson, Los Angeles, first; Donald Weyand, Glendale, second; and Gordon Bailey, Burbank, third.

Prizes were also awarded for aquatic sports. For swimming and diving prizes went to Owen Dressler, Annandale, first; Gordon Bailey, Burbank, second; Grant Goodwin, third; Norman and Roldan Skeet, Burbank, fourth, and Leland Gasser, Glendale, fifth.

For the boat racing the camp was divided into two teams under J. P. Casser and G. E. Murphy. Mr. Gasser's team won the single sculls for boys, and Mr. Murphy's team the double sculls for boys.

One of the most impressive ritualistic ceremonies of the camp was the observance of the awards of the "Rag Society." In every camp there is such an organization and the awards are based on individual spirit and merits.

A blue rag is awarded to first year boys on the basis of camp spirit and those winning it at Camp Shaw were William Ballson, Shirley Olympius, Vernon Foster, Donald Weyand, Donald Elliott, Gerald Osier, Jack Swearingen, Ray Johnson, Willard Ball and Harold Rhoads and the camp leaders.

The red rag for second year honor went to G. E. Murphy and Paul Edmonds, and at the final camp fire Rev. Ernest E. Ford, Dr. A. B. Smith, F. B. Mattice and Dr. John Anderson, were so honored.

Issue Camp Paper

During the camp a camp paper was issued with Harold Rhoads as editor and news from the paper was published in The Glendale Evening News last week.

One of the stunt days in camp was circus day, with each of the seventeen tents having an entry. Appearing in the parade was "Spark Plug" in charge of Elwood Ingledue. The popular steed was two boys hidden beneath a blanket and led by Jack Swearingen.

Another entry was a "King Tut" group assembled by Prof. W. B. Root, and another, "The Queen of Sheba" with Walter Roberts as the queen.

One of the closing events was the baseball game Saturday evening between the leaders and the boys.

"Camp Shaw was a great success," said Mr. Kelley this morning. "Both the leaders and boys had an ideal outing and I want to thank the leaders for their faithful service. In thanking them I want to make special mention of Rev. Ford, the religious director of the camp, and Dr. Smith, the camp doctor. They were responsible in a great measure for the camp's success."

UNIONIZE STEEL WORKERS, PLAN LAUNCH CAMPAIGN TO ORGANIZE MEN EMPLOYED IN MILLS OVER COUNTRY

CLEVELAND, July 11.—Backed by all the resources of the American Federation of Labor a movement got under way here today to organize the steel workers of the United States and reinforce the ranks of workmen with the immense number of workers who earn their daily wage in the country's steel mills.

News of the plan, which has the backing of Samuel Gompers, veteran president of the American Federation of Labor, followed closely upon the recent announcement of Elmer H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel corporation, that he favored abandonment of the present twelve-hour day in the steel industry "as soon as a labor surplus made such a move practicable."

"The drive to organize the vast army of unorganized workmen will be conducted from three headquarters, Chicago, the center of the steel industry in the west, and Bethlehem, Pa., where the principal plants of the Bethlehem Steel corporation are located, will be two centers of activity, it was learned.

TELEPHONE SERVICE

The government will increase the telephone service of northern Finland and build additional telegraph lines in the southern portion of that country.

England has about 12,000,000 industrial workers.

CAUSE IS FOUND FOR FAILURE OF FLIGHT

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., July 11.—Lieutenant Russell Maughan, army aviator, forced down near here Monday in his attempt to down and dark, left here today in his plane for Dayton, Ohio. Maughan plans to attempt the pioneering flight again with the first favorable weather.

The aviator expected to reach Dayton by noon. From there he said he would go to Mitchell field, New York, from where he would make his second attempt to fly across the continent with the sun.

SLAYER OF HUSBAND TRIES TO END LIFE; JURYMAN'S WIFE IN THREAT

CHICAGO, July 11.—Mrs. Sabella Nitti-Crudelle, under sentence of death here for the murder of her husband, attempted to choke herself in the Cook county jail today. Jail guards pried her hands from her throat and in the resulting melee, Mrs. Crudelle tripped and fell backward, striking her head on the stone floor. The blow rendered her unconscious and she was removed to the hospital. Orders were issued for a twenty-four hour guard to be maintained over Mrs. Crudelle.

Unhandsome, disheveled of dress, unnoticed save by a few curiosity seekers who want to see the first woman sentenced to die by hanging in Illinois in twenty-seven years, Mrs. Crudelle, nevertheless, was causing more than her share of comment among Chicagoans.

May Lose His Wife
Lawyers, slum workers, social experts, psychologists and just plain citizens have expressed their opinions as to whether a woman should die on the gallows, but the striking example of expressed sentiment was presented today by Mrs. Thomas L. Murtaugh, wife of the foreman of the jury which decided that Mrs. Crudelle must die on the gallows. To satisfy curiosity some one asked Mrs. Murtaugh what she thought of the verdict, and the result was decidedly interesting—not only to the curiosity seeker, but also to Murtaugh.

"If Mrs. Crudelle is hanged on the gallows I'll go home to my mother," Mrs. Murtaugh informed her spouse. She is preparing, she said, to appeal to Governor Small in behalf of the ignorant peasant woman who couldn't even understand what had happened when the jury announced her guilty.

Scores Her Husband
No amount of explanation has shaken Mrs. Murtaugh. Her husband told her of the extreme brutality of the murder of Frank Nitti. Mrs. Crudelle's first husband, as alleged by the state, but it had no effect.

"Send a woman to the gallows? How could you?" was her comment. Nitti was slain and his body hidden some months ago. Mrs. Nitti and her "star boarder," Peter Crudelle, were arrested and interrogated, but discharged when the body could not be produced. Two months ago it was discovered in a sewer, and the arrests followed. Both were convicted and sentenced to death. Crudelle is 23 years the junior of his wife. The state alleged she held Nitti's head while Crudelle slew him with a hammer.

FOUR KILLED IN N. P. TRAIN WRECK

BUTTE, Mont., July 11.—Four persons were killed and three injured when Northern Pacific train No. 41 ran into an open switch four miles east of Whitehall late Tuesday.

The dead: Engineer Thomas Barry of Whitehall; Albert Jacobs of Laurel, Mont.; a man named Bolinger of California and an unidentified man. The injured: C. C. Putnam, baggage man, and R. F. Craig, electrician, both of Seattle, and Dennis Reardon of Laurel.

Those killed, excepting Engineer Barry, were riding in the tender with Reardon. Engineer Barry died a terrible death. He was pinned between the stoker plate and elevator of the engine and for three hours life was slowly crushed out of his body despite efforts to release him by use of acetylene torches.

PROBE CAUSE OF MUNITIONS BLAST

EAST ALTON, Ill., July 11.—An investigation to determine the origin of the tongue of flame which immediately preceded the explosion which killed twelve persons and injured more than a score, was started today by officials of the Western Cartridge company here. Of the injured, thirteen are said to be in a serious condition. Six of these dead are women. One was the mother of ten children.

The building in which the explosion occurred was used to separate bullets from rifle shells. The shells are purchased from the government as part of its disposal of war-time equipment.

The twelfth victim, a woman, died at a hospital today. Officials of the cartridge company announced today that their investigation shows the explosion occurred in a machine used for reclaiming shells bought from the government.

The machine in operation extracted the old cartridges and powder from the shells to be refilled.

Thirty thousand forest fires in the United States destroy about 10,000,000 acres of woods every year.

MUSIC CLUB IN BUSINESS MEET

Officers Make Plans for New Season; Plan to Sign Up Artists

this $2000 will be necessary. She further stated that it would be possible to have a group of local men finance the venture, but in view of the democratic nature of the Music club and the fact that no engagements would be made without the necessary finances in view, no artists will be dated until the necessary money is secured.

An interesting plan for the club year book for 1924 will be a professional directory of all artists and music teachers belonging to the organization. A survey of the teachers in Glendale showed that there are fifty engaged in the teaching of music.

A Teachers' section has already been organized in the club and an Artists' section will be formed this week.

Informal Discussion

After the board meeting and upon the arrival of the other guests there was an informal discussion of club plans for the next year.

Mrs. Eva Cunningham, who won the silver trophy at the close of the membership drive, presented Mrs. Jones with the silver trophy filled with checks for $25 for new memberships.

Mrs. J. O. Marsh, who won second in the drive, was presented with a basket of flowers from the club board.

Seven additional patron members were announced.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Jones was assisted by Mrs. Charles Marlenee and Mrs. Colin Cable in serving. The refreshments were very attractive, being tiny pastry baskets, with a pink rose bud on the half-closed lid disclosing pink ice cream. Candy favors were also served.

Mrs. Jones received for the meeting and tea Mesdames Eva Cunningham, Colin Cable, Frankie Webb, Alexander Mitchell, Helen Sawyer, Dora L. Gibson, Edwin Cleophas, A. M. Draper, Warren Roberts, F. H. Wallace, J. O. Marsh, Percy Frisbie, Frank Arnold, Opal Greenwalt, C. A. Parker, E. W. Kinney, C. L. Peckham, Gladys Gibbs Sherman and Misses Lorraine Mitchell and Myrtle Pulliam.

HENRY FORD TO RUN? HE KNOWS MANY MAKE GUESSES, ONLY AUTO KING HIMSELF ABLE TO GIVE ANSWER

New York, where Harding is running first. Gov. Al Smith, second, and Ford, third.

This gives rise to the question, "Is the Ford boom built around a personality or an issue?"

Politicians, veterans in the game, put very little credence in the Ford denials and declare that they have little bearing on the boom is built about an issue. What is the issue?

Is This His Slogan?

Politicians say that it is the cry for a man possessing advanced ideas on high wages, equality of opportunity, a man "who can beat Wall street at its own game and send the little man and his family on a joy ride."

These political sages believe that Ford, because of his reputation for square-dealing with his employees, as a wizard of industry and the conqueror of Wall street, has become the example of what the discontented elements of this country want.

Party chieftains, both Republicans and Democratic, realize that efforts are bent on preventing it from crystallizing into a third party movement.

But before Ford steps into the White House he must needs overcome obstacles which surpass anything encountered in his industrial career.

Should he head a third party movement, his chances of success, to say the least, would be questionable, but it would upset politicians' plans.

He might obtain the Democratic nomination by calling himself a Democrat, but it would be only after a fight which would do down in political annals as one of the bitterest on record, for he is certain to be opposed by a faction which will fight him to the bitter end.

The powerful opposition emanating from Jewish sources also must be reckoned with, for every Hebrew organization in the country, regardless of the political affiliations of its members, would be lined up solidly in the anti-Ford ranks.

There seems to be but little doubt that the agricultural districts and the "small fellows" would clamor aboard the bandwagon with Henry wielding the baton.

However, if Ford has serious intentions of attempting to land the presidency in 1924 he is adopting the proper pre-campaign tactics to build up his following. He is avoiding the possibility of killing off his boom by premature activity.

There are any number of political leaders willing to boom Ford now in the hope that by the time convention days roll around he will be a political corpse, effectually eliminated from serious consideration.

SUMMON SEAMEN OF LINER'S CREW

Leviathan's Men Deserters From British Vessels, Complaint Alleges

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 11.—Southampton police this afternoon served summons on twenty-two members of the crew of the American steamship Leviathan, directing them to appear in a British court tomorrow to answer charges of deserting from British ships in New York.

When the Leviathan docked, Albert D. Lasker, former chairman of the United States shipping board, said every member of the crew was an American citizen or had taken out his first citizenship papers.

The police boarding the ship announced they would seek out others of the crew for whom they had summonses. They expected to serve papers on fifty men.

Machine Used in Reclaiming Old Cartridges Blamed For Explosion

EAST ALTON, Ill., July 11.—An investigation to determine the origin of the tongue of flame which immediately preceded the explosion which killed twelve persons and injured more than a score, was started today by officials of the Western Cartridge company here. Of the injured, thirteen are said to be in a serious condition. Six of these dead are women. One was the mother of ten children.

The building in which the explosion occurred was used to separate bullets from rifle shells. The shells are purchased from the government as part of its disposal of war-time equipment.

The twelfth victim, a woman, died at a hospital today. Officials of the cartridge company announced today that their investigation shows the explosion occurred in a machine used for reclaiming shells bought from the government.

The machine in operation extracted the old cartridges and powder from the shells to be refilled.

Thirty thousand forest fires in the United States destroy about 10,000,000 acres of woods every year.

EAGLE ROCK

C. OF C. PLANS TO GREET PRESIDENT

Eagle Rock Organization to Welcome Harding; School Situation Topic

An important meeting of the directors of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce was held last night at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of the City hall on East Colorado boulevard.

Plans were made for honoring President Warren G. Harding when on August 3 he drives through this community on his way to Pasadena. The following, among others, constitute the committee on arrangements: M. Bruce, president of the Improvement Association; Walter Hines, president of the Good Government League; W. R. Johnston, president of the Realty Board, and J. Hartley Taylor, acting president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The matter of zoning was also taken up at last night's meeting, it being brought out that a joint meeting of the zoning committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the committee of co-operation of the Realty Board will be called for some night next week, with the idea of smoothing out all differences before the hearing of the Los Angeles Planning Commission, which is set for the first Friday in August, which is August 3.

School Situation
Another matter discussed at last night's meeting was that of Eagle Rock's school situation, particularly with regard to high school facilities. It was brought out that Los Angeles has to date had no reply to its communication of some three weeks back, addressed to the Glendale School Board, requesting information as to what tuition they would take to accommodate Eagle Rock pupils in the Glendale Union High School.

The matter of parking automobiles parallel with the curbs, rather than the present method of slantwise parking, was discussed, it being brought out that Los Angeles ordinances require the parallel parking.

It was disclosed that Eagle Rock can use the slogan, "Dahilia City," as Monterey has no claim to this slogan, contrary to the opinion that has been held by several residents.

Social and Personal
Frederick H. Beach of 1066 South Central avenue is on a fishing trip at Big Bear lake. He plans to return around the end of the week, as his mother is preparing to leave for New York.

The information that six new professors are to be added to the Occidental College staff raises the community population by six families.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillen of West Lawrence avenue are entertaining their niece, Miss Barbara Wilson, of Hollywood.

Miss Rhoda Tracy of West Lawrence avenue is spending her vacation in the San Bernardino foothills.

Entertains Aunt
Miss Nelsine Freeman of 161 Eddy avenue recently entertained her aunt, Mrs. James H. Spencer, of Colorado Springs, Colo.

Mrs. T. Carlton Thompson and daughter, Miss Phyllis Thompson, of 143 Windermere avenue, are visiting relatives in New York.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Warren of 156 Eddy avenue have left by boat for San Francisco, where they will spend their vacation, visiting the big trees on the return trip, which they plan to make by rail.

William J. Roach of 4536 Corliss street is building a new house at 1534 Tonawanda avenue.

Y. H. Ludlow and son, Bradley, of South Ellis avenue are visiting friends and relatives in Kansas.

SMUGGLERS WILL FACE GUNS' HAIL

Liners Will Spray Narcotic Runners With Bullets to Halt Dope Traffic

SAN FRANCISCO, July 11.—Dope smugglers on the Pacific will soon be greeted with a hail of machine gun bullets. Collector of the Port W. B. Hamilton announced today that passenger liners had been given permission to arm against the smugglers. Heavy penalties accrue against ships bringing in narcotics and in order to prevent the smuggling the ship-owners have asked to be permitted to mount a machine gun. Sampans which follow close to the ships as they enter and leave Honolulu are an important link in the smugglers' operations and ship operators believe a few shots from machine guns will aid in breaking up this practice.

Glendale Case Again Continued by Jury

LOS ANGELES, July 11.—The Los Angeles city grand jury has continued until Tuesday, July 17, the hearing on Glendale annexation of Lake district in which colonization is alleged to have carried the election which was later nullified in a civil suit. City Manager W. H. Reeves of Glendale was closed with the inquisitorial body for two hours yesterday.

TONSILS REMOVED

Kenneth Taylor, son of Dr. C. W. Taylor of 353 Patterson avenue had his tonsils removed this morning at the Glendale Research Hospital.

That's All

Fire Menaces Long Beach. Ford Buys Wayside Inn. News for Tax-Dodgers. Scouts, Lovers and Ships.

By Gil A. Cowan

SIGNAL HILL of Long Beach was threatened yesterday by another fire. What an explosive place it must be! With oil fields gushing their golden flow upon the community it is safe to say that Long Beach will rue the day of its boasted billions of liquid wealth.

It is reported that nearly six millions of dollars are being spent on municipal improvements in the Long Beach district, the result of royalties from city-owned oil lands. One of the greatest beach playgrounds in the world is to be developed by the sea. And the city will be comparatively tax free!

Yes, Long Beach is lucky, but one fire there will do as much damage as the benefits accruing from the oil. May a divine providence watch over them there.

Again American diplomacy, free and untrammelled in old world jealousies, has scored a victory. Britain is willing to accept Secretary Hughes' plan for the settlement of the German reparations dispute.

It has been the contention of many people that the United States, by holding aloof from foreign entanglements, will be able to do more for world peace than a part of any international machinery designed to squelch arguments.

Henry Ford has purchased "Ye Wayside Inn," a little Massachusetts hostel, for which he is reported to have paid $200,000. He intends to make a museum out of it—perhaps he will advertise it as the last place where a tourist could get a square meal.

Certainly the "wayside inns" of this day and age have deteriorated from those of yesteryears. In the olden times "mipe host" was a jolly fellow who served the drinks and told stories while his daughters doled out the delectable viands. And his good wife was up at four in the morning and kept cooking until eight in the evening.

No wonder you got good food then, but now everything is different. The chef sometimes gets around by 6 a. m., is ready to work by seven, gets off at one for the afternoon and another takes his place. Most of them learned their trade in the army or navy, where boiling water is the principal requirement. And as for the modern "eating houses"—it is equally nondescript.

Fact is, we know a half dozen good cooks, but they are running their own little restaurants chucked away in some isolated location where only a favored few know of the tasty food.

Here is news that will make a man quake in his boots: the International News Service leased wire bringing the following dispatch from San Francisco:

Heavy fines and federal penitentiary were imposed on three men yesterday in federal court upon conviction of falsification of their 1917 income tax returns. Joseph Levin must pay $11,000 in fines and serve two years at Leavenworth; M. C. Levin, a fine of $11,000 and one year in Leavenworth and S. A. Levin $11,000 and a year in Leavenworth. The men are brothers and jointly conducted a junk business. They were alleged to have made a return of $9,300 whereas their business was in excess of $100,000.

Glendale Boy Scouts got some real experience at Camp Roy-Kent the other morning when they were routed out before dawn to find a lost fisherman. To hear Pierson Hamming, tonsorialist, tell of the occurrence it is altogether too easy for a person to get lost in the mountains.

A young Hollywood motion picture extra has married an heiress. He claims he was unaware of her wealth while she doesn't mind the fact he isn't a movie star. Perfectly wonderful if the silly parents, who are divorced, do not interfere. Leave it to them, however, if they have money to make the young folks unhappy. It was ever thus.

Six days across the Atlantic on the Levitan. The United States Shipping Board should do a big business with this super-liner in service.

Oakland Merchants Decide Publication Too Costly, So Suspend It

OAKLAND, July 11.—Fifteen merchants supporting the Oakland Shopping News have voted to suspend its publication after ten months' costly experience. This is said to be the fifth such publication to go out of existence in 1923 which boasted large free distribution here.

"Legitimate newspaper advertising is the only method of reaching the people and obtaining results," according to the directors of the Oakland Merchants' association.

BURBANK

WOMEN TO GIVE FALL FESTIVAL

Club's Committees Named to Prepare for Event October 11-13th

Burbank's "Fall Festival" will crown the days October 11-13 with a gala diadem. The big event is to be given under the auspices of the Women's Club, and a meeting of the president's council was held Monday afternoon, July 9, in the club rooms, with Mrs. Fisher, president, in the chair.

The assemblage was in reality a final gathering before departure for summer vacations, various officers and chairmen of sections and committees being present.

Plans for the festival were discussed and chairmen of the standing committees announced, as follows: Mrs. H. J. Valentine, program; Mrs. C. H. Wilson, civic; Mrs. May Clarke, philanthropic; Mrs. J. A. Johnson, reception; Mrs. C. A. Thompson, decoration; Mrs. Harriet Greenman, auditing; Mrs. Hallie M. Fillbach, press; Mrs. E. A. Fischer, house; Mrs. C. W. Cummings, membership, and Mrs. C. W. Anderson, courtesies.

Permit for Drill Track
The Southern Pacific railway has been granted a permit by the Board of Trustees to run a drill track across Olive avenue and Flower and Lake streets. The request had originally come in the form of an application for a franchise, but it was finally decided to grant a permit instead, as franchise proceedings would have involved advertising a public sale and selling the property involved to the highest bidder, causing a delay of many weeks.

The track in question is the one which is to open up and serve the new industrial area known as the Fawkes twenty-acre tract. The switch will leave the main line of the railroad about midway between Olive and Orange Grove avenues, taking a southeasterly direction and crossing Flower street between Olive and Angeleno avenues, not far from the Angeleno avenue end, then taking a turn to go through the Fawkes tract. It is understood that work on the new trackage is to be started at once.

The new swimming pool schedule will give the youngsters additional time to splash and play. Beginning Monday, July 9, the following are the hours:

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 1:30 until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, high school and elementary school girls, under Miss Weinstock and Mrs. Ogborn; same days, from 3 until 5 o'clock in the afternoon, high school and elementary school boys; same days, from 5 until 6 o'clock, special hour for working boys who cannot avail themselves of other hours.

Tuesday and Thursday nights, from 7 until 9 o'clock, the pool is open to the townspeople; and Wednesday night, from 7 until 9 o'clock, the pool is open to working girls and to women.

The swimming pool is located on the Burbank high school grounds. The new tennis courts on the high school grounds are now open, and it is anticipated that they will prove very popular during the summer months.

SCHOOL CONTRACT IS TRANSFERRED

May & Hellman Ask Release And Job Is Awarded to Geo. W. Campbell

The Board of Education met last night in its quarters at 109A South Brand boulevard and considered matters of interest to the grammar school system. Following the expression of a desire on the part of May & Hellman of 109 North Maryland avenue to be released from their contract to build the addition to the Pacific school, this contract was awarded to G. W. Campbell of 1222 1/2 North Central avenue for $33,936.

The purchase of property adjoining the Magnolia school from Mrs. Dollie A. Barnes of 1224 South San Fernando road was authorized for $2,000. It is 91 by 126 feet in size, but has no street frontage. It lies between the school grounds and property recently acquired from Ida D. Myers of 1607 South San Fernando road and Miss Harriet T. Myers of 1203 South Central avenue.

Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, was instructed to compile a list of necessary furniture for the new addition and to advertise for bids to be received July 21.

The rental of another suite of office rooms was authorized. This additional space will increase the rental for the central offices from $75 to $100 a month. After some discussion as to the probable use of the present high school next term, Mr. White was requested to communicate with the high school board of trustees and ascertain if they would sell three bungalows, one of them to be moved to the Colorado school, and the other two to be moved to the Wilson avenue intermediate school. It was decided that, if such action should be taken, boys would have to come from the Wilson avenue intermediate school to the high school grounds for their athletic contests.

Depot Site And Airport Resolutions Adopted By Improvement Association

THE West Glendale Improvement Association passed resolutions at its meeting in the Columbus avenue school last night, endorsing the recommendation of the civic planning committee of the Chamber of Commerce, for the acquiring of the property from Eulalia street to Brand boulevard, in conjunction with plans for the new Southern Pacific depot; and requesting the City Council to endeavor to induce the city of Los Angeles to set aside and improve 400 acres along the east boundary of Griffith park, as a great municipal and national airport.

The meeting was presided over by the president of the association, Rudolph Streif. It was well attended and produced some animated discussion, particularly with reference to the S. P. depot matter.

Back C. of C. Stand

Following are the resolutions adopted:

"Whereas, The new Southern Pacific Depot at Glendale is designed to serve the needs of Pasadena, Eagle Rock, Hollywood, and all of the population of the great San Fernando and Tujunga Valleys, as well as the city of Glendale proper, and

"Whereas, The entire passenger traffic of the Southern Pacific Railway, booked to Los Angeles and other southern cities or to depart at Glendale, will pass through this depot, and

"Whereas, Glendale will receive great advertising either favorably or adversely from the condition of the grounds around said depot, and

"Whereas, The Civic Planning Committee of the Chamber of Commerce recommended to our City Council the acquiring of the block of ground on south side of Gardena Ave., from Eulalia St. to Brand Blvd., now privately owned, that the same may be made into a public park, and

"Therefore Be it Resolved, that the West Glendale Improvement Association, in meeting assembled this 10th day of July, 1923, most heartily endorse said recommendation of the Chamber of Commerce and respectfully request the City Council to call a mass meeting at an early date for the purpose of devising ways and means of carrying out the proposed recommendations.

"Be it further Resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the City Council and also furnished the local papers for publication.

"Moved: J. B. Jones.
"Seconded: Mrs. V. W. McCord.
"Carried: majority."

Airport Is Urged

"Whereas, The question of a suitable, well-located aviation field near Los Angeles, adequate to the needs of postal as well as military service, is now engaging the attention of our national government, and

"Whereas, The great progress and development of all inter-coastal cities north and south on the Pacific demands the most modern means of communication for commercial purposes and

NOTED MAGICIAN WILL ENTERTAIN

Ex-Service Men to Witness Varied Music Program At Club House

"Mysterious Emerson," popular as a vaudeville entertainer, will keep a return engagement in Glendale Friday afternoon, when he will entertain ex-service men at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The affair is being arranged by a committee of club women and a big delegation of veterans from the Sawtelle hospital will be special guests. Glendale ex-service men have also been invited and all Glendaleans may attend by purchasing tickets at the door.

It is announced by the committee in charge of the affair that the program will begin promptly at 2 o'clock and will not last more than a half or three-quarters of an hour.

Mr. Emerson will be assisted by his wife and will introduce many new tricks. Mrs. C. H. Pendleton will serve as pianist and will be assisted by a violinist and drummer.

For all but the guests the tickets will be 25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children.

More automobiles are wanted to transport the men from Sawtelle to and from Glendale. All Glendaleans desiring to give the use of their cars are asked to meet at 12 o'clock Friday at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. They will leave at once for Sawtelle and get the soldiers back in time for the program. Later in the afternoon the boys will be returned to the hospital.

George B. Karr Is Expected Back Soon

The Baldwin Shirt Company of 1725 South Brand boulevard has received word from George B. Karr, its manager, of 1150 North Louise street that he will return to Glendale the week of July 22. Mr. Karr attended the Rotary convention in St. Louis, Missouri, and on his way to Parsons, Kansas he stopped off at Kansas City. He expects to be in Denver Sunday. He will return through western Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Position Is Open in Evening News Office

The Glendale Evening News has a position open for a capable young lady in the classified department. A lady who has served very ably in that department for a year will return early next week to her former home in Illinois. The position must be filled by one who is a good typist and capable business lady.

Directors' Meeting and Open Forum to Be Features At Big Banquet

The new members who joined the Glendale Chamber of Commerce during the recent expansion campaign are to be the guests of the board of directors at a complimentary banquet that is to be held on Friday night, July 20, at the Citizens Building, when they will be welcomed into the organization and will be given an idea of its workings and of the problems that are to be handled by the Chamber of Commerce.

A regular meeting of the board of directors will form a part of the evening's business, in order to give the new members an idea of the methods used in transacting the business that is handled by the organization, and an open forum meeting will then be held at which the newcomers will be asked to give their views on matters that they believe to be of interest to Glendale, and to the Chamber of Commerce, and to suggest for the best manner of caring for such matters. No set speeches will be on the program, but a number of musical selections will be presented by several local artists during the evening.

Glendale People at First Summer Concert

A large company of Glendale music lovers were among the hundreds of persons who were in attendance last night at the opening summer concert at the Hollywood Bowl.

Some of the Glendaleans attending were Mrs. Edwin Cleophas, Mrs. Helen Sawyer, Mrs. Frankie Webb, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Baird, Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Cavanah, Mrs. Dora L. Gibson, Mrs. Charles A. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Sargent and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Verity.

Sends Back Report On Vacation Outing

Reports of a fine vacation outing near Bishop have been received at The Glendale Evening News office on a card from J. F. Gutekunst of 1305 1/2 East Harvard street.

The party, which left Glendale July 3, consists of Mr. and Mrs. Gutekunst, Mrs. L. Rentz and Robert Gutekunst. The card read: "Having the time of our lives up here fishing and camping out. Fishing just now is at its best in all streams. Our party is at present at Thompson's Cross Roads, where the fish are plentiful."

Will Show Views of African Adventures

A. R. Williams, for twenty-five years a missionary in Africa, is to speak tonight at the Gospel Tabernacle church at the corner of Louise and Chestnut streets.

He will speak at 7:30 o'clock on "The Interior of Africa" and his lecture will be illustrated with stereopticon slides depicting thrilling adventure, jungle scenes, native occupation and plant and animal life. Buildings will be shown with a seating capacity of 1300, built of solid mahogany and resting on posts of pure ebony.

LIBRARY OFFERS VARIED READING

Large Collection of Books Provides Education and Recreation, Too

Reading is one of the happiest summer recreations, and the Glendale Public Library has a wealth of old and new books to contribute to Glendale book-lovers of all ages.

Glendale can proudly claim a varied collection of books on the library shelves, and with a marked addition during the past few weeks of some of the "latest" books the library patrons have at their command as interesting and large a circulation as any city in California.

For the older readers there are two of James Openheim's latest books as features. These are "Your Hidden Powers" and a collection of poems, "The Golden Bird." Other books for adult readers are "The Days of His Flesh," by David Smith; "The Syrian Christ" and "A Far Journey," by Rihbany; "The Days of His Flesh," by David Smith.

"Volumes Are Varied" "The Trodden Gold," by Howard Vincent O'Brien; "Prayer as a Force," by A. Maude Royden; "Incentives in the New Industrial Order," by J. A. Hobson; "Soliloquy," by Stephen McKenna; "Sunshine and the Pacific," by Jean Giraudoux, translated by Ben Ray Redman; "The Four Stragglers," by Frank L. Packard; "A Literary Guide to the Bible," by Laura H. Wild, B. D.; "The Log-Cabin Lady," an anonymous autobiography; "Plays of the Near and Far," by Lord Dunsany; "Representative One-Act Plays by Continental Authors," edited by Montrose J. Moses.

"Books and Authors," by Robert Lynd; "The Charing Cross Mystery," by J. S. Fletcher; "The Revelation of John," an historical interpretation by Shirley Jackson Case.

Bringing delight to the hearts of Glendale boys is the announcement made by Mrs. Alma J. Dunsford of the arrival of a series of William S. Hart books. They are "Told Under a White Oak Tree," by Bill Hart's Pinto Pony, and three Golden West Boys series about "Injun and Whitey."

Mr. and Mrs. Pingree Back From Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Pingree, of 1431 North Pacific avenue, returned Sunday from a very enjoyable two weeks' motor trip to Oakland, going by the way of the San Joaquin valley, where they visited friends and relatives in various places, then spent several days in Oakland. On July 4 they had the pleasure of taking dinner with Winnifred Sadler Edwards and her family. She was formerly a Glendale girl.

The return was made by the coast route. Mr. and Mrs. Pingree, along with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Doner of 319 North Central avenue and the A. T. Cowan family of 324 North Central avenue.

Glendale's Southern Pacific Station Plans Revealed At Union Terminal Hearings

By GIL A. COWAN

GLENDALE had an inning at the interstate commerce commission hearing of the Los Angeles union terminal case now being conducted in the state railroad commission offices, Pacific Finance building, Los Angeles, when T. H. Williams, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific Company, made his statement.

In brief, he revealed the great plans for a passenger station here would accommodate not only the citizens of Glendale, but residents of Hollywood, northern Los Angeles and Pasadena, saving more than one hour of their time in taking trains north or in getting to their destinations after alighting here, rather than going to a depot in Los Angeles.

$87,000 Appropriated

For the first time he mentioned the exact appropriation made by the railroad operating company, $87,000, for the Glendale station, and he added that construction would begin at an early date. However, he did not touch upon the location other than to say "Glendale."

And what a stir that created among the many railway men and officials attending the hearing. It seemed almost impossible for this city to fall heir to such a "Christmas gift." Yet that was due, undoubtedly, to ignorance as to the rapid strides made by this rapidly growing section. The Southern Pacific company knows what it is doing when it builds a real railway passenger station at Glendale which, until three or four years ago, was only a "whistling station" — not even a "tank town."

Plans Mount Into Money

So Glendale has 'em going, folks. Its logical location is beginning to count. It is making a name for itself that even the interstate commerce commission is getting a line on. At the same time, we must look with reverence upon the plans for Los Angeles' union terminal where the Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Pacific Electric are to unite, according to the plan espoused by the city of Los Angeles and the state railroad commission.

To hear the figures, something like $20,000,000, discussed at random by the various interests favoring a union terminal makes one feel like "small potatoes." Think of it, folks, a $20,000,000 station in Los Angeles, although that includes the subways, rights-of-way, trackage and what not.

Los Angeles is growing at such a pace it is difficult to realize the tremendous traffic problems presented the engineers. To look at a group of mere men planning the expenditure of millions of dollars and changing the entire transportation routing of a metropolis gives one a thrill that is to be had once in a lifetime.

H. Lloyd Miller and Family Return Home

Mr. and Mrs. H. Lloyd Miller and sons, Howard and Donald, who have been enjoying Southern California the last month and making their headquarters at the Epa apartments on North Brand boulevard, left this morning for their home in Sunnyside, Wash., motor by the way of Crater Lake, Ore. Mr. Miller, who is a realty dealer and banker, was greatly impressed with Glendale.

Among those the family visited here were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Doner of 319 North Central avenue and the A. T. Cowan family of 324 North Central avenue.

The Home Paper
TODAY'S SHORT STORY, BY Ad Schuster

Samuel Tuttle spent his Sunday afternoon walking aimlessly about the streets of the city. He watched the thousands of persons rushing for cars, loitering along or driving by, and felt lonely. Week days were not so difficult, for Samuel was interested in this new job which had called him to the city a job which The Cornwall Breeze had termed a "responsible position in the metropolis." The boy smiled grimly. He was getting along all right in business and would be rich some day. Then he looked again at the young men and women, thousands of pairs they seemed, and wished more than ever for the boys and girls, the little crowd who had had so much fun in Cornwall.

Samuel wondered how a young man could get acquainted with a girl of his sort in New York. He had tried a neighborhood church and had considered the possibilities of the office, but these girls with their smarter clothes and their smarter ways frightened him.

"They think I am a hick," he told himself, "just because I came from Cornwall. Not one of them knows Cornwall has 60,000 people, five banks and a hotel that wouldn't be so bad right here in New York!"

The lad had never been so homesick or lonely. In front of a newsstand where papers from all parts of the country were on sale he saw in the rows of title lines The Cornwall Breeze. Why had he not thought of this before? So interested and excited he was in the discovery, he stood beside the stand after he had made his purchase and turned the pages of the paper.

"Have you a copy of The Cornwall Breeze?" It was a girl's voice putting the question to the newsman, a pretty girl and one Samuel had never seen before.

"Sorry, Miss, I just sold the only one. We don't have much call for them Breezes from Cornwall."

"I beg your pardon," Samuel was confused and excited. "I am the one who bought it. I've looked it over. Here take it."

The girl looked at him, hesitated, smiling into the lad's eager face. She was from Cornwall. It was a bond of interest. He thrust the paper into her hands.

"I never saw you in Cornwall. Kinda funny, though it is a big place. I lived there all my life, through high school, went to the West Side school, lived on Eighth street." It was easy to talk of Cornwall to one who understood. The girl stared at him and listened. She moved slowly away, but Samuel was too filled with the delight of meeting someone from the old home town to notice. Together they walked up the street.

"You must know a lot of people I know. Maybe you haven't heard the city hall was torn down for a new one and that there is a solid row of apartments in the old lot on Adeline and White streets. Do you know George W. Yates? He's my uncle. Did you ever go pick-nicking at Brice's Slough or pick-nicking daisies at the Morgan farm? Say, there are a lot of things we could talk about." It struck him suddenly he was doing all the talking. Maybe he ought not to be talking with her.

"My name is Samuel Tuttle and I am working here in New York. You write to anyone you know in Cornwall and they will tell you I am all right." He blushed and pleaded. "I guess I'm making a fool of myself, but, honest, I was so homesick until I heard you ask for a Cornwall paper. Won't you talk over Cornwall with me?"

Together they walked to the park and the weight of the lad's loneliness was lightened as he unloaded recollections and stories of the city he loved. Her name was Constance Drake, she said when he gave her an opportunity to speak, and like him she was working and living alone in the city.

"Part of the time my sister is with me, but she is away now."

All too soon the girl looked at her watch and announced she must hasten home.

"But," said Samuel, "you haven't told me anything about Cornwall. I've done all the talking, bored you, I bet. Will you let me call, go with me to a movie tomorrow evening? I've got to see you again."

When Samuel saw Constance the next evening he decided it was partly her fault he did all the talking. She was a silent sort, he decided, just the kind he liked.

"You will have to let me call again," he insisted, "for even yet you have not talked Cornwall."

"Nor am I going to," Constance made confession. "You see, I bought that paper to see if it had a notice of my sister's recital. She sang there a week ago." She was smiling hesitantly, a little fearful of what he would think.

"But you will let me call, anyway?"

"If you will let me talk sometimes of Minden. You see, I was lonely, too. That's why I let you think—"

"Never mind," said a masterful Samuel Tuttle, "we aren't either of us going to be lonely any more."

DAILY FASHION HINT

Prepared Especially for The Glendale Evening News

FOR THE FAVORITE RATINE
Braid seems to be the favorite trimming for the ratines which are so much in vogue this season. But a few hours are required to make this dress, which has the trimming only at the front, both at the neck and lower edge of the skirt. The short sleeves may be lengthened with deep cuffs or small puffs of self material. Medium size requires three and one-quarter yards thirty-six-inch material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1416. Sizes, thirty-four to fifty inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

FOR A DRESSY TAILLEUR
Braid and silk embroidery are used in border effect upon exceedingly smart tailleur this season. This design in plastic will-thick, if trimmed with dark blue, would meet the most exacting demands of informal wear. The fronts of the jacket are dart-fitted at the shoulders and the slip-on dress has a blouse of pongee crepe to correspond with the color of the skirt and jacket. Medium size requires three and one-quarter yards fifty-four-inch twillcord and two yards forty-inch twillcord. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1694. Sizes, fourteen to twenty years. Price, 35 cents.

Matches were in common use in Europe for many years before they were introduced in the United States.

Side Talks by Ruth Cameron

GOOD SAMARITANS AND AUTOMOBILES
The original good Samaritan lived some two thousand years before the word automobile entered our language, so perhaps it may seem startling to connect those two subjects. But this is what made me think of them together. A friend of mine had the terrible misfortune that most motorists dread far more than injury to themselves.

He ran into a child while passing through a very crowded district where children make the street their playground.

The child darted out from behind an ice wagon straight into his path, and, although he was not driving fast and did all he could to avoid the collision, he struck it and knocked it down.

He Offered His Help
As he leaped out of his car to pick up the child (who, fortunately, was not seriously injured), a man who was standing on the curb came at once toward him.

ward so that the other half of the chain will look like the first half—that is, have twelve inches of just steel and pearl beads as above described, then nine inches of all three kinds of beads, as you had at the beginning of the chain.

When you get to the second amethyst which you put on the chain, run the three needles through this again (to join the chain), then make another short dangle-end like the other one you made.

BEAUTY CHATS

EYELASH TREATMENT
I have had excellent results with the eyelash tonic given occasionally in this space. I will repeat the formula first and then go on to general eyelash treatment.

Eye-lash Tonic
Cocoa butter.....1 dram
Parowax.....4 drams
Lanoline.....1/2 dram
Oil of sweet almonds 4 drams
Perfumed oil.....2 drops

This makes a very thick cream which is to be rubbed well into the upper and lower eyelashes, and into the eyebrows too if they need nourishing. If it spreads over the skin it does not matter, it will merely put off the day when crows feet appear round the eyes. Being a thick cream it is hard to manipulate, and in hot weather may irritate the skin.

The general treatment for the eyelashes and eyebrows is as follows:—Hold a pair of manicure scissors with the curved points outwards, have your mirror in a good light and clip off the ends of the eyelashes. They will grow thicker and longer, and will benefit more by the cream if you do this. In two or three months they will be longer than before, but if they still aren't the way you like them clip them again. You can repeat this treatment over a period of six months. By that time your lashes should certainly be as long and thick as you desire.

If the eyebrows are too thin or too faint this cream will do them good. If they are too thick and unruly go over them each night with a brush dipped in a little fresh mullage. Before the mullage dries draw the hairs into the proper line with your fingers. Let them dry like this and stay so over night. If you repeat this treatment daily for a few weeks you will notice a great improvement; the thick, coarse hairs will drop out, leaving the finer ones only.

Lulu W. B.—The best time to use cold cream is at night before retiring. If you fill the skin with cream before going out, the oil in the pores will attract a great deal of dust from the street and you will do your skin more harm than good. If you cover the cold cream with powder, you clog the pores of the skin and impede their natural function.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

(Note—I published this article last summer, but as poison ivy is just as bad and this is just as good for it, I will give it to you again this summer.)

POISON IVY
Beautiful she was. How beautiful she was!

I give this exciting little drama taken from real life—no doubt you know of many similar incidences—to bring out several facts. In a case of poison ivy, poison oak, primrose and other plant poisons, a great deal of the effect depends upon the individual susceptibility. What the individual susceptibility depends upon no one knows as far as I can find out. Probably our old enemy, lowered resistance, and, possibly, inherited tendencies, I have heard of individuals who were so susceptible that they could not walk near the offending plants without being poisoned. It is said that blonds are more susceptible than brunettes. The opinions seem to be that the poisonous properties of these plants is an oil, like mustard gas, is very irritating to both the skin and the mucous membrane.

Remedies
The most modern remedy is a preventative made of one part of the tincture of the plant, five parts refined spirits, and ninety-four parts syrup of orange. This is taken diluted in one-half glass of water in increasing doses, beginning with one drop after breakfast and increasing one drop after each meal until twenty-one drops are taken. This takes one week in this manner. Then one teaspoonful a day is taken all through the ivy season.

This medication causes the system gradually to manufacture a defense against the poison. It is a process of desensitization. Don't try to desensitize yourself by chewing the leaves! There is one case in medical literature of a person dying from that little procedure.

One physician, experimenting on himself to find out what would neutralize the poison, ground up the leaves, extracted the poison and mixed some of that with different chemicals. He found that

Heart and Home Problems

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl fifteen years of age and am considered good-looking and popular among both boys and girls. I play the violin with an orchestra nearly every night. I have several boy friends, but one I like particularly well. He is from another town and just about my age. He comes from a well-known family, but is accustomed to going a good deal when his parents do not know where he is. Because of this and also his nationality my parents dislike him. I had invited him up to my home yesterday afternoon, as he was in town, but my parents objected and I had to tell him he couldn't come.

My sister is seventeen years old and she isn't allowed to go with boys much. Don't you think my parents are too strict?

Would you advise me to give up this boy friend and wait until my parents consent to my going with boys? I realize that I am too young to go with boys, but I play at dances so much that I am not enjoying my high school days as much as I would like to. I will appreciate an answer as I would like to know what to do.

BESSIE J.

I hardly believe your parents are too strict. You are too young to go with boys, and especially with a boy who is accustomed to going places without his parents' knowledge. By all means give him up since your parents forbid you to see him. In regard to your sister, since she is only seventeen, it is quite reasonable that she should be permitted to go with boys occasionally, but not all the times by any means.

Try to get your parents' point of view and realize that they have your interests at heart and are not merely trying to be contrary.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been going with a boy who went to spend the summer with his grandmother. He asked me to write to him before he went and I promised I would write just as soon as I heard from him. He wrote the day after he got there and so it wouldn't look as if I were in too much of a hurry I waited two days before I answered. Then I got another letter when he mixed it with iodine and when he rubbed that combination on his arm it did not poison. He also found that permanganate solution, 2 per cent strength, was also effective. He recommends painting the affected places with iodine, or using hot applications of the solution of permanganate.

There seem to be hundreds of remedies listed in the literature on the subject, things with absolutely contrary chemical reactions. For instance, acids such as vinegar and lemon juice and boracic acid have been effective in some cases, and alkalis such as bicarbonate of soda and lime water in others.

Inasmuch as the poison seems to be an oil, most of the authorities recommend a thorough scrubbing of the parts with hot water and strong soap and a scrub brush, to get all the oil off. Soft soap is also recommended as a remedy. It would seem wise for one affected with the poison to wear gloves and perhaps rub a solution of lime water or soap on the exposed parts before going on a hike or picnic. I've been on many hikes and many picnics and I am demi-blond, but ivy poisoning has no affinity for me so I cannot give you any personal experience in this line. One personal experience is no good, it sticks anyway. Did you know that?

POEMS THAT LIVE

THE SONNET
Nuns fret not at their convent's narrow room;
And hermits are contented with their cells;
And students with their pensive citadels;
Maid at the wheel, the weaver at his loom,
Sit blissed and happy; bees that hum
Soar for bloom,
High as the highest peaks of
Furness-fells,
Will murmur by the hour in fox-glove bells;
In truth the prison, unto which we doom
Ourselves, no prison is; and hence for me,
In sundry moods, 'twas pastime to be bound
Within the Sonnet's scanty plot of ground;
Pleased if some souls (for such there needs must be)
Who have felt the weight of too much liberty,
Should find brief solace there, as I have found.

Scorn not the Sonnet; Critic, you have frowned;
Mindless of its just honors; with this key
Shakespeare unlock'd his heart; the melody
Of this small lute gave ease to Petrarch's woe;
A thousand times this pipe did Tasso sound;
With it Camoens sought an exile's grief;
The Sonnet glitter'd a gay myrtle leaf
Amid the cypress which Dante crown'd
His visionary brow; a glow-worm lamp,
It cheered mild Spencer call'd from Faery-land
To struggle through dark ways; and when a damp
Fell round the path of Milton, in his hand
The thing became a trumpet; whence he blew
Soul animating strains—alas, too few!

—William Wordsworth.

SINGLE AND DOUBLE CIRCUIT SETS

There have been several articles written recently regarding the good points of the single circuit tuners and the two and three circuit type. One man in the employ of one of the largest manufacturers would have us believe the single circuit set has it "all over" the three circuit regenerative set, while another man, interested in the virtues of the latter, extols the virtues of the latter, and there is really something in his argument. It is well known that when the loose coupler set was first introduced to commercial operators they didn't know how to handle them and did not get the best results, but after any of them a single circuit set for commercial work now and they would laugh at you, as it is impossible to eliminate all interference with this type of set. All commercial sets are either two circuit regenerative or three circuit regenerative. If the single circuit set were really efficient, as some would have us believe; why have they been supplanted? As one man aptly put it, "the simple set is for simple people." While it is true there is one more adjustment to three circuit regenerative set, it is also true that a beginner can just as easily learn how to properly adjust this type as he can the single circuit which has two controls. In the three spider web coil type of set very little attention is paid to the main tuning is done with the most variable condenser across the secondary coil. The single circuit set isn't any more simple than that.

In the average single circuit set using a large aerial, selectivity cannot be obtained. This is due to the aerial tuning inductance also being the grid inductance to which the feed back, or tickler coil, is coupled. Every stray force, other than the wave you are trying to tune to, due to shocks which it receives from other wave lengths and from commercial amateur or naval stations, discharges from electric line, tele- phone lines, air lights and even buzzers, all affect the single circuit set due to the feed back coil being coupled to the aerial. It is for this reason they are difficult to adjust to maximum regeneration.

Timely Views of World Topics

"FAST TALKING RUINS OUR ENGLISH," CRIES PROFESSOR

Good conversation is declining in America and both our readers and writers need new inspiration, according to Dr. Henry van Dyke, professor of English literature at Princeton University.

Dr. van Dyke, while discussing the subject, also ridiculed the idea of creating an "American language." He said, in part: "The native language of these United States is English. Our forefathers and their descendants helped to make it in the old country and they brought it with them to this land in pretty good condition. True, they did not write it extensively. They were too busy chopping down forests, building houses, fighting off Indians and making states to have much leisure for the production of belles-lettres. But they talked English with considerable fluency and vigor, preserving some of the old words and phrases (such as 'I guess' in the north, and 'reckon' in the south), which foolishly were lost by the modern British. Some early Americans, like Jonathan Edwards and Benjamin Franklin, even went so far as to write English with a clearness and pungency which have been admired by competent judges.

Good Conversation Scarce

"But for the most part English was kept alive and propagated as the hereditary language of this country by vocal use. In that I speak, I teach and play acting, but also conversation—this seems to be declining in the fierce speed and abominable ratchet of modern life. It is hard to find good conversation in America, and perhaps not as easy to find in England as it was in the time of Johnson and Goldsmith.

"The real world is not a thing spelled but a thing spoken. The letters are only a symbol (in English sometimes an obscure symbol) of the sound. Poetry loses half its power unless it is recited or read aloud. The best written books are those in which the writer hears his words as he writes them.

Americans Not Alone

"One of the chief dangers to our rich and vivid language today is the slovenly way in which it is spoken, not only in the streets but even in the pulpit, on the stage and in the local arena. Dialect is the spice of talk. America may be the chief offender in this, but, in my memory does not fall me. I have this year heard some folks talk in Lunnon who were hard to understand and whose voices were

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE HOLLOW STICKS

"I am going for a little hop in the woods," Nuroo Jane," said Uncle Wiggily to his muskrat lady housekeeper one day.

"Well, I hope you have a jolly adventure and that you don't get lost," answered Miss Fuzzy Wuzzzy.

"Thank you," replied the rabbit gentleman, with a low and polite bow of red necktie, and away he hopped.

Uncle Wiggily had not gone far through the woods before he met Billie Wagtail, the goat boy.

"Where are you going, Billie?" asked the bunny.

"Oh, no place special," bleated Billie. "I haven't anything to do, as there is no school. If you will let me, I'll come adventuring with you."

"Come along," invited the rabbit gentleman, and so there were two now skipping through the woods.

Pretty soon there was a rustling in the bushes and Uncle Wiggily was going to hide Billie down in a hollow stump, for the rabbit thought perhaps the Bob Cat might be skipping along. But it was only Jackie Bow Wow, one of the puppy dog chaps.

"Hello, Jackie!" called Uncle Wiggily. "Where are you going?"

"Oh, no place special," barked Jackie. "I haven't anything to do, as there is no school. If you will let me I'll come adventuring with you."

"Come along," invited the rabbit gentleman, and so there were three now skipping through the woods.

In a little while Billie, the goat, bleated:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, I'm so very thirsty, I want a drink of water, if you please."

Then Jackie Bow Wow barked:

"And I'm thirsty, too, Uncle Wiggily. I'd like a drink."

The rabbit gentleman sniffed and the rabbit gentleman said:

"I smell water. There is some not far away. Follow me."

For rabbits and other animals, you know, can smell water even before they see it.

Uncle Wiggily hopped through the woods, with Billie and Jackie following after him, and all three growing more and more thirsty each minute.

"Oh, where is the water?" barked Jackie.

"Here it is!" cried Uncle Wiggily.

But, alas! the water was down in a deep spring, with steep sides, and in such a small hole that none of them could get down to drink. Or, if they did go down, they could not get up again.

"We can't get a drink there!" bleated Billie.

nose, thought for a moment and then said:

"I have found a way. Bring me some of those sticks growing behind you, Jackie."

The doggie boy broke off some long, slender sticks.

"I don't see how these will get us a drink," he grumbled.

"I'll show you!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "These sticks are hollow reeds, like a pipe stem or a toy bean blower. Put one end of a hollow stick in your mouth, boys, and put the other end of the stick down in the deep hole where the water is. Then you can draw up all you need to drink."

So Billie and Jackie did this, and Uncle Wiggily did the same, and soon they were no longer thirsty, for they sucked up water through the hollow sticks.

And then, all of a sudden, the Bob Cat leaped out of the bushes and started to nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears. But Billie and Jackie drew their hollow sticks full of water and blew it in the Bob Cat's eyes, so that he howled "Zoopie! Wow!" and away he ran.

Then the bunny gentleman laughed and said he had had a fine adventure with the animal boys, and back home they ran, safe and sound.

Now if the tablecloth doesn't try to turn over on the other side and spill all the dishes off on the floor, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the Lady Bug.

plague on the banks of the Volga in 1878 caused a panic throughout Europe.

How modern civilization has fought the spread of epidemics in the last half century and how it has won its victories constitute a marvelous story of man's accomplishments. "Medical science," says Dr. Roux, "has made such progress that epidemics can be checked and great cataclysms such as visited Europe in the middle ages can be averted. The best evidence that this can be done is the record that medical science has made."

Dr. Roux was born at Confolens, Charente, in 1853. He was educated at the School of Medicine at Clermont-Ferrand and at the University of Paris. He has been connected with the Pasteur Institute since 1878, and has been director there since 1904.

He assisted Pasteur in many of his researches and is widely known for his work with diphtheria serum. He was elected to the Academy of Science in 1895, and in 1903 received the Osiris prize of $20,000 for the institute.

"I thinks—"

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

DR. PIERRE PAUL EMILE ROUX

His recent reassuring statement that western Europe and consequently America is no longer threatened by epidemics or plagues has brought attention to Dr. Pierre Paul Emile Roux.

This man, as director of the world-famous Pasteur Institute in Paris, has become famous for his researches and labors in pathology and other fields.

The fight against these epidemics has been among the chief labors in the life of Dr. Roux and his associates, and to them is mainly due the security which the western world feels today in marked contrast to the fear aroused by a great epidemic in the orient only a few years ago.

The plague in Cairo in 1902 became a matter of grave concern to the world. The outbreak of the

BILLY WHISKERS

As the rim of the rising sun appeared above the top of the hill started for the exposition, two snow-white goats with spick and span, shining coats could be seen walking toward the west. Gazing after them were cows, horses, pigs, donkeys, dogs, cats and fowls of all kinds, watching and waiting to see their beloved friends, Billy and Nannie Whiskers, disappear around a bend of the road.

"And who knows," said an old cow, "but what it will be the last time we shall ever see Billy and a tear rolled down her cheek, for she was very fond of them both, but particularly Nannie, who, she declared, had the sweetest disposition of any animal she had ever met, and she had known hundreds.

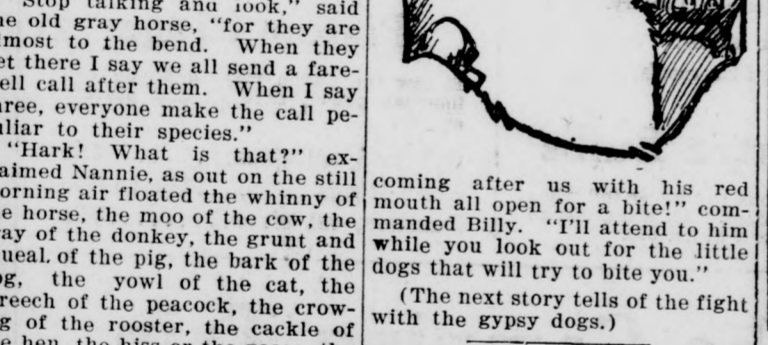

"Stop talking and look!" said the old gray horse, "for they are almost to the bend. When they get there I say we all send a farewell call after them. When I say three, everyone make the call peculiar to their species."

"Hark! What is that?" exclaimed Nannie, as out on the still morning air floated the wailing of the horse, the moo of the cow, the bray of the donkey, the grunt and squeal of the pig, the bark of the dog, the yowl of the cat, the screech of the peacock, the crowing of the rooster, the cackle of the hen, the hiss or the gopose, the quack of the duck, and the buck-wheat of the guinea hen. Such a conglomeration of sounds you never heard!

Billy and Nannie turned and sent back a farewell call of three big baahs, then turned the corner and were out of sight.

Nannie seemed to think how long it would be before she would ever see any of these friends again, and Billy wondered what would happen to them in the near future.

He did not have long to wonder, however, for things began to happen immediately, for right before them in a clump of trees beside the road was a gypsy encampment and coming from it were the gypsies, cross-lots running for them as fast as they could.

"Quick, Nannie, get back of me until I fix that biggest dog that is coming after us with his red mouth all open for a bite!" commanded Billy. "I'll attend to him while you look out for the little dogs that will try to bite you."

(The next story tells of the fight with the gypsy dogs.)

A man, recently returned from China, brought with him some rejection slips which he had received from Chinese periodicals. One of them ran as follows:

"We have read your manuscript with infinite delight. Never before have we reveled in such a masterpiece. If we printed it the authorities would ordain us to take it for a model, and henceforth it would be impossible to find its equal in 10,000 years, we are compelled, though shaken with sorrow, to return your divine manuscript. For so doing we beg one million pardons."—Judge.

SUNLAND FIRE WARDEN TO DRAFT ABLE MEN

Penalties Prescribed for Any Who Refuse to Assist in Fighting Brush Fires

That strict measures must be taken to impress on able-bodied men of the hill communities the danger of neglecting brush fires is the opinion of the fire wardens. Last week a fire started along the state highway at Sunland and swept over the hills on the west of Monte Vista park that seriously damaged a four-acre olive orchard and threatened much more damage. Yet men stood by at the park and at the ball grounds and refused to respond to calls for volunteers.

It is said even a few men could have prevented the damage, as the fire was discovered in plenty of time to keep it from spreading, but the men simply refused to respond until later when residents turned out. The fire had assumed such proportions by that time that it was controlled with difficulty. By much hard work the fire was finally beaten out, after burning over twenty acres.

The fire wardens are determined to enforce the ordinance providing a severe penalty for refusal of able-bodied men to fight fire. The members of the Verdugo Hills Business association have started a movement for organizing for protection against fire.

Quote Ordinance

There is an ordinance, number 673, adopted by the county board of supervisors and put into effect on June 22, 1921, that empowers the fire wardens to draft men to fight fire and providing a penalty for refusal. It follows:

The Board of Supervisors of the county of Los Angeles do ordain as follows:

Section 1. The county fire warden and every deputy county fire warden of the county of Los Angeles shall have authority to call upon able-bodied citizens between the ages of 16 and 50 years, in the county of Los Angeles, for assistance in putting out fires, and any such person who refuses to obey such summons, unless prevented by good and sufficient reasons, is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction must be fined in a sum of not less than fifteen ($15.00) nor more than fifty ($50.00), or imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten (10) days nor more than thirty (30) days, or both such fine and imprisonment; provided that no citizen in the county of Los Angeles shall be called upon to fight fire a total of more than five (5) days in any one year.

TUJUNGA ART STUDIO TO DEVELOP TALENT

Mrs. Laura Lee Sweet Has Plans for Unusual Club Home

Mrs. Laura Lee Sweet, artist and scribe, has broken ground on Michigan avenue for an art studio, to be known as the Tujunga Art club. The property is a valuable one, west of the Fisher residence. It is the hope of the founder to have the studio open about September 1.

The plan of construction follows the rustic style, and the outside will be finished with stone and shakes. A roof garden is also included in the plan. The grounds in front will provide parking space for automobiles and pergolas built of olive and eucalyptus boughs and rustic benches.

Mrs. Sweet plans to make the place an attractive feature of the community life and develop art interest and talent.

A small fire burned over about three acres in Blanchard canyon last week and threatened to sweep up the narrow canyon where a number of cabin homes have been built in the last few months.

It is believed that the fire started from matches lighted and thrown by a child. The fire warden and a squad of men soon had the fire under control, and no damage was done to property.

Warning On Checks

A warning has been issued by the cashier of the Tujunga Valley bank that checks made out on blanks of the Taylor & Rowe, firm, signed by Willis A. Rowe, will not be honored by him. There have been several such passed, it is stated, by a man believed to be living in Sunland. They were drawn on the First National bank of San Fernando.

The firm of Taylor & Rowe has been out of business more than a year, and it is believed that a number of the signed blanks were found and filled in by the man who is alleged to have passed them.

It has been reported that the case against John Howard of Los Angeles who is charged, in a complaint issued by Mrs. A. Simmons, also of Los Angeles, with assault, was dropped before coming to trial last week. A. C. Stover of the Tujunga Drug company and Mrs. M. C. Darwin were to have been witnesses at the hearing.

Local News Events

The T. N. T. club held its monthly supper and meeting at the home of Alfred and Jack Johnson, on Sunset boulevard. Three new members were initiated into the order, being Harry Zitto, Howard Answart, Bob Rutherford and John Moulder.

The Rancho Hinata property on Palm avenue, owned by Dr. E. M. Spates is being improved with 800 feet of curbing of concrete along the Michigan and Palm avenue frontages. P. L. Forte is doing the work.

Dr. Spates has improved the appearance of his property by planting shrubs and ornamental trees along the frontage, and has secured permits to build curbs on other streets in his subdivision.

G. J. Fischer, Tujunga realtor, is selling half of a forty-acre tract of land near the Beach. The tract has been subdivided into lots and is near the oil fields.

Two former Montrose people Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Johnson, formerly of 516 Florencita Drive, have established a camp on the south shore of Big Bear Lake and named it "Interlaken Place." This camp is one of the most beautiful sites in the region and is attracting many visitors. The Johnsons' present address is Box 419, Pine Knot, California.

The Henry Dranger property on Montrose avenue north of Honolulu avenue, has been sold to E. Cleave of Iowa. The property includes three cottages in the rear. The consideration involved is reported at $21,000.

Robert Moser Hit by Auto, Escapes Injury

Robert Moser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Moser of 611 East Acacia avenue, was bruised about 6 o'clock last night but escaped serious injury when struck by an automobile. The machine was driven by Henry Hobbs of 131 North Adams street and was going south on Adams street. "A machine was standing at the curb," explained Mr. Hobbs. "This boy jumped off the running board and my machine hit him."

Mr. Hobbs took the boy to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital for examination and then home.
