FOREIGNERS IN SHANGHAI ARE MENACED

First Measures for Rescue of Amundsen Taken by Oslo Government

NORWEGIAN GOVERNMENT TO SEND AIRMEN TO HUNT FOR PARTY OF POLAR EXPLORERS

Ship Carrying Two Seaplanes Is Expected to Leave Friday for Spitzbergen, From Where Aviators Will Fly in Effort to Find Roald Amundsen and His Companions, Unreported Since May 21.

Oslo, Norway, June 2.—The Norwegian Government has decided to send two seaplanes to the Arctic preparatory to a search for the Amundsen flying expedition to the North Pole, which started from Spitzbergen May 21.

It was announced today the Government had selected the ship Ingertre to transport two aeroplanes toward the Arctic, whence they will undertake a search for the explorers.

The Ingertre, a 4,700-ton ship fitted with wireless, is expected to reach Horten, Norway, on the Christiania fjord, thirty-two miles South of Oslo, to-day. She will probably sail for Spitzbergen Friday.

Official announcement of the Government's decision to send seaplanes in search of Amundsen was made this afternoon. The general opinion was expressed here that Amundsen was unable to return by air, and that he would proceed afoot to Cape Columbia or Spitzbergen.

MAWSON'S OPINION

London, June 2.—The London Daily Mail's correspondent in Adelaide, Australia, quotes Sir Douglas Mawson, leader of an Antarctic expedition, 1911-14, as saying there ought to be no anxiety about Capt. Amundsen. His own experience, he explained, demonstrated the difficulty of carrying out aeroplane polar expeditions. If Amundsen's machines had failed, he contended, there was still a good prospect for the safe return of the party. It might be a year, however, before anything was heard from him.

SUBSIDY BENEFITS FOR ALL PEOPLE

Manufacturers Told Eastern Canada Should Not Monopolize Ship Gains

Hamilton, June 2.—That the subsidies paid by the Federal Government for steamship services to the British West Indies and South Africa from Canada's Atlantic ports were of no value to British Columbia, was an assertion made at the annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here today by J. H. Macdonald, president of the association of the British Columbia division, who argued that if Canada paid subsidies they should be for the benefit of the country as a whole.

L. D. Wilgus, Canadian trade commissioner in Hamburg, Germany, stated that while there was not much possibility of selling manufactured goods in general to a highly industrial country like Germany, there were good prospects for the sale of manufactured food products.

The principle of the subsidy through practically all legislation of the past year had been stiffening of the burden of taxation, declared W. S. Mordin, K.C., Toronto, chairman of the legislation committee of the association, in discussing the report of the committee.

Referring to increasing burdens of industry of workmen's compensation levels, H. W. Macdonnell, president of the industrial relations department, expressed the view that the only way to get relief was to reduce accidents.

EIGHTEEN DEATHS DUE TO WEATHER

Wind and Electrical Storms Followed Heat Wave in Central U.S.

Nearly Score of Persons Seriously Injured; New Heat Records

Chicago, June 2.—Eighteen persons dead and nearly a score seriously injured was the toll today of the heat wave and ensuing wind and electrical storms which hit the Middle West yesterday and caused its residents to await promised cooler weather with panting breath.

From the Nebraska sandhills to Ohio the heat wave has been the most severe in its records for the year and for June the first of all recorded time. The humidity which covered the central states like a blanket today was broken here and there by thunder showers and terrific gales.

Saskatchewan People Voting To-day

BELIEVES POLAR EXPLORERS SAFE; SIR D. MAWSON

LEGISLATURE WHICH WILL RULE SASKATCHEWAN FOR NEXT TERM BEING CHOSEN

Regina, June 2.—(Canadian Press)—The voters of Saskatchewan went to the polls today to choose a new Legislature. The Liberal Government headed by Premier C. A. Dunning asked re-election.

The polls opened at 9 a.m. and will close at 5 p.m. With polling in two constituencies deferred and two Government candidates returned by acclamation, the voters to-day will decide the issue in fifty-nine contests. The acclamations were in the constituencies of Rosthern, where Hon. J. M. Ulrich, Minister of Public Health, was returned, and in Maple Creek, where P. L. Hyde, Liberal member of the last Legislature, was unopposed.

Bitter contests have been waged in the cities of Regina, Saskatoon and Moose Jaw, and the prospects early to-day were for a record vote in the three centres.

The size of the vote in the rural constituencies is an unknown quantity. Drenching rains which swept the province over the last forty-eight hours rendered roads in many districts impassable. Prospects which had been reported bright yesterday for a record vote throughout the province were dimmed.

With the speaking campaign definitely closed last night party organizations concentrated their efforts today in getting their supporters to the polls. A vigorous house-to-house canvass in the city and rural districts was being conducted.

REGINA STRAIGHT FIGHT

In Regina the closing hours of the campaign were marked by intense bitterness. Charges of government connivance with certain liquor contracts made during the day were answered in the press and from the public platform by government spokesmen, who termed the charges untrue and accused the opposition of stooping to mud-slinging.

In this city there is a straight fight between the Conservatives and Liberals. Hon. J. A. Cross, Attorney-General, and D. A. McNiven are the Liberal candidates, and J. F. Bryant and M. A. Macpherson are the Conservative candidates. The prospects are that the vote will be close. Both government candidates were members of the last Legislature.

SASKATOON CONTEST

There is a three-cornered fight in the city of Saskatoon. Hon. A. P. McNab, Minister of Public Works, and G. H. Yule, are contesting the city for the Liberal Party. Dr. J. T. Anderson and G. A. Cruise are the Conservative, and Harris Turner, Progressive leader and House leader of the Opposition in the last Legislature, is running under the Progressive flag. Dr. Anderson is the Conservative leader in the province, and great interest attaches to the vote.

Reports from Saskatoon state the election campaign ended there last night in a miniature battle between the supporters of the Liberal and Conservative candidates. The latter are stated to have attempted to gain admission to the Liberal hall, and have been ejected after some roughing, following which the Conservatives staged a street meeting and parade. The vote in Saskatoon likely will be close. Turner and McNab are seeking re-election.

LABOR CANDIDATE

In Moose Jaw the only Labor candidate contesting a seat in the province, W. G. Baker, a member of the last Legislature, is expected to be returned. He had Liberal endorsement during his campaign and sat on the Government side of the Legislature during the last term.

The other seat was held by J. Pasco, Conservative, who is a candidate again. W. E. Knowles, Liberal, (Continued on page 2)

WIFE OF R. C. WATSON AND OTHER WITNESSES HEARD IN NANAIMO

Nanaimo, June 2.—What is generally believed will be the last day of the trial of Ross C. Watson, ex-Detective of Seattle, charged with robbery with violence of the Royal Bank here on December 12 last, opened this morning, the first witness called being Mrs. Irene Watson, wife of the accused, who stated she was married to Watson in Chelan, Washington, in September 1916.

Witness said she had been employed by the Balcom Lumber Company as time-keeper and stenographer for the past six years. On December 11 and 12, when crown witnesses testified they had seen Watson on Vancouver Island, Mrs. Watson insisted her husband was in Seattle, having reached home from Bellingham on the morning of December 11. Witness stated she had accompanied her husband to a restaurant after 5 p.m. later, going to a garage to get their car and later driving home, where the evening was spent with friends. The following morning, December 12, witness testified her husband drove her to work, returning for her at 12.30. During the afternoon, D. J. McLennan, a friend of her husband's called and talked to her husband, a Mr. Jackson coming in later. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Newman, Glen Decker, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd and a Miss Miller called and stayed until midnight.

Witness connected even, from December 9 up to and including the party at the Watson home on December 12.

REPORT RUM TOURS

In reply to a question by A. M. Johnson, K.C., prosecuting counsel, Mrs. Watson stated her husband had told her why he went to Bellingham and witness knew of her husband being in the whisky business. Her husband had worked at the Balcom mill for about two weeks, the payroll which he had led the mill on December 3 and returned to work on Monday, December 15.

Mrs. Watson related the incident of the arrest of her husband on the night of December 22, and the following morning she visited Chief of Police Severyns and explained to him her husband could not possibly have been in Nanaimo on December 12, Severyns having previously made the statement.

"We sure have Ross Watson. He was registered in Bellingham as R. C. Jordan."

Witness had no difficulty in remembering her husband's movements on December 11 and 12, and immediately after his arrest witness had (Continued on page 2)

B. C. Agriculture Shows Big Increase In Yield, Barrow's Reports Show

Farms of Province Increase Exports of Foodstuffs, While Importation of Produce Shows Decided Slump; Dairying Industry Has Quite a Spurt.

Due to unfavorable weather conditions the volume of agricultural production only slightly exceeded that of the previous year, according to the annual statistical report on agriculture completed today by Hon. E. D. Barrow, Minister of Agriculture.

The Spring of 1924 was later than the average, sharp frosts occurred during the month of April which resulted in considerable damage being done to small fruits and tree fruits. During the months of May, June, July, August and September the weather was very warm and the precipitation much below normal, which greatly reduced the yields of all field crops. Despite these adverse conditions several branches of the industry show gratifying progress.

Agricultural production for the past year is shown in value as $60,029,224, against $59,159,798 for the year 1923, representing an increase of $869,426 or 1.47 per cent.

The outstanding increases occurred in meats, poultry products and honey. A substantial decrease is noticed in the value of agricultural products imported during the same period. The total value of imports is placed at $16,399,502, a decrease of $2,618,629 or 13.76 per cent. Imports from other Provinces are valued at $13,617,709 against $15,622,678 in 1923, while imports from foreign points decreased from $3,395,453 to $2,781,793 in 1924.

The value of exports for the year is estimated at $6,925,019. This total represents an increased value of $135,647 or 2.30 per cent.

FRUITS

All tree fruits, with the exception of pears, showed a decreased production, which is largely accounted for owing to late frosts during the blossoming season. The net returns to the producers, however, were satisfactory during the two previous years, which can be attributed largely to the efforts of the new co-operative organization, the Associated Growers of British Columbia, which marketed some 35 per cent of the crop.

The total production of all fruits amounted to 13,625,000 pounds, valued at $5,419,238 as compared with 17,587,179 pounds, valued at $6,654,974 in 1923, indicating a decrease of 21.62 per cent in quantity and 18.20 per cent in value.

Berlin, June 2.—Thirty-three aeroplanes hopped off here today on the second loop of a nine-day endurance flight which began Sunday.

With twenty-four hours' intermission between the start's groups of planes were to fly on different loops from Berlin over distances of 650 miles daily. The cities of to-day's route included Hanover, Darmstadt, Gotha, Chemnitz and Dresden.

TROTZKY HEARD BY AUDIENCE IN MOSCOW

Moscow, June 6.—Leon Trotzky made his maiden speech as a member of the Supreme Economic Council yesterday at the opening of the experimental institute for steam energy which was built in accordance with wishes of the late Premier Lenin.

"Soviet Russia step by step is preparing to build up a Socialistic national economy," Trotzky said.

Later in his address he asserted: "We may expect politics to disappear when human society conquers nature. People will group not in accordance with their political views, but in mechanical parties. Competition as it now exists, will vanish, giving place to technical and scientific rivalry."

MACHINE GUNS USED

Shanghai, June 2.—Machine gunners to-day fired on a mob of students as a result of demonstrations against the treatment of Chinese workers on strike at the Japanese spinning mills here. The machine guns were brought into play in the Thibet-Nanking road, one of the principal thoroughfares in the central district of Shanghai.

Sikh police guarded the streets in the vicinity of a hall where a special meeting of ratepayers was attempted. The meeting proved ineffective, lacking a quorum, although 500 persons assembled to witness the proceedings. The United States force guarded the main entrance and doorway approaching the hall. Failure of Japanese to attend the meeting resulted in the lack of a quorum. The purpose of the proposed meeting was to recommend remedial legislation to deal with the present riot situation.

MARINES LANDED

British, Italian and United States marine forces landed in Shanghai this afternoon to police the waterfront to-night. The Italians are stationed at the Japanese Club.

The foreign forces were sent ashore today in anticipation of an extension of the strike that may close markets in the foreign concessions and affect lighting and other public services. The telephone service here is already crippled because of a strike. Several of the lesser industrial plants may be drawn into the trouble.

CHINESE PROTEST

Peking, June 2.—The Cabinet decided today to instruct the Foreign Office to prepare a note of protest to the diplomatic corps against the bringing upon Shanghai rioters by Sikh police there.

The Cabinet decided to appoint two high commissioners to proceed to Shanghai to investigate the situation, was announced.

JAPAN WATCHING

Tokio, June 2.—(Associated Press)—The Japanese Foreign Office has notified a police "watchdog" in regard to the situation at Shanghai arising out of riots resulting from the prosecution of Chinese connected with strikes in Japanese spinning mills.

The officials, however, are obviously worried over the outcome of the trouble.

FOOD SUPPLIES DELAYED

Shanghai, June 2.—Following the riots growing out of the strikes of Chinese in Japanese owned spinning mills here, delegations of students are patrolling all roads into this city, intimidating incoming farmers and preventing the bringing of food supplies into the city.

A delegation of about 100 Nanking students, alleged Communists, arrived to-night from Nanking to reinforce the trouble-making elements. Upwards of 5,000 workers in Shanghai industrial plants are on strike. These include mechanics and fitters at the riverside power station in the eastern district, from which the major part of the foreign settlement receives its electric current. Strikers who have forced the closing down of many cotton mills and lesser industrial establishments.

COMBINED ACTION

London, June 2.—A Reuter dispatch from Tokio to-day said Japanese previously announced policy of watchful waiting regarding the Shanghai situation anticipated combined action of Japan with other powers concerned with that should become necessary.

AGITATORS ATTEMPTING TO INDUCE CHINESE TO DRIVE FOREIGNERS FROM SHANGHAI

Leaders of Foreign Settlements Believe They Can Handle Situation, But Admit Outlook Is Grave; Strikes in Spinning Mills Led to Riots; Dentist Formerly in Victoria Wounded.

Shanghai, June 2.—Chinese agitators made public appeals to-night in the streets of Shanghai for a general uprising to drive out all foreigners.

Officials of the foreign settlements expressed confidence they could handle the situation, but admitted the outlook was perhaps more grave than at any previous time in the city's history.

Shanghai, June 2.—Chinese student riot participants to-day fired from house tops in three directions into Shanghai streets upon a unit of the United States Volunteer Corps, shooting Thomas G. McMartin, a dentist, in the back and killing the horse he was riding.

Seattle, June 2.—Dr. Thomas G. McMartin, a dentist, shot during riots in Shanghai, when a horse he was riding was killed, served in France with the Dental Corps of the United States army in the World War. He formerly lived in Victoria, B.C., but is a citizen of the United States.

McMartin graduated in 1915 from the Dental College in Portland. He went to Shanghai in 1917. His wife and a small daughter are with him.

STORM DAMAGE IN ONTARIO IS HEAVY

Districts Were Visited by Wind, Hail and Rain Storms Yesterday

Buildings Unroofed in Windsor Region; Brampton Houses Destroyed

Toronto, June 2.—Wind, hail and rain storms were reported from many districts of Ontario yesterday, resulting in thousands of dollars of damage, particularly in Windsor and its vicinity, where a miniature "twister" played havoc at the Devonshire Racetrack, several buildings being unroofed and otherwise wrecked. Several golfers had narrow escapes while at the municipal links situated on the racetrack grounds. Builders reported that many houses under construction were torn from their foundations. One dwelling house was turned over, trees were snapped and bales of hay scattered. Several reported heavy damage to fruit trees and crops.

HOTHOUSES RUINED

In the Brampton district the worst wind, hail and rain storm in the history of the town was reported, with a large portion of the acres of hothouses which the district is noted for destroyed by hail. The damage is estimated at $50,000.

Lightning damage was reported in the London district.

TWO LOST LIVES

Des Moines, Iowa, June 2.—Two men were killed and another injured during an electric storm here late yesterday.

Peter Brown, a farmer, was instantly killed when struck by a bolt of lightning while ploughing. Several farm hands working nearby escaped.

Patrick Wilcox, eighteen, a golfer, was killed on the ground when lightning struck a nearby tree on the Hyperion Club golf course. He was found unconscious by golfers, who administered emergency treatment. A doctor expressed the belief that the rubber-soled shoes worn by Wilcox probably saved his life.

George Stephenson, forty-two, dropped dead when lightning struck several blocks from his home. Police surgeons said his death was the result of a heart attack probably caused by the storm.

RUM CRAFT WILL CARRY MACHINE GUNS

New York, June 2.—The New York Times says it has been learned a New York bootlegger is having constructed a fleet of armored rum runners which will battle with the United States coastguard boats blockading Rum Row. The liquor smuggling syndicate has given orders to a shipyard for the construction of this fleet, The Times says. In addition to a heavy armor as protection against the bullets of the rum chasers, the boats, it is understood, will carry machine guns.

MEN IN CAIRO ARE FOUND GUILTY OF LEE STACK MURDER

Sentence is to be Announced Next Sunday in Egyptian Capital City

Sirdar Was Wounded While Motoring Last November and Died Next Day

Cairo, Egypt, June 2.—All the defendants in the trial growing out of the assassination last November of Maj.-Gen. Sir Lee Stack, Sirdar of the Egyptian army, were found guilty today of murder. Sentence will be passed next Sunday.

Maj.-Gen. Sir Lee Stack, Governor-General of the Sudan and the British commander-in-chief of Sirdar of the Egyptian army, was mortally wounded November 19 last while motoring in the streets of Cairo, the assassins using bombs and pistols. He died next day.

The British delivered a note accusing the Egyptian Government under Premier Zagloul Pasha of direct responsibility for the crime and laying down an ultimatum which called for "an ample apology," prosecution of the assassins, payment of $2,500,000 indemnity, withdrawal from the Sudan of all Egyptian military officers and purely Egyptian units, increase of the irrigation area in the Sudan and suppression of all political demonstrations.

Egypt protested the severity of the terms. The British countered by occupying the Alexandria customs, an Egyptian cabinet crisis followed and the British terms were finally accepted only after the formation of the Ziwar-Pasha ministry.

WIN SIGNAL TROPHY IN WOLF CUB TESTS

St. Mary's Pack Carry Off MacArthur Trophy in Keen Contest

St. Mary's Wolf Cub pack won the MacArthur signaling trophy, defeating the Fairfield pack after a close contest held at the new scouting grounds at the Gorge on Saturday.

S. M. Alisdair MacArthur, the donor of the trophy and one of the keenest adherents of the local association, expressed himself as well pleased with the display of signaling given by both packs.

Under Cubmaster W. J. Munroe, the Memorial Wolf Cub pack of Christ Church Cathedral made use of the new grounds for a week-end camp, being the first unit to take advantage of the excellent facilities afforded.

The badge committee has approved of the following awards: Sixer B. Carmichael, second star; Cub J. Thorn, first star (both of St. Michael's pack); Sixers Bill Harrison and Trevor Barnett, Second J. Robb, Fairfield, first star.

Promotions—Cubs L. Fowler and P. Parry, St. Michael's pack, to be seconds; Cubs E. Griffiths, E. Crockett and E. Johnson, Memorial pack, to be sixers; Sixer E. Griffiths to be senior sixer; Cubs J. Ellison, K. Rowe, J. Grimmond and E. Morley, Memorial pack, to be seconds.

lessons. But there were still crumbs of food to pick up, if not crumbs of knowledge.

All the animal folk in the woodland were talking about the wise hen lady, and how much she knew at home, it was said, as much as the Lady Mouse Teacher in the Hollow Stump School, until, one day, Uncle Wiggily heard the news.

"I must call on this wise hen and see how much she really knows," said the rabbit gentleman to his wife. "It may be that she could teach our little rabbits on Saturdays when there is no Hollow Stump School."

"Perhaps," agreed Mrs. Longears, so the bunny gentleman hopped over the fields and through the woods until he came to the hen coop.

"I hear you are very wise," he said to Mrs. Hen. "Will you please say a big word for me that I may know how smart you are?"

The hen lady cackled and said: "Big words do not mean anything. But if you would like to come for a walk with me we can talk together and then, perhaps, you may see if I am wise or not."

"I will raise a cloud of dust, like a smoke screen, and we can hide behind it until he runs past. So she scratched with her claws in the dirt and then scattered so much dust up with her flapping wings that there was a dense cloud of it. She and the bunny hid behind this cloud of dust and the Fox ran right past them, thinking they were on ahead. And when he was some distance away the rabbit and hen lady turned back to home."

"We shall see how much you have learned," laughed Uncle Wiggily with a twinkle of his pink nose. "And if I find you are wise I will have you teach me, for I am too old to go to school as the children do."

So the rabbit gentleman and the hen lady went together over the fields and through the woods, the hen lady talking wisely and modestly, until, all of a sudden, Uncle Wiggily looked back and cried:

"Here comes the Fuzzy Fox chasing after us to eat one of us. Are you wise enough to tell whom he is going to nibble?"

"I think he will nibble both of us if he gets the chance," cackled the lady hen. "So we had both better run."

"Wise enough and fair enough!" cried the bunny. "So they both ran. But the Fox ran also and drew nearer until Uncle Wiggily, looking back, saw how close the bad chap was, and the bunny cried to the lady hen: 'Are you wise enough to think of a way to fool the Fox?'"

"I think so," cackled the hen. "I will raise a cloud of dust, like a smoke screen, and we can hide behind it until he runs past. So she scratched with her claws in the dirt and then scattered so much dust up with her flapping wings that there was a dense cloud of it. She and the bunny hid behind this cloud of dust and the Fox ran right past them, thinking they were on ahead. And when he was some distance away the rabbit and hen lady turned back to home."

"I see you are a very wise hen," said Mr. Longears. "I never would have thought of that dust cloud myself. Thank you," cackled the hen lady, modestly. And if the electric fan doesn't blow talcum powder in the face of the clock and make it laugh, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the June Bug.

BOYCOTT DECLARED

Mexico City, June 2.—Special dispatches from Tampico say the independent labor unions have decided not to carry out their threatened strike against the oil companies, accepting the announcement of President Calles that such a strike would be illegal. The dispatches add, however, that a boycott has been declared against the Huasteca Oil Company by the unions belonging to the general confederation of labor.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Wise Hen

Copyright, 1925, by McClure News-paper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

Once upon a time there was a very wise hen who lived in a coop house near the Hollow Stump School. Every day, when the little animal girls and boys were inside the school, saying their lessons for the Lady Mouse Teacher, the hen would wander around the school yard.

She used to pick up many crumbs of the lunches which the children brought, and she also could listen to the boys and girls reciting their lessons through the open windows.

"In this way I pick up crumbs of knowledge as well as crumbs to eat," said the wise hen to Mr. Cock A. Doodle, the rooster gentleman.

"Knowledge and wisdom are good," crowed the rooster. "Of course you will never be as wise as I am, for see—each day I roost and make the sun rise. You never do that."

"No," agreed the hen lady humbly. "I can never learn to crow. But perhaps that is just as well. For if I crowed and you crowed also, the sun would not know which of us to rise for."

"Exactly," said the rooster gentleman, strutting about the coop. He really believed, as did the lady hen, that his crowing made the sun rise. Oh, he was very proud of that rooster—almost as proud as Peter Pan, who always crowed when he thought how smart he was.

So matters went on. The wise hen grew more wise each day, for she went to school from Monday morning until Friday afternoon, and even on Saturday she would walk around the yard, though of course there was no children there then reciting their lessons.

"I hear you are very wise," he said.

SILLS AND KENYON SCORE IN NEW FILM "I WANT MY MAN"

Milton Sills, one of the most versatile of screen artists, presents another side of many-faceted dramatic brilliance in his latest First National photodrama, "I Want My Man," which opened last night at the Capitol Theatre.

Sills's virility, as embodied in his portrayal of the "Sea Hawk," was no less apparent under the reserve with which he handles the dramatic tension of his role in "I Want My Man."

Both Sills and Doris Kenyon, who is co-featuring with him, give clear-cut interpretations of their difficult roles.

BETTY BALFOUR IS IDOLIZED BY BRITISH FANS

Movie fans in England never tire of singing the praises of Betty Balfour.

First Miss Balfour was called "Britain's Mary Pickford." This was all right with the British fan by way of comparison. But with the release of each succeeding picture in which Betty Balfour appeared he became more and more enthused.

Betty Balfour made her biggest success in a series of "Squibs" pictures. There were about a half dozen of these, and in each of them her particular part in the picture was one, to use the words of an ardent admirer, that radiated sunshine all through the production.

JACKIE COOGAN PROCLAIMS GENIUS FROM JUNK WAGON

Jackie Coogan in "The Rag Man" came to town yesterday and standing on a pile of junk heaped up on a ragman's cart, proclaimed again the genius that is his.

"The Rag Man" now showing at the Columbia for three days only, his fourth Metro-Goldwyn production will prove to be one of Jackie's most popular pictures.

Jackie's role recalls the one he had in "The Kid," with Charlie Chaplin. And Jackie was never better.

JAZZ MUSIC SLANG, SAYS U.S. COMPOSER

Ashley Pettis, the well-known United States pianist, who has been referred to as the torchbearer of American composers, and has recently been the center of a nationwide discussion on jazz music, was a visitor in Victoria yesterday and left for the afternoon boat for Portland.

"Jazz is primitive and appeals only to the senses," says Mr. Pettis. "It has no place in the concert hall unless we remove the seats and let all the people dance."

"Jazz is purely a commercial proposition. It is not a purely American art. It is Broadway. Broadway isn't American by any means. The majority of the men who are in jazz are in it for the dollars and cents they can get out of it."

ODUFFY CENTRE OF NEW YORK FIGHT

New York, June 2.—Two hundred military police and detectives were unable to prevent an outbreak last night when General Owen O'Duffy, chief commissioner of the Irish Free State, was in Dublin, took his place in the army at 26th Street and Lexington Avenue to review the 165th Infantry Regiment.

The disturbance was quelled and 200 women were ejected from the hall only after ancient egges had been hurled at the Irish general and he had been greeted with a tempestuous chorus of cat-calls and cries of "Traitor!"

Plan Movies to Cure Seasickness

Hollywood, Cal., June 2.—An experiment in the filming of moving pictures for exhibition on ocean passenger liners as a cure for seasickness among passengers is being conducted here by Robert G. Vignola, a director.

The cause of seasickness, the director declares, is largely visual, based on the shifting planes which characterize the motion of a ship. The larger ocean passenger carriers are now equipped with exhibition cameras and screens, and it is Vignola's belief that pictures can be made for exhibition on shipboard which will counteract the effect of the ship's motion and save the most susceptible passenger from the hor-

SMUGGLING IS SOON TO BRING PRISON TERMS

Bill Amending the Customs Act is Now Before House of Commons

Premier Says Growing Illegal Traffic in Goods Must be Stopped

Ottawa, June 2. (Canadian Press)—More drastic penalties with respect to the smuggling of goods into Canada are provided in a bill to amend the Customs Act, which received second reading in the House last night.

In the case of goods smuggled into the country under the value of $200 the bill provides a penalty not exceeding $200 and not less than $50, or imprisonment not exceeding one year and not less than one month, or both fine and imprisonment. Forfeiture of the value of such goods is also provided for.

SEVEN-YEAR TERM A penalty, where the goods smuggled into Canada are of the value of $200 or over, is also provided. The bill sets out that the penalty in this case shall be seven years' imprisonment, and not less than one year for a first offence and not less than three years for a second and each separate offence. Furthermore, such goods seized shall be forfeited without power of redemption.

PENALTIES FOR SELLING Penalties are also provided to deal with those guilty of keeping or selling goods unlawfully imported. Provision is made for the forfeiture of the goods, and where they are under the value of $200 the person guilty will be liable to a penalty not exceeding $200 and not less than $50, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding one year and not less than one month, or to both fine and imprisonment.

Where the goods are valued at $200 or over, the person convicted will be liable to a term of imprisonment not exceeding seven years and not less than one year for a first offence, and to a term not exceeding ten years and not less than three years for a second and each following offence.

Other provisions are made. WILL FIGHT EVIL Premier King said a year ago a representative group of merchants had approached the Government to secure more rigid enforcement of the law against smuggling.

The Government had agreed that if the merchants would form a voluntary association the Government would cooperate with it to combat smuggling. It had been found that fines were ineffective to a considerable extent and that imprisonment was in most cases a solution.

The Government had determined to fight this great evil which had become an established habit. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, conservative leader, said he would stand behind severe regulations and severe penalties for the breaking of such regulations in matters pertaining to smuggling.

ROSS WATSON HEARING

At yesterday's sitting of the court all the witnesses offered alibi testimony for Watson. The witnesses were cross-examined at length by A. M. Johnson, K.C., prosecuting counsel. Although severe in his grilling, Mr. Johnson, save in very few instances, failed to shake the evidence.

Melville Groning, a truck driver who he had seen at the lumber yard on December 12 at the company's yards and held a conversation with him as to civil service examinations. Witness fixed the date from the fact that on December 12 he had made a trip to the Olympic Golf Club. He had returned from there at 12 o'clock and talked to Watson for about fifteen minutes.

On the day of Watson's arrest witness called on Mrs. Watson, and she asked him if he remembered seeing Ross on December 12.

"I was not sure of the date then," said Groning, "but knew I had seen him the day before the Olympic Club, and when I looked up in the office the date of delivery to the club we found that it had been on December 12."

Mrs. Fred Newman, a resident of Seattle, swore she had met Watson December 11 when she and her husband called at Mrs. K. Nelson's house. Mrs. Watson was there and witness was introduced to him there.

Later they had all gone down town, called for Mrs. Watson at the Cliff Building, and had gone to a restaurant and had something to eat. The Watsons asked them to their house, where they spent the evening until 11 o'clock. Other guests were there.

On December 12 witness had seen Watson, when they all had gone down to the Gerald Cafe and on the way down had been stopped by a traffic policeman.

Witness fixed the date because their automobile had been wrecked December 13 and the repair bill showed the date. She knew they had been at the Watson home the day previous to the wreck.

AT WATSON'S HOME Mrs. H. V. Jackson, a resident of Seattle, stated she had known Watson for a number of years. She told of Watson's coming to the Jackson home on December 21 early in the morning and asking if his wife was there.

That evening witness and her husband had gone to the Watson home. Mr. and Mrs. Watson were there the entire evening. Witness had also seen Watson at his home on December 12.

Her husband and herself fixed the date because they had been to the Watson home the month previously to draw again on the regular pay day, which was usually given to her on the 10th. This was the day after his regular pay day.

Cross-examined, she said she was in on the night of December 13 and 12. She had stayed at the Watson home on December 21 early in the morning and had gone again to the Watson home about 7 o'clock on December 13 and spent the evening there. She said she had often been to parties where there was music, dancing and something to drink.

In the afternoon of December 11 they had worked a crossword puzzle before a party.

STOPPED ON BRIDGE Glen A. Brownfield, son of the witness, swore he had seen Watson on December 11 in the evening when he had gone to the Watson home. He had seen Watson on the bridge about 9 o'clock. He left there and went down town. He had returned home and taken his folks home. Watson flashes of newspaper in his hand on the morning of December 13, Saturday, several boys were late at work. They said they had been held up by officers on the bridge and held up for a few minutes.

Witness testified that in his preliminary evidence he had made a mistake of a month in receiving his last pay. He also had his mother received all of his checks, as had been stated by her in the evidence.

WATNESS TESTIFIED Mrs. Nellie Dunbar, a waitress in the California Dyster, testified a positive witness and although a very short time previously the judge had rebuked persons in the gallery for levity, one or two flashes of newspaper furnished by the witness caused not only the jury and spectators to laugh aloud, but his Lordship himself had to give way to merriment.

On another occasion he smiled and thanked the witness. It was when, in response to a question put by him, the witness testified to the bench and replied with "Your Majesty."

"Thank you," replied the judge with a smile, while the courtroom audibly tittered.

Mrs. Dunbar, who spoke rapidly, was very positive in her evidence. She distinctly remembered waiting on Ross Watson, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. Newman at about 5 o'clock on December 11. She remembered the date so well because it was Thursday, the night she had a relief girl come on at 6 o'clock, and that night she was particularly busy. When she heard of Watson's arrest she had checked back and fixed the date definitely in her mind.

Witness told Mr. Johnson in cross-examination what each member of the party had ordered, and remembered Mrs. Watson, particularly, because she said she had had toothache and asked what was good for her to eat.

TOOTHACHE HELPED "How do you remember so well these various orders?" asked the prosecuting counsel. "Well, the toothache helped some."

as I remember telling Mrs. Watson what to eat," replied the witness. "Yes, but what about the others," continued Mr. Johnson.

"He's a favorite customer in there to-night and ordered a rare steak, do you mean to say you could tell me months afterwards what I ordered?" Watson replied, "I could tell you. It's my business to remember orders. I can't help it."

"What other orders did you serve that night?" asked Mr. Johnson. "Well," replied witness, "I served the United States marshal with a plain steak. He's a favorite customer of mine and his name is Mr. Ben."

Witness was dismissed with a word of thanks from the bench.

HOW WITNESS REMEMBERED Miss H. Alexander, relief waitress in the California Dyster House, said she remembered seeing the Watson party in the restaurant on Thursday night, December 11. She explained in detail her hours of work. She showed Thursday night was the only night in the week when she would be at work on or shortly before 6 o'clock. When she had seen the Watson party, she had been treated for robbery in Nanaimo on December 12, she said that could not be, and for her own satisfaction checked back and found on the night of December 12.

TWO SAW WATSON Maurice K. Nelson, a resident of Seattle, took the stand and swore he had known Watson for twelve or fourteen years. He had the Watsons at his home when he had come to witness' house about 2.30 on December 12. Nelson swore he had come to Watson's house, and Watson was there. He named other who were in the house.

Mrs. Ellen M. Nelson, wife of the last witness, swore she had seen Watson on December 11, and had been asked for Mr. Nelson. Witness had gone down and brought him up in her car. She had seen him again on December 12, and had seen him on her wash day, and when she went for Watson, she remembered her dress, in which she had been washing, had a wet spot on it. But she would not have to get out of the car.

On December 13 she had talked to Watson about the robbery here, carried out by Watson, and had some of the money, as it would help out for the Christmas shopping. Watson had laughed and said he would like to have some of it, too.

AT WATSON'S HOME Mrs. H. V. Jackson, a resident of Seattle, stated she had known Watson for a number of years. She told of Watson's coming to the Jackson home on December 21 early in the morning and asking if his wife was there.

That evening witness and her husband had gone to the Watson home. Mr. and Mrs. Watson were there the entire evening. Witness had also seen Watson at his home on December 12.

PRESIDENT GRANT CROSSING PACIFIC

Big Liner Will Reach Here With Good List on June 10, Says Message

According to dispatches which reached the British Columbia agent of the Admiral Oriental Mail Line here today, the S.S. President Grant has sailed for Victoria, having left Yokohama on June 21. The ship will arrive here June 10, and carries a list of 450 passengers, about fifty of whom will disembark at Victoria. There are 250 tons for local discharge. PLANS TO CONSERVE FISH SUPPLY ON PACIFIC COAST BY METHOD OF PROTECTION

John P. Babcock in Seattle to Discuss Ways and Means of Increasing Sockeye Salmon Run in Fraser; Treaty for Protecting Halibut is Boon to Industry; Reward For Fishermen's Aid.

Only recently having returned from a meeting in Ottawa where he sat for the purpose of considering the treaty between Canada and the United States for the protection of halibut on the Pacific, John P. Babcock, chairman of the International Fisheries Commission, is now in Seattle in consultation with others interested in the fishing situation of this coast in an attempt to conserve the sockeye in the Fraser River. Mr. Babcock states that the salmon, of the sockeye variety in the Fraser, are becoming rapidly depleted and that something must be done to bring their numbers back to normal.

"The halibut treaty which gives a certain period of the year in which it is unlawful to catch these fish on the Pacific, has done a great deal towards conserving the halibut. Something of a similar nature might be done in the case of the Fraser sockeye," said Mr. Babcock before he left for Seattle.

OFFER REWARD The Dominion authorities at Ottawa are taking one phase of the salmon situation in hand and are endeavoring to trace the movement of the fish which return, according to experts, to their native lakes and rivers to spawn before they die. In salmon hatcheries and in all parts of the Pacific waterfront the salmon have been tagged, with a small metal disc inserted in their tails. These discs will travel with the fish, and wherever they are caught their birth place and their history will be known. The Government is offering a reward of fifty cents each for salmon caught with these tags, if information as to the place where, the manner and the time they were caught is supplied by the fishermen.

URGENT CO-OPERATION With the co-operation of the fishermen it is likely that this experiment will be highly successful, a paper from the Government at Ottawa advertising the situation says in part. The authorities are relying on the fishermen for assistance in this investigation and for this reason are offering the reward.

VALUABLE ASSET "Inasmuch as the halibut fishing industry brings in excess of $10,000,000 annually to those engaged in the occupation, it is something that should be protected and fostered," Mr. Babcock points out. The present treaty will materially assist in protecting the fish which otherwise would run the risk of being exterminated, or at least of being so diminished.

May Was Busiest Month in Harbor at San Francisco San Francisco, June 2.—A decided increase in the vessels arriving and departing the port of San Francisco is noted in tonnage figures compiled by the marine department of the Chamber of Commerce for the month of May which were issued yesterday.

More vessels arrived and departed from this port in the foreign trade during May than any other month since the early part of 1924, and the total number of all trades from here were larger than any month of 1925 to date. The figures revealed the total tonnage of Canadian cargoes in the harbor during May aggregated 2,535,102 tons.

Big Excursion To Port Angeles

On Monday morning the tickets for the excursion to Port Angeles, which takes place to-morrow under the auspices of the C.P.R. Social Club, were on sale. Already a large number have been disposed of and the outing is an assured success. The functions held by the C.P.R. Club are acknowledged to be the best of the kind in the city and the committee in charge of the excursion will see to it that the Wednesday outing will long be remembered by those who are fortunate enough to have tickets. A large number of people were disappointed last year by delaying up to the last minute before securing tickets, and the steamer is being sold out early. Everyone intending taking in this delightful outing on Wednesday is strongly advised to secure a ticket as early as possible. Arrangements have been made for an orchestra on board to provide music both going and returning, while dancing for those who care for it will be encouraged. The steamer Princess Adelaide has been secured for the trip and everything is being done to make it an enjoyable outing.

SEWER CONTROVERSY To the Editor:—A Spanish-Elector, in your issue of May 29, refers to the discussions in the City Council which constantly arise in regard to the sewers in Victoria. It is evident to all informed upon the matter that he falls into grievous errors.

For instance, Victoria Council has never demanded that the amount involved in the settlement, which by cumulative interest is now about $40,000, should be paid in thirty days. The City Council has demanded that the amount involved in the settlement, which by cumulative interest is now about $40,000, should be paid in thirty days.

For several years past Spanish taxpayers, whose properties abut upon the sewer, have requested leave to connect with the sewers paid for solely by the taxpayers of Victoria, and in self-defence the City Council has been obliged to refuse.

The story might be told again for the benefit of "A Spanish-Elector." Through the growth of the city in boom years, the Victoria Council has advised that the amount involved in the settlement, which by cumulative interest is now about $40,000, should be paid in thirty days.

Soccer Once Again Blown High In Air

Annual Meeting Last Night Resulted in Wild Scenes and Ended With Delegates Walking out; President Walker Will Have Nothing More to Do With Football and Council Says It is Through; Feeling Runs High.

Football in Victoria is once again away up in the air. Following a stormy session of the Lower Island Football Association last evening there is no one in authority this morning.

On Saturday night the footballers held a splendid banquet to wind-up the season and had a great time passing out bouquets that were perfumed with sweet things.

Last night many of the men who gathered at the banquet assembled at the annual meeting of the association and then they threw around bouquets that had plenty of Irish content in them.

The meeting began orderly enough, the reports for the past year being approved. Then President Walker spoke.

"Now, gentlemen, as a board we are through," immediately a vote of thanks was tendered to the retiring officers and following this Mr. Walker left the chair and the fireworks commenced.

Jack Youson, of the Wests, was not favorable to the treatment that had been accorded the president.

After much discussion Mr. Walker was asked to fill the chair for the rest of the meeting and at once got the delegates quieted and proceeded with business.

The first matter brought up was a report from the special committee which had been held recently for the purpose of drafting a new constitution and making a genuine effort to improve football in Victoria.

All season President Walker has contended that Victoria is not big enough for more than four first division clubs, and that the competition and Brown cup should be turned over to the juniors.

Instead of having so many games between local clubs he favored that an outside team should be brought in once a month and in this way the fans would be given a good match to look at.

The special committee came back with a report which named the new officers and spoke of how the new association would run.

TALKED FOR AN HOUR For fully an hour the delegates spoke at one another, sometimes gently but most times angrily. It finally reached a point where two delegates stuck grimly to the report which had been brought in, while others were seen sawing.

After a lengthy oration another delegate went off to the cooler outside the meeting and he was left to carry on the argument, and it broke up.

Just what will happen now is a question. Mr. Walker says he will have nothing more to do with football in Victoria and if they wait for him to call a meeting they will wait until he forms at the equator.

It looks as though the clubs will have to assemble themselves and try and start all over again. The housecleaning will be expected to end all the old squabbles which for the purpose of preventing harmony and progress in football will have to be tossed into the harbor with a ton of rock on their neck.

Football Managers Will Pick Team To Oppose Vancouver

Final Game of Mosher Series Saturday; Local 'Rep' Team to be Picked To-night

A meeting of the managers of all football teams in the city will be held to-night in the Veterans of France rooms to pick a real Victoria All-star football eleven to oppose Vancouver City here next Saturday in the final game of the Mosher benefit series. The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock sharp.

This will be the final game of the season and the locals are anxious to make a good showing against the pride of the Mainland. The team selected for this game will be the best that can be picked in the city and will be a true "rep" eleven.

This game will be made all the more interesting by the fact that Mosher will be playing goal for Vancouver. His leg is in fine shape now and the local fans will be anxious to see this star player in action.

Plans are now afoot to arrange to send Mosher east to Toronto University to take a special course in order to get his leg fixed. He is lost at the University of British Columbia due to his injuries. If enough funds can be raised to pay for heavy doctor's fees and also to pay his course this plan will be carried out.

Errors Lost Game For Sons; Game Was Played in Drizzle Before Small Crowd

League Standing

Two home runs by Eddie Newman, of the Travelers, and Wally Brynjolfson, of the Sons, featured the amateur ball game at the Royal Athletic Park last night which was won by the league leaders by the score of 9-6.

The game was played, for the greater part, in a drizzle and only went five innings. A small crowd attended.

As a result of their victory the Travelers still hold the lead in the league standing. They have not been defeated in three starts. The C.P.R. are in second place with one defeat chalked up against them while the Sons secured a third place with the Eagles in the cellar.

Although very little good ball was seen on account of the slippery nature of the ball and grounds, the game got a great thrill out of the two home runs. This is the first time two four-ply wallopers have been hit in a single game for some time. Both were long hits and cleared the high fence easily.

PITCHERS DIDN'T LAST Jim Taylor started on the mound for the Sons but the heavy hitters of the Travelers began to find his offerings in the second inning and he was yanked in favor of "Red" McIntyre, who pitched fine ball for the remaining five innings.

The Travelers scored two twirlers. Jim Robertson went into the box but was taken out in the third inning, his place being filled by Ray Parfitt, who held the Sons in check. The Sons secured a one-run lead in their half of the initial inning but Newman put the Travelers on even terms when he hoisted the first ball three over the centre field fence.

Two errors and two hits gave the winners five runs in the second inning and Taylor was chased to the showers by the Sons' another lone counter in this frame.

HOMER WITH ONE ON In the third inning the Natives scored two more counters when Ross Miller walked and Brynjolfson poked the apple over the left field fence. The Sons came within an ace of tying up the score in the fourth when they scored one run and had the bases filled but Parfitt tightened up and struck the Sox out while the third grounded out.

Two hits and an error gave the leaders two more runs in the fourth. The Sons tried hard to tie up the score in the fifth but the best they could do was to sneak across a lone tally.

The struggle is expected to decide the next contender for Jack Dempsey's crown.

The New York State Athletic Commission has under consideration a challenge by Mike McTigue for a return bout with Paul Berlenbach, who wrestled the light heavyweight championship from Mike Saturday night.

McTigue declared the decision was a poor one and that the worst he merited was a draw.

Jack Delaney, of Bridgeport, Conn., has been signed to meet Berlenbach July 17.

At Regina he hung up a new Canadian record where he made a break of 452.

Last night he played a game of 800 with C. L. Mellin of the Union Club, and ran out in less than an hour with breaks of 395, 284 and 173.

Commander Ross occupied a small, lowly place, owing largely to the fact some of the horses were ailing, and did not start.

Yankees Are Now Half Game From League Basement

The Red Sox stopped the on-rushing Athletics 5-3 by timely hitting.

Boston scored a home run into the right field bleachers on the first inning off Walberg. Heving's double off the same pitcher in the seventh scored two runs and put the Red Sox ahead 4 to 3. Groves relieved Walberg and his wildness in the eighth forced in the fifth tally.

Batteries—Boston, Wainwright and Jones; Hoyt and Schang.

YANKEES STILL LOSING

New York, June 2.—The Yankees' losing streak continued yesterday despite the return of Babe Ruth to the lineup, the Senators winning 4 to 2. Ruth, who has been absent from the game for eight weeks due to illness, played six innings for his first appearance, raising a home run in the seventh. Veach replaced the heavy hitter in right field in the seventh, it being considered advisable not to allow Ruth to exert himself.

Ruth's return to the game was the signal for a rousing outburst by 18,000 fans and the frantic clicking of cameras.

After grounding out to Harris in the sixth Ruth gave way to Veach, who pitched for the victors, but a spectacular running catch by the catcher, rolling over on the ground as he caught the ball.

WALT HAD HIS NUMBER Three times Ruth went to the plate to sample the pitching of the veteran Johnson. Once he reached first base on a pass and on two other attempts he grounded out to Johnson and Harris.

KID NORFOLK GAINS DECISION

Portland, Ore., June 2.—Kid Norfolk of New York won a ten-round decision over Frank Farmer of Kapowain, Wash. here last night. The fight was slow and spiritless except in the third round when the negro, who matched to fight Paul Berlenbach this summer, sneaked past his opponent's guard with a left to right smash, followed by a short jab which sent the chin that toppled Farmer over his back for a count of eight. Each fighter weighed 175½ pounds.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Philadelphia, June 2.—Philadelphia outbatted Boston in a free-for-all slugfest game here yesterday and won 12 to 10. Thirteen doubles, two triples and a pair of home runs were walked during the course of the game in which all six hurlers found it impossible to stem the tide of hitting.

Worcester, Mass., June 2.—Walter Hagen, Pasadena, Fla., British open and American professional champion, and Bobby Jones, Atlanta, national amateur champion, held the spotlight yesterday in the practice rounds for the United States open golf championship, to be contested at the Worcester Country Club Wednesday and Thursday.

Babe Ruth Fails To Hit In First Game This Season

New York, June 2.—Babe Ruth made his first major league appearance of the season to-day and failed to get a hit. The champion Washington Senators with Walter Johnson pitching, were the New York Yankees' opponents.

In the clean-up position of the Yanks' batting order again, after almost two months' confinement to a hospital with influenza and indigestion, Babe Ruth's opening successes were limited to two fielding features. In the fifth inning he speared a high fly off the bat of Ruel and then made a spectacular running catch on the ground as he caught the ball.

WALT HAD HIS NUMBER Three times Ruth went to the plate to sample the pitching of the veteran Johnson. Once he reached first base on a pass and on two other attempts he grounded out to Johnson and Harris.

Wall Street TO-DAY

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, June 2 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Limited)—The tone of the general stock market was much improved to-day, mostly so in the afternoon dealing. A little irregularity in the forenoon was due chiefly to a renewal of selling by some of the floor professionals who for several seasons now have been making efforts to bring about lower prices, especially in the industrial section. Some of the motors, motor accessories, tractions and the metals were prominent on the advancing side of values. There was nothing unfavorable in the day's news budget, and if anything the occurrences related were at least of stabilizing nature.

The technical position of the general market has been improved as a result of recent realizing sales, in addition to the fact that there are indications of a fair-sized short interest having been built up recently. The paramount factor in the situation tends encouragement to the belief that a fresh upturn in the market may be in the process of development.

New York, June 2 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Limited)—The Wall Street Journal's stock market edition this afternoon says: After opening firm the market became mixed with bears offering some of the pivotal stocks like Steel, Can and Mack Trucks down. Incidentally some of the bears got early wind of the Mack regular dividend and proceeded to sound the alarm, breaking it down to 177 1/2 on heavy selling.

The market has been considerably helped by short selling in the last week. It was getting tired and the talent pointed this out and caused considerable selling. This acted as a brake and when the bears failed to break Steel through 114, despite the most expert hammering, it quickly turned about. Shorts in Baldwin are getting decidedly uncomfortable. There is too much company and too few offerings despite reports of bad news. All the latter is very busy news and nothing new seems to be turning up to help the shorts.

Owens Bottle has been accumulated by strong interests on its excellent balance sheet and earnings. The floor talent was ruminating in opinion and this was reflected in the market, especially in the so-called "bottle."

Combustion Engine ran up to 43, up 1 1/2 points from Monday's close. The company is doing a record business both here and abroad. Authorities said they knew that 46,000 shares from $50,000 had been taken out of the market. Purpose of the additional stock is to permit the company to expand when the opportunity favors.

U.S. Hoffman Machinery continued to climb quietly. This is predicated on an increased dividend rate. Steel was sold off on heavy trading to 114, but there the stock rapidly rallied to 115. This issue, together with American Can and Mack make the combination issues for bearish tactical.

Much capital was made by the bears of the regular Mack dividend but as one trader said the company is too busy making money to bother about more dividends of this kind. Volume is 40 per cent ahead of the same period last year. Traders reported selling orders and more stop orders, and despite a wave of selling so far the market has been well absorbed. Good buying was reported in all grades of the rails. Under the leadership of some of the motors the market showed a Hudson reached a new high at 62 and Maxwell issues were enjoying advances generally with the "B" crossing the "A" for the second time were firm and buying from informed sources.

Southern Railway was strong on reports that the suit would be handed down favorable to the junior shareholders. Short term money rates are now as low as they are expected to go and will probably remain so through the summer. An advance in rates will be seasonally in order. Extremely low rates are practically confined to short term borrowings.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, June 2 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Limited)—Wheat—Rains over Winter and Spring belt took the edge off the market early and attracted buying of long wheat, but on the break buying power broadened, being credited to prominent interests and in the last hour the market registered an impressive rally to above the previous close. Deferred deliveries received the bulk of speculative attention. Local crop experts estimated the Winter wheat yields from 20,000,000 to 24,000,000 bushels. This compares with 39,000,000 bushels last year. Also Spring wheat condition is below the ten year average, this serving to more than counteract increased acreage. Oil wheat is moving into consumptive channels. There were a few taken here for $50,000 bushels the last few days to go to Buffalo. The seaboard confirms export sales in some time. Wheat loans healthy and fundamental conditions are still very bullish, so that we continue to recommend purchases on all dips.

Chicago, June 2 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's direct pit wire)—Wheat: Re-orientation of the market on reports of rain led to a substantial rally, after an early weakness. Shorts covered and aggressive buying by a local committee. The latest reports which showed an average Winter wheat yield of 22,000,000 and Spring wheat 24,000,000, making a total of 46,000,000 bushels less than harvested last year. Forecast was for another weather over entire territory and suggested another warm winter.

QUEEN CARNIVAL CONTEST AWAY TO PROMISING START

The campaign of the Carnival Princesses, for public support for the Crystal Garden Carnival, took on an impetus yesterday, when the six candidates, under the direction of Dr. Clem Davies, met a number of the city's organizations and won instant pledges of support. The reception accorded the young ladies by the Life Underwriters' Association, at their luncheon, was typical of welcomes extended by the City of Victoria, the Chamber of Commerce directors and other bodies.

ALL WORK HARD

They therefore decided that the Life Underwriters' Association would win more votes for the queens than any other organization, and thereby pour great sums of money into the Carnival treasury. The membership was divided into six teams, by ballot, irrespective of the personal inclinations of the members. Each team was then allotted the task of securing a certain number of votes for the Princesses. The object of the Life Underwriters is to assure the success of the Queen contest, not to elect one Queen, so the President, Lorne Ross, says.

GYROSCOPE OFFER

The gyro is working at full stretch to secure a true expression of public opinion as to who shall be Queen of the Carnival. Vote early, vote often, is the motto which the Gyro Club has adopted in this campaign. An influential committee has in hand the task of interviewing the large number of wealthy residents of Victoria and district, and the Carnival committee confidently anticipates the garnering of a large percentage of the contest revenue from the generosity of those citizens.

AUTOMOBILE PRIZE

The terms whereon the carnival committee will award an automobile to a wise prophet of popularity are simple, and require the return of the ballot endorsed with the number of votes the estimator believes will be accorded the lady of his choice. Until the Queen contest closes at the end of next week there is no haste necessary in casting these ballots, but all voters entering this phase of the Queen contest will have to complete their calculations and deposit their estimates before the final closing of the voting.

ROSE SHOW PLANS

A rose show is being organized by the Oak Bay Rose Society, as a feature of the Crystal Garden Carnival, and will be held in the banquet hall of the Crystal Garden. The show will be opened on June 29, and will include a greatly extended list of competitions. A contribution of $125 has been made by the voters towards the prize list which will shortly be available from D. Reid, 1063 St. David Street, who is secretary to the Oak Bay Rose Society.

Winnipeg RALLIES BEFORE HOLIDAY

Winnipeg, June 2.—The Winnipeg Grain Exchange will be closed to-morrow because of the King's birthday holiday. Winnipeg, June 2.—Early Weakness on the wheat market here to-day was largely overcome during the latter part of the session when foreign buyers halted the decline at the extreme dip of 4 1/2 cents. On this break the July future was carried to 169 1/2, but the belated rally forced the market near the high point for the day, the close showing July at 173, a net loss of 1 1/2. October underwent a milder downward swing closing 1/2 below Monday's close at 146 1/2.

Trading was of a light and spasmodic character. Favorable crop conditions throughout the Canadian West inspired to a marked degree the early recession. Despite the closing recovery, the undertone of the market was unsettled and opened weak. In sympathy with wheat, the coarse grains strengthened shortly before the close of the session after a week's start.

Winnipeg, June 2 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Ltd.)—Wheat: The market was very weak during the first part of to-day's session when prices broke about four cents, but on this recession the market ran into export buying which was very active, especially in the deferred futures, prices reacted sharply closing around the high of the day, July closing 1 1/2 cents lower and October only 1/2 cent lower. The export buying was not large in volume, but with shorts taking profits and general evening up over the holiday here to-morrow, the slight account to foreign markets, and the recovery met little opposition. The weather map this morning was about perfect as it possibly could be at this season of the year, such as the rains at almost every point in the three prairie provinces. Good rains were also received in the United States which will not be so close to a domestic basis as was predicted. Liverpool cables closed 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 pence lower, largely in sympathy with the easiness on this side, but Broomhall reported the demand quiet with offerings somewhat freer. The market has had a very considerable break, and should be on a debatable ground at present levels. But it will require steady buying for foreign account to force figures materially higher with condition so favorable in Canada and in Europe. The private reports issued to-day of the United States conditions were not as bullish as expected.

Chicago Corn Prices Tumble

Chicago, June 2.—Corn prices came tumbling down to-day, falling more than 5 cents a bushel. In some cases December delivery dropped suddenly to 35 cents as against 39 1/2 to 39 3/4 yesterday's finish. Rains that have been much needed over large extent of territory were chiefly responsible.

NEW YORK COTTON

An old farmer had dined in the city and was so pleased with the Roquefort cheese that was served that he took some home with him. He arrived home very late, and his family had retired. He put the cheese, wrapped in silver paper, on the kitchen table, and forgot all about it until the next evening. While the family were partaking of the evening meal, he suddenly thought of the Roquefort and asked his wife how she liked it. "Oh, I don't know," she replied, "but I couldn't use it. I tried and tried, but I couldn't get no foam out of it, and when I washed the children with it they were so foamy, I half-hated to see them to school."

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal. Above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both as a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words to fill the form are found below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved this puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of 10-days' puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

MAN JUST SENTENCED THANKED JUSTICES

Saskatoon, June 2.—Hans Myhra, a farm laborer of Padding Lake, was sentenced yesterday to three months' hard labor in Prince Albert jail on each of two charges of theft. When court was adjourned he walked up to the justices of the peace, C. M. Johnson and John Cairns, and said: "Thank you, so kindly, sirs, you used me very well."

COWS DAMAGED PLANE

Memphis, Tenn., June 2.—Lieut. Henry G. Crocker, United States army aviator who flew here from Kelly Field, San Antonio, Texas, Saturday to serve as an attendant at a wedding, will be delayed several days on his return flight because the wings of his aeroplane, treated with banana oil, proved too tempting a feast for a drove of cows at the local field yesterday. While the pilot was engaged in the ceremony, a herd of cows, which had enjoyed a feast of acrophane wings, served with banana oil dressing,

"The Steadfast Heart"

By Clarence Budington Kelland

"He needs a heap of teaching," Dave said, more to himself than to Jake. "He's five years behindhand; and he's got to catch up. . . . He's got to be stirred, Jake."

"I'll stir him."

"Don't go knocking him around. He's lost his appetite for it. Once Angus gets to going and he'll whiz. He hasn't all that head bugging behind his ears for nothing."

"What kin you do," he demanded sharply.

The boy looked first at Jake, and then to Wilkins for support. "I kin split wood," he said.

"There hasn't what you might call an openin' for a woodchopper in this print shop. . . . Kin you make a broom do its duty?"

Angus shook his head. A broom was an implement of cleanliness and with such he had known small experience.

"Froom and sprinklin' can be back in the corner, and some sawdust in a bag. Git 'em."

When Angus returned, Jake directed the spreading of the sawdust and the wetting of it with the sprinkling can.

"Now," said Dave, "see how clean you can sweep it, Angus. I'll come down after a little to see what sort of a job you make of it."

Dave returned in half an hour to fulfill his promise of inspection, but stopped to speak with Jake about some handbills which should be ready for delivery. Several minutes were consumed in discussing this detail.

While the conversation progressed, Angus, who had lingered in the rear of the room, commenced to edge forward. There was a slight alteration in his usual carriage, a faint lightening of his phlegmatic expression—a change which denoted anxiety. As he made his slow progress down the room he scrutinized the floor, stopping in some corner or cranny. . . . Neither Wilkins nor Jake noticed the boy when he stopped close behind them, his fingers plucking nervously at the seams of his trousers. . . . He moved from one foot to the other and edged nearer and nearer in his impatience. At last, unable to endure further delay, he reached out and touched Wilkins timidly on the arm. Dave turned to look down inquiringly.

"What's that?"—Angus exclaimed breathlessly. "I sweep 'it all."

Wilkins understood. The boy had felt the stirring of responsibility and he had worked for a reward—a reward which was nothing more costly than a word of praise from Dave Wilkins. Angus had swept the floor to please him, and for him had done his best. It was loyalty. . . . Dave pretended to inspect the floor minutely, and when he had finished he faced the boy seriously. He did not make the mistake of smiling, or of dismissing the job as negligible, for he saw how important, how essential to the boy's development it was that this faint dawn of ambition, this desire to accomplish, this first real effort of Angus's life should be recognized, and its results nurtured and trained and encouraged. To the suppressed mind of the boy the cleaning of the floor had been a project of great weightiness; he had given to it his best. . . . Now he waited with anxiety for the verdict.

"Angus," said Dave, "I don't call to mind a cleaner, better swept floor. I declare, I'm proud of you."

Angus drew a deep breath and his eyes gleamed. For an instant he stood vividly, a fleeting picture of what he might become. Then the curtain dropped and nothing remained but such a look of dumb gratitude and affection as made Wilkins turn away abruptly. . . . Angus drew another audible breath, gulped, and stammered, "Ain't there nothin' else I kin do?"

Wilkins was distinctly pleased. Angus had known his first taste of praise and was hungry for more. . . . How does the most careful definition of ambition differ from this? From that moment Dave had no doubts—Angus Burke could be reclaimed.

"There are lots of things you can do," he said, "and if you do them all as well as you did this—I shall be satisfied with you."

In this way began Angus Burke's apprenticeship—unintentionally. During the days which followed he was kept busy a reasonable number of hours with tasks which had little to do with the trade itself, sweeping the shop, washing pans and forms, folding papers. . . . It was usual for an apprentice in a printing shop to run errands and to distribute papers on printing day, but this did not fall to Angus—for Angus never went unaccompanied on the streets after the first day when Jake sent him to the drug store for turpentine. He arrived safely at Ramsay's, made his purchase and started back. . . . It was then he was discovered by a group of boys of his own age, some of whom, unluckily, were members of Mary Trueman's Sunday school class, Sammy Hammond was there and Harold Cuyler. At sight of Angus they raised the war cry of boyhood and came charging toward him with ferocious demonstrations.

Your boy of nine or ten is essentially a hunting animal; from daylight until dark he searches for his prey, which may be anything from the alley cat to a stranger with a peg leg. Especially does the strange, the unaccustomed, the bizarre attract his gifted attentions. Whatever is marked by peculiarity draws his attention and enthusiasm. . . . Let a red-haired traveling man alight from the train and walk up Main Street—and if he be a stranger and the hour is propitious, he will be followed by half a dozen archbishops bawling "Brick-top!" Let a mendicant with a peg leg make his appearance in town, and he will be harried with shouts of "Limpi," and more than likely by showers of vegetables. . . . What is not indigenous to their soil must be an enemy. . . . It is a throwback, perhaps, to the day when any stranger was a foe.

But in this decent town Angus Burke there was more than this—there was imitation, and even encouragement. Last Sunday had taught them the stand they should take; the conversation in their homes had instructed them in how they should behave toward Angus, and last, but by no means negligibly, was Malcolm Crane, the public prosecutor of the county. Crane was a man who could hold a grudge against a child. The acquittal of Angus, by feat, had dimmed his reputation, and he hated Angus. His bitterness, loosed in words, found ready lodgment in

OLD ASHES STIRRED BY SANITARY CHARGE AGAINST SAANICH

City Council Informed That Previous Efforts at Improvement Blocked by City

In a report from Medical Health Officer Dr. G. Price, presented to the City Council last night the council of 1918 was saddled with responsibility for insanitary conditions now prevailing within the city limits at Burnside Road.

The report, together with the accompanying correspondence, will be forwarded to the Provincial Board of Health and to the Saanich Council.

Dr. Price stated that the first official records of insanitary conditions in the Burnside district consist of a report by Sanitary Inspector Lancaster to Dr. G. A. B. Hall, made in 1916, when the latter was city health officer. The first acquaintance Dr. Price had with conditions was on May 12, 1918.

After correspondence with the Saanich Medical Health Officer, Dr. C. Denton Holmes, the City Council was informed of conditions.

The inter-municipal committee investigated in July of 1918, and recommended that Saanich should lay sewer to six houses on Harriet Road, and connect to the Burnside main sewer of the city's system. This proposal was refused by the City Council of that year, as impeding the chances of collecting any share of the northwest sewer from Saanich.

Dr. Price attached to his report a letter written in September, 1919, by the clerk of Saanich, to Dr. H. E. Young, secretary of the Provincial Board of Health, wherein it is stated that the Saanich Council, on June 11, 1918, decided "if the city would request Saanich to make a connection to their sewer on Burnside Road, that Saanich would lay a small section of sewer on Harriet Road to take care of the offensive sewer."

Alderman Brown, chairman of the health committee, moved the submission of the documents to the board of health, and when doing so, remarked that he had visited Chinatown since Rev. McNeill's strictures, but could find nothing to complain of. He expressed a desire to have the company of Rev. McNeill in an effort to find objectionable conditions in that area.

Alderman Marchant defended the 1918 council for refusal to permit the connection of Saanich residences to the northwest sewer prior to payment being made the city.

The Veterans' Sightseeing Company will be advised that the City Council has abandoned its attitude of opposition to the advertising sign, recently erected at the corner of Government and Belleville Streets.

At last night's council session with Mayor Pendray absent and Alderman Dewar presiding, Alderman Brown secured reconsideration of a motion, passed last week, which had asked dismantling of the sign. Alderman Brown supported the proposed withdrawal of opposition, declaring his vote-face to be due to appreciation of the discrimination which would be effected should one particular sign be denounced when others, much more unsightly, were permitted.

Alderman Woodward was insistent that the "city's front door" should not be disfigured, and moved that all property owners should be asked to co-operate with the city in beautifying Parliament Square by removal of advertising signs.

Alderman Clearidge asked "how far would you go?" How about the big sign, "Satin Glo?" Alderman Woodward retorted, "I would go as far as all of you. Pendray's would sell just as much soap if they would clean up."

Alderman Marchant pointed out the assistance of many great signs around the post office, but when a vote was taken only Alderman Brown stood by Alderman Woodward's views.

The small fruit production amounted to 11,866,000 pounds, an increase of 124,191 pounds over the previous year. Strawberries came through the winter of 1923 in poor condition and as a result of late frosts in the spring the crop was greatly reduced. Raspberries, blackberries and loganberries all showed an increased production.

VEGETABLES

The area of potatoes in 1924 was 247 acres more than the previous year. The yield, however, was 5,908 tons less, caused chiefly by drought during the summer months. Potatoes averaged $9.49 a ton more than in 1923. An increase of 16.85 per cent is shown in the quantity production of rhubarb. The 1924 crop amounted to 714 tons, valued at $11,312. A marked increase in the yield of outdoor tomatoes occurred, especially in the Okanagan Valley, where the average price was from $17.00 to $19.00 per ton for canner purposes. The crop amounted to 11,886 tons, against 9,515 tons produced in 1923. There was an increase of 26.65 per cent in the quantity of greenhouse tomatoes produced, the 1924 crop amounted to 784 tons, valued at $232,624.

The total vegetable crop amounted to 219,933 tons, or 11,950 tons less than in 1923.

GRAINS

The total area sown to grains was 127,136 acres, a decrease of 5,823 acres from the year 1923. Owing to unfavorable weather during the summer a larger percentage than usual was cut green or turned into hay, thus reducing the quantity of grain for threshing considerably.

The production of all grains amounted to 4,501,390 bushels, valued at $4,253,512, representing a decrease in quantity production of 428,497 bushels, or 8.59 per cent, but an increase in value of $286,725, or 7.22 per cent.

The price of wheat increased from $1.19 a bushel in 1923 to $1.44 a bushel in 1924; oats from 62 cents a bushel to 72 cents; barley from 52 cents to 62 cents; and rye from 42 cents to 52 cents.

FODDERS

The area sown in fodders amounted to 287,021 acres, which was 14,721 acres, or 5.1 per cent, greater than the previous year.

Fodder crops aggregating a total of 522,995 tons, valued at $10,671,692 were produced, as compared with 671,556 tons, valued at $12,312,725, in 1923. The area of grain-hay increased considerably over 1923; this was due largely to so much grain being cut green or turned into hay to relieve the shortage resulting from the failure of the clover and timothy crops. Clover and timothy averaged 1.33 tons to the acre, as against 2.30 tons in 1923.

Fodder corn while still comprising a small percentage of the total acreage of fodders is rapidly increasing, there being recorded 4,944 acres in 1924.

DAIRY PRODUCTS

The dairy production was the largest on record and increases are shown in all branches of the industry. The value of all dairy products was $5,769,519, being an increase of $524,972 over the year 1923. The quantity of cream produced amounted to 2,670,670 lbs., which was 709,506 lbs., or 23.96 per cent, above the year 1923. Dairy butter increased 309,860 lbs., or 24.57 per cent, during the year.

It is interesting to note that in the Okanagan Valley, heretofore considered purely a fruit and vegetable section, the output of creamery butter was 255,886 lbs., or 31.69 per cent, greater than in the previous year.

The quantity of cheese manufactured during the year amounted to 217,829 lbs., an increase of 27,753 lbs. over 1923. The quantity of fresh milk consumed was 13,909,000 gallons, being 1,599,920 gallons more than the previous year.

Ice cream and evaporated milk both showed small increases in quantity production.

The average price of creamery butter in 1924 was 27.4 cents per pound, while the price in 1923 was 42.2 cents per pound.

LIVE STOCK

The value of all domestic animals is placed at $16,790,007, representing an increased value of $869,979 over the year 1923.

There was a small increase in the number of horses in the Province over the previous year. Dairy and beef cattle both showed an increase in numbers. Sheep increased in number to the extent of 1,815, there now being 55,151 in the Province. Swine increased in numbers 11,111 per cent, during the year. Poultry shows an increase during the year of 216,765. Eggs' production increased by 23,487 dozen, there being produced during the year 7,251,672 dozen.

MISCELLANEOUS

The quantity of all meats marketed during the year increased 7.63 per cent, while the total value was 10.31 per cent greater. Prices strengthened slightly during the year.

The honey production for the year was 679,289 lb., valued at $149,444, as compared with 422,518 lb. valued at $95,154 in 1923.

There was a slight increase in the quantity of wool marketed and prices were very satisfactory.

NEW ELECTION ACT

Ottawa, June 2.—Second reading was given to the bill in the House yesterday afternoon amending the Dominion Elections Act and reducing the time between nomination and election day from fourteen to seven days. The bill, which will receive consideration by the Committee on Privileges and Elections, clarifies regulations respecting the conduct and qualifications of election officers.

COUNCIL URGES RATEPAYERS TO VOTE FOR BY-LAW

Aldermen Unanimously Support Royal Athletic Park Purchase

Mayor Pendray and the whole City Council have issued the following letter regarding the proposed transferring the Royal Athletic Park to City ownership:

"To the ratepayers of Victoria, The Royal Athletic Park Land Purchase By-Law, which on June 16, is to be voted upon by the ratepayers, has been carefully considered and unanimously endorsed by the City Council.

"The matter is somewhat intricate, but, briefly, the passing of the By-Law will result in the following:

"1. Will avoid Provincial Succession Tax complications, costly to the City, such as exist in connection with other estates.

"2. The By-Law calls for no actual expenditure of money.

"3. $6,700 will immediately be paid to the City that otherwise would not be received at any very indefinite future date, if ever, and the estate will probably be able to continue paying taxes, instead of falling to be paid as a lien on the case with other similarly circumstanced properties.

"4. Two pieces of property, with title absolutely unencumbered, will be turned over to the City, namely:

(a) The Royal Athletic Park, of approximately five acres.

(b) A piece of property of nearly four acres, fronting on the Gorge Road, and with railway frontage on the Western boundary, suited for either industrial or park purposes, and which can be retained or disposed of later as circumstances warrant.

Members of the City Council unanimously recommend the ratepayers to pass the By-Law."

MAYOR PENDRAY PRAISES CHATEAU AT LAKE LOUISE

Was Third Guest to Sign Register at Opening of Rebuilt Resort

Lake Louise, Alta., June 2.—Mayor Pendray of Victoria had the distinction of being the third guest to sign the register sheet at the new Chateau Lake Louise, the three million dollar hotel which was constructed this winter, more than a mile above the sea level of Victoria.

Preceding Mayor Pendray at the register were the Lord and Lady Belpoort and the Lord and Lady Alreidale, of London, England.

"I have heard much about the beauty of this marvelous lake, and it surpasses my powers of description," said Mayor Pendray. Canada should be proud to be the home of a corporation that can undertake such a stupendous task as has been carried out here this winter. The fact that the material is one hundred per cent Canadian is another thing to give us pride," he said.

"Take the new Crystal Garden at Victoria and then visit this place and see what the Canadian Pacific Railway has done. When we come down to it we must be proud of this wonderful organization. I believe that no other organization in the world could have accomplished what has been done here in nine months."

URGED TO REDUCE CANADA'S FIRE LOSS

Members of Manufacturers' Association Told of Appalling Waste Each Year

Hamilton, June 2.—The report of the insurance committee of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association was adopted at the annual meeting of the body here when presented yesterday afternoon by George Bridgen of Toronto. The statement, showing the appalling extent of Canada's fire loss, was vigorously supported by W. H. Shapley of Toronto, who censured the apathy of the Canadian people toward the drain on material resources.

"If $14,000,000 worth of cattle were being lost annually, the people would take action quickly enough," he declared, "but here we are allowing a waste of $45,000,000 a year, with every prospect that it will be increased, and yet we hardly blink an eye. We seem to take it for granted that this condition must exist, so we take little or no action."

Mr. Shapley contended that much of the waste was preventable, and he referred to the fact that manufacturers were responsible for about one-third of the loss. He believed that by the proper protection of property, through the installing of sprinkler systems and other methods, it would be possible to prevent a very large part of the loss, as well as to effect substantial savings in insurance premiums.

The association honored its veteran members yesterday afternoon when following an entertaining address by T. A. Russell, Toronto, on the history of the association since reorganization in 1900, between forty and fifty of the members of that date rose in their places and received the applause of the delegates.

Mr. Russell concluded with a strong appeal for adoption by Canada of policies which would help to retain our industry and jobs in Canada.

Thomas Roden, honorary treasurer, in presenting the financial statement of the association declared Canada was now in the most critical position of its history. It seemed as if the younger generation had forgotten what was needed for the development of a country of this kind and was not taking steps necessary to prevent the tragedy of depletion of population. The policy of Britain and the United States was held up as an example for Canada to follow.

MOOSE DELEGATES OFF TO SPOKANE

Big Contingent Leaving Today For Northwest Convention

A large delegation of the local Moose Lodge, accompanied by their wives, together with members of the women of Mooseheart Legion, will leave today and to-morrow for the purpose of attending the Northwest Moose Convention to be held at Spokane.

The convention opens on the morning of Thursday, June 4, and will terminate with a grand ball and frolic on Saturday evening June 6, the delegation leaving for home on Sunday June 7.

Representatives will be on hand from the lodges in Montana, Oregon, Idaho, Washington and British Columbia, and an attendance of about 4,000 is anticipated.

Many prominent members of the order will participate in the affair, including several Supreme Lodge officials, who will stop off at Spokane on their way to the Supreme Convention to be held in Baltimore.

In addition to the usual convention business there will be an initiation of a large class of candidates into the first degree, a legion or second degree frolic, ritualistic competitions, band and drum corps contests and a beauty contest for many valuable prizes.

Keen competition is expected in regard to the selection of the convention city for 1926, and rumor has it that Vancouver, B.C., Lodge is sending a monster delegation in an attempt to pull off this much coveted honor.
