

INDEX

TO THE FOURTEENTH VOLUME.

A.

- Addison, H. R., story of a Griffin by, 341; the Foreign Music Master, 419.
- Adventures of Mr. Ledbury, 11. 105. 209. 317. 421. 525.
- Affghans, the British army intercepted in their retreat from Cabul by, 2. 4. 6; their want of cleanliness, 140; their superstitious prejudices against killing a woman, 141.
- Alice Maud, Princess, lines on the Christening of, 274.
- Andalucia, cities and wilds of, 59.
- Anderson, Mrs., one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1, n.; her child lost in the retreat, 5. 8; in Ukbur Khan's camp, 142.
- Anecdotes of the Peninsular War, 74.
- Anet, castle of, historical remains of, 233.
- Auctions, French, 134.

B.

- Baillie, Miss, her tragedy of De Montfort, 373; Sir W. Scott's description of her, 373.
- Ballads of Switzerland, 242.
- Banker, the London, 598.
- Bannister, Mr., notice of his imitations, 277; his retirement from the stage, 284; his theatrical and private character, 284.
- Barker, W. G. J., A Sigh for the Days of Old, by, 128.
- Bath, the Hermit of, 344.
- Battle of Hastings, a poem, 138.
- Belphegor, Marriage of, a poem, 197. 516. 608.
- Billington, Mrs., Mr. Kean's introduction to, 279.
- Boswell, James, allusion to his Life of Dr. Johnson, 515.
- Boyd, Mrs., one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1, n.; her child lost in the retreat, 5; restored to her in the camp of Ukbur Khan, 8.
- Buried Alive. See Gaol Chaplain.
- Byron, Lord, criticism upon his address at the opening of the new Drury Lane theatre, 277; his opinion of the earlier dramatists, 286, n.; his monody on the death of Sheridan, 367.

C.

- Cabul, English captives at, preparations of, to start from Cabul, 1; intercepted by the Affghans, 2. 4. 6; distresses of, 6; the ladies and some wounded officers go over to Ukbur Khan's camp, 7; their situation, 8; reception of, by Ukbur Khan, 10; preparations of, in the fort of Koord Cabul, 140; Moossa appointed to guard, 141; some of the party suffer from blindness, 141; prepare to march from the fort, 142; order of their march, 143; distresses of the march, 144; quarters at Teyzzen, 145; at Surroobee, 146; their distresses, 147; perilous route, 148; the Affghans assist them in fording a stream, 148; curiosity of the inhabitants of some of the villages to see the ladies, 149; riots on their account, 149; a guard appointed to protect them from plunder, 150; reception at the fort of Budecobad, 150; Sooltan Jan takes leave of, 151; again visited by him, 152; receive letters and wearing-apparel from Jalalabad, 153; again visited by Sooltan Jan, 153; again receive contributions from Jalalabad, 154; officers compelled to give up their arms, 155; alarm at an earthquake, 155, 156; insulting search of the captives, 158; general practice among, of keeping diaries, 159; general illness among, 161; again continue their march, 161; bribe the chiefs to aid them, 161; their deliverance by the British army, 162.

- Canning, Mr., dramatic sketch by, in ridicule of the taste for the German drama, 44.
- Captives, English, at Cabul, 1. 140.
- Carlisle, Earl of, letter to George Selwyn, 515.
- Cave, the Mammoth, 408.
- C. G., Song by, 571.
- Chaunt, Friar Tuck's, 492. See Poetry.
- Child, Maria, Mammoth Cave by, 408.
- Christmas Day, 618.
- Clubs and Clubmen, 453; increase in the number of, 455; region of, in London, 456.
- Colman, Mr., letters of, to Mr. Munden, 46, 47.
- Convict's Dream, 33.
- Conway, Mr., criticisms upon his acting, 278.
- Crammed Turkey, the, 315.
- Crockford's Club, 458.
- Croker, Mr. Crofton, anecdote by, of the old Irish families, 312, n.
- Crowquill, A., the "Crumbly" by, 49; the "Overdone," 173.
- Curling, H., anecdotes of the Peninsular War, edited by, 74. 385; Major Marvel's Yarn, 168; an Irish Detachment, 486.

D.

- Dainty Fare; or, the Double Disaster, 476.
- Days of Old, sigh for, 128.
- D'Eu, Chateau, Terry O'Daly's visit to, 401.

- De Montfort, high character of tragedy of, 373.
 Desultory Dottings on Drink, 129.
 Dibdin, Tom, pun of, 280; his farce, "Past Ten o'Clock and a Rainy Night," 283.
 Double Disaster, the, 476.
 Dreams, the Convict's, 33.
 Drunkenness, philosophy of, 34; ode in praise of, 313.
 Drury Lane, opening of the new theatre, 277.
- E.
- Earthquakes, description of, 156.
 E. F. W., Shrine of the Nativity by, 485.
 Elder, Abraham, Hermit of Bath by, 344.
 "Ella," his encomiums on Munden, 370.
 Elliston, Mr. Robert William, character of, 371; his proffers to Mr. Munden, 371.
 Emigrant's farewell, 58.
 England, remarks on Clubs in, and their influence, 453.
 English character, remarks on the national reserve of, 461.
 Epicure, the; or, Woodcocks no game, 380.
 Epigram on Mr. Peter Moore, 280.
 Eyre, Mrs., one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1, n.
- F.
- Fading Flowers, 127.
 Fairies' Glee, 39.
 Finnerty, Peter, epigram by, on Mr. Peter Moore, 280.
 Five-and-thirty, or thereabouts, 562.
 Fleet Marriage, account of a, 463.
 Foreign Ambassadors, 250. See Gael Chaplain.
 Foreign Music Master, 419.
 French auctions, houses, and titles, 134.
 Friar Tuck's Chaunt, 492.
- G.
- Gane, W. L., the Convict's Dream by, 33; Historical Remains of the Castle of Anet, 233; the South Wind, 276.
 Gael Chaplain; or, a Dark Page from Life's Volume—the Mooted Question, 94; the Junior Counsel, 98; the Revenge of an unrelenting woman, 185; a Criminal's last hours, 247; the Foreign Ambassador, 250; Shoals and Quicksands, 353; the Duchess of St. Albans, 355; the Personal Friend of the Royal Family, 359; the Prison Chapel, 444; the Devonshire Sorceress, 446; the Doom of the Devoted One, 451; the Buried Alive, 572.
 Garrick, Mrs., Mr. Munden's introduction to, 281.
 Gore, Mrs., flush by, 65.
 Griffin, story of a, 341.
- H.
- Habits, Regular, 394.
 Hackman, Mr., the murderer of Miss Ray, 512; execution, 515.
- Harris, Rifleman, Anecdotes of the Peninsular War, from the recollections of, 74, 385.
 Haunted Chamber; or, the Pedlar's Panic, 297.
 Hermit of Bath, 344.
 Houses, comparative value of, in London and Paris, 134.
 Hunting Widow, the; or, a Week in the Woods and Prairies, 502.
 Hunt, Leigh, notice of Mr. Munden in his "Sketches of Performers," 285; his anecdote of Mr. Munden, 377.
 Hydromania, 391.
 Hyphane Hilary, Healthy Lodgings by, 183; the Haunted Chamber, 297; the Epicure, 380; Dainty Fare; or, the Double Disaster by, 476; Paddy Max, or the Smuggler's Exit, 582.
- I.
- Inledon, Mr., his benefit at the Italian Opera House, 368.
 Indian mode of sowing corn, 508.
 Ireland, songs, the popular literature of, 307; popular ballads of Ireland, 549.
 Irishman, a Fleet-marriage by an, 463.
 Irish detachment, an, 486.
 Irish, their love of fighting, 486.
 Irish songs, 307.
- J.
- Johnson, Jaek. See Ledbury.
 Johnstone, Mr. John, comparison between him and Inledon, 368.
 Jones, W., the Fairies' Glee by, 39; the Emigrant's Farewell, 58; Kenilworth Castle, 351; Friar Tuck's Chaunt, 492; My Sister's Song, 586; the Monarchs of Earth, 631.
 Jordan, Mrs., notice of, and retirement from the stage, 281.
 Joy and Hope, 167. See Poetry.
 Judge and the Master, ballad of the, 272.
- K.
- Kean, Mr. Edmund, his reception at Drury Lane, 278; excellence of his performance, 279; dislike of criticisms and flattery, 280; his increasing popularity, 367.
 K. G., stanzas by, 390.
 Kemble, Mr. John, farewell dinner to, on his retirement from the stage, 369.
 Kenilworth Castle, a poem, 351.
 King of Dalkey, song, 494.
- L.
- Lawrence, Captain, checks the advance of the Affghans in the retreat from Cabul, 3; his services to the captives, 145.
 "Leather away with the oak stick," song, 405.
 Ledbury, Titus, his adventures with his friend Jack Johnson—Johnson's escape from the house on the canal, 11; Ledbury's sudden appearance at her Majesty's theatre, 16; accompanies the "Tourniquets" to the races, 27; Ledbury and Jack upon Aseot race-course,

- 105 ; attends Signor Pizzicato's concert, 112 ; break up of Mr. Rawkins's establishment, 116 ; Ledbury and Jack Johnson start for the Continent, 121 ; their journey along the Rhine, 209 ; Ledbury's inspiration, and Jack's version of the Legend of Drachenfels, 214 ; Ledbury's attack on the fortress of Ehrenbreitstein, 218 ; Mr. De Robinson, junior, has an interview with Prodggers, 224 ; Caravan of Wonders sets out for Clumpley, 230 ; result of Mr. Prodggers's itinerant speculation, 317 ; fête champêtre at Mrs. De Robinson's, 321 ; continuation of the journey of Ledbury and Jack up the Rhine, 326. 334 ; the pass of the St. Gothard—Ledbury and Jack arrive at Milan, 421 ; Mr. Prodggers seeks to establish himself, 428 ; Jack Johnson's good fortune, 434 ; the flight over the Simplon, 438 ; a fête at Paris—Mr. Ledbury's last appearance in public, 525 ; the death of Edward Morris, 531 ; Mr. Ledbury and Jack Johnson once more return home, 535 ; the wishes of all parties accomplished, 540 ; Jack Johnson's last indiscretion, 543 ; settlement of everybody's affairs, 546.
- London Banker, the, 598.
- London, region of the Clubs in, 456.
- Love, tractate upon, 163.
- Lys, G. De, Marriage of Belphegor by, 197. 516. 608.
- M.
- M'Dougall, Alexander, the battle of Hastings, a poem, by, 138 ; song, 306.
- Maenaghten, Sir W. H., killed by the Affghans, 1, n. 8 ; his negotiations with Ukbur Khan, 8.
- Macnaghten, Lady, one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1 : saves her property on the retreat from Cabul, 9 ; in Ukbur Khan's camp, 142 ; her baggage ordered to be searched, 158 ; her method for protecting property, 160.
- Mainwaring, Mrs., one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1, n. ; her perilous situation in the retreat from Cabul, 5 ; in Ukbur Khan's camp, 142.
- Major Marvel's Yarn, "A case of Monomania," 168.
- Maturin, his contrast of Joy and Sorrow, 368.
- Mein, Lieut., his assistance to Lieut. Sturt, in the retreat from Cabul, 4 ; procures him Christian burial, 7 ; escorts Lady Sale and Mrs. Sturt to the camp of Ukbur Khan, 7.
- Melodies, Moore's Irish, 308.
- Monarchs of Earth, the, 631.
- "Monomania," a case of, 163.
- Moore, notice of his Melodies, 308.
- Moore, Mr. Peter, epigram on, 280.
- Mooted Question, the, 94, see Gaol Chaplain.
- Munden, J. S., the Comedian, Memoirs of, 40 ; his disagreement with the proprietors of Covent Garden Theatre, 41 ; his appearance at the Haymarket, 43 ; letters to, from G. Colman, 46 ; his country success, 47 ; introduced to Sir Walter Scott, 47 ; Scott's remarks on his performance, 48 ; his villa at Kentish Town, 48 ; his reception at Drury Lane, 277 ; his favourite plays revived, 278 ; his opinion as to Kean's performances, 279 ; introduced to Mrs. Garrick, 281 ; his performances at Drury Lane in 1814, 282 ; personification of the Greenwich Pensioner in Dibdin's farce, 283 ; character of, in Leigh Hunt's Sketches of Performers, 285 ; "Elia's" encomiums upon him, 370 ; offers to, from Mr. Elliston, 371 ; agreement between him and Mr. Elliston, 372 ; his concluding performances, 374 ; his after-life, 376 ; anecdotes of him, 377 ; declines persuasions to return to the stage, 379 ; his decease, 380.
- Murray, Hon. R. D., Cities and Wilds of Andaluca by, 59.
- Music Master, the foreign, 419.
- N.
- Napier, General, his engagements in the Peninsular War, 387.
- Nativity, the Shrine of the, 485.
- O.
- Ode in praise of Drunkenness, 313.
- O'Neil, Miss, 282.
- Orlando Griffin, 287.
- Ossory, Upper, Countess of, her letter to George Selwyn, 513.
- Othee ; or, the Fisherman of the Pulk, 466. 587.
- "Overdone," the, 173.
- P.
- Paddy Max ; or, the Smuggler's Exit, 582.
- Palmer, F. P., Christmas Day by, 618.
- Pedlar's Panic, the, 297.
- Peninsular War, anecdotes of the, 74.
- Pilgrim in London, an Autumn at Bayswater by, 624.
- Pindar, Paul, the Vargeses by, 557.
- Philosophy of Drunkenness, 34.
- Poetry :—The Convert's Dream, 33 ; Fading Flowers, 127 ; A Sigh for the Days of Old, 128 ; the Battle of Hastings, 138 ; Joy and Hope, 167 ; Marriage of Belphegor, 197. 516 ; the South Wind, 276 ; Kenilworth Castle, 351 ; the Shrine of the Nativity, 485 ; Friar Tuck's Chant, 492 ; the Monarchs of Earth, 631.
- Pottinger, Major, one of the Cabul Prisoners wounded in the retreat, 143.
- Poyntz, A., Clubs and Clubmen by, 453 ; the London Banker, 598.
- Prairies, a Week in the Woods and, 502.
- Prison Chapel, remarks on, 444.
- R.
- Ray, Miss, account of her murder, 512.
- Raymond, G., the Philosophy of Drunkenness by, 34.

- Reflections on Strange Coincidences, 493.
 "Rejected Addresses," origin of the, 277.
 Regular Habits, 393.
 Ripplingille, E. V., Othee; or the Fisherman of the Pulk, by, 466. 587.
 S.
- St. Albans, Duchess of (Miss Mellon), notice of her marriage with Mr. Coutts, 284; with the Duke of St. Albans, 285; anecdote of her generosity, 355.
 St. John, J. A., the Hunting Widow; or Adventures in Texas by, 502.
 Sale, Lady, one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1, n.; wounded in the retreat, 4, 6; mistaken when wounded for an officer, 141; in Ukbur Khan's Camp, 142.
 Sam Slick, notions of, 81.
 Selwyn, George, character of his correspondence, 511; his bon mots, 512; letters to him, 513, 515.
 Scott, Sir Walter, his intimacy with Mr. Terry, 48; his reception of, and opinion of Mr. Munden, 47; his translations of Swiss ballads, 242; his description of Miss Baillie, 373.
 Sheridan, R. B., monument to his memory by Mr. Peter Moore, 281; his opinion of the earlier dramatists, 286, n.; Byron's monody on his death, 367.
 Shovel, the polished, 605.
 Shrine of the Nativity, the, a poem, 485.
 Singleton, Jeremiah, a Tractate about Love by, 163.
 Skinner, Captain, his negotiations with Ukbur Khan, 7.
 Smith, Albert, Adventures of Ledbury by, 11. 105. 209. 317. 421. 525.
 Sober Reflections on Strange Coincidences, 493.
 Songs — War Songs of Switzerland, 241; Take back the Wreath, 306; Irish Songs, 307; Irish Ballads, 549; Song by a Member of the Statistical Society, 571; My Sister's Song, 586.
 Sooltan Khan Mahommed, description of 10; conduct of, 150, 151.
 Soorma, an Eastern remedy for blindness, 141.
 South Wind, the, 276.
 Spain, notice of cold water being used in, as a remedy, 392, n.
 Stanzas, The winds are hushed, 390.
 Statistical Society, Song by a Member of the, 571.
 Sturt, Lieut., mortally wounded in the retreat from Cabul, 4, 6; his death, 7.
 Sturt, Mrs., one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1, n.
 Switzerland, popular war songs of, 241.
- T.
- Taylor, Dr. W. C., popular war songs of Switzerland by, 241; popular Irish ballads, 549.
 Terry, Mr., his acquaintance with Sir Walter Scott, 48; notice of his opera of Guy Mannering, 48, n.
 Terry O'Daly's visit to the Château D'Eu, 401.
 Texas, remarks on the cultivation of the ground in the, 580.
 Thomson, Major, account of the English captives at Cabul transmitted by, 1; his gallant conduct at Ghuznee, ib. n.
 Trevor, Mrs., one of the prisoners at Cabul, 1, n.; in Ukbur Khan's camp, 142.
 Troup, Captain, one of the Cabul prisoners wounded in the retreat, 143.
 Truth, search for, 238.
 Turkey, the Crammed, 315.
- U.
- Ukbur Khan, Mahommed, female prisoners detained at Cabul by, 1; hostages sent to, 4; offers protection to the ladies and their families, 7; resolutely stipulated for the women and children to be retained as hostages, 8; his attachment to Sooltan Jan, 10; his personal appearance and reception of his prisoners, 10; attempt to assassinate him, 159; his disposition, 160.
- V.
- Vargeses, the, 557.
 Virginia, cultivation of the ground in, 508.
- W.
- Warner, Rev. Dr., his letter to George Selwyn, 513.
 War, the Penitular, anecdotes of, 74.
 War Songs—of Switzerland, 241; of the Eighty-Eighth, 501.
 Weber, Veit, his ballads, 243.
 Where is Truth? 238.
 Whiskey Drinker, a night with an Irish 260; Terence O'Daly's visit to the Château D'Eu, communicated by, 401; Sober Reflections on Strange Coincidences, 493.
 Whistlercraft, P., Desultory Dottings on Drink by, 129.
 White's Club, observations on, 455, 458.
 Whitehead, C., Orlando Griffin by, 287; Five-and-Thirty, or thereabouts, 562.
 Willis, Hal, Hydromania by, 390.
 Winifred Waldron, the Devonshire Sorceress. See Gaol Chaplain.
 Woodcocks no Game, 380.
 Woods and Prairies, a week in the, 502.
 Wroughton, Mr., character of his performances, 282.

END OF THE FOURTEENTH VOLUME.

of al-
Sir era
u, he sh
l ; at
p, ri-

ri-
sto ond
3 ; nis
of s-
.

8.

ge ne

h ne
;
ion

.
;

rrp-