Toronto.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the accompanying reports respecting the various organizations constituted to undertake contracts of insurance, indemnity or guarantee in the Province of Ontario. Of these insurers the Ontario Insurance Act (R.S.O. 1897, c. 203) distinguishes the following divisions :

A. Registered Dominion Licensees : being Insurance Corporations, Companies or Underwriters operating under or by virtue of the Insurance Act of Canada and registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance in the Province.

B. Provincial Licensees : being Insurance Companies licensed, inspected and registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance therein.

C. Registered Friendly Societies : being Societies registered by the Province of Ontario, for the transaction of insurance therein.

Of these divisions, the Companies comprised in Division B (Provincial Licensees) are alone inspected by the Province, and are here reported on in the usual form and with the usual financial details pursuant to the provisions of the Ontario Insurance Act.

The report upon Division A (Dominion Licensees) made on the 26th January, 1893, described fully their mode and place of incorporation : their statutory powers, duties, rights and obligations ; their internal organization ; the relation of the members, inter se ; the liabilities of the members to the creditors of the Company ; the kind or kinds of insurance for which the Company is registered in Ontario ; and the extent to which assets of the Company have been deposited in various countries as special security for the policy-holders of those several countries. In the present report, except in cases of new licensees, it has not been considered necessary to set out all of these details. Where any change has occurred in the Company's power or status, of which the Department has received notice, the nature and extent of such changes are indicated.

All of the Companies in Division A, except Ocean Marine Companies, make financial statements annually to the Dominion of Canada ; and those statements, as revised by the Dominion Superintendent, can be found in the Superintendent's Annual Report. The balance sheets, therefore, printed here, under Division A, are limited to those of Ocean Marine Companies.

The report upon Division C (Friendly Societies) made on the 26th of January, 1893, related to their mode and place of incorporation ; the statutes and instruments under which the Societies were constituted, and those by which they are now governed ; the kind of insurance or insurance benefits undertaken ; that report also showed inter alia whether or not the certificate holders generally are secured by a surplus fund; and, if a surplus fund is maintained, whether any of this surplus is held in Ontario, if any how much, how invested, and by whom held and controlled.

The present report on Division C contains in substance the Annual Statements for the year ending 31st December, 1905, made by the Friendly Societies to the Insurance Department for Ontario, under section 96 of the Ontario Insurance Act (R.S.O. 1897, c. 203).

In order to prevent unnecessary delay in publication, the three Divisions have been placed simultaneously in the printer's hands—the pages of the several divisions being distinguished by the Division letter prefixed. Division indexes have been inserted at the end of the volume. These indexes show the Companies and Societies standing registered at the dates therein mentioned.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J. HOWARD HUNTER,

Inspector of Insurance and Registrar of Friendly Societies.

DIVISION A.

INSURANCE CORPORATIONS, OR COMPANIES, OPERATING UNDER THE INSURANCE ACT OF CANADA, AND REGISTERED BY THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO FOR THE TRANSACTION OF INSURANCE IN THE PROVINCE.

DIVISION A.—INSURANCE CORPORATIONS OR COMPANIES, OPERATING UNDER THE INSURANCE ACT OF CANADA AND REGISTERED BY THE PROVINCE OF ONTARIO FOR THE TRANSACTION OF INSURANCE IN THE PROVINCE.

NOTE.—The report upon Division A made on the 26th January, 1893, described fully their mode and place of incorporation; their statutory powers, duties, rights and obligations; their internal organization; the relation of the members inter se; the liabilities of the members to the creditors of the Company; the kind or kinds of insurance for which the Company is registered in Ontario; and the extent to which assets of the Company have been deposited in various countries as special security for the policyholders of those several countries. In the present report, except in the case of new admissions to registry, it has not been considered necessary to set out all of these details. Where any change has occurred in the Company's powers or status, of which the Department of Insurance has had notice, the nature and the extent of such change are indicated.

All the Companies in Division A, except Ocean Marine Companies, make financial statements annually to the Dominion of Canada; and those statements as revised by the Dominion Superintendent can be found in the Superintendent's Annual Report. The balance sheets therefore printed here under Division A are limited to those of Ocean Marine Companies.

The deposits of Companies in this Division have been revised up to the 17th May, 1906.

CANADIAN TRUSTEES.

W. M. Ramsay, Chairman, Montreal; Hon. A. Desjardin, Deputy Chairman, Montreal; R. W. Smith, J. O. Gravel, Montreal; H. M. Lambert, Manager, Montreal; B. E. Hards, Assistant Manager, Montreal.

1. Head Office, London, England. Chief Agent and Attorney for Ontario, Henry D. P. Armstrong, Toronto. Suits by or against the Company may be brought in the name of the Company, which (as mentioned below), became on the 25th May, 1893, incorporated as a Company limited by shares.

2. The legislative enactments by which the powers, duties, rights and obligations of the Company are now declared, defined or governed are the following; United Kingdom, 13 and 14 Vict., 1850, chap. 25, an Act for the better enabling the Guardian Fire and Life Assurance Company to sue and be sued, and to alter certain provisions of their Deed of Settlement, and to give other powers to the Company; 29 and 30 Viet., 1866, chap. 225, an Act to enable the Guardian Fire and Life Assurance Company to reduce the amount of their paid-up subscription capital stock, and to alter certain provisions of their Deed of Settlement and to amend The Guardian Assurance Company's Act, 1850, and to give further powers to the Company and Directors thereof; 33 and 34 Vict., 1870, chap. 61, The Life Assurance Company's Act, and the Guardian Assurance Company's Act, 1893. More particularly referred to below.

3. The members, prior to the 25th of May, 1893, were related as shareholders in an unincorporated joint stock company, and the liability of the members was unlimited, except so far as their liability was limited by the 51st article of the Deeds of Settlement, which required that all policies and instruments of assurance to be granted by the Company should contain a proviso limiting the liability of the shareholders in the Company to the amount of their respective shares in the capital stock and funds of the Company, and by the 109th article of the same deed which required that all deeds and contracts entered into by the Directors and other officers of the Company should contain a like proviso, and by the proviso to the effect aforesaid, which by the practice of the company was actually inserted in all the policies of assurance issued by the Company. The Company was advised that by the laws of the United Kingdom the effect of the said articles and proviso when so inserted was to restrict the liability of the shareholders to the amount remaining unpaid upon the shares held by them, so far as regarded their liability to the persons assured by or claiming under such policy, instrument, deed or contract containing such proviso.

By the Guardian Assurance Company's Act, 1893 (Imp.), which received the Royal Assent April 29th, 1893 (56-7 V. c. 13), the Company was empowered to register under the Companies Act, 1862 to 1890, as a limited liability Company, and this was done on the 25th of May, 1893. Section 9 of the Act of 1893 provides: "Nothing in this Act shall operate to prejudice or effect the rights of the existing policy holders of the Company." Copies of the Act of 1893, of the Memorandum of Association, 1893, and the Certificate of Incorporation are filed in the Department of Insurance for Ontario.

4. The Company is now authorized by license issued by the Dominion of Canada, bearing date 31st of March, 1906, and expiring on the 31st day of March, 1907, to transact Fire Insurance.

5. Deposited assets.—Assets of the Company are deposited and held in Canada as special security for the policy holders therein as follows: Deposit accepted to the value of $397,998, held by the Receiver-General of Canada.

I.

UNREGISTERED INSURANCE CORPORATIONS; PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES:—ONTARIO INSURANCE ACT, (R. S. O., 1897, C. 203) SECTIONS 85 TO 86a WITH AMENDMENTS TO 1896 (INCLUSIVE).

No unregistered corporation to undertake insurance.

85.—(1) After the 31st day of December, 1892, no person or persons, or body corporate or unincorporated, other than a corporation standing registered under this Act, and persons duly authorized by law and by such registered corporation to act in its behalf, shall undertake or effect, or offer to undertake or effect any contract of insurance.

Penalty.

(2) If any promoter, organizer, office-bearer, manager, director, officer, collector, agent, employee, or person whatsoever, other than as enacted in the next preceding subsection, undertakes or effects, or agrees or offers to undertake or effect any contract of insurance, he shall be guilty of an offence, and upon summary conviction thereof before any Police Magistrate or Justice of the Peace having jurisdiction where the offence was committed, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $200 and costs, and not less than $20 and costs, and in default of payment the offender shall be imprisoned with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months and not less than one month; and on a second or any subsequent conviction he shall be imprisoned with hard labour for a term not exceeding twelve months and not less than three months.

63 Vict., c. 17, s. 24.

(3) Any person who sets up or causes to be set up any sign or inscription containing the name of a corporation, or who distributes or publishes or causes to be distributed or published any proposal, circular, card, advertisement, printed form or like document in the name of the corporation, or who makes or causes to be made, any written or oral solicitation on the corporation's behalf, or who collects or takes, or causes to be collected or taken, any premium of insurance on the corporation's behalf, shall be deemed to offer to undertake or effect a contract of insurance within the meaning of this section.

Burden of proof.

(4) In any trial or cause or proceeding under this Act the burden of proving registry shall be upon the corporation or person charged.

Printing of words "Assessment System."

(5) Every application, contract, or other instrument of such insurance, and every circular, advertisement or publication soliciting insurance issued or used in Ontario for the purposes of assessment insurance shall bear the words "Assessment System" printed or stamped in large type at the head thereof; any contravention of this subsection shall constitute an offence and shall be punishable as for an offence against subsection 2 of this section.

- Application of fine. (6) Any one may be prosecutor or complainant under this Act; and one-half of any fine imposed by virtue of this Act shall, when received, belong to Her Majesty for the use of the Province, and the other half shall belong to the prosecutor or complainant.
- Appeal. (7) Any person convicted under this Act who gives notice of appeal against the decision of the convicting Justice, shall be required before being released from custody to give to the Justice satisfactory security for the amount of the penalty, costs of conviction, and appeal, and the appeal shall be to a Divisional Court of the High Court.
- Security for costs. (8) All informations or complaints for the prosecution of offences under this Act shall be laid or made in writing within one year after the commission of the offence.
- Limitation of prosecutions. 86. Every offence committed by a corporation, or by the insurance branch of a corporation against this Act shall be deemed to have been also committed by every officer of the same bound by virtue of his office or otherwise to fulfil any duty whereof such offence is a breach, or if there be no such officer, then by every member of the committee of management of the same, unless such member be proved to have been ignorant of his duty, or to have attempted to prevent the commission of such offence; and every default under this Act constituting an offence shall constitute, if continued, a new offence in every week during which the default continues.
- Offence by corporation to be an offence by officers thereof; continued default to constitute new offence. 86a. In the case of any risk, if it is proved to the satisfaction of the Insurance Registrar that no insurance or no sufficient insurance can be obtained at the ordinary rate of premium from insurance corporations standing registered under this Act, the Insurance Registrar may under his hand and seal of office, grant in writing a permit to the person therein named to effect the necessary amount of insurance in or with one or more foreign unregistered corporations, insurers, or underwriters, for a term not exceeding twelve months, specified in the said permit; and such permit shall for the said term exempt the said person and the said insurance contract from the operation of sections 54, 85 and 86 of this Act. In respect of each such permit a fee of $2 shall be payable to the Provincial Treasurer.
- When Permit may be granted to insure with foreign unregistered corporations. 2 Edw. VII, c. 12, s. 22 (5).
4 Edw. VII, c. 15, s. 3.

ADDRESS ON "THE ONTARIO STATUTORY CONDITIONS OF FIRE INSURANCE POLICIES, WITH PARTICULAR REFERENCE TO STATUTORY CONDITIONS NOS. 1 TO 4."

Delivered by Mr. J HOWARD HUNTER, M.A., K.C., Inspector of Insurance, at the Annual Meeting of the Mutual Fire Underwriters' Association, in the Temple Building, Toronto, on February 28th, 1906.

[PROCEEDINGS OF THE MUTUAL FIRE UNDERWRITERS' ASSOCIATION OF ONTARIO, Wednesday, 28th February, 1906].

PRESIDENT LEVI STAUFFER presented Mr. Hunter.

MR. HUNTER:

In the Province of Ontario, about thirty-five years ago, great and general complaint was made of the conditions imposed by fire insurance companies upon their policyholders. In those days every Company constructed its own conditions, which were constantly becoming more vexatious and oppressive. As Mr. Justice Armour afterwards said, "Every person began to call upon the Legislature to interfere to put a stop to such injustice, and no one called so loudly as the Judges:"

Ballagh v. Royal Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1879), 44 U. C. R., at 88.

In 1872 matters came to a crisis; and the Court of Queen's Bench, then constituted of William Buell Richards, C. J., Joseph Curran Morrison and Adam Wilson, J. J., in a strong judgment (Smith v. Commercial Union Ins. Co., 33 U. C. R. 69), called upon the Legislature to intervene.

The fire insurance policy in the particular case then before the Court had an appalling barricade of conditions, the fourteenth of which conditions had no less than thirty-six branches.

As it was this judgment that directly occasioned the Statutory Conditions, an extract (33 U. C. R., at 90) will prove interesting:

"The conduct of Companies, when enforcing rigidly such conditions, has often been complained of by the Courts, by reason of the number and nature, and difficulty of the conditions they introduce into their policies; and the time perhaps has come when the Legislature should interfere, to stand between them and those they insure or pretend to insure, or, in other words, the public, by limiting them to such conditions as the Courts shall determine to be reasonable.

"That the Companies are often imposed on by wilful fires, and by very fraudulent conduct on the part of the assured, is too well known. But how far the Companies may be answerable for some portion of that blame, from the loose way in which they gather up their risks, by agents who are travelling everywhere in quest of them, and who may look chiefly to the number and extent of them, as it is upon the amount taken they get their commission, instead of making the character of the party, and the value, nature, and situation of the property the basis of the contract, must also be considered.

"However these matters may be, it is quite manifest the adoption of such conditions and provisions as these is not the proper remedy. They damage the honest man perhaps more than the dishonest one. The proper cure for common and gross dishonesty on the part of those who insure is, that the Companies shall be more careful in selecting those with whom they wish to deal.

"The public will be better served, for with a better class of risks the rates will be lower. There will be fewer fraudulent claims made. The fair dealing man will get his money when he reasonably shows he has a right to it, and the Companies will be relieved from the temptation of not paying under the cover of their embarrassing conditions.

"As the Companies have not adopted, and are not likely to adopt of their own accord, that mode of doing business, the only way is to force it upon them by the Legislature enabling the Courts to prohibit and restrict their conditions. And when that is done, the Companies will be obliged to be more careful of the risks which they take.

"At present it is a mere system of attack and defence. The more fraudulent or felonious the attack, the more numerous, complicated and guarded the defences are. But that is a war calculated only for two very special classes of persons. The honest people are lost sight of, and suffer in the conflict.

"The object should be, to restore this protection (fire insurance), invaluable when honestly administered, to its legitimate and mercantile character and purpose; and that will have to be done by legislation unless the Companies will modify their conditions."

* * * * *

The Legislature yielding to these calls passed a preliminary enactment, 38 Vict., chap. 65 (assented to 21st December, 1874), entitled "An Act to Amend the Laws relating to Fire Insurances." Section 1 empowered the Court or Judge before whom any claim for fire insurance was tried, to relieve the assured from forfeiture of his insurance for non-compliance or imperfect compliance with the conditions of his policy, if such forfeiture appeared to the Court or Judge inequitable. That provision of the Act of 1874 now stands in The Ontario Insurance Act as sect. 172 (1). In two early cases that section was tentatively attacked as ultra vires of the Province:

Billington v. Provincial Insurance Co. (1876) 24 Gr. at 304.

Dear v. Western Assurance Co. (1877) 41 U. C. R. at 561-2.

The Courts snuffed out for the time being the constitutional question; but later on, by the concerted action of all the great companies, the question blazed up fiercely.

The second section of that Act of 1874 provided for the issue of a Commission by the Lieutenant-Governor, addressed to three or more persons holding judicial office in this Province, for the purpose of determining what conditions of a fire insurance policy are just and reasonable, the Commissioners being empowered to take evidence and to hear parties interested.

Accordingly on the 10th February, 1875, a Commission was issued to Richards, C. J., Spragge, C., Hagarty, C. J. C. P., and Strong and Patterson, J. J., of the Court of Error and Appeal.

On the 14th January, 1876, a report was made by the Commission over the signatures of Spragge, C., Hagarty, C. J. C. P., and Patterson, J., of the Court of Error and Appeal—the other two Judges having, before the Commission had concluded its labors, been called up to the Supreme Court of Canada. The report states that Burton, J. (afterwards C. J. O.) and Harrison, C. J., had been requested to lend their assistance, and had concurred in the Conditions signed by the Commissioners.

"These Conditions," the Commissioners say, "have been settled after consideration of the policies of all the insurance companies doing business in the Province. Suggestions have also been received from several Provincial merchants, and the policy suggested by the Committee of the Dominion Board of Trade has also been made use of. The Board of Fire Underwriters, of Toronto, were furnished with a draft of the proposed Conditions, and their suggestions and criticisms were received by the Commission, and, when practicable, were admitted.

"It is hoped, therefore, that the present Conditions as settled embody what is reasonable in the views of the two great classes interested—insurers and insured."

Adopting the Conditions recommended by the Commission, the Legislature passed the Fire Insurance Policy Act, 1876,—39 Vict., chap. 24—the provisions of which, as since revised, are now contained in sections 168 to 173 of the Ontario Insurance Act—R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203.

The constitutional right of the Province to pass such public general enactments as section 1 of the Act of 1874, and the whole Act of 1876, was based on section 92 (13) of the British North America Act—30-31 Vict., chap. 3 (Imp.)—which commits to the Province power to make laws in relation to property and civil rights in the Province.

The Fire Insurance Policy Act, or Statutory Conditions Act, which was assented to on the 10th February, 1876, took effect on the 1st July, 1876, and at first applied only to policies of fire insurance, and not, for example, to interim receipts:

Also at first the Act was held not to apply to the policies of mutual fire insurance companies:

Frey v. Wellington Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1880) 5 S. C. R. 82;
Ballagh v. Royal Mutual Fire Ins. Co., 5 A. R., 87;

but this was cured in 1881 by 44 Vict., chap. 20, sect. 26.

Then in 1882, for the word "policies" the much more comprehensive word "contracts" was substituted:—45 Vict., chap. 20, sects. 2, 3, 4; and see now R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203, sect. 2 (37), (41). Section 168 of The Ontario Insurance Act, R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203, gathers up and consolidates all extensions of the original enactment, and declares that the Statutory Conditions "shall be deemed to be part of every contract (whether sealed, written, or oral)" of fire insurance hereafter entered into or renewed, or otherwise in force in Ontario with respect to any property therein or in transit therefrom or thereto.

Not until after strenuous litigation was the Statutory Conditions Act obeyed or recognized by insurance companies which were incorporated by the Dominion or by the Imperial Parliament. The Act had been held by the Ontario Courts to be constitutional in Ulrich v. National Insurance Co. (1877), 42 U. C. R.; affirmed 4 A. R. 84. But another opportunity offered in 1877 to raise the constitutional issue, and this time it was carried through all the Courts up to the Privy Council.

On the 4th May, 1877, William Parsons, a merchant of Orangeville, took out a policy in the Citizens' Insurance Co. for $2,500 on a building occupied as a hardware store in that town.

Later on in the same year, on the 3rd August, he effected by interim receipt in the Queen Insurance Company, of Liverpool, an insurance of $2,500 on a general stock of hardware and other goods contained in that building. On the very same day, apparently by mere accident, and in Parsons' absence, both building and contents were destroyed by fire. The loss falling on each company was insignificant. "But behold how great a matter a little fire kindleth!" This little fire at Orangeville sent up to the Privy Council the most momentous constitutional question the Dominion had yet witnessed, involving the legislative powers of the Dominion and of the Provinces. The Citizens' Insurance Company had been incorporated by the Dominion; the Queen Insurance Company by the Imperial Parliament. The question was as to the right of the Province to prescribe the terms of their contracts in the Province. This issue was fought through all the Courts up to the Privy Council, and in every Court the right of the Province was upheld:

Parsons v. Citizens' Insurance Co., 43 U. C. R., 261; 32 U. C. C. P., 492;
4 A. R. 96; 4 S. C. R. 215; 7 App. Ca. 96.

Parsons v. Queen Insurance Co., 29 U. C. C. P. 188; 43 U. C. R. 271; 4
A. R. 103; 4 S. C. R. 215; 7 App. Ca. 96.

The plaintiff, Parsons, though succeeding on the constitutional issue, failed on others; and so had to pay his own costs in the Privy Council. Entangled in these causes célèbres, he had the melancholy gratification of having his name preserved for ever, like a fly in amber.

The Statutory Conditions framed by the Commission have, with little alteration, stood the severe test of thirty years. During those thirty years the volume of fire insurance transacted in Ontario has increased five-fold; but there are not as many policies contested in the Courts as there were thirty years ago. Insurance litigation has not altogether ceased, for the millenium is not yet. The meaning of some of the Statutory Conditions themselves, though they were drawn by Judges, has been sharply contested; on which Gwynno, J., commented in City of London Ins. Co. v. Smith, 15 S. C. R. at 78.

Our Statutory Conditions suggested to the United States their Standard Policies, which, however, are not at all so fair to policyholders as our Conditions.

The Statutory Conditions of Ontario have been already adopted by three of the sister Provinces in the Dominion:

Manitoba—Fire Insurance Policy Act, Revised Statutes 1891, chap. 59; Revised Statutes 1902, chap. 87.

British Columbia—Fire Insurance Policy Act, Revised Statutes, 1897, chap. 82.

Nova Scotia—Fire Insurance Policies Act, Statutes of 1899, chap. 30; Revised Statutes, 1900, chap. 147.

And other Provinces are on the way.

The Statutory Conditions of Ontario form 23 numbered paragraphs of section 168 of The Ontario Insurance Act and are introduced by the following provision:

"168. The conditions set forth in this section shall, as against the insurer, be deemed to be part of every contract (whether sealed, written, or oral), of fire insurance hereafter entered into or renewed or otherwise in force in Ontario with respect to any property therein or in transit therefrom or thereto, and shall be printed on every such policy with the heading Statutory Conditions, and no stipulation to the contrary, or providing for any variation, addition or omission, shall be binding on the assured unless evidenced in the manner prescribed by sections 169 and 170."

"Shall as against the insurer."—Notwithstanding these words the Privy Council in Parsons v. Citizens' Insurance Co., 7 App. Ca. 96, held that as against both insurer and assured the Statutory Conditions govern every policy.

"Shall be deemed to be part."—These words were explained by Harrison, C. J., in Ulrich v. National Insurance Co. (1877), 42 U. C. R., at 152. He pointed out that the section does not make imperative the printing of the Conditions, and he added: "If printed in the policy, they would, under ordinary circumstances, be a part of the policy; but, whether printed or not by the insurers, they are to be deemed to be part."

"Entered into."—Section 143 of The Ontario Insurance Act, is to be remembered in this connection:

"143. Where the subject matter of any insurance contract is property, or an insurable interest within the jurisdiction of Ontario, or is a person domiciled or resident therein, any policy, certificate, interim receipt or renewal receipt, or writing evidencing the contract, shall, if signed, countersigned, issued or delivered over in Ontario, or committed to the postoffice, or to any carrier, messenger or agent, to be delivered or handed over to the assured, his assign or agent in Ontario, be deemed to evidence a contract, made therein, and the contract shall be construed according to the law thereof, and all moneys payable under the contract shall be paid at the office of the chief officer or agent in Ontario of the insuring corporation, in lawful money of Canada, and this section shall have effect notwithstanding any agreement, condition or stipulation to the contrary." Even before this enactment, see McIntyre v. National Insurance Co. (1879), 44 U. C. R., 501, affirmed 5 A. R., 580.

The effect of not printing the Statutory Conditions on the contract of fire insurance is to make the contract subject to these conditions pure and simple.

"169. If the insurer desires to vary the said conditions, or to omit any of them, or to add new conditions, there shall be added on the instrument of contract containing the printed Statutory Conditions words to the following effect, printed in conspicuous type and in ink of a different color."

Then follow the title and declaration:

"VARIATIONS IN CONDITIONS."

"This policy is issued on the above Statutory Conditions, with the following variations and additions:

"These variations (or as the case may be) are, by virtue of the Ontario Statute in that behalf, in force so far, as by the Court or Judge before whom a question is tried relating thereto, they shall be held to be just and reasonable to be exacted by the Company."

In Sly v. Ottawa Agricultural Insurance Co., 29 U. C. C. P., 28, it was held that the Variations must be headed as directed in the Statute.

Then as to the printing of the Variations: In Sands v. Standard Insurance Co., 26 Gr. 113; 27 Gr. 167, the Variations were printed in type of the same size as Statutory Conditions, but in ink of blue color hardly distinguishable from the black color of the Statutory conditions. Held, not a compliance with the Act.

In Lount v. London Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1905), 9 O. L. R., 549, affirmed 9 O. L. R., 699, the Variations were printed in scarlet ink, in type of the same size as the Statutory Conditions. Held, that the Statute was complied with.

There Street, J., said (9 O. L. R., at 553):

"I think the Variations are printed in a manner complying with the Act. The Act requires that they shall be printed in conspicuous type, and in ink of different color. The object of this requirement is that the fact that they are Variations shall be brought prominently to the notice of the assured. The type used is the same size and shape as that of the Statutory Conditions; but the printing of the Statutory Conditions is in black ink, that of the Variations is in a bright scarlet. The Act does not in terms require that the type used in the Variations shall be of different size and shape; it only requires that it shall be in some way conspicuous, besides being in an ink of a different color. If the Statutory Conditions were printed in black and the Variations in dark blue, the same sized type being used, it might be difficult to say that the type of the Variations was sufficiently conspicuous to comply with the Statute. Looking, however, at the strong contrast between the black of the Statutory Conditions and the scarlet of the Variations I find the Act has been complied with in both its requirements by the conspicuous contrast between them."

The use of small or illegible type in the application or contract makes difficulties for the insurance Company:

Greet v. Citizens' Insurance Co., 27 Gr. 121; Cf.

Smith v. City of London Insurance Co., 11 O. R., 38; 11 S. C. R., 69.

Cockburn v. British America Ass. Co., 19 O. R. 245.

Ballagh v. Royal Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1880), 5 A. R., at 99.

Any "Variation," besides being properly printed, must be judicially held to be just and reasonable before it can have any effect on the contract. The question of just and reasonable refers back to the circumstances existing at the issue of the contract:

McKay v. Norwich Union Insurance Co., 27 O. R., 261.

Ballagh v. Royal Mutual Fire Insurance Co., 5 A. R., 87.

And then as to the meaning of "just and reasonable." In May v. Standard Fire Insurance Co. (1880), 5 A. R., at 622, Patterson, J. A., said:

"Conditions dealing with the same subjects as those given by the Statute, and being Variations of the Statutory Conditions, whether they are classed on the policy as Variations or as Additional Conditions, should be carefully scrutinized. They should, in my opinion, be tried by the standard afforded by the Statute, and held not to be just or reasonable if they impose upon the insured terms more stringent or onerous, or complicated than those attached by the Statute to the same subject or incident."

In a very recent case, Lount v. London Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1905), 9 O. L. R., at 703, MacMahon, J., delivering the judgment of the Divisional Court, cited the above passage as the test of "just or reasonable;" and cited also the following judgments, which were to the like effect:

Smith v. City of London Fire Insurance Co., 14 A. R., at 337; and McKay v. Norwich Union Insurance Co., 27 O. R., at 261, per Street, J.

A Variation or Added Condition may be in part reasonable and in part unreasonable. If the Variation or Added Condition is divisible, effect will be given to the part which is just and reasonable:

Wilby v. Standard Insurance Co., 3 O. R. 115.

The question whether a Variation is just and reasonable may be raised on appeal, though not raised at the trial:

Reddick v. Saugeen, 15 A. R., 363.

STATUTORY CONDITION 1.

(Misdescription, Misrepresentation and Non-disclosure).

The first of the Statutory Conditions is as follows:

"If any person or persons insures his or their buildings or goods, and causes the same to be described otherwise than as they really are, to the prejudice of the Company, or misrepresents or omits to communicate any circumstance which is material to be made known to the Company, in order to enable it to judge of the risk it undertakes, such insurance shall be of no force in respect to the property in regard to which the misrepresentation or omission is made."

In Moore v. Citizen's Fire Insurance Co. (1888), 14 A. R., at 588, Hagarty, C.J.O., one of the Commissioners who framed the Statutory Conditions, said that this Condition "leaves the law substantially unaltered and as it has been for the last century, and it merely puts into words the rules applicable to all insurances—fire, life, or marine."

Observe that this Condition is to be applied to insurances of buildings or goods, or both.

The first or antecedent clause of the Condition is divided into three branches, viz.:

- (i.) Case of such a misdescription of the insured property as is material to the risk.
- (ii.) Case of a misrepresentation of any circumstance material to the risk.
- (iii.) Case of non-disclosure of any circumstance material to the risk.

The consequent or penalty clause of the Condition says: "Such insurance shall be of no force in respect of the property in regard to which the misrepresentation or omission is made." It will be observed that there is nothing said as to the effect of a misdescription, so that the consequent clause is thus out of balance with the antecedent clause. To bring the two clauses into balance, we must assume that the framers of the Condition included in "misrepresentation," as used in the consequent clause, both misdescription of the property insured and misrepresentation of any circumstance material to the risk. The decided cases tacitly proceed on this assumption. We may therefore conveniently include misdescription in "misrepresentation."

The misrepresentation need not be fraudulent or wilfully false in order to avoid the policy; it will avoid the policy if untrue and material to the risk:

Sly v. Ottawa Agricultural Insurance Co., 29 C. P., 557.

Greet v. Citizens' Ins. Co., 27 Gr., 121; 5 A. R., 596.

A fatal misrepresentation may relate to the "moral" as well as to the physical risk; that is, it may relate to the risk of intentional fire as well as of accidental fire:—Reddick v. Saugeen, 15 A. R. 363, reversing on this point 14 O. R., at 516.

In Knisely v. Brit. Am. Ass. Co. (1900), 32 O. R., 376, the plaintiff in his application untruthfully answered "No" to the question "Is there any incendiary danger threatened or apprehended?" Held that this untruthful answer respecting a matter material to the risk avoided the policy. The facts were similar and the result the same in the earlier case, Campbell v. Victoria M. F. Ins. Co. (1880), 45 U. C. R., 412. So in Herbert v. Mercantile Fire Ins. Co. (1878), 43 U. C. R., 384.

Cf. Greet v. Citizens' Ins. Co. (1880), 5 A. R., 596.

Findley v. Fire Insurance Co. (1894), 25 O. R., 575.

Similarly as to the kindred questions whether the applicant has previously had property destroyed by fire, and whether the risk has ever been refused by any insurance Company, and whether a policy on that risk has ever been cancelled by any other Company:

Scott v. London and Lancashire F. Ins. Co. (1891), 21 O. R., 312.

"Moral" risk, or risk of intentional fire, may very obviously arise from the absence, or the insufficiency, of that insurable interest which is the essential basis for any contract of insurance. I may remind you that in fire insurance, the insurable interest must subsist not only at the time of the fire, but also at the time of making the contract: Howard v. Lancashire Fire Ins. Co. (1885) 11 S. C. R. at 94; Caldwell v. Stadacona Ins. Co. (1883) 11 S. C. R., at 226. In my remarks to you last year, (Report of Inspector of Insurance, 1905, pp. C 204, 209), I dwelt at some length upon the doctrine of insurable interest; it will now be sufficient if I briefly apply the doctrine to Statutory Condition 1.

Mis-statement of Title.—An applicant's misuse of a word such as "owner" will not of itself be a fatal breach of that Condition. A mortgagor of realty almost invariably thinks himself, and talks, as the "owner;" though he owns only the equity of redemption. In Ottawa Agricultural Co. v. Sheridan (1880) 5 S. C. R., p. 157, the policyholder in answer to one question in his application said he held the insured building in fee simple, while elsewhere in the same application he said the building was mortgaged for $1,000; policy upheld. A tenant for life or a tenant by the curtesy would, in an application for fire insurance, in reply to the question "owner or tenant," answer "owner." In Caldwell v. Stadacona Insurance Co. (1883), 11 S. C. R., at 227-8, Ritchie, C. J., said:—“There is a great distinction between a tenant from year to year, or for years, and a tenant for life in this, that in the case of the former he is in no sense the owner of the property, while in the latter case, the tenant for life, during the continuance of the tenancy, is the absolute owner entitled for the time being to the whole interest in the property, and the rents and profits thereof.” Where a mere lessee of “premises” held himself out in the application as owner, the policy was under Statutory Condition 1 held void for misrepresentation: Compton v. Mercantile Insurance Co. (1880) 27 Gr. 334; affirmed ibid., 338.

Property may be insured by the applicant in his own name, where technically he has the legal ownership, but only a partial beneficial interest—Keefer v. Phoenix Ins. Co. of Hartford, 29 O. R., 394, affirmed 31 S. C. R. (1900), 144. A married woman insured as her own a stock of goods, which her husband held in trust for her. The policy was upheld:—Butler v. Standard Fire Insurance Co. (1879), 4 A. R. 391, affirming 26 Gr., 341.

In Laidlaw v. Liverpool and London and Globe Insurance Co., 13 Gr., 377, it was held in the case of a building that a purchaser under contract of purchase can insure as “owner.” Similarly as to a specific chattel for the construction of which the policy holder has made advances: Clark v. Scottish Imp. Ins. Co. (1879), 4 S. C. R., 92.

Where the policyholder had made an agreement to sell his insured premises, and the title had not actually passed, the policy was upheld: Gill v. Canada F. and M. Insurance Co., 1 O. R. (1882), at 348. Similarly as to chattels: North Brit. and Merc. Ins. Co. v. McLellan (1892), 21 S. C. R., 288.

In Lyon v. Stadacona Ins. Co. (1879), 44 U. C. R., at 483, Hagarty, C. J., said: If a man were the owner of an undivided moiety of a house worth in all £500, if he state the value of the property proposed to be insured as £250, and to a question like that before us, answers, “owner,” it is strictly and literally true; and as he gave the value of his half interest, no fraud or bad faith could be imputed. In Stillman v. Agricultural Insurance Co. (1888), 16 O. R., 145, a threshing machine was insured for $200 as the plaintiff's own property, whereas it was partnership property, and he had only a half interest. No question was asked in the application as to his title. The policy was upheld, but the claim was cut down to $100 and $4.50 interest.

In Lyon v. Stadacona Ins. Co. (1879), 44 U. C. R., 472, a purchaser of 60 out of 64 shares in a steamboat, insured the boat against fire, describing himself as the “owner.” His vendor had retained the remaining four shares. Hagarty, C. J., said (at p. 483) that in ordinary estimate and opinion, a man owning 60 out of 64 shares in a steamboat would be held to be owner for all purposes; but intimated that if the applicant had so described himself while owning say 32 shares instead of 60, the misdescription of interest would have been fatal to the policy.

Encumbrances.—Encumbrances are not necessarily material: Samo v. Gore Dist. Mutual Fire Ins. Co., 1 A. R. 545 (per Patterson, J. A.); Klein v. Union Fire Insurance Co., 3 O. R., 234; Lount v. London Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1905), 9 O. L. R., at 554. But non-disclosure where the applicant requires the disclosure of encumbrances endangers the policy: Reddick v. Saugeen Insurance Co. (1883), 15 A. R., at 366. In Wilby v. Standard Insurance Co. (1883), 3 O. R., 115, the assured represented by his application that the insured property was mortgaged for $5,000; whereas, in fact, there were then two mortgages on which $6,160 was due. Policy held void. In Phillips v. Grand River Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1881), 46 U. C. R., 334, a false statement as to encumbrances vitiated the policy as to the building, but not as to the contents.

Misrepresentation of the Physical Risk.—Passing now from incorrect representation of insurable interest to misrepresentation of the physical risk. The first Statutory Condition has been invoked by insurance companies, where the plan or diagram endorsed on or annexed to the applicataion did not correctly show the "exposure."

In Quinlan v. Union Fire Ins. Co. (1881), 8 A. R., 376, reversing 31 U. C. C. P., 618, neither the application nor diagram (though both were prepared by the agent of the Company having personal knowledge of all the facts) described or showed a small coal oil shed within one hundred feet of the insured premises. The fire originated in the coal oil shed. The Court of Appeal, reversing the Court below and restoring the judgment of the trial Judge, held that the knowledge of the agent was the knowledge of the Company; and that the assured was relieved from the effect of the misrepresentation. A very similar case involving a misdescription is found in Connelly v. Guardian Ass. Co. (1892), 20 S. C. R., 200, where also the plan was prepared by the Company's agent; and the Supreme Court reached the like conclusion. In Ball v. Farmers' Central Mut. Fire Ins. Co., (1902), 1 O. W. R., 168, the applicant was asked for "a diagram of the premises." The applicant sent in a diagram of the premises, but did not show the existence of a sawmill off the premises, and ninety feet from the insured building. The Court (Ferguson and Meredith, J. J.) held that the plaintiff had correctly answered the question he was asked; and that he was not asked to show the existence of a dangerous risk off his own premises.

Cf. Benson v. Ottawa Agricultural Ins. Co., (1878), 42 U. C. R., 282.

Naughter v. Ottawa Agricultural Fire Insurance Co., (1878), 43 U. C. R., 121.

Last year, when addressing this Association on Applications for Fire Insurance, I remarked on the danger of allowing the Company's agent to fill in the application or the diagram; and referred to numerous cases (Report of Insp. of Ins., 1905, p. C 208-9). Two dicta will here suffice. In Connelly v. Guardian Ass. Co., (1892), Supreme Court of Canada, 20 S. C. R., at 212, Ritchie, C. J., said: "I cannot look upon a party who goes around for the purpose of obtaining insurance in any other way than as acting for the Company; and I cannot see how the Company is free from liability for his acts, where, as in this case, he undertook to put up with the application a plan of the building, and it was necessary that this plan should be inquired into." In the same case. (at p. 214), Strong, J., said: "As regards misrepresentation, I do not think that the plan and the application are to be looked upon as emanating from the insured, but must be regarded as emanating from the Company."

Non-disclosure under Statutory Condition 1.—The law of non-disclosure in the case of insurance contracts is laid down and illustrated by Sir George Jessel, M. R., in London Assurance v. Mansell, (1879), 11 Ch. D., at 367. This exposition of the law was approved by the English Court of Appeal in Seaton v. Heath, L. R., (1899), 1 Q. B., at 790. The Court of Appeal for Ontario in Moore v. Citizens' Fire Insurance Co., (1888), 14 A. R., at 587, referred to that exposition of Sir George Jessel as representing the law of Ontario, adding that Statutory Condition 1 left the prior law substantially unaltered.

In Klein v. Union Fire Insurance Co., (1883), 3 O. R. 234, the Company had entirely dispensed with applications and interrogatories, and no representations had been made to the Company by the assured: Held, that the policy was not avoided for non-disclosure. This case was followed in Bull v. N. British Investment Co., 14 O. R., 322; affirmed 15 A. R., 421, again affirmed 18 S. C. R., 697; and was approved in Reddick v. Saugeen, 15 A. R., at 366. So, (as already mentioned) in Ball v. Farmers' Central Mutual Fire Insurance Co., (1902), 1 O. W. R., 168; still later, (1904), in Coulter v. Equity Fire Ins. Co., where there were no written applications and no questions or answers written or verbal, it was held by the Court of Appeal, (9 O. L. R., at 42, affirming 7 O. L. R., 180), that there was no duty to communicate within the meaning of either Statutory Condition 1 or the Company's Variation thereof.

Overvaluation.—In Parsons v. Citizens' Insurance Co., (1878), Harrison, C. J., (Armour, J., concurring), said, (43 U. C. R., at 268): "The mere fact of an overvaluation does not avoid the policy: Laidlaw v. Liverpool and London and Globe Ins. Co., 13 Gr., 377." Ten years later, in Moore v. Citizens' Fire Ins. Co., (1888), 14 A. R., 582, the Ontario Court of Appeal, (Hagarty, C. J. O., Paterson, Burton and Osler, J. J. A.), were unanimous in setting aside a policy, because the assured had misrepresented the value of the railway ties and lumber insured. He had on two occasions stated the "cash values" as $5,339; and on a third occasion as $5,500; and had obtained insurances aggregating $5,200; whereas the jury found the outside value of the property to be $4,200.

The Misrepresentation or Non-disclosure must be prejudicial to the Company, or material to the risk.—A misdescription under Statutory Condition 1, to be fatal to the insurance contract, must be shown to be "to the prejudice" of the insurance Company; and any misrepresentation or non-disclosure must be shown to be material to the risk: See also R. S. O., 1897, chap. 203, sect. 144 (2). The burden of proof is on the insurance Company: Parsons v. Citizens' Ins. Co., (1878), 43 U. C. R., at 267; Lount v. London Mutual Fire Ins. Co., (1905), 9 O. L. R., at 554. Strict proof is necessary before the policy will be forfeited. In Davies v. National Fire and Marine Ins. Co. L. R., (1901), App. Ca., at 489, the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council said: "Their Lordships think it right to say that, when the payment of a risk is resisted on the ground of misrepresentation, it ought to be made very clear that there has been such misrepresentation."

In Lount v. London Mutual Fire Insurance Co., (1905)—a non-jury case—at the trial, Street, J., said (9 O. L. R., at 554): "Under the Statutory Condition, I am to determine whether the non-disclosure of the $600 mortgage held by Button was a material fact, the onus being on the defendants (the insurance Company), who assert its materiality. No evidence was given of the value of the mill which the mortgage covered; no one gave any evidence from which I can judge of the materiality of the circumstance relied on; and I am therefore unable to say that the defendants have made out their defence upon this branch of the case."

Materiality is a question for the jury where there is a jury, and in a non-jury trial, for the Judge: R. S. O., 1897, chap. 203, sect. 144 (3).

Formerly in Ontario, as still in England and the United States, the law of materiality and warranty was as laid down by Lord Eldon in Newcastle Fire Insurance Co. v. Macmorran, (1815), 3 Dow, 262, where he said: "It is a first principle of the law of insurance on all occasions, that where a representation is material it must be complied with—if immaterial, that immateriality may be inquired into and shown; but if there is a warranty, it is part of the contract that the matter is such as it is represented to be. Therefore the materiality or immateriality signifies nothing. The only question is as to the mere fact." In 1875, in re Universal Non-Tariff Fire Ins. Co., Forbes Claim, L. R. 19 Eq., at 494, Malins, V.-C. said: There is no doubt that if a description is in the form of a warranty it must be strictly true, or the policy will be void."

But in Ontario, by 52 Vict. (1889), chap. 32, sect. 5, the avoidance of a life insurance contract for any breach of any term, condition, stipulation, warranty or proviso, or for any inaccuracy of statement, was limited to the case where the matter was material to the contract. In 1892 (55 Vict., chap. 39, sect. 33 (2),) this enactment was extended to insurance contracts of all kinds; and the law so extended is now found as section 144 (2) of The Ontario Insurance Act, R. S. O., 1897, chap. 203. So that now in Ontario a misrepresentation, whether in breach of warranty or not, will not void the policy unless it has been judicially found that the misrepresentation was material, and would have affected the basis of the contract: Jordan v. Provincial Provident Institution. (1898), 28 S. C. R., at 564.

The materiality of the misrepresentation or non-disclosure is of the essence of Statutory Condition 1, and cannot be eliminated by any Variation or Added Condition. In Butler v. Standard Fire Insurance Co. (1879) there was a Variation or Added Condition which made every erroneous statement in the application fatal to the contract: Held to be unjust and unreasonable: 4 A. R., at 398-9, affirming 26 Gr., 341. In Lount v. London Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1905), 9 O. L. R., at 552, et seq., one of the Variations was as follows:

“Any encumbrance by way of mortgage * * * shall be deemed material to be made known to the Company, within the provisions of the first Statutory Condition.” Street, J., (at 553), said this Variation “is too wide to be treated as a just and reasonable Variation of the Statutory Condition. The existence of a trifling encumbrance upon a valuable property would probably not under ordinary circumstances be a material fact; and yet the proposed Variation would invalidate a policy, however trifling the encumbrance might be. The Statutory Condition is broadly fair to both insurer and insured, for it obliges the latter to disclose all facts material to the risk, and leaves to be tried as a matter of fact, whether the undisclosed facts are material. The proposed Variation seeks to lay down a hard and fast rule in favor of the insurer, declaring the existence of an undisclosed encumbrance, however small, to be fatal to the validity of the policy.”

Partial Avoidance under Statutory Condition 1.—Where the insurance is void for misdescription, misrepresentation, or non-disclosure, it is void only as to that part of the insurance contract which is affected thereby: Butler v. Standard (1880), 4 A. R., at 399; Phillips v. Grand River Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1881), 46 U. C. R., 334, followed in Goring v. London Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1885), 10 O. R., 236. In each of these cases the insurance was specifically distributed over the building and contents.

I shall now briefly consider the second Statutory Condition.

STATUTORY CONDITION 2.

(Policy to be deemed to conform to Application).

The second Statutory Condition is as follows:

“2. After application for insurance it shall be deemed that any policy sent to the assured is intended to be in accordance with the terms of the application, unless the company points out, in writing, the particulars wherein the policy differs from the application.”

Here the phrase “application for insurance” applies to a verbal application as well as to the ordinary printed and written application: Davidson v. Waterloo Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1905), 9 O. L. R., at 400. This very recent and important decision should be closely studied. Davidson, the policyholder, having an insurable interest in machinery as lessee, applied verbally for insurance to the Company’s agents, to whom the policyholder communicated the state of the title, the name of the owners, and the nature of the policyholder’s interest in the machines. The agents had authority to accept the risk, receive the premium, and issue an interim receipt, which they did. They also partly filled up an application form, not containing any statement as to the nature of the ownership, and signed it in the name of the policyholder, but without his knowledge, consent or authority. A policy was issued and sent to Davidson, the assured, which contained the statement that “the property is being held by the assured as owners.”

The Divisional Court, in affirming the judgment of Teetzel, J., held that the policyholder in the case was protected by the second Statutory Condition.

Meredith, C. J., said (9 O. L. R., at 400): "I see no reason for confining the operation of this Condition to a written application, and there is no injustice done to the insurer if he chooses not to require the application to be made in writing, and to trust to its being correctly communicated to him by his agent, in holding him (the insurer) bound by the application that has in fact been made to his agent. He has the remedy in his own hands; he may refuse to accept the risk at all, unless the application is put into writing and signed by the applicant; and if he chooses not to do this, and he is misled and suffers loss, why should that loss not fall rather upon him than upon the insured? It may well be that the draftsman of the Condition, in framing it, had in view just such a case as this; but, however that may be, the Condition is, I think, applicable to a verbal application.

"Then what is the effect of the Condition? Its purpose is manifestly, I think, to secure to the applicant the very contract for which he has applied, unless the insurer informs him in writing that the policy sent to him is a different one, and points out the particulars in which it differs from his application."

Before a loss has occurred, any policyholder discovering that his policy is not according to his application, might under this Condition apply to the Court to have the policy reformed. But if the Company were unwilling, such a proceeding would be fruitless; for the Company under Statutory Condition 19 could at any time, on seven days' notice with tender of the unearned premium, cancel the policy.

After loss, the holder of such policy does not require to have the policy reformed before recovering his insurance money; he can sue directly for his insurance as though his policy conformed to the application:

Wyld v. Liverpool and London and Globe (1877), 1 S. C. R., at 630.

Billington v. Provincial Ins. Co. (1877), 2 A. R., at 185.

Davidson v. Waterloo Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1905), 9 O. L. R., at 401.

In Mutchmor v. Waterloo Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1902), 4 O. L. R., 606, the application, as interpreted by the trial Judge, and also by the Court of Appeal, gave notice of two existing prior insurances, each of $4,000. The Company apparently read the application as meaning one prior insurance of $4,000, and thereupon issued its policy, which expressly said that the property was "represented in the application as otherwise insured for $4,000, warranted concurrent." Applying Statutory Condition 2, the Court of Appeal, affirming Ferguson, J., held that the policy must be read as assenting to $8,000 of prior insurance.

In Smith v. City of London Fire Insurance Co., (1887), 11 O. R. 38; affirmed 14 A. R., 328; affirmed 15 S. C. R., 69, the policy differed from the application in the description of the property insured; the application was filled by the agent from the answers of the applicant, and from his own knowledge of the premises. The property was described as a building built of "burds," which was intended by the agent for "boards." The diagram directed that brick or stone buildings should be shown in red, and frame buildings in black. The agent showed this building in black. The policy described the building as of brick. The manager swore that he read the application so, and that $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. more would have been charged for a wooden building. Each of the three appellate Courts treated the policy as insuring a wooden building.

These cases will serve to illustrate practical applications of the second Statutory Condition. Let us now pass to the third.

STATUTORY CONDITION 3.

(Change Material to the Risk).

The third Statutory Condition is as follows:

"3. Any change material to the risk, and within the control or knowledge of the assured, shall avoid the policy as to the part affected thereby, unless the change is promptly notified, in writing, to the Company or its local agent; and the Company when so notified may return the premium for the unexpired period and cancel the policy, or may demand in writing an additional premium, which the assured shall, if he desires the continuance of the policy, forthwith pay to the Company; and if he neglects to make such payment forthwith, after receiving such demand, the policy shall be no longer in force."

Risk.—The word "Risk" in this Condition is not distinguishable in meaning from the same word as used in the first Condition: McKay v. Norwich Union Fire Ins. Co. (1895), 27 O. R., 251.

"Change Material to the Risk."—The word "change," as used in the Statutory Condition, means increase of risk: Gill v. Canada F. and M. Ins. Co. (1878), 1 O. R. 341. In Sovereign Fire Ins. Co. v. Moir (1887), 14 S. C. R., 612—a Nova Scotia case—the policy conditions required the assent of the Company to any change in the use of the premises when that use involved a hazardous or extra hazardous risk. Held, that a change, without the assent of the Company, to a use less hazardous than that specified in the contract did not save the policy.

A change, to be fatal to the policy, must be something continuing, not casual or transitory: e. g. some structural change in the premises, or alteration in the nature of the work or business carried on.* In Johnston v. Dominion Grange Ins. Co., 23 A. R., 729, a farmer on one occasion used a steam engine to drive a grain crusher: Held, not a change material to the risk within Statutory Condition 3. In that case it was argued for the Company that such a use of the steam engine was in effect prohibited because the policy in terms permitted the use of a steam thresher with efficient spark arrester; but prohibition by inference was not allowed by the Court.

Non-occupation of Insured Premises, or of Premises containing Insured Goods.—In Boardman v. N. Waterloo Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1899), 31 O. R., at 526, Boyd, C., said: "It is well settled that such a change as this of vacating the house in which the goods may be, is not per se an increase of risk. This is very fully and ably discussed by Carter, C. J., in Foy v. Ætna Ins. Co. (1854), 8 N. B. R., (O. S., 3 Allen), 29; and the same doctrine is affirmed by our own Courts.

"In Gould v. British America Ass. Co. (1868), 27 U. C. R., 473, 480, Hagarty, J., said, if the underwriters desire to make continued residence a condition precedent to the right of recovery in the case of a building described as a dwelling house occupied by a tenant, we think they must use express language to meet the case."

But, by a just and reasonable variation of Statutory Condition 3, printed as the Statute requires, the insurance may make occupation a binding condition. A variation voiding the contract, if the insured dwelling is vacant for ten days, is not unreasonable: Peck v. Agricultural Ins. Co. (1890), 19 O. R., 494, (citing Abrahams v. Agric. Mutual Assn. Assoc., 40 U. C. R., 175); Spahr v. N. Waterloo Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1899), 31 O. R., 526, affirmed by Divisional Court, ibid., 529. In this last case, "untenanted,"

* In London and Western Trusts Co. v. Canadian Fire Insurance Co. (August 1, 1906, Falconbridge, C. J.), the owner of buildings which had been insured as non-hazardous, leased them for mercantile occupation and use without giving the notice to the insurance company required by Statutory Conditions 3 and 20. While in such occupation and use the buildings were destroyed by fire. The action upon the policy was dismissed with costs. Reference to Bunyon's Law of Fire Insurance, 5th edition, page 166: Kuntz v. Niagara District Fire Insurance Co., 16 U. C. P., 578; Morrow v. Lancashire Fire Insurance Co., 29 O. R. 377; Guerin v. Manchester Fire Insurance Co., 29 S. C. R. 139.

in the variation, was held to be intended to mean "unoccupied," which latter is the word usually employed.

In McKay v. Norwich Union Fire Ins. Co. (1895), 27 O. R. 251, the policy which covered seven dwellings contained a variation excluding vacant or unoccupied buildings unless insured as such. Held, that the fact that several of the houses were vacant to the plaintiff's knowledge for some months before the fire, was a change material to the risk, which was thereby increased, and the failure to notify the Company avoided the policy "as to the part affected," which in this case was the whole block.

"Unless the Change is promptly notified to the Company or its Local Agent."—In Lount v. London Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1905), 9 O. L. R., at 554-5, those last four words were by a variation declared to be struck out, thus requiring notice of the change of risk to be given to the Company at its head office. Held, by Street, J., to be a just and reasonable variation; affirmed by Divisional Court, 9 O. L. R., 703, where it was pointed out that under Statutory Condition 23, notice could be effectually given by registered letter, and that it is quite as easy for the policyholder to address the letter to the Company at its head office as to the Company's local agent.

The withdrawal of a watchman is not "a change material to the risk" within the meaning of Statutory Condition 3: Worswick v. Canada F. and M. Ins. Co. (1878), 3 A. R., 487.

Estoppel.—Where with knowledge of a change material to the risk the insurance Company issues a renewal receipt and accepts payment of the premium, the Company cannot set up Statutory Condition 3 as a defence: Law v. Hand-in-Hand Ins. Co., 29 U. C. C. P., 1.

Statutory Condition 3 cannot be varied so as to omit the qualification "material to the risk:" Butler v. Standard Fire Ins. Co. (1879), 4 A. R., 391, affirming Spragge, C., 26 Gr., 641.

"Shall avoid the policy;" "the policy shall be no longer in force."—Where the policyholder has broken Statutory Condition 3, the policy is not absolutely void, but is merely voidable at the discretion of the insurance Company. Section 170 of The Ontario Insurance Act expressly enacts:

"It shall be optional with the insurers to pay or allow claims which are void under the 3rd, the 4th, or the 8th Statutory Condition, in case the insurers think fit to waive the objections mentioned in the said Conditions."

STATUTORY CONDITION 4.

(Alienation of Interest in the Insured Property).

The fourth Statutory Condition says:

"4. If the property insured is assigned without a written permission endorsed hereon by an agent of the Company duly authorized for such purpose, the policy shall thereby become void; but this condition does not apply to change of title by succession or by the operation of the law, or by reason of death."

This Condition amounts to saying that the insurance does not follow the insured property, but is personal to the assured. In Lynch v. Dalzell, 3 Brown Parl. Ca., 497, affirmed 23 Jour. H. L., 505, which is the earliest fire insurance case (24 November, 1729)—that appears in the regular reports—Lord Chancellor King said: "These policies are not insurances of the specific things mentioned to be insured; nor do such insurances attach on the realty, or in any manner go with the same, as incident thereto, by any conveyance or assignment; but they are only special agreements with the persons insured against such loss or damage as they may sustain."

When therefore we speak of property as "insured," we must be careful to remember that in reality it is not the property, but some person in respect of the property, that is insured.

In my remarks to you last year (Appendix to Insurance Report, 1904, p. C 206), I dwelt on the absolute necessity of insurable interest as the foundation of a claim.

The "assignment" which under the fourth Statutory Condition would be fatal to the policy is an assignment, subsequent to the policy, by which the assignor divests himself of all title and interest: McQueen v. Phoenix Mutual Ins. Co. (1880), 4 S. C. R., at 689. An assignment for benefit of creditors is not fatal: ibid. In Ballagh v. Royal Ins. Co., 5 A. R., 605, the Court intimated that the following Variation was unreasonable:

"If the property insured be levied upon, or taken into possession or custody under any legal process, the policy shall cease to be binding."

Nor is a mortgage of the insured property fatal: Sovereign Fire Ins. Co. v. Peters (1886), 12 S. C. R., 33; followed in Imperial Fire Ins. Co. v. Bull, 1889), Cameron's Supreme Court Cases (1905), at 6, affirming 15 A. R., 421, and 14 O. R., 322. This last followed Sands v. Standard Ins. Co. (1879), 26 Gr., 115, 27 Gr., 167, where a sweeping Variation of Statutory Condition 4 was held not just or reasonable, and a mortgage was held to be permissible under that Condition.

Contrast Pinhey v. Mercantile Fire Insurance Co. (1901). There the mortgagor, under his covenant to insure, insured the mortgaged premises by policy payable to Pinhey, the mortgagee, as his interest may appear under the mortgage. The mortgagor afterwards, without consent of the Company, conveyed his equity of redemption to Pinhey, who, after loss, sued the Company. Policy held void under Statutory Condition 4.

As to insurance by mortgagors, I may remind you that the Short Forms of Mortgages Act, R. S. O., 1897, chap. 126, Schedule, Covenant 12, makes the mortgagor covenant to insure the mortgaged property and assign the policy to the mortgagee. Also the Mortgage Act, R. S. O., 1897, chap. 121, sect. 4, makes the insurance money applicable, on demand of the mortgagee, either to the reinstatement of the property or to the discharge of the mortgage debt, as the mortgagee may require.

In Ardill v. Citizens' Insurance Co. (1893), 20 A. R., 605, affirming McMahon, J., 22 O. R., 529, it was held that the fact that the owners of an insured building have entered into an executory contract for the pulling down of the building and for the sale of the materials to the contractors for much less than the insurance, does not bar the recovery of the full insurance when the building is burnt down before the time fixed by the contract for the transfer of possession.

The policy of insurance may be assigned without the Company's consent, if the insured property is not also assigned: McPhillips v. London Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1896), 23 A. R., 524.

The fourth Statutory Condition differs from the first in this, that if the policy is invalidated at all it is invalidated altogether. In Samo v. Gore District Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1878), 2 S. C. R., 411, the policy was held to be one entire and indivisible contract founded on one entire consideration, relating to matters that are connected with and dependent on each other. In that case the policy in one sum covered buildings and the contents thereof. The land upon which the building stood was conveyed by deed without the consent of the insurers: Held, that the policy was avoided in toto, and did not remain in force as to the chattels. Similarly in Dunlop v. Osborne and Hibbert Mutual Fire Ins. Co. (1895), 22 A. R., 364.

This consequence of the Condition may lead to great hardship; and therefore Section 170 of The Ontario Insurance Act (above cited) enables the Directors to use their discretion in favor of the policyholder, although technically under this Condition, he has forfeited his insurance.

The conversion of a partnership into a limited liability company is such a change of interest as (without the assent of the insurer) forfeits insurances taken out by the partnership, even though the members of the partnership held nearly all the stock in the company :

Peuchen Co. v. City Mutual Fire Insurance Co. (1891), 18 A. R., 446, reversing the trial Judge.

Here the insurance Company (which has long ceased to exist) defended on a dry technicality. The Court of Appeal, while saying the defence was devoid of all merits, felt compelled to give effect to the Condition. It was "so nominated in the bond!"

III.

Fire Insurance on Standing Timber is not authorized by R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203, sect. 166 (1).

IN THE COURT OF APPEAL.

THE CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY v. THE OTTAWA FIRE INSURANCE Co., 11 O. L. R. (1906), 465.

Head Note.

The defendants, an insurance Company, incorporated under the laws of Ontario, insured the plaintiffs, a railway company, having a branch line in the State of Maine, the policy stating the insurance to be "against loss or damage by fire.....on property as follows: On all claims for loss or damage caused by locomotives to property located in the State of Maine, not including that of the assured.¹¹ By the statute law of Maine, when "property" is injured by fire communicated by a locomotive engine, the railway company is made responsible, and it is declared to have an insurable interest in the property along its line for which it is responsible:—

Held, that the policy was a valid policy of fire insurance, but did not, under the insurance Company's statutory powers cover standing timber along the plaintiff's line of road; that the policy was not therefore ineffective, and the plaintiffs were not entitled to recover back the premiums for there was abundance of other property covered by the policy in which the plaintiffs had an insurable interest.

Judgment of Clute, J., 9 O. L. R., 493, affirmed.

Judgment.

1906, March 8. The judgment of the Court was delivered by Osler, J. A.:—The defendants are an insurance Company incorporated under the Ontario Insurance Act, registered and licensed to transact the business of fire insurance. It has not been suggested that there is anything to prevent them from carrying on business in the State of Maine, U. S.

They issued a policy of insurance, No 43,618, in favour of the plaintiffs, who have a line of railway running through part of that State, which reads in part as follows:—
"On property as follows all more fully described in application for this insurance which forms part and parcel of this policy to wit:

"On property as per wording hereto attached.

"Canadian Pacific Railway Company, $75,000: On all claims for loss or damage caused by locomotives to property located in the State of Maine, not including that of the assured or upon land owned, leased or operated by the assured. The loss paid by the assured upon all verdicts, judgments and settlements for said claims against the assured or the railroad company owning the line of road shall be considered full proof of all claims under this policy

"It is also understood and agreed that this Company shall not in any event be liable under this policy for loss to property located outside the State of Maine.

"It is understood and agreed that this Company shall not in any event be liable under this policy for a greater sum than $20,000 for loss or damage caused by any one fire.

"It is understood and agreed that this insurance Company shall not be liable under this policy except upon claims upon which the insured's payment is $5,000 or more on account of loss by any one fire and then this Company shall be liable only for the amount of loss sustained in excess of $5,000.

"Attached to and forming part of [Qy. Policy No. 43618 of?] the Ottawa Fire Insurance Company"

The words italicized are part of the printed form of the policy. The remainder of the clauses quoted is typewritten on a sheet of paper attached to the face of the policy immediately following the former words, signed by the chief agents of the Company and otherwise authenticated as part of the policy.

The defendants covenant with insured (printed form) "that if the property hereinafore mentioned is destroyed or damaged at any time between the hour of 12 o'clock noon of the 11th day of May, 1903, and the hour of 12 o'clock noon on the 11th day of May, 1906, they will make good unto the assured all such loss or damage by fire not exceeding in respect of each of the several subject matters above specified the sum set opposite thereto or the interest of the assured therein and not exceeding in the whole the sum of $75,000, the said loss or damage to be estimated according to the actual cash value of said property at the time the fire shall happen."

A previous policy, No. 29,412, for $75,000, substantially in the same terms, dated 9th May, 1901, had been granted by the defendants to the plaintiffs, which was afterwards renewed for a year from the 11th May, 1902. The premium paid on the grant and the renewal was the sum of $5,000 on each occasion. On this no claim for loss had ever arisen.

The plaintiffs' claim is in the alternative: either the first policy is valid and covers the risks alleged to be insured against and they are entitled to recover the losses paid by them; or both policies are in toto invalid and ultra vires of the defendants as being a kind of policy, sc. a guarantee policy, which under the Act they had no power to grant and are not fire insurance policies, in which case they never attached, and the plaintiffs are entitled to recover back the premiums paid by them as upon an entire failure of consideration.

The defendants deny that the policy is a guarantee policy, but say that the only property the loss of which is in question in the action and for the destruction of which the plaintiffs had paid was standing timber to the insurance of which their statutory power do not extend. The plaintiffs contend that if that be so (which they deny) the parties to the contract never were ad idem; as the plaintiffs intended to obtain insurance against the destruction by fire from their locomotives of standing timber along their line of railway, and if they did not get it the policy never attached and so the consideration failed and ought to be recovered back on that ground.

The learned trial Judge dismissed the action.

I am of opinion that the judgment should be affirmed.

There is no reason for saying that the policy is not a fire insurance policy. The plaintiffs call it a "liability" insurance policy whatever that may mean, but it is essentially a policy of insurance against loss by fire, and if they had any insurable interest in the property destroyed they might insure it in any Company whose charter powers extended to the insurance of such property just as a common carrier might do.

"Any legal or equitable estate which may be prejudicially affected or any responsibility which might be brought into operation by a fire will confer an insurable interest:" Bunyon on Fire Insurance, 4th Ed., p. 13.

"Interest may arise from mere liability. An insurable interest in property may arise from mere liability. An insurable interest may arise from mere liability which the insured incurs with relation thereto, though he is not in possession of the property and has no interest therein beyond the danger of pecuniary damage from the loss of the property by reason of such assumed liability; such liability may arise by statute or by contract, or may be fixed by law from the obligations which the insured assumes:" Am. & Eng. Ency. of Law, 2nd Ed., Vol. 13, p. 147; and see Hart v. Western R. W. Co. (1847), 13 Mete. 99.

The Statute law of the State of Maine has for many years imposed such liability and conferred an insurable interest in property the subject of it upon corporations in the situation of the plaintiffs.

"When a building or other property is injured by fire communicated from a locomotive engine, the corporation using it is responsible for such injury, and may procure insurance thereon:" Revised Statutes, chap. 51, sect. 87. A similar provision exists in other State jurisdictions and it has recently found a place in our own legislation: The Railway Act, 1903 (Canada), sect. 239.

The State law has been considered in many cases, some of which are cited in the judgment below. It is not necessary to refer to them at length. The liability and right to insure in respect of the interest created is generally recognized. In some of these cases fences and forest trees are held to be included under the expression "buildings and other property," as property for the destruction of which the corporation is liable and in respect of which the statute creates an insurable interest whether an insurer can be found to take the risk or not. Grissell v. Housatonic R. W. Co. (1887), 54 Conn. 447; Pratt v. Atlantic & St. Lawrence R. W. (1856), 42 Me., 579.

It seems hardly necessary to say that the power of a particular insurance Company to take the risk does not depend upon the statute which confers upon the railway company the right to insure against it. That must depend upon the charter or statutory powers of the insurance Company, and this is where the plaintiff's chief difficulty arises in so far as it is contended that the policy in question covers standing timber.

Section 166 of the Insurance Act [R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203] enacts that "every Company licensed and registered for the transaction of fire insurance may within the limits prescribed by the license and registry (sects. 53, 54) insure and re-insure dwelling houses, stores, shops, and other buildings, household furniture, merchandise, machinery, live stock, farm produce and other commodities against loss or damage by fire or lightning"

The defendants are restricted to insurance upon property which comes within the classes of property here specified. The plaintiff's contention is that standing timber (which taken by itself and unaffected by any contract respecting it, is admittedly part of the realty), comes within the term "other commodities," but I do not think so. The sense in which those words is used is indicated by the words which precede them and with which they are connected, "household furniture, merchandise, live stock, farm produce," which are contrasted with insurable interests in the realty, "dwelling houses, stores, shops and other buildings." The word "commodity," is susceptible of many meanings, some of them abstract, some of them archaic and obsolete. It may be descriptive of quality, advantage or opportunity. A foot path may in one sense be a commodity and so may a bush or forest on a farm, but we do not now use the word in that sense, or in many of the senses of which a reader of Shakespeare for example, can readily recall the instances. Here, I think, it is used in its ordinary business and derivative sense of anything moveable that is a subject of trade or acquisition; Century Dictionary, and again in the Oxford Dictionary, sub voce, "especially in commerce, a kind of thing produced from a sale, an article of commerce, an object of trade. In plural, goods, wares and merchandise." The same in the Standard Dictionary.

Standing timber along the plaintiffs' line of road was therefore not covered by the policies.

It by no means, however, follows that the policies were void or inofficious, since there was abundance of other property in which the plaintiffs had a statutory insurance interest which was effectively insured thereby.

I think the plaintiffs have entirely failed upon the evidence to shew that insurance of standing timber was a matter about which they were bargaining with the insurance Company in the sense that they brought it to their notice that their application for insurance was intended to include it. The description of the subject matter of the insurance was prepared by the plaintiffs and the policies attached upon everything which the defendants were capable of insuring. The premiums therefore cannot be recovered back.

I agree therefore with the judgment of the Court below in thinking that the action fails on both grounds and would dismiss the appeal.

IV.

DEALINGS BY NEWSPAPERS IN INSURANCE.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania ex rel. Hensel, Attorney-General v. Philadelphia Inquirer.

Corporations—Newspaper business—Insurance business—Franchise therefor—Contract of Insurance—Consideration.

15 Pa. C. Rep., 463 [also reported in 3 Pa. Dist. R., 742].

When a purchaser is induced to buy a copy of a newspaper, or when a subscriber makes his subscription, because of the offer (to pay a certain sum of money on the happening of a certain contingency) contained in each issue, all the elements of a contract of insurance are present.

The consideration, though small and though paid in part for the newspaper and only in part for the insurance, is yet a real pecuniary consideration.

A Corporation chartered for the purpose of publishing a newspaper has no franchise to insure against accidents.

Quo warranto. C. P. Dauphin Co., Mareh T., 1892, No. 301.

The exhibit referred to in the opinion of the Courts is as follows:—

“$500.00 is given away, Monday, March, 16, 1892. The Philadelphia Inquirer will pay five hundred dollars to the legal heirs of anyone who meets death by accident while pursuing his ordinary avocation, providing this coupon or a copy of the Inquirer containing it be found on his or her person at the time of the accident which resulted in death with his or her name signed in full. This offer holds good between the hours of 2.30 a. m., Mareh 14, 1892, and ends at 2.30 a. m., Mareh, 15, 1892.

“Name.

“Notification of death must be sent to the business office of the Inquirer within twenty-four hours and satisfactory proof within forty-eight hours of the time of death, that the above conditions were fulfilled.

“If more than one coupon is found on any such person only one will be paid.

“The Philadelphia Inquirer,
929 Chestnut Street,
Philadelphia, Pa.”

Stranahan, Deputy Attorney-General, for the Commonwealth.
Heverin and Weiss and Gilbert for the defendant.

JUDGMENT.

McPherson, J., April 13, 1892.—The suggestion filed by the Commonwealth in this case alleges that the defendant is unlawfully exercising a franchise not granted by its charter, namely, the making of contracts insuring against accidents; and it is agreed that the paper filed by the defendant may be treated as a demurrer. The fact is therefore conceded that the defendant has no franchise to insure against accidents, and the question simply is whether upon the facts stated in the suggestion it is engaged in this kind of insurance.

“We will consider only the exhibit dated Mareh 14, 1892, and base our conclusion upon that alone. Little could be said in favor of the validity of this transaction which was not presented to us by the learned Counsel for the defendant in his most acute and ingenious argument. It must be admitted that there is considerable difficulty in finding the flaws in his logic, but aside from the syllogism and looking at the substance of the transactions we think there is even more difficulty in successfully affirming that the defendant is not engaged in the business of accident insurance. If the transaction is closely analyzed it may doubtless be urged with some force that for many of the numerous promises which it makes in the issue of every day there is no additional consideration beyond the annual subscription price already paid or agreed upon, and therefore that the insurance offered is a mere gratuity; but this applies only to subscriptions already existing and with regard to many other of the promises made every day it certainly cannot be said. In the case of a purchaser who is induced to buy a single copy, or of a subscriber who makes his subscription because of the offer contained in each issue, it seems to us that all the elements of a contract of insurance are present, namely a proposition to insure, an acceptance of that proposition, and a consideration which though small and though paid in part for the newspaper and only in part for the insurance, is yet a real pecuniary consideration.

“Indeed the true situation is so plain to my own mind that it is somewhat embarrassing to discuss it. It is too clear for denial,—and no denial is made—that the defendant is seeking to increase the circulation of its journal, and for that purpose is offering to insure purchasers or subscribers against accident. The consideration which the defendant receives, or hopes to receive, is a large total revenue, and in view thereof it promises to each possessor of its journal who signs his name in the blank space left for that purpose the temporary protection of an accident insurance policy. In other words it promises to pay to certain persons, who are to be identified by having its journal in their possession a definite sum of money upon the happening of a specified contingency. This we understand to be insurance, and we think a simple test will demonstrate the correctness of this conclusion. If an accident insurance Company was doing precisely what is now in question, would it enter the mind of any one to suppose that the transaction was not the issuing and acceptance of a policy such as it was authorized to issue?

“We therefore hold that the defendant is exercising a franchise which is not contained in its charter, and enter judgment for the Commonwealth upon the demurrer, that the defendant be ousted and altogether excluded from this pretended franchise and privilege of insuring against accidents. It is further ordered that the defendant pay the costs of this proceeding.”

V.

Power of Life Insurance Company to alter rights of Policyholder in participation of Profits.

HOUSE OF LORDS.

BRITISH EQUITABLE ASSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED, APPELLANTS, AND BAILY, RESPONDENT.

L. R. [1906] A. C., 35.

HEAD NOTE.

Company—Life Assurance Company—Mutual Assurance—Policyholder participating in Profits—Alteration of Regulations—Power of Company to alter Rights of Policyholder.

The respondent became a policyholder in the participating branch of an assurance Company upon the terms that he would abide by the deed of settlement, by-laws, and regulations of the Company. After distributing the profits arising from that branch among the participating policyholders for many years without deduction for a reserve fund the Company proposed to alter that practice by devoting part of the profits to a reserve fund, and to alter the by-laws accordingly. By the deed of settlement the Company had power to make alterations in the by-laws. The policyholder having brought an action for an injunction against the Company on the ground that he had taken his policy upon the faith of a prospectus which stated the practice:—

Held, that there was no contract between the Company and the policyholder not to alter their practice in the distribution of profits, and that the action could not be maintained.

The decision of the Court of Appeal, [1904] 1 Ch. 374 reversed.

JUDGMENT.

1905, Dec. 15. Lord Macnaghten. My Lords, this case raises a question between an insurance Company and the holders of participating life policies in the Company's office.

At the suit of a plaintiff suing in a representative character, Kekewich, J., declared that the Company ought to continue to distribute the entire profits arising from the participating branch of its business, after making certain deductions (which it is not necessary to specify), among the holders of participating policies.

The Court of Appeal has affirmed that order. The judgment of the Court was delivered by Cozens-Hardy, L. J. The ground of the decision is to be found expressed in a single sentence: "A Company cannot by altering its articles justify a breach of contract." No, one, I should think, would be inclined to dispute the proposition thus asserted; but with all deference that is not the question. The simple question is what was the contract between the parties.

The distribution of profits in this Company is governed by a by-law duly passed in accordance with the provisions of its deed of settlement made in 1854, when the Company was completely registered under the Act then in force. The deed of settlement contains a clear and distinct provision empowering an extraordinary general meeting to make by-laws for the government of the Company, subject to a proviso that such by-laws shall not be valid until confirmed by a subsequent extraordinary meeting. It was under this article that the by-law relating to the allocation of profits in favour of participating policyholders was made. There is a subsequent article declaring that "the provisions of the deed of settlement and any by-law of the Company may be altered, repealed, or suspended by a by-law or by-laws, but not otherwise."

The plaintiff's proposal for insurance was made on a printed form, in which the proposer expressly agrees to "conform to and abide by the deed of settlement and by-laws, rules and regulations of the Company in all respects." The proposal was accepted. A policy which refers to the proposal was executed. It provides for the payment of the sum assured, and "all such other sums, if any, as the Company by their directors may have ordered to be added to such amount by way of bonus or otherwise, according to their practice for the time being." The conditions endorsed on the policy provide that the corporate funds, property, and effects of the Company as mentioned in the policy, after satisfying all prior claims and charges "according to the provisions of the deed of settlement and the by-laws of the Company for the time being," shall alone be liable for the payment of the moneys payable under the policy.

If there were nothing more, it would be absurd to suggest a doubt as to the right of the Company to alter its by-laws in accordance with the provisions of the deed of settlement, however long the practice of the Company as to the application of profits might have continued undisturbed.

It appears, however, that this Company, like other insurance companies, has been in the habit of publishing a series of tables applicable to policies issued by the office. As usual, those tables are prefaced by a prospectus enlarging on the peculiar and extraordinary advantages offered.

Now the prospectus under the head of "Mutual Life Assurance Department" points out objections to ordinary mutual societies—objections, as it seems to me, mainly, if not entirely, applicable to such societies at starting. It then states that in the British Equitable Assurance Company (which is not a mutual office, any more than any other proprietary office which grants participating policies) these defects are avoided. Then follows this statement, "The current expenses of working the Company are assessed rateably on the premiums received in the mutual life assurance department"—that is the participating department—"and the general premiums; and the entire profits made by the Company in the mutual department, after deducting the expenses, are divided among the policyholders without any deduction for a reserve fund."

It was alleged on behalf of the plaintiff, and admitted by the Company, that the plaintiff insured in the Company in reliance upon the statement contained in the prospectus, and was induced thereby to apply to the Company for the grant of the policy in question and "accepted such policy on the faith thereof, and would not have done so in the absence of such statement." It is not clear to my mind what is meant by this allegation and admission. Probably it means no more than this: that the plaintiff was attracted to this particular office by its prospectus. Now the statement in the prospectus was an accurate statement of the position of affairs at the time when the prospectus was brought to the notice of the plaintiff. It will be observed that the prospectus does not purport to give an assurance of any sort that the allocation of profits would never be altered, or to indicate that the system then in use and the practice existing at the time were essential features or fundamental conditions of the constitution of the Company. Nobody, I should imagine, would effect an insurance in the belief that the laws and regulations of the office which he selects are immutable. What an insurer relies upon is the character and reputation of the Company, and the certainty that no office which hopes to keep its business would think of altering the distribution of its profits to the prejudice of its policyholders. Such a step would ruin the most flourishing Company. It would simply be suicide.

I am at a loss to understand how the Court of Appeal came to the conclusion that the statements in this prospectus constituted a collateral contract, or are to be treated as incorporated in the contract of insurance, limiting the powers of the Company in the full and free exercise of which the plaintiff bound himself to acquiesce.

I have not troubled your Lordships by referring to changes in the constitution of the Company consequent upon the Act of 1862, or to the proposal now on foot to substitute a memorandum and articles of association for the Company's deed of settlement and its by-laws. The question would, I think, be precisely the same if the proposal were to alter the by-laws of the Company under the provisions of the deed of settlement.

I move, your Lordships, that the appeal should be allowed, and the action dismissed with costs both here and below.

Lord Robertson. My Lords, the appellants are an assurance Company, carrying on the business of assurance in its various departments. Among other branches of their business they issue life policies, the holders of which participate in the profits of the business. The respondent holds one of those policies. He is not a member of the Company, and holds no relation to it other than that of a policyholder. At the time when the respondent's policy was issued, viz., in 1886, the whole of the profits made in this branch, which is called the mutual and participating branch, were divided among the policyholders in that branch. In 1903 the Company proposed to make a change in the method of distributing the profits by taking out of the profits provision for a reserve fund, and distributing among the policyholders the balance, instead of formerly the whole, of those profits.

That this proposal was made in the interests of the Company as an institution, and was matter of sound finance, is not in dispute. That it was competent to the Company in terms of its constitution and regularly done is also not in dispute; and it is therefore unnecessary to state the various provisions in the deed of settlement and by-laws. The case of the respondent is that, standing as he does outside the Company, his contractual rights as a policyholder have been violated by the change. The order which he has sought and obtained is a declaration that the appellants ought to continue to distribute the entire profits arising from the mutual and participating branch.

Now the whole question in the case is, did the appellant Company contract with the respondent to the effect of depriving themselves of the right (which they had under their constitution) to make this change? It seems to me not merely that they did not, but that, as part of the contract, the respondent bound himself to take only such profits as should be declared according to the rules of the Company as they existed at each declaration of profits.

The policy itself, to which one naturally first looks for the contract, gives no countenance to the respondent's claim, and on the contrary limits his rights to the amount assured and "all such other sums, if any, as the said Company by their directors may have ordered to be added to such amount by way of bonus or otherwise, according to their practice for the time being." When we turn to the proposal, we find that the respondent signed a declaration that "I agree to conform to and abide by the deed of settlement and by-laws, rules and regulations of the Company in all respects." The only express reference to profits contained in the proposal is in the eleventh question, "If in the mutual department, are any profits which may be declared to be appropriated by way of addition to the policy or reduction from the future premiums or making the policy payable during life-time?" (The answer was "by way of addition.") The third question is, "sum to be assured and for what term?" and the answer is, "£400, payable under Table A." Now Table A is all figures, except the following words at the top: "Annual premiums to assure a sum of money at death, with profits in addition," and at the bottom, "the entire profits divided triennially."

I have now stated everything hearing on the subject that is to be found in the policy, the proposal and the only document referred to in these instruments, viz., Table A. These seem to me to constitute the contract, and they negative the respondent's case and establish that of the appellants. But the Court of Appeal and the learned Judge whose judgment they affirm, have felt themselves entitled to decide the case, not on those documents, but on the prospectus which was shown to the respondent before he made his proposal. The theory of Kekewich, J., was that there was a "collateral contract," while the learned Lords Justices justify the introduction of the prospectus on the somewhat singular ground that, inasmuch as Table A, which is referred to in the proposal, is to be found in the prospectus, therefore you are entitled to read the rest of the prospectus, relating to mutual policies, as part of the contract. I am unable to agree in this. We are not here in an action of damages or of rescission of the contract, and I do not feel entitled, when the respondent in his proposal refers to Table A, to hold him as incorporating all the rest, or part of the rest, of the print in which that Table is to be found. The passages in the prospectus on which the Court of Appeal proceed contain a description of the system as de facto existing at the time. But it seems to me that the respondent, so far from hindering the appellant Company to perpetuate that system, has placed himself in the hands of the Company to the extent of hindering himself to "abide by" (those are the words of the proposal) their rules. There is nothing repugnant or unreasonable in his thus following the fortunes of the Company, and this is what he has done.

For these reasons I think that the judgments appealed against ought to be reversed.

Lord Lindley. My Lords, this appeal turns entirely on the contracts entered into between the insurance Company and its participating policyholders, represented by Mr Baily. The contracts are contained in the policies issued to them. It is contended that the applications for these policies were based on the faith of prospectuses containing statements and holding out inducements which preclude the Company from making alterations in the mode of applying their profits without the consent of the policyholders. My Lords, if these gentlemen were seeking to rescind or rectify their contracts on the ground of fraud or mistake, or were suing for damages occasioned by fraudulent misrepresentation, it would be legitimate to refer to the statements in the prospectuses on the faith of which they became policyholders. But the complaining policyholders are not doing anything of the sort, and the prospectuses not being referred to in the policies cannot, in my opinion, be legitimately referred to in order to construe the contracts into which the policyholders have been induced to enter. These contracts are to be found in the policies themselves. By each policy the Company agree to pay the executors of the assured a fixed sum out of the funds of the Company, "and all such other sums, if any, as the said Company by their directors may have ordered to be added to such amount by way of bonus or otherwise, according to their practice for the time being. Provided always, that this policy is made subject to the conditions and regulations hereon indorsed." That is the contract between the parties; but the indorsed conditions and regulations are part of it, and the fifth is important. The Company was formed as long ago as 1854, and the object of the fifth regulation is to limit the liability of the members of the Company. But the regulation throws light on the position of the policyholders and on what they can claim under their policies. The fifth indorsed condition or regulation in effect provides that the funds of the Company, "after satisfying prior claims and charges according to the provisions of the deed of settlement and by-laws of the Company for the time being, shall alone be liable for the payment of the moneys payable under the policy, and that no shareholder, member, director, or other officer of the Company shall be liable to any demand in respect of the policy beyond or otherwise than out of the payment in the manner and at the times provided for by the deed of settlement and the then by-laws of the Company of the amount then remaining unpaid of the shares held by him." The reference to the deed of settlement and by-laws for the time being is all-important; for the by-laws determine how the profits of the Company are to be disposed of, and those by-laws are subject to alteration from time to time by an extraordinary meeting of the shareholders of the Company (see clauses 9, 24, 56 of the deed of settlement). The policyholders are not shareholders, and have no voice in making or altering by-laws; but the sum payable under any policy, in addition to the fixed sum mentioned in it, is made by the policy itself to depend upon what the directors may have ordered to be added to such sum, and that depends upon their practice for the time being. The practice of the directors in its turn depends on how the profits are to be ascertained and divided in accordance with the by-laws, which may be altered from time to time, as above pointed out.

My Lords, I am quite unable to adopt the view taken by the Courts below as to the inability of the Company to alter their by-laws as they have done, and, inter alia, to make a sinking fund without the consent of the policyholders. I can find no contract to that effect. A collateral contract so wholly opposed to the contracts contained in the policies is not, in my opinion, established by the evidence in the case.

Of course, the powers of altering by-laws, like other powers, must be exercised bona fide, and having regard to the purposes for which they are created, and to the rights of persons affected by them. A by-law to the effect that no creditor or policyholder should be paid what was due to him would, in my opinion, be clearly void as an illegal excess of power. But in this case it is conceded that the alteration contemplated, and sought to be restrained, is fair, honest and business-like, and will, in the opinion of the directors and shareholders of the Company, be beneficial as well to the policyholders as to the shareholders. The sole question is whether such an alteration infringes the rights of the policyholders. In my opinion it clearly does not.

I am of opinion that the appeal should be allowed, and that the action should be dismissed, and that the respondent should pay the costs of the action and of the appeals both here and below.

Judgment of Kekewich, J., and order of the Court of Appeal reversed, and action dismissed.—Lords' Journals, December 15, 1905.

VI.

PRESUMPTION OF SURVIVORSHIP; DIFFERENCE BETWEEN THE LAW OF ONTARIO AND THE LAW OF QUEBEC.

NOTE.—In the case of commorientes, that is of persons perishing in a common disaster, the Roman Civil Law enacted that in the absence of evidence, certain facts should be presumed as to priority of death, the presumption being founded on strength, age or sex: Dig. lib. 5, tit. 2; lib. 23, tit. 4; lib. 34, tit. 5. This doctrine of Presumption of Survivorship passed from the Roman Empire into the jurisprudence of France and other European countries, and from France into the Province of Quebec and the State of Louisiana. The Civil Code of the Province of Quebec enacts as follows:

“Art. 603. Where several persons, respectively called to the succession of each other, perish by one and the same accident, so that it is impossible to ascertain which of them died first, the presumption of survivorship is determined by circumstances, and in their absence, by the considerations of age and sex, conformably to the rules contained in the following Articles.

"Art. 604. Where those who perished together were under fifteen years of age, the eldest is presumed to have survived;

"If they were all above the age of sixty, the youngest is presumed to have survived;

"If some were under the age of fifteen and others over that of sixty, the former are presumed to have survived;

"If some were under fifteen or over sixty years of age, and others in the intermediate age, the presumption of survivorship is in favor of the latter.

"Art. 605. If those who perished together were all between the full age of fifteen and sixty, and of the same sex, the order of nature is followed, according to which the youngest is presumed to survive;

"But if they were of different sexes, the male is always presumed to have survived."

There is no Presumption of Survivorship in the other Provinces of Canada, which follow the common law of England (as laid down by the House of Lords in Wing v. Angrave (1860), 8 H. L. C., 183); the party claiming a survivorship of one or the other of the persons who perished by a common disaster must prove the survivorship; or, in default of proof, the rights of property—as by succession, etc., are to be settled on the footing that all died at the same instant:

ANGLIN, J.

May 11th, 1906.

Re PHILLIPS AND CANADIAN ORDER OF CHOSEN FRIENDS.

[7 O. W. R., 765].

Life Insurance—Preferred Beneficiaries—Death of One in same Accident as Insured—Presumption of Survivorship—Presumption of Pre-decease—Disposal of Insurance Fund—Construction of Insurance Act—Joint Tenancy in Fund—Tenancy in Common—Statutory Trust—Contingent Interests—Burden of Proof—Resulting Trust.

Motion by the National Trust Co., the administrators of the estate of Catherine Philips, deceased, wife of John S. Philips, deceased, for payment out of Court of one-third of the moneys paid in by the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends in respect of an insurance upon the life of John S. Philips.

W. E. Middleton, for applicants.

F. W. Harcourt, for respondents. Marion Catherine Philips and Genevieve Helena Philips, children of John S. Philips.

Anglin, J.—John S. Philips and his second wife Catherine Philips were lost with the steamer "Minnedosa" which disappeared while being towed in a snowstorm on 26th October, 1905. He left no children by his second wife, the respondents being issue of a former marriage. His life was insured by the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends in the sum of $2,000, payable to Catherine Philips, his wife, and to Marion and Genevieve Philips, two of his daughters.

The doctrine finally established by Wing v. Angrave, 8 H. L. C., 183, applies to this case. In the absence of evidence, there is no presumption of survivorship between John S. Philips and his wife. It follows that a litigant upon whom is cast the onus of proving the survivorship of either must fail in his contention.

The Insurance Act, R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203, confers upon a class known as "preferred beneficiaries," interests as cestuis que trustent in policies of insurance made in their favour. Such interests the wife and children of John S. Philips enjoyed in the insurance in question. None of the events upon which the interest of the wife might be defeated under the express provisions of the statute is proved to have happened. The husband did not make a re-apportionment excluding her; there is no evidence that she predeceased him, and no such presumption arises.

It is only upon one of several designated preferred beneficiaries dying in the lifetime of the insured, i. e., predeceasing him, that, in default of apportionment or re-apportionment by the insured, the statute (sec. 159, sub-sec. 8) transfers the interest of such deceased beneficiary to the surviving designated beneficiaries: see 4 Edw. VII, chap. 15, sect. 7. The burden is on the person claiming the benefit of that provision to establish the event to which it applies, viz., that the deceased preferred beneficiary died in the lifetime of the assured. That onus the respondents cannot in this case discharge. The case is, therefore, not within this section of the Insurance Act.

The application of this provision of the statute being excluded, the solution of the question under consideration depends upon the nature and extent of the interest which the wife of the deceased had in the insurance in question. This may be ascertained by determining the true construction of the terms of the statute declaring the trust under which she claims.

So far as they are contained in sub-sec. 1 of sect. 159, the terms of the statutory trust thereby created are substantially the same as those imposed by sect. II of the English Married Women's Property Act of 1882, 45 and 46 Vict., chap. 75. The other provisions of sect. 159 seem sufficiently inconsistent with the application to the word "beneficiary" in sub-sec. 1 of the interpretative provision contained in sect. 2, sub-sec. 34, which declares that the word "beneficiary" shall include every person entitled to such money, and the executors, administrators, and assigns of any person so entitled "unless a contrary intention appears," to preclude such application. Even if this interpretation clause were applicable, the added words "executors, administrators and assigns" would probably not in any wise affect the interest which the beneficiary would take under the statute without such words; Re Eaton, 23 O. R., 593.

Under the English statute the Courts have held that a policy such as that now being considered "amounts to a settlement on the wife and children, by creating vested interests as joint tenants in such of them as were living at the settlor's death;" per North, J., in In re Seyton, 34 Ch. D., 511, 517. It was further held that the beneficiaries all take "like shares." The decision of Chitty, J., in In re Davies [1892], 1 Ch. 90, follows this authority, and is approved by Joyce, J., in In re Griffiths [1903], 1 Ch., 739, 743. If the nature of the interests of designated preferred beneficiaries under our Act be the same, cadit quæstio, because, as joint tenants with her, the two children of John S. Philips would be entitled to the share of his wife, had she survived him.

Sub-sec. 7 of sect. 159 of our statute provides that "where two or more beneficiaries are designated or ascertained, but no apportionment among them is made, all the said beneficiaries shall be held to share equally in the same (i. e., the insurance fund). Section 8, as amended by 4 Edw. VII, chap. 15, sect. 7, provides for re-apportionment by the assured in the event of the death of one or more of several preferred beneficiaries during the lifetime of the assured, and the survivorship in default of such re-apportionment. Section 160 provides for re-apportionment by the assured amongst preferred beneficiaries while all such beneficiaries designated are still alive. There being no corresponding statutory provisions in England, the question for determination is whether, by reason of the presence of these clauses in our Act, the interests of the wife and children designated as beneficiaries should be held to be other than those of joint tenants.

This question presents many difficulties. If there were an apportionment in other than equal shares, joint tenancy would seem impossible, equal interest in joint tenancy being of its essence. Perhaps any actual apportionment made by the assured, though in equal shares, would require that the beneficiaries should take in severalty and not jointly. But that the presence in the statute of provisions enabling the assured to apportion suffices to prevent an unapportioned insurance in favour of two or more preferred beneficiaries coming to them as joint tenants, is, I think doubtful. The insured has refrained from exercising any power conferred upon him by express apportionment to make the interests of the beneficiaries several instead of joint. The clause declaring that, in the absence of apportionment, designated beneficiaries "shall be held to share equally" does not necessarily mean more than that the interests of each shall be the same, and is therefore consistent with the subsistence of the joint tenancy which, upon the provisions of sub-sect. 1 of sect. 159, if standing alone, the policy now dealt with must, upon the English authorities, have been held to create. The Ontario legislature adopted the provisions now found in subsect. 1 of sect. 159, from the English statute, and has more than once re-enacted them since it has been decided that these provisions make several beneficiaries under the same policy to whom they apply joint tenants of the insurance fund. Such re-enactment usually imports an adoption by the legislature of the construction already put upon the statute by the Courts. Can it be said that the other provisions of the Ontario Act suffice to exclude that implication, in such circumstances as exist in the present case? Having regard to the strong leaning against joint tenancies, and to the eagerness with which expressions in the least indicative of an intention that there should be a division, are seized upon to create tenancies in common, it may be that the interests should be deemed those of tenants in common: Robertson v. Fraser, L. R. 6 Ch., at p. 696; Re Yates [1891] 3 Ch., 53; Re Wooley [1903], 2 Ch., 206.

But, whatever question there may be as to the joint or several character of the interests to be taken by the beneficiaries named in this policy, had they all survived the insured, can there be any question as to the contingent nature of such interests?

* * * * *

[Reference to In re Seyton, 34 Ch. D., at p. 517; In re Adams, 23 Ch. D., 525; Cleaver v. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Assn., [1892], 1 Q. B., 147, 154, 158, 160].

It therefore seems reasonably clear that, apart entirely from the operation of sub-sect. 8 of sect. 159 (sect. 7 of 4 Edw. VII, chap. 15), a preferred beneficiary under a policy within sub-sect. 1 of sect. 159 does not acquire an absolute interest, but merely an interest contingent upon his being alive when the insured dies. Therefore, although the surviving children cannot invoke sub-sect. 8 of sect. 159 of the Insurance Act (4 Edw. VII, chap. 15, sect. 7), because unable to shew that the wife predeceased her husband, neither can the representatives of the wife prove that her contingent interest as cestui que trust became absolute and passed to them, because they in turn cannot prove that she was living at the death of her husband.

Upon the present motion the onus is, in my opinion, clearly upon the applicants, who seek payment out of Court of what they allege to be Mrs. Philips' share of the insurance fund. This fact would suffice to prevent their success. But, had the motion been on behalf of the children for payment out of the entire fund to them, the result must, in my opinion, have been the same. The representatives of the deceased wife, opposing such a motion upon the ground that her interest had become absolute, and had as such devolved upon them, must still assert the affirmative, that the wife was alive at the time of the death of the husband, and the onus of proof, as determined in Wing v. Angrave, 8 H. L. C., 187, is on the person asserting the affirmative. There is no presumption of the survivorship of the wife or of the husband. Neither will the law presume that most improbable thing, that the cesser of the two lives was simultaneous: Best on Evidence, 9th ed., p. 348. In the absence of evidence, therefore, the persons asserting that the wife was alive at the time of the death of the husband, must be held to fail, in whatever form the question arises. They cannot prove the event upon which the contingent interest of the wife would have become absolute and transmissible.

I have been referred to an interesting and instructive article, discussing these problems, to be found in volume 16 of the "Green Bag," p. 237.

Had Mrs. Philips been sole beneficiary, a resulting trust in favour of the estate of the husband would arise. But the provision of the statute that "so long as any object of the trust remains, the money payable under the contract shall not be subject to the control of the assured or of his or her creditors, or form part of his estate when the sum secured by the contract becomes payable," precludes any such resulting trust arising, and imports that the lapse of the share of one of several preferred beneficiaries enures to the benefit of the surviving beneficiaries, independently of the operation of sub-sect. 8 of sect. 159 of the Insurance Act.

If such lapse should give rise to a resulting trust in favour of the estate of the insured, no advantage to the applicant could ensue. In that event the fund would pass two-thirds to the named beneficiaries under the policy, and the remaining third to the three daughters of the insured as his next of kin.

An order will issue declaring the entire fund in Court to be the property in equal shares of the two infant children of John S. Philips, deceased, and directing that, subject to further order, it remain in Court until they respectively attain the age of 21 years, and be then paid out to them with accrued interest. In the circumstances, costs of all parties of this motion should be paid out of the fund, and the order may so provide.

BARTRAM v. SUPREME COUNCIL OF THE ROYAL ARCANUM.

[This case is now reported in 6 O. W. R., 404].

JUDGMENT, STREET, J.

September 28th, 1905.

Action tried before me without a Jury at the London Assizes, on September 20th, 1905.

Bartram in person for the plaintiff.

Aylesworth, K. C., and Lyman Lee for the defendants.

The defendants are a Friendly Society incorporated on 5th November, 1877, in the State of Massachusetts, under a general Act which has been many times amended since their incorporation. The purposes* of the incorporation are declared to be fraternal union * * * and establishing a fund for the relief of sick and distressed members and one for a widows and orphans' benefit fund.

The plaintiff Bartram became a member of the defendants' Order in January, 1879, being then between thirty and thirty-one years of age, and applied for a "full rate membership" which entitled his widow at his death to a sum not exceeding $3,000, upon the condition that he should comply in the future with the laws, rules and regulations governing the council and the Widows and Orphans' Benefit Fund of the Order at the time of the application, or that might thereafter be enacted by the Supreme Council to govern the said Council and Fund. At the time the plaintiff became a member of the Order the laws of the Order provided in effect that upon the death of a member an assessment should be made upon all the surviving members, each member contributing a sum fixed at the time he entered the Order and based upon his age at that time.

As the members of the Order increased in numbers the frequent deaths rendered this plan inconvenient and the laws were changed so as to provide for twelve assessments a year, the amount of each assessment being considerably increased; but the principle was still preserved that the date at which each member had entered the Order should govern the amount of his assessment.

One of the declared objects of the change was to create an Emergency Fund, which was in effect a Reserve Fund upon which drafts might be made to supplement the assessments from time to time. Under this system a Reserve Fund of several millions of dollars was accumulated during the earlier years of its operation, but the increasing number of deaths which took place as the earlier members of the Order grew old began to deplete the Emergency Fund with increasing rapidity. An examination of the condition of the funds and resources of the Order was then undertaken, and it was made apparent by the actuaries who were employed that a further change in the By-laws regulating the contributions to the Fund was necessary if the Fund was to be maintained. The result was that the Constitution and By-laws were amended on 25th May, 1905, by providing that all members of the Order admitted before 1st July, 1905, should contribute after the 1st October, 1905, to the said Fund according to their attained ages at that date.

* The purposes of the incorporation as textually set out in the Certificate of Incorporation granted by the State of Massachusetts, on 5th November, 1877, are as follows:—

"Be it known that whereas Darius Wilson, Charles K. Darling, W. O. Rohson, Ezra M. Crawford, J. A. Cummings, George W. Blish, William Bradley, J. H. Wright and Julius M. Swain, have associated themselves with the intention of forming a Corporation under the name of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum, for the purpose of fraternal union, aid to its members and their dependents, the education socially, morally and intellectually of its members, assisting the widows and orphans of deceased members, establishing a fund for the relief of sick and distressed members, and one for a widows and orphans' benefit fund, etc., etc., [sic]."—J. H. H.

The plaintiff therefore instead of being required to pay contributions based upon his age of thirty or thirty-one when he entered the Order is required to pay contributions based upon his age of fifty-seven or fifty-eight, which he will have attained on 1st October, 1905. The difference to the plaintiff is said to be between $6.00 and $7.00 a month.

The present action is brought by the plaintiff on behalf of himself and all other members of the Order in good standing who are contributors to the Benefit Fund to restrain the defendants from enforcing the increased contributions and for a declaration that the amendments are ultra vires and a breach of contract.

The defendants have set up the terms of their contract with the plaintiff and they allege that under the laws of Massachusetts governing the Order and under their own By-laws and under their contract with the plaintiff they had authority to make the changes complained of, and that the changes were properly and necessarily made.

The benefit Certificate which constitutes the contract of the defendants expressly reserves to the defendants the right to enact other laws, rules and regulations for the government and regulation of the Fund, and makes their promise to the plaintiff conditional upon his complying with the laws, rules and regulations in force from time to time.

The By-laws of the Order in force at the time the plaintiff became a member contain an express declaration that they may be altered from time to time and provide the manner in which alterations may be made. The alterations complained of are shown to have been made in the manner pointed out by the By-laws, and all formalities appear to have been strictly complied with. These alterations have not been such as to vary in any fundamental degree the principle upon which the defendants' contract rested; on the contrary, they are alterations which are sworn to be necessary for the purpose of maintaining the Benefit Fund, because the original contributions which the plaintiff seeks to have maintained were found to be too small to keep it up; the newer members would have been overwhelmed by the contributions rendered necessary by the increasing frequency of deaths amongst the older ones.

In my opinion there was power to make changes in the By-laws governing the plaintiff's contract with the Order; the changes which have been made were necessary and were within the powers of the defendants, and those changes have been properly effected according to the laws governing the plaintiff and the defendants, and are therefore binding on the plaintiff.

Similar questions have been considered repeatedly by the Courts in England, in Canada, and in the United States, and the very strong preponderance of authority supports the right of the Order to make the changes here complained of.

Minnesota Mutual*, 193 U. S., 657; Dixon v. Thompson, reported at p. 46 of Diprose's cases affecting Friendly Societies.

The action must be dismissed with costs.

(2) SUPREME COURT OF MASSACHUSETTS.

STEPHEN W. REYNOLDS et al. v. SUPREME COUNCIL OF THE ROYAL ARCANUM.

KNOWLTON, C. J.

18th May, 1906.

This is a bill in equity to set aside certain changes in the defendant's by-laws which affect the rights of certificate holders. The defendant is a fraternal beneficiary association, organized under the laws of Massachusetts in 1877, and now subject to the provisions of R. L., chap. 119, and the Acts in amendment thereof. The plaintiffs are certificate holders, who bring this bill for themselves and in behalf of others. From the time of its organization the defendant issued certificates to members, agreeing to pay to a designated beneficiary a sum not exceeding a certain number of dollars on the death of the member, upon compliance by him with certain conditions therein stated. The by-laws provided that the death benefit should be for a definite amount, and payments of these definite amounts have always been made. The words "not exceeding" are inserted in the certificate to meet the possibility of a single full assessment not being equal to the amount stated. This limitation of the payment to the amount of an assessment, except when there is an emergency fund, was expressly called for by St. 1897, chap. 442, sect. 11, which is now found in R. L., chap. 119, sect. 6. Until 1898 the assessments paid by members, from which the death benefits were derived, were certain sums dependent upon the age of the member at the time of receiving his certificate, which sums remained the same as the years went by. These sums were paid to meet assessments as members died, and the amount for the first year would equal the cost to the Corporation of the insurance of these members. But as the members grew older the risk of their death increased, and as their payments remained constant, and as there was at no time a payment of any surplus beyond the amount required to meet losses, the payments by members of long standing were not nearly enough to equal the cost of their insurance to the Corporation. So the only way in which the amounts required to meet losses could be obtained was from the payments made by new members.

In 1898, the by-laws were amended so as largely to increase the payments to be made by all members, and to require the payments monthly. These amendments went into effect on August 1, 1898, and it appears by the agreed facts that no objection thereto has ever been made by any member of the Order. These payments, while much larger than those required by the original by-laws, were upon the same relative basis: that is, the increase upon all was in the same proportion, and they were all determined by the age of the member when he received his certificate, and were not to be afterwards changed as a member grew older.

When these amendments were made, it was thought that the increase would provide for the future payments called for by the certificates, and that an adequate emergency fund would be created from this income. Under these amendments there was a surplus in 1898 from the excess of receipts above payments, amounting to more than $455,000, and afterwards there was annually a steadily diminishing surplus from the same cause to and including the year 1903. In the year 1904, the payments exceeded the receipts, and there was a deficit of $270,540.50.

Prior to the session of the Supreme Council in May, 1905, the executive committee caused mortality tables of the Order to be prepared, and made extended investigations and studies with the aid of competent actuaries, to devise some method, through a change of by-laws, which should enable the Corporation to meet its obligations to members. The actuaries prepared for them new tables, each the mathematical equivalent of the others, the first being the regular rates and three others optional alternatives. These were founded upon the payment by the Order of the maximum value of each certificate, and the payment by the member of a rate adequate, without further modification or additional assessment, to pay the certificate at the maturity thereof.

It is agreed that "competent actuaries would testify, and the case may be taken as though they had testified, that the old plan of assessments was faulty, according to the assumptions made by the actuaries, and that the Order could not meet the maximum face of its certificates under it; that upon their assumptions a change was expedient or necessary; that the plans proposed and adopted were mathematically correct; that if the members paid the amounts fixed in these tables the Order could continue to pay the maximum face value of its certificates at their maturity; that such amounts are no higher than necessary for this purpose, and that they fairly and equitably apportion among the members their contributions to the widows' and orphans' benefit fund, taking into consideration their age and risk." "The plaintiffs do not controvert this evidence in this case, but reserve the right to discuss its materiality, the basis and theories upon which it rests, and its application to this case." On January 1, 1905, the members of the Corporation were 305,083 in number, and they held benefit certificates amounting to $680,848,000.

Under these conditions the changes recommended by the actuaries were adopted by an amendment of the by-laws by an almost unanimous vote of the members of the Supreme Council, and the question is whether the changes are legal and binding upon the members.

From facts agreed it is plain that a great Corporation, managing and controlling important financial interests for hundreds of thousands of families, was conducting its business upon unsound principles, which, if followed without change, would ultimately lead to financial ruin. The first question is, was the change adopted in excess of the defendant's corporate powers, or in violation of the statute governing such Corporations.

The statutes authorize the adoption of by-laws declaring "the manner in which * * * the purposes of its incorporation may be accomplished." R. L., chap. 125, sect. 6; chap. 119, sect. 2. These by-laws may prescribe the "assessments and benefits in case of disability or death, and the conditions upon which the same shall be paid * * * , the method of the amendment of the by-laws, and such other provisions as the Corporation may determine." R. L., chap. 119, sect. 2. Such a Corporation "may make provisions for the payment of benefits in case of death or disability or both. The funds from the which the payment of such benefits shall be made shall be derived only from assessments collected from the members * * * * *. Such provisions, funds, assessments and payments shall be as required in the by-laws of the Corporation." R. L., chap. 119, sect. 6.

Plainly the statute contemplates that such Corporations shall have power to establish by their by-laws a system of giving death benefits which shall be sound and equitable, and founded on principles which can reasonably be expected to furnish proper security for the performance of their contracts with members. The power to make proper changes in these particulars by amendment of the by-laws from time to time is expressly given.

There is no ground for the contention that it is a violation of the statute or of the defendant's chartered rights to provide for such assessments as will be likely to insure the payment of the sums named in the certificates. The statute expressly authorizes, not only a death fund amounting to three full assessments upon the members, but also the accumulation of an emergency fund amounting to five per cent. upon the face value of all outstanding benefit certificates. The emergency fund is to be invested in safe securities, and all of these are to be deposited with the Treasurer of the Commonwealth. R. L., chap. 119, sect. 7. As the promise to pay the beneficiary is binding upon the Corporation, it ought to make adequate provision to obtain the means of payment.

Newhall v. American Legion of Honor, 181 Mass., 111.

The objection that the amendments are illegal by reason of the division of the members into classes cannot prevail. There is no objection to a classification of members according to age, and it would be unjust to disregard age in determining the rates that different persons shall pay for death benefits in an association of this kind.

The distinctive features of such organizations remain since the adoption of the amendments as well as before. The fraternal plan, with mutuality and without profit, distinguishes the work of such an association from a commercial enterprise. It is a charitable and benevolent organization, with a limitation of membership to a special class, and a limitation upon the choice of beneficiaries. It is not allowed to employ paid agents in soliciting or procuring business, except within very narrow limits prescribed by the statutes. R. L., chap. 119, sect. 16. Looking to the nature and purposes of fraternal beneficiary corporations, we see nothing in the amendments at variance with the law. It cannot have been intended that such corporations should be limited to a method of assessment that would be sure to bring about their early dissolution.

Another question is whether the amendments are in violation of the contract rights of members. It is stated in the record that "the agreements between the plaintiff and the defendant concerning assessments and benefits are not contained in any one specific instrument, but are found in the application for membership, the benefit certificate, the laws of Massachusetts constituting the charter and the constitution and laws of the Order." If there were no express stipulation in regard to the by-laws in the application for membership or in the certificates, all members of such a Corporation would be bound by by-laws regularly made or amended.

Every member of this Corporation, at the time of joining it, enters into an express agreement to "conform to and abide by the constitutions, laws, rules and usages of the said council and Order, now in force or which may hereafter be adopted by the same." The certificates promise payment only on condition that the member complies "with the laws, rules and regulations now governing said council and fund, or that may hereafter be enacted by the Supreme Council to govern the said council and fund," etc. Here in the contract is full authority to amend the laws, rules and regulations.

In regard to a similar provision under which a mutual fire insurance Company changed its by-laws, so as to increase the assessments upon certain policyholders, the Supreme Court of the United States uses this language: "The liability of members of this institution is of a twofold nature. It results both from an obligation to conform to laws of their own making as members of the body politic, and from a particular assumption or declaration which every individual signs on becoming a member. The latter is remarkably comprehensive. 'We will abide by, observe and adhere to the constitution, rules and regulations which are already established or may hereafter be established by a majority of the assured * * * or which are or may hereafter be established by the president and directors of the Society' * * * . As to what is contended to be a material alteration in their charter, we consider it merely as a new arrangement or distribution of their funds, and whether just or unjust, reasonable or unreasonable, beneficial or otherwise, to all concerned, was certainly a mere matter of speculation proper for the consideration of the Society, and which no individual is at liberty to complain of, as he is bound to consider it as his own individual act. Every member, in fact, stands in the peculiar situation of being a party of both sides, insurer and insured. Certainly the general submission which they have signed will cover their liability to submit to this alteration."

Korn v. Mutual Assurance Co., 6 Cranch, 192.

This part of the present case is covered in principle by the decisions of this Court in Messer v. Grand Lodge, 180 Mass., 321, and Pain v. Société St. Jean Baptiste, 172 Mass, 319, in which cases changes similar to those made by the defendant were upheld under like contracts. The same general doctrine has been stated in many cases in other Courts.

There are many cases in which it is held that the amount expressly promised to be paid in a certificate like those issued by the defendant cannot be cut down by an amendment of the by-laws.

- Newhall v. American Legion of Honor*, 181 Mass., 11.
Langan v. Same, 174 N. Y., 266.

But in many of these, as in the case from this Court last cited, a distinction is made between the express stipulation of the Corporation to pay a certain sum and other provisions relating to the methods of the Corporation, and the duties of the certificate holders, which properly may be a subject for regulation by by-laws, even though they affect the rights of the parties under their contract. The assessments to be paid for death benefits in this case are provided for by the by-laws, while a promise in writing to pay a certain sum to a particular person is, as to that person, a matter outside of those corporate rules which may be expected to be changed by an amendment of the by-laws. This promise on one side is set over against the promise of the member on the other. The promise of the member is to do what may be called for by the by-laws then existing or that may afterwards be adopted. The promise of the Corporation is stated expressly, without mention of the by-laws. The member occupies a dual position, as an insurer and the insured. As one of the Association agreeing to provide for the payments that may become due to members, he agrees to be subject to the by-laws. As the insured person to whom a particular sum of money is promised, he has a right to stand on the terms of the promise.

That the duties of members prescribed by the by-laws remain subject to modification when a power of amendment is reserved has often been decided.

Most of the cases relied on by the plaintiffs, when rightly analyzed, turn on the distinction between an attempted amendment of the by-laws directly affecting the promise to the certificate holder as an insured person and an amendment affecting his duties as a member of the Corporation bound to perform his part in providing means or otherwise as one of the Association of insurers.

On principle and on the weight of authority we are of opinion that there is nothing in this contract that prevents the Corporation from amending its by-laws in a reasonable way, to accomplish the purposes for which it was organized, even though the change increases the payments to be made by certificate holders. Such changes necessarily involve some hardship to certain individual members, but the Corporation, under the law, should do that which will bring the greatest good to the greatest number. The members who complain of its action are those who have had the benefit of insurance for themselves and their families for many years, at very much less than the cost of their insurance to the Corporation. They have had the good fortune to survive, and therefore their contracts have brought them no money, but all the time they have had the stipulated security against the risk of death. If now they are called upon to pay for future insurance no more than its cost to the Corporation, they ought not to think it unjust.

Bill dismissed.

PENSIONS UNDER POLICE BENEFIT RULES.

IN THE HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE, ONTARIO.—TRIAL COURT.

SLEMIN v. POLICE BENEFIT FUND.

MEREDITH, J.

7th November, 1905.

JUDGMENT.

The matters in issue between these parties are all comprised within very narrow limits. The plaintiff's right to recover in this action depends entirely upon the proper answer to the simple question, was he entitled to a pension after a service of twenty-five years, or not?

It is quite true that the members of this "Police Benefit Fund" have rights. It is quite true that they have rights which neither the "Benefit Fund Committee" nor the "Board of Police Commissioners" can ignore. They have rights which the Court will give effect to, under certain circumstances, notwithstanding the contrary action of the Committee and the Board. But that which the plaintiff is seeking is a very substantial thing: a pension of $500 a year during his life. That involves a very considerable sum of money. It involves the rights of many other persons who are, or may become, beneficiaries of that Fund, and of those who are from day to day subscribing to that Fund by way of assessments which go to make up the money out of which pensions are paid. It is obvious that the plaintiff must show with reasonable clearness that he has under the laws governing the Fund, a right to a pension after a service of twenty-five years. That he has so served, in an entirely satisfactory manner, is not denied. On all hands his services are spoken of in a very praiseworthy manner. There is nothing to be said against him. His claim depends upon a pure question of the proper construction of rules and regulations governing the Fund. If upon the proper construction of these rules a policeman becomes entitled to a pension after twenty-five years' service, the plaintiff is well entitled to it, and the Courts will take care that he gets it. But I am not satisfied that he has shown any such right. I am satisfied that he has not shown it.

It is true that section 25 of the rules provides that after a service of twenty-five years or more a member shall be entitled to receive a half pay pension for life. But, that is but half of the provision and one-half of a sentence or statement may convey a meaning the very opposite of that which the whole of it conveys. The whole of the section must be read together; and these important words guard and govern the part which I have referred to: "The consent in writing of the Police Commissioners having been first obtained to the resignation." That is to say, upon the plaintiff first obtaining the consent in writing of the Police Commissioners to his resignation after twenty-five years' service, he shall be entitled to half pay pension. That seems to me to be the plain language of the rule. There seems to me to be no way of avoiding the conclusion that without that consent there is no right to a pension. This view is strengthened by a reference to an earlier rule, section 2, which provides amongst other things, that no claim shall become a valid charge upon the fund until approved in writing by the Police Commissioners or a majority of them. Upon the plain wording of these rules, to which the plaintiff himself was a party, and by which he and everybody else is bound, it is provided that there shall be no pension until the charge upon the Fund has first been approved of, and in his particular case until consent in writing to the plaintiff's resignation has been obtained.

There the matter might end, but it is fair to say that there is probably nothing unreasonable in that. It may be very reasonable that a man in the plaintiff's position should not, even though he has served twenty-five years, have the right to retire from the force with a pension, when he chooses. The object of the rules seems to me to have been this: after a service for that length of time, if a policeman, desiring to resign and receive his pension, is, in the opinion of the Police Commissioners, a person who ought to be permitted to retire, then he shall have his half pay pension. They cannot make it less; they cannot make it more. That is his right, upon that condition precedent being satisfied. But it is not in the power of any policeman to say, "I shall retire after twenty-five years' service, and take a half pay pension, although my services may be of the very greatest value to the police force, and it may in its interest, be desirable that I should remain." Perhaps it would have been a mistake if the rules had not provided that the Commissioners should have a discretion of that character, which they might exercise, and in so exercising retain in the service of the force a man who ought not to retire whose best services should remain available in the service unless he chose to go out without pension. It does not seem to me to be unreasonable that the Police Commissioners should have that control over the members of the force, and that policemen should not at their will be permitted to retire with a pension, in the full vigor of manhood, when their services, as I said before, would be of the greatest value. It therefore seems to me upon the very wording of the rule, as well as upon the common sense of the thing, that no policeman has a right, at his own choice, to a pension, merely because he has served twenty-five years. When he has served that twenty-five years, he can under the rules, bring his case before the Commissioners, and they must properly exercise the power which is there vested in them. They may look at the man's service, they may look at all that he has done and take that into consideration in his favor: they may look at his age; whether he is or is not able to continue in the service; whether he is so old or whether for other reasons it is fair to allow him to retire, and they may not improperly have regard to the state of the Fund. Exercising that power they may allow a man of less than fifty years to retire; and they may require a man of more than fifty years to serve longer before they give their consent to his retiring. It is to be borne in mind that the Commissioners have no sort of personal interest in the Fund; but are persons occupying the highest official positions in the municipality; persons in whom any such power might be best confided.

The action must be dismissed, but, under all the circumstances, it is not a case for costs. Proceedings may be stayed.

FRIENDLY SOCIETIES—THE AGED MEMBERS: A PLEA IN MITIGATION.

An Address delivered by MR. J. HOWARD HUNTER, M.A., K.C., Registrar of Friendly Societies, to the Canadian Fraternal Association, at the Annual Meeting, Toronto, 27th April, 1906.

MR. HUNTER:

Mr. President and Gentlemen.—Old boys who have not forgotten their early Latin will remember Cicero's charming dialogue on Old Age (De Senectute); and how attractive that great special pleader makes old Cato the Censor; so that as Montaigne said, "it makes one hunger to be old" (Il donne l'appétit de vieillir). The dialogue in Cicero is almost a monologue, for the two young listeners do little more than draw out the strenuous, dour and witty old Cato, who was then (146 B. C.), eighty-three years of age. Plutarch has preserved for us a number of the old man's keen, frosty epigrams; but Horace, with a wink, hints that at dinner parties Cato's frost thawed out under the influence of wine. Cato was made much of by the brainy young fellows of Italy. Venerable Cato himself says he likes a young man that has a smack of old age, and he likes an old man that retains a flavor of the boy. He is not complaining. He has however heard other old fellows grumbling that they have been getting the cold shoulder; that they have been frozen out of their former society. From all of which you will infer that in his Society, Cato was not assessed on his attained age, as the other old fellows were in their Society! It makes all the difference in the world.

In this generation of questioners, old age has fallen on evil times. Old age is put to the question,—and the bald question is, "Has an old man any vested right to live?" (Laughter). Some of the fraternal Societies in the United States have taken Dr. Osler's jest in grim earnest; they have not exactly chloroformed off their old members—No, but they have administered knock-out drops by prohibitive rates of assessment. The fraternal mottoes and emblems of such Societies have become accusing apparitions,—ghosts that will not be laid by any Court of law, no matter what its judgment.

In the youth of those Societies, when they must have foreseen, and should have provided for, their old age, they entered into most reckless and improvident contracts.

Now, when a financial crisis is at hand, the Society calls in an actuary and asks what they are to do to balance the actuarial deficiency which is now becoming an actual deficit.

As to "Actuarial Liabilities," I may remind you that in 1892, when drafting the Insurance Corporations Act, 55 Vict., chap. 39, I had to devise a number of new phrases for a number of things which had not then been christened, and with which it then became necessary to deal. Section 2 (16) of that Act of 1892, introduced and defined the phrases "Actuarial Liabilities," and "Actuarial Solvency"; the clause also protected a Friendly Society from the legal consequences of an insolvency that was only actuarial or technical, as opposed to actual insolvency. That clause enacted as follows:

"Sect. 2 (16). 'Actuarial Liabilities' means the liabilities chargeable against an insurance Corporation in respect of its insurance contracts prior to their maturity;

"'Actuarial Solvency' means the solvency of an insurance Corporation when its actuarial liabilities are charged or treated as present liabilities;

"'Solvent' as applied to a Friendly Society means a Society respecting which it has been made to appear to the Registry Officer that the Society has no present liabilities apart from actuarial liabilities; or has immediately realizable assets adequate to discharge its present actual liabilities."

These provisions are now continued as section 2 sub sections 2, 3, and 18 of The Ontario Insurance Act. (R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203).

An "Actuarial deficit" therefore measures the insufficiency of the future assets to cover the future liabilities. When consulted as to an actuarial deficit, an actuary is not bound to go beyond his proper province, or beyond the mere mathematical boundaries of the technical question. He, therefore, probably reports that to make the Society at once actuarially solvent it will be necessary to deal with each of the certificate-holders,—young and old,—on the basis of his attained age, (as if the certificate-holder were now just entering the Society,) and that it will be necessary to charge him henceforward the level premium proper to that attained age. If any option is allowed, it must be the mathematical equivalent of the foregoing, and therefore affords no pecuniary easement to the aged certificate-holder.

The actuary is not bound to concern himself with consequences to individuals or to the Society. Now in an old Society the placing of the premium at the attained age very seriously affects a large percentage of the whole membership. In the case of members in the seventies, eighties, and nineties the premiums based on attained age may amount to actual prohibition,—may amount to practical repudiation of the supposed contract. Disruption of the Society would be almost inevitable, in spite of abstract mathematics, or of abstract law. The operation was brilliant and a beautiful bit of heroic surgery,—but the patient is dead.

In order to assist you in considering these questions I have prepared these Tables lettered A, B, C. In this Table A, which is new as to ages 56 and upwards, the net premiums are computed from the mortality [C. L. (5)] of the Canada Life Assurance Company, 1847 to 1893. The ultimate limit of life among the policyholders of that Company reached the unusual age of 102. The death rate in that Company during those 46 years (1847-1893) was materially lower than in the HM Mortality Table of the Institute of Actuaries. Using the Canada Life Mortality in order to place before the Friendly Societies of Ontario, the lowest net premiums that can be used with safety, I calculated in 1896 and published on the 25th January, 1897, the Table of Net Premiums which now forms Schedule A to The Ontario Insurance Act, (R. S. O., 1897, chap. 203). That Table covered ages 18 to 55; the extended Table now before you covers ages 18 to 98. This Canada Life (5) net premium is in Part I of Table A, laid beside the corresponding new British Table [OM(5)]. This latter Table,—One of the British Offices Life Tables, 1893,—was published in 1902, by a joint Committee of the Institute of Actuaries, England, and of the Faculty of Actuaries, Scotland, and was deduced from the mortality among the male policyholders of sixty British Companies ("Offices") for the period 1863-1893 (including lives on the books in 1863, and new entrants since that date). In the case of each of the two Tables here compared, the first five years' experience of policies is excluded, so as to eliminate the disturbing effects of recent medical selection and of early lapses. The limit of life in each of the two Mortality Tables is 102 years.

From a comparison of these net rates it will be seen that the net rates deduced from the latest mortality experience of the British Companies largely exceeds the rates based on the Canada Life mortality, the average excess of the British Companies' Table for ages 18 to 55 amounting to over 14½ per cent. This is one more warning that in fixing your net premiums it is unsafe to go below the rates in the Schedule to The Ontario Insurance Act, R. S. O. 1897, chap. 203. In the Appendix to my last Insurance Report (1905), p. C 230, I compared these Ontario rates with those deduced from the latest experience (1893-7) of the Manchester Unity. By referring to the Table there given you will see that the Manchester Unity exceeds by a percentage rising from 5.68% at age 18 to nearly 26% at age 55.

In Part 2 of Table A I have laid side by side the Net Monthly Level Premiums of the Ontario Table and of the National Fraternal Congress; you will see that the rates adopted by the Congress in 1899, where they were not identical with those in the Ontario Table, diverged in most cases but slightly from them.

The National Fraternal Congress in its Proceedings also published for ages 21 to 60 a Table of net annual premiums payable yearly in advance. These premiums I have in Table B now before you, extended so as to cover ages 20 to 98; also for comparison there is placed in the adjoining column, the Congress Table of yearly insurance cost, or the undiscounted yearly step-rate.

In Table C now before you, I have computed on the basis of the National Fraternal Congress Mortality, the net annual premium for a term insurance ending at age 65; and in the adjoining column is placed the Congress premium for a term insurance ending at age 70.

In all of these Tables the interest of money is taken at 4 per cent. per annum.

On examination of the net premiums in Tables A and B, it becomes at once clear that where the attained ages of certificate-holders are in the seventies, eighties, or nineties, it is practically impossible to apply to their cases a retroactive rate of premium based on their attained ages. Any attempt to do so would probably rend the Society asunder.

In applying mathematical formulæ even to practical mechanics, a liberal allowance from theoretical results must always be made. Take for example the case where so many tons of material are to be raised by means of a multiple block and tackle. Given so many movable pulleys, we know theoretically that so many tons should be lifted by the expenditure of so much power. But, in practice, we know that this theoretical result cannot be hoped for. When the support is undoubted, and the block and tackle is at its best, we must still make a liberal allowance for friction and for the slipping and stretching of the rope.

But what, when the support is weakened and the pulley-sheaves have become eccentrics, if not actual cranks, and the texture and cohesion of the rope have become relaxed? In such a case the mechanism, though plainly unsafe for the original full load, may still be quite safe for a third or a half of that load. So that you might reach the desired result and raise the material portion-wise,—say in thirds or in halves.

Friendly Societies are in many cases old, and somewhat worn, mechanisms. In raising the rates the Executive Officers have to depend upon a somewhat uncertain support. The legislative machinery of the Society creaks and groans under a very slight strain. Its legislators include several eccentrics, and some actual cranks. (Laughter). The rope which binds the old and the young members is somewhat strained, and has not the same cohesion as when there was little unevenness of age. Friction is now a serious drawback, and if too heavy a load is thrown upon the mechanism, the friction may set the whole Society ablaze.

To change the simile. An old Society with insufficient premium rates may be likened to an old building,—still serviceable,—but with a bad foundation, which, unless made good, will bring down the whole structure. It is plain to every sane person that the building must be underpinned with sound material; but in doing so we must not unduly strain the structure. The jack-screw, if slower and more old-fashioned than dynamite, is a safer lifting agent for buildings of all kinds. It was by the jack-screw process that the great Friendly Societies of England lifted their finances from the mire of impending bankruptcy to their present solid foundation.

In my address to this Association on the 28th April, 1905, (Report of Inspector of Insurance, 1905, page C 232), I urged that great moderation and prudence be used in enacting retrospective rules affecting the contracts of aged certificate-holders. The events of the past year confirm me in the views I then expressed.

If an old Society, actuarially insolvent, is to be saved, it is essential that the Society have the power, within reasonable limits, to reform the impossible contracts entered into before the Society had actuarial experience or advice. But in a large number of recent cases the Courts of the United States appear to lay down absolutely the doctrine that a Society cannot by any retrospective enactment alter a contract made with a member.

Several of these recent decisions were against the same Society, viz., The American Legion of Honor. The Supreme Council of that Society passed in August, 1900, By-law No. 55, compulsorily reducing insurance certificates then in force from $5,000 to $2,000, assessments thereafter being levied on $2,000. A multitude of suits were brought in various States. These cases, which involved many interesting differences of circumstances, were all decided against the Society, the Courts holding the by-law to be illegal and to amount to a repudiation (in part) of the Society's contract. Some of the most interesting of these cases are:

Black v. Supreme Council Am. L. of H. (Feb. 10, 1903)—U. S. Circuit Ct., E. D., Penn. 120 Fed. 580; 32 Ins. L. Jour., 525. There the Court followed Am. L. of H. v. Getz, 50 C. C. A., 153; 112 Fed. 119 (reversing 109 Fed., 261).

Russ v. Supreme Council Am. L. of H. (Supreme Ct., Louisiana, 16 March, 1903), 32 Ins. L. Jour., 896.

Langan v. American L. of H. (N. Y.) 66 N. E., 932.

In the case last cited, Gaynor, J., decided strongly against the alleged right of a Society to alter a contract made with its member.

The legality of the amendments to the Constitution and Laws recently enacted by the Royal Arcanum came before the same Judge in the case of James L. Mock (formerly Secretary of Berkeley Council, No. 1,945 of Brooklyn, N. Y.), et al. v. Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum. Mr. Justice Gaynor on the 23rd December, 1905, in the Equity term of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, handed down judgment in which he said: "The amendments complained of which increase the assessments are void for the reason that they change the contracts of the members of the organization. I need add nothing to what I said in Langan v. American Legion of Honor on the same head."

The legality of those new rates is now before the Supreme Court of Massachusetts. (which is the parent State of the Royal Arcanum) in the suit of Stephen Reynolds et al.

v. Supreme Council Royal Arcanum. Argument was still being heard on the 27th March, 1906, ex-Attorney-General Pillsbury appearing for the Society.*

The general trend of the United States decisions has lately been against the right of a Society to alter the terms. Such decisions would bring the contract to the same rigidity as that of an ordinary life insurance Company respecting which in England Baron Parke laid down the law in the leading case of Dalby v. India & London Life Assce. Co. (1854), 15 C. B., at 387, where he said:

"The contract commonly called life assurance when properly considered is a mere contract to pay a certain sum of money on the death of a person, in consideration of the payment of a certain annuity [premium] for his life the amount of the annuity being calculated in the first instance according to the probable duration of his life, and when once fixed it is constant and invariable. The stipulated amount of the annuity [premium] is to be uniformly paid on the one side, and the sum to be paid in event of death is always (except where bonuses have been given by prosperous offices) the same on the other; this species of assurance in no way resembles a contract of indemnity."

In Ontario the Courts have so far sustained a Friendly Society in making retrospective rates where the contract carried in gremio the right on the part of the Society to alter the rules from time to time. The cases are reviewed in the Appendix to my Insurance Report, 1902, at p. C 172 et seq. But in the last of these cases (1902) which came before the Court of Appeal it will be seen (4 O. L. R., at 440) that some of the Judges of that Court have become uneasy and are appealing to the Legislature to define and limit the rights of Friendly Societies in this matter.

The latest judgment on this question in Ontario is that of Street, J., (28th September, 1905), in Bartram v. Royal Arcanum, 6 O. W. R., 404, upholding the right of the Royal Arcanum to make the recent retroactive amendments to its Constitution and Laws. [The text of the judgment is given supra, under title VI (1) of this Appendix]. Mr. Justice Street cited the following authorities:

Bradbury v. Wild [1893] 1 Ch., 377.

Rosenburg v. Northumberland, 22 Q. B. D., 373.

Doidge v. Royal Templars, 4 O. L. R., 423.

Messer v. A. O. U. W., 180 Mass., 321; 31 Ins. L. J., 451.

Wright v. Minnesota Mutual (1904), 193 U. S., 657; 33 Ins. L. J., 542.

Dixon v. Thompson, Diprose & Gammon's Friendly Society cases, 46.

The attempt to balance at a stroke their actuarial liabilities has led some of the United States societies to assert and exercise powers of retrospective legislation which have evidently alarmed both Courts and Legislatures in that country. An actuary informs a Society that its premium-rate is barely enough to carry a life for a term insurance ending at age 65; thereupon the Society by a retrospective enactment declares that the all-life insurances effected at the old rates are only term insurances ending at age 65; and that if the insurance is to be continued by old members who have long passed that age, it will be for the new premium, as per new table, which in the case of aged members is simply prohibitive. Or perhaps, in the alternative, a Society enacts that a large sum (part of the new premium payable on the basis of attained old age,) shall be charged with compound interest against the old member's certificate, so that unless he died soon, the lien would devour the insurance,—the lean kine would devour the fat—while the poor old member was dreaming of a provision for those depending on him.

If retroactive rates are carried to the extreme length of being practically prohibitive, does this not spell repudiation?

If an all-life insurance can by a retroactive amendment or by-law be forcibly converted into a term insurance ending at age 65, why later on,—financial necessities being again deemed to require it,—why, I ask, should not those term insurances ending at 65 be compulsorily altered into terms ending at 55?

*Judgment was given in favor of the Society on the 18th May, 1906; the text of the judgment is given supra, under the title VI (2) of this Appendix.

If the amount of an insurance certificate could by a retrospective by-law as was done in the American Legion of Honor, be compulsorily reduced from $5,000 to $2,000, why not afterwards from $2,000 to $500; or, for that matter, why not at first from $5,000 to $500?

Drastic retroactive measures must, in order to stand at all, have strong and general support among the members. The Executive Officers must take the members into their confidence and disclose the extremity to which the Society is reduced. It is evident in the American Legion of Honor,—which once had over 60,000 members,—the Executive lost the confidence of the members and then fought them in the law Courts. As an inevitable result the Society passed into the hands of a receiver (Aug. 12, 1904).

Among the assets of a Friendly Society two of the most valuable are "silent" assets,—assets that do not appear in the balance sheet at all,—I mean good faith on the part of the Executive, and good will on the part of the members. With these great silent assets intact a Society has wonderful power of recuperation.

But if such doctrines of tricky repudiation, as are now whispered, were to prevail, the walls of the Grand Lodge should be inscribed with such heathen mottoes as "To win, die soon;" "Those whom the gods love never live to be bald." A Grand Lodge that is partial to Latin mottoes might adopt as its emblem the words of the dying gladiators "Ave Imperator Morituri te salutant," which, for the occasion might be rendered, "Long life to you, Grand Master, the early claimants salute you."

The pretence that the existing contracts were intended by the two parties to be for only term insurance, and not for all-life insurance should not be countenanced by any honest Society. I have seen that dishonest suggestion in some foreign publications. If the certificates are already for term insurance, why the necessity of any by-law or amendment converting the present insurance into term insurance? Some of these foreign Societies contract not only to pay the stated insurance money to the surviving widow or children of the certificate-holder, but to do something handsome for himself in the way of a funeral monument. If the insurance contract is forcibly converted into a term insurance, and the certificate-holder outlives the term, this promised funeral monument will, doubtless by mere operation of law, be converted into a statue of the living certificate-holder, giving him of course the same graces and virtues that the funeral monument would have done. This is the least that should be done where he has spared the Society by outliving the term. The wisest of men says, "A living dog is better than a dead lion." Insurance Corporations having unprovided death-claims to pay fervently respond, "And so say we all."

In dealing with aged certificate-holders, humanity, as well as interest, demands that great tenderness and consideration be shown. But the old members must not expect that the ruinous former premium-rates can be continued in their case, while the other members are bearing,—approximately at all events,—their proper share of the load. In this difficult position the middle course should be taken,—according to Ovid's maxim, "In medio tutissimus ibis." The retroactive rates might be adjusted so as not to prohibit or oppress aged certificate-holders, and still give insurance to the middle-aged and young at rates below the ordinary commercial premiums.

Under the recent decision of our High Court in Bartram v. Royal Arcanum, it would seem to be competent for our Societies to undertake Term Insurance Contracts. Short Term contracts are not generally favored by Insurance Companies, for the rate of mortality has been found materially higher than in all-life policies.

The 4% Tables of the National Fraternal Congress include net premium rates for a term insurance ending at 70. I have shown those rates in Table C. As a term ending at age 65 may be more generally useful, I have there from the National Fraternal

Congress Experience computed the net premiums for a term insurance ending at 65. Now comparing at various ages the net premiums required for an all-life insurance with those to a term of 70, and a term to 65, we get the following:

National Fraternal Congress Experience.—Interest 4%.

Net Annual Premiums for an Insurance of $1,000.

Age at Entry.	All Life.	Term ending at age 70.	Term ending at age 65.
20	10.34	8.16	7.45
25	11.91	9.14	8.03
35	16.62	12.04	10.56
45	24.72	16.88	14.45
55	39.36	25.09	20.89

Term Insurance has advantages and disadvantages.

As regards the certificate-holder, Term Insurance gives him cheaper insurance during the period of life when usually a number of helpless persons are dependent upon him; but it leaves him uninsured at an age that makes him uninsurable except at a prohibitive premium.

As regards the Society, Term Insurance relieves the Society of the heavy death bill that sets in soon after age 65; but there is very little advantage to the Society from lapses, and the mortality among short-term men is apt to be materially greater than among an equal number of all-life men of the same age.

If Term Insurance is to be undertaken, then, above all things, the provisions of the Constitution and Laws regulating the issue of term-certificates should make it clear that the insurance is only a term and not an all-life insurance. The application form for Term Insurance and the certificate or contract should also be so entitled conspicuously, and should be so clearly expressed, that no person of ordinary intelligence could pretend to think that the insurance was all-life.

One great difficulty that United States Societies and Ontario Societies have made for themselves in the way of increasing the premiums, arises from the large sums insured on single lives. The American Legion of Honor finally saw its mistake and tried to reduce its certificates of $5,000 to $2,000. When drafting the Ontario Insurance Bill of 1888, I placed the maximum to be undertaken by any Friendly Society at $2,000. Considerable pressure was brought to bear by the Societies to increase the maximum, and in the Bill and Act of 1892, 55 Vict., chap. 39, it was placed at $3,000, at which figure it still remains. I pointed out at the time, and have always since felt, that the Societies in this matter acted against their own true interests. In English Societies the maximum is £200 or $1,000. As a matter of business,—the lives being of equal quality,—it is safer for a Society to carry three separate risks of $1,000 on each life, than $3,000 on a single life. If the Society through financial stress, has to resort to a retrospective enactment, but is unable compulsorily to convert a $3,000 into a $1,000 certificate, the burden of new premiums may become oppressive, if not unbearable in the case of $3,000 certificates.

Options Accompanying Retroactive Rates.

The substitution of a term contract for the present all-life contract should of course be optional and not obligatory; also, of course, the option would apply to such certificate-holders only as are at some years' distance from the terminal age.

So long as any member's certificate (no matter what the member's age,) is being carried at less than the insurance cost (See Columns 2 and 3 of Table B), the Society would obviously diminish the actuarial deficit, by allowing the certificate-holder to reduce the sum insured.

Where the member has attained 70 years or upwards it may upon certain terms, be mutually beneficial to himself and to the Society to largely reduce or altogether terminate his insurance. For this purpose additional options such as the following (exercisable by consent of the Finance Committee) may be allowed upon the surrender of the existing beneficiary certificate, accompanied by a proper legal release and discharge to the Society of all its liabilities under the certificate:

(1) The certificate-holder to receive in cash a sum not exceeding one-half of the aggregate amount that he has paid into the life insurance fund as assessments.

Or (2) The certificate-holder to receive in cash a sum not exceeding one-fourth of the aggregate amount he has paid into the life insurance fund as assessments, and also to receive, without medical examination, a new beneficiary certificate insuring his life for a sum not exceeding one-half of the sum insured by the certificate so surrendered; such certificate-holder thereafter to pay during life the assessments upon such new certificate.

Or (3) The certificate-holder to receive a paid-up certificate insuring his life for a sum which according to his then attained age may vary from one-third to one-half of the sum insured by the certificate so surrendered; and the certificate-holder to be, from the date of such surrender exempt from any further payments to the life insurance fund.

On you that have not yet reformed your premium-rates, I would most earnestly urge immediate action. Every year's delay makes far more difficulty than would be measured by the mere loss of time.

Above all things be frank with your rank and file.

With a Mortality Table in your hands you can have no long difficulty in showing your members how hopeless it is to expect any continuance of the old state of affairs.

In this Table B the third column represents the actual yearly cost of insurance at any given age. At the same time the Table shows the relative death rate at that age. The yearly cost of insurance at age 48 is twice that at age 20, because in one year twice as many die at 48 as die at 20. So, at 55, 3 times as many die in one year as at 20; 65, 6 times as many die in one year as at 20; 75, 17 times as many die in one year as at 20; and the yearly cost of insurance is consequently in the same proportion.

*The C. L.⁽⁵⁾ Table is deduced from the Mortality experienced by the Canada Life Assurance Company during the forty-six years, 1847-1893.

The O^M⁽⁵⁾ Table,—of the British Offices Life Tables, 1893, was published in 1902 by a joint committee of the Institute of Actuaries, England, and of the Faculty of Actuaries, Scotland, and was deduced from the mortality among the male policyholders of sixty British Companies ("Offices") for the period 1863-1893 (including lives on the books in 1863, and new entrants since that date). In the case of each of the two Tables here compared, the first five years' experience of policies is excluded, so as to eliminate the disturbing effects of recent medical selection and of early lapses. The limit of life in each of the two Mortality Tables is 102 years.

Note 1.—Ninety-eight years is the limit of life in the Mortality Table of the National Fraternal Congress.

Note 2.—In Friendly Societies the premium is not paid yearly in advance, but is usually paid in 12 equal monthly instalments, with 30 days' grace for the payment of each instalment. The sum, therefore (1000 q_x) shown in the third column ("Yearly Insurance Cost") may be taken as the Natural Premium or Single-year Step Rate Premium.

If the premium were all payable in advance, then for the Natural Premium the sum shown in the third column against any age would be discounted for one year at 4%; i.e. would be multiplied by .961,538, the present value of 1 payable 1 year hence. For example, at age 30 the Natural Premium would, instead of 5.552, be 5.552 x .961,538, or 5.338. J. H. H.

Table D (3) brings together the net Single Premium (A_x), the Net Annual Premium (P_x), and the Annuity (a_x), the relation between these three functions being expressed by the equation:

$$A_x = P_x (1 + a_x)$$

$$\text{or } P_x = \frac{A_x}{1 + a_x}$$

$$\text{whence } P_x = \frac{1}{1 + a_x} - d;$$

the value of d at 4½ per cent. being .0430622.

A. COMPANIES HAVING ONLY PERMANENT STOCK.

DETAILED REPORTS OF THE SEVERAL COMPANIES.

CANADA LANDED AND NATIONAL INVESTMENT COMPANY (LIMITED).

Head Office, Toronto, Ontario.

CONSTATING INSTRUMENTS.

This Company was in 1891 constituted by an amalgamation of (I) The Canada Landed Credit Company with (II) The National Investment Company of Canada (Limited), and by the re-incorporation of the amalgamated Company. Of the two companies so amalgamated:—

I. The Canada Landed Credit Company had been incorporated in 1858 by special Act of the Province of Canada, 22 V. c. 133; a special Act of 1859, 22 V. c. 105, increased the capital; the two foregoing Acts were amended by 29-30 V. (1866-7) c. 125. In 1873, an Act of Ontario, 36 V. c. 122, amended 22 V. c. 133, supra; in 1874 the powers of the Company were extended by 38 V. c. 73 (O.); in 1875-6 the capital was further increased by 39 V. c. 97 (O.); in 1882 the special Acts of 1858 and 1859 supra were amended by 45 V. c. 72 (O.). In 1882 the special Act of Canada, 45 V. c. 110, extended the Company's operations to Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. In 1890 the special Act of Ontario, 53 V. c. 128, authorized the Company to issue debenture stock to become amalgamated with other companies, etc. In 1871, Letters Patent of Canada, dated January, 1891, authorized the amalgamation of the Company with the National Investment Company of Canada. In 1891, Letters Patent of Ontario, dated 12th of February, authorized the same amalgamation.

II. The National Investment Company of Canada had been incorporated by Letters Patent of Canada, dated 21st August, 1882, issued under 40 V. c. 43 (D.).

For the powers of the amalgamated Company, see the Letters Patent above cited; see also R. S. C., 1886, secs. 88-98, and sec. 101; see also the Loan Corporations Act, R. S. O., 1897, c. 205.

THE SIMCOE LOAN AND SAVINGS COMPANY.

Head Office, Barrie, Ontario.

The declaration of incorporation was filed with the Clerk of the Peace for the County of Simcoe on the 18th April, 1896. The incorporation was effected under the Building Societies Act, R.S.O., 1887, c. 169, s. 2, as amended by 56 V., c. 31, s. 1, which added to the said section 2, subsection 3, as follows:—

“(3) No society constituted or incorporated under this section after the first day of June, 1893, shall have power to loan money or to transact a loaning business or carry on its operations outside the limits of the County in which the society is constituted or incorporated.”

By virtue of the above provision, which was continued by the Loan Corporations Act, R.S.O., 1897, c. 205; s. 8 (3. 4), the Company was until 31st May, 1899, a Local Loan Corporation, limited in its operations to the County of Simcoe. The Company having fulfilled the requirements of the said section, was, by Letters Patent of Ontario, bearing date 31st May, 1899, relieved from the above restriction of its operations.

The lending and the borrowing powers are governed by the Loan Corporations Act.

THE IMPERIAL LOAN AND INVESTMENT COMPANY OF CANADA.

Head Office, Toronto. (38 Vic. c. 62 (D) s. 2).

CONSTATING INSTRUMENTS.

As recited in the Preamble of 38 Vic. 62 (D), the Company was incorporated under the Building Societies Act, Consol. Stat. U. C. chap. 53. The declaration of incorporation was filed on the 19th August, 1869, with the Clerk of the Peace for the County of York. The corporate name was The Imperial Building, Savings and Investment Company (Decl. Book II, 47).

In 1875 the corporate name was changed by 38 V. c. 62 (D) to The Imperial Loan and Investment Company (sec. 1). The existing Corporation was continued under the new name, with its head office at Toronto, (sec. 2).

Section 3 enacts: "3. The said Company shall not under its new name be deemed a new corporation, but it shall have, hold and continue to exercise all the rights, powers and privileges that previously to such change had been held, exercised and enjoyed by the said 'Imperial Building, Savings and Investment Company' in as full and ample a manner as if the said Company had continued to exist under its original name; and all statutory provisions applicable to the said company shall continue applicable to the said Imperial Loan and Investment Company.

In 1881, by Letters Patent of Canada, dated 11th June, the Company was re-incorporated "under The Canada Joint Stock Companies Act, 1876, by the name of the Imperial Loan and Investment Company of Canada (Limited) and as a loan company within the meaning and provisions of the said last mentioned Act, with their now existing capital of one million dollars."

For the lending and the borrowing powers see R. S. C. (1886), c. 119, secs. 88-98; and the Loan Corporations Act, R. S. O. 1897, c. 205.

See Statutes of Canada, 1899, 62-3 Vic. c. 116.

APPENDIX TO REPORT (1906)

OF THE

REGISTRAR OF LOAN CORPORATIONS.

I.

THE LOAN CORPORATION ACT.—CLAUSES RELATING TO THE AMALGAMATION OF LOAN CORPORATIONS AND TO THE PURCHASE AND SALE OF ASSETS (R.S.O. 1897, c. 205, SECTIONS 40 TO 49A WITH AMENDMENTS TO 1906, INCLUSIVE).

40. Any corporation such as is mentioned in subsection 2 of section 28 may unite, merge, amalgamate and consolidate its stock, property, business and franchises with those of any other corporation incorporated or chartered to transact a like business, and any other business in connection with such business, or with those of any building, savings or loan company or society heretofore or hereafter incorporated or chartered, or may sell its assets to any other such corporation which is hereby authorized to purchase the same, or may purchase the assets of any other such corporation which is hereby authorized to sell the same, and for the purpose of carrying out such purchase or sale, the corporation so purchasing may assume the liabilities of indemnity with the corporation or the individual shareholders thereof, or both as may be necessary, and may enter into all contracts and agreements necessary to such union, merger, amalgamation, consolidation, sale, purchase or acquisition.

Power to unite with other corporations and to purchase or sell assets.

41.—(1) [As amended by 3 Edw. VII., c. 16, s. 4 (1), and by 6 Edw. VII, c. 19, s. 29 (1)]. The directors of any corporation such as is mentioned in subsection 2 of section 28, and of any other corporation such as is mentioned in section 40 may enter provisionally into a joint agreement under the corporate seals of each of the said corporations, for the union, merger, amalgamation or consolidation of the said corporations, or for the sale or purchase by the one corporation of the assets of the other corporation; and the said agreement shall prescribe the terms and conditions thereof, the mode of carrying the same into effect, and, if the two corporations are to merge into one corporation, the name of the new, or of the continuing corporation, the number of directors and other officers thereof, and who shall be the first directors and officers thereof, the capital stock thereof the number of shares into which divided, the par value per share, the manner of converting the capital stock of each of the said corporations into that of the new or continuing corporation, with such other details as the directors of the several corporations deem necessary to perfect such new organization, and the union, merger, amalgamation and consolidation of the said corporations, and the after management and working thereof, or to perfect the terms or mode of payment for the assets, on the sale, purchase or acquisition of the assets of the one corporation by the other. In any agreement under this Act for the purchase and sale of assets the consideration may consist wholly or in part of partly-paid or of fully paid shares of the permanent capital stock of the purchasing corporation, and as to any such purchase and sale heretofore purporting to be made under this Act on such consideration and assented to as provided by section 44, it is hereby declared that such purchase and sale is valid and effectual to all intents and purposes whatsoever.

Directors may make agreement for amalgamation or for purchase or sale of assets.

Agreement to be subject to approval of shareholders.

(2) Such agreement, or if no agreement has been entered into, but an offer has been made by another company or society under its corporate seal for the purchase of the assets of the corporation, or if the corporation has made any offer under its corporate seal for the purchase of the assets of another incorporated company or society, then such offer shall be submitted to the shareholders of each of the said corporations at a meeting thereof, to be held separately for the purpose of taking the agreement or the offer into consideration.

Notice of meeting to be subject to consider agreement.

(3) Notice of the time and place of such meetings and the objects thereof shall be given by written or printed notice addressed to each shareholder of the said corporations respectively at his last known post office address or place of residence, and also by a general notice inserted in a newspaper published at the chief place of business of each of such corporations once a week for six successive weeks. The like notice, together with a copy of the proposed agreement shall be delivered to the Corporations Registrar at least one month before the date of either the meetings of shareholders called to consider it.

Proceedings to ratify agreement.

42. [As amended by 3 Edw. VII., c. 16, s. 4 (3)]. At such meetings of shareholders such agreement or offer shall be considered, and a vote by ballot taken for the ratification or acceptance, or for the rejection of the same, each share entitling the holder thereof to one vote unless otherwise provided by the by-laws of the said respective corporations, and the said ballots being cast in person or by proxy, and if two-thirds of the votes of all the shareholders of such corporations, representing not less than two-thirds in value of the paid-up capital or permanent stock of each, shall be for the ratification of the agreement or the acceptance of such offer, then that fact shall be certified upon the said agreement or offer by the secretary or manager of each of such corporations under the corporate seals thereof.

Proviso.

Provided that the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council in the case of a proposed purchase of assets, may by Order in that behalf dispense with the ratification or acceptance of the agreement by the shareholders of the purchasing corporation where it is shown to his satisfaction that, after due notice of the resolution or by-law proposed to be ratified, the shareholders have ratified a general resolution or by-law authorizing the purchase of the assets of any loan corporation upon the basis and within the limits specified in such by-law.

Who may vote.

43. The shareholders who may vote at such meetings shall be those only whose names are duly entered in the books of the respective corporations at the date of the first publication of the notices calling such meetings, and they shall vote upon the shares only then standing in their respective names.

Ratified agreement to be filed with Registrar for assent.

44. If the said agreement is so ratified or the said offer is so accepted at the respective meetings of the shareholders of each of the said corporations, the agreement so ratified or the offer so accepted, with the said certificates thereon shall be filed with the Corporations Registrar, and after the assent of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council thereto, the said agreement or offer shall thenceforth be taken and be deemed to be the agreement and act of union, amalgamation and consolidation of the said corporations, or the agreement and deed of purchase and acquisition of the assets of the company by such other company or society so purchasing, or by the company of the assets of the company or society so selling, as the case may be.

45.—(1) Upon proof that the foregoing requirements have been duly complied with, and after the agreement or offer so ratified or accepted has been assented to by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, the Minister shall issue a certificate under his hand and seal certifying such assent and the date thereof; also declaring the purchase and the sale of the assets and the names of the corporatious parties thereto; or in the case of amalgamation, declaring the amalgamation of the corporations (naming them), and the date of such assent thereto, also the name of the new or of the continuing corporation, together with such other matters (if any), as may appear to the Minister necessary or desirable in the public interest; and the said certificate shall be conclusive evidence of all matters therein certified or declared.

Certificate of assent by Minister.

(2) Of the issue of such certificates the Corporations Registrar shall give public notice in The Ontario Gazette.

Public notice to be given of certificate.

46.—(1) [As substituted by 63 Vict. c. 27, s. 8.] As provided in the Registry Act, it shall be sufficient once for all to register a certified copy of the Certificate mentioned in section 45 of this Act on the General Register of each Registry Division in which instruments affecting lands or interests in land, included or intended to be included in such transfer or amalgamation as mentioned in sections 44 and 45 of this Act are registered, and the fee payable for the registration thereof shall be four dollars. Any document under the hand, or purporting to be under the hand, of the Corporations Registrar or Registrar of Loan Corporations certifying such document to be or to contain a true copy of the Certificate mentioned in section 45 or of any instrument referred to in the said Certificate, shall as provided by The Registry Act be registered by the Registrar of any Registry Division to whom the same is tendered for registration.

Registration of certificate of assent to amalgamation, etc.

(2) Copies certified as aforesaid of any certificate or instrument aforesaid shall be received and accepted by the Master of Titles and Local Masters of Titles, under the provisions of The Land Titles Act, as conclusive evidence of all matters therein certified or declared. Subject to rules to be made under The Land Titles Act the said certificate shall be entered in the book kept in the Land Titles office for powers of attorney and the fee for entering the same shall be one dollar, if the certificate is five folios or under, and for each folio above five ten cents additional.

Certified copies of certificate as evidence before Master of Titles.

Rev. Stat., c. 138.

(3) For the purpose of any instrument required to be registered or filed under The Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgage Act, it shall be sufficient in order to show the transmission of title in respect of any personal property or interest in personal property included, or intended to be included in such transfer or amalgamation as mentioned in sections 44 and 45 of this Act if the instrument affecting such property or interest recite the certificate registered as provided in subsection 1 of this section, and recite the registry division in which such certificate is registered, together with the registration number of the certificate.

As to the Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgage Act.

(4) This section shall extend to and include any such certificate or certified copy issued or purporting to have been issued under The Loan Corporations Act since the passing thereof.

Assent of the Department may be otherwise evidenced.

47. The Corporations Registrar may, under his hand and seal, endorse upon the agreement or offer mentioned in section 44, or any counterpart or copy of the same, a certificate certifying, or he may by any writing so signed and sealed identifying the agreement or offer, certify that the said agreement or offer has been assented to by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council, and such certificate with a copy of the Order in Council attached shall be prima facie evidence of such assent.

Assets of selling company to vest in purchasing company.

48.—(1) [As amended by 6 Edw. VII, c. 19, s. 29 (2)]. In the case of a purchase and sale of assets so assented to, the assets of the company selling shall, on and from the date of such assent, without any further conveyance, become absolutely vested in the company purchasing, and the company purchasing shall thereupon become and be responsible for the liabilities of the company or society so selling, the whole as fully and effectually to all intents and purposes as if a Special Act were passed with that object; and in dealing with the assets of the company selling it shall be sufficient for the company purchasing to recite the said agreement and the assent of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council thereto, with the date of the said assent. Provided that such transfer of engagements shall not affect the rights of any creditor of either or any corporation transferring its engagements; and by every such agreement made or purporting to be made under this Act the purchasing company shall be deemed and held to covenant and agree with each and every creditor of the selling company that the purchasing company will pay to each such creditor of the selling company the sum or sums in which the selling company is indebted to each such creditor respectively, and that payment will be made at such times and places as such sum or sums would have been payable had the said agreement not been made or not been assented to.

Proviso.

Privity of contract between purchasing company and each creditor of selling company.

Dissolution of selling corporations and of corporations amalgamated.

(2) [Added by 6 Edw. VII, c. 19, s. 29 (3)]. Where, under this Act the Lieutenant-Governor in Council assents to an agreement for the sale of the assets of a loan corporation, or to an agreement for the amalgamation of two or more loan corporations, then, as from the date of such assent, the selling corporation, or the several corporations amalgamated, shall in the respective cases be deemed to be and shall be dissolved except so far as is necessary to give full effect to the said agreement.

Property and rights of both companies vested in new corporation.

49. In the case of the amalgamation of corporations so assented to, the several corporations parties thereto shall as from the date of the said assent be deemed and taken to be consolidated and amalgamated, and to merge in and form one corporation by the name stated in the said certificate, with a common seal, and shall, subject to the law of the Province, possess all the rights, privileges and franchises of each of said corporations; and as from the said date all and singular the business, property real and personal, and all rights and incidents appurtenant thereto, all stock, mortgages or other securities, subscriptions and other debts due on whatever account, and other things in action belonging to such corporations or either of them, shall be taken and deemed to be transferred to and vested in such new or such continuing corporation without further act or deed; Provided, however, that all rights of creditors and liens upon the property of either of such corporations shall be unimpaired by such amalgamation, and that all debts, liabilities and duties of either of the said corporations shall thenceforth attach to the new or continuing corporation, and may be enforced against it to the same extent as if the said debts, liabilities and duties had been incurred or contracted by it; and that no action or proceeding, legal or equitable, by or against the said corporations so amalgamated, or either of them, shall abate or be affected by such amalgamation, but for all the purposes of such action or proceeding such corporation may be deemed still to exist, or the new or continuing corporation may be substituted in such action or proceeding in the place thereof.

49.A.—(1) [Added by 3 Edw. VII, c. 16, s. 5.] Sections 41 to 49 (both inclusive) shall in the respective cases equally apply to the purchase and sale of the assets of one trust corporation to another and to the amalgamation of trust corporations, such corporations in either case being incorporated or having their head offices in the Province of Ontario, and in the case of such trust corporations the additional provisions contained in sub-sections 2, 3, 4 and 5, of this section shall also apply.

Sections 41 to 49 to apply to trusts corporations.

(2) On and from the assent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council (as provided in section 44) to such purchase and sale or to such amalgamation all trusts of every kind and description, including incomplete or inchoate trusts, and all and every duty assumed by or binding upon either of the said corporations, parties to the said purchase and sale, or to the amalgamation, shall ipso facto be transferred to and vested in and bind such purchasing or continuing corporation, hereinafter called the "new corporation," as fully and effectually as if such new corporation had been originally named as the fiduciary in the instrument; and "fiduciary" in this section includes trustee, executor, administrator, assignee, guardian, committee, receiver, liquidator, or agent; and "instrument" in this section includes every will, testamentary document, settlement, instrument of creation, deed, mortgage, assignment, Act of the Legislature, and every judgment, decree, order, direction and appointment of any court, judge, or other constituted authority.

Trusts to pass to new corporation.

"Fiduciary."

"Instrument."

(3) Whenever in any instrument any estate, money or other property, or any interest, possibility or right is intended at the time or times of the publishing, making or signing of the instrument to be thereafter vested in or administered or managed by or put in the charge of the selling corporation, or of either of the amalgamated corporations as the fiduciary, the name of the new corporation shall be deemed substituted for the name of the selling, old, retiring or merged corporation, hereinafter in this section called the "old corporation"; and such instrument shall vest the subject-matter therein described in the new corporation according to the tenor of, and at the time indicated or intended by the instrument, the intention of this enactment being that the said new corporation shall not, for the purposes of the instrument, be deemed a new corporation, but shall be deemed and taken in all such matters as standing in the place and stead of the old corporation.

Subject-matter of trust to vest in new corporation.

(4) On and from the said assent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council all rights and remedies of the cestuis que trustent of the old corporation shall pass unimpaired and attach to and bind the new corporation; and all trusts, duties, rights and remedies enforceable by or against the old corporation shall be as fully and to the same extent enforceable by or against the new corporation.

Trusts and duties to be enforceable by or against new corporation.

(5) In the case of any will or codicil not probated at the date of the said assent whereof probate shall thereafter be applied for in this Province, wherever the name of the old corporation shall appear as executor, trustee, guardian or curator in such will or codicil such will or codicil shall be read, construed and enforced as if the new corporation was in fact named therein;

Case of will or codicil not probated.

Duties of old corporation not completed.

and the new corporation shall, in respect of such will or codicil, have the same status and rights as the old corporation; and in the cases of all probates, administrations, guardianships, curatorships or appointments of administrator or guardian ad litem heretofore issued or made by any Court of this Province to the old corporation, which at the date of the said assent are still current, and from which the old corporation has not been finally discharged, the new corporation shall ipso facto be substituted for the old corporation, and such probates, administrations, guardianships, curatorships and administrations and guardianships ad litem shall thereafter be proceeded with and completed by, and in the name of, and as if originally granted to, the new corporation.

Section 120 of the same Act as amended by 3 Edw. VII, c. 16, s. 10 (4) enacts that the following fees shall be payable to the Provincial Treasurer of Ontario in respect of the proceedings under sections 40 to 49 A. :—

18. Examining and passing upon applications and documents under sections 40 to 49 A	$25 00

THE LOAN CORPORATIONS ACT.—PROHIBITIONS AND PENALTIES (R.S.O., 1897, c. 205, s. 117, WITH AMENDMENTS TO 1906, INCLUSIVE).

No unregistered corporation to undertake the business of a loan corporation.

117.—(1) After the 31st day of December, 1897, no incorporated body or persons acting in its behalf, other than a corporation standing registered under this Act, and persons duly authorized by such registered corporation to act in its behalf, shall undertake or transact the business of a loan corporation in the Province, as such business is described in clause 5 of section 2 of this Act. In the case of any loan corporation whatsoever any setting up or exhibiting of a sign or inscription containing the name of the corporation, or any distribution or publication of any proposal, circular, card, advertisement, printed form or like document in the name of the corporation, or any written or oral solicitation in the corporation's behalf, or any collecting or taking of money on account of shares or of loans or advances shall, both as to the corporation and as to the person acting or purporting to act in its behalf, be deemed undertaking the business of a loan corporation within the meaning of this section.

No person to act as agent for unregistered loan corporation.

(2) If any promoter, organizer, office-bearer, manager, director, officer, collector, agent, employee, or person whatsoever, undertakes or transacts the business of a loan corporation which does not stand registered under this Act, he shall be guilty of an offence, and upon summary conviction thereof before any Police or Stipendiary Magistrate or two Justices of the Peace having jurisdiction where the offence was committed, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding $200 and costs, and not less than $20 and costs; and in default of payment the offender shall be imprisoned with or without hard labour for a term not exceeding three months, and not less than one month; and on a second or any subsequent conviction he shall be imprisoned with hard labor for a term not exceeding twelve months, and not less than three months.

Penalty.

(a) Any person, partnership, organization, society, association, company or corporation, not being a corporation registered under this Act or under

The Ontario Insurance Act, that assumes or uses in the Province a name which includes any of the words "Loan," "Mortgage," "Trust," "Trusts," "Investment," or "Guarantee" in combination or connection with any of the words "Corporation," "Company," "Association" or "Society," or in combination or connection with any similar collective term, or that assumes or uses in the Province any similar name, or any name or combination of names which is likely to deceive or mislead the public, shall be guilty of an offence against subsection 1 of this section; and any person acting in behalf of such person, partnership, organization, society, association, company or corporation shall be guilty of an offence against subsection 2 of this section, and upon conviction thereof shall be liable as in the said subsection 2 enacted, and subsections 3, 4, 5 and 6 of this section shall apply. This provision shall take effect on, from and after the first day of July, A.D. 1900. Provided that, where any of the said combinations of words formed part of the corporate name of any corporation theretofore duly incorporated by or under the authority of an Act of the Province or of the Parliament of Canada, the said combination may continue to be used in the Province as part of the said corporate name.

said magistrate or justices shall have authority to commit the offender to the common gaol or to the Central Prison for a term not exceeding twelve months.

(c) In this clause lettered (c), "Lender" means and includes any person, partnership, organization, society, association, company, or corporation whatsoever, that advances or lends money; and "Cost of the Loan" means the whole cost of the loan to the borrower, and inter alia includes interest, discount, subscription, premium, dues, bonus, commission, brokerage, fees and charges; but does not include actual disbursements (being lawful and necessary) made to a Registrar of Deeds, a Master or Local Master of Titles, a Clerk of a County Court, a Sheriff, or a Treasurer of a Municipality.

In any loan of money not exceeding $200, where the cost of the loan calculated as a percentage per annum on the money actually received by the borrower and for the actual time during which the borrower has had or is to have the use of the money, exceeds ten per centum per annum, if, on a complaint or information, (which may be laid as provided in this section) it has been made to appear to the magistrate or justices that the borrower has been induced to enter into the contract by misrepresentation, or by concealment, suppression or omission of any material fact or term (including inter alia, the amount of principal advanced and the rate per centum per annum of interest charged) the magistrate or justices may summarily order that the loan shall be dischargeable by paying or tendering to the lender, or his agent, within the time limited by the order, such sum or sums (to be stated in the order) as were actually received by the borrower (less such sum or sums repaid by or standing to the credit of the borrower) together with simple interest thereon calculated at the legal rate of interest on such sum or sums of principal for the actual time or times during which the borrower has had the use thereof; and such order shall carry costs as against the lender. Upon payment or tender made of the amount directed by the order, the lender shall forthwith do all things and execute all instruments proper for the discharge, assignment, reassignment, transfer, release or surrender of the securities taken for the loan; and in default of his doing so he shall be liable to the same penalty or penalties as mentioned in subsection 2 of this section; and to any action or proceeding against the borrower on the contract of loan, or on the securities, it shall be sufficient for the borrower to plead the said order.

(d) Where in any case arising under this section it is found by the magistrate or justices that the person charged or his agent is exhibiting or using any sign, inscription or name, or distributing, using or publishing any document (including any proposal, circular, card, advertisement, notice, application, contract or printed form), which, in the opinion of the magistrate or justices, induces, or tends to induce a violation of this section or is likely to deceive or mislead the public either as to the party, or the status of the party undertaking the contract, or as to the nature, terms or effect of the contract, the magistrate or justices may summarily order the discontinuance of such sign, inscription, name or document; and in case of non-compliance with the said order the offender shall be liable to the penalty mentioned in subsection 2 of this section, and subsections 3, 4, 5 and 6 of this section shall apply.

(3) Anyone may be prosecutor or complainant under this Act; and one-half of any fine imposed by virtue of this Act shall, when received, belong to Her Majesty, for the use of the Province, and the other half shall belong to the prosecutor or complainant.

(4) Any person convicted under this Act who gives notice of appeal ^{Appeal.} against the decision shall be required before being released from custody to give to the magistrate or justices satisfactory security for the amount of the penalty, and the costs of conviction and appeal; and the appeal shall be to a Divisional Court of the High Court; And the appeal shall at the latest be made to the then next sittings of the said court unless an order be made extending the time for appeal. ^{6 Edw. VII, c. 19, s. 29 (6).}

(5) In any trial or cause or proceeding under this Act the burden of ^{Burden of proof.} proving registry shall be upon the corporation or person charged.

(6) All informations or complaints for the prosecution of offences under this Act shall be laid or made in writing within one year after the commission of the offence. ^{Limitations of prosecutions.}

Re PEOPLE'S LOAN AND DEPOSIT COMPANY JUDGMENT OF MAGEE, J., IN HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE, ONTARIO, FEBRUARY 14TH, 1906.

[7 Ontario Weekly Reporter, pages 253 et seq.]

MAGEE, J.

FEBRUARY 14th, 1906.

CHAMBERS.

Re PEOPLE'S LOAN AND DEPOSIT COMPANY.

Company—Winding-up—Petition of Creditors—Status of Petitioners—Indebtedness of Company—Ultra Vires—Assignment of Claims to make up Statutory Amount—Building Society having no Capital Stock—Non-applicability of Winding-up Act—Costs.

Petition by Samuel Saunders and William Cole for an order under the Dominion Winding-up Act for the winding-up of the Company.

S. B. Woods, for petitioners.

W. E. Middleton, for the company.

MAGEE, J.—Cole asserts that the company are indebted to him in $200, and Saunders that they are indebted to him in $932, of which part is original indebtedness due to himself, and the remainder the claims of a number of other persons to whom the company are indebted, and who have assigned their claims to him with a view to his taking proceedings for the benefit of the creditors generally. Neither the petition nor affidavit of Mr. Saunders gives any particulars of the claims of these other creditors or their names or the amount each claimed or how many claims there were. Subsequently on cross-examination on his affidavit, he produced 22 undated assignments to him by 22 persons, purporting to assign to him claims amounting in the aggregate to $905.50, and he stated that he himself was a creditor for $27 paid by him on two contracts dated 14th April, 1903, but he could not remember the dates of his payments.

It appears that in 1903 there were two concerns, unincorporated partnerships, in Toronto, each having 4 partners and calling themselves respectively the Dominion Cooperative Home Building Association and the Sterling Home Buyers' Union, and both doing business on the same plan, which they called a co-operative one. It seems to have been an attempt to do, without incorporation, a business approximating the plan outlined for building societies in Section 1 of C. S. U. C. ch. 53, under which Act it is said this company were incorporated. The business was to get as many persons as possible to enter into contracts with them, for doing which these persons, called "contractors," were in the first place to pay an initiation or application fee. Each was called a $1,000 contract, and on each the contractor agreed to deposit with the union or association as the commission on the first day of each month $2.50, of which 40 cents was for the expenses of the concern, $2 to be credited to the contractor in a so-called home fund account, and 10 cents was to go to a contingent or reserve fund account. The application fee, about $4 on each contract, was also applicable for expenses of the concern. The contract was expressed to be made between the partnership of the first part and the contractor of the second part, "and between said parties with all other persons who shall make like contracts with these parties."

The home fund account appears to have been intended to be managed in this way. The contracts were to be numbered consecutively—each in order as accepted; whenever there was $50 accumulated in that account from the "deposits" on any one contract and all subsequent to it, then the holder of that one contract was to be entitled to a loan of that amount to be invested in purchase of or paying liens on land or home, but the loans not to go beyond $1,000, to be advanced in monthly sums of $50 each; the contractor was not entitled to any loan unless all obligations incurred under prior contracts had been satisfied in full and also all surrender obligations (whatever that means) if any arising on subsequent contracts.

So soon as a contractor thus became entitled to a loan of $50 his contract was said to be matured, and thereafter, instead of $2.50, he paid $5.50 per month to the home fund account, until his total contributions to that account aggregated the amount of his indebtedness. In addition to the $5 he was also to continue to pay monthly 40 cents for expenses and 10 cents for contingent fund. If the contractor did not wish to borrow, the contract makes no provision as to how or when he would get back any of his moneys, but in the company's contracts all moneys at his credit for at least 3 months after maturity are to bear interest at 5 per cent. per annum, and he has the privilege of assigning his contract, but under certain conditions.

It would thus appear that no contractor would be entitled to any money unless there were $50 accumulated from the deposits in the home fund, over and above the obligation to which prior contractors and the "surrender obligation" to which subsequent contractors were entitled, nor unless this accumulation were from deposits on his own and subsequent contracts.

Now all the claims represented by the petitioners are for moneys paid on contracts such as I have referred to, those of Mr. Cole and 7 others being issued by the Sterling Home Buyers' Union, and those of Mr. Saunders and 13 others being issued by the Dominion Co-operative Home Building Association, and two by the People's Loan and Deposit Company, which, it is alleged, assumed the place of the association and union on all the contracts, and the amounts claimed include in every case, I take it, not only the moneys paid for the home fund account, but also for application for contingent fund and expense. There is no evidence that any one of their contracts had matured, or that on the face of them any money was payable.

There are affidavits filed on behalf of the petitioners made by 7 of the persons who have assigned their claims to Mr. Saunders, but as to the other 15 assignors there is no evidence whatever that any or what sum is owing to them or any of them, except in the affidavits of W. J. Doran, who was president and manager of the company from November, 1903, till 26th July, 1904, and was previously manager of the union, and Nettie E. Stewart, who was formerly bookkeeper of the company till 17th September, 1904. The former states that the company had dealings with all of the 22 assignors, and, while he cannot say from memory how much money the company hold of each of them, he believes it would amount to between $800 and $900, "and at all events the company is indebted in pursuance of these contracts in an amount far exceeding $500." The bookkeeper states that she knows the company had dealings with 18 of the 22 assignors (including the 7 who made affidavits), and, while she cannot remember the amounts deposited with the company by the parties individually, she believes it amounts to fully $800, and at all events it would amount to more than $500. She is evidently mistaken in using the expression "deposited with the company," and means with the union or association or this company or the Montreal company which appeared on the scene later on.

The affidavit of W. J. Doran states that about November, 1903, the government interfered with the business of the association and union, and the manager of each was fined in the police court at Toronto for carrying on the business of a loan corporation without a license. In the subsequent cancellation dated 15th December, 1903, of the company's registry under The Loan Corporations Act, it is said that these fines were imposed in September and October, 1903, respectively, and were imposed under that Act for undertaking and transacting an unlawful business.* Possibly it was thought they were using a name, or combination of names, likely to deceive or mislead the public—as prohibited in the amendment of June, 1903, 3 Edward VII., ch. 16, s. 9, for the law against unincorporated partnerships entering into such contracts as these was passed in April, 1904, 4 Edward VII., ch. 17, s. 4, and I have not found any previous enactment prohibiting such contracts as these being taken by an incorporated partnership, if people chose to deal with it.

However, the fines being inflicted, the members of the two partnerships apparently concluded that their business must be done by some sort of a registered incorporated body, and they turned themselves to the People's Loan and Deposit Company. The company was at that time a shadow. It had been incorporated in 1875 under the Act of 1859 respecting building societies, C. S. U. C. ch. 53, and had had a substantial paid-up capital, but apparently had eventually lost money, for, according to W. J. Doran's affidavit, it had about the spring of 1903 realized on all its assets and distributed them among the shareholders, thereby repaying them 51 cents on the dollar. He says he and his associates about 23rd November, 1903, purchased the stock held by the then directors of the company, and what stock that was he does not explain; and he, with J. H. Maunder and M. C. Hubert, two other partners in the union, and W. J. Holden, one of the partners in the association, became directors of the company, but it had no assets whatever, and he and his associates took transfers of the stock then held by the directors in the company, with a view, he says, of putting new life into the company and underwriting its stock, and he says that the company was at that time duly licensed to carry on the business of a loan corporation. This is his account of the matter, but the Registrar of Loan Corporations, in his subsequent cancellation of the company's registry, states that the company had by proceedings taken under the Joint Stock Companies Winding-up Act, R.S.O. 1897, ch. 222, realized upon its assets, and, after liquidating its debts and liabilities, distributed the surplus among its shareholders, and the distribution was, according to the affidavit of the liquidator, ended on 2nd May, 1903, and that the company's registry under The Loan Corporations Act expired by effluxion of time on 30th June, 1903, and was not then renewed, but on 21st November a temporary renewal was obtained on a representation by the liquidator that some matters were not completed.

* See Report of Registrar of Loan Corporations for 1903, p. 280. The defendants, contrary to The Loan Corporations Act (sec. 117 as amended by 63 Vict., c. 27, s. 12, and by 3 Ed. VII., c. 16, s. 9), were transacting the business of a Loan Corporation, s. 2 (5); and were selling terminating shares within the meaning of sections 2 (21) and 12. J. H. H.

Forthwith upon the acquisition on 23rd November of the so-called shares in the company, the association and union transferred to the company the business contracts, obligations, assets, and all moneys intrusted to the union and association, and the company received all the moneys intrusted to the union and association by their respective contract holders, subject to the same trusts attached to the moneys, and undertook to fulfil the trusts with the contract holders. W. J. Doran was appointed president and manager of the company, and he says that he advised any contract holders coming to the office with whom he conversed, and he believes all the officers and agents of the company advised contract holders, that the company had assumed the contracts and undertaken to carry them out and administer the moneys, on the conditions under which the moneys were paid, and the company by and through its officers held itself out as occupying the shoes of the association and union in respect of each and every person having intrusted money to either. The company went on with the business, and itself obtained similar contracts from a number of persons, and also received payments on some of the contracts of the association and union.

On 15th December, 1903, the Registrar of Loan Corporations, learning that the company was carrying on the business of those concerns, cancelled the registry which had been renewed for a temporary purpose. Another move thus became necessary. It was decided to have a company bearing the same name incorporated in the Province of Quebec, under the laws of that Province, and having its head office in Montreal, instead of Toronto. This was done, the shareholders of the new company being W. J. Doran and his wife, J. H. Maunder and his wife, and M. C. Hubert, of whom Doran, Maunder and Hubert were directors.

Doran's affidavit states that thereupon about 12th February, 1903 [1904], the People's Loan and Deposit Company of Toronto transferred to the People's Loan and Deposit Company of Montreal all the contracts it had with contractors, all the assets, money, property, and obligations of every kind represented by those contracts, and the Montreal company received the same, subject to the trusts connected therewith, and agreed to administer the moneys in every respect as the union and association had undertaken, and accepted the same, well knowing that the moneys were paid for the purposes mentioned, and became responsible to all the persons whose contracts were transferred. A copy of the agreement of transfer is put in, but it has not the schedule containing a list of mortgages transferred. By the agreement the Toronto company has the right of redemption in case a "license of incorporation" be granted by the government of Ontario to the Toronto company. The consideration expressed for the transfer is $1, and that the assignees will perform all the obligations in the mortgages and contracts.

The affidavit goes on to state that the chief reason for this transfer was that the officers in the Toronto company perceived that the company was going behind financially, and would be unable to carry on the business which it had undertaken, and in order to protect the assets from any of its contractors who might take proceedings against the company. A circular issued from the People's Loan and Deposit Company, Montreal, on 28th March, "to our contract holders in Toronto," says: "By the transfer of the business of the old company, you are secured from the loss which would have been entailed by any attempt to wind up our business in Ontario. If we were to throw this matter in the Courts, you would not realize anything on your payments. As it is, we are able to carry out your contracts as before, except that you will be put to the inconvenience of making your payments direct to Montreal."

After the transfer some of the contractors continued making payments to the Montreal company, but the number had been diminishing from the time of the cancellation of the registry, so that from 1,500 who were making payments at the time the business of the union and association was taken over, it fell to 500 at the time Doran left the company on 26th July, 1904. According to the affidavit the Toronto company received from the union and association all the moneys intrusted to those concerns on the contracts, which I do not assume to mean anything more than the home fund and possibly the contingent account. Between that and his leaving the company he says the company had used about $5,000 of the home fund moneys improperly to pay salaries and expenses, and to pay 3 of the partners in the association for having turned over the business. He does not distinguish between the Toronto company and the Montreal company as to how much each had so improperly used. He says that, when he left, there was due on matured contracts at least $5,000 to meet which the company had no "money" save a few hundred dollars which it kept for current expenses, and he says the company was then hopelessly insolvent and he believes it is utterly impossible for it to fulfil the terms of the contracts made and assumed by the company, and the objects for which the moneys were intrusted by [to] the company had, in his judgment, totally failed, and it is beyond the company's power to fulfil the trusts imposed on the moneys and undertaken by the company. Elsewhere in the affidavit he says the company, at the time of taking over the businesses, had no assets and had none when he separated from the company, except some office furniture worth about $500, "and the trust moneys and properties received from said association and union and persons holding contracts with said company." What he means by this, in the light of his other statements, and which company he means, he does not explain. A "report of business up to 30th April, 1904," issued by the company from Montreal, and on which his name is printed as president, states the "number of contracts issued 2,860, amount of contracts $2,365,000. Number of contracts matured 86. Amount advanced thereon $34,029. Total receipts on home fund $30,653.50. Total receipts on contingent fund $1,427.35. Premiums due $27,045.05." These being stated to be exclusive of collections for April in one Province, which should add at least $1,000. It would be possible for the company to have very little money on hand and yet be perfectly solvent. The plan of co-operation would seem to intend that whenever there was $50 on hand in the home fund it should be lent out on a matured contract.

Now, bearing in mind these different changes of the business, let us look at the petitioners' claims. Mr. Cole held 6 contracts of the Sterling Home Buyers' Union. He paid the union $15 application fee which he admits was to go for expenses. He also made 3 monthly payments to the union of $15 each, of which $36 would go to the home fund, $1.80 for contingent fund, and $7.20 for expenses. He then paid the People's Loan and Deposit Company of Toronto 3 monthly payments, 1 before and 2 after the cancellation of the registry, in all $45, which would be applicable in the same way, and he continued paying after the transfer to the Montreal company up till 30th July, 1904, 6 payments, $90 in all, of which $72 would go to the home fund, $3.60 to contingent fund, and $14.40 for expenses. These last 6 payments he says he made at the Toronto company's head office. He heard nothing of there being two companies till afterwards, and he does not claim to be a creditor of the Montreal company, but of the Toronto company. The Toronto company cannot well be treated as a debtor for the application fee or the expenses, and if it is held for the payments to the union as well as the subsequent ones, and also for the contingent fund, the total would be $151.20. He admits on cross-examination that none of his 6 contracts have matured, and that until then he was not entitled to get any money back. He says he looks to both the union and the company for his moneys, and he never released the union, but he says when this company took over the union business he went to the company's office and was told by Mr. Doran that the company had assumed his contract, and he went on paying.

Of those who have assigned their claims to Mr. Saunders, 3, E. Gardiner, J. Campbell, and J. C. Hoare, paid to the Montreal company $24, $36 and $2, respectively, for the home fund. Two others, Palmer and McGonigal, made payments after the transfer to the Montreal company. Two others, C. Fernie and C. M. Hardy, say their last payment was to the Toronto company. No particulars are given as to the others.

The position then is, that Mr. Cole alone is not a creditor for $200. Mr. Saunders' own beneficial claim is probably not over $20, excluding expense moneys, and probably no one of those who have assigned to him has a claim of even $50 against the Toronto company. Each of the assignments to him by the union and association contractors transfers the contract and all benefits and advantages contained therein to him for the purpose of taking action to secure and enforce the assignor's just rights under the contract as against the union or association, the members thereof; and the People's Loan and Deposit Company has assumed the contract. So that none of the assignors are abandoning their claims against the union or association or the partners therein. The assignments authorize Mr. Saunders, upon realizing the claim, to deduct his expenses and remit the balance to the assignor.

Now, it is to be noted that, upon the material first filed and mentioned in the notice of presentation of the petition, the petitioners did not make out any case. That material was only the affidavits of the two petitioners, who did not sufficiently verify the statements in the petition, and though on their cross-examination more particulars were obtained as to their individual claims, etc., and the names of the 22 assignors, and the amounts of their claims, these latter could not be verified, and they were only able to give vague hearsay evidence as to the main allegation on which the petition must rest. From the cross-examination their individual beneficial claims against the company would not together amount to $200.

It is only from the affidavits subsequently filed that we can get information as to the claims of the 22 assignors and as to the allegations against the company.

At the time this company took over the moneys, assets, contracts and business of the two unincorporated partnerships, it had no assets whatever, no paid up capital, not even a liability of shareholders on subscribed capital. The petition alleges that the capital which had years before been subscribed had been paid up. It had recognized the applicability to it of the Ontario Winding-up Act. It had been practically wound up under the Act and had paid the proceeds of its assets, so far as they would extend, back to the shareholders. The renewal of the license on 21st November was obtained by a subterfuge, and it was cancelled on 15th December. Under C. S. U. C. 1859, ch. 53, an Act respecting building societies, and the amendments, it would have no authority to receive these moneys and securities and contracts. That Act was in the schedule of Acts not repealed by R.S.O. 1877. I do not find that it has been expressly repealed since. Neither would the company have such powers under the Act respecting building societies of R.S.O. 1877 or 1887, which were replaced by The Loan Corporations Act of 1897, 60 Viet., ch. 38, now R.S.O. 1897, ch. 205.

Except from the cancellation of the company's registry, a copy of which has been put in by the petitioners, I have no evidence of the winding-up proceedings taken, but they are there stated to be under the Ontario Winding-up Act, R.S.O. 1897, ch. 222, and that Act by section 8 provides that the company shall from the date of commencement of the winding-up proceedings cease to carry on its business except in so far as required for the beneficial winding-up thereof. It does not appear whether the proceedings were had under section 40, or section 48, and, therefore, it is possible it has not been actually dissolved. I must take it that on 23rd November, 1903, the taking over of the business, contracts and moneys of the union and association and the subsequent receipt of moneys on the contracts, both before and after the cancellation of the registry on 15th December, was ultra vires of the company. Then, too, I do not see that I can for this purpose put the case of these contractors higher than that of privies to the dealings with the company, entitled to treat it as their debtor, had the transaction been intra vires. That being so, the decision of Giffard, L. J., in Re National Permanent Benefit Building Society, L. R. 5 Ch. 309, seems to be in point, and I must hold that the petitioners have no standing as petitioning creditors under the Winding-up Act.

There is no proof that any of the identical moneys of any of these contractors went to the company; no doubt some did, but if Doran's affidavit is correct, there was no shortage up to the time of the transfer to the company, and in the ordinary course of business these contractors' payments to the home fund account would have been lent out on the mortgages which were transferred to the company. Being so legitimately invested in mortgages, or in so far as that was done, I do not see how the company could be treated as indebted to the contractors, without their privity, beyond the moneys actually received.

Then another question arises. The Winding-up Act allows "a creditor for a sum of at least $200" to be a petitioner for the winding-up order. Why was this limit put on and can it be avoided by joining in the petition two or more creditors for smaller sums so as to make an aggregate of $200? Or can one person have several claims assigned to him for the express purpose of making up a total of $200 to enable him to be a petitioner, although he acquires no beneficial interest whatever in them? Obviously the Legislature had some reason in fixing a limit, and that must have been to prevent companies being harassed by such radical proceedings for small amounts.

Under the Insolvent Act of 1875, a demand upon a debtor to make an assignment for his creditors could be made by one or more creditors for sums of not less than $100, and amounting in the aggregate to $500, and the debtor might show in answer that their claims did not amount to $100 each. While to obtain a writ of attachment against a trader the creditor had to swear to a debt in a sum provable in insolvency of not less than $200.

In Carrier v. Allin, 2 A. R. 15, where a creditor had bought another creditor's claim so as to make him a creditor for $200 and enable him to take out a writ of attachment, it was held valid. In England the Companies Act, 1862, section 82, allows any one or more creditors to be petitioners, and by section 80 a creditor by assignment or otherwise to whom the company at law or in equity is indebted in a sum exceeding £50 then due, may serve a demand for payment so as to have the company declared unable to pay its debts.

In In re Paris Skating Rink Co., 5 Ch. D. 959, a petition by the assignor and assignee of a debt was refused, because, after its being originally filed by the assignee, he had assigned the debt and the right to proceed with the petition, which was then amended by joining the assignee as petitioner. The chief objection was the sale of the right to proceed with the petition.

In In re Ooregum Gold Mining Co., 29 Sol. J. 204, the Court of Appeal seem to have hesitated at allowing a petition by the assignee of a debt assigned to enable him to file a petition alone for winding-up, the beneficial interest still remaining in the assignor, but they allowed the assignor to be joined as petitioner.

In In re London and Birmingham, etc., Alkali Co., 1 DeG. F. & J. 257, which arose under the Joint Stock Companies Act of 1856, the Lord Chancellor said there might be a question whether the assignee of a judgment could be petitioner, but it was not necessary to decide it, as the assignor was joined with him.

In Ex p. Culley, In re Adams, 9 Ch., D. 307, a case in bankruptcy, the petitioner was assignee of a judgment, but really held it as trustee for another person, and had no beneficial interest in it—the petition was dismissed. It was held that the old rule in bankruptcy that both the legal and beneficial owners of the debt (the latter not being under disability) must join in petition and in the affidavit, was still in force, and that the Act allowing assignment of choses in action made no change in the old rule—that, as put by James, L. J., "for the safety of mankind the beneficial owner must join in the requisite oath that the money is justly and truly due, that it has not been paid, and that he has no security for it."

In In re European Banking Co., L. R. 2 Eq. 521, a petition was refused because the petitioner had not sufficient interest in the debt—it having been attached by his own creditors.

In Ex parte Harper, 20 Ch. D. 685, the buying up of debts to take bankruptcy proceedings was denounced by Jessel, M. R., as a gross abuse of the bankruptcy laws. And in Ex p. Griffin, 12 Ch. D. 480, which was a sequel to Ex p. Culley, the petition by the assignee of a debt was refused, it appearing that the proceedings in bankruptcy were not taken with a view to obtain payment of the debt, but the debt was purchased in order to be able to take proceedings in bankruptcy, but with ulterior purposes. The circumstances here are, of course, different, but those cases shew that the assigning of claims for the purposes of a petition in bankruptcy is not encouraged.

Whatever one might wish to do in the present case, the same rule must be applied as would be in cases of other companies which may come before the Court. I think the rule adopted in bankruptcy proceedings is a salutary one, that the real and beneficial owner of the debt should join in the petition and proof. Perhaps no better instance of the necessity for the rule can be offered than the present, where Mr. Saunders has not the slightest knowledge of the correctness of the amounts to which he, no doubt in perfect good faith, but as I think incorrectly, swears.

Then also I think that the Legislature did not intend and does not allow a creditor for a less sum than $200 to be a petitioner, and, if that be so, it would follow that it would only be a colourable avoidance of the rule if creditors for smaller sums were allowed to assign their claims for the purpose of making up a sufficient amount, but without parting with any beneficial interest in them. As I have already said, none of these contractors are by the terms of their contracts entitled to have any moneys payable to them, and in the view I have taken it is unnecessary to discuss whether, even if the whole purpose of the contract has failed, either from the acts of the Legislature or otherwise, they can be said to be entitled to recover a debt, or only entitled to have a fund consisting of securities and money administered for the benefit of themselves and others. See In re Uruguay, etc., R. W. Co., 11 Ch., D. 372. So, too, it is not necessary to discuss whether any or all of those who contracted with the union or association are creditors of the Toronto company, nor whether those who made payments to the Montreal company accepted that company as their debtor.

There would also be the question whether this company is subject to the Dominion Winding-up Act, which does not apply to building societies not having a capital stock. As a fact, it has not even any assets, for it had none in November, 1903, and transferred all it subsequently had to the Montreal company. I dismiss the petition upon the grounds that the alleged debt was ultra vires of the company, and that no one of the claims on which the petition is based amounts to $200, and that the claims in which the petitioner was beneficially interested do not together amount to $200.

The course adopted by the company does not entitle it to costs.

IV.

LENNON v. EMPIRE LOAN AND SAVINGS COMPANY et al.: JUDGMENT OF MEREDITH, J., IN HIGH COURT OF JUSTICE, ONTARIO, NOVEMBER 8TH, 1905.

H. C. J.

LENNON vs. EMPIRE et al.

The Hon. Mr. Justice Meredith. Toronto, Wednesday, 8th November, 1905.

Sale of Assets of one Loan Corporation to another; position of certain holders of Terminating shares of the vendor corporation.

Hellmuth, K. C. for Plaintiff; McGregor Young for Defendant; A. C. Macdouell for the Trusts and Guarantee Company.

JUDGMENT.

The substance of the transaction in question was in one respect really a loan by the plaintiff to the Empire Loan and Savings Company. It was in one respect very like the case of a deposit or the case of a purchase of a debenture, whatever form the Company may have chosen to give it, or by whatever words they may have chosen to describe it; there was a real debt created from the Company to the plaintiff. They had received the plaintiff's money, and they were to return his money. That was the substance of the bargain in that respect. He had the right to demand re-payment after the lapse of three years. They had the right to re-pay after that length of time. Even the form of the certificate shows, to a considerable extent, the nature of the transaction, by reason of the coupons attached.

That being so, at the time of the sale by the one Company to the other, the plaintiff was really a creditor of the vendors. It is true that he had, or may have had, certain other rights incident to that transaction. He may have been, and probably was, in a sense, a shareholder. He may have had, and probably had, certain rights of voting. But whether he had or not, in substance, his character in one respect was and now is like that of a creditor for money lent.

In these circumstances did the sale by the one Company to the other Company obliterate such a right and give the purchasers the right to place him in the position of a shareholder in their Company? To repudiate his rights as a creditor and compel him to become that which he never intended to become in that or any other Company,—an ordinary shareholder?

If the law gives that right, it ought to give it in clear terms. It ought not to be lightly implied, nor to be held to be given by language which is not clear. It ought to be placed beyond any reasonable doubt, because it would be interfering with rights which are not usually taken away by such means. Under the Loan Corporations Act one Company had a right to sell its assets to another Company. That the vendors chose to do. The sale of those assets could not include its debts. Nor can I think that it can be said that under this enactment it gave either Company the right to say that although we cannot sell the debt which you have, we can sell our assets and we can make our debtor accept something other than cash in payment of his claim. There should be clear words giving that right before it can rightly be held that there is such an extraordinary power. It would be manifestly unjust, if ordinary shareholders, having interests diametrically opposed to the plaintiff, could, to further their interests, compel him to abandon his higher rights and accept a position of equality with them; it could not have been done by the vendors if there had been no sale of their assets; and the purchasers can have no higher rights in this respect.

If the plaintiff were a mere shareholder, different considerations would apply. In that case he would not be a creditor. He would be a debtor if his shares were not fully paid up. I am unable to find anything in the Act which gives the right the defendants, the Loan Companies claim in this section. There was nothing like a ratification by the plaintiff of that which was done in regard to his rights; nor anything like an ostoppel from his ordinary rights to enforce his claims by this action. There was no assent of any character by him throughout. From the very beginning to the end he has persisted in the position that he was a creditor and entitled to be repaid the moneys which he advanced to the Empire Loan and Savings Company.

If the transaction was ultra vires the result would be the same, the plaintiff would be entitled to a return of his money with interest and a creditor to that extent.

The claim, therefore, of the Loan Company fails, and the only question for consideration is what judgment ought now to be made. Whether the plaintiff has any right against the purchasers direct or not is a difficult question. The enactments are by no means as plain as they might be in that respect. But it is not necessary now to consider that question. The plaintiff has security for his debt in the securities lodged with the Trust Company. There is no difficulty in realizing his claim. It is not necessary that there should be any judgment for recovery from the purchasers. Again it may be that the purchasers, in view of this ruling, if upheld, may choose to seek to avoid that contract and to have it set aside on the ground that they purchased under a mistake of fact. They ought not to be tied down while such a question as that may be involved. And there is difficulty arising from the fact that certain sums are claimed which are not yet payable, or were not yet payable, when this action was brought. It seems to me that it is enough in this case to hold that the plaintiff is not precluded from enforcing his claim by anything that has taken place between the two Companies. That, and the disposition of the question of costs, will answer all practical purposes. There will, therefore, be a declaration of the character which I have indicated. The plaintiff is entitled to his costs from the defendants other than the Trust Company. The Trust Company are entitled to their costs from their co-defendants. The proceedings will be stayed for 30 days.

MR. MACDONELL: My Lord, these mortgages have not been officially assigned to us. I suppose on settlement of the judgment provision can be made for proceedings to realize upon them.

HIS LORDSHIP: No, I cannot give relief of that character. This action is not brought for that purpose.

MR. MACDONELL: Judgment should be against the securities and not against the Trust Company.

HIS LORDSHIP: I am giving no judgment against the Trust Company.

MR. HELLMUTH: I understand your Lordship gives a declaration that we are not precluded from enforcing our claim upon these securities.

HIS LORDSHIP: Yes, by reason of that sale.

MR. HELLMUTH: By reason of that amalgamation and sale.

HIS LORDSHIP: It was not an amalgamation.

MR. HELLMUTH: By reason of that sale. Then my Lord, I do not know whether that will get us very much further. The Empire Company have transferred their assets.

HIS LORDSHIP: It leaves you in this position, that you can enforce your claim against the securities in the hands of the Trust Company.

MR. HELLMUTH: We would ask to be allowed to do that.

HIS LORDSHIP: There is nothing to prevent you doing that. Bringing an action for that purpose if necessary. I should think no action would be necessary. There may be an appeal against this judgment, but when the matter is finally settled the claim will be paid, if you are successful. If not paid, you will be able to realize upon the securities in the hands of the Trust Company.

MR. HELLMUTH: We have asked in our claim for the securities in the Trust Corporation being assigned to us.

HIS LORDSHIP: I do not think you are entitled to have them assigned. There may be other creditors. You may enforce your claim against them if it is not paid. It seems to me to be premature to consider the question of enforcing the claim, for those two reasons.

MR. HELLMUTH: Except that some are overdue and we were kept out of them.

HIS LORDSHIP: That does not help you. If there is an appeal you will be delayed. If they do not appeal, they will pay, there is no question about that. There is no necessity for increasing costs.

MR. YOUNG: If there should be proceedings between the Empire and the Sun & Hastings, I would like to have your Lordship's direction as to costs against the Empire rather than against the Sun. For the present it amounts to the same thing.

HIS LORDSHIP: The Empire and the Sun Companies are liable for the plaintiff's costs and the trustees' costs.

MR. MACDONELL: On what basis will the trustees' costs be, my Lord?

HIS LORDSHIP: You will get the usual costs.
