SANITARIUM OPENING IS FIXED FOR MARCH 23

People Prominent In Seventh
Day Adventist Affairs
Will Be Present

It is quite probable that the opening ceremonies of the new Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital will be held on March 23, according to a program mapped out by the board of managers of the institution at a meeting they held here Friday.

With Rev. W. Milton Adams, of Los Angeles, who is the president of the board, in the chair it was agreed that this date would be very desirable inasmuch as it would follow closely the close of the quadrennial session of the Pacific Union Conference of Seventh Day Adventists, which will be held in Fresno, March 11 to 20, and leading clergymen of the denomination could be brought here from Fresno to take a prominent part in the opening ceremonies.

Expect Noted Leaders
World leaders of the denomination are scheduled to attend the Fresno meeting from the headquarters in Washington, D. C., and the board of managers felt that these leaders, in particular, could come here, and add dignity to the opening.

Among the leaders of the church who will go to Fresno are Revs. A. G. Daniels, for twenty-one years the president of the World's General Conference and now the general secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, Meade MacGuire, secretary of the Young People's Department, and R. D. Quinn, field secretary.

Clean Publicity, Full Of Facts—Not Insinuations—Is Real Aid To Community

It is impossible to build up by tearing down. It is just as impossible to progress by going backward. It has been—and will be—the policy of The Glendale Evening News to do its full part in building up Glendale. It has been—and will be—the policy of The Glendale Evening News to progress, and, through its service as a newspaper, enable others to progress. This newspaper has no sympathy for any individual or institution having a "tearing down" policy. We believe in PRAISE and PROGRESS; not in CLAMOR and CLAPTRAP.

Of course, The Glendale Evening News does not wink at wrong. Nor does this newspaper offer a shield to those who seek to benefit themselves at public expense. Right is right and The Glendale Evening News is on the side of right.

There are some who believe that a policy of "keeping things stirred up" goes to make a better people and a better city. There are some who deal in gossip, rumors, insinuations—EVERYTHING BUT FACTS—for the sole purpose of gaining personal ends or winning applause from a clique. There are some who start a whisper and chuckle as it grows into a scandal. There are some who START something—ANYTHING—but never FINISH IT!

The Glendale Evening News refuses to broadcast insinuations; this newspaper believes in—and prints—FACTS! It endeavors to be a CLEAN newspaper; it strives to treat everyone FAIRLY. It is not in sympathy with those seeking to "tear down." Nor will it lend its columns to those bearing a grudge.

In many cases where an error of judgment has occurred we believe that the wrong may be righted without the blowing of trumpets, a parade and a spread of printer's ink. The general good of the community is best preserved by a calm conference rather than a noisy—and nose-hip, hip hurrah. Community leaders—if they really ARE leaders—should have enough influence to cause a correction without having to daily waste words on the air.

Publicity is a keen-edged sword. It should be handled with the greatest of care. It may maim or kill the innocent—both individual and community. Death-dealing publicity should be used ONLY when justified by FACTS. In the hands of an amateur, publicity is a DANGEROUS weapon. It may even turn on its wielder! So it is of the utmost importance that one who controls the policy of a newspaper be a REAL man, sane, safe and of mature judgment, if the columns of the newspaper are to be kept free of dirt, free of UNJUST criticism, free of ironic comment and is to be FILLED WITH FACTS. Otherwise, a newspaper may become a detriment to a community, a puller down instead of a builder up, a bar to progress and prosperity—and the individual controlling it a CHARACTER ASSASSIN!

Also, unless the greatest care is exercised in commenting on men and affairs, the individual controlling the policy of the newspaper, may, through continual misuse of temporary power, become a COMMON SCOLD, worthless to himself and his community.

So, The Glendale Evening News believes that when criticism is offered that it be based on FACTS, that it be tempered with wisdom and that its purpose effect be weighed carefully—for often criticism is put out wholly for political uses or for revenge.

Let us have TRUTH and FACTS, not mere words, rumors, gossip, scandal and insinuations. Let us build up, not tear down. Let us stamp on wrong where there IS wrong. And, finally, let us have LESS SCOLDING and MORE PRAISE, for, after all, the most of us are really trying to do what's right.

GLENDALE IS ADVERTISED AT MEET

Local Delegation Prominent at Land Conference In Imperial Valley

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Member of The Evening News Staff.
EL CENTRO, Feb. 16.—(With Glendale realtors attending the Imperial Valley Farm Lands conference)—Welcomed to El Centro and the Imperial Valley by Mayor Will S. Fawcett of this city the Imperial Valley Farm Lands conference opened this morning under the auspices of the California Real Estate association.

Water—the all-pervading problem of the desert's development—will be the principal topic of the day as everyone here is heart and soul for the building of Boulder Canyon dam. Aliens, who are leaving the land, also will be a topic which speakers will deal with generally.

Need Reliable Tenants
The back-to-the-land movement depends a great deal upon the ability of the "land men," as real estate dealers are termed in the country, to place reliable tenants and responsible ranchers on the property before finances are forthcoming, and this is the big reason for the conference being called.

Glendale, with thirteen representatives, has the largest delegation at the conference. The morning session today stressed the need for small farm ownership, and taxation and financial problems came up for consideration at the meeting. Vice President Charles B. Guthrie of the seventh regional district will talk this afternoon on one phase of the farm problem.

Will Inspect River
The realtors attending the conference will assemble at a banquet tonight and tomorrow a special inspection trip of the Colorado river will be made on a train that has been placed at the disposal of the visitors.

The Glendale contingent is enjoying itself in the land of Barbara Worth. Practically everything provided at luncheon this noon is raised in the Imperial Valley. Last night motor trips in the moonlight—some of which led to the river—gave the visiting delegates an idea of the valley's resources and the droning swish of waters through the diked canals lent a mystic touch to the peculiarly pleasant depression when one is below "sea level."

Boost Glendale
Miss Catherine Guthrie and Allan Pollock, who accompanied Vice-President and Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie on the trip, are making themselves useful distributing Glendale literature.

Mayor Robinson sings, Peter Hansen, president of the local board, talks, while the Twining, Gihuly, Tad Menk and others are doing their share to make the local contingent the liveliest in El Centro today.

BRAVES' PLAYER IN SERIOUS CONDITION

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 16.—Tony Boeckel, third baseman for the Boston Braves, has only a fifty-fifty chance to live, was the statement made this morning by the attending physician at the La Jolla sanitarium.

KIRKWOOD LEADS IN TEXAS GOLF MEET

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 16.—Joe Kirkwood, trick shot artist, loomed as a possible winner of the third annual Texas open golf championship here today when he forged ahead of Jim Ockenden, French champion, who was leading at the conclusion of the first 36 holes Friday afternoon. Kirkwood turned in a 208 on the 54 holes of the morning round.

NEW HIGH MARK SET IN BOWLING TOURNAY

ST. PAUL, Feb. 16.—A new high mark of 704 in the singles, hung up by O. Swanson of Minneapolis, seemed impregnable today as the I. B. A. annual bowling classic went into its next to the last day. Leaders today are: Thomas brothers, Chicago, five-man, 2929; Matak and Mitchell, St. Paul, doubles, 1268; E. Matak, St. Paul, nine games, 1980.

SENATE ORDERS PROBE INTO BREAD PRICES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The federal trade commission was ordered by the Senate this afternoon to conduct an immediate investigation into the price of bread throughout the country. The investigation resulted from a resolution introduced by Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, who charged a "huge merger of baking companies" were making a national monopoly of bread production. A series of preambles to the resolution, citing the charges, were stricken out before the senate passed the measure.

TWO PARTIES FIGHT OVER TAX PLAN

Reduction Legislation On
One More Stage of House Argument

By A. O. HAYWARD
For International News Service
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Tax reduction legislation entered today on the third stage of its consideration in the House with Democratic leaders certain the Democratic plan would be substituted for the Mellon plan of income tax changes.

This bill fixes the maximum surtax of 44 per cent and cuts in half the normal tax rates. Republican leaders are fighting for their bill with the hope that they can save all except the 25 per cent maximum surtax.

Representative Longworth said today it had been reported to him there were 208 votes assured for a maximum surtax of 35 per cent. A vote will be taken in the House on this rate before votes are had on the Democratic rate of 44 per cent. With the 35 per cent rate accepted, it is believed by the Republican leaders they can save the provisions of the Republican tax bill.

Conferences between the steering committee and prominent House Republicans were held throughout the day for the purpose of preparing for the battle of rat votes expected next Tuesday or Wednesday. It is probable that the Democratic plan will be proposed by Representative Gardner for the Mellon plan immediately after the day has been read. Some Republicans favoring the 35 per cent maximum will then offer that rate as a substitute for the others.

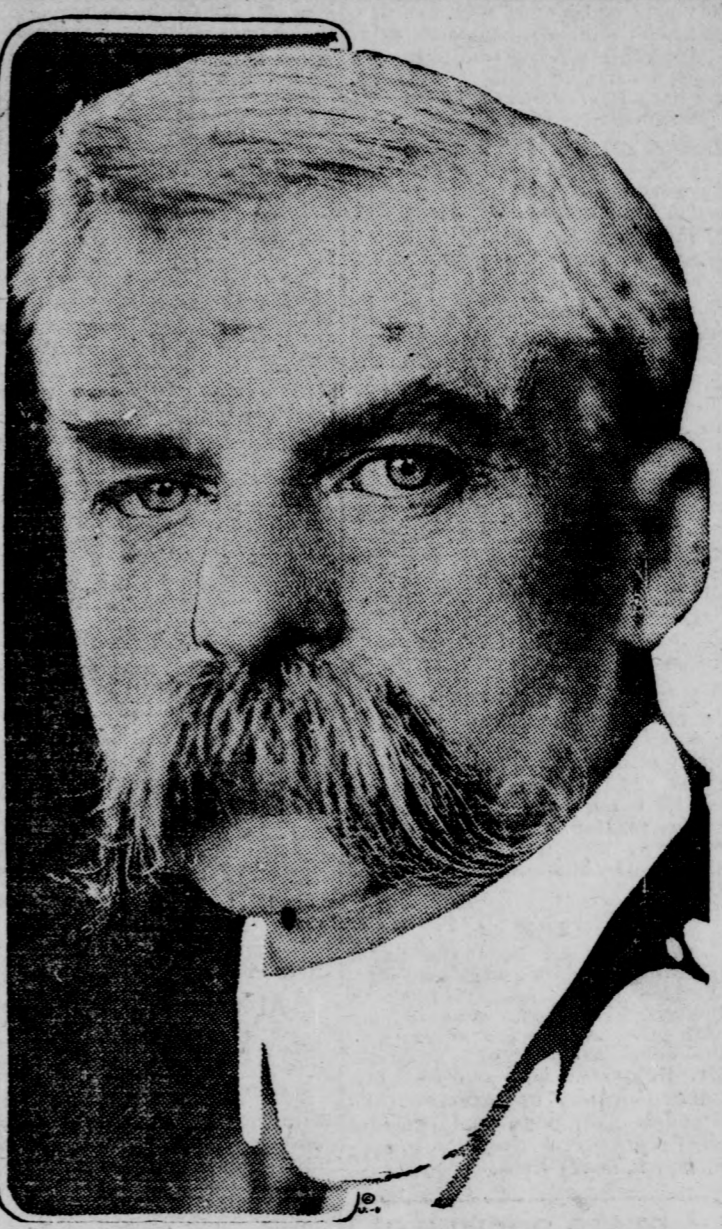

Expect Close Fight
Longworth believes the Frear plan will be rejected by the House by a large majority. The vote will come then on the 35 per cent maximum. Failing to have this rate adopted, Republican leaders will force votes on ascending rates until one is reached that will command a majority of the House. Democrats are cautioned to hold their maximum and bolters are threatened with being read out of the party.

General debate will continue until 4 p. m. Monday. Reading of the bill will then be started and continued Tuesday until the income tax sections of the bill are reached.

STORM WARNINGS

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 16.—Southeast storm warnings were displayed today at all North Pacific coast points, except Puget Sound and Marshfield, in anticipation of a severe disturbance. The storm is expected to bring rain and slightly warmer winds to dissipate the cold weather which had moved into western Oregon during the night. A temperature of freezing—32 degrees—was recorded today.

He Tipped the Teapot

SENATOR THOMAS J. WALSH, DEMOCRAT, OF MONTANA
The real story of how the oil scandal that has shocked the country came to be turned up revolves largely about one figure—Thomas J. Walsh, Democratic Senator from Montana. Where others—and those were many—had suspicions there was something "off color" somewhere about the naval oil leases, it amounted to almost an obsession with Walsh. His bulldog tenacity in digging up the facts resulted in the exposure. Walsh is known in Washington as a man who never jokes; a most serious-minded man.

CLAIM CHRISTIAN UNFIT FOR POST

Harding's Secretary Used
Pressure to Halt U. S.
Suits, Is Charge

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—An investigation into the fitness of George B. Christian, secretary to the late President Harding, to serve as a member of the Federal Trade commission was launched today before the Senate interstate commerce committee.

Insurgent Republicans attacked the appointment, led by Senator La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, who charged Christian with exerting "pressure" upon the disposition of an anti-trust suit while in the White House. La Follette's charge was supported by Chairman Huston Thompson, of the commission, who declared Christian attempted to use "pressure" on him to prevent issuance of a complaint against the Famous Players-Lasky corporation.

Mellon Acts to Halt Attacks on Treasury

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—An order revolutionizing the practices of attorneys in tax controversies and other matters in the treasury department was issued by Secretary of the Treasury Mellon today. The revolutions provide that no former officer or employee of the treasury department shall attack as attorney in any controversy pending in the department during his employment, within two years after he has left the service without the consent of the secretary of the treasury.

Treasury officials explained that the order struck at the thousands of former employees who go into private lines to appear for private litigants against the government, after having "inside information" on treasury affairs.

Enforcement of Meat Trust Decree Probed

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Senate this afternoon passed a resolution calling upon Attorney-General Daugherty to report what progress has been made by the department of justice in enforcing the anti-trust decree against the "big five" meat packing companies. It was sponsored by Senator Ladd, Republican of North Dakota.

DRAG RIVER FOR CAR'S OCCUPANTS

Auto Plunges Through Gate
Of Drawbridge; Night
Hampers Searchers

SEATTLE, Feb. 16.—The Duwamish river was being dragged today in an effort to recover the bodies of the occupants of a small touring car which early this morning plunged from an open drawbridge in the southern part of the city. It is not known how many persons were in the car.

According to witnesses, the car was coming from the south at a fair rate of speed when it struck the gate of the bridge, swung it open and plunged into the water. No sound was uttered by the occupants of the machine. Shortly after the accident, policemen and firemen dragging the river recovered a touring car top, but darkness hampered the workers and they repeatedly lost their holds on the machine.

Pass Resolution to Recover Oil Lands

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The House this afternoon passed the Walsh resolution directing the secretary of the interior to take steps to recover certain oil lands in California, now held by the Standard Oil company. The resolution has passed the senate and now goes to the White House for President Coolidge's approval. The land involved is Sections 16 and 35 in Reserve No. 1.

Figures Reveal 50 Pct. Increase In Telephone Calls

Figures speak louder than words in telling the story of Glendale's growth. Once a month the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company exchange here makes a two-day record of all incoming calls.

PUBLIC LAND TRANSFERS CAUSE OF INQUIRY

New Investigation to Result
In Senate, Is Belief;
Row on Counsel

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Overriding the objections of Republican leaders, insurgents and Democrats today forced the Senate to abandon all secrecy in considering the nominations of Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene as special counsel to prosecute the government's oil cases.

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The Senate was thrown into a wordy row this afternoon over whether it would vote behind closed doors or open, on confirming the appointment of Owen J. Roberts of Philadelphia, and Atlee Pomerene of Ohio, as the special counsel to prosecute the oil leases.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Another sweeping Senatorial investigation into the manipulations of public land, this time the great Alaskan coal reserves—appeared certain today, following grave charges filed with President Coolidge against Secretary of the Navy Denby, ex-Secretary of the Interior Fall and other government officials.

Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, leader of the Senate insurgents and instigator of the Teapot Dome probe, has drafted a resolution calling upon the navy and interior departments to produce everything in their files pertaining to the coal reserves.

Transfer Is Made
The demand resulted from charges made by John E. Baine, builder of the original Alaskan railroad and foremost champion of Alaskan conservation, that Fall and Denby conspired to transfer the coal reserves from the navy to the interior department.

SOLON STRICKEN IN LIQUOR FIGHT

Vermont Senator's Condition
Satisfactory, Declares
Hospital Report

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—An X-ray examination of Senator Frank L. Greene, Republican, of Vermont disclosed that the bullet which struck him last night fractured his skull but did not penetrate the bone. It was announced at the emergency hospital this afternoon. Physicians explained that the bullet ricocheted against the skull. The senator's condition was described as "favorable."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The condition of Senator Frank L. Greene, Republican of Vermont, who was shot through the head during a running pistol battle between a revenue agent and alleged bootleggers last night, was described by physicians at emergency hospital this morning as very satisfactory. An X-ray examination of the wound will be made to determine whether the bullet is still lodged in the senator's head.

Otis E. Fisher, prohibition agent, who engaged in the fight, is held at the Sixth precinct station on a technical charge of investigation. Three men with whom Fisher exchanged several shots are sought.

Bootleggers Escape
Senator Greene accompanied by his wife, was walking down Pennsylvania avenue to their hotel near the capitol. When they reached Third street, they heard what they thought was the backfiring of an automobile. A moment later Greene crumpled to the street, muttering, "I am shot."

While passersby rushed to Greene's aid, a large touring car whizzed by, with its occupants firing pistols in all directions. Greene immediately was rushed to the hospital.

Postmaster Kidnapped For Sciots' Initiation

A small army forced entrance into the residence of Postmaster D. R. Riney Jackson, 1800 South Brand boulevard, shortly after 7 o'clock last night, dragged him from his couch and led him to their lair.

Recently the postmaster signified his willingness to become affiliated with the Sciots. When ordered to present himself for initiation at Odd Fellows hall last night he failed to make an appearance. Thereupon Lieut. W. J. Royle of the police department and four assistants were detailed to depart and get the culprit.

He was found at home. When informed by his son Kenneth that Lieutenant Royle wanted to see him he went to the door to invite the officer into the house. As he put forth his right hand the visitor clasped a pair of handcuffs on his wrists, which in turn were fastened to a fourteen-foot chain.

He was taken from the sanctity of his home to be led behind the car through the streets of Glendale, a thin sweater only covering his D. V. B.'s, much to the amusement of the populace.

Date of Wedding

At a dinner last night at the C. L. Peckham home at 615 North Central avenue, the date of the marriage of Miss Gladys Peckham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Peckham to Kenneth Bolt, son of Mrs. John Everson of 611 North Central avenue, was announced as March 5.

With Mrs. Keim
 Mrs. D. T. Keim of 342 West California avenue was hostess yesterday afternoon to the members of the Glendale W. C. T. U. and their friends. A very interesting meeting was held with a large attendance.

During the business session, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Ruby Smart, plans were made for the coming jubilee to be held in Glendale on February 29, as this is the fiftieth or jubilee year. Further announcement will be made later relative to plans and programs for this celebration.

An arrangement was also made concerning the County Conference to be held at Santa Monica during April. The local W. C. T. U. members also voted to join the Missionary Federation in a day of prayer which will be observed in March.

The program during the afternoon was given in memory of Frances Willette, who for 19 years was president of the National W. C. T. U. Mrs. Edith S. Docketay who was in charge of this part of the program had distributed a number of quotations from the writings and works of Frances Willette to the various members who, in turn, read them aloud. This was a very interesting feature of the afternoon.

Mrs. C. W. Bacon gave an interesting talk using a map showing the many thousands of W. C. T. U. organizations throughout the country.

Reports from several members were given relative to the jubilee conference held last week in Los Angeles. Twenty members of the local organization were in attendance during part of the week. During the conference Southern California was honored by the presentation of a white satin banner bearing gold stars by Mrs. Gould, national vice-president to the California state president, Mrs. Emma Wheeler, for the largest gain in membership during the year. The southern division which has 16,341 members expects to increase their membership to 20,000 during the year.

School Meeting

The school hour preceding the program at the Acacia Street Parent Teachers association on Friday afternoon and the mothers of B5 room, of which Mrs. Bullis is teacher, were the hostesses. Mrs. W. C. Beckman and Mrs. F. W. Jennings were the committee in charge.

Mrs. L. D. Torrey presided over the business session during which the committee in charge of purchasing the mimeograph for the school reported its purchase at the cost of $127. It was voted to give $25 to the Glendale Avenue Intermediate school toward the purchase of the screen for that school.

A silver tea was announced for Friday, February 22, at the home of Miss Euliel Ballinger, 322 Roads End. The donation by the association of a comfort to the Welfare council was reported. The room count showed the A6 grade, of which Miss Daisy Kerns is teacher, was the winner, having the most mothers present.

The program which opened with the salute to the flag included a play given by pupils from different grades, "Lincoln the Kind-hearted"; a reading by Mary Smith, "Each of Us Is Faithful to His Own"; and talk on "The Boy Scout Movement," by Harvey R. Cheesman, Boy Scout executive. Mr. Cheesman said the movement promotes a two-fold program, activity and ideals. Reference was made to the intention of the organization of the Boy Scouts to be held next summer at Copenhagen, Denmark, and the speaker thought it would help to promote world peace.

Cerritos P-T. A.

The Cerritos Avenue Parent-Teacher association, of which Mrs. W. F. Small is president, will meet on Tuesday, February 19, at 2:30 p. m., at the Cerritos Avenue school.

Mrs. Ann Jenkins, who spoke so interestingly last year on the subject of kindergartens, will be the speaker. Her subject will be "Abraham Lincoln." The program will also include a pianologue by Mrs. Osborne Garber and a piano number by Barbara Hague. Light refreshments will be served by the hospitality committee, with Mrs. L. C. McCurdy as chairman.

Party at Studio

Pretty Valentine features were used last night by Miss Marcella Webb in the party given in her new studio at 1229 East Colorado street for her dancing pupils and a group of other guests. She was assisted in entertaining over fifty guests by her mother, Mrs. C. A. Webb.

Games and surprise entertainment numbers filled the evening with much pleasure. First, there was a guessing game at which Miss Fitzpatrick won the prize for guessing nearest the number of hearts in a big bowl. Following this each person present was given a piece of gold heart and four pins from which to fashion a hat. The men were judges and Janelle Thrasher was judged the cleverest hat maker.

A graceful Grecian dance was given by Jane and Alice Leighton, and later a Valentine dance by Alva Hadsell, Jean MacLane and Margaret Ege. Refreshments in the evening ice cream and cake were served.

Chief Is Guest

Mrs. Olive Packard of Long Beach, district deputy grand chief of the Pythian Sisters, was a special guest of the local Pythian Sisters during their regular meeting held last night in the K. P. hall, Park avenue and Brand boulevard.

The regular business session was held with the most excellent chief in charge. At this time plans were made for a card party to be given on Saturday night, March 29, at the K. P. hall. The committee appointed to take charge of arrangements for this affair includes Mrs. Della Fellows and Mrs. Urzella Jolliffe.

Later in the evening Mrs. Packard gave a short address pertaining to the work of the Pythian Sisters, which was greatly enjoyed. As a special compliment to Mrs. Packard, a banquet was served later in the evening. The committee in charge, which included Mesdames Della Fellows, Amanda Rowe and Edith Reaser, had decorated the banquet tables for the occasion with arrangements of pink carnations and calla lilies.

Kensington Club

Mrs. Anna Page and her daughters proved delightful hostesses Wednesday afternoon, when they entertained at their home 1213 South Mariposa street forty-five members of the Kensington club of the Women's Relief Corps.

After an informal afternoon given over to needlework and conversation, refreshments were served. Serving was done most uniquely, the guests being asked to serve themselves to whatever they liked from sandwiches, doughnuts, cakes, tea, coffee and punch.

Assists Mother

Mrs. J. L. Funk of 521 North Adams street was assisting hostess Thursday at a pretty Valentine luncheon given by her mother, Mrs. R. Petruschke, at her home on Vermont avenue, Los Angeles.

Rehearsal Play

Members of the Shakespeare department of the Tuesday afternoon club are to hold a regular meeting Monday at the clubhouse. Rehearsal for the "Twelfth Night" will begin at 12 o'clock and the afternoon meeting at 2 o'clock.

Special Meeting

A special meeting of the board members and room mothers of the Glendale avenue P-T. A. will be held Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the school auditorium, with Mrs. O. A. Spradling, president, in charge. This will take the place of the regular monthly meeting, which has been cancelled.

Class Has Party

The R. L. H. class of the Cass Vordugo Sunday school enjoyed a Valentine party Thursday night in the social rooms at the church. Games were played and a Valentine box was the center of attraction. Refreshments were served. Sixteen were present, with the teacher, Miss Adele Drake.

STARS PRESAGE FATE
 Brelton seamen have great belief in the stars and disconsolate indeed is he who sees in the heavens at night, just one star. It is to him "the lone star" presaging his passing on. The Persians have a belief that all the unnumbered stars are the ghosts of men and the Australian bush men have a saying that "Good men become stars," which is akin to the Teutonic saying that, "Stars are the souls, and when a child dies God makes a new star."

SAINT NON-RESIDENT
 St. Andrew, the great missionary in Asia Minor, who became the patron saint of Scotland, never visited the land which honored him so signally. The cross of St. Andrew is shaped like a capital X because it was on a cross of this shape that he died at the will of a Roman governor in Achaia, Asia Minor, because he would not make sacrifices to the Roman gods as ordered. The cross of St. Andrew now forms part of the English Union Jack.

YOUNG FOLKS AT REVIVAL SERVICE

Greatest Day In Man's Life Comes With Surrender to God, Is Claim

It was "young people's night" at the special services at the First Methodist Episcopal church last night...

Rev. H. W. Kerr delivered a stirring address, taking as his text the words, "This Day," from the verse, "And in that day, will thou say I will praise Thee."

"Great and noted days," said Rev. Kerr, "stand out in the history of nations as well as in the lives of individuals."

"The second great day was when the Declaration of Independence was signed. On that day we became, as Lincoln later declared, a country of the people, for the people and by the people."

"Emancipation day was the third great day in our history. God had been getting Lincoln ready for this great task."

"The fourth great day has occurred in our time, the adoption of the eighteenth amendment. Its enforcement is a success and will continue to improve."

"The greatest day in the lives of individuals is that when salvation comes into your soul, when you have surrendered to God. That is the crowning event of all."

Jurist Sounds Patriotic Note At Birthday Party Of Congress Of Mothers

"The greatest, the noblest, the most spiritual government ever known to man is that government in which men and women are given the opportunity to work out their own salvation."

"The Golden Rule is the foundation of American institutions. Any man or woman who tries to talk class in the United States is not entitled to the title of American."

These were cited in "Some Things That Constitute True Patriotism," the scholarly address given last night by Judge Ira F. Thompson of Los Angeles...

The event celebrated the twenty-seventh anniversary of the founding of the National Congress of Mothers in the United States...

Mrs. H. V. Henry, program chairman of the Parent-Teacher Association federation, arranged the program and presided. Judge Thompson's address followed the flag salute and singing of "America," with Mrs. Mae Rosenberg at the piano.

Historical Sketch: Mrs. A. A. Barton, member of the Glendale city board of education, and past chairman of the Mutual Benefit Reading Circle, was another speaker...

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, who had the honor of being the first president of the Glendale Parent-Teacher Association federation, lighted a candle with a wish for legislation that would be uplifting, building and progressive...

Mrs. Charles H. Toll, a past president of the federation, was not able to be present, and a candle was lighted for her and for Mrs. Harry Greenwalt also. After the candles were lighted the cake was cut and served to those present.

CLOSES DEAL ON 2 ORANGE GROVES

Transaction at Riverside Is Concluded by L. A. Hart for Local Buyer

Having completed a deal for the purchase of two ten-acre orange groves in Riverside, for a local investor, L. A. Hart of the Hart Realty company returned home last night.

"This land," said Mr. Hart, "is very fine and lies within two miles of Riverside. It moved at a price of $2500 per acre. If we had that land in Glendale we would have a flourishing subdivision there next week with lots, not acres, selling at $2500. But land is coming back. The crop on these two ten-acre tracts is valued at $7500. The trees this year are very heavily loaded, though the fruit is small. The prospects for the grower look very good."

Caught in Wind Storm: Mr. Hart was caught in a "Santa Ana" in the Winville district between Ontario and Riverside last Monday. He states that it is a wonder that there is any paint left on his car. He was forced to leave Foothill boulevard and go farther up in the mountains, on Highland avenue, where the wind was very strong, but the sand not so thick.

Mr. Hart expects to visit the orange show in San Bernardino next week. Seven centuries before Christ the Hindus wore fabrics so fine that the materials were compared to gossamer web.

COMMENT That's All

Los Angeles Needs Industry Mr. Vanderlip Testifies Glendale Realty Board Alive Boulder Dam Is Needed

Los Angeles needs industry, says S. W. Straus on a visit to the southland. Yes, Mr. Straus, that is true. So does Glendale. So does Burbank.

But what about the financial situation in southern California, as well as the rest of America, Mr. Straus? We believe the bankers have not encouraged industry and farming, but have deliberately aided the wealthy speculators to make more money.

Of course, we may be mistaken in our views. Also, we are not speaking of local cases, but the policy in general of our financiers. In their wisdom we believe they should encourage industry, not wealth. Southern California needs industry—it has wealth.

Will not Mr. Straus urge his wealthy friends to invest in industry here? His friends' publicity is very effective. Another financier, talking in New York and Washington, gives this nation an idea of what some rich men know—or do not know.

Frank A. Vanderlip, appearing before the senatorial inquirers of the oil scandal, was forced to admit that he did NOT KNOW anything about the Marion, Ohio, Star deal.

Yet Mr. Vanderlip, speaking before a small New York Rotary club, dragged the late and lamented President Harding into the oil scandal—and people were prone to believe Mr. Vanderlip knew whereof he spoke. His only alibi was that "a poor job of reporting" had been done.

Of times "our prominent citizens" say things at club meetings which are hearsay, nothing more or less than idle rumor. Again, they accept programmed propaganda without the least question, unless there is someone on the job to stop it.

Much rather would we hear painful truths than gossip, but we are only one in our views. And the truth hurts. Mr. Vanderlip might well have chosen some of his former associates in the National City bank, who in 1918 had to walk out of the coal hole at night to escape detectives, to talk about instead of a dead president.

While others are talking, Glendale real estate board members are in the Imperial valley aiding a "back to the land" movement after the farmers have been foreclosed, in many instances, or have been unable to proceed for lack of funds.

The Glendale Evening News, although engaged in a strictly suburban field, has a special writer at this conference. The conductor of this column, also, has been doing missionary work for the valleys of California.

We thoroughly believe that the greatest need of this immediate section is industry, with a rich and well developed farming section to back it up.

The building of Boulder canyon dam immediately by the government is essential, but we have doubts as to where the congressional representatives will stand if "cheap power" is to be provided Los Angeles. It would be nice for the government to compete with private enterprise.

Mr. White, a candidate for the Imperial valley, and they are sound. Read the following International News Service dispatch from Washington, which says: "Expansion of Los Angeles is so rapid that in ten years it could use one-fourth of the 700,000 horsepower capable of development at the contemplated Boulder Dam, Colorado river, William Mulholland city engineer of Los Angeles today told the house irrigation and reclamation committee."

"The city now uses about 100,000 horsepower in industries and domestic consumption and fully 200,000 horsepower electric energy is used in the Los Angeles district," he said.

"Construction of the Boulder Dam would be a sound investment for the government both as to electric power and water storage. Mulholland told the committee. He said the growth of Los Angeles will necessitate a much larger water supply at an early date and also increase its needs for electricity."

We are glad to see the Glendale Realty board interested in such vital topics. Over forty head of privately owned saddle horses are now at this modernly equipped club and with the completion of the many new bridge paths that are being held out through the north hills and surrounding territory lovers of equestrian sport will find many unexplored beauty spots.

CEREMONY MARKS TOWN'S FOUNDING

Verdugo City's Sponsors Hold Inspiring Program at New Community

The green Verdugo hills offered inspiration today for the founding of Verdugo City, announced as in La Crescenta valley, Los Angeles county, California.

But the interesting part to Glendaleans is that Verdugo City is not far from Glendale. The Fastest Growing City in America, which is interested in every neighboring community.

Verdugo City came into being this afternoon at a big celebration taking place in a large tent erected at the southeast corner of Honolulu avenue and Los Angeles street, Verdugo City.

Music and Oratory: People from all parts of the southland responded to the invitations to the affair and many Glendale residents journeyed up to see the new municipality launched. There were music, speeches and flag-raising and Mount Verdugo was christened with due ceremony.

The celebration committee included H. N. Fowler, E. L. Wemple, M. D. St. C. De Jacques, G. C. Sears, A. T. Cobb, H. A. Baldrige, T. S. Brown, Emil Bush, T. Bonetto, C. J. Young, H. E. Bruce, C. H. Wooley, C. A. Karr, Fred Brombacher, Perry Whiting, Walter Jones, Charles H. Easton and A. W. Brown.

Of interest to people living in the vicinity of Verdugo City is the announcement that Los Angeles county began work today on widening Honolulu avenue twelve feet on each side, making a ninety-foot boulevard from La Canada to Sunland.

Furnishes Saddle Horses: The Oakmont Riding academy will continue as in the past, states J. R. Thorpe furnishing mounts for members of the Oakmont Country club, which opens shortly, and also hiring horses to the general public.

Mr. Thorpe adds, that, for the benefit of those who cannot find time for lessons during the day, a Wednesday and Friday night class is being formed, which enables one to learn to ride at a very reasonable cost. Mr. Thorpe is instructing the evening classes and with the assistance of another instructor during the day the academy is fast earning a reputation for turning out real riders.

Watson Is Subdivider Of Oakmont Heights: Oakmont Heights, the new subdivision lying east of Verdugo road between Glendale and Montrose, formal opening of which is being held today, is being put on the market by Glendale's well known subdividers, the T. W. Watson company, 708 East Broadway. Harold Blackmore, with offices at 301 Lawson building, has been appointed sales manager of the new tract.

Kiwanis Club See Method Used In Long Distance Reproduction

Glendale Kiwanians got just a little "peep" yesterday, at their Friday luncheon held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, on the inside workings of the news room of the metropolitan daily, when L. J. Leishman demonstrated the method and process of transmitting a photograph by wire.

Mr. Leishman explained his method in detail and recounted in an interesting manner the many difficulties that had to be overcome in perfecting his instruments.

In making the demonstration, Mr. Leishman used two instruments—a sending and a receiving device. Each is electrically operated and utilizes the principle of the telegraph key in opening and shutting off the current.

The picture to be telegraphed is first superimposed negatively upon a copper cylinder. It is then placed on the cylinder of the sending machine, which is very similar to the old-time talking machine, and a fine needle electrically controlled is placed on the top outer edge of the photograph.

Must Work Together
The sending machine is then ready to go. It must, however, not begin its work until it has been ascertained that the receiving machine is ready to go. Both machines must begin at the same time and synchronize to the fraction of a second.

As the needle of the sending machine comes in contact with the dots on the surface of the negative cylinder it is recorded as a positive by the needle of the receiving machine on a sheet of white paper, over which has been folded an ordinary sheet of carbon paper. One hundred and twelve revolutions of the cylinder are necessary to record each inch of the dots comprising the lines of the negative. The dots or lines of the negative are made through photographing the original picture through a screen of prescribed density.

A picture was in this manner transmitted by wire by Mr. Leishman during his demonstration. The finished product appeared to be an exact reproduction of the original and was really a splendid example of the new wonders daily accomplished by electricity.

Invited to Orange Show
Secretary Don Webb read a communication from the San Bernardino Kiwanis club, in which an invitation was extended Glendale Kiwanis to attend the Orange Show on Wednesday, February 20, which will be Kiwanis day at the show. Clubs from all over the state are expected to be in attendance and special arrangements for their entertainment have been made, it was declared.

President A. L. Baird called a meeting of the board of directors for Tuesday evening at his home, 1729 Grand View. When he stated that he had planned a dinner for the said board, the entire membership volunteered to be present. "A. L." replied that inasmuch as this was strictly business, he would have to decline the offer. Rev. "Cliff" Cole, of the program committee, introduced Kiwanian R. M. Brown as the five-minute speaker for the day. Mr. Brown made an interesting talk on his business and gave quite an insight into the feed and fuel business. Facts given relative to proper food for poultry were particularly informative.

"Heine" Kuhn, "Bud" Priest and "Bill" Page were the fortunate winners of the attendance prizes. An unusually large number were in attendance yesterday and Sergeant-at-arms Bill Hooper kept perfect order.

WILL HELP SAVE REDWOOD GROVES

Mrs. R. W. Meeker Appointed To Head Committee On Conservation

A recent appointment by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, president of Los Angeles district of Federation of Women's clubs, is that of Mrs. R. W. Meeker of 1320 East Colorado boulevard, to be district chairman of the committee on conservation of the redwoods. Mrs. Meeker, the new chairman, is a life member of the Tuesday Afternoon club, past state secretary of the Daughters of 1812, first vice-president of the Reciprocity club and member of the Friday Morning club of Los Angeles, and was a delegate to the state convention at Eureka last year from the Tuesday Afternoon club, and is exceptionally well-informed on the subject, in which she is greatly interested.

California Pioneers
The conservation of the redwoods appeals especially to the Meeker family, as Mr. Meeker is a native son, his mother, Jennie Clyman, daughter of Lancaster Clyman, pioneer and guide for Fremont, being the first white female child born in Sonoma county. Mr. and Mrs. Meeker are very proud of the fact that their children are of the third generation of native-born Californians.

Mr. Meeker's father, the late A. P. Meeker, well known in Glendale, came to California sixty-three years ago, and through his instrumentality the great grove, now known as the Bohemian, was saved to posterity. Before being adopted by the Bohemians, it was known as the Meeker grove.

The seven other members of the conservation committee are from different parts of the district.

FOURTEENTH NATIONAL ORANGE SHOW NOW OPEN

People From All Over Southland Will Pay Homage to King Orange

This picture, made especially for The Glendale Evening News, shows the exhibit of the San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Fourteenth National Orange Show which opened at San Bernardino last night.

California's greatest midwinter event, the Fourteenth National Orange Show, opened in a blaze of color last night with more than 10,000 persons in attendance. For the next ten days San Bernardino will be the mecca of residents and tourists in the southland who will pay homage to King Orange.

Probably never in the history of this great citrus classic has there been such effort on the part of exhibiting communities and organizations in presenting feature displays that are of such wonderful beauty. The most beautiful exposition ever given is the verdict. The exhibits carry out the Chinese decorations and a veritable fairland is the result.

The feature displays entered include those of the following: Orange county, Riverside, San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce, Colton, Redlands, Ontario, Pomona, Pacific Electric, Bloomington, Santa Monica, Fontana, Elephant Orchards, Fresno, Santa Fe, San Diego, Hemet-San Jacinto, San Bernardino city. The Mutual Orange distributors has a wonderful rack display of the finest citrus fruit ever produced.

The big features of the show include beside the fruit and feature displays, a great automobile show, the industrial department, Wortham's Carnival attractions, department of citrus education, citrus by-products section, Santa Monica band, Chinese orchestra, Mexican orchestra, negro entertainers and many other features.

Saturday is editorial day with Governor Richardson as the guest of honor. Special days have been set aside for many sections as well as Lions, Rotarians and Kiwanians. The show is open day and evening. All attendance records are expected to be shattered Sunday. Last year more than 50,000 persons visited the show on the first Sunday.

GIFT PRESENTED TO MRS. LANKFORD

Firemen Honor Wife of Chief At Benefit Dance With Handsome Present

Calling Chief and Mrs. A. H. Lankford to the stage, Captain R. E. Dodsworth of the Glendale fire department, during the course of the firemen's and policemen's ball last night, presented Mrs. Lankford with a beautiful leather shopping bag as a token of the esteem in which they are both held by the "boys" of the fire department. He explained that the bag was a gift to the department for their benefit dance from John T. O'Neil, 104 West California, proprietor of the Black Cat Shoe shop.

There was a capacity crowd present at the dance, and everybody seemed to enjoy themselves. Soft drinks, furnished free of charge by the Comalt people, were served during the evening. As a result of the dance, quite a large amount will be turned into the treasury of the relief association for the sick and disabled firemen and policemen.

CHEVROLET COSTS REVEAL ECONOMY

Present Prices Offer Double Purchasing Power of Pre-War Dollar

C. L. Smith, local Chevrolet distributor at Orange and Colorado streets, says that remarkable progress has been made with the automobile in the past ten years. In a list of statistics concerning the Chevrolet, Mr. Smith gives the following information:

"In these days of low purchasing power of the dollar as compared with pre-war values, it is interesting to note that the automobile industry in 1924 offers not merely a 1914 dollar's worth of automobile for each 1924 dollar, but in numerous cases does better. This is well illustrated in the case of one of the most popular cars, the Chevrolet.

"In 1914 the 'Baby Grand' four-cylinder Chevrolet touring, plus an electric starter, listed at $1,000 f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

"In 1924 the Superior Chevrolet four-cylinder touring with starter included as standard equipment lists at $495 f. o. b. Flint, Mich.

"Thus, assuming that the present Chevrolet were no better than the 1914 car, the reduction in price has more than doubled the purchasing power of the consumer's dollar."

EXTENSION OF TIME

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—An extension of time until June 15 for filing income tax returns of domestic corporation for the calendar year 1923, the fiscal year ending January 31 and the year ending February 29, was announced yesterday by the bureau of internal revenue.

DEBATE BY RADIO EVEN TO RESULTS

California and Oregon on Air—Hot Air, Perhaps, February 29

BERKELEY, Feb. 16.—Over one million people in all parts of the United States and Canada are to form an audience for two University of California intercollegiate debaters on Friday evening, February 29. The occasion is a radio debate on the Bok peace plan between the University of Oregon and the University of California. This contest, the first of its kind in the country, is expected to aid materially in crystallizing sentiment on one of the leading questions of the day.

Harold Cherniss and Raymond Sanders, the California debaters, supporting the affirmative of the proposition, are to broadcast their speeches and rebuttals from the sending station of the Oakland Tribune. The arguments for the negative, advanced by the Oregon speakers, are to be handled through the radio department of the Portland Oregonian.

Plans are now under way to have members of the Supreme Court of Utah to act as judges. It is proposed that the judges hear the debate at a receiving station erected for the event in the Mormon Tabernacle at Salt Lake City, where thousands of persons who do not have receiving apparatus may also listen to the discussion. Under the plan suggested, the decision of the judges is to be broadcast immediately after the close of the contest.

Senator Cameron of Arizona for Bonus

PHOENIX, Feb. 16.—Senator Ralph H. Cameron is pledged to vote for the bonus, according to information brought to this city by Evan S. Stallcup, Arizona representative, at a meeting of the national executive committee of the American Legion at Indianapolis.

According to Stallcup, Cameron was interviewed by Dr. Van Dyke and made the statement: "I was against you a year ago, but now I am for you all the way." The senator voted for adjusted compensation on its passage in August, 1922, but reversed his position and voted to sustain the president's veto the following month.

FAMOUS PAINTER ADDRESSES CLUB

John W. Cotton Lectures on Development of Art In United States

John W. Cotton, etcher and painter was the speaker last night at the Glendale Art association at their regular meeting in the public library. This was the last of a series of three lectures by Mr. Cotton, that have been enjoyed this season by the local club. He spoke on the development of American art from 1878 to the present day.

He told of the first national art exhibit held in America which took place in Philadelphia, in 1876, when all the pictures that were hung were from foreign schools, and mentioned that Paris had always been the greatest center of art in the entire world.

Among the many fine artists of American school of later years, he named George Inness, Alexander Wyatt, Winslow Homer, John Alexander, and Horatio Walker, the last named being one of his personal friends. He termed Ryder as the greatest of modern painters, and named Cecilia Bow as one of the greatest of portrait painters. Other women who are recognized artists are Elizabeth Morse and Jean McLean. Mr. Cotton also read an extract of interest from "The Art Tradition in America," by John C. Van Dyke, who states that America now has established tradition which makes the real background for art and our schools of art.

Shows Reproduction
The February issue of The International Studio magazine in which Mr. Cotton's latest etching, "The Sanctuary at Chimayo, New Mexico," has been reproduced, was on display and gave added pleasure to the number present.

Preceding the lecture, a short business meeting was held, with the president, Mrs. Roy Ballagh, in the chair. Announcement was made that during National Arts Week, March 24 to 31, pictures by local artists would be displayed in the windows of the business houses in the city. Among echoes from the birthday celebration and banquet held two weeks ago, was an article from a Laguna paper, read by Mrs. Ballagh, which stated that the Art Association of Glendale had set a standard that would be hard for other clubs to meet.

Following the lecture, a social hour was enjoyed and light refreshments were served, with Mrs. Warner presiding at the punch table.

EDMONDS PLANS SERMON SERIES

Ten Commandments to Form Topic of Address On Sunday Nights

The church stands as a great restraining force against the violation of the ten commandments, is the belief expressed by Rev. W. E. Edmonds, pastor of the Glendale Presbyterian church, who is to begin a Sunday night sermon series tomorrow on "The Ten Commandments." The first of the series will be given at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the beautiful auditorium of the new church building at the corner of East Harvard and South Louise streets.

In announcing these sermons Rev. Edmonds says "You cannot keep the ten commandments by the power of your own will. Don't try to fool yourself. It was never done by human power alone and never will be. The church stands as a great restraining force against the violation of the commandments."

"It was never intended that you should keep the commandments by the power of your own will. When God dictated them to Moses He knew that divine help would be needed to follow the law laid down. He expected man to lean upon Him for his assistance. Too many men and women declare they are sufficient unto themselves in keeping the injunctions of the decalogue. Let them search diligently their own hearts and harken unto the answer."

A complete check of the contents of the mail bag is being made by postal authorities.

RIVALRY READY FOR SPEED CLASSIC

Nearly Score of Fast Ones to Meet at Beverly Hills February 24

Seventeen of the world's greatest masters of the perilous calling of the speedway profession are listed for the opening championship speed classic of 1924—the 250-mile event scheduled for February 24 on the famous board speedway at Beverly Hills.

But a few days remain before A. M. Young, manager of the Los Angeles Speedway Association, the organization controlling the Beverly bowl, closes his books for entries.

Never before, veterans of the sport declare, has such an array of talent been announced by an American speedway. The cream of the racing profession is entered with the fastest cars in the world.

Speed Assured
There is a possibility, according to Manager Young, that two entries will come in and he declares he hopes they do. But they are not needed and possibly might be eliminated before the start of the race as the qualifying speed is going to be set at the highest mark in the history of the sport.

This assures a high average for the 250 miles as no slow cars will be able to get into the field.

This morning Cliff Durant, president of the speedway and one of the competitors in the Beverly classic of the 24th, declared that all of the fastest cars in America—with one exception—were entered and would face the starter the day of the opening championship classic.

As a consequence the race management is assured of the classic field ever gathered on the Boards of Beverly. Automatically it guarantees the greatest speed classic to mark the final contest on the famous course that is soon to pass into history to make way for the growth of Los Angeles, the greatest city in the west.

AUTO SALES SHOW GAIN OVER 1922

Record Figures at Close of Year Follow Biggest November Total

California automobile dealers wound up the Golden State's wonderful record business year of 1923 with a gain over the closing months of 1922.

It was a gain of only 1 per cent, to be sure, so far as passenger cars went, but it was a gain just the same and followed on the heels of a series of unparalleled business months and the biggest November in California's motor car marketing history.

December Shows Gain
Passenger car sales in December, according to Motor Registration News figures, were 15,607, as compared with 15,408 in the corresponding month of 1922, a gain of 1.3%.

As compared with November's phenomenal sales, however, as was to be expected the first month of winter showed a loss. The drop was 24 per cent. It represented the falling off of

1,114,977 IS NUMBER OF LICENSES

Gain in Passenger Autos Is Greatest; Motorcycles Show Decrease

The total number of motor vehicles registered in California in 1923 was given at 1,114,977 in a report made public today by Will H. Marsh, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles.

This total is exclusive of trailers, non-resident and dealers registrations and exemptions and is an approximate increase of 27 per cent over 1922, the number for that year being 878,108.

Registrations for the year were divided in Marsh's report as follows: Pleasure cars, 1,056,756; trucks (soldid tire) 43,527; motorcycle, 14,694.

Passenger Cars Gain
Passenger cars showed the greatest gain, there being 234,362 more registered in 1923 than during the previous year. Based on census figures of 1920, the report said there is one private pas-

Picture Shows Oldsmobile, Agency Head and Bit of Red Rock Canyon Scenery

C. H. Hunter, proprietor of the Oldsmobile agency in Glendale, left, and Carl Cramer, salesman for the company, with Mr. Hunter's Oldsmobile coupe at Red Rock canyon. The rocky hillside in the background gives just a suggestion, Mr. Hunter said, of the wild beauty of the canyon scenery. The Oldsmobile made the trip in great form. The car proved its merit from start to finish. Mr. Hunter recommends the journey for a real bit of scenic travel.

NATURE WINS PRAISE OF TRAVELER

Red Rock Canyon Presents Wonders; Many Features on Auto Journey

By C. A. GRIFFIN
Of The Evening News Staff.
Red Rock Canyon, a scenic district of indescribable beauty, was visited last Sunday by C. H. Hunter, proprietor of the Oldsmobile agency, 208 West Broadway, accompanied by Mrs. Hunter and by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cramer. Mr. Cramer is an Oldsmobile salesman.

The trip was made in a 1924 Oldsmobile six, coupe, the round trip distance being 274 miles and the average gasoline consumption, Mr. Hunter stated, 25.7 miles to the gallon.

The Los Angeles aqueduct and the Midland trail both traverse Red Rock canyon, which was reached by Mr. Hunter's party by way of a cut-off from the Midland trail starting at Palmdale and going by way of Lancaster to Mojave, all the way on pavement. Semi-desert scenery, long distances without sight of human habitation, a clean road without traffic, and a renewed acquaintance with nature in the rough, are features of this trip, which filled a day nicely.

On the way out Mr. Hunter said that during the last 100 miles of travel less than a dozen cars were met, a condition that shows how (Continued on Page 2)

Motorcycles and Autos Are In Races at Ascot

The five-mile national championship of the motorcycle sport has been awarded Ascot speedway by President Coffman of the M. A. T. A. and will be run next Sunday afternoon, in connection with a nine-event program of motorcycle and auto races.

There are but five national championships at different distances which are awarded to tracks and speedways in rotation, the coming race being the first to be run on the Pacific coast in over a year.

Ralph Hepburn, Jim Davis, Gene Walker, Ray Weishaar and "Curly" Fredericks are the riders who are most likely to capture the honor and rich purse on Sunday. All will use a new type motor. There will be seventeen starters in the championship race.

The followers of Fred Horey and Fred Lickelider are due for an agreeable surprise when the pair hook up with De Palma on Sunday. Both the Frontenac and the Deussenberg, which had trouble with new bearings heating up, are now running in perfect shape. Horey having turned on Wednesday a lap one-fifth of a second faster than De Palma's best time.

"De Palma is just having a little run of good luck," said Horey. "I am confident that I am his master at the dirt track game, though I am handicapped by having no dust to kick up in the other fellow's face. I like a dusty track, but they beat me a tough blow when the oil made Ascot dustless."

Thousands of Road Signs Are Mutilated

Enforcement of the law to the limit for malicious mutilation and destruction of highway signposts is the program outlined by police officers and the Automobile Club of Southern California, following a check of 115,000 signs the club has placed and maintained along the 29,349 miles of road in this section.

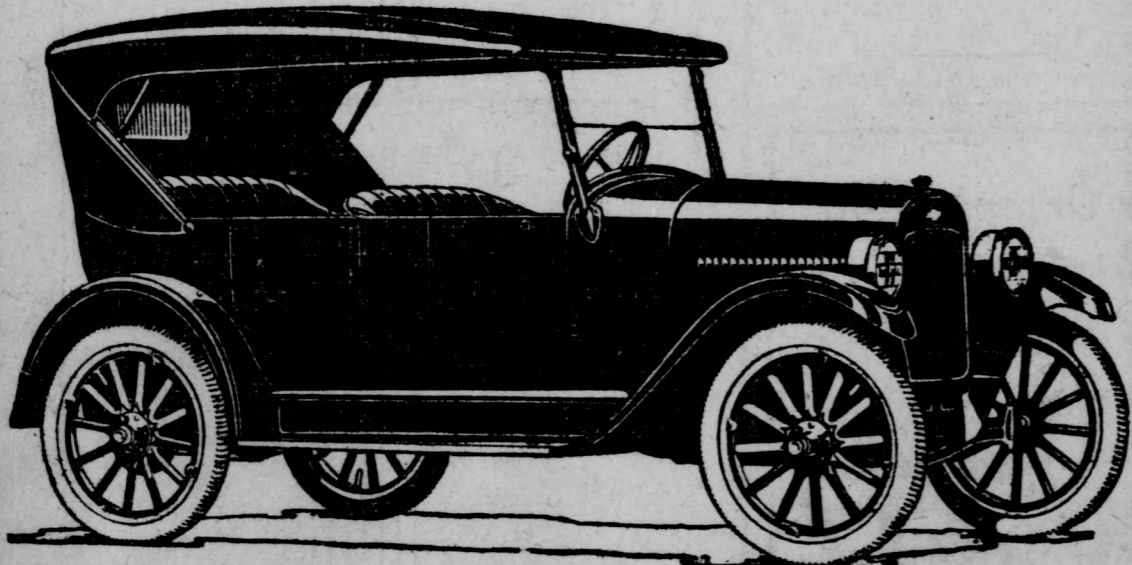

At the close of the hunting season it was revealed that 40,000 signs had been wantonly mutilated or destroyed. Much of this destructive work was done by hunters who, after utilizing the signs to reach their destination, destroyed the usefulness of the road markers for other travelers, leaving them to face loss of time, misdirection and possibly tragedy. Each of the signs defaced was put in place by the expenditure of money, time and effort and often at great personal inconvenience of the signposting department of the automobile club.

Steps are advocated to provide more drastic punishment for sign mutilation and destruction. A vigorous campaign has been initiated to bring to justice all guilty persons, and to see that adequate punishment is meted out. In this campaign it is hoped to enlist the aid of every one of the hundreds of thousands of motor vehicle owners in this section who have benefited by the signposts and who will co-operate with the automobile club in punishing all found guilty of this despicable practice.

CHRYSLER TO BE SHOWN MARCH 1

Glendale Motor Car Co. Will Represent Sensation of 1924 Season

The new Chrysler Six automobile, which has been the sensation of every show held this year, is to be on display in the showrooms of the Glendale Motor Car Co., 124 West Colorado street, about March 1, according to an announcement today by Lyman P. Clark, president of the firm.

The unusually interesting advertising campaign that has been carried on for the past two months, says Mr. Clark, "has already brought hundreds of enquiries for information regarding the Chrysler Six, and no new motor car has ever been brought out with as much interest and enthusiasm as has been shown for the Chrysler Six. One reason for this is that it is a 'different' automobile from anything that has ever been offered to the motor buying public.

The Chrysler is dynamically perfect and it rides so easily that one has the feeling that he is sitting in an overstuffed easy chair. It has a top speed of over seventy miles per hour, with a gasoline economy of more than eighteen miles per gallon. It has a getaway from a standing start to over fifty miles within two city blocks, and its hydraulic four-wheel brakes will bring it to a halt in 110 feet from a speed of fifty miles.

Price is Big Surprise "The beauty of its body design cannot be pictured, and as for the price—well, that hasn't yet been announced, but it is the biggest surprise of the year."

That Walter P. Chrysler and his engineers who designed the car have had one of them on the road for the past three years seems to satisfy the most sceptical, Mr. Clark maintains, and Mr. Clark's work while with the General Motors, the Willys-Overland Corporation, and now with the Maxwell, Chalmers and Chrysler corporations makes him easily the outstanding figure in the automobile world today.

"I am proud that the Glendale Motor Car Co. has been awarded the agency for the Chrysler," declares Mr. Clark.

SHOW BIG INCREASE The export of automobiles and parts from the United States in the fiscal year 1922-1923 exceeded those of the previous year by 467 per cent, thereby standing first among all manufactured products shipped from this country. The total value was $132,035,000.

substantial gains in passenger cars and trucks. An approximate loss, however, of 15 per cent in motorcycle registrations over 1922 was reported.

Los Angeles county led all others in registrations with a total of 430,335 motor vehicles for the year, a gain of 124,015 over 1922. Registration of passenger cars from the southern county amounted to 410,517. Alpine county was lowest with a total of thirty-four, a gain of four over 1922.

OLDSMOBILE TRIP PROVES PERFECT

C. H. Hunter and Party in Visit to District of Wondrous Beauty

A mile beyond Saugus the road forks. The right-hand track was taken, leading through beautiful Mint canyon with many picnic spots, chief among which is the Oak garage and grounds, about half way through the canyon. Fifty-four miles out from Glendale the summit of Mint canyon grade was reached. Mr. Hunter remarked that it takes a good car, when loaded, to pull the last half mile of this grade on high.

Past Acton, one mile to right, and Palmdale, the latter place famous for its Joshua trees or native palms, and on to Lancaster, the course led, with pavement straight on through to Mojave, 106 miles from Glendale. Four miles this side of Mojave the road passes near the mining camp of Goldtown, one of California's leading gold-mining centers. Mojave was reached at 11:30, and after a fine turkey dinner at the Harvey house the journey was resumed at 12:15.

In Mojave a large sign, in the shape of a salmon, indicates the road to Owens lake. It was this road, shown on the maps as the Millford trail, that the party took. For the first mile the going was very rough, but after that the surface smoothed out to a good dirt road. It is a salient fact that thirty-five miles an hour, straight across the Mojave desert twenty-eight miles without seeing another building or dwelling place, the course led to the entrance of Red Rock canyon.

Ideal For Resort At this place F. W. Smith, formerly a Los Angeles contractor, has homesteaded, his holdings taking in a large area and including part of the canyon. The scenic advantages of the place, together with its healthful atmosphere and good water, combine to make it an ideal location for a resort, he thinks, and he plans to improve it with that end in view.

The canyon itself is three or four miles long. Mr. Hunter described it as a miniature Grand canyon. The coloring of its rugged walls is the most remarkable feature, and the changing lights and shadows as each day advances seem to vary the color of the rocks. On one side the wall rises steeply to a height of six or seven hundred feet, while on the other the ascent is more rolling. Peculiar and fantastic rock formations, with odd shapes constantly challenging the imagination of a visitor, add interest to the view.

One of these natural statues stands out against the sky-line when viewed from Ricardo, near the other end of the canyon. It is known as "The Lady at the Organ," and seems to show the figure of a woman sitting on a bench before an organ.

Rudolph Hagen, who homesteaded that part of Red Rock canyon thirty years ago, is the moving spirit at Ricardo. He operates the Ricardo store, the only business enterprise at the place, and moves in a mysterious aura of gold-mining lore. That he has assisted in taking three million dollars worth of "dust" from the canyon is one story you hear, and another is that he is merely a harmless victim of his own golden dreams. But when one learns that a company is now planning to spend almost $100,000 putting in a hydraulic plant to wash down one section of Hagen's canyon holdings, to extract the placer gold, one can see the storekeeper proprietor with added respect.

Mr. Hunter and his party arrived at Ricardo at 1:45 and left at 2:15 on the return. They followed the same route they had traversed on the outgoing journey, and were home at 7 o'clock.

A Business Story

Rich in meaning to every motor car buyer

How Studebaker reached the heights

THE story of Studebaker has been told by many men in many ways. Now let us tell it to you. Studebaker growth has in late years been Motordom's sensation. Sales have mounted until last year 145,000 buyers of quality cars selected Studebakers. They paid over $200,000,000 for them.

All must realize that a new situation has arisen in high-grade cars. You who are interested should now analyze the reasons.

72-year traditions The Studebaker principles have become traditions in their 72 years of existence. They have never wavered. In all changing conditions they have brought new luster to that name.

Men come and go, but a name like this becomes a heritage to foster and enhance. That's what we've done — we who have that name in keeping for a time.

Studebaker has always been a leader. For two generations it led in horse-drawn vehicles, now products of the past. Most of you remember Studebaker carriages — queens of their time. They were used by multitudes of people who loved quality and style.

When motor cars succeeded them, Studebaker became the logical leader in that field. Any other place would have been an anomaly.

The only way to the top A concern of this age has one fact ingrafted in its fiber. The only way to leadership is through super-service.

The leader must excel in all you seek — in quality, in beauty and in value. There is no other way to the top. Every stretch of the road is strewn with wrecks of those who tried another.

What others say — not what you say — determines your place in the long run. In every field of endeavor one must accept that fact. We had the money, the plants, the prestige. We had the incentive of Studebaker traditions. In time we secured the men.

We told those men to build for us the utmost in fine motor cars, regardless of all costs. We pledged them our good faith and our resources.

The cost was $50,000,000 We built new factories — modern plants. We fitted them with new equipment — 12,500 up-to-date machines. Of the $50,000,000 in our plants and equipment, $32,000,000 has been invested in the past five years. So it represents the last word in efficient manufacture.

We established a Department of Methods and Standards, to fix for every Studebaker detail the maximum of quality.

We created a Bureau of Research and Experiment, employing 125 skilled men. They make 500,000 tests per year to maintain our supremacy.

They fixed countless standards, including 35 separate formulas for steels. Then on the most important steels we offered makers a bonus of 15% to conform to those standards exactly.

We invested $8,000,000 in a drop forge plant to make all our own drop forgings. $10,000,000 in body plants, to build all bodies to our standards.

We employed 1,200 skilled inspectors to see that all standards were fulfilled. There are 30,000 inspections on Studebaker cars during manufacture, before they go out from the factory.

That's the whole story We simply followed the never-changing Studebaker principles. We gave to our buyers the utmost — values they could not match. Then they turned by tens of thousands to Studebaker cars.

Over 750,000 of those cars have gone out. Their performance has developed a demand for 150,000 per year.

Every increase in sales brought a lowered cost, which we promptly gave our buyers. Today these fine cars are offering values which no rival can approach. They have made us the world's largest builders of quality cars.

We deserve a hearing Now we deserve a hearing. All who consider a car at $1,000 or over should learn what Studebaker offers. That in fairness to yourself and us. Check one by one the advantages we offer. You'll find them by the score.

Remember that 145,000 who did that last year chose a Studebaker car. There are nine chances in ten that you'll do it.

Consider our record, our accomplishments, our policies and principles. Consider that we have $90,000,000 at stake on satisfying men like you. Don't buy a car in this high-grade class without seeing what we give.

Find Out Why

People paid over $200,000,000 last year for Studebaker cars.

The result is now a demand for 150,000 per year.

Over $50,000,000 in modern plants and equipment to build the finest of fine cars.

One of these cars, built in 1918, has run 475,000 miles. That means 80 years of ordinary service. In December this car made the trip from coast to coast.

SEVENTEEN ENTER IN SPEED BATTLE

Noted Drivers to Appear in Beverly Contest on February 24

 teams of cars entered promise to be strong. The Millers, the Duesenbergs, the Durants entered by Cliff Durant and the Durants owned by Harry Hartz will all be out there for the coveted checkered flag.
 Of course right now the Miller Special quartet, composed of Jimmy Murphy, Bennett Hill, Tommy Milton and Ralph Hepburn looks to be about the most formidable. The announcement of Milton's joining the Miller squad came as a great surprise after the famous star had entered the race with young Hepburn, his protegee.
 It was known that Harry Miller was building a new car for Milton and working hard to get it ready for the coming race but it was generally believed that Milton was to drive independently and mount Hepburn on one of his extra cars, possibly the mount he drove last year. This was entirely changed when Miller announced the entries of Milton and Hepburn on Miller Specials along with those of Murphy and Hill.

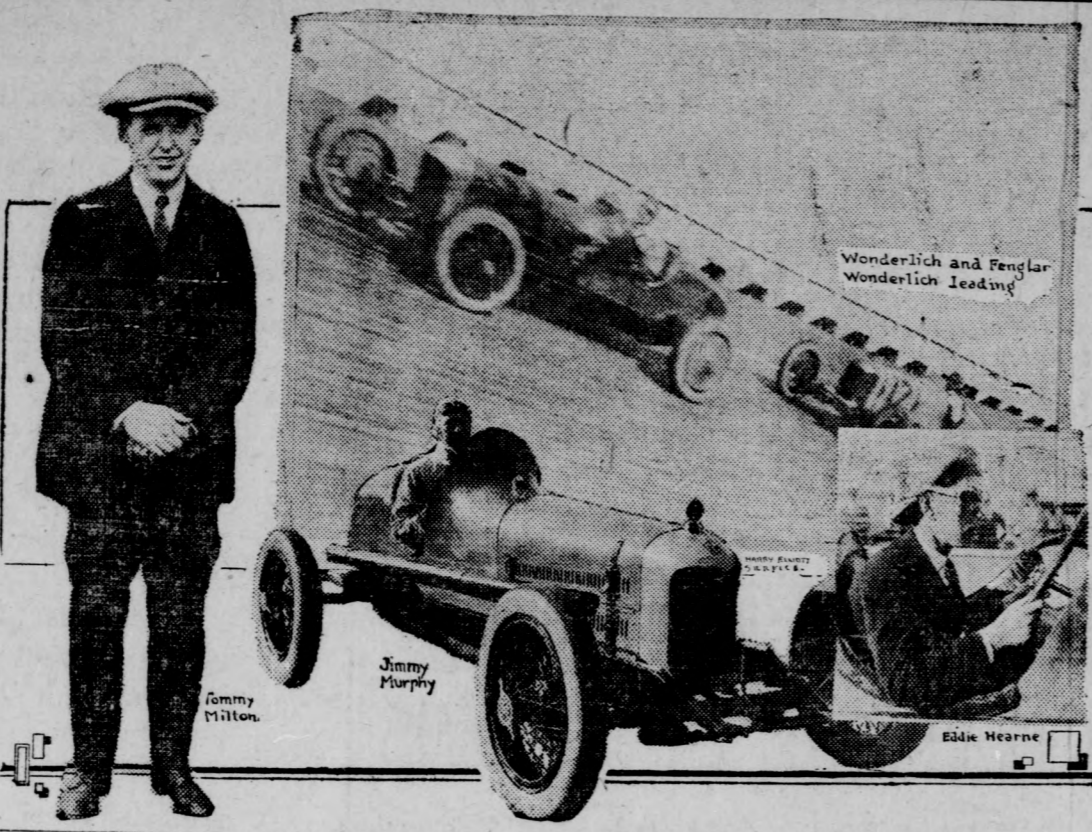

Bennett is driving the same Miller Special with which he won the 250 mile Thanksgiving Day speed classic but the other Miller racers are new jobs which will make their first competitive appearance in the February 24 race. Hill's car is practically new as it was never in competition except in the last race where it won over a fast field.

Young Harlan Fengler is driving the fifth Miller Special in the lists. However, this speed creation is not a member of the Miller team. Instead Fengler is on his own responsibility.
 The three-car Duesenberg aggregation is likely to make things interesting for the Miller stars throughout the 250 mile grind. The "Duesies" are much faster than they were Thanksgiving Day and with Joe Boyer, Phil Shafer and Ernie Ansterberg driving, even Milton and Murphy will know they have been in a race after they finish with the Duesenberg trio.

Although Cliff Durant has cut his speed team down to Eddie Hearne and himself there will be five Durant Specials in the meet. Harry Hartz has entered two of the fast Durants, while Jerry Wonderlich is driving the Durant he purchased from Cliff immediately after the 500 mile Indianapolis International Sweepstakes last May.

Ira Vail and Antoine Mourre are likely contenders although they have not been out for practice as yet and no line is had on their speed. Vail has been a contender in many of the greatest race meets ever staged in America and with a car as fast as any on the course he will undoubtedly make it interesting for the field.
 The French star, Mourre, is

PAY $200,000,000 FOR STUDEBAKERS

Motoring Public's Esteem Is Shown by Purchase of 145,000 Autos

Studebaker's standing in the esteem of the motoring public is shown by figures just made public by the Studebaker Corporation, showing that last year over 145,000 buyers selected Studebakers, paying over $200,000,000 for them. "One of the reasons for this remarkable showing," says Stephen C. Packer, of the Packer Auto Company, 245 South Brand boulevard, local dealer, "lies in the principles that have animated the house of Studebaker in the seventy-two years of its existence. The heritage attaching to the Studebaker reputation for honest work is something that leads every man in the organization to strive for the maintenance of the high standards set by the founder of the business, and it answers clearly the question as to why men likely to surprise the fans but he has a lot to learn about the board speedway sport. When Pietro Bordino was over here in 1922 he was a great sensation and one of the most spectacular drivers ever seen on the boards. But he didn't know the art of driving the boards and lost out on an account of countless tire changes that the American drivers avoided.

Big Turnover Shown In Used Car Market

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.— Nearly four of every ten automobiles in California change hands each year. This is indicated in estimates compiled by the Division of Motor Vehicles showing an approximate total of 425,000 transfers of cars in 1923 as compared to a total registration of 1,115,000.
 This record is due to the heavy turnover in the used-car market, in the opinion of Will H. Marsh, chief of the division, who points out that the increase in sales of new cars is bringing about a corresponding increase in the sale of second-hand cars.

EASY DRIVING IN N. Y.

New York City, considering the density of its motor vehicle registration, is said to be among the simplest cities to park, stop, turn or hurry in, due to the relatively few restrictions imposed upon the movement of cars.

today demand that their cars be up to the Studebaker ideals.

"Super-service is the motto of Studebaker. Unlimited resources, both of men, money and materials, permit the building of cars that are built up to the highest standards and that admit of absolutely no compromise with any desire to make more profits or increase sales at the sacrifice of those standards. And Studebaker offers cars at prices that range all the way from the $1,000 group up to the $3,000, suiting every taste and every purse and purpose."

BUICK PRESIDENT OUTLINES PLANS

100,000 Cars Sold Within Five Months Stirs Ambition of Manufacturer

Commenting on the fact that Buick sales records for the five months ending January 1, or since the introduction of the 1924 models, has reached a total of 100,000 cars, H. H. Basset, president of the Buick Motor Car company, declared that this marks only the beginning of the great things that are in store for his firm.

"The manufacture of the millionth motor, in 1923, was one of our greatest accomplishments, but that was only a milestone in our progress," Mr. Basset writes to W. A. Tanner, of Tanner & Hall, 237 South Brand boulevard, local distributors. Our goal is to reach to even greater heights than we have ever attained in the past, and we feel that we are justified in preparing for a greater output in 1924 than we have ever before attempted. The demand that is so insistent now is proof, if any were needed, that Buick's popularity with the motoring public is increasing daily, and the only thing that can militate against the continued success of Buick is a decline, in general conditions, something which I do not anticipate.

Tanner & Hall are featuring a new Buick six brougham sedan, which is one of the most striking cars ever shown in the local establishment, and one that has been attracting much attention from the lovers of fine cars.

SERVICE, KEYNOTE OF ORGANIZATION

Farmer Bros. Put Customer's Satisfaction First in Making Sale

The man behind the motor car sale is regarded as one of the most important factors in the establishment of Farmer Brothers, Chevrolet dealers, 1600 South San Fernando road, and the business of the firm is built on the one idea of service and satisfaction to the customer.

"Personality is one of the biggest assets a man can have in a business like this, where he has to sell a product in which there is such keen competition," says Bert Farmer, one of the partners in the firm. "We are building our entire organization around that one essential, and we plan to give every client who comes to us the best of service at every stage of the game. It's not enough for us to make one sale to a man and then forget him or have him go away feeling that we have lost interest in him as soon as we close the transaction. We realize that the friendship and confidence of our customers form the biggest asset we can have in our business, and we will make every effort to retain it by giving him service that cannot be improved on, with an organization that will be built up with that one end in view."

FORD ANNOUNCES NEW TRUCK BODY

All Steel Combination Will Be Mounted on Regular One-Ton Chassis

The Ford Motor company announces a new product, an all-steel combination truck body and cab mounted on the standard Ford one ton chassis, to be sold as a complete unit.

The new body is of the open type, so constructed that it may be readily converted into other body combinations by using stakes, side boards, canopy top, screen sides, etc.

"In fact," says the Ford statement, "the purpose in producing the new body was to place a low cost general utility truck, meeting both agricultural and commercial requirements, at the disposal of ton truck users."

The body is built of steel to withstand the most severe usage and presents a new development in construction. The steel sills are reinforced with wood in order to lessen vibration and road shocks, thus making for more durability and longer life.

The loading space is seven feet two inches in length by four feet in width and of convenient and practical depth. The endgate is strongly braced and secured by heavy chains which hold it in position when lowered.

The cab, also of steel construction, is extra roomy. The seat is of artificial leather, well cushioned on four-inch springs. Protection from the weather is afforded by close-fitting door curtains mounted on uprights and opening and closing with the door. An oblong window in the back of the cab gives ample facilities for rear vision, adding to the safety as well as the convenience of the driver.

The new truck, which is already on display in many Ford dealers' show rooms throughout the country, sells complete with steel cab and body for $490, f. o. b. Detroit, being priced in accordance with the standard Ford policy.

In addition to the saving offered truck users in this body is the convenience of now being able to buy the Ford ton truck complete and ready to put into service.

Public Invited To Attend Reception, Dance Tonight At New Nash Sales Home

It will be a big night tonight at the new Nash Sales Company home at 1234 South Brand boulevard. The public is invited to help celebrate the opening of this big establishment, which is one of the most modern and attractive automobile selling agencies in Glendale.

There will be dancing on a floor especially prepared for the purpose, with music by Kelly's Shrine band, and there will be refreshments and favors.

An interesting event at 10 o'clock will be the unveiling of the famous "699" Nash, which has been kept covered since it reached Glendale, and the sight of which is eagerly awaited by auto fans in this vicinity.

The Nash Sales company has the Nash agency for Glendale and the neighboring towns of Burbank, Eagle Rock, and others, and Nash drivers and their neighbors from these points are included in the general invitation to the public to attend the grand opening. The celebration will start at 8 o'clock tonight.

PRODUCTION MAN NAMED ON BOARD

James T. Wilson Elected as Director of Nash Co. at Annual Meet

James T. Wilson has been elected a member of the board of directors of The Nash Motors company. Announcement of this was made by C. W. Nash, president of Nash Motors, in a letter to A. Nyedger, president of Nash Sales Co., Inc., 112 South Maryland Ave., local dealers.

Mr. Wilson, known throughout the automobile industry as an outstanding production man, has been identified with C. W. Nash in the automobile and vehicle business for the past eighteen years; since the organization of Nash Motors in 1916 he has been an important factor in its growth. He was chosen a vice-president of the company three years ago, and under the direction of Mr. Nash has had charge of production both at the Nash Six and Nash Four plants for some time past.

In 1906 when Mr. Nash was in charge of the Durant-Dort Carriage company, then one of the largest vehicle factories in the world, "Jim" Wilson, just out of school, was employed by him. Every day of those eighteen years has been spent in close association with Mr. Nash.

When Mr. Nash in 1910 occupied the presidency of a large automobile company he sent for "Jim" Wilson to fill an important place in the production end of the business. Six years later, after resigning as president of a group of automobile manufacturing companies to establish The Nash Motors company, Mr. Nash took J. T. Wilson with him to Kenosha, where his ability has won for him a place on the board of directors.

REO CLAIMS LOW LABOR TURNOVER

During Period When Work Is Profitful Employees Stick to Jobs

What is believed to be the lowest labor turnover recorded by any automobile manufacturer in the United States for the year 1923 has been announced by officials of the Reo Motor Car Company, where the turnover averaged less than 3 7/10 per cent per month.

"While this is not the lowest figure ever written by the Reo in a report of its labor turnover, it is considered exceptionally good for a year in which work in the automobile industry was plentiful and in which there was a tendency among workmen from a majority of plants to change their employment frequently," says Manager R. C. Hennessy, local distributor, 124 and 126 South Orange street.

January might be expected to be a month in which a number of changes are made, but in January of this year the Reo turnover was only 1 6/10 per cent.

It is estimated that in a number of automobile manufacturing companies during 1923, labor turnover averaged 30 per cent per month. Reo, on the other hand, had one month, November, in which the turnover was only

BIG DEMAND FOR PACKARD SEDANS

1924 Models Are Delivered to Five Clients by Local Agency

Packard sedans of the 1924 crop are having a remarkable run at present, according to W. H. Daniel, 510 East Broadway, local distributor, who reports the sale of sedans to W. F. McPherson and W. P. McMullin, of the firm of Edwards & Widely, realtors; to R. E. Boyd, of the Glendale Lumber Company; a Straight Eight sedan to S. M. Jackson of the Lankershim Packing Co., who is now visiting Fred Tribolet of Glendale; and a seven-passenger Straight Eight sedan to E. H. Christianson, the well known Utah dairy cattle breeder, who makes his home at 2 3/10 per cent. Labor turnover, Mr. Hennessy declares, is a reflection of factory conditions, conditions which are also reflected in the finished product of the company. Happy and reasonably contented workmen, he contends, will do the best work, and the same workmen will stick to their jobs, even when work is plentiful and they can move about at will. For this reason, the Reo takes no small amount of pride in its low turnover.

Low Cost Per Mile

As everyone knows, allowance for depreciation in the case of Packard can fairly be placed very low and re-sale value exceptionally high.

It is apparent, therefore, that the prevailing conviction of Single-Six economy is inspired by the soundest and most logical reasoning.

As a matter of fact, it is safe to say there is no car on the market today that can deliver such a high quality of motoring at such a low cost per mile.

This statement is so important that any man contemplating the purchase of a car owes it to himself to give the Single-Six the most careful consideration.

And this remains true, even though the price he has considered as his limit is many hundreds of dollars below that of the Packard.

Pioneer Auto Repair Man

H. J. Eyrand, proprietor of Henry's Garage, with its two locations, 925 South Brand boulevard and 118 West Los Feliz road, is one of Glendale's pioneer automobile repair men. In 1919 Mr. Eyrand entered the employ of O. O. Spencer, who had the original Studebaker agency here in the old Monarch building on Brand boulevard south of the Telephone office.

Two-and-a-half years ago he went into business for himself at 925 South Brand, and his success has been exceptional. With a full and complete machine shop equipment capable of manufacturing almost any kind of machined part, and with equipment for acetylene welding and cutting, Mr. Eyrand has been able to furnish a service that filled a need here, and the work he was able to do has naturally been in large demand.

Six months ago he branched out by establishing another shop, on Los Feliz, and in this location has also met with success. A crew of ten men, besides the chief machinist and the proprietor, are now kept busy in the two establishments. Practically every kind of machine work is done, and general automobile repairs attended to. Any make of car can be handled and put in shape, and the establishment prides itself on its quick service and the guarantee back of its work.

Good Brakes Prevent Accidents

A business change of interest to the motoring public is the purchase by O. W. Terry of H. W. Kretschmer's ownership in the Glendale Brake and Auto Repair Shop, Colorado and Central. Mr. Terry has been connected with several garages in this vicinity for a number of years, and is well known as an expert repair man and brake specialist.

F. A. Platner, who has been a partner in the old firm, will retain his interest, and with Mr. Terry will continue to operate the business in the same efficient and conscientious manner as in the past. The firm will do all kinds of automobile repair work, and specialize in brake service. Their shop is equipped with the latest type of brake lining machine, and the partners will be ready in every way to stand behind any work done. Mr. Terry said that with the kind of brake service they offer automobile accidents such as the one that happened on Central avenue recently could have been avoided. Equalization of brakes is a matter of utmost importance, and the firm members point out the fact that with their brake service equalization is a sure thing. They extend a cordial invitation to all Glendale people to come in and get acquainted and let them tell you other interesting things about their service and equipment.

Daily News Letter

General News and Gossip from Staff Writers at Home and Abroad

By DAVID M. CHURCH For International News Service.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—England is forgetting the war. One indication of this is the success of "Havoc," the first war play successfully produced in London since the armistice.

For five years London managers have fought shy of war plays, confident that the theater-going public would not stand for having harrowing old memories recalled. Now "Havoc" has been produced—a play full of the most harrowing scenes of war times—and it is a success.

Ten London managers refused to produce "Havoc," written by Harry Wall, a Yorkshire lawyer, before it finally attracted the attention of the Repertory Players, and was produced for one performance, and made such an instantaneous hit that it was put on at the Theatre Royal Haymarket. There were some doubts and fears on the first night, for no one knew just how a war play—and a play that had many Grand Guignol moments—would be received, but the first-night audience sat breathless until the end. Men wept quietly and gray-haired mothers of war heroes sobbed, but at the final curtain they rose to their feet and cheered as seldom an English audience cheers.

There were a few dramatic scenes in the audience when "Havoc" was produced, as well as on the stage. On the occasion of the second performance when the first bit of war-time acting was given, as a young officer on leave made his entrance, an elderly woman in the front rows spoke out, "There's our boy," and a sob caught in her throat. She suddenly realized that she was only seeing a play and settled back in her seat, but those who were near her saw tears trickle down her cheeks.

London playgoers have gossiped about the central female role in "Havoc." The character is that of a butterfly woman who earns much fame and publicity by participating in war-time activities and charities, meanwhile breaking the hearts of men who are engaged in the war, leaving in her trail havoc. Is this character a stage picture of some well-known London woman? That is the question theatergoers and society is asking. The names of several women have been whispered about.

The success of "Havoc" has also brought success to a little known juvenile actor, Richard Bird. Bird plays the part of a youthful subaltern who suffers shell shock, and flees in horror from the front line trenches when he sees his comrades bayoneted. Old soldiers were gripped as Bird played his big scene describing an attack by the Germans with bayonets. Men in the audience demanded a curtain call by Bird from at the end of his scene. Leslie Faber, a well-known English actor, won considerable praise for his portrayal of a "hard-boiled" fighting officer, and Henry Kendall, who played the role of the hero, also covered himself with glory. Frances Carson, well known in America, had the principal female role.

Another evidence that England has forgotten the war is the fact that former enemy plays are now being once again well patronized at London theatres. Leo Fall came from Vienna and led the orchestra at several performances of "Madame Pompadour," and Franz Lehar is conducting for his piece, "The Three Graces," in which Johnny Dooley, the American comedian, will make his bow in London.

George M. Cohan's musical comedy, "Little Nellie Kelly," is closing after a nine months' run, leaving London almost devoid of American productions, whereas six months ago more than a third of the London theatres were playing American productions.

Maurice Moscovitch, who is an American citizen, but better known on the English stage than on the American, has brought an action to the publishers of "The Letters of an Unsuccessful Actor." In the book it is claimed that Moscovitch is a German, appearing under a Russian name. Moscovitch testified in court that his parents were born

HOLD 'SUICIDE COMPLEX' THEORY Inherited Tendency Is Blamed For Death

Margaret Harding

BOSTON, Feb. 16.—A suicide complex inherited from her mother is seen by friends of the family of W. P. C. Harding, governor of the Boston federal reserve bank, as the reason for the death by her own hand of the girlishly beautiful Margaret Harding.

They recall the death of Mrs. Harding in Birmingham, Ala., years ago. The mother, one of the most beautiful women of her day in the south, shot and killed herself in the Harding home. Almost simultaneously, in his home in another section of the city, Guy R. Johnson fatally shot himself, fulfilling what was declared to be a suicide pact with Mrs. Harding.

Mr. Harding, who formerly was head of the federal reserve system of the United States, says his daughter's act was due to "her love for social life, dancing every night and smoking cigars."

In a note addressed to her father, asking forgiveness, the girl said, "I couldn't stand life any longer."

Timely Views on World Topics

'IRELAND BEGINS YEAR WITH LONG SOUGHT NORMALITY,' SAYS PRESIDENT

"This month begins for Ireland a year of normality," said William Cosgrove, president of the Irish Free State in a recent statement. "I might say that normality has been our objective for centuries past. We were abnormal in that our country was ruled by foreigners. The foreigners went in 1922, leaving civil strife behind them. The civil strife ended in 1923 and left the country faced with a financial shortage as result. People said the English would never leave our country; they said the new state would go down under civil strife; and when they were proved wrong in these two predictions, they said Ireland would never be able to raise money to pay for the damage. Practically the last act of the Irish government in the year 1923 was to float a loan, and the Irish government, with its faith in the country undiminished, stipulated that it should be an internal loan. Many people were surprised at this and predicted the loan would never fill. The faith of the Irish government in its own people was justified. The people responded to the loan in a way that even our minister of finance had not anticipated. The loan filled, subscribed not by the few but by the whole people of the country.

"Now the new year begins finding Ireland at peace with all the world, and with peace at home; able to meet all financial responsibilities and settled down to progress and normality.

We do not let our optimism blind us. We begin now a year of hard work and of rigid economy. We have much leeway to make up. There is going to be no relaxing in our endeavors, no resting on our oars. We intend to make Ireland a country that our world-wide race may well be proud of. We hope that in a few years the stranger visiting Ireland will find it hard to believe that Ireland was once dominated by foreigners, that civil strife ever had place here, that Ireland was ever other than prosperous.

POEMS That LIVE

WHEN I HAVE FEARS THAT I MAY CEASE TO BE When I have fears that I may cease to be Before my pen has glean'd my teeming brain, Before high-piled books, in charact'ry, Hold like full garners the full-ripen'd grain; When I behold, upon the night's starr'd face, Huge cloudy symbols of a high romance, And feel that I may never live to trace Their shadows, with the magic hand of chance; And when I feel, fair creature of an hour, That I shall never look upon thee more, Never have relish in the faery power Of unreflecting love; then on the shore Of the wide world I stand alone, and think, Till Love and Fame to nothingness do sink. —John Keats.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE TIN PAIL

Uncle Wiggily, one day, was hopping past the house where Aunt Lettie, the goat lady, lived with Uncle Butler. The rabbit gentleman was thinking it might be rather jolly, and in good form, to stop and see Uncle Butler, when the door of the goat house opened.

"Well, she didn't tell me not to and I'm going to!" howled the Bear. With that he snatched the cover off the pail and out puffed a cloud of hot steam that burned his nose and his ears and his eyes. "Ouch! Woyh! Ouch!" howled the Bear. "Oh, my poor nose!" Then he ran away to find a cool bank of snow into which to thrust his hot nose.

He snatched the cover off the pail.

"Who-o-o" called Aunt Lettie to the rabbit gentleman.

The rabbit gentleman whooped back to Aunt Lettie, as was right and proper, and not at all informal under the circumstances.

"Are you going home, Uncle Wiggily?" bleated the goat lady.

"Well, yes, I am," answered Mr. Longears. "I was coming to see Uncle Butler, if he isn't busy, but after that, I was going on to my own hollow stump bungalow."

"Uncle Butler isn't in," said Aunt Lettie. "And I was just going over to see Nurse Jane. But if you are going home, Uncle Wiggily, you can take to Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy what I was going to carry."

"What is it?" asked the bunny. "This tin pail," went on Aunt Lettie, handing one out to the rabbit.

Uncle Wiggily thought, as long as Uncle Butler wasn't at home, that he wouldn't go in. For Aunt Lettie, while a dear, sweet, kind and good goat lady, was very nervous. She was always dropping things and Uncle Wiggily would have to pick them up.

"So it's just as well for me not to go in," he thought.

"Will you take this tin pail to Nurse Jane?" bleated Aunt Lettie, and she almost dropped it, she was so nervous.

"Of course I'll take it," said the bunny.

"And whatever you do, don't raise the cover until you get home, but if something may happen," went on Aunt Lettie. "Now don't forget and don't raise the cover."

"No, I won't," promised the bunny.

He wouldn't have been so impolite as to ask what was in the pail, but Aunt Lettie must have guessed that he wanted to know for she said:

"I'll tell you what's in it—a surprise!" and she clapped her horns against the side of the door and laughed a bleating laugh. She then dropped three hair pins and Uncle Wiggily had to stoop and pick them up.

"Oh, there's a surprise in this pail, is there?" he asked.

"Yes," went on Aunt Lettie, "a fine surprise!"

"Well, I know about as much as I did before," thought the bunny rabbit, hopping along so he wouldn't need to pick up any more hairpins.

But as for opening the cover of the pail the goat lady had given him, Uncle Wiggily would no more have done that than he would have asked how old Mrs. Twistytail, the pig lady, was. Uncle Wiggily was very polite.

Along and along nopped the bunny gentleman, carrying the covered pail. He couldn't help wondering what was in it, for it felt rather heavy. But he didn't lift the lid.

As Uncle Wiggily hopped along he heard footsteps behind him. At first the rabbit gentleman did not turn around to see who it was.

"Very likely it's one of the animal children coming from school," he thought.

But the footsteps came on faster and faster. They seemed to be running.

"Perhaps that is Billie Wagtail, the goat," chuckled Uncle Wiggily. "He wants a race with me. Well, I'll go faster!"

So, without turning around, the bunny hopped faster. But the footsteps behind him came on faster, also, and at last a savage voice cried:

the cover off until I got home. She knew I might be burned. But the Bear got burned instead. Ha! Ha!

Then the bunny put the cover back on the pail and took the apple dumplings home for himself and Nurse Jane. And the Bear didn't have any.

So if the postage stamp doesn't sell and Nurse Jane. And the Bear didn't have any.

Try to jump off the letter and hide under the phonograph, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the brown jug.

Some jokes are immortal. A few years ago some one wrote in French-Canadian dialect the story of the talking dog. It concerned a son who, wishing to visit the city, told his father that a man down there was teaching dogs to talk. Why not have their dog taught this accomplishment?

The father grew enthusiastic and supplied the funds. The son returned without the dog.

"Father," he said, "it was true. Our dog learned to talk beautifully. But what do you suppose was the first thing he said? He started to tell every one that he'd seen you kissing our hired girl behind the door! I couldn't stand for that and I got so mad that I killed him."

"My son, you did right!" said the father.

Will Irwin said recently that this joke has been traced back through medieval French, late Latin, classical Greek, clear to the Sanskrit.

Local Artists Win Applause for Program Given at Santa Barbara

Radio fans listening in Wednesday night on the program broadcast from KFJH at Santa Barbara heard the name and fame of Glendale, "The Fastest Growing City in America," for a group of Glendadians were on the air.

Harry A. James, monologist and phonograph record maker, gave a group of original monologues, stories and dialogues. During the program Mr. James had the opportunity to tell his invisible audience a few facts concerning Glendale.

A radio fan called up the broadcasting station to ask the operator if Glendale "was a part of Los Angeles," to which Mr. James replied that "Glendale was not a part of Los Angeles and never would be if the citizens were privileged by the Creator to remain in possession of their right minds during the many prosperous years in sight."

Miss Flora Phyllis Kilpatrick, talented Glendale soprano, also took part in the program, singing three groups of songs. The telephone calls and letters received Thursday, previous to her departure from Santa Barbara, left no doubt as to the success of her part of the Glendale entertainment. She is planning on giving several concerts in Santa Barbara in the near future.

Mrs. Harry A. James was also one of the entertainers over KFJH, giving stories during the children's hour. Mrs. James is a favorite entertainer with the children fans over KFJH and the Santa Barbara kiddies were delighted to make her acquaintance. For many years she has told stories to the children at the Glendale public library during Christmas programs.

The length of death could not be determined as the body has been frozen and was well preserved. Because of the missing shoe, police are working on the theory that some one evidently knew the man had hidden money in one of them and that robbery was the motive.

FAVOR JOINT COMMITTEE ON FARMS

Listing of Lands Is Urged at Fresno Conference of Realty Men

Declaring themselves in favor of listing farm lands for sale in California by a joint committee chosen from the California Approved Land Settlement Association and the California Real Estate Association, 200 men interested in the development of the state took a stride forward in their work at the second farm lands conference held at the Californian hotel in Fresno. The conference, held under auspices of the State Realty Association, represented forty-five cities, and seventeen counties of California.

Another resolution adopted urges Congress to enact legislation to discourage tax-exempt securities while income-tax reduction is also declared to be necessary. Completion of the survey of the water resources of the state is urged in a resolution that calls upon the California State Irrigation Association to obtain $100,000 needed for the work. Allocation of $117,000 in the treasury of the State Real Estate Commission to other sources was commended in a resolution adopted urging its retention for development and educational work.

Publicity Bureau
 To carry out the work of spreading knowledge of the opportunities of California for settlement the farm men proposed that a publicity bureau be established to assist in furnishing accurate information.

J. C. Forkner of Fresno, in an address, declared the automobile had developed what he termed the "rubber tired farmer," who chose his residence near the city. President D. Richard Ainsley of the Fresno Real Estate Board invited the California Real Estate Association to hold its 1925 convention in Fresno.

Prosperity Ahead, Declares Realty Investment Expert

By S. W. STRAUS
 Internationally Recognized Expert on Realty Investments
 Regarding domestic matters and business conditions in this country, I am no less optimistic than I have always been.

Recently I was honored by an invitation to call upon President Coolidge and to discuss with him matters of general business policy and interest. It is my firm belief, as I told the President, that prosperity in this country is likely to continue, due in large measure to the activities of the building industry.

These activities have behind them the impetus of a national building shortage of about $8,000,000,000, which means that the nation is fully 18 months behind with its building program. With this great amount of construction and the countless ramifications of the industry, it does not require an undue amount of optimistic enthusiasm to picture a very prosperous America for some time to come.

Advertising Realty Men Reap Rapid Profits From Glendale Property Sales

By GIL A. COWAN
 Of The Evening News Staff.
 Briefly, this is a brief for advertising. It is of vital import to every real estate man. Particularly should this be read by dealers and owners.

There is a report made daily of Glendale real estate transactions. A friend of mine scans these reports. He knows whereof he speaks. And he says:

"Invariably the firms who do the most advertising have the largest sales record. Practically every piece of property, with the exception of large tracts, which is sold, has been advertised."

Sales Quadruple
 "Of course, there are exceptions to this rule, but a close study of the daily reports will convince the most skeptical that it is advertising which brings the business. I know it, because our sales have quadrupled since starting a campaign of active advertising."

Needless to say The Glendale Evening News is the classified and real estate advertising medium for Glendale real estate men. That is beside the question. What we want to impress upon you is that it takes advertising, of one sort or another, to produce results.

Ads Create Demand
 Wrigley, Ford, Edison, Proctor and the rest have built their business through advertising. So have many firms. Practically every product you buy is advertised. And the same is true of real estate. Advertising creates a demand. It is just as good publicity as news stories, if properly written. To paraphrase a Biblical text:

"By their ads ye shall know them."
 Are you shown, are your listings known, are you doing the business you should?

If so, you are advertising.

USE MANY PHONES
 There are more than 13,300,000 telephones in use in the United States, about 64 per cent of the world's total.

SPECIALISTS ASK CHANGE IN BASIC DATES

Seven Divisions of National Association to Carry Out Big Program
 Would Fix Appraisal Period for Taxation Purposes at March 1, 1920

Plans for the attraction of new industries into cities, plans aimed at insuring intrinsic value to the homebuyer, plans to further the fullest and safest utilization of investment funds for the housing of the nation, these are some of the details of the program to be undertaken for the year 1924 by the seven specialized national divisions within the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

While the National association acts as a general clearing house for real estate activities for the United States and Canada the divisions have undertaken to draw together for national interchange of ideas men in the seven specialized fields of farm land dealing, industrial property development, home building and subdividing, property management, brokerage, mortgage investment, and the organization of real estate boards.

Industrial Division
 A study of comparative values of industrial real estate, covering the entire country, is under preparation in the industrial division of the association. The division plans also to be of practical assistance to communities in the laying out of specialized industrial districts, the arrangement of railroad trackage to best serve the districts, and the proper zoning of their industries.

Methods of attracting new industries to a city will be studied by a special committee. Other committees will develop inter-city exchange of business in industrial properties and the accurate and complete evaluation of this type of property.

Influence of the growing organization of farm land dealers within the National association will be thrown to the support of the movement to make the country not only a more profitable but a more attractive place to live, the first annual report of the Farm Land division indicates. Work of the division to establish the facts in regard to national farm land values is already exerting an influence on the farm lands market, the report states.

Home Builders, Subdividers
 The Home Builders and Subdividers' Division of the National association in its one year of operation has gone a long way toward raising the standard of the subdivision business, its annual report brings out. Ways and means of financing the development of new city units, proper planning of new city areas, and substantial provision for their healthy growth will be the subject of the division's work for 1924.

Change of basic date for appraising real estate values for taxation purposes is urged as the most important change that can be effected in the administrative features of the revenue act in a brief just presented to the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Going back eleven years to establish valuation, as the present provision of the law requires, breeds uncertainty, dishonesty and inequality, and retards the free trading in real estate that builds cities, the association charges.

C. C. Heatt, of Louisville, chairman of the association's committee on taxation, presented the brief. The association asks that the date at which the fair market value of property owned for a considerable period shall be fixed for tax purposes, be changed from March 1, 1913 to March 1, 1920, or preferably, that it be fixed at a time four years antedating the sale.

Cannot Fix Values
 "It is a practical impossibility to arrive now at anything like exactness in values as of a time eleven years ago," the brief charges. "The present provision of the law promotes dishonesty and inequality. Its effect is to retard the sale of real estate, resulting in the cramming of the normal and orderly development of our cities, and making real estate a frozen commodity instead of a liquid one when liquidity is so desirable."

"Most men are afraid of uncertainty, and the uncertainty as to the tax to be paid under the present law has prevented making many sales in every city in the country. The law has resulted in the making of many leases on down-town property running from fifty to ninety years, thus tying up property and preventing that free alienation of real estate which our public policy has always demanded."

Moving up the date so it would be necessary to go back only four years in fixing values would result in increased rather than decreased revenue, the association holds. While each transaction would yield less tax the big increase in the number of sales would produce considerably more in aggregate. Values four years old could be fixed with reasonable certainty. The provision would make every man come clean.

United States Government's Survey Boost To California

The United States government has just issued a special survey of forty-four states, showing present employment conditions of the country and the general industrial and agricultural employment prospects for 1924—by James J. Davis, secretary of labor. The following is the report relating to California:

Industrial employment prospects for the coming year are very favorable. There has been no perceptible let-up in industry throughout the State other than the usual winter slump. Building construction has continued on a tremendous scale, and it is generally asserted that over $15,000,000 will be spent in 1924 on new highway construction, which is slightly in excess of expenditures during 1923. Generally speaking, the winter just closed has been one of prosperity for the California farmers, and it is expected that this prosperity will extend into the coming year. Concerning mining interests, extensive preparations already are being made for a large production in 1924. Judging by present indications, there will be in 1924 the same active demand for labor as there has been in 1923, with an increased call for unskilled help.

Value of Securities Shrinks, Realty Grows

Experience of the estate of the late Henry C. Frick, steel magnate, presents a strong contrast as between the history of the investments in stocks and the history of the real estate holdings, the National Association of Real Estate Boards points out from a study of the sworn report filed by the executors in the Orphans' Court in Pittsburgh.

While the total value of the estate between the time of Mr. Frick's death and the time of distribution has shrunk from $100,000,000 to less than $50,000,000, a loss of over $20,000,000, the real estate holdings were sold in excess of the price at which they were inventoried at the earlier date. The Frick building, inventoried at $3,500,000, was sold for $5,000,000.

While late increases in value of some of the stocks making up a large part of the estate helped to make up some of the large loss caused by the shrinkage in value of the securities and stocks, the real estate holdings met with no shrinkage and helped swell the value of the estate.

Glendale stands directly in the path of the major highway development of Southern California, the great San Bernardino-Santa Monica boulevard "from the mountains to the sea," sponsored generally by the Foothill Boulevard association and locally by the Colorado Boulevard Improvement Association, of which J. ## Formal Opening Planned For Oakmont Heights By Subdividers Of New Tract

The hundreds of residents of Glendale and the adjacent territory who have been awaiting the formal opening of Oakmont Heights, that wonderful home tract located on the east side of Verdugo road between Glendale and Montrose, are overjoyed to know that they are at last to be given the opportunity of selecting their homesites in that high class residential district.

The formal opening of this tract will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at which time every resident of this valley is invited to be present and see the unusual homesites that are now available in that charming subdivision.

Full well do the residents of Glendale and surrounding districts realize the real worth of the homesites in Oakmont Heights. These far-sighted homelovers have long admired the general appearance of the contour of this tract, many of them have stood on the wonderful hillside and looked out over Glendale, the Verdugo Woodlands, the Montrose district, and the other localities that are plainly visible from practically every homesite on the tract. Naturally, after noting all these beauty features, they decided that when the tract was formally opened they would own one of those unexcelled home locations.

Attractive Prices
 Of the many features of Oakmont Heights possibly the most important and startling is the price at which the lots are being offered. Imagine hillside homesites such as these for from $1500 up. Ordinarily hillside lots of this character start at $3,000 and range upward. There are dozens of tracts not nearly so well located as this and farther away from things generally where prices are far in excess of these. To note the wonderful values that are being offered in this tract it is only necessary to do a little comparing, taking into consideration all of the advantages that are being offered in the various home subdivisions.

Everything in the way of improvements is included in the prices asked. These include water, gas, electricity, telephones, curbs and hard-surfaced streets. The owners of the property are eliminating sidewalks because they are desirous of making this tract exclusive and different. They have also placed restrictions on this property that will have the effect of keeping Oakmont Heights above the ordinary.

The easiest kind of terms are being offered in connection with the sites in this tract. A payment of only one-fourth down is required on the various homesites, the remainder being payable in three years in easy monthly payments. Interest on deferred payments is at the rate of 7 per cent.

Oakmont Heights is located close to things that are necessary and worth while. It is located within five minutes of Glendale avenue and Broadway by automobile. The tract is located two blocks from the new Glendale-Los Angeles electric line, while a modern motor bus service is available at the edge of the tract. By automobile it is but five minutes to churches, theatres, stores, library, and other places of interest.

All Glendale and surrounding territory is invited to this grand opening.

REALTORS OF STATE HEAR MESSAGE

Barbour and Herren Address 49 Boards in Tour of Flying Squadron

The flying squadron of state and national real estate association officers composed of President Henry P. Barbour, National Field Secretary William E. Herren and State Secretary Glenn D. Willaman closed its two weeks' tour of central and northern California realty boards with a fine banquet at Santa Cruz.

Throughout the trip banner meetings were held by the local boards and the message of the realtor was carried by the officials to brokers and salesmen, civic officials, and other allied lines of public endeavor.

Barbour Warmly Welcomed

State President Barbour was warmly received on every hand and his address on "Take the Realtor in Earnest" was declared by hearers and press alike to have been full of meaning and inspiration. He stressed first of all "Observe and Obey the Law," and declared that the State Association was co-operating with and receiving the hearty co-operation of the State Real Estate Department. High points in the presidential tour of the state included banquets of several hundred each in Fresno, Lodi, Berkeley and Oakland and at the Santa Cruz dinner, which was his forty-ninth meeting since he took office last October, it was announced by the assistant state secretary that the flying squadron had carried the message of the real estate association to approximately 6000 brokers and business men, an average of more than 125 attendance at each meeting. President Barbour urged "Back to the Farm" and predicted California would have thirty million population when its farm lands were utilized.

National Secretary Herren Stressed the National Work in Tax Reduction, Prohibition of Tax-Exempt Securities, Board Appraisals, the Duty of the Realty Man Knowing His Own Community Values and Pointed out the Research Work of the National Board as Proving of the Highest Value to All Lines of Business as Surveys of Real Estate and Farm Land Conditions were Invaluable to Merchant, Manufacturer and Financial Men. Herren Commends California for Leading the Nation in Model Realty Legislation.

Good Work for Realtor
The state president declared that the state association had taken hold of real estate education for all the brokers and salesmen, and urged using the realty department license fund surplus

Lists Glendale As White Spot In Realty Business

That Glendale is being closely watched by realty men all over the country is proven by an account of a meeting in Chicago, at which C. H. Gatchell of Los Angeles, prominent insurance official, was present, and at which a speaker of national reputation declared that there are at present four white spots in America, so far as real estate investments are concerned.

These spots, the speaker declared, are Kansas City, Mo., Miami, Fla., Los Angeles and its immediate territory, Long Beach, Glendale and Alhambra; and Seattle, Wash., in the order named.

Mr. Gatchell reported the statements of this authority to James W. Pearson, 715 South Brand boulevard, local realtor, adding that Glendale is frequently mentioned by men all over the country who are accurately posted on industrial conditions, and who realize that Glendale is one of the cities in the United States that offers a solid investment location.

Newcomers Urged to Pay Income Tax Here

Many inquiries have been made of Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, by persons who have recently made Southern California their place of residence and whose income is from property located outside of California, in many cases in their old home town, as to where they should file their income returns.

Collector Goodcell said that all persons who have recently arrived in Southern California, and who intend to make their home here, should file their returns in this district, no matter where their income originates from, whether from property or business owned outside of California or in the state.

By filing here, recent arrivals will be in position to adjust their income tax differences here, which would not be the case if they filed in their former place of residence.

"Cut loose from the old home town and do business here. This is your home now," Collector Goodcell advised.

Collector Goodcell said that, in order to complete the filing of the 230,000 returns in Southern California, 240,000 returns would have to be filed between now and March 15.

of $117,000 for stricter enforcement of the license law, and real estate education and state-wide advertising of real estate advantages here to prospective settlers in other states.

President Barbour's tour has been a triumph for the cause of real estate organization. At San Jose a luncheon in his honor was also attended by three past state presidents of that city—Fisher, Atkinson and Frazier Reed. Since taking office Barbour has traveled nearly five thousand miles on behalf of his state association, carrying out the pledge he made two years ago on a sick bed to devote his best remaining days to the cause of the realtor and the state association.

Realtors Ask Change for Appraisal Period

at its executive session in Augusta, Georgia, January 17, 18 and 19.

Favors Other Changes

In further ironing out of impracticable and vexatious items in the revenue act the association asks:

First—That residential property be given exactly the same status as business or investment property, both in the matter of exchanges and in reckoning capital gains under the act.

Interpretation of the existing law by the Treasury Department denies to one citizen the same privilege to exchange the residence in which he houses his family that it grants to another citizen with respect to the building in which he houses his business, the brief points out. The effect is to discourage home ownership.

Second—That the owner of real estate which is taken by condemnation proceedings be permitted to reinvest the proceeds in other real estate of any kind without becoming liable for any tax.

Under the present ruling of the Treasury Department in order to get advantage of the provision of the law the owner who has an office building taken under condemnation must reinvest in another office building. If he invests in an apartment building he incurs the tax.

Third—That in specifying types of earned income to eliminate any uncertainty the word "commissions" be added to the words "wages, salaries and professional fees."

Have You Seen S. P. Depot, Or Broadway High School Or New Sanitarium Plant?

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

Good evening, folks! What do you know about Glendale? Rather, what's going on around the town, may we ask. Ah, you read about the daily doings in The Glendale Evening News, of course. And you seldom stir yourselves out of the house for an inspection trip around "our fastest growing city."

Why, if you had nothing else to do but see Glendale, it would take months to enjoy all of the intricacies—or whatever the cook calls the fumadiddles that makes things look nice. Take, for instance, the public buildings. Take 'em in, some day, while browsing around.

Do you know where the council meets? Or the detective bureau hangs its hat? Or where the school children eat? Or where to take a train in Glendale? By golly, there's a lot of people who move into Glendale and know only one or two beaten paths.

City Builds Reservoir
Yes, some of us have seen some subdivisions and own a little property other than where we live, but only yesterday we discovered the city was installing a huge reservoir at Tenth street and Western avenue. It is to supply that rapidly growing section with water. Really, we didn't know about it, although we read The Glendale Evening News quite regularly. Undoubtedly it has been reported.

That gave us an idea to get out and see what is going on. Admittedly, we got an eyeful or this wouldn't have been written. First, we hied down to the new Southern Pacific station. It is going to be quite some dedication of one of the most unique stations in California in another month, we predict.

You know it is a fact a person could wait for a train an hour at the new station at the foot of Cerritos street, along railway street, both of which are being improved by the city, and in those sixty minutes one would not see half of the architectural delights the Espee engineering department has put into the one building.

Architectural Novelty
The new station is a little bit of everything, we should judge. There is a Moorish castle effect, some Roman colonnades, a rustic portico, Spanish trimmings, a Venetian balcony, French doors, Grecian friezes, American jazz ornamentation and what not. For one building, we'll say it will be a sight for the traveler never to be forgotten.

Perhaps it was built to satisfy the various cities which will use it as a station for boarding north-bound trains and arriving on those going into Los Angeles. Certainly, William Sprout, big boss of the Southern Pacific, is to be commended for his model station, although that will come later with the dedication. The Glendale people should make a memorable out of opening the depot, although it might be called a palace in miniature.

Streets and Schools
Then we hit the trail for the new Broadway High school and the great Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital plant in the eastern section of the city. Along the way we literally "ran into" Glendale avenue. It is being paved and already part of it has been surfaced. Believe me, that is going to be some swell boulevard, in the language of a flapper. It has a cemetery, church, school, stores, electric railway, and best of all—shade trees. Glendale avenue is now in the embryo stage—at the dangerous age, as it were.

Let us have read a great deal about the high school plant on Broadway at Verdugo road. Only a visit will reveal to you what this simple unit of structure contains in the way of attractions for both children and their elders. Take occasion to pay the school a visit, for it would take a whole page of descriptive matter to set forth the salient features of the building.

Sanitarium Busy Place
"Keep Out" is the warning sign hung outside of the new million dollar sanitarium plant. Workmen are too busy for visitors to go gallivanting about the corridors and peering into the more than 200 rooms, but as an "official" visitor to all such places, I feel sure that it is the biggest "thing in Glendale"—and, no doubt, the best.

For months the great four-story structure and two wings have been in the building and only a third of it is close to completion. Painters, plumbers, cement workers, plasterers, carpenters, electrical workers and other craftsmen are putting in some mighty good ticks to make it ready for occupancy in next thirty days. You cannot imagine the amount of material which has gone, is going and will go into the new plant located off East Wilson avenue in the foothills.

"Lace Curtain Crew"
For instance, there is the "lace curtain crew"—four women with sewing machines and flatirons, not to mention thousands of yards of material—working for weeks to add the human "homey" touch to the windows which give a vista of the valley in which Glendale and Eagle Rock rest.

There will be a day when you will have an opportunity to see this. Indeed, reservations already are being made, one man coming from the Biltmore in Los Angeles to select his suite on the top floor yesterday. Another party stopping at Hotel Commodore in New York city, is anxious to have a restful room, according to C. E. Kimlin, manager, but such a subject will make a story all itself some of these days.

In the meantime, see Glendale for yourself. It's a great treat.

United States' consumption of nitrogen last year was 179,000 net tons.

must be roused to a full consideration of the project. Action is needed right now to combat the selfish motives of Los Angeles property owners in seeking to prevent this highway from coming through Glendale. Every civic, fraternal club and municipal organization should band together to gain for 'the fastest growing city in America' this great highway, which will make its future growth even more phenomenal.

"In years to come, with the materialization of this great boulevard from San Bernardino to Santa Monica, via Glendale, the bulk of the traffic to and from San Diego and El Paso, Texas, New Orleans, La., and points east will flow along it—and Glendale will have in Colorado boulevard a transcontinental highway. The present coast and inland routes south will then lapse into secondary importance and this city, with vast and constant streams of traffic flowing by, will become a metropolis second only to Los Angeles in all southern California."

"Can we afford to pass up such an opportunity? If so, then let us do nothing. But if we cannot afford to pass up such an opportunity, which once lost is lost irrevocably, then let us weld this city into a unit of action for making Colorado boulevard a vital link in the chain of the great San Bernardino-Santa Monica 'mountains to the sea' project."

Seven Divisions of National Association to Carry Out Varied Plans

the fact that cost of operation and maintenance of great business buildings has risen so tremendously that it is only by using the most efficient management that buildings can return a suitable income.

The development of standard forms for the renting business and the collection of data for cities all over the country as to front-foot values in the best retail locations will be features of this division's work for the coming year. It will continue to aid municipalities in the formation of ordinances affecting equitable adjustment as between the rights of tenants on the one hand and the rights of property owners on the other.

The brokers' division is taking as its cornerstone the proposition that when a man engages to act as broker for another he is bound to act for the best interests of that other person, and is barred, so long as that relation of agency exists, from acting on his own account for his own advantage in that matter. It will make a national study of standardization of forms used in real estate transactions, and of brokerage commissions and compensations.

Mortgage and Finance
The Mortgage and Finance division of the National association is taking for its principal function for the current year a special campaign to acquaint the general investment public with definite facts on a nation-wide scale of experience in regard to the security and return value of real estate mortgage investments. State and local mortgage and finance groups will co-operate.

The Realtor Secretaries division announces that it has—practically ready for publication—a manual dealing with the whole problem of organization of a real estate board and its effective functioning.

Training of secretaries for their important work will be a subject of the division's study.

held in El Centro on February 16, and others will be held in San Francisco and Sacramento.

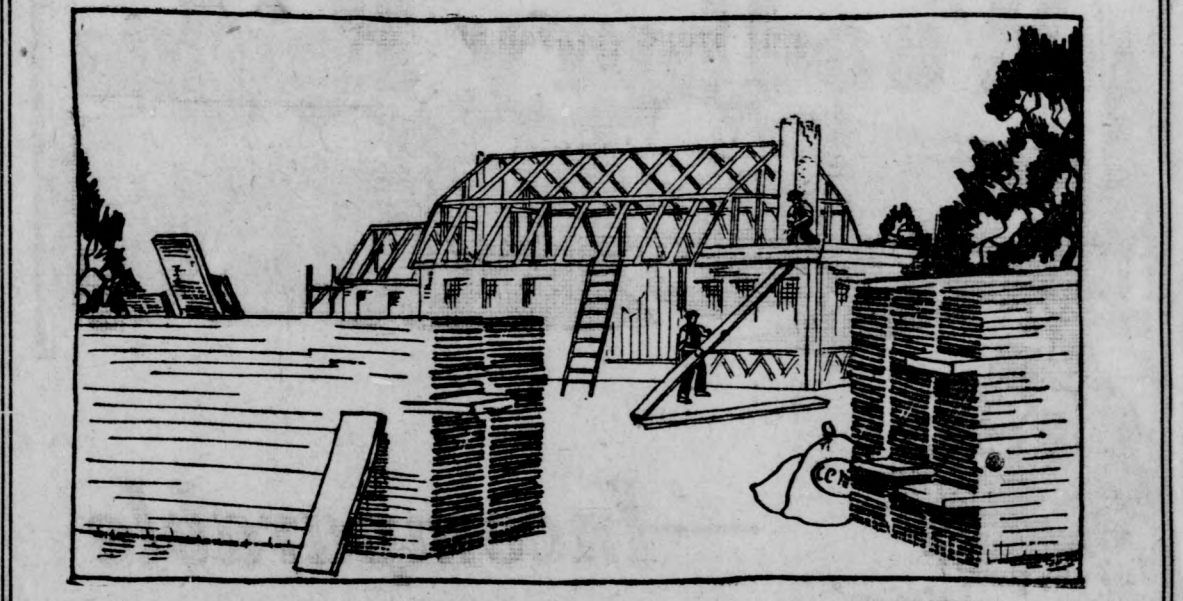

Resolutions were also unanimously passed favoring immediate action in starting the Colorado river project and in co-operating with other organizations in opening up the San Juan basin in Utah.

Vice-President Thomas W. McManus of Bakersfield presided. President Henry P. Barbour spoke on "The Valley of Inspiration," which he termed is the San Joaquin valley. Dr. Herman Janss declared "the farmer is the backbone of the nation." Diversified farming is the best thing for the farm, was the tenor of the speeches, and Bruce Cornwall of San Francisco delivered the keynote in his "Business of Land Colonization." He especially stressed dairying. Al C. Joy spoke of the power company's part in farm development, and declared that at least 500,000 acres of San Joaquin valley land can be profitably devoted to cotton growing. Samuel P. Johnson of the Los Angeles Examiner, urged community advertising in the metropolitan papers and Dr. B. M. Rastall told how Californians Inc., had already received 150,000 replies to its statewide advertising campaign. C. L. Cosgroves, Santa Fe colonization expert, outlined a campaign for chambers of commerce and realty boards to carry out in getting in settlers. J. V. Mendenhall spoke for State Approved Lands, which he said are now a fact in California. William E. Herren spoke on national farm land conditions, and said the recent national farm land survey revealed farmers generally were more prosperous than for several years and that the farm land market was steadily improving.

Other speakers included Commissioner Edwin T. Kaiser, national vice-president; C. C. C. Tatum, L. Richardson of the Southern Pacific, and Col. Charles A. Simmons of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

CITY STANDS IN PATH OF HIGHWAY

Colorado Boulevard Will Be Vital Traffic Route Declares Boland

will benefit not only property owners along Colorado boulevard but all Glendale.

"Visualize Colorado boulevard in, say, 1926, when it will pour into this city the traffic from a dozen foothill municipalities and a score of towns tributary to each. Picture that stream of traffic flowing day and night, twenty-four hours a day and 365 days a year, through Glendale, emptying down our six great north and south arteries—Verdugo road, Sycamore canyon road, Glendale avenue, Brand boulevard, Central avenue and San Fernando road—and out of Glendale again via that same Colorado boulevard, over the bridge that will be built at its west extremity, connecting with the forthcoming Riverside drive; or via Glendale boulevard, San Fernando road or Los Feliz road.

Street Must Be Widened
"One of the most important steps toward the realization of this dream is the paving of Colorado boulevard (or street, as it is now called) its entire length through Glendale, from the Eagle Rock city limits on the east to the Los Angeles river on the west. This is now being done. The boulevard is also being widened to an average width of fifty-six feet from curb to curb, with twelve foot parkways to left and right, making the actual width eighty feet.

"But if we are to advocate Colorado boulevard to the Foothill Improvement association, we must widen it to 100 feet, and to this end the Colorado Boulevard Improvement association plans to establish another ten foot setback line on each side of the street.

"A mass meeting will be called in the near future, to discuss this and other developments contemplated along Colorado boulevard for its own sake, and the destiny now offered this street, we must act. Already plans are under consideration by the Foothill Improvement association to send their 'mountains to sea' down Eagle Rock boulevard in Eagle Rock, as it comes from Pasadena to the flagpole corner, thus eliminating Glendale altogether from the project.

Municipal Tragedy
"Should Glendale fail to get this great boulevard, it would be nothing short of a municipal tragedy and the people of the city

Popularity Of Tract Is Indicated By Many Sales At Acacia Hills Opening

Emphatically placing their stamp of approval, enthusiastic purchasers, Saturday and Sunday ushered in the formal opening of beautiful Acacia Hills. Mere sightseers were conspicuous by their absence—and if initial sales can be taken as an indication, the tract is destined to prove itself one of the most popular close-in properties in the history of Glendale's phenomenal expansion.

"Not only did we enjoy a most enviable selling record," said Karle W. Martin, sales agent for the Pacific Southwest Development company, "but we set what is, to my mind, an even more remarkable closing record. We found from actual figures that once a prospective homebuyer or investor had gone over the property, that he, in the big majority of cases, became a purchaser. He had but to view the scenic grandeur of Acacia Hills to see its convenient and central location, and he was sold on its beauty, advantages and opportunities.

"This factor, in my mind, is a real test for the merits of any property. Southern California homebuyers are coming more and more to appreciate that their home should include some of those natural beauties that have brought this part of the state fame throughout the world. The very fact, that by far the big percentage of visitors to Acacia Hills last Saturday and Sunday were so impressed by its scenic beauty as to become immediate purchasers, is in itself explanatory of the grandeur of Acacia Hills.

Mountains and Valley
"Picture gentle rolling foothill property, readily accessible, conveniently located and with an unsurpassed view of the slightly Verdugo and San Fernando valleys, the Sierra Madre mountains and the Hollywood Hills. You can easily see why Acacia Hills, even in its short time on the market, has won so many friends. Every factor has combined to the one end—its natural beauty—and homebuyers have become quick to appreciate that it is destined to become one of the most popular residential districts in Southern California.

"That prospective homebuyers appreciate these conditions is shown by the fact that plans for the immediate construction of 21 homes have already been drawn up. One home is in the actual process of construction. On every side there is highly improved property, while we are doing everything in our power to cooperate with the home builder.

"Though located in the rolling foothills, Acacia Hills is nevertheless centrally located. It is in the path of Glendale's phenomenal development. Winding roadways circle it to the top; it is readily accessible by spacious boulevards from any part of Southern California. Within easy walking distance are four splendid grammar schools—nearly is the new $600,000 Glendale High school. Though providing a real home atmosphere, the property is only 30 minutes' ride from Seventh avenue and Broadway, Los Angeles, and only ten minutes from the center of Glendale—America's fastest growing city."

HILLSIDE TRACT WILL BE DIVIDED

T. W. Watson Company Will Have Complete Charge of Fine Property

Dr. Corydon G. Dwight of Madison, Wisconsin, who about a year ago, purchased the wonderful piece of hillside residential property at the north end of Maryland avenue, through the agency of the T. W. Watson Company, 708 East Broadway, will return to his eastern home the first of the week after a stay of several weeks here, during which time he went over the details of the subdivision of his Glendale holdings. While here Dr. Dwight stayed at the University Club in Los Angeles.

Some Already Sold
While in Glendale Dr. Dwight completed arrangements for the construction on his property of a beautiful colonial home, which will be started at an early date. This will be his California home. The property owned by Dr. Dwight has all been plotted and in the first section there are thirty-four lots, twelve of which have already been sold. This tract, which lies close to the hill on which the Easter services were formerly held, is within one block of the Pacific Electric car line and has been highly restricted for residential purposes. The subdivision, improvement and sale of this property will be handled under the supervision of the T. W. Watson Company.

EXTRA! ZANTIPPE CERTAIN TO WIN!

August September and Old Man Pismo Hand Him Some Happy Stuff!

Thanks to his transfusion of hot clam broth from the brain of Mr. Pismo of Pismo beach, Professor Xavius Zantippe is now able to be back at his office on the fourteenth floor of the Roll-Your-Own building, on the northeast corner of Grand boulevard and Magnificent avenue.

On the first day out, Professor Zantippe had rather a trying experience. He made a date, presumably with Mrs. Z., to meet in Los Angeles—but forgot whether it was at 6 o'clock between Fourth and Fifth, at 5 o'clock between Fourth and Sixth, or at 4 o'clock between Fifth and Sixth. He finally found her at 7 o'clock, between two strange men. She had fainted. The appointment had been at 3 o'clock, between Sixth and Seventh!

Naturally, one of the first things the learned professor started to do on regaining his health was to sort over his letters, among which he found the following:

Tujunga, Canada. "February 13, 1924. "Professor Xavius Zantippe, "Presidential Impossibility, "Glendale, California.

"Honored Sir: I have matters of the utmost importance to communicate to you, if you will call at my hacienda at once.

"Yours Mysteriously, "HON. AUGUST SEPTEMBER." Upon arriving in Tujunga, after many hours of laborious climbing, Professor Zantippe made his way to the domicile of his infamous political opponent. Seeing a de- canter resting at ease on the table, the learned professor climbed in the window and poured himself a drink. But just as he was about to down it, he discovered to his dismay that Hon. September was approaching.

With a groan he ducked under the table. Hon. September sat down and lit a stogie. Then, hearing a gurgling sound from under the table, he lifted up a corner of the cloth and disclosed the wretched miscreant.

"Here," said Professor Zantippe, holding up the empty glass. "I—I beg your pardon."

"That's all right," replied Hon. September. "Keep the other."

"What other?" demanded the puzzled Zantippe.

"The hair tonic you just drank!" said Hon. September.

guffawing with the vulgarity of his merriment.

Professor Zantippe climbed out from under the table, dashed from the house and stumbled back to his office on the fourteenth floor of the Roll-Your Own building.

A few days later a knock sounded on the door. Percy Eye, Professor Zantippe's dark-town detective, tiptoed to the door and opened it a crack, sticking out his ebony eye. And there stood Hon. August September, accompanied by Mr. Pismo of Pismo beach.

Shoving aside the darktown detective, they burst upon the learned professor.

"We have come, sir, to congratulate you!" they cried in chorus.

"Congratulate me for what?" demanded Professor Zantippe, weakly, putting his hand on his stomach and taking it away again quickly (for the poor professor is still so weak from his recent illness that he can hold nothing on his stomach as yet, not even his hand).

"We have come to congratulate you on having two such able underlings as ourselves to work with you in the coming election."

"Why, you don't mean to say you have withdrawn your candidacy?" demanded Professor Zantippe, addressing Hon. September.

"Exactly!" stated that villain. "After trying in vain to poison you, and being unable to shut you away with a transfusion of clam broth from the brain of Mr. Pismo, and upon noting that you thrive on hair tonic, we have both withdrawn in your favor."

Answering many inquiries received by the Internal Revenue Bureau, Collector Rex B. Goodlett said that it was not necessary for a taxpayer to call at the bureau and personally make payment of his income taxes.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.—Rev. George Chalmers Richmond, pastor of the Community church and former head of the American Constitutionalists, has applied to the city prosecutor for a warrant for the arrest of Rev. "Bob" Shuler, pastor of the Trinity Methodist church, on a charge of criminal libel.

Rev. Richmond's action is based on an article in the January issue of "Bob Shuler's magazine," in which it is intimated that Rev. Richmond boasted of his ability in "buying juries and corrupting courts." Shuler is alleged to be the author of the article.

Condemns Excessive Property Valuations

Excessive property valuations were vigorously condemned by Field Secretary William E. Berren of the National Association of Realtors in an address before members of the Inglewood Realty board, at the Inglewood Country club. Mr. Berren also stressed the fact that real estate men should consistently refuse to accept property for listing in which they have no confidence. In his talk which was listened to by more than forty Inglewood real estate men, Secretary Berren made a strong plea for the educational system recently adopted by the National association.

MAY CLOSE BOUNDARY

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.—Following investigating of vice conditions in the border town of Mexicali, the federal grand jury asked to make a recommendation to Washington that the international boundary be closed at 8 o'clock each night. In addition to immoral conditions, it was asserted by Lucien C. Wheeler of the department of justice, that business men of the imperial valley are up in arms because thousands of visitors are spending huge sums in the border town.

Condemns Excessive Property Valuations

Excessive property valuations were vigorously condemned by Field Secretary William E. Berren of the National Association of Realtors in an address before members of the Inglewood Realty board, at the Inglewood Country club. Mr. Berren also stressed the fact that real estate men should consistently refuse to accept property for listing in which they have no confidence.

PLAN COLLECTION OF SERVICE FUND

C. of C. Officials Considering Raising Advertising Money for 1924

Officials of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce are now considering plans, to be put into operation within the near future, to collect a service fund to be used during 1924 in advertising the merits of Glendale through the press of the country, according to Secretary E. F. Sanders.

"The money that was spent last year," says Mr. Sanders, "has come back to Glendale a thousand-fold, and, while I have no figures available, I know that I am safe in saying that last year's advertising campaign will have brought a million dollars to Glendale before its effects are ended."

Spread City's Fame

"The papers that were used last year spread the fame of Glendale not only through the length and breadth of the United States but also to many foreign countries, as the replies we have received eloquently prove, and it is essential to Glendale's continued growth that we persist in our efforts to bring more people here, both as residents and as factors in the industrial life of the city."

The total to be sought by the Chamber of Commerce for the service fund will be at least $25,000, Mr. Sanders asserts, and he cites the fact that Inglewood, much smaller than Glendale, has launched a campaign for a like amount. The plans will be whipped into such shape that they may be submitted for the consideration of the directors in a short time, it is stated, and the campaign for the collection of the fund will be started immediately after they have been approved by the organization.

PURCHASERS KNOW PROPERTY VALUE

Residents of Adjacent Towns First to Buy Lots in Montecito Park

Buyers of Sparr Heights homesites are recruited largely from nearby cities and towns, according to Mr. Walters of Barnum-Walters company, subdividers of the property.

"We hear a great deal about the tourist who is buying up the property in the local subdivisions. From this the average person would conclude that the native Californian or the adopted Californian, who has lived here long enough to have all the ear marks of the native, does not appreciate the beauties and opportunities of his own state.

Live in Adjacent Towns
"This is not the case at Sparr Heights. Our buyers are largely residents of Pasadena, Glendale, Los Angeles and other nearby cities.

"Many of them will tell you that they have 'had their eyes' on this particular piece of property for a long time, that they knew its unlimited possibilities, and as soon as they knew it was on the market, were ready to select the homesite they had long had in mind.

"This is particularly true of Montecito park, the beautiful restricted residence district of Sparr Heights. With the finest of man-made improvements added to nature's own loveliness, Montecito park is in a class of its own.

Near Country Club
"Every lot overlooks Oakmont Country club, which opens soon. Here one will find a splendid clubhouse, fine tennis courts, swimming pools and a golf course. The superior advantages of such an outlook appeals particularly to the person who wants to be assured of a permanent panorama of real attractiveness, and an ideal environment.

"Buying is brisk in Montecito park, and the person who wishes to 'get in on' the finest offerings of this section should lose no time in making a selection."

Royal Stock Players Offer Great Comedy

The Royal Stock Company presented one of the funniest comedies ever written, last night. It was entitled "The Girl in the Limousine," and all who love a solid evening of laughter should be sure and see it at the repeat performance tonight or the matinee this afternoon.

This great fun show is brim full of ludicrous situations and witty lines, and the New York press pronounced it, as many Glendale people did, a veritable cyclone of laughter.

"The Girl in the Limousine" is one of the big comedy events of the spoken drama season. The curtain will rise at the beautiful Club theatre at Lexington and Central tonight at 8:20 o'clock.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.
Author of Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

"Dear Doctor Lulu:—I hardly know how to thank you for telling me how to lose weight. I am 30 years old and in July I weighed 202; in November I weighed 156, a loss of 47 pounds in four months. I feel better and look better than I have for five years. If only all stout people knew the comfort in being normal you never would see another one again!

"You can bet I never will be stout again if I have to live on 1200 calories a day for the rest of my life. I used to be a great candy eater, but now I work right in a candy store and it makes me sick to see people eat so much candy. I don't care for rich foods any more. Thanking you again—Mrs. T."

Your reduction of 47 pounds in four months was a little bit rapid; but as long as you feel so well and look so well, it evidently was not too rapid for you. Sometimes the first week's loss may go as high as ten pounds, if one goes on the three-day liquid diet, not totaling over 600 to 800 calories; but after that it is better not to lose more than two pounds a week, usually. One of the happy results of reducing the weight is that if you really stay on a reducing diet long enough you lose the abnormal craving for the richer foods. And it's a grand and glorious feeling, isn't it?—Thank you for letting us know your good fortune.

Miss C.:—You complain of a very offensive breath and say every morning your throat is clogged with mucus. It is possible that your catarrh causes the bad breath. Have you had your teeth, throat and nose examined? You are 25 pounds underweight, and undoubtedly your diet is not supplying the elements you need to keep your tissue resistance high. You should gain in weight. We have some specific directions which you may have by sending a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope (the s. a. s. e. you speak of), and four cents in stamps to me in care of this paper. (The pamphlet also contains the directions for reducing.)

You should include in your diet every day a quart of milk, two or three egg yolks, plenty of whole wheat bread and butter, a liberal helping of vegetables (especially the green leaf vegetables), and fruit (especially figs, raisins and dates). You must remember that you have to eat a lot more than the average person if you are underweight. You must get a lot of sleep and rest, and you should also have some, but not too much, vigorous exercise. Ten

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

WANTS TO BE POPULAR
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a boy of seventeen and am attending high school. I am considered fairly good-looking and am popular in athletics. I am not, however, popular with girls, although I have treated them with respect. Please tell me how I can become more popular without lowering my ideals. ATLETT

Do not count on good-looks and popularity as an athlete to make friends for you. Unless you are entertaining and can hold a girl's interest you will not succeed with the fairer sex. Many young men have the failing of expecting the girl to carry on the conversation and take the lead in everything. A girl gets tired of doing so, and therefore she prefers a young man who is an entertaining talker and thinks of pleasant things to do. Take girls to attractive places of amusement and use your imagination so that you can help along the conversation and will not lean on the girl for ideas.

JEALOUS
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am worrying my life away. I have a girl working in my office and I am deeply in love with her. She has other friends and it almost breaks my heart to know that she goes with them. Please suggest some way for me to win her. CANT HELP IT.

Pay the girl so much attention that she will not have time to go with other men. If you take her to dinner, 15 places of amusement, and call at her home, you will probably find that she is satisfied with your company. In case she is not responsive to your efforts and prefers the company of the others, you might just as well try to conquer your love for her.

THE BOY SHOULD SEEK
Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am 14 years old and in high school. I am invited to a party. Do you think I should go by myself and let a boy bring me home, or have my mother go? I am interested in a boy who does not know it. What can I do to attract his attention? I was at a party once where he was. I watched him very closely and I thought he had very interesting ways. BLUE EYES.

At your age your mother ought to accompany you to the party

GOVERNMENT HELPING WITH CALORY INFORMATION

For a long time we have had hotels specializing in menus for people suffering from physical ills, including those of either the over or the under-weight. Many restaurants of the health variety compute the number of calories and print these beside the foods mentioned in their menus.

Several large cities have been trying out an experiment in their health departments, in which they accept a number of extremely stout people and reduce them to normal weight and an improvement in health, through food selection based on calorie measurement.

The latest help now comes from the government.

According to the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture, housewives are now learning to choose and purchase foods in terms of their calorie or food value rather than by pounds or pecks. To show what 100 calories look like, this bureau has prepared a chart in a series of 20 pictures, showing how a 100-calorie portion of food compares with the same 100-calorie value in other foods commonly appearing on the American table.

The chart is intended to furnish aid in the economical and correct selection of food for the family. Like all the government pamphlets, it will be mailed to anyone requesting it.

Who's Who in the Day's News

SIR ESME WILLIAM HOWARD
Sir Esme William Howard, newly named British ambassador to the U. S., will not come to Washington, D. C., as a stranger, by any means. By reason of his service in many capitals in different diplomatic positions he is well acquainted with most of the members of the diplomatic service here.

Sir Esme is described as a thorough aristocrat with extremely democratic views. His wife, Lady Isabella Howard, is also very democratic, although she comes from Italian nobility. She was Lady Isabella Giustiniani-Bandini, daughter of Prince Giustiniani-Bandini, Earl of Newberg, and was married to Sir Esme twenty-six years ago.

Sir Esme was born in Greystoke Castle, Cumberland, September 15, 1863, the fourth son of the late Henry Howard of Greystoke. He was educated at Harrow and passed the competitive examination of the diplomatic service in 1885. He began his official career as assistant private secretary to the late Earl of Carnarvon, in Ireland, that year. The following year he was attached to the embassy in Rome and then, after serving as secretary to the embassy in Berlin, retired from the service in 1892, becoming private secretary to the Earl of Kimberley, the then secretary of state for foreign affairs, two years later.

In 1908 he returned to the service and the embassy at Rome as honorable second secretary. His next post was at Washington and then he served as counsel general at Crete, Vienna, and Budapest. Then he served as minister to Switzerland and Sweden. He was a member of the British delegation to the Paris peace conference. He recently has been British ambassador to Spain.

ALFRED C. BOSSOM
Alfred C. Bossom of New York City is the first American architect ever elected a Fellow of the Royal Institute of British Architects, the time-hallowed institution which received its Royal Charter in 1837 from King William Fourth. Announcement of his election was received recently at the Architectural League of New York from Ian MacAlister, secretary of the Royal Institute.

The award is given only on the grounds of "Distinguishing eminence in the profession of architecture." In the past fifteen years only ten architects have been elected as Fellows of the Royal Institute. Mr. Bossom received a prize from the Down Town Assn. of New York for the best commercial building in 1922. He specializes in large banks and commercial structures. When a young architect he paid for his journeys for architectural study by winning scholarships; among them, three scholarships organized by the London County Council between 1893 and 1897. He is treasurer of the Architectural League of New York.

I am going to chat today on the subject of "birthday suppers" for children. This simple form of entertaining is becoming more and more popular in the home where expense is a primary consideration. Of course the reason for its popularity is this: that if a child gives a regular "birthday party," he is expected to invite all of his friends—all those children who have ever invited him to a party—and, often, many other children besides. But if a child gives an informal little birthday supper he may invite only his intimates—one or two favorite playmates. In this way, expense may be cut down

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—Ending a legal fight which has extended over a decade, announcement was made today that San Diego county has paid into the state treasury in excess of $40,000 collected from the estates of deceased persons.

San Diego authorities held that the statute authorizing state collection was unconstitutional and carried the case to the State Supreme court before agreeing to return the money to the state.

Naivete, as applied to the modern girl, is the art of acting a darned sight more innocent than she looks.—Nashville Banner.

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—Vacuum fumigation is beginning to pass the experimental stage, and from the number of inquiries received by the California Department of Agriculture, it is believed, has demonstrated its ability to successfully take care of certain problems which heretofore have caused much loss to the dried fruit industry, it was said today at the office of the state department.

It has become an established practice among date growers to treat their product by this method, and this year the California Peach and Fruit Growers' Association has installed four fumigators for the treatment of the 1924 pack. The Walnut Growers' Association treated 160 tons of walnut meat in this manner last year and will continue the practice in 1924.

CANDIDATES FOR OLYMPIC CHOSEN

Paddock's Name Omitted From Athletes Listed by A. A. U. Officials

By DAVIS J. WALSH
For International News Service
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—It became known through official sources yesterday that the A.A.U. has called the vultures from the field of stables and has drafted what it pleased to term a list of "potential candidates for the American Olympic team," based on performances, past and present. The prospectus includes some 125 of our most prominent people and doesn't hesitate to name a few members.

Conspicuously missing, however, is the name of Charles W. Paddock, Olympic champion of 1,000 meters. Charles, in an odd moment, allowed himself to lose caste with the A.A.U., but every thing will be all to the good in due time. They decline to permit star sprinters to remain disqualified in this country.

Minus Charles, the remainder of the tentative sprint field includes Loren Murchison, national champion; "Boots" Lever, intercollegiate champion; L. A. Clark, Johns Hopkins; Albert Washington, Chicago; Eddie Sudden, former Stanford man; Al Leconey, E. Loveloy, and E. C. Wilson, Iowa. Some of the boys, of course, will make the ultimate rifle, some will not.

Another prominent contender, namely and to-wit, Allen Woodring, Olympic and intercollegiate champion, is not found among the 400 meter men, but the list is a good one, nevertheless. It includes Jake Driscoll, Boston; J. C. Taylor, former Princeton star; Walter Koppisch, Columbia; Bill Stevenson, learning to raise the left eyebrow at Oxford; Vernon Ascher, Chicago, and C. S. Cochran, Mississippi A. & M.

The middle west does a semi-mongrel in the 500 yard runs. Those named for the former include Ray Watson and Ray Baker, Chicago; Allen Heiflicher, Pennsylvania State; Ray Dodge, Portland, Ore., and Larry Brown, Philadelphia.

FINLAND RACERS LOOK DANGEROUS

American Athletes Conceded Only Eight Events In Olympic Sprints

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Individual victories in twelve of the twenty events of the Olympic track and field program are conceded, even at this premature moment, to athletes of foreign countries by those in close touch with developments here, it became known today. The estimate was furnished by an A. A. U. man who knows his business as the ice man knows his tongs. Finland, looming larger daily as America's arch-rival, will score the major part of the European victories, our informant believes.

"Although the subject is rather carefully avoided, I think everyone familiar with the situation realizes that the Americans will be outscored in individual victories," declared this man, whose identity is withheld for obvious reasons.

"Where we expect to come through is on the basis of team strength. It would not surprise me if Europeans won at the 1,500 meters, 5,000 meters, 10,000 meters, the marathon, the 3,000 meter steeplechase, the pole vault, the javelin, the discus, the shot put, the 10,000 meter walk, the 3,000 meter team race and the cross-country run."

Finns vs. Norwegian
Elaborating on his estimate, it developed that the American Olympic committee hardly looked for Jole Ray, America's greatest distance runner, to win the 1,500 meter race. The race, it developed, is expected to be a two man affair between Paavo Nurmi of Finland, holder of the world's record for the mile, and the Moors beat the locals, things look bad, but Old Man Dope has a habit of being tipped over, and so—

Tanforan Track Will Hold Spring Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The ponies will run again at Tanforan this spring.
Beginning Saturday, April 26, the Pacific Coast Jockey Club will conduct its second meeting, which will end Sunday, May 19. Announcement was made of this decision yesterday following a meeting of the directors of the club, who were undismayed by their large financial loss in the initial meeting at the million-dollar plant down the peninsula.
Manager John D. Stelling said today that application had already been made for accommodations for 315 horses for the case of spring meet, and with the definite announcement of dates a flood of entries is expected.
The spring meet will be on the same "flat" basis as the meet which opened the plant, and the only change will be racing Sunday with Monday as the off day

GLENDALE SQUAD WALLOPS COVINA

Middleweights in Line for Pennant in Play-off of Three Teams

Taking things easy throughout the entire game, the Glendale Union High school, 130-pound casaba team walked over the Covina middleweights, 29 to 9, on the loser's court Thursday. At no time were the locals in danger, neither was there at any time any fast and furious playing.

Neel was high point man with Lovell right behind him. Stearman, Muff, and Beman also contributed to the general good of the cause. Alvord performed well at guard, and proved quite an obstacle to the ambitious enemy forwards. Higgins was the star for the vanquished.

The line-ups for yesterday's mix-up were: Glendale—Lovell, (10) and Stearman 2; forwards: Neel (13), center: Muff, (capt.), 2 and Alvord, guards: Subs: P. Thompson, Harrison, Beman (2), C. Thompson, Heidemay, Covina, Higgins, (5) and Gentry, forwards: Higgins, (5) and Gentry, forward Smith, guards, Sub: Garcher.

Little Fellows Lose
The 110-pounders were completely shovelled out of the league running when they lost to the Covina babes Thursday on the victor's floor, 11-7. The game was hard-fought and at any time the final issue was in doubt, but superior luck in shooting put the Red and White in the lead.

The heavyweight quintet performs for the last time this season when they take on the Covina five this afternoon on the Harvard High court. Although the locals have no chance for the banner, they have set out to finish up the schedule right, and plan to squelch the visitors. As Covina has a rip-snorting team, victory for either side will be rightfully earned. As the invaders triumphed over the Alhambra brass squad on the Moors beat the locals, things look bad, but Old Man Dope has a habit of being tipped over, and so—

Athletes Spinning Tops at Occidental

Wahoo, The Occidental student body is soon to send forth a new major athletic team to meet the leading grammar schools. The Tigers have taken up the skillful art of top spinning and are fast learning to make the little wooden objects hum. Already a quartet of sturdy humans have organized themselves into the Occidental Whirlers' Union. They can really spin any variety of tops, the sally-walker, cut-throat, spring-peg, ball-bearing and others. These top-notchers find that their tops spin longer in the halls of fame and have set a representative to the physics department to learn the cause of this weird characteristic. The varsity four-man team, as picked by themselves, includes Captain Tony Spangler, Jimmie Norton, Chubby Crigenton and Jock Stevens, with Kenneth Holiday as a reserve in case of serious accident.

The progress of athletics is increasing with the increase in the physical section department and there is a rumor that Oxy will soon be playing marbles for the United States elementary championship.

OREGON CHANGES FOOTBALL COACH

By Dick Dorgan
Joe Haddock, Product of Yost Schooling in Gridiron Game, Gets Job

By COPELAND C. BURG
For International News Service
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Pacific coast football coaches may be in for a jolt.
"Hurryup" Yost's methods, which have kept the University of Michigan on top in the grid world for years, are what may shake the frames of far-western mentors.

For Joe Haddock, a product of the Yost school, is coming to coach University of Oregon footballers. The cunning, whirlwind plays which have kept the Wolverines in the class of the most-feared team in the middle west year after year will be used on the coast for the first time when Haddock trots out the Lemon-Yellow squad this season.

Haddock is no spring chicken. He was named on the 1904 All-American team. He must have been a whale of a player to attract the attention of Walter Camp twenty years ago while playing at a college so far from dear old Yale. Heston, one of the greatest players the game has ever produced, was on the same team. Haddock landed a tackle place, while his team-mate, Heston, was selected for a halfback position. DeWitt, the famous Princetonian, and Harris, a powerful scorer of the Minnesota Gophers, were also in the All-American selection for that year.

Old, But What of It?
The new Oregon coach is more than 40 years old. His exact age is said to be 42. That's pretty old for active coaching in these days, but what of Stagg of Chicago, Yost and "Pop" Warner, the new Stanford coach? Haddock will have plenty of younger assistants to carry out his instructions. Age has no weight in the ability of a head coach.

Haddock was first assistant to Yost at Ann Arbor in 1920 and 1921 and he's up on new styles of play. Six years prior to his Michigan coaching the new Oregon coach was at Utah and turned out winning teams. Recently he has been in business at Idaho Falls, Idaho, where he coached the high school team as a side line and copped the state title for two years.

Change Causes Row
When Haddock reports this spring at Oregon he may find a troubled field. He succeeds "Shy" Huntington, a local product, who was replaced after Virgil Earl, director of athletics, toured the country searching for Huntington's successor.

Huntington's replacement precipitated a hot row at the Eugene campus. However, the row was the rumour should be well ironed out and Haddock no doubt will have complete co-operation at Oregon.

Haddock is a thorough student of the methods of Fielding H. Yost and he is bound to make Oregon a more serious contender in the coast race than it has been in recent years.

1924 YALE SPORT OUTLOOK IS GOOD

Hockey Team Beat All Up To Feb. 1, Baseball Prospects Bright

By R. T. BULKLEY,
For International News Service.
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 16. Yale University looks for another successful year sports-wise in 1924 Under Captain "Charlie" O'Hearn the varsity hockey team is exceptionally well placed this Winter, having beaten all comers up to February 1, including teams entered in the Christmas-time tourney at Lake Placid, N. Y.

Loss of stars makes the swimming team's outlook rather doubtful, and Yale may possibly lose her high position in that sport. Yale has won the intercollegiate swimming title every year since that sport became a fixture, and her swimmers have taken high honors in meets outside the intercollegiate zone.

Basketball Ailthi
The basketball situation is peculiar. Four stars of the Yale team that last year won the intercollegiate championship have returned, but the loss of Giltitz, the fifth man, seems to have affected the team's chances. But the team is an "in-and-out" this year. Losing to Princeton and Pennsylvania on "foreign" floors, Yale's basketball men came back and defeated the strong Cornell team on the home floor here in New Haven. Joe Fogarty, who took a Yale team that in 1922 finished last in the league and made it into a combination winning first place in 1923, still has hopes that his team in 1924 will get back to 1923 form.

Baseball prospects are brighter than ever. "Smookey Joe" Wood becomes varsity baseball coach this year for the first time. Wood has last year's brilliant freshman team—which he personally coached so that it swept the field—and he has the best of last year's varsity as hold-overs. With the brilliant O'Hearn as captain Yale expects her baseball team to recover the prestige of old days, when Yale baseball teams were combinations to be respected.

Rumors, Denials, Alibis

By F. A. GRAHAM
"Unless I get a slice of the purchase price I will not report to the press," said the boy who returned my contract unsigned and unless I get a substantial increase on my last year's salary I will not play ball this year. "My real estate business in California makes it worth at least $50,000 more to leave and play ball in the east. Unless I receive this amount and transportation for my valet and pomanerian the fans can cry their eyes out, but I won't play."

The melancholy days are come. The saddest of the year; The holdout makes his talker hum, But don't believe all that you hear.

Stop me if you've heard this one: "I never underestimate an opponent and I'm telling you that I will flatten this fellow inside two rounds or my name isn't Ivan Eeroph. I want just one shot at that chin and it will be curtains. I can't lose."

Hush, little boaster! Don't you cry! After the battle You'll be an alibi.

Another little shot of that aspirin, please. Whatsup. This is a terrible strain on our sanity, if any.

Voorzorgd generally regarded as a galloping mountain goat won the seventh race at Tia Juana Saturday at 119 to 1 odds. The boys who were on hand and had it on his nose called the day a success. That's what we get for going to that female lacrosse game instead.

"I won't stand for personal abuse of players. I want the umpires neatly dressed at all times and firm disposition of athletes who have been ordered out of a game." President Harry Williams speaking. Any old time we pay six bits to see a ball game and players can't tell the ump what they think of him and his ancestors, and maybe view the spectacle of them wearing neat one-leg trousers or ribbons in their bald spots!

By the way that boxer named Silver must be a sterling athlete. think you not? Or ain't it, don't?

Tex O'Rourke is enthused over a heavyweight prospect named William Prestage that he has found in England. Tex opines that some of these days England may have a heavyweight contender for the world championship. Tex is one of our foremost authorities on such subjects and his word carries plenty of weight, but we say that Tex will find that it will take more than Prestage to gain that coveted distinction.

On thinking it over the foregoing gag doesn't seem so good. We thought that prestige stuff was pretty good at first, but guess we better leave it out.

Thompsons Prove Prowess at Golf in Recent Games

Harold Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Thompson, has added to the golf laurels of the family by tying for second low net in the tournament last week at the Hillcrest Country club, Los Angeles. He will play off this Saturday with E. K. Brown and M. McLaughlin, the latter being the celebrated tennis star.

Harold and his brother, Russell Thompson, are both members of the Glendale Union High school golf team and have defended their school in many fast games.

Hard Job Ahead of U. C. Athletes, Claim

BERKELEY, Feb. 16.—The athletes comprising the candidates for California's 1924 track team, who are destined to step into the spiked shoes doffed by Muller, Norris, Sorrenti, Merchant, et al., have a hard job ahead of them.

For three years the Blue and Gold have won the I. C. A. A. A. meet under the coaching of Walter Christie, and it now remains to be seen whether he can develop a winning team from the remaining members of last year's varsity and from the material to be found in the 160 candidates who have expressed their desire to make a berth for themselves on this year's squad.

Christie has been coaching California track men for twenty-three years, and believes he has a good nucleus upon which to build his varsity team. Captain Neufeldt made good in the weights last year, and with Land this department is well looked after. In the sprints and distances Tommy Ryan and Jack Blenner are members of last year's varsity and have established some good marks.

The first big meet which California will enter is the one with the University of Illinois on April 19, at Berkeley. The following week the annual classic with Stanford will take place. On May 3 the Bears will enter the Pacific Athletic Association meet.

He has been informed, it is said, that Pennsylvania officials, including the secretary of state and attorney-general, were in favor of the bout. The town most favored, McCarty said, is Morristown, Pa.

Pick Edith Cummings To Win Championship

DEL MONTE, Cal., Feb. 16.—Miss Edith Cummings, national champion, was a decided favorite for winning the second annual women's Pebble Beach championship today following her victory yesterday in the qualifying round in which she took the medal from Miss Doreen Kavanaugh, for the last three years California state champion, by one stroke. Miss Cummings went out in 43 and came back in the same figure for the winning 86. Miss Kavanaugh had 87, taking 44 on the outward round. Mrs. H. C. Hutchings of Winnipeg and Pacific northwest champion in 1922, was third in the stellar field of women players in the qualifying round with 88. Mrs. Milton Bernard was in fourth place after making the afternoon round in a par 41, the best performance of the day. She had trouble, however, in the morning round and had a total score of 89. Miss Marion Hollins, last year's champion at Pebble Beach, found the greens difficult, and was in fifth place with 90.

Diamond Candidates Out for Team Places

Winkle Clark, Occidental varsity basketball coach, gave his official Wahoo this afternoon and the season practice began for fair with a large turnout of recruits. The first conference game is but six weeks away. Coach Clark has turned out good teams wherever he has coached and he developed two marvelous teams for Oxy in '11 and '12. Things point toward another conference championship.

King of Knockouts Is Still Putting 'Em Away

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Stanley Ketchel, the immortal, returned to this life at Madison Square Garden last night and punched his way to a knockout victory over Pat Walsh of Cincinnati, after two minutes and thirty-five seconds of fighting in the first round. It was a typical Ketchel victory, but the man who gained it called himself Paul Bernbach and he met a type of opponent that Ketchel would have disdained to associate with in the old days.

Dick Hoppe Beaten In Bay City Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Eddie White easily outpointed Young Dick Hoppe of Glendale here last night in the Observatory club's main event at Dreamland ring. White won every one of the four rounds by a wide margin. Not once during the four rounds of milling was Hoppe on the offensive.

Cage Squad Tackles Caltecks Saturday

Coach Sid Nichols will take his Tiger varsity basketball and freshman teams over to Franklin High gym this evening, where they will be the prey of the Calteck casaba artists. The Oxy varsity has failed to win a single game and consequently are holding down the cellar position in the conference. They suffered another defeat last Wednesday night when the Whittier team squelched them 38 to 10. The Orange and Black have not fully recovered from their strenuous trip north. The Calteck boys just barely nosed out the Tigers in their first game and a good battle is in store for this evening.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE
Viola Dana will be shown for the last time tonight at the Glendale Theatre in "Rough Lips," the famous picture and the five acts of vaudeville given on the same program furnishing an attractive entertainment.

THE GATEWAY
"Black Oxen," a pietarization of Gertrude Atherton's best seller, will open at the Gateway tomorrow and run three days, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. Corinne Griffith is co-featured with Conway Tearle in this super-production.

In this picture Frank Lloyd presents a sensational idea, rejuvenation, in a breath taking manner. It is called the strangest romance ever written, with a background of New York's most exclusive society set, its brilliant literary folk, and the most fashionable diplomatic courts in Europe.

Those who have seen "Black Oxen" declare that it contains all the spice and entertainment of the Atherton novel, with the added attractiveness of a spirited pietarization.

Fathers Assume Active Part In Development Projects To Benefit Of Broadway School

Father is a very important and active member of the Broadway school family and is not outdone by Mother and the youngsters when it comes to THE great American school.

Father out at the Broadway school does not stand for one or two or ten particular fathers, but for the Fathers' Auxiliary to the Broadway Parent-Teachers' Association, not only the first to be organized in Glendale but the first fathers' auxiliary to be organized in the United States.

But these "dads" are not resting on past laurels, for two years ago when they organized they hitched the wagon to a star and all climbed in to journey along the highway of accomplishment, which is today marked by a group of 314 fathers united in spirit and action for Broadway school.

At the beginning of the present school term the active membership numbered less than fifty, which was increased by a spirited membership drive to 314. The fee to join is but one dollar, but so enthusiastic have many of the "dads" been about taking part in school affairs, that they have contributed substantial checks to the treasury.

These fathers meet regularly as a body once a month, but the committee chairmen and executive board are continually in session, meeting weekly during the school term. This year a policy has been adopted to have just one entertainment, for which admission will be charged, thus eliminating a continuous round of benefits.

Glendadians connected with Broadway school are well aware that the Broadway "dads" are thoroughly organized along a definite line of endeavor and have been accomplishing their objectives with a startling degree of regularity through efficient committees.

The athletic committee has already found ways for supplying two regulation soccer balls; volleyball for the girls; hand balls; a full supply of kindergarten balls. They responded to a plea for Indian clubs and added a playground "marker" for good measure. Besides these things they attend inter-class games and arrange contests between the "dads" and children.

Then there is the child welfare department, which was responsible for the investigation into the proposed Shick test problem and the subsequent publicity put a ban on medical supervision at Broadway except upon the advice or suggestion of the school or family physician.

The co-operation of the ways and means, courtesy and hospitality, visiting and membership and entertainment committees, who work together and meet regularly twice a month, has been responsible for the wonderful times for the school parents. One outstanding event thus arranged was the fathers' own night held in the community building at Sparr heights.

For Community Work There is also the community advancement, which works in conjunction with other civic organizations and through its investigations and suggestions the Broadway school district has obtained, as a whole, attention it otherwise would have missed as a separate community.

The school improvement and decoration committee has been especially active as its record proves. The completed sprinkling systems for lawns and playgrounds; application for new drinking fountains; removal of trees, which were found to constitute a menace to buildings and safety of children; removing of dead timber from pepper and eucalyptus trees; and the planting of shrubs around new addition, were some of the things supervised by this committee. The school stage and curtain were made and the latter hung by the Fathers' Auxiliary.

Another active unit of the organization is the local relief committee. New arrivals from the country have been visited, their vocations listed so that employment might be obtained within Broadway's circle. Special assistance to the sick or needy has been a vital duty of this group.

Patriotic affairs are in charge of the patriotic committee. They have charge of the flag, and supervise special programs and direct the children along proper lines pertaining to patriotism and loyalty.

Get Co-operation Very recent developments of the Auxiliary include the obtaining of the co-operation of the City Council, Board of Education, Federation of Parent-Teachers Associations, Chamber of Commerce, The Glendale Evening News and the public in general. The wonderful work in accomplished has therefore been appreciated and the auxiliary placed on a par with many of the older organizations.

thing of parliamentary law and are inspired to become leaders. Good Officers Much of the success of the auxiliary is due to the efficient and untiring work of R. M. Ferguson, president; C. R. Rettberg, secretary; and Grover Loftus, treasurer. The best interests of the auxiliary are always before them and they are constantly in demand at other schools in Glendale where similar organizations are bound to spring up and flourish. Already other auxiliaries have been started.

On March 4 the Broadway Fathers will present the only entertainment of the season. It will be held in the Broadway High school auditorium and will be by professional talent. The fathers have pledged themselves to sell 2100 tickets and after the professional artists are paid the surplus will go for additional equipment at the Broadway school.

The tickets are to be sold at 75 cents for reserved seats and 50 cents and can be obtained at the Glendale Music Store, 109 North Brand boulevard; Brunswick Shop on South Brand boulevard; Chamber of Commerce; Builders' Hardware and Supply company, corner of Broadway and Glendale avenue; and at the Broadway High school student body ticket office at noon.

PERJURY CHARGED MILWAUKEE, Wis., Feb. 16.—Oscar "Happy" Felsch, former Chicago White Sox outfielder, was led from the witness stand to a cell in the county jail, a prisoner charged with perjury as the result of his testimony that signatures on his 1920 contract and a letter were not his.

He was testifying in Joe Jackson's suit to recover $19,600 claimed as back salary after Jackson's dismissal from the White Sox, resulting from the "black Sox" revelations of the framed world's series in 1919.

CONFESSES MURDER DENVER, Feb. 16.—Frank Barnes, a dish-washer in an uptown cafe, gave himself up to police and admitted that he was the man who stabbed to death with a 12-inch butcher knife, Kay Larson, twenty-two, after the two had engaged in a drunken brawl.

TUJUNGA THREE QUESTIONS BEFORE C. OF C.

Committees Will Report on Incorporation and Other Important Matters

Three questions of special community importance will be brought out for discussion at the regular February meeting of the Tujuanga Chamber of Commerce at Legion hall, El Centro and Sunset boulevard, next Tuesday night.

Incorporation, street improvement and fire protection are the subjects to receive the attention of the chamber. It is expected that a committee will be named to work out plans for the administration of the new fire-protection district and also determine what equipment shall be purchased.

Committees on the purchase of an alarm siren and relief for German children will report at this meeting. A house-to-house canvass has been made to secure funds for the siren, which will cost, according to one estimate submitted, about $400.

Courses for Commercial Teachers This Summer

Since the publishing of the bulletin, the summer sessions of the University of California have added several important courses to the offerings for 1924. These additions have been made at the request of the commercial teachers of California, and comprise instruction in methods of teaching, stenography and typewriting, and administration of commercial departments in schools.

The courses will be given at the Southern branch under the direction of Frederick Beygraun of Evander Childs High school, New York City. Edward J. McNamara, administrative head of the Girls' High school, Brooklyn, N. Y., is to be the instructor in Berkeley.

Both of these men are experts in the field of commercial work. Mr. McNamara has recently returned from Europe, where he investigated European methods of teaching the commercial subjects.

Number Of Fine Homes To Be Constructed At Once At Popular Woodbury Heights

That approval has been given to Woodbury Heights as a high class residential tract was shown this week by the announcement by T. W. Watson of the T. W. Watson Company, 708 E. Broadway, subdivider of the property, that within a few days work will start on a number of beautiful homes in that subdivision. Plans for these homes have been in course of "drawing" for some time, and within a short time ground actually will be broken.

Those who will start homes in this tract soon have chosen their respective sites after months of searching. They wanted a place for their permanent homes and after traveling the country over they decided that Woodbury Heights is the location for them. It has everything that could be desired for home purposes: has a wonderful view, yet is far enough out to escape the hurry and noise of modern traffic.

Attractive Home Among the owners of homesites in this tract who will begin the construction of beautiful homes soon in Woodbury Heights is Claude B. Andrews, who will break ground for a high class home on "Woodbury Hill," one of the choicest and most scenic locations in Glendale. There is about an acre of ground in this site.

Ralph W. Haywood, prominent architect and builder who is head of the drawing department of the Jefferson high school and of the evening class of the Polytechnic high school, will build a beautiful home fronting on Woodbury Road. Another owner to build soon is W. A. Oates, owner of the Central Engineering company of Los Angeles. He will build a "little mansion" on Woodbury road. This will be occupied by the Oates family.

Another charming home to be erected, this on La Loma Road, will be that of P. H. Hubbard, manager of the pharmacy at the corner of Glendale Avenue and Colorado. Mr. Hubbard has long been a resident of Glendale and his selection was made after months of searching.

City Clerk to Build Another old-time resident who will soon erect a pretty home on La Loma Road is A. J. Van Wie, Glendale city clerk. Work will start within a few days on this structure.

Ben. F. Dupuy, Glendale city engineer, will soon start a home, also on La Loma Road. He believes Woodbury Heights is ideal for home purposes. The substantial character of the improvements that are being put in appeal to him.

C. R. Spencer, who has charge of one of the departments of Myron Hunt, prominent architect, will soon start work on a beautiful home on Woodbury Road. Mr. Spencer and family will occupy this home when finished.

MONTROSE POSTAL QUARTERS FORCED TO MOVE

Large Amount of Business Causes Change; Theatre for Community

Owing to the rapid increase in postal traffic, the Montrose post-office has been forced to vacate the original quarters in the drug store at Montrose and Honolulu avenues for larger quarters in the building on Montrose avenue north of the drug store. The Montrose office was established six months ago with Mrs. Frances Brown as postmaster.

The space vacated by the post-office will be used by the drug store proprietors, Belanger & Son, to increase their display of stock and enlarge the soda fountain.

Plan Theatre Plans for the complete organization and promotion of a motion picture theatre company have advanced smoothly. Theo. Belanger is president of the proposed corporation, which will be capitalized for $50,000. Stock will be issued for $25,000, and according to Mr. Belanger, $17,000 of this amount has already been subscribed.

The building will be 40 by 125 feet, located on a lot opposite the Reinhard block on Honolulu avenue. A $7000 pipe organ will be one of the up-to-date features of the cinema house.

M. Doyle will be manager of the theatre. He is experienced in the motion picture theatre business.

Announces Delegate List To State Convention At San Francisco, Feb. 25

Announcement of delegates and alternates to the San Francisco state convention, February 25, from the Ninth Congressional district, made by Chairman Galen H. Welch of the Ninth Congressional district committee, includes the Glendale delegates, Mrs. Charles H. Toll, John Robert White and Charles D. McDowell, representing the 61st Assembly district.

Other delegates announced by Mr. Welch are: 65th Assembly District, alternate, H. J. Tremain; 66th Assembly District—Delegates, Morris M. Ferguson, alternate, Mrs. Arthur N. Lee, 67th Assembly District—Delegates, Sen. A. Burlingame Johnson and Mrs. Dorothy A. Scheroff, alternates, Geo. E. Waldo and Mrs. W. W. Nash; 68th Assembly District—Delegates, Nicholas T. Edwards and Cadet Taylor, alternate, J. L. Mathews, 69th Assembly District Delegates, Wm. M. Orr, alternates Spenser W. Hudson and William Barrett; 70th Assembly district—Delegate, Galen H. Welch, alternates, Henry P. Barbour, Mrs. Edith Van de Water and W. O. Bensted.

Coolidge Sends Greetings The following telegram from President Calvin Coolidge has been received by Cadet Taylor of the Ninth Congressional district Republican club, Pomona: "Through the kindness of Congressman Linenberger I have learned of the organization of the ninth district California Republican Club and am taking this method of communicating my greetings and good wishes to all the members and hopes for the prosperity and effective usefulness of the Club."

Cadet Taylor is also in receipt of the following letter, addressed by Congressman Walter F. Linenberger to the Ninth Congressional district Republican club: "I have just learned that you are to have your formal opening on Tuesday afternoon, February 12th, the birthday of our martyred President Lincoln.

It seems peculiarly fitting that you should inaugurate your work on this particular day because the man for whom you are working has the same sterling qualities which were characteristic of President Lincoln. There was nothing spectacular about Lincoln nor is there anything about President Coolidge to catch the eye or the mind for just a moment, but the deep and abiding convictions which he has of right and wrong, of justice and humanity, of service and steadfast purpose all make him an ideal leader whom we are proud to follow.

Praise for President "May I commend him to you not alone because he is our present leader but because he is eminently qualified for the continuation of that leadership which he has demonstrated so markedly in the few short months he has served as our chief executive. "I wish it might be possible for each and everyone of you to know him personally and to know the warm and human man whose friendship for his fellow citizens is of the quiet and unobtrusive type but whose real interest is none the less sincere. I believe with all my heart that the destinies of our beloved nation are safe.

As you know our district now contains approximately one million people and it would give me much additional pride in the Ninth Congressional District of California if we could give to President Coolidge as an assurance of our hearty and loyal support the largest majority given him by any congressional district in the country. In doing this we would not only be serving him well but we would serve our own interests in that we would have assurance of the protection to California industries which are so vital to the life of our community.

"With best wishes for your unlimited success and with warm personal greetings to each and everyone of you."

Gloom Chasers Spread Joy at Glendale Theatre

Real gloom chasers are performing at the Glendale Theatre today both in vaudeville and film. Viola Dana in "Rough Lips" is a prime attraction, but the Yankee comedy trio open the bill with a "knock-em-dead" act which stops the show. They call themselves daffy songsters. Admittedly they resort to every trick of the hokum trade to get over—and they do.

Edward and George Guhl use a little cork to put over their darktown arguments—some original stump speech stuff with a song or two. Turner sisters, ordinary girls with winning ways, sing and dance quite delightfully. Willard, the man who grows, is a mystery number all appreciate. The Waikiki beach sextet is good entertainment—and you know the rest about Hawaiian musicians who have to have American dancers to do the hula.

LA CRESCENTA PLAN TO RE-NAME PORTION OF TOWN

Officers Appointed at Mass Meeting Will Work on Zone Project

A mass meeting was held last night for the purpose of renaming a portion of La Crescenta. Officers named on the new zone's Associated Chamber were as follows: H. N. Fowler, president; E. L. Wemple, vice-president; A. T. Cobb, secretary; custodian, Mr. DeJaques, and Mr. Sears, treasurer. A point brought out was to discourage officers of this organization from taking an active part in similar civic organizations in the community.

Mr. Ewer will have charge of raising banners along the highways to advertise the celebration to be held on Saturday, for the purpose of re-naming Mount Thomasin, Mount Verdugo. Mrs. Mary B. Darrow named a committee of one to request John Steven McGroarty to speak on Saturday. There will be refreshment stands and all attendant concessions general to an occasion such as this.

At Harry Conner's suggestion, Dr. Miller will serve the community as health officer. Deputy sheriffs for the district are T. S. Brown and Adams. Mr. Fowler suggested the supervisors be requested to appoint at least three deputy sheriffs for the La Crescenta valley.

A motion was made and carried requesting the authorities at Sacramento to grant a postoffice to Verdugo City.

Jergen Hansen moved a note be placed on record thanking the American Legion Post No. 288 for their full support.

Mr. Wylbee was appointed a committee of one to see about getting auto plates with the name Verdugo City for use of residents in the new zone. Mrs. Fleming will donate the use of her large flag for the tent.

Commander Sullivan stated the Legion took pleasure in helping the work along and also gave an address on the compensation act. Commander Sullivan in speaking of this act, generally spoken of as the Bonus bill, stated the daily newspapers gave their opinion in an "anti" tone; therefore the Legion is sending men out to talk to the different civic organizations.

Enlighten the People
The letter from the State Liaison officer, LeRoy Smith, was read by Comrade Blanford. After discussing plans for tomorrow's entertainment the meeting adjourned.

Plan for Barbecue
The regular monthly meeting of the La Crescenta Woman's club was presided over by Mrs. Mark S. Collins, as the president. Mrs. C. A. Haskins, was ill.

Plans for the new clubhouse were shown and the women decided to plan a big barbecue and country fair to be held either on Mrs. Louise Erwin's Michigan avenue property, or on the schoolhouse grounds. Mrs. Aiken, who has charge of the club drive, announced she had pledges for $665 already.

Letters from the Federation board were read, and most interesting they were, with some splendid suggestions. New names proposed were Madames Walker, Belanger, Robison and Swain. These were voted members by acclamation. An announcement was made by Mrs. Hopkins on the weekly Community Sing and the assistance of the club members was asked, in order to make it successful.

An invitation to attend the Woman's club of Tujunga was favorably received by members. As many members, including the president, are sick, it was voted to send letters to all, and the club floral decorations were divided after adjournment and sent to the different homes.

Mrs. Ella Anderson will entertain in her home on February 28 with a silver tea, proceeds of which go to the building fund. Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Louise Erwin, Mrs. Stute-man and Mrs. T. Brown. They are to be congratulated on the exquisite floral decorations. Hostesses for next month will be Madames Hauber, Wattell and Gregg.

The children of the La Crescenta school sold ice cream and cake yesterday at lunch time to help raise money toward the curtain fund. The affair was in charge of the seventh grade.

Legion Committees
At the recent business meeting of Verdugo Hills Post No. 288 the following standing committees were appointed by Commander Sullivan: Building committee, Messrs. Conner, Scheffer, Blanford, E. S. Miller; membership, Dr. E. M. Wemple, Messrs. Nangle, Hatfield, Barnett; resolutions and legal committee, Messrs. Veith, Jones, Lamar; Americanism, Mr. Blanford and Dr. Miller; service and welfare committee, Dr. Utley, Messrs. Nelson, Castor and Bonetto; athletics, Messrs. Carr and Adams; entertainment, Messrs. Wirt, Hoover and Cumner; "40 and 8," Mr. Baron; house committee, Thomas, Hopkins and White; to represent the Post at La Crescenta Improvement association, Mr. Baron; to represent the Post at Montrose Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Blanford.

A quartet has been formed by Comrade Adams to assist La Crescenta Improvement Association minstrel show. Comrade Hoover and several others will give songs and stunts.

Major Wemple gave a most interesting report of the meeting of county inter-post council held this week at Los Angeles. Discussions and plans were made to have Commander Sullivan or other comrades to appear at the dif-

Kirk Party Bid Farewell To Bible Lands, Sail For Home By Roundabout Way

Continuing the description of Beyreuth, begun in his last letter, W. B. Kirk writes: "Beyreuth has about 200,000 inhabitants and lies on a gently rising shore in a good location. Its harbor is protected by a breakwater, and it is a regular port of call for three or four lines of steamers beside the irregular boats which navigate the Mediterranean.

W. B. KIRK

"Although it is quite an old city, no mention is made of it in the Bible, I think, under any name. It has a fine climate, and such vegetation as we grow, abounds. This includes palms, dates, bananas, loquats, eucalyptus, pepper, poinsettias, bougainvilleas, etc. The markets contain about the same green fruits and vegetables as ours at this season.

"Most of the trade of the city is done in bazaars in narrow streets, which are of the same character as those in Cairo, Jerusalem and Damascus. I neglected to say that there are no tram lines in Jerusalem, but of course there are in these other cities.

"The place of most interest to Americans is the American University in Beyreuth. Inaugurated in 1866 by Daniel Bliss of New York, it has grown out of its 'college' period into a university, of which its founders and all America may well be proud.

French Influence Seen
"The French mandate has naturally inclined the Syrians to the study of French and to attendance at French colleges rather than at English or American, and this has detracted a little from the attendance at the American University, temporarily, although it has an enrollment of nearly 900 students and a faculty of about 150 teachers. They teach nine modern languages there. Their location, facing the sea, is about the finest in the city and their buildings, all of stone, are well arranged and adequate. There is a total of twenty-seven buildings on the campus. Bayard Dodge is the present president. It is still sustained largely by New Yorkers, I think.

"Our boat, 'The Asia,' of the Fabre line of Marseilles, reached Beyreuth on time but for some reason unknown to me, did not sail till Friday afternoon, twenty-four hours late, so we did not board her till Friday. We pulled out about 5 p. m., having a beautiful sunset in nice warm weather. We have splendid quarters on 'The Asia,' which is a 10,000 ton steel steamer, bound for New York. Her speed is very slow so I don't believe she will reach there in thirty days, when she is due, because she has several stops, at any or all of which she may be delayed.

"They include Constanza, Constantinople, Smyrna, Pireus, Algiers, Lisbon, Madeira, Azores, Halifax and Providence. I don't believe she can make 300 miles a day, so in this distance of over 6000 miles how is she going to do all this by February 10?

Happy Family on Board
"Besides our family there are only four other first class passengers on board, and we have a 'happy family' time. These include a Jewish woman from Jerusalem, who is going to see her father in New York, as the latter is in very bad health; an older woman of German birth or extraction, who has been in Palestine and the Near East for three years, but who is an American; a Jew, Boston American, who has been in Syria buying wool and other things for a year or so; and a young American from Atlanta, graduate of Princeton, who obtained a Rhodes scholarship and is now in his third year in Oxford.

"The latter is a fine tall chap and has a wonderful start for a boy. He has traveled all over America and Europe and has just been in Egypt, Palestine, Trans-Jordania and Syria for some weeks. He is not showy but has acquired the dignity and speech of the English to some extent and, I believe, will make his mark in the world. He seeks information and advice everywhere and with his experience in travel and education, and contact with the world he has secured a fund of information such as few have had a chance to acquire.

"Americans should travel more. They would be broader thinking, better citizens for their knowledge of other countries and peoples and, realizing that 'all the world's a kin' and that 'human nature is the same the world around,' they would be willing to assume more responsibility for the condition of the world and would be able and willing to do more for world peace, in my judgment.

Enter Dardanelles
"Saturday and Sunday passed uneventfully but Monday morning early we stopped at the entrance to the Dardanelles, then proceeded a little further to Chanak, stopping there again for health officer or pilot and then going on toward Constantinople. I neglected to say that we have passed right by that city and proceeded through the Bosphorus, to Constanza, Roumania, about half way to Odessa, before returning and landing in Constantinople. The reason for this was to avoid a double quarantine inspection by the Turkish authorities.

"In Constanza we pick up 300 or more steerage passengers for America. I suppose they will be the usual scum from the classes, in which are least desirable, but which, in some way, we manage to offload.

"Of course I have been writing the above on the way, but we are now near the city of Constanza, where I expect to mail this and to try to see a little of the town, while we are in harbor. We expect to have plenty of time as we are to be here at least twenty-four ferent meetings and present the misunderstood question of the bonus.

A Washington birthday party is being planned by Comrades Wirt and Hoover for the post to be held in the big hall at the head of Briggs Terrace. The date is to be February 22.

BURBANK BOULEVARD SITE BRINGS $100,000

Increase in Realty Values Shown as Deals Call for Bigger Sums

Larger and larger sums are involved in Burbank realty deals, as values rise. The newest transaction sells to the Schuler Investment company the 3. B. Cameron property at the corner of San Fernando boulevard and Angeleno avenue. The sum involved is reported as approximately $100,000.

The lot fronts 95 feet on the boulevard and 106 feet on the avenue, and comprises the Lovejoy garage, the Army and Navy store, the Mumford restaurant, the shoe shining nook and the Cameron hotel above. The new owners plan to raze the present buildings, at some time in the future, and erect something that will probably be not less than four stories in height.

Other Realty Deals
Elmer Dale promises a two-story apartment "as fine as anything in Burbank," and to contain fourteen units, on the site recently purchased from C. R. Stevens, located on Olive avenue, just below the Southern California Gas company's new building.

B. F. Farley is building an $8000 house on Sherlock drive for Mr. and Mrs. Loy. R. M. Haines is finishing a $5000 house on Grinnel drive. Other recent permits include: A $4000 residence for Austin Chute, to be built by A. J. Johnson at 1018 Verdugo avenue; a $2700 residence for Chas. Wolfange, on the Central Square tract out on Central avenue, and a $1500 edifice to be built by the Triangle Planning company at 39 Orange Grove avenue to house the company's offices.

Concert Last Night

The Burbank Choral club entertained Hollywood with an excellent concert last night, given at the First Christian church of that community. Vern Isom, violinist, and Gladys Shelton Fischer, soprano soloist, assisted the club.
