Mayor of Cork, on Hunger Strike, Sent To Jail in England

Found Guilty of Seditious By Courtmartial Yesterday, McSweeney Was Deported to England; Destroyer Carried Him; Still Refused to Take Food.

Cork, Aug. 17.—Terrence McSweeney, Lord Mayor of Cork, was deported to England to-day aboard a destroyer, after having been found guilty of seditious by a courtmartial yesterday. McSweeney still refused to eat, continuing the hunger strike he started when arrested.

A dispatch from Cork last night said that when called before the court yesterday Terrence McSweeney, Lord Mayor of Cork, was weak as the result of his refusal to take food.

"I am the Lord Mayor of this city and its Chief Magistrate," he declared. "I declare this court illegal and those taking part in it liable to arrest under the laws of the Irish Republic."

Paris, Aug. 17.—The treaty of peace between the Allies and Bulgaria, signed last November, was officially promulgated to-day.

Will Oppose Seven Cent Fare; Decision May Entail Rupture of Negotiations

Feeling that the B. C. Electric Railway Company has repudiated the terms to which it agreed earlier in the year, and appreciating the possibility that it might cease its operations in Victoria, the City Council will fight to the last ditch against the transportation concern's application to the Board of Railway Commissioners for a seven-cent street car fare.

This became clear this morning, following a meeting of the Civic Legislative Committee, which has conducted all negotiations with the company, and which has just received what it considers an ultimatum from A. T. Goward, Victoria manager of the company. The committee will draw up a report on the whole matter for presentation to the City Council Monday and it will be for the Council to decide formally upon a line of action. There is no doubt, however, that a majority of aldermen will support the committee in its decision not to entertain a fare of seven and one-half cents in return for a seven-cent street car fare. At present the lighting rate is eleven cents, less a twenty per cent. discount for prompt payment. In other words the reduction offered by the company is from 8.8 cents to seven and one-half cents. At present there is a meter rental of twenty cents a month charged against all consumers. This the company does not offer to eliminate, as had been hoped.

BETTER CONDITIONS ON RAILROAD WORK

Britishers Wanted Rather Than Other Europeans, Says Vancouver Meeting

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—Representatives of a dozen community organizations here conferred yesterday at the City Hall upon employment and immigration problems.

The result was impetus to a movement expected to assume Dominion-wide proportions for the placing of present unemployed men in railroad construction work under better living conditions, and a "drive" toward an influx of British labor rather than a cosmopolitan tide of workers from any and all parts of Europe.

Those discussing the problems conceded that the tide of immigration would follow the declared need of the railroads for construction workers in thousands. They likewise determined upon united efforts to bring the living standard of railroad construction work to a basis where it would attract British workers, and obviate the necessity of Canadian railroads importing 20,000 Italians, a plan already suggested as a necessity in some quarters.

Floating Population.
 Civic Welfare Superintendent George D. Ireland, at whose instance the matter was originally broached, said it was impossible to estimate the unemployed by numbers, but there was a large number idle, the majority comprising that class known as "floating population," moving from one job to another. Mr. Ireland referred to the reported intention of Canadian railroads to import thousands of European foreigners for railroad construction, and cited the working conditions on this class of employment, which he said made it impossible for the white man, or the man with a family, to engage in.

Pensions.
 Mr. Daterworth, of the Department of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, asserted that the maximum imperial pension of 15 shillings per week would not commence adequately to support a disabled soldier in Vancouver, and he thought there should be a synchronized method of adjustment in the workings of the British and Canadian departments the more adequately to look after these pensioners coming here as immigrants. The British method of issuing passports to immigrants was at fault, with the result that many "undocumented" persons arrived. The speaker thought it imperative that some British Columbia authority institute a thorough system of personal investigation of all immigrants.

In Camps.
 Mr. McInstry, of the S.C.R., said the much-advertised "splendid opportunities" for immigrants were invariably in railroad camps, under conditions which white men found unpalatable, and under wages which left nothing but bare existence for the married man with a family.

F. F. Welsh, labor leader, urged limitation of immigration, a propaganda of "truth about the country," in the United Kingdom, and the bettering of working conditions generally. A country like Canada could not be built to greatness on a semi-starvation policy for its workers.

Would Consider It.
 Asked by Imperial veterans whether his company would consider a scheme for bringing ex-imperialists from the United Kingdom for the work on the railroads, F. W. Peters, of the C.P.R., said the railroad would be pleased to give favorable consideration to any such scheme that might be presented. Another meeting will be called at an early date.

SILESIA WORKMEN OPPOSE FRENCH

London, Aug. 17.—Workmen in Upper Silesia regard France's recognition of General Wrangel, the anti-Bolshevik leader in South Russia, as equivalent to a declaration of war on Russia, and accordingly will refuse to recognize the French representatives on the Plebiscite Commission, contending they are not neutral, says The Daily Mail's Katowits correspondent.

Six trains of French troops from the Teschen area, the correspondent states, were held up at Gleiwitz by workmen, who feared they were going to help Poland. The French commander, he adds, then issued an ultimatum demanding a clear passage or he would use machine guns. The workmen are said to be armed.

The Belgian Government forbade the shipment of a quantity of ammunition which had arrived at Antwerp from France, destined for General Wrangel, according to an Antwerp dispatch to The Daily Mail yesterday. This action, it was believed, was due to announcement by Belgian workmen that they would refuse to handle the shipment.

BRITISH PARLIAMENT TAKES ADJOURNMENT

To Meet Again Oct. 19, Unless Developments Cause Earlier Gathering

London, Aug. 17.—The House of Commons last night agreed to the motion of Rt. Hon. Andrew Bonar Law, Government Leader, adjourning the House until October 19, but empowered the Speaker to summon Parliament earlier should public interest demand. This and Mr. Bonar Law's declaration that should Russia's armistice terms to Poland be not materially altered, the Government would not act without consulting Parliament, met the Opposition objections that the country should not be committed to any intervention against Russia without consent of Parliament.

Mr. Bonar Law confirmed that the armistice terms to Poland as announced by Russia were approved by Great Britain and Italy, and said that if they were altered, and that Great Britain would not interfere.

Paragraphs in newspapers, considered by some to have been inspired, had led the public to expect some new declarations of policy toward Ireland from the Prime Minister or Mr. Bonar Law on lines of Dominion Home Rule, but this expectation met with disappointment.

An Offer.
 Mr. Lloyd George confined himself to repeating his offer that the Government would discuss a settlement with any Government of Irish opinion, not excluding the Sinn Feiners, provided they accepted the three stipulations—that Northern Ulster's six counties must be treated separately, that there must be no secession of any part of Ireland from the United Kingdom, and that the Government could not agree to anything that would involve any detraction from the security of the British Isles or their safety in case of war.

The guarded statement, probably will be interpreted as an invitation to continue outside discussion of a Dominion settlement, which has made such unsteady progress recently.

Labor and Russia.
 The Prime Minister's remarks concerning Labor's ultimatum against war on Russia were mainly devoted to an attack on John R. Clynes, former Food Controller, for associating himself with the "direct action" policy of the labor party.

Dealing with Labor's ultimatum, he said that any attempt to dictate the policy of the Government or Parliament by industrial action struck at the root of the democratic constitution of the country and would be resisted by all the forces at the Government's disposal.

Loud cheers greeted the declaration. Mr. Lloyd George asserted that the Government's policy concerning Russia and Poland differed in no way from the Labor policy, and said: "This swing of the sledge hammer by the open door by Labor was intended only for display."

No Unanimity.
 The Prime Minister argued that the recent division between France and Great Britain had strengthened his conviction that the League of Nations could not have been usefully convoked in the case of Poland because the League could not act with unanimity and the Russians had refused to accept intervention by the League.

He declared that the British Government's policy had been clear and consistent throughout. He had always protested against an invasion by the Poles of territory beyond the Polish border, and said he had now regretted not having followed the British advice, which would have averted a great disaster. He promised soon to publish a series of dispatches exchanged on the subject. Publication now would be inadvisable while the negotiations were pending.

Mr. Lloyd George said Poland had been clearly acquainted with the limits within which the British Government was prepared to give the Poles support.

MORE GRAIN IN PUBLIC ELEVATORS

Ottawa, Aug. 17.—Returns issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics show that for the week ended August 6, 1920, the quantity of grain in stores at the different public elevators throughout Canada has increased 791,307 bushels in wheat and oats, as compared with the previous week.

Increases were shown of 449,943 and 341,364 bushels respectively in the foregoing grains. Barley, flax and rye showed decreases of 134,974; 32,847 and 25,781 bushels respectively.

Stocks in store for the week totaled 7,024,784 bushels of wheat; 2,145,997 oats; 1,972,400 barley; 644,258 flax and 48,293 rye.

TAKE PHOSPHATE WITH MEALS IN SUMMERTIME

Your Nerves Demand It. Your Blood Needs It, Say Physicians.

There's not enough phosphorus in modern foods to benefit nearly one-half of the men and women of America, scientists feel.

To overcome this lack of an element of your food that is necessary for health, your happiness and even your success in life, weak, anemic, nervous, run-down people are advised to take Nitro-Phosphate as dispensed in leading drug stores in the United States.

Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve and are often nervous, it is said that shaking their nerve force and stimulating it, and in many such cases the administration of Nitro-Phosphate has produced, seemingly magical results.

"Patients who were apparently physical wrecks, who felt the heat of summer, tired easily and often nervous irritability depressed, will find Nitro-Phosphate an invigorative and helpful tonic."

Druggists report a wonderful increase in the demand for men and women who are anxious to enjoy old-time ambitions and who are making an honest effort to become vigorous and brain-minded with a power of endurance that denotes almost perfect health.

They ask for Nitro-Phosphate because they know they need an inexpensive organic phosphate.

Winnipeg, Aug. 17.—"The revolution we want is the revolution of the ballot box," said George Isaacs, Mayor of Southwark, London, England, speaking yesterday afternoon at Assiniboine Park at a luncheon tendered by the city of Winnipeg to the visiting delegates of the Imperial Press Conference.

Mr. Isaacs, who is president of the Printing and Kindred Trades Federation of England, said he had spoken as a labor man and a believer in labor principles. He said that the use of the word "Bolshevism," Bolshevism, he said, "is no manance if the press does its duty." If the press sits on the safety valve of public opinion, something is bound to happen, and the outlet is in the form of the I.W.W. and the O.B.U., and in revolutionary societies. If the press fails to recognize the aspirations and the ideals of the common people it is playing into the hands of the exploiters. The seat of labor in Great Britain, and in this country is just as solid for the British Empire as is any other class.

Mr. Isaacs appealed for the building of a bridge of understanding over the differences between the classes. "We are trying to do this by industrial councils," he went on. "The first attempt will fail, but some of

St. Mary's Ont., Aug. 17.—Hon. Arthur Meighen, one of Ontario's Township and late student of St. Mary's College, returned yesterday to the scenes of his boyhood days as Prime Minister of Canada.

Guest of honor in a public demonstration such as the town never witnessed before, it was plain, nevertheless, that to the people of this district the Prime Minister is still Arthur Meighen, and that to him, St. Mary's is first of all, the old home.

The luncheon and Board of Trade had left nothing undone to show honor to the native son of South Perth, now called to so high a position.

But the real reception, if one might judge from the Prime Minister's face, came from the men and women who thronged in hundreds after the parade in the morning and again after the addresses in the afternoon to press his hand and to have a word about former days.

"St. Mary's is St. Mary's still," said Mr. Meighen, toward the close of his address. "It is the old family home, and with it are associated memories that surround no other place in the world for me. This is the home of parentage, the home of learning, the home of the first simple truths, the last to fade from the mind; the home of earliest friendships. The most sacred and inspiring of all is the home around which revolves the memory of brothers and sisters now very far away, and one generation that is gone forever. In the two score and more years since I left this place as an abode, time has done its work. The furrow it has ploughed has been deep and the mark it has left lasting. But love is not love that alters when it alteration finds."

A telegram of regret on account of inability to be present was received from Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, the Liberal Leader.

The reception accorded the Prime Minister was entirely non-political.

BRITISHERS AND THEIR RULE BY BALLOT

Winnipeg, Aug. 17.—"The revolution we want is the revolution of the ballot box," said George Isaacs, Mayor of Southwark, London, England, speaking yesterday afternoon at Assiniboine Park at a luncheon tendered by the city of Winnipeg to the visiting delegates of the Imperial Press Conference.

Mr. Isaacs, who is president of the Printing and Kindred Trades Federation of England, said he had spoken as a labor man and a believer in labor principles. He said that the use of the word "Bolshevism," Bolshevism, he said, "is no manance if the press does its duty." If the press sits on the safety valve of public opinion, something is bound to happen, and the outlet is in the form of the I.W.W. and the O.B.U., and in revolutionary societies. If the press fails to recognize the aspirations and the ideals of the common people it is playing into the hands of the exploiters. The seat of labor in Great Britain, and in this country is just as solid for the British Empire as is any other class.

Mr. Isaacs appealed for the building of a bridge of understanding over the differences between the classes. "We are trying to do this by industrial councils," he went on. "The first attempt will fail, but some of

DIPLOMATIC PARTY HAD NARROW ESCAPE

Tokio, Aug. 16.—Senor Martinez de Alva, Mexican Charge d'Affaires here, and the Bolivian secretary of Legation, Georges Valdes, and his wife, who narrowly escaped drowning yesterday while bathing on the seacoast at Deushi, were swept half a mile to sea on a big wave when a small boat broke. They were separated, but eventually climbed on a small raft.

The diplomats and the woman were borne out to sea for two hours, the raft capsizing repeatedly. Meantime Senora Munoz, wife of the Bolivian Minister, perceived the situation through a telescope. Boy Scouts sounded the alarm. Sampans of Japanese fishermen capsized seven times before they could be launched.

The volunteers rescued the diplomats and Senora Valdes in an exhausted condition.

Watch Teeth Whiten When You Remove the Film

All Statements Approved by High Dental Authorities

This is to urge a ten-day test of a tooth paste which combats the film. High authorities have proved it. Five years of tests have placed it beyond question.

Compare the results with your old methods, and let your own teeth decide. Film Destroys Teeth

That filmy film which you feel on your teeth causes most tooth troubles. Every modern dentist knows that. Dental science, for many years, has sought a way to end it.

Science now has found a way to end it. Five years of tests have proved this. The way is now embodied in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And we urge you to see what it does.

But pepsin must be activated, and the usual method is an acid harmful to the teeth. So pepsin long seemed barred. But science has now found a harmless activating method. It is made use of in Pepsodent.

Now millions of teeth are daily cleaned as they never were before. Try the method ten days on yours.

THE FATE OF WARSAW.

The announcement sent out from Soviet military quarters at Vilna on Sunday that Warsaw had been captured was rather premature, to say the least.

The main fighting front extends from the junction of the Bug and Narw rivers, twenty-five miles north of Warsaw, in a semi-circle about twenty miles east of the city, the line then passing southeast to the Bug, which it follows into Galicia east of Lemberg.

The fate of Warsaw must be determined in a very short time, for the Bolsheviks cannot undertake a siege. They are not sufficiently equipped for maintaining prolonged military activities outside their own country.

With proper organization, the loyal support of the population and skilful leadership, the Poles should be able to hold Warsaw, but just how far these three conditions are present it is impossible to discover at this range.

TRAIN THE MEN.

treasury by the sale of the Rainbow's hull, and transfer it to the Navy League for training purposes.

WILL AVOID IT.

In reply to a question in the British House of Commons yesterday Mr. Lloyd George informed an inquisitive member that any attempt on the part of British Labor to dictate the policy of the Government in its relations with Russia, by the application of industrial action, would strike at the roots of the democratic constitution of the country, and would be resisted by all the forces at the Government's disposal.

At first sight this announcement may appear to possess a gravity transcending anything of a similar nature which the country has been faced since the fateful days more than six years ago.

He has subdued the impetuous Winston; he has held his ground with the French Premier, and he has succeeded in getting the Italian Government's agreement in the armistice proposals of the Soviet authorities.

CANADA AND THE U. S.

According to a New York estimate Canadian securities held in the United States on July 1, aggregated $534,248,513.

Among the provinces of Canada, Ontario is shown as the heaviest debtor of Uncle Sam, with a total borrowing of $30,800,000 on the part of the Provincial Government.

In the list of municipal borrowings the compilation places Toronto at the head of Canadian cities, with loans in the United States of $17,119,633, while the Toronto Harbor Commission is shown as having $5,000,000 of its bonds outstanding in the United States.

These figures reflect a condition brought about by the war. Before the great struggle most of Canada's securities were disposed of in the Old Country, which had come to be regarded as the natural market for them.

The League of Nations has purchased one of the largest of Geneva's hostels, where the staffs of the member nations will be housed.

It is stated from Constantinople that the day of mourning set aside to "observe" the unfavorable character of the Turkish Peace Treaty was not a success; it was poorly advertised and not generally observed.

OTHER PAPERS' VIEWS

VALUE OF THE MUNICIPAL FRANCHISE.

The Manitoba Legislature at its last session complied with the request of the city of Winnipeg for a broadening of its municipal franchise and the value of its franchise has been increased by nearly fifty per cent.

The control of municipal government was originally in the hands of the property owners, their special interest being that bad government would come back on the property holders in the form of heavier taxation.

POLES' FRESH EFFORTS 'RELIEVE' THE BOLSHIEVİK PRESSURE ON WARSAW

Warsaw, Aug. 17.—There were renewed signs at the front Sunday that the Poles were taking a more prominent part in the guidance of the Polish army.

Paris, Aug. 17.—Several successful counter-attacks have been launched by the Poles against the Russians who have been hammering against the gates of Warsaw.

Berlin, Aug. 17.—The Russian forward march is continuing and the Soviet forces have taken Lautenburg, Strassburg, Loebau, Luckenredend, Graudenz and Thorn, all in West Prussia, where strong resistance was expected, according to dispatches to The Morgenpost.

Further south Russians are outside Novo Minsk and the northern forts of Minsk. On the road to Novo Minsk the Russians have pushed further to the south and taken the Polish forces on the Bug in the rear.

car tracks and give a percentage of its profits to the City. It was only after negotiations had been proceeding for some time that the Company asked the City for a seven cent fare, much to the astonishment of the civic authorities.

As a result of Mr. Goward's letter and the Committee's deliberations this morning, therefore, negotiations between the City and the Company are off. As a matter of fact, of course, the Company really took the whole matter out of the City's hands when it appeared to the Board of Railway Commissioners some time ago for a seven cent fare, but it was hoped that the two parties to the dispute could agree on the matter before the Board considered the Company's application.

As soon as the City Council has considered the report of the Legislative Committee, it is planned, the City Solicitor will be instructed to proceed to prepare a case opposing the grant of a seven cent fare to the Company. The grounds upon which that case will be based have to be determined, and until the Council can consider the matter members of the Legislative Committee, of course, refuse to discuss the question.

If the Railway Board should grant the Company a seven cent fare the City still will be in a position to deal with the Company, for it will not be forced to eliminate jitneys. It is considered that the Company could not charge a seven cent fare in competition with jitneys charging a five cent fare.

FATHER AND GIRL DROWNED TOGETHER

William King and Daughter Perish at Goldstream Before Wife's Eyes

In a vain attempt to save her father from drowning, sixteen-year-old Louise King was drowned with William King at Goldstream yesterday afternoon before the eyes of Mrs. King and her two other children who were powerless to help.

Mr. King was fishing yesterday in Goldstream about four hundred yards from the Goldstream Hotel, and just below the spot where the old Leech River trail crosses the stream. He was standing on a rock just below the falls when he slipped and fell into a deep pool in which there was a strong current. Seeing that her father, who could not swim, was in danger, Louise King without hesitation sprang in after him but as she could swim but little her heroic attempt was useless. Both father and daughter sank while Mrs. King and her other children, aged seven and ten, looked on helpless. The bodies were shortly recovered and were worked upon for an hour before all hope was abandoned.

Notified of the fatality the Provincial Police Department here dispatched Constables MacLean and Clark to the scene on a motorcycle. They assisted in the attempts to revive the man and girl.

Later in the afternoon the bodies were brought into the city and are now at the Thomson Funeral Parlors. The inquiry took place this afternoon. Mr. King resided at 341 Dundas Street and was well known in church circles as an active worker and the superintendent of the Sunday School of Centennial Church.

FRILLS VERSUS NON-FRILLS.

To the Editor:—While I am discussing the question of frills I might as well get down to the root of the matter.

Of late years this province has become a sort of happy hunting ground for specialists, men looking for soft snaps, where there was "little to do and plenty to get" to borrow an expression from the famous Sergeant Buzza. As a result we now have superintendents, supervisors and inspectors of everything in the heavens above and in the earth beneath, all drawing fairly liberal stipends from the various treasuries, and all blessed with sufficient leisure in which to spend them. All these are consummate advertisers; they magnify their various specialties and each does his best to squeeze as much of his specialty as possible into the course of study of our public schools and high schools. They are not wholly disinterested in this, because the permanency of their positions depends to some extent upon their ability to convince the people that they need the very thing they have to offer. As a result the course of study has become so diluted with these extras that there is not left time to teach thoroughly the fundamental subjects as they were formerly taught, and boys and girls are turned out from our schools with a smattering of almost everything and the ability to do accurately little or nothing.

Now I have nothing to say against agricultural education in itself, if this subject is taught in the right way and in the right time and place. I can easily see how an agricultural expert might earn his salary, and a liberal one at that, if stationed at the Spanish municipal hall, devoting his whole time to giving expert advice to the farmers of the entire municipality. He might advise them regarding soil, drainage, rotation of crops, fertilizers, fruit culture, poultry raising, insect pests, etc.; also give addresses at times to the farmers in the various sections of the municipality, and at the same time carefully collect the agricultural statistics each year, thus stimulating the farmers to a greater production. Such an expert, I repeat, might earn his salary and do a lot of good.

But it always looked to me like a huge joke to see one of these agricultural experts traveling over the roads of Spanish in a "Litho" provided by the Government, going from school to school, supervising school gardens and trying to teach farmers' children, little boys and girls of from 10 to 14 years of age, how to raise onions, and such like. That does not seem to me to be a sensible way to spend public money on agricultural education. In fact it appears to me to be a good way to waste money.

An equally amusing spectacle would be to see farmers' daughters of similar ages, accustomed for years to assisting their mothers in household duties and in cooking, trudging for miles to some domestic science centre there to receive instruction in the intricacies of making angel cake and ludge and some other things.

Some of the things which certain of our experts have done are deserving of special mention. For example one of them has published a pamphlet to be used as an aid to teachers in teaching nature-study and hygiene. In my opinion the pamphlet ought to be burned by the public hangman. To put it more mildly the book is not suitable for the purpose for which it was intended. The teacher who attempted to follow it as a guide would have a fine time for other frills, or anything else.

A garden party which the King and Queen gave at Buckingham Palace, on July 30, was a most enjoyable function. The King was in a frock coat and silk hat, and the Queen wore a beautiful gown of oyster color, trimmed with a gold lace petticoat, with a bunch of colored flowers at the waist, and her toque of vari-colored brocade had a most up-standing marabou feather. Her ornaments were emeralds and diamonds. Princess Mary wore a pretty shade of pink, and a black hat with blue ribbon. THE LADY MINTO HOSPITAL AT GANGES HARBOR

FAMOUS ENGLISH BEAUTY HAS DIED

Mrs. Cornwallis-West Captivated Gladstone With an Irish Song.

Mrs. Cornwallis-West, who died at Arnewood, near Milford, Hampshire, after a long illness, was one of the most famous beauties of her day.

Following the death of her husband in 1917 Mrs. Cornwallis-West lost her old vigor. In the Spring of this year she visited the Riviera, but her illness became aggravated. She returned to England in June in the care of her daughters, the Duchess of Westminster and the Princess of Wales. There was then little hope of her recovery.

It was in the late seventies of last century that Mrs. Cornwallis-West, the wife of a Denbighshire squire, William Cornwallis-West, began to be talked about as "the prettiest woman in England," says a writer in The Daily Mail.

"She was not only her dark eyes, her charm of expression, her regular features, which made her attractive. She was also clever, full of life, full of fun. She was like a flash of electric energy among the conventionalities of the age."

Her birth was aristocratic. She was the child of a clergyman in Ireland who had married one of Lord Headford's daughters, herself a remarkable woman. Lady Olivia Fitzpatrick died only four years ago, at the age of 72. In the Irish rectory there was neither much money nor much discipline. Mrs. Cornwallis-West used to say she seldom wore shoes any longer because of her mother's discipline. She was married in 1872. Twenty-five years afterwards she still looked a young woman and was in the height of her social triumphs. She had captivated Mr. Gladstone by singing to him "The Wearin' of the Green." She played tricks upon such dignitaries as Nubar Pasha in Egypt and the Russian Archbishop in St. Petersburg. She entertained the Kaiser and numberless others of the world's famous ones at her husband's castle or in his yacht.

War Office Inquiry.

In the third year of the war there were heard whispers about Mrs. Cornwallis-West's "influence" at the War Office and about certain promotions she was said to have "arranged." These whispers became so loud that a military court of inquiry went into the subject-matter of them, with a report very damaging for Mrs. Cornwallis-West. It appeared that a young sergeant in a Welsh regiment had been given a commission on the recommendation of a number of people including Mrs. Cornwallis-West and her husband. "Probably before this time," the court reported, "and certainly later, Mrs. West began to take a serious interest in the conduct of the war. She was, in fact, a lieutenant and was transferred to another battalion."

The court in their findings blamed severely Mrs. West. "Her injudicious boasting of the power she wielded at the administration at the War Office was condemned as 'highly discreditable.'" Her evidence was described as "untruthful," and the court expressed its regret that she should hold positions of importance in Denbighshire in connection with her work. "Her son wrote a defence of his mother which seemed to many people to contain a good deal that was true. She was, he said, 'an impetuous Irishwoman.'" She was guilty of indiscretion, vanity might have caused her to boast of a power she did not possess. The insinuations against her, however, he "absolutely denied."

MISTAKE OR CONFESSION

The nervous bridegroom was called upon to make a speech at the wedding. Putting his hand on his bride's shoulder, he hesitatingly remarked: "Ladies and gentlemen, this thing has been thrust upon me."—Tit-Bits (London).

Two Highlanders stood looking at the imposing facade of a building in Westminster. The corner stone bore the date in Roman characters, "MCMIV." "Look at that, Angus," said one. "I've never heard the name MCMIV before, but there's a Scotsman who's got his name on one of the finest buildings in London. Ye canna keep them down, can ye?"

"Woman! You have ruined me with your extravagance. I am penniless. There is only one place for me now. Good-bye, I am going!"

"To the river!"

"Well, you'll be passing the post-office. Do you mind posting this letter?"

Tucked away in a delightful wooded retreat at Ganges Harbor, Salt Spring Island, with the odorous pines breathing a restful, healing scent upon the air and where the convalescent finds the journey back to health eased by glimpses of islet-studded seas, and the distant Olympics, is the Lady Minto Gull Islands Hospital. This institution represents the "port of health" to the inhabitants of Salt Spring, Pender, Galiano, Mayne, Saturna and Moresby Islands, and its history is interesting. Passengers on the steamers which ply to these islands have often noticed a launch with a capable business-like woman at the helm and may have speculated as to her identity. She is Dr. Ethel Sutherland, the only resident practitioner in the Islands and medico of the hospital.

Started Seven Years Ago.

Seven years ago, Dr. Beach, who since the war has risen to the rank of Colonel Beach of the C.A.M.C., was practicing on the Islands and saw the necessity for a local hospital to obviate the necessity of taking cases to Vancouver or Victoria for treatment. He inaugurated a campaign to raise sufficient funds to commence the project, and with the assistance of the Provincial Government, the hospital was erected and formally opened by Dr. H. E. Young, Secretary of the Provincial Board of Health.

Dr. Beach was the first doctor associated with the Hospital and after his departure for overseas he was succeeded by Dr. Fraser, who afterwards resigned. Dr. Ethel Sutherland, who came to the Islands several years ago to practice, was then appointed medico to the hospital, and her duties take her to each of the inhabited Gull Islands.

A Much-Decorated Matron.

The first matron was Miss Colquhoun, now Mrs. Frank Crofton, who after giving splendid service at the hospital resigned in 1915 to undertake nursing duties overseas. While in Saloniki she then Miss Colquhoun performed a signal act of bravery, lifting with her own hands a live bomb which fell in the precincts of the hospital at which she was nursing and throwing it at some distance, where it exploded, doing very little damage. Her heroic act saved the lives of many wounded soldiers and members of the hospital staff, and in recognition she was decorated with the British Military Medal, the Croix de Guerre and the Serbian Gold Medal, three unusual honors for a woman. On her return to Canada Miss Colquhoun was married to Mr. Crofton, who saw considerable service overseas, and with him now resides at Ganges, close to the hospital where she does such excellent pioneer work. Needless to say the islanders are proud of their ex-matron and her magnificent record of service.

Miss Kerwin, Mrs. Lovelace and Miss Fulton respectively succeeded Miss Colquhoun as matrons at the hospital and two months ago Miss Wood assumed that post. Miss Wood is a graduate of an English hospital with considerable experience. For two years she was matron at Histon Rouge Hospital, Louisiana, U.S.A., and latterly held a similar position at the hospital at Alert Bay for two months. At present there are two nurses, Miss Barrett and Miss Potts at the Lady Minto Hospital in addition to Miss Wood.

Unique Financial Plan.

The institution is financed on a unique basis. Subscribers throughout the islands contribute fifty cents per month. Payment of three months' subscriptions in advance is equivalent to a form of insurance for it entitles the subscriber to free medical attention, with half-rates for maternity cases. The advantage of this to the subscriber cannot be overestimated, for it obviates the embarrassment of paying medical bills, while at the same time the hospital gains by having a settled and certain income on which to depend for maintenance.

Twelve months ago a big campaign for membership was inaugurated with satisfactory results, so that there are now nearly four hundred subscribers. In addition to this income, the hospital has received considerable material help from the Sunshine Guild, of which Mrs. J. Mount, of Ganges Harbor, is the president, and which has assisted to the extent of between $1,300 and $1,400. The I. O. E. Chapter at Salt Spring, the Women's Institute and the Hospital Auxiliary at Pender Island, of which Mrs. Corbett is the president, have also given yeoman assistance to the project.

Excellent Arrangements.

A recent visit to the institution by a Times representative revealed an excellence of arrangements worthy of an urban hospital. Secluded among pine trees and adjacent to the main road which runs the length of Salt Spring Island, the hospital is an ideal place in which to seek health. Each of the wards open on to a wide, shady veranda from which may be obtained a vision of the sea, seen through the fringed pines like a sapphire in a filigree setting. Glistening white paint and polished floors impart a pristine air to the wards and the service rooms which range on either side of the main, airy corridor. The wards include a room recently used for patients under the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment scheme, a maternity ward endowed and fitted by the Guild of Sunshine and a maternity room, furnished by Mrs. Langley, while the sitting room with its cosy furnishings was the gift of the Ganges Chapter, I. O. E. There are seven beds in all.

The operating room is equipped for minor operations only. On the top floor are the nurses' quarters and a spacious room which is intended in the near future to convert into adequate quarters for the staff, there being at present insufficient accommodation.

Committee in Charge.

The running of the hospital and the engaging of the staff is in the hands of a house committee, comprising Mrs. J. Mount, chairman; Mrs. Smith, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Perry Beach, Mrs. H. Johnson, Mrs. Price and Mrs. C. Abbott. The Hospital Board, which undertakes the financial arrangements, includes: Ed. Walters, president; Rev. W. M. Aitken, secretary; W. M. Mount, treasurer; Messrs. H. Price, O. Stacey, C. C. Castle, H. A. Stacey, Holmes, Mrs. Castle, Mrs. James, Mrs. J. Mount and Mrs. Spaulding, of Pender Island.

Local Concert Party.

In aid of the funds of the hospital a concert party left Victoria to-day on a tour of the Gulf Islands. The party comprises Master Willie Locke, of Christ Church Cathedral choir; Mrs. Gould, soprano, who is so well known as the soloist at the Centennial Church; Miss Ida New, member of St. John's choir; P. H. Hughes, tenor, organist of St. Barnabas'; C. E. Locke, bass, of Christ Church Cathedral choir, and a violinist, Vernon Smith.

To-night they will give a concert at Mayne Island; at Hope Bay, North Pender, on Wednesday; at Ganges, Salt Spring Island, on Thursday; and on James Island on Friday.

PONZI TOTAL IS SET AT $5,000,000

Boston, Aug. 17.—Five million dollars was set to-day as the probable amount of the public money entrusted to Charles Ponzi and not returned before his get-rich-quick bubble burst last week.

partment in the Province, and George H. Deane, assistant director, who were with the deputy minister's party recently here, have been in conference on the matter, and have examined the details incidental to such a consolidation.

The hospital situated at Craigdarroch castle was taken over early last year, and fitted up at considerable expense for its new needs, and suitable quarters built in the grounds for vocational work.

No local representatives of the medical department of the S.C.R. have been advised yet of any contemplated change. Dr. Proctor could not be reached in Vancouver to-day.

OVER SEVEN HUNDRED FIRES UP TO PRESENT

Heavy Winds Fanning a Number of Fires in Vancouver Forest District

Since the commencement of the hazardous season seven hundred and five timber fires have been reported to the Forest Branch of the Provincial Department of Lands, while the cost of fighting them has absorbed the sum of $55,208, according to an announcement made by the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, Minister of Lands, this morning.

During the week ending at noon yesterday conditions generally throughout the Province have become extremely hot and dangerous, with the exception of Prince Rupert, where recent heavy rains have reduced the risk considerably.

In the Vancouver district—which includes Vancouver Island—strong west winds are fanning a number of fires on the Mainland and in the vicinity of Victoria, hot and dry conditions adding to the general hazard at this season of the year. At Kamloops several fires are still burning, while extremely hot and heavy winds are hindering the work of the Department. The same remarks apply to the Cariboo, although the loss is not expected to be much.

Nine fires are reported from the Vernon district with hot and dry climatic conditions prevailing throughout the neighborhood of the wooded areas. At Prince George hot and dry weather has made the situation dangerous. Conditions have improved in the Nelson and Cranbrook sections.

BECOMES RESIDENT OF VICTORIA; WAS PROMINENT AT NELSON

Mr. and Mrs. William Richardson have arrived from Nelson to reside here. Mr. Richardson, during his 27 years' residence in Nelson followed the occupation of a carpenter, and was a familiar figure in sporting circles. True to his Scottish instincts, he formed the first curling club in the city and was manager of the skating rink for a number of years. A son, Norman Richardson, who is a patient of Kootenay Lake General Hospital, and a daughter, Miss Nellie Richardson, will continue to reside in Nelson city.

Outbreak South of Humpback Reservoir Fanned by Yesterday's Gale

Victoria's water supply is still endangered and the Humpback watershed is menaced by a serious forest fire which is raging near the Humpback Reservoir in the hills south of Goldstream. A determined battle is being waged against the flames by men in charge of city waterworks officials, but the fire this morning was reported to be creeping down the hills toward the reservoir and to be alarmingly near the concrete flow line from Sooke Lake, the pipe through which passed the water to be consumed by Victoria homes and industries.

Pickers Are Blamed.

The fire actually started near the pipe line last Friday, caused, it is believed by a small fire lighted by a party of blackberry pickers near the old school house west of Humpback. Waterworks officials, however, considered that they had the flames under control by Sunday, but the gale which swept the south of the island yesterday, blowing them into a serious conflagration. The fire fighters attempted only to keep the blaze back from the pipe line which if overheat would grate and break. During yesterday the fire spread to the peat bogs, not far from the water pipe line and still is burning there.

Fire Engine Arrives.

City Engineer and Wafer Commissioner F. M. Preston was notified yesterday afternoon that the fire was reaching serious proportions and he immediately set out for the reservoir by motor, arriving there before four o'clock. Perceiving the danger which faced the waterworks system, Mr. Preston immediately arranged for one of the city fire engines to proceed to the reservoir. It was not until night, however, that the engine was brought into action.

This morning Mr. Preston was notified that the fire, driven into the hills away from the pipe line was working its way down toward the reservoir again, devouring the valuable timber which makes secure the precipitation of water at Humpback. In addition, the flames were reported to be raging still in the peat bogs, and menacing the pipe line.

Mr. Preston has made arrangements to keep the fire-fighting force supplied with food and is sending out fresh workers to take the places of those who have been exhausted by their exertions. He expects that the fight will be waged all afternoon and all night, taking personal charge of the operations he will proceed to Humpback during the day.

At present it is impossible to calculate the loss of timber, but the fire is considered one of the most serious ones which has occurred near Victoria for some years.

PROCEEDED UP ISLAND

Young Women Ecologists Ship Baggage and Then Set Out in Other Direction

Those twenty young women, post-graduate ecology students of the University of Chicago, under Dr. Fuller, scientist, who were here for a couple of days at the end of last week investigating how nature comports herself on Vancouver Island, are laughing to-day at the way Victoria people were thrown off their scent and have been thinking that they had started on their way back to Chicago while they have remained on the island.

On Saturday baggage men and hotel porters were formally notified to reserve some of their energy for the next day as the caravan of nature investigators with all their luggage was suddenly to move on making its start for the East.

Sunday morning the hotel lobby was piled high with effects and investigators themselves appeared in their khaki overall travelling suits. In big loads the baggage went down to the Vancouver boat and was sent to Vancouver. But the investigators with their professor turned the street corner and parting with their baggage went in the opposite direction.

Yesterday newspaper reporters hunted them everywhere. The professor and his company had gone without a trace. Most people believed that like normal young women they had gone where they had directed their baggage.

To-day, however, where should they turn up but on Mt. Arrowsmith, far up Vancouver Island, and everyone of them still studying nature twenty-four hours a day. They had successfully gazed the hills to all.

After a few days of observing the manifestations of nature up the island, the Chicago young women will cross to the Mainland and go to Banff.

MUST PROTECT CHILDREN ON BEACH

Religious Placard Bearer Is Sent to Jail For Alleged Indecencies

James Black, an aged, bearded placard-bearer, cried the message of John the Baptist to the street crowds as he carried a large main thoroughfare of Victoria, quoting biblical passages in a solemn voice. On the placard carried high above his shoulder in large letters were scriptural quotations urging people to save themselves.

Last Friday women living near Dallas Road, Ross Bay, had him arrested. They found he had been indecently assaulting young children playing on the beach in the morning.

Children playing on the beach were heard in the Police Court to-day.

Because of the religious fanaticism Black has displayed on the streets, police had him examined. Medical men to-day reported to Magistrate Jay that they could not find him insane.

"Children must be protected from conduct of this sort," said Magistrate Jay. "I don't think the code allows a severer penalty as it limits the sentence to six months."

Black was sent down for six months with hard labor.

JAIL HOLIDAY ENDS

Police Looking For Stolen Property Find Part on Escaped Drug Victim

Walter Fossett, who became tired of his jail sentence last Friday and calmly walked out of the front door of the Police Building, past Chief Langley's office to liberty, was so anxious not to pass a policeman on the street that he was caught last night after members of the Victoria detective force had been scouring the city for him.

Constable McPherson was walking along Government Street near the Fountain, when he noticed a man coming towards him who was evidently not keen to meet him, as he sidled into a vacant lot. The constable went over after him to speak to him, and the man started to run. He ran into the basement of a house nearby, where he was cornered and the policeman had no trouble in arresting him.

Just before this J. H. Lawrence, rooming on Tupper Street, complained to the police that someone had stolen his cap, trousers and a pair of boots. Detectives went to investigate. A few minutes later Fossett was arrested and found to be wearing the cap and boots.

Fossett told the police that he had "pocketed" money which he was out on his jail holiday and that he had to get "voked" to smooth his nerves with.

Before Magistrate Jay to-day he pleaded guilty to leaving the jail without telling anyone where he was going, but said he was not guilty of the stealing charges. Evidence against him will be heard to-morrow.

TO GIVE YOUR CAR A GLITTERING GLOSS

Picture your car as you first saw it, with dazzling radiance—that's how it will look when cleaned and polished the O-Cedar way.

First remove mud and grease, by washing with water. Then wet a piece of cheese-cloth—wring out surplus water, pour on as much O-Cedar as the cloth contains water. Thus a soft lather is formed.

Finally, a little rubbing with a dry cloth produces a hard, dry brilliance that will last. What little dust may settle on it, can easily be removed with an O-Cedar Duster.

O-Cedar is the Polish that brightens and preserves floors, woodwork and furniture. It is equally dependable as a Polish that will prolong the life of the varnish on your motor car.

VESSEL SPRUNG LEAK IN ROYAL ROADS AND MUST BE DOCKED

Forepeak of Barquentine Alta Filled—To Be Drydocked Here

Because of the development of a serious leak in her hold, the four-masted American barquentine Alta will have to be dry-docked here for repairs before she is able to sail on her voyage to South Africa.

The Alta sprung a leak which was discovered following her arrival in the Royal Roads last week from Genoa Bay, where she loaded a cargo of about 1,500,000 feet of lumber consigned to Delagoa Bay.

The corrosion of one of the forward plates is said to have resulted in the leak allowing water to enter the forepeak.

Down by Head. The water shipped had the effect of bringing the vessel slightly down by the head, and on Sunday a survey was made to ascertain the extent of the leak.

It was decided that the vessel would have to be dry-docked and arrangements were completed this forenoon to tow the Alta from inside Esquimaux Harbor with the object of hauling the craft out.

It is not expected that it will be necessary to unload the lumber cargo as this would be a most expensive procedure and would entail serious delay.

Under the present plans the vessel will be floated into the graving basin at Esquimaux and the water partly pumped out to disclose the damage in the forepeak.

The sides of the vessel will be strongly shored to negative the weight of the lumber stored inside the hold.

New Plate Necessary. When the hole is disclosed a new plate will be riveted over the small aperture. From the inside it can be reached through the chain locker.

Captain Edvard, master of the Alta, expected to get away from the Roads last week-end, but the unexpected developments will necessitate the detention of the vessel in port for several days at least.

The crew has been shipped and the stores are ready to be placed aboard. It is likely that Yarrow, Ltd., will carry out the repairs to the Alta.

May Yet Discharge. Later reports indicated that it might yet be necessary to discharge part of the Alta's cargo before she is placed in drydock. Tugs had difficulty in getting alongside the ship this morning as a choppy sea was whipped up by the high wind.

STOWAWAYS WERE ASPHYXIATED BY FUMES ON LINER. New York, Aug. 17.—Two stowaways aboard the French liner Niagara which arrived here yesterday from Bordeaux were last night asphyxiated by fumes of disinfectants in one of the ship's ventilators, where they are believed to have hidden to escape detection when the liner entered port. The ventilators were closed when the ship was fumigated at quarantine, but the presence of the men was not discovered until after she had docked.

TRANSPACIFIC RATES TO GET ANOTHER BOOST

Tokio, Aug. 17.—Trans-Pacific rates will be raised twenty per cent. September 15, it is announced. The increase will make the cost of first cabin passage from Japan to United States $300.

INAUGURATES NEW EUROPEAN SERVICE

Johnson Motorship Pacific Will Load Coal This Week For Union Bay

To load 5,000 tons of coal for delivery in Sweden the Johnson Line motorship Pacific is due at the Canadian Colliers' bunkers at Union Bay this week-end.

The Pacific is the first of a number of vessels which will maintain a new service between British Columbia and Scandinavian ports via Calais, France.

Vancouver and Seattle will be touched at by the big Swedish motorship. The service to Calais has been placed on a permanent basis.

The port of Calais is equipped with excellent wharf and warehouse facilities, and is not suffering from the freight congestion that prevails in most of the French ports. It is so situated that freight can be dispatched without delay to different parts of France and Belgium, there being no fewer than six double railroad tracks out of the French Channel port.

The new service is expected to be the medium for the building up of increased trade between British Columbia and Puget Sound ports and France and Belgium. It is the first direct service linking up this coast with France. The Harrison Line steamships, operating out of Glasgow and Liverpool via the Panama Canal, have resumed calls at Antwerp, giving water connection with Belgium.

There is a considerable shortage of coal in Sweden, and the cargo that will be loaded by the Pacific at Union Bay will mark the first shipment of its kind to Scandinavia. General cargo will be taken at Vancouver and Seattle, and the motorship will get away at the end of the month for Europe.

The Pacific will be followed in the Johnson service by the motorship Kronprinsessan Margareta, for September-October loading; the motorship Buenos Aires, loading October-November; and the motorship San Francisco, for November-December loading. The motorship Pacific will return to this coast in January.

Arbitrary rates have been established from Stockholm to Sundsvall, Åhus, Christianstad, Harnosand, Kalmar, and Karlskrona, cargo for these points being transhipped at Stockholm. Cargo will also be accepted for Finnish points.

SEVERAL VICTIMS IN LONGSHORE FRACAS. New York, Aug. 17.—Two men were shot and four others hurt by missiles thrown during a fight between striking longshoremen and negro non-union workers at Ninth Avenue and Fourteenth Street last night. The trouble started when a crowd of non-union men on their way from the piers encountered a number of strikers.

Arriving from Sydney by the liner will be Sir Ronald Munro-Ferguson, retiring Governor-General of Australia, accompanied by Lady Munro-Ferguson, Sir Ronald and his wife are en route to London.

On her outward voyage the Tahiti is due to sail from Vancouver on Friday, but it is altogether likely that the date of departure will be altered, as a full cargo is awaiting the ship at Vancouver.

The Tahiti will make another round voyage to Australia after which it is expected the liner Makka will be able to resume her sailings as an oil-burner.

Form These Good Habits

WHENEVER anyone in your family comes home chilled from exposure to cold and damp, let your mind instinctively think of the bottle of PERRY DAVIS PAINKILLER in the cupboard, and give, without delay, a teaspoonful dose in a cup of hot, sweetened water or milk. This prompt treatment with this reliable household medicine wards off the evil after-effects of a chill, such as Colds, Bronchitis, La Grippe, and Pneumonia.

Again, think of PAINKILLER if seized with an acute attack of Cramps and Colic in the stomach and bowels; generally accompanied with great pain, Diarrhoea and a feeling of collapse. Usually these attacks result from unwise eating, chill from sleeping uncovered during the late part of the summer, etc.

A teaspoonful dose or two of PAINKILLER then will earn your gratitude, and people who have once experienced the agony of such attacks and the relief afforded by PAINKILLER, seldom fail thereafter to keep always on hand a bottle of this reliable remedy.

Again, think of PAINKILLER whenever a child begins to develop a sore throat or Bronchial Cough. Wring out a flannel cloth in a cupful of hot water to which a teaspoonful of PAINKILLER has been added, wrap around the child's throat, and cover with another flannel to keep dry. (Do this at bed time). The warmth and drawing-power of the PAINKILLER soothes, induces sleep, and counteracts the inflammation. Many a mother has been spared a sleepless night for herself and her child by this simple, effective, home treatment.

PAINKILLER is also valuable as a liniment for Sprains, Bruises, Insect Bites, Stings, etc. PERRY DAVIS PAINKILLER has been on the market for over seventy-five (75) years. It is used in nearly every country on the globe by thousands of families of every race for the purposes described above.

Every family and every traveller will do well to have always on hand a bottle of this reliable household medicinal preparation.

Clergymen Meet.

Vancouver, Aug. 17.—Clergymen representing many denominations in British Columbia, Washington and Oregon are here to-day for the opening session to-night of the Pacific Coast Theological Conference. Sessions will continue for three days.

BRIEF LOCALS

Wind Does Damage.—The heavy gale yesterday wrought considerable havoc in Victoria gardens, in Beacon Hill Park, and on the city boulevards. Many shrubs were blown down, while trees suffered loss of boughs.

Returning to Mesopotamia.—Major A. H. Macfarlane, M. C., left Victoria on last night's boat en route to Mesopotamia, where he will take up his duties as Irrigation Engineer for the British Government. Major Macfarlane for the past year has been attached to the S. C. R. Vocational Staff at Vancouver.

Describe Heaven and Hell.—At their luncheon to-day, members of the Kiwanis Club participated in a competition concerning the relative merits of Heaven and Hell. Each Kiwanian wrote down his views on the subject, Kiwanian Will Ritchie winning the prize—a pair of gold cuff links.

Will Seek Capture.—On behalf of the Canadian Government an effort will be made to capture alive the panther which is devastating the goat pens and hen roosts immediately outside the city, near Cloverleaf to Gordon Head. An animal of this nature is wanted for one of the Dominion Parks. An attempt will be made to lasso the beast from a tree which he haunts, and where he was observed as recently as last Sunday, but the persons were unarmed, and had to leave the cougar alone.

G. W. V. A. Meeting To-night.—The regular meeting of the G. W. V. A. will take place to-night in the clubroom, 714 Port Street, at 8 o'clock. This is the first meeting to be presided over by their new president, Comrade Stone, and a large and enthusiastic gathering is anticipated for that reason. The members of the executive are requested to be present at 7 p. m. sharp. This includes the chairman of the different committees.

To Speak To-night.—Dr. S. G. Gant, late Professor of the New York Post Graduate Hospital, New York City, is passing through this city and has kindly consented to deliver a lecture before the Victoria Medical Society in Room C, second floor of the M. C. A. building, at 8.30 to-night, illustrating his subject by means of moving pictures. A rare treat is in store for the doctors, as Dr. Gant is not only a leading authority in medicine, but also a charming entertainer.

Rowland Farm Suit Again.—Joseph W. Rowland, owner of the big farm on the Burnside Road through which the B. C. Electric Railway Interurban line passes, has started action against the railway company to make it pay him $8,000, which he says the railway agreed to pay him for the right-of-way at Tonel Avenue and Burnside Road. This right-of-way through the Burnside property has been the subject of extended litigation and arbitration between the two since the interurban was first projected. J. Perrella, W. J. King, legal counsel for Mr. Rowland and Atwell D. King for the B. C. Electric.

To Continue Coal Fight.—Determination to continue their fight to force the coal mines to sell their product to anyone able to pay for it was expressed at a largely attended meeting of the shareholders of the United Co-operative Society, held in the G. W. V. A. Club last evening. After the hearing of the report of the delegation appointed to wait on Mr. Quinn, of the Granby Company, a further delegation was appointed to interview the Minister of Mines on the matter. Present Food and Fuel reports that failure to make payments when due had been the cause of the company's inability to get supplies of this commodity.

United Veterans Elect Officers.—Election of officers was the principal business at the meeting of the Grand Army of United Veterans held last night in the K. of P. Hall. There were about two hundred members present. The officers elected were as follows: President, R. P. McLernan (by acclamation); first vice-president, M. A. Orford; second vice-president, C. F. S. Chitty; secretary, R. Macleod (audit, by acclamation); treasurer, E. V. McIntyre (by acclamation). The five remaining directors are: Comrades H. S. Webb, E. S. Keeling, O. G. Clark, J. McNeill and S. McVie. Tyler, W. Fawcett (by acclamation). Finance committee, Comrades Christianson, N. G. Wilson and H. L. Roberts.

KIWANIANS TOLD OF OBSERVATORY

Superintendent Denison Describes Institution's Work

The work of practical value which the Gonzales Meteorological Observatory is performing was described in an interesting address delivered by Superintendent F. Denison at the Kiwanis Club luncheon to-day.

After extending a hearty invitation to the Kiwanians to visit the Observatory at any time, Mr. Denison went on to outline the institution's important work in connection with weather forecasts. He stated that each day the Observatory receives 150 messages from all parts of the province, indicating weather conditions prevailing. From these the probable condition of the weather during the following twenty-four hours was calculated and announced to the public in addition, the Observatory endeavored, said Mr. Denison, to warn farmers of probable frosts in the Spring and Fall.

A Sun Spot.

Observations of the sun and the stars, Mr. Denison stated, formed an important part of the Observatory's work. At present, he remarked, it was possible to distinguish through one of the telescopes a big sun spot, indicating that a great storm was crossing the sun. By observations of the stars the Observatory, Mr. Denison continued, was able to calculate the exact time to one hundredth part of a second and by means of an automatic sending device, flashed the correct time to all wireless stations and ships within a radius of five hundred miles at ten o'clock each morning.

Seismic Observations.

Mr. Denison dwelt at considerable length upon the work of the Observatory in connection with the recording of earthquakes—a work which had been doing for twenty-one years and which has established it as a pioneer in this direction. He described in detail the seismograph, the delicate instrument which detects and records the slightest tremor on the earth's surface, even though the quake which caused it originated at the other end of the world. The instrument, he recalled, was installed in Victoria in 1889, and had recorded about 2,000 earthquakes. He observed that when an earthquake occurred, say in New Zealand, the first disturbance felt here was a quake which travelled through the centre of the earth, followed a few minutes later by a quake which travelled over the earth's surface. By applying tables to the difference in the time when the two quakes were recorded, he stated, it was possible to calculate the distance of the quake's origin from the instrument.

The seismograph at the Observatory, Mr. Denison remarked, was so delicate that it was affected by high and low tide in the Straits, as when the tide was high the weight of the water caused the instrument to bend toward the Olympic Mountains, thus moving the instrument.

Movement in Cycles.

Besides the occasional quakes at different parts of the world the instruments during the past twenty years, Mr. Denison stated, had recorded mysterious slow, rolling movements across the earth's surface, movements which appeared to reach their height in years when quakes were most numerous. Apparently the movements went in cycles of about five years, and at the end of the period when the earth appeared to be approaching a "breaking point" quakes resulted. It was interesting to note, too, said Mr. Denison, that in those years of disaster earthquakes were most numerous, probably due to the fact that movements in the earth released "pockets" of gas near mine tunnelings.

Camping Site.

The necessity of supplying a camping site for motorists visiting Victoria was brought before the Club again to-day by Kiwanian Gilbert Christie, President of the Automobile Club, who pointed out that Little Cordova Bay had been set aside as a place where automobile travellers could camp while pausing in this vicinity. Mr. Christie hoped further improvements in this direction would follow next year. Mr. Christie urged the Kiwanians to assist in entertaining delegates to the Imperial Press Conference when they visit the city soon. A number of automobiles were needed for this purpose, he said.

Sir Ian Hamilton over and over again makes the point that the right policy would have been not to attack at all until the army was there ready to support the fleet. But by May 19 it had come to the view that the army could only open the Straits at a cost greater than the loss in ships, and Sir Roger Keyes and the younger navy men were for making another attempt. The diary of the military operations on the Peninsula is graphic, but only gives color to what is already known.

Mainlanders Must Win Mann Cup on the Field

Victoria Refuses to Hand-Over Lacrosse Silverware Unless Mainland Clubs Prove Superiority on Field of Play; World's Champions Ready to Defend Cup.

Mainland lacrosse enthusiasts have been congratulating themselves over the fact that the Mann Cup, emblematic of the amateur lacrosse championship of the world, is to once again adorn a club room on the other side of the Gulf.

The Vancouver papers claim that Victoria has passed up all claim for the Mann Cup and remark that for the first time in the history of the cup a team has been compelled to lose it by default.

Just how badly the Mainland scribes have guessed will be learned when some one over there tries to claim the cup. They will be met by the stiffest kind of opposition. The Vancouver scribes offer as an alibi for Victoria's refusal to remain in the league the fact that it could not field a team as strong as that which represented it last year and, therefore, did not wish to play.

GALLOPING FOR GOLD

Jockey Who Earned $6,000 in Three Months

When Fred Archer once went to consult Sir James Paget, the famous surgeon, after being bitten by a horse on the eye of the Derby, Sir James glanced at his card, and said: "Ah! I see I have the honor of receiving Mr. Archer; but I backed all your mounts."

"Well, sir," said Archer, "I may tell you that what you are in your profession, I am in mine." He then proceeded to explain that he was a jockey, and that if he were unable to ride in the Derby he would lose a considerable sum.

"What do you mean by a 'considerable sum'?" asked Paget. "Oh! about £2,000." "Dear me! you don't say so!" ejaculated Sir James. "You may well say that what I am in my profession, you are in yours; only that my profession were half as profitable."

To earn in less than three months as much as the great surgeon made in a month was certainly a feat of which any man might be proud; and yet even Archer was still more fortunate. When he was given the Derby, he had won the Derby on Tuesday, and had won the Derby on Wednesday.

When, for example, Job Merson won the Derby on Wednesday, Sir Joseph Hawley was so delighted that he handed his jockey a cheque for £2,000 on the spot; and this sum was supplemented by another £1,000 in the form of presents from his admirers and backers. John Wells was still more fortunate. When he steered Blue Gown to victory in the Derby, Sir Joseph handed him the entire stake of nearly $6,000.

"Who would be Prime Minister after this?" Wells is said to have exclaimed. And who would, we wonder, for in less than two and three-quarter minutes he had made more than the First Lord of the Treasury could earn in twelve months.

Disgraced Losers.
How John Leighton, the mid-Georgian jockey, would have envied these fortunate successors in the saddle, when the owner of one of his winning mounts, in an impulse of generosity, presented him with a ewe! And what scorn he would have felt for that jockey of recent days who, when a cheque for £300 was given to him for winning a minor race, contemptuously crumpled it up and flung it on the ground with the remark, "I have had more than that for riding a two-year-old!"

But jockeys presents do not always take the gratifying form of a cheque in three or four figures. Disappointed backers often send satirical gifts to the men on whose mounts they have lost money. One disgraced loser sent the jockey who had betrayed his confidence a pair of crutches, while another was presented with a silver snuff-box, on opening which he found some plump snails with the message: "These are the cost of animals you ought to ride."

A well-known peer, who was disgraced at the failure of a horse which he had backed heavily, and which he felt sure had been "muled," that he presented the rider with a clockwork donkey, with the remark that it was "easier to check it up than some other quadruped." And a disappointed pair of boots was the reward of another jockey, with an accompanying note: "These are my boots after walking from York to London. N. B.—I backed all your mounts."

But there is no limit to the variety of these ironical presents, which include such items as writs and summonses received by losing backers, reports of inquests, tracts, hints on how to ride, moccasins that have proved false, wedding tickets, and insurance papers to be filled up before the jockey broke his neck.—Tit-Bits.

KENYA COLONY IS NOW CORRECT NAME

British East Africa Raised From Protectorate to Colonial Status

The announcement that British East Africa has been annexed to the British Crown will surprise those, probably the majority of Britons, who supposed that the country was British in fact as well as name. However legitimate the assumption, the country was not, however, British territory—it was simply under British protection.

For many sufficient reasons it has been found convenient to exercise British dominion in equatorial and other parts of Africa (for example, Basuto-land) by means of protectorates rather than annexation. In a protectorate native laws and customs are to be usefully retained though in opposition to English law, and in practice the degree of control is just as much that of the governing power chooses to exercise, unless its limits are defined in a special treaty between the protected and protecting states.

Bold Policy Wanted.
British East Africa has reached that stage when a bold policy of development is needed. A good deal of land has changed hands recently; many old settlers were killed in the war; German East and others are clearing out, but more are coming in. The area suitable for Europeans as a permanent home is but a small part of the country; but it is as large as Wales, and at present there are fewer than 10,000 white inhabitants (against 17,000 to 20,000 Indians). The trade of the country is valued over at £4,000,000 a year, and the export of fibres, coffee, and potatoes has reached considerable proportions. More railways are urgently needed.

That part of the £5,000,000 loan which is to be raised will be devoted to this purpose.

Named From Mountain.
The choice of Kenya as the name for the new colony is good. Kenya is the most prominent and the most magnificent natural feature of the country. One of the wonder-mountains of Africa, it is familiar to all travelers on the Uganda Railway. An old volcano, its highest peak 17,907 feet above the sea, its lower slopes are covered with dense forest and jungle, in which the elephants and antelope roam; beyond is a belt of huge bamboos, which, in turn, gives place to an Alpine zone, where the snow-capped glaciers of the two main peaks, which are the highest peaks in the country, are to be seen from afar by the missionary Krupf in 1849, the summit of Kenya was first reached by Sir H. J. Mackinder in 1892.

The Kenya Protectorate, this coast strip, with the island of Mombasa, forms part of the Seyidie—the Sultan of Zanzibar's dominions, over which a distinct protectorate is exercised. British relations with this Arab state have been long and intimate. Indeed it was through the influence of a veteran explorer and administrator Sir John Kirk that Seyid Burgash granted the first concessions to the British in East Africa, and it is in accordance with the traditional friendship between England and his family that this coast strip should still be classed as Zanzibar territory.

As Sir Edward Northey, the only Governor of Kenya Colony but British Commissioner to Zanzibar, no clash of authority need be apprehended.—London Times correspondent.

NEWS AND NOTES OF THE MINES

Valuable Piece of Jade.
With jade for ornaments increasing in price from five to six times what it was in 1919, and in view of the fact that it is interesting to know that the largest known block of jade in existence is in the American Museum of Natural History in New York City. The big stone, long and thin, the average observer to be about as large as that famous piece of rock they keep under an elaborate arch at Plymouth, Mass., the famous Plymouth Rock upon which the Pilgrims landed. Its actual size is seven feet in length by four in width and its weight is three tons.

The museum's block of jade does not look unlike the Plymouth Rock, for while jade always suggests a beautifully polished green, or perhaps white, stone, this being in the rough, looks very much like any other boulder.

While the big piece of jade is one of the museum's great curiosities it is not the only one of its kind in a conspicuous place, say in the big central hall of the museum on the main floor, but tucked away in a far corner of South Sea Hall on the fourth floor. This is because it is used as a part of an anthropological exhibit and on it is poised, a Maori warrior, life size, in an attitude suggestive of a war dance, with a knife poised in an upraised hand.

"The warrior is an interesting person himself. He is in native costume, which consists of tattooing on the face and the upper part of his legs, and a breech cloth. The model was cast from life. The original was Haututerangi, a Maori dancer, who was one of a troupe brought to this country a few years ago to perform at The Hippodrome. The statue was the work of Sigurd Neandross, and in the difficult pose in which it is done it is considered one of the finest and most realistic figures of this kind in the museum.

Monsieur Haututerangi is poised upon the block of jade because this stone is found in very considerable quantities in New Zealand and is prized by the Maoris both as an article of value and also as a lucky stone. Besides many ornaments and charms of the jade, the Maoris carved axe-shaped implements from it, drilled at the upper ends, and used by their chiefs as badges of office.

The greater part of New Zealand jade is found on the western coast of South Island in boulders, which usually appear in mountain streams. This big block of jade was found on South Island in 1902. It is of the green variety, none of the white jade being found in New Zealand, and the interior ranges from apple green to the richest stones of emerald. The outer surfaces are subject to change and, like this great boulder, are a subtranslucent brown or yellow brown.

Jade is usually considered one of the hardest of stones. It is not, however, actually as hard as quartz, but it is a tough stone and requires much more effort in shaping and polishing than either quartz or agate.

Chile Copper.
Chile Copper Company producing 75,717,572 pounds of copper in 1919 at a cost of 15.55c a pound, including all expenses, taxes and depreciation. The actual cost, however, was 13.35c a pound, compared with 17.56c in 1918.

A Great Mill.
The new $7,000,000 structural steel mill now being built in Sault Ste. Marie—the first one in Canada—will be 1,150 feet long and will give employment to 700 men, in addition to the force now employed. Pig iron, open hearth steel rails, billets, slabs, merchant bars, light and structural shapes, coke, gas, and best quality ammonia are to be the principal products. The new plant will require 1,250,000 tons of coal and 1,000,000 tons of ore annually.

Looking For Coal.
E. Pierce, mines inspector; A. C. Garner, chief land surveyor; B. L. Thorne, geologist, are the men in charge of an expedition party which has arrived at Lac la Ronge in the north of here to explore for coal deposits or other natural resources. The party has been sent out by the Saskatchewan Government to make a complete survey of the area in which it is claimed valuable mineral resources abound. The expedition has been inaugurated by the Hon. Charles Dunning.

There have been repeated stories of the presence of valuable coal deposits at Lac la Ronge, and it is Mr. Dunning's intention to verify or disprove these statements. Angus McLeod, an old-time prospector in the North, who is acting as guide for the party, which is composed of nine men and will remain in the North until winter sets in.

New Gold Field.
Extremely rich stone has been brought in from the St. Ives field, in Western Australia. The find was made on Saturday on Brennan's Cove to lease adjoining the St. Ives field on the southwest, and three and a half miles northwest from the Ives Bay.

The gold occurs in a big body of hematite which has been traced for a considerable distance. The full width has not yet been proved. The specimens brought in were peppered with gold and some pieces upon the surface broken with a hammer, were held together by the precious metal.

Mr. Brennan deposited the specimens at the Boulder Police Station for safe keeping and exhibited them to-day. Further work on the find will be watched with interest. All that can now be said is that the specimens from the cap of the lode are the richest that have been exhibited during recent months, and the fact that the gold occurs in what appears to be a big ferruginous ore body is taken to indicate that the values will be down. On the St. Ives field gold has been obtained at numerous points, from the Victoria on the north (which is under option to the Bullfinch Company) to the Ives Junction, a distance of six miles, and over a width of two or three miles. On almost every lease on which work has been done gold has been located. There is every indication that the St. Ives field will be busy mining centres within the next few months. During the past two weeks a large number of wages men have gone out to make leases, and there must be nearly 300 men in the district.

Washington's Output.
Washington, Aug. 17.—The metal output of Washington, during the first half of 1920, was comparatively small, especially that of gold and silver, according to C. N. Gerry of the United States geological survey.

The value of the gold, silver, copper, and lead in 1919 was about $953,000 a decrease of $585,000 in 1919 the value of Washington produced about $280,000 in gold, 300,000 ounces of silver, 1,321,000 pounds of copper, and 1,700,000 pounds of lead. At Republic, in Perry County, the shipments of ore were far below normal, the Quilp property being the only mine from which they were greater. The last Chance mine was closed in October, 1919, and the Northport Smelting & Refining Company, which owns the Surprise-Lone Pine-City property, made only a few shipments of ore early in 1920, and the shipments from the Knob Hill mine were also greatly reduced. At Chewelah the United Silver-Copper Company is shipping to Tacoma about 350 tons of crude copper ore and concentrate a month.

FIGURATIVELY.
"Have you ever been up in the air?"
"Many times, many times, my boy."
"Did you drive the plane yourself?"
"Plans? I never was in an aeroplane in my life but I've been up in the air just the same."

ROYAL VICTORIA
Cabelet.
The Criterion—Belmont House.

William Farnum scored another big hit when he appeared on the screen yesterday at the Royal Victoria Theatre in "Heart Strings," the new William Fox production adapted from a story by Henry Albert Phillips.

Briefly, the story tells of the wondrous love of a man for his young sister, a girl who has made an unfortunate alliance with a villainous creature who would drag her in the dust and use her as a shield for his own crimes. As Pierre, the girl's brother, William Farnum portrays the character of a strong man who sacrifices ambition and gives his all in an effort to save his little sister from the suffering which she faces. All the characters are well drawn; the scenes were made in a little village near Quebec and in New York City. The play is one of intense action, well worthy of the dramatic ability of the aged star.

The cast includes Gladys Coburn, Betty Hildburn, Kate Blanche, Paul Caseneuve, Robert Cain and Rowland G. Edwards. The scenario was arranged by E. Lloyd Sheldon and the play was directed by J. Gordon Edwards.

VARIETY
The sight of a lethal weapon or other object which has figured in a past tragedy works awe-inspiring effect upon the mind. Police officers and prosecutors, recognizing that fact, frequently use the expedient of showing such an object to the person from whom they wish to extract a confession. The expedient appears in a new form in Vitagraph's superb film, "The Vengeance of Durand." Here it is employed by a plotting man who hates and power the mind of one he hates and compel heartbreak on the part of the latter by thoughts of sorrow and tragedy. It is one of the most remarkable revenges ever conceived.

"The Vengeance of Durand," with Alice Joyce in the stellar role, will be the feature attraction at the Variety Theatre again to-day.

COLUMBIA
In honor of the home-coming from France of Major Robert Warwick, the soldier-star, who is at the Columbia Theatre to-day in "In Mizzoura," a Paramount-Atlantic picture, Gloria Swanson, the noted screen beauty, made a tremendous sacrifice. Seeing that Major Warwick seemed a very fond of her pedicreed French bulldog, which she had raised from puppyhood, she presented him with the valuable animal.

"Major" the dog, seemed highly pleased with his new master, but after a few weeks appeared somewhat homesick, and suddenly one day disappeared. Major Warwick searched high and low for him, without success. Just as he was about to give the animal up as lost forever, two small boys brought it, wet and trembling with cold, to his door one evening, saying that they had picked it up in the water and taken it into the boat from which they were fishing.

Miss Swanson was at the time making a picture on Santa Cruz Island, and several people suggested that the bulldog was attempting to swim to her. Others just looked wise and said, "Some bull!"

PANTAGES
Emmy Wehlen, the golden-haired, brown-eyed star, is scintillating at Pantages Theatre to-day in a new Pathé release, "Lifting Shadows."

Adapted by Leonce Perret, the producer and director, from Henri Ardel's story, "Lifting Shadows" is a high-powered drama of romance and intrigue. It is a tale in which one woman pits her wits and will power against a powerful, unmerciful enemy and fights gloriously to the end, when the shadows that threatened to overwhelm her are at last lifted.

An all-star cast surrounds Miss Wehlen. Stuart Holmes, the screen villain with a rivet in his depraved husband; Wyndham Standing, the most popular of leading men, is the lawyer and sweetheart, and Julia Swayne Gordon, known to every photoplay fan, is a real coozer. The other members of the cast have been chosen for their suitability for their respective roles.

What Would You Have Said?

STUDY the Gillette Poster on the boards. What do you think of the wording, "A Handle for Every Hand"? Do you think we have taken too much for granted that everybody knows that the Gillette Safety Razor will give a cleaner and more comfortable shave in the least time? That each set at $5.00 includes 12 double-edged super-keen blades?

With the space at your disposal on this poster, would you have chosen the message we adopted, or would you have emphasized the NO STROPPING—NO HONING feature, or the fact that there are 20,000,000 Gillette users, or the saving of ten minutes each day by Gillette owners?

If you do not see the poster itself, you will find a reproduction of it in colours in dealers' windows, together with a display of some of the most popular Gillette sets.

Go into such a store and you will find Gillette Safety Razors in styles to suit every man who shaves—literally "A Handle for Every Hand"—among them the Gillette exactly suited to your hand! Take it!

200 ACRES OF THE SAKWAD FARM AND ON THE MARKET IN LOTS OF 2 1/2 ACRES AND UP.

A BEAUTIFUL SUBURBAN SUBDIVISION.

TO THE MAN looking for a small piece of acreage for raising small fruits or raising poultry, and to the man seeking a well-cultivated home site, commanding a beautiful view, and only eight miles from the city, this property will appeal.

THE ADVANTAGES of living in the country (handy to the city) over that of living in the city are tenfold, and with the present demand for such property being so great we expect to have this acreage sold very quickly.

TO THE MAN OF LIMITED MEANS-The only road to independence is by owning and cultivating one's own land. Small pieces of acreage developed in the growing of raspberries, loganberries, strawberries, etc., or a few dozen chickens, can provide a permanent income without the worry and ups and downs of city life.

THE SALARIED MAN-The man depending upon a monthly or weekly wage for his existence is the very man who should get possession of a small piece of acreage. It will take him longer to make his land revenue unproductive than it will take the man who goes right in and gives all time to it, but a start will be made in the very first year. In this subdivision we present him with the opportunity to do so. The most desirable, i.e., to become independent.

TO THE PURELY HOMESEEKING MAN-The property here will also appeal in every way. It is a beautiful view of the city and the sea, with a good road (part of the road is paved) and a beautiful view of the city and the sea. The location is ideal.

PRICES AND TERMS-Prices range from $1000 to $5000. Terms of only one-fourth cash.

IT IS PROPOSED to leave a right-of-way through the property, by which water can be brought from Elk Lake for the use of the city.

THE PURCHASE of any of this property will be looked upon as a safe and sound investment, free from any other consideration.

KIDNAPPING CASE HEARD IN COURT

One Big Union Organizer Gives Evidence at Beinfait, Saskatchewan

Regina, Aug. 17.—H. M. Christopher, organizer for the 'One Big Union, and the man alleged to have been kidnapped from the local hotel at Beinfait on the night of July 4 last, was the chief witness for the crown when charges were heard against seven men of Estevan and district of kidnaping this morning at that village.
It had been expected that the seven men would be charged jointly but an agreement by counsel and the men will be tried separately.
For the first time since the incident happened the facts of the kidnaping case have been made public. Christopher this morning swore on oath that he arrived in this district at the request of the general secretary of the organization to look into organizing the miners into a branch of the One Big Union.
On the night of July 3, after he had retired to his bed, a number of men came to his room, he testified, one of them being Tom Munro, whose case is the first to be heard. Christopher was asked a number of questions by these men as to who he was and what he was doing in the town. He stated to them, as he stated in court, he said, that he was English by birth and was organizing for the One Big Union.
He was told by these men to get his clothes on and as soon as he was dressed, he was accompanied downstairs by these men including Munro, he testified. He went to pay his bill but could not get a money order cashed and one of the party offered to settle for him. He was then placed in an automobile and, accompanied by Munro and others, was driven to Estevan and thence to Noonan, N.D., where he was loaded in the car and left. He went to the hotel and stayed till 9 o'clock Sunday morning and then walked into Portal.

SAN FRANCISCO AGENCY OF PHILIPPINE GOVT.

More than a year ago the Bureau of Commerce and Industry of the Philippine Government established an agency in San Francisco for the purpose of acquainting the American public with the commercial and industrial products of the islands. Only an information office was maintained, which was kept pretty busy answering inquiries propounded by those contemplating to get a share of the rich Philippine trade.
The Philippine participation at the National Foreign Trade Convention held in San Francisco last May was indeed a notable one. The exhibits sent over from Manila by the Bureau of Commerce and Industry and put up by its San Francisco agency attracted considerable attention. These exhibits were most attractively displayed in the new quarters of the Arcade on the Mondajock Building. According to M. J. de la Rama, the manager, the present display is only the nucleus and the beginning of an elaborate commercial museum that will form a permanent feature of the agencies. The exhibition now comprises samples of practically all of the commercial products of the islands, such as hand-made embroideries and lingerie, ladies' hemp hats, men's hats, copra, hemp, sisal, sugar, resins, shells, etc. Within the next few months the whole office equipment will be replaced by Philip-

Workmen engaged in digging a manhole on the Alton Road, at the junction of roads to Bentley and Borden, near Farnham, Surrey, England, discovered 5 ft. below the surface, part of the old Roman road from Winchester to London. The road was in an excellent state of preservation, the surface dressing being 1 foot in thickness, and composed of lime and cement. To penetrate the surface drills and steel wedges had to be employed.

SAVES NECESSITIES FOR PUBLIC NEED MUST BE PROVIDED Reeve Watson Warns of Crisis If Voters Continue Contrary ROYAL YEAST CAKES MADE IN BRITISH ISLANDS E.W. GILLET CO. LTD. TORONTO, CANADA WINNIPEG MONTREAL

Government engineers say the sewers will cost, the $200,000 will be brought up to $1,250,000. The water by-law total will bring this new borrowing up to $1,500,000. With the present debt of $600,000, the total debt of the municipality will be brought over $2,000,000, which is more than the borrowing limit of the municipality. Should Join City. "The time has come when Wards Seven and Two, which want urban facilities, should belong to the city," Mr. Tanner said. "You have five wards that will soon have to combine themselves for their own protection and form a municipality of their own."

Means Population Increase. Councillor Clark, from Ward Three, Gordon Head, asked support for the water extension to Gordon Head. He explained his district is the most difficult of Saanich in which to get water. He predicted the water extension would yield large returns in increased production and increased population. Mr. Bryden presided.

LOAFING HABITS MENACE TO SCHOOL SAYS D. S. TAIT, SAANICH SCHOOL TRUSTEE CANDIDATE, IN OUTLINE POLICY "It is not because the curriculum is crowded that we have inefficiency in our schools. It is because of teachers loafing upon their work. The greatest evil that can happen in a school is to get into loafing habits," said D. S. Tait, Parent-Teachers' Association candidate for the Saanich School Board, at the McKenzie Avenue School meeting last evening in Ward IV.

Water to Pay in Three Years. The Reeve explained that under the water bylaw it is proposed to borrow $200,000 to extend the water system to Gordon Head, a district which is bringing a lot of money into the district because of its large fruit production. He estimated that in three years the system would be on an entirely self-supporting basis. The Reeve said that if the ratepayers vote for the bylaw, the municipality will then have absorbed only fifty per cent. of the borrowing power of the municipality and by the time the rest of the money is borrowed the present water area will vote for some of the other loans.

Need Gas Masks. Councillor Tom Dooley said that to be safe in Ward Seven "you have to go around with a gas mask on." "If you want to keep healthy you are told to sleep with your windows open, but if you live in Ward Seven you can't," stated the Councillor. He said that there are not as many septic tanks in the ward as most people think. There are cesspools everywhere even on the streets, he declared.

Would Avert Epidemic. "We in the district that is to be sewerage have to bear all expenses," he explained. "It isn't very much to ask you to cast your votes for these bylaws as we need them." He declared that sanitary conditions without the sewers are getting so bad that an epidemic may break out at any time that will embrace the whole municipality as well as the area to be benefited.

Only $500,000, Not $1,500,000. Councillor Henderson declared the water extension would benefit the municipality as a whole. "It will show the balance of the municipality what a great benefit it is to have water," he said. "It is something we can all vote for and work for. I am sure the people in the present water area will vote for it so as to give the people on the outside the same benefits as they have themselves." The councillor explained that the sewer would serve about 300 houses. He said that only $300,000 for sewer and $200,000 for water would be added to the municipalities debt, and not over $1,000,000, as he declared. H. E. Tanner is saying in his speeches throughout the municipality. Says All Opposed. Henry E. Tanner asserted that a majority of the residents of Ward Seven and of the councillors are against the sewer by-law. He said that with commissions to raise the money—other expenses and the 25 per cent. over the estimate which

Mr. Tait said he had an open mind on school gardening. He declared that he would look into school gardening, although he often wondered what good school gardening as at present conducted, was doing. "Frits" Not Necessary. "I don't think that it has been proved that these 'frits' are necessary," said Clarence Oldfield, "antifill" candidate replying to Mr. Tait. "They take time from the other necessary subjects in schools. Manual training does not apply in the country as it does in the city. "As a farmer, I think we can't afford anything that is not absolutely necessary." He pointed out the expense in transporting children to the manual training centres. "From the results of examinations, I think there is some cause for complaint in the school. "I believe this manual training is an excellent thing, but it should be taken up later." Says Teachers Not Underpaid. Trustee Holloway told how he was the only member of the School Board to oppose at the beginning of the year, the extraordinary expenditure of the Board which Saanich schools
