

BRITISH MINISTRY REPLIES TO SINN FEIN Cabinet Committee Named to Deal With The Irish Situation

Premier Lloyd George and His Colleagues Forwarded Their Statement to the Sinn Fein To-day; To Be Announced To-morrow Night. Inverness, Scotland, Sept. 7.—The British Cabinet at its meeting here to-day unanimously approved the reply of the Government to the last note from Eamonn de Valera, the "Irish Republican" leader. The reply was handed to Robert C. Barton, the Sinn Fein courier, who started for Dublin at 4 o'clock this afternoon with it.

Premier Lloyd George sent a courier to Moy Hall, near here, where King George is staying, to acquaint the King with the Cabinet's decision, which will be made public Thursday night. A committee of the Cabinet, with full powers to deal with de Valera's answer to the communication sent this afternoon and with the Irish situation generally, was appointed.

Earlier Dispatch. Inverness, Scotland, Sept. 7.—Settlement of the Irish question appeared to hinge in the balance when members of the British Ministry met Premier Lloyd George here to-day. It was said the Ministers were not at all in agreement as to the best method of procedure to be adopted, some favoring further exchange of notes with the Sinn Fein, others were said to be proposing that a virtual ultimatum be sent Eamonn de Valera, giving him and his colleagues a fixed time in which to accept or reject the British offer of dominion status for Ireland.

King George. King George is staying at Moy Hall, near here, and his presence in the immediate neighborhood is looked upon as most opportune, as he has in the past few months played a particularly influential role in the work of handling the Irish question. Mr. Lloyd George and the King have been in close touch during the Irish negotiations and it was reported the Premier would confer with the King to-day, possibly before a note to the Irish "Republicans" was finally drafted.

WAGES ARE MADE A LITTLE LOWER

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Building trades workers were given slight wage decreases and new working rules were set up in an arbitration decision Judge Landis handed down to-day. The decision opened the Chicago territory to all contracting firms, and according to contractors and union men, opened the way to renewal of millions of dollars' worth of construction. A top wage of $12.12 for fire proofers and $1.10 for bricklayers against the former hourly rate of $1.25 was fixed by the decision, which affects about 50,000 workmen.

Board Declares G. T. R. Stocks Worth Nothing

Ottawa, Sept. 7.—Rendering judgment to-day, the Grand Trunk Railway board of arbitration decided by a majority ruling that the common and preferred stocks of the Grand Trunk Railway system were worth nothing. The board was appointed to determine the value, if any, of such stock, and the price at which it was to be acquired by the Government of Canada in taking over the road.

The majority ruling was rendered by Sir Walter Cassels, chairman of the board, and Sir Thomas White, arbitrator for the Government. W. J. Tarr, arbitrator for the Grand Trunk, presented a dissenting judgment.

Under agreement with the Government, the Grand Trunk has the right of appeal to the Supreme Court, or the Privy Council against the award of the arbitration board. It is expected that appeal will be made.

GOVERNED AS PART OF NEW ZEALAND

Samoan Mandate Area Treated as Portion of Country

London, Sept. 7.—A Wellington, N. Z., dispatch to The London Times says that with reference to reported American representations respecting provisions for the open door and equality in commercial opportunity in the former German territories, it is pointed out New Zealand has applied the Samoa, mandate on the principle of governing the territory as an integral portion of the country holding the mandate. For years the New Zealand law has given a customs preference to the British Empire, and adherence thereto, from which New Zealand say no reason to depart, is declared to be the main argument favoring imposition of a preferential import duty in Samoa.

The islands. On his return he stated that he believed the chief trouble was because the white residents, alike with the native, were refused liquor according to (so far as the natives are concerned) to the terms of the mandate. The natives, replying to the Minister, now say that Prohibition has nothing to do with it. Their grievance is that New Zealand, since the war, has broken the existing treaties with the native chiefs and that the definite promises of the Great Powers that Samoans would retain their independence have been ignored. "From a garden of Eden," say the natives, "Samoa has been reduced to a Sahara, but the emancipation of Samoa from oppression is the new religion of every Samoan."

Removing to Ashcroft.
Alberni—Many expressions of regret are heard at the coming departure of F. C. Birks and family for Ashcroft. Mr. Birks came to Alberni eight years ago, as manager of the Royal Bank, and retained that position on the removal of the branch to Port Alberni. He has remained a resident of the "Old Town." DESIRE TO SAVE
THEIR MEAT MARKET

New Zealand Farmers Watch Big American Companies

Wellington, N.Z., Sept. 6.—Fear of the United States meat trust is so deeply ingrained in the New Zealand farmers that they do not wish it to get a footing in the Dominion. Similarly, they are anxious to keep out a huge British firm, Vestey Brothers, whose control of the meat trade they also suspect. The conference of the New Zealand Farmers' Union, representing all the farmers in the country, has waited on the Government and urged that no facilities of any kind should be given for the intrusion of meat trusts into New Zealand. Several farmer M.P.'s expressed the view that the present slump in the world prices of meat was engineered by the trusts. New Zealand eye-witness, they claimed, was worthless at the present time, was worthless money if they put it on the market, since the price they received was less than the charges incurred for freezing and for freight. Yet this mission was worth 32 cents and more on the British market in the hands of the retailers.

The Government promised to watch carefully the operations of possible trusts in New Zealand, whether British or American, and to prevent the American exporting to the British market, as is done by Armour & Company at present.

An investigation of the causes of the difference between New Zealand producers' prices and British retailers was also promised.

Wellington, N. Z., Sept. 6.—New Zealanders, faced with a heavy fall in wool and meat prices, are now looking to butter and cheese to bring them some consolation this season. Both these commodities were controlled and bought by the British Government during the war at fixed prices. Butter has only just been decontrolled and there is much speculation as to future export prices.

Regarding cheese, New Zealand white is quoted in London at 130s. to 136s., as compared with 138s. to 145s. c. l. f. for the Canadian similar grade. It is believed here that this is due to bad storage of New Zealand cheese and delays through strikes in unloading. Leading cheese merchants say that Canadian cheese is being kept off the British market for a time and that this can only mean that the Canadian dealers anticipate much better prices before the end of the year. The recent drought in England is looked upon as certain to improve the butter and cheese market there so far as overseas products are concerned.

One of the first essentials in securing a good-natured constituency is not to expect too much of the people among whom you dwell.

FIFTEEN THOUSAND BRITISH AND AMERICANS CELEBRATE PEACE CENTENARY AT BLAINE

Robert E. Fretlow pronounced the invocation, followed by the singing of the Doxology. Samuel Hill, the chairman, then formally laid the foundation stone and in his brief address as chairman emphasized that love is the master key of life and service the only true road to greatness in a nation. Mr. Hill stated that plans were in progress to have the Pacific Highway when complete, opened by Marshal Foch of France, who had been unable to attend the Peace arch ceremony.

Continuing he reminded the assembly that war settles neither the victors nor the vanquished, only peace brings lasting satisfaction. He felt confident that the ceremony then in progress was a portent of the day when there would be universally realized the truth of the fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.

In a forceful and striking address Dr. Oswald West, Ex-Governor of Oregon, declared that the leadership in the movement towards universal peace, the world was looking, not towards Europe, but to the West.

Tribute to Samuel Hill as the originator of the peace arch idea was paid by Mayor R. H. Gale of Vancouver.

Although a humble member of the British Empire, I feel that I may express the sentiments of the great Empire to which we as Canadians are proud to owe allegiance, and voice our feeling of pride in sharing in this noble expression of a peaceful relationship. This ceremony is an outstanding declaration that two nations, aggressive, virile and rich, have learned the true meaning of international harmony, by subscribing with one accord to that injunction of the Holy Writ, "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

If it were true that the whole universe was struggling to evolve a world peace, continued the speaker, then the ceremony was a potential, though perhaps humble, factor calculated to play a glorious part in attaining a glorious peace. The dedication of the Peace Arch was of more than a local, national or even international interest and significance. It served to show that war must cease. "During our century of peace there have been more than one occasion in which peace trembled in the balance, to be averted only by the wise counsel and statesmanship of our wise rulers, Victoria the Good and Edward the Peacemaker." To avoid the perpetuation of the memory of those untoward incidents prior to 1812, Mayor Gale advised that the children of both nations should be taught to hold in reverence the names of great Americans and great Britishers and to teach them their common origin and that out of their great travail two great nations were born.

At this juncture the flags were raised to the summit of the arch. Miss Britannia presented to Frank Terrace, John A. Yeon, E. J. Macdonald and H. W. Hunter, associates of Mr. Hill in the erection of the arch, the magnificent Union Jack presented by the city of Victoria and conveyed to the ceremony by Alexander Todd, and in a few seconds the emblem was floating from the flagstaff on the Canadian side. Miss Columbia presented the American flag to Samuel Gintzburger, H. W. White, F. R. McD. Russell and J. J. Johnston, and this in turn was hoisted to float presently from the flagstaff on the American side of the Arch. In course of time there were raised to the smaller poles at the four corners of the giant monument flags of Great Britain, the United States, Belgium and France, consular representatives of these countries taking part in the hoisting. Mr. Mosher, U. S. A. Consul in Victoria, raised the American flag, the United States Consul at Seattle, raised the Union Jack. Loud and long applause accompanied the hoisting of the flags, the bands playing the National Anthems, while the great audience joined in the singing of these.

Judge Burke.

"This Peace Portal is the symbol of the affection which binds together Great Britain and the United States," said Judge Thomas F. Burke, of the Sulgrave Institute and the English-Speaking Union, Seattle. In view of the many grave international problems which had arisen between the two countries during the past century, the two nations had the greater reason for pride at the maintenance of this peace, the most wonderful example of "rational disarmament."

R. Rowe Holland, president of the International Peace Memorial Association of British Columbia, quoted Mr. Lloyd George as saying that the peace of the world rested in the hands of the British and American peoples. Here to the north and south of this imaginary boundary line were a people of like common sense, of the same aspirations, the same ideals. In the tragedy of the Great War they had their community of grief; and this portal symbolized the triumph of goodwill which had existed between them for over one hundred years. Let it be the symbol for all history of the harmony of heart and mind between them.

Lieut.-Governor W. J. Coyle, of the State of Washington, as an ex-member of the American Expeditionary Force, recalled the Arc de Triomphe in Paris built to commemorate the war. He hoped that never would the road on either side of the Blaine archway respond to the tramp of a warring army from the north, or from the south, and the names of the names of battles be emblazoned on the arch at Blaine.

Premier's Address.

A message from Lieutenant-Governor Walter C. Nichol, regretting his inability to attend, was read by the chairman, who then introduced Premier John Oliver. The memory of to-day will go forward in your hearts and minds and from generation to generation this noble monument will convey to your descendants the reminder that two great nations have dwelt together in peace for one hundred years, commenced the Premier. "I hope that from this day forward there will be no more strife between these two great nations, and I hope that among the nations represented by the honorable gentlemen, the Consuls present, no difficulty will arise which may not be settled by peaceful and amicable conference. Although we are commemorating one hundred years of peace, that period has not been free from war with other nations. But we were glad to be associated with the Provincial Cousins in a war against tyranny and aggression. War is brought about by greed for wealth, power and ambition, a spirit which must be eliminated." After recounting the small part played by the Government of British Columbia in the erection of the portal, the Premier concluded with the hope that the erection of the peace arch would be like a stone cast into a pool, its ripples spreading over the face of the whole earth and resulting in the attainment of world peace.

Chairman Hill then read a number of telegrams of greeting and congratulation received from celebrities throughout the world, including President Harding, the King of the Belgians, the Princes of Wales, Marshal Joffre and others, also telegrams sent by him from the Blaine ceremony to Premier Meighen, to the people of Germany, Albert of Belgium, Premier Briand of France and the Japanese Consul at Washington, D. C.

The reading of a poem dedicated to the occasion by Professor Edward Meany of the University of Washington, and the benediction by Bishop de Pencier of New Westminster, was followed by the formal placing in position in the peace arch of the relics from the Mayflower and the Beaver.

Four Hundred Victorians.

In the huge crowd witnessing the impressive ceremony were four hundred Victorians who made the journey over in the Princess Patricia. Included in the local delegation were representatives of the Provincial Government, City Council, Chamber of Commerce, Canadian Club of Victoria, Rotary and Klunziks Clubs, and other organizations. The trip to and from Blaine was enticed by the excellent musical programme rendered by the Boys' Naval Brigade Band in command of Lieut. Rayner. The boys made a name for themselves by their splendid performance at the portal dedication ceremonies and on the trip, and the pride of the Victoria excursionists in the boys' prowess found expression in the taking up of a generous collection for the blind funds. On the homeward journey Premier Oliver in a little speech congratulated the boys on the wonderful progress they had made in the seven months since the inception of the band, and urged them to bring to their work throughout life the same enthusiasm and single minded purpose which had characterized their musical careers.

BRIGHT FELLOW.

Col. Borer—"Hello, Jones, where've you been?"
Jones—"To see my people."
Col. Borer—"Ah! And now did you find them?"
Jones—"Quite easily—knew where they lived."—Washington Post
