Austin Trial Ground List

OURSELVES AND OUR PURPOSE

In entering your home through our TRIAL GROUND LIST, we feel very much as if we were to have a little visit or heart to heart talk about Gladioli. Many of you are old friends who have been regular purchasers of wholesale stocks from our Elm Hill Farm, and are somewhat acquainted with our work, and it may be of interest to others to know that the Gladiolus has been our lifetime study, that for more than thirty years we have conducted a GLADIOLUS TRIAL GROUNDS, EACH YEAR TRYING SOMETHING NEW; that we have originated varieties that have stood the test of time. In fact we believe that WE KNOW THE GLADIOLUS, and the various points that go to make up the nearly perfect variety SO WELL, that we are making a little departure from the usual catalogue offerings.

It is OUR PURPOSE to offer only varieties of Gladioli that have been grown on our Trial Ground in comparison with the finest varieties obtainable and which we know to be worthy a place in your garden or that you can conscientiously name on your sales list as Varieties of Merit in which it is safe to invest. Our long experience combined with continued close observation qualifies and enables us to keep pace with the constantly advancing Standard of Excellence.

For SUCCESSFUL CULTURE of the Gladiolus, rich soil, plenty of water and thorough cultivation are great factors, even ordinary sorts making wonderful response. Poor culture will sometimes cause the best varieties to give freakish blooms.

For FINANCIAL SUCCESS in Growing Gladioli Commercially, one must not only give his plantings the necessary culture to insure bulbs of strong vitality, but grow the varieties that possess points of superiority that will come up to, or advance the standard of merit. This means spikes should be tall, slender and graceful; that blooms—large or small according to their class—should be of good form and substance, correctly placed on the spike, and of desirable color. Solid colors or those of delicate shadings are preferable. If blotched or striped they should possess harmony of color, or pleasing contrast.

AUSTIN ORIGINATIONS

GOLDEN SWALLOW—Clear yellow, soft color and no throat markings. Petals beautifully formed and finely ruffled. Blooms are nicely placed on a tall graceful spike. Those in the illustration (on first page) measured five inches in diameter from tip to tip. The flower so resembles a flying bird, that we have named it the Golden Swallow. This promises to be a valuable variety, having good size, fine color and form, and a rapid propagator. Our stock very limited.

Bulbs 1 inch or over $2.00 each.

The following new varieties of our origination we have named YELLOW TREASURE and SCARLET TREASURE, and we call them, our Twin Prims, they being of the Primulinus Strain.

YELLOW TREASURE—A rich yellow, deeper on the lower petals; no lines, but a flushing of mahogany red deep in throat, intensifying its depth. Flowers three to four inches in width, mostly three and one-half, of good substance, beautifully ruffled and well placed on a spike about three and one-half feet tall. Spike is straight but unusual, in that it is pliable and can be bent almost in circle form without breaking. Because of its beautiful color and form, and pliability of spike we consider it especially valuable for florists' use.

Prof. A. C. Beal, of Cornell University N. Y., Registrar of the American Gladiolus Society and a leading authority on The Gladiolus, tested this variety last summer and recommended it for exhibition award. He described its coloring as: "Lemon-yellow, 1-21, lower segment darker, 3-21, in the throat coppery Old-Rose 2-147. At junction of each segment with tube on the outside flecked coppery Old Rose 3 or 4-147."

Mr. Chas. E. F. Gersdorf the noted Washington (D. C.) authority writes us about our Twin Prims.—"My tests of your varieties showed them to be all that you expected, and what was found in the trial gardens. The Prims belong to the class which includes Alice Tiplady, Juno and others. I found these to be of 4X quality. Yellow Treasure gave bloom in 92 days and spikes were produced in 96, 98, 102 and 113 days, all from one corm.

Scarlet Treasure started in 78 days, and gave additional spikes in 92 and 93, and 120 days. These glads are certainly up to your usual standard. I should like to have wholesale quotation on bulblets of these varieties"

SCARLET TREASURE—Dazzling velvety scarlet. Pure self color. Good size blooms. Many flowers open at one time and well placed on graceful spike. A strikingly beautiful variety.

Technical description by Prof. A. C. Beal—"Color firey red 2-80, very slightly flecked the same color on the lighter inner tube. Sheath tinged. A good commercial cut flower. Recommended for exhibition awards"

Prices of our Twin Prims, Scarlet Treasure and Yellow Treasure in the Trial Ground Sizes:

No. 1, 50c each. $5.00 per doz.

No. 2, 35c each. $3.50 per doz.

No. 3, 25c each. $2.50 per doz. A limited supply of bulblets of each variety at 50c per doz.

Of our older Austin Originations we offer only our Big Four:

EVELYN KIRTLAND—Rose pink, tall spike, 15c each.

$1.00 per doz.

HERADA—Beautiful orchid mauve, 15c each. $1.00 per doz.

GRETCHEN ZANG—Heavy blooms, soft pink, 12c each.

75c per doz.

BERTREX—Double row large white blooms, 12c each.

75c per doz.

These have stood the TEST OF TIME FOR MORE THAN TEN YEARS, and should be in every garden as worthy standards for comparison.
