GUIDE TO STREETS AND AVENUES IN MACON.

In consulting the Guide, it should be borne in mind that while the streets of Macon are in most instances laid out diagonally to the points of the compass, yet for convenience this fact is not recognized, and streets running parallel with the river are described as running from east to west, and those running from the river as running from north to south, so in consulting the General Directory, the north side of the street is the side nearest the river, the east and west sides are the left and right sides respectively as one goes from the river. The large number of unnumbered streets in the suburbs, where the only method of locating a house is by giving the side of the street it is on, and the number of doors from a cross street, renders this explanation necessary. It should be further mentioned here that several of the streets mentioned, some within the corporate limits, have been arbitrarily named, in order to definitely locate.
