RECORD GATHERING OF ADVENTISTS REACHES CLOSE

Elect Officers and Various Department Heads; Large Crowd at Encampment

With the record of being the largest convention ever held in the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, the encampment of the Southern California conference closed with a meeting last night in the big pavilion tent on the camp grounds at Vermont and Slauson avenues in Los Angeles.

During the encampment from August 31 to September 10, the camp has presented an interesting spectacle of varied activity, over 1,800 people having spent the entire time in camp, while their number was greatly increased by church people in attendance at the various sessions.

Features of interest of the annual gathering were the election of conference officers, election of directors of the San Fernando academy, selection of a board of directors of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, and discussion of a request from the Southeastern Conference, with headquarters in Riverside, for a union academy, and discussion of possible sites for the academy, which is to be moved from San Fernando.

Election of conference officers was featured by the unanimous re-election of the three major officers, W. M. Adams of Eagle Rock, president; W. L. Mecum of Los Angeles, secretary-treasurer; G. R. Reaser of Glendale, business manager.

Those chosen for the executive committee were, in addition to President Adams and Business Manager Reaser, W. D. Salisbury of Montrose, S. T. Smith of San Fernando, S. H. Coombs of Los Angeles, P. L. Knox of Long Beach and J. W. Rich of Pomona.

There were also secretaries chosen for the various departments of conference activities. (Continued on Page 8)

Postmaster to Get Long Vacation Now

What can a postmaster do with a thirty-day leave of absence each year with pay? That is the question puzzling D. Ripley Jackson, Glendale's postmaster.

In the past it has been customary to grant the postmasters a fifteen day vacation, and allow them ten days' yearly sick leave. The sick leave has also been increased to thirty days.

News of the change has just been received in the Postal Bulletin.

"I haven't taken my vacation this year," said Mr. Jackson. "Living in California is a continuous vacation, anyway. I can't do with so much time for a vacation, but perhaps some day I'll be glad to use it."

Where's City Hall? Answer Is Given

Has Glendale a city hall. It has, and it is located at 619 East Broadway.

This may be news to some who live among us. But read on and you will understand.

A stranger in our midst who refused to give his name, was very anxious to reach the city hall. So he asked several persons to direct him. After getting several different answers, he continued his inquiry.

To be exact, just two out of five gave the right information. All were obliging, however, but the directions included everything from the Chamber of Commerce to "ask a policeman."

Record Enrollment At Opening of High School This Morning

Glendale Union high school was stamped this morning by students seeking to continue their education.

Although evidence of crowded conditions is apparent, Principal George U. Moyses believes that arrangements will be made to take care of all pupils. The exact enrollment will not be known until late this afternoon. That it will be much larger than at the commencement of school last term is absolutely certain. Preliminary enrollment last week consisted of 1066 pupils. Only 1016 students altogether were registered for work at the commencement of last term.

On account of the preliminary work, carefully planned by high school officials, all registrations will be completed today and regular school work will be under way tomorrow.

The high school day term commences at 7:45 a. m. and concludes at 4:15 p. m. Principal Moyses this morning announced the appointment of Hubert S. White of Burbank to the faculty to train and direct a band. Pupils registering for instruction will meet at 3:15 o'clock each day.

ERNESTINE LYON WILL WED SOON

Glendale Girl to Become Miller Fishel's Bride; Announcement Party

The home of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Barnes of 665 North Central avenue was the scene of a most pleasant occasion on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Barnes entertained a number of friends at an announcement party in honor of her daughter, Miss Ernestine Lyon, who is soon to become the bride of Miller W. Fishel of Catalina Island. The home was beautifully decorated for the affair in the artistic combination of lavender and white, this color scheme being carried out throughout the house.

The news was broken to the guests through the means of cleverly arranged announcement cards, each one of which was uniquely adorned with a miniature photograph of Mr. Fishel's beautiful Avalon cottage. Above the picture were the words, "At Home After September 20," while below were the first names of the new-layers-to-be.

The afternoon was enjoyed in music and cards, five hundred being the principal game played. First honors in this diversion were carried off by Mrs. Homer Wellman, while the consolation prize was bestowed upon Mrs. L. Heisler.

He also proposed a new graduate direct profits tax on corporations, which, he said, would force huge monopolies to disintegrate in order to escape the higher rates.

COUNSEL FOR RAIL UNIONS ATTACKS DAUGHERTY

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Attorney Donald C. Richberg, as counsel for the railroad unions involved, created a sensation at the railroad injunction hearing before United States Judge James H. Wilkerson, in federal court here today when he opened his argument for dismissal of the drastic writ. Richberg, his voice vibrating through the courtroom, charged that Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty, chief law enforcing officer of the United States, had "betrayed the confidence of the court and consequently is betraying respect for the court and law and order."

Immediately after the finding of the second body, the police put Toney Nello, 47 years old, under arrest at Kansas City, Kan., through a severe grilling. His two daughters, Eileen and Florentine Nello, 11 and 12 years old, respectively, have been missing since a week ago last Friday, according to information in the hands of the police.

TURKISH CAVALRY NOW HOLDING CITY OF SMYRNA

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 11.—Turkish cavalry hold the city of Smyrna today, having entered Saturday. The last of the Greeks departed Friday night. Turkish infantry is moving slowly on Smyrna, the main army still being about a score of miles away. Allied commanders reported that there is little likelihood of a clash between the advancing Turks and the allied troops of occupation on the coast. The Turkish forces after reaching the zone of Broussa near the Sea of Marmora, were diverted in a southwesterly direction. Late advices from Smyrna said that the city was comparatively calm and well policed. Refugees are being sent out of the city as rapidly as possible and those remaining are being cared for by relief organizations. Occupation of Smyrna by the Turks was said to have passed off without incident.

PLAN TO SETTLE SOLDIER BONUS BILL IN FEW DAYS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—With all controversial issues in the new republican tariff bill settled by senate and house conferees administration leaders today planned to take up soldier bonus legislation with a view to its final enactment within ten days. The bonus bill will be considered in conference Wednesday where senate and house harmonization will adjust differences in the measure as it passed the two branches of congress. The McNary reclamation amendment, added to the bill in the senate, was expected to be defeated in conference. The Simmons amendment, which the senate added to finance the bonus from foreign debt payments, was favored by the conferees. Administration leaders planned to accept a conference report on the bonus by Thursday noon and the agreement then will be laid before the house for consideration as soon as the tariff is out of the way. The bonus would then follow the tariff into the senate. Its enactment this week is problematical but indications are it will go to the White House for presidential action next week. The tariff agreement meanwhile laid before the democratic conferees today. This action, taken as a matter of routine will not affect the report agreed upon by republican leaders. It will be presented in the house tomorrow and debate there started Wednesday.

SEEKS TO IMPEACH ATTORNEY GEN. DAUGHERTY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—An attempt to impeach Attorney General Daugherty was made in the house this afternoon by Representative Oscar E. Keller, Republican, Minnesota. Keller rose to the "question of highest privilege," announcing he desired to bring impeachment proceedings against the attorney general. Before he could state his charges or explain on what grounds he desired to impeach the attorney general, his remarks were blocked by Representative Mondell, the Republican leader, who demanded a roll call on a point of no quorum. The roll call then started. As soon as he was permitted to proceed, Keller charged that in obtaining the railroad strike injunction in the federal court at Chicago, Attorney General Daugherty had "abridged the freedom of speech, press and peaceful assemblage in violation of the constitution," and that he had failed to make prosecutions when evidence was laid before him. Keller asked that the house judiciary committee be instructed to investigate his charges of misconduct against Daugherty and to report to the house. He said he was prepared to appear before the committee with proofs to substantiate his charges. Representative Mondell immediately moved that Keller's charges be referred to the judiciary committee and this was done by a viva voce vote. Representative Volstead, Republican, Minnesota, is chairman of the committee.

Be Careful, Folks! You May Be Buying Sticks of Dynamite

Warning: If somebody comes to your front or back door as the case may be and tries to sell you a couple of dozen paraffine wrapped objects, slightly larger than sticks of candy, look out—it's dynamite.

Twenty-six sticks of dynamite, forty feet of fuses, and lots of concussion caps and a small capping contrivance were stolen last week from the Eagle Glen Heights Trust at the eastern limit of Glendale. They were being saved for blasting purposes and had been stored in a tunnel about thirty feet long in the side of the hill. The lock on the door was broken and evidences indicate that the thief took his loot, which is worth about $50, over the hill toward Eagle Rock.

Owing to the fact that the sticks are only rated at sixty per cent of the potential power of dynamite, Detective D. J. Royle, who is investigating the case, does not believe that they were stolen for safe-cracking purposes.

MRS. HARDING IS SLIGHTLY BETTER

Doctors Delay Operation at Favorable Condition of Patient Today

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 11.—After lingering between life and death for three days Mrs. Warren G. Harding, wife of the president, is improving today and the contemplated operation upon her kidneys has been deferred pending further developments, according to an official bulletin issued from the White House shortly after 10 o'clock.

When he called at the White House shortly before 9 o'clock to inquire concerning Mrs. Harding's condition, Secretary of War Weeks was told that her temperature was more nearly normal which was regarded as a favorable sign.

As she becomes more able to withstand the shock which would result from surgical treatment, there were indications that an operation would be performed. A decision with respect to an operation, however, depends largely upon the result of laboratory tests being made by the attending physicians.

President Harding and those constantly in attendance at the bedside of Mrs. Harding since she first became ill were greatly cheered by the encouraging reports coming from the sick room during the day.

Bonus Campaign Is Now in Full Swing

"Headquarters for Glendale's New Electric Railroad" reads an immense red and blue sign across the front of the building at 612 East Broadway which was put up this morning to indicate that this campaign is now in full swing.

He announced this morning that $12,500 has been pledged by those interested in this project. This is half the amount of the bonus promised to the Glendale & Montrose railway for the establishment of street car service on South Glendale avenue.

LAKE DISTRICT BY BALLOT ANNEXES TO THIS CITY

Contains About Four Square Miles With Proposed New County Boulevard

Glendale, the Fastest Growing City in America, Saturday took another stride forward when citizens of the Lake avenue district voted to annex this territory to Glendale.

This is the second largest annexation ever made to Glendale. The territory lies adjacent to the Grand View district on the southwest side of the Southern Pacific railway tracks. It has a frontage of about 1300 feet on San Fernando road, and extends west to the limits of Griffith park. The area of this territory is nearly four square miles and it consists of several thousand acres.

The Los Angeles river now passes through Glendale. The city now has a direct connection with Griffith park and a new contact with the Southern Pacific railroad. Riverside drive, the new county boulevard, passes directly through this property. This fact, will bring hundreds of motorists through it every day.

Vote on annexation was very close Saturday. Forty-four citizens voted for joining Glendale and thirty-seven voted against this action. Previous elections have not been so favorable.

Credit for the result of this election is being given without stint by the city administration to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and several realty firms. Promotion work was done quietly and without publicity. City officials feel that this is the more reason why those who helped put the deal over should be praised.

Those who are familiar with this annexation are quite enthusiastic about it. They say that it is the biggest transaction in Beautiful Home Sites (Continued on Page 8)

EMPTY SEDAN IN 100 FOOT PLUNGE

Occupants Get Out While Tire Is to Be Repaired, So Escape Injury

Plunging over an embankment to a great depth of 100 feet, an almost new sedan owned by Harold F. Benner, scout executive of the Verdugo Hills district, Boy Scouts of America, Saturday evening smashed itself into a twisted wreck in Topanga Canyon, a short distance above Santa Monica. No one was in the car at the time, but the sedan itself is practically a total loss.

Mr. and Mrs. Benner, who live at 1125 East Harvard street, Saturday took their small daughter, Virginia, and Mrs. Benner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Fish of Los Angeles, for a day's outing on the beach at Santa Monica. In the evening the party decided to return home by way of Topanga Canyon.

Occupants Quit Car Part way up in the canyon, Mr. Benner discovered a punctured tire, and stopped his car on the steep road to change the wheel. The rest of the party had intended to remain in the car, but luckily decided to take a little stroll while Mr. Benner changed the wheels.

Shortly after they had left the car, it started to slide down the grade, slipped off the jack, and, despite the efforts of Mr. Benner and Mr. Fish to hold it, gained speed and went over the embankment. It turned over twice and stopped with a crash on the floor of the canyon, right side up but damaged beyond repair.

Motorists brought the party to the city, and yesterday Mr. Benner investigated the wreck. At that time it was discovered that the car was in gear, with the emergency brake engaged. The motor, tires and other parts of the machine are being salvaged.

The car carried no insurance against accidents.

KEEP YOUR SAILS SET FOR VOYAGE
 Presbyterians Advised That Last Trip Is Always to Home Port
 Rev. Louis Tinning, assistant pastor, preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning from the words, "Did not our hearts burn within us, while He talked with us by the day?"
 "We have high hours and low hours—when we are glowing, and when we are depressed," he stated. "This was one of the high hours with those disciples, when the risen Jesus had walked and talked and supped with them. And when it was past forth with they went back to tell their fellow-disciples in Jerusalem."
 "Much of the spiritual poorness in our lives is due to ignorance of the laws of our own nature. It is not because we have succeeded that the high hour is followed by the low hour. Warm young Christians meeting this and not understanding the low hour holds. But this is not necessary; don't let the fire slack! We are lading vessels for a distant port; let us be busy until the Lord comes or we go."
 "Now consider the high hours. You want to go out with the enthusiasm that those disciples had? Don't make any plans for the fire to die down but to increase."
Much Can Happen
 "For one thing, never allow this feeling to pass without translating it into action; action that will be for God's glory, not your glory. When good has come to you, do something with that generous tide. And immediately so much can happen before next week. And act not only immediately, but strongly; not apologetically, but with all your heart and soul."
 "Now assuming your high hour has come, and that you have acted, never lose a battle. 'But I went out, and I failed utterly.' No, nothing done for Christ ever fails. When trick of the devil to throw you thus."
 "Do something each day; follow the line of duty, no matter if it be unattractive. And so when the sudden test comes you will instinctively turn and do right—you have been trained in other hours, by previous living."
 "A trawler captain said, 'After we have taken our catch we always set our sails and turn our boat toward port, even if there is no wind, for often there is a wind higher up; so it is always best to keep sails set. In the morning we are nearer port than we expected.'"
 "We are here to do what God requires each day. Have our sails set and headed for port. When the breeze comes, the high hour, we shall unconsciously move heavenward."

HOW TO CHOOSE A CONFIDANTE

A man whom many people seem to like a confidante in told me this illuminating little story the other day.

"Another man opened up his heart to me one night when we were walking together and told me a whole lot of things. He was not the kind of man who usually does get confidential and right in the middle of it he stopped and said, 'Darn it all, I know I ought not to be telling you this but in all the years I've known you you've never yet told me anything that anyone else told you. I guess that's safeguard enough.'

"His Best Compliment"

"I never had a compliment," said he, "that pleased me more and never one that I had occasion to remember oftener when the temptation not to deserve it came to me."

"Then you do find it a temptation sometimes," I asked, for he has the reputation of being exceedingly discreet.

"Was there ever anyone who didn't?" he countered. "When you know things that would make people's eyes stick out, isn't it always a temptation to make them stick? Of course you don't do it but—"

"Alas, not all of us could say 'Of course' so calmly!"

"The Commonest Temptation"

"Of all the temptations, I think the temptations connected with "that little member that kindleth a great fire" are the most universal, the most subtle and the most irresistible. The temptation to betray a confidence, the temptation to hint that you have a confidence that you can't betray (and in doing so half betray it), the temptation to make fun of people even when you like them (the sweetest, saintliest woman I know has this one fault to make her human), the temptation to be clever at the expense of better things than cleverness, these are some of the many forms of tongue temptations to which most of us yield at one time or another.

The Best Test

The test by which that man chose his confidante is an excellent test. The man or woman who tells us other people's secrets; who ought not to tell you but I knew you would be so interested," will tell our secrets to others.

That ought to be so obvious that it would be ridiculous to say it, but apparently it isn't. We always think that we are to have special exemption for some obscure reason. Perhaps because our secrets are so much more important than other people's.

Tomorrow—Why not Envy Yourself?

MISS AMERICA, BEAUTY PRIZE WINNER, IS OPPOSED TO ROUGE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11.—Lip sticks, rouge or other cosmetics have never touched the face of the girl acclaimed the most beautiful in the world.

Miss Mary Catherine Campbell of Columbus, O., who was awarded the $5000 trophy for one year as a climax to Atlantic City's three-day pageant, attributes her good looks to an athletic life. She said:

"Half hour on the tennis court, horseback riding and occasionally a short swim are the only things I attribute to my keeping beautiful, but to tell the truth, I never knew I was beautiful until the judges selected me. I don't use cosmetics because they are too much bother.

"I like blondes much better than brunettes. Although I am a tall girl myself, I prefer girls of short stature."

"Miss America," who won the title and trophy from Miss Margaret Helen Gorman of Washington, D. C., holder of the title last year, is an auditor in the state department of Ohio. She is the grandchild of Mrs. Daisy Rhodes Campbell, author of popular books.

Finishing a four years' course in the high school in two and a half years is "Miss America's" scholastic record.

Before turning 16 Miss Campbell was entered as a pupil in the arts college of Ohio university. She is going to resume her studies this month.

Mrs. Herman R. Campbell, the beauty's mother, said concerning her daughter's success:

"Mary has such curly hair that a number of people think it is bobbed. She is five feet six inches tall and weighs 126 pounds. I don't believe Miss Gorman weighs more than 100."

"Nevertheless Miss Gorman is a mighty fine girl," the new title holder added to her mother's statement. "She was the first one to congratulate me."

Miss Campbell will leave for Columbus Tuesday. So far she has refused hundreds of invitations to dances and parties, saying, "I must get my beauty sleep."

COCKROACH IN THE EAR

A most interesting case was reported in the July number of the American Medical Association Journal which I shall give you, for I think we can get some lessons from it.

It is reported by Paul A. Higbee, M. D., of Minneapolis, that: "A man, aged 36, stumbled and fell, February 18, 1922, striking on his chin. He was unconscious for a few seconds and, on recovering, experienced a sharp pain in his right ear. After the chin wound was dressed he was referred to me for examination of the ear. The external canal was blocked. A large amount of debris was removed, disclosing tightly packed cerumen, which was removed with difficulty. Following this came the remains of a dead cockroach, 18 mm. in length and perfectly preserved in every detail.

"The patient in April, 1908, while preparing for a bath, felt a sudden pain and buzzing in the right ear, which drove him almost frantic. While his wife was telephoning for a physician, he put his head under the water in the tub, and the pain soon ceased. Later, on the advice of his physician, the ear was syringed, but nothing was washed out of the ear, and it was supposed that the trouble was due to a small mite which had been lost in the washing.

"The patient gradually became deaf in this ear, but never consulted a physician, believing that some irreparable damage had been done to the ear by the insect which he thought he had washed out.

"After removal of the cockroach and cleaning of the canal, hearing was fully normal, and the only evidence of the injury was a slight abrasion of the drum.

"It seems probable that, following the original injury in 1908, the canal became gradually filled with wax, thus entombing the insect in an air-tight space and preserving it in toto for nearly 14 years."

Have you a little cockroach in your ear?

It is surprising how many people will accept gradually increasing deafness as a natural thing and not have their ears examined.

EDNA KENT FORBES

SOFT, SMOOTH ELBOWS

At this season of the year, few women can display pretty elbows. The informality of the summer frock (though its aim is that of comfort) leaves the arms so exposed that, along with the probability of the tanned and freckled skin, comes the begrimed and roughened elbow.

This year in particular the arm and consequently the elbow, has been more exposed than usual, since sleeves have been either short or very wide and loose flowing, leaving the arm bared most of the time. A continuance of this vogue means that arms can find after the summer's exposure while the color of the skin is often an ugly shade of gray or brown. Fortunately, the elbows respond to treatment in a short time, so a few weeks of care should make a great difference in their appearance.

The first thing to do is to scrub them with a moderately stiff brush, using hot water and a mild soap. Then rinse them in hot water and dry. While the skin is still warm and moist, rub into it some warm olive oil, or pour some of the oil into saucers and place the elbows in these for ten

Cover the mould slowly until unmould on cold plate and surround with sections of juicy oranges. Serve with sweetened cream.

Eleanor—Do not try to dye your chestnut brown hair jet black, as the change would surely make your skin look swarthy. The natural shade of the hair is usually the one best suited to the common warm olive complexion. Add tints to this but not with such types as you describe.

ONE REMEDY FOR SIN, SAYS PASTOR

Christ Has Key to Unlock Mystery of Salvation, Is Rev. Cole's Claim

"Worldly Wisdom and the Cross" was the topic of the sermon yesterday morning at the Central Christian church.

"To the man who is in the wrong, all things appear wrong," asserted Rev. C. A. Cole. "The drunkard imagines himself in a world of cheats, the liar in a world of deceit. We can easily believe that the Devil finds all places Hell. So, also the man who is out of accord with God's word and the church lays at their doors all his failings.

"To the Jews Christianity seemed a stumblingblock, because they were stumblingblocks themselves. Every great leader among them found himself impeded and hindered. The anger of Moses, the meekest of men, waxed hot against them more than once. Judges, prophets, priests and kings all bewailed the stubbornness of the people.

"To the Greeks Christianity seemed foolishness because of their own folly. A people that live for worldly pleasures and selfishness could not be expected to see the wisdom of higher things. Fools become so infatuated with their folly that it seems real wisdom to them.

"Behold the frailties of man when he tries to measure up to the wisdom of God! How puny and impotent he is in the light of God's omnipotence!

"For 2000 years the crucified Christ has been the key which has unlocked the mystery of salvation and poured out upon mankind happiness and peace. No other remedy for sin has ever availed nor can it. Yet men, seeing and knowing that this is true, reject! "Men want a sign—something to startle and dazzle. To this class the cross of Christ is still a stumblingblock. For it speaks of humiliation, of obedience unto death. This is distasteful. To go with Jesus among the lowly, to the sick, that is too humble, too plain, too unassuming.

"There are Greeks today in intellectual and superior learning and laugh long and loud at the idea of the miracles. They set up their minds as capable of solving all mystery. I have heard of folks who have had more regard for the mental grasp of the preacher than to simple preaching of the cross."

THERE'S EVIDENCE

The mother of two boys, aged respectively 5 and 7, had a hard question to settle the other day. The younger boy came to her crying with exasperation that he was "a nickel short."

"Well, what's the use of yelling about it?" said the older brother, who was calmly eating candy. "You don't think I took it, do you?"

"I don't say you did," the little fellow replied, "but I'm a nickel short and you're eating candy."

CHAPTER XXI
QUESTIONS—AND ANSWERS

A murmur of amazement went round the room, like the sound of rising wind. The coroner held up his hand for silence.

"You say it is yours, Miss Brellier? This—is this really most remarkable—most remarkable! The revolver is of French make, is it not? You bought it abroad?"

"I did. Just before I first came to England. I had been traveling through Tunis before that, and—well, one doesn't like to be without these things. Sir Nigel's revolver came from India, I believe—through the agents of a French firm, the makers."

"But—" The coroner's voice was low-pitched, incredulous, "are you trying to tell us you fired a shot that night, Miss Brellier?"

"She shook her head, smiling. "No—that would be impossible. But my revolver has always lain in that little secrétaire, and I have never had cause to use it since I have been on this side of the Channel. I was in bed early that night, with a headache. My uncle will tell you that. He took me to my room and spent the rest of the evening in his study, as you have already heard from him. No, I cannot say I murdered Dacre Wynne. Though I would say that or anything to save Nigel. But I didn't discover that this little revolver of mine had even been fired until yesterday, when I happened to go to my secrétaire for a letter which I had locked away in that particular drawer. Then I took it up and chanced to examine it—I don't know why. Perhaps because it was the same as Nigel's. I—she choked suddenly, and hit at her lips for control. "There isn't a loophole here, sir, by which Sir Nigel might be saved? Surely it must be traced who used this revolver, who fired the shot from it?"

Her voice had risen to a piteous note that brought the tears to many eyes in that crowded room. The coroner coughed. Then he glanced inquiringly over at Brellier, who had risen from his seat.

"You have something to say about this, Mr. Brellier?"

Brellier made a clicking sound with his tongue.

"I'm afraid my niece has been wasting your time, sir," he said quietly, "because I happen to have used that little instrument myself five months ago. We had a dog that was hurt—you remember Franco, Toinette? And if you carry your mind back you will also recollect that he had eventually to be shot, and that I was forced to perform that unpleasant operation myself. He was dear to me, that dog; he was—how do you call it?—a true 'pal.' It hurt me to do this thing, but I did it. And with that revolver also, it was light. Toinette must have forgotten that I mentioned the matter to her."

AUSTRIA FACES DOOM UNLESS AID COMES; PRICES GOING UP

By E. A. WRAY
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

VIENNA, Sept. 11.—All foreign residents in the city agree that Austria is doomed unless her last despairing appeals for help are answered with an unexpected and dramatic aid.

On every side there are signs that a catastrophe may happen at any moment which will engulf and horrify all central Europe. Four years of suffering have now reached their climax, and even though aid be forthcoming quickly, it is difficult to see how disaster can be averted.

The cost of living has trebled within the last three months. Between July 15 and August 15 it rose 124 per cent. Britain and France have refused further credits to the government.

Most of the shops in Vienna are closed. Those still open merely display useless luxuries. All public necessities and imported goods are carefully hidden out of sight. Tradespeople are hoarding stocks for their own use because there is no business done and there is no fresh milk, because the farmers prefer to feed their pigs upon it rather than send it to the city, where they receive only perfectly useless notes. Any shopkeeper who happens to have a store of food will only sell it at most extortionate prices in foreign currency.

Ordinary prices have advanced to the most absurd exploitive system of bartering labor in return for necessities. The average poor person is coming to the point where he is practically unable to buy anything, and a return to a is in sight.

Only the shops in the center of the city, near the fashionable hotels, make any display, and this is only for the benefit of foreigners, who are only allowed to buy when they produce the currency of their own land.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By LIEUT. JOHN R. IRWIN
INSTRUCTOR U. S. AIR SERVICE

WAVE LENGTH

Many inquiries have been received from perplexed students asking the meaning of "wave length."

Wave length is the distance from one wave to the peak of the succeeding wave. As an analogy we can picture the distance from the top of a water wave to the top of a succeeding wave, although other waves may be of different form than water waves.

Dividing the velocity of the waves, which is the same as the speed of light, 186,000 miles per second, by the number of waves per second gives us the wave length. We may put this in another form and say the product of the wave length by the frequency is always 186,000. A student, in grasping the idea of this subject, should always bear in mind the speed at which ether waves travel, remembering that it is the same as the speed of light.

In discussing wave lengths, it should be carefully noted that it is only by means of variations of wave lengths that it is possible to operate a number of radio stations within the same area or region without interference or jamming. Any desired wave length can be obtained by varying the circuit which determines wave frequency.

Wave lengths used in commercial practice vary from a few hundred to thousands of meters.

Wave length plays such an important part in radio that a perfect understanding of the subject is essential. For illustrative purposes, we may compare several radio stations working in the same locality on similar wave lengths to several persons speaking in the same room at the same time. A listener at a receiving radio station, or another person listening in the same room as the speakers would be "jammed" or interfered with. This subject will be further discussed in the next issue.

HIGH HONOR GOES TO BURBANK GIRL

Miss Thelma Gibbs, Age 18, Secures Second Prize In Nation-Wide Contest

To Miss Thelma Gibbs, 18-year-old Burbank Union High school student, has come the honor of winning second prize in a nationwide essay contest among upper class high school students, sponsored by Henry Morgenthau, former United States ambassador to Turkey. Mr. Morgenthau offered $2000 in prizes, stipulating that the essays were to be about conditions in regions where American Near East relief is being carried on.

In addition to being second winner in the national contest, Miss Gibbs took first place in the Californian contest, receiving last July Mr. Morgenthau's check for $15.

"The Martyr Nation" was the subject of Miss Gibbs' essay and she competed with prize winners from various states. The national board of judges in the contest consisted of Albert Shaw, editor of American Review of Reviews; Lawrence Abbott, editor of the Outlook; Prof. N. L. Engelhardt of Columbia university.

Judges of the California contest were Prof. Roy Malcolm of the University of Southern California; Prof. John C. Shedd of Occidental college; W. Maxwell Burke, Los Angeles attorney.

Miss Gibbs is a native of Oklahoma and has attended public schools in Los Angeles, Long Beach, St. Paul, Minn., and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE SNAPPING TURTLE

"Uncle Wiggily, why don't you put on your bathing suit and come down to the duck pond ocean with me?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy.

Wuzzy one day after school had started again, following the long vacation. "All the animal boys and girls are at their lessons now," went on Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy, "so none of them can come to have an adventure with you. Wouldn't you like to come for a dip? Soon it will be too late in the season."

"Why, yes, I think I'll go," answered the bunny gentleman as he thoughtfully gave his pink nose an extra twinkle or two. "A dip in the duck pond will make me feel quite chipper and jolly."

"You are nearly always that," laughed Nurse Jane. "But perhaps you may have an adventure."

"Perhaps," said Uncle Wiggily. He dressed himself in his bathing suit and Nurse Jane put on hers. Being a muskrat lady, and used to the water, Nurse Jane did not wear much of a suit. But as Uncle Wiggily's fur was not made to shed water, he used a rubber suit. It was made from the leaves of the rubber plant.

"Now we're all ready!" cried Nurse Jane, and in she splashed, swimming under water all the way across the pond.

"I can't do anything as fancy as that!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "but I'll splash around a bit."

So he did this, floating on his back doing the dog paddle and then the overtop stroke, though, of course, he was not as good at this as Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy.

All of a sudden, Baby Bunty, who had been let out of the hollow stump school early, because she had to take a music lesson—all of sudden, Baby Bunty, who had run down to the edge of the pond, pointed with her paw at something in the water and cried: "Look Uncle Wiggily! It's something big and black!"

Uncle Wiggily looked and so did Nurse Jane.

"Oh, it's a large snapping turtle!" cried the muskrat lady. "Oh, I don't like him, Wiggy. He might snap my tail or my leg!" Out of the water she hurried.

"A snapping turtle, eh?" exclaimed the bunny, as he went closer to look. "I don't believe he'll harm me."

"Indeed, I will not," answered the snapping turtle, from down beneath the water of the pond. "And you would help me, Uncle Wiggily?"

"What is the matter and how can I help you?" asked the bunny.

"Well, a big stone has rolled on my back," sadly complained the snapping turtle, "and, try as hard as I have, I can't shake it off."

"I'm afraid I'm not very good at rolling stones off turtles in the pond," said the bunny gentleman, "but at least, I can try."

"Take your red, white and blue striped barber pole rheumatism crutch," advised Nurse Jane, who had come back to the edge of the pond, being no longer afraid. "Perhaps you can poke the stone off with that, Uncle Wiggily."

"That is a fine idea!" exclaimed the bunny. He skipped out of the pond, for he had only been standing on the edge, and soon came back with his rheumatism crutch.

Reaching over in the water, Un-

"Let go!" bellowed the Alligator.

Pacific-Southwest Review

H. NELSON, Manager Glendale Avenue Branch Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank

According to a report on the industrial conditions of the Pacific-Southwest, prepared by the Research department of the First National Bank of Los Angeles, the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank and the First Securities Company, the general tendency during the period of general depression has been for the business organizations of this district to hold and consolidate the gains made during the period of general prosperity. In very few lines has a recession been particularly noticeable. The majority are now gradually expanding their activities as the return to more normal conditions in other portions of the country increases the demand for Pacific-Southwest products.

The development program of this territory has proceeded throughout the period of general depression with the losses by one industry practically offset by the gains in another.

There had been some expectation that depression would reach this district after its full force had been felt elsewhere. This, apparently, is not the case since, with the rapid unification and coordination of economic activities in the Pacific-Southwest, expanding population, and extensive development programs under way, the consumptive and producing powers of this district are increasing sufficiently to require gradual industrial expansion. Further, the expansion in this territory during the war was less than in other parts of the country, with the result that less recession is necessary.

The greatest recovery in the district has probably been experienced by the canning industry. Industries correlated with the automobile industry have expanded rapidly, due to heavy purchases of new automobiles. Building trades industries are enjoying rapid expansion to keep pace with the building activities of Southern California.

There has been a steady increase in retail sales throughout the past several years. The present tendency of retail prices seems generally to be slightly upward, although summer clearances, which are normal phenomena in this district, have temporarily offset upward price tendencies.

On the whole, there is comparatively little backing up of manufactured stocks in this district. Most of the liquidation of manufacturers has been completed and the producers are manufacturing today for current demands.

The employment situation is rapidly improving. The major portion of the advertising of this district as the "white spot of the United States"—an influx of workers who could not all be satisfactorily accommodated locally—has, to a great degree, passed with the revival in eastern states. Wages have been fairly well readjusted and the efficiency of workers is, upon the whole, satisfactory.

Every indication points to steadily increasing trade in this territory as compared with the same period of the last and previous years. Bank clearings, bank deposits, building permits, commerce through the Los Angeles Harbor, etc., continue each month to break all records for corresponding months in past years.

The sentiment with regard to fall and winter trade in this territory is optimistic. Underlying that in some quarters the development of this district is being somewhat over-capitalized, but, on the other hand, in most lines of endeavor, sane and conservative policies are being followed, so that the general situation would seem to justify a feeling of optimism with regard to the future.

One moment!

Cleek held up a silencing hand as the name almost escaped Merriton's lips. "Officer, I'm from Scotland Yard. I'd like a word with the prisoner alone, if you don't mind, before you take him away. I'll answer for his safety, I promise. . . . Keep your heart up, boy; I've not done yet!" This in a low-pitched voice, as the two men stepped away from either side. "I've not done by a long shot. But evidence has been so confoundingly against you. I'd hopes of that I. O. U., but the whole thing was so simply explained—and there were the proofs, you know. Still, there was no telling how the story would come out. But it was so obviously true. Only, keep up your heart, lad; that's what I wanted to tell you. I'd swear on my oath you weren't guilty. And I'll prove it yet."

Something like a sob broke in Merriton's voice. He held out an impetuous hand.

"I'm sorry, sir," he said jerkily, "but it's a devilish ordeal. What a life I've led this past week! If you only knew—could only realize! It tears a man's nerves to atoms. I've almost given up hope."

One Quality Only

The Silvertown is the pioneer cord tire of America. Its history is the record of every important development in cord tire construction. From the start it gave the motorist a new idea of tire service.

The Silvertown is made by an organization with 52 years' experience in rubber manufacture.

There is only one quality in Silvertown Tires. The materials and workmanship in one are the same as in all others. The name of Silvertown is always a symbol of one quality.

Your dealer will sell you the Silvertown in any size from 30 x 3 1/2 up.

CABINET BEGINS WORK IN GREECE

New Ministers Moderate; Sensational Reports Are Now Current

ATHENS, Sept. 11.—The new Greek cabinet headed by M. Triantafyllakos, who holds the post of premier, minister of finance and minister of marine, began to function today after taking the oath to support the crown. It will attempt to avert a domestic catastrophe. All the new ministers are moderates. Sensational reports are current. One is that former Premier Venizelos will attempt to return if King Constantine will abdicate. Greek military headquarters have been removed to the island of Chios in the Aegean sea.

Typhus is reported to have broken out among the Greek refugees at Smyrna.

Near East relief workers at Smyrna report that supplies have become exhausted. Thousands of fugitives are blocking the roads leading to Smyrna. The misery is acute. Many are dying of starvation.

Army Withdrawing
LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Greek army which was massed in Thrace to menace Constantinople from the north is withdrawing, according to advices received today from Constantinople. Newspapers predict that the allies will concentrate a fleet of British ships along the Dardanelles and Sea of Marmora to prevent the Turks from trying to cross into Thrace.

U. S. Protects Workers
ATHENS, Sept. 11.—United States bluejackets are protecting the Near East relief workers at Smyrna while French and Italian soldiers are guarding the railways and churches, according to advices from Smyrna today.

Constantinople has a university with a medical faculty.

WILL TAKE DAYS TO MAKE RESCUE

Believe Miners Still Alive; Governor's Committee to Investigate

JACKSON, Sept. 11.—Five days in the 2600 level of the Kennedy and seven in the Argonaut are the time estimates today on reaching the Argonaut's entombed miners, according to conservative estimates of mine authorities. Men on the job underground are more optimistic, declaring that they are likely to get through the underground boundary line by another thirty-six or forty-eight hours.

Announcement was made that crews laboring on the 3900 foot level of the Kennedy had reached and are now drilling the solid rock of 141 feet, the last barrier separating the Argonaut from the Kennedy.

With the dawning of the fifteenth day of the miners' predicament, opinion was almost unanimous that the men are still alive.

Make Steady Progress
Steady but slow progress was made by the crews on the 3600 foot level of the Kennedy. It was believed two more days' toil would place these workers before the less thick rock wall of seventy-five feet and the powerful pneumatic drills would dispose of this barrier in less time than it requires to clear a path to the wall. One hundred and forty feet of debris yet remains to be cleared.

A searching investigation is to be made of the disaster by a committee appointed by Governor Stephens. The executive committee of the Argonaut mine, in a statement, welcomed the investigation, and said they would render all assistance possible.

REPORTS BIKE STOLEN
The theft of a bicycle Saturday night from the rear of the Brand Boulevard Trust & Savings bank has been reported by Ira Herbert, manager of the Glendale Fire & Patrol Dispatch.

TWO LOSE WALLETS
R. W. Alexander of 824 East Anacia avenue has reported the loss of a wallet containing valuable papers. A wallet also was lost by W. A. Beran of 205 Hawthorne street.

RECORD GATHERING OF ADVENTISTS REACHES CLOSE

The elections were: Prof. H. G. Lucas, Glendale, educational secretary; Mrs. Cleora Webster of Pasadena, Sunday school secretary; L. G. Reynolds of Los Angeles, field secretary; V. H. Lucas of Pasadena, home missionary secretary; D. A. Lower of Los Angeles, tract society secretary; Mrs. Matilda Cotti, medical missionary secretary; G. H. Snyder of Alhambra, religious liberty secretary.

The position of secretary of young people's work was not elected, the choice being left to the executive committee.

Pick Directors
Churchmen who will serve as directors of the San Fernando academy are W. M. Adams, G. R. Reaser, W. D. Salisbury and A. Ruff of San Fernando, A. E. Pohl of San Fernando, Prof. H. G. Lucas of Glendale and A. H. Conway of San Fernando.

Of particular interest to Glendale people is the selection of directors of the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital. The personnel of the hospital board is W. M. Adams, E. W. Reaser, W. D. Salisbury, Dr. H. G. Westphal, C. E. Kirtlin, Dr. W. J. Johnson and E. M. Emerson.

From the first day of the encampment there was much informal discussion of a union of the Southern California and South-eastern conferences on the academy proposition. A request had come from the Southeastern organization for such a move, but the members of the Southern California conference after discussing the matter from every angle voted to maintain a separate school.

However, decision had been made some time ago that the Southern California conference academy at San Fernando would be moved to a new site at the close of the present year and one of the important matters taken up at the encampment was where the best site could be found. Sites have been considered at Oxnard, Arcadia and other points in the conference territory but final decision was not taken at the encampment, the choice being left to the conference executive board and the academy directors.

LACK OF BELIEF IS ROOT OF SIN

Men's Bible Class Told That No Fine-Spun Theory Can Evade Fact

"The world's greatest need today is conviction of sin," declared Rev. Keith L. Brooks yesterday morning in the council room at the city hall before the members of the Men's Bible Class of the Presbyterian church.

"Sin is ignored much in modern preaching," he continued. "No fine-spun theory can get around the fact of sin. If the truth about sin is not preached and if men are not convicted of sin, its power will ruin them."

"The Holy Spirit furthermore convicts of righteousness. Every man must have it and no man does have it until it is found in Christ. The acceptance of the Righteous One will raise a man out of his sins and justify him before God."

"The Spirit is seen as the One who convicts of sin, righteousness and judgment. He proves to the conscience of man that sin belongs to man, righteousness to Christ and judgment to Satan and his followers. No conversion ever took place without this convicting process."

Sin Rooted in Unbelief
"All sin has its roots in unbelief and the most aggravated form of unbelief is the rejection of the Savior. No other sin so deeply insults God. All others can have their power on the heart broken if one will receive Christ. No other can obtain forgiveness while this sin is retained."

"Men today seem to take little thought of this worst of sins. They look to their sins of commission, thinking nothing of the sins of omission which are far greater and more deadly. Sins of omission are more numerous in Christians than sins of commission. The unregenerate are eaten up by their sins of omission. Their whole life is one vast sin of omission. The great prime sin of which the spirit came to convict is that of failing to receive Christ."

"There is something wrong when people are occupied with the Holy Spirit instead of Christ. The Holy Spirit never draws attention inward to His own operations but always points outward to Christ."

"In John we have the Spirit as the one who is to guide the apostles and all believers in the truth. He guided the apostles in their writings, guarding them from error, refreshing their memories and imparting fitting words. He will show all believers the way of truth."

WASHER'S WHISTLET
A whistlet that catches the dripping water has been invented to keep the arms of window washers dry.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Location Means Much Heading for Glendale City Expands to West Some Pertinent Questions

By Gil A. Cowan

In Fallbrook (located in the OCATION means almost everything to the success of a business.

back country of San Diego county) I noted yesterday a rancher's wife venturing into the "eating house" business by the highway with an equipment she purchased for $25.

Here in Glendale the same sort of a stand, which included stools, counter, two tables, five chairs, miscellaneous dishes, range, etc., would be worth no less than $500.

You know Glendale has got a reputation! At the bathhouse at Oceanside a young fellow from Escondido said he would likely come here for work as a carpenter. His talk will likely bring three or four more to the city of homes.

Well, the more we have here the more we want, eh? Jim Rhoades will please answer tomorrow noon at the Forum luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce.

By annexation of territory west of this city Glendale has gained a great deal in potential value.

First, there is an industrial district provided. There are a couple of thousand acres of dairying district included, and there is opportunity for a half dozen subdivisions along Los Angeles' Riverside drive.

It won't take long for this additional acreage to be developed and double in value. That's the history of all territory annexed to Glendale.

Do you know that due to the railroad strikes there is a shortage of automobiles and that second hand cars are in demand at good prices?

Have you learned that there is a shortage of glass and that canning materials are nearly exhausted?

Are you aware that California and the Pacific coast present the greatest opportunity now for the manufacturer as eastern plants cannot care for orders near home?

Could you believe that business failures are fewer than ever before and that credit is being extended more freely?

Do you know that 7 per cent money is difficult to obtain because of the demands by builders and developers?

Have you heard that lumber prices and clothing are on an upward trend?

Are you taking advantage of the really market today, for speculation opportunities will be greatly reduced?

If you do know all these things profit by the advantage you have over the person who doesn't read this comment.

Swordfish's Nose Shattered on Ship
NEW YORK—A gallant swordfish, more valiant than discreet, stuck his nose into a tough proposition, bent it, and then broke it off (the proboscis).

The fish, of which species few are ever seen in these parts, attacked the steam trawler Ellis II, according to Captain Tuthill.

With great rage he smote the sturdy hull of the trawler with his snapper.

LAKE DISTRICT BY BALLOT ANNEXES TO THIS CITY

which the city of Glendale has been involved for some time.

Some of the most beautiful home sites between Glendale and Universal City are embraced in this territory. It has frequently been the scene of moving picture locations. A great deal of the territory is suitable for subdivisions.

A suitable industrial district is included in this territory also. This lies along the Southern Pacific tracks and adjoins San Fernando road. It is expected that this will be laid out in factory sites with suitable spur track facilities.

Six or seven hundred people live in the territory at the present time and it is expected that many hundreds more will settle there at once. The potential possibility of the territory so far as population is concerned is almost unlimited. One thousand families could easily be accommodated. This means about 3000 persons which would double our present population.

Increase in Values
Property in this territory, which is now appraised at $1000 an acre is expected to double and treble in value at once.

All city privileges will be granted to the residents of this district and police protection and garbage service immediately. Street work will be given earnest consideration by the city council and the wishes of the property owners will be accorded to with as much pleasure as petitions from any other section of the city.

Plans will be started at once to supply the homes in the new territory with water on the same basis with which this is supplied to the rest of the city. Owing to the fact that the fourteen acres adjoining the city's pumping plant at Grand View and San Fernando road lies at the southeast corner of this territory, the problem of furnishing the homes in this district with water is greatly simplified. Plans will be made at once to lay the necessary pipe lines and residents are assured of city water as soon as this work can be done.

"I want to give the Glendale Chamber of Commerce credit for this," stated City Manager W. H. Reeves with enthusiasm this morning. "The residents of this new territory will be treated just the same as those in other parts of the city. The city council will be just as much interested in giving them what they want as though they lived in any other section of the city."

BIGGEST LIFE IS TOPIC OF PASTOR

One of Christian Best of All, Says Dr. Crist in His Sunday Sermon

"The High Places of Spiritual Enjoyment," was the subject of the sermon delivered Sunday morning by Dr. C. M. Crist at the First Methodist church. In introducing his sermon theme Dr. Crist said:

"The last poem of Robert Louis Stevenson was one in which he expressed his adoration of the Scottish Highlands, the place of his nativity.

"As glorious as is the picture presented by Stevenson of his boyhood home, much more glorious are the spiritual joys of the sons of God. Spiritual sensibilities are as real as the physical. One comes to know God, to see him face to face, to feel His presence in all the joys of a splendid fellowship.

"Mountains and trees and the inspiring views from the high places, speak to us of the Almighty. Physical grandeur has often hushed the soul into silence as we have said, 'Surely God is in this place and I know it not.' One of the first suggestions that come from the theme is that one must climb to the high places for great conceptions and lofty inspirations.

"The Christian life is infinitely bigger than any other life. It is a high table-land that lifts itself above the long stretches of valley. Jesus Christ never had more to offer to any age than he offers to this intensely complex life of the twentieth century.

"It is not a routine prescription for conduct in every particular circumstance, but it is a holy inspiration to the whole of life. He is robbed of life's greatest possibility who does not recognize God's call to holiness.

"Real fellowship with Jesus Christ leads us on toward the heights. It is the fellow that leaves camp that presses on up the slope and by reaching the top. As the hunter climbing the high crests of the mountain finds honey hidden away in the rocks, so the Christian by a determined upward climb finds that spiritual treasure described by the psalmist when he says, 'It is sweeter than honey and the honeycomb.'"

Business Women to Meet Tuesday Night

The regular monthly meeting of the Business and Professional Women's club will be held tomorrow night at the clubrooms, 126 South Maryland avenue. After a short business session the remainder of the evening will be devoted to a house-warming party. All members who have books they would like to donate to the club have been requested to bring them at that time. A meeting of all the members of the various committees is scheduled for Tuesday night, September 19, to plan for future work of the club.

DEPEND ON GOD, IS SERMON URGE

Congregation at Christian Alliance Church Told Christ Atoned

"The Dependability of God" was the topic of the sermon yesterday morning at the Christian and Missionary Alliance church.

"Some say it is important for us to speak to God," remarked Rev. C. H. Chrisman, "but it is more important for God to speak to us. And it is well for us to listen, for He is absolutely capable of being depended upon."

"All the promises that God has made, no matter how great the number, are absolutely sure of fulfillment insofar as He is concerned if you will only glorify God by putting your Amen after them. There are many promises but they are not wonderful unless we say Amen to them. We have to endorse them or they will not apply to us."

"Let us observe the dependability of God in its relation to the Bible. God's word is settled in Heaven and ought to be settled here. In these days of unsettled conditions there is nothing we are sure of except the word of God—the Bible. What has happened to it that makes society so indifferent to the Bible? It is the damage done by higher critics who have taken the fear of God out of the hearts of the people until at last we have a generation of people who say they do not know whether to believe in the Bible or not."

"As the children of Israel were saved by the blood of Jesus Christ now or not at all. Let His blood be sprinkled upon you now and now. Judgment will touch every page of the Bible. Christ was either the Son of God or He was the greatest impostor the world has ever known."

"God can be depended upon to heal the sick. The atonement was a finished work because it applied to the spirit, soul and body. Christ's death atoned for everything we fell heirs to through the fall of Adam and Eve."

MUCH TOO TALKATIVE
"I'm glad I am not dispensing the hooch that is sold nowadays," declared the ex-bartender.

DESERT PICTURE, THRILLING STORY

'Arabian Love' Is Attraction Now Being Offered on Glendale's Screen

The William Fox picture "Arabian Love" which opened an engagement yesterday at the Glendale theatre with John Gilbert as the star, has all the appeal that beautiful desert photography and a thrilling story can give it. Gilbert is very fine in the role of Norman Stone, an American, who, because of peculiar circumstances, joins a sheik's band to keep out of the grasp of the law. Barbara Bedford, in the feminine lead, also plays well her part of the bride of a diplomat who is shot and killed in a struggle with Stone soon after the diplomat's bride returns from her sick mother across the desert.

The play revolves around the love of these two, neither knowing the relationship of the other to the diplomat until their romance brings them close together. Other film attractions are on the bill.
