GREER TRIAL HALTS; MISS NORMAND STRICKEN

Edna Purviance Unable to 'Remember' Events Leading to Dines' Shooting

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Mabel Normand suffered a complete nervous collapse early today and failed to appear in justice court as a witness at the preliminary hearing of Horace Greer, her chauffeur, who shot and seriously wounded Courtland S. Dines, wealthy sportsman, on New Year's night. The court room was jammed.

After Edna Purviance, movie star who was present when Dines was shot, took the stand and testified that she "couldn't remember" events leading to the near tragedy, the preliminary hearing of Greer was ordered continued until Monday.

Dines In Hospital

Attorneys for Dines, who was unable to leave the hospital, offered to have his testimony taken at his bedside, but this move was blocked by lawyers representing the institution.

Miss Purviance, attired in a dark lavender and gold sport costume, gave testimony that was rather vague and indefinite, repeating over and over that she could not remember all that occurred when Greer sent a bullet tearing through Dines' chest.

Movie Star Nervous

Called to the stand, Miss Purviance showed her only sign of nervousness. She remained seated in the witness chair when the court clerk started to administer the oath.

"Stand up," said the judge. Miss Purviance rose quickly, but after the oath was completed she continued to remain standing. "Sit down," said the judge. A little flustered, she dropped back into the chair.

"Did you see Greer January First," asked Attorney Heinecke, and Miss Purviance's answer was (Continued on Page 4)

G. & M. Will Handle Union Pacific Traffic

The Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad company today applied to the railroad commission at San Francisco for authority to discontinue operation of mixed trains (passenger and freight service combined) upon its Glendale branch, Los Angeles county.

This action has been taken as a result of the agreement of the Union Pacific with the Glendale and Montrose railway, by which the latter, on January 13, took over the Union Pacific tracks from Verdugo Junction up to the end of the line north of Glendale and will handle all traffic, both freight and passenger, over this stretch according to C. A. Redmond, city passenger agent of the Union Pacific, 129 South Brand boulevard.

Egg-cuse Us, But Have You Heard This Egg Story?

B. R. Holloway of the Holy Poultry ranch, Van Nuys, was the speaker at the Rotary luncheon here yesterday. He told a story well worth passing along. It is about eggs, his principal stock in trade.

"A young newlywed visited the grocery store and ordered a half dozen fresh eggs. To make sure that she was getting none other, she said to the grocer, 'How do you tell a bad egg?'"

"Well," replied the grocer, "I don't tell 'em much, but when I do I break it gently."

Mr. Holloway guarantees this to be a good dinner toiv, but not so good for most when eggs are broken.

OFFER NEW BILL TO SLASH TAXES

King of Utah to Introduce Measure Designed to Save $390,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Another tax reduction plan, proposing more drastic slashes than any before, was brought out for congressional approval today. Senator King, Democrat of Utah, author of the bill, announced he would introduce it early next week.

The bill is designed, King said, "to provide equitable and balanced reduction of taxes upon all classes of people, the rich and poor alike, and is not intended as a play for political advantage."

King would reduce taxes by approximately $390,000,000, or $67,000,000 more than the net cut proposed by Secretary Mellon. The largest slash would fall within that class whose yearly income is less than $5,000.

In connection with his refusal Davidson issued the following statement:

"I have been requested by the state department of the United States to grant President Obregon permission to transport troops through the state of Texas.

Menace to Citizens

"I have refused the case after having had correspondence with the state department and state and civil authorities along the border. I believe that such permission would be dangerous to the welfare of the citizens of Texas along the Rio Grande border."

"The people of the state of Texas are friendly inclined to United States President Obregon and are very anxious for peace to reign in the country below our border, but those living along the border, as well as myself, believe that the passage of Mexican federal troops through our state would be apt to precipitate acts of warfare on United States soil.

Valentine Welborn, Leaving Alsace-Lorraine In 1860, Marries, Raises Family of Ten and, With Wife, Observes 83rd Birthday Here

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff.

Turning his face to America, the land of promise, lying far across the seas, a young lad of 19 years left his home in Alsace-Lorraine in 1860 and came to cast his lot in Syracuse, New York. He had been born in Alsace-Lorraine January 17, 1841, when that territory was under French rule, and left before that fair country was given to Germany in the treaty of 1870 following the Franco-Prussian war.

This lad was Valentine Welborn and the romantic story of his more than sixty years' residence in the United States was recalled last night when he and Mrs. Welborn were honored at a family dinner at the home of their son, Dr. John Welborn at 1136 East Colorado street.

Celebrate Birthday

In addition to bringing members of the family together, the dinner and informal social affair last night celebrated Mr. Welborn's eighty-third birthday.

It was one of the happiest events of recent years for Mr. and Mrs. Welborn, equalled in pleasure only by their diamond wedding May 10, 1923, which recalled their romantic marriage sixty years ago, when Mrs. Welborn, now 81 years of age, was Margaret Kiel, also a native of France.

During their residence in Syracuse Mr. and Mrs. Welborn were both active and prominent members of the Evangelical church, and their many friends in the east will be interested to learn through The Glendale Evening News of the reunion last night. The Welborns have resided in Los Angeles for the past fifteen years.

Attractive Decorations

Of their ten children, fourteen grandchildren and four great grandchildren there were present last night six of their children and seven grandchildren.

COUNCIL NOT YET READY TO SELECT EXECUTIVE

May Call Mass Meeting to Let Public 'Look Over' Various Applicants

Nine applications, either written or verbal, have been received by the City Council for the position of city manager, made vacant through the resignation of W. H. Reeves, according to a statement issued by Mayor Spencer Robinson this morning. Seven of the applicants are Glendale residents, one lives in Long Beach and the other in Los Angeles. They are:

- G. W. BEBCAW, Glendale, electrician.
- DAVID J. BLACK, Glendale, business manager, board of education.
- BERT FARMER, Los Angeles, former president of the Los Angeles City Council.
- C. D. GULICK, Glendale, realty broker.
- J. L. JAMES, Long Beach, engineer.
- HENRY MOLZ, Glendale, attorney.
- V. B. STONE, Glendale, assistant city engineer.
- H. C. VANDEWATER, Glendale, municipal building superintendent.
- A. J. VAN WIE, Glendale, city clerk.

In addition to these names, several prominent Glendale men are mentioned in connection with the position, but they have not as yet made application formally.

Action Is Delayed

Due to the absence from the city of several members of the council, no action has yet been taken on the applications, and the position will be held open for some time yet. In order to allow as many candidates as possible to apply for this important station in the city's administration.

There is absolutely no secrecy in regard to the appointment of the new city manager," said Mayor Robinson this morning. The matter has been talked over informally by the members of the council since Mr. Reeves handed in his resignation. We have taken no action on his successor, and do not expect to do so for some time yet.

"We have received five written and four verbal applications. Copies of the written applications are being handed to The Evening News today, in order to do away with the idea that there is any clandestine scheme afoot in the matter of the new appointment.

"From what I can gather from informal talks with other members of the council, they are of the opinion, as I am, that all things being equal, the position should be given to a Glendale man, who is familiar with the problems of the city. However, we will award the managership to the man who is, in our opinion, best fitted for the job. We hope that he will be Glendale man."

May Hold Mass Meeting

"In all probability a mass meeting will be called before the appointment is made, at which all candidates will be asked to appear before the citizens of Glendale. In this way we can get a better idea of their adaptability for the position, and the citizens will be able to see for themselves (Continued on Page 8)

Pupils Honor Guests At Meeting of P.-T. A.

Pupils of the midwinter graduation class were guests of honor of the Colorado Street Parent-Teacher association at the meeting yesterday afternoon, and all the pupils of the school above the fourth grade were entertained with a three-reel moving picture entitled "The Cheerful Giver," featuring Bessie Love.

The graduates presented a program with the numbers interspersed between reels, including choruses numbers by the entire class, "The Maple" and "American Hymn," with piano accompaniment by Emily Gillan and Beatrice Guenther; violin solo by Stanley Guenther, with piano accompaniment by his sister, Beatrice; piano duet by Emily and Adelaide Gillan; reading, "The Owl Cries," by Beatrice Guenther; saxophone solo, "Barry Hymn of the Republic," by Alfred Owen, with piano accompaniment by Emily and Adelaide Gillan.

The younger pupils were dismissed at the close of the program and the graduates remained and were served refreshments of ice cream and cake by the mothers of the school. Mrs. S. L. Gillan, president, presided at a business meeting, and plans are under way for a patriotic meeting to be held the first Thursday in February. The room count gave first place to the sixth grade room, of which Miss Bessie Ross is teacher.

BAR PASSAGE OF OREGON TROOPS

Texas Executive Refuses Permission to Mexican Soldiers to Pass

Both were to be arraigned this afternoon for preliminary hearings. According to department of justice officials, the charges against Villazor and Villazor are attempts to put a rebel army across the border near Eagle Pass. Three Mexicans were arrested at Eagle Pass Wednesday in connection with the case.

Dividing into squads, the officers swooped down on rebel headquarters here where Villazor lives and the home of Villazor almost simultaneously. They were armed with search warrants. According to officials here other arrests will probably be made within the next 24 hours.

American Oil Tankers Run Tampico Blockade

HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 18.—The Sinclair tanker Eugene V. Thayer, which sent out the first messages on the bombardment of Tampico, has been successful in running the rebel blockade during the night, according to a message received by the local commercial radio station today.

The message also stated the steamer Virginia got through safely. The Thayer said rebel gunboats had successfully prevented the Dutch steamer Maasdam from entering the port at Tampico and were now stationed about three miles off-shore endeavoring to maintain the blockade.

The bombardment of Tampico has given added significance to the movement of fifty-three Mexican mariners from Laredo through Houston to New Orleans last Thursday.

Warn de la Huerta Blockade Is Illegal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—The United States government considers Adolfo de la Huerta's boasted blockade of Tampico, as "illegal" and has notified the rebel chief it will not be recognized, the state department announced today.

American oil companies and consumers in this country depend upon a continual flow of oil through the port.

A statement of American policy will be forthcoming from the state department later in the day, it is learned.

Prize Winning Cats Eat Special Diet, But Common Felines' Menu Is Mystery

CHAMPION LIKES CALVES' HEARTS

Fattening Foods Barred By Powder Puff's Owner.

Milk Also Taboo

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff.

What do cats eat? It has always been a question as to what the family cat, which sits around our back porch in the California sunshine each day and perches on the pergola in the dark of night, has as a diet for long since we have tried of catering to a cat's taste.

So we went to the cat show and asked to know. Of course, we wanted to find out what the prize pussy lived on, for Powder Puff Chimes must have only the best, we presumed. Mrs. Frank Bundy was more than willing to talk about the cat's favorite dish, even to the point of showing us some of the dainty morsels—nay, not so dainty.

Cal's Heart Diet

Searched calf's heart is the food which Powder Puff and the other members of the Bundy menage eat nothing else but. One smell of the meat and Kito, Tinkles and Chimes all started meowing in unison for another meal, although it wasn't time. And Kito had to take the air before the mess call in cat language was finally quieted.

"Some cats will not eat meat," said Mrs. Bundy. "Others eat only hamburger, but my cats disdain such a 'Hebeian' dish. Many are fed salmon, while many cats have a diet of raw eggs. Chimes will eat some egg, but Kito doesn't like it. None of my prize winners get milk or cream, nothing that is the least bit fattening, not even fat meat. And they care little for milk."

Cream Not So Good

"True, there are some cats which will have nothing else but cream, but it is not good for them. Others acquire a taste for condensed milk, but I find the meat diet best. A little bit of lean meat in the morning and plenty of heart at night, that's what they get, and it costs 28 cents a pound. It is expensive, but my cats have won so many prizes. It takes a whole room to display their ribbons, and I have only been raising them a little more than four years."

BLAZE AT VERNON

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Millions of dollars' worth of oil refinery properties were threatened with destruction late yesterday when a mysterious explosion rocked the Vernon district of the city and caused a fire in a 10,000-gallon tank of gasoline at the General Petroleum company refinery near Twenty-ninth street and Santa Fe avenue, according to police and fire department reports. The fire was extinguished after doing damage estimated at $25,000.

Meow! Bow Wow! Dog's Life Adds Zest to Cat Show

A dog's life—you know what that means, perhaps; and it was just that to be seen yesterday at the Glendale Cat show in Hahn's auditorium.

Dot, the pet Boston bull, owned by Miss Ella Bowser of Santa Monica, couldn't be left at home alone, so it came to the show. It is a playmate of Kito, jr., which Miss Bowser had entered.

Now, playing with cats around the house, teasing the kittens and such, is great fun; but when a strange cat dog loose yesterday, Dot, the dog, had to beat a retreat. His mistress quickly "caged" him with young Kito.

It was just like going to jail. Dot disdained the idea, wept hot tears, which Kito licked away, and so it was until she got out into the open air at night.

If dogs could talk, Dot likely would declare against cats' shows, cats' ankles, cats' pajamas, and the like, you bet.

POPULARITY CUP GOES TO 'PINTO'

Cat Experts Proclaim Show Most Successful Ever Staged in State

Feline competition was at its height last night when the 1924 show of the Glendale Cat club came to a close in the Hahn auditorium on North Brand boulevard and out of the 150 or more prize pussies purring contentedly under honors and compliments showered on them, Pinto, the white and blue, short haired cat, entered by George Hall, Jr., of 214 North Maryland avenue, was declared the most popular cat in the show and received the popularity trophy cup given by the Glendale Humane society.

Another feature of the closing was the drawing of numbers for the Persian kitten, to be given to the one holding the lucky number. The order of numbers drawn was announced this morning as 675, first; 535, second; 487, third; 155, fourth; and 407, fifth. The holder of the first number can secure the prize by calling Mrs. B. O. Holbrook, Glendale 1706-J.

Officers of the Glendale Cat club and the Glendale Humane society are greatly gratified over the success of the show, which was conceded by residents from all parts of California as the finest one of the year.

Miss Ethel R. B. Champion, nationally known cat judge, who was brought from New York to preside over the Glendale show, proved most efficient and during her stay has won many friends.

LADY BETTY WINS HONORS AT SHOW

Mrs. B. O. Holbrook's Cat Is One of Big Features At Display Here

One of the outstanding features of the Glendale Cat Show, which closed last night, was the winning by Mrs. B. O. Holbrook's Lady Betty of the C. F. F. championship.

Lady Betty is a beautiful smoke female long hair. She is also the proud possessor of a silver cup for her prowess. Mrs. Holbrook is a Glendalian and member of the local Cat club, living at 426 West Harvard street.

Of course, Mrs. Frank Bundy's cats were the biggest winners. But then, they should be, for the members of the Glendale Cat club, of whom she is one, Powder Puff Chimes, already a champion in the A. C. A., won three more points toward his C. F. F. championship, making eight in all. Two more will give him this coveted feline plum—and he is only two years old. He was acclaimed best cat in the show and won first award, winner's ribbon, challenge trophy, best male, best champion and a big silver cup, donated by Mrs. Libbie W. Ashcroft, president of the Glendale Cat club.

Best Male Kitten

Tinkles, Powder Puff Chimes' charming son, age four months, was adjudged best male kitten in the show and won in the first award and a challenge trophy. Another of Mrs. Bundy's cats, Sweet Molly O, won best champion female, second best female, first award, winner's ribbon and a special trophy, while her Kieto II, still another champion in the A. C. A., won a first award. So altogether, Mrs. Bundy is very happy today.

Miss Clarabel Grim of Matilija road, Glendale, won a silver cup with her Matilija Kewpiedoodle for best dam in the show, and her Matilija Cubbyanna captured second best dam in the show. Her Matilija Don Sonnyano won best novice and gained a cup and a medal for his good looks, while her Matilija Manzanito won a cup for best female novice and her Matilija Vincent, otherwise known as "Jerry," won a cup for best neuter. Miss Grim is a prominent member of the Glendale Cat club and a breeder of fine long hair cats. She is almost as happy today as Mrs. Bundy over the successes achieved by her pets.

Other Prize Winners

Dr. Libbie W. Ashcroft, president of the Glendale Cat club, won best sire in the show with her beautiful blue, Extrid de Verdugo. Her Verdugo Fery O'Silver won best silver female and her Verdugo Visitor won best silver male, while her three silver tabbies each took a first award.

Mrs. J. L. McOmber's Teddy Bear won best short hair neuter by a club member. Mrs. Frank Card's Bilkins won best black neuter. Mrs. Eva Harris' Barbe Bleu Skydust won best female in the show, while her Barbe Bleu Khani, a magnificent animal, was adjudged best blue male in the show.

Lonesome Ed, fantastic South Seas entry of W. T. S. McCleary, won best "painted cat" in the show—and when given his blue ribbon he put on his spectacles and looked it over critically. When he saw Miss Ethel R. B. Champion's name as judge he me-yowed in approval.

The show committee comprised Mrs. Libbie W. Ashcroft, Mrs. B.

TRUSTEES ACCEPT SCHOOL BUILDING

$600,000 Structure Formally Taken Over on Report Of Architect

The board of trustees of the Glendale Union High school, on the report of George M. Lindsey, architect, that the work of the contractors had been completed, formally accepted the new $600,000 high school building on East Broadway. Trustees A. W. Tower and T. D. Watson were absent. President H. W. Yarick, with trustees Albert Pearce and Dr. H. G. Brown acting for the board.

Members of the board were conducted through the building last Saturday morning and gained first hand knowledge of the carrying out of the plans and specifications. Everything is now in readiness for the move of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades to the new plant before the beginning of the new semester, February 1.

The matter of the formation of a Junior high school was discussed informally but no action was taken.

K. of C. Will Join In Greeting to Deputy

Glendale Knights of Columbus voted last night at their meeting in the clubhouse at 330 East Lomita avenue, to join with the Junipero Serra council of Los Angeles Monday night, January 21 to greet Frank E. Michel, Jr., state deputy. The meeting is to be at the Catholic Women's club. The Glendale delegation will meet at the Glendale clubhouse at 7:30 o'clock and go from there in a body.

At the meeting last night it was decided to postpone the athletic carnival from January 23 to January 25. T. J. Mulcahey is chairman of the event.

Following the carnival there will be a serpentine dance Saturday night January 26.

Another event the local Knights will attend is an affair at Anaheim, January 27. A group of first degree Knights from Glendale will be taken to Anaheim for major degrees. A banquet will follow.

Last night Frank Salmacia and Mr. Maroney of Upland arranged the program given by Francisco Bustamante, pianist, and a Mr. Foster, vaudeville entertainer.

Average passenger automobile in the United States consumes 360 gallons of gasoline annually, it is estimated.

Stars In New Year Shooting

At the left is Edna Purviance, famous as Charlie Chaplin's leading woman; at the right is Mabel Normand, featured by Mack Sennett. They figure prominently in the case of Horace A. Greer, chauffeur for Miss Normand, who is charged with shooting Courtland S. Dines, Denver sportsman, at a New Year's party in Los Angeles. Both actresses were present at the shooting, Dines being seriously wounded.

MABEL NORMAND HAS BREAKDOWN

Movie Star Is Unable to Appear in Court and Give Testimony

"No," answered the witness. "Did you see Dines after he was injured?"

"No." "Well, what did you see?" She Hears Shots

"I was in the bath room, going from the bathroom to the mirror in the bed room. I heard three shots. They sounded like the cracking of a whip."

"What did you do?" "I don't remember exactly. I saw Mr. Dines with his hands on his chest. He had been shot and he said—"

"Just a minute, just a minute," roared Greer's attorney. "We object to what he said unless she saw Greer there."

"Did you see Greer?" asked Prosecutor Heinecke. "No."

"Not at any time that day?" "No."

Two Stars Help Him "What did you do when you saw Mr. Dines holding his chest?" asked Heinecke.

"We helped him into the next room, Miss Normand and I."

"Did you hear any noise before the shots?" "No."

"Where was Miss Normand?" "I really can't remember."

"Now, do you know of any trouble between Dines and Greer prior to this shooting?" Defense objection was sustained.

Judge Hanby then questioned Miss Purviance on points of her testimony after attorneys said she would not be cross-examined.

Permit Issued For News Plant Additions

Calling for an expenditure of $25,000, a permit for additions to The Glendale Evening News building, 139 South Brand, was issued this morning at the building inspector's office in the city hall.

Work on the additions to this newspaper's building is already under way, under the direction of the Roy L. Kent company. The plans call for elaborate changes to care for The Glendale Evening News' rapidly increasing business and when the work is finished the building and plant will be one of the most complete on the coast.

Ninth District Conference Recommends Selection To G. O. P. Meeting

"At noon today when we left there was no relative of President Coolidge among our 50,000 inhabitants," he said.

"But by the time we get home we may expect to find three or four have dropped in our midst from the Coolidge family tree—for Glendale grows that rapidly."

Needless to say, it was the best laugh of the meeting. From a standpoint of serious business the conference of Coolidge Republican clubs unanimously adopted the following resolutions at their Pasadena conference, pledging their support in the coming campaign:

"Whereas, the Republican party three years ago came into power when the war and the events following its conclusion had left the country in chaos and financial uncertainty, and under the administration of Warren G. Harding the nation was carried through a period of intense post-war deflation without panic or alarm, and the adoption of a national budget system has resulted in the saving of more than $300,000,000 and the fiscal year has closed with a large cash balance to our credit in the national treasury instead of the usual deficit; and the Washington Disarmament Conference planned and called by our late President Harding is the most potent factor for the preservation of the world's peace ever undertaken and accomplished by any nation, and the establishment of a world's court as recommended by him will be one of the strongest agencies in the support of universal peace; the extension of farm loan and rural credit has been of inestimable benefit to the farmer and to the nation as a whole, the president's recognition of co-operative marketing is the adoption of the California solution of the farmers' most vital problem; the passage of a wise, fair, revenue-producing protective tariff and the efforts of the administration now nearing accomplishment to abolish the twelve-hour working day in the steel industries, and its efforts in furtherance of child labor protection and women's welfare legislation, and care for disabled veterans of the World War will be of great benefit to the country at large; and,

Whereas, President Calvin Coolidge has announced his determination to carry out the wise and humane policies inaugurated by the administration of President Harding.

Therefore, be it resolved, by the delegates present at this Ninth Congress District Republican conference, that we endorse these policies of the administration of President Harding and recommend President Calvin Coolidge for his support of them, and do pledge our best efforts to secure the nomination and election of Calvin Coolidge to succeed himself as president of the United States and pledge our delegates to the national convention to use every honorable means to secure his nomination.

I admire him most, however, for his thorough honesty, his diligence in business and his personal qualities as a man and a citizen.

Many years ago I was for a short time associated with Mr. Black in a business way and have watched his career since very carefully and therefore speak from an intimate knowledge of his character and capacity and hope that our city may be favored with his services.

FAMILY REUNION ON 83RD BIRTHDAY

Valentine Welborn and Wife, Wed 60 Years, Enjoy Informal Gathering

(Continued from Page 1) the 6:30 o'clock dinner was served, was beautifully decorated in a pink, blue and white color scheme, sweetpeas, violets and carnations being used in profusion. This color scheme was further seen in the various rooms of the Welborn home.

Miss Helen Burland is to be complimented on the decorative work.

Mr. and Mrs. Welborn seated in places of honor at the heavily laden table, were surrounded by their sons, Dr. John Welborn and wife and daughter Dorothy of Los Angeles; Frank Welborn and wife of Nome, Alaska; Edward Welborn and wife of Wenatchee, Washington; Charles Welborn and wife and children Howard, William and Doris of Los Angeles; and their daughters, Mrs. D. B. Evans, Mrs. Cora, Olwyn and Ruth of Los Angeles.

Receive Greetings

Others seated at the table were Mrs. H. G. Beales, Miss Helen Burland, Mr. and Mrs. Don Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Horn, Mrs. Edith Glassey of Glendale.

Greetings were sent by the Welborns' children who were unable to be present, Rev. C. C. Welborn, Mrs. J. M. Andrews, Albert Welborn of Syracuse, N. Y., and Julius V. Welborn of Kansas City, Missouri.

After the dinner hour reminiscences of old times were enjoyed and during the informal social time a picture of the group was taken and appears today in The Glendale Evening News.

Endorses Black For City Manager's Post

Editor The Evening News:—I note with satisfaction that the name of David Black has been presented in connection with the office of city manager. Through years of intimate association with Mr. Black, at one time as a partner and in later years as an admiring friend, I most heartily endorse his name for the position.

Mr. Black is especially well fitted for this position by reason of his earlier training as a manufacturer where he learned the value of efficiency. His intimate knowledge of Glendale and its growing needs is another qualification which no outside man can duplicate.

I admire him most, however, for his thorough honesty, his diligence in business and his personal qualities as a man and a citizen.

Many years ago I was for a short time associated with Mr. Black in a business way and have watched his career since very carefully and therefore speak from an intimate knowledge of his character and capacity and hope that our city may be favored with his services.

The EASY Vacuum Electric WASHER

Operation—The "Easy" is easy to understand and to operate. There are only two levers—one starts and stops the vacuum cups—the other starts, stops, and reverses the wringer. Both levers are conveniently located near the top of the tank, which eliminates stooping of the operator.

Within one hour the "Easy" will wash as much as a good laundress would wash in four or five hours by the old rub-board method. A full load can be washed in from ten to twenty minutes, depending upon the soiled condition of the clothes.

Operation—The "Easy" is easily moved about. All operating parts are out of the way, enclosed under the tank. Protected against overload by the automatic cutout switch. Comparatively few places which require oiling.

The current consumed will cost from one to two cents per hour.

Special Features

Occupies little more space than an ordinary wash tub. It is easily moved about. All operating parts are out of the way, enclosed under the tank. Protected against overload by the automatic cutout switch. Comparatively few places which require oiling.

A ten dollar initial payment is all that is necessary to put this wonderful machine in your home. Balance monthly.

NINE CANDIDATES FOR MANAGERSHIP

Public May Get Opportunity To 'Look Over' Applicants Before Selection

The class of men who have made applications for the position of city manager is not closed, and we will receive applications for some time yet. We want as many as possible.

David J. Black, Bert Farmer, C. D. Gulick and A. J. Van Wie have not as yet presented their application in writing, although friends who are working in their interest have circulated petitions addressed to the city council asking that they be given consideration when the decision is made.

Copies of Letters
Copies of the five letters of application which have been received by the council, copies of which were handed The Evening News today, are as follows:

To the Honorable Council,
City of Glendale, Cal.
Jan. 14, 1924.

On July 5, 1921, a formal application was filed with your honorable body, for position of City Manager, and am now renewing this application for this position, believing myself fully competent to fill it creditably, with the cooperation of your honorable body, for without this hearty co-operation no human person can successfully administer the prerogatives of such an office; am 45 years of age, been a resident of Glendale for about twenty years, and parents for thirty-five years; am an electrician and telegraph operator by profession; am a member of the First Methodist Episcopal church; am a member of the Masonic lodge, also a member of the Good Templars and other organizations; during the late war was stationed at Camp Kearny, Cal., in charge of the terminal and communication lines to Washington, D. C., during its early construction and operation, and we put it over, too.

Have been connected with the railway transportation companies during past twenty years, with the Santa Fe lines, also Southern Pacific lines, in capacity of agent in general.

Am fully aware of the responsibility connected with this position, having full confidence in my ability to handle the situation satisfactorily.

On back hereof you will find list of references, who are more or less known throughout the city, and you are at liberty to refer to any one or all of them, at any time. I come with clean hands, with no strings tied to anyone for personal letters, relying upon my own initiative and ability to handle the situation unhampered by anyone, and the good judgment of the board.

With a full appreciation, I am not unmindful of past courtesies extended, neither am I ungrateful and anticipating consideration of the writer, beg most respectfully to remain.

Yours very truly,
G. W. BERCAW.

Address
(Lock Box 73)
60 Linden Ave.,
Long Beach, Calif.,
January 14, 1924.

To the Hon Mayor,
Glendale, Calif.

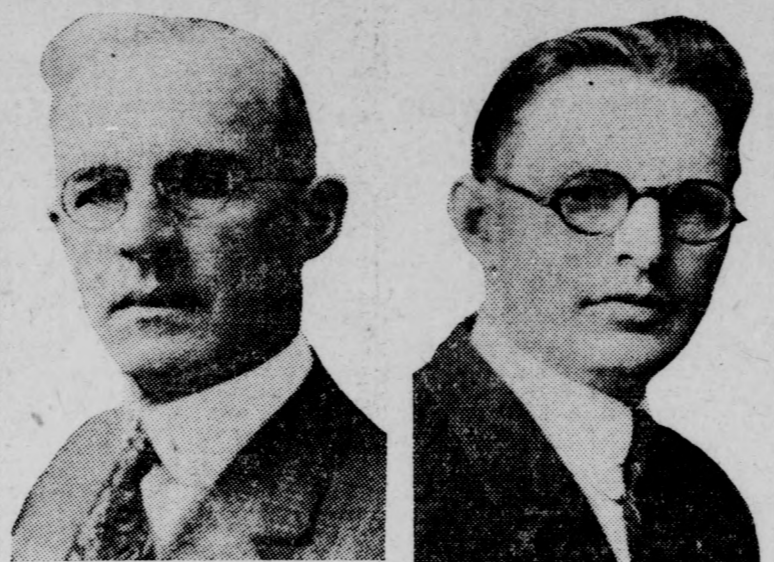

Dear Sir:

I read in the public press that your city manager had resigned and if such is the case, I would like my application for the office considered.

I am a graduate civil and mining engineer and while I have

CHIROPRACTORS TAKE OFFICES

Dr. Gilkerson And Dr. Colquhoun Together

DR. J. K. GILKERSON DR. R. L. COLQUHOUN

Dr. J. K. Gilkerson, prominent chiropractor of Glendale, graduate of the Ratledge System of Chiropractic Schools, and Dr. R. L. Colquhoun, also a resident of Glendale for the past two years and a recent graduate of the same school, have taken offices together in the Central Building, 111 East Broadway, over the Glendale State Bank.

Dr. Gilkerson, although practicing in Los Angeles for nine years, has made his home in Glendale for the last six years, where he has made a host of friends, as a result of which, about a year ago, he felt justified in locating his office here also. He has taken an active interest in the social, civic and religious welfare of the city, as a result of which he is a strong Glendale booster.

Dr. Colquhoun comes very highly recommended by the faculty of the school where he not only conducted a large and successful clinic, but passed his final examinations with honors making a grade of 95 per cent plus on all subjects.

In choosing an associate, Dr. Gilkerson feels that he has in Dr. Colquhoun a man of rare quality and ability, a man of the highest moral standards and keen professional judgment.

Both being graduates of the pioneer chiropractic college of the west, they took an active part in the recent campaign for the chiropractic law, which sets a high standard of education in all subjects relative to the practice of chiropractic.

Tells Experience In Japanese Earthquake

Rev. B. S. Moore last night gave his experiences in the recent earthquake in Japan, in Bethel chapel, 633 East Colorado street. There was a good attendance, and Mr. Moore held his audience spellbound as he told of the terrible extent of the devastation in the two cities of Tokio and Yokohama and districts.

The house where Mr. Moore was living was destroyed. He managed to rescue his wife from the debris, Mrs. Moore escaping with a broken arm.

The government would never let the full extent of the calamity be known, he declared. One island, with 100,000 people, was literally blown up, and not a particle seen, the shores of the mainland being covered with dead bodies later on.

No less than 3000 distinct shocks were recorded. The very earth seemed blown open. Of the 125 trolley cars running, only one was seen left standing in the streets. The fire completed the work of destruction. The loss of life was appalling.

A substantial offering was made at the close of the service to en-

Mather Field Will Be Retained by U. S. Army

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Mather Field, one of the big aviation camps during the World war and situated twelve miles east of this city, will not be abandoned as reported, but is to be retained as a permanent base for army defense squadrons, according to information just received from Colonel William S. Gilmore, air officer of the Ninth Army Corps, with headquarters at the Presidio, San Francisco.

According to the army officer, a bombardment group of not less than two squadrons of the latest type Martin bombers will be stationed at Mather Field. These planes carry from three to four men and a 2000-pound bomb. The bombardment group will compose approximately 800 enlisted men and 150 officers.

ROCK BOTTOM MEAT MARKET

133 SO. CENTRAL AVE. GLENDALE, CALIF.

LOCAL PRODUCT IN RACING CARS

Winfield Carburetors, Made in Glendale, in Use at Ascot Speedway

Fully fifty per cent of the racing cars to appear at Ascot, new Los Angeles speedway, will have carburetors "made in Glendale," according to Eddie Winfield, former star driver and now proprietor of the Winfield Carburetor company, 114 South Maryland avenue.

When the flag falls for the first race in the final meeting next Sunday half of the noted speed kings will pin their hope of victory to the Glendale product. The steel racers of Eddie Myers, holder of all dirt track records from one to ten miles; Harry Hooker, holder of the non-competitive record for one mile; Harry Womack of La Canada and others will be equipped with the especially designed carburetor put out by the local firm.

This carburetor differs only from the standard Winfield carburetor in that it is bored out to a greater diameter, thereby increasing the speed. The product is the result of the experience gained by Winfield when on the track.

An order was recently received by the local firm from the Duesenberg company, builders of racing cars famous throughout the world, for Winfield carburetors with which to equip their entries. The success of the Glendale made accessory is attracting the attention of noted drivers throughout the country, and has created considerable comment, in which "The Fastest Growing City in America" appears prominently.

Mr. Balue was warmly thanked by the officers of Community Service for the work he has accomplished.

CLAIMS POWER TO CURE HICCUGHS

Mysterious Ability to Help Sufferers Brings Fame to Hawthorne Man

The strange power of C. E. Reeve of Hawthorne, who cures hiccoughs "on command," is brought to the front by the epidemic of this malady now sweeping southern California.

With three cases of hiccoughs reported in Glendale, Mr. Reeve's curative power might well bear looking into. He lives at 313 Acacia street, Hawthorne, which is located between Watts and Manhattan Beach, lying just south of Inglewood.

Mr. Reeve claims to have had this power for thirty years, being first apprised of it by a woman magnetic healer from whom he was taking treatment at his former home in Illinois. In the intervening years he claims to have cured hundreds of the hiccoughs. Feeling that he is endowed with a beneficent power, he is anxious to help anyone who will come to him and makes no charge for his services.

Cures Immediately "When a man comes to me with hiccoughs," says Mr. Reeve, "or when I meet a man on the street suffering with the malady, I simply take hold of his arm and say 'You haven't the hiccoughs' or 'You haven't them now!' And invariably he stops hiccoughing."

Mr. Reeve does not himself understand his power. He is not a Christian Scientist, nor does he practice hypnotism, occultism or any such system but cures people merely by a certain mysterious power he seems to possess.

He makes no pretense, moreover, to be able to cure any malady other than hiccoughs and if his power is of wider scope he is unaware of it.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—Struck by a Pacific Electric car at Nadeau, near Watts, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Howitt is said to have driven his car around another machine directly onto the tracks of the oncoming electric car.

Heifetz to Play at Two L. A. Recitals

The tremendous popularity of Jascha Heifetz, the world-renowned violinist who plays two recitals at the Philharmonic auditorium in Los Angeles on Saturday matinee, January 19, and Monday night, January 21, was proved once more at his concert in New York City on New Year's day when he again drew "absolute capacity" to Carnegie hall.

This is the first concert in America this season for Mr. Heifetz, as he returned in late December from a tour of the Orient, where he had the distinction of being the first artist to play in Japan since their great disaster. Three sold-out houses in Tokio at the Imperial hotel as well as playing for an open-air crowd of 10,000 in a park is a record to be proud of.

In an interview in the New York Herald on his return from the Orient Heifetz is quoted as saying that the Chinese women are bobbing their hair, wearing slippers instead of clogs, and dancing to jazz music, which he declares the natives play as well as the Americans. Contrary to the expressed views of most artists, Heifetz is a defender of jazz music, and his favorite film comedian is Ben Turpin, while his hobby is the collection of books.

PLANS MERGER OF FIVE NEW BANKS

First National and Pacific Southwest Group Will Include New Units

February will witness the merging of five new units with the First National-Pacific Southwest banking group—the First National Bank & Trust company of Santa Paula and the Santa Paula Savings bank, under the presidency of C. C. Teague, and the Farmers and Merchants bank of Santa Paula, with branches at Saticoy and Fillmore. Roger G. Edwards, president.

Delos H. Smith, manager of the Broad boulevard branch, and Herman Nelson, manager of the Glendale avenue branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, agree that through the centralized method of control exercised by this great banking group, the new members will remain independent units, with the same officers, directors, stockholders and employees.

Extend Influence They explain this by stating that the transactions do not entail an outright purchase of stock but constitute an exchange of such a character that all become partners in the entire business of the group, benefiting their respective communities through the added capital made available for local use.

Under the statement of condition of December 31 last, the aggregate resources of the First National bank of Los Angeles, the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings bank and the First Securities company were $263,937,056.77. Under the same call for statements, the First National bank & Trust company of Santa Paula showed total resources of $2,064,728.61 and those of the Santa Paula Savings bank $492,302.07, an aggregate of $2,557,030.68. Under this call the Farmers and Merchants bank showed total resources of $2,277,270.20. The aggregate resources of the Santa Paula institutions on December 31, 1923, were therefore $4,834,300.88.

Oklahoma Lumberman Joins Bentley Force

Frank D. Crowell of Alva, Okla., is the latest addition to the sales force of the Bentley Lumber company, 460 West Los Feliz road.

NEW JAPANESE BAN

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—Provisions for exclusion of Japanese similar to those contained in the Chinese exclusion act, and supervision by immigration authorities over passports admitting Japanese have been written into the new immigration bill after urgent advocacy by Congressmen Raker and Free of California. They claimed passports were being issued to Japanese not entitled to admission.

Telephone Company Plans to Spend Forty Millions for Improvements During 1924

Greater expenditures within the state of California during 1924 than in any previous year, and totaling $40,000,000, will be made by the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, reports Manager Fred Deal of the Glendale office.

The plans involve extensive additions to land, buildings, equipment and outside plant and will represent a net gain over 1923 of more than 110,000 stations, a 50 per cent increase.

"A normal yet expensive feature of the company's operations is this flow of stations in and out of the system," says Mr. Deal. "New subscribers are being added from day to day and at the same time other subscribers are discontinuing service. The attainment of a net gain, therefore, represents connecting and disconnecting operations involving five stations for every one that is included in the net increase."

Expect Heavy Gain "A heavy growth is expected not only in the urban sections, but throughout the state as a whole. Land must be purchased on which to erect the buildings required to house the central office equipment and working forces, and building projects, either new buildings or additions to existing structures, are planned for many of the state's exchanges throughout the state."

"The plans for central office equipment alone will require an expenditure of upwards of $8,400,000 during the year; approx-

AWARD CONTRACT FOR $22,000 HOME LEVEL PROGRAM

Former Nevada Man Selects Glendale As Site for His Permanent Home

J. M. Healy, who was for several years one of the prominent citizens of Goldfield, Nev., holding the position of superintendent of the famous Goldfield Consolidated Mining Company, has adopted Glendale as his future home and is making an intensive study of the advantages offered by Southern California cities. This study has covered a three-year period, during which Mr. Healy has made his residence in Hollywood. He said that he had been watching Glendale during that time, and had been convinced, after the approval of the sewer bonds that no other city in this section offers the opportunities for investment now open in Glendale.

Builds $22,000 Home Mr. Healy has let a contract for the building of a $22,000 home on a site on Harvey drive, near Broadway. He will make the place a beauty spot both from the standpoint of architecture and construction, and expects that it will be one of the show places of the Eagle Glen Heights district. It will be of stucco material and contain eight rooms.

Glendale Theatre Has Standard Vaudeville

Vaudeville of the better variety, five standard acts of it, is featured at the Glendale Theatre today and tomorrow. Two tris feature the offering which is headlined by the Dixon-Rigg company of comedy cycling and acrobatics. The work is original and they have a most hazardous act in which a little lady performs some thrilling stunts as a foil for two gymnasts.

Brown, Bailey & Brown, whirlwind dancers, are coast to coast favorites with a repertoire of all the intricate steps. Frazer & Locktee are an original pair with whistling mimicry that has won high favor on the circuit.

Lady Preston York, bull terrier with a college education, is featured in Brown & Potter's offering, which is advertised as a laughiest. Clinton & Vivian round out the evening's entertainment with singing, talking, dancing and gymnastic work. They use the parallel bar for their stunts, which prove knockouts for stopping the show. On the screen Charles Jones will be seen in "Cupid's Fireman."

Sacramento Denies Exodus of Japanese

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Vigorous denial of widely circulated reports published in eastern newspapers from Los Angeles and a Sacramento dateline, claiming that 50,000 Japanese farm laborers have left the state, leaving 525,000 acres of cultivated land uncared for, and that growers, facing a $73,000,000 loss, plan to have the anti-alien land law amended to permit crop contracts, is made in a public statement by Irvin Engler, secretary-manager of the Sacramento Chamber of Commerce.

Engler asserts that less than three thousand Japanese are affected by the law, and that measures already have been undertaken by the chamber of commerce to insure an ample supply of white labor by the growers, said Engler, who points out that Japanese farm population has been steadily decreasing for several years.

Newspaper Students Enjoy U. S. C. Program

The most interesting part of the annual Newspaper Day held yesterday at the University of Southern California was the entertainment provided by the committees in charge, according to Glendale student delegates. A play by the dramatics division, music by the glee club and orchestra, a lunch, and, last of all, a dance given by the Delta Gamma sorority were the means of keeping the delegates at the conference.

The speeches were short. Oscar Conklin, of the Long Beach Telegram, talked on "Advertising," Roy Driscoll, Pomona Bulletin, gave a clever talk on "The News, How to Get It and Use It." He claimed that persistency, thoroughness and certainty were the three main essentials of a good reporter.

Denton Crow, city editor of the Los Angeles Times, spoke on the relationship between the employer and employee of a newspaper. He gave instances of how several "cubs," who had the making of good reporters in them, were spoiled by the attitude of exacting publishers.

Several Southern California daily newspaper publishers spoke on various phases of the business.

INSTALL OFFICERS FOR L. A. LODGE

Rebekah Officials in Charge of Ceremonies Staged Wednesday Night

Mrs. Rosella Strother, district deputy president of the Rebekah lodge, Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, deputy grand marshal, and the staff were in charge of their final installation Wednesday night in Los Angeles, when they installed the officers of Los Western lodge, No. 374, in Los Angeles. This new lodge had been instituted in the afternoon.

Indicative of the splendid work done by Mrs. Strother and Mrs. Schwitters were the many compliments showered on them by E. L. Lonley, grand master of the state of California, and others present. Only praise has greeted this group of Glendale women at every installation they have directed and the many lodges in the district are now anticipating with pleasure the official visits from Mrs. Strother and Mrs. Schwitters. In recognition of their splendid work they were each presented with a bouquet on Wednesday night.

Assisting them in the installations have been Anna Dean, deputy grand wardener; Gertrude Brandt, deputy grand recording secretary; Clara Fry, deputy grand financial secretary; Winnie Hartley, deputy grand treasurer; Hannah Anderson, deputy grand chaplain; Marjorie Pease, Evelyn Hall, Grace Hurd, Anna Barnes, Florene Groutage, Anna Estery, Flossie Trosner, Meta Turk, guards; May Lyon, grand angel; Guila Darling, deputy grand pianist.

City Reared Babies Have Best Chance?

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 18.—Previous reports by the bureau of Census at Washington that city-reared babies in California have a better chance to survive than those brought up in the rural districts, were confirmed today by the American Child Health association in its annual survey which states that in California cities the infant death rate is 64 per thousand, as contrasted with the rural districts in which the mortality toll is 70 per thousand. The report contains a paragraph as follows:

Investigators of the bureau, working on an estimated population of 3,697,070 for California, found that seventy-one of each thousand babies born in California, born in 1922, died before reaching their first birthday anniversary. While this rate is lower than the average for the entire United States birth registration era, it was not an improvement for California, because in 1921 the rate was only sixty-six.

Reveal Strange Pact of Man and Woman

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Timothy Healy, attorney for Miss Belle Bennett, well-known screen and stage star, has appealed to Attorney-General Daugherty at Washington to order an investigation of John Oaker, who, under the name of Jack Geller, claims to be the husband of Miss Bennett. Miss Bennett, who admits having signed a "contract" to "live under the same roof" with Geller for five years, today placed the entire matter in Healy's hands.

Rotarians to Edit Service Bulletin

Glendale's Rotary club is trying an interesting experiment. It is making an editor out of every member, according to George B. Kerr, president. The Rotarian bulletin, each week will be assigned as a reporterly stunt and Paul Stillman, ex-editor, will be the first opportunity. Next week Roy L. Kent, building contractor, will turn out the copy.

GIVE RULING FOR AMENDED RETURN

Collector Tells Methods for Estimating Taxes on Installment Sales

Numerous inquiries received by the internal revenue bureau indicate that misunderstanding exists in regard to the filing of amended income and profits tax returns in the case of taxpayers engaged in the sale of merchandise on the installment plan. Collector Rex Goodcell stated yesterday that apparently the erroneous impression exists that in all cases where returns have been rendered upon the basis of treating such sales as cash transactions the taxpayer is precluded from filing amended returns for the purpose of reporting on the installment plan the profits realized from the deferred payment sales.

For the benefit of merchants, Collector Goodcell outlined the correct rules governing the filing of amended returns in the case of taxpayers engaged in the sale of merchandise upon the installment plan, as follows:

"Where a taxpayer has in past years filed returns upon the cash basis or upon the straight accrual basis, but kept accounts upon the installment basis, amended returns may be filed for the purpose of reporting the income upon the installment plan in accordance with Article 42 of Regulations 45 and 62."

"Where the accounts of a taxpayer in prior years have been kept upon the cash basis or upon the straight accrual basis, amended returns may not be filed for the purpose of reporting the income upon the installment plan. In no event may amended returns be filed upon the basis of estimates."

Estimates Returns Basing his estimate on the number of income tax returns which are being filed daily, Collector of Internal Revenue Rex Goodcell declared yesterday that beginning February 1 there would have to be a daily average of 6,300 returns filed up to March 15, in order to clear up the 280,000 returns that will be filed for 1923 incomes.

"This will tax the revenue bureau beyond its capacity," said the collector, "and is going to result in loss of time and personal inconvenience to thousands of taxpayers who are not filing early. The rush this year will be greater than ever before in the history of this office, and the taxpayer who files during February may consider himself fortunate."

Officials Must File Investigations made by internal revenue officials have developed the fact that in hundreds of cases persons employed by the state of California, and by the various counties and cities, have failed to file income tax returns in which were reported income derived from sources other than salary paid them by the state or some county or city in the state.

Collector Goodcell has warned employes of state, counties and cities that while their salaries were exempt from income taxes they were required by law to file returns of income derived from inst.

APPLICANT ASKS FOR REEVES JOB

Nationally Known Executive Would Aid Glendale's Development

With the eyes of so many people all over the nation turned to Glendale, and with so many restless souls seeking a place where living conditions are ideal the year round, it is not to be wondered at that men who have attained positions of prominence in the national life of the United States should be included among those who will, sooner or later, settle in Glendale to make their homes.

The news of the approaching resignation of City Manager William H. Reeves has brought to the City Council a number of applications for the vacancy that will have to be filled within a short time, and among the applicants that have been received is one from a man who has influenced the political life of the nation to a degree seldom vouchsafed to any one individual. (No, it isn't Mr. Bryan, Hortense.)

This applicant, with an altruism as rare as it is commendable, declares that the salary is of minor importance, as he seeks only the glory of being connected with the growth of Glendale. The letter follows:

Glendale Hotel, Glendale, Cal., Jan. 11, 1924. To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of the City of Glendale, Gentlemen: I understand that the office of city manager of your city is now vacant, and I hasten to put in my application for this position.

I have had a great deal of experience in running for office and in managing other people's affairs, and I know that I could administer the business of this city to your complete satisfaction, and in the same manner as I have run my own affairs in the past.

So far as references are concerned, I would be able to give you the names of some of the most prominent citizens in this city who would vouch for my ability as manager, and I trust that you will give my application your most earnest consideration.

It is my intention, if I should receive this appointment, to locate in your beautiful city with my family, thereby adding another valuable asset to Glendale.

As far as salary is concerned, that makes little difference to me, as I am willing to work for less than any of the other applicants for this position, the glory being my greatest reward.

I am sure that I may receive a favorable reply from you and at an early date, I remain, Yours respectfully, ANDY GUMP.

APPOINT G. B. CHRISTIAN

Hurl Heated Charges In City Bootleg War

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18.—Charges of incendiarism were hurled here, following the destruction by fire of two dwelling houses and a garage. It was revealed that City Recorder J. W. Walker had received threats, one of which was that his "crisp body would be carried out of town in a hearse." Other persons are said to have received threats, as a result of the war on bootleggers which has been conducted here by a detective agency hired by the city council.

Professor Zantippe, Candidate On Meal Ticket, Gets Full Of Politics While in East

PROF. XAVIUS ZANTIPPE Meal Ticket Candidate NEW YORK, January 14 (by telegram, collect).—Well, I arrived here by slow freight from Detroit, slightly bruised but in fair condition. I had hoped to make the trip by auto, but as I broke my forward speed last week chasing a project, and the car would only run west, I had to abandon the idea. If I can ever get back to Detroit, however, I will make the balance of the return trip that way.

In looking over the automobile show I have received several new ideas for walking. The scooter and go-devil exhibits are particularly interesting and offer some novel suggestions to "tired business men" for getting to and from the office.

I find there are a number of political parties here. I have attended several of them. I find those that have a wet plank floating about somewhere are more largely attended. The chief issue in New York seems to be prohibition, and strange to say those who are making it an issue are taking issue with it. The result is something quite involved for politics. Full of Prespects The restaurants here are full of prospects for my Meal ticket. If I thought I could win them over to my party I would transfer my campaign headquarters to this city but I find that the trouble is, most of them have meal tickets of their own.

Yesterday I got fined for walking too fast. The cops here are so used to violators of the law that they arrest you first and find out what you were doing on the way to the police station. But when they found out I wanted to borrow money they let me go. They figured that if anyone is broke in New York, he's bound to be honest.

Attended the Follies last night and found out what makes them foolish. It's the way they dress. Anyone who dressed that way would feel foolish. It makes me feel foolish myself. In fact, it made me feel so foolish I wrote to Mrs. Zantippe and told her if she were here I'd feel as though I were on my second honeymoon.

Afterwards I thought I must have been in my second childhood but it was too late. I had mailed the letter. Well, anyway, they say honey keeps fresh a long time.

Mad Thing to Do This morning I won over 100 votes all at one clip. I visited the New Jersey state insane asylum at Matteawan and was pledged their solid support. It was easy enough getting in—but getting out was another matter. When I opened the door of one of the cells, where I had been visiting with a prospective voter on the Meal ticket, and started down the hall, a guard called out: "Hey, hushouse, not so fast! Where you goin' to?" "Why you low creature!" I replied, "How dare you mistake me for a nut?" And with that I thrust the fellow aside and made good my escape. But it was a close call and I realize that had I been brought to the superintendent of the institution I should have had great difficulty in establishing my claim to sanity.

That taught me a lesson and I shall henceforth make no further efforts to win votes in public institutions.

File of Headgear When I leave New York I will leave my hat in the presidential ring, if I can get near enough to throw it. The pile of hats in the ring now reaches nearly as high as the Woolworth tower and is a block in diameter at the base.

It seems a shame to waste a good hat by throwing it on a heap like that. On second thought I think I will get a second hand hat from one of the second hand stores near the ring. I think these fellows come out at night and steal the hats anyway, to sell them over again the next day. I am learning a lot about politics here in New York.

Well, give my regards to the Hon. August September. Though out of the running, I understand he is still able to be up and around. When I get back I will make a scientific expedition to Tujunga and pass on to him some of the advanced ideas on walking I got at the Automobile show.

Sheepherder Suffers From Coyote Rabies ALTURAS, Jan. 18.—After a desperate combat with a rabid infected coyote, Morris Vallet, a sheepherder on the Lyon ranch, is in a Lakeview hospital, where he is being given the Pasteur treatment.

The mad animal appeared among his flock of sheep and Vallet discharged his revolver at it, inflicting a superficial wound. The coyote leaped for Vallet's throat and fastened its jaws on the man's nose. In the life and death struggle Vallet finally managed to choke the coyote until it released its grip. Then holding the beast at arm's length with one hand, he secured his weapon and sent a bullet through its head.

Though Vallet is suffering from severe lacerations of the nose and face, it is hoped that the Pasteur treatment will neutralize any rabies infection.

COMMENT That's All Superior NEWS Service Traffic Arteries Needed More Organized Films? Jails And Justice Cox

Through the superior Central Press association service, The Glendale Evening News last night was enabled to present the picture of the United States navy airship, Shenandoah, as well as members of its crew on its spectacular and disastrous trip the night before.

Beyond doubt it was the best picture of the giant dirigible, having been taken from an airplane, and, as you read the story of the mad battle with the elements, the pictures of the men who told of the thrilling flight were right before you.

The Glendale Evening News prides itself on sources of news supply that are incomparable. The International News Service lease wire provides this paper with accounts of events which are always superior to cheaper associations.

The Central Press feature service also, is well worth the cost, for it places this paper on a par with the best. Cartoons, comics, magazine features, telegraph and local news, not to mention other factors, make The Glendale Evening News a predominant daily publication in the newspaper field.

B. R. Holloway came over from Van Nuys yesterday and told a representative group of Glendaleans and visitors, attending the Rotary club, a very pertinent fact, although he included a store of information which was well worth listening to.

This ONE outstanding fact was relative to Glendale's trade. It was the TRUTH, and while we are not afraid to reveal it here, first let us say that the agricultural resources of the valley produce $24,000,000 wealth each year from which the business men may draw.

Mr. Holloway essayed to tell why Glendale was NOT getting its share of the possible commerce to be had with the ranchers. We believe he is RIGHT. But, let us add, there IS a reason, which we also shall tell.

Both Glendale and the upper San Fernando valley need CONNECTING highways, according to Mr. Holloway. San Fernando boulevard needs widening and heavier paving. Riverside drive needs to be built, while Victory highway is essential to Greater Glendale, as well as a greater San Fernando valley. Briefly, we need MORE arteries of traffic. That was the ONE BIG FACT in Mr. Holloway's speech.

Now, as to the reason WHY we have NOT got the paved highways. First, the county board of supervisors has not worried a great deal about incorporated areas. Perhaps we should not blame them, yet we look to that body for co-ordination of county government. Only recently has the board shown signs of life in this section, due, no doubt, to our splendid record of prosperity without their aid. Or, is it because this is a political year?

That is but a part of the reason, however. Here is the rest of it: Los Angeles annexed the San Fernando valley, or a large share of it, to sell water, to develop lands and build up a back country for Los Angeles. As Mr. Holloway said, the only presentation of civic problems afforded Van Nuys, as a small part of metropolitan area, can be made through their local Chamber of Commerce. They have had battle enough to get mere necessities, to say nothing of paved highways. But brighter days are ahead. Los Angeles is adopting a broader policy. It finds that population without representation is not desirable. Therefore, they propose to change the charter. It finds that when Glendale and Burbank and Pasadena and Long Beach prosper Los Angeles prospers the more. That is good.

Now let us get together on highways, industries, yes, everything in general. Annexation is no panacea. It is an instance of interdependence.

Again we read of super-organization in the film industry, with Will Hays as the guiding genius. The Association of Motion Picture Producers is being chartered. It includes practically all of the large film factors.

To the layman no question will arise. To the independent theatre operator, however, there is a big question. Does this mean a greater combine? For such there seems to be if we are to believe our eyes in looking over the programs of certain theatres. Some would call it a "trust."

The independent film exhibitor today has only a fighting chance. By paying exorbitant prices he can buy certain star first-run productions of merit. But, under a system of franchises, block play date purchases and other devices indulged in by certain producer-exhibitors he is buffered around by those who prate about the artistic, moral, educational and financial uplift of the industry, we are given to understand.

We believe in organization, in orderly procedure, and also American fair play. Not until we are assured there is an open market for films, however, where a legitimate producer can sell meritorious goods; where a legitimate exhibitor can buy on equal terms; where a star-gazing public need not be lined up in the streets for the slaughter—nor until then will we be satisfied.

In the meantime there seems to be need of federal investigation, although Mr. Hays may have sufficient political prestige to thwart that presently. At the same time, we doubt his ability to bring the crafty stock jugglers of theatre-studio ownership to time.

Some time ago the writer of this column called attention to the unfitness of the Los Angeles jails. Fundamentally, we are opposed to incarcerating anyone for misdemeanors such as speeding, contempt of court, etc., although the statutes permit discretion on the part of the court. City Judge F. H. Lowe of Glendale has stated that he will not sentence anyone, if he can help it, to do time in the Los Angeles county jail, although Los Angeles city jails are reported in much worse condition, if we are to believe what we read. All jails are usually deplorably unfit for habitation. Yet, down in Orange county, Justice of the Peace J. B. Cox seems to take pleasure in pronouncing jail sentences on preachers and others caught in speed traps used by motor officers, it is reported, although the law-makers in the last legislature provided against their use. We reserve our opinion of such procedure. Some day we might have to appear before Judge Cox. And you readers can think for yourselves. Think anything you like. We cannot be held contemptuous for agreeing with you in your thoughts.

Gives Ruling For Amended Return (Continued from Page 1) interest, rents, royalties, profits on real estate or any source other than their salaries. In many cases it has been found that teachers in the public schools have been under the erroneous impression that because of the fact that their salaries were exempt the revenue laws automatically removed any other income from taxation. Affects Teachers Collector Goodcell said that all teachers or other state, county or city employees who are single must file returns if their incomes for 1923, from any source, excluding salary, was $1,000 or more, or if married $2,000 or more. All interest, rents, royalties and profits in real estate received by city, county and state employees have been reported to the revenue bureau for 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922 and 1923, and are now being checked under special instructions received from Washington. Where unreported income is voluntarily disclosed a nominal penalty will be imposed, but in cases where a field deputy unearths the unreported income the maximum pen-ally will be asserted, revenue officials declared. Collector Goodcell stated that he was convinced that the failure of city, county and state employees to report taxable income was due entirely to misinterpretation of the law and that there was no willful intention of violating the income tax laws. Clue to Badge Bandit Found Near Salinas SALINAS, Jan. 18.—A possible clue to the whereabouts of Harry Dunlap, "badge bandit," for whom Southern California authorities are conducting a man hunt, was seen in the finding near here of a suit of clothes with an Alameda county deputy sheriff's badge on it. The suit was of light whip cord and according to Sheriff Weir would have fitted a man of Dunlap's description. The badge was not numbered and carried no identification marks. A report will be made to Sheriff Barnett of Alameda county to determine whether any of his men have found trace of the bandit. A combined storm sash and window screen that will keep out rain and insects is the recent invention of a western man.

Automatic Device Boosts Hen's Record LONDON, Jan. 18.—Poultry farmers of the future will have no need to worry as to which hen is or is not a paying proposition, for —by an invention just patented by William Middleman, well known Dutch breeder—the hen itself will virtually write a pencilled note telling the farmer how many eggs she has laid per day. The invention consists of a colored pencil fixed in an upright position to a kind of saddle on the hen's back. When the hen leaves a special kind of trap-nest after laying an egg the pencil marks a sheet of paper fixed on the door. Each hen has a different colored pencil, and by the color of the marking the farmer knows which hen has laid the egg. An adjustable eye shield for drivers of motor vehicles, which may be placed immediately forward of the driver and at the rear of the windshield, is the recent invention of a Mississippi woman. Words of "Home, Sweet Home" are by an American, while the air is of Sicilian provenance.

'Pop' Nagel Tells About Toonerville Trolley's Speed

William (Pop) Nagel, motorman on the Glendale & Montrose railway, who has been with the Eagle Rock line since 1912, tells a humorous story of old "Toonerville trolley" cars, which, once upon a time, were used principally to haul the school children of the district.

"Uncle John," a characteristic motorman whom old-timers will remember, used to pilot the youngsters, and one day a sweet-faced Mary asked him: "John, can you go any faster?" for the little old car was doing its worst in negotiating the Broadway hill on its way into Glendale from Eagle Rock.

"Yep, I can go faster, but I can't leave the car," replied the motorman.

WHITE SOX MEET ST. LOUIS GIANTS

Third Game of Series Will Be Staged in Effort to Settle Supremacy

The St. Louis Giants make their third appearance in Glendale tomorrow against the White Sox in an effort to forge ahead of the Triple A team in their series of games. The count now stands one game each, and both teams are out to take the odd one tomorrow. Regardless of the outcome, another game will be played Sunday between the same teams.

Local fans have taken kindly to the brand of ball exhibited by the colored boys from the Mississippi river town, and rather favor them to take tomorrow's game. Cooper, who alternates between the pitcher's box and the right garden, will probably bear the burden for Manager Cobb on the slab, and Mike Donlin stated today that he would probably start Arnold Crandall. These two twirlers staged one of the finest pitchers' duels ever witnessed in the southern part of the state two

Marion Elizabeth to Feature Sport Hats

Miss Grace G. McCleery is now the sole owner of the Marion Elizabeth Shoppe, specialists in smart hats. The establishment occupies a room off the main lobby of Jensen's Palace, 133 North Brand boulevard. It was established last March by Miss McCleery and Miss Shaffer. During the past week Miss McCleery has sought her partner's interest.

She states that her stock this year will specialize in sport hats, as she has learned that the women of Glendale are very partial to sport apparel. The Marion Elizabeth Shoppe now has its full new line of spring hats, and Glendale women are given a special invitation to visit the Shoppe tomorrow.

BACK TO OLD JOB

Jimmy Mitchell has resumed charge of the Rock Bottom Fruit and Vegetable Market, 133 South Central, after an absence of several months.

Local fans have taken kindly to the colored boys from the Mississippi river town, and rather favor them to take tomorrow's game. Cooper, who alternates between the pitcher's box and the right garden, will probably bear the burden for Manager Cobb on the slab, and Mike Donlin stated today that he would probably start Arnold Crandall. These two twirlers staged one of the finest pitchers' duels ever witnessed in the southern part of the state two weeks ago, and can be depended upon to give their best should they face each other again.

The turnouts last Saturday was exceptionally good, and another capacity audience is looked for tomorrow. The game is called at 2:30 o'clock.

CITRUS SWAMPED BY LOCAL FIVES

Glendale Tossers Grab Two Victories From Guests In Flashy Games

Lightweights lick Lemons' league looks lovely; lots love lost. Which, alliteratively speaking, sums up the results of the Glendale-Citrus casaba battles held yesterday between the Class B and Class C squads of both schools. Playing on their own courts, the final score stood 25-14 and 42-4, respectively.

For the 130 pounders, the game was the settlement of a not-long ago grudge. The midsets lost their chance to cop the Central League pennant when they lost a fluke game to the Black and Yellow pigskinners. Which may explain why they showed the first real fight since the season started.

Neel at center flared up with his old-time playing and chalked up six goals. Lovell had his eye accurately fixed during the game and got three baskets and one foul. Muff and Stearman completed the slaughter.

Coach Butterfield sent the second team the last quarter, but they failed to do anything except let the visitors forge ahead. Until the second team went in, the score stood 25 to 4, but the subs were unable to hold the invaders' score down.

Pennant Hopes Bright

As this was the first Central League game of the season, hopes of capturing the banner are considerably bright. Citrus had a good representative team, and if the locals don't take a decided slump, they have an even chance to clean up the opposition.

The line-ups: Glendale—Lovell (7) and Stearman (4), forwards; Neel (12), center; Muff (2) and McAllister, guards; Subs: Harrison, Farr, Beman, Heide, C. Thompson, Citrus—Ruelas (1) and Jones (2), forwards; Williams (4), center; Wolfe (1) and Lindsay (6), guards. Subs: Kuhn.

The 110 pounders made one of the cleanest sweeps seen in quite a while when they swamped the visiting fleawrights, 42-4. Although the Lemonettes were a pretty good team, they were about as good as are put out by most of the other league schools. The pinweights just happened to be going like a flock of young cy-clones, and if they play that way in every game, they're going to get up into the semi-finals again.

Coach Wolfe shoved in a lot of subs and they succeeded in doing almost as well as the regulars did. The regulars rolled up a 26-2 count in the first half, while the second team added the 16 points, incidentally allowing the losers two more markers.

The line-ups: Glendale—Begg (4) and Smith (8), forwards; Mitchell (12), center; Harris and Apstitt (2), guards. Subs: Steele (6), Lovell (8), Lipstren (2), Grindell, Killinger, Dell, Citrus—Manning and Rudman (2), forwards; Ingram (2), center; Swain and Gravel, guards. Subs: Borjje, Hoff.

WILL BUILD HOME

Louis Gratias, a contractor and builder who recently came to Glendale from Fargo, N. D., has bought a lot at 650 West California avenue, and will build a six room house as a home for himself and his family. The purchase was made from L. W. Babcock, 204 East Broadway.

Varsity Hoop Team Tangles With Citrus

Whether or not the Glendale Union High school varsity hoop team can measure up to the standard that the two lightweights set, will be shown when the unlimited meet the Citrus Union squad tonight. The locals will be hampered by two things: First, they will be playing on the Lemons' court; and second, they will be playing under the glare of the electric lights. The latter will be quite an important factor, as the Dynamiters are not used to night playing. However, Coach Hayhurst has had them practice a few times after supper, and he expects the heavies to overcome this slight disadvantage.

Blouin will appear in the singles of the Windy City tournament, his illness marring his team work with the Brucks, which took hold fourth place, with 3,002 pins, in the five man events. The Mineralites, another Chicago outfit, leads with 3,094. Jimmy Smith, Milwaukee star, will be with his team mates in the five man events Sunday night.

THE GLENDALE

Buck Jones in "Cupid's Fireman" is the film feature at the Glendale Theatre today and tomorrow, an adaptation of the great heart-interest story, "Andy McGee's Chorus Girl" by that leading American writer, Richard Harding Davis.

The story deals with a hero member of the fire department who, while on duty at a theatre, falls in love with a chorus girl. The interest is well sustained throughout and the thrilling fire sequence at the end makes it a film long to be remembered.

In addition, the bill at the Glendale Theatre today and tomorrow is enlivened by five acts of Bert Levey coast-to-coast vaudeville, including singing, dancing and novelty acts sure to please. Other short features round out a particularly entertaining and well-balanced program.

THE GATEWAY

"West of the Water Tower" continues at the Gateway Theatre, where it has made a decided hit. The picture is produced by Paramount from the popular Homer Grey novel of that name and offers a cast including Glenn Hunter, Ernest Torrence, May McAvoy, George Fawcett and Zasu Pitts.

The story of "West of the Water Tower" deals with small town folk in a masterly manner. Mr. Hunter, as Guy Plummer, son of a rightly orthodox minister, portrayed by Ernest Torrence, meets and loves Bee Chew, played by May McAvoy, daughter of a wealthy atheist, the latter role being in the capable hands of George Fawcett. The young couple are secretly wed and this incident provokes a near tragedy which has its influence on many lives. But happiness comes at last after a series of breath-taking sequences.

SOFT DRINK FIRM OPENS UNIT HERE

Frohm Brothers Launch First Branch of Stores at North Brand Site

The first, or "mother" branch of the Sunset Orange Drink Company, which will eventually operate a chain of similar units in Southern California, is now nearing completion at 127 North Brand boulevard, the site formerly occupied by the Western Union, and will be thrown open to the public tomorrow.

The company, of which Robert and Sidney Frohm are the owners, has built one of the most up-to-date fountain and confectionery stores in the city, and will model the other branches to be opened after the Glendale unit. The counter and floor are of white tile, with orange colored trimming. Both are experienced men in this line of business. Robert having been connected with the Comet Orange Drink Company of Los Angeles for a number of years. He has made his home in Glendale for the past two years.

The rental on this property has established a new record in values in Glendale. The room is about fifteen feet square, and is reported to have been leased for three years at a rental of $200 per month the first year and $250 per month thereafter. This figure at more than $1 per square foot per month.

"It is unfortunate, that the impression has been created that we are going to have a 'root beer stand,'" said Mr. Frohm yesterday. Naturally we are going to push California drinks first, and will specialize on orange juice. Nothing but the very best will be handled. We will sell root beer, also, handling the Magnus product of this state. In addition to these two drinks, which will be all that we will stock, we will carry a full line of high grade candies and ice cream.

"We have been working night and day to have the stand ready for Saturday, and this is accomplished. The rent may seem exorbitant to some, but I have faith in Glendale and know that it will justify the expenditure of so much money for a down-town site."

SCISSORS RECALL CHICAGO'S FIRE

William A. Howe Prizes Pair Of Shears Found in Office Ruins

An aged pair of steel shears clinging to the managerial desk of the Glendale Theatre. They are the prized property of William A. Howe, manager.

As he welds the scissors each day they recall memories of the Chicago fire in 1871 and the wonder is how they survived the eventful conflagration.

Thereby hangs a tale which Mr. Howe tells. His father had offices in the Tremont hotel block on the corner of Lake and Dearborn streets, which natives of the Windy City will recognize as a "down-town" location, even in the early days. It was located on land which once comprised Mr. Howe's grandfather's farm.

And as the fire of '71 swept through the Tremont hotel, the floors gave way and permitted the old mahogany desk in his father's office to fall through the floor into the cellar which was filled with water.

After two years in the debris the desk was dug up and its contents recovered. In addition to the shears, which were unharmed, was an orange, which had petrified.

Old Glendale Residences Bore Appropriate Names Amid Scenes of Beauty

By "OLD TIMER"
Written for The Evening News
"Palm Villa," "Casa de Flores," "The House of the Whispering Pines," "Canyon Crest!" What recollections they bring to old-timers!

How their thoughts turn to the days when the streets of Glendale were soft sandy roads, and life was not one rush and bustle, but one had time and leisure to indulge in a bit of sentimentality or cultivate some distinct feature which would distinguish one home from another. Not as in the present day when one loses his identity and can recognize his own front door only by number. When a home in Glendale, "a city of homes," did not mean a little white box with that necessary adjunct of the modern family, a garage, on a fifty-foot lot.

Three acres, five acres, ten acres, or maybe thirty, were the homesteads in this favored valley. The dwelling house was usually placed among beautiful shade trees with fruit and flowers of every description.

It was a beautiful custom to name the home for some distinctive feature of situation or view, or the cultivation of some unusual species of tree or flower, or possibly from old associations.

Mystery In Name
Sometimes there was a little mystery, and wonderment existed as to why a house on East California (Second) street, built around a patio, in the Spanish style of architecture, bore the artistic rustic sign, "The Oaks," until the mystery was solved by learning that Mr. and Mrs. Oaks lived there, although they confessed to strictly New England origin.

Not far from "The Oaks" was "The Priory," the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar W. Pack, situated in the center of a two-acre tract, with trellis of wistaria and English ivy and others of climbing habits leading to the delightful home, where you learned that "The Priory" was the boyhood home of the owner, in the Isle of Wight.

To one coming from the middle west it was a constant source of delight in driving or walking about Glendale and vicinity to see more or less conspicuously displayed a name by which, in lieu of prosaic numbers, the beautiful California home place was designated.

Appropriate Titles
How much more interesting to be directed to follow a winding road or a thoroughfare till you came to a wild rose hedge or a cactus fence, or where three pines whispered of their far-off homes, or where stately palms rustled their huge fans in the playful breeze, or color and light with cool shadows marked a home place given over to flowers. And over gateway or portal would be found nomenclature which seemed the very word to describe the place.

"Casa de Flores," the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Anderson for the past thirty years, situated on East Colorado boulevard, formerly Sixth street, just east of Verdugo road, was rightfully named. Such a riot of blossoms!

"Somerset Farm," farther south on Verdugo road, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sherer, may have been named for old associations' sake, but its wealth of rare shrubs from every clime made it not Massachusetts or New Jersey, but "Just California."

"Canyon Crest," the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wells, told its own story in its name.

"New Year's day there gathered at "Palm Villa," the home of Mrs. Adelaide H. Imler, on West Park avenue, for the last time, the living members of this pioneer family who for nearly twenty-seven years have made their home on the three-acre tract purchased in 1897 by the late D. H. Imler.

In September of that year Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Imler and son Eugene and Mrs. Imler's father and sister, the late J. B. Hickman and Miss Cora Hickman (Mrs. Frank Porter Stearns), came to Glendale and occupied a small home on the place while building the commodious two-story house known as "Palm Villa."

August 17, 1898, the Imlers took possession of the new home, and January 11, 1924, twenty-six years later, the roof-tree of the old home sheltered the family for the last time.

Recalls Old Wager
In looking over an account of early hospitality, reference was made to an oyster supper at "Palm Villa" twenty years ago when R. G. Doyle paid a wager made with L. C. Brand, concerning the securing the franchise for the Pacific Electric railway for the valley.

This reference reminded "Old Timer" of the well-known hospitality of this home, and pleased to tell about something that not only "has been" but still "is," a walk was undertaken down the palm-bordered street which, since a meeting held in the early days at the home of Mrs. Samuel Ayers on Central avenue by the Imlers and other neighbors, has been known as Park avenue.

Arriving at the point where for the past twenty years "Palm Villa" has extended a welcome, the friendly sign was missing, and the landmark, which the writer thought of as preserving the old traditions of early hospitality, like its old neighbors, "the house with the open shutters" and "The tall yellow house with the mansard roof," torn from its foundations, stripped of its protecting shade, was on its way to a new abiding place. "Palm Villa" is being removed to a lot on Palmer street immediately south of its former location, and will be remodeled into an apartment house.

SOUTHLAND WINS PENN STEEL MAN

John C. Ogden, Formerly of Johnstown Cambria Co. Visits Glendale

John C. Ogden, who has been connected with the Cambria Steel company of Johnstown, Pa., for years in the capacity of general manager, was a visitor in Glendale this week, calling on his former fellow townsman, D. M. Caldwell, of the firm of Stumpf & Caldwell, 219 1/2 East Broadway.

The visitor, whose family is in San Francisco, came south to look around after having viewed the industrial possibilities of the bay district. He wanted to look over the country, learn of its resources, and find what it was that gave stability to Southern California—and he found it.

Mr. Caldwell is a good booster and knew Mr. Ogden from the days when—as the old saying goes. He took him around the industrial district of Los Angeles and finally brought him to the Glendale Chamber of Commerce where Secretary E. F. Sanders discussed the potentialities of this section.

As a developer of industrial, as well as agricultural and urban property Mr. Ogden had no end of questions which when answered gave him an astounding insight as to possibilities here. On leaving for the north he left word that he would be back, with his family. Mr. Caldwell was instructed to arrange for a home.

To paraphrase, "They come, they see, and find new fields to conquer."

Bert Farrar Will Develop 992 Acres of Famous Anderson Property

The Anderson estate, consisting of 992 acres near the Verdugo road, will be subdivided, according to M. J. Sophy, who has opened an office at 211 East Broadway. Mr. Sophy represents Bert Farrar, a subdivider and real estate developer in Los Angeles.

The plan is to syndicate the big Anderson estate holding, selling acre units in the syndicate, and later to plat the tract into lots.

Mr. Sophy said, "Chevy Chase Estates" will be the name of the tract.

TODAY—Passing of Steinlen; Safety Bathing Suits; A Permanent Rouge.

By ALICE LANGELEI For International News Service.

PARIS, Jan. 18.—One of Paris' most famous artists and Montmartre types died a few days ago, with only $1.50 in his pocket. Steinlen will long be remembered for his illustrations in "L'Assiette au Beurre," "Le Chat Noir," "Gil Blas" and other well-known weeklies. He was an indefatigable worker. He illustrated novels by Courteline, Anatole France and Guy de Maupassant, besides the poems of Jean Rictus and the songs of the Montmartre minstrel, Brunant. His cats were famous as well as his posters, which were often to be seen on the Paris billboards, especially during wartime. It was the working class—the little midinettes, the breadboys and the garçon de recettes—who interested him the most. Like Zola, he liked the tragedies and miseries of the poorer classes crushed by the capitalists. He lived among the masses, high up on the old hill of Montmartre, and here he died among them—poorer, perhaps, than the poorest.

It is impossible to sink if you wear the new safety bathing costume which has just been tried out at the Claridge hotel swimming pool with great success. It is fashioned like the ordinary bathing jersey, but is made of spongy India rubber. The wearer is forced to remain in a horizontal position, and even the most timid are able to learn to swim.

The United States is soon to receive a magnificent piece of tapestry from the Gobelin's workshop. It measures thirty-six square yards and has been three years in the making. The subject is "The Departure of American troops from Philadelphia," and two dates—1776 and 1917—are woven into the tapestry. Cavalry are seen riding from the woodland into the city, and there is a complicated background, with the coloring exceedingly fine and varied. It will be on view at the 1925 Exhibition of Decorative Art and will then be sent on to America.

Who's Who in the Day's News

SEN. KEY PITTMAN Key Pittman, one of the principal leaders in the Democratic organization in the senate, will play an important part in the doings of the sixty-eighth session of congress.

Pittman's political career is an unusual one because of the fact that he never had run for political office when he sought the Democratic election to the senate from Nevada in November, 1910. He was defeated then, but two years later was elected by popular vote to fill the unexpired term of George S. Dixon, deceased. The election was unanimously confirmed by the legislature.

Pittman was born in Vicksburg, Miss., Sept. 19, 1872. He was educated by private tutors and in Southwestern Presbyterian University at Clarksville, Tenn. Then he went west. He commenced the practice of law in Seattle in 1892, but the northwest territory called him and from 1897 to 1901 he lived in the Klondike. For two years he worked as a miner. Then he served as counsel for a group of Australians who charged corruption of government officials at Dawson.

Then he went to Nome and helped in the organization of a "consent" form of government for that territory and became the first district attorney there.

He was one of the leading members of the counsel which fought to prevent the carrying out of consents to toll the miners of their mines in 1901. That same year he moved to Tonopah, Nev., where he now lives.

CAPT. THOMAS J. SENN The first command given Capt. Thomas J. Senn of the U. S. navy was the U. S. S. Uncas, a vessel with a tonnage of about 350 tons. This was back in 1899. Now

Capt. Senn has assumed command of the U. S. S. West Virginia, 32,600 tons, the mightiest ship in the world, the queen of Uncle Sam's navy and the last of the battleships to be built by the U. S. under the Washington Arms Limitation agreement. It carries eight 16-inch guns, the largest ever mounted on a battleship.

Capt. Senn is a native of Graniteville, S. C. He was graduated from the U. S. naval academy in 1891 and eight years later was given his first command.

A petition was read at the trustees' meeting last night for the installation of boulevard lights on Brand from Third to First street.

Will Glendale lead all cities in her class in building in 1914 as she did in 1913? An encouraging start has been made when we consider that scarcely three-fourths of the month of January has passed and $41,000 in building permits has been issued by Building Inspector J. M. Banker.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

BY HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE LADY BUG

"Uncle Wiggily, don't you want to help me?" asked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day to the rabbit gentleman in the hollow stump bungalow.

"Why, of course, I'll help you," answered Mr. Longears with a cheerful twinkle of his pink nose. "What sort of trouble are you in now?" Is the Fuzzy Fox chasing you?"

"No, no, the fox isn't after me," replied Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "But I need help all the same. Some of the animal ladies and I are getting up a little entertainment, and we need some signs printed."

"What kind of signs?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, one sign telling where the fish pond is, another sign to tell where ice cream is sold, and another sign for lemonade. I thought perhaps you could get a Christmas paint box from one of the animal children and paint the signs for us."

"Of course I can—I shall be delighted!" exclaimed the bunny. "I'll hop right over and get Dottie Flufftail's paint box. The little lamb girl was given a lovely paint box by Santa Claus."

"Just the thing!" exclaimed Nurse Jane. "I told Mrs. Twistytail, the lady pig, that you could paint the signs for us. And, Uncle Wiggily, if I were you, I'd use red paint. It shows so much more plainly."

"Red paint I shall use," declared the bunny gentleman. Over the fields he hopped until he reached the home of Dottie Flufftail, the little lamb girl.

"Dottie, may I borrow your box of paints and a brush?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Of course you may," bleated Dottie. "I'll get them for you."

So she did, and on the way home Uncle Wiggily stopped at a store and bought some pieces of white cardboard on which to paint the signs for the entertainment of the animal ladies.

Mr. Longears had almost reached his hollow stump bungalow, when, all at once, down on the ground, under a dried leaf, the bunny heard a sad voice saying:

"O, dear! What shall I do? I'm going to freeze and I have but one shoe!"

"Goodness me! That's too bad!" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Who are you with only one shoe shoe?" "I'm a Lady Bug," was the answer. "I should have flown away to the warm southland when winter came, but I didn't, and now I am almost frozen. I have lost five of my shoes, and I only have one left, and I don't know what to do."

"Tracious! You wear six shoes; do you?" asked the bunny.

"Yes, but they are very little ones," whispered the Lady Bug, crawling out from beneath the dried leaf and shivering. "My six shoes are not as large as half of one of the elephant's!"

"I should hope not!" chuckled the bunny. "Well, Lady Bug, if you like I'll take you home to my warm, hollow stump bungalow and you can stay there all winter until summer comes again."

"Oh, thank you!" whispered the Lady Bug. So she crawled on her six legs into one of Uncle Wiggily's warm pockets and went to sleep as he hopped home.

When the rabbit gentleman reached his hollow stump bungalow Nurse Jane met him at the door and the muskrat lady squeaked:

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily, I am sorry to trouble you, but the animal ladies are in a hurry for the fish pond, the ice cream and lemonade signs. You think you could sit right down and paint them at once?"

"Surely I can," said the rabbit. So, forgetting all about the Lady Bug in his pocket, Uncle Wiggily dipped the brush in the red paint and made a fish pond sign. Then he made one for the lemonade stand, and next he started on one about ice cream.

But going out in the cold made the bunny feel sleepy, and he was only half way through the ice cream sign in red paint when his pink nose stopped twinkling and he fell asleep.

And just then the Fuzzy Fox crept into the bungalow, for in his hurry Uncle Wiggily had forgotten to lock the door.

"Ah, I can nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears while he is asleep," the fox whispered.

But the Lady Bug in the bunny's pocket heard the bad chap.

"I wonder how I can save Uncle Wiggily," thought the Lady Bug. She crawled out and she saw the puddle of red paint and the brush and the white pieces of cardboard. "I know what I'll do," said the Lady Bug. "I'll dip my legs in the red paint and then I'll crawl on a piece of cardboard. I'll paint a sign reading 'Danger' and the fox will see it and run away."

So, before the bad chap could nibble Uncle Wiggily's ears the Lady Bug dipped her six legs in the red paint.

"Oh, thank you!" whispered the Lady Bug the red paint. Then she crawled over a piece of white cardboard and she made the word, 'Danger!'

"Oh, wow! What's that?" howled the fox when he read it. "Danger! That must mean Uncle Wiggily has a gun and is dangerous! I'll nibble his ears another time. I mustn't get into danger!"

The fox jumped out of the window, and Uncle Wiggily awakened. And when he saw what the Lady Bug had done the bunny thanked her very much. Then he finished the ice cream sign and all was well.

And if Jack Frost doesn't tickle the snow man with an icicle and make him sneeze his hat off, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily in the attic.

SOAKS RIGHT IN AND LIMBERS UP STIFF JOINTS. Pharmacists Call It "Joint-Ease"

It took a good many years to get together a combination of pain subduing and swelling reducing agents declared to be the one remedy that almost instantly penetrates through skin and flesh and starts right in to make swollen, inflamed, creaky, pain-racked joints as good as new.

They call this new and wonderful preparation "Joint Ease" because the medical man who turned the trick worked for years to perfect some low-priced remedy that would really benefit the millions of people who have one or more joints that need helpful attention.

So "Joint Ease" is prepared only for people who have a swollen, painful, creaky, distorted or stiff joint, whether it be in knee, elbow, shoulder, ankle, neck or finger, and whether it is caused by rheumatism or something else.

Of course, it can't help but quickly put an end to such superficial ailments as lumbago, neuralgia, neuritis, aching muscles, stitch in the side, crick in the neck or sore feet because of its penetrating action, but what it is really recommended for is joint ailments of any nature whatever.

Ask for a tube of "Joint Ease." You can use it several times in one evening for quick results, because it goes right through the skin with only a few seconds' rubbing. It surely is a swift penetrator, and when it gets under the skin, it starts right in to clean up all joint trouble.

Sixty cents a tube, at first-class druggists everywhere. Advertisement

ACTIVE EXERCISE
Yesterday we talked on the mechanical devices for giving needed passive exercise to those who, for some reason—extreme overweight, weak heart, voluntary inertia (common name, laziness), etc.—cannot take active exercise. Today I shall give some exercises to those who do not come under that heading.

First to review a little the need for exercise: It is highly important that while you are cannibalistically consuming your own fat, you tone up and strengthen your muscles; increase your circulator, to bring extra oxygen to the seats of the mighty so as to help consume them, activate your internal glands, wake up your gray matter, and strengthen that and the rest of your nervous system, etc., etc.

If you have not been in the habit of exercising, better begin with only four or five of the movements and gradually work up to a greater number. Every day you must not be surprised if you are stiff and sore for a while. You will realize that you have muscles you never dreamed of. But persist, and you will soon like your exercises and will notice that you are not nearly so old as you thought.

To begin: When you awaken and realize that 'tis time to be up and doing, before you leave your bed make believe that you are a cat. Put one front paw forth and stretch thoroughly, then the other; then your hind paws the same. Now forget you are a cat and don't reassume any feline characteristics during the rest of the day. This is highly important.

Now impersonate an open jack-knife trying to shuf itself up gradually. You do that this way. Throw your hands over your head, then throw them forward, raising your body ten to twelve inches from the bed. Repeat, this time going still further. Each time go back to the level. Keep on doing this and increasing the distance your body goes forward until you are shut up. Repeat this process of closing yourself ten or fifteen times.

These illustrations will help you to visualize the process. (Sorry I haven't my rascal nephew with me. He is my real artist.)

AN ACCEPTED MODE
Paris takes a smart material and tucks a part of it in block or stripe effect, then combines it with the remaining untucked material to make a very pretty decorative scheme and one that closely resembles many of the season's most expensive fabrics. The tuck idea is carried out on this model, copied from an original developed in leather-brown flamingo. The fronts are under-faced and rolled with the convertible collar, which is tucked to make the harmony of the trimming complete. Medium size requires 2 yards 54-inch material. Pictorial Review Dress No. 1383. Size 34 to 48 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

A TRYING SITUATION
Dear Mrs. Thompson:—I used to think my in-law troubles were unbearable, but I've found there are others worse.

My mother is a widow. I have a brother who was married secretly. Before he was married he came to see me and we had a terrible quarrel because he wanted me to go home with him and have my mother adjudged insane. I wouldn't go and have never told my mother the motive of his last visit. He takes his family home now and does all he can to keep her on his side. It is hard to hear her praise him and be looked down on as a "poor farmer's wife."

Now, some time back I received a letter from one of my brother's old girls. She was very ill in a hospital. She has a child she says is my brother's. She says he is quite a boy now and the picture of him. She wanted me to promise to take the child if she should die. I promised. She has gotten better since.

Now, Mrs. Thompson, do you really think my husband and I should take this child and let the father enjoy a life of ease and also keep the secret from his mother, so she will not cut him off. If I were to let her know portion of the wall-paper behind the piano and using its color to paint the scratches in a more conspicuous place."

THE HOME MANICURE
If you have not added some castle soap to the oatmeal, try a tablespoonful to a cup of meal; and for an oily skin add two or three pinches of powdered tinc-

It is so easy to make your nails look attractive you need never spend any money on them beyond what is required for manicure implements and a few little things in the way of polishing powder and the like. You begin always by filing the nails to whichever shape you most admire, then soak the fingers for a few minutes in a bowl of warm, slightly soapy water. It is particularly pleasant if a little lemon juice has been squeezed into it. The cuticle, that is, the skin around the nail, will then be soft enough so that it can be pushed back, or, if necessary, clipped to a smooth finish with a pair of manicure scissors. The nails can be cleaned under and smoothed where necessary with a bit of emery board. There is a little skin under the nail which the steel file never takes entirely off and which the emery board does. Then the cuticle scissors can be inserted at the very edge of the nail, where it goes into the skin, and the rough bits that collect there clipped off. This prevents hangnails. When each nail has been so treated, a little cold cream or petroleum jelly can be rubbed in, and the cuticle again made smooth by pushing it back with an orange wood stick. Then they are ready to be polished, either with polishing powder or paste. I usually advise a paste as powder settles around the cuticle and is apt to make it very dry. A colored paste will give the nails just that slightly pink look so fashionable and so attractive.

After they have been polished you may find little unsuspected hard bits of skin around all the edges. Take these off with your curved manicure scissors. And that's all there is to a manicure. Every day, however, rub a little cold cream into the edges of the nail, preferably after they have been washed, and push the cuticle back with an orange-wood stick.

Appreciative Friend:—The only time I suggest using vanishing cream on the face is when there is need for freshening the complexion for a short period.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes, in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. ## CUPID'S FIREMAN FEATURES JONES

Fox Star Has New Vehicle In Stirring Show at Glendale Theatre

Charles (Buck) Jones will be seen in an altogether different type of melodrama than he has heretofore appeared in when "Cupid's Fireman" is seen by Glendale audiences at the Glendale theatre today and tomorrow. There are five acts of standard vaudeville on the same bill.

The story is set in New York, where Jones, as the fireman in a theatre, falls in love with one of the members of a Broadway chorus. He is not to be blamed for that. However, he succeeds in saving her life and otherwise playing a hero role when the house burns, and this causes the final complications for Cupid.

William Fox is featuring Jones in a new type of melodrama, which centers about the man, rather than the girl. Of course, there must be girls, but this is leap year, and Fox is foxy enough to know that the matinee idol is the best drawing card.

So Buck Jones has adopted the name of Charles and dresses up for Broadway melodrama in "Cupid's Fireman."

Impassive Soul of East Helps Kirk to Realize Futility of All Conceit

A trip to Egypt is recommended by W. B. Kirk, The Glendale Evening News travel writer, as a sure cure for conceit. Mr. Kirk's letter today was written December 17 in Cairo, and he says:

W. B. KIRK

"Our next mail point will be Nice, France, in care of the American Express company. Send it there up to February 10.

"Folks, if you feel that you ought to have the conceit taken out of you, and most of us realize that we do need it once in a while, just make a trip to Egypt, and you'll be cured for a time.

"When you get into a country where everything is dead or ancient, where anything which doesn't antedate the birth of Christ is of no interest, and where a man begins to build his tomb as his first real accomplishment in life, you begin to realize what a small speck you are in space and time, that it was a long time before you got here, and that you'll be a long time dead.

"In some respects, at least, our business of life insurance ought to be a good one in this country, because we would never have to spend time and nerve force in convincing a man that he was mortal. You old timers who attended the world's fair in Chicago will never forget the 'Streets of Cairo' show, on the midway. It was the most realistic representation of oriental life ever seen in America, and after seeing them on their home grounds I appreciate that fact more fully than ever.

Mostly Mixture
"Of all the jumbled mass of human and animal life, mostly mixtures in costumes, vehicles and homes, this country has anything that you have ever seen beaten a thousand miles! It seems impossible that a country just across the Mediterranean from Italy and France and governed for so long by England, could have absorbed so little of the civilization and modern ways of those countries. Yet here they are living as they did thousands of years ago, and in many respects the common people have made not the slightest progress.

"In color, there is every shade, from the whitest down to the blackest, decked, out in every kind of attire from that of the frigid to the torrid zones, with every form of transportation from the primitive camel to the modern auto, using every kind of implement from the crooked stick-plow to the tractor, and living in every conceivable form of abode from the brush-roof adobe with no doors, to the most beautiful modern mansion.

"It looks to me as if every one of the population tries to out-do the others in wearing the most outlandish clothes possible and in doing things in the oddest way. "What do you think of a country where a majority of the men wear nothing but long cotton night gowns (some are shorter), that drag the ground? Variety of Hats
"The better class, of course, wear modern clothes, but with all sorts of hats, many with fez, but the majority wear a rag or nothing at all on the head. The women dress mostly in black, some fully veiled, some half veiled and some in modern attire of expensive variety.

"The mixture of camels, donkeys, mules, water-buffaloes, sheep, goats, dogs, geese, ducks and chickens, which pack the streets in the older sections and small towns, is indescribable. To the stranger, however, the strings of camels, loaded with fodder or brushwood, waddling along with nothing but the load visible, which is shaking from side to side, is a sight sufficient to make him shake his own sides.

"But I am ahead of my story. Our steamer docked in Alexandria on time Wednesday morning. After we had waited half an hour for inspection, the government officials finally got aboard, about fifteen of them, with red fezes, and I wondered if all Egyptians were Shriners; and ever since then I can't help thinking as I see the street full of red fezes that there must be a Shrine convention in town.

"We had to put up a dollar apiece to the health department, but at last, amid the greatest confusion of Arabs, porters, hotel men soliciting our patronage and transfer, money changers and fakirs, we were able to get ashore and were transferred to the railway station, through the business center and reached it just in time to get the 9 o'clock train here, which we had decided to take as there is little of interest to the tourist in Alexandria. I feel sure that no less than twenty men handled some part of our baggage or assisted us in some way, in that transfer.

"Finally we were rolling down (or up) through the gardens and villages along the Nile, the latter mostly of mud huts with thatched roofs, the fadder stacked against the houses and all the animals living in the same quarters in an indiscriminate mass.

Irrigation Is Crude
"The irrigation along the Nile is still very crude. The roads are built along the dyke embankments and it is hard to keep them good. Of course you have all kinds of the overflow of the Nile being

LESSONS IN ART FOR CLUB WOMEN

Session at Glendale Tavern Sees Expert Turn Out Dainty Favors

The Arts and Crafts meeting of the Thursday Afternoon club was held yesterday, the members meeting first at K. P. hall and motoring to the Glendale Tavern on San Fernando road, in response to a special invitation extended by the proprietor, Mr. Snyder, so the club to hold the meeting in the pleasant rooms of the new hostelry.

Preceding the art lesson, the board convened for a short session, with Mrs. E. V. Bacon presiding. Mrs. W. E. Anderson was appointed membership chairman, to fill the vacancy created when Mrs. J. M. Server was appointed corresponding secretary. Mrs. M. P. Moberly was appointed philanthropic chairman.

Shows Art Samples
The art lesson was directed by Mrs. C. E. Brain, who displayed, on tables, many beautiful samples of her artistic work in crepe paper. The attention of her class was centered on the rudiments of the art of making favors, in different forms, and the lesson hour proved both entertaining and instructive. She was assisted by Mr. Osgood.

A social hour followed the lesson, and the members, as guests of the management, were served tea and delicious cinnamon toast, in addition to the cakes that had been provided by the club hospitality committee. The sun room, where the board meeting was held, and the spacious dining room, where the tables were used to display the art work, were especially adapted to assist in making the program a success, and the members and president are highly appreciative of the courtesy and hospitality of their host, which added so materially to the pleasure of the afternoon.

Badge Bandit Search Reaches Canal Zone

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 18.—The search for the notorious "badge bandit," alleged to be Harry Dunlap, suspected murderer and attacker of scores of Southern California women, shifted suddenly to the Panama canal region when deputy sheriffs received information that Dunlap was reported to have attempted to make his escape on the steamship Finland, which left Los Angeles harbor several days ago. A radiogram was dispatched to the ship, now passing through the Panama canal, by the sheriff's office, requesting the captain of the vessel to make a thorough check of those on board for the bandit.

PURE ICE CREAM WHOLESOME FOOD

Crescent Creamery Manager Urges Mothers to Give Children Delicacy

Many people have been wont to look upon ice cream as a confection, rather than as one of the most wholesome foods obtainable. Too many mothers have been prone to frown upon the use of ice cream by their children. It is because of their ignorance of its value as a body builder, especially in juveniles, says the manager of the Crescent Creamery company, one of the largest distributors of ice cream.

Few realize that ice cream is considered a better article of food in the winter time than in the summer. The body fuel it contains makes it rich in heat-producing energy. Only comparatively recently has a consistent effort been made to increase its use in the winter time. As a dessert it not only tops off the meal with a wholesome and delicious dish, but it reduces the household expenses for food if so used.

Every child should be given as much ice cream daily as he will eat, the official asserts. It will lessen his requirements for other foods of less nutritive value which cost considerably more, while, at the same time, it is a most desirable method of assisting a child's growth, both mentally and physically. It is a health measure to encourage the child to acquire the ice cream habit, both summer and winter. It is an all-round food of the first quality.
