Revenue Agents' Unflagging Attacks Upon Illicit Whisky Manufacture.

"We are making life wearlsome for the Arkansas moonshiners," said Col. W. S. Wheeler, special agent of the revenue department, who was at Collector Withers' office checking the records of his department. "Since the present campaign was opened against them we have landed 35 of them, and we will get the rest very shortly and absolutely clean out the business in northern Arkansas," he continued. "The moonshiners shot a posse of officers there last fall and killed some of them. Then the department gave orders to clean out the gang, and we are doing it. The hunt is on and the game will be caught or run out of the country."

The horde of moonshiners that came into Arkansas and Missouri along the line were from Georgia principally. Three years ago a war was opened on them there, says the Kansas City Journal, and they were hunted so hard they had to leave. The unfrequented woods and hills of Arkansas gave many of them a hiding place, while others went into the Ozarks. They were chased so hard by officers under the late Gen. Jo Shelby they had to leave Missouri, and they went into the Arkansas mountains. QUEER ANIMAL FRIENDSHIP.

Strange Devotion Exhibited by a Colt and Heifer at Greensburg, N. Y.

A yearling colt and a yearling heifer, owned by Peter Shanaberg, of Greensburg, N. Y., have struck up a strange and very devoted friendship. The colt is kept in a stall at night, but during date. the day it and the heifer run in a paddock and are inseparable, at frequent intervals turning to caress each other. The colt's caresses usually consist in playful nibbles at the heifer's ears, but sometimes it rubs its head lovingly against the heifer's body. The heifer responds by rubbing its head against

In bad weather the colt is not allowed to run out, and at such times the heifer mopes and mourns, lowing disconsocolt's answering whinnies.

A few days ago a puppy got into the paddock and began to amuse itself by chasing the heifers about. The colt paid no attention to the dog until it; singled out the object of the colt's affecbovine favorite, and by a well-directed kick with both hoofs sent the dog sprawling.

Crayon Picture Swindler Encounters an Angry Feminine Mob in an Ohio Town.

A crayon picture man with an elastic conscience had a hard time of it in the town of Chagrin Falls, O., recently. to Swede Creek, six miles above Daw-Aftera preliminary canvass he obtained several photographs of members of different families to enlarge, promising their safe return. He called last week at the home of Mrs. A. M. Goodwin, who protested against the picture frame. When she demanded her photograph the agent said he would return it for 50 cents. This the lady produced and the fellow took the picture from his pocket. This plan was followed by the stranger all along the street, and he secured amounts ranging from 50 cents to two dollars.

A number of the swindled women told their troubles to each other, and were indignant, and when later the fellow entered W. B. Hendrick's residence five of the ladies hurriedly followed. They telephoned downtown for A constable and demanded the return of their money. The stranger, by this time thoroughly frightened, attempted to escape, and while several ladies handled him roughly another secured a butcher knife and attempted to cut open the fakir's satchel in the hope of securing other photos and cash he had secured. Several men who were attracted by the row assembled and the swindler threw the pictures and money to the floor. He finally succeeded in escaping from his assailants, and immediately departed on an outgoing electrie car.

HIGHLY EDUCATED PARROT.

Remarkably Precocious Bird Owned in Nunda, N. Y.—Taiks in German and English.

"Polly" is a large green parrot with a yellow head and bright, expressive eyes. She was born in Mexico 11 years ago and was brought to New York city by Mrs. Dr. Bowen Lamb, still a resident of that city. Polly is now owned by Mrs. H. V. Rowell, of Nunda, N. Y., and there are people there who believe Polly to be possessed of a soul.

Her voice is so human that unless you are in the same room with her it is impossible to distinguish her speech from that of a human being. She talks and counts in German and English for others' amusement, and amuses herself by singing or whistling. Her favorite songs are "Wait for the Wagon" and Three Cheers for the Red, White and Blue," to which she always adds a ringing "Hurrah, Boys!" She sings "Peeka-boo," "Yankee Doodle," "I'll Await the Promised Land," and she delights in whistling and singing "Jim-a-long

Josie" and "In the Sweet By and By." She recites her A B C's forward and backward and then yells for something harder, always concluding with the remark: "That was dead easy." L. against any man of her inches and weight. Miss Mack is anxious to win fame in the ring, and there is money back of her. She has four brothers, all of whom are professional fighters. She was born in County Kerry, Ireland, 24 years ago, is five feet nine inches high, and weighs 185 pourids. Margaret has taken lessons in boxing although she has not yet made a professional appearance. In amateur fights she has on each occasion covered herself with glory. She thrashed everybody in County Kerry and several years ago came to America to find fresh fields to conquer. At first upon arriving in Chicago she abandoned the idea of pugilism and went to work as a servant girl. Four months ago she went to work in a boarding-house next door to which lived a woman who was known in the neighborhood as a female bully. In all Margaret entered her horizon and was offered $50 to whip the woman on sight. Such a snug sum of money stimulated Miss Mack's fighting instincts and she neighbor, who quickly subsided. Tremendous Falling Off in Travel to Alaska-Thought to Be Due to Discouraging Reports.

Travel to Alaska has fallen off tremendously. During the last two weeks arrivals from eastern states have been fewer than at any time since December, while almost every day has seen another steamship added to the Alaskan fleet. The steamship Cleveland is tied at the sawmill at Tacoma, Wash., the business offering being insufficient to warrant sending her out.

The steamship Australia sailed the other night with only 100 passengers from Tacoma and Seattle, though she can carry 600. Her freight is likewise light. The falling off in travel is attributed to discouraging reports from the trail.
