CONFESS TO LONG SERIES OF CRIMES

TWO YOUTHFUL BANDITS GIVE MANY DETAILS

SLAYERS OF RANGER NOW FACING GALLOWS

In Addition to Joint Confession of Many Crimes, Admit Killing of Sam Hermanson.—Rescued from Mob by Deputy Sheriffs.

Red Bluff.—Crimes ranging from holdups of jitneys to bank robberies and murder, were confessed by Fred Johnson and Earl Williams, youthful bandits, awaiting trial here for robbing the Bank of Tehama and slaying Forest Ranger Sam Hermanson.

In a joint confession both men admitted they killed Hermanson after holding up the bank at Red Bluff. Johnson also admitted that he killed his employer, Harry Peterson, in Clay county, Iowa, in 1917, when he was about 15 years of age.

A mob took him prisoner for this slaying, the youth is said to have confessed, and were starting to hang him to a tree when he was rescued by deputy sheriffs, convicted, sentenced to a life term, but made his escape in July, 1922.

They explained two holdups of the North Sacramento branch of the California Trust & Savings bank. Johnson said: "After the first job I read in the papers that the cashier pulled a trick on me by shoving $15,000 in a drawer. That made me mad and I decided to go back again."

To obtain an automobile for the Sacramento and Red Bluff holdups, Williams held up Thomas Mountjoy, San Francisco jitney driver, on the Skyline drive. Later he picked up Johnson at Colma.

Johnson confessed that he had held up three San Francisco taxicab drivers at different times and had stolen their machines, using the cars in his bank robbing forays. He also admitted having participated in a shooting affray growing out of a liquor running enterprise in Los Angeles.

He denied connection with the Bill O'Connor gang of San Francisco. "When I first came west, I looked O'Connor over and saw that he was a double-crosser."

District Attorney Fred C. Pugh predicted that the two men will be in prison under death sentence before the end of August.

MYSTERY MOB BRANDS THREE 'K's' ON MICHIGAN MINISTER

Battle Creek.—Rev. Oren C. Van Loom, pastor of Berkeley Presbyterian church is in a hospital fighting to regain his memory. His mind still filled with the terrors of an attack on him by a mysterious band, during which he was branded with the letters "K. K. K.," according to doctors, who said he had been without food for days and he apparently suffered much from exposure. His face and hands were badly sunburned. The letters "K. K. K.," three inches high were found by a nurse as she was bathing him.

Since July 1, police of Berkeley and Royal Oak have been conducting a statewide search for him. Several clues which led into neighboring states and to Canada failed.

Canada After Jap Trade

Ottawa.—Official opinion was divided over the suggestion by Premier MacKenzie in the house of commons that Canada "take advantage of the ill feeling between Japan and the United States and develop Canadian trade in the Orient." The premier's remarks came during the debate on the immigration bill. Abrogation of the "gentlemen's agreement" with Japan and the substitution of a "clearer understanding" with that government on immigration were suggested. As a result it is expected the new bill will present radically changed Oriental immigration policies.

Jap Ban Taken to Rome

Tokyo.—The immigration issue between the United States and Japan will be laid before the leaders of the Roman Catholic church. M. Giamusho is proceeding to Rome, hoping to have an audience with the pope and with Catholic dignitaries at which he will present Japan's side of the question and seek to arouse sentiment against exclusion of Japanese from America.

Refuse German Loan

London.—London bankers have informed Premier MacDonald that they will not participate in the $50,000,000 loan to Germany proposed by the Dawes plan, giving as their reason for refusal that MacDonald attempts to evade the Dawes scheme in order to conciliate the Poincare group.

FOREST FIRE GAIN NEW TERRITORIES

LEAPS INTO AREA SUNDAY AFTER WAINING FOR TIME

DESPERATE SITUATION FOR TIRED FIGHTERS

Ney Springs in Shasta National Reserve and Homes of Vicinity Destroyed.—Breaks Out Anew in Los Angeles County.

Los Angeles.—The immense fire burning in the timber of the Saugus section broke through the lines of tired fighters, Sunday, and took a long jump toward the Ridge route, creating a situation described as "desperate."

The flames, thought to have been checked in Fish canyon, sent a long tongue of fire across a gap southwest of Saw Mill mountain and touched off a new segment about three miles in extent and started for the Liebre range, directly above the Ridge route, the main auto road between the San Joaquin valley and Los Angeles.

Two pack trains of fire fighters, one from Santa Barbara and one from Los Angeles, were ordered into the new fire zone Sunday night.

Ney Springs, a small resort in the Cantara district of Shasta national forest, was destroyed by the fire that has swept over a large area there. Two ranch houses in the vicinity were destroyed. This blaze was reported, Sunday morning, to be threatening Sisson, but later a change of wind improved the situation.

The most stubborn fire in the central part of the state continued to burn along Deadwood ridge in Placer county. The front of this fire was about ten miles from Forest Hill and in its path a number of small settlements.

A group of buildings in Deadwood, a small mining and cattle camp, were destroyed Saturday night.

While reports from the older fires were generally favorable, there was a warning of new dangers in announcement of two new fires in a hitherto untouched district.

The big fire at Bull Run, in the Sequoia national forest, Tulare county, was being held by a force of 400 men.

The Butte county fire in the woods above Inskip, where the Diamond Match company of Chico is working, was still out of control the first of the week.

WOMAN KILLED IN FALL OF BLAZING AIR PLANE

Oakland.—While hundreds of autoists looked on, a flaming air plane, piloted by Dewey Ward and in which Mrs. Vera Doyle of Oakland, was a passenger, crashed to the ground at the intersection of Foothill boulevard and Maude avenue, burning the woman to death and seriously injuring the aviator. The airplane burst into flames while 200 feet above the field, went into a nose-dive and plunged to earth with great velocity. Ward, the aviator, is said to have jumped when the plane was thirty feet from the ground.

According to several persons who were on the field when Mrs. Dayle approached Ward and negotiated for a flight said she asked the aviator: "If I go up with you will you give me a thrill?" According to those within hearing, Ward's reply was: "I'll give you the ride of your life!"

STATE IN ANOTHER DRIVE ON GLARING HEADLIGHTS

Sacramento.—State highway traffic officers operating under the direction of the division of motor vehicles have begun another campaign against violators of headlight provisions of the law, with the hope of ridding the highways of the menace of glaring lights, and the war on such violators will be waged intensively through all of July and for such time thereafter as is necessary to reduce this hazard to life to a minimum.

The division will have some 150 uniformed officers and a number of unpaid deputies enforcing the law, and local officials from all over the state have written the department pledging their help.

Standard Cuts Gas Price

New York.—The Standard Oil of New Jersey reduced gasoline prices 1c a gallon throughout its territory, making the tank wagon price in New Jersey 18½¢ a gallon. Kerosene has been reduced 1c a gallon in New Jersey, West Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia and a half-cent in South Carolina. The Gulf Refining company also reduced gasoline prices 1c a gallon and reduced kerosene a half-cent a gallon.

Golden State News of Interest to All

Francisco Oliva, nipper at the Jackson Trinity mine, fell 3,000 feet to his death.

Cleophas Kirk, 19, son of John Kirk, Oakland, was drowned in Paradise cove. He was overcome by cramps.

The body of Arle Husinga, 58, Santa Rosa rancher, was found in a house in San Francisco. He had been dead for ten days.

Sixty days in the county jail was allotted Giovanni Perazzo of Fairfax for shooting wild doves in Tamalpais game preserve.

Joseph Novotny, 50, of Crescent City, was killed instantly when struck by a falling rock at the quarry near the breakwater.

Daniel Price Pennick, resident of Chico for many years, dropped dead, following a stroke of paralysis several months ago.

A fire that threatened a business block in the heart of Redding was controlled after two hours of fighting and confined to damage estimated at $60,000.

The body found in an irrigation ditch on the Lincoln highway west of Tracy recently was identified as that of John Kelly, a ranch hand of Midway.

Mrs. Noel G. Drew of Stockton was charged with murder after the death of her husband from gunshot wounds said to have been received in a family quarrel.

William Kessel, 14 years old, was shot dead at his home in San Francisco when a rifle exploded as it fell from the hands of his 16-year-old brother.

A sentence of five years in San Quentin was passed by the prison board on Florence Gray, convicted in Stanislaus county in 1922 of first degree arson.

Alfred Bollinger, who confessed to slaying Axel Summers with an axe on April 27, pleaded not guilty at Marysville to charge of murder, indicating self-defense.

A Constantine of Stockton captured one of two men who entered his store in an attempt to burglarize it. The accomplice escaped with $17.50 from the till.

James Keith, employe of the Fruit Growers Supply company at Hill, died from burns received when he threw gasoline into the firebox of a donkey engine.

John Gianelli of Oakdale, arrested for an alleged attempt to kill his wife, broke both arms when he plunged head first from a tankhouse in a suicide attempt.

James P. Medley, for many years connected with steamers plying between San Francisco and Petaluma, died after he fell eight feet at the dock at Petaluma.

The Yuba county supervisors have authorized the preparation of plans for paving seven and a half miles of the highway through the Arboga district to Plumas lake.

Eleven alleged bootleggers were arrested by the county dry squad at Clark's Creek, near the Great Pit river construction camp. Four paid fines of $400 each.

James Galbraith, convicted of perjury in connection with the Pergola Inn robbery trials, was ordered to San Quentin prison. He will serve from 1 to 14 years.

Eddie Householder, a star ball player in the Coast league twenty years ago, died of cancer of the stomach at Los Angeles. The veteran player was 45 years old.

Joseph Morinini, 60, who was shortly to have been retired after twenty-five years service with the Southern Pacific, was killed by a freight engine in the yards at Concord.

A license for cats is being urged in Lodi by the poundmaster, who declares that during the past month approximately 600 chickens have been killed in that city by cats.

Charles J. Enos, who began his career as janitor for the Pacific-Southwest Trust bank a few years ago, has been made manager of the Coalinga branch of the institution.

William Alexander, former undersheriff of Butte county, is now deputy state fish and game commissioner with the Feather river canyon and the Lake Alamanor districts his territory.

An unidentified motorist killed Mrs. Robert Hansen, 55, and seriously injured her husband on the highway near Santa Rosa and then sped away. The Hansens were ranchers at Stony Point.

Returning to the surf for a swim a few minutes after he had rescued his wife, George R. Fredericks, 35, of Pasadena, was seized with cramps and drowned before he could be reached.

Reid sanatorium, one of the few buildings in the business section of Tuolumne escaping the disastrous fire which visited the foothill city six years ago, was completely destroyed by fire July 6.

VOTERS SHOULD SIGN CONSERVATION PETITION

A petition is being circulated for signatures asking the Board of County Supervisors to call a special water conservation election. At Campbell the petition is at the bank where all voters interested in the much-needed water conservation movement are asked to sign.

The number of names required for this petition is large and it is hoped that every one will make himself a committee of one to secure other signatures.

L. Woodard is conducting the campaign in this part of the valley.

J. C. Harris, former resident of Campbell, who with his family is here for the season, has on exhibition at Ori Grizzle's barber shop a redwood burl table. It is an exquisite piece of this unique wood, the top being one piece and the pedestal a solid post.

Mr. Harris cut the burl in the redwoods of the Santa Cruz mountains and has worked out the material for three tables.

SERIES OF SERMONS

Rev. W. E. Eckles is planning to give a series of Sunday morning sermons on the Psalms. Next Sunday morning at 11 he will speak on the 1st Psalm.

Sunday evening at 7:45 there will be a missionary lecture on "The Industry of Healing." This will be illustrated with 72 colored slides.

Mr. C. H. Mansfield, a young man from the Theological Seminary, will be at the Manse next Tuesday afternoon at 2.30, to put on an aluminum demonstration for the benefit of the Ladies Guild and their friends. This is under the auspices of the 4th Division of the Guild and they promise those who attend a pleasant afternoon. The entire program, as well as refreshments, is furnished by the young man and his helper.

A resolution adopted at a mass meeting of water users of the San Joaquin valley, called together at Visalia by C. A. Barlow, president of the California State Irrigation association, calls for immediate reopening of the state-wide campaign for $100,000 with which to complete the state water resource survey, that a final recommendation can be brought to the attention of the next legislature. The movement, launched last October at the instance of the California Farm Bureau federation, but dropped during the foot and mouth difficulties, will be centered in the larger cities, the farming communities already having contributed a portion of the money. A committee of five will visit these cities at once to present the proposition and to explain that the survey, started in 1921 with $200,000 available from the previous appropriation by the legislature, is now two-thirds complete and requires $100,000 to finish to the point where a recommendation can be made. The committee comprises H. C. Carr, president State Bankers association, Porterville; Ben M. Maddox, Visalia, resident manager of the Southern California Edison company; R. C. Merryman, millionaire fruit grower, Exeter; W. A. Sutherland, regional director, Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, Fresno; C. A. Barlow, Bakersfield, president of the California State Irrigation association.

A temporary injunction has been granted on petition of the Sutter-Butte Canal company to restrain the Great Western Power company and the Great Western Canal company from taking water from the Feather river for impounding in lakes in the upper canyons. The Sutter-Butte company contends that because of diversion of water it has been deprived of irrigation allotment to which it was entitled.

A merger has been completed by the California Co-operative Canneries with five canneries of the California Growers association, a southern concern, and a Hollister cannery. The co-operative canneries are located at San Jose, Modesto and Visalia, and the five other plants are located at Ontario, Riverside, Elsinore, Hemet and Fall Brook. The capital stock of the entire corporation will total $3,000,000.

AIR MAIL SERVICE FOR FOREIGN MAIL

Uncle Sam is going to do his part in giving foreign correspondents the benefit of his wonderful air service. The postal department will give foreign mail the regular service at the zone rates where the regular U. S. postage obtain. To other countries the rate will be the zone rate plus the difference between the regular 2 cent rate and the postage to that country.

Special stamps are not necessary so long as the required amount is affixed. In fact a combination is more noticeable.

During the busy canning season the local postal force is having some uncommon experiences. With the influx of workers and visitors there's a score of Johnsons to be served. This would not be so difficult if each had a different given name. But not so. There are two with identical names, calling daily at the window. There are two whose names are alike and whose box number, town and rural are alike.

Two other Johnsons have the same initials, one in town and one on the rural route.

THE WISE MAN OF NINEVEH

A four act play by Wilbur S. Tupper.

A big landscape scene by F. H. Cutting.

Musical effects by Mrs. A. B. Townsend.

The historical setting by Rev. W. E. Eckles.

An enthusiastic and talented cast.

Surprise lighting and coloring, Mr. Alexander.

Beautiful new stage curtains.

Oriental historical costumes.

Date: Friday, July 25, at 8:00 p. m.

Place: Congregational church.

Silver offering taken at the door.

The play is full of dramatic clash, and the action, taking place on the banks of the Tigris river, develops amidst a fine display of brilliant costumes, flashing spears and shields, and crowns and harps.

John Duncan, Jr., will play the part of Abusmak, captain of the Assyrian army, and Helen Stray will act as harpist to the king. These names were accidentally omitted in last week's cast of characters.

FREE FOR FARMERS

Congressman A. M. Free, of the Eighth Congressional District of California, when asked today to state some things he has done since he has been in Congress replied at follows:

"I have been particularly active in the interest of the farmers and fruit growers. One of my first activities was to secure a tariff on eggs, lemons, beans, mustard, almonds, walnuts, olives, prunes and quicksilver, which industries would otherwise have gone to the wall owing to the competition with the cheap labor of foreign countries. I was active in securing an extension of the War Finance Corporation, which has loaned nearly half a billion dollars to farming activities and saved sections, where the local banks could not meet the demands, from ruin.

"After the creation by the Government of the Farm Loan Intermediate Banks, I made the argument before the Farm Loan Board and secured a ruling that canned and dried fruits and vegetables, beans, almonds, and walnuts are staple agricultural products and, as a result, $5,000,000 was advanced in California for the marketing of the products. I presented the facts and made the argument on behalf of California asking for a quarantine against the admission into the United States of fruit grown in countries afflicted by the Mediterranean fly. I was successful. Had I failed, it would have meant almost complete destruction of our fruits.

"I have been entrusted with the handling of very important questions on the floor of Congress, fisheries, aid to our merchant marine, provisions of the Immigration Bill, etc. I was very active in securing the location of the Veterans' Hospital at Palo Alto, and securing a re-survey of lower San Francisco Bay. I have handled hundreds of cases of wounded soldiers before the Veterans' Bureau and have helped out many Civil War Veterans and their widows.

"I have endeavored to be attentive to my duties, study the problems before me and as I think is for the best interests of the country, regardless of what may seem to be the popular thing."

C. E. Austen of Chula Vista was elected president of the California Rural Letter Carriers association at its twentieth annual convention in Fresno. Other officers elected were: Vice president, L. Mansfield of Watsonville; secretary, M. Yeaker of Campbell, and treasurer, William Ryhiner of Turlock.

WRONG IS WRONG WHEREVER FOUND

The upholding by the appellate division of the New York Supreme court the lower court's decision in sentencing William H. Anderson, former superintendent of the New York Anti-saloon league to from one to three years in prison following his conviction of forgery in the third degree is but another sensible recognition of wrong-doing wherever found.

It is certainly commendable of the particular judiciary which had to do with the case, but more significant in the fact that all dry forces in the country should stand in accord with the ferreting of misdoings in their ranks.

If the purposes of the Anti-saloon league are for constructive good to the people at large (and we assume that to be the case) the organization can well be rid of such men as Anderson.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

There is at present no occasion for alarm over the unfortunate incident of a renegade in Japan hauling down an American flag. The Japanese government has made due and formal apology. Much as we may detest the act and deplore the conditions, we are nevertheless not so quick to jump at the conclusion that this act of one man was sanctioned or held in approval by Japan as a people.

Little things, however, often lead to big things, unless promptly and rightly curbed. Nations and neighbors don't differ a great deal in their make-up. Chips just seem to find a way to their shoulders.

It used to be that a fellow who didn't know how many were killed in the battle of Stony Point wasn't considered educated. Some modern educators claim the true process of education is to make him forget there ever was a battle.

Those Florida bathers ought to wear more clothes. Even their cigars come in wrappers.

Don't "Listen to the Knocking Bird." It would be a funny world if we had to depend only on the dictionary for meanings.

"I don't like it"

HE didn't look well, this particular customer, and so the grocer, being very wise, as all grocers are, took one glance at the man's face and said, "I know what's the matter with you. Your stomach is out of kilter. Ever eat Kellogg's Krumbled Bran?"

"I don't like it!"
 "Well, how about whole wheat bread?"
 "I don't like it!"
 "Say, do you ever eat saurkraut?"
 "I don't like it!"
 "What about greens? Do you like canned spinach?"
 "I don't like it! Say, do you imagine you're going to sell me all that hay and fodder?"
 "Who said anything about selling any of those things to you?"
 "Then what are you driving at?"
 "Oh, I just wanted to find out what to eat myself, so I'd never get to feeling the way you do."
 "Don't get funny. How's a fellow going to eat such things if he doesn't like 'em?"
 "Which would be the most trouble, to eat what you like best and feel rotten all day, or to eat one or two things you don't like so well and feel fine all day long?"
 "Well, hang it, send 'em up—anything, the whole works—send 'em up!"

"Can't Afford to Paint."

The man who says that, forgets that painting properly done is economy, and the fact is he can't afford NOT to paint.

How often you require to paint is largely dependent upon the paint you use.

THE

out last others. They are the most economical paints you can use, because they cover most and wear longest. Add to this their good appearance, and you have perfect paints—The Sherwin-Williams Paints.

They are made for many different kinds of painting. Whatever it is you want to paint—a house, or anything in or out of the house—we make the right paint for that particular purpose—not one slap-dash mixture for all.

CAMPBELL, THE ORCHARD CITY

As every individual has his own personality, so every city and town has its own ambition or spirit of enterprise.

What does Campbell stand for?

Industry, education and the better things of life.

Industry—every man is a busy man in Campbell and the women are not found lagging behind.

With our three canneries, running full blast, and all the varied occupations necessary to a great fruit center, Campbell is indeed a hustling and a happy community.

Training—Our Union High school counts its graduates among the most efficient members of the many occupation and professions of the state. The Union grammar school boasts of the finest buildings and grounds west of the Rocky Mountains. Its equipment is superb. Its work the best.

Churches—Our four churches are wide awake to the needs of the community, are always ready to cooperate or to lead in the general up-life of the town.

The moral force of the place is a constant inspiration to both old and young to do their very best.

If you have lived upon the broad prairies, upon the mountain tops, or perchance near the ocean shore you have caught glimpse of the greater things that for the time has raised your spirits high. These influences condensed into one represent the high sense or moral tone which can be enjoyed by every one in a little vine clad cottage all his own.

Geographically Campbell is located in the heart of this, the most wonderful valley of the state and in the very midst of the greatest fruit district in all the world. We quite fully appreciate our distinction.

We invite you to enjoy with us the community spirit.

EXTENSION OF CAMPBELL AVENUE

The tremendous increase in motor travel and traffic in the Santa Clara county is developing many serious problems. To relieve the congestion of the highway is a pressing need. The roads of the Santa Clara valley have always been a mystery to the strangers driving through. A few roads have become regular highways connecting the outlying sections with San Jose, the county seat. But as the county has come to be more thickly settled, cross-roads leading from one highway to another have come into greater demand. Every one who has traveled over the central and western parts of the valley has expressed his regrets at not being able to go directly east or west to his destination without back-tracking on short roads which lead to no place in particular. The people of Campbell have long suffered the inconvenience of being shut in between two highways to get in or out, east or west, without zig-zaging many miles out of their way.

Some time ago the improvement club took up the question of extending Campbell avenue due west to connect with Prospect Road, which is in direct line to the foothills and the San Francisco highway. Most of the property owners along the way have donated land for the right of way, and the County Board of Supervisors has appointed a committee consisting of A. V. McCarty, Wm. Johnson and Robert Chandler, county engineer, to view the route and report.

When this thoroughfare is opened it will greatly relieve the traffic on several of the other highways running lengthwise of the county.

The committee will undoubtedly get busy at once.

COOLIDGE PROGRESSIVE

Two states in the union—Massachusetts and California—have real statutes protecting women and children in limited hours of labor.

The Massachusetts law was signed by Calvin Coolidge as Governor over the protests of the powerful manufacturers.

In his address before the Bar Association convention in San Francisco in 1922 Coolidge declared he would rather be known as the Governor who signed the forty eight hour bill than as Governor during the Boston police strike.

The following is the conservation plank of the Republican platform that President Coolidge warmly approved, and which is one of the contributing reasons why Gifford Pinchot endorsed his candidacy.

"We believe in the development, effective and efficient, whether of oil, timber, coal or water power resource of this government, only as needed and only after the public need has become a matter of public record, controlled with a scrupulous regard and over vigilant safeguard against waste, speculation and monopoly.

"The natural resources belong to the people and are a part of an estate belonging to generations yet unborn. The government policy should be to safeguard, develop and utilize these possessions. The conservation policy of the nation originated with the Republican party under the inspiration of Theodore Roosevelt. We hold it a privilege of the Republican party to build as a memorial to him on the foundation which he laid."

Again the touch of Roosevelt is evident.

"The conservation of human resources one of the most solemn responsibilities of government. There is an obligation which can not be ignored and which demands that the federal government shall, as far as lies in its power, give to the people and the state the benefits of its counsel."

The suggestion for the creation of a cabinet post of Education and relief is approved.
