

National Anti-Slavery Standard

Published weekly, on Saturday, at $2 50 per annum, by the AMERICAN ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY, No. 41 Beekman Street, New York, at the office of the PENNSYLVANIA ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY, 100 North Third Street, Philadelphia.

Selections.

A THERING VOICE FROM FRANCE.

OF MESSRS. ANTOINE DE GABRIEL, EDUARD LAFAYETTE, HERBERT MARTIN, AUGUSTE COCHIN, AND OTHER FRIENDS OF AMERICA IN FRANCE, TO THE LOCAL ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY.

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

which had secured the majority of Presidents and chief officers. Yet in this free country, a country without an army, and whose material means was as laws as a nation, we are told of a province claiming independence!

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

will to-morrow meet you in debate, and you will accept in all their truth the struggle of the press, of the legislative hall, and of the ballot which will replace the grating of the ballot-box.

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

and persistent struggle in which we shared, and of which we were the first to feel the full force of the election of John Woodworth—it is hard not to feel the head will sorrow for the soldier and shame for the nation. But when from that letter we descend although lightly, to this nomination, the tragedy becomes far greater, and it is impossible not to explode with laughter.

For granting that he is a very great man, is this the body of politicians who have ever shown any true regard for the people? Have they chosen to be gentlemen by nature? Have they chosen to be themselves, ever do more than make themselves politically ridiculous? When they nominate Woodworth in 1850 and Mr. Bell in 1852, they were intended to help the slaveholders; but they do not intend to help the slaveholders; but they do not intend to help the slaveholders; but they do not intend to help the slaveholders.

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

GEN. BUTLER AND JEFF. DAVIS.

DAVIS would be more than a duplicate of Gen. Butler. Having tried to make him more he finds him instead one of his most energetic and irrepressible enemies.

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

THE FREESTATE MEN OF LOUISIANA.

The Times refers, in a tone of alarm, to the intelligence of a Convention of the Free-State party held at New Orleans, to be held on the 15th inst. It is not to be held in New Orleans, but in some other place.

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

THE SACREDNESS OF NATIONALITY.

(Extract of a Speech, delivered in Montreal, Dec. 19, 1853, by George Sizer.)

The way is opened for me to state the only ground on which I claim the world's sympathy with my country in the sacredness of NATIONALITY.

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

THE GLOOMIEST YEAR.

(By the Rev. Robert Knicker, Dec. 31.)

To-day closes the gloomiest year of our struggle. No language flows of intervention boys up the spirits of our people.

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

THE EMANCIPATION CELEBRATION.

(The celebration in Portland on the anniversary of emancipation, took place in the presence of a large and distinguished audience.)

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

Why has this indignation been withheld? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed? Why has it not been more loudly proclaimed?

It is not the prolonged absence of one of our number that we have to thank you for the collective characters of this reply; for the blending of our four names in a proof of that great sentiment upon all that concerns the cause of humanity which God's favor manifests itself here below, in spite of political and religious differences.

You have comprehended, gentlemen, that neither in Europe have been free from misapprehension. Light did not at first dawn upon the nature of the struggle; it was not plain to all, at the time when the war was waged, that the Union was a sacred thing, that the struggle in the North and the South was a struggle for the life of the Union.

The Managers of the THIRTIETH NATIONAL ANTI-SLAVERY SUBSCRIPTION ANNIVERSARY...

The exercises were interspersed with musical and the singing of the freedom. It is estimated that the nearly five thousand...

Our Washington Correspondence.

Mr. Eliot, Chairman of the Select Committee on Emancipation, has drawn up an important bill...

Mr. Powell writes from Peterboro, Jan. 10: 'I have had two excellent meetings here today (Sunday)...

The following is the Form of Petition adopted in compliance with the vote of the late Thirtieth Anniversary Meeting at Philadelphia...

Mr. Lincoln is in the habit of writing letters, for themselves and others. Only one has been seen...

Mr. Lincoln is in the habit of writing letters, for themselves and others. Only one has been seen...

Mr. Lincoln is in the habit of writing letters, for themselves and others. Only one has been seen...

Mr. Lincoln is in the habit of writing letters, for themselves and others. Only one has been seen...

Mr. Lincoln is in the habit of writing letters, for themselves and others. Only one has been seen...

take, preachers and preachers go to the wall...

National Anti-Slavery Standard.

WITHOUT CONCEALMENT—WITHOUT COMPROMISE.

NEW YORK, SATURDAY, JANUARY 16, 1864.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE MASSACHUSETTS ANTI-SLAVERY SOCIETY.

The THIRTY-FIRST ANNUAL MEETING of the Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society will be held in Boston at the TRINITY TEMPLE, on Thursday, Jan. 28th, (day and evening)...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

take, preachers and preachers go to the wall. The President is a man of high character...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

take, preachers and preachers go to the wall. The President is a man of high character...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

take, preachers and preachers go to the wall. The President is a man of high character...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

take, preachers and preachers go to the wall. The President is a man of high character...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

CONSISTENCY.

The Abolitionists have never been careful as to their character for consistency. That is to say, in the sense of constantly adhering to any principle...

PERSONAL.

Mr. F. P. wishes to hear from the Editor of this paper respecting the subject of his communication. Let him send his name and address.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Francis D. Gage lectured in Albany last Sunday evening. Tweddle Hall was crowded to overflowing, and many went away unable to get seats.

PERSONAL.

At the last annual meeting of the Century Club in this city, George Bancroft was elected President by a large majority over Gullian G. Verplanck.

PERSONAL.

The Union State Convention of New Hampshire has nominated Gov. Gilman for re-election to the office of President of the State.

PERSONAL.

Frederick Douglass delivered a powerful and eloquent lecture on "The Mission of War," before the Women's Loyal League, at the Cooper Institute, on Wednesday evening.

PERSONAL.

Says the Washington correspondent of the Express, "There is every reason to fear that the great and good man (Chief Justice Taney) will never again resume his seat on the Bench."

PERSONAL.

On Monday last the U. S. House of Representatives passed a resolution granting the title of their Hall to Anna E. Dickinson, for the delivery of an address to increase the funds of the Freedmen's Association.

PERSONAL.

Aaron M. Powell writes from Peterboro, Jan. 10: 'I have had two excellent meetings here today (Sunday)...

PERSONAL.

The following is the Form of Petition adopted in compliance with the vote of the late Thirtieth Anniversary Meeting at Philadelphia...

