STATES CASE AGAINST ACT

J. J. SHALLCROSS BEFORE INSURANCE COMMISSION

Charges Companies With Maintaining High Rates on Unscientific and Arbitrary Basis

Before the insurance commission this morning J. J. Shallcross continued his argument against the projected insurance act. He contended that, from the evidence heard by the commission, there was proof of conspiracy among the Canadian fire insurance companies to keep rates at the highest figure.

Dealing first with municipal taxes, Mr. Shallcross recalled the testimony of an agent of a London fire insurance company to the effect that the company wished that the tax were $600 instead of $300. The higher the tax was made the more it limited competition.

Another witness in evidence had said that the tax was equal to ten per cent of the premiums taken by small companies. These were two opposite positions, but very good ones, why no one's taxes should be placed on a company.

There was a tax of $10 in Victoria on every business man, and he could not see why the insurance companies should be taxed so much. This tax was removed by the company from the policy-holders in the way of increased premiums.

Chairman Lennie asked if the witness could offer any suggestion as to how this tax could be done away with or a better system instituted.

Mr. Shallcross said that a member of the Victoria city council had made a suggestion that the taxation of fire insurance companies should be graded.

The chairman said that this did not strike him as a satisfactory method.

Witness then dealt with the statutory conditions as they affected the companies. He contended that they were in favor of the companies and unfavorable to the policy-holders.

The clause regarding exclusives had been modified by the companies until it no longer afforded proper protection to the insured. The provision regarding the payment of costs in cases brought against companies had been changed so that the costs might now be divided.

He claimed that this would discourage suits being brought by dissatisfied policy-holders.

Witness then referred to evidence which had been given by W. A. Lawson regarding "draconian competition."

He contended that the evidence heard by the commission had not shown that the Canadian companies were being "cut out of business" by foreign competition.

The percentage of foreign Canadian insurance companies had nearly doubled in the last five years.

Taking up another point in evidence, in which it was maintained that insurance business should be a home industry, Mr. Shallcross urged that fire insurance in Canada was not a home industry and that it was not right that it should be.

The percentage of foreign fire insurance companies doing business in Canada was 90 against 10 per cent Canadian. The foreign companies were doing 88 per cent of the business in the Dominion. In the last 40 years, $204,000,000 had been paid to these foreign companies in premiums against $58,000,000 to home companies.

Witness said that the legislation should not be a home industry but should be spread all over the world, so that if there was a conflagration in British Columbia it would not be necessary for the capital of the province to bear both the fire loss and the insurance loss.

BLOT POSTPONES FIGHT FOR WEEK

PROMOTER WILL CARRY CASE TO COURTS

Police Threatened to Arrest Langford and Kaufman if They Entered Ring

(Times Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., June 18.—Declaring that strong intimations from the authorities had caused him to believe that the Kaufman-Langford fight would not be permitted to be held in San Francisco, Louis Blot, the promoter, issued a statement to-day announcing a postponement of the fight for one week.

In the meantime Blot will endeavor to test the right of the authorities to prevent the contest by appealing to the courts. He refused to say at this time just what legal action he would take.

Blot stated that it was his desire to obey the law in all respects. The statement followed.

"After a number of conferences between the officers of the Metropolitan Club and the attorneys for the said club, the club has determined to postpone the boxing exhibition between Kaufman and Langford, which boxing exhibition was scheduled to take place this afternoon."

"Mr. Louis Blot, representing the Metropolitan Club, and Messrs. Cleveland Dam and George Appel, his attorneys, were informed last night by Attorney-General Lusk that he had been instructed by Governor Gillett to prevent the boxing exhibition between Kaufman and Langford if the Metropolitan Club should attempt to stage the same."

"The chief of police has also advised Mr. Blot that he would not permit the boxing exhibition to take place, and that should the boxers enter the ring he would immediately arrest them."

"It is the desire of Mr. Blot to obey the law in all respects, and while he feels that the view of Governor Gillett is erroneous, he cannot as a law-abiding citizen defy the mandate of the governor and the chief of police."

"Mr. Blot does not wish to be a party to an act that would cause the governor to order the militia into San Francisco at this time, and further desires to protect the good name of his city from any such act on the part of the governor."

"Mr. Blot also desires to protect those who have purchased tickets for the boxing exhibition, and to those who have purchased tickets the money will be cheerfully refunded at some future day."

"Within the next few days Mr. Blot will test the right of the governor to order troops into San Francisco to prevent a boxing exhibition which is lawful in the state of California."

In view of the foregoing the boxing exhibition between Kaufman and Langford is postponed for one week."

Denounces Gillett. San Francisco, Cal., June 18.—The San Francisco labor council is on record to-day as opposed to the action of Governor Gillett in taking steps to stop prize fighting in California. In resolutions adopted at a meeting last night Gillett's action was denounced.

"Blot announced late to-day that he would put on a card at his arena Monday afternoon to test the power of the authorities to interfere with a boxing contest which in all respects will be similar to the Kaufman-Langford fight as planned. Blot said that he would undergo arrest and prosecution to being about a definite decision in the matter, and that every effort would be made to get a quick decision."

ALLEGED COMBINE AMONG GROCERS. Seattle Jobbers Have Instituted Action for $50,000, Charging Unlawful Conspiracy.

(Times Leased Wire.) Seattle, Wash., June 18.—Jobat and Hibler, and J. R. Oliver, jobbers, have filed suit against a so-called grocers' combine in Seattle for $50,000. The defendants are the Pacific Coast Condensed Milk Company, National Grocery Company, Sylvester Brothers Company, West Coast Grocery Company, and Fischer Brothers.

The suit charges that the defendants have unlawfully combined to refuse to sell a certain brand of condensed milk to any merchant who will not agree to maintain the minimum price set by the combine. It further alleges an unlawful conspiracy to intimidate other dealers to maintain their schedule of prices by threats that if any dealer should fail to do so, he would be boycotted and blacklisted.

Declares Japanese Regard Conflict With the United States as Inevitable

(Times Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., June 18.—"Japan expects to have a war with the United States and is preparing for it," said Rev. H. C. Morrison, pastor of the Methodist church at Louisville, Ky., who is here to-day after an extended trip to the Orient.

"Japan is watching the United States narrowly," said Rev. Mr. Morrison. "She has spies in the Philippines to keep the Japanese government well informed about the American fortifications and improvements. There is an evident intention of Japan proper to prepare for war with the United States. Japan is not yet ready to fight with any power, but she is considering war with the United States as inevitable. The completion of the Panama canal will cause America to become aggressive, think the Japanese."

WILL BUILD TO COWICHAN LAKE

C. P. R. LINE FROM LAKE TO TIDEWATER

Lumber Company Will Erect a $750,000 Mill at or Near Crofton

After a final meeting between R. Marpole, vice-president of the E. & N. railroad, and W. E. Marsh, representing the American Finance and Securities Company, yesterday afternoon the former announced that his company will build a branch from Duncan to Cowichan Lake to connect the big $750,000 lumber mill, which the American concern is to build in the vicinity of Crofton on tide-water, with its limits on the lake.

"We hope to get started in the spring," said Mr. Marsh to-day. "Of course I can't say, definitely, that we will be ready then. That railway can't be constructed in a month. But we mean business. The company I represent is a solid, conservative, business institution. We are not investing nearly two millions without expecting to get a fair return and the sooner a start is made the better from our standpoint."

Mr. Marsh adds that the location of the mill is still undecided. Once a conclusion was reached and the property secured there would be no further hesitancy. The work would begin and he hurried from its inception. It was estimated that there was enough Douglas Fir in the company's limits to keep an outfit, large as would be that installed, cutting for from forty to fifty years. The project would give permanent employment to hundreds of men and, in conjunction with the railway construction that was contingent upon it, meant much to the island.

VICTORIA DOGS SWEEP AWARDS

COWICHAN SPRING SHOW GREAT SUCCESS

Many Victoria Exhibits Entered—Dogs Very Numerous—Large Attendance at Duncan

(Special to the Times.) Duncan, B. C., June 18.—The Cowichan Dog, Cat, Poultry and Flower Show opened to the general public to-day, it being probably the greatest event of the kind ever held in this town. There is a fine display in all lines and Victoria is well represented.

In the dog show no less than forty Victoria dogs are entered, and there are also a dozen from Seattle and a score from Vancouver.

The idea of having a spring show at Duncan is new, but it was an exceedingly happy idea and the result has fully justified the venture.

Victoria exhibitors were successful all along the benches, and especially in the cocker spaniels, where Mrs. Creighton's Jesmond kennels won everything. There was a good representation of outside dogs, but cats were few, while flowers were exhibited in profusion. The list of Victoria successes is as follows:

English setters—J. S. Hickford's champion Mailway Major, and champion Arbutus Swallow. Gordon setters—T. Smith's champion Pomper Beaver; J. Hemsworth's Deak. Irish water spaniel—J. Richmond's Paddy. English retriever—J. Hammond's entry.

Cocker spaniels—Mrs. Creighton's Jesmond kennels won everything. Irish terrier—J. Thompson's entry. Scotch terriers—D. B. McLaren won two firsts. R. Hampton won five prizes with the Trewanta kennels. Collies—Charles McIntosh's entry. Pointers—E. Hill's Queenie. Fox terriers—F. Murist, Romania kennels, several winners.

Wire hair terriers—R. Lage's M'Wandle Champ. The show is in the hands of J. S. Hickford, of Victoria, and the arrangements are perfect. The judges are: A. H. Lauder, setters and pointers; W. W. Coates, Vancouver, terriers; R. Large, Victoria, collies and spaniels.

ROOSEVELT IS WELCOMED HOME

ACCORDED ROYAL RECEPTION IN NEW YORK

Former President Ready to Assist in Solving Problems Which Confront Country

(Times Leased Wire.) New York, June 18.—The steamship Kaiserin Auguste Victoria, bearing Col. Roosevelt, reached Ambrose channel at 7:05 a. m., to-day, and anchored off quarantine at 7:45.

As the huge liner passed Ambrose light the warships in the lower bay began to fire the first presidential salute of 21 guns ever accorded a private citizen of the United States.

When the South Carolina began saluting Roosevelt clapped his hands for joy and cried: "Look at them! Aren't they wonderful and beautiful. Can you blame me for wanting that kind of a navy? This is worth coming all the way from Khartoum to see. This is great and worth while."

"Ah, I'm glad to be home." Roosevelt boarded a revenue cutter at 8:20 o'clock and was taken ashore.

Roosevelt's trip from the steamship to the Battery was accompanied by a continual uproar from river craft and factories. When he stepped out into the open in Battery park, the thousands who had massed in lower Manhattan to bid him welcome set up a great shout and continued cheering for many minutes.

The former president was officially welcomed home by Mayor Gaynor. Replying to Gaynor's speech, Roosevelt said: "I wish to thank you and your committee, and through them the American people for their greetings. I need not say that I am deeply moved. No man could receive such a greeting and not feel very proud and very humble."

"I have been away a year and a quarter. I have thoroughly enjoyed myself and now I am back in my own country, among the people I love, and am ready and eager to do my part in helping to solve the problems that must be solved if the greatest of democratic republics is to see its destinies rise to the highest level of hopes and opportunities. This is the duty of every citizen, and particularly my duty."

"Any man ever honored by the presidency is forever rendered the people's debtor and bound throughout life to remember this as a prime obligation, so that the people may never regret that they once had placed him at their head."

Press Comments. New York, June 18.—The New York World to-day in an editorial says that "the possible efforts to 'deify' Roosevelt are not from political prejudice, but from reaction."

The writer adds: "What every thoughtful American has reason to be concerned about are not the plans and purposes of Roosevelt, but the average citizen's attitude toward Democratic institutions as revealed by his attitude toward Roosevelt."

The New York American says: "Coincidents will never cease. The day, June 18th, is the date of Waterloo, Napoleon's retreat from Africa, Europe and Ethia."

GRAND TRUNK EARNINGS. Montreal, June 20.—Grand Trunk earnings for the second week in June increased $85,773 over the same week last year.

FIRE ON BOARD HAWAIIAN LINER. Thousand Gallons of Chemicals Poured Into Hold in Effort to Extinguish Flames.

(Times Leased Wire.) San Diego, Cal., June 18.—Fire which broke out last night in the hold of the American-Hawaiian steamer Alaskan at the Santa Fe wharf in this harbor was still smoldering to-day and all hatchways are kept fast to prevent a fresh outbreak of the flames.

All through the night the fire department fought the blaze with chemicals, and to-day without a minute's rest, the men were still at work.

The hold has been filled with more than a thousand gallons of chemicals which it is believed eventually will quench the fire if the hold is kept airtight.

PRESENTS THE BRITISH CASE

SIR ROBERT FINLAY CONCLUDES ARGUMENT

Question of Rights of Fishermen on the Coast of Newfoundland

The Hague, June 18.—At the fisheries tribunal yesterday Sir Robert Finlay contended that the United States claim that American fishermen were not amenable to British and colonial fishery regulations on the same ground that French fishermen were not amenable to them. Prior to the treaty of 1804 on the so-called French shore of Newfoundland, counsel said, France had always laid claim to exclusive rights, and for that reason, and in order to avoid trouble with France, Great Britain had abstained from pressing the question of jurisdiction over French fishermen. American fishermen, on the other hand, never claimed such exclusive rights. The treaty of 1818 merely gave them the liberty to fish in common with English fishermen. Sir Robert Finlay subsequently turned to the question as to whether American fishing boats could employ Newfoundlanders or other persons not of American nationality as fishermen. He maintained that they could not, because the treaty of 1818 mentioned the fact that only Americans could be employed. He proceeded to argue that Newfoundland was entitled to forbid Newfoundlanders to serve American fishing boats because fishing rights were granted to American fishermen alone, and because that expression could not be interpreted to mean American capitalists resident in the United States who sent fishing boats manned by foreigners to the coasts of Newfoundland. Only those who actually did fishing were fishermen in the terms of the treaty of 1818. Sir Robert, whose speech occupied eight entire days, concluded yesterday the presentations of the British contentions.

RUSH OF SETTLERS TO CANADIAN WEST

Commissioner of Immigration Estimates That 200,000 Will Come This Year

Calgary, June 18.—Work on the new immigration hall will be commenced almost immediately, the present building being entirely inadequate to provide accommodation for the immigrants rushing into Calgary. This city now appears to be the objective point of the major portion of those immigrating into the west, and in the minds of land-seekers occupies a position similar to that of Winnipeg ten years ago. Bruce Walker, commissioner of immigration, who is now in the city arranging for the construction of the building, states that at least 200,000 immigrants will settle in the Canadian west this year of this number 125,000 will come from the States and 75,000 from Europe.

BOMB OUTRAGE

Russian Gendarme Instantly Killed and Five Injured.

Warsaw, Russia, June 18.—A bomb was exploded with fatal results in a squad of gendarmes at the Gorkisk station, on the Vienna railroad thirty miles from here yesterday.

One of the gendarmes was killed outright, four received mortal wounds and their chief was slightly injured. The bomb thrower was arrested. An attempt is made by the authorities to connect yesterday's violence with that at Radom, when Colonel Wonsiatki, of the gendarmes, was shot and killed by a polkeman. On that occasion the assassin and an accomplice committed suicide on the spot.

PERU AND ECUADOR.

Lima, Peru, June 18.—It was rumored yesterday that the attempted mediation between Peru and Ecuador had failed owing to the conditions imposed by Ecuador as a basis for the peace negotiations. Both countries began several days ago the withdrawal from the frontiers of the troops which had been massed when the outbreak of hostilities was believed to be imminent. The withdrawal was in accordance with the insistence of the mediating powers when the United States, Brazil and Argentina undertook to act jointly between the two republics which, it seemed obvious, could be otherwise settled only by war. Nevertheless vague reports that Ecuador had qualified its consent to mediation have been circulated here until now they appear to be gaining credence.

NEW MILL TO BE ERRECTED. Allergrove, June 18.—It is understood that the Dominion Shingle Company will at once replace the shingle mill destroyed last Monday by fire. The company has a large cut of bolts as well as large timber limits, which they are under agreement to clear within a certain period. The Great Northern Railway Company are completing a spur to the mill site, and this will be of great assistance in placing material on the ground for a new mill.

WIRELESS STOCKHOLDERS SEEK INFORMATION

Flock to Office of Manitoba Manager, Who is Unable to Explain

Winnipeg, June 18.—Wireless stockholders made yesterday a busy day for R. A. Grant, Manitoba manager of the United Wireless Telegraph Co. All through the morning hours investors in the stock of this company thronged the well-furnished Winnipeg offices of the company, seeking information as to the status of affairs.

Manager Grant could do nothing but inform his callers that he was as much in the dark as any of his visitors as to the real situation. Mr. Grant, who says he is a heavy investor in the stock of the concern, has not received a single line of information from the head offices of the company in New York in reply to his repeated telegrams of inquiry as to the conditions and method of dealing with stockholders in view of the crisis in the United States affairs. But Mr. Grant did hear from C. C. Wilson, of the company's New York office, via Seattle. Mr. Grant explained that the telegram from Wilson's signature was probably sent to Seattle and duplicated there by Mr. Parker, the Seattle manager, to sub-agencies in Canada, of which Winnipeg is one. Wilson's telegram was to the effect that the United would come out on top eventually, but ventured no real explanation for the action of the American government's officials.

The local manager said that he would take no chances. "I am as deep in this matter, financially, as anyone in Manitoba. I lost money if any of the investors I have secured lose. I am standing pat on my instructions to my sub-agents in Manitoba to take no more subscriptions until this thing clears up.

"Every letter in every file in this office is open to callers who have invested in stock in the United," he said. "I don't wish to appear as having swindled or consented knowingly to the swindle of anyone in my district who has bought any of this stock."

"COMMERCE COURT" OF UNITED STATES

Several Men Prominent in Anti-Trust Suits Likely to Be Appointed

Washington, D. C., June 18.—That a number of government "trust busters" are likely to get places on the new "commerce court" is rumored here. The following men are mentioned as eligibles who are likely to be considered by the president when appointments are made:

Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the interstate commerce commission; Wade H. Ellis, of Ohio, who has played a prominent part in the government's anti-trust suits; James N. Harlan, of Illinois; William P. Hepburn, of Iowa; Frank N. Kellogg, of Minnesota, known as the "government trust buster," who had charge of the case to dissolve the Standard Oil Company, and C. A. Severance, of Minnesota.

It is regarded as practically certain that Knapp will be chief justice of the new court and that Ellis or Harlan will be appointed. One southern Democrat and one Pacific coast man, it is expected, will be named. There will be five judges. Their salaries will be $8,500 a year and $10 daily expenses when travelling.

ALLEGED VIOLATION OF ANTI-TRUST LAW

Six Men, Including James A. Patten, the Cotton King, Indicted by Grand Jury

New York, June 18.—The federal grand jury yesterday afternoon returned indictments against James A. Patten, of Chicago, the cotton king; Frank B. Hayne, William P. Brown, Eugene B. Seales and Morris H. Rothschild, charging them with violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. A sixth man was indicted, but the indictment was placed on the secret file and the court withheld his name. A warrant has been issued for him, and the federal officers are seeking him. The men arrested were arraigned before Judge Hough in the United States Circuit court. Through their attorneys they entered pleas of not guilty. The court ordered bail at $5,000 in each case and paroled the defendants in custody of their counsel for three days.

THAT REGISTRY OFFICE ORDER.

The arbitrary decree of the Attorney-General prohibiting "irresponsible persons" from having direct access to records in the registry offices is defended upon the ground that the security of important public documents must be guaranteed. In other words, the class of people who hitherto have had the right of the privilege of searching titles are not worthy of the confidence of Mr. Bowser.

HOW A FAVORABLE IMPRESSION MAY BE CREATED.

"Would it not be just as well to adopt a course in these matters that would not be likely to create an impression unfavorable to Victoria?" Thus the Colonist in reply to a reminder from the Times that Premier McBride gave a distinct pledge, many times repeated, that if his government were returned to power a line of railway would be constructed upon Vancouver Island from Victoria to Barkley Sound and that rail connection would be established between the island and the mainland by means of a first-class car ferry capable of transporting passenger, mail and express coaches.

favorable to Victoria." If an unfavorable impression should be created the responsibility will rest upon his shoulders.

WHAT THEY ARE GOING TO DO TO ROOSEVELT.

The great man has landed. The sea has given him up, refreshed, invigorated and inspired, to go forth to greater conquests, triumphs and achievements. The people are in a tumult. The trusts and combinations perspire and tremble, for are they not sore afraid? All the rest of the world is "Delighted." But we note with regret that the Colonel even in the day of his greatest glory shares the common lot, although he is too magnificent to bend his neck to the common yoke or task. He has enemies who would do him a mischief if they could. Therefore have they set a trap for his feet, but a trap worthy of the times and the man. They hope to take advantage of his one weakness, which is "that whatever man dares he can do." He has announced his intention of essaying a flight in an airship at the very first opportunity. And thereby hangs a conspiracy. The plot is that once the Colonel goes up he shall never come down. He is to play the part of a modern Flying Dutchman in a new element that has only been partly conquered. The traitors propose should their stratagems and treasons win, that he shall fly on a biplane (of course there is no monoplane powerful enough to bear him aloft) through the interstellar spaces to all eternity. This is how the dastardly end is to be consummated. The fact is well known that the atmospheric envelope of the earth is only so many miles in thickness or in depth. The extent of the curtain in which we live and move and have our being is not definitely known, but it is capable of being pierced in a short time by a flying machine traveling at the rate of sixty or seventy miles an hour. Scientists who know tell us that once a moving object projects itself from the terrestrial atmosphere into the celestial ether beyond all friction ceases, and that the object projected will maintain its original momentum forever and forever. So the cabal fancies it sees its opportunity. When the Colonel takes to flight the rudder of his machine is to be fixed and immovable, insuring an elevation of not less than seventy-five degrees. The plane will carry him into realms unknown. He will, like his neighbors the comets, have no fixed orbit. He will continue to be a terror to the people of all the earth as he flashes at long intervals within the plane of the orbit of the sphere in which we dwell. The problem of what to do with Roosevelt has been solved. Did any of our readers ever hear of such base treasons, stratagems, and plots, possible of achievement only in this twentieth century of progress?

The London press seems to approve of the Canadian spirit as revealed in the breezy optimism of Earl Grey. There are exceptions, of course, but most of the Britons who settle in this country soon become breezy optimists. This is the land of opportunity—for those who have not had all courage and determination squeezed out of them by previous depressing circumstances.

Governor Gillett has put his foot down hard, but the probability is that the majority of the people of San Francisco will condemn him for putting a veto on one of the chief enterprises and attractions to a certain element of the state. The critics of the action of the governor will point out what a large amount of good money will be put in circulation in Nevada or in Utah which might just as well have been the portion of the people of California. The sun of the professional prize-fighter is setting.

Mr. R. L. Borden is early in the field in the role of a political prophet. He says the Conservatives will surely win in the next election—if they work hard. We remember other predictions of the Tory leader, but they were delivered on the very eve of elections, and they prophesied victory without any qualifications. There is no doubt that some Conservatives will work hard, but their hard work will be directed first against Mr. Borden as leader of the party. Does any one who knows Mr. Foster believe that he will not resent the elevation of ex-Judge Doherty to the position of first lieutenant of Mr. Borden—or that he will not give expression to his resentment in acts of hostility?

The fate of the United Wireless was not unexpected by those who had studied the organization, its method of expansion, and especially its possibilities as a revenue-producer. The company was enormously over-capitalized, while the earning power of the business was insufficient in comparison with the capitalization. Wireless telegraphy is invaluable as a means of communication between ships at sea and ships and land, but as a competitor with the old, reliable telegraph lines it has not yet established its claims. That it may do so, however, as improvements are made, is probable, but until it is able to compete in efficiency of service and cost of transmission of messages, it is criminal to deceive people with false promises of returns by selling shares at many times their actual value. The on many Canadian steamers, but has no licensed stations on land in this country. Nevertheless a very large amount of stock in the company has been sold to Canadian investors.

MAUDE ADAMS IN A BARRIE COMEDY

Overflowing House Was Delighted by Actress and Play at the Victoria

Charm is the impalpable quality, the fancied lack of which is bewailed by Maggie Wiley, the charming Scotch girl who is the central character in Barrie's "What Every Woman Knows." There is no lack of charm about Miss Maude Adams, the estimable and talented actress who last evening was seen at the Victoria theatre in the character which has been so far her greatest success in a series of artistic triumphs. Victorian theatre-goers joined with those of a whole continent in paying tribute to Miss Adams' ability. Within the last six months she has made almost a triumphal tour. Before the curtain rose on a return engagement in New York the house had been sold out for the three weeks she was billed. In Boston people remained ten hours in line for the box-office to open. In Chicago the first week was sold out on mail orders before the advance sale opened. In Los Angeles and San Francisco the engagements were equally successful. In Victoria the house was sold out before noon on Wednesday. This is a demonstration of public appreciation which might well turn anyone's head, but the object of it is too true an artist to be so affected.

Miss Adams may be said to have come to the plenitude of her powers and with it she has come to greater robustness of body. With all her frailty, she ever had a nervous activity of will and brightness of spirit, which carried her through the physical exertions of her roles. These she still possesses, and in greater degree, but with them she now has a strength which is reflected in a new alertness of mind and eagerness of spirit. This is seen in her Maggie Wiley, which is undoubtedly the most finished piece of work she has yet done.

The supporting company is worthy of the star. Maggie's three pawky brothers: John Shand, whom she marries and makes a great man; Lady Sybil, with whom John falls in love after his marriage; Mr. Venables, a member of the cabinet into which John's entry is foreboded; Comtesse de la Briere, who does so much to assist the young wife to a happy and quite logical ending of the play—all were in most capable hands. The realism of art is seen, among other things, in the Scotch burr which Miss Adams adds to the three brothers—not quite so well John Shand—have attained. In the stronger scenes, and when Maggie gets excited, Miss Adams' accent becomes more pronounced, so that though it is her work. The play is characteristic of Barrie, in whose dramatic work there has always been found, in the main, the charm which is a theme of the comedy. The setting last night was a heavy one, showing attention to detail in every one of the four acts, and the perfection of stage management shown in the rapid and noiseless setting-up between acts earns a word of commendation for W. H. Gilmore.

THE MONTREAL DISASTER.

Montreal, June 18.—Four more bodies are still buried in the debris of the Herald building. Of the twenty-eight bodies taken out all have been identified and claimed with one exception, that of a man.

Several tons of fish were brought into the city from the Findlay, Durham & Brodie traps last evening.

At a special meeting of the school board yesterday afternoon it was decided that no Oriental labor would be allowed on any work on the public schools. The trustees decided on this after considering the case of Moss street school, where Chinese had been employed by the contractor owing to the omission of a white labor clause from the architect's specifications.

James White, a night-watchman, was knocked down and assaulted this morning about 1 o'clock in the alleyway from Yates street to the rear of the Poodle Dog hotel. The person who attacked him, secured White's watch and his special constable's badge. The robber escaped to Government street and was no where in sight by the time White summoned the police. White was about to see that the rear door of Tomie & Stewart's store, was secure when the thug fell upon him without warning and committed the robbery and assault, and maltreated his victim. The police so far have no clue to the identity of the thief.

The Victoria Gynandrotion Society held its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening in the Sir William Wallace hall, there being a good attendance. At the meeting Tuesday last about 45 splendid views of Wales were shown by lantern. A. Petch, was lecturer and Mr. Court manipulated the lantern, kindly lent by Mr. Ritchie. TWO-ROOMED SCHOOL FOR CADBORO BAY

Old School to Be Closed Next Week—School on Foul Bay Road Sold

The department of education is making arrangements to erect a two-roomed school building on Fingert road for the use of the people of South Saanich. This will replace the old Cadboro Bay school which is in the Oak Bay municipality on one corner of the Uplands farm, adjoining the Saanich district. The Cadboro Bay school, it is understood, will be closed for good at the end of next week, it being expected that the new building will be ready very soon after the beginning of the new term. A site has already been chosen and the work will proceed very soon.

The old Oak Bay school site with the old building on Foul Bay road, has been sold to J. J. Shalcross. This site is an acre in extent and is a fine location for a dwelling. It adjoins Mr. Shalcross' property on which his house stands. The price was $2,500.

There will be a meeting of the Oak Bay council on Monday night next, at which Councilor McGregor will preside in the absence of Teeve Henderson, who is out of town on departmental business. At this meeting the by-law to compel the destruction of noxious insects and the waterworks loan by-laws will be considered.

Since the last public meeting several special meetings of the council have been held, reports of which will probably be read on Monday.

RIVALRY BETWEEN TWO FLYERS' CREWS

Men of the Charlotte and Victoria Carrying on Friendly Contest of Skill

Great rivalry is now existing between the crews of the two C. P. R. flyers, the Princess Charlotte and Princess Victoria, in connection with the record between this port and Seattle. At present the former steamer flies the blue ribbon and carries the golden cock at her masthead, having cut down the record established by the Princess Victoria several months back by a minute and a half. The time between Brochle ledge, where the full speed bell is rung, and Four-Mile rock, where the slow bell is sounded, is 2 hours 57 1/2 minutes. All that the crew of the older Princess are waiting for is a good tide and a wind. When these are favorable the engines will be opened out, the forced draught turned on and the firemen set to work shovelling the coal into her furnaces as fast as possible to keep her boiler the hotter, and to the highest notch that her boilers will stand, and then the crew expect to bring their steamer into Victoria one of these fine days after having shattered the record so badly that it will look almost impossible for the new steamer to touch it.

On the other hand the crew of the Charlotte state that they will be right there if the Victoria happens to break the record, which they deem an impossibility, to in turn smash it. The waiters on the Princess Victoria induced a trumpeter to join their ranks, and each time this steamer left the port nicely launched into the main deck and blew out a note of defiance. The crew of the Charlotte stood this for some time, but it soon began to tell on the waiters' nerves and they organized. Two days ago a cornet player appeared at the stern of the record holder, and just as the Victoria player got nicely launched into his tune, the blower on the Charlotte started up another jig and the discord was so awful that the player on the Victoria quit. Success has attended the Charlotte's crew so far, and they further state that they are ready to meet any other demands made upon them.

ROSE SHOW WILL BE GREAT SOCIAL EVENT

Promenade Concert During Evening Will Be Interesting

The most important society event next week will be the annual rose show, which is to be held on Friday. This is always the occasion for a large gathering of people, not only city folk, but those from the country round. Both afternoon and evening the affair is open to the public, and so far as can be ascertained, the attendance will be much larger than ever before. Arrangements have been made for a promenade concert in the evening, at which chief vocalists will be Mrs. R. H. Pooley and Mrs. H. C. Briggs. Miss Thain's string orchestra will play selections during the intervals, so that there will be something doing all the time. The arrangements for tea and ice cream are in the hands of Miss Pooley and Mrs. Pooley, who will have a bevy of fair maidens for helpers. Afternoon teas will be served at any time after the opening, and tea and ice cream will also be for sale during the evening.

Reports as to the number of exhibitors are most encouraging. There will be a number of new gardens represented, and in all probability there will be some surprises in store for the old prize winners.

CAPITALS WON.

Shut Maple Leafs Out Last Evening.

The Capital ball team added another victory to its long list of wins this season, when they defeated the Maple Leafs last evening by the score of 13 runs to nil. The game was a one-sided affair and the winners had little difficulty in disposing of the supporters of the Canadian emblem. The Capitals started right off in the first inning, when two men crossed the plate. The battery for the winners was White and Ward, and for the losers Thomas and Jones.

WRIST SLAPPING AT BARRY VS. FERGUSON

Sewing Circle Pugilism Offends Disconsolate Fans at Los Angeles

Los Angeles, Cal., June 18.—Sewing circle pugilism, such as dished out to the fans at the Naud Junction pavilion last night, is not popular in Los Angeles, according to the unanimous verdict of strollers along the local Rialto to-day.

If Governor Gillett had been at the ringside last night to see Jim Barry and Sandy Ferguson slap one another's wrist and stroke one another's brows with loving fingers he might have had another reason for putting to a painless death the fight game in California.

Throughout ten monotonous rounds, Ferguson, whose abdominal rotundity approximated that of a Japanese wrestler, worried along with Barry. Not a blow was struck during the fight that would have embarrassed a cracked Haviland china cup and the fans at the ringside expressed their displeasure as only fight fans can.

In the preliminaries, one fight was stopped in the second round by the police when it was evident that a raw, homely youth, who was making his first professional pugilistic appearance, was likely to be robbed of his facial beauty, and another was ended by the referee in the same round when it was reported that one lad had suffered a severe fracture of the roof of his olfactory apparatus.

If such "light" as the Ferguson-Barry fiasco are to be staged here, the most rabid fans won't howl if the governor upholds his intention to run fighters and fights out of the state. In the same round when it was reported that one lad had suffered a severe fracture of the roof of his olfactory apparatus.

San Francisco, June 18.—Judge Vanstrand of the superior court late this afternoon, denied a petition of Attorney-General Webb for an order restraining the principals from holding the Langford-Kaufman fight to-morrow at San Francisco. In rendering his decision, Judge Van Ostand said:

The application of Attorney-General Webb for a restraining order directed against Louis Blot, preventing him from holding a fight between Langford and Kaufman to-morrow, is hereby denied because sufficient time has not been given the defendant in which to present his case and that a decision at this time would be adjudicated ex parte, and furthermore on the ground that if this exhibition should prove a violation of the peace ordinances of the city and county of San Francisco, there are sufficient police officers and enough power given them to do justice by the law. Therefore, I find it necessary to deny this petition for a restraining order."

Attorney-General Webb, following the refusal of the petition, declined to say definitely what action he would take. A previous statement, however, indicates that he will be present at the ringside and will stop the fight after a few rounds.

The indication is supported by a portion of the complaint, which says that the harm resulting from the fight will have been accomplished if the attorney-general should be left no other resort than to proceed against the fight promoter in the criminal courts. The attorney-general, in explaining the restraining order, declared that unless it were granted criminal action would be necessary.

San Francisco, June 18.—As a result of official opposition to prize fights in California, the railroad companies have been asked to cancel orders for special trains from the east. The Santa Fe has cancelled 24 out of 37 special trains and the Southern Pacific has cancelled 30 out of 33 specials. The only trains left on the Southern Pacific schedule to-day are one from Oklahoma City, one from New York and one from New Orleans. These may be cancelled later to-day.

Empress	1	1
U. C. T.	0	1
Knights of Columbus	0	2

Sixteen to nine scored by Beacon Hill against the Prides last night at Beacon Hill diamond, in the game that was to decide the leadership of the league in the first round, placed the Beacon Hill nine in class one with 1,000 per centage.

The first time the Beacon Hill nine went to bat they secured five runs after three were down. The Prides gave their pitcher, Spence, poor support, and when he had retired the extra man the Prides had five errors as well as five runs marked against them.

Spence struck out two and the third fell at first in the second, but in the third there were six runs scored, from three singles and two base hits. There were three errors and a couple of passes. There were two runs in the fourth. A home run by Gravin and three in the seventh, completed the Beacon Hill tally.

In the first the Prides did not score, but got three in the second, from two passes and two errors. They got two runs in the fifth and one in the seventh. The batteries were: For the winners, Steele and Scott, and for the Prides, Spence and Lovridge.

Superior Court Judge Will Not Interfere With Fight To-day

(Times Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, June 18.—Judge Vanstrand of the superior court late this afternoon, denied a petition of Attorney-General Webb for an order restraining the principals from holding the Langford-Kaufman fight to-morrow at San Francisco. In rendering his decision, Judge Van Ostand said:

SPORT NOTES

No races on Monday. The Victoria Country Club meeting will be continued Tuesday afternoon at 2.30. Monday is off, so race-goers can count up their winnings.

The A. O. F. football team will meet at the A. O. F. hall Monday night to wind up last season's business. The club will discuss the prospect of two clubs playing under its colors next fall.

There were several horrible sensations at the ball game last night. If Wattlelet is going to invite ladies round to see the team do that, it is going to be fierce on the ladies. They certainly did not deserve the exhibition last night.

Peto McQuade, Victoria's short stop, did not get an error against himself last night, and was responsible for two runs and two hits. McDiarmid is Victoria's best base-runner. Two more runs to him last night.

The Duncan dog and cat show is in progress to-day. Several Victoria runners have gone to the inland town to compete in the athletic events. Vaino, Brown, Johnson, Day and Sweeney are among them.

The Garrison Cricket Club yesterday afternoon defeated Nanaimo at Work Point. The score was: Garrison, 129; Nanaimo, 48. The Garrison bowlers were effective.

The scores were low. No batsman of either side got far into the double figures. The bowling and fielding were too good all round. In the second innings, the Nanaimo team shaped better and for eight wickets got 78 runs.

Nanaimo is playing the Victoria club in an all day game to-day. The match started at 10.30 this morning, and will continue all day.

The Albion team left for Seattle last night and is playing a match against the Seattle Cricket Club there to-day.

Ed. Plummer made a good referee for the Beacon Hills and Prides game last night.

Beginning at a point just across the Gorge Bridge, at the terminus of the Gorge car line, the property extends along the Tillicum and Gorge roads, as shown in the cut herewith. It consists almost entirely of rolling meadow land, with three or four beautiful groves of oak and fir. The soil is perfectly adapted to fruit growing and strawberry culture, as a visit to any neighboring garden will attest. The land being cleared and cultivated, there is nothing to prevent the making of gardens immediately.

Blocks 12, 13 and 14 are on a slope crowned by a charming grove. From every part of this slope an extended view of the waters of the Arm is obtained. Sheltered from the wind, convenient to the car line and waterfront, these lots will be the first choice of many buyers on Monday morning at ten o'clock.

PRIZES

In underpriced lots are purposely hung up in every block. The first to the tape gets them. This is no handicap race. If you can not be there yourself, send the boy.

No lots will be sold before Monday morning at ten o'clock. Many buyers have already offered us deposits, but our answer to them all has been: "Be at the office on the property, just across the Gorge bridge, at ten o'clock Monday morning. First-come, first served."

Most of the streets are already graded. Sign posts clearly designate the street lines and the surveyors' stakes will enable anyone to find any desired lot without the slightest difficulty. Plans and price lists may be had on application, and with these in hand it will be an easy matter to pick out some of the attractive bargains PURPOSELY left open in every block.

A pretty wedding was solemnized last night at the residence of Mr. Robert Kerr, "Corral Bank," Eberts street, the contracting parties being Miss Nellie Hutchison and Mr. James G. Furnett, late of Fortfarrshire and Aberdeenshire, respectively. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. Leslie Clay. The bride, who was given away by Mr. Robert Kerr, looked charming in a cream lace gown. Her sister, Miss Emily Hutchison, acted as bridesmaid and wore a costume of white silk, while Mr. John Rose supported the groom. The house was prettily decorated with roses, by the artistic hands of Mrs. Herbert Kent. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a sumptuous supper. Mr. and Mrs. Burnett will take up their residence at their new home, 138 Eberts street.

All members of the congregation of the First Baptist church, Blanchard street, are requested to attend a meeting to be held at the close of the service to-morrow evening for the purpose of considering the proposal for the calling of a pastor. At present the church is without a minister, and a number of the members of the church are anxious that one should be secured.

A new stage, capable of carrying 16 passengers and considerable light freight, has been secured by H. Fisher to run twice a week between Sooke and Victoria, in addition to the service already existing.

DOES KAISER DESIRE PEACE?

RECENT TALK WITH MR. PICHON DISCUSSED

Emperor's Views Not Shared by German People—Trouble in the French Army

Paris, June 18.—The storm of protest raised in Germany by the Kaiser's reported peace-talk with French Foreign Minister Pichon during their stay in London, at the time of King Edward's funeral, is generally accepted by Gallie politicians as confirmation of their worst fears of Teutonic aggression in the not distant future.

M. Pichon has been a good deal criticized for allowing the substance of what the Kaiser said to him in private conversation to leak out, but the truth is that he did it deliberately, as a means of ascertaining whether Wilhelm's views were really representative of his countrymen's. If the Fatherland's answer proved affirmative no harm would have been done by the French foreign minister's intentional indiscretion. If negative, it made no particular difference to M. Pichon how much of an uproar he created in Germany.

Negative was what the response was. And at the Quai d'Orsay it is interpreted as meaning that Germany proposes to itself to no peace-agreements as long as there is anything loose in the world which it thinks it might want but could not get without a fight.

Assuming this conclusion to be the correct one, France is certainly the country likeliest to have trouble.

Whether the Kaiser meant what he said to M. Pichon is not altogether clear. Some good judges of international affairs think he was merely chatting affably without any very deep thought as to what he said. Others take the view that he was bubbling with enthusiasm from previous world-peace conversations with Col. Roosevelt and spoke sincerely to M. Pichon but that it was too much to expect that his enthusiasm would last. Finally, there are supporters of the view that he had really carefully thought out a comprehensive peace policy to which he intended and perhaps still intends to stick.

The point is not very material, however, for it is evident that Germany is set on a big expansion programme which it proposes to carry through whether the Kaiser likes it or not. Naturally, with strained Franco-German relations looming up ahead, as a distinct possibility, the government is doing a good deal of thinking about its military establishment. The French army is in pretty bad shape. Discipline among the troops is poor. There has been an immense amount of crookedness in the supply department. Cases of disloyalty among the wearers of the Republic's uniform are cropping up with alarming frequency. Pretty much the whole army, in fact, is seriously disorganized.

Trouble with the reservists during the recent manoeuvres in the Loire country was only one little symptom.

It was, as a matter of fact, an unfortunate time for general encampments. There had been heavy rains which the ground, still saturated from last winter's floods, failed to carry off rapidly, so that the encampment fields were soggy and malarial. There was a great deal of sickness among the men, who insisted, by thousands, on being transferred to healthier places. Inasmuch as the same conditions prevailed throughout nearly the entire country, the government had no healthier places to transfer them to. Accordingly, big batches of troops mutinied. Instead of only one mutiny—the one near Nimes, of which news was sent all over the world—there were dozens. The Nimes outbreak was simply the first one and the government, failing to realize the seriousness of the situation, made no attempt to prevent it from becoming known. Later, when others developed, the authorities were more widely awake and refused to transmit accounts of them over the government-telegraph wires.

In view of this policy of suppression it is hard to say exactly how many men were involved. In the various mutinies, but altogether the number must run well up into the thousands. Of course this does not include an enormously larger number who were dissatisfied but did not overtly resist their officers' authority.

It was impossible to punish several thousand mutineers very severely, so the authorities contented themselves with imposing an extra drill, making the encampment regulations more stringent than usual, extending the period of the manoeuvres in some instances and locking up a few ringleaders who are yet to be court-martialed and may get pretty stiff terms of imprisonment.

What is more serious, however, than the mutinies themselves, is the fact that the reservists are coming to their homes again furiously angry and very generally disaffected towards the government.

In short, instead of possessing a highly efficient army, as in view of its system of universal military training it ought to have, France can call out only a small number of genuinely serviceable regiments as a nucleus for a theoretically formidable but actually only half-educated and thoroughly undisciplined so-called soldiery.

What Other People Think

MACHINISTS' STRIKE.

To the Editor: With regard to the strike at present existing among the machinists of Victoria, we would ask to lay the true facts of the case before the public.

There is no disputing the fact that eight hours constitutes the ideal working day, and in addition to this fact it must be remembered that there are a great many machinists out of employment throughout the country and only by shortening the work-day—thus requiring more men to do the same amount of work—can work be secured for the unemployed. May we here state as denying the position of the machinists of this city, that as there is a perfect organization of the machinists on the Pacific coast extending from Los Angeles to Victoria, the demand made by the organization for an eight hour day and a wage at the rate of forty-five cents per hour, which represents $3.60 per day, was considered extremely moderate in view of the general increased cost of living and the largely augmented wages paid in all other trades. San Francisco promptly complied with the demand, and as that city employs at least 50 per cent of the machinists on the coast, we believe the prospects for complete success are very bright.

In Victoria the proposed agreement was presented to the different employers and an answer requested. In event of the employers not accepting the proposed agreement, the machinists expressed themselves as willing to discuss any part with the employers. An answer was received refusing to concede anything, the committee of machinists attempting to interview the management being refused an audience. No course remained but to strike.

With regard to the number of men on strike in this place, there appeared in the Colonist of 17th inst., a statement that to say the least, was misleading. There are sixty men on strike at present in Victoria. Of these there are 19 out at the British Columbia Marine Railway; 22 out at Victoria Machinery Depot; four out at the Marine Iron Works; six out at Hamway's; five out at Hater's and two at Hutchison Bros. the rest being out of work at the time of striking. There are only about three men working in the shops, besides the various foremen. There is one shop in the city working under

Double cooking top; no "stooping" necessary while cooking or baking
Model H is a new 1910 style of gas range. It will soon achieve great popularity. With Model H you can cook a meal with the greatest ease and convenience. You will never be crowded for room. The cooking top is double size—equal to eight burners and a simmering burner. And just note the convenient location of the baking and broiler ovens. A Great Musician may master one instrument—piano, violin, flute or cornet—and much of the music composed for that instrument. But is the universal musician. Because it masters not only one instrument but all instruments. And it masters these instruments, not simply individually but collectively—it masters the entire band, the whole orchestra, the singing voice of the Grand Opera stars and the speaking voice of the monologist.

The Edison Phonograph brings to your home all of the best music of every character. It plays both Standard and Amberol Records—and Amberol Records play twice as long as Edison Standard Records, which means that on Amberol Records you get the many beautiful selections that are too long to be played on ordinary records.

Can you afford to buy an instrument that offers you less than the Edison?

There are Edison dealers everywhere. Go to the nearest and hear the Edison Phonograph play both Edison Standard and Edison Amberol Records. Get complete catalogues from your dealer or from us.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON.

I met a young person, yesterday evening I had tried half an hour before to get by telephone. "Where were you and your mother between seven and eight last night?" I demanded. "At home," she said. "No, let me see. Oh, yes, we went over to the Locmisse to hear their new phonograph, and had to stay an hour to hear all the records. Why?" "Well, I tried and tried and tried to get you by telephone, Marion, and I were going to the theatre, but Marion was called on a case at the last minute, and I thought you'd like to go." "Like to go," she said, solemnly. "Ruth, you ought to be given a week in solitary confinement on bread and water for telling me that. Don't you know I haven't been to the theatre for months, and that I was bored to extinction last night, and that I hate phonographs, anyway, and that I'll spend the rest of the day thinking if I'd only stayed at home instead of going over to hear that wretched thing I'd have had such a good time. Positively you are cruel!"

I own the soft impeachment. I certainly ought to have known better, for haven't I like the rest of the world, suffered agonies of regret over the might-have-been opportunities and pleasures that the people who just missed being able to bestow them upon me, insisted upon telling me about?

Indeed I ought to have been especially thoughtful about that, detail, for even now I am tormented with useless but persistent regrets over a beautiful bargain in a horse that would have been just that spirited, but obedient, able-to-go-a-mile-in-two-forty-and-yet-gentle-as-a-lamb mirage of a horse that I've been dreaming of and saving for many years.

"All but had a chance to pick him up for you, Miss Cameron. The man that owned him had to go away, and sell him at an auction. If I'd been half an hour sooner I'd have clinched him for you."

Of course I'm awfully grateful for my friend's kindness in thinking of me. But I do wish he hadn't told me about it, for I suppose the ghost of that lost opportunity will haunt me for life.

FOR THE HOUSEKEEPER

In those days when the price of meat is soaring and the price of eggs is coming down, it is well to include as many egg recipes in the family cook-book as possible.

The chief cause of error in the cooking of eggs comes from ignorance of the fact that eggs, as well as milk and milk in combination, cannot be cooked at a high temperature. So-called "hard-boiled" eggs are better if not boiled at all. Try doing them after this fashion, particularly if they are to be served to children, invalids or the aged: Have ready a saucepan containing boiling water. Put in a quart of water, the number of eggs desired, leaving the water cover them. Remove saucepan to back of range where water will not boil. Cook from six to eight minutes if liked "soft-boiled," forty to forty-five minutes if liked "hard-boiled."

In using hard-boiled eggs for made-over dishes, as soon as taken from the hot water they should be plunged into cold water, which usually prevents the discoloration of the yolks.

Eggs are never better than when served directly from a chafing-dish, and scrambled eggs with their numerous variations may be easily prepared at table.

Eggs a la Creole belong to this class. Peel mushroom caps and cut in slices. There should be one-half cupful. Cook in one-half tablespoonful of butter five minutes, stirring constantly. Then remove from the chafing-dish. Put in same pan three tablespoonfuls of butter, one tablespoonful of finely chopped onions and one-fourth of a finely-chopped green pepper (from which the seeds have been removed).

Cook three minutes, then add one and three-fourths cupfuls of canned tomatoes; (drained from most of their liquor), and cook eight minutes; then add mushrooms, one tablespoonful of capers, one-half teaspoonful of salt, and five grains of cayenne and five eggs beaten with a fork until yolks and eggs are slightly blended. Cook until of a creamy consistency, stirring almost constantly and scraping from bottom and sides of pan. If you haven't mushrooms at hand, try this dish without them.

A delicious emergency luncheon dish is Somerset soufflé cooked on the chafing-dish. Melt two tablespoonfuls of flour and stir until well blended; then pour on gradually, while stirring constantly, one-half cupful of milk. Bring to the boiling point and add one-third of a cupful of grated Young American cheese, one teaspoonful of salt and a few grains of cayenne. Set blazer over hot water pan and add the yolks of three eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored, and the whites of three eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Cover and cook until firm throughout. Serve on slices of toasted bread or unsweetened water crackers.

Eggs a la Soufflee are a great favorite with onion-lovers. Boil onions until tender, rub through a sieve; there should be one cupful of onion puree. Melt two tablespoonfuls of butter, add one and one-half tablespoonfuls of flour and the onion puree. As soon as thoroughly heated, add one-third of a cupful of milk. Bring to the boiling point and add the yolks of two eggs slightly beaten. Season to taste with salt and paprika, and add five hard-boiled eggs

CENTENNIAL ORGAN A FINE INSTRUMENT

Opened by a Public Recital, Edward Parsons Being the Organist

The new pipe organ of the Centennial Methodist church, Gorge road, was successfully opened by a public recital given on Thursday evening last by Edward Parsons, assisted by the choir of the church and Miss Jessie McKilligan. There was a large attendance and the recital was greatly enjoyed.

The first thing the lay mind notices is the handsome appearance of the organ; without undue elaboration the exterior is a "thing of beauty" and adds wonderfully to the appearance of the auditorium. The choir platform is suitably arranged, the console of the organ being so placed that the organist can see every member of the choir. In front of the choir and behind the preacher's rostrum is a handsome brass rail which supports the needful curtain. The whole effect upon the eye is exceedingly pleasing.

But when the first notes of the organ are sounded the pleasure of sight was changed for the pleasure of sound. The organ, which was built by Casavant Bros., of St. Hyacinthe, Que., more than sustains the reputation which this firm have justly achieved for beauty and fulness of tone. Every number which Mr. Parsons played was calculated to show the quality of the instrument to good advantage, and from the loudest and deepest bass to the highest and softest soprano note there was not a fault to be found with the organ. The ordinary listener longed for more of the low, sweet tones of the highest notes, as when these were sounded they were exceedingly pleasing to the ear. The good advantage heard to advantage in the accompaniments to the choir selections and the solos.

The choir, under the direction of F. Waddington, sang the anthems, "Lift Up Your Heads," by Handel, and "Lead Kindly Light," by Stainer, and acquitted themselves remarkably well. The solo part in the last-named anthem was taken by Mrs. Parsons and was very effective. Miss Jessie McKilligan was heard in the two solos, "O Divine Redeemer," by Gounod, and "O Jesu Saviour," by Mendelssohn, and did not let her for the request on the printed programme for the audience not to applaud, she would have undoubtedly received an encore for each selection.

From a musical standpoint the evening was very successful and while no doubt the committee of management would have liked to have seen a larger audience, the financial returns were gratifying. The congregation is to be heartily congratulated upon its enterprise in securing so splendid an instrument to lead the musical services of the church.

In Wales during 1905-6 only one horse was purchased for the army, and in 1906 only 28 out of a total of 4,317. Mr. Hildand hopes that farmers may be induced to breed more horses for military purposes.

JOHN RUSKIN AS A GREAT TEACHER

In His Works He Emphasizes Truth, Purity and Self-Sacrifice

In the latest number of The Presbyterian appears the following article on Ruskin, from the pen of Mary Scott Drynan:

John Ruskin was not only art critic, man of science, geologist, naturalist, economist, preacher, reformer and prophet, but also one of the most powerful teachers of the 19th century—not only as professor at Oxford, but in the general sense of teaching a world of readers.

When he was a very small boy, on a Sunday afternoon, he undertook to preach a sermon to his arming family. He placed a red cushion before him, which he punched again and again with his little chubby fists, as he reiterated his text: "People be good! People be good!" That was the sermon which he preached in all his after life.

He was born in old London in 1819. His father was a wine merchant, whose business necessitated travel. He travelled by post-chaise and his wife and son often accompanied him. He took great pride in the training and cultivation of his son, visited cathedrals and art galleries and pointed out to him the beauties of the landscape as they passed by, thus giving his son unconsciously a liberal education for the line he was to follow.

Ruskin's mother wished him to be a clergyman and made him read the Scriptures daily. They began with Genesis, chapter by chapter, till they finished Revelations, genealogical chapters included, and next day would begin at Genesis. She also made him memorize Psalm 119, I Cor. 15, the Sermon on the Mount, the Song of Moses (Deut. 32), and most of the Apocalypse. Ruskin sometimes rebelled in his youth, but acknowledged the benefit in later years, and said: "Knowing those Scriptures it was impossible to write superficial or formal English."

He wrote many books, his most popular ones in England and America being "Sesame and Lillies," and "The Crown of Wild Olive." His greatest work, "Modern Painters" (five volumes) was begun when he was only twenty-two.

He met Turner, the landscape artist, when he was old, discouraged and underrated. He became his friend, and hence the first volume of "Modern Painters," which defines one artist and contains wholesale abuse of many others hitherto considered unassailable. It certainly failed in the object of establishing Turner as the greatest artist, ancient and modern, but to-day stands as the greatest monument of Ruskin's genius.

In all his works, Ruskin emphasizes truth, purity, and the love which is self-sacrifice. He viewed all works of art in an entirely new light. He proposed three essentials—truth, purity of motive, and honesty of execution. Simplicity in all things was the keynote of all his teaching.

He wrote all his books on art between the ages of 23 and 49. His views on art in its bearings on life broadened and deepened with experience. There is a gradual change in his writing from simple love of landscape art to mortality. Then follow books on political economy, such as "Sesame and Lillies" and "The Crown of Wild Olive." We can hardly understand to-day how revolutionary those books were fifty years ago. To-day they are up-to-date as we say, with advice in regard to physical culture, domestic science, higher education of women, whose home is her sphere, but whose influence should be in the affairs of mankind—above all, the great work of character-building.

Like most great men, Ruskin was ahead of his time and was reviled and ridiculed. One of his biographers said: "It has to be borne in mind that the common places of social science to-day were forty years ago denounced as revolutionary. That such a marked change has taken place is owing to a great degree to the teachings of Ruskin. What the 19th century owes to Ruskin may never be known, the 20th century is already reaping the benefits of his labor."

A great French writer whose book is "Ruskin and the Religion of Beauty," tells us that Ruskin discusses morality, industry and religion in order to lead us up to a higher sense of art. Surely it would be more true to say that John Ruskin began preaching to us a higher sense of art, in order to lead us up to a truer understanding of morality, religion, industry and humanity.

Ruskin was accused of saying that "To be a good artist one must be a good man." Ruskin's reply was: "I do not say in the least that in order to be a good painter you must be a 'good man,' but I do say that in order to be a good natural painter, there must be strong elements of good in the mind however warped by other parts of the character."

Ruskin gave away most of his large fortune left him by his father in acts of philanthropy and gave himself to thinking of the salvation of society. He was not strong, and his intensity of thought with his extreme conscientiousness was a weight upon his last days. His married life was sad. His wife separated from him and some years later married the artist, Millais. He spent his last days at his beautiful home, Brantwood, in the north of England, cared for by a cousin, an adopted daughter. He died January 20th, 1900, at the age of 81 years.

A noted writer has said "Ruskin, who often from boyhood was prostrated by physical maladies, then by despair and cerebral affliction, who spent years and years travelling over Europe in lonely meditation on mountains, moors, lakes and sea, who gave up days and nights to schools, classes, college lectures, who poured out his thoughts daily to unknown correspondents, who flung away the whole of his parental inheritance, with lavish, even reckless generosity, found time to produce hundreds of exquisite studies of buildings, landscapes, pictures, statues and natural objects, from Mount Blanc to a boulder or tuft of grass, all of them full of suggestion to artist and naturalist, unique in their method, some so subtle, so lovely, that they might pass at first glance as work of Prout or Turner. It may sound a wild paradox, but I ask myself if any other of our famous men of genius since Shakespeare has poured out such a world of original fancy about everything visible in nature or in the hand-work of man, about literature of the ancient and modern poets, about the regeneration of modern society, the inner meaning of religion, about the duties of man, the prerogatives of woman, the training of children, the dignity of labor, in the indomitable search of that Sangreal of the true Knight—a new heaven and a new earth."

"I FEEL IT MY DUTY To Give You a Statement in Regard to 'Fruit-a-tives'"

"Hardwicke, Miramich, N. B., Jan. 17th, 1910.
"I feel it my duty to give you and the world an unsolicited statement in respect to the wonderful cure I received by taking 'Fruit-a-tives.' Chronic Constipation was the complaint I suffered with for years. My general health was miserable as a result of this disease, and I became depressed and alarmed. I was treated by physicians without the slightest permanent benefit, and I tried all kinds of pills and tablets, but nothing did me any good.

I saw the strong testimonial in favor of 'Fruit-a-tives' by New Brunswick's 'Grand Old Man,' the Hon. John Costigan, and I knew that anything he stated was honest and true and given only to help his fellow-men. I tried 'Fruit-a-tives' and the effects were most marvellous, and now I am entirely well from all my Chronic Constipation that I suffered from for so many years. My general health is once more excellent and I cannot say too much to express my thanks for the great benefits derived from taking 'Fruit-a-tives.'
"A. G. WILKINSON."
'Fruit-a-tives' is not gotten up by druggists or expert chemists who know nothing about disease and the needs of the human body—but is the scientific discovery of a well known physician, and is the only medicine in the world made of fruit juices.

Fifty cents a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial size 25c. All dealers, or sent, post-paid, on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

TRADE RECORDS OF OLD EGYPT
KING HAMMURABI'S FAMOUS LEGAL CODE

Commercial Enterprise of the Early People Was Remarkable

Some time in the age, which it is difficult to persuade the modern ever existed, when men fed on raw meat and roots and slept in the shelter of rocks or hollow trees and conveyed their vague thoughts in monosyllabic grunts and chattering, some hairy progenitor owned a stone club, with which he hunted, while his neighbor in the next rock hole owned a glittering stone, which he suspended from his neck by a leather thong. Each fancied the other's possession. Up to that hour such fancies had been gratified by snatching the other's skull, but in this one instance they exchanged.

That was the beginning of commerce. It was 5,000 years before trusts were thought of.

The earliest records of trade, indeed, the most ancient records of any sort, if we exclude a few possible Chinese rivals, are to be found in Egypt. The land made fertile and productive by the annual overflow of the Nile produced all the necessities of life in great abundance. The clay for building was easily obtainable and the organic limestone of the surrounding deserts furnished stone for more durable structures.

Only the luxurious and beautiful products were lacking. The knowledge of precious stones, rare metals and beautiful woods was doubtless brought to the simple farmers and herders of the valley by wanderers and adventurers, such as have always existed.

We cannot conceive of the Egyptians without their atmosphere of mystery and symbolism. Doubtless it was the desire to make their temples and holy places impressive that prompted the first commercial enterprises. After the first donkey trains had brought in the spices, ivory, metals and jewels for the temples of the land, the adornment of palaces for chiefs and princes became a vital question, and commerce grew. Caravans and galleys of the Pharaohs swept the seas from the isthmus of the west to the spice isles on the east. Other nations grew in power, and the rivalry of merchants began with the rivalry of nations. The Tyrians dealt with the civilized nations of Mesopotamia, on the one hand, and the barbarous tribes of Africa, western Europe and Central Asia, on the other. From Arabia came the herds of sheep and goats, ivory and ebony, precious stones, gold and spices, to be traded in Babylon for the fine cloths and choice wares, or in Egypt for the linen of that land. They brought tin from Britain to harden copper into bronze.

"From the beginning," as the Egyptians are fond of saying in their vague, mysterious way, copper had been mined and brought from the Sinai peninsula. From this were made the rings and disks of fixed weight which were first used as currency in the Nile valley.

While men were still primitive and childlike, little need for law was felt in commercial relations. The Carthaginians, who at a later date traded with the negroes of West Africa, tell of methods which must have been almost universal at one time.

The gold dust and ivory of the savages were exchanged for Phoenician cloth by laying the articles side by side on the sand, each party inspecting them while the other withdrew. No speech was necessary, and full reliance was placed in the honesty of the merchants on either side.

The woodwork of the temples came from the Lebanon hills—the famous cedars—and was one of the earliest imports. The slave trade, as old as civilization, took the Nile valley as its natural inlet. With the slaves came gold and ivory. The incenses of the temples were brought in by the caravans from Arabia.

All this was by land, for the Egyptians avoided the sea as much as the Phoenicians courted it. The great caravan trade which radiated from Egypt to all quarters of Asia and northern Africa is referred to in the oldest documents. The story of Joseph and his sale into Egypt gives us a passing glimpse of the Arab merchants taking their produce down into Egypt.

Herodotus records that a Greek expedition on its way to the Ural gold-fields, of necessity took ten interpreters. The courage and persistence of these itinerant peddlers is evinced by the fact that they undertook on foot, long before France was France, in the very dawn of history, the coral from its shores was exchanged in far-away India for pearls and other gems. As a testimony of the difficulties into which they sometimes got, the following letters from the King of Cyprus to the reigning Pharaoh are eloquent. They were written about 1500 B. C.

King of Alasia (Cyprus) to king of Egypt—Sends ivory, five talents of good copper, and usiu wood, and desires that the customs officer shall not interfere with the men sent in the ship.

King of Alasia to King of Egypt. Asks for return of messengers quickly, and says they are his merchants, and desires that the customs officer shall not interfere with them or their ship.

King of Alasia to King of Egypt. Protests that the king of Egypt is mistaken in supposing the Alasians to be allied with the Lukki (Lycian pirates); on the contrary, the Lukki yearly plunder the city of Zikira in Alasia. If Alasians are proved to have plundered they shall be punished.

The land of Punt, supposed to be that part of the modern somaliland on the gulf of Aden, was a favorite trading place for the Egyptian galleys. At such a port the custom was to hold annual markets like fairs, lasting several months. The ships of all nations and every model would come there at a certain season and bazaars would be opened on the sands. Negroes, with gold, ivory and leopards from the African jungles; Phoenicians, with their glass, bronze and dyed stuffs, would meet the Babylonian merchant, who brought pottery perhaps, and the Arab, with his manifold products, chiefly incense and spices.

The myrrh and frankincense of Arabia, which were drawn from the bark of trees 5,000 years ago, are still extracted in the same primitive fashion. It is one industry which has lost somewhat in prominence but still exists.

More than 4,000 years ago Hammurabi, the king of Babylon, embodied in his famous legal code a series of articles bearing upon the business and commercial regulation in his realm. The following extracts will convey an idea of the legal capacity of these old fellows:

- 112. If a man stays away on a journey and has given silver, gold, precious stones or treasures of his hand to a man, has caused him to take them for transport, and that man whatever was for transport, where he has transported has not given and has taken to himself, the owner of the transported object, that man, concerning whatever he had to transport and gave not, shall give to the owner of the transported object five-fold whatever was given him.
- 113. If a man shall give silver, gold, or anything, whatever, to a man on deposit, all whatever he shall give he shall show to witnesses and fix bonds and shall give on deposit.
- 114. If without witnesses and bonds he has given on deposit, and where he has deposited they keep disputing him, this case has no remedy.
- 115. If a boatman has navigated a ship of 60 gur for a man, he shall give him two shekels of silver for his fee.
- 116. If a boatman has navigated a ship for a man and has not made his work trustworthy, and in that same year that he worked that ship it has suffered an injury, the boatman shall exchange that ship or shall make it strong at his own expense and shall give a strong ship to the owner of the ship.
- 117. If a man has given his ship to a boatman on hire, and the boatman has been careless, has grounded the ship, or has caused it to be lost, the boatman shall render ship for ship to the owner.
- 118. If a man has hired a boatman and ship, and with corn, wool, oil, dates, or whatever it be as freight, has freighted her, that boatman has been careless and grounded the ship, or has caused what is in her to be lost, the boatman shall render back the ship which he has grounded and whatever in her he has caused to be lost.
- 119. If a boatman has grounded the ship of a man and has reloaded her, he shall give money to half her price.
- 120. If a man has hired a boatman, he shall give him six gur of corn per year.
- 121. If a ship that is going forward has struck a ship at anchor and has sunk her, the owner of the ship that has been sunk whatever he has lost in his ship shall recount before God, and that of the ship going forward which sunk the ship at anchor shall render to him his ship and whatever of his was lost.

These regulations show how highly advanced were mercantile affairs at an extremely remote period.

WHY BACKS ACHE

The Kidneys Seldom to Blame—The Trouble Due to Blood Impurities

There is more nonsense talked about backache than any other disease. Some people have been frightened into the belief that every backache means deadly kidney trouble. That is utter rubbish. As a matter of scientific fact not one backache in twenty has anything to do with the kidneys. Most backaches come from sheer weakness and kidney drugs can't possibly cure that. You need something to brace you up and give you new strength, and that is exactly what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do. Other backaches are really muscular rheumatism, and Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the worst cases of rheumatism by driving poisonous acid out of the blood. Other backaches are the symptoms of ordinary ailments such as influenza, indigestion, constipation and liver complaint. In women backaches often come from the troubles that follow so surely on any weakness or irregularity in the usual blood supply. The one way to cure these backaches is to strike at the root of the trouble with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which enrich the blood and bring strength to aching backs and weak nerves. Mr. Alex. Cockburn, Detroit, Mich., says: "About three years ago I suffered terribly from backache. I consulted a doctor and took his medicine, and wore a plaster, but did not get the least relief. Then I got a belt, but this was as useless as the other treatment, and my suffering still continued. Then one of my friends asked me why I did not try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a box. Before they were all used there was some improvement in my condition, and I got three boxes more. By the time I had taken these all the signs of the pain had gone, and as it has not since returned I feel that the cure is permanent. My only regret is that I did not hear of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills sooner, for not only would I have got rid of the pain sooner, but would also have saved some twenty-five dollars uselessly spent in other treatments."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all dealers in medicine or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Real Summer Temperature

YOU know the perfect comfort of a summer day with the thermometer at 65°. Why does 65° in the house in winter feel chilly? Why does 75°, while warm enough, feel stuffy and oppressive?

Because the average furnace, in warming the air, dries out the natural moisture and fails to replace it. Instead of the 70% average humidity of the outside air, your furnace heated air probably contains less than 30% of moisture.

The sudden changes from this hot, dry air to the cold, outdoor air is the commonest cause of the colds, sore throats and lung troubles so common in winter.

The Remedy is the "CIRCLE WATERPAN" OF THE "GOOD CHEER" FURNACE

This pan encircles the firepot, and holds several times as much water as the makeshift pan in the average furnace. The result is an evaporation sufficient to keep the air in every room in the house at practically the same humidity as the fresh outside air, so that 68° feels perfectly comfortable, like a summer day. Plants and people thrive in such an atmosphere.

The "Good Cheer" Circle Waterpan Furnace saves doctors' bills as well as coal bills.

TUG OF WAR WITH BIG CINNAMON BEAR WILL RE-SURVEY NEW WESTMINSTER Present Errors Can Only Be Rectified by Comprehensive Survey of Whole City

New Westminster, June 17.—Mayor Lee and Alderman Jardine have returned from a trip to Victoria, whither they went to see about a new survey for the city. They talked the matter over with the surveyor general and other officials of the government, and it is probable that an order will be issued authorizing the city to take steps to have the new survey made at once. It is expected that the new survey will go away with all trouble with the street lines. Through some errors made by the original surveys the owners of property in the city have been "tagged" for quite certain how much they owned. In some sections of the city there is a discrepancy of several feet between the line in use at present and the one supposed to be correct. When the survey is made it will probably be necessary for the city to expropriate some portions of lots found to be in reality on the street, but whether the property owners can be compelled to buy parts of the street found to be on their lots is a different matter. The work will be proceeded with as soon as the order granting the permission is received from Victoria.

SHIPCHANDLERS. Sole Agents.

Not only is the fact that the Victoria theatre was sold out for last night's performance within a very few hours after the box office opened, tribute to the popularity of Maude Adams, but it gives one more proof that Victorian players will always support a sterling production, and it emphasizes the need for a new theatre. The Victoria could as easily have been sold out had its seating capacity been twice what it is. As things are, hundreds of admirers of Miss Adams were not able to see her.

There is not a doubt that Victoria needs a thoroughly modern, up-to-date play-house, and when one is built its owners or lessees will have their enterprise vindicated by a public patronage to gladden any manager's heart.

The overflowing house which greeted Maude Adams last night like the capacity houses which are drawn by every first-class company that visits Victoria, gives a fit answer to the owners of that previous pair of directors of the "busted trust," Klaw and Erlanger, against one-night stands.

The ex-dictators of the syndicate, by-the-way, are still sending out to the daily press, through their press agent, carefully prepared articles in which the suspending editors would be led to believe that the breaking-away from the syndicate of their local theatres would result in an amusement famine in their territory. The fact is that a well-known theatrical newspaper of New York were sent forth, containing an advertisement, over the signatures of some two dozen producing managers of their intention to book only through Klaw & Erlanger. This means that Victoria, in common with hundreds of other cities, will be "deprived" of these attractions. A glance through the long list published however, reveals the fact that while Klaw & Erlanger are the bulk of the offerings would be no loss anywhere. The titles of play after play in the list of those which "will be booked and contracted exclusively through the office of Klaw & Erlanger" are enough to show that these men are still pre-eminent in the production of salacious attractions. They are backed by managers whose names have been connected with failures, or with shows which have been driven from the stage, or, if still running, are condemned by critics everywhere as rotten and immoral.

There need be no fear that any good attraction controlled by the old syndicate will be seen here. The independent association, of which the Northwest Circuit is a part, will be quite ready to give dates, and the syndicate will be equally ready to book Pacific Northwest one-night stands which are as appreciative as is Victoria.

New Grand Theatre.

Gorgeously costumed and making her first appearance in vaudeville, the heavily billed Mildred Stigler will be here on Monday and all the week at the Grand. She is of the type of the famous Lillian Russell. In fact, those who have seen the fair Lillian will be able to judge for themselves, as Miss Stigler will present an imitation of the famous actress to a number of other impersonations and put on a big act that has drawn all along the circuit.

The really ideal children's feature, Cabaret's dog circus, is coming here Monday as well. There will be about a

Up on the other hand, is struck by the artlessness of the pretty senorita and he soon finds himself her willing slave.

Other pictures to be shown with the above are: "Gallagher," and "Motherless," two fine dramas, 1,000 feet in length.

Miss Irma Todd, the illustrated song singer, will sing the songs "After Awhile."

May Roberts at the Victoria.

Patrons of the drama will have the opportunity next week of seeing at the Victoria theatre, May Roberts and her company in a repertoire of comedy and emotional plays. Miss Roberts and her company are returning to Canadian territory after having played through the Pacific coast states, where they have been the recipients of the most flattering press notices and everywhere they have played to crowded houses.

Miss Roberts excels as an actress in both comedy and emotional roles, for "The Adventurous" she portrays intense emotion, delineating the serious aspects of life, and is entirely different to the light-hearted girl full of fun whom she portrays in "The Grass Widow."

Her company is well balanced and are all professional players of reputation and merit. Victor Girard, the leading man in her company, is the zenith of his career, and has made repeated successes on Broadway.

THE PIRATE QUEEN

Taken Captive in an Iron Cage to France.

In the steamer Amiral Ponty there arrived at Marseilles recently, with a party of thirty-four "Anatolian" pirates and male factors, a remarkable woman, one of the wives of the redoubtable pirate De Tham, who has given the French so much trouble in Indo-China.

Co-Ba, as the woman pirate is called, exercised a dominating influence over the pirate king and his followers, a power she even preserved throughout the voyage, which the prisoners made in a specially constructed iron cage built amidships. The prisoners on receiving their ration immediately handed them to Co-Ba for distribution, and she laid down regulations for the prisoners' life on board. Her word was always scrupulously respected.

Co-Ba, a small, hard-faced woman of about thirty, enjoyed the reputation of a witch among the pirates, and she ferociously hated the white men. When the prisoners landed it was she who marched proudly at the head, taking not the slightest notice of the crowds who watched the debarkation of the prisoners on their way to the Ile de Re, in the Bay of Biscay.

SPIDERS IN TRADITION

There is an old superstition that if a spider settles on one's clothes it is a sign that he will shortly receive money. "When a spider is found upon our clothes," says an old writer, "we used to say, 'Some money is coming toward us.' The moral is this: Such who imitate the industry of that contemptible creature may, by God's blessing, weave themselves into wealth and procure a plentiful estate."

In some parts of England the spider was formerly believed to be an efficient cure of ague. A Somersetshire vicar remarks: "One of my parishioners suffering from ague was advised to catch a large spider and shut him up in a box. As he pined away the disease is supposed to wear itself out."

In the south of Ireland a large house spider employed in trade or preserve was used for the same complaint.—Chicago News.
