CIST, CHARLES, journalist, author, was born April 24, 1793, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was the editor of Cist's Advertiser in 1844-53, and of three volumes of Annals of Cincinnati in 1841-51 and in 1859, and a work entitled Cincinnati Miscellany. He died Sept. 8, 1868, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

CIST, HENRY MARTYN, soldier, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 20, 1839, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is a Cincinnati lawyer who served in the federal army during the civil war and became brigadier-general. He is the author of The Army of the Cumberland.

CIST, LEWIS JACOB, banker, author, was born Nov. 20, 1818, in Harmony, Pa. He was known as a banker of St. Louis and Cincinnati who published Trifles in Verse. He died March 30, 1885, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

CLAFLIN, MRS. MARY BUCKLIN, author, was born in 1825 in Massachusetts. She was the author of Brampton Sketches; Personal Recollections of Whittier; Real Happenings; and Under the Elms. She died in 1896.

CLAFLIN, WILLIAM, business man, state senator, congressman, was born March 6, 1818, in Milford, Mass. He was a representative in the legislature from 1849 to 1852; a state senator in 1860 and 1861, and the last year president of the senate. He was lieutenant-governor from 1866 to 1869; governor from 1870 to 1872, and was elected a representative from Massachusetts to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses.

CLAGGETT, CLIFTON, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1773 in Rockingham county, N. H. He was judge of probate of Hillsborough county from 1823 to 1827; judge of the superior court one or two years; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1803 to 1805, and again from 1817 to 1821. He died in 1829.

CLAGGETT, THOMAS JOHN, bishop, author, was born Oct. 2, 1742, in Prince George county, Md. He was elected the first bishop of Maryland, and was consecrated in New York, Sept. 17, 1792, Bishop Seabury joining in the consecration. In 1800 Bishop Claggett was chaplain to the United States senate, this being the first session of congress held in Washington city. He died Aug. 2, 1816, in Croom, Md.

CLAGGETT, WILLIAM H., state legislator, congressman, was born Sept. 21, 1838, in Marlborough, Md. He was a member of the legislature of Nevada in 1862, 1863 and 1865, and was elected to the forty-second congress from Montana.

CLAIBORNE, JOHN FRANCIS HAM-TRAMCK, journalist, congressman, author, was born April 24, 1809, in Natchez, Miss. During three sessions he was a representative of the Mississippi legislature, and during 1835-38 was a representative in congress from that state. He was a successful journalist, and for many years conducted the Natchez Free Trader, and also the Louisiana Courier. He was the author of Mississippi as a Province, Territory and State; Life of General Dale, and Life of Quitman. He died May 17, 1884, in Natchez, Miss.

CLAIBORNE, JOHN HERBERT, physician, author, was born March 16, 1828, in Brunswick county, Va. He is a noted physician of Virginia, and the author of Diphtheria; Dysmenorrhea; and Clinical Reports from Private Practice.

CLAIBORNE, NATHANIEL HERBERT, congressman, author, was born Nov. 14, 1777, in Sussex county, Va. He served many years in the legislature of that state; and was also a member of the executive council. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1825 to 1837. He was the author of Notes on the War in the South. He died Aug. 15, 1859, in Franklin county, Va.

CLAIBORNE, THOMAS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1793 to 1799, and again from 1801 to 1805.

CLAIBORNE, THOMAS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1817 to 1819.

CLAIBORNE, WILLIAM CHARLES COLE, was born in 1775 in Sussex county, Va. He was the first governor of the state of Louisiana.

He was a lawyer by profession; was judge of the supreme court of law and equity in Tennessee, and in 1797 was a representative in congress, and re-elected to a second term as a member from Tennessee. In 1801 he was appointed governor of the Mississippi territory. In 1803 he was commissioned to accept the transfer of the province of Louisiana to the United States; and was appointed governor-general for three years, and served until 1817. He was twenty years in the public service. He died Dec. 23, 1817, while a representative in the United States senate.

CLANCY, JOHN M., capitalist, congressman, was born May 7, 1837, in Ireland. He immigrated with his parents to New York; was educated in the public schools of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and is in the real estate business; He served as an alderman of the city of Brooklyn from 1868 to 1875, and was a member of the state assembly from 1878 to 1881. He was elected to the fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat, receiving 20,697 votes, against 13,593 votes for Grace, republican.

CLAP, NATHANIEL, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 20, 1669, in Dorchester, Maine. He was clergyman of Newport, of some distinction in his day, and is the author of Advice to Children; and The Lord's Voice Crying to the People in Some Extraordinary Dispensations. He died Oct. 30, 1745, in Newport, R. I.

CLAP, ROGER, author, was born April 6, 1609, in England. He was a colonist of Dorchester, whose Memoirs, written for his children, have been several times reprinted, and possess considerable historical value. He died Feb. 2, 1691, in Boston, Mass.

CLAP, THOMAS, clergyman, college president, author, was born June 26, 1703, in Scituate, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of distinction, and president of Yale college in 1740-66. He is the author of The Nature and Foundation of Moral Virtue and Obligation; History of Yale College; Vindication of the Doctrines of New England Churches; Nature and Motion of Meteors; and The Religious Constitutions of Colleges, especially Yale. He died Jan. 7, 1767, in New Haven, Conn.

CLAPP, ASA, merchant, legislator, was born March 15, 1762, in Mansfield, Mass. He was a state councilor, a delegate to the convention for framing the constitution of Maine in 1819, and several years a representative in the state legislature. He was noted for benevolence and rectitude. He died May 17, 1848, in Portland, Me.

CLAPP, ASA W. H., congressman, was born in Maine. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849.

CLAPP, OZRO WRIGHT, journalist, banker, was born Dec. 31, 1836, in Lee Center, Ill. In 1887 he moved to New York and opened the banking and brokerage house of Clapp and Company, and later on he established the Clapp and Company Daily and Weekly Market Letters.

CLAPP, THEODORE, clergyman, author, was born March 29, 1792, in Easthampton, Mass. He was a unitarian minister of New Orleans for many years, and the author of Autobiographical Sketches of 35 Years' Residence in New Orleans; Theological Views; and Slavery, a Sermon. He died May 17, 1866, in Louisville, Ky.

CLAPP, WILLIAM WARLAND, journalist, was born April 11, 1826, in Boston, Mass. In 1847 he became editor and publisher of the Saturday Evening Gazette; and in 1865 became editor-in-chief of The Journal of Boston. He has served as councilman, alderman and state senator, and trustee of the Boston public library. He died Sept. 13, 1891.

CLARDY, JOHN D., business man, congressman, was born Aug. 30, 1828, in Smith county, Tenn. He was elected to represent Christian county in the constitutional convention in 1890. He was appointed and served as one of the state commissioners to the Columbian exposition at Chicago in 1893; and was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

CLARDY, MARTIN LINN, lawyer, congressman, was born April 26, 1844, in St. Genevieve county, Mo. He was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a democrat.

CLARE, ADA, actress, author, was born about 1835 in the southern states. She made her debut as an actress at the Academy of Music of New York in 1855, as Ophelia in Hamlet, but soon became better known as a writer than as an actress. She was the author of a volume entitled Only a Woman's Heart. She died March 4, 1874.

CLARE, ISRAEL SMITH, historian, born Nov. 24, 1847, in Lancaster county, Pa. He received the rudiments of his education in the schools of his county, and graduated from the State Normal school of Millersville, Pa. In his earlier years he was engaged in educational work; and subsequently held a position on the editorial staff of The New Era of Lancaster, Pa., which city is still his place of residence. He is the author of the following works: Illustrated Universal History, published in 1876; Complete Historical Compendium, published in 1884; and Library of Universal History, in five volumes, published in 1890. He is also the author of several smaller works; and many articles on historical and foreign political subjects for current publications have appeared in the Geographical News of Chicago, and other prominent newspapers and magazines.

CLARK, ABRAHAM, signer of the declaration of independence, was born Feb. 13, 1726, near Elizabethtown, N. J. He was sheriff and clerk of the colonial assembly, one of the delegates to the continental congress, and a signer of the declaration of independence; after the adoption of the constitution, he was a representative in congress, from New Jersey, from 1791 to 1794, when he resigned. He died Sept. 15, 1794, in Rahway, N. J.

CLARK, ADDISON, educator, college president, clergyman, was born Dec. 11, 1842, in Titus county, Texas. He graduated from Carlton college, and subsequently became a minister of the gospel; and is now the president of the Addkan university of Waco, Texas.

CLARK, ALEXANDER, clergyman, author, was born March 10, 1834, in Jefferson county, Ohio. He was a methodist protestant clergyman of Pittsburg, and the author of The Old Log Schoolhouse; Workaday Christianity; The Red Sea

Freedman; School Day Dialogues; The Gospel in the Trees; Rambles in Europe; Starting Out, a Story of the Ohio Hills; and Ripples on the River, a collection of verses. He died July 6, 1879, in Georgia.

CLARK, ALONZO, educator, physician, author, was born March 1, 1807, in Chester, Mass. From 1849-55 he was professor of physiology and pathology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of New York city; was consulting physician of the Northeastern dispensary and of the Northern dispensary, and in 1861 was made president of the medical board of St. Luke's hospital. He was a noted lecturer, and the author of a number of articles on medical subjects. He died Sept. 13, 1887, in New York.

CLARK, ALONZO HOWARD, naturalist, author, was born April 13, 1850, in Boston, Mass. He is a naturalist in the United States National museum at Washington, who has published Statistics of Fisheries of New Hampshire, Rhode Island, and Connecticut; Statistics of Fisheries of Massachusetts; and History of the Mackerel Fishery.

CLARK, ALVAH A., lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 13, 1840, in Lebanon, N. Y. He became a counselor-at-law in 1867; and was elected a representative, from New Jersey, to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a democrat.

CLARK, ALVAN, optician, was born March 8, 1804, in Ashfield, Mass. He was the first person in the United States to overcome the difficulties of the achromatic lens, and achieved such skill that the most important telescopes of modern times have been made in his factory in Cambridge. He died Aug. 19, 1887, in Cambridgeport, Mass.

CLARK, ALVAN GRAHAM, astronomer, inventor, was born July 10, 1832, in Fall River, Mass. During 1886 the 36-inch refractor, the largest in the world, was made for the Lick observatory on Mount Hamilton, near San Francisco, Cal. Mr. Clark accompanied the total-eclipse expedition to Jerez, Spain, in 1870, and also the similar expedition to Wyoming in 1878. As an independent observer he has discovered fourteen intricate double stars, including the companion to Sirius, for which the Lalande gold medal was awarded him by the French academy of sciences in 1862. He has also made numerous inventions connected with the manufacture of refracting telescopes.

CLARK, AMBROSE W., journalist, congressman, diplomat, was born Feb. 19, 1810, near Cooperstown, N. Y. He published for five years the Otsego Republican; established and published for eight years the Northern Journal; and also published for sixteen years the Northern New York Journal. In 1859 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-seventh congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-eighth congress in 1862. In 1865 he was appointed consul at Valparaiso.

CLARK, AMOS, banker, state senator, congressman, was born Nov. 8, 1827, in Westfield, N. Y. He was banker in Elizabeth, and largely interested in real estate. He was elected a state senator from 1866 to 1869; was an elector in 1872, and was elected to the forty-third congress as a republican.

CLARK, ARTHUR WELLINGTON, physician, surgeon, genealogist, was born Dec. 7, 1859, in Lawrence, Kan. He was professor of obstetrics and gynecology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Boston; and is the author of a Genealogy of the Houghton Family.

CLARK, BILLY JAMES, reformer, legislator, was born Jan. 4, 1728, in Northampton, Mass. He organized what is claimed to have been the first temperance society in the world, at Moreau, Saratoga county, N. Y., in 1808. Dr. Clark was a member of the legislature from Saratoga county in 1821, and was a member of the electoral college in 1848. He died March 20, 1867, in Glens Falls, N. Y.

CLARK, CHAMP, lawyer, legislator, lecturer, author, was born March 7, 1850, near Lawrenceburg, Ky. In 1873 he graduated with highest honors from the Bethany college, W. Va.; and became president of the Marshall college of Huntington, W. Va. He has been city attorney of Louisiana and Bowling Green, Mo.; prosecuting attorney of Pike county, Mo.; and he has served as special judge of the Louisiana (Mo.) court of common pleas. He was a member of the Missouri state legislature, and a member of the fifty-third and fifty-fifth congresses. In 1891 he was a delegate to the Trans-Mississippi congress at Denver, and was chairman of the Missouri delegation and vice-president.

CLARK, CHARLES B., soldier, educator, clergyman, was born Dec. 28, 1837, in Saguoit, N. Y. He received the rudiments of his education in the High school and graduated from the Iowa Wesleyan university at Mount Pleasant. During the civil war he served in the twenty-fifth regiment Iowa volunteer infantry, and in 1897 was elected department commander for South Dakota of the Grand Army of the Republic.

CLARK, CHARLES B., congressman, was born Aug. 24, 1844, in Theresa, N. Y. He moved to Wisconsin in 1855, and settled in Neenah, where he has since resided. He was elected to the fiftieth and re-elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

CLARK, CHARLES B., educator, journalist, lawyer, was born Jan. 1, 1854, in Hubbard, Ohio. Early in life he was a successful school teacher and principal, and in 1880 was admitted to the bar. He subsequently was on the editorial staffs of different newspapers, and has published directories of several cities in Pennsylvania. He is the author of several county and town histories; and has contributed extensively to current literature. He is now solely engaged in the practice of law in Altoona, Pa.

CLARK, CHARLES COTESWORTH PINCKNEY, physician, author, was born March 20, 1822, in Tinmouth, Vt. He is a physician, and at one time collector of customs at Oswego, and the author of The Commonwealth Reconstructed.

CLARK, CHARLES E., naval officer, was born in Vermont about 1848. He was a cadet in the naval academy when the civil war began and was made a midshipman. He has long been attached to ships in Pacific waters, in the Pacific and Asiatic squadrons. As commander of the first-class battleship Oregon, he was the first naval officer to bring a great modern battleship around Cape Horn; and his gallant work in destroying the Spanish fleet in 1898 has made his name a household word throughout the civilized world.

CLARK, CHARLES HEBER, journalist, author, was born in 18—. He is a Philadelphia journalist who has written several works of a humorous character which have been popular. Some of his works are Out of the Hurlly Burlly; Elbow Room, a Novel without a Plot; Random Shots; and Fortunate Island and Other Stories.

CLARK, CHARLES N., congressman, was born Aug. 21, 1827, in Cortland county, N. Y. He was made a member of the executive committee for the improvement of western waterways, and at his motion the national convention was held in Washington, D. C. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican, and was placed on the river and harbor committee, where he served with distinction.

CLARK, CHARLES PETER, railroad president, was born Aug. 11, 1836, in Nashua, N. H. Since 1887 he has been president of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railway, and since 1895 president of the Hartford and New England railroad.

CLARK, CHRISTOPHER, congressman. He was a representative in congress, from Virginia, from 1804 to 1806.

CLARK, CLARENCE D., congressman, United States senator, was born April 16, 1851, in Sandy Creek, N. Y. He was prosecuting attorney for Uinta county four years, and was appointed associate justice of the territory of Wyoming in 1890, but declined the office. Upon the admission of Wyoming as a state he was elected to the fifty-first and fifty-second congresses. He was elected in 1895 to the United States senate for the term ending 1899, to fill a vacancy.

CLARK, DANIEL, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born Oct. 24, 1809, in Stratham, N. H. He was elected United States senator in 1857; and was president of the New Hampshire constitutional convention of 1876.

CLARK, DANIEL A., clergyman, author, was born March 1, 1779, in Rahway, N. J. In 1820 he was installed pastor of the West parish of Amherst, Mass., and became one of the founders of the college there. His complete works, with a biographical sketch by George Shepard, were published in 1846. He died March 3, 1840, in New York.

CLARK, DAVIS WASGATT, bishop, author, was born Feb. 12, 1812, in Maine. He was a methodist bishop of some note as a preacher, and the author of Mental Discipline; Death-Bed Scenes; Man all Immortal; Life of Bishop Hedding; Sermons; and Elements of Algebra. He died May 23, 1871, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

CLARK, EDMUND C., soldier, lawyer, author, was born in Binghamton, N. Y. He served as a union soldier during the civil war in company E, thirty-second regiment volunteer infantry, and was promoted to first sergeant, and subsequently re-enlisted in company H, sixth regiment, New York cavalry. He is a scientist and writer on political economy; the author of several prose works and a volume of poems. He has attained prominence as an eminent lawyer of Hutchinson, Kan., and has taken an active part in the public affairs of his county and state.

CLARK, EDSON LYMAN, clergyman, author, was born April 1, 1827, in East Hampton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of Massachusetts and the author of The Arabs and the Turks; The Races of European Turkey; Turkey; and Fundamental Questions chiefly relating to Genesis and the Hebrew Scriptures.

CLARK, EMMONS, soldier, merchant, author. In 1857 he enlisted as a private in the New York state militia; served gallantly through the civil war, and was promoted colonel of his regiment. He is the author of a History of the Seventh Regiment of the New York State Militia.

CLARK, EZRA, congressman, was born in Vermont. He was elected a representative to the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses.

CLARK, F. O., lawyer, legislator, was born Dec. 18, 1843, in Girard, Pa. In 1862 he moved to Lake Superior, Mich., and joined the corps of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad company as civil engineer. In 1870 he was admitted to the bar, first practicing that profession in Escanaba and then in Marquette, Mich., and is considered one of the most eminent lawyers in the Upper Peninsular. He takes an active part in the business and public affairs of his city, county and state; is a stockholder in the Dexter Mining company, and president of the Marquette City Electric Street Railroad company. In 1874-75 he served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature, and has served two terms as mayor of his city.

CLARK, FRANCIS EDWARD, clergyman, author, was born in 1851, in Canada. He is a congregational minister who during his pastorate in Portland, Maine, in 1881, established the Christian Endeavor society. He is the author of Danger Signals, the Enemies of Youth; Looking Out on Life, a book for girls; Our Vacations, Where to Go, etc.; Young People's Prayer Meeting in Theory and Practice; The Children and the Church; Mosback Correspondence; Our Business Boys; and Ways and Means, a history of the Christian Endeavor movement.

CLARK, FRANK E., lawyer, legislator, was born Nov. 12, 1860, in Wausau, Wis. In 1882 he graduated as a civil engineer; and in law in 1888. For ten years he was engaged in educational work; and for several years was county surveyor of Green Lake county, Wis. During 1895-97 he was a member of the Wisconsin state assembly; and now practices law in Princeton, Wis.

CLARK, FRANKLIN, merchant, congressman, was born in Maine. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849; before entering congress served in the state legislature; and was a member of the executive council in 1855.

CLARK, FREDERICK THICKSTUN, author, was born in 1858 in Pennsylvania. He is a novelist of Denver, Colo., whose stories deal with phases of western life; and the author of A Mexican Girl; In the Valley of Havilah; On Cloud Mountain; and The Mistress of the Ranch.

CLARK, GEORGE, lawyer, jurist, was born July 18, 1841, in Eutaw, Ala. He received the rudiments of his education in the local school and graduated from the university of Alabama. During the civil war he served as captain of infantry in the Virginia army from Alabama, and emigrated to Texas in 1867. He has attained prominence as one of the foremost lawyers of the west at Waco, Texas. He has been secretary of state, attorney-general, commissioner to codify the laws, and has filled with honor the high office of judge of court of appeals.

CLARK, GEORGE A., manufacturer, was born in 1824, in Scotland. In 1865 the Passaic Thread Co. was organized by him, with George A., Alexander and William Clark and Thomas Barbour as incorporators. Gigantic works were constructed and put into operation in 1866. He died Feb. 13, 1873.

CLARK, GEORGE HENRY, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 7, 1819, in Newburyport, Mass. In November, 1860, he made in Savannah an appeal for the preservation of the union, which was published at the request of southern gentlemen. His connection with St. John's parish was dissolved in 1861, and in 1862 his property, including his library, was sold by an agent of the confederate government as the property of an alien enemy.

CLARK, GEORGE HUNT, author, poet, was born in 1809 in Northampton, Mass. He was an iron merchant of Hartford, of local fame as a poet; and the author of Now and Then; The News; and Under-tow of a Trade Wind Surf. He died Aug. 20, 1881, in Hartford, Conn.

CLARK, GEORGE ROGERS, soldier, was born Nov. 19, 1752, in Albemarle county, Va. He was one of the earliest surveyors in Kentucky, where the frequent conflicts with the Indians gave him an experience of the greatest value to himself and his people. He grew to be recognized as the protector of all the settlements in Kentucky, Indiana, Ohio, Pennsylvania, and a terror to the redmen. In 1776 he was appointed major of militia; and was chosen a delegate to the Virginia convention. In 1777 was promoted to lieutenant-colonel; and in 1781 was commissioned brigadier-general of the continental army. He died Feb. 18, 1818, in Louisville, Ky.

CLARK, GEORGE WHITFIELD, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 15, 1831, in South Orange, N. J. He is a baptist clergyman of New Jersey; and the author of Harmony of the Four Gospels in English; Notes on Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John; Harmonic Arrangement of the Acts of the Apostles; Brief Notes on the New Testament; and History of the First Baptist Church in Elizabeth, N. J.

CLARK, GILBERT J., lawyer, author. He is a successful lawyer of Kansas City, Mo.; and the author of Eminent American, English and Canadian Lawyers.

CLARK, GUY ASHLEY, manufacturer, was born Feb. 17, 1823, in Onondaga, N. Y. In 1860 he was appointed agent of the Onondaga Salt company, which position he held for ten years. In 1870 he was elected city supervisor of Syracuse; and was twice re-elected to the same office.

CLARK, HENRY A., lawyer, legislator, was born Aug. 3, 1815, in Sidney, N. Y. The early history of Bainbridge contains in part the history of Henry A. Clark. While representing his district in the state senate in 1863-65, he was the friend of the governor, Horatio Seymour, and was one of the first to vote for the appropriation for the new state capitol. He was a member of the state republican committee for many years. Mr. Clark was one of the organizers of the one hundred and fourteenth regiment; although unable to enlist himself, gave liberally toward the advancement of the cause of the union.

CLARK, HENRY JAMES, naturalist, author, was born June 22, 1826, in Easton, Mass. He was a naturalist of Cambridge; and the author of Mind in Nature; and A Claim for Scientific Property. He died July 1, 1873, in Amherst, Mass.

CLARK, HENRY S., lawyer, congressman, was born in Beaufort county, N. C. He was a member of the state legislature in 1834; and was solicitor for the state in 1842. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1845 to 1847; and was at one time acting governor of the state. He died April 14, 1874, in Tarborough, N. C.

CLARK, HENRY TOOLE, governor, was born in 1808. He was elected state senator in 1850, a position he continued to occupy for eleven years; and in 1861 was appointed governor of North Carolina. He died April 14, 1874.

CLARK, HORACE FRANCIS, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 29, 1815, in Southbury, Conn. He was elected a member of the thirty-fifth congress from New York; and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress. He died June 19, 1873, in New York city.

CLARK, ISAAC, soldier, jurist, was born in 1749. He was a soldier of the revolution, a member of the constitutional convention, and for many years chief judge of the Vermont county court. He became colonel of the eleventh United States infantry in 1812, and in 1813 commanded a successful expedition against Masequois, Canada. He died Jan. 31, 1822, in Castleton, Vt.

CLARK, JAMES, soldier, was born in July, 1730. He was a captain in Putnam's regiment, and was present at Bunker Hill. He was made lieutenant-colonel of Huntington's regiment in 1775, and took part in the battles at Harlem Heights and White Plains in 1776. He died Dec. 29, 1826, in Lebanon, Conn.

CLARK, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, state senator, governor, was born in 1779 in Bedford county, Va. He was several times a member of the state legislature; and in 1810 was appointed judge of the court of appeals. He was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1813 to 1816; and from 1817 to 1824 was judge of the circuit court. He was again a member of congress from 1825 to 1831. In 1832 he was state senator and chosen speaker; and was elected governor in 1836. He died Sept. 27, 1839, in Frankfort, Ky.

CLARK, JAMES, farmer, stockman, was born Nov. 20, 1838, near Springfield, Ohio. For over a quarter of a century continuously he has been township treasurer; and for ten years a member of the county board of agriculture. He has been a successful breeder of trotting horses, some of which have sold as high as twenty thousand dollars each; and he bred and sold the fastest yearling trotter in the world to Frank Rockefeller, vice-president of the Standard Oil company. He resides in New Moorefield, Ohio.

CLARK, JAMES GOWDY, the poet of the people, was born June 28, 1829, in Constantia, N. Y. At the age of twenty-one he drifted into the concert field; was for many years connected with the Minneapolis Daily Star; and became prominent as a poet, singer and composer. He is chiefly known as the author of Leona; Marion Moore; The Infinite Mother; The Old Mountain Tree; The Mount of the Holy Cross; and The Evergreen Mountains of Life. For many years he has been a prominent and vigorous prose writer, especially in the cause of reform, every vital phase of which he has heartily espoused; and has lectured extensively on kindred subjects.

CLARK, JAMES HENRY, physician, author, was born June 23, 1814, in Livingston, N. Y. He was a physician of Newark, N. J.; and the author of History of the Cholera in Newark in 1847; Sight and Hearing, How Preserved, How Lost; Medical Topography of Newark; and The Medical Men of New Jersey in Essex District, 1666-1866. He died March 6, 1869, in Montclair, N. J.

CLARK, JAMES W., state senator, congressman, was born in Bertie county, N. C. He was a presidential elector in 1812; three years a member of the state senate; and was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1815 to 1817. He died in January, 1844.

CLARK, JOHN, soldier, governor, was born in 1766 in North Carolina. He served in the revolutionary war; and rose to the rank of major-general in the war of 1812. He was elected governor of Georgia in 1821. He died Oct. 15, 1832.

CLARK, JOHN ALONZO, clergyman, author, was born May 6, 1801, in Pittsfield, Mass. He was an episcopal clergyman of Philadelphia; and the author of The Young Disciple; The Pastor's Testimony; A Walk about Zion; Gathered Fragments; Awake, Thou Sleeper; and Glimpses of the Old World. He died Nov. 27, 1843, in Philadelphia, Pa.

CLARK, JOHN B., soldier, congressman, was born April 17, 1802, in Madison county, Ky. In 1832 he commanded a regiment of mounted militia, during the Black Hawk war; and was made major-general of militia in 1848. He was elected to the legislature during the session of 1850 and 1851. He was a member of the thirty-fifth congress; was re-elected to the thirty-sixth and to the thirty-seventh congresses. He took part in the rebellion of 1861 as a colonel, having been expelled from the house in July, 1861. He died Oct. 29, 1885, in Fayetteville, Mo.

CLARK, JOHN B., soldier, congressman, was born Jan. 14, 1831, in Fayette, Mo. He entered the confederate army; served as a lieutenant, and was promoted successively to be captain, major, colonel, and brigadier-general. He was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses.

CLARK, JOHN BATES, political economist, author, was born Jan. 26, 1847, in Providence, R. I. He has filled the chair of political economy in various colleges, and was lecturer in Johns Hopkins university. For two years he was the president of the American Economic association. He is the author of The Philosophy of Wealth, and of numerous publications on political economy.

CLARK, MRS. KATE UPSON, journalist, author, was born in 1851 in Alabama. She is a journalist of Brooklyn, who has written mainly for young people; and the author of That Mary Ann.

CLARK, LABAN, clergyman, was born July 19, 1778, in Haverhill, N. H. He was one of the founders of the Wesleyan university, and president of its trustees. He died Nov. 28, 1868, in Middletown, Conn.

CLARK, LEWIS GAYLORD, journalist, author, was born June 12, 1810, in Otisco, N. Y. He was a once prominent magazineist of New York city, and editor of the Knickerbocker Magazine. He was the author of Knick-Knacks, a collection of brief sketches contributed to that periodical. He died Nov. 3, 1873, in Piermont, N. Y.

CLARK, LINCOLN, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in Massachusetts. He was a judge in Alabama for several years; and on removing to Iowa was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1851 to 1853.

CLARK, LOT, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from 1823 to 1825, when he was appointed postmaster at Norwich, N. Y.; and was a member of the New York assembly in 1846.

CLARK, M. S., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania during the years 1820 and 1821.

CLARK, MARY J., poet, was born Dec. 25, 1833, in Ellisburgh, N. Y. She received her education in the public schools; and attended

Sister school of Utica, N. Y., where her father was a methodist clergyman. She is the author of the Record of a Ministering Angel, which had an extensive sale. She has written extensively in prose and poetry for the periodical press; and many of her poems have been incorporated in standard publications. She has traveled extensively in America and Europe. Since the death of her husband she has managed a large manufacturing concern at Utica, Ill.

CLARK, MRS. MARY, author, was born in 1831 in Maine. She is a New England writer of religious juveniles, among which are The Mayflower Series; and Daisy's Mission.

CLARK, MYRON HOLLEY, governor of New York, was born Oct. 23, 1806, in Naples, N. Y. He served as lieutenant-colonel of state militia. He was sheriff of Ontario county for two years.

CLARK, N. NORTON, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 2, 1841, near Bangor, Maine. He is a graduate of the Garrett Biblical institute; and for a quarter of a century has been a clergyman of the methodist episcopal church. He is the author of The Helper for Young People's Societies; and has contributed extensively to religious publications.

CLARK, NATHANIEL GEORGE, educator, author, was born Jan. 18, 1825, in Calais, Vt. He was the foreign secretary of the American board of foreign missions from 1866. In earlier life he was of some note as an educator, and published Elements of the English Language. He died in 1896.

CLARK, NEWCOMB, soldier, state legislator, was born Sept. 25, 1840, in Sullivan county, N. Y. He graduated from the Clarkston academy and the Oxford institute. He served as major and lieutenant-colonel during the civil war in the one hundred and second United States cavalry troop; and was for some time in command of the regiment. He also had command of the fifty-fourth New York infantry; subsequently commanded a brigade; and was brevetted brigadier-general for meritorious conduct in the field. He was the first president of Wewona, now West Bay City, in 1883 he was elected a member of the Michigan state legislature; received the re-election in 1885; and now devotes his time to literary pursuits.

CLARK, RICHARD H., lawyer, author, was born July 3, 1827, in Washington, D. C. He has attained success as a lawyer; and is the author of Socialism in America; Father Sebastian Rale; Illustrated History of the Catholic Church in the United States; and other works.

CLARK, ROBERT, physician, congressman, was born in Washington county, N. Y. He was a member of the assembly of that state from 1812 to 1815; and a representative in congress from New York from 1819 to 1821.

CLARK, RUFUS A., educator, college president, was born Nov. 20, 1846, in Coffey county, Tenn. He filled the chair as professor of mathematics in Winchester Normal college for ten years, and in 1889 was made president of that institution.

CLARK, RUFUS WHEELWRIGHT, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 17, 1813, in Newburyport, Mass. He was a Reformed Dutch clergyman of Albany. Among his more than a hundred publications are Lectures to Young Men; Heaven and Its Scriptural Emblems; Life Scenes of the Messiah; Romanism in America; The African Slave Trade; and Heroes of Albany. He died Aug. 9, 1886, in Nantucket, Mass.

CLARK, RUSH, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 1, 1834, in Schellsburg, Pa. He was a representative in the state legislature from 1860 to 1864, serving as speaker the last two years; was a member of the governor's staff in 1861 and 1862. He was again elected to the state assembly in 1876; was elected a representative from Iowa to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses. He died April 28, 1879.

CLARK, S. H. H., railroad president. He is president and receiver of the Union Pacific railroad at Omaha, Neb.

CLARK, SAMUEL, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1833 to 1835. On removing to Michigan he was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1853 to 1855. He died Oct. 2, 1870, in Kalamazoo, Mich.

CLARK, SAMUEL ADAMS, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 27, 1822, in Newburyport, Mass. He became in 1848 rector of the Church of the Advent, Philadelphia, where he continued till 1856. He was then called to St. John's church, Elizabeth, N. J., where he remained till his death. He published Memoir of Albert W. Day, prefixed to Day's sermons; and History of St. John's Church, Elizabethtown, N. J. He died Jan. 28, 1875, in Elizabeth, N. J.

CLARK, SAMUEL M., soldier, lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Oct. 11, 1842, in Van Buren county, Iowa. He enlisted as a private in company H, nineteenth Iowa infantry, but was not mustered in because of ill health. He has been editor of the Keokuk Gate City for thirty-one years; was a delegate to the national republican conventions of 1872, 1876, and 1880; and was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses.

CLARK, SIMEON TUCKER, physician, author, poet, was born Oct. 10, 1836, in Canton, Mass. He is a successful physician of Lockport, N. Y.; and professor of medical jurisprudence in Niagara university. He is also a noted lecturer and a member of the leading scientific societies in the United States. His poems have appeared in current publications; and he is the author of a work entitled My Garden.

CLARK, MRS. SUSANNA REBECCA GRAHAM, author, was born July 2, 1848, in Nova Scotia. She is a writer of Portland, Maine, who has written much juvenile literature. Among her works are Yensie Walton; Our Street; The Triple E; Achor; Herbert Gardenell's Children; Tom's Street; and Go's Goings.

CLARK, THEODORE MINOT, architect, author, was born in 1845 in Massachusetts. He is an architect in Boston, formerly instructor in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. He is the author of Architect, Owner and Builder Before the Law; Building Superintendence; and Rural School Architecture.

CLARK, THOMAS, educator, author, was born in 1787 in Lancaster, Pa. He was an educator of Philadelphia; and the author of Naval History of the United States from the Commencement of the Revolutionary War, 1814; and Sketches of United States Naval History. He died in 1860 in Philadelphia, Pa.

CLARK, THOMAS MARCH, bishop, author, was born July 4, 1812, in Newburyport, Mass. He is the second protestant episcopal bishop of Rhode Island, and prominent among theologians of the broad church school. He is the author of Primary Truths; The Dew of Youth and Other Lectures to Young Men and Women; Early Discipline and Culture; The Efficient Sunday School Teacher; and Reminiscences; and various other religious works.

CLARK, WALTER, soldier, author, jurist, was born Aug. 19, 1846, in Halifax county, N. C. He was lieutenant-colonel in the confederate service. In 1885 he was elected judge of the superior court of North Carolina, then as judge of the supreme court of North Carolina, receiving the re-election to the same office in 1894. He is the author of several law books.

CLARK, WELLINGTON, lawyer, legislator, was born Sept. 3, 1860, in Marysville, Cal. He is a successful lawyer of Walla Walla, Wash.; was a member of the territorial assembly of Washington in 1887-88, and speaker of the house. He has been prosecuting attorney of his county; court commissioner of the superior court; and master in chancery of the circuit court of the United States for the ninth district of Washington. He has been inspector-general on the governor's staff, and judge advocate general of the national guard of Washington.

CLARK, WILLIAM, congressman. In 1828 he was appointed treasurer of the United States; and from 1833 to 1837 he was a member of the house of representatives in congress from Pennsylvania. He died April 28, 1841, in Dauphin county, Pa.

CLARK, WILLIAM, jurist, governor. In 1800 he was appointed chief justice of the territory of Indiana; and was subsequently commissioned as the second governor of the territory of Missouri.

CLARK, WILLIAM, explorer, soldier, was born Aug. 1, 1770, in Virginia. He was a noted explorer; served in the war of 1812; and was appointed governor of Missouri.

CLARK, WILLIAM, manufacturer, was born in 1841 in Scotland. In 1860 he joined his brother, George A. Clark, in the general agency of the Clark threads in America. In 1864 the brothers started a cotton thread factory in Newark, being identified with the Passaic Thread Co. from the start. In 1873 William Clark rose to seniority in the house. The works now occupy ten acres of ground on the banks of the Passaic river.

CLARK, WILLIAM ADOLPHUS, author, was born Dec. 2, 1825, in New Orleans, La. He received his education in various institutions; and attended the Boston Latin school, and the Dane Law school of Cambridge, Mass. He has been a merchant in New Orleans, La.; a miner in Southern California; and has filled numerous public positions of trust and honor. He is the author of a volume of select poems entitled Intellectual People, and has contributed extensively, both prose and verse, to the leading newspapers and magazines in America.

CLARK, WILLIAM ARTHUR, educator, was born May 23, 1853, in Manchester, Ohio. He received his education at the National Normal university and the Harvard university. He has received the degrees B. A., A. M., and Ph. D. He has been superintendent of various public schools, and for two years had charge of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphan Home schools of Xenia, Ohio; professor of mathematics in the National Normal university; and professor of psychology in the Nebraska Normal school. He is a member of the Nebraska Academy of Science and one of its board of directors. His work in the normal school has been principally in psychology and the history of education.

CLARK, WILLIAM B., president of the Aetna Fire Insurance company of Hartford, Conn., was born June 29, 1841, in Hartford, Conn. For many years he was connected with the Hartford Courant, of which his father was the proprietor. In 1857 he became a clerk with the Phoenix Fire Insurance company; was elected secretary in 1863; and after serving that company for twenty-five years he became assistant secretary of the Aetna. In 1888 he was made vice-president, and in 1892 became president. He holds a prominent and important place in the business affairs of Hartford, and has filled numerous offices of honor.

CLARK, WILLIAM SMITH, soldier, educator, college president, was born July 31, 1826, in Ashfield, Mass. At the beginning of the civil war he was commissioned major of the twenty-first Massachusetts infantry, and in 1862 was appointed colonel. In 1867 he was elected president of the Massachusetts Agricultural college; and in 1864-67 was a representative to the Massachusetts legislature. He died March 9, 1886, in Amherst, Mass.

CLARK, WILLIAM T., soldier, congressman, was born June 29, 1834, in Norwalk, Conn. He served in the union army in all grades up to brevet major-general, and commanded a division in Texas until mustered out in 1866, when he went into business at Galveston. He took an active part in reconstruction; and was elected to the forty-first congress as a republican.

CLARK, WILLIS GAYLORD, poet, was born in 1819 in New York, and was twin brother of L. G. Clark. He was a popular poet in his day. He died June 12, 1841, in Philadelphia, Pa.

CLARKE, ALFRED, public official, lawyer, was born July 27, 1832, in Ireland. He arrived at San Francisco by way of Cape Horn in 1850. During 1856-87 he was connected with the police department of San Francisco; was really the father of the police, having made it a credit to the city. In 1877 he was admitted to the bar of the supreme court, and has since attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of the Pacific coast. He was one of the founders of Calvary Presbyterian church in 1854. He was also one of the founders of the Police Benevolent society in 1879, and for five years was its president.

CLARKE, ALMON TAYLOR, clergyman, poet, was born Feb. 19, 1840, in Ticonderoga, N. Y.

He received his education in several institutions, and in 1872 graduated in theology from Andover Theological seminary, and was ordained the same year as a minister. He has held pastorates in Tiverton, R. I.; Crown Point, N. Y.; Parishville, N. Y.; Sheldon and Franklin, Vt.; and in Florida; and in Shelby, Ala. In 1889 he became editor of the Southern Congregationalist of Atlanta, Ga.; and is now pastor of the Church of the Covenant of Shelby, Ala., and editor of The Helper, a general religious organ of the congregationalist churches of the south. He has filled many positions of honor; was chosen a delegate of the league to the peace congress in Paris; and was urged to be a candidate for congress. He is the author of a number of very fine poems.

CLARKE, ARCHIBALD S., lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, was born in 1778. He was a member of the New York senate for four years, beginning with 1813; and was a representative in congress from New York from 1816 to 1817. He held the several positions of clerk, surrogate and judge of Saratoga county. He died Dec. 4, 1821, in Clarence, N. Y.

CLARKE, AUGUSTUS PECK, physician, surgeon, was born Sept. 24, 1833, in Pawtucket, R. I. In 1856 he entered

Brown university, and in 1861 received the degree of A. M. from that institution; and the degree of M. D. from Harvard university in 1862. He served during the civil war and was promoted to the rank of surgeon; and in 1864 to surgeon-in-chief; and was brevetted lieutenant-colonel and also colonel for gallant and meritorious conduct during his term of service. In 1865 he traveled abroad and attended the various medical schools and hospitals in London, Paris and Leipzig. In 1886 he moved to Cambridge, Mass., and soon established a high reputation as a practitioner. He has been dean and professor in the college of Physicians and Surgeons of Boston since 1893; and has held numerous high positions of honor in medical bodies and other societies. He is the author of Clarke's Kindred Genealogies; Book of Poems; and has contributed valuable articles and papers to various medical journals and magazines.

CLARKE, BAYARD, soldier, congressman, was born March 17, 1815, in New York city. He served in the second regiment of dragoons through the Florida war; resigned in 1843, and settled at Westchester, N. Y., which district he represented in the thirty-fourth congress.

CLARKE, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, educator, college president, was born July 14, 1831, in Newport, Maine. He graduated from the Brown university, in which institution he has been professor and acting president for many years.

CLARKE, BEVERLY L., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a member of the state legislature in 1841 and 1842; and was a member of the state constitutional convention in 1849. He was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1847 to 1849; and in 1858 was appointed minister to Guatemala and Honduras. He died March 7, 1860, in Honduras.

CLARKE, CHARLES E., congressman, was born in 1789 in New York. In 1839 and 1840 he was a member of the New York assembly from Jefferson county; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1849 to 1851. He died Dec. 29, 1863.

CLARKE, CHARLES J., business man, was born March 15, 1833, in Pittsburg, Pa. He was president for sixteen years of the Mercantile Library Hall Co.; and is vice-president of the Pennsylvania College for Women. He is a director of the Pittsburg Safe Deposit and Trust Co.; the Western Insurance Co.; and a member of the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburg.

CLARKE, DANIEL, congressman. He was a delegate to congress from the territory of Orleans of Louisiana from 1806 to 1809.

CLARKE, DORUS, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 2, 1797, in Westhampton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of Boston; and the author of Letters to Horace Mann; Oneness of the Christian Church; Orthodox Congregationalism and the Sects; Saying the Catechism Seventy-five Years Ago and the Historical Results; Review of the Oberlin Council; Letters to Young People in Manufacturing Villages; Revision of the English Version of the Bible; and Essay on the Tri-Unity of God. He died March 8, 1884, in Boston, Mass.

CLARKE, EDWARD FIELDING, lawyer, was born March 19, 1873, in Morehead, Ky. He studied law in his father's office; was admitted to the bar in 1894, and practices his profession in his native city.

CLARKE, EDWARD HAMMOND, physician, author, was born Feb. 2, 1820, in Norton, Mass. He was a prominent physician and medical writer of Boston; and the author of Sex in Education; The Building of a Brain; Visions; A Study of False Sight; and Nature and Treatment of Polypus of the Ear. He died Nov. 30, 1877, in Boston, Mass.

CLARKE, ELIJAH, soldier, was born in North Carolina. He became a captain in 1776, and distinguished himself in engagements both with Indians and British on the frontiers of Georgia. He afterward fought many battles, and made several treaties with the Creek Indians. He died Dec. 15, 1809, in Wilkes county, Pa.

CLARKE, FRANK GAY, lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born Sept. 10, 1850, in Wilton, N. H. He was a member of the state house of representatives of 1885; of the state senate in 1889; re-elected to the former in 1891, and was chosen speaker of that body. He was appointed colonel on the military staff of Governor Hale, and served in that capacity from 1885 to 1887. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

CLARKE, FRANK WIGGLESWORTH, chemist, author, was born March 19, 1847, in Boston, Mass. He is the chief chemist of the United States geological survey at Washington; and the author of Weights, Measures, and Money of All Nations; and Elements of Chemistry.

CLARKE, FREEMAN, merchant, banker, railroad president, congressman, was born March 22, 1809, in Troy, N. Y. In 1862 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-eighth congress. In 1865 he was appointed comptroller of the currency; and in 1867 was elected to the New York state constitutional convention. In 1870 he was elected a representative from New York to the forty-second congress, and in 1872 was re-elected to the forty-third congress.

CLARKE, GEORGE ROGERS, soldier, was born in 1752 in Virginia. He was one of the most accomplished and useful officers of the western pioneers during the revolution. He died in 1848 near Louisville, Ky.

CLARKE, HENRY J., lawyer, jurist, was born March 31, 1845, in Southbridge, Mass. He is a descendant of Jacob Clarke, who came from Bristol, England, in 1679, and settled in Providence, R. I. In 1875 he graduated from the Boston University Law school with the degree of LL. B.; and has attained prominence as an able lawyer of Webster, Mass. He has been a justice of the peace, and held other prominent positions in his county and state.

CLARKE, ISAAC A., soldier, educator, was born March 22, 1837, in Overton county, Tenn. During the war he served as a quartermaster, with the rank of captain, in the confederate army. He was one of the founders of Clarke's academy of Berryville, Ark.; has been county examiner; and is prominent in educational affairs in the state of Arkansas.

CLARKE, ISAAC EDWARDS, lawyer, author, was born in 1830 in Massachusetts. He has been a lawyer in the United States civil service since 1871; and is the author of Tribute to Bayard Taylor; and Industrial and High Art Education in the United States.

CLARKE, JAMES, journalist, governor, was born in 1806 in Westmoreland, Pa. He conducted the Territorial, now State Gazette of Burlington, Iowa, during 1837-39; was appointed secretary of the territory; and from 1843 to 1845 resumed the Gazette. He was governor of the territory in 1846; and again edited the Gazette from 1848 until his death. He died July 28, 1850, in Burlington, Iowa.

CLARKE, JAMES C., railroad president, was born in 1824 in Montgomery county, Md. Since 1895 he has been president of the Mobile and Ohio railroads.

CLARKE, JAMES FREEMAN, clergyman, author, was born April 4, 1810, in Hanover, N. H. He was a unitarian clergyman of Boston, who founded there the Church of the Disciples, and was its pastor from 1841 till his death. He was especially prominent among unitarian writers of the latter half of the century, the tone of his thought being that of the liberal conservative. His first important work was Orthodoxy: Its Truths and Errors (1866). Other works of his include Ten Great Religions, Part I, an Essay in Comparative Theology; Ten Great Religions, Part II, a Comparison of All Religions; Christian Doctrine of Prayer; Thomas Didymus; Common Sense in Religion; Steps of Belief; Events and Epochs in Religious History; Self-Culture; Every Day Religion; The Ideas of the Apostle Paul; Memorial and Biographical Sketches; Vexed Questions in Theology; and Anti-Slavery Days. He died June 8, 1888, in Jamaica Plains, Mass.

CLARKE, JOHN, governor. He was governor of Delaware in 1816 and 1817. He died in August, 1821, in Smyrna, Del.

CLARKE, JOHN, physician, author, and one of the founders of Rhode Island, was born Oct. 8, 1609, in England. He died April 20, 1676, in Newport, R. I.

CLARKE, JOHN, soldier, governor, was born in 1766. He fought under his father, General Elijah Clarke, in the revolutionary army. At the siege of Augusta and at the battle of Jack's Creek, in 1787, he greatly distinguished himself, and attained the rank of major-general of the state militia. He was governor of Georgia from 1819 to 1823. He died Oct. 15, 1832, in West Florida.

CLARKE, JOHN B., lawyer, congressman, was born April 14, 1833, near Augusta, Ky. He was elected county attorney in 1858, and served four years; and was elected to the state senate of Kentucky in 1867, and served four years. He was elected a representative from Kentucky to the forty-fourth and forty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

CLARKE, JOHN C., congressman, was born in 1793, in Connecticut. He served in the assembly of New York in 1826; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1827 to 1829, and again from 1837 to 1843. In 1849 he was appointed first auditor of the treasury. He died in 1852.

CLARKE, JOHN H., lawyer, United States senator, was born in 1791 in Elizabethtown, N. J. He served in the state legislature; and was a senator in congress from Rhode Island, from 1847 to 1853.

CLARKE, JOHN MASON, geologist, author, was born April 15, 1857, in Canandaigua, N. Y. From 1881 till 1884 he was professor of geology and mineralogy at Smith college, Northampton, Mass., after which he filled a similar chair in the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst, and in 1886 became assistant paleontologist of the state of New York. His published papers include New Devonian Crustacea; On Devonian Spores; The Geological Succession in Ontario County, N. Y.; and On the Higher Devonian Faunas of Ontario County, N. Y.

CLARKE, JOHN SLEEKER, actor, was born Sept. 3, 1833, in Baltimore, Md. His professional debut was made as Frank Hardy in Paul Pry at the Howard Athenæum of Boston when he was eighteen years of age. In 1867 he went to reside in London, England. He played Toodles, which is perhaps his finest creation, for two hundred nights without interruption when it was first introduced at the Strand theater, London.

CLARKE, JOHN T., jurist, state senator, was born Jan. 12, 1834, in Putnam county, Ga. He served as judge of the superior courts of the Pataula circuit in Georgia; and in 1878 was a member of the Georgia state senate.

CLARKE, JOSEPH MORRISON, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 6, 1827, in Bethany, Conn. This eminent clergyman is the author of Letters on Christian Union; Annual Addresses; and numerous contributions to church literature.

CLARKE, MAC DONALD, author, poet, was born June 18, 1798, in Bath, Maine. He was an eccentric, unbalanced verser-writer of New York city, who was commonly styled the mad poet; and was the author of Poems; Sketches In Verse; Death in Disguise, a Temperance Poem; The Gossip; Afara, or the Belles of Broadway; A Cross and a Coronet; Elixir of Moonshine; and Review of the Eve of Eternity. He died March 5, 1842, in New York city.

CLARKE, MRS. MARY BAYARD DEVEREUX, author, was born about 1830 in Raleigh, N. C. She published Reminiscences of Cuba; Mosses from a Rolling Stone; Clytie and Zenobia, a poem; and Wood Notes, a compilation of North Carolina verse.

CLARKE, MARY H. G., author, poet, was born March 28, 1835, in Bristol, R. I. Some of her books are: Effie; Fairy Queen of Dolls; Prince Puss-in-Boots; Golden Hair and Her Knight of the Bean Stalk in the Enchanted Forest; and numerous others. She died May 31, 1892, in Cambridge, Mass.

CLARKE, MATTHEW ST. CLAIR, journalist, state legislator, was born in Pennsylvania. In 1843 he was appointed sixth auditor of the treasury, and held that office two years. He was the publisher of the great work called the American Archives, edited by Peter Force, who was also directly interested in its publication. He died in Washington, D. C.

CLARKE, NATHAN DANE APPLETON, lawyer, was born April 15, 1852, in Alfred, Maine. He graduated from the Bowdoin college, and has attained prominence as one of the foremost lawyers of Massachusetts, and practices his profession in Lynn.

CLARKE, NEWMAN S., soldier, was born in Connecticut. He commanded a brigade in Mexico in 1847, and received the brevet of brigadier-general, March 29, 1847, for gallant conduct at the siege of Vera Cruz. He died Oct. 17, 1860, in San Francisco, Cal.

CLARKE, READER WRIGHT, state legislator, congressman, was born May 18, 1812, in Bethel, Ohio. He was elected to the Ohio legislature in 1840-41; was a delegate, in 1844, to the Baltimore convention, and was a presidential elector at the ensuing election. In 1864 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses. In 1869 he was appointed third auditor of the treasury, and afterwards a collector of internal revenue in Ohio. He died May 23, 1872.

CLARKE, REBECCA SOPHIA, author, was born Feb. 22, 1833, in Norridgewock, Maine. She is a popular writer of stories for children and young people, who was born and has always lived at Norridgewock, Maine. Of the former class are the Little Prudy Books; Dotty Dimple Series; and Flaxie Frizzle Stories. Of the latter class are Her Friend's Lover; Janet; The Ashbury Twins; In Old Quinnebasset; Quinnebasset Girls; and The Doctor's Daughter.

CLARKE, RICHARD, merchant, was born in 1708. He became a merchant in Boston, and he and his sons were consignees of part of the tea that was thrown overboard by the tea-party in Boston harbor in December, 1773. He died in 1795, in England.

CLARKE, RICHARD H., lawyer, author, was born July 3, 1827, in Washington, D. C. He is a prominent Roman Catholic lawyer of Washington, and, later, of New York, who has written many controversial papers, and published Illustrated History of the Catholic Church in the United States; and Lives of Deceased Roman Catholic Bishops of the United States.

CLARKE, RICHARD H., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 9, 1843, in Marengo county, Ala. He served as a lieutenant in the first battalion of Alabama artillery. He was prosecuting attorney for Marengo county from 1872 to 1876, and was prosecuting attorney of the seventh judicial circuit from 1876 to 1877. He was elected to the fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a democrat.

CLARKE, ROBERT, surveyor, was born in London, England. In 1639 he sat as a freeman in the Maryland legislature, in 1640 was deputy surveyor, and in 1649 surveyor-general of the province. He died in Maryland.

CLARKE, ROBERT, journalist, author, was born May 1, 1829, in Scotland. He edited Col. George Rogers Clarke's Campaign in the Illinois in 1778-79; James McBride's Pioneer Biographies; Captain James Smith's Captivity with the Indians; and is the author of a pamphlet entitled The Pre-Historic Remains Which Were Found on the Site of the City of Cincinnati, with a Vindication of the Cincinnati Tablet.

CLARKE, SAMUEL, clergyman, author, was born in 1599 in England. He published, besides theological works and a famous General Martyrology, A True and Faithful Account of the Four Chiefest Plantations of the English in America; and New Description of the World. He died in 1682.

CLARKE, SAMUEL FESSENDEN, naturalist, author, was born June 4, 1851, in Geneva, Ill. During 1874-75 he was assistant to the United States fish commission, and from 1879 till 1881 assistant in the biological laboratory at Johns Hopkins university. In 1882 he became lecturer in biology at Smith college, and also professor of natural sciences at Williams college.

CLARKE, SARA J., author, was born Sept. 12, 1840, in Norridgewock, Maine. She is the author of the Little Miss Weezy Series and the Silver Gate Series, which have become very popular.

CLARKE, SIDNEY, soldier, journalist, congressman, was born Oct. 16, 1831, in Southbridge, Mass. He published the Southbridge Press. In 1858 he moved to Kansas, and settled in Lawrence. He was a member of the state legislature in 1862; and subsequently rendered military service against the rebellion as a captain of volunteers, and assistant provost marshal-general. He was elected a representative from Kansas to the thirty-ninth, fortieth and forty-first congresses as a republican, and made chairman of Indian affairs.

CLARKE, STALEY N., congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1841 to 1843.

CLARKE, WALTER. He was a colonial governor of Rhode Island and lived in the seventeenth century.

CLARKE, WILLIAM, soldier, explorer, governor, was born Aug. 1, 1770, in Virginia. He was associated with Lewis, and conducted the first exploring expedition across the American continent to the Columbia river, and gave the names of Lewis and Clarke to the two tributaries of that river. He was promoted to brigadier-general, and was governor of Louisiana territory from 1813-20. He died Sept. 1, 1838, in St. Louis, Mo.

CLARKSON, FLOYD, soldier, was born Feb. 27, 1831, in New York city. He served through the civil war, and in 1866 was brevetted lieutenant-colonel for faithful and meritorious services. He was a trustee of the Union Dime Savings bank of New York city, and president of the Riverside bank. He died Jan. 2, 1894, in New York city.

CLARKSON, JAMES SULLIVAN, journalist, was born May 17, 1842, in Brookville, Ind. He has been first assistant postmaster - general, and chairman of the republican national committee. He has a natural aptitude and love for politics. He was made chairman of the republican state committee when but twenty-four years of age; and when twenty-five was offered the Swiss mission by President Grant. In 1871 he was appointed postmaster at Des Moines, Iowa, which he filled until 1877. He began life as a school teacher; learned the printing business and worked on the Daily State Register of Des Moines, of which he became foreman, reporter, night editor, city editor, and editor-in-chief. This publication, with his brother, he purchased in 1870, which he has made the leading paper of Iowa. He is president of the Republican league of the United States, and one of the foremost political leaders in America.

CLARKSON, MATTHEW, congressman. He was a delegate to the continental congress from Pennsylvania from 1785 to 1786.

CLARKSON, ROBERT HARPER, bishop, author, was born Nov. 19, 1826, in Gettysburg, Pa. He was consecrated missionary bishop of Nebraska and Dakota, in Chicago in 1865, and three years later, when Nebraska was organized as a diocese and admitted into union with the general convention, he was chosen to be the bishop of the new diocese. He died March 10, 1884, in Omaha, Neb.

CLARY, JOSEPH MONROE, educator, lawyer, author, was born July 28, 1861, in Saline county, Ill. He is the author of a work entitled Our Nation's History and Song.

CLARY, ROBERT ENMET, soldier, was born March 21, 1805, in Ashfield, Mass. He served in the Florida war of 1840-41; and at various posts till the civil war. In 1865 he was brevetted brigadier-general for his services during the war. He died Jan. 19, 1890, in Washington, D. C.

CLASON, ISAAC STARR, educator, actor, author, poet, was born in 1789 in New York. He was the author of Horace in New York, a collection of poems, full of the New York gossip of the day, and celebrating, among others, Madame Malibran, then the chief operatic singer. He died in 1834 in London, England.

CLAWSON, ISAIAH D., congressman, was born March 30, 1822, in Woodstown, N. J. He was a member of the New Jersey assembly in 1853, and was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses.

CLAXTON, KATE, actress, was born in 1848 in New York city. She first appeared with Lotta in Chicago, but attracted no attention until the production of Led Astray, in 1873.

CLAY, ALEXANDER STEPHENS, United States senator, was born Sept. 25, in Cobb county, Ga. He was elected a member of the city council in 1880 and re-elected in 1881; and in 1884-85 and 1886-87 represented Cobb county in the general assembly of the state. In the latter term he was elected speaker pro-tempore; was re-elected for 1889-90, and served as speaker for two years. In 1892 he was elected to the state senate, and served as president of that body for two years. In 1894 he was elected chairman of the state democratic executive committee, and conducted the state campaign between the democrats and populists that year, and was re-elected to the same position in 1896, and still occupies the place. He was elected to the United States senate as a democrat for term of 1897-1903.

CLAY, BRUTUS J., state legislator, congressman, was born July 1, 1808, in Madison county, Ky. In 1840 he served in the Kentucky state legislature. He was elected a representative from Kentucky to the thirty-eighth congress.

CLAY, CASSIUS MARCELLUS, statesman, was born Oct. 19, 1810, in Madison county, Ky. He was a member of the Kentucky legislature in 1835, 1837 and 1840, and of the national whig convention of 1840, at Harrisburg. He stumped the northern states for Henry Clay for the presidency in 1844; in 1845, issued, in Lexington, The True American, a weekly anti-slavery paper; in August his press was seized by a mob, and the paper was afterwards printed in Cincinnati and published in Lexington, whither he had removed in 1840, and later in Louisville.

CLAY, CLEMENT CLAIBORNE, JR., state legislator, United States senator, was born in 1819 in Madison, Ala. He served in the legislature of Alabama in 1842, 1844 and 1845, and was elected in 1846 a judge of the Madison county court. In 1852 he was a presidential elector, and in 1853 was elected a senator in congress from Alabama. In 1859 he was re-elected for the term of six years, receiving every vote in the legislature. He was expelled from the senate March 14, 1861, and took part in the rebellion of that year, and was subsequently confined in Fortress Monroe as a prisoner of state.

CLAY, CLEMENT COMER, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, governor, was born Dec. 17, 1789, in Halifax county, Va. He was elected a member of the territorial council of Alabama, and in 1819 was elected one of the judges of the circuit court, and in 1820 was chosen chief justice of that court. In 1828 he was elected to the state legislature, and was made speaker. He was a representative in congress from Alabama from 1827 to 1835, and in 1835 was elected governor of Alabama, serving two years. In 1837 he was elected a senator in congress for the term ending in 1842. He died Sept. 9, 1866, in Huntsville, Ala.

CLAY, GREEN, soldier, surveyor, state legislator, was born Aug. 14, 1757, in Powhatan county, Va. He was a representative of the Kentucky district in the Virginia legislature; a member of the convention that ratified the federal constitution, and a leading member of the Kentucky constitutional convention of 1799. He died Oct. 31, 1826, in Kentucky.

CLAY, HENRY, statesman, orator, was born April 12, 1777, in Hanover county, Va. He was sent to the senate from Kentucky in 1806, and from that date, his life, time and talents were interwoven with the political welfare of his country. He was thrice a candidate for the presidency, but his adherence to principle instead of party lost for him the unanimous vote.

When warned by his friends that his compromise bill would lessen his chances for the presidency, he gave his ever-remembered reply: I would rather be right than president. He became a United States senator for nearly half a century. He died June 29, 1852, in Washington, D. C.

CLAY, HENRY DE B., soldier, was born June 22, 1843, in Cincinnati, Ohio. In 1860 he graduated from Mount Pleasant military academy of Sing Sing, N. Y. He served through the civil war as captain, and after the war accompanied his regiment to the frontier, and served in Arizona, California, Oregon and Washington territory, and resigned from the army in 1870. In 1876 he was called to organize and command as colonel the Centennial Guards, a semi-military police of twelve hundred men. In 1883 he was president of the Eastern Lunatic asylum of Williamsburg, Va., and for two years was collector of customs at Newport News. In 1885 he was commander of the G. A. R.

department of Virginia and North Carolina, and received the re-election the following year. During 1891-96 he was president of the state league of republican clubs of Virginia, and for three years was again collector of customs at Newport News, during 1890-93.

CLAY, JAMES BROWN, congressman, was born in Washington City, D. C., Nov. 9, 1817. He was elected to congress in 1857, serving one term on the committee on foreign affairs, and was a member of the peace convention of 1861, held in Washington. He was identified with the rebellion of 1861. He died Jan. 26, 1861, in Montreal, Canada.

CLAY, JAMES F., state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 29, 1840, in Henderson, Ky. He was a state senator from 1872 to 1875, and was elected a representative from Kentucky to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

CLAY, JAMES RALPH, educator, was born Aug. 19, 1867, near Camden Pt., Mo. He attended the Gem City Business college of Quincy, Ill., and the Normal school of Chillicothe, Mo. He has principally been engaged in educational work, and is the vice-president of the Epworth league at Dearborn, Mo.

CLAY, JOHN RANDOLPH, diplomat, was born in 1808 in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1830 he went to Russia as secretary of legation, and in 1836 was appointed charge d'affaires to the same country. In 1838 he was made secretary of legation to Austria; and in 1845 went back to Russia in the same capacity. In 1847 he was appointed charge d'affaires to Peru, and in 1853 raised to the rank of minister plenipotentiary to the same country, remaining there until 1860.

CLAY, JOSEPH, jurist, congressman, was born in 1741. He was a delegate from Georgia to the continental congress from 1778 to 1780, and was judge of the district court of Georgia from 1796 to 1801. He was paymaster-general of the southern department during the revolution. He died Jan. 16, 1805, in Savannah, Ga.

CLAY, JOSEPH, lawyer, jurist, clergyman, was born Aug. 16, 1764, in Savannah, Ga. He was a leading member of the state constitutional convention, and was United States district judge of Georgia from 1796-1801. He died Jan. 11, 1811, in Boston, Mass.

CLAY, MATTHEW, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1797 to 1813. He died in 1815.

CLAY, THOMAS H., diplomat, was born in 1803, in Kentucky, and son of Henry Clay. In 1862 he was appointed minister resident to Nicaragua, where he remained until 1866. During the same period he was accredited as minister to Honduras. He died March 18, 1871, in Lexington, Ky.

CLAYPOOL, BENJAMIN F., congressman, was born Dec. 12, 1825, in Connersville, Ind. He was in 1856 a delegate to the Philadelphia convention that nominated John C. Fremont. In 1860 he was elected Senator from the counties of Fayette and Union. In 1874 he was the nominee for congress in the then fifth congressional district. Became president of the National Farmers' congress.

CLAYTON, ALEXANDER M., jurist. He was an early emigrant to Arkansas when it was a territory, and in 1835 was appointed one of the United States judges for that district.

CLAYTON, AUGUSTIN SMITH, jurist, state legislator, author, was born Nov. 27, 1783, in Fredericksburg, Va. He was appointed judge of the superior court; was a presidential elector in 1829, and was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1831 to 1835. He died June 21, 1839, at Athens, Ga.

CLAYTON, BENJAMIN F., farmer, state legislator, was born in 1839, near Carlisle, Ky. He moved to Indiana in 1855, and to Iowa in 1873. He is a successful farmer and business man; has lectured extensively, and contributed to current literature. He has been a member of the Iowa house of representatives for three terms; and has been president of the board of trustees of Simpson college of Indianola, Iowa. For four years he has been president of the Farmers' National congress of the United States; and in 1895 was president of the Pan-American Agricultural parliament at Atlanta, Ga. In 1896 he was prominently identified as a nominee for the governorship of Iowa.

CLAYTON, CHARLES, surveyor, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1825 in England. He was a member of the state legislature in 1863-66; a member of the board of supervisors of San Francisco from 1864 to 1869; and in 1870 was appointed surveyor of customs of the port and district of San Francisco. He was elected to the forty-third congress, serving on the committees on commerce and the centennial celebration.

CLAYTON, HENRY D., lawyer, congressman, was born in Barbour county, Ala. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

CLAYTON, JOHN MIDDLETON, lawyer, United States senator, was born July 24, 1796, in Sussex county, Del. He was elected to the state legislature, and subsequently secretary of the state of Delaware. In 1829 he was chosen a senator in congress and re-elected in 1835. He was appointed chief justice of Delaware, and was again elected to the federal senate in 1845, and was a senator until 1849, when he became secretary of state under President Taylor. During this period he negotiated the famous Clayton-Bulwer treaty, and was for the third time elected to the senate, taking his seat in March, 1851. He died Nov. 9, 1856, in Dover, Del.

CLAYTON, JOSHUA, United States senator, governor. He was president of Delaware from 1789 to 1793; governor from 1793 to 1796; and was chosen senator of the United States in 1798. He died Aug. 11, 1798, in Middletown, Del.

CLAYTON, POWELL, soldier, railroad president, United States senator, governor, was born Aug. 7, 1833, in Bethel, Pa. He entered the union army in Kansas, and was promoted to brigadier-general in 1864. He settled in Arkansas at the close of the war as a planter; was elected governor in 1868, and United States senator in 1871, for the term ending in 1877. Since 1888 he has been president of the Eureka Springs railway.

CLAYTON, THOMAS, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born March 9, 1778, in Newcastle, Del. He was a representative in congress from Delaware from 1813 to 1817; United States senator from 1823 to 1826, and again from 1837 to 1847. He was, at different periods, a member of the Delaware legislature, chief justice of the court of common pleas, and of the superior court. He died Aug. 21, 1854, in Newcastle, Del.

CLAYTOR, GRAHAM, lawyer, author, poet, was born Oct. 27, 1852, in Bedford county, Va. For many years he taught school; then engaged in the practice of law at Bedford City, Va.; and in 1895 was elected the commonwealth's attorney. He is the author of two novels of southern life, and a book of pastoral poems.

CLEARY, KATE PHELIM, author, poet, was born Aug. 20, 1863, in Canada. A number of excellent short stories and poems have appeared from the pen of this author in standard collections and in current magazines.

CLEAVELAND, J. F., merchant, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1836 to 1839. He subsequently removed to Charleston, where he became a merchant. He died May 19, 1841.

CLEAVELAND, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born April 22, 1722, in Canterbury, Conn. He was a congregational minister of Massachusetts, and the author of The Work of God at Chebacco (now Essex) in 1763; Essay to Defend Christ's Sacrifice and Atonement against Aspersions Cast on the Same by Dr. Mayhew; Reply to Dr. Mayhew's Letter of Reproof; and Treatise on Infant Baptism. He died April 22, 1799, in Ipswich, Mass.

CLEAVELAND, MOSES, pioneer, was born Jan. 29, 1754, in Canterbury, Conn. He was commissioned captain of a company of sappers and miners in 1779, served for several years, and then resumed legal practice. He was several times elected to the legislature, and in 1796 was commissioned brigadier-general of militia. He died Nov. 16, 1806, in Canterbury, Conn.

CLEAVELAND, NEHEMIAH, educator, author, was born in 1796 in Topsfield, Mass. He was an educator of Massachusetts, who published a History of Bowdoin College, with Biographical Sketches of Its Graduates, 1806-79, which was edited and completed by A. S. Packard. He died in 1877.

CLEAVELAND, PARKER, educator, scientist, author, was born Jan. 15, 1780, in Rowley, Mass. In 1799 he graduated from Bowdoin college; and then entered educational work. In 1805 he became professor of mathematics and natural philosophy in Bowdoin college; and subsequently lectured extensively on the sciences of chemistry and mineralogy. He was the author of a work on Mineralogy; and contributed extensively to scientific journals. He gained the title of the father of American mineralogy. He died Oct. 15, 1858, in Brunswick, Maine.

CLEAVES, HENRY BRADSTREET, lawyer, legislator, governor. He was educated in the common schools of Maine, and at Bridgton and Lewiston Falls academies. He served under Grant and Sheridan in the war for the preservation of the union, and at its close was offered a commission in the regular army by secretary of war Stanton, which was declined. He served as city solicitor of Portland, Maine, and represented that city in the state legislature two terms. He served five years as attorney-general of Maine. In 1893 he was elected governor of Maine, and served with distinction for two terms, and upon Governor Cleaves' retiring from this office in January, 1897, both branches of the legislature unanimously passed resolutions commending his honorable service.

CLEAVES, NATHAN, lawyer, state legislator, jurist, was born in January, 1835, in Bridgton, Maine. He was elected city solicitor of Portland, Maine, in 1869; and has represented that city twice in the legislature, and been judge of probate for the county.

CLELAND, THOMAS, clergyman, author, was born May 22, 1778, in Fairfax county, Va. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Kentucky, much inclined to controversy, who published Letters on Campbellism; The Socini-Arian Detected; and Unitarianism Unmasked. He died Jan. 31, 1858, in Fairfax county, Va.

CLEMENS, JEREMIAH, soldier, United States senator, author, was born Dec. 23, 1814, in Huntsville, Ala. In 1830-41 he was elected a member of the state legislature; in 1842 raised a company of volunteer troops and went to Texas, having been appointed lieutenant-colonel, and was subsequently appointed to the same office in the regular army. In 1843 and 1844 he was again elected to the legislature; in 1844 was a presidential elector, and in 1848 was appointed governor of the civil and military department of purchase in Mexico, which position he held until the close of the war. He was a senator in congress from Alabama from 1849 to 1853. He was the author of Bernard Lile; Mustang Gray; The Rivals; and Tobias Wilson. He died May 21, 1865, in Huntsville, Ala.

CLEMENS, SAMUEL LANGHORNE, author, was born Nov. 30, 1835, in Florida, Mo. He is a celebrated humorist, who, after an eventful experience as a journalist, rose to fame by the publication of The Innocents Abroad, a volume of extravagantly humorous travels, which still remains his most popular book. Only a very small portion of his writing has any place as literature, but as an author he is one of the most popular and successful of his time. Other works of his are: A Tramp Abroad; Roughing It; Tom Sawyer; The Gilded Age (with C. D. Warner); The Jumping Frog; Life on the Mississippi; Huckleberry Finn; Merry Tales; A Connecticut Yankee at King Arthur's Court; Tom Sawyer Abroad; Puddin'head Wilson; The American Claimant. The Prince and the Pauper; and Joan of Arc, are works in a serious vein, the first being his most finished production.

CLEMENS, SHERRARD, lawyer, congressman, was born April 28, 1826, in Wheeling, Va. He was elected a member of congress from 1852 to 1853, and was elected to the thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth congresses.

CLEMENS, WILLIAM M., journalist, author, was born in 1859. He is a journalist of Cleveland; and the author of Life and Times of John Brown, and The Nemesis of Passion.

CLEMENT, MRS. CLARA ERSKINE, author, was born Aug. 28, 1834, in St. Louis, Mo. Her first work, the Simple Story of the Orient, was printed privately in 1869. She has published Legendary and Mythological Art; Painters, Sculptors, Architects, Engravers, and their Works; Artists of the Nineteenth Century and their Works, in conjunction with Laurence Hutton; Eleanor Maitland, a novel; History of Egypt; three Hand-Books of Painting, Sculpture and Architecture; Christian Symbols and Stories of the Saints; and Stories of Art and Artists.

CLEMENTS, ANDREW J., physician, congressman, was born in 1832 in Jackson county, Tenn. He was elected a representative from Tennessee in the thirty-seventh congress, and in 1866 was elected to the legislature of Tennessee.

CLEMENTS, CHARLES WESLEY, merchant, legislator, was born July 22, 1851, near Church Hill, Md. He is a successful merchant of Crumpton, Md.; served with distinction as a member of the house of delegates of Maryland in 1894; and has always taken an active part in politics.

CLEMENTS, EMMA NEWBOLD, temperance reformer. She became greatly interested in temperance reform in 1884; has been the president of two local unions of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, and one of its national superintendents.

CLEMENTS, ISAAC, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1837 in Franklin county, Ind. He entered the union army as second lieutenant of infantry in 1861, and remained in the service three years. He was appointed register in bankruptcy in June, 1867, and was elected to the forty-third congress as a republican.

CLEMENTS, JUDSON C., lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 12, 1846, in Walker county, Ga. He was elected a representative in the state legislature in 1872 for the term of two years, and was re-elected in 1874. He was elected a state senator in 1877, and was elected a representative from Georgia to the forty-seventh, forty-eighth and forty-ninth congresses.

CLEMENTS, NEWTON N., merchant, congressman, was born Dec. 23, 1837, in Tuscaloosa county, Ala. He was president of the Tuscaloosa Manufacturing company, and was a representative in the legislature of Alabama in 1870-78. He was elected a representative from Alabama to the forty-sixth congress to fill a vacancy.

CLEMENTS, SAMUEL, educator, clergyman, was born Oct. 20, 1825, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1870 he had the care for a year of a missionary training school; at the end of that time he was led to establish, near Philadelphia, the Cheltenham academy, a military school for boys, where hundreds have been educated for lives of usefulness. He died Dec. 9, 1888.

CLEMMER, MARY, author, poet, was born in 1838. She was one of America's best newspaper correspondents; and the author of Memorial of Alice and Phoebe Cary, His Two Wives, a volume of poems. She died in 1884.

CLEAVELAND, WILLIAM WALDO, manufacturer, was born Jan. 8, 1864, in Lake City, Fla. In 1893 he organized a stock company to handle and manufacture furniture on a scale never before attempted in Florida.

CLENDENEN, DAVID, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1814 to 1815 to fill a vacancy; and again from 1815 to 1817.

CLENDENING, JAMES H., lawyer, was born March 17, 1834, in Ogdensburg, N. Y. He graduated from the Columbia law college and has attained prominence as an able lawyer of Fort Smith, Ark. He was postmaster of his city for eight years; and for eight years president of the Fort Smith chamber of commerce; and in 1893 he served as a national commissioner to the World's Fair. He served with distinction during the civil war; enlisted from Iowa in 1862, and mustered out as lieutenant-colonel in 1865.

CLENDENING, JOHN, engineer, railroad manager, was born July 15, 1854, in Philadelphia, Pa. Since 1870 he has been in the railway service; and has filled numerous important positions. He is now roadmaster of the Southern Pacific company at San Francisco, Cal.; and also takes an active part in the public affairs of his city, county and state.

CLEPHANE, JAMES O., lawyer, inventor, was born Feb. 21, 1842, in Washington, D. C. In 1892 he was elected vice-president of the Linotype Reporting and Printing company, and he devoted a large amount of capital and enterprise toward the development of the graphophone.

CLEVELAND, AARON, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 3, 1744, in Haddam, Conn. He was a poet who late in life became a congregational minister. He was the great-grandfather of President Cleveland. He was the author of The Philosopher and Boy, and Slavery Considered, both productions in verse. He died Sept. 21, 1815.

CLEVELAND, BENJAMIN, soldier, jurist, was born March 26, 1738, in Virginia. He served in the revolutionary war, and attained the rank of captain. At the close of the war he settled in Tugalo Valley, and was judge in old Pendleton county for many years. He died October, 1806, in Tugalo Valley, S. C.

CLEVELAND, CHARLES DEXTER, educator, author, was born Dec. 3, 1802, in Salem, Mass. He was an educator of Philadelphia, who published Compendiums of English, American, and Classical Literature; English Literature of the Nineteenth Century; and critical edition of Milton, with notes and life. He died Aug. 18, 1869, in Philadelphia, Pa.

CLEVELAND, CHAUNCEY FITCH, was born Feb. 16, 1799, in Hampton, Conn. He was in the Connecticut legislature for ten terms, 1826-1848; and was twice elected speaker. He was appointed attorney for the state in 1832; was governor of Connecticut in 1842-43, and representative in congress from 1849 to 1853. He died June 6, 1887, in Hampton, Conn.

CLEVELAND, CYNTHIA ELOISE, lawyer, lecturer, was born Aug. 13, 1845, in Canton, N. Y. She received her education in the public schools, and at the Medina academy. She has been eminently successful as a lawyer, lecturer and writer; was vice-president of the Woman's National Temperance union, and director of the American Author's guild. She lectured in 1884 on the public platform in behalf of Grover Cleveland. She is the only woman ever appointed to classified service from civil service register upon the law examination. She now is auditing money order accounts in Washington, D. C. She is the author of a political novel entitled See Saw, or Civil Service in the Departments; and Is It Fate?

CLEVELAND, GROVER, twenty-second president of the United States, was born March 18, 1837, in Caldwell, N. J. In 1855 he entered a law office in Buffalo as clerk, at four dollars a week, and was admitted to the bar in 1859. He was assistant district attorney of Erie county for three years, beginning January 1, 1863. In 1865 he was a candidate for district attorney, and was beaten. He was elected sheriff of Erie county in 1870 for three years. He was elected mayor of Buffalo in 1881 for the term beginning Jan. 1, 1882. In November, 1882, he was elected governor of New York by 192,854 plurality over Charles J. Folger, and took the oath of office Jan. 1, 1883. July 8, 1884, the democratic national convention met at Chicago. The rules required a two-thirds vote to nominate. On the first ballot Grover Cleveland received 392 votes; Thomas F. Bayard, Delaware, 170; Allen G. Thurman, Ohio, 88; Samuel J. Randall, Pennsylvania, 78; Joseph McDonald, Indiana, 56; John G. Carlisle, Kentucky, 27; Roswell P. Flower, New York, 4; George Hoadly, Ohio, 3; Samuel J. Tilden, New York, 1, and Thomas A. Hendricks, Indiana, 1 vote. The second vote stood: Cleveland, 683; Bayard, 81½; Hendricks, 45½; Thurman, 4; Randall, 4, and McDonald, 2. Cleveland's nomination was made unanimous by Thomas A. Hendricks, of Indiana, who was then nominated for vice-president by acclamation. The election in November was very close, the popular vote being 4,911,017 for Cleveland and 4,848,334 for Blaine, giving Cleveland 62,683 plurality. In the state of New York the Cleveland electors carried the state by 1,047 plurality, giving him the 36 electoral votes of that state and a majority of 37 in the electoral college. He resigned as governor of New York Jan. 6, and was inaugurated President March 4, 1885. The democratic national convention met at St. Louis June 5, 1888, and unanimously re-nominated Cleveland for president. Allen G. Thurman was nominated for vice-president. They were beaten at the November election. Grover Cleveland was again elected to the presidency of the United States and served during 1893-97.

CLEVELAND, HENRY RUSSELL, author, was born in 1809. He was the author of The Classical Education of Boys; and Life of Henry Hudson. He died June 12, 1843, in St. Louis, Mo.

CLEVELAND, HORACE WILLIAM SHALER, author, was born Dec. 16, 1814, in Lancaster, Mass. He is a noted landscape gardener of Minneapolis; and the author of Hints to Riflemen; Landscape Architecture; and Voyages of a Merchant Navigator.

CLEVELAND, JESSE, merchant, patriarch, was born in February, 1785, in Spartanburg, S. C. He settled in Spartanburg in 1810; opened the second store in that place, and was its leading merchant for forty-one years. He became the patriarch of the county, and the founder of the largest, wealthiest and most influential families of northern South Carolina. He died Dec. 3, 1851, in Spartanburg, S. C.

CLEVELAND, ORESTES, merchant, congressman, was born March 2, 1829, in Duaneburg, N. Y. He was in the city councils of Jersey City in 1861-62; president of the board of aldermen one year; was mayor of the city in 1864, 1865 and 1866; and rendered the union cause some financial help in 1864. He was elected a representative from New Jersey to the forty-first congress, serving on the committees on territories and manufactures.

CLEVELAND, RICHARD JEFFREY, author, was born in 1773 in Massachusetts. He was the author of Voyages and Commercial Enterprises; and Voyages of a Merchant Navigator of the Days that are Past. He died in 1860.

CLEVELAND, ROSE ELIZABETH, author, poet, was born in 1846 in Fayetteville, N. Y.; and is the daughter of the Rev. Richard Cleveland, a noted Presbyterian clergyman. She received her education at the Houghton seminary. She was the mistress of the White House during the first administration of her brother, ex-President Grover Cleveland. She is the author of a number of essays, poems and novels, the principal of which are George Eliot's Poetry and Other Studies; and The Long Run, a novel.

CLEVINGER, SHOHAL VAIL, sculptor, was born Oct. 23, 1812, in Middletown, Ohio. Specimens of his work are now preserved in the art-galleries of the Boston Athenæum, the New York and Philadelphia Historical societies, the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York, and the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia. His bust of Daniel Webster, recognized as the most faithful likeness of the great statesman, was selected by the postoffice department as best adapted for representation on the fifteen-cent United States postage-stamp. He died Sept. 23, 1843, in Chicago, Ill.

CLEVINGER, SHOHAL VAIL, physician, author, was born March 24, 1843, in Florence, Italy. He is a physician of Chicago, and son of the noted sculptor of the same name. He is the author of Treatise on Government Surveying; Comparative Physiology and Psychology; and Lectures on Artistic Anatomy and Sciences Useful to the Artist.

CLEVER, CHARLES P., lawyer, congressman, author, was born Feb. 23, 1830, in Germany. He filled the offices in New Mexico of United States marshal, attorney-general, adjutant-general, as well as several others; and was elected a delegate from New Mexico to the fortieth congress. In 1868 he published a small work on the Resources of New Mexico.

CLEWS, HENRY, financier, author, was born Aug. 14, 1840, in England. In 1859 he became a member of Livermore, Clews and Company, bankers; and became the largest negotiator of railroad loans in America or Europe. He is the author of a work entitled Twenty-Eight Years in Wall Street.

CLIFFORD, BRANCH GREENLEAF, educator, clergyman, college president, was born Dec. 1, 1843, in Haverhill, N. H. He received a thorough education, and has had the degrees of A. B., A. M., and Ph. D. conferred upon him. He has attained eminence as a clergyman of the Presbyterian church, and is the president and proprietor of the Clifford seminary of Union, S. C.

CLIFFORD, JOHN HENRY, lawyer, state legislator, governor, was born Jan. 16, 1809, in Providence, R. I. He was a member of the legislature in 1835; and attorney-general of Massachusetts from 1849 to 1853, and from 1854 to 1858. He was governor of the state in 1853-54; and president of the state senate in 1862. He died Jan. 2, 1876, in New Bedford, Mass.

CLIFFORD, NATHAN, lawyer, jurist, diplomat, congressman, was born Aug. 18, 1803, in Rumney, N. H. He was elected to the legislature from York county in 1830, and re-elected for three years, during the last two occupying the post of speaker. In 1834 he was appointed attorney-general for the state of Maine; was a representative in congress from 1839 to 1843; and in 1846 was appointed attorney-general of the United States. In 1847 he was appointed commissioner to Mexico; and when peace was declared between this country and Mexico he was appointed minister to that republic. In 1858 he was appointed an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. He published United States Court Reports. He died July 25, 1881, in Cornish, Maine.

CLIFT, JOSEPH WALES, physician, congressman, was born Sept. 1, 1836, in Marshfield, Mass. He was appointed register of that city, and was elected in 1868 a representative from Georgia to the fortieth congress.

CLIFTON, JOSEPHINE, actress, was born in 1813, in New York city. She was the first American actress to visit England as a star, and her reception was a very cordial one. In 1837 N. P. Willis wrote for her the tragedy Bianca Visconte, which was first produced at the Park theater of New York city. She died Nov. 22, 1847, in New Orleans, La.

CLIFTON, WILLIAM, poet, was born in 1772 in Philadelphia, Pa. During the excitement produced by Jay's treaty, Clifton used his pen in support of the administration, contributing to the newspapers many satires in prose and verse. His poems were collected and published after his death with Introductory Notes of His Life and Character (New York, 1800). He died in December, 1799.

CLINCH, CHARLES POWELL, author, poet, was born Oct. 20, 1797, in New York city. For many years Mr. Clinch was an editorial writer for the press, and a literary and dramatic critic. He also wrote numerous poems, theatrical addresses, and plays, including The Spy; The Expelled Collegians; and The First of May. In 1835 he was elected a member of the state legislature. He died Dec. 16, 1880, in New York city.

CLINCH, DUNCAN LAMONT, soldier, legislator, congressman, was born April 6, 1787, in Edgecombe county, N. C. He was a general in the United States army; and from 1843 to 1845 was a representative in congress from Georgia. He died Oct. 27, 1849, in Macon, Ga.

CLINE, CHARLES EDWARD, journalist, state legislator, was born July 8, 1858, in Danville, Ill. He received his education in the public schools of Danville; and subsequently attended a polytechnic institute in St. Louis, Mo. In 1876 he moved to Nebraska, where he took an active interest in the campaign of that year for Peter Cooper. In 1880 he was a delegate to the state greenback convention, and also to the national greenback convention which nominated Weaver in that year. In 1884 he settled in Lynden, Wash., elected a representative of the Washington state legislature by the people's party; and received the re-election in 1896. For a number of years he was a justice of the peace; edited The Farm and Fruit Grower; and in 1897 established The Washington State Journal of Olympia.

CLINGAN, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a delegate from Pennsylvania to the continental congress from 1777 to 1779, and was a signer of the articles of confederation.

CLINGMAN, THOMAS L., soldier, lawyer, congressman, author, was born in 1812, in Huntsville, N. C. He was soon elected to a seat in the state senate of North Carolina; in 1843 was elected to congress, and with the exception of one term, was a member of the house of representatives until the thirty-fifth congress. He was appointed a senator in congress to fill a vacancy. He made contributions to the science of geology and mineralogy, and brought to light many facts connected with the mountains of North Carolina, one of the highest peaks of which it was his fortune to explore and measure, and which now bears his name. His works are: Speeches, and Follies of the Positivist Philosophers.

CLINTON, CHARLES, ancestor of the Clintons in the United States, soldier, jurist, was born in 1690 in Ireland. He was justice of the peace, county judge and lieutenant-colonel of the Ulster county militia. He was made a lieutenant-colonel in Oliver DeLancy's regiment on March 24, 1758, and served under Col. Bradstreet at the siege and capture of Fort Fontenac. He died Nov. 19, 1773, in Orange county, N. Y.

CLINTON, DE WITT, lawyer, governor, author, was born March 2, 1769, in Little Britain, N. Y. He was elected to the senate of New York in 1799; and in 1802 fought a duel with Mr. Swartwout, arising from a political controversy concerning Mr. Burr. He was a senator of the United States from 1802 to 1803; and was chosen mayor of New York in 1803, holding this office until 1815. He was for several years a state senator and the lieutenant-governor; and in 1812 he consented to become the candidate of the peace party for the presidency of the United States. In 1824 he was elected governor of the state, and in 1826 was re-elected to the same office. He was the author of Memoir of Antiquities of Western New York; Natural History and Internal Revenues of New York; and Speeches to the Legislature. He died Feb. 11, 1828, in Albany, N. Y.

CLINTON, GEORGE, congressman, was born in New York. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1801 and 1802; and was representative in congress from that state from 1804 to 1809.

CLINTON, GEORGE, soldier, statesman, was born July 26, 1739, in Ulster county, N. Y. He was a member of the colonial assembly, and also of the provincial congress in 1775; was appointed a brigadier-general in 1777; and was governor of New York for eighteen years. From 1795 to 1800 he lived in retirement, and was again chosen governor in 1804. He was elected vice-president of the United States during the year 1804, and retained the office until his death. He died April 20, 1812, in Washington, D. C.

CLINTON, JAMES G., congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1841 to 1845.

CLINTON, JOHN W., journalist, was born in 1836, in Andes, N. Y. He is the editor and proprietor of the Ogle County Press, and president of the Illinois Press association.

CLINTON, JOSEPH JACKSON, bishop, was born Oct. 3, 1823, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was missionary bishop in the south during and after the war, and very successful in the establishment there of missions and annual conferences. He died May 25, 1881, in Atlantic City, N. J.

CLINTON, THOMAS, congressman, was born in Kentucky. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1827 to 1831; and for a second term from 1833 to 1835.

CLITZ, HENRY BOYNTON, soldier, was born July 4, 1824, in Sackett's Harbor, N. Y. He was made colonel of the tenth infantry Feb. 22, 1869, and placed on the retired list July 1, 1885, at his own request, having been in the service forty years. He died Oct. 13, 1889.

CLITZ, JOHN MELLEN BRADY, naval officer, was born Dec. 1, 1821, in Sackett's Harbor, N. Y. He entered the navy as a midshipman in 1837; was promoted to rear-admiral in 1880; commanded the Asiatic station, and was placed on the retired list in 1884.

CLODFELTER, N. J., author, poet, was born Dec. 14, 1852, in Alamo, Ind. He is known as The Wabash Poet, and is the author of Early Vanities, and Snatched from the Poorhouse.

CLOPTON, DAVID, congressman, was born in 1820 in Georgia. He was elected a representative from Alabama to the thirty-sixth congress. He resigned in February, 1861, to take part in the rebellion of that year.

CLOPTON, JOHN, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1795 to 1799, and again from 1801 to 1816. He died Sept. 11, 1816.

CLOSE, FRED J., railroad president, was born March 21, 1849, in Snyder county, Pa. Since 1895 he has been president of the Gulf and Interstate railway of Kansas.

CLOUGH, EDGAR E., soldier, legislator, clergyman, was born Aug. 23, 1840, in Homer, N. Y. He entered the civil war as a private in company A, one hundred and forty-eighth regiment New York volunteers, and became first lieutenant, adjutant and captain of the thirty-ninth regiment United States colored troops. In 1887 he was a colonel in the Wisconsin National guard. In 1889 he was a member of the constitutional convention of South Dakota. He has been vice-president of the trustees of the university of Dakota, and president of the board of commissioners of the South Dakota Soldiers' home for eight years. He began ministerial work in La Crosse, Wis., and has filled pastorates in Eau Claire, Chipewa Falls, Mineral Point, Platteville, and Black River Falls. In 1887 he was transferred to Dakota, and is now presiding elder of the methodist episcopal church in the Black Hills conference of Deadwood, S. D. He has been grand chaplain and senior vice-commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, department of South Dakota.

CLOUGH, GEORGE L., painter, was born Sept. 18, 1824, in Auburn, N. Y. In 1850 he went to Europe and copied pictures in the principal galleries of the continent, and after his return he generally resided near New York, where he found a ready sale for his paintings.

CLOUGH, JOHN E., missionary, was born July 16, 1836, in Chautauqua county, N. Y. He was appointed by the American Baptist Missionary union a missionary to India in 1865.

CLOUGH, MILO M., educator, journalist, poet, was born July 13, 1862, in Carlisle, Iowa. He received his education at the university of Des Moines; has been principal of various high schools, and professor of English literature and mathematics. He is the editor and proprietor of The Herald of Abercrombie, N. D., and the author of a number of meritorious poems.

CLOUGH, MOSES T., lawyer, was born Nov. 22, 1814, in Hopkinton, N. H. He is a successful lawyer of Troy, N. Y. He was the postmaster at Ticonderoga under the administration of Gen. Polk, and master in chancery and supreme court commissioner of the state of New York.

CLOVER, B. H., farmer, congressman, was born Dec. 22, 1837, in Franklin county, Ohio. He has twice been chosen president of the Kansas State Farmers' Alliance and Industrial union, and twice vice-president of the national organization of that order. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a candidate of the Farmers' Alliance.

CLOVER, LEWIS P., painter, was born Feb. 20, 1819, in New York city. The titles of some of his best known paintings are The Rejected Picture, The Idle Man, Repose by Moonlight, and The Phrenologist. These were all exhibited in the National Academy of Design.

CLOWNEY, WILLIAM K., lawyer, congressman, was born in South Carolina. He was commissioner in equity of South Carolina; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1833 to 1835, and again from 1837 to 1839.

CLUBB, HENRY STEPHEN, journalist, clergyman, was born June 21, 1827, in Colchester, England. During 1862-66 he was assistant quartermaster, with rank of captain, in the United States volunteer service. In 1873-74 he was a state senator in the Michigan legislature; and the latter year was also secretary of the constitutional convention of Michigan. He then became editor and owner of the Grand Haven Herald, which he founded in 1869. In 1876 he was called to the pastorate of the Bible Christian church of Philadelphia; became president of the Vegetarian society of America in 1888; and since 1889 has been editor of Food, Home and Garden.

CLUFF, BENJAMIN, educator, college president, was born Feb. 7, 1858, in Provo City, Utah. He attended the Brigham Young academy, and the university of Michigan; and has received the degrees of B. S. and M. S. During 1873-82 he was a traveling missionary in the Sandwich Islands; and in 1883-86 was president of the Young Men's Mutual Improvement association of Utah. He has been an instructor and vice-president of the Brigham Young academy; and since 1892 has been president of that institution.

CLUNIE, THOMAS JEFFERSON, lawyer, congressman, was born March 25, 1852, in St. John's, Newfoundland. He was elected to the legislature in 1875, and was appointed brigadier-general of the fourth brigade of the National guard of California in 1876. He was a delegate at large to the national democratic convention at Chicago in 1884, and represented California democrats on the committee on platform and resolutions. He served one term in the state senate, and was elected to the fifty-first congress as a democrat.

CLUSERET, GUSTAVE PAUL, soldier, author, was born June 13, 1823, in France. He served in the civil war and was brevetted brigadier-general in 1862. He is the author of Mexico and the Solidarity of Nations.

CLUTE, HENRY ALSON, farmer, merchant, soldier, state legislator, was born March 24, 1840, in Wayne county, N. Y. His ancestors settled on the Hudson river soon after the settlement of New York. His father was born in 1804 in Johnstown, N. Y., where his grandfather had settled before the revolutionary war. He moved to Michigan with his parents when four years of age; and during the civil war served for three years in the second Missouri cavalry or Merrill Horse. He has filled numerous public offices of trust in Calhoun county; and in 1897 was elected a member of the Michigan state legislature from Marshall.

CLYMER, ALBERT, farmer, poet, was born Dec. 10, 1827, in Fairfield county, Ohio. He was the author of a volume of poems entitled Echoes of the Woods and other works. He died in 1897.

CLYMER, MRS. ELLA MARIA DIETZ, author, poet, was born in 1856 in New York city. She is a New York writer, once an actress, and for some time the president of the Woman's club of New York, Sorosis. She has written three volumes of poems: The Triumph of Love; The Triumph of Time; and The Triumph of Life.

CLYMER, GEORGE, signer of the declaration of independence, was born in 1739 in Philadelphia, Pa. He was one of the first continental treasurers; in 1776 was a member of congress, and signed the declaration of independence. He was a member of the old congress in 1780, and a representative, under the constitution from 1789 to 1791, from Pennsylvania. He was also a member of the convention which formed the federal constitution, and signed that instrument. In 1791 he was placed at the head of the excise department in Pennsylvania; and in 1796 was sent to Georgia to negotiate a treaty with the Creek and Cherokee Indians. He was afterwards president of the Philadelphia bank and of the Academy of Fine Arts. He died Jan. 23, 1813, in Morrisville, Pa.

CLYMER, HESTER, congressman, was born Nov. 3, 1837, in Berks county, Pa. He was a member of the state senate of Pennsylvania in 1860-66 when he was a candidate for governor of Pennsylvania. He was elected to the forty-third, forty-fourth, and re-elected to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses. He died June 12, 1884.

CLYMER, MEREDITH, physician, author, was born in June, 1817, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a distinguished physician and medical writer of New York city; and the author of Diseases of the Respiratory Organs (with Williams); Pathology, Diagnosis and Treatment of Fevers; Physiology and Pathology of the Nervous System; Palsies and Kindred Disorders; Ecstasy and Other Dramatic Disorders of the Nervous System; Hereditary Genius; Cerebro-Spinal Meningitis; and Legitimate Influence of Epilepsy on Criminal Responsibility.

CLYMER, ROBERT S., lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 23, 1855, in Philadelphia, Pa. He has filled numerous public offices of trust in New Jersey; is a prominent lawyer of Woodbury; and president law judge of Gloucester county.

COAL, P. ABRAM, journalist, was born Nov. 28, 1856, in Washington, Pa. He is the editor and owner of The Daily and Weekly Enterprise of Gibson City.

COALE, ROBERT DORSEY, chemist, was born Sept. 13, 1857, in Baltimore, Md. During 1883-84 he was lecturer on chemistry, and in 1884 became professor of chemistry and toxicology in the university of Maryland. His original scientific researches were published in the American Chemical Journal.

COAN, SHERWOOD, singer, was born about 1830, in New Haven, Conn. He sang with Clara Louise Kellogg, Parepa-Rosa, Zeldia Harrison, William Castle and other well-known singers, and went with the Rosas to England, where he attracted much attention. He died Nov. 25, 1874, in Chicago, Ill.

COAN, TITUS, missionary, author, was born Feb. 1, 1801, in Killingsworth, Conn. He is a missionary of note in the Sandwich Islands, who wrote Life in Hawaii; and Adventures in Patagonia. He died Dec. 1, 1882, in Hawaii.

COAN, TITUS MUNSON, physician, surgeon, author, was born Sept. 27, 1836, in the Hawaiian Islands. He is an eminent physician of New York city; and for many years was a distinguished surgeon in the United States navy. He is a director of the New York bureau of revision, and is the author of Ounces of Prevention; and Topics of the Times.

COANN, EZRA T., banker, was born March 25, 1829, in Byron, N. Y. During the war he was a military commander under appointment of Gov. Morgan. He was director and vice-president of the Niagara Falls International Bridge company; was a merchant during 1850-68; and then traveled extensively in foreign countries. In 1870 he established Coann's bank of Albion, N. Y., which merged into the Citizens' National bank in 1895, of which he is president.

COATES, MRS. FLORENCE E., poet. She has gained a national reputation as a genuine poet, and as a musician she possesses an insight and power of interpretation of the great masters. She is the wife of Mr. E. H. Coates, president of the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

COATES, KERSEY, pioneer, was born Sept. 15, 1823, in Salisbury, Pa. He located in Kansas City, and in 1857, when the city began to show signs of business life and activity, Col. Coates uniting his efforts with those of other enterprising citizens, newspapers were established, railroads projected, favorable legislation was secured, and important municipal improvements were started, the result of which was a stream of migration that speedily filled up Kansas City. He died April 24, 1887.

COATES, KINNEY, poet. He is the author of a volume of poems entitled Lyrics of the Ideal and the Real.

COBB, AMASA, soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 27, 1823, in Crawford county, Ill. During the civil war he was a colonel in the fifth regiment Wisconsin volunteer infantry and became brevet brigadier-general United States volunteers. He led the troops which turned the enemy's left at Williamsburg, May 5, 1862; and commanded Hancock's brigade at the Battle of Antietam. He was a representative in congress from the third district of Wisconsin for four terms—thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth, fortieth and forty-first congresses. He was judge of the supreme court of Nebraska for fourteen years, during 1878-92, four years of which he was chief justice.

COBB, CLINTON L., lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 25, 1842, in Elizabeth City, N. C. He was elected to the forty-first, forty-second, and forty-third congresses, serving on the committees on revolutionary pensions, war claims and chairman of freedmen's affairs.

COBB, CYRUS, artist, author, poet, was born Aug. 6, 1834, in Malden, Mass. He is an artist and sculptor of Boston who, besides writing much occasional verse, has published Veterans of the Grand Army, a novel.

COBB, DARIUS, artist, was born Aug. 6, 1834, in Malden, Mass. In 1879 he painted Christ Before Pilate, and the reputation gained by this painting was instantaneous. Some of his other works are: For Their Sakes; Death of Judas; and King Lear.

COBB, DAVID, soldier, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 14, 1748, in Attleborough, Mass. He was judge of a county court; was elected to the legislature; and served as speaker from 1789 to 1793; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1793 to 1795. He was president of the state senate from 1801 to 1805; and lieutenant-governor of the state in 1809. He died April 17, 1839, in Taunton, Mass.

COBB, EMORY, banker, was born Aug. 30, 1831, in Dryden, N. Y. He received his education in the common schools of his county, Burt's Select school, and at the academy of Ithaca, N. Y. For many years he was president of the First National bank of Kankakee, Ill.; and has filled many important public offices in his city, county and state.

COBB, GEORGE POMROY, lawyer, legislator, was born April 13, 1841, in York, N. Y. He graduated from the law department of the university of Michigan, and served as a soldier in the civil war. In 1881-82 he served as a member of the Michigan legislature from Bay county; and for six years, from 1888, was circuit judge of the eighteenth judicial circuit court of Michigan.

COBB, GEORGE T., congressman, was born in October, 1813, in Morristown, N. J. He was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-seventh congress. He died Aug. 6, 1870.

COBB, HOWELL, farmer, soldier, congressman, was born in 1770, in Granville, N. C. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1807 to 1812; and during the last war with England served with credit as a captain in the army. He died about 1820 in Georgia.

COBB, HOWELL, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born in 1795 in Savannah, Ga. He was a Georgia lawyer; and the author of Penal Code of Georgia; and a state senator in 1830.

COBB, HOWELL, lawyer, soldier, congressman, governor, was born Sept. 7, 1815, in Cherry Hill, Ga. He was a presidential elector in 1836; and was elected a representative in congress in 1842; re-elected in 1841, 1846 and 1848, and during his latter term was elected speaker. On his retirement from congress he was chosen governor of Georgia. In 1855 he was again elected to congress, and on the accession of Mr. Buchanan to the presidency, went into his cabinet as secretary of the treasury. He took a prominent part in the rebellion of 1861, and was a member of the so-called confederate congress, and a brigadier-general. He died Oct. 9, 1868, in New York city.

COBB, ISAAC, journalist, poet, was born April 28, 1825, in Gorham, Maine.

Since 1865 he has been connected with the Portland Transcript. He has contributed to the leading magazines and newspapers of America, and is at present engaged in compiling a genealogy of the Cobb family. He has attained a national reputation in the world of literature.

COBB, JAMES E., soldier, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 5, 1835, in Thomaston, Ga. He was chosen one of the circuit judges of the state; and was re-elected in 1880 and again in 1886. He was elected to the fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a democrat.

COBB, JONATHAN HOLMES, manufacturer, author, was born July 8, 1799, in Sharon, Mass. He was a manufacturer of Dedham, who founded the silk industry in the United States, and whose Manual of the Mulberry Tree and the Culture of Silk was once well known. He died March 12, 1882, in Dedham, Mass.

COBB, JOSEPH BECKHAM, author, was born April 11, 1819, in Oglethorpe county, Ga. He was a southern author whose writings include The Creole, or the Siege of New Orleans, a novel; Mississippi Scenes; and Leisure Labors. He died Sept. 15, 1858, in Columbus, Ga.

COBB, LYMAN, educator, author, was born in 1800, in Massachusetts. He was a once prominent educator who, besides many text-books on spelling and mathematics, published The Evil Tendency of Corporal Punishment; and Just Standard for Pronouncing the English Language. He died Oct. 26, 1864, in Colesburg, Pa.

COBB, R. W., lawyer, state senator, governor, was born Feb. 25, 1829, in Ashville, Ala. He was elected state senator in 1872; was a delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1875; was re-elected state senator in 1876; and was elected president of the senate. He was elected governor of Alabama in 1878, and re-elected in 1880, serving until 1882.

COBB, SETH WALLACE, soldier, merchant, congressman, was born Dec. 5, 1838, in Southampton county, Va. In 1861 he joined a volunteer company from his native county, and served throughout the war in the army of northern Virginia. In 1867 he moved to St. Louis, Mo., commencing as a clerk in a grain commission house; and since 1870 has continued in that business on his own account. He is president of the Merchants' exchange of St. Louis; and president of the Merchants' Bridge company. He has served with distinction in the fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a democrat.

COBB, SILAS B., pioneer, merchant, philanthropist, was born Jan. 23, 1812, in Montpelier, Vt. For years he was the controlling spirit in the Chicago and Galena railroad, now the Chicago and North Western, and in the Beloit and Madison railroad. When the new university of Chicago sought to secure $1,000,000 for its buildings, Mr. Cobb came forward at the critical moment and gave $150,000, which assured the success of the undertaking. The Cobb Lecture hall now stands on the university campus, a monument to his liberality, and the university is pledged to replace it, should it ever be destroyed.

COBB, STEPHEN ALONZO, soldier, congressman, was born June 17, 1833, in Madison, Maine. He served through the war, rising to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He was mayor of Wyandotte in 1862 and 1868; a member of the state senate in 1862, 1869, and 1870; and speaker of the house in 1872. He was elected to the forty-third congress. He died in August, 1878.

COBB, SYLVANUS, clergyman, author, was born in July, 1799, in Norway, Maine. He was a universalist clergyman of Massachusetts; and editor for many years of The Christian Freeman. He was the author of The New Testament, with Explanatory Notes; Compend of Divinity; and Discussions. He died Oct. 31, 1866, in East Boston, Maine.

COBB, SYLVANUS, author, was born in 1823, in Waterville, Maine. He was the author of The King's Talisman; The Patriot Cruiser; Ben Hamed; and other works. He died July 20, 1887, in Hyde Park, Mass.

COBB, THOMAS R., lawyer, congressman, was born July 2, 1828, in Lawrence county, Ind. He was a state senator from 1858 to 1866; removed to Vincennes, Ind., in 1867; was president of the democratic state convention in 1876, and a delegate to the democratic national convention of that year. He was elected a representative from Indiana to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, and forty-ninth congresses as a democrat.

COBB, THOMAS READ ROOTES, soldier, lawyer, author, was born April 10, 1823, in Cherry Hill, Ga. He was a Georgia lawyer who served as brigadier-general in the confederate army during the civil war. He was the author of Digest of the Laws of Georgia; Historical Sketch of Slavery from the Earliest Periods; and Inquiry into the Law of Negro Slavery in the United States. He was killed Dec. 13, 1862, in the battle of Fredericksburg, Va.

COBB, THOMAS W., lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born in 1784, in Columbia county, Ga. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1817 to 1821, and again from 1823 to 1824. He was a senator in congress from 1824 to 1828; and was subsequently chosen a judge of the superior court. He was the author of many political essays. He died Feb. 1, 1830, in Greensborough, Ga.

COBB, WILLARD ADAMS, journalist, was born July 20, 1842, in Rome, N. Y. In 1864 he graduated from Hamilton college of Clinton, N. Y.; was regent of the New York state university in 1884; and in 1895 was appointed state civil service commissioner, and is still a member and president of that body. He is the author of The Daily Journal of Lockport, N. Y.

COBB, WILLIAMSON R. W., congressman, was born in 1807, in Ray county, Tenn. In 1845 he was elected to the state legislature, where he remained two years. In 1847 he was elected a representative in congress from Alabama, in which capacity he served his adopted state by successive re-elections down to 1860. He was killed by the accidental discharge of a pistol in November, 1864, in Alabama.

COBBETT, THOMAS, clergyman, author, was born in 1608, in England. He was a nonconformist English clergyman who came to America in 1637, and was minister at Ipswich from 1656 till his death. He was the author of Infant Baptism; Civil Magistrate's Power in Matters of Religion; Practical Discourse of Prayer; and The Honor Due from Children to Their Parents. He died Nov. 5, 1685, in Ipswich, Mass.

COBBS, THOMAS, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 5, 1826, in Raleigh, N. C. As early as 1867 he was recognized as one of the most distinguished criminal lawyers in the state of Alabama. He practiced law in all its branches until 1880, when he was chosen one of the chancellors of the chancery court of Alabama. He was re-elected in 1886, and again in 1892, both times without opposition. His division until 1895 comprised sixteen counties. In the years he has been upon the bench he has had to decide almost every kind of question known to equity jurisprudence. His written opinions are clear and logical; and his style is terse and vigorous. His contributions to law literature have been extensive, and are conceded to be valuable acquisitions to judicial literature.

COBERN, CAMDEN M., clergyman, theologian, archæologist, author, was born April 19, 1855, in Uniontown, Pa. He is a distinguished clergyman, and is now the popular pastor of the Trinity Methodist Episcopal church of Denver, Col. He is the author of an extensive work on Ancient Egypt; a Commentary on Ezekiel and Daniel; and is a constant contributor to the archæological and theological reviews of America and Europe.

COBUN, MARSHAL W., soldier, farmer, legislator, was born March 1, 1838, in Virginia. During the war he served in the federal army; has served two terms in the Kansas house of representatives, and one term in the state senate. He is a successful farmer of Hoisington, Kan.; and was president of the board of commissioners for Kansas at the World's Columbian exposition.

COBURN, ABNER, merchant, governor, philanthropist, was born March 22, 1803, in Skowhegan, Maine. In 1838 he was elected as a whig to the Maine legislature, and again in 1840. In 1860 he was an elector on the Lincoln ticket and chosen governor of Maine in 1862. He died June 4, 1885, in Skowhegan, Maine.

COBURN, FRANK POTTER, farmer, congressman, was born Dec. 6, 1858, in Hamilton, Wis. He was the democratic candidate for congress in the seventh district in 1888, and was defeated; and was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

COBURN, GEORGE FRANCIS, lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 29, 1841, in Brown county, Ohio. He received his education in the common schools of his county and commenced life as a school teacher, and taught with great success for five years. He then studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1867, and has since practiced his profession in Danville, Ill. In 1889 he was elected justice of the peace; and has since disposed of six thousand cases. He has always taken an interest in the public affairs of his county and state; and has filled many important offices of honor and trust.

COBURN, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, was born in Philadelphia. He was appointed judge of the territory of Orleans, and held his courts in St. Louis. He died in February, 1823.

COBURN, JOHN, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Oct. 27, 1825, in Indianapolis, Ind. He served as a union soldier during the civil war, and was in command of the thirty-third regiment Indiana volunteer infantry; and served with distinction. After the war he was elected circuit judge; and in 1866 was elected to congress, and served for four terms in succession. He took an active part in the important debates of reconstruction, public debt, currency, military affairs, election laws and tariff. He was the author of the measure for printing the rebellion records, and carried through the house the law for soldiers' headstones. He served as one of the supreme judges of the territory of Montana; and has filled various other public positions of honor.

COBURN, STEPHEN, congressman, was born in Maine. He was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-sixth congress to fill a vacancy.

COCHRAN, ALEXANDER G., lawyer, congressman, was born March 20, 1845, in Allegheny City, Pa. In 1874 he was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-fourth congress.

COCHRAN, CHARLES F., lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Sept. 27, 1848, in Kirksville, Mo. During 1860-85 he lived in Atchison, Kan., where he was engaged as a practical printer, newspaper man, and lawyer; and was four years prosecuting attorney of his county. He is now one of the foremost lawyers of his state at St. Joseph; has been a member of the Missouri senate for four years; and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

COCHRAN, DAVID HENRY, educator, scientist, college president, was born July 5, 1828, in Springville, N. Y. He attended the Springville academy, and in 1850 graduated from Hamilton college. He has been professor of natural sciences in the Clinton Liberal institute; principal of the Fredonia academy; and professor of natural science in the State Normal school of Albany, N. Y., of which institution he was also principal. In 1864 he accepted the presidency of the Brooklyn Collegiate and Polytechnic institute, which has flourished under his able management. He is a brilliant lecturer; and the author of numerous educational and scientific reports.

COCHRAN, JAMES, soldier, congressman. He was a major of militia and represented the state of New York in congress from 1797 to 1799. He was at one time postmaster of Oswego, N. Y. He died Nov. 7, 1848, in Oswego, N. Y.

COCHRAN, JAMES, inventor, was born in 1763, in Batavia, N. Y. He was a brass-founder in Philadelphia, and Franklin frequently visited his shop. He invented the art of making cut nails, and also claimed to have made the first copper cents in this country. He died Dec. 31, 1846.

COCHRAN, JEROME, physician, was born Dec. 4, 1831, in Moscow, Tenn. From 1868-73 he was professor of chemistry in the Medical College of Alabama; was a noted physician of Mobile, Ala.; and has written many articles on yellow fever.

COCHRAN, JOHN, surgeon, was born Sept. 1, 1730, in Sudsbury, Pa. In 1781 he became director-general of the hospitals of the United States. He died April 6, 1807, in Palatine, N. Y.

COCHRAN, JOHN P., statesman. He was governor of Delaware from 1875 to 1879.

COCHRAN, JOHN WEBSTER, inventor, was born May 16, 1814, in Enfield, N. H. In 1834 he invented a revolving, breech-loading rifled cannon, in which the cylinder was automatically rotated by the cocking of the hammer—the same principle that afterward secured the success of the revolving pistol.

COCHRANE, AARON V. S., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 14, 1858, in Cocksackie, N. Y. In 1887 and 1888 he was police justice of Hudson; and was elected district attorney of Columbia county in 1889, and served three years. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

COCHRANE, ALEXANDER G., lawyer, congressman, was born March 20, 1845, in Allegheny City, Pa. He was elected to the forty-fourth congress as a democrat.

COCHRANE, CLARK B., lawyer, congressman, was born May 31, 1815, in New Boston, N. H. He was a member of the New York legislature in 1843 and 1844; and was a representative in the thirty-fifth congress from New York. He was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress; and again elected to the assembly in 1865. He died March 5, 1867, in Albany, N. Y.

COCHRANE, CLARK B., lawyer, poet, was born Feb. 9, 1843, in New Boston, N. H. In 1865 he was admitted to the bar, and ten years later engaged in mercantile pursuits. He is the author of a volume entitled Minora and Other Poems.

COCHRANE, ELIZABETH, journalist, was born in 1867, in Cochran's Mills, Pa. She has attained a national reputation as a contributor of journalistic work.

COCHRANE, JOHN, soldier, surveyor, lawyer, congressman, was born in Palatine, N. Y. He was surveyor of the port of New York for four years; and was elected to the thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth congresses. He served as a general of volunteers in the union army in 1861 and 1862; and was subsequently elected attorney-general of the state of New York. In 1864 he was nominated for the office of vice-president of the United States on the ticket with J. C. Fremont.

COCHRANE, SAMUEL B., lawyer, legislator, was born Jan. 17, 1860, in Kittanning, Pa. He has attained success in the practice of law in his native city; and since 1889 has been a member of the house of representatives of the Pennsylvania state legislature.

COCK, THOMAS, physician, was born in 1782, in Glen Cove, L. I. He was visiting physician to the New York hospital from 1819 till 1834, and consulting physician after that year; became a fellow of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in 1820; was its vice-president from 1827 until 1855; its president from 1855 till 1858; and president of the New York academy of medicine in 1852. He was also professor of anatomy and physiology in Queen's (now Rutgers) college, N. J., from 1812 till 1826. He died June 14, 1869, in New York city.

COCKE, JAMES RICHARD, physician, author, was born in 1863. He is a physician of Boston; and the author of Hypnotism; and Blind Leaders of the Blind, a novel.

COCKE, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1772, in Brunswick, Va. He became a member of the first legislature of the state in 1796; was speaker of the house for many years; and was also a member of the senate. From 1819 to 1827 he was a representative in congress from his adopted state. He died Feb. 16, 1854, in Rutledge, Tenn.

COCKE, PHILIP ST. G., soldier, was born in 1809, in Virginia. He was made brigadier-general in the confederate army in 1861, and commanded the fifth brigade at the first battle of Bull Run. He died Dec. 26, 1861.

COCKE, WILLIAM, soldier, state legislator, jurist, was born in 1740, in Virginia. He became a general of militia; served in the state legislature in 1813; and became one of the judges of the circuit court. He was again a senator from 1799 to 1805; and in 1814 was appointed Indian agent for the Chickasaw nation.

COCKE, WILLIAM M., congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1849.

COCKE, ZITELLA, poet, was born in 1836, in Alabama. She is a poet whose contributions to periodicals have been collected in a volume of verse entitled A Doric Reed.

COCKER, WILLIAM JOHNSON, educator, author, was born in 1846, in England. He is an educator of Michigan; and the author of Handbook of Punctuation; and The Government of the United States.

COCKERILL, JOHN A., journalist, was born Dec. 5, 1845, in Adams county, Ohio. In 1865 he became owner and editor of the True Telegraph of Hamilton, Ohio; and in 1891 established the Commercial Advertiser of New York city.

COCKERILL, JOSEPH R., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was elected a representative to the thirty-fifth congress from Ohio. He died Oct. 23, 1875, in West Union, Ohio.

COCKRAN, JAMES, congressman. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1809 to 1813.

COCKRAN, WILLIAM BOURKE, educator, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 28, 1854, in Ireland. He was principal of a public school in Westchester county, N. Y. He was a member of the fiftieth congress; and was elected to the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat.

COCKRELL, FRANCIS MARION, lawyer, United States senator, was born Oct. 1, 1834, in Warrensburg, Mo. He was elected a senator in congress from Missouri in 1875, and was re-elected three times. His term expires in 1899.

COCKRELL, JEREMIAH VARDAMAN, lawyer, congressman, was born May 7, 1832, in Johnson county, Mo. He was appointed district judge by Governor Ireland, to which position he was elected in 1886, and re-elected in 1890. He was elected to the fifty-third and re-elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat.

COCKRILL, STERLING ROBERTSON, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born Sept. 25, 1847, in Nashville, Tenn. At the age of sixteen he was sergeant of light artillery in the army of the Tennessee, confederate service. At the age of thirty-seven he became chief justice of the supreme court of Arkansas; received the re-election, but resigned to give his attention solely to the practice of his profession at Little Rock, Ark.

CODDING, JAMES H., merchant, lawyer, congressman, was born July 8, 1849, in Bradford county, Pa. Since 1854 he has been a resident of Towanda, and was educated at the Susquehanna Collegiate institute. For ten years he was engaged in the hardware business; and since 1878 has been engaged in the practice of law. He has taken an active part in public affairs; and was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican. He is also one of the foremost lawyers of Pennsylvania at Towanda.

CODDINGTON, WILLIAM, governor, author, was born in 1601, in Lincolnshire, England. He was the first governor of Rhode Island; and the author of Demonstrations of True Love unto the Rulers of Massachusetts. He died Nov. 1, 1678.

CODINGTON, WILLIAM R., lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born Feb. 24, 1853, in Somerset county, N. J. He was city judge of Plainfield for three years.

CODMAN, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 3, 1782, in Easton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of Dorchester; and the author of Sermons; and Visit to England. He died Dec. 23, 1847, in Dorchester, Mass.

CODMAN, JOHN, sailor, author, was born Aug. 16, 1814, in Dorchester, Mass. He is a noted captain in the merchant marine; and the author of Sailors' Life and Sailors' Yarns; Ten Months in Brazil; The Mormon Country; The Round Trip by Way of Panama; A Solution of the Mormon Problem; and Winter Sketches from the Saddle.

CODY, CLAUDE C., educator, author, was born Nov. 5, 1854, in Covington, Ga. He is professor of mathematics in the Southwestern university of Georgetown, Tex.; and is the author of a work entitled The Life of Dr. Wood.

CODY, WILLIAM FRÉDERICK, scout, was born Feb. 26, 1845, in Iowa. He was employed as an Indian scout, and served till the close of the war with the seventh Kansas cavalry. After the Indian war he proceeded to collect Indians, cow-boys, scouts, trappers, and buffaloes, and produced the Wild West show for the first time in Omaha in 1883. Since then he has exhibited in all the principal cities in the world with overwhelming success. He is known as Buffalo Bill.

COE, GEORGE SIMMONS, banker, was born March 27, 1817, in Newport, R. I. In 1860 he became president of the American Exchange bank, which office he held until 1894. It was Mr. Coe who conceived the idea of combining the local banks in the clearing house, and of making use of clearing house certificates. Clearing house certificates have since been resorted to in the years 1873, 1884, 1890 and 1893, on each occasion with good results.

COFFEE, JOHN, congressman, was born June 2, 1772, in Prince Edward county, Va. He was a member of congress from Georgia from 1833 to 1837. He did good service in the war of 1812 as a general, and in the subsequent campaigns among the Indians. He died Sept. 25, 1836, in Telfair county, Ga.

COFFEE, WILLIAM BRYAN, lawyer, jurist, was born April 27, 1863, in Lawrenceville, Va. He received his education in Loganville, and at the university of Nashville. He is a prominent lawyer of El Dorado, Ark.; and special judge of the circuit court. He has attained a wide reputation as one of the rising and foremost lawyers of the west at El Dorado, Ark. He has contributed valuable articles to current and judicial literature.

COFFEEN, HENRY A., educator, labor advocate, congressman, was born in 1841, in Gallia county, Ohio. In 1889 he was a member of the constitutional convention that framed the present constitution of the new state of Wyoming; and in 1885 he organized at Big Horn and presided over the first agricultural fair ever held in the state. He was elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

COFFIN, ABRAHAM BURBANK, lawyer, legislator, was born March 31, 1831, in Gilead, Maine. He attended Andover and Phillips academy; and in 1856 graduated from Dartmouth college.

In 1858 he was admitted to the bar; and has a law office in Boston, Mass. He has held various public offices in Winchester, Mass.; in 1875 was a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives; and in 1877-78 was a member of the state senate. In 1886-87 he was a member of the governor's council; and for four years was chairman of the Massachusetts state board of gas, fuel, electric commissioners.

COFFIN, CHARLES CARLETON, journalist, author, was born July 26, 1823, in Boscawen, N. H. He was a Boston journalist who became famous as the war correspondent of the Boston Journal during the civil war, over the signature Carleton. His writings, mainly though not exclusively for young people, include My Days and Nights on the Battlefield, a narrative of personal experience; Following the Flag; Winning his Way; Building the Nation; Old Times in the Colonies; The Boys of '76; The Story of Liberty; The Drumbeat of the Nation; Marching to Victory; Redeeming the Republic; Our New Way Round the World; and Daughters of the Revolution. He died March 2, 1896, in Brookline, Mass.

COFFIN, CHARLES E., manufacturer, state legislator, congressman, was born July 18, 1841, in Boston, Mass. He purchased a tract of land in Muirkirk, Md., on which he found iron ore. In 1864 he took charge of the iron works, which were built by the Ellicotts in 1847. In 1884 he was elected to the house of delegates of Maryland; and in 1890 was elected a member of the Maryland state senate, serving four years. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a republican.

state senate, serving four years. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a republican.

COFFIN, CHARLES G., lawyer, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1838 to 1839.

COFFIN, ISAAC FOSTER, educator, author, was born in 1787, in Maine. He was an educator of Roxbury, Mass.; and the author of Journal of a Residence in Chili during the revolutionary scenes of 1817-19. He died in 1861.

COFFIN, JAMES HENRY, astronomer, author, was born Sept. 6, 1806, in Williamsburg, Mass. He was a meteorologist who was professor of astronomy at Lafayette college. He was the author of Solar and Lunar Eclipses Illustrated and Explained; Winds of the Northern Hemisphere; Psychometrical Table; Orbit and Phenomena of a Meteoric Fire Ball; Elements of Conic Sections and Analytical Geometry; and Winds of the Globe. He died Feb. 6, 1873, in Easton, Pa.

COFFIN, JOHN HUNTINGTON CRANE, mathematician, author, was born Sept. 14, 1815, in Wiscasset, Maine. He was a mathematician of distinction; and the author of Observations with the Mural Circle at the United States Naval Observatory; The Compass; and Navigation and Nautical Astronomy. He died in 1890.

COFFIN, JOSHUA, antiquarian, author, was born Oct. 12, 1792, in Newbury, Mass. He was a Massachusetts antiquary prominent among the abolitionists, and one of the poet Whittier's early instructors. He published a History of Ancient Newbury; and The Toppans of Toppan's Lane, a genealogy. He died July 24, 1864, in Newbury, Mass.

COFFIN, LEVI, philanthropist, was born Oct. 28, 1798, in New Garden, N. C. He was active in the underground railroad, a secret organization, whose purpose was the transportation of slaves from member to member until a place was reached where the negro was free. In 1863 he was associated in the establishment of the freedmen's bureau, and during the following year was sent to Europe as agent for the Western Freedmen's Aid commission. He died Sept. 16, 1877, in Avondale, Ohio.

COFFIN, PELEG, state senator, congressman, was born in September, 1756. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1793 to 1795; served a number of years in the state senate; and was state treasurer from 1797 to 1802. He died March 6, 1805.

COFFIN, ROBERT ALLEN, educator, author, was born Aug. 23, 1801, in Williamsburg, Mass. He was an instructor in western Massachusetts; and the author of Compendium of Natural Philosophy; Town Organization; and History of Conway, Massachusetts. He died Sept. 4, 1878, in Conway, Mass.

COFFIN, ROBERT BARRY, journalist, author, was born July 21, 1826, in Hudson, N. Y. He was a New York journalist whose books were popular at one time but are now nearly forgotten. Their humor is somewhat forced, and the style has no very marked merits. He is the author of Matrimonial Infelicities; Who Is the Heir? Out of Town, a Rural Episode; Cakes and Ale at Woodbine; Castles in the Air; Left in the Lurch; and The Home of Cooper. He died June 10, 1886, in Fordham, N. Y.

COFFIN, ROBERT STEVENSON, author, was born July 14, 1797, in Brunswick, Maine. He was a poet of Boston who published The Oriental Harp; and Poems of the Boston Bard. He died May 7, 1827, in Rowley, Mass.

COFFIN, ROLAND FOLGER, journalist, author, was born March 8, 1826, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was a marine reporter in New York city; and the author of An Old Sailor's Yarns; The America's Cup; and History of American Yachting. He died July 17, 1888, on Shelter Island, N. Y.

COFFIN, SELDEN JENNINGS, educator, author, was born Aug. 3, 1838, in Ogdensburg, N. Y. He succeeded his father as professor of astronomy at Lafayette college in 1873, and completed the latter's Winds of the Globe. He has also published Record of the Men at Lafayette.

COFFIN, TIMOTHY GARDNER, lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 1, 1788, in Nantucket, Mass. He was graduated at Brown in 1813; was admitted to the Bristol bar in 1816, and obtained the foremost rank in the profession. He was judge advocate of Massachusetts militia under Gen. Lincoln. He died Sept. 19, 1854, in New Bedford, Mass.

COFFIN, TRISTRAM, colonist, was born in 1605, in England. He was the founder and the first chief magistrate of Nantucket colony. He died in 1681, in Nantucket, Mass.

COFFIN, WILLIAM ANDERSON, painter, was born Jan. 31, 1855, in Allegheny City, Pa. In 1886 he was awarded the Hallgarten prize of $200 for his picture in the National academy. His most notable works are The Close of Day; Portrait of a Gentleman; Reflections; Five O'Clock in the Morning; Moonlight in Harvest; and The Hayfield.

COFFINSBERRY, JAMES M., jurist, was born May 16, 1818, in Mansfield, Ohio. He was prosecuting attorney of Lucas county for several years, but later removed to Cleveland; and in 1861 he was elected judge of the court of common pleas. He was principal secretary of the great union convention of Ohio, and was for several years the standing candidate of his party for representative in congress. He died Nov. 29, 1891, in Cleveland, Ohio.

COFFROTH, ALEXANDER H., lawyer, legislator, was born May 18, 1828, in Somerset, Pa. He attended the public and the old Somerset academy; then engaged in teaching; and in 1851 was admitted to the bar. In 1862 he was elected to congress and was the youngest member in the house. He received the re-election and declined a third nomination. However, in 1878 he was again sent to congress; and since 1881 has devoted his entire attention to his profession of law in Somerset, Pa. During his career in congress he was known as a true friend for the soldier. He was the warm personal friend of Stanton and Lincoln, and was one of the pallbearers of the murdered president. During the past ten years he has been chairman of the Bar association of Somerset county, Pa.; and as a lawyer Mr. Coffroth is acknowledged one of the strongest men in southern Pennsylvania.

COFFROTH, JOHN R., lawyer, was born Aug. 11, 1828, in Greencastle, Pa. He has been several times a member of the Indiana legislature; and in 1866 he was a candidate for the office of attorney-general. In 1878 he was the unanimous choice of his party for congress, but declined on account of his private business.

COGGESHALL, GEORGE, author, poet, was born in 1784, in Connecticut. He was a sea captain, of some prominence as a writer; and the author of Voyages to Various Parts of the World; History of American Privateers and Letters of Marque During Our War with England, 1812-14; Historical Sketch of Commerce and Navigation from the Christian Era to 1860; and Religious and Miscellaneous Poetry. He died about 1850.

COGGESHALL, HENRY J., lawyer, state senator, was born April 28, 1845, in Waterville, N. Y. He was admitted to the bar in 1866; in 1872 was elected state legislator; and in 1883 state senator.

COGGESHALL, WILLIAM TURNER, journalist, author, was born in 1824, in Pennsylvania. He was a journalist of Cincinnati, whose principal writings include Signs of the Times, a work on spirit rappings; Home Hits and Hints; and Stories of Frontier Adventure. He died Aug. 2, 1867, in Ecuador, where he was serving as United States minister.

COGHLAN, JOHN M., lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 8, 1835, in Louisville, Ky. He was a member of the California legislature in 1865; and was elected to the forty-second congress as a representative of his adopted state, serving on the committees on private land claims and naval affairs.

COGSWELL, CHARLES NORTHEND, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1797, in South Berwick, Maine. In 1814 he graduated from Bowdoin college; and subsequently opened a law office in his native city. He became one of the foremost lawyers of New England; and was an acknowledged leader in the democratic party. During the latter part of his life he served two terms in the Maine state senate, and one term in congress. In these bodies he had the weight which always belongs to a man of solid learning and judgment and of useful business habits. His name was brought forward for governor at the time of his death, which occurred Oct. 11, 1843.

COGSWELL, FREDERICK HILL, lawyer, author, was born March 11, 1859, in New Preston, Conn. He attended the Connecticut Literary institution of Suffield; took a special course of studies in the Yale university; and graduated from the university of Michigan. Since 1884 he has been official reporter of the superior court at New Haven, Conn. He has written numerous short stories for leading magazines. In 1884 he published Cogswell's Compendium of Phonography; and is the author of The Regicides, an historical novel; and a second novel entitled Newgate. He has also lectured extensively on historical and literary subjects.

COGSWELL, JONATHAN, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 3, 1782, in Rowley, Mass. He was a noted congregational clergyman of New England and New Jersey; and the author of The Necessity of Capital Punishment; Discourses; Hebrew Theocracy; Calvary and Sinai; Godliness a Great Mystery; and The Appropriate Work of the Holy Spirit. He died Aug. 1, 1864, in New Brunswick, N. J.

COGSWELL, JOSEPH GREEN, bibliographer, author, was born Sept. 27, 1786, in Ipswich, Mass. He, with the historian Bancroft, founded the celebrated Round Hill school at Northampton, Mass. He died Nov. 26, 1871, in Cambridge, Mass.

COGSWELL, MASON FITCH, physician, was born Sept. 28, 1761, in Canterbury, Conn. He was chiefly instrumental in founding the asylum for the deaf and dumb, and was a friend and supporter of the Retreat for the Insane at Hartford, and was ten years president of the State Medical society. He died Dec. 10, 1830, at Hartford, Conn.

COGSWELL, MASON FITCH, physician, was born Nov. 10, 1807, in Hartford, Conn. He served as assistant surgeon and surgeon in the volunteer army of the United States during the civil war. He died Jan. 21, 1865, in Albany, N. Y.

COGSWELL, MILTON, soldier, was born Dec. 4, 1825, in Noblesville, Ind. After his retirement with the rank of brevet colonel in the regular army for gallant services, he was deputy governor of the Soldiers' home in Washington. He died Nov. 20, 1882, in Washington, D. C.

COGSWELL, NATHANIEL, soldier, was born Jan. 19, 1773, in Haverhill, Mass. He had a strong desire for military life, offered his services to the patriot army in Mexico, and died holding a general's commission. He died near the Red river, Louisiana.

COGSWELL, THOMAS, soldier, jurist, was born Aug. 4, 1746, in Haverhill, Mass. He was captain of a company in Col. Gerish's regiment at Bunker Hill; became major of Vose's regiment, and lieutenant-colonel of the fifteenth Massachusetts regiment. After national independence was secured, he settled on a farm near Gilmanton, N. H., and became a prominent citizen of the community, serving as a judge in the court of common pleas from 1784 till 1810. He died Sept. 3, 1810, in Gilmanton, N. H.

COGSWELL, WILLIAM, surgeon, was born July 11, 1760, in Haverhill, Mass. He was one of the founders of the New Hampshire Medical society and of Atkinson academy, giving the land on which the academy was built. He died Jan. 1, 1831, in Atkinson, N. H.

COGSWELL, WILLIAM, clergyman, author, was born June 5, 1787, in Atkinson, N. H. He was a congregational clergyman of New Hampshire, among whose works are Manual of Theology and Devotion; Assistant to Family Religion; Christian Philanthropist; Theological Class Book; Harbinger of the Millennium; and Letters to Young Men Preparing for the Ministry. He died April 18, 1850, in Gilmanton, N. H.

COGSWELL, WILLIAM, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 23, 1838, in Bradford, Mass. He was mayor of the city of Salem, Mass., in 1867, '68, '69, '73, and '74; was a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1870-71, 1881-83, and a member of the state senate in 1885-86. He served in the union army from 1861 till 1865; and held commissions as captain, lieutenant-colonel, and colonel in the second Massachusetts infantry, and brigadier-general by brevet, and assigned by special order of the war department to the command of the third brigade, third division, twentieth army corps. He was elected to the fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, and fifty-third congresses as a republican.

COHEN, JACOB DA SILVA SOLIS, physician, lecturer, author, was born in 1838, in New York. He is a Philadelphia physician and medical lecturer of prominence; and the author of Treatise on Inhalations; Diseases of the Throat; Croup in Its Relations to Tracheotomy; and The Throat and the Voice.

COHEN, LOUIS, railroad president, was born Jan. 7, 1849, in Germany. Since 1894 he has been president of the Sandersville railroad at Sandersville, Ga.

COIT, ELIZABETH GREER, lecturer, was born Jan. 10, 1820, in Worthington, Ohio. She received her education in the Worthington Female seminary; and for many years was engaged in educational work in that institution. She has become prominent as a lecturer and writer on topics relating to the human welfare. She was the president of the first W. R. A. in Columbus; and treasurer of the O. W. T. A. ever since its reorganization. She was also president of the First church of spiritualists in Columbus, Ohio.

COIT, HENRY AUGUSTUS, educator, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 20, 1831. He entered the ministry of the protestant episcopal church, and on the foundation of St. Paul's school in Concord, N. H., by Dr. George Shattuck, was chosen its first rector. He has published numerous sermons and addresses, and has contributed to periodical literature.

COIT, JAMES MILNOR, educator, author, was born Jan. 31, 1845, in Harrisburg, Pa. He was an instructor in chemistry at St. Paul's school, Concord; and the author of Elements of Chemical Arithmetic; and Short Manual of Qualitative Analysis.

COIT, JOSEPH HOWLAND, educator, author. He was professor of mathematics and natural science in St. James' college, Md., until the closing of that institution in 1865, when he became associated with his brother in St. Paul's school, Concord, of which he is now vice-principal. He has edited a Life of Bishop Kerfoot.

COIT, JOSHUA, lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born Oct. 7, 1758, in New London, Conn. He was a representative in congress from Connecticut from 1793 to 1798; and served a number of years in the legislature of Connecticut. He died Sept. 5, 1798, in New London, Conn.

COIT, ROBERT, railroad president, was born April 26, 1830, in New London, Conn. Since 1881 he has been president of the New London and Northern railroad.

COIT, THOMAS WINTHROP, clergyman, author, was born June 28, 1803, in New London, Conn. He was an episcopal clergyman, and professor in Berkeley Divinity school at Middletown from 1872 to 1885. He was the author of Necessity of Preaching Doctrine; Theological Commonplace Book; Puritanism in New England and the Episcopal Church; and Lectures on the Early History of Christianity in England. He died June 21, 1885, in Middletown, Conn.

COKE, RICHARD, lawyer, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1829 to 1833, and for many years a prominent member of the bar. He died March 30, 1851, in Abingdon, Va.

COKE, RICHARD, soldier, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born March 13, 1829, in Williamsburg, Va. He served in the confederate army as a commissioned officer. He was appointed district judge in 1865 and in 1866 was elected a judge of the state supreme court. In 1873 he was elected governor of Texas, and was re-elected in 1876. He resigned in 1877, having been elected a United States senator from Texas for the term of six years from March 4, 1877; was re-elected in 1883 and 1889, serving till 1895.

COLAW, JOHN MARVIN, educator, journalist, lawyer, was born March 16, 1860, in Crabbottom, Va. He received his education at the Roanoke college, Va.; the Dickinson college, Pa.; and the university of Virginia. For many years he was engaged in educational work; was associate editor of the American Mathematical Monthly; and has served as commonwealth's attorney of Highland county, Va. He is well versed in all parts of the science of mathematics, and a prominent member of the American Mathematical society. He is a noted lawyer of Monterey, Va., and a forcible speaker.

COLBORN, A. R., lumberman, was born Dec. 9, 1847, in Canada. In 1863 he enlisted as a volunteer in the thirtieth

Michigan infantry at Detroit; a few weeks after he was detailed headquarters' clerk, at Fort Gratiot, Port Huron; and shortly after he was made commissary of the regiment, holding that position until they were mustered out. He carries a stock of from five to ten million feet of lumber, and is to-day the largest lumber dealer in Michigan City. His sale of shingles alone—one of his specialties—amounts to fifty millions a year.

COLBURN, JEREMIAH, journalist, author, was born in 1815 in Boston, Mass. In 1857 he contributed articles to the Historical Magazine on American coins and coinage, which were followed for several years by short articles on these subjects in Notes and Queries. He is one of the founders of the Boston numismatic society, has been president, and since 1871 has been one of the editors of the American Journal of Numismatics.

COLBURN, MARTHA K., artist, poet, was born Oct. 4, 1846, in Garrettsville, Ohio. She received her education at the Waterford academy, and has attained prominence as an artist and poet. She has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press, and many of her poems have been given a place in standard publications.

COLBURN, WARREN, mathematician, author, was born March 1, 1793, in Dedham, Mass. He was a noted mathematician in Massachusetts, whose First Lessons in Intellectual Arithmetic was translated into many languages. He died Sept. 13, 1833, in Lowell, Mass.

COLBURN, ZERAH, engineer, author, was born Sept. 1, 1804, in Cabot, Vt. He was a well known mechanical engineer who published The Locomotive Engine; Steam Boiler Explosions; Nature of Heat and Its Mode of Action in the Phenomena of Combustion, etc.; and Treatise on the Principles of the Locomotive Engine. He died May 4, 1870, in Massachusetts.

COLBY, ANTHONY, state legislator, governor, was born in 1793 in New London, N. H. In 1828 he was elected to the state legislature, and served through twelve terms. In 1846 he became governor of New Hampshire; in 1861 was made adjutant-general of the state; and was subsequently a provost-marshal. He was a trustee of Dartmouth college; founded an academy at New London; and also endowed a baptist literary and theological institution in that town. He died July 13, 1873, in New London, N. H.

COLBY, CHARLES LEWIS, capitalist, was born May 22, 1839, in Roxbury, now part of Boston. In 1858 he graduated from the Brown university.

Until 1870 he was engaged in the shipping and warehouse business in New York city; after that was interested in railroad construction and mining. In 1876 he served with distinction as a member of the Wisconsin state legislature. He has been president of the following institutions: Wisconsin Central railroad; Minnesota, St. Croix and Wisconsin railroad; Milwaukee and Lake Winnebago railroad; Chicago, Wisconsin and Minnesota railroad; Chicago and Great Western railroad; Chippewa Falls and Western railroad; and various other business corporations. He resides in New York city, and is one of its most influential citizens.

COLBY, FREDERICK MYRON, journalist, author, was born Dec. 9, 1848, in Warner, N. H. He is a journalist of New Hampshire; and the author of The Daughter of Pharaoh, a Tale of the Exodus; and Brave Lads and Bonnie Lassies, a juvenile.

COLBY, GARDNER, philanthropist, was born Sept. 2, 1810, in Bowdoinham, Maine. During the civil war he was a large contractor for the supply of clothing to the national army, and in 1870 became president of the Wisconsin Central railroad. A gift from him of $50,000 to Waterville college, Maine, caused the name of that institution to be changed to Colby university. He died April 2, 1879, in Newton Centre, Mass.

COLBY, HENRY FRANCIS, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 25, 1842, in Bostop, Mass. He has been pastor of the First Baptist church in Dayton, Ohio, since his ordination in 1868, and in 1883 was president of the Ohio baptist convention. He has published a class poem and sketches of Gardner Colby, Caleb Parker, and Ebenezer Thresh.

COLBY, LEONARD W., soldier, lawyer, was born in Cherry Valley, Ohio. He graduated in the regular, classical and law courses of the university of Wisconsin.

He has served two terms in the state senate of the Nebraska legislature; has been assistant attorney of the United States; and is acknowledged to be one of the ablest lawyers in the western states. He served in the war of the rebellion, had command of a company in the Sioux and Cheyenne Indian war in 1863, commanded a battalion in the Indian campaign of 1876-78; was colonel in command of the regular and state troops during the strike in Omaha in 1882, and was brigadier-general in command of the Nebraska military forces in the Sioux Indian war in the winter of 1890-91. He has served in the infantry, cavalry and artillery, and in every military capacity from private to brigadier-general. He has been three years captain, six years colonel, and nine years brigadier-general.

COLBY, STODDARD B., United States treasurer, was born in 1816 in Vermont. In 1864 he was appointed register of the United States treasury at Washington. He died Sept. 21, 1867, in Haverhill, N. H.

COLCLEUGH, EMMA S., lecturer, poet, was born Sept. 3, 1846, in Thompson, Conn. She has traveled extensively, and her lectures on Alaska, Hawaii, and From Ocean to Ocean have won her national fame. Her poems occasionally appear in the periodical press.

COLCOCK, WILLIAM F., lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1823 in South Carolina. He was a member of the state legislature and speaker of the house; and was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1849 to 1853.

COLCORD, EDWARD JOHN, educator, poet, was born July 28, 1849, in Parsonsfield, Maine. In 1883 he became a teacher of ancient languages and general history in the Vermont academy; and since 1889 has been professor in a college at Columbia, S. C. His poems have appeared quite extensively in the periodical press, and his name appears in Poets of Maine.

COLCORD, ROSWELL K., governor, was born April 25, 1839, in Searsport, Maine. He has been engaged in mining and milling in Nevada; and in 1890 was elected governor of Nevada.

COLDEN, CADWALLADER, physician, governor, author, was born Feb. 17, 1688, in Scotland. He was a colonial physician, lieutenant-governor of the province of New York, 1761-76, and a prominent loyalist of his day. The History of the Five Indian Nations is his chief work. Among his many lesser writings is Principles of Actions on Matter. He died Sept. 28, 1776, in Long Island, N. Y.

COLDEN, CADWALLADER D., lawyer, state legislator, author, was born April 4, 1769, in Springfield, N. Y. He served in the legislature of that state; held the post of district attorney of the United States for many years; and was at one time mayor of New York. He was a member of congress from 1821 to 1823; and was an early and intimate friend of Robert Fulton, and wrote his biography. He published Life of Robert Fulton; and Vindication of the Steamboat Right Granted by the State of New York. He died Feb. 7, 1834, in Jersey City, N. J.

COLE, CHESTER C., lawyer, jurist, was born June 4, 1824, in Oxford, N. Y. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools, and pursued his studies in the Oxford academy. In 1849 he was admitted to the bar, after completing a thorough course in the Harvard law school. In 1857 he moved to Des Moines, Iowa, where he soon won a reputation as an astute lawyer by his logical and forcible arguments. In 1864 he was appointed judge of the supreme court of Iowa, and was twice elected to that high office. He resigned his position as chief justice to devote his entire time to the practice of law. In 1892 he was made dean of the Iowa College of Law, a department of the Drake university.

COLE, CORDELIA THROOP, prohibitionist, was born Nov. 17, 1833, in Hamilton, N. Y. She attended the Hamilton academy, now known as the Colgate seminary.

For five years she was engaged in educational work in the Collegiate institute of Keokuk, Iowa; and the North Illinois institute of Henry, Ill. For seven years she was secretary of the Iowa Unitarian association; nine years state and national superintendent of the Purity department of the W. C. T. U., and lecturer on White Cross and Social Purity, and speaker for Total Abstinence and Prohibition for more than twenty years. She is also one of the managing editors of the Dial of Progress of Mount Pleasant, Iowa.

COLE, CORNELIUS, journalist, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Sept. 17, 1822, in Lodi, N. Y. He was district attorney of Sacramento for two years; and in 1863 was elected a representative from California to the thirty-eighth congress. He was elected to the United States senate for the term commencing in 1867 and ending in 1873.

COLE, FRANCIS RICHARD, lawyer, orator, author, poet, was born prior to the great fire in Chicago, Ill. He was given a thorough education in the public schools; received the degree of LL. B. from the Lake Forest university; and subsequently received the degrees of Ph. D. and LL. D. He is one of the foremost lawyers of his native city; and in 1892 was a candidate for judge of the supreme court on the labor reform ticket. He is a lecturer on medical jurisprudence in the Dutton Medical college; is president of the Citizens' Sovereignty association; and is the author of a large amount of poetry and prose; and in 1896 wrote a work entitled Civilization, Bryan and the Times.

COLE, GEORGE E., congressman, was born Dec. 22, 1826, in Oneida county, N. Y. He was a member of the Oregon legislature in 1851-53; and during the years 1859-60 was clerk of the United States district court for Oregon. He moved to Washington territory in 1861; and in 1863 was elected a delegate from Washington Territory to the thirty-eighth congress.

COLE, JOSEPH FOXCROFT, artist, was born Nov. 9, 1837, in Jay, Maine. His professional life has been spent in Paris and Boston. Among his paintings are Scene in Normandy, exhibited in the Paris salon of 1875; Norman Farm; and Sheep-washing in Normandy. Coast Scene in Normandy, shown at the Centennial exhibition of 1876, received a medal and diploma.

COLE, NATHAN, hanker, congressman, was born July 26, 1825, in St. Louis, Mo. He became vice-president of two leading banks in his native city, and director in a number of other corporations. He was mayor of St. Louis from 1869 to 1871; was president of the Merchants' Exchange of that city in 1876; and was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-fifth congress as a republican.

COLE, ORSAMUS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Aug. 23, 1819, in Cazenovia, N. Y. He was appointed United States judge for Wisconsin territory; and was a representative in congress from Wisconsin from 1849 to 1851.

COLE, RICHARD BEVERLY, surgeon, was born Aug. 12, 1829, in Manchester, Va. He served in 1856 as surgeon-general of the vigilance committee; and from 1860 to 1864 as surgeon-general of the state. In 1869 he was called to the chair of obstetrics and gynecology in the university of California, and three years later was elected president, which position he still holds.

COLE, THOMAS, artist, was born Feb. 1, 1801, in England. He has painted numerous pictures, and was engaged upon another ambitious series, entitled The Cross and the World, at the time of his death. He wrote an unpublished dramatic poem, a novel, and some sketches of travel. He died Feb. 11, 1847, in Catskill, N. Y.

COLE, ULYSSES D., lawyer, legislator, was born Sept. 19, 1841, in Marysville, Ohio. He served as a captain in the union army, 1862-65. In 1877 he was elected a member of the Indiana house of representatives.

COLE, WILLIAM HINSON, journalist, congressman, was born Jan. 11, 1837, in Baltimore, Md. He served on the medical staff of the confederate army throughout the civil war. At its close he engaged in journalism in Baltimore; became editor and proprietor of the Evening Journal and subsequently city editor of the Baltimore Gazette. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Maryland to the forty-ninth congress. He died July 8, 1886, in Washington, D. C.

COLEMAN, A. A., legislator, jurist, poet, was born in Camden, S. C. At the age of twenty-seven years he was appointed judge of the seventh judicial circuit of Alabama, where he made a splendid record for learning and legal ability. In 1862 he organized a regiment known as the fortieth Alabama, which he commanded for one year, when he resumed his seat on the bench. In 1884-85 he represented Hale county in the general assembly; and now practices law in Birmingham, Ala. He is the author of a number of meritorious poems, some of which have been given a place in Poets of America and other standard works.

COLEMAN, ALBERT LORING, lawyer, state senator, was born in Junius, N. Y. He taught school for a number of years, and is a successful lawyer of Centralia, Mo. In 1887 he was a representative in the Missouri state legislature; and in 1896 was elected to the state senate. He has been prominent in all reform movements for the welfare of his state; and has been instrumental in passing numerous bills of importance. As a lawyer he is one of the best known west of the Mississippi.

COLEMAN, ANN M. B., author, was born May 5, 1813, in Russellville, Ky. She has translated various French works for American publishers; and is the author of a volume entitled Life and Letters of J. J. Crittenden. She died Feb. 13, 1891, in Louisville, Ky.

COLEMAN, AUGUSTUS L., surveyor, legislator, was born May 23, 1855, in Exeter, N. Y. In 1890-91 he served as a member of the first state legislature of Wyoming; was United States deputy surveyor during 1891-94; and in 1896 was elected to the state senate for four years. He is now also connected with the United States geological survey.

COLEMAN, HAMILTON DUDLEY, soldier, manufacturer, congressman, was born May 12, 1845, in New Orleans, La. He enlisted in Washington artillery, army of northern Virginia, as a private, and served as such throughout the war. He has been engaged in the business of manufacturing and dealing in plantation machinery over twenty years. He was active in the organization of the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial exposition; was one of the organizers of the first electric lighting company established in New Orleans, and served as vice-president and afterward as president. He served two terms as president of the New Orleans chamber of commerce, and was elected November, 1888, one of the vice-presidents of the national board of trade. He was elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

COLEMAN, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 11, 1803, in Baltimore, Md. He published Faber's Difficulties of Romanism; and The Episcopal Manual. For many years he was the editor of the Banner of the Cross, of Philadelphia, Pa. He died Sept. 16, 1869, in St. Louis, Mo.

COLEMAN, JULIA, temperance reformer, philanthropist, was born Feb. 16, —, in Fulton county, N. Y. For upward of twenty years she has studied the subject of alcohol in all its phases, and is at the front in the scientific educational temperance work, being author of leading scientific text books for both old and young. Her conferences, conducted in connection with grove camp meetings, are very largely attended and exert a wide influence.

COLEMAN, LEIGHTON, clergyman, bishop, author, was born May 3, 1837, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was educated at the Episcopal academy of Philadelphia, and the General Theological seminary of New York city. He was rector in several parishes; and in 1888 was consecrated protestant episcopal bishop of Delaware. In 1896 he founded the Sisterhood of All Angels, whose mother house is in Wilmington, Del. He is also chaplain-general of the Society of the War of 1812, and chaplain of the Delaware State Society of the Cincinnati. He is the author of The Church in America, a history of the American episcopal church; and various other works.

COLEMAN, LEWIS MINER, educator, was born Feb. 3, 1827, in Hanover county, Va. At the beginning of the war he raised an artillery company for the confederate service, became its captain, and in 1862 was appointed major of artillery. He died in March, 1863.

COLEMAN, LUCY NEWHALL, reformer, was born July 26, 1817, in Sturbridge, Mass. She obtained a school in Rochester, N. Y., composed exclusively of colored children; and under the auspices of the New York Aid society, became president of the colored schools in the District of Columbia.

COLEMAN, LYMAN, clergyman, author, was born June 14, 1796, in Middlefield, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman who was a classical professor at Lafayette college in 1861-82. He was the author of Ancient Christianity Exemplified; Prelacy and Ritualism; The Apostolical and Primitive Church; Historical Geography of the Bible; Text-Book and Atlas of Bible Geography; and Genealogy of the Lyman Family. He died March 16, 1882, in Easton, Pa.

COLEMAN, NICHOLAS D., congressman, was born in 1800 in Harrison county, Ky. In 1825 he was elected to the state legislature; and was a representative in congress from 1829 to 1831. He was soon afterward appointed postmaster of Marysville, and to the same position in Vicksburg from 1841 to 1844. He was also for a time president of the Southern Pacific railroad. He died in May, 1874, in Vicksburg, Ky.

COLEMAN, OBED M., inventor, was born Jan. 23, 1817, in Barnstable, Mass. He removed to Saratoga in 1842, and invented improvements in the accordion. He also began here to construct his æolian attachment to the piano-forte, which gave him high rank among inventors. He sold his patent for $100,000 in this country, and for about $10,000 in England. He died April 5, 1845, in Saratoga, N. Y.

COLEMAN, THOMAS, banker, state senator, was born June 16, 1808, in Massachusetts. From 1852 to 1863 he was director of the Bank of Troy, resigning therefrom to assume the presidency of the First National bank. In 1872 he was presidential elector of the state; and in 1875 was state senator.

COLEMAN, THOMAS MOORE, civil engineer, poet, was born May 15, 1830, in Parke county, Ind. For seven years he was justice of the peace at Glendon, Iowa; a member of the county board of supervisors; county surveyor; and has filled various positions of trust in his county and state. He has written extensively for the periodical press, and his poems have been given a place in several standard works.

COLEMAN, THOMAS WILKES, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born March 31, 1834, in Eutaw, Ala. In 1853 he graduated from the Princeton college, N. J. In 1865 he was a member of the constitutional convention of Alabama; was state's solicitor for many years; and chancellor of Alabama. He has served as associate justice of the supreme court of the state of Alabama, and still holds that position.

COLEMAN, WILLIAM, lawyer, journalist, was born Feb. 14, 1766, in Boston, Mass. He studied law, began practice in Greenfield, Mass., and during Shay's rebellion served against the insurgents. He removed to New York city about 1794, and was for a short time a law partner of Aaron Burr. He died July 13, 1829, in New York city.

COLEMAN, WILLIAM EMMETTE, soldier, lecturer, orientalist, was born June 19, 1843, in Shadwell, Va. During 1854-

57 he was assistant librarian of the Richmond library. He was president of the board of registration of Bland county, Va., under the federal reconstruction law; a member of three state conventions; and vice-president of the Virginia state Woman's Rights Association in 1870. He is now chief of the quartermaster's office, United States army, San Francisco, Cal. During 1862-1874 he was an actor and stage manager; and adapted several novels for the stage, notably that of East Lynne, in 1864. He is the author of a number of government publications; has lectured on Evolution, Darwinism, Spectrum Analysis; and for thirty years has been an active writer and speaker for higher spiritualism. For many years he has been student of Orientalism, and has written numerous treatises on Oriental subjects, Mythology, Philology, Archæology, and kindred subjects; and is a member of the principal Oriental societies of America and Europe.

COLERICK, JOHN, lawyer, was born Sept. 20, 1837, in Indianapolis, Ind. He was elected district attorney for the twentieth common pleas district of Indiana. In 1870 he was unanimously put in nomination as the democratic candidate for congress in the ninth congressional district. He died March 7, 1872, at Fort Wayne, Ind.

COLERICK, WALPOLE G., lawyer, member of congress, was born Aug. 1, 1845, in Fort Wayne, Ind. He received his education in the public schools of his native city; and has attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of Indiana. He served with distinction as a member of the house of representatives of the United States in the forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses in 1879-83.

In 1883 he became one of the supreme court commissioners of the state of Indiana, and served until the expiration of the commission by limitation of law creating the court.

COLES, ABRAHAM, physician, author, was born Dec. 26, 1813, in Scotch Plains, N. J. He was a New Jersey physician who published a volume containing thirteen original translations of the Dies Irae. His other works include Stabat Mater Dolorosa; Stabat Mater Speciosa; Old Gems in New Settings; The Microcosm, a psychological poem; The Evangel in Verse; The Light of the World; and The Psalms in Verse, with notes. He died May 3, 1891, in Monterey, Cal.

COLES, EDWARD, governor, author, was born Dec. 15, 1786, in Albemarle county, Va. He was private secretary to President Madison, who sent him on a mission to Russia in 1817. On his return in 1818 he removed to Illinois, taking with him his slaves, whom he had liberated. He was governor of that state from 1823 to 1826. He died July 7, 1868, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COLES, GEORGE, clergyman, author, was born in 1792 in England. He was a methodist clergyman who published The Antidote, or Revelation Defended; Concordance of the Scriptures; and Heroines of Methodism.

COLES, ISAAC, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1789 to 1791, and again from 1793 to 1797.

COLES, JONATHAN A., physician, was born May 6, 1843. In 1891 he was elected president of the Union Medical society; and has filled various offices of responsibility and trust both in and out of his profession in Newark, N. J.

COLES, WALTER, congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1835 to 1845.

COLESWORTHY, DANIEL CLEMENT, author, poet, was born July 14, 1810, in Portland, Maine. He was a noted bookseller of Boston, who was also a writer. Some of his poems for children, like Don't Kill the Birds, and Little Words of Kindness, have been extremely popular. He is the author of Sunday School Hymns; Advice to an Apprentice; Opening Buds; Chronicles of Casco Bay; A Group of Children, and Other Poems; School is Out; The Year; and A Day in the Woods, in verse, comprise the most of his writings. He died in 1893.

COLEY, WILLIAM XENOPHON, journalist, was born May 7, 1868, in Farmington, N. C. He is the editor and owner of the Times of Mocksville, N. C., of which city he is mayor; and he has filled many important offices in his town, county and state.

COLFAX, SCHUYLER, journalist, vice-president of the United States, was born March 23, 1823, in New York city. In 1850 he was a member of the state constitutional convention; in 1848 and 1852 a delegate to the whig national conventions of those years, and was secretary to each; and was elected a representative from Indiana to the thirty-fourth congress, and to successive congresses, including the fortieth, serving as chairman of the committee on postoffices, and as regent of the Smithsonian institution. He was chosen speaker during the thirty-eighth congress, and was twice re-elected to the same position. In 1868 he was elected to the office of vice-president of the United States on the ticket with Gen. Grant for president. After the close of his term he devoted himself to lecturing. He died Jan. 13, 1885, in Mankato, Minn.

COLFELT, LAWRENCE M., clergyman, was born Dec. 22, 1849, in Reedsville, Pa. He is a noted clergyman of Oxford church of Philadelphia, and in 1885 Hampden Sidney college gave him the degree of D. D.

COLGATE, JAMES BOORMAN, banker, was born March 4, 1818, in New York city. He is a son of William Colgate, who came to America in 1798, settled in Harford county, Md., and in 1804 removed to New York, where he established the now widely known industry of manufacturing Colgate's soaps. James B. Colgate has been for many years a banker and dealer in securities and bullion. He has given large sums to Colgate university; and built and liberally endowed Colgate academy.

COLGATE, ROBERT, manufacturer, was born in 1812. While long connected with his father's firm, his greatest achievement was the manufacture of white lead by corrosion for use in paints. About 1845 he organized the firm of Robert Colgate and Company, and built works in the city of Brooklyn under the name of The Atlantic White Lead and Linseed Oil company. He died July 4, 1885.

COLGATE, SAMUEL, manufacturer, was born March 22, 1822, in New York city. He is a son of the late William Colgate. At an early age he took a position in the works of Colgate and Company, manufacturers of soap, and has since devoted his business life to this industry, now being senior partner in the concern. In conjunction with his brother, James B. Colgate, he erected the Colgate academy building, in Hamilton, N. Y., at an expense of $60,000. He is president of the New York Baptist Education society, and of the Society for the Suppression of Vice.

COLGATE, WILLIAM, manufacturer, was born Jan. 25, 1783, in England. He emigrated to Maryland in 1795; and in 1804 became apprentice to a soap boiler of New York city, whose business he subsequently followed with success. He died March 25, 1857, in New York city.

COLHOUN, EDMUND R., naval officer, was born May 6, 1821, in Pennsylvania. In 1863 he commanded the steamer Ladona, and afterward the monitor Weehawken, of the south Atlantic blockading squadron, in her various engagements with Forts Sumter, Wagner and Beauregard, in the summer of 1863. He was commandant at Mare Island navy-yard, Cal., in 1879-80, and inspector of vessels in California at the time of his retirement.

COLHOUN, JOHN, naval officer, was born in 1802 in Pennsylvania. He entered the navy as midshipman in 1821, and was subsequently promoted to the rank of commodore in 1867. He died Nov. 30, 1872, in New York city.

COLLAMER, JACOB, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born in 1792 in Troy, N. Y. He was a member of the state legislature, and from 1833 to 1841 was judge of the supreme court of Vermont; and in 1843 took his seat as a representative in congress from Vermont, serving by re-elections until 1849. In March of that year he was appointed postmaster-general in the cabinet of President Taylor, and was soon afterward appointed on the supreme bench of his state, which office he held until 1854, when he was elected a senator in congress from Vermont for six years from 1855. In 1861 he was re-elected for the term ending in 1867. He died Nov. 8, 1865, in Woodstock, Vt.

COLLAMORE, DAVIS, merchant, manufacturer, was born Oct. 7, 1820, in Scituate, Mass. In 1842 he established himself in business in New York city, and in 1886 the business was reorganized as a stock company, of which he continued president until the time of his death. He died Aug. 13, 1887.

COLLBRAN, HENRY, railroad president, was born Dec. 24, 1852, in London, England. He is president of the Midland Terminal railway at Denver, Colo.

COLLENS, THOMAS WHARTON, jurist, author, was born June 23, 1812, in New Orleans, La. He was a well-known jurist of New Orleans, who wrote The Martyr Patriots, a tragedy; Humanics; Views of the Labour Movement; and The Eden of Labour. He died Nov. 3, 1879, in New Orleans, La.

COLLES, CHRISTOPHER, engineer, philosopher, was born about 1738, in Ireland. During the war of 1812 he was the projector and attendant of the telegraph erected on Castle Clinton. He is said to have built the first steam engine in America.

COLLETT, JOHN, geologist, state senator, jurist, was born Jan. 6, 1828, in Eugene, Ind. He was state senator in 1871; assistant state geologist in 1870-78; a member of the state house commission in 1878-79; chief of the bureau of statistics and geology in 1879-80; and geologist in 1881-85. From 1870 till 1879 he published annually his reports as assistant geologist, and as geologist from 1881 till 1884, and for the years 1879 and 1880 reports of the bureau of statistics and geology.

COLLIER, MRS. ADA LANGWORTHY, author, poet, was born in 1843 in Iowa. She is a writer of Dubuque, whose Lilith, the Legend of the First Woman, is a poem of merit.

COLLIER, CHARLES A., banker, was born July 1, 1848, in Atlanta, Ga. In 1887 he was president of the Piedmont exposition; alderman of that city in 1888; and was engaged extensively in mercantile and banking pursuits.

COLLIER, GEORGE X. M., lawyer, was born Sept. 27, 1838, in Claremont, N. H. He attended the public schools, and graduated from the university of Michigan. He has attained prominence as one of the foremost lawyers of Michigan, and practices his profession at Detroit.

COLLIER, HENRY WATKINS, lawyer, jurist, governor, was born Jan. 17, 1801, in Lunenburg county, Va. He was judge of the circuit court of Tuscaloosa, Ala., district from 1827 to 1837; chief justice of Alabama from 1837 to 1849; and governor from 1849 to 1853. He died Aug. 28, 1855, at Bailey's Springs, Ala.

COLLIER, JOHN A., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1787 in Broome county, N. Y. He practiced law at Binghamton, was elected to congress as a Clay democrat, serving from 1831 till 1833; was state comptroller in 1845-46, and was commissioner to revise the code in 1847. He died March 24, 1873, in Binghamton, N. Y.

COLLIER, JOSEPH AVERY, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 26, 1828, in Plymouth, Mass. He was a reformed Dutch clergyman of Kingston, N. Y.; and the author of The Right Way, or the Gospel Applied to the Intercourse of Individuals and Nations; The Christian Home; The Young Men of the Bible; Pleasant Paths for Little Feet; Little Crowns; and Dawn of Heaven. He died Aug. 13, 1864, in Kinderhook, N. Y.

COLLIER, PETER, chemist, author, was born Aug. 17, 1835, in Chittengo, N. Y. He is a chemist of distinction for several years attached to the department of agriculture at Washington; and the author of Sorghum, Its Culture and Manufacture Economically Considered; and Investigations of Sorghum as a Sugar Producing Plant.

COLLIER, ROBERT LAIRD, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 7, 1837, in Salisbury, Md. He was a unitarian clergyman who in his later years was a London correspondent of the New York Herald; and the author of Every-Day Subjects in Sunday Sermons; Meditations on the Essence of Christianity; Henry Irving: a Sketch and a Criticism; and English Home Life. He died July 28, 1890, in Salisbury, Md.

COLLIER, THOMAS S., naval officer, physician, poet, was born Nov. 14, 1842, in New York city. He entered the American navy at an early age, in which he served through the civil war, and was retired in 1883. His poems have appeared in many standard publications, which have been collected in one complete volume, entitled Song Spray. He died in 1893.

COLLIN, JOHN F., state legislator, congressman, was born April 30, 1802, in Hillsdale, N. Y. He served in the state legislature in 1834; was a member of the county board of supervisors; and was a representative in congress from New York from 1845 to 1847.

COLLINS, CHARLES, educator, clergyman, author, was born April 17, 1813, in North Yarmouth, Maine. He was a Methodist preacher and educator of Tennessee, who published Methodism and Calvinism Compared. He died July 10, 1875, in Memphis, Tenn.

COLLINS, CHARLES, merchant, was born April 2, 1817, in Blandford, Mass. In 1842 he established a business in St. Louis, Mo., and was also at the head of a large cotton manufactory in Glastonbury, Conn. After the war he closed his business in St. Louis and established a dry goods commission house in New York city, from which he retired in 1878. He died Nov. 30, 1891.

COLLINS, CLARENCE LYMAN, was born Feb. 22, 1848, in Hartford, Conn. In 1878 he conducted a wholesale commission business under the firm name of Whitin and Collins; and in 1878 was elected a member of the chamber of commerce of New York city.

COLLINS, DAVID EDWARD, banker, poet, was born May 8, 1850, in Scotland. He is a banker of high standing in Oakland, Cal., where he now resides. He has written more than one hundred commendable poems that have received extensive publication in the University Journal and the periodical press generally.

COLLINS, EDWARD K., shipowner, was born Aug. 5, 1802, in Cape Cod, Mass. He established the Dramatic line of sailing packets to Liverpool in 1836. The first steamer of the Collins line between New York and Liverpool sailed from New York on April 27, 1849. He died Jan. 22, 1878, in New York city.

COLLINS, EDWIN RALPH, explorer, author, was born in 1859, in Newark, N. J. He has traveled extensively and has attained prominence as an explorer of the Hudson Bay regions. He has been editor of the Texas Siftings, and is the author of several novels.

COLLINS, ELA, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 14, 1786, in Meriden, Conn. He was for twenty years district attorney, displaying ability as an advocate, and during the latter part of his life devoted much attention to farming. He commanded a regiment of militia near Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., in 1814; represented Lewis county in the legislature of the state, and in 1821 was a member of the state constitutional convention. He was in congress from New York from 1823 to 1825. He died Nov. 23, 1848, in Lowville, Conn.

COLLINS, FRANCIS D., lawyer, congressman, was born March 5, 1844, in Saugerties, N. Y. He was elected a district attorney in 1869; was elected to the state senate in 1872, 1873 and 1874, and in the latter year was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-fourth and forty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

COLLINS, FRANK W., lawyer, lecturer, was born Feb. 9, 1860, in Pompey Hill, N. Y. He attended the Dryden Union school and academy, and graduated from the Syracuse university. During 1894-96 he was president of the Nebraska Republican league, and has been assistant prosecuting attorney of Lincoln, Neb. During the campaign of 1896 he was kept in constant service by the national republican committee, and lectured in the principal cities of Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska, and his lectures generally abound with an inexhaustible fund of wit.

COLLINS, GEORGE J., soldier, was born Oct. 25, 1839, in New York city. He attained the rank of lieutenant in the civil war; in 1882 was elected alderman of the twenty-first ward of Brooklyn, and in 1890 postmaster of Brooklyn.

COLLINS, GEORGE T., soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born Sept. 10, 1842, in Scotland county, Mo. During the civil war he served in company F, forty-fifth Iowa infantry; and has since attained prominence as a noted lawyer of Memphis, Mo. He served with distinction as a member of the thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth and thirty-ninth general assemblies of Missouri.

COLLINS, GILBERT, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 26, 1846, in Stonington, Conn. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools; and was prepared by David Hart, A. M., for Yale college. He has attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of the east, and has a large practice in Jersey City, N. J., of which city he was mayor during 1884-86. In 1897 he was appointed a justice of the supreme court of New Jersey, and his decisions have shown great judicial ability and learning.

COLLINS, HOLDRIDGE OZRO, lawyer, author, was born Dec. 10, 1844, in Cayuga county, N. Y. He was instrumental in the creation of the first regiment infantry, Illinois national guard, and he was one of the six captains who was first elected. He was promoted to lieutenant-colonel, and had a large command in Chicago during the railroad riots of 1877. In 1884 he published a history of the Illinois National Guards.

COLLINS, ISAAC, publisher, was born Feb. 16, 1746, in Delaware. In 1770 he was appointed public printer in New Jersey, and removed to Burlington. In 1771 he began the publication of an almanac, which he issued annually for more than twenty years. In 1778 he removed to Trenton, and there printed 5,000 copies of a family Bible that was remarkably free from typographical errors. He died March 21, 1817, in Burlington, N. J.

COLLINS, JEREMIAH BUCKLEY, lawyer, legislator, was born April 2, 1865, at Renovo, Pa. In 1890 he graduated from the northern Indiana law school, and three years later was elected a member of the Indiana legislature.

COLLINS, JOHN, governor. He was governor of Delaware from 1820 to his death, which occurred April 15, 1822, in Wilmington, Del.

COLLINS, JOHN, congressman, governor, was born June 8, 1717. He was governor of Rhode Island from 1786 to 1789. He was a patriot of the revolution, a delegate to the old congress from 1778 to 1783, and a signer of the articles of confederation. He was elected a representative in congress in 1789. He died March 8, 1795, in Newport, R. I.

COLLINS, LEWIS, journalist, jurist, was born Dec. 25, 1797. He was proprietor and editor of the Maysville Eagle for twenty-seven years, and from 1851-54 was first presiding judge of the Mason county court. He died Jan. 29, 1870, in Lexington, Ky.

COLLINS, LORIN WARREN, soldier, state legislator, jurist, was born in 1838 in Lowell, Mass. He moved to Minnesota in 1854; served through the civil war in the seventh Minnesota, and was brevetted captain in 1865. He was county attorney of Stearns county for ten years; and a member of the Minnesota house of representatives in 1881-83. In 1883 he was appointed judge of the seventh judicial district; and was elected the following year. Since 1887 he has been associate justice of the supreme court.

COLLINS, NAPOLEON, naval officer, was born May 4, 1814, in Pennsylvania. He entered the navy as midshipman in 1840, attained the rank of rear-admiral, and in 1874 was made commander of the Pacific squadron. He died June 7, 1875, in Washington, D. C.

COLLINS, PATRICK A., lawyer, legislator, congressman, was born March 12, 1844, in Ireland. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools of Chelsea, Mass., and graduated from the Harvard law school. He is a successful lawyer of Boston, Mass.; was a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1868-69; of the Massachusetts senate in 1870-71; and in 1875 was judge advocate-general of Massachusetts. He was a representative in the forty-eighth, forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses, and served on various important committees. During 1893-97 he was consul-general of the United States at London, England.

COLLINS, SPENCER, lawyer, was born April 10, 1861, near Glenville, W. Va. In 1883 he graduated from the Glenville State Normal school, and subsequently engaged in educational work. In 1887 he was admitted to the bar and has become prominent in his profession in his native city.

COLLINS, THOMAS, soldier, jurist, governor, was born in 1732, in Delaware. He was a member of the council for four years; brigadier-general of militia from 1776 to 1783; a member of the assembly, and chief justice of the court of common pleas; and was governor of Delaware from 1786 to 1789. He died March 29, 1789, near Ducks Creek, Del.

COLLINS, THOMAS WHARTON, soldier, lawyer, jurist, author, was born June 23, 1812, in New Orleans, La. He was reporter and clerk of the state senate in 1834, then edited the True American. He was district attorney for the Orleans district in 1840-42; judge of the city court in 1842-46, a member of the constitutional convention in 1852, and in 1856 was elected judge of the first district court of New Orleans. In 1867 he was made judge of the seventh district court. He was the author of a tragedy called The Martyr Patriots, which was successfully performed; also of Humanities; The Eden of Labor; and essays on sociology, ethics, and politics, published in periodicals. He died Nov. 3, 1879.

COLLINS, TRUMAN D., railroad president, was born March 7, 1831, in Cortland, N. Y. Since 1891 he has been president of the Tronesta Valley and Hickory railroad at Nebraska, Pa.

COLLINS, MRS. W. LESLIE, poet. She is the author of a volume entitled Sea Waifs and Other Poems.

COLLINS, WILLIAM, lawyer, congressman, was born in Oneida county, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849, and was district attorney for Lewis county until he removed to Cleveland, Ohio.

COLLINS, ZACCHEUS, philanthropist, was born Aug. 26, 1764, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a member of the society of Friends, a promoter of the advancement of the natural sciences, and an officer or member of many philosophical, humane and religious societies.

COLLYER, ROBERT, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 8, 1823, in England. He is a unitarian clergyman of New York and one of the leading men among the clergy of his faith. He was born in Yorkshire, and learned the blacksmith's trade, which he still followed after coming to America in 1849. He was then a Wesleyan local preacher, but his views changing he became a unitarian, and in 1860 founded Unity church in Chicago, over which he remained pastor until he went to New York in 1879. His influence, both within and without the unitarian body, has been very great. He is the author of The Life that Now Is; Nature and Life; A Man in Earnest; The Simple Truth, a Home Book; Lectures to Young Men and Women; History of Ikley, in Yorkshire.

COLMAN, BENJAMIN, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 19, 1673, in Boston, Mass. He was a famous congregational minister of Boston, whose theological views were much more liberal than those of his contemporaries, and whose literary style was far more polished and flexible. Evangelical Sermons Collected; Twenty Sacramental Sermons. He died Aug. 29, 1747, in Boston, Mass.

COLMAN, ELIHU, attorney, legislator, was born May 11, 1841, in Oneida, Wis. He graduated from the Lawrence university in 1865, and was elected to the Wisconsin legislature in 1872. He was United States district attorney for the eastern district of Wisconsin during President Harrison's administration.

COLMAN, HENRY, author, was born Sept. 12, 1785, in Boston, Mass. He was an agricultural writer of Massachusetts, who was a congregational minister at Hingham, 1807-20, and afterwards a unitarian minister at Salem; and the author of Report on Silk Culture; European Agriculture and Rural Economy; Agriculture and Rural Economy of France, Belgium, Holland, and Switzerland; and European Life and Manners. He died Aug. 14, 1849, in England.

COLMAN, HENRY, clergyman, was born May 14, 1834, in Bridport, Vt. He is an eminent clergyman of the methodist episcopal church, and since 1863 has been trustee of the Lawrence university of Appleton, Wis.

COLMAN, NORMAN J., journalist, lawyer, state legislator, was born in 1827, near Richfield Springs, N. Y. He moved to St. Louis, Mo., in 1853, and founded Colman's Rural World, an agricultural paper. He was elected a member of the board of aldermen for the city of St. Louis in 1855, and was elected a representative in the legislature of Missouri in 1865. He was elected lieutenant-governor of Missouri in 1874, and was president of the Missouri State Horticultural society. In 1885 he was appointed United States commissioner of agriculture.

COLMAN, SAMUEL, painter, was born in 1832, in Portland, Me. He began early to sketch from nature in and around New York, where his father was a publisher, and became a pupil of Asher B. Durand. His studio is in New York, and he was the first president of the American water color society. His pictures include Bay of Gibraltar; Misty Afternoon in Venice; Ruins of Mosque in Algeria; and Tower of Giralda.

COLQUILLARD, ALEXIS, manufacturer, capitalist, was born April 27, 1825, in Detroit, Mich. He kept on increasing his landed possessions until 1865, when he established the Colquillard Wagon works of South Bend, Ind.

COLQUITT, ALFRED HOLT, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, governor, was born April 20, 1824, in Walton county, Ga. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1853 to 1855; and was a presidential elector in 1860. He entered the confederate army as colonel, and, by distinguished gallantry, won promotion to the rank of major-general. He was elected governor of Georgia in 1876 by the largest majority ever received by a candidate in that state, and continued in office, by re-election, until 1882, when he was elected a senator of the United States from Georgia for the term of six years; and received the re-election in 1888 and served until 1895.

COLQUITT, WALTER T., soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 27, 1799, in Halifax county, Va. He served as a brigadier-general of militia at the age of twenty-one, and in 1826 was appointed a district judge, and held the first court ever held in Columbus. He was appointed to the same office in 1829, and was a member of the state senate in 1834 and 1837. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1839 to 1843; and a senator in congress from 1843 to 1849. He died May 7, 1855, in Macon, Ga.

COLSON, DAVID GRANT, lawyer, congressman, was born April 1, 1861, at Yellow Creek, Ky. In 1887 he was elected to the Kentucky house of representatives, session of 1887-88; and was the republican nominee for state treasurer in 1889. He was elected mayor of Middlesboro in 1893, for four years, which position he resigned to accept a seat in the fifty-fourth congress; and was re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

COLSTON, EDWARD, congressman, was born in 1788, in Berkeley county, Va. He served for a long time as magistrate of the county, and in the capacity of high sheriff. He was frequently a member of the state legislature, and was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1817 to 1819. He died April 23, 1851.

COLT, LE BARON BRADFORD, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born June 25, 1846, in Dedham, Mass. He was a representative in the state legislature of Rhode Island in 1879 and 1880, and in 1881 was appointed United States district judge for the district of Rhode Island.

COLT, SAMUEL, inventor, was born July 19, 1814, in Hartford, Conn. While a sailor, Mr. Colt had whittled out a wooden model of a pistol, which should fire several shots before reloading, and in 1835 obtained a patent for this weapon, both in America and in England and France. A new plant was created in 1852 upon a tract of 250 acres in Hartford, and in 1855 the Colt Patent Fire Arms company was organized to carry on the business. He died Jan. 10, 1862, in Hartford, Conn.

COLTON, CALVIN, clergyman, author, was born in 1789 in Longmeadow, Mass. He was an episcopal clergyman of some note in his day as a political writer, and the author of Manual for Emigrants to America; History of American Revivals; Protestant Jesuitism; Public Economy for the United States, a plea for protection; Life of Henry Clay; and Junius Tracts. He died March 13, 1857, in Savannah, Ga.

COLTON, GARDNER QUINCY, inventor, author, was born Feb. 7, 1814, in Georgia, Vt. He discovered the remarkable properties and made a practical application of the use of nitrous oxide; and commenced a series of lectures on the effect of nitrous oxide upon the human system. He has also achieved some celebrity as a writer on various theological subjects.

COLTON, GEORGE HOOKER, poet, was born Oct. 27, 1818, in Westford, N. Y. He was a noted writer and the author of a poem entitled Tecumseh. He died Dec. 1, 1847, in New York city.

COLTON, WALTER, journalist, author, was born May 9, 1797, in Rutland, Vt. He was a journalist and educator who established the first newspaper in California, and built the first schoolhouse there. As chaplain in the United States navy he visited many parts of the world. He is the author of Visit to Athens and Constantinople; Land and Lee in the Bosphorus and Ægean; and other works. He died Jan. 22, 1851, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COLUMBUS, CHRISTOPHER, discoverer, was born about 1436. He discovered America on Oct. 12, 1492. He died May 20, 1506, in Valladolid.

COLVER, NATHANIEL, clergyman, was born May 10, 1794, in Orwell, Vt. He was eminent as an anti-mason and abolitionist; was an able preacher and had great power with the masses. He founded and put in successful operation at Richmond, the Colver institute for educating young men of color for the ministry. He died Sept. 25, 1870, in Chicago, Ill.

COLVIN, ADDISON B., journalist, public official, was born in 1858 in the state of New York. He attended school in the Glens Falls academy, and at the age of eighteen years he was the editor and proprietor of the Glens Falls Daily Times, and was at that time the youngest editor of a daily paper in the United States. Since 1894 he has been treasurer of the state of New York; and is the president of the New York State league of Republican clubs. He is secretary and treasurer of the Queensbury republican town committee; secretary and treasurer of the Warren county republican committee; treasurer of the Republican league of the State of New York; was for several years director and vice-president of the Warren County Agricultural society; is a stockholder of the Glens Falls Gas Company; was one of the organizers of the People's National bank of Sandy Hill; is a director of the Crandall Free library of Glens Falls; was one of the organizers and is a charter member of the United Press association; is a member and ex vice-president of the New York Press association; was one of the organizers and first vice-president of the Commercial Union Telegraph company; is ex-chief engineer of the Glens Falls fire department; was organizer and president of the Glens Falls Messenger Service company; was one of the organizers and vice-presidents of the Glens Falls board of trade, and is a member of the Glens Falls Business Men's association.

COLVIN, VERPLANCK, engineer, surveyor, lecturer, author, was born Jan. 4, 1847, in Albany, N. Y. In 1872 he applied to the legislature for aid, and in consequence the Adirondack survey was instituted, with himself as superintendent. His work during that year included the discovery of Lake Tear-of-the-Clouds, the most elevated lake spring and source of the Hudson river. About 1881 he delivered at Hamilton college a series of lectures on geodesy, surveying, and topographical engineering.

COLWELL, J. B., clergyman, was born July 19, 1834, in Herefordshire, England. In 1862 he graduated from the Garret Biblical institute of Evanston, Ill.; has since attained eminence as one of the foremost clergymen of the methodist episcopal church in Illinois, and now fills a pastorate at Ridge Farm.

COLWELL, STEPHEN, merchant, author, was born in 1800 in Vermont. He was an iron merchant of Philadelphia, who wrote much on current topics, especially matters relating to political economy. He was the author of Ways and Means of Commercial Payment; Money on Account; Removal of the Deposits from the Bank of the United States; Domestic Production and Internal Trade; Hints to Laymen; Charity and the Clergy; Politics for American Christians; and New Themes for Protestant Clergy. He died Jan. 15, 1872, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COLYAR, ARTHUR ST. CLAIR, lawyer, was born June 23, 1818, in Washington county, Tenn. He was self-educated, and achieved success as a lawyer. He opposed secession in 1861, but became a member of the confederate congress and served till 1865. After the war he reorganized the Tennessee Coal and Railroad company, becoming its president, and also engaged in manufacturing; and has done much to develop the resources of the south.

COLYER, VINCENT, painter, was born in 1825, in Bloomington, N. Y. His works include Johnson Straits, British Columbia; Columbia River; Pueblo; Passing Shower; Rainy Day on Connecticut Shore; and Winter on Connecticut Shore. He died July 12, 1888, in Connecticut.

COMAN, CHARLOTTE B., painter, was born about 1845 in Waterville, N. Y. After painting in France and Holland for six years, she returned to the United States, and opened a studio in New York. Her best works are French Village; Sunset at the Seaside, France; Peasant Home in Normandy; Cottage in Picardy; Old Windmills in Holland; Spring-Time in Picardy; and Poppy-Field in Normandy.

COMAN, KATHERINE, educator, author, was born in 1857 in Ohio. She is a professor of history at Wellesley college, and the author of Outlines in Constitutional History of England; Outlines in Industrial History; and The Growth of the English Nation.

COMBES, RICHARD C., underwriter, was born May 17, 1827, in New York city. He was secretary of the Exchange Fire Insurance company of New York city, and in 1870 was its president. He is the president of the National Switch and Signal company, and of Palmer's Torpedo Machine company.

COMBS, JOHN ALFRED, lawyer, lecturer, was born Jan. 22, 1851, in Canada. He was educated at the public schools of Stony Creek, Alexander's private academy, and the High school of Hamilton, Canada; and has attained success as a prominent lawyer of Saginaw, Mich. During 1890-94 he was chairman of the republican committee for Saginaw county, Mich.; in 1895-97 was state lecturer of the Orange lodge, and for one year was the worthy preceptor of the Royal Black Knights of the Camp of Israel.

COMEGYS, BENJAMIN BARTIS, banker, author, was born in 1819 in Delaware. He is a banker of Philadelphia, and the author of Tour Round My Library, and Other Papers; Advice to Young Men and Boys; A Primer of Ethics; Talks with Boys and Girls; How to Get On, a Book for Boys; Turn Over a New Leaf; An Order of Worship; and Old Stories with New Lessons.

COMEGYS, CORNELIUS P., governor, was born in Delaware. He was governor of that state from 1837 to 1840.

COMEGYS, JOSEPH PARSONS, lawyer, United States senator, was born Dec. 29, 1813, in St. Jones's Neck, Del. He was elected a member of the house of representatives of the state in 1842 and 1848. In 1851 he was appointed one of a committee of three to revise the statutes of the state and in 1856 was chosen to fill a vacancy in the United States senate.

COMER, JOHN, clergyman, was born in 1704 in Boston, Mass. He left a diary in manuscript, which contains interesting information of the early history of the baptists in America. He died May 23, 1734, in Old Rehoboth, Mass.

COMER, THOMAS, actor, was born Dec. 19, 1790, in England. In 1827 he came to the United States, and was successively musical director at the Tremont theater, the Museum, and the Boston theater. His forte was acting eccentric parts and Irish impersonations. He was also skilled in musical composition. He died July 27, 1802, in Boston, Mass.

COMFORT, AARON IVINS, physician, surgeon, was born March 4, 1827, in Penn's Manor, Pa. He received his education in the public schools, Williston seminary, Amherst college, and the university of Pennsylvania. He was assistant instructor of the classics and higher mathematics, and assistant demonstrator of anatomy in the university of Pennsylvania; consulting accoucheur of the Philadelphia Lying-in Charity hospital; and consulting physician of the Southern dispensary of Philadelphia. During the civil war he was captain and assistant surgeon of the United States volunteers, and acting assistant surgeon United States army during 1865-92. He is now first assistant surgeon in the National Home for Disabled Volunteer Soldiers at Milwaukee, Wis. Dr. Comfort has contributed monographs on Indian mounds to the Smithsonian institution; and contributed valuable papers and articles to medical literature.

COMFORT, MRS. ANNA MANNING, physician, author, was born in 1845 in New Jersey. She is a physician of Syracuse, who has written Woman's Education and Woman's Health, a reply to Dr. Clarke's once famous Sex in Education.

COMFORT, GEORGE FISK, educator, author, was born in 1833 in New York. He has been a professor at Syracuse university since 1872; and has published a series of German text-books and The Land Troubles in Ireland.

COMINGO, ABRAM, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 29, 1820, in Mercer county, Ky. He was elected a member of the Missouri state convention in 1861; appointed provost-marshal in May, 1863; and was elected to the forty-second and forty-third congresses.

COMINS, LINUS B., manufacturer, congressman, was born in 1817 in Charlton, Mass. He was a member of the Roxbury city council in 1846, and in 1847 and 1848 was president of the council; and in 1854 was mayor of Roxbury. He was soon after elected to congress from Massachusetts, and continued in that position to the close of the thirty-fifth congress, serving on the committee on commerce.

COMLY, JOHN, educator, author, was born in 1774 in Pennsylvania. He was a Pennsylvania educator among the Friends, who prepared a speller that was phenomenally popular, and also a grammar and other text-books. He died Aug. 17, 1850, in Ryeberry, Pa.

COMMAGER, HENRY S., soldier, was born about 1825. He was a prominent democratic politician in Toledo, Ohio, and in 1864 was an unsuccessful candidate for congress. He was colonel of the sixty-seventh Ohio regiment during the civil war, and in 1865 was brevetted brigadier-general of volunteers. He died Sept. 5, 1867, in Galveston, Texas.

COMMONS, JOHN ROGERS, educator, author, was born in 1862 in Ohio. He has been a professor of sociology at Syracuse university since 1895; and is the author of The Distribution of Wealth; Social Reform and the Church; and Proportional Representation.

COMPTON, BARNES, was born Nov. 16, 1830, in Port Tobacco, Md. He was elected a representative in the state legislature in 1859 without opposition; in 1866 was elected state senator for four years; and was elected president of the senate. At the end of two years he was re-elected for a full term and was again elected president of the senate. In 1874 he was elected treasurer of the state, and served by re-election more than eleven years. In 1877 he became a member of the board of managers of the state hospital for the insane; and in 1879 was made treasurer of the board. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Maryland to the forty-ninth congress; and was re-elected to the fiftieth, fifty-first and fifty-second congresses.

COMPTON, ISAAC M., legislator, was born March 30, 1832, in Hamilton county, Ohio. In 1876 he was elected to the state legislature; and re-elected in 1878. He was the author of Compton's ventilation bill.

COMSTOCK, ADDISON J., pioneer, was born Oct. 17, 1802, in Palmyra, N. Y. In 1826 he built the first log house and saw-mill in Adrian, Mich.; and in 1828 laid out the town of Adrian. He was appointed postmaster in 1829, and in 1832, with his father, projected the Erie and Kalamazoo railroad. He was elected mayor of Adrian in 1853. He died Jan. 20, 1867.

COMSTOCK, ANDREW, elocutionist, author, was born in 1795 in New York. He was a professor of elocution, a lecturer on oratory, and is the author of a New System of Phonetics, Phonetic Speaker, Phonetic Testament; Reader; Historia Sacra; and Elocution.

COMSTOCK, ANDREW WESTBROOK, pioneer, lumber manufacturer, was born Oct. 5, 1838, in Port Huron, Mich. He has been mayor of Alpena, and is now president of the Alpena Banking Co., and a partner in H. S. Robinson and Co., manufacturers of boots and shoes, as well as in a warehouse firm. His lumber firm operate not only in Alpena but in Canada and Mississippi.

COMSTOCK, CHARLES C., manufacturer, congressman, was born March 5, 1818, in Sullivan, N. H. He was elected mayor of Grand Rapids in 1863, and re-elected in 1864. He was the democratic candidate for governor of Michigan in 1870, the people's candidate for congress in 1873, and the greenback candidate for congress in 1878, but was defeated in each instance. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Michigan to the forty-ninth congress.

COMSTOCK, CYRUS BALLOU, soldier, civil engineer, author, was born Feb. 3, 1831, in West Wrentham, Mass. He is a colonel of the engineer corps in the United States army, and brevet major-general of United States volunteers, who has made a number of important government surveys. He is the author of Notes on European Surveys; Surveys of the Northwestern Lakes; and Primary Triangulation of United States Lake Survey.

COMSTOCK, GEORGE CARLTON, lawyer, was born May 13, 1856, in New York city. He is manager of several large estates, and carries on an extensive court practice. He is president of the B. S. Comstock Manufacturing company, and the Penobscot Granite company.

COMSTOCK, GEORGE CARY, astronomer, was born Feb. 12, 1855, in Madison, Wis. He received his education at the university of Michigan; has gained prominence as a noted astronomer; and is director of the Washburn observatory of Madison, Wis.

COMSTOCK, GEORGE F., lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 24, 1811, in Williamstown, N. Y. He was appointed reporter of the decisions of the court of appeals, and published four volumes; and in 1852 was appointed solicitor of the United States treasury. In 1855 he was elected judge of the court of appeals, remaining on the bench until 1861, and was chief justice during the last year. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1867.

COMSTOCK, HELEN MARIA FIELD, poet, philanthropist, was born Sept. 3, 1840, in Chesterfield, N. H. She attended the public schools, and the academy of her native city. She has been a writer for the Chicago Tribune and other leading publications of the east and west, and her poems have been incorporated in Poets of America and other standard works. Her poems have been collected and published in a large volume, which has called forth favorable comments from the leading newspapers of the west.

COMSTOCK, JOHN HENRY, educator, author, was born Feb. 24, 1849, in Janesville, Wis. He is a professor of entomology and general invertebrate zoology at Cornell university; and the author of Notes on Entomology; Report on Cotton Insects; and Introduction to Entomology.

COMSTOCK, JOHN LEE, author, was born in 1789 in Lyme, Conn. He was an educational compiler of Hartford, among whose many scientific text-books are The Elements of Chemistry; Introduction to Mineralogy; System of Natural Philosophy; History of the Precious Minerals; and Natural History of Quadrupeds. He wrote also A History of the Greek Revolution. He died Nov. 21, 1858, in Hartford, Conn.

COMSTOCK, OLIVER C., congressman, was born in 1784. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1810 and 1812; a representative in congress from that state from 1813 to 1819; and subsequently officiated as chaplain of the house of representatives. He died Jan. 11, 1860, in Marshall, Mich.

COMSTOCK, SOLOMON G., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born May 9, 1842, in Argyle, Maine. He was county attorney for Clay county from 1872 to 1878; was elected a representative to the Minnesota legislature in 1875-81; and was state senator from 1882 to 1888, when he resigned. He was elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican; and was a member on several important committees while in congress.

COMSTOCK, THEODORE BRYANT, educator, author, was born July 27, 1849, in Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio. He is a geologist of distinction, professor in Illinois university; and the author of Outlines of General Geology; and Classification of Rocks.

CONANT, ALBAN JASPER, artist, archaeologist, author, was born Sept. 24, 1821, in Chelsea, Orange county, Vt. He received a thorough education at the Randolph academy of Vermont, and the Govenour Wesleyan seminary. He was curator of the state university of Missouri through three administrations — eight years in all. He was chairman of the commission to locate and establish the school of Mines and Metallurgy under the congressional land grant; and was the Delequi correspondent for Missouri of the Institution Ethnographi of Paris, France. Mr. Conant is the author of Footprints of Vanished Races in the Mississippi Valley; Archæology of the Mississippi Valley; and other works. As an artist and archaeologist he has attained national prominence, and resides in New York city.

CONANT, EDWARD, educator, author, was born May 10, 1839, in Pomfret, Vt. His educational work began in 1861 and continued for fourteen years, and became state superintendent for Vermont. He is the author of The Drill Book in the Elements of the English Language; and Conant's Vermont.

CONANT, MRS. HANNAH O'BRIEN, author, was born in 1809 in Danvers, Mass. She was an oriental scholar who assisted her husband in his literary work, made important translations from the German of Strauss, Neander, and Uhden, and was the author of History of the English Bible; Popular History of English Bible Translation; and The Earnest Man, a sketch of Judson, the missionary. She died Feb. 18, 1865, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

CONANT, MRS. HELEN, journalist, author, was born Oct. 9, 1839, in Methuen, Mass. She is a magazinist of New York city; and the author of The Butterfly Hunters; and Primers of German and Spanish Literature.

CONANT, JOHN, manufacturer, legislator, was born in Ashburnham, Mass. He represented the town of Brandon in the legislature for many years, was a member of the convention for revising the constitution of the state, and a presidential elector in 1840. He erected in Brandon a large baptist seminary. He died in 1856 in Brandon, Vt.

CONANT, SAMUEL STILLMAN, journalist, author, was born Dec. 11, 1831, in Waterville, Maine. He was a journalist of New York, managing editor of Harper's Weekly in 1869-85, and translator of Lermontoff's Circassian Boy. He died in 1885.

CONANT, THOMAS JEFFERSON, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 13, 1802, in Brandon, Vt. He was a baptist clergyman who was one of the foremost Hebrew scholars of his time. He was the author of Baptism, Its Meaning and Its Use Philologically and Historically Considered. His editions of The Book of Job; The Book of Proverbs; Genesis; Psalms; Prophecies of Isaiah; Historical Books of the Old Testament from Joshua to Second Kings; and The Gospel by Matthew, constitute a scholar's version of the Scriptures, amply illustrated with critical and philological notes. He died April 30, 1891, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

CONARD, DAVID RUDOLPH, farmer, surveyor, legislator, was born Feb. 5, 1811, in Lincoln county, N. C. In 1820 he moved to Missouri; became justice of the peace; county court judge during 1854-56; and state senator during 1866-70. He died in 1890 in Bollinger county, Mo.

CONATY, THOMAS JAMES, Catholic priest, was born Aug. 1, 1847, in Ireland. He came to America with his parents in 1851; and received his education in the public schools of Taunton, Mass. In 1869 he graduated from Montreal seminary, and was ordained priest in 1872. From that time he filled various pastorates, and is now rector of the Catholic university of Washington, D. C. He has filled numerous positions of honor in his church, and has contributed extensively to religious literature.

CONDE, SWIFTS, manufacturer, was born April 2, 1844, in Oswego county, N. Y. In 1867 he engaged in the manufacture of knit goods in Oswego, and through inventions and processes of his own has developed a large and successful industry. He has taken out about twenty-five patents, all utilized in his own shops.

CONDUCT, IRA, clergyman, was born Feb. 21, 1764, in Orange, N. J. It was chiefly through his efforts that Queen's (now Rutgers) college, which had been closed for several years, was reopened in 1807. In 1809 he was regularly appointed professor of moral philosophy and vice-president, having declined the presidency. He died June 1, 1811, in New Brunswick, N. J.

CONDUCT, JOHN, surgeon, congressman, United States senator, was born in 1755. He was a member of the New Jersey legislature for several years; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1799 to 1803. He was a senator in congress from 1803 to 1817; and was again a representative during the years 1819 and 1820. He died May 4, 1834, in Orange, N. J.

CONDUCT, LEWIS, physician, congressman, was born in March, 1773, in Morristown, N. J. He was a member of the New Jersey legislature, the two latter years officiating as speaker. In 1807 he was a commissioner for settling the boundary between New York and New Jersey. He was a representative in congress from 1811 to 1817 and from 1821 to 1833; in 1841 was a presidential elector; and was also at one time sheriff of Morris county. He died May 26, 1862, in Morristown, N. J.

CONDUCT, SILAS, congressman. He was a delegate from New Jersey to the continental congress from 1781 to 1784. His son bearing the same name was a representative in the federal congress.

CONDUCT, SILAS, banker, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1777 in Newark, N. J. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1831 to 1833; and was a member of the convention which formed the state constitution of 1844. He was for many years president of the Newark Banking company; and was frequently elected to the legislature of New Jersey. He died Nov. 29, 1861, in Newark, N. J.

CONDIE, DANIEL FRANCIS, physician, author, was born May 12, 1796, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a physician and medical writer of Philadelphia; and the author of Course of Examination for Medical Students; Catechism of Health; Epidemic Cholera; and Diseases of Children. He died March 31, 1875, in Delaware county, Pa.

CONE, HELEN GRAY, educator, author, poet, was born March 8, 1859, in New York city. She assisted Jeanette L. Gilder in editing Pen Portraits of Literary Women. She is the author of two volumes of poems, entitled Oberon and Puck, and The Ride of the Lady and Other Poems.

CONE, ORELLO, author, college president, was born Nov. 16, 1835, in Lineplain, N. Y. He was professor of biblical languages in St. Lawrence university, New York, during 1865-80; and since 1880 has been president of Brown college. He is the author of Gospel Criticism and Historical Christianity; and The Gospel and Its Earliest Interpretations.

CONELY, EDWIN F., lawyer, state legislator, was born Sept. 7, 1847, in New York city. He moved to Michigan with his parents when six years of age; received a thorough education; and graduated from the law department of the university of Michigan. During 1891-93 he was professor of law in the university of Michigan. In 1877 he served as a representative in the Michigan state legislature. In 1880-92 he was a delegate to the national democratic conventions; and during 1890-96 he was a member of the Detroit board of library commissioners. For thirteen years he was connected with the Michigan troops, and attained the rank of colonel and president of the state military board.

CONEY, PATRICK H., journalist, lawyer, was born March 10, 1848, in Newbury, Vt. At the age of fifteen years he became a member of the companies A and H of the one hundred and eleventh regiment, New York volunteer infantry, from 1863-65; and in June of the latter year was transferred to company H, fourth regiment New York heavy artillery. He was wounded in front of Petersburg, Va., on June 16, 1864; and in October, 1864, he was detailed as dispatch bearer for General Nelson A. Miles. In 1880 he established the National Banner at Topeka, Kan.; and became associated with the Topeka Daily Capital, and in 1885 he was admitted to the bar; practices his profession at Topeka; and is now president of the Republican Silver Leaf of the state. During the World's Columbian exposition he was president of the Lapland Exhibit company.

CONGAR, SAMUEL HAYES, antiquarian, was born Dec. 10, 1796, in Newark, N. J. About 1845 he began his researches among the genealogies of Newark families, and soon became possessed of more antiquarian and genealogical information concerning the northern part of New Jersey, especially the county of Essex, than any other person. His articles, many of which were historically valuable, appeared principally in the Newark Daily Advertiser. He also prepared the genealogical notices of first settlers in the Historical society's volume on the bicentennial of Newark. He died July 29, 1872, in Newark, N. J.

CONGDON, CHARLES TABOR, journalist, author, was born April 7, 1821, in New Bedford, Mass. He was a journalist of New York city for some years on the staff of the Tribune; and the author of Tribune Essays; Reminiscences of a Journalist; Recollections of a Reader; and Autobiographical Papers. He died Jan. 18, 1891, in New York city.

CONGDON, CHARLES TYLER, author, was born Dec. 3, 1814, in Walton, N. Y. He has published many popular biographies and histories, and his books of travel have been widely circulated. Notable among his works are Napoleon and His Marshals; and Washington and His Generals.

CONGDON, CLEMENT HILLMAN, journalist, was born July 25, 1868, in Harrisburg, Pa. He has been manager of the Western Union Telegraph office, newspaper district, of Philadelphia; is now president of The Century Syndicate; president of The Sun company; president of The Packet System company; and is the author of an elaborate History of The Master Builders' Exchange.

CONGDON, OSSIAN M., lawyer, orator, was born Dec. 21, 1872, in Lee county, Ill. He graduated from the Northwestern university law school; and is now a prominent lawyer of Dundee, Ill. He has attained prominence as an orator; and has also contributed extensively to law literature.

CONGER, CHAUNCY S., lawyer, legislator, jurist. He has been a member of the Illinois legislature; and has filled the positions of circuit and appellate judge at Carmi, Ill.

CONGER, EDWIN HURD, soldier, lawyer, diplomat, congressman, was born March 7, 1843, in Knox county, Ill. He enlisted in 1862 as a private in company I, one hundred and second Illinois volunteer infantry, in which he served until the close of the war, attaining the rank of captain, and receiving from the president the brevet of major for gallant and meritorious conduct in the field. He was elected treasurer of Dallas county in 1877 and re-elected in 1879; was elected state treasurer of Iowa in 1880 and re-elected in 1882. He was elected to the forty-ninth, fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican. He was envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States of America to Brazil, 1890-93; presidential elector at large, Iowa, 1896; and minister to Brazil, 1897.

CONGER, HARMON S., congressman, was born in Connecticut. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1847 to 1851.

CONGER, JAMES L., farmer, congressman, was born in New Jersey. He settled in Belvidere, Mich., as early as 1836; was a successful farmer, and a brilliant writer. He was elected a representative in congress from 1851 to 1853.

CONGER, JOHN W., educator, college president, was born Feb. 20, 1857, in Jackson, Tenn. He has been president of the Odd Fellows' college of Humboldt, Tenn.; president of Searcy college of Arkansas; and is now the president of the Ouachita Baptist college of Arkadelphia, Ark.

CONGER, OMAR DWIGHT, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born in 1818 in Cooperstown, N. Y. He was engaged in the geological survey of the Lake Superior iron and copper region from 1845 till 1847, and in 1848 became a lawyer in Port Huron, Mich. He was elected judge of the St. Clair county court in 1850, and was a state senator from 1855 till 1861, being president pro tempore of the senate in 1859. He was a presidential elector on the republican ticket in 1864, a member of the state constitutional convention in 1866, and a member of congress from 1869 till 1881, when he was chosen to the United States senate.

CONKLIN, JANE ELIZABETH DEXTER, poet, was born July 7, 1831, in Utica, N. Y. She is a great-granddaughter of Cramer H. Conklin, a war veteran, led to her removal to Binghamton. She has taken a deep interest in all matters pertaining to the G. A. R., and for three years served as president of the Relief corps. She has attained a good reputation as an elocutionist; and is the author of three volumes of poems.

CONKLIN, WILLIAM AUGUSTUS, journalist, naturalist, was born March 16, 1837, in New York city. He has been connected with Central park since 1858, and director of the zoological department since 1870. He possesses one of the most complete libraries in the country on the subjects of mammalia and ornithology. He is editor of the Journal of Comparative Medicine and Surgery in New York, and has written articles on natural history for various periodicals.

CONKLIN, WILLIAM JUDKINS, physician, was born Dec. 1, 1844, in Sidney, Ohio. He was physician to the Dayton hospital for the insane from 1869 till 1871, and afterward became secretary of its board of trustees. He was professor of physiology in Starling Medical college, Columbus, Ohio, from 1875 till 1878, and of diseases of children from 1878 till 1884. He is visiting surgeon to St. Elizabeth's hospital, Dayton, and a member of various medical societies. He has contributed frequently to medical journals, and has published several monographs, including History of the Discovery of the Circulation of the Blood.

CONKLING, ALFRED, jurist, author, was born Oct. 12, 1789, in East Hampton, N. Y. He was a jurist of New York whose son was the noted statesman, Roscoe Conkling. He was the author of Treatise on Organization and Jurisdiction of Superior, Circuit, and District Courts; Admiralty Jurisdiction; Powers of the Executive Department of the United States; and Young Citizen's Manual. He died Feb. 5, 1874, in Utica, N. Y.

CONKLING, ALFRED RONALD, lawyer, author, was born Sept. 28, 1850, in New York city. He is a lawyer of New York city; and the author of Appleton's Guide to Mexico; City Government in the United States; Handbook for Voters in New York City; and Life of Roscoe Conkling.

CONKLING, FREDERICK A., merchant, congressman, was born Aug. 22, 1816, in Montgomery county, N. Y. He was a member of the assembly of New York in 1854, 1859, and 1860; and was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-seventh congress. He died Sept. 18, 1891, in New York city.

CONKLING (MRS. STEELE), MARGARET COCKBURN, author, was born Jan. 27, 1814. She has published Memoirs of the Mother and Wife of Washington; Isabel, or Trials of the Heart; and a translation of Florian's History of the Moors of Spain.

CONKLING, ROSCOE, lawyer, statesman, was born Oct. 30, 1828, in Albany, N. Y. He was appointed district attorney for Oneida county; in 1858 was elected mayor of Utica, to which place he had removed in 1846; and at the close of 1858 was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-sixth congress. He was re-elected to the thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses. In 1867 he was chosen a senator in congress for the term ending in 1873. He was president of the republican state convention of 1867; and was re-elected to the senate for the term ending in 1879; and was also re-elected for the term ending in 1885. He died April, 1888, in New York.

CONLEY, BENJAMIN, merchant, governor, was born March 1, 1815, in Newark, N. J. In 1869 he was elected state senator and president of the senate; and in 1871-72 was elected governor of Georgia. He died in 1885 in Atlanta, Ga.

CONLEY, ELI PHILIP, educator, was born Aug. 25, 1868, in Smoketown, Pa. He received his education in the schools of his native county, and graduated from the Chester State Normal school. He has been successful in educational work, and is principal of schools at Parkesburg, Pa.

CONLEY, JOHN DIKEMAN, scientist, was born Sept. 14, 1843, in Rockport, N. Y. He was elected to the chair of chemistry and natural sciences in Blackburn university, Carlinville, Ill. He has published a series of geological charts of all the ages and epochs, illustrated with two hundred figures of characteristic fossils.

CONLEY, JOHN E., lawyer, was born Sept. 7, 1868, in Warren, R. I. During 1889-91 he was clerk of committee on corporation in the Rhode Island house of representatives; and in 1894 was clerk of the house. Since 1892 he has been secretary of the democratic state committee; and was a delegate at large to the democratic national convention in 1896. He is a prominent member of various secret organizations; and has a successful law practice in his native city.

CONLEY, JOHN WESLEY, clergyman, was born Nov. 20, 1852, in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. He resigned his pastorate in 1892, to accept the chair of missions in the divinity school of the university of Chicago, and the presidency of city missions. In 1893 he accepted a call to the First Baptist church of St. Paul, Minn.

CONLEY, WILLIAM G., lawyer, editor, politician, was born Jan. 8, 1866, in Kingwood, W. Va., of Scotch-Irish parentage.

He received a thorough education and graduated from the West Virginia university with the degree of LL. B. For many years he was engaged in educational work, and has been county superintendent of the free schools of Preston county, W. Va. He was also mayor of Parsons for one term. He is one of the rising lawyers of his state, and is now state's attorney for Tucker county, W. Va. He is also the editor of the Parsons City Advocate, and contributes extensively to current literature. Mr. Conley was a member of the congressional committee of the second West Virginia district; chairman of the republican executive committee of his county; and one of the assistant secretaries of the St. Louis convention that nominated McKinley for president in 1896.

CONN, CHARLES GERARD, soldier, manufacturer, congressman, was born in 1844, in Phelps, N. Y. In early boyhood he moved with his parents to Elkhart, Ind., where he has since resided. He served throughout the civil war as a soldier in the union army. He is a successful manufacturer of musical instruments, which were awarded the highest honors and the best diploma at the World's Columbian exposition. He has taken an active part in the public affairs of his adopted state; and served with distinction as a member of the fifty-third congress.

CONN, HERBERT WILLIAM, educator, scientist, was born in 1859 in Massachusetts. He is a biologist whose specialty is the bacteriology of milk; and has been instructor and professor of biology at Wesleyan university since 1884. He is the author of Evolution of To-Day: The Living World; and Whence It Came and Whither It is Drifting.

CONNELL, WILLIAM, congressman, was born Sept. 10, 1827, in Cape Breton, N. S. He was placed in charge of the mines of the Susquehanna and Wyoming Valley Railroad and Coal company, with offices at Scranton; and in 1870, the charter of that company lapsing, he purchased the plant with his savings and organized the firm of William Connell and Co. He is president of the Third National bank of Scranton, and has been prominent in charitable and religious work. He was a delegate to the republican national convention of 1896, and is a member of the Pennsylvania republican committee. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress.

CONNELL, WILLIAM J., lawyer, congressman, was born July 6, 1846, in Canada. He received an academic education, and for many years was engaged in mercantile pursuits in Massachusetts and Vermont, and since 1867 has lived in Omaha, Neb. In 1870 he was admitted to the bar; was elected district attorney in 1872, and received the re-election two years later. In 1883 he was appointed city attorney of Omaha, and held that office for four years. While in that position he saved Omaha nearly a million dollars by his successful defense of suits for damages, and by his sound legal advice on important questions. In 1888 he was elected to the fifty-first United States congress, and has served on numerous important committees. In 1890 he was defeated for congress by William J. Bryan. Since 1892 he has been city attorney of Omaha.

CONNELLY, MRS. CELIA LOGAN, journalist, dramatist, was born in 1839 in Pennsylvania. She is a journalist and playwright of Washington; and the author of An American Marriage.

CONNELLY, EMMA M., author, was born in 18— in Kentucky. She is a writer of New York city; and the author of Under the Surface; Tilting at Wind Mills, a Story of the Blue Grass Country; and The Story of Kentucky.

CONNELLY, HENRY, governor, was born in Virginia. He moved to Kansas and in 1861 was appointed governor of the territory of New Mexico, residing in Santa Fe, and remaining in office until 1865.

CONNER, DAVID, naval officer, was born in 1792 in Harrisburg, Pa. He entered a counting-house in Philadelphia in 1806, became a midshipman in the navy in 1809, and, as acting lieutenant, took part in the action between the Hornet and the Peacock, 1813. He died March 20, 1856, in Philadelphia, Pa.

CONNER, JAMES, typefounder, was born April 22, 1798, in Hyde Park, N. Y. He did much for the art of printing, inventing among other things a new kind of type called agate, and a process for producing matrices for casting type by chemical precipitation. He died in May, 1861, in New York city.

CONNER, JOHN C., soldier, congressman, was born Oct. 27, 1842, in Noblesville, Ind. He entered the army in 1862 as a lieutenant, and served until the close of the war; and upon the reorganization of the army in 1866 was appointed a captain in the forty-first infantry, and served in Texas. He was elected to the forty-first and forty-second congresses. He died in Washington.

CONNER, SAMUEL S., soldier, congressman, was born in New Hampshire. He was a lieutenant-colonel in the United States army in 1812. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1815 to 1817; and held the office of surveyor-general in Ohio in 1819. He died Dec. 7, 1820, in Covington, Ky.

CONNERS, MARIA W., poet. She is the author of a volume of poems entitled A Wreath of Maple Leaves. For many years she was a resident of Washington, and was there known as the Puget Sound poetess.

CONNESS, JOHN, merchant, state legislator, congressman, was born Sept. 20, 1821, in Ireland. He was elected to the state legislature, and was re-elected three times. In 1859 he was candidate for lieutenant-governor of California, and in 1861 a candidate for governor. In 1863 he was elected a senator in congress from California, for the term ending in 1869.

CONNOLLY, DANIEL WARD, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born April 24, 1847, in Cohocton, N. Y. Upon the organization of the new county of Lackawanna, in 1878, he was elected president judge, but the state supreme court decided there was no vacancy. He was an unsuccessful candidate for congress in 1880; and in 1882 was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-eighth congress.

CONNOLLY, JAMES AUSTIN, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 8, 1843, in Newark, N. J. He entered the United States army in 1862 as a private in the one hundred and twenty-third Illinois volunteers, and was afterward captain, major, and brevet lieutenant-colonel. He served as a member of the Illinois house of representatives in 1873-75; and was United States attorney for the southern district of Illinois from 1876 to 1885 and again from 1889 to 1893. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

CONNOLLY, WILLIAM J., farmer, educator, state legislator, was born Feb. 27, 1860, in Washington, Ohio. He taught school for fifteen years, and in 1888-89 was in the railway mail service. He was a member of the seventy-second general assembly of Ohio as a democrat.

CONNOR, HENRY W., congressman, was born in August, 1793, in Prince George county, Va. He was aid-de-camp to General Joseph Graham in the Creek war; and was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1821 to 1841, when he declined a re-election. In 1848 he served in the general assembly; and declined a re-election. He died Jan. 15, 1866, in North Carolina.

CONNOR, PATRICK EDWARD, soldier, journalist, was born March 17, 1820, in Ireland. He served in the Florida war; and also in the Mexican war. In 1863 he was commissioned a brigadier-general; and at the close of the war was brevetted major-general. He located the first silver mine in Utah; wrote the first mining law; introduced navigation on the Great Salt lake; built the first silver-lead smelting works; and founded the town of Stockton.

CONNOR, SELDEN, soldier, educator, was born Jan. 25, 1839, in Fairfield, Maine. He enlisted in 1860 as a private in a Vermont regiment. He subsequently became lieutenant-colonel of a Maine regiment; was promoted to the rank of colonel; was severely wounded in the battle of the Wilderness in 1864; and was then made a brigadier-general. In 1868 he was appointed an assessor of internal revenue; in 1873 a collector of internal revenue; and in 1875 was elected governor of the state of Maine.

CONNOR, WASHINGTON EVERETT, financier, was born Dec. 15, 1849, in New York city. Having attracted the notice of Jay Gould, Mr. Connor was entrusted by him with various commissions, which he executed with brilliant energy and entire success. The great financier was a competent judge of men, and, in 1881, he formed a partnership with the young broker, under the name of W. E. Connor and Co., and, in time, pleased with hisadroitness, energy and audacity, admitted him to intimate friendship. George J. Gould became a member of the firm upon attaining his majority. For many years, both before and after 1881, Mr. Connor was the confidential representative of Jay Gould and was intrusted with the management of many important operations in Wall street. He was also a favorite broker of Russell Sage and other leading capitalists in Wall street. During recent years, Mr. Connor has gained an interest in the Louisville, New Albany and Chicago and the Wheeling and Lake Erie railroads, and various other corporations, and devoted himself to improving his properties.

CONNOVER, SIMON BARCLAY, physician, United States senator, was born Sept. 23, 1840, in Middlesex county, N. J. He was appointed assistant surgeon in the army of the Cumberland, in 1863, and stationed at Nashville, Tenn.; after several promotions, was ordered to Lake City, Fla., in 1866, and shortly afterward resigned his commission. He was a member of the convention which framed the state constitution in 1868; was appointed state treasurer; was a member of the Chicago convention in 1868; and was appointed a member of the national republican committee, on which he served four years. He was elected to the state legislature from the county of Leon, and presided over that body. He was elected to the United States senate for the term commencing in 1873, and ending in 1879.

CONRAD, CHARLES M., soldier, congressman, United States senator, was born in 1804 in Winchester, Va. He served a number of years in the state legislature; was a senator in congress in 1842 and 1843; and was a member of the state constitutional convention in 1844. He was a representative in congress from Louisiana from 1849 to 1850, when he became secretary of war under President Fillmore. He served in the southern rebellion as a brigadier-general. He died Feb. 11, 1878, in New Orleans, La.

CONRAD, F., abbot, was born in 1833 in Switzerland. Having received directions to found a monastery of his order in the United States in 1873, he embarked for this country and founded the Benedictine monastery of New Engleberg, at Conception, Mo., which was effected into an abbey in 1881. In 1885 Father Conrad was chosen as its first abbot.

CONRAD, FREDERICK, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1803 to 1807.

CONRAD, FREDERICK WILLIAM, clergyman, journalist, was born Jan. 3, 1816, in Orwigsburg, Pa. He received a thorough education, and graduated from the Mount Airy college of Germantown, Pa.; and subsequently from the Theological seminary of Gettysburg. He has been a successful pastor of Lutheran churches in Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Ohio; and for several years was professor of modern languages at the Wittenburg college of Springfield, Ohio. He is the editor of the Lutheran Observer of Philadelphia, Pa., and a trustee of the Lutheran Publication society. He is the author of The Lutheran Doctrine of Baptism; Analysis of Luther's Small Catechism; The Evangelical Lutheran Church; The Call to the Ministry; and The Liturgical Question.

CONRAD, GEORGE ELIHU, lawyer, was born March 22, 1852, in Bollinger county, Mo. He graduated from the Missouri State university, and has received the degrees of bachelor of arts, bachelor of pedagogics, and bachelor of laws. In 1885-86 he was prosecuting attorney of his county; and has attained prominence as an able lawyer of Marble Hill, Mo.

CONRAD, HENRY CLAY, lawyer, was born April 25, 1852, in Bridesberg, Pa. He was elected president of the city council of Wilmington in 1882; and for ten years from 1880 acted as United States chief supervisor of elections of the district of Delaware.

CONRAD, JOHN, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1813 to 1815.

CONRAD, JOSEPH SPEED, soldier, was born Aug. 23, 1833, in Ithaca, N. Y. He received three brevets, as major, lieutenant-colonel, and colonel of volunteers.

CONRAD, ROBERT TAYLOR, lawyer, jurist, poet, was born June 10, 1810, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a lawyer of Philadelphia and mayor of that city in 1854, who was once noted as a dramatic poet. He was the author of Aylmere, or the Bondman of Kent, a tragedy in which Jack Cade is the chief figure, a role in which Edwin Forrest was very successful. Conrad of Naples, another tragedy, had also a measure of popularity. He died June 27, 1858, in Philadelphia, Pa.

CONRAD, TIMOTHY ABBOTT, conchologist, author, was born in August, 1803, in New Jersey. He was a conchologist who published Fossil Shells of the Tertiary Formations of North America; New Fresh-Water Shells of the United States; Miocene Shells of the United States; and Palaontology of State of New York. He died Aug. 9, 1877, in Trenton, N. J.

CONRAD, WILLIAM, clergyman, was born Aug. 11, 1808, in Pennsylvania. He was one of the founders of Westmoreland college, Mount Pleasant, Pa., to which he presented his large collection of geological specimens, was a frequent contributor to religious journals, and published a volume on Baptism. He died Feb. 16, 1865.

CONRAD, WILLIAM GEORGE, banker, was born Aug. 3, 1848, in Clarke county, Va. He is principal owner and president of the Connell Coal company, of Scranton. In 1872 he founded the Third National bank of Scranton.

CONSTABLE, ALBERT, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in Maryland. He was a presidential elector in 1832; was a representative in congress from 1845 to 1847; and elected judge of the circuit court of Maryland in 1851. He died in September, 1855, in Camden, N. J.

CONSTIEN, WILLIAM WALLACE, clergyman, was born Sept. 10, 1869, in Lancaster, Pa. He graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan university, and from the Boston university, and has received the degrees of A. B. and A. M. He has attained distinction as a successful clergyman of the methodist episcopal church, has filled pastorates in Toledo and Bowling Green, Ohio, and now fills a pastorate in Pemberville.

CONTEE, BENJAMIN, clergyman, was born in 1755 in Maryland. He became a clergyman of the protestant episcopal church. In 1776 he was an officer in the third Maryland battalion. He was a member of the continental congress in 1787-88, and was elected to the first congress under the constitution, in which body he voted in 1790 for establishing the seat of government on the Potomac. Subsequently he became the presiding judge of the Charles county, Md., testamentary court. He died Nov. 3, 1815, in Charles county, Md.

CONTEMO, OTTAVIO D. soldier, musician, was born Sept. 29, 1835, in France. During the civil war he was a captain in the volunteer army of the United States. He has been a bandmaster in the United States army, and a custom house officer at Wilmington, Cal. He is major of the first regiment Union Battlefield Veterans' association of San Jose, Cal., where he is a music teacher and bandmaster of the fifth regiment band.

CONVERSE, AMASA, clergyman, journalist, was born in 1795 in Virginia. He founded the Christian Observer, a presbyterian weekly organ of old-school doctrine and southern political sympathies. When the civil war began he removed his paper to Richmond, Va., and after the war to Louisville, Ky., where it continued to be the organ and exponent of the southern presbyterian church. He died Dec. 9, 1872, in Louisville, Ky.

CONVERSE, CHARLES CROZAT, musical composer, was born in 1834, in Warren, Mass. His musical compositions have appeared under the anagrammatic pen-names C. O. Nevers, Karl Reden, and E. C. Revons. He has published a cantata; New Method for the Guitar; Musical Bouquet; The One Hundred and Twenty-sixth Psalm; Sweet Singer; Church Singer; and Sayings of Sages.

CONVERSE, ELISHA, manufacturer, was born July 28, 1820, in Boston, Mass. He is considered by those who know him the best financier in the state of Montana. He was the first mayor of Fort Benton and territorial senator.

CONVERSE, GEORGE L., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born June 4, 1827, in Georgesville, Ohio. He was a member of the state house of representatives from 1860 to 1863; state senator in 1864 and 1865; again in the lower house of the legislature from 1873 to 1876, serving as speaker in 1873 and 1874; and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses.

CONVERSE, MRS. HARRIET, author, poet, was born in 1846 in Elmira, N. Y. She is a writer of poetry and prose in New York city, and the author of Sheaves, a collection of verses; The Religious Festivals of the Iroquois Indians; and Mythology and Folk-Lore of the North American Indian.

CONVERSE, JOEL NEWTON, physician, railroad builder, was born Dec. 13, 1820, in Madison county, Ohio. In 1864

he began the building of the road from Union City to Logansport, Ind., which was completed in 1865. Of this line he was president and general superintendent until he resigned in 1870. He began the contract of building the Midland Pacific railway, extending from Nebraska City via Lincoln to some point on the Union Pacific.

CONVERSE, JULIUS, governor, was born in 1799 in Stafford, Conn. He was governor of Vermont from 1872 to 1874. He died Aug. 18, 1885.

CONWAY, ELIAS N. governor. He was governor of Arkansas for eight years from 1860 to 1868.

CONWAY, HENRY W. congressman, was born in Greene county, Tenn. He was a delegate to congress from the territory of Arkansas from 1823 to 1829.

CONWAY, JAMES S. governor. He was governor of Arkansas from 1836 to 1840, having been the first elected under the state constitution.

CONWAY, JOHN WILLIAM, journalist, poet, was born June 22, 1851, in Portageville, N. Y. He graduated from the Iowa State Agricultural college, and was subsequently deputy recorder of Allamakee county, Iowa. He is the editor and owner of the Champion of Norton, Kan., and is the author of many poems of merit.

CONWAY, KATHERINE ELEANOR, journalist, poet, was born in 1853 in New York. She is a journalist of Boston, on the editorial staff of the Pilot, and the author of Songs of the Sunrise Slope; A Dream of Lilies, a volume of poems; A Lady and Her Letters; and Making Friends and Keeping Them.

CONWAY, MARTIN F. printer, lawyer, congressman, was born about 1803 in Charleston, S. C. He took part in originating the National Typographical union. He was elected to the council of the first territorial legislature; under the Topeka convention was chosen chief justice of the supreme court; and in 1856 was president of the Leavenworth constitutional convention. In 1859 he was elected a representative from Kansas to the thirty-seventh congress. He died Feb. 17, 1882.

CONWAY, MONCURE DANIEL, clergyman, lecturer, author, was born March 17, 1832, in Stafford county, Va. He is a unitarian clergyman of extremely radical views, who has for many years been in charge of a congregation in London. He has been a prolific writer in several fields, the larger number of his writings being The Rejected Stone; Idols and Ideals; Demonology and Devil Lore; The Wandering Jew; Sketch of Carlyle; The Earthward Pilgrimage; Sacred Anthology, a compilation; Emerson at Home and Abroad; George Washington and Mount Vernon; Omitted Chapters in Life and Letters of Edmund Randolph; Life of Thomas Paine; Tracts for To-Day; Natural History of the Devil; The Golden Hour; Testimonies Concerning Slavery; Human Sacrifices in England; Lessons for the Day; Travels in South Kensington; A Necklace of Stories; Pine and Palm, a novel; and Prisms of Air, a novel.

CONWAY, THOMAS, soldier, was born Feb. 27, 1733, in Ireland. He was a brigadier-general in the revolutionary war. He was obnoxious to Washington, and out of Conway's anger against Washington grew the Conway cabal.

CONWELL, RUSSELL H., clergyman, author, was born in 1842 in Massachusetts. He is a baptist clergyman of Philadelphia, and the author of Why the Chinese Emigrate; Woman and the Law; Life of President Hayes; Life of Bayard Taylor; Life of President Garfield; and Joshua Glavencola, the Captain of the Vineyards of Lucerna.

CONY, SAMUEL, state legislator, jurist, governor, was born Feb. 27, 1811, in Augusta, Maine. He was a member of the Maine legislature in 1835 and 1862; member of the council in 1839; and judge of probate from 1840 to 1847. He was state treasurer from 1850 to 1855; mayor of Augusta in 1854, and governor of Maine from 1864 to 1867. He died Sept. 5, 1870, in Augusta, Maine.

CONYNGHAM, DAVID POWER, journalist, author, was born in 1840 in Ireland. He was a New York journalist, and editor of The Tablet, and the author of Sherman's March Through the South; Lives of the Irish Saints and Martyrs; The Irish Brigade and Its Campaigns. In fiction: Sarsfield, or the Last Great Struggle for Ireland; The O'Donnells of Glen Cottage; O'Mahoney, Chief of the Commeraghs; and Rose Parnell, the Flower of Avondale. He died in 1883.

CONYNGHAM, JOHN BUTLER, soldier, was born in 1827. While a prisoner at Charleston he was one of the number selected as hostages to be shot in case of a bombardment of the city by our forces. In 1871 he was brevetted major and lieutenant-colonel for gallant service in the field. During his term of service in the regular army he was mostly employed on the Indian frontier. He died May 27, 1871, in Wilkesbarre, Pa.

COOK, ALBERT JOHN, naturalist, author, was born Aug. 30, 1842, in Owasso, Mich. He was a professor of zoölogy at Michigan Agricultural college, and the author of Injurious Insects of Michigan; and Manual of the Apiary.

COOK, ALBERT STANBURROUGH, educator, author, was born March 6, 1853, in Montville, N. J. In 1879-81 he was associate in English in the Johns Hopkins university; was professor of English language and literature in the university of California during 1882-89, and since 1889 has filled the same chair in the Yale university of New Haven, Conn. In 1897 he became president of the Modern Language association of America. He has edited Siever's Old English Grammar; Judith, an Old English Epic Fragment; and Sidney's Defence of Poesy.

COOK, BURTON C., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born May 11, 1819, in Monroe county, N. Y. He was elected state's attorney for the ninth circuit in 1846, for two years, and was re-elected, in 1848, for four years. He was a member of the state senate from 1852 to 1860, and in 1864 was elected a representative from Illinois to the thirty-ninth congress, and re-elected to the fortieth and forty-first congresses as a union republican.

COOK, CLARENCE CHATHAM, journalist, author, was born Sept. 8, 1828, in Dorchester, Mass. He is an art critic of New York city, and editor of The Studio. He has edited Lübke's History of Art, and published also The House Beautiful; Essays on Beds and Tables, Stools and Candlesticks; and The Central Park.

COOK, DANIEL P., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1795 in Scott county, Ky. He moved to the territory of Illinois in 1815; and was the first attorney-general of the state of Illinois. During 1820-27 he represented Illinois in congress, and was considered by such men as Mr. Calhoun and Judge McLean as a man of remarkable talents. He died Oct. 16, 1827.

COOK, FREDERICK WASHINGTON, legislator, railroad president, was born Feb. 1, 1832, in Washington, D. C. He was elected as representative from Vanderburg county to the legislature of Indiana. In this capacity he served during the called session of 1864, and also during the regular session of 1864-65. He is president of the Evansville Suburban and Newburg railway, at Evansville, Ind.

COOK, GEORGE HAMMELL, educator, author, was born Jan. 5, 1818, in Hanover, N. J. He was a professor of geology at Rutgers college and state geologist, whose only published work is The Geology of New Jersey. He died Sept. 22, 1889, in New Brunswick, N. J.

COOK, JOEL, journalist, author, was born in 1842, in Pennsylvania. He is a Philadelphia journalist, and financial editor of the Public Ledger. He is the author of Brief Summer Rambles near Philadelphia; An Eastern Tour at Home; A Holiday Tour in Europe; England, Picturesque and Descriptive; and The Siege of Richmond.

COOK, JOHN, soldier, legislator, was born June 12, 1826, in Belleville, Ill. In 1854 he was elected mayor of Springfield, Ill.; two years later became sheriff of Sangamon county, and in 1858 was appointed quartermaster-general of Illinois. He became a general during the civil war. In 1868 he was a member of the Illinois state legislature, and was instrumental in securing the second appropriation for the erection of the new state house.

COOK, JOHN C., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 26, 1846, in Seneca county, Ohio. He settled in Iowa; and in 1878 was elected judge of the sixth judicial district. He was elected a representative from Iowa to the forty-seventh congress.

COOK, JOHN P., congressman, was born in New York. On taking up his residence in Iowa, he was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1853 to 1855.

COOK, JOHN WILLISTON, educator, college president, was born April 20, 1846, in Oneida county, N. Y. He graduated from the Illinois State university, in which institution he was an instructor from 1868-90, when he was appointed president.

COOK, JOSEPH, lecturer, author, was born Jan. 26, 1838, near Ticonderoga, N. Y. In 1874 he began a series of Monday lectures in Boston, Mass., on the relations of religion and science; and subsequently delivered them in the principal cities of the United States. He has lectured throughout the principal countries of Europe, and in India, China, Japan, Australia, and the Sandwich Islands. His published works, comprising his lectures, carefully written out, have been very successful, some of which have passed through as many as sixteen editions. His works are Boston Monday Lectures, in ten volumes; and Current Re- ligious Perils, with Other Addresses on Leading Reforms.

COOK, MARC, journalist, author, poet, was born in 1854 in Rhode Island. He was a journalist of New York, and the author of The Wilderness Cure; and Vandyke Brown Poems. He died Oct. 4, 1882, in Utica, N. Y.

COOK, MARTHA ELIZABETH DUNCAN WALKER, author, poet, was born July 23, 1806. She was a good linguist, and translated several works from the German and French. Among these were Liszt's Life of Chopin, translated from the French; The Undivine Comedy, and Other Poems, by Count Sigismund Krasinski, translated from the Polish through the German and French; and Life of Joan of Arc. She died Sept. 15, 1874, in Hoboken, N. J.

COOK, MAY AMY, pianist, was born Dec. 4, 1869, in Paw Paw, Mich. She has studied under private teachers, and spent three years in Berlin during 1891-94. She has attained prominence as a concert pianist; was organist at the First Methodist church of Portland, Ore., during 1889-91; and now gives recitals and piano instruction in that city.

COOK, ORCHARD, merchant, congressman. He was a merchant by occupation, and for some years sheriff of Lincoln county, Mass. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1805 to 1811.

COOK, PHILIP, soldier, state senator, congressman, was born July 31, 1817, in Twiggs county, Ga. He was elected to the state senate in 1859, 1860 and 1863. He entered the confederate service in 1861 as a private, and rose to be brigadier-general. He was a member of the state convention of 1865, and was elected to the thirty-ninth congress, but not allowed to take his seat. He was elected to the forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a democrat.

COOK, RICHARD BRISCOE, clergyman, author, was born in 1838, in Maryland. He is a baptist clergyman of Wilmington, Del., and the author of The Story of the Baptists in All Ages and Countries.

COOK, RUSSELL S., clergyman, was born March 16, 1811, in New Marlborough, Mass. He devoted himself to the service of the American Tract society; in 1839 was appointed one of its corresponding secretaries, and labored as such for eighteen years in New York city. He died Sept. 4, 1864, in Pleasant Valley, N. Y.

COOK, SAMUEL A., soldier, farmer, manufacturer, congressman, was born Jan. 28, 1849, in Ontario. He enlisted as a private in company A, second Wisconsin cavalry, served under General Custer, and was mustered out at the close of the war. He engaged in manufacturing, and moved to Neenah, Wis., in 1881. He was elected mayor of Neenah in 1889, and a member of the state legislature in 1891-92. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican.

COOK, SETH, miner, was born in 1830, in Byron, N. Y. He was among the first of the men to establish themselves on the Comstock ledge, and with his brother Daniel made a great deal of money in 1886 in the Crown Point deal. He obtained control of the Standard mine at Bodie, and finally returning to the Comstock ledge, became controlling owner of the Alta group of mines at the southern end of the lode. He also had mines on Maxwell creek and large interests in land, including a stock ranch in Contra Costa county.

COOK, THEODORE PEASE, soldier, journalist, poet, was born Dec. 21, 1844, in Boston, Mass. He entered the army at the age of eighteen and served through the civil war, being finally on the staff of Gen. John C. Robinson. He was graduated at Columbia law school in 1867, but devoted himself to journalism in Utica. During the presidential canvass of 1876 he wrote the Lives of Tilden and Hendricks. The best known of his poems are Blue-Beard and An Ode for Decoration Day.

COOK, WILLIAM HENRY, physician, author, was born in 1832, in New York. He is a physician of Cincinnati, and the author of Physio-Medical Surgery; Woman's Book of Health; Physio-Medical Dispensary; Spermatorrhœa; and Science and Practice of Medicine.

COOK, ZADOCK, congressman, was born in 1769. He was frequently in the legislature of Georgia; and was a representative in congress from 1817 to 1819.

COOK, ZEBEDEE, legislator, insurance manager, was born Jan. 11, 1786, in Newburyport, Mass. He was among the first to introduce into this country the system known as mutual insurance. He was made president in 1822 of the Eagle Insurance company, and held the office until 1828. During the next ten years he developed his ideas so thoroughly that in 1838 he was invited to New York to become president of the Mutual safety insurance company. By his efforts the Isabella grape was introduced into New England. He procured the cuttings and began the culture. He served in the Massachusetts legislature from 1835 till 1839. He died Jan. 24, 1858, in Framingham, Mass.

COOKE, ANSON S., farmer, educator, legislator, was born Aug. 13, 1849, in Lake county, Ill. In his youth he taught school and in 1872 settled in Kansas, where he was elected a state senator from the thirty-third district.

COOKE, AUGUSTUS PAUL, naval officer, was born Feb. 10, 1836, in Coopers-town, N. Y. He served in the navy during the civil war, and rose to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. In 1890 he was ordered to New York as president of the board of inspection of merchant vessels. He retired from service in 1892.

COOKE, BATE, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1831 to 1833; from 1839 to 1841 held the office of comptroller of New York, and was bank commissioner in 1840. He died in 1841.

COOKE, MRS. DORCAS F., poet, was born May 25, 1839, in Somerset county, Maine. In 1888 she published, in conjunction with Mrs. Julia Ellen Jenkins, a volume of poems entitled Memories.

COOKE, EDWARD, clergyman, educator, college president, was born Jan. 19, 1812, in Bethlehem, N. H. From 1864 till 1874 he was principal of the Wesleyan academy at Wilbraham, Mass., and from that year till 1884 president of Claflin university and State Agricultural college at Orangeburg, S. C.

COOKE, EDWARD DEAN, lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born Oct. 17, 1849, in Cascade, Iowa. He was elected a representative in the Illinois legislature in 1882 as a republican, and was a member of the judiciary committee and committee on banks and banking and chairman of the committee on elections. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress from what is known as the North Side district in the city of Chicago and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress.

COOKE, ELEUTHEROS, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 25, 1787, in Granville, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1831 to 1833, and served for many years in the legislature of that state before and after entering congress. He died Dec. 27, 1865, in Sandusky, Ohio. He was the father of the distinguished bankers, Jay, Pitt, and Henry D. Cooke.

COOKE, GEORGE WILLIS, clergyman, lecturer, author, was born April 23, 1848, in Comstock, Mich. He is a unitarian clergyman of Lexington, Mass., who has done much excellent work in criticism, and has attained prominence as a lecturer. He is the author of George Eliot, a Critical Study; Ralph Waldo Emerson, his Life, Writings, and Philosophy; Poets and Problems, Studies of Tennyson, Ruskin, and Browning; Guide Book to Browning; and The Clapboard Trees Parish, Dedham, a History.

COOKE, HENRY D., journalist, merchant, was born Nov. 23, 1825, in Sandusky City, Ohio. The idea of a steamship line from New York to California by way of Panama was suggested by him. He subsequently resided in California; had much to do with the shipping of the Pacific, and was the first to announce, through a despatch from the military governor of California to Washington, the discovery of gold in the Sacramento Valley. He returned to the east, and was associated with the United States Gazette, Sandusky Register, and the Ohio State Journal; was a presidential elector in 1856; in 1861 became a partner in the house of Jay Cooke and Co.; frequently visited Europe on business; and in 1870 was appointed the first governor of the District of Columbia, which office he resigned in 1873. He was the son of Eleutheros Cooke, a distinguished orator and congressman, and brother of Jay Cooke, the eminent financier. He died Dec. 29, 1881, in Georgetown, D. C.

COOKE, ISABELLE W., artist, poet, was born March 15, 1834, in Meriden, Conn. She is an instructor in painting and drawing and the author of a volume of poems entitled Tears and Victory.

COOKE, J. EDMUND V., author, poet, was born June 5, 1866, in Canada. He has attained prominence as a lecturer and platform reader of his own writings. He is the author of A Patch of Pansies, a volume of his collected poems.

COOKE, JAY, financier, was born Aug. 10, 1821, in Sandusky, Ohio. In 1861 he started the banking firm of Jay Cooke and Company; is the owner of Ogontz college, and also owns Gibraltar Island and its beautiful mansion.

COOKE, JOHN ESTEN, lawyer, author, was born Nov. 3, 1830, in Winchester, Va. He was a noted Virginia author who served in the confederate army during the civil war. He wrote much historical fiction, the Virginia Comedians being the most famous of his romances. He was the author of Leather Stocking and Silk; The Youth of Jefferson; Surry of Eagle's Nest; Wearing the Gray; My Lady Pokahontas; Henry St. John, reissued as Bonnybel Vane; Mohun, or the Last Days of Lee and His Paladins; Her Majesty the Queen; Pretty Mrs. Gaston; Stories of the Old Dominion; The Maurice Mystery; Mr. Grantley's Idea; Professor Pressensee; Virginia Bohemians; Hammer and Rapier; Hilt to Hilt, include the greater part of his work in fiction. He wrote also Life of General Lee; Stonewall Jackson, a Biography; and Virginia, a History of the People. He died Sept. 27, 1886, in Boyce, Va.

COOKE, JOSEPH P., congressman, was born in 1730. He was a delegate from Connecticut to the continental congress from 1784 to 1788. He died in 1816, in Danbury, Conn.

COOKE, JOSIAH PARSONS, chemist, author, was born Oct. 12, 1827, in Boston, Mass. He was a chemist of distinction who was professor of chemistry at Harvard university from 1850, and lectured in many places on scientific topics. He was the author of Religion and Chemistry; Scientific Culture; Elements of Chemical Physics; Chemical Problems and Reactions; Principles of Chemical Philosophy; The New Chemistry; The Credentials of Science the Warrant of Faith; and Laboratory Practice. He died in 1894.

COOKE, MARTIN WARREN, lawyer, author, was born March 2, 1840, in Whitehall, N. Y. He has been practitioner in the United States courts; and in the United States supreme court; and is also the official attorney of the university of Rochester. He is the author of a work entitled The Human Mystery in Hamlet.

COOKE, NICHOLAS, governor, was born Feb. 3, 1717, in Providence, R. I. He was deputy-governor of the state in 1775; and governor from that date to 1778. He died Sept. 14, 1782, in Providence, R. I.

COOKE, NICHOLAS FRANCIS, physician, author, was born Aug. 25, 1829, in Providence, R. I. He was a prominent physician of Chicago, and the author of Satan in Society; and Antiseptic Medication. He died Feb. 1, 1885, in Chicago, Ill.

COOKE, PARSONS, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 18, 1800, in Hadley, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of Lynn, strongly Calvinistic in doctrine and controversially inclined. He was the author of History of German Anabaptism; and A Century of Puritanism and a Century of Its Opposites. He died Feb. 12, 1864, in Lynn, Mass.

COOKE, PHILIP PENDLETON, lawyer, poet, was born Oct. 26, 1816, in Martinsburg, Va. He was a Virginia lawyer whose poetry was once very much admired, and whose Florence Vane still lingers in the anthologies. He was the author of The Froissart Ballads, and Other Poems. He died Jan. 20, 1850.

COOKE, PHILIP ST. GEORGE, soldier, author, was born June 13, 1809, near Leesburg, Va. He was a brigadier-general in the United States army who retired in 1873. He was the author of Scenes and Adventures in the Army; Handy Book for United States Cavalry; Cavalry Tactics; and Conquest of New Mexico and California. He died in 1895.

COOKE, MRS. ROSE TERRY, author, poet, was born in 1827 in Connecticut. She was a New England writer well known both as a poet and a writer of short stories of notable excellence. She was the author of Poems by Rose Terry; Happy Dodd; Somebody's Neighbors; The Sphinx's Children and Other People's; Steadfast; and Huckleberries. In 1888 a complete collection of her poems was made, including the contents of her early volume and her later work in verse. The Two Villages is her best known poem, as it is one of her best. She died in 1892.

COOKE, THOMAS BURRAGE, lawyer, banker, jurist, congressman, was born in 1780 in Northford, Conn. He became a judge of the court of common pleas, was a representative in congress from New York from 1811 to 1813, and served in the New York legislature in 1838 and 1839. He was for many years president of the Catskill bank, and was one of the earliest projectors of railroads in this country. He died in Catskill, N. Y.

COOKINS, JAMES, artist, was born about 1835 in Terre Haute, Ind. He has much talent as a landscape painter, and his illustrations of fairy tales show great power of invention.

COOKMAN, ALFRED, clergyman, author, was born in 1828. He was a Methodist clergyman who published Stayed on God. He died Nov. 13, 1871, in Newark, N. J.

COOLBRITH, INA DONNA, poet, was born in Illinois. She is a California poet, and formerly librarian of the Oakland Public library. Her work is nearly always musical. She is the author of The Perfect Day and Other Poems; and Songs of the Golden Gate.

COOLEY, ABIEL A., inventor, was born in 1782. He was a physician, and invented improvements in friction matches, an ingenious shingle machine, and one of the first power presses in use. He was also the first to apply the cam movement to pumps. He died Aug. 18, 1858, in Hartford, Conn.

COOLEY, ALICE KINGSBURY, actress, author, poet, was born Dec. 31, 1840, in England. For several years she was an actress in such plays as Fanchon, Juliette and others, and starred over the United States and Canada. She is the author of a child's book entitled Ho for Elfland; and a work for adults entitled Asaph, an historical novel of ancient Jerusalem.

COOLEY, LE ROY CLARK, educator, author, was born Oct. 7, 1833, in Point Peninsula, N. Y. He is a professor of physics at Vassar college, and the author of a series of text-books entitled Text-Book of Physics; Text-Book of Chemistry; Easy Experiments in Physical Science; Natural Philosophy; Elements of Chemistry; Students' Guide Book; Beginners' Guide to Chemistry; and Laboratory Studies in Elementary Chemistry.

COOLEY, THOMAS McINTYRE, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Jan. 6, 1824, in Attica, N. Y. He is a jurist of prominence in Michigan, and professor of history in the university of Michigan. He is the author of Law of Taxation; Law of Torts; General Principles of Constitutional Law in the United States; Treatise on Constitutional Limitations of the Legislative Power in the Several States; annotated editions of Blackstone's Story's Commentaries; and Michigan, a History of Governments. He died in September, 1898.

COOLIDGE, CARLOS, lawyer, state senator, governor, was born in 1792 in Windsor, Vt. He was state attorney for the county from 1831 to 1836; representative from 1834 to 1837, and from 1839 to 1842; and was speaker in 1836, and during the last term. He was governor of Vermont from 1849 to 1851; and was a state senator from 1855 to 1857. He died Aug. 15, 1866, in Windsor, Vt.

COOLIDGE, FREDERICK SPAULDING, manufacturer, congressman, was born Dec. 7, 1841, in Westminster, Mass. He is a manufacturer of chairs and chair cane, and is the manager of the Boston Chair Manufacturing company and of the Leominster Rattan works. He was democratic elector in 1888; and was representative to the general court of Massachusetts in 1875. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

COOLIDGE, SIDNEY, scientist, was born in 1830 in Boston, Mass. After working in the nautical-almanac office and in the Cambridge observatory, he was appointed in 1853 assistant astronomer to Commodore Perry's Japan exploring expedition. Being in Mexico in 1858, he took part in the civil war of that year. He took part in an Arizona land survey in 1860, and in 1861 became major in the sixteenth United States infantry. He was superintendent of the regimental recruiting service in 1862, commanded regiments at different posts and camps, and was engaged at the battles of Hoover's Gap and Chickamauga, where he was killed. For his services in the latter fight he received the brevet of lieutenant-colonel. He died Sept. 19, 1863, near Chickamauga, Ga.

COOMBE, THOMAS, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 21, 1748, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1772 he was assistant rector of Christ's church in Philadelphia, being transferred later to St. Peter's. He went to England, and in 1794 was made prebendary of Canterbury and chaplain-in-ordinary to the king. He was the author of a volume entitled Peasant of Auburn. He died Aug. 15, 1822, in London, England.

COOMBS, ANNIE LINMERE, poet, was born Nov. 7, 1844, in Frederick, Ohio. She received her education in the Pittsburg high schools and seminary. She has written over five hundred poems for the leading magazines and newspapers.

COOMBS, MRS. ANNIE SHELDON, author, was born in 1858 in New York. She was a novelist of New York city, and the author of As Common Mortals: A Game of Chance; and The Garden of Armida. She died in 1890.

COOMBS, WILLIAM J., merchant, congressman, was born Dec. 24, 1833, in Jordan, N. Y. He is one of the pioneers in the business of exporting American goods, having been engaged in that business over thirty-five years. He was the unsuccessful independent and democratic candidate for congress in 1888; and was elected to the fifty-second and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

COON, JOHN HENRY, manufacturer, financier, was born March 24, 1831, in Johnstown, N. Y. In 1889 he helped to organize the Coon, Cluett and Company, manufacturers of collars and cuffs, which developed into immense proportions. He is also a director of several business corporations of Buffalo, N. Y.

COONEY, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1848 in Ireland. He was educated in the public schools and at the state university of Missouri; taught school for a few years after he left the university, and in 1875 located in Marshall, Mo., and engaged in the practice of law. He was elected to the office of probate judge of his county; in 1882, and again in 1884, was elected prosecuting attorney of his county; and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

COONS, ALONSO B., lawyer, legislator, was born Sept. 3, 1841, in Montgomery county, N. Y. He has filled the office of district attorney of Schoharie county, N. Y., and during 1888-90 was a member of the New York state assembly.

COOPER, BENJAMIN, naval officer, was born in 1793 in New Jersey. He was appointed to the United States navy as midshipman in 1809, and served with distinction during the war of 1812. He was promoted and attained the grade of captain in 1828. He died June 1, 1850, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

COOPER, CHARLES, poet, was born April 23, 1822, in England. He is the author of Signs of the Day, and other poems of merit. He lives in Salt Lake City, Utah, where he has taken an active part in public affairs.

COOPER, CHARLES M., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 16, 1856, in Athens, Ga. He was elected to the lower house of the legislature in 1880, and was elected to state senate in 1884. He was appointed attorney-general of the state in 1885 for term of four years, and was appointed in 1889 one of three commissioners to revise the statutes of the state. He was elected to the fifty-third congress and re-elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat.

COOPER, DAVID, jurist. He was appointed a judge of the United States court of Minnesota in 1850.

COOPER, EDMUND, lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born Sept. 11, 1821, in Franklin, Tenn. He was elected to the Tennessee legislature, was elected a union delegate to the state convention proposed in 1861, and was again elected to the state legislature in 1865, but resigned on being elected a representative from Tennessee to the thirty-ninth congress. In 1867 he was appointed assistant secretary of the treasury.

COOPER, EDWARD, manufacturer, was born Oct. 26, 1824, in New York city. The success of the Trenton iron-works and of the New Jersey iron and steel-works is largely due to his painstaking and careful study of the subject. He was an active member of the committee of seventy, through whose efforts the Tweed ring was overthrown. In national politics he has served as a delegate to the Charleston convention of 1860, and to the St. Louis convention of 1876. He is a trustee of the Cooper union, and is a member of various corporations.

COOPER, ELIAS SAMUEL, surgeon, was born in 1821 in Butler county, Ohio. He took an active part in the organization of the medical department of the university of the Pacific, the first medical school on the Pacific coast; and at the time of his death was professor of surgery and president of the medical faculty. He established the San Francisco Medical Press, and was a contributor to eastern medical journals. He died Oct. 13, 1862, in San Francisco, Cal.

COOPER, ELLWOOD, horticulturist, author, was born May 24, 1829, in Sadsbury, Pa. He is a horticulturist of southern California, president of the state board of horticulture; and the author of Statistics of Trade with Hayti; Forest Culture and Eucalyptus Trees; and Treatise on Olive Culture.

COOPER, GEORGE, poet, composer, was born May 14, 1840, in New York city. He studied law in the office of Chester A. Arthur, was admitted to the bar, but never practiced to any extent. He is the author of the words of many popular ballads, such as Beautiful Isle of the Sea; Sweet Genevieve; Mother Kissed Me in My Dream; Must We then Meet as Strangers; and While the Days Are Going By. He is the author of The Chaplet, and Gospel Melodies, two volumes of hymns.

COOPER, GEORGE B., congressman, was born June 6, 1808, in Long Hill, N. J. He served in the two houses of the Michigan state legislature; served two terms as state treasurer of Michigan; and was elected a representative from Michigan to the thirty-sixth congress. He died in 1866 in Shark river, N. J.

COOPER, GEORGE HENRY, naval officer, was born June 27, 1821, in New York. He commanded the Pensacola navy yard; and from 1878 to 1880 was president of the board of inspection. In 1880 he took command of the navy yard at Brooklyn, and was promoted to be rear-admiral. He was commander-in-chief of the Atlantic squadron, until his retirement in 1884. He died Nov. 17, 1891, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

COOPER, GEORGE WILLIAM, lawyer, legislator, was born May 21, 1851, in Bartholomew county, Ind. He graduated from the Indiana university and has attained prominence as one of the foremost lawyers of Indiana. He has been mayor and prosecuting attorney of Columbus, Ind., and prosecuting attorney of his county. He served as a member of the fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat; and has always advocated a tariff measure limited to the wants of the government, administered with simplicity and economy; an advocate of sound finance; and in favor of all measures necessary for a stable government.

COOPER, HENRY, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born Aug. 22, 1827, in Columbia, Tenn. He was elected to the state legislature in 1853 and 1857, and in 1862 appointed judge of the seventh judicial circuit of Tennessee; resigned in 1866. He was chosen professor in the law school at Lebanon, Tenn., in 1866, and resigned in 1867, when he removed to Nashville. He was elected to the state senate in 1869 and 1870, and was elected to the United States senate for the term ending in 1877.

COOPER, HENRY ALLEN, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born in Walworth county, Wis. He was elected district attorney of Racine county, and was re-elected without opposition in 1882 and 1884. He was a delegate to the national republican convention of 1884; a member of the board of education of the city of Racine in 1886-87, and was a member of state senate 1887-89. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

COOPER, HENRY M., manufacturer, public official, was born May 13, 1841, in Chester, N. J. Since 1871 he has resided in Little Rock, Ark.; has been receiver of public moneys and collector of internal revenue, which latter position he filled for three terms. For twelve years he was secretary of the republican state committee, and has been its chairman several terms. For the past twenty years he has been engaged in manufacturing, and is the president of the Little Rock Cooperage company, one of the largest corporations in that business in the state. He is also president of the Union Compress company, a wealthy corporation of his state.

COOPER, HORACE CLARK, JR., merchant, printer, publisher, was born May 6, 1849, in Lake Mills, Wis. He has compiled and published a number of biographical works; and since 1873 has been president of the American Biographical Publishing company of Chicago, Ill. He is closely identified with the foremost publishing houses of Chicago, as president of the Brown-Cooper Typesetting company, the largest and most complete linotype composing establishment west of New York.

COOPER, JAMES, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, was born May 8, 1810, in Frederick county, Md. He was elected a representative in congress from Pennsylvania in 1838, and re-elected in 1840. In 1843 he was elected to the state legislature, and re-elected in 1844, 1846 and 1848, serving as speaker in 1847. In 1848 he was appointed attorney-general of Pennsylvania; and in 1849 was chosen a senator in congress for the term of six years. He afterwards became a brigadier-general in the army. He died March 28, 1863, in Columbus, Ohio.

COOPER, JAMES B., naval officer, was born March 6, 1753, in Bucks county, Pa. In 1812 he entered the navy as master, and served in that capacity during the war. He was promoted to lieutenant in 1822, and became commander in 1841. He died Feb. 5, 1854, in Haddonfield, N. J.

COOPER, JAMES CAMPBELL, mineralogist, was born June 16, 1832, in Baltimore, Md. He has taken great interest in the study of geology and mineralogy, and has collected, located, and named fully 50,000 specimens of minerals, including a collection of 9,000 specimens that he presented the university of Kansas.

COOPER, JAMES E., showman, was born Nov. 4, 1832, in Philadelphia, Pa. He entered the circus business in partnership with P. T. Barnum, W. W. Cole and James L. Hutchinson, the show taking the name of P. T. Barnum and Company's Greatest Show on Earth. At the close of 1887 he sold his interest to James A. Bailey and retired with the intention of devoting the remainder of his days to the enjoyment of the fortune he had amassed, but the fascination and excitement of the circus arena tempted him forth once more, and, in 1890, he purchased the Adam Forepaugh shows, and he died while in the harness. He died Jan. 1, 1892, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COOPER, JAMES FENIMORE, author, was born Sept. 15, 1789, in Burlington, N. J. He was the first American writer to gain general European recognition, and the first native novelist who won a national reputation.

Although much that he wrote is nearly forgotten, the best of his work survives and is still popular. His first novel, Precaution, a conventional, mediocre piece of writing, appeared in 1820, and was followed, in 1821, by The Spy, the most famous of all his books, having been translated into all the principal languages of Europe. Almost as famous is The Last of the Mohicans, a much greater work. Among his tales of the sea, The Pilot, and The Red Rover are the best, as the five Leather Stocking Tales—the Deerslayer, The Last of the Mohicans, The Pathfinder, The Pioneers, The Prairie—are the best of his stories of Indian life. His other fictions include The Bravo; Lionel Lincoln, or The Leaguer of Boston; The Water-Witch; The Two Admirals; The Wept of Wish-ton-Wish; The Heidenmauer; The Headsman; Homeward Bound; Home as

Found; The Monikins, the weakest of all his works; Mercedes of Castile; Wing-and-Wing; Wyandotte; Afloat and Ashore; Satanstoe; The Chainbearer; The Red Skins; Jack Tier; The Crater; The Oak Openings; The Sea Lions; The Ways of the Hour; and Miles Wallingford. He wrote, also, History of the United States Navy; Sketches of Switzerland; Gleanings in Europe, and Notions of the Americans. He died Sept. 14, 1851, in Cooperstown, N. Y.

COOPER, JOB A., banker, governor, was born Nov. 6, 1843. His interest in public affairs led to his service in the Denver city council in 1876 and his election as treasurer of the state university at Boulder. In 1889 he was made governor of the state for two years. He was for some time president of the First National bank, and is now president of the National Bank of Commerce.

COOPER, JOHN, congressman. He was a delegate from New Jersey to the continental congress in 1776.

COOPER, JOSEPH ALEXANDER, soldier, was born Nov. 25, 1823, in Somerset, Ky. He served during the Mexican war. In 1864 he was made a brigadier-general, in which capacity he commanded on the march through Georgia, receiving the brevet of major-general in 1865. He held the office of collector of internal revenue in Tennessee from 1869 till 1879, and later, again resumed his farming in Kansas.

COOPER, MARK ANTHONY, congressman, was born April 20, 1800, in Hancock county, Ga. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1843. He died March 17, 1885.

COOPER, MARY CATHERINE RYAN, educator, artist, poet, was born in 1863, in Louisiana. After receiving a thorough education from the Wheeling Female college of West Virginia, she entered educational work. She is the author of a volume entitled Poems of Hope; has contributed extensively to current literature, and is an artist of rare ability.

COOPER, MYLES, clergyman, author, was born in 1735 in England. He was an episcopal clergyman who came to America in 1762, and was president of Columbia college in 1763-75. Being an ardent loyalist, he was obliged to leave the colony, and returned to England. He was the author of Friendly Advice to All Reasonable Americans on Our Political Confusions; Poems on Several Occasions; Address to the Episcopalians of Virginia; and The American Querist. He died in 1785.

COOPER, PETER, manufacturer, philanthropist, was born Feb. 12, 1791, in New York city. He was apprenticed to a coach maker; then he manufactured machines for shearing cloth; then made furniture; then conducted a grocery; and then began the manufacture of glue and isinglass, which he continued for fifty years. He also erected iron mills, and manufactured railroad iron and architectural beams, and built the first locomotive engine in America. He became wealthy and built the Cooper institute. He was one of the six capitalists who formed the first Atlantic Telegraph company in 1854. He was the author of Ideas for a System of Good Government; and Financial Opinions, with Autobiography. He died April 4, 1883, in New York city.

COOPER, RICHARD M., banker, congressman, was born in 1768 in Gloucester county, N. J. He was a member of the Society of Friends, and was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1829 to 1833; served in the legislature; and was president of the state bank at Camden. He died March 10, 1844.

COOPER, SAM BRONSON, lawyer, congressman, was born May 30, 1850, in Caldwell county, Ky. In 1876 he was elected county attorney of Tyler county; and was re-elected in 1878. In 1880 he was elected to the state senate; elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

COOPER, SAMUEL, soldier, author, was born June 12, 1798, in New Jersey. He was appointed adjutant and inspector-general of the confederate army, of which he was the ranking officer, standing first on the list of generals. He was the author of A Concise System of Instructions and Regulations for the Militia and Volunteers of the United States. He died Dec. 3, 1876, in Cameron, Va.

COOPER, MRS. SARAH BROWN INGERSOLL, philanthropist, author, poet, was born Dec. 12, 1836, in Cazenovia, N. Y.

She graduated in 1853 from the Cazenovia seminary and subsequently attended the Troy Female seminary. During the civil war Mrs. Cooper was elected president of the Society for the Aid of Refugees; and taught a Bible class of three hundred soldiers. In 1869 she moved to San Francisco, and there won a national reputation in religious and educational work. While the credit of establishing the first free kindergarten in San Francisco is due to Prof. Felix Adler, yet the credit of the extraordinary success of the work is almost entirely due to Mrs. Cooper. Nearly half a million dollars was given to her to carry on kindergarten work in San Francisco, and thousands of little children have been trained in these schools. She was the founder and president of the Golden Gate Kindergarten association; and has written many works of vital importance on the subject of kindergartens. She died in 1896.

COOPER, SUSAN FENIMORE, author, was born in 1813 in Scarsdale, N. Y. She was a writer of rural sketches, whose life was passed at Cooperstown, N. Y., and was the author of Rural Hours; Country Rambles; Rhyme and Reason; Country Life; The Shield, a Narrative; and Mount Vernon and the Children of America. She died in 1894.

COOPER, THOMAS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Delaware from 1813 to 1817.

COOPER, THOMAS, scientist, author, was born Oct. 22, 1759, in London, England. He was a noted scientist who came to America in 1795 with Dr. Priestly, and was president of the college of South Carolina, 1820-34. He was the author of Letters on the Slave Trade; Tracts Ethical, Theological, and Political; Information Concerning America; The Bankrupt Law of America compared with that of England; Tracts on Medical Jurisprudence; Elements of Political Economy; and An English Version of the Institutes of Justinian. He died May 11, 1840, in Columbia, S. C.

COOPER, THOMAS B., physician, congressman, was born Dec. 29, 1823, in Cooperstown, Pa. He adopted the profession of a physician, and was elected a representative in congress from Pennsylvania, for the term ending in 1863. He died April 4, 1862, in Cooperstown, Pa.

COOPER, W. R., congressman. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1839 to 1841.

COOPER, WILLIAM, congressman, was born in New Jersey. He removed to Otsego county, New York, and became the founder of Cooperstown. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1795 to 1797, and again from 1799 to 1801. He was the father of the eminent author, James Fenimore Cooper.

COOPER, WILLIAM, clergyman, author, was born in 1694 in Boston, Mass. He was a famous congregational minister of Boston, and the author of Tract Defending Inoculation for the Small Pox; and The Doctrine of Predestination unto Life. He died Dec. 13, 1743, in Boston, Mass.

COOPER, WILLIAM, patriot, was born in 1720 in Boston, Mass. He was distinguished for his patriotic services during the revolutionary war, and for forty-nine years was town clerk of Boston. He died Nov. 28, 1809.

COOPER, WILLIAM B., governor, was born in Delaware. He was governor of the state from 1840 to 1844. He died April 27, 1849.

COOPER, WILLIAM C., was born Dec. 18, 1832, in Mount Vernon, Ohio. He was prosecuting attorney for Mount Vernon from 1859 to 1863; was mayor of Mount Vernon from 1862 to 1864; was a representative in the state legislature from 1872 to 1874; and was judge-advocate-general of Ohio from 1879 to 1884. In 1881 he became a member of the board of education of the city of Mount Vernon. In 1882 he was elected president of the board. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-ninth congress, and was re-elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

COOPER, WILLIAM R., lawyer, was born Feb. 13, 1847, in Campbell county, Tenn. He is a noted lawyer of Knoxville, Tenn., and a charter member of the Peace commandery and other orders. He has been supreme keeper of records of United Order of the Golden Cross since 1879; and has contributed extensively to current literature.

COOTE, RICHARD, colonial governor, was born in 1636 in Ireland. He became governor of the provinces of New York and New Jersey in 1698, and a year later went to Boston and succeeded to the governorship of Massachusetts. He died March 5, 1701, in New York.

COOTER, JAMES THOMAS, clergyman, educator, college president, was born Dec. 2, 1858, in Monticello, Mo. He attended the Monticello seminary; graduated in 1884 from the Wabash college; and studied theology for two years at the Princeton college, New Jersey, and one year at the McCormick's seminary of Chicago. He filled a pastorate in the Presbyterian church at Baxter Springs, Kan., during 1887-90, and since 1891 has been president of Washington college, Tennessee.

COOTER, JOHN PATTEN, farmer, educator, was born March 12, 1838, in Green county, Tenn. He has attained prominence in educational work; has written extensively for the periodical press, and many of his poems have been given a place in standard works.

COPE, CALEB FREDERICK, merchant, financier, was born July 18, 1797, in Greensburg, Pa. In 1864 he became president of The Philadelphia Savings Fund Society, of which he had been a director since 1841, and gave to this institution the last twenty-four years of his life. He died May 12, 1888, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COPE, EDWARD DRINKER, naturalist, author, was born July 28, 1840, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a noted Philadelphia naturalist, and the author of Origin of Genera; Extinct Batrachia and Reptilia of North America; Primary Groups of Batrachia Anura; Systematic Relations of the Fishes; Vertebrate Palaeontology of New Mexico; Tertiary Vertebrata of the West; and The Origin of the Fittest. He died in 1897.

COPE, GILBERT, genealogist, author, was born in 1840 in Pennsylvania. He is a genealogist of Pennsylvania, and the author of Record of the Cope Family; The Browns of Nottingham; Genealogy of the Dutton Family; Genealogy of the Sharpless Family; and History of Chester County, Pennsylvania.

COPE, THOMAS PYM, merchant, was born Aug. 26, 1768, in Lancaster county, Pa. He began business for himself in 1790, importing his goods latterly in his own vessels, the first of which he built in 1807, and established in 1821 the first line of packets between Philadelphia and Liverpool. He was a member of the Philadelphia city council about 1800, an efficient member of the committee for introducing water into the city, served in the legislature in 1807, and in the state constitutional convention, was president of the board of trade for many years, and of the Mercantile library company from its foundation until his death. He died Nov. 22, 1854, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COPELAND, ALFRED BRYANT, painter, was born about 1840 in Boston, Mass. He became art professor in the University of St. Louis, but about 1877 opened a studio in Paris, where he worked in crayon and oils. He exhibited church interiors in the Paris salon in 1877-78, and sent to Boston a collection of street scenes in Paris.

COPELAND, GEORGE D., business man, lawyer, poet, was born in Waddington, N. Y. For ten years he practiced law in Goshen, Ind.; and for two years edited The Times of that city. In 1873 he moved to San Diego, Cal.; was its postmaster in 1881-86; and was instrumental in securing for that city its bountiful supply of pure mountain water, which is brought from the mountains fifty miles away. He is the president of the electric railway and lighting firm of that city.

COPELAND, JOSEPH, business man, banker, was born in 1836, in Ulster, Ireland. For many years he was engaged in mining in California and Oregon, and finally secured controlling interest in several gold mines. He made over twenty trips to the Pacific coast; organized the First National bank of Shellsburg, Wis., of which he was president until his death in 1893.

COPELAND, JOSEPH T., soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born May 6, 1813, in New Castle, Maine. During 1846-49 he was judge of the St. Clair county court of Michigan; was elected circuit judge in 1851; and served during 1851-57 as a judge of the supreme court. He served with distinction through the civil war, and was promoted brigadier general of volunteers.

COPELAND, JOSEPH T., soldier, was born in 1830 in Michigan. He served through the civil war and was appointed a brigadier general of volunteers.

COPELAND, PATRICK, pioneer, educator. He was employed as a chaplain in the service of the East India company. He first suggested the idea of a college in America, and may be justly considered as the pioneer of education.

COPLEY, JOHN SINGLETON, artist, was born July 3, 1737, in Boston, Mass. He is said to have been the only native painter of real skill which the New World could boast before the Revolution, and to possess one of his portraits is America's best title to nobility. The Death of Lord Chatham is his masterpiece. He died Sept. 9, 1815, in London, England.

COPLEY, LIONEL, colonial governor, was born probably in England. After the province of Maryland had been delivered over to the crown by the protestant associators, he was in 1691 commissioned its first royal governor. He died Sept. 12, 1693.

COPP, MRS. HELEN RANKLIN, sculptor, was born Aug. 4, 1853, in Atlanta, Ill. She studied at the art institute of Chicago, Ill., and received the only medal ever given by that institution for sculpture. She has modeled portraits of a number of prominent citizens of Chicago, besides many ideal works.

COPPEE, HENRY, soldier, educator, college president, author, was born Oct. 13, 1821, in Savannah, Ga. He was a prominent educator, president of Lehigh university, 1866-75, and professor there until his death. During the Mexican war he served as an officer in the American army. His most important work is a History of the Conquest of Spain by the Arab Moors, which takes up the narrative at the period reached at the close of Irving's Mahomet and his Successors. His other works comprise Elements of Logic; Elements of Rhetoric; Grant and his Campaigns; Manual of Battalion Drill; Evolutions of the Line; and Manual of Court Martial. He died in 1895.

COPPIN, LEVI J., journalist, author, was born Dec. 24, 1848, in Cecil county, Md. He is the manager of the A. M. E. Church Review, and the author of The Relations of Baptized Children to the Church.

COPPINGER, JOHN J., soldier, was born in 1835 in Ireland. He joined the papal guards to fight against Victor Emmanuel. He came to America with letters from Archbishop Hughes, and in 1861 was made captain in the fourteenth infantry. At the close of the war he was colonel of the fifteenth New York cavalry. He made a brilliant record and was brevetted lieutenant-colonel at Trevilians, Va. After the war he was transferred to the twenty-third United States infantry, and was brevetted colonel in battles with the Indians in 1866, 1867 and 1868. He was commissioned major-general in 1898.

COPWAY, GEORGE, author, poet, was born in August, 1820, in Michigan. He is an Indian of the Ojibway tribe who was a journalist in New York city, and was well known as a lecturer. He was the author of Recollections of a Forest Life; Copway's American Indian; The Traditional History of the Ojibway Nation; The Ojibway Conquest, a poem; and Running Sketches of Men and Places in Europe.

CORAY, GEORGE Q., educator, librarian, was born in November, 1857, in Provo, Utah. He is a graduate of Cornell and librarian of the university of Utah.

CORBETT, HENRY WINSLOW, merchant, was born Feb. 18, 1827, in Westborough, Mass. While successful as a merchant he has not confined his enterprise to that field, but has also engaged in steam transportation, and was at one time mail contractor between Oregon and California overland, stocking the road in 1866 with Concord coaches for 740 miles. His contract with the government amounted to $179,000 per year. As he gained the means he then became a large buyer of choice real estate in Portland, and has recently built a number of business blocks. He is now one of the largest owners of improved property in the city, and pays taxes on about $850,000 worth of realty. He served during 1867-73 in the United States senate as a union republican.

CORBIN, AUSTIN, railroad president, financier, was born July 11, 1827, in Newport, N. H. He is now president of the Long Island railroad, the Elmira, Cortland and Northern railroad, the Manhattan Beach company, the Manhattan Beach Hotel and Land company, and the New York and Rockaway Beach railway.

CORBIN, MRS. CAROLINE ELIZABETH, author, was born in 1835 in Connecticut. She is a Chicago writer of fiction and other works, and the author of Rebecca; His Marriage Vow; Belle and the Boys; and A Woman's Philosophy of Love, a psychological treatise.

CORBIN, D. C., railroad president, was born in 1837 in New Hampshire. He is president of the Spokane Falls and Northern railway; and also of the Nelson and Fort Sheppard railway.

CORBIN, HENRY CLARK, soldier, was born in Ohio. He was the adjutant at the inaugurations of Garfield, Cleveland, Harrison and McKinley. He headed the remarkable procession of the centennial at New York in 1889 and has been the marshal in other great affairs of that kind. He entered the army as a volunteer. After the civil war he passed a satisfactory examination and was accepted as an officer in the regular army. He has always, since the time of Lincoln, been very near the person of the president. He is adjutant to President McKinley in the president's capacity as commander-in-chief of the army.

CORBIN, HORACE, lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born May 21, 1827, in Tioga county, Ind. In 1852 he was elected prosecuting attorney, and in 1862 he was chosen to the state senate, where he served four sessions. In 1873, when Plymouth first became a city, he was elected its mayor. In 1875 he was tendered by Governor Hendricks the appointment of judge of the circuit court, which he accepted, filling the office with credit to himself and the satisfaction of the district, until the fall of 1876, when he was named by the democratic party for the same position.

CORBIN, JOHN, author, was born in 1870 in Illinois. He is the author of The Elizabethan Hamlet.

CORBIN, JOSEPH CARTER, educator, college president, was born March 26, 1833, in Chillicothe, Ohio. He graduated in 1853 from the Ohio university. He has been state superintendent of education of Arkansas and for the past twenty years president of the Branch Normal college of Pine Bluff, Ark. He is a prominent member of the Masonic order, of which he has been grand secretary.

CORBUSIER, WILLIAM HENRY, surgeon, ethnologist, was born April 10, 1844, in New York city. He graduated in medicine from the Bellevue hospital and medical college of New York city. During the civil war he served in the field as acting assistant surgeon. He is now surgeon in the United States army, stationed at Fort Monroe, Va. While doing duty on the frontier he wrote vocabularies of the Mojave and Yavapai dialects of the Yuma language; discovered several winter counts, counts back, or calendars among the Dakotas; and studied the symbols, pictographs and sign language of the North American Indians.

CORBYS, WILLIAM, educator, college president, was born Oct. 2, 1833, in Detroit, Mich. As chaplain of a New York cavalry regiment he left for the army of the Potomac. He was through McClellan's campaign on the peninsula, and was afterwards commanded by Burnside, Hooker, Meade, and Grant. In 1866 he was made president and local superior at Notre Dame. In 1872 he was appointed the pastor at Watertown, Wis., holding this place until 1877, when he was chosen president of Notre Dame for a second time.

CORCORAN, JOHN WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, public official, was born June 14, 1853, in Batavia, N. Y. He received the rudiments of his education in the Clinton public schools; attended the College of the Holy Cross of Worcester, Mass.; the St. John's university, and the Boston university. He has a large law business in Boston, Mass., and resides in Clinton. He has been judge of the superior court; judge advocate general; was chairman of the democratic state committee four times; and was twice the chairman of the state delegation to the national convention. For twenty-two years he has been a member of the Clinton school committee, serving fifteen years as chairman. He was city solicitor of Clinton for ten years; water commissioner, secretary, treasurer and chairman for fifteen years; was chairman of the Massachusetts board of managers at the World's Columbian exposition; and has filled numerous positions of honor in his city, county and state.

CORCORAN, MICHAEL, soldier, was born Sept. 21, 1827, in Ireland. During the civil war he served with distinction; organized the Corcoran legion, and was made brigadier-general of volunteers. He died Dec. 23, 1863, near Sawyer's Station, Va.

CORCORAN, WILLIAM WILSON, banker, philanthropist, was born Dec. 27, 1798, in Georgetown, D. C. The state department selected him as its financial agent in 1841; and in 1842 George W. Riggs and he founded the afterward famous banking house of Corcoran and Riggs, which rose into prominence through sales of government bonds at the time of the Mexican war and later. He earned the title of philanthropist by numberless gifts, which amounted during his lifetime to about $4,000,000. He died Feb. 24, 1888, in Washington, D. C.

CORDLEY, RICHARD, clergyman, was born Sept. 6, 1829, in Nottingham, England. During 1850-54 he attended the Michigan university; and the three years following studied at the Andover Theological seminary; and graduated with honors from both institutions. In 1857 he moved to Kansas and preached his first sermon as pastor of the Plymouth church of Lawrence, which position he filled for eighteen years. During 1875-78 he was pastor of the congregational church of Flint, Mich.; during 1878-84 in the congregational church of Emporia, Kan.; when he again became pastor for the second time of the Plymouth church of Lawrence, Kan. During all the busy years of his ministry he has been a frequent and valued correspondent of the religious press. He is often called The Nugget Preacher, because his short and original sermons teem with golden nuggets of thought.

CORDOVA, ALFRED DE, stock broker, was born Aug. 19, 1848, in Jamaica. First a broker in petroleum, he purchased a seat in the stock exchange of New York city in 1875, and his firm of Alfred de Cordova and Son have since been successful in the brokerage of stocks. In 1894 he was elected a governor of the stock exchange of New York city.

CORE, JESSE FRANKLIN, soldier, clergyman, was born Sept. 15, 1846, in Hillshoro, Pa. He served gallantly as a soldier in the civil war, and was twice wounded. He attended the Methodist college of Millersburg, Ky.; and received the degree of D. D. from Waynesburg college. He was twice presiding elder in the Pittsburg conference of the Methodist Episcopal church; and twice a member of the General conference of that denomination. He is also well known as a brilliant pulpit orator and lecturer; has served many of the best churches in his conference; and was offered the nomination for congress.

COREY, CHARLES HENRY, clergyman, was born Dec. 12, 1834, in Canaan, N. B. In 1867 he was appointed principal of the Augusta institute, Augusta, Ga., and in the next year was transferred to Richmond, Va., as president of an institution for the training of colored preachers and teachers.

CORLET, ELIJAH, educator, was born in 1611 in London, England. He established himself in Cambridge soon after the settlement of the town, and taught the grammar school there for forty-six years. The society for the propagation of the gospel compensated him for preparing Indian scholars for the university. He died Feb. 24, 1687, in Cambridge, Mass.

CORLETT, WILLIAM W., lawyer, congressman, was born April 10, 1842, in Concord, Ohio. He was appointed postmaster at Cheyenne, Wyoming territory, in 1870; and was a member of the council in the territorial assembly in 1871. He was elected prosecuting attorney for Laramie county in 1872, 1873 and 1875; and was elected a delegate from the territory of Wyoming to the forty-fifth congress as a republican.

CORLEY, MANUEL SIMEON, merchant, legislator, congressman, was born Feb. 10, 1823, in Lexington county, S. C. During 1854-56 he was editor and owner of the South Carolina Temperance Standard. In his youth he was apprenticed to learn the tailor's trade, and became a successful merchant tailor of Lexington, S. C. In 1868 he was a member of the South Carolina constitutional convention; and in 1868-69 a member of the fortieth congress. He has been United States treasury agent; chief of South Carolina bureau of agricultural statistics; and treasurer of his county. From boyhood he has loved freedom and hated slavery, and his utterances on these questions for a long time imperiled his life.

CORLISS, GEORGE HENRY, inventor, was born June 2, 1817, in Easton, N. Y. He invented many ingenious devices, among which is a machine for cutting the cogs of bevel-wheels, an improved boiler, with condensing apparatus for marine-engines, and pumping-engines for water works. He was a member of the Rhode Island legislature in 1868-70, and was a republican presidential elector in 1876. He died Feb. 21, 1888, in Providence, R. I.

CORLISS, GUY C. H., lawyer, jurist, was born July 4, 1858, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. In 1879 he was admitted to the bar; and in 1886 moved to Grand Forks, N. D. In 1889 he was elected chief justice of the supreme court of North Dakota, which office he still fills.

CORLISS, JOHN B., lawyer, congressman, was born in Richford, Vt. He was elected city attorney of Detroit in 1881 and re-elected in 1883; during his four years' incumbency of the office of city attorney he prepared the first complete charter of Detroit, which was passed by the legislature in 1884 and is still the fundamental law of the municipality. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

CORLISS, MRS. MARY E., was born Dec. 22, 1832, in Great Falls, N. H. Her poems have appeared in the periodical press. She has collected her poems and published them in book form.

CORNABY, MRS. HANNAH, poet, was born March 17, 1822, in England. In 1881 she published a volume entitled Autobiography and Poems, which attracted considerable attention in her native state.

CORNELIUS, ELIAS, physician and patriot, was born in 1758 on Long Island. He obtained the appointment of surgeon's mate in the second Rhode Island regiment. He was captured and confined in the prison-ship Jersey, but escaped in March, 1778, rejoined the army, and continued with it till 1781. In later years he obtained a large practice. He died June 13, 1823, in Somers, N. Y.

CORNELIUS, ELIAS, educator, missionary, author, was born July 31, 1791, in Somers, N. Y. He was a missionary to the Cherokee Indians who wrote The Little Osage Captive, an Authentic Narrative. He died Feb. 12, 1832, in Hartford, Conn.

CORNELL, ALONZO BARTON, governor of New York during 1880-83, was born Jan. 22, 1832, in Ithaca, N. Y. He received an academic education, and at an early age engaged in the telegraph business, and became operator, manager, superintendent, director, vice-president and acting president of the Western Union Telegraph company. He is the son of the late Ezra Cornell, the founder of the Cornell university, who was associated with Prof. Morse in the early development of the electric telegraph. In 1872 he was elected to the legislative assembly of the state of New York, and was chosen speaker. Jan. 1, 1880, he was inaugurated governor of the state of New York, and served with distinction for three years. He has been a trustee of Cornell university from its foundation; and president of the Cornell library association. His only publication is True and Firm, a Biography of Ezra Cornell, a Filial Tribute.

CORNELL, EZEKIEL, soldier, congressman, was born in Scituate, R. I. He was a member of the continental congress in 1780-83, and chairman of the military committee. He was a mechanic before the war, but was self-educated, and established a valuable library in his native town.

CORNELL, EZRA, pioneer, was born Jan. 11, 1807, in Westchester, N. Y. When congress had appropriated $30,000 to build a telegraph line from Washington to Baltimore, and Mr. Cornell invented a machine to be drawn by eight mules for laying the wires underground and was employed as superintendent to carry out his idea. Next year a line was built by him under contract from New York to Philadelphia, and in 1846 one from New York to Albany. In 1847 he organized a company and built a telegraph line from Troy to Montreal, and in 1848 formed the New York and Erie and the Erie and Michigan Telegraph companies, to construct lines from New York to Lake Erie and thence to Milwaukee. He gave a $75,000 building to Ithaca for a free library and made a further gift for books. For the founding of Cornell university he gave nearly a million dollars and so located the agricultural college land grant, which New York state had transferred to the university, that it produced three or four times its original value.

CORNELL, JOHN BLACK, manufacturer, inventor, was born Feb. 7, 1821, in Long Island, N. Y. In 1847, with his brother, W. W. Cornell, he opened a factory in New York, which subsequently grew to large proportions. At these works the proprietors made an immense amount of architectural iron, including the iron for the elevated railroads in New York city. He died Oct. 27, 1887, in Lakewood, N. J.

CORNELL, JOHN HENRY, musician, composer, was born May 8, 1828, in New York city. He was a musician and organist of New York city, and the author of Primer of Modern Musical Tonality; Practice of Sight Singing; Easy Method of Modulation; Theory and Practice of Musical Form; A Manual of Roman Chant; and Congregational Tune Book. He died in 1894.

CORNELL, JOHN M., iron manufacturer, was born Aug. 27, 1846, in New York city. He was taken into partnership with J. B. and J. M. Cornell, and since 1887 has been sole proprietor of the works. Some of the most conspicuous buildings in New York city, erected since the era of gigantic structures here, about twenty years ago, have been supplied with the interior frame work, which supports all the rest, from the Cornell shops.

CORNELL, THOMAS, banker, congressman, was born Jan. 27, 1814, in White Plains, N. Y. He was elected a representative from New York to the fortieth congress in 1866; and in 1880 was elected to the forty-seventh congress as a republican.

CORNELL, WILLIAM MASON, physician, author, was born Oct. 16, 1802, in Berkley, Mass. He was a physician of Boston and elsewhere, and the author of Robert Raikes, the Founder of Sunday Schools; Life of Horace Greeley; Grammar of the English Language; Consumption Prevented; Treatise on Epilepsy; and History of Pennsylvania. He died in 1895.

CORNELL, WILLIAM W., manufacturer, was born Jan. 1, 1823, on Long Island. He established an extensive business as an iron-founder in New York city, was a liberal giver to benevolent objects, especially for the erection of churches for the methodist denominations, and founded Cornell college at Mount Vernon, Iowa. He died March 17, 1870, in New York city.

CORNING, ERASTUS, railroad president, banker, congressman, was born Dec. 14, 1794, in Norwich, Conn. In 1814 he moved to Albany, and continued in the hardware business, establishing the well-known house, still in existence, of Erastus Corning and Co. His first public position was that of alderman of the city of Albany; from that he was promoted to mayor; and was also for several years an influential railroad, bank, and canal company president. For several terms he was a member of the state legislature; and was elected a representative to the thirty-fifth congress. In 1860 he was elected to the thirty-seventh congress; and re-elected to the thirty-eighth congress. He died April 9, 1872, in Albany, N. Y.

CORNING, WARREN HALMES, was born Feb. 18, 1841, in Painesville, Ohio. In 1887 he sold the Monarch Distilling Co., of Peoria, Ill., upon satisfactory terms to the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Co., and retired with well earned laurels from the company. Released from the exacting routine of daily attention to a large establishment, Mr. Corning then gave his attention to other things. He made large investments in various institutions, including the Standard Sewing Machine Co., the Wick Banking and Trust Co., the First National bank, and the Guardian Trust Co. of Cleveland.

CORNISH, JOHNSTON, manufacturer, state senator, congressman, was born in Hunterdon county, N. J. He entered the Cornish Piano and Organ company as junior partner, and became the manager of that institution. He was elected mayor of Washington in 1884, when only twenty-five years old, and re-elected in 1886. He was elected state senator in 1890, and to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

CORNWALL, HENRY BEDINGER, mineralogist, author, was born July 29, 1844, in Southport, Conn. He is a professor of mineralogy at Princeton college since 1873, who has published A Manual of Blow-Pipe Analysis.

CORNWALLIS, KINAHAN, journalist, author, was born Dec. 24, 1837, in London, England. He published in London fifteen novels of travel, history and poetry prior to coming to America. During 1860-66 he was editor and owner of the Knickerbocker Magazine, and also financial editor of the New York Herald during 1861-69. He then became editor and proprietor of The Albion, and in 1886 established The Daily Investigator of New York city, of which he is still editor and proprietor. In 1892 he published a volume of poems, and in 1893 The Conquest of Mexico and Peru. His other works are Yarra Yarra, or the Wandering Aborigine, a Poetical Narrative; The New Eldorado of British Columbia; Wreck and Ruin, or Modern Society; My Life and Adventures, an Autobiography; Adrift with a Vengeance; Pilgrims of Fashion; and The Gold Room and the New York Stock Exchange.

CORNWELL, GEORGE RATHBUN, bookseller, legislator, was born Feb. 24, 1836, in Penn Yan, N. Y., where for over forty years he was successfully engaged in business. During 1872-97 he was trustee of the Union school; and in 1891-94 president of the board of education. During 1882-84 he was chairman of the Yates republican committee; national delegate to the republican convention of 1884; member of the New York assembly in 1887-88; a member of the state constitutional convention in 1894; and in 1884, 1886, and 1888 was a candidate for congress from Yates county.

CORNWELL, HENRY SYLVESTER, physician, author, poet, was born in 1831 in New Hampshire. He was a physician of New London, Conn., who wrote much thoughtful verse. He was the author of The Land of Dreams and Other Poems (1879), which is the only collection that has been made of his poems. He died in 1896.

CORNWELL, WILLIAM CARYL, banker, was born Aug. 19, 1851, in Lyons, N. Y. He organized the City bank of Buffalo in 1893, and was made president of the institution.

CORR, ALBERT C., physician, was born Feb. 10, 1840, in Carlinville, Ill. In 1868 he graduated in medicine from the Northwestern university of Chicago. For seventeen years he practiced general medicine; and since 1886 has restricted his practice to diseases of the eye, ear and throat. He is a member of the leading medical societies, and president of Illinois State Medical society. He has contributed papers to the deliberations of many medical and scientific bodies.

CORR, LUCINDA H., physician, was born March 9, 1844, in Carlinville, Ill. She graduated in 1874 from the Woman's medical department of the Northwestern university of Chicago. After five years' general practice she restricted her practice to diseases of women and girls. She is the wife of Dr. Albert C. Corr, and a pioneer in the state of Illinois.

CORRICK, FRANK PERLEY, journalist, was born July 17, 1866, in Appanoose county, Iowa. He is the editor and owner of The Tribune of Cozad, Neb. He has filled several public positions; and has been lieutenant-colonel and colonel of the Nebraska division of the Sons of Veterans.

CORRIGAN, MICHAEL AUGUSTINE, Roman catholic prelate, was born Aug. 13, 1839, in Newark, N. J. In 1885 Archbishop Corrigan became metropolitan of the diocese of New York.

CORRIGAN, THOMAS, capitalist, was born Dec. 31, 1825, in Canada. He was owner of all the street railways, except one, in Kansas City; but in 1883 he sold his entire railway system to the Metropolitan Street Railway company. He died March 1, 1894, in Kansas City, Mo.

CORSE, JOHN MURRAY, soldier, was born April 27, 1835, in Pittsburg, Pa. He attended West Point and served through the civil war. He was colonel of the sixth regiment Iowa volunteer infantry, and distinguished himself at Chickamauga. In 1863 he was made brigadier-general of volunteers. In 1864 he defended Altoona with success against a superior force of confederates, and commanded a division of Sherman's army in its march to Georgia and the Carolinas. In 1864 he received the brevet of major-general. In 1867-69 he was collector of internal revenue in Chicago, Ill.; and subsequently built several hundred miles of railroad in the neighborhood of Chicago. In 1886 he was appointed postmaster of Boston, Mass. He died April 27, 1893.

CORSE, MONTGOMERY DENT, soldier, banker, was born March 14, 1816, in Alexandria, D. C. He was a captain in the Mexican war, and lived in California from 1849 till 1856, when he returned to Virginia and became a banker in Alexandria. He entered the confederate service in 1861 as colonel; and was commissioned a brigadier-general in 1862. After the war he resumed the business of a banker and broker at Alexandria till 1874.

CORSON, GEORGE NORMAN, soldier, lawyer, lecturer, journalist, poet, was born March 11, 1833, in Montgomery county, Pa. He received his education at the Freemont seminary of Norristown, and the Ursinus college of Collegeville. During the war he enlisted as a private soldier under the first call issued by Abraham Lincoln in April, 1861, till term of enlistment expired. In 1896 he was admitted to the bar, and has attained success in his profession at Norristown, Pa. He has been a member of the city council; register in bankruptcy for Lehigh and Montgomery counties; and a member of the constitutional convention of Pennsylvania of 1872 and 1873. He has traveled extensively in Europe, and is the author of many lectures and poems; and wrote the poem for the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of Montgomery county in 1884. For two years he edited the Norristown Independent.

CORSON, HIRAM, educator, author, was born Nov. 6, 1828, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a Chaucerian and Early English scholar, professor at Cornell university since 1870, and the author of The Voice and Spiritual Education; Elocutionary Manual; Jottings on the Text of Hamlet; Introduction to the Study of Browning; Lectures on English Language and Literature; The Aims of Literary Study; Vocal Culture in Relation to Literary Study; Thesaurus of Early English; and Handbook of Anglo-Saxon and Early English. He has also edited Chaucer's Legend of Goode Women.

CORSON, JULIET, instructor, author, was born Feb. 14, 1842, in Boston, Mass. She was a cooking instructor of New York, founder of the School of Cooking there in 1876; and was the author of Cooking Manual; Cooking School Text-Book; Twenty-Five Cent Dinners for Families of Six; Meals for the Million; Practical American Cookery; Family Living on Five Hundred Dollars a Year; and Diet for Invalids and Children. She died in 1897.

CORT, THOMAS, manufacturer, was born in 1834 in England. He settled in Newark in 1847, and began business for himself in the manufacture of high grade walking and lawn tennis shoes, being among the first engaged in this specialty in America.

CORTHELL, ELMER LAWRENCE, civil engineer, author, was born Sept. 30, 1840, in Massachusetts. He is a civil engineer of distinction, and the author of History of the Jetties at the Mouth of the Mississippi.

CORWIN, EDWARD T., clergyman, author, was born July 12, 1834, in New York city. Since 1857 he has filled pastorates in various cities in the Reformed church, and is the official historian of the Reformed Church in America. He is the author of several works, and since 1897 has been engaged in historical researches at Amsterdam, Holland. His works are: Manual of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church in North America; Manual of the Reformed Church in America; and Corwin Genealogy.

CORWIN, FRANKLIN, lawyer, congressman, was born July 12, 1818, in Lebanon, Ohio. He served several years in the state legislature of Ohio, and part of the time in the senate. He moved to Illinois in 1857; and was elected to the legislature of that state, serving two years, as speaker. He was elected to the forty-third congress as a republican.

CORWIN, MOSES B., lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 5, 1790, in Bourbon county, Ky. In 1838 and 1839 he was elected to the legislature; and was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1849 to 1851, and from 1853 to 1855. He died April 7, 1872, in Urbana, Ohio.

CORWIN, THOMAS, lawyer, statesman, was born July 29, 1794, in Bourbon county, Ky. He was elected to the Ohio legislature in 1822, and a representative to congress from the Warren district in 1831, in which position he continued until 1840. He was chosen governor of Ohio in October of that year. In 1845 he was elected United States senator, which office he held until his appointment in the cabinet, in 1850, as secretary of the treasury, under President Fillmore. He died Dec. 18, 1865, in Washington, D. C.

CORWINE, AMOS BRECKINRIDGE, journalist, was born in 1815 in Maysville, Ky. He served during the Mexican war, being a lieutenant in the Mississippi regiment commanded by Jefferson Davis, and was severely wounded at Buena Vista. After that war, in partnership with his brother Samuel, he edited the Cincinnati Chronicle. During the administrations of Presidents Tyler and Fillmore he was United States consul at Panama. In 1856 he was sent by President Pierce to investigate the Panama massacres, and on his report were based the treaty and adjustment of damages between the United States and New Granada. He was reappointed consul, and remained in Panama until 1861. He died June 22, 1880, in New Rochelle, Ohio.

CORY, SALLY MORRIS, artist, designer, was born Feb. 21, 1863, in New York city. She has attained success as an artist and designer; is the illustrator for the Armstrong Press Syndicate of New York city; and holds an art medal for book-cover designing.

COSAND, SAMUEL W., soldier, lawyer, was born June 27, 1843, in Boone county, Ind. In 1860 he graduated from the Thorntown academy with the degree of B. S. He served as a union soldier during the civil war in Company B, seventy-second regiment Indiana volunteer infantry. He is a prominent lawyer of Gettysburg, S. D., and has served as state's attorney of Potter county.

COSBY, FORTUNATUS, journalist, poet, was born May 2, 1801, in Louisville, Ky. He was a member of the first school board of trustees, and later superintendent of public schools in Philadelphia. In 1846 he edited the Examiner, the first Kentucky paper devoted to the cause of negro emancipation. His best known poems are Ode to the Mocking Bird; The Traveler in the Desert; A Dream of Long Ago; and Fireside Fancies.

COSBY, WILLIAM, governor of New York, was born about 1695. After serving as a colonel in the army, and being governor of Minorca and of the Leeward islands, he became governor of New York in 1731, and held the office till his death. He died March 10, 1736, in New York city.

COSGROVE, HENRY, Roman catholic bishop, was born in 1834 in Williamsport, Pa. He removed with his parents to Dubuque when eleven years old. He was ordained in 1857, and appointed assistant pastor of St. Mary's, Davenport. He became pastor of Davenport, Iowa, in 1862, and shortly afterward erected a church and school. He was appointed vicar-general of the diocese in 1882. On the death of Bishop McMullen he was selected as administrator; and in 1884 was proposed to the holy see as his successor in the bishopric of Davenport. He is the first native of the United States that has been appointed bishop west of the Mississippi.

COSGROVE, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 12, 1839, in Alexandria, N. Y. In 1865 he removed to Boonville, Mo., and engaged in the practice of his profession. He was twice elected city attorney; and in 1872 was elected prosecuting attorney of Cooper county. He was a delegate to the democratic national conventions of 1872 and 1880; and was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

COSETT, FRANCEWAY RANNA, clergyman, author, was born April 24, 1790, in Claremont, N. H. He was a Cumberland presbyterian clergyman of Tennessee. He published The Life and Times of Ewing, which gives a history of the beginnings of the Cumberland presbyterian denomination. He died July 3, 1863, in Lebanon, Tenn.

COSTER, CHARLES HENRY, banker, was born July 22, 1852, in Newport, R. I. In 1884 he was admitted to partnership in the great banking house of Drexel, Morgan and Co. of New York city; Drexel and Co. of Philadelphia, and Drexel, Harjes and Co. of Paris, resident in New York.

COSTER, ROBERT JOHN, educator, clergyman, was born Oct. 20, 1836, near St. Leonards, Md. He was educated at the College of St. James, and received the degree of B. A. in 1862; and the degree of M. A. from Trinity college in 1868. He was ordained a deacon in 1863, and a priest in 1866. For over a quarter of a century he has been rector of the Bishop Bowman institute of Pittsburg, Pa., and rector of the Grace church almost the same time. He has also devoted his time to educational work. He has been a member of the standing committee of the diocese of Pittsburg for twenty years, and president of the same for four years. He has traveled extensively in Europe; and is the author of a memorial sermon on the Life of the Rev. Thomas Crumpton, D. D.; and is now publishing a History of Grace Church of Pittsburg, Pa.

COTHEAL, ALEXANDER ISAAC, diplomatist, was born in 1804 in New York, N. Y. He was an oriental scholar of New York city who published Sketch of the Language of the Mosquito Indians; and Attof the Generous, a translation from the Arabic. He died in 1894.

COTHRAN, JAMES S., soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Aug. 8, 1830, in Abbeville county, S. C. He entered the confederate service as a private soldier; and was at the surrender of the army of northern Virginia at Appomattox, having attained to the rank of captain. He was appointed to fill the judgeship of the circuit to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Judge Thomson in 1881; and was elected by the legislature to the same office the following winter, and re-elected in 1885. He was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a democrat.

COTTERAL, J. L. T., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Alabama from 1846 to 1847.

COTTING, JOHN RUGGLES, scientist, author, was born in 1783 in Acton, Mass. He was a noted Georgia scientist, and the author of Introduction to Chemistry; Lectures on Geology; and Soils and Manures. He died in 1867.

COTTMAN, JOSEPH S., lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 16, 1803, in Somerset county, Md. He served in the Maryland legislature; was a presidential elector in 1849, and was a member of congress from 1851 to 1853. He died in 1863 in Somerset county, Md.

COTTMAN, VINCENDON LEZARE, naval officer, was born Feb. 13, 1852, in Ascension Parish, La. In 1884 he was appointed lieutenant of the United States navy, and in 1889 was secretary of the international marine conference at Washington, D. C.

COTTON, AYLETT R., educator, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 29, 1826, in Austintown, Ohio. He removed to Iowa in 1844, and crossed the plains to California in 1849, and returned to Iowa in 1851. He was appointed judge of Clinton county in 1851, and was prosecuting attorney of the same county in 1854. He was a member of the state constitutional convention in 1857, and was a member of the state legislature in 1868 and 1870, serving as speaker. He was elected to the forty-second and forty-third congresses as a republican.

COTTON, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 4, 1585, in England. He was the foremost clergyman of his century in New England. He came to the Massachusetts colony in 1633, having been for twenty years vicar of St. Botolph's church in Boston, Lincolnshire. He was at once made teacher of the church in the new settlement of Boston, and until his death exercised an influence in church and state unequaled by any one since in New England. His principal works comprise The Bloody Tenet Washed and Made White in the Blood of the Lamb, a reply to Roger Williams's famous Bloody Tenet of Persecution; A Brief Exposition upon Ecclesiastes; The Covenant of Grace; The Keys of the Kingdom of Heaven; The Way of the Congregational Churches Cleared; The Way of Life; Treatise Concerning Predestination; The New Covenant; and Meat for Strong Men, Spiritual Milk for Babies. He died Dec. 23, 1652, in Boston, Mass.

COTTON, JOHN, clergyman, was born March 13, 1640, in Boston, Mass. He was minister for thirty years in Plymouth, Mass., and afterward in Charleston, S. C. He was eminent for his acquaintance with the Indian language, frequently preached to the aborigines at Martha's Vineyard and Plymouth, and revised and corrected the whole of Eliot's Indian Bible. He died Sept. 18, 1699, in Charleston, S. C.

COTTRELL, CALVERT BYRON, manufacturer, inventor, was born Aug. 21, 1821, in Westerly, R. I. He has devoted himself exclusively to invention and improvement in matters belonging to printing and press manufacture. One of his latest and most important inventions is a shifting tympan for a Web perfecting press.

COUCH, DARIUS NASH, soldier, was born July 23, 1822, in South East, N. Y. He was graduated at the United States military academy in 1846, and assigned to the fourth artillery, with which he served in the Mexican war, gaining the brevet of first lieutenant, in 1847, for gallant conduct at Buena Vista. He served against the Seminoles in 1849-50, and in 1853, when on a leave of absence, made an exploring expedition into Mexico, which is mentioned in the United States senate reports.

COUCHMAN, WESLEY, clergyman, educator, poet, was born Aug. 25, 1853, in Margaretville, N. Y. In 1878 he graduated from the Wesleyan university of Middletown, Conn., and was the class poet. He had previously attended the Claverack academy, New York. Many years of his life have been devoted to educational work; and fifteen years as a mechanic. He has attained eminence as a clergyman of the methodist episcopal church, and has filled pastorates in New York and Pennsylvania. He has also given much of his time to literary work, and many of his poems have appeared in current literature and various standard works.

COUDERT, FREDERICK RENE, lawyer, was born in 1832, in New York city. He was elected president of the Bar Association of New York city, and represented the Chamber of Commerce at the international congress at Antwerp, for the framing of international rules of general average. He recently represented the United States as one of its counsel before the international tribunal appointed to determine the Behring Sea controversy.

COUES, ELLIOTT, naturalist, author, was born Sept. 9, 1842, in Portsmouth, N. H. He is an eminent naturalist connected with the Smithsonian institution. He is the author of Key to North American Birds; Field Ornithology; Birds of the Northwest; Fur-Bearing Animals; Check List of North American Birds; Birds of the Colorado Valley; New England Bird Life (with W. A. Stearns); Biogen, a Speculation on the Origin of Life; The Dæmon of Darwin; and Our Native Birds.

COULDOCK, CHARLES WALTER, actor, was born April 26, 1815, in England. His first appearance in this country was at the Broadway theater. He subsequently supported Charlotte Cushman, and was successful as Jacques in As You Like It, and as Luke Fielding in The Willow Copse. His rendition of Dunstan Kirke in Hazel Kirke at the Madison Square theater was especially powerful.

COULTER, JOHN MERLE, botanist, author, was born Nov. 20, 1851, in China. He is a botanist and was president of the Indiana State university in 1891-93. He is the author of Synopsis of the Flora of Colorado (with T. C. Porter); Manual of Rocky Mountain Botany; Manual of Texan Botany; and Text-Book of Western Botany.

COULTER, RICHARD, jurist, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1827 to 1835. At the time of his death was judge of the supreme court of Pennsylvania. He died April 21, 1852, in Westmoreland county, Pa.

COUNCILL, WILLIAM HOOPER, educator, college president, was born July 12, 1848, in Fayetteville, N. C. He was brought to Alabama by the traders of 1857 through the famous Richmond slave pen. In 1883 he was admitted to the bar, but has never left the profession of teaching for a day. He has occupied high positions in the church, temperance and charitable organizations. By earnest toil, self-denial and hard study he has built up the State Normal Industrial school of Alabama, of which he is president, and which is one of the largest institutions in the south. He is also the president of the Agricultural and Mechanical college of Alabama for Negroes.

COUNCILMAN, WILLIAM THOMAS, physician, author, was born in 1854, in Maryland. He is a physician and instructor at the Harvard Medical school, and the author of Contribution to the Study of Inflammation; On Arterio Sclerosis; Syphilis of the Lungs; and On the Ætiology of Malaria; and other works.

COURTENAY, AUSTIN MATLACK, clergyman, lecturer, author, was born April 22, 1850, in St. Louis, Mo. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools of his native city, in various private schools and academies, and graduated from the Virginia Theological seminary. He has filled pastorates in the methodist episcopal churches in Maryland, Baltimore City, Pittsburg and Meadville, Pa. He has been a lecturer of Christian Evidences in the Allegheny college, and is a noted public lecturer and orator of unusual ability. He has received the degree of doctor of divinity from Dickinson college; and is the author of numerous articles which have appeared in current magazines and church papers.

COURTENAY, EDWARD HENRY, mathematician, author, was born in 1803 in Maryland. He was a civil engineer and was professor of mathematics in the university of Virginia from 1842-53. He published a Treatise on Differential Calculus and the Calculus of Variations. He died Dec. 21, 1853, in Charlottesville, Va.

COURTER, FRANKLIN C., artist, was born July 20, 1854, in Caldwell, N. J. In 1888 he was appointed professor of drawing and painting in Albion college, Albion, Mich. His best known ideal picture is his painting of Lincoln Showing Sojourner Truth the Bible Presented Him by the Colored People of Baltimore.

COURTNEY, THEODORE. He has attained prominence as one of the foremost men of Kansas, and has taken an active part in the political affairs of that state.

COURTRIGHT, SAMUEL W., lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 9, 1842, in Pickaway county, Ohio. He is a prominent lawyer of Circleville, Ohio; was city solicitor for two terms; president of the board of education for five years; and prosecuting attorney of his county for two terms. He has filled various public positions of honor, and for five years was judge of the court of common pleas.

COUSINS, JAMES, agriculturist, legislator, was born March 3, 1849, in England. For many years he was engaged in the manufacture of brick; and since 1834 has been a farmer in Pittsford, Mich. He was a member of the Michigan house of representatives in 1895-96, and received the re-election in 1897-98.

COUSINS, ROBERT G., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1859 in Cedar county, Iowa. In 1886 he was elected to the Iowa legislature, and was elected by the house of representatives as one of the prosecutors for the Brown impeachment, tried before the senate during 1887. In 1888 he was elected prosecuting attorney and also presidential elector for the fifth congressional district. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

COUTLER, JOHN F., farmer, legislator, state senator, was born Nov. 15, 1840, in Cass county, Mich. In 1870 he was elected a member of the Michigan state legislature. He moved to Nebraska in 1874, and was there elected to the state senate in 1878. In 1882 he moved to Kansas, and was elected to the legislature of that state in 1884, and again in 1892.

COVELL, ALTON GILES, lawyer, legislator, financier, was born June 8, 1854, in Erie, Pa. He received an academic education and was admitted to the bar in 1880. In 1883 he moved to North Dakota, where he has, financially, large and extensive interests in wheat and stock farms, and in a general mercantile house. He served two terms as state's attorney for Wells county; and he has been prominently connected with the public affairs of his county and state; and has served one term as a member of the North Dakota state legislature. He is interested in numerous business enterprises, and has contributed extensively to various charitable institutions.

COVELL, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 4, 1796, in Marblehead, Mass. He was a methodist clergyman of New York and Vermont who published a Dictionary of the Bible. He died May 15, 1845, in Troy, N. Y.

COVERT, GEORGE, physician, surgeon, was born Dec. 7, 1829, in Ovid, N. Y. He is a graduate of the Bennett College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago, Ill.;

has been school superintendent, president of the State Medical society, president of the National Medical association, and professor of obstetrics in his alma mater. He is well known as a frequent contributor to medical literature, and is a successful physician and surgeon of Clinton, Wis.

COVERT, JAMES W., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 2, 1842, in Oyster Bay, N. Y. In 1867 he was elected school commissioner and served three years, at the same time acting as assistant district attorney of his county. He was surrogate of Queen's county from 1870 to 1874; and was elected a representative from New York to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat.

COVINGTON, GEORGE W., lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 12, 1838, in Berlin, Md. In 1867 he was elected a member of the constitutional convention of Maryland from Worcester county, and served in said body as a member of the judiciary committee. In 1880 he was nominated over eight competitors, and was elected to the forty-seventh congress, and was re-elected to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

COVINGTON, LEONARD, soldier, congressman, was born Oct. 30, 1768, in Aquasco, Md. He was a member of the legislature of Maryland, and was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1805 to 1807. In 1813 he was ordered to the northern frontier, and appointed by President Madison, brigadier-general. He died Nov. 14, 1813, in French Mills, N. Y.

COVODE, JOHN, merchant, congressman, was born March 17, 1808, in Westmoreland county, Pa. He was elected from Pennsylvania a representative to the thirty-fourth congress, and re-elected to the thirty-fifth, thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh and fortieth congresses as a republican. He died Jan. 11, 1871, in Harrisburg, Pa.

COWAN, EDGAR, lawyer, United States senator, was born Sept. 19, 1815, in Westmoreland county, Pa. He was chosen a senator in congress, from Pennsylvania, for the term ending in 1867. In 1860 he was a presidential elector and was a delegate to the Philadelphia National Union convention of 1866. He died Aug. 29, 1885, in Greensburg, Pa.

COWAN, FRANK, lawyer, journalist, author, was born Dec. 11, 1844, in Greensburg, Pa. He is a Pennsylvania lawyer and journalist, who has traveled extensively and who entered Corea before that country had made any treaties with foreign nations. He is the author of Curious Facts in the History of Insects; Zomara, a Romance of Spain; Southwestern Pennsylvania in Song and Story; The City of the Royal Palm, and Other Poems; A Visit in Verse to Honolulu; and Fact and Fancy in New Zealand.

COWAN, JACOB P., physician, banker, United States senator, was born March 20, 1823, in Florence, Pa. He was a member of the state legislature; practiced medicine, but became a dealer in real estate and president of a private bank. In 1874 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-fourth congress as a democrat.

COWARDIN, JAMES A., journalist, author, was born Oct. 6, 1811, near Hot Springs, Va. In 1865 he founded the Richmond Dispatch, and became editor and part owner. He was the author of Old Virginia Ham; Olde Virginia Fiddlers, and other works. He died Nov. 21, 1882, in Richmond, Va.

COWDERY, JACOB E., soldier, architect, builder, poet, was born Dec. 20, 1836, at Adams Mill, Ohio. During the war he served in the fourteenth regiment Iowa volunteer infantry. For many years he was engaged in educational work; and is now a successful architect and builder in Richmond, Mo. He is a contributor to the Scientific American and other publications; and is the author of a number of meritorious poems. His wife, Mrs. Louisa Cowdery, is also a poet of Missouri.

COWDERY, JONATHAN, surgeon, was born April 22, 1767, in Sandisfield, Mass. He served in the frigate Philadelphia, which was stranded on the coast of Tripoli in 1803, and was a prisoner in the hands of the Turks nearly two years. In 1806 he published a journal of his captivity. He died Nov. 29, 1852, in Norfolk, Va.

COWDIN, JASPER BARNETT, poet. He is the author of Esther's Wedding and Other Poems.

COWELL, BENJAMIN, lawyer, jurist, author, was born in 1781 in Wrentham, Mass. He was a clerk of the federal courts, and for a time chief justice of the court of common pleas in Providence, R. I. In 1850 he published a volume of history entitled The Spirit of '76. He died May 6, 1860, in Providence, R. I.

COWEN, BENJAMIN RUSH, soldier, public official, was born Aug. 15, 1831, in Moorfield, Ohio. In 1861 he enlisted in the volunteer army, and became an additional paymaster, serving under McClellan and Rosecrans, and in the same year was elected secretary of state, but resigned in 1862. He was appointed adjutant-general of Ohio in 1864, and served as such for four years, receiving three brevets. He was also an inspector of military prisons, and subsequently went into the iron and coal business at Bellaire. He was a delegate to the National Philadelphia convention of 1866, and the Chicago convention of 1868, of which he was secretary. In 1871 he was appointed assistant secretary of the interior department, and was also a leading member of the republican committee of Ohio, and chairman of the state committee.

COWEN, BENJAMIN S., physician, journalist, congressman, was born in 1793 in Washington county, N. Y. In 1839 he was a delegate to the convention that nominated General Harrison for president, and in 1840 was elected to congress. During 1845-46 he was a member of the Ohio legislature, and from 1847 till 1852 was presiding judge of the court of common pleas. He died Sept. 27, 1869, in St. Clairsville, Ohio.

COWEN, ESEK, jurist, author, was born Feb. 24, 1787, in Rhode Island. In 1812 he was one of the founders, in Northumberland, Saratoga county, N. Y., of the first temperance society in the United States. He was the author of Civil Jurisdiction of Justices of the Peace in New York; New York Reports, 1823-28; and a Digested Index of Reports, and edited Phillipps on Evidence.

COWEN, JOHN K., lawyer, congressman, railroad president, was born Oct. 28, 1841, in Millersburg, Ohio. He removed to Baltimore, Md., in 1872, and has been practicing law in that city since that date. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat. Since 1896 he has been president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. *

COWEN, PATRICK H., author. He was the author of Digest of Criminal Decisions of the Court of New York; Reports of Criminal Cases; and The Poor Laws of the State of New York.

COWGILL, CALVIN, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 7, 1819, in Clinton county, Ohio. He moved to Wabash county, Ind., in 1846, and practiced his profession. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1851; was county treasurer from 1855 to 1859; was provost-marshal from 1862 to 1865; and again in the legislature during the special session in 1865. He was elected a representative from Indiana to the forty-sixth congress as a republican.

COWHERD, WILLIAM STROTHER, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 1, 1860, in Jackson county, Mo. He was appointed assistant prosecuting attorney of Jackson county in 1885, and served four years in that capacity. He was appointed first assistant city counselor of Kansas City in 1890, and served for two years. He was elected mayor of Kansas City in 1892, and served one term of two years. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

COWLES, ANDREW D., lawyer, state legislator, was born July 31, 1856, in Elkville, N. C. He has attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of North Carolina at Statesville. He has been postmaster of his city; held a position in the revenue service, and was lieutenant and then captain of the Iredell Blues. In 1898 he organized the North Carolina quota for the Spanish-American war, and was subsequently appointed colonel of the second regiment of the North Carolina volunteers.

COWLES, AUGUSTUS WOODRUFF, clergyman, educator, college president, was born July 12, 1819, in Reading, N. Y. In 1847-56 he was pastor of the presbyterian church in Brockport, and was then made president of Elmira college, where he still remains.

COWLES, EDWARD PITKIN, lawyer, jurist, was born in 1815 in Canaan, Conn. He was admitted to the bar in 1839, and entered into practice at Hudson, N. Y., with his brother, Colonel Cowles, of the one hundred and twenty-eighth New York volunteers, who was killed at Port Hudson. He died Dec. 2, 1874, in Chicago, Ill.

COWLES, GEORGE W., educator, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in Otisco, N. Y. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-first congress, and served as judge of Wayne county, N. Y., during 1863-70.

COWLES, GILES HOOKER, clergyman, was born Aug. 26, 1766, in Farmington, Conn. In 1810 he was appointed by the Connecticut missionary society to travel through Ohio, and formed or assisted in forming most, if not all, of the congregational churches in the northeastern part of that state. He died July 16, 1835, in Austinburg, Ohio.

COWLES, HENRY, clergyman, theologian, author, was born April 24, 1803, in Norfolk, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman who was professor of theology at Oberlin college in 1835-48. He was the author of Gospel Manna for Christian Pilgrims; Hebrew History; and Critical Notes on the Old and New Testament, in sixteen volumes. He died Sept. 6, 1881.

COWLES, HENRY B., lawyer, congressman, was born March 18, 1798, in Hartford, Conn. He served as a member of the New York legislature from Putnam county. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1829 to 1831.

COWLES, W. H. H., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born April 22, 1840, in Hamptonville, N. C. He served in the confederate army; and was twice wounded. He was reading clerk of the senate of North Carolina from 1872 to 1874; and in the latter year was elected solicitor of the tenth judicial district of the state, in which position he served four years. He was a member of the democratic state executive committee for eight years; and in 1884 was elected a representative from North Carolina to the forty-ninth congress; and received the re-election to the fiftieth, fifty-first and fifty-second congresses as a democrat.

COWLES, WILLIAM HUTCHINSON, lawyer, journalist, was born Aug. 14, 1866, in Evanston, Ill. In 1887 he graduated from Yale college with the degree of A. B.; in 1889 graduated from the Yale Law school, and the same year was admitted to the Connecticut bar. He is the editor and owner of the Morning Spokane Review of Spokane, Wash.

COWLEY, CHARLES, lawyer, author, was born in 1832 in England. He is a lawyer of Lowell, and the author of Memories of the Indians and Pioneers of Lowell; Illustrated History of Lowell; Famous Divorces of all Ages; and Our Divorce Courts.

COWLEY, GEORGE B., physician, journalist, state legislator, poet, was born May 16, 1861, near Rio, Wis. In 1882 he graduated from the Missouri Medical college of St. Louis. He is the editor and owner of The Chief of Cowgill, Mo. He has filled many important public offices in his county and state; and in 1897 was elected a member of the Missouri state legislature. He is the author of a number of religious and historical poems. His poems have appeared in Poets of America, and other standard collections.

COX, ABRAHAM SIDDON, surgeon, was born in 1800 in New York. He had been for many years one of the most eminent medical practitioners of New York city. At the beginning of the war he became a surgeon in the army, and at the time of his death was surgeon-in-chief of the first division, twentieth corps, army of the Cumberland. He died July 29, 1864, at Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

COX, ALBERT HILL, lawyer, state legislator, was born Dec. 25, 1848, in Troup county, Ga. He was solicitor-general of the Coweta circuit in 1872-76; in 1876-78 was elected state representative in the general assembly; and in 1888 was a delegate-at-large to the national democratic convention.

COX, ALLEN M., lawyer, public official, was born Sept. 30, 1843, in St. Lawrence county, N. Y. For eight years he was mayor of Conneaut, Ohio; has been prosecuting attorney, and for several years was United States commissioner.

COX, ARGUS, lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 26, 1856, in Van Buren county, Iowa. In 1887 he was elected prosecuting attorney of Wright county, Mo., and in 1892 was elected judge of the eighteenth circuit.

COX, BENJAMIN H. lawyer, was born March 16, 1851, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He graduated from the Cincinnati Law school, and has become one of the foremost lawyers of Ohio. He has been a member of the Cincinnati city council, and a member of the board of education of his native city.

COX, CHRISTOPHER C., physician, lieutenant-governor, was born Aug. 16, 1816, in Baltimore, Md. He was appointed commissioner of pensions in 1868; a member of the board of health in 1871, acting as president of the board for several years. His special line of study was medicine, and he practiced both as a physician and a surgeon; and was for one year a professor in one of the Philadelphia colleges. He served as president of a medical society; as a surgeon in the army during the rebellion, and was surgeon-general of the state of Maryland. Before the close of the war he was elected lieutenant-governor of Maryland.

COX, E. ST. JULIAN, lawyer, jurist, was born Feb. 21, 1833, in Switzerland, during a temporary sojourn of his father's family, who was vice-consul at that time. He was educated at the Academy of the Protestant Episcopal church of Philadelphia; studied law, moved to Wisconsin in 1852, and was subsequently admitted to the bar. In 1857 he practiced law in St. Peter, Minn., and the following year was appointed United States court commissioner. During the war he was commissioned first lieutenant of company E, second regiment Minnesota volunteer infantry, and has done good service for his country as captain of company E, first regiment Minnesota Rangers, cavalry, in charge of frontier posts. He has been judge of Waukesha county, Wis.; United States commissioner of Minnesota, and judge of the ninth judicial district of Minnesota. He now practices his profession in Los Angeles, Cal., to which city he moved on account of ill health.

COX, EDWARD TRAVERS, geologist, was born April 21, 1821, in Virginia. He is a geologist of New York city who made a number of important surveys, and published Annual Reports of the Geological Survey of Indiana.

COX, HANNAH, abolitionist, was born in 1796 in Philadelphia, Pa. She joined the first movement in favor of emancipation, being a co-laborer with Benjamin Lundy, Garrison, Lucretia Mott, and John G. Whittier. For years she and her husband, who survived her in his ninety-first year, received fugitive slaves. She died April 15, 1876, in Longwood, Pa.

COX, ISAAC NEWTON, congressman, was born Aug. 1, 1846, in Fallsburgh, N. Y. He has been frequently sent as delegate to democratic conventions, state and local. In 1886 he was appointed chairman of the commission to make an examination of the Northern Pacific railroad, and was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

COX, JACOB DOLSON, soldier, lawyer, congressman, author, was born Oct. 27, 1828, of American parents, in Montreal, Canada. In 1861 he was appointed a brigadier-general of Ohio volunteers; and was promoted to the rank of major-general. He was chosen governor of Ohio for the years 1866-67; and in 1869 was appointed secretary of the interior department. He was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-fifth congress. He is the author of Atlanta; The March to the Sea; and The Second Battle of Bull Run as Connected with the Fitz-John Porter Case.

COX, JAMES, artist, was born in 1751 in England. For many years he was the fashionable drawing-master in Philadelphia and did much to advance the fine arts. He made a remarkable collection of works on the fine arts, numbering over 5,000 volumes, which he sold, during the latter part of his life, to the Library company of Philadelphia, for an annuity of $400. He died in 1834 in Philadelphia, Pa.

COX, JAMES, soldier, congressman, was born in 1753 in Montgomery county, N. J. He was a member of the state legislature, and speaker of the assembly. He commanded a company of militia in the revolution; and was subsequently a brigadier-general of militia. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey during the years 1809 and 1810. He died Sept. 12, 1810, in Monmouth county, N. J.

COX, JAMES FARLEY, marine underwriter, was born Feb. 1, 1830, in Locust Valley, L. I. He originated, established and carried to success the system of individual underwriting in America, and with Douglas Robinson, at that time his partner, created the United States Lloyds.

COX, JOSEPH, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 4, 1822, in Chambersburg, Pa. In 1830 he moved with his parents to Cincinnati, Ohio, which city has since been his home. He received his education in the Miami university of Oxford, and graduated from the Cincinnati Law school, from which institution he received the degrees of A. M. and LL. D. He has been prosecuting attorney of his county at Cincinnati; judge of the court of common pleas for fifteen years; and judge of the first circuit court for fourteen years. Judge Cox is an honorary member of the celebrated Literary club of Cincinnati, and a prominent member of several literary, historical and archæological societies. He has been prominent as a lecturer on those subjects, many of which have received publication in book form.

COX, KENYON, painter, was born Oct. 27, 1856, in Warren, Ohio. He has painted portraits and landscapes, but prefers the decorative treatment of the human figure. Has also illustrated and written on artistic subjects. His principal works in public places are: Venice, a decorative painting in Walker art building, Bowdoin college of Brunswick, Maine; and The Art and The Science, two decorations in the Library of congress in Washington, D. C.

COX, LEANDER M., soldier, congressman, was born in Virginia. Moving to Kentucky, he was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-third and thirty-fourth congresses. He served as a captain in the Mexican war; was grand master of the order of Free Masons in 1843, and a presidential elector in 1853.

COX, LEMUEL, master mechanic, was born in 1736 in Boston, Mass. He was the inventor of a machine for cutting card-wire, the first projector of a powder-mill in Massachusetts, and the first to suggest employing the prisoners on Castle Island to make nails. He died Feb. 18, 1806, in Charlestown, Mass.

COX, NICHOLAS NICHOLS, soldier, farmer, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 6, 1837, in Bedford county, Tenn. He was a confederate colonel and served during most of the war with General Forrest. He was an elector on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket in 1860, and was elector on the Greeley ticket in 1872. He was elected to the fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

COX, PALMER, artist, author, was born April 28, 1840, in Canada. He became famous the world over as the author of a series of books entitled The Brownies, Their Book; Another Brownie Book, and other works. His articles and poems have appeared constantly in St. Nicholas, Wide Awake, Harper's Young People, Little Folks, and various other well-known publications. A volume entitled Queer People contains a collection of many of his contributions to juvenile literature. In his younger days he lived on the Pacific coast, and there published Squibs of California and various other works. He illustrates his own works, and has a studio and sanctum on Broadway, New York city. His other works are: Hans Von Petter's Trip to Gotham; How Columbus Found America; That Stanley; Queer People, such as Goblins, etc.; Queer People with Claws and Wings; Queer People with Wings and Stings.

COX, SAMUEL HANSON, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 25, 1793, in Rahway, N. J. He was a presbyterian clergyman of the new school party noted for his eccentricities and fondness for controversy. He was the author of Quakerism not Christianity; Theopneuston, or Select Scriptures Considered; Interviews Memorable and Useful; and a number of other works. He died Oct. 2, 1881, in Bronxville, N. Y.

COX, SAMUEL SULLIVAN, statesman, author, was born in 1824 in Ohio. He was a noted democratic congressman from Ohio, and later from New York, who was a popular lecturer, humorist, and writer of travels. He was minister to Turkey in 1885-86. He is the author of Eight Years in Congress; Why We Laugh; Three Decades of Federal Legislation; Divisions of a Diplomat in Turkey; A Buckeye Abroad; Search for Winter Sunbeams in the Riviera, Corsica, Algiers, and Spain; Arctic Sunbeams; Orient Sunbeams; and Free Land and Free Trade. He died Sept. 10, 1889, in New York city.

COX, THOMAS BOLIN, soldier, lawyer, was born Oct. 14, 1838, in Greensboro, Ala. He attended the Howard college, Alabama, and in 1870 completed his law course at the university of Virginia. He served as a soldier in behalf of the confederacy; fought at the battles of Shiloh, Corinth, Port Gibson, Atlanta and Nashville; was wounded twice, captured once, and surrendered with Gen. Johnston at Greensboro, N. C. He practices law in Waco, Tex., in which state he has practiced his profession for nearly twenty years. He was one of the founders and builders of Baylor university, and also the First Baptist church of Waco.

COX, THOMAS LILLARD, educator, merchant, was born Oct. 18, 1859, in Decatur, Tenn. In 1882 he was elected president of Clinton college, Arkansas, for four years; and in 1886 he became superintendent of the public schools of Morrilton. In 1895 he purchased the oldest and largest book and stationery house in Arkansas, and became president of the company at Little Rock.

COX, WALTER S., lawyer, jurist, was born Oct. 25, 1826, in Georgetown, D. C. In 1879 he was appointed an associate justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

COX, WILLIAM RUFFIN, soldier, planter, legislator, congressman, was born March 11, 1832, in Scotland Neck, N. C. He received his education at the Franklin college, Tennessee, and at the Lebanon Law school. During the war he became a brigadier-general in the confederate service. He attained success as a lawyer, and was solicitor of the sixth judicial circuit court. He served with distinction as judge of the fourth judicial district court of North Carolina. He was a member of the forty-seventh, forty-eighth and forty-ninth congresses; and served as secretary of the United States senate. He has been a successful planter and is now largely engaged in agriculture.

COX, WINFRED DOUGLASS, clergyman, was born Feb. 12, 1858, in Monroe county, W. Va. After receiving the rudiments of his education in the public schools he attended the Northwestern university of Evanston, Ill.; and the Lawrence university of Appleton, Wis. Since 1881 he has been engaged in the ministry, and has filled pastorates in the Methodist Episcopal church in various cities in Wisconsin, and is now at Menominee Falls. He has contributed many valuable articles to current literature.

COXE, ALFRED C., lawyer, jurist, was born in Auburn, N. Y. In 1882 he was appointed United States district judge for the northern district of New York, his grandfather, Hon. Alfred Conkling, having formerly held the same position.

COXE, ARTHUR CLEVELAND, bishop, author, poet, was born May 10, 1818, in Mendham, N. J. He was the second protestant episcopal bishop of western New York. He was the author of Christian Ballads; Halloween; Athanasius and Other Poems; Advent, a Mystery; Saul, a Mystery; Athwold, a Romaunt; St. Jonathan, the Lay of a Scald; and Letters to Monsignore Satolli. His other works comprise Impressions of England; Thoughts on the Services; Apollos, or the Way of God; The Criterion, a Means of Distinguishing Truth from Error; Institutes of Christian History; Signs of the Times; L'Episcopat de l'Occident, a defense of Anglican theology; and The Penitential. He died in 1896.

COXE, ECKLEY BRINTON, mining engineer, author, was born June 4, 1839, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a Pennsylvania mining engineer who has published Theoretical Mechanics.

COXE, FRANK, banker, capitalist, was born Nov. 2, 1840, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is president of the Commercial National bank of Charlotte, N. C.; and the Charleston, Cincinnati and Chicago railway. He is the sole owner of the Battery Park hotel of Asheville, N. C., and the Battery Park bank.

COXE, FRANK MORRELL, soldier, was born in 1815, in Philadelphia, Pa. During the civil war he was promoted to captain, and in 1866 transferred to the regular army as captain of infantry. In 1876 he was appointed major, and is now lieutenant-colonel and deputy paymaster-general. His principal service during the past thirty years has been on line and staff duty on the plains and frontier of Texas, Arizona and the Pacific slope.

COXE, JOHN REDMAN, physician, author, was born in 1773 in Trenton, N. J. He was a noted physician who was the first to introduce the practice of vaccination in Philadelphia, and was the author of Inflammation; Importance of Medicine; Vaccination; Combustion; American Dispensatory; Recognition of Friends in Another World; Agaricus Atramentarius; The Writings of Hippocrates and Galen Epitomized; Refutation of Harvey's Claim to the Discovery of the Circulation of the Blood; and Appeal to the Public. He died March 22, 1864, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COXE, MARGARET, author, was born in 1800 in Burlington, N. J. She was the author of Claims of the Country on American Females; Wonders of the Deep; and Ladies' Companion.

COXE, TENCH, political economist, author, was born May 22, 1755, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a once noted Philadelphia writer on commerce and political economy, and the author of Inquiry into the Principles of a Commercial System for the United States; View of the United States; On the Navigation Act; Thoughts on Naval Power; and Address on American Manufactures. He died July 17, 1824, in Philadelphia, Pa.

COXE, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1813 to 1815; served in the state legislature, and was chosen speaker of the assembly. He died in Burlington, Vt.

COY, EDWARD GUSTIN, educator, author, was born Aug. 23, 1844, in Ithaca, N. Y. He was a professor in Phillips academy of Andover until 1892, when he was elected headmaster of Hotchkiss school of Lakeville, Conn. He is the author of Greek for Beginners; and First Greek Reader.

COYLE, JOHN HENRY, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 5, 1856, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was admitted to the bar in 1880, and practices his profession at Antelope, Cal., where he has served as justice of the peace. He is the author of Mining Booms Past and Present; Bobnot's Ups and Downs in Politics; and other works.

COYLE, JOHN PATTERSON, clergyman, author, was born in 1852 in Pennsylvania. He is a congregational clergyman, formerly of North Adams, Mass., but settled in Denver at the time of his death. The Imperial Christ, with a Biographical Introduction by George A. Gates; and The Spirit in Literature and Life. He died in 1895.

COYNER, CHARLES LUTHER, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Feb. 8, 1853, in Long Glade, Va. In 1877 he was admitted to the bar. He has been town clerk, deputy surveyor, county attorney for ten years, and special district attorney. He has served as special district judge; judge of the probate; and judge of the county courts of Duval county, Tex. He was a delegate from his county to the Deep Water national convention in 1892; and a delegate to the World's Fair at Chicago. He is the author of The Life of Captain S. B. Coyner (his brother); Twenty Years in Texas; A Greenhorn in Texas; and a Tribute, a poem on the Coyner Family.

to the Deep Water national convention in 1892; and a delegate to the World's Fair at Chicago. He is the author of The Life of Captain S. B. Coyner (his brother); Twenty Years in Texas; A Greenhorn in Texas; and a Tribute, a poem on the Coyner Family.

COZZENS, FREDERICK SCHILLER, artist, author, was born Oct. 11, 1846, in New York city. He has published a series of lithographed drawings of American Yachts, accompanied with descriptions by Lieut. James D. J. Kelley. He has also produced a series of outline-drawings of vessels of all kinds, comprising steamers from 1819 to the present, American and English yachts, and all varieties of American craft propelled by sails, oars, or paddles.

COZZENS, FREDERICK SWARTOUT, merchant, author, was born March 5, 1818, in New York city. He was a wine merchant of New York city, once noted as a humorist, but now neglected. He is the author of The Sparrowgrass Papers; Acadia, or a Sojourn among the Blue Noses; Sayings of Dr. Bushwhacker and Other Learned Men; Stone House on the Susquehanna; Prismatics; and Fitz-Greene Halleck, a Memorial. He died Dec. 23, 1869, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

COZZENS, ISSACHAR, mineralogist, author, was born in 1781 in Newport, R. I. He was a mineralogist who published History of New York Island.

COZZENS, SAMUEL WOODWORTH, lawyer, author, was born April 14, 1834, in Marblehead, Mass. He was a lawyer of Arizona, and the author of Nobody's Husband; The Marvellous Country, or Three Years in Arizona; The Young Trail Hunters; The Young Silver Seekers; and Crossing the Quicksands. He died Nov. 4, 1878, in Thomaston, Ga.

COZZENS, WILLIAM COLE, merchant, governor, was born Aug. 26, 1811, in Newport, R. I. He became the head of the dry goods firm of William C. Cozzens and Co., and about 1857 president of the Rhode Island Union bank. In 1854 he was mayor of Newport, subsequently a representative in the general assembly, and in 1861 a senator. In 1862 the governor and lieutenant-governor having resigned, Mr. Cozzens, who had been chosen president of the senate, became acting governor of the state for about three months. He died in December, 1876, in Newport, R. I.

CRABB, GEORGE W., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from Alabama from 1839 to 1841.

CRABB, JEREMIAH, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1795 to 1796.

CRABBE, THOMAS, naval officer, was born in 1788 in Maryland. He was retired as commodore in 1862, officiated as prize commissioner in 1864-65, and was made a rear-admiral on the retired list in 1866. He died June 29, 1872, in Princeton, N. J.

CRABTREE, JOHN D., lawyer, soldier, legislator, jurist, was born Nov. 19, 1837, in England. He entered the civil war as a private and was promoted to second lieutenant, captain, and brevet-major. In 1887 he was elected state senator; in 1888 became judge of circuit court thirteenth judicial circuit of Illinois; and since 1896 has been judge of the appellate court second district of Illinois.

CRABTREE, LOTTA M., actress, was born Nov. 7, 1847, in New York city. At the age of eleven she played the part of Gertrude in the Loan of a Lover, at Petaluma. Her chief successes have been as Topsy; Sam Willoughby; Firefly; Zip; Bob; The Little Detective; and Nitouche.

CRADLEBAUGH, JOHN, jurist, congressman, was born in Ohio. He was elected a delegate from the territory of Nevada to the thirty-seventh congress; and was subsequently appointed United States judge for the territory of Utah.

CRAFT, WILLIAM S., clergyman, was born July 13, 1864, in Philadelphia, Pa. He acquired the rudiments of his education in the public schools of his native city; and subsequently received a collegiate training. For the past fifteen years he has been a member of the upper Iowa conference of the Methodist Episcopal church; has attained distinction as an eloquent clergyman of that denomination; and now fills a pastorate in Davenport, Iowa.

CRAFTS, CLAYTON E., lawyer, state legislator, was born July 8, 1848, in Auburn, Ohio. In 1882 he was elected to the state legislature; has been five times re-elected; and in 1891 was speaker of the house. He is regarded as one of the best lawyers and safest counselors in Chicago.

CRAFTS, EBENEZER, pioneer, was born in 1740 in Pomfret, Conn. In 1790 he emigrated with his family to the wilderness of Vermont and there founded the town that is called after him. He died in 1810 in Craftsbury, Vt.

CRAFTS, JAMES MASON, chemist, educator, was born March 8, 1839, in Boston, Mass. In 1868-70 he was professor of chemistry at Cornell, and from 1870 till 1880 a member of the faculty in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Boston, although from 1874 till 1880 a non-resident professor.

CRAFTS, SAMUEL C., statesman, was born Oct. 6, 1768, in Woodstock, Vt. In 1796, 1800, 1801, 1803, and 1805 he was elected a member of the house of representatives of the state. In 1800 he was appointed a judge of Orleans county court, and remained such till 1816, during the last six years as chief judge. From 1825 to 1828 he was again chief judge. In 1816 he was elected a representative in congress, and was re-elected for the three succeeding terms. In 1828 he was elected governor of Vermont, and was re-elected in 1829 and 1830. In 1829 he was president of the constitutional convention; in 1842 was appointed by Governor Paine, and afterwards elected by the legislature, a senator in congress for the unexpired term of one year; thus filling every office in the gift of Vermont. He died Nov. 19, 1853, in Craftsbury, Vt.

CRAFTS, SARAH J. TIMANUS, author. She has published Letters to Primary Teachers; treatises on kindergarten teaching; and religious books for the young.

CRAFTS, WALTER, mining engineer, was born Jan. 21, 1839, in Newton, Mass. In 1877 he was appointed treasurer and manager of the Crafts Iron company in the Hocking valley, Ohio, and in 1883 became an official in the Columbus and Hocking Coal and Iron company.

CRAFTS, WILBUR FISK, was born Jan. 12, 1850, in Fryeburg, Maine. He is a congregational clergyman of New York city and elsewhere; and is now superintendent of the National Reform Bureau of Washington, D. C. He is the author of Through the Eye to the Heart; Childhood; The Ideal Sunday School; The Rescue of Child Soul; Must the Old Testament Go? The Sabbath for Man; Talks to Boys and Girls about Jesus; Successful Men of To-Day; and Practical Christian Sociology.

CRAFTS, WILLIAM AUGUSTUS, journalist, author, was born in 1819. He is the author of Life of General Grant; History of the United States; and Pioneers in the Settlement of America.

CRAGIN, AARON H., lawyer, United States senator, was born Feb. 3, 1821, in Weston, Vt. He was a member of the New Hampshire legislature from 1852 to 1855; was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-fifth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress. In 1859 he was again elected a member of the state legislature; and in 1864 was elected a senator in congress from New Hampshire for the term of six years from 1865; and re-elected for the term ending in 1877.

CRAGIN, DANIEL, manufacturer, legislator, was born Dec. 31, 1836, in Merrimack, N. H. During 1875-76 he served as a representative in the New Hampshire state legislature. He is a successful mechanic and manufacturer of wooden ware; and has taken a prominent part in the public affairs of Wilton, N. H. While a member of the New Hampshire state legislature he took an active part in the passage of numerous bills that tended to the welfare and prosperity of his state; and as a successful manufacturer he has become one of the foremost and best known in the New England states.

CRAGIN, FRANCIS WHITEMORE, naturalist, was born Sept. 4, 1858, in Greenfield, N. H. He has attained national prominence as a successful naturalist of Topeka, Kan.

CRAIDER, FREDERICK, revolutionary veteran. He fought in the continental army, and was a veteran also of the war of 1812-15. He died in August, 1866, in Meadville, Miss.

CRAIG, CRAIG, soldier, legislator, jurist, was born Jan. 10, 1823, in Philadelphia, Pa. He represented Philadelphia in the legislature in 1849-50. In 1875 he was appointed a judge of the court of common pleas of Philadelphia, and in the following autumn was elected to the same office.

CRAIG, ALEXANDER JOHNSON, educator, was born Nov. 11, 1823, in Goshen, N. Y. He became principal of a Milwaukee school in 1854, and in 1858-59 edited the Wisconsin Journal of Education at Racine and Madison, Wis. In 1859-60 he was a member of the legislature. He was president of the state teachers' association, and was chosen assistant state superintendent of schools in 1860, and from 1868 till his death was superintendent-in-chief. He died July 5, 1870, in Madison, Wis.

CRAIG, ALLEN, lawyer, state senator, was born Dec. 25, 1835, in Carbon county, Pa. In 1859 he was elected district attorney of Carbon county, and in 1878 was elected state senator for the district comprising Carbon, Monroe and Pike counties.

CRAIG, GEORGE H., soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 25, 1848, in Cahaba, Ala. He was promoted to first lieutenant of infantry, and as such, in 1863, again entered the confederate service, serving until the end of the war. He was appointed, in 1874, judge of the first judicial circuit to fill an unexpired term; and was elected, in 1874, judge of the first judicial circuit for six years, served the term out, and retired to practice in Selma. He was elected to the forty-eighth congress.

CRAIG, HECTOR, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1823 to 1825; and again from 1829 to 1830.

CRAIG, ISAAC B., lawyer, legislator, was born April 28, 1857, in Charleston, Ill. He was a member of the Illinois house of representatives of thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh general assemblies; state senator of thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth general assemblies; and again a member of the house of representatives of the fortieth general assembly.

CRAIG, JAMES, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born May 7, 1820, in Pennsylvania. He was a member of the Missouri legislature in 1847; and was a captain of a volunteer company in the Mexican-war. He was circuit attorney for the twelfth judicial circuit in Missouri from 1852 to 1856. He was a representative in the thirty-fifth congress from Missouri; and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress. He was appointed a brigadier-general of volunteers in 1862, and employed in the west. He died Oct. 21, 1888, in St. Joseph, Mo.

CRAIG, JOHN, philanthropist, was born in 1797 in Goffstown, N. H. Besides giving liberally during his lifetime, he bequeathed sums amounting to $105,000 to various universalist educational institutions. He died July 19, 1872, in Rochester, N. Y.

CRAIG, JOHN ENSTER, lawyer, legislator, was born March 14, 1853, in Claysville, Pa. He attended the common schools, and in 1887 graduated from the Washington and Jefferson college. In 1878 he moved to Keokuk, Iowa, and was admitted to the bar the following year. In 1886 he was elected a member of the Iowa legislature; received the re-election in 1888; and during his service took a prominent part among the lawmakers of the state. In 1889 and again in 1891 he was elected mayor of Keokuk; and under his administration great improvements were made in that city. His name was suggested as a candidate for governor at the convention held at Sioux City in 1889, but he declined to permit his name to be used in connection with the candidacy of that office. He is prominent in educational and business circles, and has always taken an active part in all matters pertaining to the welfare of his adopted city.

CRAIG, JOSEPH H., physician, surgeon, was born Oct. 3, 1850, in Windsor, N. Y. He received his education at the Glen Roy academy, Lenox college, and in 1875 graduated from the Rush Medical college of Chicago. He has served as United States examining surgeon; medical examiner for ten old line insurance companies; and health physician for three townships in Clayton county, Iowa.

CRAIG, ROBERT, congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1829 to 1833; and again from 1835 to 1841.

CRAIG, ROBERT H., actor, artist, author, was born March 24, 1842, in New York city. He had talent as a painter, and was the author of burlesques on Don Juan, Faust, Hamlet, and Camille. He died Dec. 8, 1872, in St. Louis, Mo.

CRAIG, SAMUEL ALFRED, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 19, 1839, in Brookville, Pa. He was commissioned captain in the veteran reserve corps, United States army, and served continuously four years and three months. He was elected district attorney; and was elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

CRAIG, SAMUEL THOMAS, soldier, merchant, was born March 22, 1835, in Corydon, Ind. In his youth he learned the trade of a carriage maker; and in 1860 crossed the Rocky mountains. He served gallantly through the civil war, enlisting as a private in company H, first regiment Iowa volunteer cavalry; was promoted through all grades and brevetted brigadier-general. He participated in nearly all of the scouting and battles with the enemy in southwestern Missouri, and in Arkansas and other states; crossed the Ozark mountains; and was mustered out in 1866. He remained one year in Texas, and then returned home to Iowa. He was county auditor for four terms; and has principally been engaged in mercantile business at Albia, Iowa.

CRAIG, WILLIAM, artist, was born in 1829 in Dublin, Ireland. Toward the end of his life he painted rapidly, and so his later works were Ruins of Fort Ticonderoga; On the Hudson (1870); Hudson River near West Point (1871); and Falls on the Boquet River. He died in 1875 in New York.

CRAIGE, BURTON, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 13, 1811, in Rowan county, N. C. He was a member of the state legislature in 1832 and 1834; and was elected to the thirty-third, thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth congresses. He died Dec. 30, 1875, in Concord, N. C.

CRAIK, JAMES, physician, was born in 1731 in Ireland. During the revolutionary war Dr. Craik served in the medical department, and rose to the first rank. After the war he removed to the neighborhood of Mount Vernon at Washington's request, and attended him in his last illness. He died Feb. 6, 1814, in Fairfax county, Va.

CRAIK, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1796 to 1801.

CRAIN, WILLIAM H., lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 25, 1848, in Galveston, Tex. He settled at Cuero, Tex.; and in 1872 was elected district attorney for the twenty-third judicial district of Texas. In 1876 he was elected a state senator; and in 1884 was elected a representative from Texas to the forty-ninth congress; and was re-elected to the fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a democrat.

CRALE, RICHARD K., author, was born in South Carolina. He was previously an editor and Swedenborgian clergyman in Washington. He published Works of John C. Calhoun, with a memoir, in six volumes; and several polemical works on new church doctrines. He died June 10, 1864, in Virginia.

CRAM, RALPH ADAMS, architect, author, poet, was born in 1863 in New Hampshire. He is an architect of Boston, and the author of The Decadent, being the Gospel of Inaction; Black Spirits and White, a book of ghost stories; and In the Island of Avalon, a book of poems.

CRAM, THOMAS JEFFERSON, soldier, was born about 1807 in New Hampshire. In 1866 he was brevetted brigadier-general and major-general in the regular army for his services during the civil war. After this he served on boards of engineers for the improvement of harbors on the great lakes, and on Feb. 22, 1869, was retired. He died Dec. 20, 1883, in Philadelphia, Pa.

CRAMER, JOHN, state senator, congressman, was born Sept. 26, 1779, in Waterford, N. Y. He was a presidential elector in 1805; served three years in the assembly, and three years in the senate of the state of New York. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1821; and was a representative in congress from New York from 1833 to 1837. He died June 1, 1870, in Waterford, N. Y.

CRAMER, MICHAEL JOHN, clergyman, diplomat, was born Feb. 6, 1835, in Switzerland. He was chaplain in the United States army from 1864 to 1867; and in the latter year he was appointed United States consul at Leipsic, Germany. In 1870 he was appointed United States minister to Denmark; in 1881 was transferred in a like capacity to the republic of Switzerland.

CRAMER, WILLIAM E., journalist, was born Oct. 29, 1817, in Waterford, N. Y. He was admitted to the bar, but adopted the career of journalism. In 1847 he became the editor and senior proprietor of the Milwaukee Evening Wisconsin, in which position he has continued for half a century. When he came to Wisconsin, the state had not adopted its constitution, and he was instrumental in incorporating into its organic law the homestead exemption clause, and the section providing for the right of married women to retain possession of their property.

CRAMP, CHARLES HENRY, was born May 9, 1828, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1879 he became president of the William Cramp and Sons Ship and Engine Building Co., and is now the most conspicuous shipbuilder of the United States.

CRAMP, WILLIAM, shipbuilder, was born in 1806, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a member of the firm incorporated in 1872 under the name of William Cramp and Sons Ship and Engine Building company. Until 1860 the Cramps were engaged in the building of wooden vessels and ships; and in 1862 they built the iron-clad battleship New Ironsides. He died July 6, 1879, in Atlantic City, N. J.

CRAMTON, JOHN WILLEY, merchant, state senator, was born Nov. 10, 1826, in Tinmouth, Vt. His firm of John W. Cramton and Co. carry on a large trade in stoves and hardware, and the Bardwell house in Rutland has belonged to him for the last thirty years. He is now president of the Baxter National bank, the Steam Stone Cutter Co., the True Blue Marble Co. and the Rutland Street railroad. He was a state senator in 1886; state prison director in 1882-92; and president of Rutland village for several terms.

CRANCH, CAROLINE A., artist, a daughter of Christopher Pearse Cranch. She paints figure pieces with success, and has a large clientage in Cambridge, Mass.

CRANCH, CHRISTOPHER PEARSE, clergyman, artist, poet, was born March 8, 1813, in Alexandria, Va. His best known poem, Thought, was written for The Dial. His work as a poet is uneven, but at its best is excellent. It never strongly appealed to popular tastes, but was always appreciated by thoughtful minds. He is the author of Poems, 1844; The Bird and the Bell, and Other Poems; Ariel and Caliban, and Other Poems; Satan; a Libretto; The Æneid in English Blank Verse. The Last of the Huggermuggers; and Kobboltzo, are juvenile prose tales. He died Jan. 20, 1892, in Cambridge, Mass.

CRANCH, GEORGE, painter. He was a portrait painter of Washington, D. C.; and was an associate in the National academy. He died in 1891.

CRANCH, RICHARD, lawyer, author, was born in 1726 in England. He was a lawyer of Braintree, Mass., and the author of Views of the Prophets concerning Anti-Christ. He died in 1811.

CRANCH, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, author, was born July 17, 1769, in Weymouth, Mass. He was a noted jurist who was chief justice of the District of Columbia in 1805-55. He was the author of Reports of Cases in the United States district court of the District of Columbia, 1801-41; and Supreme Court Reports, 1800-1815. His decisions have shown great legal learning and a clear judicial mind. He died Sept. 1, 1855, in Washington, D. C.

CRANDALL, CHARLES HENRY, author, poet, was born in 1858 in New York. He is the author of Wayside Music, a volume of poems.

CRANDALL, CHARLES L., educator, author, was born July 20, 1850, in Bridge-water, N. Y. He was appointed instructor in civil engineering, assistant professor of engineering, and associate professor of Cornell university. He is the author of Tables for the Computation of Railway and Other Earthworks; and Notes on Descriptive Geometry.

CRANDALL, LUCIAN STEPHEN, inventor, was born May 4, 1844, in New York. He invented the Crandall typewriter; and in 1886 he organized the Parish Manufacturing company of Parish, N. Y., and began the manufacture of the American Standard and Victoria. They were all eventually superseded by the International, which is his most original and best work.

CRANDALL, ORESTES AUGUSTUS, lawyer, financier, author, was born Feb. 25, 1833, near Syracuse, N. Y. He moved to Illinois in infancy with his father; learned the wagon-maker's trade; and subsequently became a prominent member of the Missouri bar. In 1868 and in 1872 he was a member of the Missouri democratic state executive committee; and in 1868 was a candidate for state senator.

In 1880 he organized the Missouri Trust company, at Sedalia, Mo., and is still its president. In 1897 he was appointed by the governor of Missouri a member of the board of managers of the state geological bureau. His chief literary works are a book on Money, and several monographs on scientific subjects.

CRANDALL, PRUDENCE, philanthropist, was born Sept. 3, 1803, in Hopkinton, R. I. She opened a school in Canterbury, Conn., for young ladies; and was soon after imprisoned for accepting colored girls. She died Jan. 28, 1889, in Elk Falls, Kan.

CRANDALL, REUBEN, physician, was born about 1805, in Westchester, N. Y. He went to Washington, D. C., to teach botany in 1835, and was arrested and sent to prison on the charge of circulating incendiary pamphlets. He died Feb. 1, 1838, in Jamaica, W. I.

CRANE, ANNE MONCURE, author, was born Jan. 7, 1838, in Baltimore, Md. In 1858 she began her first story, entitled Emily Chester, which was published several years later. She was also the author of Opportunity and Reginald Archer. She died Dec. 10, 1873.

CRANE, CEPHAS BENNETT, clergyman, author, was born in 1833. He is a baptist clergyman of Boston, and the author of The Spiritual Court of the Christian Church.

CRANE, ELVIN WILLIAMSON, lawyer, state legislator, was born Oct. 20, 1853, in Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1888 he was appointed prosecutor of Sussex county, N. Y., and in 1886 was elected to the state legislature.

CRANE, FRANK IRVING, lumber merchant, was born Sept. 26, 1848, in Sharon, Ohio. He received his education at the public schools and the academy of his native city. He is a successful lumber merchant of Austin, Minn.; and has for more than a quarter of a century been identified with the business interests and prosperity of that city. He has served with distinction as mayor; and unanimously received the nomination and election to a second term by all the party conventions of that city.

CRANE, HENRY C., clergyman, poet, was born Nov. 30, 1845, in Norton, Mass. He was ordained in 1873 as a congregational minister, and has filled pastorates at Franklin, Mass., Allegheny City, Pa., and Springfield, Mo. His poems have appeared from time to time in the religious and secular press.

CRANE, JONATHAN TOWNLEY, clergyman, author, was born June 18, 1819, in Elizabeth, N. J. He was a methodist clergyman of New Jersey, and the author of Methodism and its Methods; The Right Way; Essay on Dancing; Popular Amusements; Arts of Intoxication; and Holiness the Birthright of all God's Children. He died Feb. 16, 1880, in Port Jervis, N. Y.

CRANE, JOSEPH H., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in Elizabethtown, N. J. For many years he was president judge of the court of common pleas; and was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1829 to 1837. He died Nov. 12, 1852, in Dayton, Ohio.

CRANE, OLIVER, clergyman, oriental and classical scholar, was born July 12, 1822, in Montclair, N. J. He prepared for college in his native city; graduated from Yale university in 1845; and from the Union Theological seminary in 1848. He then spent several years in the orient, and subsequently filled pastorates in Huron and Waverly, N. Y., and in Carbondale, Pa. He is the author of a critical translation of Virgil's Aeneid; a volume of verse entitled Minto and Other Poems; and has prepared an elaborate Encyclopedia Class Record, as Class Secretary; besides many articles on various subjects. He died in 1896, in Boston, Mass.

CRANE, RICHARD T., manufacturer, was born in 1832, in Paterson, N. J. He incorporated the business with $1,000,000 capital as the Northwestern Manufacturing Co., reorganized it as the Crane Bro.'s Manufacturing Co. and later changed it to the Crane Co.

CRANE, SIBYLLA BAILEY, educator, composer, author, was born July 30, 1851, in Boston, Mass. She is a director and treasurer of the Massachusetts Society for the University Education of Women; director of the Women's Educational and Industrial union; and the New England Woman's club. She is the author of a volume entitled Glimpses of the Old World.

CRANE, STEPHEN, congressman. He was a delegate from New Jersey to the continental congress from 1774 to 1776.

CRANE, STEPHEN, author, was born in 1870 in New Jersey. He is a popular novelist of New York city, and the author of George's Mother; The Black Riders and Other Lines, a collection of wilfully eccentric verse; The Red Badge of Conrage, a striking historical romance of the Civil War in America; and Maggie, a story of slum life.

CRANE, THOMAS FREDERICK, educator, author, was born in 1844 in New York. He is a professor of Romance languages at Cornell university, and the author of Italian Popular Tales; The Exempla, or Illustrative Stories from the Sermones of Jacques de Vitry; Tableaux de la Revolution Française; Le Roman-tisme Française; La Société Française au Dixseptième Siècle; and Chansons Populaires de la France.

CRANE, WILLIAM CAREY, clergyman, author, was born March 17, 1816, in Richmond, Va. He was a baptist clergyman of Texas, president of Baylor university in 1863-85, which was renamed Crane college in his honor in 1885. He was the author of Discourses; Life of Sam. Houston, and lesser works. He died Feb. 27, 1885, in Independence, Tex.

CRANE, WILLIAM H., actor, was born April 30, 1845, in Leicester, Mass. He made his first appearance in 1876 in New York city; and has attained success in The Senator, a play written for him by David D. Lloyd, which has been played in all the large cities of the United States.

CRANE, WILLIAM MONTGOMERY, naval officer, was born Feb. 1, 1776, in Elizabethtown, N. J. He was appointed navy commissioner in 1841, and in 1842 chief of the bureau of ordnance and hydrography. He died by his own hand March 18, 1846, in Washington.

CRANE, ZENAS, manufacturer, was born Dec. 6, 1814, in Dalton, Mass. He is a partner in Z. and W. M. Crane, Crane and Co. and the Berkshire Mills Co., and also has an interest in the Dalton Shoe Co.

CRANFILL, JAMES BRITTON, clergyman, prohibitionist, was born Sept. 12, 1858, in Parker county, Tex. He is the editor of the Texas Baptist Standard, and has filled many prominent positions in the baptist denomination. In 1892 he was a candidate for vice-president of the United States on the prohibition ticket.

CRANFORD, JOHN WALTER, lawyer, congressman, was born near Grove Hill, Ala. He was elected to the state senate in 1888 for a term of four years, and re-elected in 1892. He served in the senate as chairman of judiciary committee No. 1, and was elected president pro tempore of the twenty-second senate. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat after one of the hottest joint canvasses ever known in the state.

CRANK, WILLIAM J. L., lawyer, was born June 2, 1867, in Stewartsville, Mo. He attended the Kansas Normal college, and graduated in law from the state university of Kansas in 1889. He practiced his profession a while in Hill City; then in Laramie City, Wyo.; and in 1892 moved to Denver, Colo., where he has attained eminent success, and stands at the head of the bar as a trial lawyer and advocate. He has taken an active interest in local and national politics, and has contributed to the success of the republican party in numerous state campaigns.

CRANSTON, HENRY YOUNG, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 9, 1789, in Newport, R. I. In 1818 he was elected clerk of the court of common pleas, and held the office until 1833. He was for twenty-five years annually elected moderator for the town of Newport; and was a member of the lower branch of the legislature; and was a representative in congress from 1843 to 1847, when he was returned to the legislature, and was several times speaker of that body until 1854. He died Feb. 12, 1864, in Newport, R. I.

CRANSTON, JOHN, president of Rhode Island. He was attorney-general of the colony; was deputy governor in 1672, which he filled until elected governor in 1678, which office he held until his death, March 12, 1680.

CRANSTON, JOHN SAMUEL, president of Rhode Island, was a son of John Cranston. In 1698 he became governor, and was thirty times successively chosen to that place, holding the office until his death in 1727.

CRANSTON, ROBERT BENNIE, banker, congressman, was born Jan. 14, 1791, in Newport, R. I. He was a banker for several years, was postmaster, and a member of the state legislature, serving for one term as speaker. Subsequently he was sent to congress as a law-and-order whig, and served in 1847-49. He bequeathed $75,000 to those poor of Newport who are too honest to steal and too proud to beg. He died Jan. 27, 1873, in Newport, R. I.

CRAPO, HENRY HOWLAND, lumber manufacturer, state senator, governor, was born May 24, 1804, in Dartmouth, Mass. He moved to Michigan in 1857, and served for a time mayor of Flint, and served in the state senate. He was twice elected governor of the state, in 1864 and 1866, performing important services during the progress of the rebellion. He died July 23, 1869, in Flint, Mich.

CRAPO, PHILIP M., soldier, statesman, financier, was born June 30, 1844, in Free-town, Mass. He received his education at the public and high schools of New Bedford, Mass. He has become prominent in the business and public affairs of Burlington, Iowa, where he has filled various important offices, including that of president of the board of trustees of the free public library, president of the board of park commissioners, president of the board of trade, president of the board of commissioners, who had charge of the Iowa semi-centennial celebration at Burlington during October, 1896, and president of the Commercial club. He has been prominent in Grand Army of the Republic affairs; was chiefly instrumental in the establishment of the Iowa soldiers' home; and was also one of the chief promoters of the Iowa soldiers' monument. He has been a candidate for the state senate and for governor of Iowa. For four years he was chairman of the congressional committee, and is now the financial correspondent for the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance company. He has secured for Burlington one of the most beautiful public parks in the west, which bears his name. He has also built for the city the finest public library building in the state of Iowa, paying one-half the cost.

CRAPO, WILLIAM WALLACE, lawyer, congressman, was born May 16, 1830, in Dartmouth, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1857; and in 1875 was elected a representative to the forty-fourth congress to fill a vacancy; and was re-elected to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a democrat.

CRAPO, WILLIAM WALLACE, railroad president, was born May 16, 1830, in Dartmouth, Mass. Since 1882 he has been president of the Flint, Pere and Marquette railway.

CRARY, HORACE H., tanner, was born Aug. 29, 1824, in Liberty, N. Y. In different firms he is interested in tanneries at Sheffield, and in the Penn and the Union Tanning companies, each of them virtually a syndicate of tanners. He was active in forming the United States Leather company, and his interests are now merged therein.

CRARY, ISAAC E., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born in Preston, Conn. He moved to the territory of Michigan, and was appointed a general of militia. He was elected a delegate to congress from the territory in 1835 and 1836; and was a representative in congress from that state from the time of its admission into the union in 1836 to 1841. He died May 8, 1854, in Marshall, Mich.

CRAVATH, ERASTUS MILO, clergyman, educator, college president, was born July 1, 1833, in Homer, N. Y. He received his education at the Homer academy, Oberlin college, and the Theological seminary. He has been pastor of the congregational church of Berlin Heights, Ohio, and served as chaplain of the one hundred and first regiment Ohio volunteer infantry during the civil war. He has been the field agent, district secretary and general field secretary of the American Missionary association of New York. He has been eminently successful in all his labors, and is now the honored president of the Fisk university of Nashville, Tenn.

CRAVEN, BRAXTON, college president, author, was born Aug. 26, 1822, in Deep River, N. C. He was first and third president of Trinity college; and the author of Bullion's English Grammar; An Historical Sketch of Trinity College, and one or two sermons and novelettes. He died Nov. 7, 1882, in Trinity college.

CRAVEN, CHARLES HENDERSON, naval officer, was born Nov. 30, 1843, in Portland, Maine. In 1874 he became executive officer of the Kearsarge, of the Pacific squadron, and later of the Monocacy.

CRAVEN, ELIJA RICHARDSON, clergyman, author, was born March 28, 1824, in Washington, D. C. He has filled pastorates in the presbyterian churches of Somerville and Newark, N. J.; and is the author of many articles for reviews.

CRAVEN, HENRY SMITH, civil engineer, inventor, was born Oct. 14, 1845, in Bound Brook, N. J. He took charge of the construction of the new Croton aqueduct in New York, up to 1886. He is the inventor of an automatic trip for mining buckets, and of a tunneling machine.

CRAVENS, JAMES A., soldier, agriculturist, congressman, was born Nov. 4, 1818, in Rockingham county, Va. In 1848-

49 he was elected to the legislature of Indiana; in 1850 elected to the state senate, serving three years; and in 1854 was commissioned a brigadier-general of militia. In 1860 he was elected a representative from Indiana to the thirty-seventh congress; and was re-elected to the thirty-eighth congress.

CRAVENS, JAMES H., soldier, congressman, was born in 1798 in Rockingham county, Va. He was a representative in congress from Indiana from 1841 to 1843; and was subsequently a candidate of the free-soil party for the office of governor. He served as colonel of an Indiana regiment during the war for the suppression of the rebellion.

CRAVENS, JORDAN E., soldier, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Nov. 7, 1830, in Fredericktown, Mo. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1860; and served in the confederate army throughout the war, rising to the rank of colonel. He was a state senator in 1866; was a presidential elector in 1872; and was elected a representative from Arkansas to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a democrat.

CRAWFORD, MRS. ALICE [ARNOLD], author, poet, was born in 1850, in Wisconsin. She was a Milwaukee writer who published A Few Thoughts for a Few Friends, a collection of poems. She died in 1874.

CRAWFORD, ANDREW J., railroad president, was born Nov. 7, 1837, in Montgomery county, Pa. Since 1891 he has been president of the Nashville and Knoxville railroad.

CRAWFORD, DUGAL, merchant, was born Feb. 2, 1830, in Scotland. He came to St. Louis, Mo., commenced the dry goods business, which is now one of the largest concerns in the country. He is one of the trustees of the Drury college, and is the first and only president since the starting of the Congregational City Missionary society of St. Louis in 1887.

CRAWFORD, FRANCIS MARION, author, was born Aug. 2, 1854, in Italy. He is the author of Mr. Isaacs; Dr. Claudius; A Roman Singer; To Leeward; An American Politician; Zoroaster; Adam Johnstone's Sin; A Tale of a Lonely Parish; Saracinesca; Marzio's Crucifix; Paul Patoff; With the Immortals; Greifenstein; Sant' Ilario; A Cigarette-Maker's Romance; Khaled; The Witch of Prague; The Three Fates; Don Orsino; Children of the King; Pietro Ghisleri; Marion Darche; The Ralstons; Katherine Lauderdale; Casa Braccio; Love in Idleness; A Tale of Bar Harbour; The Novel; What it Is; Constantinople, a book of travels; and Taquisara.

CRAWFORD, GEORGE WASHINGTON, lawyer, congressman, governor, was born Dec. 22, 1798, in Columbia county, Ga. In 1827 he was elected attorney-general, and continued in that office until 1831. He was in the state legislature from 1837 to 1842; and in 1843 was elected to congress to fill a vacancy. He was elected governor of the state in 1843, and re-elected in 1845. He was a member of President Taylor's cabinet as secretary of war. He died July 22, 1872, in Richmond county, Ga.

CRAWFORD, HENRY CLAY, business man, legislator, was born in 1857 in Bainbridge, Ga. He is a successful dealer in real estate at Tallahassee, Fla. In 1885 he served with distinction as a member of the Florida state legislature, and is now assistant secretary of state.

CRAWFORD, J. P., physician, lecturer, was born Aug. 27, 1855, near Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Since 1883 he has practiced medicine and surgery continuously in Davenport, Iowa. For many years he was president of the Iowa and Illinois District Medical association, and has written pamphlets and important articles for current medical publications.

CRAWFORD, JOEL, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born June 15, 1783, in Columbia county, Ga. In 1813 he joined the army of Gen. Floyd, and served throughout the whole campaign as aide-camp to the general. He served three years in the state legislature; and was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1817 to 1821. He died April 5, 1858.

CRAWFORD, JOHN G., lawyer, orator, legislator, was born April 21, 1834, in Oakham, Mass. At the breaking out of the war he enlisted in the second regiment of the Michigan cavalry and became a sergeant-major and colonel. On his return from the war he was elected a member of the Michigan state senate. Since then he has held numerous important elective and appointive offices, and was a consul in Canada during President Garfield's administration. As a platform speaker, Col. Crawford has no equal, and has been a speaker in every political campaign since 1856. He has resided in New Hampshire most of the time since 1870. He knew John Brown personally, and escaped lynching more than once during the bleeding Kansas troubles in 1855-56, in which he was a prominent factor.

CRAWFORD, JOHN LOUICK, physician, legislator, was born in Covington, Ga. He received his education at the Emory college and the university of Georgia. He has attained success as one of the foremost physicians of the south at Crawfordsville, Fla. He served with distinction as a state senator in the Florida legislature; and is now secretary of state for the state of Florida.

CRAWFORD, LEONARD J., lawyer, politician, was born April 29, 1860, in Newport, Ky. In 1882 he graduated from the Cincinnati Law school, and since that time has practiced in his native city. In 1892 he was a candidate for attorney-general; was president of the republican state league of Kentucky during 1892-95; and in 1897 was elected president of the national republican league.

CRAWFORD, MARTIN JENKINS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 17, 1820, in Jasper county, Ga. He was a member of the Georgia legislature from 1845 to 1847; and in 1853 was appointed judge of the superior court. He was elected a member of the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses; and was also elected to the thirty-sixth congress. He joined the great rebellion of that year as a member of the confederate congress, and was a commissioner to Washington. He died July 22, 1883, in Columbus, Ga.

CRAWFORD, NATHANIEL MORTON, clergyman, college president, author, was born March 22, 1811, in Oglethorpe county, Va. He was a baptist minister of Kentucky; president of Georgetown college, Ky., in 1865-71, and the author of Christian Paradoxes. He died Oct. 27, 1871, in Walker county, Va.

CRAWFORD, S. J., governor. He was governor of Kansas from 1864 to 1869.

CRAWFORD, SAMUEL WYLIE, soldier, physician, surgeon, was born Nov. 8, 1829, in Franklin county, Pa. In 1851 he became an assistant surgeon in the United States army. He served with distinction in the Shenandoah campaign, being present at the battles of Winchester and Cedar Mountain, losing one-half of his brigade in the last named action. At the battle of Antietam he had command of a division, and was severely wounded.

CRAWFORD, THOMAS, sculptor, was born March 22, 1814, in New York city. He has attained a national reputation as a sculptor. Some of his most celebrated works are: The Genius of Mirth; Vesta; Adam and Eve; David Before Saul; and Flora. He died Oct. 16, 1857, in London, England.

CRAWFORD, THOMAS HARTLEY, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Nov. 14, 1786, in Chambersburg, Pa. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1829 to 1833, and during the last named year was elected to the state legislature. In 1838 he was appointed commissioner of Indian affairs, and took up his residence in Washington, holding that office for seven years. In 1845 he was appointed judge of the criminal court of the District of Columbia. He died Jan. 27, 1863, in Washington, D. C.

CRAWFORD, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, was born in Virginia. He moved to Alabama in 1810; held a number of federal and state offices; was receiver of moneys for public lands; and a commissioner to settle certain claims under a treaty with England, France and Spain. He was elected to the state senate; was United States district attorney for Alabama; and was judge of the United States district court for Alabama. He died April 28, 1849, in Mobile, Ala.

CRAWFORD, WILLIAM, physician, congressman, was born in 1760 in Scotland. He was the pioneer physician of Marsh Creek, Pa.; became interested in politics, and was a representative in congress from 1809 to 1817. He died in 1823.

CRAWFORD, WILLIAM HARRIS, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born Feb. 24, 1772, in Amherst county, Va.

In 1799 he was appointed to prepare a digest of the laws of Georgia. He served four years in the state legislature; and was a senator in congress from Georgia from 1807 to 1813. In 1815 he became secretary of war; and in 1817 was appointed secretary of the treasury, where he served with marked ability until 1825. In 1827 he was appointed judge of the northern circuit of Georgia, which office he held until his death. He died Sept. 15, 1834, in Albert county, Ga.

CRAWFORD, WILLIAM HENRY, educator, clergyman, college president, was born Oct. 6, 1855, in Milton Center, Ill. He is an active worker in the Epworth league, and as a lecturer has gained an enviable reputation. Since 1893 he has been president of the Alleghany college of Meadville, Pa.

CRAWFORD, WILLIAM THOMAS, merchant, lawyer, congressman, was born June 1, 1856, in Haywood county, N. C. He was elected to the state legislature in 1884 and in 1886; was a democratic elector in 1888; and was en-grossing clerk of the state house of representatives in 1889. He was elected to the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat. He graduated in law from the state university of North Carolina.

CREAMER, THOMAS J., merchant, state senator, congressman, was born May 26, 1843, in Ireland. He was elected to the state legislature in 1864, 1865 and 1866; to the state senate in 1867 and 1869; and was appointed tax commissioner for New York city in 1869, serving until 1873. He was president of the young democrats' general committee in 1870; delegate to the Baltimore national convention in 1872; and was elected to the forty-third congress as a democrat.

CREBS, JOHN M., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born April 7, 1832, in Loudon county, Va. In 1862 he entered the volunteer army as lieutenant-colonel; participated in all the Mississippi movements until the capture of Vicksburg, and was also in the Arkansas campaign, commanding a brigade of cavalry in the department of the gulf. In 1868 he was elected a representative from Illinois to the forty-first congress, and was re-elected to the forty-second congress.

CREEDE, NICHOLAS C., gold miner, was born April 4, 1842, in Fort Wayne, Ind. In 1862 he went to Colorado in search of adventure, and found it in seven years of service as a United States scout, holding the rank of first lieutenant. He has since become famous as the founder of the Creede mining camp in Colorado, together with quite a number of other flourishing camps.

CREEL, HEBER MANSFIELD, soldier, legislator, was born Nov. 30, 1856, in La Fayette county, Mo. He attended the United States military academy at West Point, N. Y., and was subsequently appointed second lieutenant of the seventh United States cavalry. He has been chairman of the Boone county commissioners, N. D.; register of deeds for eight years in North Dakota; chairman of the county and state republican committees; and has filled various other political offices of honor. He has been inspector and judge advocate general of the North Dakota National guard; and president of the state military board. He received the election as state senator of the twenty-first district of North Dakota for four years, commencing in January, 1897.

CREELY, JOHN V., soldier, congressman, was born Nov. 14, 1839, in Philadelphia, Pa. He served in the army as an officer of light artillery throughout the late rebellion. He was a member of the councils of Philadelphia for four years; and was elected to the forty-second congress as a republican.

CREERY, WILLIAM RUFUS, educator, college president, author, was born May 9, 1824, in Baltimore, Md. He was elected city superintendent of public instruction of Baltimore for a term of four years, and in 1872 was re-elected. In conjunction with Prof. M. A. Newell he prepared the Maryland series of school-books, which includes Primary-School Spelling-Book; Grammar-School Spelling-Book; a series of six Readers; and Catechism of United States History. He died May 1, 1875, in Baltimore, Md.

CREIGHTON, HUGH L., soldier, business man, was born Jan. 27, 1837, in Louisa county, Iowa. During the civil war he served as a soldier in company A, thirtieth regiment Iowa volunteer infantry, and was promoted to captain. He served with distinction in the battles of Wilson's Creek, Mo.; Chicasaw Bayou, Miss.; Arkansas Post; Siege of Vicksburg; Lookout Mountain; Missionary Ridge, and other battles. For many years he was a public school teacher; and is now engaged in business in Oakville, Iowa, where he takes a prominent part in the public affairs of his county and state.

CREIGHTON, JOHNSTON BLAKELEY, naval officer, was born Nov. 12, 1822, in Rhode Island. He became a commodore in 1874; was commandant of the Norfolk navy-yard in 1879, and was retired with the rank of rear-admiral in 1883. He died Nov. 12, 1883, in Morristown, N. J.

CREIGHTON, WILLIAM, congressman, was born Oct. 29, 1778, in Berkeley county, Va. He was the first secretary of state for Ohio; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1813 to 1817, and again from 1827 to 1833. He died Oct. 8, 1851, in Chillicothe, Ohio.

CREIGHTON, WILLIAM, JR., lawyer, jurist. He was appointed United States judge for the district of Ohio.

CRELE, JOSEPH, centenarian, was born in 1725, in Detroit, Mich. He bore arms at Braddock's defeat, and before the revolution was employed in carrying letters between Prairie du Chien and Green Bay. He settled in Wisconsin during the revolutionary war. He died Jan. 27, 1866, in Caledonia, Wis.

CRENSHAW, WALTER HENRY, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born July 7, 1817, in Abbeville district, S. C. He was from 1838 till 1867 a member of either the upper or lower house of the Alabama legislature, officiating as speaker of the house in 1861-65, and president of the senate in 1865-67. He died in 1878, in Alabama.

CRESSEY, GEORGE CROSWELL, educator, clergyman, author, was born April 1, 1856, in Buxton, Maine. He graduated from Bowdoin college, the university of Wooster, the university of Leipzig, and the Andover Theological seminary; and has received the degree of Ph. D. For a while he was engaged in educational work, and filled the chair of modern languages in the Washburn college. He is a successful clergyman of the Unitarian church; and now fills the pastorate in Northampton, Mass. He is the author of The Essential Man; Mental Evolution; Philosophy of Religion; The Doctrine of Immortality of Liberal Thought; and numerous published sermons and addresses.

CRESSON, JOHN CHAPMAN, farmer, educator, civil engineer, was born in 1806, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was given the chair of mechanics and natural philosophy in Franklin institute in 1837, and in 1855 was made its president. He was president of the Mine Hill and Schuylkill Haven Railroad company in 1847-76, and one of the original Fairmount park commissioners, afterward becoming chief engineer of that park. He died in 1876, in Philadelphia, Pa.

CRESWELL, JOHN A. J., lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Nov. 18, 1828, in Port Deposit, Md. He was a member of the Maryland house of delegates in 1861 and 1862; and was elected a representative from Maryland to the thirty-eighth congress; and in 1865 was chosen a senator in congress to fill a vacancy. He was a delegate to the Philadelphia loyalists' convention of 1866, the border states convention, held in Baltimore in 1867, and the Chicago convention of 1868. In 1869 he entered the cabinet of President Grant as postmaster-general. He died Dec. 23, 1891, in Elkton, Ind.

CRESWELL, MRS. JULIA PLEASANTS, author, poet, was born Aug. 21, 1827, in Huntsville, Ala. She was a southern writer who published Aphelia and Other Poems by Two Cousins; and Callamora, an allegorical novel. She died June 9, 1886, in Shreveport, La.

CREW, HENRY, educator, author, was born June 4, 1859, in Richmond, Ohio. He has filled the chair of physics in the Johns Hopkins university, and in the Haverford college of Philadelphia, Pa. In 1891-92 he was astronomer at the Lick observatory, and since 1892 has been professor of physics in the Northwestern university. He is the author of various papers on spectroscopy.

CREWES, RICHARD, clergyman, received his education at the Northwestern university, the Garrett Biblical institute, and the Illinois Wesleyan university. For several years he was a member of the joint board of trustees and visitors of the Illinois Wesleyan university. He is a successful clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church in the central Illinois conference; and now fills a pastorate in Dwight, Ill. During 1892-96 he was the first president of the Eighth General Conference District Epworth League.

CREWSON, EVANDER A., poet, was born Dec. 8, 1849, in Washington county, Ohio. He is the author of a volume of poems entitled Old Times.

CRILL, LOUIS N., merchant, poet, was born June 3, 1867, in Spragueville, Iowa. He has attained success as a merchant in Richland, S. D. He is the author of a number of poems which have been published in the periodical press and given a place in several standard works.

CRIMMINS, JOHN DANIEL, contractor, was born May 18, 1844, in New York city. He laid the foundations for the Manhattan railway, built the electrical subway, has laid many miles of gas mains, built the tank foundations for various gas companies and constructed the Broadway and the street railroads on Lexington, Lenox and Columbus avenues. He is also a director in various corporations in New York city.

CRIPPEN, GEORGE D., educator, mining engineer, state legislator, was born May 13, 1861, in Washtenaw county, Mich.

Received the rudiments of his education in the district schools, and subsequently attended the State Normal school of Ypsilanti for three years. For many years he was engaged in educational work as principal of the Stambaugh schools. He is a successful mining engineer; has been a justice of the peace, county surveyor, and filled various other public positions of trust. During 1897-98 he served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature.

CRISFIELD, JOHN W., lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 6, 1808, in Kent county, Md. He was elected to the Maryland legislature in 1836; and was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1847 to 1849. In 1850 he was a delegate to the state constitutional convention; in 1861 was a delegate to the peace congress; and was elected a representative from Maryland to the thirty-seventh congress.

CRISP, CHARLES FREDERICK, soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 29, 1845, in England. He was a lieutenant in the confederate army from 1861 to 1864, when he was taken prisoner. In 1872 he was appointed solicitor-general of the southwestern circuit; and in 1873 was reappointed for a term of four years. In the latter year he moved to Americus, Ga.; in 1877 was appointed judge of the superior court of the southwestern judicial circuit; and in 1878 was elected to the same office; and in 1880 was re-elected for a term of four years. He resigned in 1882 and was elected a representative from Georgia to the forty-eighth congress; and received the re-election to the forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third, and fifty-fourth as a democrat; and served as speaker of the house in the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses.

CRISP, CHARLES R., lawyer, legislator, congressman, was born Oct. 19, 1870, in Ellaville, Ga. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat, without opposition, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of his father, the Hon. Charles F. Crisp. He has attained success as a lawyer in Americus, Ga., where he is a member of the law firm of Hooper and Crisp. While in congress he took an active part in debates on various measures which affected the welfare of his state; and as a rising lawyer has already attained eminence at the bar of the south.

CRISPIN, SILAS, soldier, was born about 1830, in Pennsylvania. He received successive brevets to include that of colonel in the regular army at the close of the civil war, but did not receive his promotion as major of ordnance until 1867. In 1875 he was promoted lieutenant-colonel, and colonel in 1881.

CRIST, HENRY, manufacturer, state senator, congressman, was born in 1764, in Virginia. He became extensively engaged in the manufacture of salt in Bullitt county, Ky. He was a member of the Kentucky legislature in 1795; a state senator from 1800 to 1804; and a representative from Kentucky in congress from 1809 to 1811. He died in 1844, in Bullitt county, Ky.

CRITCHER, JOHN, soldier, planter, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 11, 1820, in Westmoreland county, Va. He received his education at Brent's Classical school, the university of Virginia, and the university of France. He is a successful planter and lawyer of his native state at Alexandria, and Washington, D. C. He has been commonwealth attorney of his county; twice a member of the state senate of Virginia; was a member of the secession convention of Virginia in 1861; served as lieutenant-colonel of the fifteenth Virginia cavalry during the civil war; and commanded the Lomax brigade at Cold Harbor. He has been judge of the tenth judicial circuit of Virginia, and was a member of the forty-second congress of the United States. For the last eighteen years he has practiced law in the city of Washington, D. C.; and in the seventy-fifth year of his age his cash professional receipts amounted to nearly forty thousand dollars.

CRITCHETT, CLARA A., educator, poet, was born in Maine. She has attained success as an educator; and is the author of several poems of merit which have generally appeared under the nom de plume of Ferne Arland.

CRITTENDEN, GEORGE BIBB, soldier, state librarian, was born March 20, 1812, in Russellville, Ky. In 1861 he entered the confederate service; was commissioned brigadier-general; and became major-general. During 1867-71 he was state librarian in Frankfort, Ky. He died Nov. 27, 1880, in Danville, Ky.

CRITTENDEN, JOHN JORDAN, soldier, lawyer, governor, congressman, United States senator, was born Sept. 10, 1787, in Woodford county, Ky. He served during the war of 1812 as a major. He became a lawyer and served a number of years in the state legislature; and in 1817-19 as a member of the United States senate from Kentucky. In 1835 he was again elected to the United States senate; and in 1841 was appointed attorney general by President Harrison. During 1843-49 he was again a member of the United States senate; and again received the re-election in 1855. In 1860 he was elected a representative from Kentucky to the thirty-seventh congress. He was also governor of Kentucky in 1848-50. He died July 26, 1863, in Frankfort, Ky.

CRITTENDEN, THOMAS LEONIDAS, soldier, lawyer, merchant, was born May 15, 1815, in Russellville, Ky. In 1842 he became attorney for the commonwealth. He served in the Mexican war as a lieutenant-colonel. During 1849-53 he was United States consul to Liverpool, England. He served with distinction through the civil war, and was promoted major-general.

CRITTENDEN, THOMAS T., lawyer, congressman, governor, was born about 1828, in Alabama. He was appointed attorney-general of Missouri in 1864 to fill an unexpired term; and was elected to the forty-third and forty-fifth congresses from Missouri. He was elected governor of Missouri for the term of four years, and served during 1881-84.

CROCHERON, AUGUSTA J., author, poet, was born Oct. 9, 1844, in Boston.

Mass. She has been very prominent in Women's Mutual Improvement associations; and has been recording secretary of more than a score of associations. In 1881 she published a volume of poems entitled Wild Flowers of Deseret; and in 1884 appeared Representative Women of Deseret, a biographical work. She has taken three gold medals and several cash prizes for Christmas stories.

CROCHERON, HENRY, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1815 to 1817.

CROCHERON, JACOB, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1829 to 1831; and in 1837 was a presidential elector.

CROCKER, ALVAH, manufacturer, state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 14, 1801, in Leominster, Mass. He became proprietor of a paper manufactory; was president of the Boston and Fitchburg railroad; and a commissioner of the Hoosac tunnel. He was a member of the state legislature in 1836, 1842, and 1843; was a member of the state senate two terms; and was elected to the forty-second congress to fill a vacancy, and was re-elected to the forty-third congress as a republican. He died Dec. 26, 1874, in Fitchburg, Mass.

CROCKER, CHARLES, merchant, state legislator, was born Sept. 16, 1822, in Troy, N. Y. He engaged in mercantile pursuits in Sacramento in 1852, with one of his brothers, and eventually made his store the leading dry goods house of the city. In 1854 he was elected to the common council of Sacramento, and in 1860 to the legislature.

CROCKER, GEORGE GLOVER, lawyer, author, was born in 1843, in Massachusetts. He is a lawyer of Boston; and the author of Principles of Procedure in Deliberative Assemblies.

CROCKER, GEORGE LOUIS, lawyer, orator, was born Nov. 6, 1864, in Copper City, Cal. In 1890 he graduated from the college at Ann Arbor, Mich.; and has since attained prominence as an able lawyer of Merced, Cal., and a leading orator of that state. He has been editor of the Merced Express; and has filled several positions of honor in his county and state.

CROCKER, MRS. HANNAH MATHER, author, was born in 1765, in Boston, Mass. She was the author of Letters on Free Masonry; The School of Reform; and Observations on the Rights of Woman. She died July 10, 1847, in Roxbury, Mass.

CROCKER, MARCELLUS M., soldier, was born Feb. 6, 1830, in Franklin, Ind. He entered the army in 1861; and was appointed brigadier-general in 1861. He died Aug. 26, 1865, in Washington, D. C.

CROCKER, MARTIN, lawyer, state senator, was born in 1858, in New Baltimore, Mich. Since 1880 he has practiced law in Mt. Clemens, Mich.; and for several years served as city attorney. In 1886 he was elected to the Michigan house of representatives; and in 1891 served with distinction as a member of the state senate. In 1896 he was a delegate to the democratic national convention held in Chicago.

CROCKER, NATHAN BOURNE, clergyman, lecturer, was born July 4, 1781, in Barnstable, Mass. He was elected rector of St. John's church in Providence, over which he presided until his death. He was secretary of the corporation of Brown university from 1837 till 1843. He died Oct. 19, 1865, in Providence, R. I.

CROCKER, RUTH M., poet, dress reformer. She studied physiology under the late Calvin Cutter; and has always advocated dress reform for women. She has written considerably on moral science; and her poems have constantly appeared in current literature.

CROCKER, SAMUEL L., manufacturer, congressman, was born March 31, 1804, in Taunton, Mass. In 1849 he was elected a member of the executive council of Massachusetts; and was a representative from Massachusetts to the thirty-third congress.

CROCKER, URIEL HASKELL, lawyer, journalist, author, was born in 1832, in Massachusetts. He is a lawyer of Boston; and the author of The Cause of Hard Times; Notes on Common Forms; Book of Massachusetts Law; Excessive Saving a Cause of Commercial Distress; and Notes on General Statutes of Massachusetts.

CROCKETT, DAVID, soldier, congressman, pioneer, author, poet, was born Aug. 17, 1786, in Limestone, Tenn. He is a noted hunter and pioneer who enlisted in the Texan army in the revolt against Mexico, and was slain in the massacre at the Alamo, in San Antonio. He served as a member of the Tennessee legislature; and served as a member of congress during 1827-31, and 1833-35. He was the author of Tour to the North and Down East; Life of David Crockett, by Himself (1834); Colonel Crockett's Exploits in Texas; Life of Martin Van Buren, Heir Apparent; and Leisure Hour Musings in Rhyme.

CROCKETT, JOHN W., congressman, was the son of the celebrated David Crockett. He was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1838 to 1843. He died Nov. 24, 1852, in Memphis, Tenn.

CROES, JOHN, bishop, was born June 1, 1762, in Elizabethtown, N. J. He was the first protestant episcopal bishop of the diocese of New Jersey. He died July 30, 1832, in New Brunswick, N. J.

CROES, JOHN J. R., civil engineer, was born Nov. 25, 1834, in Richmond, Va. He is a noted civil engineer of New York city; and the suburban rapid transit road in the northeastern part of New York city was built after his plans and under his supervision.

CROFFUT, WILLIAM AUGUSTUS, journalist, author, poet, was born Jan. 29, 1835, in Redding, Conn. He is a well-known journalist attached to many journals, east and west, and connected with the United States geological survey since 1888. He is the author of The War History of Connecticut; A Helping Hand; Bourbon Ballads; Deseret, an opera; A Midsummer Lark, a humorous volume of travels; The Vanderbilts; The Folks Next Door; and The Prophecy and Other Poems.

CROFT, CHARLES WILLIAM, lawyer, was born Oct. 2, 1855, in Corsicana, Texas. He first practiced law in Colorado City, Texas, then in Midland till 1887; since which time he has practiced his profession in his native city. He has acquired a good reputation as a practitioner in both civil and criminal law.

CROFTS, GEORGE W., clergyman, author, poet, was born April 9, 1842, in Leroy, Ill. He was the poet of the national farmers' congress; and the author of Golden Rod, a volume of meritorious poems.

CROGHAN, GEORGE, soldier, was born Nov. 15, 1791, in Louisville, Ky. He fought in the war of 1812 under Gen. Proctor and gained the promotion of lieutenant-colonel brevet. In 1825 he was appointed inspector-general of the army, with the rank of colonel. He died Jan. 8, 1849, in New Orleans, La.

CROLY, DAVID GOODMAN, journalist, author, was born Nov. 3, 1829, in New York city; and was the husband of Jennie June. He was a journalist of New York city; and the author of Life of Horatio Seymour; History of Reconstruction; The Positivist Primer; and Glimpses of the Future. He died in 1889.

CROLY, MRS. JANE CUNNINGHAM, author, and known as Jennie June, was born Dec. 19, 1831, in England. She is the founder of Sorosis, and editor of Demorest's Magazine in 1860-87. She is the author of Talks on Women's Topics; For Better or Worse; Knitters and Crochet; Letters and Monographs; Cookery Book for Young Beginners; and Thrown upon her Own Resources.

CROMPTON, GEORGE, manufacturer, inventor, was born March 23, 1829, in England. In 1851 he engaged in the manufacture of fancy looms in Worcester, Mass., where the Crompton loom works have since been established.

CRONIN, J. FRANCIS, physician, surgeon, was born Sept. 1, 1865, in Augusta, Ga. He graduated from the university of Georgia, and has attained success as a physician in Florida. He has been quarantine officer at Tampa, Punta Gorda, and Appalachicola, Fla., and filled other positions of trust.

CRONKHITE, HENRY M., soldier, surgeon, poet, was born March 14, 1834, in Little Falls, N. Y. He became acting assistant surgeon in the army until 1866; and since 1867 has been a surgeon in the United States army. He is the author of a volume of poems entitled Reymond.

CROOK, HARRISON, physician, was born April 13, 1850, in Maryland. In 1878 he received his medical degree from the Georgetown Medical college, in which institution he was demonstrator of anatomy in 1878-82; and still holds the chair of clinical surgery. For the past ten years he has been surgeon to the Providence hospital of Washington, D. C. He is one of the leading physicians of the nation's capital.

CROOK, ISAAC, clergyman, educator, college president. He has been president of the university of the Pacific; chancellor of the Nebraska Wesleyan university; and is now president of the Ohio university of Athens. He is a constant contributor to current literature.

CROOKE, PHILIP S., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 2, 1810, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was elected a presidential elector in 1852, and a member of the state legislature in 1863. He served forty years in the national guard of the state of New York, from private to brigadier-general; and commanded the fifth brigade in Pennsylvania in 1863. He was elected to the forty-third congress.

CROOKER, JABEZ C., soldier, lawyer, was born Jan. 16, 1820, in Woodstock, Vt. He graduated from the military university of Vermont, and served as a captain in the fifty-fifth regiment Illinois volunteer infantry. In 1847 he was admitted to the bar, and has practiced in all state and federal courts.

CROOKS, GEORGE RICHARD, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 3, 1822, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a methodist clergyman and religious journalist; and the author of Life of John McClintock, Life of Matthew Simpson; First Books in Latin and Greek (with J. McClintock); and Latin-English Lexicon.

CROOKS, SAMUEL STEARNS, manufacturer, was born April 30, 1851, in Hopkinton, Mass. In 1892 he started the business known as Sharood and Crooks, manufacturers of fine shoes and slippers, and in 1894 more than 2,000 persons were engaged in this factory in St. Paul, Minn.

CROPPER, JOHN, soldier, was born in 1756, in Virginia. He served in the revolutionary war; and attained the rank of colonel. He died Jan. 15, 1821.

CROPSEY, ANDREW GEORGE, soldier, lawyer, was born Feb. 10, 1850, in New Utrecht, N. Y. In 1874-1880 he was justice of the peace and school commissioner of Kings county, N. Y. He served as a private in the civil war.

CROPSEY, JASPER FRANCIS, artist, was born Feb. 18, 1823, in Staten Island, N. Y. In 1837, at the age of thirteen, he received a diploma from Mechanics and American Institute fairs of New York city for architectural modeling. He received a medal and diploma for painting from the Philadelphia Centennial exposition, and a medal for services in the London exhibition of 1862. His principal works are Autumn on the Hudson; and A Showery Day.

CROSBIE, HENRY R., jurist. He was an associate justice of the United States court for the territory of Utah.

CROSBY, ALPHEUS, educator, author, was born Oct. 13, 1810, in Sandwich, N. H. He was an educator of Massachusetts who published Greek Lessons; Greek Fables; Greek Tables; and First Lessons in Geometry; an edition of Xenophon's Anabasis. He died April 17, 1874, in Salem, Mass.

CROSBY, EBENEZER, soldier, educator, physician, was born Sept. 30, 1753, in Braintree, Mass. He served through the revolutionary war as surgeon of Gen. Washington's guards, and was one of the original members of the Society of the Cincinnati. He died July 16, 1788.

CROSBY, ENOCH, patriot, was born Jan. 4, 1750, in Harwich, Mass. The story of his secret-service life, which was thought to be incorporated in Cooper's Spy, was dramatized, and Mr. Crosby was on one occasion present at a representation of the play in New York city, and, as the hero, received the plaudits of the multitude. He died June 20, 1835, in Brewster, N. Y.

CROSBY, HENRY CLAY, clergyman, educator, college president, was born in 1853 in Longtown, S. C. He received his primary education in private schools and in Sherley's institute, S. C.; and attended the Shaw university, and the Leonard Medical college of Raleigh, N. C. For four years he was a justice of the peace of Vance county, N. C.; during 1879-87 was principal of the Garfield Graded schools of Raleigh, N. C.; and for ten years was president of the Plymouth State Normal school, North Carolina. He was licensed to preach in 1887 and was ordained a clergyman at the baptist church in 1892. He died Nov. 29, 1897, in Raleigh, N. C.

CROSBY, HOWARD, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 27, 1826, in New York. He was a presbyterian clergyman long prominent in New York city who was chancellor of the university of New York city in 1870-81. He was the author of The Christian Preacher; Notes on the New Testament; Life of Jesus; Christ and Science; At the Lord's Table; Sermons; Lands of the Moslem; (Edipus Tyrannus of Sophocles, with Notes; Bible Manual; Bible Companion; Bible View of the Jewish Church; The Seven Churches of Asia, or Worldliness in the Church; Thoughts on the Pentateuch; and Commentary on the New Testament, which include his principal works. He died March 29, 1891, in New York.

CROSBY, JOHN CRAWFORD, lawyer, congressman, was born June 15, 1859, in Sheffield, Mass. In 1885 he was elected a member of the school committee of Pittsfield and served six consecutive years in that office. He was elected a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1885 and re-elected in 1886. In 1887 he was elected a member of the Massachusetts senate. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

CROSBY, JOHN SCHUYLER, soldier, governor, was born Sept. 19, 1839, in Albany, N. Y. He was appointed a first lieutenant in the first United States artillery in 1861; and served with gallantry in many of the most important engagements of the civil war. He received a life-saving medal of the first class, by act of congress, for heroic daring and saving life during the foundering of the yacht Mohawk in 1876. In 1876 he was appointed United States consul at Florence, Italy, and served until 1882, when he was appointed governor of Montana.

CROSBY, JOSIAH, lawyer, legislator, was born Nov. 24, 1816, in Dover, N. H. He has practiced law in Dexter since 1845. In 1856, 1863 and 1865 he was a member of the house of representatives of Maine; and in 1867-68 was a member of the state senate, and in the latter year was president of that body.

CROSBY, NATHAN, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Feb. 12, 1798, in Sandwich, N. H. He was a prominent lawyer and jurist of Lowell, who published First Half Century of Dartmouth College. He died Feb. 9, 1885, in Lowell, Mass.

CROSBY, WILLIAM GEORGE, governor, was born in 1806, in Belfast, Maine. He was governor of Maine from 1853 to 1855. He died in 1881, in Belfast, Maine.

CROSBY, WILLIAM OTIS, educator, author, was born Jan. 14, 1850, in Decatur, Ohio. He is a professor of geology in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and has published Common Minerals and Rocks; and Contributions to the Geology of Eastern Massachusetts.

CROSS, CHARLES ROBERT, educator, author, was born March 29, 1848, in Troy, N. Y. He is a professor of physics in the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; and the author of Course in Elementary Physics; and Lecture Notes on Mechanics and Optics.

CROSS, DAVID W., lawyer, author, was born Nov. 17, 1814, in Pulaski, N. Y. He is a Cleveland lawyer of local fame as a sportsman; and the author of Fifty Years with the Rod and Gun.

CROSS, EDWARD, jurist, congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was appointed United States judge for the territory of Arkansas; and was elected a representative in congress from 1839 to 1845.

CROSS, EDWARD EPHRAIM, soldier, journalist, was born April 22, 1832, in Lancaster, N. H. In 1854 he was editor of the Cincinnati Times. He took the first steam engine and printing press across the Rocky Mountains in 1858. He served in the Mexican army as a lieutenant-colonel; and served during 1860-63 as a colonel in the fifth regiment New Hampshire volunteers. He died July 2, 1863, near Gettysburg, Pa.

CROSS, GEORGE DILWYN, lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born Jan. 24, 1799, in Westerly, R. I. He served six terms in the general assembly; was state senator in 1826-35 and 1848-50; chief justice of the court of common pleas for Washington county in 1837-49; and in 1840 was one of the commissioners for fixing the boundary line between Connecticut and Rhode Island. He died Oct. 1, 1872, in Westerly, R. I.

CROSS, JAMES B., lawyer, jurist, was born in 1817, in Geneva, N. Y. In 1841 he moved to Milwaukee, Wis.; and served as mayor of that city during 1855-58. He was the first probate judge under the state law; and in 1857 came within five hundred votes of defeating Alexander W. Randall for governor. He died in 1876, in Milwaukee, Wis.

CROSS, MRS. JANE TANDY [CHINN] [HARDING], author, was born in 1817, in Harrodsburg, Ky. She is the author of Wayside Flowerets; Heart Blossoms for My Little Daughters; Bible Gleanings; Driftwood; Gonzalo de Cordova, a translation from the Spanish; and Duncan Adair, a novel. She died in October, 1870, in Elizabethtown, Ky.

CROSS, JOHN S., civil engineer, state legislator, was born May 4, 1849, in Bangor, Mich. During 1870-84 he was engaged as a civil and mining engineer; and since the latter date has been engaged in the real estate and insurance business at Bangor. During 1887-88 he served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature.

CROSS, JOSEPH, clergyman, author, was born July 4, 1813, in England. He was an episcopal clergyman who from 1829-1856 was a prominent methodist divine. The more important of his writings include Headlands of Faith; Pisgah Views of the Promised Inheritance; A Year in Europe; Coals from the Altar; Pauline Charity; Prelections on Charity; and Old Wine and New. He died in 1893.

CROSS, JUDSON NEWELL, soldier, lawyer, was born Jan. 16, 1838, in Philadelphia, Pa. He served in the civil war; was made assistant provost marshal on the staff of the military governor of Washington in 1864; and soon after special mustering officer. He was three times elected city attorney of Minneapolis, and held the office during 1883-87.

CROSS, OSBORNE, soldier, was born in 1803, in Maryland. He was made deputy quartermaster-general in 1863; in 1865 was brevetted brigadier-general in the regular army. He was promoted to colonel in 1866. He died July 15, 1876, in New York city.

CROSS, ROSELLE THEODORE, educator, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 21, 1844, in Richville, N. Y. For four years he was principal of the academic department of Oberlin college; has filled pastorates in various large cities; and is the author of Home Duties; Clear as Crystal; History of Colorado Congregationalism; and also numerous articles, poems and lectures.

CROSS, SAMUEL CREED, author, educator, lecturer, was born Oct. 10, 1871, in Great Cacapon, W. Va. He graduated from the northern Indiana university, and was retained as a teacher in that college; and is now professor in the Grand Rapids Business college, Mich.

CROSS, TRUEMAN, soldier, author, was born in Maryland. He was chief of the quartermaster's department of the army of occupation from 1845 till his death, which he met at the hands of Mexican banditti. He published Military Laws of the United States. He died April 21, 1846.

CROSSLAND, EDWARD, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born June 30, 1827, in Hickman county, Ky. He was a member of the state legislature in 1857; elected judge of the court of common pleas in the first district for six years in 1867; and was elected to the forty-second and forty-third congresses as a democrat.

CROSWELL, ANDREW, clergyman, author, was born in 1709, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a Boston clergyman, very active as a controversialist; and the author of The Apostle's Advice to the Jailor Improved; and Heaven shut against Arminians and Antinomians. He died April 12, 1785, in Boston, Mass.

CROSWELL, CHARLES M., lawyer, state senator, governor, was born Oct. 31, 1825, in Newburg, N. Y. He was elected register of deeds of Lewanee county, Mich., in 1850, and re-elected in 1852; in 1854 was a member and secretary of the state convention at Jackson, Mich., from which sprung the republican party. In 1862 he was appointed city attorney, and the same year was elected mayor of Adrian. He was a state senator in 1863, 1865, and 1867; and was speaker of the state house of representatives in 1873. He was elected governor of Michigan in 1876, and re-elected in 1878. He died Dec. 13, 1886, in Adrian, Mich.

CROSWELL, HARRY, clergyman, author, was born June 16, 1778, in West Hartford, Conn. He was an episcopal clergyman and rector of Trinity church of New Haven in 1816-58, but in earlier life was a political journalist noted for his scathing editorials. He was the author of Young Churchman's Guide; Manual of Family Prayers; Guide to the Holy Sacrament. He died March 13, 1858, in New Haven, Conn.

CROUCH, EDWARD, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1813 to 1815.

CROUNSE, LORENZO, governor, soldier, legislator, jurist, was born Jan. 27, 1834, in Sharon, N. Y. For awhile he was employed with his father in the tanning business; then taught school; and was admitted to the bar in 1857. During the war he was captain of battery K, first regiment New York light artillery; and he was severely wounded during the second Bull Run battle. In 1866 he served in the territorial legislature of Nebraska; in 1867 he was elected a justice of the supreme court; and for several years was supreme court reporter. He served in the forty-third and forty-fourth congresses as a republican; and in 1892 was elected governor of the state of Nebraska.

CROUSE, GEORGE WASHINGTON, soldier, manufacturer, congressman, was born Nov. 23, 1832, in Tallmadge, Ohio.

He has been prominently identified with the business and public affairs of Akron, Ohio; and during the war was a sergeant in company F, one hundred and sixty-fourth regiment Ohio volunteer infantry. During 1885-87 he was a member of the Ohio state senate; when he resigned and was elected to the fiftieth congress as a republican. He is now president of the City National bank; the Akron Twine and Cordage company; the Akron Printing and Publishing company; the Akron Water Works company; and numerous other business enterprises.

CROUTER, A. L. EDGERTON, educator, author, was born in Canada. He is superintendent of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf and Dumb; and is the author of Statistics of Articulation Teaching in America; and numerous other works.

CROW, MOSES ROCKWELL, lawyer, capitalist, was born in 1855, in Seneca Falls, N. Y. He became a water expert, a water engineer, and a water capitalist, in connection with water works for the city of Mexico and several South American cities. He also controls the New York and Westchester Water company, the Pocantico Water Works company, and the New York City District Water Supply company.

CROWDER, JOHN S., clergyman, was born June 27, 1872, in Richmond, Va. He graduated from the De Pauw university of Greencastle, Ind.; and is attaining prominence as one of the foremost clergymen in the methodist episcopal church in Indiana.

CROWE, JOHN FINLEY, clergyman, educator, was born June 16, 1787, in Tennessee. He founded Hanover college and the Indiana Theological seminary; and was vice-president of the college, besides filling the professorships of rhetoric, logic, and history from 1832-60. He died Jan. 17, 1860, in Hanover, Ind.

CROWE, WINFIELD SCOTT, clergyman, author, was born in 1850, in Indiana. He is a universalist clergyman of Newark, N. J.; and editor of the Universalist Monthly. He is the author of The Man of Evolution; The God of Evolution; and The Lordship of Jesus.

CROWELL, EUGENE, author, was born in 1817, in New York. He was a writer of San Francisco, and later of New York city, and was a zealous defender of spiritualism. He was the author of The Identity of Primitive Christianity with Modern Spiritualism; The Spirit World; The Philosophy of Death; Spiritualism and Insanity; and The Religion of Spiritualism. He died in 1894.

CROWELL, JOHN, congressman, was born in Halifax county, Ala. He was chosen delegate to congress when the territory of Alabama was established in 1817, and served till 1819, when the state constitution was formed. He was elected the first representative to congress, serving until 1821. He died June 25, 1846, in Fort Mitchell, Ala.

CROWELL, JOHN, congressman, was born in Connecticut. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1847 to 1851.

CROWELL, JOHN FRANKLIN, educator, college president, was born Nov. 1, 1857, in York, Pa. He was appointed president of Trinity college, North Carolina, and still occupies the presidency, with the chair of political and social science.

CROWELL, WILLIAM, clergyman, author, was born in 1806, in Middlefield, Mass. He was a baptist clergyman who published The Church Member's Manual of Ecclesiastical Principles; Church Member's Handbook; and History of Baptist Literature for Fifty Years. He died Aug. 19, 1871, in Flanders, N. J.

CROWL, MARGARET A., poet, was born Sept. 14, 1849, in Canada. Her poems have appeared in several magazines and the local press generally.

CROWL, THEODORE, soldier, clergyman, was born July 22, 1844, in Darlington, Pa. He served as a union soldier during the civil war in the one hundred and seventy-eighth regiment Ohio volunteer infantry; was promoted to second lieutenant; and was judge advocate of general court martial United States army at Tullahoma and Murfreesboro, Tenn., during the winter of 1864-65. In 1868 he graduated from the Washington and Jefferson college; and in 1871 from the Western Theological seminary of Pittsburgh, Pa. In 1873 he organized the First Presbyterian church of Tacoma, Wash. He has filled pastorates in Seattle, Wash.; Zanesville, Ohio; and is now pastor of the First Congregational church of Sterling, Ill. He has contributed extensively to religious literature.

CROWLEY, DENIS O., philanthropist, poet. He was elevated to the priesthood in 1883. In 1887 he was transferred to San Francisco, where the city waifs were confided to his care. Since then he has built a large and beautiful home for the destitute and homeless boys of the city and state. He is the author of A Chaplet of Verse.

CROWLEY, MILES, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born in 1859, in Boston, Mass. He was elected chief engineer of the Galveston fire department for two terms; was a member of the house of representatives of the twenty-second legislature of the state of Texas; and a state senator of the twenty-third and twenty-fourth legislatures. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat.

CROWLEY, RICHARD, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 14, 1836, in Lockport, N. Y. He was city attorney in 1865; was a state senator from 1866 to 1870; was United States district attorney from 1871 to 1879, when he resigned; and was elected a representative from New York to the forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a republican.

CROWLEY, WINFIELD S., journalist, was born Feb. 15, 1861, in Saco, Maine. He is the editor and manager of the Globe-Star of Westbrook, Maine. He has been chairman of the board of registration, and is prominently identified with the democratic party of his county and state.

CROWNINSHIELD, BENJAMIN WILLIAMS, secretary of the navy, congressman, was born Dec. 27, 1772, in Boston, Mass. In 1820 he was a presidential elector; and in 1826 was elected a representative in congress from the Salem district of Massachusetts, and continued in that position until 1831. He died Feb. 3, 1851, in Boston, Mass.

CROWNINSHIELD, JACOB, state legislator, congressman, was born March 31, 1770, in Salem, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1801; was elected a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1803 to 1805; and was appointed secretary of the navy in 1805. He died April 14, 1808, in Washington, D. C.

CROWTHER, GEORGE C., soldier, business man, congressman, was born Jan. 26, 1849. In 1862 he entered the federal army, and was mustered out of service in 1865. In 1869 he was elected secretary of the Kansas state senate, and was re-elected in 1871 and 1873. From 1875 to 1886 he was engaged on newspapers and in the printing business; in 1887 was appointed deputy sheriff of Buchanan county, Mo.; in 1888 was elected city treasurer of St. Joseph, and re-elected in 1890. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican.

CROXTON, JOHN THOMAS, soldier, journalist, lawyer, was born Nov. 20, 1837, in Bourbon county, Ky. He participated in the battles of Sherman's army, and at the close of the war was put in command of the military district of southwest Georgia, with headquarters at Macon. He established the Louisville Commercial as a republican journal. He died April 16, 1874, in Bolivia.

CROXTON, THOMAS, lawyer, congressman, was born March 15, 1822, in Tappahannock, Va. He was commonwealth attorney for his native county from 1852 to 1865; was a presidential elector in 1880; and in 1884 was elected a representative from Virginia to the forty-ninth congress as a democrat.

CROZIER, JOHN H., congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1849.

CROZIER, MRS. M. P. A., poet, was born Feb. 23, 1834, in Richmond Centre, N. Y. In 1887 a small volume of her poems was published by her son.

CRUDUP, JOSIAH, congressman, was born in Wake county, N. C. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1821 to 1823.

CRUFT, CHARLES, soldier, was born in Indiana. He was commissioned an officer of volunteers from Indiana in 1862, and became a major-general of volunteers in 1865. He died March 23, 1883, in Terre Haute, Ind.

CRUGER, DANIEL, congressman. He was a member of the New York assembly a number of years; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1817 to 1819.

CRUGER, JOHN, colonist, was born July 18, 1710, in New York city. He was an alderman for twenty-two years, and in 1739-44 was mayor of the city of New York. He was the author of the famous Declaration of the Rights and Grievances of the Colonist of America; and in 1768 was elected the first president of the New York Chamber of Commerce. He died Dec. 27, 1792, in New York city.

CRUGER, MRS. JULIA GRINNELL, author. She is a popular novelist of New York city; and the author of A Diplomat's Diary; Poppaea; A Successful Man; A Wedding and Other Stories; Mademoiselle Réséda; and A Puritan Pagan.

CRUGER, MARY, author, was born in 1834, in New York. She is a writer of Montrose, N. Y.; and the author of Hyperæsthesia; A Den of Thieves, or the Lay Reader of St. Mark's; The Vanderheyde Manor House; How She Did It; and Brotherhood.

CRUGER, STEPHEN VAN RENSSÆLAER, soldier, public official, was born May 9, 1844, in New York city. He served in the civil war, and was brevetted major and lieutenant-colonel. He is trustee and treasurer of St. Stephen's college of New York city, and of the New York Protestant Episcopal Public school. He was appointed park commissioner in 1895, and later president of the board.

CRUM, JOHN DARIUS, physician, surgeon, was born Aug. 1, 1866, in Charleston, S. C. He received the rudiments of his education in the primary schools; graduated from the Avery institute in 1884; and in 1887 graduated in the medical department from the Howard university of Washington, D. C. He was at one time druggist-in-charge of the Freedmen's hospital of Washington, D. C.; and has attained prominence as a successful physician and surgeon of Jacksonville, Fla., where he has a lucrative practice. He is a member of the American Pharmaceutical association; a member of the Florida Medical association; and other prominent medical bodies.

CRUMMELL, ALEXANDER, clergyman, author, was born in 1819, in New York. He is a colored episcopal clergyman of Washington; and the author of The Future of Africa; Greatness of Christ, and Other Sermons; and Africa and America.

CRUMP, GEORGE WILLIAM, physician, congressman, was born in Powhatan county, Va. He was a member of the legislature; and was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1826 to 1827 to fill a vacancy. He died in 1850.

CRUMP, JOSEPHINE B., poet, was born Sept. 13, 1841, in Blount county, Tenn. Her poems have appeared quite extensively in the local press.

CRUMP, ROUSSEAU O., manufacturer, congressman, was born May 20, 1843, in Pittsford, N. Y. In 1884 the corporation of the Crump Manufacturing company was formed by him.

He is a member of the Wenona Lodge, Blanchard Chapter, Bay City Commandery, the Michigan Sovereign Consistory of Detroit, and Moslem Temple; and also a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, Royal Arcanum, and Knights of Pythias. He cast his first vote for Lincoln; has served West Bay City as alderman for four years, and in the spring of 1892 was nominated and elected mayor of West Bay City and was re-elected in 1894. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

CRUMPACKER, EDGAR D., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born May 27, 1851, in Laporte county, Ind. He was prosecuting attorney for the thirty-first judicial district of Indiana from 1884 to 1888; served as appellate judge in the state of Indiana from 1891-93; and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

CRUMRINE, BOYD, soldier, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 9, 1838, in Washington county, Pa. In 1861-62 he served in the civil war, in the eighty-fifth Pennsylvania volunteers. From 1865-68 he was district attorney of Washington county, Pa. He is the author of a work entitled Omnium Gatherum; and in 1882 he composed a large part and edited the whole of The History of Washington County.

CRUNDEN, FREDERICK MORGAN, librarian, author, was born Sept. 1, 1847, in England. In 1877 he was appointed librarian of the public library of St. Louis, which position he still holds. He has contributed extensively to the Library Journal and other periodicals.

CRUSE, CHRISTIAN FREDERICK, clergyman, author, was born June 27, 1794, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was an episcopal clergyman of New York city whose translation of the Ecclesiastical History of Eusebius is a standard English version. He died Oct. 5, 1864, in New York city.

CRUSE, MARY ANNE, educator, author, was born in 18— in Alabama. Besides a novel of the Civil War, Cameron Hall, she has written several popular Sunday-school books, such as The Little Episcopalian, and Bessie Melville.

CRUTCHFIELD, WILLIAM, farmer, congressman, was born Nov. 16, 1826, in Greeneville, Tenn. He was elected to the forty-third congress from Tennessee.

CRUTTENDEN, DANIEL HENRY, educator, author, was born Feb. 27, 1816, in Galway, N. Y. He was an educator of New York city, among whose textbooks are Systematic Arithmetic Series; The Philosophy of Language; and Rhetorical Grammar. He died June 21, 1874, in Castleton, N. Y.

CUBBISON, JAMES K., lawyer, state legislator, was born in 1861 in Harrisville, Pa. He is a successful lawyer of Kansas City, Mo.; was elected to the Kansas state legislature in 1892, and re-elected in 1894 and in 1896.

CUCKSON, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born in 1846 in England. He is a unitarian clergyman of Boston, pastor of the Arlington Street church from 1892; and the author of Faith and Fellowship.

CUDAHY, MICHAEL, packer, was born Dec. 7, 1841, in Ireland. He is the oldest of four brothers. William died when thirty-seven years of age. John and Patrick succeeded John Plankinton and Company, of Milwaukee, in their packing business, under the firm name of Cudahy Brothers.

CUDMORE, P., soldier, lawyer, historian, poet, was born June, 1831, in Ireland. After leaving the monastery of Dungarvan, he studied mathematics at the best academy in Munster. He emigrated to America in 1846; studied law; took a course of lectures on anatomy at Bellevue hospital; and a course of lectures at the Cooper institute. He then traveled in Cuba, Mexico, Central and South America. In 1853 he moved to Dane county, Wis., and in 1855 was elected a justice of the peace, and became a popular lawyer and public speaker. In 1856 he moved to Minnesota, and the following year settled in Faribault. In 1860 he commenced delivering lectures on Ireland, Mexico and Peru; and in 1862 mustered in as a soldier and served three years, first in company H, tenth regiment, Minnesota infantry volunteers, which he was instrumental in raising; and subsequently joined the sixteenth army corps. He is the author of Cudmore's Constitutional History; Cudmore's Irish Republic; Cudmore's Poems and Songs; Cudmore's Battle of Clontarf and Other Poems; Buchanan's Conspiracy, the Nicaragua Canal and Reciprocity; Cudmore's Cleveland's Mal-Administration; and other works.

CULBERSON, DAVID B., was born Sept. 29, 1830, in Troupe county, Ga. He was elected to the Texas legislature in 1859. He entered the confederate army in 1862 as a private, and rose to be an adjutant-general, with the rank of colonel. In 1864 he was elected to the legislature of Texas, and subsequently to the state senate. In 1874 he was elected a representative from Texas to the forty-fourth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third, and fifty-fourth congresses as a democrat.

CULBERTSON, KENNEDY RUSSELL, soldier, iron manufacturer, was born May 12, 1840, in Knightstown, Ind. He is one of the owners of the Cherokee iron works in Alabama; is one of the most skillful and successful iron men in the country; and has been largely concerned, with his brother and others, in bringing about many valuable changes in iron manufacture.

CULBERTSON, MATTHEW SIMPSON, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 18, 1818, in Chambersburg, Pa. He was a presbyterian missionary to China; and is the author of Darkness in the Flowery Kingdom, or Religious Notions in North China. He died in August, 1862, in China.

CULBERTSON, WILLIAM C., farmer, lumberman, congressman, was born Nov. 25, 1825, in Erie county, Pa. He is a successful farmer and lumberman of Girard, Pa. He was elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

CULBERTSON, WILLIAM WIRT, soldier, state senator, congressman, was born Sept. 23, 1835, in Mifflin county, Pa. He removed to Ohio; entered the union army as a captain in 1861, and served three years. He was elected state senator, and served four years, and was elected a representative from Kentucky to the forty-eighth congress. He built and started the ferry at Ashland, Ky., and has been prominently identified with the business development of Kentucky.

CULBRETH, THOMAS, congressman, was born in Kent county, Del. He was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1817 to 1821.

CULLEN, ELISHA D., congressman, was born in Delaware. He was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-fourth congress.

CULLEN, WILLIAM, farmer, journalist, congressman, was born March 4, 1826, in Ireland. In 1846 he moved to Illinois, and was sheriff of La Salle county, and held other local offices. He became part owner and senior editor of the Ottawa Republican newspaper. He was elected a representative from Illinois to the forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses as a republican.

CULLOM, ALVAN, lawyer, congressman, was born in Kentucky. He served frequently in the legislature of Tennessee; was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1845 to 1847; and was a delegate to the peace congress of 1861.

CULLOM, SHELBY MOORE, lawyer, legislator, governor, United States senator, was born Nov. 22, 1829, in Wayne county, Ky. He was elected city attorney of Springfield; was elected a representative in the state legislature in 1856; was again elected to the legislature in 1860, and was chosen speaker. He was elected a representative from Illinois to the thirty-ninth congress, and re-elected both to the fortieth and forty-first congresses. He was again elected to the lower house of the state legislature in 1872, and again chosen speaker; was re-elected in 1874; and in 1876 was elected governor of Illinois for the term of four years, and was re-elected in 1880. In 1883 he was elected a senator of the United States for the term of six years from March 4, 1883, and resigned the office of governor. His term expires in 1901.

CULLOM, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1851 to 1855.

CULLUM, GEORGE WASHINGTON, soldier, author, was born Feb. 25, 1809, in New York city. He is a brevet major-general in the United States army; and the author of Military Bridges with India-Rubber Pontoons; Biographical Register of the Officers and Graduates of the United States Military academy at West Point, 1802-90; and System of Military Bridges. He died Feb. 28, 1892, in New York city.

CULPEPPER, JOHN, clergyman, congressman, was born in Anson county, N. C. He represented that state in congress from 1807 to 1808, when his seat was vacated by resolution of the house. He was re-elected, and served from 1813 to 1817, from 1819 to 1821, and from 1823 to 1825. He was a baptist preacher; and was elected to the general assembly, but his seat was vacated on constitutional grounds.

CULVER, CHARLES VERNON, business man, congressman, was born Sept. 6, 1830, in Logan, Ohio. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the thirty-ninth congress.

CULVER, ERASTUS D., congressman, was born in New York. He served in the assembly of New York in 1838 and 1841; and was a representative in congress from New York from 1845 to 1847.

CULWER, DANIEL, pioneer, was born in 1793 in Maryland. He was the first American that went to upper California, and the first that built a house in San Francisco (on the same ground now occupied by the Palace hotel). He was also the founder of the town of Santa Barbara. He died in 1857 in California.

CULYER, JOHN YAPP, civil engineer, was born May 18, 1839, in New York city. He has acted in the capacity of associate engineer to the Albany parks, to the parks and the riverside improvement in Chicago, and to the state capitol grounds in Nashville.

CUMBACK, WILL, educator, lawyer, congressman, poet, was born March 24, 1829, in Franklin county, Ind. He taught school for one or two years; attended the law school at Cincinnati, and adopted the legal profession; and was elected a representative from Indiana in the thirty-fourth congress. He was a presidential elector in 1861; and during that year was appointed an additional paymaster in the army. In 1868 he was elected lieutenant-governor of Indiana. He is also a successful lecturer and the author of a number of meritorious poems.

CUMMER, WELLINGTON WILLSON, lumberman, was born Oct. 21, 1846, in Canada. Among his investments are two lumber companies which are operating a large acreage of pine and cypress lands in Louisiana and Florida, and the Electric Light and Water company of Cadillac, Mich. He has been mayor of Cadillac, Mich.; a republican presidential elector in 1888; and a member of the school board for ten years.

CUMMING, ALFRED, governor, was born about 1802. He served as governor of Utah. He died Oct. 9, 1873, in Augusta, Ga.

CUMMING, KATE, author, was born in 1835 in Alabama. She is a resident of Mobile, prominent during the civil war as an organizer of field hospitals in the confederate army. She is the author of Hospital Life in Tennessee from the Battle of Shiloh to the End of the War.

CUMMING, THOMAS W., congressman, was born in Maryland. He was a representative in congress from New York during 1853-1855.

CUMMING, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a delegate from North Carolina to the continental congress in 1784.

CUMMINGS, A. B., naval officer, was born June 22, 1830, in Pennsylvania. He was a naval commander in the civil war, who died during the engagement of the batteries at Port Hudson. His self-forgetfulness after falling mortally wounded was nearly equal to that of the noted Sir Philip Sidney. He died March 14, 1863, at Port Hudson.

CUMMINGS, ALEXANDER, governor, was born in Pennsylvania. In 1865 he was appointed governor of the territory of Colorado.

CUMMINGS, ALEXANDER W., journalist. He is the editor and owner of The Derby Game Bird, of Derby, Ind. He has written extensively for the periodical press, and is a well-known bird fancier and poulterer.

CUMMINGS, ALFRED, soldier, was born Jan. 30, 1829, in Augusta, Ga. He was on the Utah expedition of 1859-60; and in 1861 resigned and was soon commissioned lieutenant-colonel in the confederate army. He rose to the rank of brigadier-general, and served until disabled by wounds received at the battle of Jonesboro, Ga., Aug. 31, 1864.

CUMMINGS, AMOS J., soldier, journalist, congressman, author, was born May 15, 1841, in Conklin, N. Y. He was sergeant-major in the twenty-sixth New Jersey regiment of infantry, second-brigade, second division, sixth corps, army of the Potomac; and received the congressional medal of honor for gallantry on the battlefield. He was editor of the Evening Sun when elected to the fiftieth congress. He declined a nomination, preferring to give his whole attention to editorial work. He was elected to the fifty-first congress to fill a vacancy caused by the death of Samuel Sullivan Cox; and was elected to the fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and was re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat. He is the author of Horace Greeley Campaign Songster; Sayings of Uncle Rufus; and Ziska Letters.

CUMMING, GILBERT W., lawyer, was born in 1817 in Delaware county, N. Y. He removed, in 1853, to Janesville, Wis., and in 1858 to Chicago. In September, 1861, he raised the fifty-first Illinois regiment, and was appointed its colonel.

CUMMINGS, ASA, clergyman, journalist, was born Sept. 29, 1791, in Andover, Mass. He attended Phillips academy of Andover, and graduated from Bowdoin college. He was a clergyman for six years, when he became editor of the Christian Mirror, and for thirty years was its editor. He died at sea June 5, 1856.

CUMMINGS, EBENEZER EDSON, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 9, 1800, in Claremont, N. H. He was president of the board of trustees of the New London institution from its beginning, and for some time a trustee of Colby university. He published several sermons, and left in manuscript The Baptist Ministry of New Hampshire for the First Century of our History. He died Feb. 22, 1886, in Concord.

CUMMINGS, EBENEZER HARLOW, clergyman, jurist, author, was born in 1790 in North Carolina. He was a clergyman and magistrate of Baltimore; and the author of Geography of Alabama; and History of the Late War (1820). He died Jan. 17, 1835, in Washington, D. C.

CUMMINGS, EPHRAIM, clergyman, author, was born in 1825 in Albany, N. Y. He served as chaplain in a Vermont regiment more than a year during the war. In 1872 and 1873 he was provisional professor of mental and moral philosophy in the college. He has published a volume, Birth and Baptism.

CUMMINGS, GEORGE J., educator, was born July 6, 1838, in Groton, N. H. He was fitted for college at the Kimball Union academy, and graduated from Dartmouth college in 1869. He has been associate teacher in the Kimball Union academy for six years, and then principal of the same institution for five years, resigning in 1880 to accept a similar position in the Monson academy. In 1885 he accepted the professorship of ancient languages, and the deanship of the preparatory department of the Howard university of Washington, D. C., which position he still fills.

CUMMINGS, HENRY J. B., soldier, journalist, lawyer, congressman, was born May 21, 1831, in Newton, N. J. He served with distinction through the civil war; was captain of the fourth regiment, Iowa volunteer infantry, in 1861-62; and colonel of the thirty-ninth regiment during 1862-65. He was twice solicitor of Winterset, Iowa; twice served as its mayor; and was twice county attorney of Madison county, Iowa. Since 1869 he has been the editor and proprietor of The Winterset Madsonian. He served with distinction as a member of the forty-fifth congress from the Des Moines district.

CUMMINGS, JEREMIAH W. D., clergyman, author, poet, was born April 5, 1823, in Washington, D. C. He was a popular Roman catholic clergyman of New York city; and the author of Italian Legends; Songs for Catholic Schools; Spiritual Progress; and The Silver Stole. He died Jan. 4, 1866, in New York.

CUMMINGS, JOHN, tanner, was born Feb. 26, 1785, in Woburn, Mass. He probably taught more young men the business of tanning, aiding them to establish themselves, than any other leather manufacturer in Massachusetts. He died June 8, 1867, in Woburn, Mass.

CUMMINGS, JOSEPH, educator, theologian, was born March 3, 1817, in Falmouth county, Maine. He was professor of theology in the Methodist general biblical institute in Concord, N. H.

CUMMINGS, JOSEPH FRANKLIN, soldier, educator, was born July 16, 1851, in Brownsville, Texas. In 1876 he graduated from the United States Military academy of West Point, N. Y.; and during 1876-83 was an officer in the United States cavalry. In 1883-86 he was railroading in Mexico; in 1886-88 was a teacher in the public school at Galveston, Texas; and since that time has been superintendent of public schools in Brownsville. In 1887 he received the thanks of Gen. George Crook in a general order for the capture of an Indian village.

CUMMINGS, JUSTELLE, poet, was born Dec. 19, 1848, in Falmouth, Maine. She is the author of Faith, a Story of Falmouth, in verse; and has contributed extensively to current literature. She is the widow of the late Isaac I. Cummings, a noted physician of Falmouth, Maine.

CUMMINGS, MARCUS FAYETTE, architect, author, was born March 11, 1836, in Utica, N. Y. For thirty years he was a successful architect in the city of Troy, N. Y. He is the author of Cummings' Architectural Details; Sanctum Shots; and associate author of Architecture, and Modern Architecture. He is now associate editor of Martha's Vineyard Herald, of Vineyard Haven, Mass.

CUMMINGS, MOSES, clergyman, journalist, was born about 1816 in Haverhill, Mass. From 1854 to 1862 he had editorial control of The Christian Messenger and The Palladium, the central organs of the sect of which he was a member. He died Jan. 6, 1867, in New York city.

CUMMINGS, THOMAS SEIR, artist, author, was born in 1804 in England. He was a New York artist who was author of the Historic Annals of the National Academy from its Foundation to 1865. He died in 1894.

CUMMINS, FRANCIS, educator, clergyman, was born in 1732 near Shippensburg, Pa. He filled the office of pastor to twenty parishes in different localities in Georgia and the Carolinas. In 1778 he was a member of the South Carolina convention held to decide upon the constitution of the United States, and voted for its adoption. He died Feb. 22, 1832, in Greensborough, Ga.

CUMMINS, GEORGE DAVID, bishop, was born Dec. 11, 1822, in Smyrna. While rector of Trinity church of Chicago, he was consecrated assistant bishop of Kentucky in 1866. In 1873 he resigned his office in the episcopal church, and became a member of what is known as the Reformed Episcopal church. His low church views were decided, and he took occasion to censure the ritualistic tendency and proceedings of some of the churches in the see of Kentucky. He died June 26, 1876, in Baltimore county, Md.

CUMMINS, HESTER V., educator, poet, was born April 6, 1862, in Crane's Grove, Ill. She has attained success in educational work in primary and kindergarten teaching in Minnesota. She is the author of two volumes of poems, and has contributed extensively to current literature.

CUMMINS, HOLMES, lawyer, legislator, was born Aug. 7, 1844, in Tipton county, Tenn. He served during the war in the confederate states army; was adjutant of the ninth Tennessee regiment, and adjutant of the brigade confederate states army. During 1872-76 he served as a representative in the Tennessee state legislature. For several years he was editor and owner of the Tipton Record of Covington, Tenn. He attained success as an able lawyer, and was the general counsel of the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern railroad, and of the Louisville, New Orleans and Texas railroad. He served as vice-president of the Memphis, Arkansas and Texas railroad; and as president of the Memphis, Paducah and Northern railroad. He always took an active part in public affairs; in 1878 he was chairman of the democratic state convention of Tennessee, and in 1892-96 was national democratic committeeman for Tennessee.

CUMMINS, JOHN, jurist, was born in Indiana. He was appointed an associate justice of the United States court for Idaho territory, residing at Boise City.

CUMMINS, JOHN D., congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative from Ohio during the thirtieth congress. He died Sept. 11, 1848, in Milwaukee, Wis.

CUMMINS, MARIA SUSANNA, author, was born April 10, 1827, in Salem, Mass. She was a famous novelist of Massachusetts, whose first book, The Lamplighter, enjoyed for a time a phenomenal popularity. Her subsequent stories include El Fureidis, a Tale of Palestine; Haunted Hearts; and Mabel Vaughan. She died Oct. 1, 1866, in Dorchester, Mass.

CUMMINS, MARY STUART, educator, philanthropist, was born May 31, 1854, in Jonesborough, Tenn. For four years she was state president for Montana of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, and is a member of the state board of charities and reforms for Montana.

CUNARD, LUDWELL M., soldier, farmer, litterateur, was born Dec. 31, 1834, in Loudon county, Va. He served as a union soldier during the civil war, and mustered out a lieutenant in the thirty-first regiment Ohio volunteer infantry. He has principally been engaged in agricultural pursuits, but has now retired from active work. He has taken a great interest in the public affairs of his county and state; and resides in Mt. Gilead, Ohio, where for many years he has given his attention to literary work.

CUNDELL, WILLIAM, poet, was born in July, 1816, in England. In 1850 he moved to Clinton county, Iowa, which was then quite a wilderness. His poems appear in Poets of America and other standard works.

CUNNINGHAM, E. W., lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 31, 1842, in Clarksfield, Ohio. He has served as probate judge of Lyon county, Kas.; has many times been a delegate to republican state conventions; has contributed valuable papers to various legal publications; and is prominently identified with the religious affairs of Emporia, Kas.

CUNNINGHAM, FRANCIS A., congressman, was born in South Carolina. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1845 to 1847.

CUNNINGHAM, JOHN DANIEL, lawyer, jurist, was born March 28, 1840, in Oak Bowery, Ala. In 1868 he was appointed judge of a state court of unlimited jurisdiction in Montgomery county, Ala. He became one of the leading fruit planters in Georgia.

CUNNINGHAM, WILLIAM LITTLETON, clergyman, educator, author, was born Feb. 26, 1869, near Mulberry Grove, Ill. He received his education at the McKendree university of Lebanon, Ill.; the Terre Haute Business college; and the Vandalia School of Stenography. For several years he was an instructor in stenography; has taught school; and was editor of the College Journal. He is a successful clergyman, and fills a pastorate at St. Elmo, Ill. He is the author of a work of fiction, and has contributed extensively to current periodicals.

CURLINE, J. V., educator, college president, was born Nov. 9, 1847, in Union City, Tenn. He received his education at the Kentucky university of Lexington; and has been a college president for a quarter of a century.

CURME, GEORGE OLIVER, educator, philologist, author, was born in 1860, in Richmond, Ind. During 1884-96 he was connected with Cornell college of Mount Vernon, Iowa, and now fills the chair of Germanic philology in the Northwestern university of Evanston, Ill. He is the author of a work entitled The Historic Grammar of the German Language, the largest and most extensive work of the kind in America.

CURRAN, CHARLES COURTNEY, artist, was born Feb. 13, 1861, in Hartford, Ky. This noted artist has received numerous awards. In 1893 he was awarded a medal at the World's Columbian exposition, and a medal at the Cotton States exposition at Atlanta.

CURREN, JAMES E., journalist, was born July 4, 1855, in Dubnque, Iowa. He started in life as a practical printer, and has been the editor and founder of a score of different country newspapers in the west. He is now the editor and owner of The Enterprise, of Clayton, N. M.

CUREY, AUGUSTUS, poet, was born Dec. 17, 1836, in Detroit, Mich. In 1863 he became connected with the Western Union Telegraph company, and with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad at Chicago, and remained in that city for nearly twenty years. He then returned to Detroit, Mich., where he is manager of the Detroit Car Service association. He has contributed numerous meritorious poems to leading publications, and have also appeared in Poets of America and other standard collections. He is also the author of a volume of poems entitled The Sower.

CUREY, JOHN THOMAS, farmer, horticulturist, legislator, financier, was born Oct. 28, 1837, in Harrodsburg, Ky. He received the rudiments of his education in the common schools, and graduated from the Asbury university of Greencastle, Ind. He commenced life as a day laborer, and now owns a farm of two thousand acres, fifty acres of which are in orchards. He has served as a member of the Texas state legislature in the house of representatives for four sessions, thus devoting eight years of his time to the management of the state revenues and appropriations, educational and stock interests. He has been president of the Farmers' County Alliance of Van Zandt county, Texas, and has been vice-president of the Dallas state fair.

CURRIER, FRANK DUNKLEE, legislator, was born Oct. 30, 1853, in Canaan, N. H. He served with distinction in the New Hampshire state senate in 1887, and was made president of that body. He still resides in the place of his nativity, and his portrait hangs in the new library building of the state capitol.

CURRIER, MOODY, educator, lawyer, banker, governor, poet, was born April 22, 1806, in Boscawen, N. H. He established the Amoskeag National bank and the Amoskeag Savings bank in Manchester, N. H. He was for several years a member of the city government of Manchester; was twice clerk of the state senate of New Hampshire; and served two terms as a state senator. He was twice a member of the governor's council; was a presidential elector in 1876; and in 1884 was elected governor of New Hampshire for two years from June, 1885.

CURRY, DANIEL, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 26, 1809, in Peekskill, N. Y. He was a methodist divine of note; and the author of New York, an Historical Sketch; Life Story of Rev. D. W. Clark; Fragments, Religious and Theological; and Platform Papers. He died Aug. 17, 1887, in New York city.

CURRY, GEORGE LAW, journalist, governor, was born July 2, 1820, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1846 he moved to Oregon, and two years later founded the Oregon Free Press, the first weekly paper on the Pacific coast. In 1849 he was appointed the first secretary of the territory. In 1854 he was appointed governor of Oregon territory, which office he filled until 1859, when the territory was admitted as a state. He died July 28, 1878, in Portland, Ore.

CURRY, JABEZ LAMAR MONROE, soldier, educator, clergyman, legislator, author, was born June 5, 1825, in Lincoln county, Ga. He attended the academies in Georgia and Alabama, and subsequently received the degree of LL. D. from the university of Georgia; and was a graduate of the Harvard Law school. He served as a representative in the state legislature of Alabama; and was a member of congress during 1857-61. He served as a member of the confederate congress; and during the war was a lieutenant-colonel of a cavalry regiment. He has been president of Howard college, Ala.; professor in Richmond college; and was president of trustees of Richmond college. He has served as a minister plenipotentiary to Spain; and has been trustee and general manager of the John F. Slater fund, and the Peabody Education fund. He is the author of Baptists and Pedobaptists, their Radical Differences in Faith and Practice; Constitutional Government in Spain; Gladstone, a Study; and Southern States of the American Union.

CURRY, JAMES L., soldier, lumberman, state senator, was born Dec. 30, 1825, in Enfield, N. Y. He served from 1861 to 1864 in an Ohio regiment, rising to the rank of colonel. He was a Michigan representative from Genesee county in 1869-70, and state senator in 1873-74.

CURRY, JOHN ROAKE, merchant, journalist, legislator, was born Nov. 5, 1847, in Yorktown, N. Y. He served as a member of the sixth general assembly of Colorado; was clerk in the district court of Montezuma county, Colo.; and a pioneer newspaper publisher. He is now a successful merchant of Cortez, Colo.

CURRY, OTWAY, journalist, poet, was born March 26, 1804, in Greenfield, Ohio. He was an Ohio journalist who published Love of the Past, a poem. He died Feb. 17, 1855, in Maysville, Ohio.

CURRY, ROBERT-PEASE, business man, legislator, was born Aug. 3, 1848, in Holderness, N. H. He is a successful shoe manufacturer; for many years has been postmaster, justice of the peace, and a member of the board of education of his native city. He is also serving as a representative in the New Hampshire state legislature.

CURRY, SAMUEL SILAS, educator, author, was born in 1847, in Tennessee. He is an educator of Boston whose specialty is the culture of expression; and the author of The Province of Expression; Lessons in Vocal Expression; and Imagination and Dramatic Instinct.

CURRY, SOLOMON S., business man, legislator, was born June 12, 1839, in Canada. In 1862 he moved to northern Michigan and engaged in mining, and also in exploring for the Sault Ste. Marie Canal company, and subsequently explored for the same company at Marquette. In 1879 he went to Menominee, where he opened the Curry mine, and subsequently the Beauford mine. He has been identified with Ironwood, and was one of its founders. He was the first president of the First National bank of that city; established and was first president of the People's bank; and is president of the Metropolitan Iron and Land company. In 1875 he represented Marquette county in the Michigan state legislature, and in 1886 was the democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor.

CURRY, THOMAS ALLAN, lawyer, was born Dec. 28, 1869, in Kempville, Ala. He received his education at the Howard college of Birmingham, Ala. He has attained success as an able lawyer of Clantou, Ala., and has served as prosecuting attorney for Chilton county.

CURRY, WALKER, physician, surgeon, was born Oct. 24, 1835, in Lincoln county, Ga. He served in the civil war; in 1862 was promoted to surgeon; and was given charge of a general hospital in Jackson, Miss. In 1869 he moved to New York city, where he soon acquired a lucrative practice.

CURTIN, ANDREW GREGG, lawyer, congressman, governor, was born April 22, 1815, in Bellefonte, Pa. In 1855-58 he was secretary of state and superintendent of common schools for Pennsylvania. In 1860 he was elected governor; and was re-elected governor in 1863, and was active in the election of Gen. Grant to the presidency, by whom he was appointed minister to Russia in 1869. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-seventh, forty-eighth, and forty-ninth congresses as a democrat.

CURTIN, JEREMIAH, author, was born in 1838 in Milwaukee, Wis. He is the author of Myths and Folk-Lore of Ireland; Hero Tales of Ireland; Tales of the Fairies and the Ghost World, collected from Oral Tradition in South Munster; Myths and Folk-Tales of the Russians, Western Slavs, and Magyars. His translations include Tales of Three Centuries, from the Russian of Zagoskin; and The Romances of Sienkiewicz, from the Polish.

CURTIS, ALVA, physician, author, was born June 3, 1797, in Columbia, N. H. He was an Ohio physician and medical writer; and the author of Medical Discussions; Lectures on Midwifery; Theory and Practice of Medicine; and Medical Criticisms. He died in 1881, in Ohio.

CURTIS, BENJAMIN ROBBINS, lawyer, legislator, jurist, author, was born Nov. 4, 1809, in Watertown, Mass. He settled in Boston in 1834; and served two years in the state legislature. In 1851 he was appointed a justice of the supreme court of the United States, which position he resigned in 1857. In March, 1868, he acted as one of the counsel for President Andrew Johnson, before the high court of impeachment. He was the author of Reports of Cases in the Circuit Courts of the United States; United States Supreme Court Decisions; and Digest and Decisions of United States Supreme Court. He died Sept. 15, 1874, in Newport, R. I.

CURTIS, BENJAMIN ROBBINS, jurist, author, was born in 1855 in Massachusetts. He was a municipal court judge of Boston; and the author of Dotting's Round the Circle, a volume of travels. He died in 1891.

CURTIS, CARLTON B., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 17, 1811, in Madison county, N. Y. He was elected to the legislature in 1836, 1837 and 1838, and was elected to the thirty-second and thirty-third congresses. He served in the war of the rebellion as colonel of a Pennsylvania regiment. He was elected to the forty-third congress. He died March 17, 1883, in Erie, Pa.

CURTIS, MRS. CAROLINE GARDINER, author, was born in 1827 in New York. She is the author of From Madge to Margaret; and The Love of a Lifetime.

CURTIS, CHARLES, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 25, 1860, in North Topeka, Kas. He was elected county attorney of Shawnee county in 1884 for a term of two years and was re-elected in 1886. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

CURTIS, EDWARD, lawyer, congressman, was born in Vermont. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1837 to 1841; and was appointed collector of New York by President Harrison.

CURTIS, EDWARD, physician, author, was born June 4, 1838, in Providence, R. I. He is a physician of New York who has published Manual of General Medical Technology.

CURTIS, FREDERIC C., soldier, educator, physician, was born Oct. 19, 1843, in Unionville, S. C. He served in the civil war as private in the forty-first Wisconsin regiment; in 1872 was appointed physician to Albany; in 1877 lecturer in the summer course of the Albany Medical college; and in 1880 was professor of dermatology in the college.

CURTIS, GEORGE, banker, was born about 1793 in Massachusetts. He was appointed president of the Continental Bank of New York. He died in 1856 in Jacksonville, Fla.

CURTIS, GEORGE M., manufacturer, congressman, was born April 1, 1844, near Oxford, N. Y. He moved to Clinton,

Iowa, in 1867, since which time he has been engaged in the manufacture of doors, sash, blinds and lumber. He was a member of the twenty-second general assembly of Iowa; and delegate to the republican national convention in 1892. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

CURTIS, GEORGE TICKNOR, lawyer, author, was born Nov. 28, 1812, in Watertown, Mass. He was an eminent lawyer of New York city, well known as a legal writer and biographer. He was the author of Digest of English and American Admiralty Decisions; Digest of Decisions of Courts of Common Law and Admiralty in the United States; American Conveyancer; Law of Patents; Equity Precedents; Inventor's Manual; Law of Copyright; Rights and Duties of Merchant Seamen; Commentaries on the Jurisprudence, Practice, and Peculiar Jurisdiction of United States Courts; A History of the Constitution of the United States; Life of James Buchanan; Life of Daniel Webster; Creation or Evolution; Last Years of Daniel Webster; and John Charaxes, a novel. He died in 1894.

CURTIS, GEORGE W., poet, was born Feb. 18, 1858, in Garden Valley, Wis. He is the author of a number of meritorious poems which have appeared in various Wisconsin publications. He is in the hotel business at Duluth.

CURTIS, GEORGE WILLIAM, journalist, lecturer, author, was born Feb. 24, 1824, in Providence, R. I. To Putnam's

Monthly he contributed The Potiphar Papers, a spirited satire upon society; and Prue and I, a story far superior to his more ambitious novel, Trumps. For thirty-five years he filled the Easy Chair department of Harper's Monthly, and from 1863-92 he was the political editor of Harper's Weekly. Besides the volumes already named, his writings include Nile Notes of a Howadji; Lotus Eating; The Howadji in Syria; James Russell Lowell, an Address; Eulogy on Wendell Phillips; From the Easy Chair; and Literary and Social Essays. He died Aug. 31, 1892, on Staten Island, N. Y.

CURTIS, HARVEY, clergyman, college president, was born May 30, 1806, in Adams, N. Y. From 1843 till 1858 he held pastorates in Madison, Ind., and Chicago, Ill. He was chosen president of Knox college at Galesburg, Ill., in 1858. He died Sept. 18, 1862, in Galesburg, Ill.

CURTIS, JAMES LANGDON, presidential candidate, was born Feb. 19, 1816, in Stratford, Conn. He was nominated by the labor party for governor of Connecticut in 1884, and in 1888 became the candidate of the national American party for president.

CURTIS, JEREMIAH, manufacturer, was born in 1804, in Hampden, Maine. He established a bank in Calais, Maine, and later built the first railroad in Maine, from Calais to Middletown, and accepted the abolition nomination for governor of his state. The owner of several formulas for medicines, he manufactured largely, and from the sale of Winslow's Soothing Syrup, Brown's Bronchial Troches, etc., amassed a large fortune. He died March 24, 1883, in New York city.

CURTIS, JULIUS B., lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born Dec. 10, 1825, in Newton, Conn. He was appointed probate judge for the district of Stamford in 1867, and held the office for three successive elections. He was elected judge of the borough of Stamford in 1867, and as such acted as judge of the court of common pleas in Fairfield county. He was elected to the senate of Connecticut in 1850, and again in 1860.

CURTIS, LEMUEL J., manufacturer, philanthropist, was born Jan. 15, 1814, in Meriden, Conn. Engaging in the manufacture of this ware, he was in 1852 one of the organizers of the Meriden Britannia company. He accumulated a large fortune by diligent industry, and at his death in 1888 left between $700,000 and $800,000 to found an asylum for destitute children and old women, which he called Curtis home and is located in Meriden.

CURTIS, MOSES ASHLEY, botanist, author, was born in 1808, in Massachusetts. He was a botanist and episcopal clergyman of North Carolina; and the author of Edible Fungi of North Carolina; Contributions to Mycology of North America; Catalogue of the Plants of North Carolina; Esculent Fungi; and Indigenous and Native Plants of North Carolina. He died in 1872.

CURTIS, NEWTON MARTIN, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born May 21, 1835, in Depeyster, N. Y. He was appointed major-general by brevet for gallant and meritorious services during the war and assigned duty as chief of staff of Major-General Ord. He was a member of the assembly from 1884 to 1890, inclusive; and was elected to the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses, and re-elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican.

CURTIS, SAMUEL IVES, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 5, 1844, in Union, Conn. He is a congregational clergyman and professor in the Theological seminary of Chicago. He is the author of The Name Maccabee; The Levitical Priests; Ingersoll and Moses; and The Date of our Gospels.

CURTIS, SAMUEL RYAN, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 3, 1807, in Ohio. He studied and practiced law in Ohio. He was elected in 1835 as a member of the house of representatives in the thirty-fifth congress; and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh congresses. He resigned in 1861 to serve as a brigadier and major-general in the union army during the rebellion. He died Dec. 25, 1866, in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

CURTIS, THOMAS, clergyman, was born in 1780, in England. He was pastor for some years in Charleston, S. C., and subsequently established a young ladies' school at Limestone Spring. He died in 1858.

CURTIS, THOMAS F., clergyman, author, was born Sept. 26, 1815, in England. He was a baptist divine who was for some years president of Lewisburg university, Pennsylvania. He was the author of Progress of Baptist Principles in the Last Hundred Years (1857); and The Human Element in the Inspiration of the Sacred Scriptures, a work which occupies the Colenso position on the subject and is in places more advanced. He died Aug. 9, 1872, in Cambridge, Mass.

CURTIS, WILLIAM EDMUND, lawyer, jurist, was born in 1824, in Litchfield, Conn. In 1871 he was elected judge of the New York supreme court, and at the time of his death was chief justice of the superior court. He died July 6, 1880, in Watertown, Conn.

CURTIS, WILLIAM ELEROY, journalist, author, was born Nov. 5, 1850, in Akron, Ohio. He was envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the republic of Central and South America; special envoy to the vatican; special envoy to the court of Spain, and executive officer international American conference. He is the author of The United States and Foreign Powers; Life of Zachariah Chandler; The Capitals of Spanish America; The Land of the Nihilist; Venezuela; The Yankees of the East; and Japan Sketches.

CURTIS, WILLIAM WOODSIDE, educator, author, was born Dec. 22, 1858, in Freeport, Maine. He has been principal of high schools in Maine and Massachusetts; and is now principal of the high school of Pawtucket, R. I. He is one of the authors of the English Classics Series; and contributes extensively to current literature.

CURTISS, MRS. ABBEY, poet, was born Sept. 15, 1820, in Pomfret, Conn. She is the author of a volume of poems entitled Home Ballads.

CURTISS, FRANK H., educator, college president, was born Oct. 2, 1857, in Coldwater, Mich. In 1879 he graduated from the New York Normal school; and was instructor in the training department of that institution for two years. For two years he was president of the Brunson Military academy, South Carolina; for four years was president of the Aiken institute, South Carolina; and for one year was president of the Thomasville Female college, North Carolina. He has taught in the city schools of Titusville, Pa., and Kansas City, Mo.; and for the past seven years has been superintendent of city schools of Shelby, Tenn.

CURTISS, GEORGE LEWIS, educator, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 21, 1835, in Columbia, Ohio. He attended the Baldwin university of Berea, Ohio, and the Medical college of Indiana. For two years he filled the chair of mathematics in Moore's Hill college; for ten years filled the same chair in the Medical college of Indiana; for seven years was professor of historical theology in the De Pauw university; and for six years was professor of diseases of the nervous system in the Medical college of the New Orleans university. During all this time he filled pastorates in the Methodist Episcopal church; and now fills a pastorate in Columbus, Ind. He is the author of Monograph on Methodism; Sketches from the Romances of American History; Manual of Methodist Episcopal Church History; Evolution of Christian Doctrine; Interrogatory Studies of the Bible; and A Study of the Constitution of the Metho- dist Episcopal church. He has received the degrees of A. M., M. D. and D. D.

CURTISS, MARILLA S., poet, was born May 27, 1822, in Oswego, N. Y. Her poems have appeared in the leading newspapers and magazines of America, and have been a valuable acquisition to current literature.

CURTISS, ROMAINE J., physician, surgeon, was born Oct. 1, 1840, in Richland county, Ohio. He has been professor of bacteriology, hygiene and general pathology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Chicago. He has attained eminent success as a physician and surgeon at Joliet, Ill., where he is surgeon in charge of St. Joseph's hospital; health commissioner; and surgeon to the Joliet Steel company.

CURWEN, SAMUEL, author, was born in 1715, in Massachusetts. He was a loyalist who lived in England during the American revolution, but returned after its close to his native town of Salem. While an exile he kept a journal which contains much valuable information concerning loyalist exiles. It was first published in 1842, with the title Journal and Letters of the Late Samuel Curwen, Judge of Admiralty, an American Refugee in England, 1775-1784. He died in 1802.

CUSACK, MARY E., philanthropist, was born in 1830. She is known as The Nun of Kenmare.

CUSHING, CALEB, lawyer, jurist, congressman, author, was born Jan. 17, 1800, in Salisbury, Mass.

In 1825 and 1826 he served in the state legislature. He was a representative in congress from 1835 to 1843; was appointed, by President Tyler, commissioner and envoy to China, and as such negotiated an important treaty. In 1846 he was elected to the legislature; in 1847 was chosen colonel of the Massachusetts regiment of volunteers for the Mexican war; and was afterward appointed a brigadier-general. In 1850 he was for the fifth time elected to the legislature; and in 1851 was made a justice of the supreme court of the state. He was attorney-general from 1853-57. He was again elected to the legislature of his native state. He was the author of Historical and Political Review of the Late Revolution in France, 1833; Practical Principles of Political Economy; Life of William Henry Harrison; Growth and Territorial Progress of the United States, 1837; Reminiscences of Spain; History of Newburyport; and The Treaty of Washington. He died Jan. 2, 1879, in Newburyport, Mass.

CUSHING, FRANK HAMILTON, ethnologist, author, was born July 22, 1857, in Northeast, Pa. He was curator of the entire Indian collection of the National museum for the centennial exposition at Philadelphia. In 1879 he was assistant ethnologist of the United States bureau of ethnology of the Smithsonian institution.

CUSHING, JONATHAN PETER, educator, college president, was born March 12, 1793, in Rochester, N. H. He became a tutor in Hampden Sydney college in 1818, and professor of chemistry and natural philosophy two years later. This chair he held for two years, when he became the president of the college. He died April 25, 1835, in Raleigh, N. C.

CUSHING, LUTHER STEARNS, lawyer, jurist, author, was born June 22, 1803, in Lunenburg, Mass. He was a well-known authority on parliamentary practice and a Massachusetts jurist who was lecturer on Roman law in Harvard university in 1848-56. He was the author of Massachusetts Reports, 1848-53; Manual of Parliamentary Practice; Trustee Process; Remedial Law; Reports of Controverted Election Cases in Massachusetts; Introduction to the study of Roman Civil Law; Elements of the Law and Practice of Legislative Assemblies in the United States; Lex Parliamentaria Americana; and Rules of Proceeding and Debates in the Deliberative Assemblies. He died June 22, 1856, in Boston, Mass.

CUSHING, RICHARDSON ERNEST, educator, librarian, was born Feb. 9, 1857. He graduated from Amherst college in 1880; and subsequently from the Hartford Theological seminary. He is engaged in educational work, and fills a chair in the Hartford Theological seminary. He is also librarian of the Princeton university, New Jersey.

CUSHING, THOMAS, patriot, was born March 24, 1725, in Boston, Mass. He was so prominent a member of the colonial congress that he was regarded in Great Britain as one of the leaders of sedition. He died Feb. 28, 1788, in Boston, Mass.

CUSHING, THOMAS HUMPHREY, soldier, was born in 1755. He served during the revolutionary war, beginning as a sergeant; was in Arnold's naval battle on Lake Champlain, and for his bravery was successively advanced until in 1812 he had reached a brigadier-generalship. He died Oct. 19, 1822, in New London, Conn.

CUSHING, THOMAS PARKMAN, merchant, was born in 1787, in Ashburnham, Mass. He was a successful merchant and philanthropist of Boston, Mass. He died Nov. 23, 1854, in Boston, Mass.

CUSHING, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, was born March 1, 1732, in Scituate, Mass. In 1772 he became judge of the superior court of Massachusetts; in 1777 was promoted to chief judge; and in 1789 was appointed, by President Washington, a justice of the supreme court of the United States, in which position he continued until his death. He died Sept. 13, 1810, in Scituate, Mass.

CUSHING, WILLIAM, author, was born May 15, 1811, in Lunenburg, Mass. He went to Cambridge in 1868, became library assistant in the Harvard library, and since 1878 was engaged in literary pursuits. His published books are Index to the North American Review; Index to the Christian Examiner; Initials and Pseudonyms; and Anonyms. He died in 1895.

CUSHMAN, CHARLOTTE SAUNDERS, actress, was born July 23, 1816, in Boston, Mass. She is generally admitted to be the greatest of American actresses and readers, and by her stainless life, worked for the elevation of the stage. Her farewell to the stage was a great ovation, and she received from the noble and venerable poet Bryant, a laurel crown. She died Feb. 18, 1876, in Boston, Mass.

CUSHMAN, JOHN PAINE, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1784, in Pomfret, Conn. He served in congress from New York from 1817 to 1819; and in 1838 was appointed judge of the circuit court, having previously been recorder of the city of Troy, and one of the regents of the state university. He died Sept. 16, 1848, in Troy, N. Y.

CUSHMAN, JOSHUA, state senator, congressman, was born in Plymouth,

Mass. He was a state senator in 1809, 1810, 1819 and 1820, and a member of the assembly in 1811 and 1834. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1819 to 1821; and represented Maine in congress from 1821 to 1825, after its separation from Massachusetts. He died in 1834.

CUSHMAN, PAULINE, actress, spy, was born June 10, 1833, in New Orleans, La. She was employed by the government as a detective to discover the southern sympathizers and spies in Louisville, and their methods of conveying information and medical supplies across the lines, and frequently also as a scout.

CUSHMAN, SAMUEL, jurist, congressman, was born in 1783. He was judge of the police court of Portsmouth, N. H.; held several offices of trust in the state, such as councilor from 1833 to 1835, county treasurer from 1823 to 1828, and navy agent at Portsmouth from 1845 to 1849. He was a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1835 to 1839. He died May 20, 1851, in Portsmouth, N. H.

CUSHMAN, SETH LEONARD, banker, was born Aug. 13, 1849, in Taunton, Mass. For many years he served as a book-keeper in a large mercantile house. He then entered the banking business, and since 1877 has been president of the Bristol county National bank of Taunton, Mass.

CUSSONS, JOHN, explorer, journalist, author, was born April 6, 1837, in Horn-castle, England. He came to Virginia in April, 1861, as lieutenant in the governor's guard, fourth Alabama regiment. He scouted for Gen. Bernard until the death of that officer. He was then assigned to scouting by Gen. Whiting until appointed on the staff of Gen. Law, at the battle of Seven Pines; and served with distinction throughout the war. He is an honored member of the Richmond Chamber of Commerce; member of the history committee; grand commander of the confederate veterans of Virginia; and founder of Glen Allen, near Richmond, Va., where he has a beautiful country seat called Forest Lodge.

CUSTER, MRS. ELIZABETH, author, was born in Monroe, Mich., and was the wife of the late Gen. George A. Custer. She is the author of Boots and Saddles, or Life in Dakota with General Custer; Tenting on the Plains, or General Custer in Kansas and Texas; and Following the Guidon.

CUSTER, GEORGE ARMSTRONG, general, author, was born Dec. 5, 1839, in New Rumley, Ohio. He was a famous general in the federal army during the civil war, who afterwards became noted in campaigns against the Indians, and was killed with his entire command in a battle with the Sioux in the Black Hills. My Life on the Plains was his only publication. He died June 25, 1876, in Montana. Mrs. Elizabeth Custer, his wife, is a noted author.

CUSTER, THOMAS WARD, soldier, was born March 15, 1845, in New Rumley, Ohio. He enlisted as a private in an Ohio regiment, and served in the west until he was made aide-de-camp on his brother's staff, then with the army of the Potomac. He died June 25, 1876, in Montana.

CUSTIS, GEORGE WASHINGTON PARKE, author, was born April 30, 1781, in Mount Airy, Md. He was an adopted son of General Washington; and the author of Recollections of Washington. He died Oct. 10, 1857, in Arlington House, Va.

CUSTIS, J. B. GREGG, homœopathic physician, was born Sept. 20, 1855, in Wilmington, Del. He spent his youth in New Jersey and there attended private schools. In 1875 he graduated from the Columbian university of Washington, D. C., with the degree of A. B.; and in 1878 from the Homœopathic Medical college and hospital. He has been professor of obstetrics in the Southern Homœopathic Medical college of Baltimore; president of the Alumni association of the New York Homœopathic Medical college and hospital; president of the homœopathic board of medical examiners of Washington, D. C., and is now president of the American Institute of Homœopathy in that city.

CUTBUSH, JAMES, chemist, educator, author, was born in Pennsylvania. He was professor of chemistry at West Point. He published the Useful Cabinet, 1808; Philosophy of Experimental Chemistry; and Treatise on Pyrotechnics. He died Dec. 15, 1823, in West Point, N. Y.

CUTCHEON, BYRON M., was born May 11, 1836, in Pembroke, N. H. He served in the civil war; was assigned to the command of the second brigade, first division, ninth army corps, army of the Potomac, in 1864; and was mustered out in 1865. He was a member of the board of control of railroads of Michigan in 1866-83; was presidential elector in 1868; was city attorney in 1870-71; was county attorney in 1873-74; was regent of the Michigan university in 1875-83; was postmaster at Manistee City in 1877-83; and was elected to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth, and fiftieth congresses, and was re-elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican. During 1895-96 he was an editorial writer on the Detroit Daily Tribune; and since 1896 he has practiced law in Grand Rapids, Mich.

CUTHBERT, ALFRED, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born about 1781, in Savannah, Ga. He was first elected to the state legislature, then a representative from Georgia in the thirteenth and fourteenth congresses, serving till 1816, when he resigned. He was again elected to the seventeenth, eighteenth and nineteenth congresses, serving from 1821 till 1827. He was elected United States senator from Georgia to fill a vacancy, and was re-elected for a full term, serving from 1835 till 1843. He died July 9, 1856, near Monticello, Ga.

CUTHBERT, JAMES HAZARD, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 13, 1823, in Beaufort, S. C. He is a baptist clergyman of Washington; and the author of Our Mission as Baptists; and Life of Richard Fuller.

CUTHBERT, JOHN A., congressman, was born June 3, 1788, in Savannah, Ga. He was a representative in congress from his native state from 1818 to 1821; and was appointed in 1822 a commissioner to treat with the Creek and Cherokee Indians. He died Sept. 22, 1881, in Mobile, Ala.

CUTLER, AUGUSTUS W., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1829, in Morristown, N. J. He was a prosecutor for Morris county; in 1871 was elected to the state senate; and in 1874 was elected a representative from New Jersey to the forty-fourth congress, and was re-elected to the forty-fifth congress.

CUTLER, CARROLL, fourth president of Western Reserve and Adelbert college, was born Jan. 31, 1829, in Windham, N. H. He was elected to the chair of philosophy and ethics in the Western Reserve college in 1860, and became president in 1871. During his administration the college was removed from Hudson to Cleveland, Ohio, and its name changed to Adelbert college. He served as its president until 1886. He is the author of The Beginning of Ethics, and other works. He died Jan. 25, 1894, in Talladega, Ala.

CUTLER, ELBRIDGE JEFFERSON, educator, poet, was born Dec. 28, 1831, in Holliston, Mass. He was a professor of modern languages at Harvard university in 1865-1870; and the author of War Poems; and Stella. He died Dec. 27, 1887, in Cambridge, Mass.

CUTLER, MRS. HANNAH MARIA, physician, author, was born Dec. 25, 1815, in Becket, Mass. She is a prominent woman suffragist who became a physician in 1879, and practiced in Cobden, Ill. She is the author of Woman as She Was, Is, and Should Be; Phyllis, or A Woman's Question; and The Fortunes of Michael Doyle, or Home Rule for Ireland.

CUTLER, HENRY STEPHEN, musician, was born Oct. 7, 1824, in Boston, Mass. He was organist and choir-master in Trinity church, N. Y., from 1860 to 1868. He compiled The Psalter, with Chants; Trinity Psalter; and Trinity Anthems.

CUTLER, JERVIS, pioneer, author, was born Sept. 19, 1768, in Edgartown, Mass. He was a western pioneer who published Topographical Description of the Western Country. He died June 25, 1844, in Evansville, Ind.

CUTLER, MRS. LIZZIE PETIT, author, was born in 1836, in Milton, Va. She is the author of Light and Darkness; Household Mysteries, a romance of Southern life; and The Stars of the Crowd, or Men and Women of the Day.

CUTLER, LYSANDER, soldier, was born about 1806 in Maine. He offered his services to the government at the beginning of the civil war, and was given command of the sixth Wisconsin regiment. Subsequently he was in command of the Iron Brigade of the army of the Potomac, to which his regiment was attached, and won the promotion of brigadier-general and afterward major-general. He died July 30, 1866, in Milwaukee, Wis.

CUTLER, MANASSEH, clergyman, congressman, was born May 3, 1742, in Killingly, Conn. He was one of the first scientific explorers of the White mountains; and in 1787 he organized an expedition to the northwest territory. He served a number of years in the legislature; was pastor of the church at Hamilton, Mass., until his death; and in 1800 he was elected to a seat in congress, and retained it until 1804. He died July 28, 1823, in Hamilton, Mass.

CUTLER, NATHAN, governor, was born May 29, 1775, in Lexington, Mass. In 1828 and 1829 he was a member of the Maine senate from Kennebec county. In 1829 he was president of that body, by virtue of which office he became governor for the unexpired term of Gov. Lincoln. He died June 8, 1861, in Farmington, Maine.

CUTLER, TIMOTHY, clergyman, was born in 1683 in Charlestown, Mass. From 1719-22 he was rector of Yale college. He died Aug. 17, 1765, in Boston, Mass.

CUTLER, WILLIAM P., railroad president, congressman, was born July 12, 1813, near Marietta, Ohio. He was elected to the Ohio legislature in 1844, 1845 and 1846, officiating as speaker of the house during the last term. He was a member of the constitutional convention of 1850; and from that period until elected to congress was president of the Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad company. He was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-seventh congress.

CUTT, CHARLES, lawyer, United States senator, was born Jan. 31, 1769, in Portsmouth, N. H. In 1804 he was elected to the New Hampshire legislature, becoming speaker of that body during the same year. He was elected a senator from New Hampshire. He died Jan. 25, 1846, in Portsmouth, N. H.

CUTTS, RICHARD, state legislator, congressman, was born June 22, 1771, on Cutts Island, near Saco, Maine. After serving two terms as a member of the general court of Massachusetts, he was elected in 1800 a member of the house of representatives of the United States, and served through six successive congresses as a democrat. In 1813 he was appointed superintendent of military supplies, and during 1817-29 was second comptroller of the treasury. He died April 7, 1845, in Washington, D. C.

CUTT, RICHARD DOMINICUS, soldier, surveyor, was born Sept. 21, 1817, in Washington, D. C. In 1855 he was appointed United States surveyor upon the international fisheries commission for the settlement of the limits of the fishing grounds between the United States and the British dominions in North America. In the civil war he was on the staff of Gen. Henry W. Halleck, and received the brevet rank of brigadier-general of volunteers in March, 1865. He died Dec. 13, 1883, in Washington, D. C.

CUTTER, CALVIN, physician, surgeon, author, was born May 1, 1807, in Jaffrey, N. H. He commanded forces in Kansas in 1856; and was president of the military council of that state. During 1861-64 he was surgeon of the twenty-first regiment Massachusetts volunteer infantry. He was the author of Cutter's Physiology. He died March 25, 1880, in Greene, Maine.

CUTTER, CHARLES AMMI, librarian, author, was born March 14, 1837, in Boston, Mass. In 1855 he graduated from Harvard; and since 1869 has been librarian of the Boston Athenæum. He has prepared a new classification for libraries; and written Rules for a Printed Dictionary Catalogue. He is also the author of Boston Athenæum: How to Get Books, with an explanation of the new way of marking books; and has edited Catalogue of the Library of the Boston Athenæum, in five volumes. Since 1881 he has edited the Library Journal of New York city.

CUTTER, EPHRAIM, physician, inventor, was born Sept. 1, 1832, in Woburn, Mass. He practiced his profession in New York; and in 1887 the degree of LL. D.

was conferred upon him by the faculty of Iowa college for his inventions, improvements and contributions to medical science.

CUTTER, GEORGE WASHINGTON, poet, was born in 1801 in Massachusetts. He was the author of Buena Vista, and Other Poems; Song of Steam; and Poems National and Patriotic. He died Dec. 24, 1865, in Washington, D. C.

CUTTING, FRANCIS BROCKHOLST, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1805 in New York city. In 1836 and 1837 he was a member of the New York legislature; from 1853 to 1855 was a representative in congress from his native state; and was leading counsel in almost all important commercial questions in New York from 1840 to 1855. He died June 26, 1870, in New York city.

CUTTING, HIRAM ADOLPHUS, geologist, author, was born Dec. 23, 1832, in Concord, Vt. He is state geologist of Vermont; and the author of Mining in Vermont; Climatology of Vermont; Microscopic Revelations; Farm Pests; Notes on Building Stones; Lectures on Plants, Fertilization, etc.; Lectures on Milk, etc.; Farm Lectures; and Vermont Agricultural Reports.

CUTTING, JAMES AMBROSE, inventor, was born in 1814 in Massachusetts. Turning his attention to the new art of making daguerreotypes, he discovered the process of making pictures on glass, which after his own name he called ambrotypes. He died July 31, 1867, in Worcester, Mass.

CUTTING, JOHN TYLER, soldier, business man, congressman, was born Sept. 7, 1844, in Westport, N. Y. He enlisted in Taylor's Chicago battery at the breaking out of the civil war and served until 1862; re-enlisted in 1864 in the Chicago Mercantile battery, in which he served until the expiration of the war. He removed to California in 1877 and established a wholesale fruit and commission business under the title of The John T. Cutting and company. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a republican.

CUTTING, SEWALL SYLVESTER, educator, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 19, 1813, in Windsor, Vt. He was a baptist clergyman and religious journalist; and the author of Historical Vindications; Struggles and Triumphs of Religious Liberty; and Ancient Baptistries. He died Feb. 7, 1882, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

CUTTS, CHARLES, lawyer, United States senator, was born in 1769 in Massachusetts. He was elected a member of the legislature in 1804, and then speaker of the house. He was sent to the United States senate in 1810 from New Hampshire, and served until 1813. He was secretary of the senate from 1814 to 1825. He died in 1846 in Virginia.

CUTTS, MARSENA E., lawyer, congressman, was born May 22, 1833, in Orwell, Vt. He was prosecuting attorney of Poweshiek county, Iowa, in 1859; was a member of the state house of representatives in 1861; was a state senator from 1864 to 1866; and was again in the state house of representatives from 1870 to 1872. He was attorney-general of the state from 1872 to 1877, and was elected a representative from Iowa to the forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses.

CUYLER, JEREMIAH, lawyer, jurist, was born in Georgia. In 1821 he was appointed district judge of the United States court for the district of Georgia. He died May 7, 1839, in Savannah, Ga.

CUYLER, THEODORE LEDYARD, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 10, 1822, in Aurora, N. Y. He is one of the leading divines of America, and for nearly forty years has been pastor of the Lafayette Avenue Presbyterian church of Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1846 he graduated from the Princeton Theological seminary, and has filled pastorates in Burlington and Trenton, N. J.; New York city; and in Brooklyn since 1860. He is author of a dozen books on religious subjects; and one of his temperance tracts, entitled Somebody's Son, has had a circulation of nearly a million copies. His force in preaching lies in picturesque description and the weaving in of scenes and illustrations from scripture and from daily life. His principal works are: Stray Arrows; Cedar Christian; The Empty Crib; Wayside Springs; Right to the Point; Thought Hives; God's Light on Dark Clouds; Pointed Papers; Heart Life; From the Nile to Norway; Newly Enlisted, or Talks to Young Converts; The Young Preacher; Stirring the Eagle's Nest; How to Be a Pastor; and Christianity in the Home.

DABNEY, CHARLES WILLIAM, diplomat, was born March 19, 1794, in Alexandria, Va. In 1826 he became United States consul to Fayal. In the famines that visited the island from time to time during his residence, some of which were very severe, he furnished the inhabitants with food, assisted them to replant their fields, advised and suggested the culture of new and more varied crops. He died March 12, 1871, in the Azores.

DABNEY, CHARLES WILLIAM, educator, chemist, author, was born June 19, 1855, in Hampden Sidney College, Va. He received his education at the Hampden Sidney college, university of Virginia and the universities of Germany. He has been state chemist and director of the North Carolina agricultural experiment station; and director of the Tennessee agricultural experiment station. He has been president of the university of Tennessee, and is the author of a number of scientific works.

DABNEY, RICHARD, educator, poet, was born in 1787 in Louisa county, Va. He was a noted instructor in Richmond, Va., whose Poems, Original and Translated, contain scholarly translations from Euripides, Alcaeus, and other classic poets. He died in November, 1825, in Louisa county, Va.

DABNEY, RICHARD HEATH, author, was born in 1859 in Virginia. He is the author of The Causes of the French Revolution.

DABNEY, ROBERT LEWIS, educator, clergyman, author, was born March 5, 1820, in Louisa county, Va. He is a presbyterian clergyman; and since 1882 professor of moral philosophy in the university of Texas. He is the author of Life of T. S. Sampson; Life and Campaigns of Gen. Stonewall Jackson; Sacred Rhetoric, or Lectures on Preaching; Defense of Virginia and the South; The Sensualistic Philosophy of the Nineteenth Century; A Course of Systematic and Polemic Theology; The Christian Sabbath; and Collected Discussions.

DABNEY, VIRGINIUS, soldier, author, was born Feb. 15, 1835, in Gloucester county, Va. He was a staff officer in the confederate service during the civil war, who published Don Miff, a Symphony of Life; and Gold That Did Not Glitter.

DABOLL, CELADON LEEDS, merchant, inventor, was born July 18, 1818, in Centre Groton, Conn. He conceived the idea of applying the principle of the clarinet to a large trumpet, to serve as a fog signal for mariners. He died Oct. 13, 1866, in Groton, Conn.

DABOLL, DAVID AUSTIN, journalist, state legislator, state senator, was born in 1813 in Groton, Conn. He sat continuously in the state house of representatives from 1846 till 1871, and then served a term in the senate. He assisted his father in the preparation of the New Arithmetic, and since his father's death has continued the publication of the New England Almanac.

DABOLL, NATHAN, educator, author, was born about 1750. He published a treatise on arithmetic, entitled the Schoolmaster's Assistant; and also the Practical Navigator. In 1773 he began the annual publication of the Connecticut Almanac. He died March 9, 1818, in Groton, Conn.

DABOLL, NATHAN, jurist, state legislator, author, was born in 1782 in Groton, Conn. He was a member of the Connecticut house of representatives in 1832-33, of the senate in 1835-36, and judge of probate in 1843-45. He was joint author of Daboll's New Arithmetic, and compiled the New England Almanac from his father's death in 1818 until his own death. He died in 1863 in Groton, Conn.

DABOLL, SHERMAN, soldier, lecturer, jurist, was born May 18, 1844, in Rensselaer county, N. Y. He served in the civil war in the one hundred and seventeenth New York volunteers. In 1887 he was appointed quartermaster-general of Michigan, receiving the reappointment two years later; and in 1889 he was elected as judge of the twenty-ninth judicial circuit of Michigan.

DA COSTA, JACOB MANDES, physician, author, was born Feb. 7, 1833, in the West Indies. He is a Philadelphia physician connected with Jefferson Medical college since 1864, and a specialist in diseases of the throat and lungs. He is the author of Epithelial Tumors and Cancers of the Skin; The Pathological Anatomy of Acute Pneumonia; The Physicians of the Last Century; Serous Apoplexy; Medical Diagnosis; Inhalation in Treatment of Diseases of the Respiratory Passages; Strain and Over-Action of the Heart; and Harvey and his Discovery.

DADD, GEORGE H., surgeon, author, was born in 1813 in England. He is a veterinary surgeon who has published The Modern Horse Doctor; Manual of Veterinary Science; Anatomy and Physiology of the Horse; and The American Cattle Doctor.

DADE, FRANCIS LANGHORN, soldier, was born in Virginia. He was appointed third lieutenant in the twelfth infantry in 1813; became first lieutenant in 1816, captain in 1818, and brevet major in 1828. He was killed by the Indians Dec. 28, 1835, near Fort King, Fla.

DAGG, JOHN LEADLEY, clergyman, college president, author, was born Feb. 13, 1794, in Middleburg, Va. He was a baptist clergyman who retired from the ministry in 1833, and was president of Mercer university, Ga., in 1844-56. He was the author of Manual of Theology; Elements of Moral Science; Evidences of Christianity; and English Grammar. He died June 11, 1884, in Haynesville, Ala.

DAGGETT, AARON S., soldier, was born June 14, 1839, in Greene Corner, Maine. He served through the civil war, and received the rank of major and lieutenant-colonel.

DAGGETT, DAVID, educator, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born Dec. 31, 1764, in Attleborough, Mass. He was state's attorney and mayor of New Haven, and frequently a member of the legislature and member of the council. He served as a presidential elector on several occasions; and from 1813 to 1819 was a senator in congress from Connecticut. From 1826 to 1832 he was a judge of the supreme court of the state; and was chief judge from 1832 to 1834. He died April 12, 1851, in New Haven, Conn.

DAGGETT, NAPHTALI, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 8, 1727, in Attleborough, Mass. In 1756 he became professor of divinity at Yale, which post he retained until his death. He published several sermons and an account of the famous dark day in New England. He died Nov. 25, 1780, in New Haven, Conn.

DAGGETT, OLIVER ELLSWORTH, educator, clergyman, author, poet, was born Jan. 14, 1810, in New Haven, Conn. He assisted in compiling a book of psalms and hymns, and left a small volume of poems, printed posthumously. He died Sept. 1, 1880, in Hartford, Conn.

DAGGETT, ROLLIN M., journalist, congressman, was born in 1831, in Richville, N. Y. In 1862 he removed to Virginia City, Nev.; was elected to the territorial council in 1863; was a presidential elector in 1876; and was elected a representative from Nevada to the forty-sixth congress. In 1882 he was appointed United States minister to the Hawaiian Islands.

DAHLGREN, CHARLES B., engineer, was born Oct. 16, 1839, in Philadelphia. After the civil war he was engaged in engineering; wrote several papers, and a standard technical works on the Historic Mines of Mexico. He was also a captain of the United States navy.

DAHLGREN, JOHN ADOLPH, naval officer, inventor, author, was born Nov. 13, 1809, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a famous United States naval officer, made admiral in 1863, who invented the cannon bearing his name, and conducted the siege of Charleston during the civil war. He was the author of Thirty-Two Pounder Practice for Rangers; System of Boat Armament in the United States Navy; Naval Percussion Locks and Primers; Ordnance Memoranda; Shells and Shell Guns; Memoir of Ulric Dahlgren; and Notes on Maritime International Law. He died in 1870.

DAHLGREN, MADELINE VINTON, author, poet, was born in Gallipolis, Ohio. She is the widow of Admiral John A. Dahlgren, of the United States navy, who died in 1870. She accompanied her husband on his cruise in the South Pacific ocean, where he was stationed during the war between Chili and Peru, as commander of the United States squadron in those waters. She is the author of Idealities; Thoughts on Female Suffrage; South Sea Sketches; Etiquette of Social Life in Washington; Memoir of Admiral Dahlgren; South Mountain Magic, a Narrative; A Washington Winter, a Society Novel; The Lost Name; Divorced; and Lights and Shadows of a Life.

DAHLGREN, ULRIC, soldier, was born in 1842, near Philadelphia. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He died March 4, 1864.

DAIL, CHARLES C., lawyer, author, poet, was born Jan. 5, 1851, in Kentucky. He was left an orphan when an infant, and at seven years of age became a newsboy and bootblack in the streets of Cincinnati. He became a citizen of Kansas at maturity, and has ever since made that state his home, and he has attained success as an able lawyer of Kansas City. He is the author of a volume entitled A Hundred Poems; and Willmoth the Wanderer, a work of fiction, which have gained for him a good reputation as a poet and novelist.

DAILY, SAMUEL G., congressman, was born in 1819 in Indiana. He was elected a delegate from the territory of Nebraska to the thirty-seventh congress, and re-elected to the thirty-eighth congress; and was subsequently appointed a deputy-collector in New Orleans. He died Sept. 14, 1865, in New Orleans, La.

DAKE, ALVIN CHAMBERLIN, capitalist, was born Aug. 1, 1849, in Allenburg, N. Y. In 1878 he commenced the manufacture of charcoal at Leadville; and in 1883 moved to Dake, Colo., where he continued the business, and was one of the largest charcoal dealers in the state. The town of Dake was named after him.

DAKE, DUMONT CHARLES, physician, was born June 11, 1838, in Nunda, N. Y. He has attained success as a prominent physician of New York city.

DAKIN, GEORGE M., was born May 13, 1827, in Oakland, Ohio. He devoted both time and means to the establishment and successful continuance of the Laporte Library and Natural History association, over which he presided for twelve years.

DAKIN, THOMAS SPENCER, soldier, merchant, was born in 1831 in Orange county, N. Y. He was elected captain in the thirteenth regiment, Brooklyn, in 1862, and served in the Virginia campaign as a member of the staff of Gen. Crook, who then commanded the fifth brigade. After the war he became major-general of militia, and was widely known as a member of the American rifle team. He died May 13, 1878, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

DALCHO, FREDERICK, clergyman, author, was born in 1770 in London, England. He was an episcopal clergyman of Charleston, rector of St. Michael's church there in 1819-36, but in earlier life successively a physician and journalist. He was the author of The Evidence of the Divinity of Our Savior; Historic Account of the Episcopal Church in South Carolina; and Ahiman Rezon, a work for freemasons. He died in 1836.

DALE, ALPHEUS, contractor, state legislator, was born Jan. 7, 1844, in Union county, Pa. In 1853 he moved to Illinois; and in 1865 settled in Minnesota at North Minneapolis as a carpenter and contractor. He has served as a member of the Minnesota house of representatives for two terms, in 1895 and in 1897. He has taken an active part in debates in the state legislature and done much toward the carrying out of all progressive measures.

DALE, JAMES WILKINSON, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 16, 1812, in Odessa, Del. He was a clergyman of eastern Pennsylvania; and the author of The Cup and the Cross, or the Baptism of Calvary; Classic Baptism; Judaic Baptism; Johannic Baptism; and Christic and Patristic Baptism.

DALE, RICHARD, naval officer, was born Nov. 6, 1756, near Norfolk, Va. In 1775 he rose to the command of a vessel.

He was promoted to a captaincy in 1794; and in 1801 was sent to the coast of Tripoli with a squadron as commodore. Lord Nelson observed Dale's handling of American vessels, and said that the Americans, with such men might make trouble for England. He died Feb. 24, 1826, in Philadelphia, Pa., in which city he was one of the foremost citizens.

DALE, SAMUEL, pioneer, was born in 1772 in Rockbridge county, Va. In 1816 he was a member of the convention to divide the Mississippi territory, and served several terms in the Alabama legislature. He died May 23, 1841, in Landerdale county, Miss.

DALE, WILLIAM JOHNSON, soldier, physician, surgeon, was born Sept. 5, 1815, in Gloucester, Mass. In 1863 he was raised to the rank of brigadier-general, in connection with his appointment as surgeon-general of Massachusetts.

DALES, JOHN BLAKELY, clergyman, author, was born in 1815 in New York. He is a united presbyterian clergyman of Philadelphia, whose principal writings include Roman Catholicism; Dangers and Duties of Young Men; and The Gospel Minister.

DALEY, ANDREW J., lawyer, was born May 25, 1857, in Iowa county, Wis. He attended the Monona academy and Theological seminary of Madison, Wis.; and has attained prominence as an able lawyer of Luverne, Minn.

DALEY, GEORGE HENRY, was born Nov. 1, 1844, in Albany, N. Y. He entered as clerk in the office of Devlin and Company, one of the leading clothing houses in New York, rising to a partnership in the firm, and was president of the corporation issuing the Gazette and Sentinel for several years. He is a director in the Staten Island Savings bank.

DALL, MRS. CAROLINE WELLS [HEALEY], author, was born June 22, 1822, in Boston, Mass. She is a Washington writer whose early efforts were mainly in the line of social reforms, while her later works were concerned with general literature. She is the author of Essays and Sketches; Historical Pictures Retouched; Life of Dr. Marie Zakrzewski; Woman's Rights under the Law; The Romance of the Association, or One Last Glimpse of Charlotte Temple and Eliza Wharton; What We Really Know About Shakespeare; Woman's Place in History; Life of Dr. Anandabai Joshee; College, Market and Court; Woman's Right to Labor; Essays on Confucius; Patty Gray's Journey to the Cotton Islands; My First Holiday, or Letters from Colorado; and Egypt's Place in History, which include her principal works.

DALL, CHARLES HENRY APPLETON, missionary, author, was born Feb. 12, 1816, in Baltimore, Md. He was a unitarian missionary to Calcutta; and the author of The Temperance Movement in Modern Times; and Theism in Questions and Answers. He died July 18, 1886.

DALL, WILLIAM HEALEY, naturalist, author, was born Aug. 21, 1845, in Boston, Mass. He is a naturalist of distinction who has been connected with the United States coast survey and the geological survey. He is the author of Alaska and its Resources; Tribes of the Extreme Northwest; Scientific Results of the Exploration of Alaska; Coast Pilot of Alaska; Pacific Coast Pilot; and Reports on the Mollusca of the Blake Expedition.

DALLAS, ALEXANDER JAMES, statesman, author, was born June 21, 1759, on the Island of Jamaica. He was a noted statesman who was secretary of state in 1796-1801, and secretary of the treasury under Madison. He was the author of Features of Jay's Treaty; Speeches on the Trial of Blount; Address to Constitutional Republicans; and Causes and Character of the Late War. He died Jan. 14, 1817, in Trenton, N. J.

DALLAS, GEORGE MIFFLIN, vice-president of the United States, was born July 10, 1792, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was an eminent lawyer, and assisted his father in his duties as secretary of the treasury. In 1825 he was elected mayor of Philadelphia; and in 1829-31 was district attorney. In 1831 he was chosen to fill a vacancy in the United States senate, and took part in the debates of the stormy session of 1832-33. He declined a re-election; and in 1837-39 was ambassador to Russia. In 1844 he was elected vice-president of the United States. During 1856-61 he was United States minister to England. He was the author of a Series of Letters from London; Eulogy on Andrew Jackson; and numerous speeches and addresses. He died Dec. 31, 1864, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DALLAS, ROBERT FRANK, artist, was born June 6, 1855, in Camillus, N. Y. In 1886 he was made instructor in oil painting and modeling in the College of Fine Arts, and was in 1893 elected professor of these classes.

DALLINGER, FREDERICK WILLIAM, politician, author, was born in 1871 in Massachusetts. He is a politician of Cambridge; and the author of Nominations for Elective Office in the United States.

DALSHEIMER, ALICE, educator, author, poet, was born Dec. 1, 1845, in New Orleans, La. Her writings consist of numerous sketches, short stories and poems, principally the latter, all of which appeared in the daily papers of New Orleans under the pseudonym of Salvia Dale. She died Jan. 15, 1880, in New Orleans, La.

DALTON, EDWARD BARRY, physician, author, was born Sept. 21, 1834, in Lowell, Mass. In 1869 he originated the present city ambulance system for the transportation of the sick and injured. He published papers on The Disorder known as Bronzed Skin, or Disease of the Supra-renal Capsules; The Metropolitan Board of Health (1868); and Reports of the Sanitary Superintendent of the Metropolitan Board of Health from 1866 to 1869. He died May 13, 1872, in Santa Barbara, Cal.

DALTON, JOHN CALL, educator, physician, author, was born Feb. 2, 1825, in Chelmsford, Mass. He was a physician of note who was a professor in various medical colleges. He was the author of Observations on Trichina Spiralis; The Experimental Method in Medical Science; Doctrines of the Circulation; Topographical Anatomy of the Brain; History of the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York city; Treatise on Human Physiology; and Treatise on Physiology and Hygiene. He died in 1889.

DALTON, TRISTAM, state legislator, United States senator, was born in May, 1743, in Newbury, Mass. He was a representative, speaker of the house of representatives, and a senator in the legislature of Massachusetts; and became a senator of the United States in the first congress after the adoption of the federal constitution. He died May 30, 1817, in Boston, Mass.

DALY, AUGUSTIN, dramatist, theatrical manager, was born July 20, 1838, in Plymouth, N. C. He has opened to the American stage the rich field of German farcical comedy. His productions of Taming the Shrew and As You Like It have been accepted in England as the finest of this generation.

DALY, CHARLES PATRICK, jurist, author, was born Oct. 31, 1816, in New York city. He is a prominent jurist of New York city, and the author of Historical Sketch of the Judicial Tribunals of New York, 1823-46; Reports of Cases in Court of Common Pleas, City and County of New York; First Settlement of Jews in North America; and What we Knew of Maps and Map Drawing before Mercator.

DALY, ISAAC SHAW, lawyer, musician, composer, was born Feb. 6, 1848, in Livermore, Maine. He attended the public schools of Maine, and was admitted to the bar in 1878 at Cambridge, Mass. He is the author of an ode entitled All Hail Our Home, America; and several songs and military music that is largely played by the United States army bands. In 1895 he was awarded a diploma by the Canadian northwest territorial exhibition for music to the song, When You Come Back Again. He is a successful lawyer of Idaho.

DALY, JOHN AUGUSTIN, dramatist, author, was born in 1838 in North Carolina. He is a dramatist and theatrical manager of New York city who, besides adapting many plays from the German and French, has written Divorce; Pique; Horizon; Under the Gaslight, and other plays, as well as Peg Woffington, a Tribute to the Actress and the Woman.

DALY, JOHN J., mine owner, was born Oct. 18, 1853, in Morris, Ill. He is president and principal owner of the Daly West Mining company, which operates one of the greatest mines of the state. He is also president of the First National bank of Park City, Utah.

DALY, JOSEPH F., lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 3, 1840, in Plymouth. In 1870 he was elected judge of the court of common pleas of New York city, and was re-elected again in 1884. He was chosen by his associates chief judge of the court in 1890, to serve until 1899.

DALY, WILLIAM H., journalist, was born June 28, 1870, in Tonawanda, N. Y. He graduated from the Wesleyan university of Lincoln, Neb.; and is now the editor and owner of The Graphic of Lemley, Neb.

DALZELL, JAMES, soldier. He was a companion of Israel Putnam in some of the most adventurous passages of that rough veteran's life, and afterward an aide-de-camp to Gen. Jeffrey Amherst. He died July 30, 1763, near Detroit, Mich.

DALZELL, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, was born April 19, 1845, in New York city. For years he was one of the attorneys for the Pennsylvania Railroad company and for all its western lines; and was also attorney for many corporations in Allegheny county. He never held any office until he was elected to the fiftieth congress; and was elected to the fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

DALZELL, ROBERT M., inventor, was born in 1793, near Belfast, Ireland. He was a millwright, unusually skilful and ingenious, and many of the flour mills in the city of Rochester were built under his supervision. He invented and introduced the elevator system in handling and stowing grain, which is now in general use. He died Jan. 22, 1873, in Rochester, N. Y.

DAME, MRS. ABBIE H., poet, was born July 10, 1847, in Lowell, Mass. She is the author of many poems, one of the public exercises of New Hampshire day at the New Orleans exposition, and many others for reunions.

DAME, HARRIET PATIENCE, nurse, was born Jan. 5, 1815, in Barnstead, N. H. She joined the second New Hampshire regiment as hospital matron in June, 1861, and remained with it until it was mustered out in December, 1865. In August, 1867, she was appointed to a clerkship in the treasury department, where she still remains.

DAMEN, ARNOLD, clergyman, was born about 1800 in Holland. In 1857 he erected a Jesuit establishment in Chicago; he also built the great church of the Holy Trinity, and founded the college of St. Ignatius in the same city.

DAMON, HOWARD FRANKLIN, physician, author, was born in 1833 in Scituate, Mass. He was a hospital physician of Boston; and the author of Leucocythæmia; Neurosis of the Skin; and General Remarks on the Frequency of Skin Diseases. He died Sept. 17, 1884, in Boston, Mass.

DAMON, JOHN ADAMS, merchant, state legislator, was born June 4, 1850, in Madison, Ohio. He is a successful merchant of Weidman, Mich.; and during 1887-89 served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature.

DAMRELL, WILLIAM S., congressman, was born Nov. 20, 1809, in Portsmouth, N. H. He was elected a representative from Massachusetts to the thirty-fourth and to the thirty-fifth congresses. He died May 17, 1860, in Boston, Mass.

DAMROSCH, LEOPOLD, musician, was born Oct. 22, 1832, in Prussia. In 1871 he came to New York city, where he was director of a successful orchestra. He was prominent in the musical affairs of America. He died Feb. 15, 1885, in New York city.

DAMROSCH, WALTER J., musician, was born Jan. 30, 1862, in Prussia. He has attained a national reputation as a musician; has devoted himself successfully to the production of the works of Wagner; and is in much demand as a lecturer on musical themes.

DANA, ALEXANDER HAMILTON, lawyer, author, was born in 1807 in England. He was a lawyer of New York state; and the author of Ethical and Physiological Inquiries; Inductive Inquiries in Physiology; Ethics and Ethnology; and Enigmas of Life, Death and the Future State. He died in 1887.

DANA, AMASA, congressman. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1828 and 1829; and a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1841, and again from 1843 to 1845.

DANA, CHARLES ANDERSON, journalist, author, was born Aug. 8, 1819, in Hinsdale, N. H. He was a distinguished journalist of New York city. He was assistant secretary of war in 1863-65, and from 1868 until his death was editor of the New York Sun. With J. G. Wilson he prepared a Life of Gen. Grant, and was co-editor with George Ripley of the American Cyclopædia. The Household Book of Poetry was edited by him. He died in 1897.

DANA, CHARLES LOUIS, neurologist, author, was born in 1852 in Vermont. He is a physician of note as a neurologist, who has published a Text-Book on Nervous Diseases.

DANA, DANIEL, fourth president of Dartmouth college. He was inaugurated president in 1820, and died Aug. 26, 1859. He was an eminent clergyman, and an excellent theologian and scholar.

DANA, EDMUND TROWBRIDGE, lawyer, author, was born Aug. 29, 1818, in Cambridge, Mass. He devoted special attention to Roman civil law, and to history and philosophy in their bearings upon law. He died May 18, 1869, in Cambridge, Mass.

DANA, EDWARD SALISBURY, educator, journalist, author, was born Nov. 16, 1849, in New Haven, Conn. He has been assistant professor of natural philosophy at Yale university since 1879, and curator of the mineral cabinet in the Peabody museum there. Since 1875 he has been one of the editors of Silliman's Journal. He is the author of Text-Book of Mineralogy; Text-Book of Elementary Mechanics; and Appendix II. and Appendix III. of Dana's System of Mineralogy.

DANA, FRANCIS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born June 13, 1743, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a delegate from Massachusetts to the continental congress from 1776 to 1779 and in 1784; signed the articles of confederation; was secretary of legation at Paris under John Adams; and was appointed minister to Russia, but not officially received. He was chief justice of the state from 1792 to 1806, when he resigned. In 1797 he was appointed minister to France. His father was Richard A. Dana, the poet. He died April 25, 1811, in Cambridge, Mass.

DANA, ISRAEL THORNDIKE, physician, author, was born June 6, 1827, in Marblehead, Mass. He was one of the founders of the Portland School of Medical Instruction. He became one of the foremost physicians of New England; and was the author of a number of medical works.

DANA, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born May 11, 1735, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a famous congregational clergyman of New Haven; who wrote An Examination of Edwards on the Will. He died Aug. 18, 1812, in New Haven, Conn.

DANA, JAMES DWIGHT, mineralogist, author, was born Feb. 12, 1813, in Utica, N. Y. He was a celebrated geologist, and professor at Yale university from 1850. He was the author of System of Mineralogy; Manual of Mineralogy; Text-Book of Geology; Corals and Coral Islands; and The Geological Story Briefly Told. In 1854 he was president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He died in 1895.

DANA, JAMES FREEMAN, chemist, physician, author, was born Sept. 23, 1793, in Amherst, N. H. He was a chemist and physician, and the first professor of chemistry at Dartmouth college. He is the author of Epitome of Chemical Philosophy, and Outlines of the Mineralogy and Geology of Boston and its Vicinity. He died April 14, 1827, in New York city.

DANA, JOHN C., librarian, was born Aug. 19, 1856, in Woodstock, Vt. In 1889 he was appointed librarian of the Denver public library of Denver, Colo., which position he now fills.

DANA, JOHN WINCHESTER, governor, was born Jan. 21, 1808, in Fryeburg, Maine. He was governor of Maine from 1847 to 1850; and went to South America to reside in 1861. He died Dec. 22, 1867, in New Granada, South America.

DANA, JUDAH, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, governor, was born April 25, 1772, in Pomfret, Conn. He was judge of probate for twenty years; judge of the common pleas for nine years; one of the committee which drafted the constitution of Maine; and a member of the executive council of the state in 1834. By appointment of the governor he was a senator in congress from Maine during the years 1836 and 1837. He died Dec. 27, 1845, in Fryeburg, Maine.

DANA, MRS. KATHARINE, author, was born in 1835 in Long Island, N. Y. She was a writer of New York city; and the author of Our Phil and Other Stories. She died in 1886.

DANA, NAPOLEON JACKSON TECUMSEH, soldier, was born April 15, 1822, in Eastport, Maine. Here is a man who was discovered after the battle of Cerro Gordo lying on the field, and men were digging his grave, when a fellow-officer examined him and discovered he was breathing. He was also carried off the field of Antietam for dead, but recovered and fought again. He is a resident of Washington, D. C., still hale and hearty.

DANA, RICHARD, jurist, was born July 7, 1699, in Cambridge, Mass. He was prominent in the anti-revolutionary movement; and was one of the associated Sons of Liberty. He died May 17, 1772.

DANA, RICHARD HENRY, critic, poet, was born Nov. 15, 1787, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a poet and critic who was one of the founders of the North American Review in 1815. As a critic his Lectures on Shakespeare represent him fairly, and it must not be forgotten that he is one of the earliest in America to appreciate the genius of Wordsworth. The Idle Man, a publication begun in 1821, and extending to six numbers, includes his two novels, Tom Thornton; Paul Felton. His later publications include The Buccaneer, and Other Poems; Poems and Prose Writings. He died Feb. 2, 1879.

DANA, RICHARD HENRY, lawyer, author, was born Aug. 1, 1815, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a noted lawyer of Boston, best known in literature by the famous Two Years before the Mast, a narrative of personal adventure, which first appeared in 1840, and was re-issued, enlarged, in 1869. His other works include The Seaman's Friend, known in England as The Seaman's Manual; Letters on Italian Unity; To Cuba and Back; Letters on the Somers Mutiny; Life of Major Vinton; and Enemy Property and Enemy Territory. He died Jan. 7, 1882, in Rome, Italy.

DANA, RICHARD HENRY, lawyer, author, was born Jan. 3, 1851, in Cambridge, Mass. While continuing the practice of law, he has been a regular contributor to the Civil Service Record, besides writing occasionally for the press on questions of political reform.

DANA, SAMUEL, clergyman, lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born Jan. 14, 1739, in Cambridge, Mass. In 1787 he was made judge of probate for Hillsborough county; and in 1793 was elected a member of the New Hampshire state senate. He died April 1, 1798, in Amherst, N. H.

DANA, SAMUEL, lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, was born June 26, 1767, in Groton, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts senate, and its president for eight years, and served in congress in 1814-15. Subsequently he received the appointment of chief justice of the circuit court of common pleas. He died Nov. 20, 1825, in Charlestown, Mass.

DANA, SAMUEL LUTHER, chemist, author, was born July 11, 1795, in Amherst, N. H. He was a noted chemist of Lowell, who made many improvements in cotton printing, and was one of the foremost agricultural writers of his time. He was the author of Chemical Changes in the Manufacture of Sulphuric Acid; Muck Mineral for Mauures; and Essay on Manures. He died March 11, 1868, in Lowell, Mass.

DANA, SAMUEL WHITTLESEY, United States senator, was born Feb. 13, 1760, in Wallingford, Conn. He was a representative in congress from 1797 to 1810; and a senator in congress from Connecticut from 1810 to 1821. For many years he was mayor of Middletown, Conn. He died July 21, 1830, in Middletown, Conn.

DANA, WILLIAM COOMBS, clergyman, author, was born in 1810 in Massachusetts. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Charlestown; and the author of Hymns for Public Worship; A Transatlantic Tour; and Life of Samuel Dana. He died in 1873.

DANBRIDGE, MRS. DANSKE, author, poet, was born in 1858. She is the author of several volumes of poems, the most notable of which is entitled Joy and Other Poems.

DANDY, GEORGE B., soldier, was born Feb. 11, 1830, in Georgia. He served in the civil war, and attained the rank of brigadier-general in the United States army. In 1892 he took charge of the general depot of the quartermaster's department at Washington, D. C.

DANE, JOHN, lawyer, was born Sept. 22, 1835, in Westford, Mass. He is counsel for a large number of extensive corporations, some of which he has served continuously and successfully for a quarter of a century. He is a director in seven corporations and president of three.

DANE, JOSEPH, state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 25, 1778, in Beverly, Mass. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1816 and 1819; and in 1820 was elected to congress to fill a vacancy. From 1821 to 1823 he represented the York district of Maine in congress. He was subsequently in the legislature as a member of the house for six years; and was a member of the senate in 1829. He died May 1, 1858, in Kentucky.

DANE, NATHAN, lawyer, congressman, author, was born Dec. 27, 1752, in Ipswich, Mass. He was a delegate from Massachusetts to the continental congress from 1785 to 1788; was the framer of the celebrated ordinance passed by congress in 1787; and though devoted to the practice of law, found time to prepare a Digest of American Law in nine volumes. He died Feb. 15, 1834, in Beverly, Mass.

DANEHY, MRS. MAGGIE MAY, poet, was born July 5, 1862, in Fairfield, Ohio. Her poems have appeared in the Cincinnati and Lancaster papers.

DANENHOWER, JOHN WILSON, explorer, author, was born Sept. 30, 1849, in Chicago, Ill. He was an Arctic explorer who was second in command of the De Long expedition in 1879, and published The Narrative of the Jeannette, 1882. He died in 1887.

DANES, RUFUS R., soldier, legislator, author, was born July 4, 1838, in Malta, Ohio. He served in the civil war and was brevetted brigadier-general for meritorious service. He was elected a member of the forty-seventh congress, and introduced and secured the passage of the law establishing diplomatic relations with Persia. He is the author of a work entitled Service with the Sixth Wisconsin Volunteers.

DANFORD, LORENZO, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 18, 1829, in Belmont county, Ohio. He was elected prosecuting attorney of Belmont county in 1857 and 1859. He entered the army; served as private, lieutenant, and captain until 1864, when he resigned on account of sickness. He was a presidential elector in 1864; and was elected to the forty-third and forty-fourth congresses. He was re-elected to the forty-fifth, fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

DANFORTH, CHARLES, inventor, was born about 1797 in Massachusetts. He invented in 1824 a counter-twister, spinning-speeder, and a throstle-frame. He died March 22, 1876, in Paterson, N. J.

DANFORTH, ELLIOT, financier, bank president, was born March 6, 1850, in Middleburgh, N. Y. He was appointed deputy state treasurer, a position which he occupied for four years; and in 1889 was elected state treasurer. He is president of the First National bank of Bainbridge, N. Y.

DANFORTH, FREDERICK LYMAN, railroad president, was born June 17, 1833, in Middletown, Conn. In 1883 he became president of the Buffalo Creek railroad.

DANFORTH, GEORGE FRANKLIN, lawyer, jurist, was born July 5, 1819, in Boston, Mass. In 1876 he was the republican candidate for judge of the court of appeals of the state of New York, but was defeated by Robert Earl. Two years later he was elected, and took his seat on the bench Jan. 1, 1879.

DANFORTH, JOHN, clergyman, author, poet, was born Nov. 8, 1660, in Roxbury, Mass. He was a noted congregational clergyman of Dorchester, Mass., who published many single sermons and occasional poems. He died May 26, 1730, in Dorchester, Mass.

DANFORTH, JOSHUA NOBLE, clergyman, author, was born April 1, 1798, in Pittsfield, Mass. He was a congregational minister of Massachusetts and Virginia, who published Gleanings and Groupings from Pastor's Portfolio. He died Nov. 14, 1861, in New Castle, Del.

DANFORTH, MOSELEY ISAAC, engraver, was born Dec. 7, 1800, in Hartford, Conn. He was one of the founders of the New York Drawing association in 1825; and in 1826 of the National Academy of Design. He subsequently became a partner in a bank-note engraving firm, which in 1858 was merged in the American Bank-Note company, of which he was vice-president at the time of his death. He died Jan. 19, 1862, in New York city.

DANFORTH, SAMUEL, clergyman, author, was born in September, 1626, in England. He was once a famous Puritan clergyman of Roxbury, Mass., in 1650-74; and was the author of An Astronomical Description of the Comet of 1664; An Election Sermon; and The Cry of Sodom Inquired Into. He died Nov. 19, 1674, in Roxbury, Mass.

DANFORTH, SAMUEL, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 18, 1666, in Roxbury, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of Taunton, Mass., famous for his great learning and wide influence. He is the author of Eulogy on Thomas Leonard, and Essay Concerning the Singing of Psalms. The manuscript of his Indian Dictionary is now the property of the Massachusetts Historical society. He died in 1727.

DANIEL, HENRY, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1793 in Virginia. He was a volunteer in the war of 1812, with rank of captain; was a state representative from Montgomery county in 1812, 1819 and 1826; and was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1827 to 1833. He died Oct. 5, 1873, in Mt. Sterling, Ky.

DANIEL, JOHN MONCURE, journalist, author, was born Oct. 24, 1825, in Stafford county, Va. He was a noted Virginia journalist who edited The Richmond Examiner, and was minister to Italy in 1853-60. He died March 30, 1865.

DANIEL, JOHN REEVES JONES, lawyer, congressman, was born about 1802 in Halifax county, N. C. He served for several years in the general assembly; was elected attorney-general of the state; and was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1841 to 1853. He removed to Louisiana, where he died.

DANIEL, JOHN WARWICK, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, congressman, was born Sept. 5, 1842, in Lynchburg, Va. He entered the confederate army in 1861, and served throughout the civil war, rising to the rank of major and adjutant-general. In 1875 he was elected a state senator, and was re-elected in 1879. In 1881 he resigned the office of state senator to accept the nomination of the democratic party for governor of Virginia; but was defeated at the election. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Virginia to the forty-ninth congress. In 1887 he took his seat as a member of the United States senate, and re-elected for term ending in 1899. He is the author of Attachments Under the Code of Virginia; and Negotiable Instruments.

DANIEL, JOSEPH A., physician, specialist, was born Dec. 27, 1866, in Fillmore, Ind. He attended the De Pauw university, Central Normal college, university of Kentucky, Indiana Medical college, and the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He has attained prominence as a specialist in diseases of the eye, ear, nose, throat and lungs; and is a member of the Academy of Science. He has filled many positions of honor in Davenport, Iowa; and is medical examiner for several life insurance companies.

DANIEL, JOSEPHUS, journalist, public official, was born May 18, 1862, in Washington, N. C. He has been public printer of the state of North Carolina; and is at present a member of the national democratic executive committee from North Carolina. For several years he was chief clerk of the interior department at Washington, D. C.; and is now the editor of the News and Observer of Raleigh, N. C.

DANIEL, JUNIUS, soldier, was born June 27, 1828, in Halifax county, N. C. He served through the civil war and received the rank of colonel. He died May 12, 1864, in Spottsylvania, Pa.

DANIEL, PETER VYVIAN, lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born April 24, 1784, in Stafford county, Va. He was a member of the state legislature in 1809 and 1810; in 1812 was a member of the privy council, and served as such until 1835. He frequently served as lieutenant-governor. In 1836 he was appointed judge of the United States district court for Virginia; and in 1840 was appointed a justice of the supreme court of the United States. He died June 30, 1860, in Richmond, Va.

DANIEL, RALEIGH TRAVERS, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Oct. 15, 1805, in Stafford county, Va. For several years he was commonwealth attorney for Henrico county in which Richmond is situated; and was repeatedly elected to represent that city in the state legislature. In 1872 he was elected attorney-general of Virginia. He died Aug. 16, 1877, in Richmond, Va.

DANIEL, WILLIAM, jurist, was born in 1770, in Cumberland county, Va. He was a member of the Virginia house of delegates, and gained reputation as an orator by his defence of the resolutions of '98. He became circuit judge and ex-officio member of the old general court of Virginia. He died Nov. 20, 1839, in Lynchburg, Va.

DANIEL, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Nov. 26, 1806, in Winchester, Va. He was elected to the Virginia house of delegates before he was of age. He was a judge of the supreme court of appeals of Virginia from 1847 to 1865. He died March 28, 1873, in Lynchburg, Va.

DANIEL, WILLIAM, candidate for the vice-presidency of the United States, was born Jan. 24, 1826, in Somerset county, Md. He attained prominence as a statesman of Maryland.

DANIEL, WILLIAM T., educator, lawyer, was born Aug. 17, 1859, in Butler county, Ala. Ten years of his youth were spent in Florida; and in 1875 he moved to Texas. After receiving his education he spent several years in educational work; and since 1887 has been engaged in the practice of law at Dublin, Texas.

DANIEL, WARREN FISHER, state senator, congressman, was born June 26, 1826, in Newton Lower Falls, Mass. He was a member of the state house of representatives and of the state senate; and was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

DANIELS, CHARLES, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1826, in New York city. He was elected to the supreme court in 1863; was appointed by Governor Seymour to hold the office of justice of that court till January 1, 1864, when the term to which he had been elected commenced; and was twice re-elected and held the office till the last of December, 1891, a period of upward of twenty-eight years. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a republican, and declined to be a candidate in 1896.

DANIELS, MRS. CORA LINN, author, was born in 1852, in Massachusetts. She is a novelist of Franklin, Mass.; and the author of Sardia, a Story of Love; and As It Is to Be.

DANIELS, FRANCES B., poet, was born in Maine. She is a poet of note in California. Her poems have received extensive publication in the leading papers, and several have been incorporated into standard works.

DANIELS, IONE G., author, poet, was born in Wisconsin. She is the author of a novel entitled Under the Ban, and a volume of Temperance Songs.

DANIELS, THURSTON, journalist, lieutenant governor, was born June 10, 1858, in Yamhill county, Ore. In 1874 he moved to Vancouver, Wash. He there learned the printing trade, and is now proprietor of the Vancouver Register, which he established in 1881. He has served with distinction as lieutenant governor of the state of Washington, and is a prominent leader in the people's party.

DANIELS, WILLIAM HAVEN, clergyman, author, was born May 18, 1836, in Franklin, Mass. He is a methodist clergyman, prominent as an evangelist; and the author of D. L. Moody and his Work; That Boy, who Shall Have Him?; The Temperance Reform and its Great Reformers; Moody, his Words, Work, and Workers; Illustrated History of Methodism in the United States; Graduated with Honor; Memorials of Gilbert Haven; and Short History of the People called Methodists.

DANIELSON, TIMOTHY, patriot, was born in 1733, in Brimfield, Mass. His chief service was in the legislature, of which he continued a member several years. He was a member of the state constitutional convention in 1779, and afterward of the state senate and executive council; and chief justice of Hampshire county. He died Sept. 19, 1791, in Brimfield, Mass.

DANKS, HART PEASE, musician, author, was born in 1834, in New Haven, Conn. His first musical composition was inserted in Bradbury's Jubilee, under the name of Lake Street, and is well known. In 1856 his first song, The Old Lane, was published in Chicago, since which time he has issued several hundred. Two of them, Silver Threads among the Gold, and Don't be Angry with Me, Darling. He resides in New York city.

DANNELLY, MRS. ELIZABETH OTIS, artist, poet, was born June 13, 1838, in Monticello, Ga. In 1855 she graduated from the Madison Female college, and subsequently spent a year in New York city receiving instruction in oil painting. She was the widow of F. O. Dannelly, at one time a surgeon in the United States army. She was the author of Cactus, or Thorns and Blossom; and Wayside Flowers. She died in 1896.

DANNER, JOEL B., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1850 to 1851.

DA PONTE, LORENZO, dramatist, author, was born March 10, 1749, in Venice, Italy. He was an Italian dramatist who furnished libretti for Mozart's operas, Don Giovanni and Nozze di Figaro. He came to America in 1805, and after 1828 was professor of Italian in Columbia college. He published his own Life; and History of the Florentine Republic and the Medici. He died Aug. 17, 1838, in New York city.

DAPPER, EMIL A., soldier, lawyer, was born Feb. 21, 1844, in New York city. He received his education in the public schools of New York city.

In 1861 he enlisted in company B, fifty-ninth regiment New York volunteer infantry as a private; and was honorably discharged in 1865 as captain of company B of the same regiment. As the senior officer in his regiment present for duty, he commanded the regiment at the time of Lee's surrender. In 1871 he was admitted to the bar at Grand Rapids, Mich., where he has ever since practiced his profession with success. He is a prominent member of the G. A. R.; and takes an active part in the public affairs of his county and state.

DARBY, EZRA, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1804 to 1808. He died Jan. 28, 1808.

DARBY, JOHN, educator, author, was born Sept. 3, 1804, in North Adams, Mass. He was an educator who was connected with various colleges north and south. Manual of Botany; The Botany of the Southern States; and Chemistry, are some of his publications. He died Sept. 18, 1877, in New York city.

DARBY, JOHN FLETCHER, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 10, 1803, in Person county, N. C. He was four times chosen mayor of the city of St. Louis, and once a member of the state senate. He was a representative in congress from 1851 to 1853 from Missouri.

DARBY, WILLIAM, geographer, lecturer, author, was born in 1775, in Pennsylvania. He was a geographer who published Geographical Dictionary of Louisiana; Plan of Pittsburg and Adjacent Country; Emigrant's Guide to the Western Country; Tour from New York to Detroit; Geography and History of Florida; View of the United States; Lectures on the Discovery of America; Mnemonica, a Register of Events from the Earliest Period; and Geographical Dictionary. He died Oct. 9, 1864, in Washington, D. C.

DARCEY, JOHN S., physician, state legislator, was born Feb. 24, 1788, in Hanover, N. Y. He was a member of the state legislature in 1819. In 1835-41 he was United States marshal for New Jersey. On the incorporation of the New Jersey Railroad company he was elected its president, and held the office till his death, a period of over thirty years. He died Oct. 22, 1863, in Newark, N. J.

DARDEN, MRS. FANNIE BAKER, author, poet, was born in 1829, in Alabama. She is the author of Romances of the Texas Revolution; and Poems.

DARDEN, GEORGE WASHINGTON, educator, lawyer, was born Nov. 17, 1865, near Lafayette, Ala. He taught school for several years; and is now a prominent lawyer of Oneonta, Ala., of which city he was mayor in 1892.

DARE, VIRGINIA, was born in August, 1587, in Roanoke, Va. She was the first child of English parents born in the new world.

DARGAN, CLARA VICTORIA, author, poet, was born about 1840, in Winnsboro, S. C. After the close of the civil war she became a teacher in Yorkville, S. C. She is the author of Riverlands, a story of life on the River Ashley, which originally appeared as a prize story in the Southern Field and Fireside; and of another novel that obtained a prize and was published as a serial.

DARGAN, EDMUND SPAWN, jurist, statesman, was born April 15, 1805, in Montgomery county, N. C. In 1847 he was elected to fill a vacancy on the bench of the supreme court of Alabama; and in 1849 he became chief justice, which office he resigned in 1852, and resumed the practice of law in Mobile. He died in November, 1879, in Mobile, Ala.

DARGAN, GEORGE W., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1841, in Darlington county, S. C. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1877; and was elected solicitor of the fourth judicial circuit in 1880. He was elected a representative from South Carolina to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, and fifty-first congresses as a democrat.

DARGAN, THEODORE A., physician, surgeon, author, was born in 1823, in Sleepy Hollow, S. C. At the beginning of the civil war he entered the confederate service as surgeon, and served until the end. In 1859 he published a paper on the subject of Typhoid Fever, which was extensively noticed.

DARGON, GEORGE W., lawyer, state senator, was born in 1801, in South Carolina. He was a member of the state senate for several years; commissioner in equity for Charleston; and from 1847 to the time of his death, the chancellor of South Carolina. He died June 12, 1859, in Columbia, S. C.

DARLEY, FELIX OCTAVIUS CARR, artist, author, was born June 23, 1822, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a well-known artist and illustrator whose home was at Claymont, Del. His only writing is included in Sketches Abroad with Pen and Pencil. He died in 1888.

DARLING, ALFRED B., was born March 23, 1821, in Burke, Vt. He is the senior proprietor of the Fifth Avenue hotel of New York city, for many years the most famous and successful of American houses. In 1852 he became associated with Mr. Stevens, as partner, in the management of the Battle house in Mobile, Ala., then one of the finest and most costly hotels in the south. He has served from time to time as director in important institutions, among them being the Second National bank, the Fifth Avenue Safe Deposit Co., and The Union Dime Savings bank, all of New York city.

DARLING, CHARLES W., soldier, was born Oct. 11, 1830, in New Haven, Conn. He served through the civil war and received the rank of colonel. In 1867 he was elected military engineer-in-chief of the state of New York.

DARLING, EDWARD IRVING, composer, author, the only child of the late General Edward I. Darling of Louisiana, who was killed in the confederate service of 1864, and of Mrs. Flora Adams Darling, was born Oct. 9, 1862, in Lancaster, N. H. He received his education in the Kentucky Military Institute, and later at Mount Pleasant Military academy. At the age of nineteen his first opera was produced, which won for him a prominent place in musical circles. He died in New York.

DARLING, FLORA ADAMS, founder general of the Daughters of the Revolution, was born July 25, 1840, in Lancaster, N. H. She received her education at the Lancaster academy and from private instructors. She is a member of the well-known Adams family, and inherits many traits of her ancestors. Her husband was killed while serving in the confederate army. She is the author of a number of books, the chief of which is Mrs. Darling's Letters, or Memories of the Civil War. She is also the author of A Wayward Winning Woman; The Bourbon Lily; Was it a Just Verdict; A Social Diplomat; From Two Points of View; The Senator's Daughter; Letters or Memoirs of the Civil War; and other novels. She has received the college degrees of A. M. and A. B. in recognition of her literary work.

DARLING, HENRY, clergyman, college president, author, was born Dec. 27, 1823, in Reading, Pa. He was a presbyterian clergyman who was president of Hamilton college in 1881-91. He was the author of The Close Walk; Slavery and the War; Conformity to the World; and Not Doing but Receiving. He died in 1891.

DARLING, LUPI I., poet, was born in Westminister, Mass. She is the author of a volume of poems entitled Messages From the Watch Tower.

DARLING, MARY GREENLEAF, author. She is the author of Battles at Home; In the World; and Gladys, a Romance.

DARLING, MASON C., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born May 18, 1801, in Bellingham, Mass. He aided in establishing the towns of Sheboygan and Fond du Lac, Wis. He has been judge of probate, mayor of Fond du Lac, and a member for several years of the territorial legislature. He was a representative in congress from the state of Wisconsin from 1847 to 1849.

DARLING, NOYES, merchant, agriculturist, jurist, was born in 1782, in Woodbridge, Conn. He was a distinguished agriculturist who passed the latter portion of his life in New Haven, of which city he was mayor, having served long as county surveyor, and was at the time of his death judge of the county court. He died Sept. 17, 1846, in New Haven, Conn.

DARLING, WILLIAM, physician, author, was born in 1815, in Scotland. He was a distinguished New York physician who published Anatomography, or Graphic Anatomy; and Essentials of Anatomy. He died in 1884.

DARLING, WILLIAM A., merchant, soldier, congressman, was born Dec. 17, 1817, in Newark, N. J. From 1847 to 1854 he was deputy receiver of Texas for New York; and from 1854 to 1865 was president of a railroad company in New York. He was a presidential elector in 1860; and in 1863 and 1864 was president of the Union and Republican organization of New York city. In 1864 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-ninth congress.

DARLINGTON, EDWARD, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1833 to 1839.

DARLINGTON, ISAAC, soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 13, 1781, in Westtown, Pa. In 1807 he was elected to the state legislature; served as a volunteer lieutenant in the last war with England; and was a member of congress from Pennsylvania from 1817 to 1819. In 1820 he was appointed deputy attorney-general for Chester county; and in 1821 was appointed president judge of the county court, which office he held until his death. He died April 27, 1839.

DARLINGTON, JAMES HENRY, clergyman, was born June 9, 1856, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He became pastor of Christ church of Brooklyn in 1883; is a trustee of Rutgers College for Women of New York city; and is an officer in many working associations.

DARLINGTON, SMEDLEY, educator, congressman, was born Jan. 24, 1827, in Pocopson, Pa. He has resided in West Chester since 1864, during which time he has conducted an extensive business as broker; and was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

DARLINGTON, THOMAS, physician, journalist, was born Sept. 24, 1857, in Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1888 he was appointed surgeon to the Copper Queen Consolidated Mining company of Bisbee, Ariz.; and also of the Southeastern Railroad company. He is the editor of The Mail and Express of New York city; and the author of various articles which have appeared in current literature.

DARLINGTON, WILLIAM, botanist, author, was born April 28, 1782, in Birmingham, Pa. He was a famous botanist of West Chester, Pa., in whose honor Darlingtonia, a genus of pitcher-plants, was named. He was the author of Mutual Influence of Habits and Disease; Agricultural Botany; Flora Cestrica; and Memorials of John Bartram and Humphrey Marshall. He died in 1863.

DARNALL, G. D., physician, surgeon, legislator, was born May 28, 1843, in Paris, Ill. He is a successful physician and surgeon of West Union, Iowa; was elected a member of the twenty-second general assembly of Iowa; and has filled many important offices in his city, county and state.

DARNELL, ELI LAWSON, educator, lawyer, was born March 17, 1856, in Pickens county, Ga. For many years he was engaged in educational work; studied law, and is now a prominent lawyer of Jasper, Ga.

DARNELL, HENRY FAULKNER, clergyman, author, was born June 24, 1831, in London, England. He is the author of Philip Hazelbrook; Flossie; The Craze of Christian Angelhart; A Nation's Thanksgiving; Songs of the Seasons; Kindesliebe; besides numerous short stories, sermons and poems.

DARRAGH, CORNELIUS, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1843 to 1847. He died in January, 1855.

DARRAGH, EDWARD J., lawyer, statesman, was born June 20, 1869, in Painesville, Ohio. He graduated from the university of Notre Dame of South Bend, Ind., graduating therefrom in 1886. In 1890 he was admitted to the bar at St. Paul, Minn., of which city he is corporation attorney. In 1894 he was honored by the unanimous nomination for congress from his district.

DARRALL, CHESTER B., physician, surgeon, state senator, congressman, was born June 24, 1842, in Somerset county, Pa. He entered the army as assistant surgeon of volunteers, promoted to be surgeon, and served throughout the war. He was elected to the state senate of Louisiana in 1860; and was elected to the forty-first, forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth and fifty-seventh congresses as a republican.

DARROW, ALLEN R., author, poet, was born April 20, 1826, in New London, Conn. He has contributed both prose and verse to various journals and magazines; and is the author of Iphigenia and Other Poems. He is engaged in business in Buffalo, N. Y.

D'ARUSMONT, MADAME FRANCES, reformer, author, was born in 1795, in Scotland. She was a very energetic and versatile Scottish reformer who came several times to America, and finally settled in Cincinnati. She was the author of Popular Lectures on Free Inquiry; Biographical Notes and Political Letters of Fanny Wright D'Arusmont (1844); Altorf; a tragedy; Views of Society and Manners in America; and A Few Days in Athens include her principal works. She died in 1852.

DARVIN, THEOPHILUS, physician, surgeon, was born Jan. 9, 1829, in South America. He was professor in the Medical college of Ohio from 1864 to 1869, and filled a similar position in the medical department of the university of Louisville from 1869 to 1872. He is now professor of obstetrics and diseases of women and children in the college of Physicians and Surgeons of Indiana.

DARWIN, C. B., jurist. He was a resident of Iowa, from which state he was appointed an associate justice of the United States court for the territory of Washington.

DASSLER, CHARLES F. W., lawyer, author, was born April 3, 1852, in St. Louis, Mo. Since 1873 he has practiced law in Leavenworth, Kan.; has been city attorney for two terms; served in the city council for two terms, and was president one year. He is the author of Dassler's Kansas Digest; Dassler's Kansas Statutes; Kansas Addendum; and Leavenworth City Ordinances; and also editor and compiler of a number of other legal works.

DAUGHERTY, JAMES A., farmer, jurist, state legislator, was born Aug. 30, 1847, in McMinn county, Tenn. He received his education in the public schools of East Tennessee; and in 1867 moved to Missouri. During 1891-95 he served two terms as judge of the county court of Jasper county; and in 1896 was elected a member of the Missouri state legislature. He has taken an active part in public affairs; and is also a successful farmer and stock raiser of Webb City, Mo.

DAUVRAY, HELEN, actress, was born Feb. 14, 1859, in San Francisco, Cal. She made her first appearance on the stage in San Francisco as Eva in Uncle Tom's Cabin. She subsequently was announced as a child star and took part in such plays as Fidela, No Name, and Katy Did.

DAVEE, THOMAS, merchant, congressman, was born Dec. 9, 1797, in Plymouth, Mass. He served six years in the Maine legislature; and during his second term in the assembly was chosen speaker. He was a representative in congress from 1837 to 1841; was also for many years a postmaster in Maine and at the time of his death was a senator elect of the state legislature. He died Dec. 9, 1841.

DAVEIS, CHARLES STEWART, soldier, lawyer, state senator, was born May 10, 1788, in Portland, Maine. In 1839 he was a candidate for the state senate and the following year was elected a member of that body. In 1848 he was a member of the national convention, which nominated General Taylor for the presidency. He wrote extensively for current publications, and on genealogical subjects; and was vice-president general of the Massachusetts Society of the Cincinnati. He died March 29, 1865, in his native town.

DAVEIS, EDWARD HENRY, lawyer, author, was born in April, 1818, in Portland, Maine. Since 1860 he has been manager of the Portland Gas Light company, and for a time was financial agent of the Portland Company of Locomotive and Marine Engine builders. He published Daveis' Reports; and an enlarged edition of Ware's Reports. He has been commissioner of the United States courts and of the court of claims.

DAVEISS, JOSEPH HAMILTON, lawyer, was born March 4, 1774, in Bedford county, Va. In 1795 he was appointed United States attorney for the state of Kentucky. In 1811 he joined Gen. Harrison's army in the campaign against the Indians, and received the command of major. He died Nov. 7, 1811.

DAVEISS, MRS. MARIA THOMPSON, author, was born Oct. 31, 1814, in Harrodsburg, Ky. She is a Kentucky author who has written much for agricultural journals, and has published Roger Sherman, a Tale of '76; Woman's Love; History of Mercer and Boyle Counties, Kentucky; and Cultivation and Uses of the Chinese Sugar Cane.

DAVENPORT, ADDINGTON, jurist, was born Aug. 3, 1670, in Boston, Mass. He was clerk of the house of representatives, supreme court, and court of common pleas, was elected a member of the council, served as a representative in 1711-13, and was judge of the supreme court from 1715 till the time of his death. He died April 2, 1736, in Boston, Mass.

DAVENPORT, ADOLPHUS HOYT, actor, was born Aug. 4, 1828, in Stamford, Conn. His first appearance in Philadelphia was at the old Chestnut street theater, and he was a member of the company during 1853-54. He was manager of the Mobile theater during 1872, and was connected with Bidwell's academy of music. He died Oct. 22, 1873, in New Orleans, La.

DAVENPORT, AMZI BENEDICT, educator, author, was born Oct. 30, 1817, in New Canaan, Conn. In 1836 he established a private academy at Brooklyn, N. Y., of which he was principal for sixteen years. In 1851 he prepared a history of the Davenport family.

DAVENPORT, BENNETT FRANKLIN, physician, surgeon, public official, was born May 28, 1845, in Cambridge, Mass. During 1879-86 he filled the chair of chemistry in the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy; was chemist to the Massachusetts state board of health during 1882-92; dairy inspector for the city of Boston in 1882-85; was appointed a justice of the peace in 1893; and has filled various other public positions of honor. He is a charter member of the Historical society of Watertown, Mass.; and a member of various learned societies of America and Europe.

DAVENPORT, EDWARD LOOMIS, actor, was born Nov. 15, 1814, in Boston, Mass. In 1859 he became manager of the Howard athenæum in Boston, and ten years later took the management of the Chestnut street theater in Philadelphia. He died Sept. 1, 1877, in Canton, Mass.

DAVENPORT, FANNY LILLY GIPSY, actress, was born April 10, 1850, in England. She was a noted actress; and during her professional career was in the leading female role in She Stoops to Conquer; Maids as They Are; The Good Natured Man; Caste; and various other plays. She died Sept. 26, 1898, in South Duxbury, Mass.

DAVENPORT, FRANCIS M., lawyer, was born May 1, 1840, in Gallia county, Ohio. He received his education at the Iowa Wesleyan university, from which he graduated in 1864; and subsequently graduated from the law department of the Michigan university. For twenty years he practiced law in Oskaloosa, Iowa; and since 1889 in Carroll, Iowa. He has been city attorney of Oskaloosa; county attorney of Carroll county; and has attained distinction as an astute lawyer of national reputation.

DAVENPORT, FRANKLIN, soldier, jurist, congressman, was born in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a revolutionary soldier; a judge; and was a senator in congress from New Jersey from 1798 to 1799. He was a representative in congress from 1799 to 1801.

DAVENPORT, HENRY GEORGE BRYANT, actor, was born Jan. 19, 1866, in New York city. He has played at the Walnut street theater, Philadelphia, as Hendrick, with Joseph Jefferson in the comedy of Rip Van Winkle, and in 1879 he appeared at Wallack's theater, New York, as Sir Joseph Porter in the juvenile Pinafore troupe.

DAVENPORT, IRA, congressman, was born June 28, 1841, in Hornellsville, N. Y. He was a state senator in 1878-81; was state comptroller in 1882-83; and in 1884 was elected a representative from New York to the forty-ninth congress. In 1885 he was an unsuccessful candidate for governor of the state. He received the re-election to the fiftieth congress as a republican.

DAVENPORT, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 12, 1758, in Stamford, Conn. He served in the commissary department in the war of the revolution. He was a judge of the court of common pleas, and a representative in congress during 1796-97. He died Aug. 3, 1797, in Stamford, Conn.

DAVENPORT, JAMES J., jurist, was born in Virginia. He was appointed from Missouri chief justice of the United States court for New Mexico.

DAVENPORT, JOHN, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1827 to 1829.

DAVENPORT, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born in 1597, in England. He was a famous puritan divine who, before coming to America in 1637, was a celebrated London preacher. In 1638 he was one of the founders of New Haven, and in 1660 concealed the noted regicides, Goffe and Whalley, from their pursuers. In 1666 he became pastor of the First church in Boston. He was the author of Instructions to Elders of the English Church; Catechism containing the Chief Heads of the Christian Religion; and Discourse about Civil Government in New England. He died March 15, 1670, in Boston, Mass.

DAVENPORT, JOHN, merchant, jurist, was born in 1635, in England. In May, 1657, he was admitted a freeman in New Haven, and later appears to have been one of the judges in the courts of New Haven. He removed to Boston in 1668, and was register of probate in 1675-76, and also a merchant. He died March 21, 1677, in Boston, Mass.

DAVENPORT, JOHN, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 16, 1752, in Stamford, Conn. He was a representative in congress from Connecticut from 1799 to 1817. He served with credit in the revolutionary war as a major in the commissary department. He died Nov. 28, 1839, in Stamford, Conn.

DAVENPORT, NICHOLAS T., actor, was born in 1831. He was a careful and conscientious actor, and maintained a good position in society by his talents and integrity. Mr. Davenport was likewise an excellent sketch-writer. He died Aug. 26, 1867, in Boston, Mass.

DAVENPORT, S. A., lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 15, 1834, in Schuylker county, N. Y. He was elected district attorney for the county of Erie, and is now a practicing attorney. In 1888 he was elected district delegate to the republican national convention at Chicago; and in 1892 was elected one of the delegates at large to the national republican convention at Minneapolis. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress from the state at large by a majority of nearly three hundred thousand.

DAVENPORT, THOMAS, congressman, was born in Cumberland county, Va. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1825 to 1835. He died in November, 1838, in Halifax county.

DAVENPORT, WILLIAM, soldier, was born in North Carolina. He was appointed captain in the sixteenth infantry in 1812, and distinguished himself at Chippewa and Lundy's Lane in the war with Great Britain. He died April 12, 1858, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DAVENPORT, WILLIAM, surveyor, legislator, jurist, philanthropist, was born Oct. 12, 1769, in Culpeper county, Va. He held numerous offices of trust; and contributed largely to the erection of the Female college of Lenoir, which bears his name. He died Aug. 19, 1859, in Walnut Fountain, N. C.

DAVENPORT, WILLIAM, clergyman, was born in 1797, in Kentucky. In 1848, with his brother, he established a school at Walnut grove, which afterward became Eureka college. He was a union man during the civil war, and was taken prisoner by Gen. John Morgan's men. He died June 24, 1869, in Nebraska City, Neb.

DAVENPORT, WILLIAM BATES, lawyer, was born March 10, 1847, in New York city. In 1889 he was appointed public administrator of Kings county; and has attained prominence as a successful lawyer of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DAVEY, ROBERT C., congressman, was born Oct. 22, 1853, in New Orleans, La. He was a member of the state senate in 1879, and re-elected in April, 1884, and again elected in 1892. He was president pro tempore of the senate during the sessions of 1884 and 1886. He was elected judge of the first recorder's court in 1880, re-elected in 1882, re-elected in April, 1884, and served until May, 1888. He was defeated for mayor of the city of New Orleans in 1888; and was elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat. He also received the re-election to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses.

DAVID, EDWARD LIVINGSTON, manufacturer, was born April 22, 1834, in Worcester, Mass. Of the Washburn Iron Co., formed in 1857 to carry on the business, he was treasurer until 1882. He served as mayor of Worcester in 1874, and state senator in 1876; he has declined other political honors.

DAVID, JEAN BAPTISTE, bishop, author, was born in 1761, in France. He was a Roman catholic bishop of Bardstown, Ky.; and the author of Vindication of Catholic Doctrine concerning Images; Address to Brethren of Other Professions; On the Rule of Faith; and True Piety. He died in 1841.

DAVIDGE, WILLIAM PLEATER, actor, was born April 7, 1814, in London, England. Among his best parts were Bishopriggs in Man and Wife; Old Hardy in the Belle's Stratagem; Hardcastle in She Stoops to Conquer; and Croaker in The Good-Natured Man. He died Aug. 7, 1888, in Cheyenne, Tenn.

DAVIDSON, ALEXANDER, inventor, was born Sept. 23, 1826, in Pruntytown, W. Va. He designed a paddle-wheel for boat propulsion, which was patented in 1881. To him and his genius are owing many of the most important improvements now embraced in the leading typewriters. In 1887 he sold out his various patents to the Vost Writing Machine company.

DAVIDSON, ALEXANDER C., planter, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 26, 1826, in Mecklenburg county, N. C. He engaged in cotton planting in 1879; and was elected a representative in the state legislature, where he served until elected a state senator. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Alabama to the forty-ninth congress, and was re-elected to the fiftieth congress.

DAVIDSON, ARNOLD, lawyer, expert accountant, was born Aug. 24, 1840, in Germany. He served in the civil war as a private, and was honorably discharged in 1863. He settled in New York city, where he is an expert accountant.

DAVIDSON, CHARLES, educator, author, was born in 1852, in Ohio. He is an instructor of Belmont, Cal.; and the author of The Phonology of the Stressed Vowels of Beowulf; and Studies in the English Mystery Plays.

DAVIDSON, GEORGE, astronomer, author, was born May 9, 1825, in England. He is an astronomer of distinction, and founder of the Davidson observatory in San Francisco. He is the author of The United States Coast Survey of the Pacific Coast; Coast Pilot of Alaska; and Voyages of Discovery on the Northwest Coast of America, 1539-1603.

DAVIDSON, JAMES H., educator, was born June 18, 1858, in Colchester, Del. He was a teacher in the public schools of Delaware and Sullivan counties, N. Y., for several years, and for one year was engaged at the same occupation at Princeton, Wis. He was elected district attorney of Green Lake county in 1888, and in 1890 was chosen chairman of the republican congressional committee for the sixth district of Wisconsin, and continued in that position until nominated for the fifty-fifth congress. In 1892 he removed to Oshkosh, Wis.; and in 1895 was appointed city attorney of that city for a term of two years. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

DAVIDSON, JAMES WOOD, educator, author, was born March 9, 1829, in Newberry, S. C. He is an educator of South Carolina and elsewhere; and the author of Living Writers of the South; School History of South Carolina; The Correspondent; The Poetry of the Future; and Florida of To-day.

DAVIDSON, JOHN S., lawyer, state senator, was born about 1845, in Augusta, Ga. In 1884 and 1886 he was elected state senator, and in 1886 president of the senate; and also grand master of Masons of Georgia. He was subsequently elected president of the Richmond county board of education, and city attorney of Augusta.

DAVIDSON, JOHN WYNN, soldier, was born Aug. 18, 1824, in Fairfax county, Va. He served in the Mexican war; and in the war against the Apache and Utah Indians. He served with distinction through the civil war; was promoted brigadier-general of volunteers in 1862; and in 1865 was made major-general for meritorious services.

DAVIDSON, LUCRETIA MARIA, poet, was born Sept. 27, 1808, in Plattsburg, N. Y. She was the author of Amir Khan and Other Poems, issued in 1829. She died Aug. 27, 1825.

DAVIDSON, MARGARET MILLER, poet, was born March 26, 1823, in Plattsburg, N. Y. She was a juvenile prodigy whose immature verses were lauded by contemporary writers. She died Nov. 25, 1838, in Saratoga, N. Y.

DAVIDSON, MARION R., lawyer, jurist, was born April 4, 1847, in Macon county, Ill. He received the rudiments of his education from the common schools, and graduated from the Mount Zion academy. For several years he was engaged in educational work, and was admitted to the bar in 1876. Since 1878 he has practiced his profession with success in Monticello, Ill. He has filled the office of county judge, and has taken an active part in the public affairs in his county and state.

DAVIDSON, ROBERT, clergyman, author, was born in 1750, in Maryland. He was a presbyterian clergyman who was president of Dickinson college, Carlisle, Pa., 1804-09. He was the author of Epitome of Geography in Verse for Schools; The Christian's A. B. C., or the 119th Psalm in Meter; and New Metrical Version of the Psalms, with Notes. He died Dec. 13, 1812.

DAVIDSON, ROBERT, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 23, 1808, in Carlisle, Pa. He was a presbyterian minister in Kentucky and other states, among whose writings are Elijah, a Sacred Drama, and Other Poems; and The Christ of God, or the Relation of Christ to Christianity. He died April 6, 1876, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DAVIDSON, ROBERT C., financier, public official, was born Dec. 25, 1850, in Lunenburg county, Va. In 1865 he moved to Baltimore, received employment in the wholesale dry goods house of Daniel Miller and Co., and became financial manager of that concern. In 1889 he was elected mayor of Baltimore, and served with distinction. He declined a re-election, and accepted the presidency of the Baltimore Trust and Guarantee Co., which position he still fills.

DAVIDSON, ROBERT H. M., soldier, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Sept. 23, 1832, in Gadsden, Fla. He served two terms as a representative in the state legislature; and was elected a state senator in 1860. He retired from the senate in 1862 and entered the confederate army, rising to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1865; and was elected a representative from Florida to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, and fifty-first congresses as a democrat.

DAVIDSON, ROBERT PARKS, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Oct. 26, 1826, in Kentucky. He was district prosecuting attorney for four years; was common pleas judge for the district composed of Clinton and Carroll counties; and represented Tippecanoe county in the lower house in the session of 1870-72.

DAVIDSON, SAM HOUSTON, lawyer, college president, legislator, was born Jan. 29, 1848, in Camden, Tenn. He was in the confederate service during the war. In 1877-79 he was a representative of the Arkansas house of representatives; in 1889-91 served as state senator, and in 1889 was a candidate for lieutenant-governor of his state. He was president of the Pacific and Great Eastern Railroad company, and president of the Evening Shade college.

DAVIDSON, THOMAS, philosopher, author, was born Oct. 25, 1840, in Scotland. He is a writer on art and philosophy who came to the United States in 1866 and settled at Cambridge, and the author of The Parthenon Frieze and Other Essays; The Place of Art in Education; Giordano Bruno and the Relation of his Philosophy to Free Thought; Handbook of Dante, from the Italian of Scartazzini, with Notes and Additions; Prolegomena to Tennyson's In Memoriam; Aristotle, and Ancient and Modern Educational Ideals; and The Education of the Greek People and its Influence on Civilization.

DAVIDSON, THOMAS G., lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 6, 1805, in Jefferson county, Miss. He was elected to the legislature of Louisiana in 1833, where he served, from different parishes, some thirteen years. He was elected a representative in congress from Louisiana in 1855; re-elected in 1857; and re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress, but withdrew in February, 1861.

DAVIDSON, WILLIAM, soldier, was born in 1746 in Lancaster county, Pa. At the beginning of the revolution he was appointed major in one of the first regiments raised in North Carolina, and was in the engagements at Brandywine, Germantown, and Monmouth. He died Feb. 1, 1781, in Cowan's Ford, N. C.

DAVIDSON, WILLIAM, planter, state senator, congressman, was born Sept. 2, 1778, in Mecklenburg county, N. C. He represented that county in the state legislature as senator in 1813, 1815, 1816, and 1817. He was a representative in congress from his native state from 1818 to 1821; and served again in the state senate in 1827, 1828, and 1829. He died Sept. 16, 1857, in Mecklenburg county, N. C.

DAVIDSON, WILLIAM M., farmer, educator, college president, was born April 8, 1851, in Sullivan county, Tenn. He has been engaged in educational work for nearly twenty years; was superintendent of schools for Lee county, Va.; and president of Cumberland college for three years.

DAVIE, WILLIAM R., jurist, was born in North Carolina. In 1790 he was appointed a judge of the United States district court for the district of North Carolina.

DAVIE, WILLIAM RICHARDSON, soldier, legislator, was born June 20, 1756, near White Haven, England. He settled at Halifax, N. C., and was for many years a member of the state legislature and in 1787 was delegate to the convention which framed the federal constitution. He died Nov. 8, 1820, in Camden, S. C.

DAVIE, WINSTON JONES, present state commissioner of agriculture, was born April 3, 1824, in Kentucky. He was prominently connected with grange movements in Kentucky and Tennessee, and was vice-president of the National Agricultural congress of Kentucky. He was for a time agricultural editor of the Louisville Ledger, and subsequently editor-in-chief of the National Granger.

DAVIES, CHARLES, educator, author, was born Jan. 22, 1798, in Washington, Conn. He was a noted professor of mathematics in Columbia college from 1857. Beside a notable series of mathematical text-books, from A Primary Table Book to Elementary Geometry and Trigonometry, he published also editions of Legendre's Geometry and Bourdon's Algebra. Other works by him comprise Practical Mathematics; Elements of Surveying; Analytical Geometry; Differential and Integral Calculus; Logic and Utility of Mathematics; The Metric System; and Mathematical Dictionary. He died Sept. 17, 1876, in Fishkill Landing, N. Y.

DAVIES, CHARLES WILLIAM, engraver, was born June 21, 1854, in Whitesboro, N. Y. He has attained prominence as a noted steel and copper plate engraver; and is also a successful business man of Grand Rapids, Ohio.

DAVIES, EDWARD, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1837 to 1841.

DAVIES, HENRY EUGENE, lawyer, jurist, was born Feb. 8, 1805, in Black Lake, N. Y. In 1859 he was elected to the court of appeals, where he served from 1860 till 1869, being the chief justice for several years. He died Dec. 17, 1881, in New York city.

DAVIES, HENRY EUGENE, soldier, lawyer, was born July 2, 1836, in New York city. He entered the army in 1861 as a captain, and was made a brigadier-general of volunteers in 1863. He was public administrator of New York city in 1866-69; assistant district attorney of the southern district of New York in 1870-72; and since 1873 has been engaged in law practice.

DAVIES, JULIEN TAPPAN, lawyer, was born Sept. 25, 1845, in New York city. For many years he has been counsel for the elevated railroads in the city of New York; and since 1881 has been trustee and counsel for the Mutual Life Insurance company.

DAVIES, MARIANNE, musician, was born in 1736 in New England. She was a noted player on the harmonica; and with her sister Cecilia made a successful tour of Europe. She died in 1792.

DAVIES, SAMUEL, clergyman, college president, author, was born Nov. 3, 1724, in Summit Ridge, Del. He was a presbyterian clergyman of great renown in his day as a preacher, and the fourth president of Princeton college. He wrote a number of hymns still in use, and his Sermons, in five volumes, appeared in London in 1767. He died Feb. 4, 1761, in Princeton, N. J.

DAVIES, THOMAS, clergyman, was born Dec. 21, 1736, in England. He was the first episcopalian in the town, and by his efforts the present parish of St. Michael's was organized in 1745. He gave it a tract of land, and contributed largely to the erection of a church. He died May 12, 1766, in Milford, Conn.

DAVIES, THOMAS ALFRED, soldier, author, was born in December, 1809, in St. Lawrence county, N. Y. He was a federal officer in the civil war, and is the author of Cosmogony, or Mysteries of Creation; Adam and Ha-Adam; Genesis Disclosed; Answer to Hugh Miller and Theoretical Geologists; and How to Make Money and How to Keep It.

DAVIES, THOMAS FREDERICK, bishop of Michigan, was born Aug. 31, 1831, in Fairfield, Conn. He was professor of Hebrew in the Berkeley Divinity school, from 1856 to 1862; rector of St. John's church of Portsmouth, N. H., from 1862 to 1868; and rector of St. Peter's church of Philadelphia, from 1868 to 1880. He has published occasional sermons, episcopal addresses, pastorals, and other official papers.

DAVIES, WILLIAM, jurist, was born in Georgia. Prior to the year 1820 he was appointed a judge of the United States district court for the district of Georgia.

DAVIES, WILLIAM GILBERT, lawyer, was born March 21, 1842, in New York city. He entered the service of the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York city, and in 1870, when the law department of the company was organized, he became assistant. He held that position until 1885, when he was elected head of the department.

DAVIES, JOSEPH HAMILTON, lawyer, was born March 4, 1774, in Bedford county, Va. He served for six months as a volunteer in the Indian campaign of 1793, and then studied law. He died Nov. 7, 1811.

DAVIS, AARON GREEN, journalist, poet, was born March 8, 1865, in Camden, Tenn. In 1889 he began the publication of The Southern; and in 1890 was elected county lecturer of the Agricultural Wheel, now known as the Farmers' Alliance, which position he filled until 1892. He has editorial control of The Dyersburg Times.

DAVIS, AARON JASPER, soldier, educator, was born June 21, 1847, in Clarion county, Pa. He served as a union soldier during the civil war; and for twenty-three years has been a member of the National Guard of Pennsylvania. His life has been spent principally in educational work. He was county superintendent of schools for eight years; was an officer in the department of public instruction at Harrisburg, Pa.; superintendent of the Industrial and Training school of Sitka, Alaska, and is now principal of the State Normal school of Clarion, Pa.

DAVIS, ALEXANDER HENRY, proprietor, was born Oct. 19, 1839, in Syracuse, N. Y. When the civil war broke out he went to the front in 1861 as lieutenant of artillery. He was promoted to be captain and assistant adjutant-general in 1863, and major and assistant inspector-general in 1864.

DAVIS, ALEXANDER JACKSON, architect, was born July 24, 1803, in New York. He designed the executive department and patent-office in Washington, the capitols of Illinois, Indiana, Ohio and North Carolina, the university of Michigan, and the Virginia military institute.

DAVIS, AMOS, lawyer, congressman, was born in Mount Sterling, Ky. He was a member of the Kentucky legislature from Montgomery county in 1819, 1825, 1827 and 1828; and was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1833 to 1835. He was a brother of Garrett Davis. He died June 5, 1835, in Owingsville, Ky.

DAVIS, ANDREW JACKSON, author, was born Aug. 11, 1826, in Blooming Grove, N. Y. He is a noted spiritualist of Poughkeepsie, among whose many mystical rhapsodical writings the following may be considered the most important: The Great Harmonia; Harmonial Man; Present Age and Inner Life; Philosophy of Spiritual Intercourse; The Principles of Nature; The Penetration; Genesis and Ethics of Conjugal Love, and Autobiography.

DAVIS, ANDREW McFARLAND, antiquarian and author, was born Dec. 30, 1833, in Worcester, Mass. After practicing a short time in Massachusetts he went to California, and was for several years a partner of his brother in the manufacturing business. He published articles in the Overland and Atlantic Monthly magazines.

DAVIS, ASAHIEL, author, was born in 1791 in Massachusetts. He is a Massachusetts antiquary who published Ancient America and Researches of the East; and History of New Amsterdam.

DAVIS, AUGUSTA CORDELIA, poet, was born in 1836 in Maine. She is the author of Poems from Yare.

DAVIS, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, soldier, was born in 1832 in Alabama. He distinguished himself in both the infantry and cavalry service in New Mexico. In 1862 he became colonel of the eighth New York cavalry. He died June 9, 1863, in Beverly Ford, Va.

DAVIS, BOOTHE COLWELL, educator, college president, author, was born July 12, 1863, in Jane Lew, W. Va. He was made president of Alfred university, in which institution he also fills the chair of philosophy and college pastor. He has written numerous papers, lectures and addresses, and is the author of Catholicism in America; The Beginnings of History; and The Narrative of the Flood and the Lessons It Teaches.

DAVIS, MRS. CAROLINE E., author, was born in 1831 in Northwood, N. H. She is a prolific writer of Sunday-school tales, and is the author of No Cross, No Crown; Little Conqueror Series; Miss Wealthy's Hope; and That Boy.

DAVIS, CHARLES, lawyer, state legislator, was born Jan. 1, 1789, in Mansfield, Conn. In 1841-45 he was United States district attorney of Vermont, and in 1845 was elected judge of probate for the district of Caledonia, and re-elected in 1846. He died in 1863 in Vermont.

DAVIS, CHARLES C., soldier, was born Aug. 15, 1830, in Harrisburg, Pa. He served as a union soldier during the civil war; was second and first lieutenant during three months' service in 1861, and captain and major during three years' service in seventh regiment Pennsylvania cavalry, army of the Cumberland. He is now connected with the postoffice of his native city.

DAVIS, CHARLES HENRY, naval officer, author, was born Jan. 16, 1807, in Boston, Mass. He was a rear-admiral in the United States navy, and a noted hydrographer. Besides editing the American Nautical Almanac, he published Law of Deposit of Flood Tide; Geological Action of Tidal and Other Ocean Currents; and translated Gauss's Theoria Motus Corporum Cœlestium. He died in 1877.

DAVIS, CHARLES HENRY, naval officer, author, was born Aug. 28, 1845, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a United States naval officer, and the author of Chronometer Rates as Affected by Temperature and Other Causes; and Telegraphic Determination of Longitudes.

DAVIS, CHARLES HENRY STANLEY, physician, author, was born in 1840 in Connecticut. He is a physician of Meriden, Conn., and the author of History of Wallingford and Meriden; The Voice as a Musical Instrument; Education and Training of Feeble Minded Children; and Index to Periodical Literature.

DAVIS, CLAUDE BERNARD, educator, was born March 18, 1873, in Mohican, Ohio. In 1892 he graduated from the Bethany, W. Va.; and the next year studied at Harvard university. He then became city editor of the Ashland Times, Ohio; and since 1894 has been director of the School of Oratory of the university of Wooster, with phenomenal success.

DAVIS, CLINTON B., manufacturer, legislator, was born July 27, 1843, in Hartford, Conn. In 1867 he established the wholesale hardware firm of Davis, Tracy and Co., and subsequently began the manufacture of plows. In 1883 he was elected to the Connecticut general assembly as representative from the town of Haddam, receiving the re-election in 1884 and 1887; and during the latter two terms was speaker of the house.

DAVIS, CUSHMAN KELLOGG, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, author, was born June 16, 1838, in Henderson, N. Y. He was first lieutenant in the twenty-eighth Wisconsin infantry in 1862-64. He was a member of the Minnesota legislature in 1867; was United States district attorney for Minnesota in 1868-73; was governor of Minnesota in 1874-75; and was elected to the United States senate as a republican, to succeed S. J. R. McMillan, republican, and took his seat March 4, 1887; was re-elected in 1893. His term of service will expire March 3, 1899. He is the author of The Law in Shakespeare.

DAVIS, DANIEL, lawyer, jurist, author, was born May 8, 1762, in Barnstable, Mass. He was a Massachusetts jurist who was solicitor-general of his state in 1800-32. He is the author of Criminal Practice; and Precedents of Indictments.

DAVIS, DANIEL F., governor. He was governor of Maine in 1880-81.

DAVIS, DAVID, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born March 9, 1815, in Cecil county, Md. He was elected to the Illinois state legislature; and in 1848 was elected judge of the eighth judicial circuit of the state; re-elected in 1855 and also in 1861. He was appointed a justice of the supreme court of the United States; and was a delegate-at-large to the Chicago convention of 1860, which nominated Mr. Lincoln for president. He resigned from the supreme bench in 1877 to take his seat as United States senator from Illinois for the term of six years. He died June 25, 1886.

DAVIS, DAVID, vocalist, composer, was born May 3, 1855, in South Wales. About 1881 he established himself as a teacher of singing in Cincinnati, Ohio, in which city he has ever since been choirmaster of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal church. He has also been tenor of the Plum street Jewish synagogue; tenor of the Scottish Rite choir; director of the Welsh Choral society, and director of the Cambrian Male chorus. He has appeared in numerous concerts in London and in many of the principal cities of the United States.

DAVIS, EDMUND J., soldier, lawyer, jurist, governor, was born in Florida. He was collector of customs on the Texas frontier, bordering on the Rio Grande, from 1850 to 1852; was a district attorney in 1853 and 1854, and was district judge from 1855 to 1860. In 1861 he entered the union army as colonel; served throughout the civil war, rising to the rank of brigadier-general. After the close of the war he returned to Texas; in 1866 was a member of the first reconstruction convention; was president of the second reconstruction convention, and was governor of Texas from 1870 to 1874.

DAVIS, EDWIN HAMILTON, archæologist, author, was born Jan. 22, 1811, in Ross county, Ohio. He was an archæologist whose chief work is Monuments of the Mississippi. He died May 15, 1888, in New York city.

DAVIS, ELIAS G., business man, public official, was born Oct. 15, 1841, in South Wales. In 1868 he emigrated to the United States, and for the past ten years has lived in Colorado. He has been postmaster for eight years, and in 1888 was appointed commissioner by Governor Cooper; re-elected two terms; and served two years as chairman of the board. He is also a successful cattle ranchman on the south fork of the Republican river, Colorado.

DAVIS, EMERSON, clergyman, author, was born July 15, 1798, in Ware, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman who was president of Williams college in 1861-68. He was the author of Historical Sketch of Westfield, Massachusetts; The Teacher Taught; and The First Half Century, or Events and Changes, 1800-50. He died June 8, 1866, in Westfield, Mass.

DAVIS, GARRETT, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Sept. 10, 1801, in Mt. Sterling, Ky. He was elected to the state legislature, and was twice re-elected. In 1839 he was a member of the state constitutional convention; and from 1839 to 1847 was a representative in congress from Kentucky, and declined a re-election. In 1861 he was elected a senator in congress from Kentucky for the term ending in 1867. In 1867 he was re-elected to the senate for the term ending in 1873. He died Sept. 3, 1872, in Paris, Ky.

DAVIS, GEORGE AUGUSTUS, physician, surgeon, was born Nov. 8, 1858, in Fayetteville, Ga. He received his education at the Middle Georgia college, and the Atlanta Medical college, Georgia. He was president of the Fayetteville County Medical association, and a member of the leading medical associations. He has a large practice in De Land, Fla., where he is also a prominent druggist.

DAVIS, GEORGE R., soldier, congressman, was born Jan. 3, 1840, in Three Rivers, Mass. He entered the union army in 1862 and was promoted from captain to major, serving until the close of the war. He settled in Chicago, Ill., and engaged in various pursuits. He was elected a representative from Illinois to the forty-sixth, forty-seventh, and forty-eighth congresses as a democrat, and declined further nominations.

DAVIS, GEORGE THOMAS, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 12, 1810, in Sandwich, Mass. He was elected to the senate of Massachusetts in 1839 and 1840; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1851 to 1853. His speeches in congress were published in 1852. He died in 1877.

DAVIS, GILBERT ASA, merchant, lawyer, legislator, was born Dec. 18, 1835, in Chester, Vt. In 1872 he was elected a member of the Vermont house of representatives, and in 1876 was elected to the state senate. He has been state's attorney for Windsor county, and for fifteen years has practiced law with success in Windsor. He is the owner of the Windsor Drug Store, and is prominently identified with various other business enterprises.

DAVIS, HASBROUCK, soldier, lawyer, was born April 19, 1827, in Worcester, Mass. He was mustered into the United States service in 1862 as lieutenant-colonel of the eleventh Illinois cavalry, and at the close of the war was brevetted brigadier-general. After returning to Chicago, he was elected city attorney. He died Oct. 10, 1870.

DAVIS, HENRY, clergyman, college president, author, was born Sept. 15, 1771, in East Hampton, N. Y. He was appointed president of Hamilton college, where he remained until his resignation in 1833. He published a Narrative of the Embarrassments and Decline of Hamilton College. He died March 8, 1852, in Clinton, N. Y.

DAVIS, HENRY CLAY, lawyer, was born March 4, 1837, in Franklin county, Vt. He received his education in the common schools of Vermont, and has attained distinction as one of the leading lawyers of the west; and now practices his profession at Yuma, Ariz.

DAVIS, HENRY EUGENE, lawyer, soldier, was born July 2, 1836, in New York city. He attended Harvard and Williams colleges, and graduated from the Columbia Law school in 1857. At the commencement of the civil war he became captain of the fifth New York volunteer infantry; rose rapidly through all grades; and was brevetted brigadier-general of the United States volunteers.

For three years he was public administrator of New York city, and during 1870-73 was assistant district attorney of the United States.

DAVIS, HENRY G., railroad president, banker, United States senator, was born Nov. 16, 1823, in Howard county, Md. He settled in West Virginia, and in 1858 became president of a bank. In 1865 he was elected to the legislature; in 1868 was a delegate to the democratic national convention; in the same year was elected to the state senate; and in 1870 was re-elected. He was elected a senator in congress from West Virginia for the term ending in 1877, and was re-elected for the term ending in 1883. In 1881 he became president of the West Virginia Central and Pittsburg railway, and also of the Piedmont and Cumberland railway.

DAVIS, HENRY LYON, college president, was born about 1775 in Maryland. In 1816 he was elected vice-president of St. John's college of Annapolis, Md.; in 1818 was appointed to the chair of mathematics, and in 1820 was elected president of this institution. In 1826 he moved to Delaware, where he became president of the college at Wilmington. He died in 1837 in Georgetown, Md.

DAVIS, HENRY WINTER, lawyer, congressman, author, was born Aug. 16, 1817, in Annapolis, Md. He was elected a representative from Maryland to the thirty-fourth, thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth congresses; and also elected to the thirty-eighth congress. In 1864 he was appointed a regent of the Smithsonian institution. He was conspicuously loyal to the union during the civil war. He was the author of The War of Ormuzd and Ahriman in the Nineteenth Century; and Speeches and Addresses in Congress. He died Dec. 30, 1865, in Baltimore, Md.

DAVIS, HORACE, manufacturer, congressman, author, was born March 16, 1831, in Worcester, Mass. He was elected a representative from California to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a republican. He is the president of the Sperry Flour company of San Francisco, which has a capital of ten million dollars. He is the author of Dolor Davis, a Sketch of His Life; American Constitutions and the Relation of the Three Departments as Adjusted by a Century; and Shakespeare's Sonnets, an Essay.

DAVIS, ISAAC, patriot, was born in 1745. He was captain of the Acton minute-men, and led them against the British at Concord bridge. He died April 19, 1775, in Concord, Mass.

DAVIS, ISAAC, lawyer, state senator, was born June 2, 1799, in Northborough, Mass. He was mayor of Worcester for three years, and for eleven years a member of the Massachusetts senate. He died April 1, 1883, in Worcester, Mass.

DAVIS, JAMES, colonial printer, was born Oct. 21, 1721, in Virginia. He removed with his printing outfit to Newbern, N. C., in 1749, and established the first press in that state. He was the only printer in the province until 1764, and did nearly all the book and pamphlet printing prior to and during the revolution. He died in 1785 in Newbern, N. C.

DAVIS, JAMES, jurist, poet, was born Jan. 28, 1815, in Gloucester, Mass. In 1877 he published a volume of his verse entitled Pleasant Water, a Song of the Sea and Shore. For thirty years he was a judge in his native city.

DAVIS, JAMES C., physician, author, was born March 16, 1863, in Grand county, Mo. He graduated from the high school in 1883; and from the university of Michigan in 1885; after which he entered the Bellevue Hospital Medical college of New York city, where the degree of doctor of medicine was conferred upon him. He then attended the hospitals of New York city for one year, then studied abroad for two years; and has attained eminence as a successful practitioner of gynecology, obstetrics and surgery in Rochester, N. Y. He is widely known by his valuable contributions to medical literature, and is a prominent member of the leading medical societies of both America and Europe.

DAVIS, JEFFERSON, statesman, president of the confederacy, was born June 3, 1808, in Christian county, Ky. In 1844

he was a presidential elector, and in 1845 was elected a representative in congress from Mississippi. He resigned in 1846 to become colonel of a volunteer regiment to serve in Mexico, and in Mexico received the appointment of brigadier-general. In 1847 he was appointed a senator in congress to fill a vacancy, and was elected for the term ending in 1851; and resigned in 1850, and was re-elected for a term of six years, but resigned. He was appointed secretary of war by President Pierce, serving throughout his administration. In 1857 he again took his seat in the United States senate for the term of six years. He wrote the Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government. He died in 1889.

DAVIS, JEFFERSON C., soldier, was born March 2, 1828, in Clark county, Ind. In 1848 he was made second lieutenant for gallant conduct at Buena Vista; and in 1852 became first lieutenant, and had charge of the garrison in Fort Sumter, S. C., and was there during the bombardment of 1861. At the battle of Pea Ridge he commanded as brigadier-general of volunteers one of the four divisions of General Curtis' army. On Sept. 20, 1862, he chanced to meet in Louisville, Gen. William Nelson, from whom he claimed to have received treatment unduly harsh and severe. An altercation ensued, and in a moment of resentment he shot Nelson, instantly killing him. He was arrested, and held for a time, but no trial was ordered, and he was released and assigned to duty at Covington, Ky. He died Nov. 30, 1879, in Chicago, Ill.

DAVIS, JOHN, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1841.

DAVIS, JOHN, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Jan. 25, 1761, in Plymouth, Mass. He was some years in the state legislature; a member of the convention to adopt the federal constitution, and member of the state senate in 1795. He was appointed comptroller of the United States treasury in 1795; district attorney for Massachusetts in 1796, and was United States district judge from 1801 until his death. He died Jan. 14, 1847, in Boston, Mass.

DAVIS, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, governor, United States senator, was born Jan. 13, 1787, in Northborough, Mass. He was a representative in congress from 1825 to 1834; governor of Massachusetts during the years 1834 and 1835, and 1841 and 1842, and a senator in congress from 1835 to 1841, and again from 1845 to 1853. He died April 19, 1854, in Worcester, Mass. He was noted for his great philanthropy and kindness.

DAVIS, JOHN, journalist, congressman, author, was born Aug. 9, 1826, in Sangamon county, Ill. For a quarter of a century he was actively engaged in journalism, and served as a member of the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses. He is the author of a large number of pamphlets and speeches on the monetary question and political economy; and the author of The Conquest of the Prairies by Abraham Lincoln in 1830; Sketch of Napoleon Bonaparte; and various other works, which are highly valued.

DAVIS, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, was born Sept. 16, 1851, in Newton, Mass. He was appointed assistant counsel for the United States before the French-American claims commission in 1881; in 1882 was appointed assistant secretary of state, and in 1885 was appointed an associate justice of the United States court of claims.

DAVIS, JOHN A. G., lawyer, author, was born in 1801 in Middlesex county, Va. He was a Virginia lawyer, professor of law in the university of Virginia in 1830-40, and the author of Estates Tail, Executive Devises, and Contingent Remainders under Virginia Statutes; and Treatise on Criminal Law. He died Nov. 4, 1840, in Williamsburg, Va.

DAVIS, JOHN CHANDLER BANCROFT, diplomatist, author, was born Dec. 29, 1822, in Worcester, Mass. He is a diplomatist who was agent for the United States before the Geneva court of arbitration on the Alabama claims, and afterwards, 1873-77, minister to Germany. He is the author of The Massachusetts Justice; The Case of the United States Before the Tribunal of Arbitration at Geneva; Treaties of the United States, with Notes; United States Supreme Court Reports; and Mr. Fish and the Alabama Claims.

DAVIS, JOHN G., congressman, was born Oct. 10, 1810, in Fleming county, Ky. He was a representative from Indiana to the thirty-second, thirty-third and thirty-fifth congresses, and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress. He died Jan. 18, 1866, in Terre Haute, Ind.

DAVIS, JOHN H., lawyer, was born Feb. 9, 1869, in Gaddiston, Ga. In 1892 he was admitted to the bar, and is attaining distinction as an able lawyer of Hiawassee, Ga. He has served as county administrator, and takes an active part in the public affairs of his county and state.

DAVIS, JOHN J., lawyer, congressman, was born May 1, 1835, in Clarksburg, Va. He was a member of the state legislature of Virginia in 1861, and of West Virginia in 1870. He was a presidential elector in 1864, and was one of the delegates from the state at large to the national democratic convention at New York in 1868. He was elected to the forty-second and forty-third congresses as a democrat.

DAVIS, JOHN LEE, naval officer, was born Sept. 3, 1825, in Carlisle, Ind. He entered the United States service as a midshipman in 1841; was commissioned lieutenant-commander in 1862, and in 1863 sank the blockade running steamer Georgina. He died Sept. 3, 1889, in Washington, D. C.

DAVIS, JOHN W., physician, congressman, governor, was born July 17, 1799, in Lancaster, Pa. He served as a surrogate, and then in the legislature of Indiana; and was speaker of the lower branch in 1832 and 1841. He was also a commissioner to make a treaty with the Indians, and was a representative in congress from Indiana from 1835 to 1837, from 1839 to 1841, and again from 1843 to 1847. He was speaker of the house of representatives during the twenty-ninth congress. In 1848 he was appointed minister to China. He subsequently held the position of governor of Oregon territory during 1853-54. He died Aug. 22, 1859, in Carlisle, Ind.

DAVIS, JOHN WOODBRIDGE, civil engineer, author, was born Aug. 19, 1854, in New York city. He is a civil engineer who, besides contributing much to engineering journals, has published Formulae for the Calculation of Railroad Earth Work and Average Haul, which speedily came into use as a text-book.

DAVIS, JOSEPH JOHN, lawyer, congressman, was born April 13, 1828, in Franklin county, N. C. He was elected to the state legislature in 1866, and was elected a representative from North Carolina to the forty-fourth congress, and was re-elected to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a democrat.

DAVIS, JOSEPH SLOCUM, lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 21, 1812, in Pickaway county, Ohio. He settled in Mount Vernon, and there practiced his profession in connection with Columbus Delano. He was twice elected judge, and held other offices, both national and local. He died Dec. 21, 1884, in Mount Vernon, Ohio.

DAVIS, LEMUEL CLARKE, journalist, author, was born Sept. 25, 1835, near Sandusky, Ohio. He is a Philadelphia journalist, editor of The Inquirer, and author of The Stranded Ship, a Story of Sea and Shore.

DAVIS, LOWNDES H., lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 14, 1836, in Jackson, Mo. He was state's attorney for the tenth judicial circuit of Missouri from 1868 to 1872; was a presidential elector in 1872, and was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1875. He was elected a member of the state house of representatives in 1876, and was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses as a democrat.

DAVIS, MRS. MARY EVELYN, journalist, author, was born in 1852 in Alabama. She is a prominent writer of New Orleans, on the editorial staff of the Picayune, and the author of Minding the Gap, and Other Poems; In War Times at La Rose Blanche, sketches for young people; Under the Man-Fig, a novel; and An Elephant's Track and Other Stories.

DAVIS, MATTHEW L., journalist, author, was born in 1766 in New York. He was a Washington journalist who published a Life of Aaron Burr. He died June 2, 1850, in Manhattanville, N. Y.

DAVIS, MINNIE S., lecturer, was born March 25, 1835, in Baltimore, Md. For many years she was assistant editor of the Ladies' Repository of Boston, Mass. She has lectured upon the Philosophy of Mental Healing and since 1885 has been devoted to the work of healing and teaching mental science and healing, at Hartford, Conn., with great success.

DAVIS, NATHAN SMITH, physician, author, was born Jan. 9, 1817, in Greene, N. Y. He is a Chicago physician, dean of the Northwestern university, whose principal writings include Lectures on Various Important Diseases; Principles and Practice of Medicine; Verdict of Science Concerning the Effects of Alcohol on Man; and Medical Education and Reform.

DAVIS, NELSON HENRY, soldier, was born Sept. 20, 1821, in Oxford, Mass. He served in the war with Mexico, and received the brevet of brigadier-general for his services in the civil war. He was retired in 1885 as brigadier-general. He died May 15, 1890, on Governor's Island, N. Y.

DAVIS, NOAH, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 10, 1818, in Haverhill, N. H. He was a justice of the supreme court of the state from 1857 to 1868. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-first and forty-second congresses, but resigned to become United States attorney for the district of New York. In 1873 he was again elected judge of the supreme court.

DAVIS, NOAH KNOWLES, educator, author, was born May 15, 1830, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a professor of moral science in the university of Virginia, and the author of The Theory of Thought, a Treatise on Deductive Logic; the Elements of Inductive Logic; and the Elements of Deductive Logic.

DAVIS, OZORA STEARNS, educator, clergyman, author, was born July 30, 1866, in Wheelock, Vt. He received a thorough education, and has the degrees of A. B., A. M. and Ph. D. For several years he was principal of graded schools of White River Junction, Vt., and is now pastor of the First Congregational church of Springfield, Vt. He is the author of Dartmouth Lyrics; A Vocabulary of New Testament Words; John Robinson; and other works.

DAVIS, PETER SEIFERT, clergyman, author, was born in 1828 in Maryland. He is a German reformed clergyman who has written The Young Parson.

DAVIS, MRS. REBECCA BLAINE, author, was born June 24, 1831, in Washington, Pa. She is a novelist whose first story, Life in the Iron Mills, a powerful but sombre study of laboring-class life, attracted great attention in the earlier pages of the Atlantic Monthly. Her later works in fiction include Margret Howth; Waiting for the Verdict; Dallas Galbraith; A Law Unto Herself; Kitty's Choice; John Andross; Doctor Warrick's Daughters; Silhouettes of American Life; Kent Hampden, a Story of a Boy; Natasqua; The Faded Leaf of History; and Frances Walstrup.

DAVIS, REUBEN, lawyer, jurist, general, congressman, author, was born Jan. 18, 1813, in Tullahoma, Tenn. He was in the Mexican war as colonel commandant of the Mississippi rifles, but resigned on account of sickness. He was elected to the lower branch of the state legislature from 1855 to 1857; and was elected a member of the thirty-fifth congress, and re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress, and was a member of the special committee of thirty-three; joined the rebellion in 1861. He was the author of Recollections of Mississippi and the Mississippians. He died in 1890.

DAVIS, RICHARD BINGHAM, poet, was born Aug. 21, 1771, in New York city. He was the author of numerous meritorious poems, which were collected and published, with memoir, by John T. Irving. He died in 1799 in New Brunswick, N. J.

DAVIS, RICHARD D., congressman, was born in New York. He graduated from Yale college in 1818, and was a representative in congress from his native state from 1841 to 1845.

DAVIS, RICHARD HARDING, author, was born in 1864 in Pennsylvania. He is a popular New York writer whose first book, Gallegher and Other Stories, brought him very suddenly into notice in 1890. He is the author of Van Bibber and Others; The Princess Aline; The Exiles; The West from a Car Window; Our English Cousins; About Paris; The Rulers of the Mediterranean; Three Gringos in Venezuela; and Stories for Boys.

DAVIS, ROBERT STEWART, journalist, was born in 1841, in Philadelphia, Pa. He has held the position of editor of several newspapers in Philadelphia and New York; and in 1883 established The Call, which is one of the best and most popular one cent papers in America.

DAVIS, ROBERT T., congressman, was born Aug. 28, 1823, in County of Down, Ireland. He settled at Fall River, Mass., in 1850; was a representative in the state legislature in 1853; and state senator in 1859-61. He was elected mayor of Fall River in 1873, and was elected a representative from Massachusetts to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a republican.

DAVIS, ROBERT W., lawyer, legislator, congressman, was born March 15, 1849, in Lee county, Ga. His father was an extensive planter and an eminent baptist divine. In 1863 he entered the confederate service, and surrendered with the army of General Johnston. In 1868 he was admitted to the bar, and soon took rank among the most eminent members of the bar in his native state. In 1879 he moved to Florida, where he now also stands at the head of his profession. In 1884 he was elected a member of the Florida state legislature, of which body he was made speaker. In 1888 he received a very flattering vote as a candidate for governor. He is now serving with distinction as a member of the fifty-fifth congress from the second congressional district of Florida.

DAVIS, ROGER, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1811 to 1815.

DAVIS, SAMUEL, congressman, was born in Massachusetts. He was a representative in congress from that state in 1803-12, and in 1815-16 he was a member of the state legislature.

DAVIS, SAMUEL B., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from Louisiana from 1853 to 1855.

DAVIS, SAMUEL POST, journalist, was born April 4, 1850, in Branford, Conn. He attended the common schools and graduated from the Racine college, Wisconsin. He began his literary career as a humorous writer; wrote for the New York Sun, Chicago Times, San Francisco Examiner, New York Journal, and other prominent newspapers. He was the first writer to advocate the formation of a political party having for its platform the principles of bimetalism solely, and he is the author of several essays on that subject. In 1896 he was a member of the St. Louis bimetallic convention. He is the editor and owner of the Carson Appeal, of Carson City, Nev., and the author of a volume of Short Stories.

DAVIS, SAMUEL T., soldier, physician, legislator, was born March 6, 1838, in Huntingdon county, Pa. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of assistant adjutant-general. He is a physician of Lancaster, Pa., and president of the state board of health of Pennsylvania. In 1884 he was elected to the state legislature and re-elected in 1886.

DAVIS, SAMUEL TAYLOR, D. D., clergyman, missionary, was born March 4, 1845, in Washington, Pa. He is a presbyterian clergyman and has been largely engaged in mission work in the United States and China.

DAVIS, SYLVANUS, pioneer. He commanded Fort Loyal, Falmouth, and after a five days' defence was obliged to surrender it to the French and Indians in May, 1690. He was a counsellor in 1691-92. He died in 1704, in Boston, Mass.

DAVIS, THOMAS, congressman, was born in Ireland. He emigrated to Rhode Island, and was elected a representative in congress from 1853 to 1855.

DAVIS, THOMAS FREDERICK, clergyman, was born Feb. 8, 1804, in Wilmington, N. C. In 1846 he moved to South Carolina, and became rector of Grace church, Camden. He was elected bishop of the diocese, and consecrated in St. John's chapel, New York, in 1853. He died Dec. 2, 1871, in Camden, S. C.

DAVIS, THOMAS KIRBY, clergyman, librarian, was born Feb. 11, 1826, in Chambersburg, Pa. In 1845 he graduated from Yale college; during 1846-49 he studied theology at the Princeton Theological seminary, and has attained eminence as a clergyman of the presbyterian church. He was a home missionary in California for many years. He has filled pastorates in Pennsylvania and Ohio, and is now librarian of the Wooster university. He has been professor of languages in the Vermilion institute of Hayesville, Ohio; has been trustee of that institution, and also of Wooster university. He has been a frequent contributor to periodical literature.

DAVIS, THOMAS T., jurist. He was appointed in 1803 United States judge for the territory of Indiana.

DAVIS, THOMAS T., manufacturer, congressman, was born Aug. 22, 1810, in Middlebury, Vt. In 1862 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-eighth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-ninth congress. He died May 2, 1872.

DAVIS, THOMAS W., lawyer, was born Oct. 15, 1850, in Uniontown, Ala. He received his education at the common schools, and graduated from the law school of the university of Alabama. He has attained distinction as an able lawyer of Thomasville, Ala., and takes an active part in the public affairs of his county and state.

DAVIS, THOMAS WESTON, clergyman, author, was born March 15, 1859, in Sturges, Miss. He graduated from the Rust university, and from the Gammon Theological seminary. He has attained prominence as one of the leading divines of the methodist episcopal church in Mississippi; is an orator of distinction, and the author of From the Selling Block to the Senate.

DAVIS, TIMOTHY, lawyer, congressman, was born in March, 1794, in Newark, N. J. He spent twenty years of his life in Missouri, and having removed to Iowa, was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-fifth congress.

DAVIS, TIMOTHY, merchant, congressman, was born April 12, 1821, in Gloucester, Mass. In 1854, by an unusually large majority, he was elected a representative in congress from his native district, and was re-elected to the thirty-fifth congress.

DAVIS, TITUS ELWOOD, clergyman, author, was born April 15, 1851, in Flatbush, N. Y. He has edited several publications and was appointed historian of Washington Camp Ground association. He is the author of Master's Call; First Houses of Bound Brook; Battle of Bound Brook, and other works.

DAVIS, VARINA ANNE JEFFERSON, author, was born in 1864 in Virginia. She is the author of An Irish Knight of the Nineteenth Century, a Sketch of Robert Emmet; and The Veiled Doctor. She died Sept. 19, 1898.

DAVIS, WARREN R., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1793 in South Carolina. He was appointed solicitor for South Carolina in 1818, and was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1825 to 1835. He died Jan. 29, 1835, in Washington, D. C.

DAVIS, WERTER RENICK, clergyman, educator, college president, was born April 1, 1818, in Circleville, Ohio. He was elected president of Baker university, but afterward resigned, and for fourteen consecutive years was appointed to a presiding eldership. During the civil war he went to the front as chaplain of the twelfth Kansas infantry. He was a member of the first state legislature of Kansas.

DAVIS, WILLIAM BRAMWELL, physician, author, was born July 22, 1832, in Ohio. He is a physician and surgeon of Cincinnati, and the author of Report on Vaccination; Consumption and Life Insurance; Revaccination; Intestinal Obstruction; Progress of Therapeutics; and The Alcohol Question.

DAVIS, WILLIAM HOPE, physician, author, was born Sept. 1, 1837, in Attica, N. Y. He attended the public schools of Cincinnati, Ohio, and subsequently graduated in medicine. He has attained prominence as one of the leading physicians of the west, and now has a lucrative practice in Springfield, Ill. In 1858 he was in the government employ as mail agent, and took the first mail that was ever taken across the continent. He has been a member of the board of health, and organized and was secretary of the Eclectic Medical association of Illinois. He was appointed secretary of the National Medical association for ten years, and read papers before that body on various topics. In 1892 he was appointed a member of the advisory council of the world's congress of eclectic physicians, and has filled numerous other positions of honor in medical bodies, and has contributed extensively to medical literature.

DAVIS, WILLIAM M., congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-seventh congress.

DAVIS, WILLIAM MORRIS, educator, author, was born in 1850 in Pennsylvania. He is a professor of physical geography in Harvard university, and the author of Nimrod of the Sea, or the American Whaleman; Whirlwinds, Cyclones, and Tornadoes; and Elementary Meteorology.

DAVIS, WILLIAM WATTS HART. He is the author of El Gringo, or New Mexico and Her People; History of the One Hundred and Fourth Pennsylvania Regiment; The Spanish Conquest of New Mexico; and History of the Doylestown Guards.

DAVIS, WOODBURY, lawyer, jurist, author, was born July 25, 1818, in Standish, Maine. In 1866 he was appointed postmaster of Portland, and relinquished law practice. He published The Beautiful City, a religious book. He died Aug. 15, 1871, in Portland, Maine.

DAVISON, ANDREW, lawyer, jurist, was born in Pennsylvania. He was elected in 1853 one of the judges of the supreme court of the state of Indiana.

DAVISON, GEORGE MOSBY, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 23, 1856, in Stanford, Ky. In 1881 he was appointed to a position in the internal revenue service, which he held until 1885. In 1886 he was appointed master of chancery, or commissioner, of the Lincoln circuit court, and resigned in 1893. In 1887 he was elected to the legislature from Lincoln county as a republican. He was elected judge of the Lincoln county court in 1894, and for ten consecutive years has been chairman of the Lincoln county republican committee. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

DAVY, JOHN M., lawyer, congressman, was born June 29, 1835, in Ontario. He was elected district attorney for Monroe county for three years; in 1872 was appointed collector of customs for the port of Genesee, which office he held until 1874, when he was elected a representative from New York to the forty-fourth congress as a republican.

DAWES, ANNA LAURENS, author, was born in 1851 in Massachusetts. She has written much for journals and periodicals, and is the author of How We Are Governed; The Modern Jew, His Present and Future; and Biography of Charles Sumner.

DAWES, HENRY LAURENS, journalist, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Oct. 30, 1816, in Cummington, Mass. He edited a paper called the Greenfield Gazette; was a member of the legislature of Massachusetts during the years 1848, 1849, and 1852; of the state senate in 1850, and of the state constitutional convention in 1853. He was district attorney for the western district of his native state, from 1853 until elected to the thirty-fifth congress. He was re-elected to the thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth, fortieth, forty-first, forty-second and forty-third congresses; and was elected a senator in congress for the term commencing in 1875, and was re-elected for another term of six years for term ending in 1889.

DAWES, JAMES W., merchant, lawyer, state senator, governor, was born Jan. 8, 1845, at McConnellsville, Ohio. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1875; and was elected state senator in 1876. In 1882 he was elected governor of Nebraska for the term of two years, and was re-elected governor in 1884.

DAWES, RUFUS, jurist, author, was born Jan. 26, 1803, in Boston, Mass. He was a witty jurist of Massachusetts, who won notice both as orator and poet. He is the author of The Valley of the Nashaway, and Other Poems; Athena of Damascus, a tragedy; Nix's Mate, an Historical Romance; and Miscellaneous Poems. He died Nov. 30, 1859, in Washington, D. C.

DAWES, RUFUS R., soldier, merchant, congressman, was born July 4, 1838, in Malta, Ohio. He entered the union army in 1861, as captain, and served throughout the war, rising to the rank of colonel and brevet brigadier-general. He engaged in business at Marietta, Ohio, and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-seventh congress as a republican.

DAWES, THOMAS, soldier, state senator, was born Aug. 5, 1731, in Boston, Mass. He was a mechanic. During the controversy with Great Britain he was made colonel of the Boston regiment in 1773, serving until 1778. He was a member of the house and of the senate, as well as state councillor. He died Jan. 2, 1809, in Boston, Mass.

DAWES, THOMAS, jurist, was born July 8, 1757, in Boston, Mass. He was judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts from 1792 till 1803, judge of the municipal court from 1803 till 1823, and judge of probate until his death. He published an Oration on the Boston Massacre; and the Law Given on Mount Sinai. He died July 22, 1827, in Boston, Mass.

DAWES, THOMAS, educator, clergyman, was born March 11, 1818, in Baltimore, Md. He attended the Chauncy

Hall school and the public Latin school of Boston, Mass.; graduated from Harvard university in 1839, from the Divinity school in 1842, and has received the degrees of A. B. and A. M. For six years he was a member of the school committee of Boston, Mass., and has always taken an active part in educational affairs. He is a successful clergyman of the unitarian church, and for a quarter of a century has filled a pastorate in Brewster, Mass.

DAWES, WILLIAM, patriot, of Lexington. He was despatched to Lexington, with Paul Revere, on April 18, 1775, and rode through Roxbury, Revere going by way of Charlestown. In the morning of April 19 the message from Warren reached Adams and Hancock. Revere and Dawes, joined by Samuel Prescott, from Concord, rode forward, calling the inhabitants.

DAWSON, ANDREW H. H., soldier, lawyer, orator, was born Nov. 26, 1819, in Cynthiana, Ky. For ten months he spent hunting buffalo and fighting Indians under Kit Carson, the renowned old hunter. He studied law under Thomas F. Marshall, was admitted to the bar and settled in St. Louis, and subsequently became the leading lawyer of Georgia. In 1866 he moved to New York city. He has been attorney-general of Georgia, assistant district attorney of New York city and county. He is now engaged as a Mason in editing an Analysis of the facts which make the full and complete history of the Maybrick case.

DAWSON, BENJAMIN FREDERICK, surgeon, inventor, journalist, author, was born June 28, 1847, in New York city. He invented a new galvanic battery for galvano-caustic surgery in 1876. In 1868 he founded the American Journal of Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children, which he edited until 1874.

DAWSON, DANIEL L., manufacturer, poet, was born in 1855 in Lewistown, Pa. He was the author of a book of poems entitled The Seekers in the Marshes, and Other Poems. He died Oct. 31, 1893.

DAWSON, GEORGE, journalist, author, was born March 14, 1813, in Scotland. He was an influential Albany journalist, editor of the Evening Journal in 1846-77, and author of The Pleasures of Angling. He died in 1883.

DAWSON, HENRY BARTON, journalist, author, was born June 8, 1821, in England. He was an historical writer of New York city, editor of the Historical Magazine in 1866-77, and editor of the Federalist, reprinted from the original text. He was the author of Battles of the United States by Sea and Land; Current Fictions Tested by Uncurrent Facts; Rutgers against Waddington; and Westchester County in the Revolution. He died May 23, 1889, in Morrisania, N. Y.

DAWSON, JOHN, soldier, congressman, was born in 1762 in Virginia. He was a presidential elector in 1793 and was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1797 to 1814. He rendered service in the war of 1812, as aid to the commanding general, on the lakes, and was appointed bearer of dispatches to France, in 1801, by President Adams. He died March 30, 1814, in Washington, D. C.

DAWSON, JOHN B., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1800 in Nashville, Tenn. He was a representative in congress from Louisiana from 1841 to 1845; and had repeatedly served in the legislature of Louisiana. He was a militia general of the state, and was judge of the parish court in which he resided before his election to congress. He died June 26, 1845, at St. Francisville, La.

DAWSON, JOHN LITTLETON, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 7, 1813, in Uniontown, Pa. He was appointed in 1845 United States attorney for the western district of Pennsylvania, and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the thirty-second and thirty-third congresses. In 1862 he was elected to the thirty-eighth congress, and was the author of the homestead bill, which passed in 1854. He was a delegate to the Baltimore conventions of 1844, 1848, and 1860, and to the Cincinnati convention of 1856. He was re-elected in 1864 to the thirty-ninth congress, and was a delegate to the New York convention of 1868. He died Sept. 18, 1870, in Fayette county, Pa.

DAWSON, SAMUEL KENNEDY, soldier, was born in 1818, in Fayette county, Pa. During the civil war he was promoted to be brevet colonel, and subsequently brevet brigadier-general. He died April 17, 1889, in Orange, N. J.

DAWSON, THOMAS, college president. He was president of William and Mary college from 1755 to 1761.

DAWSON, WILLIAM, college president, was born in 1707 in Virginia. He was elected master of the grammar school in William and Mary college, chaplain of the house of burgesses; and in 1752 president of the college. He died Sept. 19, 1755.

DAWSON, WILLIAM, congressman, was born March 17, 1848, in New Madrid, Mo. He was elected in 1878 to the lower house of the general assembly of Missouri, and re-elected in 1880 and 1882. He was elected to the forty-ninth congress as a democrat, and declined renomination.

DAWSON, WILLIAM C., lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Jan. 4, 1798, in Greene county, Ga. Several times he was senator and representative in the Georgia legislature; and was a representative in congress from Georgia, from 1837 to 1842. In 1845 he was appointed judge of the Ockmulgee circuit. From 1849 to 1855 he was a senator of the United States. He died May 5, 1856, in Georgia.

DAWSON, WILLIAM J., congressman. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1793 to 1795.

DAY, GEORGE EDWARD, clergyman, educator, author, was born March 19, 1815, in Pittsfield, Mass. In 1866 he was appointed professor of the Hebrew language, literature, and biblical theology in the theological department of Yale. He edited the Theological Eclectic from 1863 till 1871. He was a contributor to Smith's Bible Dictionary, and has published articles in periodicals and Reports on the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb.

DAY, GEORGE TIFFANY, clergyman, journalist, was born Dec. 8, 1822, in Concord, N. Y. He was editor-in-chief of the Morning Star, a free-will baptist weekly paper, published in Dover, N. H., and afterward removed to Boston. He died May 21, 1875, in Providence, R. I.

DAY, HANNIBAL, soldier, was born in 1804, in Vermont. He commanded a brigade of the fifth corps in the Pennsylvania campaign in 1863, taking part in the battle of Gettysburg. In 1865 he was brevetted brigadier-general for long service. He died March 25, 1891, in Morristown, N. J.

DAY, HENRY, lawyer, author, was born Dec. 25, 1820, in South Hadley, Mass. He was formerly devoted to the old school branch of the presbyterian church; earnestly advocated union between the old and new schools; and when this was effected, in 1869, he drafted the articles. He wrote much for publication, among his works being The Lawyer Abroad; and From the Pyrenees to the Pillars of Hercules. He died Jan. 9, 1893, in New York city.

DAY, HENRY NOBLE, clergyman, college president, author, was born in 1808 in Connecticut. He was a congregational clergyman, for many years a western railway president, and president of Ohio Female college, 1858-64. He is the author of The Art of Rhetoric, reprinted as Art of Discourse; Elements of Logic; Science of Aesthetics; The Art of Elocution; Rhetorical Praxis; Logical Praxis; Science of Thought; Elements of Mental Science; The Logic of Sir William Hamilton; Introduction to the Study of English Literature, which include the greater number of his writings.

DAY, HORACE H., manufacturer, inventor, was born in 1813. He was identified with the india-rubber trade from its inception, and was involved in lawsuits with Charles Goodyear on his rubber patents. He died Aug. 23, 1878, in Manchester, N. H.

DAY, JAMES ROSCOE, clergyman, college president, was born Oct. 17, 1845, in Whitneyville, Maine. He is a noted clergyman of the methodist episcopal church and has filled pastorates in Portland, Boston and New York. Since 1893 he has been chancellor of the Syracuse university.

DAY, JEREMIAH, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 26, 1738, in Colchester, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman of Connecticut, whose Sermons Collected were issued in 1797. He died Sept. 12, 1806, in Connecticut.

DAY, JEREMIAH, mathematician, college president, author, was born Aug. 3, 1773, in New Preston, Conn. He was a noted mathematician who was president of Yale college, 1817-46. He is the author of Introduction to Algebra; Mensuration of Superficies and Solids; Examination of Edwards's Freedom of the Will; Plane Trigonometry; Navigation and Surveying; and Inquiry Respecting the Self-

Determining Power of the Will and Contingent Volition. He died Aug. 22, 1867, in New Haven, Conn.

DAY, MAHLON, publisher, philanthropist, was born Aug. 27, 1790, in Morristown, N. J. He acquired wealth as a publisher and for fifteen years before his death had devoted his life to charitable and educational objects. He died at sea Sept. 27, 1854.

DAY, MARTHA, poet, was born Feb. 13, 1813, in New Haven, Conn. She attained great proficiency in mathematics and the languages, and wrote poetry of merit. Her Literary Remains, with memorials of her life and character, was published in 1834. She died Dec. 2, 1833, in New Haven, Conn.

DAY, RICHARD EDWIN, journalist, poet, was born April 27, 1852, in Granby, N. Y. Since 1880 he has been on the editorial staff of the Syracuse Daily Standard. He is the author of Lines in the Sand; Thor, a Lyrical Drama; Lyrics and Satires; and Poems.

DAY, ROWLAND, congressman. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1816 and 1817, and was a representative in congress from that state from 1823 to 1825, and again from 1833 to 1835.

DAY, RUFUS, journalist, poet, was born Jan. 26, 1803, in Boston, Mass. He is the author of several volumes of poems, the most notable of which were Geraldine, and Ode on the Death of Walter Scott.

DAY, SAMUEL D., physician, surgeon, was born March 2, 1811, in Berkshire county, Ind. He was a practicing physician of Shelbyville, Ind., for fifty years, and attained a celebrity which has not been confined to his own county.

DAY, THOMAS, lawyer, jurist, author, was born July 6, 1777, in New Preston, Conn. He was judge of the city court of Hartford from 1818 to 1831; and was one of the committee to prepare the statutes of 1808, 1821, and 1824. He reported the decisions of the court of errors, from 1805 to 1853, published in twenty volumes. He was an original member of the Connecticut Historical society, and president of it from 1839 till his death. He died March 1, 1855, in Hartford, Conn.

DAY, TIMOTHY C., congressman, was born in Ohio. He was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-fourth congress.

DAY, WILLIAM A., lawyer, legislator, was born June 11, 1850, in Wilmington, Del. He was twice elected corporation counsel of Champaign, served two terms as a representative in the Illinois state legislature, and in 1883 he was elected mayor of Champaign for the term of two years.

DAY, WILLIAM HOWARD, educator, clergyman, was born Oct. 16, 1831, in New York. In 1860 he became editor of The Standard and Review of New York city; in 1866 was ordained an elder in the Virginia conference, and in 1884 was elected presiding elder of the Baltimore district. He is now intellectual instructor of conferences and supervisor of missions.

DAY, WILSON MILES, journalist, publisher, was born Nov. 5, 1850, in Clarion, Pa. He was night editor of the Cleveland Leader, and editor of the Iron Trade Review of Cleveland, Ohio.

DAYAN, CHARLES, educator, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born July 16, 1792, in Amsterdam, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1831 to 1833, and a state senator in 1827 and 1828. He was acting lieutenant-governor in 1829; a member of the assembly in 1835 and 1836, and was also district attorney for Lewis county for five years. He died Dec. 25, 1877, in Lowville, N. Y.

DAYTON, ALSTON GORDON, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 18, 1857, in Philippi, W. Va. In 1879 he was appointed to fill out an unexpired term as prosecuting attorney of Upshur county, W. Va., and was elected and served as prosecuting attorney of Barbour county for a four-years' term beginning Jan. 1, 1884. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

DAYTON, AMOS COOPER, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 4, 1813, in Plainfield, N. J. He was a baptist clergyman and physician of Tennessee, whose novel Theodosia, or the Heroine of Faith, was very popular. His other works comprise The Infidel's Daughter, a novel; Baptist Facts and Methodist Fiction; Baptist Question Book; Children Brought to Christ; and Pedobaptist and Campbellite Immersion. He died June 11, 1865, in Perry, Ga.

DAYTON, ELIAS, soldier, congressman, was born in 1735, in Elizabethtown, N. J. He was a major-general of militia, and was a delegate to the continental congress from 1787 to 1788. He died in July, 1807, in Elizabethtown, N. J.

DAYTON, JONATHAN, statesman, was born Oct. 16, 1760, in Elizabethtown, N. J. He was a member of the convention, in 1787, which formed the constitution, and signed that instrument. He was a representative in congress from 1791 to 1799; speaker of the house of representatives from 1795 to 1797, and was a senator of the United States from New Jersey from 1799 to 1805. He died Oct. 9, 1824, in Elizabethtown, N. J.

DAYTON, WILLIAM LEWIS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born Feb. 17, 1807, in Baskingridge, N. J. He was a member of the state senate of New Jersey in 1837; was appointed one of the justices of the superior court of the state in 1838, and resigned in 1841. He was a senator in congress from 1842 to 1851; and in 1856 was the republican candidate for vice-president on the ticket with J. C. Fremont. In 1857 he was appointed attorney-general of New Jersey, which office he held until 1861, when he was appointed a minister to France. He died Dec. 2, 1864, in Paris, France.

DAYTON, WILLIAM LEWIS, was born April 13, 1839, in Trenton, N. J. He was secretary to the governor of New Jersey from 1865 to 1868. He was president of the common council of Trenton from 1876 to 1879; city solicitor from 1879 to 1881; and in 1882 was appointed United States minister resident at The Hague, Netherlands, serving until 1885. In 1896 he was appointed a judge of the court of errors and appeals, and his term will expire in 1902.

DEADY, MATTHEW P., educator, lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born May 12, 1824, near Easton, Md. In 1850 he was elected to the lower house of the legislature of Oregon and in 1851 to the upper house, serving as president. In 1853 he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of the territory, serving until the state was established, when he was appointed judge of the United States district court for Oregon. In 1857 he was elected a member of the constitutional convention which formed the state constitution, and was president of that body. In 1862 and 1864, by authority of the legislature, he prepared the Codes of Criminal and Civil Procedure, and the Penal Code of the State; and in 1865 published the General Laws of the State, and assisted in the same work in 1874.

DE AHNA, EDWARD MANFRED, journalist, was born in Washington, D. C. He is the son of Col. H. C. De Ahna, professor of chemistry and civil engineer. He is the publisher and manager of The Anchor of Sequin, Texas.

DEALY, PATRICK F., clergyman, college president, lecturer, was born April 7, 1827, in Ireland. He has been president of St. John's college of Fordham, N. Y. In 1882 he founded the Fordham College Monthly. He died Dec. 22, 1891, in New York city.

DEAN, AMOS, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 16, 1803, in Barnara, Vt. He was a jurist of Albany, and the author of Lectures on Phrenology; Manual of Law; Philosophy of Human Life; Medical Jurisprudence; Bryant and Stratton's Commercial Law; and History of Civilization. He died in 1868.

DEAN, BENJAMIN, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Aug. 14, 1824, in England. He moved to Boston, was a member of the state senate in 1862, 1863 and 1869, and successfully contested the seat of Walbridge A. Field as a representative from Massachusetts to the forty-fifth congress, and took his seat in 1878.

DEAN, EZRA, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1841 to 1845.

DEAN, GILBERT, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Aug. 14, 1819, in Pleasant Valley, N. Y. He was elected a representative in congress from New York from 1851 to 1853. He was re-elected for a second term but resigned, in 1855, to accept the office of judge of the supreme court of the state, and in 1862 was elected to the assembly. He died Oct. 12, 1870, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

DEAN, HENRY MUNSON, physician, surgeon, was born Nov. 8, 1836, in Canaan, Conn. He was a surgeon in the United States army during the civil war. He has been president of the Iowa and Illinois Central Medical association; and of the Muscatine Academy of Medicine.

DEAN, JAMES, educator, was born Nov. 26, 1776, in Windsor, Vt. He was professor in the university of Vermont, holding that office from 1821 till 1824. He published a Gazetteer of Vermont; and an address delivered on his induction as professor. He died Jan. 20, 1849, in Burlington, Vt.

DEAN, JOHN, physician, author, was born in 1831, in Massachusetts. He was a physician who published Microscopic Anatomy of the Lumbar Enlargement of the Spinal Cord; and Gray Substance of the Medulla Oblongata. He died in 1888.

DEAN, JOHN WARD, journalist, author, was born March 13, 1815, in Wiscasset, Maine. He was vice-president of the American Statistical association, and its recording secretary during 1860-72. He was one of the founders of the Prince society in 1858, and for ten years was its president. He is now the librarian of the New England Historic-Genealogical society of Boston, Mass.; has been the sole editor of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register since 1876; the editor of The New England Bibliopolist since 1880. He is the author of Memoir of Nathaniel Ward; Memoir of Michael Wigglesworth; Life of John H. Shepard; Life of William Blanchard Towne; Brief Memoir of Giles Firmin; and The Embarkation of Cromwell for New England.

DEAN, JOSIAH, state senator, congressman, was born March 16, 1748, in Bayham, Mass. He was a presidential elector in 1805; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1807 to 1809. From 1804 to 1807 he was a state senator; and in 1810 and 1811 was a member of the state legislature. He died Oct. 14, 1818.

DEAN, JULIA, actress, was born July 22, 1830, in Pleasant Valley, N. Y. She appeared first as Lady Ellen in The Lady of the Lake, during 1845, in Louisville, Ky. She died March 6, 1868, in New York city.

DEAN, OLIVER HAYES, lawyer, was born in 1845, in Washingtonville, Pa. He is a member of the law firm of Warner, Dean and Hageman, Kansas City, Mo.; and is one of the leading members of his profession in his state.

DEAN, PAUL, clergyman, author, was born in 1789 in Barnard, Vt. He was a unitarian clergyman, pastor in Boston, in 1813-40, and the author of Lectures on Final Restoration. He died Oct. 1, 1860, in Framingham, Mass.

DEAN, RICHARD E., journalist, poet, was born Jan. 18, 1862, in Philadelphia, Pa. He attended the public schools of his native city and Iowa, and took a course in journalism in a college at Detroit. He has written extensively both prose and verse for the periodical press, and is well known as an Iowa poet.

DEAN, SIDNEY, manufacturer, clergyman, congressman, was born Nov. 16, 1818, in Glastonbury, Conn. He served one year in the legislature of Connecticut; and was elected a representative in congress from that state in 1855, and re-elected in 1857.

DEAN, WALTER L., artist, was born in 1854 in Lowell, Mass. His principal paintings are: The Dutch Fishing Creek; Summer Day on the Dutch Shore; and he exhibited at the World's Columbian exposition a large marine painting entitled Peace, which attracted favorable notice. He has exhibited at the principal expositions in America and Europe, and has received numerous medals from the leading art expositions.

DEAN, WILLIAM, missionary, author, was born June 21, 1807, in Eaton, N. Y. He is the author of Revision of the Pentateuch; Commentary on Matthew; Commentary on Genesis; Commentary on Mark; Commentary on Exodus; Stow's Daily Manna; and smaller tracts.

DEANE, CHARLES, author, was born Nov. 10, 1813, in Biddeford, Maine. He was an antiquarian writer of Cambridge, who published Some Notices of Samuel Gorton, with Memoir; First Plymouth Patent; and edited Bradford's History of Plymouth Plantation; John Smith's True Relation of Virginia, and other specimens of early American literature. He died Nov. 13, 1889, in Cambridge, Mass.

DEANE, GARDNER ANDRUS ARM-STRONG, soldier, was born June 23, 1840, in Franklin, Mass. He served through the civil war; and received the rank of lieutenant-colonel. In 1891 he accepted the position of land commissioner of the St. Louis, Iron Mountain and Southern, and Little Rock and Fort Smith railroads, at Frankfort, Kan.

DEANE, JAMES, physician, naturalist, author, was born Feb. 24, 1801, in Coleraine, Mass. In 1835 he made public his discovery of the fossil footprints in the red sandstone of the Connecticut valley; and at the time of his death was engaged in publishing an illustrated work upon the subject, the result of twenty-four years' investigation and labor. He died June 8, 1858, in Greenfield, Mass.

DEANE, JOHN H., soldier, lawyer, philanthropist, was born in Canada. He has been especially distinguished for his gifts to benevolent institutions under the control of baptists. To Rochester university he has given $100,000, besides considerable sums to the Rochester Theological seminary and to Vassar college.

DEANE, SAMUEL, clergyman, author, was born March 30, 1784, in Mansfield, Mass. He was a baptist clergyman of Scituate, Mass.; and the author of The Populous Village, a poem; History of Scituate. He died in August, 1834.

DEANE, SILAS, was born Dec. 24, 1737, in Groton, Conn. He was a delegate to congress in 1774; and a diplomatist, who, with Franklin and Lee, negotiated a treaty of peace and amity between France and the United States. He was the author of Letters to Robert Morgan; and Paris Papers, or Mr. Silas Deane's Late Intercepted Letters to His Brother and Other Friends. He died Aug. 23, 1789, in England.

DEANE, WILLIAM REED, antiquarian, author, was born Aug. 21, 1809, in Mansfield, Mass. He was an antiquary of Mansfield, Mass., who published genealogies of the families of Deane, Leonard, and Watson. He died June 16, 1871, in Mansfield, Mass.

DEARBORN, BENJAMIN, educator, inventor, was born in 1755 in Portsmouth, N. H. He opened an academy for girls; and in 1790 he removed his school to Boston. He was the inventor of the spring balance. He died Feb. 22, 1838, in Boston, Mass.

DEARBORN, HENRY, soldier, physician, congressman, was born Feb. 23, 1751, in Northampton, N. H. In 1789 Washington appointed him marshal of the district of Maine. He was a member of congress from Massachusetts from 1793 to 1797. In 1801 he was appointed secretary of war, and held the office till 1809, when he was appointed to the office of collector of Boston. In 1812 he received a commission as senior major-general in the army of the United States. He died in 1829 in Roxbury, Mass.

DEARBORN, HENRY ALEXANDER SCAMMELL, soldier, congressman, author, was born March 3, 1783, in Exeter, N. H. In 1812 he was brigadier of militia, and had the command of the troops in Boston harbor; in 1821 was a member of the convention for revising the constitution of Massachusetts; and in 1829 was a representative in the legislature from Roxbury; and the following year a state senator. From 1831 to 1833 he was a representative in congress; and was soon appointed adjutant-general of Massachusetts, and continued in that office till 1843. In 1847 he was chosen mayor of Roxbury, which office he held until his death. He died July 29, 1851, in Portland, Maine.

DEARBORN, NATHANIEL, engraver, author, was born in 1786. He was one of the earliest engravers on wood in Boston, and published The American Text-Book for Making Letters; Boston Notions; An Account of That Village from 1630 to 1847; Reminiscences of Boston, and Guide through the City and Environs; and Guide through Mount Auburn. He died Nov. 7, 1852, in South Reading, Mass.

DE ARMON, DAVID A., jurist, state senator, congressman, was born March 18, 1844, in Blair county, Pa. He was presidential elector in 1884; was state senator, circuit judge, and Missouri supreme court commissioner; and was elected to the fifty-second, fifty-third, and fifty-fourth congresses, and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

DEARTH, ELMER H., journalist, insurance commissioner, was born June 6, 1859, in Sangerville, Maine. After graduating in 1878 from Foxcroft academy of Maine, he taught school for two years.

He then began an active career in the newspaper profession with The Bangor Daily Whig and Courier; and in 1883 became connected with The Pioneer Press of St. Paul, Minn. For two years he was editor and business manager of The Independent of Henderson; and for four years prior to 1890 was the editor and proprietor of The LeSueur News. In 1889 he received the appointment of deputy insurance commissioner of the state. In this new post he soon developed a large amount of executive ability, and he filled it with great credit to himself and honor to the insurance department. He resigned this office at the end of three years to accept a position with the Equitable Life Assurance society of New York city, N. Y. In 1897 he received from Governor Clough the appointment of insurance commissioner of Minnesota.

DEAS, CHARLES, painter, was born in 1818, in Philadelphia. Among his more important pictures that have become widely known through engravings are The Turkey Shoot; Walking the Chalk; Long Jake; The Wounded Pawnee; Indian Guide; A Group of Sioux; Hunters on the Prairie; and The Last Shot. His Council of the Shawnees at North Bend portrays an incident in the life of Gen. George Rogers Clarke. He died while insane.

DEAVITT, THOMAS JEFFERSON, lawyer, financier, was born Feb. 17, 1840, in Richmond, Vt. In 1866 he was admitted to the Vermont bar; and was a member of the Vermont constitutional convention. He has been superintendent of schools; justice of the peace; and president of the Capitol Savings Bank and Trust company since its organization in 1891. He is the manager and treasurer of the Watchman Publishing company; and a director in several other corporations. He has given considerable attention to commercial law, and has made and edited several Digests of Vermont Laws. He has a large patent and pension office practice at Montpelier, Vt.

DE BARDELEBEN, HENRY F., financier, was born in 1840, in Prattville, Ala. He was vice-president of the St. Louis Trust Co. The annual Veiled Prophet's show in St. Louis was organized by him, among others, and he belongs to the St. Louis and University clubs and the Merchants' exchange.

DEBERRY, EDMUND, congressman, was born Aug. 14, 1787, in Mount Gilead, N. C. In 1806 he was a member of the state legislature, and continued to serve there, with occasional intermissions, until 1828. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1829 to 1831, from 1833 to 1845, and again from 1849 to 1851. He died Dec. 12, 1859, in Mount Gilead, N. C.

DE BLOIS, AUSTIN KENNEDY, educator, college president, was born Dec. 17, 1866, in Nova Scotia. He engaged in educational work, and in 1894 became president of Shurtliff college of Upper Alton, Ill.

DEBOE, WILLIAM J., physician, lawyer, United States senator, was born in 1849, in Crittenden county, Ky. He has served seven years as a member of the republican state central committee and was a member of the state campaign committee in 1896. In 1893 he was elected state senator for a term of four years. He was elected to the United States senate after one of the most sensational and memorable sessions of the legislature of the state. His term of service will expire March 3, 1903.

DE BOLT, REZIN A., soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 20, 1828, in Fairfield county, Ohio. He removed to Missouri in 1858; and was for two years a commissioner of public schools. He entered the volunteer army as a captain; and re-entered the army in 1864 as a major. He was elected circuit judge, and continued in the office until elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-fourth congress as a democrat.

DE BOW, JAMES DUNWOODY BROWNSON, lawyer, journalist, author, was born July 10, 1820, in Charleston, S. C. He was professor of political economy and commercial statistics in the university of Louisiana in 1848; and was for three years at the head of the census bureau of Louisiana. In 1853 he was appointed superintendent of the United States census; was president of the commercial convention at Knoxville in 1857; contributed several articles to the Encyclopedia Britannica; was one of the founders of the Louisiana Historical society, now the Academy of Science. He was the author of Encyclopedia of the Trade and Commerce of the United States; The Southern States, Their Agriculture, Commerce, etc.; Industrial Resources of the Southwest; and Compendium of the Seventh United States Census. He died Feb. 27, 1867, in Elizabeth, N. J.

DEBS, EUGENE VICTOR, legislator, labor leader, was born Nov. 5, 1855, in Terre Haute, Ind. He commenced life as a locomotive fireman; became general secretary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, and edited its periodical. He ultimately became president of the American Railway union, which was merged into the Social Democracy of America, of which he is still president. In 1889 he was elected a member of the Indiana state legislature. His name has become known throughout the United States as the champion of the rights of labor.

DE CAMP, JOHN, naval officer, was born in 1812, in New Jersey. He was promoted to the rank of commodore in 1866, commanded the store-ship Potomac at the Pensacola navy-yard during 1866-67, and the receiving-ship Potomac at Philadelphia during 1868-69, and was retired in 1870 with the rank of rear-admiral. He died June 25, 1875, in Burlington, N. J.

DECATUR, STEPHEN, naval officer, was born Jan. 5, 1779, in Sinneputent, Md. He entered the navy at the age of nineteen, and rose to the rank of commodore. He died in 1820.

DE CHARMS, RICHARD, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 17, 1796, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a Swedenborgian clergyman of Baltimore and New York city; and the author of Freedom and Slavery in the Light of the New Jerusalem; The New Churchman Extra; and Lectures at Charlestown. He died March 20, 1864.

DECHERT, HENRY M., lawyer, financier, was born March 11, 1832, in Reading, Pa. He graduated from Yale college and has attained distinction as a great lawyer and financier of Philadelphia, Pa. He is the president of The Commonwealth Title, Insurance and Trust company of Philadelphia, composed of lawyers and conveyancers only. He is also the president of the Pennsylvania State Asylum for Chronic Insane; and has occupied many positions of honor in his city, county and state.

DECKER, ROBERT M., artist, was born June 8, 1847, in Troy, N. Y. He has attained prominence as a landscape painter.

DE COSTA, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, clergyman, author, was born July 10, 1831, in Charlestown, Mass. He is a prominent episcopal clergyman of New York city, well known as an historical writer. He is the author of The Pre-Columbian Discovery of America, illustrated by translations from the Icelandic Sagas; The Northmen in Maine; The Moabite Stone; Verrazano, the Explorer; The Rector of Roxburgh, a novel; and a number of historical monographs.

DE COURSEY, SAMUEL GERALD, railroad president, was born Sept. 28, 1839, in Queenstown, Md. In 1895 he became president of the Western New York and Pennsylvania railroad.

DEEMS, CHARLES FORCE, clergyman, college president, author, was born Dec. 4, 1820, in Baltimore, Md. He was a methodist clergyman, prominent for many years in New York city as pastor of the Church of the Strangers. He was president of several different colleges in the south. He was the author of Triumphs of Peace, and Other Poems; Home Altar; Twelve College Sermons; Life of Dr. Adam Clarke; Devotional Melodies; Weights and Wings; The Light of the Nations; The Gospel of Common Sense as Contained in the Epistle of James; The Gospel of Spiritual Insight; A Scotch Verdict in Re-Evolution; My Septuagint, which comprise the larger number of his writings. He died in 1893.

DEERE, CHARLES H., manufacturer, was born March 28, 1835, in Vermont. His companies are Deere and Co., or the Moline Plow works, and the Deere and Mansur Co. He held the office of the president of the board of labor statistics of the state; was presidential elector during the first Harrison campaign; and served as state commissioner to the World's Columbian exposition.

DEERING, JOHN WILLIAM, merchant, congressman, was born Aug. 7, 1833, in Saco, Maine. Since 1867 he has been engaged in the southern pine lumber business and in building vessels. In 1883 he was elected mayor of Portland, Maine; and in 1894 was a representative in congress.

DEERING, NATHANIEL, author, was born June 25, 1791, in Maine. He was the author of Carabasset, a tragedy; The Clairvoyants, a comedy performed both in Portland and Boston; and Bozzaris, a tragedy. He died in 1881 in Portland, Maine.

DEERING, NATHANIEL C., congressman, was born Sept. 2, 1827, in Denmark, Maine. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1855 and 1856. He removed to Osage, Iowa, in 1857; was a clerk in the United States senate for several years; and then a special agent of the postoffice department, serving until 1869. He was a national bank examiner from 1872 to 1877; and was elected a representative from Iowa to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, and forty-seventh congresses as a republican.

DEERING, WILLIAM, manufacturer, financier, philanthropist, was born April 24, 1826, in Oxford county, Maine. Controlling a good patent and pushing his business with spirit, he found himself, in 1880, compelled to move the works to Chicago and build a larger plant. In 1894 the old firm of William Deering and Co. took out a charter as the Deering Harvester Co., of which he is controlling proprietor.

DE FONTAINE, FELIX, journalist, author, was born in 1832 in Massachusetts. He was a journalist of Charleston during the civil war, but subsequently, and for the greater part of his career, on the staff of the New York Herald. He was the author of Gleanings from a Confederate Army Notebook; Army Letters of Personne, 1861-1865; and News from the Front. He died in 1896.

DE FOREST, HENRY W., railroad president, was born Oct. 29, 1855, in New York city. In 1889 he became president of the New Jersey and New York railroad.

DE FOREST, JESSE, was born about 1575 in France. He was the first settler of New Amsterdam, now New York city. He died about 1626.

DE FOREST, JOHN WILLIAM, soldier, author, was born March 31, 1826, in Seymour, Conn. He is a novelist of New Haven who was a federal officer in the civil war. He is the author of History of the Indians of Connecticut to 1850; Oriental Acquaintances, or Travels in Asia Minor; European Acquaintances; Witching Times; The Lauson Tragedy; Seacliff, Miss Ravenal's Conversion from Secession to Loyalty; Overland; Kate Beaumont; Honest John Vane; The Bloody Chasm; The Wetherel Affair; Justine Vane; Irene Vane; Irene the Missionary; and Playing the Mischief.

DE FOREST, ROBERT E., lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, was born Feb. 20, 1845, in Guilford, Conn. In 1874 he was elected by the legislature of Connecticut judge of the court of common pleas for Fairfield county, which position he held for three years. In 1878 he was elected mayor of Bridgeport; in 1880 was elected to the legislature; and in 1882 was elected to the state senate. He was corporation counsel for the city of Bridgeport; and was elected mayor in 1889, and re-elected in 1890. He was elected to the fifty-second and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

DEFREES, JOHN D., journalist, state legislator, was born Nov. 8, 1811, in Sparta, Tenn. He settled at South Bend, Ind., in 1831; served in the legislature of that state for eight years; and was for many years the owner and editor of the Indiana State Journal. In 1861 he was appointed, by President Lincoln, superintendent of public printing.

DEFREES, JOSEPH H., merchant, state legislator, congressman, was born May 13, 1812, in Carthage, Tenn. He turned his attention to merchandising in Indiana; in 1836 was elected sheriff of Elkhart county, and was re-elected in 1838. In 1849 he was elected to the Indiana legislature; in 1850 to the state senate; and in 1864 was chosen a representative from Indiana to the thirty-ninth congress.

DE GARMO, CHARLES, college president, author, was born Jan. 7, 1849, in Mukwanago, Wis. In 1891 he was elected president of Swarthmore college. He is the author of Essential of Methods; Lindner's Empirical Psychology; Herbert and Pedagogy; and other works.

DEGENER, EDWARD, farmer, merchant, congressman, was born Oct. 20, 1809, in Germany. He was a member of the Texas constitutional convention in 1866, in which he favored universal suffrage; and was again a member of the constitutional convention in 1868. He was elected to the forty-first congress as a republican.

DE GRAFF, JOHN I., congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1827 to 1829, and again from 1837 to 1839.

DE GROOT, ALBERT, seaman, was born in 1813 on Staten Island. He promoted the erection of the Vanderbilt bronzes, and presented to the printers of New York the statue of Benjamin Franklin, which stands in front of the Times and Tribune buildings. He died Sept. 17, 1887, in Richfield Springs, N. Y.

DE HAAS, MAURICE FREDERICK HENDRICK, artist, was born in 1832. Among his numerous pictures are Farragut's Fleet Passing the Forts Below New Orleans; and The Yacht Dauntless off Dover.

DE HAAS, WILLIAM FREDERICK, marine painter, was born in 1830 in Holland. He emigrated to New York in 1854, and devoted himself to painting coast-scenery. He exhibited at the National academy, Sunrise on the Susquehanna, and Fishing-Boats Off Mt. Desert. He died July 16, 1880, in Fayal, Azores.

DE HART, WILLIAM CHETWOOD, soldier, author, was born in 1800 in New York state. He was an officer in the United States army who published Observations on Military Law and Constitution and Practice of Courts Martial. He died April 2, 1848, in Elizabethtown, N. J.

DE HART, WILLIAM HENRY, clergyman, was born March 21, 1837, in New Brunswick, N. J. He has been pastor of the reformed church in various cities; and has served as stated clerk of the general synod of the reformed church in America.

DE HAVEN, EDWIN J., arctic explorer, was born in 1819 in Philadelphia, Pa. He served in Wilkes' exploring expedition from 1839 till 1842, and commanded the first expedition fitted out, at the expense of Henry Grinnell, of New York, to search for Sir John Franklin. He died Oct. 2, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DE HAVEN, JOHN JEFFERSON, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born March 12, 1845, in St. Joseph, Mo. In 1849 he moved to California, received his education in the common schools of that state, and was admitted to the bar in 1866. In 1867 he was elected district attorney of Humboldt county; was elected a member of the state assembly in 1869; and a state senator in 1871 for the term of four years. For two years he was city attorney for Eureka; was republican candidate for congress in 1882; and in 1884 was elected judge of the superior court of Humboldt county for a term of six years. In 1888 he was elected to congress; and in 1890 was elected associate justice of the supreme court of the state of California for the term ending Jan. 5, 1895. He then resumed the practice of law in San Francisco; and since June 8, 1897, has been United States district judge for the northern district of California.

DEHON, THEODORE, bishop, author, was born Dec. 18, 1776, in Boston, Mass. He was the second protestant episcopal bishop of South Carolina; and the author of Ninety Sermons on the Public Means of Grace. He died Aug. 6, 1817, in Charleston, S. C.

DEITZ, WILLIAM, state senator, congressman, was born in Schoharie county, N. Y. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1814 and 1815; was a representative in congress from that state from 1825 to 1827; and a state senator from 1830 to 1833.

DEITZLER, GEORGE WASHINGTON, soldier, legislator, was born Nov. 30, 1826, in Pine Grove, Pa. He was a member of the Kansas house of representatives in 1857-58, and was re-elected in 1859-60. During the civil war he was promoted to brigadier-general. He died April 11, 1884, near Tucson, Ariz.

DE JARNETTE, DANIEL C., farmer, congressman, was born in 1822, in Caroline county, Va. He served many years in the legislature of Virginia; and was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh congresses. He withdrew in 1861.

DE KAY, CHARLES, journalist, author, poet, was born July 25, 1848, in Washington, D. C. He is a New York journalist and poet, and literary editor of the Times since 1877. He is the author of Hesperus; Vision of Nimrod; Vision of Esther; Love Poems of Louis Barnaval; The Bohemians, a Tragedy of Modern Life; and Barye, His Life and Works.

DE KAY, JAMES ELLSWORTH, physician, naturalist, author, was born in 1792 in Lisbon, Portugal. He was a physician and naturalist of Oyster Bay, Long Island; and the author of Sketches of Turkey; and Natural History of New York. He died Nov. 21, 1851, in Oyster Bay, N. Y.

DE KONZA, ELIZABETH MAY, poet, composer, was born Nov. 27, 1870, in Geary county, Kan. She has attained success as a poet, composer of music, and dramatic writer; and her productions have appeared in current periodicals.

DE KOVEN, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 19, 1831, in Middletown, Conn. He was an episcopal clergyman of Wisconsin, very prominent at one time as a leader of ritualistic thought. Sermons Preached on Various Occasions was issued after his death. He died March 19, 1879, in Racine, Wis.

DE KOVEN, REGINALD, musician, composer, was born April 3, 1859, in Middletown, Conn. In 1887 his first opera, the Begum, was brought out by the McCaull Opera company, and was a decided success. As an operatic composer it may be said with truth that he has accomplished more than any other contemporary.

DE KROYFT, MRS. SARAH HELEN, author, was born Oct. 29, 1818, near Rochester, N. Y. She is a writer living in Dansville, N. Y., who became blind soon after her marriage in 1845, her husband having died on their wedding day. Her works are: A Place in Thy Memory, a very popular collection of letters; Darwin and Moses, a lecture; and Little Jakey, a story.

DELAFIELD, EDWARD, physician, was born May 17, 1812, in New York city. In 1865 he founded the New York Ophthalmological society, and was its first president; and from 1858 until his death he was president of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. He was also president of the Roosevelt hospital. He died Feb. 13, 1875, in New York city.

DELAFIELD, FRANCIS, physician, author, was born Aug. 3, 1841, in New York city. He is a physician and surgeon of New York city, who was the first president of the Association of American Physicians and Pathologists. He is the author of Handbook of Post Mortem Examinations and Morbid Anatomy; Studies in Pathological Anatomy; and Handbook of Pathological Anatomy.

DELAFIELD, JOHN, merchant, was born March 16, 1748, in England. He was a founder and director of the Mutual Insurance company of New York city, which was established in 1787. He was also one of the founders of the United Insurance company, of which he was president for many years. He died July 3, 1824, in New York city.

DELAFIELD, RICHARD, merchant, banker, was born Sept. 6, 1853, in New Brighton, N. Y. In 1880 he commenced business in California; and has been for many years recognized as one of the leading and most prosperous merchants of New York. He was president of the New York Mercantile exchange; and director of National Park bank of New York city.

DELAHAY, MARK W., jurist. He was appointed judge of the United States district court for the district of Kansas.

DE LA MAR, JOSEPH RAFAEL, was born in 1848 in Holland. He became a submarine contractor with headquarters at Vineyard Haven, Mass., but operating along the entire coast to the West Indies. He has a record of having added many millions to the gold and silver reserves of the world.

DE LAMATER, CORNELIUS HENRY, manufacturer, was born Aug. 30, 1821, in Rhinebeck, N. Y. He joined with H. B. Cromwell and C. H. Mallory in the lines running to Galveston and New Orleans. One of the undertakings which illustrated his energy was the contract he filled for the Spanish government for furnishing thirty gunboats inside of eight months. He died Feb. 7, 1889, in New York city.

DELAMATER, JOHN, physician, surgeon, was born April 18, 1787, in Chatham, N. Y. He was instrumental in establishing the Willoughby Medical institute, Ohio, which was subsequently removed to Cleveland, and became known as the Cleveland Medical college. He died March 28, 1867, in Cleveland, Ohio.

DE LA MATYR, GILBERT, soldier, congressman, was born July 8, 1825, in Pharsalia, N. Y. He has been an itinerant elder of the methodist episcopal church; was a member of the general conference in 1868; and for one term filled the office of presiding elder. In 1862 he helped to enlist the eighth regiment of New York heavy artillery, and was its chaplain three years. He was elected to the forty-sixth congress as a national democrat.

DE LANCEY, EDWARD FLOYD, lawyer, author, was born Oct. 23, 1821, in Mamaroneck, N. Y. In 1879 he was elected domestic corresponding secretary of the New York Historical society, which office he still holds. He has edited Jones' History of New York during the Revolutionary War; and the Secret Correspondence of Sir Henry Clinton. He is the author of Memoir of the Hon. James De Lancey, Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of New York; and other works.

DE LANCEY, WILLIAM FLOYD, lawyer, author, was born in 1821 in New York. He is a lawyer and historical writer of New York city; and the author of Memoir of James De Lancey; The Capture of Fort Washington the Result of Treason; Memoir of James W. Beekman; Memoir of William Allen, Chief Justice of Pennsylvania; Origin and History of Manors in the Province of New York; and History of Mamaroneck, New York.

DE LANCEY, WILLIAM HEATHCOTE, clergyman, educator, was born Oct. 8, 1797, in Mamaroneck, N. Y. In 1828 he was elected provost of the university of Pennsylvania, from which he resigned in 1834. In 1839 he was chosen the first bishop of the diocese of western New York. He aided in founding De Vaux college at Niagara and the Training school at Geneva. He died April 5, 1865, in Geneva, N. Y.

DE LAND, CHARLES VICTOR, soldier, journalist, was born July 25, 1826, in Brookfield, Mass. He served through the civil war and attained the rank of brigadier. He established the Daily Enterprise, and in 1876 he established the Courier Herald of Saginaw, Mich.

DELAND, ELLEN DOUGLASS, author, was born in 1860 in New York. She is a popular writer of stories for young people; and the author of Oakleigh; In the Old Herrick House; and Malvern, a Neighborhood Story.

DELAND, MRS. MARGARETTA WADE, author, poet, was born Feb. 23, 1857, in Allegheny, Pa. She is a novelist and poet of Boston who became suddenly famous on the publication of John Ward, Preacher, a story upon lines similar to Mrs. Ward's Robert Elsmere. Other works by her include The Old Garden and Other Verses; Sydney; The Story of a Child; Mr. Tommy Dove and Other Stories; Philip and His Wife; and Florida Days, a volume of travels.

DE LANEY, DANIEL A., lawyer, was born Nov. 2, 1862, in Washington, Mich. In 1886 he was admitted to the bar at Detroit, Mich., where he has attained prominence as an able lawyer.

DELANO, AMASA, sea captain, author, was born Feb. 21, 1763, in Duxbury, Mass. He was a Massachusetts sea captain who was an extensive traveler, and published Narrative of Voyages and Travels. He died in 1817.

DELANO, CHARLES, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1820 in Braintree, Mass. He was elected a representative from Massachusetts to the thirty-sixth and thirty-seventh congresses.

DELANO, COLUMBUS, lawyer, legislator, congressman, was born June 5, 1809, in Shoreham, Vt. In 1817 he moved to Mt. Vernon, Ohio; was a candidate for governor in 1847; and in 1861 was commissary-general of Ohio. In 1863 he was a member of the state legislature; and served as a member of the twenty-ninth, thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses as a republican.

DE LANO, MILTON, merchant, manufacturer, banker, congressman, was born Aug. 11, 1844, in Wampsville, N. Y. He was twice elected sheriff of Madison county, N. Y. He was a delegate to the national republican convention in 1884; and was elected to the fifth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

DELAPLAINE, ISAAC CLASON, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 27, 1817, in New York city. He was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-seventh congress. He died July 17, 1866, in New York city.

DELAPLAINE, JOSEPH, publisher, was born Dec. 20, 1777, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1813 he began the serial publication of his Repository of the Lives and Portraits of Distinguished Americans, a series of engravings with biographical notices. He died May 31, 1824, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DE LARGE, ROBERT C., congressman, was born March 15, 1842, in Aiken, S. C. He was a member of the state legislature from 1868 to 1870; and was one of the state commissioners of the sinking fund. He was elected in 1870 state land commissioner; and was elected to the forty-second congress.

DELAVAN, EDWARD CORNELIUS, merchant, author, was born in 1793 in Schenectady county, N. Y. He was a retired wine merchant of Schenectady, conspicuous as a temperance reformer; and the author of Adulterations of Liquors; and Temperance in Wine Countries. He died Jan. 15, 1871, in Schenectady, N. Y.

DE LA VERGNE, JOHN C., manufacturer, inventor, was born Sept. 6, 1840, in Schoharie county, N. Y. In 1880 he commenced business as manufacturer of refrigerating and ice-making plants in New York city, making improvements, and expanding the business until his machines are used in all parts of the world.

DE LEON, EDWIN, journalist, author, was born in 1828 in South Carolina. He was a Washington journalist who was an European diplomatic agent of the confederacy during the civil war period. He was the author of Thirty Years of My Life on Three Continents; The Khedive's Egypt; Askaros Kassis, the Captain, a novel; and Under the Star and Under the Crescent. He died in 1891.

DE LESTRY, LOUIS EDMUND, journalist, author, was born Jan. 1, 1860, in Louisiana. He received his education in Europe, passing through the Royal Military academy of Frankfurt, Germany, and graduating in 1887 from Heidelberg university in the classical course with the degree of A. M. His first journalistic engagement was during the Russo-Turkish war. In 1878 he returned from Europe and entered journalism, principally in the northwest. In 1890 he published a History of Helena, Mont.; and in 1897 he compiled an elaborate historical work of St. Paul, Minn., for the Pioneer Press of that city. He is also the author of Leaves From a Notebook, a collection of his short stories. In 1897 he established De Lestry's Western Magazine of St. Paul, Minn.

DELL, JOHN C., railroad president, was born May 31, 1841, near Bascom, Ga. In 1888 he became president of the Sylvania railroad.

DELLET, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1788 in Ireland. He moved to Alabama in 1818, where he was appointed a judge of the circuit court, and frequently represented his county in the state legislature. He was a representative in congress from Alabama from 1839 to 1841, and again from 1843 to 1845. He died Dec. 21, 1848, in Claibourne, Ala.

DELMAR, ALEXANDER, journalist, author, was born Aug. 9, 1836, in New York city. He was editor of the Social Science Review in 1864; and in 1866 was appointed director of the bureau of statistics, which he assisted in organizing, holding the office until it was abolished. He was the author of Gold Money and Paper Money; Essays on Political Economy; The Great Paper Bubble; What Is Free Trade?; Resources, Productions, and Social Condition of Egypt; Why Should the Chinese Go?; History of the Precious Metals; History of Money in China; History of Money in Various Countries; The Science of Money; Money and Civilization; Statistical Handbook; and The National Banking System.

DELMAR, JOHN, jurist, financier, was born Sept. 6, 1838, in Ireland. In 1867 he became a justice of the peace; and was one of the organizers of The Citizen in 1886, but did not assume the presidency until 1887. He is a director in the City Savings bank and of the Fifth Avenue bank of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DE LONG, ARTHUR H., clergyman, lecturer, author, was born March 23, 1862, in Napoleon, Ohio. He graduated from the Northwestern university and the Garrett Biblical institute, and has attained eminence as a successful clergyman in the Northwestern Indiana conference of the methodist episcopal church. He is also a brilliant lecturer, and the author of several works.

DE LONG, GEORGE WASHINGTON, naval officer, explorer, author, was born Aug. 22, 1844, in New York city. He was an Arctic explorer who was a lieutenant-commander in the United States navy, from 1869 to 1881. The Voyage of the Jeannette, including his journals of his latest expedition, edited by his wife, appeared in 1884. He died Oct. 30, 1881, in Siberia.

DEMAND, HERMAN D., educator, was born March 10, 1856, in Smithton, Mo. He received his education in the public schools and at Central Wesleyan college; and has attained prominence as a successful educator. He has taught schools in Illinois; has been school commissioner of La Fayette county, Mo.; and for the past twelve years has been superintendent of public schools of Lexington, Mo.

DEMAREST, DAVID D., clergyman, theologian, author, was born July 30, 1819, in Oradell, N. J. Since 1865 he has been professor of pastoral theology and sacred rhetoric in the Theological seminary and also a clergyman of New Brunswick, N. J. He is the author of History and Characteristics of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church; Practical Catechetics; and The Huguenots on the Hackensack.

DEMAREST, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born June 28, 1832, in Williamsburg, L. I. He has held pastorates in Hackensack and Newark, N. J., Chicago, Ill., and Kingston and Fort Plain, N. Y., and has published numerous sermons, including Duty of the Reformed Church in the Future as Foreshown by Its Course in the Past.

DEMAREST, JOHN TERHUNE, clergyman, author, was born in 1813 in New Jersey. He is a Dutch reformed clergyman, and the author of Exposition of the Efficient Cause of Regeneration; Exposition of the First Epistle of Peter; Commentary on Second Epistle of Peter; Commentary on the Catholic Epistles; and Christocracy.

DEMAREST, MRS. MARY AUGUSTA, poet, was born June 26, 1838, in New York city. She was the author of My Ain Country and Other Poems. She died in 1888.

DEMBY, EDWARD THOMAS, educator, lecturer, clergyman, was born in 1869 in Wilmington, Del. He received the rudiments of his education in the city schools of Wilmington, and subsequently attended the Lincoln university of Pennsylvania, the Howard university of Washington, D. C., and the Wilberforce university of Ohio. He has been a successful professor of Hebrew, Greek and French; has been dean of a theological college; and is at present head master of St. Paul's academy of Mason, Tenn. He has traveled extensively; is a well-known lecturer, and the author of several works.

DEMING, BENJAMIN F., congressman, was born at Danville, Vt. He was clerk of the court in his native county for sixteen years; and was elected a representative in congress from Vermont for the term from 1833 to 1835. He died July 11, 1834, in Saratoga Springs.

DEMING, HENRY CHAMPION, lawyer, soldier, congressman, author, was born in 1815 in Middle Haddam, Conn. He was a member of the Connecticut legislature in 1849 and 1850, and also from 1859 to 1861, serving as speaker during the latter year; and in 1851 was a member of the state senate. He subsequently presided over the city of Hartford as mayor for six years. In 1861, as colonel of the twelfth regiment of Connecticut volunteers, he went to New Orleans and participated in the capture of that city. In 1862 he was appointed mayor of New Orleans. He was elected a representative from Connecticut to the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth congresses. He published a Life of General Grant. He died Oct. 9, 1872, in Hartford, Conn.

DEMING, PHILANDER, lawyer, author, was born in 1829, in Carlisle, N. Y. He succeeded in introducing the use of shorthand into the supreme courts of New York in 1886. He is the author of several volumes of stories—Adirondack Stories; and Tompkins and Other Folks, being the best known of his works.

DE MORSE, CHARLES, soldier, journalist, was born Jan. 31, 1816, in Leicester, Mass. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of colonel. He edited the first daily paper in Texas in 1842, and established The Clarksville Standard in 1842. He was reporter of the house of congress in 1841-42. He died in 1887.

DE MOTT, JOHN, congressman, was born in New Jersey. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1833; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1847.

DE MOTTE, HARVEY CLELLAND, soldier, educator, college president, was born July 17, 1838, near Carrollton, Ill. He served as a lieutenant in the union army during the civil war, and was admitted to the bar in 1882. For twenty-three years he was professor of mathematics in the Illinois Wesleyan university; for three years was president of Chaddock college; and for six years was superintendent of the Illinois Soldiers' Orphans' home of Normal, Ill. He is president of the Central Union Building and Loan association at Bloomington, Ill.

DE MOTTE, MARK L., soldier, lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Dec. 28, 1832, in Rockville, Ind. He was elected prosecuting attorney in 1856; and served as a captain in the union army during the war of the rebellion. He was editor and proprietor of the Lexington Register of Missouri for eight years; was an unsuccessful candidate for congress in 1872 and 1876; and in the latter year was a delegate to the republican national convention. He returned to Valparaiso, Ind., in 1877, and was elected a representative from Indiana to the forty-seventh congress as a republican.

DEMPSEY, JOHN B., lawyer, legislator, was born April 29, 1861, in St. Louis, Mo. He is a successful lawyer of his native city, and principally engaged as an advocate in labor cases. In 1889 he was a member of the revising session of the Missouri state legislature; and in 1886-89 was secretary for the state of Missouri of the state and district assemblies of the Knights of Labor.

DEMPSTER, JOHN, clergyman, educator, author, was born Jan. 2, 1794, in Florida, N. Y. He is a noted methodist preacher and educator, and one of the founders of the theological school of Boston university. He is the author of Lectures and Addresses, which was issued in 1864. He died Nov. 28, 1863, in Evanston, Ill.

DEMPSTER, WILLIAM RICHARDSON, musician, was born in 1809 in Scotland. He set Tennyson's May Queen to music, which became popular, and afterward composed music for most of the songs introduced in Tennyson's longer poems, which were his favorites for his concerts. He died March 7, 1871, in London, England.

DE NAVARRO, MRS. A. F., actress, was born July 28, 1859, in Sacramento, Cal. Her first appearance in New York was in 1877 at the Fifth Avenue theater, and again in 1878, at the close of which she made her first European tour. She abandoned the stage permanently in 1891.

DENBY, CHARLES, soldier, journalist, lawyer, diplomatist, was born June 16, 1830, in Mount Joy, Va. In 1853 he went to Evansville, Ind., and became assistant editor of the Evansville Enquirer. In 1856 he was elected a representative in the Indiana legislature. In 1861 he was prominent in raising volunteers for the union army and was commissioned lieutenant-colonel of an Indiana regiment; served until 1863, and was promoted colonel for gallant conduct. In 1885 he was appointed United States minister to China.

DENGLER, FRANK, sculptor, was born in 1853, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was for a short time an instructor in modelling in the Boston museum art school. Among his works are Azzo and Melda; an ideal head of America, and several portrait busts.

DENHARD, CHARLES EDWARD, physician, was born July 15, 1849, in Germany. He helped to found the German poliklinik of New York city, of which he is an attending physician.

DENHOLM, ROBERT M., journalist, was born July 20, 1852, in Scotland. He has established several papers in the west, and is now the editor and owner of The Western Disciple of De Soto, Mo.

DENIO, HIRAM, jurist, author, was born May 21, 1799, in Rome, N. Y. He was a Utica jurist who published Reports of Cases in the Supreme Court; and The Court for Correction of Errors. He died in 1871.

DENISE, DAVID D., horticulturist, was born Sept. 23, 1840, in Freehold, N. Y. He is treasurer of the state board of agriculture, and a member of the executive committee.

DENISON, ANDREW WOODS, soldier, was born Dec. 15, 1831, in Baltimore, Md. He served in the civil war and attained for gallant and meritorious services the rank of brigadier-general. In 1869 he was appointed postmaster of Baltimore, Md., which he held until his death. He died Feb. 24, 1877, in Baltimore, Md.

DENISON, CHARLES, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 23, 1818, in Wyoming Valley, Pa. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses. He died June 27, 1867, in Wilkesbarre.

DENISON, CHARLES, physician, inventor, author, was born Nov. 1, 1845, in Royalton, Vt. He is the inventor of the air pressure inhaler and exhaler, and the binaural stethoscope, now used extensively by the medical profession. He is the author of Climates of the United States in Colors, and various other works on health and hygiene.

DENISON, CHARLES WHEELER, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 11, 1809, in New London, Conn. He was a clergyman who as a young man was editor of The Emancipator, an anti-slavery journal of New York. During the civil war he served as chaplain in the federal army. He is the author of The American Village and Other Poems; Paul St. Clair, a temperance tale; Antonio, the Italian Boy; The Child Hunters, an exposure of the padrone system; Life of General Grant; Out at Sea, a volume of verse; Sunshine Castle, a tale. The Tanner Boy; The Bobbin Boy; and Winfield, the Lawyer's Son, form a series of biographies of noted men for juvenile reading. He died Nov. 14, 1881.

DENISON, DANIEL, soldier, author, was born in 1613, in England. He was a famous colonial soldier of Massachusetts, and the author of Irenicon, or Salve for New England's Sore. He died Sept. 20, 1682, in Ipswich, Mass.

DENISON, DUDLEY CHASE, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 13, 1819, in Royalton, Ind. He was a state senator in 1853 and 1854; state's attorney from 1858 to 1860; and a member of the state house of representatives in 1861, 1862, and 1863. He was United States district attorney for the district of Vermont; and was elected a representative from Vermont to the forty-fourth and forty-fifth congresses as a republican.

DENISON, FREDERIC, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 28, 1819, in Stoning, Conn. He is a baptist clergyman of Rhode Island, and the author of The Supper Institution; The Sabbath Institution; History of the First Rhode Island Cavalry; Westerly and Its Witnesses, 1627-1876; and Picturesque Narragansett and Picturesque Rhode Island.

DENISON, JOHN HENRY, clergyman, author, was born in 1841, in Massachusetts. He is a congregational clergyman retired from active service, but at one time college pastor at Williamstown, Mass. He is the author of Christ's Idea of the Supernatural.

DENISON, JOHN LEDYARD, publisher, author, was born in 1826, in Connecticut. He is a publisher of Norwich, Conn., and the author of Picturesque History of the Wars of the United States; and Illustrated History of the New World.

DENISON, MRS. MARY ANDREWS, author, was born May 26, 1826, in Cambridge, Mass. She is the author of Opposite the Jail; That Husband of Mine, which was issued anonymously and enjoyed an extraordinary popularity for a short time; That Wife of Mine; Rothmell; His Triumph; Old Slip Warehouse; Home Pictures; Like a Gentleman; and If She Will, She Will.

DENNETT, JOHN RICHARD, journalist, was born in 1837, in Chatham, N. B. Besides writing frequently for the Nation, he was assistant professor of rhetoric at Harvard. He died Nov. 26, 1874, in Westborough, Mass.

DENNIE, JOSEPH, journalist, author, was born Aug. 30, 1768, in Boston, Mass. He was a journalist and essayist of Philadelphia, whose reputation in his day vastly exceeded his deserts, and the author of The Lay Preacher, or Short Sermons for Idle Readers. He died Jan. 7, 1812, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DENNIS, GEORGE R., physician, United States senator, was born April 8, 1822, in White Haven, Md. He was president of the Eastern Shore railroad; was a delegate from the state at large to the national whig convention at Philadelphia in 1856; and also to the democratic national convention at New York in 1868. He was elected to the state senate of Maryland in 1854; and to the house of delegates in 1867, and again to the senate in 1871. He was elected to the United States senate for the term 1873-79.

DENNIS, GRAHAM, BARCLAY, financier, was born June 1, 1855, in England. From 1875-77 he was city editor of The Daily Journal of Dayton, Ohio; and in 1885 organized the Muscovite Mica Mining company, of which he is still manager. He has been president of the Dominion Mining and Concentrating company of Spokane, Wash.; and is still president of the Ilder Mining company; and the Summit Mining company.

DENNIS, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 17, 1771, in Somerset county, Md. He was elected a representative in congress from Maryland in 1796; and was re-elected to five successive congresses. He died Aug. 17, 1807, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DENNIS, JOHN, farmer, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1807, in Somerset county, Md. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1837 to 1841; and was twice elected to the state legislature. He was a member of the Maryland state convention in 1850. He died Nov. 1, 1850.

DENNIS, LITTLETON P., congressman. He served many years in the legislature of Maryland; was a presidential elector in 1800, 1812, 1816, 1824, and 1828; and was elected a representative in congress from Maryland in 1833. He died April 14, 1834, in Washington, D. C.

DENNIS, RODNEY, underwriter, was born Jan. 14, 1826, in Topsfield, Mass. In 1864 the Travellers' Life and Accident Insurance company was organized, and Mr. Dennis accepted the secretaryship, and held that important position for many years. He is also a director and trustee of several insurance and business corporations of Hartford, Conn.

DENNIS, THOMAS HAMNER, soldier, journalist, legislator, was born Feb. 20, 1846, in Charlotte county, Va. He was a soldier in the confederate service in 1864-65; and in 1865 was elected speaker of the house of delegates. He has become a prominent lawyer, and is the editor of The Independent of Lewisburg, W. Va.

DENNIS, W. BICKHAM, journalist, miner, was born Dec. 8, 1864, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He attended the public schools of Cincinnati and graduated from the Central university of Richmond, Ky. In 1891 he emigrated to the state of Washington, where he is the president of the Port Townsend board of trade, and vice-president of the Northwest Mining association. For many years he was engaged in newspaper work, and was president of the Middle-West Journals' association; and held other offices of honor. He is now at the head of several mining companies, and other business enterprises; and is the owner of the Dennis-Haltzman block of Port Townsend, Wash.; and president of the Eureka Consolidated Mining company.

DENNISON, GEORGE, congressman, was born in Luzerne county, Pa. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1819 to 1823; was for many years register and recorder of Luzerne county; and before, as well as after his service in congress, was frequently returned to the legislature. He died in 1831 in Wilkesbarre, Pa.

DENNISON, WILLIAM, lawyer, legislator, governor, was born Nov. 23, 1815, in Cincinnati, Ohio. In 1852 he was a presidential elector; about that time was made president of the Exchange bank of Columbus, and also president of the Columbus and Xenia Railroad company. In 1860 and 1861 he was governor of Ohio, and did much toward organizing the volunteer army for subduing the rebellion. In 1864 he became a member of President Lincoln's cabinet as postmaster-general. He died June 15, 1882.

DENNISTON, WILLIAM H., merchant, legislator, was born March 10, 1850, in Rochester, N. Y. During 1891-94 he was a member of the New York legislature from the third (Monroe county) district. He is a successful merchant and prominent in public affairs of his county and state.

DENNY, ARTHUR A., surveyor, legislator, congressman, was born in 1822 in Indiana. He was a member of the Washington territorial legislature from 1853 to 1861; and was four years register of the land office at Olympia. He was elected a delegate from Washington territory to the thirty-ninth congress.

DENNY, HARMAR, legislator, congressman, was born in 1794 in Pittsburg, Pa. He was a member of the legislature of his native state; was a representative in congress from 1829 to 1837; and was a member of the convention which formed the present constitution of Pennsylvania. He died Jan. 29, 1852, in Pittsburg, Pa.

DENNY, THOMAS, banker, was born in 1804 in Leicester, Mass. In 1852 he became a member of the New York stock exchange, and in 1858 formed the banking house of Thomas Denny and Co. He died Oct. 21, 1874, in New York city.

DENNY, WALTER McKENNON, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 28, 1853, in Moss Point, Miss. In 1883 he was elected to the office of clerk of the circuit and chancery courts of Jackson county, Miss., and served eleven years. In 1890 he was elected and served as a delegate from Jackson county in the state constitutional convention; and was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat.

DENOYELLES, PETER, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1813 to 1815.

DENSLAW, WILLIAM M., educator, journalist, legislator, was born Aug. 9, 1858, in Grundy county, Mo. For ten years he taught school; was township treasurer for ten years; and in 1898 was appointed collector of internal revenue. He has been justice of the peace; is a successful journalist of Spickard; and has served two terms as a member of the Missouri general assembly.

DENSMORE, AMOS, inventor, promoter, was born Jan. 28, 1825, in Rochester, N. Y. He made many suggestions and improvements in the Shole and Glidden type-writer, which at a later date culminated in the Densmore machine.

DENSMORE, JAMES, journalist, promoter, was born Feb. 3, 1820, in Moscow, N. Y. He established the first paper in Oshkosh, Wis., and was the editor of several other papers. In 1867 his attention was directed to the Sholes and Glidden machine, and from that time onward he devoted his time, energies and wealth to the development of the Shole machine. He died Sept. 16, 1889, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

DENSON, WILLIAM H., lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born March 4, 1846, in Russell county, Ala. He was elected a member of the lower house of the general assembly of Alabama. In 1884 he was Cleveland elector, and was appointed United States district attorney for the northern and middle districts of Alabama. In 1890 he was chairman of the democratic state convention; and was elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

DENT, FREDERICK T., soldier, was born Dec. 17, 1820, in White Haven, Mo. For his gallant and meritorious services in the field during the civil war he was brevetted brigadier-general United States army and brigadier-general of volunteers.

DENT, GEORGE, congressman, was born about 1760 in Maryland. He was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1793 to 1801; was in the latter year appointed United States marshal for the Potomac district; and during the third session of the fifth congress was elected speaker of the house of representatives.

DENT, JOHN HERBERT, naval officer, was born in 1782 in Maryland. He was commissioned a master commander in 1804, and a captain in 1811. He died July 31, 1823, in Bartholomew, Md.

DENT, WILLIAM B. W., congressman, was born in Maryland. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1853 to 1855.

DENTON, FRANKLIN EVERT, journalist, poet, was born in 1859 in Ohio. He is a journalist of Cleveland; and published in 1883 The Early Poems of Franklin Denton.

DENVER, JAMES W., soldier, congressman, governor, was born in 1818 in Winchester, Va. He served in the Mexican war as a captain. He was a representative from California in the thirty-fourth congress; and was appointed commissioner of Indian affairs, which office he resigned to accept the appointment of governor of the territory of Kansas. In 1866 he was a delegate to the Cleveland soldiers' convention.

DE PAUW, NEWLAND TALBOT, banker, manufacturer, was born Sept. 5, 1856, in Salem, Ind. Large interests throughout Indiana come in part under his administration, including The W. C. De Pauw company, of which he is president; The New Albany national bank, the Ohio Falls Iron works, the Merchants' national bank, of which he is also president; the New Albany Manufacturing company, and the New Albany Rail Mill company. He is also connected with two institutions in Indianapolis, the Bank of Commerce, of which he is president, and the Union Trust company, in which he is a director.

DE PAUW, WASHINGTON CHARLES, manufacturer, philanthropist, was born Jan. 4, 1822, in Salem, Ind. He devoted himself to the manufacture of plate-glass, and The De Pauw Plate-Glass works of New Albany became one of the greatest industries of Indiana. He gave a million and a half dollars to the De Pauw university of Greencastle, Ind.; and founded the De Pauw female college of New Albany. He died May 5, 1887, in Chicago, Ill.

DEPEW, CHAUNCEY MITCHELL, lawyer, legislator, railroad president, was born April 23, 1834, in Peekskill, N. Y. In 1861 he was elected to the New York state legislature; was re-elected; and became secretary of state. In 1875 he became counsel of the Vanderbilt railway system; and subsequently its president. He is the author of two works entitled Oration and After-Dinner Speeches; and Latter Speeches. In 1885 he became president of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad.

DE PEYSTER, ABRAHAM, jurist, was born July 8, 1658, in New York city. He was mayor of New York in 1691-95, and subsequently became chief justice of the province, and president of the king's council, in which latter capacity he acted (in 1701) as governor. He died Aug. 10, 1728, in New York city.

DE PEYSTER, FREDERIC, lawyer, philanthropist, was born Nov. 11, 1796, in New York city. He was a founder and director of the Home for Incurables, and vice-president of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, founder of the Soldiers' home erected by the Grand Army of the Republic, and a trustee of the New York society library. He died Aug. 17, 1882, in Tivoli, N. Y.

DE PEYSTER, FREDERICK, soldier, was born Dec. 12, 1843. He served in the civil war, and for his conduct attained the rank of major of United States volunteers; and colonel of New York volunteers. He died Oct. 30, 1874, in Red Hook, N. Y.

DE PEYSTER, JOHN LIVINGSTON, soldier, legislator, was born June 14, 1846, in Tivoli, N. Y. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of major and lieutenant of the United States volunteers. In 1889 he was elected to the New York state assembly.

DE PEYSTER, JOHN WATTS, soldier, author, was born March 9, 1821, in New York city. He is an historical writer of New York city, and a general of the state militia. He is the author of Life of Torsenson; The Dutch at the North Pole and The Dutch in Maine; Decisive Conflicts of the Late Civil War; Personal and Military History of General Kearney; Life of Sir John Johnston; Mary, Queen of Scots, a Study; The Character of Mary and a Justification of Bothwell; Bothwell, a drama; The Thirty Years' War; Before, At, and After Gettysburg; Life of Baron Cohorn; Carausius, the Dutch Augustus; and The Real Napoleon Bonaparte.

DE PEYSTER, JOHNSTON W., soldier, was born Dec. 2, 1841, in New York city. He served in the civil war and rose to the rank of colonel.

DE PUY, HENRY WALTER, lawyer, journalist, author, was born in 1820 in Pompey Hill, N. Y. He is a lawyer and journalist, and the author of Kossuth and his Generals; Louis Napoleon and his Times; and Ethan Allen and the Green Mountain Boys of '76.

DE PUY, WILLIAM HARRISON, clergyman, author, was born in 1821 in New York. He is a methodist clergyman of western New York, and the author of Threescore Years and Beyond; Statistics of the Methodist Episcopal Church; Home and Health; and Home Economics, a very popular book.

DERBIGNY, PIERRE, fifth governor of Louisiana. He was elected to that office in 1828. He was a member of the first state legislature; judge of the supreme court; and was twice secretary of state. He died Oct. 6, 1829, from injuries received by being thrown from his carriage.

DERBY, ELIAS HASKET, lawyer, author, was born Sept. 24, 1803, in Salem, Mass. He was a noted railway attorney of Boston, and the author of Two Months Abroad; Catholic Letters; The Overland Route to the Pacific; and Position and Prospects of the United States with Respect to Finance, Commerce, and Prosperity. He died March 30, 1880, in Boston, Mass.

DERBY, GEORGE, physician, author, was born Feb. 13, 1819, in Salem, Mass. He was a physician of Boston, prominent as a sanitarian, who published Anthraxite and Health. He died in 1874.

DERBY, GEORGE HORATIO, civil engineer, author, was born April 3, 1823, in Salem, Mass. He was a topographical engineer in the United States army who was a popular humorist in his day, and the author of Phenixiana; and Squibob Papers. He died May 15, 1861, in New York city.

DERBY, JAMES CEPHAS, publisher, author, was born July 20, 1818, in Little Falls, N. Y. He was a noted publisher of New York and San Francisco, and the author of Fifty Years Among Authors, Books, and Publishers. He died in 1892.

DERBY, JOHN BARTON, poet, was born Nov. 30, 1792, in Salem, Mass. He was a poet whose later years were spent in Boston; and was the author of Musings of a Recluse; The Sea; and The Village. He died in 1867 in Boston, Mass.

DERBY, ROSWELL, lawyer, poet, was born Feb. 4, 1854, in Fulton county, Ohio. He attended the public schools of Wauseon, Ohio; and subsequently was admitted to the bar in Ohio. For five years he was secretary and attorney for the People's Mutual Life Insurance company of Wakeman, Ohio. For many years he was engaged in seed growing at Florence, Ohio, and was also a successful manufacturer of maple syrup. He has attained prominence as a successful lawyer, and has a lucrative practice in his state. He has contributed extensively both prose and verse to the periodical press; and many of his poems have been incorporated into standard works.

DERBY, SAMUEL CARROLL, educator, college president, was born in Dublin, N. H. In 1877 he received a professorship in Antioch college, which he held until 1887, when he became president of the college. He held the position until 1881, when he accepted the position of professor of Latin language and literature in the Ohio state university.

DE ROALDES, ABEL, physician, was born June 10, 1804, in France. In 1850 he moved to New Orleans, where for thirty years he practiced his profession, numbering among his patients and friends a large number of the creole population. He died Feb. 1, 1894, in New Orleans, La.

DE ROALDES, ARTHUR WASHINGTON, surgeon, author, was born Jan. 25, 1849, in St. Landry, La. He attained prominence as a successful surgeon of New Orleans. He is the author of Post Nasal Adenoid Growths and Their Treatment; Atresia of the Larynx; and other works.

DE RUSSY, GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS, was born Nov. 3, 1818, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was mustered out of the volunteer service in 1866; promoted to be major in the regular army in 1866; lieutenant-colonel in 1879; colonel in 1882; and was retired by operation of law in 1882. He died May 29, 1891, in Detroit, Mich.

DE RUSSY, LOUIS G., soldier, state senator, was born in 1796 in New York. From 1851 to 1853 he was a member of the Louisiana house of representatives, and from 1853 till 1855 of the senate. He was major-general of Louisiana militia from 1848 till 1861, when he entered the confederate army. He died Dec. 17, 1864, in Grand Ecore, Fla.

DE RUSSY, RENE EDWARD, soldier, was born Feb. 22, 1789, in Hayti, W. I. He was superintendent of the United States military academy from 1833 till 1838, and lieutenant-colonel of engineers from 1838 till 1863. In 1865 he was brevetted major-general in the U. S. army for long and faithful service. He died Nov. 23, 1865, in San Francisco, Cal.

DE SAUSSURE, HENRY WILLIAM, jurist, author, was born Aug. 16, 1763, in Pocotaligo, S. C. He was a jurist of South Carolina, who was director of the United States mint in 1794, and published Reports of the Courts of Chancery and Equity in South Carolina from the Revolution to 1813. He died March 29, 1839, in Charleston, S. C.

DE SAUSSURE, WILLIAM F., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1792, in Charleston, S. C. He adopted the profession of the law; and was a senator in congress from his native state from 1852 to 1853.

DESBROSSES, ELIAS, was born in 1718, in New York city. He was one of the founders of the chamber of commerce in 1768, and its president in 1771 and 1772. Desbrosses street of New York city is named in his honor. He died in March, 1778.

DESHA, JOSEPH, soldier, congressman, governor, was born Dec. 9, 1768, in Pennsylvania. He served for a time in the state legislature; fought at the battle of the Thames as a major-general; and was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1807 to 1819. He was governor of Kentucky for four years from 1824. He died Oct. 13, 1842, in Georgetown, Ky.

DESHA, ROBERT, merchant, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1827 to 1831. He died Feb. 8, 1849.

DESHON, GEORGE, missionary, author, was born Jan. 30, 1823, in New London, Conn. He is a Roman catholic priest of the redemptorist order, whose Guide for Young Catholic Women has had a very extended circulation.

DESIREE, sister superior, was born in 1815 in Belgium. After taking her vows in 1845, she came to the United States, and was stationed at Cincinnati until 1852, when she was sent to Lowell to found a convent and school for catholic girls. She died in 1879 in Lowell, Mass.

DE SMET, PETER JOHN, missionary, author, was born Dec. 31, 1801, in Belgium. He was a noted Roman catholic missionary to the Indians, who came to the United States in 1821. His writings, originally published in French, include The Oregon Missions and Travels over the Rocky Mountains; Indian Letters and Sketches; Western Missions and Missionaries; and New Indian Sketches. He died in May, 1872, in St. Louis, Mo.

DESMOND, HUMPHREY J., lawyer, legislator, author, was born Sept. 14, 1860, in Ozaukee county, Wis. In 1891 he was elected a member of the Wisconsin legislature, and drafted the Desmond law, which was enacted in place of the famous Bennett law. He is the author of Mooted Questions of History, and several other works.

DESNOYER, PETER, pioneer, was born April 21, 1773, in France. Congress, in 1807, gave him a tract of land on Detroit river, in return for his loyalty to the United States. He subsequently became United States marshal for the territory of Michigan, and in 1839 state treasurer. He died March 6, 1880, in Detroit, Mich.

DE SOLA, ABRAHAM, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 18, 1825, in London. He was an eloquent expounder of conservative Judaism. His published works include Scripture Zoology; The Sanitary Institutions of the Hebrews; Mosaic Cosmogony; Sinaitic Inscriptions; Notes on the Jews of Persia; and minor writings on Jewish history and literature. He died June 5, 1882, in New York.

DE STEFANI, RAFAEL E., operatic artist and vocal teacher, was born in Cuba. He decided to settle in Brooklyn, N. Y., and there opened his Italian conservatory on Fulton and Gould streets, which in a short time became one of the leading institutions in the city.

DESTREHAN, JEAN NOEL, statesman, was born about 1780. He was a citizen of Louisiana, and in 1805 one of the authors of a pamphlet attacking the territorial government. In 1812 he was elected to the United States senate, but resigned the office before taking his seat.

DETMOLD, CHRISTIAN EDWARD, civil engineer, was born Feb. 2, 1810, in Germany. He built the works of the New Jersey Zinc company, at Newark, N. J., being president of the company, and developed the manufacture of spiegel iron from the residue of zinc ore. He died July 2, 1887, in New York city.

DETMOLD, WILLIAM LUDWIG, surgeon, was born Dec. 27, 1808, in Germany. He became professor of military surgery and hygiene at Columbia in 1862, and was made professor emeritus in 1866. He introduced orthopedic surgery into the United States.

DE TROBRIAND, PHILIP REGIS, soldier, author, was born June 4, 1816, in France. He is a military writer who came to the United States in 1841, entered the army, and, after serving through the civil war, retired from active service in 1879, and resided in New Orleans. He is the author of several novels in French.

DETWILER, JACOB SNARE, educator, elocutionist, journalist, was born Jan. 28, 1863, in Philadelphia, Pa. He toured the country for several years as an elocutionist and impersonator, and became favorably known as an orator and lecturer. He is now editor and proprietor of The Sun, of Osage, Iowa.

DETWILLER, HENRY, physician, merchant, was born Dec. 18, 1795, in Switzerland. He was the pioneer of homeopathy in Pennsylvania, and the first to successfully practice it in America. He founded the iron industry at Bingen, Pa., and became president of the company. He died April 21, 1887, in Easton.

DEUSTER, PETER VICTOR, journalist, state senator, congressman, was born Feb. 13, 1831, in Germany. In 1847 he settled at Milwaukee, Wis., and became editor and publisher of a newspaper. He was a member of the state house of representatives in 1862; state senator in 1870 and 1871; and was elected a representative from Wisconsin to the forty-sixth, forty-seventh, and forty-eighth congresses as a democrat.

DEVENS, CHARLES, lawyer, soldier, state senator, was born April 4, 1820, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a member of the state senate in 1848-49; and for several years was attorney-general of the United States. He served with distinction through the civil war; and was made a brigadier-general in 1862. He died Jan. 7, 1891, in Boston, Mass.

DE VERE, MARY AINGE, known as Madeline Bridges, author, poet, was born in New York. She is a successful writer of Brooklyn, N. Y.; and the author of Love Songs and Other Poems; and a second volume entitled Poems.

DE VERE, MAXIMILIAN SCHELE, philologist, author, was born in 1820 in Sweden. He is a philologist of note who came from Sweden to the United States in 1843, and since 1844 has been a professor in the university of Virginia. He is the author of Outlines of Comparative Philology; Studies in English; Americanisms; Wonders of the Deep; Grammar of the Spanish Language; Stray Leaves from the Book of Nature; and Romance of American History.

DEVEREUX, JOHN HENRY, president of railroads, was born April 5, 1832, in Boston, Mass. He received a thorough education in the Portsmouth academy, New Hampshire; and in 1848 commenced life as a civil engineer on construction of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati railroad, and the Cleveland, Painesville and Ashtabula railroad. In 1853 he went to Tennessee to engage in the construction of the Tennessee and Alabama railroad; and during the great rebellion entered the United States service, and was made superintendent of the United States railroads of Virginia. He became president, until consolidation, of all the lines between Buffalo and Chicago; at which time he was made general manager of the entire lines. In 1873 he became president of the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati railroad; and also president of the Atlantic and Great Western railroad. He was instrumental in building the Pittsburg and Lake Erie railroad, and remained a trustee and director until his death, on March 17, 1886, in Cleveland, Ohio.

DEVEREUX, THOMAS POLLOCK, lawyer, author, was born Dec. 17, 1793, in Newbern, N. C. He was a North Carolina lawyer who published Reports of North Carolina Supreme Court in 1826-34; Reports in the Superior Court in 1834-40; and Equity Reports in 1826-40. He died March 24, 1869, in North Carolina.

DEVIN, THOMAS C., soldier, was born in 1822 in New York city. He entered the regular army as lieutenant-colonel, and was made brigadier-general for services at Sailor's creek. He died April 4, 1878, in New York city.

DE VINNE, DANIEL, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 1, 1793, in Ireland. He was a methodist clergyman of New York city; and the author of The Methodist Episcopal Church and Slavery; Recollections of Fifty Years in the Ministry; and Irish Primitive Church. He died Feb. 10, 1883, in Morrisania, N. Y.

DE VINNE, THEODORE LOW, printer, author, was born Dec. 25, 1828, in Stamford, Conn. He is a noted printer of New York city, and the author of Printer's Price List; Invention of Printing; and Historic Types.

DEVOE, FREDERICK WILLIAM, merchant, manufacturer, was born Jan. 26, 1828, in New York city. His product, called Devoe's Brilliant Oil, enjoyed a very extended sale, and the present company of which he is president and treasurer is one of the leading concerns in the country.

DEVOL, WILLIAM STOWE, educator, scientist, was born March 24, 1860, near Marietta, Ohio. He is the director of the Arizona experiment station, professor of agriculture, horticulture and veterinary science in the university of Arizona. He graduated from the Ohio state university in 1886 with the degree of bachelor of agriculture, and upon graduation was placed in charge of the university farm, and in 1882 was chosen botanist. In 1889 he went to Reno, Nev., to accept the chair of agriculture in the university of Nevada. On account of failing health he went to southern California, and there remained for five years, engaged in newspaper work. In 1895 he accepted his present position at the university of Arizona. He is the president of the Arizona Agricultural association; and a member of various horticultural, pomological and scientific associations. In 1896 he became territorial veterinarian, stamping out an extensive outbreak of swine plague.

DE VRIES, MARION, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 15, 1865, in Woodbridge, Cal. He acted as assistant district attorney for San Joaquin county from January, 1893, to February, 1897; and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat and indorsed by the people's party. He is a member of several important committees; and always takes an active part in all debates tending to the industrial advancement of the United States.

DEW, THOMAS RODERICK, educator, college president, author, was born Dec. 5, 1802, in Virginia. He was an educator of Virginia, and president of William and Mary college in 1836-46. A Digest of the History and Laws of Ancient and Modern Nations is his chief work. Other writings of his include The Policy of the Government; Lectures on History; Usury; and Essay in Favour of Slavery. He died Aug. 6, 1864, in Paris, France.

DE WAELE, CHARLES LEONARD, lawyer, poet, was born Oct. 24, 1839, in Belgium. In 1869 he emigrated to America, and for a number of years was in the lumber business in northern Michigan. During 1876-90 he served as a justice of the peace; and for two terms was superintendent of schools. In 1889 he was admitted to the bar; and is now circuit court commissioner for the county of Roscommon, Mich. As an author and lawyer Mr. De Waele occupies a high place amongst the literary and legal fraternity of Michigan. He is the author of a volume of poems published in his native language. He is a linguist, and speaks the Dutch, German and French languages, and has done service as interpreter in several prominent trials in the state.

DE WALDEN, THOMAS BLAIDES, actor, author, was born in 1811, in London, England. He was a New York actor of some note as an author and adapter of many plays, among which are The Upper Ten and the Lower Twenty; and Kit; The Jesuit. He died Sept. 26, 1873, in New York city.

DEWART, LEWIS, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1831 to 1833.

DEWART, WILLIAM L., lawyer, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a member of the thirty-fifth congress from Pennsylvania.

DEWEES, WILLIAM POTTS, physician, author, was born Nov. 5, 1768, in Pottsgrove, Pa. He was a popular physician of Philadelphia, and professor of obstetrics in the university of Pennsylvania. He was the author of Medical Essays; Physical and Medical Treatment of Children; System of Midwifery; and Practice of Medicine. He died May 18, 1841, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DEWEESE, JOHN T., lawyer, soldier, congressman, was born June 4, 1835, in Arkansas. He entered the volunteer army in 1861; promoted to the rank of colonel in 1863; and after the war was commissioned a lieutenant in the regular army, and stationed in North Carolina. After holding the office of register in bankruptcy for a time he was elected a representative from North Carolina to the fortieth congress, and was re-elected to the forty-first congress.

DEWEY, CHARLES AUGUSTUS, lawyer, jurist, was born March 13, 1793, in Williamstown, Mass. He served as United States district attorney from 1830 till 1837, when he was appointed the fifth judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts. He died Aug. 22, 1866, in Northampton, Mass.

DEWEY, CHESTER, botanist, educator, author, was born Oct. 25, 1784, in Sheffield, Mass. He was a botanist who as an educator was connected with various colleges, and lastly with the university of Rochester. Besides a History of Herbaceous Plants of Massachusetts, he wrote an elaborate monograph on the Carices of North America, the result of many years' labor. He died in 1867.

DEWEY, DANIEL, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 29, 1766, in Sheffield, Mass. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts in 1813 and 1814, when he resigned; and was appointed judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts in 1814. He died June 3, 1815.

DEWEY, FREDERIC PERKINS, chemist, was born Oct. 4, 1855, in Hartford, Conn. He was appointed in 1882 curator of Metallurgy in the United States national museum in Washington.

DEWEY, GEORGE, naval officer, was born in Vermont. He attended the naval academy during 1854-58; and during 1858-59 was attached to the steam frigate Wabash; and to the Mississippi in 1861-63. He was at the capture of New Orleans in 1862; of Port Hudson in 1863; and during 1864-65 was in the North Atlantic Blockading squadron. He was commissioned lieutenant in 1861; lieutenant-commander in 1865; commander in 1872; and captain in 1884. He was secretary of the light-house board during 1877-82; and chief of the bureau of equipment and recruiting, with rank of commodore, during 1889-90. He has attained world-wide fame by his destruction of the Spanish fleet in Manila Bay on May 1, 1898; was given a vote of thanks by congress; presented with a golden sword; and was promoted to rear admiral.

DEWEY, HENRY S., lawyer, was born Nov. 9, 1856, in Hanover, N. H. He has attained eminence as a lawyer of Boston, Mass.

DEWEY, ISRAEL OTIS, soldier, legislator, was born March 9, 1824, in Berlin, Vt. In 1860 he was a member of the New Hampshire legislature; and a justice of the peace for many years. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of major. He died May 12, 1888, in Boston, Mass.

DEWEY, JAMES ALFRED, educator, reformer, was born Nov. 10, 1860, in Armenia, Pa. He graduated in 1882 from the state normal school of Mansfield, Pa.; and subsequently from the medical department of the university of Michigan. He has been a successful educator and reformer; and is now superintendent of schools at Wanamie, Pa.

DEWEY, JOHN J., railroad president, was born April 8, 1846, in Quechee, Vt. In 1894 he became president of the Woodstock railway.

DEWEY, LOUIS MARINUS, genealogist, was born Aug. 27, 1865, in Westfield, Mass. He is the author of a genealogy of the Dewey family.

DEWEY, MARY E., author, was born in Sheffield, Mass. She has translated George Sand's Miller of Angibault, and edited The Life and Letters of Catherine M. Sedgwick.

DEWEY, MELVIL, librarian, author, was born Dec. 10, 1851, in Adams Centre, N. Y. He is the librarian of Columbia college and director of the New York state library. He is the author of Library School Rules; and The Decimal Classification and Relation Index.

DEWEY, NE' SON, governor. He was the first governor of Wisconsin after it became a state, serving as such from 1848 to 1851.

DEWEY, ORVILLE, clergyman, author, was born March 28, 1794, in Sheffield, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of conservative opinions, once prominent as a pastor in New York and Boston. He was the author of Unitarian Belief; Discourses on Human Life; The Old World and the New; Letters on Revivals; Problems of Human Life and Destiny; and Education of the Human Race. He died March 21, 1882, in Sheffield, Mass.

DEWING, MRS. MARIA RICHARDS, artist, was born Oct. 27, 1855, in New York. She has painted numerous figure and flower pieces, among which are Violets; and Mother and Child; and a number of portraits, including Portrait of a Boy; Portrait of Her Father; and Sleeping Child.

DEWING, THOMAS WILMER, artist, was born May 4, 1852, in Boston, Mass. His more important paintings are Young Sorcerer; Morning; Prelude; A Garden; The Days, which gained the Clarke prize; and Tobias and the Angel.

DE WITT, ALEXANDER, manufacturer, banker, congressman, was born April 2, 1797, in Worcester, Mass. He was a bank president; was a state senator in 1842, 1844, 1850, and 1851; a member of the constitutional convention of 1853; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1853 to 1857.

DE WITT, BENJAMIN, physician, scientist, author, was born in 1774. He was a New York physician and scientist who published Oxygen; and Minerals in New York. He died in 1819, in New York city.

DE WITT, CHARLES, congressman, was born in 1728. He was a delegate from New York to the continental congress from 1783 to 1785. He died Sept., 1787, in Kingston, N. Y.

DE WITT, CHARLES G., congressman, He was a representative in congress from New York from 1829 to 1831; and was appointed charge d'affaires for Central America in 1833. He died April 13, 1839, in Newburg, N. Y.

DE WITT, DAVID MILLER, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 25, 1837, in Paterson, N. J. He was elected district attorney of Ulster county in 1862, and re-elected in 1865. He was elected to the forty-third congress as a democrat.

DE WITT, FRANCIS B., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 11, 1849, in Jackson county, Ind. He enlisted in the forty-sixth Ohio regiment at the age of twelve, and served at the battle of Shiloh and during the Corinth campaign. He was elected on the republican ticket in 1891 to represent Paulding county in the Ohio legislature, and re-elected in 1893. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican.

DE WITT, JACOB H., congressman, was born in 1784, in Ulster county, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1819 to 1821; and a member of the New York assembly in 1829 and in 1847. He died Jan. 30, 1857, in Kingston, N. Y.

DE WITT, JOHN, clergyman, educator, was born August, 1789, in Catskill, N. Y. In 1825 he assumed the professorship of belles-lettres, criticism and logic in Rutgers college. He died Oct. 11, 1831, in New Brunswick, N. J.

DE WITT, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 19, 1821, in Albany, N. Y. He is a reformed Dutch clergyman, and professor in the Theological seminary at New Brunswick, N. J., in 1863-92. He is the author of The Sure Foundation and How to Build on It; The Psalms, a New Translation; and What is Inspiration?

DE WITT, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born in 1842, in Pennsylvania. He is a presbyterian clergyman, professor at Princeton Theological seminary since 1892, and the author of Sermons on the Christian Life.

DE WITT, JOHN, clergyman, was born Dec. 23, 1867, in Harrisburg, Pa. He is an eminent clergyman of Cincinnati, Ohio.

DE WITT, SIMEON, surveyor, author, was born Dec. 25, 1756, in Ulster county, N. Y. He was a famous surveyor who is commonly held responsible for the classical nomenclature of places in central and western New York. He published Elements of Perspective. He died Dec. 3, 1834, in Ithaca, N. Y.

DE WITT, SUSAN LINN, author, poet, was born in 1778. She wrote Justinea, a novel; and The Pleasures of Religion, a poem. She died in 1824.

DE WOLF, AUSTIN, lawyer, author, was born April 29, 1838, in Deerfield, Mass. He is the author of The Town Meeting, a manual of Massachusetts law.

DE WOLF, EDWARD P., merchant, was born Jan. 12, 1848, in Chicago, Ill. He attended the public and high schools of his native city, and for many years was there engaged in business. His father, William F. De Wolf, was once city treasurer and a prominent lawyer of Chicago. In 1882 he moved to Waukegan, and in time became prominent as a public citizen. In 1895 was elected mayor, and his administration has been eminently satisfactory. He is a director in the Lake County Agricultural society, and has held various other positions of honor.

DE WOLFE, JAMES, United States senator, was born in 1763, in Bristol, R. I. He was a senator of the United States from Rhode Island from 1821 to 1825, when he resigned. He died Dec. 21, 1837, in New York city.

DEXTER, FRANKLIN, lawyer, state legislator, was born Nov. 5, 1793, in Charlestown, Mass. He was elected to both branches of the state legislature. He served as United States district attorney from 1841 till 1845, and was re-appointed by President Taylor in 1849. He died Aug. 14, 1857, in Beverly, Mass.

DEXTER, HENRY, sculptor, was born Oct. 1, 1806, in Nelson, N. Y. Among some of his models are President Felton, Governor Wisner, Joseph Warren, S. P. Chase, the Governors of 1860, the Pinney Child, and The Backwoodsman, The Young Naturalist, and The First Lesson. His studio was at Cambridge, Mass.

DEXTER, HENRY, president of the American News company, was born March 14, 1813, in West Cambridge, Mass. He originated the conception of the American News company, which he was finally able, with the aid of others in the same business, to realize, in 1864.

DEXTER, HENRY MARTYN, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 13, 1821, in Plympton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of prominence in Boston as editor of The Congregationalist in 1867-90. His most important work is The Congregationalism of the Last Three Hundred Years. He was the author of Handbook of Congregationalism; Pilgrim Memoranda; The Verdict of Reason; As to Roger Williams and His Banishment, a marked example of special pleading; History of the Old Plymouth Colony; History and the Study of History; The Right Use of Books; and The Study of Politics. He died Nov. 13, 1890, in New Bedford, Mass.

DEXTER, SAMUEL, merchant, was born in 1726. He was a member of the governor's council before the revolution, and for several years between 1765 and 1775 served on the more important committees of both the house and the council. He died in 1810, in Mendon, Mass.

DEXTER, SAMUEL, lawyer, jurist, statesman, author, was born May 14, 1761, in Boston, Mass. He was a member of the house of representatives in congress from Massachusetts from 1793 to 1795, and was elected to the United States senate, serving from 1799 to 1800. During the administration of John Adams he was appointed secretary of war in 1800, and secretary of the treasury in 1801; and for a short time had charge of the department of state. He was the author of Letters on Free Masonry; Progress of Science, a poem; and Speeches and Political Papers. He died May 3, 1816, in Athens, N. Y.

DEXTER, SEYMOUR, lawyer, legislator, banker, jurist, was born March 20, 1841, in Independence, N. Y. He served as a soldier in the civil war; has been a member of the New York state assembly; has been county judge, and judge of the circuit court. He is also a prominent banker of Elmira.

DEXTER, SIMON NEWTON, manufacturer, was born May 11, 1785, in Providence, R. I. He was president of the Whitestown bank in 1833-53; canal commissioner in 1840; and manager of the state lunatic asylum from 1849 till 1862. He died Nov. 18, 1862, in Whitesboro, N. Y.

DEXTER, TIMOTHY, merchant, author, was born Jan. 22, 1743, in Malden, Mass. He has attained prominence as a successful merchant of Charlestown, Mass. He was the author of a work entitled A Pickle For the Knowing One. He died Oct. 22, 1806, in Newburyport, Mass.

DEXTER, WILLIAM HENRY, merchant, was born Jan. 11, 1823, in Charlton, Mass. In 1873 he was made councilman in the Massachusetts government, and again in 1877. In 1874 he was elected a trustee of the Worcester academy and for many years was its treasurer.

DEYO, ISRAEL T., educator, lawyer, legislator, was born Jan. 28, 1854, in Union, N. Y. He was professor in New York state normal school. He was admitted to the bar in 1883 at Albany, N. Y., and during 1890-93 was a member of the New York state legislature.

DE YOUNG, MICHAEL HENRY, journalist, was born in 1848, in St. Louis, Mo. Since 1879 the San Francisco Chronicle has been conducted solely by M. H. De Young, who has made it the largest and probably the most prosperous west of St. Louis. He has served several times on the republican national committee, and been prominently named for United States senator.

DEZENDORF, JOHN F., surveyor, congressman, was born Aug. 10, 1834, in Lansingburg, N. Y. In 1863 he moved to Norfolk, Va. He was assistant assessor of internal revenue from 1869 to 1871; and was a delegate to the republican national convention of 1876. He was defeated for congress in 1878; and was elected a representative from Virginia to the forty-seventh congress as a republican.

DIAZ, MRS. ABBY MORTON, author, was born in 1821, in Massachusetts. She is a Boston writer who in youth was one of the famous company at Brook farm, and has since been prominent in relation to social reforms. Her books for juvenile readers, which are characterized by a strong vein of humor, include The William Henry Letters; William Henry and His Friends; Chronicles of the Stimpceet Family; The Cats' Arabian Nights; The John Spicer Lectures; Lucy Maria; Polly Cologne; Jimmy Johns; A Story-book for Children. Other works are Bybury to Beacon Street, a discussion of social topics; Domestic Problems; and Only a Flock of Women.

DIBBLE, SAMUEL, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 16, 1837, in Charleston, S. C. He served in the confederate army during the war of the rebellion; and was elected a representative in the state legislature in 1877. He was elected to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a democrat.

DIBBLE, SHELDON, missionary, author, was born Jan. 23, 1809, in Skaneateles, N. Y. He was a missionary to the Sandwich Islands, who published History of the Sandwich Island Missions. He died Jan. 22, 1845, in the Hawaiian Islands.

DIBRELL, GEORGE GIBBS, soldier, merchant, congressman, was born April 12, 1822, in White county, Tenn. In 1861 was elected to the legislature, but volunteered in the confederate service, and was made brigadier-general in 1864. He was elected president of the Southwestern railroad; and in 1874 was elected a representative from Tennessee to the forty-fourth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses as a democrat.

DIBRELL, JAMES A., physician, surgeon, was born Aug. 20, 1846, in Van Buren, Ark. In 1865 he commenced the study of medicine, and five years later graduated from the university of Pennsylvania, in which institution he subsequently attended a course of lectures. In 1870 he commenced the practice of his profession in Little Rock, Ark., and has been eminently successful. For fifteen years he was physician to the Arkansas Deaf and Mute institute; and is now professor of anatomy, president and dean of the medical department of Arkansas Industrial university; also local surgeon for several railroads, and United States examining surgeon for pensions.

DICHMAN, ERNEST, naval officer, lawyer, banker, was born in 1845. He served in the South Atlantic squadron until the close of the civil war; rose, through the intermediate grades, to the rank of lieutenant-commander. He was United States minister to Columbia from 1878 to 1881.

DICK, JAMES T., artist, was born in 1834, in New York city. He was one of the originators of the Brooklyn art school and a founder of the academy of design. Among his best efforts are Cooling Off; Leap-Frog; and At Mischief. He died Jan. 19, 1868, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

DICK, JOHN, jurist. He was a citizen of Louisiana, and in 1821 was appointed judge of the United States court for the District of Louisiana.

DICK, JOHN, merchant, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a member of congress from that state in 1854 and 1855; and was re-elected to the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses.

DICK, ROBERT P., lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born Oct. 5, 1823, in Greensboro, N. C. He was appointed United States district attorney for the district of North Carolina in 1853, and remained in that office until 1861. He was elected a delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1861 and 1865. He was a state senator in 1864-65; was an associate justice of the supreme court of North Carolina in 1868-72; when he was appointed United States district judge for the western district of North Carolina.

DICK, SAMUEL, physician, congressman. He was a delegate to the continental congress from New Jersey in 1783 and 1784. He died in November, 1812, in New Jersey.

DICK, SAMUEL B., soldier, congressman, was born Oct. 26, 1836, in Meadville, Pa. He was a presidential elector in 1864; and was mayor of his native city in 1870. He commanded a brigade of Pennsylvania state militia in West Virginia in 1873; and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-sixth congress.

DICK, WALLACE PEIER, educator, composer, was born Sept. 9, 1857, in Lowell, Mass. In 1891 he accepted the position of professor of languages in the state normal school at Westchester, Pa. He is a thorough musician, and has composed a number of instrumental pieces and several songs, among the most popular of which are Little Sunbeam; and Light of My Life.

DICKENS, SAMUEL, congressman. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina during the years 1816 and 1817.

DICKENSON, ANNA ELIZABETH, lecturer, author, was born Oct. 28, 1842, in Philadelphia, Pa. She gained great distinction during the civil war by her public speeches against slavery, and has been considered one of the most popular lecturers of the United States.

DICKENSON, BAXTER, clergyman, author, was born in 1795, in Massachusetts. He was a congregational clergyman of Boston, and the author of Letters to Students. He died in 1875.

DICKENSON, DANIEL S., lawyer, statesman, was born Sept. 11, 1800, in Goshen, Conn. He became so distinguished for his Biblical knowledge and apt quotations from the Scripture in his speeches in senate and court, that his friends familiarly applied to him the sobriquet of Scripture Dick. He died April 12, 1866.

DICKERMAN, BENONI, poet, was born July 9, 1810, in Naugatuc, Conn. He is the author of a volume entitled The Blood-Stained Cross; and also two booklets, besides various lyrics, psalms, hymns and spiritual songs.

DICKERMAN, CHARLES HEBER, manufacturer, banker, was born Feb. 3, 1843, in Hartford, Pa. He is secretary and treasurer of Murray, Dougal and Co., Limited, manufacturers of freight cars; and president of the First National bank of Milton, Pa.

DICKERMAN, WATSON BRADLEY, stockbroker, was born Jan. 4, 1846, in Mount Carmel, Conn. He established the firm of Dominick and Dickerman in New York city. In 1890 and 1891 he was elected president of the Stock Exchange, and he is president of the Norfolk and Southern railroad.

DICKERSON, JAMES STOKES, clergyman, journalist, was born July 6, 1825, in Philadelphia, Pa. Removing in 1875 to Chicago, he became joint proprietor and editor of the Standard, a baptist weekly paper. He died in March, 1876, in Chicago, Ill.

DICKERSON, MAHLON, lawyer, jurist, governor, United States senator, was born April 17, 1770, in Morris county, N. J. He was recorder of the city of Philadelphia, and subsequently quartermaster-general of the state. He returned to New Jersey, and was elected to the legislature of that state. He was judge of the supreme court of New Jersey; was elected governor of that state in 1815, and held the office until 1817, when he was chosen United States senator from New Jersey, and continued in that office for sixteen years. In 1834 he became secretary of the navy in the cabinet of President Jackson, and held that office until 1838, some two years after the accession of President Van Buren. For two years he was president of the American institute. He died Oct. 5, 1853, in Morris county, N. J.

DICKERSON, PHILEMON, lawyer, jurist, congressman, governor, was born in 1788, in Morris county, N. J. He was a representative in congress from the Paterson district, in that state, from 1833 to 1835, and again from 1839 to 1841. In 1836 he was governor of New Jersey; and was subsequently appointed judge of the United States district court for New Jersey. He died Dec. 10, 1862, in Paterson, N. J.

DICKERSON, W. W., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Nov. 29, 1851, in Grant county, Ky. He was elected county attorney in 1874 for a term of four years; and was elected a member of the state house of representatives in 1885. He was elected a member of the state senate in 1887 for a term of four years. He was elected as a democrat to the fifty-first congress in 1890, and was re-elected to the fifty-second congress.

DICKERSON, WILLIAM FISHER, bishop, was born Jan. 18, 1844, in Woodbury, N. J. In 1880 he was elected thirteenth bishop and given charge of the work in South Carolina and Georgia. He founded Allen university, Columbia, S. C., in 1880, of which he was president for four years. He died in December, 1884, in Columbia, S. C.

DICKEY, EBENEZER, clergyman, author, was born March 12, 1772, near Oxford, Va. He published A Tract to Parents; a pamphlet entitled Plea for Christian Communion; and wrote for the Christian Advocate a series of letters on Travels in Europe for Health in 1820, that were widely read. He died May 31, 1831, in Oxford, Pa.

DICKEY, HENRY L., civil engineer, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 29, 1832, in South Salem, Ohio. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1861; was a state senator in 1867 and 1868; and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a democrat.

DICKEY, JESSE C., congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1849 to 1851.

DICKEY, JOHN, congressman. He was a member of congress from Pennsylvania from 1843 to 1845, and from 1847 to 1849. At the time of his death he was United States marshal for western Pennsylvania. He died March 14, 1853, in Beaver county, Pa.

DICKEY, JOHN McELROY, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 16, 1789, in York district, S. C. He went on missionary tours, organized many new churches in Indiana, and his connection with the beginnings of the presbyterian church in that territory caused him to be widely known in his denomination. He published a History of the Presbyterian Church in Indiana, and was preparing a continuation of it at the time of his death. He died Nov. 21, 1849, near Washington, Ind.

DICKEY, JOHN MILLER, clergyman, educator, was born Dec. 15, 1806, in Oxford, Pa. He conducted the Oxford Female seminary for fifteen years in addition to his pastoral duties. He took the principal part in establishing the Ashmun institute, afterward Lincoln university, at Oxford, and was president of the board of trustees from 1854 till his death. He died March 21, 1878, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DICKEY, MOSES R., soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 4, 1827, in Richland county, Ohio. He served as lieutenant-colonel in the fifteenth regiment Ohio volunteer infantry, and as colonel in the same regiment. He has served as judge of court of common pleas.

DICKEY, OLIVER J., lawyer, congressman, was born April 6, 1823, in Brightou, Pa. He was district attorney for Lancaster county from 1856 to 1859; was elected to fill a vacancy in the fortieth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-first and forty-second congresses as a republican.

DICKEY, THEOPHILUS LYLE, lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 12, 1812, near Paris, Ky. He read law in his native state, removed to Ohio, liberated the slaves that he had inherited, and afterward established himself in practice in Illinois. During the Mexican war he served as a captain in Colonel Hardin's regiment, and in the civil war he was colonel of the eleventh Illinois cavalry, and served for two years under General Grant, on whose staff he served for some months as chief of cavalry. From 1868 till the close of President Johnson's administration he was assistant attorney-general of the United States. From 1876 till his death he was judge of the Illinois supreme court. He died July 22, 1885, in Atlantic City, N. J.

DICKIE, SAMUEL, astronomer, lecturer, was born June 6, 1851, in Oxford county, Canada. For ten years he was professor of astronomy and physics in the Albion college, Mich. He is prominent in political affairs as a prohibitionist; and has lectured extensively on scientific subjects.

DICKINS, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 24, 1747, in London, England. He suggested the plan of Cokesbury college, New Abingdon, Md., the first methodist academic institution in this country. He issued the Arminian Magazine in Philadelphia in 1789-90, and the Methodist Magazine from 1797 till his death. He died Sept. 27, 1798, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DICKINSON, ALFRED ELIJAH, clergyman, was born Dec. 3, 1830, in Orange county, Va. He associated himself with the Rev. Dr. Jeter as joint owner and editor of the Religious Herald, of Richmond, Va., and since the death of Dr. Jeter has been editor-in-chief of that journal.

DICKINSON, ANDREW GLASSEL, soldier, was born April 15, 1835, in Bowling Green, Va. He served through the civil war as a confederate; and for gallant and meritorious services received the rank of colonel.

DICKINSON, ANNA ELIZABETH, suffragist, lecturer, author, was born Oct. 28, 1842, in Philadelphia, Pa. She is a famous lecturer, and the author of A Paying Investment, A Plea for Education; A Ragged Register of People, Places and Opinions; What Answer? a novel; and two plays, Mary Tudor; The Crown of Thorns.

DICKINSON, CHARLES MONROE, journalist, poet, was born in November, 1842, in Lowville, N. Y. He is the editor and proprietor of the Binghamton Republican, one of the most influential newspapers in the state of New York. He is the author of a volume of poems entitled The Children, and Other Verses.

DICKINSON, CORNELIUS EVARTS, clergyman, author, was born April 23, 1835, in Heath, Mass. He has filled pastorates in the congregational church at Oak Park and Elgin, Ill., and at Marietta, Ohio. He is the author of A Century of Church Work.

DICKINSON, DANIEL STEVENS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, author, was born Sept. 11, 1800, in Goshen, Conn. In 1836 he was elected to the state senate, serving from 1837 to 1840; was judge of the court of errors from 1836 to 1841; and from 1842 to 1844 was president of that court. He was lieutenant-governor and president of the senate. He was a senator in congress from New York from 1844 to 1851. He was a delegate to the Baltimore conventions of 1848 and 1852; and in 1861 was elected attorney-general of the state of New York. He was a delegate to the Baltimore convention of 1864; and in 1865 was appointed United States district attorney for the southern district of New York. His Speeches and Correspondence, with a biography of him by his brother, appeared in 1867. He died April 12, 1866, in New York city.

DICKINSON, DAVID W., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1833 to 1835; and again from 1843 to 1845. He died April 27, 1845, in Franklin, Tenn.

DICKINSON, DONALD McDONALD, cabinet officer, lawyer, politician, was born Jan. 17, 1847, in Port Ontario, N. Y. In 1888 he became postmaster-general of the United States.

DICKINSON, EDWARD, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 1, 1803, in Amherst, Mass. He was a member of the state legislature in 1838 and 1839; of the state senate in 1842 and 1843; of the governor's council in 1846 and 1847; and was a representative in congress from 1853 to 1855. He was again elected to the state legislature in 1873. He died June 16, 1874.

DICKINSON, EDWARD F., soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 21, 1829, in Fremont, Ohio. He served three years in the union army as a lieutenant and regimental quartermaster. He was elected judge of probate for Sandusky county in 1866; and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-first congress as a democrat.

DICKINSON, EMILY, poet, was born in 1830, in Massachusetts. She was a poet whose entire life was passed in Amherst, Mass., in great seclusion, and who rarely published any of her work. Since her death attention has been drawn to the strikingly original nature of her poetry by the publication of three volumes of poems, selected from her manuscripts. She died in 1886.

DICKINSON, HESTER A., journalist, poet, was born in Ohio. She is the author of two volumes of poems entitled Vesta; and Pagots. She is engaged in newspaper work, and president of the Pacific Coast Women's Press association.

DICKINSON, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, author, was born Nov. 13, 1732, in Maryland. In 1764 he was a member of the assembly, and in 1765 of the general congress. He was a delegate to the continental congress from 1774 to 1776. From 1776 to 1777 he was a delegate to congress from Delaware, and again from 1779 to 1780, and signed the articles of confederation as well as the constitution. In 1781 he was president of that state; and in 1782 was chosen president of Pennsylvania, and filled that office until 1785. He was a political writer of great influence during the period of the revolution. Dickinson college, which he helped to found, was named in his honor. He wrote vigorously against the stamp act, and his various state papers display both eloquence and dignity. His works are Petition to the King; Second Petition to the King; Letters from a Pennsylvania Farmer; Letters of Fabius. He died Feb. 14, 1808, in Wilmington.

DICKINSON, JOHN D., congressman, was born in 1767, in Middlesex county, Conn. He was a member of congress from New York from 1819 to 1823, and again from 1827 to 1831. He died Jan. 28, 1841, in Troy, N. Y.

DICKINSON, JONATHAN, jurist, author, was born in England. He was a chief justice of Pennsylvania, who came to the colony in 1696. His book, entitled God's Protecting Providence Man's Surest Help in Times of Danger, is a narrative of personal adventure, and has been several times reprinted since its first appearance in 1699. He died in 1722.

DICKINSON, JONATHAN, clergyman, college president, author, was born April 22, 1688, in Hatfield, Mass. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Elizabethtown, N. J., who was one of the chief American theologians of his day, and the first president of the college of New Jersey, now Princeton college. He was the author of Familiar Letters Upon Important Subjects in Religion; Reasonableness of Christianity; and True Scripture Doctrine. He died Oct. 17, 1747, in Elizabethtown, N. J.

DICKINSON, JULIAN G., soldier, lawyer, was born Nov. 20, 1843, in Erie county, N. Y. He received his education in the union schools of Jonesville and Jackson, Mich.; and in 1856 graduated from the university of Michigan. He served as a union soldier during the civil war; served three years in the army of the Cumberland; was promoted to adjutant of the fourth regiment Michigan cavalry, and brevetted captain United States volunteers for meritorious service in the capture of Jefferson Davis, May 10, 1865. Since 1867 he has practiced law in Detroit, Mich., and has attained eminent success in his profession.

DICKINSON, MARQUIS FAYETTE, educator, business man, lawyer, was born Jan. 16, 1840, in Amherst, Mass. He is descended from Nathaniel Dickinson, one of the Winthrop colony of 1630, who settled Weathersfield, Conn., and in 1658 was one of the adventurers who founded the town of Hadley, Mass. The subject of this sketch received a thorough education, and graduated from the Williston seminary in 1858; from Amherst college in 1862; and studied law at the Harvard law school. He was a teacher of classics in the Williston seminary during 1862-65; was a trustee of that institution; and was a member of the board of overseers of charity fund of Amherst college. He has been president of the Nashawannuck Manufacturing company, and a director of the Williston mills, both of Easthampton, Mass.; and president of the Whitcomb Envelope company. He is now a noted lawyer of Boston, Mass; was president of the Boston common council in 1872; and has filled numerous public positions of honor in his native state. He is the author of Legislation on the Hours of Labor; and Amherst Centennial Address.

DICKINSON, PHILEMON, soldier, congressman, United States senator, was born April 5, 1739, in Dover, Del. He commanded the Jersey militia at the battle of Monmouth; and was a delegate from Delaware to the continental congress from 1782 to 1783. After the organization of the national government in its present form, he was appointed a senator in congress from 1790 to 1793. He died Feb. 4, 1809, in Trenton, N. J.

DICKINSON, RICHARD WILLIAM, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 21, 1804, in New York city. He was a presbyterian clergyman of New York city, and the author of Scenes from Sacred History; Responses from the Sacred Oracles; Religious Teaching by Example; Life and Times of John Howard; and The Resurrection of Christ Historically and Logically Viewed. He died Aug. 16, 1874, in Fordham, N. Y.

DICKINSON, RODOLPHUS, clergyman, author, was born in 1787, in Deerfield, Mass. He was an episcopal clergyman in Deerfield, Mass., who published a much criticised New and Corrected Version of the New Testament; and Geographical and Statistical View of Massachusetts. He died in 1863, in Deerfield, Mass.

DICKINSON, RUDOLPHUS, congressman, was born in Massachusetts. Having removed to Ohio, he was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849. He died in August, 1849.

DICKSON, ANDREW FLINN, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 9, 1825, in Charleston, S. C. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Alabama, and the author of Plantation Sermons; The Temptation in the Desert; and The Light, is It Waning? He died in 1879, in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

DICKSON, CYRUS, clergyman, was born Dec. 20, 1816, in Erie county, Pa. He was chosen permanent clerk of the general assembly, and soon afterward secretary of the board of home missions, also representing the board at the pan-presbyterian council in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1877. He died Sept. 11, 1881, in Baltimore, Md.

DICKSON, DAVID, congressman. He was a member of congress from Mississippi in 1835 and 1836. He died July 31, 1836, in Little Rock, Ark.

DICKSON, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, author, was born in 1783, in Keene, N. H. He was a New York congressman, early prominent in opposition to slavery, and served in congress during 1831-35. He is the author of Remarks on the Presentation of Petitions for the Abolition of Slavery in the District of Columbia. He died Feb. 22, 1852, in West Bloomfield, N. Y.

DICKSON, JOHN J., soldier, farmer, poet, was born Sept. 8, 1826, in Scott county, Ind. During the civil war he was with Sherman's army on its famous march to the sea. He is a successful farmer of West Grove, Iowa; has gained a reputation as a poet; and some of his productions appear in Poets of America and other standard works.

DICKSON, SAMUEL, physician, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York during the thirty-fourth congress.

DICKSON, SAMUEL HENRY, educator, physician, author, was born Sept. 20, 1798, in Charleston, S. C. He was a physician of eminence in Charleston, and afterwards in Philadelphia, where, from 1858 to 1872 he was a professor in the Jefferson Medical college. He was the author of Essays on Life, Sleep, Pain and Death; On the Correlation of Forces; Æsthetics of Suicide; Elements of Medicine; Dengue, its History, Pathology, and Treatment; Manual of Pathology; Practice of Medicine; Essays on Pathology and Therapeutics; and Studies in Pathology and Therapeutics. He died March 31, 1872, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DICKSON, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1801 to 1807.

DIDIER, EUGENE LEMOINE, journalist, author, was born Dec. 22, 1838, in Baltimore, Md. He is the author of Life of Poe; Life and Letters of Madame Bonaparte; Primer of Criticism; and The Political Adventures of James G. Blaine.

DIDIER, FRANKLIN JAMES, physician, author, was born in 1794, in Baltimore, Md. He was a Baltimore physician who was the author of Didier's Letters from Paris; and Franklin's Letters to His Kinsfolk. He died in 1840, in Baltimore, Md.

DIEKEMA, GERRIT J., lawyer, state legislator, was born March 27, 1859, in Holland, Mich. He is a successful lawyer of Holland; served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature during 1885-92; and was speaker of the house in 1889.

DIELMAN, FREDERICK, artist, was born Dec. 25, 1847, in Germany. He served as a topographer and draughtsman of United States engineers in Fort Monroe and Baltimore, and in the survey of canal routes over the Alleghanies of Virginia.

DIELTERICH, LOUIS PHILIP, artist, was born April 8, 1842, in Germany. He studied in the best schools of Baltimore, Md., and has attained prominence as a portrait painter.

DIETZ, ELLA, poet. She is the author of a volume of poems entitled The Triumph of Time.

DILL, JAMES HERON HORTON, clergyman, was born Jan. 1, 1821, in Plymouth, Mass. He filled a pastorate in Spencerport, N. Y., for eight years, then moved to Chicago, where he became pastor of the South Congregational church. He died Jan. 14, 1863.

DILLARD, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 23, 1846, in Amherst county, Va. He received his education at the Virginia Military institute and at the university of Virginia. He has attained prominence as an able lawyer of his native state; and since 1880 has served with distinction as judge of Amherst county court, Va.

DILLAYE, STEPHEN DEVALSON, author, was born in 1820, in New York. He was the author of The Money and Finances of the French Revolution in 1789. He died in 1884.

DILLER, JOSEPH SILAS, educator, geologist, author, was born Aug. 27, 1850, in Plainfield, Pa. In 1883 he became assistant geologist on the United States geological survey, and in that capacity has traveled extensively throughout the United States. He is the author of Notes on the Geology of the Troad; Diamonds in the United States; and Notes on the Geology of Northern California.

DILLINGHAM, FRED AUGUSTINE, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 27, 1851, in Auburn, Maine. He is a distinguished clergyman of New England; fills a pastorate in Bridgeport, Conn.; and is the author of a work entitled Life of Jesus.

DILLINGHAM, PAUL, lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, governor, was born in August, 1800, in Shutesbury, Mass. He was justice of the peace eighteen years; was state's attorney for Washington county from 1835 to 1838; and was a member of the constitutional convention in 1836 and 1837. He was a representative to the general assembly six years; state senator in 1841 and 1842; and was elected a representative in congress from 1843 to 1847; and was elected governor of Vermont for the year 1866.

DILLMAN, FREDERICK, artist, was born Dec. 25, 1847, in Germany. He studied art in the Royal academy of Munich, and was secretary of the international board of jury for fine arts at the World's Columbian exposition.

DILLON, JOHN FORREST, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Dec. 25, 1831, in Washington county, N. Y. He went to Iowa, and was elected prosecuting attorney; in 1858 judge of the seventh judicial district of Iowa; and re-elected in 1862 for a second term. In 1869 he was commissioned United States circuit judge for the eighth judicial circuit. Since 1879 he has resided in New York city. He is the author of United States Circuit Court Reports; Municipal Corporations; Removal of Causes from State to Federal Courts; Municipal Bonds; and Laws and Jurisprudence of England and America.

DILLON, ROBERT MATHEW, clergyman, theologian, was born Oct. 29, 1859, in Madison, Ind. He attended Oberlin college in 1883-84; Hanover college in 1884-89; and McCormick Theological seminary of Chicago in 1889-92. He then entered the presbyterian ministry, and has filled pastorates in Greencastle, Ind., and Bowling Green, Ohio. He has contributed extensively to religious literature.

DILLON, SIDNEY, railroad president, was born May 7, 1812, in Northampton, N. Y. He was twice president, at intervals, of the Union Pacific railroad, and other railroad systems. He died June 9, 1892, in New York city.

DILLWYN, GEORGE, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 26, 1733, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was the author of Dillwyn's Reflections. He died June 23, 1821.

DIMAN, BYRON, manufacturer, state senator, governor, was born in 1795, in Bristol, R. I. He was for many years either a state senator or a member of the lower house, and was lieutenant-governor of the state for three years. In 1846 he was elected governor. He died Aug. 1, 1865, in Bristol, R. I.

DIMAN, JEREMIAH LEWIS, educator, clergyman, author, was born May 1, 1831, in Bristol, R. I. He was a congregational clergyman, who was professor of history and political economy in Brown university from 1864. He is the author of Orations and Essays; The Theistic Argument as Affected by Recent Theories. He died Feb. 3, 1881, in Providence, R. I.

DIMICK, JUSTIN, soldier, was born Aug. 5, 1800, in Hartford county, Conn. He served with distinction during the civil war; and in 1865 received the brevet of brigadier-general in the United States army. From 1864 until his death he was governor of the Soldiers' home, near Washington, D. C. He died in October, 1871.

DIMITRY, ALEXANDER, educator, was born Feb. 7, 1805, in New Orleans, La. In 1842 he organized the free school system in Louisiana, and for three years was state superintendent of public instruction. Under the confederate government he was chief of the finance bureau in the postoffice department. He was afterward prominently identified with educational work, and in 1870 was elected professor of ancient languages in the Christian Brothers college of Mississippi. He died Jan. 30, 1883.

DIMITRY, CHARLES PATTON, soldier, journalist, author, was born July 31, 1837, in Washington, D. C. During the civil war he served in the confederate army as a private in the Louisiana Guards. Since the war he has been connected with the press of Baltimore, Washington, Richmond and New Orleans. He is the author of Guilty or Not Guilty; Angela's Christmas; The Alderly Tragedy; and The House in Balfour Street.

DIMITRY, JOHN BULL SMITH, journalist, author, was born Dec. 27, 1835, in Washington, D. C. He served as a confederate soldier during the civil war. For seven years he was the dramatic and literary critic of the New Orleans Times; and during 1881-89 was editorially connected with the New York Mail and Express. He is the author of History and Geography of Louisiana from Its Earliest Settlement to the Close of the Civil War.

DIMM, JONATHAN ROSE, educator, clergyman, college president, was born Aug. 28, 1830, in Hughesville, Pa. He was principal of the Missionary institute of Selins Grove, Pa., for twelve years, up to 1894, when he became president of that institution, which developed into the Susquehanna university.

DIMMICK, FRANCIS MARION, clergyman, was born Jan. 23, 1827, in Uniondale, Pa. For a while he taught school; and graduated in 1860 from the Lane Theological seminary of Cincinnati, Ohio. He then went to Omaha, Neb., where he organized the First Presbyterian church, of which he was pastor for twelve years. In 1872 he moved to Santa Rosa, Cal., and in 1884 to Los Angeles, where he established the Grand View Presbyterian church, of which he is still pastor.

DIMMICK, MILO M., congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1849 to 1853. He died Nov. 21, 1872, in Mauch Chunk, Pa.

DIMMICK, WILLIAM H., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 20, 1815, in Milford, Pa. He was prosecuting attorney for the commonwealth of Pennsylvania for Wayne county in 1836 and 1837; and was a member of the state senate in 1845, 1846 and 1847. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania in the thirty-fifth and thirty-sixth congresses. He died Aug. 2, 1861, in Honesdale, Pa.

DIMMOCK, GEORGE, zoologist, author, was born May 17, 1852, in Springfield, Mass. He received his education at Harvard college and the universities of Paris and Leipzig. He has written considerably on biological subjects, especially on insects. For a number of years he was editor of Psyche, a journal of entomology. He is the author of Anatomy of Mouth Parts of Some Insects of the Order of Diptera. He is also the author of a genealogical work on the Dimmock family.

DIMOCK, DAVIS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1841 to 1842. He died Jan. 1, 1842.

DIMON, NATHAN H., soldier, educator, clergyman, poet, was born Nov. 18, 1846, in Bridge Hampton, N. Y. In 1861 he enlisted and served for three years as a private in company G, eighty-first regiment New York infantry, and was wounded at the battle of Cold Harbor, Va. For many years he was engaged in educational work, and since 1873 has been a baptist clergyman.

DIMOND, FRANCIS M., governor. He was governor of Rhode Island for one year, beginning in 1853.

DINGEE, WILLIAM JACKSON, capitalist, philanthropist, was born July 22, 1853, near Philadelphia, Pa. He was organizer of the Piedmont Water company in 1891, and was its president until 1894.

DINGLEY, E. N., journalist, politician, was born Aug. 21, 1862, in Auburn, Maine. Since 1888 he has been the editor and part owner of the Daily Telegraph of Kalamazoo, Mich. In 1897 he was elected president of the Michigan republican league, and takes an active part in political affairs.

DINGLEY, NELSON, lawyer, journalist, congressman, governor, was born Feb. 15, 1832, in Durham, Maine. In 1856 he became the proprietor and editor of the Lewiston Journal. Between the years 1862 and 1873 he was six times elected to the state legislature, serving as speaker in 1863 and 1864. In 1873 and also in 1874 he was elected governor of Maine. He was a delegate to the republican national convention of 1876; and was elected a representative from Maine to the forty-seventh congress, to fill a vacancy; and was re-elected to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third, fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

DINNIES, MRS. ANNA PEYRE SHACKELFORD, poet, was born in 1816 in Georgetown, S. C. She was a poet of New Orleans who published The Floral Year, a collection of one hundred poems. She died Aug. 8, 1886, in New Orleans, La.

DINSMOOR, ROBERT, poet, author, was born Oct. 7, 1757, in Windham, N. H. He was known as The Rustic Bard, and published Incidental Poems, strongly imitative of Burns. He died in 1836.

DINSMOOR, SAMUEL, soldier, jurist, congressman, governor, author, was born July 1, 1766, in Londonderry, N. H. He was for many years a major-general of militia; a presidential elector in 1821; and a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1811 to 1813. He was a judge of probate; and served as governor of his native state during the years 1831-1833. He died March 15, 1835, at Keene, N. H.

DINSMOOR, SAMUEL, lawyer, governor, was born May 8, 1799, in Keene, N. H. He was governor of New Hampshire from 1849 to 1853. He died Feb. 24, 1869, in Keene, N. H.

DINSMORE, MRS. B. A., educator, poet, was born in 1836 in Guilford, Maine. She is a teacher of vocal music in Foxcroft, Maine; and has written a number of meritorious poems.

DINSMORE, HUGH ANDERSON, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 24, 1850, in Benton county, Ark. In 1878 he was elected prosecuting attorney of the fourth judicial district of Arkansas; was re-elected in 1880, and again without opposition in 1882. In 1887 he was appointed minister resident and consul-general of the United States in the kingdom of Korea and served in that capacity until 1890. He was elected to the fifty-third, fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

DINSMORE, WILLIAM B., president of the Adams Express company, was born in 1810, in Boston, Mass. He made the acquaintance of Alvin Adams, who sent him to New York to take charge of the Adams express business there. He afterward took John Hoey into his employment, and from that time these two men toiled untiringly to build up the Adams Express company. In a few years they had extended the route of the company to all parts of the country. He died April 20, 1888, in New York city.

DIRCK, CORNELIUS LANSING, clergyman, author, was born March 3, 1785, in Lansingburg, N. Y. He was a presbyterian clergyman for many years connected with Auburn Theological seminary, who published Sermons on Important Subjects. He died March 19, 1857.

DISHAROON, JOHN H., educator, was born Aug. 17, 1873, in Marble Hill, Ga. He has attained success as an educator, and is now engaged in that profession at Huntsville, Tex.

DISNEY, DAVID T., state legislator, congressman, was born in 1803, in Baltimore, Md. He moved to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1820; was frequently a member of the state legislature of Ohio, and three times elected speaker. He represented his adopted state in congress from 1849 to 1855. He died March 14, 1857, in Washington, D. C.

DISOSWAY, GABRIEL POILLON, antiquarian, author, was born Dec. 6, 1799, in New York city. He was an antiquary of New York city, and the author of The Children's Book of Sermons; and The Earliest Churches of New York and its Vicinity. He died July 9, 1868, in Staten Island, N. Y.

DISSTON, HENRY, manufacturer, inventor, was born May 21, 1819, in England. He invented more than twenty improvements in saw manufacture, among them the movable or inserted teeth. He was the inventor and manufacturer of the Disston saw. He died March 16, 1878, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DISTURNELL, JOHN, journalist, author, was born Oct. 6, 1801, in New York city. He was a map publisher of New York city who was an industrious compiler of guide books and similar literature. He is the author of New York as it Was and Is, 1876; Influence of Climate in North and South America; The Great Lakes of America; and Traveller's Guide to Hudson River; Tourist's Guide to the Upper Mississippi; and other works. He died Oct. 1, 1877, in New York city.

DITSON, CHARLES HEALY, publisher, was born Aug. 11, 1845. He is treasurer of the now incorporated firm of The Oliver Ditson company of Boston, which owns the branch house in Philadelphia, and is part owner of Lyon and Healy of Chicago.

DITSON, GEORGE LEIGHTON, journalist, author, was born Aug. 5, 1812, in Westford, Mass. He is a noted traveler who published Circassia, or a Tour to the Caucasus; Crimora; The Para Papers, or France, Egypt, and Ethiopia; The Crescent and the French Crusaders; and The Fedariti of Italy, a Romance of Circassian Captivity.

DITSON, OLIVER, music publisher, was born Oct. 20, 1811, in Boston, Mass. He established the publishing firm of Oliver Ditson and Co., which has become known throughout the United States. For twenty-five years he was president of the Continental bank of his city. He died Dec. 21, 1888, in Boston, Mass.

DITTENHOEFER, ABRAM J., lawyer, jurist, was born in 1836, in Charleston, S. C. In 1862 he was appointed judge of the city court of Columbia, and in 1864 was judge of the district court of South Carolina.

DIVEN, ALEXANDER S., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Feb. 15, 1809, in Catharine, N. Y. He was a senator in the New York legislature in 1858; and was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-seventh congress.

DIVOL, IRA, educator, was born in October, 1820, in Topham, Vt. He was elected state superintendent of public schools in Missouri. He laid the foundation of the public school library, which afterward became the public library in St. Louis. He died June 22, 1871, in Baraboo, Wis.

DIX, AUGUSTUS J., educator, was born April 13, 1831, in Albany, N. Y. He moved to Elizabeth, N. J., and was one of the incorporators, and for three years president of the city hospital. Since 1880 he has been superintendent of public instruction of the city of Elizabeth.

DIX, CHARLES TEMPLE, artist, was born Feb. 25, 1838, in Albany, N. Y. His Sunset in Capri is a spirited study of sea and shore. He died March 11, 1873, in Rome, Italy.

DIX, DOROTHEA LYNDE, philanthropist, author, was born about 1794 in Worcester, Mass. She was a famous Massachusetts philanthropist the greater part of whose life was spent in efforts to improve the condition of the insane. Her writings, except Prisons and Prison Discipline, are intended for children, and include The Garland of Flora; Conversations about Common Things; Alice and Ruth; and Evening Hours. She died July 19, 1887, in Trenton, N. J.

DIX, JOHN ADAMS, statesman, was born July 24, 1798, in Boscawen, N. H. He was a general and statesman who, while secretary of the treasury in 1861, issued the celebrated order, "If any one attempts to haul down the American flag, shoot him on the spot." He was a United States senator, and governor of New York during 1873-75. He was the author of A Winter in Madeira, and A Summer in Spain and Florence; Speeches and Occasional Addresses; and Resources of the State of New York. He died April 21, 1879.

DIX, JOHN HOMER, oculist, aurist, author, was born about 1810. He was an oculist and aurist of Boston who published Changes of the Blood, a translation from the French of Gibert; Treatise on Strabismus; Morbid Sensibility of the Retina; and The Ophthalmoscope and its Uses. He died in 1884.

DIX, MORGAN, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 1, 1827, in New York city. He is a prominent episcopal clergyman of New York city conspicuous among High church theologians, and rector of Trinity church since 1859. He is the author of Sermons, Doctrinal and Practical; Lectures on the Calling of a Christian Woman; Memoir of J. A. Dix, his father; Gospel and Philosophy; The Sacramental System; The Seven Deadly Sins; Lectures on the First Prayer Book of King Edward VI.; and The Two Estates—Wedded in the Lord, Single for the Kingdom of Heaven's Sake.

DIXEY, HENRY E., actor, was born Jan. 6, 1839, in Boston, Mass. In 1875 he played the Heifer in Evangeline at the Globe theatre. Other roles in which he has been seen are: Dr. Syntax in Cinderella at School, Lorenzo in The Mascot, Sir Mincing Lane in Billee Taylor, Bunthorne in Patience, Sir Joseph Porter in Pinaflore, Peter Papyms in The New Evangeline, and Boss Knivett in The Romany Rye.

DIXON, ARCHIBALD, lawyer, state legislator, United States senator, was born April 2, 1802, in Caswell county, N. C. In 1830 he was a representative in the legislature, and in 1836 in the state senate. He was again in the lower house in 1841; and in 1843 was elected lieutenant-governor of Kentucky. He was a member of the United States senate from 1852 to 1855, having been elected to fill a vacancy. He died April 23, 1876, in Henderson, Ky.

DIXON, GEORGE WASHINGTON, comic singer, was born about 1808. He first appeared in 1827 as a comedian in small parts at the amphitheatre in Albany, N. Y. Thence he went to New York, Philadelphia and other large cities, singing his famous songs, The Coal-Black Rose and Zip Coon, to admiring throngs. He died in March, 1861, in New Orleans, La.

DIXON, JAMES, lawyer, legislator, United States senator, was born Aug. 5, 1814, in Enfield, Conn. He was a member of the house in the legislature of Connecticut in 1837, 1838, and 1844; and of the state senate in 1849 and 1854. He was a representative in congress from Connecticut from 1845 to 1849; and was elected a senator in congress for six years from 1857. He was re-elected in 1863 for the term ending in 1869. He died March 27, 1873, in Hartford, Conn.

DIXON, JAMES MAIN, educator, author, was born in 1856 in Scotland. He has been a professor of English literature in Washington university, St. Louis, since 1892, and the author of A Dictionary of Idiomatic English Phrases.

DIXON, JAMES PAYSON, educator, college president, was born in September, 1842, in West Lebanon, Maine. He is a successful educator, and the president of Colby academy of New London, N. H.

DIXON, JOSEPH, inventor, was born Jan. 18, 1799, in Marblehead, Mass. He was entirely self-educated, and early showed unusual mechanical ingenuity, inventing a machine for cutting files before he was twenty-one. He died June 17, 1869, in Jersey City, N. J.

DIXON, JOSEPH, merchant, jurist, congressman, was born April 29, 1828, in Greene county, N. C. He has been a magistrate and judge of the county court; and was a member of the state legislature in 1868 and 1869. He was elected to the forty-first congress to fill a vacancy.

DIXON, JOSEPH HENRY, congressman. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1799 to 1801.

DIXON, LUTHER C., jurist. He was an early emigrant to the territory of Wisconsin; and was appointed a justice of the United States court for the territory of Wisconsin.

DIXON, NATHAN FELLOWS, lawyer, United States senator, was born in 1774, in Plainfield, Conn. In 1813 he was elected a member of the general assembly of that state, and continued to serve in that capacity for seventeen years; and from 1839 to 1842 was a senator of the United States. He died Jan. 29, 1842, in Washington, D. C.

DIXON, NATHAN FELLOWS, lawyer, congressman, was born May 1, 1812, in Westerly, R. I. He was elected a representative from Rhode Island to the thirty-first congress. He was again elected to the general assembly of his state in 1851, and with the exception of two years held the office until 1859. In 1863 he was elected to the thirty-eighth congress; and was re-elected to the thirty-ninth, fortieth and forty-first congresses.

DIXON, NATHAN FELLOWS, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Aug. 28, 1847, in Westerly, R. I. In 1877 he was appointed United States district attorney for the district of Rhode Island; and was reappointed in 1881. In 1885 he was elected a representative from Rhode Island to the forty-eighth congress, to fill a vacancy; and was elected in 1889 to the United States senate.

DIXON, SAM H., author. He published a collection of poems with biographies, entitled Poets and Poetry of Texas.

DIXON, WILLIAM WIRT, lawyer, congressman, was born June 3, 1838, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was a member of the legislative assembly of Montana territory in 1871-72; was a member of the constitutional conventions of Montana of 1884-89; and has held no other office. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

DOAK, ARCHIBALD A., college president, was born July 13, 1815, in Washington county, Tenn. During 1840-50, and 1853-56 he was president of Washington college, Tennessee. He died May 26, 1866, in Clarksville, Tenn.

DOAK, JOHN WHITEFIELD, college president, was born Oct. 17, 1778, in Rockbridge county, Va. In 1818 he was elected president of Washington college, Tennessee, serving until 1820. He died Oct. 6, 1820, in Green Springs, Va.

DOAK, SAMUEL, was president of Tusculum college, Tennessee, in 1857.

DOAK, SAMUEL WITHERSPOON, college president, was born March 24, 1785, in Safem, Tenn. In 1838 he was elected president of Washington college, Tennessee, serving until 1840. He died Feb. 3, 1864, in Nashville, Tenn.

DOAN, ROBERT E., journalist, lawyer, congressman, was born in Clinton county, Ohio. He was editor of the Wilmington Watchman in 1859 and 1860; and was appointed prosecuting attorney for Clinton county in 1862. He was elected a Garfield presidential elector for the third congressional district in 1880; and was elected to the fifty-second congress as a republican DOANE, AUGUSTUS SIDNEY, physician, author, was born April 2, 1808, in Boston, Mass. He was appointed chief physician of the marine hospital. He edited Good's Study of Medicine; translated Maygrier's Midwifery; Dupuytren's Surgery; Langol's Scrofulous Diseases; Vaylis's Descriptive Anatomy; Blandin's Topographical Anatomy; Ricord's Syphilis; Chaussier on The Arteries; and Scoutetten on Cholera. He died Jan. 27, 1852, on Staten Island, N. Y.

DOANE, GEORGE HOBART, prelate, author, was born Sept. 5, 1830, in Boston, Mass. He has been a prelate of the papal household at Rome since 1886, with the title of monsignore. He is the author of First Principles; Exclusion of Protestant Worship from Rome; and Manual of Instructions and Prayers.

DOANE, GEORGE WASHINGTON, bishop, author, poet, was born May 27, 1799, in Trenton, N. J. He was the second protestant episcopal bishop of New Jersey; and was consecrated bishop in 1832. He was the author of Songs by the Way; and Sermons on Various Occasions. The familiar hymn beginning Softly now the light of day is one of his most noted poems. He died April 27, 1859.

DOANE, WILLIAM, congressman, was born in Maine. Having removed to Ohio, he was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1843.

DOANE, WILLIAM CROSWELL, bishop, poet, author, was born March 2, 1832, in Boston, Mass. He is the first protestant episcopal bishop of Albany. He is the author of a number of poems, among which The Sculptor Boy is often quoted, and has published several works, including Sermons; Mosaics, or the Harmony of Collect Epistle and Gospel for the Sundays of the Christian Year. As a theologian his place is amongst liberal high churchmen.

DOANE, WILLIAM HOWARD, musical composer, was born Feb. 3, 1831, in Preston, Conn. His works include Sabbath-School Gems; Little Sunbeams; Silver Spray; and Songs of Devotion.

DOBBIN, JAMES, D. D., rector of Shattuck school of Faribault, Minn., was born June 29, 1833, in Salem, N. Y. He received his education at the Salem Washington academy, the Argyle academy; and in 1859 graduated from Union college with the degree of A. B. The same year he moved to Faribault as assistant in the mission school established by Dr. Breck the previous year.

Returning to New York in 1860 he had charge successively of the academies of Argyle and Greenwich until 1864. He then returned to Faribault for the purpose of studying for orders; resumed his old place as assistant to Dr. Breck, and in 1867 succeeded him as resident head of this combined institution; and a year later was ordained to the priesthood by Bishop Whipple. The upbuilding of Shattuck school has been his life work. He has administered its affairs almost from the beginning with such great foresight and executive ability that after thirty-one years of incessant labor on his part this great institution of learning has become one of the largest and most successful schools in America. In 1888 he received the degree of D. D. from Trinity college of Hartford.

DOBBIN, JAMES COCHRANE, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1814 in Fayetteville, N. C. He was elected a representative in congress from his native state in 1845, and declined a re-election. He served in the state legislature in 1848 and 1850, and during the last session officiated as speaker; and in 1852 was a presidential elector. He was secretary of the navy during the whole of President Pierce's administration. He died Aug. 4, 1857, in Fayetteville, N. C.

DOBBIN, JOSEPH L., soldier, lawyer, was born March 11, 1845, in Manchester, Ill. He served as a private during the civil war; is president of the Union Veteran league of Minnesota; and one of the foremost lawyers of the west at Minneapolis.

DOBBIN, ROBERT ARCHIBALD, lawyer, legislator, was born March 17, 1839, in Baltimore, Md. During 1880-82 he served as a member of the house of delegates of Maryland. Since 1893 he has been postmaster in the United States senate. During 1862-65 he was in the confederate service; and subsequently attained prominence as an able lawyer of Maryland.

DOBBINS, DANIEL, naval officer, was born July 5, 1776, in Mifflin, Pa. He was of great service in fitting out Perry's fleet on Lake Erie, and was with the expedition under Commodore Sinclair that attempted to recapture Mackinaw. He died Feb. 29, 1856, in Presque Isle.

DOBBINS, SAMUEL A., farmer, state legislator, congressman, was born April 14, 1814, in Burlington county, N. J. He was high sheriff of Burlington county from 1854 to 1857; was a member of the state legislature from 1859 to 1862; and was elected to the forty-third and the forty-fourth congresses as a republican.

DOBBS, ARTHUR, governor, author, was born in 1684 in Ireland. He was the author of An Account of the Countries Adjoining Hudson's Bay; Trade and Improvement of Ireland; and Captain Middleton's Defense. In 1744 he emigrated to North Carolina; and was chosen governor in 1754, serving until his death. He died March 28, 1765, in Town Creek, N. C.

DOCKERY, ALEXANDER MONROE, physician, congressman, was born Feb. 11, 1845, in Daviess county, Mo. In 1874 he moved to Gallatin, Mo., and assisted in organizing the Farmers' Exchange bank, of which organization he was cashier until elected to congress. He was one of the curators of the university of Missouri from 1872 to 1882, and in 1870, 1871 and 1872 president of the board of education of Chillicothe, Mo. He was a member of the city council of Gallatin for the five years previous to April, 1883, serving the last two years as mayor. He was elected to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third, fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

DOCKERY, ALFRED, congressman, was born in North Carolina. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1847, and again from 1851 to 1853; and was a delegate to the Chicago convention of 1868.

DOCKERY, OLIVER H., farmer, congressman, was born Aug. 12, 1830, in Richmond county, N. C. He was elected to the state legislature in 1858 and 1859; was a presidential elector in 1860; and in 1868 was elected a representative from North Carolina to the fortieth congress. He was re-elected to the forty-first congress.

DOD, ALBERT BALDWIN, clergyman, author, was born March 24, 1805, in Mendham, N. J. He was a presbyterian clergyman and professor of mathematics at Princeton college in 1830-45. Theological Essays was his only published work. He died Nov. 20, 1845, in Princeton, N. J.

DOD, DANIEL, mechanic, was born Sept. 28, 1788, in Virginia. He removed, in 1821, to New York city, where he was reputed the most successful engine builder in the United States. He died May 9, 1823, in New York city.

DODD, AMZI, lawyer, jurist, was born March 2, 1823, in Bloomfield, N. J. He served one term from Bloomfield, N. J., in the assembly of the state legislature; in 1871 he filled the office of vice chancellor; in 1878 was judge of the court of errors and appeals; and in 1882 became president of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of Bloomfield, N. J.

DODD, MRS. ANNA BOWMAN, author, was born in 1855 in Long Island. She is a New York writer whose volumes of travels have been very popular. She is the author of The Republic of the Future, or Socialism a Reality; Cathedral Days; Glorinda: a Story; Three Normandy Inns; and in the Norfolk Broads.

DODD, EDWARD, merchant, congressman, was born in 1805 in Salem, N. Y. He was a member of the constitutional convention of New York in 1846; and was a representative in congress from that state in 1855.

DODD, JAMES B., mathematician, was born in 1807 in Virginia. He was chosen professor of mathematics, natural philosophy and astronomy in Centenary college, Mississippi, in 1841; and in Transylvania university in 1846, of which institution he was acting president from 1849 till 1855. He died March 27, 1872, in Greensburg, Ky.

DODD, MARY ANN HANMER, poet, was born March 5, 1813, in Hartford, Conn. Among her best poems were The Lament; The Dreamer; The Mourner; and To a Cricket. A volume of her poems was published in Boston in 1843.

DODD, STEPHEN, clergyman, author, was born March 8, 1777, in Bloomfield, N. J. He was a founder and trustee of the Connecticut theological institution at East Windsor, and gave it his valuable library. He published a History of East Haven (1824); Family Record of Daniel Dodd; and Revolutionary Memorials. He died Feb. 5, 1856, in Morristown, N. J.

DODDRIDGE, JOSEPH, clergyman, author, was born in 1769 in Pennsylvania. He was an episcopal clergyman of western Virginia, and the author of Logan, a drama; and Notes on the Settlement and Indian Wars of the Western Country, 1763-83. He died in November, 1826, in Wellsburg, Va.

DODDRIDGE, PHILIP, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1772, in Brooke county, Va. He was a delegate from Brooke county to the legislature of Virginia in 1815, and was a member for some years. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1829 to 1832. He died Nov. 19, 1832, in Washington, D. C.

DODDRIDGE, WILLIAM BROWN, railroad manager, was born Oct. 19, 1848, in Circleville, Ohio. In 1884 he was engaged in the Anaconda Copper Smelting company, as business manager. In 1886 he became superintendent of the Central branch Union Pacific railroad of Atchison, Kan.; and in 1889 was appointed general manager of the St. Louis, Arkansas and Texas railroad.

DODDS, OZRO J., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 22, 1840, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was promoted lieutenant-colonel of the first Alabama cavalry. After the war he studied law and was admitted to practice. He was elected to the legislature of Ohio in 1869; and was elected to the forty-second congress.

DODDS, SUSANNA W., physician, author. She is the author of a work entitled Health in the Household, which has become very popular. She has attained prominence as an eminent hygienic physician of St. Louis, Mo.

DODGE, AUGUSTUS CAESAR, was born Jan. 2, 1812, in Ste. Genevieve, Mo. He was a delegate to congress from the territory of Iowa from 1841 to 1847; a presidential elector for the state of Iowa in 1848; and a senator in congress from the state of Iowa from 1848 to 1855. He was a delegate to the Chicago convention of 1864, and also to the Philadelphia national union convention of 1866, as well as the New York convention of 1868; and from 1838 to 1841 he held the office of register of the land office at Burlington, Iowa. He died Nov. 20, 1883, in Burlington, Iowa.

DODGE, DAVID LOW, merchant, author, was born June 14, 1774, in Brooklyn, Conn. He was a New York merchant who was the first president of the New York Peace society, and was the author of The Mediator's Kingdom not of this World; and War Inconsistent with the Religion of Jesus Christ. He died April 23, 1852, in New York city.

DODGE, EBENEZER, educator, author, was born April 22, 1819, in Salem, Mass. He was a baptist clergyman, president of Madison (now Colgate) university, 1868-90, and the author of Evidences of Christianity; and Christian Theology. He died Jan. 4, 1890, in Hamilton, N. Y.

DODGE, GEORGE DUDLEY, manufacturer, poet, was born May 4, 1836, in Hampton Falls, N. H. He is a successful cotton manufacturer and merchant; and in 1880 was the nominee of the prohibition party for governor of Georgia. He was afterward chairman of the state executive committee, and a delegate to the national convention of that party in 1881.

DODGE, GRENVILLE, MELLEN, soldier, railroad president, civil engineer, congressman, was born April 12, 1831, in Danvers, Mass. In 1862 he was appointed brigadier-general for services at Pea Ridge; was promoted to be a major-general on the recommendations of Generals Grant, Sherman, and McPherson. He was subsequently in command of the departments of Wisconsin, Kansas and the Plains. Soon after resigning his commission in the army he was elected a representative from Iowa to the fortieth congress. He is president of the Fort Worth and Denver City railway.

DODGE, HENRY, soldier, statesman, was born Oct. 12, 1782, in Vincennes, Ind. He was brigadier-general of Missouri troops in 1812; and distinguished himself especially in the Black Hawk war. He was appointed governor of Wisconsin territory, and superintendent of Indian affairs, serving as such from 1836 to 1841, and from 1845 to 1848. He was a delegate to congress from Wisconsin from 1841 to 1845; and a senator in congress from the state of Wisconsin from 1848 to 1857. He died June 19, 1867, in Burlington, Iowa.

DODGE, HORACE O., physician, surgeon, was born Dec. 13, 1840, in Milton, Ill. He is one of the foremost physicians of the west at Boulder, Colo.; was president of the Colorado State Medical association in 1886; and department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic in 1896-97.

DODGE, MARTIN, lawyer, state senator, was born in 1851 in Auburn, Ohio. He attended Hiram college for four years, and the Buchtel college for one year. He then entered the Ohio State and Union Law college, and was admitted to the bar in 1877. During 1879-82 he practiced law in Kansas, and since that time in Cleveland, Ohio. For six years he was engaged in real estate and building operations; and for three years was business manager of The Sun and Voice. In 1891 he was elected a member of the Ohio house of representatives from Cleveland; and in 1893 was appointed chairman of the Ohio road commission. He received the re-election to the seventy-first and seventy-second general assemblies; and in 1897 was elected a state senator. In 1898 he was a candidate for congress.

DODGE, MARY ABIGAIL—Gail Hamilton—essayist, magazinist, was born in 1838 in Hamilton, Mass. She was a noted essayist and magazinist of Hamilton, Mass. She is the author of A New Atmosphere; Gala Days; Woman's Wrongs; Red-Letter Days; Summer Rest; Battle of the Books; Twelve Miles from a Lemon; Sermons to the Clergy; First Love is Best; What Think ye of Christ?; Country Living and Country Thinking; Skirmishes and Sketches; Wool-Gathering; Woman's Worth and Worthlessness; Little Folk Life; Nursery Nothings; Our Common School System; Divine Guidance; The Insuppressible Book; A Washington Bible Class; and Biography of James G. Blaine. She died in 1896.

DODGE, MRS. MARY BARKER, author, poet, was born in Pennsylvania. She is the author of Belfry Voices; and The Gray Masque and Other Poems.

DODGE, MRS. MARY (MAPES), author, poet, was born in 1838 in New York city. She is a writer of New York city who has edited the Saint Nicholas Magazine since 1873. Her writings for young people include Hans Brinker; Donald and Dorothy; Rhymes and Jingles; Irington Stories; A Few Friends; The Land of Pluck; When Life is Young, poems for young people. She has also written Theophilus and Others; Along the Way; and a volume of Short Poems.

DODGE, NATHANIEL SHATSWELL, author, was born Jan. 10, 1810, in Haverhill, Mass. He was a Boston litterateur who was the author of Stories of a Grandfather about American History.

DODGE, NEHEMIAH, was born in Providence, R. I. He was the first manufacturing jeweler in America. Jabez Gorham and other noted jewelers and silversmiths served apprenticeship with him. His work was of the finest quality of gold and silver, and of choicest design. Mr. Dodge married Miss Crawford of Providence, a lady of the old school, who was descended from Gabriel Bernon. Mr. Dodge, through his success in the manufacture of jewelry, became one of the wealthiest citizens of Providence.

DODGE, OSSIAN EUCLID, vocalist, was born Oct. 22, 1820, in Cayuga, N. Y. He was the first to take a company overland from New York to San Francisco, and was the first manager that ever gave an entertainment in the Mormon tabernacle at Salt Lake City. He died Nov. 4, 1876, in London, England.

DODGE, RICHARD IRVING, soldier, author, was born May 19, 1827, in Huntsville, N. C. He is a colonel in the United States army who saw much service in Indian campaigns, and made careful study of the Indian character. He was the author of The Black Hills; The Plains of the Great West; Our Wild Indians; and A Living Issue. He died in 1875.

DODGE, THEODORE AYRAULT, soldier, author, was born May 28, 1842, in Pittsfield, Mass. He is a captain and brevet lieutenant-colonel in the United States army, and prominent as a military historian. He is the author of The Campaign of Chancellorsville; A Bird's-Eye View of our Civil War; Great Captains; Alexander, a History of the Origin and Growth of the Art of War from the Earliest Times to the Battle of Ispus, B. C. 301, with a detailed account of the Campaigns of the Great Macedonian; Hannibal; Cæsar; Gustavus Adolphus; Patroclus and Penelope, a Chat in the Saddle; and Riders of Many Lands.

DODGE, THOMAS H., lawyer, inventor, philanthropist, author, was born Sept. 27, 1823, in Eden, Vt. He published in 1850 a book entitled A Review of The Rise and Progress and Present Importance of the Cotton Manufactures of the United States. He made several valuable inventions, including a printing press. He became interested in the large manufacturing enterprises of Worcester, Mass.

DODGE, WALTER PHELPS, author, was born in 1869. He is a littérateur now living in London, and practicing at the English bar. He is the author of Three Greek Tales; As the Crow Flies from Corsica to Charing Cross; and A Strong Man Armed.

DODGE, WILLIAM EARLE, merchant, congressman, philanthropist, was born Sept. 4, 1805, in Hartford, Conn. He was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-ninth congress. He was also a delegate to the Philadelphia loyalists' convention of 1866. He died Feb. 9, 1883.

DODGE, WILLIAM WALLACE, banker, state senator, was born April 25, 1854, in Burlington, Iowa. In 1876 he graduated from the law department of the state university of Iowa, and was awarded the literary prize for the best written argument on a given thesis of law. He has since won distinction as a brilliant lawyer of his native city, where he is in partnership with his brother, under the firm name of Dodge and Dodge. During 1885-93 he served with distinction for eight years as a member of the state senate of the Iowa state legislature. He has taken an active part in the political affairs of his state, and has been a delegate to various local and state conventions. While a member of the state senate he was instrumental in passing a bill creating the first Monday in September as a legal holiday, to be known as Labor Day; and consequently he is known throughout the state of Iowa as the Father of Labor Day.

DODS, JOHN BOVEE, clergyman, author, was born in 1795 in New York city. He was a clergyman of New York city whose published works include Thirty Sermons; Philosophy of Mesmerism; Philosophy of Electrical Psychology; Immortality Triumphant; and Spirit Manifestations Examined and Explained. He died March 21, 1872, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

DODWORTH, THOMAS, musician, was born in 1790 in England. He came to the United States in 1826, and organized in New York the city band, which became by his efforts the national brass band, and was the first independent military band of music in the city. He died April 30, 1876, in Morrisania, N. Y.

DOE, CHARLES HENRY, journalist, author, was born Nov. 28, 1838, in Charlestown, Mass. He is a journalist of Worcester, Mass., and the author of Buffets, a novel.

DOE, NICHOLAS B., congressman, was born in New York. He was elected a representative from that state to the twenty-sixth congress to fill a vacancy.

DOGGETT, DAVID SETH, bishop, author, was born in 1810 in Virginia. He was a Methodist bishop who lived at Richmond, Va., and published The War and its Close. He died Oct. 27, 1880, in Richmond, Va.

DOGGETT, KATE, reformer, was born Nov. 5, 1828, in Castleton, Vt. She was elected a member of the academy of science in 1869, and given charge of its herbarium. She translated the Grammar of Painting and Engraving. She died March 12, 1884, in Cuba.

DOIG, ANDREW W., educator, surveyor, congressman, was born in Washington county, N. Y. In 1832 he was in the state assembly; and held the office of surrogate from 1835 to 1840. He was a representative in congress from 1839 to 1843.

DOLAN, THOMAS, manufacturer, was born Oct. 27, 1834, in Montgomery county, Pa. In 1866 he became a pioneer in the use of the finest worsted yarns in his fabrics, especially in Berlin shawls. The goods of the Keystone Knitting mills which he founded attained celebrity. He is president of The Quaker City Dye works; and The United Gas Improvement company.

DOLBEAR, AMOS EMERSON, physicist, author, was born Nov. 10, 1837, in Norwich, Conn. He has been a professor of physics and astronomy at Tufts college since 1874, and is the author of The Art of Projecting; The Speaking Telephone; and Sound and its Phenomena, Matter, Ether, and Motion.

DOLE, CHARLES FLETCHER, clergyman, author, was born in 1845 in Maine. He is a Unitarian clergyman of Boston, and the author of The Citizen and the Neighbour; Jesus and the Men about Him; A Catechism of Liberal Faith; and The American Citizen.

DOLE, EDMUND PEARSON, lawyer, author, was born in 1850 in Maine. He is assistant attorney-general of the Hawaiian Islands, and the author of Talks About Law.

DOLE, NATHAN HASKELL, author, poet, was born in 1852 in Massachusetts. He is a littérateur of Boston who, besides publishing translations from the Russian of Tolstoi and other writers, is the author of A Score of Famous Composers; The Hawthorn Tree and Other Poems; Not Angels Quite; History of the Turko-Russian War of 1877-1878; On the Point, a Summer Idyl; and Flowers from Foreign Gardens. One of his most important works is a variorum edition of the Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam.

DOLES, GEORGE PIERCE, soldier, was born May 14, 1830, in Milledgeville, Ga. His commission as brigadier-general bore date of Nov. 2, 1862. During the overland campaigns he commanded a division in General Ewell's corps, and was killed in the battle of Cold Harbor. He died June 2, 1864, in Cold Harbor, Va.

DOLGE, ALFRED, manufacturer, was born Dec. 22, 1848, in Germany. He is now the head of the great firm of Alfred Dolge and Son; a partner in C. F. Zimmerman and Co., manufacturers of autoharps; and Daniel Green and Co., second vice-president of The Little Falls and Dolgeville railroad, and in New York city, trustee of The German Savings bank. The village of Dolgeville, founded by him, has become the model industrial town of American origin, both in its social and economic aspects.

DOLLARD, ROBERT, soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born March 14, 1842, in Fall River, Mass. He entered the union army from Massachusetts with the fourth regiment of that state, which composed in part what is known as the minute men of that period who were the first to respond to the call for troops to save the union. He served with credit and distinction throughout the war, rising to the rank of major and the command of his regiment. He was a member of the constitutional conventions of South Dakota of 1883 and 1885; was district attorney; member of the legislature of Dakota territory in 1889; state senator in 1893; and a member of the state legislature in 1897.

DOLLIVER, JONATHAN P., lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 6, 1858, in Kingwood, Va. He was elected to the fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses, and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

DOLPH, JOHN HENRY, artist, was born April 18, 1835, in Fort Ann, N. Y. His works include Knickerbocker Farm-Yard (1869); The Season of Plenty; The Antiquarian; The Rehearsal (1878); Princess; and A June Day (1886).

DOLPH, JOSEPH NORTON, lawyer, legislator, was born Oct. 19, 1835, in Schuyler county, N. Y. He practiced his profession in Schuyler county during the winter of 1861-62, and in 1862 enlisted in Captain M. Crawford's company, known as the Oregon Escort, raised under an act of congress for the purpose of protecting the emigration of that year to the Pacific coast against hostile Indians, filling the position of orderly sergeant. He settled in Portland, Ore., in 1863; and in 1864 was elected city attorney of the city of Portland, and the same year was appointed by President Lincoln district attorney for the district of Oregon. He held both positions until he resigned them to take his seat in the state senate of Oregon. He was a member of the state senate in 1866-74. He was elected to the United States senate as a republican in 1883, and was re-elected in 1889.

DONAHOE, DANIEL J., lawyer, jurist, poet, was born Feb. 27, 1853, in Brimfield, Mass. He is a successful member of the Connecticut bar; and a well-known jurist of Meriden. In 1888 his first volume of poems was issued, entitled Idyls of Israel and Other Poems; and later appeared A Tent by the Lake and Other Poems.

DONAHOE, JOHN P., soldier, merchant, legislator, was born Aug. 12, 1841, in county Tyrone, Ireland. He received his education at St. Joseph parochial school of Brandywine Banks, Del. During 1861-65 he served as a soldier in the union army through the entire war. In 1891 he served with distinction as a member of the state senate of the Delaware legislature, and was elected speaker. In 1896-97 he was a member of the constitutional convention, and the same year was national commander of the Union Veteran legion. He is a successful merchant of Wilmington, Del., and is prominent in the public affairs of his city, county and state.

DONAHUE, PETER, capitalist, was born Jan. 11, 1822, in Scotland. In 1850 with his brother he organized the great establishment now known as the Union Iron works; and was one of the originators of the San Francisco and San Jose railroad. He died Nov. 26, 1885.

DONALD, ELIJAH WINCHESTER, clergyman, author, was born in 1843 in Massachusetts. He is an episcopal clergyman of Boston, rector of Trinity church from 1892, and the author of The Expansion of Religion.

DONALDSON, EDWARD, naval officer, was born Nov. 17, 1816, in Baltimore, Md. He served in the United States navy during the civil war; and in 1876 was commissioned rear admiral. He died May 15, 1889, in Baltimore, Md.

DONALDSON, FRANK, educator, physician, author, was born July 23, 1823, in Baltimore, Md. He was a Baltimore physician, professor of hygiene in the university of Maryland since 1866, and the author of Influence of City Life and Occupations in Consumption. He died in 1891.

DONALDSON, FRANK C., lawyer, was born Sept. 26, 1852, in Terre Haute, Ind. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools of his native city, and graduated from the state university of Bloomington, Ind. He has attained eminence as a successful lawyer of Terre Haute, Ind.; has been mayor of his city; and has held high Masonic positions.

DONALDSON, JAMES LOWRY, soldier, author, was born March 17, 1814, in Baltimore, Md. He was a colonel and brevet major-general in the United States army who published Sergeant Atkins, a tale of the Florida war. He died Nov. 4, 1885, in Baltimore, Md.

DONALDSON, WASHINGTON H., aeronaut, was born in 1840 in Philadelphia, Pa. From 1857 till 1871 he traveled through the United States, appearing not fewer than 1,300 times in his various specialties. He died July 15, 1875.

DONELSON, ANDREW JACKSON, diplomat, journalist, planter, lawyer, was born Aug. 25, 1800, near Nashville, Tenn. He was aid-de-camp to General Jackson in 1820 and 1821; and his private secretary from 1829 to 1837. He was charge d'affaires to Texas in 1844 and 1845; envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Prussia from 1846 to 1848; and to Germany in 1848 and 1849. He was editor of the Washington Union in 1851 and 1852; and candidate of the American party for vice-president in 1852. He died June 26, 1871, in Memphis, Tenn.

DONIPHAN, ALEXANDER WILLIAM, soldier, was born July 9, 1808, in Mason county, Ky. In 1838 he had risen in the state militia to the grade of brigadier-general. When war began with Mexico, in 1846, he entered the United States service. He died Aug. 8, 1887, in Richmond, Mo.

DONLEY, JOSEPH B., educator, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 10, 1838, in Mount Morris, Pa. He became professor in Abingdon college; and served in the Illinois army as captain of volunteers from 1862 to 1865. In 1867 he was appointed a register in bankruptcy in Pennsylvania, holding the office until elected a representative from that state to the forty-first congress as a republican.

DONNAN, WILLIAM G., soldier, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born June 30, 1834, in West Charlton, N. Y. He was elected treasurer and recorder of Buchanan county, Iowa, and held the office until 1862. He entered the union army as a private in 1862, and rose to the rank of brevet major for efficient services in the field, serving to the close of the rebellion. He was a member of the state senate in 1868 and 1870; and was elected to the forty-second congress, and re-elected to the forty-third congress as a republican.

DONNELL, EDWARD J., soldier, surgeon, legislator, poet, was born May 11, 1835, in Lyndeboro, N. Y. During the war he served as second lieutenant in company C, sixteenth New Hampshire infantry; and also as first assistant surgeon in the thirteenth Maryland infantry. He is now a prominent physician of Stockton, Kan.; and during 1884-88 served as a member of the state senate of Kansas.

DONNELL, RICHARD S., congressman, was born in North Carolina. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849; and in 1863 published a Letter on the Rebellion, which attracted great attention.

DONNELLY, ELEANOR CECILIA, author, poet, was born Sept. 6, 1838, in Philadelphia, Pa. She is a Philadelphia writer of religious poetry, the greater part of which is occupied with Roman catholic themes. Among her many volumes are Domus Dei; Out of Sweet Solitude; Hymns of the Sacred Heart; and Children of the Golden Sheaf and Other Poems. She is a constant contributor to the leading newspapers and magazines.

DONNELLY, IGNATIUS, lawyer, state legislator, congressman, lieutenant-governor, author, was born Nov. 3, 1831, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1857 he moved to Minnesota; was elected lieutenant-governor of that state in 1859; and re-elected in 1861. He was elected to the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses as a republican; was state senator during 1874-78; member of the national executive committee and an eloquent speaker. He is the author of An Essay on the Sonnets of Shakespeare; Atlantis: the Antediluvian World; Cesar's Column; Ragna- rok: the Age of Fire and Gravel; and The Great Cryptogram. In this work he claims to have discovered a cipher in the plays of Shakespeare which sufficiently establishes the fact that they were written by Lord Bacon.

DONOVAN, DENNIS D., educator, merchant, congressman, was born Jan. 31, 1859, near Texas, Ohio. He attended the Northern Indiana Normal school at Valparaiso, Ind.; taught school three years, and then engaged in mercantile and timber business. He was appointed postmaster at Deshler by President Cleveland, which position he resigned when elected to the legislature from Henry county in 1887; and was re-elected to the legislature in 1889. He was elected to the fifty-second and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

DONOVAN, JOHN, educator, contractor, legislator, was born May 26, 1843, in Canada. When two months old he moved with his parents to Youngstown, N. Y., where he received his education. He was principal of the schools of Youngstown for one year; moved to Michigan in 1865, and there taught school for twelve years. In 1873 he moved to Flint, Mich.; five years later to Bay City; and is a successful contractor and builder. He served with distinction in the Michigan state legislature in 1895-96, and received the re-election to the legislature of 1897-98, serving on several important committees.

DONOVAN, JOHN F., lawyer, public official, was born Nov. 1, 1847, in New York city. He has been mayor of Kinmundy, Ill., for twelve years; president of the county G. A. R. for ten years; and president of the South Illinois Emigration and Improvement association.

DONOVAN, JOSEPH M., lawyer, author, was born April 28, 1866, in Littleton, N. H. He graduated from the Georgetown university of Washington, D. C., with the degree of A. M., and from the same institution in 1889 with the degree of LL. B. He at once took up the practice of law in Sioux Falls, S. D., where he has attained distinction as an able lawyer. He is the author of Law of Divorce and Domestic Relations, and other works.

DOOLITTLE, AMOS, engraver, was born in 1754 in Cheshire, Conn. While a volunteer at Cambridge he visited the battle ground of Lexington, and on his return to New Haven made an engraving of the action, his first attempt in that art. He died Jan. 31, 1832, in New Haven, Conn.

DOOLITTLE, BENJAMIN, clergyman, author, was born July 10, 1695, in Massachusetts. He was a clergyman of Northfield, Mass., in 1718-49, and the author of Narrative of the Mischief of the French and Indians, 1744-48; and Inquiry into Enthusiasm. He died Jan. 9, 1749.

DOOLITTLE, CHARLES CAMP, soldier, was born March 16, 1832, in Burlington, Vt. In 1865 he was made brigadier-general of volunteers, and on June 13 he was brevetted major-general. Since 1871 he has been cashier of the Merchants' national bank, Toledo, Ohio.

DOOLITTLE, JAMES ROOD, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 3, 1815, in Hampton, N. Y. He was for several years district attorney in Wyoming county, N. Y. He moved to Wisconsin in 1851; was chosen judge of the first judicial circuit of that state in 1853; and resigned in 1856. In 1857 he was elected a senator of the United States for six years. He was a member of the peace congress of 1861; and in 1863 was re-elected to the senate for the term ending in 1869.

DOOLITTLE, LELON ANSIL, lawyer, was born July 22, 1853, in Russell, N. Y. During 1879-85 he practiced law in Neillsville, Wis.; and since 1885 has practiced his profession in Eau Claire. He has been president of the board of directors of the Eau Claire public library; of the Eau Claire republican club; and other institutions.

DOOLITTLE, MARY ANTOINETTE, lecturer, was born Sept. 8, 1810, in New Lebanon, N. Y. In 1873-75 she edited, with Frederick W. Evans, the Shaker and Shakeress, a periodical published at Mt. Lebanon college, and is author of an Autobiography and of a series of remarkable inspirational songs. She died Dec. 31, 1886, in Lebanon, N. Y.

DOOLITTLE, THEODORE SANDFORD, educator, author, was born Nov. 31, 1836, in Ovid, N. Y. In 1864 he accepted the chair of rhetoric, logic and metaphysics at Rutgers, which he has since held, becoming also associate editor of the Christian at Work in 1873.

DOOLITTLE, WILLIAM HALL, lawyer, congressman, was born in Erie county, Pa. He served one term in the Nebraska legislature in 1876-77; served in that state as assistant United States district attorney; and in 1880 moved from Nebraska to Washington Territory. He was elected to the fifty-third and re-elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican.

DOOLY, JOHN MITCHELL, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born about 1772, in Lincoln county, Ga. He was appointed solicitor-general of the western circuit of Georgia in 1802, to fill a vacancy, and in 1804 was elected to the same office by the legislature. In 1816 he was elected judge of the same circuit, and in 1822 chosen first judge of the northern circuit, to which latter place he was re-elected in 1825. He died May 26, 1827, in Lincoln county, Ga.

DORCHESTER, DANIEL, clergyman, author, was born in 1827, in Massachusetts. He is a prominent methodist clergyman of Pittsburg, and the author of Concessions of Liberalists to Orthodoxy; Problem of Religious Progress; Latest Drink Sophistries; The Liquor Problem in All Ages; The Why of Methodism; Christianity in the United States; and Romanism versus the Public Schools.

DOREMUS, CHARLES AVERY, chemist, was born Sept. 6, 1851, in New York city. He became assistant to the chair of chemistry and physics in the college of the city of New York. Meanwhile he had received the appointments in New York city of lecturer on practical chemistry and toxicology in Bellevue hospital medical college, and professor of chemistry in the American Veterinary college.

DOREMUS, ELIAS OSBORN, builder, legislator, was born Jan. 17, 1831, in Orange, N. J. He engaged in the building business in Orange and successfully conducted the business for twenty-five years. In 1873 was elected a member of the legislature, and re-elected in 1874.

DOREMUS, ROBERT OGDEN, chemist, was born Jan. 11, 1824, in New York city. The cartridges patented by him require no serge envelopes, as are ordinarily used in muzzle-loading cannon, and hence no sponging of the gun after firing is necessary.

DOREMUS, SARAH PLATT, philanthropist, was born Aug. 3, 1802, in New York. In 1842, with Miss Catherine Sedgwick, she established a home for women from prison, now called the Isaac T. Hopper Home. She was also one of the founders of the House and School of Industry. She died Feb. 5, 1877.

DOREN, DENNIS, constructor of telegraph lines, was born Feb. 10, 1830, in Wooster, Ohio. He was appointed general superintendent of construction of the Western Union Telegraph company's entire system; was president of the American Cable Construction company; and is a stockholder and director in various corporations of New York city.

DORGAN, JOHN AYLMEYER, lawyer, poet, was born Jan. 12, 1836, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a lawyer and verse writer of Philadelphia, whose only publication was a collection of verse entitled Studies. He died Jan. 1, 1866, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DORHMAN, ARNOLD HENRY, merchant, was born in 1748, in Portugal. In view of his services and the losses he had sustained in his devotion to the young republic, congress voted him a money compensation and a western township, besides appointing him United States agent in Lisbon. He died March 21, 1813, in Steubenville, Ohio.

DORMAN, ALLEN, poet, was born Sept. 9, 1857, in Field's Creek, Mo. He is the author of a volume of poems published by the American Publishers' association of Chicago, containing over five hundred pages. He is prominent in the public affairs of his county and state, and was honored as a candidate for congress from the sixth district of Missouri.

DORMER, MRS. L. ISABELLE, poet, was born July 9, 1854, in Lee county, Iowa. She is the author of numerous prose articles and stories; and is a well known poet and writer of Stockton, Cal.

DORR, BENJAMIN, clergyman, author, was born March 22, 1796, in Salisbury, Mass. He was an episcopal clergyman who was rector of Christ church, Philadelphia, in 1837-69; and was the author of The Churchman's Manual; The History of a Pocket Prayer-Book; Recognition of Friends in Another World; Sunday-School Teacher's Encouragement; Prophecies and Types Relative to Christ; Memorials of Christ Church; Travels in the East; and Memoir of John Fanning Watson.

DORR, CHARLES PHILIP, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 12, 1852, in Monroe county, Ohio. He began the practice of law in West Virginia in 1874, where he has since resided. He was elected a member of the West Virginia house of delegates from the fourth delegate district in 1884, and again in 1888, and was chosen sergeant-at-arms of that body in the intervening session of 1887. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

DORR, EBENEZER PEARSON, sea captain, was born March 13, 1817, in Hartford, Vt. He was the first to organize a regular system of wreckage on the lakes, and did much to improve the condition of seamen and to obtain recognition of their acts of heroism. He died April 29, 1881, in Buffalo, N. Y.

DORR, MRS. JULIA CAROLINE, author, poet, was born Feb. 13, 1825, in Charleston, S. C. She is a poet and novelist of Rutland, Vt. Her verse, much of which reaches a high degree of excellence, includes Daybreak, an Easter poem; Vermont; Friar Anselmo; Afternoon Songs; Legend of the Baboushka; and Poems. Her other writings comprise four novels, Lanmere; Sibyl Huntington; Expiation; Farmingdale; Bermuda, a volume of travel; Bride and Bridegroom, or Letters to a Young Married Couple; The Flower of England's Face; and A Cathedral Pilgrimage.

DORRANCE, GORDON, clergyman, author, was born in 1765, in Sterling, Conn. He was pastor of the congregational church at Windsor, Mass., in 1795-1834, and afterward preached in Sunderland, Mass., and its vicinity. He published a History of Windsor. He died in 1846, in Attica, N. Y.

DORSEY, MRS. ANNA HANSON, author, poet, was born Dec. 12, 1815, in Georgetown, D. C. She was a prolific writer of dramas, novels, poems, and essays, long resident in Washington, and from 1840 an ardent Roman catholic. Among her works are May Brooke; Guy the Leper, an epic poem; The Old House at Glenarra; Palms; and Warp and Woof. She died in 1896.

DORSEY, CLEMENT, congressman, was born in Anne Arundel county, Md. He was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1825 to 1831. He died Aug. 6, 1846.

DORSEY, ELLA LORAIN, author, was born in 1856, in Washington, D. C. She is a Washington writer of stories for boys, and the author of Midshipman Bob; Saxty's Angel; and The Two Tramps.

DORSEY, GEORGE W. E., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 25, 1842, in Loudon county, Va. He recruited a company and entered the union army in 1861 as first lieutenant, sixth West Virginia infantry; and was promoted to the rank of captain and of major, and was mustered out with the army of the Shenandoah in 1865. He moved to Nebraska in 1866; and was admitted to the bar in 1869. He was a member of the board of trustees of the insane hospital; a member and vice-president of the state board of agriculture of Nebraska; and was also chairman of the republican state central committee of Nebraska. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Nebraska to the forty-ninth congress, and was re-elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

DORSEY, GODWIN VOLNEY, physician, was born Nov. 17, 1812, in Oxford, Ohio. He was for many years president of the Miami county medical society. He was an elector on the democratic presidential ticket in Ohio in 1848; and a member of the Ohio constitutional conventions of 1850 and 1873.

DORSEY, JAMES OWEN, ethnologist, author, was born Dec. 31, 1848, in Baltimore, Md. He was an ethnologist who for a time was an episcopal missionary to the Ponka Indians, but for many years has been engaged in linguistic studies for the bureau of ethnology. He was the author of Omaha Sociology; Osage Traditions; Kansas Mourning and War Customs; and The Dhegaha Language.

DORSEY, JESSE HOOK, manufacturer, was born in 1849, in Beallsville, Pa. He purchased and conducted the Tampa Lumber company, the largest lumber manufacturing business in Florida.

DORSEY, MRS. SARAH ANNE ELLIS, author. She was the amanuensis of Jefferson Davis, to whom she bequeathed her estate of Beauvoir on the Gulf of Mexico, where he died. She was the author of Lucia Dare; Agnes Graham, both stories of the civil war; Panola, a tale of Louisiana; Atalie, or a Southern Villegiatura; and Life of Governor Allen of Louisiana. She died July 4, 1879, in New Orleans, La.

DORSEY, STEPHEN W., soldier, railroad president, congressman, was born Feb. 28, 1842, in Benson, Vt. He was elected president of the Arkansas Central Railway company; and, removing to Arkansas, was chosen chairman of the republican county and state committees. He was elected United States senator from Arkansas for the term commencing in 1873 and ending in 1879.

DORSHEIMER, WILLIAM, soldier, lawyer, congressman, author, was born Feb. 5, 1832, in Lyons, N. Y. He was a major in the United States army during the civil war; and in 1867 was appointed United States attorney for the northern district of New York. In 1874 he was elected lieutenant-governor of New York; received the re-election in 1876; and was elected to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat. He was the author of A Life of Grover Cleveland. He died March 26, 1888, in Savannah, Ga.

DOSTER, CHARLES S. G., soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born Aug. 21, 1830, in Autauga county, Ala. He received his education at the East Tennessee university, and graduated from the Centenary college, Louisiana. He served during the war as colonel of the reserves; and was militia colonel before the war. He was county superintendent of education for eight years; a representative in the Alabama state legislature for four years; and state senator for four years. Since 1850 he has practiced law with success, and is still engaged in that profession in Prattville, Ala.

DOTEN, LIZZIE, author, poet, was born April 1, 1829, in Plymouth, Mass. She is a Boston spiritualist trance medium, whose verses are claimed to be inspired by the spirits of Shakespeare, Burns, Poe, and other poets of the past. She is the author of Poems of Progress; and Poems from the Inner Life.

DOTON, HOSEA, educator, author, was born Nov. 29, 1809, in Pomfret, Vt. From 1866 till his death he was chief engineer of the Woodstock railroad. He was a member of the state senate in 1865-66, and in the latter year the legislature established his method of computing interest, known as the Vermont rule. He died Jan. 19, 1886, in Woodstock, Vt.

DOTY, ALICE, musician, was born Jan. 10, 1862, in Plano, Ill. She studied music in America, and in Berlin, Germany; and in 1888 passed the associated examination of the American College of Musicians. She has attained success as an organist and concert pianist. She is also a successful teacher in Aurora, Ill.; and has a studio in the Auditorium of Chicago.

DOTY, JAMES DUANE, jurist, congressman, governor, was born in 1799, in Salem, N. Y. He was a delegate to congress from the territory of Wisconsin from 1839 to 1841; from 1841 to 1844 was governor of Wisconsin; and for many years was United States judge for northern Michigan. He was also superintendent of Indian affairs; and was a representative in congress from the state of Wisconsin from 1849 to 1853. In 1864 he was appointed governor of Utah, of which territory he had previously been treasurer. He died in June, 1865, at Salt Lake City, Utah.

DOTY, LOCKWOOD LYON, lawyer, was born May 15, 1827, in Groveland, N. Y. He founded the state military bureau at Albany, which collected the histories of the volunteer regiments and provided for the care of the sick and wounded. In 1871 he was appointed pension agent in New York city. He died Jan. 18, 1873, in Jersey City, N. J.

DOUBLEDAY, ABNER, soldier, author, was born June 26, 1819, in Ballston Spa, N. Y. He was a colonel and brevet major-general in the United States army, who retired from active service in 1873. He is the author of Reminiscences of Forts Sumter and Moultrie; Chancellorsville and Gettysburg; and Gettysburg Made Plain. He died Jan. 27, 1893, at his home at Mendham, near Morristown, N. J.

DOUBLEDAY, CHARLES, WILLIAM, soldier, author, was born Jan. 28, 1829, in England. He was a soldier who accompanied Walker on the famous Nicaragua expedition, and later served as acting brigadier-general in the United States army. He is the author of Reminiscences of the Filibuster War in America.

DOUBLEDAY, ULYSSES F., journalist, congressman, was born Dec. 15, 1792, in New Lebanon, Conn. For twenty years he edited a journal in the city of Auburn; and was elected a representative to congress in 1831, and was again elected in 1835. He died March 11, 1866, in Belvidere, Ill.

DOUCET, EDWARD, college president, was born March 12, 1825, in Canada. In 1863 he was elected president of St. Johns college. He died Dec. 9, 1850, in Fordham, N. Y.

DOUEY, CARL GREGG, lawyer, clergyman, author, was born July 24, 1867, in Columbus, Ohio. He graduated from the Ohio State university, and from Harvard university. He was admitted to the bar, and practiced the profession of law in Columbus, Ohio. He has since attained distinction as an eminent clergyman of the methodist episcopal church; has filled a pastorate in Bainbridge, Ohio; and since 1896 has filled a pastorate in Granville, Ohio. He is the author of several stories; and a constant contributor to the religious press.

DOUGHERTY, CHARLES, state legislator, congressman, was born Oct. 15, 1850, in Athens, Ga. In 1876 he was elected a representative in the Florida legislature; was re-elected in 1878, and was elected speaker of the house. He was again re-elected in 1880 and 1882, and in the latter year was again elected speaker. He resigned in 1884 on being elected a representative from Florida to the forty-ninth congress; and received the re-election to the fiftieth congress as a democrat.

DOUGHERTY, DANIEL, lawyer, orator, was born Oct. 15, 1826, in Philadelphia, Pa. He attained prominence in New York as a successful lawyer, and was also a noted orator, being known throughout the country as the Silver-tongued Orator. He died Sept. 5, 1892, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DOUGHERTY, HUGH, banker, legislator, was born July 28, 1844, in Darke county, Ohio. He served as a union soldier during the civil war, enlisting as a member of company F, ninety-fourth regiment of Ohio volunteer infantry. He was made prisoner of war, and sent to Camp Chase, Ohio, until his exchange. After his military career he entered business pursuits; became assistant cashier in the First National bank of Bluffton, of which his uncle, John Studabaker, was president. The title of this bank was subsequently changed to the Studabaker bank, of which institution Mr. Dougherty has been president since 1895. He was largely instrumental in the building of several railroads, and has been active and liberal in the promotion of all material interests in his city and county, and has been equally conspicuous in advancing the cause of education and morality. In 1870 he was elected to the state senate, and served with distinction in that body. In 1878 he was a candidate for congress; and was a delegate to the democratic national convention in 1884 and again in 1892.

DOUGHERTY, JOHN, business man, was born April 8, 1840, in Ireland. In 1888 he became general manager of the Colorado Coal and Iron company of Pueblo, Colo.; and has been director and trustee of numerous railroad corporations of New York city.

DOUGHERTY, THOMAS E., merchant, manufacturer, was born in 1858, in Port Byron, N. Y. Since 1895 he has been devoting nearly all his time to an extensive oil business in Indiana. He joined the Ashland club of Chicago in 1890, and served on the board of directors for two successive years. In 1895 he was chosen president of the club, and made one of the best executive officers the organization ever had. He is also a member of the Chicago Athletic and Illinois clubs.

DOUGHTY, THOMAS, artist, was born July 19, 1793, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was one of the earliest American artists to make evident the charm of what is called the silvery tone, and to reproduce autumnal effects with genuine grace and emphasis. His works include A Peep at the Catskills; View on the Hudson; Lake Scene; Old Mill; Delaware Water-Gap; and Scene on the Susquehanna. He died July 24, 1856, in New York city.

DOUGHTY, WILLIAM HENRY, surgeon, was born Feb. 5, 1836, in Augusta, Ga. From 1867 till 1875 he three times held the professorship of materia medica and therapeutics in the medical college of Georgia (now the medical department of the state university).

DOUGLAS, ALICE MAY, educator, author, poet, was born June 28, 1865, in Bath, Maine. She is a writer of poetry and juvenile tales, whose home is at Bath, Maine. Her poems include Phlox; May Flowers; and Gems Without Polish. Jewel Gatherers; The Peacemaker; and Self-Exiled from Russia, are among her tales for young readers.

DOUGLAS, AMANDA MINNIE, author, was born July 14, 1838, in New York city. She is a popular novelist of Newark, N. J., whose more than thirty works of fiction have obtained a wide circulation. Among them are In Trust; Stephen Dane; Claudia; With Fate Against Him; Sherburne House; In Wild Rose Time; Seven Daughters; Larry; and Hope Mills.

DOUGLAS, BENJAMIN, manufacturer, inventor, governor, was born April 3, 1816, in Northford, Conn. William Douglas died in 1858, and in 1859 a company was formed of which Benjamin became president. He was mayor of Middletown for several years, a republican presidential elector in 1860, and lieutenant-governor of the state in 1861-62.

DOUGLAS, BEVERLY B., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 21, 1822, in Providence Forge, Va. In 1850 he was a member of the state constitutional convention; was elected a member of the state senate under the amended constitution, and was a member of that body until 1865. In 1861 he entered the confederate service as first lieutenant in Lee's mounted rangers, of which he was made captain; then major of the fifth Virginia cavalry, army of northern Virginia; and resigned in 1863 to resume his legislative duties. He was elected to the forty-fourth congress as representative from Virginia; and was re-elected to the forty-fifth congress. He died Dec. 22, 1878.

DOUGLAS, GEORGE, physician, was born May 7, 1823, in Franklin, N. Y. He commenced the practice of his profession at Oxford, N. Y., where he entered at once upon a large and lucrative practice. During the civil war he was appointed surgeon of the examining board of the nineteenth district of New York at Oxford.

DOUGLAS, JOHN. He was commissioned lieutenant-colonel early in the war, rose to the rank of colonel, and finally to that of general, and served with distinction throughout the war.

DOUGLAS, MARION, lawyer, jurist, was born Sept. 29, 1854, in Dixfield, Maine. In 1876 he graduated from the Bates college; and was admitted to the bar in 1874. During 1876-79 he was principal of the normal school; moved to Dakota territory in 1880; and the same year was elected judge of probate court of Brown county. In 1886 he moved to Duluth, Minn., where he has since practiced law continuously with eminent success.

DOUGLAS, ORLANDO BENAIAH, physician, was born Sept. 12, 1836, in Cornwall, Vt. In 1885 he was elected surgeon and director of the Manhattan Eye and Ear hospital; and in 1888 was elected professor of diseases of the nose and throat in the Post-Graduate Medical school and hospital. He is the author of a work entitled Is the Cure of Chronic Nasal Catarrh as Difficult as has been Supposed?

DOUGLAS, ROBERT MARTIN, lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 28, 1849, in Rockingham county, N. C., and is the son of the late Senator Stephen A. Douglas, of Illinois. He received his education at the Gonzaga college and the Georgetown university of Washington, D. C.; and the degrees of A. B., A. M. and LL. D., were conferred upon him. He has attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of the south at Greensboro, N. C. He was private secretary to the governor of North Carolina; and was private secretary to President Grant. He has served as United States marshal for the western district of North Carolina; was colonel in the North Carolina militia; standing master in chancery of the United States circuit court; and is now associate justice of the supreme court of North Carolina.

DOUGLAS, SILAS HAMILTON, educator, author, was born Oct. 16, 1816, in Fredonia, N. Y. He was a professor of chemistry at the university of Michigan in 1844-79, and is the author of Tables for Qualitative Chemical Analysis; and Qualitative Chemical Analysis.

DOUGLAS, STEPHEN A., lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born April 23, 1813, in Brandon, Vt. He was elected attorney-general of Illinois; in 1837 was appointed by President Van Buren register of the land office at Springfield, Ill.; in 1840 was elected secretary of state, and the following year judge of the supreme court. This office he resigned, in consequence of ill-health, after sitting upon the bench for two years. In 1843 was elected to congress, and continued a member of the lower house for four years. In 1847 he was elected to the United States senate for the term ending in 1853; and was re-elected for the term ending in 1859. He died June 3, 1861, in Chicago, Ill.

DOUGLASS, BENJAMIN F., lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born July 22, 1820, in Shenandoah county, Va. In 1857 he was elected as representative to the state legislature from Harrison county, Ind.

DOUGLASS, DAVID BATES, civil engineer, was born March 21, 1790, in Pompton, N. J. In 1814 he commanded a company on the northern frontier, and was brevetted captain. His introduction of inclined planes in place of locks for canal navigation proved a success in the Morris canal, of which he was chief engineer. In 1833 he began his surveys for supplying New York with water; and in his report showed how to obtain it from the Croton river.

DOUGLASS, FREDERICK, orator, author, was born in February, 1817, in Tuckahoe, Md. He was a famous orator and the most distinguished member of the African race in America. He was born in slavery, but escaped to the north in 1838, educated himself, and soon became prominent as an anti-slavery speaker. As time went on, his style, always picturesque and eloquent, became polished and elegant. He is the author of My Bondage and My Freedom; Narrative of My Experience in Slavery; Life and Times of Frederick Douglass. He died in 1895.

DOUGLASS, GEORGE LYON, lawyer, legislator, was born April 3, 1853, in Erie, Pa. He served with distinction as a member of the Kansas legislature, and in 1893 was speaker of what was known as the Douglass house, which the supreme court decided was the lawful house of representatives of the state. He is one of the foremost lawyers of the west at Wichita, Kan., and in 1891 was counsel for the state in the impeachment trial of Judge Botkin before the Kansas state senate.

DOUGLASS, JOHN W., lawyer. He has attained success as a lawyer, and has a large practice in Washington, D. C.

DOUGLASS, MARGARET CRITTENDEN, educator, was born in Washington, D. C. She opened a school for the instruction of colored children, but it was broken up by the authorities in 1853, and she herself was imprisoned for a month in the common jail. She published a Personal Narrative, relating her experiences.

DOUGLASS, MYRA, poet, was born in 1844, in Adrian, Mich. Since her childhood she has written stories and verse for the Waverly and Ballou Magazines of Boston, and other prominent periodicals. Her poems are included in nearly all standard collections of American verse.

DOUGLASS, SAMUEL J., jurist. He was an emigrant to Florida while yet a territory; and in 1842 was appointed one of the judges of the United States for that district.

DOUGLASS, WILLIAM, physician, author, was born about 1691, in Scotland. He was a Scottish physician who came to America and settled in Boston in 1718. His principal work is a Summary, Historical and Political, of the British Settlements in America. Others of less note are Mercurius Novanglicanus. He died Oct. 21, 1752, in Boston, Mass.

DOUTHAT, ROBERT WILLIAM, educator, author, was born April 13, 1840, in Christiansburg, Va. He graduated from Emory and Henry college, and has attained success as an educator. For eleven years he was professor of language in the Missouri University School of Mines; was a college president for ten years; and is now professor of Latin in the West Virginia university of Morgantown, W. Va. He is the author of several educational works, and contributes extensively to current literature.

DOVENER, BLACKBURN BARRETT, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born April 20, 1842, in Cabell county, W. Va. He raised a company of loyal Virginians and served in the United States volunteer infantry during the war. He was elected as a representative of Ohio county in the legislature of 1883; and was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

DOW, DANIEL, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 19, 1772, in Ashford, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman of Thompson, Conn., and the author of Familiar Letters to Rev. John Sherman; The Pedobaptist Catechism; The Sinaitic and Abrahamic Covenants; and Free Inquiry Recommended on the Subject of Free Masonry. He died July 19, 1849, in Thompson, Conn.

DOW, LORENZO, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 16, 1777, in Coventry, Conn. He was an eccentric methodist traveling preacher, especially vehement against the Jesuits. He was the author of Polemical Works; The Stranger in Charleston, or the Trial and Confession of Lorenzo Dow; A Short Account of a Long Travel; Journal and Miscellaneous Writings; and History of a Cosmopolite, an autobiographic work. He died Feb. 2, 1834, in Georgetown, D. C.

DOW, MARY E. H. G., business woman, was born Dec. 15, 1848, in Dover, N. H. She attended the Dover academy and graduated from the high school in Charlestown, Mass. She is the first woman president of a street railroad, having been president of the Dover Street Railway company. She is now engaged in real estate, and manages her own real estate.

DOW, MILTON, merchant, was born Sept. 18, 1855, in Kansas. He received his education in the common schools of Iowa and Kansas. Since 1882 he has been postmaster in Shilili, N. M., where he is a successful merchant, and is prominently identified with the public affairs of his county and state.

DOW, MOSES A., publisher, was born in 1810, in Littleton, N. H. In 1850 he began the publication of the Waverly Magazine, the circulation of which for many years was 50,000 copies. He died June 22, 1886, in Charlestown, Mass.

DOW, NEAL, prohibitionist, was born March 20, 1804, in Portland, Maine. He was of Quaker parentage; was a merchant and manufacturer; and was twice elected mayor of Portland. About 1857 he became the champion of prohibitive legislation, which resulted in the passage of the celebrated Maine liquor law of 1861, in honor of which he was called the father of the Maine

Liquor Law. He was elected to the state legislature; served gallantly in the union army during 1861-64; and was eight months in Libby prison. He several times visited England, lecturing on temperance. He died in 1897.

DOWD, CHARLES FERDINAND, educator, was born April 25, 1825, in Madison, Conn. He was president of Temple Grove seminary of Saratoga Springs, N. Y. He conceived the idea of adopting one standard for railway time, and after submitting it to a railway convention in New York city in October, 1869, he devised a complete plan, which he published with a map in 1870.

DOWD, CLEMENT, lawyer, banker, congressman, was born Aug. 27, 1832, in Moore county, N. C. He was mayor of Charlotte from 1869 to 1871. He was elected president of the Commercial National bank of that city in 1871, and continued in that position. He was elected a representative from North Carolina to the forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses as a democrat.

DOWD, DANIEL L., educator, inventor, was born Jan. 23, 1854, in Cazenovia, N. Y. In 1883 he moved to New York city, where he opened a school for physical and vocal culture, the only school of its kind in the country. He has invented a number of health exercise machines, which he has manufactured on a large scale.

DOWD, MARY ALICE, educator, poet, was born Dec. 16, 1855, in Frankfort, W. Va. She is an educator of Stamford, Conn., and the author of a volume entitled Vacation Verses.

DOWDALL, EDWARD, painter, sculptor, was born May 17, 1857, in Ireland. In 1865 he emigrated to the United States. He attended grammar school No. 24 of New York city; Cooper Institute; National Academy of Design; and the Art Students' League of New York city, of which latter institution he is a life member. He painted the large picture of Charles the First and Cromwell, which was exhibited in 1890 at the National Academy of Design; and has painted numerous portraits of prominent people of the United States. He also modeled in clay many busts which are now exhibited in various parts of the United States.

DOWDELL, JAMES F., lawyer, planter, congressman, was born Nov. 26, 1818, in Jasper county, Ga. He moved to Alabama in 1846, and took charge of a female college for one year. In 1848 he was a presidential elector; and was a representative from Alabama in the thirty-third, thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses.

DOWDNEY, ABRAHAM, soldier, contractor, builder, congressman, was born in October, 1840, in Ireland. He served in the union army during the civil war as captain in the one hundred and thirty-second regiment New York volunteers. He was chairman of the board of school trustees of the nineteenth ward of New York city from 1882 to 1885; and in 1885 was elected a representative from New York, to the forty-ninth congress. He died Dec. 10, 1886, in New York city.

DOWELL, GREENSVILLE, physician, author, was born Sept. 1, 1822, in Albemarle county, Va. He originated the Dowell system for the treatment of hernia; and was the author of several books on that subject and yellow fever. He died in 1881 in Galveston, Texas.

DOWLER, BENNET, physician and physiologist, was born April 16, 1797, in Moundsville, Ohio. In 1854 he began in New Orleans the Medical and Surgical Journal. He was noted for his experiments upon the human body soon after death, the results of which were given to the world in a series of essays in 1843-44.

DOWLING, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born May 12, 1807, in England. He was a baptist clergyman of New York city, whose writings had a large circulation. He was the author of Vindication of the Baptists; History of Romanism; Defence of the Protestant Scriptures; Power of Illustration; Nights and Mornings; Judson Offering; and Exposition of the Prophecies Concerning the Second Coming of Christ. He died July 4, 1878, in Middletown, N. Y.

DOWLING, LEE, clergyman, physician, author, poet, was born May 18, 1844, in Bellville, Ohio. During the civil war he was the youngest chaplain in the service. For many years he was a professor of physiology in medical colleges. He is the author of The Crown of Sunday School Songs; The Psalm of Victory; and other music books that have attained a wide circulation.

DOWNES, JOHN, mathematician, author, was born Sept. 4, 1799, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was a mathematician of Washington, and the author of Peter Parley's Almanacs for Old and Young; Logarithms and Logarithmic Lines and Tangents; and United States Almanac Complete, or Ephemeris. He died in 1882.

DOWNES, WILLIAM HOWE, journalist, author, was born in 1854, in Connecticut. He is a Boston journalist, for many years on the staff of the Transcript, and the author of Spanish Ways and By-Ways; and The Tin Army of the Potomac, or a Kindergarten of War.

DOWNEY, ALEXANDER C., lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born Sept. 10, 1817, in Hamilton county, Ohio. In 1862 he accepted, as a war democrat, the nomination for the state senate on the union ticket, and was elected.

DOWNEY, JOHN, educator, author, was born in 1770, in Germantown, Pa. In 1817 he was a member of the Pennsylvania legislature. He was the author of a series of humorous sketches under the signature of Simon the Wagoner. He compiled a work entitled The Justice's Assistant. He died July 21, 1827, in Harrisburg, Pa.

DOWNEY, JOHN G., statesman. He was governor of California from 1860 to 1862.

DOWNEY, S. W., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 25, 1839, in Westernport, Md. He served in the union army during the war of the rebellion. He removed to the territory of Wyoming in 1869; was elected a member of the territorial council in 1871, 1875, and 1877; was treasurer of the territory for three years, and was auditor of the territory at the time of his election as a delegate from the territory of Wyoming to the forty-sixth congress.

DOWNEY, WILLIAM D., merchant, was born March 18, 1834, near Princeton, Ind. In 1861 he went to Princeton, Ind., and engaged in mercantile business.

DOWNIE, DAVID, missionary, author, was born in 1838, in Scotland. He is a baptist missionary to India who has published a History of the Telugu Mission.

DOWNING, ANDREW JACKSON, landscape gardener, author, was born Oct. 20, 1815, in Newburg, N. Y. He was a noted horticulturist and landscape gardener of New York, who did much to popularize a knowledge of rural art. He was the author of Theory and Practice of Landscape Gardening; Fruit and Fruit Trees of America; Architecture of Country Houses; Cottage Residences; and Rural Essays. He died Aug. 28, 1852, near Yonkers, N. Y.

DOWNING, CHARLES, congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a delegate to congress from the territory of Florida from 1837 to 1841. He died Oct. 24, 1841.

DOWNING, EDWARD C., educator, poet, was born Feb. 24, 1862, in Wooster, Ohio. He has been professor of Greek and Latin in several large colleges. In 1888 he published a volume of poems entitled Minutes With the Muses.

DOWNING, FINIS EWING, lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Aug. 24, 1846, in Virginia, Ill. Since 1891 he has published the Virginia Enquirer. He was elected secretary of the senate in 1893 for the thirty-eighth general assembly of Illinois; and was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat.

DOWNING, MRS. FRANCES, author, poet, was born in 1835, in Portsmouth, Va. She published Pluto, or the Origin of Mint Julep, a story in verse after the manner of the Ingoldsby Legends; and several novels, including Nameless; Perfect Through Suffering; Florida; and Five Little Girls and Two Little Boys. She died in 1894, in Charlottesville, N. C.

DOWNS, ASHBEL FAIRCHILD, lawyer, author, was born Sept. 7, 1854, in New Geneva, Pa. He attended the West Virginia university; and has attained success in the profession of law at Uniontown, Pa. He is the author of Heroes and Heroic Deeds, or Uncrowned Kings; and various addresses and other papers.

DOWNS, SOLOMON W., lawyer, United States senator, was born in 1801, in Tennessee. He was United States district attorney from 1845 to 1847; a presidential elector in 1844; collector of the port of New Orleans; and from 1847 to 1853 was a senator in congress from Louisiana. He died Aug. 14, 1854, in Orchard Springs, Ky.

DOWS, STEPHEN LELAND, contractor, state senator, was born Oct. 9, 1832, in New York city. After the war he engaged in railroad building under contract and was then rewarded for a long and patient effort by abundant success. He has been elected several times to the state senate and was at one time considered for governor of the state of Iowa.

DOWSE, EDWARD, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1819 to 1821.

DOWSE, WILLIAM, congressman. He was elected a representative from New York to the thirteenth congress, but died before taking his seat, Feb. 18, 1813.

DOX, PETER MYNDERT, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 11, 1813, in Geneva, N. Y. He was elected to the legislature in 1841; and was judge of the Ontario county courts. He removed to Alabama in 1855, and engaged in agricultural pursuits; and in 1865 was elected, as a union man, to represent Madison county in the convention called for the revision of the state constitution; and took an active part in the restoration of the state to its place in the union. He was elected to the forty-first and forty-second congresses as a democrat.

DOXEY, CHARLES T., congressman. He was elected a representative from Indiana to the forty-seventh congress to fill a vacancy.

DOYLE, EDWARD, poet. He is the author of a volume of poems entitled Moody Moments.

DOYLE, JAMES, gold miner, was born Dec. 20, 1868, in Portland, Maine. He holds official relations with several important concerns, and is secretary and assistant manager of the Portland Gold Mining company, president and owner of the Unita Mining and Transportation company. He is also a director in various mining companies and business enterprises; and takes an active part in public affairs of his city and state.

DOYLE, JOHN T., lawyer, was born Nov. 26, 1819, in New York city. He has been for three successive terms viticultural commissioner for the state at large, and during his last term president of the board. He has also been for over thirty years trustee of the San Francisco law library, and for several years back president of that institution.

DOYLE, RICHARD DEVEREUX, lawyer, poet, was born Oct. 8, 1850, in Norfolk, Va. After receiving the degree of bachelor of law at the university of Virginia, and graduating in moral philosophy and logic, he went to Indianapolis and there practiced law and edited a weekly newspaper. He lately became assistant attorney-general of the state of Indiana. He is still engaged in the practice of law in his native city, where he has filled all the high offices in the gift of his city and county. His poems have been incorporated in several standard works.

DRAKE, ALEXANDER WILSON, engraver, art director, was born in 1843, in Westfield, N. J. In 1865 he established himself in the business of wood-engraving, doing work for publishers; and in 1870 he was made art superintendent of Scribner's Monthly, which in 1881 became known as the Century Magazine, and with which he has since been continuously connected.

DRAKE, BENJAMIN, journalist, author, was born in 1794, in Mason county, Ky. He was a Cincinnati journalist whose writings include Cincinnati in 1820; Tales and Sketches from the Queen City; Life of Black Hawk; Life of William Henry Harrison; and Life of Tecumseh. He died April 1, 1841, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

DRAKE, BENJAMIN M., clergyman, college president, was born Sept. 11, 1800, in North Carolina. He was instrumental in building the first Methodist church in New Orleans; was president of Elizabeth Female academy, the first Methodist school established in that state; and was also president of Centenary college. He died in 1860 in Mississippi.

DRAKE, CHARLES DANIEL, lawyer, United States senator, author, was born April 11, 1811, in Cincinnati, Ohio. In 1859 he was elected to the Missouri legislature; and in 1861 and 1862 he took an active and conspicuous part against the secession movement. In 1863 he was elected to the Missouri state convention; was a presidential elector in 1864; and in 1865 was a member and vice-president of the convention that formed the present constitution of Missouri. In 1867 he was elected a senator in congress from Missouri for the term ending in 1873; and in 1871 was appointed chief justice of the court of claims. He was the author of a Treatise on the Law of Suits by Attachment in the United States; and a Life of Daniel Drake.

DRAKE, DANIEL, physician, author, was born Oct. 20, 1785, in Plainfield, N. J. He was a distinguished physician of Cincinnati and Philadelphia who is best known by his valuable work on The Diseases of the Interior Valley of North America, which embodies a vast amount of patient research. His other works include Pictures of Cincinnati and the Miami Country; History of the Prevention and Treatment of Epidemic Cholera; Essays on Medical Education; Discourses; and Pioneer Life in Kentucky. He died Nov. 6, 1852, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

DRAKE, ELIAS FRANKLIN, capitalist, state senator, was born Dec. 21, 1813, in Urbana, Ohio. He was president of the Dayton and Xenia railroad, and of the Dayton and Western railroad. He served in the state legislature; in 1838 accepted the presidency of the Columbus Insurance company; in 1864 he built the St. Paul and Sioux City railroad; and in 1873 he was elected to the state senate of Minnesota. He died Feb. 14, 1892, in San Diego, Cal.

DRAKE, FRANCIS MARION, soldier, merchant, lawyer, railroad president, banker, governor, was born Dec. 30, 1830, in Rushville, Ill. In 1852 he crossed the plains to Sacramento, Cal.; and while crossing Shell Creek, Neb., in command of twenty men, he had a severe engagement with three hundred Pawnee Indians, which were defeated with heavy loss in killed and wounded.

He subsequently was connected with his father, John Adams Drake, in the mercantile and milling business in Drakeville and Centerville, Iowa. In 1861 he enlisted and was commissioned captain of a company; served with distinction throughout the civil war, and was brevetted brigadier-general of volunteers. After the war he became a noted lawyer, and subsequently was engaged in the railroad and banking business. He projected, constructed and put into operation five railroads; and has been president of the Indiana, Illinois and Iowa Railroad company; president of the Albia and Centerville Railroad company; president of Centerville national bank. In 1895 he was elected governor of the state of Iowa.

DRAKE, FRANCIS SAMUEL, author, was born Feb. 22, 1828, in Northwood, N. H. He prepared without aid a Dictionary of American Biography, the materials for which he was twenty years in collecting. He also published a Memorial of the Massachusetts Society of the Cincinnati (1873); Life of Gen. Henry Knox (1873); The Town of Roxbury (1873); Tea-Leaves (1884); and Indian History for Young Folks (1885). He edited Schoolcraft's History of the Indians; and contributed articles on Brighton, Watertown, and Roxbury to the Memorial History of Boston. His Dictionary of American Biography, with his latest corrections and all the materials that he had gathered for a new edition, was incorporated in Appleton's Cyclopaedia of American Biography. He died Feb. 22, 1885, in Washington, D. C.

DRAKE, J. MADISON, soldier, journalist, author, was born March 25, 1837, in Somerset county, N. J. In 1861 he organized the first company of United States volunteers which was raised in New Jersey for three months' service; and was the first who unfurled the first federal flag on confederate soil. He was wounded and made a prisoner of war, and received a congressional medal. After the war he began the publication of the Daily Monitor at Elizabeth, N. J.; in 1889 he started The Sunday Leader, and the same year began the issue of The Daily Leader. General Drake is the author of a History of the Ninth New Jersey Volunteers; Fast and Loose in Dixie; Across the Continent; and other works.

DRAKE, JAMES PERRY, soldier, legislator, was born Sept. 11, 1797, in Robertson county, N. C. In 1832 he was appointed brigade inspector. While in Mexico he was made civil and military governor of Matamoras, and commander of all forces of the lower Rio Grande. He was sent to the legislature from Marion county, and then elected treasurer of state.

DRAKE, JOHN ADAMS, merchant, banker, state legislator, was born in 1804, in Nash county, N. C. He was of English descent, and traced his ancestry back to Sir Francis Drake; and also to the distinguished Adams family. In 1837 he moved from Rushville, Ill., to Fort Madison, Iowa, and subsequently was probate judge of Lee county. In 1846 he moved to Davis county, where he founded Drakeville, and there built up a large mercantile, packing and milling business in connection with his two sons, John Hamilton and Francis Marion. In 1866 he commenced the banking business in Drakeville; and ten years later removed to Centerville; and was president of the Centerville National bank at the time of his death. During 1852-53 he was a member of the Iowa state legislature. He died in May, 1880, in Centerville, Iowa.

DRAKE, JOHN BURROUGHS, hotel man, was born Jan. 17, 1826, in Lebanon, Ohio. In 1874 he leased the Grand Pacific hotel and managed the house successfully until the spring of 1895, retiring then on account of the high rent demanded. He was president of the Chicago and Joliet railroad. He died Nov. 12, 1895, in Chicago, Ill.

DRAKE, JOHN R., jurist, congressman, was born in 1783. He was one of the earnest settlers in Tioga county, N. Y.; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1817 to 1819. He was elected judge of Tioga county in 1833; and was a member of the New York assembly in 1834. He died March 21, 1857, in Oswego, N. Y.

DRAKE, JOSEPH RODMAN, physician, author, poet, was born Aug. 7, 1795, in New York city. He was a talented physician of New York city, co-author with Halleck of The Croaker Papers in the Evening Post. His poetical fame rests on The Culprit Fay; and The American Flag. He died Sept. 21, 1820.

DRAKE, SAMUEL ADAMS, author, was born Dec. 20, 1833, in Boston, Mass. He is the author of Around the Hub, a Boy's Book About Boston; The Heart of the White Mountains; Old Landmarks and Historic Personages of Boston; Nooks and Corners of the New England Coast; Old Landmarks and Historic Fields of Middlesex; Captain Nelson; The Watch Fires of '76; Burgoyne's Invasion of 1777; The Taking of Lonsburg; The Battle of Gettysburg; Our Colonial Homes; New England Legends and Folk-Lore; The Making of New England, 1580-1643; The Making of Virginia and the Middle Colonies, 1578-1701; The Making of the Ohio Valley States, 1660-1837; The Making of the Great West, 1512-1853; History of Middlesex County; and The Pine-Tree Coast.

DRAKE, SAMUEL GARDINER, author, was born Oct. 11, 1798, in Pittsfield, N. H. He was a Boston bookseller of antiquarian tastes who, beside editing several historical works, was the author of Memoir of Cotton Mather; Entertaining History of King Philip's War; Book of the Indians; Old Indian Chronicle; Account of the Family of Drake; Memoir of Walter Raleigh; History and Antiquities of Boston; Indian Biography; Indian Captivities; Annals of Witchcraft in the United States; and History of the French and Indian War. He died in 1875.

DRAKE, THOMAS J., lawyer, journalist, jurist, was born April 18, 1799, in Scipio, N. Y. In 1822 he settled at Pontiac, Mich., and was a leading lawyer for more than fifty years. He was a member of the territorial council from 1828 to 1831. He was senator in 1839-41, and acting governor in 1841-42. He was prosecuting attorney; register of probate; presidential elector in 1840 and 1856; chief justice of Utah from 1862 to 1869; and publisher of a paper first at Flint, then at Pontiac. He died April 20, 1875.

DRAPER, ANDREW SLOAN, lawyer, educator, college president, author, was born June 21, 1848, in Westford, N. Y. He was a lawyer and educator of Albany, and since 1894 president of the university of Illinois. He is the author of What Ought the Common Schools to Do?; How to Improve the Country Schools; Powers and Obligations of Teachers; School Administration in Large Cities; Origin of the New York Common School System; A Teaching Profession; Authority of the State in Education; Legal Status of the Public Schools; Normal and Training School System of New York; Responsibility and Authority of Trustees; American Schools and American Citizenship; and Public School Pioneering in New York and Massachusetts.

DRAPER, DANIEL, meteorologist, was born April 2, 1841, in New York city. He has invented numerous self-recording instruments, including the photographic barograph and thermographs (dry and wet), pencil gauges for rain and snow, for direction of the wind, and for the velocity and force of the wind.

DRAPER, HENRY, educator, author, was born March 7, 1837, in Prince Edward county, Va. He was the author of The Construction of a Silvered Glass Telescope; and Text-Book of Chemistry. He died Nov. 20, 1882, in New York city.

DRAPER, JOHN CHRISTOPHER, physician, author, was born March 31, 1835, in Mecklenburg county, Va. He was a New York physician, professor in the university of New York; and the author of Text-Book in Anatomy; Physiology and Hygiene; Practical Laboratory Course in Physics; and Text-Book of Medical Physics. He died Dec. 20, 1885, in New York city.

DRAPER, JOHN WILLIAM, scientist, author, was born May 5, 1811, near Liverpool, England. He was a distinguished scientist who came from England to the United States in 1832, and from 1839 to 1881 was connected with the university of New York. He was the author of History of the Civil War in America; History of the Intellectual Development of Europe; The Future Civil Policy of America; Human Physiology; Elements of Chemistry; Text-Book of Natural Philosophy; Text-Book on Physiology; Researches in Actino-Chemistry; Scientific Memoirs; and History of the Conflict between Religion and Science. He died Jan. 4, 1882, in Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.

DRAPER, JOSEPH, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1830 to 1833.

DRAPER, LYMAN COPELAND, antiquarian, author, was born Sept. 4, 1815, in Adams, N. Y. He was an antiquarian writer of Madison, Wis.; and the author of Madison, the Capital of Wisconsin; and King's Mountain and its Heroes. He died Aug. 27, 1891, in Madison, Wis.

DRAPER, THOMAS JEFFERSON, physician, was born Oct. 7, 1852, near Mineral Springs, Ark. He attended the South Arkansas college; and in 1878 graduated in medicine from the university of Louisville. He has received a classical education; and is well read in literature, science and political economy, as well as in medicine. He has been mayor of Mineral Springs, Ark.; president of the Howard County Medical society; examiner for four life insurance companies; a member of the board of medical examiners, and of various other medical bodies.

DRAPER, WILLIAM FRANKLIN, soldier, manufacturer, congressman, was born April 9, 1842, in Lowell, Mass. He served in the union army during 1861-64, and held commissions as second lieutenant, first lieutenant, captain, major, and lieutenant-colonel, commanding, also as colonel and brigadier-general by brevet. He is a manufacturer of cotton machinery and has made and patented many improvements in such machinery. He was president of the Home Market club in 1891 and 1892; was a delegate to the republican national convention in 1876; was colonel on staff of Governor Long from 1880 to 1883. He was a candidate for governor before the republican state convention of 1888 and chosen presidential elector at large the same year; and was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a republican, and declined a re-election. In 1897 he was appointed ambassador to Italy.

DRAPIER, WILLIAM H., journalist, author, was born Sept. 4, 1832, in Boston, Mass. In 1861 he was elected and commissioned colonel of the state militia. For thirty years he was an official stenographer in the constitutional conventions of several states, and various political bodies, and edited several newspapers. He is now the proprietor of the Indiana Journal of Commerce of Indianapolis, Ind. He has been elected and re-elected frequently as an officer of the Indiana Editors' and Publishers' association.

DRAYTON, HENRY S., journalist, author, was born Sept. 16, 1840, in New Jersey. He is connected with the publishing house of Fowler and Wells; and is the editor of the Phrenological Journal and Science and Health. Besides his editorial work that would fill volumes, he is author of several books, among them, Light in Dark Places; and Brain and Mind.

DRAYTON, JOHN, governor, author, was born in 1766, in South Carolina. He was governor of South Carolina from 1800 to 1802, and from 1808 to 1810; and was district judge of the United States for some years previous to his death. He published A View of South Carolina; Memoirs of the Revolution in South Carolina, in two volumes; and Letters Written During a Tour Through the Northern and Eastern States. He died Nov. 27, 1822, in Charleston, S. C.

DRAYTON, WILLIAM, jurist, was born in 1733, in South Carolina. In 1789 he was appointed the first United States judge for the district of South Carolina. He died May 18, 1790.

DRAYTON, WILLIAM, soldier, congressman, was born Dec. 30, 1776, in St. Augustine, Fla. He was a captain in the South Carolina militia; in 1812 was commissioned a colonel in the United States army, and inspector-general in 1814. He assisted Generals Scott and Macomb in preparing a System of Infantry Tactics for the army. He was elected recorder of Charleston in 1819; and was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1825 to 1833. He was chosen president of the United States bank in 1840. He died May 24, 1846, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DRAYTON, WILLIAM HENRY, jurist, statesman, author, was born in 1742, in South Carolina. In 1771 he was appointed a judge; was president of the provincial congress; and was made chief justice in 1776. He was a leading member of the South Carolina assembly; was a delegate to the continental congress from 1778 to 1779, and was a signer of the articles of confederation. He was the author of a History of the American Revolution, which was afterward published in three volumes by his son. He died in 1779.

DREHER, JULIUS DANIEL, educator, college president, was born Oct. 28, 1846, in Lexington county, S. C. He graduated with honors from the Roanoke college of Salem, Va.; of which institution he has been president since 1878; and for seven years prior to that time was professor in the same college.

DRESSER, HORACE, lawyer, author. He wrote much on constitutional questions, and published The Battle Record of the American Rebellion; and Internal Revenue Laws as Amended to July, 1866. He died Jan. 27, 1877.

DREW, DANIEL, capitalist, was born in 1788, in Carmel, N. Y. In 1866 he was treasurer of the Erie Railroad company, to which he lent the sum of $3,500,000, receiving as security $3,000,000 of shares of unused stock and $3,000,000 of bonds convertible into stock. In 1866 he gave $250,000 to found the Drew Theological seminary of Madison, N. J., and increased this sum by successive donations to nearly $1,000,000. He died Sept. 19, 1879, in New York city.

DREW, FRANKLIN MELLEN, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born July 19, 1837, in Turner, Maine. In 1858 he graduated from Bowdoin college. He was a union soldier for over three years during the civil war, and was promoted to major and brevet colonel. During 1868-71 he was secretary of the state of Maine. In 1889 he was elected department commander, department of Maine, of the Grand Army of the Republic. Since 1889 he has served with distinction as judge of probate. He is one of the foremost lawyers of his native state, and has a law office in Lewiston, Maine.

DREW, GEORGE F., statesman. He was governor of Florida from 1877 to 1881.

DREW, JOHN, comedian, was born Nov. 13, 1854, in Philadelphia, Pa. He has created more than forty parts in comedy, personating all with skill and care, and many with brilliant success. Petruccio, in Taming the Shrew, is his favorite character.

DREW, THOMAS S., statesman. He was governor of Arkansas from 1844 to 1848.

DREXEL, ANTHONY JOSEPH, banker, philanthropist, was born in 1826, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is president of the banking establishment of the New York Drexel, Morgan and Co.; and founded and heavily endowed the Drexel institute, which has achieved a wide reputation.

DREXEL, JOSEPH WILHELM, banker, was born Jan. 24, 1831, in Philadelphia, Pa. After his father's death he returned to Philadelphia, and in 1871, with Junius S. Morgan of London, established in New York city the banking house of Drexel, Morgan and Co., becoming its head. He died March 25, 1888, in New York city.

DRIGGS, JOHN F., congressman, was born March 8, 1813, in Kinderhook, N. Y. In 1844 he was appointed superintendent of the New York penitentiary; and in 1850 settled in East Saginaw, Mich. He was president of that village in 1858; and during the two succeeding years was a member of the Michigan legislature. He was elected a representative from Michigan to the thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses as a republican. He died Dec. 17, 1877.

DRINKER, MRS. ANNA, author, poet, was born Dec. 3, 1827, in Philadelphia, Pa. She is the author of Poems by Edith May; Tales and Verses for Children; and Katy's Story.

DRISCOL, MICHAEL, clergyman, was born in 1805 in Ireland. He was superior of the theological seminary at Fordham, and afterward president of St. Francis Xavier college, New York. He erected the church of St. Michael in Troy, N. Y. He died in 1880 in Troy, N. Y.

DRISLER, HENRY, educator, author, was born Dec. 27, 1818, on Staten Island, N. Y. He is a classical scholar of distinction, professor at Columbia college since 1843, whose Greek and English Lexicon has long been a standard authority.

DROMGOOLE, GEORGE C., lawyer, congressman, was born in Virginia. He served for many years in the two houses of the state legislature, and was president of the senate. He was a member of the second constitutional convention of Virginia; and was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1835 to 1841, and from 1843 to 1847. He died April 27, 1847.

DRONE, EATON SYLVESTER, journalist, author, was born Jan. 25, 1842, in Zanesville, Ohio. He is a legal writer on the staff of the New York Herald; and the author of The Law of Property in Intellectual Productions, embracing Copy-right and Playright.

DRUM, AUGUSTUS, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1853 to 1855.

DRUMMOND, JOSIAH HAYDEN, lawyer, author, was born in 1827. He is a lawyer who was attorney-general of Maine for some years, and published Maine Masonic Text-Book for Use of Lodges; and History of Masonic Jurisprudence.

DRUMMOND, THOMAS, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Oct. 16, 1809, in Bristol, Maine. He removed to Galena, Ill., in 1835; was elected to the house of representatives of Illinois in 1840; was appointed judge of the district court of the United States for Illinois in 1850. He removed to Chicago in 1854; became judge of the district court of the United States for the northern district of Illinois. In 1868 he moved to Winfield, where he died in 1897.

DRUMMOND, WILLIAM W., jurist. He was a resident of Illinois; and was appointed an associate justice of the United States court for the territory of Utah.

DRURY, AUGUSTUS WALDO, clergyman, author, was born in 1851. He is a clergyman of the sect of united brethren in Christ who has written a Life of Otterbein, the founder of the sect.

DRURY, JOHN BENJAMIN, clergyman, lecturer, author, was born Aug. 15, 1838, in Rhinebeck, N. Y. He attended the Rhinebeck academy, Rutgers college, and the New Brunswick Theological seminary; and has received the degree of D. D. He has been president of the general synod of the reformed church of America; was Vedder lecturer in 1883; and since 1887 has been editor of the Christian Intelligencer of New York city. He is the author of Truths and Untruths of Evolution; and various other works.

DRURY, MARION RICHARDSON, journalist, author, was born Dec. 27, 1849, in Pendleton, Ind. In 1889 he was appointed editor of The Religious Telescope of Dayton, Ohio. He is the author of The Pastor's Pocket Book; Handbook for Workers; and At Hand.

DRURY, WILLIAM HENRY, lawyer, inventor, was born Jan. 12, 1842, in Worcester, Mass. In 1865 he graduated from Yale college, and since 1873 has been a successful lawyer in Boston, Mass. He is the inventor of the system of spinning yarn, by which numerous strands of twisted and completed yarn are made directly from the ring-doffers of a carding machine without any subsequent process or spinning.

DRYDEN, JOHN FAIRFIELD, president of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, was born Aug. 7, 1839, in Farmington, Maine. In 1875 the real birth of industrial insurance in America took place. On that day was formed what is now The Prudential Insurance Company of America. Into it were merged all the rights, titles, interests and obligations of The Friendly society, and Mr. Dryden accepted the nominally modest but all important office of secretary. From the first he has been the chief guide and motive power of the institution.

DRYSDALE, THOMAS MURRAY, physician, author, was born Aug. 31, 1831, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1862 he delivered a course of lectures on the microscope in the Franklin institute. He was a delegate to the international medical congress in 1876, and one of the founders of the American gynecological society.

DUANE, JAMES, jurist, statesman, was born Feb. 6, 1733, in New York city. He was a member of the continental congress from 1774 to 1784, and signed the articles of confederation. He attended the Indian treaty at Albany in August, 1775; was a member of the constitutional convention in 1776 and 1777, and on the committee which drafted it. He was a member of the committee of safety; in 1783 returned to New York city on its evacuation by the British, and became a member of the council. He was state senator in 1783 and 1784; first mayor of New York in 1784; member of the convention to adopt the federal constitution in 1788; United States district judge from 1789 to 1794. He died Feb. 1, 1797, in Duaneburg, N. Y.

DUANE, JAMES CHATHAM, general, author, was born June 30, 1824, in Schenectady, N. Y. He is a retired brigadier-general of the United States army; and the author of A Manual for Engineer Troops.

DUANE, RUSSELL, lawyer, was born June 15, 1866, in Gloucester county, N. J. In 1892 he was appointed junior counsel for the government in the Behring sea arbitration proceedings.

DUANE, WILLIAM, journalist, author, was born in 1760 near Lake Champlain, N. Y. He was a prominent journalist and politician of Philadelphia; and the author of Military Dictionary; The Mississippi Question; An Epitome of the Arts and Sciences; Visit to Colombia in 1822; American Military Library; Handbook for Riflemen; and Handbook for Infantry. He died Nov. 24, 1835, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUANE, WILLIAM, author, was born in 1807 in Pennsylvania. He is a Philadelphia writer who published Relation of Landlord to Tenant in Pennsylvania; Law of Roads in Pennsylvania; Canada and the Continental Congress; and Ligan, a collection of tales and essays.

DUANE, WILLIAM JOHN, lawyer, author, was born in 1780 in Ireland. He was an eminent lawyer of Philadelphia who was secretary of the treasury in 1833, and was dismissed from office by President Jackson for declining to order the deposits removed from the bank of the United States. He was the author of The Law of Nations Investigated; Letters on Internal Improvement; and Narrative and Correspondence Concerning the Removal of the Deposits, 1838. He died Sept. 27, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUBBS, JOSEPH HENRY, clergyman, author, poet, was born Oct. 5, 1838, in Allentown, Pa. He is a German reformed clergyman, and has been professor of history in Franklin and Marshall college, Lancaster, Pa., since 1875. He is the author of Otterbein and the Reformed Church; Historic Manual of the Reformed Church; Home Ballads and Metrical Versions; and Why Am I Reformed? He is also the author of a number of poems.

DU BIGNON, FLEMING G., lawyer, state senator, was born July 25, 1853, in Milledgeville, Ga. He was county judge of Baldwin county, Ga.; state senator and chairman of the judiciary committee in 1882; solicitor-general in 1884; and state senator and president of the senate in 1888.

DU BOIS, AUGUSTUS JAY, educator, author, was born April 25, 1849, in Newton Falls, Ohio. He has been a professor of engineering at Yale university since 1877; and is the author of Elements of Graphical Statics; The New Method of Graphical Statics; Strains in Framed Structures; and Mechanics.

DUBOIS, CHARLES EDWARD, artist, was born Oct. 19, 1847, in Hoboken, N. J. At the Philadelphia exhibition he exhibited Willows at East Hampton and The Palisades of the Hudson; at the Paris exposition of 1878, Morning in Venice, View on the Hudson, and Autumn. He died March 6, 1885, in Italy.

DUBOIS, FRED T., congressman, United States senator, was born May 29, 1851, in Crawford county, Ill. He was United States marshal of Idaho from 1882 till 1886, and was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican delegate, being the last delegate from the territory. He was elected to the United States senate as a republican for term of 1891-97.

DU BOIS, HENRY K., physician, was born Aug. 31, 1847, in New Berlin, Wis. During 1870-76 he was connected with the hospitals in New York city; since 1889 he has been a member of the board of medical examiners for Florida; and in 1895 became president of the Florida State Medical association.

DUBOIS, JOHN, Roman catholic bishop, was born Aug. 24, 1764, in Paris, France. He was the founder of Mount St. Mary's college of Emmittsburg, Va., and also its president. He was appointed bishop of New York in 1826, and at his instance the sisters of charity from Emmittsburg founded the first female academy in the city of New York in 1829. He died Dec. 20, 1842, in New York city.

DU BOIS, WILLIAM EDWARD BURG-HARDT, educator, author, was born in 1868. He is an educator of African descent, assistant professor of sociology in the university of Pennsylvania, and the author of The Suppression of the African Slave Trade to the United States, 1638-1810.

DU BOIS, WILLIAM EWING, numismatist, author, was born Dec. 15, 1810, in Doylestown, Pa. He was a Philadelphia numismatist, assayer at the mint, and the author of Manual of Gold and Silver Coins of All Nations; and Pledges of History, an account of the Antique Coins in the United States Mint. He died July 14, 1881, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DU BOIS, WILLIAM H., legislator, banker, financier, was born March 24, 1835, in Randolph, Vt. In 1875 he organized the Randolph National bank, and has been its president since. In 1876 he was a member of the Vermont general assembly from Randolph, and of the senate from Orange county in 1892. In 1882 he was elected state treasurer, and held the office eight years consecutively.

DUBOISE, DUDLEY M., lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 23, 1834, in Shelby county, Tenn. He served as a general in the confederate army, and was elected a representative from Georgia to the forty-second congress. He died March 2, 1883.

DU BOSE, MRS. CATHERINE ANNE (RICHARDS), author, poet, was born Sept. 19, 1826, in England. She is a Georgia writer who published The Pastor's Household, or Lessons on the Eleventh Commandment, a juvenile tale.

DU BOSE, DUDLEY McIVER, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 28, 1834, in Shelby county, Tenn. At the beginning of the civil war he entered the confederate army and rose to the rank of brigadier-general. After the war he represented Georgia in the forty-second congress as a democrat.

DU BOSE, HORACE MELLARD, clergyman, poet, was born Nov. 7, 1858, near Mobile, Ala. He has been the chief editor of the Pacific Methodist Advocate, the leading religious newspaper on the Pacific coast. He is the author of a volume entitled Rupert Wise, a poetic romance in eight cantos; and Psyche, a symbolic poem.

DUBOURG, LOUIS GUILLAUME VALENTIN, bishop, was born Feb. 14, 1766. In 1815 he was appointed the first Roman catholic bishop of New Orleans. He died Feb. 12, 1833, in France.

DUBUIS, CLAUDE MARIE, Roman catholic bishop, was born in 1817, in France. In 1862 he was appointed bishop of Galveston, Texas.

DUCACHET, HENRY WILLIAM, clergyman, was born Feb. 17, 1796, in Charleston, S. C. He filled the office of rector of the Burd Orphan asylnm, an institution which owes its origin to his exertions. He died Dec. 13, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUCATEL, JULIUS TIMOLEON, chemist, educator, author, was born June 6, 1796, in Baltimore, Md. He was a chemist of Baltimore, professor in the university of Maryland and author of a Manual of Toxicology. He died in 1849.

DUCEY, THOMAS JAMES, clergyman, was born Feb. 4, 1843, in Ireland. He purchased property, and for three years maintained the work to which he had devoted himself out of his own resources. In 1880 he founded the church of St. Leo at a cost of $200,000.

DU CHAILLU, PAUL BELLONI, author, was born July 31, 1835, in France. He is a noted French traveler who has become a naturalized citizen of the United States, and is the author of Ivar the Viking; Explorations and Adventures in Equatorial Africa; A Journey to Ashango Land; My Apingi Kingdom; Wild Life Under the Equator; Lost in the Jungle; The Country of the Dwarfs; Land of the Midnight Sun; Age of the Vikings; and Stories of the Gorilla Country.

DUCHE, JACOB, clergyman, was born in 1737 in Philadelphia, Pa. He was an episcopal clergyman of Philadelphia, and the author of several works. He died Jan. 3, 1798, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUCHESNE, LEON C., journalist, statesman, was born Feb. 7, 1840, in Caldwell parish, La. He is now proprietor and publisher of The Republican of Natchez, Miss.; and publisher of The Baptist Signal. He was nominated for the fifty-first congress by the republicans of the sixth Mississippi district.

DUCHESNE, PHILIPPA ROSE, was born in 1769 in France. She was the foundress of the first houses of the Society of the Sacred Heart in America. She died in 1852 in St. Charles, La.

DUCKETT, ALLEN B., jurist, was born in Maryland. In 1806 he was appointed judge of the circuit court of the United States for the District of Columbia.

DUDLEY, AUGUSTUS P., physician, surgeon, author, was born July 4, 1853, in Phippsburg, Maine. In 1887 he was appointed instructor at the Post-Graduate Medical school, and for eighteen years was surgeon in the Women's hospital of New York city. He is the author of Surgical Treatment, and other articles.

DUDLEY, MRS. BLANDINA, philanthropist, was born in 1783 in New York. In 1856 she gave seventy-five thousand dollars toward the endowment and erection of Dudley observatory in Albany, in memory of her husband. At the time of her death she had given more than one hundred thousand dollars toward its completion. She died in January, 1863, in Albany, N. Y.

DUDLEY, CHARLES BENJAMIN, chemist, was born July 14, 1842, in Oxford, N. Y. In 1874 he became instructor of physics in the university of Pennsylvania, but resigned at the end of the year. He became chemist to the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

DUDLEY, CHARLES EDWARD, merchant, United States senator, was born May 23, 1780, in England. He was state senator from 1820 to 1825; mayor of Albany, N. Y., from 1821 to 1828, and United States senator from 1829 to 1833. He died Jan. 23, 1841, in Albany, N. Y.

DUDLEY, DEAN, lawyer, author, was born May 23, 1823, in Kingsfield, Maine. He is a Boston lawyer of antiquarian tastes; and the author of Pictures of Life in England and America; The Dudley Genealogies; Social and Political Aspects of England and the Continent; History of the First Council of Nice; Officers of the Army and Navy; and History of the Dudley Family.

DUDLEY, EDWARD B., congressman, governor. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina, from 1829 to 1831; and in 1836 was elected the first governor of North Carolina under the amended constitution of that state. He was subsequently appointed president of the Wilmington and Raleigh Railroad company. He died Oct. 30, 1855, in Wilmington, N. C.

DUDLEY, JAMES G., lawyer, politician, orator, was born April 8, 1848, in Hannibal, Mo. He was educated at the public schools at St. Louis, Mo. He has attained distinction as a profound lawyer and a successful advocate; and has been counsel in the leading civil and criminal cases in Texas, in which state he has a law office in Paris. He has filled all the political offices of honor in the democratic party of his state; and as a platform speaker and orator has gained a national reputation.

DUDLEY, JOSEPH, colonial governor of Massachusetts, was born Sept. 23, 1647, in Roxbury, Mass. From 1677 to 1681 he was one of the commissioners for the united colonies. In 1687 he was appointed chief justice of the superior court, and was made chief justice of New York in 1690. From 1702 to 1715 he was captain-general and governor-in-chief of Massachusetts Bay. He died April 2, 1720, in Roxbury, Mass.

DUDLEY, PAUL, jurist, was born Sept. 3, 1675. In 1745 he became chief justice of Massachusetts. He represented Roxbury for several years in the legislature. He died January, 1751, in Roxbury, Mass.

DUDLEY, PEMBERTON, educator, physician, was born Oct. 17, 1837, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is professor of institutes of medicine and hygiene in Hahnemann college. He was editor of the Hahnemannian Monthly for eight years, and has written and published numerous articles in the journals of his school of medicine.

DUDLEY, SARAH MARIE, artist, business woman, was born in 1849, in Carlton, Mich. She has attained success as an artist; and has a studio in Detroit, Mich. She is also an inventor, but it is as an architect, designer and builder she has won her greatest success. She bought land in what proved to be one of the best locations in Detroit, and designed and built a graceful group of residences.

among which is one of the most palatial stone mansions in the city. She took all the responsibility of the planning and building, and receives a large income from the rentals.

DUDLEY, THOMAS, governor, was born in 1576 in England. In 1630 he came to Massachusetts with the commission of deputy governor, which office he held from 1634 till 1640, and again from 1645 till 1650. He died July 31, 1652, in Roxbury, Mass.

DUDLEY, THOMAS UNDERWOOD, bishop, author, was born Sept. 26, 1837, in Richmond, Va. He is the second protestant episcopal bishop of Kentucky. He served in the confederate army as a colonel, and afterwards entered the ministry. He is the author of A Wise Discrimination the Church's Need; and A Sunday-School Question Book.

DUDLEY, WILLIAM HENRY, physician, was born Oct. 7, 1811, in Ireland. In 1851 he was elected curator of the New York Medical college, holding the office for several years. He died Oct. 9, 1886, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

DUDLEY, WILLIAM LOFLAND, chemist, was born April 16, 1859, in Covington, Ky. In 1886 he became professor of chemistry in Vanderbilt university, Nashville. The electro-metallurgy of iridium has been principally developed through his work. He has published scientific papers in various journals, and wrote the article Iridium, in Mineral Resources of the United States, 1883-84 (Washington).

DUDLEY, WILLIAM RUSSELL, educator, author, was born March 1, 1849, in Guilford, Conn. He is a professor of botany at Cornell university, who has published The Cayuga Flora.

DUDLEY, WILLIAM WADE, soldier, miller, financier, was born Aug. 7, 1842, in Weathersfield, Vt. In 1860 he removed to Richmond, Ind., and engaged in the business of milling. He entered the union army in 1861 as captain, and served with gallantry throughout the war, rising to the rank of colonel and brevet brigadier-general. In 1879 he was appointed United States marshal for Indiana; and in 1881 was appointed commissioner of the pension bureau, at Washington

DUELL, ROBERT HOLLAND, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 20, 1823, in Warren, N. Y. He was district attorney for Cortland county in 1850-56; and in 1856 was elected county judge for said county. In 1858 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-sixth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-seventh, forty-second and forty-third congresses.

DUER, EDWARD LOUIS, physician, author, was born Jan. 19, 1836, in Crosswicks, N. J. He is a physician of Philadelphia, and the author of Post-Mortem Discoveries; and Treatment of Diphtheria.

DUER, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Oct. 7, 1782, in Albany, N. Y. He was a once prominent New York jurist whose specialty was insurance law, and was the author of Duer's Reports; and Laws and Practice of Marine Insurance. He died Aug. 8, 1858, on Staten Island.

DUER, WILLIAM, jurist, congressman, was born March 18, 1747, in England. He was appointed colonel of militia; and judge of the county courts. He was a member of the provincial congress, and of the committee of safety; and also a member of the committee to draft the state constitution in the convention of 1777. He was a delegate to the continental congress from 1777 to 1778; secretary of the treasury board until the organization of the department in 1789; a member of the state legislature, and assistant secretary of the treasury under Hamilton, until 1790. He died May 7, 1799, in New York city.

DUER, WILLIAM, lawyer, congressman, was born May 25, 1805, in New York city. He served in the legislature of New York on two occasions; was district attorney for Oswego county, and was a representative in congress from New York from 1847 to 1851.

DUER, WILLIAM ALEXANDER, jurist, college president, author, was born Sept. 8, 1780, in Rhinebeck, N. Y. He was president of Columbia college in 1829-42; and the author of Constitutional Jurisprudence of the United States. He died May 30, 1858, in New York.

DUFF, PETER, educator, author, was born Feb. 16, 1802, in Canada. He was an educator of Pittsburg, where he founded Duff's Mercantile college, one of the earliest institutions of the kind. The North American Accountant was his only publication of note. He died Sept. 13, 1869, in Pittsburg, Pa.

DUFFEL, MARY GORDON, author, was born in 1840 in Alabama. She is a resident of Alabama, and has published A History of Alabama; and Guide to the Mammoth Cave.

DUFFIELD, DIVIE BETHUNE, lawyer, poet, was born Aug. 29, 1821, in Carlisle, Pa. He has been a member of the board of education of Detroit for thirteen years, and is active in all educational interests throughout the state.

DUFFIELD, GEORGE, jurist. He was appointed in 1805 United States judge for the territory of Orleans.

DUFFIELD, GEORGE, clergyman, was born Oct. 7, 1732, in Lancaster county, Pa. His only published works are An Account of a Missionary Tour Through Western Pennsylvania in 1766, by order of the synod; and a Thanksgiving Sermon on Peace. He died Feb. 2, 1790, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUFFIELD, GEORGE, clergyman, was born July 4, 1794, in Strasburg, Pa. In 1838 he became pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Detroit, which he retained until his death. In 1844-52 he was regent for the Michigan State university. A full review of his life would embrace a large share of the history of the Presbyterian church for thirty years. He died June 26, 1868, in Detroit, Mich.

DUFFIELD, GEORGE, clergyman, poet, was born Sept. 12, 1816, in Carlisle, Pa. He held important pastorates in Brooklyn, Philadelphia, and in Michigan, where he resided after 1861. He died June 6, 1888, in Bloomfield, N. J.

DUFFIELD, HENRY MARTIN, soldier, lawyer, orator, was born May 15, 1842, in Detroit, Mich. He was assistant provost-marshal-general of the army of the Cumberland on General Thomas's staff. He has been corporation counsel for Detroit since 1876, and is also president of the state military board of Michigan.

DUFFIELD, JOHN THOMAS, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 19, 1823, in McConnellsburg, Pa. He is a presbyterian clergyman who was professor of mathematics in Princeton college for many years, and published The Princeton Pulpit and many religious monographs.

DUFFIELD, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS WILLOUGHBY, clergyman, author, was born in 1843, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Bloomfield, N. J., and the author of English Hymns, their Authors and History; Latin Hymn-Writers and their Hymns; and Warp and Wool, a Book of Verse. He died May 12, 1887, in Bloomfield, N. J.

DUFFIELD, WILLIAM WARD, soldier, civil engineer, author, was born Nov. 19, 1823, in Carlisle, Pa. He is an engineer of Kentucky who was a brigadier-general in the federal army during the civil war, and is the author of School of the Brigade and Evolutions of the Line.

DUGANNE, AUGUSTINE JOSEPH HICKEY, journalist, author, poet, was born in 1823 in Boston, Mass. He was a journalist of New York city chiefly known as a poet. During the civil war he served in the federal army, and was for some time a captive in southern prisons. Among his writings are Prison Life in the South; Camps and Prisons; History of Governments; The Lydian Queen, a tragedy; Home Poems; and Parnassus in Pillory, a satire. He died Oct. 20, 1884, in New York.

DUGDALE, RICHARD L., sociologist, author, was born in 1841 in France. He was a writer on sociology, and the author of The Jukes, or Heredity in Crime; and Further Studies of Criminals. He died July 23, 1883, in New York city.

DUGGAN, JAMES, Roman catholic bishop, was born in 1825 in Ireland. He was consecrated coadjutor archbishop in 1857, with the title of Bishop of Antigone, and was afterward nominated bishop of Chicago.

DUGRO, PHILIP HENRY, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 2, 1855, in New York city. In 1878 he was elected to the New York assembly from the fourteenth district as a democrat, and declined a renomination. In 1886 he was elected judge of the superior court. He is the owner of the Hotel Savoy on the Plaza at the entrance to Central park.

DUHAMEL, WILLIAM, physician, author, was born in 1827 in Maryland. He served as chief physician for ten years to the United States prisons in the District of Columbia. He wrote a treatise on the National Hotel Disease. He died Aug. 15, 1883, in Washington, D. C.

DUHRING, JULIA, essayist, author, was born Feb. 23, 1836, in Philadelphia, Pa. She is an essayist who has published Philosophers and Fools; Gentlefolks and Others; Amor in Society; and Mental Life and Culture.

DUHRING, LOUIS ADOLPHUS, physician, author; was born Dec. 23, 1845, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a physician of Philadelphia, prominent as a dermatologist, and the author of Atlas of Skin Diseases; Practical Treatise on Diseases of the Skin; Epitome of Skin Diseases; and Cutaneous Medicine.

DUKE, RICHARD T. W., lawyer, congressman, was born June 6, 1822, in Albemarle county, Va. He was elected attorney for the county of Albemarle in 1858, and continued in that office until 1869. He was elected to the forty-first congress to fill a vacancy; and was re-elected to the forty-second congress.

DUKE, WILLIAM, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 15, 1757, in Patapsco, Md. He was an episcopal clergyman and educator of Maryland who published A Clew to Religious Truth. He died in 1840 in Elkton, Md.

DULANEY, WOODFORD HECTOR, capitalist, railroad president, was born May 16, 1822, in Loudon county, Va. He was several times elected to the general council of the city of Louisville, and has been president of the Elizabethtown and Paducah railroad; the Cumberland and Ohio railroad; the Kentucky National bank; and is now serving his twentieth year as director of the Bank of Kentucky.

DULANY, DANIEL, statesman, author, was born in July, 1721, in Maryland. He was a noted Maryland statesman, and the author of Considerations on the Propriety of Imposing Taxes on the British Colonies. He died March 19, 1797, in Baltimore, Md.

DULLES, CHARLES WINSLOW, surgeon, author, was born in 1850 in the East Indies. He is a surgeon of Philadelphia, and the author of What to Do First in Accidents or Poisoning; What to Do First in Accidents and Emergencies; and Accidents and Emergencies.

DULLES, JOHN WELSH, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 4, 1823, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Philadelphia, at one time a missionary to India, and the author of The Soldier's Friend; Life in India; and The Ride Through Palestine. He died April 13, 1887, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUMMER, JEREMIAH, author, was born in 1680 in Boston, Mass. He was a noted scholar who was colonial agent for Massachusetts in London in 1710-21, and was a political friend of Bolingbroke. He was the author of A Letter to a Noble Lord Concerning the Late Expedition to Canada; and A Defence of the New England Charters. He died May 19, 1739.

DUMMER, WILLIAM, governor, was born in 1677 in Boston, Mass. In 1716 he was commissioned lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts; and during 1723-28 acted as governor and commander-in-chief. He conducted the war against the Indians with skill. He died Oct. 10, 1761, in Boston, Mass.

DUMONT, EBENEZER, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 23, 1814, in Vevay, Ind. He was a member of the state legislature in 1838; and from 1839 to 1845 was treasurer of his county. He served in the war with Mexico as a lieutenant-colonel, and was in several battles. He was a presidential elector in 1852, and in 1850 and 1853 was again elected to the legislature. He was president for nine years of the State Bank of Indiana. He was elected a representative from Indiana to the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth congresses. He died April 16, 1871, in Indianapolis, Ind.

DUMONT, MRS. JULIA LOUISA, educator, author, was born in October, 1794, in Waterford, Ohio. She was a noted educator of Vevay, Ind., and the author of Life Sketches from Common Paths. She died in 1857.

DUN, ROBERT GRAHAM, merchant, founder, was born in 1826 in Chillicothe, Ohio. An existence of over half a century has enabled the Mercantile Agency of R. G. Dun and Co. to acquire an experience and accumulate an amount of capital, which enable it to fulfill to the satisfaction of the mercantile community the important duties which it is called on to discharge.

DUNBAR, CHARLES FRANKLIN, educator, author, was born in 1830 in Massachusetts. He was professor of political economy at Harvard university from 1871, and the author of Chapters on the Theory and History of Banking.

DUNBAR, GEORGE TOWERS, civil engineer, ichthyologist, was born Feb. 11, 1812, in Baltimore, Md. He was one of the surveyors of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, Portsmouth and Welden railroad, and the New Orleans and Nashville railroad. In 1842 was appointed engineer of the state of Louisiana, and in 1848 deputy surveyor-general of that state. His great love of natural history led him to make a large collection of insects, birds and plants of the United States. He gave the classical names to the streets in the upper portion of New Orleans, and Dunbar, a town in Pennsylvania, was named after him.

DUNBAR, JAMES HARVEY, lawyer, politician, was born Feb. 15, 1868, in Nicholas county, W. Va. In 1894 he was admitted to the bar, and in 1897 was elected mayor of Montgomery, W. Va. He is prominent in the business affairs of his city, and takes an active part in the public affairs of his county and state.

DUNBAR, PAUL LAURENCE, poet, was born in 1872 in Ohio. He is a poet of Dayton, Ohio, of African descent, and the author of Lyrics of Lowly Life.

DUNBAR, R. O., lawyer, jurist, was born April 26, 1845, in Schuyler county, Ill. He has been city attorney of Golden-dale, Wash., for several terms and prosecuting attorney for his district. In 1885 he was speaker of the territorial house, and in 1889 was elected supreme judge. In 1893 he was chosen chief justice, and in 1894 was again re-elected to the supreme bench for a six-year term.

DUNBAR, RICHARD S., farmer, poet, was born March 4, 1857, in Canada. He has lived in Wisconsin, Missouri, Colorado, and is now engaged in farming in Farlington, Kan. He is a member of the Farmers' Alliance, and has been prominently identified with the populist party. He has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press; is special correspondent for the Inter-State Press association, and is the author of several stories, sketches, and works of fiction.

DUNBAR, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Louisiana from 1853 to 1855.

DUNBAR, WILLIAM S., soldier, physician, legislator, was born Nov. 18, 1823, in Fincastle, Va. He served as captain of company H, eighth regiment West Virginia infantry, in the union army. In 1863 he was a member of the house of delegates of West Virginia, and in 1864-65 was a member of the state senate. He made a great stand against secession; and took a company of forty well-armed men outside of the rebel line, held elections and elected delegates to the constitutional convention, and helped to divide the state of Virginia, and formed the state of West Virginia. He has been successful as a physician, and now resides in Clear Creek, W. Va.

DUNCAN, ALEXANDER, congressman. He was a member of the house of representatives in congress from Ohio, from 1837 to 1841, and from 1843 to 1845. He died March 2, 1852, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

DUNCAN, CHARLES, jurist. He was appointed an associate justice of the United States court for the territory of Wisconsin.

DUNCAN, DANIEL, merchant, congressman, was born July 22, 1806, in Shippenburg, Pa. In 1843 he was elected to the legislature of Ohio from Licking county; and was a representative in congress from 1847 to 1849. He died June 18, 1849, in Washington, D. C.

DUNCAN, FRANCIS MARION, educator, college president, legislator, was born Dec. 23, 1839, in Copp county, Ga. During 1873-76 he was a representative in the general assembly of Georgia, and during 1877-80 was a member of the state senate. Since 1873 he has been president of the Hamilton college of Bremen, Ga.

DUNCAN, GARNETT, lawyer, congressman, was born in Kentucky. He was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1847 to 1849. He died May 25, 1875, in Louisville.

DUNCAN, JAMES, soldier, was born Sept. 10, 1810, in Cornwall, N. Y. He became first lieutenant in 1836 and thereafter served on frontier and garrison duty till 1845. In 1846 he was made captain. He died July 3, 1849, in Mobile, Ala.

DUNCAN, JAMES ARMSTRONG, clergyman, college president, was born April 14, 1820, in Norfolk, Va. From 1868 until his death he was president of Randolph-Macon college. For many years he was editor of The Richmond Christian Advocate. He died Sept. 23, 1877, in Ashland, Va.

DUNCAN, JAMES H., lawyer, clergyman, congressman, was born Dec. 5, 1793, in Haverhill, Mass. He served four years in the state legislature, was a state senator from 1828 to 1831, and state councillor in 1840 and 1841. He was a representative in congress from 1849 to 1853. He subsequently became a baptist minister, and was a trustee of the Newton Theological seminary. He died Feb. 8, 1869, in Haverhill, Mass.

DUNCAN, JOHNSON KELLY, soldier, was born March 19, 1827, in York, Pa. In 1849 he graduated from West Point, and subsequently was in the confederate service as brigadier-general. He died in January, 1863, in Knoxville, Tenn.

DUNCAN, JOSEPH, soldier, congressman, governor, was born Feb. 22, 1789, in Paris, Ky. He was an ensign at the brilliant defense of Fort Stephenson under Colonel Croghan, for which he received from congress the testimonial of a sword, Feb. 13, 1835. He settled in Illinois, and was soon elected major-general of militia. He was state senator, and in the session of 1824-25 originated the law which first established common schools in the state. He was a representative in congress from 1827 to 1835, and was governor of Illinois from 1834 to 1838. He died Jan. 15, 1844, in Jacksonville, Fla.

DUNCAN, MAY C., musician, artist, poet, was born Nov. 24, 1860, in Calaveras county, Cal. She graduated from the state university of California, and subsequently married Dr. M. P. Duncan. Her poems have been widely published in the papers of California, and many of them have been given a place in standard works.

DUNCAN, SHELBY PATTERSON, lawyer, jurist, was born March 2, 1856, in Fayette county, Ky. In 1874 he was admitted to the bar, and has served as city attorney of Fairview, Ill. For many years he taught school; in 1884 moved to Kansas, and since 1888 has practiced his profession at Coldwater. He has been police judge of his city; four years United States circuit court commissioner for district of Kansas; and judge of probate of his county. He has also served two years as prosecuting attorney, and filled various other positions in his county and state.

DUNCAN, THOMAS E., lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Nov. 21, 1837, in Holmes county, Ohio. He is an eminent lawyer and jurist of Mt. Gilead, Ohio; has been representative in the general assembly of Ohio, and judge of the court of common pleas.

DUNCAN, WILLIAM A., lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 2, 1836, in Adams county, Pa. He was elected district attorney in 1862, and again in 1868, and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-eighth congress.

DUNCAN, WILLIAM CECIL, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 24, 1824, in New York city. He was a baptist clergyman of New Orleans, and the author of Life of John the Baptist; History of the Baptists for the First Two Centuries of the Christian Era; The Years of Jesus; and Brief History of the Baptists. He died May 1, 1864, in New Orleans, La.

DUNCAN, WILLIAM STEVENS, physician, author, was born May 24, 1834, in Brownsville, Pa. He is a physician of Brownsville, Pa., and the author of Medical Delusions; and Physiology of Death.

DUNCAN, WILLIAM WALLACE, educator, bishop, was born Dec. 20, 1839, in Boydton, Va. He is an eminent clergyman; was a member of the Virginia conference, and has been a college professor and bishop in the methodist episcopal church south at Spartanburg, S. C.

DUNCANSON, HENRY BRUCE, biologist, author, was born Feb. 4, 1860, in Scotland county, Mo. He has been professor of biology in the Nebraska State Normal school for several years, and is the author of Suggestive Lessons in Elementary Zoölogy.

DUNCOMBE, JOHN FRANCIS, lawyer, legislator, lecturer, was born Oct. 22, 1831, in Erie county, Pa. He received his education at the Alleghany college, Pennsylvania, from which institution he received the degrees of A. B. and A. M.; received the degree of A. M. from the Center college, Ky.; and the degree of LL. D. from Griswold college, Iowa. He has served as a representative and senator in the Iowa legislature for seven terms, general and special sessions. For eighteen years he was regent of the Iowa State university, and for twelve years lectured on Law of Railroads in that institution. For twenty-four years he was curator of the State Historical society of Iowa. During the Spirit Lake Indian war he served as captain of company B. He has been general attorney of the Mason City and Fort Dodge Railroad company, and was the organizer of that company, and for thirty years he has been district attorney of the Central Railroad company, which position he still holds.

tor in the Iowa legislature for seven terms, general and special sessions. For eighteen years he was regent of the Iowa State university, and for twelve years lectured on Law of Railroads in that institution. For twenty-four years he was curator of the State Historical society of Iowa. During the Spirit Lake Indian war he served as captain of company B. He has been general attorney of the Mason City and Fort Dodge Railroad company, and was the organizer of that company, and for thirty years he has been district attorney of the Central Railroad company, which position he still holds.

DUNDAS, JAMES, banker, was born in 1788 in Alexandria, Va. He early settled in Philadelphia, where he became a banker, and was president of the Pennsylvania bank. He died July 4, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUNDAS, JOHN H., journalist, state senator, was born in 1845, in Aurora, Ill. He is the editor and owner of The Granger of Auburn, Neb., which he founded in 1884. In 1896 he was elected a member of the Nebraska state senate.

DUNDY, ELMER S., lawyer, jurist, was born March 5, 1830, in Trumbull county, Ohio. He was elected a member of the upper house of the territorial legislature of Nebraska, in which capacity he served four years. In 1863 he was appointed an associate justice of the supreme court of Nebraska territory; held the office until the territory became a state, in 1867, and in 1868 was appointed United States district judge for the district of Nebraska.

DUNGAN, IRVINE, soldier, state senator, congressman, was born in Canonsburg, Pa. He was elected mayor of Jackson in 1869; was elected state senator from the seventh senatorial district in 1877; and was the author of the first law in Ohio against the truck system. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

DUNGLISON, RICHARD JAMES, physician, author, was born Nov. 13, 1834, in Baltimore, Md. He is a physician of Philadelphia who has issued Practitioner's Reference Book; and Elementary Physiology.

DUNGLISON, ROBLEY, physician, author, was born Jan. 4, 1798, in England. He was an eminent Philadelphia physician, professor in Jefferson Medical college from 1836, and one of the most learned men of his profession. His most important work is his Medical Dictionary, which has a very wide reputation. Other works are, Human Physiology; Elements of Hygiene; General Therapeutics; The Medical Student; The Practice of Medicine; and Commentaries on Diseases of the Stomach and Bowels in Children. He died April 1, 1869, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUNHAM, CARROLL, physician, author, was born Oct. 29, 1828, in New York city. He was a once prominent homeopathic physician of New York, and the author of Homeopathy the Science of Therapeutics; and Lectures in Materia Medica. He died Feb. 18, 1877, in Irvington-on-Hudson, N. Y.

DUNHAM, CYRUS L., lawyer, congressman, was born in New York. He was elected to the legislature of Indiana in 1846 and 1847; was a representative in congress from that state from 1849 to 1855, and served again in the legislature at a subsequent period.

DUNHAM, EMMA B. S., poet, was born in 1826, in Auburn, Maine. She has composed a number of cantatas, and is the author of a work entitled The Home Opera Margaret.

DUNHAM, HARRISON M., lawyer, jurist, was born April 25, 1857, in Highland, Mich. He was judge of his county court for eight years; judge of police court, of Cadillac, Mich., for three terms; and justice of the peace for thirteen years.

DUNHAM, JOHN, pioneer, clergyman, was born Aug. 7, 1827, in Chesterfield, N. H. In 1852 he was ordained a clergyman and spent fifteen years in pioneer work in Indiana along the Wabash river and its branches. He next preached to the Miami Indians, which resulted in the formation of a mission school and several baptist churches. He has attained prominence as a gospel singer, and now resides in Cass City, Mich.

DUNHAM, LEWIS B., lawyer, legislator, was born Oct. 6, 1806, in Mansfield, Conn. He served as a member of the Pennsylvania state legislature. He subsequently moved to Iowa, where he served in the legislature of that state, and died Jan. 1, 1892, in Maquoketa.

DUNHAM, RANSOM W., merchant, congressman, was born March 21, 1838, in Savoy, Mass. He was president of the Chicago board of trade in 1882, and was elected a representative from Illinois to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a republican.

DUNHAM, WARREN JEROME, clergyman, was born July 25, 1872, in Ripley, Ohio. He graduated from the Ohio Wesleyan university of Delaware; has attained distinction as a successful clergyman of the methodist church, and now fills a pastorate at Cleves, Ohio.

DUNHAM, WILLIAM RUSSELL, physician, author, was born Dec. 15, 1833, in Chesterfield, N. H. He is a physician of Keene, N. H., who has published Theory of Medical Science.

DUNIWAY, ABIGAIL SCOTT, journalist, author, was born Oct. 22, 1834, in Groveland, Ill. She is the editor of The Pacific Empire, a weekly journal devoted to the interests of women, and for nearly twenty years was editor and owner of The New Northwest. She is the state president of the Oregon State Equal Suffrage association, vice-president of the Oregon Woman's National Press association, and of various other reform clubs and associations. She is the author of Captain Gray's Company, a pioneer novel; David and Anna Watson, and Other Poems; and numerous serial stories, sketches and poems, which have appeared in her own publications and in the leading newspapers and magazines in America.

Press association, and of various other reform clubs and associations. She is the author of Captain Gray's Company, a pioneer novel; David and Anna Watson, and Other Poems; and numerous serial stories, sketches and poems, which have appeared in her own publications and in the leading newspapers and magazines in America.

DUNKLIN, DANIEL, governor, was born in 1790. He was governor of Missouri from 1832 to 1836. He died Aug. 25, 1844, in Jefferson county, Miss.

DUNLAP, ALEXANDER, physician, was born Jan. 12, 1815, in Brown county, Ohio. He was one of the first surgeons in the country to perform the difficult operation of ovariectomy.

DUNLAP, ANDREW, lawyer, author, was born in 1794 in Salem, Mass. He was United States district attorney for Massachusetts from 1829 till just before his death. He published Admiralty Practice in Civil Cases of Maritime Jurisdiction, which was pronounced by competent judges to be learned, accurate, and well digested. He died in 1835 in Boston, Mass.

DUNLAP, GEORGE WASHINGTON, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 22, 1813, in Fayette county, Ky. He was a member of the Kentucky legislature, also of the border state convention, held in 1861. He was elected a representative from Kentucky to the thirty-seventh congress. In 1864 he was a presidential elector. He died June 6, 1880, in Lancaster, Ky.

DUNLAP, HENRY M., farmer, legislator, was born Nov. 14, 1853, in Leyden, Ill. For two years he was president of the State Horticultural society, and secretary of that body during the world's fair. He has served as a state senator in the Illinois legislature from the thirtieth district.

DUNLAP, JOHN, printer, was born in 1747 in Ireland. He was appointed printer to congress, and first printed the Declaration of Independence. He died Nov. 27, 1812, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DUNLAP, JOHN A., jurist, author, was born about 1793. He was a justice of the peace in New York city, and the author of Practice of the Superior Court of New York in Civil Actions; and Abridgment of the Thirteenth and Fourteenth Books of Coke's Reports. He died in 1858.

DUNLAP, ROBERT, hatter, was born Oct. 17, 1834, in New York city. His firm of R. Dunlap and Co. of New York city, of which he is sole partner, is now the leading hatters of New York city.

DUNLAP, ROBERT PINCKNEY, lawyer, state senator, congressman, governor, was born Aug. 15, 1796, in Brunswick, Maine. He was a member of the state legislature; in 1823 was elected a state senator, serving nine years, and presided over that body four years. In 1833 he was a member of the executive council of Maine; in 1834 was elected governor of Maine, and served four years; and was a representative in congress from 1843 to 1847. During the years 1848 and 1849 he was collector of customs at Portland, and from 1853 to 1857 postmaster of Brunswick. He died Oct. 20, 1859, in Brunswick, Maine.

DUNLAP, SAMUEL FALES, lawyer, author, was born in 1825 in Boston, Mass. He is a lawyer of Boston, and the author of Origin of Ancient Names; and Vestiges of the Spirit History of Man.

DUNLAP, WILLIAM, dramatist, artist, author, was born in 1766 in Perth Amboy, N. J. He was a prominent artist, dramatist, and theatrical manager of New York city. He is the author of Life of George Frederick Cooke; Life of Charles Brockden Brown; The American Theater; History of New York; History, Rise, and Progress of the Arts of Design in the United States; Thirty Years Ago, a novel; New Netherlands, Province of New York; The Father, a comedy; and Leicester, a tragedy. He died Sept. 28, 1839, in New York city.

DUNLAP, WILLIAM C., congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1833 to 1837.

DUNLAP, WILLIAM FREDERICK, journalist, was born Dec. 28, 1859, in Ovid, N. Y. He is the editor and owner of The Times-Record of Valley City, N. D.

DUNLOP, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, was born March 28, 1793, in Georgetown, D. C. In 1838 he was appointed judge of the United States circuit court, was made assistant judge in 1845, and chief justice in 1856, which position he occupied until 1863, when the court was abolished. He died May 6, 1872, in Georgetown, D. C.

DUNLOP, JAMES, lawyer, author, was born in 1795 in Pennsylvania. He was a Pittsburg lawyer, prominent as an opponent of slavery, and the author of Laws of Pennsylvania, 1700-1853, and Digest of the General Laws of the United States. He died April 9, 1856, in Baltimore, Md.

DUNN, CHARLES, jurist. He was an early emigrant to Wisconsin, residing at Elk Grove, and was appointed one of the judges of the United States for that territory.

DUNN, ELIAS BOUND, meteorologist, was born March 23, 1855, in Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1883 he went to Cincinnati, Ohio, as chief weather observer; and in 1884 was made chief of the weather bureau under the United States department of agriculture in New York city.

DUNN, GEORGE G., lawyer, congressman, orator, was born in 1813. He was a representative in congress from Indiana from 1847 to 1849. He died in September, 1857.

DUNN, GEORGE H., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Indiana from 1837 to 1839.

DUNN, JACOB PIATT, state librarian, author. He is the state librarian of Indiana, and the author of History of Indiana; and Massacres of the Mountains, a History of Indian Wars in the Far West.

DUNN, JAMES H., physician, surgeon, was born May 29, 1853, in Fort Wayne, Ind. After graduating in 1871 from the medical department of the university of New York city, he took a two years' post-graduate study at Heidelberg and Vienna. He has been professor of clinical surgery in the medical department of the university of Minnesota; surgeon to St. Mary's hospital of Minneapolis; to the city hospital; the Asbury Methodist hospital, and consulting surgeon to the Great Northern Railroad company. He is an ex-president of the Minnesota State Medical association; and has filled many positions of honor in various other medical bodies.

DUNN, JOHN F., banker, state senator, was born in 1844 in South Carolina. In 1887 he was president of the Merchant's National bank of Ocala, Fla.; became president of the Heather Island Orange company, and has served in the Florida state senate.

DUNN, JOHN V., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1838. He was elected alderman of Elizabeth, N. J., in 1878, and was four times elected to the legislature of New Jersey; was speaker of the house in 1882; and was elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

DUNN, LEWIS ROMAINE, clergyman, author, was born in 1822 in New Jersey. He was a methodist divine of New Jersey, and the author of Lizzie Hagar, the Orphan Girl; The Mission of the Spirit; Angels of God; and Sermons on the Higher Life. He died in 1876.

DUNN, POINDEXTER, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 3, 1834, in Wake county, N. C. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1858; served in the confederate army, and commenced the practice of law in 1867. He was a presidential elector in 1872 and 1876, and was elected a representative from Arkansas to the forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a democrat.

DUNN, WILLIAM MCKEE, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 12, 1814, in Hanover, Ind. He was elected to the Indiana legislature in 1848, and was a member of the state constitutional convention in 1850. In 1858 he was elected a representative from Indiana to the thirty-sixth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-seventh congress. He became assistant judge advocate in the army; was also a delegate to the Philadelphia Loyalists' convention of 1866, and in 1875 was appointed judge advocate-general.

DUNNE, EDMUND FRANCIS, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born in 1835 in Little Falls, N. Y. He removed to Nevada in 1863; was a delegate to the constitutional convention of that state, and was elected a district judge. In 1874 he was appointed chief justice of the United States court for Arizona.

DUNNELL, MARK HILL, soldier, educator, state senator, congressman, was born July 2, 1823, in Buxton, Maine. In 1854 he was elected to the state legislature, and in 1855 to the state senate. During the years 1855-59 he was state superintendent of common schools, and in 1856 was a delegate to the national convention at Philadelphia. In 1861 he entered the union army as colonel of infantry. In 1862 he was United States consul at Vera Cruz, Mexico. In 1865 he went to Minnesota; was a member of the legislature of that state in 1867; was state superintendent of public instruction from 1867 to 1870; and was elected to the forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a republican.

DUNNING, ALBERT ELIJAH, clergyman, journalist, author, was born in 1841 in Connecticut. He is a congregational clergyman of Boston, editor of the Congregationalist; and the author of The Sunday-School Library; Bible Studies; and Congregationalists in America.

DUNNING, MRS. ANNIE KETCHUM, author, was born Nov. 2, 1831, in New York city. She is a prolific writer of Sunday-school tales, mainly for the presbyterian board of publication. Among them are Clementina's Mirror; A Story of Four Lives; Broken Pitchers; and Contradictions.

DUNNING, FRANCES, author, poet, was born Oct. 13, 1841, in Kenosha, Wis. She is the author of a volume of poems which was published in 1877. She is also a prose writer of Madison, Wis., and her contributions for the past ten years have made her name well known in the literary world.

DUNNING, HOMER N., clergyman, author, poet, was born July 17, 1827, in Brookfield, Conn. For thirteen years he was pastor of the First Congregational church of Gloversville, N. Y., and from 1866-83 was pastor of his church at South Norwalk, Conn. His poems have appeared in the secular and religious press, and in several standard works, such as Edwards' Fifth Reader, and Foster's Cyclopedea.

DUNNING, KATE W., educator, poet, was born March 31, 1871, in Chicago, Ill. In 1878 she moved with her parents to Nebraska, where she is now engaged in educational work at Anselmo. She is the author of a number of meritorious poems.

DUNNING, PARIS C., governor. He was governor of Indiana in 1848 and 1849 to fill a vacancy.

DUNNINGTON, FRANCIS PERRY, educator, chemist, author, was born March 3, 1851, in Baltimore, Md. He is the author of numerous chemical investigations, accounts of which have appeared in the Chemical News, American Chemical Journal, the transactions of various societies and elsewhere.

DUNPHY, EDWARD J., lawyer, congressman, was born May 12, 1856, in New York city. He was elected to the fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a Tammany democrat.

DUNROY, W. REED, journalist, poet, was born Oct. 1, 1869, in Galesburg, Ill. He began his literary work as reporter on a daily newspaper, and has contributed numerous meritorious poems to current literature.

DUNSTER, EDWARD SWIFT, physician, was born Sept. 2, 1834, in Springvale, Maine. He was professor of obstetrics and the diseases of women and children in the university of Vermont in 1868-71. He subsequently held the same chair in Long Island Medical college, in the medical department of Dartmouth college, and after 1873 in the university of Michigan. He died May 3, 1888, in Ann Arbor, Mich.

DUNSTER, HENRY, college president, author, was born in 1612, in England. From 1640-54 he was president of Harvard college, serving as its first president. He is the author of Advantages of Schools; and A Faithful Ministry.

DUNTON, FREDERICK WILLIAM, railroad promoter, was born June 9, 1851, in Northville, N. H. He enjoys the distinction of being at the head of the first and only bicycle electric railroad yet built, a section of which has recently been completed near Patchogue, N. Y.

DUNTON, JOHN, author, was born May 14, 1659, in England. In 1705 appeared the Life and Errors of John Dunton, by himself, in which are to be found the lives and characters of more than one thousand contemporary characters of literary eminence, and a description of many of the ministers, booksellers and other citizens of Boston and Salem. He died in 1733 in New England.

DUNTON, LARKIN, educator, was born July 22, 1828, in Concord, Maine. He attended the town schools, Hallowell academy, and the Colby university. For two years he was principal of the Newcastle academy; for seven years principal of the Bath High school, Maine; for four years master of the Lawrence school of Boston, Mass.; and for the past quarter of a century has been head master of the Boston Normal school; and prominent in the educational affairs of New England.

ter of the Boston Normal school; and prominent in the educational affairs of New England.

DUPONCEAU, PIERRE ETIENNE, lawyer, author, was born in 1760 in France. He was a Frenchman who came to America as aid to Baron Steuben, settled in Philadelphia, and became eminent as a lawyer. He was president of the American Philosophical society, and his Memoir on the Indian Languages of North America attracted much attention among scholars. He died in 1844 in Philadelphia, Pa.

DU PONT, HENRY ALGERNON, soldier, railroad president, was born July 30, 1838, in Wilmington, Del. He served through the civil war, and received the rank of lieutenant-colonel. In 1879 he was elected president of the Wilmington and Northern Railroad company.

DUPRE, LUCIUS GARLAND, lawyer, was born Oct. 18, 1868, in Opelousas, La. He has attained prominence as an able lawyer of the city of his nativity, where he has filled many public offices with honor.

DUPUY, ELIZA ANN, author, was born about 1814 in Petersburg, Va. She was a sensational novelist of Kentucky, for many years a regular contributor of serial stories to the New York Ledger. Among them are The Conspirator, a story of Aaron Burr; The Huguenot Exiles; and The Concealed Treasure. She died in January, 1881, in New Orleans, La.

DUPUY, ELIZABETH, poet, was born in 1868, in Prospect, Va. Her poems have appeared extensively in the St. Louis, Cincinnati, and Louisville journals, and in several standard collections.

DU PUY, RAYMOND, railroad president, was born Jan. 4, 1860, in Pittsburg, Pa. In 1895 he became president of the De Kalb and Great Western railway.

DURAND, ASHER BROWN, artist, was born Aug. 21, 1796, in Jefferson, N. J. He has attained a national reputation as an artist. Among his best known works are Notch of the Primeval Forest, and Clove in the Catskills.

DURAND, CYRUS, engraver, inventor, was born Feb. 27, 1787, in Jefferson village, N. J. He invented a machine for ruling straight and wave lines for bank notes, and subsequently invented similar machines for drawing water-lines and plain ovals. He then devoted himself to bank-note engraving; was a genius in that art; and was considered capable of working in twenty-two different occupations. He died Sept. 18, 1868, in Irvington, N. J.

DURAND, GEORGE H., lawyer, mayor, congressman, was born Feb. 21, 1838, in Cobleskill, N. Y. He served as alderman of the city of Flint for three consecutive terms; was elected mayor in 1873; re-elected in 1874, and was elected a representative to the forty-fourth congress.

DURAND, HENRY SMITH, underwriter, banker, founder, was born Feb. 13, 1817, in Cheshire, Conn. In 1856 he organized the Commercial bank of Racine, Wis., of which he was president for several years; was chosen president of the Racine and Mississippi railroad, which he founded. He was one of the founders of the city of La Crosse, Wis., and did much to aid its development into the second largest city in Wisconsin.

DURANG, CHARLES, author, was born in 1796 in Philadelphia, Pa. He was actor, author, stage manager, prompter, ballet-master, and finally opened a dancing academy. He was the author of a History of the Philadelphia Stage from 1752 to 1854. He died Feb. 15, 1870, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DURANT, CHARLES S., aeronaut, author, was born about 1805. He was the author of several books of a scientific character, one of which was a Treatise on Shells and Sea-Weeds. He died March 2, 1873, in Jersey City, N. J.

DURANT, CHARLES W., railroad president, was born April 23, 1821, in Hinsdale, Mass. In 1859 he became interested in the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad, and was its president for many years. He afterward engaged in the sugar refining business with his sons under the name of Charles W. Durant and Sons. He died April 5, 1885, in New York city.

DURANT, HENRY, college president, was born June 17, 1803, in Acton, Mass. In 1870 he founded and became the first president of the university of California, serving until 1871. In 1872 he was elected mayor of Oakland, Cal., serving until his death. He died Jan. 22, 1875, in Oakland, Cal.

DURANT, HENRY TOWLE, lawyer, philanthropist, was born Feb. 20, 1822, in Hanover, N. H. He devoted his life to the cause of the Christian religion, and was instrumental in providing a college where women could obtain superior education. His plans were put into execution and Wellesley college resulted. This institution, built and equipped at an expense of $1,000,000, was opened in September, 1875, and has since been maintained at an expense of $50,000 per annum. He died Oct. 3, 1881, in Wellesley, Mass.

DURANT, HORACE BLAIR, soldier, physician, journalist, prohibitionist, poet, was born Dec. 27, 1828, in Washington county, Pa. He graduated from Jefferson college of Canonsburg, Pa., and for several years taught school. He then practiced medicine for about twenty years.

In 1861 he enlisted with the first troops from Pennsylvania, serving for awhile in the ranks as a private soldier, until commissioned first assistant surgeon of his regiment. Dr. Durant has for many years been a pronounced advocate of political prohibition, being one of the St. John electors in 1884. In 1878, in conjunction with his wife, he published the first newspaper devoted to prohibition in Pennsylvania; and in 1884 wrote the first song-book of the prohibition party. He has been editor and founder of four papers in Pennsylvania. The poems of Dr. Durant have attracted considerable attention, and have been given a place in several standard works.

DURANT, THOMAS JEFFERSON, lawyer, state senator, was born Aug. 8, 1817, in Philadelphia, Pa. He removed to New Orleans and was elected state senator; afterward appointed United States district attorney for Louisiana, and then became attorney-general of the state. He died Feb. 4, 1882, in Washington, D. C.

DURBIN, JOHN PRICE, clergyman, author, was born in 1800 in Bourbon county, Ky. He was a methodist clergyman noted for his eloquence, who was missionary secretary of the methodist episcopal church, in 1850-72. He was the author of Observations in Europe; and Observations in Egypt, Palestine, Syria, and Asia Minor. He died in 1876.

DURBOROW, ALLAN CATHCART, merchant, congressman, was born Nov. 10, 1857, in Philadelphia, Pa. After two years' residence in Indianapolis he moved to Chicago, where he has since been engaged in business. He has always been active in local politics; and was elected to the fifty-second and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

DURELL, DANIEL M., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1769 in Massachusetts. He was a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1807 to 1809; and held the post of United States district attorney from 1830 to 1834. He died in 1841.

DURELL, EDWARD HENRY, jurist, was born July 14, 1810, in Portsmouth, N. H. In 1863 he was appointed United States judge for the district of Louisiana.

DURFEE, BRADFORD MATTHEW CHALONER, merchant, was born June 15, 1843, in Fall River, Mass. Durfee hall, one of the finest college dormitories in the United States, was his gift to Yale, which honored him with the degree of A. M. in 1871. He died Sept. 13, 1872, in Fall River, Mass.

DURFEE, JOB, lawyer, jurist, congressman, author, was born Sept. 20, 1790, in Tiverton, R. I. He was for a long time chief justice of Rhode Island, and for many years was a member of the state legislature and speaker of the house. He was a representative in congress from Rhode Island from 1821 to 1825. He was the author of What Cheer? or, Roger Williams in Exile; and Panidea, a philosophical treatise. He died July 26, 1847, in Tiverton, R. I.

DURFEE, NATHANIEL B., agriculturist, congressman, was born Sept. 29, 1812, in Tiverton, R. I. He represented the town of Warwick several years in the state legislature, and the town of Tiverton four years. He was elected a member of the thirty-fourth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-fifth congress.

DURFEE, WILLIAM FRANKLIN, engineer, was born Nov. 15, 1833, in New Bedford, Mass. In 1853 he became an engineer and architect in his native town, and for five years held the appointment of city surveyor. He was chosen as one of the representatives of New Bedford in the legislature of 1861, and, as secretary of its military committee, was active in forwarding legislation for the equipment of troops at the beginning of the civil war. He equipped at Wyandotte, Mich., the first analytical laboratory built as an adjunct to steel works in the United States.

DURFEE, ZOHETH SHEARMAN, manufacturer, inventor, was born April 22, 1831, in Fall River, Mass. In 1866 the Pneumatic Steel association was formed, of which he was elected secretary and treasurer, and remained its active manager until 1879. He has made numerous inventions in machinery for the manufacture of steel industry than any other American of his generation. He died June 8, 1880, in Providence, R. I.

DURGIN, MARY LYLE, artist, was born Feb. 3, 1850, in Wilmington, Mass. She studied art in Paris, France, where her pictures were exhibited in the French salons in 1884 and 1886. In 1890 she painted four large mural paintings for the walls of the First Congregational church of Detroit, Mich. Her studio is in Boston.

DURHAM, JOHN STEPHENS, diplomat, was born July 18, 1861, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was editor of the University Journal of Philadelphia, Pa.; and reporter on the Philadelphia Times. In 1890 he was appointed United States consul to San Domingo; and in 1891 was United States minister to the republic of Hayti.

DURHAM, JUDSON P., educator, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 2, 1853, in Canada. For six years he was a missionary on the plains; and now fills a pastorate in Vermontville, Mich. He is the author of one published work, and is a constant contributor to current literature.

DURHAM, MILTON JAMISON, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born May 16, 1824, in Mercer county, Ky. He was a circuit judge of Kentucky in 1861-62. He was elected to the forty-third congress, and re-elected to the forty-fourth congress. In 1875 he was appointed chairman of the committee on revision of laws; and re-elected to the forty-fifth congress. In 1885 he was appointed first comptroller of the United States treasury.

DURIVAGE, FRANCIS ALEXANDER, author, was born in 1814 in Massachusetts. He was a magazinist of Boston, among whose writings are The Fatal Casket; Life Scenes from the World Around Us; and Cyclopedia of History. He died in 1881.

DURKEE, CHARLES, merchant, congressman, United States senator, governor, was born Dec. 5, 1807, in Royalton, Vt. He was a merchant; removed to Wisconsin; and was elected to the legislature of that state in 1837 and 1838. He was a representative in congress in 1848 and 1850 from Wisconsin; and was a United States senator for six years, commencing in 1855. He was a delegate to the peace congress of 1861; and in 1865 was appointed governor of Utah. He died Jan. 14, 1870, in Omaha, Neb.

DURKEE, JOHN, soldier, was born in 1728 in Windham, Conn. He distinguished himself at Bunker Hill, and commanded a regiment in the battles of Long Island, Germantown, Harlem, White Plains, Trenton, and Monmouth, and was in Gen. John Sullivan's expedition against the Six Nations in 1779. He died May 29, 1782, in Norwich, Conn.

DURKEE, JOSEPH HARVEY, soldier, lawyer, state senator, was born July 16, 1837, in Oneida county, N. Y. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of captain. He took up his residence in Jacksonville, and was subsequently elected state senator, resigning before the close of his second term to accept the position of United States marshal, which position he held until 1885, when he resigned to take that of master in chancery in the United States courts.

DUROCHER, LAURENT, soldier, lawyer, statesman, was born in 1786 at St. Genevieve Mission, Mo. He was a member of the first constitutional convention in 1835; state senator in 1835 and 1836; and representative in 1839. He also held the offices of justice of the peace, probate judge, circuit clerk, and clerk of the city of Monroe, where he died Sept. 21, 1861.

DURRETT, REUBEN THOMAS, lawyer, orator, author, was born Jan. 22, 1824, in Henry county, Ky. After studying at the Georgetown college, he graduated in 1849 from the Brown university; and at the law department of the university of Louisville a year later. During 1857-59 he was editor and part owner of the Louisville Courier. During 1850-80 he practiced his profession in Louisville; was founder of the public library of Kentucky; founder of the Louisville Abstract and Loan association; and founder of the Filson club of Louisville. He is president of the associations that he has formed, and a member of various historical societies. He is the author of The Life and Writings of John Filson, the first historian of Kentucky; and a series of articles on the Kentucky Resolutions of 1798-99. He has distinguished himself as a lawyer, speaker, writer, and author; and received the degrees of A. B., A. M., and LL. D. from Brown university.

DURRIE, DANIEL STEELE, educator, antiquarian, author, was born Jan. 2, 1819, in Albany, N. Y. In 1858 he became librarian of the State Historical society of Wisconsin. He has been superintendent of public schools at Roxbury, and secretary of the Madison board of education. Among his publications are genealogical histories of the Steele and Holt families; Bibliographica Genealogica Americana, or Index to American Pedigrees; History of Madison, Wis.; and the Four-Lake Country (with W. B. Davis); History of Missouri; and Wisconsin Biographical Dictionary.

DURSTON, ALFRED S., clergyman, was born May 1, 1848, in England. He has filled pastorates in Berlin, Mass.; and at Borodino and Syracuse, N. Y. In 1883 he became general secretary of the Syracuse Young Men's Christian association.

DURTHALLER, JOSEPH, clergyman, college president, was born Nov. 28, 1819, in Alsace. In 1860 he was elected president of St. Francis Xavier college, serving until 1863. He died May 3, 1885, in New York city.

DURYEA, HARMANUS B., soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born July 12, 1815, in Newtown, N. Y. In 1847 he was district attorney for Queens county, N. Y.; and in 1857 was elected a member of the assembly for Kings county. He served in the civil war and organized the thirteenth, fourteenth and twenty-eighth regiments of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DURYEE, ABRAM, soldier, was born April 29, 1815, in New York city. He accumulated a fortune as a mahogany merchant in New York. He entered the New York state militia in 1833, and served in the one hundred and forty-second regiment. Five years later he joined the twenty-seventh regiment (now the seventh) as a private, and rose gradually until he became its colonel in 1849, holding that office for fourteen years. During the Astor place riots he commanded his regiment and was twice wounded.

DURYEE, WILLIAM RANKIN, soldier, clergyman, author, was born April 10, 1838, in Newark, N. J. In 1864 he became pastor of the Reformed church at Lafayette, Jersey City, N. J. He has published a premium tract for soldiers, entitled Sentinels for the Soul; Our Mission Work Abroad; Centennial Discourses of the Reformed Church; and critical essays and poems in religious journals. His song of The Kingdom of Home was awarded a prize.

DUSENBERRY, FRANCES L., publisher, author, was born in Rochelle, Ill. In 1887 she founded, in conjunction with her sister, Lucy Ella Dusenberry, the Purdy Publishing company of Chicago. They attained success in publishing books on metaphysical subjects, securing the control of these books by paying the authors a royalty. For several years she edited and published The Chicago Woman's News; and now publishes The Chicago Vegetarian.

DUSS, JOHN SAMUEL, philanthropist, was born Feb. 22, 1860, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is the senior trustee of the Harmony society of Economy, Pa., one of the most unique and at one time wealthy and picturesque communistic organizations that has ever existed.

DUSTIN, DANIEL, soldier. He served during the war as commander of the second brigade, third division of the twentieth army corps, with distinction. During President Harrison's term of office General Dustin served as assistant United States treasurer in Chicago, until his death, which occurred in 1893.

DUSTIN, HANNAH, heroine of New England, was born about 1655. She was the mother of thirteen children. When the Indians attacked Haverhill, March 15, 1698, her husband, with the children, escaped, and she, with an infant and her nurse, was captured. After proceeding a short distance, the infant was killed. Mrs. Dustin was taken to an island at the junction of the Merrimack and Contoocook rivers, being assigned to an Indian family of twelve persons. With the aid of a nurse and a boy, also a prisoner, she killed the Indians with a hatchet, all but a favorite boy and a wounded squaw, who escaped, and returned safely to Haverhill with their scalps. Her house, occupied by Thomas Dustin, a descendant, was standing in 1816.

DUSTIN, WILLIAM G., journalist, was born June 7, 1850, in Corinth, Vt. He is the editor and owner of the Star and Herald of Dwight, Ill.; is prominent in republican politics; and was a delegate to the state conventions of 1892 and 1896. In 1896 he was elected commander of the Illinois division Sons of Veterans; and has filled numerous positions of honor in his county and state.

DUTCHER, ADDISON PORTER, physician, author, was born Oct. 11, 1818, in Durham, N. Y. He was a physician at Cleveland; and the author of Selections from My Portfolio, essays on Popular and Scientific Subjects; Pulmonary Tuberculosis; Sparks from the Forge of a Rough Thinker; and Two Voyages to Europe. He died Jan. 30, 1884, in Cleveland, Ohio.

DUTCHER, JACOB C., clergyman, author, was born about 1820. He is a Dutch reformed clergyman of New York; and the author of Requisites of National Greatness; The Prodigal Son; Our Fallen Heroes; The Old Home by the River; and Frank Lyttleton, or Winning His Way.

DUTCHER, JOHN BOWDISH, capitalist, legislator, was born Feb. 13, 1830, in Dover, N. Y. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1861 and 1862; and of the state senate in 1864 and 1865. He is president of the Union Stock Yard and Market Co. of New York; president of the National bank of Pawling; and president of the village of Pawling and the New York State Agricultural society.

DUTCHER, SILAS B., banker, was born July 12, 1829, in Springfield, Ohio. In 1884 he was elected president of the Union Dime Savings institution of New York; and in 1891 became president of the Hamilton's Trust company of Brooklyn, N. Y.

DUTTON, CLARENCE EDWARD, soldier, surveyor, author, was born May 15, 1841, in Wallingford, Conn. He is an officer in the United States army associated with the geological survey. He is the author of Geology of the High Plateaus of Utah; Tertiary History of the Grand Canon District; Hawaiian Volcanoes; Mount Taylor and the Zuni Plateau; and The Charleston Earthquake of 1886.

DUTTON, EVERELL FLETCHER, soldier, banker, was born Jan. 4, 1838, in Charlestown, N. H. During the civil war he served as first lieutenant and captain of the thirteenth Illinois volunteers; was major and colonel in the one hundred and fifth Illinois infantry; and brevet brigadier-general United States volunteers. He is president of the National bank of Sycamore, Ill.

DUTTON, GEORGE WASHINGTON, soldier, physician, author, was born Dec. 18, 1826, in Sheldon, Vt. He enlisted in 1846 in an Ohio regiment of volunteers, and served during the Mexican war in the commissary and medical departments. Among his contributions to medical literature is a paper on Treatment of Fracture of the Femur, printed in the Transactions of the California Medical society for 1874.

DUTTON, HENRY, educator, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, governor, author, was born Feb. 12, 1796, in Plymouth, Conn. He was attorney for the state, professor of law in Yale college; and served five years in the legislature and one year in the state senate. He was elected governor of Connecticut in 1854; from 1861 to 1866 was judge of the superior court, and of the supreme court of errors. He died April 12, 1869, in New Haven, Conn.

DUTTON, HENRY WORTHINGTON, journalist, was born April 17, 1796, in Lebanon, Conn. For twenty-five years the firm of Dutton and Wentworth in Boston, Mass., had been state printers, the contract terminating in 1852. He died April 15, 1875, in Boston, Mass.

DUTTON, SAMUEL WILLIAM SOUTH-MAYD, clergyman, author, was born March 14, 1814, in Guilford, Conn. In 1843 upon the establishment of the New Englander, he became one of the associate editors. He published various addresses, and a History of the North Church during the Last Century. He died Jan. 26, 1866, in Milbury, Mass.

DUVAL, GABRIEL, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 6, 1752, in Prince George county, Md. He served as a clerk to the first legislature of Maryland, before the declaration of independence; and was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1794 to 1796. He was a presidential elector in 1796 and 1800; comptroller of the United States treasury in 1802; and in 1811 was appointed a judge of the supreme court of the United States, which office he held for twenty-five years. He died March 6, 1844, in Prince George county, Md.

DUVAL, HENRY REMAN, railroad president, was born Oct. 17, 1842, in Baltimore, Md. He was receiver of the Florida Railway Navigation Co. from 1885 to 1889 when the property of that company passed to the Florida Central and Peninsular R. R. Co., of which he became president.

DUVAL, ISAAC H., soldier, state senator, congressman, was born Sept. 1, 1824, in Wellsburg, Va. He entered the volunteer army from Virginia in 1861 as a major; and was brevetted a major-general. He subsequently served two years in the state senate of West Virginia; also two years as adjutant-general of the state; and in 1868 was elected a representative from West Virginia to the forty-first congress as a republican.

DUVAL, JOHN POPE, soldier, lawyer, author, was born June 3, 1790, in Richmond, Va. He served as a first lieutenant in the war of 1812; and was promoted to captain in 1814. He served with the rank of brigadier-general in the Texan service. He then returned to Florida as secretary of the territory; and subsequently published a Digest of the Laws of Florida. He died about 1855 in Florida.

DUVAL, THOMAS H., jurist, was born in Virginia. He emigrated to Texas, and settled at Austin; and in 1857 was appointed United States judge for the western district of Texas.

DUVAL, WILLIAM P., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1784 in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1813 to 1815; and in 1822 was appointed governor of Florida. He served as a captain of mounted volunteers in 1812; and in 1848 removed to Texas. He died March 19, 1854, in Washington, D. C.

DUVALL, ALVIN, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born March 20, 1813, in Georgetown, Ky. In 1850 he was elected a member of the Kentucky legislature; two years later was appointed circuit judge; and in 1854 was elected judge of the court of appeals. He died Nov. 17, 1891, in Frankfort, Ky.

DUVENECK, FRANK, artist, was born about 1845 in Covington, Ky. He sent five portraits to the Boston Art club in 1875; and has since attained high rank as a successful artist.

DUYCKINCK, EVERT AUGUSTUS, author, was born Nov. 23, 1816, in New York city. He was a literary critic of New York city, who with his brother George, was the author of an Encyclopædia of American Literature, first issued in 1855. Other works by the elder Duyckinck are History of the War for the Union; and Biography of Eminent Men and Women of Europe and America. He died in 1878.

DUYCKINCK, GEORGE LONG, author, was born Oct. 17, 1823, in New York city. He was a writer of New York city who, beside his share in the Encyclopædia of American Literature, was the author of Lives of George Herbert; Bishop Ken; Jeremy Taylor; and Bishop Latimer. He died in 1863.

DWIGHT, BENJAMIN WOODBRIDGE, educator, author, was born April 5, 1816, in New Haven, Conn. He was an educator of New York city; and the author of The Higher Christian Education; Modern Philosophy; Modern Philology; Woman's Higher Culture; The True Doctrine of Divine Providence; History of the Dwight Family in America; and History of the Strong Family. He died in 1889.

DWIGHT, BENJAMIN WOOLSEY, physician, author, was born Feb. 10, 1780, in Northampton, Mass. He was treasurer of Hamilton college in 1831-50. He published the first article ever published in this country on Chronic Debility of the Stomach. He died May 18, 1850, in Clinton, N. Y.

DWIGHT, EDMUND, merchant, author, was born Sept. 3, 1824, in Boston, Mass. In 1871 he went abroad to superintend the distribution of the fund raised by subscription in Boston for the relief of the suffering caused in France by the war with Germany, and on his return he published an interesting Report to the Executive Committee of the French Relief Fund.

DWIGHT, EDWIN WELLES, clergyman, author, was born in 1789 in Massachusetts. He was a congregational clergyman of Richmond, Mass., whose only publication was a History of Berkshire County. He died in 1841.

DWIGHT, FRANCIS, lawyer, educator, journalist, was born March 14, 1808, in Springfield, Mass. In 1840 he established in Albany The District School Journal, under state patronage, which he conducted until his death. He was active in devising and establishing the present code of public instruction in the state of New York. He died Dec. 15, 1845, in Albany, N. Y.

DWIGHT, HARRISON GRAY OTIS, missionary, author, was born in 1803 in Massachusetts. He was a congregational missionary to Armenia; and the author of Researches of Smith and Dwight in Armenia; Christianity Revived in the East; and Catalogue of Armenian Literature in the Middle Ages. He was killed in a railroad accident Jan. 25, 1862.

DWIGHT, HENRY EDWIN, educator, author, was born April 19, 1797, in New Haven, Conn. He was an educator of New Haven who published Travels in the North of Germany. He died Aug. 11, 1832, in New Haven, Conn.

DWIGHT, HENRY OTIS, soldier, author, was born in 1843 in Turkey. He was a federal officer during the civil war, who was a correspondent of the New York Tribune from Constantinople, 1876-79. He is the author of Turkish Life in War Times.

DWIGHT, HENRY WILLIAMS, state legislator, congressman, was born Feb. 26, 1788, in Stockbridge, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1818 and 1834; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1821 to 1831. He died Feb. 21, 1845, in New York.

DWIGHT, JEREMIAH W., business man, state legislator, congressman, was born in Cincinnatus, N. Y. He was a member of the state house of representatives in 1860 and 1861; and was a delegate to the republican national convention of 1868. He was president of the Dwight Farm and Land company of Dakota; and was elected a representative from New York to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, and forty-seventh congresses as a republican. He died Nov. 26, 1885.

DWIGHT, JOHN SULLIVAN, journalist, author, poet, was born May 13, 1813, in Boston, Mass. He was a distinguished musical critic of Boston, and the editor of Dwight's Journal of Music in 1852-81. He was the author of a History of Music in Boston and the poem God Save the State. He died in 1893.

DWIGHT, JOSEPH, soldier, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Oct. 16, 1703, in Dedham, Mass. He was a distinguished jurist of Worcester and Berkshire counties, Mass., during 1733-61. He served at the head of a brigade of militia at Lake Champlain in the second French war. For eleven years he was a representative in the state legislature, and was speaker of the house in 1749. He died June 9, 1765, in Great Barrington, Mass.

DWIGHT, MARY ANN, educator, author, was born in 1806 in Massachusetts. She was a teacher of drawing and painting in New York city; and the author of Grecian and Roman Mythology; Introduction to the Study of Art; and Art as a Branch of Education. She died in December, 1858, in Morrisania, N. Y.

DWIGHT, NATHANIEL, physician, clergyman, author, was born in 1770 in Massachusetts. He was a physician and clergyman of Rhode Island and Connecticut, who published the first school geography in America, and was author also of The Great Question Answered; and A Compendious History of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence. He died in 1831.

DWIGHT, SERENO EDWARDS, educator, clergyman, author, was born in 1786 in Connecticut. He was a congregational clergyman and educator; and the author of Life of David Brainerd; The Hebrew Wife; and Select Discourses. He edited the Works of Jonathan Edwards. He died Nov. 30, 1850, in Philadelphia, Pa.

DWIGHT, SUSAN EDWARDS, author, was born in 1788. She aided her husband in preparing the works of Jonathan Edwards; and published an Abridgment of the Memoirs of Mrs. Susan Huntington. She died in 1851 in Boston, Mass.

DWIGHT, THEODORE, lawyer, journalist, state senator, congressman, author, was born Dec. 6, 1764, in Northampton, Mass. For a number of years he was a state senator in Connecticut; and was a representative in congress from Connecticut during the years 1806 and 1807. In 1815 he established the Albany Daily Advertiser; and in 1817 founded the New York Daily Advertiser, which he conducted with signal ability until 1836, when he removed to Hartford, Conn., and retired from active life. He was one of the founders of the American Bible society; and wrote a Life of Thomas Jefferson; A Dictionary of Roots and Derivations; and A History of the Hartford Convention. He died June 11, 1846, in New York.

DWIGHT, THEODORE, author, was born March 3, 1796, in Hartford, Conn. He was a New York littérateur whose varied writings include Tour in Italy; New Gazetteer of the United States; History of Connecticut; Summer Tour of New England; The Northern Traveler; The Roman Republic of 1849; The Kansas War; Life of Garibaldi; The Father's Book; First Lessons in Modern Greek; and School Dictionary of Roots and Derivatives. He died Oct. 16, 1866, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

DWIGHT, THEODORE WILLIAM, educator, lawyer, jurist, author, was born July 18, 1822, in Catskill, N. Y. He was a jurist of note who was professor of municipal law in Columbia college; and the author of Argument in the Rose Will Case; Trial by Impeachment; and Prisons and Reformatories. He died June 28, 1892, in Clinton, N. Y.

DWIGHT, THOMAS, educator, state senator, congressman. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1794 and 1795; a state senator from 1796 to 1803 and in 1813; a member of the executive council in 1808 and 1809; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1803 to 1805. He died in 1819.

DWIGHT, THOMAS, educator, author, was born Oct. 13, 1843, in Boston, Mass. He is a physician of Boston, and successor to O. W. Holmes as professor of anatomy in the Harvard Medical school. He is the author of Anatomy of the Head; and The Intracranial Circulation.

DWIGHT, TIMOTHY, educator, clergyman, college president, author, was born May 14, 1752, in Northampton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman who was a very prominent figure in the early history of the republic, and as president of Yale college, 1795-1817, of great influence as an educator as well. His most important work is Theology Explained and Defended in a Course of One Hundred and Seventy-three Sermons, which has gone into more than one hundred editions. Other prose works are Genuineness and Authenticity of the Old Testament; Observations on Language; Essay on Light; Travels in New England and New York, which still furnishes entertaining reading. His writings in verse include The Conquest of Canaan, a very ponderous epic; Greenfield Hill, a pastoral; and The Triumph of Infidelity, a satire. He died Jan. 11, 1817, in New Haven, Conn.

DWIGHT, TIMOTHY, clergyman, college president, author, was born in 1822 in Connecticut. He is a congregational clergyman, president of Yale university from 1886, and one of the members of the New Testament Revision company. He is the author of The True Ideal of an American University.

DWIGHT, WILLIAM BUCK, scientist, was born May 22, 1833, in Turkey. He is a scientist who has been curator of Vassar College museum for many years.

DWINELL, JUSTIN, congressman. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1821 and 1822; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1823 to 1825.

DWYER, EDWARD A., was born May 12, 1858, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is prominent in railroad unions, and was president of the local union of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association of North America in 1894.

DWYER, JEREMIAH, manufacturer, was born Aug. 22, 1837, in Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1871 Mr. Dwyer and others organized the well-known Michigan Stove company, of which he is president. He is also a director of the People's Savings bank of Detroit; and vice-president of Buck Stove and Range company.

DYATT, HUGH, miner, legislator, was born July 19, 1850, in County Antrim, Province Ulster, Ireland. He is of Scotch and Irish descent; attended the country schools; and was reared in the Presbyterian belief. His early days were spent in agricultural pursuits; and in 1877 moved to Colorado, where he has since been principally engaged in mining. In 1892 he was elected a member of the ninth general assembly of the state of Colorado, receiving the unanimous nomination of both republican and populist conventions. He is a man of strong convictions, and takes advanced ground in all public matters; and is interested in everything pertaining to the public welfare of his state. He has been successful in his mining operations and owns extensive mining property near Leadville, Colo. He was the organizer of the Merchants State bank of Almena, and is its vice-president. In 1898 he was a candidate for the Colorado state senate.

DYCKMAN, JACOB, physician, author, was born in 1788 in New York. He was a physician of New York city who was the author of Pathology of Human Fluids. He died in 1822.

DYE, WILLIAM McENTYRE, soldier, author, was born Jan. 26, 1831, in Washington, Pa. He was brevetted brigadier-general in 1865. He served in the army until 1879; when he entered the civil service in Washington, D. C. He is the author of Moslem Egypt and Christian Abyssinia, or Military Service under the Khedive.

DYER, ALEXANDER BRYDIE, soldier, was born Jan. 10, 1815, in Richmond, Va. In 1837 he graduated from West Point; and for the following ten years performed garrison and ordnance in different parts of the country. For his services during the Mexican war he was brevetted first lieutenant and captain. In 1864 he was promoted to be chief of ordnance, with the rank of brigadier-general. And in 1865 he was brevetted major-general for faithful, meritorious and distinguished services. He held the position of chief of ordnance until his death, and during his incumbency he increased in many ways the efficiency of the service. He died May 20, 1874, in Washington, D. C.

DYER, MRS. CATHERINE CORNELIA (JOY), author, was born in Ludlowville, N. Y. She is the author of Henry and the Bird's Nest; Sunny Days Abroad; Brief History of the Joy Family; and Records of the Dyer Family.

DYER, CHARLES E., lawyer, jurist, was born Oct. 5, 1824, in Cicero, N. Y. In 1859 he was elected city attorney of Racine, Wis.; and was re-elected in 1860. In 1866 he was elected a representative in the state legislature, and was re-elected in 1867. In 1875 he was appointed United States district judge for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

DYER, CHARLES VOLNEY, abolitionist, was born June 12, 1808, in Clarendon, Vt. He removed in 1835 to Chicago, and soon became acting surgeon in Fort Dearborn. He was successful in his practice and business adventures, retiring from the former in 1854, and becoming agent for the underground railroad in Chicago. He died April 24, 1878, in Lake View, Ill.

DYER, DAVID PATTERSON, soldier, lawyer, legislator, congressman, was born Feb. 12, 1838, in Henry county, Va. He moved to Missouri, and was elected a district prosecuting attorney in 1860; and was elected to the state legislature in 1862 and 1865. He had command of the forty-ninth Missouri volunteers during a part of the rebellion. He was elected secretary of the state senate in 1866; was a delegate to the Chicago convention of 1868; and was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-first congress.

DYER, ELIPHALET, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 28, 1721, in Windham, Conn. He was a representative to the general court; and was appointed to the command of a Connecticut regiment during the French war in 1755. He was elected a member of the council in 1762; and was a delegate to the stamp act congress of 1765. He was a delegate to the continental congress in 1774, and held a seat in that body during the war, excepting 1779. He was appointed judge of the supreme court in 1766; was chief justice from 1789 to 1793. He died May 13, 1807, in Windham, Conn.

DYER, ELISHA, governor. He was governor of Rhode Island for two years, beginning with 1857.

DYER, HEMAN, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 24, 1810, in Shaftsbury, Vt. He is an episcopal clergyman of New York city; and the author of Voice of the Lord upon the Waters; and Records of an Active Life, an autobiography.

DYER, JOHN J., jurist. He was an early emigrant to Iowa; and prior to the year 1850 was appointed United States judge for the three districts of Iowa.

DYER, OLIVER, journalist, author, was born April 26, 1824, in Porter, N. Y. He became an expert in phonography, and went to Washington in 1848 as a reporter in the United States senate. In 1871 he was engaged to write exclusively for the New York Ledger. He was ordained a minister in 1876, and became pastor of the New Church society in Mount Vernon, N. Y. He is the author of the Wickedest Man in New York; and Great Senators.

DYER, SIDNEY, clergyman, author, poet, was born Feb. 11, 1814, in Cambridge, N. Y. He is a baptist clergyman of Philadelphia, well known as a songwriter. He is the author of Voices of Nature and Thoughts in Rhyme; Psalmist for Use of Baptist Churches; Songs and Ballads; The Drunkard's Child; Ruth, a Cantata; Black Diamonds; Home and Abroad; Hoofs and Claws; Ocean Gardens and Palaces; Elmdale Lyceum; and The Beautiful Ladder, or the Two Students.

EADES, HARVEY L., founder, author, was born in 1806, in Logan county, Ky. He was one of the founders and a leader of the Shaker society of Kentucky. He was also the author of a number of religious and metaphysical books and pamphlets.

EADS, JAMES BUCHANAN, was born May 23, 1820, in Lawrenceburg, Ind. He was a civil engineer of distinction and the designer of the Mississippi jetties. He was the author of System of Naval Defence; Mouth of the Mississippi, the Jetty System Explained; and Discussion on Upright Bridges. He died March 8, 1887, in the Bahama Islands.

EAGAN, DENNIS, soldier, legislator was born Feb. 4, 1844, in Ireland. He served as a soldier during the civil war. He served as a member of the state senate of Florida for two terms, and for many years was United States commissioner under several administrations.

EAGER, DeWITT, merchant, state legislator, was born April 20, 1850, in Sangersfield, N. Y. He is a successful merchant of Beaver Crossing, Neb.; and in 1897 was elected a member of the Nebraska state legislature. He has traveled extensively throughout the west and Alaska. In the Nebraska state legislature he takes a prominent part in all debates, and serves on the most important committees.

EAGER, S. W., congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1829 to 1831.

EAGLE, HENRY, naval officer, was born April 7, 1801, in New York city. In 1818 he entered the navy as midshipman; was promoted commodore. He died Nov. 26, 1882.

EAGLE, JAMES P., soldier, governor, was born Aug. 10, 1837, in Tennessee. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He represented Lonoke county in the legislature of 1877 and 1885; and in 1888 was elected governor of Arkansas.

EAKINS, THOMAS, painter, sculptor, was born July 25, 1844, in Philadelphia, Pa. He has been director of schools of Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts; lecturer on artistic anatomy at the National Academy of Design; Art Students' league of New York; and the Cooper institute. Among his noted pictures are A Lady Singing; The Chess Players; and Mending the Net.

EAMES, BENJAMIN T., lawyer, congressman, was born June 4, 1818, in Tudham, Mass. He was a member of the state senate in 1854, 1855, 1856, 1859, and 1863; and of the legislature in 1859, 1868, and 1869, serving the last year as speaker. He was a delegate to the convention at Chicago in 1860; and was elected to the forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth, and forty-fifth congresses, and declined a reelection.

EAMES, EMMA, prima donna, was born in China. She made her debut in Gounod's Romeo and Juliet in Paris, and during her engagement there she was decorated by the president of the French republic with the decoration of officer of the academy.

EAMES, MRS. JANE ANTHONY, author, was born Jan. 21, 1816, in Wellington, Mass. She was a writer of Concord, N. H.; and the author of A Budget of Letters; The Budget Closed; My Mother's Jewel; The Christmas Gift; and Letters from Bermuda.

EARL, ADAMS, railroad builder, was born in 1820, in Fairfield county, Ohio. In 1870 the Cincinnati, Lafayette and Chicago Railroad company was organized, to construct and operate a railroad from Lafayette to Kankakee, Ill., connecting at the latter place with the Illinois Central railroad, and thus forming the connecting link in the through line from Cincinnati to Chicago. This road was built and owned by Adams Earl, Moses Fowler, and Gustavus Ricker; Mr. Earl being president, general manager, and builder.

EARL, NATHANIEL CHURCHILL, clergyman, was born Dec. 22, 1832, in Canada. He graduated from the Meadville Theological school, and for thirty years has been a successful clergyman in Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin, in the Universalist and Unitarian churches.

EARLE, MRS. ALICE MORSE, author, was born in 1851, in Massachusetts. She is a writer on American antiquarian themes; and the author of Curious Punishments of Bygone Days; Margaret Winthrop, a biography; Costume of Colonial Times; Customs and Fashions in Old New England; The Sabbath in Puritan New England; China-Collecting in America; Colonial Dames and Goodwives; and Colonial Days in Old New York.

EARLE, ELIAS, congressman, was born in Frederick county, Va. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1805 to 1807, from 1811 to 1815, and again from 1817 to 1821.

EARLE, JOHN B., congressman. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1803 to 1805.

EARLE, JOSEPH HAYNSWORTH, lawyer, legislator, jurist, United States senator, was born April 30, 1847, in Greenville, S. C. For six years he served as a member of the South Carolina state legislature; and for two years was a member of the state senate. During 1886-90 he served with distinction as attorney-general of South Carolina; and in 1890 he ran for governor against B. R. Tillman. In 1894 he was elected circuit judge; and in 1896 was elected to the United States senate as a democrat. He took his seat March 4, 1897, for term expiring in 1903.

EARLE, JULIUS RICHARD, lawyer, legislator, was born Nov. 3, 1863, in Anderson county, S. C. He entered into the practice of law, and as editor of various newspapers. He has served as a member of the general assembly of the state of South Carolina.

EARLE, PARKER, horticulturist, was born in 1831, in Mt. Holly, Vt. He has been president of the Illinois state horticultural society, and is now president of the Mississippi Valley and the American horticultural societies.

EARLE, PLINY, inventor, was born Dec. 17, 1762, in Leicester, Mass. He invented a machine for pricking twilled cards for carding cotton and wool, by which the labor of a man for fifteen hours could be performed in as many minutes. This machine was in general use for years, until it was superseded by the machine that both pricks the letter and sets the teeth. He died Nov. 19, 1832, in Leicester, Mass.

EARLE, PLINY, physician, author, was born Dec. 31, 1809, in Leicester, Mass. He was the author of Marathon and Other Poems; Institutions for the Insane in Prussia, Germany, and Austria; Visits to Thirteen Insane Asylums in Europe; The Curability of Insanity; Blood-Letting in Disorders; The Earle Family; and Ralph Earle and his Descendants. He died Nov. 19, 1892, in Leicester, Mass.

EARLE, SAMUEL, congressman. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1795 to 1797.

EARLE, THOMAS, lawyer, philanthropist, journalist, author, was born April 21, 1796, in Leicester, Mass. He was a lawyer and philanthropist of Philadelphia; and the author of Essay on Penal Law; Right of States to Alter and Annul their Charters; Railroads and Internal Communications (1830); and Life of Benjamin Lundy. He died July 14, 1849, in Philadelphia, Pa.

EARLL, JONAS, congressman, was born in 1786. He was at one time a senator in the New York legislature; and was a member of congress from that state from 1827 to 1831. He was a canal commissioner at the time of his death. He died in October, 1846, in Syracuse, N. Y.

EARLL, NEHEMIAH H., congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1841.

EARLY, CHARLES, real estate operator, was born Jan. 16, 1851, in Lynchburg, Va. In 1883 he came to Washington, D. C., and became a real estate operator. He has originated and promoted several land syndicates, and those engaged with him have substantial proof of his foresight and good sense.

EARLY, JOHN, bishop, was born Jan. 1, 1786, in Bedford county, Va. Though sixty-nine years of age, he was elected bishop in 1854, and served his church with great zeal and fidelity for nineteen years. He died Nov. 5, 1873, in Lynchburg, Va.

EARLY, JOHN, clergyman, college president, was born in 1814, in Ireland. He was appointed president of Worcester college, Mass., where he remained several years. Subsequently he was transferred to the presidency of Georgetown college. He died in 1874, in Georgetown, D. C.

EARLY, JUBAL ANDERSON, general, author, was born Nov. 3, 1816, in Franklin county, Va. He was a distinguished general in the confederate army who settled in New Orleans after the close of the civil war. He was the author of Memoir of the Last Year of the War for Independence in the Confederate States; Campaigns of General Lee; and Jackson's Campaign against Pope. He died in 1894.

EARLY, LEWIS JOHNSON, educator, journalist, author, was born Feb. 2, 1865, in Ohio county, Ky. He commenced life as a teacher in Hawesville, Ky.; and subsequently was instructor of elocution in the West Kentucky college. He is the editor and proprietor of The Telephone of Cannelton, Ind.; and is also the author of a book of selections entitled The Elocutionist's Favorite.

EARLY, PETER, lawyer, jurist, congressman, governor, was born June 20, 1773, in Madison county, Va. He served in the United States house of representatives from Georgia from 1802 to 1807. On his return to Georgia he was made a judge of the supreme court of the state; in 1813 was elected governor; and was subsequently a state senator. He died Aug. 15, 1817, in Greene county, Ga.

EASON, JAMES HENRY, educator, clergyman, editor, was born Oct. 24, 1866, in Sumterville, Ala. He attended the Selma university, and the Richmond Theological seminary, Virginia, from which institution he received the degree of B. D. in 1890. He was principal of the Auburn academy, Alabama; missionary of the American Baptist Home Mission society of New York city; and professor of mathematics and metaphysics in Selma university. He reads Greek and Hebrew fluently, and has made some original investigations in ancient history; and is the author of a work on that subject entitled The March of Civilization. He is a successful clergyman, and the editor of The Baptist Leader.

EAST, THOMAS SADLER, business man, was born Aug. 11, 1879. He graduated from the Military academy of Clinton, La., in which city he is successfully engaged in business.

EASTBURN, GEORGE, educator, was born Nov. 25, 1838, in Bucks county, Pa. In 1862 he enlisted in the eleventh regiment Pennsylvania volunteer infantry, and subsequently left the military service on account of sickness. In 1868 he graduated from Yale college, with the degree of B. A.; and the same year founded an English and classical school on Broad street, Philadelphia, known as The Eastburn academy, which he has since conducted with great success. He was offered the vice-presidency of Girard college. He has lectured extensively on the metric system, and other subjects. In 1871 Yale college gave him the degree of M. A.; and in 1890 the degree of Ph. D. was conferred on him by Princeton college.

EASTBURN, JAMES WALLIS, clergyman, author, poet, was born Sept. 26, 1797, in London, England. At the age of eighteen he wrote the hymn O Holy, Holy, Holy Lord! and was a contributor to various periodicals. He published, in conjunction with Robert C. Sands, Yamoyden, a romantic poem, founded on the history of King Philip, the sachem of the Wampanoags. He died at sea Dec. 2, 1819.

EASTBURN, MANTON, bishop, author, was born Feb. 1, 1801, in England. He was the fourth protestant episcopal bishop of Massachusetts. He was the author of Lectures on Hebrew, Latin, and Greek Poetry; Lectures on the Epistles to the Philippians; and Essays and Dissertations on Biblical Literature. He died Sept. 11, 1872, in Boston, Mass.

EASTERBROOK, EXPERIENCE, lawyer, congressman, was born April 30, 1813, in Lebanon, N. H. He was a member of the convention that formed the constitution of Wisconsin; served also in the legislature, and was attorney general of the state. In 1854 he was appointed United States district attorney for the territory of Nebraska, which office he held until 1859, when he was elected a delegate from Nebraska to the thirty-sixth congress.

EASTLAND, MRS. CLARA F., poet, was born June 16, 1835, in Rutland, Vt. She is the author of a number of poems.

EASTMAN, ALVAH, legislator, journalist, was born Aug. 22, 1858, in Lovell, Maine. In 1889 he was elected a member of the Minnesota legislature; and during 1890-93 was United States revenue agent. He is the editor and owner of the Daily and Weekly Journal of St. Cloud; and president of the Minnesota Editorial association.

EASTMAN, BENJAMIN C., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Wisconsin from 1851 to 1855. He died Feb. 5, 1856, in Platteville, Wis.

EASTMAN, CHARLES GAMAGE, poet, was born June 1, 1816, in Frysburg, Maine. He was a poet of Montpelier, Vt., who published in 1848 a volume of Poems, descriptive of rural life in New England. He died in 1861 in Burlington, Vt.

EASTMAN, CHARLES ROCHESTER, scientist, author, was born in 1868 in Indiana. He is a scientist of Cambridge, an assistant in the Museum of Comparative Zoology. He edited and translated from the German of Karl von Zittel a Text-Book of Palæontology.

EASTMAN, DAVID WALLACE, legislator, financier, was born Sept. 18, 1839, in Republic, Ohio. He received a thorough education and taught school until graduation in Battle Creek, Mich. He enlisted in 1861 and served with distinction in fifteen battles and skirmishes. He re-enlisted in 1864, and resigned the following year. He served in the second regiment Missouri cavalry (Merrill's Horse); was sergeant of company H, and rapidly promoted to sergeant-major, first lieutenant, and adjutant of his regiment. In 1871 he moved to Kansas, and since that time has resided in Emporia, where he has attained success in the real estate business, as a financier, and in public affairs. He has been assistant postmaster; a member of the board of education; treasurer of his county twice; mayor of Emporia; cashier of the Citizens' bank; and in 1893 was a member of the famous Kansas house of representatives, and did some important work for the cause of good government. In 1894 he was a candidate for state treasurer before the republican convention, and has taken an active part in the public affairs of his city, county and state. He is now secretary and treasurer of the Building and Loan association of Emporia, Kas.

EASTMAN, EDWARD, lawyer, legislator, was born in April, 1837, in Harrison, Maine. He is a successful lawyer; and represented his city in the state legislature in 1876.

EASTMAN, MRS. ELAINE GOODALE, educator, author, poet, was born Oct. 9, 1863, in Berkshire county, Mass. She became a teacher at various Indian schools, and in 1891 married Dr. Charles Eastman, a Sioux Indian. She is now supervisor of schools in St. Paul, Minn. She is the author of Journal of a Farmer's Daughter; The Coming of the Birds; and a volume of poems entitled Apple Blossoms.

EASTMAN, GEORGE, inventor, was born July 12, 1854, in Waterville, N. Y. As an amateur photographer and experimenter during this period he perfected a process for making dry plates, and in 1881 began to manufacture dry plates on a small scale. The Eastman Dry Plate company now employs 700 people, and has a branch factory in Harrow, England. The Kodak was the greatest hit, and the Eastman Kodak company, formed to produce it, capital $5,000,000, is sending its goods all over the world.

EASTMAN, HARVEY GRIDLEY, educator, was born Nov. 16, 1832, in Marshall, N. Y. He opened a commercial school in St. Louis in 1855, and four years later the Eastman National Business college at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. In 1871, and again in 1873, Mr. Eastman was elected to the New York assembly, and he also served three terms as mayor of Poughkeepsie. He died July 13, 1878, in Denver, Colo.

EASTMAN, IRA A., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in New Hampshire. He served in the state legislature, and was speaker of the house from 1837 to 1839; and was at one time secretary of the state senate. He was register of probate; from 1844 to 1859 was a judge of the circuit and the supreme courts; and was elected a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1839 to 1843.

EASTMAN, JOHN ROBBE, astronomer, was born July 29, 1836, in Andover, N. H. In February, 1865, he was appointed professor of mathematics in the United States navy, with the relative rank of commander, and assigned to astronomical work in the United States observatory in Washington. He has accompanied various astronomical expeditions throughout the United States, and in 1870 was sent to Syracuse, Sicily, to observe the total eclipse of the sun that took place on Dec. 22 of that year.

EASTMAN, JULIA ARABELLA, educator, author, was born July 17, 1837, in Fulton, N. Y. She is a Massachusetts teacher who has written a number of juvenile tales, among which are Short Comings and Long Goings; Young Rick; and Kitty Kent's Trouble.

EASTMAN, MACARTHUR EASTMAN, capitalist, was born June 8, 1810, in Gilmanton. He introduced the patent spinning jenny into England; sold patent of breech-loading cannon to British government in 1856; and contracted for firearms to the United States and other governments. He planned the direct ocean cable, laid in 1874. He died Sept. 3, 1877, in Manchester, N. H.

EASTMAN, MRS. MARY HENDERSON, author, was born in 1818 in Warrenton, Va. She is the author of Romance of Indian Life; Dacotah, or Life and Legends of the Sioux; American Aboriginal Portfolio; Chicora and other Regions of the Conquerors and the Conquered; Tales of Fashionable Life; and Aunt Phillis's Cabin, a reply to Uncle Tom's Cabin.

EASTMAN, NEHEMIAH, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1785 in Strafford county, N. H. He settled at Farmington, N. H. He was a senator in the state legislature from 1820 to 1825; and a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1825 to 1827. He died Jan. 11, 1850.

EASTMAN, ORNAN, clergyman, was born March 27, 1796, in Amherst, Mass. He entered the service of the American Tract society in Boston in 1825-28. In the latter year he was transferred to New York, first as general agent for the Mississippi valley, and from 1832 as finance secretary, which office he continued to fill till he retired in 1870. He died April 24, 1874, in New York city.

EASTMAN, PHILIP, jurist, author, was born Feb. 5, 1789, in Chatham, N. H. He served as a commissioner to locate claims of settlers on the northeastern boundary of Maine. He published General Statutes of Maine in 1840, and Digest of the First Twenty-Six Volumes of Maine Law Reports in 1849. He died Aug. 7, 1869, in Saco, Maine.

EASTMAN, SANFORD, physician, was born in 1821 in Lodi, N. Y. He began to practice in Buffalo, and was in 1858 appointed to the professorship of anatomy in the university, to which was added in 1867 that of clinical surgery, which position he resigned in 1870. He died Jan. 8, 1874, in Riverside, Cal.

EASTMAN, SETH, soldier, author, was born Jan. 24, 1808, in Brunswick, Maine. He was an officer in the United States army stationed at Fort Snelling and other places on the western frontier; afterwards a lieutenant-colonel and brevet brigadier-general. He was the author of History, Condition and Future Prospects of the Indians of the United States; and Topographical Drawing. He died Aug. 31, 1875, in Washington, D. C.

EASTON, CARROLL F., banker, was born Aug. 31, 1857, in Lowell, N. Y. He received his education in the schools of West Martinsburg, N. Y., and has attained prominence as a successful banker. For many years he lived in Minnesota, and is now a prominent banker of Aberdeen, S. D., and general financial agent of the western department of the Fidelity and Deposit company of Maryland.

EASTON, JOHN, governor. He was governor of Rhode Island in 1690-95, and wrote a Narrative of the Causes which led to Philip's Indian War of 1675-76.

EASTON, NICHOLAS, governor of Rhode Island, was born in 1593 in Rhode Island. He was governor of the united colonies of Rhode Island and Providence in 1650-52. He died Aug. 15, 1675, in Newport, R. I.

EASTON, RUFUS, jurist, congressman. He was appointed United States judge for the territory of Louisiana in 1805; and was elected a delegate to congress from Missouri territory from 1814 to 1816.

EASTON, AMOS, scientist, author, was born May 17, 1776, in Chatham, N. Y. He was a prominent scientist whose writings include Index to Geology of the Northern States; Natural History of New York; Geological Survey of the Erie Canal District; Philosophical Instructor; and Manual of Botany of North America. He died May 6, 1842, in Chatham, N. Y.

EASTON, AMOS BEEBE, soldier, was born May 12, 1806, in Catskill, N. Y. He was brevetted major-general in 1865, and was placed on the retired list in 1874. He died Feb. 21, 1877, in New Haven, Conn.

EASTON, ARTHUR WENTWORTH HAMILTON, clergyman, educator, author, was born Dec. 10, 1849, in Nova Scotia. He is an episcopal clergyman and instructor of New York city. He is the author of The Heart of the Creeds, a notable contribution to Broad church literature; Acadian Legends and Lyrics; Letter-Writing, its Ethics and Etiquette; The Church of England in Nova Scotia; and Tales of a Garrison Town.

EASTON, ASA, clergyman, author, was born July 25, 1778, in Plaistow. He was rector of Trinity church, Bridgewater, Mass.; and wrote History of Christ Church, Boston. He died March 24, 1858, in Boston, Mass.

EASTON, BENJAMIN H., farmer, manufacturer, governor, was born Dec. 15, 1833, in West Bedford, Ohio. He served as justice of the peace, county commissioner, and as representative and senator in the territorial legislature; and in 1884 was elected governor of the state of Colorado.

EASTON, CHARLES HENRY, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 15, 1852, in Beverly, Mass. He attended Dean academy, Tufts' college, and Tufts' Divinity school. He has attained success as a universalist clergyman, and has filled pastorates in St. Paul's church of Palmer, Mass.; and in the Church of the Divine Paternity of New York city. He has written extensively on reform and social economics.

EASTON, CYRUS, educator, author, poet, was born Feb. 11, 1784, in Framingham, Mass. He was an educator of Maine who was totally blind for the last thirty years of his life; and for five years was a representative in the Massachusetts legislature. He was the author of Annals of Warren, Maine; Woman, a poem; and History of Thomaston, Maine. He died Jan. 21, 1875, in Warren, Maine.

EATON, DANIEL CADY, educator, author, was born Sept. 12, 1834, in Fort Gratiot, Mich. He was a professor of botany at Yale university; and the author of The Ferns of North America; and Ferns of the Southwest. He died in 1895.

EATON, DANIEL CADY, educator, author, was born June 16, 1837, in Johnstown, N. Y. He was a professor of the history of art at Yale university in 1869-76; and the author of Handbook of Greek and Roman Sculpture.

EATON, DORMAN BRIDGMAN, jurist, author, was born June 27, 1823, in Hardwick, Vt. He is a jurist of New York city, prominent in civil service reform, who has published Civil Service in Great Britain, and edited the seventh edition of Kent's Commentaries.

EATON, EDWARD DWIGHT, clergyman, educator, college president, was born Jan. 12, 1851, in Lancaster, Wis. This eminent clergyman and educator has filled pastorates in the congregational church at Newton, Iowa, and at Oak Park, Ill.; and in 1886 became president of the Beloit college, Wis.

EATON, GEORGE WASHINGTON, clergyman, college president, was born July 3, 1804, in Henderson, Pa. He was president of Madison university from 1850 till 1861, and at the same time professor of systematic theology. From 1861 to 1871 he was president of Hamilton Theological seminary and professor of homiletics. He died Aug. 3, 1872, in Hamilton, N. Y.

EATON, HORACE, educator, governor, was born June 22, 1804, in Barnard, Vt. He was for some years a member of the legislature; lieutenant-governor from 1843 to 1846; superintendent of public schools from 1845 to 1850; governor of the state from 1846 to 1849; and was a member of the constitutional convention in 1848. He died July 4, 1855, in Middlebury.

EATON, ISAAC, educator, was born in 1724, in Montgomery, Pa. He was for twenty-six years pastor of the baptist church in Hopewell, N. J., and was the first teacher among American baptists to open a school for the education of young men for the ministry. He died July 4, 1772.

EATON, JAMES R., clergyman, educator, was born Dec. 11, 1834, at Hamilton, N. Y. In the spring of 1869 he became professor of natural science in William Jewell college, Liberty, Mo. He died March 20, 1897, in Cairo, Egypt, while on a trip to the Holy Land.

EATON, JOHN, educator, soldier, journalist, was born Dec. 5, 1829, in Sutton, N. H. He was commissioned a colonel in the volunteer service, and brevetted a general. He established and edited the Daily Post at Memphis, Tenn.; and in 1870 was appointed United States commissioner of education.

EATON, JOHN HENRY, was born in 1790 in Tennessee. He was a senator in congress from Tennessee from 1818 to 1829; and was secretary of war under President Jackson from 1829 to 1831. From 1834 to 1836 was governor of the territory of Florida; and from 1836 to 1840 was minister plenipotentiary to Spain. He was the author of a Life of Andrew Jackson. He died Nov. 17, 1856, in Washington, D. C.

EATON, JOSEPH ORIEL, artist, was born Feb. 8, 1829, in Licking county, Ohio. He was an effective genre and portrait painter, both in oil and water colors. The works that he exhibited at the National academy are Landscape View on the Hudson; and Moral Instruction. He died Feb. 7, 1875, in Yonkers, N. Y.

EATON, LEWIS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1823 to 1825.

EATON, NATHANIEL, educator, was born about 1609, in England. He was the first master of the school afterward called Harvard college. He died in 1660, in England.

EATON, SAMUEL JOHN MILLS, clergyman, author, was born April 15, 1820, in Fairview, Pa. During 1848-82 he was pastor of a church in Franklin, Pa.; held the office of stated clerk of the presbytery of Erie since 1853, and has held high positions in his church. In 1871 he visited Egypt, Palestine, Greece and Turkey. He was the author of History of the Presbytery of Erie; Lakeside; Jerusalem; Palestine; and other works.

EATON, SHERBURNE BLAKE, lawyer, was born Feb. 23, 1840, in Lowell, Mass. In 1884 he was made general counsel and president of the Edison Electric Light company of New York city.

EATON, THEOPHILUS, first governor of New Haven colony, was born about 1591 in England. In 1643 he was chosen the first governor of the New Haven colony. He died June 7, 1658, in Columbia, S. C.

EATON, THOMAS TREADWELL, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 16, 1845, in Murfreesborough, Tenn. He is a baptist minister of Louisville; and the author of My Angels; Talks to Children; Marriage and Law; and Talks on Getting Married.

EATON, WILLIAM, soldier, diplomat, was born Feb. 23, 1764, in Woodstock, Conn. In 1797 he was appointed consul to Tunis, and arrived there in March, 1799. He died June 1, 1811, in Brimfield, Mass.

EATON, WILLIAM W., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born October, 1816, in Tolland, Conn. He was elected a member of the house of representatives of Connecticut in 1847, 1848, 1853, 1863, 1868, 1870, 1871, 1873, and 1874; and was elected speaker in 1853 and 1873. He was elected state senator in 1850; in 1874 was elected United States senator for the term ending in 1881; and in 1882 was elected a representative from Connecticut to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

EATON, WYATT, artist, was born May 6, 1849, in Canada. He studied art in New York Academy of Design; and in Paris, France. In 1878 he painted portraits of the poets Bryant, Whittier, Longfellow, Emerson and Holmes; a portrait of President Garfield for the Union League club; and a portrait of Bishop Horatio Potter, and of other eminent men. He was one of the organizers of the Society of American Artists, of which he has been president.

EBAUGH, ZACHARIAH CORNELIUS, educator, was born Aug. 7, 1854, in Houcksville, Md. He received his education in the public schools of Maryland, the Reisterstown High school, and the Normal classes in Illinois. He has been principal of various schools in Maryland, and is now principal and professor of mathematics in the Franklin High school of Reisterstown, Md. He is also a member of the state board of education of Maryland.

EBERHARD, ERNST G., musician, was born May 30, 1839, in Germany. In 1857 he emigrated to America, and has become one of the finest orchestral conductors of the age. During 1859-63 he was organist of St. Ann's church of Brooklyn, N. Y.; during 1864-76 was organist of St. Paul's church of New York city; and in 1874 he founded the grand conservatory of music, of which he is still the president. He is the author of many musical works; among them the course of studies for the piano in twelve books; and also a method in two books; and many miscellaneous works. His lectures on the science and history of music, commenced in 1894, have become very popular in the east.

EBERHART, GILBERT L., soldier, lawyer, legislator, poet, was born in Beaver county, Pa. He was educated at Mercer academy and Washington college.

He served four years in the union army during the war, a part of that time being on the staff of Gen. George G. Meade. Since entering upon the practice of law he has always been active in public affairs; has served as county superintendent of the public schools; two terms as a member of the legislature of Pennsylvania; was twice mayor of New Brighton; and in 1891 was elected a delegate to a proposed convention for the revision of the state constitution. He is a member of the Bars of Beaver, Lawrence, Mercer and Butler counties, and of the supreme court of Pennsylvania. He has been strongly urged to stand for nomination to the bench in the thirty-sixth judicial district. He is the author of a number of meritorious poems.

EBERLE, JOHN, physician, author, was born Dec. 10, 1787, in Lancaster county, Pa. He was a noted physician of Philadelphia, and later of Cincinnati; and the author of Botanical Terminology; Diseases and Physical Education of Children; Therapeutics and Materia Medica; and Notes on Theory and Practice of Medicine. He died Feb. 2, 1838, in Lexington, Ky.

EBERSOLE, EZRA C., educator, college president, lawyer, was born Oct. 18, 1840, in Mt. Pleasant, Pa. He was professor of mathematics; and became president of the Western college, Iowa. For several years he was supreme court reporter of Iowa; and has practiced law since 1870 with success, principally in Toledo, Iowa.

ECCLESON, SAMUEL, Roman catholic archbishop, was born in 1801 in Maryland. He successively filled the offices of vice-president and president of St. Mary's college. In 1834 he was consecrated coadjutor archbishop of Baltimore, and succeeded Archbishop Whitfield in the same year. He died in 1851 in Georgetown, D. C.

ECKARD, JAMES READ, missionary, author, was born Nov. 22, 1805, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a presbyterian missionary to India; and the author of Faith and Justification; The Hindoo Traveler; and Outline of English Law from Blackstone. He died in 1887.

ECKER, JOHN EMIL, musician, author, was born April 14, 1853, in Austria. He is the author of a concert overture for a full orchestra, and other compositions.

ECKERT, GEORGE N., physician, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849, after which he was appointed director of the United States mint from 1851 to 1853. He died in July, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

ECKFELDT, JACOB REESE, assayer, was born March, 1803, in Philadelphia, Pa. He early entered the United States mint, where his father was chief coiner, and by his capabilities rapidly rose until he was made chief assayer. He died Aug. 9, 1872, in Philadelphia, Pa.

ECKFORD, HENRY, naval architect, was born March 12, 1775, in Scotland. In the second war with Great Britain, 1812-15, he was employed by the government to construct ships of war on the lakes, and filled the contract with expedition and skill. He died Nov. 12, 1832, in Constantinople.

ECKLES, DELANE R., jurist, was born in Kentucky. He removed to Indiana and was appointed chief justice of the United States court for the territory of Utah.

ECKLES, JOHN BROOKS, lawyer, legislator, was born Sept. 6, 1868, in Pleasant Grove, Miss. He is a son of a Virginia family. In 1889 he graduated from the university of Mississippi, with the degree of LL. B. In 1892 he was elected for four years and served with distinction as a member of the Mississippi house of representatives, but resigned Nov. 1, 1894, to accept the appointment of superintendent of education for Panola county, Miss., receiving the reappointment in 1896 for four years. He is also a successful lawyer, and operates planting interests.

ECKLEY, EPHRAIM R., soldier, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 9, 1812, in Jefferson county, Ohio. He was a member of the Ohio senate in 1843, 1845 and 1849, serving until 1851; and in 1853 was elected to the state house of representatives. During the rebellion he was a colonel, and at the battle of Corinth commanded a brigade. In 1862 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-eighth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses as a republican.

EDDY, ANSEL DOANE, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 15, 1798, in Williamstown, Mass. He was a presbyterian clergyman of New York who published the Christian Citizen; Duties, Dangers and Securities of Youth. He died Feb. 7, 1875, in Lansingburg, N. Y.

EDDY, CLARENCE, organist, author, was born in 1851. He is an organist of Chicago; and the author of The Church and Concert Organist; and The Organ in Church.

EDDY, DANIEL CLARK, clergyman, author, was born May 21, 1823, in Salem, Mass. He was a baptist clergyman of Boston, and subsequently of Brooklyn, who wrote extensively, some of his books having been very popular. Among them are The Percy Family, and Walter's Tour in the East, two series of volumes for young readers; Young Man's Friend; Young Woman's Friend; The Burman Apostle, a Life of Judson; Roger Williams and the Baptists; The Unitarian Apostasy; Europa, or Scenes in the Old World; Waiting at the Cross; and Angel Whispers.

EDDY, EBENEZER J. FOSTER, soldier, scientist, was born Jan. 15, 1847, in Moretown, Vt. He has held various positions in the Grand Army of the Republic; and has been president of the National Christian Scientists' association.

EDDY, EDWARD, actor, was born in 1821 in Troy, N. Y. He came to New York in 1851, and was successively manager of the Metropolitan theater, Burton's Chambers street theater, the Old Bowery, and the old Broadway theater. He died Dec. 19, 1875, in Jamaica.

EDDY, FRANK M., educator, business man, congressman, was born April 1, 1856, in Pleasant Grove, Minn. He was elected clerk of the district court of Pope county, and he has held this position, also that of court reporter of the sixteenth judicial district, continuously ever since. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

EDDY, HENRY CLARENCE, musician, was born June 23, 1851, in Greenfield, Mass. He has attained success as a musician of Chicago, Ill.

EDDY, HENRY TURNER, educator, mathematician, author, was born June 9, 1844, in Stoughton, Mass. He is a mathematician, and since 1874 a professor in the university of Cincinnati; and the author of Analytical Geometry; Researches in Graphical Statics; Thermodynamics; and Maximum Stress under Concentrated Loads.

EDDY, JOHN H., geographer, was born in 1782. He published a circular map of the country for thirty miles around New York in 1814; a map of the western part of New York; a map to illustrate the communication between Lake Erie and the Hudson; and a map of the state of New York; and was engaged on a general atlas of America at the time of his death. He died Dec. 22, 1817.

EDDY, MRS. MARY BAKER GLOVER, author. She is a resident of Concord, N. H., widely known as the founder of the sect of Christian Scientists. Besides Christian Science: Science and Health, she has published a number of pamphlets on the general subject of Christian Science. She has lectured extensively throughout the United States on Christian Science; and has also contributed extensively to current publications on that subject.

EDDY, NORMAN, congressman, was born Dec. 10, 1810, in Scipio, N. Y. He removed to Indiana; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1853 to 1855. He died Jan. 28, 1872, in Indianapolis, Ind.

EDDY, RICHARD, clergyman, author, was born June 21, 1828, in Providence, R. I. He is a universalist clergyman of Melrose, Mass.; and the author of Universalism in America; History of the Sixtieth New York Regiment; and The Martyr to Liberty.

EDDY, SAMUEL, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 31, 1769, in Providence, R. I. In 1798 he was chosen secretary of state and held the office for twenty-one years, when he resigned. He was elected a representative in congress from his native state from 1819 to 1825; and was subsequently chief justice of the supreme court of Rhode Island for eight years. He died Feb. 2, 1839, in Providence, R. I.

EDDY, THOMAS, philanthropist, author, was born Sept. 5, 1758, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a philanthropist whose efforts were chiefly in the direction of prison reform, and was the author of The State Prisons of New York. He died Sept. 16, 1827, in New York city.

EDDY, THOMAS MEARS, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 7, 1823, in Newtown, Ohio. He was a methodist minister of Chicago, who published Patriotism of Illinois, a history of that state during the civil war. He died Oct. 7, 1874, in New York city.

EDDY, ZACHARY, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 19, 1815, in Stockbridge, Vt. He was a presbyterian minister of Augusta, Ga.; and the author of Immanuel, or the Life of Christ; Hymns of the Church; and Songs of the Church. He died in 1891.

EDEN, CHARLES, governor, was born in 1674. He was governor of North Carolina from 1713 to 1722. He died March 26, 1722, in North Carolina.

EDEN, JOHN R., lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 1, 1826, in Bath county, Ky. In 1856 he was appointed state attorney for the seventh district, which office he held four years. In 1862 he was elected a representative from Illinois to the thirty-eighth congress; and was elected to the forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth and forty-ninth congresses as a democrat.

EDEN, ROBERT, governor, was born in England. In 1768 he became governor of Maryland; advised the repeal of the tax on tea; and when the colonel of militia demanded the arms and ammunition, he readily gave them up. He died Sept. 2, 1786, in Annapolis, Md.

EDES, BENJAMIN, journalist, was born Oct. 14, 1732, in Charlestown, Mass. In 1755 he was the editor and proprietor of the Boston Gazette and Country Journal, a patriotic newspaper that exerted a powerful influence before the revolution and during that struggle. He was one of the Sons of Liberty. In his house the patriots comprising the Boston tea party assembled on the afternoon of Dec. 16, 1773, and drank punch from a bowl that was subsequently given by Mr. Edes's family to the Massachusetts Historical society, afterward disguising themselves as Indians in the Gazette office. During the siege of Boston, Mr. Edes escaped to Watertown, where he continued the publication of the Gazette. After forty-three years of editorship he discontinued it in 1798. He died Dec. 11, 1803, in Boston, Mass.

EDES, HENRY HERBERT, genealogist and historian, was born March 29, 1849, in Charlestown, Mass. Since 1892 he has been director and treasurer of the Conveyancers' Title Insurance company of Boston, Mass. He was the founder of the Colonial society of Massachusetts. He is the author of A Genealogy of the Edes Family; Charlestown Historic Points; and Memorial of Josiah Barker.

EDES, RICHARD SULLIVAN, clergyman, author, was born April 24, 1810, in Providence, R. I. He published a memoir of Peter Edes in the New England Historical and Genealogical Register; Journal and Letters relative to Two Journeys to the Ohio Country in 1788 and 1789 made by Col. John May, with a biographical sketch, and assisted in the preparation of A Genealogy of the Descendants of John May. He died Aug. 26, 1877, in Boston, Mass.

EDES, ROBERT THAXTER, physician, author, was born Sept. 23, 1838, in Eastport, Maine. He is a physician of Washington; and the author of Nature and Time in the Cure of Diseases; Physiology and Pathology of the Sympathetic or Ganglionic Nervous System; Therapeutical Handbook of United States Pharmacopœia; and Text-Book of Therapeutics and Materia Medica.

EDGAR, CORNELIUS HENRY, clergyman, author, was born April 11, 1811, in Rahway, N. J. He was a Dutch reformed clergyman of Easton, Pa.; and the author of Lectures on Slavery; Discourses on the Death of Lincoln; Curse of Canaan Rightly Interpreted; and Exposition of the Nine Last Wars (1867). He died Dec. 23, 1884, in Easton, Pa.

EDGAR, JOHN TODD, clergyman, author, was born April 13, 1792, in Sussex county, Del. He became pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Nashville, Tenn., in 1833, and remained there till his death. At one time he edited the American Presbyterian, published at Nashville. He died Nov. 13, 1860, in Nashville, Tenn.

EDGEComb, WILLARD W., diplomat. He was a citizen of Maine, and while holding the position of consul at Cape Town, Africa, was empowered to negotiate a treaty of friendship and commerce with the Orange Free State, in 1871.

EDGERTON, A. J., soldier, jurist, United States senator, was born June 7, 1827, in Rome, N. Y. He graduated from the Wesleyan university of Ohio. During the civil war he served nearly five years in the union army; and was promoted to colonel and brevetted brigadier-general of the United States volunteers. He was senator from Minnesota in 1881; chief justice of Dakota; president of the constitutional convention, which adopted the constitution of South Dakota; was United States district judge of South Dakota; and became chief justice. He died in 1896.

EDGERTON, ALFRED P., journalist, statesman, was born Jan. 11, 1813, in Plattsburgh, N. Y. In 1845 he was elected to the state senate of Ohio; and in 1848 was a delegate at large to the democratic national convention. In 1850 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-second congress; and in 1852 was re-elected to the thirty-third congress. In 1855 he was appointed United States civil service commissioner, and became the president of the commission.

EDGERTON, JAMES ARTHUR, journalist, poet, was born Jan. 30, 1869, in Plantsville, Ohio. For several years he was managing editor of the Evening Herald of Kalamazoo, Mich.; then became connected with The Register of Marietta; and subsequently moved to Lincoln, Neb., where he is the editor and owner of the Nebraska Independent. He is prominent in political affairs; has been chairman of the people's party state committee of Nebraska; and secretary of the people's party national committee. He is the author of two volumes of poems, and has contributed extensively to the periodical press, principally on reform matters.

EDGERTON, JESSE, business man, poet, was born July 12, 1845, in Barnesville, Ohio. He is the secretary of the Columbiana Handle company of Columbiana, Ohio; and is the author of a number of poems.

EDGERTON, JOSEPH KETCHUM, lawyer, railroad president, congressman, was born Feb. 16, 1818, in Vergennes, Vt. In 1855 he was president of the Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad company, and subsequently financial agent of the same when consolidated with the Pittsburg road. In 1862 he was elected a representative from Indiana to the thirty-eighth congress.

EDGERTON, SIDNEY, lawyer, jurist, congressman, governor, was born in 1818 in Cazenovia, N. Y. He was a prosecuting attorney for four years in Summit county. He was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-sixth congress, and re-elected to the thirty-seventh congress. He was appointed a judge for the territory of Idaho, and subsequently governor of Montana.

EDGREN, AUGUST HJALMAR, soldier, educator, author, was born Oct. 18, 1840, in Sweden. He is a Swedish scholar who came to the United States in 1862, and served for a time in the federal army, and afterwards in the Swedish army. Since 1884 he has been professor of languages in the university of Nebraska. He is the author of Complete Sanskrit Grammar; German and English Dictionary (with William D. Whitney); The Literature of America (in Swedish); Public Schools and Colleges of the United States; Swedish Literature in America; and American Antiquities.

EDHOLM, MARY G. CHARLTON, journalist, evangelist, author, was born Oct. 28, 1854, in Freeport, Ill. For several years she was a reporter on the Oakland and San Francisco papers. She had previously traveled extensively and done special work for the papers of eastern cities; and also for a number of magazines. For years she was the press superintendent of the World's Woman's Christian Temperance union, and is now superintendent of the Florence Crittenton missions, and author of Traffic in Girls, and Florence Crittenton Missions. She has lectured extensively on Social Purity; is a most zealous and enthusiastic worker, and has dedicated her life to the great cause.

EDICK, SAMUEL STEARNS, lawyer, jurist, was born June 17, 1834, in Columbia, N. Y. In 1855 he was admitted to the bar, and in 1864 moved to Coopers-town, N. Y. The following year he was elected district attorney of Otsego county, and received the re-election in 1868. In 1871 he was elected county judge, served a term of six years, and refused the re-nomination.

EDIE, JOHN R., congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was elected a representative to the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses from that state.

EDISON, THOMAS ALVA, inventor, was born Feb. 11, 1847, in Erie county, Ohio. He started life as a train boy at the age of twelve. While on the train he published a weekly paper, which was the first paper ever published on a train. One day he grabbed the station-master's child from in front of an approaching train. The station-master was so pleased that he taught young Edison how to telegraph. He then became a telegraph operator, and invented a system by which he could send two or more messages over the same wire at the same time. His principal inventions are the telephone, phonograph and electric light. He is now perfecting a system of taking iron out of solid rock by electricity.

EDMANDS, J. WILEY, congressman, was born in Massachusetts. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1853 to 1855.

EDMOND, WILLIAM, soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 28, 1755, in South Britain, Conn. He was chosen a member of the legislature; member of the council; and judge of the supreme court of that state. He was a member of congress from Connecticut from 1798 to 1801. He died Aug. 1, 1838, in Newton, Conn.

EDMONDS, ELIAS, soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born Feb. 1, 1833, in Lancaster county, Pa. He was a lieutenant in the fortieth Virginia regiment, army of northern Virginia; and served as a member of the Virginia state legislature in 1864-65.

EDMONDS, EVERETT E., farmer, educator, legislator, was born Jan. 23, 1848, in Kansas. At the age of twenty-six years he was elected to the Washington state legislature. He has taught school for many years, and is a farmer.

EDMONDS, JOHN CARTER, lawyer, was born Nov. 30, 1848, in Fauquier county, Va. In 1870 he graduated from the Virginia Military institute. He served in the confederate service with Mosby's army as a private, and was wounded at Drainsville, Va., in February, 1864. The ball lodged in the thigh bone, and was not extracted until 1895. In 1874 he moved to Texas, where he has attained success as a lawyer at Sherman, Texas. He has been chairman of the faculty of Austin college; and has served his city as mayor for two terms.

EDMONDS, JOHN WORTH, lawyer, jurist, state senator, author, was born March 13, 1799, in Hudson, N. Y. He was a member of the legislature in 1831; and of the senate from 1832 to 1836. He was circuit judge from 1845 to 1847; judge of the superior court from 1847 to 1852; and a member of the court of appeals in 1852 and 1853. He became an advocate of Spiritualism in 1853 and published Spiritualism; Reports of Select Law Cases; and Letters and Tracts on Spiritualism. He died April 5, 1874, in New York city.

EDMONDSON, HENRY A., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was elected a representative in congress from that state in 1849; and was re-elected to each successive congress down to the thirty-sixth congress.

EDMUNDS, G., jurist. He moved to Utah, and was appointed an associate judge of the United States court for that territory.

EDMUNDS, GEORGE F., lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Feb. 1, 1828, in Richmond, Vt. He was a member of the state legislature of Vermont in 1854-59, serving three years as speaker; and was a member of the state senate, and its presiding officer pro tempore in 1861-62. He was appointed to the United States senate as a republican to fill a vacancy in 1866; and has since been successively re-elected four times. He was a member of the electoral commission of 1876. He was the author of the two acts passed by congress in 1882 and 1887 which effected the destruction of the polygamous system in Utah. His term of service in the senate would have expired March 3, 1893, but he resigned his office of senator on Nov. 1, 1891, and retired to private life.

EDMUNDS, JAMES M., statesman, was born Aug. 23, 1810, in Niagara county, N. Y. In 1839 he was elected to the state senate; and in 1846 to the lower house. From 1857 to 1861 he was comptroller of Detroit, which office he resigned to become the commissioner of the general land office in Washington. In 1869 he became postmaster of Washington city; from 1855 to 1861 was chairman of the republican state central committee of Michigan; and president of the Michigan Soldiers' Relief association in Washington city, from its first organization in 1861.

EDMUNDS, NEWTON, governor, was born in New York. He was an early emigrant to Dakota; and in 1863 was appointed governor of that territory, residing in Yankton, and serving in that office until 1866.

EDMUNDS, PAUL CARRINGTON, lawyer, farmer, congressman, was born Nov. 1, 1836, in Halifax county, Va. He was elected to the senate of Virginia in 1881, and served four years; and was re-elected in 1884. He was a delegate from the sixth district to the democratic national convention at Chicago in 1884; and was elected to the fifty-first and fifty-second congresses and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

EDMUNDSON, JAMES DEPEW, banker, was born Nov. 23, 1838, in Des Moines county, Iowa. He is president of the Citizens' State bank, and is also connected with the State Savings bank, the Sioux Valley bank of Correctionville, Iowa; and the Bankers' National bank of Chicago; and the Pioneer Implement company of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

EDSALL, JOSEPH E., congressman, was born in Sussex county, N. J. He was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1837 to 1839; and was a member of the state legislature, and of the convention which framed the last state constitution.

EDSEN, EDWARD P., lawyer, author, was born in Germany. In 1889 the firm of Thompson, Edsen and Humphries was established, which is now one of the leading law firms of the Pacific coast. He has made numerous creditable contributions to periodical literature in both prose and verse.

EDSON, CYRUS, physician, author, was born in Albany, N. Y. In 1882 he was appointed on the medical staff of the health department of the city of New York as assistant sanitary inspector, and promoted through all the different grades to his present position as chief inspector. He is the author of Poisons in Food and Drink; Disinfection; and Defenses against Contagious Diseases.

EDSON, FRANKLIN, merchant, was born April 5, 1832, in Chester, Vt. He has been three times president of the Produce exchange, in 1873, 1874 and 1878. His political affiliations have been with the county democracy, and in 1882 he was elected mayor of New York city.

EDWARD, MANIGAULT GABRIEL, zoölogist, geologist, was born Jan. 7, 1833, in Charleston, S. C. He is professor of zoölogy and geology, and curator of museum, college of Charleston, S. C.; and also president of the Carolina Art association.

EDWARDS, ALBERT G., soldier, merchant, was born Oct. 15, 1812, in Lexington, Ky. In 1862 he was appointed commander of the St. Louis division of state guards; and for some time had command of the troops of St. Louis, Mo. He has been bank commissioner of Missouri; and sub-treasurer of the United States at St. Louis. He died in 1892.

EDWARDS, BELA BATES, clergyman, author, was born July 4, 1802, in Southamptton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman, professor in Andover Theological seminary, and editor of the Bibliotheca Sacra. He published an Eclectic Reader; Biography of Self-made Men; and Memoirs of E. Cornelius. He died April 20, 1852, in Athens, Ga.

EDWARDS, BENJAMIN, farmer, merchant, congressman, was born in 1752 in Stafford county, Va. He was a member of the Maryland legislature; also of the state convention which ratified the federal constitution; and was a member of congress from Maryland from 1794 to 1795 to fill a vacancy. He died Nov. 13, 1826, in Todd county, Va.

EDWARDS, BENJAMIN STEVENSON, lawyer, state legislator, jurist, was born June 3, 1818, in Edwardsville, Ill. In 1869 he was elected circuit judge of Sangamon county, Ill., but resigned after eighteen months' service, preferring the active practice of his profession. He died Feb. 5, 1886, in Springfield, Ill.

EDWARDS, CHARLES, lawyer, author, was born March 17, 1797, in England. He was a New York lawyer who was counsel to the British consulate. He was the author of The Juryman's Guide; Parties to Bills and Other Pleadings; Feathers from My Own Wings; Receivers in Chancery; Reports of Chancery Cases; Receivers in Equity; Referees; History and Poetry of Finger Rings; and Pleasantries about Courts and Lawyers. He died May 30, 1868, in New York city.

EDWARDS, CHARLES, journalist, was born July 6, 1846, in Springfield, Ill. In 1863 he filled a position in the commissary department of the United States army. After the war he was an instructor in Bryant and Stratton's Commercial college in Springfield for a short time. He was connected with the Illinois State Journal, and at one time was one of the proprietors of the Illinois State Register.

EDWARDS, CHARLES JEROME, underwriter, was born May 8, 1866, in Wayne county, N. Y. In 1888 he became metropolitan manager of the Equitable Life Assurance society.

EDWARDS, CLARENCE J., physician, journalist, legislator, was born Oct. 3, 1858, in Springfield, Ark. He is principally known as the editor and owner of The Meridional of Abbeville, La., although he has attained prominence as a physician; and has been a representative of the Louisiana state legislature.

EDWARDS, EDGAR S., farmer, stockman, was born March 4, 1829, in Buffalo, N. Y. For four years he was engaged in mining in Colorado; and four years at the same business in Montana. He moved to Idaho in 1867, where he has attained success in mining, farming and stock-raising.

EDWARDS, EMORY, naval engineer, author, was born in 1841 in Virginia. He is a naval engineer who served in the United States navy as assistant engineer in 1864-68. He is the author of A Catechism of the Marine Steam Engine; Modern American Locomotive Engines; Modern American Marine Engines, Boilers and Screw Propellers; and The Practical Steam Engineer's Guide.

EDWARDS, FRANCIS S., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born May 28, 1818, in Norwich, Conn. Removing to New York he was appointed a master in chancery in 1841 for the county of Chenango; in 1851 was elected surrogate of Chautauqua county; and in 1854 was elected to the thirty-fourth congress from New York.

EDWARDS, GEORGE WHARTON, artist, author, was born in 1860 in Connecticut. He is an artist and writer of short stories living at Plainfield, New Jersey.

His works are P'tit Matinée, and Other Monotones; Thumb-Nail Sketches; The Rivalries of Long and Short Codiac; and Break o' Day and Other Stories. In art he has treated principally Holland subjects; and has received numerous medals and diplomas.

EDWARDS, HARRY STILLWELL, journalist, author, was born in 1854 in Georgia. He is a journalist of Macon, Ga.; and the author of Two Runaways and Other Stories; and Sons and Fathers.

EDWARDS, HAYDEN, merchant, lawyer, legislator, was born in 1710. He was several times in the legislature from Stafford and Westmoreland counties, Va.

EDWARDS, HENRY PIERREPONT, lawyer, jurist, was born in 1809. He was a judge of the supreme court of New York for over seven years, and sustained a high reputation for independence and legal ability. He died Feb. 24, 1855, in New York city.

EDWARDS, HENRY W., lawyer, congressman, governor, United States senator, was born in 1779 in New Haven, Conn. He was a representative in congress from 1819 to 1823; and United States senator from 1823 to 1827. He was a member of the state senate in 1828 and 1829; speaker of the Connecticut house of representatives in 1830; and governor in 1833, and from 1835 to 1838. He died July 22, 1847, in New Haven, Conn.

EDWARDS, JAMES THOMAS, educator, clergyman, author, was born in 1838, in New Jersey. He is a methodist clergyman and educator of Baltimore; and the author of The Grass Family; The Voice Tree; and The Silva of Chautauqua Lake.

EDWARDS, JOHN, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1837 to 1843.

EDWARDS, JOHN, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1839 to 1843. He died June 25, 1843, in Chester, Pa.

EDWARDS, JOHN, legislator, United States senator. He was a member of the Kentucky legislature from Fayette county in 1781, 1782, 1783 and 1785; and was a commissioner who chose the seat of government at Frankfort in 1785. He was United States senator from Kentucky from 1792 to 1795. He died in 1837 in Bourbon county, Ky.

EDWARDS, JOHN, legislator, United States senator, was born in 1755 in Virginia. He was a member of the state convention of Virginia which ratified the federal constitution, and was one of the first two senators from Kentucky.

EDWARDS, JOHN, poet, was born April 15, 1806, in Wales. He was a Welsh poet who came to America in 1828, and settled in central New York. He was long prominent among Welsh residents of the United States, and published two volumes of verse, The Crucifixion; and The Omnipresence of God. He died Jan. 20, 1887, in Rome, N. Y.

EDWARDS, JOHN, lawyer, state legislator, was born Oct. 24, 1815, in Jefferson county, Ky. He was a member of the legislature of Indiana from 1845 to 1849, and filled numerous other offices of honor.

EDWARDS, JOHN C., congressman, governor. He was a representative in congress from Missouri from 1841 to 1843; and governor of that state from 1844 to 1848.

EDWARDS, JOHN ELLIS, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 1, 1814, in Guilford county, N. C. He is a methodist clergyman of Richmond, Va., and the author of Life of John Wesley Childs; Random Sketches and Notes of European Travel; The Confederate Soldier; and Log Meeting-House.

EDWARDS, JONATHAN, theologian, author, was born Oct. 5, 1703, in East Windsor, Conn. From 1751 to 1758 he served as missionary to the Stockbridge Indians, and the last month of his life was president of the college of New Jersey, now Princeton university. His chief work is the celebrated Inquiry into the Freedom of the Will, a masterpiece of acute, precise, and original thinking. His other works include Notes on the Mind and Natural Science; The Religious Affections; Distinguishing Marks of a Work of the Spirit; Nature of True Virtue; God's Last End in the Creation; Treatise on Grace; Doctrine of Original Sin Defended; Inquiry into the Qualifications for Communion; Thoughts for the Revival of Religion; History of the Redemption; and Life of David Brainerd. He died March 22, 1758, in Princeton, N. J.

EDWARDS, JONATHAN, clergyman, author, was born May 26, 1745, in Northampton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of great ability who was president of Union college. He was the author of Treatise on Liberty and Necessity; and Discourses on the Atonement. He died Aug. 1, 1801, in Schenectady, N. Y.

EDWARDS, JONATHAN, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Sept. 7, 1798, in Hartford, Conn. He practiced for many years in Hartford, where he held the office of judge of probate. About 1840 he removed to Troy, N. Y., of which city he was subsequently chosen mayor. He was also several times elected to the state legislature. He died Aug. 23, 1875, in New Haven, Conn.

EDWARDS, JONATHAN, clergyman, college president, was born July 19, 1817, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He has filled pastorates in the presbyterian churches in Ohio, Kentucky, New Jersey and Maryland; and from 1855-57 was president of Hanover college. He died July 13, 1891, in Peoria, Ill.

EDWARDS, JULIAN, composer, was born Dec. 17, 1855, in England. He is the author of Brian Born, which created a sensation on its production at the Broadway theater on Oct. 19, 1896, and established his fame as one of America's foremost composers of light opera. He has written many songs, notably a collection entitled Sunlight and Shadow.

EDWARDS, JUSTIN, clergyman, author, was born April 25, 1787, in Westhampton, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman, prominent in the temperance movement. Beside a Sabbath Manual; and Temperance Manual, he published a great number of tracts. He died July 23, 1853, in Bath Alum, Va.

EDWARDS, MORGAN, clergyman, author, was born May 6, 1722, in Wales. He was one of the founders of Brown university; and the author of Materials Toward a History of the Baptists in Pennsylvania; and Materials Toward a History of the Baptists in New Jersey. He died Jan. 28, 1795, in Pencador, Del.

EDWARDS, NINIAN, lawyer, jurist, governor, United States senator, was born in March, 1775, in Montgomery county, Md. Removing to Kentucky, he was twice elected to the legislature; was appointed a circuit clerk, and subsequently judge of the general court of Kentucky, of the circuit court, of the court of appeals, and finally, chief justice of the state, all before reaching the thirty-second year of his age. In 1809 President Madison appointed him governor of the territory of Illinois, to which office he was three times reappointed. When Illinois became a state he was elected a senator in congress, serving from 1818 to 1824. In 1826 was elected governor of the state of Illinois, which office he filled until 1831. He died of cholera July 20, 1833, in Belleville, Ill.

EDWARDS, NINIAN W., lawyer, legislator, was born April 15, 1809, near Frankfort, Ky. In 1834 he was appointed attorney-general of Illinois. In 1836 he was elected a representative in the legislature, and he served in the legislature, either in the senate or the house, from 1836 to 1852. In 1854 he received the appointment of state superintendent of public instruction and was the first incumbent of that office. During 1862-65 he was United States commissary with the rank of major. He wrote a History of Illinois and Ninian Edwards. He died Sept. 2, 1889.

EDWARDS, OGDEN, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born in 1781, in Connecticut. He was a member of the legislature, and in 1821 sat in the convention called to revise the constitution of the state. He was appointed circuit judge of the supreme court, and continued in that office until 1841. He died April 1, 1862, on Staten Island, N. Y.

EDWARDS, OLIVER, soldier, was born Jan. 30, 1835, in Springfield, Mass. In 1864 he was brevetted brigadier-general for gallant and distinguished services; and was made major-general the year following.

EDWARDS, PIERREPONT, soldier, lawyer, legislator, congressman, was born April 8, 1750, in Northampton, Mass. He was frequently elected to the Connecticut legislature; and was administrator of the estate of Benedict Arnold at the time of his treason. He was a delegate from Connecticut to the continental congress in 1787 and 1788; and subsequently filled the office of United States judge for the state of Connecticut, which he held at the time of his death. He died April 5, 1826, in Bridgeport, Ky.

EDWARDS, SAMUEL, congressman, was born in Delaware county, Pa. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1819 to 1827.

EDWARDS, SAMUEL, lawyer, jurist, was born April 24, 1839, in Glenville, N. Y. He attained prominence as an able lawyer, and became justice of the supreme court of the state of New York.

EDWARDS, SANFORD, surgeon, was born in 1742. He served with distinction as surgeon-general in General Marion's army. He died in 1815.

EDWARDS, THOMAS M., lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born in Cheshire county, N. H. He served eight years in the New Hampshire legislature between the years 1834 and 1856; and was a presidential elector in 1856. In 1859 he was elected a representative from New Hampshire to the thirty-sixth congress; and was re-elected to the thirty-seventh congress. He was a delegate to the Philadelphia loyalists' convention of 1866.

EDWARDS, TIMOTHY, merchant, judge, was born July 25, 1738, in Northampton, Mass. He removed to Stockbridge about 1770, where he was a leading citizen for forty-three years, and sat as judge of probate for Berkshire county.

EDWARDS, TOM O., congressman, was born in Maryland. He was elected a representative in congress from Ohio from 1847 to 1849. He died in February, 1876, in Wheeling, W. Va.

EDWARDS, TRYON, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 7, 1809, in Hartford, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman who edited the Works of Joseph Bellamy, with Memoir; the works of his grandfather, Jonathan Edwards; and published, among other works, Christianity a Philosophy of Principles; Self-Cultivation; Light for the Day; Wonders of the Word; and Anecdotes for the Family. He died in 1894.

EDWARDS, WAKEMAN W., lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Sept. 13, 1826, in Charlton, N. Y. He attended the public schools of his native village and prepared for college at the Schenectady lyceum. In 1850 he graduated from the Union college with honors, being third in his class. In 1851 he moved south, and taught a classical school in Camden, Miss. In 1855 he was admitted to the bar, and moved to Arkansas, where he practiced until the civil war; and in 1858 was a representative in the Arkansas state legislature. In 1865 he moved to Louisiana; practiced law first in New Orleans, and then at Abbeville. He has been judge of the twenty-fifth judicial court of Louisiana, and has had the management of all the public schools of the county under his charge.

EDWARDS, WELDON NATHANIEL, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1788, in Warren county, N. C. He was in the legislature for two years; was a member of congress from North Carolina from 1816 to 1827; and again went into the legislature, serving there from 1833 to 1844. He was again elected in 1850; was made president of the state senate; and was president of the state convention in 1861. He died Dec. 18, 1873, in Warren, N. C.

EDWARDS, WILLIAM, inventor, was born Nov. 11, 1770, in Elizabethtown, N. J. To him belongs the honor of the success in the United States of the manufacture of leather, both by his method and the improved machinery. His first tannery was built at Northampton, Mass. He died Dec. 1, 1851, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

EDWARDS, WILLIAM EMORY, clergyman, author, was born June 10, 1842, in Prince Edward county, Va. He is a Methodist clergyman of Virginia who is the author of John Newson, a Tale of College Life.

EDWARDS, WILLIAM H., soldier, lawyer, was born Nov. 30, 1841, in Lawrence county, Ind. He enlisted as a private in the sixty-seventh regiment Indiana volunteers. In 1872 he was elected to represent Lawrence county in the Indiana legislature, and served during the regular and special sessions.

EDWARDS, WILLIAM HENRY, naturalist, author, was born in 1822, in New York. He is a naturalist of Coalburgh, W. Va.; and the author of The Butterflies of North America; and Voyage up the Amazon.

EDWARDS, WILLIAM P., congressman, was born in Georgia. He was elected a representative from that state to the fortieth congress.

EDWARDS, WYNN, farmer, soldier, legislator, was born Nov. 9, 1842, in Denbighshire, North Wales. He received his education in Wales, and subsequently took a business course in Bryant and Stratton's college of Chicago, Ill. He emigrated to America in 1859, and has since lived at Rosendale, Wis. He is a successful farmer; has taken an active interest in the tramp problem, and through his influence a tramp workhouse has been erected in Fond du Lac. During the war he served in company F, twenty-first regiment Wisconsin volunteer infantry; was with General Sherman all through the Atlanta campaign, until wounded by a gun-shot on Aug. 7, 1864. He again joined the regiment at Savannah, and marched through the Carolinas. He was treasurer of his town for seven years; was postmaster during President Harrison's administration; is now serving his seventh year as chairman of his town; and in 1896 was elected a member of the Wisconsin state assembly.

EDWIN, DAVID, engraver, was born in December, 1776, in England. He was employed by Edward Savage, the painter, and soon became the most eminent artist of the time. He died Feb. 22, 1841, in Philadelphia, Pa.

EELLS, DANIEL PARMELEE, banker, was born April 16, 1825, in Westmoreland, N. Y. He graduated from the Hamilton college in 1848. He is prominent in the business and public affairs of Cleveland, Ohio, where he has been president of the Commercial National bank since 1868; and his connection with this institution covers a period of half a century. He was one of the projectors of the Ohio Central railroad, and its first president. He was prominent in the construction of the St. Louis, Keokuk and Northwestern railway; the New York, Chicago and St. Louis railway; the Detroit, Mackinac and Marquette railroad; and the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad. In connection with others, he has built and consolidated railroads, along whose lines villages sprang up, manufactories were started, and the whole country benefited.

EELLS, JAMES, clergyman, was born Aug. 27, 1822, in Westmoreland, N. Y. He attained success as a clergyman of the Presbyterian church; and filled pastorates in Penn Yan, N. Y.; Cleveland, Ohio; Brooklyn, N. Y.; San Francisco, and Oakland, Cal. He was professor of theology in the San Francisco Theological seminary; and also in the Lane seminary of Cincinnati; and in 1878 was president of the general assembly at Chicago. He died March 9, 1886, in Cleveland, Ohio.

EELLS, MYRON, clergyman, missionary, author, poet, was born Oct. 7, 1843, in Walker's Prairie, Wash. Since 1875 he has been a missionary to the Indians in the state of Washington. He has a collection of geological, Indian, Chinese, and other specimens of antiquity. He is the author of several prose works and a volume of poems.

EELLS, SAMUEL, lawyer, was born in 1811, in Westmoreland, N. Y. He was a successful lawyer and founded the Alpha Delta Phi fraternity in 1832. He died March 13, 1842, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

EFFNER, VALENTINE, congressman, was born in New York. He was a member of the assembly of that state in 1829; and was a representative in congress from 1835 to 1837.

EFIRD, CYPRIAN M., lawyer, state senator, was born Dec. 18, 1856, in Lexington, S. C. During 1892-96 he served as state senator for Lexington county in the South Carolina legislature. He is a lawyer of prominence and has been reporter for the state supreme court.

EGAN, MAURICE FRANCIS, journalist, author, poet, was born May 28, 1852, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a journalist and is now professor at the Roman Catholic university of Notre Dame, Ind. His prose writings include That Girl of Mine; That Lover of Mine; A Garden of Roses; Stories of Duty; The Life Around Us; The Theater and Christian Parents; Modern Novelists; Lectures on English Literature; The Disappearance of Mr. Longworth; A Primer of English Literature; A Gentleman; A Marriage of Reason; The Success of Patrick Desmond; and The Flower of the Flock. In verse he has published Preludes; and Songs and Sonnets, and Other Poems.

EGAN, MICHAEL, bishop, was born in Ireland. He was appointed pastor of St. Mary's church of Philadelphia; and in 1810 was consecrated bishop of the newly created diocese of Philadelphia. He died June 22, 1814, in Philadelphia, Pa.

EGAN, THOMAS W., soldier, was born in 1836, in New York city. In 1862 he was promoted colonel, and participated in all the battles of the army of the Potomac. At the battle of Boynton plankroad he commanded the division, and was brevetted major-general. He died Feb. 24, 1887, in New York city.

EGAR, JOHN HODSON, clergyman, author, was born in 1832, in England. He is an episcopal clergyman of Rome, N. Y.; and the author of The Threefold Grace of the Holy Trinity; and Christendom, Ecclesiastical and Political.

EGBERT, A. G., physician, farmer, congressman, was born April 13, 1828, in Mercer county, Pa. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-fourth congress.

EGBERT, JOSEPH, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1841 to 1843.

EGE, GEORGE, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania during the years 1796 and 1797 to fill a vacancy.

EGGLESTON, BENJAMIN, was born Jan. 3, 1816, in Corinth, N. Y. He was president of the Cincinnati city council; and was for some years a member of the state legislature. In 1864 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-ninth congress; and was re-elected to the fortieth congress. He was the author of several novels.

EGGLESTON, EDWARD, author, was born Dec. 10, 1837, in Vevay, Ind. He is a novelist now living near Lake George, N. Y., who, in the early part of his career, was a methodist minister. His first important work, The Hoosier Schoolmaster, attracted widespread notice. Other fiction by him include The End of the World; The Circuit Rider; Roxy; The Graysons, a story of Illinois; The Faith Doctor; The Hoosier Schoolboy; Queer Stories for Boys and Girls; Schoolmasters' Stories; Mr. Blake's Walking Stick; Duffels. Still other works are Sunday-school Manual; Counsel for Teachers; School History of the United States; Household History of the United States; First Book in American History; Stories of Great Americans; and The Beginners of a Nation, the first volume in a History of Life in the United States. With his daughter, Mrs. Seelye, he has written Tecumseh and the Shawnee Prophet; Pocahontas; Brandt and Red Jacket; and Montezuma.

EGGLESTON, GEORGE CARY, soldier, journalist, author, was born Nov. 26, 1839, in Vevay, Ind. He is a brother of Edward Eggleston. During the civil war he served in the confederate army, and afterwards filled several journalistic positions in New York city, becoming editor of the Commercial Advertiser in 1886. He is the author of How to Educate Yourself; A Man of Honor; A Rebel's Recollections; How to Make a Living; How to Make Money; The Big Brother, or a Story of the Indian War; Captain Sam; Signal Boys; The Wreck of the Red Bird; Strange Stories from History for Young People; Red Eagle; and Juggernaut: A Veiled Record.

EGGLESTON, JOSEPH, soldier, congressman, was born Nov. 24, 1754, in Amelia county, Va. He served in the revolutionary war as a captain and major of cavalry under Colonel Henry Lee; and was in several of the battles fought by Gates and Greene. He served in the Virginia assembly for several years; was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1798 to 1801; and from the time of his leaving congress until his death was a justice of the peace. He died Feb. 13, 1811.

EGLE, WILLIAM H., physician, state librarian, historian, was born Sept. 17, 1830, in Harrisburg, Pa. For three years he served in the civil war; and since 1870 has been surgeon in the national guard of Pennsylvania. In 1887 he was appointed state librarian of Pennsylvania. He is the author of a History of Pennsylvania; History of Dauphin County; History of Lebanon County; Historical Register; Pennsylvania Genealogies, Scotch-Irish and German; Pennsylvania in the Revolution; Notes and Queries relative to Interior Pennsylvania; and Pennsylvania Archives in twelve volumes.

EGLESTON, AZARIAH, soldier, state senator, jurist, was born Feb. 23, 1757, in Sheffield, Mass. He served in the revolutionary war, and attained the rank of major. In 1807-09 he was elected state senator; and in 1808 he was appointed associate justice of the court of sessions. He died Jan. 12, 1822.

EGLESTON, THOMAS, mining engineer, author, was born Dec. 9, 1832, in New York city. He is a metallurgist of note; and has been professor of mineralogy at Columbia college from 1864. He is the author of Metallurgy of Silver; Catalogue of Minerals; Lectures on Mineralogy; and Life of John Patterson, Major-General in the Army of the Revolution.

EHNINGER, JOHN WHETTON, artist, was born July 22, 1827, in New York city. The subject of his first painting, Peter Stuyvesant (1850), was taken from Irving's Knickerbocker's History of New York, and was engraved by the American Art union. He died Jan. 22, 1889, in Saratoga, N. Y.

EHRHARDT, JOHN ADAM, lawyer, was born Dec. 6, 1848, in Germany. He received his education at the Western Union college and the Illinois Military academy. He has gained distinction as an able lawyer of Stanton, Neb., and has been prosecuting attorney of his county. In 1897 he was elected department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic of Nebraska; and has also served as grand master of Masons in Nebraska.

EICHELBERGER, ABDIEL W., railroad president, was born Dec. 6, 1819, in Hanover, Pa. He is president of the Baltimore and Harrisburg railway; and is also president of the Berlin Branch railroad.

EICKHOFF, ANTHONY, journalist, congressman, was born April 11, 1827, in Westphalia, Germany. He had editorial charge of newspapers at St. Louis, Louisville, and finally at New York, where he located permanently in 1852. In 1863 he was appointed commissary general of subsistence of the state of New York; and was subsequently elected a representative in the New York legislature. He was elected coroner of the city of New York in 1873; and was elected a representative from New York to the forty-fifth congress.

EIDLITZ, CYRUS LAZELLE WARNER, architect, was born July 27, 1853, in New York city. Among the buildings that he has designed are the Michigan Central railway station in Detroit; the Dearborn station in Chicago; and the Buffalo library.

EIDLITZ, LEOPOLD, architect, author, was born March 29, 1823, in Prague, Bohemia. He was an architect of New York city; and the author of The Nature and Function of Art. He died in 1896.

EIGHMEY, CHARLES HENRY, lawyer, banker, was born Nov. 28, 1834, in Saratoga, N. Y. He was educated at Cornell college of Mt. Vernon, N. Y. During 1861-71 he practiced law with success. He has been vice-president, cashier, and president of the First National bank of Dubuque since 1871; and still is its honored president. Mr. Eighmey has been prominently identified with religious institutions, and has been a member of the Methodist Episcopal church of Dubuque, Iowa, half a century. He is a trustee and chairman of the building committee of the new St. Luke's Methodist church of Dubuque, to the construction of which he was a liberal donor.

EILAND, CHARLES LEVI, clergyman, legislator, was born March 20, 1852, near Troy, Ala. He is a successful clergyman of the baptist church; served with distinction as a member of the Alabama state legislature in 1892-93, and again in 1895-96. For ten years he has been moderator of the New Providence association; and now fills a pastorate in Brantley, Ala.

EILERS, FREDERIC ANTON, metallurgist, was born Jan. 14, 1839, in Germany. He is considered one of the foremost experts in the United States in his branch of metallurgy.

EINSTEIN, EDWIN, merchant, congressman, was born Nov. 18, 1842, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-sixth congress.

EISEMAN, BENJAMIN, merchant, was born Nov. 16, 1833, in Germany. In 1879 he moved to St. Louis, Mo., where he established a large dry goods house. He assisted in organizing several insurance companies and the First National bank. He was also for two years president of the Chamber of Commerce of Memphis, Tenn.

ELA, JACOB H., journalist, congressman, was born July 18, 1820, in Rochester, N. H. He established and edited the Herald of Freedom, and also participated in establishing the Independent Democrat. In 1857-58 he was a member of the state legislature, and filled several other state offices. In 1861 he was appointed United States marshal for his state, holding the office until 1866. He was elected a representative from New Hampshire to the fortieth and forty-first congresses; and in 1872 was appointed fifth auditor of the United States treasury; and in 1881 was appointed sixth auditor of the treasury.

ELAM, JOSEPH B., lawyer, congressman, was born June 12, 1821, in Hempstead county, Ark. He was admitted to practice law in Alexandria, La., in 1843; served two terms in the state legislature; and in 1851 removed to De Sota parish. In 1861 he was a delegate to the state constitutional convention; again served in the legislature during the civil war; and was elected a representative from Louisiana to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a democrat.

ELBERT, SAMUEL, soldier, governor, was born in 1743, in Prince William parish, S. C. He served in the revolutionary war and attained the rank of brigadier-general; and in 1785 was elected governor of Georgia. He died Nov. 2, 1788, in Savannah, Ga.

ELBERT, SAMUEL HITT, state legislator, governor, was born April 3, 1833, in Logan county, Ohio. In 1869 he was elected to the Colorado legislature; and in 1873 was elected governor of Colorado, serving until 1874.

ELDER, CYRUS, public official, author, poet, was born June 16, 1833, in Somerset, Pa. He was a revenue commissioner of Pennsylvania; and the author of Dream of a Free-Trade Paradise; Man and Labor; Short Studies; and May Gift, a volume of poems.

ELDER, GEORGE A. M., priest, college president, author, was born in 1794, in Hardin's Creek, Ky. He was a Roman catholic priest who founded the college of St. Joseph at Bardstown, Ky., and was its first president. He wrote Letters to Brother Jonathan; and other works. He died in 1838, in Bardstown, Ky.

ELDER, JOHN, clergyman, was born in 1706, in Ireland. He trained his parishioners for cavalry service against the Indians, and afterward received a colonel's commission from the proprietaries and had charge of the block-houses from Easton to the Susquehanna. He died in 1792, near Harrisburg, Pa.

ELDER, JOSEPH FREEMAN, educator, clergyman, was born March 10, 1839, in Portland, Maine. Since 1870 he has been pastor of the Baptist church of the Epiphany of New York city. In 1885 he became president of the New York Baptist City mission.

ELDER, MRS. SUSAN BLANCHARD, educator, author, was born about 1835, in Fort Jessup, La. She has written extensively for Roman catholic periodicals; and is the author of The Loss of the Papacy; James the Second; Savonarola; and Ellen Fitzgerald, a southern tale.

ELDER, WILLIAM, physician, author, was born July 23, 1806, in Somerset, Pa. He was a Philadelphia physician, prominent as an abolitionist; and the author of Periscopies, a volume of miscellanies; The Enchanted Beauty; The Life of Dr. Kane; The Debt and Resources of the United States (1863); Questions of the Day, Economic and Social; and Conversations on the Principal Subjects of Political Economy. He died in 1885.

ELDER, WILLIAM HENRY, bishop, was born March 22, 1819, in Baltimore, Md. He was made a bishop in 1857, beginning his active duties in charge of the see of Natchez. In 1880 he was nominated coadjutor bishop of Cincinnati, and in 1883 became archbishop.

ELDRED, NATHANIEL B., congressman, was born in 1795, in Orange county, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1822 to 1828: was for a time canal commissioner of Pennsylvania; and naval officer at Philadelphia from 1852 to 1856. He died Jan. 27, 1867, in Bethany, Pa.

ELDREDGE, BARNABAS, manufacturer, was born June 19, 1843, in Munson, Ohio. In 1879 the Eldredge Manufacturing company was organized, and he was chosen its first president. In 1886 the company was consolidated with the National Sewing Machine company, and the two corporations removed from Chicago to Belvidere, Ill., where they built a large plant for the manufacture of their machines.

ELDREDGE, NATHANIEL B., physician, lawyer, congressman, was born March 28, 1813, in Auburn, N. Y. He was a state senator of Michigan in 1848; and judge of probate from 1852 to 1856. In 1861 he raised a company of volunteers and joined the seventh Michigan infantry; and became a lieutenant-colonel in 1862. In 1865 he removed to Adrian, Mich., and was elected mayor in 1870. In 1874 he was elected sheriff of Lenawee county; and was elected a representative from Michigan to the forty-eighth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-ninth congress as a democrat.

ELDRIDGE, CHARLES A., was born Feb. 27, 1821, in Bridgeport, Vt. In 1848 he removed to Fond du Lac, Wis. In 1854 and 1855 he was a member of the state senate; and in 1862 was elected a representative from Wisconsin to the thirty-eighth congress. He was re-elected to the thirty-ninth, fortieth, forty-first, forty-second and forty-third congresses as a democrat. He served on several important committees while a member of congress.

ELDRIDGE, EDWIN, capitalist, was born in 1811. He became president of the Elmira Iron and Steel company, and was long connected with the Erie railroad. He gave a public park to Elmira, and contributed materially to the progress of that town. He died Dec. 16, 1876, in Elmira, N. Y.

ELDRIDGE, EDWIN R., educator, lecturer, college president, was born Aug. 31, 1843, in Burnettsville, Ind. He received his education at the Indiana common schools; Burnettsville seminary; Washington college, Iowa; and subsequently received the degree of doctor of laws from the Drake university of Des Moines, Iowa. He has always been prominently identified with educational work; has been county superintendent of schools; for fourteen years was president of the Eastern Iowa Normal school; and for nineteen years was lecturer in normal institutes in connection with county superintendency and normal school presidency. He is now president of the State Normal college of Troy, Ala., which position he has filled since 1888.

ELIOT, ANDREW, clergyman, was born Dec. 28, 1718, in Boston, Mass. In 1742 he was ordained pastor of the new North church in Boston, where he remained until his death. He was a great student of literature and science, and was influential in the cause of American freedom. He died Sept. 30, 1778, in Boston, Mass.

ELIOT, CHARLES, author, was born in 1791, in Boston, Mass. His first writings appeared in the General Repository, a Boston periodical, and he was specially interested in the preparation of Scheusner's Lexicon, His Miscellaneous Writings were edited by Andrews Anton. He died in 1813.

ELIOT, CHARLES WILLIAM, educator, college president, was born March 20, 1834, in Boston, Mass. He was a distinguished educator who has been president of Harvard university since 1869. He is the author of a Manual of Qualitative Chemical Analysis; and Manual of Inorganic Chemistry.

ELIOT, EPHRAIM, druggist, author. He published Historical Notices of the New North Religious Society, with Anecdotes of Rev. Andrew Eliot and John Eliot.

ELIOT, JARED, clergyman, scientist, author, was born Nov. 7, 1685, in Guilford, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman of Killingworth, Conn., in 1707-63. He was awarded a medal by the London institute in 1756 for producing malleable iron from American black sand. He was the author of Essays upon Field and Husbandry, and many single sermons. He died April 22, 1763, in Killingworth, Conn.

ELIOT, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 5, 1604, in England. He was a puritan minister of Roxbury who came to America in 1631, and is famous in history as the Indian apostle. He is chiefly remembered for his famous translation of the Bible into the Indian language, but he was the author of other works, among which are the Communion of Churches; The Harmony of the Gospels; Dying Speeches of Several Indians; The Indian Primer; and Indian Logic Primer. He died May 21, 1690, in Roxbury, Mass.

ELIOT, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born May 31, 1754, in Boston, Mass. He was a clergyman of Boston, pastor of the New North Congregational church in 1779-1813, and author of the New England Biographical Dictionary. He was also a missionary to the Indians; and translated the first Bible into the Indian dialect, which translation was also the first Bible printed in America. He died Feb. 14, 1813, in Boston, Mass.

ELIOT, SAMUEL, educator, college president, author, was born Dec. 22, 1821, in Boston, Mass. During 1856-64 he filled the chair of history and political science in Trinity college of Hartford, Conn.; was its president in 1860-64; and was a lecturer on constitutional law during 1864-74. For two years he was superintendent of the Boston public schools. He is the author of History of Liberty; Manual of the United States History; and Life and Times of Savonarola.

ELIOT, SAMUEL AITKINS, manufacturer, congressman, author, was born March 5, 1798, in Boston, Mass. He was mayor of Boston from 1837 to 1839; and a representative and senator in the legislature for three or four years. He was a representative in congress from 1850 to 1851; and was also treasurer of Harvard college for eleven years. He published Observations on the Bible for the Use of Young Persons; and Sketch of the History of Harvard College. He died Jan. 29, 1862, in Cambridge, Mass.

ELIOT, THOMAS DAWES, was born March 20, 1808, in Boston, Mass. He served in both houses of the Massachusetts legislature; was a representative in congress to fill a vacancy; and re-elected to the thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth, thirty-ninth, and fortieth congresses as a republican. He died June 12, 1870, in New Bedford, Mass.

ELIOT, WILLIAM GREENLEAF, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 5, 1811, in New Bedford, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of St. Louis, and chancellor of Washington university there in 1872-77. He was the author of Doctrines of Christianity; Early Religious Education; Lectures to Young Men; Lectures to Young Women; Discipline of Sorrow; Manual of Prayer; The Unity of God; The Story of Archer Alexander from Slavery to Freedom; and Home Life and Influence. He died Jan. 23, 1887, in Pass Christian, Miss.

ELKINS, HENRY ARTHUR, artist, was born May 30, 1847, in Vershire, Vt. He removed to Chicago in 1856, taught himself to paint, and achieved some success. Among his pictures are Mount Shasta; The Thirty-eighth Star; Storm at Shasta; New Eldorado; and Crown of the Continent. He died July 25, 1884, in Georgetown, Col.

ELKINS, STEPHEN BENTON, soldier, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Sept. 26, 1841, in Perry county, Ohio. He was a member of the territorial legislative assembly of New Mexico in 1864 and 1865. He held the offices of territorial district attorney, attorney-general, and United States district attorney; was elected to the forty-third congress as a republican, and while abroad was renominated and elected to the forty-fourth congress. After leaving congress he removed to West Virginia and devoted himself to business affairs; was appointed secretary of war in 1891; and in 1894 was elected to the United States senate as a republican. His term of service will expire March 3, 1901.

ELKINS, WILLIAM LEWIS, astronomer, was born April 29, 1855, in New Orleans, La. He has attained note as an eminent astronomer.

ELKINS, WILLIAM LUKENS, financier, was born May 2, 1832. He went to Philadelphia and became one of the first to engage in the refining of crude oil. Several small refineries were purchased, the Belmont Oil works were leased and control of the entire local industry of oil refining had soon been obtained by Mr. Elkins.

ELLEDGE, WILLIAM MADISON, clergyman, was born March 17, 1862, in Perry, Ill. In 1891 he graduated from the Fremont Normal school, Nebraska; and in 1896 from the Chicago Theological seminary. For many years he taught school; has been editor of a newspaper, and was at one time a candidate for the Nebraska state legislature. He now fills a pastorate in the Congregational church at Overbrook, Kan.

ELLENBECKER, JOHN G., educator, college president, poet, was born Jan. 29, 1869, in Hancock, Mich. When two years of age his parents moved to Kansas, where he was educated, and graduated from the Marysville High school in 1888.

He taught school for awhile, and subsequently graduated from the scientific class of the Kansas Normal college, with the degree of B. S.; subsequently receiving the degree of B. A. He organized the Modern Normal college of Marysville, Kan., of which institution he is president. Some of his poems appear in Poets of America, and other standard works.

ELLERY, CHRISTOPHER, United States senator, was born Nov. 1, 1768, in Newport, R. I. He was a senator in congress from Rhode Island from 1801 to 1805; and in the latter year was appointed United States commissioner of loans. He was appointed collector of Newport in 1828. He died Dec. 2, 1840, in Newport, R. I.

ELLERY, FRANK, naval officer, was born July 23, 1794, in Newport, R. I. He commanded the steamer Enterprise in 1840, was put on the reserved list in 1855, commanded the Boston rendezvous again in 1861, and was commissioned commodore on the retired list in 1867.

ELLERY, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 22, 1727, in Newport, R. I. He was a delegate to the continental congress from 1776 to 1780, and from 1783 to 1785. He was a signer of the declaration of independence, and also of the articles of confederation. In 1786 he was appointed commissioner of loans for Rhode Island; and was elected chief justice of the state. In 1789 he was appointed, by President Washington, collector of Newport, which office he held until his death, which occurred Feb. 15, 1820, in Newport, R. I.

ELLET, ALFRED W., soldier, was born in Penn Manor, Pa. He served during the civil war; and for gallant and meritorious services received the rank of brigadier-general.

ELLET, CHARLES, soldier, civil engineer, author, was born Jan. 1, 1810, in Penn's Manor, Pa. He was an engineer of note who built the first wire suspension bridge in America. He served during the civil war as a colonel in the federal army, and was killed in an engagement on the Mississippi. He was the author of Physical Geography of the Mississippi Valley; Coast and Harbor Defences; and The Mississippi and Ohio Rivers, with Plans for Protecting the Delta from Inundation. He died June 21, 1862, in Cairo, Ill.

ELLET, CHARLES RIVERS, soldier, was born in 1843, in Georgetown, D. C. He served during the civil war and attained the rank of colonel. He died Oct. 29, 1863, in Bunker Hill, Ill.

ELLET, MRS. ELIZABETH FRIES LUMMIS, author, poet, was born in 1818, in Sodus Point, N. Y. She was the author of Domestic History of the American Revolution; Women of the American Revolution; Court Circles of the Republic; Queens of American Society; Pioneer Women of the West; Novelettes of the Musicians; Rambles in the West; The Practical Housekeeper; Family Pictures from the Bible; Evenings at Woodlawn; Poems, Original and Selected; Teresa Contarini, a tragedy; Scenes in the Life of Joanna of Sicily; The Characters of Schiller; and Women Artists in All Ages. She died June 3, 1877.

ELLET, MARY, patriot, was born June 17, 1779, in Philadelphia, Pa. She has been termed the Cornelia of America. She won the name by her heroic reply to one who sympathized with her in the loss of sons and grandsons during the civil war.

ELLET, WILLIAM HENRY, chemist, was born Nov. 1, 1806, in New York city. For his discovery of a new and cheap method of preparing gun-cotton the legislature of South Carolina presented him with a vote of thanks and a pension. He died Jan. 26, 1859, in New York city.

ELLETT, TAZEWELL, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 1, 1856, in Richmond, Va. He was presidential elector in 1888 on the democratic ticket; was a member of the state democratic committee of fifty for about twelve years, and during a part of the time acting as a member of the executive committee of ten. He was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a democrat.

ELLICOTT, ANDREW, civil engineer, was born Jan. 24, 1754, in Bucks county, Pa. In 1790 he was employed by the general government to survey and lay out the city of Washington; and in 1792 was appointed surveyor-general of the United States. In 1812 he became a professor of mathematics at West Point. He died Aug. 29, 1820.

ELLICOTT, BENJAMIN, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1817 to 1819.

ELLICOTT, JOSEPH, civil engineer, was born in Bucks county, Pa. In 1797 he was employed by the Holland Land company and three years later was appointed its general agent, with a grant of six thousand acres of land, and five per cent. commissions on the sale of land. In 1803 he located the land office in Batavia, N. Y.; and the surveys of the Holland Land company were all made in his name. He died Aug. 19, 1826, in Batavia, N. Y.

ELLINGTON, CLARENCE H., farmer, state senator, was born July 22, 1853, in Elberton, Ga. He has been state senator of the Georgia legislature; and for two years was president of the Georgia State Farmers' alliance.

ELLINWOOD, FRANK FIELDS, clergyman, author. He was a presbyterian clergyman, secretary of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions; and the author of The Great Conquest; and Oriental Religions and Christianity. He died in 1826, in New York.

ELLINWOOD, TRUMAN J., educator, editor, was born June 11, 1831, in Smithfield, N. Y. He has taught in district schools and in the Brooklyn Adelphi academy and high schools; in the Martha's Vineyard Summer institute, and in the Ellinwood School of Phonography, of which he is proprietor. For thirty years he was official reporter of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's Discourses; and since 1887 Mr. Ellinwood has been transcribing his unpublished shorthand notes of this great preacher's pulpit and other utterances; and has caused to be issued three volumes of the same entitled A Book of Prayer; Bible Studies; and Metaphors and Similes. He is the editor and owner of The Students' Journal; and has contributed extensively to periodical literature.

ELLIOT, BENJAMIN, jurist, author, was born in 1786, in Charleston, S. C. He was a South Carolina jurist who published Refutation of Calumnies respecting the Institution and Existence of Slavery; and The Militia System of South Carolina. He died in 1836.

ELLIOT, DANIEL GIRAUD, ornithologist, author, was born in 18... He is an ornithologist of Chicago, at one time president of the American Ornithologists' union, and is the author of Monograph of the Pittidæ or Family of the Ant Thrushes; The New and Heretofore Unfigured Species of the Birds of North America (1869); The Life and Habits of Wild Animals; Classification and Synopsis of the Trochilidæ; and North American Shore Birds.

ELLIOT, GEORGE HENRY, military engineer, author, was born March 31, 1831, in Lowell, Mass. He is a military engineer in the service of the United States, and the author of European Light-House Systems; and The Presidio of San Francisco.

ELLIOT, GEORGE THOMSON, physician, author, was born May 11, 1827, in New York city. In 1857 he was chosen visiting physician of the Lying-in hospital in New York, and in 1861 was elected to fill the chair of obstetrics and diseases of women and children and of clinical midwifery in the Bellevue hospital college. His principal medical work is Elliott's Obstetric Clinic. He died Jan. 29, 1871, in New York city.

ELLIOT, HENRY RUTHERFORD, journalist, author, was born in 1849. He is a journalist of New York city; and the author of The Basset Claim, a Story of Life in Washington; and The Common Chord, a Story of the Ninth Ward.

ELLIOT, JOHN, congressman. He was a senator in congress from Georgia from 1819 to 1825, serving on several important committees. He died Aug. 9, 1827, in Sunbury, Ga.

ELLIOT, SAMUEL HAYES, clergyman, author, was born in 1809 in Vermont. He was a congregational clergyman of New Haven; and the author of Rolling Ridge, or the Book of Four-and-Twenty Chapters; The Parish Side; Dreams and Realities; New England's Chattels, or Life in a Northern Poor-House; and The Attractions of New Haven. He died in 1869.

ELLIOT, WILLIAM HORACE, genealogist, was born in 1824 in New Haven, Conn. He compiled a Genealogy of the Eliot Family. He attained prominence as a lawyer. He died Dec. 8, 1852, in St. Croix, W. I.

ELLIOTT, ANNA, patriot of the revolution. American prisoners that were brought into Charleston were aided and relieved by her assiduous ministrations.

ELLIOTT, CHARLES, clergyman, author, was born in 1792 in Ireland. He was a methodist clergyman, and at one period was president of Iowa Wesleyan university. He was the author of Treatise on Baptism; Delineation of Roman Catholicism; Life of Bishop Roberts; History of the Great Secession from the Methodist Episcopal Church; Political Romanism; Reminiscences of the Wyandotte Mission; Southwestern Methodism; The Bible and Slavery; and Sinfulness of American Slavery. He died Jan. 6, 1869, in Mount Pleasant, Iowa.

ELLIOTT, CHARLES, clergyman, educator, author, was born in 1815 in Scotland. He was a presbyterian minister, professor of Hebrew at Lafayette college, Easton, Pa. He was the author of The Sabbath; The Inspiration of the Holy Scriptures; and Vindication of the Mosaic Authorship of the Pentateuch.

ELLIOTT, CHARLES LORING, painter, was born in December, 1812, in Scipio, N. Y. He was a successful portrait painter of Albany, N. Y., where he died Aug. 25, 1868.

ELLIOTT, CHARLES WYLLYS, author, was born May 27, 1817, in Guilford, Conn. He was a New York writer, at one time a landscape gardener of note, and the author of The Book of American Interiors; Pottery and Porcelain; Remarkable Characters and Places in the Holy Land; Cottages and Cottage Life; Mysteries, or Glimpses of the Supernatural; St. Domingo, its Revolution and its Hero, Toussaint l'Ouverture; New England History, from its Discovery by the Northmen; and Wind and Whirlwind, a novel. He died in 1883.

ELLIOTT, EUGENE STANHOPE, lawyer, journalist, was born Aug. 13, 1842, in Vermilion county, Ill. In 1868 he purchased a half interest in the Milwaukee Journal of Commerce, and in 1868 assumed the entire charge. In 1886 he was nominated for the office of city attorney.

ELLIOTT, EZEKIEL BROWN, statistician, author, was born July 16, 1823, in Sweden, N. Y. He was a government statistician of note, and the author of Unification of International Coinage. He died in 1888.

ELLIOTT, FRANKLIN REUBEN, horticulturist, author, was born April 27, 1817, in Guilford, Conn. He was a horticulturist of Cleveland, and the author of The Western Fruit Book; Popular Deciduous and Evergreen Trees; Handbook for Fruit Growers; and Handbook of Practical Landscape Gardening. He died Jan. 10, 1878, in Cleveland, Ohio.

ELLIOTT, GILBERT MOLLESON, soldier, was born Oct. 7, 1840, in Thompson, Conn. In April, 1861, when Fort Sumter was fired upon, he unfurled the stars and stripes from the college building, and in his address declared he would defend his country's honor with his life's blood. He died Nov. 24, 1863, in Lookout Mountain, Tenn.

ELLIOTT, HENRY WOOD, artist, author, was born Nov. 13, 1841, in Cleveland, Ohio. He is an artist in the employ of the Smithsonian institution, and the author of Monograph of the Seal Islands of Alaska; and Our Arctic Provinces.

ELLIOTT, JAMES, congressman, was born Aug. 9, 1770, in Guilford, Vt. He was a representative in congress from Vermont from 1803 to 1809. He died Nov. 10, 1830, in Newfane, Vt.

ELLIOTT, JAMES M., railroad president, was born Nov. 12, 1854, in Rome, Ga. In 1889 he became president of the Gadsden and Attalla Union railroad.

ELLIOTT, JAMES T., lawyer, jurist, journalist, congressman, was born April 22, 1823, in Monroe county, Ga. He was chosen president of a railroad company in 1858; and was elected a circuit judge in Arkansas in 1866. He established a newspaper at Camden, in that state, in 1867, called the South Arkansas Journal; and was elected a representative from Arkansas to the fortieth congress to fill a vacancy.

ELLIOTT, JESSE DUNCAN, naval officer, was born July 14, 1782, in Maryland. In 1804 he entered the navy as a midshipman; was in the war with Great Britain; and captured two armed British brigs. In 1813 he succeeded Perry in command of Lake Erie. He died Dec. 18, 1845, in Philadelphia, Pa.

ELLIOTT, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 24, 1768, in Clinton, Conn. He was a congregational minister at Madison, Conn., during 1791-1824, and co-author with S. Johnson of the first American dictionary of the English language. He died Dec. 17, 1824, in Madison, Conn.

ELLIOTT, JOHN G., legislator, was born Oct. 7, 1850, in Alleghany county, N. Y. He received his education in the schools of northern Indiana and at the normal college of Valparaiso. For four years he was county recorder of Merced county, Cal., and also its county clerk for four years. He is now a member of the California state assembly, and takes an active part in public affairs.

ELLIOTT, JOHN M., lawyer, congressman, was born May 16, 1820, in Scott county, Va. He was elected to the state legislature in 1847; and in 1853 was elected a representative in congress.

ELLIOTT, JONATHAN, soldier, journalist, author, was born in 1784 in England. For thirteen years he edited and published the Washington Gazette, and was the author of American Diplomatic Code; Debate on Adoption of the Constitution; Funding System of the United States; Statistics of the United States; The Comparative Tariffs; and Sketches of the District of Columbia. He died in 1802 in Washington, D. C.

ELLIOTT, MRS. MAUD (HOWE), author, was born Nov. 9, 1855, in Boston, Mass. She is a fiction writer of Chicago, and the author of Atalanta in the South; Mammon; A Newport Aquarelle; The San Rosario Ranch; Honor; and Phyllida.

ELLIOTT, MORTIMER F., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 24, 1842, in Cherry Flats, Pa. He commenced the practice of law at Wellsboro, Pa., and in 1870 was an unsuccessful candidate for president judge. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1873; and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

ELLIOTT, ROBERT BROWN, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 11, 1842, in Boston, Mass. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of South Carolina in 1868; and was a member of the house of representatives of South Carolina from 1868 to 1870. In 1869 he was appointed assistant adjutant-general, which position he held until elected to the forty-second congress; and was re-elected to the forty-third congress. He died in 1884, in New Orleans, La.

ELLIOTT, ROBERT WOODWARD BARNWELL, was born Aug. 16, 1840, in Beaufort, S. C. He was ordained a priest in Savannah, Ga., in 1871, and in November of that year became pastor of St. Philip's church in that city. In 1874 he was consecrated missionary bishop of western Texas. He died Aug. 26, 1887, in Sewanee, S. C.

ELLIOTT, SAMUEL MACKENZIE, oculist, was born April 9, 1811, in Scotland. In 1835 he opened an office in New York city and devoted himself to the cure of eye diseases. He died May 1, 1875, in Brighton, N. Y.

ELLIOTT, SARAH BARNWELL, author, was born in 18—. She was the author of Jerry; John Paget, a novel of New York and Newport; and The Felmeres.

ELLIOTT, STEPHEN, naturalist, author, was born Nov. 11, 1771, in Beaufort, S. C. He was a naturalist of South Carolina, and a professor in the state medical college. He was the author of The Botany of South Carolina and Georgia. He died March 28, 1830, in Charleston, S. C.

ELLIOTT, STEPHEN, lawyer, bishop, was born Aug. 31, 1806, in Beaufort, S. C. He practiced law in Charleston and Beaufort until 1833. In 1841 he was consecrated protestant episcopal bishop of Georgia. He died Dec. 21, 1866, in Savannah, Ga.

ELLIOTT, THEODORE BATES, lawyer, was born July 12, 1836, in Wayne county, N. Y. He attained success as one of the most prominent lawyers of Milwaukee county, Wis. He died Jan. 11, 1883, in Wisconsin.

ELLIOTT, WARREN G., railroad president. In 1890 he became president of the Wilmington and Weldon railroad; and the same year became president of the Petersburg railroad.

ELLIOTT, WILLIAM, patriot of the revolution, was born in 1761, in Beaufort, S. C. He served in the patriot army while still a youth, and was taken prisoner at the surprise of John's Island, and confined in the prison ship. He died in 1808, in Beaufort, S. C.

ELLIOTT, WILLIAM, author, was born April 27, 1788, in Beaufort, S. C. His published works include an Address Before the St. Paul's Agricultural Society; and Carolina Sports by Land and Water. He was also the author of Fiesco, a tragedy. He died in February, 1863, in Beaufort, S. C.

ELLIOTT, WILLIAM, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 3, 1838, in Beaufort, S. C. He served as an officer throughout the war in the confederate army; and in 1866 was elected a member of the South Carolina legislature and intendant of Beaufort. He was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-second congresses; received the certificate of election to the fifty-first congress, but was unseated by the house; was given the certificate of election to the fifty-fourth congress, but was unseated June 4, 1896, and the seat given to his republican opponent. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

ELLIS, ABNER, patriot, was born in Dedham, Mass. He represented that town in the provincial congresses of October, 1774, and February and May, 1775, taking a prominent part in the proceedings.

ELLIS, CALEB, lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, was born in 1767, in Walpole, Mass. He was a representative in congress from 1805 to 1809; was a member of the council, and in 1811 elected to the state senate. In 1812 he was one of the electors of president and vice-president; and in 1813 was judge of the supreme court of New Hampshire. He died May 3, 1816.

ELLIS, CALVIN, physician, was born in 1826, in Boston, Mass. In 1863 he became adjunct professor of the theory and practice of medicine in Harvard, and in 1865 adjunct, and in 1867 regular, professor of clinical medicine, which chair he held till his death. Among his publications the most important are papers on Obstruction of Lung, Caused by Pressure on the Primary Bronchus; and The Tendency of Disease in One Part to Excite it in Another; and clinical lectures on Capillary Bronchitis. He died Dec. 14, 1883, in Boston, Mass.

ELLIS, CHARLES, founder, was born Jan. 31, 1800, in Muncy, Pa. He was one of the founders of the college of pharmacy of Philadelphia, and was its fourth president from 1854 to 1869. He died May 16, 1874, in Philadelphia, Pa.

ELLIS, CHARLES MAYO, lawyer, author, was born Dec. 23, 1818, in Boston, Mass. He was a Boston lawyer of prominence as an abolitionist, who published a History of Roxbury. He died Jan. 26, 1878, in Brookline, Mass.

ELLIS, CHESELDEN, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1843 to 1845.

ELLIS, EDWARD SYLVESTER, educator, author, was born April 11, 1840, in Geneva, Ohio. He was trustee and superintendent of schools of Trenton. He is the author of thirty juvenile works, and still issues two annually. He is the author of two arithmetics and various other educational works, and also The Youth's History of the United States, and The Standard History of the United States. His other works include From the Throttle to the President's Chair; Lost in Samoa; The Camp Fires of General Lee; The Hunters of the Ozark; The Last War Trail; Righting the Wrong; Up the Tapa-jos; Down the Mississippi; Life of Daniel Boone; and Storm Mountain.

ELLIS, ELEAZER HOLMES, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 26, 1826, in Green Bay, Wis. He has been justice of the peace, alderman and mayor of Green Bay, Wis., of which city he was appointed postmaster in 1896. For eight years, during 1871-79, he was judge of the circuit court of Wisconsin in the tenth judicial circuit.

ELLIS, EZEKIEL JOHN, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 15, 1841, in Covington, La. He served throughout the civil war in the confederate army as private to captain. From 1867 until his death he practiced law in New Orleans, La. In 1874 he was elected to the forty-fourth congress; and received the re-election to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses as a democrat. He died April 19, 1889, in Washington, D. C.

ELLIS, GEORGE EDWARD, clergyman, author, was born in 1814, in Massachusetts. He was a unitarian clergyman of Boston, who was pastor of the Harvard church in Charlestown in 1840-69, and for many years president of the Massachusetts Historical society. He was the author of A Half Century of the Unitarian Controversy; Evidences of Christianity; The Red Man and the White in North America; The Organ and Church Music; Aims and Purposes of the Founders of Massachusetts; Memoirs of Count Rumford, Jared Sparks, Jacob Bigelow, Luther Bell, and others; Lives of John Mason, Anne Hutchinson, and William Penn, in Sparks's American Biography; and History of the Battle of Bunker Hill. The Puritan Age and Rule in the Colony of the Massachusetts Bay is his most important work. He died in 1894.

ELLIS, JOHN, physician, inventor, author, was born Nov. 26, 1815, in Ashfield, Mass. He lectured for six years in the Homeopathic Medical college of Cleveland, Ohio, and was professor of the theory and practice of medicine for two years in the New York Homeopathic Medical college. He invented a process for refining petroleum; and in 1881 purchased a tract of land at Edgewater, N. J., and constructed one of the most complete oil refineries in the world.

ELLIS, JOHN BRECKENRIDGE, educator, author, poet, was born Feb. 11, 1870, in Marion county, Mo. He received his education at the Woodland college, and in 1886 graduated from the Plattsburg college. He has filled the chair in Plattsburg college, in which institution he is now professor of English literature. He is the author of several novels entitled Hand of Fire; The Flitterfleds; Missouri Ville Sketches; a volume of poems, and other works.

ELLIS, JOHN MILLOT, clergyman, educator, was born July 14, 1793, in Keene, N. H. He moved to Illinois and was pastor at Kaskaskia and Jacksonville, where he established a female seminary. He died Aug. 6, 1855.

ELLIS, JOHN WASHINGTON, banker, was born Aug. 15, 1817, in Williamsburg, Ohio. When the national bank act was passed in 1863, he organized the First National bank of Cincinnati. The most important operation of his life was the resuscitation of the Northern Pacific Railroad company in 1879-80, after the failure under Jay Cooke's management in 1873. Mr. Ellis formed a syndicate, which took $40,000,000 of Northern Pacific bonds and finished the road to the Pacific.

ELLIS, JOHN WILLIAM, educator, lawyer, lecturer, author, college president, was born Dec. 29, 1839, in Carthage, Ill. When an infant he removed to Kentucky; and in 1869 to Missouri, where he has attained distinction as an able lawyer, being a member for ten years of the bar at St. Louis, and subsequently of Plattsburg. He has been president of the Warsaw college, Kentucky; president of the Woodland college, Missouri, and is now president of Plattsburg college, Missouri. He is author of The Life Mission, a poem of great merit; and translator into English of a metrical translation of The Song of Solomon. He has conducted Chautauqua assemblies, and in 1889 received the degree of LL. D. from that institution.

ELLIS, JOHN WILLIS, lawyer, jurist, governor, was born Nov. 23, 1820, in Rowan, N. C. He was a member of the house of commons of North Carolina from 1844 to 1848; and then judge of the superior courts of law and equity; and was governor of North Carolina from 1859 until his death. He died in 1861, in Raleigh, N. C.

ELLIS, LOUIS F., soldier, patriot, was born July 17, 1843, in Sing Sing, N. Y. His grandfather came from England; was a prominent wholesale merchant in New York city, 120 years ago. He graduated from the public schools of New York city, and was just entering Rutgers college when the war broke out. He went to the front in a militia regiment, and later enlisted for three years in the one hundred and thirty-first New York volunteer infantry, and was rapidly promoted and commanded his company in all the engagements of his regiment in the department of the Gulf. He volunteered as a member of the Port Hudson Forlorn Hope Storming Column, and was voted a medal by congress for gallant and meritorious conduct. He served as department commander of Ohio two terms; and also as national commander of the union veterans. He has been chairman of the republican county committee; a delegate to state and national conventions, and received the unanimous endorsement for congress. He is connected with the Standard Oil company at Lima, Ohio.

ELLIS, PERRY CANBY, journalist, author, was born Aug. 21, 1867, in Boone county, Ky. He received his education in the Woodland college, and in 1885 he graduated from the Plattsburg college. He was on the editorial staff of the St. Louis Star, Kansas City Times and the Kansas City World. He is the author of a Political Handbook, and several short stories.

ELLIS, POWHATAN, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born about 1794, in Virginia. He became one of the judges of the supreme court of that state; in 1825 was appointed to a seat in the United States senate, but was displaced by the legislature. In 1827, however, the legislature elected him a senator in congress, where he served until 1833, after which he was appointed United States judge for the district of Mississippi. In 1836 he was appointed charge d'affaires to Mexico; and in 1839 minister to that republic. He died about 1844.

ELLIS, RUFUS, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 14, 1819, in Boston, Mass. He was lecturer in the Harvard divinity school in 1869 and 1871, and for several years before his death was editor of the Religious Monthly Magazine. He died Sept. 23, 1885, in England.

ELLIS, SUMNER, clergyman, author, was born in 1828, in Massachusetts. He was a universalist clergyman of Boston and Chicago, and the author of At Our Best, and Other Essays; Life of E. H. Chapin; and Hints on Preaching. He died Jan. 26, 1886, in Chicago, Ill.

ELLIS, THEODORE GUNVILLE, civil engineer, soldier, was born Sept. 25, 1829, in Boston, Mass. Prior to the civil war he was chief engineer of the Saratoga railroad; and had charge of silver mines in Mexico. At Gettysburg his regiment captured five battle flags in a bayonet charge; and he subsequently attained the rank of brigadier-general. In 1867 he was surveyor-general of Connecticut; and at the time of his death had charge of the government works on the Connecticut river. He died Jan. 8, 1883, in Hartford, Conn.

ELLIS, WILLIAM C., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1823 to 1825.

ELLIS, WILLIAM R., educator, journalist, congressman, was born April 23, 1850, in Waveland, Ind. He moved to Oregon in 1883; has lived in Heppner since 1884; and served one term as county superintendent of schools and three terms as district attorney of the seventh judicial district of Oregon. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses, and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

ELLIS, WILLIAM T., lawyer, congressman, was born July 24, 1845, in Daviess county, Ky. He was elected county attorney of Daviess county in 1870; and was re-elected in 1874. He was presidential elector for the second congressional district in 1876; and was elected to the fifty-first and fifty-second congresses, and was re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

ELLISON, ANDREW, congressman, was born in Ireland. He was elected a representative in congress from Ohio from 1853 to 1855.

ELLISON, WILLIAM H., college president, was born Dec. 4, 1805, in Charleston, S. C. In 1838 he was chosen professor of mathematics in Wesleyan Female college at Macon; two years later he was elected president, in which position he remained until 1851. He died Dec. 26, 1884, in Clayton, Ala.

ELLMAKER, AMOS, jurist, was born Feb. 2, 1787, in New Holland, Pa. He was deputy attorney-general for Dauphin county in 1809-12, and served in the legislature in 1812-14. He was appointed president judge of his judicial district in 1815. He died Nov. 28, 1851, in Lancaster, Pa.

ELLMORE, ALFRED, clergyman, poet, was born Aug. 11, 1838, in Frankfort, Ind. For thirty-five years he has been a successful clergyman; for twenty years was field editor on the American Christian Review; for seven years co-editor of the Christian Leader; and since 1892 has been editor of the Gospel Echo. He is the author of a large number of tracts, and a volume of verse, entitled Maple Valley Poems.

ELLSBERRY, WILLIAM W., physician, congressman, was born Dec. 18, 1833, in New Hope, Ohio. He was a member of the county military board of Brown county; settled at Georgetown, Ohio; and was three times chosen county auditor. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-ninth congress.

ELLSWORTH, CHARLES C., lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 29, 1824, in Berkshire, Vt. He was appointed prosecuting attorney of Livingston county, Mich., in 1850. He moved to Montcalm county in 1851, and was a member of the state house of representatives from 1852 to 1854. He served two terms as prosecuting attorney of Montcalm county; and was appointed a paymaster in the army in 1862, and served until the close of the war. He was elected a representative from Michigan to the forty-fifth congress as a republican.

ELLSWORTH, EPHRAIM ELMER, soldier, was born April 23, 1837, in Mechanicsville, N. Y. In 1860 he organized a regiment of zouaves, which became renowned for the perfection of their discipline, and of which he was commissioned colonel. He died May 24, 1861, in Alexandria, Va.

ELLSWORTH, ERASTUS WOLCOTT, inventor, poet, was born Nov. 27, 1822, in East Windsor, Conn. He is an inventor of Connecticut, who published in 1855 a volume of poems of very uneven excellence, some of which were popular for a time.

ELLSWORTH, EUGENE STAFFORD, was born Nov. 2, 1848, in Milwaukee county, Wis. He served in the war as a drummer boy in the company which his father commanded.

He subsequently did a very extensive business in loaning money for eastern capitalists on Iowa improved farms. In 1880 he organized the Cedar Rapids, Iowa Falls and Northwestern Land and Town Lot company, which purchased lands and town sites for over three hundred miles along the Burlington railroad; and he justly claims to be the founder of more than thirty cities and towns in Iowa. He is a prominent financier and the president of numerous business enterprises. Ellsworth college of Iowa Falls was named in his honor.

ELLSWORTH, HENRY LEAVITT, lawyer, author, was born Nov. 10, 1791, in Windsor, Conn. He was appointed resident commissioner among the Indian tribes in Arkansas; and was United States commissioner of patents from 1836 to 1845. His reports to congress during this period added greatly to the improvement of agriculture. He then settled in Lafayette, Ind., where he was a purchaser of United States land. He was the author of Digest of Patents from 1770 to 1859. He died Dec. 27, 1858, in Fair Haven, Conn.

ELLSWORTH, HENRY W., lawyer, author, was born in 1814, in Windsor, Conn. He moved to Indiana in 1835; was counsel for S. F. B. Morse in some of his suits connected with telegraph patents; and was appointed charge d'affaires to Sweden in 1845. He was the author of Sketches of the Upper Wabash Valley; and American Swine Breeder. He died August, 1864, in New Haven, Conn.

ELLSWORTH, JAMES WILLIAM, capitalist. He is president of the Ohio Coal company, at St. Paul, and president of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Dock company, in Cleveland.

ELLSWORTH, MARY WIGGINS, author, was born Sept. 7, 1830, in Exeter, N. H. She wrote biographical articles for Cypress Leaves, and was the author of Peace or the Stolen Will; An Hour with the Children; Smith's Saloon; and compiled Juvenile Miscellany. She died Aug. 12, 1870, in Newton, Mass.

ELLSWORTH, OLIVER, jurist, United States senator, was born April 29, 1745, in Windsor, Conn. In 1780 he was elected to the council of Connecticut, and was a member of that body until 1784, when he was appointed a judge of the superior court of that state; and in 1787 was elected a member of the convention which framed the federal constitution. When the federal government was organized, in 1789, he was a member of the senate from Connecticut; and in 1796 was appointed by President Washington chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, but resigned the office on account of ill-health in 1800. In 1799 he was appointed by President Adams envoy extraordinary to France, for the purpose of concluding a treaty with that nation. He died Nov. 26, 1807.

ELLSWORTH, SAMUEL S., congressman, was born in Vermont. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1840; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1847.

ELLSWORTH, WILLIAM WOLCOTT, lawyer, jurist, congressman, governor, was born Nov. 10, 1791, in Windsor county, Conn. He was professor of law in Trinity college; and was a representative in congress from Connecticut from 1829 to 1833. In 1838 he was elected governor of Connecticut, and re-elected for four years; and was a judge of the supreme court of Connecticut for many years. He died Jan. 15, 1868, in Hartford, Conn.

ELLWANGER, GEORGE, nurseryman, was born Dec. 2, 1816, in Wurtemberg. He came to America in 1835 and settled in Rochester, where in 1839 he established the firm of Ellwanger and Barry for the raising of fruit and shade trees, shrubs, and flower and foliage plants. This was the pioneer nursery of the west, and being located just beyond the city limits on the Mount Hope road, took the name of the Mount Hope nursery. He built and owns the large Ellwanger and Barry office building of Rochester, N. Y.

ELLWANGER, GEORGE HERMAN, journalist, author, poet, was born July 10, 1848, in Rochester, N. Y. For many years he was the editor of the Rochester Post-Express, and is the author of The Garden's Story; The Story of My House; In Gold and Silver; Idyllists of the Country-Side; Love's Demesne; and A Garland of Contemporary Love Poems.

ELLWANGER, HENRY BROOKS, horticulturist, author, was born in 1851 in New York. He was a horticulturist of Rochester, N. Y., and the author of The Rose, a Treatise on Cultivation; and History of Roses. He died in 1883.

ELLWOOD, REUBEN, manufacturer, congressman, was born Feb. 21, 1821, in New York. He located at Sycamore, Ill.; engaged largely in manufacturing; and became president of several manufacturing companies. He was elected a representative from Illinois to the forty-eighth congress as a republican.

ELLYSON, HENRY KEELING, journalist, legislator, was born July 31, 1823, in Richmond, Va. In 1854-55 he served his native city in the Virginia legislature; from 1857 till 1865 was sheriff of Henrico county; and in 1870 was elected mayor of Richmond. He has long been connected, as associate proprietor and editor, with the Richmond Dispatch, one of the most widely circulated journals in the south.

ELMENDORF, JOHN JAMES, clergyman, author, was born June 27, 1827, in New York city. He was an episcopal clergyman, and professor of philosophy in Racine college, Wisconsin, in 1867-88, and later connected with the Western Theological seminary at Chicago. He was the author of Manual of Rites and Ritual; History of Philosophy; Outlines of Logic; Aspects of Modern Philosophy; and Moral Philosophy. He died in 1896.

ELMENDORF, LUCAS, was born in 1758. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1797 to 1803; a member of the assembly of that state in 1804 and 1805; and a state senator from 1814 to 1817. He died Aug. 17, 1843.

ELMER, EBENEZER, soldier, physician, state senator, congressman, was born in 1752, in Cedarville, N. J. He was a field officer of the revolutionary war; and also a surgeon in the army. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1801 to 1807; and served a number of years in the state assembly, and was chosen speaker. He was also for a long time adjutant-general of the New Jersey militia; and during the war of 1812 commanded the troops on the Delaware. In 1807 and 1815 he was a member and vice-president of the state council; and in 1808 was appointed collector of Bridgeton, and held the office for many years. He died Oct. 18, 1843, in Brighton, N. J.

ELMER, JONATHAN, physician, jurist, congressman, was born Nov. 29, 1745, in Fairfield, N. J. He was a member of the continental congress; and a senator in congress under the federal constitution from New Jersey from 1789 to 1791. During the war of the revolution he was a sheriff, a surrogate, and a judge; and was a member of the Philosophical Society of America. He died Sept. 3, 1807, in Burlington, N. J.

ELMER, LUCIUS QUINTIUS CINCINATUS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, author, was born Feb. 3, 1793, in Bridgeton, N. J. For many years he was prosecutor for the state; and was in the assembly from 1820 to 1823, the last year being speaker of that body. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1843 to 1845. In 1852 he was appointed one of the justices of the supreme court of his state, which office he continued to hold until 1859. He was the author of A Digest of the Laws of New Jersey, commonly styled Nixon's Digest; Genealogy of the Elmer Family; History of Cumberland County; and History of New Jersey. He died March 11, 1883, in Bridgeton, Conn.

ELMORE, FRANKLIN HARPER, soldier, lawyer, banker, United States senator, was born Jan. 16, 1799, in Laurens, S. C. He was a colonel of militia; and also a trustee of the South Carolina college. In 1822 he was elected solicitor of the southern circuit, and was continued in this office, by re-elections, until 1837, when he was elected to the house of representatives in congress, and served until 1839. He was in that year elected president of the bank of the State of South Carolina, which office he held till his appointment to the United States senate in 1850, to fill a vacancy. He died May 29, 1850, in Washington, D. C.

ELMORE, RUSH, jurist, was born about 1810 in Alabama. He settled in Kansas; and was appointed an associate justice of the United States court for that territory, residing at LeCompton.

ELSBURG, LOUIS, physician, author, was born April 2, 1836, in Iserloin, Prussia. He was a physician of New York city, and the author of Laryngoscopy Medication; and The Throat and Its Functions. He died Feb. 1, 1885, in New York city.

ELSHMUS, LOUIS M., artist, poet, was born in 1864, in Laurel Hill, N. J. He has studied art in New York and Paris; and has exhibited paintings in several art exhibitions in this country and abroad. He has contributed to New York magazines, and has published two volumes of verse, Moods of a Soul; and Songs of Spring and Blossoms of Unrequited Love, the latter issued with illustrations by the author.

ELSON, LOUIS CHARLES, journalist, author, was born April 17, 1848, in Boston, Mass. He is a Boston journalist, editor of the Vox Humana; and the author of History of Music; History of German Song; and Curiosities of Music.

ELTON, JOHN PRINCE, manufacturer, legislator, was born April 24, 1809, in Watertown, Conn. In 1832 he went into business in Waterbury, Conn., and in 1833 his firm began the manufacture of brass wire, being the first in the country to take up that industry. In 1840, 1849, 1851, and 1863 he served in the state legislature. He died Nov. 10, 1864, in Waterbury, Conn.

ELWELL, EDWARD HENRY, journalist, author, was born Dec. 14, 1825, in Portland, Maine. Since 1848 he has been editor and manager of the Portland Transcript. He is the author of Portland and Vicinity; The Boys of Thirty-five, a story of a seaport town; and Fraternity Papers, a volume of essays and sketches.

ELWELL, JOSEPH C., lawyer, jurist, was born Oct. 19, 1850, in Milford Center, Ohio. He has served as district attorney of the third district of Colorado; and as judge of the district court of the tenth judicial district of Colorado.

ELWELL, MARIA HUNTINGTON, lecturer, was born March 9, 1845, in Hadley, Mass. Many of her ancestors distinguished themselves in colonial and revolutionary times—Governor Samuel Huntington, signer of the Declaration of Independence, was one of them. She attended the best academies of Hadley, Mass., and Farmington, Conn., and subsequently taught in Cambridge and in Philadelphia. In 1870 she married John D. Elwell, and has since lived in Brooklyn, N. Y. She has been president of the Brooklyn Woman's club; vice-president of the Christian Socialist society; historian-general of the Daughters of the Revolution; secretary of the New York League of Unitarian Women; and lecturer for the American Humane Education society.

ELWYN, ALFRED LANGDON, philanthropist, author, was born July 9, 1804, in Portsmouth, N. H. He originated the Pennsylvania Agricultural Society and Farm School, and was president in 1850. He was president of the Pennsylvania institution for instruction of the Blind; Training School for Feeble Minded Children; Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He wrote Bonaparte; Glossary of Supposed Americanisms; Letters to Hon. John Langdon During and After the Revolution; Melancholy and Its Musings; and A Few Hints to the City on Intemperance. He died March 15, 1884, in Philadelphia, Pa.

ELY, ALFRED, lawyer, congressman, author, was born Feb. 18, 1815, in Lyme, Conn. In 1858 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-sixth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-seventh congress. He published a Journal of Alfred Ely, a Prisoner of War in Richmond.

ELY, CHARLES WRIGHT, educator, soldier, was born March 14, 1839, in Madison, Conn. He served with distinction as a soldier during the civil war. Since 1870 he has been principal and superintendent of the Maryland state school for the deaf.

ELY, EZRA STILES, clergyman, author, was born June 13, 1786, in Lebanon, Conn. He was a presbyterian minister of Philadelphia, and the author of Contrast Between Calvinism and Hopkinsianism; Endless Punishment; The Science of the Human Mind; Sermons on Faith; Visits of Mercy; Memoir of Zebulon Ely; The Contrast; and Ely's Journal. He died June 18, 1861, in Philadelphia, Pa.

ELY, FREDERICK DAVID, lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, was born Sept. 24, 1838, in Wrentham, Mass. At Dedham, Mass., he was a trial justice from 1867 to 1885; was a representative in the Massachusetts legislature in 1873; and was a state senator in 1878 and 1879. He was a member of the school committee of Dedham from 1882 to 1885; and in 1884 he was elected a representative from Massachusetts to the forty-ninth congress as a republican.

ELY, GEORGE H., manufacturer, banker, state senator, was born Nov. 15, 1844, in Elyria, Ohio. He organized the Elyria Stone company; and is now president of the National Bank of Elyria. He has served with distinction as a state senator in the seventy-first and seventy-second general assemblies of Ohio.

ELY, GRISWOLD LORD, merchant, was born Sept. 1, 1842, in New York city. In 1863 he was appointed assistant paymaster in the United States navy; and in 1875 established the cutlery firm of Ely and Wray of New York city.

ELY, JOHN, congressman, was born in Connecticut. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1839 to 1841, having previously served two years in the assembly of that state.

ELY, MELVIN G., educator, journalist, lawyer, was born Aug. 22, 1865, in Beech Spring, Va. After receiving his education at the Cumberland college of Rose Hill, Va., he began educational work; was professor in Turkey Cove seminary during 1887-90; and the two succeeding years was principal of Mt. Pleasant high school, Ky. He then entered journalism as editor of the Weekly Bulletin of Harlan C. H., Ky.; and is now successfully engaged in the practice of law at Jonesville, Va.

ELY, RICHARD THEODORE, educator, author, was born April 13, 1854, in Ripley, N. Y. Since 1892 he has been professor of political economy and director of the school of economics, political science and history in the university of Wisconsin. He is the author of French and German Socialism in Modern Times; The Past and Present of Political Economy; Taxation in American States and Cities; Problems of To-Day; Political Economy; Social Aspects of Christianity; and Outlines of Economics.

ELY, SMITH, merchant, congressman, was born in 1825, in New Jersey. He was elected a school trustee; in 1857 to the state senate; and was elected a representative from New York to the forty-second and forty-fourth congresses as a democrat. He died July 28, 1884.

ELY, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1805 to 1815. He died in 1817.

ELY, WILLIAM G., soldier, was born about 1835. He served in the civil war and was brevetted a brigadier-general.

ELY, WILLIAM MATHER, farmer, merchant, legislator, was born in 1818, in Binghamton, N. Y. He was for several years president of the state agricultural society. In 1868 he was elected to the legislature, and served till his death. He died Feb. 5, 1872, in Binghamton, N. Y.

ELZEY, ARNOLD, soldier, was born Dec. 18, 1816, in Somerset county, Md. In 1861 he entered the confederate service with the rank of colonel; and was subsequently promoted major-general. He died Feb. 21, 1871, in Baltimore, Md.

EMANUEL, DAVID, governor, was born in 1742. He settled in Burke county, Ga.; was president of the senate; and in 1801 governor of Georgia. He died in 1808, in Burke county, Ga.

EMBREE, ELISHA, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 28, 1801, in Lincoln county, Ky. He was elected to the state senate of Indiana; and in 1835 was chosen circuit judge, which office he held for ten years. In 1847 he was elected representative in the thirtieth congress from Indiana. He died Feb. 28, 1863, in Princeton, N. J.

EMBRY, JAMES CRAWFORD, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 2, 1834, in Knox county, Ind. He is the author of Condition and Prospects of the Colored American.

EMBURY, MRS. EMMA CATHARINE MANLY, poet, author, was born in 1806, in New York city. She was a writer of poetry and prose whose home was in Brooklyn. Her various works include Guido and Other Poems; The Blind Girl and Other Tales; The Waldorf Family, a Fairy Tale; Female Education; Glimpses of Home Life; Pictures of Early Life; Poems; Token of Flowers; Nature's Gems, or American Wild Flowers; and Love's Token Flowers, a collection of poems. She died Feb. 10, 1863, in New York.

EMERSON, ALFRED, archaeologist, educator, author, was born in 1859, in Pennsylvania. He is an archaeologist; and professor at Cornell university since 1891. He is the author of Dissertatio de Hercule Homeric.

EMERSON, BENJAMIN KENDALL, geologist, author, was born Dec. 20, 1843, in Nashua, N. H. For many years he held the chair of geology and mineralogy in Amherst college, and subsequently became United States geologist. He is the author of several works on geology.

EMERSON, BROWN, clergyman, was born Jan. 8, 1778, in Asby, Mass. He was ordained in 1805 as Dr. Daniel Hopkins' colleague in the pastorate of the old South church of Salem, where he remained till his death, being sole pastor from 1816 till 1849. He died July 25, 1872, in Salem, Mass.

EMERSON, CHARLES FRANKLIN, educator, was born Sept. 28, 1843, in Chelmsford, Mass. In 1869 he became instructor in mathematics in the college proper, and in 1872 associate professor of natural philosophy, succeeding in 1878 to full possession of that chair. His work has consisted largely in the development of the physical laboratory in Dartmouth, for which purpose he traveled extensively through Europe during 1883-84.

EMERSON, CHARLES NOBLE, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 6, 1821, in Massachusetts. He was a Massachusetts lawyer, commissioner of revenue, who published Internal Revenue Guide; and Handbook of Internal Revenue for Popular Use. He died April 15, 1869, in New York city.

EMERSON, EDWARD WALDO, educator, author, was born in 1844, in Massachusetts. He is an instructor in art anatomy, living at Concord, Mass., and the author of Emerson in Concord.

EMERSON, MRS. ELLEN RUSSELL, author, was born Jan. 16, 1837, in New Sharon, Maine. She is the author of Indian Myths; and has always taken deep interest in Indian history. Her latest work is entitled Masks, Heads, and Faces, with Some Considerations Respecting the Rise and Development of Art.

EMERSON, FREDERICK, educator, author, was born Nov. 28, 1788, in Hampstead, N. H. He was a prominent Boston educator, and superintendent of schools, who published a series of popular arithmetics, chief among which was the North American Arithmetic. He died in 1857, in Boston, Mass.

EMERSON, FREEMAN O., merchant, legislator, was born Jan. 12, 1855, in Gorham, N. H. He is a successful merchant of Boston, Mass.; was a member of the city council during 1894-96; and in 1897 served with distinction as a member of the Massachusetts state legislature.

EMERSON, GEORGE BARRELL, educator, author, was born Sept. 12, 1797, in Kennebunk, Maine. He was an educator of Boston, of much prominence and wide influence, and the author of Lectures on Education; The School and the Schoolmaster (with A. Potter); Manual of Agriculture (with C. L. Flint); Report on the Trees and Shrubs of Massachusetts; and Reminiscences of an Old Teacher. He died March 14, 1881, in Newton, Mass.

EMERSON, IRVING, composer, was born Nov. 4, 1842, in Brighton, Maine. He is chorus director and supervisor of music in the public schools of Hartford, Conn. He is the author of a number of anthems; a few songs and piano pieces; and several singing books for public schools.

EMERSON, JAMES E., machinist, inventor, was born Nov. 2, 1823, in Maine. For many years he manufactured edge tools in Trenton, N. J.; and received large contracts for swords and sabres from the government during the civil war. He afterward became superintendent of the American Saw company, which was organized to manufacture his circular saws with movable teeth. He also invented a combined anvil, shears and punching machine; and other mechanical appliances.

EMERSON, JOHN SMITH, missionary, author, was born Dec. 28, 1800, in Chester, N. H. He published five volumes of elementary works, three of which were in the Hawaiian language. He also published an English-Hawaiian Dictionary. He died March 28, 1867, in the Sandwich Islands.

EMERSON, JOSEPH, clergyman, educator, author, was born in 1777, in Hollis, N. H. He established an academy at Byfield, Mass.; wrote Lectures on the Millennium; Lectures on Pollock's Course of Time; and an edition of Watts on the Mind. He died May 14, 1833, in Weathersfield, Conn.

EMERSON, LUTHER ORLANDO, musician, was born Aug. 3, 1820, in Parsonsfield, Maine. He has written and compiled many collections of church music. Among them The Romberg Collection; The Golden Wreath; The Golden Harp; The Sabbath Harmony; The Harp of Judah; Merry Chimes; Jubilate; and sundry other collections.

EMERSON, PHILIP H., lawyer, state senator, jurist, was born Feb. 15, 1834, in Danby, Vt. He was city attorney of Battle Creek, Mich., from 1865 to 1873; trustee and president of school board from 1868 to 1873; served in the state senate; and United States associate justice of the supreme court of Utah from 1873 to 1885.

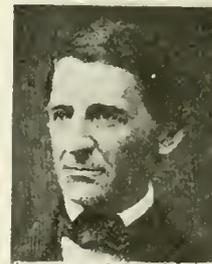

EMERSON, RALPH, clergyman, educator, author, was born Aug. 18, 1787, in Hollis, N. H. He was a congregational clergyman, professor in Andover Theological seminary in 1829-53, and author of Life of Joseph Emerson; and translation of Wisgon's Augustinianism and Pelagianism. He died May 20, 1863, in Rockford, Ill.

EMERSON, RALPH WALDO, clergyman, lecturer, author, was born May 25, 1803, in Boston, Mass. He was the most distinguished of American essayists, and by some critics ranked as the foremost American poet when the substance of his poetry is considered apart from its form. He was ordained in 1829 as a unitarian minister in Boston, but retired from the profession in 1833, and the next year settled in Concord, Mass., where the remainder of his life was spent. He succeeded Margaret Fuller as editor of The Dial, and was the most prominent figure among the transcendentalists. As a lecturer he was frequently before the public, and in his writings faced a worldwide public as a philosophical thinker. His first volume of poems appeared in 1847, followed in 1867 by May-Day and Other Pieces. His prose writings are comprised in Nature; Essays, first and second series; Representative Men; English Traits; Conduct of Life; Society and Solitude; Letters and Social Aims; Lectures and Biographical Sketches; Miscellanies; and Natural History of Intellect, and Other Papers. He died April 27, 1882.

EMERTON, EPHRAIM, educator, author, was born in 1851 in Massachusetts. He is professor of history at Harvard university, and the author of Introduction to the Study of Mediaeval History; Synopsis of the History of Continental Europe; The Practical Method in Higher Historical Instruction; Sir William Temple and die Tripleallianz vom Jahre, 1668; and Mediaeval Europe.

EMERTON, JAMES HENRY, naturalist, author, was born in 1847 in Salem, Mass. He is a naturalist of eminence, and the author of Structure and Habits of Spiders; and Life on the Seashore.

EMERY, BRAINERD P., journalist, author, poet, was born March 25, 1865, in Southport, Conn. He is the author of In Sunshine and Shadow; and In the Haunts of Bloom and Bird.

EMERY, CHARLES EDWARD, civil engineer. He has invented numerous appliances for the use of civil engineers.

EMERY, GEORGE ADDISON, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born in November, 1839, in Saco, Maine. He has been justice of the peace, commissioner for Massachusetts, judge of the municipal court and recorder and trial justice. He has represented Saco in the state legislature.

EMERY, GEORGE W., governor, was a citizen of Tennessee. In 1875 he was appointed governor of Utah, serving until 1880.

EMERY, LEWIS, petroleum producer, was born in 1839, in Cherry Creek, N. Y. In advance of oil development in Bradford, Pa., he leased about fourteen thousand acres of land. Sinking the first well at Toad Hollow, two miles south of the present city of Bradford, in 1875, he obtained a flow of forty barrels of oil per day.

EMERY, MATTHEW GAULT, architect, was born Sept. 28, 1818, in Pembroke, N. H. He is a well-known architect of New York city. From 1845 he has been identified as incorporator, director or officer in nearly all the fire and life insurance companies organized in Washington.

EMERY, ORIN C., journalist, author, was born Jan. 19, 1860, in Compton, Ill. In 1896 he was elected a representative in the Oregon state legislature. He is the editor of the Yamhill Independent of Newburg, Ore., and has attained prominence in the political affairs of his state.

EMMERTON, JAMES ARTHUR, generalist, physician, author, was born Aug. 28, 1834, in Salem, Mass. He is a New England genealogist and physician, and the author of Eighteenth Century Baptisms in Salem, Massachusetts; Record of the 23d Massachusetts Regiment; and Materials towards an Emmerton Genealogy.

EMMET, EMMA, artist, was born in 1854. She has attained national prominence as an artist.

EMMET, JOHN T., Roman catholic priest, was born Feb. 13, 1854, in Pittsford, N. Y. In 1890 he was appointed pastor of St. Mary's church of Waterford, N. Y.

EMMET, JOSEPH KLINE, actor, was born March 13, 1841, in St. Louis, Mo. He visited in Australia in 1877, and in Europe in 1881 and 1885, in the latter year fulfilling engagements in England, Ireland and Scotland. His final appearance on the stage was made in the spring of 1891. He died June 15, 1891, in Cornwall-on-Hudson, N. Y.

EMMET, ROSINA, artist. She received a first prize medal in London in 1878, for heads on china. She has illustrated a book for children, entitled Pretty Peggy, collecting and arranging for it the poems and music, and Mrs. Burton Harrison's Old Fashioned Tales.

EMMET, THOMAS ADDIS, lawyer, author, was born April 24, 1764, in Ireland. He was an Irish patriot who came to the United States in 1804 and settled in New York city, where he practiced law. He is the author of Pieces of Irish History. He died Nov. 14, 1827, in New York city.

EMMET, THOMAS ADDIS, civil engineer, author, was born June 4, 1818, in New York city. In 1858 he was appointed by the North Carolina legislature to conduct the geological survey of that state. He published valuable reports in connection with the surveys of New York and North Carolina; A Manual of Mineralogy and Geology; and American Geology.

EMMET, THOMAS ADDIS, physician, surgeon, author, was born May 29, 1828, in Virginia. He is a physician and surgeon of New York city, whose chief work is The Principles and Practice of Gynecology.

EMMETT, H. HUNTINGDON, clergyman, lecturer, was born Jan. 31, 1852, in the state of Maine. He received his education in the schools of Maine and New Hampshire; and has filled pastorates in New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania. He has attained distinction as a popular orator; and his lectures on the North American Indian and other subjects have gained for him a national reputation as one of the most fluent, dramatic and cultured men on the platform. He has been grand worthy patriarch of the Sons of Temperance of western New York; and grand chaplain of the Independent Order of Good Templars of the state of Ohio.

EMMONS, EBENEZER, geologist, author, was born May 16, 1799, in Middlefield, Mass. He was a noted geologist who in the latter part of his life was attached to the state geological survey of North Carolina. He was the author of Manual of Mineralogy and Geology; and American Geology. He died Oct. 1, 1863, in Brunswick, N. C.

EMMONS, GEORGE FOSTER, naval officer, author, was born Aug. 23, 1811, in Clarendon, Vt. He was a rear-admiral in the United States service who wrote The Navy of the United States from 1775 to 1853. He died July 2, 1884, in Princeton, N. J.

EMMONS, NATHANIEL, clergyman, author, was born April 20, 1745, in East Haddam, Conn. He was a once noted congregational minister at Franklin, Mass., in 1773-1840. His theological works in six volumes, with Memoir by J. Ide, appeared in 1842. He died Sept. 23, 1840.

EMMONS, SAMUEL FRANKLIN, geologist, author, was born March 29, 1841, in Boston, Mass. He was a geologist in government service, and the author of Descriptive Geology; Geological and Mining Industries of Leadville; and Statistics and Technology of the Precious Metals.

EMMONS, WILLIS TALMON, lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 27, 1858, in Biddeford, Maine. He graduated from the law school of Harvard university, and has attained success in his profession at Saco, Maine. He has been city auditor; was mayor for three terms; and during 1883-91 was judge of the municipal court. During 1891-95 he was deputy collector of customs, port of Portland, Maine; and since 1894 has been county attorney of York county.

EMORY, JOHN, bishop, author, was born April 11, 1789, in Queen Anne county, Md. He was a methodist bishop of prominence in his denomination, and the author of The Divinity of Christ Vindicated; and Defence of Our Fathers. He died Dec. 17, 1835, in Reisterstown, Md.

EMORY, ROBERT, clergyman, educator, author, was born July 29, 1814, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was the president of Dickinson college of Carlisle, Pa., in 1842-48. He was the author of Life of Bishop Emory; and History of the Discipline of the Methodist Episcopal Church. He died May 18, 1848, in Baltimore, Md.

EMORY, WILLIAM HELMSLEY, soldier, author, was born Sept. 9, 1811, in Queen Anne county, Md. He was an army officer who retired from the United States service in 1876 with the rank of brigadier-general, and was the author of Notes of a Military Reconnaissance in Missouri and California, 1848; and Report on the United States and Mexican Boundary Commission. He died Dec. 1, 1887, in Washington, D. C.

EMORY, WILLIAM HELMSLEY, naval officer, graduated at the United States naval academy in 1866; became master in 1869; lieutenant in 1870; and in 1884 commanded the Bear of the Greely relief expedition.

EMOTT, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 14, 1771, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He was a distinguished member of the bar; under the old constitution of New York, for several years, filled the office of first judge of the court of common pleas for his county, and in that capacity gave that court a rank among the best of the state. He was a representative in congress from his native state from 1809 to 1813; and under the constitution of 1821 was appointed judge for the second district. He died April 7, 1850, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

EMOTT, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, was born April 23, 1823, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. In 1854-55 he served as the first mayor of Poughkeepsie, N. Y. He then became justice of the New York supreme court for the second judicial district; was appointed presiding judge in 1852; and judge of the court of appeals in 1863. He died Sept. 11, 1884, in Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

EMPIE, ADAM, college president, clergyman, was born Sept. 5, 1785, in Schenectady, N. Y. In 1827 he was elected president of William and Mary college, and continued in that office until 1836. He resigned the presidency to become rector of St. James' church in Richmond, Va. He died Nov. 6, 1860, in Wilmington.

EMRIE, J. REECE, congressman, was born in Ohio. He was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-fourth congress.

EMSWILER, GEORGE P., merchant, author, was born Jan. 15, 1835, in York, Pa. Since his youth he has been employed in various capacities—as dry goods clerk, bank clerk, school teacher, freight and ticket agent; and for twelve years was proprietor of a wholesale and retail business, in which he has been eminently successful. He has a most extensive collection of coins; and a large collection of mound builders' relics which he donated to Eastham college of Richmond, Ind. He is the author of a volume entitled Poems and Sketches; and has contributed extensively to periodical literature.

ENDICOTT, CHARLES MOSES, author, was born in 1793 in Danvers, Mass. He was a writer of Salem, Mass., who was at one time commander of a merchantman, and the author of Life of John Endicott; The Persian Poet, a tragedy; Rights and Duties of Nations; and Three Orations. He died in 1863 in Northampton, Mass.

ENDICOTT, JOHN, governor, was born in 1588, in England. He became governor of the Massachusetts colony in 1644. He died March 15, 1665, in Boston, Mass.

ENDICOTT, WILLIAM CROWNINSHIELD, lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 19, 1827, in Salem, Mass. In 1873 he was appointed associate justice of the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts, which office he held until 1882, when he resigned. He was the democratic candidate for governor of that state in 1884, and was defeated; and in 1885 was appointed secretary of war in the cabinet of President Cleveland.

ENDRESS, CHRISTIAN, clergyman, author, was born March 12, 1775, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a lutheran clergyman of Lancaster, Pa., who published in German The Kingdom of Heaven not Susceptible of Union with Temporal Monarchy and Aristocracy. He died Sept. 30, 1827, in Lancaster, Pa.

ENGELHARD, JOSEPH ADOLPHUS, soldier, journalist, was born Sept. 27, 1832, in Monticello, Miss. He entered the confederate army as captain and quartermaster in 1861, and in 1862 was promoted to be major and quartermaster of Branch's brigade. He became the editor of the Wilmington Journal in 1865, and was afterward elected secretary of state, which office he held till his death. He died Feb. 17, 1879, in Raleigh, N. C.

ENGELHARDT, FRANCIS ERNEST, chemist, was born June 23, 1835, in Hanover. In 1886 he became chemist to the Genesee Salt company, and is one of the experts for the state board of health.

ENGELMANN, GEORGE, physician, botanist, was born Feb. 2, 1809, in Germany. He made a specialty of botany; and a list of his botanical papers number about one hundred titles. His botanical collection was given to Shaw's Botanical garden; and his gift led to the founding of the Shaw School of Botany as a department of the Washington university of St. Louis, Mo. He died Feb. 11, 1884, in St. Louis, Mo.

ENGELMANN, GEORGE JULIUS, physician, author, was born July 2, 1847, in St. Louis, Mo. He is a St. Louis physician, founder of the Polyclinic School of Medicine in that city, and the author of Labor among Primitive Peoples, or the Development of Obstetric Science.

ENGLAND, JOHN, bishop, author, was born Sept. 23, 1786, in Ireland. He was a Roman catholic prelate who was appointed bishop of Charleston in 1820, and came to America in that year. He is the author of Letters on Slavery. He died April 11, 1842, in Charleston, S. C.

ENGLE, FREDERICK, naval officer, was born in 1799 in Delaware county, Pa. In 1814 he entered the navy as a midshipman and was retired in 1866 as rear admiral. Prior to his death he was governor of the naval asylum. He died Feb. 12, 1868, in Philadelphia, Pa.

ENGLE, PERRY, physician, journalist, legislator, was born July 16, 1841, in Benton Ridge, Ohio. He served as a member of the Ohio state senate; and was president of the National Liberty league.

ENGLES, WILLIAM MORRISON, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 12, 1797, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a presbyterian minister of Philadelphia, for many years editor of The Presbyterian, and author of Records of the Presbyterian Church; English Martyrology; Sick-Room Devotion; Bible Dictionary; Sailor's Companion; and Soldier's Pocket Book. He died Nov. 27, 1867.

ENGLISH, CHARLES J., journalist, clergyman, was born Jan. 30, 1855, in Nodana county, Mo. Since 1886 he has been a clergyman of the methodist episcopal church, and now fills a pastorate in Colfax, Iowa. He has filled various offices in the Iowa State Epworth league, and served one year as its president.

ENGLISH, EARL, naval officer, was born Feb. 18, 1824, in Crosswick, N. J. He was commissioned captain in 1871, commodore in 1880, and rear admiral in 1884, at which time he resigned the office of chief of the bureau of equipment and recruiting, which he had held for six years. He then took command of the European station, and was retired in 1886.

ENGLISH, GEORGE BETHUNE, adventurer, author, was born March 7, 1787, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a versatile adventurer who wrote The Grounds of Christianity Examined, which was answered by Edward Everett, and this brought a rejoinder from English entitled Five Smooth Stones Out of the Brook. He published also Narrative of the Expedition to Dongola and Sennaar. He died Sept. 20, 1828, in Washington, D. C.

ENGLISH, JAMES EDWARD, manufacturer, merchant, congressman, governor, was born March 13, 1812, in New Haven, Conn. In 1855 he was a member of the legislature of Connecticut; in 1856 was elected to the state senate, and declined a re-election. He was elected a representative from his native state to the thirty-seventh congress, and re-elected to the thirty-eighth congress. He was elected governor of Connecticut in 1867, 1868, and 1870; and in 1875 was appointed a senator in congress to fill a vacancy.

ENGLISH, JOSIAH GIBERTON, soldier, clergyman, poet, was born in November, 1838, in Williamstown, N. Y. He served as a union soldier during the civil war. He has filled a pastorate in Xenia, Ohio; and is the author of a law textbook entitled The Origin and End of Civil Government; a novel; and a volume of poems.

ENGLISH, ROBERT BRECKENRIDGE, lawyer, state legislator, was born Dec. 30, 1853, in Jersey county, Ill. He is a successful lawyer of Hardin, Ill.; and in 1897 was elected a member of the Illinois state legislature.

ENGLISH, THOMAS DUNN, lawyer, physician, congressman, journalist, author, poet, was born June 29, 1819, in Philadelphia, Pa. For several years he practiced medicine; and in 1842 was admitted to the bar. In 1844 he edited a daily paper in New York; and since that time has principally been engaged in journalism and authorship in Newark, N. J. In 1863-64 he served in the New Jersey legislature; and was subsequently elected to the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat. His principal novels are Walter Wolf; Ambrose Fecit; and Jacob Schuyler's Millions. His poems have been published in volumes known as American Ballads; Boys' Book of Battle Lyrics; and Select Poems; and also a collection of his fairy tales called Once Upon a Time. His song of Ben Bolt, written in 1843, has achieved world-wide renown; and his patriotic ballad of 1860-64 attracted much attention.

ENGLISH, WARREN B., soldier, state senator, congressman, was born May 1, 1846, in Charlestown, Va. He served in the confederate army. He afterward moved to Oakland, Cal.; and in 1877 was elected a member of the board of supervisors of Contra Costa county, and served four years. He was elected state senator in 1882; in 1884 was a delegate to the national democratic convention in Chicago; and subsequently was elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

ENGLISH, WILLIAM E., business man, legislator, author, is a son of William H. English, statesman and historian, and was born Nov. 3, 1854, in Lexington, Ind. Since his childhood he has resided in Indianapolis, Ind., where he controls large financial interests, being the owner of English's Opera-house, English's hotel, English's block and numerous other buildings. In 1878 he was elected a representative in the Indiana state legislature; and in 1882 was elected a representative in the United States congress. He was a delegate to the national democratic conventions of 1892 and 1896. He is park commissioner of the city of Indianapolis. He is the author of The History of Early Masonry in Indiana, and various other works.

ENGLISH, WILLIAM H., lawyer, statesman, historian, financier, was born Aug. 27, 1822, in Lexington, Ind. He was secretary of the Indiana constitutional convention in 1850; speaker of the Indiana house of representatives in 1851; a member of the United States congress during 1852-60; and in 1880 was the democratic nominee for vice-president of the United States. For fourteen years he was president of the First National bank of Indianapolis; was president of the Indiana Historical society; and the author of the noted work entitled Conquest of the Northwest and History of Indiana. He died Feb. 7, 1896, in Indianapolis, Ind.

ENLOE, BENJAMIN AUGUSTINE, lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Jan. 18, 1848, in Clarksburg, Tenn. He was elected a member of the house of representatives of the general assembly of the state, at the age of twenty-one years; and re-elected under the new constitution of 1870. He was president of the Tennessee Press association in 1883-84; and edited the Jackson Tribune and Sun from 1874 till 1886. He was elected to the fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat.

ENNEKING, JOHN JOSEPH, artist, was born Oct. 4, 1841, in Minster, Ohio. Among his notable works are November Twilight; Winter Twilight; Summer Twilight; Cloudy Day in Summer; The Coming Storm; and Indian Summer.

ENOCHS, WILLIAM H., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 29, 1842, in Middleburg, Ohio. He served through the civil war as private, corporal, sergeant, lieutenant, captain, lieutenant-colonel, colonel, and brevet brigadier-general. He was elected to the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a republican. He died July 13, 1893, in Ironton, Ohio.

ENLOE, BENJAMIN AUGUSTINE, lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Jan. 18, 1848, in Clarksburg, Tenn. He was elected a member of the house of representatives of the general assembly of the state, at the age of twenty-one years; and re-elected under the new constitution of 1870. He was president of the Tennessee Press association in 1883-84; and edited the Jackson Tribune and Sun from 1874 till 1886. He was elected to the fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat.

ENNEKING, JOHN JOSEPH, artist, was born Oct. 4, 1841, in Minster, Ohio. Among his notable works are November Twilight; Winter Twilight; Summer Twilight; Cloudy Day in Summer; The Coming Storm; and Indian Summer.

ENOCHS, WILLIAM H., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 29, 1842, in Middleburg, Ohio. He served through the civil war as private, corporal, sergeant, lieutenant, captain, lieutenant-colonel, colonel, and brevet brigadier-general. He was elected to the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a republican. He died July 13, 1893, in Ironton, Ohio.

ENOS, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, lawyer, was born Oct. 1, 1851, in Defiance, Ohio. He attended the union schools of his native city, and graduated from the business college of Toledo, Ohio. In 1873 he was admitted to the bar; was elected city solicitor of Defiance in 1879, and held that position for eight successive terms; and in 1880 was elected as prosecuting attorney, which position he filled with distinction for two terms.

ENSOR, THOMAS HERA, lawyer, orator, was born Nov. 13, 1855, in Baltimore county, Md. For many years he was a high school professor; has been railroad attorney; and for five years was attorney for several large Chicago corporations. He has been prominent in political affairs, and in the campaign of 1896 lectured extensively under the direction of the national democratic committee, and gained a national reputation as an able orator. For twenty years he has been a regular contributor to law literature and the periodical press; and is one of the leading lawyers of Missouri.

ENYART, CHARLES FRANCIS, educator, college president, clergyman, was born Feb. 9, 1865, near Logansport, Ind. He reorganized the Hillsboro college of Ohio, and was its president in 1895. He now fills a pastorate in the methodist episcopal church at Georgetown, Ohio.

EPES, JAMES FLETCHER, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born May 23, 1842, in Nottoway county, Va. He received a thorough education and graduated from the university of Virginia.

During the civil war he served in the cavalry branch of the confederate service; had three horses shot from under him and received two bullet wounds. After the war he became a prominent member of the bar; and served with distinction in the fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat. He has now retired from active life and lives on a farm owned in former years by his father, in Nottoway county, Va.

EPES, SYDNEY P., journalist, congressman, was born Aug. 20, 1865, in Nottoway county, Va. He was elected in 1891 a member of the general assembly to represent the counties of Nottoway and Amelia; was appointed in 1895 register of the land office to fill an unexpired term, and at the following session of the general assembly was elected by acclamation for the full term; and before the expiration of his term he was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

EPPERSON, ELMER H., farmer, state legislator, was born Nov. 11, 1852, in Benton county, Iowa. In 1870 he moved to Kansas, where he is a successful farmer in Scott county. During 1896-97 he was a member of the Kansas state legislature.

EPPE, JOHN WAYLES, congressman, United States senator, was born in 1773 in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1803 to 1811, and again from 1813 to 1815. He was a senator in congress from 1817 to 1819, when he resigned because of ill health. He died Sept. 20, 1823, in Richmond, Va.

ERBEN, PETER, organist, was born in 1771, in Philadelphia, Pa. He became an organ builder; and was also organist in Trinity parish from 1807 till 1839. He died in 1863 in New York city.

ERDMAN, CONSTANTINE J., lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 4, 1846, in Lehigh county, Pa. He attended the common schools of the district and a classical school at Quakertown; entered Pennsylvania college, Gettysburg, in 1861, and graduated in 1865; read law, and was admitted to the bar of Lehigh in 1867, and since has practiced there. He was elected district attorney in 1874; and was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses as a democrat.

ERDMAN, JACOB, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1847. He died July 20, 1867, in Lehigh county, Pa.

ERICSSON, JOHN, engineer, inventor, was born July 31, 1803, in Sweden. To this skilled inventor belongs much of the success of the late civil war, by the building of his iron-clad turret, the Monitor, just in time to defeat the Merrimac, and thus save the ports of the north from southern or from foreign invasion. He died in 1896.

ERMENTROUT, DANIEL, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 24, 1837, in Reading, Pa. He was elected district attorney of Berks county for three years in 1862; was solicitor for the city of Reading in 1867-1870. He was elected to the state senate of Pennsylvania in 1873 for a term of three years, and re-elected in 1876 for four years. He was a member of the board of school control of Reading for many years; and was appointed in 1877 a member of the Pennsylvania statutory commission. He was in 1880 elected as a democrat to represent Berks county in the forty-seventh congress, and successively in the forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, and fifty-fifth congresses.

ERNST, LOUIS, soldier, financier, was born July 19, 1825, in Germany. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of lieutenant-colonel. From 1874-76 he was president of the Rochester German Insurance company. He died April 3, 1892, in Rochester, N. Y.

ERNST, OSWALD HUBER, engineer, author, was born June 27, 1842, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He is a military engineer with the rank of major, and the author of A Manual of Practical Military Engineering.

ERRANI, ACHILLE, musician, was born Aug. 20, 1823, in France. He settled in New York as a teacher of the Italian style of singing. His most famous pupils are Minnie Hauck, Miss Thursby, Mme. Durand and Stella Bonheur.

ERRETT, ISAAC, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 2, 1820, in New York city. He was a Campbellite clergyman of Cincinnati, and the author of Debate on Spiritualism; Brief View of Missions; Walks about Jerusalem; Talks to Bereans; Letters to Young Christians; and Evenings with the Bible. He died Dec. 19, 1880, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

ERRETT, RUSSELL, journalist, state senator, congressman, was born in 1817 in New York. He adopted the profession of an editor; was comptroller of Pittsburg in 1860; and clerk of the state senate in 1860 and 1861. He served in the union army, as additional paymaster, from 1861 to 1866. He was a state senator in 1867; was assessor of internal revenue from 1869 to 1873; and again clerk of the state senate from 1872 to 1876. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a republican.

ERSKINE, EBENEZER, clergyman, was born Jan. 31, 1821, in Ridley Park, Pa. In 1870 he was called to the church in Newville, Pa. He was moderator of the synod of Harrisburg, and in 1878 became a director of the Princeton Theological seminary.

ERSKINE, JOHN, jurist, was born in Ireland. He resided at Atlanta, Ga.; and in 1866 was appointed United States judge for the district of Georgia.

ERSKINE, MASSENA BERTHIER, manufacturer, was born Dec. 19, 1819, in Royalton, Mass. He is president of the Racine Wagon and Carriage company and the Manufacturers' National bank of Racine, Wis. In all the affairs of Racine he has taken a lively interest, and served as mayor in 1869-70, 1871 and 1879.

ERVIN, JAMES, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 17, 1778, in Williamsburg district, S. C. He served in the state legislature in 1801 and 1802, and from 1804 to 1816; was a solicitor of the northern circuit; and for eight years was a trustee of the South Carolina college. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1817 to 1821. He died July 7, 1841, near Darlington, S. C.

ERVING, GEORGE WILLIAM, diplomat, was born in 1771 in Boston, Mass. He was made consul to London by Jefferson; was secretary of legation to Spain in 1804; special minister to Denmark in 1811; and minister to Spain in 1814. He died in July, 1850, in New York.

ERVING, JOHN, merchant, was born in 1693 in Scotland. He was one of the wealthiest and most distinguished merchants of Boston, and was a member of the council of Massachusetts for twenty years. He died Aug. 12, 1786, in Boston, Mass.

ERWIN, ALEXANDER R., clergyman, educator, was born Jan. 12, 1820, in Louisiana. He occupied a high rank in the ministry, and presided over the Clarksville Female academy and the Huntsville Female college. He died Jan. 10, 1860, in Huntsville, Ala.

ERWIN, DAVID, jurist. He was an early emigrant to Michigan; and in 1832 was appointed judge for the territory of Michigan.

ERWIN, GEORGE Z., lawyer, state senator, was born Jan. 15, 1840, in Madison, N. Y. He has been trustee of the village, chief of the fire department, and a member of the local board of the normal training school of Potsdam, N. Y. In 1881 he was elected to the assembly from St. Lawrence county, and in 1887 to the state senate.

ERWIN, ROBERT WESLEY, physician, surgeon, was born May 24, 1842, in Laceyville, Ohio. In 1868 he graduated from the Ohio university with the degree of B. S.; and in 1870 from the Bellevue Hospital Medical college of New York city, with the degree of M. D. During the civil war he served as a volunteer soldier in an Ohio regiment. He has attained success as a physician in Bay City, Mich.; and has served as United States examining surgeon.

ESHER, JOHN JACOB, clergyman, bishop, was born Dec. 11, 1823, in France. He was the first agent of the Northwestern college, and started that institution of learning. He has been editor of several German religious publications; and has edited the Sunday-School and Juvenile Literature of his church, of which denomination he has been bishop for the past thirty-four years.

ESKRIDGE, THOMAS P., lawyer, jurist. He was appointed United States judge for the territory of Arkansas, serving in that capacity as late as 1831.

ESLING, MRS. CATHERINE HARBESON, author, was born April 12, 1812, in Philadelphia, Pa. She was a poet of Philadelphia who published The Broken Bracelet and Other Poems in 1850.

ESLING, CHARLES HENRY AUGUSTINE, lawyer, diplomat, author, poet, was born Jan. 21, 1845, in Philadelphia, Pa. For twenty years he practiced law in his native city; and has been honored on two occasions with diplomatic commissions abroad. He is the author of Life of Saint Germaine Cousin, The Shepherdess of Pibrae.

ESPY, JAMES POLLARD, meteorologist, author, was born in 1785 in Pennsylvania. He was a meteorologist of Philadelphia, sometimes called the storm king, who published The Philosophy of Storms. He died Jan. 24, 1860, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

ESPY, JOHN BOYD, soldier, lecturer, clergyman, legislator, was born July 13, 1838, in Espyville, Pa. During the civil war he served as captain in company H, one hundred and forty-fifth regiment Pennsylvania volunteer infantry. He was twice a member of the Pennsylvania state legislature. Since 1876 he has been a clergyman in the methodist episcopal church.

ESSICK, SAMUEL V., soldier, lawyer, inventor, was born Jan. 19, 1841, in New Franklin, Ohio. He served in the civil war as a private. The most important effort on which he entered was the invention of the Essick printing telegraph, and in 1889 a company was organized under the name of the Essick Printing Telegraph company.

ESTABROOK, E., lawyer, legislator, congressman, poet, was born April 30, 1813, in Lebanon, N. H. In 1851 he was elected attorney-general of Wisconsin; in 1854 was appointed United States attorney for Nebraska by President Pierce; and in 1859 was elected to congress.

ESTABROOK, FRANCIS M., clergyman, financier, was born Aug. 25, 1842, in Rushville, Ill. For thirty years he has been a successful clergyman of the methodist episcopal church in Nebraska. He is now the financial agent and treasurer of the Nebraska Wesleyan university.

ESTE, DAVID KIRKPATRICK, jurist, was born in 1785 in Morristown, N. J. He removed to Ohio in 1809, settled in Cincinnati in 1814, and became a noted lawyer and jurist. He died April 1, 1875, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

ESTE, GEORGE PEABODY, soldier, was born April 24, 1829, in Nashua, N. H. He was a colonel in the fourteenth Ohio infantry in 1862; and was promoted to brigadier-general of volunteers in 1865. He died Feb. 6, 1881, in New York city.

ESTEP, EPHRAIM JAMES, lawyer, was born Feb. 12, 1820, in Ohio. In 1853 he moved to Cleveland, Ohio, where he remained for forty-two years, and became one of the ablest lawyers in Ohio.

ESTERLY, GEORGE, inventor, was born Oct. 17, 1809, in Plattekill, N. Y. He built a harvesting machine, and soon began to manufacture various agricultural implements. Subsequently he obtained numerous patents, and his establishment at Whitewater, Wis., has become one of the largest of its kind in the United States.

ESTES, CHARLES, financier, was born Feb. 2, 1819, in Vincent, N. Y. The Augusta canal, which yields 14,000 horse power, was built practically through his influence while he was mayor in 1870-76. For seventeen years he managed the Augusta Land company as its president, and of several other companies he is a director. The J. P. King Manufacturing company, capital $1,000,000, which operates large cotton mills in Augusta, Ga., is one of his enterprises and he is its president.

ESTEY, JACOB, president and founder of the Estey Organ company, was born Sept. 30, 1814, in Hinsdale, N. H. The works, now the largest of their class in the world, form the nucleus of the village of Esteyville, which derives its very existence and daily bread from the operations of the factory.

ESTEY, JULIUS JACOB, manufacturer, state senator, was born Jan. 8, 1845, in Brattleboro, Vt. He is a successful manufacturer, and president of the Estey Organ company. In 1876 he was a member of the Vermont legislature, and in 1882 a state senator. He has been lieutenant-colonel and colonel of the national guard of Vermont; and was elected brigade commander in 1892, 1894 and 1896.

ESTIL, BENJAMIN, congressman, was born in Washington county, Va. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1825 to 1827.

ESTILL, JOHN HOLBROOK, journalist, was born Oct. 28, 1840, in Charleston, S. C. In 1851 his father moved to Savannah, where the son learned the printing business. During the war he served with distinction in the confederate army. In 1867 he secured control of the well known southern newspaper, the Savannah Morning News, and built up one of the most complete printing houses in the south. He is president or director in a dozen corporations; county commissioner, member of the board of education, and represents Georgia on the national committee of the democratic party. He has been lieutenant-colonel on the governor's staff; is president of the Bethesda Orphan home; and is active in many local enterprises.

ESTORGE, JOSEPH LEONARD, physician, was born in 1830, in Opelousas, La. He was appointed a surgeon in the confederate army in the trans-Mississippi department, but was made a prisoner at Fort de Russey. He died Aug. 21, 1863, in Opelousas, La.

ESTY, CONSTANTINE C., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 26, 1824, in Framingham, Mass. He was a member of the state senate in 1857 and 1858, and of the house in 1867; and was appointed a member of the state board of education in 1871; and was elected to the forty-second congress, as a representative from Massachusetts.

ETHERIDGE, EMERSON, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 28, 1819, in Currituck county, N. C. He was elected to the state legislature for two years; and in 1853 was elected a representative from Tennessee to the thirty-third congress. He was re-elected to the thirty-fourth and thirty-sixth congresses.

ETUE, PETER D., journalist, poet, was born June 29, 1846, in McDonald county, Mo. He established the Kansas City Live Stock Indicator in 1878. He has held many political positions in Kansas City, Mo., including that of alderman and member of the school board. His poems have appeared in current newspapers and magazines.

EUSTIS, ABRAHAM, soldier, was born March 28, 1786, in Petersburg, Va. He was brevetted lieutenant-colonel for meritorious services in 1813, became lieutenant-colonel of the fourth artillery in 1822, brigadier-general in 1834, and a few months later colonel of the first artillery. He died June 27, 1843, in Portland, Maine.

EUSTIS, GEORGE, jurist, was born Oct. 20, 1796, in Boston, Mass. He was attorney-general of Louisiana, a member of the constitutional convention of 1845, and chief justice of the supreme court till 1852. He died Dec. 23, 1858 in New Orleans.

EUSTIS, GEORGE, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 28, 1828, in New Orleans, La. He was elected a representative to the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses. During the rebellion he served as private secretary to John M. Mason, when the latter was confederate commissioner to France. He died March 15, 1872, in France.

EUSTIS, JAMES BIDDLE, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, was born Aug. 27, 1834, in New Orleans, La. He served in the confederate army throughout the war of the rebellion. He was elected a representative in the legislature prior to the passage of the reconstruction acts; and was a representative in the state legislature in 1872. He was elected to the state senate for four years in 1874. He was elected to the United States senate to fill a vacancy, and served from 1877 to 1879; and in 1885 was elected United States senator from Louisiana for the full term of six years.

EUSTIS, WILLIAM, soldier, physician, congressman, governor, was born June 10, 1753, in Cambridge, Mass. At the beginning of the war he was appointed surgeon of a regiment, and afterwards hospital surgeon. At the termination of the war he commenced the practice of his profession in Boston. In 1800 he was elected a representative in congress from Massachusetts, serving until 1805. In 1809 he was appointed secretary of war by President Madison, and continued in office until 1813. In 1815 he was sent as ambassador to Holland. After his return he was a representative in congress from 1820 to 1823; and was chosen governor of Massachusetts in 1823. He died Feb. 6, 1825, in Boston, Mass.

EUSTIS, WILLIAM HENRY, statesman, was born July 17, 1845, in Oxbow, N. Y. In 1890 he was elected mayor of Minneapolis.

EVANS, ALBERT H., farmer, legislator, was born June 2, 1851, in Morrow county, Ohio. He is a successful farmer of Tamawa, Ill.; and in 1890 was elected a member of the Illinois state legislature.

EVANS, ALEXANDER, civil engineer, congressman, was born in Elkton, Md. He was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1847 to 1853.

EVANS, ALEXANDER, soldier, merchant, poet, was born Nov. 9, 1814, in Middletown, Ky. He served in the army in 1847-48, and in 1861 became major in the confederate service. He is the author of two volumes of poems entitled Aeneas; and Fashions.

EVANS, ALONZO, journalist, was born July 18, 1866, in Winneshiek county, Iowa. He is the editor and owner of The Sun of Lime Springs, Iowa; and takes a prominent part in the public affairs of his county and state.

EVANS, CHARLES L., soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born March 29, 1843, in Noxubee county, Miss. He received his education at the Baylor university, Texas; and the university of Virginia. In 1861 he entered the confederate army as a private; served four years; and was promoted to first lieutenant of artillery in 1863. He is one of the leading lawyers of Texas, and is prominently identified with the public affairs of Dallas, where he has served with distinction as district judge.

EVANS, DAVID E., congressman. He was elected a representative from New York to the twentieth congress, but resigned.

EVANS, DAVID REID, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Feb. 20, 1769, in England. He served in the state legislature from 1800 to 1803; and from 1804 to 1811 was solicitor for the middle district of South Carolina. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1813 to 1815; and in 1818 and 1822 was a member of the state senate. He died March 8, 1843, in South Carolina.

EVANS, DE SCOTT, artist, was born March 28, 1847, in Boston, Ind. He opened a studio in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1874, and became instructor and co-director in the Academy of Fine Arts of Cleveland, Ohio. He is especially skillful in painting draperies. His genre pictures include The First Snowfall; Grandma's Visitors; and Day Before the Wedding.

EVANS, DUDLEY, legislator, was born Jan. 27, 1838, in Monongalia county, W. Va. During the war he was a member of the Virginia legislature. In 1891 he was elected one of the board of directors, and made second vice-president of the Wells-Fargo and Co. of New York city.

EVANS, EDWARD PAYSON, author, was born Dec. 8, 1833, in Remsen, N. Y. He is an Oriental scholar who has lived chiefly in Europe, and the author of Abriß der Deutschen Literaturgeschichte; Progressive German Reader; and translation of Stahr's Life and Works of Lessing.

EVANS, MRS. ELIZABETH EDSON (GIBSON), author, was born March 8, 1833, in Newport, N. H. She is the author of The Abuse of Maternity; Laura, an American Girl; The Story of Kaspar Hauser; and The Story of Louis XVII. of France.

EVANS, ELIZABETH HEWLINGS, poet, was born in 1818, in Philadelphia, Pa. A volume of her poems, with a preface by her brother, the Rev. Thomas H. Stockton, was published shortly before her death. She died in 1855 in Philadelphia, Pa.

EVANS, FREDERICK WILLIAM, lecturer, author, was born June 9, 1808, in England. He was an elder among the Shakers of Lebanon, N. Y., from 1833. He is the author of Compendium of Origin, History and Doctrines of Shakers; Shaker Communism; Autobiography of a Shaker; Second Appearing of Christ; and Test of Divine Inspiration, which are his chief works. He died in 1893.

EVANS, GEORGE, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Jan. 12, 1797, in Hallowell, Maine. In 1825 he was elected a member of the Maine state legislature, and acted a leading part for four consecutive years, and was elected speaker of the house in the latter year. In 1829 he was elected to congress; served seven successive terms; and was then elected to the senate of the United States. He was a candidate for the vice-presidency when General Taylor was put in nomination for president. After eighteen years of service in congress he returned to his own state and his profession; and was attorney-general of Maine for three years. He was the first president of the Portland and Kennebec railway; and was a trustee and a member of the board of overseers of Bowdoin college. He died April 6, 1867, in Portland, Maine.

EVANS, GEORGE SPITTELL, clergyman, litterateur, was born June 3, 1869, in England. He studied at St. Mark's and afterward at St. John's national schools of London England; and subsequently took a theological course in the Oberlin college, Ohio. During 1887-90 he preached with success in North Kensington, London, England; during 1890-92 he filled a pastorate in Black Creek, N. Y.; Lake Benton, Minn., in 1894; when he took charge of a church at Hudson, S. D. He has lectured extensively in Europe and America; and has held the position of instructor of political economy for Lincoln county, Minn.; and as state visitor for Carleton college, Minnesota. He has contributed extensively to church literature.

EVANS, H. CLAY, soldier, manufacturer, congressman, was born June 18, 1843, in Juniata county, Pa. He was an enlisted man in the forty-first Wisconsin infantry during the late war; and was twice elected mayor of Chattanooga. He was elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

EVANS, HENRY G., journalist, was born in 1812. He was co-editor and proprietor of the New York Evening Mirror almost from the beginning of its career to its close, and was one of the best writers for the daily press in the city. He died Aug. 14, 1869, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

EVANS, HUGH DAVY, lawyer, author, was born April 26, 1792, in Baltimore, Md. He was a Baltimore lawyer, conspicuous for loyalty to the union during the civil war, who wrote on legal and high church topics. He was the author of Essay on Pleading; Maryland Common Law Practice; Essay on the Episcopate; Treatise on the Christian Doctrine of Marriage; Essays on the Validity of Anglican Ordination; and Theophilus Americanus. He died July 16, 1868, in Baltimore, Md.

EVANS, I. NEWTON, physician, banker, congressman, was born July 29, 1827, in Chester county, Pa. He was president of the Hathoro National bank; and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-fifth, forty-eighth and forty-ninth congresses as a republican.

EVANS, JAMES LAFAYETTE, merchant, congressman, was born March 27, 1825, in Harrison county, Ky. He was elected a representative from Indiana in the forty-fourth congress. He was re-elected to the forty-fifth congress as a republican.

EVANS, JERVICE G., clergyman, educator, college president, was born Dec. 19, 1833, in Marshall county, Ill. In 1854 he entered the ministry of the methodist episcopal church. In 1872 he accepted the presidency of Hedding college of Abingdon, Ill., which he filled for six years. He was then elected president of the Chaddock college, but returned to the pastorate the following year. In 1889 he accepted for the second time the presidency of Hedding college, which position he still fills. Dr. Evans holds his membership in the Central Illinois conference, in which he has held numerous positions of honor. His published writings have been largely in the form of pamphlets, lectures and sermons; and a volume entitled The Pulpit and Politics. His other publications have been: The Woman Question; Tobacco; The Liquor Traffic Indicted; Pleas for License; The Sources of Culture; Genesis and Geology; and The Divine Foreknowledge. He has been prominently identified with the prohibition party; in 1888 he was chairman of the Illinois state convention of that party; and chairman of the state delegation to the national convention; and in 1894 was their candidate for United States senator.

EVANS, JOE, artist, was born in 1857 in New York city. During 1891-94 he was president of the Art Students' league of New York; 1892-94 was secretary of the Society of American Artists; and since 1894 vice-president of the American Fine Arts society.

EVANS, JOHN, congressman. He was a delegate to the continental congress from Delaware, from 1776 to 1777.

EVANS, JOHN, geologist, was born Feb. 14, 1812, in Portsmouth, N. H. He discovered fossil bones of extinct species; made geological surveys of Washington and Oregon; and was geologist to Chiriqui commission. He died April 13, 1861, in Washington, D. C.

EVANS, JOHN, physician, governor, was born March 9, 1814, in Waynesville, Colo. Becoming known for public spirit, he was elected to the Chicago city council in 1852. The city of Evanston was founded by him as a site for the Northwestern university, and his extensive real estate investments there brought him a large return. The Chicago and Fort Wayne railroad was projected and built by him and others. In 1862 an important change in his career grew out of an appointment by President Lincoln as governor of the then territory of Colorado.

EVANS, JOHN G., planter, lawyer, legislator, governor, was born Oct. 15, 1863, in Cokesbury, S. C. He is a successful lawyer and planter of Aiken, S. C. In 1888 he became a member of the house of representatives of South Carolina; was re-elected in 1890; and in 1892 was elected to the state senate. In 1894 he was elected governor of the state of South Carolina, and served in that office with distinction.

EVANS, JOHN H., banker, state senator, was born Dec. 12, 1848, in North Wales. In 1866 he located in Racine, Wis.; and for many years was connected with his father, Richard J. Evans, in the tanning business. In 1878 he engaged in the steam laundry business in Omaha, Neb., and is now president of the Evans Laundry companies of Omaha, Lincoln and Council Bluffs. He is also president of the National Bank of Commerce of Omaha; and president of various other business institutions in Nebraska and Florida. In 1895 he was elected a member of the lower house of the Nebraska state legislature; and in 1896 was elected to the state senate.

EVANS, JOSHUA, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1829 to 1833.

EVANS, JOSIAH JAMES, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, United States senator, was born Nov. 27, 1786, in Marlborough, S. C. In 1812, 1813, and 1816 he was elected to the legislature; and by that body was made solicitor for the state from his district, which position he held for thirteen years. In 1830 he was chosen a judge of the supreme court, which office he held until 1852, when he was elected to the United States senate for the term ending in 1859. He died May 6, 1858.

EVANS, LEMUEL D., congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was elected a representative from Texas to the thirty-fourth congress.

EVANS, LEWIS, surveyor, author, was born about 1700. He was a surveyor and geographer of Philadelphia, who published Geographical, Historical, Political, and Mechanical Essays. He died in June, 1756.

EVANS, MRS. LIZZIE PHELPS ESTERBROOK, author, was born in 1846, in Massachusetts. She is a writer of Somerville, Mass., and the author of Aunt Nabby; and From Summer to Summer.

EVANS, MARY LOUISE FROST ORMSBY, educator, journalist, lecturer, was born in 1848, in Albany, N. Y. After completing a classical course in Vassar college, she became principal of the Seabury seminary of New York city. She was a delegate of the Human Freedom league; the peace congress of 1892; and in 1893 a delegate for the educational congress; and subsequently a delegate to the woman's congress, and was eight times a delegate to Europe. She has been president of the International Peace league; vice-president of the Universal Peace union; and vice-president of the woman's National Press association. She has made a national reputation as a lecturer, journalist and philanthropist, and is now associate editor of The Rhode Islander, of which her husband is editor and owner.

EVANS, NATHAN, lawyer, congressman, was born June 24, 1804, in Belmont county, Ohio. He was prosecuting attorney for Guernsey county for four years. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1847 to 1849.

EVANS, NATHAN GEORGE, soldier, was born Feb. 6, 1824, in Marion, S. C. He distinguished himself in the war of 1858; and resigned in 1861 to enter the confederate service. He attained the rank of brigadier-general; and surrendered with Lee in 1865. He died Nov. 30, 1868, in Midway, Ala.

EVANS, OLIVER, inventor, author, was born in 1755, in Newport, Del. He was a once famous inventor who constructed the first high-pressure steam-engine; and the author of The Young Engineer's Guide; and Miller and Millwright's Guide. He died April 21, 1819, in New York city.

EVANS, PERCY NORTON, educator, author, was born Sept. 6, 1869, in Montreal, Canada. Since 1895 he has been professor of chemistry in the Purdue university of Lafayette, Ind. He is the author of An Introductory Course in Quantitative Analysis; and has contributed to various scientific journals.

EVANS, ROBLEY D., naval officer, was born in Iowa. He had command of the flagship Iowa during the Spanish-American war of 1898.

EVANS, THOMAS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1797 to 1801.

EVANS, THOMAS, author, was born in 1798, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a Quaker controversialist of Philadelphia who was an active opponent of the doctrines of Thomas Hicks; and published an Exposition of the Faith of the Religious Society of Friends. He died May 25, 1868.

EVANS, THOMAS WILTBERGER, dentist, author, was born Dec. 23, 1823, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a famous dentist, resident in Paris since 1848, through whose aid the Empress Eugénie escaped from that city in 1870. He is the author of History of the American Ambulance in Paris during the Siege, 1870-71; Sanitary Institutions during the Austro-Prussian-Italian Conflict, 1866; Lettres sur le Gouvernement des Etats Unis; and La Commission Sanitaire des Etats Unis.

EVANS, WALTER, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 18, 1842, in Barren county, Ky. He entered the union army in 1861 and served throughout the civil war.

After the close of the war he was engaged in the practice of law at Hopkinsville, Ky.; was a delegate to the republican national conventions of 1868, 1872, and 1880; and in 1871 was elected a representative in the state legislature. In 1872 he was elected a state senator. He removed to Louisville; and in 1883 was appointed commissioner of internal revenue in the treasury department at Washington. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican. He was one of the committee that prepared the Dingley tariff bill.

EVARTS, JEREMIAH, philanthropist, was born Feb. 3, 1781, in Sunderland, Vt. He taught school; practiced law; and in 1820 edited the Missionary Herald. He wrote twenty-four essays on the Rights of Indians, which appeared under the signature of William Penn. He died May 10, 1831, in Charleston, S. C.

EVARTS, WILLIAM MAXWELL, lawyer, United States senator, was born Feb. 6, 1818, in Boston, Mass. He was the leading counsel employed to defend President Johnson in his trial before the senate; and was attorney-general of the United States from 1868 to 1869, when he resigned. He was one of the three lawyers appointed to defend the interests of the United States before the tribunal of arbitration at Geneva in 1871 to settle the Alabama claims; and was one of the counsel who defended Henry Ward Beecher in 1875. In 1875 he was invited by the centennial commission to deliver the opening oration at the exposition in 1876. He was secretary of state under President Hayes from 1877 to 1881. In 1885 he was elected United States senator from New York for six years from March 4, 1885, and has since been re-elected twice to the same office.

EVE, MARIA LOU, author, poet, was born about 1848 near Augusta, Ga. In 1879 she wrote a prize poem entitled Conquered at Last, expressing gratitude for northern aid during the yellow-fever epidemic of 1878.

EVE, PAUL FITZSIMMONS, physician, surgeon, author, was born June 27, 1806, near Augusta, Ga. He was a distinguished surgeon of Nashville during the civil war, surgeon-general of the confederate army of Tennessee; and the author of Collection of Remarkable Cases in Surgery; One Hundred Cases of Lithotomy; and The Inhumanity of Capital Punishment by Hanging. He died Nov. 3, 1877, in Nashville, Tenn.

EVE, ROBERT CAMPBELL, educator, physician, author, was born May 15, 1843, in Augusta, Ga. He became professor of materia medica and medical jurisprudence in the Georgia Medical college. He has written on the Influence of the Ovary in Uterine Disorders; Epilepsy; and Tonic Properties of Mercury in Minute Doses.

EVELEIGH, NICHOLAS, congressman. He was a delegate from South Carolina to the continental congress from 1781 to 1782.

EVERALL, JOHN, farmer, educator, state senator, was born April 20, 1839, in England. He is a successful farmer of Farmersburg, Iowa; and was county superintendent of schools for four years; county auditor for six years; and served with distinction as a member of the Iowa state senate for eight years.

EVERARD, RICHARD, governor, was born in England. He was governor of North Carolina during 1725-29. He died Feb. 17, 1733, in London, England.

EVEREST, CHARLES W., clergyman, educator, poet, was born May 27, 1814, in East Windsor, Conn. He was a successful clergyman and educator; and for many years had charge of the Rectory School of Hamden, Conn. His poems have been a valuable acquisition to American literature.

EVEREST, HARVEY WILLIAM, educator, clergyman, author, was born in 1831 in New York. He is a clergyman and educator of the Christian denomination; and the author of The Divine Demonstration; and a Text-Book of Christian Evidence.

EVERETT, ALEXANDER HILL, diplomat, journalist, author, was born March 19, 1792, in Boston, Mass. He became charge d'affaires at Brussels in 1818; and from 1825 to 1829 was minister. In 1829 he was editor and principal proprietor of the North American Review, to which he had long been a contributor. From 1830 to 1835 he was a member of the state legislature; and from 1845 until his death was commissioner to China. He published Europe; America; New Views on Population. He died June 29, 1847, in Canton, China.

EVERETT, AMBROSE SPRAGUE, soldier, physician, surgeon, was born May 17, 1841, in West Almond, N. Y. He served as a union soldier during the civil war; was first lieutenant of company B, one hundred and eighth regiment, New York state volunteers; and captain of company G of the same regiment. He was acting inspector-general of the second brigade, third division of the second army corps. He has attained distinction as one of the leading physicians and surgeons of the United States, and has a large practice in Denver, Colo. He has been professor of surgical anatomy; president of the Western Academy of Homœopathy; is a member of the leading medical bodies; and has been surgeon-general of the Grand Army of the Republic and various fraternal orders.

EVERETT, CHARLES CARROLL, clergyman, author, was born in June, 1829, in Brunswick, Maine. He is a unitarian clergyman of Cambridge, dean of the theological faculty of Harvard university from 1878, and a profound and independent philosophical thinker. He is the author of The Science of Thought; Religions before Christianity; Fichte's Science of Knowledge; a Critical Exposition; Poetry, Comedy, and Duty; Ethics for Young People; and The Gospel of Paul.

EVERETT, DAVID, journalist, author, was born March 29, 1770, in Princeton, Mass. He was a Boston journalist; and the author of Common Sense in Déshabillé, or the Farmer's Monitor; and Daranzel, or the Persian Poet, a tragedy. He died Dec. 21, 1813, in Marietta, Ohio.

EVERETT, EDWARD, educator, college president, governor, was born April 11, 1794, in Dorchester, Mass. He was a distinguished Massachusetts statesman famous for his oratory. He was ordained to the unitarian ministry in 1813, but soon retired from the profession and entered political life, becoming a congressman in 1825. After that date he was successively governor of Massachusetts, president of Harvard college, and secretary of state. He achieved a wide popularity, and his literary style was greatly admired. His work has, however, failed to retain its hold upon attention, and his polished sentences now find a constantly lessening circle of readers. He is the author of Defense of Christianity; Orations and Speeches; Mount Vernon Papers; and Importance of Practical Education. He died Jan. 15, 1865, in Boston, Mass.

EVERETT, EDWARD FRANKLIN, genealogist, was born May 28, 1840, in Northfield, Mass. He is a Boston genealogist who has published genealogies of the families of Capen and Everett.

EVERETT, ERASTUS, educator, author, poet, was born in 1813 in Princeton, Mass. He is an educator once prominent in Brooklyn; and the author of System of English Versification; and Progress, a poem.

EVERETT, HORACE, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1780 in Vermont. He was state's attorney for Windsor county from 1813 to 1817; and served in the state legislature in 1819-24, and in 1834. He was a prominent member of the state constitutional convention of 1828; and was a representative in congress from 1829 to 1843. He died Jan. 30, 1851, in Windsor, Vt.

EVERETT, JOHN, author, was born Feb. 22, 1801, in Dorchester, Mass. His poetical abilities were considerable, as is shown by his Ode to St. Paul's Church, and by one written for the Washington society, and sung at Concert hall, July 4, 1825. He is the author of articles in the North American Review. He died in 1826 in Boston, Mass.

EVERETT, ROBERT WILLIAM, soldier, congressman, was born March 3, 1839, in Hayneville, Ga. He entered the confederate army, and served until the close of the war. He served two years as commissioner of revenue; served twelve years on the board of education, the last four as president of the board; and served four years, from 1882 to 1885, as a member of the general assembly of Georgia. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

EVERETT, WILLIAM, educator, congressman, author, was born Oct. 10, 1839, in Watertown, Mass. He was admitted to the bar in 1867; licensed to preach in 1872 by the Suffolk association of (Unitarian) ministers. He was tutor in Harvard college in 1870-73; assistant professor of Latin in 1873-77; and master of Adams academy, Quincy, Mass., in 1878-93. He engaged in political speaking, on the republican side, in 1864-1883; and was an early civil service reformer. He was chosen at the by-election to congress. He withdrew his name from nominating convention in 1894; took part in convention of national democrats at Indianapolis in 1896; and nominated for governor of Massachusetts by that organization in 1897. His books are College Essays; On the Cam; Lecture on Cambridge University; the poem Hesione, or Europe Unchanged; School Sermons. His books for boys include Thine not Mine; Changing Base; and Double Play.

EVERETT, WILLIS MEAD, lawyer, author, was born Nov. 18, 1863, in Randolph, N. Y. For many years he filled the chair of mathematics and German in the Chamberlain institute of Randolph, N. Y. He has practiced law in Cincinnati, Chicago and Atlanta, and has been director and officer in many large corporations. He is the author of The Georgia Section of Law of Incorporated Companies.

EVERHARD, CAROLINE McCULLOUGH, woman suffragist, was born Sept. 14, 1843, in Massillon, Ohio. For eleven years she was secretary of the Humane society of her native city; has been trustee of the charity Ratch school; a director of the Union National bank of Massillon; and a member of the county visiting board to charitable and correctional institutions. In 1891 she was elected president of the Ohio Woman Suffrage association, and still holds the office. She has written extensively for the periodical press on woman suffrage and kindred subjects.

EVERHART, BENJAMIN MABLACK, botanist, author, was born April 24, 1818, in West Chester, Pa. He is a Pennsylvania botanist, and co-author with J. B. Ellis of The North American Pyrenomyces.

EVERHART, ISAIAS FAWKES, physician, naturalist, was born Jan. 22, 1840, in Berks county, Pa. He served in the civil war as a surgeon, and was promoted to the rank of major. He served as a member of the medical staff of the Lackawanna hospital; a member of the Scranton board of health, and surgeon of the ninth regiment of militia.

EVERHART, JAMES BOWEN, lawyer, state senator, congressman, author, poet, was born July 26, 1821, in West Chester, Pa. In 1876 he was elected a state senator, and was re-elected in 1880. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-eighth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-ninth congress. He is the author of two volumes of poems entitled Poems; and The Fox Chase.

EVERHART, JAMES MARION, manufacturer, inventor, was born June 7, 1828, in Berks county, Pa. In 1874 he gained entire control of the Scranton Brass works, and has introduced many improvements and inventions; and has been president of two coal companies.

EVERHART, JOHN ROSKELL, surgeon, author, was born in 1828 in West Chester, Pa. He served in the civil war, retiring with the rank of brevet lieutenant-colonel. He has traveled extensively, and in 1892 published By Road and Rail.

EVERHART, WILLIAM, congressman, was born May 17, 1785, in Chester county, Pa. He was elected to the lower house of congress in 1852, and declined a re-election in 1854. He died Oct. 30, 1867.

EVERS, JOHN, artist, was born Aug. 17, 1797, in Newtown, L. I. He was one of the founders of the National Academy of Design. His best known pictures are Creation; New York City; and Crystal Palace, London. He died in Hempstead, L. I.

EVERTS, ORPHEUS, physician, author, was born Dec. 26, 1826, in Union county, Ind. He is a physician of Cincinnati; and the author of Giles and Co., or Views and Interviews concerning Civilization; and What Shall we Do with the Drunkard.

EVERTS, WILLIAM WALLACE, clergyman, author, was born March 13, 1814, in Granville, N. Y. He is a baptist clergyman of Chicago, and later of Jersey City, among whose many published works are included The Pastor's Hand-Book; Bible Prayer-Book; The Voyage of Life; Manhood, its Duties and Responsibilities; Promise and Training of Childhood; Words in Earnest; The Baptist Layman's Book; The Sabbath; The Christian Apostolate; and Life of John Foster.

EVINS, JOHN H., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 18, 1830, in Spartanburg county, S. C. He served in the confederate army during the war of the rebellion, rising to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He served as a member of the state house of representatives for two terms; and was elected a representative from South Carolina to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses as a democrat.

EVRETT, ISAAC, journalist, author, was born Jan. 2, 1820, in New York city. In 1866 he established and became editor of the Cincinnati Christian Standard. He was the author of Walks about Jerusalem; Letter to a Young Christian; Evenings with the Bible; and other works. He died Dec. 18, 1888, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

EWAN, MARY C., actress, was born in 1836. She attained a national reputation as an actress; and played in the principal cities of the United States. She died in 1866.

EWART, HAMILTON GLOVER, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 23, 1849, in Columbia, S. C. He was appointed by Chief Justice Waite register in bankruptcy for the ninth congressional district; and was twice elected mayor of Hendersonville. He was district elector on the Hayes ticket in 1876; and received the nomination for congress in 1884. He was elected to the lower house of the legislature in 1886, in which body he was an active member. He was elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

EWART, THOMAS WEST, lawyer, was born Feb. 27, 1816, in Grand View, Ohio. He was a member of the convention that formed the present constitution of Ohio. He was a trustee of Denison university, president of the Ohio baptist state convention, and vice-president of the American Baptist Missionary union. He died Oct. 8, 1881, in Granville, Ohio.

EWBANK, THOMAS, scientist, author, was born March 11, 1792, in England. He was a scientist of New York, at one period commissioner of patents; and the author of Thoughts on Matter and Force; Hydraulics; The World a Workshop; Life in Brazil; Experiments in Marine Propulsion; and Reminiscences in the Patent Office. He died Sept. 16, 1870, in New York.

EWELL, BENJAMIN STODDART, soldier, educator, college president, was born June 10, 1810, in Washington, D. C. During the civil war he served in the confederate army. In 1865 he became a second time president of the William and Mary college, which position he retained until his death.

EWELL, JOHN LOUIS, clergyman, educator, was born Sept. 4, 1840, in Rowley, Mass. He filled the chair of Latin in the Washington university of St. Louis; is a successful congregational clergyman; and since 1890 has been dean of the theological department, and professor of church history and biblical exegesis in the Howard university of Washington, D. C.

EWELL, MARSHALL DAVIS, educator, lawyer, author, was born Aug. 18, 1844, in Oxford, Mich. He is a lawyer of Chicago, and professor of law in Union College of Law in Chicago; and the author of Blackwell on Tax Titles; Treatise on the Law of Fixtures; Essentials of the Law; and Manual of Medical Jurisprudence.

EWELL, PHILANDER, merchant, manufacturer, was born March 3, 1809, in Middlebury, N. Y. In 1855 he was a representative in the New York state legislature; subsequently he engaged in farming in Michigan; and since 1869 has been the proprietor of the Stony Creek Woolen mills of Rochester, Mich.

EWELL, RICHARD STODDERT, soldier, was born Feb. 18, 1817, in Georgetown, D. C. During the civil war he served in the confederate army; and was promoted to major-general. He died Jan. 25, 1872, in Springfield, Tenn.

EWEN, MARY CECILIA, actress, was born in 1836 in New York city. Among her greatest successes in the various theaters where she played were Life in New York; Child of the Regiment; and Pride of the Market. She died Nov. 10, 1866, in New York city.

EWEN, WILLIAM, patriot, was born about 1720 in England. He was a member of the council of safety, and as first president of the executive council performed the duties of governor in 1775. He died soon after the revolution in Georgia.

EWER, FERDINAND CARTWRIGHT, clergyman, author, was born May 22, 1826, in Nantucket, Mass. He was an episcopal clergyman of New York city of the extreme ritualistic school, whose Sermons on the Failure of Protestantism attracted much attention at the time of their delivery. His other writings include The Operation of the Holy Spirit; Grammar of Theology; Two Eventful Nights, or the Fallibility of Spiritualism Exposed; and Sanctity and Other Sermons. He died Oct. 10, 1883, in Canada.

EWING, ANDREW, congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was a representative in congress from 1849 to 1851; and took part in the rebellion as a confederate. He died June 16, 1864, in Atlanta, Ga.

EWING, CHARLES, lawyer, jurist, was born July 8, 1780, in Burlington county, N. J. He graduated at the New Jersey college in 1798; was admitted to the bar in 1802, and practiced law at Trenton. He became a councilor in 1812; was chief justice of the state from 1824 to his death. He received the degree of LL. D. from Jefferson college. He was a brilliant lawyer and astute judge. He died Aug. 5, 1832, in Trenton, N. J.

EWING, EDWIN H., congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was a representative in congress from Tennessee from 1845 to 1847; and took part in the rebellion.

EWING, ELIE METCALF, lawyer, capitalist, was born Jan. 9, 1856, in Elizaville, Ky. In 1879 he was admitted to the bar, and the following year moved to Waco, Texas. In 1879 he was assistant chief clerk of the Kentucky state senate. He has attained success as an expert examiner of land titles; and has been prominently identified with the financial prosperity of his adopted state.

EWING, ELMORE E., soldier, merchant, poet, was born Feb. 16, 1840, in Ewington, Ohio. He entered college at the age of twenty, and two years later enlisted as a private soldier in the civil war. He was soon afterward promoted to lieutenant, served with distinction, and was severely wounded in 1864. Since the war he has been engaged in mercantile pursuits, and is now a successful merchant of Portsmouth, Ohio. He takes a leading part in the public affairs of his county and state, and is prominent in several fraternal orders. He has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press, and is the author of a volume of poems entitled Bugles and Belis, containing incidents of the war and other themes.

EWING, FINIS, clergyman, author, was born June 10, 1773, in Bedford county, Pa. He was a presbyterian clergyman who with two others organized the Cumberland presbyterian church in 1810. He was the author of Lectures on Divinity, which is an exposition of the doctrines of his sect. He died July 4, 1841, in Lexington, Mo.

EWING, HUGH BOYLE, soldier, diplomat, author, was born Oct. 31, 1826, in Lancaster, Ohio. He was a general in the federal army during the civil war, and minister to the Netherlands in 1866-70. He is the author of A Castle in the Air; and Ladron, a Tale of Early California.

EWING, JAMES, soldier, was born Aug. 3, 1736, in Lancaster, Pa. He was a member of the general assembly from 1771 till 1775. At the outbreak of the revolution he was on the committee of safety for York county, and was chosen one of the two brigadier-generals of the Pennsylvania associators, July 4, 1776. He served as vice-president of Pennsylvania from 1782 till 1784. In the latter year, and under the constitution of 1789-90, he was a member of the assembly of Pennsylvania, and served as state senator from 1795 till 1799. He died March 1, 1806, in Hellam, Pa.

EWING, JOHN, congressman, was born at sea, while his parents were on their way from Ireland to Baltimore. He served in both branches of the legislature of Indiana; and was a representative of that state in congress from 1833 to 1835, and again from 1837 to 1839. He died in 1857 in Vincennes, Ind.

EWING, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born June 22, 1732, in Nottingham, Md. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Philadelphia, provost of the university of Pennsylvania, 1777-1802, and eminent in his day as a scientific observer. He published an Account of the Transit of Venus, and his Lectures on Natural Philosophy were issued after his death. He died Sept. 8, 1802, in Nottingham, Md.

EWING, JOHN H., congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1847.

EWING, NATHANIEL, lawyer, jurist, was born June 17, 1848, in Uniontown, Pa. In 1869 he graduated from the Princeton college, N. J. He has served with distinction as additional law judge, and president judge of the fourteenth judicial district of Pennsylvania. He has gained a good reputation as an able lawyer of Uniontown, Pa., the city of his birth. His grandfather, Nathaniel W. Ewing, and his father, John K. Ewing, also filled the office of president judge in the same district; and his great-grandfather, John Kennedy, was one of the judges of the supreme court of Pennsylvania.

EWING, PRESLEY, congressman, was born in Kentucky. He twice served in the legislature of Kentucky; and was a representative from that state to the thirty-third congress. He died Sept. 27, 1854, at Mammoth Cave, Ky.

EWING, THOMAS, lawyer, United States senator, was born Dec. 28, 1789, in West Liberty, Va. In 1830 he was elected to a seat in the United States senate from Ohio, where he remained until 1837. He was a member of President Harrison's cabinet as secretary of the treasury in 1841; and on the accession of President Taylor to the presidency, in 1849, was invited into the cabinet, and took charge of the new department of the interior. In 1850 he was appointed to a seat in the United States senate, where he remained until 1851, when he retired from political life and resumed the practice of his profession in Ohio. He was a delegate to the peace congress of 1861; also chosen a delegate to the Philadelphia national union convention in 1866, but did not take part in its proceedings. He died Oct. 26, 1871, in Lancaster, Ohio.

EWING, THOMAS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Aug. 7, 1829, in Lancaster, Ohio. He removed to Kansas in 1856, and was appointed chief justice of the United States court for that territory. He was a member of the constitutional convention of the new state; and in 1862 entered the union army as a colonel, and was promoted to the rank of major-general in 1864. After the rebellion he settled in Washington, where he practiced law. Returning to Ohio he was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1873; and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a democrat.

EWING, THOMAS DAVIS, educator, clergyman, college president, was born Dec. 28, 1832, in Lewisville, Pa. During 1860-62 he was principal in Dunlap's Creek academy, Pa.; and ordained in 1864 by the presbytery, and during 1864-89 filled pastorates in Pennsylvania and Iowa. Since 1889 he has been pastor of the presbyterian church of Corning, Iowa, and president of the Corning Collegiate institute.

EWING, WILLIAM BELLFORD, physician, was born in 1776 in Greenwich, N. J. He settled in Greenwich, where he practiced for twenty-eight years. For many years he was presiding judge of the county courts, for ten years a member of the legislature, and a member of the New Jersey constitutional convention of 1841. He died April 23, 1866, in Greenwich, N. J.

EWING, WILLIAM LEE DAVIDSON, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, was born in 1795. In 1826-27 he was United States surveyor of public lands and general of state militia. He served as major of the Spy battalion in the Black-Hawk war in 1832; became a member of the state senate in that year, and was its speaker in 1834. In 1835 he was chosen to the United States senate to fill a vacancy. He was speaker of the state house of representatives in 1840, and in 1843 was chosen state auditor, which office he held until his death. He died March 25, 1846, in Ohio.

EYSTER, C. S., jurist, was born in Pennsylvania. He was appointed from that state an associate justice of the United States court for the territory of Colorado, residing in Denver.

EYSTER, MRS. NELLIE BLESSING, author, was born in 1831 in Frederick, Md. She is a writer for young people, formerly living in Pennsylvania, now in California. She is the author of Sunny Hours; Chincapin Charlie; Tom Harding; Lionel Wintour's Diary; and A Colonial Boy.

EYTINGE, ROSE, actress, was born in 1835 in Philadelphia, Pa. She has attained a national reputation as an actress.

EZEKIEL, MOSES JACOB, sculptor, was born Oct. 28, 1844, in Richmond, Va. He has attained national repute as a successful sculptor.

FABBRI, CORA RANDALL, poet, was born in 1871 in New York. She was a poet of Italian descent whose volume of Lyrics was published but a few days before her death. She died in 1892.

FABENS, JOSEPH WARREN, diplomat, author, poet, was born in 1821, in Salem, Mass. He was an envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the Dominican republic; and the author of The Camel Hunt, a Narrative of Personal Adventure; Story of Life on the Isthmus; Facts about Santo Domingo; The Last Cigar, and Eight Other Poems; and In the Tropics. He died in 1875.

FABER, EBERHARD, manufacturer, was born Dec. 6, 1822, in Bavaria. In 1861 he built the first lead-pencil factory in the United States. He also introduced the manufacture of penholders, gold pens and rubber goods of all varieties, connected with the stationery trade. He died March 2, 1879, in New York city.

FAHNESTOCK, ALFRED HAMILTON, educator, clergyman, author, poet, was born Feb. 26, 1842, in Warren, Pa. During 1870-73 he was professor of Latin in the college of New Jersey. He studied theology for three years at Princeton college, from which institution he graduated in 1871. Since 1875 he has been pastor of the First Ward Presbyterian church of Syracuse, N. Y., and has attained distinction as an eloquent clergyman. He is the author of The Autograph Thanksgiving Souvenir; The Bride's Gift to Her Friends; has translated Dies Brae; and his poems have appeared in various standard works.

FAILING, HENRY, merchant, was born Jan. 17, 1834, in New York city. In 1869 Mr. Corbett and Mr. Failing purchased the First National bank of Portland, Ore. The bank is probably the most important in the northwest; and Mr. Failing finally took the presidency.

FAIR, CAMPBELL, clergyman, theological writer, was born April 28, 1843, in Holmout, Ireland. He was a curate of Birkenhead, England; and a missionary in Ireland. He has been a rector in New Orleans, New York city, Baltimore, and Grand Rapids; and is now dean of Trinity cathedral of Omaha, Neb. This eminent protestant episcopal clergyman has gained distinction as a scholastic theological writer; and for many years was editor of the Conservative Churchman and other publications.

FAIR, JAMES GRAHAM, miner, United States senator, was born Dec. 3, 1831, near Belfast, Ireland. He was elected a senator of the United States from Nevada for the term 1881-87.

FAIRBAIRN, HENRY ARNOLD, physician, was born May 5, 1855, in Catskill, N. Y. He began the practice of his profession at Brooklyn, N. Y.; where continuous devotion has won for him a leading position among the celebrated physicians of that city.

FAIRBAIRN, ROBERT BRINCKERHOFF, clergyman, author, was born in 1818, in New York. He is an episcopal clergyman, and warden of St. Stephen's college, Annandale, N. Y. He is the author of The Child of Faith; Sermons Preached at St. Stephen's; Morality in its Relation to the Grace of Redemption; and Unity of Faith as Influenced by Speculative Philosophy.

FAIRBANK, NATHANIEL K., merchant, was born in 1829, in Sodus, N. Y. Mr. Fairbank is now a director in the Commercial National bank, president and principal owner of the Elk Rapids Iron company of Michigan, and vice-president of the Auditorium association. He was formerly president of the Chicago board of trade, and for thirteen years president of the Chicago club.

FAIRBANKS, CHARLES H., philologist, linguist, was born July 3, 1866, in Oxbou, N. Y. He took up the study of languages as a pastime, first mastering French and German; then learning Italian, Norwegian, Russian, and other languages. He also understands Dutch, Swedish, Danish, Portuguese, Polish, Arabic, Japanese, Volopuk, Finnish, Aztec of Mexico, and several others of less importance.

FAIRBANKS, CHARLES WARREN, lawyer, United States senator, was born May 11, 1852, near Unionville Center, Ohio.

He was a delegate at large to the republican national convention at St. Louis in 1896, and was temporary chairman of the convention. He was elected to the United States senate as a republican. His term of service will expire March 3, 1903. He has been a member of several important committees; and is one of the leaders of his party.

FAIRBANKS, ERASTUS, manufacturer, governor, was born Oct. 28, 1792, in Brimfield, Mass. He was a member of the legislature from 1836 to 1838; president of the Passumpsic and Connecticut River Railroad company in 1849; and governor of Vermont in 1852 and 1853, and again in 1860 and 1861. He died Nov. 24, 1864, in St. Johnsbury, Vt.

FAIRBANKS, GEORGE RAINSFORD, soldier, lawyer, legislator, author, was born July 5, 1820, in Watertown, N. Y. He has been mayor of St. Augustine, Fla., and a member of the state senate of his state. He has always been prominent in educational and religious work; and is the author of two books: A History of St. Augustine; and A History of Florida. He was a confederate officer in the civil war.

FAIRBANKS, HENRY, educator, clergyman, inventor, was born May 6, 1830, in St. Johnsbury, Vt. In 1859 he became professor of natural philosophy at Dartmouth. He exchanged this chair for that of natural history in 1865, and since 1868 has resided at St. Johnsbury, giving his time to mechanical experiments.

FAIRBANKS, HIRAM FRANCIS, clergyman, author, was born May 25, 1845, in Leon, N. Y. Since 1880 he has been pastor of the St. Patrick's church of Milwaukee, Wis. He is the author of A Visit to Europe and the Holy Land, which has passed through four editions.

FAIRBANKS, HORACE, manufacturer, state senator, governor, was born March 21, 1820, in Barnet, Vt. In 1825 he removed with his father's family to St. Johnsbury, Vt., and became president of the E. and T. Fairbanks Scale company. He was a presidential elector in 1868; a state senator in 1869; and a delegate to the republican national conventions of 1864 and 1872. In 1876 he was elected governor of Vermont and served two years. He died March 18, 1888, in New York city.

FAIRBANKS, JONATHAN, educator, was born Jan. 7, 1828, in Andover, Mass. He has been engaged in educational work in Massachusetts, Delaware, Ohio and Missouri; has been superintendent of city schools of Springfield, Mo., and since 1875 has been county school superintendent.

FAIRBANKS, THADDEUS, manufacturer, inventor, was born Jan. 17, 1796, in Brimfield, Mass. He was the originator and patentee of the platform scale, gave to mankind the first real improvement in the methods of weighing articles of commerce, invented since the days of the old Roman steelyard, and made his name known in every part of the world where goods are bought and sold or forwarded by weight.

FAIRCHILD, ASHBEL GREEN, clergyman, author, was born May 1, 1795, in Hanover, N. J. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Pennsylvania, among whose writings are The Great Supper, long a popular defense of Calvinism; Baptism: Faith and Works; and Confession of Faith. He died in 1864, in Smithfield, Pa.

FAIRCHILD, BEN L., lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 5, 1863, in Sweden, N. Y. He is a successful lawyer of New York city, and has large real estate investments in Westchester county, adjoining New York city. He was the candidate of his party for delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1893; and was elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican.

FAIRCHILD, CHARLES STEBBINS, lawyer, financier, was born April 30, 1842, in Cazenovia, N. Y. In 1874 he was appointed deputy attorney general of the state of New York; and became attorney general. In 1885 he was appointed assistant secretary of the United States treasury department. He is a successful lawyer of New York city; has been president of the State Charities Aid association; and is now president of the New York Security and Trust company.

FAIRCHILD, HERMAN LE ROY, educator, geologist, lecturer, was born April 29, 1850, in Montrose, Pa. In 1888 he was called to the chair of geology in the university of Rochester. Since 1889 he has been president of the Rochester Academy of Science. He is the author of a History of the New York Academy of Sciences.

FAIRCHILD, JAMES HARRIS, clergyman, college president, author, was born Nov. 25, 1817, in Stockbridge, Mass. He is a congregational clergyman; was president of Oberlin college in 1866-89; and the author of Moral Philosophy; Needed Phases of Christianity; Oberlin, the Colony and the College; Elements of Theology; and Woman's Right to the Ballot. He has also contributed extensively to current periodicals.

FAIRCHILD, LUCIUS, soldier, diplomat, governor, was born Dec. 27, 1831, in Kent, Ohio. He was appointed lieutenant-colonel of second Iowa infantry in June, 1861; and was made brigadier-general of volunteers in August, 1862. He was secretary of state of Wisconsin in 1864 and 1865; governor in 1866 and 1867; and in 1880 was appointed minister plenipotentiary to Spain, where he remained until 1882.

FAIRCHILD, MARIA AUGUSTA, physician, lecturer, was born in 1834 in New Jersey. She was physician to women in and contributes to publications.

the late Dr. Troll's Health institution of New York city; and is now physician and proprietor in her own sanitarium at Quincy, Ill. She is the editor of The Health Magazine, and lectures upon the Science of Health, Happiness and Prosperity, and Metaphysical subjects; the leading medical FAIRFIELD, FRANCIS GERRY, journalist, author, was born Aug. 18, 1844, in Stafford, Conn. He was a New York city journalist who was in early life a Lutheran minister. He was the author of The Clubs of New York; and Ten Years with Spiritual Mediums. He died April 4, 1887, in New York city.

FAIRFIELD, GENEVIEVE GENEVRA, author, was born in 1832 in New York. She is the author of Genevra, or the History Fair of a Portrait; The Vice-president's Daughter; The Wife of Two Husbands; The Innkeeper's Daughter; and Irene.

FAIRFIELD, MRS. JANE FRAZEE, author, was born about 1810 in New Jersey. She was the wife of S. L. Fairfield, the poet, of whom she wrote a Life in 1846. She afterwards published an Autobiography.

FAIRFIELD, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, governor, United States senator, was born Jan. 30, 1797, in Saco, Maine. In 1832 he was appointed reporter of the decisions of the supreme court. From 1835 to 1839 he was a representative in congress from Maine; and was governor of the state during the years 1839, 1840, 1842, and 1843. He was elected a senator in congress in 1843 to fill a vacancy; and in 1845 was re-elected for a term of six years. He died Dec. 24, 1847, in Washington, D. C.

FAIRFIELD, SUMNER LINCOLN, educator, author, poet, was born June 25, 1803, in Warwick, Mass. He was an educator and poet of Philadelphia and elsewhere. He was the author of Abaddon, the Spirit of Destruction; Lays of Melpomene; The Sisters of St. Clara; Cities of the Plain; The Heir of the World; The Last Night of Pompeii; Poems and Prose Writings; and Select Poems. He died March 6, 1844, in New Orleans, La.

FAIRHEAD, JOHN STERLING, soldier, lumber manufacturer, was born Dec. 23, 1841, in New Hartford, N. Y. He served for three years during the civil war in the one hundred and seventeenth New York volunteer infantry. He came to Jacksonville in 1885, and became a partner in a large lumber exporting firm, which is now known as Fairhead, Straw and Company.

FAIRLAMB, JAMES REMINGTON, musician, was born Jan. 23, 1839, in Philadelphia, Pa. Between 1867 and 1880 he was successively director of the music in different churches in Washington, D. C. He was called to a similar office in the Church of the Ascension, New York city, and a year later to that of St. Ignatius. His published works, chiefly sacred compositions and songs, number nearly a hundred, exclusive of Valerie and Leonello, two operas.

FAIRMAN, GIDEON, engraver, was born June 26, 1744, in Newtown, Conn. In the war of 1812 he entered the army as captain, and rose to a colonelcy. He contributed much toward the elevation of the art of engraving in the United States. He died March 18, 1827, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FALES, ALMIRA L., philanthropist, was born in New York. At the beginning of the war she entered, fully prepared, on the care of sick and wounded soldiers, and at Pittsburg Landing and other battlefields of the west was busy in ministering to the wants of the sufferers. She died Nov. 8, 1868, in Washington, D. C.

FALES, EDWARD LIPPITT, poet. He is the author of Underneath the Mistletoe, and Other Poems; and Songs and Song Legends of Dahkotchah Land.

FALK, BENJAMIN JOSEPH, photographic artist, was born Oct. 14, 1853, in New York city. He has made many improvements in photography, the most important of which was that of photographing stage scenes by the aid of electric light in large masses. Among his best compositions and studies from life are: The Fisher Maiden; Judith; and The Curfew Shall not Ring To-Night.

FALKNER, JOHN W. T., railroad president, was born Sept. 2, 1848, in Ripley, Miss. In 1890 he became president of the Gulf and Chicago railroad.

FALL, CHARLES GERSHOM, lawyer, poet, was born in 1845 in Massachusetts. He is a lawyer of Boston; and the author of Dreams, a volume of poetry; A Village Sketch, and Other Poems; and Employers' Liability for Personal Injuries to their Employés.

FALL, DELOS, educator, author, was born Jan. 29, 1848, in Ann Arbor, Mich. Since 1879 he has been professor of chemistry in the Albion college, Mich. He has been a member of the Michigan state board of health; a member of the board of education of Albion; and in 1897 was president of the State Teachers' association. He is the author of Laboratory Manual in Qualitative Chemistry, and other works.

FALLIGANT, ROBERT, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 12, 1839, in Savannah, Ga. As soldier, lawyer, legislator and judge, he has been successful, and is one of the best public speakers in the state of Georgia. He was chosen state representative in 1882, and as state senator in 1884.

FALLOON, GEORGE, civil engineer, merchant, state senator, was born April 3, 1852. He was educated as a civil engineer and surveyor; elected county surveyor of Athens county in 1875 and 1881; and was elected to the Ohio state senate in 1895.

FALLOWS, SAMUEL, bishop, author, was born Dec. 13, 1835, near Manchester, England. He is a bishop of the reformed episcopal faith. In early life he was a methodist minister, and during the civil war a brigadier-general in the federal army. He left methodism for the reformed episcopal church in 1875, and was advanced to the episcopate the next year. He is the author of The Bible Story for Young People; Complete Hand-Book of Synonyms and Antonyms; Hand-Book of Abbreviations and Contractions; Hand-Book of Criticisms, Americanisms, etc.; The Home Beyond, or Views of Heaven; Past Noon; and Complete Dictionary of Synonyms and Antonyms. He has edited a Supplemental Dictionary of the English Language.

FANCHER, FANNY L., musician, poet, was born June 21, 1849, in Litchfield, Ohio. She has attained success as an instructor of music. She has contributed to Godey's Lady's Magazine; Ladies' Home Journal, and the periodical press, and her poems have been given a place in several standard works.

FANCHER, FREDERICK BARTLETT, business man, public official, was born April 2, 1852, in Orleans county, N. Y. He is a successful business man of Jamestown, N. D.; has been president of the North Dakota Hospital for the Insane; president of the constitutional convention of North Dakota in 1889; and in 1894 became commissioner of insurance of North Dakota.

FANEUIL, PETER, founder, was born in 1700, in New Rochelle, N. Y. He was the founder of Faneuil hall, which, with the exception of the capitol at Washington, is probably the best known building in the United States. He died March 3, 1743, in Boston, Mass.

FANNING, DAVID, free-booter, author, was born in 1756 in Johnston county, N. C. He was a famous free-booter who acted with the royalists during the American revolution, and was one of those persons exempted by name from benefits of the general pardon. He was the author of a Narrative of Adventures in North Carolina, edited by J. H. Wheeler, and printed privately in 1861. He died in 1825 in Digby, N. S.

FANNING, JOHN THOMAS, civil engineer, author, was born Dec. 31, 1837, in Norwich, Conn. He is a distinguished civil engineer of Minneapolis, whose Treatise on Water Supply Engineering has had wide circulation.

FARAN, JAMES J., journalist, congressman, was born in Ohio. He was a representative from Ohio to the thirtieth congress; and subsequently became one of the proprietors of the Cincinnati Enquirer.

FARFAX, DONALD MACNEILL, naval officer, was born Aug. 10, 1822, in Virginia. He served in the United States navy during the civil war; for gallant and meritorious services attained the rank of rear admiral.

FARGO, JAMES CONGDEL, was born May 5, 1829, in Pompey, N. Y. In 1866 he came to New York city as the general superintendent and manager of the Fargo Express company; and succeeded to the presidency in 1881. He is also the president of the Merchants' Despatch Transportation company, and director of several important railroad and express companies.

FARIS, GEORGE W., educator, lawyer, congressman, was born June 9, 1854, in Jasper county, Ind. In 1884 he was the republican nominee for the circuit judgeship, but was defeated by a slender majority. He has been active in republican politics; and was elected to the fifty-fourth and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

FARLEE, ISAAC G., congressman, was born in New Jersey. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1843 to 1845.

FARLEY, E. WILDER, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born in 1818, in Maine. He was in the state legislature in 1845, and from 1851 to 1853. He was a representative in congress from Maine from 1853 to 1855; and served in the state senate in 1856.

FARLEY, HARRIET, journalist, author, was born in 1815, in Claremont, N. H. She was a factory operative of Lowell who, in 1841 and subsequently, edited The Lowell Offering. A selection from its pages, Mind among the Spindles, was published in London in 1849. Shells from the Strand of Genius is partly original and partly selected. Fancy's Frolics, a juvenile work, appeared many years later.

FARLEY, JAMES THOMPSON, congressman, was born Aug. 6, 1829, in Virginia. He was a member of the California assembly in 1855 and 1856, and the latter year speaker of the house. He was elected a state senator in 1860 and served, by re-elections, eight years. He was elected a senator of the United States from California for the term 1879-85. He died Jan. 23, 1886, in Jackson, Cal.

FARLEY, MICHAEL, patriot, was born in 1719 in Ipswich, Mass. He was a delegate to the provincial congress of Massachusetts in 1774-75, and was afterward a member of the house of representatives, July, 1775. He died June 20, 1789, in Ipswich, Mass.

FARLIN, DUDLEY, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1835 to 1837. He died Sept. 26, 1837, in Warrensburg, N. Y.

FARLOW, WILLIAM GILSON, educator, botanist, author, was born Dec. 17, 1844, in Boston, Mass. He has been a professor of botany in Harvard university since 1874, and the foremost American authority on cryptogamic botany. He is the author of Marine Algæ of New England; The Black Knot; The Gymnosporangia of the United States; Index of Fungi; The Potato Rot; and Diseases of Orange and Olive Trees.

FARMAN, ELBERT ELI, lawyer, jurist, diplomat, was born April 23, 1831, in New Haven, N. Y. He was chiefly instrumental in securing from Egypt the granite obelisk known as Cleopatra's needle, which stood so long in front of the temple of Cæsar in Alexandria, and is now in Central Park, N. Y.

FARMER, AARON D., type-founder, was born Jan. 18, 1816, in Bolton, Conn. He entered the type-foundry of Eli White; was promoted manager of the manufacturing department; and later became a member of the firm, which was changed to Farmer, Little and Company, of New York city.

FARMER, GEORGE EDGAR, soldier, was born in 1840 in New York city. He served in the civil war, and attained the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He died Feb. 16, 1870, in New York city.

FARMER, HANNAH T. S., philanthropist, was born March 20, 1823, in Berwick, Maine. In 1888 she erected in Eliot, Maine, a large edifice, Rosemary cottage, which institution was transferred by her to the care of the City Missionary society of Boston. She died June 27, 1891, in Eliot, Maine.

FARMER, HENRY TUDOR, author, poet, was born in 1782 in England. He was the author of Imagination; The Maniac's Dream, and Other Poems. He died January, 1828, in Charleston, S. C.

FARMER, JOHN, genealogist, author, was born July 12, 1789, in Chelmsford, Mass. He was a genealogist of New England, whose Genealogical Register of the First Settlers of New England is a much valued work. His other writings include History of Billerica; History of Amherst; Gazetteer of New Hampshire; and an edition, with notes, of Belknap's History of New Hampshire. He died Aug. 13, 1839, in Concord, N. H.

FARMER, JOHN, author, was born Feb. 9, 1798, in Half Moon, N. Y. He was a noted cartographer of Detroit who published A Gazetteer of Michigan. He died March 24, 1859, in Detroit, Mich.

FARMER, LUTHER M., educator, lawyer, legislator, was born Dec. 31, 1856, in Coneta county, Ga. In 1883 he graduated from the university of Georgia, and then became principal of schools; and in 1885-86 was professor in the Howard college of Marion, Ala. He then moved to Newman, Ga., was admitted to the bar, and has since practiced his profession with success in that city. He was president of the board of education until 1894; when he resigned that position to become a member of the general assembly of Georgia. While a member of the legislature, he was the author of the school bill under which public schools of Georgia are now conducted.

FARMER, MRS. LYDIA HOYT, author, poet, was born July 19, 1842, in Cleveland, Ohio. She is the author of Aunt Belindy's Points of View; Boys' Book of Famous Rulers; A Story Book of Science; Girls' Book of Famous Queens; The Prince of the Flaming Star, an Operetta; Life of Lafayette; A Short History of the French Revolution; A Knight of Faith; A Moral Inheritance; and The Doom of the Holy City.

FARMER, SILAS, publisher, antiquarian, author, was born June 6, 1839, in Detroit, Mich. He is a publisher and antiquarian of Detroit; and the author of History of Detroit and Michigan.

FARNAM, CHARLES HENRY, archæologist, author, was born Sept. 12, 1846, in New Haven, Conn. He has been for several years assistant in archæology in the Peabody museum of Yale, and has published a History of John Whitman and his Descendants.

FARNAM, HENRY, philanthropist, railroad president, was born Nov. 9, 1803, in Scipio, N. Y. He removed to New Haven in 1839, and in 1846-48 built the railroad that took the place of the canal. He went to Illinois in 1850, and with Joseph E. Sheffield built the Chicago and Rock Island road, of which he was president in 1854-63. He died Oct. 4, 1883, in New Haven, Conn.

FARNAM, HENRY WOLCOTT, educator, author, was born Nov. 6, 1853, in New Haven, Conn. He is a professor of political economy at Yale university; and the author of Die Innere Französische Gewerbepolitik von Colbert bis Turgot.

FARNELL, GEORGE, lawyer, was born in 1854 in Yorkshire, England. In 1881 he emigrated to America. He was a factory operative until twenty-eight years of age; then became a newspaper reporter; teacher of shorthand; and official shorthand writer in Rhode Island. In 1893 he was admitted to the bar, and practices his profession in Johnston, R. I.

FARNHAM, MRS. ELIZA WOODSON (BURHANS), philanthropist, author, was born Nov. 17, 1815, in Rensselaerville, N. Y. She was a philanthropist who from 1844 to 1848 was matron at the prison of Sing Sing, and later a resident of California. She was the author of Woman and her Era, which is her most important work. Others are Life in Prairie Land; My Early Days; The Ideal Attained; and California Indoors and Out. She died Dec. 15, 1864.

FARNHAM, ELLEN W., philanthropist, was born in 1848. She has attained a national reputation as a philanthropist.

FARNHAM, GEORGE LOOMIS, educator, author, was born Jan. 9, 1824, in Richfield, N. Y. He has been eminently successful as a teacher and principal in female seminaries and public schools. He has been superintendent of schools in Syracuse, N. Y.; Binghamton, N. Y.; Council Bluffs, Iowa; and for ten years was principal of the Nebraska State Normal schools. In 1857 he was president of the New York State Teachers' association; and in 1886 was president of the Nebraska State Teachers' association. He is the author of The Thought and Sentence Method of Teaching, which he considers his most important work in educational lines. The system was first developed and applied during 1871-75 in the schools of Binghamton; and it has since received recognition and endorsement by the leading educators in America.

FARNHAM, HORACE PUTNAM, physician, was born May 7, 1822, in Salem, Mass. He settled in the city of New York as a general practitioner; and in 1861-63 he was attending physician to the Northern dispensary of New York. He died June 9, 1886, in New York city.

FARNHAM, JOHN MARSHALL WILLOUGHBY, clergyman, author, was born in 1829, in Maine. He is a presbyterian missionary to China; and the author of Homeward; Farnham Genealogy; and The Missionary Complaint and Appeal.

FARNHAM, LUTHER, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 5, 1816, in Concord, N. H. In 1862 he was chosen secretary of the General Theological library of Boston. He has published A Glance at Private Libraries; and has also prepared a History of the Massachusetts Horticultural Society.

FARNHAM, NOAH LANE, soldier, was born June 4, 1829, in New Haven, Conn. In 1856 he was elected assistant engineer of the New York Fire department, and in 1857 joined the seventh regiment, soon attaining the rank of first lieutenant. He died Aug. 11, 1861, in Washington, D. C.

FARNHAM, RALPH, soldier, was born July 7, 1756, in Lebanon, Maine. He was the last survivor of the battle of Bunker Hill. In 1780 he settled in Acton, being the first white inhabitant of that township. He died Dec. 26, 1861, in Acton, Maine.

FARNHAM, ROSWELL, soldier, lawyer, state senator, governor, was born Dec. 23, 1827, in Boston, Mass. He was elected state's attorney for Orange county, Vt., in 1859, and re-elected in 1860 and 1861. He served in the union army from 1861 to 1863, rising to the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He was elected state senator in 1868 and 1869; and was a member of the state board of education in 1873-75. He was a delegate to the republican national convention of 1876, and a presidential elector the same year. He was governor of Vermont from 1880 to 1882.

FARNHAM, THOMAS JEFFERSON, lawyer, author, was born in 1804, in Boston, Mass. He was a lawyer who in 1839 headed an expedition to Oregon; and is the author of Travels in Oregon Territory (1842); Travels in California; Memorial of the Northwest Boundary Line; and Mexico, its Geography, People, and Institutions. He died in September, 1848, in California.

FARNSWORTH, JOHN F., lawyer, congressman, was born March 27, 1820, in Eaton, Canada. He was a representative to the thirty-fifth congress from Illinois, and was a member of the committee on revolutionary pensions. He was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress, and in 1862 to the thirty-eighth congress, serving on the committee on military affairs. In 1861 he took part in the war as colonel of volunteers; raised and took into the field the eighth regiment of Illinois cavalry, serving in the army of the Potomac until 1863. In 1863 and 1864 he raised the seventeenth regiment of Illinois volunteers by order of the war department; and was brevetted a brigadier-general in 1862. He was re-elected to the thirty-ninth congress; was a regent of the Smithsonian institution; was a delegate to the Pittsburg soldiers' convention of 1866; and was re-elected to the fortieth, forty-first, and forty-second congresses as a republican.

FARNSWORTH, PHILO JUDSON, physician, was born Jan. 9, 1832, in Westford, Vt. He is one of the foremost physicians of Iowa at Clinton.

FARQUHAR, ARTHUR B., manufacturer, author, was born Sept. 28, 1838, in Montgomery county, Md. In 1889 he organized the A. B. Farquhar company, manufacturers of agricultural implements. He is the author of a work entitled Economic and Industrial Delusions.

FARQUHAR, JOHN H., soldier, civil engineer, congressman, was born Dec. 20, 1818, in Frederick county, Md. In 1861 he was commissioned as captain in the nineteenth United States infantry, in which capacity he served until 1864, when he resigned. He was elected a representative from Indiana to the thirty-ninth congress.

FARQUHAR, JOHN M., soldier, journalist, manufacturer, congressman, was born April 17, 1832, in Scotland. He served throughout the civil war, rising to the rank of major, and acting as judge-advocate and as inspector on staff duty. In 1884 he was elected a representative from New York to the forty-ninth congress, and was re-elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

FARR, ELIZA, poet. She has written extensively for the periodical press, and several of her poems have been given a place in standard collections.

FARR, EVARTS W., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 10, 1840, in Littleton, N. H. He served throughout the war, rising to the rank of major. He was appointed assessor of internal revenue in 1870, and continued to serve until the office was abolished in 1873. He was prosecuting attorney for Grafton county in 1873 and 1876; and was a member of the executive council in 1876. He was elected a representative from New Hampshire to the forty-sixth congress. He died Nov. 30, 1880.

FARRAGUT, DAVID GLASGOW, was born July 5, 1801, near Knoxville, Tenn. He was America's great admiral. His capture of New Orleans and Mobile during the civil war created for him a name equal in fearless bravery to Nelson; and in grandeur of character to the illustrious Colingwood. He died Aug. 14, 1870, in Portsmouth, N. H. A monument to his honor stands in Madison square, New York city.

FARRAND, SAMUEL ASHBEL, educator, was born June 4, 1830, in Bridport, Vt. For twenty-eight years he has been head-master of the Newark academy, Newark, N. J.; and is one of the foremost educators of the east.

FARRAR, CHARLES A. J., author. He was a New England writer who published Moosehead Lake and the North Maine Wilderness; Camp Life in the Wilderness; The Lake and Forest Series; Wild-Woods Life; and From Lake to Lake. He died in 1893.

FARRAR, MRS. ELIZA WARE [ROTCH], author, was born in 1791, in Flanders. She was a writer of Cambridge who was the wife of a professor of mathematics in Harvard university. She was educated in England, where her first book, Congo in Search of his Master, was written. Her other works include The Children's Robinson Crusoe; The Young Lady's Friend; Life of Howard; The Story of Lafayette; Youth's Love-Letters; and Recollections of Seventy Years. She died April 22, 1870, in Springfield, Mass.

FARRAR, FERDINANDO R., lawyer, jurist, lecturer, was born Jan. 7, 1828, in Prince Edward county, Va. He received his education at the Princeton college and the university of Virginia. He served with distinction as a judge for twenty-seven years; and for thirty years as a lecturer. He began his professional career as lecturer in 1866 with his famous Johnny Reb as his only subject, to which he has added since Lights and Shadows; Rip Van Winkle; The American Eagle; and four others, all popular and clever creations.

FARRAR, HENRY, artist, was born March 23, 1843, in London, England. His principal works are On the East River; A Hot Day; A Calm Afternoon; Sunset, Coast of Maine; The Silent Tongue; The Old Homestead at Twilight; and a November Day.

FARRAR, JOHN, educator, was born July 1, 1779, in Lincoln, Mass. He published for the use of his pupils a translation of Lacroix's Elements of Algebra (1818), which he followed by selections from Legendre, Biot, Bezant, and others. These works were at once adopted as text-books by Harvard, the United States Military academy, and other institutions. He died May 8, 1858, in Cambridge, Mass.

FARRAR, SAMUEL, lawyer, banker, was born in 1784, in Lincoln, Mass. He was one of the chief founders of the Andover Theological seminary, and for thirty-eight years was treasurer of that institution and of Phillips academy. He was the first president of the Andover bank, and held the office thirty years. He died May 13, 1864, in Andover, Mass.

FARRAR, THOMAS CHARLES, artist, was born Dec. 16, 1838, in London. He came to New York in 1858; and attained success as an instructor in his art. He served in the union army during the civil war, and in 1869 returned to London, where he has since resided. Among his works exhibited at the National academy in New York were Field-Lily, and Twilight on the Hudson (1867); Beach at Hastings, and English Farm.

FARRAR, TIMOTHY, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born July 11, 1747, in Concord, Mass. He was a major in the revolutionary army, and after the war became a justice of the court of common pleas of New Hampshire. He died Feb. 21, 1849, in Hollis, N. H.

FARRAR, TIMOTHY, jurist, author, was born March 17, 1788, in New Ipswich, N. H. He was a New Hampshire jurist; and the author of Report of Dartmouth College Case; Reviews of the Dred Scott Decision; and Manual of the United States Constitution. He died Oct. 27, 1874, in Boston, Mass.

FARREL, FRANKLIN, manufacturer, was born Feb. 17, 1828, in Waterbury, Conn. The Bridgeport Forge Co., a concern of which Mr. Farrel is president and principal owner, was organized and located in Ansonia, Conn. The Bridgeport Copper Co. was organized soon afterward through the efforts of Mr. Farrel, and its first buildings erected in the same locality. He became identified with the Parrot Silver and Copper Co., of Butte City, Mont., and the first mine was worked in 1877.

FARRELL, JEREMIAH W., railroad contractor, was born Jan. 22, 1861, in Jefferson county, N. Y. For ten years he was a member of the democratic state central committee; was judge of awards at the World's Columbian exposition; and was a member of the state board of transportation. He is a successful railroad contractor of Orleans, Neb.

FARRELLY, HUGH P., lawyer, legislator, was born Sept. 2, 1858, in Greene county, Ill. He is one of the foremost lawyers of Kansas at Chanute, and in 1887 and 1890 was its city attorney. During 1891-94 he was county attorney of Neosho county; and is now a member of the state senate from the thirteenth district, consisting of Neosho and Wilson counties.

FARRELLY, JOHN W., state senator, congressman, was born in July, 1809, in Meadville, Pa. He was a member of the state legislature in 1828; a state senator from 1838 to 1841; and a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849. He was sixth auditor of the treasury from 1849 to 1853. He died in Washington.

FARRELLY, PATRICK, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1760, in Ireland. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1821 to 1826. He died Jan. 12, 1826, in Meadville, Pa.

FARRINGTON, JAMES, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1791, in New Hampshire. He was a member of the state legislature in 1830, 1832, and 1833, and was a representative in congress from 1837 to 1839. He died Oct. 29, 1859, in Rochester, N. Y.

FARRIS, JOHN W., soldier, lawyer, state senator, was born Jan. 20, 1846, in Marion county, Ill. He served during the civil war in the forty-eighth Illinois infantry, and attained the rank of second lieutenant and adjutant. He was a state senator in 1882; prosecuting attorney in 1890; and a member of the Missouri state legislature in 1896.

FARROW, EDWARD SAMUEL, soldier, civil engineer, author, was born in 1855, in Maryland. He was an army officer and engineer; and the author of West Point and the Military Academy; A Military System of Gymnastic Exercises; Mountain Scouting; Pack Mules and Packing; and Farrow's Military Encyclopædia.

FARROW, SAMUEL, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1760, in Virginia. He was elected to congress from South Carolina as a representative for the terms from 1813 to 1817, but resigned in 1816. He served in the state legislature from 1817 to 1821. He died Nov. 18, 1824, in Columbia, Va.

FARWELL, CHARLES B., merchant, congressman, United States senator, was born July 1, 1823, in Painted Post, N. Y. He was elected county clerk in 1853, and re-elected in 1857. He was appointed a member of the state board of equalization in 1867; chairman of board of supervisors in 1868; and was appointed national bank examiner in 1869. He was elected to the forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth and forty-seventh congresses, and was subsequently elected to the United States senate.

FARWELL, JOHN VILLIERS, merchant and for a while was temporary president of the senate. In 1888 he was a delegate to the republican national convention; in 1891 was nominated by the republicans for governor of New York; and has always taken a prominent part in public affairs. He is engaged in several large business enterprises; controls the Elmira Daily Advertiser; and the management of the Second National bank; and is the responsible manager of the little mining town of Banner, Idaho.

FARWELL, NATHAN ALLEN, United States senator, was born in 1812, in Unity, Maine. He was a member of the state senate in 1853, 1854, 1861, and 1862; presiding as president of that body during the latter year. He was elected to the state legislature in 1860, 1863, and 1864; and was a delegate to the Baltimore convention in 1864. In October of that year he was appointed, and soon afterwards elected, a senator in congress from Maine to fill a vacancy.

FARWELL, SAMUEL, contractor, was born about 1800. He was a resident of Utica, N. Y., and was known throughout the United States for fifty years as a contractor for the building of public works. He died Nov. 17, 1875, in Saginaw, Mich.

FARWELL, SEWALL S., soldier, state senator, congressman, was born April 26, 1834, in Coshocton county, Ohio. He served as a captain in the union army from 1862 to 1865. He was elected a state senator in 1865 and served four years; was assessor of internal revenue from 1869 to 1873; and was collector of internal revenue from 1875 to 1881. He was elected a representative from Iowa to the forty-seventh congress.

FASNACHT, CHARLES H., soldier, was born March 27, 1842, in Lancaster county, Pa. He enlisted in 1861 in the ninety-ninth Pennsylvania regiment, and mustered out of service in July, 1865, as first lieutenant. For his gallantry he received the United States medal of honor, a silver medal from the directors of the sanitary fair at Philadelphia, and the bronze Kearny badge.

FASQUELLE, JEAN LOUIS, educator, author, was born in 1808, in France. He was a French educator who came to America in 1834, and was professor of modern languages at Michigan university in 1846-62. He was the author of Lessons in French; French Course; Télémaque, with Notes and Grammatical References; and General and Idiomatic Dictionary of the French and English Languages. He died in 1862, in Michigan.

FASSETT, CORNELIA ADELE, artist, was born Nov. 9, 1831, in Owasco, N. Y. She has executed portraits of Vice-President Henry Wilson, Justices Miller and Field, Chief-Justice Waite, President Garfield, John A. Logan, Clara Barton, and others, and in 1877-80 painted the Electoral Commission in Open Session, containing portraits of about two hundred persons.

FASSETT, JACOB SLOAT, lawyer, legislator, was born Nov. 13, 1853, in Elmira, N. Y. In 1875 he graduated from the Rochester university; and in 1878 was admitted to the bar. The same year he was commissioned district attorney for the county of Chemung; and subsequently studied abroad. During 1884-92 he was a member of the New York state senate; and for a while was temporary president of the senate. In 1888 he was a delegate to the republican national convention; in 1891 was nominated by the republicans for governor of New York; and has always taken a prominent part in public affairs. He is engaged in several large business enterprises; controls the Elmira Daily Advertiser; and the management of the Second National bank; and is the responsible manager of the little mining town of Banner, Idaho.

FAULK, ANDREW J., governor, was born in Pennsylvania. He was appointed governor of the territory of Dakota in 1866, residing at Yankton, and remaining in office until 1869.

FAULKNER, CHARLES JAMES, was born about 1806, in Martinsburg, W. Va. In 1841 he was elected to the senate of Virginia, and in 1848 was elected to the house of delegates. In 1850 he was a member of the convention formed to revise the constitution of the state. In 1851 he was elected a representative in congress; and was re-elected to four successive congresses. In the civil war he acted as chief of staff for General Stonewall Jackson, and wrote all his reports and dispatches; and in 1872 was a member of the convention to frame a constitution for West Virginia. He was also elected to the forty-fourth congress. He died Nov. 1, 1884, in Boydville, W. Va.

FAULKNER, CHARLES JAMES, soldier, jurist, United States senator, was born Sept. 21, 1847, in Martinsburg, W. Va. In 1880 he was elected judge of the thirteenth judicial circuit, composed of the counties of Jefferson, Morgan, and Berkeley; and was elected to the United States senate as a democrat, and took his seat March 4, 1887. He was re-elected in 1893. He was permanent chairman of the democratic state convention of West Virginia in 1888, and was both temporary and permanent chairman of the democratic state convention of 1892; and was chairman of the democratic congressional campaign committee in 1894 and 1896.

FAUNCE, DAVID WORCESTER, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 3, 1829, in Plymouth, Mass. He is a baptist minister of New England; and the author of Words and Works of Jesus; Words and Acts of the Apostles; The Christian in the World; A Young Man's Difficulties with his Bible; and The Resurrection in Nature and Revelation.

FAUNTLEROY, THOMAS TURNER, soldier, was born Oct. 6, 1796, in Richmond county, Va. He was commissioned a lieutenant in the war of 1812-15 when but seventeen years old. He studied law in Winchester, practiced in Warrenton, and in 1823 was elected to the legislature. In 1836 he was commissioned a major of dragoons in the regular army, and served in the Seminole war. In 1861 he entered the confederate service. He was commissioned a brigadier-general by the convention of Virginia, and placed in command of Richmond and its defences. He died Sept. 12, 1883, in Leesburg, Va.

FAUQUIER, FRANCIS, governor, was born about 1720. He succeeded Dinwiddie as governor of Virginia in 1758; and after that was lieutenant-governor until his death. He died March 3, 1768, in Virginia.

FAVILLE, HENRY, clergyman, and founder of the Sunday Evening Club movement, was born July 7, 1847, in Milford, Wis. He is a distinguished clergyman of Wisconsin, and now fills a pastorate in La Crosse.

FAWCETT, EDGAR, author, was born May 26, 1847, in New York city. He is the author of An Ambitious Woman; Fabian Dimitry; A Gentleman of Leisure; A Hopeless Case; Olivia Delaplaine; Asses' Ears; A New York Family; The Confessions of Claude; Purple and Fine Linen; A Mild Barbarian; The House at High Bridge; Social Silhouettes; The Adventures of a Widow; Tinkling Cymbals; Rutherford; Douglas Duane; Eileen Story; A Demoralizing Marriage; A Man's Will; Miriam Balestier. In verse he has published Short Poems for Short People; The Buntling Ball, a satire; Poems of Fantasy and Passion; Romance and Revery; Song and Story; Songs of Doubt and Dream; and The New King Arthur. He has also written Agnosticism, and Other Essays.

FAWCETT, LEMUEL S., soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born June 24, 1845, in Overton, Pa. He served as a soldier in the union army; and since 1873 has practiced law in Houston, Texas, where he is judge of his county. He is a logical speaker and a well known political writer.

FAWCETT, MARY HUESTIS, author, poet, was born in May, 1843, in Ohio. She was educated in the Mount Pleasant seminary of Ohio, and for many years has contributed both prose and verse to periodical literature. In 1880 she published a volume of poems; and in 1890 appeared a second volume entitled Ernestine and Other Poems.

FAXON, EDGAR WADE, lawyer, journalist, legislator, was born Jan. 22, 1857, near Plano, Ill. He attended the common schools and colleges of Normal and Naperville, Ill., and graduated in the Latin scientific course, and from the Chicago College of Law. He served with distinction as a member of the thirty-fifth general assembly of Illinois; and was chairman of the committee of agriculture. He was the owner and publisher of The Journal of Amboy, Ill., during 1879-81; and since 1880 has owned and conducted a farm at Fox, Ill. He is now the owner and editor of the Kendall County News of Plano, Ill.; and is a prominent and able lawyer of that city.

FAXON, HENRY W., journalist, was born about 1830, in Buffalo, N. Y. In 1861 he became an army correspondent for New York papers. Among his most noted efforts were the Silver Lake Snake Story; and the A. P. L. Parin Papers. He died Sept. 11, 1864, in Washington, D. C.

FAXON, WILLIAM, journalist, public official, was born April 27, 1822, in Hartford, Conn. He was one of the editors and proprietors of the Hartford Courant; and in 1853 established the Hartford Press, the first republican paper in Connecticut. He was chief clerk of the navy department from 1861 to 1866; and assistant secretary of the navy from 1866 to 1869.

FAY, AMY, musician, author, was born in 1844, in Louisiana. She is a Chicago musician; and the author of Music Study in Germany.

FAY, EDWARD ALLEN, educator, author, was born Nov. 22, 1843, in Morristown, N. J. He has been prominent in educational work, and was editor of American Annals of the Deaf. He is the author of Concordance of the Divina Commedia, and other works.

FAY, FRANCIS BALL, merchant, state senator, congressman, was born June 12, 1793, in Southborough, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts senate in 1842 and 1845; mayor of Chelsea in 1857; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1852 to 1853. He died Oct. 6, 1876, in South Lancaster, Mass.

FAY, FRANKLIN BRIGHAM, state senator, was born Jan. 24, 1821, in Southboro, Mass. In 1851 he was a member of the Massachusetts state legislature; and in 1867 served with distinction as a state senator. During 1861-63 he was mayor of Chelsea, Mass.

FAY, GEORGE H., soldier, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Feb. 24, 1842, in Hudson, N. H. During 1861-65 he served as a soldier in the civil war and became captain of the United States volunteers. He was a member of the house of representatives of the constitutional convention of North Dakota in 1891; and has been state's attorney and county judge of McIntosh county, N. D.

FAY, JAMES A., lawyer, jurist, was born May 10, 1813, in Northampton, N. Y. In 1867 he was appointed judge of the criminal court. He died April 9, 1876.

FAY, JOHN, congressman, was born in Worcester county, Mass. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1819 to 1821.

FAY, JONAS, surgeon, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 17, 1737, in Hardwick, Mass. He was author of the declaration submitted to congress. He was secretary of the state constitutional convention of that year, and a member of the council of safety; and a member of the state council from 1778 to 1785. He was judge of the supreme court in 1782; judge of probate from 1772 to 1787; and agent of the state to congress in 1777, 1779, 1781, and 1782. He died March 6, 1818, in Bennington, Vt.

FAY, JOSEPH STORY, merchant, farmer, was born Dec. 8, 1812, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a successful merchant of Savannah, Ga., and for over forty years has been a farmer at Woods Holl, Mass. He has reclaimed by cultivating several hundred acres of land into a magnificent forest of pine trees; and is a member of the American forestry congress.

FAY, ORLIN PRENTICE, soldier, geologist, was born Sept. 13, 1820, in Plattsburgh, N. Y. He received his education at the Franklin academy of his native city. He was a soldier in the union army during the civil war; and is now a pensioner. For many years he has been a band teacher at Vermontville, Mich. He has been county and state deputy grand worthy chief Templar of New York state; and has filled numerous other positions of trust. For several years he has been engaged on a Genealogy of the Fay Family, which will be published in 1898.

FAY, THEODORE SEDGEWICK, journalist, diplomat, author, was born Feb. 10, 1807, in New York. He is a writer who belongs to the generation of literary New Yorkers which included Halleck, Willis, and Bryant. He was secretary of legation at Berlin, 1837-53, minister to Switzerland 1853-61. He has since lived in Berlin. The novel Norman Leslie is his best known work. Others are, Dreams and Reveries of a Quiet Man; The Minute Book, a record of travel; Countess Ida; Hoboken, a romance of New York; Sidney Clifton; Robert Rueful; Ulric, a volume of verse; Views of Christianity; Great Outlines of Geography; History of Switzerland; and History of the Three Germans.

FAYERWEATHER, LUCY, philanthropist. She attained note as a philanthropist. She died in 1892.

FEARING, BENJAMIN DANA, soldier, was born Oct. 10, 1837, in Harmar, Ohio. In 1862 he was made lieutenant-colonel of the ninety-second Ohio, which he had assisted in raising, and was promoted to colonel in 1863. He defended Hoover's Gap at the head of three regiments, and distinguished himself at Chickamauga, where he was severely wounded. He was brevetted brigadier-general of volunteers; and commanded a brigade in Sherman's march to the sea. He died Dec. 9, 1881, in Harmar, Ohio.

FEARING, DANIEL BUTLER, capitalist, was born Aug. 14, 1859, in Newport, R. I. He has been school commissioner and alderman of Newport, R. I.; was elected mayor in 1893; and is a director of the National Bank of Rhode Island.

FEARING, LILLIEN B., lawyer, poet. She is the author of The Sleepy World and Other Poems; In the City by the Lake; and Roberta.

FEARING, PAUL, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Feb. 28, 1762, in Wareham, Mass. He was appointed United States attorney for Washington county, Ohio territory; and in 1797 was appointed judge of probate for his county. He was a member of the first legislative council of Ohio in 1799, and in 1801 was chosen a delegate to congress, serving until 1803. In 1814 he was appointed master commissioner in chancery, and from 1810 to 1817 was judge in one of the state courts. He died Aug. 21, 1822.

FEARN, WALTER, soldier, lawyer, diplomat, was born Jan. 13, 1832, in Huntsville, Ala. He went as secretary to the United States minister to Belgium; and in 1856 was appointed secretary of the legation of the United States at Mexico. He was professor of Spanish and Italian in the university of Louisiana, when, in 1885, he was appointed United States minister resident and consul general to Greece, Roumania, and Servia.

FEASTER, THOMAS J., physician, banker, state legislator, was born Oct. 12, 1860, in Warsaw, Mo. He is a successful physician and banker of China Springs, Mo.; and has served with distinction as a representative in the thirty-ninth general assembly of Missouri.

FEATHERSTON, LEWIS PORTER, planter, congressman, was born July 28, 1851, in Oxford, Miss. He removed to St. Francis county, Ark., where he engaged in planting. He was elected to the state house of representatives in 1886 for the term of 1887-88. He was elected to congress in 1888, but counted out; contested and was seated March 5, 1890.

FEATHERSTON, WINFIELD SCOTT, soldier, congressman, was born Aug. 8, 1821, in Rutherford county, Tenn. He was elected to congress as a democrat, and served in 1847-51, but was defeated for a third term by the union candidate. He took part in the rebellion of 1861-65 as a brigadier-general.

FEBIGER, CHRISTIAN, soldier, was born in 1746, in Denmark. He served in the revolutionary war, retiring from active service Jan. 1, 1783, and was brevetted brigadier-general in the following September. He died Sept. 20, 1796, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FEBIGER, JOHN CARSON, naval officer, was born Feb. 14, 1821, in Pittsburg, Pa. He served in the United States navy during the civil war; attained the rank of commodore; and in 1882 he was made rear admiral in the United States navy.

FECHTER, CHARLES ALBERT, actor, was born Oct. 23, 1824, in London, England. He came to New York and appeared for the first time on the American stage at Niblo's garden in 1870, as Ruy Blas. The last part which he created was Karl in Lover's Penance, produced at the Park theater in 1874. He died Aug. 5, 1879.

FEEHAN, PATRICK A., Roman catholic archbishop, was born in 1829, in Ireland. He acquired great reputation as pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception in St. Louis, and in 1865 was consecrated bishop of Nashville, Tenn.; and is now archbishop of Chicago.

FEELY, WILLIAM OLIVER, clergyman, poet, was born Jan. 8, 1867, in Breinigsville, Pa. After receiving his education at the Keystone Normal school of Kutztown, Pa., he taught school. In 1887 he entered Muhlenberg college of Allentown and graduated in 1890. He then studied theology at the Lutheran Theological seminary; and has since attained success as a clergyman. His poems have been given a place in several standard works.

FEGLEY, HARRY WINSLOW, educator, librarian, was born July 2, 1871, in Hereford, Pa. He attended Ursinus and Eastman colleges; taught school for several years; and was elected president of the Hereford Literary society, the oldest society of its kind in eastern Pennsylvania, and which office he still fills, being also its librarian.

FEHR, FRANK, brewer, was born March 3, 1844, in Germany. He founded the firm of Brohm and Fehr of Louisville, Ky.; soon became sole proprietor, and so continued until the firm was incorporated in 1890, when he generously admitted to partnership every man who had been with him five years. He died March 15, 1891.

FEHR, HERMAN, lawyer, was born Feb. 27, 1865, in Milwaukee, Wis. Since 1886 he has been engaged in the practice of law in his native city, and has achieved eminence at the bar.

FEHR, JULIUS, physician, pharmacist, was born March 29, 1825, in Germany. After experimenting for several years, he succeeded in perfecting his celebrated preparation of compound talcum. From a small beginning in 1873, the manufacture of Fehr's compound talcum grew to be a large and increasing business, extending not only through the United States, but to foreign lands.

FEININGER, CHARLES WILLIAM FREDERICK, composer, was born July 31, 1844, in Germany. He has written symphonies and overtures for orchestra and operetta choruses and songs.

FELCH, ALPHEUS, lawyer, jurist, governor, United States senator, was born Sept. 28, 1806, in Limerick, Maine. He was a member of the Michigan state legislature in 1836 and 1837; was appointed bank commissioner of Michigan in 1838, and resigned in 1839; for a short time in 1842 was auditor general of the state, but relinquished that position for a seat on the bench of the supreme court of Michigan. In 1845 he was elected governor; resigned in 1847, and was elected a senator in congress for six years; and was a delegate to the Chicago convention of 1864. For many years he was professor of law in the university of Michigan.

FELCH, WILL FARRAND, author, poet, was born in Columbus, Ohio. He has written several works of fiction, a few dramas, and a volume of poems entitled Legends and Lyrics.

FELDER, JOHN MYERS, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 7, 1782, in Orangeburg, S. C. He was a member of the state assembly in 1812, and subsequently of the senate. He was a trustee of South Carolina college; served as a major of militia; and was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1831 to 1835. He died Sept. 1, 1851, in Union Point, Ga.

FELKER, CHARLES W., soldier, educator, lawyer, was born Nov. 25, 1834, in Penn Yan, N. Y. He received a liberal education, and attended the Brockport Collegiate institute. During the civil war he served gallantly as captain of the forty-eighth regiment Wisconsin volunteer infantry. Since 1875 he has been actively engaged in the profession of law at Oshkosh, Wis. He has served as postmaster of his city; as alderman; and as superintendent of schools.

FELL, GEORGE E., physician, surgeon, was born July 10, 1849, in Chippewa, Ontario, Canada. He has been professor of physiology and microscopy in the university of Niagara. He was the first to practically demonstrate the value of forced respiration in saving human life.

FELL, JOHN, congressman. He was a delegate from New Jersey to the continental congress from 1778 to 1780.

FELL, THOMAS, clergyman, college president, was born July 15, 1851, in Liverpool, England. He is best known as the honored president of the St. John's college of Annapolis, Md.

FELLOWS, ISAIAH, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 20, 1860, in England. In 1868 he emigrated with his parents to America, and has since lived in Cohoes, N. Y. In 1891 he was elected school commissioner; and the same year was appointed a member of the hospital commission. In 1896 he was appointed for a term of four years judge of the recorder's court of his city, with criminal jurisdiction. He has a large practice in railroad and life insurance litigation.

FELLOWS, JOHN, soldier, was born in 1733, in Pomfret, Conn. He served in the French and Indian war; and was a member of the Massachusetts provincial congress in 1775. He died Aug. 1, 1808, in Sheffield, Mass.

FELLOWS, JOHN, author, was born in 1760, in Sheffield, Mass. He was the author of The Veil Removed; and Mysteries of Free Masonry. He died in 1844.

FELLOWS, JOHN R., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 29, 1832, in Troy, N. Y. He settled in Arkansas, and was elected to the state senate. He removed to New York city in 1868; was appointed assistant district attorney in 1869; and was elected district attorney in 1887. He was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

FELLOWS, SAMUEL M., college president, was born Nov. 23, 1818, in North Sandwich, N. H. In 1859 he was elected president of Cornell college of Mt. Vernon, Iowa, serving until 1863. He died June 26, 1863.

FELT, DAVID P., journalist, was born Aug. 7, 1860, in Salt Lake City, Utah. He is prominent in the newspaper world, and is editor and owner of the Independent of Springville, Utah. In 1897 he was elected president of the Utah Press association.

FELT, JOSEPH BARLOW, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 22, 1789, in Salem, Mass. He was a congregational minister of Massachusetts who, after retiring from the ministry, devoted himself to antiquarian research at Salem. He was the author of Annals of Salem; History of Ipswich, Essex, and Hamilton; Historical Account of Massachusetts Currency; Memoirs of Hugh Peters; The Customs of New England; and Ecclesiastical History of New England. He died in 1869.

FELTON, CHARLES N., public official, congressman, was born in 1832, in Erie county, N. Y. He was under-sheriff of Yuba county, Cal., in 1857; was elected tax collector of that county; and served two terms as a representative in the California legislature. He served as officer of the United States mint at San Francisco for six years, a part of the time as assistant treasurer, and the remainder as treasurer of the mint. In 1884 he was elected a representative from California to the forty-ninth congress; and was re-elected to the fiftieth as a republican; and in 1891-93 served as United States senator to fill a vacancy.

FELTON, CORNELIUS CONWAY, educator, author, was born Nov. 6, 1807, in West Newbury, Mass. He was a Greek scholar of eminence who was president of Harvard college in 1860-62. Besides his many translations from the Greek, among which The Clouds and The Birds of Aristophanes are the most noteworthy, he published Selections from Modern Greek Writers, with Notes; Familiar Letters from Europe; and Greece, Ancient and Modern. He died Feb. 26, 1862, in Chester, Pa.

FELTON, JOHN BROOKS, lawyer, was born in 1827, in Sangus, Mass. He was mayor of Oakland, where he lived; and was for many years a regent of the university of California, of which he was one of the founders. He died May 3, 1877, in Oakland, Cal.

FELTON, SAMUEL MORSE, civil engineer, was born July 17, 1809, in Newbury, Mass. He became superintendent and engineer of the Fitchburg railroad in 1843, and left it in 1851 to become the president of the Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore road, where he remained until 1865. He died Jan. 24, 1889, in Harvard, Pa.

FELTON, SAMUEL MORSE, railroad president, was born Feb. 3, 1853, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is president of the Cincinnati, New Orleans and Texas Pacific railway.

FENDALL, JOSIAS, governor, was born in England. In 1657 he was elected governor of Maryland, serving until 1660.

FENN, F. M. O., lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 9, 1860, in Fort Bend county, Texas. He attended the Roanoke college, Virginia, and the university of Virginia; and is the holder of the orator's medal from both institutions. He has attained success as an able lawyer of Richmond, Texas, where he has always taken great interest in the public affairs of his county and state. In 1895 he was appointed special judge for Fort Bend county, Tex., by Governor C. A. Culbertson; but he declined to serve in that office, preferring to give his large legal practice the benefit of his time and ability.

FENN, HARRY, artist, was born Sept. 14, 1838, in Surrey, England. He has achieved great success as an illustrator of books. Some of his best work is contained in Picturesque America, Picturesque Europe, and Picturesque Palestine.

FENN, STEPHEN S., farmer, lawyer, congressman, was born March 28, 1820, in Watertown, Conn. He was a member of the legislative council of Idaho in 1864 and 1865; district attorney in 1869; and again in the assembly in 1872, and served as speaker of the house of representatives. He was elected a delegate from Idaho to the forty-fourth congress; and re-elected to the forty-fifth congress.

FENNER, ARTHUR, governor, was born in 1745, in Providence, R. I. He was clerk of the superior court of the state; and was chosen governor in 1789, and served until his death. He died Oct. 15, 1805, in Providence, R. I.

FENNER, CORNELIUS GEORGE, clergyman, poet, was born Dec. 30, 1822, in Providence, R. I. He was a unitarian clergyman at one time in charge of a church at Cincinnati; and the author of Poems of Many Moods. He died Jan. 4, 1847, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

FENNER, JAMES, governor, United States senator, was born in 1771, in Providence, R. I. He was United States senator from 1805 to 1807, when he was elected governor of Rhode Island, which office he held for four years. He was again elected in 1824, and served seven years; and was again elected in 1844. He was a presidential elector in 1821, 1827, and 1837; and was president of the convention that framed the state constitution in 1842. He died April 17, 1846, in Providence, R. I.

FENNER, MRS. MARY GALENTINE, poet, was born May 17, 1839, in Rush, N. Y. She has written extensively both prose and verse for current publications; and is the author of a volume of Poems.

FENNO, WILLIAM AUGUSTUS, actor, was born March 1, 1814, in Boston, Mass. He appeared in Philadelphia in 1848, at the Arch Street theater, as Romeo; visited California in 1850, and went to England in 1864. He died Feb. 14, 1873, in New York city.

FENTON, LUCIEN J., banker, congressman, was born May 7, 1844, in Winchester, Ohio. He was superintendent of public schools in Ohio for a number of years, serving a portion of the time as one of the school examiners for Adams county; and was awarded a high-school life certificate by the Ohio state board of school examiners in 1878. He organized the Winchester bank in 1884, and still retains connection therewith. He was appointed a trustee of the Ohio university by Governor McKinley in 1892; and was elected to the fifty-fourth, and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

FENTON, REUBEN EATON, congressman, governor, United States senator, was born July 1, 1819, in Carroll, N. Y. He was elected a representative in the thirty-third and thirty-fifth congresses from New York; and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, and thirty-eighth congresses. He resigned to accept the governorship of New York for 1865 and 1866, to which he had been elected; and was re-elected to the same position in 1869. He was elected a senator in congress for the term ending in 1875. He died Aug. 25, 1885, in Jamestown, N. Y.

FENTON, WILLIAM MATTHEW, lawyer, was born Dec. 19, 1808, in Norwich, N. Y. In 1848 he was elected lieutenant-governor of Michigan, and re-elected in 1850 and 1851. He died May 13, 1871, in Flint, Mich.

FENWICK, BENEDICT JOSEPH, bishop, was born Sept. 3, 1782, in Leonardtown, Md. In 1817 he was elected president of Georgetown college; and was at the same time rector of Trinity college. In 1825 he was appointed second Roman catholic bishop of Boston. He died Aug. 11, 1846, in Boston, Mass.

FENWICK, CUTHBERT, was born in England. He sat in the assembly of 1648, and in several others. He was speaker of the house of burgesses when it sat separate from the council in 1649. He died in 1655, in Fenwick Manor, Md.

FENWICK, EDWARD D., Roman catholic bishop, was born in 1768, in St. Mary's county, Md. In 1805 Father Fenwick traversed the entire valley of the Mississippi on a tour of observation with the view of finding a suitable center for his missionary labors. He selected a farm in Kentucky, paid for it out of his private fortune, and in the spring of 1806 built on it the Dominican convent of St. Rose of Lima. He died Sept. 26, 1832, in Wooster, Ohio.

FENWICK, JOHN R., soldier, was born in 1780, in Charleston, S. C. He was appointed lieutenant of United States marines in 1799. He was commissioned colonel of the fourth artillery in 1822, and brevet brigadier-general in 1823. He died March 19, 1842, in France.

FERDON, JOHN W., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born in 1828, in Piermont, N. Y. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1855; a state senator in 1856 and 1857; and delegate to the republican national conventions of 1864 and 1876. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-sixth congress as a republican. He died Aug. 6, 1884.

FERGUSON, BENJAMIN H. S., clergyman, was born July 14, 1861, in Pickensville, Ala. He received his education at the Rust university of Holly Springs, Miss., and subsequently received the degree of LL. D. He has attained success as a clergyman in the methodist episcopal church; and has been pastor in various cities in the Upper Mississippi conference.

FERGUSON, ELIZABETH, poet, was born in 1739 in Philadelphia, Pa. She was a writer of poems and a translator of French verse. She died Feb. 23, 1801, in Graeme Park, Pa.

FERGUSON, EMORY C., contractor, miner, legislator, was born March 5, 1833, in Westchester county, N. Y. He moved to San Francisco in 1854, arriving there one year later. He engaged in mining and mercantile business, but subsequently settled in Washington, where he became a successful carpenter and builder. In 1864 he was elected to the territorial legislature, has since served seven sessions, and was speaker of the house for one term. In 1884-85 he was a commissioner to the cotton centennial exposition held in New Orleans. He has been mayor of the city of Snohomish for six terms, and is now engaged in quartz mining.

FERGUSON, FENNER, lawyer, congressman, was born April 25, 1814, in Nassau, N. Y. He was master in chancery in Albany, N. Y., in 1844; also master in chancery in Michigan, and a member of the Michigan legislature, and prosecuting attorney. In 1854 he was appointed chief justice of the territory of Nebraska, which office he resigned, after being elected a delegate to the thirty-fifth congress from that territory. He died in November, 1859, in Bellevue, Nebraska territory.

FERGUSON, HENRY CLAY, lawyer, was born Dec. 1, 1846, in Butler county, Ky. He has attained success as one of the leading lawyers of Texas, where he has a large practice in Denton.

FERGUSON, JAMES, civil engineer, astronomer, was born Aug. 31, 1797, in Scotland. He has been a valued contributor to discoveries in astronomy and an assistant in determining the boundary of the United States. He died Sept. 26, 1867.

FERGUSON, SAMUEL DAVID, bishop, was born Jan. 1, 1842, in Charleston, S. C. In 1885 he came to the United States, and was consecrated in Grace church, New York city, in 1885. Soon afterward he returned to Cape Palmas, Liberia, and entered upon the duties of his office.

FERGUSON, H. B., lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 9, 1848, in Alabama. He belongs to a family that settled in the south in colonial days, several members of which distinguished themselves in the civil and military offices of the colonies and later in the service of the young republic; his father was an officer in the confederate army, and did excellent service under Gen. Lee until the close of the struggle; graduated from the Washington and Lee university, Lexington, Va., with the degree of M. A., in 1873. He graduated from the law department of that university in 1874, and commenced the practice of his profession at Wheeling, W. Va., where he remained until the year 1882. In 1884 he located in Albuquerque, N. M., where he has since successfully practiced his profession. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

FERNALD, BENJAMIN F., lawyer, jurist, was born July 10, 1841, in Exeter, Maine. For many years he was superintendent of schools in his native state; has been trial justice; justice of the peace; and filled various other positions of honor in his native state. He has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press.

FERNALD, CHARLES HENRY, naturalist, author, was born March 16, 1838, in Mount Desert, Maine. He is a naturalist who has been professor of zoology at Massachusetts Agricultural college since 1886; and is the author of Tortricidæ of North America; Butterflies of Maine; Grasses of Maine; and Sphingidæ of New England.

FERNALD, CHESTER BAILEY, author, was born in 1868. He is a littérateur of San Francisco; and the author of The Cat and the Cherub, and Other Stories.

FERNALD, JAMES CHAMPLIN, author, was born in 1838 in Maine. He is the author of The Economics of Prohibition; and The New Womanhood.

FERNALD, MERRITT CALDWELL, educator, was born May 25, 1838, in South Levant, Maine. He has attained success as a noted educator.

FERREL, WILLIAM, meteorologist, author, was born in 1817 in Pennsylvania. He was a distinguished meteorologist employed at various times in the coast survey and the signal service. He was the author of Recent Advances in Meteorology; Popular Treatise on the Winds; and Motions of Fluids and Solids on the Earth's Surface. He died in 1891.

FERRELL, THOMAS M., state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 20, 1844, in Glassboro, N. J. He was a member of the state assembly in 1879 and 1880; a state senator in 1881; and was elected a representative from New Jersey to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

FERRIN, CHESTER M., soldier, physician, was born Sept. 27, 1837, in Holland, Vt. He has filled the positions of school trustee, superintendent of schools, commissioner of insane for the state of Vermont, and for thirty years has been secretary of the Eighth Vermont Regiment association. He served three years in the civil war, and is now commander of Sherman post, Grand Army of the Republic, at Essex, Vt. He has been successfully engaged in the practice of medicine since 1865, and since 1872 at Essex Junction, Vt. In 1897 he was elected a member of the Vermont state legislature.

FERRIS, A. F., banker, state legislator, was born in 1865 in Perrysburg, N. Y. In 1872 he moved to Minnesota, where he is president of the First National bank of Brainerd. In 1891 he was secretary of the game and fish commission, and vice-president of the Brainerd board of trade. He has also served two terms as a member of the state legislature.

FERRIS, BENJAMIN, author. He was a watchmaker, lived for many years in Philadelphia, and was clerk of the Philadelphia meeting of Friends. He published History of the Early Settlements on the Delaware, from its Discovery to the Colonization under William Penn. He died in 1867 in Wilmington, Del.

FERRIS, CHARLES G., congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1841 to 1843.

FERRIS, GEORGE TITUS, author. He was the author of Great German Composers; Great Italian and French Composers; Great Singers; Great Violinists and Pianists; and Great Leaders.

FERRIS, GEORGE W., civil engineer, inventor, was born in 1858. He was the inventor of the Ferris wheel that was the wonder of engineering at the world's fair in Chicago. He died of typhoid fever Nov. 22, 1896, in Pittsburg, Pa.

FERRIS, ISAAC, clergyman, was born Oct. 9, 1798, in New York city. He settled in Albany in 1824-36, and at the Market street church, New York, in 1836-53.

FERRIS, JOHN CHARLES, horticulturist, author, lecturer, was born Jan. 2, 1835, in Chenango Forks, N. Y. He received his education in the common schools of New York and Illinois. He served as a member in the third territorial legislature of Wyoming. He served for over three years in the civil war, and is the present commander of the J. W. McKinzie post number 81, Grand Army of the Republic, department of Iowa. For three terms he was president of the Northern Iowa Horticultural society, and is now connected with the Iowa State Horticultural society. He has written extensively on subjects of horticulture and has lectured on that and kindred topics.

FERRIS, JOHN MASON, clergyman, was born Jan. 17, 1825, in Albany, N. Y. He became editor of the Christian Intelligencer in 1883, and treasurer of the foreign mission board in 1886. He is the author of a History of Foreign Missions.

FERRISS, ORANGE, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Nov. 26, 1814, in Glens Falls, N. Y. He was appointed surrogate of his county for four years; in 1851 was elected, under the new constitution, judge of Warren county, and twice re-elected, holding the office twelve years in all. In 1866 he was elected a representative from New York to the fortieth congress, and was re-elected to the forty-first congress. In 1880 he was appointed second auditor of the United States treasury.

FERRY, DEXTER MASON, seedsman, was born Aug. 8, 1833, in Lowville, N. Y. He organized the firm of D. M. Ferry and Co. in 1867. In 1879 the house was incorporated with Mr. Ferry as president. He is also president of the First National bank, the Union Trust company, the American Harrow company, the American Blower company, the National Pin company, and other corporations.

FERRY, ELISHA P., governor, was born Aug. 9, 1825, in Monroe, Mich. He resided at Waukegan until 1869, when he removed to the territory of Washington. In 1872 he was appointed governor of the territory, and reappointed in 1876, serving until 1880; and was elected again in 1889.

FERRY, ORRIS SANFORD, soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born Aug. 15, 1823, in Bethel, Conn. In 1849 he was appointed judge of probate for the district of Norwalk, and was elected to the state senate in 1855 and 1856. In 1856 he was appointed state's attorney for the county of Fairfield, which position he continued to fill until 1859, when he was elected a representative to the thirty-sixth congress from Connecticut. He served with distinction as a colonel and brigadier-general in the war for the union. In 1866 he was elected a senator in congress for the term commencing March, 1867, and ending in 1873. He was a delegate to the Philadelphia loyalists' convention of 1866 and to the soldiers' convention, held at Pittsburg in 1872. He was re-elected to the United States senate for six years, for a second full term. He died Nov. 21, 1875, in South Norwalk, Conn.

FERRY, THOMAS WHITE, congressman, United States senator, was born June 1, 1827, in Mackinaw, Mich. He was elected to the state legislature and to the state senate in 1856.

In 1864 he was elected a representative from Michigan to the thirty-ninth congress; was re-elected to the fortieth, forty-first and forty-second congresses, but did not take his seat in the latter, as he was chosen a senator in congress for the term ending in 1877, and was re-elected senator for the term ending in 1883.

FERRY, WILLIAM MONTAGUE, clergyman, was born Sept. 8, 1796, in Granby, Mass. In 1834 he purchased, with others, a tract of land in the Grand river valley, where he founded a settlement and went extensively into the manufacture of lumber. He died Dec. 30, 1867, in Grand Haven, Mich.

FESS, SIMEON DAVIDSON, educator, lecturer, author, was born Dec. 11, 1861, in Lima, Ohio. He is favorably known as a popular lecturer. He is the author of A Compendium of United States History, and Outlines of Physiology and Hygiene.

FESSENDEN, FRANCIS, lawyer, soldier, was born March 18, 1839, in Portland, Maine. He served with distinction through the civil war, and was brevetted major-general. He was subsequently appointed secretary of the treasury, and now practices his profession of law in Portland, Maine.

FESSENDEN, SAMUEL, soldier, lawyer, was born in Rockland, Maine. He was appointed second lieutenant in the fifth Maine battery, Jan. 18, 1865. He is a lawyer and politician in Stamford, Conn.

FESSENDEN, SAMUEL, lawyer, philanthropist, was born July 16, 1784, in Fryeburg, Maine. In 1815-16 he was in the general court of Massachusetts, and in 1818-19 represented his district in the Massachusetts senate. For fourteen years he was major-general of the twelfth division of Massachusetts militia. He died March 13, 1869, in Portland, Maine.

FESSENDEN, SAMUEL CLEMENT, clergyman, lawyer, congressman, was born March 7, 1815, in New Gloucester, Maine. In 1856 he established the Maine Evangelist; in 1858 entered upon the practice of law; and soon after was elected judge of the municipal court of Rockland. He was elected a representative from Maine to the thirty-seventh congress. In 1865 he was appointed a member of the board of examiners of the patent office.

FESSENDEN, THOMAS, clergyman, author, was born in 1739 in Cambridge, Mass. He became pastor in Walpole, N. H., which charge he held from 1767 till 1813. He was author of The Science of Sanctity, and The Boston Self-Styled Gentlemen-Reviewers Reviewed. He died in 1813.

FESSENDEN, THOMAS AMORY DEBLOISE, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 23, 1826, in Portland, Maine. In 1858 he was appointed aide-de-camp to the governor of Maine. In 1860 he was elected to the Maine legislature, and in 1861 was chosen attorney for the county of Androscoggin, which position he held until 1862, when he was elected a representative from Maine to the thirty-seventh congress to fill a vacancy. He died Sept. 28, 1868, in Lewiston, Maine.

FESSENDEN, THOMAS GREEN, author, poet, was born April 22, 1771, in Walpole, N. H. He was an agricultural writer of Boston who edited the New England Farmer and similar journals, but in earlier life won considerable attention as a satirical poet under the name of Christopher Caustic. He was the author of Country Lovers and the Terrible Tractoration; poems by which he is remembered. He published Original Poems; The Ladies' Monitor; American Clerk's Companion; Democracy Unveiled; Pills, Poetical, Political, and Philosophical; and Laws of Patents for New Inventions. He died Nov. 11, 1837, in Boston, Mass.

FESSENDEN, WILLIAM PITT, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Oct. 16, 1806, in Boscawen, N. H. He was a member of the Maine legislature in 1832 and in 1840; was a representative in congress from 1841 to 1843, declining further service; and was again in the state legislature in 1845 and 1846, and in 1853 and 1854. He was elected a senator in congress for six years, from 1853; and in 1859 was re-elected for the term of six years. In 1864 he was elected a senator in congress for the term 1865-71. He died Sept. 8, 1870, in Portland, Maine.

FESSENGER, JOHN G., physician, scientist, inventor, was born Nov. 24, 1844, in Trenton, Ohio. He served as a union soldier during the civil war as first lieutenant, and was subsequently promoted to lieutenant-colonel. After the close of the war he graduated in medicine, and during 1888-93 served as surgeon and physician in the United States service. He has patented several articles of merit, and has taken a great interest in scientific subjects.

FESSENLER, ORVILLE DAVID, merchant, legislator, was born April 11, 1865, in Boston, Mass. He is a successful merchant of Brookline, N. H.; has filled numerous public offices of trust, and served with distinction as a member of the New Hampshire legislature.

FESTETITTS, MRS. KATE NEELY, author, was born in 1837 in Virginia. She is a writer of children's books whose home has been in Washington since 1885. She is the author of Ellie Randolph; and A Year at Dangerfield.

FETHERS, OGDEN HOFFMAN, educator, lawyer, was born Sept. 20, 1845, in Sharon, N. Y. In 1863 he graduated from the Fort Edward Collegiate institute, and subsequently received the degrees of A. M. and LL. D. For many years he was regent of the university of Wisconsin, and in 1889 was commissioner from Wisconsin to the celebration centennial of constitutional government. He has attained eminence as one of the foremost lawyers of Wisconsin, and is the senior member of the leading law firm of Janesville.

FETTER, GEORGE W., educator, was born Jan. 22, 1827, in Montgomery county, Pa. For eighteen years he taught grammar schools in Philadelphia, where he was in 1864 elected principal of the girls' normal school.

FETTEROLF, ADAM H., educator, college president, was born Nov. 24, 1841, in Montgomery county, Pa. Since 1883 he has been president of Girard college of Philadelphia.

FEUCHTWANGER, LEWIS, chemist, author, was born Jan. 11, 1805, in Bavaria. He was a noted chemist of New York city who came to America from Germany in 1829. He was the author of Popular Treatise on Gems; Elements of Mineralogy; Treatise on Fermented Liquors; and Practical Treatise on Soluble or Water Glass. He died June 25, 1876, in New York city.

FEW, IGNATIUS A., college president, was born April 11, 1789, in Georgia. He was elected to the presidency of Emory college in 1837, opened the new institution in 1838, and resigned in 1839, because of failing health. He died Nov. 28, 1845, in Athens, Ga.

FEW, WILLIAM, soldier, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born June 8, 1748, in Maryland. In 1778 he was surveyor-general of the state, and presiding judge of the Richmond county court. In 1780 he was sent as delegate to congress and was again appointed in 1786. In the next year he assisted in forming the national constitution, which he duly signed. After its adoption he was elected a senator in congress, serving from 1789 to 1793. In 1796 he was a member of the convention which framed the constitution of the state of Georgia. He subsequently served upon the bench in the legislature of that state. During the latter years of his life he resided in the city of New York, of which he was mayor; and was elected to the legislature of New York. He also held the office of commissioner of loans. He died June 16, 1828, in Fishkill, N. Y.

FEWKES, JESSE WALTER, ethnologist, author, was born in 1850 in Massachusetts. He is an ethnologist of Boston who has written valuable professional monographs; and edited the Journal of American Ethnology and Archaeology.

FEY, CONRAD, business man, state legislator, was born June 17, 1831, in Germany. In 1847 he settled in Detroit, Mich., and since 1862 has resided in East Saginaw, where he has been justice of the peace for eight years, and police justice seven years. In 1873-74 he served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature.

FICKEN, JOHN F., lawyer, legislator, was born June 16, 1843, in Charleston, S. C. For six successive terms he served with distinction as a member of the state legislature of South Carolina; and was mayor of Charleston for one term of four years.

FICKETT, FRED WILDON, lawyer, jurist, explorer, was born Aug. 29, 1867, in Dixmont, Maine. During 1882-85 he was in charge of the United States signal service stations in Southeast Alaska. In 1895 he represented his department of the government on the famous Copper river expedition. For two years he served as judge of police court of Galveston, Texas.

FICKLEN, JOHN ROSE, educator, author, was born Dec. 14, 1858, in Falmouth, Va. He filled the chair of history and rhetoric in Tulane university for a number of years, and in 1893 was appointed professor of history and political science in the same university. He has recently published A History of Louisiana, written with Miss Grace Elizabeth King as joint author.

FICKLIN, JOSEPH, educator, author, was born Sept. 9, 1833, in Winchester, Ky. He is a professor of mathematics in the university of Missouri who has published The Complete Algebra; and Elements of Algebra, and a series of arithmetical textbooks.

FICKLIN, ORLANDO B., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1808 in Kentucky.

In 1834 he was a member of the Illinois legislature, and was attorney for the Wash circuit in 1835. In 1838 and in 1842 he was again elected to the legislature. In 1843 he was elected a representative in congress from Illinois, serving six consecutive years, and was again elected in 1850. In 1853 he was colonel of militia, and in 1856 was a presidential elector.

FIEDLER, WILLIAM FREDERICK, lawyer, jurist, was born Oct. 8, 1862, in Cleveland, Ohio. He has attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of Ohio at Cleveland; has been prosecuting attorney and judge of the police court, and takes an active part in public affairs.

FIEDLER, WILLIAM H. F., merchant, state legislator, congressman, was born Aug. 25, 1847, in New York city. In 1877 he was elected a representative in the state legislature, and was re-elected in 1878. In 1879 he was elected mayor of Newark, serving two years. In 1882 he was, a third time, elected to the state assembly to fill a vacancy, and was elected a representative from New Jersey to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

FIELD, AARON W. He is a noted lawyer of New Marlborough, Mass., and takes an active part in all public affairs.

FIELD, ARCHELAUS G., physician, was born Nov. 15, 1829, in Ontario county, N. Y. He is an eminent physician and surgeon of Des Moines, Iowa.

FIELD, BENJAMIN, state senator, was born June 12, 1816, in Dorset, Vt. In 1854-55 he was elected to the New York state senate, and in 1867 was a member of the constitutional convention. He died in August, 1876, in Albion, N. Y.

FIELD, BENJAMIN HAZARD, philanthropist, was born May 2, 1814, in Winchester county, N. Y. He was president in 1886 of the Historical society, an incorporator of the American museum of natural history, the Sheltering Arms, and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and was president of the free circulating library and the eye and ear infirmary. He died March 17, 1893, in New York city.

FIELD, MRS. CAROLINE LESLIE WHITNEY, author, poet, was born in Massachusetts. She is a writer of Guilford, Conn., and the author of High Lights, a novel; The Unseen King, and Other Poems.

FIELD, CYRUS WEST, merchant, capitalist, was born Nov. 30, 1819, in Stockbridge, Mass. He organized his first Atlantic Telegraph company in 1856, and in 1857-58, after repeated trials and failures, was successful; and a message was sent from the queen and a reply transmitted from the president. He died April 9, 1892, in Hudson, N. Y.

FIELD, DAVID DUDLEY, clergyman, author, was born May 20, 1781, in Madison, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman of Stockbridge, Mass., and the author of History of Pittsfield; Genealogy of the Brainerd Family; and Histories of the Counties of Berkshire and Middlesex. He died April 15, 1867, in Stockbridge, Mass.

FIELD, DAVID DUDLEY, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Feb. 13, 1805, in Haddam, Conn. He studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1828 and commenced practice in New York city. In 1857 he was appointed, by the legislature, chairman of a commission to prepare a new code of laws. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-fourth congress to fill a vacancy. His Speeches and Miscellaneous Papers have been published in three volumes. He died in 1894.

FIELD, EUGENE, journalist, author, poet, was born in 1850 in Maine. He was a journalist and author of Chicago whose writing has received much indiscriminating and damaging praise. He was the author of The Denver Tribune Primer; Culture's Garland; A Little Book of Profitable Tales; A Little Book of Western Verse; Second Book of Verse; Love Songs of Childhood; With Trumpet and Drum (verse); Echoes from the Sahine Farm (with R. M. Field); Songs and Other Verse; A Second Book of Verse; and The Holy Cross, and Other Tales. He died in 1895 in Chicago, Ill.

FIELD, GEORGE WASHINGTON, lawyer, author. He was the author of Iowa County and Township Officers; Law of Damages; Private Corporations for Pecuniary Gain; Law of Private Corporations; Constitution and Jurisdiction of United States Supreme Courts; Field's Lawyers' Briefs; Field's Medico-Legal Guide for Doctors and Lawyers; and Legal Relations of Infants in the State of New York. He died in 1889.

FIELD, HENRY MARTYN, clergyman, author, was born April 3, 1822, in Stockbridge, Mass. He is a congregational clergyman, and editor of the New York Evangelist, whose writings are chiefly concerned with his extensive travels. He is the author of From the Lakes of Killarney to the Golden Horn; From Egypt to Japan; Story of the Atlantic Telegraph; Among the Holy Hills; Our Western Archipelago; The Barbary Coast; On the Desert; Old Spain and New Spain; Gibraltar; Bright Skies and Dark Shadows; Summer Pictures, from Copenhagen to Venice; Blood is Thicker than Water; and The Irish Confederates, or the Rebellion of 1798. He is a brother of Cyrus W. Field.

FIELD, HENRY MARTYN, physician, educator, author, was born Oct. 3, 1837, in Brighton, Mass. He is a physician and professor in Dartmouth Medical school. Evacuant Medication is his only publication.

FIELD, JAMES GAVEN, lawyer, was born Feb. 24, 1826, in Walnut, Va. He was attorney for the commonwealth in his native county from 1860 till 1865. Since the war he has been attorney-general of the state.

FIELD, JESSE SOUTHWICK, lawyer, was born Oct. 3, 1862, in River Falls, Wis. In 1886 he graduated from the law department of the university of Wisconsin, and received the degree of LL. B. He is a successful lawyer of Prescott, Wis.; has been district attorney of his county, and takes a prominent part in the public affairs of his city, county and state.

FIELD, JOSEPH M., actor, dramatist, author, was born in 1810 in London, England. He was an actor and dramatist of St. Louis, and the author of The Drama in Pokerville, and Other Stories. He died Jan. 30, 1856, in Mobile, Ala.

FIELD, KATE, journalist, author, was born in 1854, in St. Louis, Mo. In 1890 she established a literary and critical journal at Washington, which she entitled Kate Field's Washington. She died in 1897.

FIELD, MARSHALL, merchant, was born in 1835, in Conway, Mass. His stone building is believed to be the largest wholesale store in the world. He recently gave $1,000,000 towards the great museum in the art building at the world's fair grounds, now known as the Field Columbian museum.

FIELD, MARTHA REINHARD CATHERINE COLE, journalist, was born May 25, 1855, in Lexington, Mo. In 1881 she became associated with the Picayune, and her Correspondence Club in that journal has attracted national attention.

FIELD, MARY KATHERINE KEMBLE, journalist, author, was born in 1838 in St. Louis, Mo. She was a journalist of Washington, and the author of Planchette's Diary; Ten Days in Spain; Pen Photographs of Dickens's Readings; Haphazard, Travel Sketches; History of Bell's Telephone; Adelaide Ristori, a Biography; and Life of Fechter.

FIELD, MATTHEW C., journalist, was born in 1812 in London, England. He was for several years one of the editors of the New Orleans Picayune, and contributed numerous articles in prose and verse to southern periodicals. He died in 1844, at sea.

FIELD, MAUNSELL BRADHURST, lawyer, author, was born in 1822 in New York. He was a lawyer of New York city, and in 1864 was second assistant secretary of the treasury. He was the author of Adrian (with G. P. R. James); Poems; and Memories of Many Men and Some Women, a volume of entertaining gossip. He died Jan. 24, 1875, in New York city.

FIELD, MOSES W., merchant, congressman, was born Feb. 10, 1828, in Watertown, N. Y. He was elected to the forty-third congress as a republican. In 1875 he presented to the city of Detroit a lot of forty acres of land for a public park.

FIELD, NATHANIEL, physician, was born Nov. 7, 1805, in Jefferson county, Ky. In 1829 he moved to Jeffersonville, Ind., where he practiced his profession until his death. In 1838-39 he was a member of the state legislature. He organized the city government of Jeffersonville, established several churches, serving as pastor for forty years without compensation. He was the author of numerous medical works and lectures. He died Aug. 28, 1888, in Jeffersonville, Ind.

FIELD, RICHARD STOCKTON, lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 30, 1803, in White Hill, N. J. He held a seat in the United States senate from that state, for a few months, in 1862-63 to fill a vacancy, and was then appointed judge of the district court of the United States for the district of New Jersey. He died May 25, 1870, in Princeton, N. J.

FIELD, SAMUEL, merchant, philanthropist, was born Aug. 12, 1823, in Delaware county, Pa. For many years he has belonged to the presbyterian board of education, and has taken a leading part in the establishment of the hospital under the management of that denomination.

FIELD, STEPHEN JOHNSON, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Nov. 4, 1816, in Haddam, Conn. He located in Marysville, Cal., in 1850, and was elected first alcalde of that city. He was elected to the second legislature, and was a member of the judiciary committee and framed the laws creating the judicial system of that state. From 1851 to 1857 he practiced his profession, and was then elected a judge of the supreme court for six years, from Jan. 1, 1858. A vacancy occurring on the bench, he was appointed judge to fill it on the 13th of October, 1857; became chief justice in 1859, and in 1863 was appointed to his present position.

FIELD, THOMAS WARREN, educator, author, was born in 1820 in Onondaga Hill, N. Y. He was an educator of Brooklyn who was superintendent of public schools there, 1873-81, and was the author of Pear Culture; Historic and Antiquarian Scenes in Brooklyn; and Essay Toward an Indian Bibliography. He died Nov. 25, 1881, in Onondaga Hill, N. Y.

FIELD, WALBRIDGE ABNER, lawyer, congressman, was born April 26, 1833, in Springfield, Vt. He was assistant United States attorney in Boston from 1865 to 1869; was then appointed assistant attorney-general of the United States, and resigned in 1870. He was elected a representative from Massachusetts to the forty-fifth congress, but his seat was successfully contested by Benjamin Dean. He was elected to the forty-sixth congress as a republican.

FIELD, WILLIAM HILDRETH, lawyer, author, was born April 16, 1843, in New York city. In 1863 he graduated from Union college, and two years later graduated from the Columbian college law school, with the degree of B. L. The same year he was admitted to the bar, and has attained success in the practice of law. He edited the ninth volume of Edmonds' Statutes, and has tried many cases in which his construction has settled the law of the state by the decision of the court of appeals. In 1887 he was president of the Xavier Union, which, under his administration, was transformed into the Catholic club of the City of New York.

FIELDER, GEORGE B., soldier, congressman, was born July 24, 1842, in Jersey City, N. J. He served in the civil war. He was elected register of the county of Hudson in 1884, and re-elected in 1889. He was elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

FIELDER, MRS. LIZZIE DAVIS, poet, was born Jan. 20, 1856, in Wytheville, Va. She is the author of a number of poems.

FIELDS, MRS. ANNIE ADAMS, author, poet, was born in 1834 in Massachusetts. She is a Boston literateur, and the author of Under the Olive, a volume of verse; The Singing Shepherd, and Other Poems; A Shelf of Old Books; Whittier, Notes of his Life and Friendships; Memoir of J. T. Fields; How to Help the Poor; and Authors and Friends.

FIELDS, JAMES THOMAS, publisher, author, poet, was born Dec. 31, 1817, in Portsmouth, N. H. He was a well-known publisher of Boston who edited the Atlantic Monthly in 1862-70; and was the author of Yesterdays with Authors; Underbrush, a collection of essays; and Ballads, and Other Verses. Reminiscences of his life were published in A Memoir by Mrs. Fields. He died April 24, 1881, in Boston, Mass.

FIELDS, WILLIAM C., merchant, congressman, was born Feb. 13, 1804, in New York city. He was sixteen years a justice of the peace in the town of Laurens, and subsequently supervisor of the town. In 1866 he was elected a representative from New York to the fortieth congress.

FIESTER, S. F., educator, poet, was born Jan. 17, 1855, in Williamsport, Pa. He received his education at the Williamsport high school, and the Iowa State Normal school. At the age of fifteen he entered educational work; was county superintendent for eight years in Waverly, Iowa, and is now a professor in Washington, D. C. He has traveled in every state of the Union, and across British America; has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press; and his poems have been incorporated in several standard works.

FILBERT, LUDWIG SPANG, physician, inventor, was born March 12, 1825, in Berks county, Pa. In 1871 he gave up the practice of medicine, and organized the Vulcanized Paving company of Philadelphia, of which he has since been president. He invented an artificial stone paving, that is recognized as the best known lining for the largest reservoir basin.

FILLMORE, JOHN COMFORT, musician, author, was born in 1843 in Connecticut. He was a musician of Milwaukee, and the author of History of Piano-Forte Music; New Lessons in Harmony; and Lessons in Musical History.

FILLMORE, MILLARD, thirteenth president of the United States, was born Jan. 7, 1800, in Cayuga county, N. Y. In 1829 he was elected to the New York assembly, and held the office three years. He was married to Abigail Powers in 1826. In 1832 he was elected to the national house of representatives. He was again elected in 1836, and re-elected in 1838-40. He was defeated for governor of New York in 1844. In 1847 he was elected comptroller of the state, and in 1848 was elected vice-president of the United States. Upon the death of President Taylor he became president, and took the oath of office July 10, 1850. At the expiration of his term, March 4, 1853, he returned to his home in Buffalo, and in 1856 was a candidate for the presidency, but was beaten. He died March 8, 1874. Fillmore held office sixteen years. He was economical, and died rich.

FILON, MICHAEL, banker, railroad president, was born March 3, 1820, in Auburn, N. Y. He was president of the Rochester and Lake Ontario railroad; mayor of Rochester in 1862-63, and in 1889 was elected president of the East Side Savings bank. He died July 14, 1893.

FILSON, JOHN, author, explorer, was born in 1747 in Chester county, Pa. He was an early explorer of the western country, and the author of The Discovery, Settlement and Present State of Kentucky; Map of Kentucky; and Topographical Description of the Western Territory.

FINCH, CHARLES J., farmer, legislator, was born Aug. 28, 1862, in Story county, Iowa. He was elected a member of the third state legislature of Wyoming in 1894, and received the re-election in 1896.

FINCH, FRANCIS MILES, jurist, author, poet, was born June 9, 1827, in Ithaca, N. Y. He was a New York jurist and dean of the law school of Cornell university since 1892. He has published a number of poems, among which Nathan Hale and The Blue and the Gray are well known.

FINCH, H. STANLEY, lawyer, jurist, was born July 24, 1853, in Stamford, Conn. In 1879 he was admitted to the bar, and has attained success in the practice of law in his native city. He has been justice of the peace, and since 1887 has been judge of the court of probate.

FINCH, ISAAC, state legislator, congressman, was born in New York. He was a member of the assembly of that state in 1822 and 1824, and was a representative in congress from New York from 1829 to 1831.

FINCK, HENRY THEOPHILUS, journalist, author, was born Sept. 22, 1854, in Bethel, Mo. He is a musical journalist of New York city, and the author of Wagner and Other Musicians; Romantic Love and Personal Beauty; Chopin, and Other Musical Essays; Lotus-Time in Japan; The Pacific Coast Scenic Tour; and Spain and Morocco.

FINDLAY, JAMES, soldier, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1775 in Franklin county, Pa. He was receiver of public moneys in Cincinnati district from the first establishment of land offices until 1824. He was colonel of the second Ohio volunteers in 1812, serving under General Hull at Detroit. He was a representative in congress from 1825 to 1833; and was candidate for governor in 1834. He died Dec. 28, 1835, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

FINDLAY, JOHN, congressman, was born in Franklin county, Pa. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania, from 1823 to 1827.

FINDLAY, JOHN KING, lawyer, jurist, author, was born May 12, 1803, in Mercersburg, Pa. He was recorder of Lancaster in 1841-45, judge of the Philadelphia district court in 1845-51, and president of the third judicial district of Pennsylvania in 1857-62. He published an enlarged edition of Archbold's Law of Nisi Prius in two volumes. He died Sept. 13, 1885, in Spring Lake, N. J.

FINDLAY, JOHN VAN LEAR, state legislator, was born Dec. 21, 1839, in Williamsport, Md. He was a representative in the state legislature in 1861 and 1862; and in 1866 was appointed collector of internal revenue at Baltimore. He was city solicitor from 1876 to 1878; and was the orator for Maryland at the centennial exposition in 1876. He was elected to the forty-eighth and forty-ninth congresses as a democrat.

FINDLAY, WILLIAM, governor, was born June 20, 1768, in Mercersburg, Pa. In 1807 he was chosen treasurer of Pennsylvania, and in 1817 became governor of that state.

FINDLEY, SAMUEL, clergyman, educator, author, was born Oct. 26, 1818, in West Middletown, Pa. He was an associate reformed clergyman and educator, and the author of Rambles Among the Insects.

FINDLEY, THOMAS MASKELL, educator, clergyman, college president, was born September 29, 1847, in West Mahoning, Pa. In 1883 he was appointed president of the university of southern Dakota, at Pierre, which he had founded and organized. In 1885 he became pastor of the Ninth Presbyterian church, St. Paul, Minn.

FINDLEY, WILLIAM, governor, United States senator, was born in Franklin county, Pa. He was governor of Pennsylvania from 1817 to 1820, and was a senator in congress from that state from 1821 to 1827. He died Nov. 14, 1846.

FINDLEY, WILLIAM, congressman, author, was born about 1758 in Ireland. He was a member of congress from Pennsylvania from 1791 to 1799 and from 1803 to 1817. He published a Review of the Funding System in 1794, and a History of the Insurrection of the Four Western Counties of Pennsylvania, in 1796. He died April 5, 1821, in Greensburg, Pa.

FINDLEY, WILLIAM THORNTON, clergyman, was born June 2, 1814, in West Middletown, Pa. He has held pastorates at Chillicothe, Springfield, and Xenia, Ohio, and Newark, N. J.; and in 1867-68 edited the Family Treasure, published in Cincinnati.

FINE, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, congressman, author, was born Aug. 26, 1784, in New York city. He settled in St. Lawrence county, N. Y., and was a judge in that county for eighteen years, from 1821 to 1839, and again in 1844. He was county treasurer from 1821 to 1833, and a state senator in 1848. He was a representative in congress from 1839 to 1841. He published a volume of law lectures. He died Jan. 4, 1867, in Ogdensburg.

FINERTY, JOHN F., journalist, congressman, was born Sept. 10, 1846, in Ireland. He settled in Chicago, Ill.; was field correspondent of the Chicago Times in four Indian wars, including the campaign against Sitting Bull in 1876, and the famous Sibley scout in the Big Horn Mountains. He was elected a representative from Illinois to the forty-eighth congress.

FINGER, MICHAEL SIDNEY MICHAEL, merchant, banker, state senator, was born in May, 1837, in Lincoln county, N. C. He is a successful merchant and banker of Newton, N. C. He has served as a member of the house of representatives, and in 1880 was elected for a second time to the state senate.

FINK, ALBERT, civil engineer, was born Oct. 27, 1827, in Frankfort-on-the-Main. He designed and supervised the building of the first important iron bridges in this country, that over the Monongahela river and the viaduct over Trey Run.

FINK, FREDERICK, artist, was born Dec. 18, 1817, in Little Falls, N. Y. He painted many excellent genre pictures, the most notable of which are The Artist's Studio; The Shipwrecked Mariner; and The Negro Wood-Sawyer. He died in 1849.

FINK, WILLIAM E., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born in 1822 in Ohio. He was elected to the senate of Ohio, and in 1852 was a member of the national convention which nominated General Scott for the presidency. In 1861 he was again elected a state senator. In 1862 he was chosen a representative from Ohio to the thirty-eighth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-ninth and the forty-third congresses.

FINKELNBURG, GUSTAVUS A., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born April 6, 1837, in Prussia. He served one year in the volunteer army during the rebellion. He was elected to the Missouri state legislature in 1864, and re-elected, and acted as speaker pro tem. In 1868 he was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-first congress, and was re-elected to the forty-second congress.

FINLEY, EBENEZER R., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 31, 1833, in Orrville, Ohio. He served in the union army as an officer during the war of the rebellion, and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a democrat.

FINLEY, H. F., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 18, 1833. He was elected to the state legislature in 1861-62. He was elected commonwealth's attorney in 1862 for six years, which office he resigned in 1866; was re-elected in 1867, and again in 1868 for six years. He was elected to the state senate in 1875; was appointed United States district attorney for Kentucky in 1876, and was elected judge of the fifteenth circuit in 1880, for six years. He was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

FINLEY, JAMES BRADLEY, clergyman, author, was born July 7, 1781, in North Carolina. He was a methodist clergyman of Ohio, and at one time chaplain in the state penitentiary. He was the author of History of the Wyandot Mission; Memorials of Prison Life; Sketches of Western Methodism; and Life Among the Indians. He died in 1856.

FINLEY, JESSE JOHNSON, soldier, state senator, congressman, was born Nov. 18, 1812, in Wilson county, Tenn. He was elected to the state senate of Arkansas in 1841. He removed to Memphis, Tenn., in 1842, and was elected mayor of Memphis in 1845. He removed to Marianna, Fla., in 1846, and was elected to the state senate of Florida in 1850. He was elected a presidential elector on the whig ticket in 1852, and was appointed judge of the western circuit of Florida in 1853, and was elected to the same office in 1855 and again in 1859. He was appointed judge of the confederate states court for the district of Florida in 1861. He resigned and volunteered as a private in the army of the confederate states in March, 1862, and was successively promoted to the rank of captain, colonel, and brigadier-general. He located at Lake City, Fla., in 1865, and resumed the practice of law; removed to Jacksonville, Fla., in 1871, and continued practice there, and was elected to the forty-fourth congress.

FINLEY, JOHN, soldier, Indian trader. He was a major in the continental army, and afterward became an Indian trader.

FINLEY, JOHN, journalist, author, poet, was born Jan. 11, 1797, in Brownsburg, Va. He was a journalist of Richmond, Ind., mayor of that town for a number of years. He was the author of The Hoosier's Nest and Other Poems. He died Dec. 23, 1866, in Richmond, Ind.

FINLEY, JOHN BARCLAY, legislator, banker, was born Nov. 17, 1845, in Philadelphia, Pa. During 1887-92 he was a member of the Pennsylvania legislature and resigned from that position in 1892. In 1887 he was a member of the revenue commission of Pennsylvania, and subsequently of the coast defence commission. He has been president of the Fifth National bank of Pittsburg, Pa.; an officer in a number of corporations, and is now president of the People's bank of Monongahela, Pa.

FINLEY, JOHN PARK, soldier, author, was born in 1854 in Michigan. He was a lieutenant in the signal service. He is the author of Tornadoes; Manual of Instruction in Optical Telegraphy; and Sailors' Handbook of Storm Track, Fog and Ice Charts of the North Atlantic and Gulf of Mexico.

FINLEY, MRS. MARTHA, author, was born April 26, 1828, in Chillicothe, Ohio. She is a voluminous writer of religious and moral tales for girls, including more than twenty Elsie Books; The Mildred Books; Casella; Wanted—a Pedigree; and others.

FINLEY, ROBERT, clergyman, college president, philanthropist, was born in 1772 in Princeton, N. J. He originated the plan of colonizing emancipated blacks in Africa, and was instrumental in framing the constitution, and in organizing the Colonization society. In 1817 he became president of Franklin college of Athens, Ga. He died Oct. 3, 1817, in Athens, Ga.

FINLEY, SAMUEL, college president, was born Nov. 3, 1723, in Summit Bridge, Del. He was ordained an evangelist in 1747. In 1758 he was elected president of the College of New Jersey. He died Feb. 4, 1761.

FINN, HENRY J., actor, was born in 1782 in New York city. In 1811 he appeared in Montreal, and thereafter played at other places, being in Savannah, Ga., in 1818-20. He died Jan. 13, 1840, on Long Island Sound.

FINNEY, CHARLES GRANDISON, clergyman, college president, author. He was a congregational clergyman famous during his earlier career as a revivalist. He was president of Oberlin college in 1852-66. He is the author of Lectures on Revivals; Systematic Theology; Lectures to Professing Christians; Character of Free Masonry; and Sermons on Gospel Themes.

FINNEY, DARWIN A., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born in 1814 in Shrewsbury, Vt. He was a member for several years of the assembly and senate of Pennsylvania, and in 1866 was elected a representative from that state to the fortieth congress. He died July 25, 1868, in Europe.

FINNEY, DAVID W., soldier, merchant, miner, miller, legislator, was born Aug. 22, 1839, in Parke county, Ind. He served in the army during the civil war, and was promoted from fifth corporal to first sergeant for meritorious service. He has been justice of the peace, and mayor of Neosho Falls, Kan.; a member of the Kansas legislature for one term; a member of the state senate for two terms; and lieutenant-governor for two terms. He was the elector nominated by the fourth congressional district on the McKinley and Hobart ticket. For many years he was engaged in the mercantile business and stock-raising; two years were spent in securing the right-of-way for the Santa Fe railway, and he is now engaged in the milling business.

FINNEY, FREDERICK NORTON, railroad president, was born in Boston, Mass. He is president of the Wisconsin Trust company.

FINNEY, THOMAS M., clergyman, journalist, author, was born July 13, 1827, in St. Louis, Mo. In 1876 he settled in St. Louis, where he has filled pastorates in the methodist episcopal churches. From 1869-72 he was editor of the St. Louis Christian Advocate. He is the author of a work entitled Life of Bishop E. M. Marvin.

FINOTTI, JOSEPH MARIA, clergyman, author, was born in 1817 in Italy. He was a Roman catholic clergyman who was in charge of a Colorado parish at the time of his death. He was the author of French Grammar; A Month of Mary; Life of Blessed Paul of the Cross; Italy in the Fifteenth Century; Diary of a Soldier; The French Zouave; Herman the Pianist; and The Spirit of St. Francis de Sales.

Bibliographia Catholica Americana, his most important work, was never completed. He died in 1879 in Denver, Col.

FIRM, JOSEPH L., inventor, was born March 19, 1837, in Williamsburg, N. Y. In 1859 he was engaged in the Frank Leslie publishing house, and since that date his connection with the house has been continuous. He is the inventor of a process of printing on glass from electrotype plates, in colors or otherwise.

FISCHER, ISRAEL F., lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 17, 1858, in New York city. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

FISH, FRED STARR, educator, lawyer, was born Feb. 23, 1860, in Litchfield, N. Y. He is a graduate of the Cornell university, and has had a successful career in educational work. In 1893 he was police justice at Richland Center, Wis., and was attorney for the St. Paul Railroad company at Spring Green, Wis. For several years he was engaged in business in Wisconsin with success; and has always taken an active part in the political affairs of that state. He studied law in Madison, Wis., and is now engaged in the practice of law in Milwaukee, Wis.

FISH, HAMILTON, soldier, lawyer, state senator, congressman, governor, was born Aug. 3, 1808, in New York city. For several years he was a commissioner of deeds for the city and county of New York; and in 1837 was elected to the state legislature. He was a representative in congress from 1843 to 1845, and in 1847 was elected to the state senate to fill a vacancy. He was governor of New York from 1848 to 1850, and was a senator in congress from 1851 to 1857. In 1869 he went into the cabinet of President Grant as secretary of state. He died Sept. 7, 1893, in Garrison, N. Y.

FISH, HENRY CLAY, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 27, 1820, in Halifax, Vt. He was a baptist clergyman of Newark, N. J., and the author of Primitive Piety Revived; The Price of Soul Liberty; Harry's Conversion; Harry's Conflicts; Handbook of Revivals; Bible Lands Illustrated, and several compilations.

FISH, MELANTHON WILLIAMS, physician, was born March 20, 1828, in Kortright, Del. He settled in Oakland, Cal., where he became in 1872 professor of physiology in the medical department of the university of California.

FISH, NICHOLAS, soldier, was born Aug. 28, 1758, in New York city. He was appointed adjutant-general of the state in 1786, and was a supervisor of the revenue under Washington in 1794. He died June 20, 1833, in New York city.

FISH, NICHOLAS, lawyer, diplomat, banker, was born Feb. 19, 1846, in New York city. He was charge d'affaires to the Swiss confederation in 1877-81, and United States minister to Belgium in 1882-86.

FISH, PRESERVED, shipping merchant, banker, was born July 3, 1766, in Portsmouth, R. I. He has attained prominence as a successful shipping merchant of New Bedford. He was elected president of the Tradesman's bank, and was a member of the chamber of commerce from 1801, serving until his death. He died July 23, 1846, in New York city.

FISH, STUYVESANT, railroad president, was born June 24, 1851, in New York city. In 1883 he was made second vice-president of the Illinois Central, becoming president in 1887. He is also president of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley railroad and other corporations affiliated with the Illinois Central.

FISHBACK, WILLIAM MEADE, lawyer, legislator, governor, was born Nov. 5, 1831, in Culpeper county, Va. He graduated from the university of Virginia, and soon obtained a good reputation as an able lawyer of Arkansas. He was a member of the Arkansas legislature during two constitutional conventions; was elected United States senator in 1864 by the union legislature, but declined to serve. In 1895 he was elected governor of Arkansas and served with distinction.

FISHBURN, WILLIAM, soldier, state legislator, was born in 1760. He was on the staff of Gen. Anthony Wayne, to whom he was aide-de-camp at the capture of Stony Point, and afterward attained the rank of major-general. He died Nov. 3, 1819, in Walterborough, S. C.

FISHER, ALEXANDER METCALF, educator, journalist, was born in 1794 in Franklin, Mass. He became professor of mathematics, natural philosophy and astronomy in Yale. He died April 22, 1822.

FISHER, ALVAN, artist, was born Aug. 9, 1792, in Needham, Mass. In 1814 he began as a portrait-painter, and soon afterward undertook barn-yard scenes, winter landscapes, and cattle-pieces. One of his best works is a portrait of Spurzheim, painted after death, from recollection, in 1832. He died Feb. 16, 1863, in Dedham, Mass.

FISHER, CARMON, poet. He has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press, and his poems have been incorporated in several standard collections.

FISHER, CHARLES, state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 20, 1789, in Rowan county, N. C. He commenced public life by going into the state senate in 1818; and in 1819 was elected to congress from North Carolina. In 1821 he was again elected to the state legislature, where he served almost continuously until 1836. From 1839 to 1841 he was again a representative in congress. He died May 7, 1849, in Hillsborough, Miss.

FISHER, CHARLES, actor, was born in 1816 in England. In 1872 he joined the company of Augustin Daly, playing Old Dorton and Falstaff as his first parts. He continued with this company until his retirement from the stage in 1890. He died June 11, 1891, in New York city.

FISHER, CHARLES HARRIS, physician, was born June 30, 1822, in Killingly, Conn. He served in the state senate in 1869-70 and 1877-79. He prepared the annual reports of the vital statistics of Rhode Island from 1878 to 1885, and those of the state board of health since 1879.

FISHER, DANIEL W., clergyman, college president, was born Jan. 17, 1838, in Arch Spring, Pa. He has filled pastorates in the presbyterian churches at Madison, Ind.; Wheeling, W. Va.; New Orleans, La.; and Allegheny City, Pa. Since 1879 he has been president of Hanover college.

FISHER, DAVID, clergyman, congressman, was born Dec. 3, 1794, in Somerset county, Pa. He was elected to the legislature of Ohio; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1847. He died May 7, 1886, near Mount Holly, Pa.

FISHER, EBENEZER, clergyman, college president, author, was born Feb. 6, 1815, in Charlotte, Maine. He was a universalist clergyman who was the first president of the theological seminary at Canton, N. Y. He is the author of The Christian Salvation. He died Feb. 21, 1879, in Canton, N. Y.

FISHER, GEORGE, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1829 to 1830; and a member of the New York assembly from Tioga county in 1835.

FISHER, GEORGE JUDSON, physician, author, was born Nov. 27, 1825, in North Castle, N. Y. He was a physician, for many years medical director at Sing Sing prison; and the author of Biographical Sketches of Distinguished Physicians of Westchester County, N. Y.; Animal Substances Employed as Medicines by the Ancients; and Diploteratology.

FISHER, GEORGE P., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 13, 1817, in Kent county, Del. In 1843 and 1844 he was elected to the Delaware house of representatives; in 1846 became secretary of state of Delaware; and in 1849 went into the state department at Washington as the confidential clerk of Secretary Clayton. In 1850 he was appointed by President Taylor a commissioner to settle claims against Brazil, which office expired in 1852. From 1857 to 1860 he held the position of attorney-general of the state of Delaware; and was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-seventh congress. He was subsequently appointed a judge of the supreme court for the District of Columbia, which position he resigned to accept that of district attorney.

FISHER, GEORGE PARK, educator, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 10, 1827, in Wrentham, Mass. He is a congregational clergyman, and has been professor of ecclesiastical history at Yale university since 1861. He is the author of The Supernatural Origin of Christianity: The Reformation; The Beginnings of Christianity; Faith and Rationalism; Discussions in History and Theology; Life of Benjamin Silliman; The Grounds of Theistic and Rationalistic Belief; History of the Christian Church; The Christian Religion; Manual of Natural Theology; Manual of Christian Evidences; Outlines of Universal History; Nature and Method of Revelation; and The Colonial Era.

FISHER, HENDRICK, congressman. He was a delegate from New Jersey to the colonial congress which met in New York in 1765.

FISHER, HORATIO G., state senator, congressman, was born April 21, 1838, in Huntingdon, Pa. He was a member of councils from 1862 to 1865; county auditor from 1865 to 1868; and burgess from 1874 to 1877. In 1876 he was elected a state senator for the term of four years; and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a republican.

FISHER, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, was born in Maryland. He settled in Delaware; and was appointed United States judge for that district in 1812 by President Madison.

FISHER, JOHN, manufacturer, congressman, was born March 13, 1806, in Londonderry, N. H. In 1856 he settled at Batavia, N. Y.; and was subsequently engaged as a state commissioner in erecting the buildings for the New York State Institution for the Blind, in Batavia. In 1868 he was elected a representative from New York to the forty-first congress.

FISHER, JOHN DIX, physician, author, was born in 1799. He aided in organizing the Perkins institution for the blind in Boston, Mass. He was the author of a Description of the Distinct, Confluent, and Inoculated Small-pox, Varioloid Disease, Cow-pox, and Chicken-pox. He died March 3, 1850.

FISHER, JOSEPH W., jurist, was born in Pennsylvania. In 1871 he was appointed United States chief justice of the supreme court for the territory of Wyoming.

FISHER, JOSHUA, physician, author, was born May 17, 1749, in Dedham, Mass. He was a zealous student of natural history, and bequeathed twenty thousand dollars to the Hanover university to found a professorship of that science. He was the author of a Discourse on Narcotics. He died March 21, 1833, in Beverly, Mass.

FISHER, JOSHUA FRANCIS, reformer, author, was born Feb. 17, 1807, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a municipal reformer of Philadelphia; and the author of The Degradation of Our Representative System and Its Reform; Reform of Municipal Elections; and Nomination of Candidates. He died Jan. 21, 1873, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FISHER, MICHAEL MONTGOMERY, educator, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 8, 1834, in Rockville, Ind. He is a presbyterian clergyman and educator, and has been professor of Latin at the university of Missouri since 1871. He is the author of The Three Pronunciations of Latin; and Education.

FISHER, NATHANIEL, clergyman, was born July 8, 1742, in Dedham, Mass. He was prominent in organizing the protestant episcopal church in New England. He died Dec. 20, 1812, in Salem, Mass.

FISHER, OSCAR L., clergyman, college president, was born Aug. 12, 1844, in Freeport, Ill. He has for many years been president of the Fort Worth university, Texas.

FISHER, REBECCA JANE GILLILAND, was born Aug. 31, 1832, in Philadelphia, Pa. She has been president of the following associations: Missionary, Church Aid, W. C. T. U., Literary, and the Ladies' Prohibition club of Austin, Texas, where she now resides, and is a highly honored member of society. She has also been president of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas for seven years; and a member of the Woman's State Press association, and other organizations. Her parents were killed by the Indians in 1839; herself and little brother were taken prisoners, but rescued in a few hours by the Texas rangers. In 1848 she became the wife of the Rev. O. Fisher, a noted author and clergyman of the methodist church. She has written extensively for current newspapers and magazines, and her writings have been described as prose poems.

FISHER, REDWOOD S., merchant, journalist, author, was born in 1782 in Philadelphia, Pa. He published several volumes on political economy and statistical subjects, one of which is The Progress of the United States of America from the Earliest Periods, Geographical, Statistical, and Historical. He also edited a Gazetteer of the United States. He died May 17, 1856, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FISHER, SAMUEL REED, clergyman, author, was born June 2, 1810, in Norristown, Pa. He was a German reformed clergyman of Chambersburg, Pa.; and the author of Exercises in the Heidelberg Catechism; The Rum Plague, a translation from Zschokke; The Family Assistant; and Heidelberg Catechism Simplified. He died June 5, 1881, in Tiffin, Ohio.

FISHER, SAMUEL SPARKS, soldier, lawyer, author, was born April 11, 1832, in St. Joseph county, Mich. He published six volumes of Reports of Cases Arising under Letters-Patent for Inventions in the Circuit Courts of the United States. He died Aug. 14, 1874, in Luzerne county, Pa.

FISHER, SAMUEL WARE, clergyman, college president, author, was born April 5, 1814, in Morristown, N. J. He was a presbyterian clergyman and educator, who was president of Hamilton college in 1858-67. He was the author of Three Great Temptations of Young Men; and Occasional Sermons and Addresses. He died Jan. 18, 1874, near Cincinnati, Ohio.

FISHER, SPENCER O., merchant, banker, congressman, was born Feb. 3, 1843, in Camden, Mich. He was mayor of West Bay City from 1881 to 1884. He was a delegate to the democratic national convention in 1884; and in the same year was elected a representative from Michigan to the forty-ninth congress, and was re-elected to the fiftieth congress.

FISHER, SIDNEY GEORGE, lawyer, author, was born Sept. 11, 1856, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is the author of The Making of Pennsylvania; The Evolution of the Constitution of the United States; The Men, Women and Manners in Colonial Times; and other works.

FISHER, THEODORE WELLES, educator, physician, author, was born May 29, 1837, in Westboro, Mass. He is a physician, and since 1881 has been clinical instructor in mental disease at Harvard university. He is the author of Plain Talks About Insanity.

FISHER, THOMAS, author, poet, was born Jan. 21, 1801, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a Philadelphia writer who published Dial of the Seasons; Song of the Sea Shells; and Mathematics Simplified and Made Attractive. He died Feb. 12, 1856, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FISHER, WILLIAM MARK, painter, was born Dec. 15, 1841, in Boston, Mass. He has painted landscapes from studies in the neighborhood of Paris, also genre paintings and cattle-pieces, including Noon; On the Cam; and The Meadows.

FISK, ARCHIE CAMPBELL, soldier, capitalist, was born Oct. 18, 1836, in Steuben county, N. Y. He served through the civil war, and received the rank of adjutant-general. He is president of the Denver Land and Improvement Co.; the Fisk Real Estate and Improvement company; and the Denver Circle Real Estate company in Denver, Colo.

FISK, CHARLES J., lawyer, jurist, was born March 11, 1862, in Whiteside county, Ill. This rising lawyer has served as judge of the district court of the first judicial district of North Dakota.

FISK, CLINTON BOWEN, lawyer, soldier, merchant, reformer, statesman, was born Dec. 8, 1828, in York, N. Y. He served with distinction through the civil war; was promoted brigadier-general in 1862, and brevetted major-general of volunteers in 1865. He actively aided in establishing the Fisk university of Nashville, Tenn., which was named for him. In 1886 he was the prohibition candidate for the governorship of New Jersey; and for sixteen years was president of the board of Indian commissioners. He died July 9, 1890, in New York city.

FISK, EZRA, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 10, 1785, in Shelburne, Mass. He became in 1813 pastor of the presbyterian church in Goshen, N. Y., where he remained twenty years. He published an oration, delivered at Williams college in 1825; a lecture on the Inability of Sinners. He died Dec. 5, 1833, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FISK, FIDELIA, missionary, author, was born May 1, 1816, in Shelburne, Mass. In 1843 she went to Persia as a missionary among the Nestorians, where she labored fifteen years, much of the time as teacher in a female seminary. She was the first principal of the seminary at Oroomiah. She published Memorial of Mount Holyoke Seminary, and Woman and Her Savior in Persia, and at the time of her death was engaged in writing Recollections of Mary Lyon. She died Aug. 9, 1864, in Shelburne, Mass.

FISK, GEORGE CLEMENT, manufacturer, was born March 4, 1831, in Hinsdale, N. H. He entered the office of T. W. Watson, car builder, as a bookkeeper; this firm was reorganized in 1862, and in 1871 he was elected president. He is president of two other companies, and proprietor of the Brightwood paper mills in New Hampshire.

FISK, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born about 1762. He was a representative in congress from Vermont from 1805 to 1809, and from 1811 to 1815, when he was appointed one of the judges of the supreme court of Vermont. He was a senator in congress during the years 1817 and 1818, and resigned; and in 1812 was appointed judge of the territory of Indiana, and in 1817 collector of the port of Alburg, which office he held eight years. He died Dec. 1, 1844, in Swanton, Vt.

FISK, JONATHAN, lawyer, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1809 to 1811, and again from 1813 to 1815, when he was appointed United States attorney for the southern district of New York.

FISK, PLINY, missionary, was born June 24, 1792, in Shelburne, Mass. After traveling extensively in Greece, Egypt, Palestine, and Syria, he joined, in 1825, the mission already established at Beirut, and died there of fever in the following October. He died Oct. 23, 1842, in Syria.

FISK, SAMUEL, soldier, clergyman, author, was born July 23, 1828, in Shelburne, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman who served as a soldier in the federal army, and was killed at the battle of the Wilderness. He is the author of Mr. Dunn Browne's Experiences in the Army. He died May 22, 1864, in Fredericksburg, Va.

FISK, WILBUR, clergyman, college president, lecturer, author, was born Aug. 31, 1792, in Brattleboro, Vt. He was a methodist clergyman once famous as a pulpit orator, and the first president of Wesleyan university in 1831-39. He was the author of Calvinistic Controversy; Travels in Europe; and Sermons on Universalism. He died Feb. 22, 1839, in Middletown, Conn.

FISKE, JOHN, naval officer, was born April 10, 1744, in Salem, Mass. He was master mariner during the revolutionary war, and fought in many conflicts. After the war he engaged in commerce; was made major-general of militia in 1792; and acquired fame and fortune. He died Sept. 28, 1797, in Salem, Mass.

FISKE, JOHN, philosopher, lecturer, author, was born March 30, 1842, in Hartford, Conn. He is a philosopher and historian of Cambridge, who has lectured extensively upon American history, and is a thinker of the school of Darwin and Spencer. He is the author of Myths and Myth-Makers; Outlines of Cosmic Philosophy; The Unseen World; Darwinism and Other Essays; Tobacco and Alcohol; Excursions of an Evolutionist; The Destiny of Man; The Idea of God as Affected by Modern Knowledge; American Political Ideas from the Standpoint of Universal History; The Critical Period of American History, 1783-89; The Beginnings of New England; Civil Government in the United States; The War of Independence, a work for young readers; The American Revolution; The Discovery of America; United States History for Schools; Life of Edward L. Youmans; and Virginia and Her Neighbors.

FISKE, LEWIS RANSOM, clergyman, educator and college president, was born Dec. 24, 1825, in Albion, Mich. He received his education at the Michigan university, from which institution he received the degrees of A. B. and A. M., and subsequently the degree of LL. D. The degree of D. D. was conferred by the Albion college. During 1875-77 he was editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate.

In 1850-53 he was professor of natural science at Albion college; in 1853-56 filled the same chair in the Michigan State Normal school; and during 1856-63 was professor of chemistry at the Michigan State Agricultural college. During 1863-77 he was pastor of churches in Jackson, Ann Arbor and Detroit; and since 1877 has been president of Albion college.

FISKE, NATHAN, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 9, 1733, in Weston, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of Brookfield, Mass., who was a prolific author of essays and addresses. Beside separate sermons, his published works include Sermons; and The Moral Monitor, a collection of essays once very popular as a school reader. He died Nov. 24, 1799, in Brookfield, Mass.

FISKE, NATHAN WELBY, educator, clergyman, author, was born April 17, 1798, in Weston, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman, and professor at Amherst college in 1824-47. He was the author of Manual of Classical Literature; Sermons; Young Peter's Tour Around the World; and Story of Aleck, or the History of Pitcairn's Island. He died May 27, 1847, in Jerusalem, Palestine.

FISKE, OLIVER, soldier, physician, author, was born Sept. 2, 1762. He served in the army during the revolutionary war. He began practice in Worcester, Mass., in 1790, and in 1803 was appointed special justice of the court of common pleas. He died in 1836 in Boston, Mass.

FITCH, ASA, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1811 to 1813.

FITCH, ASA, naturalist, agriculturist, author, was born Feb. 24, 1809, in Salem, N. Y. He was made New York state entomologist in 1854, and for many years published annual reports on insects injurious to vegetation. He died April 8, 1878, in Salem, Mass.

FITCH, ASHBEL PARMELEE, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 8, 1848, in Mooers, N. Y. He was admitted to the bar in November, 1869, and has since practiced his profession in New York city. He was elected to the fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses. In 1893 Mr. Fitch resigned his seat in congress, and was elected comptroller of the city of New York, serving in that capacity for four years.

FITCH, BENJAMIN, merchant, philanthropist, was born June 13, 1802, in New York. In 1866 he founded the Fitch home in Darien, Conn., for soldiers' orphans. He added a public hall and an art gallery, and also built a church in Darien. In 1881 he founded the Fitch institute, which was organized on the plan of the Cooper institute of New York city. He died Nov. 7, 1883, in New York city.

FITCH, CHARLES ELLIOTT, journalist, was born Dec. 3, 1835, in Syracuse, N. Y. In 1865 he became editor of The Syracuse Daily Standard; and in 1873 of The Daily Democrat and Chronicle. In 1890 he was appointed United States collector of internal revenue; has been a voluminous writer on many subjects; and is the author of numerous pamphlets.

FITCH, EBENEZER, educator, was born Sept. 26, 1756, in Norwich, Conn. In 1791 he became principal of Williamstown academy, and when this became Williams college, in June, 1793, he was elected its first president, an office which he held until 1815, when he resigned to become pastor of the presbyterian church in West Bloomfield, N. Y. He died March 21, 1833, in Bloomfield, N. Y.

FITCH, ELEAZAR THOMPSON, educator, lecturer, author, was born Jan. 1, 1791, in New Haven, Conn. For many years he was professor of divinity at Yale. He wrote theological reviews and other articles for periodicals, and a volume of his sermons was published in 1871. He died Jan. 31, 1871, in New Haven, Conn.

FITCH, ELIJAH, clergyman, author, poet, was born in 1745. He became a minister of the congregational church in Hopkinton in 1771, where he remained till his death. He was the author of The Beauties of Religion, a long poem addressed to youth; and also of a short poem entitled The Choice. He died Dec. 16, 1788, in Hopkinton, Mass.

FITCH, GRAHAM NEWELL, physician, congressman, United States senator, was born Dec. 5, 1809, in Le Roy, N. Y. He was a medical professor in the Rush Medical college at Chicago, Ill., from 1844 to 1849. In 1844, 1848, and 1856, he was chosen a presidential elector, and in 1836 and 1839 was elected to the legislature of Indiana. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1849 to 1853; and in 1857 was chosen a senator of the United States for the term ending in 1861.

FITCH, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 24, 1622, in England. He was pastor at Saybrook in 1646-60, and was afterward installed as the first minister of Norwich. He published First Principles of the Doctrine of Christ, and several sermons. He died Nov. 18, 1702, in Lebanon, Conn.

FITCH, JOHN, inventor, was born Jan. 21, 1743, in Windsor, Conn. He is said by authorities to be the originator of running vessels by steam as early as 1785. He died in 1798 in Bardstown, Ky.

FITCH, JOHN LEE, artist, was born June 25, 1836, in Hartford, Conn. He has achieved reputation as a painter of forest scenes, and is a close student of nature. His largest picture, In the Woods, was exhibited at Philadelphia in 1876. Among his other works are On Gill Brook; A Mountain Brook; The Outlet; Waiting for a Bite; A Stray Sunbeam; Cliff Side; Willows on the Croton; and Near Carmel, N. Y.

FITCH, LEROY, naval officer, was born in 1835 in Indiana. He served in the Mississippi squadron during the civil war, taking part in the capture of Forts Donelson and Pillow, the reduction of Island No. 10, and the victory over the confederate fleet at Memphis, Tenn. He died April 13, 1875, in Logansport, Ind.

FITCH, THOMAS, jurist, governor, was born in June, 1699, in Norwalk, Conn. He was chancellor, judge of the superior court, and chief justice of his state. His principles were loyal, and, notwithstanding the growing unpopularity of his opinions, he was elected governor in 1754, and held office till 1766. He died in July, 1774.

FITCH, THOMAS, merchant, journalist, congressman, was born Jan. 29, 1838, in New York city. He went to California in 1860, and became editor of the San Francisco Times; and also of the Placerville Republican. In 1862 he was elected to the state assembly. He removed to Nevada territory in 1863, and edited the Virginia Union; and in 1864 was elected to the first constitutional convention of Nevada. He subsequently settled in Washoe City and practiced law; and in 1865 was appointed a district attorney. In 1861 he settled in Belmont; and was elected a representative from Nevada to the forty-first congress as a republican.

FITCH, THOMAS DAVIS, physician, surgeon, author, lecturer, was born July 14, 1829, in Troy, Pa. He has been surgeon and lecturer on obstetrics in various Chicago hospitals, and was one of the originators in 1870 of the Woman's hospital medical college in the same city, in which institution he has filled the chair of gynecology.

FITCH, WILLIAM CLYDE, dramatist, author, was born in 1865. He is a dramatist of New York city, the author of Beau Brummell and other plays; The Knighting of the Twins, and Ten Other Tales; and Some Correspondence and Six Conversations.

FITHIAN, GEORGE W., lawyer, congressman, was born July 4, 1854, near Willow Hill, Ill. He was elected state's attorney of Jasper county in 1876, and was re-elected in 1880. He was elected to the fifty-first and fifty-second congresses and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat. He also served as railroad and warehouse commissioner of Illinois.

FITLER, EDWIN HENRY, manufacturer, mayor of Philadelphia, was born Dec. 2, 1825, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1859 he reorganized the concern under the name of Edwin H. Fitler and Co. The business steadily grew until, in 1880, the works were removed to Bridesburg and fitted with the newest appliances of the trade, and they now occupy fifteen acres of ground space.

FITTON, JAMES, clergyman, was born in 1803 in Boston, Mass. He was instrumental in establishing the college of the Holy Cross at Worcester, and the first Roman catholic newspaper. He died Sept. 15, 1881, in Boston, Mass.

FITTON, SAMUEL D., banker, was born June 21, 1846, in Hamilton, Ohio. After receiving his education, he entered the First National bank of Hamilton, Ohio. He held each successive position from messenger up to president, being elected to that responsible office in May, 1895.

FITTS, JAMES HARRIS, lawyer, banker, manufacturer, was born Oct. 12, 1830, near Jackson, Ala. He received his education at the university of Alabama. He became bank attorney of the Old State bank, a depository of the confederate state government. During 1865-68 he was trustee of the university of Alabama. He has been treasurer of the diocese, trustee and treasurer of the bishop's fund of the diocese of Alabama; and for the past quarter of a century has been treasurer of the university of Alabama. He organized and was president of the Tuscaloosa Cotton mills, which manufactured the first colored cotton plaids made in the south; and in 1865 he established the banking house of J. H. Fitts and Company.

FITTS, OLIVER, jurist. He was a citizen of Mississippi; and in 1810 was appointed United States judge for the territory of Mississippi.

FITZ, HENRY, telescope-maker, was born in 1808 in Newburyport, Mass. In 1835 he made his first reflecting telescope, and in the winter of 1844 invented a method of perfecting object-glasses for refracting telescopes, constructing the first one out of the bottom of an ordinary tumbler. He died Nov. 6, 1863, in New York city.

FITZGERALD, DAVID C., lawyer, orator, was born June 8, 1868, in Limerick, Ireland, where his ancestors have been prominent in national affairs since early in the fourteenth century. His education was completed in Oxford university, where he received the degrees of B. A. and LL. B. In 1890 he was admitted to the bar of New York, and subsequently to the bar of the United States. He has attained note as a successful lawyer, and has a large practice in Buffalo, N. Y. He is considered one of the best authorities on international law; and is prominent in the councils of the democratic party.

FITZGERALD, JOHN F., lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 11, 1865, in Boston, Mass. He was a member of the Boston common council of 1892; and was elected a member of the Massachusetts state senate in 1893 and 1894. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

FITZGERALD, LOUIS, soldier, merchant, was born May 31, 1838, in New York city. He entered the United States service as first lieutenant in the eleventh regiment New York volunteers, served throughout the war and attained the rank of brigadier-general. He was for several years president of the New York Mercantile Trust company, and is connected with a number of prominent corporations of that city.

FITZGERALD, MARCELLA A., poet, was born Feb. 23, 1845, in Canada. She is the author of Poems, a volume which contains her best productions.

FITZGERALD, OSCAR PENN, clergyman, bishop, author, was born Aug. 24, 1829, in Caswell county, N. C. This eminent clergyman has been superintendent of public instruction of the state of California; editor of the Christian Advocate of Nashville, Tenn.; and bishop of the methodist episcopal church south. He is the author of California Sketches; Centenary Cameos; Glimpses of Truth; Christian Growth; Life of McFerrin; Dr. Summers, A Life Study; Eminent Methodists; The Epworth Book; and other works.

FITZGERALD, THOMAS, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, was born April 10, 1796, in Germantown, N. Y. In 1848 and 1849 he was a senator in congress from Michigan under the appointment of the governor. He died March 25, 1855, in Niles, Mich.

FITZGERALD, THOMAS, journalist, dramatist, was born Dec. 22, 1819, in New York city. He began the publication of The Daily Item in 1852, and for the next forty years of his life his great energies were devoted to building up the interests of the paper in Philadelphia. He was a successful dramatist, his first play, Light at Last, being produced in 1868. He died June 25, 1891, in London, England.

FITZGERALD, THOMAS JOSEPH, lawyer, journalist, was born March 1, 1857, in Canada. He practiced law for five years in Chicago; and since 1887 has been engaged in journalism as Washington, D. C., correspondent, and writer for magazines and newspapers generally.

FITZGERALD, WILLIAM, jurist, congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1831 to 1833, and was a member of the committee on expenditures in the treasury department. He was also judge of the circuit court of Tennessee.

FITZHUGH, EDWARD HENRY, lawyer, jurist, was born Sept. 21, 1816, in Caroline county, Va. He removed to Richmond, Va., in 1861, and served in an important capacity in the quartermaster's department of the confederate army from 1861 till 1865.

FITZHUGH, GEORGE, lawyer, author, was born July 2, 1807, in Prince William, Va. He was a lawyer of Port Royal, Va.; and was the author of Sociology for the South; and Cannibals All, or Slaves without Masters. He died July 30, 1881, in Huntsville, Texas.

FITZHUGH, NICHOLAS, jurist, came of a Virginia family. In 1803 he was appointed a judge of the circuit court of the United States for the District of Columbia.

FITZHUGH, WILLIAM, congressman, was born in 1726 in Stafford county, Va. He was a delegate to the continental congress from 1779 to 1780. He died in 1809.

FITZHUGH, WILLIAM HENRY, philanthropist, author, was born March 8, 1792, in Chatham, Va. He was elected vice-president of the American colonization society, and took an active interest in it, supporting it both with voice and pen. In 1826 he published a series of essays in behalf of the cause, over the signature of Opimius, in the columns of the Richmond Inquirer. He died May 21, 1830, in Cambridge, Md.

FITZPATRICK, BENJAMIN, lawyer, jurist, governor, United States senator, was born June 30, 1802, in Greene county,

Ga. In 1841 he was elected governor of Alabama; and in 1843 was re-elected to the same position. In 1852 he was appointed a senator in congress to fill a vacancy; and in 1855 was elected to the same position for the term ending in 1861, and took part in the rebellion. He died in November, 1870, in Antonaga county, Ala.

FITZPATRICK, JOHN BERNARD, bishop, was born Nov. 1, 1812, in Boston, Mass. He erected one of the finest orphan asylums in America, a large reformatory, a hospital, and a college. He died Feb. 13, 1866, in Boston, Mass.

FITZPATRICK, T. Y., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 20, 1850, in Floyd county, Ky. He has filled the positions of county judge, county attorney, and representative in the state legislature; was democratic elector in 1884, and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

FITZPATRICK, THOMAS P., educator, lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born Feb. 11, 1827. He served four years as a member of the Virginia state senate soon after the war. In 1884 he was elected judge of the county court of Nelson county, and received the re-election in 1890 to the same office.

FITZ SIMONS, CHARLES, soldier, business man, was born Dec. 26, 1834, in New York city. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of brigadier-general. He is a successful business man of Chicago, Ill.

FITZSIMONS, THOMAS, congressman, was born in 1741 in Ireland. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1789 to 1795; and was a member of the legislature for many years. He was president of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce and of other local institutions. He died in August, 1811.

FLAGET, BENEDICT JOSEPH, bishop, was born Nov. 7, 1763, in France. In 1841 he was ordained Roman catholic bishop, Bardstown, Louisville, Ky. He died Feb. 11, 1850, in Nazareth, Ky.

FLAGG, EDMUND, lawyer, journalist, author, poet, was born Nov. 24, 1815, in Maine. He was a lawyer and journalist of St. Louis and elsewhere, living in West Salem, Va., in recent years. He was the author of Venice, the City of the Sea, a history, his most important work. Other writings of his include North Italy since 1849; Commercial Relations of the United States; Blanche of Artois; and Edmond Dantes, a sequel to Monte Cristo.

FLAGG, EDWARD OCTAVUS, clergyman, lecturer, poet, was born Dec. 18, 1824, in Georgetown, S. C. He is a grandson of Dr. Flagg, a surgeon in the war of the revolution; and the son of Henry C. Flagg, a lawyer and formerly mayor of New Haven, Conn. Previous to taking orders he studied law. After having pursued a course of civil engineering he entered Trinity college, then studied divinity; and at the age of twenty-five was ordained deacon. On being admitted to the priesthood, he became rector of Trinity church of Norwich, Conn., and while there established a church at Yantie. Dr. Flagg has been the founder of several parishes; was rector of the New York All Saints' church; and for six years was assistant of Grace church. For several years he was chaplain of the ninth regiment New York national guard. He has delivered a course of lectures on literature and history in New York and elsewhere. A collection of his poetical works was published in 1889; and six years later a second volume was issued, entitled Poems and Later Poems. He was made a doctor of law by St. John's college of Annapolis in 1898. He is the author of Rejoice for Liberty, a patriotic hymn.

FLAGG, GEORGE WHITING, artist, was born June 26, 1816, in New Haven, Conn. Among his pictures are Landing of the Pilgrims; Landing of the Atlantic Cable; and Columbus and the Egg.

FLAGG, HENRY COLLINS, lawyer, journalist, was born Jan. 5, 1792, near Charleston, S. C. He took an active part in politics, opposing the federalist party in Connecticut, both as a public speaker and as editor and proprietor of the Connecticut Herald. He died March 8, 1863, in New Haven, Conn.

FLAGG, ISAAC, educator, author, was born in 1843 in Massachusetts. He was a professor of Greek at Cornell university in 1871-88, and has been a professor at the university of California since 1891. He is the author of The Hellenic Oration of Demosthenes; Versicles; The Seven Against Thebes, of Eschylus; and Iphigenia among the Taurians, of Euripides.

FLAGG, JARED BRADLEY, clergyman, artist, author, was born June 16, 1820, in New Haven, Conn. He studied for a short time with his brother George, and subsequently with his uncle, Washington Allston. When but sixteen years old he exhibited in the National Academy of Design a portrait of his father which received favorable notice from the artists and art critics of the time.

He settled in Hartford, where he became prominent as a portrait painter. He was called to the rectorship of Grace church of Brooklyn Heights, where he remained eight years. In his later life, while still pursuing his art, he devoted a portion of his time to literary work, and in 1892 published his first book, The Life and Letters of Washington Allston.

FLAGG, JOHN FOSTER BREWSTER, physician, author, was born May 12, 1804, in Boston, Mass. He was a Philadelphia physician; and the author of Ether and Chloroform and Their Employment in Surgery, Dentistry, Midwifery, etc. He died Sept. 8, 1872, in West Chester, Pa.

FLAGG, RUFUS CUSHMAN, clergyman, educator, was born Aug. 3, 1846. This eminent educator and clergyman is well known as the president of Ripon college of Wisconsin.

FLAGG, WILLARD CUTTING, agriculturist, was born Sept. 16, 1829, in Moro, Ill. He became prominent in local politics, was collector of internal revenue for the twelfth district of Illinois in 1862-63, and a member of the state senate in 1869-73. He died March 30, 1878, in Moro, Ill.

FLAGG, WILSON, naturalist, author, was born Nov. 5, 1805, in Beverly, Mass. He was a naturalist of Cambridge; and the author of Studies in the Field and Forest; Woods and By-Ways of New England; Halcyon Days; A Year among the Trees; and A Year among the Birds. He died May 6, 1884, in North Cambridge, Mass.

FLAGLER, HENRY N., oil producer, refiner, was born about 1830 in Canandaigua, N. Y. When he was admitted to partnership in the oil refining firm of Rockefeller, Andrews and Flagler of that city, his future was assured. The Standard Oil Co. succeeded the firm to which Mr. Flagler belonged, and he has been prominently identified with its management since its organization.

FLAIG, ANDREW, merchant, banker, was born Aug. 24, 1852, in Germany. He was the first mayor of the city of Colby, Wis., where he has held high positions in the public affairs of his county and state. He is a successful merchant and banker, and interested in various business enterprises of his city.

FLANAGAN, JAMES WINRIGHT, lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born Sept. 5, 1805, in Albemarle, Va. He was a member of the state legislature in 1851 and 1852; and of the senate in 1855 and 1856. He was an elector in 1857; and a member of the state constitutional conventions of 1866 and 1868. He was elected to congress for the state at large in 1869; elected lieutenant-governor in 1869; and was elected to the United States senate for the term commencing in 1870, and ending in 1875.

FLANAGAN, WEBSTER, farmer, lawyer, legislator, was born Jan. 9, 1832, in Cloverport, Ky. In 1851 he was admitted to the bar; and at the beginning of the civil war was commissioned brigadier-general of volunteers in the confederate service. In 1865 he was appointed judge of the fifth judicial district of Texas. He was elected to the state constitutional convention in 1869; and two years later became lieutenant-governor of the state. In 1875 he served as a member of the Texas state senate. He has been a delegate to the republican conventions of 1872, 1880, 1884, 1888, 1892, and 1896. In 1890 he was candidate for governor of Texas; and in 1891 was appointed collector of customs for El Paso, which position he resigned in 1893. During 1876-80 he was president of the Henderson and Overton Railroad company.

FLANDERS, ALVIN, journalist, congressman, governor, was born in 1825 in Hopkinton, N. H. He took part in establishing the San Francisco Daily Times, with which he was connected until 1861. During that year he was elected to the state legislature; spent two years in the United States branch mint; and in 1862 was appointed register of the Humboldt Bay Land office, which office he resigned. He then removed to Washington territory, from which he was elected a delegate to the fortieth congress. In 1869 he was appointed governor of Washington territory.

FLANDERS, BENJAMIN FLANDERS, congressman, governor, was born Jan. 26, 1816, in Bristol, N. H. He became the editor of the Tropic newspaper of New Orleans; served as a member of the city government; was superintendent of a public school, and also of a railroad company. Towards the close of the year 1861 he was elected, under a new order of things, a representative from Louisiana to the thirty-seventh congress, taking his seat within a fortnight of its final adjournment; and in 1867 he was appointed, by military authority, governor of Louisiana. In 1870-73 he was mayor of New Orleans; and in 1873 was appointed United States treasurer of that city.

FLANDERS, HENRY, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 13, 1826, in Plainfield, N. H. He is a lawyer of Philadelphia; and the author of Maritime Law; The Law of Shipping; Lives of the United States Chief Justices (1858); Memoirs of Cumberland; Exposition of the United States Constitution; The Law of Fire Insurance; and Adventures of a Virginian.

FLANDRAU, THOMAS MACOMB, physician, was born July 8, 1826, in New York. He settled in Rome, N. Y., in 1853, making specialties of surgery.

FLANDRAW, CHARLES E., jurist, was born in New York. He removed to Minnesota territory. He was appointed an associate justice of the United States court for that district.

FLANNERY, JOHN, soldier, merchant, banker, was born Nov. 24, 1835, in Ireland. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of captain. He has been president of the Savannah Cotton exchange, and is president of the Southern bank of the state of Georgia. He is a leader in the cotton trade of the city of Savannah, Ga.

FLANNIGAN, HARRIS, legislator, governor. He was for many years a leading man in the state of Arkansas; a member of the last constitutional convention; and was elected governor of the state in 1873. He died Oct. 23, 1874, in Arkadelphia.

FLASH, HENRY LYNDEN, soldier, poet, was born Jan. 20, 1835, in Cincinnati, Ohio. In 1852 he graduated from the Western Military institute of Kentucky. He served in the confederate service during the civil war as a volunteer aide on the staffs of Gen. Hardee and Gen. Wheeler. At the close of the war he edited The Confederate of Macon, Ga. During 1866-86 he was engaged in business in New Orleans; and since 1887 has resided in Los Angeles, Cal. In 1860 he published a volume of poems; and has written extensively under the pen names of Lynden Eclair and Harry Flash.

FLAVIN, JOHN T., educator, was born Sept. 19, 1850, in Watertown, Wis. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools, and graduated from the Northwestern university. He has been county superintendent of schools of Dodge county, Wis., for a quarter of a century, without interruption, and is well known throughout the state as a successful educator. For seven years he has been president of the Wisconsin Teachers' Reading circle, and contributes extensively to current literature on educational topics.

FLEEGER, GEORGE W., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born March 13, 1839, in Butler county, Pa. He served in the union army as a lieutenant. He was a representative in the Pennsylvania legislature in 1871 and 1872; and in 1884, was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-ninth congress as a republican.

FLEET, THOMAS, printer, journalist, was born Sept. 8, 1685, in England. He was the father of the celebrated Mother Goose Melodies. He was the editor and proprietor of The Boston Evening Post from 1733, which was conducted until 1757 by himself and two sons. He died July 21, 1758, in Boston, Mass.

FLEISCHHAUER, ALFRED M., merchant, state legislator, was born March 31, 1867, in Canada. He is a successful merchant of Reed City, Minn.; and during 1897-98 served with distinction as a member of the Michigan house of representatives.

FLEISCHMANN, CHARLES, merchant, manufacturer, state senator, was born Nov. 3, 1834, in Hungary. He originated the extensive establishment which manufactures Fleischmann's compressed yeast; is interested in numerous other business enterprises; and is the president of the Market National bank. In 1880 he was elected a member of the Ohio state senate; and in 1895 was re-elected to the same office.

FLEMING, ANDREW MAGNUS, lawyer, author, was born April 2, 1858, in Plymouth, Mass. He is a prominent lawyer of Delaware county, Iowa, and is the author of Joe Bowers; Captain Kiddle Wreckleback's Hotel; and Gleanings of a Tyro Bard.

FLEMING, ARETAS BROOKS, lawyer, jurist, governor, was born Oct. 29, 1839, in Fairmont, W. Va. He was a member of the house of delegates of the West Virginia legislature in 1872, and again in 1875. During 1878-89 he was judge of the judicial circuit court of West Virginia. He was elected governor of West Virginia, his term of office to commence March 4, 1889, but he did not get the office until Feb. 6, 1890, owing to the noted gubernatorial contest for the office before the legislature in 1889 and 1890, wherein he was contestant and General Nathan Goff was contestee. He served with distinction as governor until March 4, 1893. He is one of the leading lawyers of the south, and is interested in extensive coal mines in the upper Monongahela Valley.

FLEMING, DAVID C., educator, public officer, was born March 22, 1855, in Huntington, Ind. He was a farmer and teacher until 1883 in his native state, and then emigrated to Colorado. He has been county superintendent of schools and has filled numerous other public offices in Sterling, Col.

FLEMING, FRANCIS P., soldier, governor, was born Sept. 28, 1841, in Panama, Fla. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of first lieutenant. He was elected governor of Florida in 1888, and was inaugurated in 1889.

FLEMING, JOHN, printer. He was one of the publishers of the Boston Chronicle in 1767, the first paper that was published twice a week in New England.

FLEMING, JOHN, lawyer, was born June 1, 1842, in Ireland. In 1883 he was appointed by Governor Cleveland as district attorney of Queens county, N. Y., and was then elected to the same office for three years. He was again appointed to that office in 1887 by Governor Hill; and was subsequently elected twice to that position. He is one of the foremost criminal lawyers in the state of New York.

FLEMING, LUCY WARD RANDOLPH, author, poet, was born in 1847 in Brooklyn, N. Y. She is the author of Alice Withrow; and Talks to Little Missionaries; and since her youth has contributed articles of interest on foreign missions, church work and domestic duties.

FLEMING, MRS. MAY AGNES EARLY, author, was born in 1840 in New Brunswick. She was a prolific author of sensational romances, some of which were issued under the pseudonym of Cousin May Carleton. Among them are Guy Earls-court's Wife; Lost for a Woman; and Pride and Passion. She died in 1880.

FLEMING, MAYBURY, dramatic critic. He is a dramatic critic, on the editorial staff of the New York Mail and Express.

FLEMING, THOMAS, soldier, was born in 1727, in Botetourt county, Va. He was a revolutionary soldier, and attained the rank of colonel. He died in August, 1776.

FLEMING, WILLIAM, jurist, congressman, was born in 1734. He became judge of the general court and presiding judge of the court of appeals; and served as a delegate from Virginia to the continental congress in 1779-81. He died February 2, 1824.

FLEMING, WILLIAM HENRY, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 18, 1836, in Augusta, Ga. He was elected superintendent of the public schools of Augusta and Richmond county, Ga., in 1877-80. He was elected to the state legislature from Richmond county in 1888, 1890, and 1892, and again elected in 1894, and was speaker of the house. He was elected president of the Georgia State Bar association in 1894, and at the annual meeting in 1895 delivered an address on the Ethics of the Bar in Relation to the State. He was chosen in 1895 grand commander of the Knights Templar for the state of Georgia, and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

FLEMING, WILLIAM MAYBURY, actor, was born Sept. 29, 1817, in Danbury, Conn. He became known chiefly for his personations of Romeo, Claude Melnotte, Edgar in King Lear, the Bastard in King John, Hamlet, Richelieu, Sir Giles Overreach, Sir Edward Mortimer, Mathias in The Bells, Rolla, Jack Cade, and a few special roles of poetic character. He died May 7, 1866, in New York.

FLEMING, WILLIAMINA PATON, astronomer, author, was born May 15, 1857, in Scotland. In 1879 she became connected with the Harvard college observatory. She is the author of a work entitled Annals of the Observatory.

FLENNIKER, ROBERT P., jurist, was born in Pennsylvania. He was appointed a justice of the United States court for the territory of Utah, residing at Salt Lake City.

FLETCHER, ALICE CUNNINGHAM, ethnologist, was born about 1845 in Boston, Mass. Under the care of the Woman's National Indian association, Miss Fletcher established a system by which small sums of money were lent to such Indians as wished to buy tracts of land and build houses. She has published numerous papers and monographs.

FLETCHER, ASAPH, physician, was born June 28, 1746, in Westford, Mass. He was elected in 1780 to the convention that framed the constitution of Massachusetts, and labored earnestly to introduce into that instrument the principle of absolute freedom of worship. He died Jan. 5, 1839, in Cavendish, Vt.

FLETCHER, AUSTIN BARCLAY, lawyer, was born March 13, 1852, in Mendon, Mass. He was treasurer and later president of the leading corporation in the wool and leather business in New York city.

FLETCHER, BENJAMIN. He was governor of New York, and lived in the seventeenth century.

FLETCHER, CHARLES, manufacturer, was born Nov. 20, 1840, in England. He has erected one building after another, until six large mills now stand upon the grounds of the Providence Worsted Mill company. Other industrial interests have been managed and promoted by him, including the Saranac, the National and the Fulton Worsted mills, and in 1886 he bought the Narragansett hotel, the principal public house in Providence.

FLETCHER, DUNCAN UPSHAW, lawyer, legislator, was born Jan. 6, 1859, in Sumter county, Ga. He is a successful lawyer of Jacksonville, Fla.; was president of the city council in 1889-91; mayor of that city in 1893-95; and in 1893 served with distinction as a member of the Florida state legislature.

FLETCHER, GEORGE HENRY, lawyer, legislator, was born Feb. 18, 1860, in Mankato, Minn. In 1881 he graduated from the university of Michigan with the degree of B. A.; and in 1883 was admitted to the practice of law in Minneapolis, Minn. During 1887-91 he was president of the Union League of Minneapolis; and in 1893 served with distinction as a member of the Minnesota house of representatives, and was chairman of the judiciary committee.

FLETCHER, GEORGE NICHOLS, lumberman, was born Dec. 13, 1813, in Ludlow, Vt. He is president of the International Sulphite Fiber and Paper company of Detroit, and of the Rumford Falls Power company of Maine. He is also working gold mines in Arizona.

FLETCHER, HORACE, clergyman, was born Oct. 28, 1796, in Cavendish, Vt. He was one of the most useful and respected ministers in his native state. He was chosen state senator in 1855. He died November 27, 1871.

FLETCHER, ISAAC, congressman. He was formerly a member of the Vermont legislature; was a member of congress from that state from 1837 to 1841. He died Oct. 19, 1842, in Lyndon, Vt.

FLETCHER, JAMES COOLEY, clergyman, author, was born in 1823 in Indianapolis, Ind. He is a presbyterian clergyman, missionary to Brazil in 1851-54, and author with D. P. Kidder of the once very popular work, Brazil and the Brazilians, which first appeared in 1857, and reached an eighth edition in 1868.

FLETCHER, JOSIAH MOODY, manufacturer, poet, was born Jan. 14, 1828, in Halifax, Mass. In 1843 he engaged in the bookselling and publishing business in Nashua, N. H.; and since 1854 has been engaged in the manufacture of furniture. He is president of the Fletcher and Webster Furniture company, and proprietor of the Nashua Novelty works. He is the editor of several gift books, and in 1890 published a volume of poems entitled A Thousand Songs of Life, Love, Home and Heaven.

FLETCHER, JULIA CONSTANCE (GEORGE FLEMING), author, was born in 1859. She is a novelist whose home is in Rome, and is the author of Kismet; The Head of Medusa; Mirage; Vestigia; Andromeda; The Truth About Clement Ker; and For Plain Women Only.

FLETCHER, LOREN, manufacturer, merchant, state senator, congressman, was born April 10, 1833, in Mount Vernon, Maine. He was elected to the state legislature in 1872 and re-elected seven times; the last three terms served as speaker, having been unanimously elected the last term. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress.

FLETCHER, MILES J., was born in 1828, in Indianapolis, Ind. In 1860 he was elected superintendent of public instruction for the state of Indiana.

FLETCHER, RICHARD, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 8, 1788, in Cavendish, Vt. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature; a representative in congress from 1837 to 1839, and judge of the supreme court of Massachusetts from 1848 to 1853. He died June 21, 1869, in Boston, Mass.

FLETCHER, ROBERT, anthropologist, author, was born in 1823, in England. He is an eminent anthropologist of Washington and the author of Paul Broca and the French School of Anthropology; Prehistoric Trephining and Cranial Amulets; Human Proportion in Art and Anthropometry; Some Recent Experiments in Serpent Venom; The New School of Criminal Anthropology; and Tattooing Among Civilized People.

FLETCHER, RYLAND, state senator, governor, was born Feb. 18, 1799, in Cavendish, Vt. He was governor of Vermont from 1856 to 1858; served in each branch of the legislature of Vermont; and was a presidential elector in 1864. He died Dec. 19, 1885, in Proctorsville, Vt.

FLETCHER, THOMAS, soldier, congressman. He was a member of the Kentucky legislature from Montgomery county in 1803, 1805, and 1806; and was a general in the war of 1812. He was a representative in congress from Kentucky in 1816 and 1817; and again a member of the legislature in 1817, 1820, 1821, and 1825.

FLETCHER, THOMAS CLEMENT, soldier, governor, was born Jan. 21, 1827, in Jefferson county, Mo. In 1865-69 he was governor of Missouri, and issued the proclamation abolishing slavery in that state.

FLETCHER, WILLIAM BALDWIN, physician, author, was born Aug. 18, 1837, in Indianapolis, Ind. He is a physician, and since 1883 has been superintendent of the Indiana Hospital for the Insane. He is the author of Cholera, Its Characteristics, History, etc.

FLETT, FLORENCE LILLIAN GILLETTE, dramatist, poet, was born Oct. 3, 1851, near Birmingham, Mich. She is the only child of Mrs. Lucia Fidelia Woolley Gillette, an eminent divine and poet. She received a thorough education in music and in languages; was a successful teacher; and attained success in the dramatic profession in England, the continent and the United States. After her marriage to Mr. George A. Flett of England, she retired to domestic life. In conjunction with her mother she has published a volume entitled Floating Leaves.

FLOCK, JAMES P., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 28, 1845, in Bakerstown, Pa. He was a member of the seventeenth general assembly of Iowa; and served as district attorney of the third judicial district of Iowa for six years. He was elected to the fifty-first congress, and re-elected to the fifty-second congress as a republican.

FLOCKINGER, DANIEL KRUMLER, clergyman, bishop, author, was born in 1824, in Sevenmile, Ohio. He is a clergyman belonging to the sect of united brethren, and since 1885 a foreign missionary bishop of that faith. He is the author of Off-hand Sketches of Men and Things in Western Africa; Ethiopia; and The Church's Marching Orders.

FLOCKINGER, SAMUEL JACOB, journalist, was born Feb. 14, 1848, near Millville, Ohio. For two years he was telegraph editor of the Dayton Journal; and in 1878 became a reporter on the Ohio State Journal of Columbus. In 1884 he assumed charge of that publication as managing editor, and his life work is shown in that journal. He is considered an authority on Ohio politics, and renders good service to the republican committees.

FLIESS, WILLIAM MAYNARD, capitalist, was born Sept. 7, 1833, in Prussia. He was one of the first capitalists to open mines in Utah. He is president of the California Mining and Water company; the Hollywood Distillery company; and of the St. Joseph and Kansas railroad.

FLINT, ABEL, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 6, 1765, in Windham, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman of Hartford, who published a Geometry and Trigonometry, with a Treatise on Surveying. He died March 7, 1825, in Hartford, Conn.

FLINT, ALBERT STOWELL, astronomer, was born Sept. 12, 1853, in Salem, Mass. He has been computer of the United States transit of Venus commission at Washington, D. C.; and is now assistant astronomer at the Washburn Observatory of the university of Wisconsin.

FLINT, AUSTIN, physician, author, was born Oct. 20, 1812, in Petersham, Mass. He was a distinguished physician of New York city who held professorships in several New York medical colleges, and was the author of Practice of Medicine; Continued Fever; Chronic Pleurisy; Dysentery; Physical Explanation and Diagnosis of Diseases of the Respiratory Organs; Diseases of the Heart; Essays on Conservative Medicine; Phthisis; Clinical Medicine; Manual of Auscultation and Percussion; Medical Ethics and Etiquette; and Medicine of the Future. He died March 13, 1886, in New York city.

FLINT, AUSTIN, physician, author, was born March 28, 1836, in Northampton, Mass. He is an eminent physician of New York city, connected with several hospitals and medical colleges, and is the author of Text-Book of Human Physiology; Manual of Chemical Examinations of Urine in Disease; Physiological Effects of Severe and Protracted Muscular Exercise; The Source of Muscular Power; and Physiology of Man.

FLINT, CHARLES LOUIS, author, was born May 8, 1824, in Middleton, Mass. He was secretary of the Massachusetts board of agriculture in 1853-81, and one of the founders of the Massachusetts Agricultural college. He is the author of The Agriculture of Massachusetts; Grass and Forage Plants; Milch Cows and Dairy Farming; and Manual of Agriculture.

FLINT, CHARLES RANLETT, merchant, was born Jan. 24, 1850, in Thomaston, Maine. In 1871 he organized the firm of Gilchrist, Flint and Company, ship-chandlers; and in 1872 established the firm of W. R. Grace and Company, transacting a general shipping and commission business with the west coast of South America, principally Peru. In 1876 he was appointed consul in New York for the republic of Chili; and in 1880 he became president of the United States Electric Lighting company. In 1876 he established a business in Peru; and in 1884 established a large rubber business on the Amazon. In 1885 he entered the firm of Flint and Company, composed of his father, Benjamin Flint; and his brother, Wallace Benjamin Flint; and of this firm he is now senior member. He is a director of several railroad and steamship companies, and of various financial institutions; and was recently elected one of the council of the university of the city of New York.

FLINT, DAVID BOARDMAN, merchant, was born May 1, 1816, in Troy, N. H. He is the founder of the well known firm of Flint and Hall, dealers in lumber. He built the Channing Chapel of Winter Harbor, Maine, and deeded it to the American Unitarian association.

FLINT, HENRY, educator, author, was born in 1675, in Dorchester, Mass. He was appointed a fellow of Harvard college in 1700, and in 1705-54 was a tutor there. He died Feb. 13, 1760.

FLINT, HENRY MARTYN, journalist, author, was born March 24, 1829, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a journalist of Chicago, and the author of Life of Stephen A. Douglas; History and Statistics of United States Railroads; and Mexico Under Maximilian. He died Dec. 12, 1868, in Camden, N. J.

FLINT, JACOB, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 7, 1767, in Reading, Mass. He published a history of Cohasset in the Massachusetts historical collection, and two discourses on the history of Cohasset. He died Oct. 11, 1835, in Marshfield, Mass.

FLINT, JOSHUA BARKER, educator, surgeon, author, was born Oct. 13, 1801, in Cohasset, Mass. He was a surgeon of Boston and subsequently of Louisville, where he was professor of surgery in the Kentucky school of medicine from 1849 till his death. He published The Practice of Medicine. He died March 19, 1864, in Louisville, Ky.

FLINT, MICAH P., lawyer, poet, was born in 1807, in Lunenburg, Mass. He was the author of The Hunter, and Other Poems. He died in 1830.

FLINT, TIMOTHY, clergyman, author, was born July 11, 1780, in Reading, Mass. He was a congregational clergyman of New England. His most important work in some respects, the Geography and History of the Mississippi Valley, materially advanced the settlement of that region. His other works include Recollections of Ten Years in the Valley of the Mississippi; Indian Wars in the West; Memoir of Daniel Boone; Lectures on Natural History, etc. Fiction: Francis Berrian; Arthur Clenning; George Mason; and The Shoshonee Valley. He died Aug. 16, 1840, in Salem, Mass.

FLINT, WALLACE BENJAMIN, shipping merchant, was born Oct. 10, 1863, in Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1888 he was admitted to partnership by his father in the firm of Flint and Co., commission merchants, of which he is yet a member. He has been the consul of Uruguay in New York.

FLIPPIN, MANLIUS T., lawyer, legislator, jurist, poet, was born July 29, 1841, in Monroe county, Ky. After receiving his education he taught school for eight years; and was admitted to the bar in 1865. He has served several sessions as a republican member of the Kentucky state legislature. In 1874 he was elected judge of the county court for four years; received the re-election in 1878, and again in 1886. He has practiced law with success at Tompkinsville, the county seat of his native county; and has held various positions of public trust in his county and state. He is the author of a volume entitled Poems and Addresses, published by the American Publishers' association of Chicago, Ill.; and has contributed extensively to current literature.

FLITCRAFT, ALLEN J., educator, journalist, author, was born May 14, 1854, in Woodstown, N. J. For many years he was engaged in educational work, and became superintendent of public schools of Doylestown, Pa. In 1878 he was made a special agent of the Provident Life and Trust company, and traveled in its interests throughout the eastern states. He has ever since been identified with insurance business, and in 1888 published a work on insurance which became very popular; and subsequently issued a valuable work entitled Life Insurance Manual, which has run through many editions; and he has since published other works on insurance lines. He is the editor and owner of The Life Insurance Courant, one of the leading publications of its kind.

FLOHR, GEORGE DANIEL, clergyman, was born in 1759, in Germany. He was licensed to preach by the synod of Pennsylvania, and immediately engaged in missionary service in southwestern Virginia. He died in 1826, in Wytheville, Va.

FLOOD, HENRY DELAWARE, lawyer, state senator, was born Sept. 2, 1865, in Appomattox, Va. He received the rudiments of his education in the schools of Appomattox and Richmond; and graduated from the Washington and Lee university, and the university of Virginia. In 1887-91 he served as a member of the Virginia house of delegates; and in 1891 was elected a member of the state senate; and subsequently was the democratic nominee for congress, but was defeated by a majority of only forty-eight. He has attained success as an able lawyer of his native city; and has served with distinction as commonwealth attorney of his county.

FLOOD, JAMES CLAIR, capitalist, was born in 1825, in Ireland. He made money by speculating in mining stock, and several years later formed a partnership with James G. Fair and John W. Mackay, who were then young miners. Flood and O'Brien agreed to furnish money for tools and outfit, while Fair and Mackay prospected in the Sierras. The result was the discovery of the Comstock lode, which made them four of the wealthiest men in the world. They subsequently established the Nevada bank in San Francisco. He died Feb. 21, 1888, in Germany.

FLOOD, THOMAS S., business man, congressman, was born April 12, 1844, in Lodi, N. Y. He was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

FLOOK, JACOB, clergyman, poet, was born April 18, 1855, in England. He has filled pastorates in the congregational churches at New Haven, Mich.; Atlanta, Ga.; Cambridge, Ill.; and Indianola, Neb. He is the author of a number of poems.

FLORENCE, ELIAS, congressman, was born in Virginia. He having taken up his residence in Ohio, was elected a representative in congress from 1843 to 1845.

FLORENCE, THOMAS BIRCH, journalist, congressman, was born Jan. 26, 1812, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1850 he was elected to congress, where he served continuously until 1861. He established and edited, in Washington, a Sunday paper called the Gazette. He died July 3, 1875, in Washington, D. C.

FLORENCE, WILLIAM JERMYN, actor, was born July 26, 1831, in Albany, N. Y. He made his first appearance in Richmond in 1849, as Peter in The Stranger, and soon acquired distinction as a versatile comic actor. He died Nov. 19, 1891, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FLOURNOY, THOMAS STANHOPE, soldier, congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849; and participated in the great rebellion. He died March 13, 1883, in Pittsylvania county, Va.

FLOWER, BENJAMIN ORANGE, journalist, author, was born in 1859, in Illinois. He is the author of Civilization's Inferno, or Studies in the Social Cellar; Lessons Learned from Other Lives; The New Time; Persons, Places and Ideas; The Century of Sir Thomas More; and Gerald Massey, Poet, Prophet, and Mystic.

FLOWER, FRANK ABIAL, curator, author, was born May 11, 1854, in Cottage, N. Y. He is a Wisconsin statistician, curator of the state historical society, and the author of Old Abe, the Wisconsin War Eagle; Life of Matthew H. Carpenter; and History of the Republican Party.

FLOWER, GEORGE, pioneer, was born about 1780, in England. He founded the city of Albion; and built the first building, of the log cabin order, being a tavern and blacksmith shop combined. He died Jan. 15, 1862, in Grayville, Ill.

FLOWER, ROSWELL PETTABONE, merchant, congressman, was born Aug. 7, 1835, in Theresa, N. Y. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-seventh congress to fill a vacancy; declined a renomination. He gave fifty thousand dollars to the St. Thomas Home of New York city.

FLOWERS, SAMUEL BRYCE, soldier, physician, was born Oct. 31, 1835, in Wayne county, S. C. He served as surgeon in the confederate army during the civil war. He has contributed to the Philadelphia Medical and Surgical Reports, and to the Virginia Medical Monthly.

FLOY, JAMES, clergyman, botanist, author, was born Aug. 20, 1806, in New York city. He was a methodist clergyman of New York city; prominent as a botanist and as an anti-slavery leader, and the author of Guide to the Orchard and Fruit Garden; Occasional Sermons, etc.; and Literary Remains. He died Oct. 14, 1863, in New York city.

FLOYD, ARCHIBALD CAMPBELL, journalist, was born Nov. 16, 1857, in Granville county, N. C. He is the editor of the Daily News of Chattanooga, Tenn.

FLOYD, CHARLES A., congressman, was born in New York. He served in the assembly of that state in 1836 and 1838; and was a representative in congress from 1841 to 1843.

FLOYD, DAVID RICHARD FLOYD-JONES, lawyer, state senator, lieutenant-governor, was born in 1813. He was a member of assembly for New York in 1841, 1843, and in 1857; state senator in 1844-47; and lieutenant-governor of New York in 1863-64. He died Jan. 8, 1871.

FLOYD, ESCAR, lawyer, was born July 22, 1873, in Pittsburg. He received his education in the common schools, Bellview academy, and the university of Virginia. He has attained success as an able lawyer of Birmingham, Ala., where he takes a prominent part in the public affairs of his county and state.

FLOYD, JOHN, soldier, congressman, was born Oct. 3, 1769, in Beaufort, S. C. He was brigadier-general of militia from 1813-14; and subsequently major-general. He served several terms in the state legislature; and was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1827 to 1829. He died June 24, 1839, in Camden county, Ga.

FLOYD, JOHN, congressman, governor, was born in 1770, in Jefferson county, Va. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1817 to 1829; served many years in the legislature of that state; and was governor of Virginia from 1829 to 1834. He died Aug. 16, 1837, in Sweet Springs, Va.

FLOYD, JOHN B., soldier, state legislator, governor, was born June 1, 1807, in Blacksburg, Va. From 1847 to 1849 he served in the Virginia legislature; and was governor of Virginia from 1849 to 1852. He was secretary of war in the administration of President Buchanan. He was one of the first to join the rebellion, in which he took a leading part as a brigadier-general. He died Aug. 26, 1863, in Abingdon, Va.

FLOYD, JOHN G., congressman, was born in New York. He served in the assembly of that state; and was a representative in congress from New York from 1839 to 1843, and from 1851 to 1853.

FLOYD, RICHARD, colonist, was born about 1620, in Wales. He was the first of the Floyd family on Long Island, and a man of intelligence and vigor. He died about 1690, in Setauket, N. Y.

FLOYD, RICHARD, soldier, jurist, was born May 12, 1661, in Setauket, N. Y. He was appointed judge of the common pleas in 1723, and was also colonel of the militia of Suffolk county. He died Feb. 28, 1737, in Setauket, N. Y.

FLOYD, RICHARD, legislator, was born Dec. 29, 1703. He served in the state legislature in 1847-49 and 1853, and was governor of Virginia in 1850-53.

FLOYD, RICHARD, jurist, was born in 1736. He was judge of the common pleas in 1764, and colonel of the militia of Suffolk county. He died June 30, 1791, in New Brunswick, Maine.

FLOYD, WILLIAM, congressman, was born Dec. 17, 1734, in Brookhaven, N. Y. He was a delegate to the continental congress from 1774 to 1783, and signed the Declaration of Independence. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1789 to 1791; and was for three years a member of the New York state senate. He died Aug. 4, 1821, in Oneida county, N. Y.

FLUGLER, THOMAS T., congressman, was born in New York. He served in the assembly of that state in 1842 and 1843; and was a representative in congress from 1853 to 1857.

FLUSSER, CHARLES W., naval officer, was born in 1833, in Annapolis, Md. In 1847 he was a midshipman; and in 1861 took command of the gunboat Commodore Perry. He subsequently took part in the shelling of Franklin, Va. He was killed April 18, 1864, in a naval engagement near Plymouth, N. C.

FLYE, EDWIN, merchant, congressman, was born March 4, 1817, in New-castle, Maine. He was a member of the state house of representatives in 1858; and was elected a representative from Maine to the forty-fourth congress, to fill a vacancy.

FLYNN, DENNIS T., journalist, congressman, was born Feb. 13, 1862, in Phoenixville, Pa. He removed to Oklahoma territory in 1889, and was commissioned postmaster of the city of Guthrie, which position he still held when elected a delegate to the fifty-third congress. He was re-elected to the fifty-fourth congress as a republican.

FLYNN, PATRICK, soldier, business man, was born May 11, 1834, in Ireland. In 1844 he emigrated to America; received his education in the Buffalo schools, and removed to Rockford, Ill., in 1859. In 1861-62 he recruited and raised two full companies for the nineteenth regiment Illinois volunteer infantry. He was the original captain of the Mulligan guards; served under General Sherman; and was severely wounded at the battle of Ezra's Church, near Atlanta, in 1854; and was promoted to major. He has served as sheriff of Winnebago county, Ill., for two terms; and for twenty-eight years has been connected with the Rockford Insurance company.

FOBES, PEREZ, educator, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 21, 1752, in Bridgewater, Mass. He was the author of Topographical Description of Raynham, Mass.; and other historical works. He died Feb. 23, 1812, in Bridgewater, Mass.

FOBES, PHILENA, educator, was born Sept. 10, 1811, in Onondaga county, N. Y. In 1843 she was chosen principal of Monticello seminary, holding that position until 1866.

FOGG, GEORGE G., lawyer, diplomat, United States senator, was born May 26, 1815, in Meredith, N. H. In 1846 he was elected to the state legislature, and soon afterwards secretary of state, when he became editor of the Independent Democrat. In 1861 he was appointed minister resident to Switzerland, returning in November, 1865; and in 1866 was appointed a senator in congress from New Hampshire, to fill a vacancy. He died Oct. 5, 1881, in Concord, N. H.

FOGO, WILLIAM, soldier, journalist, state legislator, was born June 18, 1841, in Columbiana county, Ohio. He served as a soldier during the civil war. After the war he resumed newspaper work, and is now one of the veteran editors of Wisconsin. He has also served as a member of the Wisconsin state legislature.

FOLEY, JAMES B., congressman, was born in Kentucky. Having taken up his residence in Indiana, he was elected a representative in congress from that state in 1827.

FOLEY, JOHN SAMUEL, Roman catholic bishop, was born Nov. 5, 1833, in Baltimore, Md. He was commissioned by Archbishop Spalding to establish a new congregation in the western part of Baltimore, and built for it the church of St. Martin, one of the finest in the city, also taking an active interest in educational matters.

FOLEY, MARGARET E., sculptor, was born in New Hampshire. She made portrait busts of S. C. Hall, Charles Sumner, and Theodore Parker. She executed cameo work, medallions of William and Mary Howitt, Longfellow, Bryant; and ideal statues of Cleopatra, Excelsior, and Jeremiah. She died in 1877, in Austria.

FOLEY, STEPHEN A., lawyer, jurist, banker, was born Aug. 27, 1840, in Logan county, Ill. For nine years he was county judge, and a resident at Lincoln, which is the county seat; he declined office thereafter, and has since operated in land with success. The Lincoln National bank is managed by him as president, and the stocks of local gas and electric light companies.

FOLEY, THOMAS, Roman catholic bishop, was born in 1823, in Baltimore, Md. After 1848 he was chancellor of the archdiocese of Baltimore; in 1867 he was appointed vicar-general, and subsequently of the diocese of Chicago, Ill. He died in 1879, in Baltimore, Md.

FOLGER, CHARLES JAMES, lawyer, jurist, was born April 16, 1818, in Nantucket, Mass. In 1844 he was appointed first judge of the court of common pleas of Ontario county; and was elected county judge of Ontario county in 1841. He was elected a state senator in 1861, and was four times re-elected. He resigned in 1869 and was appointed United States assistant treasurer at New York city. He was elected associate judge of the state court of appeals in 1870, and served until 1880; was then chief judge of that court; and resigned in 1881 on being appointed secretary of the United States treasury. He died Sept. 4, 1884, in Geneva, N. Y.

FOLGER, PETER, author, was born in 1617, in England. He settled successively at Watertown, Martha's Vineyard, and in 1663 at Nantucket. He is remembered as the author of A Looking-Glass for the Times, a ballad. He died in 1690, in Nantucket, Mass.

FOLGER, WALTER, state senator, congressman, was born June 12, 1765, in Nantucket, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts senate from 1809 to 1815, and also in 1822; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1817 to 1821. He died Sept. 8, 1849.

FOLLEN, CHARLES THEODORE CHRISTIAN, educator, author, was born Sept. 4, 1796, in Germany. He was a German scholar who came to America in 1824. He was German instructor at Harvard university in 1830-34, but lost his position on account of his anti-slavery opinions, and in 1836 was ordained as a unitarian clergyman. He published a German Reader; and Practical German Grammar. He died Jan. 13, 1840, in Long Island Sound.

FOLLEN, MRS. ELIZA LEE CABOT, author, was born Aug. 1, 1787, in Boston, Mass. She was a popular author for many years, and the author of Sketches of Married Life; Twilight Stories, a volume of excellent juvenile tales. The Well-spent Hour; The Skeptic; Poems; To Mothers in the Free States; Anti-Slavery Hymns and Songs; Home Dramas; Little Songs for Little People; and The Old Garret Stories. She died Jan. 26, 1860, in Brookline, Mass.

FOLLETT, DAVID LYMAN, lawyer, jurist, was born July 17, 1836, in Sherburne, N. Y. In 1874 he was elected a justice of the supreme court; and has been chief judge of the court of appeals of the state of New York.

FOLLETT, JOHN F., lawyer, congressman, was born in Franklin county, Vt. He was elected a representative in the Ohio state legislature in 1865, and re-elected in 1868. In the latter year he was nominated for the speakership by acclamation, and was elected. He removed to Cincinnati the same year, continuing the practice of his profession; and in 1882 was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-eighth congress.

He was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-eighth congress.

FOLSOM, ABBY, reformer, author, was born about 1792, in England. She came to the United States about 1837, became noted as an advocate of anti-slavery reform, and published a Letter from a Member of the Boston Bar to an Avaricious Landlord. She died in 1867, in Rochester, N. Y.

FOLSOM, CHARLES, scholar, was born Dec. 24, 1794, in Exeter, N. H. He became chaplain in the United States navy, and midshipman's teacher of mathematics on the ship Washington in 1816. He was charge d'affaires in Tunis in 1817-19. He died Nov. 8, 1872, in Cambridge, Mass.

FOLSOM, CHARLES FOLLEN, physician, educator, author, was born April 3, 1842, in Haverhill, Mass. He is a physician of Boston, and a professor in the Harvard Medical school in 1877-85. He is the author of Mental Diseases; and Present Aspect of the Sewage Question Applied to Boston.

FOLSOM, GEORGE, state senator, diplomat, author, was born May 23, 1802, in Kennebunk, Maine. He was an antiquarian writer of New York city; and in 1844 was a member of the state senate. He was the author of Sketches of Saco and Biddeford, Maine; Dutch Annals of New York; Letters and Dispatches of Cortes, translated from the Spanish; and Political Condition of Mexico. He died March 27, 1869, in Rome, Italy.

FOLSOM, JOSEPH L., soldier, was born May 19, 1817, in Meredith, N. H. He was one of the first to appreciate the discovery of gold in California and to impart the news officially to the government. Folsom City, on the American river, near the locality where gold was discovered, was named for him. He died July 19, 1855, in San Jose, Cal.

FOLSOM, MRS. L. A., poet, was born July 23, 1844, in Milford, Maine. She is the author of a number of poems, and is engaged as a writer for various newspapers.

FOLSOM, MONTGOMERY M., journalist, poet, was born Jan. 31, 1857, in Hahira, Ga. He was employed on the Atlanta Constitution, and is now on its editorial staff. In 1888 he published Scraps of Song and Southern Scenes, a collection of poems and sketches.

FOLSOM, NATHANIEL, soldier, congressman, was born in 1726, in Exeter, N. H. He was a brigadier-general during the siege of Boston in 1775. He was a delegate to the continental congress in 1774-80; was a councilor in 1778; and was president of the convention which framed the constitution of New Hampshire in 1783. He died May 26, 1790, in Exeter, N. H.

FOLSOM, NATHANIEL SMITH, clergyman, author, was born March 12, 1806, in Portsmouth, N. H. He has contributed to current literature, and published Critical and Historical Interpretation of the Prophecies of Daniel, and other works.

FOLSOM, MRS. SUSANNAH SARAH, author, poet. She edited volumes thirteen and fourteen of the Child's Friend, and wrote an Ode for Ladies Fair. She also contributed to Miss A. W. Abbot's Autumn Leaves, and to Arthur Gilman's The Cambridge of 1776.

FOLTZ, MRS. CLARA SHORTRIDGE, lawyer, lecturer, was born July 16, 1849, in Henry county, Ind. She went before the California legislature of 1877-78, and secured the passage of an act permitting women to practice law, and was the first to take advantage of it.

FOLTZ, JONATHAN MESSERSMITH, surgeon, was born April 25, 1810, in Lancaster, Pa. In 1870-71 he was president of the naval medical board. He became medical director in 1871, and chief of the bureau of medicine and surgery, with the rank of commodore. He died April 12, 1877, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FOLTZ, SAMUEL, merchant, was born Sept. 18, 1859, in Hillsdale, Mich. In 1888 he opened branch stores in Otsego and Schoolcraft, Mich.; but in 1892 he consolidated his three stores, and established the largest clothing house in Kalamazoo county.

FOLWELL, WILLIAM WATTS, educator, author, was born Feb. 14, 1833, in Romulus, N. Y. He is an educator of Minnesota, and the author of Public Instruction in Minnesota; and Lectures on Political Economy.

FONERDEN, JOHN, physician, educator, was born in 1804, in Baltimore, Md. He was professor of obstetrics in Washington university of Baltimore in 1845-46; and resident physician of the Maryland hospital for the insane from 1846 till his death. He died May 6, 1869, in New York city.

FONES, DANIEL GILBERT, merchant, banker, was born Aug. 19, 1837, in Decatur, Ga. Upon the outbreak of the civil war he entered the confederate service. After the war he resumed business at Little Rock, Ark., under the firm name of Fones Brothers Hardware company. He is also president of the German National bank.

FONES, JAMES A., merchant, was born Nov. 6, 1839, in Decatur, Ga. He was president of the Little Rock Electric Light company; and for thirty years was prominently connected with the business affairs of Little Rock.

FONTAINE, EDWARD, clergyman, author, was born in 1814, in Virginia. He was an episcopal clergyman of Mississippi, and the author of How the World Was Peopled, a series of ethnological lectures. He died in 1884.

FONTAINE, FRANCIS, author. He was the author of The Exile; and Etowah, a Romance of the Confederacy.

FOOT, SAMUEL ALFRED, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Dec. 17, 1790, in Watertown, N. Y. He was district attorney for Albany county in 1819-21. He was judge of the court of appeals in 1851, and in 1856-57 served two terms in the legislature, where he introduced resolutions condemning the Dred Scott decision. He died May 11, 1878, in Geneva, N. Y.

FOOT, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS, lawyer, congressman, governor, was born Nov. 8, 1780, in Cheshire, Conn. He was chosen a representative in congress from Connecticut in 1819, 1823, and 1833; was speaker of the Connecticut house of representatives in 1825 and 1826; and was a senator in congress from 1827 to 1833. In 1834 he was elected governor of the state. He died Sept. 16, 1846.

FOOT, SOLOMON, educator, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Nov. 19, 1802, in Cornwall, Vt. He was a member of the Vermont legislature in 1833, 1836, 1837, 1838, and 1847; and was speaker of the house during his last three terms. He was a representative in congress from 1843 to 1847, and was elected a senator in congress from Vermont for the term 1851-57. He was re-elected for the term ending in 1863; also for a third term ending in 1869. He died March 28, 1866, in Washington.

FOOTE, ANDREW HULL, naval officer, author, was born Sept. 12, 1806, in New Haven, Conn. His father was Samuel Augustus Foote, known in United States political history as the mover of Foote's resolutions. In 1858 he was placed in command of the Brooklyn navy yard; in 1862 was made rear admiral; and received the surrender of Island No. 10. He was the author of Africa and the American Flag. He died June 6, 1863, in New York city.

FOOTE, ARTHUR WILLIAM, musician, was born March 5, 1853, in Salem, Mass. His published works include about twenty compositions for the piano-forte, songs, vocal quartettes, three pieces for violoncello and piano-forte, three pieces for violin and piano-forte, a string quartette, a trio for piano-forte, violin and violoncello.

FOOTE, CHARLES A., congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1823 to 1825. He died Aug. 1, 1828, in Delaware county.

FOOTE, EDWARD BLISS, physician, journalist, author, was born Feb. 20, 1829, in Cleveland, Ohio. In his practice he has made a specialty of chronic diseases. He is editor of Dr. Foote's Health Monthly; and is the author of Medical Common Sense; and Science in Story.

FOOTE, EDWARD BOND, physician, inventor, journalist, author, was born Aug. 15, 1854, in Cleveland, Ohio. He invented and patented a wonder camera, which has become widely known under the name of polyopticon.

FOOTE, ELIAL TODD, physician, legislator, jurist, was born May 1, 1796, in Gill, Mass. He was a member of the New York legislature in 1820 and in 1826-27; associate judge of common pleas in 1818-23, and in the latter year became first judge of Chautanqua county, holding the office till 1843, when he retired. He died Nov. 17, 1877, in New Haven, Conn.

FOOTE, ELISHA, lawyer, jurist, inventor, was born Aug. 1, 1809, in Lee, Mass. In 1864 he was appointed to the board of appeals at the United States patent office, and in 1868-69 was commissioner. He died Oct. 22, 1883, in St. Louis, Mo.

FOOTE, GEORGE ANDERSON, physician, was born Dec. 16, 1835, in Warren county, N. C. He was a surgeon in the confederate army during the civil war.

FOOTE, HENRY STUART, lawyer, statesman, author, was born Sept. 20, 1800, in Fauquier county, Va. In 1847 he was elected from Mississippi a senator in congress, where he remained until 1852; and was elected governor of Mississippi in 1852. He was the author of Texas and the Texans; The War of the Rebellion; or Scylla and Charybdis; Bench and Bar of the South and Southwest; and Personal Reminiscences. He died May 20, 1880, in Nashville, Tenn.

FOOTE, HENRY WILDER, clergyman, author, was born June 2, 1833, in Salem, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of Boston, minister of King's Chapel from 1861 till his death; and the author of Annals of King's Chapel; Thy Kingdom Come, ten sermons on the Lord's prayer; and The Insight of Faith.

FOOTE, JOHN HOWARD, musical expert, poet, was born Nov. 11, 1833, in Canton, Conn. In 1863 he established the firm of John H. Foote and Company, importers of musical instruments; in which business he has attained success.

FOOTE, JOHN JOHNSON, druggist, state senator, was born Feb. 11, 1816, in Hamilton, N. Y. He engaged in the drug business in Hamilton; and in 1857 was elected to the senate of the state of New York. In 1865 he moved to Belvidere, Ill.

FOOTE, LUCIUS H., soldier, lawyer, diplomat, was born April 10, 1826, in Winfield, N. Y. He was judge of the municipal court of Sacramento, Cal., from 1854 to 1860; and in 1861 was appointed collector of the port of Sacramento. He was adjutant-general of the state from 1872 to 1876; was appointed United States consul at Valparaiso, Chili, in 1879; and was acting charge d'affaires to Chili in 1882. In 1883 he was appointed envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary of the United States to Corea.

FOOTE, MRS. MARY HALLOCK, artist, author, was born Nov. 19, 1847, in Milton, N. Y. She is the author of The Led Horse Claim, a Romance of a Mining Camp; In Exile, and Other Stories; John Bodewin's Testimony; The Chosen Valley; Cœur d'Alene; The Last Assembly Ball; and The Cup of Trembling, and Other Stories.

FOOTE, THOMAS MOSES, journalist, diplomat, was born in 1809, in Clinton, N. Y. In 1849 he was appointed charge d'affaires to New Grenada; and in 1852 was appointed to the same position near the government of Austria. He died Feb. 20, 1858, in Buffalo, N. Y.

FOOTE, WALLACE TURNER, lawyer, congressman, was born April 7, 1864, in Port Henry, N. Y. He is now at the head of the firm of Foote, Stokes and Owen, doing a general law business at that place. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

FOOTE, WILLIAM HENRY, clergyman, educator, author, was born Dec. 20, 1794, in Colchester, Conn. He was a presbyterian clergyman and educator of West Virginia, and the author of Sketches of North Carolina; Sketches of the Presbyterian Church in Virginia; The Huguenots, or Reformed French Church; and Sketches of Virginia. He died Nov. 18, 1869, in Romney, W. Va.

FORAKER, JOSEPH BENSON, soldier, lawyer, governor, United States senator, was born July 5, 1846, near Rainsboro, Highland county, Ohio. He enlisted July 14, 1862, as a private in company A, eighty-ninth regiment Ohio volunteer infantry, with which organization he served until the close of the war, at which time he held the rank of first lieutenant and brevet captain. He was elected judge of the superior court of Cincinnati in April, 1879; resigned on account of ill-health in 1882. He was the republican candidate for governor of Ohio in 1883, but was defeated; and was elected to that office in 1885, and re-elected in 1887. He was again nominated for governor and defeated in 1889; and was elected United States senator and took his seat March 4, 1897.

FORAN, MARTIN AMBROSE, soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Nov. 11, 1844, in Susquehanna county, Pa. He was city prosecutor of Cleveland from 1875 to 1877; was an unsuccessful candidate for police judge in 1881; and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-eighth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a democrat.

FORBES, CHARLES EDWIN, philanthropist, was born Aug. 25, 1795, in Bridgewater, Mass. He attained a national prominence as a philanthropist. He died Feb. 13, 1881, in Northampton, Mass.

FORBES, EDWIN, artist, was born in 1839, in New York city. Since 1878 he has devoted himself to landscape and cattle pictures. His later works are Early Morning in an Orange County Pasture; Roughing; On the Meadows; and Evening in the Sheep Pasture.

FORBES, ELI, clergyman, was born in October, 1726, in Westborough, Mass. In 1758-59 he twice acted as chaplain of a provincial regiment, and in 1762 conducted a successful mission to the Oneida Indians, among whom he established a church and two schools. He died Dec. 15, 1804, in Gloucester, Mass.

FORBES, MRS. HARRIETTE (MER-RIFIELD), author, was born in 1836, in Massachusetts. She is a writer of Westborough, Mass., and the author of The Hundredth Town, a series of historical sketches of Westborough; and A Lily Stalk, studies of child life.

FORBES, JAMES, congressman. He was a delegate from Maryland to the continental congress from 1778 to 1780.

FORBES, JOHN, librarian, was born in 1771, in Scotland. He was librarian of the New York society library, being prominent during that time among literary men in New York city. He died Oct. 4, 1824, in New York.

FORBES, JOHN FRANKLIN, educator, college president, was born June 13, 1853, in Middlesex, N. Y. He was professor of Greek and Latin in the state normal school at Brockway, N. Y., which position he resigned in 1885 to accept the presidency of the recently established De Land academy, subsequently John B. Stetson university, of De Land, Fla.

FORBES, JOHN MURRAY, clergyman, was born in 1806. In 1869 he was elected dean of the General Theological seminary, resigning from that office in 1872. He died in 1885 in Elizabeth, N. J.

FORBES, ROBERT, clergyman, lecturer, was born Nov. 13, 1844, in Canada. He is a successful clergyman of the methodist episcopal church, and now fills a pastorate in Duluth, Minn. He has been a presiding elder; chaplain of the Minnesota senate; and orator and grand chaplain of the grand lodge of the A. F. and A. M. He is a brilliant public lecturer, and has contributed extensively to current literature.

FORBES, ROBERT BENNET, merchant, author, was born in 1804, in Massachusetts. He was a sea captain, and subsequently a Boston merchant. He was the author of China and the China Trade; Construction of Ships for the Merchant Service; Life Boats, Projectiles, and Other Means for Saving Life; Seamen Past and Present; Rambling Reminiscences; and Notes on Some Few Wrecks and Rescues.

FORBES, SAMUEL FRANKLIN, surgeon, author, was born June 8, 1829, in Canton, Conn. In 1886 he was mayor of Toledo, Ohio. He is the author of several medical works.

FORBES, STEPHEN ALFRED, naturalist, author, was born May 23, 1844, in Silver Creek, Ill. He is a professor of zoology in the university of Illinois and state entomologist, and the author of Studies of the Food of Birds, Fishes, and Insects; and Contagious Diseases of Insects.

FORCE, MANNING FERGUSON, soldier, jurist, author, was born Dec. 17, 1824, in Washington, D. C. In 1845 he graduated from Harvard; and three years later from the law school of that institution. In 1861 he was appointed major of the twentieth Ohio regiment, promoted to lieutenant-colonel, and was engaged at Fort Donelson and Shiloh. He was then made colonel, took part in the siege of Vicksburg, and was made brigadier-general of volunteers. He was with Sherman on his march to Meridian in his Atlanta campaign, his march to the sea, and across the Carolinas; and brevetted major-general of volunteers in 1865. During 1867-77 he was judge of the court of common pleas of Hamilton county, Ohio; and from that time till 1887 was judge of the superior court of Cincinnati. In 1888 he was appointed commandant of the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' home, which position he still holds. He is the author of From Fort Henry to Corinth; Marching Across Carolina; The Mound Builders; Prehistoric Man; and Recollections of the Vicksburg Campaign.

FORCE, PETER, journalist, historian, was born Nov. 26, 1790, near Little Falls, N. J. He was a journalist and historian of Washington who began in 1833 a documentary history of the American colonies. Thirty years' labor was spent upon the task, and nine volumes completed, entitled American Archives. His other works include Tracts and Other Papers relating to the Origin of the North American Colonies; and Griwnell Land. His immense and valuable library was purchased by congress in 1867. He died Jan. 23, 1868, in Washington, D. C.

FORCE, WILLIAM QUEREAU, meteorologist, author, was born March 7, 1820, in Washington, D. C. He was a meteorologist of Washington who assisted his father in preparing American Archives, and published Builder's Guide; and The Picture of Washington. He died Dec. 15, 1880, in Washington, D. C.

FORD, CORYDON LA, physician, author, was born Aug. 29, 1813, in Lexington, N. Y. He is a physician of note who has held several medical professorships, and since 1886 has been professor emeritus in the Long Island College hospital. He is the author of Questions on Anatomy, etc.; Questions on the Structure and Development of the Human Teeth; and Syllabus of Lectures on Odontology, Human and Comparative.

FORD, DANIEL ROBERTS, clergyman, was born June 8, 1836, in North Berwick, Maine. He has filled various positions in mercantile and manufacturing businesses; and has attained success as a clergyman in his native state.

FORD, DANIEL S., journalist, was born April 15, 1822, in Cambridgeport, Mass. He purchased from N. P. Willis The Youth's Companion, and has now for thirty-five years, under the business name of plume of Perry Mason and Co., edited and published that paper.

FORD, EDWARD LLOYD, publisher, was born March 10, 1845, in England. In 1867 he became a partner in the newly established publishing house of J. B. Ford and Co., and contributed largely to the success of the Christian Union. He died Dec. 16, 1880, in Morristown, N. J.

FORD, MRS. EMILY ELLSWORTH (FOWLER), author, poet, was born Aug. 26, 1826, in Greenfield, Mass. She is a Brooklyn writer who has published My Recollections, a volume of poetry.

FORD, GABRIEL HOGARTH, lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 3, 1765, in Morristown, N. J. He became presiding judge of the court of common pleas for the eastern district of New Jersey; and in 1820-40 was a justice of the supreme court. He died Aug. 27, 1849, in Morristown, N. J.

FORD, GEORGE, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 11, 1846, in South Bend, Ind. He was prosecuting attorney in South Bend from 1875 until 1885, when he resigned, having been elected a representative from Indiana to the forty-ninth congress as a democrat.

FORD, GORDON LESTER, lawyer, railroad president, was born Dec. 16, 1823, in Lebanon, Conn. From 1873 till 1881 he was the business manager of the New York Tribune; and in 1885 became president of the Brooklyn, Flatbush and Coney Island railroad. He died Nov. 14, 1891, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

FORD, JAMES, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He served two years in the Pennsylvania legislature, and was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1829 to 1833. He died in August, 1850, in Lawrence, Pa.

FORD, JAMES LAUREN, journalist, author, was born in 1854, in Missouri. He is a journalist and litterateur of New York city, and the author of Dr. Dodd's School; The Third Alarm, are tales for juvenile readers. Other works of his are Hypnotic Tales; The Literary Shop; Bohemia Invaded; and Dolly Dillenback.

FORD, JASON P., educator, jurist, was born Jan. 19, 1855, in Marion county, Ala. He has filled various public positions of trust; and is now judge of probate court of his native county.

FORD, JOHN S., soldier, congressman, was born May 26, 1815, in Greenville, S. C. In 1844 he was a representative in congress from Texas; and in 1850 was a member of the state senate. He served through the civil war and attained the rank of colonel.

FORD, JOHN THOMSON, theatrical manager, was born April 16, 1829, in Baltimore, Md. He has been a state director of the Maryland penitentiary for eighteen years, and is active in philanthropic work in Baltimore.

FORD, JOSHUA EDWARDS, missionary, author, was born Aug. 3, 1825, in Ogdensburg, N. Y. He edited several books in the Arabic language, and wrote a work in that tongue, entitled Fasting and Prayer. He died April 3, 1866, in Geneseo, N. Y.

FORD, MELBOURNE H., lawyer, congressman, was born June 30, 1849, in Saline, Mich. He has been official stenographer of several Michigan courts since 1874; was a member of the Michigan legislature in 1885-86, and was elected to the fiftieth congress as a democrat.

FORD, NICHOLAS, merchant, congressman, was born in Ireland. He emigrated to the United States in 1848, and was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses.

FORD, PAUL LEICESTER, author, was born March 23, 1865, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He is a resident of Brooklyn; and the author of Bibliotheca Hamiltonia; Franklin Bibliography; The Honorable Peter Stirling, a novel of New York society; and The True George Washington.

FORD, MRS. SALLIE ROCHESTER, author, was born in 1828 in Rochester Springs, Ky. She is a St. Louis writer whose early writings were very popular, Grace Truman, her first book, having an extensive sale. Other works of hers are: Romance of Freemasonry; Raids and Romance of Morgan and His Men; Mary Bunyan, the Dreamer's Blind Daughter; Evangel Wiseman; and Ernest Quest.

FORD, SAMUEL HOWARD, clergyman, author, was born in 1823, in Missouri. He was a baptist clergyman of Memphis, Mobile and elsewhere, living in retirement in St. Louis since 1887. He is the author of The Origin of the Baptists; and Servetus, Hero and Martyr.

FORD, SEABURY, state legislator, governor, was born Oct. 15, 1801, in Pomfret, Conn. He served several terms in the state legislature, and was at different times speaker in each branch. He was governor of Ohio in 1848 and 1850; and major-general of militia. He died May 8, 1855, in Burton, Ohio.

FORD, SMITH THOMAS, clergyman, was born Feb. 3, 1851, in Camden, N. Y. He has filled pastorates in numerous baptist churches in Hamilton, Greene, Albany, and Syracuse, N. Y.

FORD, THOMAS, lawyer, governor, author, was born in 1804. He was a judge of the superior court of Illinois; and was the author of a History of Illinois from 1818 to 1847. He was governor of the state from 1842 to 1846. He died in January, 1851, in Peoria, Ill.

FORD, TIMOTHY, lawyer, was born Dec. 4, 1762, in Morristown, N. J. He was a member of the legislature and the Charleston city council; a trustee of Charleston college, and president of various literary societies. He died Dec. 7, 1830.

FORD, WILLIAM D., congressman, was born in Providence, R. I. He served in the New York assembly in 1816 and 1817, and was a representative in congress from that state from 1819 to 1821.

FORD, WILLIAM HENRY, surgeon, author, was born Oct. 7, 1839, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a Philadelphia surgeon, and twice president of the municipal board of health. He has published Healthy Dwelling-Houses and How to Build Them.

FORD, WORTHINGTON CHAUNCEY, author, was born Feb. 16, 1858, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He is a government statistician at Washington, and the author of American Citizens' Manual; and The Standard Silver Dollar.

FORDYCE, SAMUEL WESLEY, soldier, financier, was born Feb. 7, 1840, in Guernsey county, Ohio. He was a private in the civil war, and steadily rose to a captaincy of cavalry. At the close of the war he established the banking house of Fordyce and Rison of Huntsville, Ala.; and is the president of the St. Louis Southwestern Railway company.

FOREPAUGH, JOSEPH LYBRANDT, merchant, was born Jan. 6, 1834, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1865, with Mr. Justice, he established the firm of J. L. Forepaugh and Co. of Philadelphia, Pa., the first exclusively wholesale dry goods house in that state.

FORESMAN, JOHN OAKES, educator, clergyman, was born May 18, 1835, in Lycoming county, Pa. After receiving his education at the Western Reserve college of Ohio he entered into educational work. In 1858 he became a teacher in the Delaware Indian Mission school, and in 1860 a missionary in the Rocky mountains. He is a successful clergyman of the methodist episcopal church of Horton, Kan.

FOREST, JOHN ANTHONY, clergyman, bishop, was born Dec. 25, 1838, in France. He was pastor for thirty-three years at Halleysville, Tex.; and in 1895 was consecrated catholic bishop of San Antonio.

FORESTER, JOHN B., congressman, was born in Tennessee. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1833 to 1837. He died Aug. 31, 1845.

FORKER, SAMUEL C., congressman, was born March 16, 1821, in Mount Holly, N. J. He was cashier of the Bordentown Banking company; and was elected to the forty-second congress.

FORMAN, DAVID, soldier, jurist, was born near Englishtown, N. J. He commanded the New Jersey militia at Germantown. After the war he was a judge of the county court, and a member of the council of state. He died about 1812.

FORMAN, EMILY SHAW, author, poet. She is the vice-president of the Boston Browning club; and the author of a volume of poems illustrated by Fidelia Bridges.

FORMAN, GEORGE W., physician, surgeon, was born Dec. 18, 1820, in Nelson county, Ky. In 1869 he received the appointment of deputy internal revenue collector for the fourth Kentucky district, and in 1873 accepted the additional duties of assessor.

FORMAN, JOSHUA, manufacturer, legislator, was born Sept. 6, 1777, in Pleasant Valley, N. Y. In 1807 he was elected to the New York legislature; and in 1808 founded the celebrated Plaster company of Camillus. He was the founder of the city of Syracuse. He died Aug. 4, 1848, in Rutherfordton, N. C.

FORMAN, WILLIAM S., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 20, 1847, in Natchez, Miss. He was a member of the state senate, thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth general assemblies; and was elected to the fifty-first and fifty-second congresses and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

FORNANCE, JOSEPH, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1841.

FORNEY, DANIEL M., soldier, congressman, was born in May, 1784, in Lincoln county, N. C. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1815 to 1818, and in 1820 was appointed commissioner to treat with the Creek Indians. From 1823 to 1826 he was a member of the state legislature. He died in October, 1847, in Lowndes county, Ala.

FORNEY, JOHN WEISS, journalist, author, was born Sept. 30, 1817, in Lancaster, Pa. He was a journalist of Philadelphia and Washington of prominence, and a politician, and secretary of the United States senate in 1861-68. He was the author of Life of General Hancock; Anecdotes of Public Men; The New Nobility, a story of England and America; What I Saw in Texas; A Centennial Commissioner in Europe; Letters from Europe; and Forty Years of American Journalism. He died Dec. 9, 1881, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FORNEY, PETER, soldier, congressman, was born in April, 1756, in Lincoln county, N. C. He served as a member of the state legislature for several years; and was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1813 to 1815. He died Feb. 1, 1834, in Lincoln county, N. C.

FORNEY, WILLIAM HENRY, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 9, 1823, in Lincoln, N. C. In 1859 he was elected to the state legislature. He served in the confederate army during the rebellion, rising to the rank of brigadier-general. In 1865 he was elected a state senator. In 1874 he was elected a representative from Alabama to the forty-fourth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first and fifty-second congresses as a democrat.

FORREST, EDWIN, actor, was born March 9, 1806, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was one of the most successful of American actors. He died Dec. 12, 1872, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FORREST, FRENCH, naval officer, was born in 1796, in Maryland. At the beginning of the civil war, when Virginia seceded, he joined the confederates, and was given the command of the navy. He died Dec. 22, 1866, in Georgetown, D. C.

FORREST, HERBERT ARTHUR, lawyer, was born March 10, 1860, in Collingwood, Ontario, Canada. He received his education in the schools of Michigan, and has attained success as an able lawyer of Saginaw. He has been a member of the Michigan state board of corrections and charities; in 1892 he was lay delegate to the general conference of the methodist episcopal church; and has filled various positions of honor connected with educational and religious institutions.

FORREST, THOMAS, congressman, was born in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1819 to 1821, and again from 1822 to 1823, to fill a vacancy. He died March 20, 1825.

FORREST, URIAH, soldier, congressman, was born in 1756, in St. Mary's county, Md. He was a general in the revolutionary war. He was a delegate to the continental congress from 1786 to 1787; and was a representative in congress from Maryland during the years 1793 and 1794, and resigned. He died in April, 1805, near Georgetown, D. C.

FORRY, SAMUEL, physician, surgeon, author, was born June 23, 1811, in Berlin, Pa. He was a physician and surgeon of New York city, and the author of The Climate of the United States and its Endemic Influences; and Meteorology. He died Nov. 8, 1844.

FORSHEY, CALEB GOLDSMITH, engineer, was born July 18, 1812, in Somerset county, Pa. In 1855 he established the Texas military institute and conducted it till 1861, when, though opposed to secession, he entered the confederate service as a lieutenant-colonel of engineers. He died July 25, 1881, in Carrollton, La.

FORSHEY, JOHN ARAD, soldier, stock-raiser, legislator, was born July 7, 1845, in Danville, Mo. He received a thorough education, and attended the Texas State Military institute. He served through the civil war in the confederate army under General Sterling Price, and held a captain's commission at the close of the war. He then drifted west, and in 1870 settled in Wyoming. He has filled numerous public offices of trust, and is now a member of the fourth legislature of Wyoming. He is also a successful raucman and stock-grower of Uinta county, Wyo.

FORSTER, WILLIAM, missionary, was born in 1784, in England. In 1803 he became a minister of the society of Friends, and thenceforth his life was devoted to missionary and benevolent labors throughout the British Isles, the continent of Europe, and the United States. He died in 1854, in Knox county, Tenn.

FORSYTH, ALEXANDER, business man, state senator, was born Aug. 16, 1860, in Adelaide, Canada. Since 1876 he has been engaged principally in educational work and the fire insurance and banking business at Standish, Mich. In 1897-98 he served as a member of the Michigan state senate.

FORSYTH, BENJAMIN, soldier, state legislator, was born in Stokes county, N. C. He was a member of the legislature of North Carolina in 1807-8. He commanded in the successful assault on Gananogue, Upper Canada, in 1812, and also at the capture of the British guard at Elizabethtown, Canada, in 1813. He died June 28, 1814, in Oldtown, N. Y.

FORSYTH, JAMES W., soldier, was born about 1835, in Ohio. He served in the civil war and was brevetted brigadier-general of volunteers in 1864; colonel in the regular army in 1865; and brigadier-general for services during the war.

FORSYTH, JOHN, lawyer, statesman, was born Oct. 22, 1780, in Fredericksburg, Va. He was attorney-general of the state; was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1813 to 1818, and from 1823 to 1827. He was a senator in congress during the years 1818 and 1819, and from 1829 to 1837. He was governor of Georgia in 1827, 1828, and 1829; minister to Spain from 1819 to 1822; and was secretary of state under President Jackson. He died Oct. 21, 1841, in Washington City.

FORSYTHE, ALBERT P., soldier, congressman, was born May 24, 1830, in New Richmond, Ohio. He was a first lieutenant in the union army during the war of the rebellion. He was elected a representative from Illinois to the forty-sixth congress.

FORSYTHE, JOHN AULD, soldier, journalist, meteorologist, was born July 10, 1834, in Zanesville, Ohio. He received a liberal education, and his early years were devoted to educational work and literature. His military service began with the march of the army of the invasion to Utah in 1857. He served as a union soldier during the civil war; and was promoted to lieutenant of artillery and aide-de-camp. At the close of the war he entered journalism, and is now the editor and owner of The Democrat of Seymour, Ind. He is a practical meteorologist; the observer for the weather bureau at Seymour, Ind.; and is the inventor of a code of steam whistle signals for the more general dissemination of the weather forecast.

FORT, GEORGE FRANKLIN, governor, author, was born in May, 1809, in Pemberton, N. J. He was a governor of New Jersey in 1850-54, and the author of Early History and Antiquities of Freemasonry. He died April 22, 1872, in New Egypt, N. J.

FORT, GREENBERRY LAFAYETTE, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 11, 1825, in Sciota county, Ohio. In 1834 he moved to Illinois. In 1866 he was elected to the state senate; and was elected to the forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a republican. He died Jan. 13, 1883, in Lacon, Ill.

FORT, JAMES MADISON, journalist, lawyer, was born July 1, 1846, near Lacon, Ill. Since 1869 he has practiced law in Minonk, Ill.; and has been city attorney for a number of terms. For nearly twenty years he has been editor and owner of the Minonk Blade and other newspapers.

FORT, TOMLINSON, physician, banker, congressman, was born July 11, 1787, in Warren county, Ga. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1827 to 1829; and was at one time a member of the legislature of Georgia. He was president of the Central bank of Georgia from 1832 until his death. He died May 11, 1859, in Milledgeville, Ga.

FORTIER, ALCEE, educator, author, was born June 5, 1856, in St. James, La. He was an educator of Louisiana, professor in Tulane university, and the author of Le Chateau de Chambord; Gabriel d'Ennerich, an historical novelette; Bits of Louisiana Folk-Lore; Sept Grands Auteurs de XIX Siècle; Historie de la Littérature Française; Louisiana Studies; and Louisiana Folk Tales. He has also annotated college editions of several French texts.

FORWARD, CHAUNCEY, physician, clergyman, congressman, was born at Old Granby, Conn. He was frequently elected to the state legislature, serving in both houses. In 1825 he was elected a representative in congress for an unexpired term, and was twice re-elected, serving until 1831. He died in October, 1839, in Somerset, Pa.

FORWARD, WALTER, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1786, in Connecticut. He was elected to congress from Pennsylvania as a representative, where he continued till 1825. In 1841 he was appointed first comptroller of the treasury, which post he held until appointed, by President Tyler, secretary of the treasury. He was president judge of the district court of Allegheny county for many years. He died Nov. 24, 1852, in Pittsburg, Pa.

FORWOOD, WILLIAM STUMP, physician, author, was born Jan. 27, 1830, in Darlington, Md. He is a physician of Darlington, Md., and the author of History and Descriptive Account of Mammoth Cave, with Full Scientific Details of the Eyeless Fishes.

FOSDICK, CHARLES AUSTIN, author, was born Sept. 6, 1844, in Randolph, N. Y. He received his education in Buffalo, N. Y., and graduated from the Central high school of that city. He left school to enter the navy, and held all the positions there from landsman to receiver and superintendent of coal for the Mississippi squadron. He has attained a national reputation as a juvenile writer, and under the nom de plume of Harry Castlemon has published The Gunboat Series; Rocky Mountain Series; Roughing It Series; and The Steel Horse, or the Rambles of a Bicycle, which are but a few of the whole number.

FOSDICK, NICOLL, public official, congressman, was born Nov. 9, 1785, in New London, Conn. In 1818 he was a member of the legislature of New York; again in 1819, and declined a re-election. He was a representative from New York in the nineteenth congress. He returned to his native place in 1843; and from 1849 to 1853 was collector of customs for the district of New London. He died May 7, 1868, in New London, Conn.

FOSDICK, PHILIP C., manufacturer, legislator, was born April 21, 1858, in Louisville, Ky. He is a manufacturer and president of the Fosdick and Plucker Machine Tool company in Cincinnati, Ohio. In 1895 he served with distinction as a member of the Ohio general assembly.

FOSDICK, WILLIAM WHITEMAN, lawyer, author, poet, was born Jan. 28, 1825, in Cincinnati. He was a lawyer of Cincinnati, who published Malmiztic the Toltec, a novel; and Ariel and Other Poems. He died March 8, 1862, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

FOSNES, C. A., lawyer, state legislator, was born in 1862, in Norway. Since 1884 he has practiced law in Montevideo, Minn. He has been city attorney; village mayor; and in 1896 was elected a member of the Minnesota state legislature.

FOSS, CYRUS DAVID, educator, clergyman, bishop, author, was born Jan. 17, 1834, in Kingston, N. Y. In 1854 he graduated from the Wesleyan university; and for three years was an instructor in America seminary, New York. In 1857 he entered the traveling ministry; was for six years in the city of Brooklyn, and for ten years pastor in churches in New York city. In 1875 he was elected president of the Wesleyan university; served until May, 1880, when he was elected and ordained a bishop of the methodist episcopal church. His duties have since been at Minneapolis, Minn., and Philadelphia, Pa. He has published Sermons and Addresses, and other works.

FOSS, GEORGE EDMUND, was born July 2, 1863, in Berkshire, Vt. He began the practice of law in Chicago; and never held any political office until elected to the fifty-fourth congress, and was re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

FOSS, SAMUEL WALTER, author, poet, was born in 1858 in New Hampshire. He is a writer of popular dialect and other poems, whose home is in Somerville, Mass. He is the author of Back Country Poems; and Whiffs from Wild Meadows.

FOSTER, A. LAWRENCE, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1841 to 1845.

FOSTER, ABBY KELLEY, reformer, abolitionist, was born Jan. 15, 1811, in Pelham, Mass. She was a noted reformer, and an ardent abolitionist. She died Jan. 14, 1887, in Worcester, Mass.

FOSTER, ABIEL, clergyman, congressman, was born Aug. 8, 1735, in Andover, Mass. He was a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1789 to 1791; and was again a representative in the legislature. He was a member of the state senate from 1793 to 1794, and in both years was president of that body. He was again elected to congress from 1795 to 1803. He died Feb. 6, 1806, in Canterbury, N. H.

FOSTER, BENJAMIN, clergyman, was born June 12, 1750, in Danvers, Mass. He was an accomplished scholar, particularly in the Greek, Hebrew and the Chaldean languages, and was eminent as a preacher. He died Aug. 26, 1798, in New York city.

FOSTER, CASSIUS G., soldier, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Jan. 22, 1837, in Webster, N. Y. During 1863-64 he was a member of the Kansas state legislature; mayor of Atchison in 1867; and was commissioned United States district judge for the district of Kansas in 1874, which position he still retains, with headquarters at Topeka.

FOSTER, CHARLES, merchant, legislator, congressman, governor, was born April 12, 1828, near Tiffin, Ohio. He was taken by his father in his fifth year to what is now Fostoria, Ohio, then a wilderness; he received his education at Norwalk academy, and became a successful merchant. In 1870 he was chosen to congress as a republican, and was three times re-elected, serving in the forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth and forty-fifth congresses. In 1879 he was elected governor of Ohio; and received the re-election in 1881, serving four years in all. His administration was marked by efforts to regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors. In 1891 he became secretary of the treasury, which position he filled with distinction.

FOSTER, CHARLES HUBBS, actor, author, was born in 1833, in New York. He was an actor and playwright of New York city, who wrote more than seventy-five plays, mostly melodramas, among which are: Twins of London; Twenty Years Dead; and The Chain Gang. He died in 1895.

FOSTER, CHARLES JAMES, journalist, was born Nov. 24, 1820, in England. He wrote for The Spirit of the Times, and in 1876 established the New York Sportsman, in New York city. He died Sept. 12, 1883, in Astoria, N. Y.

FOSTER, DAVID SKAATS, author, poet. He is the author of Rebecca the Witch, and Other Tales in Metre, first issued as The Romance of the Unexpected; Spanish Castles by the Rhine; and a Triptychal Yarn.

FOSTER, DWIGHT, lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born Dec. 7, 1757, in Brookfield, Mass. He was county sheriff and judge and afterwards chief justice of common pleas; and was for some years a member of the house and senate of Massachusetts. He was a member of the executive council of Massachusetts; and was a representative in congress from 1793 to 1799, and United States senator from 1800 to 1803, when he resigned. He died April 29, 1823, in Brookfield, Mass.

FOSTER, EPHRAIM H., United States senator, was born about 1795. He was speaker of the house of representatives of Tennessee in 1820; in 1837 was elected to the United States senate, but in 1839 resigned his seat because he could not obey the instructions of the state legislature. In 1843 he was re-elected for two years; on his return from Washington was a candidate for governor, but failed of an election. He died Sept. 4, 1851, in Nashville, Tenn.

FOSTER, EUGENE, physician, was born April 7, 1850, in Augusta, Ga. He has become one of the most prominent physicians in his state at Augusta.

FOSTER, FOUNTAIN HEATH, lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 20, 1847, in Salem, Ill. He has attained success as an eminent lawyer of Arkansas. He has been mayor of Bentonville; judge of Benton county; and judge of the probate court of Benton county, Ark.

FOSTER, FRANK HUGH, clergyman, theologian, author, was born June 18, 1851, in Springfield, Mass. He filled the chair of philosophy in Middlebury college in 1882-84; of church history in the Oberlin Theological seminary in 1884-92; and since 1892 has been professor of systematic theology in the Pacific Theological seminary of Oakland, Cal. He is the author of The Seminary Method of Study in the Historical Sciences; and other works.

FOSTER, MRS. HANNAH WEBSTER, author, was born in 1759, in Massachusetts. She was a writer who was the wife of John Foster, minister at Brighton, Mass., in 1784-1827, and after his death a resident of Montreal. She wrote The Boarding School; Letters of a Preceptor; but is remembered chiefly for having been the author of the once famous story, The Coquette, or the History of Eliza Wharton. She died in 1840, in Montreal, Canada.

FOSTER, HENRY ALLEN, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born May 7, 1800, in Hartford, Conn. He served in the senate of that state from 1831 to 1834, and from 1841 to 1844. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1837 to 1839; and was a senator in congress during the years 1844 and 1845, by appointment of the governor. He was subsequently a judge of the supreme court of New York.

FOSTER, HENRY DONNEL, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 19, 1812, in Mercer, Pa. He was elected to the twenty-eighth and twenty-ninth congresses; and was elected to the legislature of Pennsylvania in 1846 and 1847. He was the democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania in 1860; and was elected to the forty-second congress. He served on the committee of claims, and other important committees.

FOSTER, ISAAC, physician, surgeon, was born about 1740, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a delegate to the first provincial congress of Massachusetts in 1744. He was at the head of the military medical department during the revolutionary war, and was director-general of the American hospital department. He died in February, 1781.

FOSTER, JACOB POST GIRAUD, lawyer, was born April 8, 1827, in New York city. He practiced in New York city, and gained a high reputation, especially as an insurance lawyer. He died Feb. 26, 1886, in New York city.

FOSTER, JAMES PEERS, lawyer, was born Aug. 31, 1848, in Flushing, N. Y. He was chosen the first president of what is now the republican league of the United States. He is a trustee and director in various corporations and institutions of New York city.

FOSTER, JEDEDIAH, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 10, 1726, in Andover, Mass. In 1776 he was appointed a judge of the superior court; and was for many years a judge of probate, and also of the court of common pleas. He died Oct. 17, 1779, in Brookfield, Mass.

FOSTER, JOHN G., educator, lawyer, was born Oct. 14, 1868, in Morgan county, Ohio. He attended the National Normal school of Lebanon, Ohio; and graduated from the law department of the West Virginia university. He attained success in educational work, and became county superintendent of schools. He is now engaged in the practice of law at Fayetteville, W. Va.

FOSTER, JOHN GRAY, soldier, civil engineer, was born May 27, 1823, in Whitefield, N. H. He received the brevets of first lieutenant and captain for gallantry. He was assistant engineer in Maryland in 1848-52, and on coast survey duty in Washington, D. C., in 1852-54. He served with distinction through the civil war. He died Sept. 2, 1874, in Nashua, N. H. For many years he served as a professor of engineering at West Point.

FOSTER, JOHN HAMILTON, physician, legislator, was born in 1826, in Guilford county, N. C. He was a member of the territorial legislature of Oregon in the early fifties, and was known as a prominent physician and one of the pioneers of that profession in central Iowa, where he located in 1853. He died Dec. 7, 1894, in Iowa Falls, Iowa.

FOSTER, JOHN WATSON, lawyer, diplomat, was born March 2, 1836, in Petersburg, Ind. He served in the union army throughout the war of the rebellion, rising to the rank of colonel and brevet brigadier-general. In 1869 he was appointed postmaster at Evansville; and in 1873 was appointed United States Minister to Mexico. In 1880 he was transferred to St. Petersburg, as minister to Russia; and 1883 was appointed United States minister to Spain. He served as secretary of state under President Harrison in 1892-96. He now practices law in Washington, D. C.

FOSTER, JOHN WELLS, geologist, author, was born March 4, 1815, in Brumfield, Mass. He was a geologist employed by the United States in a geological survey of the Lake Superior region, and subsequently a resident of Chicago. He was the author of The Mississippi Valley: Mineral Wealth and Railroad Development: Prehistoric Races of the United States; and Geology and Topography of the Lake Superior Land District. He died June 29, 1873, in Chicago, Ill.

FOSTER, MRS. JUDITH ELLEN HORTON, lawyer, author, was born Nov. 3, 1840, in Lowell, Mass. She is a lawyer and prominent temperance advocate of Iowa, and the author of The Crime Against Ireland; Amendment Manual (Prohibition); The American Renaissance; and Republican Contentions and Supreme Court Decisions.

FOSTER, LA FAYETTE SABINE, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born Nov. 22, 1806, in Franklin, Conn. He was a member of the general assembly of Connecticut in 1839 and 1840, in 1846, 1847, and 1848, and 1854; and was speaker of the house in 1847, 1848 and 1854. He was chosen a senator in congress for the term 1855-61. In 1860 he was re-elected for the term ending in 1867. In 1869 he was elected professor of law in Yale college, and in 1870 to a seat on the bench of the supreme court of Connecticut. He died Sept. 19, 1880, in Norwich, Conn.

FOSTER, MURPHY J. He was born Jan. 12, 1849, in Franklin, La. In 1892 he was elected governor of Louisiana, after the most memorable campaign ever known in Louisiana—the anti-lottery campaign. He has practiced law with success; has declined nomination for congress; and the appointment of associate justice on the supreme bench.

FOSTER, N. C., railroad president, was born in Owego, N. Y. He entered railway service in 1882, as owner of the Chicago, Fairchild and Eau Claire River railroad; of which he has been president and general manager since 1891. He was also president and general manager of the Sault Ste. Marie and Southwestern railway from 1886 for several years. He has taken an active part in the public affairs of Fairchild, Wis.; and in all measures for the welfare of his state.

FOSTER, NATHANIEL G., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Aug. 25, 1809, in The Fork, Ga. He served three years as solicitor-general of the Ocmulgee circuit; five years in the state senate, and one year in the house; and was a representative in the thirty-fourth congress.

FOSTER, RANDOLPH SINKS, educator, college president, bishop, author, was born Feb. 22, 1820, in Williamsburg, Ohio.

He has been president of the Northwestern university of Evanston, Ill.; president of the Drew Theological seminary of Madison, N. J.; and is now a bishop of the methodist episcopal church at Roxbury, Mass. He is the author of Objections to Calvinism; Christian Purity; Ministry Needed for the Times; Theism; Beyond the Grave; Centenary Thoughts; and Studies in Theology.

FOSTER, ROBERT SANDFORD, soldier, was born Jan. 27, 1834, in Vernon, Ind. He served in the civil war and attained the rank of major-general. Since the war he has resided in Indianapolis, and was its treasurer from 1867 till 1872. He was United States marshal for the district of Indiana from 1881 till 1885. He was detailed as a member of the commission that tried the conspirators and assassins of President Lincoln. While serving in the civil war his regiment was daily engaged with the confederate forces; and during the campaign the first battle of Winchester was fought by him. He was engaged in the operations in front of Richmond and Petersburg; and was in the final pursuit and capture of Lee's army at Appomattox.

FOSTER, ROBERT VERRELL, clergyman, educator, author, was born in 1845, in Tennessee. He is a Cumberland presbyterian clergyman and educator; and has been professor of Hebrew in the Theological seminary at Lebanon, Tenn., since 1877. He is the author of Introduction to the Study of Theology; Old Testament Studies; and Commentary on the Epistle to the Romans.

FOSTER, STEPHEN, educator, college president, was born Feb. 15, 1798, in Andover, Mass. In 1827 he took the chair of Latin and Greek in the East Tennessee college, now the university of Tennessee, of Knoxville, and became president of the college in 1834. He died Jan. 11, 1835, in Knoxville, Tenn.

FOSTER, STEPHEN C., lumber merchant, ship builder, congressman, was born Dec. 24, 1799, in Machias, Maine. He was in the Maine legislature from 1834 to 1837, again in 1840, when he was president of the senate, and again in 1847. He was elected to congress from Maine in 1856, serving through the thirty-fifth congress. He was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress; and was a member of the peace congress of 1861.

FOSTER, STEPHEN COLLINS, author, poet, was born July 4, 1826, in Pittsburg, Pa. He was a famous song writer and composer of Pittsburg and New York city. He set to music one hundred and twenty-five or more songs, the words in nearly all cases being his own. Some of them, like the Suwanee River, My Old Kentucky Home, and Nelly Bly, are known in all English-speaking lands. He died Jan. 13, 1864, in New York city.

FOSTER STEPHEN SYMONDS, abolitionist, author, was born Nov. 17, 1809, in Canterbury, N. H. He was a noted anti-slavery agitator of Worcester, Mass. He was the author of The Brotherhood of Thieves, a True Picture of the American Church and Clergy. He died Sept. 8, 1881, in Worcester, Mass.

FOSTER, THEODORE, lawyer, United States senator, was born April 29, 1752, in Brookfield, Mass. He was a senator in congress from Rhode Island from 1790 to 1803. He died Jan. 13, 1828, in Providence, R. I.

FOSTER, MRS. THEODOSIA (TOLI)—FAYE HUNTINGTON—educator, author, was born in 1838, in New York. She is an educator of Verona, N. Y., who has written extensively for young people. She is the author of In Earnest; What Fide Remembers; A Baker's Dozen; A Modern Exodus; and other works.

FOSTER, THOMAS FLOURNOY, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 23, 1790, in Greenborough, Ga. He was for many years a member of the Georgia legislature; and was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1829 to 1835, and again from 1841 to 1843. He died in 1847, in Columbus, Ga.

FOSTER, WILDER D., merchant, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 8, 1821, in Monroe, N. Y. He was city treasurer and alderman of Grand Rapids, Mich.; and in 1854 was elected mayor. He was elected state senator for 1855 and 1856; again elected mayor in 1865 and 1866, and was elected to the forty-second congress to fill a vacancy, and was re-elected to the forty-third congress. He died Sept. 20, 1873.

FOSTER, WILLIAM EATON, author, was born in 1851, in Vermont. He is a librarian of Providence, and the author of The Civil Service Reform Movement; The Literature of Civil Service Reform in the United States; Stephen Hopkins, a Rhode Island Statesman; and Town Government in Rhode Island.

FOSTER, WILLIAM PRESCOTT, lawyer, poet. He is a successful lawyer of Bar Harbor, Maine; and the author of a number of meritorious poems.

FOUKE, PHILIP B., soldier, journalist, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 23, 1818, in Kaskaskia, Ill. He was elected prosecuting attorney for his district, and was re-elected. In 1851 he was elected a member of the Illinois legislature; and in 1856 was again elected prosecuting attorney. In 1858 he was elected a representative from Illinois to the thirty-sixth congress; and re-elected to the thirty-seventh congress.

FOULKE, WILLIAM DUDLEY, lawyer, legislator, author, was born Nov. 20, 1848, in New York city. He has served as a member of the Indiana state senate; president of the Indiana Civil Service Reform association; and as president of the American Woman's Suffrage association. He is the author of Slav and Saxon.

FOUSE, LEVI G., underwriter, was born Oct. 21, 1850, in Morrison's Cove, Pa. He is president of the American Faculty of Actuaries; and is the author of a system of life insurance which has become popularly known as the Fouse plan.

FOUTE, ROBERT CHESTER, naval officer, clergyman, was born April 14, 1841, in Greenville, Tenn. He served in the United States navy during the civil war; and attained the rank of lieutenant. He was ordained priest in 1874 in the Christ church of Savannah, Ga.; and in 1883 was elected rector of Grace church of San Francisco, Cal.

FOUTS, L. M., railroad president, was born July 22, 1854, in New Washington, Ind. Since 1891 he has been president of the Weatherford, Mineral Wells and Northwestern railway.

FOWLE, DANIEL, printer, journalist, was born about 1715, in Charlestown, Mass. From 1742 to 1750 he was a partner with Gamaliel Rogers, and in 1748-50 joint publisher with him of the Independent Advertiser. They were the first in America to print the New Testament. He died June, 1787, in Portsmouth, N. H.

FOWLE, ROBERT, journalist. He was a partner with his uncle in the publication of the New Hampshire Gazette, which was the only newspaper in New Hampshire at the beginning of the revolution.

FOWLE, WILLIAM BENTLEY, educator, was born Oct. 17, 1795, in Boston, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1843. About 1851 he opened a monitorial school in Boston, which he conducted successfully till 1860. He died Feb. 6, 1865, in Medford, Mass.

FOWLER, ANDREW, clergyman, was born about 1765, in Guilford, Conn. After residing on Long Island and in Philadelphia, he became rector of churches in Spotswood, Shrewsbury, and Middletown, N. J. He died in 1851, in Charleston, S. C.

FOWLER, CHARLES HENRY, bishop, was born Aug. 11, 1837, in Canada. In 1876 he was elected editor of the New York Christian Advocate; and in 1884 was elected methodist episcopal bishop.

FOWLER, CHARLES NEWELL, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 2, 1852, in Lena, Ill. He is a successful lawyer of Elizabeth, N. J.; and was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

FOWLER, EDWIN, educator, founder, was born Dec. 15, 1847, in England. In 1876 he moved to New York city, where he established a semi-military school, which is especially associated with his name and reputation as an educator. In 1878 he founded the Columbian institute of New York city.

FOWLER, MRS. FANNIE H., poet, was born Jan. 19, 1838, in Will county, Ill. She has edited for several years the woman's department of one of the leading newspapers of Manistee, Mich. She has written poems and articles for magazines and papers, and has recently published a volume of Society Poems.

FOWLER, FRANK, artist, was born July 12, 1852, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He has attained a national reputation as a successful artist; and has represented art in well-timed and valuable articles published in periodicals and books.

FOWLER, GEORGE BINGHAM, physician, author, was born Oct. 23, 1847, in Macon county, Ala. He was a professor of physiology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons; established The Dietetic Gazette; and for six years was associate editor of The American Journal of Obstetrics. He is the author of Detection of Sugar in Urine; Use and Value of Artificially Digested Food; and other works.

FOWLER, GEORGE RYERSON, surgeon, author, was born Dec. 25, 1848, in New York city. He has filled the highest positions in medical colleges and hospitals of Brooklyn and New York city. He is the author of a dozen medical works on Diseases and Surgery.

FOWLER, HARRIET PUTNAM, author, was born July 25, 1842, in Danversport, Mass. She received her education at the schools of her native town; and at Bradford Female seminary, where she excelled in rhetoric and composition. In 1879 she published a work entitled Vegetarianism, the Radical Cure for Intemperance. Then appeared from her pen a novel entitled Our Smoking Husbands and What to Do With Them. She is now collating a series of ancestral books of genealogy and heraldry, which will form a rich legacy to posterity. She is able to trace her descent through sixteen generations to Catherine Chaucer, sister of Geoffrey Chaucer, the father of English poetry. She has fine poetic talent and is the author of a book of poems entitled Puritan Bluebells.

FOWLER, HENRY, clergyman, author, was born in 1824, in Stockbridge, Mass. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Auburn, N. Y., and the author of The American Pulpit, a collection of sketches of American preachers. He died Aug. 4, 1872, in Vineyard Haven, Mass.

FOWLER, INMAN H., lawyer, state senator, was born June 7, 1834, in Eaton, Ohio. In 1876 he was elected to the Indiana state senate from the district composed of the counties of Owen and Clay, serving in the regular and special sessions of 1877 and 1879.

FOWLER, JOHN, soldier, congressman, was born in 1755. He was a soldier in the war of the revolution; and attained the rank of captain. He was a member of congress from Kentucky from 1797 to 1807. He died Aug. 22, 1840, in Lexington, Ky.

FOWLER, JOHN EDGAR, educator, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 8, 1866, in Sampson county, N. C. He read law at the university of North Carolina, and was admitted to the bar in 1894. He was formerly a free silver democrat, but upon the nomination of Mr. Cleveland in 1892, left the democratic and allied himself with the populist party. He was nominated for the state house of representatives the same year as a populist, but was defeated by seven votes. He was nominated as a populist for the state senate in 1894, and was elected. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a populist.

FOWLER, JOSEPH SMITH, mathematician, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 31, 1822, in Steubenville, Ohio. In 1865 he was elected a senator in congress from Tennessee for six years, but was not admitted to his seat until July, 1866.

FOWLER, LORENZO NILES, journalist, lecturer, author, was born June 23, 1811, in Cohocton, N. Y. He was one of the founders of the firm of Fowler and Wells, and the author of several phrenological works, the principal of which are Marriage, its History and Ceremonies; and Lectures on Man. He died in 1896.

FOWLER, MRS. LYDIA FOLGER, physician, author, was born in 1823, in Nantucket, Mass. She was the wife of Lorenzo Niles Wells, and a practicing physician for some years. She was the author of Nora, the Lost and Redeemed; The Pet of the Household and How to Save It; Familiar Lessons on Phrenology and Physiology; and Familiar Lessons on Astronomy. She died Jan. 26, 1879, in London, England.

FOWLER, MOSES, farmer, banker, philanthropist, was born April 30, 1815, in Circleville, Ohio. In 1874 the county seat of Benton county was removed from Oxford to Fowler, a town laid out by Messrs. Fowler and Earl. To aid in the cost of removal and to construct a courthouse, Mr. Fowler donated forty thousand dollars.

FOWLER, ORIN, clergyman, congressman, author, was born July 29, 1791, in Lebanon, Conn. For twenty years he was a pastor at Fall River, which he represented in both branches of the legislature for several years. He was a representative in congress from 1849 to the time of his death. He published a treatise on Baptism in 1835, and Historical Sketch of Fall River. He died Sept. 3, 1852, in Washington, D. C.

FOWLER, ORSON SQUIRE, publisher, phrenologist, author, was born Oct. 11, 1809, in Cohocton, N. Y. He was a member of the New York publishing house of Fowler and Wells in 1844-63. He was the author of Memory and Intellectual Improvement; Physiology, Animal and Mental; Matrimony; Self-Culture; Hereditary Descent; Love and Parentage; Sexual Science; Amativeness; Human Science; Creative Science; and The Self-Instructor in Phrenology. He died Aug. 18, 1887, in Connecticut.

FOWLER, PHILEMON HALSTEAD, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 9, 1814, in Albany, N. Y. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Utica, and the author of History of Presbyterianism in Central New York; and The Presbyterian Element in Our National Life and History. He died Dec. 19, 1879, in Utica, N. Y.

FOWLER, RALPH, farmer, legislator, was born Oct. 8, 1808, in Trenton, N. Y. He settled in 1836 on a farm in Handy, Mich., and was the founder of the village of Fowlerville. He was a justice for twenty-five years, and during 1845-51 was a member of the Michigan legislature. He died Sept. 26, 1887.

FOWLER, SAMUEL, physician, congressman, was born Oct. 30, 1779, in Newburg, N. J. He was a distinguished member of the medical profession; and was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1833 to 1837. He died Feb. 21, 1844, in Franklin, N. J.

FOWLER, SAMUEL, lawyer, congressman, was born March 22, 1851, in Franklin, N. J. Since 1876 he has practiced law in Newark and Newton, N. J. He was elected to the fifty-first congress, and re-elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

FOWLER, SAMUEL PAGE, antiquarian, was born April 22, 1800, in Danvers, Mass. He learned of his father the trade of tanner, and from early manhood to 1875 successfully carried on that business in his native town. He made a study of our native birds, and contributed numerous interesting articles on horticultural subjects; on The Cultivation of Native Trees and Shrubs;

Birds of New England; Destruction of Insects Injurious to Vegetation; Ornithology; and other subjects. He was one of the organizers of the Essex County Natural History society; was its curator during 1846-48; and was curator of Essex institute during 1848-56. He represented Danvers in the general court in 1837-39; and was a member of the Massachusetts constitutional convention in 1853. He died in 1895, in Danvers, Mass.

FOWLER, SMITH W., soldier, lawyer, journalist, state legislator, was born April 5, 1829, in New Berlin, N. Y. He served with distinction through the civil war in the sixth Michigan infantry. While a member of the Michigan state legislature he was the author of and secured the passage of the Soldiers' Voting bill. During 1867-85 he published the Manistee Times, afterward known as the Standard. He was three times the democratic candidate for state senator; and was a colonel on the governor's staff. He died Oct. 3, 1894.

FOWLER, SYLVESTER, journalist, poet, was born March 2, 1853, in Williams county, Ohio. He is the editor of the County Times, of Louisville, Kas.; and the author of Sex and Other Poems.

FOWLER, THOMAS POWELL, lawyer, railroad president, was born Oct. 26, 1851, in Newburg, N. Y. Since 1886 he has been president of the New York, Ontario and Western railway.

FOWLER, WILLIAM CHAUNCEY, clergyman, educator, author, was born Sept. 1, 1793, in Killingworth, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman and educator of New England. He is the author of Memorials of the Chaunceys; The Sectional Controversy, or Passages in United States Political History; History of Durham, Connecticut; Local Law in Massachusetts and Connecticut; Essays; English Grammar; and The English Language in Its Elements and Forms. He died Jan. 15, 1881, in Durham, Conn.

FOWLER, WILLIAM WORTHINGTON, lawyer, journalist, author, was born June 24, 1833, in Middlebury, Vt. He was successively a lawyer, broker and journalist of New York city, and the author of Ten Years in Wall Street; Fighting Fire, the Great Fires of History; Woman on the American Frontier; and Twenty Years of Inside Life in Wall Street. He died Sept. 18, 1881, in Durham, Conn.

FOWLES, JAMES H., clergyman, was born in 1812, in Nassau, N. P. He preached in South Carolina till 1845, when he succeeded Stephen H. Tyng in Philadelphia.

FOX, ANDREW FULLER, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born April 26, 1849, in Clay county, Miss. He was elected state senator in 1891, which position he resigned to accept the office of United States attorney for the northern district of Mississippi, to which he was appointed in 1893; resigned the latter office in 1896, and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

FOX, CHARLES JAMES, lawyer, legislator, author, was born Oct. 11, 1811, in Antrim, N. H. In 1837 he was a member of the New Hampshire legislature; was county solicitor in 1835-44; and in 1841-42 was one of the commission to revise the New Hampshire statutes. He was the author of The New Hampshire Book of Prose and Poetry; The History of Dunstable; and The Town Officer.

FOX, CHARLES JAMES, physician, surgeon, was born Dec. 21, 1854, in Weathersfield, Conn. He received the diploma with high honors from the New York university medical college in 1876. He had been previously fitted for Yale college, and was a graduate from the Hartford high school. He has been physician-in-chief of the city hospital of Hartford, Conn.; a member of the United States examining board of Windham county; and is now surgeon-general of the state of Connecticut. He has been president of the Windham County Medical society, and is a member of the leading medical associations of America. He is a thorough student in his professional and literary works, and as a contributor to state, national and international medical journals, his writings have received marked and widespread attention.

FOX, CHARLES KEMBLE, actor, was born Aug. 15, 1833, in Boston, Mass. His first appearance in New York was made at the old National theater in 1853, as Cute in Uncle Tom's Cabin. He died Jan. 17, 1875.

FOX, CHARLES NELSON, lawyer, jurist, was born March 9, 1829, in Detroit, Mich. He began practice in San Francisco. In 1889 he accepted an appointment to fill a vacancy on the bench of the supreme court.

FOX, EBENEZER, author, was born in 1763, in East Roxbury, Mass. He was a Bostonian, who was postmaster of his city in 1830-36, and the author of The Revolutionary Adventures of Ebenezer Fox. He died in 1843, in East Roxbury, Mass.

FOX, EDWARD, jurist, was born in Maine. He was a resident of Portland, and in 1866 was appointed United States judge for the district of Maine. He died Dec. 14, 1881.

FOX, ELIAS WILLIAMS, journalist, legislator, was born Oct. 28, 1828, in Buffalo, N. Y. He was the first president of the St. Louis board of trade; in 1865 was a member of the Missouri legislature; and in 1885 he bought The National Republic of Washington, D. C., which he edited with eminent ability for several years.

FOX, FRANCIS, lawyer, lecturer, was born June 28, 1858, in Porter, Maine. During 1880-90 he served with distinction as a member of the Maine legislature. He is a successful lawyer of Kezar Falls, Maine, and a brilliant lecturer.

FOX, FRANK, educator, clergyman, was born Jan. 28, 1859, in Knox county, Ohio. During 1890-91 he was principal of public schools of Dodge, Neb.; and has always taken a deep interest in educational work. In 1895 he graduated from the Chicago Theological seminary with the degree of B. D.; and is now pastor of the congregational church at Three Oaks, Mich.

FOX, GEORGE, founder, was born in July, 1624, in England. He was the founder of the Society of Friends, commonly called Quakers. He died Nov. 13, 1690, in London.

FOX, GEORGE HENRY, physician, was born Oct. 8, 1846, in Ballston Spa, N. Y. He has been unusually successful in the adaptation of new photographic processes to the illustration of medical works, and has published Photographic Illustrations of Skin Diseases; Photographic Illustrations of Cutaneous Syphilis; Illustrated Medicine and Surgery; and Electrolysis in the Removal of Superfluous Hair, etc.

FOX, GEORGE L., actor, was born July 3, 1825, in Boston, Mass. In 1867-68 he was stage manager of the Olympic, and made an immediate success in the part of the clown in the pantomime Humpty-Dumpty. He died Oct. 24, 1877, in Cambridge, Mass.

FOX, GUSTAVUS VASA, manufacturer, diplomat, was born June 13, 1821, in Saugus, Mass. In an official capacity he was sent to Russia to deliver in person the resolutions of congress passed upon the escape of the emperor from assassination. He died Oct. 29, 1883, in New York city.

FOX, JOHN, mechanic, congressman, was born June 30, 1835, in New York. In 1866 he was elected a representative from New York to the fortieth congress, and re-elected to the forty-first congress as a democrat.

FOX, MARY HEWINS, actress, was born in 1842 in Hartford, Conn. She made her first appearance on the stage at the old museum in Troy, N. Y., and afterward appeared at Laura Keane's Varieties in New York.

FOX, NORMAN, clergyman, author, was born in 1836 in New York. He is a baptist clergyman of New York and Missouri; author of George Fox and the Early Friends; Rise of the Use of Pouring and Sprinkling for Baptism; A Layman's Ministry; and Inspiration of the Apostles in Speaking and Writing.

FOX, OSCAR C., soldier, inventor, was born Aug. 23, 1830, in Pitcher, N. Y. He served in the civil war, and attained the rank of major. He is an inventor in calorifics, hydraulics, pneumatics, optics and surgery, and is also an examiner in the United States patent office.

FOX, ROBERT CLAYBROOK, educator, was born Dec. 12, 1834, in Virginia. In 1881 he was chosen secretary and treasurer of the Columbian university, and secretary and auditor of the Columbian Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, both of which positions he now fills.

FOX, THOMAS BAILEY, clergyman, journalist, author, was born in 1808 in Boston, Mass. He was for three years the editor of the Christian Register in Boston, and for a much longer period an assistant editor and contributor to the Christian Examiner. He was the author of The Ministry of Jesus (Boston); The Sunday-School Prayer-Book; Hints for Sunday-School Teachers; Allegories and Christian Lessons for Children; and The Acts of the Apostles. He died in 1876 in Dorchester, Mass.

FOX, TIMOTHY J., lawyer, legislator, was born Dec. 24, 1847, in Ireland. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools of New Haven, Conn., and graduated from Yale university in 1869. He has attained success as a lawyer; and has been city attorney of New Haven, Conn. In 1882 he served as a member of the Connecticut house of representatives; was a state senator during 1891-95; and served as chairman of the judiciary committee.

FOXCROFT, GEORGE AUGUSTUS, humorist, was born in 1815 in Boston, Mass. He wrote many articles for the daily press on monetary topics, under the pen-name of Job Sass. He may be regarded as the originator of what has been called pho-netic humor. He died March 13, 1878.

FOXCROFT, THOMAS, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 26, 1697, in Cambridge, Mass. In 1717 he became pastor of the First Congregational church in Boston, where he remained till his death. He published thirty-two sermons, including Observations, Historical and Practical, on the Rise and Primitive State of New England, a Century Sermon. He died June 18, 1769, in Boston, Mass.

FOYE, JAMES CLARK, educator, author, was born March 1, 1841, in Great Falls, N. H. He is an educator who has been professor of chemistry at Lawrence university since 1867. He is the author of Chemical Problems; Handbook of Mineralogy; and Tables for Determination of United States Minerals.

FRACKER, CORA ROBINS, musician, composer, was born Aug. 11, 1849, in Iowa City, Iowa. She has taught music for a quarter of a century, principally the guitar; and is the author of a number of musical compositions for the guitar and piano.

FRACKLETON, MRS. SUSAN STUART, artist, inventor, was born in 1851, in Milwaukee, Wis. She has invented and patented a portable gas-kiln for firing artistic work; and is the author of Tried by Fire, a successful text-book on China Painting.

FRADENBURGH, J. N., educator, clergyman, author, was born March 4, 1843, in Gouverneur, N. Y. He graduated from Genesee Wesleyan seminary and the Genesee college; and has received the degrees of Ph. D., D. D. and LL. D. He has filled the chair of mathematics in the Genesee Wesleyan seminary; for four years taught ancient languages at the State Normal school at Fredonia, N. Y.; and for two years was principal of the State Normal school at Mansfield, Pa. He has filled pastorates in the methodist episcopal church at Cleveland, Ohio, and other cities; and since 1896 has filled a pastorate in Clarion, Pa. For awhile he was president of the Red River Valley university of North Dakota. He is the author of numerous religious works, the most notable of which are The Bible Illustrated from the Monuments; Living Religions; Old Heroes; Beauty Crowned; Departed Gods; Light from Egypt; and Studies Upon the Life and Times of Abraham.

FRANCE, LEWIS B., lawyer, author, was born in the District of Columbia. He is a lawyer and littérateur of Denver; and the author of Over the Old Trail; Pine Valley, a volume of short stories; and Mountain Trails and Parks in Colorado.

FRANCHOT, RICHARD, civil engineer, railroad president, congressman, was born in 1816 in Morris, N. Y. He was president of the Albany and Susquehanna Railroad company; and was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-seventh congress. He died Nov. 23, 1875, in Schenectady, N. Y.

FRANCIS, CHARLES EDWARD, dentist, was born Jan. 24, 1828, in Hartford, Conn. He was president and one of the founders of the New York Odontological society, and of the First District Dental society of New York. He also helped to establish the New York College of Dentistry.

FRANCIS, CONVERS, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 9, 1795, in West Cambridge, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of Watertown, Mass., and subsequently Parkman professor of pulpit eloquence at Harvard university in 1843-63. He was the author of Life of John Eliot; Historical Sketch of Watertown; and Errors of Education. He died April 7, 1863, in Cambridge, Mass.

FRANCIS, DAVID ROWLAND, merchant, governor, was born Oct. 1, 1850, in Richmond, Ky. In 1885 was elected mayor of St. Louis and served until 1889, when he was inaugurated governor of Missouri, having been elected to that office the preceding fall. He served as governor until January, 1893, and then returned to St. Louis, where he was engaged in commercial pursuits until appointed secretary of the interior in 1896.

FRANCIS, HARRY H., journalist, state senator, was born Feb. 24, 1852, in Michigan City, Ind. From 1886 to 1890 he was a member of the Indiana state senate; and was the founder and publisher of the Michigan City Daily and Weekly Dispatch. He was state bank examiner from 1890 until his death, which occurred Sept. 15, 1891.

FRANCIS, JAMES BICHENO, engineer, author, was born May 18, 1815, in England. He was a noted hydraulic engineer of Lowell; and the author of Lowell Hydraulic Experiments; and The Strength of Cast Iron Columns. He died in 1892.

FRANCIS, JOHN BROWN, governor, United States senator, was born May 31, 1794, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a member of the state legislature from 1821 to 1829; state senator in 1831; and governor from 1833 to 1838. He was state senator in 1842; United States senator in 1844 and 1845, and state senator again from 1849 to 1856. He died Aug. 9, 1864, in Rhode Island.

FRANCIS, JOHN FRANCIS, soldier, lawyer, was born Aug. 29, 1839. He was commissioned colonel of the eighty-first United States colored troops, served in the department of the gulf, and was brevetted brigadier-general of volunteers in 1865. He died Aug. 31, 1871, in Bangor, Maine.

FRANCIS, JOHN MORGAN, journalist, diplomat, was born March 6, 1823, in Prattsburgh, N. Y. In 1851 he established the Daily Times at Troy. He was appointed United States minister to Greece in 1871; and was appointed United States minister to Portugal in 1882.

FRANCIS, JOHN WAKEFIELD, physician, author, was born Nov. 17, 1789, in New York city. He was a physician of much prominence at one time in medical and literary circles of New York city. He was the author of Use of Mercury; Cases of Morbid Anatomy; Febrile Contagion; The Anatomy of Drunkenness; and Old New York, a volume of pleasant reminiscences. He died Feb.

8, 1861, in New York city.

FRANCIS, JOSEPH, inventor, was born March 12, 1801, in Boston, Mass. To him may be conceded the first use of iron floating vessels. In 1850 two hundred persons were saved by his life-car from the British emigrant vessel Ayreshire, which was wrecked on Swan Beach.

FRANCIS, ORIN W., lawyer, business man, legislator, was born Jan. 14, 1848, in Lewis county, N. Y. He received a thorough education and graduated from the high school of Faribault, Minn. He is a successful lawyer and real estate dealer of Fargo, N. D. He served with distinction as a member of the legislature of North Dakota in 1896-97, and was chairman of the judiciary committee. He was president of the first board of trustees of the North Dakota Agricultural college, and has held several public positions of honor. He received the second highest number of votes in the republican legislative caucus for United States senator in January, 1897.

FRANCIS, SAMUEL WARD, physician, author, was born Dec. 26, 1835, in New York city. He was a physician of New York city and subsequently of Newport, R. I. He was the author of Mott's Clinics; Water; Inside and Out; Biographical Sketches of New York Surgeons and Physicians; Life and Death; and Curious Facts Concerning Man and Nature. He died March 25, 1886, in Newport, R. I.

FRANCIS, TENCH, merchant, was born in Fansley, Md. He became the first cashier of the Bank of North America, which office he held until his death. He died May 1, 1800, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FRANCIS, TENCH, lawyer. He settled in Philadelphia, was attorney-general of Pennsylvania from 1741 to 1755, and recorder of Philadelphia from 1750 to 1755. He died Aug. 16, 1758, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FRANCIS, TURBUTT, soldier, was born in 1740. He was a lieutenant in the British army, but during the revolutionary war fought for independence, and rose to the rank of colonel. He purchased one thousand acres of land in Maryland. He died in 1797.

FRANCIS, VALENTINE MOTT, physician, author, was born April 25, 1834, in New York city. He was a physician of Newport who has published Hospital Hygiene.

FRANCIS, WILLIAM H., lawyer, state senator, jurist, was born Aug. 29, 1839, in South Norwalk, Conn. He was corporation counsel of Newark, N. J., in 1871-75; and represented Essex county in the New Jersey senate in 1879-81. In 1884 he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Dakota territory.

FRANCISCO, PETER, soldier, was born in 1761. He served as a soldier in the continental army. He saved the life of Col. Mayo, and received a present from that officer of one thousand acres of land on Richland Creek, Ky. He died in 1832 in Richmond, Va.

FRANCKE, KUNO, educator, author, was born in 1855 in Schleswig. He is a professor in Harvard university; and the author of Social Forces in German Literature; and A Study in the History of Civilization.

FRANK, AUGUSTUS, merchant, congressman, was born July 17, 1826, in Warsaw, N. Y. He was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-sixth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-seventh and thirty-eighth congresses.

FRANK, GEORGE P., manufacturer, was born June 11, 1852, in Granville, N. Y. In 1875 with his brother he moved to San Francisco, where he embarked in the agricultural implement business, under the firm name of Frank Brothers. In 1895 he was elected mayor of Portland, Ore.

FRANK, MELVIN PORTER, lawyer, legislator, was born Dec. 26, 1841, in Gray, Maine. He was twice a member of the Maine house of representatives, and for one term was speaker of the house.

FRANK, NATHAN, lawyer, congressman, author, was born Feb. 23, 1852, in Peoria, Ill. He was elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

FRANK, ROYAL T., soldier, was born in Maine. He is the successor of Gen. Merritt as commandant of Governor's Island.

FRANK, THOMAS, bishop coadjutor of Tennessee, was born Sept. 17, 1856, in Jackson, Miss. He was elected professor of ecclesiastical history in the university of the South in 1882, chaplain of the university in the following year, and vice-chancellor in 1890.

FRANKLIN, B. J., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born in Mason county, Ky. He served in the confederate army as a captain; and in 1871 was elected circuit attorney for the twenty-fourth circuit of Missouri. In 1874 he was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-fourth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-fifth congress as a democrat.

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN, philosopher, statesman, scientist, author, was born Jan. 17, 1706, in Boston, Mass. After various vicissitudes, when seventeen years of age he went to Philadelphia, and became a printer. With the help of Gov. Sir William Keith, he visited England, where he remained nearly two years. In 1732 he commenced the publication of Poor Richard's Almanac, which he continued until 1737; and after that established a newspaper. He held the various offices of state printer, clerk of the general assembly, and postmaster of Philadelphia. He was the father and patron of the Philosophical society, and of the Pennsylvania university and hospital. In 1741 he published the General Magazine. In 1744 he was elected to the provincial assembly, holding the office ten years; in 1758 concluded a treaty with the Indians at Carlisle. He became postmaster-general of America. He was sent to England as an advocate and agent for the province on two occasions, remaining there eleven years. On the breaking out of the revolution he returned to America, and took an active and important part in public affairs; was a signer of the declaration of independence; a delegate to the continental congress in 1775 and 1776; and in 1778 was sent to France in a diplomatic capacity, where he remained until 1785. He was next elected governor of Pennsylvania and was a member of the convention which framed the federal constitution, and signed that instrument. He made important discoveries in electricity; wrote and published much on a variety of themes, and his Life, Writings and Correspondence, issued in ten volumes, are an important feature in all the best libraries of the country. He died April 17, 1790, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FRANKLIN, BENJAMIN, clergyman, author, was born in 1819 in Rhode Island. He is an episcopal clergyman of Shrewsbury, N. J.; and the author of The Creed and Modern Thought; and The Church and the Era.

FRANKLIN, EDWARD C., physician, author, was born March 12, 1822, in Flushing, N. Y. He has attained prominence as a successful physician and surgeon of Michigan, and served during the civil war as a surgeon of the Missouri volunteers. He is the author of a work entitled The Science and Art of Surgery.

FRANKLIN, JESSE, soldier, governor, United States senator, was born March 24, 1760, in Orange county, Va. He represented Virginia in congress from 1795 to 1797, and then returned to the legislature. From 1799 to 1805, and from 1807 to 1813, he was a United States senator. In 1820 he was elected governor of North Carolina. He died in September, 1823, in Surry county, N. C.

FRANKLIN, JOHN, soldier, legislator, jurist, was born Sept. 26, 1749, in Canaan, Conn. He was a captain during the revolutionary war; and subsequently was several times a member of the Connecticut assembly. He died March 1, 1831, in Athens, Pa.

FRANKLIN, JOHN H., lawyer, journalist, was born July 5, 1853, in Macomb, Ill. At the age of twenty-one he was admitted to the bar; and in 1876-77 was city attorney of his native city. In 1879 he moved to Junction City, Kas., and the following year was elected state's attorney for Geary county. In 1882 he was the republican nominee for state senator from that district; and the same year established The Junction City Republican, now one of the leading papers of Kansas. In 1885 he became connected with The Record, and subsequently with The Journal, of Russell, Kas. He served for five years as a regent of the State Normal school; was city attorney of Russell in 1884, and the following year was mayor of the city. In 1889 he was appointed deputy auditor in the war department in Washington, D. C., and is now auditor. Since 1893 he has made Toluca his place of residence.

FRANKLIN, JOHN P., farmer, educator, clergyman, was born July 26, 1859, in Clinton, La. He graduated from the Gammon seminary of Atlanta, Ga.; has attained success as a school teacher and a clergyman, and now fills a pastorate in Lumberton, N. C.

FRANKLIN, JOHN R., lawyer, congressman, was born May 6, 1820, in Worcester, Md. He served in the state legislature of Maryland in 1843, and also in 1849, when he was elected speaker. In 1851 he was chosen president of the board of public works of the state; and was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1853 to 1855.

FRANKLIN, MESHACK, state senator, congressman. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1807 to 1815. He served in the house of commons of that state in 1800; and in the state senate in 1828 and 1829. He died Dec. 18, 1839, in Surry county, N. C.

FRANKLIN, ROBERT STILLMAN, state senator, was born Aug. 4, 1836, in Newport, R. I. For many years he has been secretary of the board of health of his native city; president of the common council, and for four terms was its mayor. He served with distinction for two years in the Rhode Island state senate.

FRANKLIN, ROSS B., journalist, poet, was born Dec. 8, 1863, in Boston, Mass. He has traveled extensively in Mexico as a newspaper correspondent, and was a special correspondent for New York papers during the late Chilean war. He is also a poet of acknowledged excellence.

FRANKLIN, SAMUEL RHOADS, naval officer, was born Aug. 25, 1825, in York, Pa. In 1841 he was appointed a midshipman; served in the Mexican war; was a commander during the civil war; and in 1880 was promoted to commodore. In 1885 he became rear admiral; and a few years later was placed on the retired list.

FRANKLIN, THOMAS LEVERING, clergyman, author, was born April 10, 1822, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is an episcopal clergyman of western New York, and more recently of Philadelphia. His writings include an important work on The Creed, and several tractates on Divorce.

FRANKLIN, WALTER M., railroad president, was born April 26, 1852, in Lancaster City, Pa. Since 1890 he has been president of the Lancaster, Oxford and Southern railroad.

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM, governor, was born in 1729 in Philadelphia, Pa. He was the last royal governor of New Jersey. He published several political works. He died Nov. 17, 1813, in England.

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM BUEL, soldier, manufacturer, was born Feb. 27, 1823, in York, Pa. He served through the Mexican and civil wars, and was in the regular service when he resigned in 1866. He was brevetted brigadier-general and major-general for gallant services during the war. For many years he was president of the Colt Arms company of Hartford, Conn. He was president of the National Home for Disabled Soldiers in 1880-87.

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM M., lawyer, legislator, was born Feb. 13, 1820, in Monroe county, N. C. On his retirement from the Indiana legislature he was elected prosecutor of the seventh judicial circuit. Two years later he was elected judge of the common pleas court for the district composed of the counties of Greene, Owen, Sullivan and Clay, serving four years. In 1860 he was again elected to the same position, and in 1870 elected circuit judge of his district.

FRANKLIN, WILLIAM TEMPLE, author. He accompanied his grandfather to Paris, acting as his secretary. He published editions of Franklin's works. He died May 25, 1823, in Paris, France.

FRANTZ, MRS. VIRGINIA, educator, poet, was born in 1838 in Brandon, Miss. For many years she has been engaged in educational work; and is the author of a volume entitled Ina Greenwood and Other Poems.

FRASER, CHARLES, artist, was born Aug. 20, 1782, in Charleston, S. C. He produced many landscape and genre pictures. In 1857 his works were exhibited in Charleston. He died Oct. 5, 1860, in Charleston, S. C.

FRASER, PHILIP, lawyer, jurist, was born in Pennsylvania. He adopted the profession of the law and settled at Jacksonville, Fla.; and in 1862 was appointed United States judge for the northern district of Florida.

FRASER, THOMAS BOONE, jurist, state senator, was born Oct. 27, 1825, in Sumter county, S. C. In 1878 he was elected judge of the third judicial district of South Carolina; in 1877 was elected state senator.

FRAZER, DOUGLAS, soldier, author, was born in 1836 in Massachusetts. He was a colonel in the federal army during the civil war, brevetted brigadier-general of volunteers at the close of the war, and subsequently a citizen of Somerville, Mass. He was the author of The Log of the Maryland; Perseverance Island; and Practical Boat-Sailing. He died in 1896.

FRAZEE, JOHN, sculptor, was born July 18, 1790, in Rahway, N. J. In 1834 he modeled several busts of eminent men for the library of the Boston athenæum, among which were those of Daniel Webster, Prescott, Lowell, Story, Bowditch, and T. H. Perkins. Subsequently he made busts of John Marshall, Lafayette, De Witt Clinton, John Jay, Gen. Jackson, Bishop Hobart, Dr. Stearns, and Dr. Milnor. He died Feb. 24, 1852, in Comp-ton Mills, R. I.

FRAZER, JOHN FRIES, soldier, scientist, was born July 8, 1812, in Philadelphia, Pa. He served as a soldier during the revolutionary war. In 1836 he became a state geologist; and subsequently was professor of chemistry and natural philosophy in the Philadelphia high school and other institutions. He died Oct. 12, 1872, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FRAZER, PERSIFOR, geologist, author, born July 24, 1844, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a distinguished geologist attached to the state geological survey of Pennsylvania, who has published Tables for the Determination of Minerals; and The Geology of Lancaster County.

FRAZIER, SAMUEL ROBINSON, educator, clergyman, lecturer, was born Feb. 23, 1846, in St. Clairsville, Ohio. Before graduation he enlisted three times in the union army, and each time was sent back as too young; and finally he went into the service of the Christian commission, and was with Sherman's army on the march to Atlanta. He then became a successful clergyman, and filled pastorates in Monroe, near Cincinnati; and six years later became pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church of Pittsburg. In 1879 he resigned and went to Japan. He there became acting secretary and interpreter in the American legation, and taught in the Osaka school and Imperial university at Tokio. In 1883 he became pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of Youngstown, Ohio, and is still its pastor. In 1896 he was a delegate to the pan-presbyterian council, which met at Glasgow, Scotland; and subsequently made his second tour of the world.

FRAZIER, WILLIAM C., lawyer, jurist, was born in 1776 in Lancaster, Pa. He was appointed an associate justice of the territory of Wisconsin. He died Oct. 18, 1838, in Milwaukee, Wis.

FREAR, WILLIAM HENRY, merchant, was born March 29, 1841, in Troy, N. Y. His store is the largest in Troy, N. Y.; has fifty-five departments; and is known by the attractive name of Frear's Troy Cash Bazaar.

FREDERIC, HAROLD, journalist, author, was born in 1856 in New York. He is a novelist and journalist who has been the London correspondent of the New York Times since 1884. He is the author of Marsena, and Other Stories; The Copperhead; The Lawton Girl; In the Valley; Seth's Brother's Wife; The Damnation of Theron Ware; and March Hares.

FREDERICK, BENJAMIN TODD, manufacturer, congressman, was born Oct. 5, 1835, in Fredericktown, Ohio. In 1882 he was elected a representative from Iowa to the forty-eighth congress, but only secured his seat on March 3, 1885, after a contest; and was re-elected to the forty-ninth congress as a democrat.

FREDERICK, GEORGE A., architect, was born Dec. 16, 1842, in Baltimore, Md., in which city he was educated. For many years he has been a fellow and a director in the American Institute of Architects. For over thirty years he has been actively and successfully engaged in his profession in the city of Baltimore. He was architect of the new city hall, which cost two and a half millions, and is said to be the best municipal structure in America. He was architect of the state house of Maryland, and the Maryland state house of correction; the Baltimore City college; St. James Roman catholic church; St. Pius's Roman catholic church; St. Joseph hospital; United States Marine hospital; First National bank of Baltimore; and a score of other public buildings of Baltimore.

FREDET, PETER, clergyman, author, was born in 1801 in France. He was a Roman catholic priest who came from France to America in 1831, and was professor in St. Mary's seminary at Baltimore from that date until his death. He is the author of Ancient History; Modern History; Original Texts and Translations of the Bible; Treatise on the Eucharistic Mystery; Lay Baptism; Inspiration and Canon of Scripture; Interpretation of Scripture; Doctrine of Exclusive Salvation; Necessity of Baptism; and Effect of Baptism. He died in 1856 in Ellicott's Mills, Md.

FREEDLEY, EDWIN TROXELL, journalist, author, was born July 28, 1827, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1845 he studied law at Harvard college; then moved to Cincinnati; and in 1851 settled in Philadelphia. For ten years he published The Manufacturers' Gazette. He is the author of Practical Treatise on Business; The Business Man's Legal Adviser; Leading Pursuits and Leading Men; Philadelphia and Its Manufactures; Opportunities for Industry; Common Sense in Business; Home Comforts; and other works.

FREEDLEY, JOHN, lawyer, businessman, congressman, was born May 22, 1793, in Norristown, Pa. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1847 to 1851. He died Dec. 8, 1851.

FREEMAN, ALICE ELVIRA, educator, college president, was born Feb. 21, 1855, in Colesville, N. Y. She was one of the pioneers when the university of Michigan opened its doors to women. In 1882 she became president of Wellesley college.

FREEMAN, BARNARDUS, clergyman, author, was born in 1660. He was a Dutch reformed clergyman of Long Island who came to America in 1700 and was especially noted for his influence over the Indians. He was the author of De Spizel der Self Kennis (Mirror of Self-Knowledge); and De Weegshale der Gerade Gods (Balance of God's Grace). He died January, 1743, in New Utrecht, L. I.

FREEMAN, CHAPMAN, naval officer, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 8, 1832, in Philadelphia, Pa. He entered the navy as assistant paymaster in 1863. He was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-fourth congress; re-elected to the forty-fifth congress as a republican.

FREEMAN, CHESTER HAYDEN, educator, lawyer, jurist, was born Feb. 28, 1822, in Williamstown, N. Y. He has been very prominent in educational affairs; has been county superintendent of schools in New York and Michigan. He has attained success as a lawyer of Bay City, Mich., where he has been justice of the peace and prosecuting attorney of his county.

FREEMAN, DANIEL, capitalist, philanthropist, was born June 30, 1837, in Canada. He is now the owner of the Freeman block in Los Angeles, and is connected with the Continuous Brick Kiln company. During 1892-95 he was president of the local chamber of commerce.

FREEMAN, DOSSIE C., poet, was born Feb. 24, 1872, in Bainbridge, Ohio. He is the author of a number of meritorious poems.

FREEMAN, FLORENCE, sculptor, was born in 1836 in Boston, Mass. In 1862 she opened a studio in Rome, where she has spent her professional life. She has executed several bas-reliefs of Dante; a bust of Sandalphon; The Sleeping Child; Thekla, or the Tangled Skein; and several chimney-pieces, one of which, Children and the Yule Log and Fireside Spirits, was at the centennial exhibition in Philadelphia, in 1876.

FREEMAN, FORTUNATUS, sea-captain, was born in England. He came to the United States at an early age, first commanded vessels sailing from Baltimore, and was subsequently commander of the ships Sea, Marmion, Resolute, Guy Mannering, and Silas Wright, all of New York. He died July 22, 1874, in New York city.

FREEMAN, FREDERICK, clergyman, educator, author, was born in 1800 in Sandwich, Mass. He was an episcopal clergyman and educator who was a presbyterian minister in the earlier portion of his career. He was the author of History of Cape Cod; Annals of Barnstable County; Freeman Genealogy; and Civilization and Barbarism illustrated by Especial Reference to Metacomet and the Extinction of his Race. He died in 1883 in Sandwich, Mass.

FREEMAN, GEORGE WASHINGTON, protestant episcopal bishop, was born June 13, 1789, in Sandwich, Mass. He was elected missionary bishop of Arkansas and the Indian Territory, and was consecrated in St. Peter's church, Philadelphia, in 1844. He died April 29, 1858, in Little Rock, Ark.

FREEMAN, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born April 22, 1759, in Charlestown, Mass. He was the first clergyman in the United States to bear the name unitarian. His Sermons and Charges were published in 1832. He died Nov. 14, 1835, in Newton, Mass.

FREEMAN, JAMES C., planter, congressman, was born April 1, 1820, in Jones county, Ga. He was elected to the forty-third congress, serving on the committee on land claims.

FREEMAN, JAMES MIDWINTER, clergyman, author, was born in 1827 in New York. He is a methodist clergyman of New York city who published many books for children under the pseudonym Robert Ranger. Other works of his include Illustration in Sunday-School Teaching; Handbook of Bible Manners and Customs; Short History of the English Bible; and Book of Books.

FREEMAN, JOHN D., congressman, was born in New Jersey. He removed to Mississippi; and was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1851 to 1853.

FREEMAN, JONATHAN, congressman, was born in 1745. He was a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1797 to 1801; and from 1789 to 1797 was a state councilor. He died in 1808.

FREEMAN, NATHANIEL, soldier, physician, congressman, was born April, 1741, in Dennis, Mass. He performed various services in the legislature and as a brigadier-general of militia. He was also a judge of probate for forty-seven years, and a judge of the common pleas for thirty years. He was a member of congress from Massachusetts from 1795 to 1799. He died Sept. 20, 1827, in Sandwich, Mass.

FREEMAN, SAMUEL, lawyer, jurist, author, was born June 15, 1743, in Portland, Maine. He was a member of the provincial congress in 1775; of the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1776 and 1778; and in 1775, on the reorganization of the courts, was appointed clerk, and held that office forty-five years. He was register of probate until commissioned judge in 1804, continuing until 1820; was postmaster of Portland from 1776 to 1805; and an efficient friend of Bowdoin college. He published The Town Officer; The Massachusetts Justice; and Probate Directory. He edited the Journal of Rev. Thomas Smith in 1821. He died Sept. 2, 1831, in Portland, Maine.

FREEMAN, WILLIAM, farmer, manufacturer, lawyer, was born Nov. 17, 1822, in Portland, Maine. During 1861-68 he was deputy collector for the port of Cherryfield, Maine; and was also inspector for measuring vessels. During 1880-85 he was a member of the Maine legislature. He has held various offices of trust in his town, county and state; and since 1891 has been a member of the Farmers' National congress, under appointments and commissions from the governors of Maine; and is the vice-president of that body for the state of Maine; and for two years was its treasurer. He has been a successful lawyer, manufacturer of lumber, and is now interested in agricultural pursuits. While deputy collector of customs he seized a blockade runner in the employ of the confederacy. He is the author of a work on the life and services of his grandfather, Samuel Freeman.

FREEMAN, WILLIAM GRIGSBY, soldier, was born in 1815 in Virginia. He was chief of staff to Gen. Scott, commanding the army headquarters at New York. He was brevetted major in 1847, and lieutenant-colonel in 1848. He died Nov. 12, 1866, in Cornwall, Pa.

FREEMAN, WILLIAM L., physician, surgeon, legislator, was born Sept. 3, 1856, in Page county, Iowa. He has attained eminence in his profession in the state of Washington at La Center; and in 1897-98 served with distinction as a member of the state legislature.

FREER, CHARLES H., elocutionist, poet, was born Jan. 14, 1849, in Washington county, Wis. He is a painter and decorator of Blue Earth, Minn. Most of his writings are of an elocutionary style, composed purposely for recitations and character speaking. His poems have received extensive publication in the periodical press. In 1892 appeared a volume of his poems from the press of the American Publishers' association, entitled The Missionary, which has received high praise from the press and public generally. Charles H. Freer is often called the poet-soldier, and is a universal favorite of the old veterans down in Blue Earth county, Minn. He is a fine elocutionist and recites some of his poems at public entertainments.

FREER, FREDERICK W., artist, was born June 16, 1849, in Chicago, Ill. He studied at the Royal Academy of Fine Arts of Munich, and has become distinguished as a genre and portrait painter.

FRELIGH, LOUIS HENRY, composer, was born July 1, 1838, in Mechanicsville, N. Y. He is the author of about fifty piano pieces and songs; and is a successful pianist of St. Louis, Mo.

FRELINGHUYSEN, FREDERICK, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born April 13, 1753, in New Jersey. He was captain of a volunteer corps of artillery at the battles of Trenton and Monmouth, and it is said that it was he who killed Rhalles, the Hessian commander at Trenton. He was a senator in congress from 1793 to 1796. He died April 13, 1804.

FRELINGHUYSEN, FREDERICK THEODORE, lawyer, United States senator, was born Aug. 4, 1817, in Millstown, N. J. He was appointed attorney general of New Jersey in 1861, and reappointed in 1866. He was subsequently appointed a senator in congress from New Jersey to fill a vacancy; and was re-elected to the senate for the term ending in 1875. He was again re-elected to the senate for the unexpired term ending in 1877; and in 1881 was appointed secretary of state in the cabinet of President Arthur. He died May 20, 1885, in Newark, N. J.

FRELINGHUYSEN, JOHN, was born in 1727 in Three Mile Run, N. J. He undertook the education of young men for the ministry, and to his labors in this direction Queen's college, now Rutgers, is largely indebted for its establishment. He died in September, 1754, in Long Island.

FRELINGHUYSEN, JOHN, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born March 21, 1776, near Millstone, N. J. For many years he was a member of the state council, and for fifteen years was surrogate of his county. During the war of 1812 he was promoted brigadier-general. He died April 10, 1833, in Millstone, N. J.

FRELINGHUYSEN, THEODORE, lawyer, United States senator, was born March 28, 1787, in Millstown, N. J. He was attorney general of New Jersey from 1818 to 1829; a presidential elector in 1829; and a senator in congress from New Jersey from 1829 to 1835. He was chancellor of the university of New York from 1839 to 1850. He was the candidate of the Whig party for vice-president upon the ticket with Henry Clay; and in 1850 was elected president of Rutgers college, where he officiated until his death. He died April 12, 1862, in New Brunswick.

FREMONT, MRS. JESSIE BENTON, author, was born in 1824 in Virginia. She is a resident of Los Angeles; and the author of The Story of the Guard, a Chronicle of the War; A Year of American Travel; Souvenirs of My Time; Sketch of Senator Benton; Far West Sketches; and Will and the Way Stories.

FREMONT, JOHN CHARLES, soldier, author, was born Jan. 21, 1813, in Savannah, Ga. He was a famous soldier and politician who in 1856 was the first republican candidate for the presidency, and served during the civil war as a major-general in the federal army. He was the author of Report of the Exploring Expedition to the Rocky Mountains in 1842, and to Oregon and Northern California in 1843-44; Frémont's Explorations; and Memoirs of My Life. He died in 1890.

FRENCH, A. C., lawyer, governor, was born in New Hampshire. He was for several years the president of the board of trustees of McEndree college, Ill., and professor of law in that institution. He was governor of Illinois from 1846 to 1853. He died Sept. 4, 1864, in Lebanon, Ill.

FRENCH, ALICE, author, was born March 19, 1850, in Andover, Mass. She is a writer of novels and short stories whose home has been in Davenport, Iowa, and also in Arkansas. She is the author of Knitters in the Sun; Otto the Knight, and other Trans-Mississippi Stories; Stories of a Western Town; An Adventure in Photography; and Expiation.

FRENCH, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, author, was born June 8, 1799, in Richmond, Va. He was a writer of New Orleans and subsequently of New York city; and the author of Biographia Americana; Memoirs of Eminent Female Writers; Historical Collections of Louisiana; History of the Iron Trade in the United States; and Historical Annals of North America. He died May 30, 1877, in New York city.

FRENCH, C. E. G., lawyer, jurist. He was an early emigrant to California, and in 1875 was appointed from that state as chief justice for the United States court for the territory of Utah.

FRENCH, CARLOS, manufacturer, congressman, was born Aug. 6, 1835, in Seymour, Conn. In 1859 he undertook the manufacture of car springs in Seymour, Conn., and has gradually acquired an interest in a variety of other profitable manufactures in that vicinity and the state. He was a member of the Connecticut house of representatives in 1860 and 1868; and was elected to the fiftieth congress as a democrat.

FRENCH, CHARLES GRAFTON WILBERTON, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born Aug. 22, 1820, in Berkeley, Mass. He was for many years trustee of the state library of Sacramento, Cal.; was a representative in the state legislature in 1872; and in 1875 was appointed chief justice of the supreme court of Arizona, and was reappointed in 1880.

FRENCH, DANIEL CHESTER, sculptor, was born April 20, 1850, in Exeter, N. H. His sculptures include The Minute Man of Concord, an heroic statue in bronze, which was unveiled in Concord in 1875; The May Queen; Elsie Venner; The Waking of Endymion; and a life-size statue of Gen. Lewis Cass, for the National Memorial gallery at Washington.

FRENCH, EDWIN RUTHVEN, clergyman, state senator, was born Dec. 13, 1828, in Chesterville, Maine. He has served two terms as a member of the Maine state senate.

FRENCH, EZRA B., congressman, was born in New Hampshire. He became secretary of state of Maine; and was a representative from Maine to the thirty-sixth congress. He was also a member of the peace congress of 1861; and was appointed second auditor of the United States treasury. He died April 24, 1880.

FRENCH, FRANCIS ORMOND, banker, was born Sept. 12, 1837, in Chester, N. H. In 1867 he was a member of the banking firm of Foote and French; and in 1888 became president of the Manhattan Trust company of New York city.

FRENCH, GEORGE BRADFORD, manufacturer, lawyer, jurist, was born July 28, 1853, in Randolph, Mass. His father, Calvin French, was for more than forty years a leading manufacturer of shoes and prominent in local affairs. His education was acquired in the public schools of his town, the Chautauqua course at the Boston University Law school, and in the office of Judge Charles J. McIntire. From 1873 to 1880 Mr. French was associated with his father in manufacturing, but since 1885 has practiced law; and since 1887 has been connected with the law department of the city of Cambridge. In local affairs he has gained prominence, having served several years as one of the trustees of the public library, as collector of taxes, and as special justice. He was one of the organizers in 1891 of the Commercial club, and has ever since acted as its secretary, and holds that position in several other societies. In politics he is a republican, and in 1882, 1883 and 1884 was the chairman of the town committee.

FRENCH, GEORGE H., merchant, state senator, was born Jan. 18, 1820, in Junius, N. Y. For awhile he was engaged in educational work; and in 1848 became a merchant at Homer, Mich. He has filled numerous local offices, and has taken a prominent part in the public affairs of his city, county and state. During 1861-64 he served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state senate from Calhoun county; and while in the senate he introduced the first resolution to free the slaves as a war measure. He also introduced the resolution which resulted in the roll of honor, a lasting record of the soldiers who died for the union.

FRENCH, GEORGE HAZEN, educator, author, was born March 19, 1841, in Onondaga county, N. Y. Since 1878 he has been curator of the museum of the southern Illinois State Normal university of Carbondale, Ill. He is the author of Butterflies of Eastern United States, besides a great many articles contributed to leading entomological journals.

FRENCH, HENRY FLAGG, banker, lawyer, jurist, college president, author, was born Aug. 14, 1813, in Chester, N. H. He was appointed assistant district attorney for Suffolk county in 1862, and held the office until 1865, when he was elected the first president of the Massachusetts Agricultural college. In 1876 he was appointed assistant secretary of the United States treasury, at Washington, and continued in that office under successive administrations. In 1857 he published a treatise on Farm Drainage.

FRENCH, HENRY WILLARD, lecturer, author, was born in 1853 in Connecticut. He is a lecturer and miscellaneous writer of Boston; and the author of Art and Artists in Connecticut; Our Boys in China; Our Boys in India; Through Arc-tics and Tropics; Gems of Genius; Nuna the Brahmin Girl; Lance of Kehama; Oscar Peterson; Colonel Thorndike's Adven-tures; and the novels, The Only One; Castle Foam; and Ego.

FRENCH, JOHN R., journalist, public official, congressman, was born May 28, 1819, in Gilmanton, N. H. He removed to Ohio in 1854, and there edited newspapers called the Telegraph, the Press, and the Cleveland Leader. He was elected to the Ohio legislature in 1858 and 1859; and in 1861 was appointed a government clerk in Washington. In 1864 he was a tax commissioner for North Carolina. He was a delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1867; and was elected a representative from North Carolina to the fortieth congress as a republican.

FRENCH, JOHN RAYMOND, educator, was born April 21, 1825, in Pulaski, N. Y. In 1849 he graduated from Union college; and subsequently attained success in educational work. In 1859 he was admitted to the bar, and began the practice of his profession in Mexico, N. Y. In 1864 he was called to the chair of mathematics in Genesee college of Lima, N. Y., which was subsequently merged into the Syracuse university; and since 1872 until his death he was dean of its College of Liberal Arts.

FRENCH, JOHN WILLIAM, educator, clergyman, author, was born in 1810 in Connecticut. He was an episcopal clergyman of Washington in 1842-56, and from the latter date till his death professor of ethics at West Point. He was the author of a work on Practical Ethics. He died July 8, 1871, in West Point, N. Y.

FRENCH, MRS. L. VIRGINIA [SMITH], educator, author, was born in 1830 in Virginia. She is a writer and educator of Memphis; and the author of Wind Whispers, a collection of poems; Legend of the South; Iztalixo, a Tragedy; and My Roses, the Romance of a June Day. She died March 31, 1881, in McMinnville, Tenn.

FRENCH, MANSFIELD, clergyman, educator, college president, journalist, was born Feb. 21, 1810, in Manchester, Vt. He was the founder of Marietta college, Granville Female seminary, and principal of Circleville Female college, Ohio. He was president of the Xenia Female college and agent for Wesleyan university. He died March 15, 1876, in Pear-salls, L. I.

FRENCH, RICHARD, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in Kentucky. He became a prominent judge in that state, and the town of Frenchburg was named for him. He was a member of the legislature from Clark county in 1820 and 1822; a presidential elector for Jackson in 1829; and was a representative in congress from 1835 to 1837; and again from 1847 to 1849.

FRENCH, SAMUEL GIBBS, soldier, planter, was born Nov. 22, 1818, in Gloucester county, N. J. In 1843 he graduated from the United States Military academy. He was a lieutenant in the third regiment of the United States artillery in the war with Mexico; became a captain in the general staff in 1848; resigned in 1856; and then became a planter near Greenville, Miss. He was a major-general in the confederate army during the civil war; and served gallantly in thirty-five battles. He now lives in Pensacola, Fla.

FRENCH, SEWARD, lawyer, was born Feb. 28, 1856, in East Bloomfield, N. Y. He was educated in the common schools and prepared for Hamilton college at the Canandaigua academy. He became master in the public schools; was deputy sheriff, and obtained prominence as a detective. As a lawyer he soon attained success, especially in criminal cases, in which he has gained a national reputation. He is one of the foremost lawyers of North Dakota at Milnor. He has successfully defended three homicide cases; and always shows tact and tenacity in his profession.

FRENCH, THOMAS N., journalist, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 14, 1837, in Randolph, Mass. In 1884 he founded The Commercial Advertiser and Gazette of Lafayette, Ind., of which he was editor and owner; and in 1886 became the editor and owner of The Times of Alexandria, Ind. He is a successful lawyer of Alexandria; and in 1894 was elected justice of the peace.

FRENCH, WILLIAM A., lumber merchant, manufacturer, legislator, was born March 2, 1849, in Pelham, Ontario, Canada. During 1882-83 he served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature. He has attained success as a lumber merchant and manufacturer at Dundee, Mich. In 1894 he was appointed state land commissioner by Governor John T. Rich; and has since been nominated and elected twice to the same position, his last term expiring on Jan. 1, 1899.

FRENCH, WILLIAM HENRY, soldier, author, was born Jan. 13, 1815, in Baltimore, Md. He was an officer who served in the army of the United States during the Mexican, Seminole, and civil wars. His only published work is a manual of instruction for Field Artillery. He died March 20, 1881, in Baltimore, Md.

FRENEAU, PHILIP, journalist, author, poet, was born Jan. 2, 1752, in New York city. He was the author of Poems of Philip Freneau, written chiefly during the Late War (1786); Poems Written between the Years 1768 and 1794; Poems Written and Published during the American Revolution; and Collection of Poems on American Affairs. Among his prose writings are, The Philosopher of the Forest; and Essays by Robert Slender. He died Dec. 18, 1832, near Freehold, N. J.

FREW, CALVIN HAMILL, lawyer, legislator, was born Nov. 30, 1836, in Cleveland, Ohio. He received his education in the common schools and the Beaver academy; and attended the Vermillion institute of Haysville, Ohio, for one year. He entered educational work and was principal of several schools in Illinois; and attained success in educational work. He served as a representative in the twenty-sixth, twenty-seventh, and thirty-first general assemblies of Illinois with distinction. In 1873-74 he was alderman of Paxton, Ill.; and in 1896 was again elected to the same office, with the largest majority ever attained before.

FREY, ALBERT ROMER, author, was born in 1858, in New York. He is a writer of New York city upon Shakespearean and dramatic topics, who has also published a work upon Sobriquets and Nicknames.

FREY, JOSEPH, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1827 to 1831.

FREY, JOSEPH SAMUEL CHRISTIAN FREDERICK, missionary, clergyman, author, was born in 1773, in Germany. He was for some ten years a presbyterian minister and subsequently a baptist preacher, especially active as a missionary to the Jews. He was the author of Narrative of My Life; Hebrew Bible; Hebrew Grammar; Judah and Israel; Joseph and Benjamin; The Passover; and Scripture Types. He died June 5, 1850, in Pontiac, Mich.

FRICK, CHARLES, physician, author, was born Aug. 8, 1823, in Baltimore, Md. In 1847 he organized the Maryland Medical institute; and subsequently filled chairs in various medical institutions. He was the author of a volume on Renal Diseases. He died March 25, 1860, in Baltimore, Md.

FRICK, HENRY, journalist, congressman, was born in 1795, in Northumberland county, Pa. He became an editor of a newspaper at Milton; served for three sessions in the state legislature; and was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania. He died March 1, 1844, in Washington, D. C.

FRICK, JOHN HENRY, soldier, educator, legislator, author, was born March 13, 1845, in Clay county, Mo. He served as a soldier in the civil war; and from 1871 to the present time has been professor of mathematics and natural science.

FRIEDLEY, GEORGE W., soldier, lawyer, state senator, was born Jan. 1, 1840, in Harrison county, Ind. He entered the army as a private in company K, fourth Iowa infantry; and he was immediately elected first lieutenant. In 1870 he was elected to the lower house of the legislature. He served through a term of four years as senator.

FRIES, GEORGE, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was elected a representative in congress from Ohio from 1845 to 1847, and for a second term ending in 1849. He died Nov. 13, 1866.

FRIEZE, HENRY SIMMONS, educator, author, was born Sept. 15, 1817, in Boston, Mass. He was a professor of Latin in the university of Michigan from 1854 until his death. He published editions of Quintilian and Virgil's Æneid, and was the author of The Story of Giovanni Dupré. He died Sept. 7, 1889, in Ann Arbor, Mich.

FRINK, JOHN, physician, justice, was born Sept. 7, 1731, in Rutland, Mass. He was a member of the convention that framed the constitution of Massachusetts, and the first president of the Worcester County Medical society. He died in 1807, in Rutland, Mass.

FRISBIE, LEVI, clergyman, author, was born July 6, 1748, in Branford, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman of Ipswich, Mass., who published Sermons and Orations. He died in 1806, in Ipswich, Mass.

FRISBIE, LEVI, educator, author, was born Sept. 15, 1783, in Ipswich, Mass. He was a tutor and professor at Harvard college from 1805 till his death; and the author of Miscellaneous Writings of Professor Frisbie, edited with Memoir by Andrews Norton. He died in 1822.

FRISBY, EDGAR, educator, astronomer, author, was born May 22, 1837, in England. He was sent to California by the United States government to observe the total solar eclipse on Jan. 11, 1880. His principal work is the computation of the orbit of the great comet of 1882.

FRISTOE, EDWARD T., soldier, educator, was born Dec. 16, 1830, in Rappahannock county, Va. In 1860 he was called to the professorship of mathematics and astronomy in the state university of Missouri. Two years later he entered the confederate army as assistant adjutant-general, and was constantly promoted.

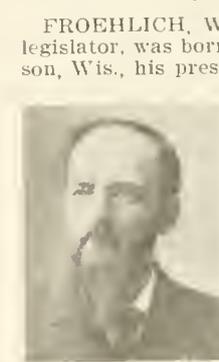

FRITSCHER, CONRAD SIGMUND, educator, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 2, 1833, in Bavaria. He has published Iowa and Missouri, a controversial pamphlet, and a number of essays, sermons, etc. With his brother, he has edited, since 1876, Kirchliche Zeitschrift, a theological bimonthly magazine.

FRITSCHER, GOTTFRIED LEONHARD WILHELM, educator, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 19, 1836, in Bavaria. He is a lutheran clergyman who came from Germany to the United States in 1857, and has been professor of theology in the seminary at Mendota, Ill., since that time. He has published Meditations on the Passion of Christ; and History of Protestant Missions among North American Indians in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries.

FRITTER, ENOCH ABRAM, educator, lecturer, was born May 25, 1855, near Lancaster, Ohio. In 1869 he moved to Illinois; and in 1872 began his career as a teacher. In 1884 he entered the Illinois State Normal university, from which institution he graduated in 1889; and in 1892 received the degree of A. B. from Findlay college of Ohio. He was superintendent of city schools in Assumption, Warren and Monticello, Ill.; principal of the normal department of Findlay college; and is now superintendent of city schools of Normal, Ill. As an instructor in teachers' institutes he has been eminently successful; and has lectured extensively on educational subjects.

FROEHLICH, WILLIAM H., merchant, legislator, was born June 22, 1857, in Jackson, Wis., his present home. He received his education in the public, private and parochial schools of his native town, and graduated from the Spencerian Business college of Milwaukee, Wis. For several years he was employed in Milwaukee, and since 1880 has been a dealer in general merchandise and grain in his native city. He was postmaster during 1881-93; has been a justice of the peace since 1887; and a member of the school board since 1891. Since 1893 he has been town clerk; was elected a member of the assembly of the Wisconsin state legislature in 1894, and received the re-election in 1896. During his second term he was chairman of the dairy and food committee, and was very active in passing important dairy and pure food laws.

FROELICH, SOLOMON, clergyman, author, was born May 29, 1750, in Red Hook, N. Y. He was the author of The Trial of Universal Charity by a Jury; and other religious works. He died Oct. 8, 1827, in New Jersey.

FROMENTIN, ELIGIUS, lawyer, jurist, United States senator. He was a senator of the United States from Louisiana from 1813 to 1819; and in 1821 was judge of the criminal court of New Orleans, and was appointed judge of the western district of Florida. He died Oct. 6, 1822, in New Orleans, La.

FRONABARGER, BENJAMIN FRANKLIN, educator, clergyman, college president, was born March 10, 1860, in Butler county, Ala. He received his education at the Masonic Male and Female institute, and at the Eagleville college, Tennessee. He has attained success as a baptist clergyman, and has filled pastorates in four churches. Since 1885 he has been president of the Springtown Male and Female institute, Texas, and still fills that position.

FROST, CHARLES CHRISTOPHER, botanist, author, was born in 1806, in Brattleboro, Vt. He devoted his leisure hours to astronomy, geology, mineralogy, meteorology, and botany, especially the last named study, to which he gave the last half of his life. He was joint author with Edward Tuckerman of a Catalogue of Plants growing without Cultivation within Thirty Miles of Amherst College. He died in 1880.

FROST, GEORGE, jurist, was born April 26, 1720, in New Castle, N. H. He was judge of the court of common pleas of Stafford county from 1773 to 1791; was for many years chief justice; and was a delegate to the continental congress from 1777 to 1779, and councilor from 1781 to 1784. He died June 21, 1796, in Durham, N. H.

FROST, JOEL, congressman, was born in New York. He served in the state assembly in 1806 and 1808; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1823 to 1825.

FROST, JOHN, soldier, jurist, was born May 5, 1738, in Kittery, Maine. He served in the revolutionary war, and attained the rank of colonel. He was appointed one of the justices of the court of sessions in York county, Maine, and was a member of the council of the governor of Massachusetts. He died in July, 1810, in Kittery, Maine.

FROST, JOHN, educator, author, was born Jan. 26, 1800, in Kennebunk, Maine. He was an educator of Philadelphia; and the author of Beauties of English History; Beauties of French History; Wild Scenes in a Hunter's Life; Pioneer Mothers in the West; The Presidents of the United States; Pictorial History of the United States; and History of the World. He died Dec. 28, 1859, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FROST, MARGARET FULTON AL-CORN, educator, philanthropist, was born in 1809, in Ireland. She attained success in educational work as principal of the Westerly academy, Rhode Island; and as principal of the Seabury seminary of New York city. She was a philanthropist, and a pioneer for woman's advancement; was one of the first women of her time to obtain a classical education, and throughout her life worked for temperance, peace and social purity. She died in 1891.

FROST, RICHARD GRAHAM, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 29, 1851, in St. Louis, Mo. He was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a democrat.

FROST, RUFUS SMITH, merchant, state senator, congressman, was born July 18, 1826, in Marlborough, N. H. He was state senator in 1871 and 1872; and was a member of the governor's council in 1873 and 1875. He was for many years a director of the North National bank of Boston, and a trustee of the Boston Five Cent Savings bank. In 1874 he was elected a representative from Massachusetts to the forty-fourth congress.

FROST, WILLIAM GOODELL, educator, clergyman, college president, was born July 2, 1854, in Le Roy, N. Y. During 1879-91 he was professor of Greek in the Oberlin college; and since 1892 has been president of Berea college, Ky.

FROTHINGHAM, ELLEN, author, was born March 25, 1835, in Boston, Mass. She has published several fine translations from Lessing, Auerbach, Goethe, and Grillparzer.

FROTHINGHAM, JAMES, painter, was born in 1781, in Charlestown, Mass. His works had sale chiefly in New York and Salem. His copy of Stuart's Washington was much admired, and his original portraits were praised for fidelity of coloring. He died Jan. 6, 1864.

FROTHINGHAM, NATHANIEL LANGDON, clergyman, author, was born July 23, 1793, in Boston, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of Boston whose writing displays singular grace and refinement. He was the author of Deism or Christianity; Sermons in the Order of a Twelvemonth; and Metrical Pieces, Original and Translated. He died April 3, 1870, in Boston, Mass.

FROTHINGHAM, OCTAVIUS BROOKS, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 26, 1822, in Boston, Mass. He was at one period art critic for the New York Tribune. He was the author of Stories from the Lips of the Teacher; Stories from the Old Testament; The Religion of Humanity; The Cradle of the Christ; Memoir of W. H. Channing; The Safest Creed; Beliefs of the Unbelievers; Creed and Conduct; The Spirit of the New Faith; The Rising and the Setting Faith; Visions of the Future; Lives of Gerrit Smith, George Ripley, Theodore Parker; History of New England Transcendentalism; Boston Unitarianism; and Recollections and Impressions. He died in 1895.

FROTHINGHAM, RICHARD, journalist, author, was born Jan. 31, 1812, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a journalist and local historian of Charlestown, Mass.; and the author of History of the Siege of Boston; The Rise of the Republic; History of Charlestown; Life of General Joseph Warren; and The Command in the Battle of Bunker Hill. He died Jan. 20, 1880, in Charlestown, Mass.

FROTHINGHAM, WASHINGTON, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 28, 1822, in Fonda, N. Y. He is a presbyterian clergyman of Albany; and the author of Atheos, or Tragedies of Unbelief; The Martel Papers; and Scenes in the Reign of Terror.

FRUITNIGHT, JOHN HENRY, physician, author, was born Nov. 9, 1851, in New York city. He was among the organizers of St. John's Guild for Children, is the author of numerous papers and monographs.

FRY, CARY HARRISON, soldier, was born Aug. 20, 1813, in Garrard county, Ky. He was brevetted brigadier-general United States army in 1867, and from 1869 till his death was chief paymaster of various military divisions. He died March 5, 1873, in San Francisco, Cal.

FRY, GEORGE THOMSON, lawyer, orator, legislator, was born March 12, 1843, in Mossy Creek, Tenn. He received his education at the Halston college of New Market, Tenn. During 1861-65 he was a confederate soldier; and was in all the principal battles; and was desperately wounded and disabled for field service at the battle of Jonesboro, Ga. He was first lieutenant in company C, thirty-seventh regiment, Tennessee volunteers, C. S. A.; was promoted in 1862 to captain of company H, of the same regiment; and in 1863 was made colonel of the seventh confederate regiment. In 1866 he was admitted to the bar and practiced in Atlanta, Ga. During 1876-78 he represented Fulton county in the Georgia legislature. In 1890 he moved to Chattanooga, Tenn. He has distinguished himself as an able advocate in both civil and criminal law; is a democratic orator of renown; and celebrated as a writer on the Science of National Finance, and Political Economy.

FRY, JACOB, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1835 to 1839; and was at one time auditor-general of the state. He died Nov. 28, 1866, in Norristown, Pa.

FRY, JAMES BARNET, soldier, author, was born Feb. 22, 1827, in Carrollton, Ill. He was a colonel and brevet major-general in the United States army, and was retired from active service in 1881, and thereafter lived in New York city. He was the author of Sketch of the Adjutant-General's Department in 1775-1875; Historical and Legal Effects of Brevets in Great Britain and the United States from their Origin in 1692; Army Sacrifices; McDowell and Tyler in the Campaign of Bull Run; Operations of the Army under Buell; and New York and Conscription. He died in 1894.

FRY, JOSEPH REESE, banker, composer, author. He was largely instrumental in raising the Union League brigade at a gloomy period of the civil war. He was the author of A Life of Zachary Taylor. He died in June, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FRY, JOSHUA, soldier, was born in England. He made a map of Virginia; and in 1752 was a commissioner to treat with the Indians at Logstown. He died May 31, 1754, while conducting an expedition against the French.

FRY, SPEED SMITH, soldier, jurist, was born Sept. 9, 1817, in Mercer county, Ky. At the beginning of the civil war he organized the fourth Kentucky regiment in the national army, and served as its colonel till March 21, 1862, when he was promoted to brigadier-general of volunteers.

FRY, WILLIAM HENRY, journalist, composer, was born in August, 1815, in Philadelphia. He was editor of the Philadelphia Ledger; The Sun; and the New York Tribune. He was the author of Leonora, an opera produced at the Chestnut Street theater in 1845. He died Dec. 21, 1864, in the West Indies.

FRYE, JAMES, soldier, was born in 1709, in Andover, Mass. He served at the capture of Louisburg in 1745, and commanded the Essex regiment at the beginning of the revolution, taking an active part in the battle of Bunker Hill. He died Jan. 8, 1776.

FRYE, JOSEPH, soldier, jurist, was born March 30, 1712, in Andover, Mass. He was a justice of the peace and a member of the general court of Massachusetts, and was an ensign in Hale's regiment at the capture of Louisburg in 1745. He died in 1794, in Fryeburg, Maine.

FRYE, WILLIAM PEARCE, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Sept. 2, 1831.

He served three terms as a member of the state legislature during 1861-67; was mayor of the city of Lewiston in 1866 and 1867, and was attorney general of the state of Maine during 1867-69. In 1864 he was a presidential elector; and was a delegate to the national republican conventions of 1872, 1876, and 1880. He was elected a representative to the forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth, forty-sixth, and forty-seventh congresses as a republican. In 1881 he was elected to the United States senate to fill a vacancy; and was re-elected in 1883, in 1888, and again in 1895 for term ending in 1901.

FRYER, L. P., lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 10, 1864, in Butler, Ky. He has served as police judge of Falmouth, Ky., for two terms; and for three years was attorney of Pendleton county. In 1897 he was elected commonwealth attorney of the eighteenth judicial district, and is serving with distinction.

FRYHOFER, WILLIAM, farmer, legislator, was born Aug. 9, 1846, in Seymour, Ind. He is a successful farmer of Randolph, Kan.; and during 1886-87 served as a member of the Kansas state legislature.

FUERTES, ESTE VAN ANTONIO, civil engineer, was born May 10, 1838, in St. John's, Porto Rico, W. I. In 1861 he was assistant engineer in public works; and in 1862-63 was director of the western district of public works on the island of Porto Rico. In 1863-64 he was assistant engineer in the Croton aqueduct of New York city; and during 1864-69 was engineer to the Croton aqueduct board. In 1870-71 he was engineer in chief of the United States Ship Canal expedition to Tehuantepec and Nicaragua; and in 1871-73 was consulting engineer in New York city. During 1873-90 he was dean of the department of civil engineering of Cornell university; and since 1890 has been director of the college of civil engineering at the same university. He performed a great engineering feat, in preparing the plans for improving the sanitation of the Brazilian city of Santos, which checked yellow fever and other epidemics.

FULKERSON, ABRAM, soldier, state senator, congressman, was born in May, 1834, in Washington county, Va. He served in the confederate army from 1861 to 1865, rising to the rank of colonel. He was elected a representative in the state legislature in 1871 and 1873, and a state senator in 1877 and 1879. He was elected a representative from Virginia to the forty-seventh congress.

FULLER, ANDREW S., horticulturist, journalist, author, was born in 1828, in New York. He was a horticultural writer and journalist of New York city, and editor of Woodward's Record of Horticulture. He is the author of The Fruit Tree Culturist; The Grape Culturist; The Small Fruit Culturist; The Strawberry Culturist; Practical Forestry; The Propagation of Plants; and The Nut Culturist. He died in 1896.

FULLER, ANNA, author. She is a Boston novelist; and the author of Pratt Portraits; A Literary Courtship; Peak and Prairie; and A Venetian June.

FULLER, BENJAMIN APTHORP GOULD, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born in May, 1818, in Augusta, Maine. In 1850-54 he was judge of the municipal court; and in 1856 was a member of the state legislature. Since 1864 he has practiced his profession in Boston, Mass.

FULLER, BENONI STINSON, educator, state senator, congressman, was born Nov. 13, 1825, in Warrick county, Ind. In 1862 he was elected to the state senate, serving four years; and in 1866 and 1868 elected to the lower house of the legislature. In 1870 and 1872 he was elected to the senate for a second and third term; and was then elected a representative from Indiana to the forty-fourth and forty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

FULLER, CEYLON CANFIELD, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born June 25, 1832, in Chardon, Ohio. He is a successful lawyer of Big Rapids, Mich.; and in 1869-70 was a member of the Michigan state legislature. He has been postmaster, prosecuting attorney, judge of probate, circuit court commissioner; and in 1882 was elected judge of the twenty-seventh judicial circuit court.

FULLER, CHARLES E., lawyer, state senator, was born March 31, 1849, in Flora, Ill. As a lawyer he has filled the positions of city attorney of Belvidere, Ill., and state's attorney of Boone county. For six years he served as a representative in the general assembly of Illinois; and eight years as senator.

FULLER, EDWARD, journalist, author, was born in 1800, in New York. He is a Boston journalist, subsequently on the staff of the Providence Journal; and the author of The Complaining Millions of Men, a novel of social conditions in Boston.

FULLER, GEORGE, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1843 to 1845.

FULLER, GEORGE, artist, was born in 1822, in Deerfield, Mass. A memorial exhibition of his works was held at the Boston Museum of the Fine Arts in 1884. He died March 21, 1884, in Brookline, Mass.

FULLER, GEORGE EPHRAIM, physician, surgeon, was born Dec. 25, 1838, in Wilbraham, Mass. He graduated in 1859 from the Williston academy; and in 1863 from Amherst college. During 1861-64 he was hospital steward in the twenty-seventh regiment Massachusetts volunteer infantry; and in 1864-66 was hospital steward in the United States army, stationed at Washington, D. C.

In 1866-68 he practiced medicine in Brimfield, Mass.; and since that time has been located at Monson. In 1880-94 he was president of the Eastern Hampden Medical association, and has been president of several other medical bodies. He is the author of a number of valuable medical papers on Typhoid Fever, Diphtheria, and other diseases.

FULLER, GEORGE M., lawyer, legislator, was born in Pittsfield, Vt. He is prominent as a lawyer and district attorney of his county. He served with distinction as a member of the Vermont legislature.

FULLER, HENRY BLAKE, author, was born in 1857, in Illinois. He is the author of The Chevalier of Pensieri-Vani; The Chatelaine of La Trinité; The Cliff Dwellers; With the Procession; and The Puppet-Booth, twelve one-act plays.

FULLER, HENRY M., lawyer, United States senator, was born Jan. 3, 1820, in Bethany, Pa. In 1848 he was elected to the legislature of Pennsylvania; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1851 to 1853, and from 1855 to 1857. He died Dec. 26, 1860, in Philadelphia, Pa.

FULLER, HIRAM, journalist, author, was born about 1815, in Halifax, Mass. He was a journalist of New York city who at the outset of the civil war supported the confederate cause, and emigrated to England on that account. Subsequently he became an adventurer in Paris. He was the author of The Groton Letters; Belle Brittan on a Tour; Sparks from a Locomotive; and Grand Transformation Scenes in the United States. He died in 1880.

FULLER, HOMER TAYLOR, educator, college president, was born Nov. 15, 1838, in Lempster, N. H. In 1864 he graduated from Dartmouth college; and from the Union Theological seminary in 1869. During 1870-82 he was principal of St. Johnsbury academy, Vermont; president of the Worcester Polytechnic institute, Massachusetts, during 1882-94; and since that time has been president of the Drury college of Springfield, Mo.

FULLER, HOWARD G., educator, jurist, was born Jan. 5, 1851, in Warren county, N. Y. He has been principal of public schools of Union, Iowa, and county superintendent of Hardin county, Iowa. He has been judge of the sixth judicial circuit of South Dakota, and is now judge of the supreme court of South Dakota.

FULLER, J. C., railroad president. He is president of Hunter's Run and Slate Belt railroad.

FULLER, JEROME, jurist. He was an early emigrant to Minnesota; and in 1851 was appointed chief justice of the United States court for that territory.

FULLER, JOHN WALLACE, soldier, was born July 28, 1827, in England. He was brevetted major-general of volunteers in the port of Toledo, Ohio, by President Grant, in 1874, and reappointed in 1878. He died March 12, 1891, in Toledo, Ohio.

FULLER, LEVI KNIGHT, manufacturer, governor, was born Feb. 24, 1841, in Westmoreland, N. H. He organized in 1874, and until inaugurated governor, commanded the Fuller light battery of the Vermont National guard. He has held various town and village offices, elected to state senate in 1880, and lieutenant-governor of the state in 1886. He was president of trustees at the Vermont academy at Saxton's River, Vt., an educational institution he had largely supported. He was nominated for governor of Vermont at the republican state convention held at Burlington, Vt., June 22, 1892, and inaugurated Oct. 6, 1892.

FULLER, MELVILLE WESTON, chief justice of the United States, was born Feb. 11, 1833, in Augusta, Maine. He removed to Chicago, Ill., in 1856, where he practiced law until appointed chief justice. In 1862 he was a member of the state constitutional convention; and was a member of the state legislature from 1863 to 1865. He was appointed chief justice in 1888, confirmed July 20, 1888, and took the oath of office Oct. 8, same year.

FULLER, OLIVER FRANKLIN, druggist, was born Oct. 19, 1829, in Sherman, Conn. In 1852 he entered the drug business in Chicago, Ill., and in 1871 took into partnership Henry W. Fuller of Maine, and continued the business under the firm name of Fuller and Fuller. At the great fire of 1871 his store, comprising numbers 20-28 Market street, was the only wholesale building of any kind left standing in the city.

FULLER, ORAMEL BAUM, lumberman, legislator, was born Jan. 22, 1858, in Jersey City, N. J. In 1869 he moved to Michigan; has been justice of the peace; and served three terms as a representative in the state legislature from Ford River.

FULLER, OSCAR A., lawyer, legislator, was born Jan. 17, 1844, in Alfred, N. Y. When seventeen years of age he enlisted as a union soldier during the civil war. He has attained success as an able lawyer of Wellsville, N. Y.; and for six years was district attorney of his county. In 1894 he served with distinction as a member of the New York constitutional convention.

FULLER, PHILO C., congressman, was born Aug. 13, 1787, in New Marlborough, Mass. He was a member of the New York assembly in 1830; and a representative in congress from New York from 1833 to 1837. He was the second assistant postmaster-general from 1841 to 1843; and comptroller of New York in 1851. He died Aug. 16, 1855, in Geneva, N. Y.

FULLER, RICHARD, clergyman, author, was born April 22, 1804, in Beaufort, S. C. He was a baptist clergyman of Charleston, and subsequently of Baltimore; and the author of Argument on Baptist Close Communion; Sermons; and Scriptural Baptism. He died Oct. 20, 1876, in Baltimore, Md.

FULLER, RICHARD FREDERICK, lawyer, author, was born May 15, 1821, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a lawyer of Boston who published Visions in Verse; and Chaplain Fuller, a life of his brother Arthur. He died May 30, 1869, in Wayland, Mass.

FULLER, RICHARD HENRY, artist, was born Oct. 19, 1822, in Bradford, N. H. He had excellent natural gifts, and such a retentive memory that he is said to have made a clever copy of a Lambinet, which he had seen only for a few moments. He died Dec. 24, 1871, in Chelsea, Mass.

FULLER, SAMUEL, educator, clergyman, author, was born in 1802, in New York. He was an episcopal clergyman, professor at the Berkeley Divinity school, Middletown, Conn.; and the author of Confirmation, its Authority and Nature; and The Revelation of St. John Self-Interpreted.

FULLER, SAMUEL RICHARD, clergyman, author, was born in 1850, in Massachusetts. He is an episcopal clergyman of Massachusetts; and the author of Personality, a volume of Sermons.

FULLER, SARAH MARGARET, author, was born May 23, 1810, in Cambridgeport, Mass. Women in the Nineteenth Century was her most important work. In Rome, she married Marquis d'Ossoli, an Italian.

On her return to America with her husband and infant child, the vessel was wrecked off Fire island, and the Ossoli family perished. She died July 16, 1850, on Fire Island Beach.

FULLER, THOMAS J. D., lawyer, congressman, was born March 17, 1808, in Hardwick, Vt. He was elected state's attorney for his county for three years. He was elected a representative from Maine to the thirty-first, thirty-second, thirty-third, and thirty-fourth congresses; and in 1857 was appointed second auditor of the treasury, which office he held until 1861. He died Feb. 13, 1876, near Upper-ville, Va.

FULLER, TIMOTHY, state senator, congressman, was born July 11, 1778, in Chilmark, Mass. He was a member of the Massachusetts senate from 1813 to 1817; and speaker of the lower house in 1825. He was again a state representative in 1831; a state councilor in 1831; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1817 to 1825. He died Oct. 1, 1835, in Groton, Mass.

FULLER, WILLIAM E., lawyer, congressman, was born March 30, 1846, in Howard, Pa. He was a representative in the Iowa legislature in 1876 and 1877. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Iowa to the forty-ninth congress; and was re-elected to the fiftieth congress as a republican.

FULLER, WILLIAM K., congressman. He was a member of the assembly of New York in 1829 and 1830. At one time he was adjutant-general of the state militia; and from 1833 to 1837 a representative in congress.

FULLERTON, DAVID, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1771. He was for several years a member of the legislature of Pennsylvania; and represented that state in congress from 1819 to 1820, when he resigned. He died Feb. 1, 1843, in Greencastle, Pa.

FULLERTON, GEORGE STUART, clergyman, educator, author, was born in 1839. He is an episcopal clergyman and professor of moral philosophy in the university of Pennsylvania. He is the author of The Conception of the Infinite and the Solution of the Mathematical Antinomies, a psychological treatise; and A Plain Argument for God.

FULLERTON, WILLIAM MORTON, journalist, author, was born in 1865, in Connecticut. He was a journalist in Boston for several years, and since 1890 a member of the Paris staff of the London Times. He is the author of Cairo, a descriptive essay; and Patriotism and Science, a collection of essays.

FULMORE, ZACHARY TAYLOR, soldier, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Nov. 11, 1846, in Robeson county, N. C. He attended the country school; North Carolina Military institute, and the university of Virginia. He served as a soldier in the confederate army; was in the engagement at Fort Fisher, and from January until June, 1865, was a prisoner of war. He has been a member of the board of trustees of the Texas Institute for the Blind, county judge of Travis county for six years; and a trustee of the public schools of Austin, Tex. He is a successful lawyer; and author of a History of the Geography of Texas, and other works.

FULTON, ANDREW S., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849.

FULTON, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born April 2, 1834, in Scotland. He is an episcopal clergyman noted as an able exponent of canon law, and professor of that subject at the Episcopal Divinity school in Philadelphia. He is the author of Letters on Christian Unity; Index Canonum; The Laws of Marriage; Documentary History of the Episcopal Church in the Confederate States; The Beautiful Land, a description of Palestine; and The Chalcedonian Decree.

FULTON, JOHN H., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1833 to 1835. He died Jan. 28, 1836, in Abingdon.

FULTON, JUSTIN DEWEY, clergyman, lecturer, author, was born March 1, 1828, in Earlville, N. Y. He received a liberal education, and graduated from the university of Michigan, and from the Theological seminary of Rochester, N. Y. In 1853 he became the editor of The Gospel Banner of St. Louis, Mo. He has filled pastorates in St. Louis, Sandusky, Albany; was for ten years pastor of Tremont temple of Boston, Mass.; and thence was pastor of the Hanson place and Centennial church of Brooklyn, N. Y. He there took a prominent part in anti-Roman catholic work; became president of the Pauline propaganda; and subsequently resigned his pastorate in order to give all his time to that work in Somerville, Mass. He is a brilliant lecturer on religious subjects; and has received the appellation of the Luther of the nineteenth century. He is the author of The Roman Catholic Element in American History; The True Woman; Show Your Colors, a Story of Boston Life; The Way Out; Witnessing for the Trnth, or the Overthrow of the Papacy; and Rome in America.

FULTON, ROBERT, engineer, inventor, was born July 26, 1765, in Lancaster county, Pa. He invented a machine for spinning flax, another for making ropes, and was proprietor of the first panorama exhibited in Paris. Though others had previously conceived the idea of steam navigation, Fulton was the first who successfully realized it. The Clermont, sometimes called Fulton's Folly, launched in 1807, was the first steamboat on the Hudson river. He died Feb. 21, 1815, in New York.

FULTON, WILLIAM S., soldier, lawyer, governor, United States senator, was born June 2, 1795, in Cecil county, Md. In 1829 he was appointed secretary of the territory of Arkansas, and in 1835 governor of the same, which office he held until that territory was admitted into the union as a state, when he was elected a senator from Arkansas, serving from 1836 to 1844. He died Aug. 15, 1844, in Little Rock, Ark.

FUNK, BENJAMIN F., soldier, congressman, was born Oct. 17, 1838, in Funk's Grove, Ill. He served during the civil war as a private in the sixty-eighth Illinois infantry. He removed to Bloomington in 1869; and was elected mayor of that city in 1871, and was re-elected six times consecutively. He was elected to the fifty-third congress as a republican.

FUNKHOUSER, A. PAUL, educator, journalist, statesman, was born Dec. 10, 1853, near Dayton, Va. Although licensed to preach since he was sixteen years of age, he is best known as an educator. He founded the Shenandoah institute of Dayton, Va., and was superintendent of the Rockingham county schools for three years, winning the only Peabody silver medal given for the most efficient school work in the state. He also served as president of Western college, Iowa; and for fifteen years has been manager of the Shenandoah Valley Chautauqua assembly, which he founded. He started the State Republican in 1883. He was a delegate to the national republican convention at Chicago in 1888; presidential elector in 1892; state canvasser in 1896; and republican candidate for the state senate in 1895.

FUNSTON, C. M., journalist, jurist, was born in 1854, in Washington county, N. Y. He is the editor and owner of The Sun of Flagstaff, Ariz. He has been county judge, commissioner of immigration, and has held various other public positions of honor.

FUNSTON, EDWARD H., soldier, farmer, congressman, was born in 1836, in Clark county, Ohio. In 1861 he entered the union army as a lieutenant, and served throughout the civil war. He was a representative in the Kansas legislature in 1873-75, and in the latter year was speaker of the house. In 1880 he was elected a state senator, and was made president of the senate pro tempore. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Kansas to the forty-eighth congress, to fill a vacancy, and was re-elected to the forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, and fifty-second congresses as a republican.

FURMAN, GABRIEL, lawyer, state senator, was born Jan. 23, 1800, in Brooklyn, N. Y. In 1827 he was appointed a justice of the Brooklyn municipal court, which office he held for three years. He served as state senator in 1839-42. He published Notes, Geographical and Historical, relative to the Town of Brooklyn. He died Nov. 11, 1854, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

FURMAN, JAMES CLEMENT, educator, college president, was born Dec. 5, 1809, in Charleston, S. C. In 1843 he accepted a professorship in the Furman Theological institution. When the institution was expanded into Furman university at Greenville, S. C., he was made its president.

FURNAS, ELWOOD, educator, public official, was born Feb. 22, 1840, in Montgomery county, Ohio. He received his education in the district schools of his county; and at the age of nineteen began teaching school. He has filled all the public positions of honor in the gift of the public, including township, county, state and national public offices of honor. He was chairman of the auditing board of the Story County Farmers' Mutual Fire and Lightning association, and vice-president and director of the same; president of the Story County Farmers' institute, and organizer of the same; and since 1893 has been president of the Farmers' National alliance. He has written extensively for the leading agricultural publications in America; and has addressed various agricultural bodies and societies.

FURNASS, R. W., governor. He was governor of Nebraska from 1873 to 1875.

FURNESS, MRS. HELEN KATE ROGERS, author, was born July 26, 1837, in Philadelphia, Pa. She was a Shakespearean scholar of Philadelphia who published A Concordance to the Poems of Shakespeare. She died Oct. 30, 1883.

FURNESS, HORACE HOWARD, author, was born Nov. 2, 1833, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a distinguished Shakespearean scholar of Philadelphia, widely known in the literary world for his scholarly and exhaustive variorum editions of King Lear, Hamlet, Macbeth, Romeo and Juliet, Othello, Merchant of Venice, As You Like It, and Midsummer Night's Dream.

FURNESS, WILLIAM HENRY, clergyman, author, was born April 20, 1802, in Boston, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of Philadelphia; and from 1825 to 1875 pastor of the unitarian church in that city. A theologian of radical views, but reverent temper. He was the author of The Unconscious Truth of the Four Gospels; Jesus and His Biographers; History of Jesus; Thoughts on the Life and Character of Jesus; The Story of the Resurrection Told Once More; The Power of Spirit; Discourses; The Veil Lifted and Jesus becoming Visible; Verses; Translations and Hymns; The Faith of Jesus; and a much-admired translation of Schiller's Song of the Bell.

FURNESS, WILLIAM HENRY, artist, was born May 21, 1828, in Philadelphia, Pa. He established himself in Philadelphia as a portrait-painter, but later removed to Boston, Mass., where he attained a high rank in his profession. He died March 4, 1867, in Cambridge, Mass.

FURNISS, JOHN P., physician, surgeon, was born Sept. 24, 1841, in Columbus, Miss. In 1860 he graduated from the university of Mississippi, and received the degree of B. A. He served as assistant surgeon in the confederate service during the civil war. He has been state medical referee for the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of Newark, N. J.; member of the state board of health; and is now one of the leading physicians of Alabama, in which state he has a large practice at Selma.

FURST, CHARLES SIEGFRIED, merchant, journalist, was born in May, 1850, in Germany. In 1873 he established a large mercantile house in Jersey City, N. J.; and in 1893 he became president of the Jersey City Daily Democrat association. He has been prominently identified with every public movement for the benefit and improvement of Jersey City.

FUTHEY, JOHN SMITH, lawyer, antiquarian, author, born Sept. 3, 1820, in Chester county, Pa. He was a lawyer and antiquarian of Eastern Pennsylvania; and the author of History of Chester County; and Historical Collections of Chester County. He died in 1888.

FYAN, ROBERT W., soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 11, 1835, in Bedford county, Pa. He served in the union army during the civil war, rising to the rank of colonel; and at the close of the war was appointed circuit attorney of the fourteenth judicial circuit of Missouri. In 1866 he was elected judge of that circuit, and was re-elected in 1868, 1871 and 1880. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1875; and was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-eighth, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses as a democrat. He died July 28, 1896, in Marshfield, Mo.

GABB, WILLIAM MORE, paleontologist, author, was born Jan. 16, 1839, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1868 he undertook a survey in Santo Domingo for the Santo Domingo Land and Mining company, remaining on the island from 1869 to 1872. He published an extended memoir On the Topography and Geology of Santo Domingo. He died May 30, 1878, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GABRIELS, HENRY, educator, bishop, was born Oct. 6, 1838, in Belgium. For thirty years he was the professor of theology and president of St. Joseph seminary of Troy, N. Y. In 1892 he was consecrated bishop of Ogdensburg.

GADSDEN, CHRISTOPHER, congressman, was born in 1724 in Charleston, S. C. He was elected to the New York congress of 1765, to petition against the stamp act; and a delegate from that state to the continental congress from 1774 to 1776. He was elected governor of the state, but declined to serve on account of his age. He died Aug. 28, 1805, in Charleston, S. C.

GADSDEN, CHRISTOPHER EDWARDS, journalist, bishop, author, was born Nov. 25, 1785, in Charleston, S. C. He was elected bishop, and was consecrated in Trinity church, Boston, Mass., in 1840. He edited for several years the Gospel Messenger, published a tract on The Prayer-Book as it Is, and three valuable charges to the clergy, and an essay on the life of Bishop Dehon. He died June 24, 1852, in Charleston, S. C.

GADSDEN, JAMES, soldier, merchant, diplomat, was born May 15, 1788, in Charleston, S. C. In 1820 he was appointed inspector-general of the army, with rank of colonel. He was appointed minister to Mexico in 1853, and negotiated the Gadsden Purchase, now known as Arizona, for ten million dollars. He died Dec. 26, 1858, in Charleston, S. C.

GADSDEN, JOHN, lawyer, state legislator, was born March 4, 1787. He was a member of the South Carolina legislature, and also held the office of United States district attorney. He died Jan. 31, 1831.

GADSDEN, PHILIP HENRY, lawyer, legislator, was born Oct. 4, 1867, in Charleston, S. C. He has served with distinction as a member of the South Carolina state legislature; and is president of the Charleston Street Railway company.

GAFFNEY, MARGARET, philanthropist, was born about 1825, in Baltimore, Md. In 1852 she opened an orphan asylum in New Orleans, and gave to orphans of whatever denomination her three largest homes for children, and a home for the aged and infirm. She was the first woman in this country to be honored by the erection of a marble statue to her memory. She died Feb. 9, 1882.

GAGE, ALFRED PAYSON, educator, author, was born April 15, 1836, in Hopkinton, N. H. He is engaged in educational work, and is the author of a series of Text-Books on Physics.

GAGE, MRS. FRANCES DANA [BARKER], suffragist, lecturer, author, was born Oct. 12, 1808, in Marietta, Ohio. She was a prominent advocate of woman suffrage who lectured much on that subject as well as upon temperance and anti-slavery. She was the author of Elsie Magoon, a temperance story; Poems; Gertrude's Sacrifice; Nightcaps, a Series of Books; and Sparks Upward. She wrote much over the signature Aunt Fanny. She died Nov. 10, 1884, in Greenwich Conn.

GAGE, JOSHUA, state legislator, congressman. He was a member of the legislature from 1805 to 1808, in 1813, 1814, 1820 and 1821; a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1817 to 1819; and a state counselor in 1822 and 1823.

GAGE, LYMAN JUDSON, banker, financier, was born June 28, 1836, in Deruyter, N. Y. He became cashier of the First National bank of Chicago in 1868. Its charter expiring, the bank was reorganized in 1882, with a capital of three million dollars, and Mr. Gage was made vice-president and general manager, and in 1891 he was elected president. In 1897 he resigned the presidency of the bank in order to accept the portfolio of the United States treasury.

GAGE, MRS. MATILDA JOSLYN, suffragist, author, was born March 24, 1826, in Cicero, N. Y. She is a noted woman suffragist of Fayetteville, N. Y.; and the author of Woman's Rights Catechism; Woman as an Inventor; Woman, Church and State; and History of Woman Suffrage.

GAGE, SIMON HENRY, physiologist, author, was born May 20, 1857, in Maryland, N. Y. He is a physiologist who has been professor of physiology at Cornell university; and is the author of The Microscope and Histeology; and Anatomical Technology.

GAGE, THOMAS, soldier colonial governor, was born in 1721 in England. He was governor of Massachusetts in 1774-75. He died April 2, 1787, in England.

GAGE, WILLIAM LEONARD, clergyman, author, was born in 1832 in New Hampshire. He was a unitarian clergyman of Hartford in 1868-84. He is the author of Trinitarian Sermons to a Unitarian Congregation; Songs of War Time; Light in Darkness; Life of Carl Ritter; Studies in Bible Lands; Verses; The Home of God's People; A Leisurely Journey; Palestine, Historic and Descriptive; The Salvation of Faust; and a number of translations from the German.

GAIL, FREDERICK W., lawyer, was born Jan. 17, 1860, in Aurora, N. Y. He started in life as a newspaper reporter; and in 1882-84 was official stenographer for the first judicial district of Minnesota; and since 1884 has practiced law at Stillwater, Minn.

GAILLARD, EDWIN SAMUEL, soldier, educator, physician, journalist, was born Jan. 16, 1827, in Charleston, S. C. In 1865 he established the Richmond Medical Journal, which he removed to Louisville in 1868, and published there under the title of the Richmond and Louisville Medical Journal. In 1874 he also established the American Medical Weekly. He died Feb. 1, 1885, in Louisville, Ky.

GAILLARD, JOHN, United States senator, was born Sept. 5, 1765, in St. Stephen's, S. C. He was a senator of the United States from South Carolina from 1804 to 1826; voted for the war of 1812; and was repeatedly called to preside over the senate in the absence of the vice-president. He died Feb. 26, 1826, in Washington, D. C.

GAILLARD, THEODORE, lawyer, jurist. He was one of the earliest judges of the United States circuit court, having in 1801 been appointed chief justice of the fifth circuit. In 1813 he was appointed a district judge of the United States for Louisiana.

GAILOR, THOMAS FRANK, clergyman, bishop, was born Sept. 17, 1856, in Jackson, Miss. In 1880 he was ordained a priest, and is now assistant bishop of Tennessee.

GAINÉ, HUGH, journalist, was born in 1726 in Ireland. He began business as a printer and bookseller in New York city in 1750, and in 1752 established the Mercury, a weekly publication. He died April 25, 1807, in New York city.

GAINES, EDMUND PENDLETON, soldier, was born March 20, 1777, in Culpeper county, Va. He entered the army in 1799, and rose gradually until he was made major-general for his gallantry at Fort Erie in 1814. He remained in the army until his death. He died June 6, 1849, in New Orleans, La.

GAINES, JOHN P., soldier, congressman, governor, was born in Walton, Ky. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849; was governor of Oregon territory in 1850-53; and served as a major in the Mexican war as aid to Gen. Scott, and suffered imprisonment. He was a gallant soldier, and did valuable service while on the staff of Gen. Scott. While in congress he advocated numerous measures of importance to his state, and served on several committees. He died in 1858 in Oregon.

GAINES, JOHN WESLEY, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 24, 1861, in Nashville, Tenn. In 1892 he was elector on the Cleveland ticket and led in the ballot; afterwards became a leading exponent of free silver in his district, and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

GAINES, WESLEY J., bishop, author, was born Oct. 4, 1840, in Washington, Ga. In 1888 he was ordained bishop at Indianapolis. He is the author of a valuable work entitled African Methodism in the South.

GAINES, WILLIAM EMBRE, soldier, banker, congressman, was born Aug. 30, 1844, in Charlotte county, Va. In 1861 he enlisted as a private in company K, eighteenth Virginia regiment, and was engaged in all the battles fought by the army of Northern Virginia up to the Maryland campaign. He was elected to the Virginia state senate in 1883, and was the leader of his party in that branch three years, when he resigned. He was elected to the fiftieth congress as a republican.

GAITHER, BURGESS SIDNEY, lawyer, congressman, was born March 16, 1807, in Iredell county, N. C. He was superintendent of the mint at Charlotte, N. C.; and was a member of the state senate in 1840 and 1844. He was also a member of both sessions of the confederate congress. He died Feb. 23, 1892, in Morgantown, N. C.

GAITHER, GEORGE FRANKLIN, farmer, educator, politician, was born March 6, 1856, in Iuka, Miss. After graduating from the Iuka Male institute he taught in the public schools of Etowah county, Ala.; and in 1886 was elected county superintendent of education for that county, receiving the re-election in 1888. He is a successful farmer and populist politician; and helped to organize that party in 1891 at Cincinnati, Ohio.

GAITHER, HENRY, soldier, was born in 1751 in Montgomery county, Md. He was a captain in the revolutionary army, and took part in nearly every battle of the war. He died June 22, 1811, in Georgetown, D. C.

GAITHER, HENRY CHEW, patriot, state legislator, was born in 1777 in Maryland. He represented his county in the legislature for many years, but is chiefly remembered for his heroic conduct in defense of free speech during the disgraceful assault by a mob on the office of the Baltimore Federalist, July 26, 1812. He died Feb. 12, 1845, in Locust Grove, Md.

GAITHER, NATHAN, physician, state legislator, congressman, was born in 1785 in Columbia, Ky. He was a member of the state legislature from Adair county in 1815, 1816, 1817, and 1818; and was a presidential elector in 1829. He was elected a representative from Kentucky to the twenty-first and twenty-second congresses; was a member of the constitutional convention of the state in 1849; and was again a presidential elector in 1861.

GAITHER, WILLIAM LINGAN, soldier, state legislator, governor, was born Feb. 21, 1813, in Locust Grove, Md. He was early elected to the legislature, and served sixteen years, a portion of the time in each branch. In 1851 he was chosen president of the senate. He died Aug. 2, 1858, in Berkley Springs, Va.

GALBERRY, THOMAS, Roman catholic bishop, was born in 1833, in Ireland. He was ordained priest in 1856. His first mission was at Lansingburg, N. Y., where he built a Gothic church at an expense of over $33,000, and near it a convent for the Sisters of St. Joseph. He died Oct. 10, 1878, in New York city.

GALBRAITH, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He served several terms in the legislature of Pennsylvania, and was a representative in congress from that state from 1833 to 1837, and again from 1839 to 1841. He also held the office of United States president judge for the sixth district of Pennsylvania. He died June 15, 1860, in Erie, Pa.

GALBRAITH, WILLIAM J., soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born Feb. 18, 1837, in Freeport, Pa. He served as an officer in the United States signal corps from 1861 to 1864. In 1879 he was appointed an associate justice of the supreme court of the territory of Montana, and was reappointed in 1883.

GALE, BENJAMIN, physician, author, was born in 1715, on Long Island, N. Y. He was the author of A Dissertation on Inoculation, and other works. He died May 21, 1790, in Killingworth, Conn.

GALE, CHRISTOPHER, lawyer, jurist, was born about 1670 in England. In 1712 he became chief justice of North Carolina. He died at Edenton, N. C.

GALE, GEORGE, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Maryland from 1789 to 1791.

GALE, GEORGE WASHINGTON, educator, was born Dec. 3, 1789, in Northeast, Pa. He established the Oneida manual labor institute at Whitesboro, N. Y., where he remained from 1827 till 1834. His life work was the organization of Knox college at Galesburg, Ill., in 1835. He died Sept. 13, 1862, in Galesburg, Ill.

GALE, LEVIN, congressman, was born in 1824 in Cecil county, Md. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1827 to 1829. He died April 28, 1875, in Baltimore, Md.

GALE, THEOPHILUS, theologian, philosopher, He was a doctor of divinity, a classical scholar, and a learned theologian and philosopher. He died in 1677.

GALE, WILLIAM H., jurist. He was appointed an associate justice of the United States court for the territory of Colorado.

GALEENER, CHRIS., clergyman, was born Feb. 27, 1854, in Warren county, Ohio. He is one of the foremost clergymen of the west and has filled pastorates in the leading churches of Illinois. He has been secretary of the Illinois conference; was twice a delegate to the general conference of the methodist episcopal church, and has been presiding elder.

GALES, JOSEPH, journalist, was born in 1760 in England. He was originally a printer and bookseller at Sheffield, where he established and published the Register. He died Aug. 24, 1841, in Raleigh, N. C.

GALES, JOSEPH, journalist, was born April 10, 1786, in England. In 1810 he succeeded to the sole proprietorship of the National Intelligencer of Washington, D. C. He died July 21, 1860, in Washington, D. C.

GALES, SEATON, soldier, journalist, was born May 17, 1828, in Raleigh, N. C. On the death of his father he took editorial charge of the Raleigh Register; and from 1866 till 1869 was connected with the Raleigh Sentinel. He died Nov. 29, 1878, in Washington, D. C.

GALLAGHER, CHARLES WESLEY, clergyman, college president, was born Feb. 3, 1846, in Boston, Mass. During 1889-93 he was president of the Lawrence university of Wisconsin; and since 1893 has been president of the Maine Wesleyan seminary and college of Kent's Hill.

GALLAGHER, HUGH P., clergyman, philanthropist, was born in 1815, in Ireland. In 1844 he was made president of the Theological seminary of Pittsburg, Pa. The same year he founded St. Francis' college for boys, and also founded and edited the Pittsburg Catholic. In 1850 he introduced the sisters of mercy, for whom he established St. Aloysius' academy for girls. In 1852 he moved to California, built a church in Benicia; and in 1853 established the Catholic Standard. He died in March, 1882, in San Francisco, Cal.

GALLAGHER, JAMES NESTOR, merchant, author, poet, was born July 5, 1848, in Concord, N. H. He is the author of a humorous work entitled Let 'er Go, Gallagher; and a volume of poems.

GALLAGHER, NICHOLAS ALOYSIUS, college president, bishop, was born Feb. 19, 1846, in Temperanceville, Ohio. He was ordained priest in 1868, and consecrated bishop of Galveston, Texas, in 1882. For many years he was president of St. Aloysius seminary of Columbus, Ohio.

GALLAGHER, PATRICK S., educator, was born in May, 1855, in Ireland. He attended the Business college of La Crosse, Wis., and has attained success in educational work. For the past eight years he has been superintendent of schools in Swift county, Minn.

GALLAGHER, WILLIAM DAVIS, journalist, author, poet, was born Aug. 21, 1808, in Philadelphia, Pa. He received his education at the Lancasterian seminary of Cincinnati, Ohio. He commenced life as a printer, then became a proof-reader; and subsequently filled the editorial chair on a Cincinnati daily newspaper. He published The Quarterly Review, and was prominent in the early literary annals of the Ohio valley. He was the author of Miami Woods, and Other Poems; A Golden Wedding, and Other Poems; and Erato, a volume of verse. He died in 1894 in Louisville, Ky.

GALLATIN, ALBERT, diplomat, statesman, author, was born Jan. 29, 1761, in Geneva, Switzerland. In 1793 he was elected a senator in congress from Pennsylvania, serving from 1795 to 1801. In the latter year he was appointed secretary of the treasury. He was president of the National bank of New York, and advocated the establishment of the New York university. He was the author of Considerations on the Currency and Banking System of the United States; Synopsis of the Indian Tribes; Notes on the Semi-Civilized Nations of Mexico, Yucatan and Central America; Peace with Mexico; and War Expenses. His writings have been edited in six volumes. He died Aug. 12, 1849, in Astoria, N. Y.

GALLAUDET, EDWARD MINER, educator, college president, author, was born Feb. 5, 1837, in Hartford, Conn. During 1857-64 he was superintendent of the Columbia Institution for Deaf and Dumb of Washington, D. C., and since 1864 has been president of that institution, and also of Gallaudet College for the Deaf. He is the author of a Popular Manual of International Law; and Life of T. H. Gallaudet, his father.

GALLAUDET, THOMAS, clergyman, philanthropist, author, was born June 3, 1822, in Hartford, Conn. In 1852 he founded St. Ann's Church for Deaf Mutes in Hartford, Conn., and in 1859 added a church and rectory. In 1885 he founded the Gallaudet Home for Deaf Mutes on a farm on the Hudson river.

GALLAUDET, THOMAS HOPKINS, educator, philanthropist, author, was born Dec. 10, 1787, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a celebrated educator of deaf mutes, who was superintendent of the Institution for Deaf Mutes at Hartford, the first in the United States, in 1817-30. He is the author of Child's Book of the Soul; The Youth's Book of Natural Theology; Sermons Preached to an English Congregation in Paris; and Bible Stories for the Young. He died Sept. 9, 1851, in Hartford, Conn.

GALLOWAY, ROBERT MACY, merchant, banker, was born Aug. 4, 1837, in New York city. He was elected president of the Merchants' National bank of New York city in 1892, and has since conducted the affairs of this institution with prudence and success.

GALLEGOS, JOSE M., soldier, state legislator, congressman, was born Nov. 14, 1815, in Rio Arriba county, N. M. He was a member of the legislative assembly of Mexico in 1843-46; a member of the first legislative assembly of the territory of New Mexico in 1850-51, and was elected delegate to congress in 1854. He was speaker of the territorial house of representatives in 1860-62; quartermaster-general of the territorial militia, and treasurer of the territory for five years. He was superintendent of Indian affairs in New Mexico in 1868, and was elected delegate to the forty-second congress as a democrat.

GALLEHER, JOHN NICHOLAS, bishop, was born Feb. 17, 1839, in Mason county, Ky. He was the third protestant episcopal bishop of the diocese of Louisiana. He died Dec. 7, 1891, in New Orleans, La.

GALLIGAN, MATTHEW J., lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 25, 1854, in Washington county, Wis. He has attained success in his profession at Pueblo, Col., and served two terms as judge of the county court.

GALLINGER, JACOB H., journalist, physician, congressman, United States senator, was born March 28, 1837, in Canada. He practiced medicine and surgery from 1858 until he entered public life, and is a member of various state and national medical societies. He was a member of the house of representatives of New Hampshire in 1872-73 and 1891; and was a member of the state senate in 1878-80, being president of that body the last two years. He was surgeon-general of New Hampshire with the rank of brigadier-general in 1879-80. He was chairman of the delegation from his state to the republican national convention of 1888. He was elected to the forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a republican, and declined renomination to the fifty-first congress, and was elected United States senator in 1890, and was re-elected in 1896.

GALLISON, HENRY HAMMOND, artist, was born in 1850 in Boston, Mass. He graduated from Harvard college, studied art in Paris, and has attained prominence as a painter.

GALLITZIN, DEMETRIUS AUGUSTINE, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 22, 1770, in Holland. He was the son of the Russian ambassador to France, he came to America in 1792, was educated as a Sulpitian priest, and founded the Roman catholic colony of Loretto in Pennsylvania in 1803. He was the author of Defence of Catholic Principles; Appeal to the Protestant Public; Six Letters of Advice; and Letter to a Protestant Friend on the Holy Scriptures. He died in 1841.

GALLOWAY, CHARLES BETTS, bishop, author, was born about 1849 in Mississippi. He is a bishop of the methodist church south, and the author of Methodism a Child of Providence; and Aaron's Rod in Public Morals.

GALLOWAY, JACOB SCUDDER, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Feb. 14, 1838, in Mendham, N. J. In 1858 he graduated from the Princeton university; was admitted to the bar, and has attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of the south at Memphis, Tenn. He has been a member of the Tennessee state senate, judge of the probate court, judge of the second circuit court of Shelby county, and filled various other public positions of honor.

GALLOWAY, JOSEPH, signer of the declaration of independence, was born in 1730, near West River, Md. He was a member of the assembly of Pennsylvania in 1764, officiating as speaker; was a delegate to the continental congress in 1774 and 1775, and a signer of the declaration of independence. He was the author of Historical and Political Reflections on the American Rebellion; and The Prophetic History of the Church of Rome. He died Aug. 29, 1803, in England.

GALLOWAY, SAMUEL, educator, lawyer, orator, congressman, was born March 20, 1811, in Gettysburg, Pa. He was a professor in the Miami university as well as in Hanover college, Indiana. He was at one time secretary of state; and was elected a representative in the thirty-fourth congress. He died April 5, 1872, in Columbus, Ohio.

GALLOWAY, W. T., physician, surgeon, business man, public official. He was educated at Ogdensburg, N. Y., and was a graduate of the Castleton Medical college of Vermont. In 1857-60 he was registrar of the United States land office at Eau Claire, Wis., and filled various other public positions of trust. In 1890 he was appointed deputy United States marshal of Arizona, where he is also actively interested in mining.

GALLOWAY, WALTER A., soldier, merchant, legislator, was born Nov. 22, 1844, in Little Rock, Ark. He was a soldier during the civil war, and has served as a member of the Arkansas state legislature.

GALLUP, ALBERT, congressman. He was at one time sheriff of Albany county, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1837 to 1841, and was appointed collector of Albany. He died in November, 1851, in Providence, R. I.

GALLUP, JOSEPH ADAMS, educator, physician, author, was born March 30, 1769, in Stonington, Conn. He was a Vermont physician, and professor in Vermont Medical college, which he founded. He was the author of Epidemic Diseases in Vermont; and Outlines of the Institutes of Medicine. He died Oct. 12, 1849, in Woodstock, Vt.

GALT, E. T., railroad president, was born May 24, 1850, in Canada. He is president of the Alberta Railway and Coal company, and of the Great Falls and Canada railway at Great Falls, Mont.

GALUSHA, JONAS, soldier, lawyer, jurist, governor, was born Feb. 11, 1753, in Norwalk, Conn. He was a revolutionary soldier, and served at Bennington, Vt. He was a member of the council from 1793 to 1798, and again from 1801 to 1805. He was a member of the general assembly in 1800; judge of the state supreme court from 1795 to 1797, and from 1800 to 1806; and governor of Vermont from 1809 to 1813, and from 1815 to 1820. He died Oct. 8, 1834, in Shaftsbury, Vt.

GALVANI, WILLIAM H., civil engineer, vegetarian, was born June 27, 1861, in Russia. He emigrated to the United States in 1882, and since that time has been engaged in engineering works on nearly all of the principal railways in the Pacific north west; and in literary work, as an editorial writer, publisher and contributor to periodical literature. He is well known as an exponent of Pantheism, and as an ardent defender of the rights of all animals to life and liberty, on which subject he has written and lectured extensively. He is a member of the Universal Theosophical society, and is strictly a vegetarian.

GAMBLE, HAMILTON McSPARRIN, physician, surgeon, was born Oct. 25, 1838, in Moorefield, W. Va. During the war he served in the confederate army as a surgeon, and was in charge of the second corps hospital. Since the war he has practiced medicine in Moorefield, Va.

GAMBLE, HAMILTON ROWAN, governor, was born Nov. 29, 1798, in Winchester, Va. He was an active member of the constitutional convention of Missouri at the opening of the rebellion in 1861, and was made acting and provisional governor of that state, when the regular governor joined the confederacy. He died Jan. 31, 1864, in Jefferson City, Mo.

GAMBLE, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 28, 1809, in Lycoming county, Pa. He was elected to the legislature in 1841, and re-elected in the following year. He was then elected to congress as a democrat, serving from 1851 till 1855. He was elected president-judge of Lycoming district in 1868, and served ten years. He died Feb. 22, 1882, in Williamsport, Pa.

GAMBLE, ROBERT J., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 7, 1851, near Akron, N. Y. He has been district attorney; city attorney of Yankton for two terms, and state senator in 1885. He represented South Dakota as congressman-at-large in the fifty-fourth congress, and was the unanimous nominee of his party for re-election to the fifty-fifth congress in the year 1896, but was defeated by a plurality of one hundred and eighty-two votes out of a total vote of eighty-three thousand. He has been an active member of the republican organization of his state for many years.

GAMBLE, ROGER L., jurist, congressman. He was a member of the house of representatives in congress from Georgia from 1833 to 1835, and from 1841 to 1843, and afterward judge of the superior court of that state. He died Dec. 20, 1847.

GAMBLE, THOMAS, naval officer. He was appointed midshipman in 1804, lieutenant in 1810, and commander in 1816. He died October 10, 1818.

GAMBRELL, JAMES BRUETON, journalist, college president, was born Aug. 21, 1841, in Anderson county, S. C. In 1877 he became editor of the Baptist Record, which position he filled for fifteen years. In 1893 he was elected president of Mercer university of Macon, Ga.

GAMMELL, WILLIAM, educator, author, was born Feb. 10, 1812, in Medfield, Mass. He was an educator of Rhode Island, and professor at Brown university in 1835-64. He was the author of Life of Roger Williams; and History of American Baptist Missions. He died in 1889.

GANESVOORT, PETER, soldier, was born July 17, 1749, in Albany, N. Y. He served in the revolutionary war, and in 1781 the state of New York appointed him brigadier-general. He died in 1812 in Albany, N. Y.

GANNAWAY, WILLIAM TRIGG, educator, college president, was born June 10, 1825, in Virginia. In 1857 he was elected professor of Greek and Latin in Trinity college, and in 1863 was chosen president.

GANNETT, BARZILLA, congressman. He served four years in the state legislature, and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1809 to 1811.

GANNETT, EZRA STILES, clergyman, author, was born May 4, 1801, in Cambridge, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of prominence in Boston for many years, who published a great number of single sermons and addresses. He died Aug. 26, 1871.

GANNETT, GEORGE, clergyman, educator, was born Oct. 29, 1819, in East Bridgewater, Mass. He devoted himself to the education of women; established a school in Boston, where it became known as Gannett institute.

GANNETT, HENRY, topographer, author, was born in 1846 in Maine. He has been chief topographer of the United States geological survey since 1882, and is the author of Boundaries of the United States; The Building of a Nation; Dictionary of Altitudes in the United States; Results of Primary Triangulation; Manual of Topographical Methods; and Geographic Dictionaries of Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New Jersey.

GANNETT, WILLIAM CHANNING, clergyman, author, poet, was born in 1840. He is a unitarian clergyman of Minneapolis, and subsequently of Rochester, N. Y., and the author of A Year of Miracle, a poem in Four Sermons; Memoir of E. S. Gannett; and The Thought of God in Hymns and Poems.

GANNETT, WILLIAM HENRY, journalist, was born Feb. 10, 1854, in Augusta, Maine. He commenced in 1888 the publication of The Comfort, a family paper of Augusta, Maine.

GANNON, MARY, actress, was born Oct. 8, 1829, in New York city. For years she played child's parts, and later appeared in medley performances that involved song, dance and rapid changes of character. She died Feb. 22, 1868, in New York city.

GANNON, THOMAS JOSEPH, college president, lecturer, was born July 14, 1853, in Cambridge, Mass. In 1891 he was appointed president of St. John's college of Fordham, N. Y.

GANNON, E. W., lawyer, congressman, author, was born March 17, 1832, in Tennessee. He was elected a representative from Arkansas in congress in 1860, but does not appear to have taken his seat. In 1873 he prepared a digest of the laws of Arkansas, and soon afterwards was appointed commissioner to the centennial exhibition. He died June 10, 1874.

GANO, JOHN, clergyman, was born July 22, 1727, in Hopewell, N. J. In 1762 the First Baptist church in New York was organized, and he became its pastor and continued successfully in this relation for twenty-six years. He died in 1804 near Lexington, Ky.

GANO, STEPHEN FRANKLIN, physician, surgeon, was born April 2, 1807, in Georgetown, Ky. In 1837 he was elected to the legislature, and again in 1847, and in 1862. He acted as surgeon of the seventh district of Kentucky during the civil war.

GANONG, JANE K., poet, was born Aug. 26, 1835, in Carmel, N. Y. She has contributed extensively to current literature, and her poems have been given a place in several standard collections.

GANSE, HERVEY DODDRIDGE, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 7, 1822, in Fishkill, N. Y. In 1883 he became first secretary of the presbyterian board of aid for colleges and academies, in Chicago, Ill. He is the author of Bible Slave-holding not Sinful.

GANSEVOORT, HENRY SANFORD, soldier, lawyer, was born Dec. 15, 1834, in Albany, N. Y. In 1865 he was promoted to brigadier-general. He died in 1871.

GANSEVOORT, LEONARD, congressman, was born in 1751 in Albany, N. Y. He was a delegate from New York to the continental congress in 1787 and 1788. He died in 1810, in Albany, N. Y.

GANSEVOORT, PETER, soldier, was born July 17, 1749, in Albany, N. Y. He was commissioner of Indian affairs; military agent, and in 1809 was made a brigadier-general in the United States army. He died July 2, 1812, in Albany, N. Y.

GANSON, JOHN, lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born Jan. 1, 1818, in Le Roy, N. Y. He was a member of the state legislature in 1862; and was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-eighth congress. He died Sept. 28, 1874, in Buffalo, N. Y.

GANTZ, MARTIN K., lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 28, 1862, in Bethel, Ohio. He was elected mayor of the city of Troy; and was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

GARARD, LOUIS FORD, soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born Nov. 25, 1847, in Columbus, Ga. He served as a private in the civil war. He was a member of the Georgia legislature in 1878-81, and framed the famous baby bond bill.

GARBER, SILAS, governor. He was governor of Nebraska from 1875 to 1879.

GARCELON, ALONZO, physician, surgeon, governor, was born in 1813 in Maine. He served in the house of representatives of the Maine legislature, and was surgeon-general on the staff of the governor of Maine during the civil war. He was an unsuccessful candidate for congress in 1868 and for governor in 1878. There having been no choice for governor at the election in 1878, he was elected to that office by the state legislature.

GARD, ERNEST CHAPIN, journalist, poet, was born March 22, 1857, in Ringgold county, Iowa. In 1880 he was admitted to the bar, but preferred literary pursuits. In 1884 he established the Goshen Gazette; four years later moved to Colorado, where he established the Herald at Palmer Lake, and in 1891 he founded the Cripple Creek Crusher. He has contributed extensively to the Denver daily newspapers, and is the author of a collection of humorous articles entitled Life's Panorama.

GARDEN, ALEXANDER, clergyman, author, was born about 1685 in Scotland. He was an episcopal clergyman of Charleston remembered for his vigorous opposition to Whitefield. He was the author of Six Letters to the Reverend George Whitefield; and Two Sermons. He died Sept. 27, 1756, in Charleston, S. C.

GARDEN, ALEXANDER, naturalist, author, was born about 1728 in Scotland. He is a botanical writer of Charleston for whom Linnæus named the genus Gardenia. He went to England as a loyalist in 1783, and became vice-president of the Royal society. He died April 15, 1791, in London, England.

GARDEN, ALEXANDER, soldier, author, was born Dec. 4, 1757, in Charleston, S. C. He was an officer in the American army during the revolution, and the author of Anecdotes of the Revolutionary War. He died Feb. 28, 1829, in Charleston, S. C.

GARDENIER, BARENT, congressman. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1807 to 1811.

GARDENIER, WILSON H., educator, lawyer, was born Sept. 26, 1838, in Middletown, N. Y. He received his education at the Falley seminary of Fulton, Oswego, N. Y. During the war he raised a company of volunteers and gave his assistance to the Union. During 1865-66 he was principal of one of the public schools in Oswego. He was admitted to the bar in 1864 and has attained success as a lawyer of Oswego, N. Y.

GARDINER, ADDISON, lawyer, jurist, was born March 19, 1797, in Rindge, N. H. In 1844 and 1846 he was lieutenant-governor of New York, but resigned his office in the latter year, having been elected a judge of the court of appeals. He died June 5, 1883, in Rochester, N. Y.

GARDINER, FREDERICK, clergyman, author, was born in 1822 in Maine. He was an episcopal clergyman, professor in the Berkeley Divinity school at Middletown from 1869, and the author of The Island of Life, an Allegory; Commentary on Epistle of Jude; Harmony of the Four Gospels in Greek; Harmony of the Four Gospels in English; Diatessaron; The Principles of Textual Criticism; The Old and New Testaments in their Mutual Relations, and Aids to Scripture Study.

GARDINER, JAMES TERRY, civil engineer, was born May 6, 1842, in Troy, N. Y. From 1876 till 1886 he was director of the state survey of New York, and from 1880 till 1886 a member of the New York state board of health.

GARDINER, JOHN, legislator, lawyer, was born in 1731 in Boston, Mass. He moved to Pownalboro', Maine, and represented that town in the Massachusetts legislature until his death. He died Oct. 15, 1793, in Cape Ann, Mass.

GARDINER, JOSEPH WARREN, lawyer, jurist, poet, was born March 2, 1836, in North Kingstown, R. I. He studied medicine for two years and subsequently engaged in educational work.

He has lived in various states of the Union; has published several newspapers, and was the editor and owner of the Dixie Optic of Jefferson, N. C. In 1869 he was admitted to the bar, and has attained success as a lawyer of Brewster, Neb., where he has been prosecuting attorney, and a successful judge. He has served as United States pension agent and has filled various public positions of honor. He has contributed extensively both prose and verse to the periodical press, and many of his poems have been incorporated into standard works.

GARDINER, MILLS, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 30, 1830, in Russellville, Ohio. He was prosecuting attorney for Fayette county for four years; a state senator from 1862 to 1864; and a presidential elector in 1864. He was a representative in the legislature from 1866 to 1868; a member of the state constitutional convention in 1873; and was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-fifth congress.

GARDINER, SYLVESTER, physician, pioneer, was born June 29, 1707, in South

Kingston, R. I. He became proprietor of a part of Plymouth purchase on the Kennebeck river. About the middle of the century he colonized it with Germans, and settled the town of Pittston, from which the present city of Gardiner, Maine, was afterward set off. He died Aug. 8, 1786, in Newport.

GARDNER, AUGUSTUS KINSLEY, physician, author, was born July 13, 1812, in Roxbury, Mass. He was a physician of New York city, and the author of The French Metropolis; Causes of Sterility; Conjugal Sins; Our Children; a Handbook for Parents; Old Wine in New Bottles; Ships and Shipbuilders of New York; and translation of Seanonzi's Diseases of Females. He died April 7, 1876, in New York city.

GARDNER, CHARLES KITCHELL, soldier, author, was born in 1787 in Morris county, N. J. He was a United States army officer who was postmaster of Washington in President Polk's administration. He was the author of Dictionary of United States Army Commissioned Officers from 1789 to 1853; Compendium of Military Tactics; and Permanent Designation of Companies, and lesser works. He died in 1869.

GARDNER, CHARLES L., lawyer, legislator, was born May 27, 1839, in Cummington, Mass. He has attained success as a prominent lawyer in Palmer, Mass. In 1875-76 he was a representative in the Massachusetts state legislature and in 1878-79 was a state senator. He has been United States revenue assessor, and district attorney since 1892.

GARDNER, DENNIS J., educator, lawyer, banker, was born Feb. 26, 1853, in Platteville, Wis. He has been vice-president of board of regents of normal schools of Wisconsin and president of the State bank of Platteville.

GARDNER, DORSEY, journalist, author, was born Aug. 1, 1842, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a journalist of New York city who was one of the revisers of the Webster International Dictionary. He was the author of Quatre Bras, Ligny, and Waterloo; and Condensed Etymological Dictionary of the English Language. He died in 1894.

GARDNER, ELIZABETH JANE, artist. She was born in 1842 in Exeter, N. H. Her specialty is ideal figure-pieces. Among her important works are Cornelia and Her Jewels; Cinderella; Corinne; Moses in the Bulrushes; and Maud Muller. The Fortune Teller and Corinne received a medal at the Philadelphia exhibition of 1876.

GARDNER, EUGENE C., architect, author, was born in 1836 in Massachusetts. He is an architect of Springfield, Mass., and the author of Homes and All About Them; The House that Jill Built; Homes and How to Make Them; Illustrated Homes; Home Interiors; Common Sense in Church Building; and Town and Country School Buildings.

GARDNER, FRANCIS, congressman, was born Dec. 27, 1771, in Leominster, Mass. He was a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1807 to 1809. He died June 25, 1835, in Roxbury, Mass.

GARDNER, GIDEON, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1809 to 1811.

GARDNER, HENRY, statesman, was born about 1730 in Stowe, Mass. He served in the congresses of February and May, 1775, which met in Watertown, Mass., and was chosen treasurer of the province by the first congress. He died in 1782 in Boston, Mass.

GARDNER, HENRY J., governor. He was governor of Massachusetts from the year 1855 to 1858.

GARDNER, JOHN J., soldier, state senator, congressman, was born Oct. 17, 1845, in Atlantic county, N. J. He served three years in the civil war. He was a member of the New Jersey state senate fifteen years, from 1878 to 1893; and was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

GARDNER, JOHN LANE, soldier, was born Aug. 1, 1793, in Boston, Mass. In 1813 he was appointed lieutenant of infantry; was brevetted colonel, and in 1865 was brevetted brigadier-general. He died Feb. 19, 1869, in Wilmington, Del.

GARDNER, JOSEPH, congressman, was born in 1752 in Chester county, Pa. He was a delegate from Pennsylvania to the continental congress in 1784 and 1785. He died in 1794 in Elkton, Md.

GARDNER, SAMUEL JACKSON, lawyer, journalist, was born in 1788 in Brookline, Mass. He was a lawyer of Boston, and subsequently a journalist of Newark, N. J., whose essays over the signature Decius were issued in book form with the title Autumn Leaves. He died July 14, 1864, in White Mountain, N. J.

GARDNER, THOMAS, soldier, was born in 1724 in Cambridge, Mass. In 1775 he raised a regiment according to the instructions of the provincial congress, and was commissioned its colonel. He died June 18, 1775, in Boston, Mass.

GARFIELD, JAMES ABRAM, twentieth president of the United States, was born Nov. 19, 1831, in Cuyahoga county, Ohio. He learned the carpenter's trade at the age of fourteen; attended Geauga seminary, Hiram college, and graduated at Williams college, Massachusetts, in 1856, and earned the necessary money at his trade and teaching school. He then became professor in Hiram college, and in 1857 was made its president. He married Miss Lueretia Rudolph in 1858. In 1859 he was elected state senator. Studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1861. Enlisted Aug. 16, 1861, and Sept. 5 was commissioned colonel of the forty-second Ohio infantry. On Jan. 10, 1862, he was promoted to the rank of brigadier-general, and afterward to that of major-general. Having been elected to congress in 1862, while absent in the field, he resigned his commission in the army upon taking his seat in congress in December, 1863. He was re-elected eight times in succession, and was finishing his eighteenth year when elected president. In January, 1880, the Ohio legislature elected him United States senator for six years from March 4, 1881. The republican national convention met at Chicago June 2, 1880. General Garfield headed the Ohio delegation, and presented the name of John Sherman as a candidate for president. The first ballot was taken June 7, and stood: U. S. Grant, 304; James G. Blaine, 284; John Sherman, 93; George F. Edmunds, 34; Elihu B. Washburne, 30, and William Windom, 10 votes. On the third ballot Garfield received one vote, and from one to two on each succeeding ballot up to the thirty-third, except five ballots, when he received none. The balloting continued until June 8. On the thirty-fourth ballot Garfield got 17 votes.

The thirty-fifth stood: Grant, 213; Blaine, 257; Sherman, 99; Edmunds, 11; Washburne, 23; Windom, 3, and Garfield, 50. The thirty-sixth and last vote gave Garfield, 399; Grant, 307; Blaine, 42; Washburne, 5, and Sherman, 3. After an adjournment, Chester A. Arthur, who was also a delegate to the convention, was nominated for vice-president. They were elected Nov. 4. Garfield was then representative in congress, United States senator-elect and president-elect. Nov. 8 he resigned his seat in congress, declined the office of senator, and remained at his home at Mentor, Ohio, until his inauguration, March 4, 1881. On July 2 he was shot by Charles J. Guiteau in a railroad depot in Washington. He was removed to Long Branch, N. J., Sept. 6, where he died from the effects of the wound Sept. 19, 1881. He held political offices about twenty-one years, and died poor.

GARFIELD, LUCRETIA RUDOLPH, was born April 19, 1832, in Hiram, Ohio. She first met her husband, James A. Garfield, when both were students at Hiram, Ohio, and was married Nov. 11, 1858, in Hudson, Ohio, soon after his accession to the presidency of the college.

GARFIELDE, SELUCH'S, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 8, 1822, in Shoreham, Vt. He emigrated to California in 1851; was elected a member of the legislature of that state in 1852, and in 1853 was selected to codify the laws of the state. He removed to Washington territory in 1857, where he filled the position of receiver of public moneys in 1860; was surveyor-general from 1866 to 1869; and was elected a delegate to the forty-first congress and re-elected to the forty-second congress as a republican. He died April 13, 1883, in Washington, D. C.

GARLAND, AUGUSTUS HILL, was born June 11, 1832, in Tipton county, Tenn. He served in the confederate congress, and subsequently was chosen to the United States senate, but refused admission. In 1874 he was for a short time acting secretary of state of Arkansas, and was elected governor of that state in 1874. In 1876 he was elected United States senator from Arkansas for the term of six years from 1877, and was re-elected for another term in 1882. In 1885 he was appointed attorney-general of the United States in the cabinet of President Cleveland.

GARLAND, DAVID S., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia, from 1809 to 1811. He died in October, 1841.

GARLAND, HAMLIN, author, was born in 1860 in Wisconsin. He is a novelist who was for some years a resident of Boston, and then returned to the Western states. He is the author of Main Traveled Roads; A Spoil of Office; Prairie Folks; Prairie Songs; Crumbling Idols; Rose of Dutcher's Coolly; and Little Norsk.

GARLAND, HUGH A., lawyer, author, was born June 1, 1805, in Nelson county, Va. He was professor of Greek in the Hampden Sidney college for five years, studied law, and came to the bar in 1841; and served five years in the state legislature. Two books which he published, the Lives of John Randolph and Thomas Jefferson, were eminently successful. He died Oct. 15, 1854, in St. Louis, Mo., greatly mourned by the public of that city.

Louis, Mo., greatly mourned by the public of that city.

GARLAND, HUGH A., soldier, lawyer. He joined the confederate army, was made a colonel, participated in the actions between the forces of Generals Hood and Thomas in middle Tennessee, and fell at Franklin, Tenn., while leading his command. He died Nov. 30, 1864, in Franklin, Tenn.

GARLAND, JAMES, congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from that state, from 1845 to 1847.

GARLAND, JAMES GRAY, inventor, was born March 31, 1827, in Saco, Maine. He is a cotton mill manager and the inventor of original and first system of atmosphere moistening for textile manufacturing, a system which is in use in America, Europe and India.

GARLAND, JOHN, soldier, was born in 1792 in New York. He served through the war with Great Britain, and attained the full rank of major in 1836, and that of lieutenant-colonel in 1839. He died June 5, 1861, in New York city.

GARLAND, LANDON CABELL, educator, author, was born March 21, 1810, in Nelson county, Va. He is a mathematician who held professorships in several southern colleges, and published Trigonometry. Plane and Spherical.

GARLAND, RICE, jurist, congressman, was born in Virginia. He removed to Louisiana, and was a representative in congress from that state, from 1834 to 1840. He resigned to become judge of the superior court of Louisiana.

GARLAND, SAMUEL, soldier, was born Dec. 16, 1830, in Lynchburg, Va. He was chosen captain of a volunteer company that was organized in 1859; was commissioned a colonel by the governor of Virginia on the secession of the state, and was engaged at the first battle of Bull Run. He died Sept. 14, 1862, in South Mountain, Md.

GARMAN, SAMUEL, naturalist, author, was born June 5, 1846, in Indiana county. He is a naturalist of Cambridge, assistant in the Agassiz museum there, and the author of The Reptiles and Batrachians of North America; and Reptiles and Batrachians of Bermuda.

GARNER, PETER M., abolitionist, educator, was born Dec. 4, 1809, in Lancaster county, Pa. From 1847 till 1860 he taught in the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, and during the war had charge of the military prisoners. He died June 12, 1868, in Columbus, Ohio.

GARNER, W. SCOTT, journalist, poet, was born Jan. 16, 1848, in Preston county, W. Va. He has established and edited several newspapers, and his poems have appeared in the leading newspapers and magazines of America.

GARNETT, ALEXANDER YELVERTON PEYTON, physician, was born Sept. 20, 1820, in Essex county, Va. In 1861 he left Washington and became a member of the examining board of surgeons for the confederate army, and afterward surgeon in charge of the two military hospitals in Richmond. He died July 11, 1888, in Rehoboth Beach, Del.

GARNETT, JAMES M., agriculturist, congressman, was born June 8, 1770, in Elmwood, Va. He was a member of the legislature of his native state, and was a representative in congress from Virginia, from 1805 to 1809. He was president of the Society of Fredericksburg for more than twenty years, and toiled laboriously for the formation of a National Agricultural society. He died in May, 1843, in Elmwood, Va.

GARNETT, MUSCOE RUSSELL HUNTER, lawyer, congressman, was born in Essex county, Va. He was a member of the house of delegates in 1853-56. He was elected to the thirty-fifth congress as a representative from Virginia, and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress.

GARNETT, RICHARD BROOKE, soldier, was born in 1819 in Virginia. He became a captain in 1855; was engaged in Kansas in 1856-57, and in the Utah expedition of 1858, and resigned in 1861 to join the confederate army. He died July 3, 1863, in Gettysburg.

GARNETT, ROBERT SELDEN, lawyer, congressman, was born in Essex county, Va. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1817 to 1827, being re-elected four times. He died July 13, 1861, in Virginia.

GARNSEY, DANIEL G., congressman, was born in Saratoga county, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1825 to 1830.

GARRARD, JAMES, soldier, state legislator, governor, was born Jan. 14, 1749, in Stafford county, Ky. He was an officer of the revolution; afterward a member of the legislature of Virginia, where he was an advocate of the religious freedom bill. He was, for several terms, a member of the Kentucky legislature, and was governor of Kentucky from 1796 to 1804. He died Jan. 9, 1822, in Mount Lebanon, Ky.

GARRARD, KENNER, soldier, was born in 1830 in Columbus, Ohio. He served as instructor and commandant of cadets at West Point. He served in the civil war, and was brevetted major-general of the United States army.

GARRARD, THEOPHILUS TOULMIN, soldier, state senator, was born June 7, 1812, near Manchester, Ky. He was a member of the lower house of the Kentucky legislature in 1843-44, and served through the Mexican war. He was elected to the state senate and served with distinction.

GARRETSON, FREEBORN, clergyman, was born Aug. 15, 1752, in Maryland. He was eminently successful as a minister, and preached in almost all the eastern states from Nova Scotia to the Gulf of Mexico. He died Sept. 26, 1827, in New York.

GARRETSON, GARRET JAMES, lawyer, jurist, was born July 16, 1847, in Newtown, N. Y. He has been surrogate of Queens county, and for many years has been justice of the supreme court of the state of New York.

GARRETSON, JAMES EDMUND, physician, lecturer, author, was born Oct. 4, 1828, in Wilmington, Del. He is a physician of Philadelphia, and dean of the dental college there from 1879. He is the author of System of Oral Surgery; Odd Hours of a Physician; Thinkers and Thinking; Two Thousand Years Ago; Hours with John Darby; Brushland; and Nineteenth Century Common Sense.

GARRETT, ABRAHAM E., soldier, farmer, state senator, congressman, was born March 6, 1830, in Overton. He was elected to the legislature of Tennessee in 1865, and to the state senate in 1867. He was elected to the forty-second congress as a democrat.

GARRETT, ALEXANDER CHARLES, bishop of Dallas, Texas, was born Nov. 1, 1832, in Ireland. He organized his missionary jurisdiction as the diocese of Dallas, and was elected the first bishop of Dallas in 1895. The bishop's writings include: Historical Continuity, a series of sketches on the church; The Eternal Sacrifice, and Other Sermons; and The Philosophy of the Incarnation.

GARRETT, ANDREW, conchologist, author, was born April 9, 1823, in Albany, N. Y. He has explored many of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts of South America, the East and West Indies, and published the Andrew Garrett Fische de Sudsee. He died Nov. 1, 1887.

GARRETT, EDMUND H., artist, author, born Oct. 19, 1853, in Albany, N. Y. He has devoted much time to illustration and water color painting, and in 1890 received a medal at Boston. He has edited important collections of the Elizabethan and Victorian poets, and translated numerous works from the French.

GARRETT, EMMA, educator, philanthropist, was born in 1848. She attained a national reputation as an educator of the deaf and dumb. She died in 1893.

GARRETT, JAMES G., soldier, educator, journalist, lawyer, was born March 14, 1837, in Edgecombe county, N. C. He graduated from the university of Alabama in 1856; and the following year was admitted to the bar. He has taught school; was a soldier and officer in the confederate army of northern Virginia in 1862-65; has been successfully engaged in journalism, and is now a prominent lawyer of Birmingham, Ala.

GARRETT, JOHN WORK, railroad president, was born July 31, 1820, in Baltimore, Md. He took a great interest in the development of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad. He was elected one of its directors in 1857, and was its president from 1858 till his death. He died Sept. 26, 1884, in Deer Park, Md.

GARRETT, ROBERT, railroad president, was born April 9, 1847, in Baltimore, Md. For many years he was president of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, resigning in 1887.

GARRETT, THOMAS, abolitionist, was born Aug. 21, 1783, in Upper Darby, Pa. He assisted all fugitive slaves who applied to him on their way to freedom. He died Jan. 20, 1871, in Wilmington, Del.

GARRIGUES, HENRY JACQUES, educator, physician, author, was born June 6, 1831, in Denmark. He is a Danish physician who came to America in 1875, and since 1886 has been professor of practical obstetrics in the post-graduate medical school of New York city. He is the author of Gastro-Elytrotomy; and Practical Guide in Antiseptic Midwifery.

GARRIGUS, MILTON, soldier, educator, lawyer, legislator, was born Sept. 27, 1831, in Wayne county, Ind. For seventeen terms he taught school, and in 1859-60 was school examiner, and also postmaster at Greentown. During the war he served with distinction—was captain and acting adjutant on the staff of General Mason of the regular army during 1864-65. He was admitted to the bar in 1859, and since 1889 has been president of the Howard County Bar association. For three years he was superintendent of schools, and in 1878 was elected state senator, serving with distinction for four years. He was twice elected county auditor, his second term of four years expiring in 1900. He has been chairman of the republican county committee for fifteen terms. He is one of the Indiana commissioners to erect monuments for Indiana troops on Chickamauga, Mission Ridge and Look-out Mountain battlefields. He was twice commander of his post of the Grand Army of the Republic, and has been inspector-general of Indiana.

GARRISON, CHARLES GRANT, physician, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 3, 1849, in Swedesboro, N. J. He was made judge advocate general of New Jersey in 1884, and in 1882 he was made chancellor of the southern diocese of the protestant episcopal church of New Jersey. He was appointed to the supreme court bench in 1888 for a full term of seven years; and was reappointed in 1895.

GARRISON, CORNELIUS KINGS LAND, capitalist, was born March 1, 1809, at Fort Montgomery, N. Y. He was one of the founders of the Gas Light company of Chicago; chief organizer of the Equitable Gas Light company of Baltimore; and president of the Missouri Pacific railroad. He died May 1, 1885, in New York city.

GARRISON, DANIEL, congressman, was born in Salem county, N. J. He was a representative in congress from New Jersey from 1823 to 1827.

GARRISON, GEORGE TANKARD, lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 14, 1835, in Accomac county, Va. He was a representative in the state legislature and a state senator during the existence of the confederacy. He was circuit judge from 1870 to 1880; and was elected a representative from Virginia to the forty-seventh congress; and was re-elected to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

GARRISON, JAMES HARNEY, clergyman, journalist, author, was born in 1842 in Missouri. He is a clergyman and editor of religious journals; and the author of Heavenward Way; and Alone with God.

GARRISON, JOSEPH FITHIAN, educator, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 20, 1823, in Fairton, N. J. He was an episcopal clergyman of Camden, N. J., professor of canon law at the Philadelphia Episcopal Divinity school for some years; and the author of The Formation of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States; and The American Prayer Book. He died in 1892.

GARRISON, WILLIAM LLOYD, journalist, philanthropist, author, poet, was born Dec. 10, 1804, in Newburyport, Mass. He was a very celebrated anti-slavery journalist of Boston who established The Liberator in 1831, and was its editor for the thirty-five years of its existence. He was the author of Thoughts on African Colonization; and Sonnets and Other Poems. He died May 24, 1879, in New York city.

GARRISON, WILLIAM RE TALLACK, financier, was born June 18, 1834, in Canada. He was for many years president of the Metropolitan and New York railroad of New York city.

GARRISON, WENDELL PHILLIPS, author, editor, was born June 4, 1840, in Cambridgeport, Mass. He is literary editor of The Nation, New York; and the author of Genealogy of the Berson Family of Newport, R. I.; Life of William Lloyd Garrison; and also compiled Bed-side Poetry.

GARROW, NATHANIEL, congressman, was a representative in congress from New York from 1827 to 1829.

GARTH, WILLIAM W., lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 28, 1827, in Morgan county, Ala. He was elected a representative from Alabama to the forty-fifth congress.

GARTLAND, FRANCIS XAVIER, bishop, was born in 1805, in Dublin, Ireland. In 1850 he was consecrated the first Roman catholic bishop of Savannah, Ga. He died Sept. 20, 1854.

GARTLIN, ALFRED, congressman, was born in North Carolina. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1823 to 1825.

GARTRELL, LUCIUS J., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 7, 1821, in Wilkes county, Ga. In 1843 he was elected by the general assembly of Georgia solicitor-general of the northern judicial circuit. He resigned in 1847, on being elected a representative to the legislature; and was re-elected in 1849. He was a presidential elector for the state of Georgia in 1856; and in 1857 was elected a representative in the thirty-fifth congress from Georgia; and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress.

GARVER, JOHN EDWARD, physician and surgeon, was born Jan. 19, 1858, in Sheldon, Vt. He graduated from the state university of Iowa; and from the Chicago Polyclinic institute. He has attained success in the profession of medicine at Storm Lake, Iowa; and takes an active part in the public affairs of his county and state.

GARVIN, T. M., lawyer, legislator, was born Aug. 1, 1854, in Ohio county, W. Va. After receiving his education in Cleveland, Ohio, he studied Spanish in Philippe's College of Languages of San Francisco, Cal. He was one of the organizers of the West Virginia Bar association. He has compiled and published a book containing all the commercial laws of the states and territories; and for the past ten years has delivered lectures each week to the students of the Wheeling Business college on commercial and international law. In 1896 he was elected a member of the West Virginia state legislature, and served with distinction in that body.

GARVIN, WILLIAM S., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1845 to 1847.

GARY, ELBERT H., lawyer, jurist, was born Oct. 8, 1846, near Wheaton, Ill. He attended the public schools and Wheaton college; and in 1867 graduated from the law department of the Chicago university. He has been county judge for two terms; president of the town of Wheaton for three terms; and mayor of that city for three terms. He has also been president of the board of education; held the office of state's attorney and various other public offices of honor; and was the president of the Chicago Bar association. He is a successful lawyer and general counsel for several railroads and other corporations.

GARY, FRANKLIN NEWMAN, soldier, lawyer, was born Nov. 26, 1828, in South Carolina. In 1852 he graduated from Maryville college, Tennessee. He became district attorney of Tyler, Texas, and was one of the best known lawyers in that state. During the civil war he served as captain in the twenty-third Texas infantry, C. S. A.; and died in 1886. His son, Hanson Gary, is a successful lawyer of Tyler, Texas.

GARY, GEORGE, clergyman, was born Dec. 8, 1793, in Middlefield, N. Y. In 1836 he was transferred to the Black River conference, and in 1844 was appointed missionary superintendent of Oregon. He died March 25, 1855.

GARY, JAMES ALBERT, manufacturer, postmaster-general, was born Oct. 22, 1833, in Uncasville, Conn. He became a partner with his father in the Alberton Cotton mills, located at Alberton, in 1861; his father dying in 1870 he succeeded to the head of the business, and has conducted it since. He was confirmed as postmaster-general March 5, 1897.

GARY, WILLIAM THEODORE, soldier, lawyer, legislator, was born Oct. 10, 1841, in Cokesbury, S. C. He served as first lieutenant of the South Carolina college cadets in 1861, and was major in the confederate army. During 1882-83 he was a member of the general assembly of Georgia; presidential elector in 1892; and since 1893 has been United States attorney.

GASKILL, FRANCIS ALMON, lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 3, 1846, in Blackstone, Mass. He was district attorney of the Massachusetts middle district during 1887-95; and since that time has been justice of the Massachusetts superior court.

GASKILL, SILAS B., lawyer, jurist, was born April 18, 1824, in Gainesville, N. Y. He was a noted lawyer and jurist of Lapeer, Mich., where he died May 29, 1895.

GASTON, SAMUEL BURNS, farmer, legislator, was born Dec. 19, 1855, near Roanoke, Ala. He has taken a prominent part in the religious and social affairs of his community, and in 1892 and again in 1896 represented his county in the state democratic conventions. In 1896-97 he served with distinction as a member of the Alabama state legislature. He writes extensively for the periodical press, and is a successful farmer of Wildwood, Ala.

GASTON, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Sept. 19, 1778, in Newberne, N. C. He served a number of years in the state legislature, one term as speaker; and was a presidential elector in 1808. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1813 to 1817; and in 1834 was appointed judge of the supreme court. In 1835 he was a member of the state convention to amend the constitution. He died Jan. 23, 1844.

GASTON, WILLIAM, lawyer, state legislator, state senator, governor, was born Oct. 3, 1820, in South Killingly, Conn. He was city solicitor of Roxbury, Mass., from 1856 till 1860, and mayor in 1861-62. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1853-54 and 1856, and of the state senate in 1868. He was elected governor of Massachusetts in 1875.

GATES, HORATIO, soldier, was born in 1728 in England. He was the first adjutant-general of the continental army, and was made major-general in 1776. He died in 1806 in New York.

GATES, MERRILL EDWARDS, educator, college president, was born in 1848 in Warsaw, N. Y. In 1882 he became president of Rutgers college, and served eight years, when he was elected to the presidency of Amherst college. He is president of the American Missionary association.

GATES, SETH MERRILL, lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Oct. 16, 1800, in Winfield, N. Y. He was elected to the state legislature in 1832, declining a re-election. In 1838 he purchased and became editor of the Le Roy Gazette. He was elected a representative from New York to the twenty-sixth congress, and was re-elected to the twenty-seventh congress. He died Aug. 24, 1877, in Warsaw, N. Y.

GATES, THOMAS, was one of the earliest colonial governors of Virginia.

GATES, WILLIAM, soldier, was born in 1788 in Massachusetts. He served in the war with Mexico as colonel; and from 1846 till 1848 acted as governor of Tampico, Mexico. He was brevetted brigadier-general in 1865 for long and faithful service. He died Oct. 7, 1868, in New York.

GATLING, RICHARD JORDAN, inventor, was born Sept. 12, 1818, in Hertford county, N. C. Among his many inventions is a machine for sowing wheat in drills, which is very popular in the large wheat farms of the west. But his greatest invention is the repeating machine gun, known as the Gatling gun, which can be made to fire four hundred shots per minute.

GAULT, FRANKLIN B., educator, college president, was born May 2, 1851, in Wooster, Ohio. He graduated from the Cornell college of Mt. Vernon, Iowa. During 1887-91 he was superintendent of schools in Tama City, Iowa; and has filled the same position in Mason City, Iowa; in South Pueblo, Colo.; and in Tacoma, Wash. Since 1892 he has been the president of the university of Idaho. He has been president of the Idaho State Teachers' association; and is a member of the leading educational and scientific bodies in America.

GAULT, GILBERT WILLIAM, artist, was born March 31, 1855, in Jersey City, N. J. Among his works are Stories of Liberty to the Confined; Charging the Battery; and Holding the Line at All Hazards, which received the first medal of the American Art association.

GAUSE, LUCIEN COTESWORTH, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 25, 1838, at Laurel Hill, N. C. He enlisted in the infantry service of the confederate army in 1861; and rose to the rank of colonel. He returned to Jacksonport in July, and resumed the practice of law. In 1866 he served one term in the general assembly. In 1874 he was elected to the forty-fourth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-fifth congress as a democrat.

GAUSE, OWEN B., educator, founder, was born June, 1825, in Wilmington, Del. He was one of the founders of the Homœopathic Medical society of Pennsylvania, and was its president in 1869.

GAVENEY, JOHN C., lawyer, was born June 30, 1863, in Arcadia, Wis. He graduated from the university of Wisconsin, and has attained success as an able lawyer. For three terms he served with distinction as mayor of his native city; and was a member of the committee of the Wisconsin Semi-Centennial exposition.

GAWLEY, ECCLES W., physician, surgeon, was born Nov. 20, 1850, in Ireland. He received his education at the Michigan university and from the Detroit Medical college. He is a successful physician and surgeon of Anamosa, Iowa; has been secretary of the board of pension examiners; and has filled various other positions of honor.

GAY, EBEN HOWARD, banker, author, was born in 1858 in Massachusetts. He is a banker of Boston who has published A Treatise on Municipal Bonds.

GAY, EBENEZER, clergyman, author, was born Aug. 26, 1696, in Dedham, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of Hingham from 1718 until his death; and the author of The Old Man's Calendar, a sermon preached on his eighty-fifth birthday, which went through several editions in America and England, and was translated into several continental languages. He died in 1787 in Hingham, Mass.

GAY, EDWARD J., merchant, manufacturer, congressman, was born Feb. 3, 1816, in Liberty, Va. In 1883, upon the foundation of the Louisiana Sugar exchange, at New Orleans, he was elected its first president; and in 1884 was elected a representative from Louisiana to the forty-ninth congress, and received the re-election to the fiftieth congress as a democrat.

GAY, MARTIN, physician, chemist, was born Feb. 16, 1803, in Boston, Mass. He had a high reputation as an analytical chemist, and his frequent testimony as a witness in courts of justice, in cases of death by poisoning, marks an era in the history of medical jurisprudence in this country. He died Jan. 12, 1850, in Hingham, Mass.

GAY, SYDNEY HOWARD, journalist, author, was born in 1814 in Hingham, Mass. He was a journalist of New York and Chicago, and during the civil war the managing editor of the New York Tribune. He was the author of Life of James Madison; and Bryant and Gay's Popular History of the United States, of which the preface only was the work of Mr. Bryant. He died June 25, 1888, in New Brighton, N. Y.

GAY, WALTER, artist, was born Jan. 22, 1856, in Hingham, Mass. His Fall Flowers was exhibited at the Philadelphia Centennial exhibition. His works include The Trained Pigeons; Troubles of a Bachelor; The Knife-Grinder; Conspiracy under Louis XVI; The Spinners; The Weaver; and Richelieu.

GAYARRE, CHARLES E. A., lawyer, jurist, United States senator, author, was born Jan. 3, 1805, in Louisville, Ky. In 1830 he was elected to the legislature; in 1831 was appointed deputy attorney-general; and in 1833 presiding judge of the city court of New Orleans. In 1835 he was elected a senator in congress. In 1843 he was again returned to the state legislature; and in 1846 was appointed secretary of state, in which capacity he served seven years. His leading works are History of Louisiana; Romance of the History of Louisiana; Spanish Domination in Louisiana; a dramatic novel called The School of Politics; and a work on The Influence of the Mechanic Arts. He died in 1895.

GAYLE, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, congressman, governor, was born Sept. 11, 1792, in Sumter, S. C. In 1817 he was appointed a member of the territorial legislature; and in 1823 was elected judge of the supreme court of the state. In 1829 he was elected to the state legislature, and was speaker of the house. In 1831 he was elected governor, and re-elected in 1833. In 1847 he was elected from Mobile county a representative in congress; and in 1849 was appointed judge of the United States district court of Alabama. He died July 21, 1859, near Mobile, Ala.

GAYLER, CHARLES, dramatist, author, was born April 1, 1820, in New York city. He was a dramatist of New York city, among whose many plays are, The Gold Hunters; Taking the Chances; Fritz. Among his various novels are The Romance of a Poor Young Man; and Out of the Streets, both of which were dramatized by their author. He died in 1892.

GAYLORD, FRED, engineer, state legislator, was born Sept. 2, 1860, in Ottumwa, Iowa. For many years he was engaged as an engineer and railroad contractor in Nebraska; and subsequently became superintendent of the gas works of Kearney, Neb. In 1887 he was elected a member of the Nebraska state legislature, and has served on various important committees. He has also filled various local offices of honor in his city, county and state.

GAYLORD, JAMES M., congressman, was born in Ohio. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1851 to 1853.

GAZLEY, JAMES W., congressman. He was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1823 to 1825.

GAZZAM, JOSEPH M., lawyer, legislator, was born Dec. 2, 1842, in Pittsburg, Pa. He received a thorough education and graduated from the Western university of Pennsylvania.

He has attained success as one of the foremost lawyers of his native state, and now has a large practice in Philadelphia. For many years he held various high offices in the city of Pittsburg, and served as a member of the city council. He has served with distinction in the state senate of the Pennsylvania legislature. He is president of the Quaker City National bank, and an officer or director in thirty different companies.

GEAR, JOHN HENRY, merchant, governor, United States senator, was born April 7, 1825, in Ithaca, N. Y. He moved to Burlington in 1843, where he engaged in merchandising. He was a member of the Iowa house of representatives of the fourteenth, fifteenth and sixteenth general assemblies of the state, serving as speaker for the last two terms. He was elected governor of Iowa in 1878-79, and again in 1880-81. He was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses; was assistant secretary of the treasury; and was elected to the fifty-third congress as a republican. He was elected in 1894 a senator in congress from the state of Iowa for six years, beginning March 4, 1895.

GEARY, EDWARD RATCHFORD, soldier, was born Sept. 14, 1845, in Westmoreland county, Pa. He became captain of Hampton battery, and subsequently a lieutenant in Knapp's battery, which post he held at the time of his death. He died Oct. 30, 1863.

GEARY, JOHN WHITE, soldier, governor, was born Dec. 30, 1819, near Mount Pleasant, Pa. In 1849 he removed to California, and was postmaster of San Francisco; and was first alcalde of that city, and its first mayor. He was governor of Kansas; and in 1861 returned to Pennsylvania and raised and equipped the twenty-eighth Pennsylvania volunteers. He commanded in several engagements in that year; occupied Leesburg, Va., in 1862; and was brigadier-general of volunteers in 1862. He was appointed military governor of Savannah on its capture in 1864; and was chosen governor of Pennsylvania in 1867. He died Feb. 8, 1873, in Harrisburg, Pa.

GEARY, THOMAS J., lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 18, 1851, in Boston, Mass. He was elected district attorney of Sonoma county in 1882, and served two years. He was elected as a democrat and American to the fifty-first congress to fill a vacancy; and was elected to the fifty-second congress and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat and American.

GEBHARD, JOHN, congressman, was born in Claverack, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1821 to 1823.

GEDDES, GEORGE, engineer, state senator, was born Feb. 14, 1809, in Fairmont, N. Y. He was a member of the senate of the state of New York in 1847, and re-elected in 1849. He had charge of lowering the canal of Seneca river, from 1853 till 1856. He died Oct. 8, 1883, in New York.

GEDDES, GEORGE W., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born July 16, 1824, in Mount Vernon, Ohio. He was judge of the court of common pleas for the sixth judicial district from 1856 to 1866, and again from 1868 to 1873. He was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-sixth, forty-seventh, forty-eighth, and forty-ninth congresses as a democrat.

GEDDES, JAMES, manufacturer, jurist, congressman, was born July 22, 1763, in Carlisle, Pa. He was elected a magistrate in 1804, and in 1821 was in the state legislature. In 1809 he was an associate county justice; and in 1812 judge of the common pleas. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1813 to 1815. In 1822 he was appointed chief engineer of the Ohio canal; and in 1827 assisted in locating the Chesapeake and Ohio canal, as well as the Pennsylvania canal. He died Aug. 19, 1838, in Onondaga county, N. Y.

GEDDES, JAMES LORRAINE, soldier, was born March 19, 1827, in Scotland. In 1857 he emigrated to Iowa; and there engaged in educational work. During the civil war he served gallantly in the union army, and was promoted a brigadier-general. He died Feb. 21, 1887, in Ames, Iowa.

GEDDES, JOHN, governor, was born about 1773 in Charleston, S. C. He was governor of South Carolina from 1818 to 1820; and speaker of the South Carolina house of representatives. He died March 5, 1828, in Charleston, S. C.

GEDDES, NORMAN, lawyer, jurist, public official, was born April 14, 1823, in Livonia, N. Y. He has been justice of the peace of Adrian, Mich.; mayor of his city; and for nine years judge of probate for his county.

GEDNEY, JONATHAN HAIGHT, inventor, was born Feb. 25, 1798, in Rye, N. Y. He invented the wooden cogs used in the cotton manufactures. He died Aug. 7, 1886, in Mamaroneck, N. Y.

GEE, JOSHUA, clergyman, author, was born June 29, 1698, in Boston, Mass. He is the author of a Sermon on the Death of Cotton Mather; and two discourses entitled The Strait Gate and The Narrow Way Infinitely Preferable to the Wide Gate and the Broad Way. He died May 22, 1748, in Boston, Mass.

GEER, GEORGE JARVIS, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 24, 1821, in Waterbury, Conn. He was an episcopal clergyman, long rector of St. Timothy's church of New York city, and the author of The Conversion of St. Paul, a series of Discourses. He died March 16, 1885, in New York.

GEER, WALTER, lawyer, manufacturer, was born Aug. 19, 1857, in Williamstown, Mass. In 1886 he was elected president of the newly organized New York Architectural Terra-Cotta company.

GEIGER, LEVI, lawyer, jurist, was born March 14, 1824, in Greencastle, Pa. He is a prominent lawyer of Urbana, Ohio; has been prosecuting attorney for Champaign county; and for five years was judge of the court of common pleas.

GEIS, BENJAMIN F., lawyer, was born April 27, 1860, in Blairsville, Pa. He received his education at St. Vincent's and Iron City college, Pa. He has attained success as an eminent lawyer of Glenn county, Cal.; has been city attorney of Willows for several years; and served with distinction as district attorney of his county.

GEISSENHAINER, JACOB AUGUSTUS, lawyer, congressman, was born in New York city. He commenced the practice of law in 1863 in New York city. He was elected to the fifty-first and fifty-second congresses and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

GEIST, JACOB M. W., journalist, was born Dec. 14, 1824, in Lancaster county, Pa. In 1877 he founded The New Era of Lancaster, Pa.

GEMUNDER, GEORGE, violinmaker, author, was born April 13, 1816, in Germany. He is a violinmaker who came to America from Württemberg in 1847, and settled in New York city in 1852. He published Progress in Violin-Making.

GENIN, JOHN NICHOLAS, merchant, author, was born Oct. 19, 1819, in New York city. He was a noted hatter of New York city who wrote a History of the Hat from the Earliest Stages. He died April 30, 1878, in New York city.

GENTH, FREDERICK AUGUSTUS, educator, author, was born May 17, 1820, in Germany. He was a professor of chemistry at the university of Pennsylvania from 1872; and was the author of Ammonia Cobalt Bases; Minerals of North Carolina; and First and Second Preliminary Reports on the Mineralogy of Pennsylvania. He died in 1893.

GENTRY, MEREDITH POINDEXTER, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 15, 1809, in Rockingham county, N. C. He was elected to the legislature of Tennessee in 1835 and 1837; was a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1843, and from 1845 to 1853. He took part in the rebellion as a member of the confederate congress. He died Nov. 2, 1866, in Rockingham county, N. C. His death was greatly deplored in his state.

GENUNG, JOHN FRANKLIN, educator, author, was born in 1850 in New York. He is a professor at Amherst college; and the author of A Study of In Memoriam; The Epic of the Inner Life, an annotated translation of Job; Practical Elements of Rhetoric; and The Study of Rhetoric in College Courses.

GEORGE, CHARLES H., merchant, banker, was born July 14, 1839, in Foxboro, Mass. In 1880 he was elected president of the Roger Williams National bank; for several years was president of the Providence board of trade; and is now president of the mercantile house of Charles H. George and Company.

GEORGE, ENOCH, methodist episcopal bishop, was born in 1767 in Lancaster county, Va. In 1816 he was elected and ordained a bishop, in which office he served with zeal and effectiveness for twelve years. He died in August, 1828, in Staunton, Va.

GEORGE, HENRY, journalist, author, was born Sept. 2, 1839, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a candidate for mayor of New York in 1897, but died a few days prior to the election. His works are: Progress and Poverty; Our Land and Land Policy; The Subsidy Question and the Democratic Party; Protection or Free Trade; The Irish Land Question; The Land Question; and Social Problems.

GEORGE, JAMES ZACHARIAH, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, was born Oct. 20, 1826, in Monroe county, Ga. He was a captain in the twentieth regiment of Mississippi volunteers in the confederate states army, afterward a brigadier-general of state troops, and later colonel of the fifth regiment of Mississippi cavalry in the confederate states army. In 1879 he was appointed one of the judges of the supreme court of Mississippi and elected chief justice. He has been a United States senator since 1881, his second term expiring in 1899.

GEORGE, MELVIN CLARKE, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born May 13, 1849, in Noble county, Ohio. He was a state senator for four years; and was elected a representative from Oregon to the forty-seventh and forty-eighth congresses as a republican.

GEORGE, NATHAN DOW, clergyman, author, was born in 1808 in New Hampshire. He was a methodist clergyman, long prominent in Maine, and subsequently in Massachusetts. He was the author of An Examination of Universalism; Universalism Not of God; Materialism Anti-Scriptural; and Annihilation Not of the Bible. He died in 1896.

GEORGE, SAMUEL CARR, missionary, educator, was born July 8, 1832, in Allegheny county, Pa. In 1861-73 he was a missionary in Siam. In 1886 he was elected professor of the Sanskrit and cognate tongues in Wilson Female college at Chambersburg, Pa.

GEORGE, SAMUEL WESLEY, public official, state senator, was born April 26, 1862, in Meredith, N. H. In 1893 he was elected a member of the Massachusetts state legislature; received the re-election four consecutive years and in 1897 was elected a member of the state senate.

GERARD, JAMES WATSON, lawyer, philanthropist, was born in 1794 in New York city. It was through his efforts that the institution now known as the house of refuge for juvenile delinquents was founded in New York, which was the first institution of its kind in the United States. He died Feb. 7, 1874, in New York city.

GERARD, JAMES WATSON, lawyer, author, was born about 1822 in New York city. He is a lawyer of New York city; and the author of The Pelican Papers, a satire; Titles to Real Estate in New York City; Title of the Corporation and Others to the Streets, Wharves, Lands, and Franchises in New York City; The Peace of Utrecht; Aquarelles (verse); and Ostrea, or the Loves of the Oysters, a collection of humorous verse.

GERE, CHARLES HENRY, lawyer, legislator, journalist, was born Feb. 18, 1838, in Gainesville, N. Y. He received his education at the Oxford academy, N. Y.; and in 1861 graduated from the Dickinson college, Pennsylvania. During 1863-65 he served as a union soldier in the tenth and eleventh regiments Maryland volunteer infantry. In 1865 he was admitted to the bar in Baltimore, and removed the same year to Nebraska and became prosecuting attorney of Pawnee county. In 1866 he served as a member of the Nebraska state legislature; was state senator in 1869-70 and 1881-82. In 1885-87 he was secretary of the state railway commissioners; and in 1892 was a delegate to the republican national convention. He is the editor-in-chief of the Nebraska Daily State Journal, and president of the State Journal company.

GERE, GEORGE GRANT, surgeon, author, was born Dec. 27, 1848, in Greene, N. Y. In 1886 he was appointed to the chair of surgery in the California Medical college. He has published a series of Lectures on Callopractic Surgery.

GERE, GEORGE W., lawyer, prohibitionist, was born March 22, 1843, in Clark county, Ill. He is a prominent lawyer of Champaign, Ill.; and in 1896 was a candidate for governor on the prohibitionist ticket.

GEREND, M. M., clergyman, college president, author, was born June 17, 1858, in Sheboygan, Wis. He became president of the St. Francis college, and in 1895 president of St. John's institute for deaf mutes. He is the author of Eugene Christian; A Tale of College Life; In and About St. Francis; and the editor of The Good Child.

GERHARD, BENJAMIN, lawyer, author, was born in 1812 in Philadelphia, Pa. As a lawyer he ranked high, and published several carefully edited text-books, among which are Starkie on Evidence; and Joshua Williams's Principles of the Law of Personal Property. He died June 18, 1864, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GERHARD, WILLIAM PAUL, civil engineer, author, was born July 30, 1854, in Germany. He is a sanitary engineer of New York city; and the author of Theater Fires and Panics; Anlagen von Haus-Erwässerungen; Diagram for Sewer Calculations; House Drainage and Sanitary Plumbing; Guide to General House Inspection; Domestic Sanitary Appliances; and Prinzipien der Haus-Kanalization, his principal writings.

GERHARD, WILLIAM WOOD, physician, author, was born July 23, 1809, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a Philadelphia physician; and the author of Diagnosis of Chest Diseases; Spotted Fever; Fevers; and Clinical Guide. He died April 28, 1872, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GERHART, EMANUEL VOGEL, educator, college president, clergyman, author, was born June 13, 1817, in Freeburg, Pa. He is a German reformed clergyman of Lancaster, Pa., professor of theology in Franklin and Marshall college; and the author of Philosophy and Logic; Monograph of the Reformed Church; Child's Heidelberg Catechism; and Institutes of the Christian Religion.

GERING, HENRY R., pharmaceutical chemist, was born April 27, 1868, in Cedar Falls, Iowa. He is president of the Nebraska State Pharmaceutical association; city treasurer of Plattsmouth, Neb.; secretary of the board of trade; and examiner to the Nebraska board of pharmacy.

GERMAN, OBADIAH, United States senator, was born in 1767 in Dutchess county, N. Y. He was a senator in congress from New York from 1809 to 1815. He died Sept. 24, 1842.

GERRISH, THEODORE, clergyman, author, was born in 1846. He is a clergyman of Portland, Maine; and the author of Army Life; Will Newton, the Young Volunteer; Life in the World's Wonderland; and The Blue and the Gray, an army history.

GERRY, CHARLES F., educator, state senator, author, poet, was born June 3, 1823, in Sudbury, Mass. He was a representative in the Massachusetts state legislature in 1887; and for some years was president of the Hyde Park Savings bank. He moved to his native city, and again went to the legislature, serving one year in the house and two years in the senate. He is the author of two prose works entitled Boy Life in the Country; and Tom's Island; and a volume of poems entitled Meadow Melodies.

GERRY, ELBRIDGE, signer of the declaration of independence, was born July 17, 1744, in Marblehead, Mass. He was a member of the legislature in 1773, and was appointed on the committee on correspondence. From 1776 to 1785 he was a delegate to the continental congress, and signed the declaration of independence; and also the articles of confederation. He was a representative in the federal congress from 1789 to 1793; and in 1797 was appointed minister to France. He was governor of Massachusetts in 1810 and 1811. In 1813 he was inaugurated vice-president of the United States; and filled the office until his death. He died Nov. 23, 1814, in Washington, D. C.

GERRY, ELBRIDGE, lawyer, congressman, was born Dec. 6, 1815, in Waterford, Maine. In 1840 he was clerk of the house of representatives of Maine; and in 1843 was elected state's attorney for Oxford county. In 1846 he was elected to the state legislature; and was a representative in congress from Maine from 1849 to 1851.

GERRY, ELBRIDGE THOMAS, lawyer, was born Dec. 25, 1837, in New York city. In 1867 he served the state as a member of the convention to revise the state constitution. In 1874 he was conspicuous in founding the society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, and since 1879 has been its president.

GERRY, JAMES, congressman, was born in Maryland. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1839 to 1843.

GERRY, SAMUEL LANCASTER, artist, was born May 10, 1813, in Boston, Mass. He was an original member of the Boston Art club, and its president in 1858. Among his works are The Gorge of the Rhine; The Old Man of the Mountain; Pasture Gate; and Land of Beulah.

GERVAIS, JOHN LEWIS, congressman, was born Oct. 8, 1753, in Germany. He was a delegate from South Carolina to the continental congress from 1782 to 1783. He died Oct. 2, 1798, in Charleston, S. C.

GESCHEIDT, LOUIS ANTHONY, physician, author, was born Feb. 19, 1808, in Germany. He came to this country in 1835, and settled in New York, where he became prominent in his profession, and in 1870 retired with a fortune. He published a work on Diseases of the Eye. He died Aug. 20, 1876, in Hastings, N. Y.

GEST, WILLIAM H., lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 7, 1838, in Jacksonville, Ill. He has been engaged in the practice of law since 1862 in his native city. He was elected to the fiftieth congress, and was re-elected to the fifty-first congress as a republican.

GETTY, GEORGE FRANKLIN, lawyer, was born Oct. 17, 1855, in Grantsville, Md. He received his education at the Smithville academy, Ohio; graduated from the Ohio Normal university in 1879; and from the law department of the Michigan university in 1882. He is one of the leading lawyers of Minnesota, and has a lucrative practice in Minneapolis. He has been circuit court commissioner; master in chancery, and is general counsel for several of the largest life insurance companies.

GETTY, GEORGE WASHINGTON, soldier, was born Oct. 20, 1819, in Georgetown, D. C. He fought against the Seminoles in 1849-50 and 1856-67; and took part in quelling the Kansas disturbances of 1857-58. During the civil war he attained the rank of brigadier-general.

GETZ, J. LAWRENCE, lawyer, journalist, congressman, was born Sept. 14, 1821, in Reading, Pa. He was for twenty years the editor of the Reading Gazette and Democrat. In 1856 he was elected to the state legislature; and in 1857 re-elected and made speaker of the house. In 1866 he was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the fortieth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-first and forty-second congresses as a democrat.

GEYER, HENRY SHEFFIE, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, was born Dec. 9, 1790, in Fredericktown, Md. He was an active member of the first two sessions of the state legislature, and was chosen speaker during his second term. He served from 1851 to 1857 in the United States senate; and while in Washington participated as attorney in the Dred Scott case. He died March 5, 1859, in St. Louis, Mo.

GHERARDI, BANCROFT, naval officer, was born Nov. 10, 1832, in Jackson, La. He entered the navy from Massachusetts as midshipman in 1846. He was made lieutenant-commander in 1862.

GHISELIN, GEORGE R., diplomat, was born in 1824, in Staunton, Va. During the civil war he was ambassador to England for the southern confederacy. He died Sept. 11, 1890, in New York city.

GHOLSON, JAMES H., congressman, was born in 1798 in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1833 to 1835. He died July 2, 1848, in Brunswick, Va.

GHOLSON, SAMUEL JAMESON, jurist, congressman, was born May 19, 1808, in Madison county, Ky. He was a representative in congress from Mississippi from 1837 to 1838; and was subsequently appointed United States judge for the district of Mississippi. He died Oct. 16, 1883, in Aberdeen, Miss.

GHOLSON, THOMAS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1808 to 1816.

GHOLSON, WILLIAM YATES, jurist, author, was born in 1807 in Virginia. He was an Ohio jurist who published Speeches on Payment of the Public Debt of the United States. He died Sept. 21, 1870, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

GIANQUE, FLORIEN, lawyer, author, was born in 1843 in Ohio. He is a Cincinnati lawyer of Swiss descent; and the author of Laws of Election in Ohio; Election and Naturalization Laws of the United States; Manual for Ohio Road Supervisors; Manual for Guardians and Trustees; Manual for Assignees, Insolvent Debtors, etc.; Laws of Ohio Relating to Roads, Ditches, Bridges, and Water-Courses; Manual for Notaries, etc.; and Appendix to Ohio Revised Statutes.

GIBBENS, ALVARO FRANKLIN, historian, journalist, poet, was born March 1, 1837, in Parkersburg, W. Va. He graduated in 1860, and received the degree of A. M. in 1865 from Jefferson college, Pennsylvania. He studied law but never practiced; taught in Baptist college of La Grange, Mo., in 1861; was editor of Parkersburg Gazette in 1865; of West Virginia Journal, 1870 to 1876; of State Tribune, 1881 to 1885; elder in Kanawha Presbyterian church; was corresponding member of the international executive committee of the Young Men's Christian association in 1873; was postmaster at Charleston for years; member of the republican state executive committee eight years; contributor to Masonic Review and other fraternal and literary magazines of poems and prose articles; delivered in 1885, at class reunion, the quarter-centennial poem; co-editor of Prominent Men of West Virginia; and editor of a History of Wood County; and is vice-president and charter member of the West Virginia State Historical and Antiquarian society.

GIBBES, ROBERT WILSON, physician, educator, journalist, scientist, was born July 8, 1809, in Charleston, S. C. He was a physician, educator and journalist of Columbia, S. C.; and the author of Monograph of the Squalidæ; Typhoid Pneumonia; Documentary History of South Carolina; and Documentary History of the American Revolution. He died in 1866.

GIBBES, ROBERT WILSON, surgeon, was born June 10, 1831, in Columbia, S. C. He was professor of surgery in the university of South Carolina in 1872-73, and was a frequent contributor to the literature of his profession. He died Oct. 23, 1875, in Columbia, S. C.

GIBBES, WILLIAM HASELL, soldier, lawyer, was born March 16, 1754, in Charleston, S. C. He was one of the thirty native Americans residing in London who petitioned the king against the series of acts of parliament that were the immediate cause of the revolution. He died in 1831.

GIBBON, JOHN OLIVER, soldier, author, was born April 20, 1827, in Holmsburg, Pa. He was a major-general in the federal army during the civil war who published The Artillerist's Manual. He died in 1896.

GIBBONS, ABIGAIL HOPPER, philanthropist, was born Dec. 7, 1801, in Philadelphia, Pa. She was one of the founders of the Isaac T. Hopper home in New York. She died in 1893.

GIBBONS, CHARLES, lawyer, state senator, was born March 30, 1814, in Wilmington, Del. He was for several years a member of the state senate and its president in 1847; chairman of the first republican state committee; one of the founders of the Union league; and the author of its constitution.

GIBBONS, EDWARD, soldier, merchant, state legislator, was born in England. He was a merchant in Boston, and a state representative during 1838-47. He served in the Mexican war during 1849-51 as major-general. He died Dec. 9, 1854, in Boston, Mass.

GIBBONS, HENRY, physician, author, was born Sept. 20, 1808, in Wilmington, Del. He was a physician of San Francisco, professor in the Pacific Medical college and was the author of an anti-tobacco treatise, Tobacco and Its Effects. He died Nov. 5, 1884, in Wilmington, Del.

GIBBONS, JAMES, educator, was born May 18, 1736, in Westtown, Pa. He was a member of the general assembly of Pennsylvania for the three years immediately preceding the declaration of independence. He died Oct. 17, 1823, in Birmingham, Pa.

GIBBONS, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born July 23, 1834, in Baltimore, Md. He is a cardinal of the Roman catholic church since 1886; and the author of The Faith of Our Fathers; Our Christian Heritage; and The Ambassador of Christ.

GIBBONS, JAMES SLOAN, merchant author, was born July 1, 1810, in Wilmington, Del. He was a prominent financier and philanthropist of New York city. He was the author of The Banks of New York; and The Public Debt of the United States. He wrote the popular war song, We Are Coming, Father Abraham.

GIBBONS, JOSEPH, journalist, philanthropist, was born Aug. 14, 1818, near Lancaster, Pa. He was the first candidate of the liberty party for vice-president of the United States in 1840. He was regarded as one of the founders of the republican party in his native state. He established the Friends' Journal in 1873. He died Dec. 9, 1883, in Lancaster, Pa.

GIBBONS, MRS. PHOEBE EARLE, author, was born in 1826 in Pennsylvania. She is an author of Lancaster county, Pa., and the author of Pennsylvania Dutch, and Other Essays; and French and Belgians.

GIBBONS, THOMAS, lawyer, jurist. He was a citizen of Georgia; and in 1801 he was appointed district judge of the United States court for the state of Georgia.

GIBBONS, WILLIAM, congressman. He was a delegate from Georgia to the continental congress from 1784 to 1786.

GIBBONS, WILLIAM, philanthropist, author, was born Aug. 10, 1781, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a philanthropist and scientist of Wilmington, Del. He wrote Truth Vindicated, a notably clear exposition of the principles of the Friends. He died July 25, 1845, in Wilmington, Del.

GIBBS, ADDISON C., soldier, lawyer, jurist, governor, was born July 9, 1825, in East Otto, N. Y. In 1851 he was a volunteer in the Indian war in Oregon. He was a representative in the legislature during the session of 1852-53. In 1862 he was elected governor of Oregon, and served four years. He was twice elected district attorney; was deputy United States district attorney for four years, and United States district attorney for two years.

GIBBS, EBENEZER L., educator, was born Oct. 1, 1822, in East Windsor, Conn. After receiving his education at the Allegheny college he entered educational work and for years taught select schools. He was appointed postmaster of Orwell, Ohio, under General Harrison, which he held through both parties. Since 1859 he has filled various public positions of trust in his town, county and state.

GIBBS, FRED C., merchant, writer, and political reformer, was born Aug. 28, 1856, in St. Paul, Minn. His parents were among the pioneers of Minnesota. He received his education in the common and high schools of Schuylerville, N. Y. He is a successful merchant of Waterville, Minn.; has been city councilman and served as chairman of the People's party of the state central committee.

He has written extensively on political reform; has been a thoughtful student of political and social economics; and is a nationalist in the fullest and broadest sense of the term. He is one of the thinkers of his day, and a leader of the people in his state.

GIBBS, GEORGE, mineralogist, was born Jan. 7, 1776, in Newport, R. I. On his return from abroad to Rhode Island he brought with him the most extensive and valuable collection ever seen in the United States up to that time. It consisted of the collection of Gigot d'Orey, containing 4,000 specimens, and that of Count Gregoire de Razamowsky, containing 6,000 specimens. He died Aug. 6, 1833, in Sunswick, L. I.

GIBBS, GEORGE, lawyer, antiquarian, author, was born July 17, 1815, in Astoria, L. I. He was a lawyer and antiquarian of New York city, and the author of The Judicial Chronicle; Dictionary of the Chinook Jargon, or Trade Language of Oregon; Comparative Vocabulary; Research Relative to the Ethnology and Philology of America; and Suggestions Relating to Scientific Observation in Russian America. He died April 9, 1873, in New Haven, Conn.

GIBBS, JOHN L., farmer, lawyer, legislator, lieutenant-governor, was born May 3, 1838, in Bradford county, Pa. He received the rudiments of his education in the common schools of South Hill, Pa., and attended the Le Raysville academy and the Susquehanna Collegiate institute. In 1861 he graduated from the Ann Arbor Law school, and settled in Minnesota the same year. He has taught school in Pennsylvania, Iowa and Minnesota. In 1862 he was elected county attorney of Freeborn county, and served one term. He has served six terms in the legislature of Minnesota, beginning with the session of 1864; was speaker of the house of representatives in 1877 and also in 1885; was appointed railroad commissioner in 1887 and served four years. He was raised on a farm, and since 1864 has had no other occupation. In 1896 he was elected lieutenant-governor of Minnesota. He is known all over the state as an enthusiastic advocate of co-operative dairying, and he has himself one of the largest dairy interests in the state.

GIBBS, JOSIAH WILLARD, philologist, educator, author, was born April 30, 1790, in Salem, Mass. He was a philologist who was professor of sacred literature at Yale university in 1824-61, and the author of Philological Studies; New Latin Analyst; and Teutonic Etymology. He died March 25, 1861, in New Haven, Conn.

GIBBS, JOSIAH WILLARD, educator, scientist, author, was born Feb. 11, 1839, in New Haven, Conn. He is a professor of physics at Yale university, and the author of scientific papers and monographs.

GIBBS, LAMBERT FRANCIS HEBER, clergyman, educator, journalist, was born Nov. 9, 1866, in Ware, Mass. He received his education in the high schools of Ware and Amherst, and attended Amherst college. He was pastor in Washington and Idaho in 1890-91; was principal of the Union Town schools, Washington, during 1891-95; and since then has been editor and owner of the News-Letter of Colton, Wash.

GIBBS, MITCHELL WISTER, jurist, was born April 17, 1823, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1872 he was a delegate to the national convention of colored men at New Orleans; was presidential elector in 1876, and the same year was appointed register of the United States land office by President Hayes, being re-appointed to the same office in 1881 by President Arthur. In 1884 he was delegate at large to the national republican convention, and also in 1892 and in 1896. He was appointed receiver of public moneys at Little Rock in 1890; and was appointed a commissioner to sell government reserve lands at Hot Springs in 1892; and in 1897 was appointed by President McKinley United States consul to Tamatave, Madagascar.

GIBBS, OLIVER WOLCOTT, educator, chemist, author, was born Feb. 21, 1822, in New York city. He is a chemist of distinction, Rumford professor at Harvard university, and author of scientific papers.

GIBBS, WILLIAM CHANNING, governor, was born in 1787. He was governor of Rhode Island from 1821 to 1824. He died Feb. 21, 1871, in Newport, R. I.

GIBBS, WILLIAM J., lawyer, was born Feb. 15, 1847, in Bienville Parish, La. He graduated in law from the Washington and Lee university with the degree of B. L. He is a prominent lawyer and real estate dealer of Corsicana, Texas, where he has held the office of city attorney for three terms. He has served as mayor of Mexia; and has been justice of the peace of Limestone county, Texas.

GIBBS, WOLCOTT, scientist, journalist, author, was born Feb. 21, 1822, in New York city. He is a noted scientist and author of many valuable researches, and one of the editors of the American Journal of Science and Arts.

GIBNEY, VIRGIL PENDLETON, physician, surgeon, author, was born Sept. 29, 1847, in Jessamine county, Ky. He has been for several years consulting orthopedic surgeon to the Nursery and Child's hospital of New York city. He is the author of a work entitled The Hip and Its Diseases.

GIBSON, CHARLES BELL, surgeon, was born Feb. 16, 1816, in Baltimore, Md. When the state of Virginia seceded he was made surgeon-general, became the chief consulting surgeon and operator in Richmond, and died from heart disease induced by excessive labor and fatigue. He died April 23, 1865, in Richmond, Va.

GIBSON, CHARLES HOPPER, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Jan. 19, 1842, in Queen Anne county, Md. In 1869 he was appointed auditor and commissioner in chancery; in 1870 resigned to accept the office of state's attorney for Talbot county, Md., to which he was appointed by the court, and was elected to the office, in 1871, for a full term, and was re-elected in 1875. In 1884 he was elected a representative from Maryland to the forty-ninth congress, and was re-elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a democrat. In 1891-97 he was a United States senator.

GIBSON, ELLA ELVIRA, lecturer, poet, was born May 8, 1821, in Winchendon, Mass. During the early part of the civil war Miss Gibson was engaged in organizing soldiers' ladies' aid societies in Wisconsin. She was connected with the eighth Wisconsin regiment volunteers, known as the Live Eagle regiment. In 1864 she was appointed chaplain of the first Wisconsin heavy artillery. She is the author of a number of meritorious poems.

GIBSON, EUSTACE, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 4, 1841, in Culpeper, Va. In 1876 he was elected a representative in the state legislature, and was chosen speaker. He was elected a representative from West Virginia to the forty-eighth congress; and was re-elected to the forty-ninth congress as a democrat.

GIBSON, GEORGE, soldier, was born Oct. 10, 1747, in Lancaster, Pa. When the revolution began he raised a company of one hundred men, and was appointed captain of a state regiment. In 1791 he took command of a regiment in the St. Clair expedition against the Ohio Indians. He died Dec. 14, 1791, in Fort Jefferson, Ohio.

GIBSON, GEORGE, soldier, was born in 1783 in Pennsylvania. He entered the army from civil life, and was appointed captain of infantry in 1808; and was promoted major in 1811. He died Sept. 29, 1861, in Washington, D. C.

GIBSON, GEORGE RUTLEDGE, financier, author, was born Jan. 20, 1853, in Auburn, Ill. He is the author of The Berlin Bourse; and The Stock Exchange of London, Paris and New York.

GIBSON, HENRY R., lawyer, jurist, journalist, congressman, author, was born Dec. 24, 1837, in Kent Island, Md. In 1865 he was admitted to the bar; in 1870 was a member of the Tennessee constitutional convention; a member of the state senate in 1871-72; and a member of the house of representatives in 1875. During 1886-94 he was judge of the chancery court of Tennessee; and in 1890 was elected professor of medical jurisprudence in the Tennessee Medical college. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican. He is the editor of the Republican and Chronicle of Knoxville, Tenn.; and the author of Suits in Chancery.

GIBSON, HORATIO GATES, soldier, was born May 22, 1827, in Baltimore, Md. He is a noted United States army officer now retired. He was brevetted second lieutenant to colonel of the third artillery; and was brevetted brigadier-general.

GIBSON, JAMES, soldier, journalist, jurist, state senator, was born Sept. 5, 1816, in Salem, N. Y. In 1850 he was elected county judge; and in 1866 he was elected state senator; and served gallantly through the civil war. His name is closely identified with the business affairs of Salem, Mass., where he was the editor of The Review-Press. He died June 6, 1897.

GIBSON, JAMES KING, soldier, farmer, merchant, congressman, was born Feb. 18, 1812, in Abingdon, Va. He was postmaster at Abingdon from 1838 until 1849. He was teller in the Exchange bank of Virginia at Abingdon in 1849, and notary public. He was elected to the forty-first congress as a democrat.

GIBSON, JAMES W., lawyer, soldier, journalist, was born Oct. 26, 1845, in Detroit, Mich. He served with distinction as a union soldier during the civil war. Has practiced law successfully for more than a quarter of a century, and for nine years served as county judge. He is the editor and joint owner of The Weekly Press of Newton, Ill. His poems have been given a place in Poets of America, and other standard collections.

GIBSON, JOHN, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born May 23, 1740, in Lancaster, Pa. He served in the revolutionary war. He was a judge of the court of common pleas and a general of militia. In 1800 he was appointed secretary of the territory of Indiana, holding the position until it became a state. He was acting governor of Indiana from 1810 to 1813. He died April 10, 1822, near Vincennes, Ind.

GIBSON, JOHN BANNISTER, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born Nov. 8, 1780, in Carlisle, Pa. In 1810-11 he was a member of the Pennsylvania state legislature; and in 1813 was appointed a judge of the eleventh district. He died May 3, 1853, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GIBSON, LOUIS HENRY, architect, author, was born in 1854 in Indiana. He is an architect of Indianapolis; and the author of Beautiful Houses, A Study in House-building; Convenient Houses; Gradual Reduction Milling; and Artistic Houses at Moderate Cost.

GIBSON, RANDALL LEE, soldier, lawyer, congressman, United States senator was born Sept. 10, 1832, in Springfield, Ky. He attained the rank of major-general in the confederate army; and afterward settled in the practice of law in New Orleans, La. He was elected a representative from Louisiana to the forty-fourth congress; was re-elected to the forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses; and was elected a senator of the United States from Louisiana in 1882; and was re-elected in 1888. He died Dec. 15, 1892.

GIBSON, ROBERT WILLIAMS, architect, was born Nov. 17, 1854, in England. He has attained a national reputation as an architect.

GIBSON, TOBIAS, pioneer, was born Nov. 10, 1771, in Liberty, S. C. He made four trips while a missionary through the wilderness to the Cumberland, and laid the foundations of methodism in the southwest. He died April 10, 1804, in Natchez, Tenn.

GIBSON, WILLIAM, physician, educator, was born in 1788 in Baltimore, Md. He was a famous physician of Philadelphia, professor of surgery in the university of Pennsylvania in 1819-55; and the author of Principles and Practice of Surgery; and Rambles in Europe. He died March 2, 1868, in Savannah, Ga.

GIBSON, WILLIAM, naval officer, author, was born in 1826 in Maryland. He was a United States naval officer retired in 1879; and the author of Sailing Directions for the Kattegat, etc.; Poems of Many Years; Vision of Faery Land, and Other Poems; a translation of the Miscellaneous Poems of Goethe. He died in 1887.

GIBSON, WILLIAM HAMILTON, artist, author, was born Oct. 5, 1850, in Sandy Hook, Conn. He was an artist and author of New York city who has illustrated his own writings; and the author of The Complete American Trapper; Pastoral Days; Highways and Byways; Strolls by Starlight and Sunshine; Happy Hunting-Grounds; Sharp-Eyes, a Rambler's Calendar; Camp Life in the Woods; and Our Edible Toadstools and Mushrooms.

GIDDINGS, ALMENA, educator, author, was born April 14, 1838, in Hartland, Conn. She wrote under various names, and published a volume of poems entitled My Welcome Beyond and Other Poems.

GIDDINGS, ARMIN, lawyer, legislator, was born May 31, 1822, in Sherman, Conn. For fourteen years he was judge of probate; was a member of the state legislature during 1851-56; state senator during 1857-64; and in 1864 he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Montana. He died Feb. 13, 1882, in Sherman, Conn.

GIDDINGS, DE WITT C., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 18, 1827, in Susquehanna county, Pa. He served as a soldier in the confederate army. He was a member of the state constitutional convention of 1866. He was elected to the forty-second congress, and re-elected to the forty-third congress, and re-elected to the forty-fifth congress as a democrat. He served on numerous important committees while a member of congress.

GIDDINGS, EDWARD FULLER, lawyer, journalist, was born May 1, 1859, in Eaton, N. Y. He was the one-time editor of the Springfield Union, Mass.; and is now an able lawyer of Chicago, Ill.

GIDDINGS, EDWARD JONATHAN, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 24, 1831, in Great Barrington, Mass. He is clergyman of the congregationalist church; and the author of Christian Rulers of America.

GIDDINGS, FRANKLIN HENRY, educator, journalist, author, born March 23, 1855, in Sherman, Conn. In 1888, after years of editorial work, he was appointed to the chair of political science in Bryn Mawr college, Pa. While holding that position he delivered a series of lectures on Sociology at Columbia college, N. Y.; and since 1891 has filled the chair on that subject in that institution. He is the author of a very able work entitled Principles of Sociology. His other works are: Report on Profit Sharing; and The Modern Distributive Process.

GIDDINGS, J. WIGHT, journalist, lawyer, state senator, was born Sept. 27, 1858, in Romeo, Mich. He is the editor and owner of The News of Cadillac, Mich. During 1886-90 he served as a member of the Michigan state senate; was lieutenant-governor of Michigan during 1893-95; and has been judge of the recorder's court.

GIDDINGS, JOSHUA REED, lawyer, abolitionist, diplomat, congressman, author, was born Oct. 6, 1795, in Athens, Pa.

He was elected to the Ohio legislature in 1826; was a representative in congress from Ohio from 1838 to 1859; and for many years recognized as one of the leaders of the anti-slavery party. In 1861 he was appointed consul-general of British North America. He was the author of The Exiles of Florida; The Rebellion: its Authors and its Causes; Speeches in Congress; and Essays of Pacificus. He died May 27, 1864, in Montreal, Canada.

GIDDINGS, MARSH, lawyer, governor, was born Nov. 9, 1815, in Sherman, Conn. For eight years he was probate judge of Kalamazoo county, Mich. In 1871 he was appointed governor of New Mexico, and died while in office on June 3, 1875, in Santa Fe.

GIDDINGS, MINOT S., merchant, author, was born March 19, 1837, in Sherman, Conn. He was a candidate for state representative, and several times a member of state conventions. In 1882 he published a genealogy of the Giddings Family.

GIDDINGS, ORIENT NOBLE, legislator, jurist, was born Feb. 21, 1814, in Beekman, N. Y. He was one of the first magistrates of Charleston, Mich., and in 1845-46 was a member of the Michigan state legislature. In 1865 he was appointed quartermaster-general of his state.

GIDDINGS, ROCKWOOD, clergyman, college president, was born Aug. 8, 1812, in Plymouth, N. H. In 1838 he was appointed president of the Baptist college of Georgetown, Ky. He died Oct. 29, 1839.

GIDDINGS, SALMON, clergyman, missionary, was born March 2, 1782, in Hartland, Conn. In 1817 he organized the First Presbyterian church in St. Louis, Mo., and died Feb. 1, 1828, and his remains were deposited in a vault constructed for the purpose under the pulpit of his church.

GIESSLER, HENRY FRANKLIN, lawyer, banker, state legislator, was born Oct. 15, 1853, near Hanover, Pa. In 1886 he moved to Kansas, and there founded with his brother the Bank of Oakley. In 1897 he was elected a member of the Kansas house of representatives.

GIFFE, WILLIAM T., musician, composer, was born June 28, 1848, in Portland, Ind. He is the author of Giffe's Practical Course in Harmony and Musical Composition, and a number of popular music books for singers. He is the president of the Home Music company of Logansport, Ind.

GIFFORD, ARCHER, lawyer, author, was born in 1797 in Newark, N. J. He published a Digest of the Statutory and Constitutional Constructions delivered in the Supreme Court and Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey; and Unity of the Liturgy. He died May 12, 1859, in Newark, N. J.

GIFFORD, FRED W., lawyer, jurist, was born March 8, 1857, in East Arlington, Vt. He received his education in the schools of Iowa. For several years he was a justice of the peace at Independence, Iowa; and subsequently served as police judge of Kansas City, Mo. He is one of the leading lawyers of Missouri; and has filled numerous positions of honor in Kansas City.

GIFFORD, HARRY ELLSWORTH, genealogist, was born Jan. 27, 1865, in New Bedford, Mass. He is the author of The Gifford Genealogy.

GIFFORD, MIRAM W., clergyman, author, was born June 3, 1851, in Canada. For over a quarter of a century he has been actively engaged in the ministry of the methodist episcopal church, and now fills a pastorate in Howell, Mich. He has received the degrees of M. A. and Ph. D.; and is the author of several scientific and philosophical works, the most notable of which is Laws of the Soul, or the Science of Religion and the Future Life.

GIFFORD, ORIN P., clergyman, reformer, was born April 15, 1847, in Montague, Mass. Since 1894 he has filled a pastorate in Brooklyn, N. Y. Besides his church work he has always taken an active part in municipal reform work.

GIFFORD, OSCAR SHERMAN, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 20, 1842, in Watertown, N. Y. He served in the union army as private in the Elgin (Illinois) battery from 1863 to 1865; studied law; was admitted to the bar in 1870, and engaged in the practice of law at Canton, Dakota.

He was elected district attorney for Lincoln county in 1874; and in 1882 and 1883 was mayor of the city of Canton. He was a member of the constitutional convention of Dakota which convened at Sioux Falls in 1883; and was elected delegate from Dakota to the forty-ninth, fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a republican.

GIFFORD, ROBERT SWAIN, artist, was born Dec. 23, 1840, in Naushon, Mass. He made an extensive sketching tour in Oregon and California in 1869, and furnished views from these states to Picturesque America.

GIFFORD, SANFORD ROBINSON, landscape painter, was born in Saratoga county, N. Y. His best works are The Storm; and Camp of the Seventh Regiment.

GIGER, GEORGE MUSGRAVE, clergyman, was born June 6, 1822, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was elected adjunct professor of Greek in 1846, and professor of Latin in 1854 in Princeton university. He bequeathed his books and thirty thousand dollars to that college. He died Oct. 11, 1865, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GIHON, ALBERT LEARY, surgeon, author, was born Sept. 28, 1833, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1872 he was medical inspector; and in 1879 medical director. He completed forty years of active service in 1895, and was retired from active duty by limitation of age with rank of commodore. His principal works are: Practical Suggestions in Naval Hygiene; Need of Sanitary Reform in Ship Life; Sanitary Commonplaces Applied to the Navy; and Prevention of Venereal Disease by Legislation.

GILBERG, CHARLES ALEXANDER, chess-player, was born June 17, 1835, in Camden, N. J. He is widely known as an amateur chess-player, and has served as judge in almost every public contest that has taken place. His chess library of more than 1,500 volumes is the largest in this country with the exception of that of John G. White, of Cleveland, Ohio.

GILBERT, ABIJAH, merchant, United States senator, was born June 18, 1806, in Gilbertsville, N. Y.

He was a student at Hamilton college, but ill-health prevented him from graduating. He engaged in mercantile pursuits in New York and elsewhere. He removed to Florida for the health of his family; and was elected a senator in congress from that state for the term commencing in 1869 and ending in 1875. He died Nov. 23, 1881, in Otsego county, N. Y.

GILBERT, ALEXANDER, banker, was born Aug. 10, 1839, in Elizabeth, N. J. In 1883 he was elected vice-president of the Market's bank of New York; and in 1890 was elected mayor of Plainfield, N. J.

GILBERT, BENJAMIN, miller, author, was born in 1711 near Philadelphia, Pa. He was a miller of Northumberland, Pa., who wrote on theological themes, Truth Defended; Discourses on Perfection; and Further Discourses on Sin, Election, Reprobation and Baptism. He died June 8, 1780, on St. Lawrence River.

GILBERT, CHARLES HENRY, zoölogist, author, was born in 1859 in Illinois. He is an ichthyologist, professor of zoölogy at Stanford university; and the author of Synopsis of the Fishes of North America.

GILBERT, DAVID McCONAUGHY, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 4, 1836, in Gettysburg, Pa. He is a lutheran clergyman of Virginia; and the author of The Lutheran Church in Virginia, 1776-1876; The Synod of Virginia; The Annihilation Theory Briefly Examined; and Muhlenberg's Ministry in Virginia.

GILBERT, EDWARD, journalist, congressman, was born in Albany, N. Y. He founded and became editor-in-chief of the daily Alta California, thus being the pioneer of the daily press of San Francisco. He served as a representative in congress from 1850 to 1851. He died in 1862 in California.

GILBERT, EZEKIEL, congressman, was born in 1755 in Middletown, Conn. He was a member of congress from New York from 1793 to 1797. He died in July, 1842, in Hudson, N. Y.

GILBERT, FRANK M., journalist, poet, was born July 1, 1846, in Mobile, Ala. He is the editor and owner of The Evening Tribune of Evansville, Ind.; is a well known humorist; and the author of a volume of poems.

GILBERT, GROVE KARL, artist, author, was born May 6, 1843, in Rochester, N. Y. He is a geologist attached to the United States geological survey; and the author of Geology of the Henry Mountains; Topographical Features of Lake Shores; Geology of Nevada, Utah; and Lake Bonneville.

GILBERT, GROVE SHELDON, artist, was born Aug. 5, 1805, in Clinton, N. Y. He attained distinction as a portrait painter. He died March 23, 1885, in Rochester, N. Y.

GILBERT, JOHN GIBBS, actor, was born Feb. 27, 1810, in Boston, Mass. He attained prominence in his profession both in Europe and America. He died June 17, 1889, in Boston, Mass.

GILBERT, LINDA, philanthropist, was born May 13, 1847, in Rochester, N. Y. She has attained a national reputation as a philanthropist.

GILBERT, MAHLON NORRIS, protestant episcopal bishop, was born March 23, 1848, in Morris, N. Y. In 1881 he was called to the rectorship of Christ church, St. Paul, Minn. He was a deputy to the general convention of 1886, and was elected assistant bishop of Minnesota in the same year.

GILBERT, NATHAN STRONG, musician, composer, was born Jan. 28, 1852, in Iowa. He is a noted organist and piano instructor of Leavenworth, Kas. He has composed for the voice a Serenade and Polka Caprice, and a number of anthems and hymns.

GILBERT, PARMUS C., educator, lawyer, was born May 24, 1865, in Newberg, Mich. He attended the public schools of his county, and graduated from the high school of Traverse City.

He then attended the commercial department of the Normal school of Valparaiso, Ind.; and subsequently graduated from the law department of the university of Michigan. He entered into educational work as a teacher in the public schools of his native city, where he has also attained success as an able lawyer in probate practice and commercial law. He has served with distinction as city attorney; and is a member of the board of education of Traverse City, Mich.

GILBERT, RUFUS HENRY, surgeon, was born Jan. 26, 1832, in Guilford, N. Y. At the beginning of the civil war he joined the Duryea zouaves as surgeon, and served through the war. He was afterward made medical director and superintendent of the United States army hospitals. He died July 10, 1885, in New York city.

GILBERT, SAMUEL AUGUSTUS, soldier, civil engineer, was born Aug. 25, 1825, in Zanesville, Ohio. In 1863 he became engineer on the staff of Gen. John G. Foster; and subsequently commanded a brigade in Kentucky. He died June 9, 1868, in St. Paul, Minn.

GILBERT, SYLVESTER, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1756 in Hebron, Conn. In 1780 he was a member of the general assembly, being the youngest member in the house; and in 1788 was appointed state's attorney for Tolland county, and filled that office twenty-one years. In 1807 he was appointed chief judge of the county court and judge of probate, which offices he held until 1825, with the exception of his term as representative in congress from Connecticut in 1818-19. In 1826 he was again elected to the legislature, and was then the oldest member in the house, to which body he had, from the year 1780, been re-elected thirty times. He died in January, 1846.

GILBERT, WALTER BOND, musician, composer, was born April 21, 1829, in England. In 1869 he was appointed organist of Trinity chapel, New York. His compositions and publications are numerous, and include two oratorios, St. John, and the Restoration of Israel.

GILBERT, WILLIAM A., congressman, was born in Connecticut. Moving to New York he was elected a representative from that state to the thirty-fourth congress.

GILBERT, WILLIAM KENT, physician, was born Dec. 28, 1830, in Gettysburg, Pa. He attained prominence as one of the foremost physicians and surgeons of his native state at Philadelphia, where he died June 28, 1880.

GILCHRIST, JOHN JAMES, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Feb. 16, 1809, in Medford, Mass. He was a member of the New Hampshire legislature; register of probate; and associate judge in 1840. He was chief justice of the state supreme court in 1848, and of the United States court of claims in 1855. He published a Digest of New Hampshire Reports. He died April 29, 1858, in Washington, D. C.

GILCHRIST, ROBERT BUDD, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Sept. 28, 1796, in South Carolina. About 1841 he was appointed United States judge for the district of South Carolina; and for a time held the same position in Georgia. He died May 1, 1856, in Charleston, S. C.

GILCHRIST, WILLIAM WALLACE, musician, composer, was born in 1846 in Jersey City, N. J. He has won three prizes for compositions from the Mendelssohn Glee club of New York city, and in 1882 the Cincinnati May festival prize was awarded him.

GILDER, JEANNETTE LEONARD, journalist, dramatist, author, poet, was born in 1850 in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1875 she joined the staff of the New York Herald as a book reviewer; and in 1880, in connection with her brother, Richard Watson Gilder, started The Critic. In 1876 she wrote a play entitled Quits, which was brought out in the Chestnut Street theater of Philadelphia. She dramatized a Wonderful Woman for Rose Eytinge; Sevenoaks for John T. Raymond; and a Comedy for Harry Becket.

GILDER, JOHN FRANCIS, pianist, composer, was born April 3, 1837, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is noted for his correct interpretation of Gottschalk's compositions, and as a concert pianist he has been heard in the principal cities and towns of the United States.

GILDER, RICHARD WATSON, journalist, author, poet, was born Feb. 8, 1844, in Bordentown, N. J. He is a writer of New York city well known both as a poet and as the editor of The Century Magazine, of which, with its predecessor, Scribner's Monthly, he has been editor-in-chief since 1881. He is the author of The New Day, The Poet and his Master, Lyrics;

The Celestial Passion; Two Worlds; The Great Remembrance, and Other Poems; and Five Books of Song, which include all of his collected poems up to the year 1894.

GILDER, WILLIAM HENRY, explorer, author, was born Aug. 16, 1835, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is an Arctic explorer; and the author of Schwatka's Search; and Ice Pack and Tundra.

GILDERSLEEVE, BASIL LANNEAU, educator, journalist, author, was born Oct. 23, 1831, in Charleston, S. C. He has been a professor of Greek at Johns Hopkins university from 1876, and editor of the American Journal of Philology from its establishment. He is the author of Essays and Studies, and has published a Latin Grammar, and editions of Justin Martyr and the Odes of Pindar.

GILE, FRANCIS ALFRED, physician, surgeon, was born July 19, 1845, in Franklin, N. H. He received his education in the New Hampshire seminary, and attended the New York Medical college. He is a veteran of the civil war, and a well-known physician and specialist of Orange, N. J. He has been medical examiner and surgeon, coroner of Essex county, and filled various other public offices of honor.

GILES, CHAUNCEY, clergyman, author, was born May 11, 1813, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a Swedenborgian clergyman of Philadelphia, and of much prominence in his denomination. He was the author of The Nature of Spirit; The Second Coming of Our Lord; Perfect Prayer; Man as a Spiritual Being; The Incarnation; The Wonderful Pocket; The Magic Spectacles, a fairy tale; The Gate of Pearl; The Magic Shoes, and Other Stories; Heavenly Blessedness; The New Jerusalem; The Spiritual World; and The Valley of the Diamonds, and Other Stories. He died in 1893.

GILES, ELLA AUGUSTA, author, was born in 1851 in Wisconsin. She is a writer of Madison, Wis.; and the author of Bachelor Ben; Out from the Shadows; Maiden Rachel; and Flowers of the Spirit.

GILES, HENRY, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 1, 1809, in Ireland. He was a unitarian minister of Liverpool, England, and after 1840 a literary lecturer in the United States. He was the author of Lectures and Essays; Christian Thought on Life; Illustrations of Genius; Human Life in Shakespeare; and Lectures on the Irish, and Other Subjects. He died July 10, 1882, in Boston, Mass.

GILES, JOHN, lawyer, congressman, was born about 1788 in North Carolina. In 1829 he was elected a member of the house of representatives in congress from North Carolina, but resigned before taking his seat, on account of ill-health. He died March 2, 1846, in Stanley county, N. C.

GILES, WILLIAM BRANCH, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, governor, was born Aug. 12, 1762, in Amelia county, Va. He was a representative in congress from 1790 to 1798, and again from 1801 to 1802. In 1801 and 1805 he was a presidential elector; and was a United States senator from 1804 to 1816. He was subsequently a member of the legislature. From 1826 to 1829 he was governor of his native state. He died Dec. 4, 1830, in Albemarle county, Va.

GILES, WILLIAM FELL, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born April 8, 1807, in Harford county, Md. He was elected to the state legislature in 1837 to 1839; in 1845 was elected to congress; declined a renomination; and in 1853 was appointed United States district judge for the district of Maryland.

GILFILLAN, CALVIN W., educator, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 20, 1832, in Mercer county, Pa. In 1857 he was elected superintendent of public instruction for Mercer county; in 1861 was appointed district attorney for Venango county; and in 1862 was elected to the same position. In 1868 he was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-first congress as a republican.

GILFILLAN, CHARLES DUNCAN, lawyer, was born July 4, 1831, in New Hartford, N. Y. St. Paul sent him three times to the lower house of the Minnesota legislature and three times to the senate, and he has also been president of the St. Paul water board. The Gilfillan block and other business buildings in the city belong to him.

GILFILLAN, JAMES, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born March 9, 1829, in Bannockburn, Scotland. He served in the south till the end of the civil war, and in 1864 was commissioned colonel of the eleventh Minnesota. He was treasurer of the United States during 1877-83.

GILFILLAN, JOHN B., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Feb. 11, 1835, at Barnet, Vt. He was prosecuting attorney of Hennepin county, Minn., from 1863 to 1867, and from 1869 to 1873; and was city attorney of Minneapolis from 1861 to 1864. He was a member of the state senate of Minnesota from 1875 to 1885; became regent of the state university of Minnesota in 1880, and continued in that office. He was elected a representative from Minnesota to the forty-ninth congress as a republican.

GILFILLAN, JOSEPH A., clergyman, missionary, was born in 1825 in New York. He has been a noted missionary of the protestant episcopal church for twenty-five years among the Chippeway Indians at White Earth, Minn. He is superintendent of all the six thousand Chippeways scattered in northern Minnesota.

GILL, MOSES, lieutenant-governor. He was elected lieutenant-governor of Massachusetts in 1797; and was acting governor of the state from 1799 to 1800.

GILL, ROSALIE LORRAINE, artist, was born Sept. 2, 1867, in Elmira, N. Y. She paints landscapes and still life, as well as portraits.

GILL, THEODORE NICHOLAS, educator, naturalist, author, was born March 21, 1837, in New York city. He is a naturalist, professor of zoology in the Columbian university, Washington, D. C.; and the author of Arrangement of the Families of Mollusks; Arrangement of the Families of Fishes; Arrangement of the Families of Mammals; Catalogue of the Fishes of the East Coast of North America; and Scientific and Popular Views of Nature Contrasted.

GILL, WILLIAM B., telegraph manager, was born Dec. 27, 1847, in Philadelphia, Pa. During 1866-81 he was with the Western Union company, rising through all the grades to the superintendency. In 1881 he accepted a contract to build the Bankers' and Merchants' telegraph line between Philadelphia and New York, which he completed within four months; and then took another contract to erect a line to Pittsburg. In 1882 he became the general superintendent of the Delaware and Atlantic Telegraph and Telephone company, which he resigned two years later to accept the superintendency of the sixth district of the Western Union Telegraph company. He is vice-president and director in a number of local telegraph and telephone companies in sundry towns within his district.

GILL, WILLIAM IRELAND, author. He is the author of Evolution and Progress; Analytical Processes; and Christian Conception and Experience.

GILL, WILLIAM FEARING, author. He is the author of The Martyred Church; Home Recreations; and Life of Poe.

GILLAM, GEORGE F., lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born Nov. 7, 1836, in Middlesex, N. Y. He was a member of the Michigan state legislature in 1871-72. Since 1872 he has practiced law in Lansing; was justice of the peace during 1877-81; and probate judge of his county during 1881-85.

GILLEM, ALVAN CULLEM, soldier, state legislator, was born July 29, 1830, in Jackson county, Tenn. He was a member of the first legislature of Tennessee. He served on the Texas frontier and in California; and led the troops in the Modoc campaign. He died Dec. 2, 1875, in Nashville, Tenn.

GILLESPIE, EUGENE P., lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 24, 1852, in Greensville, Pa. He is a successful lawyer in his native city; and was elected to the fifty-second congress as a democrat.

GILLESPIE, GEORGE, clergyman, author, born in 1683 in Glasgow, Scotland. He was a presbyterian clergyman, once prominent in Delaware; and the author of Treatise Against Deists and Free Thinkers; Letters to the Presbytery of New York; and Remarks upon Mr. George Whitefield. He died Jan. 2, 1760.

GILLESPIE, GEORGE DE NORMANDIE, bishop of western Michigan, was born June 14, 1819, in Goshen, N. Y. The bishop has published, besides sermons and tracts, Manual and Annals of the Diocese of Michigan.

GILLESPIE, HENRY LA FAYETTE, merchant, clergyman, reformer, was born Sept. 4, 1863, in Delaware county, Iowa. He graduated from the Lumbard university; has attained eminence as a successful missionary of the universalist church in Iowa. Prior to entering the ministry he was engaged in mercantile business.

GILLESPIE, JAMES, congressman. He was a member of the provincial congress of North Carolina; and was a representative in the United States congress from that state from 1793 to 1799, and from 1803 to 1805. He died Jan. 10, 1805.

GILLESPIE, JOHN A., educator, was born June 5, 1845, in Newville, Pa. He received his education at the Iowa State university. For six years he was a teacher in the Iowa School for the Deaf; and for twenty years has been superintendent of the Nebraska School for the Deaf, at Omaha. He is prominent in educational affairs; and president of the American Association to Promote Auricular Training.

GILLESPIE, NEAL HENRY, college president, educator, clergyman, was born in 1822 in Brownsville, Pa. In 1859 he was made president of the College of St. Mary of the Lake of Chicago. He was for several years editor of The Ave Maria, and was also spiritual director of several religious and literary societies connected with the university of Notre Dame. He died Nov. 12, 1874, in St. Mary's, Ind.

GILLESPIE, WILLIAM MITCHELL, educator, author, was born in 1816 in New York. He was a professor of civil engineering at Union college in 1845-68; and the author of Rome as seen by a New Yorker; Roads and Railroads; Manual for Roadmaking; Principles and Practice of Land Surveying; Levelling; Topography and Higher Surveying; and Philosophy of Mathematics. He died Jan. 1, 1868, in New York.

GILLET, CHARLES W., soldier, congressman, was born Nov. 26, 1840, in Addison, N. Y. He enlisted as a private in the eighty-sixth regiment New York volunteers, August, 1861; was made adjutant of the regiment in 1861, and served as adjutant until discharged from the service for disabilities in 1863. He was elected to the fifty-third, fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican; and is a member of several important committees.

GILLET, RANSOM H., lawyer, congressman, author, was born Jan. 27, 1800, in New Lebanon, N. Y. In 1827 he was appointed brigade-major and inspector of militia. In 1830 he was appointed postmaster of Ogdensburg, which office he filled three years. He was elected a representative in congress; and re-elected in 1834. In 1845 he was appointed register for the treasury, serving until 1847, when he was appointed solicitor of the treasury, in which office he continued until the autumn of 1849. In 1855-58 he was assistant to the attorney-general of the United States. He was the author of History of the Democratic Party; The Federal Government; and Life of Silas Wright.

GILLET, EZRA HALL, educator, clergyman, author, was born July 15, 1823, in Colchester, Conn. He was a presbyterian clergyman of New York city, and professor of political economy in the university of New York from 1868. He was the author of History of the Presbyterian Church in the United States; Life of John Huss; God in Human Thought; The Moral System; Life Lessons in the School of Christianity; What Then? or the Soul's To-Morrow; and Ancient Cities and Empires. He died Sept. 2, 1875, in Harlem, N. Y.

GILLETT, FREDERICK HUNTINGTON, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 16, 1851, in Westfield, Mass. He graduated at Amherst college in 1874 and at Harvard Law school in 1877; and was admitted to the bar in Springfield in 1877. He was assistant attorney-general of Massachusetts from 1879 to 1882; and was elected to the Massachusetts house of representatives in 1890 and 1891. He was elected to the fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses, and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

GILLETT, OREN M., lawyer, banker, was born March 12, 1850, in Bergen, N. Y. In 1875 he was admitted to the bar in Independence, Iowa. During 1881-90 he was clerk of the district and circuit courts of Buchanan county, Iowa; in 1890-92 he was cashier of the Commercial State bank of Independence, Iowa; and since the latter date has been president of that financial institution.

GILLETTE, ABRAM DUNN, educator, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 8, 1807, in Cambridge, Washington county, N. Y. He published a History of the Eleventh Baptist Church of Philadelphia; Memoir of the Rev. Daniel H. Gillette; and Pastor's Last Gift, and edited Social Hymns and the minutes of the Philadelphia Baptist association from 1707 till 1807. He died Aug. 24, 1882, in Lake George, N. Y.

GILLETTE, EDWARD HOOPER, farmer, journalist, legislator, congressman, was born Oct. 1, 1840, in Bloomfield, Conn.

He received his education at the Hartford High school and the New York State Agricultural college. He served with distinction as a member of the forty-sixth congress from the Des Moines district, Iowa. As an advocate of populist and other reforms he has gained a national reputation; and has been successful as a farmer, editor and public speaker. His father was Francis Gillette, a farmer and United States senator from Connecticut; and an associate of Charles Sumner, and the frequent candidate of the old free soil party for governor of Connecticut.

GILLETTE, FRANCIS, United States senator, was born Dec. 14, 1807, in Bloomfield, Conn. He was a senator in congress from Connecticut during the session of 1854-55, to fill a vacancy. He died Sept. 30, 1879, in Hartford, Conn.

GILLETTE, MRS. LUCIA FIDELIA WOOLLEY, minister, lecturer, author, poet, was born in 1827 in Madison county, N. Y. She received her education at the Cazenovia seminary and the Bridgewater academy. She was the daughter of a noted universalist minister; and was herself ordained to the ministry in 1873. She has held the office of state missionary and of pastor; and for many years was prominent in the lecture field. In her youth she contributed to the Boston Repository and the New York Tribune. She is the author of A Memoir of Her Father; Pebbles From the Shore; Editorials and Other Waifs; and in connection with her daughter published a volume entitled Floating Leaves.

GILLETTE, WILLIAM HOOKER, actor, author, was born July 24, 1853, in Hartford, Conn. He was an actor and playwright, among whose plays are Held by the Enemy; The Professor; Esmeralda; and The Private Secretary.

GILLEY, SILAS ALFRED, soldier, clergyman, prohibitionist, was born April 21, 1845, in Farmersville, N. Y. For three years he served in the union army, and was promoted while in his teens. He is now pastor of the methodist church of Marengo, Iowa; and editor of the Sunday-school Quarterlies of his denomination.

GILLHAM, ROBERT, civil engineer, was born Sept. 25, 1854, in New York city. He is vice-president of the Kansas City Elevated Railway company, and designed and built the road as chief engineer. He organized the Kansas City Cable Railway company, and as chief engineer constructed the railway, including the steep incline at the Union depot, Kansas City; also the Eighth Street Tunnel and Elevated railway, near the Union depot, which are monuments to his engineering skill and science. Among other noted engineering works executed by him are the Omaha Cable Railway system, the Denver City Cable Railway system, the Montague Cable railway of Brooklyn, N. Y.; the Cleveland City Cable railway, Cleveland, Ohio. He is a recognized authority on the subject of compressed air, and visited Europe in the interests of a wealthy syndicate and made extensive experiments and tests of the various applications in the use of compressed air abroad. He has made successful demonstrations of the feasibility of operating street cars by the use of compressed air. He was elected president of the Engineers' club of Kansas City, and is a member of various other engineering and scientific societies. He is president of the Armourdale Foundry company, Kansas City, and one of the park commissioners of Kansas City, Mo.

GILLIAM, DAVID TOD, educator, surgeon, author, was born April 3, 1844, in Hebron, Ohio. He was elected president of the Columbus Academy of Medicine. He is the author of Essentials of Pathology, and A Pocket-Book of Medicine.

GILLIG, GEORGE, brewer, was born Oct. 9, 1809, in Germany. He began the brewery business in New York city in 1840, and was the first to brew lager beer in 1846.

GILLIGAN, JOHN PHILIP, surgeon, was born Jan. 14, 1897, in Elizabethtown, N. Y. He graduated from the Medical Union university, and has attained prominence as one of the foremost surgeons of the west. He has been surgeon to several large railway corporations; secretary to the United States pension board; a member of the insanity commission; and has held various other public positions of honor. He has a large practice in Nebraska, and resides in O'Neill.

GILLIN, CHARLES WESLEY, physician, surgeon, was born Sept. 9, 1865, in Ebensburg, Pa. He received his education at the Waterloo college, Iowa; and graduated in medicine from the Rush Medical college of Chicago. He is one of the most successful physicians and surgeons of his native state. He has been president of the local board of health; is local railroad surgeon; and a member of various local and state medical societies.

GILLIS, JAMES HENRY LAWRENCE, naval officer, was born May 14, 1831, in Ridgeway, Pa. He served in the United States navy during the civil war; and received the rank of commodore.

GILLIS, JAMES L., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 2, 1792, in Hebron, N. Y. He was commissioned in 1814 a lieutenant by the governor of New York. In 1840 he was elected to the legislature of Pennsylvania; and in 1842 was appointed one of the judges of Jefferson county. In 1845 he was elected to the state senate; and in 1851 was again re-elected to the lower house; and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania in the thirty-fifth congress.

GILLISS, JAMES MELVILLE, astronomer, author, was born Sept. 6, 1811, in Georgetown, D. C. He was an astronomer of distinction in charge of the naval observatory at Washington; and the author of United States Astronomical Expedition to the Southern Hemisphere; and Observations at the Naval Observatory. He died Feb. 9, 1865, in Washington, D. C.

GILLMAN, HENRY, scientist, diplomat, author, was born Nov. 16, 1833, in Ireland. He served as United States consul at Jerusalem until 1891. He is the author of The Wild Flowers and Gardens of Jerusalem and Palestine.

GILMORE, QUINCY ADAMS, soldier, author, was born Feb. 28, 1825, in Black River, Ohio. He was a military engineer in charge of the federal bombardment of Charleston in 1863. He was a major-general of volunteers in the civil war, and a high authority on engineering matters. He was the author of Siege and Reduction of Fort Pulaski; Limes, Hydraulic Cements, and Mortars; Engineer and Artillery Operations Against the Defences of Charleston; and Compressive Strength, etc., of Building Stones of the United States. He died April 8, 1888, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

GILMORE, ROBERT HAMILTON, journalist, lawyer, was born Nov. 14, 1822, in Newark, Ohio. He graduated from the university of Ohio, and was admitted to the bar in 1855 at Zanesville, where he edited the Zanesville Gazette during 1854-55. In 1856 he moved to Keokuk, Iowa, where he became one of the leading lawyers of the state. In 1864-65 he was assistant United States district attorney; and in 1867 formed a partnership with James H. Anderson, which continued until Mr. Gilmore's death.

GILLON, ALEXANDER, congressman. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1793 to 1794. He died in 1794.

GILMAN, ARTHUR, architect, was born Nov. 5, 1821, in Newburyport, Mass. He designed and built the Boston city hall, which is regarded as his best work. He died July 11, 1882, in Syracuse, N. Y.

GILMAN, ARTHUR, educator, author, was born June 22, 1837, in Alton, Ill. He is an educator of Cambridge, and the organizer of Radcliffe college. He is the author of First Steps in English Literature; Seven Historic Ages; First Steps in English History; History of the American People; Rome from the Earliest Times; Tales of the Pathfinders; Short Stories from the Dictionary; The Saracens; Colonization of America; The Discovery of America; and The Making of the American Nation. He has also edited the Riverside Chaucer.

GILMAN, ARTHUR B., railroad president, was born June 18, 1856, in Haverhill, Mass. Since 1893 he has been president of the Phillips and Rangeley railroad at Haverhill, Mass.

GILMAN, MRS. CAROLINE HOWARD, author, poet, was born Oct. 8, 1794, in Boston, Mass. She is the author of Recollections of a Southern Matron; Recollections of a New England Housekeeper; The Sibyl, or New Oracles from the Poets; Verses of a Lifetime; Poetry of Traveling in the United States; Ruth Raymond; and Stories and Poems.

GILMAN, CHANDLER ROBBINS, physician, educator, author, was born Sept. 6, 1802, in Marietta, Ohio. He was a physician of New York city, and professor from 1841 in the college of Physicians and Surgeons. He was the author of Legends of a Log Cabin; Life on the Lakes; Life of J. B. Beck; The Relations of the Medical to the Legal Profession; and Tracts on Generation. He died Sept. 26, 1865, in Middletown, Conn.

GILMAN, CHARLES J., state legislator, congressman, was born in New Hampshire. He served in the legislature of that state in 1854. He removed to Maine; and was elected a representative to the thirty-fifth congress from that state.

GILMAN, DANIEL COIT, educator, college president, author, was born July 6, 1831, in Norwich, Conn. He is an educator of prominence; was president of the university of California; and is now the honored president of Johns Hopkins university from 1875. He is the author of Our National Schools in Science; and Life of James Monroe.

GILMAN, JOHN TAYLOR, soldier, congressman, governor, was born Dec. 19, 1753, in Exeter, N. H. He was a volunteer in the revolutionary army; a delegate from New Hampshire in 1780 to the Hartford convention; a delegate to the continental congress in 1782 and 1783, the latter year succeeding his father as treasurer of New Hampshire. He was governor of New Hampshire from 1794 to 1805, and again from 1813 to 1815, when he declined a re-election. He died Sept. 1, 1828, in New Hampshire.

GILMAN, NICHOLAS, congressman, United States senator, was born Aug. 3, 1775, in Exeter, N. H. He was a delegate from New Hampshire to the continental congress from 1786 to 1788. He was elected a representative in congress from 1789 to 1797; and was a senator in congress from New Hampshire from 1805 to 1814. He died May 2, 1814, in Exeter, N. H.

GILMAN, NICHOLAS PAINE, educator, author, was born Dec. 21, 1849, in Quincy, Ill. Since 1895 he has filled the chair of sociology in the Meadville Theological school, Pennsylvania. He is the author of Profit-Sharing between Employer and Employee; The Laws of Daily Conduct; and Socialism and the American Spirit.

GILMAN, SAMUEL, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 16, 1791, in Gloucester, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of Charleston in 1819-58. He published Memoirs of a New England Choir; The History of a Ray of Light; Pleasures and Pains of a Student's Life; Contributions to Literature; and was the author of the noted college song, Fair Harvard. He died Feb. 9, 1858, in Kingston, Mass.

GILMAN, MRS. STELLA SCOTT, author, was born in Alabama. She is the author of Mothers in Council.

GILMER, GEORGE ROCKINGHAM, soldier, congressman, governor, was born April 11, 1790, in Oglethorpe county, Ga.

He was first lieutenant of the forty-third regiment, United States army, and participated in the Creek war. In 1818 he entered upon the practice of his profession; and was elected to the state legislature in 1818, 1819, and 1824. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1821 to 1823, from 1827 to 1829, and from 1833 to 1835; and was governor of the state for the terms commencing in 1829 and 1837. He was the author of a book entitled The Georgians, which contains much useful and interesting information touching the early settlement of his native state. He died Nov. 15, 1859, in Lexington, Ga.

GILMER, JEREMY FRANCIS, soldier, civil engineer, was born Feb. 23, 1818, in Guilford county, N. C. He was appointed major of engineers in 1861, and in 1863 was promoted major-general.

GILMER, JOHN ALEXANDER, soldier, educator, lawyer, congressman, was born Nov. 4, 1805, in Guilford county, N. C. He was a member of the state senate from 1846 to 1856, and was elected a representative to the thirty-fifth congress. He was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress, and withdrew in 1861. He died May 14, 1868, in Greensborough.

GILMER, THOMAS WALKER, lawyer, journalist, congressman, governor, was born in Virginia. He served frequently in the legislature, and was speaker of the house. He was governor of the state in 1840; and was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1841 to 1843. He was secretary of the navy under President Tyler. He died Feb. 28, 1844, near Washington, D. C.

GILMOR, HARRY, soldier, author, was born Jan. 24, 1838, in Baltimore county, Md. He joined the confederate army; was rapidly promoted; and was appointed provost marshal of Gettysburg. In 1874 he was elected police commissioner of Baltimore. He was the author of Four Years in a Saddle. He died March 4, 1883, in Baltimore, Md.

GILMORE, ALFRED, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1849 to 1853.

GILMORE, JAMES ROBERTS, merchant, journalist, author, was born Sept. 10, 1823, in Boston, Mass. In earlier life he was a shipping merchant in New York city, but during and since the civil war a journalist and miscellaneous writer. He is the author of Among the Pines; My Southern Friends; Down in Tennessee; Life of Garfield; Among the Guerrillas; Adrift in Dixie; On the Border; Patriot Boys; The Rear Guard of the Revolution; John Sevier as a Commonwealth Builder; and The Advance Guard of Western Civilization.

GILMORE, JOHN, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1829 to 1833. He died May 18, 1845.

GILMORE, JOHN C., soldier, was born April 18, 1837, in Canada. He served as captain, major, and lieutenant in the sixteenth regiment New York volunteer infantry; and received the medal of honor for distinguished conduct in the battle of Salem Heights for seizing the colors of his regiment and gallantly rallying his men under a very severe fire of the enemy while serving as major. In 1866 he entered the regular army, and became a lieutenant-colonel in 1867. He will be retired in 1901.

GILMORE, JOSEPH ATHERTON, railroad builder, state senator, governor, was born June 10, 1811, in Weston, Vt. He was superintendent of the Manchester and Lawrence railroad from 1853 to 1856; and also of the Concord and other connecting lines until 1866. He was state senator in 1855 and 1859; president of that body in 1859; and was governor of New Hampshire from 1863 to 1865. He died April 17, 1867, in Concord, N. H.

GILMORE, JOSEPH HENRY, clergyman, author, was born April 20, 1834, in Boston, Mass. He is a baptist minister of Rochester, N. Y.; professor of rhetoric in the university of Rochester since 1867; and is the author of Outlines of the Art of Expression; Outlines of Logic; English Language and its Early Literature; English Literature; and He Leadeth Me, and Other Poems.

GILMORE, PATRICK SANSFIELD, musician, bandmaster, was born Dec. 25, 1830, in Ireland. His first great feat as leader of a jubilee was on the fourth of March, 1864, after the restoration of New Orleans to the union, when he collected ten thousand children and five hundred instruments to inaugurate the first union governor of Louisiana. He died Sept. 24, 1892, in St. Louis, Mo.

GILPIN, EDWARD WOODWARD, lawyer, jurist, was born July 15, 1805, in Wilmington, Del. He was attorney-general of Delaware in 1840-50; and from 1857 till his death was chief justice of the state. He died April 29, 1876, in Dover, Del.

GILPIN, HENRY DILWOOD, jurist, author, was born April 14, 1801, in England. He was a jurist of Pennsylvania who was attorney-general of the United States in 1840-41. He edited The Atlantic Souvenir, the first American literary annual, and published Reports of Cases in the United States District Court for Eastern Pennsylvania; and Opinions of the Attorneys-General. He also edited the Papers of President Madison in three volumes. He died Jan. 29, 1860, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GILPIN, JOSHUA, author, poet, was born Nov. 8, 1765, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a Philadelphia writer who published Verses at the Fountain of Vaucluse; Farm of Virgil, and Other Poems; and Memoir on a Canal from the Chesapeake to the Delaware. He died in 1840, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GILPIN, THOMAS, manufacturer, was born March 18, 1728, in Chester county, Pa. He aided in establishing Wilmington college, Delaware, and labored for the construction of a canal between the Chesapeake and the Delaware. He died April 30, 1778, in Winchester, Va.

GILPIN, THOMAS, manufacturer, inventor, was born Sept. 10, 1776, in Philadelphia, Pa. He became an extensive paper-manufacturer, and in 1817 constructed a machine for making paper continuously. He died March 3, 1853, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GILPIN, WILLIAM, soldier, governor, was born Oct. 4, 1822, in Brandywine, Pa. He was appointed first governor of Colorado by President Lincoln and was, with Benjamin F. Hall, the chief justice, and other officers, instrumental in saving the territory to the union. He died Jan. 20, 1894.

GILSON, FRANK RINDGE, journalist, was born Dec. 30, 1848, in Charlestown, Mass. He is editor and owner of the Palladium Daily of Benton Harbor, Mich.; and president of the Michigan Republican Newspaper association.

GILSTRAP, WILLIAM HENRY, portrait and landscape painter, prohibitionist, was born April 24, 1849, in Effingham county, Ill. He was one of the incorporators of the Bloomington Art association, and was one of its first trustees. He has a studio in the Ferry museum of Tacoma, Wash., of which institution he is the curator. Since 1870 he has been an active prohibitionist; in 1892 organized and was made chairman of the prohibition party of Tacoma; and has filled numerous high positions in that party. For several years he was editor and proprietor of the Pacific Lancet; and is the author of several works.

GIRARD, CHARLES, naturalist, author, was born March 9, 1822, in France. He is a naturalist who came to the United States with Agassiz in 1847; and is the author of Life in its Physical Aspects; Contributions to the Fauna of Chili; and Herpetology of the Wilkes Expedition.

GIRARD, STEPHEN, merchant, philanthropist, was born May 24, 1750, near Bordeaux, France. In 1780 he engaged in the West India trade, and acquired a fortune. He founded the Girard college of Philadelphia for the education and maintenance of orphans. He died Dec. 26, 1831, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GIRARDEAU, JOHN L., clergyman, author, was born in 1825, in South Carolina. He is a presbyterian clergyman of South Carolina, and professor of systematic theology in Columbia Theological seminary from 1876. He is the author of Calvinism and Evangelical Arminianism Compared; and The Will in its Theological Relations.

GIST, JOSEPH, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1775, in South Carolina. He served in the legislature of his native state for eighteen years; and was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1821 to 1827. He served as a trustee of the state college. He died May 8, 1835.

GIST, MORDECAI, soldier, merchant, planter, was born in 1743, in Baltimore, Md. He served with distinction through the revolutionary war, was promoted to brigadier-general, and was present at the surrender of Cornwallis. With the cessation of hostilities he purchased a plantation at Charleston, S. C., where he resided until the close of his life. He died Sept. 2, 1792, in Charleston, S. C.

GIST, WILLIAM H., governor, was born in South Carolina. He was governor of that state from 1858 to 1860.

GITHENS, COUNELLI E., poet, was born Dec. 27, 1863, in Cameron, Ohio. He is the author of numerous poems which have appeared in current periodicals.

GITTINGS, ELLA PAMELA BEECHER, educator, author, poet, was born Feb. 18, 1852, in Oberlin, Ohio. She received her education at the Oberlin and Iowa colleges, and prior to her marriage taught school. She has attained success as a writer of stories and poems; and has taken an active part in the world's congress, etc.

GIVEN, WILLIAM, naval officer, was born Dec. 5, 1832, in Columbus, Ohio. He entered the United States navy as a midshipman, and was successively promoted lieutenant and lieutenant-commander. He died Jan. 3, 1863.

GLADDEN, ADLEY H., soldier, was born in South Carolina. In 1861 he was appointed a brigadier-general in the confederate army; was wounded at the battle of Shiloh; and died soon afterward.

GLADDEN, WASHINGTON, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 11, 1836, in Pittsgrove, Pa. He is a congregational clergyman of Columbus, Ohio. He is the author of The Lord's Prayers; Seven Homilies; The Christian League of Connecticut; Things New and Old; Amusements, their Uses and Abuses; Plain Thoughts on the Art of Living; From the Hub to the Hudson; Being a Christian; Working-People and their Employers; The Christian Way; The Young Man and the Church; Applied Christianity; Parish Problems; Tools and the Man; Who Wrote the Bible?; Ruling Ideas of the Present Age; The Cosmopolis City Club; and Burning Questions, a volume of sermons.

GLASCOCK, JOHN RAGLAND, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 25, 1845, in Panola county, Miss. He was district attorney of Alameda county, Cal., in 1875-77; and was elected to the forty-eighth congress as congressman at large from California as a democrat.

GLASCOCK, THOMAS, soldier, congressman. He was appointed colonel of the troops ordered out by the legislature in defense of the state against the Indians on the western frontier, and was afterwards elected general of militia. He was a representative in congress from Georgia from 1836 to 1839. He died May 9, 1841, in Decatur, Ga.

GLASGOW, ELLEN, author, was born in 1875, in Virginia. She is a novelist of Richmond, Va.; and the author of The Descendant: a Novel.

GLASGOW, HUGH, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1813 to 1817.

GLASGOW, S. L., soldier, legislator, was born in 1838, in Winchester, Ohio. He served in the civil war; and in 1863 for meritorious services received the rank of brigadier-general. In 1879 he was elected to the Iowa state legislature.

GLASS, PRESLEY T., merchant, journalist, legislator, congressman, was born Oct. 18, 1824, in Halifax county, Va. He received his education at the Dresden academy, Tennessee; and at the Lexington Law school. During the war he was in the confederate service; was a commissary, with the rank of major. He served as a member of the Tennessee legislature in 1847; and again in 1883. During his second term in the Tennessee legislature he introduced and secured the passage of the bill to create the agricultural experiment station at Knoxville, Tenn. He served as a member from Tennessee in the forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses; and while a member of that body he was the author of the law to elevate agriculture to the level of commerce and manufactures. He has been a successful merchant and journalist of Ripley, Tenn.

GLASSCOCK, JOHN R., lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 25, 1845, in Panola county, Miss. In 1875 he was elected district attorney of Alameda county, Cal. and served one term, declining a renomination. He was elected a representative from California to the forty-eighth congress.

GLASSMANN, WILLIAM, journalist, politician, was born Nov. 12, 1858, in Davenport, Iowa. In 1871 he left home and went west to seek his fortune. In 1890 he was one of the first republican organizers in the state of Utah; and has always taken an active part in political affairs. He is now the editor and proprietor of The Daily Standard of Ogden, Utah, a silver republican newspaper, which has become very popular in the west. He has filled many positions of honor in his adopted state, and is an ardent exponent of silver.

GLASSON, JOHN J., naval officer, was born in New York city. He commanded the store-ship Lexington in Perry's Japan expedition in 1853-54; was appointed commander in 1855, and stationed at New Bedford, Mass., from 1861 till 1863. He died March 12, 1882, in New York city.

GLAZEBROOK, OTIS A., clergyman, was born Oct. 13, 1845, in Richmond, Va. In 1875 he was made chaplain of the famous fifth Maryland regiment; and built the church of the Holy Trinity. In 1885 he was called to St. John's church of Elizabeth, N. J.

GLAZIER, GEORGE WILLIAM, civil engineer, inventor, was born Sept. 2, 1838, in Gardiner, Maine. He is the inventor of spool cotton and paper-box machinery; and is also engaged in their manufacture.

GLAZIER, WILLARD, soldier, author, was born Aug. 22, 1841, in Fowler, N. Y. He was a captain in the federal army during the civil war. He is the author of Captured, Prison-Pen, and Escape; Three Years in the Federal Cavalry; Battles for the Union; Heroes of Three Wars; Peculiarities of Great Cities; and Down the Great River.

GLEASON, FREDERIC GRANT, musician, composer, was born Dec. 17, 1848, in Middletown, Conn. In 1876 he went to Chicago, where he is musical critic of the Tribune. His chief compositions are two operas of the grand romantic type, Otho Visconti and Montezuma.

GLEASON, MRS. RACHEL BROOKS, physician, author, was born in 1820, in Vermont. She is a physician of Elmira, N. Y., for many years in charge of the Gleason sanitarium. She has published Talks to My Patients.

GLEASON, WILLIAM E., jurist, was born in Maryland. He emigrated to Dakota, where he was appointed United States judge for that territory, residing at Yankton.

GLEIM, CHRISTIAN, journalist, was born Jan. 10, 1780, in Lancaster county, Pa. He settled in Harrisburg in 1812, and was appointed to print the senate journal in English. Afterward he established and edited The Pennsylvanian. He died Sept. 21, 1861, in Pittsburg, Pa.

GLEIM, GEORGE CHRISTIAN, soldier, was born in 1736. He took part in the war of the revolution and was severely wounded near Philadelphia. He died July 21, 1817, in Lancaster county, Pa.

GLEN, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, was born in Maryland. He was for many years a judge of the United States district court of Maryland. He died July 8, 1853, in Baltimore, Md.

GLENDY, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born June 24, 1755, in Ireland. In 1806 he served as chaplain of the United States house of representatives, and in 1815 and 1816 of the senate. He published an Oration in Commemoration of Washington, delivered in Staunton in 1800. He died Oct. 4, 1832, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GLENDY, WILLIAM MARSHALL, naval officer, was born in 1801, in Virginia. He was promoted to the rank of commodore in 1862, and in the following year was made prize commissioner in Washington, D. C. He died July 16, 1873, in Baltimore, Md.

GLENN, ELIAS, jurist, was born in Maryland. He was appointed judge of the United States court for that state.

GLENN, HENRY, congressman, was born in 1741. He took an active part in the revolutionary war; and was a representative from New York in congress from 1793 to 1801. He died in 1814, in Schenectady.

GLENN, JAMES, governor, author. He was governor of South Carolina from 1744 till 1755. He published A Description of South Carolina.

GLENN, JOHN THOMAS, lawyer, was born March 21, 1846, in Walton county, Ga. He has served as city attorney of Atlanta; solicitor-general; mayor of Atlanta; and member of the board of education.

GLESSNER, DOUGLAS, journalist, public official, was born in Delaware, Ohio. In 1882 he moved to Griffin, Ga., where he is the editor and proprietor of the News and Sun.

GLESSNER, OLIVER J., lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born Oct. 11, 1828. In 1864 he was elected judge of the eighth judicial district, composed of the counties of Morgan, Shelby, Johnson, Brown, and Monroe. In 1870 he was elected by his party to the state senate, as a member for the counties of Shelby and Bartholomew, serving as such for four years. He has also filled numerous public offices in the gift of his county and state.

GLICK, GEORGE W., farmer, lawyer, governor, was born July 4, 1827, in Greencastle, Ohio. He served nine sessions in the house and senate of the Kansas legislature. He served with distinction as governor of Kansas for one term; and was twice United States pension agent for the Topeka district by appointment of President Cleveland.

GLIDDEN, CHARLES JASPER, banker, was born Aug. 29, 1857, in Lowell, Mass. He is president of the Traders' National bank of Lowell.

GLISAN, RODNEY, physician, author, was born Jan. 29, 1827, in Linganore, Md. He is a physician of Portland, Ore., emeritus professor of obstetrics in Willamette university; and the author of Journal of Army Life; Modern Midwifery; and Two Years in Europe.

GLISSON, OLIVER S., naval officer, was born Jan. 18, 1809, in Ohio. In 1826 he was made a midshipman; captain in 1862; commodore in 1866; and rear-admiral in 1870. He was retired in 1871.

GLONINGER, JOHN, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative from that state in the twelfth congress; and resigned before the expiration of his term.

GLORIEUX, ALPHONSUS JOSEPH, catholic bishop, was born Feb. 1, 1844, in Belgium. He received his education at the college of Courtrai, Belgium; at the American College of Louvain, Belgium; and at the university of Louvain. In 1867 he was ordained to the priesthood; and served as a missionary in the southwestern diocese of Oregon. He has been rector of St. Paul's church, Oregon; principal of St. Michael's college of Portland, Ore.; and on April 19, 1885, was principal of St. Michael's college, of Portland, Ore.; and on April 19, 1885, was consecrated catholic bishop of Boise City, Idaho. The Right Rev. Glorieux is a scholastic man, and has contributed largely to the religious literature of his church.

GLOSSBRENNER, ADAM J., journalist, congressman, was born Aug. 31, 1810, in Hagerstown, Md. In 1861 he was private secretary to President Buchanan; and in 1863 became one of the founders of the Philadelphia Age. In 1864 he was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the thirty-ninth congress; and was re-elected to the fortieth congress.

GLOVER, JOHN MILTON, was born June 23, 1835, in St. Louis, Mo. He was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a democrat.

GLOVER, JOHN MONTGOMERY, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 4, 1834, in Mercer county, Ky. He was appointed a colonel of cavalry; and was commissioned colonel of the third Missouri volunteer cavalry in 1861. In 1866 he was appointed collector of internal revenue for the third district of Missouri; and was elected to the forty-third, forty-fourth and forty-fifth congresses as a democrat.

GLOVER, WILLIAM, governor, was born about 1670. He was governor of North Carolina during 1706-10.

GLUCK, JAMES FRASER, lawyer, was born April 28, 1852, in Niagara Falls, N. Y. He is curator of the Buffalo library, and has presented that library with one of the most valuable collections of autographs, manuscripts, and letters in the United States.

GMEINER, JOHN, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 5, 1847, in Bavaria. He is a Roman catholic priest of Milwaukee; professor of homiletics in St. Francis de Sales seminary; and is the author of Die Katholische Kirche in den Vereinigten Staaten; Sind wir den Weltende nahe?; Modern Scientific Views and Christian Doctrines Compared; The Spirits of Darkness and their Manifestations on Earth; and The Church and the Various Nationalities in the United States.

GOBBLE, AARON EZRA, educator, college president, was born Feb. 14, 1856, in Center county, Pa. Since 1887 he has been president of the Central Pennsylvania college at New Berlin.

GOBIN, HILLARY ASBURY, clergyman, educator, college president, was born March 25, 1842, in Terre Haute, Ind. For six years he was president of the Baker university of Baldwin, Kan.; and in 1895 became president of the De Pauw university of Greencastle, Ind.

GOBIN, JOHN P. S., soldier, lawyer, state senator, was born in 1838, in Sunbury, Pa. He was admitted to the bar just before the war began, and he entered the service as first lieutenant. He was soon appointed to the command of the regiment, and fought with the nineteenth army corps in the Red river campaign, and with Sheridan in the Shenandoah valley; and was brevetted brigadier-general. He was provost judge of South Carolina during the early reconstruction period. He settled at Lebanon, Pa., in 1866, and organized Post 42. He was state senator for sixteen years, and for several years president of the senate. He has also long been prominent in Masonic and Grand Army circles; and in 1897 was elected commander in chief.

GOBRIGHT, LAWRENCE AUGUSTUS, journalist, author, was born May 2, 1816, in Baltimore, Md. He for some years owned and edited the Washington Star. He also won fame as an author and lecturer, Men and Things in Washington During the Third of a Century being his best known book. He died May 22, 1879, in Washington, D. C.

GODBEY, EDGAR W., lawyer, was born March 2, 1861, in Morristown, Tenn. He received his education at the Hiwassee college, Tenn., and at the university of Alabama. He has devoted himself entirely to the law, and has had a large practice involving many novel and intricate questions.

GODDARD, CALVIN, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born July 17, 1768, in Shrewsbury, Mass. In 1790 he settled in Plainfield, from which place he was elected a representative in the legislature for nine sessions, during three of which he was speaker of the house. He removed to Norwich in 1807; and from 1801 to 1805 was a representative in congress. From 1815 to 1818 he was judge of the superior court; and was state's attorney for the county of New London for five years, and mayor of Norwich for seventeen years. He died May 2, 1842, in Norwich, Conn.

GODDARD, CALVIN LUTHER, inventor, was born Jan. 20, 1820, in Covington, N. Y. He patented solid packing hurring machines, and feed-rolls as an attachment for the carding-machine; and has devised several valuable improvements for this machine.

GODDARD, JOSIAH, clergyman, missionary, was born Oct. 27, 1813, in Wendell, Mass. In 1838 he was appointed a missionary to the Chinese in Siam. He prepared several tracts, an English and Chinese vocabulary, and a translation of the New Testament into Chinese. He died Sept. 4, 1854, in China.

GODDARD, PAUL BECK, physician, author, was born Jan. 26, 1811, in Baltimore. He acquired reputation through his work as an editor of medical books. These include a series of twelve plates On the Arteries, and a similar series On the Nerves. He died July 3, 1866, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GODDARD, WILLIAM, printer, journalist, was born in 1740, in New London, Conn. In 1766 he removed to Philadelphia, where he published the Pennsylvania Chronicle. In 1773 he went to Baltimore and established a daily newspaper. He died Dec. 23, 1817, in Providence, R. I.

GODEY, LOUIS ANTOINE, journalist, author, was born June 6, 1804, in New York city. In 1830 he founded Godey's Lady's Book, the first periodical of the kind published, which was continued by him with great success until 1877, when it was sold to a stock company. He died Nov. 29, 1878, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GODFREY, BENJAMIN, founder of Monticello seminary of Godfrey, Ill., was born Dec. 4, 1794, in Chatham, Mass. At the age of nine years he ran away to sea; went to Ireland, and there remained until the war of 1812 brought him home again. After a brief service in the navy, he acquired an education; and subsequently again sailed the seas as a shipmaster. In 1826 he had acquired a fortune of nearly a quarter of a million of dollars in silver in Mexico, of which he was robbed by Mexican bandits. In 1832 he settled in Alton; and there became a successful wholesale merchant. Gradually the plans of an institution for religious and mental education of girls and young women took shape in his mind; and in 1838 Monticello seminary opened its doors, to which institution he gave over one hundred thousand dollars. He died Aug. 13, 1862, in Godfrey, Ill.

GODFREY, THOMAS, soldier, author, poet, was born Dec. 4, 1736, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a lieutenant in the colonial militia who possessed much poetic ability, and was the first dramatic author in America. He was the author of The Court of Fancy; and Juvenile Poems on Various Subjects, with The Prince of Parthia, a Tragedy. He died July 26, 1763, near Wilmington, N. C.

GODKIN, EDWIN LAWRENCE, journalist, author, was born Oct. 2, 1831, in Ireland. He is a prominent journalist of New York city. He came to America in 1856, and since 1865 has been editor of The Nation, and from 1881 of the Evening Post. He is the author of Government; History of Hungary; Reflections and Comments; and Problems of Democracy.

GODMAN, JOHN D., physician, naturalist, author, was born Dec. 20, 1794, in Annapolis, Md. He was a physician and naturalist of Cincinnati and New York. He was the author of Rambles of a Naturalist; American Natural History; Irregularities of Structure and Morbid Anatomy; and Anatomical Investigations. He died April 17, 1830, in Germantown, Pa.

GODON, SYLVANUS WILLIAM, naval officer, was born June 18, 1809, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was appointed midshipman in 1819. He was made commander in 1855, and captain in 1861. He died May 10, 1879, in France.

GODSHALK, WILLIAM, merchant, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 25, 1817, in East Nottingham, Pa. He was associate judge of Bucks county from 1871 to 1876; and was elected a representative from Pennsylvania to the forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a republican.

GODWIN, PARKE, journalist, author, was born Feb. 25, 1816, in Paterson, N. J. He is a journalist of New York city, the son-in-law of the poet Bryant, whose writings he has edited. He was long connected with the Evening Post, and was the editor of Putnam's Monthly Magazine in 1853-55 and in 1867-70. He is the author of Pacific and Constructive Democracy; Popular View of the Doctrines of Fourier; Vala, a mythological tale; Political Essays; History of France; Life of William Cullen Bryant; Out of the Past, a collection of essays; Commemorative Addresses; and Handbook of Universal Biography.

GOEBEL, JULIUS, educator, philologist, author, was born in 1857, in Germany. He has been a philologist, and professor at Leland Stanford Junior university since 1892. He is the author of a number of German works.

GOERZ, DAVID, clergyman, educator, was born June 2, 1849, in Southern Russia. During 1874-75 he taught in a German school in Illinois, near St. Louis, Mo. In 1880 he organized the Mennonite Mutual Fire Insurance company in Kansas; in 1887 organized the Bethel College corporation of Newton, Kan., in which institution he is now a clergyman.

GOESBRIAND, LOUIS DE, Roman catholic bishop, was born Aug. 4, 1816, in France. When the see of Burlington was created in Vermont, he was nominated its first bishop.

GOESSMANN, CHARLES ANTHONY, educator, chemist, author, was born June 13, 1827, in Germany. He was elected in 1869 to the chair of chemistry in the Massachusetts Agricultural college.

GOFF, MRS. HARRIET NEWELL [KNEELAND], reformer, author, was born in 1828, in New York. She is a noted reformer of Brooklyn and elsewhere. She is the author of Was it an Inheritance?; Who Cares?; and Episodes in the Life of Mary Campbell.

GOFF, ISAAC LEWIS, banker, capitalist, was born Aug. 29, 1852, in Taunton, Mass. He was instrumental in establishing the Home Investment company of Providence, R. I. He is president of the People's Trust company, and director of various banking and business corporations.

GOFF, NATHAN, soldier, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Feb. 9, 1842, in Clarksburg, W. Va. He entered the union army, and served throughout the war, rising to the rank of brevet brigadier-general. He was elected a representative in the state legislature in 1867; re-elected in 1868; and was appointed United States district attorney and served in that capacity until January, 1881. In 1881 he became secretary of the navy. He was elected a representative from West Virginia to the forty-eighth, forty-ninth, and fiftieth congresses.

GOFORTH, JOHN, lawyer, was born in Pennsylvania. In 1873 he was appointed an attorney-general of the United States.

GOGGIN, WILLIAM L., lawyer, congressman, was born May 31, 1807, in Bedford county, Va. He practiced in several of the circuit and district courts of the state; in 1836 was a member of the legislature, and in 1837 declined a re-election. In 1839 he was elected a representative in congress from Virginia, and was re-elected in 1841, 1843, and 1847. In 1859 he was nominated as the whig candidate for governor of Virginia. He died Jan. 5, 1870, in Richmond, Va.

GOING, JONATHAN, college president, founder, was born March 7, 1786, in Reading, Vt. He was one of the founders of the Baptist Theological seminary of Newton, Mass. He died in November, 1844.

GOLD, THOMAS R., state senator, congressman, was born in New York. He was a member of the state senate from 1797 to 1802; a member of the assembly in 1808; and a representative in congress from New York from 1809 to 1813, and again from 1815 to 1817. He died in 1826.

GOLDENSMITH, WILLIAM RUSSELL, mineralogist, legislator, was born Sept. 12, 1862, in Nevada county, Cal. He received the rudiments of his education in the schools of San Juan, Cal., and graduated from the state university of California. He served with distinction as a representative in the fourth session of the state legislature of Idaho; and is a noted mineralogist of that state.

GOLDSBOROUGH, CHARLES WASHINGTON, congressman, governor. He was governor of the state of Maryland; and was a representative in congress from 1805 to 1817. He died Dec. 13, 1834, in Shoal Creek, Md.

GOLDSBOROUGH, JOHN RODGERS, naval officer, was born July 2, 1808, in Washington, D. C. He became midshipman in 1824, lieutenant in 1837, commander in 1855, captain in 1862, and commodore in 1867. He died June 22, 1877, in Washington, D. C.

GOLDSBOROUGH, LOUIS MALES-HERBES, naval officer, was born Feb. 18, 1805, in Washington, D. C. He entered the navy in his youth, and was made rear-admiral in 1862.

At the time of his death he had been in the service longer than any other naval officer then living. He took an active part in all the principal naval battles of the civil war. He died Feb. 20, 1877, in Washington, D. C.

His death was a great loss to the navy.

GOLDSBOROUGH, ROBERT, physician, congressman, was born in 1733, in Cambridge, Md. He was a delegate from Maryland to the continental congress from 1774 to 1775. He died Dec. 31, 1788, in Cambridge, Md.

GOLDSBOROUGH, ROBERT HENRY, United States senator, was born in 1780, in New Easton, Md. He was elected United States senator as an anti-Jackson democrat, and served from 1813 till 1819. He was again elected as a whig without opposition, to fill a vacancy, and served from 1835 till his death. He died Oct. 5, 1836, in New Easton, Md.

GOLDTHWAITE, GEORGE, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born Dec. 10, 1809, in Boston, Mass. He was on the bench of the circuit court, and afterward of the supreme court, of which he was chief justice for some years. He was adjutant-general of Alabama during the war. He was elected to the United States senate in 1870 for the term ending in 1877. He died March 18, 1879, in Montgomery, Ala.

GOLDTHWAITE, HENRY, journalist, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born in 1798, in Boston, Mass. He edited a newspaper, and served in the Alabama state legislature several terms. From 1839 until his death he was a judge of the supreme court of Alabama. He died in 1847, in Mobile, Ala.

GOLDZIER, JULIUS, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 20, 1854, in Austria. In 1890 he became a member of the city council of Chicago, and served until the end of his term in 1892. He was elected as a democrat to the fifty-third congress.

GOLLADAY, EDWARD I., soldier, educator, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 9, 1831, in Lebanon, Tenn. He graduated at Cumberland university; taught school; studied law, and was admitted to the bar in 1852. He was elected to the state legislature in 1857; and was a presidential elector in 1860. He served in the confederate army as colonel, and participated in several important engagements. He was elected to the forty-second congress as a democrat.

GOLLADAY, JACOB S., state senator, congressman, was born Jan. 19, 1819, in Lebanon, Tenn. He was a member of the legislature of that state from Logan county in 1850, 1851, and 1853; and state senator from 1853 to 1855. In 1867 he was elected a representative in congress to fill a vacancy. He resigned in 1870; and was also elected to the forty-first congress to fill a vacancy.

GOOCH, DANIEL W., lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 8, 1820, in Wells, Maine. In 1852 he was elected to the legislature of Massachusetts; in 1853 to the constitutional convention of the state, and subsequently a representative in the thirty-fifth congress from Massachusetts, for an unexpired term. He was re-elected to the thirty-sixth, thirty-seventh, thirty-eighth, and thirty-ninth congresses; and was again elected to the forty-third congress.

GOOCH, FANNY CHAMBERS, author, was born Dec. 9, 1847, in Hinds county, Miss. She is the author of Face to Face with the Mexicans; and other works.

GOOCH, FRANK AUSTIN, educator, chemist, author, was born May 2, 1852, in Watertown, Mass. From 1881 till 1884 he was chief chemist of the northern transcontinental survey, and from 1884 till 1886 assistant chemist to the United States geological survey in Washington. In 1886 he was appointed professor of chemistry in Yale.

GOOD, JAMES ISAAC, clergyman, author, was born in 1850, in Pennsylvania. He is a German reformed clergyman and educator of Reading, Pa., professor in Ursinus Theological seminary in 1890-93; and the author of Origin of the Reformed Church of Germany; and Rambler Around Reformed Lands.

GOOD, JAMES MICHENER, pharmacist, educator, was born Jan. 12, 1842, in Bucks county, Pa. He has taught pharmacy in Philadelphia and St. Louis; and in 1895 was elected president of the American Pharmaceutical association.

GOOD, JOHN, manufacturer, inventor, was born in 1844, in Ireland. He is an inventor and manufacturer of cordage.

He now manufactures on an extended scale, and besides the establishment at Ravenswood, operates a large cordage factory at Millwall, near London, and another at Great Grimsby. He has in contemplation the building of works in France, Germany and Italy. He is the inventor of the machinery now in general use for the making of binding twine. He has large manufacturing establishments in America and Europe.

GOODALE, DORA READ, poet, was born Oct. 29, 1866, in Mt. Washington, Mass. She is the author of Verses from Sky-Farm; Apple Blossoms; and In Berkshire with the Wild Flowers. She has contributed much verse to The Century and other periodicals, and has also published Heralds of Easter.

GOODALE, ELAINE, poet, was born Oct. 9, 1863, in Mt. Washington, Mass. She and her sister, Dora Read Goodale, three years younger, by their precocity as poets have won the endearing name of the sweet children poets. Their poems have been published in three volumes; Apple Blossoms in 1878, and since that time, in Berkshire with the Wild Flowers, and All Round the Year.

GOODALE, GEORGE LINCOLN, educator, botanist, author, was born Aug. 3, 1839, in Saco, Maine. He is a botanist of prominence, and professor of botany at Harvard university from 1878. He is the author of The Wild Flowers of America; Physiological Botany; Concerning a Few Common Plants; and Useful Plants of the Future.

GOODALL, ALBERT GALLATIN, engraver, was born Aug. 31, 1826, in Montgomery, Ala. He attained prominence as a bank-note engraver of New York city, where he died Feb. 19, 1887.

GOODALL, CHARLES, shipping merchant, legislator, was born Dec. 20, 1824, in England. He served in the California state legislature. He is part owner of the Pacific Steam Whaling Co.; two salmon canneries in Alaska, and the Arctic Oil works; and his firm now own the Oregon Coal and Navigation Co.

GOODE, GEORGE BROWN, ichthyologist, author, was born Feb. 13, 1851, in New Albany, Ind. He was an ichthyologist in the government service; and the author of Catalogue of the Fishes of the Bermudas; Annual Resources of the United States; Game Fishes of the United States; Beginnings of Natural History in America; Britons, Saxons, and Virginians; American Fishes, a popular treatise; Fisheries and Fishing Industries of the United States; and Oceanic Ichthyology. He died in 1896.

GOODE, GEORGE W., lawyer, was born March 13, 1868, in Manchester, England. He received his education in the episcopal academy of his native city; and at Willamette university of Salem, Ore. In 1892 he was admitted to the bar in Oregon; and has attained success as an eminent lawyer of Moscow, Idaho, where he has filled various public positions of honor.

GOODE, JOHN, lawyer, state legislator, congressman, was born May 27, 1829, in Bedford county, Va. He was elected a member of the legislature of Virginia in 1851, and again in 1866. He was elected to the confederate congress in 1861; re-elected in 1863, and served in that position until the close of the war. He was a member of the electoral college in 1852, and again in 1856. He was elected a representative from Virginia to the forty-fourth, forty-fifth and forty-sixth congresses as a democrat.

GOODE, PATRICK G., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was elected a representative in congress from Ohio from 1837 to 1843.

GOODE, SAMUEL, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1799 to 1801.

GOODE, SAMUEL WATKINS, lawyer, capitalist, orator, was born June 11, 1847, in Stewart county, Ga. He was elected first president of the Atlanta real estate board; and has attained note as an orator.

GOODE, WILLIAM O., state legislator, congressman, was born Sept. 16, 1798, in Inglewood, Va. He was elected for several terms a member of the state legislature; and in 1829 was a member of the state reform convention of Virginia. In 1832 he was again elected to the state legislature; and again elected to the legislature in 1838. He was elected a representative in congress from Virginia in 1841, serving until 1843. He was subsequently again elected to the legislature, and was speaker of the house of delegates for several sessions. In 1853 he was again elected a representative in congress from Virginia, and was regularly re-elected until the thirty-fifth congress. He died July 3, 1859, near Boydton, Va.

GOODELL, HENRY HILL, soldier, educator, college president, author, was born May 20, 1839, in Constantinople. He taught the modern languages at Williston seminary of Easthampton, Mass., in 1864-67, and afterward in the Massachusetts Agricultural college at Amherst, of which institution he was chosen president in 1866. He is the author of a Biographical Record of the Class of Sixty-two; and of a Compilation of Historic Fiction.

GOODELL, LYMAN PAYSON, soldier, business man, was born Sept. 7, 1848, in Chaplin, Conn. He received his education at the Appleton academy of New Ipswich, N. H.; and at Phillips academy of Andover, Mass. At the age of fifteen years he entered the union army, serving with the army of the James in the tenth corps, and has been past post commander department of Texas G. A. R. In 1893 he was elected vice-president of the State Republican league, and has taken a prominent part in the public affairs of Texas, where he is engaged in the real estate and insurance business at Fort Worth.

GOODELL, WILLIAM, educator, physician, author, was born Oct. 17, 1829, in Malta. He was a Philadelphia physician, medical professor in the university of Pennsylvania, and author of Lessons in Gynecology.

GOODENOW, IRVING G., journalist. He is the editor and owner of The Journal of White Pigeon, Mich., a popular republican newspaper which was established in 1876. He has filled several public positions of honor; and takes an active part in the public affairs of his city, county and state.

GOODENOW, JOHN ELLIOT, clergyman, legislator, was born March 23, 1812, in Springfield, Vt. He is a pioneer of Maquoketa, Iowa, and is called the Father of Maquoketa. He served for two years as a member of the first state legislature.

GOODENOW, JOHN M., lawyer, jurist, author, was born in 1782 in Massachusetts. He was an Ohio jurist and a representative in congress from that state in 1821-1831. He was the author of American Jurisprudence in Contrast with the Doctrine of English Law. He died in 1838, in Steubenville, Ohio.

GOODENOW, ROBERT, financier, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1800 in Farmington, N. H. He was county attorney from 1828 to 1834, and in 1841. Having taken up his residence in Maine, he was a representative in congress from that state from 1851 to 1853; and in 1857 was appointed bank commissioner for the state.

GOODENOW, RUFUS K., soldier, state legislator, congressman, was born April 24, 1790, in Henniker, N. H. He entered the army in 1812 as captain in the thirty-third regiment of United States infantry, and served in that capacity until 1815. Upon the organization of a state government he was appointed clerk of the courts of Oxford county, and removed to Paris, and held this office sixteen years. He was a member of the Maine legislature; a presidential elector in 1840; and represented his district in the thirty-first congress. He died March 24, 1863, in Paris, Ky.

GOODFELLOW, EDWARD, surveyor, journalist, was born Feb. 23, 1828, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1882 he became editor of the publications of the survey, and in that capacity has edited the annual reports for the years from 1882 till 1886.

GOODHUE, BENJAMIN, congressman, United States senator, was born Oct. 1, 1748, in Salem, Mass. He represented his native county in the state senate from 1784 to 1789, when he was elected a representative to congress under the new constitution. In 1796 he was elected a senator of the United States. He died July 28, 1814, in Salem, Mass.

GOODHUE, BERTRAM GROSVENOR, architect, author, was born in 1869 in Connecticut. He is an architect of Boston whose border designs and initials for book illustration are of notable excellence. He is the author of Mexican Memories.

GOODIN, JOHN R., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Dec. 14, 1836, in Tiffin, Ohio. In 1859 he removed to Humboldt, Kas.; and in 1866 was elected a representative in the state legislature. In 1867 he was elected judge of the seventh judicial district for the term of four years; was re-elected in 1871; and resigned in 1875, to take his seat as a representative from Kansas to the forty-fourth congress.

GOODING, A. A., soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born Feb. 20, 1833, in Cannon county, Tenn. He was sergeant in company B, second regiment Tennessee infantry, and was a prisoner of war on Belle Isle, Va., for five months. For eight years he was United States clerk of the circuit court; and for four years was judge of the county court. He is a successful lawyer of Jamestown, Tenn.; and was postmaster of his city during 1889-93.

GOODKNIGHT, JAMES LINCOLN, clergyman, college president, was born Aug. 24, 1846, in Allen county, Ky. Since 1895 he has been president of the West Virginia university at Morgantown.

GOODLAND, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, was born Aug. 10, 1831, in Taunton, England. In 1849 he emigrated to the United States and lived in the state of New York until 1854; and since that time he has resided in Wisconsin. During 1854-64 he lived in Sharon; then entered the service of the Chicago and Northwestern railroad in Chicago. In 1867 he went to Appleton as their local agent, and resigned in 1874. He then studied law, and in 1888 was elected district attorney of Outagamie county, Wis. In 1891 he was elected circuit judge of the tenth circuit, and received the re-election in 1897.

GOODLOE, WILLIAM C., diplomat. He was a resident of Kentucky; and in 1878 was appointed United States minister to Belgium.

GOODMAN, JOHN, physician, author, was born July 22, 1837, in Frankfort, Ky. In 1860 he became demonstrator of anatomy in the Kentucky School of Medicine.

GOODMAN, WARREN WATSON, lawyer, was born June 29, 1869, in Roanoke county, Va. He received his education at the Allegheny institute, and graduated from the Bethel Military academy, with the rank of captain. He subsequently graduated in law from the Washington and Lee university; and is now a leading lawyer of Deer Lodge, Mont., and its distinguished city attorney.

GOODNIGHT, ISAAC HERSCHEL, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Jan. 31, 1849, in Allen county, Ky. He represented Simpson county in the general assembly in 1877-78; was a member of the fifty-first, fifty-second and fifty-third congresses. He is now judge of the seventh circuit court district of Kentucky.

GOODNO, WILLIAM COLBY, was born in Kenosha, Wis. He was the originator of the Pennsylvania Homœopathic Hospital for Children.

GOODNOW, FRANK JOHNSON, educator, author, was born in 1859 in Long Island. He has been professor of administrative law in Columbia university since 1884; and is the author of Comparative Administrative Law; and Municipal Home Rule.

GOODRICH, AARON, lawyer, jurist, author, was born July 6, 1807, in Sempronius, N. Y. In 1849 he was appointed chief justice of the United States district court for the territory of Minnesota, and was the first judge appointed for that district. He published a History of the So-called Christopher Columbus.

GOODRICH, ALFRED BAILEY, clergyman, author, was born March 22, 1828, in Rocky Hill, Conn. He is the author of a service and tune book for Sunday Schools.

GOODRICH, CHARLES AUGUSTUS, clergyman, author, was born in 1790 in Ridgefield, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman of Hartford, and the author of Lives of the Signers of the Declaration of Independence; History of the United States; View of Religions; Family Tourist; Great Events of American History; Outlines of Geography; and Universal Traveler. He died Jan. 4, 1862, in Hartford, Conn.

GOODRICH, CHARLES RUSH, naturalist, author, was born March 16, 1829, in Troy, N. Y. He edited, with Prof. Benjamin Silliman, Jr., The World of Science, Art and Industry, illustrated with five hundred drawings from the New York exhibition of 1853; and was one of the editors of Practical Science and Mechanism. He died Aug. 22, 1855, in Flushing, N. Y.

GOODRICH, CHAUNCEY, lawyer, congressman, was born Oct. 20, 1759, in Durham, Conn. He was a representative in the Connecticut legislature in 1793; and a representative in congress from 1795 to 1801. From 1802 to 1807 he was a councillor of the state, and was elected United States senator from 1807 to 1813. He was elected mayor of Hartford in 1812, and resigned his seat in congress. He was elected lieutenant-governor of the state in 1813, and was a delegate to the Hartford convention in 1814. He died Aug. 18, 1815, in Hartford, Conn.

GOODRICH, CHAUNCEY, clergyman, was born July 20, 1817, in Middletown, Conn. He resided in New Haven, occupied with literary labors, chief among which was the continuation of his father's work in the revision of Webster's dictionary. He died March 27, 1868, in New Haven, Conn.

GOODRICH, CHAUNCEY ALLEN, clergyman, author, was born Oct. 23, 1790, in New Haven, Conn. He was a congregational clergyman and professor at Yale university, in 1817-60. He published Greek and Latin Lessons; A Greek Grammar; was the editor and reviser of Webster's Dictionary, and also edited Select British Eloquence, with careful critical notes. He died Feb. 25, 1860, in New Haven, Conn.

GOODRICH, ELIZUR, clergyman, astronomer, author, was born Oct. 26, 1734, in Wethersfield, Conn. He was an able astronomer, and spent much of his time in calculating the eclipses of each successive year, and published the fullest and most accurate account of the aurora borealis of 1780. He was a candidate for governor of Connecticut; and was the author of a volume of sermons and addresses. He died Nov. 22, 1797, in North Norfolk, Conn.

GOODRICH, ELIZUR, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 24, 1761, in Durham, Conn. He was professor of law in Yale college, and for many years the efficient mayor of New Haven. He was twice elected to the state legislature; was a judge of the county and probate courts for fifteen years; was a presidential elector in 1797; and was a representative in congress from Connecticut from 1799 to 1801. He died Nov. 1, 1849, in New Haven, Conn.

GOODRICH, FRANK BOOT, author, was born Dec. 14, 1826, in Boston, Mass. He was a dramatist and miscellaneous writer of New York city, and the author of The Court of Napoleon; Man Upon the Sea; Tri-Colored Sketches of Paris; The Tribute Book; World-Famous Women; Women of Beauty and Heroism; and History of Maritime Adventure.

GOODRICH, JOHN Z., manufacturer, congressman, was born Sept. 27, 1801, in Sheffield, Mass. He was a presidential elector in 1841; served in the state legislature in 1848 and 1849, and was a representative in congress from 1851 to 1855, from his native state. In 1861 he was appointed collector of Boston, and was a delegate to the peace congress of 1861.

GOODRICH, MILO, lawyer, congressman, was born Jan. 13, 1820, in Homer, N. Y. He was a member of the state constitutional convention in 1867, and was elected to the forty-second congress as a republican.

GOODRICH, RALPH LELAND, lawyer, philologist, author, was born Aug. 27, 1840, in Oswego, N. Y. In 1873 he was appointed clerk of the United States circuit and district courts. He is a proficient Sanskrit scholar, and has published several excellent translations from the Vedas.

GOODRICH, SAMUEL GRISWOLD, author, was born Aug. 19, 1793, in Ridgefield, Conn. He was a once famous writer and compiler of Boston and New York. He published nearly two hundred volumes, mainly juvenile and educational, some of which achieved a wide popularity. Among them are, History of All Nations; Tales of Peter Parley about America; and Recollections of a Lifetime, an autobiography. He died May 9, 1860, in New York city.

GOODRICH, WILLIAM HENRY, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 19, 1825, in New Haven, Conn. He held pastorates in Bristol, Conn.; Binghamton, N. Y., and Cleveland, Ohio. He was a brilliant pulpit orator and published sermons and addresses. He died July 17, 1874, in Switzerland.

GOODSELL, DANIEL AYRES, bishop, author, was born Nov. 5, 1840, in Newburg, N. Y. He was a delegate to every general conference from 1876 till 1888, and at the one in New York city in 1888 was elected bishop. He has been literary editor and editorial contributor of the New York Christian Advocate since 1880.

GOODSON, JOHN, physician, jurist, was born in England. From 1686 till 1701 he was one of the proprietaries commissioners of property, and in 1694 was appointed deputy-governor of Pennsylvania. He died Dec. 28, 1727, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GOODWIN, ALEXANDER CAMPBELL, educator, college president, was born June 3, 1846, in Utica, Ind. He has been superintendent of schools in Indiana and Kentucky for more than twenty years, and for three years was president of the Owensboro Female college.

GOODWIN, DANIEL, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Nov. 24, 1799, in Geneva, N. Y. He was United States district attorney for Michigan in 1834-41; judge of the supreme court in 1843-50; president of the state constitutional convention of 1850, and a member of that of 1867. In 1850-51 he was circuit judge for the upper peninsula of Michigan. He served repeatedly in the legislature. He died Aug. 24, 1887, in Detroit, Mich.

GOODWIN, DANIEL, lawyer, author, was born in 1832 in New York. He is a lawyer of Chicago, and the author of James Pitts and His Sons in the American Revolution; The Dearborns; The Lord's Table; and Provincial Pictures.

GOODWIN, DANIEL RAYNES, educator, clergyman, author, was born April 12, 1811, in North Berwick, Maine. He was an episcopal clergyman who was a professor in the Philadelphia Divinity school, and of much prominence as a low churchman. He was the author of Southern Slavery in Its Present Aspects; Christianity Neither Ascetic nor Fanatic; The Christian Ministry; Shall We Return to Rome? The Perpetuity of the Sabbath; The New Ritualistic Divinity; and Christian Eschatology. He died March 12, 1890, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GOODWIN, ELLA DIMMICK, poet, was born Jan. 7, 1869, in Schuyler county, Ill. In 1880 she removed to Kansas with her parents, and three years later was married to Thomas J. Goodwin of Ludell. Her poems have appeared in current literature, Poets of America, and other standard works.

GOODWIN, GEORGE FRANCIS, lawyer, prohibitionist, was born Jan. 12, 1849, in Groton, Vt. In 1880 he was state's attorney of Mower county, Minn.; attorney-general of North Dakota in 1889, and is now a prominent prohibition worker of Salt Lake City, Utah.

GOODWIN, MRS. HANNAH ELIZABETH BRADBURY, author, was born in 1827 in Massachusetts. She is a Boston writer for young people, among whose works are Madge; Christine's Fortune; Dorothy Gray; Dr. Howells's Family; and Fortunes of Miss Follen. She died in 1893.

GOODWIN, HENRY C., lawyer, congressman, was born June 25, 1824, in De Ruyter, N. Y. In 1847 he was elected district attorney of Madison county, and held the office three years. He was a representative from New York to the second session of the thirty-third congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-fifth congress. He died Nov. 12, 1860, in Hamilton, N. Y.

GOODWIN, ICHABOD, soldier, congressman, was born May 25, 1743, in South Berwick, Maine. He was a member of the provincial congress in 1775 and 1777; and was lieutenant-colonel of Gerrish's York county regiment, having charge of the Saratoga prisoners. He was major-general of militia from 1783 to 1815; a member of the general court in 1792; and sheriff of York county, Maine, from 1793 to 1820. He died May 25, 1820, in South Berwick.

GOODWIN, ICHABOD, governor, was born Oct. 10, 1796, in North Berwick, N. H. He was governor of New Hampshire from 1860 to 1861.

GOODWIN, ISAAC, author, was born June 28, 1786, in Plymouth, Mass. He was a writer of Worcester, Mass., and the father of Mrs. Jane Goodwin Austin. He was the author of History of the Town of Stirling; The Town Officer; and The New England Sheriff. He died Sept. 16, 1832, in Worcester, Mass.

GOODWIN, JOHN ABBOTT, author, was born May 21, 1824, in Stirling, Mass. He was a Lowell writer who published The Pilgrim Fathers Neither Puritans nor Persecutors; and The Pilgrim Republic, an historical review of the Plymouth colony. He died in 1884.

GOODWIN, JOHN NOBLE, lawyer, congressman, governor, was born Oct. 18, 1824, in South Berwick, Maine. He was elected to the senate of Maine; and in 1860 was a representative from Maine to the thirty-seventh congress. He was subsequently appointed chief justice of the territory of Arizona; afterwards was governor, and was elected a delegate from Arizona to the thirty-ninth congress.

GOODWIN, MRS. LAVINA STELLA, educator, author, was born Feb. 4, 1833, in St. Johnsbury, Vt. Since 1869 she has been associate editor of The Watchman of Boston, Mass. She is the author of three juvenile volumes, entitled Little Folks' Own; The Little Helper; and The Mysterious Miner.

GOODWIN, MRS. MAUD WILDER, author, was born in 1856 in New York. She is an historical novelist of New York city, and the author of The Colonial Cavalier, or Southern Life Before the Revolution; The Head of a Hundred; White Aprons, an historical romance; and Dolly Madison, a biography.

GOODWIN, MYRON HENRY, educator, writer, was born Oct. 23, 1860, in Baldwin, Maine. In 1882 he graduated from Bowdoin college. In 1884 he was admitted to the bar at Denver, Col., but has not practiced. He has taught Greek and Latin in New York, Wisconsin and Massachusetts, and has contributed both prose and verse to the leading newspapers and magazines of America.

GOODWIN, NATHANIEL, genealogist, author, was born March 5, 1782, in Hartford, Conn. He was a Hartford genealogist and probate judge, and the author of Genealogical Notes of Some of the First Settlers of Connecticut and Massachusetts. He died May 28, 1855, in Hartford, Conn.

GOODWIN, NATHANIEL C., comedian, was born July 25, 1857, in Boston, Mass. Among the plays in which he has been seen to advantage on the American stage are: Hobbies; Warranted; Ourselves; Major Wellington De Boots; Mascot; Pinafore; Patience; Big Pony, and others.

GOODWIN, PETERSON, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1803 to 1818. He died in November, 1818.

GOODWIN, WILLIAM FREDERICK, soldier, author, was born Sept. 27, 1823, in Limington, Maine. He was the author of a History of the Constitution of New Hampshire of 1776, 1784, 1792; and Records of Narragansett Township. He died March 12, 1872, in Concord, N. H.

GOODWIN, WILLIAM WATSON, educator, author, was born May 9, 1831, in Concord, Mass. He is an eminent Greek scholar, Eliot professor of Greek at Harvard university from 1860. He has published Syntax of Moods and Tenses of the Greek Verb; and A Greek Grammar.

GOODWYN, ALBERT TAYLOR, soldier, farmer, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 17, 1842, in Robinson Springs, Ala. He was educated at South Carolina college and the university of Virginia, from which latter institution of learning he was graduated in 1867; and is a farmer. He was a member of the state house of representatives in 1886-87, and a member of the state senate from 1892 to 1896, and was state inspector of convicts from 1874 to 1880. He was in the confederate army from the beginning of the war to the end; participating in the bombardment of Fort Sumter in April, 1861, and was mustered out at the close of the war as captain of a company of sharpshooters. He took his seat in the fifty-fourth congress April 22, 1896.

GOODYEAR, CHARLES, inventor, was born Dec. 29, 1800, in New Haven, Conn. He produced the vulcanized or ebonized india-rubber, which immortalized his name, and he lived long enough to see his material applied to nearly five hundred uses. He died July 1, 1860, in New York city.

GOODYEAR, CHARLES, lawyer, jurist, banker, congressman, was born April 26, 1805, in Cobbeskill, N. Y. He was a member of the state assembly in 1839. In 1811 he was appointed first judge of Schoharie county; and was a representative from New York in the twenty-ninth congress. In 1864 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-ninth congress.

GOODYEAR, FRANK HENRY, financier, was born March 17, 1849, in Groton, N. Y. He settled in Buffalo in the coal and lumber trade, and has since built eleven saw mills in woodland regions of Pennsylvania. Through other methods, his coal trade has also grown to large proportions.

GOODYEAR, WILLIAM HENRY, educator, author, was born in 1846 in Connecticut. He is an art educator of New York city, and the author of Roman and Mediaeval Art; Renaissance and Modern Art; History of Art; The Grammar of the Lotus; and Ancient and Modern History.

GOOGINS, GEORGE, physician, surgeon, was born in October, 1822, in Hancock, Maine. In 1847 he graduated from the Maine Medical college of Brunswick. For several years he has been United States examining surgeon; and is one of the oldest and most reliable physicians in eastern Maine, and for nearly half a century has practiced his profession at Milbridge. In 1871-72 he served as a member of the Maine state legislature, and has been active in politics all his life, and a prominent member of the whig and republican parties.

GOOGINS, GEORGE EDGAR, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 25, 1863, in Milbridge, Maine. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools of his native city, and in 1882 graduated from the East Maine Conference seminary of Bucksport, and in 1886 from the Colby university. During 1892-95 he was superintendent of public schools of Milbridge, Maine, where he is engaged in the practice of law. He has written numerous stories and poems for the press, and is the author of a novel entitled Strange Adventures of a Summer Tourist.

GOOKIN, CHARLES, soldier, statesman. He attained the rank of colonel, and was deputy-governor of Pennsylvania under William Penn during 1709-17.

GOOKIN, DANIEL, author, was born in 1612 in England. For the last thirty years of his life he was superintendent of the Indians in Massachusetts. His writings include Historical Collections of the Indians in New England; and Account of the Doings and Sufferings of the Christian Indians in New England. He died March 19, 1687, in Cambridge, Mass.

GOOKINS, SAMUEL BARNES, journalist, legislator, jurist, was born May 30, 1809, in Rupert, Conn. Just twenty years after he went to Vincennes to aid in establishing the Vincennes Gazette, he went to the same place to hold his first term as judge of the circuit court. He represented Vigo county in the Indiana legislature.

GORDON, ADONIRAM JUDSON, clergyman, author, was born April 19, 1836, in New Hampton, N. H. He was a baptist clergyman of Boston, pastor of the Clarendon church from 1869 until his death; and the author of Grace and Glory; In Christ; Ministry of Healing; The Ministry of the Spirit; The Life that Now Is and That to Come; The Holy Spirit in Missions; and Ecce Venit. He died in 1895.

GORDON, ANNA ADAMS, author, was born July 21, 1853, in Boston, Mass. She was the private secretary of Frances E. Willard from 1877 until her death. She prepared the song books of the Loyal Temperance Legions and also the songs for Woman's temperance work and the white ribbon hymnal. She is the author of Questions Answered; The White Ribbon Birthday Book; and other pamphlets and booklets.

GORDON, ARCHIBALD D., author, was born in 1848 in Ireland. He was a dramatic critic and playwright of New York city, and the author of The Ugly Duckling; Is Marriage a Failure?; and That Girl From Mexico. He died in 1895.

GORDON, ARMISTEAD CHURCHILL, lawyer, poet, was born in 1855 in Albemarle county, Va. He is the author of a volume of dialect poems entitled Befo' de War. He is an able lawyer of Staunton, Va., of which city he has been mayor.

GORDON, CHARLES BENJAMIN WILLIAM, clergyman, journalist, author, was born Nov. 1, 1861, in Colerain, N. C. He has attained success as a pastor of the baptist church of Petersburg, Va., and since 1886 he has been editor of The National Pilot. He is the founder of the American and The National Orphan Home; and has been president of the National Orphan and Educational association since 1886.

GORDON, CLARENCE, author, was born April 28, 1835, in New York city. He is a writer of Newburg, N. Y. His writings, intended for juvenile reading, include Christmas at Under Tor; Our Fresh and Salt Tutors; Two Lives in One; and Boarding-School Days.

GORDON, EDWARD CLIFFORD, clergyman, college president, was born Sept. 1, 1842, in Richmond, Va. He is president of the Westminster college of Fulton, Mo.

GORDON, GEORGE ANGLIER, clergyman, author, was born in 1853 in Scotland. He is a prominent congregational clergyman of Boston, pastor of the Old South church from 1884, and the author of The Christ of To-Day; The Witness to Immortality in Literature, Philosophy and Life; and Immortality and the New Theodicy.

GORDON, GEORGE HENRY, lawyer, soldier, author, was born July 19, 1823, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a lawyer of Boston who served as a brigadier-general in the federal army during the civil war, and was the author of History of the Second Massachusetts Infantry; The Campaign of the Army of Virginia under General Pope; War Diary of Events in the War of the Great Rebellion; and Brook Farm to Cedar Mountain. He died Aug. 30, 1886, in Framingham, Mass.

GORDON, GEORGE PHINEAS, printer, manufacturer, inventor, was born April 21, 1810, in Salem, N. H. His fame arose from his invention of the Gordon job press. The Gordon Press works, having a factory at Rahway, N. J., of which he was proprietor, produced an immense number of these machines, which found their way into nearly every job office in the United States. He died Jan. 27, 1878, in Norfolk, Va.

GORDON, J. WRIGHT, governor, was born in 1807 in Virginia. He was lieutenant-governor of Michigan during the administration of Governor Woodbridge; and upon the latter's resignation, became governor. He died in December, 1853.

GORDON, JAMES, state senator, congressman. He was for seven years a member of the state senate of New York; and twelve years in the state assembly. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1791 to 1795.

GORDON, JOHN BROWN, soldier, congressman, governor, United States senator, was born Feb. 6, 1832, in Upson county, Ga. He entered the army as captain of infantry in the confederate army. He was elected to the United States senate for the term commencing in 1873 and ending in 1879, and was re-elected for the term ending in 1885. He was elected governor in 1886, and re-elected in 1888. He was elected United States senator for the term 1891-97.

GORDON, LAURA DE F., journalist, lawyer, orator, was born Aug. 17, 1843, in Erie county, Pa. In 1873 she founded the Daily Leader at Oakland, Cal. In 1879 she was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of California.

GORDON, M. LAFAYETTE, clergyman, author, was born in 1843 in Pennsylvania. He is a congregational clergyman and physician, formerly a missionary to Japan, and subsequently a professor in Doshisha university, Kyoto. He is the author of An American Missionary in Japan.

GORDON, MERRITT J., lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born in March, 1857, in Canada. For ten years he resided in Dakota, where he served as district attorney and as a member of the legislature. Since 1889 he has resided in Olympia, Wash.; was elected in 1892 to the superior bench of Thurston county, and in 1884 was elected to the supreme bench.

GORDON, PATRICK, soldier, governor, author, was born in 1644, in England. In 1726 he was elected governor of Pennsylvania, and in 1728 he published Two Indian Treaties at Conestogo. He died Aug. 5, 1736, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GORDON, SAMUEL, congressman, was born in New York. He served in the state assembly in 1834 and was a representative in congress from that state from 1841 to 1843, and again from 1845 to 1847. In 1863 he was appointed provost-marshal for the nineteenth district of New York.

GORDON, THOMAS, statesman, was born in Scotland. He came to New Jersey in 1684, and settled in Scotch Plains. He was elected attorney-general of the eastern district in 1698, chief secretary and register in 1702; elected to the legislature, and became speaker of the assembly. In 1709 he became chief justice, and was afterward receiver-general and treasurer of the province. He died in 1722 in Amboy, N. J.

GORDON, THOMAS F., lawyer, antiquarian, author, was born in 1787 in Pennsylvania. He was a Philadelphia lawyer and antiquarian, and the author of Digest of the Laws of the United States; History of Pennsylvania to 1776; History of New Jersey to 1789; History of America; Cabinet of American History; History of Ancient Mexico; and Gazetteers of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. He died Jan. 17, 1860, in Beverly, N. J.

GORDON, THOMAS W., lawyer, poet. He served two terms as vice-president of the board of pension examiners of Georgetown, Ohio, where he practices his profession with success. He has written extensively for medical journals, and his poems have been given a place in several standard works.

GORDON, WALTER SCOTT, inventor, was born Aug. 21, 1742, in Greenwich, R. I. In 1883 he founded the vigorous city of Sheffield, Ala. He invented a coal mining machine and a cotton screw. He died Oct. 16, 1886, in New York city.

GORDON, WILLIAM, lawyer, congressman. He was attorney-general for the state of New Hampshire, and a representative in congress from New Hampshire from 1797 to 1800, when he resigned. He died in May, 1802, in Boston, Mass.

GORDON, WILLIAM, lawyer, was born Dec. 15, 1862, near Oak Harbor, Ohio. He received the rudiments of his education in the public schools of his native city; attended the Toledo Business college, and graduated from the university of Michigan in 1891. He had subsequently taught school. In 1894 he was elected prosecuting attorney of his county; was appointed a member of the board of county school examiners, and in 1895 removed to Port Clinton, the county seat. In 1896 he was elected a delegate to the democratic national convention; and has taken an active part in the public affairs of his county and state.

GORDON, WILLIAM F., congressman, was born in Virginia. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1828 to 1835. He is said to have been the originator of the sub-treasury system. He died July 2, 1858, in Albemarle county.

GORDON, WILLIAM ROBERT, clergyman, author, was born March 19, 1811, in New York city. He was a Dutch reformed clergyman of New York and New Jersey, and the author of Supreme Godhead of Christ; Particular Providence, A Threefold Test of Modern Spiritualism; The Peril of Our Ship of State; Revealed Truth Impregnable; The Reformed Church in America; and Christocracy. He died March 30, 1896, in Manhasset, N. Y.

GORE, CHRISTOPHER, lawyer, governor, United States senator, was born in 1758 in Boston, Mass. In 1789 he was appointed district attorney for the district of Massachusetts. He was chosen governor in 1809, and in 1813 was chosen a senator of the United States, in which capacity he served until 1816. He died March 1, 1827.

GORE, DAVID, farmer, was born April 5, 1827, in Kentucky. He has been a state senator and president of the state board of agriculture, and in 1896 was elected auditor of state at Springfield, Ill.

GORE, JAMES HOWARD, educator, author, was born in 1856 in Virginia. He is a professor of mathematics in Columbian university, Washington, D. C. He is the author of Geodesy; Elements of Geodesy; and several annotated editions of German works for college study.

GORGAS, FERDINAND J. S., dentist, author, was born in 1834 in Virginia. He is a Baltimore dentist, professor in the college of Dental Surgery since 1860, and the author of Lectures on Dental Science and Therapeutics; and Dental Materia Medica.

GORGAS, JOSIAH, soldier, college president, was born July 1, 1818, in Dauphin county, Tenn. He was placed at the head of the confederate ordnance department with the rank of brigadier-general. He was made president of the university of Alabama in 1878. He died May 15, 1883, in Tuscaloosa, Ala.

GORHAM, BENJAMIN, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 13, 1775, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a representative in congress from the Suffolk district from 1820 to 1823, and from 1827 to 1831, and from 1833 to 1835. He was afterward for a short time a member of the state legislature. He died Sept. 27, 1855, in Boston, Mass.

GORHAM, JOHN, physician, educator, author, was born Feb. 24, 1783, in Boston, Mass. In 1809 he was appointed adjunct professor of chemistry and materia medica in Harvard, and in 1815 was made professor of chemistry and mineralogy. He published an Inaugural Address and Elements of Chemical Science. He died March 29, 1829, in Boston, Mass.

GORHAM, NATHANIEL, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born May 27, 1738, in Charlestown, Mass. He was a representative in the legislature from 1771 to 1775; was a delegate to the provincial congress in 1774 and 1775; and again a member of the legislature, and a member of the board of war from 1778 until its dissolution. He was a delegate to the state constitutional convention in 1779; a delegate to the continental congress in 1782 and 1783, and from 1785 to 1787, and was chosen president of that body in 1786. He was for several years a judge of the court of common pleas. He died June 11, 1796, in Charlestown, Mass.

GORHAM, WALLACE A., poet, was born Oct. 27, 1833, in Pittsford, Vt. In 1846 he moved with his parents to Rockford, Ill., and in 1869 to Iowa, and since 1887 has resided in Spirit Lake. He is the author of a number of poems, which have appeared in the periodical press, and in several standard works.

GORLEY, HUGH ALEXANDER, soldier, merchant, orator, author, poet, was born Nov. 25, 1833, in Uniontown, Pa. He attended the Madison college of his native city; and during the civil war was captain in company B, first regiment California volunteer infantry, attached to the column from California. In 1881 he served with distinction in the California state legislature as a representative from San Francisco. He has been a successful merchant of San Rafael, Cal., is president of the society of California Volunteers; a prominent member of the Grand Army of the Republic; and a member of the California Commandery of the Military Order, Loyal Legion of the United States.

GORMAN, ARTHUR PUE, United States senator, was born March 11, 1839, in Howard county, Md. In 1869 he was elected a member of the house of delegates of the Maryland legislature as a democrat; was re-elected in 1871, and then elected speaker of the house of delegates at the ensuing session. In 1875 he was elected to represent Howard county in the Maryland state senate, and was re-elected in November, 1879, for a term of four years. He was elected in 1880 to the United States senate as a democrat; was re-elected in 1886 and in 1892. His term of service will expire March 3, 1899.

GORMAN, JAMES SEDGWICK, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 28, 1850, in Lyndon, Mich. He was elected to the lower house of the Michigan legislature in 1880, and in 1886 was elected to the state senate from the fourth district, and re-elected in 1888. He was elected to the fifty-second and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

GORMAN, JOHN BERRY, physician, artist, author, was born Feb. 22, 1793, in Newberry district, S. C. He owned a valuable library, was fond of painting, and left a picture entitled the Nightmare. He published the Philosophy of Animated Existence. He died Nov. 12, 1864, in Talbot county, Ga.

GORMAN, WILLIS ARNOLD, soldier, lawyer, congressman, governor, was born Jan. 12, 1814, near Flemingsburg, Ky. For several years he was a member of the Indiana state legislature. He was major of the third Indiana volunteers in the Mexican war, and in 1848 was civil and military governor of Puebla. He was a representative in congress from 1849 to 1853, from Kentucky. He was governor of Minnesota from 1853 to 1857. He was appointed brigadier-general in 1861, and was in the battles of Ball's Bluff and West Point. He died May 20, 1876, in St. Paul, Minn.

GORRIE, PETER DOUGLAS, clergyman, author, was born April 21, 1813, in Glasgow, Scotland. He was a methodist clergyman of New York, and the author of Churches and Sects in the United States; Episcopal Methodism as It Was and Is; and Lives of Eminent Methodists. He died Sept. 12, 1884, in Potsdam, N. Y.

GORRINGE, HENRY HONEYCHURCH, naval officer, author, was born Aug. 11, 1841, in Barbadoes, W. I. He was a United States naval officer who superintended the removal of the obelisk from Egypt to New York, and after leaving the navy engaged in ship-building. His only publication is a work on Egyptian Obelisks. He died July 7, 1885, in New York.

GORSHIRE, WILLIAM R., jurist, was born in New York. He moved to Colorado, where he was appointed United States judge for the territory of Colorado, residing at Denver.

GORTNER, JOHN NARVER, clergyman, lecturer, poet, was born Feb. 16, 1874, in St. Charles, Ill. He attended the Garrett Biblical institute and has attained prominence as a lecturer and clergyman of the methodist episcopal church of Newman Grove, Neb. He is the author of a volume of poems entitled Dust From the Chariot Wheels; and a memorial poem entitled Across the Wave, to the memory of his father, a missionary who died in Africa.

GORTNER, JOSEPH ROSS, clergyman, missionary, poet, was born Jan. 24, 1846, in Williamsport, Pa. He graduated from the Dickinson seminary, and became an eminent clergyman of the methodist episcopal church. He went as a missionary to Africa during the latter part of his life, and died March 8, 1888, on the west coast of Africa.

GORTON, DAVID ALLYN, physician, author, was born in 1832 in New York. He is a physician of Brooklyn, and the author of The Monism of Man, or the Unity of the Divine and Human; The Principles of Mental Hygiene; The Drift of Medical Philosophy; and Neurasthenia.

GORTON, SAMUELL, author, was born in 1592 in England. He was the founder of a small sect sometimes called Nothingarians, which survived him for about a century. He was the author of Simplicite's Defence Against Seven-Headed Policy; An Incorruptible Key Composed of the CX. Psalm; Saltmarsh Returned from the Dead; An Antidote Against the Common Plague of the World; and Certain Copies of Letters. He died in 1677 in Rhode Island.

GOSACK, GEORGE MECHLIN, lawyer, legislator, was born Oct. 7, 1866, in Dayton, Pa. He is a successful lawyer of Pittsburg, Pa.; and in 1897 was elected a member of the Pennsylvania house of representatives.

GOSNELL, JAMES, clergyman, was born Sept. 14, 1857, in Ireland. He attended the university of Rochester, and the Syracuse university, and has received the degrees of A. B., A. M. and Ph. D. Since 1880 he has been a clergyman of the methodist episcopal church in Rochester and vicinity, and since 1895 in Lockport, N. Y.

GOSPER, JOHN J., soldier, orator, was born April 8, 1841, in Knox county, Ohio. During the civil war he served gallantly in the union army as first lieutenant of the United States colored troops, and lost a leg in the war. He was president of the city council of Lincoln, Neb., and secretary of state of Nebraska in 1873. Gosper county, Neb., was named for him. In 1877 he was appointed by President Hayes to the secretaryship of Arizona territory, and served five years, most of the time as acting governor. He has been a member of the school board of Los Angeles, Cal.

GOSS, ELBRIDGE HENRY, author, was born in 1830 in Massachusetts. He is a writer of Melrose, Mass., and the author of Life of Colonel Paul Revere; and Melrose Memorial.

GOSS, JAMES H., merchant, congressman, was born Aug. 9, 1820, in Union Court House, S. C. He was a delegate to the state constitutional convention of 1867, and was elected a representative from South Carolina to the fortieth congress.

GOSS, WARREN LEE, author, was born in 1838 in Massachusetts. He is a writer of Norwich, Conn., and more recently of Rutherford, N. J. He is the author of The Soldier's Story of the Captivity at Andersonville; Jack Alden; Tom Clifton; Jed; and Recollections of a Private.

GOTT, DANIEL, congressman, was born in Connecticut. On moving to New York he was elected a representative in congress from 1847 to 1851.

GOTTLIEB, ERNEST, missionary, author, was born in 1743 in England. He was a Moravian missionary who made extended studies of Indian customs. He is the author of History, etc., of the Pennsylvania Indians; Mission of the United Brethren Among the Delawares; and Names which the Delawares Gave to Rivers and Streams, with their Signification. He died in 1823.

GOUCHER, JOHN FRANKLIN, clergyman, college president, philanthropist, was born June 7, 1845, in Waynesboro, Pa. He was one of the original incorporators of the Woman's college of Baltimore, of which he is president.

GOUDY, WILLIAM C., lawyer, state senator, was born May 15, 1824, in Indiana. In 1853 he became state's attorney, and in 1856 was sent to the state senate. In 1859 he opened an office in Chicago and for thirty-four years made unhalting progress. He died April 27, 1893, in Chicago, Ill.

GOUGAR, HELEN M., lawyer, lecturer, author, was born July 18, 1843, in Litchfield, Mich. She is the author of the law granting municipal suffrage to women in Kansas, and has published Women Wealth Winners, and other works.

GOUGE, WILLIAM M., author, was born Nov. 10, 1796, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a financial writer and for thirty years was in the treasury department at Washington. He was the author of History of the American Banking System; Expediency of Dispensing with Bank Paper; and Fiscal History of Texas. He died July 14, 1863, in Trenton, N. J.

GOUGH, JOHN BARTHOLOMEW, temperance lecturer, author, was born Aug. 22, 1817, in England. He was a celebrated temperance lecturer, and was the author of Autobiography; Temperance Lectures; Sunlight and Shadow, or Gleanings from My Life Work; Temperance Dialogues; and Platform Echoes. He died Feb. 18, 1880, in Frankford, Pa.

GOULD, ALTA ISADORE, poet, is a native of Michigan. She is the author of The Veteran's Bride; and has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press. Her poems have been incorporated in several standard works.

GOULD, AUGUSTUS ADDISON, conchologist, author, was born April 23, 1805, in New Ipswich, N. H. He was a conchologist of Boston, and the author of System of Natural History; Mollusca and Shells; Olia Conchologia; The Mollusca of the North Pacific Expedition; and The Invertebrata of Massachusetts. He died Sept. 15, 1866, in Boston, Mass.

GOULD, BENJAMIN APTHORP, educator, author, was born June 15, 1787, in Lancaster, Mass. He was an educator of Massachusetts who published The Prize Book; Adam's Latin Grammar; and editions of Horace, Ovid, and Virgil. He died Oct. 24, 1859, in Boston, Mass.

GOULD, BENJAMIN APTHORP, astronomer, author, was born Sept. 24, 1824, in Boston, Mass. He was a distinguished astronomer, from 1868-85 director of the Argentine Republic national observatory at Cordova, and subsequently a resident of Cambridge. He was the author of Uranometry of the Southern Heavens; and Trans-Atlantic Longitude as Determined by the Coast Survey. He died in 1896.

GOULD, EDWARD SHERMAN, merchant, author, was born May 11, 1808, in Litchfield, Conn. He was a merchant of New York city, and the author of The Sleep Rider; The Very Age, a comedy; John Doe and Richard Roe, a tale of New York life; Classified Elocution; and Good English. He died Feb. 21, 1885, in New York city.

GOULD, EDWIN B., lawyer, was born Jan. 24, 1839, in Hillsborough, N. H. He received his education at the Frances-town academy and at the Appleton academy of Mount Vernon, N. H. For many years he was town clerk of Pembroke, and is now a prominent lawyer of Nashua, N. H., where he has filled many prominent public positions of trust in the gift of his county and state.

GOULD, ELIZABETH PORTER, poet. In 1889 she published Gems from Walt Whitman, which brought her merited praise as a critic. In 1891 she published a volume of her poems entitled Stray Pebbles from Shores of Thought. She has been president of several woman's organizations, and a leader in woman's progress and social affairs in Boston, Mass.

GOULD, EZRA PALMER, clergyman, author, was born in 1841 in Massachusetts. He is an episcopal clergyman; professor of New Testament literature in the Philadelphia Episcopal Divinity school; and the author of Commentary on Corinthians; and Notes on the Lessons of 1885.

GOULD, GEORGE, lawyer, jurist, was born Sept. 2, 1807, in Litchfield, Conn. In 1855 he was elected judge of the supreme court of the state of New York. He died Dec. 6, 1868, in Troy, N. Y.

GOULD, GEORGE J., railroad president. Since 1893 he has been president of the Missouri Pacific railway.

GOULD, HANNAH FLAGG, poet, was born Sept. 3, 1789, in Lancaster, Mass. She was a poet of Newburyport, Mass., and the author of The Snow Flake and the Frost; Hymns and Poems for Children; The Golden Vase; The Youth's Coronet; Mother's Dream, and Other Poems; Diosma, poems original and selected; and Gathered Leaves, a volume of prose. She died Sept. 5, 1865, in Newburyport, Mass.

GOULD, HERMAN D., congressman, was born in Connecticut. Having taken up his residence in New York he was elected a representative in congress from that state, from 1849 to 1851. He died in 1852 in Delhi, N. Y.

GOULD, JAMES, lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 5, 1770, in Branford, Conn. He was a jurist of Connecticut who published The Principles of Pleading in Civil Actions. He died May 11, 1836, in Litchfield, Conn.

GOULD, JAY, financier, was born May 27, 1836, in Roxbury, N. Y. He made surveys of Ulster, Albany and Delaware counties, and from these surveys he accumulated five thousand dollars. In 1856 he published a History of Delaware County. In 1857 he became the largest stockholder and a director in the Stroudsburg (Pa.) bank; bought the bonds of the Rutland and Washington railroad at ten cents on the dollar, and in 1859 established himself in New York city as a broker. He invested heavily in Erie railway stock, and subsequently controlled ten thousand miles of railroad. He accumulated over fifty millions of dollars. He died Dec. 2, 1892, in New York city.

GOULD, JOHN W., author, was born Nov. 5, 1814, in Litchfield, Conn. He was the author of Forecastle Yarns; and Private Journal of Voyage from New York to Rio Janeiro. He died Oct. 1, 1838, at sea.

GOULD, NATHANIEL DUREN, musician, author, was born March 26, 1781, in Bedford, Mass. He was a musician and penman of Boston who published A History of Church Music. He died May 28, 1864, in Boston, Mass.

GOULD, OZRO BARNES, soldier, lawyer, state legislator, jurist, was born April 17, 1840, in Canada. In 1861 he enlisted in the fifty-fifth Ohio infantry, served throughout the war, and attained the rank of captain. In 1867 he settled in Winona, Minn., in the practice of law. In 1881 he was a member of the Minnesota state house of representatives, and in 1895 was appointed judge of the third judicial district.

GOULD, THOMAS R., sculptor, was born in 1818 in Boston, Mass. Among the works that he produced were two colossal heads, Christ and Satan, both of which were exhibited at the Boston Athenæum in 1863, but afterward removed to his studio in Florence. He died Nov. 26, 1881, in Florence, Italy.

GOULD, WILL DANIEL, educator, lawyer, was born Sept. 17, 1845, in Cabot, Vt. He received the rudiments of his education at the public and high schools of his native city; the academies of St. Johnsbury and Barre, Vt.; and in 1871 graduated from the university of Michigan. He became principal of the graded schools at Passumpsic, Marshfield and Plainfield, Vt.; and was superintendent of schools in his native town when twenty-one years of age. In 1872 he settled in Los Angeles, Cal., where he has since been successfully engaged in the active practice of law.

GOULDING, FRANCIS ROBERT, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 28, 1810, in Midway, Ga. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Georgia whose Young Marooners on the Florida Coast, a tale for boys, has long been popular. Other works of his include Marooner's Island; Frank Gordon; Fishing and Fishes; Woodruff Stories; Little Josephine; Cousin Aleck; Adventures Among the Indians; and Boy Life on the Water. He died Aug. 22, 1881, in Roswell, Ga.

GOULEY, JOHN WILLIAM SEVERIN, physician, author, was born March 11, 1832, in New Orleans, La. He is a physician, professor in the university of New York, and the author of External Perineal Urethrotomy; Diseases of the Urinary Organs; and Diseases of Man.

GOURDIN, THEODORE, congressman. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1813 to 1815. He died Jan. 17, 1826.

GOVAN, A. R., congressman, was born in Orangeburg, S. C. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1822 to 1827, having first been elected to fill a vacancy.

GOVE, SAMUEL F., soldier, merchant, congressman, was born March 9, 1822, in Weymouth, Mass. He was a captain and assessor of taxes for Bibb county in the confederate service; and was elected a representative from Georgia to the fortieth congress as a republican.

GOVE, WILLIAM HAZELTINE, orator, legislator, was born July 10, 1817, in Weare, N. H. He became well known as a stump speaker, and gained the title of the silver-tongued orator of New Hampshire. He was elected a member of the legislature in 1851, 1852, and 1855. He died March 11, 1876, in Weare, N. H.

GOWAN, ALBERT W., soldier, lawyer, state senator, was born May 16, 1846, in Rushford, N. Y. During the civil war he enlisted in battery M, first regiment United States artillery, and served three years. In 1871 he moved to Osborne county, Kan., and helped to organize that county, and in 1881 was its representative in the Kansas state legislature. In 1882 he moved to Oregon and in 1890 settled in Burns, where he is engaged in the practice of law. During 1893-96 he was captain of troop A of the Oregon National Guard.

GOWANS, WILLIAM, bookseller, antiquarian, author, was born March 29, 1803, in Scotland. From 1828 until his death he was identified with the book business of New York city. He died Nov. 27, 1870, in New York city.

GOWER, CORNELIUS A., educator, manufacturer, was born in 1845 in Abbott, Maine. He was superintendent of public instruction during 1878-81; and the succeeding eleven years was superintendent of the State Reform school. He is president and general manager of the Building and Loan association of Lansing, Mich.

GRACE, GEORGE AZARIAH, lawyer, was born Dec. 9, 1845, in Johnson county, Tenn. After receiving his education, he graduated from the Albany Law school, N. Y. He has been assistant United States attorney for the western district of Arkansas, and is one of the leading lawyers of that state, and practices his profession at Fort Smith.

GRACE, THOMAS L., bishop, was born Nov. 16, 1814, in Charleston, S. C. He attained eminence in the Roman catholic church, and for many years was a bishop of St. Paul, Minn.

GRACE, WILLIAM RUSSELL, merchant, was born May 10, 1832, in Ireland. In 1881 he established the New York and Pacific Steamship company.

GRACEY, JOHN TALBOT, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 16, 1831, in Philadelphia, Pa. For eight years he was a missionary to India. He is a noted lecturer, the author of several works, and the editor of The Missionary Review of the World.

GRADY, BENJAMIN F., soldier, educator, congressman, was born Oct. 10, 1831, in Dublin county, N. C. He was elected professor of mathematics and natural sciences in Austin college. He remained in Austin college till he enlisted in a Texas confederate regiment. He located in North Carolina at the close of the war. He was superintendent of public schools of Dublin county from 1881 to 1888, and justice of the peace from 1879 to 1890. He was one of the trustees of the North Carolina State university from 1873 to 1890; and was elected to the fifty-second and re-elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

GRADY, HENRY WOODWARD, journalist, was born May 24, 1850, in Athens, Ga. In 1880 he bought an interest in the Atlanta Constitution, and remained a part owner and editor of that paper until his death. He died Dec. 23, 1889.

GRADY, JOHN C., lawyer, United States senator, was born Oct. 8, 1847, in Eastport, Maine. In 1876 he was elected to represent the seventh district of Pennsylvania in the state senate from Philadelphia, and in 1881 was elected United States senator.

GRADY, JOHN E., lawyer, state senator, was born in Franklin county, Fla. He has been collector of customs for the port of Key West, and served with distinction as a member of the Florida state senate.

GRAEBNER, AUGUSTUS L., clergyman, author, was born in 1849, in Michigan. He is a lutheran clergyman, professor in the Theological seminary at St. Louis from 1887, and is the author of Half a Century of Sound Lutheranism in America.

GRAFF, FREDERICK, civil engineer, was born Aug. 27, 1775, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1811 he recommended Fairmount as the proper place for the waterworks of Philadelphia, and was entrusted with their construction. For forty-two years he was in the service of the city of Philadelphia, and a monument to his memory was erected in the grounds at Fairmount waterworks. He died April 13, 1847, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRAFF, JOSEPH V., lawyer, congressman, was born July 1, 1854, in Terre Haute, Ind. He moved to Illinois; and was a delegate to the national republican convention at Minneapolis in 1892. He has engaged in the practice of law ever since his admission to the bar. He was elected to the fifty-fourth and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a republican.

GRAFFENRIED, R. C. DE, lawyer, congressman, was born in 1859 in Franklin, Tenn. He was elected county attorney of Longview, Texas; in 1888 was elector on the democratic ticket; made the race for congress in 1890; and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

GRAFTON, CHARLES CHAPMAN, bishop of Fond du Lac, Wis., was born April 12, 1830, in Boston, Mass. He introduced into America the Sisterhood of St. Margaret, East Grinstead, establishing the community in Boston. He also founded the Sisterhood of the Holy Nativity. He was consecrated bishop of Fond du Lac in the cathedral at Fond du Lac on April 25, 1889. His writings comprise: Vocation, or the Call of the Divine Master to a Sister's Life; Plain Suggestions for a Reverent Celebration of the Holy Communion; and various essays, sermons, and tracts.

GRAFTON, EDWARD C., naval officer, was born in Boston, Mass. He was commissioned lieutenant in 1855; lieutenant-commander in 1862; commander in 1866; and was retired in 1871. He died June 24, 1876, in New York city.

GRAFTON, JOSEPH, clergyman, was born June 9, 1757, in Newport, R. I. He accepted a call to Newton, Mass., and was ordained as pastor of the baptist church in that place in 1788. He died Sept. 16, 1836, in Newton, Mass.

GRAHAM, CHARLES KINNAIRD, civil engineer, was born June 3, 1824, in New York city. At the beginning of the civil war he volunteered in the national army, about four hundred men in his employ in the navy yard following his example. In 1862 he was commissioned brigadier-general. He died April 18, 1889, in New York city.

GRAHAM, CHRISTOPHER BRIAN, educator, journalist, clergyman, was born May 19, 1850, in Charleston, W. Va. He was a successful school teacher and a prosperous merchant; and in 1879 became a clergyman of the methodist episcopal church. For six years he was presiding elder of the Charleston district; and there published The Charleston Advocate. He has held important offices in his conference, and now fills a pastorate in Wheeling, W. Va.

GRAHAM, CURTIS, author, was born March 11, 1872, in Ormsby, Nev. He received his education in the San Francisco schools and the university of California. He has filled several positions of trust, and is attaining success as a magazine writer and author.

GRAHAM, DAVID, lawyer, author, was born Feb. 8, 1808, in London, England. He was a lawyer of New York city; and the author of Practice of the Supreme Court of New York State; New Trials; and Courts of Law and Equity in New York State. He died May 27, 1852, in Nice, France.

GRAHAM, GEORGE, soldier, public official, was born about 1772 in Dumfries, Va. He was acting secretary of war during the last two years of President Madison's administration. He became president of the Washington branch of the United States bank; and in 1823 was appointed commissioner of the land office. He died in August, 1830, in Washington, D. C.

GRAHAM, GEORGE REX, lawyer, journalist, was born Jan. 18, 1813, in Philadelphia, Pa. In 1846 he purchased the North American, and in 1847 the United States Gazette, which he incorporated with the North American.

GRAHAM, HENRY HALE, jurist, was born July 1, 1731, in London, England. In 1789 Delaware county in Pennsylvania was created, and he was commissioned president judge of its court of common pleas. He died Jan. 24, 1790, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRAHAM, ISABELLA, philanthropist, was born July 29, 1742, in Scotland. Among the more important of the institutions established by her are the Widows' and Orphans' Asylum societies, the society for the Promotion of Industry, and the first Sunday school for ignorant adults. She died July 27, 1814, in New York city.

GRAHAM, JAMES, lawyer, congressman, was born in January, 1793, in Lincoln county, N. C. He served four years in the state legislature; and was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1833 to 1843, and from 1845 to 1847. He died Sept. 25, 1851.

GRAHAM, JAMES H., congressman. He was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-sixth congress.

GRAHAM, JAMES S., soldier, manufacturer, legislator, was born May 28, 1836, in Edinburgh, Scotland. He served as a soldier in the civil war, and was promoted to captain and brevetted major, and in 1896 was elected commander department of the New York Grand Army of the Republic. He served as a member of the New York legislature for three terms; and is a successful manufacturer of machinery in Rochester, N. Y.

GRAHAM, JOANNA, author. Of the Life and Letters of Mrs. Graham, more than 50,000 copies have been sold in America, and many editions issued in England and Scotland.

GRAHAM, JOHN, diplomat. He was a citizen of Virginia. In 1819 he was appointed minister plenipotentiary to Portugal. He also went to Brazil on diplomatic business; and returned to the United States in 1820. He died July 31, 1820.

GRAHAM, JOHN, clergyman, was born in 1694 in Scotland. He was the author of A Ballad against the Church of England in Connecticut. He died in December, 1774, in Woodbury, Conn.

GRAHAM, JOHN ANDREW, lawyer, author, was born June 10, 1764, in Southbury, Conn. He was a lawyer of Rutland, Vt.; and the author of Descriptive Sketch of Present State of Vermont; Speeches; and Memoirs of Horne Tooke. He died Aug. 29, 1841, in New York city.

GRAHAM, JOHN HODGES, naval officer, was born March 9, 1794, in Vermont. He entered the navy as midshipman in 1812; was promoted to be lieutenant in 1817; and captain in 1849. He died March 15, 1878, in Newbury, N. H.

GRAHAM, JOHN H., soldier, merchant, manufacturer, congressman, was born April 1, 1835, in Ireland. In the fall of 1861 he recruited company A, fifth regiment heavy artillery, New York volunteers, and served three years as its captain, and was commissioned as major and brevetted lieutenant-colonel. In 1889 he was selected by the hardware board of trade to represent their interests and was named as one of the incorporators of the proposed World's Columbian exposition to be held in New York. He was elected to the fifty-third congress as a democrat.

GRAHAM, JOHN LORIMER, soldier, lawyer, was born March 20, 1797, in London, England. In 1834 he was appointed regent of the state university, and from 1840 till 1844 was postmaster of New York city. He died July 22, 1876, in Flushing, N. Y.

GRAHAM, LOYAL M., lawyer, legislator, was born Nov. 20, 1860, in Butler county, Pa. He is a successful lawyer of Stockville, Neb.; has been county attorney of his county for two terms; and served with distinction as a senator in the Nebraska state legislature.

GRAHAM, MRS. MARGARET COLLIER, author, was born in 1850 in Iowa. She is a California writer who has published Stories of the Foot-Hills.

GRAHAM, NAPOLEON BONAPARTE, soldier, journalist, was born June 14, 1846, in Benton, Tenn. He served as a soldier in the federal army; and was a candidate for the Tennessee legislature. He is the editor and owner of The Gazette of Ducktown, Tenn.

GRAHAM, NEIL F., physician, surgeon, was born Feb. 9, 1840, in Canada. He served as a surgeon in the army until the close of the war; and was elected professor of surgery at Howard university, Washington, D. C., in 1872.

GRAHAM, ROBERT, clergyman, educator, college president, was born Aug. 14, 1822, in Liverpool, England. He was the president and founder of the Arkansas college; has been president of the Kentucky university; and until 1896 was president of College of the Bible of Lexington, Ky.

GRAHAM, ROBERT D., agriculturist, lawyer, state legislator, was born Nov. 11, 1855, in Canada. He has attained success in the practice of law in Grand Rapids, Mich. He served with distinction as a member of the Michigan state legislature in 1897-98.

GRAHAM, SYLVESTER, vegetarian, author, was born in 1794 in Suffield, Conn. He was a well-known vegetarian and lecturer upon temperance. He was the author of Lectures on the Science of Human Life; Bread and Breadmaking; and Philosophy of Sacred History. He died Sept. 11, 1851, in Northampton, Mass.

GRAHAM, WILLIAM, college president, was born Dec. 19, 1745, in Harrisburg, Pa. He was first president of Liberty Hall academy, afterward Washington college and Washington and Lee university. He died June 8, 1799, in Richmond, Va.

GRAHAM, WILLIAM, congressman, was born in 1783. He was a member of the convention which framed the state constitution of Indiana; and served many years in both branches of the state legislature, and was speaker in 1820. He was a representative in congress from Indiana from 1837 to 1839. He died in 1857 near Valonia, Ind.

GRAHAM, WILLIAM A., lawyer, governor, United States senator, was born Sept. 5, 1804, in Lincoln county, N. C. He served in the state legislature from 1833 to 1836, and also in 1839 and 1840. He was a senator in congress from North Carolina from 1841 to 1843. In 1844 he was elected governor of the state, and re-elected in 1846. He was secretary of the navy under President Fillmore; and subsequently was nominated for the office of vice-president on the ticket with Winfield Scott. He was a delegate to the Philadelphia national union convention of 1866; and subsequently held the position of arbitrator between the states of Virginia and Maryland. He died Aug. 11, 1875, in Saratoga, N. Y.

GRAHAM, WILLIAM A., farmer, soldier, state senator, was born Dec. 26, 1839, in Hillsborough, N. C. He was a soldier in the civil war, and for two terms was a member of the North Carolina state senate.

GRANBERY, JOHN COWPER, bishop, author, was born Dec. 5, 1829, in Norfolk, Va. He is a bishop of the methodist church south, who published a Bible Dictionary.

GRANGER, AMOS PHELPS, soldier, farmer, merchant, congressman, was born in June, 1789, in Suffield, Conn. He served as a captain of militia at Sackett's Harbor in 1812; and subsequently became a general of militia. He was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-fourth and thirty-fifth congresses. He died Aug. 20, 1866, in Syracuse, N. Y.

GRANGER, BRADLEY F., lawyer, congressman, was born in New York. He was elected a representative from Michigan to the thirty-seventh congress.

GRANGER, FRANCIS, congressman, was born Dec. 1, 1792, in Suffield, Conn. He was for five years from 1826 a member of the New York general assembly. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1835 to 1837, and again from 1839 to 1841, when he resigned to accept from President Harrison the appointment of postmaster-general. He was a member of the peace convention of 1861. He died Aug. 28, 1868, in Canandaigua, N. Y.

GRANGER, GIDEON, lawyer, state senator, was born July 19, 1767, in Suffield, Conn. In 1793 he was elected a member of the legislature, and continued in that body several years. In 1801 he was appointed postmaster-general of the United States, and continued in that office until 1814, when he removed to the state of New York. In 1819 he was elected to the state senate. He gave one thousand acres of land in aid of the canal. He died Dec. 21, 1822, in Canandaigua, N. Y.

GRANGER, GORDON, soldier, was born in 1821 in New York. During the civil war he became a colonel, and was placed in command of the army of Kentucky. He died Jan. 10, 1876, in Santa Fe, N. M.

GRANGER, MILES TOBEY, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Aug. 12, 1817, in New Marlborough, Mass. He was elected judge of the superior court of Connecticut; and in 1876 was elected judge of the supreme court, which he held till 1887, when he resigned. He was a member of the Connecticut house of representatives in 1857; and of the senate in 1866-67. He held the office of judge of the superior court nineteen and a half years consecutively, and was elected to the fiftieth congress as a democrat.

GRANGER, ROBERT SEAMAN, soldier, was born May 24, 1816, in Zanesville, Ohio. He served in the Florida, Mexican and civil wars, and attained the brevet of major-general in the United States army.

GRANNIS, GEORGE W., soldier, clergyman, reformer, was born Aug. 24, 1847, in Butler county, Pa. During the civil war he served in company E, one hundred and ninety-third regiment Pennsylvania volunteer infantry; and is now an active member of the Grand Army of the Republic. Since 1869 he has been a clergyman of the methodist episcopal church; has served as presiding elder; and is now filling a pastorate in Salem, Ore. He has always taken an active part in temperance and other reform movements, and contributes extensively to current literature.

GRANT, ABRAHAM, bishop, was born Aug. 25, 1848, in Lake City, Fla. In 1888 he was elected bishop of the African methodist episcopal church.

GRANT, ABRAHAM P., congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1837 to 1839.

GRANT, AMARIAH J., soldier, clergyman, was born May 23, 1841, in Hastings, N. Y. He was the inventor of the automatic bar locking device, which to-day may be found on nearly every desk manufactured. In 1863 he enlisted in the twenty-fourth regiment New York volunteer cavalry, and was promoted to sergeant. In 1876 he left his trade of cabinetmaker for the ministry; and has since been a successful clergyman of the methodist episcopal church in his native state.

GRANT, ASAH, physician, author, was born Aug. 17, 1807, in Marshall, N. Y. He was a physician who was a missionary in Persia; and the author of The Nestorians, or the Lost Tribes. He died April 25, 1844, in Turkey.

GRANT, CHARLES S., physician, surgeon, was born Nov. 29, 1845, in Hobart, N. Y. He was one of the founders of the State Medical association; and in 1885 he erected at Saratoga Springs a sanitarium.

GRANT, CLEMENT ROLLINS, artist, was born July 10, 1849, in Freeport, Maine. His specialty is landscape and portrait painting. Among his pictures are Amy Wentworth, an illustration of Whittier's poem, Marguerita; and O for the Touch of a Vanished Hand.

GRANT, FREDERICK DENT, soldier, was born May 30, 1850, in St. Louis, Mo. He is the son of General Grant, and in 1873 was commissioned lieutenant-colonel, in which capacity he served eight years.

GRANT, FREDERICK ELSWORTH, lawyer, jurist, was born Jan. 14, 1854, in College Hill, Ohio. He received his education in the schools of Rossville, Ill.; and has attained success as an able lawyer of Huron, S. D. Since 1890 he has been commissioner of the United States circuit court; and is the present county judge of Beadle county, at Huron, S. D.

GRANT, JAMES BENTON, miner, governor, was born Jan. 2, 1848, in Russell county, Ala. He built the first large smelting works at Leadville in 1878, under the name of J. B. Grant and Co.; and when the fire in that mining camp destroyed the works, he constructed in Denver in 1882, a finer plant than the original one, consolidating his business with another company, under the name of the Omaha and Grant Smelting Co. In 1882 he was nominated for governor and was elected by an overwhelming majority.

GRANT, JOHN T., railroad builder, state senator, was born Dec. 13, 1813, near Grantville, Ga. After graduating in 1833 from the state university, he became a railroad builder in Georgia, Alabama, Tennessee, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas. In 1856 he was elected state senator from Walton county; became colonel on the staff of Governor Howells Cobb; and built the handsomest residence in Atlanta, Ga. He was a lover of art, music and literature; and was both a composer and performer on flute and violin. He died Jan. 18, 1887, in Atlanta, Ga. His only son, Captain W. D. Grant, succeeded his father in carrying on his various enterprises.

GRANT, JULIA DENT, wife of President Grant, was born Jan. 26, 1826, in St. Louis, Mo. When America called Grant to the presidential chair, she stood with dignity at his side, and commanded the respect of all who beheld her; and this respect has been enhanced by her continued dignity through the trials and sufferings of Grant's last days.

GRANT, LEMUEL PRATT, railroad president, was born Aug. 11, 1817, in Frankfort, Maine. In 1873 he became president of the Georgia Pacific railroad; and in 1883 was president of the Western railroad of Alabama.

GRANT, ROBERT, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Jan. 24, 1852, in Boston, Mass. He is a lawyer of Boston well known as a littérateur; from 1893 a judge of probate and insolvency for Suffolk county, Mass. He has written several satirical works, including The Little Tin Gods on Wheels; The Lambs; Yankee Doodle; and the juvenile tales, Jack Hall; Jack in the Bush. In fiction he has published Confessions of a Frivolous Girl; The Carletons; Mrs. Harold Stagg; An Average Man; The Knave of Hearts; A Romantic Young Lady; Face to Face; The Bachelor's Christmas, and Other Stories; The Opinions of a Philosopher; Reflections of a Married Man. Other works of his are The Art of Living; and The Oldest School in America.

GRANT, ULYSSES SIMPSON, eighteenth president of the United States, was born April 27, 1822, in Clermont county, Ohio. He graduated at the Military academy at West Point in 1843, and entered the United States regular army as a brevet second lieutenant. He was afterward promoted to captain, and served in the Mexican war under Generals Scott and Taylor. He participated in the battles of Palo Alto, Monterey, Vera Cruz and Molino del Rey. At the close of the war Grant's company was sent to Oregon. In 1848 he married Miss Julia T. Dent. In 1854 he resigned his connection with the army, and settled near St. Louis. In 1859 he moved to Galena, Ill., and engaged in the leather trade until the breaking out of the rebellion. He then entered the union army as colonel, and distinguished himself at the battles of Fort Donelson, Shiloh, Vicksburg, Richmond and others. He was promoted from time to time, until February, 1864, when he received the commission of lieutenant-general from President Lincoln's own hand, and continued in the field until he received the sword which General Robert Edward Lee surrendered at Appomattox Court House, April 9, 1865. The republican national convention met at Chicago May 21, 1868. On the first ballot Grant was unanimously nominated for president, with Schuyler Colfax for vice-president. Being duly elected, they were inaugurated March 4, 1869. At the republican national convention held in Philadelphia June 5, 1872, President Grant was renominated by acclamation. Henry Wilson was nominated for vice-president. Being elected, they took the oath of office March 4, 1873. He completed his term of eight years as president March 4, 1877. On May 17 he left Philadelphia for a tour around the world, and landed in San Francisco Sept. 20, 1879. In the republican national convention in 1880 his name was presented as a candidate for president, and he received from 302 to 313 votes during the thirty-six ballots taken. He removed to New York city in 1881. Just previous to his death he wrote his memoirs, which were published in two volumes, and brought a large fortune to his widow. He completed this last work of his life but four days before his death, which occurred July 23, 1885, on Mount McGregor, near Saratoga, N. Y. He was the author of Report of the Armies of the United States; and Personal Memoirs.

GRANT, WILLIAM DANIEL, capitalist, was born Aug. 16, 1837, in Athens, Ga. He is the largest owner of Atlanta real estate and one of the wealthiest men of Georgia.

GRANTLAND, SEATON, congressman, was born in Virginia. He was elected a representative in congress from Georgia from 1835 to 1839; and was also a presidential elector.

GRATACAP, LOUIS POPE, naturalist, author, was born Nov. 1, 1850, in Brooklyn, N. Y. He is a naturalist connected with the American Museum of Natural History in New York city who has published Philosophy of Ritualism, or Apoloogia Pro Ritu.

GRATKE, JOHN EDWARD, journalist, legislator, was born Feb. 16, 1872, in Milwaukee, Wis. He is the editor and proprietor of The Budget of Astoria, Ore.; and in 1897 was elected a member of the Oregon state legislature.

GRAVELY, JOSEPH J., soldier, state senator, congressman, was born in 1828 in Henry county, Va. In 1853 and 1854 he was elected to the Virginia legislature. In 1854 he moved to Missouri, and was elected to the convention of that state in 1860. In 1862 he was elected to the senate of the state, and re-elected in 1864. During a part of the rebellion he was colonel of the eighth regiment of Missouri cavalry. After the close of the war he turned his attention to the practice of law; and in 1866 was elected a representative from Missouri to the fortieth congress.

GRAVES, ABBOTT FULLER, artist, was born April 15, 1859, at Weymouth, Mass. Among his well-known floral paintings are Chrysanthemum Show; Peonies; Grandmother's Window; and his most noted figure compositions are The Silent Partner; Next of Kin; Saved from the Wreck; A Dawn of Hope; The Light in the Window; and A Labor of Love.

GRAVES, MRS. ADELIA CLEOPATRA, educator, author, poet, was born March 17, 1821, in Kingsville, Ohio. She graduated from the Kingsville academy; entered educational work; and for thirty-one years filled the chair of literature in the Mary Sharp college of Winchester, Tenn. In 1841 she was married to Prof. Z. C. Graves, president of Soule college, and founder and president of the Mary Sharp college. She is the author of several books; has contributed extensively both prose and verse to periodical literature; and is one of the most popular writers of the south. Her best-known works are: Life of Columbus; Poems for Children; Seclusarval, or the Arts of Romanism; and Jephtha's Daughter, a drama.

GRAVES, ALEXANDER, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 29, 1844, in Mississippi. He entered the confederate army, serving throughout the war. In 1872 he was elected city attorney of Lexington; and in 1874 was elected prosecuting attorney of Lafayette county. He was elected a representative from Missouri to the forty-eighth congress as a democrat.

GRAVES, ANSON ROGERS, clergyman, bishop, was born April 13, 1842, in Wells, Vt. When five years of age he moved with his parents to Illinois; received the rudiments of his education in the common schools; and subsequently graduated from the Rutland high school and Hobart college. In his junior year he took both the White and Cobb essay prizes. After graduating in 1866 he studied law and taught school; but after two years he entered the General Theological seminary. After twelve years of work as a clergyman in the episcopal church in parishes east and west, he became rector of the Gethsemane church of Minneapolis, Minn.; and in 1890 was consecrated missonary bishop of western Nebraska. He has received the degrees of S. T. D. and LL. D.

GRAVES, CHARLES W., lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 29, 1854, in East Aurora, N. Y. He studied law with his father, was admitted to the bar in 1876, and practiced law in Sparta until 1879, then he removed to Viroqua. Since 1894 he has been county judge of Vernon county.

GRAVES, EDWARD OZIEL, public official, banker, was born Aug. 3, 1843, in Gravesville, N. Y. In 1883-85 he was assistant treasurer of the United States at Washington, D. C.; and during 1885-89 was chief of the bureau of engraving and printing. He is president of the Washington National bank of Seattle.

GRAVES, FRANK R., lawyer, legislator, was born March 13, 1852, in Shelby county, Texas. He attended the common schools of Ellis county, and graduated from the university of Texas. He served as a member of the twenty-second and twenty-third legislatures of Texas with distinction. He was a member of the democratic state executive committee of Texas; was county attorney of Karnes county; and is one of the leading lawyers of his native state.

GRAVES, JOHN CARD, business man, was born Nov. 18, 1839, in Herkimer, N. Y. In 1862 he graduated from the Hamilton college. He has been clerk of the superior court of Buffalo; brigadier-general of the eighth brigade; president of the Merchants' exchange; and is now president of the Elevator company of Buffalo, N. Y. He organized municipal reform in the city of Buffalo; was president of the Citizens' association; and president of the New York State Municipal league. He is a director of the Buffalo Historical society and Art gallery; and has served twenty years in the national guard of the state.

GRAVES, JAMES ROBINSON, clergyman, author, was born April 10, 1820, in Chester, Vt. He is a baptist clergyman of Nashville, prominent as a controversialist; and is the author of The Great Iron Wheel, or Republicanism Backward; The Little Iron Wheel; The Intermediate State; Old Landmarks; Intercommunion of Churches; The Redemptive Work of Christ; The New Great Iron Wheel; Denominational Sermons; and Parables and Prophecies of Christ.

GRAVES, JAMES S., lawyer, public official, was born Aug. 3, 1860, in Columbia City, Ind. He is a successful lawyer of Kendallville, Ind.; has been city treasurer; and in 1894 was elected mayor for a term of four years.

GRAVES, JOHN TEMPLE, journalist, was born Nov. 9, 1856, in Willington, S. C. For three years he was editor of The Rome Tribune; and in 1887 was chief editor of the Atlanta Journal.

GRAVES, NATHAN FITCH, financier, was born Feb. 17, 1813, in Oneida county, N. Y. In 1852 he became the first president of the Burnet bank; and was one of the founders of the Buchtel college.

GRAVES, THOMAS, naval officer, was born June 6, 1605, in Rateliffs, England. As a reward for his capture of a Dutch privateer in the English channel, during Cromwell's protectorate, he was appointed to command a ship-of-war and made a rear-admiral. He died July 31, 1653, in Charlestown, Mass.

GRAVES, VIRGINIA, educator, was born Sept. 11, 1848, in Jacksonville, Ill. In 1869 she received the degree of B. D. from the Iowa State university; and from the same institution the degree of A. B. in 1870, and the degree of A. M. in 1873. She has attained eminent success in educational work, and for many years has been principal of the Washington high school of her native city.

GRAVES, WILLIAM JORDAN, congressman, was born in 1805 in Newcastle, Ky. He was a member of the Kentucky legislature from Henry county in 1834; and was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1835 to 1841. In 1838 he engaged in a duel at Bladensburg, Md., with Jonathan Cilley, in which the latter was killed. He was again a member of the legislature in 1843 from Jefferson county; and was a presidential elector in 1848. He died Sept. 27, 1848, in Louisville, Ky.

GRAVES, ZWINGLIUS CALVIN, educator, college president, was born in 1816 in Chester, Vt. In 1850 he was called to take charge of the Mary Sharpe Female college of Winchester, Tenn.

GRAY, ALBERT, manufacturer, banker, state senator, was born July 22, 1844, in Middletown Springs, Vt. He is a well-known manufacturer of horse-power thrashing machines; and a successful banker in his native city. In 1876 he was elected a representative to the Vermont state legislature; and in 1886 served with distinction as a state senator.

GRAY, ALBERT ZAVRISKIE, educator, clergyman, author, was born March 2, 1840, in New York city. He was an episcopal clergyman and educator, and warden of Racine college, Wisconsin, in 1882-88. He is the author of Racine and Her Labor of Love; The Land and the Life; Jesus Only; and Other Devotional Poems; and Mexico as It Is. He died Feb. 16, 1889, in Chicago, Ill.

GRAY, ALFRED G., naval officer, was born in 1818, in Norfolk, Va. In 1865 he entered the service of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, by whom he was made commodore in 1874. He died Nov. 10, 1876, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

GRAY, ASA, educator, botanist, author, was born Nov. 18, 1810, in Paris, N. Y. He was professor at Harvard university in 1842-88, and was in charge of the botanical garden at Cambridge. He is the author of Elements of Botany, now called Structural and Systematic Botany; How Plants Grow; A Free Examination of Darwin's Origin of species; Darwiniana; Natural Science and Religion; Manual of the Botany of the Northern United States; Synoptical Flora of North America; How Plants Behave; Field, Forest, and Garden Botany; Lessons in Botany; School and Field Book of Botany; Botany of the United States Pacific Exploring Expedition; and Scientific Papers selected by C. S. Sargent. He died Jan. 30, 1888, in Cambridge, Mass.

GRAY, DAVID, journalist, poet, was born Nov. 9, 1836, in Edinburg, Scotland. He was a journalist of Buffalo, on the editorial staff of The Courier in 1856-82; and was the author of a volume of poems. He died March 18, 1888, in Binghamton, N. Y.

GRAY, EDGAR HARKNESS, clergyman, was born Nov. 28, 1815, in Bridgeport, Vt. After the beginning of the thirty-ninth congress he was elected chaplain of the United States senate, and continued in that office four years. He was one of the four clergymen who officiated at the funeral services of President Lincoln in Washington.

GRAY, EDWARD, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1799 to 1813.

GRAY, ELISHA, electrician, inventor, author, was born Aug. 2, 1833, in Barnesville, Ohio. He is an electrician and inventor who has published Experimental Researches in Electric Harmonic Telegraphy.

GRAY, FRANCIS CALLEY, lawyer, author, was born Sept. 19, 1790, in Salem, Mass. He was a Boston lawyer prominent as an enlightened patron of arts and education who published a work on Prison Discipline. He died Dec. 29, 1856, in Boston, Mass.

GRAY, GEORGE, was born Oct. 26, 1725, in Philadelphia, Pa. He took an active interest in the affairs of the colony, and served in the assembly as delegate from Philadelphia from 1772 until 1775. He died in 1800 in Whitby hall, near Philadelphia, Pa.

GRAY, GEORGE, lawyer, United States senator, was born May 4, 1840, in New Castle, Del. He was appointed attorney-general of the state of Delaware in 1879, and reappointed in 1884. He was elected to the United States senate to fill a vacancy and took his seat March 19, 1885, and was re-elected in 1887 and in 1893, his term of service expiring in 1899.

GRAY, GEORGE EDWARD, civil engineer, was born Sept. 12, 1818, in Verona, N. Y. He has been chief engineer of the Southern Pacific railroad of Arizona, of the Southern Pacific railroad of New Mexico, and directed the location and construction of the Galveston, Harrisburg and San Antonio railroad from El Paso to San Antonio, Texas.

GRAY, GEORGE SEAMAN, business man, clergyman, author, was born in 1835 in New York. He was a presbyterian clergyman who, after retiring from the ministry, engaged in business in Cincinnati. He was the author of Eight Studies of the Lord's Day. He died in 1885.

GRAY, GEORGE ZABRISKIE, educator, clergyman, author, was born July 14, 1838, in New York city. He was an episcopal clergyman of Cambridge, dean of the Theological school, 1876-89, and prominent among broad church thinkers. He was the author of The Scripture Doctrine of Recognition; The Children's Crusade: An Episode of the Thirteenth Century; Husband and Wife; and The Church's Certain Faith. He died Aug. 5, 1889, in Sharon Springs, N. Y.

GRAY, GILES H., lawyer, legislator, was born May 16, 1834, in New York city. He attended the free college of the city of New York; was one of its first graduates, and has received the degrees of A. B. and A. M. from that college. He is a successful lawyer, and practices in all the courts of California. He has been a member of the city council of San Francisco; a member of the board of education of that city, and also of Oakland. He has served with distinction as a member of the California state legislature, and has been United States surveyor of customs for the port of San Francisco.

GRAY, HENRY PETERS, artist, was born June 23, 1819, in New York city. Cleopatra; Charity; The Birth of Our Flag; and Twilight Musings. He died Nov. 12, 1877, in New York city.

GRAY, HIRAM, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born April 10, 1802, in Salem, N. Y. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1837 to 1839; in 1846 was judge of the sixth judicial district, and in 1847 one of the justices of the supreme court, serving in that capacity until 1860.

GRAY, HORACE, associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, was born March 24, 1828, in Boston, Mass.

He was graduated from Harvard college in the class of 1845 and from the Harvard Law school in 1849. He was admitted to the bar in 1851, and was appointed reporter of the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts in 1854 and held the position until 1861. He was appointed associate justice of the supreme judicial court of Massachusetts in 1864, and chief justice of that court in 1873; and was commissioned an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States in 1881.

GRAY, ISAAC PUSEY, soldier, lawyer, state senator, governor, was born Oct. 18, 1828, in Chester county, Va. In 1862 he was appointed colonel of the fourth Indiana cavalry, and in 1864 raised the one hundred and forty-seventh regiment of Indiana infantry. In 1868 he was elected a state senator. In 1876 he was elected lieutenant-governor of Indiana; became governor on the death of Governor James D. Williams; and in 1884 was elected governor of Indiana for the term of four years.

GRAY, JAMES, clergyman, author, was born Dec. 25, 1770, in Ireland. He published Mediatorial Reign of the Son of God; Dissertation on the Priesthood of Jesus Christ and Melchisedec, together with the Life of Christ; and sermons. He died Sept. 20, 1824, in Gettysburg, Pa.

GRAY, JAMES J., lawyer, was born Nov. 23, 1861, in Chicago, Ill. He received a thorough education and graduated from the Kent College of Law. He has been deputy probate clerk and circuit court clerk in the city of Chicago, where he has attained prominence as one of its leading lawyers.

GRAY, JAMES M., clergyman, theologian, lecturer, was born in 1851, in New York city. For fifteen years he was rector of the First Reformed Episcopal church of Boston, Mass. He occupies the chair of lectures on the English Bible in the Reformed Episcopal seminary of Philadelphia. He is also the author of a series of lectures on How to Master the Bible.

GRAY, JOHN, soldier, was born Jan. 6, 1764, in Fairfax Courthouse, Va. He entered the continental army, and served throughout the entire war. He was reputed to be the last survivor of the American revolution. He died March 29, 1868, in Hiramburg, Ohio.

GRAY, JOHN C., congressman, was born in Southampton county, Va. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1820 to 1821 to fill a vacancy.

GRAY, JOHN CHIPMAN, educator, lawyer, author, was born in 1839, in Massachusetts. He is a lawyer of Boston, and Royall professor of law at Harvard university since 1883. He is the author of Restraints on the Alienation of Property; Rule Against Perpetuities, and Select Cases.

GRAY, JOHN F., physician, was born in September, 1804, in Sherbourne, N. Y. He was the first physician in America who adopted homeopathy, or the medical system of Hahnemann.

GRAY, MORRIS, lawyer, author, was born in 1856 in Massachusetts. He is a Boston lawyer, and the author of A Treatise on the Law of Communication by Telegraph.

GRAY, ROBERT, discoverer, was born in 1755 in Tiverton, R. I. In 1791 he discovered the mouth of a great river to which he gave the name Columbia, after his own vessel. He died in 1806 in Charleston, S. C.

GRAY, SOLOMON S., manufacturer, inventor, was born in 1820 in Bowdoinham, Maine. He devised Gray and Wood's planing machine. He was the inventor of the molded collar.

GRAY, TRUMAN, planter, merchant, state senator, was born April 5, 1854, in Wayne county, Miss. He received a thorough education and attended the Mississippi college at Clinton. He has been county superintendent of public instruction, and is now state senator from the second senatorial district of Mississippi. He is a successful planter and merchant of Boyce, and takes an active part in the public affairs of his city, county and state.

GRAY, WILLIAM, merchant, state senator, lieutenant-governor, was born June 27, 1750, in Lynn, Mass. He removed to Boston, became a state senator, and in 1810 was elected lieutenant-governor. He died Nov. 4, 1825, in Boston, Mass.

GRAY, WILLIAM CRANE, bishop of southern Florida, was born Sept. 6, 1836, in Lambertville, N. J. He founded a church school for girls in Bolivar, Tenn.; rebuilt St. James's church and built St. Philip's chapel for colored people.

GRAYBILL, WILLIAM M., educator, college president, author, was born June 25, 1851, in Pincastle, Va. Since 1890 he has been president of the Rogersville Synodical college, Tenn. He is the author of Charts of History and Civil Government.

GRAYDON, ALEXANDER, author, was born April 10, 1752, in Bristol, Pa. He was a citizen of Harrisburg who published Memoirs of a Life Passed Chiefly in Pennsylvania within the last Sixty Years, a lively, entertaining autobiography. He died May 2, 1818, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRAYDON, WILLIAM, lawyer, author, was born Sept. 4, 1759, near Bristol, Pa. He was a lawyer of Harrisburg, and the author of Digest of the Laws of the United States; Justice and Constable's Assistant; and Forms of Conveyancing. He died Oct. 13, 1840, in Harrisburg, Pa.

GRAYSON, WILLIAM, soldier, United States senator, was born in Prince William county, Va. He was appointed aide-de-camp to General Washington in 1776; colonel of a Virginia regiment in 1777, and commissioner of the board of war in 1780 and 1781. He was a delegate to the continental congress from 1784 to 1787; member of the Virginia convention to consider the federal constitution in 1788, and in 1789 and 1790 was United States senator from Virginia. He died March 12, 1790, at Dumfries, Va.

GRAYSON, WILLIAM, state legislator, governor, was born in 1786 in Maryland. He was a planter; served in both branches of the state legislature, and took an active part in the successful struggle to obtain a new state constitution in 1838. He was governor of Maryland from 1838 to 1841. He died July 9, 1868, in Queen Anne county, Md.

GRAYSON, WILLIAM JOHN, state legislator, congressman, author, was born Nov. 10, 1788, in Beaufort, S. C. He was a commissioner in equity of South Carolina for many years; a member of the state legislature in 1813; and a representative in congress from 1833 to 1837. He was appointed, by President Taylor, collector of the customs of Charleston, holding the office until 1853. He subsequently devoted himself to planting; published The Hiring and the Slave; Chicora, and Other Poems; and was the author of a Life of J. L. Petigrn. He died Oct. 4, 1863, in Newberne, S. C.

GREATON, JOHN, soldier, was born March 10, 1741, in Roxbury, Mass. During the siege of Boston he led an expedition which destroyed the buildings on Long Island in Boston harbor. Congress made him a brigadier-general in 1783. He died Dec. 16, 1783, in Roxbury, Mass.

GREATOREX, ELIZABETH ELEANOR, artist, was born May 26, 1854, in New York. She has decorated china, and illustrated books, but now gives her chief attention to painting. She has exhibited at the National academy The Bath; and Color that Burns as if no Frost could Tame.

GREATOREX, HENRY WELLINGTON, musician, composer, was born in 1816 in England. For some years he was organist and conductor of the choir at St. Paul's chapel of New York city. He published a Collection of Psalm and Hymn Tunes, Chants, Anthems, and Sentences. He died in September, 1858, in Charleston, S. C.

GREATOREX, KATHLEEN HONORA, artist, was born Sept. 10, 1851, in Hoboken, N. J. Many of her paintings have been flower-pieces, and she has exhibited The Last Bit of Autumn; Goethe's Fountain, Frankfort; panels with Thistles and Corn and Hollyhocks.

GREATSINGER, JACOB L., railroad president, was born July 1, 1859, in Elmira, N. Y. Since 1892 he has been president of the Duluth and Iron Range railroad.

GREELEY, HORACE, journalist, statesman, author, was born Feb. 3, 1811, in Amherst, N. H. In 1831 he obtained work as a journeyman printer in New York city. In 1834, in connection with Jonas Winchester, he started the New Yorker, a weekly journal of literature and general intelligence, and became its editor; after struggling on several years the journal was abandoned. During its existence, Mr. Greeley published several political campaign papers, the Constitution, the Jeffersonian, and the Log Cabin. In 1841 he commenced the publication of the New York Tribune, and in 1848 was chosen to fill a vacancy in the thirtieth congress. In 1851 he visited Europe, and was chosen chairman of one of the juries at the world's fair; gave an account of his travels in a series of letters to the Tribune, which were afterwards collected into a volume. He also published a collection of his addresses, essays, etc., under the title of Hints Toward Reforms; and a work entitled The American Conflict. In 1864 he was a presidential elector; was a delegate to the Philadelphia loyalists' convention of 1866, and to the state constitutional convention of 1867. He was one of those who gave bail for Jefferson Davis in May, 1867. In 1872 he was nominated by the conservative party for the office of president, but was defeated. His most popular book was Recollections of a Busy Life. He died Nov. 29, 1872, near Pleasantville, N. Y.

GREELY, ADOLPHUS WASHINGTON, explorer, author, was born March 27, 1844, at Newburyport, Mass. He is an arctic explorer in the United States service. In 1887 he was appointed chief of the signal service corps, with the rank of brigadier-general, and was thus at the head of the weather bureau until its transfer to the department of agriculture in 1891. He is the author of Three Years of Arctic Service; American Weather; Handbook of Arctic Discoveries; and Explorers and Travelers.

GREEN, ALEXANDER LITTLE PAGE, clergyman, author, was born June 6, 1806, in Sevier county, Tenn. He was a methodist clergyman of Nashville who was the author of The Church in the Wilderness. He died July 15, 1874, in Nashville, Tenn.

GREEN, ASHBEL, clergyman, college president, author, was born July 6, 1762, in Hanover, N. J. He was a presbyterian clergyman, president of Princeton college in 1812-22. He is the author of Sermons from 1790 to 1836; Sermons on the Assembly's Catechism; and History of Presbyterian Missions. He died May 19, 1848, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GREEN, BARTHOLOMEW, printer, journalist, was born Oct. 12, 1666, in Cambridge, Mass. In 1704 he issued the first number of the Boston News Letter, which for fifteen years was the only newspaper in the colonies. For about forty years he was printer for the government, and the foremost publisher in Boston. He died Dec. 28, 1732, in Boston, Mass.

GREEN, BERIAH, reformer, author, was born in 1794 in New York state. He was a reformer and anti-slavery leader of Ohio and New York. He is the author of History of the Quakers; and Sermons and Discourses. He died May 4, 1874, in Whitestown, N. Y.

GREEN, BYRAM, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in New York. He served five years in the assembly of that state; was a representative in congress from 1843 to 1845; and was subsequently judge of a county court. He died Oct. 18, 1865, in Sodus, N. Y.

GREEN, CALEB SMITH, lawyer, jurist, banker, was born Feb. 18, 1819, in Lawrenceville, N. J. He gained a large and profitable practice, and was elected in 1873 a judge of the court of errors and appeals, serving for eleven years. He died Feb. 19, 1891, in Trenton, N. J.

GREEN, CHARLES, naval officer, was born in 1814 in Connecticut. He entered the United States navy in 1826, became past midshipman in 1832, lieutenant in 1837, commander in 1855, captain in 1862, and commodore in 1867. He died April 7, 1887, in Providence, R. I.

GREEN, CHARLES GORDON, journalist, was born July 1, 1804, in Boscawen, N. H. He was editor of the Free Press of Taunton, Mass.; the National Palladium of Philadelphia in 1827; The Boston Statesman in 1829, and was the founder and editor of the Boston Morning Post. He died Sept. 27, 1886, in Boston, Mass.

GREEN, CHARLES HENRY, inventor, business man, was born Oct. 21, 1837, in Dayton, Ohio. His hektograph is said to be the best invention ever used for reproducing writings and facsimile copies. In 1889 he was elected president of the Washington City and Point Lookout Railway company.

GREEN, DUFF, lawyer, journalist, author, was born Aug. 15, 1791, in Kentucky. He was a Washington lawyer and journalist, and the author of Facts and Suggestions; and How to Pay off the National Debt. He died June 10, 1875, in Dalton, Ga.

GREEN, EDWARD HOWARD, soldier, lawyer, legislator, public official, was born March 1, 1837, in Aurora, Ind. During the civil war he enlisted in company I, sixteenth regiment Indiana volunteers, and was elected first sergeant of the company. He next entered the eleventh regiment of Kentucky volunteer cavalry as second lieutenant, was promoted to first lieutenant, and finally to captain. In 1866 he was elected a member of the Indiana state legislature, and during 1877-79 served as mayor of Aurora, Ind. In 1886 he was elected prosecuting attorney of his county, and in 1890 was again elected mayor of his city, and again in 1892. He died Sept. 7, 1893.

GREEN, EDWARD HOWLAND ROB-INSON, railroad president, was born Aug. 22, 1868, in London, England. Since 1893 he has been president of the Texas Midland railroad.

GREEN, ERNEST SHERMAN, journalist, poet, was born April 30, 1866, in Waseca, Minn. He is the editor of Mexican and South American poems; and the author of a volume entitled Poems of the Past, Present and Future.

GREEN, EZRA, soldier, physician, was born June 17, 1746, in Malden, Mass. In 1775 he joined the continental army as surgeon. He was a delegate to the New Hampshire constitutional convention of 1820. He died July 25, 1847, in Dover, N. H.

GREEN, FRANCIS MATTHEWS, naval officer, author, was born Feb. 23, 1835, in Boston, Mass. He was a United States naval commander, and the author of The Navigation of the Caribbean Sea; Telegraphic Determination of Longitudes; and List of Geographical Positions.

GREEN, FREDERICK W., congressman, was born in Maryland. He removed to Ohio, and was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1851 to 1855.

GREEN, GEORGE WALTON, lawyer, author, was born in 1854 in New York. He is a lawyer of New York city and the author of Repudiation.

GREEN, HARRY H., clergyman, poet, was born March 13, 1839, in England. In 1869 he began the study of law, but on the breaking out of the war at that time he enlisted as a private in company I, second regiment Iowa volunteer infantry. At the battle of Corinth he was recommended for promotion, and commissioned captain of his company. Since 1865 he has filled important pastorates in the methodist episcopal church. He has served with distinction as a representative in the Iowa state legislature, on the prohibition issue. He was appointed presiding elder of the Dubuque district for six years, and in 1890 was re-appointed presiding elder and placed on the Decorah district. He has been a member of the board of trustees of the Upper Iowa university, and also of the Epworth seminary. The degree of doctor of divinity was conferred upon him by the Iowa Wesleyan university, and also by the university of the Northwest.

GREEN, HENRY WOODHULL, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born Sept. 20, 1802, in Lawrenceville, N. J. He was a member of the legislature in 1842, of the constitutional convention of 1844, and was appointed afterward chancery reporter. He was chief justice of the state supreme court from 1846 till 1860, when he became chancellor. He died Dec. 19, 1876, in Trenton.

GREEN, HORACE, physician, college president, author, was born Dec. 24, 1802, in Crittenden, Rutland county, Vt. He was a physician of New York city, president of the New York medical college in 1850-60, and the author of Diseases of the Air Passages; Pathology and Treatment of Croup; Surgical Treatment of the Polyp of the Larynx; and Report of a Hundred Cases of Pulmonary Diseases. He died Nov. 29, 1866, in New York.

GREEN, HORTON BUXTON, educator, clergyman, composer, was born Oct. 29, 1852, in Johnstown, Ohio. In 1853 he moved with his parents to Carroll county, Ill. He received the rudiments of his education in the common schools, and attended the Northern college of Fulton, and subsequently the Cumnoek School of Oratory of Evanston, Ill. For a while he was engaged in educational work, and since 1885 has been a clergyman of the methodist episcopal church. He has filled pastorates in the Northwest Iowa conference in Ashton, Inwood, Rock Valley and Sutherland. He is the author of a number of sacred and popular songs, both of the words and music, which have appeared in sheet-form and in several standard collections.

GREEN, I. L., congressman, was born in Massachusetts. He was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1805 to 1809, and again from 1811 to 1813. He died in 1841.

GREEN, INNIS, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1827 to 1831.

GREEN, JACOB, patriot, clergyman, author, was born June 22, 1722, in Malden, Mass. He was sent to the provincial congress in 1775; and was chairman of the committee which drafted the state constitution. He died May 24, 1790, in Hanover, Mass.

GREEN, JACOB, educator, scientist, author, was born July 26, 1790, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was a Philadelphia scientist who was professor of chemistry in Jefferson Medical college. He was the author of Chemical Diagrams; Chemical Philosophy; Astronomical Recreations; Trilobites; The Botany of the United States; Notes of a Traveler; and Diseases of the Skin. He died Feb. 1, 1841, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GREEN, JAMES STEPHEN, lawyer, congressman, United States senator, was born Feb. 28, 1817, in Fauquier county, Va. He was elected a member of congress in 1846, serving through two terms. In 1853 President Pierce appointed him charge d'affaires, and subsequently minister resident, at Bogota, New Granada. He was again elected a member of congress in 1856, but before taking his seat was chosen by the legislature to represent the state of Missouri in the senate of the United States, where he remained until 1861. He died Jan. 9, 1870, in St. Louis, Mo.

GREEN, JOHN, physician, was born in 1784, in Worcester, Mass. He established a large practice in Worcester, accumulated a valuable professional library, and in 1859 presented 7,000 miscellaneous works to the city or Worcester as a basis for a public library. He died Oct. 17, 1865, at Worcester, Mass.

GREEN, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, state senator, was born May 20, 1807, in Yancey county, N. C. In 1836 he was elected to the Indiana state senate. At the expiration of his senatorial term he was elected judge of the common pleas court.

GREEN, JOHN, surgeon, was born April 2, 1835, in Worcester, Mass. He became surgeon to the St. Louis eye and ear infirmary in 1872, and ophthalmic surgeon to St. Luke's hospital in 1874.

GREEN, JOHN CLEVE, merchant, was born April 14, 1800, in Lawrenceville, N. J. He endowed Princeton seminary with the Helena professorship of history, built one of the professor's houses, and bequeathed to the institution $50,000. He also founded at Princeton the John C. Green school of science, and was liberal in his gifts to the university of New York. He died April 28, 1875, in New York city.

GREEN, JOHN ORNE, physician, author, was born May 14, 1799, in Malden, Mass. From 1868 till his death he was senior physician of St. John's hospital. He published History of Smallpox in Lowell; Memorial of John C. Dalton; An Address Before the Citizens of Lowell at the Dedication of the Green School House; Lowell and Harvard College. He died Dec. 23, 1886, in Lowell, Mass.

GREEN, JOHN ORNE, physician, surgeon, was born June 7, 1841, in Lowell, Mass. In 1869-70 he was instructor in aural surgery in Harvard, and since that date has been aural surgeon in the Boston city hospital.

GREEN, JOHN THOMPSON, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, was born Oct. 18, 1827, in Mechanicsville, S. C. He frequently served in the state legislature between 1850 and 1865. On the reconstruction of the state government he was appointed judge of the third judicial district, and held office till his death. He died Jan. 27, 1875, in Sumter, S. C.

GREEN, JOHN WITHERS, soldier, railroad president, was born Nov. 14, 1834, in Darien, Ga. He served in the civil war, and since 1881 he has been general manager of the Georgia railroad.

GREEN, JOSEPH, loyalist, author, poet, was born 1706, in Boston, Mass. He was a Boston loyalist, widely known in his day for his political lampoons and his ready wit. He was the author of The Wonderful Lament of Old Mr. Tanner; and Poems and Satires. He died Dec. 11, 1780, in London, England.

GREEN, JULIA BOYNTON, author, poet, was born May 25, 1861, in South Byron, N. Y. She is the author of a volume of poems entitled Lines and Interludes.

GREEN, LEWIS W., college president, author, was born Jan. 28, 1806, in Boyle county, Ky. From 1848-56 he served as president of Hampden Sidney college. He was the author of a work entitled Lectures on the Evidences of Christianity. He died May 26, 1863, in Kentucky.

GREEN, MARTIN R., jurist, state senator, was born Sept. 2, 1809, in Enfield, N. H. In 1838 he was elected to the Indiana state senate. In 1848 he was again elected a member of the Indiana state senate for a term of three years.

GREEN, MARY ELIZABETH, physician, lecturer, author, was born in 1844, in Machias, N. Y. She was judge of food products at the World's Columbian exposition, and is the author of a work entitled Food Products of the World.

GREEN, NORVIN, railroad president, state legislator, was born April 17, 1818, at New Albany, Ind. In 1840 and afterward he served three terms in the Kentucky legislature. He was president of the Louisville, Cincinnati and Lexington railroad in 1869-73.

GREEN, ROBERT STOCKTON, lawyer, congressman, was born March 25, 1831, at Princeton, N. J. He was city attorney of the city of Elizabeth, N. J., from 1857 to 1868; was surrogate of Union county from 1862 to 1867; and was presiding judge of Union county court of common pleas from 1868 to 1873. He was a delegate to the democratic national conventions of 1860 and 1880; and in 1884 was elected a representative from New Jersey to the forty-ninth congress as a democrat.

GREEN, ROBERT STOCKTON, lawyer, state legislator, was born Oct. 16, 1865, in Elizabeth, N. J. In 1896 he was appointed by the governor of New Jersey as a member of the state board of assessors. In 1897 he was elected to the state legislature.

GREEN, RUFUS SMITH, clergyman, college president, author, was born in 1848, in New York. He is a presbyterian minister, president of Elmira College for Women since 1893, and the author of History of Morristown, New Jersey; Our Church at Work; The Christian Steward; and Both Sides, or Jonathan and Absalom.

GREEN, SAMUEL A., physician, author, was born March 16, 1830, in Groton, Mass. He has attained success as a noted physician of Boston; and is the author of The Early Records of Groton; History of Medicine in Massachusetts; Groton Historical Series; and other works.

GREEN, SAMUEL B., educator, horticulturist, author, was born Sept. 15, 1859, in Chelsea, Mass. After graduating from the Massachusetts Agricultural college in 1879, he took a special course in horticultural work. He has been foreman in two nurseries; horticulturist for the Houghton Farm Experiment Station; superintendent of the horticultural department of the Massachusetts Agricultural college; and for ten years professor of horticulture in the university of Minnesota. He is the author of Amateur Fruit Growing; Vegetable Gardening; and other works.

GREEN, SAMUEL SWETT, librarian, author, was born Feb. 20, 1837, in Worcester, Mass. In 1858 he graduated from the Harvard college; and from the divinity school of Harvard university in 1864. For several years he was teller of the Worcester National bank; and in 1871 was chosen librarian of the free public library of Worcester, having previously been a director of the library.

He was one of the founders of the American Library association, and its president in 1891; and was the original member and first president of the council of that association. He has lectured at the school of literary economy of Columbia college. He is a member of numerous historical societies, and an officer in many institutions. He is the author of two books, and has published many articles in magazines and newspapers, and delivered a great number of addresses.

GREEN, SANFORD MOON, lawyer, jurist, author, was born May 30, 1807, in Rensselaer county, N. Y. He was elected to the Michigan state senate for two years, receiving the election in 1845. In 1848 he was appointed a judge of the supreme court, and performed the duties of circuit judge for ten years. He subsequently served as circuit judge for nearly twenty-five years. He is the author of A Treatise on the Practice of the Circuit Courts of Michigan; A Treatise on the Practice of the Courts of Common Law of Michigan, in two volumes; A Treatise on Townships and the Power and Duties of Township Officers; and A Treatise on the Nature, Causes, Treatment and Prevention of Crime.

GREEN, SETH, pisciculturist, author, was born March 19, 1817, in Rochester, N. Y. He was a noted pisciculturist, and from 1870 until his death the superintendent of the New York fish commission. He is the author of Trout Culture; Home Fishing and Home Waters; and Fish Hatching and Fish Catching. He died Aug. 20, 1888, in Rochester, N. Y.

GREEN, THOMAS, governor of Maryland, was born in England. He was one of the Roman catholic pilgrims that accompanied Leonard Calvert to Maryland in 1634; was appointed privy councillor in 1639, and governor in 1637. He died in Maryland.

GREEN, THOMAS, soldier, was born in 1816, in Virginia. He joined the confederate army and was appointed major-general for distinguished services. He died April 14, 1864, in Blairs Plantation, La.

GREEN, THOMAS ANDRE, lawyer, was born Oct. 21, 1840, in Blair county, Pa., a son of Thomas and Martha Green.

He received the rudiments of his education in the excellent common schools of Pennsylvania, at an academy at Butler, and graduated from the Alleghany college, Pa. In 1861 he was admitted to the bar of the supreme court of Pennsylvania at Pittsburgh. During the civil war he was captain of company F, ninety-sixth Illinois volunteer infantry, and served with distinction. He has given his whole life to the study and practice of law, and has also been a close and earnest student of belles lettres. He is the author of a standard work on Pleading and Practice, which has received the highest eulogiums from the most eminent lawyers and jurists in America. He was attorney for the people of Leadville in a suit involving the title to the entire townsite, the legal questions involved of which affected the titles to three hundred millions worth of mining property. He was the attorney in one mining suit in the United States circuit court in Denver, involving an interest in the Emma mine, valued at some ten millions, which suit he successfully gained, and from this suit he realized a fee of two million dollars, the largest fee ever made by an attorney in the United States. During 1879-80 Mr. Green located and patented over one thousand acres of mineral claims in the Leadville mining district, and is still heavily interested therein. He is intolerant of wrong; and although possessed of a keen, subtle and incisive intellect, he always uses the argument that is right, just and equitable.

GREEN, THOMAS E., clergyman, bishop, was born in 1857, in Pennsylvania. He fills a pastorate in the Grace episcopal church of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and has built up the largest parish in the state. He was elected bishop of Iowa in 1898.

GREEN, THOMAS JEFFERSON, soldier, was born in 1801, in Warren county, N. C. He removed to Texas early in life, and served as brigadier-general of volunteers in the war of Texan independence. He died Dec. 13, 1863, in Warren county, N. C.

GREEN, THOMAS R., soldier, journalist, was born May 6, 1845, in Ireland, Ind. He served as a union soldier during the civil war in company G, forty-second regiment Indiana volunteer infantry. He was with Sherman from Chattanooga to Atlanta, and from Fayetteville to Washington, D. C.; and thence to Louisville, Ky. He also served two years in the Indiana state militia. He has served as postmaster of Duff, Ind.; is a prominent member of the Grand Army of the Republic; and the editor and owner of the Banner of Lutesville, Mo.

GREEN, TRAILL, physician, chemist, educator, was born May 25, 1813, in Easton, Pa. He was for a year physician to the Philadelphia dispensary, and then settled in Easton, where he has since practiced. In 1837 he was elected professor of general and applied chemistry in Lafayette.

GREEN, WHARTON JACKSON, soldier, agriculturist, congressman, was born about 1840, in St. Marks, Fla. Upon the breaking out of the civil war he enlisted in the confederate army; and was promoted to lieutenant-colonel. He was a delegate to the democratic national conventions of 1868 and 1876; and was a presidential elector in 1868. He purchased the famous Tokay Vineyard, in Cumberland county, N. C., and settled there. He was elected a representative from North Carolina to the forty-eighth and forty-ninth congresses as a democrat.

GREEN, WILLIAM ALEXANDER, soldier, physician, author, was born Jan. 5, 1834, in Augusta, Ga. He was the inventor of a hypodermic syringe, the designer of a hypodermic syringe-needle, and of Green's pocket cases. He is the author of papers on the Small-Pox; Vaccination and Its Results; and The Use of the Hypodermic Syringe.

GREEN, WILLIAM HENRY, clergyman, author, was born Jan. 27, 1825, in Groveville, N. J. He is a presbyterian clergyman, and professor of biblical literature at Princeton college from 1851. He is the author of The Pentateuch Vindicated; Grammar of the Hebrew Language; A Hebrew Chrestomathy; Argument of Job Unfolded; Moses and the Prophets; Newton Lectures for 1885; The Hebrew Feasts; The Higher Criticism of the Pentateuch; and The Unity of the Book of Genesis.

GREEN, WILLIAM MERCER, bishop, author, was born May 2, 1798, in Wilmington, Del. He was the first protestant episcopal bishop of Mississippi, and the author of Lives of Bishop Ravenscroft and Bishop Otey. He died Feb. 13, 1887, in Sewanee, Tenn.

GREEN, WILLIAM WILKINSON, lawyer, author, was born Aug. 1, 1820, in Hindostan. This successful lawyer has been editor and owner of the Daily Syracuse Democrat, and of the Weekly Onondaga Democrat, and other publications. He is the author of a work on Morals; a prize essay on The American Government; and a number of meritorious poems.

GREEN, WILLIS, surveyor, state legislator, congressman, was born in the Shenandoah valley, Va. He represented Kentucky county in the legislature of Virginia; and was a member of the Danville convention in 1785, and of the first state constitutional convention of 1792. He was a surveyor for locating land warrants; was a member of the Kentucky legislature in 1836 and 1837; and was a representative in congress from that state from 1839 to 1845.

GREEN, WILLIS DUFF, physician, was born Jan. 18, 1821, in Danville, Ky. He attended the Center college of his native city, and graduated in medicine from the medical department of the Transylvania university of Lexington, Ky., and the Medical college of Ohio. He is a successful physician of Mount Vernon, Ill.; grand master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Illinois, and a representative to the grand lodge of the United States.

GREENE, AELLA, journalist, author, was born in 1838, in Massachusetts. He is a journalist of Springfield, Mass., and the author of Rhymes of Yankee Land; Into the Sunshine, and Other Poems; Stanza and Sequel, and Other Poems; John Peters; and Gathered from Life.

GREENE, ALBERT COLLINS, soldier, lawyer, United States senator, born April 15, 1791, in East Greenwich, R. I. In 1815 he was elected to the general assembly of the state; in 1816 was elected a brigadier-general of militia, and subsequently became a major-general. From 1822 to 1825 he served again in the legislature of the state, and was chosen speaker. From 1825 to 1843 he was attorney-general of the state; and from 1845 to 1851 was a senator in congress from Rhode Island. He died Jan. 8, 1863, in Providence, R. I.

GREENE, ALBERT GORTON, lawyer, jurist, author, poet, was born Feb. 10, 1802, in Providence, R. I. He was for many years president of the Rhode Island Historical society. He will be long remembered by his popular lyric, Old Grimes is Dead. He published Canonchet. He died Jan. 3, 1868, in Cleveland, Ohio.

GREENE, ASA, humorist, author, was born in 1788, in Ashburnham, Mass. He was a bookseller of New York city of note among his contemporaries as a humorist, and the author of Life and Adventures of Dr. Dodimus Duckworth; Perils of Pearl Street; A Yankee Among the Nullifiers; A Glance at New York; Debtor's Prison; and Travels of Ex-Barber Fribbleton in America. He died in 1837, in New York city.

GREENE, CHARLES EZRA, educator, author, was born Feb. 12, 1842, in Cambridge, Mass. He has been a professor of civil engineering in the university of Michigan from 1872, and is the author of Graphical Method for Analysis of Bridge Trusses; Trusses and Arches; and Notes on Rankine's Civil Engineering.

GREENE, CHARLES GORDON, journalist, state legislator, was born July 1, 1804, in Boscawen, N. H. He founded, in 1831, the Boston Morning Post, which he conducted until he sold it in 1875. He was at one time a member of the state legislature; and naval officer of the port of Boston for two terms. He died Sept. 27, 1886, in Boston, Mass.

GREENE, CHARLES WARREN, physician, author, was born Aug. 17, 1840, in Belchertown, Mass. He is a Massachusetts physician, and the author of Animals, their Homes and Habits; and Birds, their Homes and Habits.

GREENE, CHRISTOPHER, soldier, state legislator, was born May 12, 1737, in Warwick, R. I. He served in the Rhode Island Legislature in 1772-74, and was chosen a lieutenant in the Kentish Guards in 1774. In 1775 he was appointed by the legislature a major in the army of observation. He died May 13, 1781, in Westchester county, N. Y.

GREENE, CLARA M., artist, poet, was born in Buckfield, Maine. She has attained success as a portrait painter. In 1889 she published a volume of poems entitled Magdalen and Other Poems.

GREENE, DAVID MAXSON, educator, consulting engineer, was born July 8, 1832, in Brunswick, N. Y. He attended the common schools, Adams seminary, and Rensselaer Polytechnic institute, from which latter institution he graduated in 1851; and subsequently received private instruction at West Point. He has been instructor, professor and director of the Rensselaer Polytechnic institute; chairman, assistant leveler, division engineer, and deputy state engineer on public works in the state of New York. He has been third assistant, second assistant and first assistant engineer in the United States navy; and colonel of engineers, N. G. S. N. Y. He has also served as school commissioner of Troy, N. Y.; and is a director in the Troy City National bank, and in the Citizens' Steamboat company.

GREENE, DASCOM, educator, was born June 15, 1825, in Richmond, N. Y. In 1855 he was professor of mathematics and astronomy in the Rensselaer Polytechnic institute; and since 1864 has been its librarian. He is the author of a work entitled Spherical Practical Astronomy.

GREENE, EDWARD LEE, educator, author, was born in 1843, in Rhode Island. He is a professor of botany in the University of California, and the author of Illustrations of West American Oaks; and Flora Franciscana.

GREENE, FRANCIS VINTON, soldier, author, was born June 27, 1850, in Providence, R. I. He was a captain in the United States army who resigned in 1886. He is the author of The Russian Army and Its Campaigns in Turkey in 1877-78; Sketches of Army Life in Texas; The Mississippi, a military work; and Life of General Greene.

GREENE, GEORGE SEARS, soldier, civil engineer, was born May 6, 1801, in Warwick, R. I. In 1836 he became a civil engineer, building many railroads in the states of Maine, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, New York, Maryland, and Virginia. He designed and built the reservoir in Central Park, of New York city. He served with distinction through the civil war, and in 1865 was brevetted major-general of volunteers.

GREENE, GEORGE SEARS, civil engineer, surveyor, was born Nov. 26, 1837, in Lexington, Ky. In 1875 he was appointed engineer in chief of the department of docks, New York city, in which capacity he designed and executed river walls, wharves and piers in difficult situations.

GREENE, GEORGE W., educator, lawyer, jurist, congressman, author, born July 4, 1831, in Orange county, N. Y. He came to the bar in 1860; and in 1861 was elected judge of Orange county for three years. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-first congress.

GREENE, GEORGE WASHINGTON, educator, author, was born April 8, 1811, in East Greenwich, R. I. He was an historian who was professor of American history at Cornell university from 1872.

He was the author of Historical Studies; The German Element in the American War of Independence; Short History of Rhode Island; Historical View of the American Revolution; Life of General Nathaniel Greene; Biographical Studies; and History and Geography of the Middle Ages. He died Feb. 2, 1883, in East Greenwich, R. I.

GREENE, HOMER, lawyer, author, poet, was born in 1853, in Pennsylvania. He is a story writer of Honesdale, Pa., and the author of The Blind Brother; Burnham Breaker; Coal and the Coal Mines; and The Riverpark Rebellion.

GREENE, HUGH WENTWORTH, journalist, state senator, was born July 5, 1811, in Concord, N. H. During 1857-58 he served in the New Hampshire senate. In 1869 he moved to Minneapolis, Minn., where he became part owner and editorial manager of a daily paper. He died Feb. 1, 1888, in Portsmouth, N. H.

GREENE, MRS. ISABELLA CATHERINE (COLTON), author, was born in 1844 in Vermont. She is a novelist and writer for young people, long a resident of Nashua, N. H., and the author of A New England Conscience; Adventures of an Old Maid; A New England Idyl; and The Hobbledohoy.

GREENE, JACOB W., surgeon, poet, was born Jan. 18, 1839, in Harrison county, Ind. Since 1861 he has followed the profession of a dental surgeon, and is now located in Chillicothe, Mo. He has written quite extensively for the periodical press; and is the author of a work entitled Philosophies of Betsy Spoon.

GREENE, JAMES L., educator, was born May 18, 1869, in Duquoin, Ill. He is a descendant of General Nathaniel Greene. After graduating from the Kansas normal college of Fort Scott he entered educational work. He was also engaged in mercantile work, and the real estate business at Danville, Ill.; and for the past three years has been in the medical department of the United States army.

GREENE, JOSEPH CHASE, physician, was born July 31, 1829, in Lincoln, Vt. In 1888 he left Buffalo for a tour of the world, and during his travels he collected a museum of more than three hundred originals and copies, illustrating the political, religious and social history of ancient Egypt, Syria and other oriental countries.

GREENE, MILLEN SANFORD, educator, business man, poet, was born Dec. 23, 1825, in North Stonington, Conn. He received his education in the common schools of his native county; engaged in agricultural pursuits; and for six years went to sea as a sailor. He attained success in educational work, which he followed for twelve years. He then entered a counting room; and since 1869 has been engaged in the insurance and real estate business in Westerly, R. I. Early in life he developed a taste for poetry and music; and is the author of a series of Fireside Stories in verse, with sketches of social chat.

GREENE, MOSES H., poet, was born March 10, 1843, in Chester, N. H. He has been principally engaged in mercantile pursuits. He has contributed both prose and verse to the periodical press, and some of his poems have been given a place in standard works.

GREENE, NATHANIEL, soldier, was born May 27, 1742, in Warwick, R. I. He never gained a decided victory, yet his retreats, for which he is noted, had the effect of successes.

Congress voted him the highest honors, and he was considered, next to Washington, the greatest general of the revolution. He died June 19, 1786, near Savannah, Ga. Congress voted that a monument be erected to his memory in Washington, D. C., which has not yet been done.

GREENE, NATHANIEL, journalist, author, was born May 20, 1797, in Boscaawen, N. H. He was a Boston journalist, postmaster of Boston in 1829-40 and 1845-49. He published a translation of Sforzosi's History of Italy; Tales from the German; and Tales and Sketches from the German, Italian and French. He died Nov. 29, 1877, in Boston, Mass.

GREENE, RAY, United States senator, was born Feb. 2, 1765, in Warwick, R. I. He was a senator in congress from Rhode Island from 1797 to 1801, when he resigned. He died Jan. 11, 1849, in Warwick, R. I.

GREENE, ROGER SHERMAN, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 14, 1840, in Boston, Mass. He entered the union army for the war of the rebellion, and was promoted to first lieutenant. He was judge advocate of the district of Vicksburg at the close of 1864 and beginning of 1865, and judge advocate of the western division of Louisiana from 1865 until retirement from service. While residing in Kenosha, Wis., he was appointed associate justice of the supreme court of Washington territory, residing at Olympia; and was twice reappointed, holding the office until 1879, when he was appointed chief justice of the same court, residing at Seattle, Washington territory. In 1883 he was reappointed chief justice.

GREENE, SAMUEL DANA, naval officer, was born Feb. 11, 1839, in Cumberland, Md. He received a vote of thanks from the legislature of Rhode Island for his gallant services in the action between the Monitor and Merrimac. He died Dec. 11, 1884, in Portsmouth, N. H.

GREENE, SAMUEL HARRISON, educator, clergyman, college president, was born Dec. 25, 1845, in Enosburgh, Vt. During 1894-95 he was president of the Columbian university.

GREENE, SAMUEL STILLMAN, educator, author, was born May 3, 1810, in Belchertown, Mass. He was an educator of Providence, professor at Brown university in 1851-83, and published Analysis of the English Language; and several text-books on English Grammar. He died Jan. 24, 1883, in Providence, R. I.

GREENE, MRS. SARAH PRATT, author, was born in 1858, in Connecticut. She is a writer whose first novel, Cape Cod Folks, was widely popular, while the fact that certain of the dramatis personae were portraits of living people gave rise to much litigation. Her other works include Towhead and Some Other Folks; Peter Patrick; and Vesty of the Basins.

GREENE, THEODORE PHINNEY, naval officer, was born Nov. 1, 1809, in Canada. He was appointed midshipman from Vermont in 1826; and in 1837 became lieutenant. He served with distinction through the Mexican and civil wars. He died Aug. 30, 1887, in Jaffrey, N. H.

GREENE, THOMAS M., congressman. He was a delegate to congress from the territory of Mississippi from 1802 to 1803.

GREENE, WILLIAM, governor, was born March 16, 1695, in Warwick, R. I. He became deputy governor of Rhode Island in 1740, and became governor in 1743. He died Feb. 22, 1758, in Providence, R. I.

GREENE, WILLIAM, lawyer, jurist, state legislator, governor, was born Aug. 16, 1731, in Warwick, R. I. He was chief justice of the colony, and was governor of the state from 1778 to 1786; also for many years speaker of the house; and became governor of Rhode Island. He died Nov. 29, 1809, in Warwick, R. I.

GREENE, WILLIAM BATCHELDER, soldier, clergyman, author, was born April 4, 1819, in Haverhill, Mass. In early life he was a member of the noted Brook Farm community. He was subsequently a unitarian minister, and during the civil war served as colonel of a Massachusetts regiment. He was the author of Remarks on the Science of History; Theory of the Calculus; Socialistic, etc., Fragments; and Reflections and Modern Maxims. He died May 30, 1878, in England.

GREENE, WILLIAM ELLSWORTH, legislator, jurist, was born Nov. 14, 1836, in Farmington, Maine. He received his education in the Farmington academy; and in 1863 graduated from the Bowdoin college in a classical course. During 1865-67 he was a member of the California state legislature; and during 1867-74 was county judge and ex-officio probate judge of San Joaquin county, Cal., when he resigned. Since 1880 he has been judge of the superior court in and for Alameda county, having been four times successively elected. His present term of office does not expire until January, 1903. He has been largely interested at times in mining, lumbering and irrigation, and in the breeding of fine stock.

GREENE, WILLIAM HOUSTON, educator, chemist, author, was born Dec. 30, 1854, in Columbia, Pa. He is a Philadelphia chemist, professor in the Central high school from 1880, and the author of Medical Chemistry; and Lessons in Chemistry.

GREENE, WILLIAM L., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born Oct. 3, 1849, in Pike county, Ind. In 1892, without solicitation on his part, he was brought out before the legislature of the state as a candidate for United States senator. In 1895 he was elected judge of the twelfth judicial district of Nebraska; and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a populist, of which party he was one of the founders.

GREENER, RICHARD THEODORE, lawyer, educator, author, was born Jan. 30, 1844, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is the author of Scholar (June, 1874); Eulogy on the Life and Services of William Lloyd Garrison: Socrates as a Teacher; The Intellectual Position of the Negro; Free Speech in Ireland (October, 1882); Benjamin Banneker, the Negro Astronomer; Henry Highland Garnet; and An African Roscius.

GREENHALGE, FREDERICK THOMAS, lawyer, legislator, congressman, governor, was born July 19, 1842, in England. He attended the public schools of Lowell, Mass., and Harvard college. In 1868-69 he was a member of the common council of Lowell; in 1871-73 on the school committee; in 1874-84 was special justice of the police court; and in 1880-81

he served with distinction as mayor of Lowell. In 1884 he was a delegate to the national republican convention; in 1885 was a member of the Massachusetts house of representatives; and in 1888 was a member of congress. He has been city solicitor of Lowell; was commissioner of insolvency of Middlesex county in 1892; and was elected governor of Massachusetts in 1895. He served in the union army during 1863-64 in the commissary department. He died in 1896.

GREENHOW, ROBERT, physician, surgeon, author, was born in 1800 in Richmond, Va. He was a surgeon and scholar whose latest years were spent in California. He was the author of History of Tripoli; and History of Oregon and California. He died in 1854 in San Francisco, Cal.

GREENLEAF, BENJAMIN, educator, author, was born Sept. 25, 1786, in Haverhill, Mass. He was an educator of Bradford, Mass., who published a popular series of text-books on arithmetic and the higher mathematics. He died Oct. 29, 1864, in Bradford, Mass.

GREENLEAF, CHARLES RAVENSCROFT, physician, surgeon, author, was born Jan. 1, 1838, in Carlisle, Pa. During the civil war he was deputy surgeon-general in the United States army. He is a successful physician and surgeon of San Francisco, Cal.; and the author of several technical medico-military works.

GREENLEAF, EZEKIEL PRICE, philanthropist, was born May 22, 1790, in Quincy, Mass. He bequeathed nearly all his estate, amounting to $500,000, to Harvard, with directions to keep it apart from other bequests, as the Greenleaf fund. He died Dec. 3, 1886, in Boston, Mass.

GREENLEAF, FRANKLIN LEWIS, manufacturer, was born Oct. 7, 1847, in Boston, Mass. He has been a prominent factor in developing the wheat industry of the northwest; and was for several years president of the Red River Valley Elevator company. In 1889 he was elected president of the Minneapolis chamber of commerce.

GREENLEAF, HALBERT STEVENS, soldier, manufacturer, lawyer, congressman, was born April 12, 1827, in Guilford, Vt. He was elected justice of the peace in 1856; and served two years as a captain of state militia. In 1861 he organized the Yale and Greenleaf Lock company, of which he became business manager. In 1862 he enlisted in the union army, and rose to the rank of colonel. He was elected a representative from New York to the forty-eighth and fifty-second congresses as a democrat.

GREENLEAF, JAMES EDWARD, soldier, merchant, author, was born Aug. 2, 1832, in Portland, Maine. He was an organizer for twenty-seven years, and a captain in the militia. He is the author of A Genealogy of the Greenleaf Family, with Historical Notes, of Newbury, Mass.

GREENLEAF, JEREMIAH, author, was born Dec. 7, 1791. He was the author of Greenleaf's Grammar, and devoted a large part of his life to study, authorship and instruction in this special branch of education. He was also the author of Greenleaf's Gazetteer and Greenleaf's Atlas.

GREENLEAF, JONATHAN, ship builder, legislator, congressman, was born in July, 1723. In 1774 he was unanimously chosen to represent the town of Newburyport in the general court. He was a member of the continental congress at the commencement of the war. He died May 24, 1807.

GREENLEAF, JONATHAN, clergyman, author, was born Sept. 4, 1785, in Newburyport, Mass. He was a presbyterian clergyman of Brooklyn; and the author of Sketches and Ecclesiastical History of Maine; History of New York Churches; and Genealogy of the Greenleaf Family. He died April 24, 1865, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

GREENLEAF, MOSES, author, was born in 1778, in Newburyport, Mass. He was the author of Statistical View of Maine; and Survey of Maine. He died March 20, 1834, in Williamsburg, Maine.

GREENLEAF, SIMON, educator, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Dec. 5, 1783, in Newburyport, Mass. He was a distinguished jurist of Massachusetts, and professor of law at Harvard university from 1835 till his death. His greatest work, A Treatise on the Laws of Evidence, has passed into fifteen editions. His other writings include Origin and Principles of Freemasonry; Full Collection of Cases Overruled, etc.; Reports of Cases in the Supreme Court of Maine, 1820-31; and Examination of the Testimony of the Four Evangelists by the Rules of Evidence. He died Oct. 6, 1853, in Cambridge, Mass.

GREENLY, WILLIAM L., governor, was born Sept. 18, 1813, in Hamilton, N. Y. In 1845 he was elected lieutenant-governor of Michigan, and became acting governor in 1847.

GREENMAN, EDWARD W., merchant, manufacturer, congressman, was born Jan. 26, 1840, in Berlin, N. Y. He was supervisor of Berlin in 1866-68; was elected clerk of Rensselaer county in 1868, serving a full term of three years; and was deputy county clerk for ten years. He was elected to the fiftieth congress as a democrat.

GREENOUGH, HENRY, artist, architect, author, was born Oct. 5, 1807, in Boston, Mass. He was an architect of Cambridge whose writings include the novels Ernest Carroll; Apelles and his Contemporaries; and various essays on art. He died Dec. 18, 1852, in Somerville, Mass.

GREENOUGH, HORATIO, sculptor, was born Sept. 6, 1805, in Boston, Mass. His Chanting Cherubs was the first group in marble executed by an American sculptor. He executed the colossal statue of Washington in front of the national capitol, for which congress paid twenty thousand dollars, and a group entitled The Rescue, on the steps leading to the rotunda of the same building. He died Dec. 18, 1852, in Boston, Mass.

GREENOUGH, JAMES BRADSTREET, educator, author, was born in 1833, in Maine. He was a professor of Latin at Harvard university from 1873, who has published with J. H. Allen a series of classical text-books. Other works of his are, Special Vocabulary to Virgil; and The Queen of Hearts, a Dramatic Fantasia.

GREENOUGH, RICHARD SALTONSTALL, sculptor, was born April 27, 1819, in Jamaica Plains, Mass. Among his works are a statue of Franklin, placed in the city hall square of Boston; the Boy and Eagle, owned by the Boston Athenæum; a Carthaginian Woman; Cupid on a Tortoise; Elaine; Circe; and a Psyche.

GREENOUGH, MRS. SARAH DANA (LORING), sculptor, author, poet, was born Feb. 19, 1827, in Boston, Mass. She was the author of In Extremis, a Story of a Broken Law; Arabesques, four stories of the supernatural; and Mary Magdalene, and Other Poems. She died Aug. 9, 1885, in Austria.

GREENUP, CHRISTOPHER, state legislator, congressman, governor, was born in 1750, in Virginia. He was governor of Kentucky from 1804 to 1808. He was a patriot of the American revolution, and participated in the perils of the war. He was at various times a member of the legislature of Kentucky; was a representative of that state in congress from 1792 to 1797; and was a presidential elector in 1809. He died April 24, 1818, in Frankfort, Ky.

GREENWALD, EMANUEL, clergyman, theologian, author, was born Jan. 13, 1811, near Frederick, Md. He was a lutheran clergyman of Lancaster, Pa., and the author of Order of Family Prayer; The Lutheran Reformation; The Baptism of Children; Meditations for Passion Week; Romanism and the Reformation; The True Church; and Meditations for the Closet, include the most of his controversial and other writings. He died Dec. 21, 1885, in Lancaster, Pa.

GREENWOOD, A. B., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born July 11, 1811, in Franklin county, Ga. He was a member of the legislature of the state of Arkansas from 1842 to 1845; was prosecuting attorney for said state from 1845 to 1851; and circuit judge from 1851 to 1853. He was elected a representative in congress from Arkansas from 1853 to 1858, and in 1859 was appointed commissioner of Indian affairs.

GREENWOOD, FRANCIS WILLIAM PITT, clergyman, author, was born Feb. 5, 1797, in Boston, Mass. He was a unitarian clergyman of Boston, pastor of King's chapel, in 1824-43, and the author of History of King's Chapel; Sermons to Children; Sermons of Consolation; Sermons on Various Subjects; Essays; Lives of the Apostles; and Miscellaneous Writings. He died Aug. 2, 1843, in Dorchester, Mass.

GREENWOOD, JAMES M., educator, author, was born Nov. 15, 1836, near Springfield, Ill. He is an educator and school superintendent of Kansas City who has published Principles of Education Practically Applied.

GREENWOOD, JOHN, lawyer, jurist, was born Nov. 6, 1798, in Providence, R. I. On the formation of the government of New York city he was elected city judge; and in 1842 was appointed first judge of Kings county court, New York.

GREENWOOD, MILES, manufacturer, was born March 19, 1807, in Jersey City, N. J. He organized the first paid fire department in Cincinnati in 1852, and in the same year aided in introducing into that city the first steam fire engine in the United States. He died Nov. 6, 1885, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

GREER, ALLEN J., lawyer, state senator, was born June 14, 1854, in Mifflin county, Pa. In 1891-93 he was a member of the Minnesota state legislature; and in 1895 was elected a member of the state senate.

GREER, DAVID HUMMELL, clergyman, author, was born March 20, 1844, in Wheeling, W. Va. He is a prominent episcopal clergyman of New York city of broad church views, and the author of The Preacher and his Place; and From Things to God.

GREER, JAMES AUGUSTIN, naval officer, was born Feb. 28, 1833, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He entered the navy as midshipman in 1848, became lieutenant in 1855, and lieutenant-commander in 1862. He was promoted to the grade of captain in 1876; and in 1886 served as president of the examining board; and in the same year was made commodore.

GREER, LEON C., lawyer, journalist, was born June 11, 1874, in Eufaula, Ala. He received his education in the public schools of Georgia and graduated from the Gordon institute of Barnesville, Ga.; and from the university of Georgia. He has served as solicitor of Macon county court; has been a member of the congressional executive committee of the third congressional district of Georgia; and in 1897 became the editor and owner of The Macon County Citizen of Oglethorpe, Ga.

GREY, EDWARD, author, was born Dec. 1, 1835, in England. He was an English writer of French descent who came to America in 1868, and was for many years a dealer in Japanese curios in New York city. His writings include the dramas, Vendome; and Mirah; Blue Jackets, a novel; The Golden Lotus; the juvenile tales Young Americans in Japan; The Wonderful City of Tokio; The Bear Worshipers of Yezo; and translations from the Japanese of the novels, The Loyal Ronins; and The Captive of Love. He died Oct. 1, 1888, in England.

GREGG, ALEXANDER, bishop, author, was born Oct. 8, 1819, in Society Hill, S. C. He was the first protestant episcopal bishop of Texas, and the author of History of the Old Cheraws, an Account of the Indian Tribes in the Valley of the Pedee. He died in 1893.

GREGG, ANDREW, educator, congressman, United States senator, was born June 10, 1755, in Carlisle, Pa. In 1790 he was elected a representative in congress from Pennsylvania, serving from 1791 to 1807; and was a senator of the United States from 1807 to 1813. In 1814 he moved to Bellefonte; and in 1816 was appointed secretary of state of Pennsylvania. He died May 20, 1835, at Bellefonte, Pa.

GREGG, DAVID, clergyman, author, was born March 25, 1846, in Pittsburg, Pa. He has filled pastorates in the presbyterian churches in Iowa, Massachusetts and New York. He is the author of From Solomon to the Captivity; Studies in John; Facts that Call for Faith; and The Highlander and Makers of America.

GREGG, DAVID L., diplomat. He was a citizen of Illinois; and in 1853 was appointed a commissioner with diplomatic powers to the Sandwich islands, where he remained until 1858.

GREGG, DAVID McMURTRIE, soldier, was born April 10, 1833, in Huntingdon, Pa. He served in the campaign of 1858-60 against the Indians; and served with distinction through the civil war, attaining the rank of brigadier-general. He subsequently was made adjutant-general of Pennsylvania at Reading.

GREGG, JAMES, soldier, educator, lawyer, state senator, was born July 4, 1787, in Marion district, S. C. He was elected to the general assembly of the state in 1822, and served till 1830, when he was elected to the senate, of which he continued a member until 1847. He died Oct. 24, 1852.

GREGG, JAMES M., farmer, lawyer, congressman, was born June 26, 1806, in Patrick county, Va. In 1830 he settled in Hendricks county, Ind. From 1834 to 1837 he was county surveyor. He was then chosen clerk of the circuit court, serving until 1845. He was elected a representative to the thirty-fifth congress.

GREGG, JOHN IRVIN, soldier, was born July 19, 1826, in Bellefont, Pa. For gallant and meritorious services during the war he was brevetted major-general of volunteers, and brigadier-general United States army at its close.

GREGG, WILLIAM HENRY, manufacturer, was born March 24, 1841, in Palmyra, N. Y. In 1869 he was one of the organizers of the Southern White Lead company of Chicago, of which he was elected president, holding that office for twenty years.

GREGORY, CHARLES NOBLE, lawyer, educator, author, was born Aug. 27, 1851, in Unadilla, N. Y. Since 1894 he has been professor of law and associate dean of the law university of Wisconsin. His writings have appeared in Harper's Weekly, The Youth's Companion, New York Evening Post, and Scribner's.

GREGORY, DANIEL SEELEY, clergyman, college president, author, was born Aug. 21, 1832, in Carmel, N. Y. He is a presbyterian clergyman, and was president of Lake Forest university, Illinois, in 1878-86. He is the author of Christian Ethics; Why Four Gospels; Practical Logic; The Tests of Philosophic Systems; and Christ's Trumpet Call to the Ministry.

GREGORY, DUDLEY S., manufacturer, congressman, was born Feb. 5, 1800, in Reading, Conn. He settled in New Jersey; and was elected a representative in congress from that state from 1847 to 1849. He died Dec. 8, 1870, in Jersey City, N. J.

GREGORY, ELIOT, artist, was born Oct. 13, 1854, in New York city. His pictures include Soubrette; Coquetterie; Children, for which he received honorable mention in Paris; and portraits of General George W. Cullum; his uncle, Admiral Baldwin; Mrs. John Sherwood; and Ada Renan, are well known.

GREGORY, FRANK M., artist, was born Oct. 21, 1848, in Mansfield, Ohio. He also followed water-color painting, and acquired some note in etching and designing. Among his paintings are: The Truant; Waiting for Repairs; and First Snow of the Season.

GREGORY, JOHN M., governor, was born in Virginia. He was governor of Virginia in 1842 and 1843.

GREGORY, JOHN MILTON, educator, clergyman, author, was born July 6, 1822, in Sandlake, N. Y. He is a baptist clergyman and educator of Michigan and Illinois; and the author of Handbook of History; New Political Economy; and The Seven Laws of Teaching.

GREGORY, SAMUEL, educator, philanthropist, lecturer, author, was born April 19, 1813, in Guilford, Vt. In 1848 he founded in Boston the New England Female Medical college, said to have been the first institution in the world for the exclusive medical education of women. He died March 23, 1872, in Boston, Mass.

GREIG, JOHN, lawyer, banker, congressman, was born Aug. 6, 1779, in Scotland. He became president of the Ontario bank, which position he held until 1856. He was one of the founders and corporators of the Ontario Female seminary. He was elected a representative in congress for the term commencing in 1841; and resigned at the close of the first session. He died April 9, 1858, in Canandaigua.

GREINER, JOHN, journalist, governor, was born Sept. 14, 1810, in Philadelphia, Pa. He was for eight years librarian of the state library, and was a writer of popular political songs, among the most noted of which were those entitled Old Zip Coon; Tippecanoe and Tyler Too; and The Wagoner Boy. In 1849 he was appointed an Indian agent in New Mexico; and afterward became governor of the territory. In 1865 he settled in Zanesville, Ohio, and edited the Times of that city. He died May 13, 1871, in Toledo, Ohio.

GRENNELL, GEORGE, lawyer, jurist, state senator, congressman, was born Dec. 25, 1786, in Greenfield, Mass. He was prosecuting attorney for Franklin county from 1820 to 1828. He was a member of the state senate from 1824 to 1827; and was a representative in congress from Massachusetts from 1829 to 1839. He was, from 1838 to 1859, a member of the board of trustees of Amherst college; and from 1849 to 1853 was probate judge for his county. He died Nov. 20, 1877, in Greenfield, Mass.

GRESHAM, WALTER QUINTON, soldier, lawyer, jurist, was born March 17, 1832, near Laneyville, Ind. He entered the union army in 1861 as lieutenant-colonel; and was brevetted a major-general. He was financial agent of Indiana at New York city from 1867 to 1869, when he was appointed United States district judge for the district of Indiana, in which capacity he served until 1883, when he was appointed postmaster-general in the cabinet of President Arthur. In 1884 he was appointed United States circuit judge for the seventh judicial circuit.

GRESS, GEORGE VALENTINE, manufacturer, was born April 25, 1847, in Sullivan county, N. Y. He established the Gress Lumber company, one of the largest concerns in the south. He is president of the Hart Lumber company, and of the United States Bond and Mortgage company, at Finn, Ga.

GREY, BENJAMIN E., state legislator, state senator, congressman, was born in Kentucky. He was a member of the legislature of that state from Logan county in 1838 and 1839; was state senator from 1847 to 1851; and was speaker of the senate and acting lieutenant-governor in 1850. He was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1851 to 1855.

GREY, SAMUEL H., lawyer, was born April 6, 1836, in Camden, N. J. The West Jersey Title and Guaranty company was organized by him in 1888, and he has since been its president. He also organized in 1873 the Camden Safe Deposit and Trust company.

GRIDER, HENRY, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 16, 1796, in Garrard county, Kentucky. In 1827 and 1831 he was elected to the legislature of Kentucky; and in 1833 to the state senate, where he served four years. He was a representative in congress from Kentucky from 1843 to 1847; and was also elected to the thirty-seventh and thirty-ninth congresses. He died Sept. 14, 1866, in Warren county, Ky.

GRIDLEY, ALBERT LEVERETT, soldier, clergyman, cosmologist, was born Oct. 17, 1839, in Caton, N. Y. He received his education at the academy of Oxford, New York; Oberlin college, and the Oberlin Theological seminary. He served for four years as a union soldier during the civil war. He has attained success as an educator and clergyman; and is now pastor of the congregational church of Kidder, Mo. In 1871 he discovered a law in cosmology, which is fully set forth in The American Mathematical Monthly of July, 1879. The contention is that if the solar system has grown from nebulae, according to the nebular hypothesis, then the velocities of the interior planets in their orbits is the result of the velocity of the one nearest outside of it, with the velocity of contraction.

GRIDLEY, CHARLES V., naval officer, was born in Indiana. He was commander of Admiral Dewey's flagship, Olympia, in the great battle of Manila bay. He died in July, 1898.

GRIDLEY, JOHN THOMAS, lawyer, jurist, was born Dec. 2, 1868, in West Candor, N. Y. He received his education at the Cornell university, and in 1892 graduated from the Columbia college law school. He has attained success as an able lawyer and jurist of Candor, N. Y., where he has filled many positions of honor in his county and state.

GRIDLEY, RICHARD, soldier, was born Jan. 3, 1711, in Boston, Mass. He entered the patriot army in 1775 and was made a major-general in command of the continental artillery. He died June 20, 1796, in Stoughton, Mass.

GRIER, JAMES ALEXANDER, educator, clergyman, author, was born in 1846 in Pennsylvania. He is a united presbyterian clergyman of Pennsylvania, professor in Alleghany Theological seminary, and the author of Secret Societies; and Biography of Jeremiah Rankine Johnston.

GRIER, ROBERT COOPER, lawyer, jurist, was born March 5, 1794, in Cumberland county, Pa. In 1846 he was appointed an associate justice of the supreme court of the United States. He moved to Philadelphia in 1848. He died Sept. 25, 1870, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRIERSON, BENJAMIN HENRY, soldier, merchant, was born July 8, 1826, in Pittsburg, Pa. In 1863 he made the celebrated raid through Tennessee, Mississippi, and Louisiana; and attained the brevet of major-general in the United States army.

GRIFFIN, CHARLES P., legislator, was born Sept. 3, 1842, in Henrietta, Ohio. In 1868 he moved to Toledo, Ohio, and was elected to the legislature in 1887, re-elected in 1889, and again in 1891.

GRIFFIN, CYRUS, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1749, in Virginia. He was a member of the legislature; was a delegate to the continental congress from 1778 to 1781, and in 1787 and 1788, and was its president in 1788. He was president of the supreme court of admiralty; a commissioner in 1789 to the Creek nation; and judge of the United States district court for Virginia from 1789. He died Dec. 14, 1810, in Yorktown, Va.

GRIFFIN, FRANK, journalist, lawyer, was born March 8, 1848, in Wisconsin. He is the editor and owner of The Daily Review and Weekly Advocate of Maryville, Mo. He has waged an incessant warfare upon the saloons through his publications. For his persistence in fighting for prohibition his presses have been broken, dynamite thrown into his office, and himself and family have been shot at a number of times. But through it all he has waged continual warfare, and is now one of the most prominent prohibitionists of Missouri.

GRIFFIN, FRANK M., journalist, was born Aug. 17, 1859, in Greenup Union, Ky. He is the editor and owner of the Eastern Kentucky Democrat of Greenup, Ky. For three years he was postmaster at Enterprise, Ky., and is very prominent in fraternal orders.

GRIFFIN, GEORGE, lawyer, author, was born Jan. 14, 1778, in East Haddam, Conn. He was a lawyer of New York city, and the author of Sufferings of Our Saviour; Evidences of Christianity; and The Gospel its Own Evidence. He died May 6, 1860, in New York city.

GRIFFIN, GILDEROY WELLS, journalist, author, was born March 6, 1840, in Louisville, Ky. He is a journalist who has been consul in Australia and elsewhere. He is the author of Studies in Literature; Danish Days; Visit to Stratford; New Zealand, her Commerce and Resources; and Life of George Prentice.

GRIFFIN, ISAAC, congressman, was born in Pennsylvania. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1813 to 1817.

GRIFFIN, JOHN, lawyer, jurist. He was an early emigrant to Indiana; and in 1800 was appointed a judge of the United States court for that territory. In 1806 he was appointed to the same position for the territory of Michigan, where he remained for many years.

GRIFFIN, JOHN K., congressman. He was a representative in congress from South Carolina from 1831 to 1841. He died Aug. 1, 1841, at Milton, S. C.

GRIFFIN, LEVI T., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born May 23, 1837, in Clinton, N. Y. He served in the United States army, and attained the rank of major. He was elected from the state of Michigan to the fifty-third congress to fill a vacancy.

GRIFFIN, MICHAEL, soldier, lawyer, congressman, state senator, was born Sept. 9, 1842, in Ireland. He enlisted as a private in 1861, in company E, twelfth regiment Wisconsin volunteer infantry, and served until the close of the war, being promoted to the grade of second and first lieutenant. He was state senator in 1880 and 1881; and was elected in 1894 to the fifty-third, fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

GRIFFIN, SAMUEL, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Virginia, from 1789 to 1795.

GRIFFIN, SAMUEL P., naval officer, navigator, was born in 1826, in Savannah, Ga. He entered the service of the Pacific Mail Steamship company, commanding, as their commodore, successive steamers of their fleet till 1882. He was an authority on ship-building, and the author of the code of international fog signals and of essays on ship-building. He died July 4, 1887, in Panama.

GRIFFIN, SIMON GOODELL, soldier, lawyer, legislator, historian, was born Aug. 9, 1824, in Nelson, N. H. For many years he was engaged in educational work; and for two terms represented his town in the New Hampshire state legislature. In 1860 he practiced law in Concord; and at President Lincoln's first call for troops he volunteered as a private and was chosen captain of company B, second regiment New Hampshire volunteer infantry. He commanded his company at the first battle of Bull Run; was promoted to lieutenant-colonel of the sixth regiment New Hampshire volunteer infantry, and joined Burnside's expedition to North Carolina. He was rapidly promoted to colonel, brigadier-general and brevet major-general. After the war General Griffin settled in Keene, N. H., and represented that town three terms in the state legislature, two of which he served as speaker of the house. In 1887-88 he was commander of the Massachusetts commandery of the military order of the Loyal Legion of the United States. This eminent soldier and statesman is now engaged in historical literary work.

GRIFFIN, SOLOMON BULKLEY, journalist, author, was born Aug. 13, 1852, in Williamstown, Mass. He is a journalist of Springfield, Mass., who has published Mexico of To-Day.

GRIFFIN, THOMAS, congressman, was a representative in congress from Virginia from 1803 to 1805.

GRIFFIS, WILLIAM ELLIOT, was born Sept. 17, 1843, in Philadelphia, Pa. He is a Dutch reformed clergyman, pastor in Schenectady in 1877-86; in charge of the Shawmut congregational church in Boston in 1886-92; and subsequently settled at Ithaca, N. Y. He is an authority upon Japanese topics, and the author of The Mikado's Empire; Japanese Fairy World; Corea; the Hermit Nation; The Tokio Guide; The Yokohama Guide; Japan in History, Folk-Lore, and Art; The Religions of Japan; Brave Little Holland and What She Taught Us; The Lily Among Thorns, a biblical study; Life of Matthew Calbraith Perry; Sir William Johnson and the Six Nations; Townsend Harris, first American envoy in Japan; and Honda the Samurai, a Story of Modern Japan.

GRIFFITH, BENJAMIN MORDECAI, physician, was born April 14, 1831, in Shelby county, Ky. He received his education at the common schools of Kentucky and Missouri; and at Woods' academy of Louisiana, Mo. This successful physician of Springfield, Ill., has been president of the state board of health of Illinois; and was the first president of the first state medical society.

GRIFFITH, DAVID, clergyman, was born in 1742 in New York city. At the second Virginia convention of his church in May, 1786, Dr. Griffith was chosen bishop. He died Aug. 3, 1789, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRIFFITH, GOLDSBOROUGH SAMPINGTON, philanthropist, was born Nov. 4, 1814, in Havre-de-Grace, Md. In 1866 he was elected president of the Maryland union commission; and contributed largely to the erection of the Young Men's Christian association building in Baltimore.

GRIFFITH, GEORGE BANCROFT, author, poet, was born Feb. 28, 1841, in Newburyport, Mass. As the editor and author of The Poets of Maine, and The Poets of Massachusetts, he has become well known. Mr. Griffith has written extensively for the leading newspapers and magazines of America; and a number of his beautiful poems have been incorporated in and other standard works. George Bancroft Griffith is one of the editors of this work; and has written succinct biographies of many prominent men of the New England states.

GRIFFITH, HARRISON P., educator, was born Feb. 25, 1837, in Laurens county, S. C. In 1881 he was elected principal of Cooper-Limestone Female institute. He is an able educator, and has done much toward building up the fortunes of the south.

GRIFFITH, JOHN E., lawyer, legislator, was born Oct. 24, 1864, in Delaware county, Ohio. He graduated from the Cincinnati law school in 1890; and in 1895 he was elected to the seventy-second Ohio general assembly.

GRIFFITH, MARY LOUISA KNOWLTON, the wife of the late Edwin H. Griffith, a successful banker of Castleton-on-Hudson, N. Y., was born March 26, 1833, in Greenbush, N. Y. She received her education at the East Greenbush and Nassau academies, and at Tyler's institute of Pittsfield, Mass. She has always taken the keenest interest in the annals of history, and is the author of several genealogical works.

GRIFFITH, ROBERT EGLESFIELD, educator, physician, botanist, author, was born Feb. 13, 1798, in Philadelphia. He was a physician and botanist who was from 1838 a medical professor in the university of Virginia. He was the author of Medical Botany; and Universal Formulary. He died June 26, 1850, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRIFFITH, SAMUEL, lawyer, congressman, was born Feb. 14, 1816, in Britain. He was elected a representative to the forty-second congress from Pennsylvania.

GRIFFITH, SAMUEL NEWELL, educator, clergyman, was born May 12, 1833, in Pike, Wyoming county, N. Y. He was educated at the Lawrence university of Appleton, Wis., from which institution he graduated in 1861; and from that time until 1864 he filled the chair of mathematics in his alma mater. He then attended the Garrett Biblical institute of Evanston, Ill.; graduated in 1867, and has since attained success as an eminent clergyman of the methodist episcopal church. During 1867-70 he preached in Chicago and vicinity; and in 1870-72 was principal in the Mosley school of that city. In 1872-75 he served as pastor of the Kalamazoo methodist episcopal church; and during 1875-88 filled pastorates in Summerfield, Milwaukee, Fond du Lac, Racine, Appleton and Stevens Point. From 1883-92 he filled pastorates in North Dakota; and in 1892-97 in western Wisconsin. In 1891 he was a delegate to the second ecumenical methodist conference, held at Washington, D. C.

GRIFFITH, WILLIAM, jurist. He was one of the earliest judges of the United States circuit court; and in 1891 was appointed by President Jefferson to the third circuit.

GRIFFITH, WILLIAM HERRICK, business man, genealogist, was born Jan. 27, 1866, in Castleton-on-Hudson, N. Y. He is the only surviving son of the late Edwin H. Griffith, a successful banker, and Mary Louisa Knowlton, a noted author. He attended the Albany Military academy and Yale college; afterward he traveled in Europe and acted as foreign correspondent for the New York Home Journal, the Albany Argus, and other newspapers. For five years he was connected with the First National bank of Albany, and since 1893 has been engaged in the fire insurance business. He is greatly interested in genealogy, and is a member of a dozen different patriotic orders and historical and art societies, and has filled various offices of honor in many of them.

GRIFFITHS, JOHN WILLIS, naval architect, author, was born Oct. 6, 1809, in New York city. He was a naval architect of New York city, and the author of Treatise on Marine and Naval Architecture, a work of great value; The Ship Builders' Manual; and The Progressive Ship Builder. He died April 29, 1882, in Brooklyn, N. Y.

GRIFFITTS, JOHN P., educator, college president, was born in 1857, in Unita, Tenn. He attended the Grant university, from which institution he received the degrees of B. S., B. Lit., and M. S. In 1886 he was admitted to the bar. During 1888-89 he filled the chair of mathematics in the London college, Tenn. In 1892 he was licentiate of instruction, university of Tennessee; and in 1893 received the degree of D. Sc. from the National university of Chicago. During 1893-95 he was professor of natural science in the Ewing and Jefferson college; and since 1895 has been president of Roane college of Wheat, Tenn. In 1897 he was given the degree of Ph. D. by the American Temperance university of Harriman, Tenn.

GRIFFITTS, SAMUEL POWELL, physician, was born July 21, 1759, in Philadelphia, Pa. He founded the Philadelphia dispensary in 1786, and was its physician for seven years. He died May 12, 1826, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRIGG, JOHN, publisher, banker, was born in 1792, in England. He entered a publishing house in Philadelphia in 1816, and in 1823 began business on his own account, and was very successful. He retired in 1850, with a large fortune, and afterward became a private banker. He died Aug. 2, 1864, in Philadelphia.

GRIGGS, CHAUNCEY WRIGHT, merchant, lumberman, banker, was born Dec. 31, 1832, in Tolland, Conn. He remained in Minnesota for thirty years, prosperously engaged in business, except while at the front during the civil war, where he won the rank of colonel. In 1887 he removed to Tacoma, and took charge, as president, of the St. Paul and Tacoma Lumber Co.

GRIGGS, CLARK ROBINSON, railroad president, legislator, was born March 6, 1824, in North Adams, Mass. He helped to organize several railroads; and was for three years president of the Indianapolis, Bloomington and Western railroad company. He was a member of the Massachusetts legislature in 1857-58, and in 1867-68 was a member of the Illinois legislature.

GRIGGS, GEORGE KING, soldier, railroad manager, was born Sept. 12, 1839, in Henry county, Va. He served through the civil war and received the rank of colonel. In 1891 he was appointed general superintendent, treasurer and paymaster of the Danville and West Railroad company of Danville, Va.

GRIGGS, JAMES M., journalist, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born March 29, 1861, in Lagrange, Ga. He moved to Dawson in 1885; was elected solicitor-general of the Pataula judicial circuit in 1888, and was re-elected in 1892. He was appointed judge of the same circuit, and was twice re-elected without opposition. He was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a democrat.

GRIGGS, JOHN WILLIAM, lawyer, state senator, governor, was born July 10, 1849, in Newton, N. J. In 1879 he began the practice of law in Paterson, N. J. In 1875 he was elected to the state assembly, and was re-elected to a second term. In 1882 he was elected to the state senate, and was re-elected in 1884. In 1896 he was elected governor of New Jersey.

GRIGGS, NATHAN K., lawyer, poet. He is one of the foremost lawyers of Nebraska; and attorney for several of the leading railroads of the west. He is the author of a number of meritorious poems, which have appeared in Poets of America and other standard collections. He is also a hymn writer of national reputation; and a collection of his hymns were published in 1892; and his compositions constantly appear in standard musical publications.

GRIGGS, SAMUEL CHAPMAN, publisher, was born July 20, 1819, in Tolland, Conn. He began business as a book seller in Hamilton, N. Y., but in 1848 moved to Chicago, where he continued in the same calling, and in a few years was at the head of the largest book selling business in the northwest.

GRIGSBY, HUGH BLAIR, historical scholar, was born Nov. 22, 1806, in Norfolk, Va. He represented Norfolk in the legislature when scarcely more than a boy; and in 1829-30 was a member of the state convention with Thomas Jefferson, James Madison, and other noted men. He was president of the Virginia Historical society, and became in 1871 chancellor of William and Mary college. He died April 28, 1881, in Charlotte county, Va.

GRIGSBY, MELVIN, lawyer, banker, legislator, was born June 8, 1845, in Potosi, Wis. At the age of sixteen years he enlisted in company C, second regiment Wisconsin cavalry. He has written a work of his prison life and escape. He has been a member of the city council of Sioux Falls, and is a successful bank president. He has served with distinction as a member of the South Dakota state legislature, and has been attorney-general for the state of South Dakota.

GRIM, WILLIAM H., orator, clergyman, was born Oct. 19, 1830, in Coshocton county, Ohio. He received his education at the Asbury university, now called the De Pauw university; which institution subsequently conferred upon him the degree of D. D. In 1855 he entered the Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church; was presiding elder on the Rockport district during 1880-84; and on the Evansville district during 1887-93. He is recognized as one of the ablest pulpit orators of his conference; and now fills a pastorate in Sullivan, Ind.

GRIMES, BRYAN, soldier, was born Nov. 2, 1828, in Pitt county, N. C. He entered the confederate army in 1861 as major of the fourth North Carolina regiment. He served throughout the war, and attained the rank of senior major-general. He died Aug. 14, 1880, near Bear Creek, N. C.

GRIMES, EDWARD B., poet. He is a successful journalist of Dayton, Ohio; and the author of a volume of Poems.

GRIMES, JAMES KINGSLEY, educator, clergyman, was born July 4, 1852, in Belmont county, Ohio. In 1873 he graduated in the classical course from the Mount Union college; has received the degrees of A. M. and D. D.; and for several years was a teacher in the public schools. He has attained distinction as a successful clergyman of the Methodist Episcopal church; and he has filled a number of prominent pastorates in the East Ohio conference. During his pastorate at Alliance, Ohio, the beautiful new church known as the Union Avenue Methodist church was erected at a cost of twenty-five thousand dollars.

GRIMES, JAMES WILSON, governor, United States senator, was born Oct. 20, 1816, in Deering, N. H. In 1838 he was elected to the general assembly of the territory of Iowa, to which he was frequently re-elected. He was governor of the state of Iowa from 1854 to 1858; and in 1859 was elected a senator in congress from that state for six years. He was a delegate to the peace congress of 1861; was re-elected to the senate for the term commencing in 1865, and ending in 1871. He died Feb. 7, 1872, in Burlington, Iowa.

GRIMES, THOMAS WINGFIELD, soldier, legislator, congressman, was born in Georgia. He served as a private in the confederate army during the last eighteen months of the war. He was a member of the legislature in 1868-69, and re-elected in 1875-76. He served as state senator in 1878-79. In 1880 he was elected solicitor-general of the Chattahoochee circuit for a term of four years; and was re-elected without opposition in 1884. He was elected to the fiftieth and fifty-first congresses as a democrat.

GRIMKE, ANGELINA EMILY, reformer, author, was born Feb. 20, 1805, in Charleston, S. C. She has spent her life in educational and reformatory work; and is the author of a work entitled Letters to Catherine E. Beecher.

GRIMKE, ARCHIBALD HENRY, lawyer, author, was born in South Carolina. He is the author of Eulogy on Wendell Phillips; Charles Sumner, the Scholar in Politics; and William Lloyd Garrison, the Abolitionist.

GRIMKE, FREDERICK, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Sept. 1, 1791, in Charleston, S. C. He was an Ohio jurist, and the author of Ancient and Modern Literature; and Nature and Tendencies of Free Institutions. He died March 8, 1863, in Chillicothe, Ohio.

GRIMKE, JOHN FAUCHERAUD, lawyer, jurist, author, was born Dec. 16, 1752, in South Carolina. He was a jurist of South Carolina, and the author of Revised Edition of Laws of South Carolina; Law of Executors of South Carolina; Public Law of South Carolina; Probate Directory; and Duty of Justices of the Peace. He died Aug. 9, 1819, in Long Branch, N. J.

GRIMKE, SARAH MOORE, reformer, author, was born Nov. 6, 1792, in Charleston, S. C. She was a reformer who was very prominent in the anti-slavery movement, and the author of Epistle to the Clergy of the Southern States; and Letters on the Condition of Women. She died Dec. 23, 1873, in Hyde Park, N. Y.

GRIMKE, THOMAS SMITH, reformer, author, was born Sept. 26, 1786, in Charleston, S. C. He was a reformer of Charleston, active in temperance and in the promotion of peace societies, who published Addresses on Science, Education, and Literature. He died Oct. 11, 1834, near Columbus, Ohio.

GRIMSHAW, ROBERT, civil engineer, lecturer, author, was born in 1850, in Pennsylvania. He is a civil engineer, lecturer on physics at the Franklin Institute of Philadelphia, and the author of History, etc., of Saws; Saw Filing; Steam Engine Catechism; Pump Catechism; Steam Boiler Catechism; Record of Scientific Progress; Hints to Power Users; and Fifty Years Hence.

GRIMSHAW, WILLIAM, author, was born in 1782, in Ireland. He was a Philadelphia writer who published a once popular series of school histories, and also Etymological Dictionary; Gentlemen's Lexicon; Ladies' Lexicon; The American Chesterfield; and Life of Napoleon. He died in 1852, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRING, DAVID, railroad president, was born June 8, 1857, in Denver, Pa. Since 1890 he has been president of the Newport and Sherman's Valley railroad at Newport, Pa.

GRINNELL, GEORGE BIRD, ornithologist, journalist, author, was born in 1849, in New York. He is an ornithologist, and the editor of Forest and Stream of New York city. He is the author of The Story of a Prairie People; The Story of the Indian; and Pawnee Hero Stories and Folk Tales.

GRINNELL, HENRY, merchant, explorer, was born Feb. 14, 1797, in New Bedford, Mass. He was the first president of the American Geographical society, and fitted out two expeditions in search of Sir John Franklin. Grinnell Land, in the Arctic seas, is named in his honor. He died June 30, 1874, in New York city.

GRINNELL, JOSEPH, merchant, banker, congressman, was born Nov. 17, 1788, in New Bedford, Mass. In 1839, 1840, and 1841 he was a member of the governor's council of Massachusetts. He was elected a representative in congress in 1843, and was three times re-elected. He originated the idea of a reduction of postage and the establishment of life boats. He died Feb. 7, 1885, in New Bedford, Mass.

GRINNELL, JOSIAH B., farmer, state senator, congressman, author, was born Dec. 22, 1821, in New Haven, Vt. He was a member of the Iowa state senate for four years; and a special agent for the general postoffice for two years. He was elected a representative from Iowa to the thirty-eighth and thirty-ninth congresses. He was the author of Go West, Young Man, Go West; Home of the Badgers; Cattle Industries of the United States; and Men and Events of Forty Years.

GRINNELL, KATHERINE VAN ALLEN, educator, reformer, was born April 20, 1839, in Pillar Point, N. Y. She received her education at the Falley seminary of Fulton, N. Y.; and has attained prominence as a writer and teacher of the scientific principles of the social order. She advocates the social system based upon the scientific discoveries of Sivartha in his Book of Life. She has also contributed a number of meritorious poems to the periodical press.

GRINNELL, MOSES HICKS, merchant, congressman, was born March 3, 1803, in New Bedford, Mass. He was a representative in congress from New York from 1839 to 1841; and was a presidential elector in 1856. In 1869 he was appointed collector of the port of New York. He died Nov. 24, 1877, in New York city.

GRISCOM, CLEMENT ACTION, president of the International Navigation company, was born March 15, 1841, in Philadelphia. In 1871 the International Navigation Co. was organized in Philadelphia by the old firm of Peter Wright and Sons. Mr. Griscom was one of its founders and from the start its vice-president, and in 1888 became president. It owns nearly all the capital stock of the Belgian corporation known as the Red Star line, which operates ten large steamers in the trade to Antwerp. In 1886 Mr. Griscom bought for his company the old Inman line, then running to Liverpool.

GRISCOM, JOHN, educator, author, was born Sept. 27, 1774, at Hancock's Bridge, N. J. He was a once noted educator who was professor of chemistry at Rutgers college in 1812-28. He is the author of A Year in Europe; and Monitorial Instruction. He died Feb. 26, 1852, in Burlington, N. J.

GRISCOM, JOHN HAWKINS, physician, author, was born Aug. 14, 1809, in New York city. He was an eminent physician of New York city, and the author of Animal Mechanism and Physiology; Prison Hygiene; Use and Abuses of Air; Use of Tobacco and Evils Resulting Therefrom; and Physical Indications of Longevity. He died April 28, 1874, in New York city.

GRISSOM, ARTHUR C., journalist, poet, was born Jan. 21, 1869, in Payson, Ill. He is the editor of Spirit, and The American Home Graphic of New York city; and is the author of a number of meritorious poems.

GRISWOLD, ALEXANDER VIETS, clergyman, bishop, author, was born April 22, 1766, in Simsbury, Conn. He was the third protestant episcopal bishop of Massachusetts, and the author of Discourses on the Most Important Doctrines; The Reformation and the Apostolic Office; and Remarks on Prayer Meetings. He died Feb. 15, 1843, in Boston, Mass., from heart disease while visiting Bishop Eastburn.

GRISWOLD, ALPHONSO MINER, journalist, author, was born Jan. 26, 1834, in Westmoreland, N. Y. His paragraphs and humorous essays under the pen-name of The Fat Contributor won him reputation; and he spent the years 1865-78 in the lecture field, his topics being American Antiquities; Injun Meal; and Queer Folks. Since 1886 he has been an editor and one of the proprietors of Texas Siftings.

GRISWOLD, CASIMIR CLAYTON, artist, was born in 1834, in Delaware, Ohio. He studied wood engraving in Cincinnati, and removed to New York about 1850. Among his works are December; Winter Morning; The Last of the Ice; August Day, Newport; and Early Spring.

GRISWOLD, MRS. FRANCES IRENE [BURGE] [SMITH], author, was born in 1826, in Rhode Island. She is a writer of Sunday-school tales, among which are the Bishop and Nannette Series; and Miriam's Reward.

GRISWOLD, GAYLORD, congressman. He was a member of the New York assembly from 1796 to 1798; and was a representative in congress from New York from 1803 to 1805. He died in 1809.

GRISWOLD, MRS. HARRIET, educator, author, poet, was born Jan. 26, 1842, in Boston, Mass. She is an educator of Wisconsin, and the author of Apple Blossoms, a volume of poems; Home Life of Great Authors; Waiting on Destiny; and Lucille and Her Friends. Her poem, Under the Daisies, has had a wide popularity as a song.

GRISWOLD, JOHN A., manufacturer, banker, congressman, was born Nov. 11, 1818, in Nassau, N. Y. In 1862 he was elected a representative from New York to the thirty-eighth congress, and was re-elected to the thirty-ninth and fortieth congresses as a republican. He died Oct. 31, 1872, in Troy, N. Y.

GRISWOLD, JOHN A., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1827, in Greene county, N. Y. In 1856 he was elected district attorney of Greene county, and held the position for three years. In 1864 he was elected county judge, and continued in the office four years. In 1868 he was elected a representative from New York to the forty-first congress as a democrat.

GRISWOLD, MATTHEW, lawyer, jurist, governor, was born March 23, 1714, in Lyme, Conn. He was a judge, and afterward chief justice of the superior court, lieutenant-governor and governor in 1784-86 of Connecticut. He died April 28, 1799, at Lyme, Conn.

GRISWOLD, MATTHEW, manufacturer, congressman, was born June 6, 1833, in Lyme, Conn. In 1862 he was elected a member of the Connecticut house of representatives; and was re-elected in 1865. In 1866 he moved to Erie, his present home, where he became engaged in manufacturing. He was a member of the fifty-second and fifty-fourth congresses as a republican.

GRISWOLD, ROGER, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born May 21, 1762, in Lyme, Conn. In 1795 to 1805 he was a representative in congress from Connecticut; and in 1807 was chosen a judge of the supreme court of the state. He was lieutenant-governor from 1809 to 1811; and was then elected governor. He died Oct. 25, 1812, in Norwich, Conn.

GRISWOLD, RUFUS WILMOT, journalist, author, poet, was born Feb. 15, 1815, in Benson, Vt. He was an industrious compiler and literary editor who possessed but a slight amount of critical insight and discrimination. His best known publications are, Female Poets of America; Prose Writers of America; Poets and Poetry of America; and Sacred Poets of England and America. His other works include Washington and the Generals of the Revolution; The Republican Court; Scenes in the Life of the Saviour; and Napoleon and the Marshals of the Empire. He died Aug. 27, 1857, in New York city.

GRISWOLD, STANLEY, clergyman, journalist, lawyer, jurist, United States senator, was born Nov. 14, 1763, in Torrington, Conn. In 1804 he became the editor of a democratic paper in Walpole, N. H.; and was soon afterward appointed secretary of the territory of Michigan.

He was a senator in congress from Ohio in 1809; and was United States judge for the northwestern territory. He died Aug. 21, 1815, in Shawneetown, Ill.

GRISWOLD, WILLIAM MACRILLIS, author, was born in 1853, in Maine. He is a literary worker of Cambridge who has published A Manual of Misused Words, and many valuable indexes to periodicals.

GROESBECK, TELFORD, lawyer, poet, was born Aug. 5, 1853, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He graduated from Princeton college and the Harvard law school, and has attained success in the profession of law in his native city. He has filled various positions of honor, and has been judge advocate general of Ohio. He is the author of The Incas, the Children of the Sun, an exceedingly meritorious poem, which depicts the strange and romantic civilization of the Incas.

GROESBECK, WILLIAM SLOCOMB, lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born July 24, 1815, in New York city. He was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-fifth congress; was a member of the peace congress of 1861; and in 1862 was elected to the senate of Ohio. He was a delegate to the Philadelphia National Union convention of 1866.

GROFF, GEORGE G., physician, educator, was born in April, 1851, in Chester county, Pa. In 1879 he was elected to the chair of natural sciences in the Bucknell university of Lewisburg, Pa.; and is president of the Pennsylvania state board of health.

GROIN, WILLIAM M., United States senator, was born in 1805, in Tennessee. In 1841 he was elected to congress from Mississippi; and was a member of the United States senate. He died in 1885, in New York.

GRONER, VIRGINIUS DESPAUXEN, soldier, was born Sept. 14, 1836, in Norfolk, Va. He served in the confederacy during the civil war, and was brevetted brigadier-general. He has been a candidate for governor of his native state, and on several occasions his name was placed in nomination for United States senator. He is president of the National Compress association; president of the steamship line run by that association between Norfolk and Liverpool, and is actively interested in many other business enterprises. He has contributed greatly to the advancement of the shipping interests of Norfolk, Va.; and was appointed a commissioner from Virginia to the World's Columbian exposition.

GRONLUND, LAURENCE, lecturer, author, was born in 1847, in Denmark. He is a lecturer upon socialistic topics in many cities of the United States, and the author of The Co-operative Commonwealth in Its Outlines; Ca Ira, or Danton in the French Revolution; and Our Destiny.

GROOME, JAMES BLACK, lawyer, governor, United States senator, was born April 4, 1838, in Elkton, Md. In 1867 he was elected to the state constitutional convention; in 1871 was elected to the state legislature; and was re-elected. In 1874 he was elected governor of Maryland; and was elected United States senator from Maryland for the term of six years from March 4, 1879.

GROSE, WILLIAM, soldier, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Dec. 16, 1812, in Dayton, Ohio. He was chosen a judge of the court of common pleas in 1860, but resigned in 1861, and recruited the thirty-sixth Indiana infantry, of which he became colonel. At Shiloh his regiment was the only part of Buell's army that joined in the first day's fight, and after the engagement he commanded a brigade; and subsequently was promoted to brigadier-general. He lives in New Castle, Ind.

GROSS, EZRA C., lawyer, congressman, was born in Windsor county, Vt. He was surrogate of Essex county from 1815 to 1819; was a representative in congress from New York from 1819 to 1821; and was elected to the assembly of that state in 1828 and 1829. He died before the close of his second term.

GROSS, JOHN DANIEL, educator, clergyman, author, was born in 1737, in Germany. He was a regent of the university of New York in 1784, and a trustee of Columbia in 1787. He published Natural Principles of Rectitude. He died May 25, 1812, in Canajoharie, N. Y.

GROSS, JOSEPH B., clergyman, author, He was a lutheran clergyman, among whose writings are The Heathen-Religion in Its Symbolical Development; Teachings of Providence; Truth in Religion; Belief in Immortality on Purely Logical Principles; and Old Faith and New Thoughts. He died in 1891.

GROSS, SAMUEL, congressman, was born in Montgomery county, Pa. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1819 to 1823.

GROSS, SAMUEL DAVID, educator, physician, surgeon, author, was born July 8, 1805, near Easton, Pa. He was a distinguished surgeon of Philadelphia who was professor of surgery in Jefferson Medical college in 1856-82, and a member of many medical associations in America and Europe. He is the author of A System of Surgery; Lives of Eminent American Physicians and Surgeons of the Nineteenth Century; Manual of Military Surgery; History of American Medical Literature; John Hunter and His Pupils; Pathological Anatomy; Wounds of the Intestines; and Diseases of the Urinary Organs. He also edited American Medical Biography. He died May 6, 1884, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GROSS, SAMUEL EBERLY, capitalist, founder. He determined upon the operations which have since made him famous as probably the greatest subdivider of real estate in the United States. Among his many successful transactions may be noted the following: In 1880 he located the New City to the southwest. In 1882 he began on Chicago's northern boundary and laid out what eventuated in the flourishing village of Gross Park. In 1886 he founded the town of Brookdale on the Illinois Central railway; and opened Under-the-Linden, the villages of Calumet Heights and Dauphin Park; and in 1889 he founded Grossdale.

GROSS, SAMUEL WEISSEL, educator, physician, surgeon, author, was born Feb. 4, 1837, in Cincinnati, Ohio. He was a surgeon of Philadelphia who succeeded his father as professor of surgery in Jefferson Medical college in 1882. He is the author of Tumors of the Mammary Gland; and Treatise on Impotence, Sterility, and Allied Disorders. He died April 16, 1889, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GROSS, WILLIAM HICKLEY, archbishop, was born June 12, 1837, in Baltimore, Md. He was consecrated bishop of Savannah in 1873, and in 1884 he became archbishop of Oregon.

GROSVENOR, CHARLES HENRY, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 20, 1833, in Pomfret, Conn. He enlisted in the union army in 1861, and served throughout the war as major, lieutenant-colonel and colonel, and was brevetted brigadier-general in 1865. He was solicitor of Athens in 1867-68; presidential elector in 1872 and 1880; and was elected a representative in the state legislature in 1873 and re-elected in 1875, serving as speaker in 1876 and 1877. He was appointed a member of the board of trustees of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home in 1880. He was elected a representative from Ohio to the forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-third, fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

GROSVENOR, CHARLES W., soldier, state senator, was born May 11, 1839, in Pomfret, Conn. He served as sergeant of company D, eighteenth Connecticut volunteers, during the civil war. He has twice represented his native town in the state legislature, and once in the senate; and in 1897 became state treasurer.

GROSVENOR, EBENEZER O., merchant, banker, state senator, was born Jan. 26, 1820, in Stillwater, N. Y. In 1854 he established the Grosvenor Savings bank of Jonesville, Mich., of which he has always been president and manager. He was a state senator in 1859 and in 1863-64.

GROSVENOR, EDWIN AUGUSTUS, educator, author, was born in 1845, in Massachusetts. He was a professor of European history at Amherst college, and from 1873-90 professor of history at Roberts college, Constantinople. He is the author of Constantinople.

GROSVENOR, LEMUEL CONANT, physician, author, was born March 22, 1833, in Paxton, Mass. He is an obstetrician of rare skill and ability, and has long held a front rank among physicians in general practice in Chicago. He is the author of Our Babies; Bedside Chats with Young Mothers; and The Sanitation and Technique of the Lying-in Room.

GROSVENOR, THOMAS P., lawyer, congressman, was born in 1780, in Pomfret, Conn. He served a number of years in the legislature of New York; was elected a representative in congress from 1813 to 1817. He died April 25, 1817.

GROTE, AUGUSTUS RADCLIFFE, scientist, author, poet. He is a scientist, formerly of Buffalo, but now living in Bremen, Germany. He is the author of Notes on the Bombycidae of Cuba; Notes on the Sphingidae of Cuba; Notes on the Zygaenidae of Cuba; Genesis; The New Infidelity; Notes on the Lepidoptera of America (with C. T. Robinson); and Rip Van Winkle, a Sun Myth, and Other Poems

GROUT, JONATHAN, soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born July 23, 1737, in Lunenburg, Mass. He served for a short time in the revolutionary army. He was for some years a member of the general court, or house of representatives of Massachusetts; and in 1789 was elected a member of the first congress, in which he served from 1789 to 1791. He died Sept. 8, 1804, in Dover, N. H.

GROUT, WILLIAM W., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born May 24, 1836, in Canada, of American parents. He was state's attorney for Orleans county in 1865-66. He was a member of the Vermont house of representatives in 1868, 1869, 1870, and 1874, and of the senate in 1876. He was elected to the forty-seventh, forty-ninth, fiftieth, fifty-first, fifty-second, fifty-third and fifty-fourth congresses, and re-elected to the fifty-fifth congress in 1896.

GROVE, JOHN B., physician, was born Aug. 2, 1829, in Augusta county, Va. In 1872 he was elected a member of the city council of Columbus, Ind.; and was nominated as state senator for the counties of Bartholomew and Brown, by the democrats of the district in 1874. In 1863 he became identified with the democratic organization, of which he has since been an earnest and consistent member, taking a deep interest in its welfare, and contributing largely to its successful management. As a physician he stands at the head of the profession.

GROVE, PHILETUS AMMERMAN, artist, educator, clergyman, was born Jan. 6, 1867, in Pisgah, Mo. He received his education at the Clarksburg college and the Missouri Valley college, graduating from the latter institution in 1894 with the degree of B. L. He has attained success as an educator, and for three years was president of the Otterville college. He is a successful clergyman of the presbyterian church; and has been successful as an instructor in art.

GROVE, WILLIAM B., congressman. He was a representative in congress from North Carolina from 1791 to 1803.

GROVER, ASA P., lawyer, state senator, congressman, was born Feb. 18, 1819, in Ontario county, N. Y. He was elected to the state senate in 1857; re-elected in 1861, holding the position eight years. He was elected a representative from Kentucky to the fortieth congress as a democrat.

GROVER, CUVIER, soldier, was born July 24, 1829, in Bethel, Maine. In 1850 he graduated from the United States Military academy, and was assigned to the first artillery; served on the frontier till 1853; and from 1853 to 1854 on the Northern Pacific railroad exploration, after which he served at various western stations. In 1862 he became brigadier-general of volunteers; was transferred to the army of the Potomac; and in 1875 was made colonel. He died June 6, 1885, in Atlantic City, N. J.

GROVER, LAFAYETTE, soldier, lawyer, congressman, governor, United States senator, born Nov. 29, 1823, in Bethel, Maine. In 1851 he was elected prosecuting attorney for the territory of Oregon; in 1852 was auditor of public accounts; served three years in the territorial legislature; and saw service in the Indian wars of Oregon. Having been an active member of the convention of 1857 to form a state constitution, he was subsequently elected the first representative in congress from the prospective state, and took his seat as such in 1859. In 1870 he was elected governor of Oregon, and re-elected in 1874; and resigned in 1877 to take his seat as a United States senator from Oregon for the term ending in 1883.

GROVER, LEWIS C., underwriter, founder, was born Oct. 20, 1815, in Caldwell, N. J. In 1845 he obtained from the legislature a charter of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance company of Newark, N. J., of which he afterward became president.

GROVER, MARTIN, lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in New York. He was a representative in congress from that state from 1845 to 1847; was a judge of the supreme court of New York from 1857 to 1859; and was judge of the court of appeals from 1859 for a full term. He was elected an associate judge in 1870 for fourteen years. He died Aug. 23, 1875, in Alleghany county, N. Y.

GROW, GALUSHA AARON, lawyer, congressman, was born Aug. 31, 1824, in Eastford, Conn. In 1850 he was elected a representative in congress from Pennsylvania; and was re-elected to the thirty-sixth congress. He was re-elected to the thirty-seventh congress, and was chosen speaker of the house of representatives. He served in the fifty-third congress to fill a vacancy; and re-elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

re-elected to the fifty-fourth and fifty-fifth congresses as a republican.

GRUBB, EDWARD BURD, soldier, manufacturer, diplomat, was born in 1841, in Burlington, N. J. He attained the rank of brigadier-general during the civil war. In the management of iron works and mines in Pennsylvania and Virginia he succeeded his father, and soon became one of the leading producers of pig iron in the north.

GRUBE, BERNHARD ADAM, missionary, author, was born in 1715, in Germany. He was a Moravian missionary who came to America in 1746 and settled in Pennsylvania. He published Delaware Indian Hymn Book; and Harmony of the Gospels. He died March 20, 1808, in Bethlehem, Pa.

GRUMBINE, LEE LEIGHT, lawyer, journalist, was born July 25, 1858, in Fredericksburg, Pa. In 1890 he founded the Lebanon Daily Report, which became a recognized force in Pennsylvania journalism.

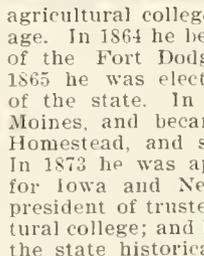

GRUND, FRANCIS JOSEPH, journalist, author, was born in 1809, in Bohemia. He was a journalist of Philadelphia who published Exercises in Arithmetical; Americans in their Moral, Religious and Social Relations; Aristocracy in America; Life of General Harrison, in German; and Thoughts and Reflections on the Present Position of Europe. He died Sept. 29, 1863, in Philadelphia, Pa.

GRUNDY, FELIX, lawyer, jurist, congressman, United States senator, was born Sept. 11, 1770, in Berkeley county, Va. For six or seven years he was a member of the Kentucky legislature; and in 1806 was elected one of the judges of the supreme court of Kentucky, and was soon after chief justice. From 1811 to 1814 he was a representative in congress from Tennessee, and during several years after was a member of the legislature of that state. From 1829 to 1838 he was United States senator, and in the latter year attorney-general of the United States. In 1840 he resigned this position, and was again elected senator. He died Dec. 19, 1840, in Nashville, Tenn.

ing several years after was a member of the legislature of that state. From 1829 to 1838 he was United States senator, and in the latter year attorney-general of the United States. In 1840 he resigned this position, and was again elected senator. He died Dec. 19, 1840, in Nashville, Tenn.

GUE, BENJAMIN F., journalist, legislator, was born Dec. 25, 1828, in Greene county, N. Y. He received his education at the Canandaigua and East Bloomfield academies. In 1852 he moved to Iowa, settling in Scott county. In 1857 he was elected to the legislature, serving four years; and in 1861 was elected to the state senate. He was one of the authors of the act for the establishment of the state agricultural college, and secured its passage. In 1864 he became editor and owner of the Fort Dodge Republican; and in 1865 he was elected lieutenant-governor of the state. In 1872 he moved to Des Moines, and became editor of the Iowa Homestead, and subsequently its owner. In 1873 he was appointed pension agent for Iowa and Nebraska. He has been president of trustees of the Iowa Agricultural college; and has been connected with the state historical department since its organization. He devotes his time largely to collecting material for a History of Iowa.

GUENTHER, RICHARD, pharmacist, congressman, was born Nov. 30, 1845, in Prussia. He settled at Oshkosh, Wis., in 1867; was elected state treasurer in 1876, and re-elected in 1878. He was elected a representative from Wisconsin to the forty-seventh, forty-eighth and forty-ninth and fiftieth congresses as a republican.

GUERARD, BENJAMIN, governor. He was governor of South Carolina from 1783 to 1785; and speaker of the house in 1783. He died in January, 1789, in Charleston, S. C.

GUERIN, CLAUDE V., lawyer, lecturer, was born Sept. 8, 1867, in Jersey City, N. J. He received his education in the schools of New Brunswick, N. J., and the Asbury Park high school. He has attained success as an eminent lawyer of New Jersey, and has a large practice in Asbury Park. He is a prominent member of the republican party; a member of the board of education; and belongs to the National Guards of New Jersey. As a public speaker he ranks high.

GUERNSEY, ALFRED HUDSON, journalist, author, was born in 1825, in Vermont. He is a writer of New York city, and at one period editor of Harper's Monthly. He is the author of The Spanish Armada; The World's Opportunities; Carlyle, His Life, Books, and Theories; and Emerson, Poet and Philosopher.

GUERNSEY, CLARA FLORIDA, author, was born in 1836, in New York. She is a Rochester writer of juvenile tales, among which are The Boys of Eaglewood School; The Silver Library; Friends in Need; and The Mermaid and the Figure Head.

GUERNSEY, EGBERT, physician, author, was born in 1823, in Connecticut. He is a homeopathic physician of New York city, editor of the Medical Times since 1872, and the author of History of the United States; Homeopathic Domestic Practice; and The Gentleman's Book of Homeopathy.

GUERNSEY, HENRY NEWELL, physician, author, was born in 1817, in Vermont. He was a homeopathic physician of Philadelphia, and the author of Application of Homeopathy to Obstetrics; Plain Talks on Avoided Subjects; The Keynote System; Obstetrics and Diseases of Women and Children; and Lectures on Materia Medica. He died in 1885.

GUERNSEY, JOSEPH C., physician, was born March 25, 1849, in Frankford, Pa. He is a trustee of the Hahnemann Medical college and hospital of Philadelphia, and lecturer on materia medica.

GUERNSEY, LUCY ELLEN, author, was born in 1826, in New York. She is a writer of Rochester, N. Y., who has published more than fifty juvenile tales, some of which are, Old Stanfield House; Through Unknown Ways; Winifred; and Agnes Warrington's Mistake.

GUERNSEY, ROCELLUS S., lawyer, author. He is the author of Juries and Physicians on Insanity; Mechanics' Lien Laws for New York City; Municipal Law and Its Relations to the Constitution of Man; Key to Story's Equity Jurisprudence; Living Authors at the New York Bar; Suicide, a History of the Penal Laws Relating to It; and New York City and Vicinity During the War of 1812.

GUEST, JOHN, naval officer, was born March 7, 1821, in Missouri. He served in 1845-48 on the frigate Congress in the Pacific, on the coast of Mexico during the Mexican war and took part on shore in several sharp engagements. He also served with distinction through the civil war. He died Jan. 12, 1879, in Portsmouth, N. H.

GUFFIN, WASHINGTON I., merchant, state legislator, was born Jan. 17, 1840, in Carlisle, N. Y. In 1869 he moved to Illinois; and has since been successfully engaged as a grain merchant in Paw Paw. In 1892 he was elected a representative to the Illinois state legislature, and twice received the re-election.

GUHN, JAMES WILLIAM, merchant, jurist, was born June 17, 1863, in Maple Grove, Wis. In 1883 he moved to Dakota territory, and was one of the first settlers of Aberdeen. He is a successful merchant of Eureka, S. D.; has been judge of the municipal court of Eureka from its incorporation, and has filled a number of important positions in his county and state. He is also a contributor to current publications.

to current publications.

GUICE, NAPOLEON LORENZO, physician, surgeon, was born Feb. 10, 1838, in Hamburg, Miss. In 1877-78 he was president of the Mississippi State Medical association, and is a prominent physician of Meridian, Miss.

GUIDERY, JOHN, lawyer, was born July 31, 1844, in Westchester, N. Y. He received his education in the public schools of New York city and San Francisco, Cal. He is a successful lawyer of Butte county, Cal., where for nearly a quarter of a century he has been court commissioner and under-sheriff.

GUILBERT, EDWARD AUGUSTUS, physician, was born in 1826, in Watertown, N. Y. This eminent physician has practiced his profession with success in Waukegan and Elgin, Ill.; and in 1856 settled in Dubuque, Iowa, where he has ever since resided. During 1863-65 he was surgeon of the board of enrollment, and is now one of the leading physicians of Iowa. He is a member of the leading medical bodies, and a member of the Masonic and other fraternal orders.

GUILD, MRS. CADWALADER, sculptor, was born in Boston, Mass. She has attained her greatest success in Berlin, Germany; and two of her statues, Post and Telegraphic, are on the new post-office building in Magdeburg. Her most beautiful work is Electron.

GUILD, MRS. CAROLINE SNOWDEN, author, was born June 1, 1827, in Massachusetts. She is a religious writer of Boston, and the author of Violet; Daisy; Never Mind the Face; Some House Songs; compiler of Hymns of the Ages; and Prayers of the Ages.

GUILD, CURTIS, journalist, author, was born Jan. 13, 1828, in Boston, Mass. He is a journalist of Boston, founder and editor of The Commercial Bulletin; and the author of Over the Ocean, a popular book of travels; Abroad Again; Britons and Muscovites; From Sunrise to Sunset, a volume of verse; and A Chat About Celebrities.

GUILD, REUBEN ALDRIDGE, librarian, author, was born May 4, 1822, at West Dedham, Mass. He was the librarian of Brown university in 1848-93. He is the author of Librarian's Manual; Rhode Island in the Continental Congress (edited); History of Brown University; Chaplain Smith and the Baptists; Footprints of Roger Williams; and Roger Williams, the Pioneer Missionary to the Indians.

GUILLET, JOSEPH HENRI, lawyer, was born Jan. 11, 1853, in Marierville, Province of Quebec. At the age of sixteen he enlisted in the famous regiment, the Pontifical Zouaves, Rome, and served during the campaigns of 1870 up to the fall of Rome, Sept. 20, 1870. He returned to America and entered journalism at Lowell, Mass.; subsequently taught school, and is now a prominent lawyer of that city. He was decorated by the Pope with a military medal; was created by Leo XIII. a knight commander of the Military Order of Saint Sylvester. He has been president of several associations.

GUINEY, LOUISE IMOGEN, author, poet, was born Jan. 7, 1861, in Boston, Mass. She is a writer of Newton, Mass., and the author of Goose-Quill Papers; Brownies and Bogies; Three Heroines of New England Romance (with Mrs. Spofford and Alice Brown); Monsieur Henri, a Footnote to French History; A Little English Gallery; Lovers' Saint Ruths, and Three Other Tales; Patrons, a collection of essays; Verse: Songs at the Start; The White Sail; and A Roadside Harp. She has edited the select poems of Mangan, with a study of his life and work.

GUINON, MATTHEW FRANKLIN, lawyer, was born Nov. 1, 1853, in Lockport, N. Y. He received the rudiments of his education in the high school of Ann Arbor, Mich., and subsequently graduated from the university of Michigan. He is a successful lawyer of Petoskey, Mich., has been city assessor, circuit court commissioner for two terms, and has filled various public positions of trust in his county and state.

GUION, JOHN J., was born in 1801 in Natchez, Miss. He was a member of the state senate and president of that body, and also a judge of the criminal court. In 1851 he was governor pro tem. of the state, and subsequently a judge of the district court of the state. He died June 26, 1855, at Vicksburg, Miss.

GULDIN, JOHN C., clergyman, composer, was born in 1799 in Bucks county, Pa. He was known as the Apostle to the Germans. He superintended the German publications of the American Tract society, and was the chief editor of the hymn-book that has since been adopted by the presbyterian church for the use of its German congregations. He died in 1863 in New York city.

GULICK, PETER JOHNSON, missionary, was born March 12, 1797, in Freehold, N. J. In 1827 he left Boston for the Hawaiian islands under commission of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, and was stationed on various islands of the Hawaiian kingdom. In 1874 he went to Japan, and there passed the last days of his life with a son who was also a missionary. He died Dec. 8, 1877, in Japan.

GULLETT, ALEXANDER, soldier, lawyer, miner, was born June 26, 1845, near Union City, Ind. In 1862 he enlisted in company F, sixty-ninth regiment Indiana volunteer infantry, and was honorably discharged as corporal on July 5, 1865. He served with distinction and was wounded at Thompson's Hill, in rear of Vicksburg. After the war he was engaged in educational work and subsequently admitted to the bar. In 1874 he became prosecuting attorney for the counties of Randolph and Delaware, Ind.; and practiced law at Winchester until 1880. He then moved to Colorado and has since been successfully engaged in the practice of law at Gunnison. He is a prominent leader in the republican party, was a delegate to the national republican convention in 1884, and chairman of the republican state convention in 1890. In 1896 he received the nomination for attorney-general.

GUMMERE, FRANCIS BARTON, educator, author, was born in 1855 in New Jersey. He is a professor of English in Haverford college, Pennsylvania; and the author of The Anglo-Saxon Metaphor; Handbook of Poetics; and Germanic Origins, a study in Primitive Culture.

GUMMERE, JOHN, educator, author, was born in 1784 in Willow Grove, Pa. He was an educator of Burlington, N. J., and the author of Treatise on Surveying; and Theoretical and Practical Astronomy. He died May 31, 1845, in Burlington, N. J.

GUMMERE, SAMUEL R., educator, author, was born March 3, 1789, in Horsham, Pa. He was an educator of Burlington, and the author of Treatise on Geography; and Compendium of Elocution. He died Sept. 13, 1866, in Burlington, N. J.

GUNCKEL, LOUIS B., was born Oct. 15, 1826, in Germantown, Ohio. He was a member of the senate of Ohio in 1862-65, and was a presidential elector in 1864. He was appointed United States commissioner to investigate Indian frauds, in 1871, and was elected to the forty-third congress as a republican.

GUNN, JAMES, United States senator, was born in 1739 in Virginia. He was a senator of the United States from Georgia from 1789 to 1801. He died July 30, 1801, in Louisville, Ga.

GUNN, JAMES, soldier, state senator, congressman, was born March 6, 1843, in New York. He volunteered as a private in company G, twenty-seventh Wisconsin infantry, with which regiment he served until the close of the war, being mustered out with the rank of captain. In 1880 he joined the rush of prospectors to Idaho, making the town of Hailey, in Wood River Valley, his home. He was elected to the senate of the first state legislature in 1890; and was elected to the fifty-fifth congress as a populist.

GUNNELL, ALLEN THOMSON, lawyer, jurist, legislator, was born Jan. 29, 1848, in Saline county, Mo. He received his education at the Bethany college, of West Virginia. He has been judge of Lake county, Colo.; was a member of the Colorado state legislature in 1879; and during 1891-95 served with distinction as state senator. In 1896 he was a presidential elector. He is one of the foremost lawyers of Colorado, and has a lucrative practice in Colorado Springs.

GUNNING, JOSIAH HENRY, clergyman, college president, inventor, was born March 1, 1840, in England. He has filled pastorates in the baptist churches of New York city and New Jersey, and for five years was president of the college of Physicians and Surgeons of Boston. He invented and patented an instrument known as the pulsating pen.

GUNNISON, ALMON, clergyman, author, was born in 1844 in Maine. He is a universalist clergyman of prominence, and the author of Rambles Overland, a Trip Across the Continent; and Wayside and Fireside Rambles.

GUNNISON, ELISHA NORMAN, journalist, poet, was born in 1837 in Massachusetts. He was a journalist of York, Pa., who published One Summer Dream, and Other Poems; and Our Stars. He died in 1880.

GUNNISON, JOHN WILLIAMS, civil engineer, author, was born in 1812 in New Hampshire. He was a civil engineer killed by Mormons and Indians while making railway surveys in Utah. A History of the Mormons was his only published work. He died Oct. 26, 1853, near Sevier Lake, Utah.

GUNSAULUS, FRANK WAKELEY, clergyman, author, was born in 1856 in Ohio. He is a congregational clergyman of Chicago, and the author of The Metamorphosis of a Creed; The Transfiguration of Christ; Monk and Knight, an Historical Study in Fiction; Phidias, and Other Poems; October at Eastwood; and Songs of Night and Day.

GUNSTER, FREDERICK WILLIAM, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born Sept. 15, 1845, in Prussia. He has served as district attorney of Lackawanna county and as law judge. He has served as a member of the Pennsylvania state legislature from Scranton, Pa.

GUNTER, ARCHIBALD CLAVERING, author. He is a writer of popular sensational romances quite destitute of literary merit, and the author of Mr. Barnes of New York; Mr. Potter of Texas; The First of the English; and The Ladies' Jugernaut.

GUNTER, THOMAS M., soldier, lawyer, congressman, was born Sept. 18, 1826, in middle Tennessee. In 1853 he began the practice of law in Fayetteville, Ark. He was a delegate to the state convention of 1861; served in the confederate army as a colonel, and was prosecuting attorney from 1866 to 1868. He successfully contested the seat of W. W. Wilshire in the forty-third congress, and was re-elected to the forty-fourth, forty-fifth, forty-sixth and forty-seventh congresses as a democrat.

GURLEY, HENRY H., lawyer, jurist, congressman, was born in 1787 in Lebanon, Conn. He was a representative in congress from Louisiana from 1823 to 1831. He previously held the office of United States judge for the district court of Louisiana. He died in 1832.

GURLEY, JOHN A., clergyman, journalist, congressman, governor, was born Dec. 9, 1813, in East Hartford, Conn. He was settled as a preacher at Methuen, Mass., from 1834 to 1837, when he removed to Cincinnati, Ohio, where for fifteen years he published a paper called the Star of the West. In 1858 he was elected a representative from Ohio to the thirty-sixth congress; and re-elected to the thirty-seventh congress. In 1862 he was appointed governor of Arizona. He died Aug. 19, 1863, in Cincinnati, Ohio.

GURLEY, PHINEAS DENSMORE, clergyman, was born Nov. 12, 1816, in Hamilton, N. Y. In 1859 he was chosen chaplain of the United States senate. He numbered among his regular hearers several presidents of the United States, among them Mr. Lincoln, at whose death-bed he was present, and whose funeral sermon he delivered. He took an active part in the negotiations that resulted in the union of the old-school and new-school branches of the presbyterian church. He died Sept. 30, 1868, in Washington, D. C.

GURLEY, RALPH RANDOLPH, clergyman, was born May 26, 1797, in Lebanon, Conn. From 1822 till 1872 he acted as the agent and secretary of the American Colonization society, visited Africa three times in its interests, and was one of the founders of Liberia. He died July 30, 1872, in Washington, D. C.

GURLEY, ZENAS HOVEY, educator, clergyman, legislator, orator, was born Feb. 24, 1842, in Hancock county, Ill. He received a thorough education in the schools of Illinois and Wisconsin, and became a successful educator and school director. He attained eminence as a clergyman and is a brilliant speaker. He served with distinction as a member of the twenty-fifth and twenty-sixth general assemblies of the Iowa state legislature; was chairman of the committee on claims; a member of the committee on ways and means, appropriations, code revisions, insurance, mines and mining, constitutional amendments, municipal corporations, and penitentiaries. He possesses the courage of his convictions, and is an able and eloquent advocate before the people.

GURNEY, FRANCIS, soldier, merchant, state senator, was born in 1738 in Bucks county, Pa. He was a merchant of Philadelphia. He became president of the city council, and served as a representative and as a senator in the state legislature. He died May 25, 1815.

GUROWSKI, ADAM, was born Sept. 10, 1805, in Poland. He was a Polish count who came to the United States in 1849, and was employed as a translator in the state department at Washington. He was the author of A Year of the War (1855);

América and Europe; Slavery in History; and My Diary. He died May 4, 1866, in Washington, D. C.

GURTEEN, STEPHEN HUMPHREYS VILLIERS, clergyman, author, was born in 1840 in England. He is an episcopal clergyman of Buffalo, Toledo and elsewhere; and prominent as an organizer of charities. He is the author of Phases of Charity; Provident Schemes; What Is Charity Organization; How Paupers Are Made; Casuistry; The Arthurian Epic; and Epic of the Fall of Man.

GUSTAFSON, AXEL—CARL JOHAN—author, was born about 1847 in Sweden. He is a Swedish writer who came to the United States in 1868, and has published The Foundation of Death; a Study of the Drink Question; The Drink Problem; and Some Thoughts on Moderation.

GUSTAFSON, MRS. ZADEL (BARNES) (BUDDINGTON), author, poet, was born about 1841 in Middletown, Conn. She is the author of Meg; a Pastoral and Other Poems; Can the Old Love? a novel; and Genevieve Ward, a Biography.

GUSTINE, AMOS, congressman. He was a representative in congress from Pennsylvania from 1841 to 1843. He died March 3, 1844, in Lost Creek Valley, Pa.

GUTHEIM, JAMES KOPPEL, clergyman, author, was born Nov. 15, 1817, in Westphalia. He was a Jewish clergyman of New Orleans who published The Temple Pulpit, a volume of sermons; and a translation of Gratz's History of the Jews. He died May 11, 1886, in New Orleans, La.

GUTHERZ, CARL, artist, was born in 1844, in Switzerland. Since 1851 he has resided in America, and has become noted as a painter of religious subjects. A number of noted portraits mark his artistic career, and one of his latest works are the seven panels in the ceiling of the congressional reading rooms in the library of congress, representing the Pictorial Spectrum of Light. He exhibited at the World's Columbian exposition his Light of the Incarnation, a medley of angels robed in all colors.

GUTHRIE, ALFRED, mechanical engineer, was born April 1, 1805, in Sherburne, N. Y. In 1846 he settled in Chicago, where he advanced the idea of supplying the summit level of the Illinois and Michigan canal with water by raising it from Lake Michigan with steam power. The hydraulic works of this canal in Chicago were designed by him and constructed under his supervision. He died Aug. 17, 1882, in Chicago, Ill.

GUTHRIE, EDWIN, physician, was born Dec. 11, 1806, in Sherburne, N. Y. Soon after the beginning of war with Mexico, he raised a company of Iowa volunteers, of which he became captain, and went to the seat of war. He died July 20, 1847, in Mexico.

GUTHRIE, JAMES, lawyer, banker, United States senator, born Dec. 5, 1792, in Nelson county, Ky. He served nine years in the legislature of Kentucky, and six years in the state senate. After originating, he became president of the Louisville and Nashville railroad. In 1853 he went into President Pierce's cabinet as secretary of the treasury, and was a delegate to the Chicago convention of 1864. He was elected a senator in congress from Kentucky, in 1865, for the term ending in 1871. He died March 13, 1869, in Louisville, Ky.

GUTHRIE, JOHN, soldier, lawyer, legislator, jurist, was born July 2, 1829, in Switzerland county, Ind., of Scotch parentage. In 1856 he was admitted to the bar at Logansport, Ind., and the following year was elected state's attorney for Cass and Miami counties. During the civil war he was captain of company B, forty-sixth regiment Indiana volunteer infantry. In 1865 he moved to Kansas, and in 1867-69 served as a member of the Kansas legislature from the Topeka district. In 1872 he was elected presidential elector on the republican ticket, and as messenger of the electoral college delivered the vote of the state to Schuyler Colfax, vice-president of the United States, at Washington. In 1872 and in 1874 he was chairman of the republican state central committee. During 1885-93 this eminent lawyer served with distinction as presiding judge of the third judicial district of Kansas. He is a prominent member of the Masonic order, and in 1876 was elected grand master. Guthrie, the capital of Oklahoma territory, was named in honor of the Hon. John Guthrie.

GUTHRIE, JOHN JULIUS, naval officer, was born in 1814 in Washington, D. C. He became a midshipman in 1834, passed midshipman in 1838, and lieutenant in 1842, and served in the Mexican war. In 1861, at the beginning of the civil war, he resigned his commission and entered the confederate service. He died in November, 1877, at sea near Cape Hatteras.

GUTHRIE, SAMUEL, chemist, inventor, was born in 1782 in Brimfield, Mass. He is said to have invented and first manufactured percussion-pills, which, with caps, have entirely superseded the old flint-lock fire-arm. He died Oct. 19, 1848, in Sackett's Harbor, N. Y.

GUTHRIE, WILLIAM E., surgeon, was born July 26, 1857, in Abingdon, Ill. He received his education at the Illinois Wesleyan university, the Rush Medical college of Chicago, and at the medical department of the university of Berlin. He was county physician for four years, surgeon of the Lake Erie and Western railroad, and assistant surgeon of the Chicago and Alton railroad; and surgeon of the Deaconess hospital of Bloomington, Ill.

GUY, CHARLES L., lawyer, state senator, was born Jan. 6, 1856, in New York city. He nominated David B. Hill for governor at Saratoga in 1874. He has served as a member of the New York state senate from the thirteenth district.

GUY, WILFRED R., lawyer, legislator, was born Feb. 12, 1860, in Elkton, Ohio. He received his education at the Mount Union college, Ohio, and graduated from the university of Michigan in 1887. He has attained success as an eminent lawyer of San Diego, Cal. He was a member of the California state legislature during the sessions of 1895 and 1897, and during the latter session was chairman of the committee on ways and means, and was the leader of the republican majority of the house. While a member of the legislature he rendered valuable service to the cause of education by having established the State Normal school of San Diego.

GUY, WILLIAM E., railroad president, was born Dec. 22, 1844, in Cincinnati, Ohio. Since 1889 he has been the president of the St. Louis and Eastern railroad.

GUYON, JAMES, congressman, was born in 1777 in Richmond county, N. Y. He represented Staten Island in the legislature of New York a number of years; and was a member of congress from 1819 to 1821. He died March 8, 1846, on Staten Island.

GUYOT, ARNOLD HENRY, educator, author, was born Sept. 28, 1807, in Switzerland. He was a geographer of distinction who came to America in 1849, and from 1854 until his death was professor of geography at Princeton college. He was the founder of the Princeton museum, and the author of Earth and Man; Creation, or the Biblical Cosmogony in the Light of Modern Science; Physical Geography; and Social Economy. He died Feb. 8, 1884, at Princeton, N. J.

GWIN, WILLIAM, naval officer, was born Dec. 5, 1832, in Columbus, Ind. He entered the navy as midshipman in 1847, and was promoted until he was commissioned lieutenant in 1855, and lieutenant-commander in 1862. He died Jan. 3, 1863, on the Yazoo river, Mississippi.

