REUNIFICATION OF CHINA IS MERELY QUESTION OF TIME

Says Dr. Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to Washington, in Victoria To-day

Chinese Diplomat Greeted Here by Former English Tutor

"It is merely a question of time to-day," said Dr. Sao Ke Alfred Sze, Chinese Minister to the United States, in discussing the prospect of a settlement of the factional disturbances leading to the reunification of China.

The voice of the merchants is being heard in China, and the pressure being brought to bear by this influential class will undoubtedly have an important bearing on future developments.

While it is impossible to make any predictions at the moment I am convinced the reunification is on the horizon, and that brighter days are in store for China.

He is returning direct to Washington from Peking, where he has been in conference with the members of the Chinese cabinet under the premiership of General Chang Shao Cheng.

Dr. Sze left here last November by the President Jackson for China, and during the intervening period he has been acting as Minister of Foreign Affairs in the Chinese Government at Peking.

Dr. Sze has an unshakable confidence in the future of China. He declined to be interviewed in a protracted discussion of the Chinese internal and political situation owing to his position in the diplomatic service.

EXPORTERS NOT TO BRING IN LIQUOR

Commons Approves Bill Affecting B. C. Liquor Importations
Only Government, Distillers and Manufacturers to Import

Ottawa, May 4.—Third reading was given in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon to the bill to limit the importation of liquor into the provinces of British Columbia and Quebec, but with an important amendment. The bill as submitted provided that liquor could be imported into the provinces only by the provincial authorities or by manufacturers and exporters. As amended by Government, exporters are excluded and, apart from the Provincial Commissions, only distillers and manufacturers will be allowed to import, and that for purposes of blending or flavoring their products.

Sir Lomer Gouin, Minister of Justice, George Black, Conservative member for the Yukon; Mr. Meighen and T. G. McBride, Progressive member for Cariboo, B. C., shared in the discussion which preceded the third reading.

Change Made
"Honorable members," said Sir Lomer Gouin, referring to comments on British Columbia, "are very much opposed, and rightly so, to the bootlegging that is carried on in that Province. My honorable friends object to licenses to exporters. Well, I am prepared to drop that."

The amendment submitted Wednesday by W. G. McQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster, to provide for a plebiscite on this question was defeated.

Black's Views
George Black, Conservative, Yukon, thought the fight against bootlegging in British Columbia was a "sham fight."

He said the effect of the legislation was to put in force what was known as the Doherty Act, without a vote of the people. He strongly protested against the legislation as he felt sure the people of British Columbia would defeat it if given an opportunity.

Public opinion in British Columbia was opposed to permitting private individuals to sell liquor in that Province, he said, but it was also opposed to any move to prevent importation by private individuals.

The Liquor Control Board was merely the Attorney-General of the Province, said Mr. Black. He pulled the strings and the Commissioners did his bidding. The Government of British Columbia and the Attorney-General of that Province had no mandate from the people to legislate them out of their rights.

Mr. Black claimed the bill sought to create government by Order-in-Council. It was giving the Attorney-General of British Columbia right by Order-in-Council to change the laws of that Province.

Mr. Black said that in order to sell liquor, British Columbia firms were compelled to appoint ward officers. Liberal associations for their agents.

The Government bought standard brands of whisky from Great Britain for $24.50 a case and charged the public $54 a case, said the Yukon member.

Amendment
Sir Lomer Gouin reminded the House that there had been a plebiscite on the question of liquor in British Columbia, and the Province had largely favored the system of Government control.

Sir Lomer proposed that the provision of the bill under discussion (Providing for an exception in favor of exporters of liquor) be made to apply to "any person duly licensed by the Government of Canada to carry on the business of a distiller or brewer in compliance with the laws governing such distilleries or breweries."

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen argued that the Minister of Justice could not plead that he had not the vote of the people behind this bill. In the Doherty Act safeguards were placed which it was now proposed to sweep away. British Columbia, by a vote of the people, had never agreed to the bill, he said.

No Bad Liquor
T. G. McBride, Progressive, Cariboo, thought the people of British Columbia wanted this bill. Since the Government had controlled liquor, he, Mr. McBride, had never tasted bad liquor, "and I know the taste of good liquor," he added, while the House smiled.

It should be beneath the dignity of a member of the Federal House, he added, to make insinuations against the Attorney-General of a Province, as had been done during the debate.

The Gouin amendment was then carried.

The amendment by W. G. McQuarrie, Conservative, New Westminster, to provide for a plebiscite, was defeated without discussion and the bill given third reading.

Quebec, May 4.—The official report of the sixteenth general election in the Province of Quebec, held February 3 last, was issued yesterday by L. P. Geoffroy, Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. Details show that 61.2 per cent. of the voters on the list voted. Out of the four general elections held in the last decade, the percentage of ballots cast on this last occasion was only surpassed in 1916, when it reached 62.5.

Taking the elections by acclamation as a unanimous vote, the votes of the parties were divided as follows:

Liberal and ministerialists, 199,300, or 60.5 per cent. of the vote cast; Conservatives, 128,859, or 39.2 per cent. of the vote cast. Other elements accounted for 925 votes, or 3 per cent.

BURIED AT EDMONTON

DAILY NEWSPAPER ASSOCIATION MET

Several Addresses in Toronto on Achievements of Press

Toronto, May 4.—Deprecation of commercialism in the newspaper profession, consideration of the mysterious influence of the radio on the daily Journal, great care in the editorial expression of opinion on questions which affect the life of the people and the welfare of Canada, and an appeal to approach the solution of the difficulties which confront Canada's realization of a great heritage not from the standpoint of the East or the West, but Canada as a whole, were some of the points of the addresses which featured the annual banquet of the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association here last night. The speakers were: Lieutenant-Governor Cockshutt, of Ontario; T. H. Preston, Brantford; J. E. Atkinson, Toronto; Don C. Seitz, New York, and Hon. Athanase David, Quebec Provincial Secretary.

Well Served by Papers.
Newspapers of great bulk had become a feature of present day journalism, said T. H. Preston, but in his opinion "we have gone far enough in size." He said the public was never better served than it was today by the newspapers of Canada. The matter of new influences was one which confronted him, especially "the mysterious agency of the radio," which kept children awake in late hours with bedtime stories and concert programmes, but he was not prepared to say where it all would end.

Commercialism.
Dealing with the development of the newspaper profession, Mr. Seitz said he deplored the passing of the individual in the newspaper and the tendency to commercialism. When the day arrived that newspapers combined in commercial activity, there could be only one end—disaster to the community—and some day the public would rise up and place the finger of regulation on such syndicates. If not, then liberty would disappear from the land.

"May I say," said Mr. David in the course of his address, "that the worst prejudice existing to-day in Canada is the one that has been created between the East and the West. I say that for Quebec there is no East or West; there is only one thing we consider in the search of a solution for our problems and that is Canada."

Officers.
The officers of the association were elected as follows: President—T. H. Preston, Brantford; Vice-President—J. M. Imrie, Edmonton; Treasurer—N. T. Bowman, Toronto; Directors—F. B. Ellis, St. John Globe; W. H. Dennis, Halifax Herald; L. J. Tarte, Montreal La Patrie; J. H. Henderson, Montreal Gazette; P. D. Rose, Ottawa Journal; George Scroggie, Toronto Mail and Empire; R. M. Glover, Peterboro Examiner; W. J. Taylor, Woodstock Sentinel-Review; R. B. Harris, Hamilton Herald; E. H. Marklin, Manitoba Free Press; J. H. Woods, Calgary Herald; Burford Hooge, Regina Leader; Henri Garnen, Quebec Le Soleil; B. C. Nicholas, Victoria Times; and E. J. Archibald, Montreal Star.

Trail Smelter.
Nelson, May 4.—With 11,200 tons of ore for the last nine days of April, the Trail Smelter accepted all told 153,334 tons of ore and concentrates to that date this year for treatment, against 150,493 tons for the first four months in 1922.

STEEL CREDITORS FILE THEIR CLAIMS

Court Action in Toronto; Total of $891,908.71

Toronto, May 4.—Acting for G. T. Clark, liquidator of the L. R. Steel Service Corporation, B. H. L. Symmes has filed with the Master of the Supreme Court a statement of the claims of creditors of the recompany. The total ordinary claims are $887,213.57 and the total preferred $4,695.14.

The ordinary claims are subdivided as follows: Filed and admitted, $704.10; unfilled, $849,322.11; unsettled, $36,577.35.

The preferred claims are as follows: Filed and admitted, $617.85; unfilled, $4,239.54; unsettled $2,377.65.

Of the ordinary filed claims, the largest are those of L. R. Steel, Inc., Buffalo, $160,861.17, and the Steel Realty Development Corporation, $68,585.25. These sums, Mr. Symmes explained, represented notes given by the L. R. Steel Service Corporation for stock in the other companies, which, was, he understood, bought outright.

The Master directed that notice be sent out to creditors notifying them that they must file their claims or run the risk of having their claims barred.

WAGES INCREASED
St. Louis, May 4.—The Wabash Railroad has granted its 2,300 clerks a wage increase of three cents an hour, it was announced. The minimum wage paid clerks now is 51 cents an hour, it was added.

NAKUSP FARMER ENDED HIS LIFE

Nelson, May 4.—The body of John Albert Goforth, aged thirty-five, a farmer and plasterer of Nakusp, was found at 8 o'clock yesterday morning by women neighbors in the bedroom he had used, with the throat cut from ear to ear, a razor by its side. The death had occurred twenty-four hours before. A note left his personal property to an adopted daughter, Mary Goforth, following a will which he executed a week ago leaving her his other property. A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of suicide.

WAGE INCREASE

Chicago, May 4.—Twenty thousand maintenance of way and railroad shompen of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway have been granted increased wages effective May 1, through an agreement just negotiated. A. F. Stout, vice-president of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railroad Shop Laborers, announced. The increase will range from 1 and 3½ cents an hour, Mr. Stout said.

Mother and Her Baby Are Relieved of Eczema

Mrs. Peter A. Palmer, Salt Burn, Sask., writes: "Dr. Chase's Ointment has completely relieved me of eczema and piles. I also used this Ointment for my baby, who broke out in eczema. A few applications were all that was necessary in her case. Dr. Chase's Ointment has been worth a hundred dollars to me—before using it I had spent a great deal more than that in unsuccessful treatment from doctors. We have also used Dr. Chase's other medicines, the Nerve Food having restored my health after suffering from severe nerve trouble when a girl."

The secret of the fresh and delicious flavor of Moir's chocolates lies in the chocolate coating.

Moirs do not buy their chocolate coatings. They make their own, importing for this purpose the choicest cocoa beans. These are roasted and blended by a secret process in the Moir candy kitchens. Then they are ground by machinery for days at a time until the chocolate paste has the smoothness of satin with a texture so close and fine that the air is excluded.

That is why you always find Moir's so fresh and delicious.

The wonderful coating preserves their goodness.

Take home a box to-day.

HIGHWAYS.
Is it wise of the Dominion Government to close down its highway policy after the whole of the $30,000,000 appropriation has been absorbed by the various provinces? This is a matter of vital importance to British Columbia at the present time.

What this Province requires and requires at the earliest possible moment is a through road to the Interior and links between sections that are rubbing along under no mean highway difficulties.

In any event it is good business to build roads; but costs in this Province are considerably higher than they are in other parts of the country.

THE MEASURE PASSES.

In spite of purely political objections from British Columbia and Yukon Conservatives the great majority of the members of the Dominion House of Commons did not find it difficult to support the measure that is intended to give the Government of this Province a better opportunity to carry out the wishes of the people and put an end to an illegal traffic in liquor.

Yesterday's debate produced nothing new in the way of objection. The Yukon member echoed the sentiments of his Vancouver colleague and preened himself in the role of guardian of the liberties of the people—without the melodramatic effect so childishly employed by Mr. Stevens. And it now remains for the Senate to reverse the decision which it gave in respect of a similar measure last year.

If conditions had not reached such a serious state, if bootlegging were not the business that it undoubtedly is, the arguments which the British Columbia Conservatives have advanced in the House of Commons would be humorous to a degree. But they have chosen to discount the intelligence of the electorate of this Province by advocating the continuance of a policy that would perpetuate a state of affairs so obviously nauseating to every decent citizen.

It would be interesting to learn just how much privately-imported liquor went into the cellars of law-abiding citizens during the last twelve months. We are of the opinion that official records would reveal just how unnecessary this privilege has been. And there has been a conspicuous absence of popular protest against the Attorney-General's application.

ROYAL AND ANCIENT'S NEW DIGNITY.

In these days of progressive legislation one experiences only a mild form of thrill when some ambitious politician goes one better than anybody ever expected. But it has remained for the Bahamas Legislature to set a pace that other law-making establishments may emulate in a more general sense in the distant future.

Whist for those in search of health we need do little more than safeguard the reputation of our unrivaled climate. We should not neglect the needs of those who visit us in search of recreation—and the one class invariably brings the other in its train. I shall shortly submit for your approval an Agreement under which the sum of $15,000, already appropriated for the purpose, has been loaned to a subsidiary company to be formed by the President of the Bahamas Hotel Company for the purpose of constructing and operating an 18-hole golf course.

Golfing enthusiasm in this city at the present time, not to mention that large body of public opinion which is still hopeful that this municipality will sooner or later invest in a municipal undertaking, is a convincing reminder that the royal and ancient pastime has established itself as a compelling recreation and a sovereign remedy for many of the minor, and even the major, ills to which mankind is heir. But to refer to golf in a speech from the Throne is to endow the game with a dignity that this continent would never have dreamed possible ten years ago.

PRODUCING AND SELLING.

People who talk about the establishment of industries seem to have the idea that unless this or any other community can look forward to giant factories there is very little point in any campaign of the sort that might reasonably interest us here.

It should be borne in mind that every country is endeavoring to produce more than it needs. The business of selling goods on an increasing scale has encouraged mass production in lines that can only be profitably made and sold under that condition of output. Automobiles and the varied forms of machinery obviously come under this head and the very nature of such enterprises, the somewhat limited market for their products, has determined the number of plants and their proximity to one another in more countries than one.

On the other hand communities aspiring to become industrial centres in this Province should nourish the tendency to specialize. This locality is obviously suited to the production of many things that other parts of the country could not even entertain. It is repeating an old story to refer to this fact; but the force of the argument remains. For instance, some enterprising citizen in Nelson conceived a market for clothes pins and started making them. He is now employing a number of people in his small plant.

These are the undertakings that mean turnover and contribute to local prosperity. And the point to remember is that a more evenly distributed production is increasing out of proportion to demand. Japan is on the way to becoming industrially self-sustaining. China is beginning to show signs of similar activity. What is going to happen when the latter's 400,000,000 advance in commerce as they may do eventually!

STARTLING FIGURES.

It would be a good thing if the governments of this country would arrange to have a "Save-the-Forests" week more than once a year. The annual affair on both sides of the international boundary undoubtedly does an immense amount of good and reminds the people of their responsibilities in the matter. But the statistics of yearly loss indicate a rate of destruction of one of our most valuable assets that must be substantially curtailed if posterity is to derive adequate benefit from our timber resources.

Figures given to the Rotary Club by Major Cowan at yesterday's luncheon indicate that British Columbia's timber loss from fire alone in 1922 amounted to no less a sum than $23,000,000. This cost takes on added significance when one remembers that it represents a total greater by something like $4,000,000 than the revenue of the Province from all sources. On top of this the taxpayers of British Columbia were taxed to the extent of $750,000 in respect of the cost of fighting fires. Small wonder that there is still an urgent necessity to impress upon the people the need for greater caution!

Major Cowan informed his audience that only five per cent. of the fires which originated in the forests of this Province last year were caused by lightning. Logging camps were responsible for twelve per cent. of the outbreaks; but approximately one-third were traced to the carelessness of campers. These findings speak for themselves and dictate an obvious course to those who enjoy life in the great out-of-doors.

SAVE THE ANIMALS.

Without ado or ostentation the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has done an excellent work in this locality for a number of years past. It is not necessary to enlarge upon the duties that its Inspector carries out in the interests of those faithful creatures which cannot speak for themselves. But if this humanitarian task is to be regarded as a permanent institution in Victoria more funds will have to be found. It therefore goes without saying that an appreciative and benevolent public will support to-morrow's tag day.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Herr Krupp von Bohlen will have discovered by this time that the French are actually ruling the roost in the Ruhr. How the Essen magnate's outlook has changed in a few short years!

The First Lord of the British Admiralty says it will not be possible for many years to come to put a battle fleet into the Pacific. We shall hope the occasion will never arise.

The Free State Government has not wasted any time on the peace proposals which de Valera caused to be published the other day. There is apparently no pressing urgency why it should as long as the rebel leader remains in his present attitude.

It is very considerate of British Columbia's Conservative members of the House of Commons to demonstrate such concern for the welfare of the people in the matter of liquor importation. They little know how far the British Columbia electorate sees through their little game.

How times and circumstances do change! Only a short time ago France and Turkey seemed to be going along the international pathway arm in arm. Now France tells Turkey that unless the concentration of Turkish troops on the Syrian border is not stopped immediately she will withdraw from the Lausanne Conference.

Mr. T. G. McBride, Progressive member for the Cariboo, observed in the House of Commons yesterday that he considered himself to be a fair judge of Scotch whisky and he had not detected any of the poisonous stuff to which Mr. Manson's political opponents had referred. Of course not; it requires a very delicate political palate to bolt from the Liquor Board's vintage.

QUESTION.
Peace River Record.—In the interests of economy, may we expect the Greenfield government to deduct an amusement tax when making payments under the mothers' allowance act?

EMIGRATION DIFFICULTIES.
Rhodesian Chronicle.—To-day, there seems to be a stronger recognition in the old country of the need for populating the overseas empire, but circumstances and ideas have so changed that the former type of rough-and-ready emigration is at a discount. The fact that the poor man is now much better off in Britain than he used to be, in the matter of wages as well as in the existence of old age pensions and unemployment allowances, is allied to the conviction of the Dominions and colonies that they do not want the poorer immigrant.

Dinner for Queens.
Mayor Hayward has agreed to preside at the dinner to be given Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the Chamber of Commerce restaurant, to the Queen contestants in connection with the Maytime Frolic. All the prospective Queens, with their managers will be there. A musical programme is being arranged, under the direction of Frank Sehl. As there is every prospect that the attendance will tax the accommodations, those who intend being present, are asked to make their reservations as soon as possible.

The rules announced yesterday in regard to the ending of the contest are as follows:
1. The contest will close on Saturday, May 12, at 6 p.m., after which hour no further money or votes will be accepted.
2. All managers must, on or before 12 o'clock noon on Thursday, notify the committee whether it is their intention to take the discounts to which they are entitled in cash or in kind. Any manager neglecting to conform to this rule will be credited with votes for the amount of the cash standing to his credit.
3. The standing of the contestants will be issued on Friday, May 11, at 12 o'clock noon. From the time of publication of such standing, no further information will be furnished to the candidates, their managers or representatives, and the final result, up to Saturday following, when the contest closes, will be held in the charge of F. H. Kidd, chartered accountant, who will certify the final vote and whose decision will be final.
4. Mr. Kidd, C.A., and his assistants will be the only persons allowed in the room where the books of record relating to the contest will be kept on May 12.

RULE AGAINST HOLDING CITY REVERTED LAND

Council Committee Urges That Sale Be Pressed Vigorously
Suspension of Sale Would Lose City Large Revenue Annually

Sale of the city's reverted lands will be pressed as vigorously as possible and not suspended to boost real estate prices if the City Council adopts the recommendation of its Reverted Lands Committee. The committee, it was learned yesterday, is unanimously opposed to the Chamber of Commerce plan to hold the reverted lands so as to stabilize real estate prices. A recommendation to this effect will be laid before the Council immediately.

The city is now selling about $100,000 worth of reverted land a year, members of the committee explain. If the sale were stopped the city would lose revenue of $100,000 a year. Besides—this is the most important consideration—all the land included in these sales would remain non-revenue-producing.
By selling the land, it is pointed out, the city puts it on a tax-paying basis again. Thus the sale of any properly represents much more to the city than the actual money received for it.

These facts are thought by the Reverted Lands Committee to outweigh any argument in favor of holding the lands. The committee does not believe that holding these lands would effect very important results anyway. The interests of the ratepayers of Victoria demand that the lands be sold and made to produce revenue as soon as possible again, the committee holds.

HIS BACKSLIDING TROUBLED INDIAN

His Original Sin Began With Adam, Says Emile Jim, Penitent in Court

The backsliding of Emile Jim, an Indian of the Quamichan Reserve of the Cowichan band, and Tommy Ferguson, a member of the Esquimalt Reservation, received a considerable airing in the city police court to-day during the trial of Alan W. Ferguson. Ferguson was charged on remand with supplying liquor to an Indian, and denied the charge. R. C. Lowe appeared for the defense and C. L. Harrison for the Crown. A remand was taken until May 9.

His Original Sin
On the witness stand Emile Jim, aged twenty-eight, stated his original sin dated back to the first of this year when, with Adam, an Indian companion, he called on the accused and was given liquor he alleged. Emile Jim admitted that his second fall from grace came on April 23 when he alleged he obtained a bottle from the accused for $5.

Evangelist Called

To the court Emile Jim recited the facts as he saw them. He had come to town to get fruit for his ailing mother and had walked about the streets waiting for the train time to leave for his home. At the corner of Government and Johnson Streets he met Tommy George and his wife. Mr. and Mrs. George were then on their way to an evangelist service.

Tommy Escaped Wife

Emile Jim, so he told the court, later met Tommy George alone and in the act of going up the stairs to the premises of the accused on Johnson Street. Tommy, alleged witness, told him he was going for a drink and Emile accompanied him. Together, said witness, both entered the premises of the accused and there had a bottle of beer. Later, alleged witness, the accused sold him a bottle of liquor for $5, in the presence of Tommy George.

Emile then left and returned to the station to wait for his train. In the train on the way home he kept the square bottle concealed under his trousers as he had been warned, he said, by the accused not to disclose the bottle on his train.

Recollections Faded.

Once home the witness pulled the cork from the square bottle and drank of its contents. Some of the liquid he shared with a friend on the reservation and then his recollection of matters dimmed. The next thing he clearly remembered was finding the police on his trail.

Emile Jim, speaking through the mouth of Rev. C. M. Tate, a noted interpreter for the Indian tongue, told his story simply and without effort to shield his own backsliding. On cross-examination witness admitted that he had accepted drink on occasion from friends in Duncan, but stated he had not purchased any for himself until the two occasions he related to the court.

Mr. Lowe, for the defense, suggested to Emile Jim that he was not very sure of the premises of the accused as to what street it might be, and evidence on this point occupied the court for some time.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Daily Times, May 4, 1898.

London, May 4, 1898.—The Stars and Stripes now float over the Philippine Islands. The second Spanish squadron is ready for sea. The Spaniards evacuated Bayamo, which was occupied immediately by the insurgents. The American fleet suffered considerably in capturing Manila.

Peter Sandberg endeavored to commit suicide to-day by cutting his throat with a razor on the corner of Yates and Government Streets. Sandberg is insane.

Victoria's Council opposed the Mayor in his plans to borrow $15,000 to complete the water works at Beaver Lake. It is not likely that the money will ever be obtained.

SAILORS' GUILD IN ANNUAL MEETING

Mrs. Alice Thomson Again President; Excellent Work Reviewed

Mrs. Alice Thomson was re-elected by acclamation as president of the Ladies' Guild for Sailors at the annual meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Connaught Seamen's Institute. Other officers for the ensuing year will include: Vice-president, Mrs. W. B. Sayer; secretary, Mrs. Colin Cummins; treasurer, Mrs. Gilliat; wool convener, Mrs. Wilders; convener of hospital work, Mrs. Sayer.

On the motion of Mrs. Dean, seconded by Mrs. Hiscocks, the meeting decided to support the Navy Queen in the Maritime Provinces; to test by purchasing tickets to the value of $5. Plans were made in connection with a garden party in June. A dainty tea was served under the direction of Mrs. Evans.

Secretary's Report
The report of the retiring secretary, Mrs. Sayer, pointed out that the Connaught Seamen's Institute and Sailors' Club, Esquimalt, were the property of the British and Foreign Sailors' Society, of London, England, of which the Guild is a branch. The management and maintenance of the two Institutes is entirely in the hands of the Guild, while the Esquimalt Sailors' Club is under a separate committee, ably assisted by the Ladies' Guild.

"As our work consists of the care of the sailor from his cradle to his grave, the Guild has to consider the children of the sailor, as well as the sailor's widow and orphans.

At the Connaught Institute, the "Mother Home" in Victoria, most of the relief work is done in connection with the sailor's widow, sailor's children, and hospital work. Figures quoted showed that during the year, the following supplies had been sent out: Socks, 24; Christmas gifts to hospitals and homes, 21; seamen signing book, 327; seamen paying for beds, 186.

Reference was made to the work of the president, Mrs. Thomson; of Mrs. Moore, as wool convener; Mrs. Sayer, as hospital convener; "Mother Home" convener, Mrs. Neroutas; the residents, whose departure from the city was once again noted with regret.

Hospital work had included the care of sailors sent to the T. B. ward, four having died during the year. At the present time there are seventeen sick men in the two hospitals.

The Esquimalt branch of the Guild, comprising 2,000 boys, at the two Institutes had shown the usefulness of these homes in the city. Dinner had been served at both Institutes, 17 from tag day and about 100 from the Sailors' Club. Reference was made to the care bestowed by Mrs. Smith, matron of the Connaught Institute, on a sick sailor.

Financial Statement
The financial statement showed that receipts for the year had totalled (including $380.10 balance in the bank) $2,562.74, while expenditure had amounted to $1,527.47. In the receipts were included $22.20, representing rental of beds to sailors. Other big sums included $113.55 from last Summer's garden party; $60.24 from tag day and about 100 from the Sailors' Club. Reference was made to the care bestowed by Mrs. Smith, matron of the Connaught Institute, on a sick sailor.

YOUR HOME AND YOU

By HELEN KENDALL
Fruit for the Family

"Almost the first responsibility of every housewife," said a domestic science speaker before a club of women recently, "is to see that her family has plenty of fruit. Personally, I think that every one should eat fruit of some kind at least once a day—always at breakfast, of course, and if not at luncheon, then at dinner, and if not at dinner, at bedtime.

With all the fresh fruits, dried fruits, canned fruits and cook possibilities open to us now, days, there isn't any reason why we can't have a different form of fruit concoction every day in the month, the year round. If, at certain times, grape-fruit, oranges and grapes are out of reach of the everyday purse, there are all the delicious dishes to be produced from prunes, raisins, dates and figs, dried apricots and peaches and apples; the luscious juiciness of canned pears, peaches, cherries, pineapple and maraschino cherries. Of late, the manufacturers have been making fruit salads easy for us by putting up "grape-fruit hearts," relieving us of the tedious task of preparing the fresh fruit ourselves.

"A fruit cocktail in the morning is one of the best ways to get the family its start-off for the day. At this time of the year try a rhubarb cocktail, stewing the ruddy stalks with a little more water than is used for rhubarb sauce, and straining off the pulp. This leaves a clear, pale mauve liquid, which can be tossed off at a single quaff, and which is delicious. A wineglass of orange juice, of grape-fruit juice, of pineapple juice, or of the juice from any of the canned fruits, makes a perfect breakfast appetizer. Among those who keep the rest of the meal waiting and cooling while fruit is eaten.

"We get into ruts about our fruits, I think. Try slowly boiling peeled apples in a syrup not too sweet, instead of baking them, all the time. Try baking prunes, instead of stewing them. One white of egg, well whipped, will make a multi-mouth soufflé of the prosaic evaporated apple or peach as a dessert; and it takes only a moment.

Try some of the rarer fruits now and then: alligator pear, casaba melons, persimmons, pomegranate. They are expensive, and a little must go a long way, but they add to the richness immensely. The berry family will fill in our time until the fresh peaches, pears and grapes come; but as a matter of fact, there is no time in the year when fresh fruits are not available and affordable. Once a day surely, twice a day almost surely—fruit!"

START TAXICABS FOR WOMEN ONLY

"By women and for women" is the watchword of a new taxicab company, which has just started in New York. It owes its existence to the uneasiness caused to women by the recent crime wave. Many of New York's cab-drivers are now spending long terms in gaol for robbery committed upon late travellers. The new company has announced that it will pay its women drivers the same wages as men and appeals for the patronage of women who detained beyond the normal time of going home, fear male taxicab-drivers.

DEATH OF ORIGINATOR PORTERHOUSE STEAKS

Mrs. Anna F. Remich, who brought fame to a particular cut of beefsteak, has died at Milford, New Hampshire. Shortly after the close of the American Civil War Mrs. Remich became cook at the Porter House (an inn) in North Cambridge, Mass., and her cooking made the hotel noted.

She developed such skill in carrying steaks from sides of heavy beef that the tender cuts which she served soon became known as "Porterhouse steaks." Mrs. Remich was 87.

"WAR WIDOW" HAS BEEN ARRESTED

Paris, May 3.—Scores of Americans along the Riviera, who during the last few months have become the victims of a fearful war widow, now are gaining some consolation in the fact that her plea for cash moved the hearts of such wise financiers as millionaire and now principal stockholder in the Casino, and Prince Louis of Monaco, while it is reported that even Judge Gary dug into his pockets for a few hundred francs to relieve the woman's suffering.

The Paris courts this week discovered that she is really a hospital nurse out of work, and that the child she represented as having been abandoned by a cruel Canadian officer had been hired from a friend for twenty francs a day. A Riviera newspaper opened its columns to subscriptions, and in a few days received 5,000 francs, which enabled "Mrs. Stowe" to return to Paris. Here she renewed her acquaintance with Montmartre, until her funds were exhausted. She was arrested while trying to interest American Aid officials in her alleged plight.

LEECHES SUGGESTED AS CURE FOR LOVE

Ancient Medical Papers Reveal Curious Methods of Treatment

Paris, May 3.—The progress that medicine has made in the last three centuries is shown in a striking manner by a number of ancient examination papers which have just been discovered in the dusty files of the French Academy of Medicine. Instead of discussing the technique of operations and diagnosis the medicos of that day were ordered to answer such questions as: "Should a young girl who is foolishly in love be treated with leeches?"

"It is good for the health to be drunk at least once a month."

"Is a woman an imperfect creation of nature, and is a pretty woman more productive than her ugly sisters?"

They were even asked if literary aspirants should ever marry, the records then showing as convincingly as any newspaper census to-day that there were a large number of literary marriages in which the men had their fortunes thwarted by wily interference.

WORLD GOING MAD, STATES DR. LAWSON

Immorality is Cause of Worldly Evils
Each Generation Grows Physically Weaker

The law of compensation last night found a champion in the person of Dr. J. C. Lawson, of Vancouver, a leading scientist and dietitian whose eloquent and whole-hearted address to a large Victoria audience at the Chamber of Commerce was greatly appreciated. He expressed his belief that Dr. Deroches, director of the asylums of Quebec in saying that in the present day with the immorality which is rife, the people will be insane in twenty years unless they return to the old life, caring for themselves with a view to making this world more habitable. Dr. Lawson, who has lectured here before, remarked that five years ago he made this same observation.

Dr. Lawson was emphatic when he said that immorality taking the place of moderation was insanity. The eating of "civilized" foods, and eating to an immoderate extent of any foods, would cause some sort of reaction. Dr. Lawson found fault with many of the modern prepared foodstuffs, including pasteurized milk and the much vaunted breakfast foods which are eaten by the public to such an extent. Shavings are as wholesome as any of these, he stated.

Disease was caused by bad habits, stated the Doctor, since these disappear when will sickness also. "But we must live nature's way, sanely and moderately," he declared. "Each succeeding generation has been weaker and weaker, and unless people look quickly to preventatives rather than cures, then will the world suffer. What are needed to-day are teachers of health."

The speaker will give another address to-night on the subject, "Miracles and Cures." Alderman Wood-

WARD PRESIDED AT THE MEETING LAST NIGHT AND INTRODUCED THE SPEAKER.

BACKS MANSON IN LIQUOR FIGHT

Toronto, May 4.—Ottawa is urged in the leading editorial of the Toronto Star to "give Quebec and B. C. a square deal" and back up Attorney-General Manson in his efforts to end bootlegging by passing the bill to give provinces control of all liquor imports.

"The Provinces of British Columbia and Quebec have liquor under government control, but this federal law which prevents the private importation of liquor into Ontario and the other prohibition provinces does not apply to British Columbia and Quebec," the Star says.

"As liquor in practically unlimited quantities can thus be privately imported into British Columbia and Quebec, it is a matter of fact, impossible. There is a heavy illicit traffic in liquor in British Columbia—bootleggers sell it after hours and on days when the Government shops are closed. It is said, too, that liquor imported in bond for export, is ostensibly shipped out of Canada again by boat, but is landed at night at suitable places and disposed of by bootlegging."

"Last year at the request of British Columbia and Quebec the Federal Parliament passed legislation, banning private importation of liquor into those two provinces and placing them, in this respect, in the same position as the prohibition provinces. This would have made government control complete. But the Senate, at the last minute, struck out the clause which would have put a stop to private importation."

"The same legislation will be pressed for again this session, and it is expected that it will pass both Houses and become law. Any person, whether in favor of prohibition or opposed to it, who is not in the bootlegging business, should support the passage of this law. Every province in Canada is trying to deal with liquor in one or two ways, either by prohibition of it, or government control of it. The federal law which assists the prohibition provinces should not be denied the government-control provinces.

"Not only is there bootlegging in Quebec and British Columbia, because of the private importations, but the illicit trade carried on in Ontario and across the American border is almost entirely fed from that source. If the very roots of lawlessness are to be cut the way to do it is by federal law to give Quebec and British Columbia the actual government control of liquor for which the people voted and which the governments of these provinces now ask."

NEW CATERER AT CHAMBER AUDITORIUM

Robert Bouch, who has taken over the restaurant of the Chamber of Commerce, has refitted and refurbished the establishment and opened formally for business to-day with the luncheon of the tourist trade group of the Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Bouch will be getting off to a good start, as he will have about 200 at the Maytime Frolic dinner on Monday of next week, at which the Queen contestants will be the guests. On Tuesday of next week he will serve luncheon to about 200 visitors who will be here in connection with the opening of the Anacortes ferry and the Rotary on Thursday, together with luncheons for the directors and various groups of the Chamber of Commerce, will help to make up a busy week. It is his intention also to have a dance and supper regularly on Saturday evenings.

Mr. Bouch has had considerable experience in the hotel and restaurant business. He has been operating the St. James Hotel in Victoria, and prior to that he was steward and accountant at the Pacific Mills and Hotel in Ocean Falls. Before joining the army he was steward of the Lotus Hotel in Vancouver. He was also connected with the Strand and the old Hamilton Hotel in Vancouver in the days when they were famous.

H. G. WELLS
FAMOUS
OUTLINE OF HISTORY
The Romance of Mother Earth

The Growth of National Valities The Well-Bred Age of Voltaire

In these recent instalments we have been dealing with an age of division, of separated nationalities. We have already described this period of the seventh and eighteenth centuries as an interregnum, or pause, in the progress of mankind toward a worldwide unity. We are living in it to-day. It may be drawing toward its close; we cannot tell yet.

Throughout this period there was no ruling idea, in men's minds. The impulse of the empire had fallen until the emperor was no more than one of the number of competing princes and the dream of Christendom also was a fading dream. The developing "powers" jostled one another throughout the world; but for a time it seemed that they might jostle one another indefinitely without any great catastrophe to mankind.

The great geographical discoveries of the sixteenth century had so enlarged human resources that, for all their divisions, for all the waste of their wars and policies, the people of Europe enjoyed a considerable and increasing prosperity. Central Europe recovered steadily from the devastation of the Thirty Years' War.

A Transitory Period.
Looking back upon this period, which came to its climax in the eighteenth century, looking back, as we can begin to do nowadays, and seeing its events in relation to the centuries that came before it and to the great movements of the present time, we are able to realize how transitory and provisional were its political forms and how unstable its securities. Provisional it was as no other age has been provisional, an age of assimilation and recuperation, a political pause, a gathering up of the ideas of men and the resources of science for a wider human effort.

But the contemporary mind did not see it in that light. The failure of the great creative ideas as they had been formulated in the Middle Ages had left human thought for a time destitute of the guidance of creative ideas; even educated and imaginative men saw the world un-dramatically; no longer as an inter-play of effort and destiny, but as the scene in which a trite happiness was sought and the milder virtues were rewarded.

It was not simply the contentedness of the high-bred, who in a world of rapid changes, were under the sway of this assurance of an achieved fixity of human conditions, but the intelligent, the energetic, the intelligent, in default of any sustaining movements in the soul of the community, betrayed the same disposition.

Political life, they felt, had ceased to be the urgent and tragic thing it had once been; it had become a polite comedy. The eighteenth was a century of comedy, which at the end grew grim.

It is inconceivable that that world of the middle eighteenth century could have produced a Jesus of Nazareth, a Gautama, a Francis of Assisi, an Ignatius of Loyola. If one may imagine an eighteenth-century John Huss, it is impossible to imagine any one with sufficient passion to burn him.

Until the stirrings of conscience in Britain that developed into the Methodist revival began, we can detect scarcely a suspicion that there still remained great tasks in hand for our age to do, that enormous disturbances were close at hand, or that the path of man with countless dangers, and must to the end remain a high and terrible enterprise.

We have quoted again and again in this history from Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" in which many of the ideas that are in it for the last time and bid it farewell, for we have come to the age in which it was written. Gibbon was born in 1737, and the last volume of his history was published in 1787, but the passage we shall quote was probably written in the year 1785.

Gibbon was a young man of delicate health and fairly good for-ture; he had a partial and interrupted education at Oxford, and then he completed his studies in Geneva. On the whole his outlook was French and cosmopolitan rather than British, and he was much under the intellectual influence of the great Frenchman who, is best known under the name of Voltaire (Francois Marie Arouet de Voltaire, 1694-1778).

Voltaire was the author of enormous industry; seventy volumes of his prose and another edition of Voltaire's works runs to ninety-four.

He dealt largely with history and public affairs, and he corresponded with Catherine the Great of Russia, Frederick the Great of Prussia, Louis XV, and most of the prominent people of the time.

But Voltaire and Gibbon had the sense of history strong in them; both have set out very plainly and fully their visions of human life; and it is clear that to both of them the system in which they lived, the system of monarchy, of leisurely and privileged gentlemen, of rather despised industrial and trading people and of down-trodden and negligible laborers and poor and common people, seemed the most stably established way of living that the world had ever known.

They postured a little as republicans, and sneered at the divine pretensions of monarchy; but the republicanism that they had in mind was the crowned republicanism of the Britain of those days, in which the king was simply the ideal head of the first and greatest of the gentlemen.

The ideal they sustained was the ideal of a polite and polished world in which men of quality, that is, for no others counted—would be ashamed to be cruel or gross or enthusiastic, in which the appearance of folly would be sparkling and elegant, and the fear of ridicule the potent auxiliary of the law in maintaining the decorum and harmonies of life.

Perplexed by Christianity
Voltaire had in him the possibility of a passionate hatred of injustice, and his interventions on behalf of persecuted or distressed men are the high lights of his long and complicated life story.

And this being the mental disposition of Gibbon and Voltaire, and of the age in which they lived, it is natural that they should find the existence of religion in the world, and the maintenance of the Christian religion, a perplexing and rather unaccountable phenomenon.

The whole of that side of life seemed to them a kind of craziness in the human make-up. Gibbon's great history is essentially an attack upon Christianity as the operating cause of the decline and fall. He realized the crude and gross plutocracy of Rome into a world of fine gentlemen upon the eighteenth century model, and told how it fell before the horizon from within because of the decay through Christianity within.

In our history here we have tried to see that "better light" which Voltaire official Christianity was "infame"; something that limited people's lives, interfered with their thoughts, perverted honest dissentients. And indeed in that period there was very little life or light in either the orthodox Christianity of Gibbon or in the orthodox faith churches of Russia and of the Protestant princes.

In an age incommensured with an abundance of stored-up passion and priests it was hard to realize what fires had once blazed in the heart of Christianity; and what fires of opinion and religious passion might still blaze in the hearts of men.

The Annual is filled with photographs of the students, clever drawings and interesting reading matter. While carefully recording the activities of the students during the last year, the editors have found plenty of space for the irresponsible and delightful humor that is one of the best features of school papers. The Annual was produced under the direction of E. J. Knapton, Editor-in-Chief, who learned how to publish school magazines as a member of the staff of the High School "Camosun."

Avoiding an impending collision with a cyclist who came around the corner of Vancouver and Yates Streets unexpectedly yesterday a car owned by Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General, crashed into a city electric light standard and wrecked that equipment. No one was injured, but the motor car was slightly damaged, being removed by Messrs. Jamieson and Willis. Under recent regulations promulgated by the city the driver of the car doing the damage to city light standard is held liable for the cost of repairs. A complete standard is valued in the neighborhood of $100.

Plan Welcome For Anacortes Excursionists

A dozen or fifteen volunteers with automobiles are asked to come forward and help out the reception committee of the Publicity Bureau in connections with the excursion from Anacortes at the opening of the ferry service next Tuesday. It is expected there will be about 150 visitors. The ferry will reach Sidney from Anacortes at noon, standard time, which will then be one o'clock Victoria time. The volunteers' automobiles are wanted to take care of those of the visitors who do not bring their own cars.

On arrival in Victoria there will be a luncheon at one p.m. standard time at the Chamber of Commerce restaurant. One of the speakers will be H. L. Dodge, president of the Anacortes Chamber of Commerce. The chair will be taken by Joseph Patrick, president of the Victoria Publicity Bureau. The president and members of the Victoria Automobile Club are being asked to take part in the reception. Arrangements are being made to permit the visitors to spend about nine hours in the city.

Quimet Beats Willing By One Stroke for Cup

Boston Star Will Carry Royal St. George's Grand Challenge Trophy to United States For First Time, Winning Play-Off To-day; Britishers Accept Defeat With Customary Good Sportsmanship and Have Generous Praise For Game of Visitors

Sandwich, Eng., May 4.—Francis Quimet, of Boston, won the Royal St. George's Championship Grand Challenge golf trophy to-day, defeating by one stroke Dr. O. F. Willing, of Portland, Ore., in the play-off of yesterday's tie. Quimet took 77 strokes for the 18 holes while Dr. Willing took 78.

London, May 4.—The fact that a United States golfer is to carry home the Royal St. George's Grand Challenge Cup is received with the customary good sportsmanship of the British, and some generous praise of the fine game of the trans-Atlantic players is given by the London newspaper experts. There are no alphas, no excuses are made for the defeat of the Old Country players.

Sandwich, May 4.—Quimet did what was expected of him in being at the top of the field yesterday; but Willing's achievement seems to have been somewhat of a surprise, even though he had led in the first round with 74. This morning those who call themselves critics of golf said Willing could keep up yesterday's play. They were anxious to wager, in fact some of them did bet even money on Gardner and Quimet against the entire field. They had believed Willing surpassed himself yesterday. To-day, however, he was able to "hook" and "slice" alike and even come home with a good enough card to get his fingers on the rim of the cup. Once more to-day he used his putter like a madman and Quimet shot the white ball round the course with soundness and consistency, only occasionally lightened by a stroke of brilliant like Gardner's, he failed by inches on several holes to sink very long putts; but unlike Gardner, he never needed three putts to get down. This fact well Gardner both on the tenth and seventh holes, and it was he himself that thought this put him out of a tie or victory.

Detroit Now Occupies Top Place in Race

Tigers Lead the American League; Chicago Cubs Lose Famous Star

New York, May 4.—The Detroit Tigers hopped into first place in the American League yesterday by beating Cleveland 6-5. Through their victory over Washington three to two, the New York Yankees went into second place, while Cleveland were third. Hard hitting by St. Louis won over Chicago 6-3.

Brilliant fielding by Boston's infield, which Philadelphia's defence cracked, gave the Red Sox a 3-1 victory.

Charlie Grimm's three-bagger, which helped Pittsburgh defeat Cincinnati 5-1, featured the National League individual performance.

Brooklyn with a heavy bombardment, broke its losing streak to New York, trimming the Giants 11-3.

Cy Williams hit his sixth homer of the season with one on Philadelphia and won the game for the Quakers over Boston, 6-4.

St. Louis, May 4.—Ray Grimes, first baseman of the Chicago Nationals, was injured in the fourth inning of yesterday's game here and will be out for several days by the team management. Grimes suffered an injury to his spine in sliding into third base.

YANKEE STADIUM NO HELP TO BABE

Comparison With Polo Grounds. Ruth's First Home Run Recording a Long Triple Unusual Freak Play

New York, May 4.—The Yankee stadium is being built around Babe Ruth. It often heard that remark last summer while the park was under construction.

The inference was that the park was being built in such a manner that would assist Ruth in breaking his home-run record.

The day before the opening of the season I went over and looked the stadium over. The foul line limits in left and right field are about the same distance from the plate as at the polo grounds. That means that it will be as easy to get a home run at the stadium as at the polo grounds on fly balls that travel just inside the foul line.

The short territory, however, is decidedly limited, and as the playing territory works away from the foul line the distance from the home plate is rapidly increased.

After giving the field the once over I made the remark that Ruth would find it more difficult to get home runs at the new stadium than at the polo grounds.

Ruth in the first game hit a home run. It was a decidedly legitimate one. It would have traveled into the far end of the right field stands at the polo grounds.

In the second game Ruth hit a triple that bore out my belief that Ruth would find the stadium a harder place to get home runs than the polo grounds.

With the outfield playing deep, Ruth hit a slow curve on the outside that failed to break, far over the head of Left Fielder John Harris. The ball struck the left centre bleachers on the second bounce, traveling about twenty feet after first hitting the ground.

I felt positive that the ball would have gone for a home run on any ball park in the American League yesterday excepting Washington, which has a very deep left field.

After the game I bumped into Major Tom Birmingham, who designed the Yankee stadium, and asked him how far the ball had traveled.

"The distance from the home plate to where the ball struck the bleachers is 400 feet," replied Birmingham. "I don't say that the ball traveled about 450 yards on the fly and a high fly at that. On the polo grounds it would have been an easy home run."

It didn't take the 1923 season long to produce something unusual in the way of freak plays.

In a National League game at Boston the other day two players were charged at the plate by Catcher Snyder on the same throw from the outfield.

Sounds impossible, but here are the details: With Southworth on second base and Boeckel on first, Bagwell hit the ball far beyond right field. Would the ball be caught?

Southworth believed that Right Fielder Young of the Giants would catch the ball. The ball was in the air for a moment when Boeckel didn't think so and dashed for second.

As Boeckel was almost to second, Southworth decided that Young wouldn't get the ball and dashed madly to third, with Boeckel at his heels.

The ball struck the right field bleachers, Young taking it on the rebound, throwing it to Frisch, who received it.

Athletic War Looming Over Chas. Paddock

Amateur Union Announces Disqualification; Collegians Balk at Ruling

New York, May 4.—While Frederick W. Ruben, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, was announcing last night that Charles Paddock, Canadian sprinter, had automatically disqualified himself as an amateur within the jurisdiction of the A. A. U. by participating yesterday in an international student track meet at Paris, England, General Palmer E. Pierce, president of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, issued a statement declaring the N. O. A. A. had sanctioned Paddock's entry, and could see no ground for objection to his action.

The rival statements loomed, in the opinion of competent observers, as the initial skirmish in an athletic war with international complications, precipitated by Paddock's defiance of the A. A. U. in the face of that body's determined opposition to foreign competition this year by American athletes.

Lined up in the controversy with the A. A. U. is the American Olympic committee, which has gone on record as opposed to foreign competition this year because of the proximity of the 1924 Olympic Games, while the other side are marshaled the collegiate athletic forces of both this country and Europe.

Paris, May 4.—Charles Paddock participated in the opening events yesterday of the first international students' athletic meet, despite the fact that the American Amateur Athletic Union forbidding him to compete abroad this season.

Paddock easily won the trial heats in the 100 and 200 metre dashes, the only events in which he entered, negotiating the 100 metres in 11 seconds flat. He also equaled the world's record of 16 seconds in the 150 metre dash. The event is not in the official list of the present meet, but the American star was given permission to attempt to break the record, held by the Swedish runner, Engdahl.

Rival Managers Refuse to Speak to One Another and Great Difficulty is Encountered in Settling Difference—Jimmy Daugherty to Referee Dempsey-Gibbons Bout

Chicago, May 4.—Failure to agree on a few minor details after the question of a referee had been practically settled prevented the signing of articles last night closing a 15-round, heavyweight championship match between Jack Dempsey, the titleholder, and Tom Gibbons, the St. Paul challenger, at Shelby, Mont., July 4.

Jack Kearns, manager of the heavyweight champion, and Mike Collins, matchmaker for the promoters, said the articles would be signed to-day. The reason for the delay in signing was because Kearns wanted the certified check for $10,000 turned into cash at once.

The Third Man. Jimmy Daugherty, veteran referee of Philadelphia, probably will be selected third man in the ring to-day. Daugherty was Kearns' only choice. Eddie Kane, manager of Gibbons, objected, claiming Daugherty was too friendly to both Kearns and Dempsey, but after several hours of discussion Kane practically agreed to Daugherty.

In addition to the referee issue the question of insuring the boxers also came in for discussion, as neither Collins nor Loy Molumby, Great Falls, Mont., lawyer representing the promoters, desired to turn over the $10,000 to Kearns without assurance that Dempsey would go through with his part of the agreement.

Kearns said: "All I want is the promoters to go through with the offer they made me. I came on from New York for the purpose of signing and will do so the moment my demands are met. I do not intend to let July 4 go by without having Dempsey box somebody and I don't care whether it's Gibbons, Fitz, Willard or any other heavyweight who wants a shot at the championship."

Collins said that the match will undoubtedly be closed to-day.

Plugging Loopholes. Kearns said: "I am ready to sign at any time."

Collins said: "All I want is the promoters to go through with the offer they made me. I came on from New York for the purpose of signing and will do so the moment my demands are met. I do not intend to let July 4 go by without having Dempsey box somebody and I don't care whether it's Gibbons, Fitz, Willard or any other heavyweight who wants a shot at the championship."

Running in an official trial he made the dash in 8.25 seconds, or 4.5 second under the record previously established by Engdahl, of Sweden.

Southern hemisphere, and these maintain its long-established reputation. Unlike the Canadian press, the Australian gives great scope to literature and drama. This is not, perhaps, because Australia is more interested in them than Canada.

It would not be fair, however, to suggest that Australian journalism is where the single lines of the last century are. In both Melbourne and Sydney there are up-to-date go-ahead newspapers like the Sydney Sun, the Age and the Daily Mail, and in Melbourne the only daily illustrated newspaper in the Commonwealth, the Sun Pictorial.

The newspapers pander to this obsession in the editorially grievous over it in another. Each Spring when the Melbourne Cup is run, an air of the tensest excitement hangs over every newspaper office in the Commonwealth.

The conception of a newspaper as a public utility has not reached Australia yet. The newspapers are apt to reflect the personal prejudices of the owners and to a lesser degree of the editors. They are representing the business interests—big business as it would be called in Canada—by example always unfair to labor and always holding it up to ridicule.

Naturally they reap the results of their enterprises. An illustration modelled on The London Daily Mail—they object, naturally, to American "sensationalism"—but it has paid handsomely. Australian newspapers of this type are making good dividends. The Sydney Sun has a circulation of a million a week.

Incidentally, journalists in Australia have their own union and are acutely the best paid in the world. They are certainly among the most versatile.

Amongst the weeklies The Sydney Bulletin needs, of course, no description. It is world-famous for its satire and humor. Paying high prices for original contributions, it gets about a box-week. Since the war it has had some imitators, some of which have done well. But the "Bully," as it is called in its home-land, is still supreme. Though it publishes savage cartoons of political leaders it does not seem to have any particular policy. Its literary reviews and dramatic criticism, however, are probably the best in the world.

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The moment this sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the subsides fiery skin eruptions. Eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or blotchy figurement. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

Gertrude Atherton tells a remarkable story which ought to be remembered by young writers who are accustomed to receive rejection slips or letters from editors or publishers. She relates that her husband when a magazine editor in 1890, received the Ms. of a story which he promptly rejected. Two years later when he was on the staff of another magazine the same story unaltered as regards the subject, matter but travel worn, was again submitted and this time accepted, at a very small price, for serial publication.

George Russell, the Irish poet, who writes over the name "A.E." and who has recently been appointed member of the Irish Senate, is filled with grief and chagrin over the way things are going in the new republic. In reply to a letter from the editor of a Welsh paper, asking him for a contribution, he writes dolefully, "You are asking me, at a time when every Irishman who had high dreams for his country is shivering with humiliation, to write for Welsh Nationalists a message for Ireland. The less we make ourselves known at the moment the better. For the moment we are hateful to ourselves."

"I have no doubt we shall emerge from this civil conflict, and what is best in us will overcome what is worst. But I think it will be a long time before any Irishman can speak with pride of his own people. There is love for Ireland here. Yes, but it is like the passion of a lover who if he cannot get the beauty he adores, flings vitriol over it, so that its face may be marred and none other possess it."

Sir Walter Raleigh, who died a short time ago, was professor of poetry in Oxford University. He was the author of several biographical works of high quality and as a posthumous volume of his poetry indicates, had a gift for humorous verse. One of his poems is entitled, "My Last Will," and shows that this ripe, old scholar was a very human person: "What a nuisance then will be

The conception of a newspaper as a public utility has not reached Australia yet. The newspapers are apt to reflect the personal prejudices of the owners and to a lesser degree of the editors. They are representing the business interests—big business as it would be called in Canada—by example always unfair to labor and always holding it up to ridicule.

Nevertheless the press as a whole has sound traditions—if only it would interpret them a little more intelligently. It is not altogether dominated by the commercial end of the business—that is because it is so wealthy, and it is fairly anxious to show itself in the balance sheet.

They give far too much space to the more serious kind of crime. A murder makes almost as much noise in their columns as a war. The public likes it and takes as keen an interest in it as the typical London crowd that seeks the Old Bailey for thrills. Naturally the newspapers "play it up"—ably assisted by the moving picture show, which next to the automobile, are the most American things to be found in Australia. The results are unhealthy. Now and then they may be seen among weak-minded youths who get a gun, take to the bush as bushrangers and have to be suppressed by the police, sometimes at revolver-point.

Divorce, too, gets great attention. There is hardly anything too revealing to be printed in this connection. On the other hand the modesty of editors is outraged if the words "adultery" or "abortion" dare to appear in their chaotic columns. It must always be a "sensation event" in such a case and the great British prejudice of calling things other than they are, duly observed and an approving if somewhat vindictive smile received from Mrs. Grundy.

Australian editors are always old; youth that Sir James Barrie praised so wonderfully, need not apply. No doubt that is why a rich, fat, or Mid-Victorianism exudes from so many pages of the Australian press. Youth exiles itself in London or New York.

As it is known in Canada is not very well known yet in Australia. Big department stores are unwilling to do more than announce now and then in rather depressing fashion that they have goods for sale. They fall down heavily when it comes to persuading the doubtful purchaser in print. However, since the newer journals started there has been a vast improvement and in time advertisement as the handmaid of business will be given a more honorable place.

At present it is too often in the style of "Go to Blank's for hats" and "Blink's make better shoes" and "Brits and American ideas—best of them all." It is a pity that journalism is slowly evolving and from what can be seen of its present tendencies it will ultimately combine what is best in British and American ideas—best of them all. It wants more young men.

It is necessary to have a rather lighter-bodied, free flowing oil when the splash type of lubrication system is used. If a heavy grade of oil is used, particularly in cold weather, the parts will be insufficiently lubricated until the engine is thoroughly warmed up.

Why Bake at Home

—when you can buy bread like it, ready baked? COUNT the raisins—at least eight big, plump, tender fruit-meats to the slice.

Taste it—see how the raisin flavor permeates the bread. No need to bake at home when we've arranged with bakers in almost every town and city to bake this full-fruited raisin bread. Just 'phone and they'll deliver it—all ready to surprise the family tonight. It comes from master bakers' modern ovens in your city. And it's made with Sun-Maid Raisins.

DOMINION

Many persons regard Friday, the 13th, as a violently unlucky day. But Miss Negri believes this, but George Fitzmaurice, famous picture producer, believes that all Fridays are lucky for him and that Friday, the 13th, is the luckiest of all. So that's how it happened that Mr. Fitzmaurice started production work on "Bella Donna" on Friday, the 13th, but Miss Negri, who is starring in this splendid story, made her debut the following day.

ROYAL VICTORIA

History says "The old London music hall of the fifties was the sporting rendezvous of England." Here we find lords and baronets rubbing shoulders with sporting gentlemen and hussies. The nobility hobnobbed with the hot pool, for a lord was only a lord, but a Derby winning jockey was a king. This is the romantic setting for much of the drama and comedy in "The Game of Life." It is here that we see

From the opening number, which depicts a gang of men on a city street, working beside a statue of the God of War, right through the programme to the last act, "Full 'O Pep" has a surprise and delight in every number. In addition to the new offerings in the show, the boys have revived the famous comedy sketch, "The Duchess Entertains." This number has made tens of thousands of people laugh and giggle, and this time it is funnier than ever.

On account of the unusual demand for seats, patrons are advised to make immediate reservations.

Homestake Mine. Plans are already being made for the development of mining properties at Alice Arm, says The Alice Arm Herald. The Homestake Mining Co. intend to do considerable work on their property at the Kitsault Glacier this year. The No. 1 tunnel which was commenced in 1921 and which had just encountered ore when operations ceased, will be continued until the ore body is cut through. Work will then be commenced on the No. 2 tunnel, and this tunnel will be driven as far as possible. It is anticipated that about 200 feet of tunnel work will be done this year, and it is possible that the work will be done by contract.

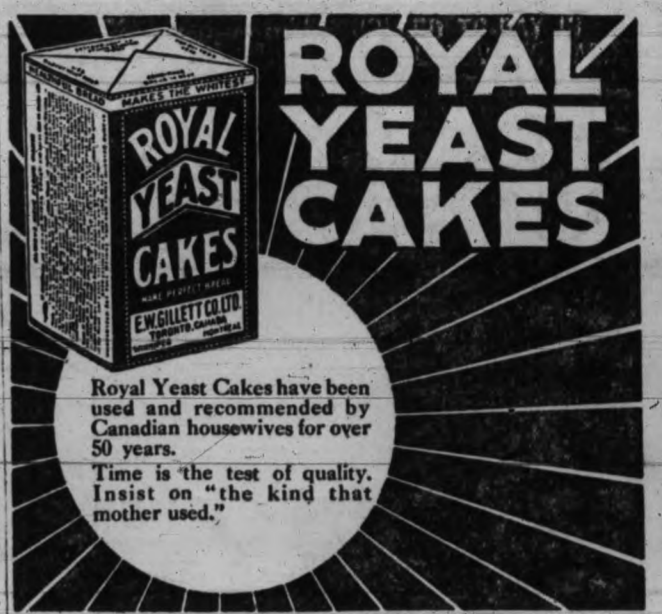

Forty Foot Tunnel. The Alice Arm Holding Co. intend to drive about ten feet of tunnel on the Bellevue up the Illiance River, and if this work proves satisfactory additional work will be done on the property.

As soon as the snow is off the ground, A. McGuire will commence development work on the War Dance property, which is situated on the north-east fork of the Kitsault River in this property and considerable work will be done this year.

Dome Mountain. On Dome Mountain, where the Federal Mining & Smelting Co. are operating, good progress has been made. They had some eighteen miles of snow to shove out before they could get in material for the camp buildings and supplies for the men. The camp is now completed and fourteen men are at work. The plant is being built to a great depth, and a carload of machinery was expected to arrive at Telkwa this week for the company, consisting of boiler, compressor and drills. Development work will be carried ahead this season as rapidly as possible and by Fall it is expected that the engineer in charge will be able

Rinso

There's time in the package

Time to do the many things ordinarily put off on wash-day. For Rinso does not keep you standing over the wash-tub, rubbing until your back aches and your hands are red and sore.

Rinso, an entirely different kind of soap, soaks clothes clean. Rubbing and boiling are unnecessary. The big soapy Rinso suds gently loosen the most ground-in dirt without weakening a single thread.

NOTE: In hard water it takes from 2 to 3 packages of Rinso to a tub to make good suds. In very hard water you will need from 1 1/2 to 2 packages to a tub to get the big lathering suds that loosen all the dirt.

ENDORSE MOVEMENT TO TRY B.C. PRODUCTS

Special to The Times
Metochosin—The regular monthly meeting of the Metochosin Women's Institute was held at the hall on Wednesday afternoon, the president, Mrs. M. M. Brown, in the chair. The resolutions proposed by the "Buy B.C. Products" campaign were heartily endorsed by the meeting. It was decided that $20 be voted to the improvement of the church cemetery as coming under the heading of community improvement, also to organize a bee to do necessary cleaning up, the Farmers' Institute having promised support and co-operation in the work. The report of the secretary showed the net profits of the May Day masquerade ball to be $18.50. The net profits of the recent Spring flower and bulb show were $39.55. It was moved by Mrs. Howard and second by Mrs. McCright that a very heavy vote of thanks be passed to all those who so generously contributed to the success of the event.

Nominations were then in order for the Institute queen, Miss Peggy Brown heading the list, with Miss Grace Witty as a close runner-up, Miss Brown in captain of the Girl Guides.

Two kinds of certified seed potatoes were distributed to the members for competitive growing, Sir Walter Raleigh and Irish Cobbler.
The grand May Day festival, masquerade and fancy dress ball, held at Metochosin Hall on Tuesday night under the auspices of the Metochosin Women's Institute was an unqualified success. More people arrived in fancy costume than ever before, and the floor was crowded with dancers. The costumes were varied and beautiful and after considerable deliberation the judges awarded the prizes as follows: Best dressed lady, Miss Ruth Tripps, of Victoria, who wore a handsome Turkish costume of beautifully blended colors; most original lady, Miss Gertrude Scott as "The Spider"; best dressed gentleman, Mr. Mycopoc as a brigand; most original gentleman, Mr. Kenneth Allison as Ku Klux Klan. The judges were Mrs. G. W. Weir, Mrs. Hextall and H. G. Pierce.

Prizes for progressive whist, which was played in the ante-room, were won by Mrs. Beir, second prize lady; Mrs. Arden, Sr., second prize; T. T. Pullan, winning gentleman; Mrs. O. W. Legg, who played as gentleman, second prize. A special and very enjoyable feature of the evening was the dancing of the old-time Sir Roger de Coverley after the grand march, the dance being taken part in by some forty people. The hostess of the evening was the very popular president of the institute, Mrs. M. M. Brown. Supper, which was plentiful and excellent, was served under the able management of Mrs. A. Snider. The proceeds will go to the Institute fund for community improvement.

NATURALIZATION BILL IS DEBATED

Comox-Alberni M.P. Speaks of Japanese

Ottawa, May 4.—A provision in the bill to amend the Naturalization Act, abolishing preliminary investigation before local judges of applications for naturalization and the substitution thereof of action by the Secretary of State direct, gave rise to discussion in the Commons again last night.
A. W. Neill, independent, Comox-Alberni, had an amendment with reference to Japanese naturalized in Canada, although Japanese are not specifically mentioned in the amendment. Under this amendment Mr. Neill would give the Minister power to denaturalize those "who remain, according to the laws of any foreign state, a subject of that state."
Japan, claimed Mr. Neill, claimed jurisdiction over its nationals despite any change in citizenship which they sought. Canadian citizenship was a farce under such circumstances.
Hon. A. B. Cope promised consideration of Mr. Neill's amendment, which, with the bill, will come up again in committee later.
No hurry.
Robert Forke, Progressive leader, recognized that in sparsely settled districts there was difficulty in securing a hearing before a judge, but he thought British citizenship was so much to be prized that it should be got in the right way. There was no great hurry in naturalizing settlers, more especially those who did not speak or read English. Mr. Forke believed the proposals of the bill were dangerous in that they gave too much power to the Secretary of State.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen thought the amendment would permit the Minister "to go around the country with the oil of naturalization anointing whomsoever he likes into the citizenship of Canada."
J. S. Woodsworth, Labor, Centre Winnipeg, thought five years was too long to ask a man to wait for naturalization, particularly when it was made difficult to secure after that period.

Favor Present System.
John Millar, Progressive, Qu'Appelle, favored retaining the present system of approving applications.
George Black, Conservative, Yukon, objected to the proposals on the ground that they removed discretionary powers from the judge. Mr. Black declared he had seen naturalization papers go through by the hundreds the eve of an election. "It was just one, two, three and out, and there were people naturalized at that time who did not even know they had been granted papers." He did not object to the final decision resting with the Secretary of State, but there should be no abolition of the judicial investigation.

CANDY MAKERS

ADVERTISING PLANS

Toronto, May 4.—Advertising was one of the main subjects of discussion at yesterday's session of the fifth annual convention of the confectionery, biscuit and chocolate industries of Canada.
"Perhaps the best way of reaching the average consumer of candy is through newspapers. In this way the farms and smaller centres which need most stimulating can be reached," said H. P. Smith, of Toronto, in an address on co-operative advertising. Mr. Smith declared co-operative advertising was preferable to competitive advertising.

Edmund Lattier, of Montreal, was chosen president and C. C. Wardrop of Winnipeg, second vice-president for the ensuing year. James Ramsay, of Vancouver, and Harvey Shaw of Edmonton, were elected to the executive.

Langford—The postponed meeting of the Langford Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon, Madame Beauchemin presiding. Details in connection with the sports to be held in the new recreation ground on June 4 were thoroughly discussed. Several Victoria tradespeople have promised prizes for competition in the various events to be held on that day. Welch and Mrs. H. A. Hincks.

Mr. and Mrs. Breaner, of Victoria, have taken up residence at their Summer quarters on Langford Lake.

Mrs. J. N. O'Neill will be "at home" at Holmcroft, Dunford Road, May 3.

On Monday next at Langford Hall, by kindness of the proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. Goucher, Mrs. Chow, of Victoria, superintendent of junior women's auxiliaries, will give an anti-dress to junior members of the district, to which parents and friends are cordially invited.

SOOKE NEWS NOTES

Mrs. D. C. Milligan who has been in the Jubilee Hospital for the last three weeks, is now staying with Mrs. C. H. Barbour at Sooke River Bridge.

Miss M. Reid left Sooke last Saturday to join Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Reid in Portland. Miss Reid will be very much missed as she has been a keen worker in the Ladies' Aid of the Knox Church, and was also a member of the Sooke and Otter Point Women's Institute executive, and was in charge of their library.

The regular meeting of the Sooke and Otter Point Women's Institute was held Tuesday afternoon in the Sooke Hall when one new member joined. This brings up the membership for the year to twenty-nine. The resignation of Mrs. McBride as vice-president was received with regret and at the next meeting the vacancy on the executive will be filled.
Cecil Tice addressed the Institute on "Agricultural Exhibitions." He drew attention to the value of fairs and exhibitions from an educational point of view, and offered a number of suggestions as to the method of conducting them. He gave the members of the Institute a number of hints as to growing potatoes. Sooke Institute hopes to make an entry at the Fall Potato Fair and for this purpose eight members are to grow Sir Walter Raleigh potatoes. A sack of certified seeds was obtained through the Farmers' Institute and Mr. Kohout undertook to dip the potatoes before delivering them to the Institute and they have been duly delivered to those members who are going to grow them.

CHARGED WITHOUT
CALL ON BUGLE

London, May 4.—One of history's little mysteries, "Who blew the trumpet signal for the charge of the Light Brigade at Balaklava?" appears to have been brought no nearer to a solution by the publication of some of the reminiscences of W. H. Pennington, a survivor of the charge, who died here last Tuesday at the age of ninety.
The Irish newspapers on February 27 announced the death at Drogheda of Thomas Finlay, "who blew the charge on the trumpet for the Light Brigade at Balaklava." On last week the Dublin press printed a notice of the passing of an old resident, John McNeill, an instrument maker, who claimed he made the trumpet on which Major Joy sounded the charge for the Light Brigade. Pennington often thrilled audiences at Balaklava Day celebrations by sounding "the charge" on a trumpet. He did not contend that he had done so on that memorable day in the Crimea. On the contrary, says The Daily Chronicle, he asserted that when "The Six Hundred" went into the Valley of Death, they moved at a verbal command, without the sound of a bugle.

THERE'S NONE QUITE SO GOOD AS BAPCO PURE PAINT

When you have your home painted this Spring you will not have it done just to brighten it up and make it look better. If you are wise you will be taking a far broader view of the whole question. No doubt you will take appearances into consideration, but truly you will be painting for economy's sake.

Porch Floor Paint
Bapco Porch Floor Paint is made for this particular purpose and will give unusual results under the most trying circumstances. A really tough, hard-wearing paint. Colors slate or grey. Price, per quart tin, $1.50

Flower Box Paint
A bright Cottage Green Paint, made specially for flower boxes and tubs. Price, per tin, 35c

You realize that your home will fast depreciate in value if left unpainted. The neglected home eventually becomes an embarrassment, while the one that is regularly painted is always saleable. However, to get the most satisfactory results it is necessary to use a high-grade paint, as such is far cheapest in the end.
Bapco pure paint is made to protect and made to endure. Actual tests time and again have proved its high quality, hence its fast growing popularity.

Ask us for a descriptive color card.

It is surprising what a lot of cheer and color can be added to the home through the medium of Bapco Art Enamel. This enamel is quite easy to use and is supplied in white, black and a number of very desirable colors.

You'll Make No Mistake In Using SHINGOLEEN

The difference in results of Shingoleen and shingle stains is so vast that the latter should hardly be considered on jobs where best results are looked for. It lasts much longer, gives greater protection and covers far more surface per gallon. Shingoleen is also noted for the clearness and permanence of its colors. No other shingle finish can compare with it. Ask us for a color-card and descriptive folder. Use Shingoleen on all shingled surfaces as well as rough lumber.

Yes! a lovely satin-like finish is now possible on your walls, furniture or woodwork by the use of Satin-Glo. It is a finish that has never before been attained except by a tedious and expensive process. Satin-Glo is easy to apply and easy to wash, but we know that its beautiful finish will appeal to you most. Sold in white and eight attractive tints.

Scenes in Mansonville, Que.—In the Grip of Typhoid Fever

On the left: The English schoolhouse where, with nearly every one of its pupils down with typhoid fever, an emergency hospital has been established.

In the centre, the funeral of Malm Alken, 19-years-old, one of the most recent victims of the typhoid scourge. The picture shows the coffin being lowered into the grave hastily dug on the summit of a hill near the town, where, owing to lack of room in the old cemetery, three bodies have already been placed. To the right of the same picture will be seen the mounds, without crosses or headstones, where two other victims were laid to rest.

On the right: a view of the Methodist Church at Mansonville where a notice "No Service Owing to Sickness," was posted. The minister, Rev. Mr. Roy, died from fever. The church has now been taken over by the Red Cross workers at the town as the distributing centre for food to the families most heavily struck by the epidemic.

SUCCESSION TAX LIEN ON LAND

Lawyer Declares Indefeasible Titles Are Not Much Good

Victoria Real Estate Board Holds Its Annual Meeting

"You are all hugging the delusion that an indefeasible title is something worth having. It isn't," said H. H. Shandley to the members of the Real Estate Board of Victoria last night at their annual meeting. He was explaining the intricacies of the succession tax, and he gave his audience a lot of information, mostly disagreeable.

"When a man dies," explained Mr. Shandley, "the executor takes the necessary steps, and in due time ascertains from the government the amount of the succession tax. If he has the money himself to pay it, the position is comparatively easy. But he cannot use for this purpose any money the estate may have in the bank, nor can he dispose of any securities. The succession taxes are a lien against the land, and remain so until they are paid. If the payment is made by a bonding company, then the bonding company holds the lien. Recovery might perhaps be made from the Assurance Fund if the government makes an error in marking a judgment or omits a mortgage, but even in that case Mr. Shandley was of opinion that there might be trouble.

The Assurance Fund did not cover boundaries. If the government were going to guarantee boundaries, Vancouver Island would have to be surveyed from one end to the other. It was only recently that any caution was filed in the Land Registry Office that the land was subject to succession tax but, whether the caution is there or not, the tax is a first charge.

Start With Crown Grant.

In Mr. Shandley's opinion the only proper way to search a title is to start with the Crown grant. Lawyers, however, do not get a sufficient fee for such work, so they often search back for a few years and then take a chance.

Not only do the exceptions to an indefeasible title cover pretty nearly everything, but the land is subject to other charges, such for instance as may arise under the Family Maintenance Act, to say nothing of the six per cent. interest on the succession tax until paid.

Mr. Shandley pointed out a difficulty that might arise in connection with land sold by the city for taxes. Much of this land must be liable for succession duty. The city sends out notices, but has really no means of knowing whether the owner is still living or not. Pretty soon somebody is going to buy from the city a piece of land that is liable for succession duty, and then there will be trouble. He advised getting a clause inserted in the law so as to provide that the person receiving notice with regard to taxes is not responsible in any way unless he has an interest in the land. This would often protect the real estate man and the lawyer from subsequent trouble. He suggested that the tax ought to be apportioned on the different lots of which an estate is made up. Also he thought that sometime before the next session of the Legislature there should be a meeting of the Law Society and the Real Estate men to discuss what changes were required.

Licensing Act Not Enforced.

The secretary of the board, H. D. Patterson, in his annual report said an effort had been made to get the government to enforce the provisions of the Real Estate Agents Licensing Act, but with no apparent success. He suggested that the government be asked to put teeth into the Act at the next session so as to make the securing of convictions easier against unlicensed persons who advertise or act as real estate agents.

"A moderate amount of speculative building of houses," said the report, "was carried on during the year by contractors in the city and Oak Bay. These have practically all been sold, but not quickly enough, or at large enough margins, to encourage further building of this class. I feel confident that had the builders taken the trouble to secure plans that were modern and up-to-date, both in exterior and interior, these houses would have sold quickly and at a good profit. So long as new houses do not differ in plan from those constructed in 1912 they cannot expect to compete with the numbers of second-hand houses of that vintage that are still on the market at bargain prices."

Rentals Are Not Satisfactory.

"Rentals are still in an unsatisfactory condition and will remain so until a full measure of co-operation is secured between the real estate firms and individuals who act for absentee owners, and the resident property owners who manage their own properties. Other factors largely responsible for low rentals are the state of repair of present buildings, and the fact that in very few cases can leases be obtained. It hardly seems necessary to point out that a reasonable improvement in the rental situation would very largely stimulate sales and new construction. I venture to predict that never again in the history of this beautiful city will the public be able to buy vacant property at such prices as it is offered to-day, or on such easy terms. Building costs are rising, and all authorities agree in their desire to remain up. If the man who wants a new home puts off any longer, it is simply bound to cost him more money when he does decide to go ahead.

"The past year has been a very quiet one from the point of view of sales, but a noticeable improvement has taken place in the past six weeks, especially along the line of house sales. Members who are really familiar with unsold residential property will agree that it has been pretty well picked over. The prospective house purchaser has not a wide selection of really good homes, and quick action on his part will be necessary if he wants satisfaction."

Taxes Higher On Prairies

The secretary pointed out that taxes in Victoria were still lower, on property of a relative value, than in most of the prairie cities. In view of the increasing amount of favorable advertising the city and island are securing, and also in view of the very large number of tourists who will undoubtedly visit Victoria this year, he looked forward to an appreciable number of new permanent residents and a very welcome increase in sales of property.

The financial statement showed receipts of $1,961 during the year ending with March, and a balance on hand of $4,000. Mr. K. W. Forsyth, vice-president, Major H. Cuthbert Holmes, second vice-president, J. C. Bridgman, executive, A. R. Wolfenden, Fred Landsberg, James Forman, R. H. Keane and H. Fursey, ex-officio, C. T. Cross, Beaumont Boggs and P. R. Brown.

ALDERMEN DISCUSS CHANGE IN CITY'S EXISTING SYSTEM

Board of Control or Commission Proposed by Some Members

Members of the City Council are now discussing among themselves the advisability of changing Victoria's civic government. Consideration of this proposal is being given by the Board of Control, which is the governing body of the city.

Members of the City Council are now discussing among themselves the advisability of changing Victoria's civic government. Consideration of this proposal is being given by the Board of Control, which is the governing body of the city.

Under existing legislation the city has power to install a board of control after the electors have approved the change by plebiscite. Under this system three elected controllers govern the city, devoting their entire time to the work and meeting daily. The commission form of government is somewhat similar, but gives practically all power to the commission, whereas with controllers the Council board retains responsibility.

While these plans are being discussed privately among aldermen no definite will be done in the matter until it is known whether Mayor Raymond intends to retire now or not. As soon as this is known an open discussion of the whole situation may be expected, aldermen said to-day.

Y.M.C.A. 'JAMBOREE' PROMISES SUCCESS

Boys Are Keen to Show Ability in Pool and Gym

There will be an unusual opportunity for the parents of youthful members of the Y. M. C. A. to witness their children in action in the swimming pool to-night and Saturday evening and Saturday afternoon, this week. As a part of the big "JamboREE" an interesting swimming exhibition has been arranged to take place at 9 o'clock each evening and programme in the gymnasium has been completed.

The boys themselves will be the only participants in the exhibition, which will consist of speed and fancy swimming, fancy diving, relay races, plunges for distance, diving for plates, pick-a-back wrestling and other novel events.

Seating arrangements are in progress for the mothers and fathers who are expected to attend the function, and the young swimmers are keen to demonstrate their ability in the various branches of aquatic sport. Some of the boys who will take part are: Bob Moffatt, G. Parrott, Bill Dickinson, Harold Engelson, Don Newell, Bill Hodinnot, Jack Guick, Bill Peden, Brian Hemmings, Stephen Russell, Wesley Brenner, Phil Rose, Jim Anderson, Billy Moffatt and John Small.

In the gymnasium the performance will consist of tumbling, pyramid building, parallel bar work, gym dancing, clown stunts and the pageant. The pageant is "The Frogs of a New Day." The boys have been devoting much time to this event and are anxiously awaiting its finish. They are well prepared and ready to do their very best, and that is not little to make the "JamboREE" the big success it promises to be.

WEST COAST ROAD URGENTLY NEEDED

Vast Iron Ores Would Be Tapped by Extension of Road and Rail Facilities

A resolution urging upon the Provincial authorities the urgent necessity for an extension of the existing coast road from Jordan River to Port San Juan was adopted by the Victoria Assembly of Native Sons of Canada in session last night at the Langley Street headquarters. With the resolution calling for a highway is incorporated a request to the Federal authorities and the Canadian National Railway asking consideration as to the advisability of extending a line from the C. N. R. at Sooke to Port San Juan.

The action followed on an address recently by Claude L. Harrison, well known local barrister, who urged that the development of communication with the west coast was vital at this stage of the island's progress. Port San Juan comprises one of the finest natural harbors on the coast, and with the addition of very slight artificial aids would be the perfect example of what a harbor could be. The road and rail extension asked would tap a vast mineral belt tributary to the San Juan and Gordon Rivers where the rich iron ores now inaccessible through lack of facilities.

The resolution follows: "Whereas it is desirable, from the points of view of the City of Victoria, the Province of British Columbia and the Dominion of Canada, that Victoria city and district should have more substantial industries, particularly of the kind which will develop the natural resources of the district, so as to keep in Canada the benefits which should accrue therefrom;

"And whereas it appears that close to the said city of Victoria there are rich natural resources, including timber, minerals and agricultural and fishing resources, the development of which has so far been impracticable, if not impossible, owing to a lack of transportation facilities;

"And whereas larger numbers of people than ever before are expected to come to Vancouver Island in 1923, both as tourists and as permanent settlers:

"Therefore be it resolved that the Government of British Columbia be requested to at once consider the matter of providing a suitable trunk road along the West Coast as far as at least as Port San Juan, and to proceed with the construction of such a road without unnecessary delay, also such secondary roads as are necessary;

"And be it also resolved that the Dominion Government and the directors of the Canadian National Railways be requested to similarly consider at once the building of a short line of railway running from a point on the present line at or near Sooke along the most feasible route to a point at or near Port San Juan, and also to consider whether such line should not take precedence over other lines proposed by the said Canadian National Railways, owing to the smaller total cost, the richer and more varied natural resources and the greater advantages likely to ensue by the building of the said line than by the building of other proposed lines."

STRAWBERRY VALE INSTITUTE

The Strawberry Vale Women's Institute held its regular monthly meeting in the rooms, Chandler Road, on Tuesday afternoon, the president in the chair. After the usual business was dealt with the reports of the various committees were read. It was decided to ask the School Board to drain the Strawberry Vale School grounds before winter. A letter was read asking support for crippled children. After discussion, regret was expressed at not being able to help in this matter. Mr. Ravenhill gave a talk on social hygiene, for which he was accorded a hearty vote of thanks. Refreshments were served by the social committee.
