HARDING WILL REVIVE PANAMA TOLLS DISPUTE

Favors Exemption of American Ships From Payment of Tolls.

Expects to Negotiate in Friendly Manner With Great Britain.

May Reach Understanding on the Question of Naval Armament.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Washington, (Chicago, Nov. 6.—(Special to the Herald)—President-elect Harding has a special purpose in wanting to revive the Panama canal tolls dispute. The full significance of the trip will not become apparent until March 4. But the truth is Mr. Harding is in earnest about reviving the Panama canal tolls controversy. He wants to see American ships exempted from the payment of tolls and to press for that exemption when the canal is inaugurated.

President Wilson found himself confronted with the same question when he took office in March, 1912. He was then a platformer, and it was in support of the action of the Senate that he was elected. He was then a platformer, and it was in support of the action of the Senate that he was elected. He was then a platformer, and it was in support of the action of the Senate that he was elected.

There has been much debate as to whether the treaty actually prohibited American vessels from discriminating against Great Britain as between foreign ports. It is now generally agreed that of course America, as the senior and holder of the canal, has the right to do as she pleased about tolls and that the discrimination did not conflict with the treaty.

Indeed, President Wilson found Republicanism as well as Democratic support in the body of the congress, when he declared that America could not afford to take any such step as to discriminate by insisting upon a selfish interpretation of an ambiguous article in the treaty.

Just what Mr. Wilson meant by the foregoing phrase was never publicly explained, though it was generally understood in Washington that the president was playing for Britain's friendship because of the delicate relationship between Japan and the United States over the world doesn't know how close America and Japan came to war that year, and the fact that the new president with her powerful navy was deemed extremely important.

Change of Circumstances. Circumstances have changed to some extent since 1913. In the election which has just passed, the American people have elected a president who is not only friendly to Great Britain but who is also friendly to the United States.

What Harding Proposes. The answer is that the president-elect expects to negotiate the whole question in a friendly manner with Great Britain. For instance, it might be advantageous to England to have a definite understanding with the United States on the question of naval armament.

SHIMMING BY ESKIMOS

Jazz Dances to the Music of Walrus-Hide Tomtoms.

Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 6.—They are shimming in the Arctic. Jazz dances to the music of walrus-hide tomtoms, jagged rattles and pipes made of the tusks of a whale are all the rage among the Eskimos of Coronation gulf. This is the news brought down from the igloo villages by the Eskimo mail carrier, the Royal Northwest Mounted police who has arrived here from the Yukon branch of the Canadian Pacific railway.

The Eskimos, said Sergeant Jervis, are very noisy about jazz. Everybody's dancing. Daddling old people with faces as wrinkled as a frozen walrus hide are to be seen at the dance. There is a lot of one-step, and built a big igloo of ice blocks as a dance hall and it's crowded every evening. The Eskimo mail carrier, the Royal Northwest Mounted police who has arrived here from the Yukon branch of the Canadian Pacific railway.

ROADS PLAN BIG FINANCING STEP

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 6.—The Burlington railroad soon will declare a stock dividend of $50,000,000. The Burlington also will sell $50,000,000 worth of bonds which the Great Northern, Northern Pacific and Great Northern will each receive the benefit of.

ARREST OF N. Y. COMPTROLLER IS ORDERED

Judge Directs Eugene Travis Be Held to Grand Jury.

State Said to Have Overpaid $140,000 on Purchase of Bonds.

New York, Nov. 6.—State Comptroller Eugene M. Travis today was ordered held for the grand jury in a decision handed down by Chief Justice Kernochan of General sessions, who has presided at the John Doe inquiry conducted into alleged irregularities in the comptroller's office.

Justice Kernochan based his finding on a sale of $2,013,000 worth of New York city bonds to the state at 85% when the market price was 82 1/2% interest. The sale was made by William S. Fanshawe & Co. for Albert L. Judson, dealer, and the state was declared to have overpaid $140,000 on the purchase.

The judge directed the district attorney's office to prepare papers on which he would issue a warrant for the arrest of the comptroller.

Judson was not ordered held by Justice Kernochan because of the state's refusal to sign a waiver of immunity when testifying.

HARDING ON VACATION TO LAST MONTH

Special Train With President-Elect and Party Leaves for South.

To Spend Twelve Days in Texas Near the Mexican Border.

On Board President-elect Harding's Special Train, Nov. 6.—Starting for a month's vacation trip to Southern Texas and Panama, President-elect Harding today laid aside his last cares of the presidential campaign for an interim of rest and recreation before he takes up seriously the responsibilities of his coming administration.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harding on the special train will include Senator and Mrs. Harding and their party left for the Texas coast, where the president-elect will spend twelve days hunting and fishing. After that he is to make an ocean voyage to the Gulf of Mexico and then back to a port on the middle Atlantic coast.

Making the trip south by way of St. Louis and San Antonio, the senator's train will reach Brownsville, Tex., Monday morning and the party will motor from there to Point Isabel, 250 miles away. Point Isabel is only six miles distant from the Mexican border, and from there the president-elect will visit the United States.

All Mothers Will Find Use For This Laxative

Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to a constipated child and note its quick recovery.

In a growing family the subject of thought with the parents is how to keep the children healthy and happy, and what to do when they become ill. Most illnesses of childhood are the symptoms of constipation, such as headaches, coated tongues, flatulence, dizziness, loss of appetite and sleep, biliousness, etc.

You can surely feel safe in doing what tens of thousands of others do with good results, so give, according to the age of the child, a small quantity of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. Eight million bottles were bought last year at drug stores. It is America's favorite family remedy for constipation, indigestion and similar ills, and is especially suitable for children, women and old folks as it is so mild and gentle in action.

There is no secret about Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with pepsin and pleasant tasting aromatics. Druggists have sold it for thirty years, and a sixty cent bottle will last for months. Experienced mothers are never without it in the house.

TRY IT FREE

Send me your name and address and I will send you a free trial bottle of my Syrup Pepsin. Address me Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 513 Washington Street, Monticello, Illinois. Everybody now and then needs a laxative, and it is well to know the best. Write me today.

BARNES MAKES SUGGESTIONS

Wheat Expert Addresses Marketing Committee of Farm Federation.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Julius H. Barnes, former director general of the United States Grain Corporation, yesterday appeared before the marketing committee of seventeen of the American Farm Bureau Federation, offering opinions and suggestions on the subject of grain marketing, and outlining major influences on price fluctuations on trading exchanges in a formal statement tonight, after which he expressed willingness to answer questions from members of the committee.

Mr. Barnes said that it was his conviction that the present system of grain marketing through open exchanges, by maintaining a highly competitive market at all times, worked to the advantage of both producer and consumer, and that future trading was beneficial in that it furnished insurance for traders against destructive losses on commitments which would be taken in the margin of profits without exact change hedging.

He urged the development of a better understanding of the grain exchanges and co-operation with them in developing their full service and eliminating their defects and abuses, and commended the committee for its temper to "lay aside prejudice and previous conceptions to learn the truth about basic facts on sound marketing."

Touching upon recent declines in wheat prices, which some agricultural interests of the country have claimed are unwarranted by the existing supply and demand, Mr. Barnes said that the wheat producer had "escaped the full effect of deflation," because of the "cushion" found in future trading. He cited figures tending to show that the decline in wheat from the peak post-war price to the current level has been only 15 per cent as against a decline of 68 per cent in potatoes, for which there is no exchange market. Similar comparisons reveal declines of 50 per cent in cotton, 47 per cent in beans and 45 per cent in barley, the statement said.

Particular emphasis was given the statement that co-operative efforts of producers in local territories to eliminate unfair practices in price fixing existed were not to be confused with co-operative efforts.

a nation-wide marketing system which would itself constitute a monopoly. The former, Mr. Barnes declared, is sound in principle and will succeed, while the latter is not sound in principle and will fail.

Questioned as to why co-operative selling organizations were not permitted to hold memberships in grain exchanges, Mr. Barnes said that while he was not familiar with the rules of all exchanges, his personal opinion was that to permit co-operative agencies to hold memberships would be unfair to commission houses and other interests which have established and maintained the marketing system thus far.

Huge investments in the marketing of grain by private firms would be jeopardized by the swing of business to the co-operative concern, from which profits would revert to farmers, he said.

Constructive Suggestions. First among constructive suggestions submitted by Mr. Barnes was that "exact and accurate information as to the supply and demand of wheat, verified and indorsed by organizations in whose judgment the producer has confidence," be given farmers and that this information be made available to the public.

Efforts to improve transportation facilities and increase domestic consumption were also mentioned as means by which market conditions might be made more favorable for the producer. The disorganization of European finances is to some degree responsible for the light export demand, and this in turn is due to the "impossible" conditions in whose judgment the producer has confidence, he added, that he believed the United States contributed its efforts to the readjustment of world affairs "long ago," American business would not be undergoing the "strain which it is now experiencing."

Reports Flatly Denied. Reports that Mr. Barnes is to head a $5,000,000 corporation for exporting grain were flatly denied before the committee.

Mr. Barnes said that after the discontinuance of the grain corporation he merely returned to the business in which he has been engaged for twenty-five years prior to the war, and that he has no ambitions for expansion.

Mr. Barnes described the injection of government into business as "most undesirable" and that when our producers have been deprived of the usual protection of free competition, it was certain that great Britain will dissolve its governmental grain agencies in the near future, he said, after which normal trading judgment, the weighing of influence of supply and demand, would again dominate the grain markets of the world.

American System Superior.

Concluding his statement with a plea that "the study of grain exchanges be approached without any preconceived opinions or convictions," Mr. Barnes said he believed the American marketing system superior to any in the world, and that no other method approaches it in point of the protection offered the producer and consumer alike.

"Speculation does not create fluctuating prices," he declared. "But a fluctuating market attracts speculation, and this in turn produces a reduced marketing cost."

Questioned as to the earnings of the United States Grain Corporation, Mr. Barnes said that profits from three years' operation totaled approximately $50,000,000, which amount little more than covered actual interest charges on funds advanced by the United States treasury for operation.

The falling off in domestic demand, and not the importation of Canadian and wheat was largely responsible for the recent depression of wheat prices, Mr. Barnes declared, saying that during the first four months of the current crop year preceding Nov. 1, the mill consumption of American wheat had been 50,000,000 bushels less than during the same period last year.

COUNTIES SHARE IN FOREST RECEIPTS

Denver, Colo., Nov. 6.—Seventy-six counties in Colorado, Wyoming, South Dakota, Nebraska, Michigan and Minnesota will share in the distribution of $25,000,000 derived from national forest business in the Rocky mountain district of the United States forest service during the fiscal year 1920. This amount is 25 per cent of the total receipts received from timber sales, grazing, waterpower, special uses, etc., which by act of congress goes to swell the road and school funds of the counties in which the national forests are located. The total amount turned over to the several states from this source in 1919 was $197,074. Minnesota this year will get $6,268, divided among six counties.

PROCTOR FOREST OF THE TALL CEDARS

Reading, Pa., Nov. 6.—Supreme Tall Cedar William A. Wurts, the national head of the Tall Cedars of Lebanon, a side order of the Masonic fraternity, has been gratified to learn of the steps being taken by S. F. Sparbeck of Proctor, being taken by S. F. Sparbeck of that village, to organize a local forest of the order in Proctor.

Efforts have been tentatively made heretofore to establish a local branch of this modern fun-making organization, but it remained for Mr. Sparbeck to bring the new forest into existence under his energetic direction. The supreme forest is now arranging to send a delegation of its officers to Proctor to attend the institution of this new forest, and nearby forests are being urged to send large delegations to the opening.

District Representative V. D. Irwin of Duluth, Minn., is co-operating with Mr. Sparbeck in plans for the institution.

DENTISTRY UNDER THE "UNION" SYSTEM

If you need fillings, a dentist who makes this his daily work can do it best. If you need crowns or bridges—a crown and bridge dentist is the man you want. If artificial teeth are required, you can get the most satisfaction from a dentist skilled in plate work.

If a tooth must come out, a first-class extractor can take it out without hurting. If your teeth are diseased, a dentist with a full knowledge of the subject should be consulted.

The kind of work you need is done by the man who knows how to do it particularly well. Special work by specialists.

This is the kind of dental service you receive at this office.

Don't Leave Them Behind

Brains and Chains must be used for the safe operation of automobiles.

PRACTICALLY every car in operation has Weed Tire Chains—in the garage. Even the novice knows there are times when he cannot drive safely without them. The trouble comes in making drivers think to always carry them in their cars and think to put them on the tires "at the first drop of rain."

Give your Weed Tire Chains a chance to perform their mission. Don't leave them in the garage. Carry them with you and put them on the tires before the elements whip the streets into black deadly skidways.

Only a moment of your time and their steel forged protection will be securely chaining your car to safety.

BECAME ALMOST INSANE; FOLLOWED FRIEND'S ADVICE

Some friends advised me to go to Dr. Wentworth, but I was skeptical—I did not see how he could cure anyone without medicine. Finally, I decided to try him. At first I became a little better, but still could not sleep well. But I grew steadily better, and after two months under his care, I became well and my nervousness disappeared. I had been feeling well for some time, when last November I became sick again, this time with Freckles. I felt very badly and looked worse, so after consideration I decided to call on Doctor Wentworth again. He told me I would be well again in six days, and sure enough—at the end of six days I was strong and feeling as well as ever. It would be wise for people who are not well, (and especially those who have tried other methods) to interview Dr. Wentworth, as he will relieve them.

MRS. IDA LEMBERG.

I had a queer nervous disease for more than a year, and took nearly all forms of treatment for it. I took much medicine; for a while nearly all I ate or drank was medicine. But I seemed to grow worse—I BECAME ALMOST INSANE.

MRS. IDA LEMBERG.
222 West Third Street, Duluth, Minnesota.
It is not necessary to say more. Mrs. Lemberg's letter speaks for itself. She is one of many people made well and happy by Dr. Wentworth's modern methods of treatment. He is eager to help YOU, and if you will call at his office you will be pleased to show how.

WATER WORKS MEN IN SESSION HERE

About seventy-five managers and heads of water works plants throughout the state convened at the Duluth Commercial club this morning in the first convention of this sort held in Duluth. The meeting today is the eighth annual meeting of the American Water Works association, Minnesota division. The national convention was held last June.

The session this morning was devoted to some interesting discussions including one on water rates in small cities of Duluth, and one by C. J. Sullivan, superintendent of the water works filtration plant at Chisholm, on the production and sale of pure water.

The morning session was followed by a luncheon at the Commercial club.

This afternoon the visitors will be taken on a tour of the city and will be served at the Commercial club. Dinner will be served at the Commercial club. Dinner will be served at the Commercial club.

LITTLE ATTENTION TO THE GERMAN PRESIDENT

Berlin, Oct. 19.—(By the Associated Press).—The change which has taken place in the attitude of Germany toward official personages was illustrated the other day at Templehof field where the German emperor formally twice a year reviewed the troops of the Berlin garrison. President Ebert visited the field a few days ago to watch the flinging of a motion picture, but instead of the attention which used to be accorded to the emperor, the crowd of 4,000 contained performers failed to recognize the president. He was escorted to the president's box by a soldier and gave him scant show at all.

The German president wandered about unaccompanied and stood for a while outside the camera man while a scene was photographed. Later he made his way against the edge of a crowd witnessing a riot scene. When the crowd was ordered out of camera range, the president received an attention from the jostling spectators. One of the crowds who recognized him called attention to his presence but few gave him any notice.

MARCH KING RULES DULUTH

Sousa and His Famous Band Welcomed by Thousands Here.

Lieut. John Phillip Sousa, the March King, who is recognized as the world's greatest band leader, is guest of Duluth today and is being given a rousing welcome by former friends and admirers.

Lieut. Sousa was guest of honor at a luncheon this noon given by members of the Rotary, Lions and Kiwanis clubs at the Seaside hotel. Many prominent Duluthians were present. Among the interesting features of the program was made by the Morgan Park boys band, led by Louis H. Christie, who played in Sousa's band for five years. The boys played an excellent program and a special honor was paid the marching band by a quartet of boys who rendered "Let the Best of the World Go By," arranged by Mr. Christie for this occasion.

Conducted to Armory. After the luncheon Mr. Christie and his band conducted Sousa and his band to the New Armory where thousands of children had gathered to see and hear the greatest American band leader. Mrs. Stephen H. Jones, who is sponsoring the Sousa engagement, had arranged one of the finest spectacles that even Sousa had ever seen. Playing the price of tickets at a nominal cost, she arranged for the school children of Duluth, Superior, Two Harbors, Virginia, Ely and other towns to attend. Fully 1,000 extra seats had been placed in the Armory for the children and cheers and wild enthusiasm reigned among the youngsters when they saw the March King and his band of seventy-five artists. To hear Sousa and his band had been in their dreams for weeks. Supt. R. A. Kent of the Duluth public schools, J. B. Hatchelor, city recreational director, Mrs. Jones and others were on hand to care for the children and under the capable direction of Mr. Hatchelor, the children sang "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner." These songs were sung as a tribute to Sousa and his 100 per cent Americanism.

NEGRO BOOTLEGGER WOUNDS SHERIFF

Madisonville, Ky., Nov. 6.—Leo Fessinger, a negro, who shot and probably fatally wounded Sheriff R. S. Hunter of Hopkins county, who attempted to arrest him last night on a charge of whiskey bootlegging, was still in the hospital today. Leaders of a posse of farmers, however, said they had him "cornered" in a woods near here. Talk of lynching the negro is rife among members of the posse.

Sheriff Hunter was still alive today although attending physicians said he could not recover.

HURRAH FOR THE SECOND POTATO SHOW DINNER
AT ARMORY, NOV. 9, 6:15 P. M. It will be a jammer. Get your ticket at Commercial club or from Harry George, Phoenix Block, or George Beck, 205 Lincoln Bldg., $1.00 each. Also remember the Potato Show, at the Armory, Nov. 9, 10 and 11. It will be the best ever and it's free. Entertainment a liberal affair and a body dressed in Marshall-Well's colors.

SUSPECTS IN BIG HOLD-UP ARRESTED

With the arrest early this morning of Daniel Morris, aged 27, alias Sullivan, in a Duluth hotel, and Tony Albrecht, aged 19, alias "Pollock Kid" alias "Parker," the Superior police believe they have the two men who held up and robbed thirty-five men in a room back of the Abraham pool hall, Broadway and Tower avenue, Thursday night, getting about $2,500 in cash and several thousand dollars worth of jewelry. Both men were found sleeping in their clothes when the officers burst into their rooms.

Morris was arrested by Detective Poland and Enforcer in a room at 208 West Superior street. At first he refused to go to Superior, but when told that he ultimately would have to go, he consented to accompany Sheriff McKinnon. Albrecht was located in the Schwartz hotel in Superior. Both men had revolvers when the police nabbed them.

The police are holding Harry Marcle.

WOULD RECOVER DAMAGES FOR UNDELIVERED TICKETS

Auntie Pakkala of Gilbert brought suit against Carl H. Salminen today in district court to recover $1,200 alleged actual and $1,000 punitive damages because the defendant, it is claimed, failed to deliver certain prepaid steamship and railroad tickets to members of the plaintiffs family.

Pakkala and Salminen $438 last winter for three tickets for his wife and two sons. Salminen, it is claimed, kept

THOUSANDS VIRTUALLY HOMELESS IN VIENNA

Vienna, Oct. 17.—(By the Associated Press).—The law enforcement and statistics department of the city commissioners' office today announced that about 70,000 persons are virtually homeless in Vienna, so great is the shortage of living premises in spite of the requisitioning process that has been going on for a year.

These people are herded into passages

CHILD KICKED BY HORSE

Ironwood, Mich., Nov. 6.—(Special to The Herald).—With both eyes lacerated so that it was necessary for stitches to be put in, close to his wound, Marion Ritz, 3½-year-old daughter of Joseph Ritz, was found in an unconscious condition near a horse which is believed to have kicked her. It is believed she will survive and will lose the sight of either eye.

CRACKER FOOT UNDER TRAIN

Emil Bergh of the Esmond hotel was at St. Mary's hospital with a crushed foot as the result of an accident on the Northern Pacific railroad yards last evening. That he did not lose his life is due to the quick action of another switchman, Thomas H. MeNeil, 221 Eighth avenue west. Bergh was in the act of uncoupling the cars when he lost his footing and fell. Only quick action on the part of MeNeil until the train stopped, prevented the fatality.

Help That Aching Back!

Is your back giving out? Are you tortured with a dull, nagging backache and sudden, stabbing pains? Does the least exertion leave you tired, miserable, "all played out"? Do you feel you just can't keep going? You owe it to yourself, then, to find out what is wrong and lose no time in correcting it. Likely it's your kidneys. Overwork, colds, chills, insufficient rest and the hurry and worry of present-day living, tends to weaken and slow up the kidneys. Backache, with that tired, "all worn out" feeling, is the first warning. Headaches and dizziness may come, too, and perhaps some annoying kidney irregularity. Get back your health before the trouble becomes serious! Help the overworked kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills and assist the medicine by careful living. Doan's have brought health to thousands. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

These Are Duluth Cases:

North Fifty-Fourth Ave. West Harry Pilke, barber, 319 North Fifty-fourth avenue west, says: "Some years ago I had a very bad spell of backache and it interfered with my work. Every move made would send sharp pains in my back and I often had to go and sit down and rest, leaving my customers sitting in a chair. The kidney secretions didn't pass regularly, and when they did they pained me. A friend told me about Doan's Kidney Pills and I got two boxes. They fixed me up in good shape. I have many times recommended Doan's to my friends, when I have heard them complain of backache."	East Fifth Street Mrs. B. Olson, 312 East Fifth St., says: "I was generally run down with kidney trouble. I had awful sharp pains in my back and I could hardly get out of bed in the morning. Sudden dizzy spells would come over me and I would be afraid to walk across the floor for fear of falling. My kidneys were too free in action and annoyed me, too. One of my relatives advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills and after using a box the trouble disappeared entirely." (Statement given October 11, 1917.) On September 22, 1919, Mrs. Olson added: "I always have a good record for Doan's Kidney Pills ever since they cured me of kidney trouble."	East Eleventh Street George Clement, 612 East Eleventh St., city fireman, Fire Hall No. 7, says: "My kidneys gave me considerable trouble some months ago. My back ached by night and I had no sleep. The next morning I arose feeling more tired than when I went to bed. I felt drowsy all the time and my kidneys didn't act regularly. I read accounts of those who had been benefited by Doan's Kidney Pills and was led to try them. I used four boxes altogether, and they cured me up in good shape. I am glad to say I have never had a return of the trouble and I gladly endorse Doan's."
West Third Street Mrs. J. P. Berg, 262 West Third St., says: "I used to be troubled with my bladder and kidneys. The action of my kidneys was irregular and distressed me. I was often laid up for two or three days at a time and my back pained so I couldn't stoop or straighten up. Mornings I would feel awfully dizzy. I always use Doan's Kidney Pills when I feel any of these symptoms coming on and they soon have me feeling all right." (Statement given October 8, 1917.) On September 26, 1919, Mrs. Berg said: "I think the cure highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and would recommend them in 1917. The cure they made for me has remained permanent."	East Fourth Street Fred Nygren, 905 East Fourth street, says: "When I find my kidneys need help, I use Doan's Kidney Pills. I have always had quick relief. When I have suffered with backaches, or have been bothered with my kidneys acting irregularly. When these attacks have come on, I have found it hard to get up or down and that has interfered with my work a great deal. My kidneys have acted too freely. Doan's Kidney Pills have always relieved the trouble in a short time and I am glad to recommend them."

Election Clears Way for Theaters

By JAMES WATTS.
Now that the election is over, the field is clear for the theaters again. The campaign this year has cost the theaters of the country more than any in history, due, no doubt, to the fact that women have had the franchise for the first time in a national election.

Business at Duluth theaters has not been bad, but it is expected to take a jump next week. Politics, however, has been more diverting to women than a style show, and instead of attending the theaters in the evening, they have discussed politics, attended campaign meetings or studied the principles of democracy.

If the theaters wish to hold the interest of women, they should arrange for pictures and other instructive features on politics and government. Women have been the best theater-goers, and it is beginning to look as if they would become the most enthusiastic students of politics. Managers and producers should take their cue.

Morrissey Back in Theatrical Field

James L. Morrissey, who managed the Lyceum theater here for several years, has come back in another theatrical venture, which his friends hope will prove successful. Mr. Morrissey has organized and incorporated a company across the bay and will present dramatic stock at the Plaza. A company of players, which it is said, will include several who have proved popular in this city and Superior, is being formed, and the first stock offering will be presented some time this month. The Plaza was taken over recently by the Clinton-Meyers company for road attractions and several traveling companies will play there between stock engagements. It is planned to play stock until the Lyceum is opened here and road shows can be booked for both houses. Date for the Lyceum opening has not been set as yet.

More Vaudeville Theaters Planned

The plans of Martin Beck and Marcus Loew are being expanded greatly as Mr. Beck continues to extend the junior Orpheum circuit and Mr. Loew completes arrangements for two-day houses on his circuit. Both have immense capital behind them, and prospects are that the number of vaudeville houses for both popular and major circuit attractions will be increased enormously. This will not only provide better and more numerous attractions for the public, but will do much to better looking conditions for vaudeville players. In fact, good vaudeville acts should be able to get coast-to-coast bookings and much shorter jumps.

Martin Beck and Mort Singer of the Orpheum circuit and Marcus Loew are now on the West coast making arrangements for extending their circuits in that territory. Junior Orpheums are being planned for San Francisco and Portland. An Orpheum for Oakland is also mentioned.

Mr. Loew has announced that the Union Square theater of San Francisco will play two-day attractions. Construction on that playhouse is to begin within three weeks. More theaters for the Northwest are needed on the Loew circuit, and Mr. Loew will return East with plans for expansion in several of the Northwest cities. Many of the Loew houses will undoubtedly adopt the two-day policy, as Sam Harris and Irving Ackerman, Loew's partners in the West, are of the opinion that the Loew theaters should extend their major circuit houses as long as Martin Beck continues to extend his junior circuit.

COMPANY OF SWEET SINGERS AT ORPHEUM

FRANK DOBSON AND HIS THIRTEEN SIRENS.

This big musical comedy revue will headline the Orpheum bill, which will open a week's engagement here Sunday afternoon.

The Show Calendar

NEW LYRIC.

Critics seem to be pretty universally agreed that Tom Mix has never done anything with a stronger appeal or more interest than "Old Folks at Home," which this date-dell of the screen comes to the new city today. "Tom Mix" is a name which has never been better suited to a player than it is to Tom Mix, and without question it is one of the finest stories which has ever been provided him. Many critics declare that never again will Mix find conditions so favorable to making a production which is perfect from every viewpoint of an audience.

The star is supplied with innumerable stunts, which are absolutely new, and he is called upon to play a devil-may-care sort of hero who has his ups and downs, but who profits by his own sense of humor and good nature. He is a fairly fortune staker upon his own skin in the saddle, lassoing an automobile and doing other unusual extraordinary stunts.

Romance is not a minor factor in "Old Folks at Home," as is often the case when a star "stunts" through a picture. To the contrary, it serves as a balancing element for the heavier portions of the story. The photography and scenic effects are notable. The star is "supported" in several scenes by his horse, an animal quite as intelligent as Bill Hart's "Toto." Margaret Lewis, leading lady, is appealing, and the other members of the cast are up to requirements.

The added attractions on the program include "Outings," "Hanging the Jack," a comedy and the Lyric News Events. The New Lyric Concert orchestra has a special program.

STRAND.

"Humoresque" the photoplay taken from the novel of Fanny Hurst, which has had a sensational successful run at the Strand here during this week, will be held over for another week so that all who wish to see this picture may do so. It has been acclaimed as the greatest photoplay of the year and its success has been phenomenal. Edmond Browne, violinist, has been providing feature solos during the exhibition of this picture.

"Humoresque" is already famous and has taken its place with the undying masterpieces of the screen art. Not more than three pictures in history have won the critical enthusiasm that was accorded to this wonderful play when first shown in New York. It is destined to be one of the most popular and really big hits of the year. A story that plays all the melodies of life on the strings of the heart, a story that resolves into harmony all the discords of existence, "Humoresque" has been into the soul of the boys there. It has all the heart appeal of "The Music Master" and the comedy of "Folash and Perimartore" picture you will never forget. Edmond Browne, violin soloist, who has received most of his training under G. York, the distinguished violinist and composer, has been engaged as an added attraction during the showing of this feature, and is sure to attract the attention of Duluth music lovers.

NEW ASTOR.

A great event in motion picture producing circles, as well as of utmost interest to theatergoers and those who have made a study of dramatic art and photoplay mechanics, is the making of a great serial photoplay, such as "The Son of Tarzan." This latest and greatest work of Edgar Rice Burroughs, author of "Tarzan stories," will be shown at the New Astor, where it will be shown Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of each week. The first picture, "The Call of the Jungle," was shown this week, and the second comes next Thursday with "The Glorious Lady." The third picture, "The Day of the Tiger," will be shown on Friday. The fourth picture, "The Day of the Wolf," will be shown on Saturday. The fifth picture, "The Day of the Snake," will be shown on Sunday. The sixth picture, "The Day of the Bear," will be shown on Monday. The seventh picture, "The Day of the Lion," will be shown on Tuesday. The eighth picture, "The Day of the Eagle," will be shown on Wednesday. The ninth picture, "The Day of the Hawk," will be shown on Thursday. The tenth picture, "The Day of the Owl," will be shown on Friday. The eleventh picture, "The Day of the Raven," will be shown on Saturday. The twelfth picture, "The Day of the Crow," will be shown on Sunday. The thirteenth picture, "The Day of the Woodpecker," will be shown on Monday. The fourteenth picture, "The Day of the Jay," will be shown on Tuesday. The fifteenth picture, "The Day of the Parrot," will be shown on Wednesday. The sixteenth picture, "The Day of the Peacock," will be shown on Thursday. The seventeenth picture, "The Day of the Phoenix," will be shown on Friday. The eighteenth picture, "The Day of the Unicorn," will be shown on Saturday. The nineteenth picture, "The Day of the Dragon," will be shown on Sunday. ### Julia Arthur to Return.

Julia Arthur, noted dramatic actress, will return to the stage this season. Her husband, Benjamin P. Cheney, once a millionaire, has lost his fortune, and the furnishings of their Bar Harbor home have been sold at auction in Boston. Hence it is inferred that Miss Arthur returns to the stage in order to raise money to recoup the family fortune.

Mr. Cheney inherited a fortune of $10,000,000 from his father. He married Julia Arthur in 1918. Miss Arthur made her professional debut in 1882 at the age of 14.

a surprise offering which is very much of a bit in his particular line.
Another athletic act is that of Walter Ward and Ethel Dooley, both good-looking and graceful, who are presenting a versatile combination of singing, dancing, bicycle riding and lariat throwing under the title of "What We Can Do." Aside from their cleverness this team are winning on their good looks.

Arco Brothers, a team of sturdy Poles, are on the bill for a sensational hand-balancing act and posing, which is said to be superb. One of the brothers is a noted wrestler and holder of many records in lifting.

Topics of the Day get better each week, kinograms are winning by their improving scenes and the orchestra's musical programs are becoming more and more a feature of each performance.

NEW GRAND.

A trained wild animal act that is exceptional even in this day of wonders, and a playlet which is a gem of wit, humor and pathos in about equal proportions share the headline honors of the show, which comes to the New Grand tomorrow with promise of providing entertainment that is exceptional.

Lee Beggs, the eminent character artist, will be seen with an excellent supporting company in "The Old Folks at Home," a playlet dealing with rural domesticity, which has won the title of "The Old Homestead" of Vaudeville. Quaint and lovable, filled with the sort of material that keeps one wavering between a smile and a tear, the offering provides Mr. Beggs with some of the best opportunities of character-acting he has ever had, and he lets none of them pass.

Milo Oika Celeste has come to be known as the foremost female trainer of wild animals now on the vaudeville stage. She brings with her five leopard, splendid specimens of their kind, who obey her every command, performing many and varied tricks in the big steel-barred arena provided for the act. Like all leopards they are treacherous, and often show their cruel teeth and claws, but never yet have they frightened this intrepid woman, who takes her life in her hands at every performance.

The Makarenko duo, with many attractive changes of costumes, will offer a singing and talking act billed as "A Superb Vocal Classic." They are character entertainers of the better sort, and are said to have exceptionally good voices.

EMINENT CHARACTER ACTOR COMING TO NEW GRAND SUNDAY IN PLAYLET OF RURAL LIFE.

LEE BEGGS In "Old Folks at Home."

"The Dentmen Jesters" aptly describes the act of Bryant and Stewart. Both are eccentric comedians with a variety of comedy, mingled with songs and dances which proves them "A Couple of Daffydills," such as they claim to be.

Mooney and Capral will present their comedy originality, "Us Two," singing tuneful melodies in a joyous style and dancing in a piffy way which has been getting them the applause in unmitigated manner. "Man Against Man," which is No. 12 of "The Third Eye" stories, is one of the photoplay features. "Mamma's Boy," a Robin comedy, the Grand News Weekly and other subjects will complete the bill with special music by the New Grand Concert orchestra as an added attraction.

NEW GARRICK.

Charles Ray comes to the New Garrick tomorrow in his very latest production, "Peaceful Valley," a picture version of Sol Smith Russell's famous stage success. This feature brings back "The wonder boy of the screen" in a role which critics unanimously declare "has made a perfect thing of his kind." The country youth will be with us again—as human, as natural, as humorous as he can be made. To see Charles Ray as the rustic lad who does the chores, makes love awkwardly and good naturedly teases his mother and sister, will bring an hour of complete enjoyment.

As Hosiaw Howe, Charles Ray resides in Peaceful Valley, where contentment is supreme. To ease the declining years of his mother and earn enough to send his sister to school—that is his sole aim in life. The picture is punctuated with bright and charming flashes of country life, of how these simple rustic folk make the best of things and pass their days, accepting what comes with a happy philosophy. There are melodramatic moments when the boy and his mother are in the depths of sorrow, but the atmosphere clears and happiness rules again. The feature is wonderfully staged and acted.

Tom Mix plays the part of Vernon from Hosiaw's secret heart, in a winning way. Lydia Korb brings much to the part of the mother, and the little sister, Martha, is as sweet as Charlotte Pierce presents her.

Another of the interesting scenes includes Bill Beggs' "Hanging the Jack" and the Garrick World Events are among the other attractions on the program.

The ninth symphony concert, including some of the greatest of the world's composers will be given as an added feature with the photoplay program Sunday afternoon from 2 to 6 o'clock.

Tonight's showings of "Madame X" with Pauline Frederick and "Hush and Dizzy" with Harold Lloyd, will be the last of the current program.

ZELDA.

Alice Joyce in "The Vice of Pools" opens today at the Zelda. Human beings are largely the result of a series of follies. The average person chooses mainly after a mere of passion and lives to repent in foolishness. In "The Vice of Pools" Alice Joyce is seen as a young woman who allows folly to get the better of wisdom and the result is a series of complications that have unusual dramatic value. There are many light spots and much subtle humor in the action which tends to emphasize the emotional scenes and give Miss Joyce a scope seldom witnessed in scenes of this nature. The chief virtue of "The Vice of Pools" is its dedication of life as it exists. The story of Marion and Cameron is that of hundreds of other headstrong young persons who allow infatuation to get the better of common sense and draw themselves into a network of circumstances from which it becomes difficult to become extricated. It is different from the average film and the ending cannot be anticipated at the start. One is constantly speculating as to how it all will end. The climax comes as a surprise and is not what one expects.

WONDER BOY OF SCREEN AT GARRICK

SCENE FROM "PEACEFUL VALLEY."

This picture, which is the latest Charles Ray release, brings the star back tomorrow as Hosiaw Howe, a rural character, which shows him at his best. It is a melodrama of pathos and laughter.

Dare-devil Tom at Lyric

NOTES OF LOCAL THEATERS

Sirens are sweet singers and in Greek mythology they were known as water nymphs with a perilous gift of song which they used to lure mariners on the rocks. Today we speak of a siren as a woman of seductive charm who lures men to destruction. There are thirteen sirens in Frank Dobson's revue at the Orpheum. Just how dangerous they are will be seen next week.

cast of fifteen people, including among the principals Blanche Lattell, well known in legitimate musical comedy and other productions in the United States, and Billy C. Webb, a popular Broadway comedian.

Clara Kimball Young and her "world's most beautiful eyes," not seen on a Duluth screen since the showing of "The Forbidden Woman" at the New Garrick some months ago, are coming back. This time they will be in "The Soul of Rafael," a picture dramatization of Marah Ellis Ryan's love story of Old California. In the days when night was right. The story has been translated into eight different languages and has been a big seller in each.

Greg is again given a place of prominence on the New Garrick Symphony orchestra's concert program, the numbers to be played tomorrow afternoon in connection with the first showings of Charles Ray in "Peaceful Valley" including two of his selections, "The Forest" and "March of the Dwarfs." Dvorak's Largo from "The New World Symphony" is also accorded a prominent place. The other composers contributing to the program are Rossini, Terezy and Verdi.

One of the biggest and most pretentious vaudeville acts ever brought to Duluth is scheduled for an early appearance at the New Grand theater. It is "The Overseas Revue," a big production produced for and played for members of the American expeditionary forces during the war. It has a been so popular this week that it will be shown all next week.

MADGE KENNEDY RETURNS TO THE SPEAKING STAGE

Miss Madge Kennedy, one of the most beloved and beautiful of young screen stars, will return to the speaking stage this season, and will be presented on Broadway before the holidays, under the management of Henry W. Savage, as the star of the comedy-drama "Cornered."

It is three years since Miss Kennedy, at the height of her Broadway success, left the theater for the films. Her last personal appearance was as heroine of "Dear and Warm" in which she won great popularity as an ingenue comedienne of a type she herself originated in her first play, "Little Miss Brown," and developed with much charm and subtlety in "Twin Beds."

In "Cornered" Miss Kennedy will have her first opportunity, in a spoken play, to thrill her audience as well as win their smiles. She has already begun rehearsal, surrounded by a company of unusual distinction, which includes such well-known players as Leslie Austin, juvenile last season with Ethel Barrymore; Anne Sutherland; Amelia Gardner; Charles Brown, American Comed; Tom Walsh, Robert Forsythe and Natalie.

Pat Rooney and Marian Bent are to appear in musical comedy this season. The title of their vehicle is "Oh, Pat!"

Plaza—Superior.

These ought to be the heartiest kind of a welcome for Fiske O'Hara, America's foremost actor-singer, who will appear in an engagement of two nights at the Plaza theater, Superior, Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 10 and 11, in "Springtime in Mayo," a fascinating comedy of Irish wit, love and melody.

under the direction of Augustus Pitou, Inc. "Springtime in Mayo" was written by Anna Nichols Duffy and is described as a refreshing and novel departure from the paths usually followed by playwrights. The author has gone far afield from the conventional and evolved a healthful, wholesome and amusing play, with swiftly moving action, fresh and sparkling lines, new wit and skillfully drawn characters. The delighted throngs that are everywhere crowding the theater embrace people from all walks of life and the breaking of matinee records indicates how powerfully "Springtime in Mayo" appeals to womankind.

That Mr. O'Hara will be welcomed by all who recall his many memorable characterizations goes without saying. In "Springtime in Mayo" he has the role of Terence McWarren, a young, Americanized Irishman who returns to his native land after an absence of five years. He is still heart free, of love he is entirely ignorant, the word has never existed in his dictionary. All at once he meets with a most delightful bit of Irish femininity and then things begin to happen, and just what takes place, the ruse whereby Terence outwits a rival, and the manner of his wooing are all set forth in inimitable manner by the author.

It is only necessary therefore to state that the supporting company will be fully up to the usual high Pitou standing. In the company are such well-known players as Patricia Gray, Frederick Kynn, Sam Bernard, Mary Louise Malloy, George Sharp, J. P. Sullivan, J. E. Miller, W. E. Sheehan.

Norma Talmadge's next, "The Passion Flower," from the play of the same name, will be directed by Herbert Brenon.

Winsor McCay is trying a new film novelty, a 1,000-foot animated cartoon, dealing with his "Welsh Karbit" series.

Bert Lytell has started work on "A Message from Mars" under Maxwell Karger's personal direction.

Metro is negotiating for the rights to "Camille" for Nazimova's use.

Rockliffe Fellowes has signed a contract to be co-starred with Ethel Clayton in a new feature.

George H. Davis has purchased all rights to "Isobel," by James Oliver Curwood, produced by Sam Rork and Eugene Roth. Houe, Peters, and Jane Novak are co-starred. Edwin Carewe directed.

"Once to Every Woman" an Allan Holubar special, starring Dorothy Phillips, has been completed.

Anita Stewart left for the West coast Nov. 3 after spending the past four been engaged as leading man for Lillian Gish in her forthcoming Sherrill production.

When Marshall Neilan finishes the filming of "Dirty" he will make a piecemeal production of "All the King's Horses," starring Wesley Barry in the role of a boy detective. The story is from the pen of Hayden Talbot.

Mae Marsh's first Robertson-Cole production, "The Little 'Fraid Lady," has been completed under John Adolf's direction, scheduled for release next month.

Harold Lloyd has completed "Wrong Number" for Pathé, which marks his final picture for that concern, and has started work on a new comedy for the Associated Exhibitors, Inc.

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Fred Kerr, a celebrated English actor, has come to this country to play in the Henry Miller production of the A. E. Thomas comedy, "Just Suppose." Mr. Kerr made his professional debut in this country in 1881, playing the Wallack theater in "The School for Scandal."

William Farnum, the Fox film star, has bought a half interest in the George C. Tyler revival of "Erminie."

Zeligfeld is to co-star Marilyn Miller and Leon Errol this season in "Sally in Our Alley." The Fairbanks twins will be in the cast.

The long and prosperous run of "The Night Boat" has terminated at the Liberty theater in New York. It will be succeeded by "The Half Moon," which opens this week.

William Collier is now touring the country in his last season's success, "The Hottentot."

The one millionth ticket for the hippodrome spectacle, "Good Times," is on sale. It is for the matinee performance of Nov. 30.

"Aphrodite," now on tour, played to a gross of $102,000 in Cleveland.

Vera Gordon, mother in the movie, "Humoresque," has taken a fling at vaudeville. He is appearing around New York in "Lullaby," a play by Edgar Allen Wolf.

Herbert Amstruther, an English actor, has arrived in this country to play the role of Bernard Clark in "The Young Visitors," when it is produced by Brady and the Shuberts. Mr. Amstruther played the role in the London production.

Maude Fulton's latest play is "Enter, Mary Jones," it is now being given a test production in San Francisco.

Madge Lessing has returned from a long stay in London and will again appear in "Erminie." This time it will be with the DeWolf Hopper-Franz Wilson revival.

Revue for Eddie Foy.

Billy Jerome is writing a two-act musical show for Eddie Foy and formerly called "Eddie Foy's Revue of 1920," in which the Foy's will star. Foy is to produce and finance the show himself. Production is to be made shortly after the holidays. The revue will be an elaboration of the Foy's present vaudeville act, written by Jerome.

Nash Trucks invariably are sold at list price. And it is because of their unusual value that any deviation from the list is obviously impossible.

The fact is, prices of Nash Trucks would be many dollars higher than they are were it not that volume production of both passenger cars and trucks of value is carried on by one organization and under the direction of one group of executives.

Those most familiar with production methods will best appreciate what this means in low manufacturing overhead—and the saving effected is passed on to the buyer in the list price made possible for Nash Trucks.

FOUR BATTLES IN CONFERENCE

Illinois and Ohio Still Undeclared; Others Have Chance for Tie.

Chicago Nov. 6.—The Western football conference today drew interest toward the outcome of three games which determine the final contestants for the 1920 championship—the Michigan-Ohio State game at Columbus; the Chicago-Illinois game at Chicago; and the Minnesota-Wisconsin game at Minneapolis.

Illinois, 1919 conference champion, and Ohio State, last year's runner-up, offered undated teams for today's game while Michigan, Ohio State and Chicago, each though defeated in one conference game, may go into a tie for first place unless the two undefeated teams can keep their status clear for the rest of the conference.

Although Michigan lost by one point to Illinois last Saturday, the Wolverines are confident they have an even chance with Ohio State, and realize it is their only chance to remain in the race for the conference title.

Illinois, on the other hand, faces a notable disadvantage in that it has a crippled Chicago team. The loss of quarterback Bobby Cole for the rest of the season, and Crider, sterling backfield man, also out, with Housch in doubtful condition, has left the Illini's squad seriously handicapped.

All three were injured in the hard fought defeat by Ohio State last Saturday. Coach Zuppke feels that his team has been materially improved since his victory over Minnesota last week, the week spots developed by Minnesota superiority in two periods having been strengthened.

Badgers Are Favorites.—Wisconsin also was a strong favorite over Minnesota in their clash at Minneapolis today. Wisconsin's only one game down, like Michigan and Ohio State, has been a defeat by Illinois in the important struggle with Illinois next Saturday, in which their chance of a tie for the championship depends. Despite Minnesota's early season's weakness, one of the toughest opponents in the conference was predicted because of the feud existing between the Gophers and the Badgers.

The game between Northwestern and Minnesota was expected to be a marred battle, unless the Badger brothers have some surprises in store for the Purple.

Terrible faces the powerful Northwestern team in its game for today. Central college crosses the field in a determined battle with Denauw at Indianapolis.

MINORS HURRY TO ATTACK PLAN. Baseball Men See Merit in the Lasker Appeal.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Minor league magnates were yesterday busy in conference with the Lasker plan of reorganization, say baseball men who understood the real motive of the idea. Those who have already denounced the plan are believed to have given the suggestion little consideration or to have been influenced by certain parties to defeat the scheme for political reasons.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The Western football conference today drew interest toward the outcome of three games which determine the final contestants for the 1920 championship—the Michigan-Ohio State game at Columbus; the Chicago-Illinois game at Chicago; and the Minnesota-Wisconsin game at Minneapolis.

Illinois, 1919 conference champion, and Ohio State, last year's runner-up, offered undated teams for today's game while Michigan, Ohio State and Chicago, each though defeated in one conference game, may go into a tie for first place unless the two undefeated teams can keep their status clear for the rest of the conference.

Although Michigan lost by one point to Illinois last Saturday, the Wolverines are confident they have an even chance with Ohio State, and realize it is their only chance to remain in the race for the conference title.

Illinois, on the other hand, faces a notable disadvantage in that it has a crippled Chicago team. The loss of quarterback Bobby Cole for the rest of the season, and Crider, sterling backfield man, also out, with Housch in doubtful condition, has left the Illini's squad seriously handicapped.

All three were injured in the hard fought defeat by Ohio State last Saturday. Coach Zuppke feels that his team has been materially improved since his victory over Minnesota last week, the week spots developed by Minnesota superiority in two periods having been strengthened.

Badgers Are Favorites.—Wisconsin also was a strong favorite over Minnesota in their clash at Minneapolis today. Wisconsin's only one game down, like Michigan and Ohio State, has been a defeat by Illinois in the important struggle with Illinois next Saturday, in which their chance of a tie for the championship depends. Despite Minnesota's early season's weakness, one of the toughest opponents in the conference was predicted because of the feud existing between the Gophers and the Badgers.

The game between Northwestern and Minnesota was expected to be a marred battle, unless the Badger brothers have some surprises in store for the Purple.

Terrible faces the powerful Northwestern team in its game for today. Central college crosses the field in a determined battle with Denauw at Indianapolis.

MINORS HURRY TO ATTACK PLAN. Baseball Men See Merit in the Lasker Appeal.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—Minor league magnates were yesterday busy in conference with the Lasker plan of reorganization, say baseball men who understood the real motive of the idea. Those who have already denounced the plan are believed to have given the suggestion little consideration or to have been influenced by certain parties to defeat the scheme for political reasons.

GOPHERS SHOW NEW BACKFIELD

Lineup Changed for Annual Clash With Wisconsin Eleven.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 6.—A revamped backfield appeared in the Gopher lineup when the University of Minnesota and the University of Wisconsin met in their annual football contest at Northrop field here this afternoon.

It was understood Capt. Arntson of Minnesota probably would not appear in today's game, owing to the death of his sister yesterday at her home in Red Wing, Minn. Pete Regnier is expected to take his place at quarter.

Arnold Oss, injured in the Northwest game several weeks ago, will play at left halfback.

A special train of Wisconsin rooters arrived this morning, indicating a predicted large crowd. All reserved seats for the battle were sold out last Tuesday.

HAMLIN BEATEN BY SOUTH DAKOTA STATE

Brookings, S. D., Nov. 6.—South Dakota state college football team defeated Hamline university of St. Paul here yesterday afternoon, 14 to 0.

The game was hard fought throughout, although state college outplayed Hamline in all periods but the fourth. The first touchdown was made in the second quarter on straight football and the second came in the last period, with only two minutes were left to play. Two forward passes, Johnson to Carey, put the ball over.

MAJOR MOGULS MEET MONDAY

Lasker Plan Adherents Expect Compromise Following Last Proposition.

New York, Nov. 6.—The first of November, and went without any of the five American league clubs led by Dan Johnson knocking under and accepting the recent ultimatum issued by the eight National league and three American league clubs.

Technically, war is on. But in reality, like Huck Finn's apple core, there ain't going to be any.

The proposal of the Johnson adherents last week for a reorganization of baseball by "experienced men" is taken by the adherents of the Lasker plan to mean that Johnson and his followers are willing to talk things over now, and they are ready to meet the men who "ran out" at Chicago a fortnight ago and strive for an agreement.

Mr. Johnson and the five clubs supporting him, all of whom refused to meet in Chicago recently, have been invited to a joint meeting in Chicago next Monday, said John A. Heydler, president of the National league, yesterday afternoon. As was intimated upon our return from Chicago, the eleven clubs that made a solemn vow to resist a reorganization of baseball government, will meet rather than antagonistic to those who refused to discuss the issue. It is hoped the five will be on hand in Chicago next Monday.

Desire to Get Together.—We have interpreted the announced counter proposition as a desire to get together with us and to threaten out subject to a fitting close. However, we are prepared for eventualities. We have put the broadest construction on their announced readiness to reform. But they do not care to follow up these first advances of their refusal to meet in common council next week no one can tell how wide the breach may soon be.

FOOTBALL SIGN CONTRACT FOR BIG FIGHT

Purse Will Total $500,000; Place and Date of Battle Undecided.

New York, Nov. 6.—Jack Dempsey and Georges Carpentier signed a contract here yesterday to fight for the world's championship for a half million dollar purse. The date and place of the contest is not specifically stated in the agreement, but it is expected the contract is complete and definite.

Dempsey is to receive $300,000 for defending the title. Carpentier, who held the European world championship, will receive $200,000 as his share of the purse. Each fighter in addition is to hold a per cent of the moving picture corporation stock, while the other 50 per cent goes to the three joint promoters, Tex Rickard, Charles Cochran and William A. Brady. The $500,000 purse is to be deposited with a bank of trust company, located near the scene of the battle, at least twenty-four hours previous to the contest and will be divided between the principals immediately after the termination of the fight's success.

Each pugilist, through his manager, must post a $50,000 forfeit on or before Nov. 20, to be divided equally between his prospective opponent and the promoters if he fails to keep his part of the contract. The promoters also agreed to deposit $100,000 on or before the same date to be divided equally between the pugilists should the promoters fail to carry out their part of the contract.

Possible Referee.—The promoters agree to notify the pugilists not later than March 1. In the fight is to be held during the month of March, 1921. If it is decided to stage the bout between May 9 and July 3, the fighters are to be notified not later than March 1. The contract also reads for a satisfactory selection must be made by a state commission, either in the United States, Canada, Mexico or Cuba.

The pugilists, through his manager, submitted a list of five names from which it is proposed to select the referee and judges with a proviso that if the bout is held in a place where boxing is controlled by a state commission, the selection must be made by that body. The names offered of William Brown and James J. Corbett are the only ones that have been mentioned.

MINNEAPOLIS PLAYER WINNER AT BILLIARDS. Chicago, Nov. 6.—Arthur Woods' of Minneapolis won first place in the national pocket billiard tournament at the Washington Hotel here last night, when he defeated Walter Franklin of Kansas City, who finished second, 125-100, in eighteen innings.

Combsky, with a view to rebuilding his team, wrecked by the baseball scandal, has offered $50,000 for three members of the Baltimore team. One is Jack Bentley, a left-handed pitcher, who came from school to join the Washington team some years ago. In the past season Bentley has played his first base, scoring sixteen victories and making a batting record of .367, with twenty home runs to his credit.

final authority to decide and award any distribution of the forfeit money as provided in the contract. It is further stipulated that the ring shall be from 18 to 24 feet square. A provision also is inserted giving the promoters a thirty-day extension from the date the forfeit is selected for the bout, in case the contracting parties are unable to agree on a date and time so selected, due to causes beyond the control of the promoters.

ALL SUPERIOR COMING OVER

Badger Football Eleven Is Loaded to Defeat Duluth on Sunday.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 6.—This seems to be the year for a thorough housecleaning in athletics. Baseball is not the only sport that is to be purged. Amateur athletics are to come in for their share of renovating, as it was declared today by Charles A. Deane, amateur athletic union official, that the far will probably fly Nov. 14, 15 and 16, at the annual meeting of the National A. A. U. at New Orleans, La. He added that there is to be a housecleaning and that the national championship committee of the organization is to suffer a decided change.

IT'S VERY FAR FROM DEAD, SENATOR.

"The Versailles League is now deceased," said Mr. Harding to his neighbors, gathered to celebrate the victory.

Isn't Mr. Harding assuming a good deal, not only for himself but for his party and his country?

It is charitable, perhaps, to set this remark down as a verbal indiscretion due to the exaltation of victory.

For the Versailles League is very far from dead. Forty-odd nations now belong to it including all the principal countries except those defeated in the war; and yesterday it was announced that Germany, Austria and Bulgaria are about to apply for membership.

Not only are all the nations of the world members or about to become members—for the defeated nations will be admitted when they show that they are making good on the peace terms in good faith—except Turkey, Russia, Mexico and the United States, but the League is actually working. It is spending money, has elaborate headquarters, and is doing far more good and important things for the welfare of the world than many people suspect.

No, the Versailles League—not now the "Wilson League" but the "Versailles League"—is not "deceased." Very far from it. Nor is there any likelihood that it will be discarded and a new one made; nor would a new one be much good if the nations were gathered together again to make one.

All that is true in what Mr. Harding said is that America is not yet a member. The only question is whether it is going to become a member. Doubtless, if Mr. Harding and the Republican party will let it become a member, it can get in on terms easier than any other nation has asked. But it can't expect the world to get up a new one, and it should not try.

The responsible element in the Republican party has consistently held forth to the people the promise that if Mr. Harding were elected America would enter "the" League. Though Mr. Harding was cryptic in his utterances on the subject, he himself did say things that could be construed to mean the same thing. The country will look to his responsible supporters to make good on the pledge they gave it.

Mr. Harding and his party will feel obligated, in view of all that is past, to do some tinkering with the Covenant. Let's hope they will not feel obligated to do enough tinkering to spoil it. And let's hope that they won't continue to hug the delusion that a country or an individual can join a solemn undertaking for the protection of mankind without incurring obligations. Going in, while discarding obligation essential to the success of the plan, would be a mockery, and rejection would be decenter.

"PROHIBITION" IN SCOTLAND.

You may have observed that "prohibition" was being agitated in Scotland, that hot debate about it was in progress with America's "Duskyfoot" Johnson participating, and that there has been voting about it. But though prohibitionists have supported the fight heartily, the "prohibition" that was up in Scotland is very little like prohibition as we conceive it in this country.

More accurately speaking, what Scotland is debating is "local option," a term very familiar in this country as the first step in the long process that led to a legally dry America; but even Scottish local option is not like ours. Our local option was local prohibition—complete so far as law could make it. It meant that if a community wished to it could vote not to license saloons, and that meant no drinking places at all. First the community, then the county, then the state, then the nation—that was the story of the coming of prohibition in America, and it was aimed at total prohibition from the beginning, in the small unit first and then from larger to larger.

But local option in Scotland, where a relatively small number of communities have voted to be as dry as the Scottish local option plan provides, is a very different thing. There it means only voting out the "public house," which is strikingly similar to voting out the American saloon and stopping there. For as the American saloon was a vicious institution, at once the sinister father of a brood of ugly evils and the father of prohibition as well, so in Scotland the public house has come to be a cancer eating at the heart of many communities.

He bids fair to be wise who has discovered he is not so.—Publius Syrus (42 B. C.).

You would never think it from the sober behavior of our Scottish-born neighbors at Hunter's Park and elsewhere, but intemperance is a sad blight on Scottish life; and the public house is its headquarters.

There was a time when the Scots were a wine-drinking people. In those days their inns, celebrated in Scottish romance, were picturesque and decent places, as decent as any grocery store, as unlike the modern grog shop as a mild wine is unlike forty-fold whisky. But when, with the industrial revolution that transformed many other aspects of Scottish life, whisky came in, it began a sinister change which has turned the inn into a public house, and so, by familiar laws of reaction, led to the agitation of local option.

Extremists in America wouldn't think that it is getting the support of prohibitionists in Scotland was much of any prohibition at all, though it is being urged and opposed there as hotly as any thorough-going prohibition measure ever was in this country. A community which goes dry there merely determines to cease licensing public houses. That is a great gain, when it is understood that the good old Scottish inn has become, as a public house, a blot, a scandal and a disgrace.

But the community that has voted dry in Scotland does not go thirsty. It leaves the clubs, whether rich or humble, free to serve drinks to their members, and it does not affect the hotel or the home. Its aim is not compulsory abstinence, but the promotion of temperance by removing the chief promoter of intemperance. That being so, the only wonder is that the first victories for this tentative step in temperance have not been more numerous than they seem to have been.

CONSTITUTION AND COVENANT.

Senator Knute Nelson, in a senate speech quoted on this page recently, compared the debate on the League of Nations with that on the adoption of the Constitution of the United States. The similarity is far closer than most people realize; closer, indeed, than it is possible for anybody to realize fully today, when opinion on the Constitution is virtually unanimous.

The Constitution was ratified only by main strength and good strategy. Doubtless a majority of the people were against it, and if it had been submitted to a referendum it would hardly have carried a single one of the thirteen colonies.

In Pennsylvania the friends of the Constitution had to kidnap and tie in their seats enough of the opposition to keep a quorum until the act of ratification could be passed.

The Massachusetts convention ratified, after a long debate, by a majority of only nineteen—187 to 168.

In Virginia, where the greatest debate of the series took place, with Patrick Henry leading the opposition, ratification was in doubt at the last moment, and took place only by a vote of 89 to 79—a majority of only ten.

And, with the alarms about what the League of Nations is going to do to our liberties, read what some of the opponents of the Constitution thought about it:

Nathaniel Barrell—"I see it pregnant with the fate of our posterity. I see it entails wretchedness on my posterity, slavery on my children."

Thomas B. Wait—"I deplore the darkness, duplicity and ambiguity running through the whole Constitution. . . . The vast continent of America cannot long be subjected to a democracy if consolidated into one government. You might as well attempt to rule hell by prayer."

Abraham White, replying to the Constitutionalist argument that the people's representatives in congress would be true to their constituents, said: "I would not trust a flock of Mesquites."

Dr. John Taylor—"The senators, once chosen, are chosen forever." Fortunately that melancholy forecast turned out not to be true.

Samuel Nasson—"O Liberty! thou greatest good! thou fairest property! With thee I wish to live—with thee I wish to die! Pardon me if I drop a tear on this peril to which she is exposed."

John Holmes—"The Constitution gives congress power to institute judicatories like that diabolical institution, the Inquisition."

Major Thomas Lusk, because the Constitution provided no religious test, "slundered at the idea that Roman Catholics, Papists and Pagans might be introduced into office, and that popery and the Inquisition may be established in America."

Patrick Henry—"I look on that paper as the most fatal plan that could possibly be contrived to enslave a free people. A standing army will execute the execrable demands of tyranny."

William Widgery—"I cannot see why we need, for the sake of a little meat, swallow a great bone, which if it should happen to stick in our throats, can never be got out."

George Mason—"It means individual taxation by two different and distinct powers which cannot exist long together; the one will destroy the other. One national government is not fitted for an extensive country. Popular governments can exist only in small territories. A consolidated government is one of the worst curses that can possibly befall a nation."

Impertinent Reflections

By Savoyard.

Washington, Nov. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The innumerable battles fought in Europe during all the centuries between Hastings and Waterloo tended to a common end—to shatter the political distinction between the peer and the peasant. And all the countless wars of Europe from the time of William the Conqueror to Napoleon the Great were but the forward march of democracy.

When William the Norman "conquered the crown but not the realm" of England there was nowhere in all Europe a legislature with a perceptible degree of vitality. After Waterloo republicanism made giant strides, and when the World War began every state in Europe, except Turkey, had a legislature, though his empires, Russia and Austria-Hungary parliamentary government was more seeming than real. And today every state in Europe, with the exception of Russia and Turkey, has established parliamentary government, real and virile, and Russia will have a real parliament as soon as Russia ceases to be a lunatic.

I have no fear of Germany. On the contrary, much is to be hoped of Germany. Despicable as she is, she is a danger to us only for more than fifty months of the World War, fierce, terrible, ruthless as that war was, Germany has shown in love with war, and there is not the slightest danger that she will commit a breach of the peace for a long time to come. So people of Europe have more right to fear peace than Germany, and what is a blessing, Germany knows that peace is indispensable to her success in the world.

The Sun and Herald thinks that there should be a greater distribution of such fortunes for the benefit of society. It approves the wills of Mr. Frick, the late steel magnate, and Mr. Altman, a New York merchant, who left a large proportion of their wealth for charitable and other public purposes. It strongly disapproves of those rich men who leave the greater part of their accumulated fortunes in bulk to one or two members of their families.

This is wholesome criticism, but so long as it only aims at rebuking those dead rich men who fail to leave money for public purposes it will get nowhere.

There is always a way at hand to handle such cases as that of the Vanderbilt fortune, with the machinery for it already in operation.

That is to make inheritance tax laws that will take the bulk of all great fortunes for the public benefit at the death of those who built them up.

Then men may gather as vast accumulations as the law will let them in their lifetimes, but society will be secured against the evil of congested and virtually entailed wealth by the automatic absorption of the greater part of these fortunes when those who built them up pass on to the bourne to which no man can carry material wealth.

The reasons for such a course are commonplace. If the man who builds up a fortune by real service to society has earned it and is entitled to the enjoyment of it, his sons and daughters have not earned it and therefore are not entitled to enjoy it. Moreover, in nine cases out of ten they would be better off without this unearned wealth, because the lack of it would compel them to exert the possibilities of useful endeavor that usually lie inert within them when inherited wealth provides for their needs. By drastic inheritance tax laws society would protect itself against the menace of congested and unearned wealth, would protect the children of the rich against the paralysis of initiative and energy that is all too likely to come with unearned wealth, and would thus give itself the benefit of the services of these possible inheritors which it would lose if they acquired so much unearned wealth that they need not work.

Criticism of those who neglect the public in disposing of their fortunes is idle and useless when there is a remedy at hand which needs only to be used to solve the problem completely.

But if all were like those who make this provision for the public welfare in their wills, there would be no case for a drastic inheritance tax law.

Home Industries

Columbia, S. C., State: The other day a lady of our acquaintance found that a shrub in her yard had intruded over a path, so as to be in the way. After deliberating, she decided that it would probably not survive transplanting, and she suggested to her cook, an able-bodied, brown woman, that it had better be cut down. The cook agreed, but pointed out that the said cutting-down was a man's work, not within the scope of her duty as a cook. When reminded that men who had been called in for sundry gardening jobs, had given her a glance and uttered the phrase, "Three dollars,"—sometimes more, but never less—the said aristocrat had raised her eyebrows and observed grandly: "Well, nowadays, $3 is a mighty little bit of money for doin' anything."

It was at that moment that the worm, in the person of her mistress, turned. Three dollars were far from growing on every bush for her. She took the ax in her unaccustomed hands and cut down that shrub herself. She experienced no ill effects, and then there she decided that the various $3 which she paid out for labor would be the totally unavoidable ones. When possible she would do what the cook called "laborin' work" herself.

That is the little lesson which war introduced to us, and peace is rubbing in. Many women are like the barnmaids of Liverpool, who, having taken a man's job during the war, have now no intention of giving it up again, no matter how much injured the former incumbents may consider themselves. Many a "neighborhood man" who earned an easy honorarium by gently propelling a now-or-over small lawn once or twice a week, found when he wanted extra pay for removing the shaven grass, that his job went glimmering, and the athletic daughter of the house assumed it, finding it not more laborious and just as healthy as basketball or tennis. Many a home-maker discovered that polishing floors and scrubbing woodwork were well within her powers, and that even a bit of house painting or carpentry were rather fun than otherwise.

Where the Good Fishing Is

"Farm and Home: "Any good fishing around here?" asked the visitor of the little village lad.

"Yes, sir," answered the boy. "You goes down that private road until you comes to a sign in a field wot says, 'Trespassers will be prosecuted.' Well, you go across the middle of that field, and then you comes to a pond, wot a notice-board wot says, 'No Fishing Allowed.'"

"Yes?"

"Well—that's it."

Honest Sweat

An adult, clothed, excretes from one to three quarts of sweat daily. He need not be ashamed of it. It is done in our best families.

The sweat is very thin (specific gravity about 1.004) and is normally alkaline. The composition of the sweat is insignificant—it is practically nothing else than water. Traces of many different organic constituents have been found in sweat, such as urea, uric acid, indican, creatinine, creatin, oxymyoglobin, and a lot of ugly little things like that, but never more than a glass or two of good wine contains about nineteen million eight hundred thousand bacteria.

Arnheim—not Nicky, but another man at the top—has a theory on sweat and sweating. He asserts that special nerves control the sweat glands, and impulses acting on the glands through such nerves would account for sweating from emotion, various medicines and nausea. The ordinary cause of profuse sweating is high external temperature or muscular exercise.

The purpose of sweating is body cooling, not the elimination of poisonous matter. The amount of organic matter or possibly poisonous waste matter present in the sweat is too minute to merit serious consideration. Such ill effects as have goodly record by painting the animal or human body with impervious substances are due to interference with cooling, not to the retention of any constituent of the sweat. There is no harm to be feared from stopping the sweating of a local area, such as the feet or the armpits.

The sweat has much to do with the condition of the skin. An active state of the sweat glands insures a pliability and softness of the skin; if sweating is insufficient the skin is likely to be dry and harsh, and in the condition known as ichthyosis (fish-skin disease) and in milder cases of the same trouble frequently seen about the elbows and arms of young women who are fond of soap and hot exercise.

A thousand and one remedies are employed for excessive sweating. For the armpits nothing is better than a mopping each day for four successive days with this solution:

Aluminum chloride . . . . . 1/2 oz. Distilled water . . . . . 1/2 oz. This should be allowed to dry on the skin before dressing. It may be repeated when required. Aluminum chloride is a standard chemical which any drug store will supply if he cares to accommodate a customer.

For overcoming excessive sweating of the feet perhaps the best agent is: Solution of Formaldehyde (U. S. P.) 1 oz. Water . . . . . 1/2 pt. (Formaldehyde is an irritant poison.) The feet should be bathed with cold water only, and as rarely as possible. Apply the formaldehyde solution to the soles and between the toes, and allow to dry. Repeat this daily for several days. In some cases the amount of formaldehyde solution in the formula may be doubled, if it does not produce too much irritation.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Peasant Butcher. I am very fond of peanut butter and eat it daily. Please tell me the good and bad qualities of this food. (G. K.)

Answer: It is very nutritious, wholesome and digestible. I know no bad qualities.

Saginaw Kid. You said you wanted kids to write, so here I am, a Saginaw kid. The lady across the way doesn't let her kids drink coffee but she told her to buy one thought one cup of coffee with cream wouldn't hurt 'em. But she said cream in coffee was like lead. Is it? (G. L. S.)

Answer: I am much obliged to you for agreeing that it's all right for kids to go swimming. And say, if you can't have kids who's it all right to ride your brother's, without people calling you a tomboy. Yours truly, (G. L. S.)

Answer: The lady across the way was right. Boys and girls under 16 years of age certainly should not drink tea or coffee. Milk is the stuff that makes boys and girls healthy. Cutting their eyes does not make them grow. You're welcome to my advice that it is all right for kids to go swimming. Don't cheer, kids, but let us pity the poor, old-fashioned souls who imagine it is "tomboy" to ride brother's bike.

Aladdin's Lamp. I have been told that by massaging a bugle ten or fifteen minutes a day it will entirely disappear. (M. E. H.)

Answer: Somebody was spoofing you. Operation is the only cure for established bunions. (Copyright National Newspaper Service.)

Just a Moment

Daily Strength and Cheer. Compiled by John G. Quinlan, the Sunshine Man, Dayton, Ohio.

"Why do we grow so little in grace? It is because we do not use our intellect to meditate upon the forces of the unseen world amidst which we live, or our will to draw upon them. We know that we are weak, and Satan and Satan are strong, and we know the truth. But there is a third power stronger than either our weakness or the forces of evil which we commonly forget, and which will never disclose itself except in our using of it. We must stir up the gift within us. Within us we have the Spirit of power, the Spirit of Jesus, the life of Jesus. It remains to us to appeal to it; in constant acts of faith to draw upon it and to use it. Thus it will become to each of us as much a truth of experience as it was to St. Paul, and no longer merely a truth, but Christ that liveth in me."—Charles Gore.

The Smile Went Full Circle

My papa smiled this morning when he came downstairs, you see. At mama, and when he smiled, then she turned and smiled at me. And when she smiled at me I went. And smiled at Mary Ann. Out in the kitchen, and she lent it to the hired man. So then he smiled at some one whom he saw when going by. Who also smiled and ere he knew had wrinkles in his eye. So he went to his office then. And smiled right at his clerk. Who put some more ink on the pen. And smiled back from his work. So when his clerk went home, he smiled. Bright at his wife, and she smiled over at their little child. As happy as could be. And then their little child she took the smile to school, and when she smiled at teacher from her book Teacher smiled back again. And then the teacher passed on one to little James McBride. Who couldn't get his lesson done so he went home and told his mother and she smiled. And James took it home and told his father and he smiled. When he was tired and didn't scold but said, "Don't worry, Jim."

And when I happened to be there that very night at play, His mother had a smile to spare which came across my way. And then I took it after a while back home and mamma said—"There is that very self-same smile. Come back with us to bed."—Zion's Herald.

Should Like Mary Like?

From Answers, London.

Without pausing to consider, the obvious reply to the question at the head of this article would be in the affirmative.

Two young people whom I know very well distinctly disagree at a university, and, to all outward appearance, were admirably suited to each other.

Some time after, when I went to visit them in their new home, I failed to see the suitability of the match.

I do not know for certain that they bored each other—I hope not, since they are joined in matrimony—but, how they bored me, the children on the table seemed spread on a geometrical plan. Nay, the very jam looked as if it were being poured.

They meant to be very charming, I do not doubt, and their conversation was edifying. I felt as if I had been at a lecture, or at a sermon—or otherwise—said thatness or aginity was nil. When I got outside, I longed to see the wind lift the hat off the head of a stout man, and watch him chase it in vain, or something—to me—equally funny and unedifying, so that I could laugh away the oppression of my stomach.

She was a real sweet girl, but I felt as if I had caught a wife married some good fellow with more than a glass or two of good wine in his composition, who would have spoiled her with a good hug that would have disturbed her equilibrium. It seemed to me as though she had a "peck" she received.

He ought to have had a woman who would have had a husband's confidence in her, and having spirit enough to tell him of his selfishness in taking the most comfortable chair in the room, and appropriating the whole of the first course, there might have been an occasional flash-in-the-pan, but at least it would have been living and not altogether dead.

In the days when I used to think I knew something, I remember being surprised at the choice of a wife made by a professional friend of mine. It seemed to me as though he, with all his attainments, had simply thrown himself away on a demure, domestic mouse.

"What a companion for him!" I said to myself. "Why, she doesn't seem to have two intellectual bones in her body." That marriage proved a perfect success, and I learned why, for I visited them frequently.

She just adored her clever husband, and, coming home in the evening, often fagged in body and brain, was glad to find thoughtful consideration and respectful attention when the children came, he said, too, that they were brought up and cared for as only a true mother knows how to do it.

Once I mentioned something to the subject of this article to him. His words in reply are, I think, worth repeating. "If I had married a brilliant and very intellectual woman I fear my mind would have had more of my company. As it is, I run my steps most willingly, each evening towards my haven of rest. You see, after a day in the business arena, a man wants a change, not a new battle—to lay down his tools, so to speak."

I once asked a lady how she had managed to keep her husband still her sweetheart after so many years of marriage. She replied, with a merry laugh, and her eyes shone merrily: "John is such a big, good, serious fellow, quite my opposite, but I expect it is just the same of the deal in me that has a charm for him."

From my little gleanings and experiences I have been brought to the conclusion that the chances of happiness are greater where contrasts of temperament exist than when like marries like.

The Lie Direct

Villager: It seems that in the commercial traveler's profession there is an understanding, as firmly established as an unwritten law and certainly more so than in any other one, that a salesman never tells a competitor the name of the next town he is to "make."

If one asked another where he was going, here, the other names a town where he is pretty likely not to be going. Two good friends of "the road" met up in a town along the Ohio. "Where are you going?" asked one.

"Oh, to Indianapolis," grinned the other. "You hear, that's the first time I've ever damned well goin' going to Indianapolis!"

Twenty Years Ago

From The Herald of This Date, 1900.

"The weather generally throughout the United States today is fine, and a large vote is expected to be polled in the presidential and state elections. There was a light snow fall early in St. Paul and Minneapolis, but the weather soon cleared. Senator James K. Jones of the Democratic national committee predicts a landslide for Bryan and Stevenson, while the Republican leaders see a sweeping victory for McKinley and Roosevelt."

"William R. Merriam, director of the census, anticipates that thirty members will be added to the house of representatives by the reapportionment bill which will be passed at the next session of congress, based upon the increase in population. The additional members, however, will not take their seats until 1902."

"The text of the answer of Russia to the Anglo-American agreement made in regard to China is published at St. Petersburg. The tenor of the agreement is approved, and open ports on rivers of the Chinese interior and the integrity of the Celestial empire are favored."

"Gilbert Daoust, a respected resident of the West end, was crushed to death between two freight cars at the Garfield avenue station of the Northern Pacific road this morning. He was between the cars making some repairs when a switch engine bumped up against one of the cars, pinning him between the bumpers. He was 60 years of age, and is survived by a widow, four daughters and one son."

"A farrowed surprise party was given last evening at the home of Mrs. A. Bennett in West Duluth, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. Messiah, who will leave tonight for Tacoma, Wash., their new home. Mr. Messiah and his son, Frank Messiah, expect to go into business there. Frank Messiah has been connected for several months with the Spicer-Panning store in West Superior, and was married yesterday to Miss Irene Warren, employed in the same store. The ceremony was performed by Rev. O. A. Luce at the Methodist parsonage in Superior."

"Isaac Hegge and D. Stringer of Two Harbors are here on a business trip."

"The marriage of Miss Agnes Magnus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Magnus of 922 E. Second street, and Mr. J. E. Bennett took place last evening at the Choral residence, Rev. Father Corbett officiating. Miss Anna Farrell was maid of honor, and William Madsen was best man. Frank and Winnie Magnus were flower girls. Mr. Bennett is chief clerk to E. A. Eya, general agent of the Northern Pacific railroad."

"There will be a meeting of the state board of directors of normal schools on Nov. 15 in Duluth, when the normal school building that is in process of construction will be inspected. One purpose of the meeting is to interest the leading citizens of Duluth in the school, and there probably will be a reception at the Spalding in the evening. It is expected the school will be opened about Sept. 1 of next year."

CITY-WIDE ADULT BIBLE CLASS CAMPAIGN CREATES INTENSE INTEREST; NECK AND NECK

The fourth week of the city-wide adult Bible class campaign has brought conditions which mean a real struggle for leading positions. It is not merely a contest for places but for the opportunity for carrying out the great objective of increasing interest in Bible study and furnishing opportunity for the discussion of the application of the teachings of Christ to the problems of today. Sunday school attendance and a more effective campaign are involved. The twenty-seven leading classes in the campaign stand as follows:

Table with 2 columns: Church Name and Credits. Lists churches like Merritt Memorial, Woodland, and others with their respective credit counts.

The delegates at the big convention are interested in this city-wide campaign and plan to urge the churches to participate in the campaign. The plans are so adaptable that similar campaigns can be successfully carried on in any town or in rural sections. The campaign will be conducted throughout the winter months. It is planned to have a sufficient number of adult classes to warrant a campaign. It is planned to have a sufficient number of adult classes to warrant a campaign. # AUTOMOBILE NEWS.

GOOD ROADS AMENDMENT IS DECISIVELY CARRIED

Babcock Bill Adopted by 150,000 More Votes Than Were Needed.

Duluth and St. Louis County 10 to 1 for Amendment.

The first step in the legislature to determine the tax provisions of the bill which it is not believed will be reached until late in the coming session. What this tax will amount to has been estimated at an average of $35 a car. This will be determined by the legislature, however. In the meantime the state license will be carried over until this amount is determined. In the words of the present state automobile license will be paid until the state legislature passes the bill and fixes the amount to be paid under the Babcock bill and gets the new machinery working.

One of the first pieces of road work that the state will undertake according to the amendment of C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner, last spring, will be State Highway No. 1, which starts at Albert Lea and runs north through the cities of Duluth and on to the Canadian boundary. It is estimated that the cost of this road will be one of the first bills to be introduced in the legislature.

Another question that now faces the advocates of good roads is how some aid in what manner can federal aid be obtained for these state highways. The federal aid act requires that road projects for federal aid be initiated by the states. As a first step a statement is forwarded to the director of the bureau of public roads, announcing in effect that the state proposes to build a piece of road of a certain type and length in a certain location.

This notice, known as a "project statement" is accompanied by an estimate of cost. The project statement is examined by the district engineer to determine whether the project complies with the federal aid road act. If his decision is favorable, he forwards the statement to the Washington office with his recommendations. There it is examined by the chief engineer and his assistants, and if the latter concurs in the recommendation of the district engineer, the project is placed before the secretary of agriculture for his approval. Until the secretary has acted, no further action is taken by the state.

Average Five Days.
Over half of the projects handled are passed by district officers in an average of five days. An illustration of the manner in which work can be expedited even where a large organization and complex procedure are involved.

Up to June 30, 1920, 2,585 projects involving a total of 2,313 miles of road, had been approved by the secretary of agriculture.

The preliminary estimate of the cost of these projects is approximately $31,000,000, of which approximately $18,840,000 will be approved as federal aid. On the same date, 2,120 projects, representing approximately 15,844 miles, had either been completed or were under construction.

Cost Is Large.
The estimated total cost of those projects in various stages of construction and completed is $26,000,000. The total cost of federal aid work approved by the secretary in the fifteen months subsequent to the signing of the act, and prior to July 1, 1920, which is approximately $20,000,000, exceeded by $5,000,000 the cost of all road aid and bridge work done by states and counties in this country in 1918.

COLD WEATHER SUGGESTIONS

Some Timely Hints for Care of Car This Winter.

In starting your car on a cold morning, when using only plain water in the radiator, assuming the engine is the same temperature as the outside atmosphere and that you use hot water to start the engine, be careful and do not use water that is too hot. Boiling water poured into a cold engine block is liable to crack the block. It is better to temper the water a little before pouring it into the radiator. Even though warm water is poured into the radiator when the car is taken out on a cold day, drop the radiator cover so it will cover the entire front of the radiator, and you have gone about a mile or so, then, if the day is very cold, raise only the top half of the cover and you can proceed in this manner without danger of freezing the radiator or engine, if only short stops are made.

Use of Alcohol.
Denaturing alcohol from our experience, seems to be one of the most advisable of all anti-freeze agents. Following, you will find a table showing the percentage of alcohol you must mix with water to eliminate freezing of a water-alcohol mixture. For instance, in this table you will note that with 5 per cent of denatured alcohol mixed with the water, the freezing temperature is reduced to 2 deg. below zero. With 10 per cent of denatured alcohol mixed with the water, the freezing temperature is reduced to 2 deg. above zero. If you have a solution of half alcohol and half water, the mixture will stand a temperature of 35 deg. below zero before it will freeze enough to damage the radiator or engine.

Another good idea for starting a car in cold weather is to leave the hand lever down when you go away from the car at night. When you want to start the car in the morning pull up the hand lever and the separator the clutch disengages (disconnecting the engine from the car).

In the event that you have not left your hand lever down, jack up one rear wheel and let the hand lever down in high gear (whether you start it with the crank or with the electric starter).

Radiator Repairs Expensive.
Radiator repairs are expensive and desirable. A repaired radiator is never again quite as good as new.

If you happen to be driving along on a cold winter day and notice the steam rapidly accumulating around the front of your car, it is a sign that your radiator is freezing and that either the water is frozen or that the cover is so tight that the radiator is being crushed or entirely cut off. Stop your car and open the radiator cover the radiator with a heavy blanket. Let the engine stand idle for some minutes, and you will notice the steam out of ten, that the radiator will gradually thaw out, and you can start again. This advice holds good, with reference to damage to the radiator, and if you stop immediately, on seeing

GRADE CROSSING WAR IS STARTED

During the past year 1,777 drivers and occupants of automobiles were killed at railroad crossings and 1,700 injured.

During the past year 1,777 drivers and occupants of automobiles were killed at railroad crossings and 1,700 injured. The alarming frequency of such accidents has prompted manufacturers to urge a more careful attention to the danger of "taking chances" at grade crossings, and pointing out certain rules which, if adhered to, would reduce crossing accidents to a minimum.

The following rules should be observed:

- Do not allow children to drive your car, or for that matter anyone who is not able to keep the car under perfect control at all times.
- Examine your brakes, brake linings, and steering connections frequently, and keep them in good condition.
- When approaching a grade crossing, slow down to ten miles per hour, whistle, or see a train approaching or not, then you will be on the safe side.
- If the approach to a crossing is up a grade, shift into low gear, which will prevent the possibility of your stalling your engine while on the tracks.
- Look carefully in both directions before attempting to cross, and if your view is cut off in either direction by obstructions of any kind, by a string of freight cars on a siding, or what not, get out from your machine, if necessary, in order to make sure that the crossing is clear.
- Above all, don't rely upon the supposed speed and power of your machine and attempt to "beat" an approaching train by running across the tracks in front of it. Too many have tried this and failed.
- You owe it to yourself, your family, and the occupants of your car to be careful at grade crossings.

LET'S WORRY ABOUT THE GAS SHORTAGE

The natives of Hawaii are experiencing no pains due to a possible shortage of gasoline, according to an article in Scientific American. From the lowly and sticky molasses is being produced "motor alcohol," a substitute for gasoline. Discovered by J. F. Foster, chemist of one of the big sugar plantations on the island of

TIRES LIKE EGGS, ALL LOOK ALIKE AT FIRST

Buying automobile tires is like buying eggs. All look very much alike.

Buying automobile tires is like buying eggs. All look very much alike. The car owner who buys bargain tires is like the woman who bought frozen eggs from a "friend" at 10 cents below the price her groceryman quoted. When she broke the shells, four of them were bad, so the eight good eggs cost her more than the groceryman's price for twelve good eggs.

In tire mileage, it's not first costs that count but cents per mile. Adding the cost of repairs to the purchase price and dividing by the mileage, will quickly convince even the most confirmed bargain hunter.

Sugar plantations have been letting their molasses run to waste or burning it for the potash recovery. Nitrogen and phosphorus acid are valuable by-products of molasses. Now, however, production of the new fuel is found to be more profitable than obtaining other by-products.

All automobiles in Hawaii, developed available to produce 3,000,000 gallons of "motor alcohol," enough to supply all automobiles in Hawaii. The development of this industry will release shipping space formerly used for transporting gasoline from the United States.

YEAR BREAKS ALL RECORDS FOR ONE SEASON'S TOURING

Reports from all sections of the country indicate that 1920 will be the greatest touring year since the automobile was made a practical road vehicle.

Reports from all sections of the country indicate that 1920 will be the greatest touring year since the automobile was made a practical road vehicle. People have found there is quite a much to be seen in domestic as in foreign travel, and are leaving their own country through the automobile.

As a result of this desire to travel, and to camp by the roadside on vacation, automobile makers have found it necessary to build cars to carry baggage safely and at the same time not crowd the passengers.

WEATHER FINE FOR FALL TOURING TO SOUTHLAND

In spite of the annual weather which has marked October through the Northern states, many motorists are preparing to start for the Southland, not caring to risk the rigors of winter and the uncertainty of coal supply. Some are preparing to camp by the wayside and others are taking the exhibition of roving it, while others intend to head straight for their favorite resorts.

Blmer Perry of Pittsburgh is one of the migratory sort. He is a four-cylinder car set for a genuine outing. Accompanied by Mrs. Perry he recently drove to Michigan and back, a look at the state where most automobiles are built, then headed for the coast, where they intend to enjoy a good and comfortable vacation. They do not intend to pay high hotel bills on the way.

GOOD RULES FOR TRUCK DRIVERS

Here is a set of rules for truck drivers on the care of solid and pneumatic truck tires, formulated by the technical department of the United States Tire company for the benefit of truck owners.

- All truck tires have a load limit (count slight overloading) heavy overloads shorten tire life.
- Distribute the load in the truck body so each tire has about its proportionate share of the weight carried.
- Overloading a tire has a harmful effect on overloading. Keep truck speed within prescribed limits.
- Know, don't guess, your inflation pressures. Proper inflation pressure is as important as proper loads and speeds.
- Tires are limited in shock absorbing power. Avoid driving on rough or rutty roads which reduce tire costs.
- Check your wheel alignment. Tires cannot give full service if subjected to a load which is not shared equally from improper mounting or from misaligned wheels.
- Chains and other anti-skid devices injure tires. Use chains only as long as the tires are likely to slip, and apply them loosely.
- Tires, especially pneumatics, are cut or scraped occasionally by bent fenders or improperly built bodies, when the loaded truck travels over rough places. Carefully watch the clearance of your tires.
- Trim off loose silvers from the solid tires. Mend the small and repair the large cuts in pneumatics without delay.
- Ten owners slowly to prevent tire strains. Apply power and brakes gradually to avoid useless spinning or locking of the wheels. Equalize the brake adjustment. These are common and avoidable tire abuses.
- Running in car tracks causes tires to break down early. Avoid car tracks.
- Learn the correct method of applying and dismantling pneumatic truck tires. Flip and take should fit properly in casing, and casing fit properly on a dressed rim or a steel rim.
- To avoid unnecessary strain on pneumatic or flat spots on solids, lift the truck weight from the tires when the truck is to be idle any considerable length of time.

COLLAR BOX GOOD THING TO CARRY SPARE TUBE IN

Remember those pliable leather collar boxes, with the fancy pull-cord in the top you used to get in your assortments for Christmas?

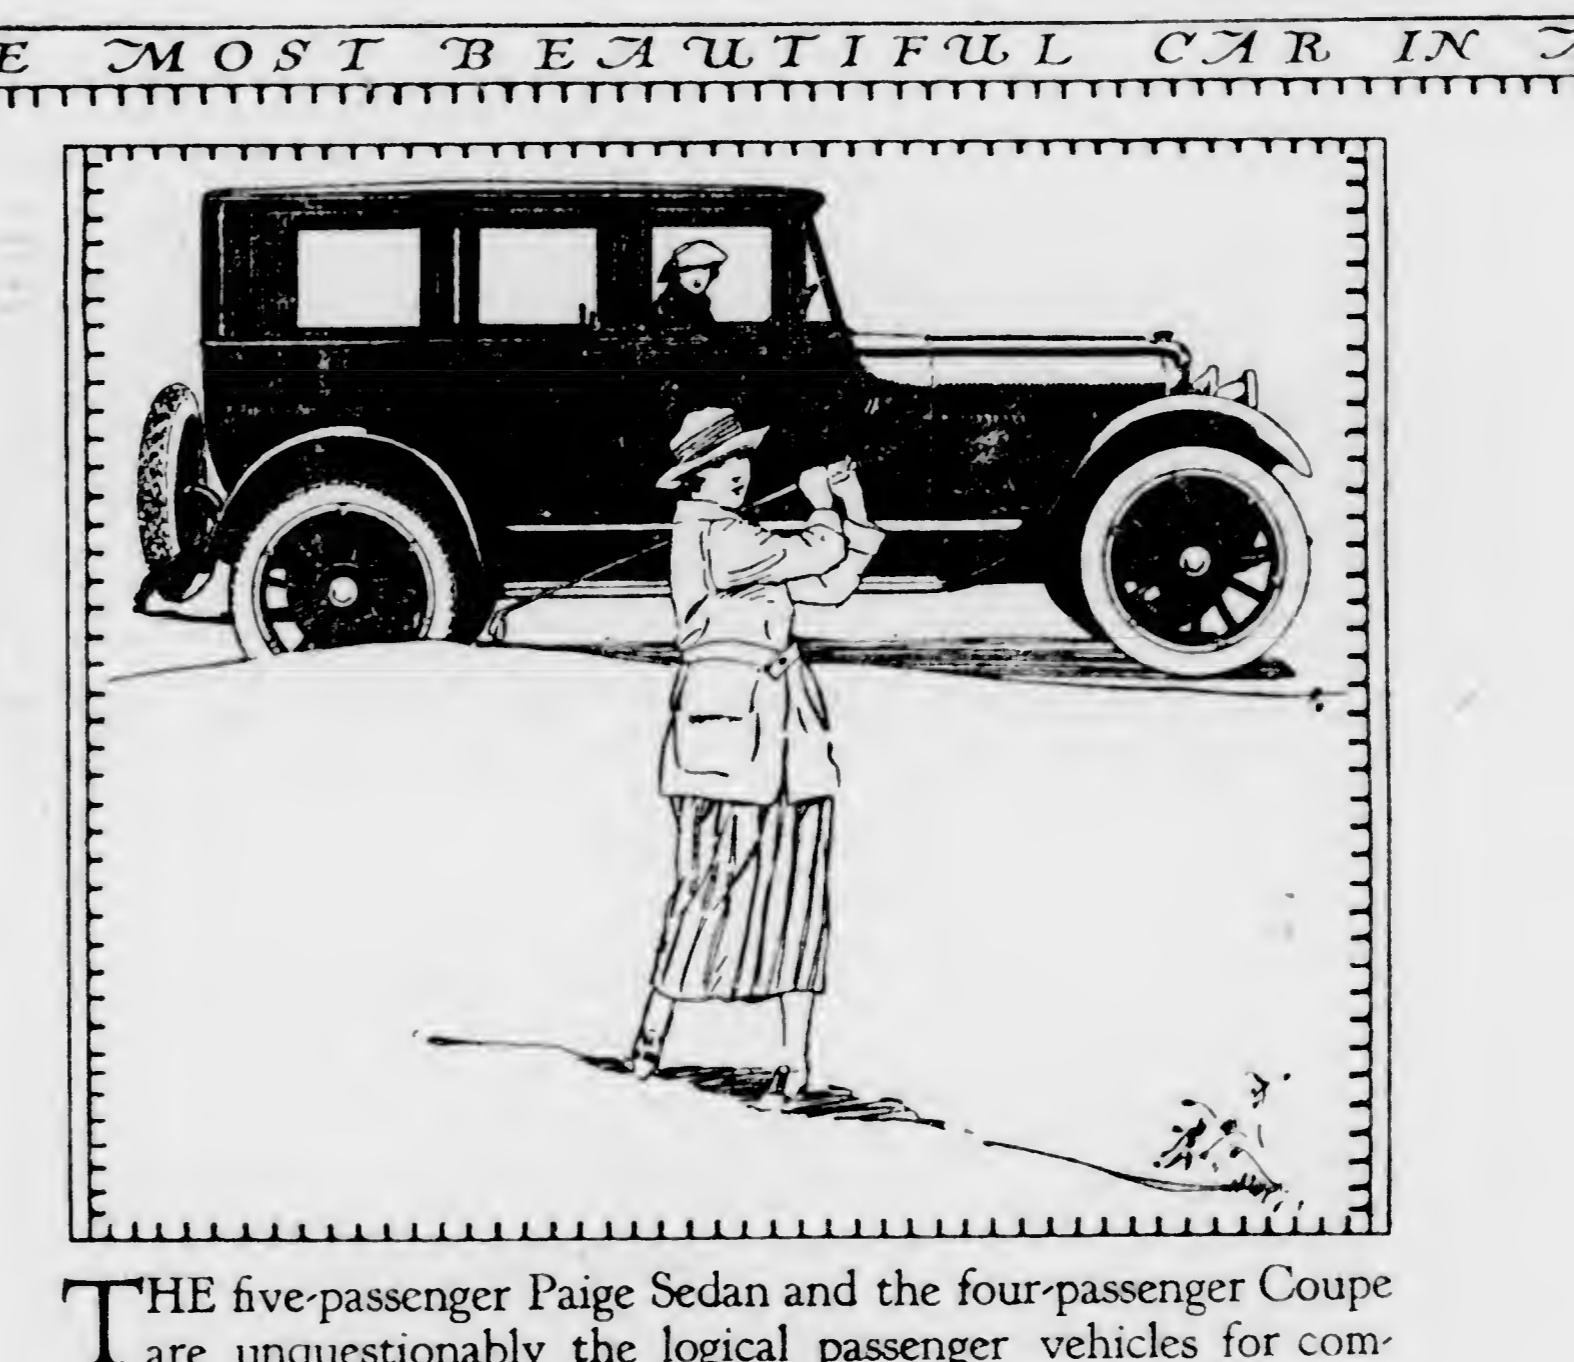

Well, here's a use for them, suggested by the Galca Rubber company of Denver.

Use them to carry spare tubes in. Most of these fancy collar boxes are just about the right size and shape to carry the spare tube and will protect it from danger of breaking through coming in contact with some sharp tool.

The spare tube is carried by many motorists in the toe box where it quickly deteriorates. The constant pulling by the sharp tool will punch holes in the tube. Oil and grease will cause it to decay.

PAIGE

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

THE five-passenger Paige Sedan and the four-passenger Coupe are unquestionably the logical passenger vehicles for comfortable motoring in all seasons of the year.

Through the cold and inclement weather of fall and winter, these popular size family cars afford the same degree of driving comfort as during the most pleasant season of spring and summer. No matter what the changes in weather conditions the utility of these practical Enclosed Cars remains unimpaired.

The six-cylinder motor, of original Paige design and construction, has all the speed that anyone could desire—together with an abundance of power which makes possible an acceleration from five to twenty-five miles per hour in nine seconds flat.

PLANS BEING DRAWN FOR PROPOSED WEST END CHURCH

PROPOSED WEST END PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH AND SOCIAL CENTER. ESTIMATED COST, $125,000.

Plans are expected to go out for figures next week for the new church to be erected for the Second Presbyterian church congregation on Second street, between Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh avenues west. The building will be of brick and is designed to be most modern in its various appointments. It will be 75 feet in size, and is estimated to cost $125,000. Holmsted & Sullivan are the architects. It is the aim of the building committee to make the church a community center. Located in the basement will be a gymnasium and recreation room and Sunday school class rooms to afford accommodation for 1200 pupils. The main body of the church will seat 750 persons.

CHURCH REPAIRED SO AS TO PERMIT SUNDAY SERVICES

It was definitely known today that the repairs on the First Swedish Methodist church, Twenty-third avenue west and Third street, will be far enough advanced as to permit services to be held there temporarily. This church was damaged by fire a week ago. Services tomorrow will be at 10:45 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. The women's foreign missionary society will meet Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. Satterberg, 226 Twenty-first avenue west. Services Tuesday night will be held at the home of Mrs. Anna Berglund, 931 Garfield avenue, at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

EVANGELIST WILL CLOSE MEETINGS SUNDAY MORNING

Rev. E. H. Anderson of Minneapolis will close the evangelistic meetings he has been conducting at the First Swedish Baptist church, Twenty-second avenue west and Third street, with a sermon at the regular services tomorrow morning. Mr. Anderson has met with great success in his work here. The Bible class, which was formed during his visit here, will continue to meet on Saturdays from 10:20 a. m. to 12 p. m. Membership in this class is open to boys and girls from 10 to 15 years of age.

Complimented for Efficiency.

Frank H. Anderson of the Anderson Battery Service station, 2215 West First street, has received official commendation from a large battery manufacturer for the high efficiency which he got from their batteries while in charge of a large battery station at Newark, N. J., during the war. The letter states that it was only due to Mr. Anderson's care that these batteries achieved such a remarkable record. These batteries were subjected to the most severe tests and would have become useless in a short time had it not been for the care which they received.

MRS. ISABEL ELLIOT DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Mrs. Isabel Elliot, 603 Garfield avenue, widow of the late Harry Elliot, died at St. Mary's hospital at 2:30 a. m. this morning after an illness of long duration. She was born in Edinburgh, Scotland.

Yeomen Entertain Children.

A musical and literary program featured the children of the members of the Yeomen of the First Presbyterian church at the meeting of the church last night.

PREACHER-NEWSPAPERMAN SAYS CHURCH PUBLICITY IS POOR; NEWSPAPERS WILLING TO HELP

The oft repeated allegation that church news will be given a thrashing at the sixty-second annual convention of the Minnesota State Sunday School association at the First Methodist church tonight by Rev. J. Richard Olson, who is church editor of the Minneapolis Journal, will give an address on "The Press in the Service of the Church." "News in the newspaper stock in trade," said Mr. Olson to The Herald today, "and while there does exist a variety of degrees of interest in the church among some papers, the fact is that a hard-fought more church news could be set before the public through the press, if the church but did its part to get it there. But no direct effort has been made by the church, in the various courses presented at denominational schools, even those preparatory for church leadership, to give training to its workers in developing the news, or a source of news value. Even publicists in various denominations reveal that fact. The press can, and as a rule is unwilling, to help insure the church against the hazard of a misinformed, or uninformed, public. The minister, in that often pronounced upon the church, because its judges are not informed. They may not be the church, so the church must make an effort to reach them through the medium of the daily and weekly newspapers. The news, therefore, that the church disseminates should be to inform its own members and the public at large, to create interest for its cause, and inspire it to action in its own behalf. No man was ever converted to a cause without first being interested with something about that cause. Mr. Olson has been in the pastoral work for seven years and served a term as chaplain in the Pacific fleet. Upon completion of his postgraduate courses at the University of Minnesota two and a half years ago, he was asked to become pastor of the church in Duluth. He has since that time been in the church work of all parts of the state, attending national conferences in the Northwest and Middle West.

REV. J. RICHARD OLSON.

ENORMOUS PICTURE PAINTED AT VATICAN

Rome, Oct. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—Although the picture of today cannot afford to spend enormous sums on artists, sculptors and decorators as did the popes of the past, the pope in Benedict XV is a patron of the arts, and has allowed two artists to invade the Vatican. They are Quadroni, the sculptor, who is working on the modeling a more than life-size statue of the Cardinal Ruffini for his monument in the Church of Santa Cecilia, and the artist Antonelli who is painting a large picture of the promulgation of the code of canon law. The picture of Benedict XV seated on a throne, surrounded by cardinals, is the work of a worker, Cardinal Gasparri, the volumes containing the new code of canon law, representing fifty-two figures, are portraits of the ecclesiastical and lay courtiers who are to be seen in the cardinals, the pope's confessor, Monsignor Tassi, his master of the grand marshals, who have charge of great Vatican ceremonies and wear the picturesque dress of robes of red and doublet, the commanders of the papal guard, and many others, so the picture will have considerable historic interest in the future.

Why Street Cars Are Not Heated

The deferred heating of street cars this fall has not been due solely to the high price of coal and the necessity of economy with a 5-cent fare, as some of our patrons have assumed and seemed to think quite proper, but it has been made absolutely necessary by inability to procure a sufficient quantity of coal at any price.

"We've Made Thousands of Plates for Duluth and Range Patients"

and the demand is growing greater daily. There is a reason for Dr. Greer's great success with plates—THE REASON IS—

Plates made by this firm have been the result of over ten years of improvement in our own laboratories here in Duluth. They are the work of a man who has had not only careful dental schooling and years of experience, but who has made a study of plates, and their improvements. You cannot find a better fitting, more comfortable or better looking plate than this one, at money-saving prices.

If you are suffering from an ill-fitting plate, let us advise you on its correction.

All our dental work is done on a square deal basis, and we intend to make friends who will always return to us if in need of dental work.

As in Plate Work, we have built up the greatest success with Bridgework, Crowning, Filling, etc., and offer a high grade service which is backed by ten years of scientific, careful work for our patients,—patients who are our best boosters.
