from the report furnished by the probation officer, or otherwise, and from the circumstances, of any person over the age of eighteen years so having pleaded guilty, or having been convicted of crime, that there are circumstances in mitigation of the punishment, or that the ends of justice shall be subserved thereby, the court shall have power, in its discretion, to place the defendant upon probation in the manner following:

Suspension
of sentence.

(a) The court, judge or justice thereof, may suspend the imposing, or the execution of sentence and may direct that such suspension may continue for such period of time not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence, except as herein-after set forth, and upon such terms and conditions as it shall determine, which terms and conditions may include, in the discretion of the court, the requirements of bonds for the appearance of the person released upon probation before the court, at any time that the court may require such appearance in the investigation of any alleged violation of said terms and conditions of probation and such bonds may be at any time by the court exonerated without affecting any of the other terms or conditions of such probation; and in case of such suspension of imposition or execution of sentence, the court shall place such person on probation and under the charge and supervision of the probation officer of said court, during such suspension; provided, however, that where the maximum possible term of such sentence is less than two years, then such period of suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over two years. Where the offense consists of a violation of section two hundred seventy or two hundred seventy a of the Penal Code of the State of California, such suspension of imposition or execution of sentence may, in the discretion of the court, continue for not over five years.

Bonds.

Opportunity to pay fine.

(b) If the judgment is to pay a fine, and the defendant be imprisoned until it be paid, the court, judge or justice, upon imposing sentence, may direct that the execution of the sentence of imprisonment be suspended for such period of time, not exceeding the maximum possible term of such sentence, and on such terms as it shall determine, and shall place the defendant on probation, under the charge and supervision of the probation officer during such suspension, to the end that he may be given the opportunity to pay the fine; provided, however, that upon the payment of the fine being made, judgment shall be satisfied and the probation cease.

Rearrest.

(c) At any time during the probationary term of the person released on probation, in accordance with the provisions of this section, any probation officer may, without warrant, or other process, at any time until the final disposition of the case, rearrest any person so placed in his care and bring him before the court, or the court may, in its discretion, issue a warrant for the rearrest of any such person and may thereupon revoke and terminate such probation, if the interest of justice so requires, and if the court, in its judgment, shall have reason to believe from the report of the probation officer, or otherwise, that the person so placed upon probation is violating the conditions of his probation, or engaging in criminal practices, or has become abandoned to improper associates, or a vicious life. Upon such revocation and termination, the court may, if the sentence has been suspended, pronounce judgment after the said suspension of the sentence for any time within the longest period for which the defendant might have been sentenced, but if the judgment has been pronounced and the execution thereof has been suspended, the court may revoke such suspension, whereupon the judgment shall be in full force and effect, and the person shall be delivered over to the proper officer to serve his sentence.

pronounced.

(d) The court shall have power at any time during the term of probation to revoke or modify its order of suspension, of imposition or execution of sentence. It may, at any time, when the ends of justice will be subserved thereby, and when the good conduct and reform of the person so held on probation shall warrant it, terminate the period of probation and discharge the person so held, but no such order shall be made without written notice first given by the court or the clerk thereof to the proper probation officer of the intention to revoke or modify its order, and in all cases, if the court has not seen fit to revoke the order of probation and impose sentence or pronounce judgment, the defendant shall, at the end of the term of probation, be by the court discharged.

revoke order.

(c) Every defendant who has fulfilled the conditions of his probation for the entire period thereof, or who shall have been discharged from probation prior to the termination of the period thereof, shall at any time prior to the expiration of the maximum period of punishment for the offense of which he has been convicted, dating from said discharge from probation or said termination of said period of probation, be permitted by the court to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty; or if he has been convicted after a plea of not guilty, the court shall set aside the verdict of guilty; and in either case the court shall thereupon dismiss the accusation or information against such defendant who shall thereafter be released from all penalties and disabilities resulting from the offense or crime of which he has been convicted.

plea.

(f) The same probation officers and assistant probation officers and deputy probation officers shall serve under this act as are appointed under the act known as the juvenile court law, and entitled "An act to be known as the juvenile court law, and concerning persons under the age of twenty-one years; and in certain cases providing for their care, custody and maintenance; providing for the probationary treatment of such persons, and for the commitment of such persons to the Whittier State School and the Preston School of Industry, the California School for Girls, and other institutions; establishing probation officers and a probation committee to deal with such persons and fixing the salary thereof; providing for the establishment of detention homes for such persons; fixing the method of procedure and treatment or commitment where crimes have been committed by such persons; providing for the punishment of those guilty of offenses with reference to such persons, and defining such crimes; and repealing the juvenile court law approved March 8, 1909, as amended by an act approved April 5, 1911, and as amended by an act approved June 16, 1913, and all amendments thereof, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved June 5, 1915, or under any laws amending or superseding the same, except in the case of offenses committed in counties and cities and counties of the second class and counties of the third class; provided, however, that in all cases of offenses defined by section twenty-one of said act known as the juvenile court law and by section two hundred seventy of the Penal Code of California, the same probation officers, assistants and deputies shall serve under this act as are appointed under the said juvenile court law.

Adult probation
appointed.

(g) In counties and cities and counties of the second class, the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings by a majority vote and in counties of the third class the judge of the department or the judges of the departments, by majority vote, to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned shall by order entered in the minutes of the court appoint seven citizens of good moral character to be known as the adult probation board and shall fill all vacancies occurring in such board. The clerk of said court shall immediately notify each person appointed on said board and thereupon said person shall appear before a judge of the superior court and qualify by taking an oath, which shall be entered in said court record, to perform faithfully the duties of such adult probation board. The members of such adult probation board shall hold office for four years and until their successors are appointed and qualify; provided, that of those first appointed one shall hold office for one year, two for two years, two for three years and two for four years, the terms for which the respective members shall hold office to be determined by lot as soon after their appointment as may be.

Term.

When any vacancy occurs in any probation board by expiration of the term of office of any member thereof, the successor shall be appointed to hold office for the term of four years. When any vacancy occurs for any other reason the appointee shall hold office for the unexpired term of his predecessor.

Vacancy.

Removal.

Any member of the probation board may be removed for cause at any time by an affirmative vote of four members of said board at a meeting called for the special purpose of considering the question of said removal and the subsequent written approval of a majority of the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings in counties and cities and counties of the second class, and the judge of the department or a majority of the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned in counties of the third class, said written approval to be filed with the clerk of the court within thirty days after the written report of the said board has been received by said judge. Written notice as to said special meeting shall be served on each of the members of said board at least ten days prior to the date set therefor and shall specify the purpose thereof.

It shall be the duty of such adult probation board to exercise a friendly supervision of probationers when so directed by the court, to furnish the court information and assistance whenever required upon the request of the court and from time to time to advise and recommend to the court any changes or modification of the order made in the case of a probationer as may be for the best interests of such person.

Duty of board.

Members of the adult probation board shall serve without compensation.

No compensation.

In counties or cities and counties of the second class there shall be and there are hereby created the offices of one adult probation officer, one assistant adult probation officer and four deputy adult probation officers. The salaries of said officers shall be as follows: Adult probation officer, two hundred twenty-five dollars per month; one assistant adult probation officer, one hundred seventy-five dollars per month; one assistant adult probation officer, one hundred twenty-five dollars per month; three deputy adult probation officers, each, one hundred dollars per month. In counties of the third class there shall be and there are hereby created the offices of one adult probation officer, one assistant adult probation officer and one deputy adult probation officer. The salaries of said officers shall be as follows: Adult probation officer, one hundred seventy-five dollars per month; assistant adult probation officer, one hundred sixty dollars per month; deputy adult probation officer one hundred dollars per month. The deputy adult probation officer in counties of the third class, shall be a woman and shall be a competent stenographer and typist of sufficient ability to perform the clerical and stenographic work of the office in addition to her other duties; provided, however, that in the event an adult probation department is created in counties of the third class, from and after the creation of such department and the appointment of an adult probation officer or any deputy or assistant or like officer who shall relieve the probation officer of the adult probation work, the offices of assistant probation officer at a salary of one hundred seventy-five dollars a month and of assistant probation officer at a salary of one hundred sixty dollars a month shall cease and terminate and be abolished in counties of this class.

Adult probation officers.

The salaries of the adult probation officers, assistant adult probation officers and deputy adult probation officers in counties or cities and counties of the second class and in counties of the third class shall be paid out of the county treasury of the county for which they are appointed respectively in the same manner as the salaries of the other county officers. The adult probation officers, assistant adult probation officers and deputy adult probation officers in said counties or cities and counties of the second class and in counties of the third class shall be allowed such necessary incidental expenses incurred in the performance of their duties as required by any laws of the State of California as may be authorized by a judge designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings or by the judge of a department to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned, and the same shall be charged upon the county in which the court appointing them has jurisdiction and said expenses shall be paid out of the county treasury upon a written order of said judge of said county directing the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer for the specific amount of such expenses. The adult probation officer shall keep a list of expenses and file a copy monthly with the county board of supervisors.

Payment of salaries.

Expenses.

Nomination of adult
officers.

In counties or cities and counties of the second class the adult probation officer, and the assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officers hereinbefore provided for shall be nominated by the adult probation board in manner as the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings shall direct and the appointment of such adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officers shall be made by a majority vote of said judges. The term of office of the adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer and deputy adult probation officers shall be two years from the date of their said appointments.

In counties of the third class the adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and the deputy adult probation officer hereinbefore provided for shall be nominated by the adult probation board and in manner as the judge of the department or a majority of the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned shall direct and the appointment of such adult probation officer, assistant adult probation officer, deputy adult probation officer shall be made by said judge or a majority of said judges. The term of office of the adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and the deputy probation officer shall be two years from the date of their appointments. The adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and any deputy adult probation officer may at any time be removed in counties or cities and counties of the second class by vote of a majority of the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings and in counties of the third class by the judge of the department or by a majority of the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned for good cause shown and on the filing of written charges by the said judge or judges with the adult probation board. In counties or cities and counties of the second class the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, and in counties of the third class the judge of the department or the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned shall have authority by an order entered in the minutes of said court to determine and fix the amount of bonds of the adult probation officer of county or city and county and of the assistant adult probation officer of the county or city and county and of the deputy adult probation officers of the county or city and county. If said bonds or any of them are furnished by any surety company licensed to transact business in the State of California, the premium thereon shall be paid out of the county treasury.

Nomination
of adult
officers.

The adult probation officer may appoint as many additional deputies as he may desire; provided, however, that such deputies shall not have authority to act until their appointments shall have been approved by a majority vote of the members of the adult probation board and by a majority vote of the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings in counties and cities and counties of the second class, and by a majority vote of the members of the adult probation board and by a judge of the department or a majority vote of the judges of the departments to which criminal proceedings are assigned in counties of the third class. The term of office of such deputies shall expire with the term of the adult probation officer making such appointment but the adult probation officer without written approval of the majority of members of the adult probation board may at any time, in his discretion, revoke and terminate such appointment. Such deputies except as herein provided shall serve without compensation. It shall be the duty of the legislative body of every county or city and county of the second class and of every county of the third class, immediately upon this act becoming effective, to provide and thereafter maintain, at the expense of such county or city and county, in a location in the vicinity of the jail of such county or city and county, approved by the judges designated for the hearing and disposition of criminal cases and proceedings, in counties or cities and counties of the second class and by the judge of the department or the judges of the departments to which criminal actions and proceedings are assigned in counties of the third class, suitable offices and quarters for the conducting of the business of the adult probation officer, the assistant adult probation officer and the deputy adult probation officers of such county or city and county.

Additional
deputies.

Offices.

Nothing contained in this subdivision shall apply to the offenses defined by section twenty-one of said juvenile court law and by section two hundred seventy of the Penal Code.

(h) Whenever any person is released upon probation under the provisions of this act, the case may be transferred to any court of the same rank in any other county, or city and county, of this state in which such person resides, or to which such person may remove, and such court shall thereupon commit such person to the care and custody of the probation officer of the county, or city and county, to which such person has been transferred; such court shall thereafter have entire jurisdiction over such case, with like power to make transfer whenever to such court such transfer may seem proper.

Report on person's antecedents.

(i) At the time of the plea or verdict of guilty of any crime of any person over eighteen years of age, the probation officer of the county of the jurisdiction of said crime shall, when so directed by the court, inquire into the antecedents, character, history, family environment, and offense of such person, and must report the same to the court, and file his report in writing in the records of said court. His report shall contain his recommendation for or against the release of such person on probation. If any such person shall be released on probation and committed to the care of the probation officer, such officer shall keep a complete and accurate record in suitable books or other form in writing, of the history of the case in court, and of the name of the probation officer, and his acts in connection with said case; also the age, sex, nativity, residence, education, habits of temperance, whether married or single, and the conduct, employment, and occupation, and parents' occupation, and condition of such person so committed to his care during the term of such probation and the result of such probation. Such record of such probation officer shall be and constitute a part of the records of the court, and shall at all times be open to the inspection of the court, or of any person appointed by the court for that purpose, as well as of all magistrates, and the chief of police, or other head of the police, unless otherwise ordered by the court. Said books of record shall be furnished for the use of said probation officer of said county, and shall be paid for out of the county treasury.

Report.

(j) Every probation officer, within fifteen days after the thirtieth day of June, and within fifteen days after the thirty-first day of December, of each year, shall make in writing and file as a public document with the county clerk a report to the superior court of the county or city and county in which such probation officer is appointed to serve, and shall furnish a copy of such report to each judge in said county or city and county who has released any person on probation who at the time of such report remains on probation; and a further copy to the secretary of the state board of charities and corrections. Such report shall state, without giving names, the exact number of persons, segregating male and female, and segregating misdemeanors and felons, who have been released on probation to such probation officer as such number exists, deducting all cases of expiration, discharge, dismissal, and restoration of rights, on said thirtieth day of June and said thirty-first day of December; and such report shall further segregate such person as having been released on probation, as the case may be, in one thousand nine hundred three, one thousand nine hundred four, one thousand nine hundred five and so on, up to and including the calendar year in which such report is made and filed.

(k) The probation officer shall furnish to each person who has been released on probation, and committed to his care a written statement of the terms and conditions of his probation unless such statement has been furnished by the court, and shall report to the court, judge, or justice, releasing such person upon probation, any violation or breach of the terms and conditions imposed by such court on the person placed in his care. Statement of terms of probation.

several counties of the state. In apportioning said fund he shall apportion to every county and to every city and county two hundred fifty dollars for every teacher determined and assigned to it on average daily attendance by the county or city and county school superintendent for the next preceding school year, as required of the county or city and county school superintendent by the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred fifty-eight of this code, and after thus apportioning two hundred fifty dollars on teacher basis, he shall apportion the balance of the state school fund to the several counties or cities and counties according to their average daily attendance as shown by the reports of the county or city and county school superintendents for the next preceding school year.

Fifth—To draw his order on the controller in favor of each county or city and county treasurer for school moneys apportioned to the county or city and county.

Furnish
blank forms.

Sixth—To prepare, have printed, and furnish all officers charged with the administration of the laws relating to the public schools, and to teachers, such blank forms and books as may be necessary to the discharge of their duties, including blank teachers' certificates to be used by county and city and county boards of education.

Supply
school laws.

Seventh—To have the laws relating to the public schools printed in pamphlet form, and to supply school officers and school libraries with one copy each.

Visit orphan
asylums.

Eighth—To visit the several orphan asylums to which state appropriations are made, and examine into the course of instruction therein.

Visit schools.

Ninth—To visit the schools in the different counties, and inquire into their condition; and the actual traveling expenses thus incurred, provided that they do not exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, shall be allowed, audited and paid out of the general fund in the same manner as other claims are audited and paid.

Authenticate
orders.

Tenth—To authenticate with his official seal all drafts or orders drawn by him, and all papers and writings issued from his office.

Bind documents.

Eleventh—To have bound, at the state bindery, all valuable school reports, journals, and documents in his office, or hereafter received by him.

Report daily
attendance.

Twelfth—To report to the controller, on or before the tenth day of September of each year, the total average daily attendance in the elementary day and evening schools including the special day and evening elementary school classes, the average daily attendance in the day and evening high schools including the special day and evening high school classes, as shown by the annual reports of the county superintendents of the several counties on file in his office for the school year immediately preceding, and the average daily attendance of pupils upon each of such part-time vocational courses as are established and maintained by each high school district under the provisions of section one thousand seven hundred fifty c of this code, and as are shown by these reports and approved by the commissioner of vocational education.

Thirteenth—To deliver over, at the expiration of his term of office, on demand, to his successor, all property, books, documents, maps, records, reports, and other papers belonging to his office, or which may have been received by him for the use of his office. Deliver records to successor.

Fourteenth—To visit and inspect each state normal school from time to time, inquire into its condition and management, require such reports as he may deem proper from the teachers of the school and exercise general supervision over the same. Visit state normal schools.

SEC. 2. Section one thousand five hundred five of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 734.

An act to provide for the establishment within municipalities of districts or zones within which the use of property, height of improvements and required open spaces for light and ventilation of such buildings, may be regulated by ordinance.

[Approved May 31, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. For the public interest, health, comfort, convenience, preservation of the public peace, safety, morals, order and the public welfare, the city council, board of trustees or other legislative body of any incorporated city and town of California, hereinafter referred to as the council, may by ordinance create or divide the city into districts within some of which it shall be lawful and within others of which it shall be unlawful to erect, construct, alter or maintain certain buildings, or to carry on certain trades or callings or within which the height and bulk of future buildings shall be limited. Cities may create districts within which buildings and trades regulated.

SEC. 2. The council may by ordinance regulate, restrict and segregate the location of industries, the several classes of business, trades or callings, the location of apartment or tenement houses, club houses, group residences, two-family dwellings, single family dwellings and the several classes of public and semipublic buildings, and the location of buildings or property designed for specified uses, and may divide the city into districts of such number, shape and area as the council may deem best suited to carry out the purposes of this act, subject to the provisions of section four hereof. For each such district regulations may be imposed designating the class of use that shall be excluded or subjected to special regulations and designating the uses for which buildings may not be erected or altered, or designating the class of use which only Restriction on location of industries, etc.

shall be permitted. Such regulations shall be designed to promote the public health, safety and general welfare. The council shall give reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of the district, its peculiar suitability for particular uses, the conservation of property values and the direction of building development in accord with a well considered plan.

Regulations of height of buildings.

Area of courts, etc.

Uniform throughout district.

SEC. 3. The council may place reasonable regulations and limitations upon the height and bulk of buildings hereafter erected and regulate and determine the area of yards, courts and other open spaces, having due regard to the nature of the use and occupancy in such case. The council may divide the city into districts of such number, shape and area as the council may deem best suited to carry out the purpose of this act, subject to the provisions of section four hereof. The regulations as to the height and bulk of buildings and the area of yards, courts and other open spaces shall be uniform for each class of building throughout each district. The regulations in one or more districts may differ from those in other districts. Such regulations shall be designed to secure safety from fire and other dangers and to promote the public health and welfare, and to secure provision for adequate light, air and reasonable access. The council shall pay reasonable regard to the character of buildings now erected in each district, the value of the land, and the use to which it may be put to the end that such regulations may promote public health, safety and welfare.

Cities with planning commission.

Hearing.

SEC. 4. In municipalities having a city planning commission the council shall require such commission to recommend the boundaries of such districts and appropriate regulations and restrictions to be enforced therein. Such commission shall make a tentative report and hold public hearings thereon at such times and places as said council shall require before submitting its final report. Said council shall not hereafter determine the boundaries of any district or impose any regulations until after the final report of the city planning commission is filed with the city clerk. Upon receiving such final report said council shall afford persons particularly interested, and the general public, an opportunity to be heard, at a time and place to be specified in a notice of hearing to be published in a newspaper to be designated for that purpose. Said newspaper to be a local newspaper, if there be one, otherwise a newspaper of general circulation within the municipality, and to be published not less than three times in any daily, or not less than once in any other newspaper of general circulation within the municipality, and, within the week within which said meeting is to be held.

Cities without
commission.

SEC. 5. In municipalities where there is no city planning commission the council may proceed in the manner prescribed in section four hereof and shall make the tentative report, arrange for and hold such public hearings, make such final report and afford all persons particularly interested and the general public, an opportunity to be heard at the time and place and in the manner prescribed in section four hereof.

SEC. 6. The council may establish penalties for violations of such an ordinance once established and in effect. Penalties.

CHAPTER 735.

An act authorizing and empowering municipalities to provide a procedure for the fixing and establishing of setback lines on private property bordering on the whole or part of any street, avenue or highway, to prohibit the erection of buildings, fences or other structures between such setback lines and the lines of any such street, avenue or highway, and to condemn any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose.

[Approved May 31, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever public interest or convenience may require, the city council of any municipality shall have full power and authority to provide a procedure for the fixing and establishing of setback lines on private property bordering on the whole or part of any street, avenue or other highway, to prohibit the erection of buildings, fences or other structures between such setback lines and the lines of any such street, avenue or other highway, and to condemn any and all property necessary or convenient for that purpose. City council establish
lines.

SEC. 2. The ordinance prescribing such procedure shall provide, among other things, for the passage of a resolution of intention describing the land deemed necessary to be taken or damaged therefor, also the exterior boundaries of the district of lands to be benefited by said work or improvement and to be assessed to pay the damages, costs and expenses thereof, and shall require that a written protest signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage upon the streets and parts of streets within the district to be assessed, and filed with such city council, shall be a bar to such proceeding for a period of six months from the date of the filing of such protest. The procedure shall provide for due notice and hearing to property owners liable to be assessed, also a method for the assessment and collection of benefits and the payment of damages, together with such other matters as may be necessary or convenient to promote the objects hereof. Procedure.

CHAPTER 736.

An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of hotels, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which hotels are erected or located, in all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, statutes of California of 1913, page 1429.

[Approved May 31, 1917. In effect September 1, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Title.	SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the "state hotel and lodging house act," and its provisions shall apply to all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties.
Duty of building department.	SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of hotels and to issue the certificate of "final completion" hereinafter provided.
Duty of housing department	It shall be the duty of the "housing department" and if there is no housing department the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of hotels after said hotels have been erected, constructed or altered, as the case may be, and the certificate of "final completion" has been issued by the building department and to issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided.
In case no such departments	In the event that there is no building department or no housing department or health department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.
Enforcement.	In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the State of California shall have authority, and it is hereby empowered and given authority, to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of hotels in all parts of the State of California, including all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, in the State of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

Power of commission of immigration and housing.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any hotel or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any hotel or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any hotel or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Unlawful to construct hotel contrary to act.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any hotel hereafter erected, or to increase the height, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act; or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway or fire escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Building converted to use as hotel.

SEC. 5. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a hotel at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected.

Building moved

A building used as a hotel at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

Building reconstructed.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any hotel which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of fifty-one per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting hotels hereafter erected.

Penalty for violation.

SEC. 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Procedure.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of hotels or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a hotel, or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

Permit to erect hotel.

SEC. 7. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion or alteration of a hotel, or to move or to build upon a hotel, or to convert a building or any portion thereof into use as a hotel without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a permit shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said application shall give a detailed statement in writing, verified under oath by the person making the same, of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. The said application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the hotel, or alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the construction of the proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered or moved, as the case may be. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor; also shall give such other data and information as in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act is deemed necessary.

for permit.

The affidavit to said application shall allege that the plans and specifications are true and contain a correct description of the proposed hotel, lot and proposed work. If any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person shall not be recognized except that he allege in his affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit. Said department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all such plans, specifications and statements to be examined, and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall then issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the person to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such hotel, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed, and for which the permit is issued.

Affidavit.

Permit
issued.

Revocation.

A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon, shall be kept upon the premises of the hotel or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

Plans kept on premises.

Permit for nominal alterations.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alterations or repairs, when application is made therefor, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs do not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the hotel, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Expiration of permit.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

"Certificate of final completion" and "permit of occupancy."

SEC. 8. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied, any hotel hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a "certificate of final completion" and a "permit of occupancy" by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

It shall also be unlawful to occupy any existing hotel until a permit of occupancy has been issued by the department designated to issue such permit.

Renewal of permit of occupancy.

Every permit of occupancy shall be renewed each calendar year by the department designated to issue the said permit; provided, that no structural alteration, or changes have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion; and provided, that all other provisions of this act have been complied with.

Certificate issued.

Any person desiring a certificate shall file a notice with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said department shall cause an inspection to be made of the said hotel or portion thereof, or work described in the said notice, within ten days after written application therefor, and shall issue a "certificate of final completion" if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

Permit issued.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy, shall issue the said "permit of occupancy" upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of such statements or records required by the department, after the "certificate of final completion" has been issued; provided, that no violations have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion, or, in the case of a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, and for which no certificate of final completion has been issued, then after the said department has caused an inspection to have been made of the said hotel and has found that all of the provisions of this act applying to such hotel have been complied with.

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

Any hotel hereafter erected, altered, converted or moved, which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a "certificate of final completion" or a "permit of occupancy" being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated, until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Hotel occupied without certificate or permit deemed nuisance

SEC. 9. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

Power to enter hotel.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter hotels or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 10. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Definitions.

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "health department," "housing department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the hotel is situated.

Definitions.

“Approved” means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which is approved by local ordinance of the municipality in which the building is situated, or any appliance, appurtenance, or other matter which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the “national board of fire underwriters”; provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance or other matter shall be deemed “approved” for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act.

“Basement” is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts. Every basement is a story.

“Building department” means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

“Cellar” is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

“Court.”

“Court” is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard on the lot on which is situated a hotel. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side yard, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an “outer court.” Every court which is not an “outer court” is an “inner court.”

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms abutting the said court, except that a cornice on the building may extend into an “outer court” two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and a cornice may extend into an “inner court” one inch for each one foot in width of such court.

Wherever the word “department” is used it means the building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

“Fireproof hotel” is a building wherein all the exterior and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron; the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or hollow terra cotta tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either hollow terra cotta tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or of metal studs lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board, or constructed of wire glass not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in metal frames and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved incombustible material except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be of plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usual trim of rooms, hallways, corridors, and passages may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the public hallways.

“Guest room” is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied for sleeping purposes by one or more guests, but shall not be deemed to include dormitories used for sleeping purposes.

“Hotel” is any house or building, or portion thereof, containing six or more guest rooms which are let or hired out to be occupied, or which are occupied by six or more guests, whether the compensation for hire be paid directly or indirectly in money, goods, wares, merchandise, labor or otherwise, and shall include Turkish baths, bachelor hotels, studio hotels, public and private clubs and any building of any nature whatsoever so designed or occupied, except hospitals where persons temporarily reside and where each such person receives regular bona fide medical attendance on the premises, and jails, detention buildings and similar buildings where human beings are housed and detained under restraint.

“Housing department” is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of hotel, lodging house or dwelling house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Lot."

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a hotel, together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces for such a hotel as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the hotel.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets, is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof.

A lot which has only one boundary line bordering on a public street is an "interior lot."

"Rear lot" is a parcel or area of land having no boundary line bordering on a street, or having less than one-half of its width as a boundary line bordering on a street.

"Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either of the boundary lines may be the "front of lot."

"Rear of lot" is the boundary line thereof opposite the "front of lot."

"Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health; and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Person" is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; also includes a firm, partnership, or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

"Public hallway" is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within a suite, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

"Rear hotel" is a hotel on a "rear lot."

"Semifireproof hotel" is a building with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete or hollow terra cotta tile, except that the walls of an inner court, which court is surrounded on four sides by the same building, may be constructed as provided in this act for such inner courts; interior partitions and floors constructed of approved incombustible materials or of wood, with all ceilings, partitions, soffits of

"Semi-
hotel."

stairways, and outside stringers of open stairways and stair wells metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with approved plaster board, plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board; in which all finished floors, frames, doors and the usual trim of rooms and hallways may be built of wood, and the roof of which shall be covered with at least a composition fire-retardant material.

"Shall." Whenever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

"Street" is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the "front of lot" to the opposite "front of lot" and which shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use. "Street."

"Turkish bath" is a dormitory or a combination of guest rooms, accommodating six (6) or more guests, in connection with which any form of bath or massage is given by the attendants to the guests.

"Wooden hotel" is a building which does not fully comply with the requirements for a fireproof or a semifireproof hotel as defined in this act, and shall include all frame and all veneered buildings. In every such building all ceilings and walls and partitions of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways and stair wells shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board. "Wooden hotel."

"Yard" is an open unoccupied space other than a court on the lot on which is situated a hotel, open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms abutting the said yard; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not more than four feet into a yard, providing they do not in any manner obstruct the light or ventilation of rooms. If such yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a "front yard." If it is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a "rear yard." If it extends from the rear yard to the front yard, or front of lot, it is a "side yard." "Yard."

SEC. 11. No hotel shall hereafter be erected on or moved onto a rear lot. No building for any purpose shall hereafter be erected in front of any hotel unless there shall be left unoccupied a front yard extending from the front of the rear hotel to the front line of lot bordering on the street. Front yard.

Such front yard shall not be in any part less in width than fifty (50) per cent of the actual width of the rear hotel.

SEC. 12. No fireproof hotel hereafter erected shall exceed one hundred fifty feet in height, nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts. Height.

Height.

No semifireproof hotel building hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than sixty-five feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No wooden hotel hereafter erected shall exceed three stories at any point, nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

The width of the street, for this purpose, shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the "front of lot" opposite, across the street.

For the purposes of this section, a basement is a story.

Height defined.

The height of a fireproof hotel is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the highest point of the roof. The height of a semifireproof or of a wooden hotel is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in the case of a semifireproof hotel situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed sixty-five feet above the curb level measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed seventy-five feet above the adjoining curb in case of a corner lot, or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot, and in the case of a wooden hotel situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed thirty-six feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed forty-six feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot.

Yard serving two hotels.

SEC. 13. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve the purpose of two hotels hereafter erected, or of an existing hotel and a hotel hereafter erected, unless such yard or court, as the case may be, is of the full size required for two hotels, and then only in the event that such yard or court, as the case may be, is located on the same lot and owned by or in the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the hotel it proposes to serve.

Distance between buildings.

Where a hotel, now or hereafter erected, stands upon a lot, no other building shall hereafter be placed upon the front or rear of that lot, unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least ten feet and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of ten feet for every story more than one in height of the highest building on such lot.

SEC. 14. The depth of a rear yard shall be measured at right angles from the extreme rear line of the building towards the rear lot line.

Depth of rear yard.

SEC. 15. The minimum size of every rear yard for a hotel hereafter erected shall be not less in width and in area than an inner court, except that if such rear yard is bounded on its entire one end or side by an outer court, or by a side yard or by a street, or by a public alley or park, then such rear yard shall be not less in width or exceed the maximum length of an outer court; provided, however, that if the lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley, to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required.

Minimum size of rear yard.

SEC. 16. Every rear yard not bordering on a street or public alley and without direct access thereto shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway not less than three feet six inches in clear width, nor less than seven feet in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained and lighted.

Passageway to street.

SEC. 17. Every front yard which is excavated below the level of the curb or below the adjoining ground level for the purpose of furnishing light and ventilation to a basement shall in no part be less in width and length than required for outer courts.

Excavated front yard.

SEC. 18. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court, except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building connected one with the other across the rear of the building by the rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

Width of side yard.

SEC. 19. The minimum size of every outer court for a hotel hereafter erected shall be as follows.

Minimum size of outer court.

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Maximum length of court
1 story	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
2 stories	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
3 stories	4 ft. 6 in.	25 ft. 0 in.
4 stories	5 ft. 6 in.	30 ft. 0 in.
5 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
6 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
7 stories	10 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
8 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
9 stories	13 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
10 or more stories	14 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.

Minimum size of outer court.

There shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional part thereof in excess of the maximum length; provided, however, that the maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, further, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

Minimum size of inner court.

SEC. 20. The minimum size of every inner court for a hotel hereafter erected shall be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room, or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court in square feet
1 story -----	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories -----	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories -----	7 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories -----	8 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories -----	12 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories -----	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories -----	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more -----	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

provided, however, that the minimum size of every inner court which is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line may be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is a guest room, or guest rooms, or a dormitory or dormitories	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court
1 story -----	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
2 stories -----	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories -----	6 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories -----	7 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories -----	9 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories -----	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories -----	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more -----	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Every inner court hereafter constructed and every inner court or vent shaft now in any hotel or lodging house shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out.

Recess.

SEC. 21. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a hotel hereafter erected shall unless it conforms to the requirements of this act for an inner court, or an outer court, be not less in width than its depth. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess proposes to serve.

SEC. 22. Every inner court in a hotel of two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall be provided with one or more horizontal intakes at the bottom of the court, as follows:

Intakes for inner court.

Inner court areas	Minimum number of intakes	Net aggregate area of intakes
Each not exceeding 300 square feet.....	One	19½ square feet
Each not exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	49 square feet
Each exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	60 square feet

Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard, or rear yard, or to a side yard, or to a street, or to a public alley or park. Whenever more than one intake is required, one such intake shall extend to the front of lot or front yard, and one to the rear yard, public alley, public park, or to the other street, and the court ends of the air intakes shall be as far apart as possible.

Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intakes may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

Construction.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct, constructed of approved incombustible materials or lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof, having an interior area of not less than nineteen and one-half square feet, and in no dimension less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

SEC. 23. In no hotel shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for sleeping purposes.

Cellars.

Every cellar shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floor of every cellar hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and damp-proof, and whenever deemed necessary and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

SEC. 24. In no hotel shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building, and that ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground level.

Basements.

Every basement shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

Ventilation beneath floor.

SEC. 25. In every hotel hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof shall be at least eighteen inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Such space under the floor shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation; provided, however, that in any such building the lowest floor thereof may be less than eighteen inches above the surface soil but in no case less than six inches (except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil) if the said floor is made impervious to the ingress of rats or other vermin, as follows:

Floor made impervious to rats.

(a) Foundation walls shall be constructed of concrete or of brick or stone or other masonry laid in a good mortar or constructed of some other equally as rat proof material.

(c) Every opening in the foundation walls, for ventilation or for other purposes, shall be made rat proof with suitable metal screens or with some other similar rat proof material. Door or window openings in such walls shall have tight-fitting doors or windows.

(d) The said lowest floor or differing levels thereof, forming a complete floor between the outside walls of the building, shall be constructed either of masonry, or covered with concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick, or constructed of two layers of flooring with a layer of galvanized iron or galvanized iron wire cloth or other approved equally as rat proof material placed between the two layers of flooring. Or in lieu of the floor being constructed as herein prescribed, the entire ground area under the floor shall be covered with concrete not less than two inches thick, except where the surface of the soil is composed of rock. The rat-proofing material shall always extend under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions.

(e) All openings throughout the said floor for chimneys, plumbing, water pipes or for any other purpose shall be closed up tight in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions, and if the rat-proofing material used for the closing of openings is other than masonry, it shall extend beyond and underlap the flooring all around the opening, not less than two inches.

SEC. 26. In every hotel hereafter erected, every guest room shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area. Every such room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than nine feet in height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be nine feet in height in but one-half the area of the room.

Floor area of guest room. Width and height.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, or closet or recess from a room, or dressing room shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling.

Every closet, recess from a room, or dressing room which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be part of the floor area of a closet, recess from a room, or dressing room), shall conform to all of the provisions of this act as to guest rooms, and shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

No part of any room in any hotel shall hereafter be enclosed or subdivided wholly or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

(Curtains.

Entertainment, amusement or reception rooms, or public dining rooms, hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any hotel shall conform to the provisions of section thirty of this act.

Dormitories hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any hotel shall conform to the provisions of section sixty-two of this act.

SEC. 27. In every hotel hereafter erected, every guest room, dormitory, kitchen, scullery, pantry or other room in which food is stored or prepared, public dining room, laundry, barber shop, Turkish baths, general amusement, entertainment or reception room, water-closet or shower compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room and general utility room shall have at least one window, of the area hereinafter required, opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot.

Windows.

All windows required by this act shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the room and shall be made so as to open in all parts and be so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

The windows required by this section in a water-closet or shower compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room may open directly into a vent shaft in lieu of a street, yard or court. Such vent shaft to be not less than of the minimum size, and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section fifty-seven of this act, or such rooms or compartments, in lieu of being provided with windows may be ventilated by an exhaust system of ventilation installed, constructed and maintained as prescribed by section sixty-one hereof.

Opening through porch.

The windows required by this section to open onto a street, yard, or an outer court, except windows from kitchens, may open through porches, provided that said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth, measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street, yard, or outer court, is left open except that the open space may be enclosed with mosquito screens.

Ventilation
by exhaust system.

Kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food, public dining rooms, laundries, barber shops, Turkish baths, general amusement or reception rooms and general utility rooms, in lieu of windows may be ventilated by an exhaust system of ventilation installed, constructed and maintained as prescribed by section sixty-one hereof.

Window
area.

SEC. 28. In every hotel hereafter erected, the total window area in each guest room, kitchen, scullery, pantry or other room in which food is stored or prepared, laundry, barber shop, Turkish bath, or general utility room, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room.

The aggregate window area in each room shall be not less than twelve square feet and no single window shall be less than six square feet in area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to the outside of the sash.

The window area required for dormitories, entertainment, amusement, reception or dining rooms shall be as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 29. In every hotel hereafter erected each window in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet or slop-sink room, or shower room, shall be not less than three square feet in area. The aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet. In each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink, the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink therein; except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

Total window area in dining room, etc.

SEC. 30. In every hotel hereafter erected the total window area in each room used for the purpose of entertainment, amusement, reception or dining room, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room.

Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Every such entertainment, amusement, reception or dining room shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for sleeping purposes, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act for guest rooms. Height of rooms.

SEC. 31. In every hotel hereafter erected every public hallway, on any floor where there are more than five guest rooms, shall have at least one window, opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or a court, of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such windows shall be at the end of the public hallway and placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in hotels not exceeding two stories in height the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Windows in public hallway.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor.

Every window shall be made so as to open, and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvres so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet, measured from a vertical line, from a skylight opening. Skylights.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than one and one-half times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for windows in public hallways, may be used in lieu of windows therein. French windows.

SEC. 32. In every hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected, where there are more than five guest rooms on any one floor, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in Ventilating skylight.

Ventilating

height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at the ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Every such skylight, ventilating openings, shutters and closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings, shall be made of approved incombustible materials, and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the topmost and first story levels; except that in hotels not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or may be fixed permanently in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-one hereof, and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louvre or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louvre or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required, as in this section provided, there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of the glass in the skylight.

Water-
closets.

SEC. 33. In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for each sex on such floor. One of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, on such floor, which are not provided with private water-closets. Each of the said water-closets shall be accessible from each of the guest rooms through the public hallway, and not more than one hundred feet distant from the entrance door of each of the guest rooms the said water-closet proposes to serve.

In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one water-closet for every twenty employees of each sex in said building.

No door or other opening in a water-closet or urinal compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored.

The walls enclosing a water-closet compartment shall be well plastered, or constructed of some nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood trim for openings may be used in such a compartment. Every water-closet compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly hung, and provided with a lock or bolt to lock same.

The floor of every water-closet compartment hereafter constructed shall be made waterproof with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement or some other similar nonabsorbent material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than six inches on the vertical walls of the compartment.

Waterproof floor.

SEC. 34. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway for each sex; one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for women"; and there shall be installed not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every twelve guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, on such floor, which are not provided with water-closets; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any hotel existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this paragraph when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof, or to the sanitation of the said hotel or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a hotel.

In hotel already erected.

Every water-closet hereafter placed in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in hotels hereafter erected, except that if a water-closet is installed in the top story of any such building, the compartment in which it is installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres in lieu of a window; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location. No door or other opening in a water-closet, privy, or urinal compartment shall open from or into a room in which food is prepared or stored.

Every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act, in hotels hereafter erected.

Sewer connection required.

SEC. 35. In every hotel hereafter erected there shall be installed not less than one bath tub or shower, in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway, for every ten guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bath tub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway. There shall also be installed not less than one slop sink on each floor.

Bath tub or shower.

The walls and floors to every bath, shower or slop-sink room hereafter constructed shall be waterproofed and shall be provided with doors in the same manner as required for the construction of water-closet compartments in hotels hereafter erected.

In hotel already erected.

SEC. 36. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be installed not less than one bath tub or shower, in a separate compartment, located in the public hallway, for every twenty guest rooms, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths; provided, that the said bath tub or shower is located on the same floor and is accessible from each guest room through the public hallway.

There shall also be installed not less than one slop-sink on each floor; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any hotel existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof, or to the sanitation of the said hotel or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a hotel.

Running
water.

SEC. 37. In every hotel hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

Sewer connection.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in any hotel hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

In hotel
already erected.

SEC. 38. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

In case no
water.

SEC. 39. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the hotel hereafter erected or an existing hotel, as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper, separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be enclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals.

All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

SEC. 40. In every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In any hotel hereafter erected, and in any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act no plumbing fixtures shall be enclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left entirely open. All woodwork enclosing a water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be removed and the floor and wall surfaces beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light colored paint of sufficient body to make it nonabsorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method made nonabsorbent.

In every hotel hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats, varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass; and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron, and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building, and such cut-off valves shall be readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act is hereby sanitary.

empowered to order the same removed and to order that it be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

Two means of egress.

SEC. 41. Every hotel hereafter erected, three or more stories in height and in which there are more than five guest rooms on any one floor, shall be so designed and constructed that every guest room in such building shall have not less than two means of egress, either by stairways or fire escapes, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such means of egress shall be accessible from every guest room, either directly or through a public hallway, and so located that should one egress be or become blocked, the other egress shall be available.

Stairways.

SEC. 42. Every hotel two or more stories in height, hereafter erected shall have not less than two stairways.

Every fireproof hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semifireproof hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden hotel two or more stories in height hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each three thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every hotel hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

Computing number of
required.

SEC. 43. The largest floor area above the ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in a hotel hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

Location of
stairways.

SEC. 44. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, shall be as far removed from each other as is practicable, and shall be as follows:

Access to stairways shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the entrance and topmost stories; provided, that the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter or gas heater or furnace, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler room by section fifty-nine of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler room.

SEC. 45. Every stairway hereafter constructed shall be as follows: Have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches, measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit. Construction of stairways.

The depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Every stairway required by this act shall be continuous from the ground level to the top story, i. e., the flights of such stairway shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the stairways from the first to the second floor be increased in width not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The under side and soffits of wooden stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways, except outside stairways in semireproof and wooden hotels shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

The width of stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

SEC. 46. No closet of any kind shall be constructed in any hotel under any wooden stairway, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrance; or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed and plastered, with no door or opening of any kind therein; provided, however, that the provisions of this section as to a closet under a stairway shall not apply to any hotel not more than two stories in height, in which there are not more than five guest rooms above the first floor thereof. Space under stairway.

SEC. 47. In every hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in height, the stairway nearest to the Stairway to roof.

Stairway to roof.

main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure. In every such building not exceeding two stories in height there shall be constructed a scuttle, in the public hallway, near the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board on the inside and outside thereof; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

In hotel
already erected.

Every hotel of more than two stories in height, erected prior to the passage of this act, shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway. There shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder, leading from the top floor of such hotel to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all the tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

Hallways,
etc., from
stairways.

SEC. 48. Public hallways, landings, and corridors from stairways shall be of the same width and measured in the same manner as the stairways, as provided in section forty-six hereof.

Fire escapes.

SEC. 49. On every hotel hereafter erected more than two stories in height, there shall be provided at least one fire escape. If such hotel exceeds three thousand square feet of floor area on any one floor above the second floor thereof, such building shall be provided with one additional fire escape for each four thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof.

Types of
fire escapes.

Fire escapes required by this act shall be of one of the following types:

Type 1. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the top-most balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension. Types of fire escapes.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire escape balcony platform, except the stair well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counterbalanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

The goose-neck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the goose-neck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The goose-neck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

Such fire escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for type one and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fireproofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Enclosed spiral fire escape.

Type 3. Any type of an enclosed approved metallic spiral fire escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of the building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with stand-pipes: painted the same as provided for metallic fire escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being as solid, substantial and durable and as fireproof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire escape described as "type one" in this act.

Fire and
towers.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exit level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such stairways to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely enclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick; such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over same, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The enclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the enclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal-lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with enclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the enclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The enclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire escape balconies.

SEC. 50. In any hotel hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire escape may be used and construed as a stairway and a fire escape combined; provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire escape constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

Stairway and fire escape
combined.

SEC. 51. Every fire escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire escape shall be located on a street front. Every such fire escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire escapes, in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be so located that each guest room has direct egress thereto without passing through another room. If a public parlor, public lobby, or similar room is connected directly with the public hall, corridor or passageway through a clear and unobstructed opening, without doors, then egress may be had thereby to a fire escape. Signs both pointing towards and marking the locations of fire escapes shall be placed on each floor.

fire escapes.

SEC. 52. The largest floor area above the second floor shall be used as a basis for computing the number of fire escapes required by this act; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area are diminished in size, the number of fire escapes from that portion of the building containing the smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

Computing
number of fire escapes
required.

SEC. 53. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof, using outside dimensions, and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Strength of platform,
etc.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Strength of fastenings, etc.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire escape balcony or the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

Readily accessible.

SEC. 54. Every fire escape in or on a hotel hereafter erected, or in or on a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

Standpipes.

SEC. 55. On every hotel hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or ground directly under same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire escape on each street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire escapes.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such hotel or lodging house is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any hotel which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

Elevator shaft enclosed.

SEC. 56. In every fireproof hotel hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be inclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard, incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed either with metal lath or an approved plaster board and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick. Elevator shaft enclosed.

In every semifireproof or wooden hotel hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for fireproof hotels, or such walls shall be constructed with wood studs, with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath or an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof, and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick. Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal-covered on the shaft side thereof.

At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

SEC. 57. In every hotel hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed the same as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building. Such vent shafts may, in a semifireproof or wooden hotel, be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also, that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft. Vent shafts enclosed.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be cement plaster.

Every vent shaft required by this act shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area three square feet for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every such vent shaft shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fireproof material or shall be of metal or metal-lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in such a vent shaft.

Every vent shaft shall have a door or a window at or near the bottom of the shaft, so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out.

inner court.

SEC. 58. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof hotel hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard, incombustible material. In a semifireproof or in a wooden hotel such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof hotels, or may be of wood studs with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and halfway between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath, or with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined on the weather side with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) metal, in lieu of metal lath and plaster.

Boiler room.

SEC. 59. In every hotel hereafter erected, every boiler used for the purpose of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil for fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space of not less than seven-eighths inch between the two ceilings, each ceiling shall be metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board. The floor of a boiler room shall be of concrete not less than two inches thick.

boiler room

Any door in the wall of such room shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three thicknesses of seven-eighths inch by not more than six inches, tongued and grooved, matched, redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in a metal or metal-covered sash.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the wall. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought-iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler room shall have a sill across each door not less than four inches high. Such sills shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the door shall close tight on top of same.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

SEC. 60. In every hotel hereafter erected any portion <sup>Garage.</sup> of such building in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles shall be a room enclosed in partitions which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six inches thick. Such enclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material similar to that in the construction of its walls or shall be either metal lathed or be lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered, and if any portion of the building is used as a public automobile garage, or automobile repair shop, or machine shop the ceiling thereof shall be constructed either of masonry, or of a double ceiling metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered, there shall be left a space between the ceilings of not less than six inches measured vertically. The lower ceiling shall be suspended with iron or steel channels. In each case each of the ceilings shall be plastered not less than three-quarters of an inch thick including the lath or the plaster board. The floor of such room shall be of concrete not less than two inches thick. Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room opening to the interior of the building shall be protected in the same manner required by section fifty-nine hereof for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler room.

SEC. 61. In every hotel hereafter erected the water-closet <sup>Fan exhaust system of ventilation.</sup> compartments, bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms, kitchens, sculleries, pantries or other rooms in which food is stored or prepared, public dining rooms, laundries, barber shops, Turkish baths, general amusement, entertainment or reception rooms, and rooms used for similar purposes and general utility rooms, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this act prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent inlet ducts, extending from the outer air to each such room or compartment and exhaust ducts extending from each such room or compartment to the outer air above the highest roof of the building.

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth surfaced, nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

Fan exhaust system of ventilation.

The exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each room used for the following purposes: kitchens; pantries or other rooms used for cooking, storing or preparing of food; barber shops; Turkish baths; laundries.

General amusement, entertainment, reception or dining rooms, or rooms used for similar purposes; general utility rooms; and the said fan exhaust system of ventilation shall be so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed five minutes for each room used for the following purposes: water-closets; shower compartments; bath, toilet or slop-sink rooms or sculleries.

Penalty for failure to maintain.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan exhaust ventilation, as in this section is required, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each of the rooms or compartments at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

Dormitory.

SEC. 62. Every dormitory hereafter constructed, altered, or converted in any hotel shall be as follows:

(a) In no one dormitory shall there be provided sleeping accommodations for more than twenty adult persons, nor shall the superficial floor space for each person be less than required by section sixty-five hereof.

(b) The ceiling height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling, shall in no case be less than nine feet in the clear, and in no case shall there be permitted in such dormitory more than one tier of beds; provided, however, that in a dormitory in which the clear ceiling height is not less than eighteen feet measured between the finished floor to the finished ceiling thereof, a double tier of beds may be permitted, i. e., one tier above the other; provided, that in no event shall there be less than three feet of clear vertical space between the beds, nor less than three feet in any horizontal direction between any of the beds, nor less than one foot of clear space between the floor of the room and the under side of the first tier of beds.

(c) In every dormitory there shall be provided windows opening onto a street, or onto a yard or court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot. The window area shall in no case be less than one-eighth of the superficial floor area in the dormitory, and in the event that a double tier of beds are provided, the said window area shall be doubled.

(d) The frames of beds in every dormitory shall be made of steel or iron or of some similar hard, smooth, incombustible and nonabsorbent material.

(e) In every dormitory there shall be provided not less than one water-closet in a separate compartment, not less than one urinal in a separate compartment, and not less than one shower in a separate compartment, and not less than one wash-sink, for each twenty persons or fractional part thereof occupying the said dormitory. Dormitory.

(f) Every dormitory in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall be made to conform to the provisions of subsection "(a)" of this section.

SEC. 63. In any hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, every additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or created may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such hotel.

SEC. 64. Every room in a hotel erected prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be hereafter occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window of an area not less than eight square feet, opening directly upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a vent shaft not less than twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no part be less than four feet wide and open and unobstructed, without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft. Windows, courts, etc.
in hotels already erected.

Every public hallway in every hotel erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

SEC. 65. Food shall not be cooked or prepared in any room except in a kitchen designed for that purpose. Floors of kitchens and rooms in which food is stored shall be made impervious to rats by a layer of concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick or by a layer of sheet tin or iron or similar material. Kitchen.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or permit or suffer any person to live or sleep, in any cellar, bath, shower or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet, kitchen, recess from a room, or dressing room, except when such recess from a room, or dressing room has at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area and complies with every requirement of this act for rooms, or in any other place in such building, which in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage or on account of dampness, offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors, or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following Sleeping in cellar, etc.

floor space for each occupant, in accordance with the age of said occupant:

Floor space for each occupant.

	Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1 or -----		2	60 square feet
2 or -----		4	120 square feet
3 or -----		6	180 square feet
4 or -----		8	240 square feet
5 or -----		10	300 square feet
6 or -----		12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

Lighting of hallway, etc.

SEC. 66. In every hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, passageway, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every hotel there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room and exterior passageway on the lot.

Light colored material on walls.

SEC. 67. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping room in every hotel shall, except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during daytime, be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color.

Repapering.

SEC. 68. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any hotel shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

Repairs.

SEC. 69. Every hotel shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

All portions of the lot about such hotel, including the yards, courts, arcaways, vent shafts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the occupants of such building, or for the proper sanitation of the premises, it may require that the said lot, yards, courts, areaways, vent shafts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

SEC. 70. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any hotel or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

SEC. 71. In every hotel there shall be provided such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Each of said receptacles, chutes or shafts shall be kept in a clean condition by the person in charge or in control of the building.

SEC. 72. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink or washroom, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any hotel or on the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

No person shall, or cause or permit any person to deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substance in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom; or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room in any hotel, or in or about the said building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

SEC. 73. In every hotel, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same; and free from the infection of lice, bedbugs or other insects. No roller or public towel shall be permitted. Bed linen shall be changed at least as often as a new guest occupies the bed.

SEC. 74. In no hotel, or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept, stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton, paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing same.

Animals not to be kept.

SEC. 75. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in a hotel, or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable be kept or maintained on the same lot, yard, court or premises of a hotel, or within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

No hotel shall be connected with or have any door, window or transom opening to any part of a building wherein paint or oil are stored or kept for the purpose of sale or otherwise.

Housekeeper in charge.

SEC. 76. In every hotel in which there are eight or more guest rooms and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such hotel or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

Action to abate nuisance.

SEC. 77. In case any hotel, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such hotel or building or structure or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said hotel, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business in or about such hotel or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such hotel, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such hotel, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

SEC. 78. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a hotel owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said hotel is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

SEC. 79. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

SEC. 80. Every owner of a hotel and every lessee or other person having control of a hotel, shall file in the housing department a notice, containing his name and address, and also a description of the property, by street and number and otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same; and also the number of rooms in the building. In case of a transfer of any hotel, it shall be the duty of the grantee of said hotel to file in the housing department a notice of such transfer, stating the name of the new owner, within thirty days after such transfer. In case of the devolution of the said property by will, it shall be the duty of the executor and the devisee, if more than twenty-one years of age, and in case of devolution of such property by inheritance without a will, it shall be the duty of the heirs, or in case all the heirs are under age, it shall be the duty of the administrator of the deceased owner of said property, to file in said department a notice, stating the death of said owner and the names of those who have succeeded to his interests, within thirty days after the death of the decedent, in case he died intestate, and within thirty days after the probate of his will if he died testate.

Name of agent filed.

SEC. 81. Every owner, agent or lessee of a hotel shall file in the housing department a notice containing the name and address of such agent of such house, for the purpose of receiving service of process, and also a description of the property, by street and number or otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same. The name of the owner or lessee may be filed as agent for this purpose.

Index of names.

SEC. 82. The names and addresses filed in accordance with sections seventy-nine and eighty shall be indexed by the housing department in such a manner that all of those filed in relation to each hotel shall be together and readily ascertainable. Said indices shall be public records, open to public inspection during business hours.

Time of service.

SEC. 83. Every notice or order in relation to a hotel shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

Manner of service.

SEC. 84. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a hotel for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Minimum requirements.

SEC. 85. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of hotels. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, from enacting from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

Repealed.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present ordinance or law of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a hotel, the number of stories or height of such hotel or number of rooms therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a hotel within said municipality, the number of stories or height of such hotel or number of rooms therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Powers of cities not abrogated.

SEC. 86. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 87. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

In effect when.

SEC. 88. "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of hotels and lodging houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 16, 1913, statutes of California of 1913, page 1429, and all acts amending said act, are hereby repealed.

Repealed.

CHAPTER 737.

An act to regulate the construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of dwellings, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which dwellings are erected or located, in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof.

[Approved May 31, 1917. In effect September 1, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the "state dwelling house act," and its provisions shall apply to incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties of this state.

Title.

Duty of building department.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of dwellings.

Duty of housing department.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of dwellings after said dwellings have been erected, constructed or altered, as the case may be.

In case no such departments.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department in an incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county to enforce all the provisions of this act.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the State of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

Powers of commission of immigration and housing.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of dwellings in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, in the State of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

Unlawful to construct dwelling contrary to act.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any dwelling or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any dwelling or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or to cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any dwelling or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations or changes of any kind whatsoever, to any dwelling erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any dwelling hereafter erected, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act; or in any manner to diminish the size of the windows, or to remove any window or windows from the rooms contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Alterations.

SEC. 5. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all the provisions of this act affecting a dwelling hereafter erected.

Building converted to use as dwelling.

A building used as a dwelling at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting dwellings hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to unoccupied area.

Building moved.

SEC. 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Penalty for violation.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of dwellings or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a dwelling or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

Procedure.

SEC. 7. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, or cities and counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

Power to enter building.

Power to
building.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter dwellings, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act; provided, however, that the authority to enter buildings, as in this section given to the persons hereinbefore enumerated, shall not be construed or deemed to apply to the entering of any such building between the hours of six o'clock p.m. of any day and six o'clock a.m. of the succeeding day, without the consent of the owner or of the occupants of such buildings; but in no event shall the authority in this section given be construed as permitting any of the persons hereinbefore enumerated to enter any such buildings in the absence of the occupants thereof without a proper written order, duly executed by a competent court authorized to issue such orders.

Definitions.

SEC. 8. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning:

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," shall be construed as if followed by the words, "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county," as the case may be, in which the dwelling is situated.

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

"Building" is a dwelling.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

“Cellar” is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which “Cellar.” is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

“Curb level” is the curb level opposite the center of the front of lot, and in the event that a curb has not been established shall be deemed to be the average ground level at the front of lot.

“Department.” Wherever the word “department” is used it means the building department, the housing department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

“Dwelling” is as follows:

(a) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, which “Dwelling.” contains not more than two apartments, or not more than five guest rooms, or,

(b) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, not more than one story in height, which contains more than two apartments, or,

(c) Any house or building, or any portion thereof, of more than one story and not more than two stories in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families, (four apartments) and which is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and which building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is or may be kept as a home or a residence of a separate family. Each such section having an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one separate stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building, and with no room, hallway, bathroom, water-closet or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building.

“Guest” is any person hiring and occupying a room for sleeping purposes, and shall include both boarders and lodgers.

“Guest room” is a room which is occupied, or is intended, arranged or designed to be occupied, for sleeping purposes by one or more guests.

“Housing department” is any department or commission “Housing department.” charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of dwelling house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances regulating the maintenance and occupancy of buildings or structures and of the health and sanitary requirements.

“Lot.”

“Lot” is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a dwelling, together with the land, and unoccupied spaces for such a dwelling, as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the dwelling.

“Nuisance” embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

“Shall.” Wherever this word is used it shall be mandatory.

“Street” is any public street, alley, thoroughfare or park having a minimum width of sixteen feet, measured from the front of lot to the opposite front of lot, and shall have been dedicated or deeded to the public for public use.

Constructed in substantial manner.

SEC. 9. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be constructed in a substantial manner; and the building shall be so constructed as to provide shelter to the occupants against the elements, and so as to exclude dampness in inclement weather.

Sleeping in cellar.

SEC. 10. In no dwelling shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

Rooms in basement.

SEC. 11. In no dwelling shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living purposes unless it conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building, and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground levels.

All the walls below the ground level and the floors of such a basement shall be dampproofed and waterproofed. Such dampproofing and waterproofing shall run through the walls and up as high as the ground level and continue throughout the floor.

Every basement in such buildings shall be illuminated and ventilated.

Ventilation beneath floor.

SEC. 12. In every dwelling hereafter erected there shall be provided a clear air space under the lowest floor thereof of at least six inches, except where there is a ventilated basement or cellar underneath such floor, which clear air space shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens, or similar provisions, of a size to insure ample ventilation. The surface underneath the floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

The provisions of this section shall not be deemed to apply to masonry floors laid directly on the soil, nor to any self-supporting masonry floor. Floor area.

SEC. 13. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes shall contain at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area. Width and height.

Every such room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than eight feet in height measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be eight feet in height in but one-half the area of the room.

Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in width and every such compartment and bath or shower compartment shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling.

SEC. 14. In every dwelling hereafter erected, every room used for living or sleeping purposes and every kitchen, water-closet compartment, shower or bathroom, shall have at least one window, of the area fixed by this act, opening directly upon a street, or upon unoccupied area not less than four in its least dimension and containing an area of not less than thirty-six square feet, and located on the same lot. Windows.

A cornice may extend into the unoccupied area two inches for each one foot in width of such unoccupied area. Cornice.

Windows herein required shall be located so as properly to light all portions of the room, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment or bath or shower room may be opened directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be in no dimension less than eighteen inches; provided, further, that windows required to open onto a street or onto unoccupied area may open through porches, provided that the said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth, measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street or unoccupied area is left open, except that the open space may be enclosed with mosquito screens. Opening into vent shaft.

SEC. 15. In every dwelling hereafter erected the total window area in each room used for living or sleeping purposes shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room. Window area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

SEC. 16. In every dwelling hereafter erected, the window area in a water-closet compartment or bathroom shall be not less than three square feet.

SEC. 17. Every dwelling hereafter erected shall be provided with one water-closet for each family living therein. Water closets.

Plumbing
fixtures.

SEC. 18. In every dwelling hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in dwellings hereafter erected shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to connect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cess-pool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

running
water.

SEC. 19. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the dwelling hereafter erected, or an existing dwelling as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water, or proper means of sewage disposal; provided, further, that proper toilet facilities shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be enclosed by fly screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically, by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals.

Privy.

Earthenware bowls and seats.

SEC. 20. In every dwelling hereafter erected, and in every dwelling now existing, all plumbing fixtures shall be properly trapped and vented and all such plumbing made sanitary in every particular. Water-closets hereafter installed shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material integral with the bowls, or wooden seats, enameled or varnished or otherwise made nonabsorbent, attached directly to the bowls. All connections shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass.

No plumbing fixtures shall be enclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around the same must be left entirely open.

SEC. 21. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or water-closet compartment, or in any other place in the building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building.

Cooking in bath compartment.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or to permit or suffer any person to live or sleep, in any cellar, bath, shower or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet or kitchen, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness, offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Sleeping in cellar, etc.

Floor space for each occupant

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1	2	60 square feet
2	4	120 square feet
3	6	180 square feet
4	8	240 square feet
5	10	300 square feet
6	12	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

SEC. 22. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any dwelling shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

Repapering.

SEC. 23. Every dwelling shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

Repairs.

Every water-closet, bathtub, sink, slop-hopper or other similar plumbing fixture shall at all times be kept clean, sanitary and in good working order.

SEC. 24. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any dwelling or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

Metal mosquito screening.

SEC. 25. There shall be provided by the occupant or tenant for each dwelling a tight metal receptacle, with close-fitting metal cover, for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act. The receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants or tenants.

Room, etc.,
kept clean.

SEC. 26. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any dwelling, and the lot, and the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

Swill, etc.,
not to be deposited in
fixtures.

No person shall deposit, or cause or permit any person to deposit, any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substance in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom, or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any dwelling or in or about the said building or premises thereof for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

No animals
in dwelling.

SEC. 27. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any dwelling house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable, be kept or maintained within twenty feet of any window or door of such building.

Action to abate
nuisance.

SEC. 28. In case any dwelling, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such dwelling or building or structure or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said dwelling, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct of business in or about such dwelling or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such dwelling, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said

order.

notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such dwelling, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

SEC. 29. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a dwelling owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said dwelling is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens. Fine a lien.

SEC. 30. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order. Notice of pendency of action.

SEC. 31. Every notice or order in relation to a dwelling shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued. Time of service.

SEC. 32. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a dwelling for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure. Manner of service.

Minimum requirements.

SEC. 33. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of dwellings. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, from enacting from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

Supplementary laws.

Repealed.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present ordinance or law of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Power of cities not abrogated.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a dwelling within said municipality, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 34. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

In effect, when.

SEC. 35. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

CHAPTER 738.

An act to regulate the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration, maintenance, use and occupancy of tenement houses, and the maintenance, use and occupancy of the premises and land on which tenement houses are erected or located, in all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof, and repealing an act entitled 'An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof,' approved April 16, 1909, statutes of California of 1909, page 918," approved April 10, 1911, statutes of California of 1911, page 860, and approved June 13, 1913, statutes of California, 1913, page 737, and approved May 29, 1915, statutes of California, page 952, and all acts amendatory thereof.

[Approved May 31, 1917. In effect September 1, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the "state tenement house act" and its provisions shall apply to all parts of the State of California, including incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and incorporated cities and counties. Title.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the "building department" of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, to enforce all the provisions of this act pertaining to the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion, alteration and arrangement of tenement houses and to issue the certificate of "final completion" hereinafter provided. Duty of building department.

It shall be the duty of the "housing department" or if there is no housing department the health department of every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act pertaining to the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation, use and occupancy of tenement houses after said tenement houses have been erected, constructed, or altered, as the case may be, and the certificate of "final completion" has been issued by the building department, and to issue the "permit of occupancy" as hereinafter provided. Duty of housing department.

In the event that there is no building department or no housing department or health department in an incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county, it In case no such departments.

shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or the maintenance, sanitation, ventilation or occupancy of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said incorporated town, incorporated city or incorporated city and county to enforce all of the provisions of this act.

Enforcement. In every county it shall be the duty of the officer or officers who are charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the erection, construction or alteration of buildings, or of the maintenance, sanitation, occupancy and ventilation of buildings, or of the police, fire or health regulations in said county, to enforce all of the provisions of this act outside of the limits of any incorporated town or incorporated city.

Every incorporated town, incorporated city, or incorporated city and county in the State of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to designate and charge by ordinance any other department or officer than the department or officers mentioned herein, with the enforcement of this act, or any portion thereof.

of immigration and housing.

The commission of immigration and housing of California shall have, and it is hereby empowered and given authority to enforce the provisions of this act, which do not pertain to the actual erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or arrangement of tenement houses in all incorporated towns, incorporated cities and incorporated cities and counties, and counties in the State of California, whenever said commission finds or discovers a violation or violations of the provisions of this act and notifies the local department or officer, or departments or officers who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, in writing, of such violation or violations, and the said local department or officer, or departments or officers, fail, neglect or refuse to enforce the provisions of the said act within thirty days thereafter; provided, however, that the said commission of immigration and housing of California shall enforce the provisions of this act only in the instances specified in said written notice.

construct tenement house contrary to act.

SEC. 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, whether as owner, agent, contractor, builder, architect, engineer, superintendent, foreman, plumber, tenant, lessee, lessor, occupant, or in any other capacity whatsoever, to erect, construct, reconstruct, alter, build upon, move, convert, use, occupy or maintain, or to cause, permit or suffer to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, built upon, moved, converted, used, occupied or maintained any tenement house or any portion thereof contrary to the provisions of this act, or to commit or maintain or cause or permit to be committed or maintained any nuisance in or upon any tenement house or any portion thereof, or any of the premises, yards or courts which are a part thereof, or which are required by the provisions of this act; or to do or cause to be done, or to use or cause to be used, any privy, sewer, cesspool, plumbing or house drainage affecting the sanitary condition of any tenement house or any portion thereof, or of the premises thereof, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 4. It shall be unlawful for any person to make any alterations, or changes, or reconstruction work of any kind whatsoever, to any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or to any tenement house hereafter erected, or to increase the height or the percentage of the lot occupied, in any manner which would be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this act, or in violation of the said provisions of this act, or in any manner to diminish the size of the yards, courts or shafts or the size of windows or skylights, or to remove any stairway or fire escape, or to obstruct the egress from such building or from the hallways or stairways, or to do anything that would affect the ventilation and sanitation of the building, contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 5. A building not erected for, or which is not used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if hereafter converted to or altered for such use, shall thereupon become subject to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

A building used as a tenement house at the time of the passage of this act, if moved, shall be made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected, in so far as they pertain to the percentage of lot occupied and the size of outer courts, inner courts bounded by a lot line, and yards.

It shall be unlawful to reconstruct any tenement house which is hereafter damaged by fire or the elements to an extent in excess of fifty-one (51) per cent of its physical proportions, unless the said building is made to conform to all of the provisions of this act affecting tenement houses hereafter erected.

SEC. 6. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in a county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and in addition to the penalty therefor, shall be liable for all costs, expense and disbursements paid or incurred by the department, by any of the officers thereof, or by any agent, employee or contractor of same, in the prosecution of such violation. The costs, expense and disbursements by this section provided shall be fixed by the court having jurisdiction of the matter.

Except as herein otherwise specified, the procedure for the prevention of violations of this act, for the vacation of tenement houses or premises unlawfully occupied, or for the abatement of a nuisance in connection with a tenement house or the premises thereof, shall be as set forth in the charter and ordinances of the municipality in which the procedure is instituted.

Permit to erect tenement
house.

Application.

SEC. 7. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to commence or to proceed with the erection, construction, reconstruction, conversion, or alteration of a tenement house, or to move or to build upon a tenement house, or to convert a building or any portion thereof into use as a tenement house, without first obtaining a permit in writing so to do from the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Any person, firm or corporation desiring such a permit shall file an application therefor with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said application shall give a detailed statement in writing, verified under oath by the person making the same, of the erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, conversion or alteration, as the case may be, upon blanks or forms to be furnished by the said department. The said application must be accompanied with a full, true and complete set of the plans of the tenement house or alteration, or work proposed, as the case may be, together with a set of specifications describing the materials proposed to enter into the construction of the proposed work, also a plan of the lot on which such building is proposed to be erected, constructed, reconstructed, converted, altered, or moved, as the case may be. Such statement shall give in full the name and address by street and number of the owner or owners, also the name and address of the architect and of the contractor, if there be such an architect or contractor; also shall give such other data and information as in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act is deemed necessary.

Affidavit.

The affidavit to said application shall allege that the plans and specifications are true and contain a correct description of the proposed tenement house, lot and proposed work. If any person other than the owner makes such affidavit, such person shall not be recognized except that he allege in his affidavit that he is authorized and empowered by the said owner to act for him and to sign the required affidavit. Said department charged with the enforcement of this act shall cause all such plans, specifications and statements to be examined, and if it appears that they conform to the provisions of this act, shall then issue a permit to the person submitting the same. Said department may, from time to time, approve changes in any plans, specifications or statements previously approved by it; provided, that all changes when so made shall be in conformity with the provisions of this act. Said department shall have the power to revoke or cancel any permit or approval that it has previously issued in case of any refusal, failure or neglect of the person to whom such permit or approval has been issued to comply with any of the provisions of this act, or in case any false statement or misrepresentation issued.

Revocation.

is made in any of the said plans, specifications or statements submitted or filed for such permit or approval. The erection, construction, reconstruction, moving, alteration or conversion of any such tenement house, as the case may be, shall be made in accordance with the plans, specifications and statements submitted or filed and for which the permit is issued.

A true copy of the plans, specifications and other information submitted or filed, upon which a permit is issued, with the approval of the department with which they are filed, stamped or written thereon shall be kept upon the premises of the tenement house or work for which the said permit is issued, from the commencement of the said building or work to the final completion of same, and shall be subject to inspection at all times by proper authorities.

Plans kept on premises.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act may, at its discretion, issue a permit in case of nominal alterations or repairs, when application is made therefor, in writing, by the owner or his agent, when the making of said nominal alterations and repairs do not affect any structural feature or the sanitation or the ventilation of the tenement house, without requiring the filing of plans or specifications.

Permit for nominal alterations.

The issuance or granting of a permit or approval by the department charged with the enforcement of this act under the authority of this section shall not be deemed or construed to be a permit or an approval of the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

Every permit or approval which is issued by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, but under which no work has been done within ninety days from the date of issuance, or where work has been suspended for a period of ninety days, shall expire by limitation and a new permit shall be obtained before the work may be done.

Expiration of permit.

SEC. 8. In every incorporated town, incorporated city, and incorporated city and county, it shall be unlawful to occupy or to permit to be occupied, any tenement house hereafter erected, constructed, reconstructed, altered, converted or moved, as the case may be, or any portion thereof, for human habitation until the issuance of a "certificate of final completion" and a "permit of occupancy" by the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act.

"Certificate of final completion" and "permit of occupancy."

It shall also be unlawful to occupy any existing tenement house until a permit of occupancy has been issued by the department designated to issue such permit.

Every permit of occupancy shall be renewed each calendar year by the department designated to issue the said permit; provided, that no structural alterations or changes have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion; and provided, that all other provisions of this act have been complied with.

Renewal of permit of occupancy.

Any person desiring a certificate shall file a notice with the department charged with the enforcement of this act. Said department shall cause an inspection to be made of the said

Certificate issued.

tenement house or portion thereof, or work described in the said notice, within ten days after written application therefor, and shall issue a "certificate of final completion" if it is found that all the provisions of this act, regulating the erection, construction, alteration or moving, as the case may be, have been complied with.

issued.

The department charged with the enforcement of this act and designated to issue the permit of occupancy shall issue the said "permit of occupancy" upon application, in writing, therefor by the owner or his agent, and upon the filing by the owner or his agent of such statements or records required by the department, after the "certificate of final completion" has been issued; provided, that no violations have occurred since the issuance of the certificate of final completion, or, in the case of a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, and for which no certificate of final completion has been issued, then after the said department has caused an inspection to have been made of the said tenement house and has found that all of the provisions of this act applying to such tenement house have been complied with.

All permits and certificates shall be made in duplicate and a copy shall remain on file in the department issuing them.

occupied without
nuisance.

Any tenement house hereafter erected, altered, converted or moved, which is occupied, or any portion thereof which is occupied for human habitation, prior to a "certificate of final completion" or a "permit of occupancy" being issued, shall be deemed a nuisance, and the department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act may cause it to be vacated until the said certificate of completion and permit of occupancy have been obtained in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Power to
house.

SEC. 9. The department or departments charged with the enforcement of this act in any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, and the authorized officers, agents or employees of such department or departments, may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, within the corporate limits of such towns, cities, cities and counties, or counties, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings, in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The members of the commission of immigration and housing of California and the agents, officers or employees of said commission may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, for the purpose of inspecting such buildings in order to secure compliance with the provisions of this act and to prevent violations thereof.

The owner or his authorized agent may, whenever necessary, enter tenement houses, or portions thereof, or the premises thereof, owned by him, to carry out any instructions or to perform any work required to be done by the provisions of this act.

SEC. 10. For the purpose of this act, certain words and phrases are defined as follows, unless it shall be apparent from their context that they have a different meaning: Definitions.

Words used in the singular include the plural, and the plural, the singular.

Words used in the present tense include the future.

Words used in the masculine gender include the feminine, and the feminine, the masculine.

Words "building department," "housing department," "health department," "department charged with the enforcement of this act," "fire commissioner," shall be construed as if followed by the words. "of the incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county," as the case may be, in which the tenement house is situated.

"Apartment" is a room or suite of rooms which is occupied, or is intended or designed to be occupied by one family for living and sleeping purposes.

"Approved" means whatever material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter meets the requirements and approval of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or which is approved by local ordinance of the municipality in which the building is situated, or any appliance, appurtenance, or other matter which conforms to the requirements of, and bears the approval of the "national board of fire underwriters"; provided, however, that no such material, appliance, appurtenance, or other matter shall be deemed "approved" for use where, or in such a manner as would be inconsistent with the intent, or specific provisions of this act.

"Basement" is any story or portion thereof partly below the level of the curb or the actual adjoining ground level, the ceiling of which in no part is less than seven feet above the curb level or actual adjoining ground levels. If the adjoining ground is excavated to or below the curb level, or to or below the adjoining natural ground level, such excavated space shall have not less than the minimum width and length required in this act for outer courts.

Every basement is a story.

"Building" is a tenement house.

"Building department" means the commissioner of buildings, superintendent of buildings, chief inspector of buildings, or any officer or department charged with the enforcement of ordinances and laws regulating the construction and alteration of buildings or structures.

"Cellar" is any story or portion thereof, the ceiling of which in any part is less than seven feet above the curb level and actual adjoining ground levels.

"Court" is an open, unoccupied space other than a yard on the lot on which is situated a tenement house. A court, one entire side or end of which is bounded by a front yard, a rear yard or a side yard, or by the front of lot, or by a street or a public alley, is an "outer court." Every court which is not an "outer court" is an "inner court."

“Court.”

Every court shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are windows from rooms or apartments abutting the said court, except that a cornice on the building may extend into an “outer court” two inches for each one foot in width of such court, and a cornice may extend into an “inner court” one inch for each one foot in width of such court.

Wherever the word “department” is used it means the building department, the housing department, the health department or such other department or officer, or departments or officers, who are charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act.

“Fireproof tenement house” is a building wherein all the exterior and interior loads or strains are transmitted to the foundation by means of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone, or by means of a skeleton framework of steel or iron, the exterior walls, inner court walls and roof constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or hollow terra cotta tile; where all the structural steel or iron is thoroughly fireproofed by concrete, cement plaster, tile, brick or sandstone, not less than two inches thick; where all the interior partitions are constructed of either hollow terra cotta tile blocks, gypsum blocks, brick, concrete, reinforced concrete, or of metal studs lathed with metal lath and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or of metal studs lathed with approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board, or constructed of wire glass not less than one-fourth inch thick, set in metal frames and sash, and all other materials used in the said building are of approved incombustible material, except that the glass in windows, transoms, or doors may be plain glass, and except that doors, frames, sash and the usual trim of rooms, hallways, corridors and passageways may be of wood, and except that wood floors may be placed on top of the floors constructed of incombustible materials, except in the stairways and public hallways.

“Housing department” is any department or commission charged with the enforcement of ordinances or laws regulating the occupancy and maintenance of tenement houses, hotels or dwelling house buildings; and where no such department is maintained, shall be deemed to be the health commissioner, the department of health, health officer, or similar department charged with the enforcement of laws and ordinances relating to the protection of the public health.

"Kitchen" is any room in any apartment used or intended or designed to be used for cooking purposes and for the preparation of food.

"Lot" is a parcel or area of land on which is situated a tenement house, together with the land, yards, courts and unoccupied spaces for such a tenement house as required by this act; all of which land shall be owned by or be under the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house.

A lot situated at the junction of two or more intersecting streets, with a boundary line thereof bordering on each of the two streets, is a "corner lot." All parts of the width of such a corner lot which are distant more than seventy-five feet from the junction point of the two or more intersecting streets, shall be deemed to be an "interior lot." The owner or his authorized agent may designate either street frontage as being the front of such corner lot for the purpose of determining the width thereof.

A lot which has only one boundary line bordering on a public street is an "interior lot."

"Rear lot" is a parcel or area of land having no boundary line bordering on a street, or having less than one-half of its width as a boundary line bordering on a street.

"Front of lot" is the boundary line of lot bordering on the street. In case of a corner lot, either of such boundary lines may be the "front of lot."

"Rear of lot" is the boundary line of lot opposite the "front of lot."

"Depth of lot" is the mean distance from the "front of lot" to the "rear of lot."

"Nuisance" embraces public nuisance as known at common law or in equity jurisprudence, and whatever is dangerous to human life or detrimental to health, and shall also embrace the overcrowding with occupants of any room, insufficient ventilation, or illumination, or inadequate or insanitary sewerage or plumbing facilities, or uncleanness, and whatever renders air, food or drink unwholesome or detrimental to the health of human beings.

"Occupied space" is all the space covered by a tenement house, including outside stairways, platforms, fire escapes, balconies, fire towers, chimneys, stacks, vent shafts, not exceeding thirty-two square feet in area, cornice, or any part thereof, which projects into an inner court more than one inch for each one foot in width of such court, or which projects into an outer court or yard more than two inches for each one foot in width of such outer court or a yard, except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not exceeding four feet beyond the exterior walls of the building into a front or rear yard, and except that a retaining wall may extend not to exceed twelve inches into a yard or court. For the purpose of determining occupied space, the area of the building shall be taken at the lowest story or portion thereof used for living or sleeping purposes.

“Person” is a natural person, his heirs, executors, administrators or assigns; and also includes a firm, partnership or corporation, its or their successors or assigns.

“Public hallway” is a hallway, corridor, passageway or vestibule not within an apartment, and includes stairways, landings and platforms.

“Semi-fireproof tenement house.”

“Semifireproof tenement house” is a building with all exterior walls and walls of inner and outer courts constructed of brick, stone, concrete, reinforced concrete or hollow terra cotta tile; except that the walls of an inner court, which court is surrounded on four sides by the same building, may be constructed as provided in this act for such inner courts; interior partitions and floors constructed of approved incombustible materials or of wood, with all ceilings, partitions, soffits of stairways, and outside stringers of open stairways and stair wells metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board; in which all finished floors, frames, doors and the usual trim of rooms and hallways may be built of wood and the roof of which shall be covered with at least a composition fire-retardant material.

“Tenement house” is any house or building, or portion thereof, more than one story in height, which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or which is occupied as the home or residence of three or more families living independently of each other and doing their cooking in the said building; provided, however, that any building not more than two stories in height which is designed, built, rented, leased, let or hired out to be occupied, or is occupied, as the home or residence of not more than four families, and the said building is so arranged that each of the said families live independently of each other, and the building is constructed and arranged so that a separate section is, or may be, kept as a home or residence of a separate family, and each such section has an entirely independent and separate entrance, and if a stairway is required, one such stairway leading to each section from the street or from an outside vestibule on the level of the first floor of said building is a separate stairway, and with no room, hallway, bathroom, water-closet, or kitchen used in common by two or more families occupying the said building, shall be deemed not to come within the definition of a “tenement house.”

In every such building all ceilings and walls and partitions of public hallways, soffits of interior stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways, and stair wells shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

“Yard” is a portion of a lot on which is situated a tenement house and which is unoccupied by the building and extends from the ground up (except where otherwise provided by this act) open and unobstructed to the sky; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yards. If such yard is between the front line of the building and the front boundary line of the lot, it is a “front yard.” If it is between the extreme rear line of the building and the rear of the lot, it is a “rear yard.” If it extends from the rear yard to the front yard or front of the lot, it is a “side yard.” “Yard.”

SEC. 11. No tenement house shall hereafter be erected on, or moved on to, a rear lot. No building for any purpose shall hereafter be erected in front of any tenement house unless there shall be left unoccupied a front yard extending from the front of the rear tenement house to the front line of lot bordering on the street. Front yard.

Such front yard shall not be in any part less in width than fifty per cent of the actual width of the rear tenement house.

SEC. 12. No fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed one hundred fifty feet in height, nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts. Height.

No semifireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed six stories at any point, nor more than sixty-five feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

No wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall exceed three stories at any point nor more than thirty-six feet in height (except as hereinafter provided), nor more than one and one-half times the width of the widest street to which the lot on which it is situated abuts.

The width of the street, for this purpose, shall be measured from the extreme front of the building to the front of lot opposite, across the street.

For the purposes of this section a basement is a story.

The height of a fireproof tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the highest point of the roof. The height of a semifireproof or Height defined.

Height
defined.

of a wooden tenement house is the perpendicular distance from the curb level or adjoining ground levels to the lowest point of the finished ceiling of the top story; provided, that in the case of a semifireproof tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed sixty-five feet above the curb level measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed seventy-five feet above the adjoining curb in case of a corner lot, or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot, and in the case of a wooden tenement house situated on a lot with the ground sloping downward from the facade at which the measurement is taken the height of the building shall not at any point exceed thirty-six feet above the curb line measured on the facade facing the street, nor shall the height of the building at any point of the grade exceed forty-six feet above the adjoining curb in the case of a corner lot or above the level of the ground in the case of an interior lot.

unoccupied.

SEC. 13. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least ten per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected, at least twenty-five per cent of such lot shall be left unoccupied; provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street, one-half of the narrowest street to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied; except that if such one-half of the narrowest street is greater than the rear yard required for such tenement house, then only as much of the said street as is required for the rear yard shall be considered as part of the lot for the purpose of computing the percentage of lot to be left unoccupied.

Rear yard.

SEC. 14. Immediately behind every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a rear yard extending across the entire width of the lot.

Yard serving two
houses.

SEC. 15. In no event shall any yard or court be made to serve the purpose of two tenement houses hereafter erected, or of an existing tenement house and a tenement house hereafter erected, unless such yard or court, as the case may be, is of the full size required for two tenement houses, and then only in the event that such yard or court, as the case may be, is located on the same lot and owned by or in the absolute lawful control and in the lawful possession of the tenement house it proposes to serve.

Where a tenement house, now or hereafter erected, stands upon a lot, no other building shall hereafter be placed upon the front or rear of that lot, unless the minimum distance between such buildings shall be at least ten feet, and two additional feet shall be added to such minimum distance of ten feet for every story more than one in height of the highest building on such lot.

Distance between buildings.

SEC. 16. The depth of a rear yard shall be measured at right angles from the extreme rear line of the building towards the rear lot line.

Depth of rear yard.

SEC. 17. On every interior lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the ground clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of the lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may extend not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Minimum depth of rear yard on interior lot.

Height of building measured from top of wall to floor of yard at point abutting the rear yard	Depth of rear yard
Not exceeding 36 feet.....	10 feet
Not exceeding 48 feet.....	11 feet
Not exceeding 60 feet.....	12 feet
Not exceeding 72 feet.....	14 feet
Not exceeding 84 feet.....	16 feet
Not exceeding 96 feet.....	18 feet
Not exceeding 108 feet.....	20 feet
Not exceeding 120 feet.....	22 feet
Not exceeding 132 feet.....	24 feet
Not exceeding 150 feet.....	26 feet

Provided, however, that if such interior lot extends through from one street to another street or public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which said lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

SEC. 18. On every corner lot on which a tenement house is hereafter erected there shall be provided a rear yard. Such yard shall extend from the lowest floor which is used for living or sleeping apartments, clear and unobstructed to the sky, and shall extend across the entire width of such lot; except that outside stairways, platforms and balconies constructed of open metal work and fire escapes may be extended not more than four feet into such yard. The minimum depth of such rear yard shall be as follows:

Depth of corner lot	Depth of rear yard
Not exceeding 100 feet.....	Not less than 10 per cent of the depth of the lot nor less than 5 feet, nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.
Exceeding 100 feet.....	Not less than 10 feet nor less than the minimum width required for an outer court, based on the number of stories in such building.

Provided, however, if such corner lot extends through from one street to another street, or to a public alley, one-half of the narrowest street or public alley to which such lot abuts may be considered as a part of the lot in computing the rear yard required by this section.

Passageway to street.

SEC. 19. Every rear yard required by this act and not bordering on a street or public alley and without direct access thereto shall have access to a street or public alley by means of an unobstructed passageway not less than three feet six inches in clear width, nor less than seven feet in clear height; and if such passageway or any portion thereof passes through a building, such portion thereof shall be built of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board, or shall be lined with not less than number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron, and shall be drained and lighted.

Excavated front yard.

SEC. 20. Every front yard which is excavated below the level of the curb or below the adjoining ground level for the purpose of furnishing light and ventilation to a basement shall in no part be less in width and length than required for outer courts.

Width of side yard.

SEC. 21. The width of every side yard shall be not less than the width required for an outer court except that the provisions of this act regarding the maximum lengths of an outer court shall not apply to a side yard; provided, that if there is a side yard on both sides of the building, connected one with the other across the rear of the building by the rear yard, then the width of the side yards may be reduced twelve inches.

SEC. 22. The minimum size of every outer court for a tenement house hereafter erected shall be as follows: Minimum size of outer court.

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments	Minimum width of court	Maximum length of court
1 or 2 stories	4 ft. 0 in.	16 ft. 0 in.
3 stories	4 ft. 6 in.	25 ft. 0 in.
4 stories	5 ft. 6 in.	30 ft. 0 in.
5 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
6 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	35 ft. 0 in.
7 stories	10 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
8 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
9 stories	13 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.
10 or more stories	14 ft. 0 in.	40 ft. 0 in.

There shall be added to the minimum width of each such outer court six inches for each five feet or fractional part thereof in excess of the maximum length; provided, however, that the maximum lengths herein provided shall not apply when the outer court is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line; provided, further, that if an outer court is bounded by a public alley or public park, the width of such public alley or public park may be considered a part of the lot in determining the required width of the outer court.

SEC. 23. The minimum size of every inner court for tenement houses hereafter erected shall be as follows: Minimum size of inner court.

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court in square feet
1 or 2 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	8 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	12 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Provided, however, that the minimum size of every inner court which is bounded on one side for its entire length by a lot line may be as follows:

Height of building based on the full number of stories in the building measured upward from and including the lowest story in which there is an apartment or apartments.	Minimum width of court	Minimum area of court
1 or 2 stories	5 ft. 0 in.	75 square feet
3 stories	6 ft. 0 in.	120 square feet
4 stories	7 ft. 0 in.	160 square feet
5 stories	9 ft. 0 in.	250 square feet
6 stories	16 ft. 0 in.	400 square feet
7 stories	20 ft. 0 in.	625 square feet
8 stories and more	24 ft. 0 in.	840 square feet

Every inner court hereafter constructed and every inner court or vent shaft now in any tenement house shall be provided with a door or window at or near the bottom thereof, giving sufficient access to such court or vent shaft as to enable it to be properly cleaned out.

Recess. SEC. 24. Every recess from a court, yard or street in a tenement house hereafter erected shall, unless it conforms to the requirements of this act for an inner court, or an outer court, be not less in width than its depth. Every such recess shall be open and unobstructed to the sky from a point not more than two feet above the floor line of the lowest story in the building in which there are rooms the said recess proposes to serve.

Intakes for inner court SEC. 25. Every inner court in a tenement house hereafter erected shall be provided with one or more horizontal intakes at the bottom of the court, as follows:

Inner court areas	Minimum number of intakes	Net aggregate area of intakes
Each not exceeding 300 square feet.....	One	19½ square feet
Each not exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	40 square feet
Each exceeding 800 square feet.....	Two	60 square feet

Every such intake shall always extend directly to the front of lot or front yard, or rear yard, or to a side yard, or to a street, or to a public alley or public park. Whenever more than one intake is required, one such intake shall extend to the front of lot or front yard, and one to the rear yard, public alley, public park, or to the other street, and the court ends of the air intakes shall be as far apart as possible.

Each such intake shall consist of an unobstructed duct or passageway having a minimum width of three feet in all its parts and a minimum height of six feet six inches.

Construction. Every such intake shall be constructed of approved incombustible materials, or shall be lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof. Such air intakes may be closed at each end with a gate or grill having not less than seventy-five per cent of open work.

In case the inner court does not extend below the second floor level, then each such air intake may consist of an unobstructed open duct, constructed of approved incombustible materials or lined with at least number twenty-six (gauge) galvanized iron on the inside thereof, having an interior area of not less than nineteen and one-half square feet, and in no dimension less than twelve inches, and covered at each end with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh.

Every air intake shall be drained and so constructed and arranged as to be readily cleaned out.

Ceilers. SEC. 26. In no tenement house shall any room in the cellar be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes.

Every cellar shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floor of every cellar hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and dampproof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

SEC. 27. In no tenement house shall any room in the basement be constructed, altered, converted or occupied for living or sleeping purposes, unless such room conforms to all of the requirements of this act for rooms in other parts of the building and that the ceiling of each such room be in all parts not less than seven feet above the adjoining ground level.

Every basement shall be illuminated and ventilated. The walls and floors of every basement hereafter constructed, which are below the ground level, shall be made waterproof and damp-proof, and whenever deemed necessary, and so ordered by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the walls and ceilings thereof shall be plastered.

SEC. 28. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the lowest floor thereof shall be at least eighteen inches above the surface soil adjoining and under the floor, and the entire space under such floor shall be kept dry, drained, clean and free from any accumulation of rubbish, debris or filth.

Such space under the floor shall be enclosed and provided with a sufficient number of openings with removable screens or similar provisions of a size to insure ample ventilation; provided, however, that in any such building the lowest floor thereof may be less than eighteen inches above the surface soil, but in no case less than six inches, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, if the said floor is made impervious to the ingress of rats or other vermin as follows:

(a) Foundation walls shall be constructed of concrete or of brick or stone or other masonry laid in a good mortar or constructed of some other equally as rat proof material.

(b) The said foundation walls shall be not less than six inches in thickness at the top nor less than twelve inches in thickness at the bottom, nor extend less than twelve inches below the surface soil, and, except where masonry floors are laid directly on the soil, shall extend not less than six inches above the surface soil.

(c) Every opening in the foundation walls, for ventilation or for other purposes, shall be made rat proof with suitable metal screens or with some other similar rat proof material. Door or window openings in such walls shall have tight fitting doors or windows.

(d) The said lowest floor or differing levels thereof, forming a complete floor between the outside walls of the building, shall be constructed either of masonry, or covered with concrete not less than one and one-half inches thick, or constructed of two layers of flooring with a layer of galvanized iron or galvanized iron wire cloth or other approved equally as rat proof material placed between the two layers of flooring. Or, in lieu of the Basements.

Rat-proof construction. floor being constructed as herein prescribed, the entire ground area under the floor shall be covered with concrete not less than two inches thick, except where the surface of the soil is composed of rock. The rat-proofing material shall always extend under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions.

(c) All openings throughout the said floor for chimneys, plumbing, water pipes, or for any other purpose, shall be closed up tight in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required under the plates of the exterior walls and supporting partitions, and if the rat-proofing material used for closing of openings is other than masonry, it shall extend beyond and underlap the flooring all around the opening, not less than two inches.

Floor area of rooms. SEC. 29. In every apartment in every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one room containing not less than one hundred twenty square feet of superficial floor area, and every other room shall contain at least ninety square feet of superficial floor area, except water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, and except kitchens, closets, recesses from rooms, or dressing rooms.

Every kitchen shall contain not less than fifty square feet of superficial floor area.

Width and height. Every room shall at every point be not less than seven feet in width, nor less than nine feet in height, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling; except that attic rooms and rooms where sloping ceilings occur need be nine feet in height in but one-half the area of the room; provided, however, that the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply to water-closet, bath or slop-sink compartments, nor to closets, nor to recesses from rooms, nor to dressing rooms, nor shall the provisions of this paragraph as to minimum width apply to kitchens.

Water-closets, etc. Every water-closet compartment shall be not less than thirty-six inches in clear width, and every such water-closet compartment, bath or slop-sink compartment, or closet, or recess from a room, or dressing room, shall have a height of not less than seven feet six inches, measured from the finished floor to the finished ceiling. Every closet, recess from a room, or dressing room, which contains more than twenty-five square feet of superficial floor area (built-in dressers, clothes presses and similar features which are a substantial part of the structure shall not be deemed to be a part of the floor area of a closet, recess from a room) or dressing room shall conform to all of the provisions of this act as to rooms, and shall contain not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area.

Curtains. No part of any room in any tenement house shall hereafter be enclosed or subdivided wholly, or in part, by a curtain, portiere, fixed or movable partition, or other contrivance or device, for any purpose contrary to any of the provisions of this act.

Entertainment, amusement or reception rooms hereafter constructed, altered or converted in any tenement house shall conform to the provisions of section thirty-three of this act.

SEC. 30. In every tenement house hereafter erected every room, kitchen, and every water-closet compartment, toilet or shower room, and bath or slop-sink room, (except in the cellar) shall have at least one window of the area hereinafter required opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or court, of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot. Windows.

All windows required by this act shall be located so as to properly light all portions of the rooms, and shall be made so as to open in all parts and so arranged that at least one-half of each such window may be opened unobstructed; provided, however, that the windows required by this section in a water-closet compartment, toilet or shower room, and bath or slop-sink room, may open directly into a vent shaft, such vent shaft to be of the minimum size and constructed of the materials and in the manner prescribed by section sixty-one of this act; provided, further, that windows required to open onto a street, yard, or an outer court, except windows from kitchens, may open through porches, provided that said porches do not exceed seven feet in depth measured at right angles to the windows and that at least seventy-five per cent of the entire side of the porch, bounded by the street, yard, or outer court, is left open except that the open space may be enclosed with mosquito screens. Opening into vent shaft
Opening through porch.

SEC. 31. In every tenement house hereafter erected the total window area in each room except in a water-closet compartment, bath, toilet, slop-sink room or shower room shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of the room. Window area

The aggregate window area in each room shall be not less than twelve square feet, and no single window shall be less than six square feet in area.

All measurements for window area shall be taken to outside of sash.

SEC. 32. In every tenement house hereafter erected each window in a water-closet compartment or bath, toilet or slop-sink room, or shower room, shall be not less than three square feet in area. The aggregate area of windows for each such compartment or room shall be not less than six square feet. In each such compartment or room containing more than one water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink, the aggregate window area shall be equivalent to three square feet for each water-closet, bath, urinal or slop-sink therein, except that at no time need the aggregate window area exceed one-fourth of the superficial floor area of such compartment or room.

SEC. 33. In every tenement house hereafter erected, the total window area in each room used for the purpose of amusement, entertainment or as a reception room, or any room used for similar purposes, which room has a superficial floor area not exceeding one hundred eighty square feet, shall be at least one-eighth of the superficial floor area of such room.

Every such room which has a superficial floor area exceeding one hundred eighty square feet shall have an aggregate window area not less than that required for a room of one hundred eighty square feet of superficial floor area.

Ventilation
by fan exhaust
system.

Amusement, entertainment or reception rooms and rooms used for similar purposes, in lieu of being provided with windows, as in this section prescribed, may be provided with a fan exhaust system of ventilation. Such fan exhaust system of ventilation shall consist of independent inlet ducts, extending from the outer air to each such room and exhaust ducts extending from each such room to the outer air above the highest roof of the building.

All of the inlet ducts and exhaust ducts shall be constructed of galvanized iron or other smooth-surfaced, nonabsorbent material and so arranged that they may be readily cleaned out.

The exhaust ducts shall always be connected to an exhaust fan mechanically operated, so designed and operated as to provide a complete change of air in not to exceed fifteen minutes for each such room.

Penalty for failing to maintain
system.

Any person in charge of a building in which a system of fan exhaust ventilation, as in this section is required, who fails, neglects or refuses to operate and maintain the said system of ventilation in good order and repair so that the ventilation (complete change of air) herein specified is provided in each such room at all times, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to all of the penalties fixed by this act.

Height of
rooms.

Every amusement, entertainment or reception room, or any room used for similar purposes, shall have a minimum height between the finished floor and the finished ceiling of not less than nine feet. No such room or part thereof shall be used for living or sleeping apartments, except that said room or part thereof complies with all of the other provisions of this act, for living and sleeping apartments.

Windows in public
hallway.

SEC. 34. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every public hallway on any floor where there are more than three apartments shall have at least one window opening directly upon a street, or upon a yard or a court of the dimensions specified in this act and located on the same lot; such windows shall be at the end of the public hallway and placed so as to secure the maximum light into the hallway; provided, however, that in tenement houses not exceeding two stories in height, the public hallway may, in lieu of such windows, be lighted and ventilated by one or more skylights constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Every window required by this act in a public hallway shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height, and the finished sill of same shall not be more than thirty inches above the adjoining finished floor. Every such window shall be made so as to open and so arranged that at least one-half of the window may be opened unobstructed.

Every skylight provided for in this section shall have an effective horizontal area of glass of not less than fifteen square feet, and shall have ridge ventilators or fixed or movable louvres so as to provide a ventilating area of not less than five hundred square inches. Such skylights shall be so located that no portion of the hallway be distant more than twenty feet (measured from a vertical line) from a skylight opening. Skylight.

Any part of a public hallway which is offset, recessed, or cut off from any other part of a hallway where such offset or recess is more in length than one and one-half times the width of the public hallway from which it offsets or recesses, shall be deemed a separate public hallway within the meaning of this section.

French windows or doors, if arranged to open and glazed to give the areas of opening and glass required by this act for windows in public hallways, may be used in lieu of windows therein. French windows.

SEC. 35. In every tenement house two or more stories in height hereafter erected, where there are more than three apartments on any one floor, there shall be provided at the roof over each stairway a ventilating skylight, placed directly as practicable over same, having a minimum effective horizontal area of glass at least twenty square feet in area for buildings two stories in height, and the area of glass in such skylight shall be increased at a ratio of six square feet for each additional story in height. In every such skylight the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches. Ventilating skylight.

Every such skylight and the ventilating openings and the shutters and the closing and opening devices for the ventilating openings shall be made of approved incombustible materials, and so arranged that the entire ventilating area may be readily opened from at least the topmost and first story levels, except that in tenement houses not exceeding four stories in height the ventilators may be arranged so as to open from at least the first story, or the ventilators may be fixed permanently in an open position.

Skylights as in this section prescribed may be omitted in case that windows are provided of the size fixed by section thirty-four hereof and located adjoining the stairways, and that each window adjoining the stairway be provided with an open louvre or ventilator providing a ventilating area of not less than one hundred square inches or such louvre or ventilator may be placed in the roof over the stairway, in which event the ventilating area shall be not less than five hundred square inches.

Whenever a skylight is required as in this section provided there shall be constructed a stair well, the clear open area of which shall be at each floor equal to one-third of the area of glass in the skylight.

SEC. 36. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every apartment shall be so arranged that access may be had to every living room, and to at least one water-closet compartment, Water-closets.

without passing through a bedroom; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit passing through a bedroom in going from a kitchen to a bathroom or water-closet compartment.

Water-closet for each apartment.

SEC. 37. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be installed one water-closet within each apartment located in a separate compartment or located in a compartment with a bathtub, shower or lavatory, used exclusively by the occupants of the apartment.

No door or other opening to a water-closet compartment shall open from or into any room in which food is prepared or stored. The walls enclosing a water-closet compartment shall be well plastered or constructed of some nonabsorbent material, except that the ordinary wood trim of openings may be used in such compartment. Every such compartment shall be provided and equipped with a full door, properly hung, and provided with a lock or bolt to lock same.

Waterproof floor.

The floor of every such water-closet compartment shall be made waterproof with asphalt, tile, marble, terrazzo, cement, or some other similar nonabsorbent material, and such waterproofing shall extend not less than six inches on the vertical walls of the room. No water-closet fixture shall be enclosed with woodwork.

In tenement house already erected.

SEC. 38. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one water-closet in a separate compartment, located on the public hallway of the same floor, for every three apartments or fractional part thereof on such floor which are not provided with private water-closets. Where two or more water-closets are required by the provisions of this section to be located on a public hallway, one of such water-closets shall be distinctly marked "for men," and one of the water-closets distinctly marked "for women"; provided, however, that the housing department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this paragraph when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting such exemptions to apply to any addition or extension to any tenement house.

Every water-closet hereafter placed in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall comply with every provision of this act relative to water-closets installed in tenement houses hereafter erected, except that if a water-closet is installed in the top story of any such building, the compartment in which it is installed may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres in lieu of a window; provided, however, that a new water-closet may be installed to replace a defective or antiquated fixture in the same location.

Every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, or hereafter erected, where a connection with the sewer is possible, shall discontinue the use of any school sink, privy vault or any similar receptacle used to receive fecal matter, urine or sewage, and every such receptacle shall be completely removed and the place where it was located be properly disinfected. All such receptacles shall be replaced by individual water-closets of durable nonabsorbent material, properly connected, trapped, vented and provided with flush tanks, the same as is required, by the provisions of this act, in tenement houses hereafter erected. Sewer connection required.

SEC. 39. In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be a bathtub or shower within each apartment, and such bathtub or shower shall be located in a separate compartment, or there may be provided one such bathtub or shower in a separate compartment for every three such apartments which are not provided with private baths or showers; provided, that said bathtub or shower is on the same floor and is accessible from each apartment through the public hallway. Bathtub or shower.

In every tenement house hereafter erected there shall be at least one kitchen sink within each apartment.

The walls, floors and openings to every bath, shower or slop-sink room hereafter constructed shall conform to all of the provisions of this act relative to the waterproofing of the walls and floors, and of the construction of the doors of water-closet compartments in tenement houses hereafter erected.

SEC. 40. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act there shall be provided at least one bathtub or shower in a separate compartment, located on the same floor, for every five apartments, or fractional part thereof, which are not provided with private baths or showers, on each such floor, and there shall be provided at least one kitchen sink in each apartment; provided, however, that the department charged with the enforcement of this act may exempt any tenement house existing at the time of the passage of this act from fully complying with the provisions of this section when, in its discretion, such deviation will not be detrimental to the health of the occupants thereof or to the sanitation of the said tenement house or premises; provided, further, that no such exemption shall apply to any addition or extension to a tenement house. In tenement house already erected.

SEC. 41. In every tenement house hereafter erected every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size. Running water.

Every plumbing fixture affecting the sanitary drainage system in tenement houses hereafter erected, shall be properly connected with the street sewer, if a street sewer exists in the street abutting the lot on which the building is located and is ready to receive connections. When it is impracticable to con- Sewer connection.

nect such plumbing fixtures with a street sewer, then the plumbing fixtures shall be connected and drained into a cesspool constructed satisfactorily to the department charged with the enforcement of this act; or some other means of sewage disposal satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act may be made until such time as it may become practicable and possible to connect with the street sewer.

In tenement house already erected.

SEC. 42. In every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every plumbing fixture shall be provided with running water, and there shall be provided faucets, with running water, sufficient in number so that all of the yards, courts and passageways may be washed. Faucets shall be of the hose bibb type, not less than three-quarter inch size.

In case no
water.

SEC. 43. Water-closets, baths, showers, sinks, slop-sinks, faucets and other plumbing fixtures required by this act need not be installed in the event that the tenement house hereafter erected or an existing tenement house, as the case may be, is situated where there is no running water and where there is no practical means of sewage disposal, until such time as it becomes practicable and possible to obtain running water and means of sewage disposal; provided, in every such case the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is practicable and possible to provide running water and proper means of sewage disposal. A special permit in writing shall be obtained in every such case from the department charged with the enforcement of this act, which permit shall be made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the department issuing it; provided, further, that proper, separate toilet facilities for each sex shall be provided for the use of the occupants of such building. Such facilities shall be made sanitary. A privy, or toilet other than a water-closet, erected under the authority of this section shall consist of a pit at least three feet deep, with suitable shelter over the same to afford privacy, and protection from the elements. The openings of the shelter and pit shall be enclosed by mosquito screening, and the door to the shelter shall be made to close automatically by means of a spring or other device. No privy pit shall be allowed to become filled with excreta to nearer than one foot from the surface of the ground, and the excreta in the pit shall be covered with earth, ashes, lime or similar substances at regular intervals. All drainage water shall be conveyed from the premises by means of a covered drain to a covered cesspool.

Privy.

Plumbing fixtures made sanitary.

SEC. 44. In every tenement house hereafter erected all plumbing fixtures affecting the sanitary drainage system shall be properly trapped and vented and made sanitary in every particular. In any tenement house hereafter erected, and in any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act no plumbing fixtures shall be enclosed with woodwork, but the space under and around same must be left entirely open. All woodwork enclosing a water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be removed and the floor and wall surface beneath and around such water-closet, sink, slop-sink, wash tray or lavatory shall be maintained in good repair, and if of wood, well painted with a light colored paint of sufficient body to make it non-absorbent. All wooden seats, attached to water-closet bowls, shall be varnished or enameled, or by some other method be made nonabsorbent. Plumbing fixtures made sanitary.

In every tenement house hereafter erected water-closets shall have earthenware bowls and shall have earthenware seats integral with the bowls, or wooden seats varnished or enameled so as to be nonabsorbent, or seats made of some nonabsorbent material attached directly to the bowls. No wooden wash trays or wooden kitchen sinks shall be permitted in such buildings. All plumbing connections hereafter made in buildings shall be of standard lead, iron, steel or brass; and every gas and water service connection hereafter made shall be of steel or iron, and shall be equipped with cut-off valves placed outside of the building and such cut-off valves shall be readily accessible.

Whenever any plumbing fixture becomes insanitary the department charged with the enforcement of this act is hereby empowered to order the same removed and to order that it be replaced by a fixture conforming to the provisions of this act.

SEC. 45. Every tenement house hereafter erected, three or more stories in height and in which there are three or more apartments on any one floor, shall be so designed and constructed that every apartment in such building shall have not less than two means of egress, either by stairways or fire escapes, constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act. Such means of egress shall be accessible from every apartment, either directly or through a public hallway, and so located that should one egress be or become blocked, the other egress shall be available. Two means of egress.

SEC. 46. Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than two stairways. Stairways.

Every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each six thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every semifireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each four thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every wooden tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway, not less than three feet six inches wide, for each three thousand square feet, or fractional part thereof, of floor area in any one floor above the first floor thereof.

Every tenement house hereafter erected shall have not less than one stairway leading from the outside to every basement or cellar thereof.

Computing
number of
required.

SEC. 47. The largest floor area above the ground floor shall be used as the basis for computing the number of stairways required in every tenement house hereafter erected; provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area of the building are diminished in area, the stairway or stairways from that portion of the building containing a smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

Location of
stairways.

SEC. 48. All stairways hereafter constructed shall be located so as to furnish the best means of egress from the building, and shall be as far removed from each other as practicable, and shall be as follows:

Access to stairways shall be provided at every floor by means of a public hallway, corridor, or passageway, and the public hallway, corridor, passageway and stairway from the ground exit level to the top story or roof shall be accessible at all times.

No stairway shall abut on more than one side of an elevator shaft, except on the lowest and topmost stories, provided that the stairway is so located that it can be approached from the street entrance without passing by or in front of the open side of the said elevator shaft.

No stairway shall be located over a steam boiler, gas meter or gas heater or furnace, unless such boiler, gas meter, gas heater, or furnace be located in a room, the walls and ceiling of which are constructed as required for a boiler room by section sixty-three of this act. No stairway leading from any other portion of the building shall terminate in or pass through a boiler room.

Construction
of stairways.

SEC. 49. Every stairway hereafter constructed shall be as follows: have a rise of not more than eight inches and a run of not less than nine inches, without change in the run or rise between floors; and shall be provided with head room of not less than six feet six inches measured from the nearest nosing of the stairway to the nearest soffit.

The depth of every landing in a stairway shall be not less than the width of the stairway, and all treads shall be of equal width for every run of stairs, and shall not vary in width in the width of the stairs.

Stairways required by this act shall be continuous from the ground floor level to the top story. i. e., the flights of such stairways shall be constructed one directly above the other, or shall be constructed so that each flight shall be in plain view of each succeeding flight; provided, however, that half of the stairways from the upper floors may terminate at the second floor, in the event that the stairways from the first to the second floor be increased in width not less than fifty per cent.

Every stairway shall have at least one handrail, and if the stairway be five feet or more in width, shall have a handrail on each side thereof.

The underside and soffits of wooden stairways and the outside stringers of open stairways except outside stairway, in semifireproof and wooden tenement houses shall be metal lathed and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath, or lathed with an approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the plaster board.

The width of stairways shall be measured in the clear of all projections except the baseboards, and except that handrails and newel posts may project not more than four inches.

SEC. 50. No closet of any kind shall be constructed in any tenement house under any wooden stairway, but such space shall be kept entirely open, and be kept clean and free from all encumbrances; or such space shall be effectually closed with walls of studs, lathed and plastered, with no door or opening of any kind therein; provided, however, that the provisions of this section as to a closet under a stairway shall not apply to any tenement house not more than two stories in height, in which not more than two families live above the first floor thereof.

Space under stairway.

SEC. 51. In every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, the stairway nearest to the main entrance of the building shall be carried to the roof level and shall give egress to the roof through a penthouse or roof structure.

Stairway to roof.

In every such building not exceeding two stories in height there shall be constructed a scuttle in the public hallway near the stairway. Such scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, and shall be cut through the ceiling and roof.

Penthouses over stairways shall be built either of fireproof materials or of wood studs, lathed with metal lath or approved plaster board and plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or plaster board on the inside and outside thereof; or such penthouses may be covered in the same manner and with the same kind of materials as required by this act for the doors from such penthouses.

The door to the roof from a penthouse or roof structure shall be self-closing and shall open outward to the roof, and shall be covered on both sides and edges with tin or other metal.

The frames and trim of such door opening shall be similarly constructed and all glass in such door shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth inch thick.

Every tenement house of more than two stories in height, erected prior to the passage of this act, shall have in the roof a penthouse or a scuttle, which scuttle shall be not less than two feet by three feet in area, located in the ceiling of a public hallway. There shall be provided a stairway or a stationary ladder, leading from the top floor of such tenement house to the roof thereof. Such stairway or stationary ladder shall be made readily accessible to all the tenants of the building. No scuttle or penthouse door shall at any time be locked with a key, but may be fastened on the inside by a movable bolt or lock.

Hallways,
etc., from
stairways.

SEC. 52. Public hallways, landings and corridors from stairways shall be of the same width and measured in the same manner as the stairways, as provided in section fifty hereof.

Fire escapes.

SEC. 53. On every tenement house hereafter erected more than two stories in height, which contains more than three apartments, there shall be provided at least one fire escape. If such tenement house exceeds three thousand square feet of floor area on any one floor above the second floor thereof, such building shall be provided with one additional fire escape for each four thousand square feet of floor area or fractional part thereof.

Types of
fire escapes.

Fire escapes required by this act shall be of one of the following types:

Type 1. Metallic throughout and fastened securely to the exterior walls of the building, with a balcony at each story above the first story thereof, with inclined stairways connecting all balconies and a goose-neck ladder connecting the topmost balcony to the roof. The lowest balcony of such fire escape to be not more than fourteen feet above the street or ground level directly under same.

All metallic balconies shall be not less than forty-four inches in width nor less than thirty-three square feet in area. The stairway openings therein shall be not less than twenty-one inches wide and forty inches in length. The balcony balustrade shall be not less than thirty-four inches high, with no opening in such balustrade greater than eight inches in horizontal dimension.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in a fire escape balcony platform, except the stair well opening.

There shall be no opening greater than one inch in width in the lowest fire escape balcony platform, except that there be attached a counterbalanced or permanent ladder reaching to the street or ground below.

Every balcony platform shall be fastened to the outside walls of the building by building in and anchoring to such walls the balcony platform and the balustrade framing, or by securely bolting same thereto. Every balcony shall be supported by brackets, braces, or struts fastened to or built in and anchored to the walls.

The inclined stairways shall be not less than eighteen inches in width and placed in no part nearer than twenty-one inches from the face of the wall. Such inclined stairways shall have an inclination of not less than four inches and not more than six inches horizontally to each twelve inches of vertical height. The treads shall be not less than four inches wide, placed not more than twelve inches apart. Each side of such stairways shall be provided with a handrail not less than one inch in diameter fastened to the stair stringers and continued around the well hole openings of balcony platform.

The goose-neck ladder shall be not less than fifteen inches wide and extend vertically from the topmost balcony to three feet above the fire wall or roof above, and then be brought down and fastened to the inside face of the fire wall or to the roof. The rungs of the goose-neck ladder shall be not less than five-eighths inch round iron or steel, placed not more than fourteen inches apart. The goose-neck ladder shall be securely braced and fastened to the outside wall, and in no case shall such ladder pass in front of any opening in the wall to the interior of the building. The cornice opening for the passage of such ladder shall be not less than twenty-four inches in width and twenty-four inches in the clear outside of the ladder.

fire escapes.

Such fire escape shall be framed and riveted or bolted together in a solid, substantial manner and properly supported, braced and fastened to the outside walls so as to be rigid, durable and secure and carry the loads imposed.

All metallic fire escapes shall be painted with not less than two coats of good, durable paint; or such fire escapes may be galvanized.

Type 2. Metallic ladders and stairways conforming to the provisions set forth for type one and with reinforced concrete or iron or steel fireproofed balconies, with fastenings of similar materials. Such balconies to measure the full size inside of balustrades. Floor openings and well holes provided and protected similarly to the requirements for metallic balconies.

Type 3. Any type of an enclosed approved metallic spiral fire escape which consists of a rigid form of an inclined chute or chutes constructed entirely of incombustible material; securely attached to the outside walls of building; provided with proper means of ingress thereto from the building and egress therefrom at the bottom; having means enabling firemen to reach the roof thereby from the ground; equipped with standpipes; painted the same as provided for metallic fire escapes; and satisfactory to the department charged with the enforcement of this act as being as solid, substantial and durable and as fire-proof in construction, and providing at least as safe and efficient means of escape from the building for the occupants thereof, and furnishing all the protection and utility of the metallic fire escapes described as "type one" in this act.

escape.

Type 4. Fire and smoke towers, consisting of a fire escape stairway not less than twenty inches in width, constructed of reinforced concrete, iron or steel, or a combination of these materials; and in all other details as required in this act for metallic fire escape stairways; said stairways being continuous the full height of the building from the first floor exit level to the roof, and with handrails on each side thereof the full length of same. Such stairways to be constructed at a point adjoining the exterior walls of the building and be entirely enclosed with walls of brick, terra cotta tile, concrete or reinforced concrete not less than twelve inches thick; such walls to be continuous from the basement up to and extending three feet above the roof of the building, with no covering of any kind over same, and with no openings in the walls of such tower into the building. The enclosing walls of such tower not to be used to carry or support any floor joist, beam, girder or other structural feature of the building, nor to be chased for any pipe, conduit or other purpose; to have an exit from the enclosure at the first floor line opening directly to a street or yard, and having an entrance by means of an outside balcony at each floor, such balconies to have a solid floor and in all other details and kind of materials to be as in this act required for metallic fire escape balconies. The balconies to be located and arranged to connect with a door opening from a public hallway in the interior of the building and with a door opening leading from the balcony to the tower, such door opening from the building to the balcony and from the balcony to the tower to be not less than thirty inches wide by seventy-two inches high and be equipped with metal-lined doors and with a frame and threshold of such door openings constructed of fireproof materials.

Type 5. A fire and smoke tower in every way similar to "type four" of this section, except that instead of the outside balcony there be built a vestibule with enclosing walls continuous with and of the same kind of materials and of the same thickness as the enclosing walls of the fire tower; that the vestibule opening be direct from a public hallway and be equipped with metal-lined doors. The vestibule floor to be of masonry construction. The enclosure to have an opening at each floor through the exterior wall of the building, such opening to extend from the floor to the ceiling and be not less in width than three-fourths of the width of the tower, said opening to be protected with an open metallic balustrade similar to that specified for metallic fire escape balconies.

combined.

SEC. 54. In any tenement house hereafter erected in which there is constructed a fire escape of "type four" or "type five," as prescribed in this act, such fire escape may be used and constructed as a stairway and a fire escape combined; provided, that there is at least one other stairway or one other fire escape constructed in accordance with the provisions of this act, in the said building.

Location of
fire escapes.

SEC. 55. Every fire escape required by this act shall be located on the building so as to furnish the best means of escape therefrom for the occupants, and at least one such fire escape shall be located on a street front. Every fire escape shall have egress thereto from a public hallway or passageway not less than three feet wide, or such fire escapes in lieu of being located on a public hallway, shall be so located that each apartment has direct egress thereto without passing through another apartment, or if a public parlor, public lobby or similar room is connected directly with the public hall, corridor or passageway through a clear and unobstructed opening, without doors, then egress may be had thereby to a fire escape.

Signs both pointing towards and marking the locations of fire escapes shall be placed on each floor.

SEC. 56. The largest floor area above the second floor shall be used as a basis for computing the number of fire escapes required by this act: provided, that if all floors above the largest floor area are diminished in size, the number of fire escapes from that portion of the building containing the smaller area may be computed on the basis of the largest floor area in that portion of the building.

Computing number of fire escapes required.

SEC. 57. All parts of each balcony platform of a fire escape shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred pounds per square foot over the entire area thereof (using outside dimensions) and the live and dead loads from the ladders or stairs supported thereon.

Strength of platform, etc.

Each ladder shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per square foot.

Each stairway shall be designed to carry, in addition to the dead load thereof, a live load of one hundred fifty pounds per square foot of horizontal projection.

Top rails of balcony balustrades shall be designed to withstand a horizontal pressure of one hundred pounds per lineal foot of railing.

Each balcony shall be independently supported.

All fastenings of fire escape balconies to the building shall be designed to carry twenty-five per cent greater load than the total dead and live loads carried by the balconies. The balcony anchorage shall be direct to the structural steel or iron members of the balustrades and platforms extended into the walls and anchored into the structural work of the building.

The level of the inside sill of the door or window giving access to a fire escape balcony or the balcony floor shall be not more than thirty inches above the adjoining floor in the building. Every such door or window opening shall be not less than twenty-nine inches in clear width, nor less than fifty-eight inches in height.

Where double-hung windows are used in such openings, the lower sash shall be at least the size of the upper sash and shall slide to the top of such opening. Any lock used on any such window shall be of a type which can be readily opened from the interior of the building without the use of a key or other tool.

SEC. 58. Every fire escape in or on tenement houses hereafter erected, or in or on tenement houses erected prior to the passage of this act, shall at all times be maintained in good order and repair, well painted and clear and unobstructed at all times, and be readily accessible.

Readily accessible.

SEC. 59. On every tenement house hereafter erected four or more stories in height, there shall be provided one or more metallic standpipes. Each such standpipe shall be not less than four inches in internal diameter, and shall have a Siamese inlet valve near the sidewalk or the ground directly Standpipes.

Standpipes. under same, and an outlet valve at each story above the first story and on the roof.

One such standpipe shall be placed on or in the exterior walls of the building at one fire escape on each street frontage, and the outlet valves shall be readily accessible from the balconies of the fire escape.

The inlet and outlet valves on every standpipe shall be threaded and brought to a size which will meet the standard connections of the local fire department of the municipality in which such tenement house is being erected.

The standpipes required by this section need not be installed in any tenement house which is situated where there is no running water and where it is not practicable or possible to obtain water for efficient use of such standpipes in case of fire, until such time as it is practicable and possible to obtain running water; and the department charged with the enforcement of this act shall decide whether or not it is possible or practicable to obtain running water.

Elevator shafts enclosed.

SEC. 60. In every fireproof tenement house hereafter erected, every elevator shaft, dumb-waiter shaft or other interior shaft shall be enclosed in walls constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible materials, or shall be constructed of metal studs lathed either with metal lath or an approved plaster board and plastered on both sides so as to make a solid partition not less than two inches thick.

In every semifireproof or wooden tenement house hereafter erected, every such shaft shall be inclosed by walls constructed as provided by this act for fireproof tenement houses, or such walls may be constructed with wood studs, with wood firestops the same size as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath or an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board.

Every opening from any shaft into the building shall be equipped with a metal door and with door frame and trim entirely of metal; or such door and door frame shall be constructed of wood covered with metal on the shaft side thereof and if there is any glass therein, such glass shall be wired glass not less than one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) inch thick. Every door or window therein shall be made to close tight, and every door except elevator doors therein shall be self-closing.

Every window in such shaft shall be of wired glass, not less than one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) inch thick, set in a metal sash or a sash metal covered on the shaft side thereof. At the roof over every elevator shaft there shall be constructed a ventilating skylight or a ventilator with open louvres.

Vent shafts enclosed.

SEC. 61. In every tenement house hereafter erected every vent shaft shall be enclosed with walls constructed the same as required by this act for elevator shaft in the same class of building. Such vent shafts may, in a semifireproof or wooden tenement house, be lined on the outside thereof (weather side) with metal in lieu of metal lath and plaster; also, that portion of such shaft extending from the ceiling joists to the top thereof may be lined with metal in the same manner as is required for the weather side of such vent shaft.

Vent shafts enclosed.

Every opening from any vent shaft into the building or any window therein, shall be equipped in the same manner as required by this act for elevator shafts in the same class of building.

Plaster on the weather side of any such shaft shall be cement plaster.

Every vent shaft required by this act shall be not less than four feet in any direction and be at least sixteen square feet in area. If such vent shaft exceeds fifty feet in height, measured from the bottom to the top of the walls of such shaft, then such vent shaft shall throughout its entire height be increased in area three square feet for each additional ten feet or fractional part thereof above fifty feet.

Every such vent shaft shall be provided with an air intake or duct at or near the bottom thereof, communicating with the street or yard or a court. Such intake shall be not less than three square feet in total area, and may be divided into not more than three separate ducts running between the joists or otherwise, and shall in all cases be placed as nearly horizontal as possible. Every such intake or duct shall be constructed of approved fireproof material or shall be of metal or metal lined, and be provided with a wire screen of not less than one inch mesh at each end. Plumbing, gas, steam or other similar pipes may be placed in such vent shaft.

Every such vent shaft shall have a door or a window at or near the bottom of the shaft, so arranged as to permit of its being readily cleaned out.

SEC. 62. The walls of every inner court in a fireproof tenement house hereafter erected shall be constructed of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, terra cotta tile or other similar hard incombustible material. In a semifireproof or in a wooden tenement house such inner court walls, if surrounded on four sides by the walls of the same building, shall be constructed as provided for fireproof tenement houses, or may be of wood studs, with wood firestops the same sizes as the studs, cut in between the studs at each floor and half way between each floor, lathed on both sides with metal lath, or an approved plaster board, and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick including the lath or the plaster board. Plaster on the weather side of such inner court walls shall be cement plaster, or such inner court walls may be lined on the weather side with not less than the number twenty-six (gauge) metal, in lieu of metal lath and plaster.

Walls of inner court.

SEC. 63. In every tenement house hereafter erected, every boiler used for purposes of heating the building, using fuel other than gas, and every heating furnace or water-heating apparatus, using oil for fuel, shall be installed in a room, the walls of Boiler room.

room.

which room shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, and such walls shall extend from the floor of the boiler room to the ceiling over same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of similar materials as the walls, or shall be built with a double ceiling, with a space of not less than seven-eighths inch between the two ceilings: each ceiling shall be metal lathed or lathed with an approved plaster board and be plastered not less than three-quarters inch thick, including the lath or plaster board. The floor of a boiler room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick.

boiler room.

Any door in the wall of such room shall be a fire-resisting door, constructed of three (3) thicknesses of seven-eighths ( $\frac{7}{8}$ ) inch by not more than six (6) inches, tongued and grooved, matched redwood boards entirely covered on the sides and edges with lock-jointed tin; every such door shall be self-closing, so hung as to overlap the walls of the room at least three (3) inches, and any glass in any such door or any glass in any window or opening in the walls of a boiler room shall be wired glass, not less than one-fourth ( $\frac{1}{4}$ ) inch thick, set in a metal or metal covered sash.

All such doors shall have hinges, hangers, latches and other hardware of wrought iron, bolted to the doors, and shall have steel tracks, when sliding doors are used, with wrought-iron stops and binders bolted through the wall. Swinging doors shall have wall eyes of wrought-iron, built into or bolted through the wall.

Every such boiler room shall have a sill across each door not less than four (4) inches high. Such sill shall be of masonry, and the doors shall overlap same at least three (3) inches, or in lieu of a masonry sill a steel or iron sill may be used, in which case the bottom of the door shall close tight on top of same. Every swinging door in a boiler room shall open outward from the boiler room.

Where oil or other fluid fuel is burned, the oil or other fluid fuel shall not be fed by a gravity flow.

Garage.

SEC. 64. In every tenement house hereafter erected any portion of such building, in which there is kept or stored any automobile or automobiles, shall be a room, the enclosing partitions of which shall be built of concrete, reinforced concrete, brick, stone or terra cotta tile, not less than six (6) inches thick, or may be of wood studs lined on the automobile storage room side with redwood boards not less than seven-eighths ( $\frac{7}{8}$ ) of an inch thick covered with asbestos paper one-eighth ( $\frac{1}{8}$ ) of an inch thick, and then covered with No. 26 (gauge) galvanized iron, and such enclosing partitions shall extend from the floor of the room to the ceiling of the same. The entire ceiling of such room shall be built of material similar to that used in the construction of its walls, or shall be either metal lathed and be well plastered or be lathed with an approved plaster board and be well plastered. The floor of every such room shall be of concrete not less than two (2) inches thick. Garage

Every door, window or other opening in the walls of such room, opening to the interior of the building, shall be protected in the same manner as required by section sixty-three hereof for doors, windows and other openings in a boiler room.

SEC. 65. In any tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, every additional room or hallway that is hereafter constructed or created, may be of the same height as the other rooms or hallways on the same story of such tenement house.

SEC. 66. Every room in a tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act shall, if the said room be hereafter occupied for living or sleeping purposes, have a window of an area not less than eight square feet, opening directly upon a street, a yard, a court or upon a vent shaft not less than twenty-five square feet in area, which vent shaft shall in no part be less than four feet wide and open and unobstructed, without roof or skylight over same; except that if such room be located on the top floor of the building, such room may be ventilated by a skylight with fixed louvres directly to the outer air, or may have a window opening upon a vent shaft not less than ten square feet in area, if such window from the room be not more than three feet below the top of the wall of such vent shaft. Windows in tenement already erected

Every public hallway in every tenement house erected prior to the passage of this act, which does not conform to the provisions for public hallways in buildings hereafter erected, shall be provided with light and ventilation to the outer air. Such light and ventilation shall be provided by the placing of windows or skylights, or by making such alterations as in the judgment of the housing department may be deemed necessary to accomplish the result.

SEC. 67. It shall be unlawful for any person to cook or to prepare food, or to permit or suffer any person to cook or to prepare food in any bath, shower, slop-sink or toilet room, water-closet compartment; or in any closet, or recess from a room, or dressing room, which does not conform to all the provisions of this act as to size of kitchens and windows opening to a street, yard or court, or in any other place in such building which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, is detrimental to the proper sanitation of such building. Cooking in bath, etc. unlawful.

It shall be unlawful for any person to live or sleep, or permit or suffer any person to live or sleep in any cellar, bath or shower compartment or slop-sink room, water-closet compartment, hallway, closet, kitchen, recess from a room or dressing room, except when such recess from a room or dressing room has not less than ninety square feet of superficial floor area and complies with every other requirement of this act for rooms, or in any other place which, in the judgment of the department charged with the enforcement of this act, would be dangerous Sleeping in cellar, etc., unlawful.

or prejudicial to life or health by reason of want of light, windows, ventilation, drainage, or on account of dampness or offensive, obnoxious or poisonous odors, or in any room that shall be so overcrowded as to afford less than the following floor space for each occupant, in accordance with the age of the said occupant:

Floor space for each occupant.

Number of persons over 12 years of age	Number of persons under 12 years of age	Superficial floor area required
1 or -----	2 -----	60 square feet
2 or -----	4 -----	120 square feet
3 or -----	6 -----	180 square feet
4 or -----	8 -----	240 square feet
5 or -----	10 -----	300 square feet
6 or -----	12 -----	360 square feet

Additional floor area in the same ratio shall be provided for additional persons.

Lighting of hallways, etc.

SEC. 68. In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunrise to sunset throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, passageway, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room, whenever there is insufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof.

In every tenement house there shall be installed and kept burning from sunset to sunrise throughout the year artificial light sufficient in volume to properly illuminate every public hallway, stairway, fire escape egress, elevator, public water-closet compartment, or toilet room and exterior passageway on the lot.

Light colored material on walls.

SEC. 69. The walls and ceilings of every sleeping room in every tenement house shall (except when there is sufficient natural light to permit a person to read in any part thereof during daytime) be calcimined or painted or papered with a light-colored material, and such calcimine, paint or paper, as the case may be, shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color and clean and free from vermin.

The walls of courts and shafts, unless built of light-colored materials, shall be painted of a light color or whitewashed, and such painting or whitewashing shall be renewed as often as is necessary to maintain the same of a light color.

Repapering.

SEC. 70. No wall, partition or ceiling of any room in any tenement house shall be repapered, calcimined, or have any other covering placed thereupon unless the old wall paper or other covering shall have first been removed therefrom, and the said wall, partition or ceiling cleaned, disinfected and freed from bugs, insects or vermin.

Repairs.

SEC. 71. Every tenement house shall be maintained in good repair. The roofs shall be kept waterproof and all storm or casual water properly drained and conveyed therefrom to the street sewer, storm drain or street gutter.

All portions of the lot about a tenement house, including the yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways, shall be properly graded and drained; and whenever the department charged with the enforcement of this act deems it necessary for the protection of the health of the occupants of such building, or for the proper sanitation of the premises, it may require that the said lot, yards, areaways, vent shafts, courts and passageways be graveled or properly paved and surfaced with concrete, asphalt or similar materials.

SEC. 72. There shall be provided, whenever it is deemed necessary for the health of the occupants of any tenement house or for the proper sanitation or cleanliness of any such building, metal mosquito screening of at least sixteen mesh, set in tight-fitting removable sash, for each exterior door, window or other opening in the exterior walls of the building.

screening.

SEC. 73. In every tenement house there shall be provided by the occupants, or tenants, such number of tight metal receptacles with close-fitting metal covers for garbage, refuse, ashes and rubbish as may be deemed necessary by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, or in lieu of such metal receptacles there may be constructed a garbage chute or shaft approved by the housing department. Each of said receptacles shall be kept in a clean condition by the occupants, or tenants and in the case of a chute or shaft by the person in charge or in control of the building.

Garbage
cans.

SEC. 74. Every room, hallway, passageway, stairway, wall, partition, ceiling, floor, skylight, glass window, door, carpet, rug, matting, window curtain, water-closet compartment or room, toilet room, bathroom, slop-sink, or wash-room, plumbing fixture, drain, roof, closet, cellar, or basement in any tenement house or on the lot, yard, court or any of the premises thereof, shall be kept in every part clean and sanitary and free from all accumulation of debris, filth, rubbish, garbage or other offensive matter.

Rooms, etc., to be kept clean.

No person shall, or cause or permit any person to, deposit any swill, garbage, bottles, ashes, cans or other improper substances in any water-closet, sink, slop-hopper, bathtub, shower, catch-basin, or in any plumbing fixture connection or drain therefrom; or otherwise to obstruct the same; or to place or cause or permit to be placed any filth, urine or other foul matter in any place other than the place provided for same; or to keep or cause or permit to be kept any urine or filth or foul matter in any room or apartment in any tenement house, or in or about the said building or premises thereof, for such length of time as to create a nuisance.

Swill, etc., not to be deposited in plumbing
fixtures.

SEC. 75. In every tenement house, every part of every bed, including the mattress, sheets, blankets and bedding, shall be kept in a clean, dry and sanitary condition, free from filth, urine or other foul matter, in or upon the same; and free from the infection of lice, bedbugs or other insects.

Beds kept clean.

SEC. 76. In no tenement house or any part thereof, or in the lot, yard, court or any portion thereof, shall there be kept,

Dangerous articles, not to be kept.

stored or handled any article dangerous or detrimental to life or to the health of the occupants thereof; nor shall there be stored, kept or handled any feed, hay, straw, excelsior, cotton, paper stock, rags or junk, except upon a written permit so to do, obtained from the fire commissioner or other department authorized to issue such permit. Every such permit shall be deemed to be a public record, made in duplicate, and a copy thereof shall remain on file in the office of the fire commissioner or department issuing same.

Animals not to be kept.

SEC. 77. No horse, cow, calf, swine, sheep, goat, rabbit, mule or other animal, chicken, pigeon, goose, duck or other poultry shall be kept in any tenement house or any part thereof; nor shall any such animal or poultry, nor shall any stable be kept or maintained on the same lot, yard, court or premises of a tenement house or within twenty feet of any window or door or such building, nor shall there be hereafter constructed, altered, converted or maintained in any tenement house any public automobile garage or machine shop, or automobile repair shop.

Bakery.

No bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled shall be constructed or maintained in any tenement house, unless such bakery or place of business in which fat is boiled is constructed of approved fireproof materials, with no openings connecting into the tenement house, and so separated and arranged as to prevent odors from entering such building.

No tenement house shall be connected with or have any door, window or transom opening to any part of a building wherein spirituous liquors, drugs, paint or oil are stored or kept for the purpose of sale or otherwise.

Housekeeper in charge.

SEC. 78. In every tenement house in which eight (8) or more families reside, and in which the owner does not live, there shall be a janitor, housekeeper or other responsible person, who shall reside in such tenement house or on the same lot or premises thereof and have charge of same.

Action to
nuisance.

SEC. 79. In case any tenement house, or any part thereof, is constructed, altered, converted or maintained in violation of any provisions of this act or of any order or notice of the department charged with its enforcement, or in case a nuisance exists in any such tenement house or building or structure, or upon the lot on which it is situated, said department may institute any appropriate action or proceeding to prevent such unlawful construction, alteration, conversion or maintenance, to restrain, correct or abate such violation or nuisance, to prevent the occupation of said tenement house, building or structure, to prevent any illegal act, conduct or business in or about such tenement house or lot. In any such action or proceeding said department may, by affidavit setting forth the facts, apply to the superior court, or to any judge thereof, for an order granting the relief for which said action or proceeding is brought, or for an order enjoining all persons from doing or permitting to be done any work in or about such tenement house, building, structure or lot, or from occupying or using the same for any purpose, until the entry of final judgment or order. In case any notice or order issued by said department is not complied with, said department may apply to the superior court or to any judge thereof, for an order authorizing said department to execute and carry out the provisions of said notice or order, to remove any violation specified in said order or notice, or to abate any nuisance in or about such tenement house, building or structure, or the lot upon which it is situated. The court, or any judge thereof, is hereby authorized to make any order specified in this section. In no case shall the said department or any officer thereof or the municipal corporation be liable for costs in any action or proceeding that may be commenced in pursuance of this act.

Authority to execute order.

SEC. 80. Every fine imposed by judgment under section six of this act upon a tenement house owner shall be a lien upon the house in relation to which the fine is imposed, from the time of the filing of a certified copy of said judgment in the office of the recorder of the county in which said tenement house is situated, subject only to taxes and assessments and water rates, and to such mortgage and mechanics' liens as may exist thereon prior to such filing; and it shall be the duty of the department charged with the enforcement of the provisions of this act, upon the entry of such judgment, to file forthwith the copy as aforesaid, and such copy upon filing shall be forthwith indexed by the recorder in the index of mechanics' liens.

Fine a lien.

SEC. 81. In any action or proceeding instituted by the department charged with the enforcement of this act, the plaintiff or petitioner may file, in the county recorder's office of the county where the property affected by such action or proceeding is situated, a notice of the pendency of such action or proceeding. Said notice may be filed at the time of the commencement of the action or proceeding, or at any time afterwards before final judgment or order, or at any time after the service of any notice or order issued by said department. Such notice shall have the same force and effect as the notice of pendency of action provided for in the Code of Civil Procedure. Each county recorder with whom such notice is filed shall record it and shall index it in the name of each person specified in a direction subscribed by an officer of the department instituting such action or proceeding. Any such notice may be vacated upon the order of a judge of the court in which such action or proceeding was instituted or is pending. The recorder of the county where such notice is filed is hereby directed to mark such notice, and any record or docket thereof as canceled of record, upon the presentation and filing of a certified copy of such order.

Notice of pendency of action.

SEC. 82. Every owner of a tenement house and every lessee of the whole house, or other person having control of a tenement house, shall file in the housing department a notice, containing his name and address, and also

Name of owner, etc. filed.

Name of
owner, etc.,

a description of the property, by street and number and otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same; and also the number of apartments in each house, the number of rooms in each apartment, and the number of families occupying the apartments. In case of a transfer of any tenement house, it shall be the duty of the grantee of said tenement house to file in the housing department a notice of such transfer, stating the name of the new owner, within thirty days after such transfer. In case of the devolution of the said property by will, it shall be the duty of the executor and the devisee, if more than twenty-one years of age, and in the case of devolution of such property by inheritance without a will, it shall be the duty of the heirs, or in case all the heirs are under age, it shall be the duty of the administrator of the deceased owner of said property, to file in said department a notice, stating the death of said owner and the names of those who have succeeded to his interests, within thirty (30) days after the death of the decedent, in case he died intestate, and within thirty days after the probate of his will, if he died testate.

agent filed.

SEC. 83. Every owner, agent or lessee of a tenement house shall file in the housing department a notice containing the name and address of such agent of such house, for the purpose of receiving service of process, and also a description of the property, by street and number or otherwise, as the case may be, in such manner as will enable the department charged with the enforcement of this act easily to find the same. The name of the owner or lessee may be filed as agent for this purpose.

Index of names.

SEC. 84. The names and addresses filed in accordance with sections eighty-two and eighty-three hereof shall be indexed by the housing department in such a manner that all of those filed in relation to each tenement house shall be together and readily ascertainable. Said indices shall be public records, open to public inspection during business hours.

Time of service.

SEC. 85. Every notice or order in relation to a tenement house shall be served five days before the time for doing the thing in relation to which it shall have been issued.

Manner of service.

SEC. 86. In any action brought by any department charged with the enforcement of this act in relation to a tenement house, for injunction, vacation of the premises or other abatement of nuisance, or to establish a lien thereon, it shall be sufficient service of summons to serve the same as notices and orders are served under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Minimum requirements.

SEC. 87. The provisions of this act shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection, the health and the safety of the community, and for the protection, the health and the safety of the occupants of tenement houses. Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as prohibiting the local legislative body of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, from enacting, from time to time, supplementary ordinances or laws imposing further restrictions, or providing for fees to be charged for permits, certificates, or other papers required by this act; but no ordinance, law, regulation or ruling of any municipal department, authority, officer or officers, shall repeal, amend, modify or dispense with any of the provisions of this act.

Supplementary laws.

All statutes of the state and all ordinances of incorporated towns, incorporated cities, incorporated cities and counties, and counties, as far as inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are hereby repealed; provided, that nothing in this act contained shall be construed as repealing or abrogating any present law or ordinance of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county in the state which further restricts the percentage of the lot to be covered by a tenement house, the number of stories or height of such tenement house or number of apartments therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Repealed.

Nothing in this act contained shall be construed as abrogating, diminishing, minimizing or denying the power of any incorporated town, incorporated city, incorporated city and county, or county, by ordinance or law, to further restrict the percentage of the lot to be covered by a tenement house within said municipality, the number of stories or height of such tenement house or number of apartments therein, the occupation thereof, the materials to be used in its construction, or increasing the size of the yards or courts, the floor space to each person occupying a room, the requirements as to sanitation, ventilation, light and protection against fire.

Powers of cities not abrogated.

SEC. 88. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 89. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after September 1, 1917.

In effect, when.

SEC. 90. The act entitled "An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation thereof and repealing an act entitled 'An act to regulate the building and occupancy of tenement houses in incorporated towns, incorporated cities, and cities and counties, and to provide penalties for the violation

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand six hundred seventeen b, relating to the power of trustees of elementary school districts.

[Approved May 31, 1917. In effect July 30, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby added to the Political Code, a new section to be numbered one thousand six hundred seventeen b and to read as follows:

Contract with state normal school for education of children.

1617*b*. The trustees of an elementary school district with an average daily attendance of thirty-five or less, as shown by the last teacher's report on file in the office of the county superintendent of schools, when authorized by a majority vote of their district at a district meeting called for that purpose, may contract with a state normal school for the education of the children of their district; provided:

1. That the elementary school so contracting shall be housed by the normal school on the normal school campus or in the schoolhouse in the district and shall be used as a rural model practice school.

2. That the trustees of the elementary school district shall contribute to the support of the school all of the money apportioned to their district from the state and county funds. Said funds to be handled and expended by the trustees of the elementary school district in the same manner as provided by law.

Revocation.

Such contract may be revoked by a majority vote of the board of trustees of the normal school or by the trustees of the elementary school district, when authorized to do so by a majority vote of their district at a special district meeting called for that purpose. Such contract shall be in effect from July first following date of contract and shall remain in effect until the end of the school year in which the contract is revoked.

CHAPTER 748.

An act to amend section sixteen of an act entitled "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways, to provide for the formation, government and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex officio boards of supervisors," approved March 20, 1909, and the acts amendatory thereof, and to add two new sections thereto, to be numbered sections eighteen a and eighteen b relating to the annexation of additional territory to highway lighting districts and to the annexing to incorporated cities or cities and counties of territory embraced in highway lighting districts.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section sixteen of an act entitled "An act to allow unincorporated towns and villages to establish, equip and maintain systems of street lights on public highways, to provide for the formation, government and operation of highway lighting districts; the calling and holding of elections in such districts; the assessment, collection, custody and disbursement of taxes therein; and the creation of ex officio boards of supervisors," approved March 20, 1909, and the acts amendatory thereof, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1909,
p. 551.

16. The revenue derived from said tax, together with all other moneys acquired in any manner whatsoever by the lighting district shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the lighting fund of the district wherein said tax was collected, subject only to the order of the board of supervisors of said district, and to be by them expended only for and on behalf of the district wherein such money was collected; provided, however, that any funds arising from assessments made under the provisions of this act, and remaining in said county treasury after the payment of all outstanding local of funds.

Remainder transferred to city
treasurer.

Sec. 2. A new section is hereby added to said act approved March 20, 1909, as amended, to be numbered eighteen a, and to read as follows:

Annexation
of territory.

Petition.

18*a*. The boundaries of any such highway lighting district may be altered and outlying contiguous territory in the same county in which a lighting district is situated annexed thereto in the following manner: A petition signed by the owners representing at least one-fourth in number of the total owners of real property, and at least one-fourth of the assessed valuation, as shown by the last equalized assessment book of the county in which such lighting district is situated, of the real property, in such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed, designating the boundaries of such contiguous territory proposed to be annexed and the number of owners of real property in such territory and the assessed valuation thereof, as shown by said last equalized assessment book, and stating that such proposed territory is not within the limits of any other lighting district, and asking that such territory be annexed to said lighting district, shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which said lighting district is situated.

Notice.

At their first regular meeting after the presentation of said petition, said board of supervisors shall cause notice of said petition to be published in a newspaper published and circulated in the county in which said lighting district is situated, if there be such a newspaper, otherwise by posting copies of said notice in three of the most conspicuous places in said territory proposed to be annexed, for three weeks prior to the date to be fixed by said board of supervisors for hearing said petition. Upon the date fixed for said hearing, or to which it may be continued, said board of supervisors shall take up and consider said petition, and any objections thereto which may be filed or to the inclusion of any property in said district.

Hearing.

Order

Said board of supervisors shall have the power, by order entered on its minutes, to grant said petition either in whole or in part, and by order entered on its minutes to alter the boundaries of said lighting district, and annex thereto all, or such portion of said contiguous territory, described in said petition, as will be benefited by inclusion in said lighting dis-

186. Upon the annexation of all or of any portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city or city and county, all funds paid into the county treasury to the credit of the lighting fund of such district, if the whole of such district shall be so annexed, shall be turned over by the board of supervisors of such district to the treasurer of said incorporated city, or city and county, and administered by the legislative body of said incorporated city, or city and county; said legislative body shall have all of the powers and perform all of the duties granted to or imposed upon the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is located and of the board of supervisors of said district, and shall carry out the provisions of this act as to such district to the same purpose and extent as if originally constituted, under the provisions of this act, the governing body thereof. Upon the expenditure of the funds and the discharge of the obligations and liabilities of any such lighting district, the whole of which has been annexed to an incorporated city, or city and county, such district shall ipso facto be dissolved with the same force and effect as if dissolved under the provisions of section eighteen of this act. In the event of the annexation of a portion of the territory embraced in any such lighting district to an incorporated city, or city and county, such proportionate part of the funds collected for the benefit of such district and remaining unexpended as the area of the territory so annexed bears to the total area of said district, shall be paid over to the treasurer of such incorporated city, or city and county, in the manner hereinabove provided, and administered by the legislative body of such city, or city and county, until the same are expended, for the benefit of the portion of such district so annexed. Upon the expenditure of such funds in the manner required in this act the territory of such district so annexed shall be deemed to be withdrawn from said lighting district and thereafter the remaining territory embraced in said district and not so annexed shall, upon a resolution adopted by the board of supervisors of the county in which such territory is located, be and become a lighting district within the meaning of this act and so remain until dissolved as provided in this act.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred thirty-seven of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Fishways provided over or around dams.

637. 1. It shall be the duty of the state board of fish and game commissioners to examine, from time to time, all dams and artificial obstructions in all rivers and streams in this state naturally frequented by salmon, trout, shad and other fish; and if, in its opinion, there is not free passage for fish over and around any dam or artificial obstruction, to order in writing the owners or occupants thereof to provide the same, within a specified time, with a durable and efficient fishway, of such form and capacity, and in such location as shall be determined by the state board of fish and game commissioners, or persons authorized by them, and such fishway must be completed by the owners or occupants of such dam or artificial obstruction to the satisfaction of said commissioners, within the time specified; and it shall be incumbent upon the owners or occupants of all dams or artificial obstructions, where the state board of fish and game commissioners require such fishways to be provided, to keep the same in repair and open and free from obstructions to the passage of fish at all times; and no person shall wilfully destroy, injure, or obstruct any such fishway; provided, that the owners or occupants of any dam or artificial obstruction shall allow sufficient water at all times to pass through such fishway to keep in good condition any fish that may be planted or exist below said dam or obstruction; provided, further, that during the minimum flow of water in any river or stream permission may be granted by the state board of fish and game commissioners to allow the owners or occupants of any dam or artificial obstruction to allow sufficient water to pass through a culvert, waste gate, or over or around the dam, to keep in good condition any fish that may be planted or exist below said dam or artificial obstruction, when in the judgment of the state board of fish and game commissioners it is impracticable to pass the water through the fishway to the detriment of the owner or occupant thereof.

fishway impracticable.

Whenever in the opinion of the state fish and game commission it shall be impracticable, because of the height of any dam or other artificial obstruction, or other conditions, to construct a fishway over or around said dam or other artificial obstruction, the fish and game commission may order in lieu of said fishway the owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction to completely equip, within a specified time, on a site to be selected by said fish and game commission, a hatchery, together with dwellings for help, traps for the taking of fish, and all other equipment necessary to operate a hatchery station, according to plans and specifications furnished by the fish and game commission, who shall thereafter operate said hatchery without further expense to said owner or occupant of said dam or other artificial obstruction. The aforesaid hatchery, traps and other equipment necessary to operate a hatchery station shall not be of a size greater than necessary to supply the said stream or river with a reasonable number of such fish. The said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall permit said fish and game commission to locate the aforesaid hatchery, dwellings, traps and other equipment upon any of the land of the owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction upon a site or sites to be mutually agreed upon by the fish and game commission and the said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction.

Hatchery constructed when fishway impracticable.

If the said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall generate electricity at said place of said dam or other artificial obstruction, then and in that case said owners or occupants shall furnish sufficient light, without expense, for the use of said hatchery when located and established.

Said owners or occupants shall also permit the use of water, without expense, to operate said proposed hatchery; provided, however, that the fish and game commission may, in lieu of said fishway, hatchery, dwellings, traps and other equipment necessary to operate a hatchery station as aforesaid, order the owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction to plant, under the supervision of the fish and game commission, the young of such fish as naturally frequent the waters of said stream or river, at such times, in such places and in such numbers as the fish and game commission may order; provided, further, that said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall accord to the public, for the purpose of fishing, the right of access to the waters impounded by said dam or other artificial obstruction, during the open season for the taking of fish in such stream or river, subject to the rules and regulations of said fish and game commission.

Planting of fish.

Right of access.

The said owners or occupants of said dam or other artificial obstruction shall not be liable in damages to any person exercising the right of access to the waters impounded by said dam or other artificial obstruction, as aforesaid, who shall suffer injury through coming in contact with, or meddling with, any of the property of said owners or occupants.

The fish and game commission may sell, at cost to it, to such owners or occupants of such dam or other artificial obstruction the young of fish ordered to be planted in such stream or river.

Sale of young fish.

Penalty.

Every person found guilty of any of the provisions of this act must be fined in a sum of not less than one hundred fifty dollars or imprisonment in the county jail of the county in which the conviction shall be had, not less than one hundred days, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and all fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of this act shall be paid into the state treasury, to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

Hearing on necessity for placing ladder, etc.

After making any order to place and maintain such ladder, or to equip and convey such hatchery and site, or to plant such fish the state board of fish and game commissioners shall, when requested by the owners or parties in charge, fix a time and place, in the county in which the dam or other artificial obstruction is situated, for the taking of evidence upon the question of the necessity of placing and maintaining such ladder or of equipping and conveying such hatchery and site, or of planting such fish and cause notices in writing of such time and place where such hearing is to be held to be served upon the owners or persons in charge of such dam or other artificial obstruction, at least ten days before the day set for the hearing. If said request for a hearing upon the order to place and maintain such ladder or to equip such hatchery and site, or to plant such fish, is not made within ten days after the service of such order upon said owners or parties in charge of said dam or other artificial obstruction said order shall become final. At such time and place testimony, under oath, shall be taken, both on the part of the state board of fish commissioners and the owner or person in charge of such dam or other artificial obstruction, if such owner or persons in charge appears and offers evidence, and thereupon the state board of fish commissioners from the evidence offered shall determine whether or not the necessity for the placing and maintaining a ladder on said dam or other artificial obstruction or the equipping and conveying such hatchery and site or the planting of such fish is shown, and if shown to be required and necessary, said state board of fish commissioners may direct and order the placing and maintaining such ladder or the equipment and conveyance to the state of said hatchery, equipment and site or the planting of such fish. Such order to also fix the point where the ladder or hatchery and equipment is to be located or the number of and place where such fish are to be planted, and a certified copy of such order to be served upon the owners or parties in charge of such dam or other artificial obstruction.

Order of commission.*Who may take evidence.

The evidence in any investigation, inquiry or hearing, provided by this section, may be taken by any of the members of the board of fish and game commissioners, or such deputy fish and game commissioner, or employee, as the board may designate to take such evidence, and each member of the board and any of its deputies and employees designated to take evidence at the hearing provided hereby shall have the power to administer oaths, take affidavits and issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses at such hearings. Each witness, legally subpoenaed, attending at a hearing, shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed.

Witness fees.

The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding may be held under authority of this section shall have the power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, as required by any subpoena issued under authority of this section. The commission or representative of the commission before whom the testimony is to be given or produced, in case of the refusal of any witness to attend or testify or produce any papers required by such subpoena, may report to the superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which the proceeding is pending, by petition, setting forth that due notice has been given of the time and place of attendance of said witnesses, or the production of said papers, and that the witness has been summoned in the manner prescribed in this act, and that the witness has failed and refused to attend or produce the papers required by the subpoena, before the commission or its representative, in the cause or proceeding named in the notice and subpoena, or has refused to answer questions propounded in the course of such proceeding, and ask an order of said court, compelling the witness to attend and testify or produce said papers before the commission or its representative. The court, upon the petition of the commission or its representative, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representative. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the commission or its representative, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or its representative at the time and place to be fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

Refusal of witness to attend.

The commission or its representative or any party may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission or its representative, cause the deposition of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in the superior courts of this state and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of documents and papers.

Depositions.

CHAPTER 750.

An act to amend section eight hundred sixty-two of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended, relating to the power of boards of trustees in cities of the sixth class.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

p. 828.

SECTION 1. Section eight hundred sixty-two of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, and all amendments thereto, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Powers of city trustees.
Pass ordinances.
Acquire
real estate.

Sec. 862. The board of trustees of said city shall have power:

Supply water for city use.

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this state or of the United States.

Manage highways

2. To purchase, lease, or receive such real estate situated inside or outside of the city limits and personal property as may be necessary or proper for municipal purposes, and to control, dispose of, and convey the same for the benefit of the city or town; provided, they shall not have power to sell or convey any portion of any water front.

3. To contract for supplying the city or town with water for municipal purposes, or to acquire, construct, repair, and manage pumps, aqueducts, reservoirs, or other works necessary or proper for supplying water for the use of such city or the inhabitants, or for irrigating purposes therein.

4. To establish, build and repair bridges; to establish, lay out, alter, keep open, improve, and repair streets, sidewalks, alleys, and other public highways, squares and parks, and places within the city or town, and to drain, sprinkle, oil, and light the same; to remove all obstructions therefrom; to establish the grades thereof; to grade, pave, macadamize, gravel, and curb the same, in whole or in part, and to construct gutters, culverts, sidewalks, and cross-walks therein, or on any part thereof; to cause to be planted, set out, and cultivated, shade trees therein; and generally to manage and control all such highways and places; and in the exercise of the powers herein granted to expend, in their discretion, the ordinary annual income and revenue of the municipality in payments of the costs and expenses of the whole or any part of such work or improvement.

Open streets.

4a. To acquire property required for the opening and laying out of any street, alley or lane from the point where the continuity of such street, alley or lane ceases, to the point where such street, alley or lane again commences, to lay out and improve said street, alley or lane; and to pay the cost and expense incurred in the acquisition of the required property out of the general fund of the city.

5. To construct, establish, and maintain drains and sewers.

Sewers.
Fire protection

6. To provide fire engines and all other necessary and proper apparatus for the prevention and extinguishment of fires.

7. To impose on and collect from every male inhabitant between the ages of twenty-one and sixty years, an annual street poll tax, not exceeding two dollars; and no other road poll tax shall be collected within the limits of the city.

Collect street poll tax.

8. To impose and collect an annual license not exceeding two dollars on every male dog, and four dollars on every female dog owned or harbored within the limits of the city.

Dog tax

9. To levy and collect annually a property tax, which shall not, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such city or town voting at an election to be held for that purpose exceed one dollar on each one hundred dollars; provided, however, that in cities which have constructed or may hereafter construct embankments, sea walls, or other works to protect such cities from overflow, said board of trustees may levy and collect annually, a property tax which shall not exceed twenty cents on each one hundred dollars, which, when collected, shall be kept in a separate fund and used for the construction and maintenance of embankments, sea walls, or other works to protect such city from overflow and for no other purpose.

Property
tax.

10. To license, for the purpose of revenue and regulation, all and every kind of business authorized by law and transacted and carried on in such city or town, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein; to fix the rates of license tax upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise.

License
business.

11. To improve the rivers and streams flowing through such city or adjoining the same; to widen, straighten, and deepen the channels thereof, and remove obstructions therefrom; to improve the water front of the city; including the ocean front thereof, and to build and construct breakwaters, jetties, and sea walls; to construct and maintain embankments and other works, to protect such city from overflow; and to acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate on any lands bordering on any navigable bay, lake, inlet, river, creek, slough, or arm of the sea within the corporate limits of such city or contiguous thereto, wharves, chutes, piers, breakwaters, bathhouses, and life-saving stations.

Improve rivers and streams.

12. To erect and maintain buildings for municipal purposes, and to acquire and maintain cemeteries, situated inside or outside of said city.

Municipal
buildings.

13. To acquire, own, construct, maintain, and operate street railways, telephone and telegraph lines, gas and other works for light, power, and heat; public libraries, museums, gymnasiums, parks, and baths, and to grant franchises for the construction of public utilities as they may deem proper, the

Acquire
public utilities.

laying of railroad tracks and the running of cars drawn by horses, steam, or other power thereon, and the laying of gas and water pipes in the public streets, and to permit the construction and maintenance of telegraph and telephone lines therein.

Impose fines.

14. To impose fines, penalties, and forfeitures for any and all violations of ordinances; and for any breach or violation of any ordinance; to fix the penalty by fine or imprisonment, or both; but no such fine shall exceed three hundred dollars, nor the term of imprisonment exceed three months.

Compel labor of prisoners.

15. To cause all persons imprisoned for violation of any ordinance to labor on the streets, or other public property, or works within the city.

Fire limits.

16. To establish and maintain fire limits, and regulate building and construction and removal of buildings within the municipality.

Regulate construction of buildings.

16a. To regulate the construction of and the materials used in all buildings, chimneys, stacks and other structures; to prevent the erection and maintenance of insecure or unsafe building walls, chimneys, stacks, or other structures, and to provide for their summary abatement, destruction, or removal; to provide for the abatement, destruction or removal of unsightly or partially destroyed buildings; to regulate the materials used in and the method of construction of foundations and foundation walls, the manner of construction and location of drains and sewers, the materials used in wiring buildings or other structures for the use of electricity for lighting, power, heat or other purposes and materials used for piping buildings or other structures for the purpose of supplying the same with water, gas, or electricity, and the manner of so doing; to prohibit the construction of buildings and structures which do not conform to such regulations.

Regulate advertising, etc.

16b. To regulate the exhibition, posting or carrying of banners, placards, posters, cards, pictures, signs or advertisements in or on the street, or on or upon buildings, fences, billboards or other structures; or on or upon any pole in any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park or other public place; to regulate the suspension of banners, flags, signs, advertisements, posters, pictures, or cards across or over any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park, or other public place, or such suspension from fences, poles, houses, or other structures; to prohibit and prevent encroachments upon or obstruction in or to any sidewalk, street, alley, lane, court, park or other public place, and to provide for the removal of such encroachment or obstruction.

Compel removal of dirt, weeds, etc.

16c. To compel the owner, lessee or occupant of buildings, grounds, or lots to remove dirt, rubbish, weeds and rank growths from the sidewalk opposite thereto, and from the building or grounds, and on his default, after such notice as the board of trustees may prescribe, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city at the expense of such owner, lessee or occupant, and by such procedure as the board of trustees may prescribe, to make such expense a lien upon such buildings or grounds.

17. To issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses, or the production of books or other documents, for the purpose of producing evidence or testimony in any action or proceeding pending before the board of trustees, which subpoenas must be signed by the president of the board of trustees, and attested by the city clerk and may be served in the same manner as subpoenas are served in civil actions. Whenever any person duly subpoenaed to appear and give evidence, or to produce any books or any documents as herein provided, shall neglect or refuse to appear, or to produce such books or documents, as required by such subpoena, or shall refuse to testify before such board, or to answer any questions which a majority thereof shall decide to be proper and pertinent, it shall be the duty of the president of the board to report the fact to the judge of the superior court of the county, who shall thereupon issue an attachment in the form usual in the court of which he shall be judge, directed to the sheriff of the county where such witness was required to appear and testify, commanding the said sheriff to attach such person, and forthwith bring him before the judge by whose order such attachment was issued. On the return of the attachment and the production of the body of the defendant, the said judge shall have jurisdiction of the matter, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the same penalties may be imposed, and the same punishment inflicted as in the case of a witness subpoenaed to appear and give evidence on the trial of a civil cause before a superior court.

18. To expend such sum as the board of trustees shall deem proper, not to exceed five per cent of the property tax levy in any one fiscal year, for music and promotion.

19. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act.

CHAPTER 751.

An act to repeal title fifteen of part four of division third of the Civil Code of the State of California, and to add a new title fifteen of part four of division third of said code in place thereof, relating to negotiable instruments, and to make the law of negotiable instruments in the State of California uniform with the law of other states.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Title XV of part IV of division third of the Civil Code is hereby repealed and a new title XV of part IV

New title XV added, part IV, division
third.
Civil Code.

of division third of said code is hereby added to read as follows:

TITLE XV.

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

- Chapter I. Negotiable instruments in general.
- Chapter II. Bills of exchange.
- Chapter III. Promissory notes and checks.
- Chapter IV. General provisions.

CHAPTER I.

NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS IN GENERAL.

- Article I. Form and interpretation.
- Article II. Consideration.
- Article III. Negotiation.
- Article IV. Rights of the holder.
- Article V. Liabilities of parties.
- Article VI. Presentment for payment.
- Article VII. Notice of dishonor.
- Article VIII. Discharge of negotiable instruments.

ARTICLE I.

FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

- Section 3082. Form of negotiable instrument.
- Section 3083. Certainty as to sum; what constitutes.
- Section 3084. When promise is unconditional.
- Section 3085. Determinable future time, what constitutes.
- Section 3086. Additional provisions not affecting negotiability.
- Section 3087. Omissions; seal; particular money.
- Section 3088. When payable on demand.
- Section 3089. When payable to order.
- Section 3090. When payable to bearer.
- Section 3091. Terms when sufficient.
- Section 3092. Date, presumption as to.
- Section 3093. Antedated and postdated.
- Section 3094. When date may be inserted.
- Section 3095. Blanks; when may be filled.
- Section 3096. Incomplete instrument not delivered.
- Section 3097. Delivery; where effectual; when presumed.
- Section 3098. Construction where instrument is ambiguous.
- Section 3099. Liability of person signing in trade or assumed name.
- Section 3100. Signature by agent; authority; how shown.
- Section 3101. Liability of person signing as agent, etc.
- Section 3102. Signature by procuration; effect of.
- Section 3103. Effect of indorsement by infant or corporation.
- Section 3104. Forged signature; effect of.

3082. An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements:

(1) It must be in writing and signed by the maker or drawer;

Requirements for negotiable instrument.

(2) Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money;

(3) Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time;

(4) Must be payable to order or to bearer; and

(5) Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

3083. The sum payable is a sum certain within the meaning of this act, although it is to be paid— Sum payable certain.

(1) With interest; or

(2) By stated installments; or

(3) By stated installments, with a provision that upon default in payment of any installment or of interest, the whole shall become due; or

(4) With exchange, whether at a fixed rate or at the current rate; or

(5) With costs of collection or an attorney's fee, in case payment shall not be made at maturity.

3084. An unqualified order or promise to pay is unconditional within the meaning of this act, though coupled with— Unqualified promise unconditional.

(1) An indication of a particular fund out of which reimbursement is to be made, or a particular account to be debited with the amount; or

(2) A statement of the transaction which gives rise to the instrument. But an order or promise to pay out of a particular fund is not unconditional.

3085. An instrument is payable at a determinable future time, within the meaning of this act, which is expressed to be payable— Time for payment.

(1) At a fixed period after date or sight; or

(2) On or before a fixed or determinable future time specified therein; or

(3) On or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event, which is certain to happen, though the time of happening be uncertain.

An instrument payable upon a contingency is not negotiable, and the happening of the event does not cure the defect.

3086. An instrument which contains an order or promise to do any act in addition to the payment of money is not negotiable. But the negotiable character of an instrument otherwise negotiable is not affected by a provision which— Non-negotiable instrument.

(1) Authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

(2) Authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or

(3) Waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or protection of the obligor; or

(4) Gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money.

But nothing in this section shall validate any provision or stipulation otherwise illegal.

Negotiability not affected.

3087. The validity and negotiable character of an instrument are not affected by the fact that—

- (1) It is not dated; or
- (2) Does not specify the value given, or that any value has been given therefor; or
- (3) Does not specify the place where it is drawn or the place where it is payable; or
- (4) Bears a seal; or
- (5) Designates a particular kind of current money in which payment is to be made.

But nothing in this section shall alter or repeal any statute requiring in certain cases the nature of the consideration to be stated in the instrument.

Payable on demand

3088. An instrument is payable on demand—

- (1) Where it is expressed to be payable on demand, or at sight, or on presentation; or
- (2) In which no time for payment is expressed.

Where an instrument is issued, accepted, or indorsed when overdue, it is, as regards the person so issuing, accepting, or indorsing it, payable on demand.

Payable to order.

3089. The instrument is payable to order where it is drawn payable to the order of a specified person or to him or his order. It may be drawn payable to the order of—

- (1) A payee who is not maker, drawer, or drawee; or
- (2) The drawer or maker; or
- (3) The drawee; or
- (4) Two or more payees jointly; or
- (5) One or some of several payees; or
- (6) The holder of an office for the time being.

Where the instrument is payable to order the payee must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty.

Payable to bearer

3090. The instrument is payable to bearer—

- (1) When it is expressed to be so payable; or
- (2) When it is payable to a person named therein or bearer; or
- (3) When it is payable to the order of a fictitious or nonexisting person, and such fact was known to the person making it so payable; or
- (4) When the name of the payee does not purport to be the name of any person; or
- (5) When the only or last indorsement is an indorsement in blank.

Language of instrument.

3091. The instrument need not follow the language of this act, but any terms are sufficient which clearly indicate an intention to conform to the requirements hereof.

True date.

3092. Where the instrument or an acceptance of any indorsement thereon is dated, such date is deemed prima facie to be the true date of the making, drawing, acceptance, or indorsement as the case may be.

3093. The instrument is not invalid for the reason only that it is antedated or postdated, provided this is not done for an illegal or fraudulent purpose. The person to whom an instrument so dated is delivered acquires the title thereto as of the date of delivery.

Ante or post dating.

3094. Where an instrument expressed to be payable at a fixed period after date is issued undated, or where the acceptance of an instrument payable at a fixed period after sight is undated, any holder may insert therein the true date or issue or acceptance, and the instrument shall be payable accordingly. The insertion of a wrong date does not avoid the instrument in the hands of a subsequent holder in due course; but as to him, the date so inserted is to be regarded as the true date.

Instrument undated.

3095. Where the instrument is wanting in any material particular, the person in possession thereof has a prima facie authority to complete it by filling up the blanks therein. And a signature on a blank paper delivered by the person making the signature in order that the paper may be converted into a negotiable instrument operates as a prima facie authority to fill it up as such for any amount. In order, however, that any such instrument when completed may be enforced against any person who became a party thereto prior to its completion, it must be filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time. But if any such instrument, after completion, is negotiated to a holder in due course, it is valid and effectual for all purposes in his hands, and he may enforce it as if it had been filled up strictly in accordance with the authority given and within a reasonable time.

Filling up blanks.

3096. Where an incomplete instrument has not been delivered it will not, if completed and negotiated, without authority, be a valid contract in the hands of any holder, as against any person whose signature was placed thereon before delivery.

Incomplete instrument not delivered.

3097. Every contract on a negotiable instrument is incomplete and revocable until delivery of the instrument for the purpose of giving effect thereto. As between immediate parties, and as regards a remote party other than a holder in due course, the delivery, in order to be effectual, must be made either by or under the authority of the party making, drawing, accepting or indorsing, as the case may be; and in such case the delivery may be shown to have been conditional, or for a special purpose only, and not for the purpose of transferring the property in the instrument. But where the instrument is in the hands of a holder in due course, a valid delivery thereof by all parties prior to him so as to make them liable to him is conclusively presumed. And where the instrument is no longer in the possession of a party whose signature appears thereon, a valid and intentional delivery by him is presumed until the contrary is proved.

Delivery necessary.

Rules of construction.

3098. Where the language of the instrument is ambiguous or there are omissions therein, the following rules of construction apply:

(1) Where the sum payable is expressed in words and also in figures and there is a discrepancy between the two, the sum denoted by the words is the sum payable; but if the words are ambiguous or uncertain, reference may be had to the figures to fix the amount;

(2) Where the instrument provides for the payment of interest, without specifying the date from which interest is to run, the interest runs from the date of the instrument, and if the instrument is undated, from the issue thereof;

(3) Where the instrument is not dated, it will be considered to be dated as of the time it was issued;

(4) Where there is a conflict between the written and printed provisions of the instrument, the written provisions prevail;

(5) Where the instrument is so ambiguous that there is doubt whether it is a bill or note, the holder may treat it as either at his election;

(6) Where a signature is so placed upon the instrument that it is not clear in what capacity the person making the same intended to sign, he is to be deemed an indorser;

(7) Where an instrument containing the words "I promise to pay" is signed by two or more persons, they are deemed to be jointly and severally liable thereon.

Liability on instrument

3099. No person is liable on the instrument whose signature does not appear thereon, except as herein otherwise expressly provided. But one who signs in a trade or assumed name will be liable to the same extent as if he had signed in his own name.

Signature
by agent.

3100. The signature of any party may be made by a duly authorized agent. No particular form of appointment is necessary for this purpose; and the authority of the agent may be established as in other cases of agency.

Liability of agent.

3101. Where the instrument contains or a person adds to his signature words indicating that he signs for or on behalf of a principal, or in a representative capacity, he is not liable on the instrument if he was duly authorized; but the mere addition of words describing him as an agent, or as filling a representative character, without disclosing his principal, does not exempt him from personal liability.

Signature
by "procura-tion"

3102. A signature by "procurator" operates as notice that the agent has but a limited authority to sign, and the principal is bound only in case the agent in so signing acted within the actual limits of his authority.

Indorsement
by corporation or infant.

3103. The indorsement or assignment of the instrument by a corporation or by an infant passes the property therein, notwithstanding that from want of capacity the corporation or infant may incur no liability thereon.

Forged
signature.

3104. When a signature is forged or made without the authority of the person whose signature it purports to be, it is wholly inoperative, and no right to retain the instrument, or to give a discharge therefor, or to enforce payment thereof against any party thereto, can be acquired through or under such signature, unless the party, against whom it is sought to enforce such right, is precluded from setting up the forgery or want of authority.

Forged signature.

ARTICLE II.

CONSIDERATION.

- Section 3105. Presumption of consideration.
- Section 3106. Consideration, what constitutes.
- Section 3107. What constitutes holder for value.
- Section 3108. When lien on instrument constitutes holder for value.
- Section 3109. Effect of want of consideration.
- Section 3110. Liability of accommodation party.

3105. Every negotiable instrument is deemed prima facie to have been issued for a valuable consideration; and every person whose signature appears thereon to have become a party thereto for value.

Presumption of consideration

3106. Value is any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract. An antecedent or preexisting debt constitutes value; and is deemed such whether the instrument is payable on demand or at a future time.

Consideration, what constitutes.

3107. Where value has at any time been given for the instrument, the holder is deemed a holder for value in respect to all parties who become such prior to that time.

Holder for value.

3108. Where the holder has a lien on the instrument, arising either from contract or by implication of law, he is deemed a holder for value to the extent of his lien.

Lien on instrument

3109. Absence or failure of consideration is matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course; and partial failure or consideration is a defense pro tanto, whether the failure is an ascertained and liquidated amount or otherwise.

Effect of want of consideration.

3110. An accommodation party is one who has signed the instrument as maker, drawer, acceptor, or indorser, without receiving value therefor, and for the purpose of lending his name to some other person. Such a person is liable on the instrument to a holder for value, notwithstanding such holder at the time of taking the instrument knew him to be only an accommodation party.

Liability of accommodation party.

NEGOTIATION.

- Section 3111. What constitutes negotiation.
- Section 3112. Indorsement: how made.
- Section 3113. Indorsement must be of entire instrument
- Section 3114. Kinds of indorsement.
- Section 3115. Special indorsement.
- Section 3116. Blank indorsement; how changed to special indorsement.

- Article III. Section 3117. When indorsement restrictive.
 Section 3118. Effect of restricting indorsement; rights of indorsee.
 Section 3119. Qualified indorsement.
 Section 3120. Conditional indorsement.
 Section 3121. Indorsement of instrument payable to bearer.
 Section 3122. Indorsement where payable to two or more persons.
 Section 3123. Effect of instrument drawn or indorsed to a person as cashier.
 Section 3124. Indorsement where name is misspelled, etc.
 Section 3125. Indorsement in representative capacity.
 Section 3126. Time of indorsement; presumption.
 Section 3127. Place of indorsement; presumption.
 Section 3128. Continuation of negotiable character.
 Section 3129. Striking out indorsement.
 Section 3130. Transfer without indorsement; effect of.
 Section 3131. When prior party may negotiate instrument.
- Negotiation. 3111. An instrument is negotiated when it is transferred from one person to another in such manner as to constitute the transferee the holder thereof. If payable to bearer it is negotiated by delivery; if payable to order it is negotiated by the indorsement of the holder completed by delivery.
- Indorsement. 3112. The indorsement must be written on the instrument itself or upon a paper attached thereto. The signature of the indorser, without additional words, is a sufficient indorsement.
- Indorsement of entire instrument. 3113. The indorsement must be an indorsement of the entire instrument. An indorsement which purports to transfer to the indorsee a part only of the amount payable, or which purports to transfer the instrument to two or more indorsee severally, does not operate as a negotiation of the instrument. But where the instrument has been paid in part, it may be indorsed as to the residue.
- Kinds of indorsement. 3114. An indorsement may be either special or in blank; and it may also be either restrictive or qualified, or conditional.
 3115. A special indorsement specifies the person to whom, or to whose order, the instrument is to be payable; and the indorsement of such indorsee is necessary to the further negotiation of the instrument. An indorsement in blank specifies no indorsee, and an instrument so indorsed is payable to bearer, and may be negotiated by delivery.
 3116. The holder may convert a blank indorsement into a special indorsement by writing over the signature of the indorser in blank any contract consistent with the character of the indorsement.
- Indorsement restrictive. 3117. An indorsement is restrictive, which either—
 (1) Prohibits the further negotiation of the instrument; or
 (2) Constitutes the indorsee the agent of the indorser; or
 (3) Vests the title in the indorsee in trust for or to the use of some other person.
 But the mere absence of words implying power to negotiate does not make an indorsement restrictive.

3118. A restrictive indorsement confers upon the indorsee the right— Rights conferred.

(1) To receive payment of the instrument;

(2) To bring any action thereon that the indorser could bring;

(3) To transfer his rights as such indorsee, where the form of the indorsement authorizes him to do so.

But all subsequent indorsees acquire only the title of the first indorsee under the restrictive indorsement.

3120. Where an indorsement is conditional, a party required to pay the instrument may disregard the condition, and make payment to the indorsee or his transferee, whether the condition has been fulfilled or not. But any person to whom an instrument so indorsed is negotiated, will hold the same, or the proceeds thereof, subject to the rights of the person indorsing conditionally. Conditional indorsement.

3121. Where an instrument, payable to bearer, is indorsed specially it may nevertheless be further negotiated by delivery; but the person indorsing specially is liable as indorser to only such holders as make title through his indorsement. Payable to bearer.

3122. Where an instrument is payable to the order of two or more payees or indorsees who are not partners, all must indorse, unless the one indorsing has authority to indorse for the others. Payable to two or more persons.

3123. Where an instrument is drawn or indorsed to a person as "cashier" or other fiscal officer of a bank or corporation, it is deemed prima facie to be payable to the bank or corporation of which he is such officer; and may be negotiated by either the indorsement of the bank or corporation, or the indorsement of the officer. Indorsed to person as "cashier."

3124. Where the name of a payee or indorsee is wrongly designated or misspelled, he may indorse the instrument as therein described, adding, if he think fit, his proper signature. Name misspelled.

3126. Except where an indorsement bears date after the maturity of the instrument, every negotiation is deemed prima facie to have been effected before the instrument was overdue. Time of indorsement.

3127. Except where the contrary appears, every indorsement is presumed prima facie to have been made at the place where the instrument is dated. Place of indorsement.

3128. An instrument negotiable in its origin continues to be negotiable until it has been restrictively indorsed or discharged by payment or otherwise. Continuation.

Striking out
indorsement.

3129. The holder may at any time strike out any indorsement which is not necessary to his title. The indorser whose indorsement is struck out, and all indorsers subsequent to him, are thereby relieved from liability on the instrument.

Transfer
indorsement.

3130. Where the holder of an instrument payable to his order transfers it for value without indorsing it, the transfer vests in the transferee such title as the transferor had therein, and the transferee acquires, in addition, the right to have the indorsement of the transferor. But for the purpose of determining whether the transferee is a holder in due course, the negotiation takes effect as of the time when the indorsement is actually made.

Prior party
negotiate.

3131. Where an instrument is negotiated back to a prior party such party may, subject to the provisions of this title, reissue and further negotiate the same. But he is not entitled to enforce payment thereof against any intervening party to whom he was personally liable.

ARTICLE IV.

RIGHTS OF THE HOLDER.

Section 3132. Right of holder to sue; payment.

Section 3133. What constitutes a holder in due course.

Section 3134. When person not deemed holder in due course.

Section 3135. Notice before full amount paid.

Section 3136. When title defective.

Section 3137. What constitutes notice of defect.

Section 3138. Rights of holder in due course.

Section 3139. When subject to original defenses.

Section 3140. Who deemed holder in due course.

Right to sue.

3132. The holder of a negotiable instrument may sue thereon in his own name and payment to him in due course discharges the instrument.

Holder in due course.

3133. A holder in due course is a holder who has taken the instrument under the following conditions:

(1) That it is complete and regular upon its face;

(2) That he became the holder of it before it was overdue, and without notice that it had been previously dishonored, if such was the fact;

(3) That he took it in good faith and for value;

(4) That at the time it was negotiated to him he had no notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating it.

Not holder in due course.

3134. Where an instrument payable on demand is negotiated an unreasonable length of time after its issue, the holder is not deemed a holder in due course.

Notice before full amount paid.

3135. Where the transferee receives notice of any infirmity in the instrument or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same before he has paid the full amount agreed to be paid therefor, he will be deemed a holder in due course only to the extent of the amount theretofore paid by him.

3136. The title of a person who negotiates an instrument is defective within the meaning of this title when he obtained the instrument, or any signature thereto, by fraud, duress, or force and fear, or other unlawful means, or for an illegal consideration, or when he negotiates it in breach of faith, or under such circumstances as amount to a fraud. When title defective.

3137. To constitute notice of an infirmity in the instrument, or defect in the title of the person negotiating the same, the person to whom it is negotiated must have had actual knowledge of the infirmity or defect, or knowledge of such facts that his action in taking the instrument amounted to bad faith. Notice of defect.

3138. A holder in due course holds the instrument free from any defect of title of prior parties, and free from defenses available to prior parties among themselves, and may enforce payment of the instrument for the full amount thereof against all parties liable thereon. Rights of holder in due course.

3139. In the hands of any holder other than a holder in due course, a negotiable instrument is subject to the same defenses as if it were nonnegotiable. But a holder who derives his title through a holder in due course, and who is not himself a party to any fraud or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect of all parties prior to the latter. When subject to original

3140. Every holder is deemed prima facie to be a holder in due course; but when it is shown that the title of any person who has negotiated the instrument was defective, the burden is on the holder to prove that he or some person under whom he claims acquired the title as holder in due course. But the last-mentioned rule does not apply in favor of a party who became bound on the instrument prior to the acquisition of such defective title. Who deemed holder in due course

LIABILITIES OF PARTIES.

Section 3141. Liability of maker.

Section 3142. Liability of drawer.

Section 3143. Liability of acceptor.

Section 3144. When person deemed indorser.

Section 3145. Liability of irregular indorser.

Section 3146. Warranty where negotiation by delivery, etc.

Section 3147. Liability of general indorser.

Section 3148. Liability of indorser where paper negotiable by delivery.

Section 3149. Order in which indorsers are liable.

Section 3150. Liability of an agent or broker.

3141. The maker of a negotiable instrument by making it engages that he will pay it according to its tenor, and admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse. Liability of maker.

3142. The drawer by drawing the instrument admits the existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse; and engages that on due presentment the instrument will be Liability of drawer.

accepted or paid, or both, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it. But the drawer may insert in the instrument an express stipulation negating or limiting his own liability to the holder.

Liability of acceptor.

3143. The acceptor by accepting the instrument engages that he will pay it according to the tenor of his acceptance; and admits—

(1) The existence of the drawer, the genuineness of his signature, and his capacity and authority to draw the instrument; and

(2) The existence of the payee and his then capacity to indorse.

Person deemed indorser.

3144. A person placing his signature upon an instrument otherwise than as maker, drawer, or acceptor, is deemed to be an indorser, unless he clearly indicates by appropriate words his intention to be bound in some other capacity.

Liability of irregular indorser.

3145. Where a person, not otherwise a party to an instrument, places thereon his signature in blank before delivery he is liable as indorser, in accordance with the following rules:

(1) If the instrument is payable to the order of a third person, he is liable to the payee and to all subsequent parties.

(2) If the instrument is payable to the order of the maker or drawer, or is payable to bearer, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the maker or drawer.

(3) If he signs for the accommodation of the payee, he is liable to all parties subsequent to the payee.

Warranty when negotiation by delivery, etc

3146. Every person negotiating an instrument by delivery or by a qualified indorsement, warrants—

(1) That the instrument is genuine and in all respects what it purports to be;

(2) That he has a good title to it;

(3) That all prior parties had capacity to contract;

(4) That he has no knowledge of any fact which would impair the validity of the instrument or render it valueless.

But when the negotiation is by delivery only, the warranty extends in favor of no holder other than the immediate transferee.

The provisions of subdivision three of this section do not apply to persons negotiating public or corporation securities, other than bills and notes.

Liability of general indorser.

3147. Every indorser who indorses without qualification, warrants to all subsequent holders in due course—

(1) The matters and things mentioned in subdivision one, two and three of the next preceding section; and

(2) That the instrument is at the time of his indorsement valid and subsisting.

And, in addition, he engages that on due presentment, it shall be accepted or paid, or both, as the case may be, according to its tenor, and that if it be dishonored, and the necessary proceedings on dishonor be duly taken, he will pay the amount thereof to the holder, or to any subsequent indorser who may be compelled to pay it.

3148. Where a person places his indorsement on an instrument negotiable by delivery he incurs all the liabilities of an indorser. When negotiable by delivery.

3149. As respects one another indorsers are liable prima facie in the order in which they indorse; but evidence is admissible to show that as between or among themselves they have agreed otherwise. Joint payees or joint indorsers who indorse are deemed to indorse jointly and severally. Order in which indorsers liable.

3150. Where a broker or other agent negotiates an instrument without indorsement he incurs all the liabilities prescribed by section three thousand one hundred forty-seven, unless he discloses the name of his principal, and the fact that he is acting only as agent. Liability of broker or agent.

ARTICLE VI.

PRESENTMENT FOR PAYMENT.

Section 3151. Effect of want of demand on principal debtor.

Section 3152. Presentment where instrument is not payable on demand and where payable on demand.

Section 3153. What constitutes a sufficient presentment.

Section 3154. Place of presentment.

Section 3155. Instrument must be exhibited.

Section 3156. Presentment where instrument payable at bank.

Section 3157. Presentment where principal debtor is dead.

Section 3158. Presentment to persons liable as partners.

Section 3159. Presentment to joint debtors.

Section 3160. When presentment not required to charge the drawer.

Section 3161. When presentment not required to charge the indorser.

Section 3162. When delay in making presentment is excused.

Section 3163. When presentment may be dispensed with.

Section 3164. When instrument dishonored by nonpayment.

Section 3165. Liability of person secondarily liable, when instrument dishonored.

Section 3166. Time of maturity.

Section 3167. Time; how computed.

Section 3168. Rule where instrument payable at bank.

Section 3169. What constitutes payment in due course.

3151. Presentment for payment is not necessary in order to charge the person primarily liable on the instrument; but if the instrument is, by its terms, payable at a special place, and he is able and willing to pay it there at maturity, such ability and willingness are equivalent to a tender of payment upon his part. But except as herein otherwise provided, presentment for payment is necessary in order to charge the drawer and indorsers. Presentment for payment.

3152. Where the instrument is not payable on demand, presentment must be made on the day it falls due. Where it is payable on demand, presentment must be made within a reasonable time after its issue, except that in the case of a bill of exchange, presentment for payment will be sufficient if made within a reasonable time after the last negotiation thereof.

What constitutes sufficient presentment.

3153. Presentment for payment, to be sufficient, must be made—

- (1) By the holder, or by some person authorized to receive payment on his behalf;
- (2) At a reasonable hour on a business day;
- (3) At a proper place as herein defined;
- (4) To the person primarily liable on the instrument or if he is absent or inaccessible, to any person found at the place where the presentment is made.

Place of presentment.

3154. Presentment for payment is made at the proper place—

- (1) Where a place of payment is specified in the instrument and it is there presented;
- (2) Where no place of payment is specified, but the address of the person to make payment is given in the instrument and it is there presented;
- (3) Where no place of payment is specified and no address is given and the instrument is presented at the usual place of business or residence of the person to make payment;
- (4) In any other case if presented to the person to make payment wherever he can be found, or if presented at his last known place of business or residence.

Must be exhibited.

3155. The instrument must be exhibited to the person from whom payment is demanded, and when it is paid must be delivered up to the party paying it.

Where payable at bank.

3156. Where the instrument is payable at a bank, presentment for payment must be made during banking hours, unless the person to make payment has no funds there to meet it at any time during the day, in which case presentment at any hour before the bank is closed on that day is sufficient.

Where principal debtor dead.

3157. Where a person primarily liable on the instrument is dead, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment must be made to his personal representative if such there be, and if, with the exercise of reasonable diligence, he can be found.

Persons liable as partners.

3158. Where the persons primarily liable on the instrument are liable as partners, and no place of payment is specified, presentment for payment may be made to any one of them, even though there has been a dissolution of the firm.

Joint debts.

3159. Where there are several persons, not partners, primarily liable on the instrument, and no place of payment is specified, presentment must be made to them all.

3160. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge the drawer where he has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will pay the instrument.

3161. Presentment for payment is not required in order to charge an indorser where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation and he has no reason to expect that the instrument will be paid if presented.

3162. Delay in making presentment for payment is excused Delay excused. when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, presentment must be made with reasonable diligence.

3163. Presentment for payment is dispensed with—

(1) Where after the exercise of reasonable diligence presentment as required by this title can not be made; When dispensed with

(2) Where the drawee is a fictitious person;

(3) By waiver of presentment, express or implied.

3164. The instrument is dishonored by nonpayment when—

(1) It is duly presented for payment and payment is refused or can not be obtained; or When dishonored by nonpayment.

(2) Presentment is excused and the instrument is overdue and unpaid.

3165. Subject to the provisions of this title, when the instrument is dishonored by nonpayment, an immediate right of recourse to all parties secondarily liable thereon accrues to the holder.

3166. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due or becoming payable on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before twelve o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday. Time of maturity.

3167. Where the instrument is payable at a fixed period after date, after sight, or after the happening of a specified event, the time of payment is determined by excluding the day from which the time is to begin to run, and by including the date of payment. Determination of time.

3168. Where the instrument is made payable at a bank it is equivalent to an order to the bank to pay the same for the account of the principal debtor thereon. Where payable at bank.

3169. Payment is made in due course when it is made at or after the maturity of the instrument to the holder thereof in good faith and without notice that his title is defective. Payment in due course.

ARTICLE VII.

NOTICE OF DISHONOR.

Section 3170. To whom notice of dishonor must be given.

Section 3171. By whom given.

Section 3172. Notice given by agent.

Section 3173. Effect of notice given on behalf of holder.

Section 3174. Effect where notice is given by party entitled thereto.

Section 3175. When agent may give notice.

Section 3176. When notice sufficient.

- Section 3177. Form of notice.
 Section 3178. To whom notice may be given.
 Section 3179. Notice where party is dead.
 Section 3180. Notice to partners.
 Section 3181. Notice to persons jointly liable.
 Section 3182. Notice to bankrupt.
 Section 3183. Time within which notice must be given.
 Section 3184. Where parties reside in same place.
 Section 3185. Where parties reside in different places.
 Section 3186. When sender deemed to have given due notice.
 Section 3187. Deposit in post office; what constitutes.
 Section 3188. Notice to subsequent party.
 Section 3189. Where notice must be sent.
 Section 3190. Waiver of notice.
 Section 3191. Whom affected by waiver.
 Section 3192. Waiver of protest.
 Section 3193. When notice is dispensed with.
 Section 3194. Delay in giving notice; how excused.
 Section 3195. When notice need not be given to drawer.
 Section 3196. When notice need not be given to indorser.
 Section 3197. Notice of nonpayment where acceptance refused.
 Section 3198. Effect of omission to give notice of nonacceptance.
 Section 3199. When protest need not be made; when must be made.

Notice of dishonor.

3170. Except as herein otherwise provided, when a negotiable instrument has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment, notice of dishonor must be given to the drawer and to each indorser, and any drawer or indorser to whom such notice is not given is discharged.

By whom given.

3171. The notice may be given by or on behalf of the holder, or by or on behalf of any party to the instrument who might be compelled to pay it to the holder, and who upon taking it up would have a right to reimbursement from the party to whom the notice is given.

3172. Notice of dishonor may be given by an agent either in his own name or in the name of any party entitled to give notice, whether that party be his principal or not.

Effect of notice.

3173. Where notice is given by or on behalf of the holder, it inures for the benefit of all subsequent holders and all prior parties who have a right of recourse against the party to whom it is given.

3175. Where the instrument has been dishonored in the hands of an agent, he may either himself give notice to the parties liable thereon, or he may give notice to his principal. If he give notice to his principal, he must do so within the same time as if he were the holder, and the principal upon the receipt of such notice has himself the same time for giving notice as if the agent had been an independent holder.

3176. A written notice need not be signed, and an insufficient written notice may be supplemented and validated by verbal communication. A misdescription of the instrument does not vitiate the notice unless the party to whom the notice is given is in fact misled thereby. When notice sufficient.

3177. The notice may be in writing or merely oral and may be given in any terms which sufficiently identify the instrument, and indicate that it has been dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. It may in all cases be given by delivering it personally or through the mails. Form of notice.

3178. Notice of dishonor may be given either to the party himself or to his agent in that behalf. To whom notice given.

3179. When any party is dead, and his death is known to the party giving notice, the notice must be given to a personal representative, if there be one, and if with reasonable diligence he can be found. If there be no personal representative, notice may be sent to the last residence or last place of business of the deceased.

3180. Where the parties to be notified are partners, notice to any one partner is notice to the firm even though there has been a dissolution.

3181. Notice to joint parties who are not partners must be given to each of them, unless one of them has authority to receive such notice for the others.

3182. Where a party has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, notice may be given either to the party himself or to his trustee or assignee.

3183. Notice may be given as soon as the instrument is dishonored; and unless delay is excused as hereinafter provided, must be given within the times fixed by this title. Time within which notice must be given.

3184. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in the same place, notice must be given within the following times:

(1) If given at the place of business of the person to receive notice, it must be given before the close of business hours on the day following;

(2) If given at his residence, it must be given before the usual hours of rest on the day following;

(3) If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the post office in time to reach him in usual course on the day following.

3185. Where the person giving and the person to receive notice reside in different places, the notice must be given within the following times:

(1) If sent by mail, it must be deposited in the post office in time to go by mail the day following the day of dishonor, or if there be no mail at a convenient hour on that day, by the next mail thereafter;

(2) If given otherwise than through the post office, then within the time that notice would have been received in due course of mail, if it had been deposited in the post office within the time specified in the last subdivision.

Notice deemed given.

3186. Where notice of dishonor is duly addressed and deposited in the post office, the sender is deemed to have given due notice, notwithstanding any miscarriage in the mails.

Deposit in post office.

3187. Notice is deemed to have been deposited in post office when deposited in any branch post office or in any letter box under the control of the post office department.

Notice to subsequent party.

3188. Where a party receives notice of dishonor, he has, after the receipt of such notice, the same time for giving notice to antecedent parties that the holder has after the dishonor.

Where notice may be sent.

3189. Where a party has added an address to his signature, notice of dishonor must be sent to that address; but if he has not given such address, then the notice must be sent as follows:

(1) Either to the post office nearest to his place of residence, or to the post office where he is accustomed to receive his letters; or

(2) If he live in one place, and have his place of business in another, notice may be sent to either place; or

(3) If he is sojourning in another place, notice may be sent to the place where he is sojourning.

But where the notice is actually received by the party within the time specified in this title, it will be sufficient, though not sent in accordance with the requirements of this section.

Waiver of notice.

3190. Notice of dishonor may be waived, either before the time of giving notice has arrived, or after the omission to give due notice, and the waiver may be express or implied.

3191. Where the waiver is embodied in the instrument itself, it is binding upon all parties; but where it is written above the signature of an indorser, it binds him only.

Waiver of protest.

3192. A waiver of protest, whether in the case of a foreign bill of exchange or other negotiable instrument, is deemed to be a waiver not only of formal protest, but also of presentment and notice of dishonor.

Notice dispensed with.

3193. Notice of dishonor is dispensed with when, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, it can not be given to or does not reach the parties sought to be charged.

Delay excused.

3194. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused when the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder, and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, notice must be given with reasonable diligence.

When not required to be given to drawer.

3195. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to the drawer in either of the following cases:

(1) Where the drawer and drawee are the same person;

(2) When the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract;

(3) When the drawer is a person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

(4) Where the drawer has no right to expect or require that the drawee or acceptor will honor the instrument;

(5) Where the drawer has countermanded payment.

3196. Notice of dishonor is not required to be given to an indorser in either of the following cases:

When not required to be given indorser.

(1) Where the drawee is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract, and the indorser was aware of the fact at the time he indorsed the instrument;

(2) Where the indorser is the person to whom the instrument is presented for payment;

(3) Where the instrument was made or accepted for his accommodation.

3197. Where due notice of dishonor by nonacceptance has been given notice of a subsequent dishonor by nonpayment is not necessary, unless in the meantime the instrument has been accepted.

3198. An omission to give notice of dishonor by nonacceptance does not prejudice the rights of a holder in due course subsequent to the omission.

Effect of omission.

3199. Where any negotiable instrument has been dishonored it may be protested for nonacceptance or nonpayment, as the case may be; but protest is not required except in the case of foreign bills of exchange.

Protest.

ARTICLE VIII.

DISCHARGE OF NEGOTIABLE INSTRUMENTS.

Section 3200. Instrument; how discharged.

Section 3201. When persons secondarily liable on, discharged.

Section 3202. Right of party who discharged instrument.

Section 3203. Renunciation by holder.

Section 3204. Cancellation; unintentional; burden of proof.

Section 3205. Alteration of instrument; effect of.

Section 3206. What constitutes a material alteration.

3200. A negotiable instrument is discharged—

How discharged.

(1) By payment in due course by or on behalf of the principal debtor;

(2) By payment in due course by the party accommodated, where the instrument is made or accepted for accommodation;

(3) By the intentional cancellation thereof by the holder;

(4) By any other act which will discharge a simple contract for the payment of money;

(5) When the principal debtor becomes the holder of the instrument at or after maturity in his own right.

3201. A person secondarily liable on the instrument is discharged—

Persons secondarily liable discharged.

(1) By any act which discharges the instrument;

(2) By the intentional cancellation of his signature by the holder;

(3) By the discharge of a prior party;

(4) By a valid tender of payment made by a prior party;

(5) By a release of the principal debtor, unless the holder's right of recourse against the party secondarily liable is expressly reserved;

(6) By any agreement binding upon the holder to extend the time of payment, or to postpone the holder's right to enforce the instrument, unless made with the assent of the party secondarily liable, or unless the right of recourse against such party is expressly reserved.

Right of party who discharged.

3202. Where the instrument is paid by a party secondarily liable thereon, it is not discharged; but the party so paying it is remitted to his former rights as regards all prior parties, and he may strike out his own and all subsequent indorsements, and again negotiate the instrument, except—

(1) Where it is payable to the order of a third person, and has been paid by the drawer; and

(2) Where it was made or accepted for accommodation, and has been paid by the party accommodated.

Renunciation by holder.

3203. The holder may expressly renounce his rights against any party to the instrument, before, at or after its maturity. An absolute and unconditional renunciation of his rights against the principal debtor made at or after the maturity of the instrument discharges the instrument. But a renunciation does not affect the rights of a holder in due course without notice. A renunciation must be in writing, unless the instrument is delivered up to the person primarily liable thereon.

Cancellation.

3204. A cancellation made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without the authority of the holder, is inoperative; but where an instrument or any signature thereon appears to have been canceled the burden of proof lies on the party who alleges that the cancellation was made unintentionally, or under a mistake or without authority.

Alteration.

3205. Where a negotiable instrument is materially altered without the assent of all parties liable thereon, it is avoided, except as against a party who has himself made, authorized or assented to the alteration, and subsequent indorsers.

But when an instrument has been materially altered and is in the hands of a holder in due course, not a party to the alteration, he may enforce payment thereof according to its original tenor.

Material alteration.

3206. Any alteration which changes—

(1) The date;

(2) The sum payable, either for principal or interest;

(3) The time or place of payment;

(4) The number or the relations of the parties;

(5) The medium or currency in which payment is to be made;

Or which adds a place of payment where no place of payment is specified, or any other change or addition which alters the effect of the instrument in any respect, is a material alteration.

BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

- Article I. Form and interpretation.
 Article II. Acceptance.
 Article III. Presentment for acceptance.
 Article IV. Protest.
 Article V. Acceptance for honor.
 Article VI. Payment for honor.
 Article VII. Bills in a set.

ARTICLE I.

FORM AND INTERPRETATION.

- Section 3207. Bill of exchange defined.
 Section 3208. Bill not an assignment of funds in hands of drawee.
 Section 3209. Bill addressed to more than one drawee.
 Section 3210. Inland and foreign bills of exchange.
 Section 3211. When bill may be treated as promissory note.
 Section 3212. Referee in case of need.

3207. A bill of exchange is an unconditional order in writing addressed by one person to another, signed by the person giving it, requiring the person to whom it is addressed to pay on demand or at a fixed or determinable future time a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Bill of exchange defined.

3208. A bill of itself does not operate as an assignment of the funds in the hands of the drawee available for the payment thereof, and the drawee is not liable on the bill unless and until he accepts the same.

3209. A bill may be addressed to two or more drawees jointly, whether they are partners or not; but not to two or more drawees in the alternative or in succession.

3210. An inland bill of exchange is a bill which is, or on its face purports to be, both drawn and payable within this state. Any other bill is a foreign bill. Unless the contrary appears on the face of the bill, the holder may treat it as an inland bill. Inland and foreign bills.

3211. Where in a bill drawer and drawee are the same person, or where the drawee is a fictitious person, or a person not having capacity to contract, the holder may treat the instrument, at his option, either as a bill of exchange or a promissory note. Bill treated as promissory note.

3212. The drawer of a bill and any indorser may insert thereon the name of a person to whom the holder may resort in case of need, that is to say in case the bill is dishonored by nonacceptance or nonpayment. Such person is called the referee in case of need. It is in the option of the holder to resort to the referee in case of need or not as he may see fit. Referee in case of need.

ARTICLE II.

ACCEPTANCE.

- Section 3213. Acceptance; how made, etc.
 Section 3214. Holder entitled to acceptance on face of bill.
 Section 3215. Acceptance by separate instrument.
 Section 3216. Promise to accept; when equivalent to acceptance.
 Section 3217. Time allowed drawee to accept.
 Section 3218. Liability of drawee retaining or destroying bill.
 Section 3219. Acceptance of incomplete bill.
 Section 3220. Kinds of acceptances.
 Section 3221. What constitutes a general acceptance.
 Section 3222. Qualified acceptance.
 Section 3223. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptance.

Acceptance. 3213. The acceptance of a bill is the signification by the drawee of his assent to the order of the drawer. The acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawee. It must not express that the drawee will perform his promise by any other means than the payment of money.

3214. The holder of a bill presenting the same for acceptance may require that the acceptance be written on the bill and, if such request is refused, may treat the bill as dishonored.

3215. Where an acceptance is written on a paper other than the bill itself, it does not bind the acceptor except in favor of a person to whom it is shown and who, on the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

3216. An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value.

Time allowed drawee to accept.

3217. The drawee is allowed twenty-four hours after presentment, in which to decide whether or not he will accept the bill; but the acceptance, if given, dates as of the day of presentation.

3218. Where a drawee to whom a bill is delivered for acceptance destroys the same, or refuses within twenty-four hours after such delivery, or within such other period as the holder may allow, to return the bill accepted or nonaccepted to the holder, he will be deemed to have accepted the same.

Acceptance of incomplete bill.

3219. A bill may be accepted before it has been signed by the drawer, or while otherwise incomplete, or when it is overdue, or after it has been dishonored by a previous refusal to accept, or by nonpayment. But when a bill payable after sight is dishonored by nonacceptance and the drawee subsequently accepts it, the holder in the absence of any different agreement, is entitled to have the bill accepted as of the date of the first presentment.

Kinds of acceptance.

3220. An acceptance is either general or qualified. A general acceptance assents without qualification to the order of the drawer. A qualified acceptance in express terms varies the effect of the bill as drawn.

3221. An acceptance to pay at a particular place is a general acceptance, unless it expressly states that the bill is to be paid there only and not elsewhere. Kinds of acceptance.

3222. An acceptance is qualified, which is—

(1) Conditional, that is to say, which makes payment by the acceptor dependent on the fulfillment of a condition therein stated;

(2) Partial, that is to say, an acceptance to pay part only of the amount for which the bill is drawn;

(3) Local, that is to say, an acceptance to pay only at a particular place;

(4) Qualified as to time;

(5) The acceptance of some one or more of the drawees, but not of all.

3223. The holder may refuse to take a qualified acceptance, and if he does not obtain an unqualified acceptance, he may treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance. Where a qualified acceptance is taken the drawer and indorsers are discharged from liability on the bill, unless they have expressly or impliedly authorized the holder to take a qualified acceptance, or subsequently assent thereto. When the drawer or an indorser receives notice of a qualified acceptance, he must, within a reasonable time, express his dissent to the holder, or he will be deemed to have assented thereto. Rights of parties as to qualified acceptance.

ARTICLE III.

PRESENTMENT FOR ACCEPTANCE.

Section 3224. When presentment for acceptance must be made.

Section 3225. When failure to present releases drawer and indorser.

Section 3226. Presentment; how made.

Section 3227. On what days presentment may be made.

Section 3228. Presentment where time is insufficient.

Section 3229. Where presentment is excused.

Section 3230. When dishonored by nonacceptance.

Section 3231. Duty of holder where bill not accepted.

Section 3232. Rights of holder where bill not accepted.

3224. Presentment for acceptance must be made—

(1) Where the bill is payable after sight, or in any other case, where presentment for acceptance is necessary in order to fix the maturity of the instrument; or When presentment for acceptance must be made.

(2) Where the bill expressly stipulates that it shall be presented for acceptance; or

(3) Where the bill is drawn payable elsewhere than at the residence or place of business of the drawee.

In no other case is presentment for acceptance necessary in order to render any party to the bill liable.

3225. Except as herein otherwise provided, the holder of a bill which is required by the next preceding section to be presented for acceptance must either present it for acceptance or negotiate it within a reasonable time. If he fails to do so, the drawer and all indorsers are discharged.

When presentment for acceptance must be made.

3226. Presentment for acceptance must be made by or on behalf of the holder at a reasonable hour, on a business day and before the bill is overdue, to the drawee or some person, authorized to accept or refuse acceptance on his behalf; and—

(1) Where a bill is addressed to two or more drawees who are not partners, presentment must be made to them all, unless one has authority to accept or refuse acceptance for all, in which case presentment may be made to him only;

(2) Where the drawee is dead, presentment may be made to his personal representative;

(3) Where the drawee has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, presentment may be made to him or to his trustee or assignee.

3227. A bill may be presented for acceptance on any day on which negotiable instruments may be presented for payment under the provisions of sections three thousand one hundred fifty-four and three thousand one hundred sixty-seven. When Saturday is not otherwise a holiday, presentment for acceptance may be made before twelve o'clock, noon, on that day.

3228. Where the holder of a bill drawn payable elsewhere than at the place of business or the residence of the drawee has not time with the exercise of reasonable diligence to present the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment on the day that it falls due, the delay caused by presenting the bill for acceptance before presenting it for payment is excused and does not discharge the drawers and indorsers.

When presentment is excused.

3229. Presentment for acceptance is excused and a bill may be treated as dishonored by nonacceptance, in either of the following cases:

(1) Where the drawee is dead, or has absconded, or is a fictitious person or a person not having capacity to contract by bill;

(2) Where, after the exercise of reasonable diligence, presentment can not be made;

(3) Where, although presentment has been irregular, acceptance has been refused on some other ground.

Bill dishonored by non-acceptance.

3230. A bill is dishonored by nonacceptance—

(1) When it is duly presented for acceptance and such an acceptance as is prescribed by this title is refused or can not be obtained; or

(2) When presentment for acceptance is excused and the bill is not accepted.

3231. Where a bill is duly presented for acceptance and is not accepted within the prescribed time the person presenting it must treat the bill as dishonored by nonacceptance or he loses the right of recourse against the drawer and indorsers.

3232. When a bill is dishonored by nonacceptance, an immediate right of recourse against the drawers and indorsers accrues to the holder and no presentment for payment is necessary.

ARTICLE IV.

PROTEST.

Section 3233. In what cases protest necessary.

Section 3234. Protest; how made.

Section 3235. Protest; by whom made.

Section 3236. Protest; when to be made.

Section 3237. Protest; where made.

Section 3238. Protest both for nonacceptance and nonpayment.

Section 3239. Protest before maturity where acceptor insolvent.

Section 3240. When protest dispensed with.

Section 3241. Protest where bill is lost, etc.

3233. Where a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such In what cases protest necessary. is dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be duly protested for nonacceptance, and where such a bill which has not previously been dishonored by nonacceptance is dishonored by nonpayment, it must be duly protested for nonpayment. If it is not so protested, the drawer and indorsers are discharged. Where a bill does not appear on its face to be a foreign bill, protest thereof in case of dishonor is unnecessary.

3234. The protest must be annexed to the bill, or must contain a copy thereof and must be under the hand and seal of the notary making it, and must specify— How made.

(1) The time and place of presentment;

(2) The fact that presentment was made and the manner thereof;

(3) The cause or reason for protesting the bill;

(4) The demand made and the answer given, if any, or the fact that the drawee or acceptor could not be found.

3235. Protest may be made by—

(1) A notary public; or

(2) By any respectable resident of the place where the bill is dishonored, in the presence of two or more credible witnesses. By whom made.

3236. When a bill is protested, such protest must be made on the day of its dishonor, unless delay is excused as herein provided. When a bill has been duly noted, the protest may be subsequently extended as of the date of the noting. When made.

3237. A bill must be protested at the place where it is dishonored, except that when a bill drawn payable at the place of business, or residence of some person other than the drawee, has been dishonored by nonacceptance, it must be protested for nonpayment at the place where it is expressed to be payable, and no further presentment for payment to, or demand on, the drawee is necessary. Where made.

3238. A bill which has been protested for nonacceptance may be subsequently protested for nonpayment.

3239. Where the acceptor has been adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent, or has made an assignment for the benefit of creditors, before the bill matures, the holder may cause the bill to be protested for better security against the drawer and indorsers. Protest before maturity.

When dispensed with.

3240. Protest is dispensed with by any circumstances which would dispense with notice of dishonor. Delay in noting or protesting is excused when delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the holder and not imputable to his default, misconduct or negligence. When the cause of delay ceases to operate, the bill must be noted or protested with reasonable diligence.

When bill lost, etc.

3241. When a bill is lost or destroyed or is wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on a copy or written particulars thereof.

ARTICLE V.

ACCEPTANCE FOR HONOR.

Section 3242. When bill may be accepted for honor.

Section 3243. Acceptance for honor; how made.

Section 3244. When deemed to be an acceptance for honor of the drawer.

Section 3245. Liability of the acceptor for honor.

Section 3246. Agreement of acceptor for honor.

Section 3247. Maturity of bill payable after sight: accepted for honor, etc.

Section 3248. Protest of bill accepted for honor, etc.

Section 3249. Presentment for payment to acceptor for honor; how made.

Section 3250. When delay in making presentment is excused.

Section 3251. Dishonor of bill by acceptor for honor.

Acceptance
for honor.

3242. Where a bill of exchange has been protested for dishonor by nonacceptance or protested for better security, and is not overdue, any person not being a party already liable thereon may, with the consent of the holder, intervene and accept the bill supra protest for the honor of any party liable thereon, or for the honor of the person for whose account the bill is drawn. The acceptance for honor may be for the part only of the sum for which the bill is drawn; and where there has been an acceptance for honor for one party, there may be a further acceptance by a different person for the honor of another party.

How made.

3243. An acceptance for honor supra protest must be in writing, and indicate that it is an acceptance for honor, and must be signed by the acceptor for honor.

3244. Where an acceptance for honor does not expressly state for whose honor it is made, it is deemed to be an acceptance for the honor of the drawer.

Liability of
acceptor.

3245. The acceptor for honor is liable to the holder and to all parties to the bill subsequent to the party for whose honor he has accepted.

3246. The acceptor for honor, by such acceptance engages that he will on due presentment pay the bill according to the terms of his acceptance; provided, it shall not have been paid by the drawee: and provided, also, that it shall have been duly presented for payment and protested for nonpayment and notice of dishonor given him.

Bill payable after sight.

3247. Where a bill payable after sight is accepted for honor, its maturity is calculated from the date of the noting for non-acceptance and not from the date of the acceptance for honor.

3248. Where a dishonored bill has been accepted for honor Protest. supra protest or contains a reference in case of need, it must be protested for nonpayment before it is presented for payment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

3249. Presentment for payment to the acceptor for honor Presentment to acceptor. must be made as follows:

(1) If it is to be presented in the place where the protest for nonpayment was made, it must be presented not later than the day following its maturity.

(2) If it is to be presented in some other place than the place where it was protested, then it must be forwarded within the time specified in section three thousand one hundred eighty-six.

3250. The provisions of section three thousand one hundred sixty-three apply where there is delay in making presentment to the acceptor for honor or referee in case of need.

3251. When the bill is dishonored by the acceptor for honor it must be protested for nonpayment by him.

ARTICLE VI.

PAYMENT FOR HONOR.

Section 3252. Who may make payment for honor.

Section 3253. Payment for honor; how made.

Section 3254. Declaration before payment for honor.

Section 3255. Preference of parties offering to pay for honor.

Section 3256. Effect on subsequent parties where bill is paid for honor.

Section 3257. Where holder refuses to receive payment supra protest.

Section 3258. Rights of payer for honor.

3252. Where a bill has been protested for nonpayment, any person may intervene and pay it supra protest for the honor of any person liable thereon or for the honor of the person for whose account it was drawn. Payment for honor.

3253. The payment for honor supra protest in order to operate as such and not as a mere voluntary payment must be attested by a notarial act of honor which may be appended to the protest or form an extension to it.

3254. The notarial act of honor must be founded on a declaration made by the payer for honor or by his agent in that behalf declaring his intention to pay the bill for honor and for whose honor he pays. Declaration.

3255. Where two or more persons offer to pay a bill for the honor of different parties, the person whose payment will discharge most parties to the bill is to be given the preference. Preference of parties.

3256. Where a bill has been paid for honor, all parties subsequent to the party for whose honor it is paid are discharged, but the payer for honor is subrogated for, and succeeds to, both the rights and duties of the holder as regards the party for whose honor he pays and all parties liable to the latter. Subsequent parties discharged.

Right of
lost.

3257. Where the holder of a bill refuses to receive payment supra protest, he loses his right of recourse against any party who would have been discharged by such payment.

Right of payer for honor.

3258. The payer for honor, on paying to the holder the amount of the bill and the notarial expenses incidental to its dishonor, is entitled to receive both the bill itself and the protest.

ARTICLE VII.

BILLS IN A SET.

Section 3259. Bills in sets constitute one bill.

Section 3260. Right of holders where different parts are negotiated.

Section 3261. Liability of holder who indorses two or more parts of a set to different persons.

Section 3262. Acceptance of bills drawn in sets.

Section 3263. Payment by acceptor of bills drawn in sets.

Section 3264. Effect of discharging one of a set.

Bills in sets
one bill.

3259. Where a bill is drawn in a set, each part of the set being numbered and containing a reference to the other parts, the whole of the parts constitutes one bill.

Where different parts are negotiated.

3260. Where two or more parts of a set are negotiated to different holders in due course, the holder whose title first accrues is as between such holders the true owner of the bill. But nothing in this section affects the rights of a person who in due course accepts or pays the part first presented to him.

Liability of holder.

3261. Where the holder of a set indorses two or more parts to different persons he is liable on every such part, and every indorser subsequent to him is liable on the part he has himself indorsed, as if such parts were separate bills.

Acceptance.

3262. The acceptance may be written on any part and it must be written on one part only. If the drawee accepts more than one part, and such accepted parts are negotiated to different holders in due course, he is liable on every such part as if it were a separate bill.

Payment by acceptor.

3263. When the acceptor of a bill drawn in a set pays it without requiring the part bearing his acceptance to be delivered up to him, and that part at maturity is outstanding in the hands of a holder in due course, he is liable to the holder thereon.

Whole bill discharged.

3264. Except as herein otherwise provided where any one part of a bill drawn in a set is discharged by payment or otherwise the whole bill is discharged.

CHAPTER III.

PROMISSORY NOTES AND CHECKS.

ARTICLE I.

Section 3265. Promissory note defined.

Section 3265a. Check defined.

Section 3265b. Within what time a check must be presented.

Section 3265c. Certification of check ; effect of.

Section 3265*d*. Effect where the holder of check procures it to be certified.

Section 3265*e*. When check operates as an assignment.

3265. A negotiable promissory note within the meaning of this title is an unconditional promise in writing made by one person to another signed by the maker engaging to pay on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time, a sum certain in money to order or to bearer. Where a note is drawn to the maker's own order, it is not complete until indorsed by him. Promissory note defined.

3265*a*. A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank payable on demand. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of this title applicable to a bill of exchange payable on demand apply to a check. Check defined.

3265*b*. A check must be presented for payment within a reasonable time after its issue or the drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to the extent of the loss caused by the delay. Time for presenting check.

3265*c*. Where a check is certified by the bank on which it is drawn, the certification is equivalent to an acceptance. Certified check.

3265*d*. Where the holder of a check procures it to be accepted or certified the drawer and all indorsers are discharged from liability thereon.

3265*e*. A check of itself does not operate as an assignment of any part of the funds to the credit of the drawer with the bank, and the bank is not liable to the holder, unless and until it accepts or certifies the check. When check operates as assignment.

CHAPTER 752.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered one thousand eight hundred thirty-eight, relating to the powers and duties of the governing boards of school districts in levying taxes for building purposes.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered one thousand eight hundred thirty-eight is hereby added to the Political Code, to read as follows:

Estimate of amount needed for building purposes.

1838. The board of school trustees or the board of education of any school district or of any city, or city and county, may, at least fifteen days before the first day of the month in which the board of supervisors is required by law to levy the taxes required for county purposes, submit to the county superintendent of schools an estimate of any amount of money in excess of the amounts on hand and available for building purposes, which will be required for purchasing school lots, for building or purchasing one or more school buildings or making alterations or additions to any school building or buildings, for repairing, restoring or rebuilding any school building damaged, injured, or destroyed by fire, or other public calamity, for insuring school buildings, for supplying school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus or for improving school grounds, in their several districts for the ensuing school year, or for liquidating any indebtedness incurred for said purposes or any of them during the preceding school year.

Estimate of amount needed for building purposes.

The county superintendent of schools shall thereupon examine said estimates, and submit copies of the same with his approval or disapproval endorsed thereon, to the board of supervisors and to the county auditor at the time he submits to them his estimate for the county school tax for the ensuing school year. If the county superintendent of schools approve such estimate, the said board of supervisors may, at the time and in the manner of levying other taxes, levy and cause to be collected in the several school districts for which estimates have been submitted and approved as herein provided, the excess amounts so submitted and approved. The funds so levied and collected shall be known as the building fund of ----- school district (as the case may be), and shall be available for any or all of the purposes hereinbefore enumerated, and the moneys drawn from such fund shall be paid out in the same manner as are moneys from the building funds of school districts; provided, that the maximum rate of taxation which may be levied under this section shall not exceed fifteen cents on the one hundred dollars; provided, this section shall not be so construed as to repeal sections one thousand eight hundred thirty and one thousand eight hundred thirty-seven, inclusive, and one thousand eight hundred forty of the Political Code, or any part or parts thereof and any tax levied under the provisions of this section shall be in addition to any tax for maintenance levied under the provisions of section one thousand eight hundred forty of the Political Code.

An act to amend sections one and two of an act entitled "An act to prevent the supply of water dangerous to health for domestic purposes and to provide for the installation of sanitary water systems," approved June 13, 1913, so as to prevent the supply of water impure, unwholesome, unpotable or polluted for domestic purposes and to compel the furnishing of pure, wholesome and potable water supplies for domestic purposes.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1913,
p. 793.
1917,
p. 1282.

SECTION 1. Sections one and two of an act entitled "An act to prevent the supply of water dangerous to health for domestic purposes and to provide for the installation of sanitary water systems," approved June 13, 1913, are hereby amended to read as follows:

Unlawful to supply polluted
water.

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes which is impure, unwholesome, unpotable, polluted or dangerous to health, to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel, temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp.

Persons desiring to furnish water to file
petition.

Sec. 2. Whenever any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution shall desire to furnish or supply or to continue to furnish or supply water for domestic uses or purposes to any person in any county, city and county, municipal corporation, village, district, community, hotel, temporary or permanent resort, institution or industrial camp, or shall desire to install, add to, modify or alter any of the plant, works, system or sources of supply, it or he shall file as herein provided with the state board of health a petition for permission so to do, together with complete plans and specifications and a statement containing a general description and history of the existing or proposed water supply system of proposed changes therein showing the geographical location thereof with relation to, the source of the water supply and all the sanitary and health conditions surrounding and affecting said supply and the works, system and plant, such plans, specifications and general statement to be in such form and to cover such matters as the state board of health shall prescribe. Thereupon a thorough investigation of the proposed or existing works, system, plant, water supply and all other circumstances and conditions by it deemed to be material must be made by the state board of health; and provided, however, that no person, firm or corporation supplying water for domestic purposes or use on his or its private property upon which there is no industrial camp, hotel, temporary or permanent resort using said water, or supplying less than two hundred service connections, shall be required to apply for a permit under the provisions of this section, except upon formal complaint filed with the state board of health.

Investigation of works.

Exemption.

As a part of such investigation, and after ten days' notice by mail to the petitioner, a hearing or hearings may be had before said board or an examiner appointed by it for the purpose. At such hearing or hearings witnesses who testify shall be sworn by the person conducting the hearing, and evidence, oral and documentary, may be received, a record of which shall be made and filed with said board. Upon the completion of such investigation, said board:

Hearing

(a) If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or to be furnished or supplied is such that under all the circumstances and conditions it is impure, unwholesome or unpotable, or may constitute a menace or danger to the health or lives of human beings, or that under all the circumstances and conditions the existing or proposed works, system, plant or water supply, or proposed modifications therein, are unhealthful or insanitary, or not suited to the production and delivery of healthful, pure and wholesome water at all times, it shall deny the prayer of such petitioner, and said board shall order the petitioner to make such changes as it deems necessary to secure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome, potable and healthful water. Said board may order the appointing of a competent person, to be approved by the state board of health and paid by said petitioner, who shall take charge of and operate such plant or system so as to secure the results demanded by the state board of health; and it may order such repair, alteration or addition to the existing system, plant and works that the water furnished or supplied shall at all times be pure, wholesome, potable and shall not endanger the lives or health of human beings; and said board may order such changes of source of the water supply or installation of purification and refining works and such other measures as shall insure a continuous supply of pure, wholesome and potable water which shall not endanger the lives and health of human beings; which orders shall designate the period within which the required changes are to be made; provided, however, that a temporary permit may be issued by the state board of health for said period to permit the petitioner to comply with such order or orders.

Temporary permit.

When petition shall be granted.

Permits revocable.

Report may be required.

Persons without permit may be enjoined.

(b) If it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being furnished or supplied to such human beings is such, that under all the circumstances and conditions, it is pure, wholesome and potable and does not endanger the lives or health of human beings, it shall grant to petitioner a permit authorizing petitioner to furnish or continue to furnish or supply such water to such human beings; provided, however, that all permits issued hereunder shall be revocable or subject to suspension by said board at any time that it shall determine, as a fact, that the water being supplied or furnished is or may become impure, unwholesome or unpotable or does or will endanger the lives or health of human beings. The state board of health and its inspectors shall at any and all reasonable times have full power and authority to, and shall be permitted to, enter into and upon any and all places, property, inclosures and structures for the purpose of making and to make examinations and investigations to determine whether any provision of this act is being violated. The holder of any permit granted by said board under the provisions of this act may at any time by order of said board be required to furnish to said board, upon demand, a complete report upon the condition and operation of the water supply, plant, works or system owned, operated or controlled by it, which report shall be made by some competent person designated for the purpose by said board, and at the sole cost and expense of the holder of the permit. Any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality or other public body or institution who shall furnish or supply or continue to furnish or supply water used or intended to be used for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes, or shall install additions to, modifications or alterations in, any of the existing plant, works, system, or sources of supply without having an unrevoked permit from the state board of health so to do, as in this act provided, may be enjoined from so doing by any court of competent jurisdiction, at the suit of any person or persons, firm, corporation, municipal or other public corporation whose supply of water for human consumption or for domestic uses or purposes is taken, or received from, or supplied or furnished by any such water furnishing or distributing person, firm, corporation, public utility or municipality or other public body or institution, or it or he may be enjoined at the suit of the state board of health in the same manner. Anything done, maintained or suffered in violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed to be a public nuisance dangerous to health and may be summarily abated in the manner provided by law and it shall be the duty of all and every public officer or officers, body or bodies lawfully empowered so to do to immediately abate the same.

Public
nuisance.

Every person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer, employee or agent thereof upon whom the duty to act is cast, and every person who shall violate any provision or part thereof of this act, or who shall fail to obey, observe or comply with any direction, order, requirement or demand or any part or provision thereof of the state board of health, or who procures, aids, or abets any such person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution, or officer or employee or agent thereof, in any failure to obey or comply with the provisions of this act or the orders of the state board of health as provided in this act, shall become liable for and forfeit to the State of California the penal sum of not more than one thousand dollars for each separate offense. The continued existence of any violation of this act for each and every day beyond the time stipulated for compliance with any of its provisions or of any order of the state board of health as provided herein shall constitute a separate and distinct offense. All penalties are to be recovered by the state in civil action brought by the State of California and such penalties when collected shall be paid into the general fund of the state treasury.

violation.

Every officer, agent or employee of any person, firm, corporation, public utility, municipality, or other public body or institution or person who shall violate or fail to comply with any of the provisions of this act or the order of the state board of health or any part thereof, or who procures, aids or abets in any failure to observe and comply with any such provision, order, or part thereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine or imprisonment, for each offense. Each day's violation of this provision shall constitute a separate and distinct offense.

CHAPTER 755.

An act creating a state land settlement board and defining its powers and duties and making an appropriation in aid of its operations.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Importance of land
settlement.

SECTION 1. The legislature believes that land settlement is a problem of great importance to the welfare of all the people of the State of California and for that reason through this particular act endeavors to improve the general economic and social conditions of agricultural settlers within the state and of the people of the state in general.

State Land settlement board created.

SEC. 2. With the object of promoting closer agricultural settlement, assisting deserving and qualified persons to acquire small improved farms, providing homes for farm laborers, increasing opportunities under the federal farm loan act, and demonstrating the value of adequate capital and organized direction in subdividing and preparing agricultural land for settlement, there is hereby created a state land settlement board to consist of five members appointed by the governor to hold office for a term of four years and until their successors have been appointed and shall have qualified; provided, however, that of the members first appointed two shall be appointed to hold office until the first day in January, nineteen hundred eighteen, one until the first day in January, nineteen hundred nineteen, one until the first day in January, nineteen hundred twenty, and one until the first day in January, nineteen hundred twenty-one.

Term.

Per diem and expenses.

The members of the board shall receive a per diem for each meeting attended, to be fixed by the state board of control with the approval of the governor; they shall also receive their actual, necessary traveling expenses in the discharge of their duties.

Officers.

Superintendent

The board shall elect its own chairman and secretary. The secretary may or may not be a member of the board. The board shall appoint a superintendent who shall be the general executive officer of the board, and such expert, technical, and clerical assistance as may prove necessary, and shall define their duties. It shall fix the salaries of all officers and other employees, with the approval of the state board of control.

Body corporate.

SEC. 3. The state land settlement board, hereinafter called the board, shall constitute a body corporate with the right on behalf of the state to hold property, receive and request donations, sue and be sued, and all other rights provided by the constitution and laws of the State of California as belonging to bodies corporate.

Three members of the board shall constitute a quorum and such quorum may exercise all the power and authority conferred on the board by this act. Quorum.

SEC. 4. For the purposes of this act the board may in the manner hereinafter provided acquire on behalf of the state agricultural lands in California that are susceptible of intensive culture and suitable for colonization in an area of not more than ten thousand acres, together with any water rights and rights of way desirable or necessary therefor, and shall without delay improve, subdivide and sell such lands with appurtenant water rights to approved bona fide settlers under the conditions and in the manner hereinafter provided; provided, that, with the approval of the governor, the board shall have the authority to set aside for townsite purposes a suitable area purchased under the provisions of this act and to subdivide such area and sell or lease the same for cash, in lots of such size, and with such restrictions as to resale, as, with the approval of the governor, they shall deem best; and provided, further, that the board shall have authority to set aside and dedicate to public use such area or areas as it may deem desirable for roads, schoolhouses, churches, or other public purposes. Agricultural lands to be acquired and sold.

SEC. 5. Whenever the board believes that private land should be purchased for settlement under this act, it shall give notice by publication in one or more newspapers of general circulation in this state, setting forth the area and character of the land desired and the conditions that shall govern such proposed purchase, and inviting owners of lands believed to be suitable, and who are willing to enter into a contract for the sale of such lands on the conditions proposed, to submit such lands for inspection. Purchase of private lands.

SEC. 6. Within thirty days thereafter the board shall direct an officer or officers in its employ, or one or more persons who may at its request be designated by the dean of the college of agriculture of the University of California, to inspect and report on all tracts of land suitable for closer settlement which are so submitted. Inspection of tracts.

SEC. 7. The board shall give not less than one week's notice of the approximate date when tracts submitted will be inspected and every report of such inspection shall as far as practicable specify the— Report of inspection.

- (a) Situation and brief description thereof;
- (b) Extent and situation of land comprising so much of any tract as it is proposed to acquire;
- (c) Names and addresses of the owners thereof;
- (d) Character of water rights;
- (e) Nature of improvements;
- (f) Crops being grown on land;
- (g) Appraisalment of value of land, water rights and improvements.

SEC. 8. On receiving the reports on all of the land examined the board shall decide which of the areas is best Decision.

sued to the purposes of this act. Before so deciding the board may examine the land, or it may employ one or more competent valuers to fix the productive value of the land and report the same in writing; the owner or his agent may give evidence as to its value.

Purchase.

SEC. 9. If from the evidence submitted or from the results of its personal inspection the board is satisfied that one or more of the tracts submitted are suited to intensive closer settlement and can be acquired at a reasonable price, it shall submit to the governor its report, giving the reasons for recommending the purchase, and on the approval of the governor the board shall be authorized to purchase the same; provided, that before such purchase is made, the attorney general shall approve the title of such lands and any water rights appurtenant thereto, and the president of the state water commission shall certify in writing as to the sufficiency of any water rights to be conveyed.

Control by board until moneys advanced repaid.

SEC. 10. All purchases of land under this act shall be made under such terms and conditions as shall give to the board full control of any subdivisions thereof until all moneys advanced by the state for the purchase, improvement, or equipment of such subdivisions are fully repaid, together with interest thereon as herein provided.

Subdivision.

SEC. 11. Immediately upon taking possession of any land purchased as above, and after deducting any areas to be set aside for townsites or public purposes in accordance with section four of this act, the board shall subdivide it into areas suitable for farms and farm laborers' allotments, and lay out, and where necessary, construct roads, ditches, and drains for giving access to and insuring the proper cultivation of the several farms and allotments. The board, prior to disposing of it to settlers, or at any time after such land has been disposed of, but not after the end of the fifth year from the commencement of the term of the settler's purchase contract, may—

Improvement of land.

(a) Prepare all or any part of such land for irrigation and cultivation;

(b) Seed, plant, or fence such land, and cause dwelling houses and outbuildings to be erected on any farm allotment or make any other improvements not specified above necessary to render the allotment habitable and productive in advance of or after settlement, the total cost of such dwellings, outbuildings, and improvements not to exceed one thousand five hundred ($1,500) dollars on any one farm allotment;

(c) Cause cottages to be erected on any farm laborer's allotment and provide a domestic water supply, the combined cost of the cottage and water supply not to exceed eight hundred ($800) dollars on any one farm laborer's allotment;

Loans.

(d) Make loans to approved settlers on the security of stock and farm implements, such loans to be secured by mortgage or mortgages on such stock or farm implements, and the total amount of any such loan, together with money spent by the board on improvements as above specified, not to exceed three thousand dollars on any one farm allotment.

SEC. 12. Authority is hereby granted to the board, where deemed desirable, to operate and maintain any irrigation works constructed to serve any lands purchased and sold under the provisions of this act. All moneys received in tolls or charges for the operation and maintenance of any works or for any water supplied therefrom, shall be deposited in the land settlement fund created by this act and shall become available for the payment of any costs, expenses, or other charges authorized in this act to be paid from said land settlement fund.

SEC. 13. After the purchase of land by the board under the provisions of this act and before its disposal to approved bona fide applicants the board shall have authority to lease such land or a part thereof on bonded or secured lease on such terms as it shall deem fit.

SEC. 14. Lands disposed of under this act, other than lands set aside for townsites or public purposes, shall be sold either as farm allotments, each of which shall have a value not exceeding, without improvements, fifteen thousand dollars, or as a farm laborer's allotments, each of which shall have a value not exceeding, without improvements, four hundred dollars. Before any part of an area is thrown open for settlement there shall be public notice thereof for thirty days in one or more daily newspapers of general circulation in the state, setting forth the number and size of farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments, or both, the prices at which they are offered for sale, the minimum amount of capital a settler will be required to have, the mode of payment, the amount of cash payment required, and such other particulars as the board may think proper and specifying a definite period within which applications therefor shall be filed with the board on forms provided by the board. The board shall have the right in its uncontrolled discretion to reject any or all applications it may see fit and may readvertise as aforesaid as often as it sees fit until it receives and accepts such number of applications as it may deem necessary.

SEC. 15. Any citizen of the United States, or any person who has declared his intention of becoming a citizen of the United States, and who is not the holder of agricultural land or of possessory rights thereto to the value of fifteen thousand dollars, and who by this purchase would not become the holder of agricultural land or of possessory rights thereto exceeding such value, and who is prepared to enter within six months upon actual occupation of the land acquired, may apply for and become the purchaser of either a farm allotment or a farm laborer's allotment; provided, that no more than one farm allotment or more than one farm laborer's allotment shall be sold to any one person; provided, further, that no applicant shall be approved who shall not satisfy the SEC. 16. Within ten days after the final date set for receiving applications for either farm allotments or farm laborer's allotments the board shall meet to consider the applications, and may request applicants to appear in person; provided, that the board shall have the power and the uncontrolled discretion to reject any or all applications.

Selling prices.

SEC. 17. The selling prices of the several allotments into which lands purchased under this act are subdivided, other than those set aside for townsite and public purposes, shall be fixed by the board, so as to render such allotments as nearly as possible equally attractive, and calculated to return to the state the original cost of the land, together with a sufficient sum added thereto to cover all expenses and costs of surveying, improving, subdividing, and selling such lands, including the payment of interest, and all costs of engineering, superintendence, and administration, including the cost of operating any works built, directly chargeable to such land, and also the price of so much land as shall on subdivision be used for roads and other public purposes, and also such sum as shall be deemed necessary to meet unforeseen contingencies.

Contract of purchase.

SEC. 18. Every approved applicant shall enter into a contract of purchase with the board, which contract shall among other things provide that the purchaser shall pay as a cash deposit a sum equal to five per cent of the sale price of the allotment and in addition not less than ten per cent of the cost of any improvements made thereon, and, unless prepared to pay one-half of the purchase price in cash, such applicant shall enter into an agreement to make an immediate application for a loan from the federal farm loan bank under the provisions of the federal farm loan act for an amount equal to fifty per cent of the appraised value of the land and twenty per cent of the value of the improvements thereon, and shall pay the amount of any loan so made to the board as a partial payment on such land and improvements. The balance due on the land shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding forty years, together with interest therefor at the rate of five per cent per annum. The amount due on improvements shall be paid in amortizing payments extending over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding twenty years, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum. The repayment of loans made on live stock or implements shall extend over a period to be fixed by the board not exceeding five years; provided, however, in each case, that the settler shall have the right on any installment date after five years from the first payment, but not before, to pay any or all installments still remaining unpaid.

Calculation of installments.

SEC. 19. The number and amount of yearly or half yearly installments of principal and interest to be paid to the board under contracts of purchase shall be calculated according to any table adopted or approved by the federal farm loan board.

SEC. 20. Every contract entered into between the board and an approved purchaser shall contain among other things provisions that the purchaser shall cultivate the land in a manner to be approved by the board and shall keep in good order and repair all buildings, fences, and other permanent improvements situated on his allotment, reasonable wear and tear and damage by fire excepted. Each settler shall, if required, insure and keep insured against fire all buildings on his allotment, the policies therefor to be made out in favor of the board and to be such amount or amounts and in such insurance companies as may be prescribed by the board.

Cultivation of land.

Insurance.

SEC. 21. No allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall be transferred, assigned, mortgaged, or sublet in whole or in part, within five years after the date of such contract without the consent of the board given in writing. At the expiration of five years after the purchase of an allotment, if the board is satisfied that all covenants and conditions of the contract covering such allotment purchase have been complied with, the purchaser may, with the written consent of the board, transfer, assign, mortgage, sublet, or part with the possession of the whole or any part of the allotment covered by such contract.

Consent to
allotment.

In the event of a failure of a settler to comply with any of the terms of his contract of purchase and agreement with the board, the state and the board shall have the right at its option to cancel the said contract of purchase and agreement and thereupon shall be released from all obligation in law or equity to convey the property and the settler shall forfeit all right thereto and all payments theretofore made shall be deemed to be rental paid for occupancy. The failure of the board or the state to exercise any option to cancel for any default shall not be deemed as a waiver of the right to exercise the option to cancel for any default thereafter on the settler's part. But no forfeiture so occasioned by default on the part of the settler shall be deemed in any way, or to any extent, to impair the lien and security of the mortgage or trust instrument securing any loan that it may have made as in this act provided. The board shall have the right and power to enter into a contract of purchase for the sale and disposition of any land forfeited as above provided, because of default on the part of a settler.

Cancellation
of contract

SEC. 23. Actual residence on any allotment sold under the provisions of this act shall commence within six months from the date of the approval of the application and shall continue for at least eight months in each calendar year for at least ten years from the date of the approval of the said application, unless prevented by illness or some other cause satisfactory to the board; provided, that in case any farm allotment disposed of under this act is returned to and resold by the state, the time of residence of the preceding purchaser may in the discretion of the board be credited to the subsequent purchaser.

Residence.

Condemnation of water rights and rights of way.

SEC. 24. The power of eminent domain shall be exercised by the state at the request of the board for the condemnation of water rights and rights of way for roads, canals, ditches, dams, and reservoirs necessary or desirable for carrying out the provisions of this act, and on request of the board the attorney general shall bring the necessary and appropriate proceedings authorized by law for such condemnation of said water rights or rights of way, and the cost of all water rights or rights of way so condemned shall be paid out of the land settlement fund hereinafter provided for. The board shall have full authority to appropriate water under the laws of the state when such appropriation is necessary or desirable for carrying out the purposes of this act.

Appropriation of water.

Appropriation.

"Land settlement fund."

Administrative expenses.

SEC. 25. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act the sum of two hundred sixty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated. Of this amount, the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars shall constitute a revolving fund to be known as the "land settlement fund," which is calculated to be returned to the state with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum within a period of fifty years from the date of the passage of this act. The remaining ten thousand dollars shall constitute a fund available for the payment of administrative expenses alone until such time as other moneys are available for such purposes from the sales of land as provided for in this act. The state controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw warrants upon such funds from time to time upon requisition of the board approved by the state board of control, and the state treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants.

Advances by board of control.

SEC. 26. The state board of control is hereby authorized to provide for advances of money to the board needed to meet contingent expenses to such an amount, not exceeding five thousand dollars as the said board of control shall deem necessary.

SEC. 27. The money paid by settlers on lands, improvements, or in the repayment of advances, shall be deposited in the land settlement fund and be available under the same conditions as the original appropriation for the following purposes:

(a) Making improvements on land being prepared for settlement;

(b) Making advances to settlers; and

(c) Completing payments on lands purchased; provided, that when these expenditures on an area of ten thousand acres shall have been completed, then all moneys received shall be paid into the state treasury and used to reimburse the state for the land settlement fund created by this act.

Rules and regulations.

SEC. 28. The board with the approval of the governor shall have authority to make all needed rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 29. The board is hereby authorized to investigate land settlement conditions in California and elsewhere and to submit recommendations for such legislation as may be deemed by it necessary or desirable.

Investigation of land settlement conditions.

SEC. 30. The act of the legislature entitled "An act providing for the appointment of a commission to investigate and report at the forty-second session of the legislature relative to the adoption of a system of land colonization and rural credits and making an appropriation therefor," approved May 17, 1915, is hereby repealed.

An act to amend section three hundred forty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the limitation of time within which to bring actions where money is deposited in a bank

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three hundred forty-eight of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

348. To actions brought to recover money or other property deposited with any bank, banker, trust company, building and loan association, or savings and loan society there is no limitation.

No limitation to certain actions.

This section shall not apply to banks, bankers, trust companies, building and loan associations, and savings and loan societies which have become insolvent and are in process of liquidation and in such cases the statute of limitations shall be deemed to have commenced to run from the beginning of the process of liquidation; provided, however, nothing herein contained shall be construed so as to relieve any stockholder of any banking corporation or trust company from stockholder's liability as shall, at any time, be provided by law.

Not applicable to banks, etc.

13. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified according to their population, as shown by the total number of registered voters, in each township, at the next preceding general election, prior to the fixing of the classification, the said population to be determined by multiplying the said total number of registered voters by three; townships having a population of fifteen thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of eight thousand and less than fifteen thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of three thousand and less than eight thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand and less than three thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of less than one thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class; provided, that the board of supervisors of the county may, prior to any general election, consolidate two or more of such townships into one.

Classification of townships.

13a. Justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred forty dollars per month; in townships of the second class, eighty dollars per month; in townships of the third class, fifty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, thirty dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, twenty dollars per month. Each justice must pay into the county treasury once a month all fees and fines collected Justices of the peace.

by him. Justices of the peace of the first class are required to keep their offices open from nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m. In townships of the first, second and third classes the board of supervisors shall furnish adequate office room, in all other townships all justices shall be allowed not to exceed five dollars per month for office rent. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

Constables

14. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as the county officers are paid, which shall be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships of the first class, one hundred twenty-five dollars; in townships of the second class, one hundred dollars; in townships of the third class, eighty dollars; in townships of the fourth class, sixty dollars; in townships of the fifth class, forty dollars. In addition to the monthly salaries herein allowed, each constable may receive and retain for his own use, such fees as are now allowed or may hereafter be allowed by law, for all services rendered by him in civil actions, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited and allowed by the board of supervisors, and paid out of the county treasury; provided, further, that when a constable is required to go out of his own county to serve a warrant of arrest or any other papers in a criminal case, he shall be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or to prison, which expenses shall be audited by the board of supervisors. These salaries shall also apply to incumbents.

Supervisors.

15. Supervisors shall receive the sum of seven hundred twenty dollars per annum, each, and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile for each mile traveled in coming to and from the meetings of the board; provided, that only one mileage at any one session of the board shall be allowed. They shall act as road commissioners in their respective districts, and shall therefor receive for their services as such road commissioners the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, and mileage at the rate of fifteen cents per mile each, one way, for all distances actually traveled by them in the discharging of their duties as such road commissioners; provided, that said expense as road commissioners shall not exceed the sum of seven hundred eighty dollars per annum for any of the commissioners. The change in compensation hereby made is not an increase in compensation of a county officer and shall become operative as soon as this act takes effect.

County Librarian.

15a. There is created for counties of the twenty-fifth class a county librarian, who shall be appointed by the board of supervisors for a term of four years and shall receive a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, to be paid at the time and in the manner as other county officers.

Witnesses.

16. Witnesses in criminal cases and in cases of dependent and delinquent persons shall receive two dollars per day, and ten cents per mile for each mile actually traveled, one way only. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same. The court may disallow any fee to a witness unnecessarily subpoenaed.

17. Jurors in a county of this class, both grand and petty jurors in the superior court, shall each receive for each day's attendance, per day, the sum of three dollars, and for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residence to the county seat in going only, the sum of twenty cents per mile, such mileage to be allowed but once during each session such jurors are required to attend. The court shall make an order directing the auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasury for the amount due, and the treasurer shall pay the same.

This act to go into effect immediately, and apply to all present incumbents, except as hereinbefore provided and excepted.

CHAPTER 758.

An act to define real estate brokers, agents, salesmen, solicitors; to provide for the regulation, supervision, and licensing thereof; to create the office of real estate commissioner and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, copartnership, or corporation to engage in the business or act in the capacity of a real estate broker or a real estate salesman within this state without first obtaining a license therefor.

License for
business

SEC. 2. A real estate broker within the meaning of this act is a person, copartnership or corporation who for a compensation sells or offers for sale, buys or offers to buy or negotiates the purchase or sale or exchange of real estate, or who, for compensation negotiates loans on real estate, leases or offers to lease, rents or places for rent or collects rent from real estate or improvements thereon for others as a whole or partial vocation.

broker.

A real estate salesman within the meaning of this act is one who is employed by a licensed broker to sell or offer for sale, or to buy or offer to buy, or to negotiate the purchase or sale or exchange of real estate, or to negotiate a loan on real estate, or to lease or offer to lease, rent or place for rent any real estate as a whole or partial vocation.

Real estate
salesman.

The provisions of this act shall not apply to any person, copartnership or corporation who shall perform any of the of act.

Application
of act.

acts aforesaid with reference to the buying, selling or exchanging of property owned by such person, copartnership or corporation, or renting, collecting rents, or negotiating a loan on such property; nor shall the provisions of this act apply to salaried employees other than salesmen or solicitors of a licensed real estate broker; and provided, further, that the provisions of this act shall not apply to persons holding a duly executed power of attorney from the owner for the sale of real estate, nor shall this act be construed to interfere in any way with services rendered by an attorney-at-law, nor shall it be held to include a receiver, trustee in bankruptcy, or any person selling real estate under order of any court, nor to a trustee selling under a deed of trust, nor apply to any corporations, associations, copartnerships, companies, firms and individuals now or hereafter subject to the jurisdiction or authority of the railroad commission, nor to corporations now or hereafter organized under the laws of this state for the purpose of conducting the business of banking within this state, nor to corporations, associations, copartnerships, companies, firms and individuals after they have secured from the insurance commissioner or the bureau of building and loan supervision a certificate of authority or license to do business within this state, nor to corporations, associations, copartnerships or companies, subject to federal regulation or not organized for profit, nor to mutual water companies and irrigation districts.

Act constituting person, etc.,
a broker.

One act, for a compensation, of buying or selling real estate of or for another or offering for another to buy or sell, or exchange real estate, or to negotiate a loan on or to lease or rent real estate, or to collect rent therefrom for a compensation shall constitute the person, copartnership or corporation making such offer, sale or purchase, exchange or lease, or negotiating said loan or so renting or collecting said rent, a real estate broker within the meaning of this act.

State real estate commissioner's
department.

SEC. 3. There is hereby created a state real estate commissioner's department. The chief officer of such department shall be the commissioner. He shall be appointed by the governor and hold office at the pleasure of the governor. He shall receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars, to be paid monthly out of the state treasury upon a warrant of the controller. He shall within fifteen days from the time of notice of his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state and execute to the people of the state a bond in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars with corporate security or two or more sureties, to be approved by the governor of the state, for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.

Salary.

Oath.

Bond.

Clerks and deputies.

The real estate commissioner shall employ such clerks and deputies as he may need to discharge in proper manner the duties imposed upon him by law. Neither the real estate commissioner nor any of his clerks or deputies shall be interested in any real estate company, or real estate broker, as director, stockholder, officer, member, agent or employee. Such clerks and deputies shall perform such duties as the real estate commissioner shall assign to them. He shall fix the compensation of such clerks and deputies which compensation shall be paid monthly on the certificate of the real state commissioner, and on the warrant of the controller out of the state treasury; provided, however, that the total expenditures provided for in this act shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars per annum. Each deputy shall after his appointment take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office and file the same in the office of the secretary of state.

The real estate commissioner shall have his office in the city of Sacramento and he shall from time to time obtain the necessary furniture, stationery, fuel, light and other proper conveniences for the transaction of business, the expenses of which shall be paid out of the state treasury on the certificate of the real estate commissioner and the warrant of the controller, drawn upon the real estate commissioner's fund hereinafter provided.

Sacramento.

A fund is hereby created to be known as the "real estate commissioner's fund," and out of said fund shall be paid all the expenses incurred in and about the conduct of the business of the real estate commissioner, including the salary of the commissioner and his clerks and deputies, traveling expenses, furnishing rooms and rent. All moneys collected or received by the real estate commissioner under and by virtue of the provisions of this act shall be delivered by him to the treasurer of the state, who shall deposit the same to the credit of said real estate commissioner's fund. And all such funds so deposited or such part thereof as may be necessary for the purposes of this act are hereby appropriated to the use of the real estate commissioner's fund for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the real estate commissioner semiannually to certify under oath to the state treasurer and secretary of state the total amount of receipts and expenditures of the real estate commissioner's department for the six months preceding. All fees and payments of every description required by this act to be paid to the real estate commissioner shall be paid by him to the state treasurer on the first day of each week following their receipt.

"Real estate
commissioner's fund"
created.

The real estate commissioner shall adopt a seal with the words "Real Estate Commissioner, State of California," and such other device as the commissioner may desire engraved thereon, by which he shall authenticate the proceedings of his office. Copies of all records and papers in the office of the real estate commissioner's department shall be received in evidence in all cases equally and with like effect as the originals.

Seal.

SEC. 4. Said commissioner shall have the advice and assistance of one assistant attorney general whenever he shall require the same in the prosecution of matters pertaining to assistance.

this act, and the commissioner shall have full power to regulate and control the issuance and revocation, both temporary and permanent, of licenses, and to perform all other acts and duties under the provisions of this act.

Limitations on license.

SEC. 5. No real estate license shall give authority to do any act in connection with the real estate business to any person, copartnership or corporation other than those to whom said license is issued, and to the regular employees of said person, copartnership or corporation; provided, however, that when a license is issued to a corporation the officers thereof other than the president shall be required to obtain a license if engaged in the real estate business as a whole or partial vocation; and provided, further, that when a license is granted to a copartnership the members of said firm or association shall each be required to obtain a separate license, except as provided in section eight hereof.

Application
for license.

SEC. 6. Applications for such licenses shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, which application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of two real estate owners of the county in which such applicant resides certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good moral character and recommending that a license be granted the applicant. If the applicant shall have resided less than one year in the county from which the application is made, then he shall be required to give satisfactory proof that his standing is above reproach and that his record for honesty and fair dealing is clear in his former place or places of business. The real estate commissioner may require such other sufficient and satisfactory proof as to him may seem desirable in reference to the character of any applicant for license, or of the officers of any corporation, or the members of any firm making such application before authorizing the issuance of a license. Every such application shall state the name of the person, firm or corporation, and the location of the place or places of business for which such license is desired.

salesmen.

Application for licenses as salesmen shall be made in writing to the real estate commissioner, signed by the applicant, setting forth the period of time during which he has been engaged in the business, stating the name of his last employer and the name of the firm then employing him or in whose employ he is to enter. The application shall be accompanied by the recommendation of his employer, if employed, certifying that the applicant is honest, truthful and of good moral character, and recommending that the license be granted to the applicant. The real estate commissioner may require such other sufficient and satisfactory proof as to him may seem desirable in reference to the character of any applicant for license.

Broker's
license.

SEC. 7. All applicants for a broker's license shall, in addition to such recommendation, file with the said real estate commissioner a satisfactory bond to the people of the State of California, duly executed by a sufficient surety or sureties, to be approved by said commissioner, in the amount of one thousand dollars conditioned for the faithful performance by such broker of any undertaking as a licensed real estate broker under this act, and on application of any person injured by the failure of a real estate broker to perform his duties or comply with the provisions of this act, the real estate commissioner may grant to such applicant, in his discretion, the right to prosecute such bond in the name of said real estate commissioner. It shall be the duty of the real estate commissioner to see that such bond remains and is kept good.

When any salesman or solicitor shall be discharged by his employer for dishonest dealing, a written statement of the facts in reference thereto shall be filed forthwith with the real estate commissioner, by the employer. Any person injured by dishonest dealing on the part of any salesman or solicitor, or who has personal knowledge of dishonest practice on the part of any salesman or solicitor, may communicate the facts in reference thereto to the real estate commissioner. If, after notifying such salesman or solicitor thereof and affording him an opportunity to be heard concerning the same, it appears to the real estate commissioner that said salesman or solicitor is guilty as charged, said real estate commissioner shall at once revoke his license and he shall not be entitled to receive any license as salesman or broker for a period of two years thereafter.

Revocation
of license.

SEC. 8. The fees for license shall be as follows:

Fees for licenses.

(1) For a broker's license, an annual fee of ten dollars.

(2) For a corporation, the annual fee shall be ten dollars and said license shall entitle the president of said corporation to engage in the real estate business within the meaning of this act. For officers other than the president of a corporation, who shall engage in the real estate business within the meaning of this act, the annual fee shall be two dollars.

(3) For a copartnership, the annual fee shall be ten dollars, and the license issued to said copartnership shall entitle one member of said copartnership to engage in the real estate business within the meaning of this act. For each other member of such copartnership the annual fee shall be two dollars.

(4) For salesmen and solicitors, the annual fee shall be two dollars.

Said license fee shall accompany the application and bond herein provided for, and no license shall be issued for a less period than one year.

It shall be unlawful for any licensed broker to pay a commission for performing any of the acts herein specified to any person who is not a licensed broker, except a licensed salesman or solicitor directly in the employ of a licensed broker, who shall then receive the same only through or from his employer, and except to a regular salaried employee who has been employed for not less than six months by such broker.

Acts for
license may be suspended or revoked.

SEC. 9. The real estate commissioner shall have the power to temporarily suspend or permanently revoke licenses issued under the provisions of this act at any time where the holder thereof in performing or attempting to perform any of the acts mentioned in section two hereof is guilty of—

(a) Making any substantial misrepresentation, or

(b) Making any false promises of a character likely to influence, persuade or induce, or

(c) A continued and flagrant course of misrepresentation or making of false promises through agents, salesmen, or solicitors, or

(d) Acting for more than one party in the transaction without the knowledge or consent of all parties thereto, or

(e) Any other conduct, whether of the same or a different character than herein above specified, which in the opinion of said commissioner is contrary to good business morals.

Notice to holder.

Before suspending or revoking any license the said commissioner shall notify, in writing, the holder of such license of the charges against such holder of such license and afford an opportunity to be heard in person or by counsel in reference thereto. The decision of the said commissioner in revoking any license under this act shall be subject to review, however, as follows:

Review of decision.

An appeal may be taken from any decision of the real estate commissioner under this act by filing with the clerk of the superior court of the State of California, in and for the county in which the person affected by this decision resides or has his place of business under the terms of this act, a certified transcript of all papers in the office of the commissioner relating to such decision, and all evidence taken on the hearing. It shall be the duty of the said commissioner to make and certify to said transcript upon payment to him of a fee of ten cents for each folio and one dollar for the certification. The court shall, upon such appeal, be limited to a consideration of the question whether there has been abuse of discretion on the part of the real estate commissioner in making such decision.

Notice of change of location.

SEC. 10. If, after the issuance and delivery of a license to any broker under the provisions of this act, any change shall be made in the place or places of business covered thereby, no such business shall be carried on in any other location until notice of change of location shall be given in writing to the commissioner, and each person, firm or corporation so licensed under the provisions of this act shall be required to have and maintain an office in the state for the transaction of business.

Penalty for violation.

SEC. 11. Any person or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, if a person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed the sum of two thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail or state prison for a term not to exceed two years, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court, or if a corporation, be punished by a fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars.

SEC. 12. The said commissioner shall receive, consider and investigate all verified complaints made in writing as to the action of any person, copartnership, corporation, or salesman or solicitor engaged in the real estate business, whether licensed or unlicensed. If such person, copartnership, corporation, or salesman or solicitor engaged in the real estate business shall not be licensed, then such commissioner shall cause such person, copartnership, corporation, or salesman or solicitor to be prosecuted under the terms of this act: or, if any person shall prove to be a licensed broker or salesman or solicitor under the terms of this act, and be found guilty of improper dealing, the said commissioner shall have the power to discipline said broker or salesman or solicitor either by a temporary suspension of the license, or by the revocation thereof, as hereinabove provided. The said commissioner shall have the power to subpoena and bring before him any person within the state for the purpose of his investigation, or take the testimony of any such person by deposition in the same manner as prescribed by law in judicial procedure in the courts of this state in civil cases.

Investigation of complaints.

No unlawful act or violation of any of the provisions of this act on the part of any salesman, solicitor or employee of any licensed broker in this state shall cause the revocation of the license, partial or otherwise, of the employer of said salesman, solicitor or employee, unless it shall appear to the satisfaction of said commissioner that said employer had guilty knowledge thereof.

Employer's license not affected by employer's violation

SEC. 13. The licenses herein provided for when issued shall be prominently displayed in the office of the real estate broker, and no license issued hereunder shall authorize the licensee to do business except from the location stipulated in the license, and the change of business location without notification to the commissioner and the issuance by him of a new license (which shall be without additional charge) shall automatically cancel the license theretofore issued.

License displayed.

SEC. 14. The governor may appoint the state real estate commissioner as hereinbefore provided, or he may, from time to time, designate and appoint the commissioner of corporations to act as said real estate commissioner, and in that case, all the powers and duties by this act provided for such real estate commissioner shall devolve and be imposed upon said commissioner of corporations. and said commissioner of corporations shall receive for his said services as real estate commissioner, the sum of one thousand dollars per year in addition to the salary provided for by law for said commissioner of corporations, which said additional salary shall be paid out of the "real estate commissioner's fund" provided for herein.

Commissioner of corporations may act

The secretary of the state mining bureau shall receive for his services in connection with the department of petroleum and gas, a sum not to exceed six hundred dollars annually, which sum shall be in addition to his compensation paid from the funds of the state mining bureau. Secretary's added compensation

The supervisor shall receive an annual salary of six thousand dollars, and shall be allowed his necessary traveling expenses. The state mineralogist may, at the request of the state oil and gas supervisor, and subject to the civil service laws of the state, appoint one chief clerk at a salary of not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually; twelve office assistants or stenographers each at a salary not to exceed one thousand two hundred dollars annually; four geological draftsmen each at a salary not to exceed one thousand five hundred dollars annually; four petroleum engineers each at a salary not to exceed two thousand four hundred dollars annually; twelve inspectors each at a salary not to exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars annually. Supervisor's salary.

The additional salary herein authorized to be paid to the state mineralogist and the secretary of the state mining bureau and the salaries of the supervisor and of the deputies, clerks, stenographers, assistants and other employees shall be paid out of the funds hereinafter provided for at the times and in the manner that salaries of other state officers and employees are paid.

SEC. 2. Section four of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1405.

Sec. 4. It shall be the duty of the state oil and gas supervisor to appoint one chief deputy and five field deputies, one for each of the districts hereinafter provided for and prescribe their duties and fix their compensation, which shall not exceed four thousand dollars per annum for the chief deputy and not to exceed three thousand six hundred dollars per annum for each field deputy. Such deputies shall serve during the pleasure of the supervisor. He shall also employ an attorney at a compensation not exceeding three thousand dollars per year, payable out of said fund, who shall also be attorney for each district board of commissioners; such commissioners may allow additional compensation to such attorney in actual litigation. The supervisor, the deputies and the attorney shall not be subject to the civil service act. Deputies.

SEC. 3. Section five of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1405.

Sec. 5. Each deputy appointed by the supervisor shall be a competent engineer or geologist, experienced in the development and production of petroleum. At the time said deputy is appointed, notice of such appointment shall be transmitted in writing to the board of commissioners of the district for which said deputy is appointed. Said notice shall be given either personally or by mailing a notice of said appointment to the post-office address of each commissioner. No appointment shall be final until a period of ten days shall have Qualifications.

elapsed from the mailing of said notice to said commissioners. In the event the majority of the commissioners notify said oil and gas supervisor in writing before the expiration of ten days from the date of said notice that the appointment of said field deputy is disapproved by them, then and in that event said field deputy shall not be appointed but said oil and gas supervisor must appoint some other individual as in this section provided. Each field deputy shall maintain an office in the district for which he is appointed, convenient of access to the petroleum and gas operators therein. The office shall be open and the deputy shall be present at certain specified times which shall be posted at such office.

p. 1405.

SEC. 4. Section seven of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Records open to inspection.

SEC. 7. The records of any and all operators, when filed with the deputy supervisor as hereinafter provided, shall be open to inspection to those authorized in writing by such operators, to the state officers, and to the board of commissioners hereinafter provided for. Such records shall in no case other than those hereinafter and in this section provided, be available as evidence in court proceedings and no officer or employee or member of any board of commissioners shall be allowed to give testimony as to the contents of said records, except at such court proceedings as are hereinafter provided for in the review of the decision of the state oil and gas supervisor, or a board of commissioners, or in any proceedings initiated for the enforcement of an order of the supervisor, or any proceeding initiated for the enforcement of a lien created by this act, or any proceeding for the collection of the assessment levied under and pursuant to the provisions of this act or in criminal proceedings arising out of such records, or the statements upon which they are based.

SEC. 5. Section eight of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Tests and
work.

SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of the supervisor to order such tests or remedial work as in his judgment are necessary to protect the petroleum and gas deposits from damage by underground water, to the best interests of the neighboring property owners, and the public at large.

The order shall be in written form, signed by the supervisor, and shall be served upon the owner of the well, or the local agent appointed by such owner, either personally or by mailing a copy of said order to the post-office address given at the time the local agent is designated, or if no such local agent has been designated, by mailing a copy of said order to the last known post-office address of said owner, or if the owner be unknown by posting a copy of said order in a conspicuous place upon the property, and publishing the same in some newspaper of general circulation throughout the county in which said well is located, once a week for two successive weeks.

Said order shall specify the condition sought to be remedied and the work necessary to protect such deposits from damage from underground waters. For this purpose each operator or owner shall designate an agent, giving his post-office address, who resides within the county where the well or wells are located, upon whom all orders and notices provided for in this act may be served.

SEC. 6. Section nine of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 140d.

Sec. 9. The well owner or his local agent may within ten days from the date of service of any order from the supervisor, file with the supervisor or his deputy in the district where the property is located, a statement that the supervisor's order is not acceptable and that appeal from said order is taken to the board of commissioners. Such appeal shall operate as a stay of any order issued under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. Owner's objections.

SEC. 7. Section ten of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 140e.

Sec. 10. For the purposes of this act the state shall be divided into five districts, as follows: State divided into five districts.

District No. 1, including the counties of Los Angeles, Riverside, Orange, San Diego, Imperial and San Bernardino.

District No. 2, the county of Ventura.

District No. 3, including the counties of Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Santa Clara, Contra Costa, San Mateo, Alameda and San Francisco.

District No. 4, including the counties of Tulare, Inyo and Kern.

District No. 5, including the counties of Fresno, Madera, Kings, Mono, Mariposa, Merced and all other counties in California not included in any of said other districts.

There shall be elected at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, district oil and gas commissioners for each such district, as follows: District oil and gas commissioners elected.

For district number one, five; for district number two, five; for district number three, five; for district number four, seven; for district number five, five.

Said district oil and gas commissioners shall be elected by vote of the companies, individuals, copartnerships or associations, who shall have been assessed, and whose names shall appear upon the last record of assessments (next preceding such election) for and on account of the fund in this act provided to be raised, within said districts respectively, said vote to be taken at a meeting to be held in each of said districts respectively, and on the third Monday in September of each year, such place and the time and details of such meeting to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which meeting at least two weeks previous notice shall have been given by letter addressed to each of said persons, corporations, copartnerships and associations, entitled to vote as aforesaid, at his or its post-office address or principal place of business.

At said meeting each of those entitled to vote as herein provided may be represented by one person holding the written authority of such voter to act for him at such meeting.

Votes to which voter entitled.

At said meeting each voter shall be entitled to one vote for each member of the board of district oil and gas commissioners who are required to be selected for such district. In addition thereto, in each district in which five commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which said voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the two commissioners who are elected for three years; and in each district in which seven commissioners are to be elected, each voter shall be entitled, for each one hundred dollars, or fraction thereof, which said voter shall have paid in accordance with his last assessment hereunder, to cast one vote for the three commissioners who are elected for three years. In all subsequent elections the qualification of voters in the election of a commissioner shall be the same as in the election of the commissioner whose successor in office is being elected.

Said meeting shall select by ballot, by a majority vote of the votes represented, the number of persons as hereinbefore specified to act as district oil and gas commissioners for such district.

Term.

In any district entitled to seven commissioners, two shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and three for three years. In any district entitled to five commissioners, one shall be chosen for a term of one year, two for two years and two for three years.

Eligibility.

The chairman and secretary of the meeting shall issue a written certificate to the state oil and gas supervisor, setting forth the result of such election, and the name and address of each of the persons elected at said meeting as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district and the term for which each has been elected. No person shall be eligible as a district oil and gas commissioner who is not a resident of the district for which he is elected, nor shall any person be eligible for such position who is not actually engaged in the business of oil or gas development or production, within the district.

Certificate of election.

Upon receipt of the certificate so made by the chairman and secretary of any such meeting, the state oil and gas supervisor shall issue a certificate of election to the respective persons in said certificate named as the district oil and gas commissioners for said district, and for the periods of one, two or three years from and after the first Monday in October, 1917, as shall be shown in such certificate, and until their respective successors shall have been elected.

Chairman.

Within thirty days after their appointment by the state oil and gas supervisor, the district oil and gas commissioners for each district shall meet at a time and place within the district to be designated by the state oil and gas supervisor, and shall thereupon select one of the number as chairman.

The deputy supervisor of the district shall be ex officio secretary of said board, and shall keep a record of its proceedings, and his office shall be the office of the commissioners. Deputy supervisor secretary.

Said commissioners shall serve without compensation, except their necessary traveling expenses. The traveling expenses of said commissioners and all actual expenses incurred by or under order of said commissioners in the hearing and determination and carrying out of orders appealed to them, shall be certified to said state supervisor, and when audited by him and by the state board of control shall be paid from said fund. Expenses.

On the third Tuesday in September of each year at an hour and places in said respective districts to be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor, and of which notices shall have been given as hereinbefore specified, the successor of each of the district oil and gas commissioners whose term of appointment shall expire that year, shall be elected and qualified in the manner and subject to the provisions hereinbefore set forth, and the term of each shall be for a period of three years from and after the first Monday in October next succeeding. Successors elected.

All, either or any of the district oil and gas commissioners elected in any district may be recalled by the votes of a majority of the qualified votes of the district entitled to vote as to such commissioners respectively. In case there shall be filed in the office of the state oil and gas supervisor, a written petition, signed by not less than forty per cent of those entitled to vote as to the election of any commissioner or commissioners, asking the recall of such commissioner or commissioners, said state oil and gas supervisor shall, within ten days thereafter, order and give notice of a special election in such district to fill the office or offices of the commissioner or commissioners named in said petition for recall; and shall cause notice to be given of said election in the manner, and for the time required for regular election, and said notice shall fix the time and place of such election. Recall of commissioners.

At such election, the commissioner or commissioners named in such petition for recall shall be voted upon as though candidates for election for the unexpired portion of the term for which they, respectively, were originally elected, and any other candidate or candidates may, at the same time, be voted upon. It shall require a majority of all the qualified votes entitled to vote for such commissioners, respectively, to constitute an election. In case less than a majority of all qualified votes shall be cast for any candidate, said recall shall be deemed to have failed as to the commissioner concerning whose office such vote was taken; and in case such commissioner himself shall receive a majority of the votes, said recall shall be deemed to have failed, and in either of such cases, such commissioner shall continue to serve until the expiration of his term as commissioners.

though no such special election had been held. But in case any person other than such commissioner shall receive a majority of the votes for such unexpired term, then such recall shall become effective, and the office of the commissioner so recalled shall be vacant and upon written certificate of such election being filed with the state oil and gas supervisor, the person so chosen and elected for such unexpired term shall become the successor of the commissioner so recalled, and a certificate of his election for such unexpired term shall be issued and transmitted to him by the state oil and gas supervisor. And like proceedings shall be had in case more than one commissioner shall be included in said petition for recall.

Voting in recall elections.

In all recall elections, qualifications for voters and the number of votes which they will be entitled to cast shall be the same as they respectively were in the election of the commissioner as to whom such recall election is being held.

Vacancy.

In case of vacancy caused by the death, resignation or removal from district or ceasing to be engaged in the business of development or production of oil or gas in the district as to the office of any commissioner, such vacancy shall be filled until the next annual election by the state oil and gas supervisor, who shall appoint to fill such vacancy an eligible person, nominated in writing by the remaining commissioners of such district.

Upon any subject in which any commissioner is personally interested, or upon which any corporation, copartnership, association or individual by whom he is employed is directly interested as a party, such commissioner shall not be entitled to sit or vote.

Advice from supervisor.

The board of commissioners shall be entitled to call upon the supervisor for advice, and written report upon any matter referred to the board of commissioners, and the supervisor shall be entitled to call meetings of the commissioners at the office of the field supervisor, upon five days' written notice, to obtain their written advice upon any matters relating to his work within their district.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1407.

SEC. 8. Section eleven of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Investigation upon complaint.

Sec. 11. Upon receipt by the supervisor or deputy supervisor of a written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by a person, firm, corporation or association owning land or operating wells within a radius of one mile of any well or group of wells complained against, or upon the written complaint specifically setting forth the condition complained against, signed by any one of the board of commissioners for the district in which said well or group of wells complained against is situated, the supervisor must make an investigation of said well or wells and render a written report stating the work required to repair the damage complained of, or stating that no work is required. A copy of said order must be delivered to the complainant, or if more than one, each of said complainants, and if the supervisor order the damage repaired, a copy of such order shall be delivered to each of the owners, operators or agents having in charge the well or wells upon which the work is to be done. Said order shall contain a statement of the conditions sought to be remedied or repaired and a statement of the work required by the supervisor to repair such condition. Service of such copies shall be made by mailing to such persons at the post-office address given.

SEC. 9. Section twelve of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1407.

Sec. 12. In any proceeding before the board of commissioners as herein provided, or in any other proceeding or proceedings instituted by the supervisor for the purpose of enforcing or carrying out the provisions of this act, or for the purpose of holding an investigation to ascertain the condition of any well or wells complained of, or which in the opinion of the supervisor may reasonably be presumed to be improperly drilled, operated, maintained or conducted, the supervisor and the chairman of the board of commissioners shall have the power to administer oaths and may apply to a judge of the superior court of the State of California, in and for the county in which said proceeding or investigation is pending, for a subpoena for witnesses to attend at said proceeding or investigation. Upon said application of said supervisor or said chairman of said board of commissioners, said judge of said superior court must issue a subpoena directing said witness to attend said proceeding or investigation; provided, however, that no person shall be required to attend upon such proceeding, either with or without such books, papers, documents or accounts unless residing within the same county or within thirty miles of the place of attendance. But the supervisor or the chairman of the board of commissioners may in such case cause the depositions of witnesses residing within or without the state to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like depositions in civil actions in superior courts of this state, and to that end may, upon application to a judge of the superior court of the county within which said proceeding or investigation is pending, obtain a subpoena compelling the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers and documents at such places as he may designate within the limits hereinbefore prescribed. Witnesses shall be entitled to receive the fees and mileage fixed by law in civil causes, payable from the fund hereinafter created. In case of failure or neglect on the part of any person to comply with any order of the supervisor as hereinbefore provided, or any subpoena, or upon the refusal of any witness to testify to any matter regarding which he may lawfully be interrogated, or upon refusal or neglect to appear and attend at any proceeding or hearing on the day specified, after having received a written notice of not less than Oaths and subpoenas. ten days prior to such proceeding or hearing, or upon his failure, refusal or neglect to produce books, papers or documents as demanded in said order or subpoena upon such day, such failure, refusal or neglect shall constitute a misdemeanor and each day's further failure, refusal or neglect shall be and be deemed to be a separate and distinct offense, and it is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county in which said proceeding, hearing or investigation is to be held, to prosecute all persons guilty of violating this section by continuous prosecution until such person appears or attends or produces such books, papers or documents or complies with said subpoena or order of the supervisor or chairman of the board of commissioners.

p. 1408.

SEC. 10. Section thirteen of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Decision of board.

Sec. 13. Within ten days after hearing the evidence, the board of commissioners must make a written decision with respect to the order appealed from and in case the same is affirmed or modified, shall retain jurisdiction thereof until such time as the work ordered to be done by such order shall be finally completed. This written decision shall be served upon the owner or his agent and shall supersede the previous order of the supervisor. In case no written decision be made by said board of commissioners within thirty days after the date of notice by the supervisor as provided in section ten hereof, the order of the supervisor shall be effective and subject only to review by writ of certiorari from the superior court as provided in section fourteen hereof.

p. 1408.

SEC. 11. Section fourteen of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Commencement of
work.

Sec. 14. On or before thirty days after the date of serving an order of the supervisor, provided for in section eight hereof, or in case of appeal to the board of commissioners, on or before thirty days after date of serving the decision of the board, as provided in sections twelve and thirteen hereof, or in the event review be taken of the order of the board of commissioners within ten days after affirmation of such order, the owner shall commence in good faith the work ordered and continue until completion. If the work has not been so commenced and continued to completion, the supervisor shall appoint agents as he deems necessary who shall enter the premises and perform the work. Accurate account of such expenditures shall be kept and the amount paid from the fund hereinafter created upon the warrant of the state controller. Any amount so expended shall constitute a lien against the property upon which the work is done. The decision of the board of commissioners in such case may be reviewed by writ of certiorari from the superior court of the county in which the district is situated, if taken within ten days after the service of the order upon said owner, operator or agent of said owner or operator as herein provided; or decision.

within ten days after decision by the board of commissioners upon petitions by the supervisor. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than ten days after the issuance thereof and shall direct the district board of oil and gas commissioners to certify their record in the cause to such court. On the return day the cause shall be heard by the court unless for good cause the same be continued, but no continuance shall be permitted for a longer period than thirty days. No new or additional evidence shall be introduced in the court before the cause shall be heard upon the record of the district board of oil and gas commissioners. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether or not—

Extent of review.

1. The commission acted without or in excess of its jurisdiction.

2. The order, decision or award was procured by fraud.

3. The order, decision, rule or regulation is unreasonable.

4. The order, decision, regulation or award is clearly unsupported by the evidence.

If no review be taken within ten days, or if taken in case the decision of the board is affirmed, the lien upon the property shall be enforced in the same manner as the other liens on real property are enforced, and shall first be enforced against the owner of the well, against the operator and against the personal property and fixtures used in the construction or operation thereof, and then if there be any deficiency against the land upon which the work is done, upon the request of the supervisor, the state controller must, in the manner provided in section forty-four of this act, bring an action for the enforcement of said lien.

Lien enforced

SEC. 12. Section fifteen of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915, p. 1408.

Sec. 15. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well now drilled, or that may be drilled in the State of California, on lands producing or reasonably presumed to contain petroleum or gas, to properly case such well or wells with metal casing, in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with the most approved methods to effectually shut off all water overlying or underlying the oil or gas-bearing strata, and to effectually prevent any water from penetrating such oil or gas-bearing strata.

Wells to be cased.

Whenever it appears to the supervisor that any water is penetrating oil or gas-bearing strata, he may order a test of water shut-off and designate a day upon which the same shall be held. Said order shall be in written form and served upon the owner of said well at least ten days prior to the day designated in said order as the day upon which said shut-off test shall be held. Upon the receipt of such order it shall be the duty of the owner to hold said test in the manner and at the time prescribed in said order.

Shut-off test.

p. 1408.

SEC. 13. Section sixteen of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Abandonment of well.

Sec. 16. It shall be the duty of the owner of any well referred to in this act, before abandoning the same, or before removing the rig, derrick or other operating structure therefrom, or removing any portion of the casing therefrom, to use every effort and endeavor in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, to shut off and exclude all water from entering oil bearing strata encountered in the well. Before any well is abandoned the owner shall give written notice to the supervisor, or his local deputy, of his intention to abandon such well and of his intention to remove the derrick or any portion of the casing from such well and the date upon which such work of abandonment or removal shall begin. The notice shall be given to the supervisor, or his local deputy, at least five days before such proposed abandonment or removal. The owner shall furnish the supervisor, or his deputy with such information as he may request showing the condition of the well and proposed method of abandonment or removal. The supervisor, or his deputy, shall before the proposed date of abandonment or removal, furnish the owner with a written order of approval of his proposal or a written order stating what work will be necessary before approval, to abandon or remove will be given. If the supervisor shall fail within the specified time to give the owner a written order such failure shall be considered as an approval of the owner's proposal to abandon the well, or to remove the rig or casing therefrom.

p. 1408.

SEC. 14. Section seventeen of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of intention to drill.

Sec. 17. The owner or operator of any well referred to in this act shall, before commencing the work of drilling an oil or gas well, file with the supervisor, or his local deputy, a written notice of intention to commence drilling. Such notice shall also contain the following information: (1) Statement of location and elevation above sea level of the floor of the proposed derrick and drill rig; (2) the number or other designation by which such well shall be known, which number or designation shall not be changed after filing the notice provided for in this section, without the written consent of the supervisor being obtained therefor; (3) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth of the point at which water will be shut off, together with the method by which such shut-off is intended to be made and the size and weight of casing to be used; (4) the owner's or operator's estimate of the depth at which oil or gas producing sand or formation will be encountered.

After the completion of any well the provisions of this section shall also apply, as far as may be, to the deepening or re-drilling of any well, or any operation involving the plugging of any well or any operations permanently altering in any manner the casing of any well; and provided, further, that the number or designation by which any well heretofore drilled has been known, shall not be changed without first obtaining a written consent of the supervisor.

SEC. 15. Section eighteen of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1409.

Sec. 18. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act, to keep a careful and accurate log of the drilling of such well, such log to show the character and depth of the formation passed through or encountered in the drilling of such well, and particularly to show the location and depth of the water bearing strata, together with the character of the water encountered from time to time (so far as ascertained) and to show at what point such water was shut off, if at all, and if not, to so state in such log, and show completely the amounts, kinds and size of casing used, and show the depth at which oil bearing strata are encountered, the depth and character of same, and whether all water overlying and underlying such oil-bearing strata was successfully and permanently shut off so as to prevent the percolation or penetration into such oil-bearing strata; such log shall be kept in the local office of the owner or operator, and together with the tour reports of said owner or operator, shall be subject, during business hours, to the inspection of the supervisor, or any of his deputies, or any of the commissioners of the district, except in the case of a prospect well as hereinafter defined. Upon the completion of any well, or upon the suspension of operations upon any well, for a period of six months if it be a prospect well, or for thirty days, if it be in proven territory, a copy of said log in duplicate, and in such form as the supervisor may direct, shall be filed within ten days after such completion, or after the expiration of said thirty-day period, with the field supervisor, and a like copy shall be filed upon the completion of any additional work in the deepening of any such well. Drilling log.

The state oil and gas supervisor shall determine and designate what wells are prospect wells within the meaning of this act and no reports shall be required from such prospect wells until six months after the completion thereof. Prospect wells.

The owner or operator of any well drilled previous to the enactment of this act shall furnish to the supervisor or his deputy a complete and correct log in duplicate and in such form as the supervisor may direct, or his deputy, of such well, so far as may be possible, together with a statement of the present condition of said well.

SEC. 16. Section nineteen of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 1410.

Sec. 19. It shall be the duty of the owner or operator of any well referred to in this act to notify the deputy supervisor of the time at which the owner or operator shall test the shut-off of water in any such well. Such notice shall be Notice of shut-off test.

Notice of shut-off test.

given at least five days before such test. The deputy supervisor or an inspector designated by the supervisor shall be present at such test and shall render a report in writing of the result thereof to the supervisor, a duplicate of which shall be delivered to the owner. If any test shall be unsatisfactory to the supervisor he shall so notify the owner or operator in said report and shall within five days after the completion of such test. order additional tests of such work as he deems necessary to properly shut off the water in such well and in such order shall designate a day upon which the owner or operator shall again test the shut-off of water in any such well, which day may, upon the application of the owner, be changed from time to time in the discretion of the deputy supervisor.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1410.

SEC. 17. Section twenty of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Statement of oil produced.

SEC. 20. It shall be the duty of every person, association or corporation producing oil in the State of California, to file with the supervisor, at his request but not oftener than once in each month, a statement showing amount of oil produced during the period indicated from each well, together with its gravity and the amount of water produced from each well, estimated in accordance with methods approved by the supervisor, and the number of days during which fluid was produced from each well, the number of wells drilling, producing, idle or abandoned, owned or operated by said person, association or corporation; provided, that, upon request and satisfactory showing a longer interval may be fixed by the state oil and gas supervisor as to such reports in the case of any specific owner or operator.

This information shall be in such form as the supervisor may designate.

SEC. 18. There is hereby added to said act, approved June 10, 1915, a new section to be numbered twenty-one a and to read as follows:

Primary interest of state.

SEC. 21*a*. The charges hereinafter provided for are directed to be levied by the State of California as necessary in the exercise of its police power and to provide a means by which to supervise and protect deposits of petroleum and gas within the State of California, in which deposits the people of the State of California are hereby declared to have a primary and supreme interest.

p. 1410.

Sec. 24. Every person, firm, corporation or association operating any gas well or wells in this state shall annually pay a charge to the state treasurer based upon the amount of gas sold in the preceding calendar year, at a fixed rate per thousand cubic feet, at the times and in the manner hereinafter provided, based upon a verified report as herein provided. Annual charge on gas.

SEC. 21. Section twenty-seven of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915,
p. 1411.

Sec. 27. The state mineralogist shall annually, on or before the first Monday in March, acting in conjunction with the state board of control, make an estimate of the amount of moneys which shall be required to carry out the provisions of this act. Estimate of moneys required.

At the time of making such estimate, the state mineralogist shall report to the state board of control the amount of money in the petroleum and gas fund on the day such estimate is made, less the amount of money necessary for the support of the department of petroleum and gas for the remainder of the fiscal year, and the amount of such estimate shall in no event exceed the difference between the amount thus determined as remaining in the petroleum and gas fund at the end of the fiscal year and the sum of one hundred fifty thousand dollars.

SEC. 22. Section thirty-one of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915,
p. 1412.

Sec. 31. Any person, firm, corporation or association failing or refusing to make or furnish any report which may be required pursuant to the provisions of this act, or who willfully renders a false or fraudulent report, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of not less than three hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or both such fine and imprisonment for each such offense. Penalty.

SEC. 23. Section thirty-three of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915,
p. 1412.

Sec. 33. On or before the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year, the state mineralogist shall determine the rate or rates which shall produce the sums necessary to be raised as provided in section twenty-seven of this act. Within the same time the said state mineralogist shall extend into the proper column of the record of assessments hereinafter provided for, the amount of charges due from each person, firm, corporation or association. Determination of rate.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1413.

SEC. 24. Section thirty-six of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of assessment
published.

Sec. 36. On the third Monday before the first Monday in July of each year the state mineralogist shall cause to be published a notice, one or more times, in a daily, or weekly, or semiweekly newspaper of general circulation published in the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under and pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest to such county designated herein in which no such paper is published, that the assessment of property and levy of charges under and in pursuance of this act has been completed and that the records of assessments containing the charges due will be delivered to the state controller on the first Monday in July, and that if any person, firm, corporation or association is dissatisfied with the assessment made or charge fixed by the state mineralogist, he or it may, at any time before said first Monday in July, apply to said board of review, correction and equalization to have the same corrected in any particular. The said board shall have the power at any time before said first Monday in July to correct the record of assessments and may increase or decrease any assessment or charge therein if in its judgment the evidence presented or obtained warrants such action. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund; provided, however, that the omission to publish said notice as hereinbefore and in this section provided, shall not affect the validity of any assessment levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1413.

SEC. 25. Section thirty-seven of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Record of assessments
and charges.

Sec. 37. The state mineralogist must prepare each year a book in one or more volumes, to be called the "Record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund," in which must be entered, either in writing or printing, or both writing and printing, each assessment and levy or charge made by him upon the property provided to be assessed and charged under this act, describing the property assessed, and such assessments may be classified and entered in such separate parts of said record as said state mineralogist shall prescribe.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1413.

SEC. 26. Section thirty-eight of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Record delivered to controller.

Sec. 38. On the first Monday in July the state mineralogist must deliver to the state controller the record of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund, certified to by said state mineralogist, which certificate shall be substantially as follows: "I, -----, state mineralogist, do hereby certify that between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July, 19----, made diligent inquiry and examination to ascertain all property and persons, firms, corporations and associations subject to assessment for the purpose of the petroleum and gas fund as required by the provisions of the act of legislature approved June 10, 1915, providing for the assessment and collection of charges for oil protection; that I have faithfully complied with all the duties imposed upon me by law; that I have not imposed any unjust or double assessment through malice or ill will, or otherwise; nor allowed any person, firm, corporation or association or property to escape a just assessment or charge through favor or regard, or otherwise." But the failure to subscribe such certificate to such record of assessments and charges for oil protection, or any certificate, shall not in any manner affect the validity of any assessment or charge.

SEC. 27. Section forty of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915,
p. 1414

Sec. 40. Within ten days after the receipt of the record of assessments and charges for oil protection, the state controller must begin the publication of a notice to appear daily for five days, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of the counties of Fresno, Kern, Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura and Santa Barbara, and such other counties as may contain lands or produce oil or gas charged under or pursuant to the terms and provisions of this act, if one be published therein, otherwise for at least two times in a weekly or semiweekly paper of general circulation published therein, or if there be neither a daily nor weekly nor semiweekly paper of general circulation published in any one of such counties, then the publication of the notice for such county shall be made in a similar manner in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county nearest such county, specifying: (1) That he has received from the state mineralogist the record of assessments and charges for oil protection; (2) that the charges therein assessed and levied are due and payable on the first Monday in July and that one-half thereof will be delinquent on the sixth Monday after the first Monday in July at six o'clock p.m., and that unless paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, fifteen per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and unless paid prior to the first Monday in February next thereafter at six o'clock p.m., an additional five per cent will be added to the amount thereof; and that the remaining one-half of said charges will become delinquent on the first Monday in February next succeeding the day upon which they become due and payable, at six o'clock p.m. and if not paid to the state treasurer at the capital prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof. Costs of such publication in any county shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund.

of every kind and nature belonging to the persons, firms, corporations and associations assessed under the provisions hereof, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. Such lien shall be enforced and said charges collected by an action by the state controller as provided in section forty-four of this act.

p. 1415.

SEC. 29. Section forty-two of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Charges paid to state
treasurer.

SEC. 42. All charges assessed and levied under the provisions of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer upon the order of the state controller. The controller must mark the date of payment of any charge on the record of assessments for the petroleum and gas fund and shall give a receipt for such payment in such form as the controller may prescribe. Errors appearing upon the face of any assessment on said record of assessments or overcharges may be corrected by the controller by and with the consent of the state board of control, in such manner and at such time as said controller and said board shall agree upon.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1415.

SEC. 30. Section forty-three of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Action to recover damages.

SEC. 43. Any person, firm, corporation or association claiming and protesting as herein provided that the assessment made or charges assessed against him or it by the state mineralogist is void, in whole or in part, may bring an action against the state treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of such charges, penalties or costs paid on such assessment, upon the grounds stated in said protest, but no action may be brought later than the third Monday in February next following the day upon which the charges were due, nor unless such person, firm, corporation or association shall have filed with the state controller at the time of payment of such charges, a written protest stating whether the whole assessment or charge is claimed to be void, or if a part only, what part, and the grounds upon which such claim is founded, and when so paid under protest the payment shall in no case be regarded as voluntary.

Procedure.

Whenever, under the provisions of this section, an action is commenced against the state treasurer, a copy of the complaint and of the summons must be served upon the treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The attorney employed by the state oil and gas supervisor must defend such action; provided, however, the said mineralogist may at the request of the said oil and gas supervisor employ additional counsel, the expense of which employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for.

A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such charges. In any such action the court shall have the power to render judgment for the plaintiff for any part or portion of the charge, penalties, or costs found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment.

Failure to bring action.

SEC. 31. Section forty-four of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915,
p. 1416.

Sec. 44. The state controller shall, on or before the thirtieth day of May next following the delinquency of any charge as provided in this act, bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the people of the State of California, in the county in which the property assessed is situated, to collect any delinquent charges or assessments, together with any penalties or costs, which have not been paid in accordance with the provisions of this act and appearing delinquent upon the records of assessments and charges for the petroleum and gas fund in this action provided for.

Action to collect delinquent charges

The attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor shall commence and prosecute such action to final judgment and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. The state mineralogist may employ additional counsel to assist the attorney for the state oil and gas supervisor, and the expense of such employment shall be paid from the petroleum and gas fund.

Procedure

Payments of the penalties and charges, or amount of the judgment recovered in such action must be made to the state treasurer. In such actions the record of assessment and charges for oil protection, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in said action, duly certified by the controller showing unpaid charges against any person, firm, corporation or association assessed by the state mineralogist is prima facie evidence of the assessment upon the property, the delinquency, the amount of charges, penalties, and costs due and unpaid to the state, and that the person, firm, corporation or association is indebted to the people of the State of California in the amount of charges and penalties therein appearing unpaid and that all the forms of law in relation to the assessment of such charges have been complied with

SEC. 32. Section forty-six of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915,

SEC. 34. Section forty-eight of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Supervisor's annual report.

SEC. 48. On or before the first day of October of each and every year the supervisor shall submit a report in writing to the state mineralogist showing the total number of barrels of petroleum produced in each county in the state during the previous calendar year, together with the total cost of said department for the previous fiscal year and the net amount remaining in the petroleum and gas fund available for the succeeding fiscal year's expense, also the total amount delinquent and uncollected from any assessments or charges levied under or pursuant to the provisions of this act. Such report shall also include such other information as the supervisor may deem advisable. The state mineralogist shall make public such statements promptly after receipt of the same from the supervisor for the benefit of all parties interested therein.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1418.

SEC. 35. Section forty-nine of said act, approved June 10, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. The work of locating, surveying and constructing said road is placed under the management and control of the state department of engineering.

CHAPTER 770.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered six hundred thirty-three b, concerning insurance and surety companies, agents and brokers, requiring that policies or contracts of insurance, or surety bonds shall show the correct premium consideration and the risks insured thereunder; prohibiting the giving of rebates on insurance or surety bonds and providing penalty therefor and for the suspension of certificate of authority of any insurance or surety company and the revoking or suspension of the license of any agent or broker violating the same, and prescribing the powers and duties of the insurance commissioner in relation thereto.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered six hundred thirty-three b and to read as follows:

Policy must contain true statement of premium and risk.

633b. No insurance or surety company or society, nor any agent, shall insure any risk in this state, nor shall any agent or broker assist in arranging any such insurance, the policy or contract for which does not contain a true and correct statement of the premium consideration paid or to be paid therefor, and of the risk covered for such premium consideration; provided, however, that if the insurance be of a character where the exact premium is only determinable upon the expiration of the policy or contract, such policy or contract must contain a true and correct statement of the basis and rates upon which the said final premium or consideration is to be determined and paid, and of the risk covered for such premium consideration.

Covering notes.

This section shall not be construed to prohibit the use of covering notes to temporarily bind insurance or surety bonds pending the issuance of the policy or contract; provided, that for every such covering note so used, within ninety days thereafter a policy or contract shall be issued in lieu thereof, including within its terms the identical insurance protected under said covering note and the premium consideration paid or to be paid therefor.

Rebates prohibited.

No insurance or surety company or society, by itself or by any other party, and no agent, or insurance broker, personally or by any other party, shall offer, promise, allow, give, set off or pay, directly or indirectly, as an inducement to insurance on any risk in this state, now or hereafter to be written, any rebate of or part of the premium payable on the policy or contract of insurance or surety bond, or of the agent's or broker's commission thereon; nor shall any such company, or society, agent, or broker, personally or otherwise, offer, promise, allow, give, set off, or pay, directly or indirectly as an inducement to such insurance, any earnings, profits, dividends, or other benefit, founded, arising, accruing, or to accrue on such insurance or surety bond, or therefrom, or any other valuable consideration which is not clearly specified, promised or provided for in the policy or contract of insurance, or in the application for such surety bond; provided, however, that nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent a mutual fire insurance company from returning any portion of the premium as a dividend, at the expiration of the term covered by such premium.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit any insurance or surety company or society, or agent for such company or society, or broker, from paying commission to another company, society, agent, or insurance broker, nor shall this section be construed to prohibit any marine insurance company, agent, or broker from allowing any insured, such usual discount as is sanctioned by custom amongst marine insurers as being additional to the agent's or broker's commission, but this exemption shall in no wise operate to relieve marine insurance in any other respect from the full operation of this section.

Commission.

Discount on marine insurance.

This section, except as hereinbefore specifically provided, shall not be construed to prevent any insurance or surety company from paying to another insurance or surety company, or to an agent or broker, or to prevent any insurance or surety company or such an agent or broker from receiving a commission in respect to any policy under which it, itself, or he, himself, is insured.

Agent's commission on own insurance.

Nothing in this section shall be so construed as to prohibit any company issuing nonparticipating life insurance from paying bonuses to policyholders or otherwise abating their premiums, in whole or in part out of surplus accumulated from nonparticipating insurance; nor to prohibit any company transacting industrial insurance on the weekly payment plan from returning to policyholders who have made premium payment for a period of at least one year directly to the company at its home or district offices, a percentage of the premium which the company would have paid for the weekly collection of such premiums. This section shall not be construed to prevent any life insurance company paying, or contract holders receiving special compensations, or allowing and receiving credits already agreed upon in contracts now in force.

Bonuses.

No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any books, papers, contracts, agreements or documents at the trial or hearing of any person or company, association or society charged with violating any provisions of this section, on the ground that such testimony or evidence may tend to incriminate himself, but no person shall be prosecuted for any act concerning which he shall be compelled so to testify or produce evidence, documentary or otherwise, except for perjury committed in so testifying.

Producing books, etc.

Every insurance company or society shall be charged with full responsibility to exercise reasonable diligence for the observance of this section by its agents and it shall be unlawful for any insurance or surety company to appoint as its agent any person, firm or corporation, or the employee or nominee of said person, firm or corporation, for the purpose of enabling such person, firm or corporation to obtain a policy or contract of insurance at a cost less than that specified in any policy or contract of insurance issued to such person, firm or corporation, or at a cost less than that specified in any application for any surety bond issued in behalf of such person, firm or corporation.

Responsibility of company.

Penalty.

Certificate of authority suspended.

An officer or employee of any insurance or surety company or society, or any agent or broker, or any officer or employee of such agent or broker who violates any of the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Upon it being proven to the insurance commissioner after a hearing upon reasonable notice to the accused of the time and place of such hearing that any insurance or surety company or society shall knowingly have violated any of the provisions of this act, or shall knowingly have permitted any officer, managerial agent, or managerial employee, to violate any of the provisions of this act, he shall have authority to suspend the certificate of authority of such insurance or surety company or society to do the kind of business in which the violation of the provisions of this act occurred.

Agent's license revoked.

And the insurance commissioner shall have authority to suspend or revoke the license issued to any agent or broker on its being proven to him, after hearing, that such agent or broker has knowingly and wilfully violated any of the provisions of this act.

Action to review facts.

If at any time the insurance commissioner suspends the certificate of authority theretofore granted to any insurance or surety company, or revokes or suspends the license theretofore granted to any broker or agent, or refuses to grant a certificate of authority to any insurance or surety company, or license to any broker or agent, any interested person or company may commence an action against the insurance commissioner for the purpose of reviewing the facts and the law pertinent to the controversy and for the purpose of obtaining the relief refused or for canceling the action of the commissioner. In any such action the court shall have full power to investigate all the facts de novo, without regard to the determinations previously made by the commissioner. In the trial of such actions all of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, shall be applicable. Such action shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which such insurance or surety company or society has its principal place of business in this state, or in which such broker or agent resides, unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

Title insurance, etc., not affected

Nothing in this act shall apply to, or in any way affect reciprocal or interinsurance contracts, title insurance business, fraternal benefit societies, or county mutual fire insurance companies.

CHAPTER 771.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered six hundred thirty-three a, concerning the licensing of insurance brokers, and providing for the issuance and revoking of licenses by the insurance commissioner, and providing penalties for a violation thereof.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered six hundred thirty-three a and to read as follows:

633a. No person, firm or corporation shall within this state act as an insurance broker until such person, firm or corporation shall have first obtained a license from the insurance commissioner authorizing him or it so to act. License to act as insurance broker.

Any person, firm or corporation, other than an insurance or surety company, or society, or agent of such company or society, or employee compensated by salary only and acting on behalf of such company or society or agent, or a medical examiner for a life insurance company or society, who, for compensation acts or aids in any manner in negotiating contracts of insurance or surety bonds or reinsurance or placing risks, or effecting insurance or reinsurance for a party other than himself or itself, shall be an insurance broker within the meaning of this section. Who are insurance brokers.

The insurance commissioner shall upon the payment of a fee provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code, issue to a person, firm or corporation a license to act as an insurance broker to negotiate contracts of insurance or surety bonds, or reinsurance, or place risks, or effect insurance or surety bonds or reinsurance, with any insurance or surety company or society authorized to transact such business within this state, or with its agent, or with another broker; provided, however, that such proposed licensee shall first file with the insurance commissioner of the State of California, upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by said insurance commissioner, an application in writing, duly verified under oath, reciting: License issued.

First—The applicant's full name and address; Application.

Second—The applicant's experience in the insurance business;

Third—If the applicant is engaged in any other business than insurance, the nature of such business and the name under which such business is conducted;

Fourth—If the applicant be a copartnership, the names of the partners comprising such copartnership, or if the applicant be a corporation, the names of the officers thereof;

Fifth—That the applicant intends to carry on in good faith the occupation of an insurance broker, and that said applicant does not seek a license as an insurance broker for the purpose of avoiding or preventing the operation or enforcement of the insurance laws of this state.

Time in force.

An insurance broker's license so issued shall remain in force until July first of any year after the date of the issuance thereof, unless sooner revoked by the insurance commissioner. Such broker's license issued on an application as hereinbefore provided may in the discretion of the insurance commissioner be renewed upon expiration for a succeeding year upon the payment of a fee, provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code, without requiring anew the details required in the original application.

Revocation
or suspension
of license.

If it shall be brought to the attention of the insurance commissioner that any insurance broker licensed hereunder has wilfully misstated any material fact in his application, or that the purpose or principal use of such license as an insurance broker is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any antirebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall give notice to such insurance broker and cite him to appear before such insurance commissioner and show cause why his license as an insurance broker should not be suspended or revoked. If at the hearing of said order to show cause it shall appear that said insurance broker has wilfully misstated any material fact in his application to the insurance commissioner, or that the purpose or principal use of such license is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any antirebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall either revoke or suspend the license of such insurance broker and shall notify such broker of such revocation or suspension, and shall publish a notice of the revocation or suspension of said insurance broker's license in such a manner as he deems proper for the protection of the public. .

Action to review facts.

If at any time the insurance commissioner revokes or suspends the license theretofore granted to a broker, such broker may commence an action against the insurance commissioner for the purpose of reviewing the facts and the law pertinent to the controversy, and for the purpose of obtaining relief, or cancelling the act of the insurance commissioner. In any such action the court shall have full power to investigate all the facts de novo without regard to the determination previously made by the insurance commissioner. All of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals shall be applicable to such action.

Such action shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which such broker resides, unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

Non-resident brokers.

The insurance commissioner may upon application issue to nonresident insurance brokers a license to transact insurance in this state subject to the same qualifications, requirements, restrictions and fees as provided for resident brokers.

Any person, firm or corporation, who shall act or offer to act or assume to act as an insurance broker, unless licensed by the insurance commissioner as provided in this section, or after such license granted to him or it has been revoked, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, but the policy issued on an application thus procured, shall bind the insurance company, if otherwise valid. Penalty.

Nothing in this section shall apply to or in any way affect title insurance business, fraternal benefit societies or county mutual fire insurance companies. Title insurance, etc., not affected.

Nothing herein contained shall in any manner limit the fees provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code. Fees.

CHAPTER 772.

An act to amend section six hundred thirty-three of the Political Code, relating to the licensing of insurance agents.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred thirty-three of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

633. No person, shall within this state act as the agent of any insurance or surety company or society until such person shall have first obtained a license from the insurance commissioner authorizing him or it so to act. License to act as insurance agent.

Any person duly appointed and authorized by an insurance or surety company or society to solicit applications for insurance or surety bonds, or effect insurance or surety bonds in the name of such company, shall be an agent within the meaning of this section. The insurance commissioner shall upon written notice from any insurance or surety company or society, authorized to transact business in this state, of its appointment of any person to act as its agent and upon payment of the fee provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code, issue to such person a license in such form as may be prescribed by the insurance department; provided, however, that such proposed licensee shall first file with the insurance commissioner of the State of California upon a form to be prescribed and furnished by said insurance commissioner, an application in writing, duly verified under oath, reciting: Application.

First—The applicant's full name and address;

Second—The name of the company for which the applicant is to act as agent;

Third—The applicant's experience in the insurance or surety business;

Fourth—If the applicant is engaged in any business other than insurance or surety, the nature of such business and the name under which such business is conducted;

Fifth—That the applicant intends to carry on in good faith the occupation of an insurance or surety agent, and that said applicant does not seek such appointment for the purpose of avoiding or preventing the operation or enforcement of the insurance laws of this state.

Revocation
or suspension
of license.

If it shall be brought to the attention of the insurance commissioner that any agent licensed hereunder has wilfully misstated any material fact in his application, or that the purpose or principal use of such license as an insurance or surety agent is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any antirebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall give notice to such agent and cite him to appear before such insurance commissioner and show cause why his license as an insurance or surety agent should not be suspended or revoked. If at the hearing of said order to show cause it shall appear that said agent has wilfully misstated any material fact in his application to the insurance commissioner, or that the purpose or principal use of such license is to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any antirebate law or other insurance law of this state, then the insurance commissioner shall either revoke or suspend the license of such agent, and shall notify both the agent and the company of such revocation or suspension.

Action to review facts.

If at any time the insurance commissioner revokes or suspends the license theretofore granted to any agent, such applicant or agent may commence an action against the insurance commissioner for the purpose of reviewing the facts and the law pertinent to the controversy, and for the purpose of obtaining relief, or cancelling the act of the insurance commissioner. In any such action the court shall have full power to investigate all the facts de novo without regard to the determinations previously made by the insurance commissioner. All of the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials and appeals shall be applicable to such actions.

Such action shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which such agent resides, unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

Time in force.

Unless revoked by the commissioner, or unless the company by written notice to the commissioner cancels the agent's authority to act for it, such license, or any renewal thereof, shall expire on the first day of July next after its issue or renewal. Any license issued after this section takes effect may in the discretion of the insurance commissioner be renewed for a succeeding year by a renewal certificate without the commissioner requiring the detailed information required by this section.

Penalty.

Any person who shall act or offer to act or assume to act as an insurance or surety agent unless licensed by the insurance commissioner as provided in this section, or after such license granted to him or it has been suspended or revoked, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, but any policy issued on an application, thus procured, shall bind the insurance company if otherwise valid.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to, refer to, or affect county mutual fire insurance companies, or their agents, or title insurance business, or fraternal benefit societies, or agents or employees of reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges. Title insurance, etc., not affected.

Nothing herein contained shall in any manner limit the fees provided for in section six hundred five of the Political Code. Fees.

CHAPTER 773.

An act to appropriate money to be used as a revolving fund by the sixth district agricultural association for the purpose of creating, installing and maintaining special exhibitions at Exposition Park, Los Angeles.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of fifty thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated to be used by the board of directors of the sixth district agricultural association for holding special exhibitions of the resources and industries of the State of California, in Agricultural Park, otherwise known as Exposition Park in the city of Los Angeles, California, during the sixty-ninth and seventieth fiscal years. Appropriation: exhibitions at Exposition Park.

SEC. 2. The sum of fifty thousand dollars, so appropriated, shall constitute and remain a revolving fund in the hands of the state treasurer to be advanced to said sixth district agricultural association for the express purpose and term set forth in section one of this act and said fund when so advanced shall be used by said association for the purpose of creating, installing and maintaining special exhibitions open to the resources and industries of every section of the state without discrimination. Revolving fund.

SEC. 3. All collections and receipts shall be reported monthly by the secretary to the controller of the state and paid into the state treasury. Such collections and receipts shall be credited to the contingent fund of the sixth district agricultural association, which is hereby created and which shall be for the use of the said sixth district agricultural association. Of the moneys in said contingent fund, when such action has been authorized by the board of control, the association may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized Contingent fund sixth district agricultural association statements, a sum not to exceed one thousand dollars, said sum so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year, or at any other time, upon demand of the board of control, the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the board of control and by the controller.

Return of fund.

SEC. 4. The said sum of fifty thousand dollars, so appropriated, shall be returned to the state treasurer by said sixth district agricultural association on or before the thirtieth day of June, 1919.

Available for what expenditures.

SEC. 5. The said sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be made available to meet expenditures incurred subsequent to the first day of July, 1917.

CHAPTER 774.

An act to amend section six hundred thirty-one d of the Penal Code, relating to the domestication of wild game.

[Approved May 26, 1917. In effect July 27, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section six hundred thirty-one d of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

License to raise domesticated game birds or mammals.

631*d*. 1. Any person desiring to engage in the business of raising and selling domesticated game birds or mammals of any species in a wholly enclosed preserve or entire island of which he is the owner or lessee, may make application in writing to the state board of fish and game commissioners for a license so to do. The said state board of fish and game commissioners, when it shall appear that the said application is made in good faith, shall, upon the payment of a fee of two dollars and fifty cents, issue to such applicant a breeder's license permitting such applicant to breed and raise domesticated game on such preserve or entire island and to sell the same alive at any time for breeding and stocking purposes, to kill and transport same and sell the carcasses thereof for food, as hereinafter provided. Such license shall be posted or displayed in a conspicuous place on such preserve or entire island and shall expire on the last day of December in each year at midnight.

Game for sale tagged.

2. No domesticated game killed as aforesaid and intended for sale shall be shipped, transported, sold or offered for sale unless each quarter and each loin of each carcass of each deer and the carcass of each bird or small mammal shall have been tagged, under the supervision of the state board of fish and game commissioners, with a tag or seal which shall be supplied by said commissioners, and all domesticated game excepting deer sold under the provisions of this act must be killed otherwise than by shooting. The quarters and loins of the carcasses of such deer, and the carcass of such small game birds or mammals when tagged as aforesaid may be possessed, sold or offered for sale at any time. Every regular assistant or person designated by whom such deer or small game bird or mammal shall have been tagged, shall, within five days thereafter, make and file with the state board of fish and game commissioners a written report thereof, which shall contain a statement of the name of the person by whom such game was bred or raised and killed, the number of each species so killed and the name of the person or persons to whom such game were sold or to whom they were transported.

Report of game killed.

3. Common carriers may receive and transport at any time the carcasses or parts thereof of said domesticated game tagged as aforesaid, but to every package containing such carcass or parts thereof shall be affixed a tag or label upon which shall be plainly printed or written the name of the person to whom such license was issued and by whom such game was killed, the name or names of the person or persons to whom such game is to be transported, the name of the regular assistant or other person by whom such game was tagged, the number of carcasses or portions thereof contained therein and that the game was killed and tagged in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Tag on package.

4. No person shall sell or offer for sale any game killed and tagged as aforesaid, without first obtaining a license so to do from the state board of fish and game commissioners, upon such terms and conditions as the said commissioners may prescribe, and any such license may be revoked for sufficient cause at the pleasure of the said commission. The said tags or seals shall remain affixed, as aforesaid, until the quarters or loins of each deer or the carcasses of such small game birds or mammals shall have been wholly consumed and the sale of a quarter or loin or any larger portion of such deer or the carcass of any such small game bird or mammal which shall not at the time have affixed thereto the tag or seal aforesaid, shall constitute a violation of this section; provided, however, that the keeper of a hotel or restaurant, boarding house or retail dealer in meat or a club may sell portions of a quarter or loin of any such deer, or the carcass of any such small game bird or mammal, to a patron or customer for actual consumption and no license shall be required of such person or club.

License.

Sale to customer.

5. On or before the first day of January of each year every person to whom a license shall have been issued, as aforesaid, shall make a report to the state board of fish and game commissioners, which said report shall state the total number of game birds or mammals killed, sold or transported, as permitted by the provisions of this section during the year preceding. Such report shall set forth the name of the person to whom such game birds or mammals were sold or transported, the name of the regular assistant or person designated in whose presence such game birds or mammals were tagged and shall also give a complete list of the game birds or mammals held in his possession at the time the report is made. Such report shall be verified by the affidavit of the person to whom such license was issued, or if the license was issued to a corporation, then by an officer thereof.

Annual report of game killed.

Live game may be shipped.

6. Any person to whom such license shall have been issued may sell and ship alive within the state such game birds and mammals and all common carriers and transportation companies may receive and carry within the state such live game birds and mammals upon such terms and conditions as the said commissioners may prescribe.

Trapping game by commission.

7. For the purpose of this act, it shall be lawful for the fish and game commission to trap and take alive any of the game birds or mammals and dispose of them to any person engaged in the domestication and sale of such game birds or mammals in this state at a price to be fixed by the fish and game commission.

Disposition of moneys.

8. All moneys received from the sale of any game birds or mammals, or tags provided for in this act and all fines and forfeitures imposed and collected for any violation of the provisions of this act shall be paid into the state treasury to the credit of the fish and game preservation fund.

Fence about deer preserve.

9. A preserve used for the breeding of any species of deer, pursuant to this section, shall be surrounded by a fence of wire or other material of a pattern to be approved by the state board of fish and game commissioners and of a height of not less than seven feet.

License revoked.

10. If any person to whom such license shall have been issued shall be convicted of a violation of any of the fish and game laws of the state, the state board of fish and game commissioners may revoke the license of such person and thereafter no similar license shall be issued to such person.

Fees.

11. The state board of fish and game commissioners shall be entitled to receive and collect for each tag or seal affixed to the carcass of any game bird or mammal, as hereinbefore provided, the sum of three cents.

Penalty.

12. Any person who violates or fails to perform any duty imposed by any of the provisions of this act is guilty of a misdemeanor and is liable to a penalty of one hundred dollars and to an additional penalty of twenty dollars for each game bird or mammal, or part of each game bird or mammal bought, sold or offered for sale, taken, possessed, transported or has in possession for transportation in violation thereof.

Laws not applicable.

The provisions of any law relating to the protection or possession of game in its wild state shall not apply to game raised or possessed under the provisions of this act.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of three hundred thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, to be used in accordance with law for the construction of agricultural pavilion at the State Agricultural Park.

Appropriation: pavilion,
State Agricultural Park

CHAPTER 776.

An act to establish an institution for the care, confinement and instruction of feeble-minded and epileptic persons; to provide for the government and maintenance thereof, and for the study of mental deficiency and related problems; to provide for admission and commitment to such institution, and to prescribe penalties for unlawfully or improperly contriving to have persons adjudged feeble-minded under this act; to provide for the sterilization of inmates of such institutions; to prescribe penalties for procuring the escape, or aiding or advising in the escape, of inmates, or concealing inmates thereof; to provide a contingent fund for the use of such institution and to make an appropriation therefor.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby created an institution to be known as the Pacific colony and which is hereby declared to be a corporation.

Pacific colony
created.

SEC. 2. The said institution shall be under the control of a board of three trustees, to be appointed by the governor, one for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and thereafter for terms of four years each, to hold office until their successors are respectively appointed and qualified. The governor shall fill vacancies occurring from any cause in the membership of such board, and the first board shall be appointed within thirty days after this act takes effect.

Board of Trustees.

SEC. 3. The said trustees shall annually elect from their own number a chairman and a vice chairman, whose terms of office shall be one year and until their successors shall be duly appointed and qualified.

Chairman.

By-laws.

SEC. 4. The board of trustees may, from time to time, establish such by-laws, rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the laws of the state, as they may deem expedient for the efficient management and government of the said institution, for the transaction of its business and the holding of its meetings.

Vacancy.

SEC. 5. If any trustee fail, for three months, to attend the regular meetings of the board, unless he is ill or absent from the state, his office shall become vacant, if the board, by resolution, so declare. A copy of any such resolution, certified by the secretary of the board, must thereupon be forthwith transmitted to the governor.

Compensation.

SEC. 6. The trustees shall be entitled to receive as compensation for their services, while in the actual discharge of their duties as such trustees, ten dollars per day each; provided, that the total thereof shall not exceed two hundred forty dollars in any one year for any trustee; and provided, that if such services be performed on two or more consecutive days, there shall in such case be remuneration paid for one day only; and provided, also, that the trustees shall be entitled to receive, in addition to such compensation, all of their necessary expenses while attending to the business of the institution.

Superintendent.

SEC. 7. The board of trustees shall appoint a superintendent, not of their own number, who shall be a resident of the institution and shall have charge, management and control of the same and of its property, and shall have the charge, control, discipline and training of its inmates, subject to the direction of the board of trustees; and he shall give a bond to the state in such sum and with such sureties as will be satisfactory to the state board of control, for the faithful performance of his duties. The board of trustees shall appoint a secretary who shall perform such duties as the board may direct. The superintendent may be appointed to that position.

Secretary.

Treasurer.

SEC. 8. The superintendent shall, subject to the approval of the board of trustees, employ, with power to discharge, a treasurer and such other officers and employees as he may consider proper and necessary for the efficient carrying into effect of the design of the said institution, determine their titles, and prescribe their duties.

Duty of treasurer.

SEC. 9. The treasurer shall receive and disburse all moneys and keep account of the same, under the direction of the board of trustees, but subject to such supervision or control as is vested by law in the state board of control, and he shall give a bond to the state in such sum and with such sureties as will be satisfactory to the state board of control for the faithful performance of his duties.

Compensation of officers.

SEC. 10. The board of trustees shall fix the compensation of the superintendent, whose salary shall be not less than three hundred dollars per month, and the superintendent shall fix the compensation of the other officers and employees, subject to the approval of the board of trustees.

SEC. 11. The board of trustees, together with the superintendent, are hereby empowered and instructed to purchase on behalf of the state, in the territory covered by and included within the counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside and San Diego, for the use of the said institution, such a site as they may deem most advantageous, of preferably not less than eight hundred acres, subject to the approval of the state board of control as to the purchase price, and subject to such approval, the said board of trustees and superintendent may, if they consider it advisable, purchase water rights or make provision for the development of water for the use of said lands. The state department of engineering shall, at the request of the board of trustees, and with the approval of the state board of control, examine into the matter of water, light, power and sanitation, and the engineering problems involved, in connection with any site or sites the board may investigate with a view to purchasing, and shall report thereon to the board of trustees, with special regard to the suitability of such site or sites for the purposes of the institution.

Purchase of site.

The University of California shall, on the approval of the state board of control, render to the board of trustees such reasonable assistance as the board may desire, in determining the quality and character of the soil of such site or sites for agricultural, horticultural and other purposes, and its suitability for the purposes of the institution.

The said trustees and superintendent, the said state department of engineering, and the said university, shall be entitled to receive their necessary expenses in connection with said investigations and the selection and purchase of said site.

SEC. 12. The board of trustees shall erect the buildings for said institution, subject to such supervision or control as is by law vested in the state department of engineering.

Buildings.

SEC. 13. The board of trustees is authorized and required to purchase such equipment, furniture, supplies and materials, as it may deem suitable for the proper completion and furnishing of the said buildings, and for the operation and maintenance of the said institution, subject to such supervision or control as is by law vested in the state board of control and the state purchasing agent.

Equipment, etc.

SEC. 14. The said institution may take and hold in trust for the state any grant or devise of land, or any donation or bequest of money or other personal property, heretofore or hereafter granted, devised, donated, or bequeathed to the use of the institution, and shall dispose of the same in accordance with the wishes of the donor, or testator, if expressed, and if no condition be attached thereto, or in so far as any wishes expressed do not prevent, then to invest and reinvest the same, or to change the investment thereof, as to the board of trustees may seem best, and to use the income arising therefrom for the best interests of the institution.

Donations and bequests.

Forms for admission of inmates.

SEC. 15. The board of trustees shall prescribe and publish instructions and forms, in relation to the commitment and admission of inmates, and may include in them such interrogatories to be answered as it may deem necessary or useful; which instructions and forms shall be furnished to any one applying therefor, and shall also be sent in sufficient numbers to the county clerks of the several counties of the state.

Who are "feeble-minded."

SEC. 16. The following persons, if not insane, shall be held to be "feeble-minded" within the meaning of this act:

(a) Those who are so mentally deficient that they are incapable of managing themselves and their affairs independently, with ordinary prudence, or of being taught to do so, and who require supervision, control, and care, for their own welfare, or for the welfare of others, or for the welfare of the community; or

(b) Those whose intelligence in the judgment of one or more psychologists, when they have been examined by such psychologist or psychologists making use of standardized psychological tests and whatever supplementary material may be available, will not develop beyond the level of the average child of twelve years.

Petition to superior court for order admitting person.

SEC. 17. Whenever any parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of a supposedly feeble-minded person who is not insane, or an epileptic under twenty-one years of age, desires such person to be admitted into the said institution, he may petition the superior court of the county in which such person resides for an order admitting such person thereto; the petition shall disclose his reasons for supposing such person to be eligible for admission thereto, and shall be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner. Or whenever any peace officer desires any such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person to be so admitted, he may petition the said court as aforesaid for an order therefor; provided, he shall have given two days previous written notice of the date of the presentation of the petition, personally or by United States mail, to such parent, guardian or other person charged with such support, if known to him, and if not so known, then to some other relative or friend, if any known to him, residing in the said county, an affidavit whereof, together with the names, addresses and relationship of the parties so notified, and the facts of his said knowledge or want of knowledge, shall be filed with the petition.

Warrant for arrest.

SEC. 18. The court may cause a warrant to issue for the arrest and delivery to the court of such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person, whenever considered advisable or necessary, and have the same executed by any peace officer.

Examination of person.

SEC. 19. The judge of the said court must inquire into the condition or status of such supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person, for which purpose he may by subpoena require the attendance before him of a clinical psychologist and a reputable physician, or one of each, or two of either, to examine such person and testify as to his or her mentality. Such physicians must have made a special study of mental deficiency and be qualified to act as "medical examiners." The said judge may also by subpoena require the attendance of such other persons to give evidence as he may deem advisable, and if the judge find such person to be a feeble-minded person, as defined by section sixteen of this act, or an epileptic person under twenty-one years of age, and that such person has been a resident of the state for at least one year next preceding the presentation of the petition, such judge may make an order of commitment to said institution, and on the presentation of such order the superintendent must receive such person therein; provided, that, in the opinion of the board of trustees, the condition of such person, the accommodation at the said institution, and the state of its finances, be such as to justify the receiving of such person. Pending the said investigation the said supposedly feeble-minded or epileptic person may be left in charge of the parent, guardian or other suitable person or in a detention home.

SEC. 20. The judge shall attach to the order of commitment his findings and conclusions, together with all the social and other data he may have bearing upon the case, and the same shall be delivered to the said institution with such order. The judge must inquire into the financial condition of the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of any such person, and if he find him able to do so, in whole or in part, he must make a further order, requiring him or her to pay, to the extent the judge may consider him or her able to pay, the expenses of the proceedings in connection with the investigation, detention and commitment of such person, and the expenses of the delivery thereof to the institution, and to pay to the institution, at stated periods, such sums as, in the opinion of the judge, are proper, during such time as the person may remain in the institution. This order may be enforced by such further orders as the judge deems necessary, and may be varied, altered or revoked in his discretion.

SEC. 21. In case of the dismissal of the said petition, the judge may, if he considers the petition to have been filed with malicious intent, order the petitioner to pay the expenses in connection therewith, and may enforce the same by such further orders as he may deem necessary.

SEC. 22. Any one who shall knowingly contrive to have any person adjudged feeble-minded under this act, unlawfully or improperly, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 23. When a boy or girl is brought before a juvenile court under the juvenile court law, if it appear to the court, either before or after adjudication, that such person is feeble-minded within the meaning of this act; or if on the conviction of any person of crime by any court it appear to the court that such person is feeble-minded as aforesaid, the court may adjourn the proceedings or suspend the sentence, as the case may be, and direct some suitable person to take proceedings under this act against the person before the court, and the court may order that, pending the preparation, filing, and hearing of the petition, the person before the court be detained in a place of safety, or be placed under the guardianship of some suitable person, on his entering into a recognizance for the appearance of the person upon trial or under conviction when required. If upon the hearing of the petition, or upon a subsequent hearing under this act, the person upon trial or under conviction be not found to be feeble-minded, the court may proceed with the trial or impose sentence, as the case may be.

Persons admitted for observation.

SEC. 24. The superintendent may admit to the Pacific colony temporarily, without commitment, under such rules and regulations as the board of trustees may prescribe, for purposes of observation and testing, such persons, as are suspected of being feeble-minded, to ascertain whether or not they are actually mentally defective, and proper cases for care, treatment and training in an institution for the feeble-minded, and if such is found to be the case, application may be made to the superior court for an order of commitment of such persons to such an institution. On presentation of an affidavit or affidavits of the facts upon which such opinion is based, the judge of the said court may make such order.

Witness fees.

SEC. 25. Each psychologist and physician shall be entitled to receive for each attendance mentioned in section nineteen the sum of five dollars for each person examined, together with his necessary actual expenses occasioned thereby, and other witnesses shall be entitled to receive for such attendance such fees and expenses as the court in its discretion may allow, if any, not exceeding the fees and expenses allowed by law in other cases in the said courts.

Payment by county
treasurer.

SEC. 26. Any fees or traveling expenses payable to a psychologist, physician, or witness as aforesaid, and all expenses connected with the execution of any process under this act, which may not be paid by the parent, guardian or person charged with the support of the said supposed feeble-minded or epileptic person, shall be paid by the county treasurer of the county in which such person resides, upon the presentation to the treasurer of a certificate of the said judge that the party is entitled thereto.

Transfer to or from state hospital for insane.

SEC. 27. The said board of trustees, when it shall deem desirable, owing to the mental condition of an inmate of the Pacific colony, may, with the approval of the state commission in lunacy, transfer such inmate to a state hospital for the insane, provided that on due investigation by such commission, the commission shall consider such inmate a fit subject therefor. And the said commission, whenever on due observation and investigation it shall consider a patient in any state hospital for the insane eligible for commitment to the Pacific colony may with the approval of the said board of trustees, transfer such patient thereto, for care and treatment therein.

Transfer to or from Sonoma
State Home.

SEC. 28. Inmates of the Sonoma State Home may be transferred to the Pacific colony, and inmates of the Pacific colony may be transferred to the Sonoma State Home, at any time and from time to time as may be agreed upon by the boards of trustees of the two institutions, upon the application of the parent, guardian or other persons charged with the support of such inmate, provided he pay the expenses thereof, and may, with the approval of the state board of control, be so transferred without such application and without such payment, in which latter case the expenses thereof shall be paid by either or both of such institutions as may be determined by the state board of control.

SEC. 29. In the event of the transfer of any inmate or patient as provided in sections twenty-seven and twenty-eight of this act the liability of any estate, person or county for the care, support and maintenance of such person, shall be the same to the institution to which the person is transferred as it was to the institution from which the transfer is made.

Liability for support unchanged.

SEC. 30. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county wherein an order is made by the judge of the superior court committing any person to the Pacific colony, or of any other person designated by the said judge, to execute the writ of commitment, and to receive as compensation therefor such fees as are now or may hereafter be provided by law for the transportation of prisoners to the state prison; provided, that in all cases the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of such person may, at his option, with the approval of the said judge, and in all cases where he is able or the estate of such person is sufficient, shall, if the said judge approve, without expense to the county or state, execute said writ, after being duly sworn therefor, with like effect and with like powers as the sheriff would have; but no such person, being a female, shall be taken to the said colony by any male person not her husband, father, brother or son, without the attendance of some woman of good character and mature age, chosen for the purpose by the judge, which woman shall, if the judge see fit, be paid therefor such reasonable remuneration as he may allow:

Execution of writ of commitment.

SEC. 31. For each person committed to the Pacific colony there shall be paid by the county from which he is committed, to the state treasurer, the sum of fifteen dollars monthly, for and during each month or part of month such person so committed remains an inmate of the institution, in case the payments herein provided to be made by the parent, guardian or other person charged with the support of any such person should not be made, and to the extent they are not made, not exceeding fifteen dollars per month.

Payments by county.

SEC. 32. Each county auditor must include in his state settlement report, rendered to the controller in the months of May and December, the amount due under this act, by reason of commitment to the Pacific colony, and the county treasurer, at the time of the settlement with the state in such months, must pay to the state treasurer, upon the order of the controller, the amounts found to be due by reason of the commitments herein referred to.

Statement by county auditor.

When others may be admitted.

SEC. 33. Whenever the accommodations of the Pacific colony permit, and if such action does not conflict with the interest or welfare of committed cases, the board of trustees, without judicial commitment, and upon such terms as may appear to said board to be to the best interests of the state, may admit to said institution epileptics, of any age, and also such other persons as are, under the provisions of this act, eligible for admission to said institution.

Transfer from state
schools.

SEC. 34. Any boy who has been or may hereafter be committed to the Preston School of Industry, or the Whittier State School, or any girl who has been or may hereafter be committed to the California School for Girls at Ventura, or to any similar institution now or hereafter created, who comes within the provisions of this act, may, on application to a judge of the superior court of the county in which such person may be located, by the superintendent of the institution to which he or she has been committed, be discharged from such last mentioned institution, and be recommitted, for an indeterminate period, to the Pacific colony, to the Sonoma State Home, or to any similar institution hereafter created; provided, the findings of the judge and the opinion of the board of trustees of the institution to which such boy or girl is sought to be committed are the same as on the commitment to and receiving into the Pacific colony of other persons as aforesaid; and provided, that there shall have been served upon such relatives of said boy or girl, or upon such other persons and in such manner as the said judge may deem necessary or proper, such notice of the application as he shall consider sufficient, in order to enable them to be heard on the application.

colony.

SEC. 35. The object aimed at in the Pacific colony shall be such care and training of its inmates as to render them more useful and happy, and tend to make them as nearly self-supporting as their level of intelligence may permit.

Manufacture of furniture,
etc.

SEC. 36. The Pacific colony may manufacture or raise for sale, such articles of furniture, supplies or produce as may be used in the said or any other state institution, subject to the approval and under the control of the state board of control.

Disposition
of funds.

SEC. 37. All moneys received from the sale of articles of furniture, supplies or produce as provided in section thirty-six of this act shall be paid to the state treasurer, to be placed in the contingent fund to the credit of the said colony and for its use.

Department for clinical diagnosis.

SEC. 38. The Pacific colony shall have a department for the clinical diagnosis of inmates, and their subsequent classification and observation, with a view to their proper segregation and treatment.

Examination of inmate before discharge.

SEC. 39. The superintendent shall, at least two weeks before the discharge of any inmate, have made, by a trained clinical psychologist, an examination of the mental condition of such inmate, and a permanent record thereof shall be kept in the office of the superintendent; which record shall be open to the inspection of all state boards or commissioners authorized by law to investigate or inspect the institution.

SEC. 40. The superintendent shall issue, at the end of each period of two years, a report of the work done during that period, giving the number of inmates received within that time, their sex, nativity, residence, date of reception, level of intelligence determined as aforesaid, and the results of the investigations that may have been made; such report shall also give the number of inmates discharged during that period, with the date and reason therefor, and the names of all paying inmates, the amounts charged for them, and the amounts received therefrom, together with such other information or suggestions as shall be required by the board of trustees or the state board of control, or to the superintendent may seem desirable; which report shall be kept on file in the office of the superintendent, but shall not be printed. A copy of such report shall be sent to the governor, along with the biennial report of the board of trustees, and may be printed for the use of the legislature or for distribution; provided, the names of the inmates are not given or their identity made evident.

Biennial report of superintendent.

SEC. 41. The board of trustees may discharge, or the superintendent may grant a temporary leave of absence to, any inmate at any time.

Discharge of inmates.

SEC. 42. Before any inmate who has been committed to the Pacific colony, and who is feeble-minded or is afflicted with incurable chronic mania or dementia, shall be released or discharged therefrom, the board of trustees on the recommendation of the superintendent approved by a clinical psychologist holding the degree of Ph.D. and a physician qualified to serve under section nineteen of this act, after they shall have made a careful investigation of all the circumstances of the case, may cause such person to be sterilized; and such sterilization, whether with or without the consent of the inmate, shall be lawful, and shall not render the said commission, or its members, or any person participating in the operation, the said trustees, the said colony, or any of its officers or employees, liable civilly or criminally.

Sterilization
discharge.

SEC. 43. No civil action shall be brought against the trustees, the superintendent, or any other officer or employee of the said colony, because of any act done or failure to perform any act while discharging his official duties, without leave of the controller first had or obtained. Any just claim for damages against such trustee, superintendent, officer or employee, for which the state would be legally or equitably liable, may be paid out of any moneys appropriated for the said institution.

Action against trustees, etc.

SEC. 44. Any person, not authorized by law, who brings into the said colony, or within the grounds adjoining or adjacent thereto, any opium, morphine, cocaine, or other narcotic, or any intoxicating liquor of any kind whatever, except for

Penalty for bringing drugs or liquor.

medicinal or mechanical purposes, or any firearms, weapons, or explosives of any kind, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Penalty for aiding escape.

SEC. 45. If any person procure the escape of any male inmate of the said colony, or advise, connive at, aid or assist in such escape, or conceal any such inmate after such escape, or if any person advise or connive at the escape of any female inmate of the said colony, he or she is guilty of a misdemeanor; and if any person procure the escape of any female inmate of the said colony, or aid or assist in such escape, or conceal such female inmate after such escape, he or she is guilty of a felony.

Trustees, etc., not to be interested in contracts.

SEC. 46. No trustee or employee of the said colony shall be personally, directly or indirectly, interested in any contract, purchase or sale made, or any business carried on, in behalf of or for said institution. All contracts, purchases or sales made in violation of this section shall be held and declared null and void, and all moneys paid to such trustee, employee, or any other person, for his benefit, in whole or in part, in consideration of such purchases, contracts or sales made, may be recovered by civil suit, to be instituted in the name of the State of California against such trustee, employee or person acting in his behalf; and in addition, it is hereby made the duty of the governor or the board of trustees, as the case may be, upon satisfactory proof of the fact of such interest, to immediately remove the trustee or employee delinquent as aforesaid, and to report the facts to the attorney general, who shall take such legal steps in the premises as he shall deem expedient.

Exempt from control of state commission in lunacy.

SEC. 47. The Pacific colony, its inmates, officers, employees and property are hereby declared to be exempt from the operation of chapter one, title five, part three of the Political Code, and free from the supervision, inspection or control of the state commission in lunacy.

Appropriation.

SEC. 48. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the state treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000.00) for the purposes of this act.

Payment.

SEC. 49. The controller of the state is hereby directed on requisition of the board of trustees, duly audited by the state board of control, to draw his warrant on the state treasurer in favor of the board of trustees for any moneys duly appropriated, to pay for the expenditures in the establishment and maintenance of the said colony, and the said treasurer is directed to pay the same from the appropriations provided therefor.

Validity.

SEC. 50. The invalidity of any part of this act shall not be construed to effect the validity of any other part capable of having practical operation and effect without the invalid part.

CHAPTER 777.

An act to amend section three thousand eight hundred eighteen of the Political Code, relating to redemption from tax sale.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand eight hundred eighteen of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3818. In all cases where a lot, piece, or parcel of land contained in any assessment has been sold or may hereafter be sold for delinquent taxes to the state, and the state has not disposed of the same, a partial redemption may be made, separately from the whole assessment, of any such lot, piece or parcel of land as follows:

Partial redemption of land sold for delinquent taxes.

If such lot, piece or parcel of land has a separate valuation on the assessment roll, such partial redemption shall be made in the manner following: In the estimate provided for in the preceding section, the auditor shall estimate the amount of state and county taxes due on such lot, piece or parcel of land, together with a proper proportion of the taxes due on personal property under such assessment, and of the taxes due each school, road, lesser or other taxation district; and such redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in the preceding section.

If land has separate valuation.

If such lot, piece or parcel of land does not have a separate valuation on the assessment roll, the auditor shall investigate and ascertain the relative or proportionate value such lot, piece or parcel of real property bears to the whole tract assessed, and the auditor shall estimate the amount of such taxes due on such lot, piece or parcel of land according to such relative or proportionate value and the taxes due on any improvements on the portion sought to be so redeemed, together with a relative proportion of the taxes due on personal property under such assessment, and of the taxes due each school, road, lesser or other taxation district; whereupon such redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in the preceding section; provided, that no lot, piece or parcel of land owned or claimed under contract by the person so redeeming shall be divided for the purpose of such redemption. A notice by registered mail of the proposed division must be given by the auditor to the person or persons to whom the same was assessed, if known to the auditor, if not so known, by posting a notice of such proposed division for a period of twenty days in three public places in said county, and if no protest against said division be filed with the auditor within twenty days from the date of the posting or mailing of such notice, the auditor shall thereupon issue an estimate as above stated. In cases where written protest is filed within said twenty days to said division, the auditor

If no separate valuation.

Notice.

Hearing of protest.

shall withhold his estimate and refer the matter to the board of supervisors for decision. The board of supervisors shall set a time for hearing said protest, and cause a notice of the date of said hearing to be mailed by its clerk to the person or persons who have filed a written protest with the auditor, as above provided, at the post-office address named in such protest, at least five days prior to the date of such hearing, and at the termination of said hearing may confirm the act of the auditor or modify or set aside the same and its decision in the premises shall be final. In the event of such reference to the board of supervisors and of their dividing the assessment, the estimate of the auditor shall conform to the action of the board. A partial redemption may be made, in like manner, separately from the whole assessment, of an undivided interest in any real property, if such property has a separate valuation on the assessment roll; the auditor estimating the amount of taxes due on such undivided interest according to the proportion which such interest in said real property bears to the whole assessment. The recorder shall note, on the margin of the record of the certificate of sale a description of the property or undivided interest redeemed under this section, and shall specifically set forth the several amounts of taxes paid upon such redemption.

CHAPTER 778.

An act to authorize the state board of control to sell certain lands.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Authority to sell certain lands.

SECTION 1. The state board of control is hereby authorized and empowered to sell in such manner and method and at such time as said board may deem best all or part of that certain property situated in the county of San Joaquin, State of California, and described as follows, to wit:

A portion of the east one-half of section eighteen of C. M. Weber's Grant El Rancho Del C. de Los Franceses, and being the south fifteen acres of the following described piece of land: Commencing for the same at a stake situated at the southwest corner of the Maxwell tract, and running thence along Betts west line south sixteen degrees, fifty-five minutes east, thirty-four and fifty one-hundredths chains to a stake; thence south seventy-three degrees five hundredths minutes west, eight and sixty-two and one-half one-hundredths chains to a point in the center line of a proposed road, said center line of said road being the easterly line of land now owned by Edw. Floyd

Jones; thence along said easterly line of said land of said Edw. Floyd Jones north sixteen degrees and fifty-five minutes west, thirty-four and fifty hundredths chains to a point in Gray south line; thence along said Gray south line north seventy degrees and fifty-one minutes east eight and sixty-two and one-half one-hundredths chains to the point of beginning, containing thirty acres, more or less. Also an undivided one-half interest in the right of way granted by A. McCloud to Samuel Hewlett by deed dated the eleventh day of October, eighteen hundred sixty-nine.

SEC. 2. The state board of control is hereby authorized to pay, out of the proceeds of said sale, the expenses necessarily incurred by said board in making such sale; which said proceeds, less the expenses so paid, shall be duly transferred by said board to the state treasurer. Expenses.

SEC. 3. The governor is hereby authorized and directed to execute to the purchaser or purchasers of said property for and on behalf of and in the name of the State of California, a deed of conveyance of said property in the usual form of grant, bargain and sale and to deliver the same upon the payment of the full amount of the purchase price of said property; and said deed shall be effectual to pass and convey to said purchaser or purchasers all of the right, title, interest and estate of the State of California in and to said property. Deed.

An act to amend section three thousand six hundred fifty of the Political Code, relating to the assessment of property.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section three thousand six hundred fifty of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

3650. The assessor must prepare an assessment book, with appropriate headings as directed by the state board of equalization, in which must be listed all property within the county, and which shall show under the appropriate head:

Assessment
book.

1. The name and post-office address, if known, of the person to whom the property is assessed.

Listing of property.

2. Land, by township, range, section, or fractional section; and when such land is not a congressional division or subdivision, by metes and bounds, or other description sufficient to identify it, giving an estimate of the number of acres, not exceeding in any tract six hundred forty acres, locality, and the improvements thereon. When any tract of land is situated in two or more school, road, or other revenue districts of the county, the part in each such district must be separately assessed. The improvements to be assessed against the particular section, tract, or lot of land upon which they are located; city and town lots, naming the city or town, and the number of the lot and block, according to the system of numbering in such city or town, and the improvements thereon.

3. All property within the limits of an incorporated city or town shall be assessed in an assessment book separate and distinct from the assessment book containing the assessment of property situate outside the limits of such incorporated city or town; or, if but one assessment book is used, then in a separate and distinct part of such book; provided, that all property assessed shall be arranged on the assessment book by elementary school districts, as such districts are legally formed and exist on the first Monday in March of each year; provided, further, that where any school district embraces

property situate both within and without the limits of an incorporated city or town, such property shall be assessed and kept separate and distinct on the assessment book.

4. All personal property, showing the number, kind, amount, and quality; but a failure to enumerate in detail such personal property does not invalidate the assessment.

5. The cash value of real estate.

6. The cash value of improvements on such real estate.

7. The cash value of improvements on real estate assessed to persons other than the owners of the real estate.

8. The cash value of all personal property, exclusive of money.

9. The amount of money.

10. Taxable improvements owned by any person, firm, association, or corporation, located upon land exempt from taxation, shall, as to the manner of assessment, be assessed as other real estate upon the assessment book. No value shall, however, be assessed against the exempt land, nor under any circumstances shall the land be charged with or become responsible for the assessment made against any taxable improvements located thereon.

11. The school, road, and other revenue districts in which each piece of property assessed is situated.

12. The total value of all property.

13. In entering assessments containing solvent credits subject to deductions, as provided in section three thousand six hundred twenty-eight of this code, he must enter in the proper column the value of the debts entitled to exemption and deduct the same. In making the deductions from the total value of property assessed, as above directed, he must enter the remainder in the column provided for the total value of all property for taxation.

14. Such other things as the state board of equalization may require.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand six hundred seventeen one-half, relating to the sale or leasing of school property by boards of education, or other governing boards of city school districts and city high school districts, having a total average daily attendance exceeding fifty-five thousand, of real property unoccupied by any public school.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered one thousand six hundred seventeen one-half and to read as follows:

1617½. Boards of education, or other governing boards, in cities and having jurisdiction over both the elementary and high school districts embracing such cities, in which the total num- <sup>Sale or leasing of school property.</sup> ber of units of average daily attendance in both such school districts, as shown by the annual report of the county superintendent of schools to the state superintendent of public instruction for the preceding school year, exceeds fifty-five thousand, are hereby authorized to sell, or lease for a term not exceeding ninety-nine years, any real property belonging to their respective school districts, or high school districts upon which no public school is being maintained upon the following conditions:

Conditions.

Before ordering the sale or lease of any such property such board of education, or other governing boards, shall, in open meeting, by a two-thirds vote of all of its members, adopt a resolution declaring its intention to sell the same, or a resolution declaring its intention to lease the same, as the case may be, which said resolution shall describe the property proposed to be sold, or leased, in such manner as to identify it and shall specify the minimum price, or rental, and terms for which it will be sold, or leased, and fixing a time, not less than three weeks thereafter, and place for a public meeting of said board of education, or other governing board, at which sealed proposals to purchase or lease, as the case may be, will be received and considered. Said resolution shall, before the date of such meeting, be published once a week for three successive weeks in one or more newspapers of general circulation published in the district. At the time and place fixed in said resolution for the meeting of said board of education or other governing board, all sealed proposals which have been received shall, in public session, be opened, examined, and declared by said board, or other governing board, and the property be sold, or leased, as the case may be, to the highest responsible bidder among those who have submitted sealed proposals and who offer to comply with all terms and conditions specified in the resolution of intention to sell or lease; provided, however, that if any responsible person shall at said meeting offer to purchase such property, or to lease such property, as the case may be, for a price or rental exceeding the highest other proposal or offer before the board by not less than five per cent, the property shall be sold, or shall be leased as the case may be, to such person; and provided, further, that said board or other governing board may, should it deem such action for the best public interest, at any time, reject any or all bids, and withdraw such property from sale. Any order of sale or lease made hereunder by said board, or other governing board, shall authorize and direct the execution and delivery by the chairman, or other presiding officer, of said board, or other governing board, of the deed or lease of said district to the purchaser or lessee. This section shall not be taken to authorize action upon proposals for sale and proposals for lease at the same meeting.

The provisions of this section shall be deemed to supersede any other provision of law relating to powers and duties of boards of trustees, and boards of education, only in so far as its terms are in conflict therewith, and shall not be deemed as repealing any such other provision of law not conflicting with the terms of this section. Effect of act.

An act to amend sections two, six, seventeen, thirty-two and forty-three of an act entitled "An act to establish a standard of weights and measures in the State of California; to regulate weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices and providing for the inspection and sealing thereof; to prevent the use and sale of false weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices; providing for the inspection, measurement and weighing of goods, commodities, wares, packages and amounts of commodities kept for sale or in process of delivery; to prevent the sale of goods, wares and merchandise by false weights and measures; to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act; for the admission in evidence of copies of the state's standard of weights and measures; providing for the appointment of officers to enforce and carry into effect the provisions of this act, including a state superintendent of weights and measures and his deputy, sealers of weights and measures and their deputies; defining the powers and duties of such officers; and making an appropriation to carry this act into effect," approved June 16, 1913, and known as the "weights and measures act." and amended June 8, 1915, and to add a new section thereto to be numbered thirty-two a.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to establish a standard of weights and measures in the State of California; to regulate weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices and providing for the inspection and sealing thereof; to prevent the use and sale of false weights and measures and weighing and measuring instruments and devices; providing for the inspection, measurement and weighing of goods, commodities, wares, packages and amounts of commodities, kept for sale or in process of delivery; to prevent the sale of goods, wares and merchandise by false weights and measures; to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act; for the admission in Stats. 1915,
p. 1312.

evidence of copies of the state's standard of weights and measures; providing for the appointment of officers to enforce and carry into effect the provisions of this act, including a state superintendent of weights and measures and his deputy, scalers of weights and measures and their deputies; defining the powers and duties of such officers; and making an appropriation to carry this act into effect," approved June 16, 1913, and known as the "weights and measures act," and amended June 8, 1915, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Term, etc.,
of state superintendent of weights and measures.

Sec. 2. The term of office of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four years, or until his successor shall have been appointed and qualified, but he shall always be subject to removal at the pleasure of the governor. The salary of state superintendent of weights and measures shall be four thousand dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as other state officers are paid. Before entering upon his duties he shall execute a bond to the state in the sum of five thousand dollars, conditioned upon the faithful performance of his duties.

Stats. 1915,
p. 1313.

SEC. 2. Section six of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Standards.

Sec. 6. The standards referred to in the preceding section shall be kept by the state superintendent in a safe and suitable place in his office from which they shall not be removed except for repairs or certification. He shall maintain such standards in good order and shall submit them at least once in ten years to the national bureau of standards for certification. Upon demand the secretary of state shall deliver to the state superintendent all standards now under the control and in the possession of the secretary of state in his capacity of ex officio state scaler of weights and measures. The state superintendent shall thereupon submit such standards received from the secretary of the state to the national bureau of standards for certification, and he shall replace such standards as are incorrect and purchase such additional standards as shall be necessary to complete and make up a complete standard of weights and measures as required by this act. He shall also purchase such apparatus as shall be found necessary to a proper prosecution of the work of the office. The state superintendent of weights and measures may establish tolerances and specifications for commercial weighing and measuring apparatus for use in the State of California similar to the tolerances and specifications recommended by the national bureau of standards, and he may establish a standard net weight, or net measure, or net count of any commodity, produce or article except any manufactured commodity consisting of four or more staple ingredients, and prescribe such tolerances for same as he may in his best judgment deem necessary for the proper protection of the public. Any person violating such standards or tolerances shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 3. Section seventeen of said act approved June 16, 1913, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1913, p. 1080.

Sec. 17. The legislative body of any county or consolidated city and county of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, and the legislative body of any city or town may appoint a sealer of weights and measures, fix his compensation and provide for the appointment by the sealer of such number of deputies as the said legislative bodies may deem necessary and expedient. Such sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one hundred fifty dollars per month, or at the rate of one hundred fifty dollars per month for each month or part thereof actually employed in the service of such county, or city and county, or city and town. He shall be allowed his traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties; and such deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of five dollars per day for each day actually employed in the service of such county, or city and county, or city and town. They shall be allowed their traveling expenses actually and necessarily incurred in the performance of their duties. The term of office of sealer of weights and measures appointed under the provisions of this section shall be four years. He shall be subject to removal by the power appointing him. Deputies appointed under the provisions of this section by a sealer of a county, city and county, or city, or town, shall be subject to removal by the sealer. Appointment of sealers.

In counties of the second class whose charters provide for a department of weights and measures, the appointment of a sealer and deputies, the number of such deputies and the term of office thereof shall be as provided in said charter; provided, that the sealer shall receive for compensation the sum of three thousand dollars per annum, and one deputy, to be known as chief deputy, shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand four hundred dollars per annum. Deputies shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, each payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. In counties of the third class the sealer shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, and deputies shall each receive as compensation the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. In counties of 2d class.

In all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, no county sealer or deputies shall be appointed by the legislative body thereof, but the state superintendent of weights and measures shall assign to such counties, or groups of such counties, such deputy superintendents as may be necessary, but not more than one to each of such counties. Such deputies shall have jurisdiction over such county, or group of counties, as the state superintendent may designate, except within the territorial limits of those cities and towns within which sealers have been appointed under the provisions of this act. They shall have all the powers and perform the Counties in which deputies appointed by state superintendent.

duties of a scaler of weights and measures. They shall be paid by the county whercin employed, five dollars a day for each day employed therein, which shall not exceed one hundred twenty days in any one county in any one year, and they shall also receive from such county their actual traveling expenses. The terms of office of all sealers and deputy scalers in all counties other than those of the first to the thirty-fifth classes, both inclusive, shall terminate when this section becomes effective.

CHAPTER 791.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor.' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act," approved April 21, 1911, and the act amendatory thereof, approved May 4, 1915, by amending sections two, thirty-five, and forty-two thereof; by repealing sections twenty-five, twenty-six, and twenty-seven thereof, by adding thereto a new section to be numbered one relating to the cleansing and sterilization of empty milk, cream or ice cream containers before returning the same to the consignor; and by adding three new sections thereto to be numbered twenty-five, twenty-six and twenty-seven, relating to and providing for the uniform manner of sampling, weighing and testing milk, cream and butter fat, and providing for the use of standard glassware for testing and weighing milk, cream, and butter fat and providing for licensing creameries and testers, and providing for punishment for violations of the same.

[Approved June 1, 1917. In effect July 31, 1917.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section two of an act entitled "An act to prevent the manufacture or sale of dairy products from unhealthy animals, or that are produced under unsanitary conditions; to prevent deception or fraud in the production and sale of dairy products, and in the manufacture and sale of renovated butter and oleomargarine; to license the manufacture and sale of renovated butter, and oleomargarine; to regulate the business of producing, buying and selling dairy products, oleomargarine, renovated or imitation butter and cheese; to provide for the enforcement of its provisions and for the punishment of violations thereof, and appropriating money therefor and to repeal section seventeen of an act approved March 4, 1897, entitled 'An act to prevent deception in the manufacture and sale of butter and cheese, to secure its enforcement, and to appropriate money therefor,' and to repeal all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with this act," approved April 21, 1911, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1911.
p. 960.

Sec. 2. A dairy shall be deemed unsanitary within the meaning of this act, among other causes that render milk, or products made therefrom, unclean, impure, and unhealthy, in the following cases:

Unsanitary
dairies.

(a) If the drinking water is stagnant, polluted with manure, urine, drainage, decaying vegetable or animal matter.

(b) If the yards or enclosures are filthy or unsanitary or if any part of such yards or enclosures, other than pastures, are made the depositories of manure in heaps or otherwise where it is allowed to ferment and decay.

(c) If a suitable milk house or room is not provided and maintained, properly screened to exclude flies and insects, for the purpose of cooling, mixing, canning, and keeping the milk. Said milk house or room shall not be located in or be a part of any residence, or dwelling house, or any barn or poultry house, and shall not be used for any other purpose whatsoever.

(d) If any milk or cream shall be cooled, stored, mixed, canned, or kept in any room or place which is occupied by any person or persons as a sleeping or living apartment, or occupied by horses, cows, hogs or other animals, or fowls of any kind, and if the milk or cream shall not be cooled to as low a temperature as practicable within one hour after it is drawn from the cows.

Unsanitary

(e) If any urinal, privy vault, open cesspool, horse stable, pig pen, stagnant water, accumulation of manure or other filth shall be permitted within one hundred feet of any such milk house or room, or within fifty feet of any cow stalls or stanchions or other place where milking is done.

(f) If the walls become soiled with manure, urine or other filth.

(g) If to the interior of cattle stables, barns, milking sheds, milk house or room, an application of lime whitewash is not made at least once in two years, or oftener if in the judgment of the agent of the state dairy bureau it is needed, or if in the mangers, or other receptacles from which cows are fed, decaying food or other material is allowed to accumulate.

(h) If the pails, cans, bottles or other containers of milk, or its products, or the strainers, coolers or other utensils coming in contact with the milk or its products, are not sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam each and every time the same are used.

(i) If the person or wearing apparel of the dairyman, his employes, or other persons, who come in contact with milk and its products, are soiled or not washed from time to time with reasonable frequency.

Stats 1911.
p. 974.

SEC. 2. Section thirty-five of the said act, approved April 21, 1911, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Branding
cheese.

Sec. 35. Every person, firm or corporation, who shall manufacture cheese in the State of California, shall at the place of manufacture, brand distinctly and durably on each and every cheese manufactured, and upon the package or box, when shipped, the grade of cheese manufactured, as follows: "full-cream cheese," or "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese."

Dairy bureau to issue brands.

All brands for branding the different grades of cheese shall be procured from the state dairy bureau, and said bureau is hereby directed and authorized to issue to all persons, firms or corporations, upon application therefor, uniform brands, consecutively numbered, of the different grades specified in this section. The state dairy bureau shall keep a record of each and every brand issued, and the name and location of the manufacturer receiving the same. No manufacturer of cheese in the State of California other than the one to whom such brand is issued, shall use the same, and in case of a change of location, the party shall notify the bureau of such change.

Grades of
defined.

The different grades of cheese are hereby defined as follows: First: Such cheese only as shall have been manufactured from pure milk, and from which no portion of the butter fat has been removed by skimming or otherwise, and having not less than fifty per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "full-cream cheese." Second: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure milk, and having not less than twenty-five per cent of butter fat in its water-free substance, which shall be conspicuously branded as "half-skim cheese." Third: Such cheese only as shall have been made from pure skim milk, which shall be conspicuously branded as "skim cheese."

No person or persons, firm, association or corporation shall sell or offer for sale in this state any cheese which is not branded either "full-cream cheese," "half-skim cheese," or "skim cheese," in accordance with its butter fat content.

Unlawful to sell without brand.

SEC. 3. Section forty-two of the said act, approved April 21, 1911, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1911. p. 976.

Sec. 42. One-half of all the fines imposed for the violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be paid to the county in which the fine is imposed. The other one-half shall be paid to the state treasurer and shall become part of the general fund.

Disposition of fines.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to the said act approved April 21, 1911, to be numbered one a and to read as follows:

Sec. 1*a*. Every person, firm or corporation, not a common carrier, who receives from a common carrier in cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, any milk, cream and ice cream intended for human consumption, which has been transported over any railroad, or boat or freight line, or by other common carrier, or auto truck, which said cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, are to be returned to the consignor or shipper, shall cause the said empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, to be thoroughly cleansed and sterilized by boiling water or superheated steam before return shipment of the same; provided, further, that all empty cans, bottles, vessels, or other containers, delivered to the consumer by the retailer shall be thoroughly and immediately cleansed before returning the same to the dealer or distributor.

Milk containers to be cleansed.

SEC. 5. Sections twenty-five, twenty-six and twenty-seven of said act approved April 21, 1911, are hereby repealed.

Repealed.

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to the said act approved April 21, 1911, to be numbered twenty-five and to read as follows:

Sec. 25. It shall be unlawful for any hauler of milk, or cream, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream by weight or test or both, or by measure or test or both, to fraudulently manipulate the weight, measure or test of milk or cream of any person or to take unfair samples thereof, or to fraudulently manipulate such samples. The hauler or other agent shall weigh or measure the milk or cream of each patron accurately and correctly and shall report such weights or measurements accurately and correctly to the creamery or factory. He shall thoroughly mix the milk or cream of each patron by pouring or stirring until such milk or cream is uniform and homogeneous in richness, before the sample is taken from such milk or cream. When the weighing or sampling is done at the creamery, shipping station or factory, the same rule shall apply.

Weighing and sampling milk.

Testing milk

It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, by himself or as the agent, servant, employee or officer of any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, to under-read, over-read or otherwise fraudulently manipulate the Babcock test used for determining the per cent of butter fat in milk or cream, or to falsify the records thereof or to read the test at any other temperature than the correct one, which is one hundred thirty degrees to one hundred forty degrees Fahrenheit, or to pay on the basis of any measurement or weight except the true measurement or weight, which is seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters for milk and nine grams or eighteen grams for cream; provided, that in all tests for cream the cream shall be weighed into the test bottle. All testing of milk or cream purchased on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, shall be done by a licensed tester who shall supervise and be responsible for the operation of the Babcock test of milk or cream. The license shall be issued to such person by the state dairy bureau whose duty it shall be to examine into the qualifications of all applicants for such license, and every such applicant shall satisfy said bureau of his qualifications and comply with the provisions herein before any license shall be issued to him.

Tester licensed by state dairy bureau.

License valid one year.

The license shall be valid for the term of one year unless sooner revoked and shall be revoked by the state dairy bureau if, after due notice, the licensee has failed to comply with the laws, rules, and regulations under which the license was granted; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to individuals, hotels, restaurants or boarding houses buying milk or cream for private use.

License to receive milk on basis of butter fat contained.

Every creamery, shipping station, milk factory, cheese factory, ice cream factory, condensory, or any person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of butter fat contained therein, shall be required to hold a license so to do. The license shall be issued to such creamery, shipping station, milk factory, condensory, ice cream factory, cheese factory, or person, firm or corporation by the state dairy bureau upon complying with all sanitary laws, rules and regulations of the State of California and upon complying with the provisions of this act and upon payment of a license fee as provided for in this section. This license shall be valid for the term of one year unless sooner revoked, and shall be revoked by the state dairy bureau if, after due notice, the licensee fails to comply with the laws, rules and regulations under which it was granted; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to individuals, hotels, restaurants, and boarding houses buying milk or cream for private use.

License fees.

The testers' license shall be issued upon compliance with the provisions of this act and upon payment by the applicant to the state dairy bureau of the sum of one dollar. The creamery license shall be issued upon compliance with the provisions of this act, and upon payment by the applicant to the state dairy bureau of one dollar. The money for license fees as provided for in this section shall be paid by the state dairy bureau into the state treasury and shall become a part of the funds for the use of the state dairy bureau.

SEC. 7. A new section is hereby added to the said act approved April 21, 1911, to be numbered twenty-six and to read as follows:

Sec. 26. Every person, firm or corporation receiving or purchasing milk or cream on the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein as determined by the Babcock test, shall use the standard Babcock test bottles, pipettes and accurate weights and scales as defined in this act, and all Babcock test bottles and pipettes shall have been inspected for accuracy by the state dairy bureau or its agent and shall be legibly and indelibly marked by the state dairy bureau or its agent with the letters "D. B."

Inspection of Babcock test bottles.

It shall be unlawful for any firm or corporation or any of their agents to use any other than standard test bottles and pipettes which have been examined and marked as provided by this section, to determine the amount of fat in milk or cream received or purchased on the butter fat basis.

For all testing of glassware by the said state dairy bureau or its agent, a fee of five cents shall be paid by the owner of said glassware to the state dairy bureau for every piece of glassware so examined, and said fee shall be used by the state dairy bureau to defray the cost of testing such glassware.

Fee for testing.

SEC. 8. A new section is hereby added to the said act approved April 21, 1911, to be numbered twenty-seven and to read as follows:

Sec. 27. The term "standard Babcock testing glassware" shall apply to glassware and weights complying to the following specifications: (a) Graduation for milk test bottles. The total per cent graduation shall be eight. The graduated portion of the neck shall have a length of not less than sixty-three and five-tenths millimeters (two and one-half inches), the graduation shall represent whole per cent, five-tenths per cent, and tenths per cent. The tenths per cent graduation shall not be less than three millimeters in length; the five-tenths per cent graduations shall be one millimeter longer than the tenths per cent graduations, projecting one millimeter to the left; the whole per cent graduations shall extend at least one-half way around the neck to the right and projecting two millimeters to the left of the tenths per cent graduations. Each per cent graduation shall be numbered, the number being placed on the left of the scale. The error at any point of the scale shall not exceed one-tenth per cent.

Specifications for standard Babcock testing
glassware.

The neck shall be cylindrical and the cylindrical shape shall extend for at least nine millimeters below the lowest and above the highest graduation mark. The top of the neck shall be flared to a diameter of not less than ten millimeters.

Specifications for standard Babcock testing
glassware.

The capacity of the bulb up to the junction of the neck shall not be less than forty-five c.c. (cubic centimeters). The shape of the bulb may be either cylindrical or conical with the smallest diameter at the bottom. If cylindrical, the outside diameter shall be between thirty-four and thirty-six millimeters; if conical, the outside diameter of the base shall be between thirty-one and thirty-three millimeters, and the maximum diameter between thirty-five and thirty-seven millimeters. The charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams. The total height of the bottle shall be between one hundred fifty and one hundred sixty-five millimeters (five and seven-eighths and six and one-half inches).

(b) Two types of bottles shall be accepted as standard cream test bottles, a fifty per cent nine gram long-neck bottle, and a fifty per cent eighteen gram long-neck bottle.

Fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle. The same specifications in every detail as specified for the fifty per cent nine gram, short-neck bottle shall apply for the long-neck bottle, with the exception, however, that the total height of this bottle shall be between two hundred ten and two hundred thirty-four millimeters (eight and one-fourth and eight and seven-eighths inches) and that the total length of the graduation shall be not less than one hundred twenty millimeters.

The fifty per cent, eighteen gram, long-neck bottle. The same specifications in every detail as specified for the fifty per cent, nine gram, long-neck bottle, shall apply, with the exception that the charge of the bottle shall be eighteen grams, and the mark defining the weight of the charge placed at the top of the neck shall be eighteen.

The total length of the standard Babcock pipette shall be not more than three hundred thirty millimeters (thirteen and one-fourth inches). Outside diameter of suction tube, six to eight millimeters. Length of suction tube, one hundred thirty millimeters. Outside diameter of delivery tube four and five-tenths to five and five-tenths millimeters. The length of delivery tube one hundred to one hundred twenty millimeters. Distance of graduation mark above bulb, thirty to sixty millimeters. Nozzle straight. Delivery seventeen and six-tenths cubic centimeters of water at twenty degrees centigrade in five to eight seconds.

The sensibility of all scales used for weighing cream samples into the test bottles shall be not more than thirty milligrams and the standard weights shall be nine grams and eighteen grams.

In all testing of milk or cream where the same is received or purchased upon the basis of the amount of butter fat contained therein, the Babcock tester shall be operated at the proper speed, which is as follows:

For tester with diameter of fourteen inches the speed shall be between eight hundred seventy-five and nine hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of sixteen inches, the speed shall be between eight hundred twenty-five and eight hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

Specifications for standard Babcock testing glassware.

For tester with diameter of eighteen inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred seventy-five and eight hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with diameter of twenty inches, the speed shall be between seven hundred twenty-five and seven hundred seventy-five revolutions per minute.

For tester with a diameter of twenty-four inches, the speed shall be between five hundred seventy-five and six hundred twenty-five revolutions per minute.

Secretary.

SEC. 4. The director is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction designated and conferred upon him under this act. Power of director.

SEC. 5. The commission shall have a bureau of correspondence for gathering and disseminating information on all subjects relating to the marketing of California products, and may issue bulletins thereon, and by every practicable means keep the producers informed of the supply and demand and at what market their products can best be handled. Bureau of correspondence.

SEC. 6. The term of office of the director shall be four years or until his successor be appointed by the governor, and the annual salary of the director shall be five thousand dollars. The first appointment of director shall be made upon this act going into effect. The legislature, by a two-thirds vote, may remove the director, for misconduct, neglect of duty, or incompetency. Term. Removal

SEC. 7. The state market commission shall have a secretary who shall be appointed by the director and hold office at his pleasure, and shall perform such duties as he may prescribe. The annual salary of the secretary shall be three thousand six hundred dollars. Term of secretary. Salary.

SEC. 8. The state market commission shall have a seal bearing the inscription "state market commission of California," which seal shall be affixed to all such instruments as the director shall require. Seal.

SEC. 9. The salaries of the director and secretary shall be paid to them in the same manner as are the salaries of other state officers. Salaries.

The salary or compensation of all other persons holding office or employment under the director shall be fixed by the director and shall be paid monthly from the state market commission fund, as hereinafter provided, and after being approved by the director upon claims therefor to be audited by the state board of control.

All expenses incurred by the director pursuant to the provisions of this act, including actual and necessary traveling expenses, and other disbursements of the director, his officers and employees, incurred while on business of the commission shall be paid from the state market commission fund in the same manner, except as provided for in section twelve of this act.

SEC. 10. The director shall not engage in any other line of business during his term of office, but shall devote his whole time, attention and ability to the duties of his office. The director shall not hold or own any stock or other interest whatsoever in any produce commission business. Whole time devoted to duties.

SEC. 11. There is hereby created a fund to be known as the "state market commission fund." All fees, charges and costs collected by said commission under this act shall be paid into the treasury of the state to the credit of such fund. All "State market commission" fund.

appropriations made by this act or any subsequent act for the use of the state market commission, shall be placed to the credit of such fund. All expenses of whatsoever nature, incurred by the commission under the provisions of this act, shall be paid from the state market commission fund, after being approved by the director, upon claims therefor to be audited by the board of control except as provided for in section fourteen a of this act.

Revolving fund.

SEC. 12. A revolving fund of two hundred fifty dollars shall be established by the board of control for expenses of the state market commission, other than salaries, rent and other regular expenses, and the director may expend such revolving fund without first procuring the authority of the board of control, but shall file vouchers monthly with the board of control covering such disbursement.

Annual report.

SEC. 13. The director shall make and submit to the governor, on or before the first day of December of each year, a report containing a full and complete account of the transactions and proceedings of the state market commission for the preceding fiscal year, together with such other facts, suggestions and recommendations as may be deemed of value to the people of the state.

Bond.

SEC. 14. The director, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall make and execute to the people of the State of California an official bond in the sum of five thousand dollars, for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The director may require of the officers and employees such bonds for the faithful performance of their duties as in his judgment may be necessary.

Investigation of products held in storage.

SEC. 15. The director may make pertinent investigations concerning the aggregate amount of products held in common and cold storage. In connection with any such investigation, the director shall have the right to inspect only the pertinent books and records of common or cold-storage warehouses for the purpose of determining and publishing aggregate amounts of products held in storage, and the director is hereby empowered to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of pertinent books, papers, accounts, documents and testimony in any such investigation.

Moneys transferred.

SEC. 16. Any and all moneys in the state treasury to the credit of and any moneys due the state commission market fund under the authority of the act creating the state commission market fund, approved June 10, 1915, shall be transferred to the credit of the state market commission fund, created by this act.

Constitutionality

SEC. 17. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason declared to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 18. the consumer. A "wholesale dealer" is one who sells fresh food fish to hotels, restaurants, railroads, steamships, hospitals, institutions and all others than the consumer, and especially to retail dealers for resale. A "fish buyer" or "fish broker" is one engaged in the business of buying or selling fresh food fish for the owner or consignee, or who, without an established place of business, buys from the fishermen for the purpose of reselling to others than the consumer. "Market fishermen" are individuals engaged in the business of catching fish under licenses issued by the state fish and game commission authorizing them to do so. When the singular is used, the plural is also included; whenever the masculine is used, the feminine and neuter are included.

Title to fish
in state.

SEC. 4. It is hereby declared that the ownership and title to all fish found in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state are in the State of California; no such fish shall be caught, taken or killed in any manner or at any time except that the person so catching, taking or killing or having the same in his possession, irrespective of the manner in which they were obtained, shall by such act or possession thereby consent that the title to such fish shall be and remain in the State of California for the purpose of regulating and controlling the use and disposition of same after such catching, taking or killing, except that the title to such fish legally taken shall vest in the person so taking or possessing them, subject to the restrictions and provisions of law. All fish found in the possession of a person within the State of California shall be presumed to have been taken under the jurisdiction of the state.

Fish
business regulated by state market
director.

SEC. 5. (a) The state market director is hereby vested with jurisdiction to regulate and control the business of buying and selling and otherwise disposing of fresh food fish caught in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state, and the business of buying, selling and disposing of such fresh food fish may not be carried on except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

State
markets.

(b) The state market director is hereby vested with jurisdiction to open and conduct where, when, and for so long as he deems it advisable, state markets for the buying and selling of fresh food fish, and to rent, lease or purchase plants and equipment necessary for the same, and to use so much of the funds placed at the disposal of the state market director by the act creating the state commission market, approved June 10, 1915, or in the event of the repeal of said act, by the state market commission act, as may be required in establishing and conducting said markets.

Additional
powers of
director.

(c) The state market director is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction to do and perform any and all things, whether herein specifically designated, or in addition thereto, which are necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction conferred under this act.

SEC. 6. (a) The state market director shall, when and where and for so long as he deems it advisable, establish maximum prices to be paid or charged in any particular locality, for food fish of any or all varieties intended for human consumption in its fresh condition, caught in the waters under the jurisdiction of the state:

Maximum prices.

First—To be paid to those engaged in catching such fish for sale.

Second—To be paid to those engaged in the wholesale fish business.

Third—To be charged to the consumer by retail fish dealers, peddlers or hucksters; and said prices shall be such as will allow, in the judgment of the state market director, a reasonable compensation or profit to those engaged in the catching or selling of such fish.

(b) The state market director may, at his discretion, from time to time make such changes or withdrawals in the prices authorized in section six (a) hereof, as he may deem necessary.

Changes in prices.

(c) It shall be unlawful for any person engaged in the business of selling fresh food fish in a particular locality to charge more than the maximum prices authorized for such locality, as provided in section six (a) hereof. Any violation of the provisions of this paragraph, after receipt of notice of maximum prices established in accordance with the provisions of section six (a) of this act, shall be good and sufficient ground for the suspension or revocation by the state market director in his discretion of any license issued under the authority of this act.

Unlawful to charge more than lawful price.

(d) In the exercise of powers under this act, the state market director may confer with parties interested with a view of securing their advice and counsel as to maximum prices to be paid and charged.

Advice on maximum prices.

SEC. 7. It shall be unlawful for any one to destroy, or cause or permit to be destroyed any food fish in excess of fifty pounds within one day of twenty-four hours or to divert, or cause or permit to be diverted any food fish to any use other than human consumption, without having first obtained the written consent of the state market director to such destruction or diversion. Consent to such destruction or diversion shall be given only where the applicant establishes to the satisfaction of the state market director that such destruction or diversion is not for the purpose of influencing prices and that reasonable efforts have been made to induce its consumption by the public. Nothing in this section shall be construed to apply:

Consent to destruction or diversion of fish.

First—To the use of food fish by fishermen as bait in the customary manner; and,

Fish exempted.

Second—To any individual market fisherman who is unable to sell for human consumption fish he has caught and who within forty-eight hours after the destruction or diversion of said fish shall report to the state market director the number of pounds and varieties of fish and how disposed of. The deposit in the United States mail of a written statement of

said facts, properly addressed to the state market director and stamped, shall be accepted as a sufficient report.

Third—To food fish in the possession of canners, curers or packers and which are not suitable for their use and which in consequence are destroyed or diverted to use other than human consumption; provided, that within forty-eight hours after the destruction or diversion of any such fish, the person responsible therefor shall report to the state market director the number of pounds and varieties of fish, reason for destruction or diversion and how disposed of. The deposit in the United States mail of a written statement of said facts, properly addressed to the state market director, shall be accepted as a sufficient report.

excessive supply of fish reaches market.

SEC. 8. In the event of a supply of fresh food fish reaching any market, which supply in the judgment of the state market director is excessive or abnormal:

(a) It shall be the duty of the state market director, in his discretion, to use every means at his command to induce its consumption by the public, including reduction in prices thereon and increased publicity, as hereinafter provided for.

(b) It shall be obligatory on the part of market fishermen and wholesale fish dealers, who find themselves possessed of an excessive supply, to notify the state market director of the fact, and failure to give such notice shall be sufficient grounds for the suspension for a period not exceeding one month, in the discretion of the state market director, of any license issued under the authority of this act.

(c) The state market director may at his option, use the moneys of the state fish exchange fund hereinafter provided for, in purchasing any part or all of an excess of food fish over the amount that can be sold through ordinary channels, and to place same in cold storage, and to resell same to any or all buyers, and any loss or profit in such transactions shall be charged or credited to the state fish exchange fund.

License fees.

SEC. 9. Every person, individual, partnership, association or corporation, other than market fishermen, engaged in the business of buying and selling fish for consumption in its fresh condition, shall pay to the state a semiannual license fee, as follows:

First—All retail dealers, dealing exclusively in fish, crustaceans and mollusks, ten dollars.

Second—All retail dealers, handling fish in connection with a retail business, owned by them, in other products than crustaceans and mollusks, and all peddlers and hucksters, five dollars.

Third—All fish brokers and all fish buyers, fifty dollars.

Fourth—All fishermen's organizations selling the catch of their members or agents selling the catch of such fishermen's organizations, fifty dollars.

Fifth—All salesmen or agents representing wholesale fish dealers located outside the state, fifty dollars.

Sixth—All wholesale fish dealers, on the basis of their gross receipts from the sale of fresh food fish, including their sales at branch houses, as follows: Wholesale fish dealers.

When gross receipts for six months are:

Not in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars, fifty dollars.

Between twenty-five thousand dollars and fifty thousand dollars, seventy-five dollars.

Between fifty thousand dollars and one hundred thousand dollars, one hundred dollars.

Between one hundred thousand dollars and two hundred thousand dollars, one hundred fifty dollars.

Between two hundred thousand dollars and three hundred thousand dollars, two hundred dollars.

More than three hundred thousand dollars, two hundred fifty dollars.

Seventh—All branch houses of wholesale dealers—that is, wholesale dealers operating more than one wholesale establishment—for each branch house, five dollars.

Fees payable by wholesale dealers under paragraph six of this section, as above, shall be due and payable in advance, and shall be based on the applicant's sworn statement as to his gross receipts from the sale of food fish sold for human consumption in its fresh condition, using the corresponding period of the preceding year as a basis. If the applicant did no wholesale business during said corresponding period, a license shall be issued upon payment of a fee of fifty dollars and the execution of a good and satisfactory bond by the applicant to the state market director, guaranteeing the payment of such additional amount as will make the total payable on his actual business during such period equal to the license fee fixed in said paragraph six of this section. If the amount of actual sales of any such dealer for any semiannual period, for which he has paid license fees in advance, shall be greater or less than the amount on which such license fee was based, he shall at the end of such period, be charged with and shall pay to the state such additional amount as would be due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph six hereof, if the amount of actual sales be greater than the amount on which license fee was paid; or if the actual sales be less than such amount for any such semiannual period, he shall, at the end thereof, be credited with the difference between the license fee paid in advance and the fee that would have been due on the basis of actual sales as set forth in paragraph six hereof; but such credit shall be made only on further license fees that may be payable by any such dealer. Payable in advance.

SEC. 10. All licenses provided for in this act shall be paid in advance and shall terminate with December thirty-first and June thirtieth, whichever date may first follow the date of issue. A proportionate charge shall be made, according to the number of months covered, for licenses issued for a portion of the semiannual period, but in no case shall the fee be less than When payable.
For portion of period.

one-half of the semiannual fee, excepting those issued to wholesale dealers as hereinabove provided in section nine of this act.

License for each place of business.

A separate license shall be required for each place of business from persons owning or operating more than one establishment, except that the sale of fish from a vehicle by the holder of an exclusive retail fish dealer's license shall not require a peddler's license. Persons doing both a wholesale and retail business shall be required to take out both wholesale and retail licenses unless the total receipts of any such person amount to less than ten thousand dollars per annum, and any such person having total receipts of less than ten thousand dollars per annum shall be considered a retail dealer for licenses hereunder.

Application.

SEC. 11. All licenses provided for in this act shall be issued by the state fish exchange hereinafter provided for, upon written application accompanied by proper fee, together with a certificate from the local health authorities, or other satisfactory assurance to the effect that the state and local rules and regulations as to equipment and sanitary conditions have been complied with.

Licenses prepared by state controller.

SEC. 12. The state controller shall prepare suitable license blanks, of the form and class designated by the state market director, which shall purport to license the holder to deal in fish. They shall be numbered consecutively, commencing with one, and shall provide spaces in which to insert the name of the person to whom issued, his business address, and the period covered. The controller shall deliver all licenses to the state market director, who shall thereupon sign and issue them in accordance with the terms of this act.

License transferred or assigned.

SEC. 13. Any license may be transferred or assigned by the holder thereof upon payment of a transfer fee of five dollars; provided, notice shall be given in writing to the state fish exchange, hereinafter provided for, within ten days of such transfer or assignment. In such cases the original license shall be returned to the state fish exchange and cancelled and a new license issued in lieu thereof for the unexpired portion of the original license, on payment of the fee named. If notice of transfer or assignment be not given, the license shall be invalid for any other person than the original licensee.

Duplicate license.

SEC. 14. In the event of a license issued under the authority of this act being lost or accidentally destroyed, a duplicate license may be issued by the state fish exchange, hereinafter provided for, upon payment of a fee of five dollars.

Display of license.

SEC. 15. Every license shall be conspicuously displayed in the place of business for which it is issued, or upon request must be shown by any licensee having no established place of business.

"State fish exchange" created.

SEC. 16. To carry out the provisions of this act, there is hereby created a "state fish exchange" as a department of the state commission market, created by chapter seven hundred thirteen of the statutes of nineteen hundred fifteen, approved June 10, 1915, and of the state market commission created by the "state market commission act." The state fish exchange shall have a secretary who shall execute a bond to the people of the State of California in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the faithful performance of his duties. The state market director shall have authority, subject to the state civil service act, to appoint all employees of the state fish exchange necessary to carry out the provisions of this act and shall fix their compensation.

SEC. 17. The state market director shall establish and enforce rules and regulations necessary for the proper carrying out of the provisions of this act, and shall print and distribute the same to all persons applying therefor without charge.

Rules and regulations.

SEC. 18. There is hereby created a fund to be known as the "state fish exchange fund." On or before the tenth day of each month, the state fish exchange shall remit to the state treasury all moneys collected by said exchange under this act, during the preceding month. All such remittances shall be placed to the credit of the state fish exchange fund and said fund shall be kept separate and apart from other state moneys. All expenses of whatsoever nature incurred by said exchange pursuant to the provisions of this act, including the actual and necessary traveling and other expenses of its employees incurred while on business of the exchange and including the premium and charge for bonds given by surety companies for employees of the exchange when required by the state market director or by the provisions hereof, shall be paid from the said fund, after approval by the state market director, upon claims to be audited by the state board of control, except as provided in section nineteen of this act.

"State fish exchange fund."

SEC. 19. A revolving fund of five hundred dollars shall be established by the state board of control out of the state fish exchange fund for expenses of the state fish exchange, other than salaries, rent and other regular expenses, and the state market director may expend such revolving fund without first procuring the authority of the board of control, but shall file vouchers therefor monthly with the board of control.

Revolving fund.

SEC. 20. A sum equaling five per cent of the gross receipts of the state fish exchange shall be paid out of the state fish exchange fund, monthly, to the credit of the state commission market fund or in the event of the repeal of the act creating the state market commission fund, approved June 10, 1915, to the state market commission fund as a commission on the business of the state fish exchange. for services rendered it by the state market director.

Payments to state market commission fund.

SEC. 21. Any surplus over and above the expenditures of the state fish exchange in the state fish exchange fund shall be expended by said exchange, under the direction of the state market director, in educational and publicity campaigns for the purposes of increasing the consumption of fresh food fish, and of enabling the public to obtain fish at reasonable prices.

Educational and publicity campaigns.

SEC. 22. Nothing in this act shall be construed as applying to fish bought or sold for canning, curing or packing; or as requiring the payment of license fees by canners, curers, or packers of fish; or to fish caught by other than market fishermen; or to fish sold direct by fishermen to private consumers; or to fish caught in waters within the state privately owned, or to crustaceans or mollusks except that provisions of section seven as to destruction or diversion of food fish shall be of general application.

Fish exempted.

License suspended
or revoked.

SEC. 23. Any license issued under the authority of this act may be suspended or revoked by the state market director in his discretion, as herein provided, or upon evidence that the holder thereof has been or is a violator of the provisions of section six of this act, authorizing the fixing of maximum prices on fish, or of the fish and game laws of the state, as evidenced by conviction in any court of competent jurisdiction; or any such license may be suspended in the discretion of the state market director for a period not to exceed thirty days for any violation of the rules and regulations provided for in section seventeen. Such suspension or revocation shall be made only after due notice of such intention has been given the offender and an opportunity given him to rebut the charge at a formal hearing by the state market director, at which hearing the accused shall be entitled to be represented by attorney.

Statement of fish caught.

SEC. 24. The state market director may require from any person engaged in marketing fish a written statement as to the amount and varieties of fish caught, or on hand, or sold by said person. Failure to furnish such statement on demand shall be good and sufficient grounds for the suspension of license issued under the provisions of this act, at the discretion of the state market director, for a period not exceeding thirty days.

Seal.

SEC. 25. The state fish exchange shall have a seal bearing the inscription "state fish exchange, State of California, seal," which seal shall be affixed to all instruments, including licenses, issued under the provisions of this act.

Investigations.

SEC. 26. (a) The state market director may make investigations concerning all matters relating to the provisions of this act. In connection therewith he shall have the right to inspect the books and records of any person engaged in marketing fish, and the state market director is hereby empowered to hear complaints, administer oaths, certify to all official acts, and to issue subpoenas for the attendance of witnesses and the production of papers, books, accounts, documents and testimony in any inquiry, investigation, hearing or proceeding in any part of the state.

Subpoenas.

(b) The superior court in and for the county, or city and county, in which any inquiry, investigation or proceeding may be held by the state market director, shall have power to compel the attendance of witnesses, the giving of testimony and the production of papers, including books, accounts and documents, as required by any subpoena issued by the state market director. The court upon petition of the state market director shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and then and there show cause why he had not attended and testified or produced said papers before the state market director. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness. If it shall appear to the court that said subpoena was regularly issued by the state market director, the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the state market director at a time and place to be fixed in such order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court. Subpoenas.

SEC. 27. Any violation of the provisions of section seven of this act as to destruction or diversion of food fish, of section nine as to licenses required, or of section ten as to license regulations, or of section fifteen requiring licenses to be displayed or shown, shall be a misdemeanor punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding ninety days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Penalty.

SEC. 28. All prosecutions or suits brought under this act shall be commenced within six months from the time such offense was committed. Suits commenced when.

SEC. 29. The state market director shall make and submit to the governor, on or before the first day of December of each year, a report containing a full and complete account of the transactions and proceedings of the state fish exchange, for the preceding fiscal year, together with such facts, suggestions and recommendations as may be deemed of value to the people of the state. Annual report.

SEC. 30. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality.

SEC. 31. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. Repealed.

CHAPTER 3.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 3, approving ten certain amendments to the Charter of the City of Los Angeles, in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, voted for and ratified by the electors of said City of Los Angeles at a special municipal election held therein on the 24th day of October, 1916.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 17, 1917.]

Los Angeles,
city charter
amendments.

WHEREAS, the City of Los Angeles, in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, contains a population of over three hundred nineteen thousand inhabitants and has, ever since the year 1889 and is now organized and acting under a freeholders' charter, adopted under and by virtue of Section 8, Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said city at a special election held for that purpose on the 20th day of October, 1888 and approved by the Legislature of the State of California on the 31st day of January, 1889 (Statutes of 1889, page 455), and,

WHEREAS, the Legislative body of said city, namely: the Council of said city, did, by resolution adopted September 11, 1916, and pursuant to Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, duly propose to the qualified electors of said city of Los Angeles fourteen amendments to the charter of said city, and ordered that said amendments be submitted to said qualified electors of said City at a special municipal election to be held in said city on the 24th day of October, 1916, which date was fixed in said resolution as the date for holding said special municipal election, and,

WHEREAS, said fourteen proposed amendments were, and each of them was, on September 13th, 1916, duly published in The Los Angeles Daily Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation in said City of Los Angeles and the newspaper designated by said Council for that purpose: that said proposed amendments were printed in convenient pamphlet form, and from September 13, 1916 to October 24, 1916, both inclusive, a notice was published in The Los Angeles Daily Journal, a daily newspaper of general circulation in said city, that such copies could be had upon application therefor at the office of the City Clerk of said city; and,

WHEREAS, the said Council of said city did by ordinance designated as Ordinance No. 34,869, New Series, which was duly adopted on the 13th day of October, 1916, order the holding of a special municipal election in said City of Los Angeles on the 24th day of October, 1916, which said date was more than forty days and less than sixty days after the completion of the publication of said fourteen proposed amendments as aforesaid, which said ordinance was approved by the Mayor of said city on the 13th day of October, 1916, and was published for at least five times prior to the time for the holding of said election, in The Los Angeles Daily Journal, a daily newspaper printed and published in said city; and,

Los Angeles
city charter
amendments.

WHEREAS, said Council of said city did, by an ordinance designated as Ordinance No. 34,891, New Series, which was duly adopted on the 16th day of October, 1916, order the submission to the qualified electors of said city of said fourteen proposed charter amendments at the election called to be held in said city on the 24th day of October, 1916, as aforesaid, which said ordinance was approved by the Mayor of said city on the 16th day of October, 1916, and was thereafter published in The Los Angeles Daily Journal, a daily newspaper printed and published in said city for the time and in the manner prescribed by law; and,

WHEREAS, said special municipal election was held in said City of Los Angeles on the 24th day of October, 1916, which day was more than forty days and less than sixty days after said proposed amendments to said charter had been published once in the Los Angeles Daily Journal. Said election having been held during the six months next preceding a regular session of the Legislature; and,

WHEREAS, thereafter, to wit, on the 26th day of October, 1916, the Council of said city did, in the manner provided by law, duly and regularly canvass the returns of said election and duly declare the results thereof; and,

WHEREAS, at said special election, held on said 24th day of October, 1916, ten of said proposed amendments were ratified by a majority of the electors of said city voting thereon, to wit: Charter amendments numbers 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11 and 12, and that all other amendments received less than a majority of the votes of the qualified electors voting thereon and were not ratified: and

WHEREAS, the said ten charter amendments so ratified by the electors of the City of Los Angeles are now submitted to the legislature of the State of California for approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment in accordance with Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California and are in words and figures as follows, to wit:

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE.

That Section 255 and Section 256 of Article XXIV of the Charter be repealed, and that a new subdivision be added to Section 2, Article I of the Charter to be known as subdivision (52), and to read as follows:

(52) To authorize by ordinance the transfer to, and the assumption and discharge by officers of Los Angeles county of any function of the City of Los Angeles relating to the assessment of property for taxation, the equalization of such assessment, the collection of taxes levied for municipal purposes, the collection of assessments levied for local improvements,

Assessment
and collection of taxes by Los Angeles
county.

and the sale of property for the nonpayment of taxes or assessments for local improvements levied thereon and the redemption thereof. During the time any such ordinance is in effect, the mode and manner of assessing property for purposes of municipal taxation and the levying and collecting of taxes for municipal purposes, the nature of the lien therefor and the manner and method of enforcing the same, and of the redemption of property sold for nonpayment of taxes, and all proceedings relating to said matters, shall be fixed by ordinance and so far as applicable shall be substantially the same as may be provided by law for such matters in relation to county taxes in Los Angeles County.

Transfer of other municipal functions.

To authorize by ordinance approved by a vote of a majority of the qualified electors of the city voting thereon, the transfer to and assumption and discharge by officers of Los Angeles County of any other municipal functions of the city, provided such other functions are not legislative functions. In the event of the assumption as aforesaid by officers of Los Angeles County of any municipal functions, the specific powers and duties of any officers of the city which have been so transferred shall cease, and the Council shall by ordinance provide for the discharge of any remaining powers or duties of any such officer or officers, by such officer or officers, or for the transfer to, and assumption and discharge of said remaining powers or duties by other officers of said city, as it may determine. In the event all of the duties of any officer are transferred by ordinance as authorized herein, the office held by such officer shall be deemed vacated and abolished while such ordinance is in effect, and during such time such office shall not be filled by election or appointment, nor shall any salary attach thereto. Upon the repeal of any ordinance authorizing the assumption and discharge by officers of said county of any municipal functions of said city, the provisions of this Charter then in force, relating to the discharge of such functions, shall revive and again be in full force and effect.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER TWO.

That Sec. 199 of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Special
elections.

Sec. 199. Except as in this Charter otherwise provided, every special election ordered, held and conducted shall be ordered, held and conducted (except as to the date thereof) and the result thereof made known and declared in the same manner as herein provided for other elections.

That Sec. 199-a of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Elections
consolidated.

Sec. 199-a. The Council may consolidate special elections with each other or with any municipal, county or state election. When any elections shall have been consolidated as herein provided, they shall be held, conducted, the returns thereof canvassed and the result thereof declared in all particulars the same as one election.

That Sec. 200 of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 200. The Council shall by ordinance order the holding of all elections. Every such ordinance shall specify the object and time of holding any such election, and shall establish the election precincts, designate the polling places therefor and name the officers of election for each precinct, who must be residents thereof, to conduct the holding of and make returns of such election; provided that when two or more municipal elections are consolidated by the Council, it shall not be necessary to set forth the precincts, polling places and officers of election in more than one of the ordinances calling the election, and in the case a municipal election is consolidated with a state or county election it shall not be necessary to set forth the precincts, polling places and officers of election, but reference may be made to the notice, resolution or ordinance of the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County calling such election and fixing precincts, officers of election and polling places. Unless otherwise designated in the ordinance adopted by the Council calling an election, the voting precincts of such election shall be the precincts provided by law for the holding of state and county elections in said city. The Council may, in ordering the holding of any election, consolidate the voting precincts into consolidated precincts to a number not exceeding three for each such consolidated precinct and shall number such consolidated precincts consecutively, and each consolidated precinct so established shall, for the purposes of such election, be known by the number so designated. In ordering the holding of any special election the Council may reduce the number of officers of election for each precinct, or consolidated precinct, to one judge, one inspector and two clerks. The manner of the selection and appointment of officers of election shall be determined by the Council. All ordinances ordering the holding or consolidation of elections shall be published in some daily newspaper printed and published in said city for at least five days prior to the time appointed for the holding of said election.

Ordinance
ordering holding of election.

That Sec. 201 of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 201. The returns of every election shall be delivered to the City Clerk, who shall deliver the same to the Council when it is in session for the purpose of canvassing the returns thereof. The council shall, within ten days after any election, either at a regular or special meeting, canvass the returns and declare the result thereof, and order certificates of nomination, in the case of primary nominating elections, issued to the persons nominated thereat, and certificates of election to the persons elected at general municipal elections or at primary nominating elections. The Council shall be the judge of the qualifications of all of the elective officers. Provided, that when any municipal election is consolidated with any state or county election, the ballots used shall be the ballots used at such state or county election, and the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County shall canvass the returns and shall certify the result of such canvass of all municipal questions submitted at such election, to the Council, who shall thereupon declare the result thereof, and any act in relation to the conduct of such election, required by this Charter to be performed by an officer or employee of the city, shall be performed by the proper officer or employee of the county.

Whenever requested by the City Clerk, the Council shall authorize him to employ such persons, in addition to the persons regularly employed in his office, as may be necessary to assist him in the performance of any duty imposed upon him by the Charter or by the Council in connection with the conduct of any election, and the provisions of the Charter respecting the classified Civil Service of the city shall not apply to the persons so specially employed.

That Sec. 204 of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Qualifications for voting.

Sec. 204. Any person in order to be entitled to vote at any of the elections held under this Charter must be registered in the manner and have the qualifications required by the general laws of this state respecting registration and qualification of voters for state and county elections.

That Sec. 205 of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Registers.

Sec. 205. The registers used at any election held in pursuance of this Charter shall be as provided by law for state or county elections. It shall be the duty of the Registrar of voters or other officer of the County of Los Angeles to furnish such registers, with proper indices thereto, to the City Clerk of said city at least five days before the holding of such municipal election, unless such election is consolidated with a state or county election.

That Section 206-k of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Ballots.

Sec. 206-k. The City Clerk shall cause the ballots to be printed, and, except when voting machines are used, numbered and bound, which ballots shall contain the list of names of candidates and respective offices as published, with the following caption:

PRIMARY NOMINATING ELECTION.

City of Los Angeles, (inserting date thereof). "To vote, stamp a cross opposite the name of the candidate voted for, except that when name of candidate is written in by voter the cross need not be made."

The names of the offices to be filled shall be arranged on the ballots in the order the officers of the city to be elected are named in Section 4 of this Charter.

That Sec. 206-m of Article XIX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 206-m. Each ballot shall contain blank spaces underneath the printed names for each office, wherein the voter may write the name of any candidate whose name is not printed on the ballot, and for whom he may wish to vote, and in such case a cross need not be stamped opposite such written name.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER FOUR.

That a new subdivision be added to Sec. 2, Article I of the Charter, to be known as subdivision (53), and to read as follows:

(53) To require or provide for the elevation or depression, in whole or in part, of railway or railroad tracks. Nothing contained in this Charter shall be construed as a prohibition or limitation of the right of the city to require or provide for such elevation or depression. The provisions of this subdivision shall be exercised by ordinance.

railroad tracks.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE.

That a new subdivision be added to Sec. 2, Article I of the Charter, to be known as subdivision (51) and to read as follows:

(51) To make and enforce all laws and regulations in respect to municipal affairs, subject only to the restrictions and limitations provided in this Charter.

Powers of
council.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER SIX.

That subdivision (19) of Sec. 2 of Article I of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

(19) a. To provide for any or all of the following improvements, to wit: the opening, widening, extension and vacation of streets, alleys and other public ways, and the establishment or change of grade thereof; the improvement, either by contract or by the direct employment of labor and purchase of materials, or by both such methods, of streets, avenues, alleys or other public places of the city, or the construction or reconstruction in any public street, alley or other public place, or in any right-of-way owned by the city, of sewers, drains, water or gas mains, and lines and conduits for transmitting electric energy, and other pipes, mains, lines and conduits, or other public improvements; and to make the cost of any such improvements a lien and charge upon the abutting property, or upon property in districts according to benefits; and to make provisions for the enforcement of such lien, and to levy and collect or cause to be levied and collected assessments upon abutting property, or to levy and collect or cause to be levied and collected assessments upon property in districts according to benefits, to pay the cost of any such improvements; and to issue and sell or cause to be issued and sold bonds or certificates, bearing interest, upon such abutting property, or property in such districts, to represent any such assessments, or to be paid therefrom.

b. To adopt by ordinance the method of procedure to carry out the provisions of paragraph a of this subdivision.

Any procedure ordinance adopted under the authority of this subdivision shall reserve to the owners of the property to be assessed for any improvement authorized thereby, the right by protest of the majority of the frontage to cause proceedings for such improvement to be abandoned for a period of not less than six months from the date of filing such protest, unless in the meantime the owners of a majority of the frontage petition therefor, except that in case such improvement is for a sanitary sewer, or is for the improvement of a portion of a street adjacent to a portion of the same street previously improved in substantially the same manner as the proposed improvement, and such proposed improvement covers a distance less than one tenth of the portion of said street previously so improved, or is not more than two blocks in length and covers a distance less than the portion of such street previously so improved, the work shall not be stayed or prevented by any such protest unless the Council shall deem proper. No improvement to be paid for by special assessment shall be made by the city by the direct employment of labor and purchase of materials, under the authorization of this subdivision, unless the city shall have been requested so to do by a petition signed by the owners of a majority of the frontage to be assessed for such improvement, or unless at the time of receiving bids for the construction of such improvement the city shall have submitted a sealed bid, and been the lowest responsible bidder; provided that should any public improvement provided for in this subdivision be advertised to be let by contract and the bids for the same be, in the opinion of the owners of a majority of the frontage to be assessed for such improvement excessive, then upon application to the Council by the owners of such majority of frontage, duly made within twenty days after such bids have been received, all bids may be rejected and the city may proceed to construct the proposed improvement by the direct employment of labor and purchase of materials.

c. The powers granted to the city by this subdivision shall be supplemental, additional and alternative powers to those authorizing any or all of the work or improvements mentioned in this subdivision, and the levying of special assessments to pay the cost thereof, and the issuing of bonds to represent any such assessments, conferred upon municipalities by general laws of the State of California now or hereafter in force.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVEN.

That Sec. 119b of Article XII of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Parks.

Sec. 119b. All lands belonging to the city which have heretofore or which may hereafter be set apart or dedicated for the use of the public as a public park, shall forever remain to the use of the public inviolate; provided, however, that the Board of Park Commissioners may, with the approval of the Council, given by ordinance, grant easements or rights-of-way to any <sup>Parks.</sup> public utility holding a franchise from the city authorizing operation in, under, along or over such right-of-way, such easement not to extend beyond the lifetime of such franchise; and may authorize the opening, establishment and maintenance of streets or other public ways in or through such parks; and provided, further, that any work, improvement or structure pertaining to the municipal water works, electric plant system or other utility owned by the city and necessary or convenient for giving service to the city or its inhabitants by means of or in connection with such works, system or utility, may be located, constructed, operated and maintained in any public park by the board, commission or officer in charge of such works, system or utility, with the approval and subject to regulations of the Council, expressed by ordinance.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT.

That a new subdivision be added to Sec. 118 of Article XII of the Charter, to be designated as (c), and to read as follows:

(c) Whenever funds are donated by any person or persons for the acquisition or construction of any building, structure, work or improvement in a public park and the donor or donors thereof shall, at the time of such donation, request the appointment of a special commission to take charge of the expenditure of such funds and to supervise the construction of such improvement, the Council may, in its discretion, if said proposed improvement will increase the value of such park for park purposes, provide by ordinance for the appointment by the Mayor, subject to the confirmation by a majority of the Council, of a special commission to take charge of the supervision of the construction of such improvement and the expenditure of funds donated therefor. In the event funds are donated in the manner provided in this section for the maintenance of any such improvement at the time of the construction thereof or otherwise, the Council may, by ordinance, create a commission to have charge of such maintenance. Any commission appointed under the provisions of this section shall have such powers and duties as to such construction or maintenance as may be conferred upon it by ordinance.

and other means for supplying the city and its inhabitants with water; also electric plants, works, systems, and equipments, and other means for supplying the city and its inhabitants with electricity for light, power, heat and other purposes; and to acquire and take, by purchase, lease, condemnation or otherwise, and, in its own name to hold, as special trustee for the city, any and all property situated within or without the limits of the city, that may be necessary or convenient for such construction, operation, maintenance or extension.

Distribute surplus water or electric power.

To supply and distribute any surplus water or surplus electric power, belonging to or controlled by the city, and not required for use within its limits, to consumers outside of the city, for their own use, and to municipal corporations outside of the city, for municipal uses, or for resale, disposal or distribution, by such municipal corporations, to consumers within their limits, respectively; such surplus water and electric power to be so supplied and distributed, for use outside of the city, under schedule of rates, fixed as hereinafter provided, which shall be of uniform operation, as near as may be, and shall be fair and reasonable, taking into consideration, among other things, the nature of the use, the quantity supplied, and the value of the service; provided, however, that water or electric power shall not be supplied by the city at less rates outside of the city than inside thereof, for the same or similar uses; provided further, that the supplying or distribution of water or power, for use outside of the city, as aforesaid, shall, in every case, be subject to the paramount right of the City of Los Angeles at any time, to discontinue the same, in whole or in part, and to take and hold, or to distribute such water and power, or either thereof, for the use of the city and its inhabitants; and provided further, that contracts for supplying surplus water or surplus electric power by the city to municipal corporations outside of the city, or for interchange of surplus power with any such outside municipal corporation, may be made by the board, in the name of the city, for periods not exceeding fifteen years, and upon such terms and conditions, and for such compensation to the city as shall be prescribed by resolution adopted by said board and approved by an ordinance of said city; but in every such contract with a municipal corporation, as aforesaid, the right shall be reserved to the city to terminate the same upon three years' written notice to such municipal corporation, to be given by said board whenever it shall be determined and declared by resolution adopted by said board and approved by an ordinance of said city, that the water and electric power, or either, to be supplied under such contract, is required for the City of Los Angeles and its inhabitants; and every such contract for supplying surplus water by the city to an outside municipal corporation must, before the making or execution thereof, be assented to by a majority of the qualified electors of said city voting upon the proposition at a general or special election at which such proposition shall be submitted.

To regulate and control the use, sale and distribution of water and electricity belonging to the city, the collection of water and electric power and light rates, and the granting of permits for connections with said water works, zanjas, ditches, electric works or electric systems, and to fix the rates to be charged for such connections; and, subject to the approval of the City Council, by ordinance, to fix the rates to be charged for water, electric power and electric light, whether within or without the city limits, and to prescribe the time and manner of payment of the same. Such rates shall be so fixed at least every two years; provided that, except as hereinafter otherwise prescribed, the rates to be charged by the city for water or electric power, supplied by it for use within its limits, shall be of uniform operation, as near as may be, and shall be fair and reasonable, taking into consideration, among other things, the nature of the use, the quantity supplied and the value of the service.

Regulate sale of water and electricity.

To appoint, employ, and, for good cause, remove a chief engineer of water works, who shall be the successor in office of the superintendent of water works, an electrical engineer, and such assistants, employees and laborers as the board may deem necessary; to fix their compensation, prescribe their duties, and to require of any or all of them adequate bonds for the faithful performance of such duties.

Employees.

To sue and be sued, and to require the services of the City Attorney, free of charge, in all cases to which the board is a party.

Sue and be sued.

To control and order the expenditure of all moneys received from the sale or use of water, or from any other source in connection with the operation and management of the water works of said city; provided that all such moneys shall be deposited in the treasury of the city to the credit of a fund to be known as the "Water Revenue Fund," and shall be kept separate and apart from other moneys of the city, and shall only be drawn from said fund upon demands authenticated by the signatures of the president and secretary of the board, or, in the absence of the president, by the signature of two members and the secretary of the board, except that the City Council, at the time of fixing the general tax levy may, in its discretion, by ordinance, apportion and set apart, out of the moneys then in said Water Revenue Fund and not appropriated to other purposes or required to meet outstanding obligations and liabilities payable out of such fund, an amount sufficient to meet all sums coming due for interest or principal, or for interest and principal, upon all outstanding water works bonds, before the time for fixing the next general tax levy, and the City Treasurer shall use the money so apportioned to make such payment, and for no other purpose; and if there shall be a surplus remaining, the same shall forthwith be retransferred into said Water Revenue Fund.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER ELEVEN.

That Sec. 218 of Article XXI of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Payment of salaries or wages.

Sec. 218. The salaries or wages of all officers and employes of the city shall be paid either monthly, semi-monthly or weekly as the Council may by ordinance prescribe. At the expiration of the period fixed in the ordinance providing for the time of payment of such salaries or wages, the board, commission or officer having the management or control of any department or office shall cause a pay roll to be made out of all persons employed in such department or office during the preceding salary period, stating the amount of compensation of such persons in detail, which said pay roll shall be certified as herein provided in the case of demands against the city. Each such pay roll shall be filed with the City Auditor and shall be accompanied by proper demands or pay checks for the salary or wages of each person specified therein; provided, that nothing in this article contained shall be deemed to affect or limit the provisions of Sec. 151 of this Charter.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER TWELVE.

That Sec. 13 of Article III of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Council
meetings.

Sec. 13. The Council is the governing body of the city and shall meet on at least five days each week, and shall provide by ordinance for the manner, time and place of holding all regular and special meetings.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
County of Los Angeles. } ss.

This is to certify that we, the undersigned, Frederic T. Woodman, Mayor of the City of Los Angeles, State of California, and Chas. L. Wilde, City Clerk of said city, do hereby certify as follows, to wit: That the foregoing proposed and ratified amendments to the charter of said City of Los Angeles submitted to the electors of said city, at a special election held on the 24th day of October, 1916, have been compared by them and each of them with the respective proposed amendments set forth in the resolution adopted by the Council, as hereinbefore stated, and find that the foregoing is a full, true, correct and exact copy thereof, and we further certify that the facts set forth in the preamble preceding said amendments to said charter are, and each of them, is true.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and caused the same to be authenticated by the seal of said City of Los Angeles this 6th day of January, 1917.

CHAPTER 7.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 2, relating to the oil industry of the State of California.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 19, 1917.]

Legalizing oil claims.

WHEREAS, The oil industry of California is in a demoralized condition caused by litigation instituted and threatened by the United States government against bona fide operators who entered upon, and were developing public lands in good faith at the time of their withdrawal, and continued such development under the law, as they were legally advised it to be, until by such efforts they greatly increased the production of oil, and in some instances were the means of opening up new oil fields; and

WHEREAS, Unless congress settles by a law these vexatious disputes, the present litigations will probably continue for many years, resulting in great hardship to the operators by preventing the marketing of their oil, and to the public by reason of constantly increasing the price of gasoline and oil due to the stoppage by the government of the operation of large areas of this land, and also resulting in many instances in bankrupting the small operators who have not the resources to stand years of expensive litigations against the United States government; and

WHEREAS, We firmly believe that justice requires that the government shall legalize the claims of all locators who were actually developing such land in good faith at the time of its withdrawal; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the legislature of the State of California respectfully request the congress to enact such legislation as will legalize the rights of these operators; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of the senate be and he is hereby directed to send a certified copy of these resolutions to each of our senators and representatives in congress, to the president of the senate, and to the speaker of the house of representatives, to the attorney general, the secretary of the navy, and the secretary of the interior.

CHAPTER 8.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4, relative to a proposal to amend article XX of the charter of the city of Oakland, dealing with franchises, after due ratification by the qualified electors of said city.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 24, 1917.]

WHEREAS, the City of Oakland, a municipal corporation of the County of Alameda, State of California, now is, and was at all times herein mentioned, a city containing a population of more than three thousand five hundred (3500) inhabitants and has been ever since the 1st day of July, one thousand nine hundred eleven, and is now, organized and acting under a Freeholders' Charter adopted under and by virtue of Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, and which Charter was duly ratified by the qualified electors of said City, at an election held for that purpose on the 8th day of December, one thousand nine hundred ten, and approved by the Legislature of the State of California, by concurrent resolution filed with the Secretary of State on the fifteenth day of February, 1911, (Statutes of 1911, page 1551); and

Oakland
amendments.

WHEREAS, in pursuance of sufficient petitions requiring the same, duly and regularly filed in the office of the City Clerk of said City, on the fifth day of September, 1916, and by and in pursuance of Resolution No. 13543 N.S. adopted by the City Council of the City of Oakland on the eighteenth day of September, 1916, and by and in pursuance of Resolution No. 13672 N.S. adopted by the City Council of the City of Oakland on the ninth day of October, 1916, the City Council of said City of Oakland did, by said ordinances and pursuant to Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, duly and regularly submit and propose to the qualified electors of the said City of Oakland, a certain amendment to said Charter of said City, by the submission of a proposal entitled as follows, to-wit:

"A proposal to amend Article XX of the Charter of the City of Oakland, dealing with franchises, said proposal being to amend Subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 140 of said Article, to add a new section dealing with re-settlement franchises, to be numbered 140½, and to amend Sections 141, 145, 149 and 153;" and

WHEREAS, said proposal above mentioned containing said proposed amendment to said Charter, was duly and regularly published in accordance with the provisions of Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, and in accordance with the provisions of the Charter of the City of Oakland, in the "Oakland Enquirer", a daily newspaper of general circulation, published in said City of Oakland, and the official newspaper of said City; and

amendments.

WHEREAS, copies of said proposal containing said proposed amendment, were printed in convenient pamphlet form, and until the date fixed for the election hereinafter described, and as required by law, an advertisement was published in said "Oakland Enquirer" that such copies could be had upon application therefor, at the office of the City Clerk of the City of Oakland; and

WHEREAS, such copies could be had upon application therefor, at the office of the City Clerk of the City of Oakland, until the date fixed for the election hereinafter described; and

WHEREAS, the legislative body of said City, by its Resolution No. 13543 N.S. adopted on the eighteenth day of September, 1916, did order the holding of a special municipal election in said City of Oakland on the seventh day of November, 1916, said day being at least forty days after the completion of publication of said proposed amendment in said official paper of said City of Oakland, to-wit: the "Oakland Enquirer", and not more than sixty days after the completion of such publication, and did provide in said Resolution for the submission of the proposed Charter Amendment to the qualified electors of such city for their ratification at such election; and

WHEREAS, said election was duly called and held on the seventh day of November, 1916, and at said election a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, voted in favor of the ratification of, and did ratify, said proposed amendment to said Charter; and

WHEREAS, the returns of said election were, in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided, duly and regularly canvassed and certified to, and it was duly found, and determined and declared by the proper officers thereunto duly and properly authorized, that a majority of the qualified electors of said City voting thereon, had voted for and ratified said proposed amendment to said Charter; and

WHEREAS, said amendment to the charter, so ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said City, voting at said election, is in words and figures following, to-wit:

That subdivisions 2 and 3 of section 140 of Article XX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Condition of Grant.

Conditions of franchise
grant.

Sec. 140, Sub. 2. The advertisement must state the character of the franchise, permit or privilege it is proposed to grant, and, if it be a street or suburban or interurban railroad, the route to be traversed; that sealed bids therefor will be opened at a stated time and place, and that the franchise, permit or privilege will be awarded to the bidder offering to pay to the city during the life of the franchise, permit or privilege the highest percentage of the net annual revenue received from the use, operation or possession of the franchise, permit or privilege, provided that such net annual revenue shall be determined by deducting from the gross annual revenue collected from any and all sources, under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege all operating and maintenance costs, taxes, insurance, depreciation as fixed by the Board of Control and six (6) per cent interest on the valuation of the property of the grantee used and useful or determined in the franchise ordinance to be of prospective usefulness in the public service. Such valuation to be fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California or its successors in interest, and determined as provided in section one hundred forty-five (145) of this charter; and provided further that the said percentage of the net annual revenue to be paid to the city shall not be less than fifty-five (55) per cent; and provided further that the Council shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

Bidding for the Franchise.

Sec. 140, Sub. 3. At the time of opening the sealed bids, any responsible person, firm or corporation may bid for such franchise, permit or privilege not less than one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of one (1) per cent of the net annual revenue for the entire term of the franchise, permit or privilege above the highest sealed bid therefor and such bids so made may be raised not less than one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of one (1) per cent of said net annual revenue for such entire term, by any other responsible bidder, and such bidding may continue until finally such franchise, permit or privilege shall be struck off, sold and awarded by the council to the person, firm or corporation offering the highest percentage of the said net annual revenue arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, permit or privilege subject to the provisions of Subdivision 2 of this section; provided that, if in the judgment of the council no adequate or responsible bid has been made, the council may withdraw such franchise, permit or privilege from sale or advertise for new bids.

Bidding for franchise.

If the franchise, permit or privilege is for a street or suburban or interurban railroad, which shall extend beyond the limits of the City of Oakland, then and in that case the percentage of the net annual revenue above specified shall be computed or reckoned as follows: The total length of the said railroad within and without the city, shall be compared with the length of said railroad within the city, for which a franchise, permit or privilege is bid, and such fraction of the net annual revenue for the whole of said railroad, within and without the city, as the portion of such railroad within the city is of the said whole railroad shall be deemed and considered the net annual revenue upon which the above percentage to be paid into the City Treasury shall be reckoned. No street or suburban or interurban or commercial railroad shall without permission from the City of Oakland granted by ordinance so to do use the tracks of any other street or suburban or interurban or commercial railroad within the City of Oakland.

That a new section be added to Article XX of the Charter to be known as section 140½, said section to read as follows:

Re-settlement Franchises.

Re-settlement
franchise.

Sec. 140½. The Council is hereby empowered to provide for a general re-settlement of the franchise rights of and to grant a re-settlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a public utility or utilities in the City of Oakland at the time this amendment becomes effective, upon written application therefor and upon the following terms and conditions, and not otherwise:

Advisory Board.

Advisory
board.

(1) Whenever such written application, as above provided for, shall have been made, the Mayor thereupon shall appoint an Advisory Board to consist of seven (7) citizens, who shall co-operate with the council in preparing such re-settlement franchise; and said written application for a re-settlement franchise shall thereupon be referred to said Advisory Board, which shall make within a reasonable time a written report thereon to the Council; and without such report said Council shall have no power to pass such re-settlement franchise. The said citizens shall serve without pay, but all reasonable expense incurred by them in the work of preparing said re-settlement franchise shall be paid by the city upon the presentation of a proper bill, in the same manner as any other proper claim against the city.

Time Period of Franchise.

Time period

(2) Every such re-settlement franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period subject always to the right of the city to acquire and possess the property of the grantee or to assign its right to purchase and possess to a third person, firm or corporation, as herein provided.

Division of Annual Net Revenue.

Division of annual net
revenue

(3) Every such re-settlement franchise, permit or privilege shall confer upon the grantee thereof the right to occupy the streets and public places of the city particularly set out in the terms and conditions of said franchise, permit or privilege, subject always to the right of the city to acquire and possess the property of said grantee, or to assign its right to purchase and possess to a third person, firm or corporation, as provided in this article; provided, however, that said grantee shall pay the city such a percentage of the net revenue annually collected from any and all sources under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege, which percentage shall not be less than fifty-five (55) per cent of such annual net revenue, and provided further, that such annual net revenue shall be determined by deducting from the annual gross revenue all operating and maintenance costs, taxes, insurance, depreciation as fixed by the Board of Control and six (6) per cent interest on the valuation of the property used and useful or determined in the franchise ordinance to be of prospective usefulness in the public service.

Such valuation to be fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, or its successors in interest, and determined as provided in section one hundred forty-five (145) of this charter.

Passage and Approval of Franchise.

(4) Every such re-settlement franchise shall be introduced in the Council in the form of an ordinance, at least ten days prior to being passed to print, and shall remain before the Council at least twenty (20) days after printing before final passage. After the final passage of said ordinance the same shall be referred and submitted to the vote of the electors of the city at the general or special election next ensuing not less than twenty (20) days after the final passage of such ordinance. But if no general or special election is to be held in the city within a period of not less than twenty (20) days and not more than ninety (90) days after such final passage, the Council shall call a Special Election for the purpose of submitting said ordinance to the electors as aforesaid, said special election to be held not less than thirty (30) days and not more than sixty (60) days after such final passage.

Passage and approval.

No such re-settlement franchise ordinance shall go into effect until it shall have been so submitted to the electors of the city and receive the approval of a majority of the electors voting thereon. Sections six (6), one hundred sixty-seven (167), one hundred seventy-five (175), one hundred eighty-five (185) and subdivisions 13, 14, 15, 20 and 22 of section five (5) of this charter, so far as applicable, shall govern elections held under the provisions of this section.

Public Hearings by Council.

(5) The Council shall hold public hearings on every proposed re-settlement franchise prior to its final passage, and not later than seven days after such final passage shall cause such re-settlement franchise to be printed in convenient pamphlet form for public distribution and shall publish daily thereafter up to the date of such election in the official newspaper of the city a notice to the effect that any person may procure a copy of such re-settlement franchise upon application therefor made in person or by mail to the City Clerk, provided that all costs of printing, publishing and advertising said franchise shall be borne by the grantee of said franchise.

Public hearings by council.

Additional Powers.

(6) In the passage of a re-settlement franchise, the Council shall have power to impose terms and conditions not inconsistent with this charter, in addition to the terms and conditions provided for herein, and shall have such other powers hereunder as may be found necessary to the proper preparation, enactment, and the carrying out of the terms of a re-settlement franchise that shall provide, first, service of the highest efficiency to the public, second, sufficient new money to make extensions in the service of the public utility necessary in the proper development of the city, and third, the right of the city to convey to a third person, firm or corporation the city's privileges of purchasing the property of the grantee upon like terms and conditions as the city may so purchase.

Amendments to Re-settlement Franchises.

Amendments.

(7) Any re-settlement franchise may be amended from time to time by ordinance passed by the Council and ratified by the electors of the city in the manner herein prescribed for the passage of such re-settlement franchise in the first instance and not otherwise, provided that any such amendment shall not be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such re-settlement franchise, and provided further that the Council in the preparation of such amendment may in its discretion act without the appointment of an advisory board, and that no such amendment shall in any respect contravene the provisions of this section or this charter.

Joint Control.

Board of control.

(8) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide for a board of control to consist of two competent and experienced men, one to be selected by the Council and one by the grantee of said franchise, all disagreements between the two to be decided by an arbiter appointed for that purpose in a manner to be determined in such franchise.

Service.

Service.

(9) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide for service of the highest efficiency, which shall be maintained during the life of the franchise.

New Franchises and Extensions.

New franchises and extensions.

(10) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide that any new franchise granted to the holder of such re-settlement franchise shall be considered as a part of such re-settlement franchise, and shall also provide that the Council may by ordinance grant to the grantee of such re-settlement franchise the right to extend the appliances and service of such grantee. All such extensions shall become a part of the aggregate property of such grantee, and shall be subject to all the obligations and rights in favor of the city applicable to the property of the grantee by virtue of such re-settlement franchise. The right to use and maintain any such extensions shall expire with the original grant of such grantee by which the extensions are made.

Consolidated or Annexed Territory.

Consolidated or annexed territory.

(11) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide that in case of consolidation with or annexation to the city of any territory not now included in said city, any franchise to operate such utility or any part thereof, held or claimed by the holder of such re-settlement franchise in or for any portion of such consolidated or annexed territory shall thereupon be surrendered to the city and that the rights and obligations of such re-settlement franchise shall thereupon automatically extend to such additional territory, and that a valuation of the properties used and useful, or in the discretion of the city prospectively useful in the operation of such utility in the area so consolidated or annexed and not included in the capital valuation already fixed in such re-settlement franchise shall be added to the capital account of said re-settlement franchise grantee at a valuation fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California or its successors in interest and otherwise determined as provided in section one hundred forty-five (145) of this charter.

Provision for the Surrender of Existing Franchises.

(12) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide for the surrender by the grantee thereof of any or all of the franchises or rights owned or claimed by such grantee for the occupation of the streets or public places of said city at the time of such re-settlement, and the acceptance in lieu thereof of the rights and privileges granted by such re-settlement franchise as a franchise for the continued operation of such utility within the limits of the city or such portion thereof as had heretofore been operated under the franchise or franchises so surrendered, but not in contravention of any conditions of this charter.

Surrender of existing franchises.

Assumption of Bonded Indebtedness.

(13) Every re-settlement franchise may provide that, when purchasing the property of the grantee, the city, if and when permitted by the provisions of the Constitution of the State of California, may assume the obligations of such grantee for the payment of the bonds then outstanding against said property, not exceeding in aggregate par value the valuation of the property thus purchased, determined as in section one hundred and forty-five (145) of this charter provided, and in such case the par value of such bonds shall be deducted from the said valuation of the property, and the excess, if any, of the valuation of the property over the par value of the bonds so assumed shall be the purchase price to be paid to the grantee by the city for said property. After such purchase, the bonds so assumed shall no longer be a lien exclusively upon the franchise or property of the utility as such, but may be secured by the general credit of the city or by a lien upon a fixed percentage or amount of the gross earnings of such utility, or otherwise, as may be provided in such re-settlement franchise.

Assumption of bonded
indebtedness.

That section 141 of Article XX be amended to read as follows:

Life of Franchise.

Sec. 141. Every franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period, subject always to the right of the city to acquire and possess the property of the grantee and to assign its right to acquire and possess to a third person, firm or corporation as in section one hundred and forty-five (145) hereof provided.

Life.

That section 145 of Article XX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Right of City to Assume Ownership.

city to assume ownership.

Sec. 145. Every new franchise, permit or privilege, and every re-settlement franchise, shall be granted upon the express condition that the city may, at a valuation fixed and determined as hereinafter provided, either assume ownership by purchase and take over to itself the property used and useful or in the discretion of the city prospectively useful of the franchise grantee, his or its successors or assigns, or assign its right to acquire and possess said property to a third person, firm or corporation, upon giving said grantee six months' written notice of its intention to so purchase and take over said property, which written notice shall be given only when authorized by ordinance. The valuation of such property, used and useful, or in the discretion of the city prospectively useful and owned by the grantee at the time application is made for said new franchise, permit or privilege, or for said re-settlement franchise, shall be fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, or its successor in interest, and shall be set forth in said new franchise, permit or privilege, or in said re-settlement franchise, as the case may be. To this value shall be added the cost of all additions, extensions and betterments made with the approval of the Board of Control; and from this value shall be deducted the value of property sold or abandoned and a depreciation to be determined and fixed by the Board of Control in accordance with the provisions of the franchise and annually charged to the capital value of said property; and the valuation to which said additions have been made and from which such deductions have been made shall be the valuation upon which the six per cent interest referred to in subdivision three (3) of section one hundred and forty and one-half (140½) and in subdivision two (2) of section one hundred and forty (140) shall be computed, and shall be the valuation at which said property may be acquired by the city, or by the third person, firm or corporation to which such right is assigned by the city.

That section 149 of Article XX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Street Sprinkling and Paving.

Street
sprinkling and paving.

Sec. 149. Every grant of any franchise, permit or privilege in, over, under or along any streets, highways, or public places in the city for railroad, street railway, suburban or interurban railway purposes, shall be subject to the conditions that the persons, firm or corporation exercising or enjoying the same shall sprinkle, plank or re-plank, pave or repave, macadamize or re-macadamize the entire length of the street, highway, or other public place used by the track or tracks of such railroad or railway, and between the rails, and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks, if there be more than one, and keep the same constantly in repair, flush with the street, and with good crossings; and such street work shall be done with the kind of materials and in such manner as the Council may by ordinance direct, at the same time and as a part of the same operation as the work on the remainder in width of said street, highway or other public place, to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets; provided, however, that, when in the opinion of the Council the space between the rails and tracks of the grantee and two feet on each side thereof or any portion of the same is not required for purposes other than railway traffic, the same need not be paved in like manner as the remainder of the street or public place, but shall be treated as the Council may direct.

That section 153 of Article XX of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Payment of Net Receipts.

Sec. 153. The stipulated percentage of net receipts provided in this Charter to be paid for the use and enjoyment of any franchise, permit or privilege shall be paid annually at the time of filing the annual report provided for in section one hundred and fifty-one (151) of this Charter to be filed by persons, firms or corporations holding franchises, permits or privileges. Failure to pay such percentage shall work a forfeiture of the franchise, permit or privilege.

Payment of
net receipts.

WHEREAS, The said thirteen charter amendments so ratified by the electors of the city and county of San Francisco, are now submitted to the legislature of the State of California for approval or rejection as a whole without power of alteration or amendment in accordance of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, and are in words and figures as follows, to wit:

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 12.

That Chapter II of Article XI of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco is hereby amended to read as follows:

CHAPTER II.

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

When Held—Officers to Be Elected.

Section 1. There shall be held in the City and County of San Francisco on the Tuesday after the first Monday in November in 1917, and every second year thereafter, an election to be known as the "municipal election," at which the electors of the city shall choose such officers as are required by this Charter to be elected at that time, to-wit, as mentioned in Section 38a of Article XVI of this Charter, and two Police Judges in the year 1917, for a term of four years, and two Police Judges every second year thereafter for a term of four years, and an Assessor in the year 1919 and every four years thereafter, for a term of four years. The Superintendent of Public Schools shall be elected for four years, and the Justices of the Peace for four years, at the same time that members of the Legislature are elected.

Municipal elections.

When Office Is Taken.

When office is taken.

Section 2. The officers elected at any general municipal election under this Charter shall take office at noon on the first Monday after the first day of January next following the said election; except that the terms of incumbent officers shall not be affected by this provision and the officers first elected hereunder shall take office on the expiration of the terms of the incumbents.

Nomination and Election of Officers.

Mode of nomination and election.

Section 3. The mode of nomination and election of all elective officers of the City and County to be voted for at any general or special election, including recall elections, shall be as provided in the following sections, and not otherwise:

Condition of Candidacy.

Sponsors of candidate.

Section 4. The name of the candidate shall be printed upon the ballot when a declaration of candidacy and certificates of not less than ten nor more than twenty sponsors shall have been filed on his behalf, in the manner and form and under the conditions hereinafter set forth.

Method of Nomination.

Method of nomination.

Section 5. The nomination of candidates shall be made in the following manner:

(a) The candidate, not more than fifty days before the municipal election in November, shall file with the Registrar of Voters a declaration of his candidacy, in the following form:

DECLARATION OF CANDIDACY.

I hereby declare myself a candidate for the office of _____ to be voted for at the municipal election to be held in the City and County of San Francisco on the _____ day of November, A. D. _____, and declare the following to be true:

Name in full _____

Present residence address _____

What different business or occupation have you followed during the past three years? _____

Have you ever had any special training or experience in the line of work which you would be called upon to perform in case of your election to the office for which you are a candidate? If so, state what training or experience, and when, in not over 50 words _____

_____
_____

Signed _____

All blanks in said form must be filled out and the Registrar shall not accept for filing any declaration unless all blanks are so filled. The declaration shall be subscribed before the Registrar of Voters. The Registrar of Voters shall forthwith certify to the said subscription and its date and retain and file the declaration.

(b) The candidate shall pay to the Registrar of Voters at the time of filing his declaration of candidacy the sum of twenty dollars. Method of nomination.

(c) After said declaration shall have been signed, certified and filed, and not later than thirty days before said election in November, not less than ten nor more than twenty sponsors for the said candidate, who are electors for the City and County, qualified to vote at the said municipal election, shall appear before the Registrar of Voters and shall certify under oath, to the qualifications of the said candidate, in a certificate as follows:

candidates' declarations and such sponsors' certificates. In the event the Registrar shall refuse to file such declaration or certificate, he shall forthwith designate in writing on the declaration or certificate the defect thereof, or other reason for refusing to file the same, and shall return the same to the party tendering it. No defect in any declaration or certificate presented to the Registrar shall prevent the filing of another declaration or certificate within the period allowed for presenting the declaration or certificate.

(b) Each certificate must contain the name of one signer thereto and no more. Each signer must be a qualified elector, must not at the time of signing a certificate have his name signed to any other certificate for any other candidate for the same office, or, in case there are several places to be filled in the same office, signed to more certificates for candidates for that office than there are places to be filled in such office.

Declarations and Certificates to Be Preserved.

Section 7. The Registrar of Voters shall preserve in his office, for a period of four years, all candidates' declarations, and all sponsors' certificates filed in accordance with this section.

Official Pamphlets—Candidate's Statement.

Official pamphlets.

Section 8. (a) The Board of Election Commissioners shall cause to be printed in pamphlet form herein designated for the purposes of this chapter as the official pamphlet the Proclamation of the Mayor and statements of candidates described in subdivision (b) of this section.

(b) If the candidate desires he may file with the Board of Election Commissioners not less than thirty days before the said election a statement of not more than one hundred words, setting forth any facts he may deem pertinent to the question of his qualifications for the office for which he is a candidate, and such statement shall be printed in the official pamphlet, upon the payment of a fee of ten dollars. Additional words, not to exceed two hundred, may be added by the candidate to such statement, for which he shall pay an additional fee of fifteen dollars for each one hundred words or fraction thereof.

(c) A copy of the official pamphlet shall be enclosed and circulated with the sample ballot and sent to each registered voter. The Board of Election Commissioners shall furnish, at least ten days before the said election, copies of the official pamphlet to registered voters on application to its office. All fees received by the Registrar of Voters in conformity with this chapter shall be paid over to the Treasurer of the City and County of San Francisco and credited to the general fund.

Mayor's proclamation.

Section 9. Immediately after the declarations of candidacy and ten sponsors' certificates have been filed, the Registrar of Voters shall enter the names of the candidates in a list, with the offices to be filled, and shall, not later than twenty-five days before the election, certify such list to the Mayor as being the list of candidates nominated as required by this Charter. The Mayor shall forthwith issue a proclamation calling the election provided for in Section 1 of this Chapter, setting forth the offices to be filled, designating the term thereof, and the certified list of candidates for each office, and file the same with the Registrar of Voters. The Mayor's proclamation shall then be published in the official pamphlet immediately preceding the first of the candidate's statements. Said proclamation shall conform in all respects to the general State laws governing the conduct of municipal elections now or hereafter in force except as herein provided.

Printing of Ballots.

Section 10. The Registrar of Voters shall cause the ballots to be printed and bound and numbered as provided for by State law, except as otherwise required in this Chapter. The ballots shall contain the list of names and the respective offices, as set forth in the proclamation, and shall be substantially as hereinafter provided.

Heading and Directions to Voters.

(a) General (or recall, as the case may be) municipal election, City and County of San Francisco.

INSTRUCTIONS TO VOTERS: To vote for any candidate stamp a cross (X) in one of the squares to the right of the candidate's name.

Vote your first choices in the first column, your second choices in the second column, your third choices in the third column.

Vote FIRST CHOICE for as many candidates as there are offices to be filled.

Vote SECOND CHOICE, if any, for the same number.

Vote THIRD CHOICE, if any, for the same number.

DO NOT VOTE MORE THAN ONE CHOICE FOR ANY ONE CANDIDATE.

To vote for a person whose name is not on the ballot, write name of such person in the blank space provided for such purpose.

If you wrongly mark, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of elections and obtain another.

Arrangement of Offices on the Ballot.

(b) The offices to be filled shall be arranged in the following order:

The Mayor, Police Judges, District Attorney, City Attorney, Assessor, Auditor, County Clerk, Sheriff, Treasurer, Tax Collector, Recorder, Public Administrator, Coroner, arranged in one or more columns, and the Supervisors in a column or columns separate from the others.

Every Nominee on Ballot.

(c) The name of every candidate who has been duly and regularly nominated shall be placed on the ballot under the title of the office for which he is a candidate; provided, that a candidate whose nomination has been completed, may, not less than thirty days before a municipal election and not less than twenty-five days before a recall election, withdraw as a candidate by filing with the Registrar of voters, his withdrawal, naming the office; such withdrawal must be signed and sworn to by the person withdrawing, and no withdrawal at any later date shall be of any force or effect.

Rotation of Candidates' Names.

Rotation of names.

Section 11. The ballots for the Assembly district of the City and County designated by the lowest number shall have the names of each group of candidates for an office or offices arranged in alphabetical order, according to the family name of the candidate. In the Assembly district designated by the next higher number the groups of names shall be the same as in the district designated by the next lower number, save that the last candidate in the group in the preceding district shall be placed at the beginning of the group, the succession of names to be otherwise unchanged, and so on, rotating the names in this order throughout all the Assembly districts.

In the event that the number of candidates in any group shall exceed the number of Assembly districts in the City and County, then the total number of candidates in such group shall be divided by the number of Assembly districts and the quotient, if an integral number, or if fractional then the next higher integral number shall be the number of candidates to be taken from the end and placed at the beginning of such a group in each successive Assembly district; the rotation then being in this manner, to-wit: if there be fifty-six candidates for Supervisors and twenty Assembly districts, numbered from twenty-five to forty-four, the fifty-fourth, fifty-fifth and fifty-sixth candidates in the group of the twenty-fifth district will be the first, second and third candidates, respectively, in the group in the twenty-sixth district.

Section 12. (a) The candidate's name shall be printed in 8-point Roman capital type and shall be enclosed by lines above and below, three-eighths inch apart. Three three-eighths inch squares shall be provided at the right of the name of each candidate, wherein the voter may stamp a cross for that candidate as his first, second or third choice, and at the top of each column of candidates the three columns of squares shall be designated "First Choice," "Second Choice" and "Third Choice" respectively.

Blank Spaces for Additional Candidates.

Blank

(b) Three-eighths inch spaces shall be left below the printed names of candidates for each office equal in number to the number to be elected, wherein the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he may wish to vote.

Other Requirements of Ballot.

Section 13. All ballots shall be precisely of the same size, quality, tint of paper, kind of type, and color of ink, so that without the number it would be impossible, in each Assembly district to distinguish one ballot from another; and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and style. A column or columns may be provided on the right hand side for Charter amendments or other questions to be voted upon at the municipal elections, as provided for under the Charter.

Section 18. The Registrar of Voters shall, at each municipal or special municipal election, prepare lists for and select and appoint for each election precinct a precinct board of election officers to hold and conduct such election at the precinct for which said board is appointed. Such board shall consist of four persons—one inspector, one judge and two clerks, who shall perform all the duties required by law at such polling place, except, as in this Chapter provided. In constituting such precinct board the Registrar shall have the power to excuse persons appointed whenever he is satisfied any such person ought to be excused, and to substitute new appointees in all cases when any person appointed shall be excused or found disqualified or incompetent by the said Registrar of Voters, down to the time when the Registrar of Voters shall send the final inspector's list of such election officers to the inspector, which list shall be his final order of appointment.

Section 19. (a) The ballots cast at any given precinct shall not be counted at the polling place, but as soon as the polls are closed, the precinct election officers shall not open the ballot box except as may be necessary to close the mouth of the box, and see that the ballot box is correctly locked again without any ballot being removed or added, and seal the same and separately seal the key in the manner provided by printed instructions from the Registrar of Voters, and as soon as said election officers have certified, signed and sealed the other packages or envelopes as required by law, such ballot box and key and packages shall be sent by not less than two of said precinct election officers to the office of the Registrar of Voters and there delivered to the Registrar, and until so delivered it shall be unlawful for such officers so conveying the same to allow any other person or persons to have possession of said ballot box or key or packages. Such officers shall proceed as continuously as possible to the office of the Registrar of Voters. Immediately upon the delivery of such ballot box to the Registrar of Voters or his deputy, said Registrar shall cause each such box to be plainly labeled with the correct number of the precinct in which such ballots were cast. The Registrar of Voters shall in such manner as he shall deem best calculated to provide competent persons, select and provide as many persons as he may deem necessary for the counting, tallying and certifying of returns of the vote cast in each precinct, and such persons shall have the qualifications required for election officers at State elections, save that all persons who are employed in the Department of Elections, or who report for service from the Civil Service of the City and County, shall, if not a candidate at such election, be qualified, save that none of the persons so selected need reside in a particular precinct. The persons so selected and provided shall be segregated by the Registrar of Voters or his deputies into counting boards respectively to consist of three persons each, and each such selected counting board shall proceed to count and tally such ballots by precincts separately under the direction of the Registrar of Voters or his deputies or such superintendents as the Registrar of Voters may direct, in the same manner provided by law for counting, tallying and certifying ballots at State elections except as herein otherwise provided. The form of tally sheets shall be provided and determined by the Registrar of Voters, and there shall be a certificate at the end thereof to the effect that the foregoing is the correct result of the election in such precinct, and such certificate shall be signed by the three persons who completed such tally list and return. The Registrar of Voters or any deputy empowered by him by writing may excuse or dismiss any person from any such counting board at pleasure and enforce such order and substitute any person so provided by the Registrar of Voters in the place of any person so excused, dismissed, or who absents himself from said counting board. Any person acting on any such counting board who shall refuse to obey any lawful order of the Registrar or his deputy shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. The tally sheets shall be in duplicate, kept by two clerks, and one copy upon the completion thereof shall be sealed and signed across the flap in the manner provided by the laws of the State of California for sealing tally lists where votes are counted at the precinct, and the other tally list shall remain open for inspection in the office of the Registrar of Voters. The returns so sealed shall be securely kept by the Registrar until produced before the Board of Election Commissioners for official canvass in the manner provided by law. The Registrar of Voters shall determine the compensation to be paid to each person employed in counting, tallying and sealing such ballots or engaged in superintending or assisting during said count, not to exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25) aggregate for each precinct, and such claims and demands when certified by the Registrar or his deputy and presented to the Board of Election Commissioners shall be allowed in open session, and the Auditor shall audit and the Treasurer pay such claims out of the general fund. Except as herein otherwise provided, the provisions of the laws of the State of California applicable to State elections or State election officers, and such laws relating to the official canvass and declaration of the result of State election returns shall apply to the counting, tallying, certifying, sealing, custody and official canvass of the ballots and returns counted and returned under the provisions of this Chapter. If there shall not be room enough in the Department of Elections for the counting of said votes, the Registrar of Voters may cause such counting to proceed in any other place in the same building which may be obtained by him for such purpose, provided, that a notice of the location of such place be conspicuously displayed in the Department of Elections. Said votes shall be counted in a place open to the public, and the boards counting the same shall enter the total number thereof on the tally sheets provided therefor. They then shall count and enter the number of the first, second and third choice votes for each candidate on said tally sheet and make returns thereof to the Board of Election Commissioners as herein required. The canvass must be public, in the presence of bystanders, and must be continuous, without adjournment until completed and the result thereof is declared. Any candidate shall be entitled to a representative among the bystanders.

The provisions of this Chapter relating to counting the ballots shall not apply to a special municipal election at which a proposition or propositions, or question or questions, only is, or are, voted upon; but the ballots at all such special elections shall be counted at the respective polling places and returned by the precinct election boards under the laws applicable to such elections.

(b) If a ballot contain more than one vote for the same candidate, only the one of such votes highest in rank shall be counted. If a ballot contain either first or second or third choice votes for any office in excess of the number of places to be filled for such office no vote for that office in the column showing such excess shall be counted.

(c) Paragraph (b) of this section shall be printed conspicuously on the tally sheet.

(d) Candidates receiving a majority of the first choice votes for any office shall be elected. If the full number of candidates to be elected do not receive such a majority of the first choice votes for such office, a canvass shall then be made of the second choice votes received by those candidates for said office who are not elected by first choice votes; said second choice votes shall be added to the first choice votes received by such candidates and candidates who by such addition shall receive a majority shall be elected.

(e) If by the count of either first choice votes or first and second choice votes, as above provided, more candidates than there are offices to be filled shall receive a majority, the candidate or candidates equal in number to the number of offices to be filled having the highest vote shall be elected.

(f) If the full number of candidates to be elected do not receive a majority by adding first and second choice votes, as above directed, a canvass shall then be made of the third choice votes received by those candidates for said office who are not elected, either by first choice votes or by adding first and second choice votes. Said third choice votes shall be added to the first and second choice votes received by such candidates, and the candidates equal in number to the number of offices remaining to be filled, who receive the highest number of votes by said addition shall be elected.

(g) The above subdivisions (d), (e) and (f) shall be applied and carried out in the making of the official canvass and the declaration of the official result.

Ties.

Tie. Section 20. A tie between two or more candidates shall be decided in favor of the one having the highest number of first choice votes. If they are also equal in that respect then the highest number of second choice votes shall determine the result. If this does not decide, then the tie shall be determined by lot, under the direction of the Board of Election Commissioners.

Majority Defined.

Majority
defined.

Section 21. A majority vote for any candidate for an office where but one is to be elected shall be deemed to be more than one-half of the total number of first choice votes cast for all candidates for such office.

A majority vote for a candidate for an office where a group is to be elected shall be more than one-half of the number secured by dividing the total of first choice votes cast for all candidates for such office by the number of places to be filled.

Failure of Persons Elected to Qualify.

Section 22. If a person elected fails to qualify, the office shall be filled as in this Charter provided for a vacancy in such office. Failure to qualify.

Section 23. No informalities in conducting municipal elections shall invalidate elections if they have been conducted fairly and in substantial conformity to the requirements of this Charter. Informalities.

Section 24. From and after the first day of July, 1917, the annual salary of the Registrar of Voters shall be fixed by resolution of the Board of Election Commissioners of the City and County of San Francisco. Any provision of this Charter contrary to or inconsistent with the provisions of this section are hereby repealed. Salary of registrar of voters.

Section 25. After the election of a Mayor for a full term at an election held under and pursuant to the provisions of this Chapter, the words "entire vote for all candidates for the office of Mayor" as used in the initiative Chapter III of Article XI of this Charter and the words "entire vote cast for mayor" as used in the referendum Chapter IV of Article XI of this Charter and as used in the recall Chapter V of Article XI of this Charter, shall in each respective case where such words are so used be deemed to mean the total of first choice votes cast for all candidates for Mayor for a full term at an election held under this Chapter.

That Section 5 of Chapter V of Article XI of the said Charter is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 5. The Registrar of Voters shall in any recall election place upon the ballot the name of the incumbent whose removal is thus sought, unless such incumbent shall file in writing a request that his name do not appear. Any person may be nominated for any office sought to be filled at such recall election by filing the declaration of candidacy and the certificates of not less than ten or more than twenty sponsors in the form provided in Chapter II of this article for the general municipal election. Such declaration and certificates shall be filed with the Registrar of Voters not less than twenty-five nor more than thirty-five days before the date set for the recall election. Recall elections.

That Section 7 of Chapter V, Article XI, of said Charter is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 7. Elections for the recall or removal of an elected officer shall be conducted as provided in Chapter II of this article for the election of officers at the general municipal election, and the ballots shall be prepared, cast and counted in the manner therein prescribed. Manner of conducting recall elections.

That Section 8, Chapter V, Article XI, of said Charter is hereby amended to read as follows:

When incumbent removed.

Section 8. If some other person than the incumbent receive the number of votes required to constitute an election the incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed from office and the person so elected shall succeed him upon taking the oath of office. The successor of the official so removed shall hold office during the unexpired portion of the term for which such official was elected, unless sooner recalled under the provisions of this chapter. If the incumbent receive the number of votes necessary to constitute an election, he shall continue in office; and it shall require not less than double the number of signatures provided in Section 1 of this chapter to initiate a second election for his recall; and if reelected at such second recall election it shall require not less than three times the number of signatures provided in Section 1 of this chapter to initiate a third election for the recall of such officer during the term for which he was elected.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 16.

That Section 1 of Chapter III of Article II is hereby amended to read as follows:

Contracts for goods, etc.

Section 1. All contracts for goods, merchandise, stores, supplies, subsistence or printing for the City and County, as well as for all subsistence, supplies, drugs and other necessary articles for hospitals, prisons, public institutions and other departments not otherwise specifically provided for in this Charter, must be made by the Supervisors, with the lowest bidder offering adequate security, after publication for not less than ten days in the official newspaper; and no purchase thereof or liability therefor shall be made or created except by contract.

Except as otherwise provided in this Charter, the Board must determine annually what goods, merchandise, stores, supplies, drugs, subsistence and other necessary articles will be needed by the City and County for the ensuing year, and it shall have no power to purchase or to pay for the same unless the provisions in this Charter provided as to competitive bidding for supplies are strictly followed, and no contract shall be made for any of the same unless upon such competitive bidding.

All proposals shall be accompanied with a certificate of deposit or certified check on a solvent bank in the City and County of ten percentum of the amount of the bid, payable at sight to the order of the Clerk of the Supervisors. If the bidder to whom the contract is awarded shall for five days after such award fail or neglect to enter into the contract and file the required bond, the Clerk shall draw the money due on such certificate of deposit or check and pay the same into the treasury; and under no circumstances shall the certificate of deposit or check or the proceeds thereof be returned to such defaulting bidder.

Notices for proposals for furnishing the aforesaid articles shall mention said articles in general and shall state that the conditions and schedule may be found in the office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors; and shall also state that such articles are to be delivered at such times, in such quantities, and in such manner, as the Supervisors may designate. Any bidder may bid separately for any article named. The award as to each article, shall in all cases be made to the lowest bidder for such article, and where a bid embraces more than one article, the Supervisors shall have the right to accept or reject such bid or the bid for any one or more articles embraced therein. In the case of contracts for subsistence of prisoners, the advertisement for proposals shall specify each article required, the quality thereof, the quantity for each person, and the existing and probable number of persons to be supplied. No article or articles provided for in this section shall have been made in any prison. The Supervisors shall require bonds with sufficient sureties for the faithful performance of every contract. The Clerk of the Supervisors shall furnish printed blanks for all such proposals, contracts and bonds. Contracts for

All bids shall be sealed and delivered by the bidder to the Clerk of the Supervisors, and opened by the Board at an hour and place to be stated in the advertisement for proposals, in the presence of all bidders who attend, and the bidders may inspect the bids. All bids with alterations or erasures therein shall be rejected. All articles so supplied shall be subject to inspection and rejection by the Supervisors and by the person in charge of the office, institution or department for which the same are supplied.

Every contract for work to be performed within the State of California at the expense of the City and County or paid for out of moneys deposited in the Treasury, whether such work is to be done within or outside the limits of the City and County, and whether such work be done directly by or under such contract duly awarded, or indirectly by or under subcontract, subpartnership, day labor, station work, piece work, or any other arrangement whatsoever, must provide: (1) That in the performance of the contract, eight hours shall be the maximum hours of labor on any calendar day, and that the minimum wages or compensation of persons performing labor in the execution of such contract, subcontract, subpartnership, day labor, station work, piece work or other arrangement, shall be three dollars per day; (2) that any person performing labor in the execution of such contract shall be a citizen of the United States or have declared his intention of becoming such; (3) that preference in the performance of labor under such contract or other arrangement shall be given to persons who shall have actually resided in the City and County and shall have so resided for the period of one year next preceding the date of their engagement to perform labor thereunder. The foregoing provisions designated (1), (2) and (3) must also apply to persons performing labor in the commissary or other goods, etc.

auxiliary department of labor conducted in the course of the execution of such contract or any part thereof; and the said provisions shall also apply in any work done for or by the City and County or by any officer, board or commission thereof, when such work is to be done at the expense of the City and County or paid for out of moneys deposited in the Treasury. Any contract for work to be performed under the provisions of this Section which does not comply with the provisions thereof, shall be null and void, and any officer who shall sign the same shall be deemed guilty of misfeasance and upon proof of such misfeasance shall be removed from office.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 17.

That Section 1 of Chapter II of Article II is hereby amended by adding thereto a new subdivision, to be known as subdivision 43 and to read as follows:

Public
aquarium

43. To accept gifts of buildings, properties and monies for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a public aquarium, and to appropriate from the general fund of the City and County not less than twenty thousand dollars annually for the support and maintenance of a public aquarium.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 18.

That Section 5, of Chapter VII of Article IX is hereby amended to read as follows:

Pensions from firemen's relief fund.

Section 5. The Commissioners shall, out of the Firemen's Relief Fund, provide as follows for the family of any officer, member or employe of the Fire Department who may be killed or injured while in the performance of his duty, and who shall have died within one year from the date of such injury, and the receipt by such officer, member or employe of any relief under this Chapter, during his lifetime shall not bar the said family from the benefits of this section.

First—Should the decedent be married, his widow shall as long as she may remain unmarried be paid a monthly pension equal to one-half of the salary attached to the rank held by the decedent at the time of his death.

Second—Should the decedent leave no widow, but leave an orphan child or children under the age of sixteen years, such children shall collectively receive a pension equal to one-half of the salary attached to the position held by their father at the time of his death until the youngest attains the age of sixteen years.

Third—Should the decedent leave no widow and no orphan child or children, but leave a parent or parents depending solely upon him for support, such parents, so depending, shall collectively receive a pension equal to one-half of the salary attached to the position held by the decedent at the time of his death, during such time as the Commissioners may unani- mously determine its necessity.

Fourth—Any member or members of the family of the deceased claiming to be entitled to a pension under the provisions of this section, shall file a verified petition therefor with said Commission, which petition shall thereafter be heard by said Board, upon such reasonable notice to the petitioner or petitioners of the time and place of such hearing, as said Board may by rule or order prescribe. Said petitioner or petitioners shall be entitled, upon such hearing, to appear personally and by counsel. Upon such hearing any interested person shall have the right to introduce testimony relative to the matters set forth in said petition. The judgment of said Commissioners respecting said application shall be final, unless in determining said application said Commissioners commit a clear abuse of discretion.

Pensions
from Armen's relief fund.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 19.

That Section 4 of Chapter X of Article VIII is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 4. The Commission shall, out of the Police Relief and Pension Fund, provide as follows for the family of any officer, member or employe who may be killed or injured while in the performance of his duties, and who shall have died within three (3) years from the date of such injury, and the receipt by such officer, member or employe of any relief under this Chapter during his lifetime shall not bar the said family from the benefits of this section.

Pensions
from police relief and pension fund.

First—Should the decedent be married, his widow shall as long as she may remain unmarried be paid a monthly pension equal to one-half of the salary attached to the rank held by the decedent at the time of his death.

Second—Should the decedent leave no widow, but leave an orphan child or children under the age of sixteen years, such children shall collectively receive a pension equal to one-half of the salary attached to the position held by their father at the time of his death until the youngest attains the age of sixteen years.

Third—Should the decedent leave no widow and no orphan child or children, but leave a parent or parents depending solely upon him for support, such parents, so depending, shall collectively receive a pension equal to one-half of the salary attached to the position held by the decedent at the time of his death, during such time as the Commissioners may unanimously determine its necessity.

Fourth—Any member or members of the family of the deceased claiming to be entitled to a pension under the provisions of this section, shall file a verified petition therefor with said Commission, which petition shall thereafter be heard by said Board, upon such reasonable notice to the petitioner or petitioners of the time and place of such hearing, as said Board may by rule or order prescribe. Said petitioner or petitioners shall be entitled, upon such hearing, to appear personally and by counsel. Upon such hearing any interested person shall have the right to introduce testimony relative to the matters set forth in said petition. The judgment of said Commissioners respecting said application shall be final, unless in determining said application said Commissioners commit a clear abuse of discretion.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. 23.

That Chapter II of Article II is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 11, and to read as follows:

Sale of land reserved for school purposes.

Section 11. Whenever the Board of Education by resolution shall determine that any of the lots of land reserved for school purposes in accordance with the provisions of the so-called Van Ness Ordinance (Ordinance No. 855, approved June 20, 1855), and located westerly of Arguello boulevard (formerly First avenue) and the southerly projection thereof, are inadequate by reason of insufficient size or unsuitable location for use as sites for school buildings, and that the public interest and necessity requires the sale thereof and the purchase of lots of land in lieu thereof as additions to other sites for school purposes, such Board of Education may recommend to the Mayor such sale be made. If the Mayor shall concur in such recommendation, the Board of Supervisors may make such sale in the manner provided in Section 9 of this Chapter. The proceeds arising from such sale shall be used exclusively for the purpose of purchasing lands for sites for schools or for additions to existing sites.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. 24.

That Sections 2, 3 and 5 of Chapter III, and Sections 2 and 3 of Chapter V, of Article XI are hereby amended to read as follows:

That Section 2 of Chapter III of Article XI of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco is hereby amended to read as follows:

Signatures to initiate the petition

Section 2. The words "registered voters" as used in this chapter, shall mean qualified voters whose names appear on the records of registration for the current or next preceding year. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper, but said petition may be presented in sections. The number of signatures to each section shall be at the pleasure of the person soliciting signatures to the same.

Any qualified voter of the city and county is competent to solicit signatures and make the affidavit of verification to said signatures. Each signer to said petition shall add to his or her signature his or her place of residence, giving the street and number, and there shall be also added by the said solicitor such other matter as is authorized by this section. Every section of such petition shall be verified by the person soliciting such signatures by his or her affidavit, which affidavit shall be in the following form, with the blank spaces properly filled in:

“STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
City and County of San Francisco } ss.

Affidavit.

(-----), being duly sworn, deposes and says that --he is the person who in person solicited each and every signature to the annexed section of said petition, and that deponent has with pen and ink or indelible pencil, numbered each such signature seriatim, commencing with number 1. That no person signed said petition upon said section except in the presence of deponent. That said section has not been left at any time where any person could sign the same except in the personal presence of deponent. That each and every signature to said section was made in the personal presence of deponent, and that to the best of his (----) knowledge and belief each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name purports to be thereunto subscribed. That deponent was at the time of soliciting such signature, and now is, a duly qualified voter of the said city and county.”

Said affidavit shall be subscribed by the person making such affidavit and sworn to by such person before a person authorized to take such oath to such affidavit. Each section of such petition must be prepared substantially in accordance with the requirements of this chapter, and all signing, not made, numbered and verified substantially in accordance with the requirements of this chapter shall be disregarded. The Registrar of Voters shall print sample sheets for signing such petition, in blank, and sample blank affidavits of verification, and furnish a copy of each to any person desiring to get up a petition.

The affidavit herein provided for shall be at the end of each section. The solicitor of such signatures, before his affidavit is taken, must number each signature upon the section seriatim, beginning with number 1, at the right hand of the residence opposite to each signature to such section in a column to be made for that purpose; such numbering must be with pen and ink or indelible pencil. There shall also be to the left hand of such signatures, a column at least one inch wide, in blank headed “Precinct”, and to the left of that, an additional blank space, substantially one-half inch wide, to admit of such abbreviations as the Registrar shall deem necessary to the expeditious mode of verification of such petition. All precincting shall be done by the office of the said Registrar, but no section or signature shall be rejected, because precincts have been inserted elsewhere, before filing. Any signer to a petition may withdraw his name from the same by filing with the Registrar of Voters a verified revocation of his signature before the filing of the petition. No signature can be revoked after the petition has been filed. The Registrar of Voters, or his deputy shall indorse on said petition the names of three persons who filed said petition, and the date of the filing of the same at the time of filing said petition. Unless and until it be proven otherwise by official investigation by the Registrar of Voters, it shall be presumed that the petition filed conforms to all legal requirements, and contains the signatures of the requisite number of registered voters, and after an election based thereon, the sufficiency of such petition shall not be questioned.

That Section 3 of Chapter III of Article XI of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco is hereby amended to read as follows:

Verification
of signatures.

Section 3. The Registrar of Voters shall have fifteen (15) days after the filing of such petition, and the same time after receipt by him of a Charter amendment petition in which to verify the same and certify the result thereof in the manner provided by this section. Within such time, the Registrar of Voters shall finally determine from the records of registration whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of electors entitled to vote. If any signature be called in question, the said Registrar of Voters shall mail notice to such purported signer, stating that his or her name is attached to such petition and citing him or her to appear before said Registrar of Voters forthwith, naming the time and place. Said citation shall inclose a blank affidavit, denying that the person signing such affidavit signed such petition, and said citation shall also contain a statement, that a blank affidavit denying that such person signed such petition, is enclosed, and that if such person does not desire to attend in person to deny his signature he may swear to such affidavit of denial before any officer authorized to take oaths, and mail the same to the Registrar of Voters, and that if he does not so attend and deny such signature in person, or by making and mailing such affidavit of denial, that his purported signature to such petition will be treated as genuine.

Unless said purported signer shall appear when cited and deny his signature under oath before said Registrar, or his deputy, or unless the Registrar of Voters shall receive such sworn affidavit of denial of such signature, before the time when by this chapter the said Registrar must, as aforesaid, make such final determination, such signature must be counted as genuine.

The Registrar shall keep a list of the names of all purported signers who appear before him and deny their signatures under oath, and also file and keep such affidavits, for at least five years.

The Board of Supervisors shall make necessary appropriation of money, and the Board of Election Commissioners shall allow to the Registrar of Voters all the extra help he may require for the purpose of examining and making investigation of such petition. The Registrar of Voters, upon the completion of such examination and determination, shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate properly dated and showing the result of said examination, and shall forthwith mail a copy of said certificate to the respective persons endorsed by him on said petition as filers thereof. If by said certificate the petition is shown to be insufficient, it may be amended by additional signatures within twenty days after the date of said certificate, in the same manner in all respects as required for the original petition. Within ten days after the filing of such amended or supplemental petition, the Registrar of Voters shall make like examination and determination of the amended or supplemental petition, and attach and mail a like certificate. If upon the examination and certification of such original petition, or such original and supplemental petition, it shall appear that a sufficient number of qualified voters have signed such petition to require an election to be held thereon, the Registrar of Voters shall, if a special election is required to be held upon such petition, require the Board of Election Commissioners to meet in not less than five days after the date of his certificate that such petition is sufficient, and if no regular meeting of the Board of Election Commissioners is set within such required period, the Registrar of Voters is authorized and required to issue a call for a special meeting of said Board to convene within the required time, and at such meeting of the Board, or any of the meetings of the Board within said required time, said Registrar of Voters shall report the sufficiency of such petition to said Board of Election Commissioners and exhibit a certificate or certificates attached to said petition, or amended petition, or both, and said Board shall, if said certificate show the petition sufficient, call an election as required. If, however, after the examination of said petition and any amended or supplemental petition, or after the expiration of the time when the supplemental petition is permitted to be filed, said petition is shown insufficient, the Registrar of Voters shall report such insufficiency to the Board of Election Commissioners at their next regular meeting after the fact of such insufficiency shall have become final, and exhibit his certificate or certificates so attached to such petition or petitions. A petition finally insufficient does not prevent a new proceeding.

signatures.

The words "last preceding regular municipal election", or "last preceding general municipal election", wherever the same occur in Chapters III, IV or V of said Article XI of said Charter, mean the last municipal election at which a mayor for said city and county was elected for a full term.

That Section 5 of Chapter III of Article XI of the Charter of the City and County of San Francisco is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 5. If the petition be signed by registered voters as many in number as four per cent but less than ten per cent of the said entire vote, or if for any reason any measure proposed by a petition signed by registered voters as many in number as ten per cent of said entire vote has not been submitted at a special election as provided in Section 4 of this chapter, then, in either event, such measure or measures, without alteration, shall be submitted by the Board of Election Commissioners to

Submission at general election.

a vote of the electorate at the next general State or municipal election that shall occur at any time after thirty days from the date of the certificate of sufficiency attached to the petition accompanying such measure.

That Section 2 of Chapter V of Article XI of said Charter is hereby amended to read as follows:

Recall
petitions.

Section 2. Said petition shall be in all respects in accordance with the provisions of Sections 2 and 3 of Chapter III (the initiative) of Article XI of this Charter, which sections are hereby made part hereof, and shall be examined and certified as provided by said sections last mentioned.

That Section 3 of Chapter V of Article XI of said Charter is hereby amended to read as follows:

election.

Section 3. Unless the petition shall be found insufficient in the number of signatures of registered voters attached thereto, within the time provided for examining and certifying the result of the examination of said petition, the Board of Election Commissioners shall, within the time provided therefor, order and fix a date for holding the said election, said date to be not less than thirty-five nor more than fifty days after the date of the order fixing the date of said election; provided, however, that where the office has become vacant by death, resignation or otherwise, between the time of the filing of the petition and the fixing of a date for an election, no recall election shall be held. Such vacancy shall be filled in the manner provided by this Charter. If a vacancy occur in said office after a date for holding said election has been fixed, as herein provided, the election shall nevertheless proceed as in this chapter provided.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 25.

That a new section is hereby added to Chapter III of Article II to be known as Section 7, and to read as follows:

Bond filed
by contractor

Section 7. Every contractor, person, company, firm, or corporation, to whom is awarded a contract for the execution or performance of any building, street, excavating or other mechanical work for the City and County, the expense of which is payable out of municipal funds or out of funds specially made available for any such work, or of any street work or street improvements in the City and County, the costs and expenses of which, in whole or in part, are assessable upon property in private ownership, shall before entering upon the performance of such work, file with the board or officers by whom such contract was awarded, a good and sufficient bond, to be satisfactory to such contracting board or officers, in a sum not less than one-half of the total amount payable by the terms of the contract; such bond shall be executed by the contractor and either at least two sureties who shall each justify in the amount required for said bond, or when there are more than two sureties, such sureties may justify in an amount which in the aggregate shall equal double the amount of said bond, or by corporate surety, or sureties, as provided by law, in the amount specified in the bond, and shall be made to inure to the benefit of any and all persons, companies, firms, or corporations, who furnish materials, provisions, provender or other supplies, or teams, or motor or other vehicles, or machines used in, upon, for or about the performance of said work, or who perform work or labor thereon of any kind, and must provide that if the contractor, person, company, firm, or corporation, or his or its subcontractor, fails to pay for any materials, provisions, provender or other supplies, or teams, or motor or other vehicles, or machines, used in, upon, for or about the performance of the work contracted to be done, or for any work or labor done thereon of any kind, that the surety or sureties will pay the same in an amount not exceeding the sum specified in the bond.

Bond filed
by contractor.

Any materialman, person, company, firm, or corporation, furnishing materials, provisions, provender or other supplies, used in, upon, for or about the performance of the work contracted to be executed or performed, or any person, company, firm, or corporation renting or hiring teams, or motor or other vehicles, or machines, for or contributing to said work to be done, or any person who performed work or labor upon the same, or any person who supplied both work and materials, and whose claim has not been paid by the contractor, company, firm, or corporation, to whom the contract has been awarded, or by the subcontractor of said contractor, company, firm, or corporation, may within ninety days from the time such contract is completed and the work thereunder accepted by the contracting board or officers, or in case the contract be abandoned before the completion of the work contracted to be done, then within ninety days after such abandonment, file with the board or officers by whom such contract was awarded, a verified statement of such claim, together with a statement that the same, or some part thereof, has not been paid. If such claim be so filed, a copy thereof shall be served on the surety or sureties on the bond of such contractor, company, firm, or corporation, filed as herein provided. At any time within six months after the filing of such claim, the person, company, firm, or corporation filing the same may commence an action against the surety or sureties on the said bond in this section specified and required, for the recovery of the amount due on said claim, together with the costs incurred in said action, and a reasonable attorney fee, to be fixed by the court, for the prosecution thereof.

Claims against bond.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 26.

That a new section is hereby added to Chapter VI of Article VI to be known as Section 17, and to read as follows:

Section 17. The provisions in this Chapter relating to the modification or change of street grades or the modification or change of such grades and the performance of street work in connection therewith, shall not be deemed exclusive, but

Change of street grades.

Change of street
grades.

the Board of Supervisors by a vote of at least fifteen members thereof may, and it is hereby empowered so to do, pass an ordinance, which may from time to time be revised or amended by a like vote, providing for the modification or change of street grades, or the modification or change of such grades and the performance of street work in connection therewith, and the said Board in and by such ordinance is authorized and empowered to adopt a method of procedure therefor and in accordance therewith to provide for and order a modification or change of street grades, or a modification or change of street grades and the performance of street work in connection therewith; to assess, in such manner and by such method as said Board may in and by such ordinance prescribe and provide, the damages, costs and expenses thereof upon lands in private ownership when the payment of such damages, costs and expenses is not otherwise provided for in such ordinance, and when the payment of a portion of such damages, costs and expenses is so otherwise provided for, to assess the remainder thereof upon such lands; to provide for the ascertainment and payment of damages and for the manner in which protests against such assessment and damages awarded may be heard and determined, and for the manner in which such assessment may be collected and paid and property delinquent thereunder may be sold, and to prescribe penalties for failure to pay such assessment; to provide for a lien on lands so assessed for the aforesaid objects and purposes; and to provide for the procedure for fully and completely exercising the powers conferred in this section.

Assessment
paid in installments.

The Board of Supervisors is further empowered to provide in such ordinance, if it be deemed expedient by said Board, that such portion of any assessment levied in pursuance of such ordinance for a modification or change of street grades and the performance of street work in connection therewith, as shall have been assessed for the costs and expenses of such street work performed, may at the option of the owner of property so assessed, be paid in installments covering a period provided for in such ordinance, but not to exceed ten years, upon such terms and conditions as may in such ordinance be provided and in accordance with the method therein prescribed, but the Board of Supervisors shall not require interest to be paid on such installment payments at a rate greater than seven per cent per annum.

Limit on
assessments.

No assessment shall be levied in pursuance of such ordinance upon any property for the modification or change of street grades and the performance of street work in connection therewith, which, together with all assessments for street work or for damages or for both in connection with the modification or change of street grades that may have been levied upon the same property during the year next preceding the inception of the proceedings for such modification or change of street grades and the performance of street work in connection therewith, will amount to a sum greater than fifty per centum of the value at which said property was assessed for municipal purposes, exclusive of improvements thereon, upon the assessment-book of the City and County current at the time of the inception of such proceedings. Such limitation of assessed valuation, however, shall not apply to such portion of any assessment made payable in installments as in this section hereinbefore provided for; but in no case shall any such installment payment exceed in amount twenty-five per centum of such assessed valuation. Limit on assessment.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to limit or restrict any method or system enacted by any such ordinance as herein provided for to the provisions of such ordinance so enacted, and shall not be held to exclude any other method or system provided in this Charter for the aforesaid objects and purposes.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 27.

That Section 33 of Chapter II of Article VI is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 33. The provisions in this Article relating to and providing for street work or street improvements in the City and County and providing for the payment of the costs and expenses thereof, shall not be deemed exclusive, but the Board of Supervisors may, and it is hereby empowered so to do, pass an ordinance by a vote of at least fifteen of its members, which may from time to time be revised or amended by a like vote, providing for street work or street improvements in the City and County and for the payment of the costs and expenses thereof; and, in and by such ordinance, it may declare and designate the kinds of such work or improvements. Street work or improvements.

Said Board is authorized and empowered to order such street work done or improvements made under such proceedings as it may in such ordinance provide, and to assess, in such manner and by such method as it may in and by such ordinance prescribe and provide, the proper costs and expenses thereof upon lands in private ownership, when the payment of such costs and expenses is not otherwise provided for in such ordinance, and when the payment of a portion of such costs and expenses is so otherwise provided for, to assess the remainder thereof upon such lands; to provide for a lien on lands so assessed for such work or improvements; and to provide in such ordinance the method for collecting and enforcing such assessments so levied, and the manner in which lands for which assessments levied thereunder remain unpaid may be sold; and to prescribe penalties for failure to pay such assessments. By and in such ordinance said Board may provide for fully and completely exercising the powers which are hereby conferred as to such street work or street improvements and the assessment and collection of the costs and expenses thereof; and the provisions of such ordinance shall not be governed or limited by the provisions of this Article inconsistent or in conflict therewith. Assessments.

Assessment
paid in installments.

The Board of Supervisors, if it be deemed expedient by the Board, is further empowered to provide in such ordinance that any assessment levied in pursuance thereof may at the option of the owner of property assessed be paid in installments covering a period provided for in such ordinance, but not to exceed ten years, upon such terms and conditions as in such ordinance may be provided and in accordance with the method therein prescribed, but the Board of Supervisors shall not require interest to be paid on such installment payments at a rate greater than seven per cent per annum.

Limit on
assessments.

No assessment shall be levied in pursuance of such ordinance upon any property for street work or street improvements which, together with all assessments for street work or street improvements that may have been levied upon the same property during the year next preceding the inception of the proceedings for such work or improvements, will amount to a sum greater than fifty per centum of the value at which said property was assessed for municipal purposes, exclusive of improvements thereon, upon the assessment-book of the city and county current at the time of the inception of such proceedings.

Such limitation of assessed valuation, however, shall not apply to any assessment made payable in installments as in this section hereinbefore provided for; but in no case shall any such installment payment exceed in amount twenty-five per centum of such assessed valuation.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to limit or restrict any method or system enacted by any such ordinance as herein provided for street work or street improvements in the City and County to the provisions of such ordinance so enacted, and shall not be held to exclude any other method or system provided in this Charter for such work or improvements.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. 28.

That Section 2 of Chapter III, Article IV, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Duties of
treasurer.

Section 2. The Treasurer shall receive and safely keep all moneys which shall be paid into the treasury. Except as hereinafter provided, he shall not lend, exchange, use nor deposit the same, or any part thereof, to or with any bank, banker or person; nor pay out any part of such moneys, nor allow the same to pass out of his personal custody, except upon demands authorized by law or this Charter, and after they shall have been approved by the Auditor. At the close of business each day, he shall take an account of and enter in the proper book the exact amount of money on hand. At the end of every month he shall make out and file with the Mayor and publish quarterly in the official newspaper a statement of the condition of the treasury, showing the amounts of receipts into and payments from the treasury, and on what account, and out of what fund. If he violate any of the provisions of this section, he shall be guilty of misconduct in office, and be liable to removal therefrom, and be proceeded against accordingly. He shall keep the accounts belonging to each fund separate and distinct, and shall in no case pay demands chargeable against one fund out of moneys belonging to another. He shall be in personal attendance at his office each day during office hours. No fees of any kind shall be retained by him, but the same, from whatever source received or derived, shall be paid by him into the treasury.

All moneys paid into the treasury of the City and County may be deposited by the Treasurer, upon the written consent of the Mayor, the Auditor and the Chairman of the Finance Committee of the Board of Supervisors, in any licensed national bank or banks within this State, or in any bank, banks, or corporations authorized and licensed to do a banking business and organized under the laws of this State, provided that such bank or banks in which such moneys are deposited shall furnish as security for such deposits, bonds of the United States or of this State, or of any county, municipality or school district within this State, approved by the Treasurer and the City Attorney. The market value of the bonds furnished as security shall be at least 10 per cent in excess of the amount of the deposit secured thereby; but the amount of the deposit shall in no case exceed the face value of the bonds furnished as security therefor. And provided that such bank or banks shall pay a reasonable rate of interest, not less than 2 per cent per annum, on the daily balances therein deposited.

The rate of interest shall be fixed annually as herein provided in the month of January of each year on all deposits to be made for such year; provided that the rate of interest for the year ending December 31st, 1907, may be fixed as herein provided within ten days after this section goes into effect. The rate of interest shall be fixed by the Treasurer, the Auditor and the Mayor, and the same reported in writing to the Board of Supervisors immediately. Said rate of interest shall be a reasonable rate and not less than 2 per cent per annum on the daily balances deposited; and the rate of interest so established for each year as herein provided, shall be the uniform rate of interest required from all banks receiving deposits from the City and County for that year. Interest on all moneys deposited as herein provided for shall belong to the City and County and shall be paid quarterly into the general fund of the City and county except where the law of this Charter otherwise directs.

It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to receive from the bank in which the deposit is made, a receipt or receipts in duplicate, showing the date and amount of deposit and rate of interest to be paid thereon, one copy of which said Treasurer shall keep on file in his office and he shall file one copy with the Auditor.

The Treasurer shall keep a record in his office, which shall be open to public inspection, showing at all times the amount of money on deposit in all banks in which the same is deposited,

Deposit of funds.

Rate of interest.

Record of deposits.

and dates of deposit; also a record of all banks making application for the deposit of the public funds.

Limit on amount deposited.

The total amount of public moneys on deposit in any bank shall not at any time exceed 50 per cent of the paid-up capital stock of such depository bank or banks. The Treasurer shall not have on deposit at any one time more than 10 per cent of the public moneys under his control and available for deposit in any bank while there are other qualified banks requesting such deposits; provided, that the Treasurer shall not be required to deposit public moneys in any bank outside the City and County.

The receipt issued by any bank for deposits made therein, together with the bonds held as security therefor, shall be held by the Treasurer and be recognized and counted as cash to the amount recited in the receipt by the officers required by law to count the same.

Withdrawals.

Deposits, with interest thereon, shall be subject to withdrawal on demand of the Treasurer, conjointly with that of the Mayor, and any bank receiving the deposit of public moneys, may, at any time, return the same to the Treasurer, together with interest to date of return and it shall be the duty of the Treasurer, upon receiving the return of such deposit, to immediately return to such bank all bonds held as security for the deposit returned. When the Treasurer withdraws his deposit, he shall return, on the demand of the bank, such bonds as were held as security for the deposit or portion thereof withdrawn.

Should any bank fail to pay any public moneys held on deposit as herein provided, the Treasurer (with the written consent of the Mayor) may, after ten days' written notice to such bank, proceed to sell at public or private sale such of the bonds held by him as security as he may see fit; provided, however, that he shall sell no bonds for less than their face value except at public sale, after ten days' printed notice in the official newspaper. The proceeds of such sale, after paying all expenses, shall be credited to the account of the bank which deposits the bonds as collateral. Any bank failing to make payment may, at any time before the sale of the bonds is completed, stop such sale by repaying all the moneys deposited with it, together with any expense that may have been incurred by the Treasurer as the result of such failure. Should the proceeds of any such sale fail to fully repay any deposit, the balance remaining unpaid may be collected in an action at law in the name of the City and County.

The Treasurer shall not be responsible for any loss of public moneys resulting from the deposit thereof when made in accordance with the provisions of this act. It shall be the duty of the Treasurer to safely keep all evidence of indebtedness issued by banks for deposits made therein and bonds deposited as security and the Treasurer shall be responsible for such evidence of indebtedness and for bonds held as security therefor, together with the interest thereon and the proceeds of any sale of such bonds; and the Treasurer shall be responsible to such bank for the safe return of the securities furnished by it to the Treasurer.

The expense of transportation of moneys to or from the treasury to such depositories shall be borne by such depositories.

Nothing in this section contained shall prevent the City and County from buying bonds or otherwise investing its money in any manner now provided by law or this Charter and nothing herein contained as to the disposition of interest and public moneys deposited shall apply to any money received or held by the City and County wherein any law or this Charter provides for the payment of interest or profit thereon into any particular fund.

Purchase of bonds.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 30.

That a new Article is hereby added to the Charter to be known as Article IV-A, to be composed of three sections to be known as Sections 1, 2 and 3, and to read as follows:

ARTICLE IV-A.

Section 1. The Sealer of Weights and Measures shall be appointed by the Board of Supervisors. The Sealer may appoint such deputies and employes as may be allowed him by Ordinance of the Board of Supervisors. The salaries of the Sealer, his deputies and employes shall be that as fixed by law. The Sealer and his deputies shall have all the powers conferred upon Sealers of Weights and Measures and their deputies by the general laws of the State and they shall perform all of the duties prescribed by such laws and such additional duties as may be prescribed by Ordinances of the Board of Supervisors.

Sealer of weights and measures.

Section 2. The provisions of Article XIII of the Charter shall apply to the Sealer, his deputies and employes, and, for the purposes of said Article, the Board of Supervisors shall be deemed the appointing department as to the Sealer, and the Sealer the appointing officer as to his deputies and employes. Any person who has served as Sealer of Weights and Measures of the City and County of San Francisco for a continuous period of six months immediately prior to the approval of this amendment by the Legislature and who shall be actually serving as Sealer at the time of the approval of this amendment by the Legislature, and any person who has served as a deputy or employe of such Sealer for a like period and who shall be actually serving as such deputy or employe at the time of the approval of this amendment by the Legislature, are hereby declared to be appointed within the provisions of said Article XIII to the office or position in which he may be then serving and shall be entitled to all the benefits of said Article thereafter.

Jurisdiction of state superintendent.

Section 3. Nothing in this Article contained shall be in anywise construed as curtailing or affecting the powers and jurisdiction of the State Superintendent of Weights and Measures over the Scaler of Weights and Measures of the City and County and his deputies as the same are now or may hereafter be conferred upon the State Superintendent of Weights and Measures by the general laws of the State.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 33.

Force of fire department divided into two platoons.

That a new section be added to Chapter I of Article IX of the Charter, to be known as Section 11 and to read as follows:

Section 11. Each period of twenty-four hours shall be divided into two tours of duty, to-wit: from eight o'clock a.m. to six o'clock p.m., and from six o'clock p.m. to eight o'clock a.m. The uniform force of the Fire Department shall be divided into two platoons, the officers and members assigned to which shall alternate on the tours of duty at intervals of not more than one week. No officer or member shall be required to remain on duty for more than fourteen consecutive hours, except when changing from one tour of duty to the other, or in case of a conflagration requiring the services of more than one-half of the force of the Department.

The foregoing section shall take effect, and be in force, from and after the first day of January, 1919.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
 City and County of San Francisco. } ss.

This is to certify that we, James Rolph, Jr., Mayor of the city and county of San Francisco, and J. S. Dunnigan, Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of said city and county, have compared the foregoing proposed and ratified amendments to the charter of the said city and county of San Francisco with the original proposals, submitting the same to the electors of said city and county at a general election held on Tuesday, the seventh day of November, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen, and find that the foregoing is a full, true, correct and exact copy thereof, and we further certify that the facts set forth in the preamble preceding said amendments to said charter are and each of them is true.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and caused the same to be authenticated by the seal of the city and county of San Francisco, this 14th day of December, one thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

[SEAL]

JAMES ROLPH, JR.,
 Mayor of the city and county of San Francisco.
 J. S. DUNNIGAN;

Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco.

Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate of the State of California, the assembly thereof concurring (a majority of all the members

CHAPTER 12.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 7, approving certain amendments to the charter of the city of Eureka, a municipal corporation, in the county of Humboldt, State of California, voted for and ratified by the qualified electors of said city at a special municipal election held therein on the twenty-seventh day of November, A. D. 1916.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 25, 1917.]

Eureka city charter
amendments.

CERTIFICATE OF THE CHIEF EXECUTIVE AND CITY CLERK OF THE CITY OF EUREKA, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

As to the adoption and ratification of certain amendments to the Charter of the said City of Eureka, submitted to the qualified electors of said City on the 27th day of November, A. D. 1916.

PREAMBLE.

Be it known that,

WHEREAS, the City of Eureka of the County of Humboldt, State of California, has at all times mentioned herein been and now is a municipal corporation of said State of California, containing a population of more than thirty-five hundred inhabitants, and is now, and has been ever since the 21st day of July, A. D. 1895, organized and existing and acting under a freeholders' charter, adopted under and by virtue of Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly ratified by the qualified electors of said City at an election held for that purpose on the 26th day of January, 1895, and approved by the Legislature of the State of California on the 12th day of February, 1895, (Statutes of 1895 pages 355 to 405 inclusive); and

WHEREAS, the Council of the said City of Eureka did, by ordinance duly adopted by said Council on the 6th day of October, 1916, and approved by the Mayor of the said City of Eureka on the 9th day of October, 1916, and pursuant to Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, duly propose to the qualified electors of said City certain amendments to the Charter of the said City of Eureka, to be submitted to the qualified electors of said City at a special municipal election to be held therein on the 27th day of November, 1916; said amendments being seven in number; and

WHEREAS, said proposed amendments were, and each of them was, published in the Humboldt Standard, a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in the City of Eureka, and having a general circulation therein, for the time and in the manner prescribed by Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, and copies of said proposed amendments to said Charter were printed in convenient pamphlet form, and from the date of the first publication of said proposed amendments, as aforesaid, until the date fixed for the election on said charter amendments, the Council of the said City of Eureka caused to be published in said Humboldt Standard, said newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said City of Eureka, a notice that copies of said proposed amendments to said charter could be had at the office of the City Clerk of the City of Eureka upon application therefor; and

charter
amendments.

WHEREAS, the Council of said City did, by ordinance duly adopted by said Council on the 6th day of October, 1916, and approved by the Mayor of said City on the 7th day of October, 1916, order the holding of a special municipal election in the said City of Eureka on the 27th day of November, 1916, said day being at least forty days after the publication of said proposed amendments in said daily newspaper of general circulation in the said City of Eureka, to wit, the Humboldt Standard; and did provide in said ordinance for the submission of said proposed charter amendments to the qualified electors of said City for ratification or rejection at said election; and

WHEREAS, said election was duly called and held on said 27th day of November, 1916, and at said election a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon voted in favor of the ratification of and did ratify six of the proposed amendments to said charter; and

WHEREAS, the Council of the said City of Eureka, in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided, did meet on Tuesday, the 28th day of November, 1916, at their usual place of meeting and duly canvass the returns of said election, as certified by the election boards, and duly found, determined and declared that the majority of the qualified electors of said City voting thereon had voted for and ratified six of the proposed amendments to the charter of the said City of Eureka; and

WHEREAS, the said six amendments to the charter, so ratified by the majority of the qualified electors of said City voting at said election, are in the words and figures as follows, to wit:

I. The Council of the City of Eureka hereby proposes to the qualified electors of the City of Eureka that Section 22 of Article III of the Charter of the City of Eureka be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 22. The legislative power of the City of Eureka shall be vested in a council of five members, whose term shall be two years, and said City shall have the power to make and enforce any and all laws and regulations in respect to municipal affairs, subject only to the restrictions and limitations provided in this Charter as the same now is or as it may be hereafter amended; and to do and perform all acts and things appropriate to a municipal corporation, or which may be for the general welfare and good of its inhabitants, which are not

powers.

specifically forbidden by the Constitution of the State of California, or which now or hereafter it would be lawful to specifically enumerate in this Charter; and no enumeration or specific statement herein of any particular powers shall be held to be exclusive or a limitation of the foregoing general grant of powers.

II. The Council of the City of Eureka hereby proposes to the qualified electors of the City of Eureka that Section 38 of Article III of the Charter of the City of Eureka be amended so as to read as follows:

Ordinance
in effect,
when.

Section 38. No ordinance passed by the Council shall take effect until thirty days after its passage and approval, unless otherwise provided in the enactment.

III. The Council of the City of Eureka hereby proposes to the qualified electors of the City of Eureka that Section 42 of Article III of the Charter of the City of Eureka be amended so as to read as follows:

work.

Section 42. Any public work may be done by contract and any materials and supplies used by the City may be purchased by contract and all such contracts shall be let under the conditions and limitations prescribed by the Council to the lowest responsible bidder furnishing such security as the Council may require after due notice inviting sealed bids; or the Council may reject any and all bids and either call for new bids or proceed by day labor as hereinafter provided. If the Council shall deem it advisable to do any public work by day labor or to purchase in the open market any materials and supplies used by the City, this may be done. Whenever the aggregate estimated cost of any public work so done by day labor and of any materials and supplies therefor, so purchased in the open market, shall be One Thousand Dollars or more the measure authorizing such expenditure shall be subject to the referendum provisions of this Charter governing contracts of a value of One Thousand Dollars or more. The Council is authorized and empowered to adopt ordinances to carry into effect the provisions of this section.

IV. The Council of the City of Eureka hereby proposes to the qualified electors of the City of Eureka that Section 43 of Article III of the Charter of the City of Eureka be amended so as to read as follows:

Powers of
council.

Section 43. The Council shall have power to pass ordinances:

1. To establish or alter the grades of, and to open, lay out, alter, extend, close, straighten, widen or otherwise improve or regulate streets, alleys, lanes and sidewalks upon the same; determine the width of sidewalks and streets, and the grade of the same, and to provide for acceptance of the streets when constructed and completed in accordance with such regulations as the Council may adopt. Also to open, lay out, construct, alter, widen, extend, repair and vacate walks, crosswalks, avenues, and thoroughfares in or over any plaza, park or grounds, belonging to or under control of the City.

2. To regulate or prohibit traffic and sales in streets, highways and public places; to prevent encroachment upon or obstruction to the same, and to require their removal. Powers of Council.

3. To establish and maintain a pole line system in the City; to compel all telegraph, telephone, electric light and other companies, corporations, firms, association or persons using wires to place and maintain their wires thereon, and to regulate the use and fix the rental thereof, and provide for the collection of the same from corporations, companies, associations and persons using the same.

4. To regulate the erection of poles for or the laying of telegraph, telephone and electric wires in and upon the public streets, or upon or over buildings, the erecting of gas and electric lights therein, the numbering of houses on the streets, the naming of the streets, avenues, public places and thoroughfares; the use of the streets and sidewalks for signposts, awnings, awning posts, horse troughs, telegraph posts, telephone posts, electric light towers, electric light posts, and other purposes: the exhibition of banners, placards, or flags, in or across the streets or from houses or other buildings; public cries, advertising, ringing of bells, steam whistles, and other noises; and the use of streets and public places for foot passengers, animals, vehicles, cars and locomotives.

5. To establish a general and comprehensive system of sewers in the City, and to regulate the building and repairing thereof.

6. To provide for and regulate street pavements, crosswalks, curbstones, grades, gutters, sewers and cleaning and watering of the streets.

7. To regulate dispensaries, hospitals, markets and other public institutions.

8. To provide for the construction, maintenance, regulation and repair of bridges, wharves, docks, piers, chutes, slips, ferries and public places.

9. To fix, regulate and collect tolls, wharfage and dockage.

10. To regulate the running, moving and anchorage of steamboats, vessels, rafts and other water craft within the waters of the City, and to prevent obstructions to the free navigation of such waters.

11. To make regulations for preventing and extinguishing fires, establishing fire districts, and determining the character of buildings that may be erected therein, and the nature of the material to be used in the construction, alteration or repair of such buildings, or in repair or alteration of existing buildings within such limits, and for restricting the height of buildings or structures.

12. To declare what shall constitute a nuisance, and to abate and remove the same.

13. To provide and maintain a morgue.

14. To provide for conducting elections, establishing or changing election precincts and appointing the necessary election officers.

Powers of
council.

15. To try and remove from office appointees against whom charges have been preferred; and to remove without the preferring of charges any appointee at any time when in the judgment of the Council the public service will be promoted, improved or benefited thereby.

16. To prohibit or suppress all houses of ill-fame, all occupations, houses, places of amusement, exhibitions and practices which are against good morals, and contrary to public order and decency, or dangerous to the public safety.

17. To regulate or prohibit the sale, keeping, storage and use of powder, fireworks, dynamite, nitroglycerine and other explosives or combustible material and substances, the places of their manufacture, storage and the transportation.

18. To regulate the maintenance of acid works, slaughter houses, wash houses, laundries, tanneries, livery stables, offensive trades, and all other manufactories, works and business of every description that may endanger the public safety, health or comfort and to restrict the prosecution thereof to such fixed limits as may seem proper, or to exclude such works and business from the City.

19. To regulate the keeping and use of animals; to prevent or regulate the running at large of any animals, to establish a pound, to authorize impounding of animals found running at large, and to authorize the sale, disposition or destruction thereof.

20. To provide for the public printing, and to provide suitable rooms and buildings for the Courts, Boards and officers of the City, and such furniture, fuel, lights, books and stationery and other supplies of any kind, as are or may be necessary for the convenient transactions of public business.

21. To regulate the construction, repair and use of sewers, sinks, gutters, wells, cesspools, and vaults; to compel the connecting, cleaning or emptying of the same, and to designate the time and manner in which the work shall be done; to provide for the removal of all rubbish, garbage, refuse matter and all material detrimental to the public health and at such times as it will be best for the public good.

22. To prevent the throwing into any stream, creek, slough, bay or any body of water, from vessels, wharves or other places, any dirt, ballast, ashes, garbage, dead animals or other materials that may obstruct the same or pollute the waters thereof.

23. To regulate or prohibit the use of steam boilers, the location of telegraph, telephone and electric light poles and wires, awnings and the construction of entrances to cellars and basements from sidewalks.

24. To license hackney coaches, cabs, omnibuses, drays, carts and other vehicles used for hire, and to regulate their stands and rates of fare and to license or suppress runners for railroads, steamboats, taverns or hotels.

25. To regulate the entrance to, and exit from theaters, lecture-rooms, public halls, churches and public buildings of every kind, and the number and construction of such entrances and exits, and to prohibit the placing of chairs, stools, benches or other obstacles, in the halls, aisles or open places therein. Powers of council.

26. To maintain and regulate a fire alarm police telegraph and police telephone.

27. To regulate and control the business of pawnbrokers, junk dealers, intelligence offices, and prescribe the mode of conducting the same.

28. To sell within or without the City, at such rates as the Council by ordinance shall from time to time establish, street car service, telephone service, light, heat, use of public slaughter house, or use of any public utility owned or controlled by the City; and the Council shall likewise by ordinance provide for the terms and rates on which the department of public works shall sell within or without the City, water, ice, meat, rock or the product of any other public enterprise which the City may now or hereafter control or own.

29. To regulate the quality, capacity and location of water and gas pipes, mains, and fire plugs, and to provide for and regulate the construction and repair of hydrants, fire plugs, cisterns, pumps and such other appliances as may be requisite to utilize the distribution of water and gas in the streets, public places and public buildings.

30. To regulate the speed and conduct of railroad trains and engines, and require railroad companies either to station flagmen, place gates or viaducts, or place sufficient automatic warning signals and signal bells at all such streets as it may deem proper.

31. To regulate or prohibit the making up of railroad trains on any of its streets, and the stopping of trains on street crossings.

32. To grant franchises permitting any person, firm, corporation or company to lay and maintain tracks, and to pass with steam railroads along, upon and across, or elevated above, or placed below any streets of the City; provided, that the free use of said streets shall not be unnecessarily obstructed thereby; and such franchises shall be granted only after notice published for thirty days, and by ordinance passed by the vote of four members of the Council. Such grants shall be without prejudice to the rights of the owners of property to compensation for damages.

33. The grant of a franchise shall be a delegation of the right to condemn private property for public uses upon compensation being made therefor as provided by law.

34. To grant the right to construct, and to regulate and control the construction thereof, to railroad corporations and companies of pipes, tubes, conduits, signal bells, warning signs, wires and other electric, telegraph, telephone and mechanical appliances, in, along, over and across the streets; provided, that said appliances be so constructed as not to interfere with the free use of the sidewalks and streets.

council.

35. To require every railroad company or corporation to keep the streets in repair between the tracks and along and within the distance of two feet upon each side of the tracks occupied by the company or corporation.

36. To provide for supplying the City of Eureka and its inhabitants with light, heat, motive power, telephones, street railroads or any other public utility of any kind or character or name, and to construct or purchase, own, control, maintain and operate any and all such public utilities; provided, however, that no such construction or purchase shall be made unless first authorized by a vote of the majority of the electors voting at any general or special election, at which the proposition may be submitted.

37. To keep, and, at such time or times as the Council of said City may deem the same necessary for the use at municipal elections therein, to cause to be printed a register, in the manner and form as required by the provisions of Chapter three, of title two of the Political Code of the State of California, in which shall be entered the names of the qualified electors of the said City.

38. To require any lots or portions of lots within the City which may be covered with stagnant water a portion of the year to be filled up to such level or grade as will prevent the same from being so covered, and to assess the cost of such filling upon such real estate, and provide that it shall be a lien thereon.

39. To determine and impose fines, forfeitures and penalties for the violation of any ordinance or any of the provisions of this Charter, and to appropriate the same.

40. To make all needful rules to govern the official conduct and duties of all officers of the City, whose duties are not defined by this Charter, to impose additional duties upon those whose duties are defined, and to fix and regulate the charges and fees of all such officers, where the charges, fees and duties are not otherwise fixed, and to compel the payment of all such charges and fees into the City Treasury.

41. To make real estate in said City liable for the construction of sidewalks, crossings and all other street improvements, adjacent thereto, and provide for the forced sale thereof for such purposes.

42. To create, control, regulate, abolish or prohibit cemeteries; to sell or lease lots in those created, to control and regulate interments within the City limits, and to provide for removing human remains from the City.

43. To provide and maintain a City Prison, and to provide for the care, custody, feeding and clothing of City prisoners.

44. To provide for the proper employment upon any public work, or for the benefit of the City, of all persons convicted of crimes, vagrancy or other misdemeanor.

45. To prevent and restrain any riot, or riotous assemblage or disorderly conduct within said City.

46. To provide for supplying the City and its inhabitants with water, ice, meat, or any other food products or necessities of life, and to construct or purchase, own, control, maintain and operate its own water supply, ice plant, slaughter house, cold storage plant, meat markets, or any other property necessary to produce, preserve and distribute to consumers any or all such products; and in owning and operating such public enterprises the City shall have all the rights and powers that are granted by the laws of the State to private corporations in conducting similar enterprises; provided, however, that no such water works, ice plant, cold storage plant, slaughter house, meat markets or other public enterprises shall be established or purchased by the City of Eureka unless first authorized by a vote of the majority of the electors of said City at any general or special election at which the proposition may be submitted.

council.

47. To the extent that the constitution of the State of California now allows or may hereafter be amended to allow; to regulate the sale and use of gas and electric lights, and fix and determine the price of gas and electric lights and the rent of gas and light meters within the City, and regulate the inspection thereof; and to regulate telephone service and the use of telephones within the City, and to fix and determine the charges for telephones, and telephone service and connections; and the removal and placing underground of any and all telegraphs, telephones or electric wires or upon the pole line established by the City.

48. To grant franchises for the construction of street railroads on and along the streets of the City; provided, that whenever application is made for such franchises the Council shall, by resolution, cause a notice of such application to be published for thirty days, and shall in said notice specify the route along which it is proposed to construct such road, and shall offer to grant the franchise to the persons, company or corporation that shall agree to pay semiannually the largest per centum of the gross receipts of such road, according to a verified statement of the same; and provided, further, that in all grants of franchises for street railroads it shall be made a condition that single fares of such road shall not exceed five cents, and that only such rails be laid down as are of the most approved rail pattern for street railways operated by electricity, cables or other motor. The Council may reject all bids, and may refuse to grant a franchise for the proposed route; and in case no bids are made, may in their discretion grant a franchise for such period as may be deemed expedient.

49. To require any land or buildings to be cleansed at the expense of the owner or occupant; and upon his default may do the work and assess the expense upon the land or building, and provide that it shall be a lien thereon.

50. To provide for licensing any or all business not prohibited by law; to establish and regulate the issuing and granting of municipal licenses, and the collection of license taxes.

Powers of
council.

51. To establish a City Hospital, and to provide for its maintenance.

52. To provide and maintain all public buildings, parks, or squares, necessary or proper, for the use of the City, and to acquire lands therefor, and for other public uses.

53. To provide for the execution of all trusts confided to the City.

54. To levy and collect taxes and assessments on all property within the City, both real and personal, made taxable by law for State or county purposes.

55. To offer rewards, not exceeding five hundred dollars, for the arrest and conviction of any person or persons, who may have committed a felony in said City.

56. To establish and maintain such poorhouses, industrial schools, houses of correction or reformation, workshops, homes for confirmed inebriates, and such other institutions as may be deemed proper, and to provide for the support, maintenance and management of the same.

57. To regulate the custody, leasing and sale of all the property of the municipality, and such lost, stolen or unclaimed property as may be in the possession of the police or other officers of the City.

58. To regulate all parades, processions, and public assemblages upon the streets, and to determine what parades, processions and public assemblages thereon shall not be lawful, and declare the same a nuisance.

59. To regulate and maintain a Fire Department; and to regulate and maintain a Police Department.

60. To make all ordinances, by-laws, rules, and regulations necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers, and all other powers vested by this Charter or by general laws in said City.

61. To make and enforce all such local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as are not in conflict with general laws and provisions of this Charter.

V. The Council of the City of Eureka hereby proposes to the qualified electors of the City of Eureka that Section 10 of Article II of the Charter of the City of Eureka be amended so as to read as follows:

Elections.

Section 10. All general and special municipal elections shall in all respects as nearly as may be, be held and conducted in accordance with the laws of the State for the holding of general elections in effect at the time, except that primary elections under the auspices of the City shall be dispensed with, and in lieu thereof any political party, having polled not less than three per cent of the total vote cast for President, or Presidential electors, at the last preceding national election at which a President was elected, may nominate party candidates in such manner as the members of said party in convention assembled shall direct. Such party nominations shall be filed with the City Clerk not more than fifty nor less than thirty days before the date of the election by the chair-<sup>Elections.</sup> man and secretary of the convention which determined the nominations of such party, and the name of the party making such party nominations shall appear on the ballot after the name of every candidate nominated by it, but no party needs to make party nominations unless it decides that such nominations shall be made. Any other than a party candidate who shall file with the City Clerk a nominating petition not more than fifty nor less than thirty days before the date of the election, containing no more than three per cent nor less than one per cent of the registered voters of the political section from which he seeks election, shall have his name placed on the ballot without any designation after his name. No filing fee shall be required of any candidate in any general or special municipal election. The Council shall, in accordance with the laws of the State, make all the necessary arrangements for holding said elections, canvassing the returns, and declaring the results thereof.

VI. The Council of the City of Eureka hereby proposes to the qualified electors of the City of Eureka that Section 17 of Article II of the Charter of the City of Eureka be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 17. In establishing election precincts the Council shall make them as geographically compact as possible.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
 County of Humboldt, } ss.
 City of Eureka. }

This is to certify that we, ELIJAH FALK, Mayor of the City of Eureka, and J. P. WUNDERLICH, City Clerk of the City of Eureka, have compared the foregoing proposed ratified amendments to the Charter of the City of Eureka with the original ordinance proposing said amendments and submitting the same to the qualified electors of said City at a special municipal election called for that purpose and held on the 27th day of November, 1916, and find that the foregoing is a true, full, exact and correct copy thereof, and each of them; and we further certify that the facts set forth in the Preamble of this Certificate preceding said amendments to said Charter are, and each of them is, true.

That as to all of said amendments this Certificate shall be taken as a full and complete certification as to the regularity of all proceedings had and done in connection therewith.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and caused the official Seal of the said City of Eureka to be hereunto affixed this 19th day of December, A. D. 1916.

[SEAL.]

ELIJAH FALK,
 Mayor of the City of Eureka.

ATTEST: J. P. WUNDERLICH,
 City Clerk of the City of Eureka.

AND WHEREAS, The said proposed amendments to the charter of the city of Eureka, so ratified, are now submitted to the legislature of the State of California for approval or rejection, without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California; now, therefore, be it Approval by legislature.

Resolved by the senate of the State of California, the assembly thereof concurring, a majority of all members elected to each house voting for the adoption of this resolution and concurring therein, that the said amendments to the charter of the city of Eureka herein set forth as presented and submitted to and adopted and ratified by the qualified electors of the said city of Eureka, be and the same are hereby approved as a whole for and as amendments to the said charter of the city of Eureka.

CHAPTER 13.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 8, approving the charter for the city of Alameda, State of California, ratified by the qualified electors of said city at a special municipal election held therein on the ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 25, 1917.]

Alameda city charter.

WHEREAS, The city of Alameda, in the county of Alameda, State of California, now is and was at all times herein referred to, a city containing a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Said city of Alameda at all times mentioned herein was, and now is, organized and existing under a freeholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly adopted and ratified by a majority of qualified electors of said city on the 27th day of January, 1906, and approved by the legislature of the State of California on the 7th day of February, 1907; and

WHEREAS, Proceedings have been had for the proposal, adoption and ratification of a new charter for said city of Alameda, as set out in the certificate of the mayor and city clerk of the city of Alameda, to wit:

City of Alameda, } County of Alameda, } ss.
State of California. }

We, the undersigned, F. H. Bartlett, mayor of the city of Alameda, State of California, and R. E. Bosshard, city clerk of said city, do hereby certify and declare as follows:

That the city of Alameda, in the county of Alameda, State of California, now is and at all times herein referred to, was a city containing a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States. Alameda city charter.

That said city of Alameda at all times mentioned herein was and now is, organized and existing under a frecholders' charter adopted under the provisions of section eight, article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly adopted and ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said city on the twenty-seventh day of January, one thousand nine hundred six, and approved by the legislature of the State of California on the seventh day of February, one thousand nine hundred seven.

That, pursuant to the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, the council of the city of Alameda, said council being then and there the legislative body of such city, did by a two-thirds vote of all its members, pass an ordinance, calling a special election to be held on Tuesday, the twenty-third day of May, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, for choosing a board of fifteen freeholders to frame, prepare and propose a new charter for the city of Alameda; that at such election held on said day, a board of fifteen freeholders, duly qualified, was elected in and by said city, by the qualified electors thereof, which said board within one hundred eighty days after the result of said election was declared, the period of one hundred twenty days allowed by law to prepare and propose said charter having been, with the consent of said council, duly extended sixty days to and including the twenty-fifth day of November, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, duly prepared and proposed, and did on the twenty-sixth day of October, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, file in the office of said city clerk a new charter for the government of said city, and upon said charter designated the ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, as date upon which said charter should be submitted to the electors of said city for ratification; that said proposed charter and said designation for the date for the submission therefor to the electors for ratification were duly signed by a majority of the members of the said board of freeholders; that thereupon said mayor and council duly caused and gave notice of such special election to be held on the ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and did, within fifteen days after the filing of said charter, cause the same to be published once on the first day of November, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, in The Evening Times-Star and Alameda Daily Argus, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said city, and caused copies of said charter to be printed in convenient pamphlet form, and until the date fixed by the election upon such charter, advertised in said named paper a notice that such copies of said charter could be had at the office of the city clerk upon application therefor; that at the

city charter.

said election, duly and regularly held on said ninth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, a majority of qualified voters, voting thereon, voted in favor of such proposed charter, and the mayor and council of said city at a meeting held in the manner required by law, duly canvassed the returns of said election and duly found, determined and declared that a majority of said electors voting thereon had voted for and ratified said charter; that said charter, after the same was prepared, proposed and ratified as herein set forth, is as follows, to wit:

CHARTER PREPARED AND PROPOSED FOR THE CITY OF ALAMEDA
BY THE BOARD OF FREEHOLDERS ELECTED MAY 23, 1916, IN PURSUANCE OF THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION EIGHT, ARTICLE ELEVEN, OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA.

ARTICLE I.

BOUNDARIES.

Change of boundaries.

SEC. 2. Unless a majority of the electors of the city shall affirmatively vote therefor at a general or special municipal election, neither shall the boundaries of the city be changed, nor shall the city be consolidated with any other city or city and county.

ARTICLE II.

LEGISLATIVE.

SEC. 1. The legislative power of the City of Alameda shall be vested in a body to be designated the council, and in the electors. Legislative power.

SEC. 2. The Council. The council shall consist of five members, who shall serve without compensation. Each councilman shall hold office for four years and until his successor is elected and qualified, except that in case of the council first elected, the three councilmen receiving the highest vote shall hold office for four years and the two receiving the next highest vote shall hold office for two years. At the time of the election each nominee must have been an elector of the city for at least three years next preceding his election, and must be of the age of at least twenty-five years. Council

SEC. 3. Quorum. A majority of the members shall constitute a quorum, but a less number may adjourn from time to time, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as the council may prescribe. Quorum.

SEC. 4. Powers of the Council. Subject to the provisions and restrictions in this charter contained, and the valid delegation by this charter of any of the powers hereinafter included to any person, officer, board or committee, which delegation of power, if any, shall control, the council shall have power in the name of the city to do and perform all acts and things appropriate to a municipal corporation and the general welfare of its inhabitants and which are not specifically forbidden by the constitution of the state or which now or hereafter it would be competent for this charter specifically to enumerate; and no enumeration or specific statement herein of any particular powers shall be held to be exclusive or a limitation of the foregoing general grant of power. The council shall have the power to delegate any of the powers conferred on, or vested in it. Powers of council

SEC. 5. The council shall:

One. Judge of the qualifications of its members and of all election returns;

Two. Establish rules for its proceedings;

Three. Keep a correct journal of its proceedings. The ayes and noes shall, on demand of any member, be taken and entered therein;

Four. Choose one of its members president and another vice-president, each of whom shall serve for two years, and without compensation. The president shall be ex-officio mayor;

Five. Appropriate annually, and the council must so appropriate, to the mayor, for his own use, the sum of six hundred dollars, for which he need furnish no vouchers;

Six. Appoint a city clerk;

Seven. Fix the compensation of all officers and employees not otherwise provided for.

Meetings.

SEC. 6. Council Meetings. The council shall meet at eight o'clock p. m. on the third Tuesday in April next succeeding the general municipal election, and shall hold regular meetings twice in each month and at such other times as they shall fix by ordinance. They shall not convene at any place other than their regular place of meeting. Their meetings shall be public. Special meetings may be called by the mayor or by three councilmen, by serving the members personally with written notices, or leaving the same at places designated by the respective members at least three hours before the time of the proposed meeting.

Mayor.

SEC. 7. The Mayor. The mayor shall be recognized by the courts as the official head of the city for the purpose of serving civil process, by the governor for the purpose of military law, and shall represent the city for all ceremonial purposes. He may take command of the police and govern the city by proclamation during times of public danger or emergency, and he shall himself be the judge of what constitutes such public danger or emergency.

SEC. 8. Absence of the Mayor. If the mayor be temporarily absent or unable to perform his official duties, the vice-president shall during such time act as mayor pro tempore and perform such duties. In the absence of both president and vice-president the other members of the council shall elect one of their number to perform the duties of president and mayor.

City clerk.

SEC. 9. City Clerk. The duties of the city clerk shall be such as are prescribed by the council and provided by law. He shall hold office until removed by a four-fifths vote of the whole council.

Legislative acts.

SEC. 10. Legislative Acts. The enacting clause of every ordinance passed by the council shall be in these words: "Be it ordained by the council of the City of Alameda." The enacting clause of every ordinance passed by the people shall be as follows: "Be it ordained by the people of the City of Alameda." No ordinance shall be so amended as not to be germane to its original purpose. No ordinance shall be passed by the council on the day of its introduction or within five days thereafter, or at any time other than at a regular meeting or an adjourned regular meeting. Every ordinance shall be signed by the officer presiding at the time of its adoption, attested by the clerk and published at least once in a newspaper published in the City of Alameda, or advertised as hereinafter provided.

Ordinances.

SEC. 11. Ordinances. All ordinances and resolutions shall be deposited with the city clerk, who shall record them in a suitable book. All ordinances shall be published once in the city official newspaper within three days after the same shall have become a law. The publication of all ordinances granting any franchise or privilege shall be at the expense of the applicant therefor.

SEC. 12. It shall not be necessary in any action to plead or prove the organization or existence of the corporation, city of Alameda, or the passage, existence or validity of any ordinance thereof; and courts shall take judicial cognizance thereof without proof.

SEC. 13. Any measure that the council or the electorate of the city, as herein provided, has authority to adopt, the council may, of its own motion, submit to a vote of the electors at a general or special election.

SEC. 14. Time of Taking Effect of Ordinances. Except as herein provided no penal ordinance or measure passed by the council, granting any franchise or privilege, and no ordinance or measure making or authorizing any contract (except contracts for improvements the expenses whereof are to be defrayed by local assessment and contracts where the subject matter involved is of less value than one thousand dollars), shall go into effect in less than thirty days after its final passage. But ordinances and contracts declared by the council to be necessary as emergency measures for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, passed by a four-fifths vote of the whole council, and not obligating the city for a longer period than one year, may go into effect at the will of the council, or as otherwise provided by law. Time of taking effect.

SEC. 15. Ayes and Noes. Except as hereinafter provided no bill shall become an ordinance, and no resolution shall be adopted unless finally passed by a majority vote of all the members of the council, the vote taken by ayes and noes, and the names of the members voting for and against the same entered in the journal. No resolution or order for the payment of money shall be passed at any other than a regular meeting or an adjourned regular meeting. Ayes and noes.

SEC. 16. No ordinance shall be revised, re-enacted or amended by reference to its title; but the ordinance to be revised or re-enacted or the section thereof to be amended, shall be re-enacted at length as revised and amended. Any ordinance revised, re-enacted or amended contrary to the provisions of this section shall be void. Reenactment.

SEC. 17. General City Work. In the erection, improvement and repair of all public buildings and works, in all street and sewer work, and in all work in or about bays or waterfronts, or in or about embankments or other works for protection against overflow, and in furnishing any supplies or materials for the same, when the expenditure required for the same shall exceed the sum of one thousand dollars, the same shall be done by contract, and shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, after notice by publication in the official newspaper; General city work

Provided, that the council may reject any and all bids presented and may re-advertise, in their discretion, and more economically by day labor, or the materials or supplies purchased at a lower price in the open market, and after the adoption of a resolution to this effect, they may proceed to have the same done in the manner stated without further observance of the foregoing provisions of this section; and Provided further, that in case of a great public calamity, such as an extraordinary fire, flood, storm, epidemic or other disaster, the council may, by resolution passed by a vote of four-fifths of all its members, declare and determine that public interest and necessity demand the immediate expenditure of public money to safeguard life, health or property, and thereupon they may proceed to expend or enter into a contract involving the expenditure of any sum required in such emergency. Advertisements for bids need not specifically state the work contemplated, but may refer to specifications on file in the office of the city clerk.

Printing
and advertising.

SEC. 18. Printing and Advertising. The council shall annually call for bids for printing and advertising. The contracts for printing may be awarded separately on the various items, and contracts for each shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder:

Provided, that the council may reject all bids for printing if in their opinion the bid of the lowest responsible bidder is exorbitant, and may again call for bids, subject to the reservation hereinafter mentioned. If the council shall determine that the bids secondly received are exorbitant, they may nevertheless let the contract to the lowest bidder for such portion of the printing as the board may determine, reserving the option to obtain other printing from such bidder at the schedule rates; and as to any printing not specifically mentioned in the contract, the board may from time to time secure the same to be done by any party who may agree to do the same at a lower rate than that scheduled in the bid for doing the city printing. In lieu of newspaper advertising the council may issue and publish a bulletin containing such matter as they are required by law to publish, sending the same by mail to the registered voters of the city, to their addresses as the same shall appear on the great register of Alameda County, and shall also post printed copies of such advertisement in three public places in the City of Alameda, at least five days before action is taken in response to said publication. Such mailing and posting shall be conclusively deemed to be of the same effect as if the advertisement had been fully published in the official newspaper of the city. The council shall annually designate as the official paper, a newspaper of general circulation published in this city, which shall have been established at least one year. In no event shall the rate for official advertising exceed the usual rate charged by the paper for publishing legal notices.

Appointment of councilman.

SEC. 19. No councilman shall be eligible to appointment on any board or commission provided for in this charter except as designated in the charter.

SEC. 20. Vacancies in the Council. Any vacancy occurring in the council shall be filled by majority vote of the remaining councilmen. In case of failure of the council to appoint within thirty days, a board consisting of the police judge, the auditor and the tax collector shall, by majority vote, make the appointment.

Vacancies.

SEC. 21. Committees of Council. The council shall appoint such standing and other committees as they deem necessary.

Committees.

SEC. 22. The council shall not sell or convey any portion of any waterfront. No lease or sale of real estate shall be authorized by the council except by ordinance passed by the affirmative vote of four-fifths of all the members, and no lease shall be made for a period longer than twenty-five years except by ordinance adopted by the people. No ordinance for the lease or sale of real estate or for the lease of water front rights by the council shall take effect within sixty days from the date of passage.

Waterfront.

SEC. 23. Whenever an applicant for a franchise or other person shall pay in advance to the city the expenses of a special election, the council may, in its discretion, call such election, at which the proposed ordinance shall be submitted to vote of the electors.

Franchise election.

SEC. 24. Expert Accountant. The council shall appoint and fix the compensation of a certified public accountant who shall semi-annually investigate the transactions and accounts of all officers having the collection, custody or disbursement of public money, or having the power to approve, allow or audit demands on the treasury; and who shall have free access to all records, books and papers in all departments of the city; he shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, to examine witnesses and compel their attendance by subpoena. He may at any time visit any of the public offices and make examinations and investigations therein without hindrance. He must examine the official bonds of all city officers and investigate the sufficiency and solvency of the sureties thereon. He shall keep a record of his proceedings, with the names of the witnesses examined and a substantial statement of the evidence taken. At the close of his investigation he shall file with the council a written report containing his recommendations. If during his examination it shall appear that a public offense has been committed, or that an official is in default, or that the sureties on any bond are insufficient, he shall immediately report to the council, which shall take such proceedings as are authorized by law, and may suspend the official pending such proceedings. Any police officer shall execute the processes issued by him.

Expert accountant.

SEC. 25. Official Bonds. The council shall by ordinance, determine what officers shall give bonds for the faithful performance of their duties, and shall fix the amounts of such bonds; and each of such officers shall, before entering upon the duties of his office, execute a bond to the city in the penal sum provided by the ordinance, including in the same bond the duties of all offices of which he is made by this charter ex-officio incumbent. Such bonds shall be approved by the council. All bonds when approved shall be filed with the city clerk, except the city clerk's bond, if any, which shall be filed with the auditor. All the provisions of any law of this state relating to the official bonds of officers as then existing shall apply to such bonds except as herein otherwise provided. Every officer of the city, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and file with the city clerk the constitutional oath of office.

Initiative and referendum.

SEC. 26. Initiative and Referendum. Legislation may be enacted by the electors of Alameda under the general laws of the state providing for the initiative and referendum.

Prison relief fund.

SEC. 27. Prison Relief Fund. The council may in its discretion, set aside a sum each year to be known as the Prison Relief Fund. Out of this fund, in the discretion of the city manager, city justice and chief of police, acting as a commission, may be disbursed to a prisoner or to the family of a prisoner, such sum as the commission may deem a fair wage for services and work actually performed by the prisoner for the city. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to compel the commission or the city to pay for any work or services rendered by any prisoner.

ARTICLE III.

JUDICIAL AND LEGAL.

Chapter I—Police Court.

Police court.

SEC. 1. The judicial power of the city shall be vested in a police court to be held by the police judge of the city. Said police court shall have jurisdiction concurrently with the justices' courts, of all actions and proceedings, civil and criminal, arising within the corporate limits of the city, and which might be tried in such justice's court; and shall have exclusive jurisdiction of all actions for the recovery of any fine, penalty or forfeiture prescribed for the breach of any ordinances of the city, of all actions founded upon any obligation or liability created by any ordinance, and of all prosecutions for any violation of any ordinance. The rules of practice and mode of proceeding in said police court shall be the same as are or may be prescribed by law for justices' courts in like cases; and appeals may be taken to the superior court of Alameda County, from all judgments of said police court, in like manner and with like effect as in cases of appeals from justices' courts.

Police judge.

SEC. 2. The police judge shall be judge of the police court and shall have the powers and perform the duties of a magistrate. He may administer and certify oaths and affirmations, and may take and certify acknowledgments. He shall receive for his services a salary to be fixed by the council.

SEC. 3. In all cases in which the police judge is a party, <sup>Police judge</sup> or in which he is interested, or when he is related to either party by consanguinity or affinity within the third degree, or is otherwise disqualified, or in case of sickness or inability to act, the police judge may call upon any justice of the peace residing in the county to act in his stead.

SEC. 4. The police judge must be an attorney-at-law, duly admitted to practice by the supreme court of the state. He shall be elected in the same manner and at the same time as the councilmen, and shall hold office for four years.

SEC. 5. The foregoing provisions of this article shall not take effect until the provisions of the general laws of the state applicable to city justices of the peace shall be repealed. In the event of such repeal the council shall by ordinance establish a police court.

Chapter II—City Attorney.

SEC. 6. There shall be a city attorney who shall be ap- <sup>City</sup> pointed by the council, and who shall be an elector of the city <sup>attorney.</sup> at the time of his appointment, and shall be an attorney and counselor-at-law duly admitted to practice by the supreme court of the state. He shall have actually been engaged in the practice of his profession for a period of at least four years next before his appointment. He shall hold office until removed by a four-fifths vote of the whole council.

SEC. 7. It shall be his duty to prosecute on behalf of the <sup>Duties.</sup> people all criminal cases before the police court and justices of the peace, for all violations of this charter and of city ordinances and resolutions. It shall be his duty to attend to all suits and other matters to which the city is a party or in which the city may be legally interested. He shall be in attendance at every meeting of the council unless excused therefrom; and shall give his advice or opinion in writing whenever required by the council, board of education or other city officers. He shall be the legal adviser of all city officers; he shall approve the forms of all bonds given to and all contracts made with the city; he shall, when required by the council or any member thereof, draft all proposed ordinances for the city, and amendments thereto; and shall do and perform all things touching his office as the council or the presiding officer thereof may require of him, and at the expiration of his term shall surrender to his successor all books, papers and documents pertaining to the city's business. He shall receive a salary to be fixed by the council.

ARTICLE IV.

FINANCE.

Chapter I—Auditor and Assessor.

Auditor.

SEC. 1. Auditor. An auditor shall be elected at the general municipal election. He shall hold office for four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be ex-officio assessor. His compensation for acting in both capacities shall be $2400 per annum. He may appoint one or more deputies, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible.

Duties.

SEC. 2. The auditor shall be the general accountant of the city. He shall receive and preserve in his office all accounts, books, vouchers, documents and papers relating to the accounts and contracts of the city, its debts, revenues and other financial affairs.

SEC. 3. He shall keep an account of all moneys paid into and out of the treasury, and the treasurer shall pay no money except on demand approved by the auditor. He must always know the exact condition of the treasury.

SEC. 4. He shall approve no demand unless the same has been allowed by the council, board of other authority directed by the charter to act thereon.

SEC. 5. Every demand approved by him shall specify on its face the several items composing it, the amounts and the dates thereof, and shall be numbered and acted upon in the order of presentation.

SEC. 6. Every demand upon the treasurer, before it can be paid, must be presented to the auditor, who shall satisfy himself whether the money is legally due, that its payment is authorized by law, and out of what fund payable. If he allow it he shall endorse thereon the word "allowed," the name of the fund out of which it is payable, and the date and consecutive number of its allowance, and shall sign his name thereto.

SEC. 7. Except as otherwise provided in this charter no money shall be drawn from the treasury unless in consequence of appropriations made by the council and upon demands duly drawn by the auditor. No warrant shall be drawn except upon an unexhausted fund.

Assessor.

SEC. 8. Assessor. As assessor the auditor shall perform all duties prescribed by this charter, by ordinance and by general law, for assessing property for the purpose of taxation.

SEC. 9. The assessment of property within the city shall be made for each year by the assessor; and he shall employ such clerical assistance as may be required to properly prepare such assessment.

Chapter II—Treasurer and Tax Collector.

Treasurer.

SEC. 10. Treasurer. A treasurer shall be elected at the general municipal election. He shall hold office for four years, and until his successor is elected and qualified. He shall be ex-officio tax collector. His compensation for acting in both capacities shall be $2400 per annum. He may appoint one or more deputies, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible.

Sec. 11. As treasurer he shall receive and pay out all moneys belonging to the city, and shall keep an account of all receipts and disbursements.

Sec. 12. He shall pay out money belonging to the city only upon legal demands allowed and audited in the manner provided by this charter or authorized by law.

Sec. 13. Tax Collector. As tax collector he shall perform such duties as are prescribed by this charter, by ordinance, and by general law. Tax collector.

Sec. 14. Bank may be Treasurer. When not in conflict with the constitution of this state, it shall be permissible, in the following manner, to abolish provision for the election of a treasurer: Bank as treasurer.

An ordinance may be adopted by the vote of the electorate abolishing the provision in this chapter for the election of a treasurer, and for the salary thereof, and substituting in lieu thereof a provision for the appointment of a bank or banks to act as depository or depositaries of the funds of the city. Such ordinance must provide due safeguards for the proper keeping and disbursement of the funds of the city. It may also name the salary of the official who shall thereafter be elected tax collector; and shall provide that such tax collector shall make daily deposit in the proper depository of all sums collected by him as tax collector. Such ordinance may be drawn to cover, supersede and repeal all the provisions of this chapter. It shall not take effect until the close of the term for which the treasurer then in office has been elected.

Chapter III—Levying of Taxes.

Sec. 15. Department Estimates. On or before the second Monday of May in each year the several boards and heads of departments shall send to the city manager detailed estimates of the amount of expenditure required in each department for the fiscal year next ensuing, including a statement of the salaries of all subordinates. Department estimates.

Sec. 16. City Manager to Estimate Expenses. On or before the first Monday in July in each year the city manager shall transmit to the council an estimate of the expenses of the city government for the ensuing fiscal year, stating the amount required to meet the interest and sinking funds for all outstanding funded debts and the wants of all the departments of the municipal government in detail, showing specifically the amount necessary to be apportioned to each fund in the treasury; also an estimate of the income from fines, licenses and other sources or revenue, exclusive of taxes upon property; also the probable amount required to be levied and raised by taxation. City manager to estimate expenses

System for levy and collection.

SEC. 17. The council shall provide by ordinance a system for the levy and collection of all city taxes, which system shall conform, as nearly as circumstances may permit, to the provisions of the laws of this state.

Dollar limit.

SEC. 18. Dollar Limit. The amount of the tax levy shall be sufficient to provide for the payment during the fiscal year, of all demands upon the treasury authorized to be paid out of the same; but such levy, exclusive of the tax to pay the interest on and maintain the sinking funds of bonded indebtedness of the city, and exclusive of the tax to pay for street and sewer work and to pay for the maintenance and improvement of the parks, squares and public grounds of the city, shall not exceed the rate of one dollar on each hundred dollars valuation of the property assessed. The council in making the levy shall apportion the taxes to the several funds.

Emergency reservation.

SEC. 19. Emergency Reservation. The limitation in the section last preceding shall not apply in case of any great necessity or emergency. In such case the limitation may be temporarily suspended. No increase over the dollar limit shall be made in the rate of taxation authorized to be levied in any fiscal year, unless such increase be authorized by ordinance adopted by vote of the people or passed by a four-fifths vote of the whole council. The character of such necessity or emergency shall be recited in the ordinance authorizing such action. Nothing in this section shall authorize the incurring of liabilities not allowed by law or which cannot be paid out of the income and revenue provided, collected and paid into the proper fund as its proportion of the same for such fiscal year, or permit liabilities or indebtedness incurred in any one fiscal year to be a charge upon or paid out of the income or revenue of any other fiscal year.

Delinquent taxes.

SEC. 20. All sales of delinquent taxes shall be made to the City of Alameda.

Previous year's rate.

SEC. 21. If the council fail to fix the tax rate within the time prescribed, then the previous year's rate and valuation shall be arbitrarily used and adopted.

Contracts.

SEC. 22. No contract made, the expense of the execution of which is not provided by law or ordinance to be paid by assessments upon the property to be benefited, shall be binding or of any force unless the auditor shall endorse thereon his certificate that there remains unexpended and unapplied as herein provided, a balance of the appropriation or fund applicable thereto, sufficient to pay the estimated expenses of executing such contract as certified by the board or officer making the same. This provision shall not apply to work done or supplies furnished, involving the expenditure of less than two hundred and fifty dollars. The auditor shall make such endorsement upon every such contract so presented to him if there remain unapplied and unexpended such amount so specified by the officer making the contract, and thereafter he shall hold and retain such sum to pay the expenses incurred until the contract shall be fully performed.

SEC. 23. The council shall authorize the disbursement of all public moneys except as otherwise provided in this charter, or by state law.

SEC. 24. Surplus Returned to General Fund. At the close of each fiscal year, if all demands against each fund have been paid or satisfied, and all disputed or contested demands fully determined, the council shall direct the treasurer to transfer all surplus moneys to the general fund, except such surplus moneys as may be in the several interest and sinking funds and in such other funds the disposition of whose surplus moneys is otherwise provided for. Surplus.

SEC. 25. All moneys derived from the sale of bonds, including premiums, and interest accruing by reason of the depositing thereof, shall be applied only to the purpose for which the bonds were voted. Any moneys remaining after the work for which the bonds were voted has been completed and paid for, shall be applied to the payment of interest on or to the retiring of such bonds. Use of moneys.

SEC. 26. Board of Equalization. The council shall meet at the usual place of holding meetings, on the first Tuesday of September of each year, at ten o'clock in the forenoon of said day, and sit as a board of equalization. It shall have power to hear complaints, and to correct, modify or strike out any assessment made by the assessor and may of its own motion, raise any assessment, upon notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised. Such corrected list shall constitute the assessment roll for the fiscal year. It shall be certified by the city clerk, who shall act as clerk of the board of equalization. Board of equalization.

SEC. 27. Any demand against the treasury remaining unpaid at the end of the fiscal year for lack of money applicable to its payment may be paid out of any money which may subsequently come into the proper fund from delinquent taxes or other uncollected income or revenue for such year. Such demands shall be paid out of such delinquent revenue when collected. Unpaid demands.

SEC. 28. All moneys received from taxes, licenses, fees, fines, penalties and forfeitures, and all moneys which may be collected or received by any officer of the city in his official capacity, or from any department of the city, for the performance of any official duty, and all moneys accruing to the city from any source, and all moneys directed by law or by this charter to be paid or deposited in the treasury, shall be paid into the treasury daily. Daily payments.

SEC. 29. On the first day of each month every officer authorized by law to charge any fee, commission, percentage, allowance or compensation, must make a written report to the auditor of all moneys received by him during the preceding month. Monthly reports.

SEC. 30. All demands for salaries fixed by law, ordinance or this charter, and made payable out of the treasury, may be allowed by the auditor without previous approval by the council. Salary demands.

ARTICLE V.

EDUCATION.

Chapter I—School Department.

Board of education.

SECTION 1. Board of Education. The control of the school department shall be vested in a board of education, which shall consist of five members, who shall receive no compensation. The members of the board of education who shall be in office at the time this charter shall take effect shall remain in office until the expiration of their respective terms. Thereupon and thereafter the vacancies occurring by expiration of the terms of the incumbents shall be filled by appointment by the mayor; each appointee to hold office for five years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. Any vacancy occurring prior to the expiration of a term shall be filled by appointment by the mayor, the appointee to serve for the unexpired term.

SEC. 2. Organization. The board shall organize annually by electing one of its number president, whose term of office shall be one year, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

SEC. 3. Meetings. The board shall hold regular meetings at least once in each month, and at such other times as it may determine. Special meetings may be called at any time by the president; and the president shall call a special meeting at any time when requested in writing so to do, by any two members. Absence by any member from four consecutive regular meetings, unless such member be excused by the board by resolution entered upon its minutes, shall work a forfeiture of office.

Powers.

SEC. 4. Powers of the Board. In addition to the powers and duties prescribed by the general laws of the state, the board shall have power:

One. To establish and maintain public schools, including kindergarten, primary, grammar, high, technical, and evening schools, and to change, consolidate and discontinue the same as the welfare of the department may require;

Provided, that no teacher shall be elected to a position in any of the public schools of the city unless he or she be a properly accredited graduate of either a California state normal school, the University of California, the Leland Stanford Junior University, or of an institution of equal rank, or who has had at least two years successful teaching experience;

Two. To manage and control the school property;

Three. To employ, pay, promote, transfer and dismiss teachers and other employees; to fix, alter and approve their salaries and compensation, and to make rules governing the same;

Four. To provide the department with all necessary supplies, and to incur such other incidental expenses as may be necessary for the welfare of the department;

Six. To recommend and arrange for the purchase, sale, lease <sup>Powers.</sup> and exchange of school lots and other school property; to take charge of any and all real estate and personal property which may have been or may hereafter be acquired for the use and benefit of the public schools of the city. The proceeds of any sale and the income from any school property shall be used for school purposes;

Seven. To sue and to prosecute and defend actions at law or in equity in the name of the board of education, and to employ counsel therefor in case the district attorney or the city attorney be disqualified or unable to act.

SEC. 5. School Superintendent. The board of education shall appoint a superintendent of schools, who shall hold office for four years unless sooner removed by a vote of four members. He shall be the executive officer of the board in all matters relating to instruction, discipline and conduct of the schools. He shall receive such compensation as may be fixed by the board. He shall be ex-officio the secretary of the board and shall act as bookkeeper for the board, without extra compensation. He shall attend all sessions of the board, and shall make such reports as the board may require, or as he may deem to be for the interest of the department. <sup>School superintendent.</sup>

SEC. 6. The board shall appoint an assistant secretary, whose compensation shall be fixed by the board. <sup>Assistant secretary.</sup>

SEC. 7. The board of education shall organize and act as a high school board as provided by law. <sup>High school board.</sup>

SEC. 8. The board shall determine annually the amount of money necessary to support and maintain the public schools of the city and to carry into effect all provisions of law regarding the same, and shall, on or before the second Monday in May of each year, submit in writing to the council an estimate of the money to be received from the state and county and an itemized estimate of proposed expenditures for the next fiscal year, with a request for such additional money as they may need in excess of the amount to be received from the state and county. Such additional money, when collected, shall immediately be paid into the school fund of the city, which fund shall be drawn upon only by warrants for claims duly allowed by the board against the school department. The warrants must be signed by the president and secretary of the board and by the auditor. <sup>Estimates.</sup>

Chapter II—Free Library.

SEC. 9. Free Library Trustees. The Alameda Free Library shall be under the control of a board of five trustees who shall receive no compensation. The members of the board who shall be in office at the time this charter shall take effect shall remain in office until the expiration of their respective terms. Thereupon and thereafter the vacancies occurring by expiration of the terms of the incumbents shall be filled by appointment by the mayor, each appointee to hold office for five years, and until his successor is appointed and qualified. Any vacancy <sup>Free library trustees.</sup> occurring prior to the expiration of a term shall be filled by appointment by the mayor, the appointee to serve for the unexpired term.

SEC. 10. The board of library trustees shall meet at least once a month at such time and place as they may fix by resolution. Special meetings may be called at any time by the president or by two trustees. A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum. The board shall elect one of its number president, who shall serve for one year, and until his successor is elected, and in his absence the board shall select a president pro tem. The board shall cause a proper record of its proceedings to be kept.

Powers.

SEC. 11. The board of library trustees shall have power:

One. To make and enforce rules, regulations and by-laws necessary for the administration, government and protection of the library, and all property belonging thereto. All fines collected shall be deposited with the treasurer to the credit of the library fund;

Two. To administer any trust declared or created for the library, and to receive by gift, devise or bequest and hold in trust or otherwise, property situated in this state or elsewhere, and when not otherwise provided, dispose of the same for the benefit of the library;

Three. To prescribe the duties and powers of the librarian, secretary and other officers and employees of the board, to determine the number of and appoint all such officers and employees, and to fix their compensation;

Four. To purchase necessary books, journals, publications and other personal property;

Five. To request the secretary of state and other state officials to furnish the library with copies of any and all reports, laws and other publications of the state not otherwise disposed of by law;

Six. To borrow books from, lend books to, and exchange the same with, other libraries and to allow non-residents to borrow books upon such conditions as the board may prescribe.

Report.

SEC. 12. The board shall, on or before the last day of July in each year, make a report to the city council, giving the condition of the library on the thirtieth day of June preceding, together with a statement of its proceedings for the year then ended, and forward a copy thereof to the state library at Sacramento.

Library fund.

SEC. 13. Library Fund. The board shall determine annually the amount of money necessary for the maintenance of the library. They shall, on or before the second Monday in May, each year, submit to the council an itemized estimate of the amount so determined. If this amounts to seven cents, or less, on each one hundred dollars of assessed valuation, it shall be added to the amounts otherwise provided by them to be levied and collected for city purposes. Any amount in excess of seven cents per hundred dollars valuation shall be at the discretion of the council. When collected, the proceeds shall immediately be paid into a fund to be designated the "Library Fund," which fund is hereby created and shall be drawn upon only on order of the board of library trustees, as herein provided.

SEC. 14. All money acquired by gift, devise, bequest, or otherwise, for the purpose of the library, shall be credited to the library fund, and shall be applied to the purpose therein authorized. If such payment into the treasury should be inconsistent with the conditions or terms of any such gift, devise, or bequest, the board shall provide for the safety and preservation of the same, and the application thereof to the use of the library, in accordance with the terms and conditions of such gift, devise, or bequest. Gifts, etc.

SEC. 15. All claims against the library fund, which shall have been allowed by the library trustees and signed by the president and secretary thereof and by the auditor, shall be paid by the treasurer from said fund. Claims.

SEC. 16. The use of the library shall be subject to such regulations as may be made by the board, for violation of which any person may be fined, suspended or excluded from the privileges of the library. Regulations.

SEC. 17. When not inconsistent with the terms of its acquisition, and when not otherwise designated, the title of property acquired for the purpose of the library shall vest in the city of Alameda, and may be sued for and defended by action at law or otherwise, in the name of the city of Alameda. The library board shall have full charge, management and control of such property. Title vested in city.

ARTICLE VI.

SEC. 1. The city manager shall have supervision, direction and control of all playgrounds and recreation centers, and of all games, recreation, athletic sports and physical exercises that now are or shall be permitted to be conducted in any of the playgrounds or recreation centers of the city.

SEC. 2. He is empowered to employ all necessary supervisors and assistants, to discharge them, and to adopt rules and regulations for the conduct of the department.

SEC. 3. He shall keep a record of all proceedings relative to the playground activities, and shall make to the council, on or before the second Monday in May of each year, a report in writing thereof, and an itemized statement of expenditures during the preceding year, embodying recommendations for the development, control and use of playgrounds and recreation centers.

ARTICLE X.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC UTILITIES.

SEC. 1. There is hereby created a board of public utilities, which shall control the construction, operation, maintenance and funds of all utilities from which income is derivable, which now are or may hereafter be owned by the city. Board of public utilities.

SEC. 2. The city manager shall be one member. The other two members shall be either civil, mechanical or electrical engineers. They shall be appointed by the mayor and shall hold office for four years. Their terms of office shall alternate so that one shall go out every two years. The two first appointed shall decide their terms by lot so that one shall hold for two years and one for four years. They shall serve without compensation.

SEC. 3. The board shall organize by electing a president and appointing a secretary. Two shall constitute a quorum. They shall hold regular meetings once a month, and shall hold such other meetings as they may determine.

SEC. 4. The treasurer shall keep the fund of each utility separate. Any surplus to the limit of fifteen per cent of the book value of any utility may be invested by direction of the board in bonds of the City of Alameda, or in state, county or municipal bonds of this state, or may be transferred to the general fund of the city.

SEC. 5. The books of each utility shall be kept in such form as is required by state regulation governing public utilities, and a monthly report in detail shall be made to the council.

SEC. 6. Subject to other provisions of this charter the board of public utilities shall have power: Powers.

One. To fix rates for service;

Two. To buy and sell materials and supplies incidental to the operation of each utility;

Three. To employ, fix the compensation of and discharge employees;

Four. To do work for other departments of the city at cost.

SEC. 7. On or before the second Monday in May of each year the board shall prepare and submit to the council an estimate of income and expenditure of each utility for the coming fiscal year.

SEC. 8. All money collected shall be deposited with the treasurer as soon as practicable. Demands on any fund shall be signed by the president and secretary of the board.

SEC. 9. Purchases or contracts exceeding one thousand dollars in amount shall be advertised by the board and shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, unless all bids are rejected.

Generation of electrical energy

SEC. 10. The board shall control the generation, purchase, distribution and sale of electrical energy, and shall also control all allied activities, such as electrical inspection, fire alarm and police telegraph and telephone system, which are or may be operated by the city. It shall also control the sale and distribution of water, gas and the product of any commodity acquired by purchase of the service of any person or corporation supplying a public utility.

Purchase of water, gas or electrical energy.

SEC. 11. The board shall have power to enter into a contract for a term not to exceed five years, for the purchase of water, gas or electrical energy, or for the purchase of the service of any public utility. No such contract shall be valid unless ratified by ordinance. The distribution of the commodity so acquired shall be subject to the provisions of this article. Such contract shall not be subject to the provisions of Section 22, Article IV. Such ordinance shall not take effect until sixty days after its adoption.

ARTICLE XI.

ELECTIONS.

Chapter I—General Elections.

General
elections.

SEC. 1. General municipal elections shall be held on the second Tuesday in March in each odd numbered year. The first election under this charter shall be held on the second Tuesday in March, 1917.

SEC. 2. Elections shall be held and conducted as nearly as may be, in accordance with the provisions of the election laws of the state, except as herein otherwise provided.

Terms of elective
officers

SEC. 3. Terms of Elective Officers. Elective officers shall hold office for a period of four years from and after eight o'clock p. m. of the third Monday of April following the day of election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

SEC. 4. In the election of councilmen after the first general municipal election, where full terms and one or more unexpired terms are to be filled, the person or persons elected by the highest number of votes shall be elected for the full term, and the person or persons receiving the next highest vote shall be elected for the short term or terms, as the case may be.

Nominating
petitions.

SEC. 5. Nominating Petitions. The mode of nomination and election of officers to be voted for at any general municipal election shall be as follows:

Not later than thirty days and not earlier than sixty days before any general municipal election, electors of the city may, by written petition, present names of candidates for election. The signatures to said petition need not be appended to one paper, but each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving street and number when such designation can be given. One of the signers of each paper shall make oath that the statements therein are true, and that each signature is the genuine signature of the person whose name purports to be thereto subscribed. Nominating petitions.

Each candidate shall be proposed by not less than fifty qualified electors of the city. No more than one candidate may be named in any one petition, and no person may sign more than one petition for a candidate for any one office.

SEC. 6. Such petition shall be presented to the city clerk, and if accompanied by the written acceptance of the nominee, shall be filed by the clerk. He shall immediately examine the great register, and therefrom shall ascertain whether such petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. He shall, within five days, attach his certificate to said petition, showing the result of his examination.

SEC. 7. Withdrawal. Any candidate may withdraw by filing with the city clerk, before the publication hereinafter provided, a verified statement of his desire to withdraw; and on receipt thereof the city clerk shall strike his name from the list of candidates. Withdrawal.

SEC. 8. Election Proclamation. Immediately after the closing of nominations the city clerk shall enter the names of the candidates in a list, with the offices to be filled, and not later than twenty days before the day of election shall certify to such list, and shall, at least ten days before the election, cause to be published three times in the official paper, a proclamation calling the election. Said proclamation shall contain a statement of the time of the election, the offices to be filled, and the names of the candidates, and shall be signed by the mayor and attested by the city clerk. Election proclamation.

SEC. 9. Form of Ballot. All ballots shall be substantially in the following form: Form of ballot.

GENERAL (OR SPECIAL) MUNICIPAL ELECTION, CITY OF ALAMEDA.

(Insert date thereof.)

INSTRUCTION TO VOTERS. To vote, stamp a cross (X) opposite the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote. Vote your first choice in the first column, your second choice in the second column and your third choice in the third column. Vote only one choice for any one candidate, as only one choice will count. Any mark placed on this ballot for the purpose of identification will make the ballot void. If you wrongly mark, tear or deface this ballot, return it and obtain another.

SEC. 10. Arrangement of Ballots. The ballots shall be arranged with proper headings above each office or classification of offices, showing the number to be voted for, for each office or classification, and the names of the candidates, Arrangements arranged in alphabetical order, with three voting squares opposite each name, designated "first choice," "second choice" and "third choice," and with blank line or lines below the printed names of candidates for each office to be voted for equal to the number to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he may wish to vote, stamping a cross (X) opposite the name, as herein provided. If there are charter amendments or other questions to be voted upon, a column therefor shall be provided on the right hand side of the ballot.

Sample ballots.

SEC. 11. Sample Ballots. At least five days immediately preceding any municipal election the clerk shall mail to each registered voter a sample ballot, and nothing unofficial shall be mailed therewith.

Preferential voting.

SEC. 12. Preferential Voting. Voting for elective offices shall be by the preferential system, that is to say: for each office to be filled at any election the voter may designate one first, one second and one third choice, by stamping a cross (X) in the square provided.

Counting ballots.

SEC. 13. Counting Ballots. In counting ballots, the first, second and third choices for each candidate shall be separately tallied and accredited to the candidates receiving them.

Rejecting ballots.

SEC. 14. Rejecting Ballots. Should any elector express any of said choices for more candidates than there are offices to be filled in that particular classification, said choices shall not be counted; and should he express more than one of said choices for any one candidate, only the first shall be counted.

Canvass of returns.

SEC. 15. Canvass of Returns. The council, at its next regular meeting following the election, shall canvass the returns. The candidate receiving the highest number of first choice votes, if such votes constitute a majority of all ballots cast for candidates under that classification, shall be declared elected. If no candidate shall have received a majority of first choice votes, a canvass shall be made of the second choice votes, which shall be added to the first choice votes, and the candidate having received the largest number of votes so combined, if such constitute a majority, shall be declared elected. If after adding the first and second choice votes no candidate shall be found to have a majority, then the third choice votes of each candidate shall be added to his first and second choice votes, and the candidate having received the highest number of votes shall be declared elected.

Tie votes.

SEC. 16. Tie Votes. A tie between two or more candidates shall be decided in favor of the one having the highest number of first choice votes. If they are equal, the highest number of second choice votes shall determine. If there still be a tie, it shall be decided by lot, under the direction of the council.

Publicity of qualifications.

SEC. 17. Publicity of Qualifications. At least fifteen days before the day of election each candidate may deliver at his own cost to the city clerk a verified statement with printed copies thereof equal to the number of qualified electors. Each copy shall be printed on white paper four inches wide by nine inches long, and shall have the candidate's photo-engraving printed thereon, followed by his name, the office for which he is a candidate, and a statement as to his residence, place of birth, present occupation, and what public office he has held, and whether he is a taxpayer in the city of Alameda. He may give such other information regarding his experience and qualifications as might enable the electors to estimate his fitness to fill the office. Such statement shall also contain the names of not more than twenty residents of the city of Alameda to whom he refers. One copy of such statement shall be mailed to each qualified elector, with the sample ballot.

Chapter II—Recall.

SEC. 18. Every incumbent of an elective office who shall have held office for six months shall be subject to removal by recall.

SEC. 19. Affidavit for Recall. Before any petition for a recall is circulated for signatures, an affidavit in duplicate by the elector or electors proposing such recall, shall be filed with the city clerk, who shall at once deliver one of such affidavits to the officer sought to be recalled, or send one by registered mail addressed to him at his residence. Such affidavit shall contain a statement of not more than two hundred words, declaring the intention to circulate a recall petition, giving the reasons for the proposed recall, and the names and addresses of the elector or electors proposing such recall. The elector or electors making such affidavit shall pay in advance to the city clerk a fee of twenty-five dollars to cover costs of printing blanks and other incidental expenses. The officer whose recall is sought shall have five days after the filing and serving of such affidavit in which to file in duplicate with the city clerk his answer of not to exceed two hundred words.

SEC. 20. Printed Blanks. The city clerk shall within ten days after the filing of such answer, cause to be printed as may be necessary, blank petitions in the form hereafter provided, numbered consecutively. Such blanks shall be delivered to verification deputies upon payment of one cent each.

SEC. 21. Petition for Recall. A petition or petitions signed by qualified electors requesting the calling of a special election to determine whether or not the said incumbent of an elective office shall be removed from office by recall, shall be addressed to the council and presented to the city clerk. The form of the recall petition shall permit the elector to express his or her opinion either for or against the recall, and everything pertaining to the circulation, filing, signing, etc., of the same must conform to the requirements hereinafter provided.

Form of
petition.

SEC. 22. The form of petitions shall be as follows:

No. -----

Verification
deputies.

SEC. 23. Verification Deputies. Any qualified elector desiring to circulate recall petitions shall apply to the city clerk and may by him be sworn as a verification deputy. On delivery of printed blanks to the verification deputies the city clerk shall take receipts therefor, each receipt to specify the consecutive numbers of said blanks. Each verification deputy must make oath that he will not make untruthful or misleading statements concerning the proposed recall, or prevent or hinder any person from signing said petition, either for or against the recall; that he will not threaten, bribe or use any improper means, or permit the same to be done by others, in soliciting signatures either for or against the recall. On return of the signed petitions to the city clerk each verification deputy shall make affidavit to each section of the petition circulated by him.

Verification
deputies.

SEC. 24. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee of the city to sign or circulate or cause to be signed or circulated, any petition, either for or against a recall.

SEC. 25. Penalty. Any verification deputy who shall violate any of the provisions of this chapter or who shall fail to return to the city clerk within fifty days after the filing of the affidavit provided for in section 19 of this chapter, any of the petition blanks received by him, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 26. No petition for a recall shall be received by the city clerk later than fifty days after the filing of the affidavit provided for in section 19 of this chapter.

SEC. 27. City Clerk's Certificate. The city clerk shall endorse upon such petitions the date of filing in his office. He shall immediately commence an examination of said petitions to ascertain whether they are signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and whether they conform in every particular to the requirements of this chapter. At the hour of five o'clock in the afternoon of the tenth day after the expiration of the fifty day period provided for in section 25 of this chapter he shall attach to such petitions his certificate showing the result of his examination, which shall be conclusive. He shall endorse his finding on said petitions and shall present the same to the council at its next regular meeting.

City clerk's certificate.

SEC. 28. Withdrawal of Signatures. Any signer of a petition for recall may file with the city clerk a verified revocation of his signature. If said revocation is filed with the city clerk before the petition is certified to by him, he shall cancel such signature.

Withdrawal
signatures.

SEC. 29. Recall Election. If the officer whose recall is sought shall not have resigned within five days after the filing of the petition, and if the petition favoring the recall shall contain the signatures of qualified electors equal in number to ten per cent of the highest vote cast for a councilman at the last preceding general municipal election, in excess of the signatures of qualified electors opposed to the recall as certified by the city clerk, the council shall cause a special election to be held not less than forty days nor more than sixty days after the filing of said petition, to determine such recall. If a municipal election is to occur within sixty days after the filing of said petition, the council may postpone the holding of the recall election to such municipal election.

Recall
election.

Ballots. SEC. 30. Recall Ballots. Upon both the sample and official ballots there shall be printed the reasons for and against the recall, as set forth in the petition.

Form. SEC. 31. The ballots shall be provided with squares opposite "Yes" and "No," in which the voter may stamp a cross (X) indicating his vote. The ballots shall read:

"Shall ----- (naming the officer) be recalled? { Yes."
 "No."

Canvass of returns SEC. 32. The city clerk shall name three disinterested electors who shall act as a canvassing board to canvass the returns of said election, and who shall declare the result thereof. Before entering upon his duties, each member of the canvassing board shall take the constitutional oath of office.

Removal. SEC. 33. If a majority voting on the recall shall vote in favor of such recall, said officer shall thereupon be deemed removed from office, and his incumbency shall terminate upon the declaration of the result of said election by the canvassing board.

Successor appointed. SEC. 34. The mayor shall appoint a successor to the officer removed, who shall hold until the next general municipal election. If the officer recalled be the mayor, the remaining councilmen shall appoint his successor.

If majority of council recalled. SEC. 35. If a majority of the council be simultaneously recalled, a board consisting of the police judge, the auditor and the treasurer shall appoint their successors, who shall serve until the next general municipal election.

Recount SEC. 36. Recount. In case of a recount of votes taken at a recall election, the law of the state controlling general elections shall govern.

ARTICLE XII.

ALCOHOLIC LIQUORS.

Alcoholic liquors. SEC. 1. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to establish, open, keep, maintain or carry on within the City of Alameda any saloon, bar, store, dramshop, tippling place, stand or any place where spirituous, malt or fermented liquors or wines or any admixture thereof, are sold or given away, or for any person, firm or corporation (except as herein-after provided) to sell or barter or give away within the limits of the city any spirituous, malt or fermented liquors or wines or any admixture thereof, without having permission pursuant to an ordinance of the council or electors, as provided in this article. The provisions of this article shall not apply to the sale or dispensing of the said liquors, or any of them, by a regularly and duly licensed pharmacist, in the course of his business as a druggist, for medicinal purposes, at his drug store, when the same are sold or dispensed upon a prescription of a duly and regularly licensed physician. Violation of any of the provisions of this section shall constitute a misdemeanor.

License tax. SEC. 2. Subject to the provisions of this charter the council shall have power by ordinance to impose all license taxes for, to require bonds, to confine within the limits of time and place and to otherwise regulate the selling and giving away of any spirituous, malted or fermented liquors or wines or any admixture thereof;

Provided, that the council shall not have power to grant more than twenty of the licenses or permits specified in this article to be in force at any one time. The licenses granted shall be numbered consecutively from 1 to 20, and not more than one license bearing any one number from 1 to 20, inclusive, shall be valid at one time.

SEC. 3. No license provided for in this article shall be granted for a sum less than five hundred dollars per annum, payable quarterly in advance. Amount.

SEC. 4. No remission of any such license shall be made during the period for which it is granted, and the bonds required to be given by keepers or proprietors of saloons or drinking houses shall not in any case be fixed at less than one thousand dollars. Remission.

SEC. 5. No license issued under the provisions of this article shall be assignable or transferable without the consent of the council, endorsed thereon, such consent being evidenced by resolution, and only to such person, firm or corporation as may have filed a bond as heretofore provided, and complied in all other respects with such preliminary requirements as are provided by law. Transfer.

Provided, that in case any licensee is charged with violation of the provisions of this article or of any ordinance imposing restrictions on his conduct as such licensee, which charge or charges result in an investigation by the council or by any court or other body authorized by law to conduct such investigation, then during such investigation or during a trial upon such charge or charges, and also after conviction, if the same shall follow, no transfer of said license shall be granted.

SEC. 6. Upon sufficient cause being shown or proof furnished to the council that any person, firm or corporation holding a license under the provisions of this article has violated any of the provisions thereof, or of any ordinance of the city relative to the sale of liquors, the council shall, upon notice being given to the person, firm or corporation so licensed, revoke such permission, cancel the license and declare the bond forfeited. Any license shall be revoked ipso facto by judgment of conviction of the holder thereof of a felony or of the violation of any of the provisions of any ordinance by this article authorized. License cancelled

SEC. 7. No license shall be issued entitling the licensee to carry on the business licensed at more than one place. Each licensee shall at all times keep his license posted in a conspicuous place in his saloon or place of making sales thereunder, so that the license shall at all times be easy to read by any person entering said place. License posted.

SEC. 8. No license shall be required for the purpose of selling liquors at wholesale to any retail dealer in this city who holds a license under the provisions of this article. Selling at wholesale.

ARTICLE XIII.

FRANCHISES.

Franchises.

SEC. 1. Franchises to Use Streets. Every franchise, permit or privilege for the purposes hereinafter enumerated in this section shall, except as otherwise provided in the constitution of the State of California, be granted by ordinance upon the condition specified in this article, and not otherwise.

One. Every franchise, permit or privilege to construct or maintain or operate a street railroad, a suburban railroad, or an interurban railroad along, upon, over, in, under or across any street, lane, alley, court, highway, road, park or other public place in the City of Alameda.

Two. Every franchise, permit or privilege to lay or maintain or operate pipes or conduits along, upon, in, under or across any street, lane, alley, court, highway, road, park or other public place in the City of Alameda for the purpose of transmitting electrical energy, water, gas, steam, oil, air or other substances.

Three. Every franchise, permit or privilege to erect, maintain or operate poles or to string wires along, upon, over, under, in or across any street, lane, alley, court, highway, road, park or other public place in the City of Alameda, for the purpose of transmitting electrical energy.

New franchises.

SEC. 2. Granting New Franchises. New franchises may be granted by the council by ordinance, to the person, firm or corporation bidding therefor the highest percentage of the net annual revenue received from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, fixed as herein provided. Upon receipt of a written application from any person, accompanied by a cash deposit or certified check sufficient to pay the cost of such advertisement, the council may advertise for sale the franchise referred to in said application, said advertisement to be published for at least five days in the official newspaper, describing the nature of said proposed franchise and the conditions thereof, and giving the date when said franchise will be offered for sale in open council to the person, firm or corporation offering to pay the city the highest percentage of net receipts, fixed as herein provided, which percentage shall not be less than fifty-five per cent. Any responsible person, firm or corporation may appear at said sale and may raise the bid of any other bidder, not less than one per cent, until said franchise is finally sold by the council to the person, firm or corporation offering the highest percentage of the net receipts;

Provided, that the council may in its discretion reject any and all bids, and may withdraw said franchise from sale or advertise for new bids. Every bidder, before his bid shall be received, must file with the city clerk a certified check or make a cash deposit in an amount sufficient to pay the cost of the advertisement herein provided for. The deposit of the successful bidder, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be used to pay the cost of said advertisement, and all other deposits shall be returned upon the acceptance by the council of any bid, or upon the rejection of all bids.

SEC. 3. Granting Re-settlement Franchises. Re-settlement franchises may be granted by the council by ordinance, subject to the approval of a majority of the electors of the city voting thereon at a general or special election called and conducted as provided by law for other municipal elections, upon application therefor made within three years from the date of the taking effect of this charter, by any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a public utility in the City of Alameda at the time this charter becomes effective. Any re-settlement franchise shall provide for the surrender of any or all of the franchises owned or claimed by the grantee of such re-settlement franchise and for the acceptance in lieu thereof of the rights and privileges granted in the re-settlement franchise for the continued operation of such utility within the limits of the city, or such portions thereof as had theretofore been operated under the franchises so surrendered. It shall also provide that new franchises granted to the holder of any re-settlement franchise shall be considered as a part of the re-settlement franchise, and that the council may by ordinance grant to the holder of such re-settlement franchise the right to make extensions of appliances and service, which said extensions shall be subject to all the obligations and conditions of such re-settlement franchise. Every re-settlement franchise shall provide for the payment by the grantee thereof to the city of at least fifty-five per cent of the net annual revenue of said grantee, determined as in this charter provided.

SEC. 4. New and Re-settlement Franchises; Valuation. (1) The valuation of all property of the franchise grantee, used or useful, or in the judgment of the council prospectively useful, in the operation of the utility for which said franchise is granted, and owned by the grantee at the time of the granting of such franchise shall be fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, or its successor in interest, said valuation thus fixed to be set forth in the franchise ordinance. To this valuation shall be added the cost of all additions, extensions and betterments, and from this valuation shall be deducted the value of property sold or abandoned, and a depreciation fixed and determined as in the franchise provided. The valuation to which said additions have been made and from which said deductions have been made shall be the valuation upon which the six per cent interest herein provided for shall be computed, and the valuation at which said property can be acquired by the city, or by a third person, firm or corporation to which the right is assigned by the city.

Franchises for Indeterminate Period; Public Ownership. (2) Every franchise shall be granted for an indeterminate period, subject always to the right of the city at any time, and upon six months' notice in writing, to acquire and possess the property of the grantee, or to assign to a third person, firm or corporation its right to acquire and possess.

Bonded
indebtedness.

Assumption of Bonded Indebtedness. (3) Every franchise may provide that, when purchasing the property of the grantee, the city, if and when permitted by the constitution of the State of California, may assume the obligation of such grantee for the payment of the bonds then outstanding against said property, not exceeding in aggregate par value the valuation of the property thus purchased, and in such case the par value of such bonds shall be deducted from the valuation of said property, and the excess, if any, of such valuation over such par value shall be the purchase price to be paid to the grantee by the city. After such purchase the bonds so assumed shall no longer be a lien exclusively upon the franchise or property of the utility as such, but may be secured by the general credit of the city, or by a lien upon a fixed percentage of the gross earnings of such utility, or otherwise, as may be provided in such franchise.

Determination of net
revenue.

Determination of Net Revenue. (4) The annual net revenue upon which the city's percentage is computed shall be determined by deducting from the annual gross revenue all operating and maintenance costs, taxes, insurance and depreciation as provided in the franchise, and six per cent interest on the valuation of the property used and useful or determined in the franchise to be of prospective usefulness in the public service, such valuation being the valuation fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, and to which additions have been made and from which deductions have been made as herein provided.

Amendment.

Amendment of Franchise. (5) Any franchise may be amended by ordinance passed by the council, approved by vote of the electors as herein provided, and accepted by the franchise grantee; but if the amendment is of a re-settlement franchise, it shall not become effective until approved by the electors in the same manner as the original re-settlement franchise.

Board of control

Board of Control. (6) Any franchise may provide for a board of control to consist of two competent and experienced men, one to be selected by the council and one by the grantee of said franchise, with such powers and duties as may be provided in the franchise, all disagreements between the two to be decided by an arbiter appointed for that purpose in a manner to be determined in such franchise.

Additional
powers.

Additional Powers. (7) The council in granting any franchise shall have power to impose terms and conditions not inconsistent with this charter, in addition to the terms and conditions herein provided for, and shall have such other powers hereunder as may be proper and necessary in the preparation, enactment, and the carrying out of the terms of any franchise.

Application to Re-settlement Franchises. (8) The provisions of this section shall apply to re-settlement franchises as well as to new franchises.

ARTICLE XIV.*MISCELLANEOUS.

SEC. 1. All general laws of the state applicable to municipal corporations, now or hereafter enacted, and which are not in conflict with the provisions of this charter or with ordinances or resolutions hereafter enacted, shall be applicable to the city.

Miscellaneous provisions.

SEC. 2. Whenever in this charter the word "city" occurs, it means the City of Alameda; and every department, board or officer, whenever either is mentioned, means a department, board or officer, as the case may be, of the City of Alameda.

SEC. 3. The fiscal year shall begin with the first day of July and end with the last day of June of each year.

SEC. 4. The compensation of elected officers shall not be increased or diminished during the terms of their respective offices.

SEC. 5. If any officer of the city shall remove from the city or absent himself therefrom for more than thirty days consecutively, without the permission of the council, or shall fail to qualify by taking the oath of office and filing his official bond whenever such bond is required, within fifteen days from the time his certificate of election or appointment is mailed or delivered to him, or shall resign, or be convicted of a felony, or be adjudged insane, his office shall be vacant.

SEC. 6. The mayor shall have the power to fill vacancies except as this charter otherwise provides. Such appointee shall hold for the unexpired term and until the election or appointment and qualification of a successor.

SEC. 7. The improvement, widening and opening of streets, the planting of trees, and all matters not specified in this charter, shall be done, and assessments therefor levied, in conformity with and under the authority conferred by general law.

SEC. 8. The mayor, the auditor and the city manager shall together count the money in the treasury at least once in three months, and see if the amount on hand tallies with the amount that should be in said treasury as shown by the books of the city, and they shall make a written report thereof to the council within five days thereafter.

SEC. 9. All officers and boards shall deliver to their successors all papers, books, documents, records, archives and other properties pertaining to their respective offices or departments, in their possession or under their control.

SEC. 10. No member of the council, or of any board, and no officer or employee of the city shall be or become directly or indirectly interested in any contract, work or business, or in the sale of any article, the expense, price or consideration of which is payable from the city treasury, nor shall either or any of them receive any gratuity or advantage from any contract or person furnishing labor or material for the same; and any contract with the city in which any such officer or employee is or becomes interested may be declared void by the council.

Miscellaneous provisions.

SEC. 11. No officer or employee of the city shall give or promise to give to any person, any portion of his compensation, or any money or thing of value in consideration of having been, or of being nominated, appointed, voted for or elected to any office or employment.

SEC. 12. No officer or employee shall accept any donation or gratuity in money, or other thing of value, either directly or indirectly, from any subordinate or employee, or from any one under his charge, or from any candidate or applicant for any position as employee or subordinate in any department of the city.

SEC. 13. No officer or employee of the city shall aid or assist a bidder in securing a contract to furnish labor, material or supplies at a higher price or rate than that proposed by any other bidder, or shall favor one bidder over another, giving or withholding information, or shall wilfully mislead any bidder in regard to the character of the material or supplies called for, or shall knowingly accept materials or supplies of a quality inferior to that called for by the contract, or shall knowingly certify to a greater amount of labor performed than has actually been performed, or to the receipt of a greater amount of material or supplies than has actually been received.

SEC. 14. A violation of any provision of the four sections last preceding shall cause a forfeiture of the office or employment.

SEC. 15. Every officer who shall wilfully approve, allow or pay any demand on the treasury not authorized by law, shall be liable to the city individually and on his official bond for the amount of the demand so approved, allowed or paid, and shall forfeit such office and be forever disbarred and disqualified from holding any position in the service of the city.

SEC. 16. All books and records of every office and department shall be open to the inspection of any citizen during business hours, subject to the proper rules and regulations for the efficient conduct of the business of such department or office; but the records of the police department shall not be subject to such inspection except by permission of the proper police authorities.

SEC. 17. Copies or extracts, duly certified, from said books and records open for inspection, shall be given by the officer having the same in custody to any person demanding the same and paying or tendering ten cents per folio of one hundred words for such copies or extracts, and the additional sum of twenty-five cents for certifying.

SEC. 18. Unless otherwise provided for by law, all city officers shall keep their offices open for the transaction of business continuously from 9 o'clock a.m. to 5 o'clock p.m. each day except Sundays and holidays.

SEC. 19. Every officer or board authorized by law to allow, audit or certify demands upon the treasury, or to make official investigation, shall have power to issue subpoenas, administer oaths and affirmations and take testimony concerning any matter relative thereto.

Miscellaneous provisions.

SEC. 20. Unless otherwise provided by this charter, any officer or board authorized to appoint any deputy, clerk, assistant or employee, shall have the right to remove the person so appointed. This right shall not apply to the removal of appointees on the several boards which are vested with the management and conduct of branches or departments of the government of the city.

SEC. 21. All ordinances and resolutions in force at the time this charter takes effect, and not inconsistent therewith, shall continue in full force until amended or repealed.

SEC. 22. All officers and employees, when this charter takes effect, shall continue to hold and exercise their respective offices or employment, under the terms of this charter, until the election or appointment and qualification of their successors.

SEC. 23. The present council shall provide for the holding of the first election of officers under this charter and shall canvass the votes and declare the result thereof.

SEC. 24. All vested rights of the city shall continue and shall not in any manner be affected by the adoption of this charter, nor shall any right, liability, pending suit or prosecution, either in behalf of or against the city, be affected by the adoption of this charter, unless otherwise herein expressly provided. All contracts entered into by the city or for its benefit prior to the taking effect of this charter shall continue in full force and effect. All public work begun prior to the taking effect of this charter shall be continued and perfected hereunder. Public improvements for which legislative steps shall have been taken under laws in force at the time this charter takes effect, may be carried to completion in accordance with the provisions of such laws.

SEC. 25. No person who holds, or who is a candidate for any national, state or county office shall hold or be eligible to an appointment on the board of education, the library board or the board of public utilities. If any member of either one of said boards shall become a candidate for, or shall hold any national, state or county office, or shall accept any appointment to a national, state or county office, excepting that of a notary public or a member of the state militia, such act shall work a forfeiture of his office, and the vacancy thereby created shall be filled as provided by this charter.

SEC. 26. No councilman shall in any manner attempt to influence the city manager in the making of any appointment or in the purchase of supplies. A violation of this provision shall work a forfeiture of the office of the councilman.

SEC. 27. Any person, firm or corporation may attach the salary or wages of any city official or employee for money justly due.

SEC. 28. If any section or part of a section of this charter proves to be invalid, it shall not be held to invalidate or impair the validity of any other section or part of a section, unless it

Miscellaneous
provisions.

clearly appears that such other section or part of a section is dependent for its operation upon the section or part of a section so held invalid.

SEC. 29. For the purpose of holding and conducting the elections provided for by Section 1 of Article XI of this charter, this charter shall take effect from the time of the approval of the same by the legislature; and for all other purposes this charter shall take effect at 8 o'clock p.m. on the third Monday in April, 1917.

SEC. 30. When making purchases for all departments of the city, local merchants shall be given the preference, quality and price being equal.

SEC. 31. Neither the city manager, nor any person in the employ of the city shall take any active part in securing, or shall contribute money toward the nomination or election of any candidate for a municipal office.

CHAPTER 15.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, approving the charter of the county of Butte, State of California, which was submitted to the qualified electors of the said county, voted for, and ratified at a general election held therein on the seventh day of November, 1916.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The County of Butte was at all the times herein mentioned, and now is a political subdivision of the State of California; and

Butte county
charter.

WHEREAS, On the sixth day of March, 1916, there was presented to the Board of Supervisors of said County of Butte, a petition of qualified electors of said County, signed by fifteen per centum of the qualified electors thereof, computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding general election at which a Governor was elected, which petition prayed for the election of a Board of fifteen Freeholders to prepare and propose a charter for said County; and

WHEREAS, There was attached to said petition the certificate of the County Clerk of said Butte County, certifying that said petition contained the names of fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of said County, as provided for in Section seven and one-half of Article Eleven of the Constitution of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, Said Board of Supervisors did on said sixth day of March, 1916, order the holding of a special election for the

Butte county
charter.

purpose of electing such Board of Freeholders, which said special election it was further ordered should be held on May 2, 1916; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter, to-wit: on the second day of May, 1916, a special election was held in the County of Butte for the purpose of electing said Board of fifteen Freeholders; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter, to-wit: on the eighth day of May, 1916, the result of the said special election held on said second day of May, 1916, for the purpose of electing said Board of fifteen Freeholders, was declared by the Board of Supervisors of Butte County; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter, and within one hundred twenty days from the said eighth day of May, 1916, to-wit: on the first day of September, 1916, the said Board of fifteen Freeholders did complete the preparation of a charter for the County of Butte and sign the same in duplicate by a majority of the members of the said Board of Freeholders, and file one copy of the same in the office of the County Clerk of said County, and another copy of the same in the office of the County Recorder thereof; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter, and within fifteen days after the said first day of September, 1916, to-wit: commencing on the sixth day of September, 1916, and ending on the seventeenth day of September, 1916, the Board of Supervisors of Butte County did cause the said Charter to be published for at least ten times in "The Oroville Mercury," a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in said County; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter, and not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the completion of said publication, to-wit: on the seventh day of November, 1916, a general election was held in the State of California and in the County of Butte; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of Butte County did on the seventh day of October, 1916, make an order by the terms of which it was provided that the said Charter should be submitted to the qualified electors of the said County at the said general election to be held on the seventh day of November, 1916, and

WHEREAS, The said Charter was so submitted to the qualified electors of the County of Butte, at the general election held on the seventh day of November, 1916, and

WHEREAS, At said general election a majority of the qualified electors of the County of Butte voting thereat did vote in favor of and duly ratified the said Charter; and

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of the County of Butte, after canvassing the returns of the said election duly found and declared that a majority of said qualified electors voting at said general election had voted for and ratified the said Charter; and

WHEREAS, The same is now submitted to the Legislature of the State of California for its approval or rejection, as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with the provisions of Section seven and one-half of article eleven of the Constitution of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, The Charter so ratified is in words and figures as follows. to-wit:

PROPOSED BUTTE COUNTY CHARTER.

We, the people of the County of Butte, State of California, do ordain and establish for its government this charter:

ARTICLE I.

Section 1. The County of Butte as it now exists is a body politic, and as such has all the powers specified by the Constitution and laws of the State of California, and by this Charter. Powers.

Section 2. The powers mentioned in the preceding section can be exercised only by a Board of Supervisors, by agents and officers acting under their authority or by authority of the Constitution of the State of California, the laws of the State of California, or this Charter.

Section 3. The official name of said county shall be "County of Butte." It must be thus designated in all actions and proceedings touching its rights, property and duties. Name Section 4. The boundaries of said county shall remain the same as they now are, until otherwise changed in the manner provided by law. Boundaries.

ARTICLE II.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Section 1. The County of Butte is hereby divided into five supervisorial districts, the boundaries of which shall be and remain as they now are until otherwise changed, as provided in this Charter. Board of Supervisors.

Section 2. The County of Butte shall have a Board of Supervisors, consisting of five members, each of whom must be an elector of the supervisorial district which he represents, must reside therein during his incumbency, must have been a resident of the county for five years immediately preceding his election, and shall be elected by the electors of the district which he is to represent. The term of office of supervisors shall be four years, and until their successors are elected and qualify, except as hereinafter provided.

Section 3. At the general election to be held in November, 1918, supervisors shall be elected from the second and fifth supervisorial districts, whose terms of office shall begin at noon on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919, and shall end at noon on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1921.

Section 4. The Board of Supervisors must by ordinance during the year 1919, and between the first day of January and the first day of July thereof, re-district the County of Butte into five supervisorial districts as nearly equal in population as may be possible. The re-districting ordinance shall take effect on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1921, at noon; except that, for the purpose named in Section 5

Board of supervisors. of this article, it shall take effect on the first day of August, 1919.

Section 5. At the general election to be held in November, 1920, Supervisors shall be elected in each of the five supervisorial districts as established by the ordinance in Section 4 hereof provided for. The five Supervisors so elected shall take office at noon on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1921. Immediately upon their qualification they shall so classify themselves by lot that three of their number shall hold office for four years, and two of their number for two years, and the Supervisors elected at the election held in 1922 and every two years thereafter shall hold office for four years.

Changes in districts.

Section 6. After the year 1921, whenever it appears from the United States Census that the population in any supervisorial district exceeds or lacks more than twenty-five per cent, as compared with the population in another district or districts, then the Board of Supervisors must change the boundaries of such district or districts so that the population of each district shall be as nearly equal as possible. Any changes in the boundaries of any district must be made in accordance with general law.

Vacancies.

Section 7. Whenever a vacancy occurs in the Board of Supervisors, the Governor shall fill such vacancy by appointment, and the appointee shall hold office until the election and qualification of his successor. Such election shall take place at the next general election at which county officers are elected. The person elected shall hold office for the remainder of the unexpired term.

Chairman.

Section 8. The Board of Supervisors shall at its first meeting in January of each year, elect a Chairman who shall preside at all meetings. In case of his absence or inability to act, the members present must by an order entered of record select one of their number to act as chairman pro tempore. Any member of the board of supervisors may administer oaths when necessary in the performance of his official duties. A majority shall constitute a quorum, and no act of the Board shall be valid or binding unless three members concur therein.

ARTICLE III.

GENERAL POWERS OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Powers and duties.

Section 1. The Board of Supervisors shall have all the jurisdiction and power which is now or which may hereafter be granted by the Constitution and laws of the State of California, or by this Charter, except as limited in this Charter.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Board of Supervisors:

(a) Before any officer elected or appointed hereunder qualifies, to fix the amount of the bond to be required of such officer and the manner of the approval thereof. The bond of any officer holding an ex-officio office must be made to cover liability for the faithful performance of the duties of both offices and must be one bond.

(b) To fix the compensation of county and township officers which are now or may hereafter be provided for by the Constitution, the general law or this Charter, whose compensations are not fixed and provided for by this Charter.

Section 3. The Board of Supervisors may, by an unanimous vote, upon application of any county officer, when the necessity therefor appears to it, authorize the appointment of such assistant or assistants to said office as may be required to carry out the necessary work of said officer.

It shall fix the time of his employment and his compensation, which shall be paid out of the County Officers' Emergency Fund.

dred Dollars per annum and necessary office expenses, not to exceed $600 per annum;

(1) The Superintendent of Schools, Twenty-seven Hundred Dollars. The Superintendent of Schools shall be allowed one Supervising Deputy at a salary of Fifteen Hundred Dollars per annum, and one office deputy at a salary of Eight Hundred Forty Dollars per annum.

Section 7. The offices of such assistants, deputies and stenographers as are provided for herein are hereby created. Assistants, etc. The incumbents thereof shall be appointed and be subject to removal by and at the will of the county officer whom they are to assist. Their salaries shall be paid to them at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of the county officers are paid, except as in this Charter otherwise provided.

Section 8. All fees, fines and commissions of any kind or nature collected by any county or township officer, board, commission or employee shall be paid into the county treasury on the first Monday of each month. The payment shall be accompanied with a detailed statement of the same in writing, a duplicate copy of which shall be filed with the Auditor at the same time. Fees, etc.

Section 9. Whenever a vacancy occurs in an elective county or township office other than the Board of Supervisors, said Board shall fill such vacancy by appointment, the appointee to hold office until the election and qualification of his successor, which election shall take place at the next general election at which county officers are elected. Vacancies.

Section 10. Each County Officer shall be allowed, in addition to the salaries herein set forth, such expenses as are now payable to him under the provisions of the general law or this Charter, except as in this Charter otherwise provided, and provided, that all such expenses shall be limited to actual and necessary expenses and shall not include board and lodging. Expenses.

ARTICLE V.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS.

Section 1. There shall be one Justice of the Peace and one Constable for each judicial township, except that in townships having a population of seventy-five hundred or more there shall be two constables for each judicial township. Township officers.

Section 2. Justices of the peace and constables shall be elected at the time and in the manner and for the term now or hereafter provided by law. Election and term.

Section 3. The Board of Supervisors must provide by ordinance for one justice of the peace and one constable in each judicial township; provided that, until the Board shall so provide for such justices of the peace and constables, the number of each thereof in each township shall continue as now provided by law; provided further, that if the Legislature shall hereafter, instead of the system of courts of justices of Justice of the peace and constable in each township.

the peace now established by law, substitute some other system of inferior courts, then and in that event it shall not be compulsory upon the Board of Supervisors to provide any number for, and the Board may discontinue the existence of the office of justice of the peace and constable in the several townships, if such discontinuance be allowed by law, and the Board shall provide for such number of inferior justices or judges and constables as may be necessary for the needs of the county under such substituted system.

Salaries.

Section 4. Township officers shall receive such salaries as may be provided by the Board of Supervisors by ordinance, subject to the limitations provided in this Charter. Said ordinance shall be passed only by a four-fifths vote.

Full compensation.

Section 5. The salaries so fixed shall be in full compensation for all services of said justices of the peace and constables in criminal cases, provided that each constable shall be allowed and paid the actual and necessary expense of transporting prisoners after conviction to the county jail, which shall be paid out of the County General Fund; and provided further that no Justice of the Peace or Constable shall retain any fee, fine or other money collected by him for his own use.

Expenses.

Section 6. Each Township officer shall be allowed, in addition to his salary such expenses as are now payable to him under the provisions of the general law, or this Charter provided, however, that all such expenses shall be limited to actual and necessary expenses, and shall not include board and lodging.

Payment of salaries.

Section 7. The salaries of Township officers shall be paid at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of County officers.

Powers and duties.

Section 8. Each Township officer shall have the powers and perform the duties now or hereafter prescribed by general law, except as in this charter otherwise provided.

ARTICLE VI.

CONSTABULARY DEPARTMENT.

Constabulary department.

Section 1. There is hereby created a constabulary department, which shall consist of the Sheriff and of all constables in the county, who are hereby made ex-officio deputy sheriffs.

Sheriff executive head.

Section 2. The Sheriff shall be the executive head of said department, and shall so organize the same as to give the county efficient and effective police protection. Each constable shall be subject to the orders of the Sheriff in criminal matters, and in addition to the duties required of them by law, the constables must serve civil process within their respective townships, or elsewhere, when requested by the Sheriff so to do.

ARTICLE VII.

COUNTY SCHOOLS.

Section 1. There is hereby created a Board of County School Trustees, which shall consist of one member from each supervisory district of the county, to be elected at the same time, for the same term and in the same manner as the members of the Board of Supervisors, except as hereinafter provided, to serve without compensation, but the members thereof shall receive actual and necessary expenses while attending to the duties of their office, including board and lodging.

Board of county school trustees.

Section 2. Said Board shall meet in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools on the first Monday after the first day in December succeeding their election, and as often thereafter as may be necessary, on the written call of the Chairman of said Board or of a majority of the members thereof. The first election of County School Trustees shall be held at the general election in November, 1918, and the members of the Board elected at that time shall take office on the first Monday after the first day of December, 1918, to serve for two years and thereafter said Trustees shall be elected for the same term and be classified as to time of election in the same manner as the member of the Board of Supervisors from the Supervisory district in which they are elected. They shall elect one of their number chairman, and a majority of their number shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, provided no act of the board shall be binding unless three members concur therein. In the event that the Chairman shall not be present at any meeting, one of the members shall be chosen to act as chairman pro tempore, and an order to that effect shall be entered in the minutes.

Section 3. It shall be the duty of said Board of County School Trustees:

(a) To appoint a County Superintendent of Schools. This officer must be a certificated teacher, having a regular elementary or high school certificate of the State of California, who has had not less than five years experience as a teacher or educational administrator, or both; two years of which shall have been in the five years immediately preceding his appointment. He need not be an elector of Butte County, but must reside in the county during his term of office. The term of office of the Superintendent of Schools shall be two years for the first appointment, unless sooner removed or recalled, and if reappointed the Superintendent shall hold office for four years, unless sooner removed or recalled.

(b) To appoint a Supervising Deputy Superintendent of Schools, who shall hold office, for the same term as the Superintendent of Schools, unless sooner removed for cause or recalled. The Supervising Deputy must be a certificated teacher, having a regular elementary or high school certificate of the State of California, who must have had not less than three years experience as teacher or educational administrator, or both, one year of which shall have been in the three years immediately preceding his appointment. He need not be an elector thereof, but must reside in the county during his term of office.

(c) To appoint three teachers to serve as members of the County Board of Education, which three teachers, together with the County Superintendent of Schools and the Supervising Deputy, shall constitute the County Board of Education. The term of office of the teachers so appointed shall be three years from the date of their appointment, unless sooner removed for cause or recalled, provided that the three members first appointed shall immediately after their qualification classify themselves by lot so that one shall hold office for one year, one for two years, and one for three years.

(d) To remove any of its appointees for cause.

Board of education.

Section 4. It shall be the duty of the County Board of Education to meet in the office of the County Superintendent of Schools on the written call of said Superintendent or of a majority of the members of said Board of Education. The County Superintendent of Schools shall be executive officer and ex-officio Secretary of the said Board. The Board of Education shall have such powers and perform such duties as are now or may hereafter be prescribed for it or granted to it by general law; and in addition thereto it shall have the power to accept or reject any or all bids or any item thereof for furniture and school supplies received by the County Superintendent of Schools. The members of the Board of Education, other than the Superintendent of Schools and the Supervising Deputy, shall receive as compensation for their services Five Dollars per day, not exceeding the sum of One Hundred Fifty Dollars per year, and in addition thereto their actual and necessary traveling expenses while attending to the duties of their office. It shall be the duty of said Board to fix the date upon which requisitions for furniture or supplies shall be submitted to the County Superintendent of Schools by the Boards of Trustees of the several school districts.

Duties of superintendent of schools.

Section 5. In addition to the duties prescribed by general law, the County Superintendent of Schools shall:

(a) In person or by his Supervising Deputy make a visit to each teacher in every school in the county, at least twice each year, said visits to total not less than six hours, and make a visit to every school outside of incorporated cities at least every other school month; provided, that in cities having City Superintendents of Schools the provisions of the general law shall apply.

At least twice each year the superintendent shall report to the Clerk of each School District the condition of the school.

(b) To receive competitive bids for all school supplies and furniture needed in the county schools, and after said bids shall have been approved by the County Board of Education to supply to the school trustees of the several school districts such furniture and supplies as shall be necessary for the use of said school districts, as determined from requisition supplied to said Superintendent by the Boards of Trustees thereof. All requisitions for supplies so furnished must before being filled have endorsed thereon the approval of the Superintendent of Schools as to the necessity for such supplies and the quantity thereof.

(c) To print and distribute not to exceed five hundred copies of an annual progress report, the cost of which shall not exceed One Hundred Dollars per annum.

(d) To act as Secretary of the Board of Education.

Section 6. The Board of Trustees of the several school districts in the county shall, at such time as may be fixed by the Board of Education, make requisition upon the County Superintendent of Schools for such supplies as in the judgment of the members thereof shall be needed for the ensuing year, and no supplies for the use of any school district shall be furnished or paid for by the county, except upon requisition made, as in this Charter provided.

Requisitions for supplies.

Section 7. The general law shall apply to and govern the conduct of the schools of the County of Butte and of the officers provided for the superintendence thereof, except as otherwise provided in this Charter.

Application of general law.

ARTICLE VIII.

AUDITING AND ACCOUNTING.

Section 1. The Auditor shall on or before July 1, 1918, inaugurate and install in each county and township office an up-to-date and modern system of accounting, so that the books of all county officers shall be of an uniform system.

Uniform accounting system

Section 2. Each county and township officer or employee who collects fees, fines or any money due the county shall file with the Auditor, on or before the fifteenth day of each month, an itemized statement showing from what source the fees, fines or other moneys were received during the preceding month; and shall also include in this report an itemized statement of all expenses incurred by the said officer during the preceding month, including his salary and that of all his deputies; and the Auditor must not pay any officer his salary until he files said monthly report and pays all fees, fines and other money collected, into the County Treasury.

Statements filed with auditor.

Section 3. Each county officer shall file with the Auditor, on or before July 15th of each year an estimate of the amount that he will need to run his office for the fiscal year; and in no case shall he be permitted to expend more than is allowed his office in the budget, unless by an unanimous vote of the Board of Supervisors shall permit him to exceed the amount estimated therein and said excess shall be drawn only from the County Officers' Emergency Fund.

Section 4. The Auditor, annually after July fifteenth and before September first, shall make a report, compiled from the monthly reports of the county and township officers, showing in total the monthly receipts of each officer, and an itemized

Annual report of auditor.

Annual report of auditor.

statement of each officer's monthly expenses for the preceding fiscal year, together with all other expenses of the county government for the year.

In this report he shall also include the amount of estimated expenses as submitted by each officer, and the actual expenses incurred by each officer during the year; he must also show therein the expenses of each officer for the two preceding fiscal years; he must also include therein a tabulated statement, setting forth the sources and amount of all revenues received by the county.

Section 5. The Auditor must set forth in the annual report all indebtedness, existing and outstanding against the county on the thirtieth day of June of each year.

Report of
officers.

Section 6. All reports of county and township officers shall be made under an uniform system prescribed by the Auditor, and this report must be subscribed and sworn to before an officer authorized to administer oaths.

Section 7. The Auditor must set forth in his annual report, in addition to the matters hereinbefore set forth, the total assessed value of all property in the county, as shown by the last assessment roll, the tax rate as levied by the Board of Supervisors, the total amount of taxes proposed to be raised, the actual amount of taxes paid into the county, and the total amount of delinquent taxes remaining unpaid on the thirtieth day of April of each year.

Budget.

Section 8. When the Auditor has completed his annual budget he shall submit it to the Board of Supervisors for approval. In passing upon the estimate the Board of Supervisors may eliminate or reduce the amount of any item, but in no case may it increase the estimates made by the Auditor, though it may request that officer to reconsider his estimate on any particular item thereof. If the Auditor for good reason raises the estimate, then the Board may adopt the raised estimate.

Section 9. In making up the budget a County officer's emergency fund, not to exceed Ten Thousand Dollars, shall be included. This fund may be drawn upon in emergencies, but only after a resolution of approval by unanimous vote of the Board of Supervisors. The fund must be maintained solely for the use of county officers other than the Board of Supervisors.

Distribution of report.

Section 10. The Auditor shall have his annual report printed in pamphlet form, in a number to be designated by the Board of Supervisors; one copy of said report must be filed with the Board of Supervisors, one with the Grand Jury, one with the Judge of the Superior Court, and the balance for general distribution.

Inventory of property.

Section 11. The Auditor, acting in conjunction with the Board of Supervisors, must have prepared on the first day of July of each year, a complete inventory of all property owned by the County. All property, of every kind and description, purchased for the county during the year, must be listed by the Auditor and included in the said inventory. Each year this inventory shall be checked by the Auditor to see if all property shown in the inventory of the preceding year is on hand. If there is any property missing, the Auditor must report the same to the Board of Supervisors, and it shall be the duty of the Board of Supervisors to have an investigation immediately made by the District Attorney, to locate said property, or to see what disposition has been made of the same, and to take proper action in regard thereto.

Section 12. Beginning with the fiscal year 1919-1920, the State and County tax rate for the County of Butte shall be limited to Two Dollars per hundred of the assessed valuation of the property on the assessment roll of the county, provided that in case of an emergency the Board of Supervisors, by unanimous vote, may exceed this tax rate. The term emergency, as used in this section shall be limited to an act of God, such as flood, fire or earthquake or of the public enemy, which necessitates the replacement of county property destroyed. Limit on tax rate.

Section 13. No claims against the County shall be allowed by the Board of Supervisors or paid, unless they have been checked by the Auditor and until they have his approval indorsed thereon in writing. Claims.

ARTICLE IX.

BOARD OF APPRAISERS.

Section 1. There is hereby created a County Board of Appraisers. It shall consist of five members, to be elected one from each supervisorial district. Each member thereof shall be a qualified elector of the district in which he resides, shall be a freholder thereof, and shall be elected from said district. The first election for Appraisers shall take place at the general election in November, 1918, and the Appraisers then elected shall hold office for a term of four years, beginning at noon on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919. Board of appraisers.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Board of Appraisers to appraise the real property of the County of Butte, at its full cash value, once every four years, to make a full and complete written report thereof to the assessor, the Board of supervisors and the Judge of the Superior Court. In doing said work of appraisement the Board of Appraisers shall work in conjunction with the Assessor. Duties.

Section 3. The compensation of each of said Appraisers shall be Seven Dollars and fifty cents per day, not exceeding sixty days for each appraisement year, together with all actual and necessary traveling expenses. In addition thereto, the Board of Appraisers shall be allowed such supplies as shall be necessary for the performance of its work, and shall be provided with an office in the County Court House when needed. Compensation.

ARTICLE X.

ROAD DEPARTMENT.

Roads.

Section 1. The Board of Supervisors may provide for the formation of road districts for the care, maintenance, repair and supervision of roads, highways and bridges; and for the formation of highway construction divisions, for the construction of roads, highways and bridges; for the inclusion in any such district or division of the whole or any part of any incorporated city or town upon ordinance passed by such incorporated city or town authorizing the same, and upon the assent to such inclusion by a majority of the qualified electors of such incorporated city or town or portions thereof proposed to be so included at an election held for that purpose; for the organization, government, powers and jurisdiction of such district or division, for raising revenues therein for such purposes, by taxation, upon the assent of a majority of the qualified electors of such district or division, voting at an election held for that purpose; for the incurring of indebtedness therefor by the county, district or division for such purposes, respectively, by the issuance and sale by the county of bonds of the county, district or division, and the expenditure of the proceeds of the sale of such bonds, for levying and collecting taxes against property of the county, district or division, as the case may be, for the payment of the principal and interest of such indebtedness at maturity; provided, that any such indebtedness shall not be incurred without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of the county, district or division, as the case may be, voting at an election held for that purpose, nor unless before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness, provision be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and also for a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same; and the procedure for voting, issuing and selling such bonds, except in so far as the same shall be otherwise prescribed in this Charter, shall conform to general law for the authorization and incurring of bonded indebtedness so far as applicable; provided, further, that the construction, care, maintenance, repair and supervision of roads, highways and bridges, for which aid from the State is granted shall be subject to such regulations and conditions as may be imposed by the Legislature.

Road
engineer.

Section 2. The Board of Supervisors must, at its regular meeting in December, 1918, appoint a Road Engineer who shall take office at noon on the first Monday after the first day of January, 1919. The Road Engineer shall be a civil engineer and shall have had, prior to his appointment, at least three years practical experience in road construction. He need not be an elector of the county, but must reside therein during his term of office. He shall, under the general direction and supervision of the Board of Supervisors, have complete direction and control over all work of construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

Section 3. The County Road Engineer shall:

Duties

(a) Make all surveys, maps, plans, specifications and estimates necessary or required for the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of the county highways and bridges.

(b) Examine and inspect the work performed on such roads, highways and bridges and report to the Board of Supervisors as to whether or not the work has been done in accordance with the plans and specifications and contracts therefor.

(c) Approve and certify to the progress, estimates and allowance for work performed under all contracts for the construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges.

(d) Inspect or cause to be inspected, all county roads, highways and bridges within the county, and, under the general direction of the Board of Supervisors as ex-officio Road Commissioners, keep such roads, highways and bridges clear of obstructions and in good repair; employ all men, teams, watering carts and all help necessary therefor, when the same is not let by contract, and report to the Board of Supervisors with respect to such inspection and such work from time to time as required by said Board; certify to the correctness of all payrolls for work done by day labor or force account on county roads, highways and bridges.

(e) Have control and management under the general supervision of the Board of Supervisors of all county rock quarries, oil pits and depots, gravel pits and other materials, property, implements, instruments, tools, machinery and other appurtenances necessary for the construction, improvement, maintenance and repair of county roads, highways and bridges, and the plans therefor.

(f) Devote his entire time to the performance of his duties, to the exclusion of all other business occupations; provided, however, that he shall also hold and perform the duties of the office of county surveyor, but no salary or other compensation shall be paid him as county surveyor. He shall not be, either directly or indirectly, interested in any contract or works, nor shall he be so interested in the purchase of any supplies, tools or materials of any kind used in the carrying out of any of his duties under the provisions of this Charter.

(g) Prepare annually a proper budget showing in detail the needs of the county for construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges for the ensuing year, and submit the same to the County Auditor and Board of Supervisors at least sixty days prior to the date of the meeting at which the Board of Supervisors is required to fix the county tax rate.

(h) Make a written report to the Board of Supervisors at their regular meeting each month, in which he shall state the amount and character of work done during the preceding

Duties of

month, the progress of any contracts under way, approximate cost of the work, and matters of interest pertaining to the same. In this report he shall call the attention of the Board of Supervisors to any repairs or construction work he deems important to have made or done, and make recommendations therefor, and inform and advise the Board of Supervisors of all matters pertaining to the public roads, highways, streets, bridges or other public work, which in his judgment should be brought to their attention. This report shall contain the recommendation of acceptance or rejection of any public work completed, and all official announcements or statements which the Engineer is required to make to the Board.

(i) During the calendar year 1919, to classify impartially the public highways of the county as "Main County Roads," "Secondary County Roads," and "County-by-roads." He shall compute the total mileage contained in the respective classes. The Main County Roads shall be called "Class A" roads and shall be named. The Secondary County Roads shall be called "Class B" roads, and shall be numbered. The County by-roads shall be called "Class C" roads. Keep a road register properly indexed, in which shall be entered the names, numbers, class, length, and a brief description of each and every public road and bridge in the county. The road fund available for construction work, after a reasonable reservation has been made for emergencies, shall be apportioned to the three classes herein named, and the relative amount so apportioned shall depend upon the mileage, and the general public necessity, in each class; provided, that the apportionment per mile to Class A roads shall be greater than similar apportionments to the two other classes, and the apportionment per mile to Class B roads shall be greater than the apportionment per mile to Class C roads. The apportionment to Class C or County by-roads shall not exceed twenty per cent of the road revenue; provided, that Class C roads may have the use and benefit of the county road machinery, tools and implements, under such rules and restrictions as may be adopted by the Board of Supervisors.

The work of building, maintaining, repairing and keeping in repair all Class A and Class B highways must be let on contract by the Board of Supervisors to the lowest bidder, in the manner provided by law. The general plan of letting road contracts shall be that the county is to furnish machinery and the heavier road implements, while the contractor is to perform the labor and to furnish the lighter implements, tools, teams, wagons and materials. The road engineer shall provide in his specifications rules and restrictions regarding the use, care and repair of the county machinery, and of the county implements by contractors. The county may also furnish crushed stone, gravel and other road material to contractors, provided its intention so to do shall be plainly stated in the specifications.

(j) Prior to entering upon the duties of his office, the Road Engineer shall file with the County Clerk his oath of office and bond.

(k) Perform such other duties pertaining to the construction, improvement, maintenance or repair of county roads, highways and bridges as the Board of Supervisors shall prescribe.

Section 4. The board of Supervisors shall appoint and employ such district foremen and assistants to the Road Engineer as may be needed from time to time, and fix their compensation. Such appointments shall be made only upon the recommendation of the Road Engineer. The compensation of such district foremen shall be paid from the road funds of the district or districts in which said foremen are employed. The compensation of assistants to the Road Engineer shall be paid out of the Salary Fund.

Assistants to road engineer.

Section 5. The Road Engineer shall make requisition upon the Board of Supervisors for the purchase of all tools, implements, machinery, materials and supplies required to carry out the provisions of this Charter, and said requisition shall state plainly the estimated cost of the article or articles to be purchased. He shall approve all claims for the same before such claims are audited and passed by the Board of Supervisors. He shall be the custodian and be responsible for all equipment under his control. All such property shall be stored and protected from the weather when not in use. An inventory of all property in his custody shall be made annually, and kept on file in the office of the Road Engineer.

Requisitions for property.

Section 6. No claims against the county for work done on its roads, highways, streets, bridges, aqueducts or in connection with the same, or for materials, supplies, implements or machinery used for or in connection therewith, shall be passed by the Board of Supervisors or paid for by the Treasurer of the county unless they shall have endorsed thereon the written approval of the Road Engineer and the Auditor.

Claims for road work

Section 7. The Board of Supervisors shall provide for and assign to the Road Engineer and his assistants a suitable office or offices in the Court House or some place conveniently located with reference thereto, together with all office tools, implements and other equipment necessary for the performance of the duties herein prescribed.

Offices.

Section 8. The Road Engineer shall hold office for a period of four years from the date of his appointment, provided, however, that he may be removed at any time by the Board of Supervisors for inefficiency, neglect of duty, or misconduct in office, or other good cause shown.

Term.

ARTICLE XI.

CHARITIES.

Superintendent of charities.

Section 1. There is hereby created the office of Superintendent of Charities.

Section 2. It shall be the duty of the Superintendent of Charities to receive all petitions for county and state aid, to investigate and report on same to the Board of Supervisors, and no petition for county or state aid shall be granted by the Board of Supervisors until it has considered and acted upon the report of the Superintendent of Charities accompanying said petition.

Section 3. The superintendent of Charities shall receive, in addition to the salary hereinbefore provided for, his actual and necessary traveling expenses while performing the duties of his office.

ARTICLE XII.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Miscellaneous provisions.

Section 1. The holder of any elective or appointive county or township office, his deputies or assistants, shall be subject to removal from office by recall in the manner provided by general law, as applicable to counties and townships.

Section 2. The compensation of any elective or appointive county or township officer shall not be increased or decreased during the term for which he was elected, nor within six months preceding his election.

Section 3. Nothing in this Charter shall be construed to affect the tenure of office of any of the elective officers of the county or townships thereof in office at the time this Charter goes into effect, and such officers shall continue to hold their respective offices until the expiration of the term for which they were elected, unless sooner removed in the manner provided by law. But the successors of each and all of such officers shall be elected or appointed as in this Charter provided, and not otherwise.

Section 4. If any article, section or part of this Charter shall be for any reason judicially determined to be invalid, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining portions hereof.

Section 5. The Constitution and general law of the State of California shall apply to all matters not provided for in this Charter.

Section 6. Words used in this Charter in the masculine gender include the feminine.

Section 7. This Charter shall take effect and be in force from and after its approval by the Legislature of the State of California, except as herein otherwise provided.

city of Santa Rosa, all as required by the constitution of the State of California and the charter and ordinances of said city, and did by said ordinance and proclamation duly passed and adopted on said first day of February, 1916, order the holding of an election at the said general election to be had and held on said April 4, 1916, for the ratification of said amendments, which last date was not less than forty days nor more than sixty days after the completion of the publication of said proposed amendments in said daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published and circulated in said city, and did provide in said ordinance and proclamation for the submission of said proposed amendments to said charter to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification at said general municipal election of April 4, 1916, and said amendments were at said election duly submitted to the qualified electors of said city; and

WHEREAS, On the 6th day of April, 1916, following said election, the council of said city, as required by the charter of said city, did meet in regular session and did canvass the returns of said election and after canvassing the said returns did duly find and declare that said proposed amendments had been fully ratified and adopted by more than a majority of the electors of said city voting thereon, and that all the requirements of said section eight, article eleven of the constitution of the State of California have been in all respects observed and complied with; and

WHEREAS, Said amendments ratified by the qualified electors of said city of Santa Rosa at said general municipal election held in said city on the said 4th day of April, 1916, are now submitted to the legislature of the State of California for approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with the provisions of section eight, article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, and are in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

AMENDMENT NO. ONE.

A new section is hereby added to the Charter of the City of Santa Rosa, numbered 65 and which is in words and figures as follows:

Power of eminent domain.

Section 65. Eminent Domain. The City shall have power and authority to exercise the right of eminent domain for the purpose of acquiring real or personal property or any interest therein within or without the city for public use, and the provisions of the constitution and the general laws of the State of California relating to eminent domain are made applicable to all proceedings under this section.

The sections of said charter numbered 66 to 69, inclusive, are hereby repealed.

AMENDMENT NO. TWO.

Section 22 of the charter of said city is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 22. The Mayor shall be a conservator of the peace and shall have supervision over the affairs of the city. He shall take care that the laws of the State and the ordinances of the city are duly enforced. He shall preside at all meetings of the Council, at which he is present. He shall have a vote only in case of a tie and his vote shall be recorded the same as that of a Councilman. He shall have the power to veto any resolution or ordinance of the Council. He shall sign all warrants drawn upon the city treasury, and with the City Clerk execute for the city all contracts, conveyances and other instruments in writing to which the city is a party. He shall have the power to administer oaths and take affidavits, and certify the same under his hand. The Mayor, by and with the consent of the Council, shall appoint all officers of the city not elective. From and after the 4th day of April, 1916, the Mayor shall receive as compensation the sum of Seventy-five Dollars per month, payable monthly. The Council shall elect a Mayor pro tem., which election shall be entered upon the minutes by the City Clerk, whose duty it shall be to perform the duties of Mayor whenever the Mayor shall be absent from the City or shall be for any cause unable to perform the duties of Mayor.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
 County of Sonoma, } ss.
 City of Santa Rosa. }

This is to certify that we, Charles E. Lee, mayor of the City of Santa Rosa, and Herbert B. Snyder, city clerk of the city of Santa Rosa, have compared the foregoing proposed and ratified amendments to the charter of the city of Santa Rosa with the original ordinance and proclamation proposing such amendments and submitting the same to the qualified electors of said city of Santa Rosa, at a general municipal election called for that purpose, on Tuesday, April 4, 1916, and find that the foregoing is a full, true, correct and exact copy of said amendments, and we further certify that the facts set forth in the preamble preceding said amendments to said charter and the matters set forth herein, are and each of them is true.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and caused the corporate seal of the city of Santa Rosa to be attached, this 11th day of April, one thousand nine hundred sixteen.

Resolved by the senate of the State of California, the assembly thereof concurring (a majority of all the members elected to each house voting for the adoption of this resolution and concurring herein), that said amendments to the charter of the city of Santa Rosa, as proposed to and adopted and ratified by the electors of said city of Santa Rosa, and as hereinbefore fully set forth, be, and the same are, and each of them is, hereby approved as a whole, without amendment or alteration, for and as amendments to, and as part of the charter of the city of Santa Rosa.

CHAPTER 17.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 10, relative to amendments to the charter of the city of Berkeley, after due ratification by the qualified electors of said city at a city election properly held.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Berkeley
city charter
amendments.

WHEREAS, the City of Berkeley, State of California, contains a population of over forty thousand inhabitants, and has been ever since the First day of July, one thousand nine hundred and nine, and is now organized and acting under a freeholders' charter adopted under and by virtue of Section Eight of Article Eleven of the Constitution of the State of California, and which Charter was duly ratified by the qualified electors of said City at an election held for that purpose on the Thirtieth day of January, one thousand nine hundred and nine, and approved by the legislature of the State of California, on the Fourth day of March, one thousand nine hundred and nine (Statutes of 1909, page 1208); and

WHEREAS, the legislative authority of said City, namely, the Council thereof, duly proposed to the qualified electors of the City of Berkeley, four certain amendments to the Charter of said City by the submission of four proposals, entitled as follows, to wit:

"CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. I.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City of Berkeley, County of Alameda, State of California, to amend the Charter of said City by amending Sections 8, 14, 15, 16, 17, and 19 of Article V; Sections 21, 24, 25 and 26 of Article VI; Sections 30, 31, 33, 34 and 35 of Article VII; Sections 52 and 53 of Article X, and adding to Article XVI a new section to be numbered 115 and repealing Sections 27, 28 and 29 of Article VII and Section 45 of Article VIII thereof so as to introduce the Business Manager

Form of Government, said amendment relating to the officers of the City of Berkeley and their duties.

amendment

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. II.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City of Berkeley, County of Alameda, State of California, to amend the Charter of said city by amending Article XII of said Charter dealing with franchises, said proposal being to amend Subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 77 of said Article, relating to franchises, to add a new section to said Article dealing with Re-settlement Franchises to be numbered 77½, and to amend Sections 78, 82, 85 and 88 of said Article, relating to franchises.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. III.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City of Berkeley, County of Alameda, State of California, to amend the Charter of said City by amending Article IX of said Charter by adding to Section 49 a new subdivision to be numbered 56½ dealing with pensions.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. IV.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City of Berkeley, County of Alameda, State of California, to amend the Charter of said City by amending Sections 55 and 56 of Article X of said Charter dealing with the time of meeting of the Board of Equalization and the date of the annual tax levy," and

WHEREAS, said four proposals above mentioned containing said proposed amendments to said Charter were, in accordance with the provisions of Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, published for one day after their passage in the "Berkeley Daily Gazette," a daily newspaper of general circulation published in said City of Berkeley, and the official newspaper of said City; and whereas, copies of said proposals containing said proposed amendments were printed in convenient pamphlet form, and until the date fixed for the election hereinafter described and as required by law an advertisement was published in said "Berkeley Daily Gazette," that such copies could be had upon application therefor at the office of the city clerk; and whereas, such copies could be had upon application therefor at the office of the city clerk until the date fixed for the election hereinafter described, and

WHEREAS, the legislative body of said City by its Resolution No. 6009—N.S. adopted on the 26th day of September, 1916, did order the holding of a special municipal election in said City of Berkeley, on the 7th day of November, 1916, said day being at least forty days after the completion of publication of said proposed amendments for one day in said official paper of said city of Berkeley, to wit, the "Berkeley

city charter
amendments.

Daily Gazette," and not more than sixty days after the completion of said publication, and did provide in said resolution for the submission of the proposed charter amendments numbers I, II, III and IV, to the qualified electors of said City for their ratification at said election; and

WHEREAS said election was duly called and held on said 7th day of November, 1916, and at said election a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon voted in favor of the ratification of, and did ratify one of the proposed amendments to said charter, to wit, Charter Amendment No. II; and

WHEREAS the returns of said election were in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided, duly and regularly canvassed and certified to, and it was duly found and determined and declared by the proper officers thereunto duly and properly authorized that a majority of the qualified electors of said city voting thereon had voted for and ratified one of the said proposed amendments to said charter, to wit, Charter Amendment No. II; and

WHEREAS, said amendment to the charter so ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said City voting at said election, to wit, Charter Amendment No. II, is in words and figures following, to wit:

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. II.

Describing and setting forth a proposal to the qualified electors of the City of Berkeley, County of Alameda, State of California, to amend the Charter of said City by amending Article XII of said Charter dealing with franchises, said proposal being to amend Subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 77 of said Article, relating to franchises, to add a new section to said article dealing with Re-Settlement Franchises to be numbered 77½, and to amend Sections 78, 82, 85 and 88 of said Article, relating to franchises.

That Subdivisions 2 and 3 of Section 77 of Article XII of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

CONDITION OF GRANT.

Conditions
of franchise
grant.

Section 77. Subdivision 2. The advertisement must state the character of the franchise, permit or privilege it is proposed to grant, and, if it be a street or suburban or interurban railroad, the route to be traversed; that sealed bids therefor will be opened at a stated time and place, and that the franchise, permit or privilege will be awarded to the bidder offering to pay to the City during the life of the franchise, permit or privilege, the highest percentage of the net annual revenue received from the use, operation or possession of the franchise, permit or privilege, provided that such net annual revenue shall be determined by deducting from the gross annual revenue collected from any and all sources, under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege, all operating and maintenance costs, taxes, insurance, depreciation as fixed by the Board of Control and six (6) per cent interest on the valuation of the property of the grantee used and useful or determined in the franchise ordinance to be of prospective usefulness in the public service. Such valuation to be fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California or its successors in interest, and determined as provided in Section eighty-two (82) of this Charter; and provided further that the said percentage of the net annual revenue to be paid to the City shall not be less than fifty-five (55) per cent: and provided further that the Council shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

BIDDING FOR THE FRANCHISE.

Section 77. Subdivision 3. At the time of opening the sealed bids, any responsible person, firm or corporation may bid for such franchise, permit or privilege not less than one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of one (1) per cent of the net annual revenue for the entire term of the franchise, permit or privilege above the highest sealed bid therefor, and such bids so made may be raised not less than one-half ( $\frac{1}{2}$ ) of one (1) per cent of said net annual revenue for such entire term, by any other responsible bidder, and such bidding may continue until finally such franchise, permit or privilege shall be struck off, sold and awarded by the Council to the person, firm or corporation offering the highest percentage of the said net annual revenue arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise, permit or privilege subject to the provisions of Subdivision 2 of this Section; provided, that if in the judgment of the Council no adequate or responsible bid has been made, the Council may withdraw such franchise, permit or privilege from sale or advertise for new bids.

Bidding for franchise.

If the franchise, permit or privilege is for a street or suburban or interurban railroad, which shall extend beyond the limits of the City of Berkeley, then and in that case the percentage of the net annual revenue above specified shall be computed or reckoned as follows: The total length of the said railroad within and without the City, shall be compared with the length of said railroad within the City, for which a franchise, permit or privilege is bid, and such fraction of the net revenue for the whole of the said railroad, within and without the City, as the portion of such railroad within the City is of the said whole railroad shall be deemed and considered the net annual revenue upon which the above percentage to be paid into the City Treasury shall be reckoned. No street or suburban or interurban or commercial railroad shall, without permission from the City of Berkeley granted by ordinance so to do, use the tracks of any other street or suburban or interurban or commercial railroad within the City of Berkeley.

That a new section be added to Article XII of the Charter to be known as Section 77 $\frac{1}{2}$ , said Section to read as follows:

RE-SETTLEMENT FRANCHISES.

Re-settlement
franchises.

Section 77½. The Council is hereby empowered to provide for a general re-settlement of the franchise rights of and to grant a re-settlement franchise to any person, firm or corporation actually engaged in operating a public utility or utilities in the City of Berkeley at the time this amendment becomes effective, upon written application therefor and upon the following terms and conditions, and not otherwise:

ADVISORY BOARD.

Advisory
board.

(1) Whenever such written application, as above provided for, shall have been made, the Mayor thereupon shall appoint an Advisory Board to consist of seven (7) citizens, who shall co-operate with the Council in preparing such re-settlement franchise; and said written application for a re-settlement franchise shall thereupon be referred to said advisory board, which shall make within a reasonable time a written report thereon to the Council; and without such report said Council shall have no power to pass such re-settlement franchise. The said citizens shall serve without pay, but all reasonable expense incurred by them in the work of preparing said re-settlement franchise shall be paid by the City upon the presentation of a proper bill, in the same manner as any other proper claim against the City.

TIME PERIOD OF FRANCHISE.

Time period.

(2) Every such re-settlement franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period subject always to the right of the City to acquire and possess the property of the grantee or to assign its rights to purchase and possess to a third person, firm or corporation, as herein provided.

DIVISION OF ANNUAL NET REVENUE.

Division of annual net
revenue.

(3) Every such re-settlement franchise, permit or privilege shall confer upon the grantee thereof the right to occupy the streets and public places of the City particularly set out in the terms and conditions of said franchise, permit or privilege, subject always to the right of the City to acquire and possess the property of said grantee, or to assign its right to purchase and possess to a third person, firm or corporation, as provided in this Article; provided, however, that said grantee shall pay the City such a percentage of the net revenue annually collected from any and all sources under and by virtue of such franchise, permit or privilege, which percentage shall not be less than fifty-five (55) per cent of such annual net revenue, and provided further, that such annual net revenue shall be determined by deducting from the annual gross revenue all operating and maintenance costs, taxes, insurance, depreciation as fixed by the Board of Control and six (6) per cent interest on the valuation of the property used and useful or determined in the franchise ordinance to be of prospective usefulness in the public service. Such valuation to be fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, or its successors in interest, and determined as provided in Section Eighty-two (82) of this Charter.

PASSAGE AND APPROVAL OF FRANCHISE.

(4) Every such re-settlement franchise shall be introduced in the Council in the form of an ordinance, at least ten days prior to being passed to print, and shall remain before the Council at least twenty (20) days after printing before final passage. After the final passage of said ordinance the same shall be referred and submitted to the vote of the electors of the City at the general or special election next ensuing not less than twenty (20) days after the final passage of such ordinance. But if no general or special election is to be held in the City within a period of not less than twenty (20) days and not more than ninety (90) days after such final passage, the Council shall call a Special Election for the purpose of submitting said ordinance to the electors as aforesaid, said Special Election to be held not less than thirty (30) days and not more than sixty (60) days after such final passage.

Passing and approval.

No such re-settlement franchise ordinance shall go into effect until it shall have been so submitted to the electors of the City and received the approval of a majority of the electors voting thereon. Section 6; Subdivision 5 of Section 92; Subdivisions 13, 14, 15, 20 and 26 of Section 5 of this Charter, so far as applicable, shall govern elections held under the provisions of this section.

PUBLIC HEARINGS BY COUNCIL.

(5) The Council shall hold public hearings on every proposed re-settlement franchise prior to its final passage, and not later than seven days after such final passage shall cause such re-settlement franchise to be printed in convenient pamphlet form for public distribution and shall publish daily thereafter up to the date of such election in the official newspaper of the City a notice to the effect that any person may procure a copy of such re-settlement franchise upon application therefor made in person or by mail to the City Clerk provided that all costs of printing, publishing and advertising said franchise shall be borne by the grantee of said franchise.

Public hearing.

ADDITIONAL POWERS.

(6) In the passage of a re-settlement franchise, the Council shall have power to impose terms and conditions not inconsistent with this Charter, in addition to the terms and conditions provided for herein, and shall have such other powers hereunder as may be found necessary to the proper preparation, enactment, and the carrying out of the terms of a re-settlement franchise that shall provide, first, service of the highest efficiency to the public, second, sufficient new money to make extensions in the service of the public utility necessary in the proper development of the City, and third, the right of the City to convey to a third person, firm or corporation the City's privileges of purchasing the property of the grantee upon like terms and conditions as the City may so purchase.

Additional powers.

AMENDMENTS TO RE-SETTLEMENT FRANCHISES.

Amendments. (7) Any re-settlement franchise may be amended from time to time by ordinance passed by the Council and ratified by the electors of the City in the manner herein prescribed for the passage of such re-settlement franchise in the first instance and not otherwise, provided that any such amendment shall not be effective unless accepted in writing by the grantee of such re-settlement franchise, and provided further that the Council in the preparation of such amendment may in its discretion act without the appointment of an advisory board, and that no such amendment shall in any respect contravene the provisions of this Section of this Charter.

JOINT CONTROL.

Board of control. (8) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide for a Board of Control to consist of two competent and experienced men, one to be selected by the Council and one by the grantee of said franchise, all disagreements between the two to be decided by an arbiter appointed for that purpose in a manner to be determined in such franchise.

SERVICE.

Service. (9) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide for service of the highest efficiency, which shall be maintained during the life of the franchise.

NEW FRANCHISES AND EXTENSIONS.

New franchises and extensions. (10) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide that any new franchise granted to the holder of such re-settlement franchise shall be considered as a part of such re-settlement franchise, and shall also provide that the Council may by ordinance grant to the grantee of such re-settlement franchise the right to extend the appliances and service of such grantee. All such extensions shall become a part of the aggregate property of such grantee, and shall be subject to all the obligations and rights in favor of the City applicable to the property of the grantee by virtue of such re-settlement franchise. The right to use and maintain any such extension shall expire with the original grant of such grantee by which the extensions are made.

CONSOLIDATED OR ANNEXED TERRITORY.

Consolidated or annexed territory. (11) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide that in case of consolidation with or annexation to the City of any territory not now included in said City, any franchise to operate such utility or any part thereof, held or claimed by the holder of such re-settlement franchise in or for any portion of such consolidated or annexed territory shall thereupon be surrendered to the City and that the rights and obligations of such re-settlement franchise shall thereupon automatically extend to such additional territory, and that a valuation of the properties used and useful, or in the discretion of the City prospectively useful in the operation of such utility in the area so consolidated or annexed and not included in the capital valuation already fixed in such re-settlement franchise shall be added to the capital account of said re-settlement franchise grantee at a valuation fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, or its successors in interest, and otherwise determined as provided in Section Eighty-two (82) of this Charter.

PROVISION FOR THE SURRENDER OF EXISTING FRANCHISES.

(12) Every re-settlement franchise shall provide for the surrender by the grantee thereof of any or all of the franchises or rights owned or claimed by such grantee for the occupation of the streets or public places of said City at the time of such re-settlement, and the acceptance in lieu thereof of the rights and privileges granted by such re-settlement franchise as a franchise for the continued operation of such utility within the limits of the City or such portion thereof as had heretofore been operated under the franchise or franchises so surrendered, but not in contravention of any conditions of this Charter.

Surrender of existing franchises.

. ASSUMPTION OF BONDED INDEBTEDNESS.

(13) Every re-settlement franchise may provide that, when purchasing the property of the grantee, the City, if and when permitted by the provisions of the Constitution of the State of California, may assume the obligations of such grantee for the payment of the bonds then outstanding against said property, not exceeding in aggregate par value the valuation of the property thus purchased, determined as in Section Eighty-two (82) of this Charter provided, and in such case the par value of such bonds shall be deducted from the said valuation of the property and the excess, if any, of the valuation of the property over the par value of the bonds so assumed shall be the purchase price to be paid to the grantee by the City for said property. After such purchase, the bonds so assumed shall no longer be a lien exclusively upon the franchise or property of the utility as such, but may be secured by the general credit of the City or by a lien upon a fixed percentage or amount of the gross earnings of such utility or otherwise, as may be provided in such re-settlement franchise.

Bonded
indebtedness.

That Section Seventy-eight (78) of Article XII be amended to read as follows:

LIFE OF FRANCHISE.

Life of franchise.

Section 78. Every franchise, permit or privilege shall be granted for an indeterminate period, subject always to the right of the City to acquire and possess the property of the grantee and to assign its right to acquire and possess to a third person, firm or corporation as in Section Eighty-two (82) hereof provided.

That Section Eighty-two (82) of Article XII be amended to read as follows:

RIGHT OF CITY TO ASSUME OWNERSHIP.

Right of city to assume ownership.

Section 82. Every new franchise, permit or privilege and every re-settlement franchise, shall be granted upon the express condition that the City may, at a valuation fixed and determined, as hereinafter provided, either assume ownership by purchase and take over to itself the property used and useful or in the discretion of the City prospectively useful of the franchise grantee, his or its successors or assigns, or assign its right to acquire and possess said property to a third person, firm or corporation upon giving said grantee six months' written notice of its intention to so purchase and take over said property, which written notice shall be given only when authorized by ordinance. The valuation of such property, used and useful, or in the discretion of the City prospectively useful and owned by the grantee at the time application is made for said new franchise, permit or privilege, or for said re-settlement franchise, shall be fixed by the Railroad Commission of the State of California, or its successor in interest, and shall be set forth in said new franchise, permit or privilege, or in said re-settlement franchise, as the case may be. To this value shall be added the cost of all additions, extensions and betterments made with the approval of the Board of Control; and from this value shall be deducted the value of property sold or abandoned and the depreciation to be determined and fixed by the Board of Control in accordance with the provisions of the franchise and annually charged to the capital value of said property; and the valuation to which said additions have been made and from which such deductions have been made shall be the valuation upon which the six per cent interest referred to in subdivision three (3) of section seventy-seven and one-half (77½), and in subdivision two (2) of section seventy-seven (77) shall be computed, and shall be the valuation at which said property may be acquired by the City, or by the third person, firm or corporation to which such right is assigned by the City.

That Section Eighty-five (85) of Article XII of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

STREET SPRINKLING AND PAVING.

Street sprinkling and paving.

Section 85. Every grant of any franchise, permit or privilege, in, over, under or along any streets, highways, or public places in the City for railroad, street railway, suburban or interurban railway purposes, shall be subject to the conditions that the persons, firm or corporation exercising or enjoying the same shall sprinkle, plank or re-plank, pave or repave, macadamize or re-macadamize the entire length of the street, highway, or other public place used by the track or tracks of such railroad or railway, and between the rails, and for two feet on each side thereof, and between the tracks, if there be more than one, and keep the same constantly in repair, flush with the street, and with good crossings; and such street work shall be done with the kind of materials and in such manner as the Council may by ordinance direct, at the same time and as a part of the same operation as the work on the remainder in width of said street, highway or other public place, to the satisfaction of the superintendent of streets; provided, however, that when in the opinion of the Council the space between the rails and tracks of the grantee and two feet on each side thereof or any portion of the same is not required for purposes other than railway traffic, the same need not be paved in like manner as the remainder of the street or public place, but shall be treated as the Council may direct.

Street
sprinkling and paving.

That Section Eighty-eight (88) of Article XII of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

PAYMENT OF NET RECEIPTS.

Section 88. The stipulated percentage of net receipts provided in this Charter to be paid for the use and enjoyment of any franchise, permit or privilege shall be paid annually at the time of filing the annual report provided for in Section Eighty-seven (87) of this Charter to be filed by persons, firms or corporations holding franchises, permits or privileges. Failure to pay such percentage shall work a forfeiture of the franchise, permit or privilege.

Payment of
net receipts

APPROPRIATIONS.

THE ESTIMATE.

SEC. 78. The fiscal year of the city shall begin on the first day of July. On or before the first day of May of each year, the Manager shall submit to the Council an estimate of the revenues and expenditures of the City departments for the ensuing year. This estimate shall be compiled from detailed information obtained from the several departments on blanks to be furnished by the City Manager. The classification of Appropriations.

Appropriations.

the estimate of expenditures shall be as nearly uniform as possible for all departments, and shall give in parallel the following information:

A detailed estimate of the expenses of each department;

Expenditures for corresponding items for the last and for the current fiscal years, including adjustments due to transfers between appropriations plus an estimate of expenditures necessary to complete the current fiscal year;

Such information as may be required by the Council or as the Manager may deem advisable to submit;

The recommendation of the Manager as to the amounts to be appropriated with reasons therefor in such detail as the Council may direct.

Sufficient copies of such estimate shall be prepared and submitted, that there may be copies on file in the office of the Clerk for inspection by the public.

APPROPRIATION ORDINANCE.

SEC. 79. Upon receipt of such estimate, the Council shall prepare and publish a tentative appropriation ordinance, shall fix a time and place for holding a public hearing upon the same, not less than ten days after such publication, and shall give public notice of such hearing, but shall not pass the final appropriation ordinance earlier than ten days after such public hearing.

TRANSFER OF FUNDS.

SEC. 80. At the time of fixing the tax levy, the Council shall, by ordinance, establish a general fund and the various funds as provided for by the budget, and no transfer of any money shall be made from any other than the general fund to another until the end of the fiscal year, at which time, after all demands have been paid out of the various funds, the Auditor shall transfer any remaining balance to the general fund; and the Council may then authorize a transfer from the general fund to any other in which there is an overdraft created by an actual emergency in the department, but under no other conditions may such transfer be made.

TAX RATE.

Tax rate.

SEC. 81. The total tax rate for any one year shall not exceed one per cent of the assessed valuation, unless a special tax be authorized by a two-thirds majority of all votes cast at an election held after at least thirty days' notice in the published call for the election; and the proceeds of any such special tax shall be used for no other purpose than that specified in said call; provided, however, that in addition to said one per cent there shall be included in every annual levy, a sufficient amount to cover all liabilities of the City for principal and interest of all bonds or judgments due and unpaid, or to become due during the ensuing fiscal year and not otherwise provided for; and provided also, that in addition to the above items, the Council may include a levy, not to exceed five hundredths of one per cent in any one year, for the purpose of creating and maintaining a Revolving Fund, which shall be used to cover principal and interest of deferred or defaulted payments or assessments—all such assessments, when collected and all interest thereon, to be repaid to said fund.

ASSESSMENT OF TAXES.

APPRAISEMENT.

SEC. 82. In preparation for the first assessment of taxes Assessment of taxes. after this Charter takes effect, and at intervals of five years thereafter, the Council shall, at or before its first meeting in February, provide for a scientific appraisal by a recognized expert, of all real property in the City, provided, that if such appraisal shall have been made before this Charter takes effect, a new appraisal shall be required only at intervals of five years after such previous appraisal. This appraisal shall be made as if at 12 m. on the first Monday in March, and shall be used by the Assessor as the basis for the assessment for that year, and he shall revise his valuation in each intervening year.

Whenever such expert appraisal is to be made, the council may, with the consent of the Board of Supervisors, provide by resolution for a joint appraisal for the use of the City and County; in which case the resolution shall authorize the payment by the City of not more than one-half of the total expense of such joint appraisal.

COLLECTION OF UNSECURED PERSONAL PROPERTY TAXES.

SEC. 83. All taxes due from persons not assessed upon real property, shall be collected by the Assessor at the time of making the assessment, and he shall report such collections to the Auditor and deposit the proceeds with the Treasurer daily; such taxes shall be reckoned according to the tax rate of the preceding year, and shall be subject to correction after the rate for the current year has been fixed by the Council, when the Auditor shall add and the Collector shall collect, or the Auditor shall deduct and authorize the Treasurer to refund, according as the current rate may be higher or lower than that of the preceding year, such amount as may be necessary to make the assessment in each case agree with the current rate.

PUBLICATION OF TAX ROLL.

SEC. 84. The Assessor shall enter all his valuations of real and personal property upon an annual tax roll, which shall be published at least fifteen days before the meeting of the Board of Equalization, for distribution to all who may apply, and notice that such publication will be made shall be given in the manner provided for other advertising, at least one week in advance.

EQUALIZATION.

Equalization.

SEC. 85. On the first Monday in July in each year, and daily thereafter until and including the following Saturday, or for such further time as they may find necessary, the Council shall meet as a Board of Equalization, for the hearing and adjudication of all complaints regarding the description, valuation of ownership of assessed property, or the omission of property which should be assessed, and notice of the time and place of such meetings shall be included with notice of publication of the tax roll, and upon such roll when published. At such meetings the Council shall publicly order, and the Assessor shall enter upon the tax roll, all such corrections as may be adjudged equitable and in case of any additional assessment, the Assessor shall immediately send written notice of the same to the person assessed.

THE TAX RATE FIXED.

Tax rate
fixed.

SEC. 86. After approval by the Board of Equalization, the tax roll shall be certified by the Clerk, and shall be subject to no further alteration. It shall then be delivered to the Auditor, who shall, within ten days, ascertain and certify to the Council the total valuation of real estate, improvements and personal property, and the Council, in view of this and the estimates of income and expenses submitted by the Manager, shall, at its first regular meeting in August, proceed to fix the rate of taxation for the coming year, and to apportion the estimated proceeds thereof to the several purposes indicated in the budget.

EXTENSIONS.

SEC. 87. The Auditor shall at once proceed to extend upon the tax roll, the tax due upon each item, according to the rate fixed by the Council. Said tax shall be divided into two installments which shall be determined by dividing the total of each individual's tax upon real estate and improvements into two parts as nearly equal as may be, and adding to the first part his total on personalty. The first installment shall be due on the first day of October of the current year, and shall become delinquent and subject to a penalty of fifteen per cent if not paid on or before the last Monday of November following; and the second installment shall be due on the first Monday in March, and shall become delinquent and subject to a penalty of five per cent, if not paid on or before the last Monday in April following, and a lien in favor of the City in the amount due, together with penalties attached, shall lie automatically against the real property assessed to the delinquent owner, until all taxes due from him are paid.

COLLECTION.

Collection.

SEC. 88. After completion of the tax roll, the Auditor shall deliver the roll to the Collector, who shall prepare a bill of taxes due from each tax payer owning real property, on which shall be shown the valuation of each parcel of such owner's property, whether real estate, improvements, or personalty, the rate of assessment, the total amount due on each parcel, the amount of each installment, with the dates when due and when delinquent, and the penalties for delinquency; and not later than the first day of October he shall mail to each tax payer, or to his authorized agent, whose address is known to him, a duplicate of said bill, and shall receive and receipt for all taxes and penalties paid until the second installment becomes delinquent, and shall then return the tax roll to the Auditor. The Tax Collector shall note upon the tax roll all collections as made, shall make a daily report to the Auditor of the amount collected, and make daily deposit of the same with the Treasurer. The Collector may accept separate payment of the tax due upon any one or more parcels of real estate with improvements upon each, or upon the personal property of any owner, and give a receipt for the same, but he shall not divide the assessment upon any single parcel, nor separate from any parcel of real estate the improvements attaching thereto, and no such partial payment shall avoid a lien in favor of the City upon all of the property assessed to any owner, in case of delinquency, unless the real property remaining unreleased in the name of said owner shall be at least equal in assessed value to all taxes remaining due and unpaid from said owner.

Collection.

STATE LAWS TO GOVERN.

SEC. 89. Except as specified herein the collection of taxes and the enforcement of the same by sale of property shall be in accordance with the laws of the State of California governing similar procedure in the case of county taxes, substituting therein the word "city" for "county" and the titles of corresponding city officers for those of the county.

State laws to govern.

PUBLIC IMPROVEMENT.

METHODS OF PROCEDURE.

SEC. 90. Proceedings for all public improvements which are to be paid for by assessment upon private property shall be according to the general laws of the State; provided that the Council may adopt in lieu of the provisions of the general law applicable to such proceedings, any or all of the provisions hereinafter set forth, to-wit:

Public improvement.

(a) Sufficient notice of any intended improvement shall be deemed to be given by publication, service and posting in the manner required by law, of a description in general terms of the work proposed, with notice that complete plans and specifications are on file at the office of the City Engineer and open to public inspection.

(b) The Council may announce that the Manager is authorized to enter into direct contract with the accepted bidder and to pledge the credit of the City for the payment of the amount improvement.

agreed upon under the terms of the contract, in which event the contractor shall be entitled to such rights and remedies as in other cases of direct contract between himself and the City, and the City shall acquire the same rights in the collection of assessments, attachment of liens and sale of property as would otherwise attach to the contractor under the general laws, and the collection of such assessments shall be made by the Tax Collector in the manner provided for the collection of taxes; and in case of default by owners of property or the issue of bonds for deferred payments, the amount of such defaulted or deferred payments shall be certified to the Auditor, who shall thereupon draw a warrant for said amount, and charge the same to the Revolving Fund provided for in Section 81, or if that fund be insufficient, the deficit shall be paid from any available fund in the treasury—all such amounts to be returned to the respective funds from which they have been drawn, immediately upon the collection of such assessments.

(c) If the estimated cost of any such improvement is not more than $500.00, the Council may authorize the Manager to have the work done with or without advertising for bids, reserving the right to reject any or all bids, and authorize the Manager to have the work done under his own direction; and the expense of such public improvement shall be charged to the lots, lands and property benefited and assessed thereto in any manner prescribed by law; and the collection of such assessments shall be made by the Tax Collector in the mode provided for the collection of taxes.

(d) The City may enter into contract with the owner or licensee of any patent, process or appliance for the use thereof.

ADVISORY COMMISSION FOR ASSESSMENT.

Advisory commission for assessment.

SEC. 91. When a district is to be established for assessment to pay for any public improvement, the Manager, Engineer, Auditor and Assessor shall be a commission to recommend to the Council the boundaries of such district and the distribution of assessments therein, and the Council shall have authority, after giving opportunity for protest, to distribute said assessments as in their judgment may be according to the benefits to properties assessed.

PUBLIC WORK NOT PAID FOR BY ASSESSMENT.

PROCEDURE.

Public work
by contract.

SEC. 92. In all public work where the estimated cost of the work is in excess of five hundred dollars, the Manager shall advertise for sealed bids in such manner as the Council shall direct and the contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, provided that the Council shall have authority to reject any or all bids; and if all bids are rejected, the Council may advertise for new bids or order the Manager to have the work done in the best and most economical way.

SPECIAL TAXES AND BONDS.

SUBMISSION TO VOTERS.

SEC. 93. Whenever the Council shall determine that the public interest demands an expenditure for municipal purposes which can not be provided for out of the ordinary revenues of the City, it may submit to the qualified voters at a regular or special election, a proposition to provide for such expenditure, either by the levy of a special tax or by the issue of bonds, but no such special tax shall be levied, nor any such bonds issued unless authorized by the affirmative votes of two-thirds of the electors voting at such election; provided that no bonds shall be issued to meet current expenses.

Special taxes and bonds.

LIMIT OF INDEBTEDNESS.

SEC. 94. The bonded debt of the City shall at no time exceed a total of ten per cent of the assessed valuation of all property taxable for City purposes, and of this ten per cent not more than one-half, or five per cent of the assessed valuation shall at any time be outstanding for improvements of a non-income producing character; provided, however, that bonds to a total amount not exceeding five per cent of said valuation may be set apart and excluded from said limit of ten per cent whenever any public utility or utilities for which they may have been issued shall produce a net income above all charges for operation and depreciation sufficient to pay the principal and interest of the bonds so set apart and excluded as they become due.

Limit of indebtedness.

BONDS TO BE SERIAL.

SEC. 95. All bonds shall be payable serially, an equal portion of each issue being made payable in each year, until the whole amount has been paid; provided, that in the case of bonds issued for any public utility, which is expected when completed to produce an income sufficient to redeem said bonds with the interest thereon, the beginning of serial payment of the principal of said bonds may be deferred for a period not exceeding five years from the date of issue.

Serial bonds.

PRELIMINARY ESTIMATE.

SEC. 96. Before any bonds shall be proposed as required in Section 93, the Council shall require from the Manager an estimate of the total amount to be expended for each and every purpose for which an issue is proposed; the amount which will be needed in each year, if the expenditure is expected to continue more than one year; the probable life of the improvement or utility for which the expenditure is to be made; the probable time which will elapse before an income, if any, may be expected to accrue from it; and the probable expense for operation, maintenance and depreciation during and after said time; and no bonds shall be issued for a term of payment longer than such estimated life, nor shall the amount issued in any one year exceed by more than ten per cent the estimated expenditure for that year for the purpose for which the bonds are issued.

TERMS OF ISSUE.

Terms of issue.

SEC. 97. The Manager shall also report to the Council, after investigation, the condition of the market for bonds, with advice as to the most favorable time for offering a proposed issue, the rate of interest which the bonds should bear, and the lowest price at which they should be sold, if in his opinion the conditions make it advisable to fix such a limit.

PUBLIC HEARING.

Public
hearing.

SEC. 98. Upon receipt of the Manager's estimate and report, the Council shall appoint and publicly announce a time and place when and where said estimate and report will be read and the amount, rate of interest, term of payment, and conditions of sale of the proposed bonds will be publicly considered and determined, with opportunity for public hearing; provided, that such public session may be adjourned from time to time as may be necessary or advisable.

FRANCHISES.

HOW GRANTED.

Franchises.

SEC. 99. The Council may, by ordinance, grant permission or renew a previous grant of permission to any individual, company, or corporation, to construct and operate a public utility in the streets and public places of the City. The ordinance granting any such franchise or renewal shall be subject to petition and referendum.

RESTRICTIONS.

SEC. 100. No franchise shall be considered an emergency measure; no exclusive or perpetual franchise or renewal shall be granted; no franchise shall be renewed before one year prior to its expiration; and no grant or renewal shall be for a term of more than fifty years. Any grant afterwards made for an addition to the privileges or for an extension of the system covered by an existing franchise, shall terminate no later than the original grant.

RIGHT OF PURCHASE.

SEC. 101. All such grants and renewals shall reserve to the City the right to purchase all the property of the utility used in or useful for the operation of the utility at a time and at a price either fixed in the ordinance or determined in the manner provided by such ordinance, which price shall in no event include any allowance for good will, the value of the franchise.

or any other intangible element of value. Nothing in such ordinance shall prevent the City from acquiring such property by condemnation proceeding or in any other lawful manner and these rights shall be in addition to those reserved in such ordinance. Upon the acquisition of such property by purchase, condemnation or otherwise all grants shall at once terminate. Franchises.

RIGHTS OF REGULATION.

SEC. 102. The Council shall not by any grant or franchise alienate or limit the City's control over the use of its streets or public places, or over the occupation of them by any fixtures, temporary or permanent, which may be allowed over, upon or under them, but shall have the right, whether expressly reserved or not, to prescribe the manner of such use, or the form, material and position of such fixtures, or to order their reconstruction, transfer or removal if the public health, comfort, welfare, convenience or safety so demands.

TRANSFER OF FRANCHISE.

SEC. 103. No grant or renewal may be transferred to any other individual, firm, or corporation except by consent of the Council.

POWERS RESERVED TO THE PEOPLE.

SEC. 104. The people reserve to themselves the power to adopt or reject ordinances at the polls, independent of the Council.

THE INITIATIVE.

PROCEDURE.

SEC. 105. The electors may exercise their power of adopting ordinances through the following procedure: A petition to the Council containing a proposed ordinance, signed by not fewer than one hundred electors and asking for its adoption by the Council, or, failing that, its submission to the people, shall be filed with the City Clerk. Initiative.

The Clerk shall present the petition to the Council at its next regular meeting. If the Council shall fail to adopt the ordinance within forty days thereafter, the petition shall remain on file in the Clerk's office for a further period of thirty days, during which time it may be signed in person by qualified electors of the City.

Each signer of the petition shall sign his name in ink or indelible pencil, and shall place thereafter his place of residence by voting precinct, and by street and number.

CERTIFICATION.

SEC. 106. At the expiration of said period of thirty days, the Clerk shall examine the petition and within ten days, ascertain and certify thereupon, the number of signatures of qualified voters thereto, and shall present the petition so certified

Initiative. to the Council at its next regular meeting. If the Clerk's certification shall show the number of signatures to be as many as ten per cent and less than twenty per cent of the number of voters registered at the last regular municipal election, the Council shall forthwith adopt the ordinance without change, or order the same to be submitted at the next regular municipal election.

CALLING THE ELECTION.

SEC. 107. If the Clerk's certification shall show the number of signatures to be not less than twenty per cent of the number of voters registered at the last regular municipal election, the Council shall thereupon adopt the ordinance without change, or order its submission at an election to be held not less than twenty nor more than forty days from the date of the second presentation to the Council; which election shall be held at the same time as any regular or special municipal election to be held within such period; but if no such regular or special election is to be held within such period, the Council shall call a special election to be held within the time aforesaid.

FORM OF BALLOT.

SEC. 108. The ballot used when voting on the proposed ordinance shall set forth the title of the ordinance in full, state its general nature, and shall contain the words "For the Ordinance." Opposite such proposition to be voted on, the words "Yes" and "No" shall be printed on separate lines with voting squares in which the voter may stamp his cross. If a majority of those voting on such proposed ordinance shall vote in favor thereof such ordinance shall be deemed adopted, and shall take effect at such time as shall be specified in the ordinance itself.

SEVERAL ORDINANCES MAY BE SUBMITTED.

SEC. 109. Any number of proposed ordinances may be submitted at the same election, and if the provisions of two or more ordinances conflict, the one having the highest affirmative vote shall prevail.

ADOPTED AND DEFEATED ORDINANCES.

SEC. 110. An ordinance adopted or defeated at the polls, may not be submitted to the electors again within a period of one year.

An ordinance adopted or amended at the polls may be repealed or amended only by vote of the electors.

THE REFERENDUM.

PETITION.

Referendum. SEC. 111. If within thirty days, after the adoption of an ordinance by the Council, there shall be presented to the Council, a petition which shall have been placed for signatures in the Clerk's office at the request of five or more electors, and there signed by qualified electors equal to or in excess of ten per cent of the number of electors registered at the last regular municipal election, asking that any such ordinance be repealed, or submitted to a vote of the electors, said ordinance shall thereupon be suspended from going into effect. Referendum.

CALLING ELECTION.

SEC. 112. The Council shall thereupon reconsider such ordinance, and if it be not entirely repealed, shall submit the same to a vote of the electors at the next regular or special municipal election, if such shall occur, not less than twenty nor more than ninety days from the date of the presentation of the petition to the Council.

If no such election is to occur, then the Council shall submit said ordinance at a special election to be held not less than twenty nor more than thirty days after said date of presentation.

FILING OF PETITION.

SEC. 113. The filing, verifying, and certifying of referendum petitions, and the form of ballot shall be substantially the same as are required for the initiative; and ordinances thus referred shall not go into effect unless approved by a majority of those voting thereon.

NOT SUBJECT TO REFERENDUM.

SEC. 114. Ordinances making or authorizing contracts for improvements, the expenses whereof are to be defrayed by special local assessments, or where the cost involved is less than $1000, shall not be subject to referendum.

RECALL.

SEC. 115. Any member of the Council may be removed from office through the following procedure:

PETITION.

SEC. 116. At the written request of fifty (50) electors of the City, the Clerk shall immediately put on file in his office, a petition demanding that the question of removing such Council member be submitted to the electors. Recall

The petition shall remain on file in the Clerk's office, easy of access, for the period of thirty days, during which time it may be signed, in person, by any qualified elector of the City.

Each signer of said petition shall sign his name in ink or indelible pencil, and shall place thereafter his place of residence by voting precinct and by street and number.

CERTIFYING PETITION.

Recall.

SEC. 117. At the expiration of said thirty days, the Clerk shall examine said petition, and shall, within ten days ascertain, and certify upon said petition, whether or not the signatures of qualified voters thereto amount to ten per cent of the registered voters of the City, and present the same to the Council at its next regular meeting.

If the Clerk's certificate shall show the number of signatures to be fewer than the required ten per cent, the Council shall make public announcement thereof and no further recall proceedings shall be undertaken against the Councilman within a period of six months.

If the Clerk's certificate shall show the number of legal signatures to be as many as ten per cent, the Council shall order the Clerk to serve notice thereof upon the member of the Council sought to be removed.

CALLING THE ELECTION.

SEC. 118. If the member does not resign within five days after such notice, the Council shall order and fix a date for holding a recall election, which shall be held not less than twenty days nor more than forty days from the submission of the petition to the Council; provided, that if any other municipal election is to be held within such period, the recall election shall be held at the same time.

BALLOTS.

SEC. 119. The ballots at such recall election shall conform to the following requirements:

With respect to each person whose removal is sought the question shall be submitted, "Shall (name of person) be removed from the office of Councilman?"

Immediately to the right of this question shall be placed, one under the other, the words "Yes" and "No," and opposite each of these words a square in which the elector, by making a cross mark (X), may indicate his will.

Below may be printed statements by the advocates of the recall and by the Councilman whose recall is sought, each to be given in not more than 200 words.

WHEN RECALLED.

SEC. 120. Should a majority of the votes cast at a recall election be against the recall of the Councilman named on the ballot, he shall continue in office. If a majority of the votes cast on the question of the recall of a particular Councilman at a recall election be for the recall of such Councilman, he shall, regardless of any technical defect in the recall petition, be deemed removed from office, and the vacancy thus caused shall be filled as provided in Section 23.

PRESERVATION OF PETITIONS.

SEC. 121. All petitions for Nominations, Initiative, Referendum, and Recall, shall be kept on file in the Clerk's office for two years from the date of their submission to the Council.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS.

COLLECTION OF MONEYS.

SEC. 122. All City officials and employees empowered to collect moneys for fees, permits, licenses, inspection, services, or other municipal charges, shall collect the same promptly at the time they become due, turn them into the City treasury daily, and report the same to the Auditor. All such moneys, and all fines or pecuniary penalties or forfeitures which may accrue to the City, and all funds which may remain in the possession of the City unclaimed after a period of one year from the date when due and payable, shall be credited to the General Fund of the City and shall be applicable to any purpose to which the Council may appropriate them, and the Council shall appropriate from this fund whatever sum may be necessary to pay valid claims of more than one year's standing.

Miscellaneous provisions.

CONTRACTS.

SEC. 123. No contract for furnishing supplies or services for the City shall be made for a period of more than one year.

SUITS AGAINST THE CITY.

SEC. 124. No suit shall be brought upon any claim for moneys or damages against the City until the demand for the same has been presented to the Council and rejected in whole or in part. If rejected in part, suit may be brought to recover the whole.

REGULATIONS SUBJECT TO COUNCIL'S APPROVAL.

SEC. 125. All rules and regulations of the Boards of Park and Water Commissioners, and Boards of Health and Library Trustees shall be subject to approval by the Council, and when so approved shall have the force and effect of ordinances, and the Manager shall be similarly responsible for their execution.

ABATEMENT OF THE UNSIGHTLY.

SEC. 126. (a) The Council shall have the power to require owners of real property within the City to remove grass, weeds, rubbish or other obstruction from the sidewalks, parkings, streets and alleys in front thereof, or upon which said property abuts, and upon their default, to cause such work to be done, and the cost thereof to be made a lien and charge upon any such real property, and to make provisions for the enforcement of such lien by the sale of such property or otherwise.

Miscellaneous provisions.

(b) The Council shall have power to require or provide by ordinance for the removal from property, lands, or lots, of all weeds, rubbish or any other material, which may endanger or injure the public health, safety or welfare and to make the cost thereof a lien and charge upon such property, lots or lands, and to make provisions for the enforcement of such lien by the sale of such property, lots or lands, or otherwise.

EXISTING ORDINANCES CONTINUED.

SEC. 127. All City ordinances, resolutions or regulations in force at the time this Charter takes effect, and not inconsistent with the provisions thereof, are hereby continued in force until the same shall be duly amended or repealed.

PRESENT CONTRACTS CONTINUED.

SEC. 128. All rights, actions, proceedings, prosecutions and contracts of the City, or any of its departments or officers, pending or unexecuted when this Charter goes into effect, and not inconsistent therewith, shall be enforced, continued, or completed, in all respects, as though begun or executed hereunder.

CHARTER TO TAKE EFFECT.

SEC. 129. For the purpose of nominating and electing members of the Council, and all purposes connected therewith, this Charter shall take effect from the time of its approval by the Legislature. For the purpose of establishing departments, divisions and officers, and distributing the functions hereof, and for all other purposes, it shall take effect on the first Monday in January following the first election, or if the first election be deferred as authorized in Section 5, then, at the time when the first Council shall assume office.

OFFICERS TO HOLD OVER.

SEC. 130. All members of the City administration in office at the time that this Charter goes into effect and all members of Council thereafter elected shall continue in office until their successors are qualified.

SAVING CLAUSE.

SEC. 131. Nothing in this Charter shall be construed as limiting the power of the Council to enact any ordinance or resolution relating to municipal affairs, not in conflict with the Constitution of the State or with the express provisions of this Charter; and if any section or part of a section of this Charter proves to be invalid or unconstitutional, the same shall not be held to invalidate or impair the validity, force or effect of any other section, or part of a section of this Charter, unless it clearly appears that such other section or part of a section is wholly or necessarily dependent for its operation upon the section or part of a section so held unconstitutional or invalid.

Be it known, that the City of Santa Barbara, in the State of California, containing a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants, as ascertained and established by the last preceding census, taken under the direction of the Congress of the United States, did on the 8th day of January, A. D. 1915, at a special election held under and in accordance with the provisions of Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, elect the undersigned, a board of fifteen freeholders, to prepare and propose a charter for said city; and we, the members of said board, in pursuance of said provision of the constitution and within a period of one hundred and eighty days after the result of said election was declared by the City Council of said City of Santa Barbara, have prepared and do propose the foregoing, as and for the Charter of the said City of Santa Barbara.

In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands this first day of July, A. D., 1915.

MAYOR'S CERTIFICATE.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, }
COUNTY OF SANTA BARBARA, } ss.
CITY OF SANTA BARBARA. }

I, WILLIS M. SLOSSON, Mayor of the city of Santa Barbara, in the county of Santa Barbara, and State of California, do hereby certify, that the Board of Freeholders whose names appear signed to the foregoing proposed charter were on the 8th day of January, 1915, at a special municipal election held for that purpose, in said city, on the said day, duly elected by the qualified voters of said city to prepare and propose a charter for such city, that each of said freeholders had been a qualified elector of said city for more than five years next preceding, and a freeholder at the time of said election; that the foregoing is a duplicate copy of said charter prepared by said freeholders and filed in the office of the City Clerk of the Legislative body of said city within one hundred and

certificate.

eighty days after said election, extension of time having been granted to said board of freeholders by said legislative body; that said legislative body did within fifteen days after such filing, cause such charter to be published once in the "THE MORNING PRESS", a newspaper of general circulation printed, published and circulated in said city, and caused copies of such charter to be printed in convenient pamphlet form, and until the day fixed for the election upon such charter, advertised in one of the papers of general circulation published in said city, to wit, the "THE MORNING PRESS", a notice that such copies might be had upon application therefor to the Clerk of said city at the City Hall; that proposed charter was submitted to the electors of such city on the 21st day of September, 1915, before such filing, and designated on such charter, at a special election held not less than sixty days from the completion of the publication of such charter as required by Section 8, of Article II, of the Constitution of the State of California, and was ratified by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon at such election.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the corporate seal of said city to be affixed this 28 day of December, 1916.

WILLIS M. SLOSSON.

Mayor of said city.

Attest:

A. CHRISTINE HALL, NEE A. CHRISTINE HOLMBERG,
Clerk of said city.

By C. EVERETT LOVEJOY, Deputy.

Approval by legislature.

AND WHEREAS, Said proposed charter has been duly presented and submitted to the legislature of the State of California for approval or rejection without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate of the State of California, the assembly thereof concurring, a majority of all the members elected to each house voting for the adoption of this resolution and concurring therein, That said charter of the city of Santa Barbara as presented to, adopted and ratified by the qualified electors of said city be, and the same is, hereby approved as a whole as and for the charter of the said city of Santa Barbara.

CHAPTER 19.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 14, approving three certain amendments to the charter of the city of Palo Alto, county of Santa Clara, State of California, voted for and ratified by the qualified electors of the said city of Palo Alto, at a special municipal election held therein for that purpose on the twenty-seventh day of November, 1916.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

WHEREAS, the City of Palo Alto, in the county of Santa Clara, State of California, contains a population of more than thirty-five hundred inhabitants, and has been ever since the year 1909, and is now, organized and acting under a freeholders' charter, adopted under and by virtue of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said City, at a special election held for that purpose on the 21st day of January, A. D., 1909, and approved by the legislature of the State of California on the 20th day of February, 1909, (Statutes of 1909, page 1175); and

Palo Alto
city charter
amendments.

WHEREAS, the City Council of the said City of Palo Alto did by ordinance duly adopted by said City Council and approved by the mayor of said City on the ninth day of October, 1916, and pursuant to section 8 of article XI of the constitution of the State of California, duly propose to the qualified electors of said City of Palo Alto, certain amendments to the Charter of said City of Palo Alto, to be submitted to the said qualified electors at a special municipal election to be held in said City on the twenty-seventh day of November, 1916; said amendments being seven in number; and

WHEREAS, said proposed amendments were, and each of them was, published in a daily newspaper printed and published in said City of Palo Alto, and having a general circulation therein, to wit: The Daily Palo Alto Times; said publication being on the seventeenth day of November, 1916; and

WHEREAS, copies of said amendments were printed in convenient pamphlet form, and a notice that such copies may be had upon application therefor at the office of the city clerk of said city, was published each and every day from and after the publication of said amendments until the date fixed for the election upon said amendments in said daily newspaper of general circulation; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of said City did, by said ordinance, duly adopted by said City Council and approved by the mayor of said City, order the holding of a special municipal election in said City of Palo Alto on the 27th day of November, 1916; said day being not less than forty days and not more than sixty days after the completion of the advertising of said charter amendments in the official paper, to wit:

Palo Alto
city charter
amendments.

The Daily Palo Alto Times; a daily newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said city; and did provide in said ordinance for the submission of the proposed charter amendments, Nos. 17 to 23, inclusive, to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification at said election.

WHEREAS, said election was duly called and held on said 27th day of November, 1916, and at said election a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon voted in favor of the ratification of and did ratify three of the proposed amendments to said charter; and

WHEREAS, the City Council of the said City of Palo Alto in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided, did meet on Wednesday, the 28th day of November, 1916, at their usual time and place of meeting, and duly canvass the returns of said election as certified by the election boards, and duly found, determined and declared that a majority of the qualified electors of said City voting thereon had voted for and ratified three of said proposed amendments to the charter of said City of Palo Alto, to wit:

Charter Amendment number Eighteen; Charter Amendment number Twenty;
Charter Amendment number Twenty-three;

That said charter amendments so numbered are herein renumbered and to be known and designated as

Charter Amendment number Seventeen;
Charter Amendment number Eighteen;
Charter Amendment number Nineteen;

And WHEREAS, the said three subsequent amendments to the charter so ratified by the majority of the qualified electors of said City voting at said election are in words and figures, to wit:

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER SEVENTEEN.

Article 9 of the charter of the City of Palo Alto shall be amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as section 15, and to read as follows:

Use of state law.

Sec. 15. Whenever the City of Palo Alto desires to use any of the general laws or street laws of the state, said laws shall be made applicable with full force and effect as they stand at the time that it is declared by resolution or ordinance that these laws are to be used by the city.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHTEEN.

Article 9 of the charter of the City of Palo Alto shall be amended by adding thereto a new section to be known as section 17, and to read as follows:

Mayor pro tem.

Sec. 17. In the case of the absence or disability of the mayor, a mayor pro tem may be appointed by the Council who shall have full powers of the mayor.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NUMBER NINETEEN.

That part of section 4 of article IV of the charter of the City of Palo Alto relating to the deposit of public moneys in banks shall be amended to read as follows:

The treasurer may deposit all or such portion of the public moneys as may be determined by the Council in any bank within the State of California authorized by law to receive deposits of public money, said deposits to be made in accordance with the provisions of the constitution and the statutes of the State in force at the time the deposit is made; and Deposit of public moneys.

WHEREAS, the said proposed amendments to the charter of the City of Palo Alto so ratified are now submitted to the legislature of the State of California, for approval or rejection without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with section eight of article eleven of the State of California.

State of California }
County of Santa Clara } ss
City of Palo Alto }

This is to certify that we, CHARLES P. COOLEY, mayor of the City of Palo Alto, and Frank Kasson, clerk of the City of Palo Alto, have compared the foregoing proposed and ratified amendments to the charter of the City of Palo Alto with the original ordinance proposing such amendments and submitting the same to the qualified electors of said city at a special municipal election, called for that purpose, on Monday, the 27th day of November, 1916, and find that the foregoing is a full, true, correct and exact copy thereof and of each of them; and we further certify that the facts set forth in the preamble preceding such amendments to said charter are and each of them is true.

That as to all of said amendments this certificate shall be taken as a full and complete certification as to the regularity of all proceedings had and done in connection therewith.

In Witness Whereof, We have hereunto set our hands and caused the corporate seal of the City of Palo Alto to be attached, this 9th day of January, 1917.

C. P. COOLEY, Mayor.

FRANK KASSON,
City Clerk of the City of Palo Alto.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 15, relative to visiting state institutions.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Inspection
institutions.

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the chairman of the finance and hospitals and asylums committees of the senate be and they are hereby appointed, in conjunction with the chairman of the ways and means of the assembly, to inspect and investigate state institutions and enterprises during the constitutional recess, and to inquire into the report upon the financial needs of such institutions, and that they be allowed their actual traveling expenses while so engaged, the same to be payable out of the contingent expense funds of the senate and assembly.

CHAPTER 21.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 3, relative to the establishment of definite lines of division between federal and state taxes, and the calling of a congress of the states to consider conflicting jurisdictions of the federal and state governments.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Encroachment of federal government on sources of state revenue.

WHEREAS, In the exercise of its taxing power the federal government is embracing the sources of revenue heretofore not availed of by that government; and

WHEREAS, There exists a line which separates the taxable units that equitably and logically may be left solely to state taxation from the units logically belonging to the broader federal jurisdiction; and

WHEREAS, The establishment of some reasonable line of division giving to the states sole taxing authority below such line, and to the federal government sole taxing authority above such line, would cure much of the trouble existing because of conflict of jurisdiction between states; would relieve the tension between federal and state governments; would result in great economy in the levying and collection of taxes, and would relieve the growing dissatisfaction on the part of the taxpayer resulting from irritating and expensive duplication of accounts and reports and double taxation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly of the State of California, jointly. That we respectfully urge upon the congress of the United States and the legislatures of the several states the need of holding a congress of the states to consider the subject of federal and state sources of revenue, with the object of adopting and urging upon the congress of the United States a definite policy in the segregation of state and federal revenue; and we urge the legislatures of the other states to provide for attendance of representatives at such congress; and be it further Congress of states to consider federal and state sources of revenue.

Resolved. That the president of the United States be invited to appoint a representative and that both houses of the congress of the United States be invited to appoint representatives to attend such conference; and be it further

Resolved. That the governor of the State of California is hereby requested to urge the governors of other states to recommend favorable action and to arrange for the time and place of such national meeting; and that the governor of California be authorized to appoint delegates to represent the State of California at such conference; and be it further

Resolved. That a copy of these resolutions be forthwith transmitted by the secretary of the senate to the president of the senate of the United States and to the speaker of the house of representatives of the United States; a copy hereof to each member of congress from the State of California, and a copy to the president of the senate and to the speaker of the house of representatives of each of the state legislatures in session at this time.

CHAPTER 22.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 1, relative to amending the act of congress, approved February 28, 1891, providing for an exchange of lands between the United States and the State of California.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

WHEREAS, There is now pending in the congress of the United States H. R. 15096 by Scott Ferris, to amend the act of congress entitled "An act to amend sections two thousand two hundred seventy-five and two thousand two hundred seventy-six of the Revised Statutes of the United States, providing for the selection of lands for educational purposes in lieu of those appropriated" (act of congress approved February 28, 1891, 26 Stats., page 796), and to authorize an exchange of lands between the United States and the several states, including the State of California; and Exchange of lands between United States and State of California.

Exchange of lands between United States and State of California.

WHEREAS, This legislation has the approval of the department of the interior and the department of agriculture, and also of the various states involved; and

WHEREAS, The department of the interior has for many years withheld from certification the greater part of the lieu lands selected by the State of California, owing to a doubt and uncertainty as to the proper construction and interpretation of said act of congress of February 28, 1891, and has determined to withhold further approvals of state selections based on the exchange provisions of said act of congress pending further and remedial legislation; and

WHEREAS, This situation has resulted in delay and hardship to the State of California, and to the purchasers of lieu lands situated in this state and the other states involved, and calls for action which will enable the United States and the states to adjust and settle the school land grants. and said H. R. 15096 will accomplish this object if enacted into law; and

WHEREAS, There remains to be listed to the State of California by certification approximately three hundred twenty thousand acres of the public domain of the United States, selected by the State of California under the authority granted by said act of congress approved February 28, 1891, for which lands the State of California has issued certificates of purchase to over two thousand one hundred state applicants, but final evidence of title can not be issued to them until the selected lands are conveyed to the State of California by the United States, and which lands if conveyed, by the proper listing and certification, from the United States to the State of California, will become subject to taxation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly of the State of California, jointly, That our senators and representatives in congress be and they are hereby urged and requested to take all proper means to expedite and secure the passage and enactment into law of the said H. R. 15096; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of the senate be, and he is hereby directed to transmit copies of these resolutions forthwith to each of our senators and representatives in congress.

CHAPTER 23.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3, relative to the early completion by the United States of hydrographical work on the Pacific coast, and asking that adequate appropriations be made for forwarding the work as speedily as possible.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

WHEREAS, More than sixty per cent of the Pacific coast is not yet charted; and Completion of hydrographical work on Pacific coast.

WHEREAS, The hydrographical work of the coast and geodetic survey is far from complete on said Pacific coast; and

WHEREAS, The nature and action of many coast currents are not yet thoroughly understood; and

WHEREAS, Shipping and commerce is rapidly increasing on the Pacific coast and ocean; and

WHEREAS, Many wrecks have occurred, causing a large loss of human life and involving a great loss of property, not only to private persons or firms but to the United States government as well, to wit: in the loss of some of the finest ships of the navy; and

WHEREAS, This loss of human life and property has been caused largely by reason that the greater portion of said Pacific coast is not charted, and that the action and nature of many of the coast currents are not properly understood; therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California hereby respectfully memorializes the congress of the United States for the early completion of the work of charting the Pacific coast, and the hydrography work of the coast and geodetic survey on said coast, to carry out all measures necessary for such work, and to make adequate appropriations to forward said work as speedily as possible; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of commerce be requested to take the necessary measures for hastening the charting and hydrography work on the Pacific coast; and be it further

Resolved, That our senators in congress be instructed and our representatives requested to use all reasonable means to secure the action desired in this matter for the purpose aforesaid; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be, and he is hereby instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions respectively to the president of the United States, the secretary of commerce, the respective houses in congress, and to each of our senators and representatives in congress, including those to assume office on March 4, 1917.

CHAPTER 24.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 5, relative to a measure pending in congress known as H. R. 19291 for the promotion of reclamation of arid and swamp lands and memorializing congress for the passage of the bill.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Promotion of reclamation of arid and swamp
lands.

WHEREAS, There has been introduced in the house of representatives by Mr. Smith of Idaho a bill known as H. R. 19291, and in the senate by Mr. Chamberlain, known as S. 7484, which proposed bill is as follows:

A BILL

To promote the reclamation of arid and swamp lands in the United States, and for other purposes.

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That beginning with July first, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, there shall be paid out of the receipts of the reclamation fund the sum of five hundred thousand dollars per annum into a special fund in the treasury of the United States, to be known as the reclamation guaranty fund, until such reclamation guaranty fund reaches a total of ten million dollars, to be used to reimburse the general funds of the treasury of the United States for any costs, losses, or expenses not otherwise provided for, which may be incurred under the provisions of this act. Should said reclamation guaranty fund ever become exhausted in the payment of obligations incurred under the provisions of this act, then from such time the sum of one million dollars shall be paid each year out of the receipts of the reclamation fund until such reclamation guaranty fund again reaches the sum of ten million dollars.

Sec. 2. That when the secretary of the interior, pursuant to the provisions of the reclamation act of June seventeen, nineteen hundred two, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, hereinafter referred to as the reclamation law, shall have determined that the construction of a project or unit of a project for the reclamation of arid and semiarid lands is practical and advisable, or if he shall determine that any project for the drainage of any swamp lands is practicable and advisable, and shall have approved of the construction thereof under the provisions of this act, the secretary of the interior is authorized to enter into contract or contracts with an irrigation or drainage district or districts, including such lands, which are duly organized under the laws of the state or states in which such lands are located, and thereafter to provide for the construction of the necessary works under the provisions of this act for the reclamation of such lands.

SEC. 3. That when such district or districts shall have duly voted and issued bonds bearing interest at a rate to be fixed by the secretary of the interior not to exceed four per centum per annum, in sufficient amount to cover the cost of such project as estimated by the secretary of the interior, and the legality and validity of such bond issue shall have been duly confirmed by the courts in the manner provided by the state laws and upon the execution of contract or contracts between the district or districts and the secretary of the interior, he is authorized to accept such district bonds and deposit the same with the secretary of the treasury, who shall collect the principal and interest thereof and apply the same to the payment of the principal and interest of the certificates of indebtedness hereinafter authorized; provided, that the total face value of such irrigation or drainage district bonds accepted by the secretary of the interior shall not for any one project exceed the sum of twenty-five million dollars.

Promotion
of reclamation of arid and swamp
lands.

SEC. 4. That upon the receipt by the secretary of the treasury of such district bonds he shall issue certificates of indebtedness of the United States in amount equal to the face value of such district bonds and bearing interest at the same rate in such form as he may prescribe and in denominations of fifty dollars or multiples thereof, the principal and interest to be payable in gold coin of the United States, the principal and interest thereof to become due not less than sixty days after the due date of the principal and interest of the corresponding district bonds, respectively. Such certificates of indebtedness shall run for the same period as the corresponding district bonds.

SEC. 5. That from time to time, as funds may be required by the secretary of the interior for construction purposes, such certificates of indebtedness shall be disposed of by the secretary of the interior, under such rules and regulations as he may prescribe, giving all citizens of the United States an equal opportunity to subscribe therefor, but no commission shall be allowed, and the aggregate issue of such certificates shall not exceed the amount of the district bonds deposited with the secretary of the treasury and shall in no event exceed the sum of twenty-five million dollars for any one project, and the proceeds from the sale of such certificates of indebtedness shall be deposited in a special project fund to be used in carrying out the provisions of this act for said project.

SEC. 6. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to expend the moneys in any such project fund for constructing the necessary works in the same manner and under the same conditions as expenditures are provided for in the said reclamation law, which shall be applicable to the said works in all respects, except as herein specifically modified.

SEC. 7. That should a surplus remain from the proceeds of the sale of such certificates of indebtedness issued in connection with any project after the construction of the works provided for in the contract or contracts, such surplus may be

of reclamation of arid and swamp
lands.

used in the construction of additional works in connection with said project provided for by supplemental contract or contracts, or the same may be used in the operation and maintenance of the works of the project or credited as payment of interest on the district bonds issued on account of said project until exhausted. All contracts hereunder with such districts shall limit the expenditures to be made by the United States to the proceeds of the certificates of indebtedness issued on account of bonds for such district or districts and may provide for the issue and deposit of additional bonds should the bonds originally deposited prove insufficient in amount. If in the opinion of the secretary of the interior sufficient funds are available in the reclamation fund, the construction of the proposed works for the reclamation of arid or semiarid lands within the states named in the reclamation law may be paid wholly or in part out of the reclamation fund, and the said reclamation fund shall be reimbursed for any sums so used therefrom.

SEC. 8. That the certificates of indebtedness herein authorized shall be exempt from taxes or duties of the United States as well as from taxation in any form by or under the state, municipal, or local authority, and a sum not exceeding one-tenth of one per centum of the amount of the certificates of indebtedness issued under this act is hereby appropriated out of the said reclamation fund to pay the expense of preparing, advertising, and issuing the same; provided, that the reclamation fund shall be reimbursed for such expenditure out of the proceeds of the sale of such certificates of indebtedness, which expense shall be charged to the district or districts in the same manner as all other expenses in connection with the construction of the project works.

SEC. 9. That should the collections of principal or interest on any district bond issue deposited with the secretary of the treasury be insufficient to meet the payment of the principal or interest of the corresponding certificates of indebtedness, then the general funds of the treasury shall be reimbursed for any such deficiency out of the reclamation guaranty fund, and should any such defaulted bond, interest or principal, be collected after such reimbursement of the general fund, then such collection shall be credited to the said reclamation guaranty fund.

SEC. 10. That upon default of any installment of the principal and interest of any district bond so accepted and deposited, the secretary of the interior may declare the entire amount of such issue in default, and through the attorney general of the United States may cause suit to be instituted for the collection of the amount in default of principal or interest or the entire amount of such bond issue, principal and interest, and the attorney general shall, upon request of the secretary of the interior under this act, cause proceedings to be commenced for the recovery of said amounts within ninety days from the receipt of the application at the department of justice.

SEC. 11. That unentered public lands of the United States proposed to be irrigated or drained under any project under the provisions of this act shall be divided into farm units of areas which, in the opinion of the secretary of the interior, may be reasonably required for the support of a family upon the lands in question, and the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to have such farm units appraised and from time to time to advertise and sell the same in such portions or units of the project as he shall deem advisable, at public auction for cash to the highest bidder at not less than the appraised value thereof, not more than one farm unit being sold to any one person, and such sale shall be subject to the conditions hereinafter provided in regard to the reclamation and drainage thereof. Should any such land remain unsold at such public auction it may thereafter be sold at private sale for cash at not less than the appraised value, and should any such land remain unsold at private sale it may be reappraised from time to time at intervals of two years and sold at public auction or private sale, as in this section provided.

Promotion
of reclamation of arid and swamp
lands.

SEC. 12. That for lands so sold contracts of sale shall be issued subject to the condition that within two years after the date of notice by the secretary of the interior that water is available for the irrigation of such farm unit, or drainage capacity is available therefor, that the purchaser shall have cleared (where clearing is required), drained, cultivated, prepared for irrigation or agricultural uses, in the manner required by the secretary of the interior at least one-eighth of the irrigable or reclaimable acreage of such farm unit and made proof of the irrigation or drainage thereof, satisfactory to the secretary of the interior; one-fourth of the irrigable or reclaimable acreage shall be reclaimed and drained within three years, three-eighths within four years, and one-half within five years after the date of such notice by the secretary of the interior. Upon proof satisfactory to the secretary of the interior, of the reclamation and drainage of one-half the irrigable or reclaimable acreage at any time before or after said period of five years, patent shall issue to the purchaser or his assignee holding an assignment duly filed in the local land office, but should such purchaser fail to make proof in any year of the irrigation, drainage, and reclamation of the acreage as herein required or to make proof of the irrigation, reclamation, and drainage of one-half the irrigable and reclaimable acreage within a period of ten years, then such contract together with all payments made thereon, shall be subject to forfeiture by the secretary of the interior, and the land shall revert to the United States to be again appraised and sold in like manner as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 13. That from the money received from such sales of land the expense of appraisal and sale paid from the reclamation or project fund shall be deducted and the balance shall be turned into the reclamation fund, and may, in the discretion of the secretary of the interior be used in the

of reclamation of arid and swamp
lands.

construction of proposed projects either under this act or under the reclamation law.

SEC. 14. That the unpatented lands of the United States within the limits of any district with which contract is made by the secretary of the interior shall be subject to the provisions of the act entitled "An act to promote the reclamation of arid lands, approved August eleventh, nineteen hundred sixteen (thirty-ninth statutes, page five hundred six)."

SEC. 15. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to perform any and all acts and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying the provisions of this act into full force and effect.

AND WHEREAS, The passage of such bill would be of inestimable benefit to the State of California in aiding in the reclamation of its arid land;

Resolved, That the senate and assembly of the State of California respectfully request and urges the congress of the United States to pass the said bill; and be it further

Resolved, That our senators and representatives in congress be urged to use all reasonable means to secure the passage of this bill; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the senators and representatives in congress of California and to the president of the United States.

CHAPTER 25.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 11, relative to the improvement of Crescent City harbor.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Improvement of Crescent
City harbor.

WHEREAS, There has been introduced in the congress of the United States a bill carrying an appropriation of three hundred ninety thousand dollars for the improvement of Crescent City harbor; and

WHEREAS, The shipping interests of the Pacific coast greatly need a harbor midway between the Golden Gate and the mouth of the Columbia river and half way between Mexico on the south and Canada on the north, into which coastwise vessels may enter with safety in time of storm or in time of distress; and

WHEREAS, A large area of country in northern California and southern Oregon will be greatly benefited by such improvement and the commerce of the United States greatly increased from the now dormant natural resources in mines, horticultural products, agricultural products and the wonderful timber resources of that country; and

WHEREAS, One hundred forty thousand people who live in the territory to be benefited by it, are demanding the improvement of Crescent City harbor; and

WHEREAS, Sixty thousand square miles of territory in northern California, northern Nevada, southern Oregon and southern Idaho will be directly benefited by the improvement of this harbor; and

Improvement
of Crescent
City harbor.

WHEREAS, Rogue River valley alone will enjoy a saving in freight rates of seven million dollars a year on eighteen million boxes of fruit when the present plantings are in full bearing and the harbor at Crescent City is improved; and

WHEREAS, Eighty-four billion feet of merchantable lumber will find its way to Crescent City harbor from the United States forest reserves, provided the harbor is improved, which would mean at least eighty-four million dollars for the government from stumpage and eight hundred forty million dollars for the people who fell the timber, handle the logs and manufacture and move the lumber; and

WHEREAS, It is estimated that private parties and corporations own at least one hundred twenty billion feet of timber in this territory, which if manufactured and moved to market would mean over two hundred million dollars to the owners and the men who do the work; and

WHEREAS, One million tons of copper ore have been blocked out within sixty miles of Crescent City harbor, which can be profitably moved only with harbor and railroad facilities, which would amount to a million dollar business, and as yet this section of country has not been thoroughly prospected for minerals; and

WHEREAS, When the seawalls have been completed, according to the engineers' report, the harbor will have an entrance forty feet deep at low water and a width of one thousand feet, there will be a strip of water from five hundred to two thousand feet wide and over a mile long, thirty feet deep and over; and

WHEREAS, Crescent City bay, with the proposed seawalls completed, would be a harbor of refuge for all coastwise craft, and could be economically deepened and widened to make room for a large fleet of heavy draft vessels; and

WHEREAS, This bay is half way from San Francisco to the mouth of the Columbia river, and is midway between Canada on the north and Mexico on the south, its geographical location, therefore, especially fitting it for a naval base, and its close proximity to the Coast range of mountains to the south and east and the high islands two miles to the north admirably fitting it for inexpensive defense; and

WHEREAS, The board of engineers for rivers and harbors has reported favorably upon the project; and

WHEREAS, The resources of an empire await this harbor improvement; and

WHEREAS, The people of Del Norte county, California, have provided one hundred thousand dollars to be used by the government engineers in the proposed work; now, therefore, be it

Improvement
of Crescent
City harbor.

Resolved by the assembly and the senate of the legislature of the State of California, jointly. That our representatives and senators in congress be and they are hereby urged and requested to use all honorable means to procure the passage of said bill providing for the improvement of Crescent City harbor; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be and he is hereby directed to forward a certified copy of these resolutions to each of our representatives and senators in congress.

CHAPTER 26.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 12, relative to the recession to the State of California, by the United States, of the right to use any part of the bed of "Lower or Little Klamath lake" for the storage of water connected with the operations of the reclamation service of the United States, and the recession to said state of all the right, title, interest and claim of the United States in and to any and all lands uncovered by the lowering of the water level of said lake, or surrounding or connected with said lake, ceded to the United States by an act of the legislature of the State of California, approved February 3, 1905.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Recession of bed of "Lower or Little Klamath lake."

WHEREAS, The legislature of the State of California passed an act, approved February 3, 1905, of which the following is a copy:

"CHAPTER VI.

An act authorizing the United States government to lower the water levels of any or all of the following lakes: Lower or Little Klamath lake, Tule or Rhett lake, Goose lake and Clear lake, situated in Siskiyou and Modoc counties, and to use any part or all of the beds of said lakes for the storage of water in connection with the irrigation and reclamation operations conducted by the reclamation service of the United States; also ceding to the United States all right, title, interest or claim of the State of California to any lands uncovered by the lowering of the water levels of any or all of said lakes not already disposed of by the state.

(Approved February 3, 1905.)

The people of the State of California, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. That for the purpose of aiding in the operations of irrigation and reclamation conducted by the reclamation service of the United States, established by the act of congress, approved June 17, 1902, (32 Stat. 388) known as the reclamation act, the United States is hereby authorized to lower the water levels of any or all of the following lakes: Lower or Little Klamath lake, Tule or Rhett lake, Goose lake, and Clear lake, situated in Siskiyou and Modoc counties, as shown by the map of the United States geological survey, and to use any part or all of the beds of said lakes for the storage of water in connection with such operations.

Recession of bed of "Lower or Little Klamath lake."

SEC. 2. And there is hereby ceded to the United States all the right, title, interest or claim of this state to any lands uncovered by the lowering of the water levels of any or all of said lakes, not already disposed of by this state; and the lands hereby ceded may be disposed of by the United States free of any claim on the part of this state, in any manner that may be deemed advisable by the authorized agencies of the United States, in pursuance of the provisions of said reclamation act; provided, that this act shall not be in effect as to the lakes herein named which lie partly in the state of Oregon, until a similar cession has been made by that state."

AND WHEREAS, The reclamation service of the United States has not, during the twelve years which have elapsed since the approval of the aforesaid act, lowered the water level of said "Lower or Little Klamath lake" or used the bed of said lake for the purpose of storing water to use in connection with the reclamation of the land adjacent to said lake, and there are no indications that the reclamation service intends to ever reclaim the land, thereby accomplishing the purposes of the legislature of the State of California as expressed in said act approved February 3, 1905.

AND WHEREAS, There is a large body of swamp and overflowed land surrounding said lake in Siskiyou county, unfit for cultivation without reclamation, upon the title to which a cloud has been cast by the ambiguous wording of the above mentioned act, which it is necessary to remove before such land can be successfully thrown open to entry, reclamation and cultivation; therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California respectfully request our senators and representatives in congress to use their influence and to take all proper means to have a bill introduced and passed by congress and approved by the president of the United States, ceding back to the State of California the right to use all or any part of the bed of "Lower or Little Klamath lake" for the storage of water connected with the operations of the reclamation service of the United States, and also ceding back to the state all the right, title, interest or claim of the United States, in or to any of the lands surrounding or connected with said lake in Siskiyou county, ceded to it by the above mentioned act of the legislature of California, to the end that such lake, water and lands shall be returned to said state, as they were prior to the approval of said act of the legislature approved February 3, 1905, and be governed by the general laws by which they were governed prior thereto, reserving, however, to the United States, the right to lower the water level in said lake, as provided in said act approved February 3, 1905.

CHAPTER 27.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 15, relative to the preservation of the old Galen Clark cabin in Mariposa big trees reservation.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Preservation of old Galen Clark cabin.

WHEREAS, It is reported that the federal government is contemplating the razing of the old cabin situated among the Mariposa big trees and built by Galen Clark, the discoverer of the trees, about fifty years ago; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That the Hon. Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, and our senators and representatives in congress be requested to use all honorable means to secure and assure the preservation of this cabin as a landmark of historical importance in our state and an object of great interest to tourists and visitors to the big trees.

Resolved, That copies of this resolution, immediately upon its adoption, be forwarded to the Hon. Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior, Washington, D. C., and to our senators and representatives in congress assembled.

CHAPTER 28.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 1, relative to the loaning of the funds of the postal savings banks directly to public school districts.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

Loan of postal savings bank funds to school districts.

WHEREAS, The federal government has in its postal savings department, more than one hundred millions of dollars, which money is being loaned to banks and banking institutions at two and one-half per cent interest, bonds of school districts being acceptable as security for such loans; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That our senators and representatives in congress be requested to use all honorable means to secure the passage of laws whereby a portion of the funds of the postal savings bank may be loaned directly to the public school districts.

CHAPTER 29.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 8, relative to the providing of adequate and sufficient facilities for moving and transporting the life-saving apparatus and equipment of the life-saving service station on Humboldt bay to the scene of wrecks.

[Filed with Secretary of State January 27, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The life-saving and service station on Humboldt bay is among the most important on the Pacific coast; and

WHEREAS, The facilities for moving and transporting the life-saving apparatus and equipment of said station to the scene of wrecks is wholly inadequate and insufficient, as was demonstrated in recent wrecks on the Humboldt coast of the submarine H-3 and cruiser Milwaukee of the United States navy; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That the secretary of the treasury of the United States be requested to take immediate steps to provide adequate and sufficient facilities for moving and transporting the life-saving apparatus and equipment of the life-saving serving station on Humboldt bay to the scene of wrecks; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be and he is hereby instructed to forward a copy of these resolutions to the secretary of the treasury of the United States.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 8, relative to expressing an approval of the course of the president of the United States in severing diplomatic relations with Germany, and pledging to the president the loyal support of the people of California in the protection of American interests in dealing with the nations engaged in war.

[Filed with Secretary of State March 2, 1917.]

Pledge of support in war with Germany.

WHEREAS, The president of the United States, in the performance of his solemn duty to the people of this republic and in behalf of humanity everywhere, has deemed it necessary to sever the diplomatic relations heretofore existing between this country and the Imperial German Government; and

WHEREAS, It abundantly appears that this stern action is justified by the wilful disregard by the Imperial German Government of the law of nations, a disregard which has already inflicted upon the people of neutral nations incalculable unjustifiable wrong and damage;

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That we express our confidence in Woodrow Wilson, our president, in this crisis in the history of our country and respectfully convey to him, as the chief executive of the United States of America, the pledge of loyal support of the people of California in whatsoever course he may adopt for the protection of American interests in dealing with the nations now engaged in war; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the secretary of the president for transmission to President Wilson.

CHAPTER 32.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 9, relative to adjournment in respect to the memory of General Frederick Funston.

[Filed with Secretary of State March 2, 1917.]

Memory of General Frederick Funston.

WHEREAS, In the death of General Frederick Funston, the Supreme Ruler of the Universe has seen fit to muster out of service one of our most fearless soldiers; and

WHEREAS, The nation at large has thereby lost one of its most patriotic citizens and dauntless defenders; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That when the respective houses of the legislature of the State of California this day adjourn, they shall do so in respect to the memory of the late General Frederick Funston; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be and he is hereby directed to convey to the family of the deceased and to the legislature of the state of Kansas this expression of tribute from the assembly and senate of California.

received, and such bids shall be considered by the Supervisors to be the lowest bids to be received for the contract.

Estimates of officials

SEC. 13. Each County or District official or employee needing material or supplies during the fiscal year shall file with the clerk of the Board of Supervisors an estimate of all the material or supplies that he will need during the fiscal year. Such estimate must be filed on or before the first day of June of each year. Before the first day of July, the Board of Supervisors must advertise for bids to furnish any or all such material and supplies as may be needed in quantity and at such times as they may be needed. Such bids must be let to the lowest responsible bidder.

Vacancies.

SEC. 14. Vacancies on the Board of Supervisors shall be filled by the Governor, as provided by law, and such appointees shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors. Such successor shall be elected at the next General election, and shall fill the unexpired term; provided, that when such unexpired term shall end at noon on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding such election, the person elected shall hold office for the unexpired terms, and an entire new term in addition.

Compensation
of
officers.

SEC. 15. In all cases in which the Board of Supervisors are authorized by law or by this Charter to fix the compensation of any officer, such compensation shall be fixed prior to the election or appointment of such officer, and shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which such officer shall be elected or appointed.

Plans of work.

SEC. 16. Before the Board of Supervisors shall call for bids for any construction work of buildings or bridges in excess of five thousand dollars they must first advertise for bids for plans and specifications for such work. Not more than three per cent of the estimated cost of such work shall be paid for such plans and specifications.

SEC. 17. No money shall be transferred from one fund to another, as provided by law, except by a four-fifths vote of the Supervisors.

Duties of auditor

SEC. 4. It shall be the duty of the Auditor to examine and audit each and all of such reports and accounts as received by him, and if it shall appear to him that any such report or account is erroneous, or not sufficiently full, complete or detailed, he shall forthwith, in writing, direct the attention of the officer making such report or account to such apparent error or insufficiency, and require from such officer such correction of such new or supplemental or further report or account as to the Auditor shall seem proper; and it shall be the duty of such officer to comply forthwith with such requirements of the Auditor.

SEC. 5. The Auditor shall not audit, nor shall the Treasurer pay, the monthly salary of any officer whose duty it is to make monthly report and account to the Auditor as aforesaid, until after such report and such account shall have been made to the Auditor and accepted by him.

SEC. 6. It shall be the duty of the Auditor to make thorough inspection and examination from time to time, and at least once every three months, of all books and accounts of all other county officers and of all township and road district officers, and of the methods of keeping the accounts and transacting the business of such officers, and to prescribe in writing as to each or any or all of such offices such rules, regulations, forms and methods as to keeping the accounts thereof, and as to making the reports and accounts hereinbefore provided for, as to the Auditor shall seem proper; and it shall be the duty of each and all of such officers to comply with such requirements of the Auditor.

SEC. 7. It shall be the duty of the Auditor to make written report, quarterly, to the Board of Supervisors, as to the condition, affairs, business and accounts of each and all county, township and district offices, with such criticism, commendation, suggestions and recommendations as he shall deem proper as tending to the corrections of defects or abuses, or the promotion of efficiency or economy, in the administration of all or any of such offices; and it shall be his duty in such report to point out particularly any known or apparent misconduct, neglect or failure in regard to official duty, as to all or any of such offices. It shall also be the duty of the Auditor to make special examination and report as to any particular office or officer, or as to any matter relating to any particular office or officer, whenever directed so to do by the Board of Supervisors.

Examination of auditor's office

SEC. 8. It shall be the duty of the Board of Supervisors to employ from time to time, and at least once every twelve months, an expert accountant, whose duty shall be to make thorough examination and report as to the condition, business and affairs of the Auditor's office, and particularly as to the books and accounts of that office; and the board may, whenever it shall deem it necessary or expedient so to do, employ an expert accountant to make examination and report as to any other office or officer, independent of and in addition to any report or account made, or required to be made, by the Auditor.

SEC. 9. The Auditor shall keep a "Property account" with each county, township and road district officer, in which account such officer shall be charged with all property received by him from his predecessor, as shown by the inventory and report hereinbefore provided for, and shall be charged with all property thereafter received by such officer, as shall appear from the monthly reports of such officer or from the duplicate inventories filed with the Auditor; and such officer shall be officially responsible for all property so charged to him until the same shall properly be consumed or be delivered to his successor, or be disposed of or accounted for as authorized or provided for by the Board of Supervisors. Property account.

SEC. 10. All reports and accounts hereinbefore provided for in this Charter shall be kept on file in the proper office, and shall be open to inspection there, during office hours, by any citizen or taxpayer of the county. Reports on file.

ARTICLE VII.

Township Officers.

SECTION 1. There shall be one justice of the peace and one constable for each judicial township. Township officers.

SEC. 2. Justices of the Peace and Constables shall be nominated and elected at the times and in the manner and for the terms provided by General Law.

SEC. 3. Justices of the Peace and Constables shall each receive the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month, and in the same manner and out of the same funds as County Officers, are paid, which shall be in full for all services performed by them in their official capacities: Salaries.

In townships having a population of five thousand or more, Fifty Dollars per month;

In townships having a population of four thousand, and less than five thousand, Forty Dollars per month;

In townships having a population of three thousand, and less than four thousand, Thirty Dollars per month;

In townships having a population of two thousand, and less than three thousand, Twenty Dollars per month;

In townships having a population of less than two thousand, Ten Dollars per month.

SEC. 4. For the purpose of fixing the salaries of Justices of the Peace and of the Constables the population of the several Judicial townships of the county shall be ascertained as follows:

By multiplying the registered vote in each township as shown by the Great Register for the last preceding Presidential election by two and one-half.

ARTICLE VIII.

Roads.

Roads. SECTION 1. In Tehama County there shall be five Road Districts, and they shall be numbered the same and shall comprise the same territory as the five Supervisors Districts in said County; and each Supervisor shall be ex officio Road Commissioner of the district from which he has been elected, and shall see that all orders of the Board of Supervisors pertaining to his district are properly executed, and that all provisions in contracts for work to be done in, or materials to be furnished to his district are faithfully complied with.

Work on roads. SEC. 2. The Supervisors shall see that all public roads in the county are named and numbered, and the length of each road, if not already known, shall be ascertained and each Road Commissioner shall be provided with a list of roads in his district, giving name, number and length of each road. The work on all roads must be let on contract to the lowest responsible bidder living in the County, and for this purpose the Board of Supervisors must in the month of June of each year advertise for sealed bids to put and keep in repair the public Roads of the County for the following fiscal year; provided, that all bridges of twenty feet or more in length, and all concrete work shall come under the provisions of this Charter relating to road construction.

Contracts. SEC. 3. Bids may be asked for and contracts may be let for any portion of the roads in a District or in the County, as in the judgment of the Board would best serve the interests of the community, and the time of payments shall also be made at the discretion of the Board of Supervisors; provided, that no payment on any contract shall be made until the Road Commissioner of the District in which the work has been done has filed a report with the Auditor that said work has been done according to the provisions of the contract, and provided, further, that not more than one-third of the contract price shall be paid before the first day of January following the letting of the contract. If at any time a contract shall be let covering work to be done in more than one district, then the payments for the same shall be apportioned between the districts in proportion to the work done in each district.

Renewals. SEC. 4. Whenever any contractor has given such general satisfaction as the Board of Supervisors believes would justify their renewing his contract they may do so for the second and again for the third year without advertising, but no contract must be renewed more than twice.

SEC. 4½. Advertisements for road building and for road graveling made and the contracts let at any time in the year as in the judgment of the Supervisors seems advisable.

SEC. 5. If at any time there are no bids for work to be done on certain roads, or the bids received appear to be too high, or more in amount than the funds that may be provided for the district in which the roads are located, will enable them to pay, then the Supervisors may have the work done on such roads as receive no bids, by days labor, or they may reject such bids as appear too high, and re-advrtise, and in case there is reason to believe that there will not be sufficient funds to do all that may be desired, then they may let such of the more important work as the funds of the several districts will warrant.

SEC. 6. If necessary, the Road Commissioner shall devote his entire time, except such as is required of him in his capacity as Supervisor in the interest of the County, to the service of his Road District, and shall receive for such services, the sum of Five Dollars per day, which shall be in full compensation for all services performed by him in his capacity as Road Commissioner, including conveyance and other personal expenses; deputy overseers, inspectors and receivers shall not be employed at the expense of the Road District or the County, except in case of sickness or some other unavoidable cause preventing the Road Commissioner from performing the service required of him; provided, that all bridges requiring an overseeing expert shall be under the Supervision of the County Surveyor. All Claims for services as Road Commissioner must be made out and filed with the County Auditor, the same as bills for road work are made out and filed, showing the place where and the time when such services were performed. It shall be the duty of the Road Commissioner of each district, during the months of May and June of each year, to visit all the roads under his supervision so as to be familiar with their condition before letting the contracts for work on the same; he shall then file with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, on or before the first day of their meeting in July, a written report giving in detail, the condition of each road in his district separately for their use in adjusting and letting of contracts in his district.

SEC. 7. The advertisement for bids for maintaining any roads in any district, may call for the work and materials or it may call for the work only. The notice must be given in two issues of some weekly newspaper published in the district where the work is to be done, or if there is no paper published in said district, then in some other paper published in the County, and by posting notices in three conspicuous places in the vicinity where the road is located, for at least ten days prior to the time specified for the receipt of said bids.

Form.

SEC. 8. Advertisements for bids for the upkeep and maintenance of roads may be in the following or in any other appropriate form:

“Office of the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors, Tehama County, California, (Giving month, day and year.)

Sealed bids will be received by the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of Tehama County, California, at his office in Red Bluff until (Giving last date on which bids will be received) for repairing and keeping in repair the following described road or roads, for the period of one year. The Board reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids.”

SEC. 9. All bids for the upkeep and repair of roads shall be opened and if the bids are satisfactory contracts shall be awarded for the ensuing year at the regular July meeting.

SEC. 10. There shall be set aside from the road funds of each Road District a sum not to exceed fifteen per cent of such funds. This sum shall be used in caring for roads upon which there have been no bids and for the maintenance of which there have been let no contracts.

ARTICLE IX.

Miscellaneous.

Miscellaneous provisions

SECTION 1. For the purpose of estimating time not less than eight hours of actual service shall constitute a days work for the County in any capacity, but time going to and from place of work shall not be included.

SEC. 2. The compensation of any elective County or Township officer shall not be increased or diminished during the term for which he was elected, nor within ninety days preceding his election.

SEC. 5. In all cases in which an officer is to receive a fixed salary, whether such salary be fixed by this Charter or by the Board of Supervisors such salary shall be in full compensation for all services by such officer; and in all cases in which such officer is, by General law, entitled to charge or receive any fees or commissions, it shall be the duty of such officer to charge, collect, and receive such fees or commissions, and to pay the same monthly to the County Treasurer:

SEC. 5½. The necessary actual traveling expenses properly incurred by any officer or by any assistant, deputy, clerk or attache of such officer in the performance of his official duties while outside the county shall be a legal charge against the county; provided, that such expense shall not include meals and lodging.

SEC. 6. Whenever a vacancy shall occur in an elective office in this County other than a member of the Board of Supervisors the Board of Supervisors shall fill such vacancy, except as otherwise provided in this Charter, until the election and qualification of his successor. In case of any such vacancy there shall be elected at the next general election an officer to fill such vacancy for the unexpired term, unless such unexpired term ends on the first Monday after the first day of January next succeeding the election, in which case the election shall be for the unexpired term and for an entire new term in addition.

Miscellaneous provisions.

SEC. 7. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this Charter is for any reason held to be invalid such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this Charter.

SEC. 8. No elective county officer shall be eligible to serve more than eight years out of any twelve years.

SEC. 9. The names of all persons receiving money from the County, and the purposes for which, and the amounts thereof, must be entered in the minutes of the Board of Supervisors each month.

SEC. 10. This Charter shall go into effect immediately upon its ratification by the State Legislature, except as otherwise provided in this Charter.

We, the undersigned, members of the board of fifteen freeholders of the county of Tehama, in the State of California, elected at a special election held in said county on the fourteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred fifteen, to prepare and propose a charter for said county, under and in accordance with section seven and one-half of article eleven of the constitution of this state, have prepared and we do hereby propose the foregoing as and for a charter for said county.

thereof, proposes to the people of said state that section eight and one-half of article eleven of the state constitution be amended to read as follows:

Provisions of municipal charters.

Sec. 8½. It shall be competent, in all charters framed under the authority given by section eight of this article, to provide, in addition to those provisions allowable by this constitution, and by the laws of the state as follows:

Municipal
courts.

1. For the constitution, regulation, government, and jurisdiction of police courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the qualifications and compensation of said judges and of their clerks and attaches; and for the establishment, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of municipal courts and judges thereof, with such civil, criminal and magisterial jurisdiction as by law may be conferred upon inferior courts and judges thereof; and for the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the qualifications and compensation of said judges and of their clerks and attaches; provided, such municipal courts shall never be deprived of the jurisdiction given inferior courts created by general law.

In any city or any city and county, when such municipal court has been established, there shall be no other court inferior to the superior court; and pending actions, trials, and all pending business of inferior courts within the territory of such city or city and county, upon the establishment of any such municipal court, shall be and become pending in such municipal court, and all records of such inferior courts shall thereupon be and become the records of such municipal court.

Boards of
education.

2. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of boards of education shall be elected or appointed, for their qualifications, compensation and removal, and for the number which shall constitute any one of such boards.

Boards of police commissioners.

3. For the manner in which, the times at which and the terms for which the members of the boards of police commissioners shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such boards and of the municipal police force.

Elections.

4. For the manner in which and the times at which any municipal election shall be held and the result thereof determined; for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Terms,
salaries,
etc., of
officers.

It shall be competent in any charter framed in accordance with the provisions of this section, or section eight of this article, for any city or consolidated city and county, and plenary authority is hereby granted, subject only to the restrictions of this article, to provide therein or by amendment thereto, the manner in which, the method by which, the times at which, and the terms for which the several county and municipal officers and employees whose compensation is paid by such city or city and county, excepting judges of the superior court, shall be elected or appointed, and for their recall and removal, and for their compensation, and for the number of deputies, clerks and other employees that each shall have, and for the compensation, method of appointment, qualifications, tenure of office and removal of such deputies, clerks and other employees. All provisions of any charter of any such city or consolidated city and county, heretofore adopted, and amendments thereto, which are in accordance herewith, are hereby confirmed and declared valid.

5. It shall be competent in any charter or amendment thereof, which shall hereafter be framed under the authority given by section eight of this article, by any city having a population in excess of fifty thousand ascertained as prescribed by said section eight, to provide for the separation of said city from the county of which it has theretofore been a part and the formation of said city into a consolidated city and county to be governed by such charter, and to have combined powers of a city and county, as provided in this constitution for consolidated city and county government, and further to prescribe in said charter the date for the beginning of the official existence of said consolidated city and county.

Consolidated
city and county.

It shall also be competent for any such city, not having already consolidated as a city and county to hereafter frame, in the manner prescribed in section eight of this article, a charter providing for a city and county government, in which charter there shall be prescribed territorial boundaries which may include contiguous territory not included in such city, which territory, however, must be included in the county within which such city is located.

If no additional territory is proposed to be added, then, upon the consent to the separation of any such city from the county in which it is located, being given by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in such county and upon the ratification of such charter by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in such city, and the approval thereof by the legislature, as prescribed in section eight of this article, said charter shall be deemed adopted and upon the date fixed therein said city shall be and become a consolidated city and county.

If additional territory which consists wholly of only one incorporated city or town, or which consists wholly of unincorporated territory, is proposed to be added, then, upon the consent to such separation of such territory and of the city initiating the consolidation proposal being given by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the county in which the city proposing such separation is located, and upon the ratification of such charter by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in such city so proposing the separation, and also upon the approval of the proposal hereinafter set forth, by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the whole of such additional territory, and the approval of said charter by the legislature, as prescribed in section eight of this article, said charter shall be deemed adopted, the indebtedness hereinafter referred to shall be deemed to have been assumed, and upon the date fixed in said charter such territory and such city shall be and become one consolidated city and county.

The proposal to be submitted to the territory proposed to be added shall be substantially in the following form and submitted as one indivisible question:

“Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be added) consolidate with the city of (herein insert name of the city initiating the proposition to form a city and county government) in a consolidated city and county government, and shall the charter as prepared by the city of (herein insert the name of the city initiating such proposition) be adopted as the charter of the consolidated city and county, and shall the said added territory become subject to taxation along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county, in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of the said territory, for the following indebtedness of said city (herein insert name of the city initiating such proposition) to wit: (herein insert in general terms reference to any debts to be assumed, and if none insert ‘none’) ?” .

If territory includes unincorporated territory and city or more than one city.

If additional territory is proposed to be added, which includes unincorporated territory and one or more incorporated cities or towns, or which includes more than one incorporated city or town, the consent of any such incorporated city or town shall be obtained by a majority vote of the qualified electors thereof voting upon a proposal substantially as follows:

“Shall (herein insert the name of the city or town to be included in such additional territory) be included in a district to be hereafter defined by the city of (herein insert the name of the city initiating the proposition to form a city and county government) which district shall, within two years from the date of this election, vote upon a proposal submitted as one indivisible question that such district to be then described and set forth shall consolidate with (herein insert name of the city initiating said consolidation proposition) in a consolidated city and county government, and also that a certain charter, to be prepared by the city of (herein insert name of the city initiating such proposition) be adopted as the charter of such consolidated city and county, and that such district become subject to taxation along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said district for the following indebtedness of said city of (herein insert name of the city initiating such proposition) to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed and if none insert 'none') ?”

Any and all incorporated cities or towns to which the foregoing proposal shall have been submitted and a majority of whose qualified electors voting thereon shall have voted in favor thereof, together with such unincorporated territory as the city initiating such consolidation proposal may desire to have included, the whole to form an area contiguous to said city, shall be created into a district by such city, and the proposal substantially as above prescribed to be used when the territory proposed to be added consists wholly of only one incorporated city or town, or wholly of unincorporated territory, shall, within two years, be submitted to the voters of said entire district as one indivisible question.

District
formed.

Upon consent to the separation of such district and of the city initiating the consolidation proposal being given by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the county in which the city proposing such separation is located, and upon the ratification of such charter by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in such city, and upon the approval of the proposal hereinbefore set forth by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the whole of said district so proposed to be added, and upon the approval of said charter by the legislature, as prescribed in section eight of this article, said charter shall be deemed adopted. the said indebtedness referred to in said proposal shall be deemed to have been assumed, and upon the date fixed in said charter, such district and such city shall be and become one consolidated city and county.

Consolidation completed.

6. It shall be competent for any consolidated city and county now existing, or which shall hereafter be organized, to annex territory contiguous to such consolidated city and county, unincorporated or otherwise, whether situated wholly in one county, or parts thereof be situate in different counties, said annexed territory to be an integral part of such city and county, provided that such annexation of territory shall only include any part of the territory which was at the time of the original consolidation of the annexing city and county, within the county from which such annexing city and county was formed, together with territory which was concurrently, or has since such consolidation been joined in a county government with the area of the original county not included in such consolidated city and county.

Annexation
of territory
to consolidated city
and county.

If additional territory, which consists wholly of only one incorporated city, city and county or town, or which consists wholly of unincorporated territory, is proposed to be annexed to any consolidated city and county now existing or which shall hereafter be organized, then, upon the consent to any such annexation being given by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in any county or counties in which any such additional territory is located, and upon the approval of such annexation proposal by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in such city and county, and also upon the approval of the proposal hereinafter set forth by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the whole of such territory proposed to be annexed, the indebtedness hereinafter referred to shall be deemed to have been assumed, and at the time stated in such proposal, such additional territory and such city and county shall be and become one consolidated city and county, to be governed by the charter of the city and county proposing such annexation, and any subsequent amendment thereto.

The proposal to be submitted to the territory proposed to be annexed, shall be substantially in the following form and submitted as one indivisible question:

“Shall the territory (herein designate in general terms the territory to be annexed) consolidate with the city and county of (herein insert the name of the city and county initiating the annexation proposal) in a consolidated city and county government, said consolidation to take effect (herein insert date when such consolidation shall take effect) and shall the said annexed territory become subject to taxation, as an integral part of the city and county so formed, in accordance with the assessable valuation of property of said territory for the following indebtedness of said city and county of (herein insert name of the city and county) to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed and if none insert ‘none’) ?”

If territory includes unincorporated territory and cities or more than one city

If additional territory including unincorporated territory and one or more incorporated cities, cities and counties, or towns, or including more than one incorporated city, city and county, or town, is proposed to be annexed to any consolidated city and county now existing or which shall hereafter be organized, the consent of each such incorporated city, city and county, or town, shall be obtained by a majority vote of the qualified electors of any such incorporated city, city and county, or town, voting upon a proposal substantially as follows:

“Shall (herein insert name of the city, city and county, or town, to be included in such annexed territory) be included in a district to be hereafter defined by the city and county of (herein insert the name of the city and county initiating the annexation proposal) which district shall within two years from the date of this election vote upon a proposal submitted as one indivisible question, that such district to be then described and set forth shall consolidate with (herein insert name of the city and county initiating the annexation proposal) in a consolidated city and county government, and that such district become subject to taxation, along with the entire territory of the proposed city and county in accordance with the assessable valuation of the property of said district for the following indebtedness of said city and county of (herein insert name of the city and county initiating the annexation proposal) to wit: (herein insert in general terms, reference to any debts to be assumed and if none insert 'none')?"

Any and all incorporated cities, cities and counties, or towns, to which the foregoing proposal shall have been submitted, and a majority of whose qualified electors voting thereon shall have voted in favor thereof, together with such unincorporated territory as the city and county initiating such annexation proposal may desire to have included, the whole to form an area contiguous to said city and county, shall be created into a district by said city and county, and the proposal substantially in the form above set forth to be used when the territory proposed to be added consists wholly of only one incorporated city, city and county, or town, or wholly of unincorporated territory, shall, within said two years, be submitted to the voters of said entire district as one indivisible question. District formed.

Upon consent to any such annexation being given by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in any county or counties in which any such territory proposed to be annexed to said city and county is located, and upon the approval of any such annexation proposal by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in such city and county proposing such annexation, and also upon the approval of the proposal hereinbefore set forth by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the whole of the district so proposed to be annexed, then, the said indebtedness referred to in said proposal shall be deemed to have been assumed, and upon the date stated in such annexation proposal such district and such city and county shall be and become one consolidated city and county, to be governed by the charter of the city and county proposing such annexation, and any subsequent amendment thereto.

Whenever any proposal is submitted to the electors of any county, territory, district, city, city and county, or town, as above provided, there shall be published, for at least five successive publications, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in any such county, territory, district, city, city and county, or town, the last publication to be not less than twenty days prior to any such election, a particular description of any territory or district to be separated, added, or annexed, together with a particular description of any debts to be assumed, as above referred to, unless such particular description is contained in the said proposal so submitted. In addition to said description, such territory shall also be designated in such notice by some appropriate name or other words of identification, by which such territory may be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at any election at which the question of annexation or consolidation of additional territory is submitted as herein provided. If there be no such newspaper so printed and published in any such county, territory, district, city, city and county, or town, then such publication may be made in any newspaper of Publication.

general circulation printed and published in the nearest county, city, city and county, or town where there may be such a newspaper so printed and published.

Debts and Liabilities.

If, by the adoption of any charter, or by annexation, any incorporated municipality becomes a portion of a city and county, its property, debts and liabilities of every description shall be and become the property, debts and liabilities of such city and county.

Every city and county which shall be formed, or the territory of which shall be enlarged as herein provided from territory taken from any county or counties, shall be liable for a just proportion of the debts and liabilities and be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets of such county or counties, existing at the time such territory is so taken.

The provisions of this constitution applicable to cities, and cities and counties, and also those applicable to counties, so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities, or cities and counties, shall be applicable to such consolidated city and county government; and no provision of subdivision five or six of this section shall be construed as a restriction upon the plenary authority of any city or city and county having a freeholders' charter, as provided for in this constitution, to determine in said charter any and all matters elsewhere in this constitution authorized and not inconsistent herewith.

Counties formed from remaining territory.

The legislature shall provide for the formation of one or more counties from the portion or portions of a county or counties remaining after the formation of or annexation to a consolidated city and county, or for the transfer of such portion or portions of such original county or counties to adjoining counties. But such transfer to an adjoining county shall only be made after approval by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting thereon in such territory proposed to be so transferred.

The provisions of section two of this article, and also those provisions of section three of this article which refer to the passing of any county line within five miles of the exterior boundary of a city or town in which a county seat of any county proposed to be divided is situated, and to the reducing of the population of any county upon the establishment of a new county, and to the minimum population on the forming of a new county, shall not apply to the formation of, nor to the extension of the territory of such consolidated cities and counties, nor to the formation of new counties, nor to the annexation of existing counties, as herein specified.

Name.

Any city and county formed under this section shall have the right, if it so desires, to be designated by the official name of the city initiating the consolidation as it existed immediately prior to its adoption of a charter providing for a consolidated city and county government, except that such city and county shall be known under the style of a city and county.

Borough
system.

It shall be competent in any charter framed for a consolidated city and county, or by amendment thereof, to provide for the establishment of a borough system of government for the whole or any part of the territory of said city and county, by which one or more districts may be created therein, which districts shall be known as boroughs and which shall exercise such municipal powers as may be granted thereto by such charter, and for the organization, regulation, government and jurisdiction of such boroughs; provided, that in the event of such establishment or creation of a borough or boroughs, as hereinabove permitted, the boundaries thereof shall never afterwards be changed or altered, nor shall the governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction of any such borough or boroughs be thereafter limited, extended, modified or taken away, unless and until the borough or boroughs affected by such proposed change or alteration of boundaries, or by the proposed limitation, extension, modification or taking away of governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction, as the case may be, shall each have consented thereto, by the vote of a majority of the voters in each and every such borough, voting at an election or elections called and held for such purpose in each of the boroughs so affected.

Borough
system.

No property in any territory hereafter consolidated with or annexed to any city or county shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness of such city or county outstanding at the date of such consolidation or annexation and for the payment of which the property in such territory was not, prior to such consolidation or annexation, subject to such taxation, unless there shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of such territory the proposition regarding the assumption of indebtedness as hereinbefore set forth and the same shall have been approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon.

No tax for bonded
indebtedness.

7. In all cases of annexation of unincorporated territory to an incorporated city, or the consolidation of two or more incorporated cities, assumption of existing bonded indebtedness by such unincorporated territory or by either of the cities so consolidating may be made by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting thereon in the territory or city which shall assume an existing bonded indebtedness. This provision shall apply whether annexation or consolidation is effected under this section or any other section of this constitution, and the provisions of section eighteen of this article shall not be a prohibition thereof.

Assumption
indebtedness

The legislature shall enact such general laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and such general or special laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of subdivisions five and six of this section, including any such general or special act as may be necessary to permit a consolidated city and county to submit a new charter or charter amendment to take effect at the time that any consolidation, by reason of annexation to such consolidated city and county, takes effect, and, also, any such general law or special act as may be necessary to provide for any period after such consolidation, by reason of such annexation, takes effect, and prior to the adoption and approval of any such new charter or charter amendment.

Investigation of date of discovery of gold.

WHEREAS, The monument erected to the memory of James W. Marshall and to commemorate the discovery of gold in California, located at Coloma, El Dorado county, bears an inscription setting forth the date of such discovery as January 19, 1849; and

WHEREAS, Doubt has been cast upon the correctness of the date set forth in said inscription; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That a committee of three persons, one of whom shall be a member of the order of Native Sons of the Golden West, and one of whom shall be a member of the Society of Pioneers, shall be appointed by the governor to investigate the matter and to determine the correct date of such discovery; that after such investigation, if the committee so appointed as herein provided shall determine that the present inscription on said monument is erroneous, said committee shall appear before the board of trustees of Sutter's Fort, which said board of trustees has charge of the maintenance and upkeep of said monument, and request the said board of trustees to change the inscription now on said monument and to cause the correct date to be engraved on the monument according to the findings of the committee herein provided for, and the said board of trustees of Sutter's Fort is hereby authorized and is directed to change the inscription on said monument so as to show the correct date in accordance with the findings of said committee.

CHAPTER 41.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 21, approving amendments to the charter of the city of San Rafael, a municipal corporation, in the county of Marin, State of California, voted for and ratified by the qualified electors of said city at a general election held therein on the twelfth day of April, 1915.

[Filed with Secretary of State April 19, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The City of San Rafael in the County of Marin, State of California, has been at all times mentioned herein, and is now a Municipal Corporation of the State of California, containing a population of more than Three Thousand Five Hundred inhabitants, as ascertained and established by the last preceding census taken under the direction of the Congress of United States, and is now and ever since the thirty-first day of March, 1913, has been organized and existing and acting under a Preeholders' Charter adopted under and by virtue of Section eight Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, which said Charter was duly ratified by the qualified electors of said City of San Rafael at an election held for that purpose on the thirtieth day of November, 1912, and approved by the Legislature of the State of California by Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 12, which was filed with the Secretary of State of the State of California, on March 31, 1913; and

San Rafael
city charter
amendments.

WHEREAS, A petition signed by more than fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of said City of San Rafael, computed on the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for governor at the last preceding General Election at which a governor was elected, was on the 4th day of March, 1915, filed in the office of the City Clerk of said City of San Rafael, petitioning the Council thereof to submit certain proposed amendments to the Charter of said City, which amendments were therein set forth in full, to the qualified electors of said City of San Rafael at the General Municipal Election to be held in the City of San Rafael on April 12, 1915, and said petition having been duly examined by the City Clerk of said City and found by him to be signed by the requisite number of qualified electors of said City, and being by him duly certified, was presented to said Council in the manner required by law; and

WHEREAS, Upon the presentation of said petition to said Council, said Council did on the 4th day of March, 1915, duly enact and adopt Resolution No. 34 of said City of San Rafael, which Resolution was on said date approved by Richard Kinsella, the Mayor and Chief Executive of said City, and which Resolution was thereafter published for the time and in the manner required by law; and

city charter
amendments

WHEREAS, By said Resolution it was ordered and ordained that all of said amendments set forth in said petition be submitted to the qualified electors of said City at said General Municipal Election for ratification or rejection; and

WHEREAS, All of said proposed amendments to said Charter were duly published pursuant to the order of said Council for three times, to wit, on March 6th, 13th and 20th, 1915, in the Marin County Tocsin, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in said City of San Rafael; and

WHEREAS, Each and all of said proposed amendments were duly submitted to the qualified electors of said City of San Rafael at said General Municipal Election held on the said twelfth day of April, 1915, which said General Municipal Election was held not less than twenty days nor more than forty days after the completion of the publication of such proposals for three times in said weekly newspaper; and

WHEREAS, in and by said Resolution, so passed, approved and published, as aforesaid, said proposed amendments, respectively, were submitted to the qualified electors of said City at said General Municipal Election; and

WHEREAS, on the sixteenth day of April, 1915, at a meeting of said Council of said City of San Rafael, duly convened in accordance with law and with the provisions of said Charter of said City, said Mayor and Council of said City of San Rafael, did duly and regularly canvass the returns of said General Municipal Election, so held on the twelfth day of April, 1915, and did find therefrom that such of said proposed amendments to said Charter as are herein-after particularly set forth, were, and each of them was duly ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon; and

WHEREAS, said Mayor and Council, after canvassing said returns, and at said meeting so held aforesaid, after said canvass, did duly find and declare that certain of said proposed amendments, had been ratified by a majority of the Electors voting thereon; and

WHEREAS, said amendments so ratified by the electors of said City of San Rafael, at said General Municipal Election held on the twelfth day of April, 1915, are now submitted to the Legislature of the State of California, for approval or rejection, as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with the provisions of Section eight of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California; and

WHEREAS, no other proposed amendments of said charter had been submitted to the electors of said City of San Rafael within two years immediately prior to said twelfth day of April, 1915,

Now, therefore, the undersigned S. K. Herzog, the Mayor, and Chief Executive of the City of San Rafael, and Eugene W. Smith, City Clerk and ex officio Clerk of the Council of said City, authenticating their signatures with the official seal of said City,

Do hereby certify, that said amendments to said Charter of said City, so ratified by a majority of the electors voting thereon at said General Municipal Election, held on the twelfth day of April, 1915, as submitted to said electors and ratified by said electors are in the words and figures as follows, and are and shall, if so approved by said Legislature, be in the words and figures following, to wit:

San Rafael city charter amendments

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 1.

That a new section be added to Article VII of the Charter of the City of San Rafael, to be numbered Section 13 and to read as follows:

Section 13. The Council may, by Ordinance or Resolution, authorize the expenditure of money not to exceed the sum of One Thousand ($1000.00) Dollars in any one fiscal year for advertising purposes or for the celebration of such public events or demonstrations as the Council may deem proper.

Expenditures for advertising, etc.

CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 2.

That Section 9 Article XIII of the Charter of the City of San Rafael be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 9. The maximum time of labor or service required of any laborer, workman, or mechanic employed upon any municipal work, whether employed directly by the City and its officers, or by a contractor, or subcontractor, shall be eight hours during any one calendar day, and the minimum wages of any laborer, workman or mechanic shall be Three ($3.00) Dollars per day.

Hours of labor.

Minimum wage.

And said S. K. Herzog, as Mayor and Chief Executive of said City, and Eugene W. Smith, as Clerk of said City and ex officio Clerk of the Council of said City, do hereby further certify that they have this day carefully compared the foregoing proposed and ratified amendments to the Charter of said City of San Rafael with the original petition requiring their said submission to said qualified electors for ratification or rejection, as aforesaid, with said Resolution Number Thirty-four and Resolution Number Thirty-five submitting them to the qualified electors of said City at a General Municipal Election held in said City on the twelfth day of April, 1915, and with proceedings of the Council of said City on file in the office of said Clerk, subsequent to the passage of said Resolution and the filing of said petition and relating to the adoption of said amendments, and from said comparison and examination they find, and hereby certify that the foregoing contains a true, full, exact and correct copy of said Charter amendments to said Charter of said City of San Rafael, so ratified as aforesaid.

Certificate.

And we further hereby certify that the facts set forth in the preamble of this certificate preceding said amendments to said Charter, are, and each of them is, true,

Certificate.

And, for and on behalf of said City, we, being hereinbefore duly authorized, do hereby request the Legislature of the State of California, to adopt and approve each of said amendments to said Charter, as a whole, and to take such other and further steps and proceedings as may be necessary to perfect such approval.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and caused our signatures, authenticated by the official seal of said City, to be hereunto attached, this thirteenth day of March, 1917.

S. K. HERZOG,
Mayor and Chief Executive of the City of San Rafael.

ATTEST :

EUGENE W. SMITH,
City Clerk of the City of San Rafael and ex officio Clerk of the Council of the City of San Rafael.

AND, WHEREAS, The said proposed amendments so ratified as hereinabove set forth have been duly presented and submitted to the legislature of the State of California for approval or rejection, without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California; now, therefore, be it

Approval by
legislature.

Resolved by the senate of the State of California, the assembly thereof concurring (a majority of all the members elected to each house voting therefor and concurring therein), That said amendments to the charter of the city of San Rafael as proposed to and adopted and ratified by the electors of said city, and as hereinbefore fully set forth, be and the same are, and each of them is, hereby approved as a whole without amendment or alteration, for and as amendments to, and as part of the charter of the city of San Rafael.

CHAPTER 42.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 22, relative to adoption of joint rules.

[Filed with Secretary of State April 19, 1917.]

Joint rules.

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the following be adopted as the joint rules of the two houses of the legislature for its forty-second session:

Committees and Committee Meetings.

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Standing committees.

1. Subject to the right of either House to appoint additional committees, the following standing committees shall be appointed in the Senate and Assembly, the number of members and the manner of selection to be determined by the rules of each House: Standing committees.

- (1) Agriculture.
- (2) Banking.
- (3) Commerce and Navigation.
- (4) Corporations.
- (5) County Government.
- (6) Drainage, Swamp and Overflowed Lands.
- (7) Education.
- (8) Elections.
- (9) Federal Relations.
- (10) Finance in the Senate, and Ways and Means in the Assembly.
- (11) Fish and Game.
- (12) Hospitals and Asylums.
- (13) Insurance.
- (14) Irrigation.
- (15) Judiciary.
- (16) Labor and Capital.
- (17) Military Affairs.
- (18) Mines and Mining.
- (19) Municipal Corporations.
- (20) Oil Industries.
- (21) Prisons and Reformatories.
- (22) Public Health and Quarantine.
- (23) Public Morals.
- (24) Public Utilities.
- (25) Revenue and Taxation.
- (26) Roads and Highways.
- (27) Rules.

JOINT COMMITTEES.

2. Joint standing committees of Senate and Assembly shall be appointed as follows: Joint committees.

(1) Committee on Revision and Printing, to consist of three (3) members from the Senate and five (5) from the Assembly.

(2) Committee on Joint Rules to consist of the members of the rules committee of each House.

JOINT MEETING OF COMMITTEES.

3. Whenever any bill has been referred by the Senate to one of its committees, and the same or a like bill has been referred by the Assembly to one of its committees, the chairmen of the respective committees, when in their judgment the interests of legislation or the expedition of business will be better served thereby, shall arrange for a joint meeting of their committees for the consideration of such bill. Joint meeting of committees.

Bills and Resolutions.

SCOPE OF WORD "BILL."

"Bill." 4. Whenever the word "bill" is used in these rules it shall include constitutional amendments, joint and concurrent resolutions.

JOINT AND CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS.

Joint and concurrent resolutions.

5. Joint resolutions are those which relate to matters connected with the federal government. All other resolutions relating to matters to be treated by both Houses of the Legislature are concurrent resolutions.

RESOLUTIONS TREATED AS BILLS.

Resolutions as bills.

6. Joint resolutions, concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments shall be treated in all respects as bills; except that they shall be read but one time in each House, and that they shall not be deemed bills within the meaning of section 2 of article IV of the Constitution and shall not be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills, and shall not require a vote to authorize their introduction. As in the case of bills, they shall be engrossed in the House in which they originate before being voted upon.

Preparation and Introduction of Bills.

TITLE OF BILL.

Title.

7. The title of every bill introduced shall convey an accurate idea of the contents of the bill and shall be indicative of the scope of the act and the object to be accomplished. In amending a code section, the mere reference to the section by number shall not be deemed sufficient.

DIVISION OF BILL INTO SECTIONS.

Division into sections.

8. Bills amending more than one section of existing laws shall contain a separate section for each section amended.

Bills which are not amendatory of existing laws shall be divided into short sections, where this can be done without destroying the sense of any particular section, to the end that future amendments may be made without the necessity of setting forth and repeating sections of unnecessary length.

CHANGES FROM CODE TO BE MARKED BY AUTHOR.

Code amendments.

9. In case of a bill amending a code section, or general law, all omissions must be shown by the insertion of heavy parentheses without including the omitted matter; all additions must be shown by underlining the new matter. When printed, the new matter so underlined shall be enclosed in heavy brackets in the printed bill and the heavy parentheses shall be retained.

COMMITTEE ON REVISION AND PRINTING TO EXAMINE BILLS WHEN INTRODUCED.

10. Unless otherwise ordered by the House in which the bill was introduced, all bills before being printed shall be immediately sent to the Committee on Revision and Printing, which shall examine the bill, with the aid of the Legislative Counsel Bureau. The committee, by and with the written assent of the author filed with it, shall have authority to correct any clerical error such as in orthography, adding or correcting the enacting clause, mistakes in numbering sections and references thereto, errors in grammar, phraseology, or in the form of the bill; provided, that no bill which bears the stamp of the Legislative Counsel Bureau showing that before introduction it has been examined as to form, shall be sent to the Committee on Revision and Printing.

Examination when introduced.

BILLS INTRODUCED TO INDICATE CHANGES IN CODE SECTIONS.

11. The Committee on Revision and Printing shall see to it that Rule 9 of these Joint Rules is observed by the author, and that the bill shall not be sent to the printer until the provisions of this rule have been carried out.

Code amendments.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEE ON REVISION AND PRINTING.

12. The Committee on Revision and Printing shall return to the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly all bills in the order in which they were sent to it, but shall not retain any bill for longer than three legislative days, unless otherwise ordered.

Return of bills from committee on revision and printing.

ENDORSEMENT OF DATE OF INTRODUCTION.

13. Bills introduced in either House shall be endorsed with the date of introduction.

Date of introduction.

Printing and Distribution of Bills.

MANNER OF PRINTING BILLS, ETC.

14. The State Printer shall observe the following directions in printing all bills, constitutional amendments, joint and concurrent resolutions:

Manner of printing.

(a) The body of such bills and resolutions shall be printed in solid unspaced form so that the same type shall be used both before and after enrollment.

(b) All titles of bills, resolutions, etc., shall be set in italics, statute form, and the length of the lines used in the bills shall not exceed that of the body of the bill.

(c) The lines of all printed bills shall be numbered by page and not by sections, and amendments shall be identified by reference to title, page and line only.

(d) Enrolled bills may be enclosed in stock cover.

PRINTING OF AMENDMENTS.

Printing of
amendments.

15. All bills amended by either House shall be immediately reprinted; in the case new matter is added by the amendments, such new matter shall be enclosed in heavy brackets in the printed bill, and in the case of matter being omitted, the omission shall be indicated by heavy parentheses, said brackets and parentheses to be of a different character from those provided for in Joint Rule 9. When a bill is amended in either House, the first or previous markings, except those showing change from former law, shall be omitted. When a bill amendatory of a code section is engrossed, all figures or symbols shall be removed, and all parentheses or brackets shall be removed except those necessary to be retained to show the difference between the engrossed bill and the existing code section.

DISTRIBUTION OF BILLS DURING CONSTITUTIONAL RECESS.

Distribution
during constitutional
recess.

16. All requests for mailing or distribution by the members shall be filed with the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly not later than the end of the second week of the first part of the session, the same to be immediately referred to the Committees on Revision and Printing; this list shall be compiled, with the elimination of duplication, as a general public mailing list. The distribution of bills, constitutional amendments, joint and concurrent resolutions shall be systematized as follows: Members' desks and legislative officers' files, 150 full sets; members' individual selection, 5 full sets each; to authors, 50 copies of their own bills; accredited newspaper representatives, 25; to public and law libraries, newspapers, county officials, and other civic, commercial, fraternal or industrial organizations as the joint printing committees may compile from the recommendations of the members of both Houses, 1500 copies; to state officers, State Library and Secretary of State, 200 copies; to legislative committees, bill room files and public requests—confined to single copies of bills designated, 1000 copies. The State Printer shall cause to be printed in the standard form adopted by the Senate and the Assembly as many copies of all bills, constitutional amendments and joint or concurrent resolutions as may be necessary to conform to the provisions of this rule.

A similar number and distribution shall be made of the Semi-Final History and Final Calendar.

DISTRIBUTION OF BILLS AFTER CONSTITUTIONAL RECESS.

Distribution
after constitutional
recess.

17. Following the recess, new bills introduced shall be forwarded to the public libraries and law libraries only, and one copy each of amended bills as may be requested. Weekly Histories and Journals shall be distributed generally, following the recess, upon such schedule as the joint printing committees may designate.

Other Legislative Printing.

PRINTING OF THE DAILY JOURNAL.

18. The State Printer shall print one thousand copies of the Journal of each day's proceedings of each House; at the end of the session he shall also print a sufficient number of copies, properly paged after being corrected and indexed by the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly, to bind in book form as the Journal of the respective Houses of the Legislature as required by law. Daily journal.

WHAT SHALL BE PRINTED IN THE JOURNAL.

19. The following shall always be printed in the Journal of each House: What shall be printed.

(a) Messages from the Governor and messages from the other House, and the titles of all bills, and the titles and text of joint and concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments when introduced in, or offered to, or acted upon by the House; provided, that in the case of a concurrent resolution approving the adoption of a charter or charter amendments of any kind, the text of such charter or charter amendments need not be printed in the Journal.

(b) Every vote taken in the House, and a statement of the contents of each petition, memorial, or paper presented to the House.

(c) A true and accurate account of the proceedings of the House, when not acting as a committee of the whole.

PRINTING OF THE DAILY FILE.

20. A daily file of bills ready for consideration shall be printed each day for each House, and copies of the file of each House shall be distributed each day to all the members of both Houses. Daily file.

PRINTING OF HISTORY.

21. Each House shall cause to be printed on Monday of each week, during the session, a complete history of all bills, joint or concurrent resolutions and constitutional amendments originating in, or acted upon by the respective Houses. History.

Such history shall show the action taken upon each measure up to and including the legislative day preceding its issuance. For each legislative day intervening there shall be printed a supplementary history showing the action taken upon any measure since the issuance of the complete History. A regular form shall be prescribed and no other form shall be used.

Immediately following the adjournment for the constitutional recess the History shall be compiled and printed to date of recess.

AUTHORITY FOR PRINTING ORDERS.

Printing
orders.

22. The Superintendent of State Printing shall not print for use of either House any matter other than provided by law or by these rules, except upon a written order signed by the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the Assembly. The Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly may also, when necessity requires it, order certain matter printed in advance of the regular order, by the issuance of a rush order.

Record of Bills.

SECRETARY AND CLERK TO KEEP REGISTER.

Register of bills.

23. The Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall keep a register, in which shall be recorded every action taken by the Senate and Assembly on every bill, concurrent or joint resolution, or constitutional amendment.

SECRETARY AND CLERK SHALL ENDORSE BILLS.

Endorsement.

24. The Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall indorse on every original bill a statement of any action taken by the Senate and Assembly.

Action in One House on Bill Transmitted From the Other.

BILLS READ AND REFERRED TO COMMITTEE.

Bills from other house.

25. When a Senate bill has been received by the Assembly or an Assembly bill by the Senate, with a message announcing that the same has passed the Senate or Assembly, such bill shall be read the first time by the Secretary or the Chief Clerk and referred to a standing committee by the presiding officer, unless otherwise ordered by the House.

AFTER A BILL HAS BEEN PASSED BY THE SENATE OR ASSEMBLY.

Procedure

26. When a bill (if it be a Senate bill) has been received from the Senate by the Assembly, after its passage, or (if it be an Assembly bill) has been received from the Assembly by the Senate after its passage, it shall be taken up by the Senate or Assembly, as the case may be, under the regular order of business ("Senate Messages" or "Assembly Messages"), read the first time, unless otherwise ordered by the House, and shall then be assigned to the proper committee, unless otherwise ordered, who shall act upon the same as soon as practicable, and report the same back to the Senate or Assembly forthwith, and the chairman of each committee is charged with observance of this rule; provided, that the Senate or Assembly may, at any time, order such bill reported back from any committee by a majority vote of all the members of the House in which the action is taken.

SPECIAL FILE.

27. On the second day after the close of the recess provided for in section 2 article IV. of the Constitution, the Senate and Assembly shall each adopt and provide a special file upon which shall be placed: In the Senate, only Assembly bills that have passed the Assembly; and in the Assembly, only Senate bills that have passed the Senate. Such special file shall be taken up at two o'clock p.m. of each day, and be considered at least one hour and a half after being so taken up unless its consideration shall be completed in a lesser period of time. This rule shall not be suspended in either House except by a three-fourths vote of such House. Special file.

*Reports From One House to the Other as to Action on Bill.*BILL OR RESOLUTION IN ONE HOUSE, REJECTED IN THE OTHER, REQUIRES NOTICE.

28. When a bill or resolution which shall have passed one House is rejected by the other, notice thereof shall be given immediately to the House in which the same shall have passed. Reports from one house to another.

EACH HOUSE TO TRANSMIT PAPERS.

29. Each House shall transmit to the other papers on which any bill or resolution shall be founded.

NOTICES TO BE IN WRITING UNDER PROPER SIGNATURES.

30. Notice of the action of either House to the other shall be in writing, and under the signature of the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the House from which such notice is to be conveyed.

SECRETARY, CLERK, ETC., TO DISPATCH MESSAGES.

31. Messages shall be sent to the other House by an officer or attache to be designated by the Secretary, if it be a Senate message, or by the Chief Clerk, if it is an Assembly message.

MESSAGES MUST BE ANNOUNCED BY THE SERGEANT-AT-ARMS.

32. When a message shall be sent from either House it shall be announced at the door by the Sergeant-at-Arms, and shall be respectfully communicated to the presiding officer by the person by whom it may be sent.

Passage and Enrolling of Bills.

PASSAGE OF BILLS TAKING EFFECT IMMEDIATELY.

33. Each House shall act in the usual course upon all bills that may be made to take effect immediately, under the provisions of section 1, article IV. of the Constitution. Passing of urgency measures.

PASSAGE OF URGENCY PROVISIONS IN BILLS.

Passing of urgency provisions.

34. Upon the third reading of an act which is an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1 of article IV of the State Constitution, the presiding officer shall direct that the section of said act setting forth the facts constituting the necessity for such urgency (which shall be known as the urgency section) be then read and put to vote. The question shall be thus stated: "Shall this section setting forth the urgency features of this bill be passed?" If upon such final vote two-thirds of all the members elected to the House in which the vote is being taken shall not vote in the affirmative, no further action shall be taken on the bill; but, in case an identical bill without such an emergency clause be again introduced into such House, such bill shall be placed on file without reference to any committee.

PASSAGE OF BILLS PRECEDING FINAL ADJOURNMENT.

Passage of bills in final week of session.

35. No Senate bill shall be passed by the Senate and no Assembly bill shall be passed by the Assembly within seven days of the time set for adjournment (sine die) of the two houses of the Legislature, unless permission to vote on such bill shall be granted by a three-fourths vote of the House of its origin after being recommended by the presiding officer thereof.

ENROLLMENT OF BILL AFTER PASSAGE.

Enrollment.

36. After a bill shall have passed both Houses, it shall be duly enrolled after being carefully compared, by the Engrossing and Enrolling Clerk and Committee of the House in which it originated, with the engrossed bill as passed in the two Houses. It shall then receive the signatures provided for in Joint Rule 37, and be presented to the Governor of the State.

ENROLLING COMMITTEE TO PRESENT BILLS TO GOVERNOR.

Presentation to Governor.

37. After a bill shall have been thus passed in each House, it shall be presented by the Engrossing and Enrolling Committee of the House in which it originated to the Governor of the State for his approval (it being first indorsed by the presiding officers of the two Houses, and by the Secretary of the Senate and Chief Clerk of the Assembly). The said committee shall report the day of presentation to the Governor, which time shall be carefully entered on the Journal of the House in which the bill originated.

Amendments and Conferences.

AMENDMENTS TO AMENDED BILLS MUST BE ATTACHED.

Amendments.

38. Whenever a bill or resolution which shall have been passed in one House shall be amended in the other it shall immediately be reprinted as amended by the House making such amendment or amendments. Such amendment or amendments shall be attached to the bill or resolution so amended, and indorsed "adopted," and such amendment or amendments, <sup>Amendments.</sup> if concurred in by the House in which such bill or resolution originated, shall be indorsed "concurred in," and such indorsement shall be signed by the Secretary or Assistant Secretary of the Senate, or the Chief Clerk or Assistant Clerk of the Assembly, as the case may be; provided, however, that an amendment to the title of a bill adopted after the passage of such bill shall not necessitate reprinting, but such amendment must be concurred in by the House in which such bill originated.

TO CONCUR OR REFUSE TO CONCUR IN AMENDMENTS.

39. In case the Senate amend and pass an Assembly bill, or the Assembly amend and pass a Senate bill, the Senate (if it be a Senate bill) or the Assembly (if it be an Assembly bill) must either "concur" or "refuse to concur" in the amendments. If the Senate concur (if it be a Senate bill), or the Assembly concur (if it be an Assembly bill), the Secretary or Chief Clerk shall notify the House making the amendments, and the bill shall be ordered to enrollment. <sup>Concurrence in amendments.</sup>

WHEN SENATE OR ASSEMBLY REFUSE TO CONCUR.

40. If the Senate refuse to concur (if it be a Senate bill), or the Assembly refuse to concur (if it be an Assembly bill), the Secretary or the Chief Clerk shall notify the House making the amendments of such refusal, and ask that they recede from their amendments. If they refuse to recede, the presiding officer shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference and the Secretary or the Chief Clerk shall immediately notify the other House of the action taken and request the appointment of a like committee. Two of the members comprising such committee from each House shall be selected from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from each House of such committee shall be selected from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote. The first Senator named on the Conference Committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the Senate, and the first Assemblyman named on such committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the House, and the chairmen thus selected shall arrange the time and place of all meetings and prepare or direct the preparation of reports. The Committee on Conference shall report to both the Senate and Assembly. <sup>Committee on conference.</sup>

COMMITTEE ON CONFERENCE.

41. In every case of an amendment of a bill agreed to in one House and dissented from in the other, if either House shall request a conference and appoint a committee to confer, the other House shall appoint a like committee; and such committee shall meet at a convenient hour, to be agreed upon by the respective chairmen of the committees.

COMMITTEE ON FREE CONFERENCE.

Committee on Free conference.

42. If the conference fail to agree or either House refuse to adopt the report of the committee, a Committee on Free Conference shall then be appointed which shall consist of three members from each House to be constituted and appointed in the same manner as a Committee on Conference. The Committee on Free Conference is hereby directed to include in its report any amendments which it may adopt as a committee, and such amendments shall be attached to the bill.

The report of the Committee on Free Conference shall not be subject to amendment, and if either House refuse to adopt such report the conferees may be discharged and other conferees appointed.

It shall require the affirmative vote of not less than four of the members constituting the committee to agree upon a report. No member who has served on a Committee on Conference shall be appointed a member of a Committee on Free Conference on the same bill.

WHEN CONFERENCE COMMITTEE REPORT IS IN ORDER.

Report.

43. The presentation of the report of a Committee on Conference or Free Conference shall always be in order, except when the Journal is being read or a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending, or during roll call, and, when received, the question of proceeding to the consideration of the report, if raised, shall be immediately passed upon, and shall be determined without debate.

Miscellaneous Provisions.

44. The Committee on Joint Rules shall be empowered to compile a list of suggestions as to the form of bills and resolutions prepared for introduction into the Legislature.

PRESS RULES.

Press rules.

45. A person desiring recognition by the Senate or Assembly as a newspaper correspondent shall make application in writing to the President of the Senate or Speaker of the Assembly.

(a) The applicant shall state in writing the name of the newspaper or newspapers he represents and that he is not engaged, and will not become engaged as a lobbyist for any person, copartnership, corporation or interest and that he is not and will not become the agent or representative of any person, copartnership, organization or corporation in advocating or attempting to defeat any measure pending in either branch of the Legislature, that he is not employed in any executive, administrative or legislative department of the State government and will not become so employed while accepting the privileges of a press representative.

(b) It shall be the duty of the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the Assembly to assign one or more rooms for the exclusive use of correspondents during the legislative session, which room shall be known as the press room. The press room shall be under the control of the Superintendent of Capitol Building and Grounds; provided, that all rules and regulations shall be approved by the President of the Senate and Speaker of the Assembly.

ADJOURNMENT.

46. Adjournment for the constitutional recess and adjournment sine die shall be made only by concurrent resolution; and the resolution for adjournment sine die shall be passed by both Houses at least 28 days before the date of such adjournment. Adjournment.

JOINT ADDRESS TO GOVERNOR.

47. When the Senate and Assembly shall judge it proper to make a joint address to the Governor, it shall be presented to him in his audience chamber by the President of the Senate in the presence of the Speaker of the Assembly and a select committee of six members from each House appointed by the respective presiding officers. Joint address to Governor.

DISPENSING WITH JOINT RULES.

48. No Joint Rule shall be dispensed with except by vote of two-thirds of each House; and Joint Rules 27 and 35 can be dispensed with only in the manner provided for in said Joint Rules. If either House shall violate a Joint Rule a question of order may be raised in the other House and decided in the same manner as in the case of the violation of the rules of such House; and if it shall be decided that the Joint Rules have been violated, the bill involving such violation shall be returned to the House in which it originated, without further action. Or, at the option of such House, the President or Speaker may direct the Secretary or the Chief Clerk to mark the section or sections in conflict with the rules as nonconcurring in or negated. Dispensing with joint rules.

CHAPTER 43.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 6, relative to the construction and maintenance of a military highway along the Pacific coast from the Canadian border to the Mexican border.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The building and maintaining of a military highway along the Pacific coast from the Canadian border to the Mexican border would be of the greatest benefit to the United States government and to the states on the Pacific coast in supplying coast forts with guns and ammunition, and in the handling of artillery and ammunition; and Military highway along Pacific coast.

Military highway along Pacific coast.

WHEREAS, Such a highway would be of incalculable benefit in mobilizing troops in the event of an attempted invasion, and all other incidents appertaining thereto; and

WHEREAS, The people of the Pacific coast states realize the necessity of such a highway and urgently request the building and maintaining of such a highway; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and the assembly, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California memorializes the congress of the United States to take such steps as may be necessary to provide for the building and maintaining of such a highway, and to make an appropriation of sufficient size to carry out said work; and be it further

Resolved, That the senators and representatives in congress from the State of California be requested to use all honorable means to secure the action desired in this matter for the purpose aforesaid; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the president of the United States, the secretary of the interior, the president of the senate, the speaker of the house of representatives and to each of the senators and representatives in congress from the State of California, including those to assume office on March 4, 1917.

CHAPTER 44.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 7, relative to the devoting revenues from national forests to the construction of works for flood control.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Use of revenues from national forests for flood control.

WHEREAS, The streams and rivers of California are subject to destructive floods entailing great loss of property and life; and

WHEREAS, The sources of most of said streams are in national forest reserves, wholly within the State of California, and contain vast quantities of timber estimated to amount to more than ninety-four billion feet, and all of which is exempt from taxation by the state and may not at present be made use of by her people; and

WHEREAS, The government obtains large revenues from said forests, only a lesser portion of which is returned to or expended in the state; therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly, jointly, That the legislature of California does hereby recommend to the senators and representatives of the state in congress, to use their best endeavors to secure the setting aside of all revenues derived from national forest reserves in the state, not required for the administrative cost thereof, to create a fund for the construction of dams and other works for the control of floods in streams subject to destructive floods in the State of California.

CHAPTER 45.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 9, relating to needy Indians within the State of California.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, There are within the borders of the State of California approximately four thousand Indians without permanent homes, without any or adequate school facilities, and a considerable number of them without necessary food, shelter and medical attendance; and

Provision for needy Indians.

WHEREAS, The massing of these Indians in certain thinly populated districts makes provision for them at the expense of their white neighbors under the prevalent school and pauper laws of the state an unfair, inequitable and intolerable burden; and

WHEREAS, While it has been the general policy of the national government to assume the care of Indians, yet it has not always been practicable or for the best interest of the Indians themselves to remove them to reservations; and

WHEREAS, The general policy of state and national cooperation, as outlined by the Indian board of cooperation of California, has been already approved by the commissioner of Indian affairs and by our representatives in congress; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly of the State of California, jointly, That our representatives in congress be and are hereby memorialized to attempt to secure provision in the Indian appropriation bill (1) for the purchase of adequate and permanent allotments with necessary improvements for homeless Indians; (2) for providing school buildings and equipment for Indians in districts where their numbers and the necessities demand it; and (3) for cooperation with county officials in securing proper care for sick and destitute Indians, until the necessity therefor no longer exists.

CHAPTER 46.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 13, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to article eleven of the constitution of the state by adding a new section thereto, to be known as section seven and one-half of article eleven, relating to the consolidation of city and county government and to the framing of charters therefor and amendments to such charters.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

The legislature of the State of California at its forty-second regular session, commencing the eighth day of January, one Constitutional amendment.

thousand nine hundred seventeen, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that a new section be added to article eleven of the constitution of the State of California to be known as section seven and one-half a of said article eleven, and to read as follows:

Charter for consolidated city and county government.

Sec. 7½*a*. Any county organized under the general law, and having, at the time this section takes effect, a population of two hundred thousand inhabitants or over, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under authority of the congress of the United States, and having within its territorial boundaries one or more incorporated cities or towns, may frame a charter for a consolidated city and county government, by causing a board of fifteen freeholders, who have been for at least five years qualified electors of the county, to be elected by the qualified electors of said county, at a special election. Said board of freeholders may be so elected in pursuance of an ordinance adopted by the vote of three-fifths of all of the members of the board of supervisors of such county, declaring that public interest requires the election of such board of freeholders for the purpose of preparing and proposing a charter for a consolidated city and county, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this constitution provided for city and county government; or in pursuance of a petition of qualified electors of said county as hereinafter provided; which said petition must state the name and address of a person or persons to whom notice of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent in the event that the petition shall not have the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto. Such petition, signed by fifteen per centum of the qualified electors of said county, computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for governor at the last preceding general election at which a governor was elected, praying for the election of a board of fifteen freeholders to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government, with or without a system of boroughs, with combined powers of a city and a county, as in this constitution provided, may be filed in the office of the county clerk. It shall be the duty of the said county clerk, within twenty days after the filing of said petition, to examine the same, and to ascertain from the record of the registration of the electors of the county, whether said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. If required by said clerk, the board of supervisors shall authorize him to employ persons to assist him in the work of examining such petition, and the board shall provide for their compensation. Upon the completion of such examination, said clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing the results of his examination, and if, by said certificate, it shall appear that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. If it appear by said certificate that said petition has not the required number of signatures of the qualified electors signed thereto, the said clerk shall so notify the person or persons whose name or names are mentioned therein, to whom the notification of the insufficiency of the petition shall be sent. Whereupon the petitioners shall have thirty days from and after the date of receiving the notice of insufficiency from the clerk, to present and file additional signatures. Upon the receipt of the additional signatures, the clerk shall proceed forthwith to examine the petition of additional signatures, so that such examination shall be completed within ten days from the date of his receiving same. If it appear that the number of additional signatures added to those who have not been legally rejected upon the original petition, shall total the requisite number of qualified electors necessary as provided in this section, the clerk shall forthwith attach to said petition his certificate, properly dated, showing that said petition has been signed by the requisite number of qualified electors, and said clerk shall immediately present said petition to the board of supervisors, if it be in session, otherwise at the next regular meeting after the date of such certificate. Upon the adoption of such ordinance, or the presentation of such petition, said board of supervisors shall order the holding of a special election for the purpose of electing such board of freeholders, which said special election shall be held not less than forty days nor more than ninety days after the adoption of the ordinance aforesaid or the presentation of said petition to said board of supervisors. Candidates for election as members of said board of freeholders shall be nominated by petition, substantially in the same manner as may be provided by general law for the nomination, by petition of electors, of candidates for county offices, to be voted at general elections. The election shall be conducted and the ballots canvassed and result declared substantially as are other elections for county offices, except that there shall be only one election, and the fifteen persons receiving the highest vote shall be declared the duly elected board of freeholders. All ties shall be broken by lot.

It shall be the duty of said board of freeholders within one hundred eighty days after the result of such election shall have been declared by the board of supervisors, to prepare and propose a charter for a consolidated city and county government, and it may prescribe the existing boundary lines of the county as the territorial limits of said proposed city and county, and propose the formation of all of the incorporated cities and towns and all of the unincorporated territory within the county into a consolidated city and county government, to be governed by said charter, and to have combined powers of a city and a county, as provided

Duty of board.

Alternative proposition.

in this constitution for consolidated city and county government. Or said board of freeholders may propose, in the alternative, that a lesser area than that of the whole county, to consist of those incorporated cities and towns hereinafter required to be designated and named by the board of freeholders as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, also those incorporated cities and towns, which as hereinafter provided, may by a majority vote of the qualified electors voting thereon separately, vote in favor of such consolidation, together with any unincorporated territory within the county proposed to be added, may be formed into a consolidated city and county government, to be governed by said charter, and to have combined powers of a city and a county as provided in this constitution for consolidated city and county government.

When such proposal is submitted in the alternative, the board of freeholders must designate and name as necessary and essential to effect city and county consolidation, all of the incorporated cities within the county having a population of one hundred fifty thousand inhabitants or over, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, and no consolidation shall be effected unless, as hereinafter provided, a majority of the qualified electors, voting separately thereon in each of said designated and named incorporated cities vote in favor of such proposal.

Signing and publication.

The charter proposed shall be signed by the members of the board of freeholders, or a majority of them, and be filed, one copy in the office of the county recorder, one in the office of the county clerk, and certified copies thereof duly attested by the president and secretary of the board of freeholders shall be filed in the clerk's office of each incorporated city and town in the county. The board of freeholders shall thereupon take a recess until called together by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided. Thereupon the board of supervisors shall cause said proposed charter to be published in at least two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, for at least six consecutive times, and shall also cause said proposed charter to be published for at least three consecutive times in a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in each of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, and if there be no daily newspaper printed, published and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns then once in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated therein; provided, however, if there be no daily or weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities or towns, then said publication shall be made by posting in three public places in each of said incorporated cities or towns having no such newspaper, for at least three days. All of such publication shall be completed within fifty days of the filing of the proposed charter with the county clerk. The board of supervisors shall cause to be printed in pamphlet form, at least as many copies of such proposed charter, plus an additional fifteen per cent, as there are registered electors in the county. The county clerk shall forthwith deliver to the clerk of the legislative body of each and every incorporated city or town within the county, a number of the printed copies of the proposed charter, equal at least to the number of registered electors residing in any such incorporated city or town. The county clerk shall thereupon give notice, by advertising in one and not more than two daily newspapers of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, and if there be a newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns, in one such newspaper of each said city or town, that copies of the proposed charter can be had at his office or at the office of the several city or town clerks, designating them, upon application. Upon the completion of the publication of the proposed charter as above required, and not later than fifteen days thereafter, the board of supervisors must pass an ordinance or resolution calling a separate election in each of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, for submitting the proposal for consolidation to the electors thereof. Each incorporated city or town shall be considered one separate district, and the proposal for such consolidation shall be submitted separately to the electors thereof, as hereinafter provided. The date of such election shall be fixed in the resolution or ordinance adopted by the board of supervisors, which date shall not be less than forty days nor more than ninety days from the date of the passage of such resolution or ordinance calling the election for the submission of said proposal. The separate elections held in the several cities and towns must all be held on the same day. The resolution or ordinance calling such elections shall be published for five successive days in one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county, so that the last publication shall have been completed at least five days before the date of the election. The resolution or ordinance calling such elections, shall also be published for three successive days in one daily newspaper of general circulation, published, printed and circulated in each of the incorporated cities and towns, and if there be no daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in any of such incorporated cities and towns, then twice in a weekly newspaper; provided, however, that if there be no daily or weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in any such incorporated city or town, such publication may be made by posting in three public places in said incorporated city or town for at least three days before the date of election.

Publication.

Election in incorporated cities and towns.

The board of supervisors must appoint election officers in the same manner and give notice of such appointment by publication, as provided by the general law for the appointment of election officers at general elections; provided, however, that the board of supervisors shall not appoint more than four election officers to each election precinct; and provided, further, that the number of precincts in each city or town comprising an election district shall not be less than the number of precincts used at the last general election. In all other respects, every such election shall be held and conducted, the returns canvassed and the result thereof declared by the board of supervisors in the same manner as provided by law for general elections.

Proposal
submitted.

The proposal to be submitted to the electors of each of said incorporated cities and towns shall be substantially as follows: "Shall the (herein designate by name the incorporated city or town) join with the other incorporated cities and towns within the county of (herein insert name of county) together with the unincorporated territory within the said county, and form and establish a consolidated city and county (herein insert whether it is proposed to have a system of boroughs) to be known as the city and county of (herein insert the name proposed) to be governed by the charter proposed by the board of freeholders, which charter has been filed in the office of the county clerk and duly published, said charter to take effect on (herein insert date mentioned in charter when city and county consolidation shall take effect)?" If the board of freeholders have proposed an alternative proposition, the ballot shall, in addition to the above proposal, state substantially: That if said principal proposal does not receive a majority vote of the electors, voting thereon, in all of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, but receives a majority vote of the electors, voting thereon in each of the incorporated cities within the county (naming them) which have been designated and named as the cities necessary and essential in which a favorable vote must be had to effect consolidation of an area less than the whole of the county, then the proposition of the formation and establishment of a district into a consolidated city and county, which district shall include said named incorporated cities, also other contiguous incorporated cities and towns in which a favorable vote was had upon the proposition, and certain unincorporated territory (which district shall be the area described in the proposed amended charter), shall be thereafter submitted to the qualified electors of such district for their approval. Also there must be stated in such proposal such reference to taxation and bonded indebtedness and the liability therefor as is provided in the proposed charter.

If all cities
favor.

If after the canvass of the votes and the declaration of the result by the board of supervisors, it appear that a majority of the electors in each of the incorporated cities and towns in the county, voting separately thereon at said election, have voted in favor of said proposal, the board of supervisors shall so certify such fact to the board of freeholders and set a day for the reconvening of said board of freeholders which day shall not be later than ten days after the certification by the board of supervisors. The board of freeholders shall enter the certificate of the board of supervisors in its minutes and shall have no power to change or alter in any manner any of the provisions of the charter as heretofore prepared and published. It shall thereupon adjourn.

Whereupon the said proposed charter shall be submitted by said board of supervisors to the qualified electors of the whole of said county at a special election to be held not less than thirty nor more than sixty days after the adjournment of the board of freeholders, or if there be a general election held within ninety days after the adjournment of the said board of freeholders, then at such general election.

Submitted to whole
county.

If a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the county, at such special or general election, shall vote in favor of such proposed charter, it shall be deemed to be ratified, and shall be forthwith submitted to the legislature, if it be in session, otherwise at its next regular or special session, for its approval or rejection as a whole, without power of alteration or amendment. Such approval may be by concurrent resolution, and if approved by a majority vote of the members elected to each house, such charter shall become the charter of such consolidated city and county and shall become the organic law thereof relative to matters therein provided, and shall supersede any existing municipal charter of the cities within the county and all amendments thereof, and shall supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to matters provided in such charter.

If it appear, after a canvass of the votes by the board of supervisors, that the proposal has not received a favorable vote in all of the incorporated cities and towns within the county, and the proposal submitted shall have provided in the alternative that a lesser territory than that of the whole, not less than the incorporated cities designated and set forth in the proposal as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, may form and establish a consolidated city and county government, and a majority of the electors in each of the said incorporated cities designated as necessary and essential to effect consolidation have voted in favor of such proposal, the board of supervisors shall so certify the fact to the board of freeholders, and also certify all other incorporated cities or towns in which a majority of the electors have voted in favor of such proposal. The board of freeholders shall, within fifteen days thereafter, reconvene and meet upon a day to be fixed by the board of supervisors, and shall proceed to rearrange and define the boundaries for the proposed new city and county, including therein all of the incorporated cities certified by the board of supervisors, in which a majority of the electors have voted in favor thereof, and which by the terms of the proposal were designated as necessary and essential to effect consolidation.

If all cities
do not favor.

New boundaries.

New boundaries.

The board of freeholders must also include in the boundaries for the new proposed city and county any incorporated city or town having a population of less than ten thousand inhabitants, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, which, if such new proposed city and county is formed, would be surrounded by such area proposed to be formed into a city and county, or which is contiguous thereto and not contiguous to the largest area of the remainder of the original county from which the proposed city and county proposes to separate, notwithstanding that the result of the election in any such incorporated city or town as shown by the canvass of the votes of the board of supervisors, was unfavorable thereto. The board of freeholders may also include in the boundaries of the proposed new city and county, other incorporated cities or towns, not designated and named as necessary and essential to effect consolidation, but in each of which a majority of the electors have voted in favor of such proposal, together with such unincorporated territory within the county as it may desire, the whole to form one compact area, no part of which shall be disconnected from the remainder thereof.

Powers of second session of board of freeholders.

No amendment or changes in the provisions or sections of the proposed charter as originally prepared, published and filed in the office of the county clerk, shall be made by the board of freeholders at its second session, except as herein provided. The board of freeholders at its second session, shall have power to change the territorial limits or boundaries in such charter as hereinbefore provided. It shall also have power to change the number, by reduction thereof, of boroughs and of the councilmanic or supervisorial districts and the number of councilmen or supervisors to be elected, and to rearrange and number said districts to conform to the area to be formed into a city and county, except that boroughs previously established by the charter, if their territory is within the area of the proposed city and county shall not be changed. It may also provide a lesser salary to be paid to any officer of the proposed city and county, if such salary is stated and fixed by the original proposed charter, and it may correct any mistake or clerical or typographical errors.

The board of freeholders shall complete its labors, as above required, within ten days after the date fixed by the board of supervisors for its second meeting unless given an additional ten days time by said board of supervisors. Within said ten days and not later than twenty days, if such time has been extended, the members of the board of freeholders, or a majority thereof, shall sign the proposed charter as amended, and file one copy thereof in the county recorder's office and two copies in the county clerk's office, one of which copies shall thereafter be filed by the county clerk, in the archives of the new city and county government, when the charter shall have been approved by the legislature.

The provisions of section two of this article, and also those provisions of section three of this article which refer to the passing of any county line within five miles of the exterior boundary of a city or town in which a county seat of any county proposed to be divided is situated, shall not apply to the formation of such consolidated cities and counties, nor to the formation of new counties or of any city and county as herein specified under any of the provisions of this section.

Within ten days after the filing of the proposed charter, as amended by the board of freeholders, with the county clerk, the whole area of the proposed new city and county shall, by resolution of the board of supervisors, be created into a district. for the purpose of submitting the proposed charter, as amended, to the electors thereof, for their approval. The question of the adoption of the proposed charter as amended, shall be submitted to the electors of the whole of the area proposed to be formed into a consolidated city and county as one proposal. District created.

The board of supervisors shall forthwith, and not later than twenty days from the date of the resolution creating said district, pass an ordinance or resolution calling an election in the whole county, for the purpose of submitting the question of the consent of the electors of the whole county to the separation, of the district proposed in the charter, from the original county, and for the purpose of submitting the question of the adoption of the proposed charter to the electors residing within the district created, or the proposed territory described in the charter as amended, as the territorial boundaries of the proposed new city and county. Election

Both propositions or proposals shall be submitted at one election, as hereinafter provided. The date of such election shall be fixed in the resolution or ordinance calling such election, which date shall not be less than twenty days nor more than sixty days from the date of the passage of the resolution or ordinance calling such election.

The resolution or ordinance calling such election shall be published for five consecutive days in not less than two daily newspapers, if there be two, if not, in one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated in the county; or if there be no such daily newspapers, then twice in at least one weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county. Such resolution or ordinance shall also be published for a like time in at least one daily newspaper of general circulation published, printed and circulated within the area or territory proposed to be formed into a consolidated city and county.

The amended sections of the charter shall also be published for three consecutive days in at least one daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county, and if there be no daily newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county, then twice in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in the county. Such amended sections of the charter shall likewise be published in at least one daily newspaper published, printed and circulated within the area or district proposed to be formed into a city and county, and if there be no such daily newspaper thence twice in a weekly newspaper published, printed and circulated in such area.

The board of supervisors must appoint election officers in the same manner, and give notice of such appointment by publication, as provided by the general law for the appointment of election officers at general elections, except that no more than four election officers shall be appointed to each election precinct. In all other respects, every such election shall be conducted, the returns canvassed and the result declared by the board of supervisors in the same manner as provided by law for general elections.

Proposal submitted.

The proposal to be submitted to the electors of the whole of the county and the proposals to be submitted to the electors of the district or area described in the charter as the territorial boundaries of the proposed new city and county, shall be as follows:

In county outside of district.

In the county outside of the district or area described in the charter as the territorial boundaries of the new consolidated city and county, the only proposal to be submitted to the electors thereof shall be substantially as follows:

“Shall the incorporated cities and towns (herein name them) and the unincorporated territory (if any) (herein describe the unincorporated territory) be permitted to separate from (herein name the county) and establish a consolidated city and county to be known as (herein insert name of new county) the separation to take effect on (herein name date fixed in the proposed charter for the taking effect of the new city and county government)?”

In district.

In the district created by the resolution of the board of supervisors, which shall be the area described in the amended proposed charter, the same proposal as above shall be submitted to the electors, and also shall be submitted separately the question of the establishing of the area into a new consolidated city and county and the approval and ratification of such charter, substantially in the following form: “Shall the (herein describe the territory as described in the proposed amended charter) consolidate and be formed and established into a city and county government to be known as (herein state name of city and county) (herein state whether there shall be a system of boroughs) and shall the charter prepared, published and filed in the office of the county clerk on (herein state the date upon which the amended charter as to boundaries was filed) be adopted as the charter of the consolidated city and county, to take effect (herein state date mentioned in the charter when the consolidation shall take effect)?” Also may be stated in this proposal such reference to taxation and bonded indebtedness and the liability therefor as provided in the proposed charter. When consolidation effected.

Upon consent to the separation of such district being given by a majority of the qualified electors, voting thereon, at such election, in the whole of the county, and upon the approval and ratification of such charter by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the district or area which is to be formed into a consolidated city and county, and by the approval of said charter by the legislature, as hereinbefore provided in this section for the submission of the charter to the legislature when the whole of the county is to be formed into a consolidated city and county, said charter shall be deemed adopted, and upon the date fixed in said charter such district shall be and become one consolidated city and county, and the charter shall become the organic law thereof relative to matters therein provided, and shall supersede any existing municipal charter of the cities consolidated by it, and shall likewise supersede all laws inconsistent with such charter relative to matters provided in such charter.

It shall be competent, in any charter, or amendment thereof, framed under the authority given by this section, to provide in addition to those provisions allowable by the constitution and laws of the state as follows: Matters provided for by charter.

1. For the merging and consolidating the cities and county into one municipal government with one set of officers; for the establishment of a borough system of government for the whole or any part of the territory of said city and county, by which one or more districts may be created therein, which districts may be known as boroughs and shall exercise such municipal powers as may be granted by such charter, and for the organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of such boroughs, which organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction may provide for rural districts, with different powers and organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction from other boroughs; provided, that in the event of such establishment or creation of a borough or boroughs, as hereinabove permitted, the boundaries thereof shall never afterwards be changed or altered, nor shall the governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction of any such borough or boroughs be thereafter limited, extended, modified or taken away, unless and until the borough or boroughs affected by such proposed change or alteration of boundaries, or by the proposed limitation, extension, modification or taking away of governmental rights, powers or jurisdiction, as the case may be, shall each have consented thereto, by the vote of a majority of the electors in each and every such borough voting at an election or elections called and held for such purpose in each of the boroughs so affected. Borough system.

2. For the consolidation and merging of school and high school and union high school districts into one or more school, high school and union high school district within the city and county, to be governed by one board of education and one Consolidation of school districts.

school superintendent, and may provide separate organization, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction and powers for rural school districts, if any are established.

Municipal
courts.

3. For the constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of police courts, and for the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the qualifications and compensation of said judges and of their clerks and attaches; and for the establishment, constitution, regulation, government and jurisdiction of municipal courts with such civil and criminal jurisdiction as by law may be conferred upon inferior courts; and for the manner in which, the time at which, and the terms for which the judges of such courts shall be elected or appointed, and for the qualifications and compensation of said judges and of their clerks and attaches; provided, such municipal courts shall never be deprived of the jurisdiction given inferior courts created by general law; provided, that in any city and county, when such municipal court has been established, there shall be no other court inferior to the superior court; and pending actions, trials, and all pending business of inferior courts within the territory of such city or city and county, upon the establishment of any such municipal court, shall be and become pending in such municipal court, and all records of such inferior court shall thereupon be and become the records of such municipal court.

education.

4. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the board of education or boards shall be elected or appointed, for the qualifications, compensation and removal, and for the number which shall constitute any one of such boards.

Board of police commissioners.

5. For the manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of the board or boards of police commissioners shall be elected or appointed; and for the constitution, regulation, compensation, and government of such boards and of the municipal police force.

Elections.

6. For the manner in which and the times at which any municipal election, or borough election shall be held and the result thereof determined; and for manner in which, the times at which, and the terms for which the members of all boards of election shall be elected or appointed, and for the constitution, regulation, compensation and government of such boards, and of their clerks and attaches, and for all expenses incident to the holding of any election.

Powers,
term, etc.,
of officers.

It shall be competent in any charter framed in accordance with the provisions of this section, for any consolidated city and county, and plenary authority is hereby granted, subject only to the restrictions of this article, to provide therein or by amendment thereto, for the powers and duties of all county, city and county, municipal and borough officers; for the manner in which, the method by which, and the terms for which the several county, city and county, municipal and borough officers, except judges of the superior court shall be lected or appointed, and for their recall and removal, and for their compensation, and for the number of deputies, clerks and other employees that each shall have, and for the powers and duties, compensation, method of appointment, qualifications, tenure of office and removal of such deputies, clerks and other employees.

7. It shall be competent in any charter, or amendment thereto, framed in accordance with the provisions of this section, to provide that the city and county may make and enforce all laws and regulations, and exercise all rights and powers in respect to municipal affairs and municipal officers, and shall have all powers and rights appropriate to a county, city, and county subject only to the restrictions and limitations provided in such charter.

Rights and powers.

Any charter framed under the provisions of this section, which charter provides for the formation of the whole territory of the county into a consolidated city and county, may provide for the termination of the tenure of office of all county officers elected after the adoption of such charter by the electors of such county and prior to the approval of such charter by the legislature.

Termination of county offices.

8. No property in any city or town or territory hereinafter consolidated into a city and county shall be taxed for the payment of any indebtedness outstanding at the time the charter takes effect and for the payment of which indebtedness the property in such city or town or territory was not, prior to the taking effect of such charter, subject to such taxation, unless there shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of such city or town or territory, at the separate election submitting the proposal in the first instance to join, the proposition regarding the assumption of such indebtedness as hereinbefore set forth and the same shall have been approved by a majority of such electors voting thereon.

Bonded indebtedness.

In all cases of consolidation of two or more incorporated cities and towns, or of one or more incorporated cities or towns with unincorporated territory, into a city and county, assumption of existing bonded indebtedness by such city or town or by such unincorporated territory or by either of the cities and towns so consolidating may be made by a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon in the territory or city or town which shall assume an existing bonded indebtedness, and the provisions of section eighteen of this article shall not be a prohibition thereof.

Every city and county which shall be formed, under the provisions of this section, of territory which shall have been taken from the original county, shall be liable for a just proportion of the debts and liabilities and be entitled to a just proportion of the property and assets of such county existing at the time of such separation.

Debts and liabilities.

If the population in the territory formed into a city and county, by separation from the original county, is equal to or greater in number than two-thirds of the population of the whole of the original county at the time of the formation of such city and county, the city and county so formed and separating itself from the original county, shall be entitled to the original records and books of the original county, upon supplying to the original county certified copies of all records, documents and books properly bound and indexed, which affects or may affect the property of the remaining portion of the original county, or which it may in the future have occasion to refer to; and such certified copies so furnished and certified by the county clerk if the copies are issued from his office, and by the recorder if issued from his office, or by any other officer of the county if they be copies of records in his office, shall be competent evidence in any court proceeding or action which may thereafter be commenced.

Records and books.

Records and books.

The legislature of the state may enact such general laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of subdivision eight of this section.

Officers no longer residents of original county.

If by the formation of a city and county, under the provisions of this section, any territory whether incorporated or unincorporated is separated from the original county, and by such separation, any of the elective officers of the original county, have by reason of such separation ceased to be residents or electors of the original county, such elective officers shall continue to serve, and be charged with all of the powers and duties of the office to which they were elected, until the expiration of the term for which they were elected, and their salaries shall be paid, by both the new city and county and the remaining portion of the original county, in proportion and in the ratio as the population of each bears to the whole population of the original county.

Transfer of territory to adjoining county.

If under the provisions of this section, any city and county is formed which does not include the whole of the original county, and by reason of the separation of the territory comprising the new city and county, any incorporated city or town or any unincorporated territory is separated from the largest area of the remainder of the county, by reason of its exterior boundary not being contiguous thereto, the legislature shall provide for the transfer of such portion or portions to an adjoining county or counties whose exterior boundary or boundaries may be contiguous thereto, or it may transfer such portion or portions to the new consolidated city and county; provided, however, if there be formed and established under the provisions of this section, a consolidated city and county government of a lesser area than that of the whole county, and there be any incorporated city having a population of forty thousand inhabitants or over, within the county, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the congress of the United States, which is not included therein, or if by the formation and establishment of any lesser area than that of the whole county into a consolidated city and county, any such incorporated city having such population is separated and detached from the largest area of the remainder of the original county, by reason of its exterior boundaries not being contiguous thereto, then such incorporated city, together with all other incorporated cities or towns or unincorporated territory in such original county, which if said new city and county is formed and established would likewise be so separated and detached, and which are contiguous to each other and form one compact area, may organize and establish a consolidated city and county government for the whole of such detached territory under the provisions of section eight of this article, by adopting a freeholders charter in accordance with the provisions of said section, and to have all of the powers conferred by said section; except, that for the purpose of the election of the members of the board of freeholders, and the organization and establishment of such consolidated city and county government, the whole of such detached area proposed to be formed into such consolidated city and county, shall be treated and considered as a city, within the meaning of section eight of this article; and except that all elections thereunder and all proceedings for the adoption of such charter shall be initiated and conducted by the governing body of the incorporated city having the largest population in such detached area. Such charter may be submitted to the electors within the area of the detached territory, for their approval, at any time subsequent to the adoption of the charter prepared by the freeholders elected by the electors of the whole of the original county, but the same shall not be ratified by the legislature of this state until after the ratification by the legislature of the charter adopted in the first instance, which provided for the formation of a lesser territory than that of the whole county into a consolidated city and county government.

If under the provisions of this section any city and county is formed, which does not include the whole of the area of the original county from which it is permitted to separate, and any remainder of the county is not transferred to another county as in this section provided, but is to continue as a county, the governor of the state shall designate and assign, from among the judges of the superior court of the original county in office at the time of the taking effect of the new city and county government, as many judges as the ratio of the population contained in the area formed by the new city and county bears to the population of the whole of the original county at the time of the approval of the charter by the legislature, and the judges so assigned shall be and become the judges of the superior court of the new city and county, to hold office during the term for which each of them shall have been elected.

Upon the approval by the legislature of any charter framed under the provisions of this section, which charter provides for the separation of any new city and county from the original county, the board of supervisors of the original county, shall, at the time and in the manner set forth in such charter so approved, pass an ordinance calling an election in the area which is consolidated into a city and county, for the purpose of nominating and electing the first officers thereunder. Said board of supervisors shall canvass the votes and declare the result of such election. The county clerk or other officer having charge of registration of electors shall furnish to the district or city and county so consolidated, the voting list and precinct registers of all the electors residing in the area of the territory wherein the election is to be held.

The provisions of this constitution applicable to cities, and cities and counties, and also applicable to counties, so far as not inconsistent or prohibited to cities or cities and counties, except in the method of procedure of calling elections for the election of freeholders and the submission of the question of the formation of a consolidated city and county, shall be applicable to such consolidated city and county.

Amendment.

Any charter framed under the provisions of this section may be amended as provided in section eight of article eleven of this constitution.

Application.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to repeal or alter in any way the provisions of section eight and one-half of article eleven of this constitution, providing a different method and procedure for the formation of cities and counties, wherein the initiative is taken by a city or city and county. Nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any consolidated city and county, organized as such at the time this section takes effect; nor shall the provisions of this section apply to any county, which at the time this section takes effect, had adopted a freeholders charter, and was organized and operating under such freeholders charter. The legislature shall enact such general or special laws as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this section and such general or special laws, as may be necessary to effect city and county consolidation hereunder, or as may be necessary to provide for any period after such consolidation, by reason of the separation from the original county of such consolidated city and county, or to provide for the government of the remainder of the original county from which separation was had.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 14, relative to the universal military training bill before the United States Congress.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Universal military training.

WHEREAS, It is vital to the life and liberty of this nation that it be put upon a basis of preparedness for war in order that it may not invite as it now does aggression and successful attack by warlike nations, and also in order that it may maintain and preserve our institutions of civil and religious liberty; now, therefore, be it

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 15, resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section thirty-four, of article four, of the constitution of the State of California in relation to special appropriation bills.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that section thirty-four of article four of the constitution of the State of California be amended to read as follows:

Constitutional
amendment.

Sec. 34. The needs of the state offices, departments and institutions, for each biennial period shall be ascertained and appropriations therefor recommended by a state budget board, consisting of the three members of the state board of control and the state controller, and the lieutenant governor as ex officio member, which board shall report its recommendations to the legislature not later than the twentieth day of each regular session. The budget so reported shall be introduced in the form of two bills, one the general appropriation bill, the other an omnibus appropriation bill carrying special items for improvements and betterments. The chairman, or designated member of the budget board, shall sit with each house of the legislature, in committee of the whole thereof, when these two bills are under consideration and may participate in the debate thereon. No bill making an appropriation of money, except these two bills, shall contain more than one item of appropriation, and that for one single and certain purpose, to be therein expressed.

Senate Joint Resolution No. 17, relative to an invitation to be extended to Arthur James Balfour, British foreign secretary, Marshal Joffre of France and Marquis Pierre de Chambrun of France to visit the State of California and other western states, that the patriotic citizens of the great west may fittingly honor the distinguished representatives of our nation's allies and that their presence may stimulate the whole country to the highest activity, that the joint efforts of England, France and the United States to conquer a common enemy may be successful.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Invitation to British and French ministers.

WHEREAS, The United States has joined France and England and their allies to crush the power that threatens the liberties of civilized nations; and

WHEREAS, France and England have each sent to this country commissions of distinguished men that they may help and advise this nation to avoid the mistakes of our allies at the opening of the war and to assist us to the most efficient use of our resources; and

Invitation to British and French missions.

WHEREAS, The states west of the Rockies, whose agricultural productivity will be an important factor in deciding the conflict, should be stirred to the fullest realization of the necessity of every man, woman and child working toward the goal of an early and conclusive victory; and

WHEREAS, On those commissions are Arthur J. Balfour, British foreign secretary, whose able efforts have contributed much to the success of the allies, Marshal Joffre, hero of France, whose skill stemmed the onrush of the enemy, and Marquis Pierre de Chambrun, grandson of that noble Lafayette who so generously fought with Washington; and

WHEREAS, Were these three distinguished representatives of our allies to make a flying trip through the Middle Western states to the Pacific coast, the whole nation would blaze with a patriotic fervor that would be of inestimable value in impelling every man and woman to the greatest efforts in furnishing troops and food, and in performing every duty that may help the cause of our allies; therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California memorializes the president of the United States to invite Arthur J. Balfour, British foreign secretary, Marshal Joffre of France and Marquis Pierre de Chambrun of France to visit the Middle West and the Pacific coast as the guests of the nation; and be it further

Resolved, That the senators and representatives in congress from the State of California be requested to lend their best efforts toward this end; and be it further

Resolved, That Governor William D. Stephens of the State of California be requested to invite the governors and the legislatures, if they be in session, of Middle West and Pacific coast states to add their efforts to those of the State of California to secure this important object; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the president of the United States, to Secretary of State Lansing, to the ambassador of France at Washington and to the ambassador of England at Washington, to the senators and representatives in congress from the State of California and to Governor William D. Stephens of the State of California.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 20, resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section nine of article nine of the constitution of the State of California in relation to the powers of the board of regents of the University of California.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional amendment.

Be it resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of all the members elected at each of the two houses of the state legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section nine of article nine of the constitution of the State of California be amended so as to read as follows:

Powers of board of regents of University of California.

Sec. 9. The University of California shall constitute a public trust, to be administered by the existing corporation known as "The regents of the University of California," with full powers of organization and government, subject only to such legislative control as may be necessary to insure compliance with the terms of the endowments of the university and the security of its funds. Said corporation shall be in form a board composed of eight ex officio members, to wit: The governor, the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the assembly, the superintendent of public instruction, the president of the state board of agriculture, the president of the Mechanics Institute of San Francisco, the president of the alumni association of the university and the acting president of the university, and sixteen appointive members appointed by the governor; provided, however, that the present appointive members shall hold office until the expiration of their present terms. The term of the appointive members shall be sixteen years; the terms of two appointive members to expire as heretofore on March first of every even-numbered calendar year, and in case of any vacancy the term of office of the appointee to fill such vacancy, who shall be appointed by the governor, to be for the balance of the term as to which such vacancy exists. Said corporation shall be vested with the legal title and the management and disposition of the property of the university and of property held for its benefit and shall have the power to take and hold, either by purchase or by donation, or gift, testamentary or otherwise, or in any other manner, without restriction, all real and personal property for the benefit of the university or incidentally to its conduct. Said corporation shall also have all the powers necessary or convenient for the effective administration of its trust, including the power to sue and to be sued, to use a seal, and to delegate to its committees or to the faculty of the university, or to others, such authority or functions as it may deem wise; provided, that all moneys derived from the sale of public lands donated to this state by act of congress approved July 2, 1862 (and the several acts amendatory thereof), shall be invested as provided by said acts of congress and the income from said moneys shall be inviolably appropriated to the endowment, support and maintenance of at least one college of agriculture, where the leading objects shall be (without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics) to teach such branches of learning as are related to scientific and practical agriculture and mechanic arts, in accordance with the requirements and conditions of said acts of congress; and the legislature shall provide that if, through neglect, misappropriation, or any other contingency, any portion of the funds so set apart shall be diminished or lost, the state shall replace such portion so lost or misappropriated, so that the principal thereof shall remain forever undiminished. The university shall be entirely independent of all political or sectarian influence and kept free therefrom in the appointment of its regents and in the administration of its affairs, and no person shall be debarred admission to any department of the university on account of sex.

board of regents of University of California.

CHAPTER 52.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 20, relating to the publication of an index of the laws of California.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The organic and statutory law of this state is embodied in the constitution and the four codes and several thousand general laws; and

Index of laws of California.

WHEREAS, There is great need and demand for a single and complete index thereto; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the chief of the legislative counsel bureau be and he is hereby directed to prepare a complete index of the constitution and of all the laws of this state, including the laws enacted by the legislature at its forty-second session; and be it further

Resolved, That the superintendent of state printing be and he is hereby directed to print two thousand copies of said index, the cost of printing and distribution to be paid out of the contingent funds of the senate and assembly in equal amounts; and be it further

Resolved, That one copy of said index shall be distributed to each member of the legislature and to each state officer, the balance to be offered for sale to the public at a price sufficient to cover the cost of publication and distribution, all receipts to be paid into the state treasury to reimburse the contingent fund of the senate and assembly, respectively, for the expenditure provided for herein.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 23, relating to supplementary textbooks used in elementary schools.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Supplementary textbooks used in elementary schools.

Resolved, First—That the state board of education is hereby directed to investigate the subject of books used to supplement the state series of textbooks adopted for use in the elementary schools;

Second—That all local school officers, and other persons having charge of the purchase or distribution of such books are hereby directed to furnish to the state board of education, on blanks provided by that board, the name of each supplemental book and the quantity of the same used in the various schools under their jurisdiction, the cost per volume of the last order purchased, and any and all other information relating to this subject that may be required by the state board of education in making this investigation;

Third—That the state board of education is hereby directed to segregate this information and provide for the inclusion of the same in its next biennial report to the governor.

CHAPTER 55.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 25, relative to tidelands granted to the city of San Diego.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, By an act entitled "An act conveying certain tidelands and lands lying under inland navigable waters situate in the bay of San Diego to the city of San Diego, in furtherance of navigation and commerce and the fisheries, and providing for the government, management and control thereof," approved May 1, 1911, as amended, the state conveyed certain tidelands to the city of San Diego upon certain conditions therein specified; and Tidelands conveyed by San Diego to United States.

WHEREAS, The city of San Diego has fully complied with all such conditions; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring. That the legislature of the State of California hereby finds and declares that the city of San Diego has fully and completely performed and complied with each and all of the terms and conditions set forth in said act, approved May 1, 1911, as amended, and that the title to the tidelands therein described is vested in the city of San Diego, subject only to the public trusts therein enumerated; provided, that the city of San Diego is hereby authorized to convey to the United States of America five hundred acres, more or less, of said lands, free of said public trust.

CHAPTER 56.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 26, approving a certain amendment to the charter of the city of San Luis Obispo in the county of San Luis Obispo, State of California, voted for and ratified by the qualified electors of said city of San Luis Obispo at a special municipal election held therein on the second day of April, 1917.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

San Luis Obispo city charter
amendment.

WHEREAS, The mayor and city clerk of the City of San Luis Obispo did, on the fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, duly certify to the submission to the electors of said City of San Luis Obispo of a certain proposed amendment to the charter of said City of San Luis Obispo and to the ratification thereof, and did further certify to a copy of said proposed amendment, authenticated by the seal of said City of San Luis Obispo, which said certificate is in words and figures following, to wit:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
County of San Luis Obispo, } ss.
City of San Luis Obispo. }

CERTIFICATE OF RATIFICATION OF A CERTAIN PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF SAN LUIS OBISPO.

We, the undersigned, W. M. Stover, Mayor of the City of San Luis Obispo, State of California, and Callie M. John, City Clerk of said city, do hereby certify as follows, to wit:

That the City of San Luis Obispo, in the County of San Luis Obispo, State of California, contains a population of more than three thousand five hundred and less than ten thousand inhabitants and has been ever since May 15, 1911, and now is organized and acting under a freeholder's charter adopted under and by virtue of section eight of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said city at a special election held for that purpose on the twelfth day of September, one thousand nine hundred ten, and approved by the Legislature of the State of California on the twenty-third day of February, one thousand nine hundred eleven, that the City Council of said city did, by Resolution No. 80 (New Series) adopted on the nineteenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and approved by the Mayor on the nineteenth day of February, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, which said resolution set forth three proposed amendments to the charter of the City of San Luis Obispo,

Give notice, that said three proposed amendments would be submitted to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification at the next general election, to wit, on the second day of April, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, and provided for the publication of said resolution and said three amendments, in the manner and for the time required by the provisions of the State Constitution on said subject, in the official paper of said city, to wit, in the Daily Telegram, a daily newspaper printed and published in said city, and for the doing and performing of all other acts required by said Constitution on said subject, which said Resolution No. 80 (New Series) was duly published as required by said resolution, and in the manner and for the time required by the provisions of the State Constitution on the said subject, in the official paper of said city, to wit, in the Daily Telegram, on the twentieth day of February, one thousand nine hundred seventeen.

San Luis Obispo city charter amendment.

That said three proposed amendments, were, and each of them was, published, as required by law in the official paper of said city, to wit, the Daily Telegram, a daily newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said city, and which said publication of said resolution was not less than forty and not more than sixty days after its completion, to the date fixed by the legislative body of said city for said General Election, and that copies of said Resolution No. 80 (New Series) were printed, and that notice was published in the official paper, to wit, the Daily Telegram, from February 20, 1917, to and including March 31, 1917, that copies of said Resolution No. 80 (New Series) could be obtained at the office of the City Clerk upon application therefor.

That on the sixteenth day of March, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, Ordinance No. 63 (New Series) containing among other things, notice of said three proposed charter amendments, and calling and giving notice that a General Election and Consolidated Bond Election, shall be held in the City of San Luis Obispo, State of California, on Monday the second day of April, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, was duly published and posted as required by said Resolution and By-Law.

That thereafter said General Election and Consolidated Bond Election, provided for in said Ordinance No. 63 (New Series) was held on the second day of April, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, in said City of San Luis Obispo, which said last mentioned date was at least forty days after the publication of said proposed amendments in said official paper, the Daily Telegram, a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said City of San Luis Obispo; that at said General Election and Consolidated Bond Election, a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon, voted in favor of the ratification of, and did ratify one of said proposed amendments, to-wit, Proposed Amendment to Section forty-five, Article VII, of said City Charter, and did not ratify proposed amendments to Section fifteen, Article III and Section sixty-one, Article X of said City Charter thereof.

That the City Council of said City of San Luis Obispo, at a meeting thereof held within ten days after said Election, duly canvassed the returns of said election and duly found, determined and declared among other things, that a majority of such qualified electors voting thereon, had voted for and ratified one of said proposed amendments and rejected two of said proposed amendments, and that said one amendment to said charter, so ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said city voting at said General Election and Consolidated Bond Election, is in words and figures as follows, to-wit:

Proposed Charter Amendment to Section forty-five, Article VII. of said City Charter, being Amendment No. 2.

That subdivision forty-one of Section forty-five, Article VII, be amended to read as follows:

Powers of council.

To grade or regrade to the official grade, plank or replank, pave or repave, macadamize or remacadamize, gravel or regravell, pile or repile, cap or recap, sewer or resewer, surface or resurface the whole or any part of any street, avenue, lane, alley, court or place within the city, and to lay and construct sidewalks, manholes, culverts, cesspools, gutters, tunnels, curbing and crosswalks, breakwaters, levees, or walls of rock or other material to protect the same and also any other work or improvement within the city; and to order any of the above work to be done in accordance with the general laws of the State of California. Also to provide for the care of shade trees planted therein and to cause shade trees to be planted, set out and cultivated therein. Also to order drainage or sanitary sewers or storm water sewers to be constructed on or through private property.

Whenever, in the judgment of the Council or of the people, the cost and expense of any of the foregoing improvements is to be paid by special assessments on private property, the general laws of the State of California in force at the time of the improvement shall govern and control, and all proceedings shall be in conformity thereto.

In witness whereof, We have hereunto set our hands and affixed the corporate seal of the City of San Luis Obispo, this fifth day of April, one thousand nine hundred seventeen.

W. M. STOVER,

Mayor of the City of San Luis Obispo.

AND, WHEREAS. The said proposed amendment so ratified as hereinabove set forth has been duly presented and submitted to the legislature of the State of California, for approval or rejection, without power of alteration or amendment, in accordance with section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate of the State of California, the assembly concurring, (a majority of all members elected to each house voting for the adoption of this resolution and concurring therein). That the said proposed amendment to the said charter of the city of San Luis Obispo, hereinbefore set forth, as presented and as submitted to and adopted and ratified by the qualified electors of said city, be and the same is hereby approved as a whole for and as an amendment to the said charter of the city of San Luis Obispo.

Approval by legislature.

CHAPTER 57.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 36, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the constitution of said state by adding to article twenty thereof a new section, to be numbered section twenty-two, relative to health insurance.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional amendment.

The legislature of the State of California at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes an amendment to the constitution of the State of California by adding to article twenty thereof a new section, to be numbered section twenty-two, to read as follows:

Health insurance.

Sec. 22. It is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of California to make special provision for the health and welfare and the support during illness of any and all persons, and their dependents, whose incomes, in the determination of the legislature, are not sufficient to meet the hazards of sickness and disability, and for the general industrial welfare in this connection. The legislature may establish a health insurance system applicable to any or all such persons, and for the financial support of such system may provide for contributions, either voluntary or compulsory, from each of the following, namely, from such persons, from employers, and from the state by appropriations.

The legislature may confer upon any commission or court, now or hereafter created, such power and authority as the legislature may deem requisite to carry out the provisions of this section.

The provisions of this section shall not be controlled or limited by any other provision of this constitution, except the provisions thereof, relating to the passage and approval of acts by the legislature and to the referendum thereof.

CHAPTER 58.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 28, approving amendments to the charter of the city of Oakland, a municipal corporation, in the county of Alameda, State of California, voted for and ratified by the qualified voters of said city at a general nominating municipal election held therein on the 17th day of April, 1917.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Oakland city charter amendments.

WHEREAS, Proceedings have been had and taken for the proposal, submission, adoption and ratification of certain amendments hereinafter set forth to the charter of the city of Oakland, a municipal corporation in the county of Alameda, State of California, as set out in the certificate of the mayor pro tempore and city clerk of the said city of Oakland to wit: Oakland city charter amendments.

CITY OF OAKLAND,
STATE OF CALIFORNIA, } ss.
COUNTY OF ALAMEDA }

We, the undersigned, W. II. EDWARDS, Mayor pro tempore of the City of Oakland, State of California, and L. W. CUMMINGS, City Clerk of said City do hereby certify and declare as follows:

That the City of Oakland, in the County of Alameda, State of California, contains a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants, and has been ever since the year 1911, and is now organized and existing under a freeholders charter adopted under and by virtue of section 8 of article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said City at a special election duly called and held for that purpose on the 8th day of December, 1910, and approved by the Legislature of the State of California on the 15th day of February, 1911, (Statutes of 1911, page 1551).

That in pursuance of section 8 of article XI of the Constitution of the State of California, on its own motion, the Council of the City of Oakland, being the legislative body of said city, and by and in pursuance of Resolution No. 14556 N. S. passed by said Council on the 21st day of February, 1917, and of Resolution No. 14636 N. S. passed by said Council on the 5th day of March, 1917, and of Resolution No. 14640 N. S. passed by said Council on the 5th day of March, 1917, and of Resolution No. 14657 N. S. passed by said Council on the 6th day of March, 1917, duly submitted to the qualified electors of said City of Oakland certain amendments to said charter of said city to be voted on by said qualified electors at the general nominating municipal election to be held in said City on the 17th day of April, 1917, which said amendments were and are in words and figures following, to-wit:

That in accordance with the provisions of Resolution No. 14556 N. S., passed by the Council of the City of Oakland on February 21, 1917, Section 178 of the Charter of the City of Oakland be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 178. No ordinance or other measure passed by the Council granting either any franchise, permit or privilege to operate, or to be used in connection with, any public utility either wholly or partially within or without the City of Oakland, or authorizing the acquirement, transfer, permission to use or lease for a period longer than one year, or change in the use of any real property or of any interest therein, (including lands held in trust by said city), or authorizing the lease or permission to use a portion of any public conduit or tunnel, Franchise ordinance in effect, when.

Franchise ordinance
in effect.

shall go into effect until the expiration of sixty (60) days from the date it becomes final. At the end of such sixty (60) days such ordinance, measure or action shall be in force and effect, unless within such period there shall be filed with the City Clerk a petition signed by qualified electors equal in number to ten (10) per cent of the entire vote cast for all candidates for Mayor at the last preceding General Municipal Election, (provided, that the number of signers to any such petition shall not be less than two thousand) requesting that such ordinance, measure or action be submitted to the electors. In case such petition is filed, such ordinance, measure or action shall not go into effect until approved by a majority of the voters voting thereon at a General or Special Municipal Election.

2.

That in accordance with the provisions of Resolution No. 14636 N. S. passed by the Council of the City of Oakland on March 5, 1917, a new section be added to the Charter of the City of Oakland to be numbered Section 100½, to read as follows:

Medical treatment for members of fire department.

Section 100½. Any member of the Fire Department sustaining an injury while in the performance of his duty, shall be entitled to receive, in addition to the benefits otherwise provided in article 15 of this Charter, such medical, surgical and hospital treatment, including nursing, medicines, medical and surgical supplies, crutches and apparatus, including artificial members, as may reasonably be required at the time of the injury and within ninety days thereafter to cure and relieve from the effects of the injury, the same to be provided by the City, and the Council may allow such members so injured full pay during the continuance of his disability, not exceeding ninety days.

3.

That in accordance with the provisions of Resolution No. 14640 N. S. passed by the Council of the City of Oakland on March 5, 1917, a new section be added to the charter of the City of Oakland to be numbered Section 92½, to read as follows:

Medical treatment for members of police department.

Section 92½. Any member of the Police Department sustaining an injury while in the performance of his duty, shall be entitled to receive, in addition to the benefits otherwise provided in article 14 of this charter, such medical, surgical and hospital treatment, including nursing, medicines, medical and surgical supplies, crutches and apparatus, including artificial members, as may reasonably be required at the time of the injury and within ninety days thereafter to cure and relieve from the effects of the injury, the same to be provided by the City, and the Council may allow such members so injured, full pay during the continuance of his disability, not exceeding ninety days.

4.

That in accordance with the provisions of Resolution No. 14657 N. S. passed by the Council of the City of Oakland on March 6, 1917, Subdivision 21. of Section 5. of Article III of the Charter of the City of Oakland be amended to read as follows:

VOTE NECESSARY FOR ELECTION—SECOND ELECTION.

(21) The candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast for all candidates for that office shall be declared elected. If at any election held as above provided, there be any office to which no person was elected, then as to such office the said election shall be considered to have been a nominating election for the nomination of candidates, and a second election shall be held to fill said office. Vote necessary for election.

In case no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast for all candidates for the office to be filled, then the two candidates receiving the highest number of votes for such office shall be the candidates and the only candidates for such office, whose names shall be printed upon the ballots to be used at the second election; provided that if there be any person who, under the provisions of this subdivision, would have been entitled to become a candidate for any office except for the fact that such other person received an equal number of votes therefor, then all such persons receiving such equal number of votes shall likewise be candidates for such office and their names shall be printed upon the ballots. Second election.

At such second election the candidate for any office who receives the highest number of votes at such election shall be declared elected to such office.

If at any such election the Mayor, Auditor, any Commissioner or any School Director be not elected by reason of a tie vote, then the Council then in office shall by lot choose from the candidates receiving such tie vote the necessary number to fill such office or offices. The vote.

All the provisions and conditions above set forth as to the conduct of nominating municipal elections, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern said second elections and all other municipal elections and in said second election the same precincts and polling places as used in said nominating municipal elections shall, if possible, be used.

That said proposed amendments were and each of them was published and advertised as required by law in the official newspaper of said city, to wit: the Oakland Enquirer. Certificate.

That pursuant to section 4 of the charter of the City of Oakland, a regular nominating municipal election was duly held in said city on Tuesday the 17th day of April, 1917, at which said election the foregoing proposed amendments to the charter of said city were duly submitted to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification pursuant to the resolutions hereinbefore mentioned.

Certificate.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 29, relative to making Memorial Day a day of patriotic observance only

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Observance of Memorial Day.

WHEREAS, The people of the United States are engaged in a great and tragic war, and are facing the most serious crisis of their history; and

WHEREAS, This is a time when each individual should recognize the solemn duty which he owes to his nation, in order that its national life and glorious institutions may be preserved; and

WHEREAS, We should evince on every occasion the deep patriotism which stirs our hearts by honoring the noble deeds of our forefathers and paying our respect to the nation's heroes; and

Observance of Memorial Day.

WHEREAS, It has become a national custom to honor the nation's dead, who sacrificed their lives that the union might live, with memorial observances on a special day set apart for that purpose; now, therefore, be it

Resolved. That it is the sense of this legislature that the people of the State of California do make the observance of our national Memorial Day a day of patriotic demonstration only, that we beseech the people to refrain from frivolous amusements on this day, and pay our respect and honor to our dead heroes in a way befitting a great nation in this solemn period of our history.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 30, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California to amend section twenty-one of article twenty of the constitution, relative to workmen's compensation.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That the legislature of the State of California, at its forty-second regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, nineteen hundred seventeen, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section twenty-one of article twenty of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

Constitutional
amendment.

Sec. 21. The legislature is hereby expressly vested with plenary power, unlimited by any provision of this constitution, to create, and enforce a complete system of workmen's compensation, by appropriate legislation, and in that behalf to create and enforce a liability on the part of any or all persons to compensate any or all of their workmen for injury or disability, and their dependents for death incurred or sustained by the said workmen in the course of their employment, irrespective of the fault of any party. A complete system of workmen's compensation includes adequate provisions for the comfort, health and safety and general welfare of any and all workmen and those dependent upon them for support to the extent of relieving from the consequences of any injury or death incurred or sustained by workmen in the course of their employment, irrespective of the fault of any party; also full provision for securing safety in places of

tion.

employment; full provision for such medical, surgical, hospital and other remedial treatment as is requisite to cure and relieve from the effects of such injury; full provision for adequate insurance coverage against liability to pay or furnish compensation; full provision for regulating such insurance coverage in all its aspects, including the establishment and management of a state compensation insurance fund; full provision for otherwise securing the payment of compensation; and full provision for vesting power, authority and jurisdiction in an administrative body with all the requisite governmental functions to determine any dispute or matter arising under such legislation, to the end that the administration of such legislation shall accomplish substantial justice in all cases expeditiously, inexpensively, and without incumbrance of any character; all of which matters are expressly declared to be the social public policy of this state, binding upon all departments of the state government.

The legislature is vested with plenary powers, to provide for the settlement of any disputes arising under such legislation by arbitration, or by an industrial accident commission, by the courts, or by either, any, or all of these agencies, either separately or in combination, and may fix and control the method and manner of trial of any such dispute, the rules of evidence and the manner of review of decisions rendered by the tribunal or tribunals designated by it; provided, that all decisions of any such tribunal shall be subject to review by the appellate courts of this state. The legislature may combine in one statute all the provisions for a complete system of workmen's compensation, as herein defined.

Nothing contained herein shall be taken or construed to impair or render ineffectual in any measure the creation and existence of the industrial accident commission of this state or the state compensation insurance fund, the creation and existence of which, with all the functions vested in them, are hereby ratified and confirmed.

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 31, relative to the so-called Sutter basin controversy.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

So-called Sutter basin controversy.

WHEREAS, The so-called Sutter basin controversy has been before this legislature on many occasions and has received careful and painstaking attention and consideration; and

WHEREAS, We believe the interest of the State of California, and especially that portion thereof located in Sutter county, requires the speedy erection of the eastern levee of the Sutter basin by-pass so as to give full protection to all lands lying east thereof, and also to enable lands within Reclamation District No. 1500 to be reclaimed and brought into cultivation; and

So-called Sutter basin
controversy.

WHEREAS, It is hoped and believed that such legislation as may be passed by this session of the legislature touching upon said controversy, will be fair to all concerned, with the view of securing harmony of action and the final amicable disposition of said controversy; and

WHEREAS, We believe we should give an expression of our opinion upon said matters to the people of Sutter county, Reclamation District No. 1500 and the reclamation board; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That it is the sense of this legislature that the people of Sutter county, Reclamation District No. 1500 and the reclamation board, unite and work in harmony and use all honorable means within the power of each toward securing the early completion of the eastern levee of said by-pass.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 15, a resolution proposing to the people of the State of California an amendment to section four of article six of the constitution of the State of California, relating to the supreme court and district courts of appeal, and providing for two divisions of the district courts of appeal of the first and second appellate districts.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional
amendment

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes an amendment to the constitution of the State of California amending section four of article six thereof so as to read as follows:

Jurisdiction of supreme court

Sec. 4. The supreme court shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the superior courts in all cases in equity, except such as arise in justices' courts; also, in all cases at law which involve the title or possession of real estate, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine, or in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to two thousand dollars; also, in all such probate matters as may be provided by law: also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases where judgment of death has been rendered; the said court shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters and proceedings pending before a district court of appeal, which shall be ordered by the supreme court to be transferred to itself for hearing and decision, as hereinafter provided. The said court shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition, and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of its appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of the state, upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the supreme court, or before any district court of appeal, or before any judge thereof, or before any superior court in the state, or before any judge thereof.

The state is hereby divided into three appellate districts, in each of which there shall be a district court of appeal. District courts of appeal

The courts of appeal for the first and second appellate districts shall each consist of two divisions of three justices each.

The court of the third appellate district shall consist of three justices.

The district courts of appeal as existing immediately prior to the general election of the year one thousand nine hundred eighteen shall not be affected as to the officers or terms of office of the justices thereof by the amendment of this section at that election; and the justices of the district courts of appeal of districts of the first and second districts at the time of said general election shall constitute division one of each of said districts respectively. Each of such divisions shall constitute and shall exercise all of the powers of a district court of appeal.

The first district shall embrace the following counties: San Francisco, Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda, San Mateo, Santa Clara, Fresno, Santa Cruz, Monterey and San Benito. District-

The second district shall embrace the following counties: Tulare, Kings, San Luis Obispo, Kern, Inyo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, San Diego and Imperial.

The third district shall embrace the following counties: Del Norte, Siskiyou, Modoc, Humboldt, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen, Tehama, Plumas, Mendocino, Lake, Colusa, Glenn, Butte, Sierra, Sutter, Yuba, Nevada, Sonoma, Napa, Yolo, Placer, Solano, Sacramento, El Dorado, San Joaquin, Amador, Calaveras, Stanislaus, Mariposa, Madera, Merced, Tuolumne, Alpine and Mono.

The supreme court, by orders entered in its minutes, may from time to time remove one or more counties from one appellate district to another, but no county not contiguous to another county of a district shall be added to such district.

Said district courts of appeal shall hold their regular sessions respectively at San Francisco, Los Angeles and Sacramento, and they shall always be open for the transaction of business. Sessions.

The district courts of appeal shall have appellate jurisdiction on appeal from the superior courts in all cases at law in which the demand, exclusive of interest, or the value of the property in controversy, amounts to three hundred dollars, and does not amount to two thousand dollars; also, in all cases of forcible and unlawful entry and detainer (except such as arise in justices' courts), in proceedings in insolvency, and in actions to prevent or abate a nuisance: in proceedings of mandamus, certiorari and prohibition, usurpation of office, contesting elections and eminent domain, and in such other special proceedings as may be provided by law (excepting cases in which appellate jurisdiction is given to the supreme court); also, on questions of law alone, in all criminal cases Jurisdiction of district

appeal.

prosecuted by indictment or information in a court of record, excepting criminal cases where judgment of death has been rendered. The said courts shall also have appellate jurisdiction in all cases, matters, and proceedings pending before the supreme court which shall be ordered by the supreme court to be transferred to a district court of appeal for hearing and decision. The said courts shall also have power to issue writs of mandamus, certiorari, prohibition and habeas corpus, and all other writs necessary or proper to the complete exercise of their appellate jurisdiction. Each of the justices thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus to any part of his appellate district upon petition by or on behalf of any person held in actual custody, and may make such writs returnable before himself or the district court of appeal of his district, or before any superior court within his district, or before any judge thereof.

Transfer of cause.

The supreme court shall have power to order any cause pending before the supreme court to be heard and determined by a district court of appeal, and to order any cause pending before a district court of appeal to be heard and determined by the supreme court. The order last mentioned may be made before judgment has been pronounced by a district court of appeal, or within thirty days after such judgment shall have become final therein. The judgments of the district courts of appeal shall become final therein upon the expiration of thirty days after the same shall have been pronounced.

Election of justices.

The supreme court shall have power to order causes pending before a district court of appeal for one district to be transferred to the district court of appeal of another district, or from one division thereof to another, for hearing and decision.

The justices of the district courts of appeal shall be elected by the qualified electors within their respective districts at the general state elections; and the term of office of said justices shall be twelve years from and after the first day of January next succeeding their election.

Appointment of justices.

Upon the adoption by the people of this section by amendment at the general election of the year one thousand nine hundred eighteen, the governor shall appoint six persons to serve as justices of the district courts of appeal—three as justices of division two of the first appellate district, and three as justices of division two of the second appellate district—from and after their qualification and until the next general election and qualification of their successors. The justices of divisions two of the first and second appellate districts elected as above provided, shall so classify themselves by lot that one of them shall go out of office at the end of four years, one of them at the end of eight years, and one of them at the end of twelve years, and entry of such classification shall be made in the minutes of said division, signed by the three justices thereof, and a duplicate thereof filed in the office of the secretary of state.

If any vacancy occur in the office of a justice of the district courts of appeal, the governor shall appoint a person to hold office until the election and qualification of a justice to fill the vacancy. Such election shall take place at the next succeeding general state election, as aforesaid; the justice then elected shall hold office for the unexpired term; provided, that whenever the term of office of the justice whose place is filled by appointment is fixed by law to expire on the first Monday of January after the next succeeding general election, then the person so appointed to fill the vacancy shall hold office for the remainder of such unexpired term. Vacancies.

One of the justices of each of the district courts of appeal, and of each division of said courts, shall be the presiding justice thereof, and as such shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be. Presiding Justice.

The presence of two justices shall be necessary for the transaction of any business by such court except such as may be done at chambers, and the concurrence of two justices shall be necessary to pronounce a judgment.

Whenever any justice of the supreme court is for any reason disqualified or unable to act in a cause pending before it, the remaining justices may select one of the justices of a district court of appeal or a judge of the superior court to act pro tempore in the place of the justice so disqualified or unable to act. Judges pro tempore

Whenever any justice of a district court of appeal, or any division thereof, is for any reason disqualified or unable to act in any cause pending before it, the other justices of said court or division may appoint a justice of a district court of appeal of another district or division, or a judge of the superior court who has not acted in the cause in a court below, to act pro tempore in the place of the justice so disqualified or unable to act.

No appeal taken to the supreme court or to a district court of appeal shall be dismissed for the reason only that the same was not taken to the proper court, but the cause shall be transferred to the proper court upon such terms as to costs or otherwise as may be just, and shall be proceeded with therein as if regularly appealed thereto.

All statutes now in force allowing, providing for or regulating appeals to the supreme court shall apply to appeals to the district courts of appeal so far as such statutes are not inconsistent with this article and until the legislature shall otherwise provide.

The supreme court shall make and adopt rules not inconsistent with law for the government of the supreme court and of the district courts of appeal and of the officers thereof, and for regulating the practice in said courts, and for the distribution of causes between the divisions of said court. Rules and regulations.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 1, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the constitution of said state by amending section one of article two thereof, relating to the right of suffrage.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional amendment.

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring. That the legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, nineteen hundred seventeen, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section one of article two of the constitution of this state be amended to read as follows:

Right of suffrage.

Section 1. Every native citizen of the United States, every person who shall have acquired the rights of citizenship under or by virtue of the treaty of Queretaro, and every naturalized citizen thereof, who shall have become such ninety days prior to any election, of the age of twenty-one years, who shall have been resident of the state one year next preceding the election, and of the county in which he or she claims his or her vote ninety days, and in the election precinct thirty days, shall be entitled to vote at all elections which are now or may hereafter be authorized by law; provided, no native of China, no idiot, no insane person, no person convicted of any infamous crime, no person hereafter convicted of the embezzlement or misappropriation of public money, and no person who shall not be able to read the constitution in the English language and write his or her name, shall ever exercise the privileges of an elector in this state; provided, that the provisions of this amendment relative to an educational qualification shall not apply to any person prevented by a physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who had the right to vote on October 10, 1911, nor to any person who was sixty years of age and upwards on October 10, 1911; provided, further, that the legislature may, by general law, provide for the casting of votes by duly registered voters who, by reason of their occupation, are regularly required to travel about the state and who, by such affidavit as the legislature may prescribe, show that they will be absent from their respective precincts on the day on which any primary or general election is held, or who, by reason of their being engaged in the military or naval service of the United States or of the state other than in the regular army or navy of the United States, may be absent from their respective precincts on the day on which any primary or general election is held; which votes (a) may be cast in the city, city and county or town in which such voters respectively reside, and on a day subsequent to the day on which the official ballots for such election have been printed and prior to the date of such election; or (b) may be cast in the city, city and county or town within this state in which such voters may be on the day on which such election is held, under such provisions as the legislature may see fit to make, and shall be forwarded in such manner as the legislature may prescribe to the officers respectively of the city, city and county or town having charge of the counting of the ballots cast at such election; or (c) in cases where said voters are engaged in such military or naval service, may be cast at any place within the United States where not less than fifty such soldiers or sailors are stationed, on the day on which such election is held, under such provisions as the legislature may see fit to make, and shall be forwarded in such manner as the legislature may prescribe to the officers respectively of the city, city and county or town having charge of the counting of the ballots at such election; all of which votes shall be kept in such manner and counted by such methods as the legislature may prescribe.

suffrage.

may be granted to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company and its successors by the secretary of war in accordance herewith and to terminate without further action on the part of the State of California upon the revocation or termination of the privilege; provided, that the cession of jurisdiction made by this act shall take effect upon the termination of the cession of jurisdiction made by the joint resolution of congress approved October twenty-second, one thousand nine hundred fourteen, on the condition that the same is accepted by the legislature of the State of California at its first session after the passage of this act, this cession to be without prejudice to the jurisdiction of the United States to try and punish all crimes committed within said portion of said military reservation prior to the date jurisdiction vested in the state under said joint resolution approved October twenty-second, one thousand nine hundred fourteen; provided, further, that when the United States shall resume possession of said lands, or any part thereof, the jurisdiction herein ceded over said lands so repossessed shall revert in the United States; and provided, further, that in the event of the failure of the said exposition company, or its successors, on the revocation of this privilege, to remove the buildings and improvements thereon, they shall then vest in and become the property of the United States; and provided, further, that the privileges herein granted shall only apply so long as the building in question is used as an art museum, and for no other purpose"; and

WHEREAS, Under and in pursuance of said provision the secretary of war by an instrument dated on the eleventh day of November, one thousand nine hundred sixteen, did grant to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company permission to occupy and use for the purpose of maintaining thereon the Palace of Fine Arts and its appurtenances; and

WHEREAS, It is deemed for the best interest of the people of the State of California to accept the cession of jurisdiction as provided in said act;

Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate and assembly of the State of California, jointly, That the State of California shall and does hereby accept the cession of jurisdiction over that portion of the Presidio of San Francisco military reservation, permission to occupy which was granted as aforesaid to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition Company, such jurisdiction to terminate upon the expiration of said grant subject to the provisions and conditions in said act of congress above set forth; and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of state of California be and he is hereby requested to transmit certified copies hereof, one each to the secretary of state of United States and the secretary of war of the United States and two copies to the librarian of congress; and

Resolved, further, That the acceptance of jurisdiction herein provided for shall take effect in accordance with the provisions of said act of congress.

CHAPTER 66.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 7, relative to approving one certain amendment to the charter of the city of Oakland, in the county of Alameda, State of California, voted for and ratified by the electors of said city of Oakland at a special election called and held on the twenty-second day of August, nineteen hundred sixteen.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The city of Oakland, a municipal corporation of the county of Alameda, State of California, now is and was at all times herein mentioned a city containing a population of more than ten thousand inhabitants and has been ever since the first day of July, nineteen hundred eleven and is now organized and acting under a freeholders' charter adopted under and by virtue of section eight, article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, and which charter was duly ratified by the qualified electors of said city at an election held for that purpose on the eighth day of December, nineteen hundred ten, and approved by the legislature of the State of California by the concurrent resolution filed with the secretary of state on the fifteenth day of February, 1911 (Statutes of 1911, page 1551); and

Oakland
amendment.

WHEREAS, The council of the said city of Oakland, the legislative body of said city, by and in pursuance of its resolution No. 13119, n. s., passed by said council on the eleventh day of July, 1916, and by and in pursuance of its resolution No. 13268, n. s., passed by said council on the first day of August, 1916, and by and in pursuance of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, did, duly and regularly and on its own motion, submit and propose to the qualified electors of the city of Oakland a certain amendment to said charter of said city by the submission of a proposal to amend subdivision forty-one of section fifty-one of article nine of said charter; and

WHEREAS, Said proposal above mentioned containing said proposed amendment to said charter was duly and regularly published in accordance with the provisions of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California and in accordance with the provisions of the charter of the city of Oakland in the "Oakland Enquirer," a daily newspaper of general circulation published in said city of Oakland, and the official newspaper of said city; and

WHEREAS, Copies of said proposal containing said proposed amendment were printed in convenient pamphlet form and until the date fixed for the election hereinafter described and as required by law an advertisement was published in said "Oakland Enquirer" that such copies could be had upon application therefor at the office of the city clerk of the city of Oakland; and

city charter
amendment.

WHEREAS, Such copies could be had upon application therefor at the office of the city clerk of the city of Oakland until the date fixed for the election hereinafter described; and

WHEREAS, The said council of the city of Oakland, by its said resolution No. 13268, n. s., passed on the first day of August, 1916, did order the holding of a special municipal election in said city of Oakland on the twenty-second day of August, 1916, said day being at least forty days after the completion of the publication of said proposed amendment in said "Oakland Enquirer" and not more than sixty days after the completion of said publication, and did provide in said resolution for the submission of said proposed charter amendment to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification at such election; and

WHEREAS, Said election was duly called and held on the twenty-second day of August, 1916, and at said election a majority of the qualified electors voting thereon voted in favor of the ratification of and did ratify said proposed amendment to said charter; and

WHEREAS, The returns of said election were, in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided, duly and regularly canvassed and certified to and it was duly found and determined and declared by the proper officers thereunto duly properly authorized that a majority of the qualified electors of said city voting thereon had voted for and ratified said proposed amendment to said charter; and

WHEREAS, Said amendment to said charter so ratified by a majority of said qualified electors of said city voting thereon at said election is in words and figures as follows:

That subdivision forty-one of section fifty-one of article nine of the Charter be amended to read as follows:

Lease of lands owned by city.

(41) To provide for the lease of any land now or hereafter owned or controlled by the city, but all leases shall be made at public auction to the highest responsible bidder at the highest rent, after publication of notice thereof for five days, stating explicitly the time and conditions of the proposed lease; provided, that no such lease shall be for a period of more than twenty-five years; except that the Council may lease for a term not to exceed ninety-nine years that portion of the land granted to the City of Oakland by the Act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved May 1, 1911, (Stat. 1911, p. 1258) lying between Seventh Street and Thirty-fourth Street and lying easterly of a line drawn parallel to and at least one hundred feet easterly of the stone and earthen bulkhead in the Key Route Basin, upon condition that the lessee expend at least five million dollars in development during the first six years of said term, of which at least one million five hundred thousand dollars shall be expended under the direction of the Council in the dredging of the Key Route Basin westerly of said bulkhead, in the filling of the land easterly of said bulkhead, and in the building of docks and wharves at or near said bulkhead and westerly of property to be leased.

and upon the condition that all improvements made or erected by said lessee shall immediately vest in and belong to the city, and upon such other terms and conditions not inconsistent herewith as the Council may prescribe; and provided that the Council may in its discretion reject any and all bids.

Lease of lands owned by city.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 13, relative to the sale of the ripe pine in the national forest reserves, located in the State of California, and the use of the proceeds in the construction of dams and reservoirs for the collecting, impounding and conserving the waters of the state and the protection of its lands from flood waters.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Sale of ripe pine of national forest reserves for construction of dams.

WHEREAS, It is estimated there are many millions feet of "ripe" and merchantable pine timber in the national forest reserves, located within the State of California, most of said timber being of excellent quality and conveniently located for manufacturing and commercial purposes; and

WHEREAS, This timber is a ripe product and its utilization is most desirable in the interest of providing protection to, and development of, the young and growing timber in these forests; and

WHEREAS, Most of the source watersheds of our stream systems are included within the area of the said national forest reserves, and a large percentage of the sites desirable for reservoirs for the collection and storage of flood waters are within the boundaries of these same national forest reserves; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate of the State of California, jointly, That we memorialize the government of the United States to arrange for the sale of the "ripe" pine in the national forest reserves, located within the State of California, and the application of the funds (above the twenty-five per cent now given to the road and school funds of the state) received from such sources, to the building of dams and reservoirs for collecting, impounding and conserving the waters of the state and the protection of its lands from floods; and be it further

Resolved, That the senators and representatives in congress from the State of California, be requested to use their influence to bring about the results above outlined; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be and he is hereby directed to forward a copy of this resolution to the respective houses in congress, and to each of the senators and representatives in congress from the State of California, including those to assume office March 4, 1917.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 16, relative to California orange day.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The orange is one of the most important products of the State of California, and one of its chief glories; and California Orange Day.

WHEREAS, It is desirable that this product be given suitable recognition at this time; and

WHEREAS, The observance of a special day as "California Orange Day" throughout this state would be an eminently fitting form for such recognition; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the legislature of the State of California hereby recognizes and sets apart the tenth day of March, 1917, to be observed as "California Orange Day."

CHAPTER 70.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 19, relative to approving two certain amendments to the charter of the city of San Rafael, county of Marin, State of California, voted for and ratified by the qualified electors of said city of San Rafael at a general municipal election held therein on the ninth day of April, nineteen hundred seventeen.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The city of San Rafael in the county of Marin, San Rafael city charter amendment. State of California, contains a population of more than three thousand five hundred inhabitants, and has been ever since the first day of July, nineteen hundred thirteen, and is now, organized and acting under a freeholder's charter, adopted under and by virtue of section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, which charter was duly ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said city at a special election held for that purpose on the thirtieth day of November, nineteen hundred twelve, and approved by the legislature of the State of California, and filed with the secretary of state March thirty-first, nineteen hundred thirteen (Statutes 1913, page 1549); and

San Rafael
city charter
amendments.

WHEREAS, The city council of said city of San Rafael did by resolution duly adopted by said city council on the fourteenth day of February, nineteen hundred seventeen, and pursuant to section eight of article eleven of the constitution of the State of California, duly propose to the qualified electors of said city of San Rafael certain amendments to the charter of said city of San Rafael to be submitted to the said qualified electors at a general municipal election to be held in said city on the ninth day of April, nineteen hundred seventeen, said amendments being four in number; and

WHEREAS, Said proposed amendments were, and each of them was published once in The Marin County Tocsin, a weekly newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in said city of San Rafael, said publication being on the twenty-fourth day of February, nineteen hundred seventeen, and copies of said charter amendments were caused to be printed in convenient pamphlet form, and a notice that such copies could be had upon application to the city clerk was thereafter advertised until the date fixed for said election, in The Marin Journal, a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published and circulated in the city of San Rafael; and

WHEREAS, The city council of said city did by proclamation duly adopted by said council, and approved by the mayor of said city, order the holding of a general municipal election in the city of San Rafael on the ninth day of April, nineteen hundred seventeen, as provided by the charter of said city, said day being not less than forty, nor more than sixty days after the completion of the publication of said proposed amendments in said weekly newspaper of general circulation in said city of San Rafael, to wit, The Marin County Tocsin; and did provide in said proclamation for the submission of the proposed charter amendments numbered one, two, three and four to the qualified electors of said city for their ratification at said election; and

WHEREAS, Said election was duly called and held on said ninth day of April, nineteen hundred seventeen; and

WHEREAS, The city council of said city of San Rafael in accordance with the law in such cases made and provided, did meet on Friday, the thirteenth day of April, nineteen hundred seventeen, at their usual time and place of meeting, and duly canvassed the returns of said election as certified by the election boards, and duly found, deemed and declared that a majority of the qualified electors of said city voting thereon had voted for and ratified two of said proposed amendments to the charter of said city of San Rafael; and

WHEREAS, The said two amendments to the charter of the city of San Rafael so ratified by a majority of the qualified electors of said city voting thereon at said election are in words and figures as follows:

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. 2.

Section 8 of Article VI of the charter of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 8. No person shall be eligible to hold any office in said City of San Rafael, whether filled by election or appointment, unless he be a resident and elector therein, and shall have resided in said City for three (3) years next preceding the date of such election or appointment. Eligibility to office.

This section shall not apply to superintendents, principals and teachers in the public schools, or to the city engineer.

CHARTER AMENDMENT NO. 4.

Section 9 of Article XIII of the charter of the City of San Rafael is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 9. The maximum time of labor or service required of any laborer, workman, or mechanic employed by the day upon any municipal work, whether employed directly by the City and its officers, or by a contractor, or sub-contractor, shall be eight hours during any one calendar day, and the minimum wages of any such laborer, workman, or mechanic shall be three ($3.00) dollars per day. Hours of labor. Minimum wage.

State of California, )
County of Marin, ) ss.
City of San Rafael. )

This is to certify that we, S. K. Herzog, mayor of the City of San Rafael, and Eugene W. Smith, clerk of the City of San Rafael have compared the foregoing proposed and ratified amendments to the charter of the City of San Rafael with the original resolution of the council of the City of San Rafael, proposing such amendments, and submitting the same to the qualified electors of said city at a general municipal election held on Monday the 9th day of April, 1917, and find that the foregoing is a full, true, correct and exact copy thereof, and each of them; and we further certify that the facts set forth in the preamble preceding such amendments to said charter are, and each of them is true. That as to all of said amendments this certificate shall be taken as a full and complete certification as to the regularity of all proceedings had and done in connection therewith. Certificate.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands and caused the corporate seal of the City of San Rafael to be attached this 14th day of April, 1917.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 21, relative to preventing the exhibition of motion pictures that tend to promote race hatred.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Exhibition of motion pictures tending to promote race hatred.

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That any motion picture or other public exhibition which tends in any manner to promote race hatred or to foster ill feeling or animosity between the people of the United States and any friendly foreign nation is against public policy, particularly when this country is engaged in war, and that all such exhibitions or pictures should be suppressed; and be it further

Resolved, That this legislature urges the duly qualified authorities in every part of California to exercise the utmost vigilance to prevent such exhibitions to the end that our international relationships may not be complicated by selfish or vicious appeals to prejudice.

CHAPTER 72.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 20, relative to revision of statutes affecting the public schools of the state.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Revision of statutes affecting public schools.

WHEREAS, The several statutes relating to the public schools of this state are contained in the Political Code and in various general laws; and

WHEREAS, The sections of the Political Code dealing with the school law are not orderly arranged and some of these sections have been rendered obsolete in whole or in part by subsequent enactments; and Revision of statutes affecting public schools.

WHEREAS, There is a demand for such a revision of these statutes as will obviate the conflict, uncertainty and useless expense now incident to their administration; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the chief of the legislative counsel bureau be and he is hereby directed to make an examination of all the statutes relating to the educational system of the state, and to consult with officers engaged in educational work in the state and with auditors of the several counties; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief of the bureau shall render a full report thereon to the legislature at its next regular session, embodying therein such recommendations regarding amendments, repeals or other changes as he may deem advisable or expedient; and be it further

Resolved, That not later than December 1, 1918, a copy of said report shall be sent to the governor, to each person who will serve in the forty-third session of the legislature, to the secretary of each county board of education, to the clerk of each district board of trustees, and to each county auditor, the expense of printing and distribution to be paid out of any moneys appropriated at the forty-second session of the legislature for legislative printing.

CHAPTER 73.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 22, relative to urging congress to submit to the legislators of the states for their ratification an amendment to the United States constitution granting women the right to vote.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

WHEREAS, The women of the United States are being called upon to share the burden and sacrifice incidental to the present national crisis; and Woman suffrage amendment to United States constitution.

WHEREAS, They are patriotically responding to that call; be it

Resolved, That denial of the right of women to vote in any part of the nation on equal terms with the men is an injustice; and be it further

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring therein, That we do urge upon congress the submission to the legislatures of the states, for their ratification, an amendment to the United States constitution, granting women the right to vote.

CHAPTER 74.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 23, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California to amend article thirteen of the constitution by adding a new section thereto to be numbered five, relating to reimbursement to cities for taxes lost on account of exemptions.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional amendment.

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the legislature of the State of California, at its forty-second regular session, commencing on the eighth day of January, nineteen hundred seventeen, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California to amend article thirteen of the constitution of this state by adding a new section thereto to be numbered five and to read as follows:

Reimbursement to cities for taxes lost by exemptions.

Sec. 5. The state, from time to time, after due investigation by the legislature, may appropriate money from the general revenues to supply to any city the loss of revenue resulting to such city from the exemption from taxation allowed by section one and one-quarter of article thirteen of this constitution; provided, however, that no such appropriation shall be made unless it shall sufficiently appear to the legislature that the value of the property so exempted from taxation is not less than five per cent of the total assessed valuation of property in such city.

CHAPTER 75.

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 23, relative to providing as expeditiously as possible a fairer and more adequate compensation for those engaged in active service in the army and navy of the United States.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Compensation for those in active service of United States army and navy.

WHEREAS, In this hour of grave necessity many of our brothers are called upon to leave their usual employments and professions and enter upon the service of our country; and

WHEREAS, The offering of themselves for such service entails much sacrifice and real material loss; and

WHEREAS, The compensation allowed the American soldier even in times of war is inadequate and insufficient to meet his ordinary needs when in service, or to permit him to contribute towards the care and comfort of those dependent upon him whose burden of suffering and deprivation is his greatest concern; and

WHEREAS, Some relief of the existing conditions would have a tendency to strengthen, encourage and sustain the soldier in the discharge of his duty and his dependents in their great sacrifices; and

Compensation for those in active service of United States army and navy.

WHEREAS, Those loyal Americans not engaged in active service should be willing to lighten the burden of the soldier and take upon themselves some part of patriotic sacrifice; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the assembly and senate, jointly, That the legislature of the State of California does hereby most respectfully memorialize the congress of the United States to provide as expeditiously as possible a fairer and more adequate compensation for those engaged in active service in the army and navy of the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That the chief clerk of the assembly be, and he is hereby directed to send a certified copy of the resolution to each of our senators and representatives in congress; to the president of the senate, and to the speaker of the house of representatives; to the secretary of war, and the secretary of the navy.

CHAPTER 76.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 31, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to section fourteen of article one of the constitution, relating to the taking of private property for public use.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

The legislature of the State of California, at its forty-second regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, nineteen hundred seventeen, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section fourteen of article one of the constitution of this state be amended so as to read as follows:

Constitutional amendment.

Sec. 14. Private property shall not be taken or damaged for public use without just compensation having first been made to, or paid into court for, the owner, and no right of way shall be appropriated to the use of any corporation, except a municipal corporation or a county, until full compensation therefor be first made in money or ascertained and paid into court for the owner, irrespective of any benefits from any improvement proposed by such corporation, which compensation shall be ascertained by a jury, unless a jury be waived, as in other civil cases in a court of record, as shall be prescribed by law; provided, that in an action in eminent domain brought by the state, or a county, or a municipal corporation, or a drainage, irrigation, levee, or reclamation district, the aforesaid state or political subdivision thereof or district may take immediate possession and use of any right of way required for a public use whether the fee thereof or an easement therefor be sought upon first commencing eminent domain proceedings according to law in a court of competent jurisdiction and thereupon giving such security in the way of money deposits as the court in which such proceedings are pending may direct, and in such amounts as the court may determine to be reasonably adequate to secure to the owner of the property sought to be taken immediate payment of just compensation for such taking and any damage incident thereto, including damages sustained by reason of an adjudication that there is no necessity for taking the property, as soon as the same can be ascertained according to law. The court may, upon motion of any party to said eminent domain proceedings, after such notice to the other parties as the court may prescribe, alter the amount of such security so required in such proceedings. The taking of private property for a railroad run by steam or electric power for logging or lumbering purposes shall be deemed a taking for a public use, and any person, firm, company or corporation taking private property under the law of eminent domain for such purposes shall thereupon and thereby become a common carrier.

CHAPTER 77.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 35, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California to amend the constitution of said state by adding a new section to article thirteen thereof to be numbered one b, relating to the exemption from taxation of Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association properties used for association purposes.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional
amendment.

The legislature of the State of California at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes to amend the constitution of said state by adding a new section to article thirteen thereof, to be numbered one b and to read as follows:

Y. M. C. A.
and
Y. W. C. A. buildings exempted from taxation.

Sec. 1*b*. There shall be exempt from taxation all Young Men's Christian Association buildings and Young Women's Christian Association buildings, with their furniture and equipments and the lots of ground on which they stand used therewith and necessary thereto when owned by said associations; provided, that when any part of such property is used for any other than association purposes and a rent or other valuable consideration is received for its use, the part so rented is subject to taxation; provided, further, that rented furnished rooms are to be considered used for association purposes.

CHAPTER 78.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment of the constitution of said state by amending section three of article twelve thereof, relating to the liability of stockholders and directors.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of all of the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that section three of article twelve of the constitution of the State of California be amended to read as follows:

Constitutional amendment.

Sec. 3. Each stockholder of a corporation, or joint-stock association, shall be individually and personally liable for such proportion of all its debts and liabilities contracted or incurred, during the time he was a stockholder, as the amount of stock or shares owned by him bears to the whole of the subscribed capital stock or shares of the corporation or association. The directors or trustees of corporations and joint-stock associations shall be jointly and severally liable to the creditors and stockholders for all moneys embezzled or misappropriated by the officers of such corporation or joint-stock association, during the term of office of such director or trustee.

Liability of stockholders and directors.

Nothing in the preceding paragraph of this section shall be held to apply to any corporation hereafter organized under the laws of this state which shall adopt and use as the last word of its corporate name, the word "Limited" or its abbreviation, "Ltd.": but the stockholders of such corporations shall be subject to such liabilities as may be provided by the legislature.

CHAPTER 79.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 61, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to article six, section one, of the constitution of the State of California, relating to judicial powers.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

The legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the eighth day of January, one thousand nine hundred seventeen, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the said legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes that section one of article six of the constitution of the State of California be amended to read as follows:

Constitutional amendment.

Judicial
powers.

Section 1. The judicial power of the state shall be vested in the senate, sitting as a court of impeachment, in a supreme court, and in such other courts as the legislature by general law (subject to the referendum) may establish. Upon this section becoming effective the remaining provisions of this article other than section nineteen, whether adopted heretofore or contemporaneously herewith, shall become of the same force and effect as general laws and be subject to repeal or amendment by legislative act adopted pursuant hereto.

CHAPTER 80.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 62, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California to amend section eighteen of article eleven of the Constitution, relative to municipal indebtedness.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional
amendment.

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the legislature of the State of California, at its forty-second regular session beginning on the eighth day of January, nineteen hundred seventeen, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof, proposes to the people of the state that section eighteen of article eleven of the constitution be amended to read as follows:

Restriction on power to incur
indebtedness

Sec. 18. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district, shall incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for such year, without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also provision to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same; provided, however, that the city and county of San Francisco may at any time pay the unpaid claims, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, for materials furnished to and work done for said city and county during the forty-first, forty-second, forty-third, forty-fourth, and fiftieth fiscal years, and for unpaid teachers' salaries for the fiftieth fiscal year, out of the income and revenue of any succeeding year or years, the amount to be paid in full of said claims not to exceed in the aggregate the sum of five hundred thousand dollars, and that no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner to these claims; and provided, further, that the city of Vallejo, of Solano county, may pay its

CHAPTER 81.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 67, a resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to article eleven of the state constitution by adding a new section thereto, relating to the reimbursement of official funds held by the treasurer of Los Angeles county.

[Filed with Secretary of State May 4, 1917.]

Constitutional
amendment

Resolved by the assembly, the senate concurring, That the legislature of the State of California, at its forty-second regular session commencing the eighth day of January, 1917, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses voting in favor thereof, proposes to the people of the state that article eleven of the state constitution be amended by adding a new section thereto, to be numbered eighteen one-half, to read as follows:

Reimbursement of funds held by Los Angeles county
treasurer.

Sec. 18½. Anything in this constitution to the contrary notwithstanding, the county of Los Angeles may, out of succeeding years' revenue or income, reimburse any funds officially held by the treasurer of Los Angeles county which have been heretofore diminished by payment therefrom, during the sixty-fourth, sixty-fifth, sixty-sixth, sixty-seventh or sixty-eighth fiscal years, of claims or demands representing indebtedness or liability of said county in excess of the income and revenue provided for the year in which such indebtedness or liability was incurred, whenever a majority of the qualified electors of said county voting at an election held for that purpose shall so decide; and such an election may be called by the board of supervisors of said county and held in accordance with the election laws of this state applicable thereto.
