SUBJECT: Application of Kondo Tokei Kogyo K.K. (23-16)
~~for~~ to Exempt~~ion~~ ~~from Reparations of Transformers~~ Transfers from Reparations List.

TO : Commanding General, Eighth Army, APO 343.
(Attention: Industry Section)

THRU : Military Government ~~Headquarters~~ Chugoku,

1. Subject transformers were installed in Kondo Tokei Kogyo K.K.'s Factory in 1935. They were used from that time until 1944 for the production of textiles, and for the period of a year for the production of munitions. These transformers, in use at present for the manufacture of clocks, were inventoried by this Team as Reparations items. ~~Prefecture Officials and representatives of the company.~~

2. Prefecture Officials and representatives of the company state that it will be almost impossible to replace the transformers if they are taken for Reparations. Fifty-four (54) ~~XX~~ machines have been released from Reparations by SCAP, and in addition the company has twenty-seven (27) wood working machines, but if the transformers are taken and cannot be replaced, these machines will be useless.

3. This application, for release from Reparations of four (4) transformers is submitted for your information without recommendation.

It has been ascertained that Kondo Tokei can replace their transformers by contacting Chubu Haiden, distributor. They have been so notified, approx. 1 May 1947.

b. History

Before War 1925 : Established in April. Capital, 400,000Yen
Product, woolen textile matter.

During War 1943 : Converted into munitions manufacturer in August, by "Readjustment of Enterprise."

1944 : Actually produced fuse-parts. Capital, 160,000 Yen.

1945: Discontinued operation in August when the war ended.

After war 1946 : Reconverted into production of clock, and furniture. (Permit No. 1070F67, dated Mar. 26th, 1946) Designated to reparation in Aug. 24th.

Inventeried No.	Name of Machinery	Capacity and type	Quantity	Use
405-408	Transfermer	40KVA Indoor selfcooled primery 3,300V cycle 60	4	Receiving whole elc. power.

Remarks:

1. The above-mentioned transformers were bought one by one at the establishment of our woolen textile company, for operating the whole weaving machines. And it goes without saying that every one of them was installed long before the war and never prepared for manufacturing munitions. During wartime they were indeed temporarily used for operating machine tools for manufacturing munitions, but they have been used for operating wood-working machineries and machine tools for clock making, since the reconversion into peace industry.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775 013

2. Out of 4 units 3 transformers are used for motors as 1 set, being connected to delta, and the rest 1 is used for general lighting as 1 phase.

3. Reason for Necessity of Retainment

a. The subject 4 transformers have been installed those 12 years since 1935 when we started as one of woolen textile manufacturing companies - that is, they have been bought and installed never for munitions production.

b. They were temporarily devoted for use of manufacturing parts of fuses for merely about 1 year (from July, '44 to August, '45), while they are at present, and will be in future, necessary to drive wood-working machines and metal-working machines for clock manufacturing, of which permission we have been given by Military Government. The consequence is that the subject 4 transformers should be separated in disposition from those machine tools which were installed during the war, because the former have a civilian purpose in its use.

c. Our company was established before the war as early as in 1935 for the purpose of woolen textile production, and after the war she reconverted back into the same peace industry, the products are different - namely, clock, furniture - therefore the transformere should be considered to have been reconverted, too, back into the proper use and to be released from reparation. Especially, they are used for receiving the whole electric power, supplied into our factory, and if they are removed we indeed cannot continue any productive industry. Therefore, espcially we would implore them to be retained by all means, as it is very difficult at present to purchase new ones.

4. Notes:

This application is considered to be added to the former application control to our company for exemption of machine tools from reparation, which has been submetted from Japanese Government through C.I.O. However, these transformers, which we implore to be exempted hereby, are fundamentally different from those machine tools, and have greater necessity for us, so that it is requested to be understood that we dare to separately submit this application concerning these transformers.

1. Transmitted herewith, in quintuplicate, is an application for partial exemption from the reparations list of the Kondo Tokei Kogyo K.K. (Kondo Heiki (Arms) K.K.) (23-16), 507-3, Tozu, Tado-mura, Kuwana-gun, Mie Prefecture, consisting of fifty-four (54) machines.

2. This OD-5 (23-16) Company, added to reparations list by SCAP through SCAPIN 1134, dated 13 August 1946, was established in 1925 (correction from previous records, which show that the plant began operation in 1935) for the purpose of manufacturing woolen textiles.

3. Said Company requests that fifty-four (54) machines be exempted from reparations. It has been ascertained that these machines were purchased after the war from non-reparation plants and reparation plants which, with a Permit to Manufacture, produced these machines as commercial items. The original invoices have been inspected for accuracy.

4. The total of named reparation machines, shown in application with receipts, is only forty-four (44), whereas, the total requested for exemption is fifty-four (54) machines, eligible by name for reparations. (Explanation: Ten (10) machines, of the sixteen (16) machines shown on attached salvage machine receipt, were repaired so that they are now capable of production. Five (5) lathes, two (2) milling machines, one (1) gear cutting and finishing machine, one (1) hack saw and one (1) testing and measuring machine are the names of the said ten (10) repaired machines.)

5. In view of the fact that subject company's fifty-four (54) machines were purchased and installed after the war, and because said machines do not fall under the criteria of OD 5/5, Section III, this headquarters recommends that Kondo Tokei Kogyo K.K. (Kondo Heiki (Arms) K.K.) 23-16, be permitted to retain the Ex in-

It is the opinion of this headquarters that withdrawal of the inventory sheets for the machines, and release of this equipment, would assist in stabilizing the economy of the region.

2. Transformers desired to be retained.

Inventoried No.	Name of Machinery	Capacity and type	Quantity	Use
405-408	Transformer	40KVA Indoor selfcooled primary 3,300V cycle 60	4	Receiving whole elc. power.

Remarks:

1. The above-mentiond transformers were bought one by one at the establishment of our woolen textile company, for operating the whole weaving machines. And it goes without saying that every one of them was installed long before the war and never prepared for manufacturing munitions. During wartime they were indeed temporarily used for operating machine tools for manufacturing munitions, but they have been used for operating wood-working machineries and machine tools for clock making, since the reconversion into peace industry.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 775 013

2. Out of 4 units 3 transformers are used for motors as 1 set, being connected to delta, and the rest 1 is used for general lighting as 1 phase.

3. Reason for Necessity of Retainment

a. The subject 4 transformers have been installed those 12 years since 1935 when we started as one of woolen textile manufacturing companies - that is, they have been bought and installed never for munitions production.

b. They were temporarily devoted for use of manufacturing parts of fuses for merely about 1 year (from July, '44 to August, '45), while they are at present, and will be in future, necessary to drive wood-working machines and metal-working machines for clock manufacturing, of which permission we have been given by Military Government. The consequence is that the subject 4 transformers should be separated in disposition from those machine tools which were installed during the war, because the former have a civilian purpose in its use .

c. Our company was established before the war as early as in 1935 for the purpose of woolen textile production, and after the war she reconverted back into the same peace industry, the products are different - namely, clock, furniture - therefore the transformers should be considered to have been reconverted, too, back into the proper use and to be released from reparation. Especially, they are used for receiving the whole electric power, supplied into our factory, and if they are removed we indeed cannot continue any productive industry.

Therefore, espcially we would implore them to be retained by all means, as it is very difficult at present to purchase new ones.

4. Notes:

This application is considered to be added to the former application control to our company for exemption of machine tools from reparation, which has been submitted from Japanese Government through C.L.O. However, these transformers, which we implore to be exempted hereby, are fundamentally different from these machine tools, and have greater necessity for us, so that it is requested to be understood that we dare to separately submit this application concerning these transformers.
