BUSINESS LICENSE PROJECT DROPPED BY OFFICIALS

Plan to Put Raise in Revenue Over Entire Community Is Outlined at Meeting

Special taxes levied against business and professional interests of the city in order to raise revenues to meet the monthly deficit of the municipality are no longer being considered by the councilmen, it developed at last night's council meeting.

Instead, the councilmen are considering the placing of a special tax on light or water meters—or perhaps on both.

Councilmen are proposing that a 25-cent monthly tax be assessed against each water meter—and there are about 7000 of the meters. Some of the councilmen, it is said, are also considering the placing of a tax of about 10 cents a month or each electric light meter—and there are about 8000 of the meters. Thus the $2000 additional sought by the municipality would be raised.

However, no formal action was taken by the council at its meeting last night beyond ordering sent to the Chamber of Commerce, the Progressive Business Men's club, and the Glendale Credit association; a copy of a report compiled by H. A. Harrison, city controller, and read to the councilmen by W. H. Reeves, city manager.

Business Men in Favor of Report

The report tells of the city's growth and discusses, in brief, the financial situation being faced by the municipality.

There were a number of businessmen at the council meeting last night expecting "discussions." They were disappointed. It was, in connection with it. He reminded the councilmen that the document is a contract or agreement between each one of them and the 600,000 other citizens in United States to maintain the high standards of scouting.

ORDER CLOSING THORNYCROFT IS TREATING SICK HEROES AS THOUGH THEY ARE WAR PRISONERS, CLAIM

Message of Protest Is Sent to President; Wire Is Also Dispatched Senator Johnson; Plans for Hurried Removal of Boys Meet Objection

BITTER opposition has arisen to the summary closing of Thornycroft hospital at Adams street and Windsor road by the United States veterans' bureau. This morning it was made known that the management had received notice that the government contract would become inoperative on April 15—tomorrow.

Early in the year Colonel Forbes, in charge of the bureau, made it known that this contract hospital would be abandoned, but intercession caused a delay in the plans until August. A few days ago the date for closing was set for May 7. And now comes the latest order to which the Glendale Chamber of Commerce takes a decided stand in opposing.

Telegrams were dispatched this noon to President Warren G. Harding and Senator Hiram Johnson, to intercede and keep the hospital open until an investigation can be made as many of the "boys," as they are known about town, have bought and built homes for their families, or have their relatives residing in this vicinity. Thirty-seven of the thirty-nine patients wish to remain here, agreeing that Thornycroft is the best place they have found.

William G. Wilson, who with his wife was active in Red Cross work during the war, has taken a personal interest in the matter and James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, says that such action on the part of the government makes his "blood boil." The fact that the majority of men hospitalized here want to stay is sufficient for the government to maintain Thornycroft, he believes.

GEO. M. ANDERSON WILL JOURNEY TO SUNNY ITALY

Planning to return to the land of his forefathers, George M. Anderson, violin maker of 106 Franklin Court, now is closing out his stock of wonderful instruments and by fall he expects to be on his way to Cremona, Italy.

This artisan—and that word is used in its strictest sense—has been a resident of Glendale for some time, but conditions have come about to create a desire for the "home land" he has never seen. And as for his art—

"An artist is guided by his eye," a musician by ear, a writer by thought, the violin maker by the sense of touch," according to Mr. Anderson. "All of them are creators and none can work unless the spirit moves. You must be in harmony with things, you must be happy in your work."

Made of Thick Wood
"This year I have made seven violins only, or rather made preparations to complete them," he continued. "They are of the thickest wood possible to play, wonderful instruments when compared to the machine-made violins that now crowd the market."

"Artists come to me from all over the country and bet that I cannot make a true tone violin of a half-inch thickness, for they know that if I win they have an incomparable instrument. And guided by the sense of touch only—I use no calipers to measure the wood—I always win."

She came to America from Scotland only a little more than two years ago.

"They tell about a Stradivarius improving with age. Maybe so, but it isn't its age that makes a 'Strad.' It is the fact that it has lasted all of this time. A thin violin will not last. The vibrations ruin the tone. A thick-backed fiddle seldom will vibrate truly, because it is not made right. You cannot measure the wood in one and make another just like it. Every piece of wood is different. That is the reason a good violin maker will be directed by his sense of touch rather than using calipers."

"Only great musicians know that a violin has a soul, but those who do will make a pilgrimage of thousands of miles to get what they want in the way of an instrument. That is the reason so many go to Italy where the art has been handed down for centuries."

Further action on the part of the citizens, the American Legion, the War Mothers, the Red Cross and every other organization interested in the veterans' welfare is expected to result if the following telegrams are not effective:

Text of Message
"Hon. Warren G. Harding, President of the United States, Washington, D. C.
"The disabled soldiers at the Thornycroft Hospital appeal to you through the Chamber of Commerce of the city of Glendale to cancel order for their removal until conditions purporting to be the cause of said order can be investigated by an honorable impartial body or until the government can provide fit accommodations for those now in contract hospitals besides the hundreds in this vicinity who are entitled to and who would hospitalize if there

MAN WRAPPED UP IN SELF, CALLED SMALL PACKAGE

Roy L. Kent, vice president of the Rotary Club, yesterday initiated plans to have members speak before the school boys of the city and explain to them the service they are expected to render in world affairs.

Service above self is the keynote of Rotary and it was this theme that the Rev. E. E. Ford dwelled upon in a short talk.

Introduced as "the little minister," he expressed joy at being able to talk right out from his heart. "I object to the term, 'babies, weak minded and ministers,'" he said, "because I was a man before I was a minister. I spent five years behind the counter selling goods and appreciate the other fellow's viewpoint."

"Build for Future"
"I am not seeking popularity," continued the pastor, "but seeking the fellowship of those who would build the future. Service above self makes a man. A man wrapped in himself makes a mighty small package."

Dick Guiberson, past president of the Tulsa Rotary club, was present and sang two songs, "It's Morning" and "A Lad in Khaki," besides leading the ensemble, "In California," and telling some stories about the boy with a hare lip.

Druggists Among Visitors
Harry Dutton of Los Angeles, Al Hawkins of Pasadena and Ed O. Stafford of Marquette, Mich., all retail druggists, also were visiting Rotarians, while G. W. Byers, who has purchased a white home in Glendale, announced he was returning to his hotel business in Champaign, Ill.

George B. Karr, chairman of the fellowship committee, staged a stunt worthy of emulation in other clubs—that of having members at opposite sides of the table describe each other and their business.

Baptist Women Hold Meeting, Outline Plans

The regular all-day meeting of the Women's Union of the Baptist church, of which Mrs. E. E. Ford is president, was held at the church yesterday. The morning was devoted to sewing. Mrs. Linnie Carl addressed the women in the interest of girls. Mrs. Park Arnold and Mrs. J. Rhea Baker sang a duet.

Love In 'Wild Honey'
Although Bee Stings
Priscilla Dean's Lip

There are many keys to romance. The ending of a love affair—or rather, the ending of the preliminaries and the beginning of the real happiness—may be shown in a photograph in a hundred clever ways. But it is a unique development that brings about the culmination of everything in the beautiful romance of Lady Vivienne in "Wild Honey," the Universal-Jewel attraction which has brought Priscilla Dean in a stellar role to the Glendale Theatre. Kerry Burgess, the man in love with her, finds some wild honey in a fallen tree and brings it to her. A bee angrily follows and stings her on the lip. It is a Cupid's moment. "Straight From the Farm" with Al St. John, keeps them all laughing and provides a good beginning for the thriller. Tomorrow vaudeville is the featured attraction.

May Valentine Chosen for Advanced Studies

Miss May Valentine, of Michigan City, Ind., daughter of C. A. Valentine of 461 West Windsor Road, Glendale, has been signally honored by being selected from the middle states of this country to enter the Conservatoire American at the "Ecole des Hautes-Etudes musicales de France," in the Palace of Fontainebleau at Paris, France. Miss Valentine, it will be remembered, visited her father a year ago, at which time the Robin Hood Opera company, of which she had charge, was playing in Los Angeles. She had charge of the opera and orchestra and is one of the few women conductors in this country. The Conservatoire was founded after the war for American students only, who might wish to take an extremely advanced course under the world's greatest masters. Only 200 scholars are allowed to enter each course and they must be musically and efficiently according to judgment of the French and American committees. Out of many thousands who sought this opportunity, Miss May Valentine was chosen from the middle section of the United States. Francis Casseus, Walter Damosch, Jean de Reszke, Gustave Charpentier and other world masters are represented on the board of teachers. The school is under the protection of the French government. The building is the palace formerly occupied by the kings of France, and the surrounding gardens were designed under Louis XIV of France. Daily HEALTH-AGAIN TALKS

By Dr. Otey
DOES OSTEOPATHY CURE EVERYTHING?
No.

Osteopathy is not offered as a panacea for all human ills. It is not guaranteed to prevent puncture and keep the water from freezing in the radiator of your Ford.

You believe in adjustment for your car, but you do not expect that it will, even though perfectly adjusted, run without gasoline and oil. You do not expect that adjustment will prevent collision or destruction by fire or loss by theft. It does not mean that the car will never need paint or repairs from accident and wear but you are sure that a car that is kept properly adjusted will give better service, develop more power and last longer than one that is allowed to go without adjustment. Do you believe in mechanics for your car? Then you believe in the principles of Osteopathy for your body, even though you may not understand the anatomy and physiology of your body as well as you do that of your car.

Let me declare the parable. Likewise this does not mean that if you have osteopathy put your body in perfect adjustment and maintain it at 100% efficiency that it will run without food, water, rest, sleep, exercise, etc. No. You must use common sense after it is adjusted, just as you do with your car or any other mechanical and chemical machine. However, the Osteopath is a master mechanic, the engineer of the human body and is competent to advise you regarding your diet and other habits of life, and, if you choose one who is four-square and well rounded out educationally and has outgrown the petty childish prejudices of ignorance, he will advise you intelligently and honestly if your case is or is not Osteopathic.

C. OF C. PROTESTS OVER ORDERS TO CLOSE HOSPITAL

Boys of Thornycroft Anxious to Remain There, Is Word Sent to Government

was a fit place where they would be permitted to go.
"They are being treated as prisoners of war, not as victors, and the action of the Veterans' Bureau to order a hurried removal from a contract hospital where the boys are contented with location, service and a home-like atmosphere, so a government hospital objectionable to them or to another contract hospital that to them and most impartial observers are inferior, is a matter that all men of justice will demand investigated. Trusting that you will comply with this request, we are,
"GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
"JAS. M. RHOADES, Secy."

Message to Johnson

"Senator Hiram Johnson, Washington, D. C.
"We have just wired President Harding to hold up an order closing Thornycroft Hospital in Glendale, where thirty-nine disabled soldiers who served in the late war are inmates with this dreaded malady brought on by this government.

These boys feel at home in this location. They all desire to remain here and it is a crime of this government to attempt to take them away. The atmospheric conditions in this place are ideal. They are gaining in health here and to take them away against their will to some government hospital or other contract hospital where they would not be contented is another crime.
"This Chamber of Commerce, consisting of a thousand business men, enters a strenuous protest against this order until it can be investigated by an impartial, honest body of men who have the interests of these boys at heart. May we appeal to you to confer with President Harding and stop this order until conditions can be investigated?
"GLENDALE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,
"JAS. M. RHOADES, Secy."

Intimidation Charged

"The boys here are being scared to death," stated N. Maxwell Miller, manager of Thornycroft, this morning. "They have been told that if they make any objection their compensation will be cut. The government has simply intimidated them."
"Our contract calls for thirty days' notice. Yesterday we got one closing the sanitarium in three days. They have to act quickly before the matter gets any publicity."

Dr. E. L. Wemple, sub-district medical officer of the U. S. Veterans' bureau, stated at his office in Los Angeles this morning that some of the boys at Thornycroft were to be transferred to the Soldiers' Home at Saticum, others to Camp Kearney and others to Palo Alto, while some of the boys were eligible for treatment in their own homes.

Patients Want to Stay

Information of the intended closing of the institution reached Thornycroft the latter part of January. On the 26th of that month a petition was signed by forty-six of sixty-three patients there at that time which asserted: "This is to certify that we, the undersigned patients in this sanitarium, are very well pleased with the institution and are desirous of having it kept open."
After some negotiations a conference was held between Thomas A. Austin, commander of Los Angeles Post No. 8 of the Disabled Veterans of the World war, and Louis T. Grant of San Francisco, manager of the Twelfth District of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.
"No men will be removed from Thornycroft Sanitarium during this period (until the 30th of August, 1922) except those whom a medical board may deem to have reached maximum medical improvement or such other cases as it is deemed by the medical board should be transferred to other institutions for their best interests from a medical standpoint," asserted Mr. Grant in a letter of instructions to K. C. Scudder, manager of the sub-district office of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, Los Angeles.

"The present method of withdrawing one day from this institution will be discontinued. It is directed that a medical board make an intimate personal survey of every case now being hospitalized at this sanitarium to determine present physical condition."
Order Comes Yesterday
The official order closing the sanitarium arrived yesterday. It is as follows:
"In compliance with directions from the district manager of the Twelfth District United States Veterans' Bureau, this will inform you that the U. S. Veterans' Bureau will not be responsible for the care of any patients at Thornycroft Sanitarium after April 15, 1922.
"By authority of the sub-district manager, Dr. E. L. Wemple, sub-district medical officer."

LAST RECITAL FOR ORGAN FUND OF CHURCH SUNDAY

Elaborate Program Arranged for Event; Series Proves to Be Financial Success

The fourth and last twilight recital of the series given for the benefit of the organ fund of the Holy Family Catholic church will commence at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Glendale Council No. 1920, Knights of Columbus, will attend this recital in a body. At the close of the program this organization will sing its official anthem, "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

Rev. James S. O'Neill, pastor of the Holy Family church, will deliver a short address appropriate to the Easter season.

Mayor Spencer Robinson will sing "A Song of Long Ago."

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gardner of 1225 Mountain street will sing several selections. Mrs. Gardner is known on the stage as "Marie Dresser." Miss Truly Shattuck and Miss Emma O'Neill, who are well known on the stage also, will appear in "Odd Moments in a Musical Way."

Excellent Program

"Give a Man a Horse He Can Ride," by Geoffrey O'Hara, is the title of a ballad to be sung by Edward Martindel. As a basso, profundo Mr. Martindel has appeared in such productions as "The Firefly,"

"The Purple Robe" and "Katinka." The Jewel City Four will sing selected numbers in harmony. This quartet is under the management of Harry Farnsworth McPherson of the Elks club. Its members are Leo D. Goode, 226 Dayton court, first tenor; "Jack" Goode, 1009 East Broadway, second tenor; Robert Ritchie, bass; and Jack Wagoner, 529 North Jackson, baritone. They will be accompanied at the piano by Herbert Henning of the Elks club and assisted by William Bede of 138 North Orange street who will play several selections upon the saxophone.

A group of recitations for children, old and young, will be given by Alma Murphy-Half.

By special request Paul Carson and Harry Girard will play an arrangement of the Bach-Gounod "Ave Maria" for organ and piano.

Reports Big Success

"Five months ago when the announcement was made that four monthly recitals would be given for the benefit of the organ fund of the Holy Family church, a new keynote was struck in the musical affairs of our city," declared Harry Girard recently.

"The result was awaited with eager curiosity. The series has met with wonderful financial success and the magnificent organ has been installed already. The citizens of Glendale have had an opportunity to hear artists of renown and professional reputation.

"For the last concert a varied program of unusual excellence is promised and bids fair to surpass previous efforts in this direction. There will be ten numbers on the program, every one a gem of artistry."

White Inn Salad Is Big Hit at Banquet

"Salad: A preparation of herbs, vegetables or fruit."

That is what Noah Webster has to say on the subject.

But Mrs. Webster never prepared such a "White Inn Salad."

Otherwise, Mr. Webster should have defined it as a "food for the gods."

Members of the Glendale official family who attended the firemen's banquet, are still inquiring as to the recipe, so here it is:

"Peel and core an apple that won't cook to pieces and cook it in a thick syrup of sugar and water tinted with cake coloring. When it has cooled, fill the core with chopped celery, pineapple and walnuts over which has been poured a dressing of pineapple juice. Crown apple with a snow cap of whipped cream and surmount it with a candy cherry."

Popular selections by Howard Smits and David Hanna, with accompaniment by Everett Smits were the closing numbers of the program.

National Campaign of Advertising by Realtors

A committee to outline plans and provide national co-operative advertising for the more than 400 boards of the National Association of Real Estate Boards has been appointed by Irving B. Hiett of Toledo, president of the association, according to information received today by C. D. Thim, president of the Glendale Realty Board from the association offices in Chicago.

Bartholomew O'Toole, of Chicago, is chairman of the committee. The other two members are Dr. Bradley Rich, of Boston, and Frank L. McNeny of Dallas. The committee plans to start its activities in the near future. A general plan of co-operative national advertising was endorsed by the executive committee of the National Association recently at a meeting in Washington.

The plan, in rough outline, is to do most of the overhead in the preparation of copy, drawings, cuts and plates with one central agency and distribute to the participating boards and realtors. The overhead expense is to be prorated among those participating. All methods of approved publicity are to be used, but local newspaper display space will be the basis of the program. The plan contemplates permitting boards or realtors to participate to the extent they desire. It provides for employing only a small per cent of the advertising appropriation for the maintenance of the central agency, the larger part of the appropriation to be spent at home with newspapers and for other media.

Bandits Enter Church and Demand Collection

HOLLIDAY, Ill.—While the congregation was listening earnestly to the religious counsel of Elder P. A. Dittick three bandits entered the Church of Christ and demanded the evening's collection. The boldest of the three walked calmly down the center aisle, unmasked, and told their mission. Elder Dittick invited the stranger to take a seat, as the contribution box had not yet been passed. The intruders declined, however, and departed.

Trouble Comes Double When There Are Twins

MARTINS FERRY, O.—Dorothy and Dolores, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Christmeyer, have proven to their parents that troubles never come singly. Both daughters became afflicted with pneumonia at the same time. Next, both developed cases of gathered ears simultaneously, forcing Christmeyer to walk the floor with both daughters for several nights. The girls now are recuperating on a tandem basis.

The Sport Crucible
By Davis J. Walsh

NEW YORK.—The noble art of catch-as-catch-can, largely participated in by retired piano movers, is dying a lingering death within the confines of the sovereign state of New York. The demise has not been proclaimed with official finality, yet the end is ordained and predestined. If a coroner's report were rendered, the verdict would be death by an overdose of legislation. The state boxing commission, vested with the power to control wrestling, foisted the system of flying and rolling falls upon the game, and they have eaten into its vitals like a cancerous sore.

Right at the moment wrestling is permitted by law, but you couldn't prove it by the number of shows that are held. It is worth a promoter's financial life to put on a series of bouts nowadays, so abortive to public taste have the flying and rolling falls become.

Until recently one Bill Wellman held down the dual role of matchmaker and promoter of wrestling matches at Madison Square Garden. Just now he is neither.

Bill is a hopeful soul, but he doesn't carry optimism beyond the elastic limit of plain common sense. He was a modern Atlas, but finding the burden irksome stepped from under. Thus far there has been no crash, for the simple reason that interest in the wrestling game is so trivial the sport can float in midair through its own lack of weight.

NOTICE! IMPORTANT FACTS FOR YOU TO KNOW AND THINK ABOUT

—When you buy a lot consider location, restrictions, lay of land and what's going to be built around the addition in which you put your money. After you buy it's too late to find out that the lots across the street from you are sold to a class who are going to build "things" they call houses which reduce the value of your investment.

—In Annandale Estates you have without question, the location, with Club Golf Links on two sides (THE CLUB OWNS THE PROPERTY, TOO), then on the east you have highly restricted residence lots and on the north you'll find some of the most beautiful estates in California. THIS IS ALL THERE NOW. NO TALK ABOUT WHAT'S GOING TO BE, BUT COME SEE FOR YOURSELF.

—I have sold to a class who know my property too; yes, some of them have known it for fifteen to twenty years. Let me take you to see my purchasers. I am not asking the TOURISTS to buy my lots. I am using no bunk—I have the lots and they are priced right, too. Anyone can make money out of them, until I get enough sales to care for my finances, then look out, for prices will go up.

Saturday, April 22, has been finally accepted by the University of California for the Pacific Coast Intercollegiate eight-oared rowing championship against the University of Washington at Seattle, Wash. Ever since the first of the year the date of the race has been a matter of argument between the two colleges. Three different dates were proposed by questions of examinations came into the project by one college or the other and finally the fourth Saturday in April was settled on as agreeable to all concerned.

Both Coach Ed Leader of Washington and Coach Ben Wallis of California are still having their troubles in seating the right men in the right slides. In this respect Wallis is worse off than Leader, and the Washington coach has now reached a stage where he is almost over the most of his worries. He is still dubious on two positions, while Wallis on the other hand only has two men seated that he knows will stay in their slides. In this respect the preliminary training season has been the worst ever experienced by coaches at either college.

Coach Wallis after experimenting with oarsmen for the stroke slide for the past three months has finally decided that Captain Dan McMillan—of football fame—will stroke the California boat. Wallis has been endeavoring to use McMillan in another slide owing to his weight which, if anything, is considerably heavier than a stroke oar should be. Dan weighs 186 pounds and he is the biggest stroke man California has ever boated. The nearest approach to such a weight can be found in the days when Harry Stebbins stroked the freshman crew about eight years ago, that man weighing 187 pounds. McMillan, however, is the only man of the eight or more Wallis has tried out who has shown the necessary qualifications for the important slide in the boat. He is heady, has a good judge of speed, almost perfect form and has shown ability in carrying his men along and working them up to a sprint without in any way disrupting the rhythm of the crew. His work is really good for a stroke oar, but it has kept his extra poundage that has kept Wallis back in finally deciding on him.

Washington will boat a crew averaging about 176 pounds and Wallis believes that his own crew will average round the same poundage when the final analysis is made. Just now new men are rowing every other day in the first varsity. Some days the crew averages 169 pounds and then it goes the next day up to 176. The only other fixture in the boat at California is Brown, who will hold down the number three slide, the same seat he rowed last year.

The new course on Lake Washington where the race will be rowed, is reported to be the best three-mile stretch that coast colleges have ever rowed over. The last mile of the race will be perfectly smooth water, and the initial two miles will be satisfactory under any conditions, though if it is windy it may be a little choppy, but not over so.

The WORLD OVER
By FRANKLIN B. MORSE
PACIFIC SPORTS SERVICE

The announcement from Chicago that the Forest Preserve commission will attempt to construct a golf course of eighteen holes in sixty days is interesting from the point of view of speed, but the probabilities are skeptical as to the resultant. The completed links are to be turned over for use on Memorial Day.

This recalls the incident of a fellow who went to inspect the factory of a well known automobile manufacturer who turns out more cars in a day than any other concern. He was talking to a friend. Said he: "I saw 'em put a car together in 2 minutes and 12 seconds." "By gosh," sadly replied his friend, "I guess that's the car I just bought."

In extenuation of the fast time to be made it is explained that the terrain already has good turf for fairways, and the lie of the ground is a natural one. Even this hardly clears up one's doubts. Good greens do not shape up in a matter of weeks and while the folks along the Des Plaines river on the west side of Chicago may be teeing off on May 30th, it remains to be seen how much fun they will get out of their rounds.

The main fault with many of our American courses is that they have been laid in haphazard fashion with the result that as players improve their game they find the courses anything but what they should be to bring out their game. Reconstruction of courses today is costing thousands of dollars which might have been saved by a little extra expenditure and time in the first place.

As far as the Pacific Coast is concerned, this has been an unusually severe winter and early spring and the various baseball squads have found their preliminary training very much hampered by the cold and weather conditions. Many days of enforced idleness has been the result which, in turn, has kept back the physical conditioning of the players.

Under the circumstances, when the official season opens early next April for the Pacific coast league, trainers are fearful that there will be an unusual number of cases of charley horse and other muscular troubles as the men have not been fully limbered up. Special care will have to be observed during the few weeks of play not to have a big hospital list.

The latest news that France will retain the next Olympic games and stage them in the Pershing Stadium refutes the rumor that the big athletic structure given by Uncle Sam to the French is in an unsafe condition. As a matter of fact, rumors of this sort were started before and the United States army department took the pains to send one of its experts over to look into the facts. The report was entirely satisfactory. To the man on the outside, it would look as though there were some disgruntled party trying to start some underhand propaganda. The Pershing Stadium was built entirely by Americans under the direction of American engineers and is constructed of reinforced concrete.

FATE HANGS IN BALANCE
CHICAGO, April 14.—The "fate of the United States Railroad Labor board hangs in the balance." This was the declaration of Judge R. M. Barton, chairman of the board, before Federal Judge George Page, who is hearing arguments in the dispute between the board and the Pennsylvania railroad.

The road is suing for a permanent injunction restraining the board from publishing a decision affecting the right of the road to settle disputes with its own employes in its own way.

Way to Community Prosperity Is to Buy In Glendale, But It Is Up to the Merchants to Sell Public Their Goods at Standard Prices

THERE IS A CHANCE for all boosters in Glendale to get busy and do wonderful things for their city at the present time. Talk is all right in its place, but real sensible activity in the way of buying in Glendale is what is needed to keep the wheels of progress moving. Glendale is truly the fastest growing city in America. On every hand prosperity is noticed. More and more homes are being built and real estate values and rental rates continue to increase. Glendale is not enjoying a boom, but a steady growth that is strictly natural and entirely merited by reason of the city's natural advantages and her progressive citizenship. Scores of new business buildings have been erected the past year and are now occupied. Others are being built and still others planned. Many thinking people have asked themselves if there will not be a reaction in business conditions; if it is possible for all of these merchants now in business to get sufficient patronage to continue in business and for those who are planning to occupy the buildings now in process of construction to be able to get a foothold. Glendale has become a city of 30,000 population and that number of people should easily support a business center of much greater magnitude than that of Glendale at the present time. So there is no doubt that all these business concerns will succeed if they receive most of the patronage of the people of the community. There are three things to observe to make Glendale the greatest possible success as a trading center. They are: First—Those in business must be able to buy merchandise so that they can compete with neighboring cities in quality of merchandise, prices and service. Second—They must keep the people informed about their stock and prices. They must not be slow to tell the people about what they have to sell and what service they can render to the public. Third—The people of Glendale—the buying public—must realize that it is to their advantage and the good of the city to spend their money in Glendale. Every dollar spent here not only helps to build a greater business center, but it aids in keeping up real estate values and thus reacts to the benefit of the home owner. Glendale can remain the fastest growing city in America if there is this spirit of loyal co-operation between the merchants and the citizens. The interests of these two are mutual.

Boy Scout Executive Board Holds Meeting

The meeting of the District Boy Scout Executive Board was held last Monday night in the offices of Roy L. Kent and was well attended. Considerable business was transacted, among which was the adoption of the year's program for the development of scouting in the Verdugo Hills District as recommended by the troop leaders' roundtable. This program calls for the following activities by months: April—Presentation of council charter, organization of scout leaders training course, big Boy Scout pow-wow at the Pasadena week-end camp, and the reorganization of the court of honor. May—Start of monthly troop inspection, patrol efficiency contest, and plans for summer vacation camp at Catalina. June—Boy Scout field day, father and son jamboree and final arrangements for summer vacation camp. July—Summer vacation camp at Catalina. August—Emphasis on outdoor activities, troop meetings, overnight hikes and week-end camps. September—Survey of scout conditions in the field and reorganization. October—First aid contest and big scout pow-wow. November—Knot board contest and organization of a boy scout orchestra. December—Photographic contest and annual meeting of the council. In addition the program calls for the organization of eight new troops in the district as follows: Glendale, 3; Burbank, complete reorganization of all Burbank troops; Eagle Rock, 1; Montrose, 1; LaCrescenta, 1; Roscoe, 1; Sunland, 1. Through the courtesy of the Pasadena camping committee and Tallman H. Trask, scout executive, the use of the Pasadena council site at Catalina for a summer camp was proffered to the Verdugo Hills boy scouts.

Bottled Soft Drinks Served in Hospitals

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Bot- tled carbonated beverages, which are classed as a food product by federal and state food officials, have come to be part of the daily diet of patients in many hospitals throughout the country, according to a recent survey of hospital dietetics. Fore- most dieticians of the country are recommending pure, wholesome bot- tled soft drinks as a part of the diet of patients, for the aid which the carbonic gas lends to digestion and the ease with which the invert sugar, the food property of the soft drink, can be assimilated, practically in- stantaneously, by the patient's sys- tem. Dieticians at the Collis P. Hunt- ington hospital, Boston, Mass., which treats cancer cases, find that ginger ale and other beverages can be re- tained on the stomach of the patient longer than other articles of food. Investigations of the dieticians has proven that carbonated beverages will prove most advantageous to the patient if served about 11 a. m. daily. The Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore has been serving these bottled soft drinks to patients for some time. The Parker Hill hospi- tal, Boston, which is used exclusivel- y for the veterans of the world war, uses hundreds of cases of these bev- erages weekly. Other Boston hospitals using soft drinks are the city, Massachusetts, General Hart, Bay State, Common- wealth, Scobey, Peter Bent Brig- ham, Robert Brigham, Beth Israel, Leopold Morse, Forest Hills, Faulk- ner, Emerson, Lying-in, Boothby and Carney. Several local physicians have, in many cases, prescribed Sierra Club beverages for their quality and puri- ty, according to F. J. W. Henry of that concern.

Annual State Meeting of W. C. T. U. In City

Glendale is to be honored this year by having the Women's Chris- tian Temperance Union hold its fortieth annual state convention in this city May 23, 24, 25, 26, at the First Methodist church. The mem- bers of the Glendale union, of which Mrs. Ruby J. Smart is president, are busily engaged perfecting plans for this big convention and for the pro- gram for that time, which will be announced later.

Dawes Says Business Men Should Hike More

WASHINGTON.—General Charles G. Dawes, the President's economy engineer, keeps "fit" by taking long hikes. "A long walk in the early morn- ing air of spring is the best tonic on earth," said Dawes. What the jaded business man needs is more hiking and less riding, according to Dawes. "Too many jaundiced business men are sweeping themselves rapid- ly toward the grave by living lives of ease and luxury," Dawes said. General Dawes, before breakfast each day, whets his appetite by stretching out for a four or five mile jaunt through the parks and bridle paths that extend for miles through Washington's speedway. It's his chief recreation.

Former Specialist Dead

CHICAGO, April 14.—Dr. J. C. Willis at one time worth $500,000 and reputed to be an authority on nervous diseases died a prisoner in the county jail here. He died of tuberculosis. Dr. Willis was for- merly a prominent specialist at Louisville, Ky. He was imprisoned on a charge of operating a card game. He repeatedly evaded trial. He told his attorney, A. J. Bedard, that he was going to stay in jail and tire out the witnesses against him. Norwich, England, is famous for its canaries. They came to Norwich with the weavers of Flanders, ban- ished from their homes by the Span- tars, and ever since, the people of that city have been canary lovers and fanciers, almost to a man.

Seek Additional Suspects

LOS ANGELES, April 14.—With one man and a woman, Mrs. Helen Gillespie and Frank Wilson, al- ready in jail on charges that they attempted to aid in a plot to release from the county jail two mail bandit suspects and another prisoner, county and federal officers were today hot on the trail or two additional suspects, a man and a woman. New arrests in the alleged conspir- acy plot to free Herbert Wilson and Herbert Cox, indicted by the federal authorities on charges of mail rob- bery, from the county jail, might be expected at any moment, according to reports.

STATES LOCKS MAY BE USED AGAINST BOOTLEGGERS

Prohibition Official Finds a Way to Deter Offenders Of 18th Amendment

By W. H. ATKINS.
Written for International News Service
WASHINGTON—Use of the "padlock" weapon to stamp out bootlegging and illicit distilling is to be resorted to upon a large scale over the United States.
Prohibition Commissioner Haynes said that the "padlock" provision of the Volstead law, authorizing the seizure and closing of places occupied by violators of the liquor laws may prove in the end to be the greatest single method of drying up the country.
Mr. Haynes, impressed with the salutary effect in a number of places following the closing of hotels and other places where very serious violations were shown, now believes that the handicaps to prohibition enforcement must be overcome by the rigid application of this provision.
The great degree of wetness prevailing over the country, in spite of all that the Federal authorities have done, has brought Commissioner Haynes to the conclusion that still more vigorous tactics must be employed.
Prohibition officials up to this time have been reluctant to employ the "padlock" provision to stop liquor making and selling. Even now, they declared, they would like to find some other equally effective way.
The records of the prohibition enforcement organizations in the different States show very conclusively that small fines and light sentences generally imposed amount merely to a license to illicit liquor makers and vendors to do business.
There are now pending in Federal courts about 10,000 liquor law cases. Officials cited that fact today to emphasize the importance of their plan to use the "padlock." It was declared that in the cases pending there are thousands of second and third offenders. Ability to pay the fees of bondsmen and attorneys renders them practically immune from penitentiary service.

Grand View Memorial Park

"GLENDALE'S OWN CEMETERY"

God's "Garden of Sleep"

In the Great Plan of Nature, surely Grand View was destined for the high purpose to which it is reverently dedicated. The natural beauty of its location has been the subject of enthusiastic comment. Tall trees lift stately heads heavenward, and their great branches, like sheltering arms, reach over the hallowed ground. Well chosen shrubs add to the landscape plans—and a verdant lawn and lovely flowers nestle close to the sacred spot. In the background, like eternal sentinels, stand the evergreen Verdugo Hills. Deep peace and holy quiet reign here, where the beloved Dead sleep dreamlessly. The slight slope of the surface and its high level affords splendid natural drainage—Grand View being considered one of the most perfectly drained cemeteries in America.

Graceful, winding driveways make all lots easy of access, and add to the parklike appearance of Grand View—which is enhanced by the massive entrance arch—removing any semblance of the old-time graveyard.

A beautifully designed and well-arranged Chapel and Rest House has recently been erected—work will soon start on the new Crematory, to be located near the Chapel—and plans have already been started on the new Mausoleum—a Temple in honor of the departed—that will be one of the most beautiful in Southern California, when completed.

Come out to Grand View. See for yourself its beauty and the desirability of its lots. Open week days and Sundays from 8:30 a. m. until sunset. A private car is at your service without charge while visiting Grand View.

SLIGHT RISE FOR FARM PRODUCTS IN FEBRUARY

Retail Costs Remain as Before, Is Report; Parcel Post Doesn't Pay, Claim

By U. S. Press Association.
WASHINGTON, D. C.—All wholesale prices increased slightly in February. The Department of Labor index shows a rise of ten points in farm products, with a smaller rise in the food group. Other groups, with the exception of "miscellaneous" either remained stationary or registered a slight decline. The index of all commodities rose three points. The retail food price index remained stationary.

Record for Petroleum
During February domestic production of petroleum, according to the U. S. Geological Survey, attained a new high record, the daily average of 1,470,107 barrels being an increase of 78,462 barrels over the previous high record of January. Only once before in the last two years has the daily rate of production exceeded the daily rate of consumption. Although the daily rate of consumption and of imports increased slightly, stocks of crude oil (not including consumers' stocks) increased almost 12 million barrels.

Veterans' Claims.
Postoffice inspectors warn against agencies throughout the country advertising ability to get immediate action on veterans' claims for retainers of $10 to $50. They are investigating and fear that thousands have been victimized.

Handles German Dyes
Herman A. Metz, New York chemical manufacturer and importer, testifying at the Senate's investigation of the alleged dye and chemical trust, said the inquiry had covered about everything except one point—the monopoly. Answering accusations that he was "German controlled," Mr. Metz said he had been his own boss in business for forty years.

Post Doesn't Pay
The Joint Postal Committee attributes the postoffice department's deficit largely to the parcel post, and expresses the belief that, while that system is indispensable it should be made to pay.

Contracts Larger
Building contracts awarded in the twenty-seven northeastern states during February were valued at $177,365,000, an increase of $11,000,000 over January, in spite of the shorter month. Residential building remained about the same for the two months, but there was a noteworthy increase in business buildings, which totaled $39,180,000 in February, compared with $23,696,000 in January.

Conditions Improved.
Transportation statistics so far available show a marked decline in idle freight cars, and a slight gain in the number of cars loaded, compared with January. All figures available show an improvement in unemployment conditions, with a marked increase in weekly earnings, indicating that mills are running more hours per week.

 SHANGHAI—Hundreds of girls are being sold in the famine districts of China at prices ranging from $1 to $100 each in order that their parents may live, according to reports from missionaries and relief workers.

Commissioner Francis D. Pearce of the Salvation Army at Peking reports: "Large numbers of girls were sold in China last year by their parents and guardians in order to obtain the wherewithal to live."

"It is notorious that many of these girls were sold for prostitution purposes. General Booth, in common with all who desire the preservation of womanhood, was shocked upon hearing the news and wrote from London that everything possible should be done to prevent this traffic, even to the extent of providing the parents with needed money for food, if the girls were placed under our protection, instead of being handed to the procurer."

Some Sales Stopped
 "General Booth desired us to be prepared to receive such girls up to the number of 100. This year the famine has again swept the land and we have succeeded in intercepting the sale of a goodly number of girls and they are now safely housed in our girls' home."

"We are educating them and teaching them to earn an honest living. Only yesterday we received an orphan girl from Pao Ting Fu, whose parents had both starved from famine. She was sent to us by friends who learned that her brother was about to sell her."

From Henan province a correspondent writes to a Shanghai daily: "The famine situation in eastern Honan has become acute. More than half of the animals are dead and girls are being sold for a dollar each."

In an address before the American Women's Club of Shanghai, Miss Louise Hammond, a missionary from Wush, Kiangsu province, painted a vivid picture of the fight the masses of Chinese in famine districts are having to live.

Some Happy, Claimed
 "One of the evils to which the Chinese are forced by the difficulty of providing rice for hungry mouths is the sale of their girl babies," said Miss Hammond.

"Often as 'little servants' in good homes, they are kindly treated, their work is not too heavy, they are married off and independent after marriage."

"A child of four years can be bought for $7 to $10, but girls of 15 bring from $16 to $100. It is often to the advantage of the mother-in-law to buy a prospective daughter as she can then have her services as household servant before as well as after marriage. While these girls are often very happy and are sometimes adopted as the daughters of the purchasers, there are many tragic outcomes to the system."

NEW YORK—When Fred Sandmeier and his wife left Copenhagen on the Scandinavian-American liner, Oscar II, they had two children. When the vessel reached port here they had three.

The addition to the family appeared at 4 in the morning, while the Oscar II was battling head seas. When Mrs. Sandmeier regains her strength, the family will continue to Bodde, S. D., and take up farming.

FORD FIGHTS REPUBLICAN

NEWARK, N. J.—Henry Ford will come to New Jersey next September during the political campaign to oppose the re-election of United States Senator Frelinghuysen, according to a report published here. Ford stands ready to support the Democratic nominee, whoever he may be, according to the report.

She Wants Children, So She Takes Them

LOGANSPORT, Ind.—Mrs. William Libby, wife of a traveling salesman, is in jail here—because she wanted to be a mother.

Mrs. Libby was taken into custody on complaint of agents of the Illinois state department of public welfare. An investigation is to be made into charges that during the past several months she has violated the Illinois maternity hospital law which prohibits the removal of babies from the state by persons who have not adopted them.

It is said that Mrs. Libby repeatedly has taken homeless children from Chicago without having officially adopted them, and representing them as her own to her husband and to her neighbors here.

An examination by medical men at Logansport has resulted in a declaration of Mrs. Libby's sanity. How many children Mrs. Libby has taken it is unknown. Officials state they have knowledge of four that have thus been taken out of the state of Illinois.

Checking the Plans Is Good; But Check the Lumber, Too

It is just as important that your instructions for the right kind of lumber shall be followed, in building your home, as that the blue prints shall be accurately carried out. For, as the plans are designed to give you a house of certain appearance, arrangement and equipment, lumber is selected and graded to give a definite degree of beauty, strength and permanence.

Be Sure of What Goes Into Your Home

Don't leave it to chance or fortune. Don't just say "use good lumber" and let it go at that. Be sure. Look over building materials at different places. Make your own selection. Choose lumber that you know is good and well fitted for the purpose. Quality is as definite in lumber as in any other commodity. But, besides quality, you want uniformity and value, too. All these things will be found if you follow our advice and see the lumber before you buy—then buy the best you see.

Owners Explain Why Business Is Increasing

When asked as to the reason for the great growth in business of the Glendale Hardware company during the past five years, James Webb said:
"The expansion of our business has not been a matter of luck. First, we aim to carry a large stock, a line of builders' hardware and shelf hardware, paints and housefurnishings, that will satisfy our patrons.
"We buy in large quantities, operate on as low an overhead as possible, are content with small profits and price our goods at prices so low that they meet competition.
"Other factors include hard work and service. We are always on the job, through lunch hour or at night if necessary, make prompt delivery of all orders and oversee our business personally.
"Another thing, too, that makes satisfied customers is our policy of standing squarely behind our merchandise. In the first place, we buy quality goods, but, when occasionally an article does not give the service it should, we make it good. We want, above all things, to have the Glendale Hardware company known as a store of dependable merchandise and service."

Millions of Dollars Loss Through Floods

CHICAGO, April 14.—From the Rocky mountains to the Great Lakes and from the Canadian border almost down to the Gulf of Mexico, the central section of the United States is experiencing one of the most disastrous spring seasons that has been recorded in years.
Damage running into the millions already has resulted and the menace of floods, cold weather and high winds has not yet abated. Serious apprehension still exists that the unfavorable weather conditions will retard the planting of crops to the extent of curtailing the year's output of grain and other foodstuffs.
Reports received here today tell of flood dangers in many sections, but particularly throughout Illinois.

At Pekin, Ill., hundreds of persons today are homeless, following the collapse of a dike along the La Marsh drainage district under pressure of high waters. Three thousand acres of farm land are inundated.
Guards are patrolling the levees and dykes that are menaced by flood pressure. Flood damage at Beardstown, Ill., is rapidly increasing with the continued rise of the Illinois river. Ninety blocks of the town are under water; stores and theatres are closed, one-fourth of the business district is inundated and thousands of acres of farm land are flooded. Refugees are being housed in tent colonies.

Reports from Cairo, Ill., say that the levee protecting East Cape Girardeau and the Clear Creek drainage district, including 12,000 acres, is expected to break momentarily. The Mississippi river is approaching a flood stage of 37 feet, which would be the highest since 1844.
The "Father of waters" and its many tributaries are running brimful of turbulent, muddy water that menaces a district of empire-like proportions.

Many towns in Michigan, among them Cheboygan and Onaway, are fighting to stem floods that threaten serious damage. The Black and Cheboygan rivers, in the region of Cheboygan, are swollen by almost incessant rains and are threatening to break through restraining dams. Families in many outlying sections are marooned and scores have fled from the danger areas. At Onaway more than 100 men are battling to save a 12-foot ledge, the only thing that keeps the Black river within bounds.

At Paris, Ill., George Martin and Ray Omstat, farmers, were drowned when they attempted to ford a swollen stream.
Thirty homes in North La Crosse, Wis., are surrounded by water; the Fox river at Oshkosh is reported rising rapidly and considerable flood damage has resulted in the vicinity of Oconto.

Reports reaching various agencies interested in crop conditions indicate that in many sections the recent rains have prevented the sowing of oats, spring wheat and plowing for corn. This delay in seeding will make late crops and in many sections may prevent entirely the successful cultivation of large areas.

Allied Program for Russia Is Submitted

By FRANK MASON
Written for International News Service
GENOA, April 14.—The allied program for the reconstruction of Russia has been put directly up to the soviet government by the bolshevist delegates and a delay of twenty-four hours has been asked before Russia's answer is made. The Russians were to have given their reply to the allied proposals this afternoon. The Russians are handicapped in communicating with their government by the weakness of the wireless plant at Moscow.

The allied experts hold that a loan or the creation of credits is necessary for Russia if the country is to be put on its feet economically. So far Russia has not secured any outside capital with the exception of one small loan from a Scandinavian country.
Furthermore, it is proposed that a joint commission be created, composed of both Russians and allied citizens, to determine the method by which Russia shall pay her foreign debts. It has been suggested that some of the methods introduced to enforce German indemnity payments be borrowed in the case of Russia to compel the payment of foreign debts. In this connection, the proposal has been made that bonds be issued to cover the amounts of the debts, supervised by an allied commission, which will have the right to control certain sources of Russian government revenue to guarantee payment of the bonds.
The suggestion of allied control is opposed by a majority of the allied experts on the ground that outside nations have no right to interfere with the domestic affairs of Russia.
It is generally expected Russia will oppose a majority of the allied proposals, particularly the suggestion that a court be created to assure the property rights of foreigners and that the allies be given extensive control of Russian trade.

By their aggressive attitude, the Russians have made it plain they will not bend their knees to secure recognition of their government.

New Battery Is Being Manufactured In City

Radiolite is the name of the new battery being manufactured by Ingle & Stone, 106 West Harvard street, especially for radio use.

These are made in two sizes each contained in polished oak cases with handles, which make them readily portable. The smaller size, which contains 50 ampere hours of electricity and may be recharged for 50 cents, is priced at $12. The larger size, which contains 80 ampere hours and may be recharged for 75 cents, is listed at $18.

According to E. B. Ingle and Miles Stone, members of this firm, the only reason that it is possible to quote such low prices is because these batteries are manufactured by them right here in Glendale and their purchasers do not have to pay freight rates or a jobber's profit. They are both much interested in radio development and expect to manufacture wireless instruments of all types.

Transmitting Plant Is Big Need Here

By GEORGE VAN SANDS, Radio Editor, The Evening News.

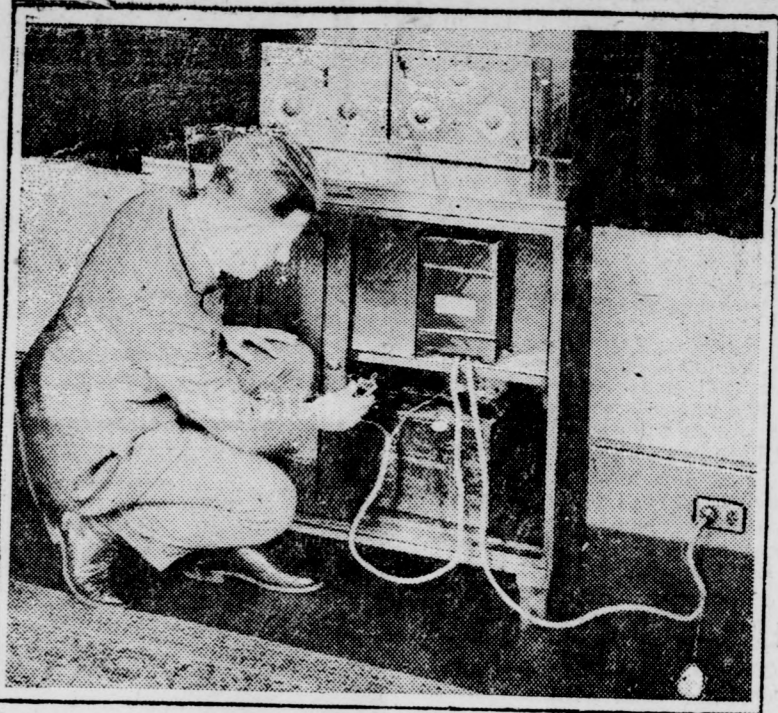

A stranger hurried into The Glendale Evening News office yesterday and wanted to know if we had a transmitting station. Seems that he has a receiving set in his home in San Francisco, but his house is not equipped with a regular telephone and it was important that he talk to friend wife on a matter of great concern. Someone on the street, evidently a reader of our radio column, who possibly thought we had a transmitting set, directed him to The News office. He was plainly disappointed when we had to tell him that, to the best of our knowledge, there is no such transmitting station in Glendale.

Is it any wild stretch of the imagination to predict that within a short time there will be any number of such stations in Glendale and that we will even have a wireless "central" who will sweetly inform us "your party doesn't answer" or will hand us the "busy signal," all by wireless? Do you know that up to a short time ago it was very difficult to tune out much less than 50 meters in the different wave lengths? That is, if two broadcasting stations were sending on different wave lengths that varied by much less than 50 meters, they would conflict, and it would be hard to hear either one.

Recent refinements and improvements, however, now make it so that it is possible to tune out different wave lengths that vary as little as 2 meters, and is it the ravings of a mad man to hope for a tuning coil that will tune down into the fractions of a meter? Such a tuning coil is bound to be produced and, when that time comes, we can all have wireless telephone numbers and it would not surprise me a bit to know the only thing that is now holding it back is the lack of a system to regulate the charges—just as soon as someone figures a scheme to discontinue your service if you do not pay your bill promptly, the balance of the little details will take care of themselves and it will all be very simple.

Fear will cause a woman to change color. Incidentally, it may be remarked that a little rouge will do the same trick.

Recharging Radio Battery At Home

It is no longer necessary to send the storage battery you are using on your wireless telephone to an electrician to have recharged. Recharge it yourself. A well known manufacturer has placed upon the market a battery charger. It is a gas filled rectifier, which was formerly used principally for the recharging of storage batteries for use on automobiles. The smaller sizes, like those of two and five ampere capacity, are most wanted by radio operators or broadcast listeners.

Radio On Program at Father and Son Meet

In addition to the program to be given by the boys and special speakers at the annual "father and son" banquet at the First Methodist church Tuesday night, under the direction of the local Y. M. C. A., the banquet committee has arranged with John W. Hamilton of the Hamilton Associates School of Los Angeles to talk to the Glendale gathering by radiophone.

This craze is sweeping the country with such force that orders for wireless apparatus are months behind and the demonstration is only made possible through the courtesy of Kenneth Lee, who is furnishing his receiving set for the evening, and James Newton of the Newton Electric company, who is corrowing the other necessary equipment from Los Angeles to amplify the sound loud enough to be heard all over the entire banquet hall.

Besides the radiophone concert, John Wardell, who with Kenneth Lee, Billy Pigg and Russell Blumfeld are installing the set, will give a short talk explaining some of the details of this wonderful invention. The boys are planning to have the receiving set in working order for their meeting Friday night, at which time the test will be made. The "father and son" banquet is for all men and boys of Glendale and is not confined to members of the Y. M. C. A.

Questions on Radio and Their Answers

Question: Does the maximum scale reading on the dial of my primary series condenser indicate the maximum or minimum wave length being received? M. O. D., Glendale.

Answer: The maximum scale reading indicates that you are receiving the longest wave length obtainable with the condenser connected in series with the aerial.

Question: I can hear the music as well as telegraph signals all over my tuning coil. How can I remedy this? J. A. H., Glendale.

Answer: Your tuning properties and selectivity can be increased to some extent by the addition of variable condensers. I presume from your question you are using a single coil tuner. Connect a .001 mfd. variable condenser across your tuning coil leads to the detector and another one in series with your aerial to the tuning coil.

Question: Is it possible to use an ordinary telegraph tapper to receive wireless messages and if so, why? A. D., Glendale.

Answer: An ordinary telegraph sounder could not be connected to your receiver and operated without additional apparatus in the form of power amplifiers and sensitive relays. The Hall radio relay takes care of this with great satisfaction.

Question: Does the price that certain receivers sell for have any bearing on the distance that such a machine can listen in on? To make it plain, will a machine selling for $100 have a greater range than one selling for $50? A. F. G., Glendale.

Answer: This is a very difficult question to answer. Relatively speaking, a $100 outfit would be better than a $50 outfit, would have a few more refinements, better finished and better material and undoubtedly would give better satisfaction, but it would not necessarily have a greater range than the $50 machine, and it is a mistaken idea to attempt to scale the range of a receiver by its retail price. A flivver sells for a few hundred, and a Rolls Royce for several thousand, but the price that these different automobiles sell for has no bearing whatever on the miles that each is capable of covering.

NEW APPARATUS AND DEVICES

By RALPH BROWN

RADIO ENGINEER, CUTTING AND WASHINGTON RADIO CORP

A NOVEL BATTERY TESTER

Perhaps one of the most vexing things which can happen to a radio enthusiast is to have the storage battery run down right in the middle of a radio concert. Particularly if there are guests and the new radio set is being shown off, this is a very great annoyance. A little care and foresight will prevent this, however, and it is a good plan to test the battery every day if the receiving set is used much.

One of the best ways of determining the amount of charge in a battery is to use what is called a "hydrometer." Most motorists are quite familiar with the device. Usually, the hydrometer has a little paper scale enclosed within a glass tube, weighted at one end. When the hydrometer is allowed to float in the battery solution or a sample of it drawn into a syringe, the scale reading at the level of the solution indicates the state of charge.

An enterprising manufacturer has simplified this valuable instrument so that "he who runs" may tell the condition of his battery at a glance. A syringe is used to draw a sample of the battery solution in the usual manner. But, instead of having a paper scale to read, the user has merely to note how many little colored balls will float. There are three of these balls inside of the glass syringe—a white, green and a red one. If the white one sinks when the syringe contains solution the battery is not fully charged, but is all right to use. If the green ball sinks it is a signal that the battery will need charging very soon, but if the red ball sinks the battery will have to be recharged at once. If all the balls float the battery is fully charged. Here is an easy way to remember the indications, the one which the manufacturers originated. "Floats all three, charged fully. Sinks the white, charge all right. Sinks the green, charge is lean. Sinks the red, charge is dead." Very simple, indeed. And the beauty is that one doesn't need to know a blessed thing about battery gravities.

RADIO EXPLAINED

By E. H. LEWIS

INSTRUCTOR NEW YORK, Y. M. C. A. RADIO SCHOOL

INDUCTANCE

As long as an electric current is flowing in a wire there is magnetism present in the space surrounding it. The strength of this magnetism is proportional to the strength of the current in the wire. If the current ceases to flow the magnetism disappears. What happens when a current flows in the wire is that some of the electrical energy is converted into magnetic energy and this energy is stored in the space surrounding the wire. That is, a magnetic "field" is set up in the space.

It may be imagined that the magnetic force is whirling around the wire, at right angles to it, so long as the electric current flows. If the current increases this magnetic field of force expands, but if the current decreases it contracts. If the current is stopped, by opening the electric circuit, the field collapses upon the wire and disappears. The relation of the magnetic field strength to the current flowing in the wire is called the "inductance" of the wire.

If a given current strength will produce a given magnetic field strength the inductance is a certain definite value. The important thing, however, is the ratio mentioned above. Because, if in another wire the same current value created a stronger magnetic field, the increase must be due to some property of the wire or circuit. Now, if the wire is coiled, each turn of the coil will have a magnetic field around it, providing electric current flows in it. The fields due to each turn of wire add to each other, so that the total field strength is increased for the same current strength. That is, coiling any given length of wire increases its inductance. The greater the number of turns in a given space the greater the inductance also, since there are then more turns adding their effects to each other.

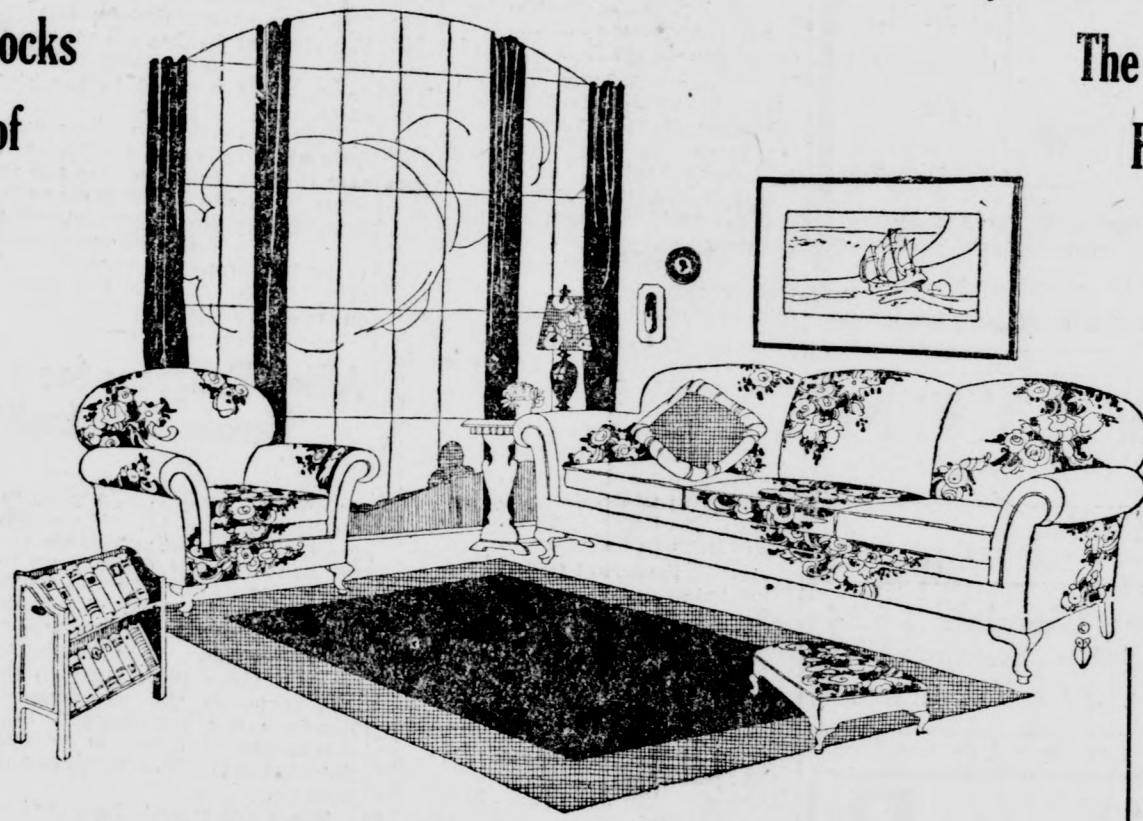

There is no practical circuit in radio work which has absolutely no inductance, although the inductance may, in some cases, be small enough to be negligible. It is true, however, that every electrical circuit has some inductance which is not concentrated in any one part of the circuit, but which is "distributed" throughout the circuit. This could be called "distributed inductance" to distinguish it from the "lumped" inductance of a coil of wire.

PLAN TO ELECTRIFY SALT LAKE LINE IS DISCUSSED

"Two Large Corporations" to Take Over System, Reported to East Side Organization

(Continued from Page 1) about twenty men. There is so much street work to be done—and it must be done, too. We can't just say that we will cut down the force and stop proceedings. As it is, the people become irritable and restless. The city council doesn't want to be in a position of retarding the progress of Glendale."

Go Behind Other Years

Herman Nelson also made a few remarks upon this subject, saying in part:

"You might think that the city has been going behind this year. I know that this condition has existed for the past four or five years. The present councilmen have had to overcome that in addition to the great increase in the running expenses of the city. People ought to take those things into consideration and not feel that the present councilmen have spent this money."

A tax of 25 cents on each water meter in Glendale was proposed by Mr. Kimlin and received the endorsement of many of those present.

The proposed branch postoffice on the East Side was the subject of much discussion. Mr. Ingledue stated his opinion that the organization ought to proceed slowly in the matter in order that the postoffice department might not get the idea that the association had in mind a "dinky" sub-station to be operated in connection with some store where the postal business would not receive proper attention.

Letter From Postmaster

A letter from Postmaster R. D. Jackson was read. He suggested the association should obtain further information in regard to its desires. He said that he would then be very glad to present the matter to the postoffice department and assured the association of his co-operation.

Among others present were: P. J. Hayselden, 333 Van Buren street, Los Angeles; J. K. Todd, 130 South Glendale avenue; Mrs. Mabel Tight, 612 East Broadway; A. C. Barlow, 624 East Broadway; R. M. Brown, 106 South Glendale avenue; John Lambert, 616 East Broadway; C. V. Mandis, 216 North Howard street; Herman Nelson, 700 East Broadway; C. E. Kimlin, 511 East Broadway; A. M. McGee, 614 East Broadway; W. A. Anderson, 107 South Isabel street; Ed. Kinch, J. L. Perch, 336 North Geneva street; R. L. Hill, 115 North Glendale avenue.

Beauties of Southland Are Shown to Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McElroy of 510 South Adams street returned late Wednesday night from a two days' visit to the beach resorts. They motored to the beach cities, following the ocean front as near as possible, and going to Balboa. The return trip was made by the inland route. On Wednesday evening they were dinner guests at Fullerton of Mrs. J. S. Olin and daughters. Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Foulk of St. Joseph, Mo., who have been house guests of Mr. and Mrs. McElroy and accompanied them on their trip, are remaining at Fullerton for a short visit.

Last week this same party enjoyed a two days' trip to Santa Barbara and vicinity. Mrs. McElroy states that the difference in the appearance of the country on these two trips was very marked. On the trip to Santa Barbara the mountainsides were covered with bright yellow poppies, purple lupins and other wild flowers, while the cultivated lands presented a misty veil of pink and white from the many fruit trees in bloom.

The southern trip showed the hills covered with oil wells and the level lands showed alkali patches and the much cultivated sugar beets. When told that the oil land of Long Beach and Huntington Beach had but recently been developed, Mr. and Mrs. Foulk stated that undoubtedly the Californians would soon be boasting of the "sun kissed" oil wells.

Mr. and Mrs. Foulk leave for the east next Monday, going by way of Yosemite and the Canadian Pacific.

Radio Program Given at Roberts & Echols

Radio music at Broadway and Brand boulevard last night wafted out of the Roberts & Echols drug store and patrons stood astounded at the remarkable clearness of the Los Angeles Times' initial program.

The receiving set was installed by Mr. Roberts and A. D. Starr, who have been interested in the radio craze for some time. They have attached the regulation head set to two large horns and the music is made quite audible. Anyone actually wanting to hear radio music, lectures, etc., may do so to their complete satisfaction by calling at the store any time entertainment is scheduled.

Society Girls Taking Great Interest in Securing Messages Through Air

By New York Sun-Herald Service
NEW YORK, April 14.—Prominent young society women of New York and Washington have joined the ranks of the radio fan.

From the Statue of Liberty to the Golden Gate, Americans today are engrossed with wireless, as the following show:

Miss Mary Osgood Field, New York society girl, is shown listening in on a radio program as well as posing for a pretty photograph.

Even the Dolly sisters, Rozika and Yanesi, have installed a radio set in their theatre dressing room and they dance around to the broadcasted tunes with as much glee as they show on the stage.

Miss Ruth Wallace, youngest daughter of the Secretary of Agriculture, is listening to a concert in her Washington home, for the radio has taken a great hold in official circles.

The Misses Agnes Heagney and Elizabeth Milton, students at the Radcliffe College radio station, are plugging in on the Chicago wireless to hear the latest news from their friends.

C. H. Ambrosch Opens Monument Business

Getting in a stock of tombstones and monuments is not like getting in a stock of groceries—it takes time.

C. H. Ambrosch of 644 North Pacific avenue says so. He ought to know, for he is now establishing a display room at 1727 South Brand boulevard for the Glendale Monument Works.

For the past four years Mr. Ambrosch has been a resident of Glendale. During this time he has represented in this territory several prominent monument firms. Before coming west, Mr. Ambrosch, who has quite a reputation as a stone cutter, operated a tombstone works for sixteen years in Mankato, Minnesota. Altogether, he has had about twenty-nine years' experience in this line.

The policy of the new establishment, according to Mr. Ambrosch, is to serve the public in the same manner that he himself would wish to be served.

Smiles, the Symbol of Good Health

Health is the prime factor in happiness. For without it all of life's blessings pale to insignificance.

All of the ills to which the human flesh is heir to is directly traceable to the brain (or spine, which is really an elongation of the brain).

Now if the spine is the slightest degree out of alignment or obstructed in any way, illness of some kind is bound to result. It is a Chiropractor's function to see that such conditions are relieved.

Two more members of the much-advertised Pirate pitching staff, Glazer and Morrison, were given the rough dry treatment by the St. Louis Cardinals. The latter got 12 hits, including homers by Smith and Ainsmith.

With the continued absence of Ty Cobb from the lineup, the Detroit Tigers dropped another to the Indians, Emkhe having two bad innings. Both teams hit safely eleven times but the Indians knew when to do it.

'Irish' Meusel's second home run featured the Giants' victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Where is my wandering Ruth tonight?

The White Sox were stopped again by the Browns. Dave Danforth, for whom the St. Louis club gave up eight ball players, held the Sox to seven hits. The Sox kept an eye on Danforth in view of insinuations that Dave gets by with the use of an illegal delivery. If he does, no one discovered the source of it yesterday.

Parkinson, who hit a homer on the opening day, tripled in the eighth inning, scoring two runs and giving the Phillies their second straight victory over the Boston Braves. The Philadelphia fans are wondering what it is all about.

Some one opened a box of raspberries on the Chicago bench during the first inning, and Umpire Bill Klem, who does not care for the delicacy, chased 14 Cubs to the showers. Ultimately, the Cubs won their second straight from the Reds.

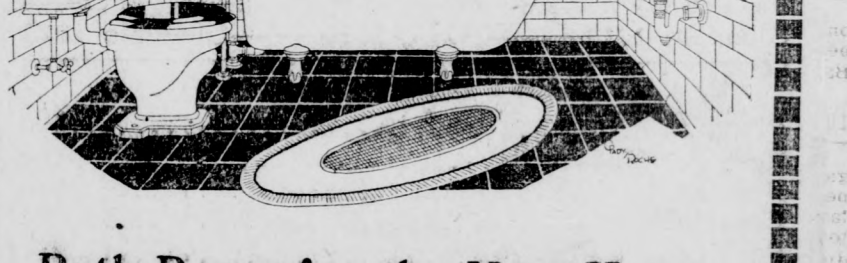

It remained for the underhanded Mr. Rays to pitch the Yankees to their first victory of the season. He held the Senators to six hits and never at any time did he obey that impulse to hurl the ball over the grandstand.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramwell Are Glendale Visitors

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ramwell of Everett, Wash., were visitors yesterday in Glendale, calling on their friends, Mr. and Mrs. James M. Everett. The former is manager of the American Pig Boat company and president of the American Canning company of Everett. He plans to go to the Shriners' convalescence in San Francisco in his palatial yacht Elsie, later coming to Los Angeles, and he invited Mr. Rhoades to accompany him on a trip to Honolulu this summer. As much as the Chamber of Commerce secretary would like to take this vacation, he feels that boosting Glendale is his business.

THE T. D. & L. THEATRE TODAY

COME EARLY COME EARLY

YOU ALWAYS SEE A GOOD SHOW AT T. D. & L.

Matrimony Failure? That Is the Theme of Picture at T. D. & L.

Is matrimony a failure? Maybe it is and maybe it isn't. You'll have to see the new Paramount special comedy, "Is Matrimony a Failure?" which will be shown at the T. D. & L. Theatre today and tomorrow.

"Be that as it may," observes T. Roy Barnes, who plays one of the all-star roles, "there are many things which are entered up in the books in red on the failure side of the account—little breakers which buffet the matrimonial ship about in its stormy voyage and keep the vessel all shaken up."

Interference by one parent when the other chastises one of the offspring. This gets the parent's goat and spoils the child.

Too many "important business" appointments by hubby after business hours.

Going through hubby's trouser pockets before he wakes up in the morning.

A few of these are illustrated by the cast of this new picture, which includes, in addition to Mr. Barnes, Lila Lee, Lois Wilson, Walter Hiers, ZaSu Pitts and others.

Sisterhood Class in Easter Meeting at First M. E. Church

The Easter meeting of the Sisterhood class of the First Methodist church brought out a splendid attendance of the members yesterday.

Special music numbers on the program were a piano solo, "Pathetic" (Beethoven), by Mrs. Harriet Randall; soprano solo, "The Holy City" by Miss Isabel Isgrig; "Christ Arose" by the class quartette, Mrs. Mark Russell, Mrs. C. E. Russell, Mrs. B. F. Geiger and Mrs. Z. T. Boicourt.

Another Protest on Hand Bills Presented

Mrs. Edith Glassey of 559 West California avenue, a W. C. T. U. worker, adds to W. H. LaFontaine's protest against handbills and informs The Glendale Evening News that she is possible to abate the nuisance she knows of hundreds of householders who would sign petitions for the prohibition of indiscriminate bill peddling.

"We give circulars no consideration whatever at our house," she said, "for we expect to find the legitimate advertisements in The Glendale Evening News. The way it is now the mail box is stuffed with trash and our laws are trampled through a dozen times a day when the newspaper would serve the purpose just as well and better."

BOY SCOUT CHARTER IS PRESENTED TO LOCAL COUNCIL

Impressive Ceremonies at the High School; Lads Give Excellent Exhibition

(Continued from Page 1) of the Pasadena District Council, made a brief talk in which he referred to the importance of scouting in a community.

"I don't think there is any one present but would be willing to agree that a community would be very backward if it did not have either a scout council or a troop," he remarked. "You will have to look forward only a few years until the result of scouting will be seen in our public life."

Scout Oath Repeated The Boy Scout oath was repeated in unison by Troop No. 1 of Tunjunga, led by Scoutmaster Don S. Wieman. It follows: "On my honor I will do my best to do my duty to God and my country and to obey the scout law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

Gordon Bevans Welcomes The honor of welcoming those present in behalf of the Boy Scouts of the Verdugo Hills district was filled by 13-year-old Gordon Bevans, of 225 West Chestnut street. He was transferred to the local scout organization from the one at Kearney, Neb., and recently passed an examination which made him a second class scout. His address follows:

"Ladies and gentlemen — fathers and mothers, I salute you! "I am one of the 150 or more Boy Scouts under the jurisdiction of the Verdugo Hills district council, Boy Scouts of America, and I have been authorized to welcome you to this affair tonight on behalf of my brother Scouts and to express to you our sincere appreciation for the interest you have taken in our great movement by your presence here tonight."

"We are your boys, and soon shall be men, and called upon to work with you as fellow citizens of the communities represented in this audience and of our country. We will be better men and more useful citizens because of our Scout training."

"We get the habit of wearing a smile, of doing not only one, but many daily good turns; of being loyal to our family, our country and our community."

To Take Care of Selves "We are trained to develop strong, healthy bodies, to take care of ourselves out of doors, to make ourselves physically fit, mentally awake and morally straight, in order that we may be better able to serve others."

Large Number Enrolled A large number of boys are enrolled in scout work now in Glendale, according to H. F. Boush, Boy Scout executive, and a larger number are expected to join the organization as soon as facilities are provided for taking care of them.

Associate scouts of this troop are: Willard Roberts, Stillman Chase, Burton Knutzyer, Terrel Morse, "Bob" Frazier, Charles Worley, Leslie Hatch, Thomas Wood.

COMMENT THAT'S ALL

'Advertising' That Is Not Frauds Trouble Conscience 'Weather' Wireless to Farms Keeping On—That Counts

By Gil A. Cowan

EVERY day or two some sort of a new "advertising" medium makes its bow to the merchants of Glendale and asks their support on the basis of a great free "circulation."

In the first place, whatever the circulation may be, more than 50 per cent of these circulars (for they are not in any way newspapers), are thrown to the four winds.

In the second place, the business methods of such fly-by-night sheets are questionable. A local confectioner received a bill for $15 for alleged advertising, but a check-up showed that their copy had never appeared.

In another instance a solicitor, representing what he called a "non-sectarian religious publication," collected $25 in advance at one place and neither he nor his medium have been seen since. How many others are paying such tribute cannot be determined.

While thinking about graft, there comes to mind the war contract frauds which are now being aired. As usual, only a perfunctory investigation is being made, it is charged by a former department of justice agent.

Probably it is well that only a "perfunctory investigation" has been, is being or will be made. Otherwise some of our profiteering patriots would have been in jail long ago.

Close association with the work of the department of justice, including a daily visit to the headquarters of that governmental agency for a period of months during the war's progress, gives the writer a positive belief that many frauds went untouched.

However, there is more than one troubled conscience in this country today. The frauds and undiscovered likely will be as great as that of the soldiers who were drenched to the skin in leaky raincoats, blown to bits by imperfect ordnance and underfed by cheats.

SPECIAL TAX LEVY ON WATER, LIGHT METERS PLAN

Drop Business License Project; Another Method Proposed by City Councilmen

(Continued from Page 1) not in the way of a week ago, when they voted long and loud—were made against the council's financial plan.

Last night, Mayor Spencer Robinson brought smiles to the faces of the business men by declaring: "We've decided to drop the plan of raising money by taxing the business and professional interests. That plan is a dead one. How would you like to see a tax on water meters?"

Councilman C. E. Kimlin then explained that the council has under consideration the taxing of light or water meters—perhaps both.

"Those being in favor of a tax like that, please stand up," requested Councilman Kimlin.

The majority in the audience stood. They also remained standing when Councilman Kimlin asked if they would back the council in its effort to levy the meter tax.

Seems to Meet Approval Robert M. McGee, present to protest against the proposed business tax, declared that, in his opinion, the suggested meter tax is the better plan to raise revenues. He said that the meter tax had been discussed by the East Glendale Advancement association at its Thursday luncheon and the members seemed to be in favor of the meter tax.

W. E. Evans, present at the meeting on another matter, declared a business tax was a difficult tax to levy and he also stated that he was in favor of the meter tax, as outlined.

The report submitted by City Controller Harrison to the council follows in full: Relative to the question under discussion at the present time, as to financing the General Budget Fund.
