REMARKS

1. ANNOUNCER: Uncle Sam's Forest Rangers

2. ORCHESTRA: Quartet: Rangers Song.

3. ANNOUNCER: Properly managed forests can help maintain permanent and
4. prosperous communities. But the history of many of our
5. logging and lumbering communities has been the history of "boom"
6. towns. They materialize almost overnight, blossom for a few short
7. years, and then - with the passing of the surrounding forest -- they
8. fade into oblivion forever. Because of the rapidity with which timber
9. resources were ordinarily liquidated, woods-workers also have been
10. largely transient -- driven on from one job to another and denied
11. the social advantages of permanent community ties almost altogether.
12. Timber resources in our National Forests, however, are handled on
13. an entirely different basis. Instead of liquidating the forest
14. values as fast as men and machinery can convert them into dollars
15. and cents, National Forest resources are utilized conservatively.
16. The type of management used for timber - and for all other national
17. forest resources -- is known as sustained yield management. And by
18. sustained yield management is simply meant an annual harvesting in
19. keeping with the annual growth or supply. Under this system raw
20. materials, such as timber, can be produced indefinitely; and jobs,
21. homes, schools, churches and all else needed for a stable community
22. are permanently insured. The United States Forest Service believes
23. that sustained yield management can be practiced to the social and
24. material benefit of every forest region in the United States. And
25. this is the objective they are trying to achieve.

1. ANNOUNCER: Out in Winding Creek in the Pine Cone National Forest
2. the suspense over whether or not the Roberts saw mill
3. is going to shut down still continues. And with the fate of the
4. whole community hinging on the fate of the mill it's a crucial
5. moment in the life of every Winding Creek citizen. As we look in
6. now we find Ranger Jim Robbins sitting at the desk in his office
7. at the ranger station.

8. SOUND OF DOOR OPENING

9. BESS: (SLIGHTLY OFF) Has Jerry come back with the mail, Jim?...

10. (COMING ON) (EXASPERATED) Jim Robbins! Wake up!

11. JIM: (STARTLED) Huh? Oh it's you Bess.

12. BESS: Yes, it's me and I asked you a question. I asked you
13. if Jerry has come back with the morning mail.

14. JIM: No. No. I guess he hasn't, Bess. Fact is I didn't
15. even know he'd gone.

16. BESS: Oh Jim, can't you forget about the mill closing for
17. a little while. You've been so abesent minded lately
18. you don't know whether you're going or coming. And you
19. look terrible. You've just worried yourself sick.

20. JIM: Yeah, I reckon you're right, Bess. I'm just plain licked
21. and haven't got sense to know it. Gale Roberts is
22. going to pull out; his scapegrace brother is going to
23. come in and cut out the timber; and our poor little old
24. town is just going to fold up like a punctured balloon.
25. There's nothing I can do.

BESS: You shouldn't say things like that, Jim. Nothing has really happened yet. And maybe Gale Roberts will take that plan you worked out for him and stay in business after all. Where there's life there's hope, you know.

JIM: Oh, I know, Bess. But we're licked and that's all there is to it.

BESS: But how do you know, Jim? You haven't heard anything definite from the Supervisor's office, have you?

JIM: Yes, the Forest Service has approved the timber purchase plan, but you don't know the half of it.

BESS: What do you mean?

JIM: Well, I got a personal letter here from Gale Roberts, himself, Bess.

BESS: A letter from Gale! Well, what--

JIM: It came in the mail last night and it hit me so hard I haven't been able to say anything about it to anybody-- not even to you and Jerry. I'm afraid it's the last word.

BESS: Well Jim. What does he say? Let me --

1. JIM: Oh well, sit down there, Bess, and I'll read it to you.
2. (SOUND OF PAPER RATTLING) He says here: "Dear Jim: I
3. want you to know that I have given the plan worked out by you and
4. the Forest Service thorough consideration. With proper supervision
5. and leadership I think it would probably work out very well. The
6. people of Winding Creek would certainly profit individually and I
7. suppose the community could go on. But as far as my own troubles
8. are concerned I am afraid it is of little use. The money realized
9. from the sale of the North Fork block of timber to the Forest
10. Service would be sufficient to clear up all my back taxes and
11. mortgages but due to family difficulties which I have been unable to
12. control this would amount to only temporary relief. I'm sorry Jim,
13. but truthfully I simply do not have the energy nor desire to carry
14. on. Sincerely yours, Gale Roberts."

15. BESS: I never would have believed Gale would give up like that.

16. JIM: Well, neither would I, Bess. But there it is.

17. BESS: I just can't help but think of old Mr. Roberts, Jim.
18. He was such a fighter and such a perfect gentleman...the
19. way his family has turned out is just too bad.

20. JIM: That's what's got me beat about Gale. He's almost a
21. dead ringer for what his father was -- fair, honest,
22. hardworking and he's always been a fighter too. Why
23. he's backing out now is more than I can see.

1. BESS: Well, with that gangster brother of his stealing his
2. money and getting himself into trouble--(SUDDENLY)
3. Jim! Do you suppose if Gale knew the truth about how
4. his brother Rafe has been scheming to get the mill
5. away from him it would make him mad enough to keep on?

6. JIM: I thought of that Bess and I thought something of going
7. over to see Gale and tell him the whole story. But
8. then I took another think and decided it was none of my
9. business.

10. BESS: Did you answer his letter?

11. JIM: Yes, I did. I wrote and told him that I could
12. understand how he felt, but that I thought he had a
13. bigger obligation to these people here than he did to
14. himself. ... But I'm afraid it's no use, Bess. That
15. gangster brother's going to get hold of the mill and
16. then cut out and get out, and wreck this town in spite
17. of everything.

18. SOUND OF CAR OFF MIKE AT HIGH SPEED.

19. BESS: Jim! Look at the way Jerry's driving that car. He's
20. coming up the drive as fast as the car will go.

21. JIM: By George. Jerry doesn't drive like that unless
22. something's up.

23. SOUND OF CAR BRAKES VIGOROUSLY APPLIED AND SLIDING TIRES ON LOOSE
24. GRAVEL.

25.

1. JERRY: (OFF MIKE) (SHOUTING) Jim! (APPROACHING) Jim! (SOUND OF
2. FOOTSTEPS RUNNING UP STEPS, DOOR THROWN OPEN) (BREAKING
3. IN, BREATHLESS) Jim, Gale Roberts has been shot! Look
4. at the headlines on this morning's paper!

5. BESS: My heavens. You mean he committed suicide?

6. JERRY: No, Mrs. Robbins. Look at the paper here. Rafe shot
7. him. His brother. The same guy that Jim and I had a
8. run in with here.

9. BESS: Put the paper down lower, Jim, so I can read it too. Oh
10. dear! (READS) "Prominent Business Man Wounded In Fight
11. With Brother! Brother Killed In Car Smash While Fleeing
12. From Officers!" Oh then that gangster Rafe Roberts is
13. dead.

14. JERRY: Yeh. Look here, Jim. It says the shooting took place
15. in Gale Robert's office in the Roberts Bank Building
16. down in Willow Glen. But it doesn't say anything
17. about what they were fighting about anywhere.

18. JIM: Hmm. Says Gale's weak from loss of blood but not in
19. serious danger.

20. JERRY: What do you reckon the fight could have been about, Jim?

21. JIM: Rafe must have gone to his brother himself and told Gale
22. he was going to get the mill away from him.

25.

1, BESS: It says the shooting took place about midnight last
2, night after Gale had received a mysterious telephone call
3, and returned to his office. That must have been Rafe
4, that called. And Gale must have found out the truth
5, about how Rafe was stealing his money after all. Oh
6, dear, this is the worst thing that's happened in the 7, Roberts family yet.

8, JIM: Well with Rafe gone it'll probably be the last -

9, SOUND OF TELEPHONE RINGING

10, JERRY: There's the phone. I got it Jim. (SOUND OF RECEIVER OFF
11, HOOK) Winding Creek Ranger Station. Jerry Quick speaking.
12, Who? Jim? Yeh. Sure. Just a minute. (UP) It's for 13, you Jim.

14, JIM: Hello. Oh hello, Jake, What? Why I was just reading
15, in the paper here where he was in the hospital down in 16, Willow Glen. He's at the mill?.....He wants me to come
17, over to the mill? Yeah. ... Yeh sure Jake, I'll be 18, there in about ten minutes. (HANGS UP)

19, BESS: What's going on, Jim? What do you have to go over to 20, the mill for?

21, JIM: Where the dickens is my hat?

22, BESS: Right here. What's happened, Jim?

23, JIM: That was Jake Plack. He said Gale Roberts is over at the 24, mill right now. Wants me to come over.

25, JERRY: Can I go along, Jim.

1, JIM: Yes, come on along, Jerry....So-long Pess. I'll be
2, back and tell you what it's all about as soon as I can.
3, MUSIC UP AND OUT
4, SOUND OF MILL WHISTLE BLOWING WITH SAWMILL SOUNDS IN BACKGROUND
5, DYING DOWN
6, JERRY: (FADING IN) Gosh, Jim. Do you reckon this is the end.
7, The whistle's blowing and the mill's stopping right in
8, the middle of the morning.
9, JIM: I don't know, Jerry. But Gale Roberts didn't get up
10, out of the hospital to come up here for nothing.
11, JERRY: Where were you supposed to go?
12, JIM: In the office here I 'spose. Let's go in here and see.
13, SOUND: OF DOOR OPENING
14, GALE ROBERTS: (MAN IN MIDDLE FORTIES. PLEASANT SOFT SPOKEN) (FADE 15, IN) Hello Jim. Come on in.
16, JIM: Hello Gale. It's mighty good to see you here. But you
17, shouldn't have left the hospital so soon.
18, GALE: Oh, I'll be all right Jim.
19, JIM: I sure hope so, Gale. ... This is Jerry Quick, my 20, assistant ranger. Jerry, this is Gale Roberts.
21, GALE: I'm glad to know you, young man.
22, JERRY: And I'm mighty glad to meet you too, sir.
23, GALE: Jim, I came down here to make a little talk to the boys
24, here at the mill. And I wanted you to be in on it.
25, Jake's getting the gang together out there in the mill now.

1. JIM: Why sure, Gale. I'm ready to help out anyway I can.
2. SOUND OF CHAIR SCRAPING BACK.
3. GALE: We might as well --
4. JERRY: Hey, catch him Jim! He's going to faint!
5. SOUND OF QUICK STEPS ON FLOOR
6. JIM: (QUICK SYMPATHY) It's all right Gale. I'll hold on to
7. you, here.
8. GALE: Un. Thanks Jim ... Seems like I had a little
9. dizzy spell.
10. JIM: Maybe you'd better wait a while, Gale. Or else have Jake
11. bring the men in here.
12. GALE: No. I want to talk to them out there where they work,
13. Jim. Where they won't be crowded. You just stay close
14. to me so I can grab you if I have to and everything will
15. be fine. Let's go on out.
16. SOUND OF DOOR OPENING
17. SUBDUE D CROWD EFFECT UP
18. GALE: This is as good a place as any right here by the rail.
19. CROWD EFFECT DOWN TO QUIET

1. The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions and activities. It emphasizes that this is essential for ensuring transparency and accountability in the organization's operations.

2. The second part of the document outlines the various methods and tools used to collect and analyze data. It highlights the need for consistent data collection practices and the use of advanced analytical techniques to derive meaningful insights from the data.

3. The third part of the document focuses on the role of technology in data management and analysis. It discusses how modern software solutions can streamline data collection, storage, and processing, thereby improving efficiency and accuracy.

4. The fourth part of the document addresses the challenges associated with data management, such as data quality, security, and privacy. It provides strategies to mitigate these risks and ensure that the data remains reliable and secure throughout its lifecycle.

5. The fifth part of the document concludes by summarizing the key findings and recommendations. It stresses the importance of a data-driven approach in decision-making and the need for continuous monitoring and improvement of the data management process.

1. GALE: (RAISED VOICE) Boys, I haven't got much to say here this
2. morning but what I have got to say I know is going to
3. mean an awful lot to all of you. There's been a rumor
4. that the Roberts operations here are going to shut down.
5. A lot of you have been afraid you were going to lose
6. your jobs, and your homes, and everything else. Well
7. (SLIGHT PAUSE) all I have to say is (SLIGHT PAUSE) the
8. rumor is false. I've just signed an agreement with
9. the United States Forest Service. The Roberts operations
10. are not only going to keep going but with the help of
11. Jim Robbins here, we're going to put our timber business
12. on sustained yield -- on a sound forestry basis so it
13. can keep going forever.

14. WIDL CHEERS, AMPLIFIED SHORTLY BY SOUND OF MILL WHISTLE

15. MUSIC: FINALE

16. ANNOUNCER: Uncle Sam's Forest Rangers comes to you as a presentation
17. of the National Broadcasting Company, with the cooperation
18. of the Forest Service, United States Department of
19. Agriculture.
