Coast Road Project Off For This Session

That there will be no direct legislation concerning the completion of the Coast road from Carmel-by-the-Sea to San Simeon during the present session of the Legislature is indicated by the following communication from E. S. Rigdon, Senator from this district:

Sacramento, April 20, 1917
Mr. W. L. Overstreet,
Editor, Carmel Pine Cone.
My dear sir:

Knowing the great interest that all the citizens of the Peninsula have in our projected Coast road via San Simeon to San Luis Obispo, I beg to report as follows:

Our bill asking for this road was referred to the Senate Committee on roads and highways. I secured a favorable report from this committee. All the bills receiving a favorable report from the committee were then referred to the committee on finance. The finance committee then referred them to the preparedness defense committee. This defense committee reported back day before yesterday, asking for a blanket appropriation of $250,000 to be used in the construction of such roads as were of urgent military importance.

I regret very much that I was unable to secure a direct appropriation for our road. It will now have to take its chance through this defense committee. I, however, secured the insertion in their bill of a provision which would permit the use of part of this money in surveying roads which might, or might not, be intended for military purposes. I have the assurance of the highway engineer that he will give our road project favorable attention. I also have the same assurance from other officials here, and it is possible that we will fare better than many of the other projects.

It is generally understood by the state officials that the federal government will appropriate a vast sum of money with which to improve and build border roads for military purposes, and I feel that we are quite sure to receive some help from this source.

Regretting that I cannot report something more definite at this time, I remain

Yours very truly,
E. S. Rigdon

Join or Start a Potato Club in Carmel

The Woodcraft League of America, of which Ernest Thompson Seton is chief, has inaugurated a nation-wide plan to establish potato growing clubs.

The boys and girls of Carmel-by-the-Sea should get into this movement. The League has issued a circular giving details of the plan, which may be perused at the office of the "Pine Cone."

The New York Evening Mail says: "We face the future with the immediate prospect of the greatest food shortage our generation has ever known. Every acre of potatoes planted is life insurance against starvation next winter."

Mr. E. H. Powers of the Carmel Development Company has offered the free use of vacant lands in this section to children and adults who will promise to plant at least twenty-four hills of potatoes thereon.

One of the conditions of membership in the clubs is that a member must plant and raise twenty-four hills and donate the proceeds to some war fund.

Prizes will be awarded to boys and girls under eighteen, but older folks are not debarred from membership.

Where You Go in?

Fishing! The trout season opens next Tuesday. Every angler in these parts and a large number from other sections will be trekking to the banks of the Carmel and to the Little and Big Sur beginning early Tuesday morning.

Local stores which handle fishing tackle report an exceptionally good demand and expect a continuance thereof up to December 1, when the season closes.

State licenses may now be procured without the necessity of sending to Salinas.

Probably Meant Carmel
There has just come from the press of the Century Company a volume of verses, by Cole Young Rice. Mr. Rice was in Carmel last summer, on the occasion of the presentation of his "Yolanda of Cyprus." The following verses in the new book might well have been inspired here:

ON CAMINO REAL.

Here are the sea and the mountains,
Floating clouds and gull-pinions;
Here the far ships pass
Upon their mystic way.
Here the winds hold mass
With all their myriad wave-minions,
Surging along the shore
With loud intoning away.
Here are the seas and the mountains,
Shriving plains and sun-gladdness;
Here, like acolytes,
Sweet incense flowers fill
"My opinion is not so much because
The sky's blue nave, and nights,
Like days are free of soul-sadness;
For all earth is aware
Of Nature's wide good-will.

News From La Playa

Mrs. Shirley C. Ward entertained a dinner party of fourteen on Saturday evening.

Letters from the East show activity in every small as well as large town. In several places the entire male population is drilling.

Several Eastern mothers are rushing home, after receiving telegrams from sons at college. "Have just enlisted. We are all needed"

When will Carmel wake up? So far, says rumor, Frank Brewster is the only man here who has responded to the President's call.

Mrs. Signor is exceedingly proud of her family military record. In the East ten cousins—four from one branch—enlisted immediately following the war declaration. Three have been in active service in Europe. One, an eminent Edinburgh surgeon, has been in France for two years.

Mr. Hayes Explains

Representative E. A. Hayes, who cast his vote against the war resolution, explains his surprising action as follows:

"With President Wilson's frankly avowed intention of sending out our boys who should be chosen upon the principle of universal liability to service out of their own country and into an alien land, under strange and terrible conditions, ringing in my ears, I felt I could not support the war resolution.

"It gave no choice to those who were compelled, at the behest of their country, as to whether they wanted to go to the trenches of Europe or not.

"I would willingly equip and finance all who volunteered to go, but I will never compel the unwilling service of my own or another's boy in foreign lands except for the preservation of the United States."

The Children's Book for the Little Princess of Belgium

Last summer a children's autograph album was started by Mrs. Charles Whiting Baker to be sent to H. R. H. Marie Jose, the little Princess of Belgium, as a testimonial of sympathy for the homeless Belgian children. Adults helped the children to fill the pages with signatures. Over four hundred signed the album and made contributions of two hundred and fifty dollars, mostly in small sums. Among the signers were former President Taft, Thomas A. Edison, General Goethals, Colonel I. N. Lewis, Admiral Peary, Rev. Hugh Black. The following letters have just been received acknowledging the arrival of the gifts in Belgium:

"Madame: Conforming to the instructions of the King, I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of the gift of one hundred and fifty dollars (one hundred had been sent previously) that you have had the kind thought to offer to Her Royal Highness for the Belgian children, victims of the war. Very much touched by your attention witnesses, His Majesty your sentiments of solicitude which charges me to address to you his best thanks and to tell you that Her Royal Highness will be happy to realize the desire that you have expressed.

"Accept, I pray, Madame, my respectful homage.

"L'Officier d'ordonnance du Roi,
"GREU D' HAMMIL
"January, 1917."

"Dear Madam: Thank you very much for the Children's Book you have so kindly sent me, and please thank in my name all those who have signed themselves in the album, there are so many interesting signatures. The sentiments of sympathy shown by the children of New Jersey have greatly touched me and I shall never forget them. Thanking you once more for all the trouble you have taken, I wish you and all the children of New Jersey every happiness during 1917.
"MARIE JOSE, of Belgium."

Miss Tootsie Meehan of New Monterey has been spending a fortnight with Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley in San Francisco. John J. Meehan, his mother, brother, and sister of Salinas, motored to the city to accompany the little lady home. Dad Hamilton's place in the party was taken by Fred Bispo.

Notice to # TAXPAYERS

All taxpayers are required by the constitution to annually make and deliver to the Assessor a statement, under oath, setting forth specifically ALL the real, personal, or other class of property, owned by such persons, or in their possession, or under their control, as the same stands of record at 12 o'clock Meridian on the first Monday of March.

The Political Code provides, that all property must be assessed at its "full cash value," and defines "full cash value" as being the amount at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt from a solvent debtor.

Unsecured Personal Property
The taxes on all unsecured personal property are due and payable and must be paid at the time the assessment is made.

Exemptions
Any person or association, claiming any property to be exempt from taxation, MUST make the claim and affidavit, for such exemption, every year, in the manner provided by law. This applies to the $100 allowed on personal property of householders; the $1000 allowed soldiers, sailors, marines, etc., and property used solely and exclusively for religious worship.

Assessments
Any information desired relating to assessments will be gladly furnished on application, and all objections should be made before the Board of Equalization adjourns, instead of waiting until it is time to pay taxes.

Remember, that if you fail to make a statement you fail to comply with the law and you law your self liable to arbitrary assessment, which is expensive to yourself and causes much trouble to others.

THE FLAG.

The display of the national colors in this city is inspiring. Especially in the quiet residence neighborhoods the flag of the nation is shown so generally as to leave no doubt of the abundant patriotism of the householders. But it is doubtful if the draping of a large flag like a superfluous curtain on the front of the building is the proper way to display our national symbol. The inference is that the owner or lessee of the building has obtained a flag too large for his purpose, and, being unable to accommodate a pole large enough to hold it, does the best he can to demonstrate his patriotic ardor. Every flag, however, should have its pole. The two should be inseparable when the flag is on view out of doors. A small flag is as strongly indicative of loyalty as a big one.

There is another common error in the display of the flag by private citizens. Once placed in position, it is frequently permitted to hang or float from its pole both day and night. Now, although the heart of Francis Scott Key was cheered by occasional glimpses of the nation's standard on a certain night, by the glare of the rockets and the bursting of bombs, that was in battle, when the flag is never lowered. Ordinarily the flag is raised at sunrise and lowered at sunset. If the private citizen does not raise his flag precisely with the sun, he ought at least to lower it before dark. The sight of flapping banners in the night does not inspire, but, on the contrary, irritates sophisticated patriots.—New York Times.

WEEKLY GREETING

If a book come from the heart, it will contrive to reach other hearts; all art and author-craft are of small amount to that. — Carlisle.

Our New Senator Starts Off Right

Senator Johnson, addressing the Senate on the espionage bill, characterized the bill as a blow at free speech, as well as at a free press. He said:

"My opinion is not so much because of tenderness for the press. A decent and self-respecting press in time of war will censor itself, and will not be deterred by any law from honest and legitimate criticism.

"I am concerned mostly with the right of free speech, the preservation of democracy itself. This is not a partisan war. It is an American war of all our American people, and America is the light of all the world of democracy.

"We have already conferred almost autocratic powers financially. We will probably confer extensive other powers on the President. But we must stop short of an assault upon democracy.

"The censorship section gives the President power to prescribe what people shall speak and write and is drawn with nebulous and elastic language. The powers conferred even upon an officer, no matter how high and highly respected, constitute an excursion into autocracy, and one that cannot be excused by our desire to destroy autocracy in Europe."

To Use the Bible As a Text-book

Reading matter for a literacy test for aliens under the new immigration law will be taken from the Bible, the Department of Labor has announced. Passages will be selected in more than 100 languages and dialects.

"This is not because the Bible is considered a sacred book by many people," said the department's announcement, "but because it is now the only book in virtually every tongue. The translating was done by men whose purpose it was to put the Bible in such simple and idiomatic expressions as would make it possible for the common people of foreign countries to grasp the meaning readily and thoroughly."

ORDINANCE NO. 13

Red Cross Notes

This week, they are plaintive but not wailing.

Our chapter is anxious to complete Boxes 1 and 2 by the middle of May, and there are some things lacking. May we not have them, please.

For Box 1, surgical supplies, we want 320 yard of gauze, needed in making pads, drains, etc., and also two rolls of absorbent cotton.

For Box 2, equipment for uine wounded, we want 54 sheets, 36 pillow cases, 36 face towels, 18 bath towels.

The President proposes to designate a day in May on which the entire nation shall concentrate its attention toward the vitally important matter of financing the American National Red Cross for its responsibilities both toward the soldier and the noncombatants.
