

REGULAR WEEKLY MEETING OF CITY FATHERS

ORDINANCE ORDERING OFFICIAL CENSUS TO BE TAKEN ADOPTED—BIDS FOR NEW HYDRANTS READ—CLERK INSTRUCTED TO ENFORCE COW ORDINANCE

The regular meeting of the trustees of the City of Glendale was held in the city hall, Monday evening, May 24, 1915. There were present O. A. Lane, president of the board of trustees; Charles Grist, J. S. Thompson, A. W. Tower and George Williams; also J. C. Sherer, city clerk; T. W. Watson, city manager; W. E. Evans, city attorney; H. B. Lynch, manager public service department; Edward Lynch, city engineer; G. B. Hoffman, city treasurer; G. H. Herald, city marshal.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and the same approved. A communication was read from Peter L. Ferry, who has the contract for improving Canada boulevard, asking for an extension of time of 90 days to complete the work, giving as his reason for asking such extension that unfavorable weather had delayed in carrying out the work as planned.

A petition was read from certain property owners on Ivy street asking that needed improvements be made. The petitioners had made careful examination of the condition of the street and recommended that the curbing remain and that the sidewalk be replaced wherever necessary. The question was referred to the city engineer.

A communication in reference to the taking of the census as proposed by the ordinance just passed was read. The communication stated that Wm. Anderson, T. W. Doyle, Fred Wilkinson and C. A. Wilkinson would agree to take the census of Glendale for $100. The communication was received and placed on file.

A communication was read from A. E. Ditch and others requesting the improvement of Lincoln St. with cement sidewalks.

The question was referred to the city engineer for investigation. A communication was read protesting against the improvements to be made on Central avenue near Hawthorne.

The city clerk read the following report concerning licenses paid by merchants, peddlers and others:

Collected under license ordinance No. 263 week ending
May 15	47.36
Week ending May 22	25.26
Total collections to date as per treasurer's receipts	253.37
No. of licenses issued	164
No. of delinquents on complete list of persons and firms liable	48

Robert T. Simms, who conducts a peanut, popcorn and confectionery stand at 1108 W. Broadway, made application for the right to sell peanuts and popcorn on the streets during the three days of the Festival of Fruits and Flowers. His application was referred to the city manager with power to act.

The question of the location of W. L. Truitt's dairy came up for consideration. A communication from Dr. R. E. Chase, city health officer, stated that he had examined the dairy and found everything in sanitary condition except that the corral is located close to the water reservoir that supplies Tropic with water and that the presence of the dairy in that community may be the means of breeding flies. Later in the evening, Dr. Wm. Mabry, health officer of the city of Tropic appeared before the board and made complaint on account of the Truitt dairy being located so near the water reservoir that supplies Tropic. He said that every time a strong wind blows from the direction of the dairy toward the reservoir clouds of dust arise from the corral and settle in the reservoir and the doctor considers this a very unsanitary condition. He asked that the board of trustees take immediate action to have the dairy removed from that location.

Later in the evening a motion prevailed that Mr. Truitt be notified by the clerk of the Board of Trustees that he find another location for his dairy before July 1 of the present year, and that similar notice be served upon all other owners of dairies who are violating a city ordinance.

The clerk opened and read bids for the furnishing of hydrants to the city as follows:

- Corey Type
Water Works Supply Co., 2 shut offs, $33; one shut off, $30.
Smith Booth Usher Co., two shut offs, $34.43.
J. W. Blair, two shut offs, $38; one shut off, $35; no shut off, $29.75.
- Keystone Type
Keystone Iron Works, two shut offs, $28.74 (with patent valve).

United Casing Co., two shut offs, $27.90.
Hunt Engineering Co., two shut offs, $33.60.

On motion the bids were referred to the manager of the public service department.

The manager of the public service department asked that the board consider negotiating for a machine with which to make concrete meter boxes. Explanation was made that the company who manufactures this machine will furnish the same for $298 for a period of ten years on condition that the city pay a five-cent royalty for every meter box manufactured. On recommendation of the manager of the public service department the chairman of the board was authorized to enter into an agreement negotiating for such a machine.

City Engineer E. M. Lynch recommended that bids be called for from the various title companies of Los Angeles for a record of owners of property affected by the opening of East Broadway.

Hearing of protests in regard to the proposed improvements on Ivy street was set for June 7.

The hearing of protests concerning the application Mrs. M. L. Tight had made that the city give her an easement for the land contained in the alley adjacent to her property on condition that the city may have a right to use the alley, but that Mrs. Tight will control the management of the property in other respects. Protests were entered against the city's giving Mrs. Tight an easement for this land by C. R. Norton and Mrs. Byram, both of whom own property adjacent to the alley concerned. After hearing a discussion on both sides of the question the board decided to postpone the decision on the matter for one week, thinking that in that period of time the property owners might get together and settle the matter amicably among themselves.

The ordinance declaring that a census of the city of Glendale be taken was taken up for third reading and final passage. The ordinance was adopted by a unanimous vote of the board. It stipulates that the city shall be divided into four districts and that a man shall be appointed in each one of these districts to take an enumeration of the people according to the state law provided for taking such an enumeration. The ordinance will be published this week and will go into effect 30 days after the day of publication.

On the recommendation of H. B. Lynch, manager of the public service department, the following resolution was read and adopted:

The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale do resolve as follows:
Section 1. That the rates to be charged for water for domestic purposes measured through a meter by the City of Glendale shall be as follows:

WITHIN THE CITY OF GLENDALE
For the first 1000 cubic feet used per month, $1.00.
For all in excess of 1000 cubic feet, 6c for each 100 cubic feet.
The minimum monthly rate shall be $1.00.

WITHIN THE CITY OF EAGLE ROCK
For the first 800 cubic feet used per month, $1.00.
For all in excess of 800 cubic feet, 6c for each 100 cubic feet.
The minimum monthly rate shall be $1.00.

WITHIN THE UNINCORPORATED TERRITORY ADJACENT TO GLENDALE
For the first 800 cubic feet used per month, $1.25.
For all in excess of 800 cubic feet, 7c for each 100 cubic feet.
The minimum monthly rate shall be $1.25.

Section 2. For water that is furnished at a flat rate, said rates to be collected shall be the same as in Section 1 of Ordinance Number 230 of the City of Glendale.

Section 3. Said rates shall be collected instead of the maximum rates specified in Ordinance Number 230 of the City of Glendale.

Section 4. Resolution No. 750 entitled "A Resolution of the City of Glendale fixing rates for water to be supplied to consumers by the City of Glendale," is hereby rescinded.

A communication from the clothes cleaners and clothes pressers of Glendale requesting that the city revoke the license ordinance affecting their business was read. The claim set (Continued on Page 4)

CITIZENS URGED TO ATTEND MASS MEETING

OPPORTUNITY TO DISCUSS AND HEAR DISCUSSED PROPOSAL TO MAKE GLENDALE A FIFTH-CLASS CITY

In accordance with a resolution passed at the recent banquet of the Chamber of Commerce, a mass meeting has been called for tonight to be held under the direction of the Chamber of Commerce. This gathering of citizens will be held in the auditorium of the high school at 7:45 p. m.

Every citizen of Glendale, who is not prevented from attending by unavoidable circumstances, should be at this meeting. The subject to be discussed affects vital civic interests and there will be much said on both sides of the question.

It should be kept in mind that this is an educational meeting. That all are invited and that an opportunity will be given to anyone who wishes to express views on this important question to make them known. This is a meeting of all the citizens of Glendale. It is no gathering of a clique nor faction. The men who have called it are leading citizens, actuated by a single desire to do what is best for the interests of Glendale. The members of the Chamber of Commerce are citizens equally interested with everyone else in the welfare of the city. Like every right-minded citizen, they are anxious that this vital question be discussed freely and intelligently to the end that all may come to a full and thorough understanding of what a change to the status of a fifth-class city would mean for Glendale.

Those who will gather in the high school auditorium tonight will not come there favoring the present administration; neither will they come opposing it. If there should be any present of such a partisan spirit they will discover that such is not the spirit of the meeting. The majority of those present will undoubtedly be actuated by a desire to obtain information as to what are the rights and privileges, the advantages and disadvantages of a fifth-class city in comparison with a sixth-class city.

All disinterested citizens will come to the meeting determined to eliminate all party feeling and to foster the spirit of inquiry and sound argument.

Approached in this spirit the mass meeting tonight should be productive of much good. By mingling with each other the citizens of Glendale will discover that the motives that actuate the majority of their fellows are honorable and directed toward the one end of finding out in what direction and in what manner Glendale should be developed.

There may be differences of opinion regarding the best manner in which to develop the city. There are likely to be opinions at both extremes of the question; but it is earnestly to be hoped that at the close of the discussion all will be seeing the question from a common point of view.

One thing is certain—Glendale should be loyal to itself. Its interests are its own and no outside influence nor foreign element should be allowed to intrude itself in any manner, shape or form in a general meeting of the citizens.

In an orderly meeting of this kind where even those who differ agree to differ and where each is making an honest endeavor to understand the attitude of those who may not agree with him, it should be possible to find a common platform on which to stand.

It is certain that if there be not unity there can never be progress in Glendale. If the city should by any unfortunate chance or design be divided against itself, then the outsider will see opportunity to despoil us of all we have so laboriously built up in many years.

Glendale as a civic entity has a great future before it. It has its own atmosphere and its own unique features. Any interference with its development along the lines on which it has been growing would be fatal to its existence as a city with the reputation it has already acquired for sane and individual development.

Come out to the mass meeting! Hear, and if you have any questions to ask, ask them. There will be room for all and a patient audience for all.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Miss Haryot Bayard, assisted by Mrs. Francis Bayard, was hostess of a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Christine Pauley, who is to become the bride of Edward Pinch of Los Angeles. The house was very beautifully decorated in asparagus fern and pink and white carnations. The afternoon was spent in playing Five Hundred. The prize was awarded to Miss Alpha Prindle. After the game the bride to be was told to look for her gifts which were hidden about the house, after which a dainty luncheon was served. The guests included Mesdames M. J. Pauley, D. Coll, P. C. Dodge, D. Punch, R. Bourne, Willard Rose, R. S. Grey, George Pauley, the Misses Vera Bayard, Eleanor Pauley, Alpha Prindle, Ernestine Lyons, Helen Coll and Marguerite Punch.

DATE PALMS WANTED

Any one having branches of date palms to spare should leave them early Wednesday at the festival headquarters at the corner of Colorado street and Brand boulevard. These branches are to be used for decoration purposes.

CHOIR CARD PARTY

The members of St. Mark's choir gave one of their popular card parties at the home of the Misses Clara and Mattie Belle Provolt last Friday evening. A large crowd was present and a most enjoyable evening was spent. Quite a number of friends were present from Los Angeles. The prizes were won by Miss Laura Vermillion of St. Louis, Mo., and Mr. J. Delgado of Glendale. Miss Granger received the consolation prize.

AN ASSURED SUCCESS

The Glendale Festival of Fruits and Flowers is now an assured success. Exhibitors are contributing fine displays of fruits and flowers. Mr. English of La Ramada will exhibit a complete display of garden flowers from La Ramada gardens. Mr. Lichenberger of Los Angeles will exhibit cut roses; Freeman Kelley is building a booth in the form of a pergola in which he will exhibit flowers; Mr. C. H. Woolsey will exhibit handsome designs of cut flowers, as will also Mrs. M. L. Anderson. There will be a fine exhibition of roses from the million rose garden on Rock Glen avenue.

MADE SICK NERVOUS

BULL'S BELLOWING ALLEGED TO HAVE ANNOYED PATIENTS IN HOSPITAL

Judge Whomes disposed of a complaint this morning in short order. Frequent complaints have been received by the police from residents in the vicinity of Ninth and Adams that a bull, the property of W. J. Blanchard, stockman, was disturbing the peace and interfering with the natural right of the citizens to undisturbed slumber.

It appeared, according to the complaint, that "the said bull bawled incessantly during the whole of nights and during the day time, thereby disturbing the peace of the whole neighborhood and especially the patients in Thornycroft hospital." It was further complained that all this was contrary to statute.

It appeared that according to the statute a public nuisance is "anything that is injurious to the health or is indecent or offensive to the senses, or an obstruction to the free use of property, so as to interfere with the comfortable enjoyment of life or property by an entire community or neighborhood."

H. L. Miller of Thornycroft hospital testified to the annoyance caused his patients by the bull's bellowings.

Chief Herald testified that there had been frequent complaints concerning the nuisance and gave him notice to remove it.

Attorney Oliver O. Clark appeared for Blanchard and showed that the statute provided that reasonable notice must be given in writing from a health officer or district attorney to remove a public nuisance. This had not been done in this case.

It being amply shown that there had been a failure to comply with the law in the matter of serving a written notice Judge Whomes found that that omission was fatal to the indictment and dismissed the case.

PLANS FOR GRAND LODGE

Enthusiasm and resource marked the regular meeting of the Elks of Glendale at their regular session last night. There was a full attendance. A contingent of brethren from Pasadena was present to consult with the local lodge regarding holding a barbecue, June 13, for the purpose of raising money for the entertainment of the grand lodge, which will assemble in Los Angeles July 15.

The grand lodge proceedings will continue the whole of the week beginning Monday, July 15. The first day of the week will be known as Glendale-Pasadena day. One thousand automobiles will carry the great crowd to Pasadena and thence to Glendale. Glendale lodge will have its hands full planning for the entertainment of the visitors.

Great enthusiasm prevailed in the lodge last night when it was reported that Miss Barbara Mitchell was leading in the contest for queen of the festival. The members were stimulated to make further efforts in behalf of their queen and were enjoined to leave no stone unturned to effect her election.

ORATORICAL CHAMPIONSHIP

The written orations of Los Angeles, Lincoln, Pasadena and Glendale, the four high schools contending for the oratorical championship of Southern California at South Pasadena Friday night, May 23, are now in the hands of the judges of thought and composition. These judges are the heads of the departments of English in the University of Southern California, Occidental college and Throop Polytechnic college.

Purman Bennett, the Glendale representative, is practicing diligently and our students have strong hopes that he will win for Glendale the big silver cup given by the University of California some years ago. This cup was won by Harold Story of Glendale three years ago. The following it went to Pasadena, while last year it went to Long Beach. But ten days ago at Glendale Bennett eliminated the Long Beach champion. A number of enthusiastic students are planning to accompany Bennett Friday night.

JUDGE WILBUR

Will speak this evening at 7:45 in the Presbyterian church. Judge Wilbur, who is so well and favorably known to so many of our people, and Mrs. E. E. Plannette, who lives here, both of the Los Angeles county juvenile court, have consented to speak before the Presbyterian Brotherhood this evening. This will be of much interest to parents. Both men and women are cordially invited to be present. All welcome. Mrs. Gibbons will sing.

TO CROWN QUEEN

COMPLETE PROGRAM QUEEN'S CORONATION NIGHT, THURSDAY, MAY 27

The queen's coronation program at Glendale's Festival will be a beautiful affair. There will be flowers in profusion, even to substituting red rose petals for rouge. The evening's entertainment will open with the Dance of the Raindrops. Sixteen dainty maids will be the raindrops. "Spring," impersonated by Harriet Barnes, awakens and chases the raindrops away, calls Warm Breezes, represented by eight lovely maidens, and gaily welcomes the Sun. Winnifred Jones represents the sun and sings in her part a selection from the "Tik Tok Man."

Grasses and Flowers, forty in all, have beautiful, artistic parts in the ballet. This portion of the program will be followed by the coronation of the queen of the Festival by the maid of honor. Ten gauzy fairies will carry the queen's train. Dauphin Paine, as the page, will bear the queen's crown on a beautiful pillow. The Flowers in profusion will sing "Hail to the Queen."

The Herald, Aileen Barrows, opens the evening's entertainment for the queen by picking a basket of the Flowers, who dance for the queen. Solo dance parts are taken by the following: The Shamrock, Lois Naudain; The Thistle and Heather, Katherine Delgado and Charlotte Koverman; the Dance of Cherry Blossoms, Harriet Barnes. The song, "My Baby Rose," follows, and is given by Dorothy McGinnis. Six little lads give the "Dance of the Toadstools." Helen McMullin is the Butterfly in the Dance of the Butterfly.

Terese Van Grove, Glendale's child prodigy, stars in the solo dance of the Poppy. The song, "Ask the Flowers to Tell You," is sung by the Sun, represented by Winnifred Jones. The Dance of the Fairies follows. Eleven girls entertain the queen with the song, "The Flower Garden Ball." The Herald announces the approach of Dawn. Dawn enters. Shirley Chase represents Dawn. Then comes the beautiful finale, "Flowers Must Hasten Away."

Mrs. Wayland Brown, of Tropic, well known for her artistic programs, is the director of the queen's coronation night program. Remember the two performances, the first at 7 p. m., the second at 8:30 p. m. Do not buy tickets for the first performance. Pay admission at the door. Tickets are printed for the second performance only.

TO E. B. WESTON

Under the head of Current Poetry the Literary Digest in the May 15 issue copies from the Chicago Herald a poem by Will H. Thompson, entitled "To an Old Archer Friend, E. B. W." Readers of the News will be interested in this poem as it refers to Mr. E. B. Weston, father of Edward H. Weston, our local photographer. The Digest says: "Archery is no longer the popular sport that it was in the mid-Victorian days. Yet one need not be very old, nor very reactionary, to yield to the appeal of these stanzas, and to visualize the man it commemorates." This is the poem:

What shall an old man say to you,
Gray hero of our archer years?
What tribute shall he pay to you
Ere the eternal twilight nears,
When we shall grope, with parted hands,
The dim illimitable lands?
No biased word, no partial praise,
Befits the comrade love I yield
To him whose archer-marsellaise
Rings from our old, first battle field;
Whose tireless hand through best and worst
Has borne our banner from the first.
Let me stand still, with bended head,
And call the living archer roll,
Revivify the splendid dead
Whose names illumine the bowman's scroll,
And then with loving tear-blurred scrawl,
Write his brave name above them all.

MONDAY BRIDGE CLUB

There was a large attendance at the regular meeting of the Monday Afternoon Bridge and Luncheon club, which met at the home of Mrs. A. W. Beach, 333 N. Brand boulevard, yesterday afternoon. Twelve ladies were present. The prize was won by Mrs. C. M. Good.

The many friends of Mrs. A. H. Lankford of 225 Cedar street will be glad to learn that she is resting comfortably after a serious operation performed at Thornycroft hospital. Dr. T. C. Young is the surgeon in charge.

GLENDALE'S GLAD HAND

Hospitality is one of the great features of Glendale society. This is a home town and a home center. Round the homes of Glendale flock all those who have friends and relatives here. They come not only to behold the beautiful natural scenery of this favored spot, but they come because they know that they will be made welcome by their local friends.

That is always a pleasing trait in the character of any people. One has only to take a look at the columns of the Glendale Evening News to see how many visitors from other cities and states are to be found in the homes of their friends and relatives during the summer months. It is, therefore, to be expected that during the days of the Festival of Fruits and Flowers this week Glendale will be filled with visiting friends and relatives from all quarters. It is certain that they will all be made welcome. Let not only their own friends welcome them, but let the whole community join in giving its visitors such a welcome as will lead them to speak for years to come of the pleasure they experienced at the fete and of the hearty welcome they experienced at the hands of all and sundry.

Those who have been in Paris during the carnival season or in New York on the last night of the year, will know how universal a single feeling may become. They know how strangers meet and converse freely at those times and how a common spirit pervades all. Of the same kind only with certain elements left out should be the welcome that Glendale should give her civic guests this week. The hand of friendship extended and the voice of welcome speaking without possibility of being mistaken should be heard on every hand. If that should be the case the Festival of Fruits and Flowers will go down in history as marking a new start in the development of this town.

NEW VOLCANIC DISTURBANCES

When Pompeii and Herculaneum and some villages that lay at the foot of Vesuvius in the Bay of Naples were destroyed in the year 79 A. D., it was found impossible to warn the inhabitants of the near approach of that calamity. Centuries had rolled on, age after age had passed away unnumbered, unheeded over its head, and though the last hour quivered on the dial plate of its doom, the inhabitants refused to believe that there was any significance in the singular "pine tree" of smoke that was visible emerging from the crater, and when at length the whole volcano broke forth, as it were, in one deadly blast, the people of the gay seaside resort were crowded in the great amphitheater absorbed in the gladiatorial show.

Not a moment's notice was given to St. Pierre, the capital of the French West Indian island of Martinique, when Mont Pelee blew off its head and shriveled up 25,000 people in the capital in one deadly blast. But even if given warning, it is doubtful if any people would flee from the wrath to come.

Everyone knows that the earthquake belt passes along the Pacific coast straight through the center of San Francisco; yet that city goes on with its work and its fair as though 1906 and the earthquake and great fire had never been. Of course there would be no work done in the world if everyone were to go about in dread that the world might come to an end any moment.

There are not lacking signs even now that volcanic eruptions cataclysmic in their effects may at any moment visit the Pacific coast. Two years ago volcanic eruptions occurred in Alaska so enormous in their effects that there has been nothing like them anywhere within the memory of man. Little notice, however, was paid these eruptions, because the country in that quarter is very sparsely inhabited and only a few Eskimos lost their lives. On the other hand, a catastrophe like that of San Francisco comes home to everyone of us.

Fortunately for this section of the coast, the line of volcanic energy and earthquake operation lies well out to sea and Lassen, with its rivers of liquid mud and molten lava is as far away from us for all purposes as though it were on the other side of the Atlantic. At the same time it makes thinking people pause when they read of the renewed activity of some of Alaska's many volcanoes conjoined with Lassen's recent performances. It is always the unexpected that happens.

ITALY AND THE WAR

To see a nation going insane suddenly with blood lust is no pleasant sight. To see a nation shouting for war, clamoring for the declaration that shall send its youth, its best and bravest, to the front to water the fields with their blood—"rider and horse, friend and foe, in one red burial blent"—is a sight to make humanity shudder. That is what Italy is doing at present.

It is the eleventh nation to join in the war and casts another element into the scale against the Germanic allies. Whether or not that element will prove strong enough to force an immediate end of the war is not apparent at present. In any case, the entrance of Italy into the war will of necessity force both Austria and Germany to change their plans in order to meet the new force that will be thrown against them.

There is little doubt that Italy has always chafed under the domination of Germany as the leading factor in the Triple Alliance. The Italians are a Latin race and racially, linguistically and mentally are opposed to the Germans with their superman ideas. The imaginative Italian, quick, warm, responsive, poetical, is in every way antagonistic to the German, in love with drill, with martinetism and all the restrictions of a truly paternal government. It was inevitable that the breach should come; where it will stop is another matter.

Italy is well armed. She has a modern army, credited with being up-to-date in all things. Her generals and men have had actual experience in war recently and are supposed to be the superiors of the Austrians in most points. An enemy of this character thrown suddenly on armies that have already been depleted and to a certain extent demoralized by war and defeat may become a very ponderous factor in settling the dispute that is tearing Europe asunder.

CONTINUITY OF PURPOSE

History is full of examples of how easy it is for brilliant men—men of many accomplishments, men of versatility and even genius—to dissipate and waste their great gifts by distributing them through a thousand channels. Nero, the famous or infamous emperor of Rome, as you choose to regard him, was a case in point. In early youth this man, who has been held up to the abhorrence and ridicule of the world and only lately has been whitewashed in any degree by the Italian historian, Ferrero, was distinguished for his mild temper, his humane disposition and his singleness of desire to be nothing but a good ruler.

In later life he became as notorious for his desire to excel in music, in acting and as a dramatic poet. He even degraded his high office by dancing on the stage in public and is credited with having exclaimed as his freedman thrust the fatal sword into his throat, "What an artist perishes in me!" Had Nero been less fascinated by the lure of versatility or the love of change of employment, he might have gone down to history as a somewhat decent individual and been remembered only for his boyish exclamation when asked to sign a death warrant, "I am sorry I ever learned to write."

Dryden in his scathing description of the Duke of Buckingham, gives an apt picture of the folly of a lack of continuity of purpose:

"A man so varied that he seemed to be
Not one but all mankind's epitome;
Stiff in opinions, always in the wrong,
Was everything by turns and nothing long;
But in the course of one revolving moon
Was chemist, fiddler, statesman and buffoon."

Buckingham's versatility which, in the heyday of his youth and popularity seemed so wonderful, brought him little credit and no cash after he had run through his fortune.

All this is apropos of those whom we see daily among ourselves—men and women endowed with all the gifts that men can wish to enjoy, who yet by reason of a lack of continuity of purpose are as far behind the common-place individual in the race of life as they should be before him. Br'er Rabbit, you will remember, was beaten in the race with the turtle because he trusted too much to his own superior racing ability and rested on the road, whereas the turtle, knowing his own slowness, kept at the job and called in the assistance of all his family to enable him to win the contest.

If a man is to succeed in life he must keep long enough at some one business to make a success of it. Should he move about it is next to certain that he will find that he is losing time, except in such instances as where a man takes himself and his business to a better field. To lay out a plan of campaign for life and to hold to it; to cling to it through good report and ill report is the one ordained way for making a success of life. To gain a reputation for excellence or reliability in any particular line one must stay long enough at it to become known and to be trusted. A reputation for common-place punctuality and common-place honesty is worth a fortune to anyone and the man who has those ordinary virtues and the genius to hold to them will be found sitting on the seats of the mighty when the man of real genius and god-given power may easily fritter away his divine inspiration in the by-ways of the world.

Concentration of energy and continuity of purpose are the great secrets of worldly success. A man who has the common virtues of keeping to one thing and pursuing it diligently is the one usually goes farthest and lasts longest.

THE GREATER SCANDINAVIA

Out of the maelstrom of war in Europe several important changes are likely to emerge. It is, for instance, becoming more clear every day that Norway, Sweden and Denmark are inevitably being knit in a close bond of union against aggression by any other power and that in conjunction with other neutral powers they will if not ere this war is over, at least in the course of the negotiations that will take place after it is finished, demand and enforce respect for their rights.

That Germany and Great Britain have violated the rights of the Scandinavian powers in the course of the war is not denied by anyone who has observed the course of events. From the beginning of the war until the middle of December the total losses to Scandinavian shipping through mine disasters alone were seventy-two lives and twenty-two ships containing cargoes valued at $10,000,000. The loss through contraband search will also run into millions.

This Scandinavian union is for the best interests of the three countries. The Scandinavian section of Europe will remain intact after the war is over. The neutrality of the three countries is one bright spot in the present aspect of Europe. Could the united Scandinavia act along with the United States at the present juncture, something might be done to force the belligerents to observe the decencies of war—if such a thing can be spoken of.

It is gratifying to this country to see Denmark, Norway and Sweden standing as a unit for the preservation of their own independence and the safeguarding of the neutral principle. In that direction Scandinavia may join hands with the United States. In common with the United States, Norway, Sweden and Denmark are aiming to make neutrality effective and to save some parts of the world from the devastating war that, as every right-minded person trusts, will most likely be the last permitted by the world's present civilization.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hunsberger have moved from 725 W. Third street to 715 West Third street.

Mrs. O. B. Mack of Battleboro, Vt., is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Charles I. Peirce, 1428 W. Seventh street, who came to Glendale recently from Boston, Mass.

Mrs. Charles Grist, 210 W. Colorado street, who has been quite seriously sick for the past two weeks, is now improving. It is expected that her recovery will be complete in a short time.

Messrs. J. W. Imler and R. V. Imler of 1460 Lomita avenue, Glendale, are attending to matters of business in the Imperial valley. Before returning they will visit the exposition at San Diego.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Parker of 227 South Central avenue, Glendale, are in Azusa today attending the funeral of George Sinclair, brother of Mrs. Parker. Mr. Sinclair was formerly a resident of Seattle, Washington.

Mrs. T. C. Thornton of Bishop, Inyo county, California, who has been a guest at the home of Mrs. A. W. Beach, 333 N. Brand boulevard, left for her home today. During her visit here Mrs. Thornton spent some time in Los Angeles.

Miss Esther McFarland of Chicago, who has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. T. W. Preston, 725 Adams street, returned from San Diego yesterday. Miss McFarland spent six weeks in San Diego where she visited the exposition and the various interesting spots in the vicinity of the southern city.

Mrs. J. C. Waite, 707 S. Central avenue, entertained her embroidery club at her home yesterday. Much work was accomplished and a pleasant luncheon was served. The following ladies were present: Mrs. L. H. Wilkinson, Mrs. John Usilton, Mrs. Chester Kling, Mrs. Englehorn, Mrs. Roman, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Naudain, Mrs. Vesper, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. Theodore F. Peirce.

BIG MASS MEETING

Chamber of Commerce, Glendale, Cal., May 21, 1915. You are invited to attend a mass meeting at the High School auditorium Tuesday, May 25, 1915, at 7:45 p. m. A large petition has been filed to reorganize Glendale as a City of the fifth class. Shall we make this change? If so, why?

Come out and hear this important question discussed by able speakers, so you can vote intelligently. Bring your neighbors.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE,

TROPICO

The many friends of Dr. Joseph Marple of the valley cities will be pleased to learn that he has returned from London and opened his office in the Ferguson building on Hill street in Los Angeles. While in London Dr. Marple took special work in general and orthopedic surgery in various hospitals of London. Special hospital courses were also taken in Boston with the Harvard university graduate school. Aside from his profession Dr. Marple is a prominent vocalist. He has resided in Tropic for twelve years or more and still retains his residence with his mother, Mrs. Fanny Marple, on Palmer ave.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Samuel A. Ayres of Central avenue of the arrival of their grandson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Marion A. Banker and young son in Pago Pago, Samoa, where Mr. Banker is connected with the naval station. Interesting indeed are the letters Mr. Banker writes of the people of this island, their customs, etc.

Memorial Sunday will be observed by appropriate religious services conducted in G. A. R. hall Sunday afternoon by Comrade W. C. Gibson. The public is invited to attend these exercises.

The regular all-day meeting of N. P. Banks Post and Corps will be held Friday in G. A. R. hall.

The Tropic Saturday Base Ball club defeated the Haas-Baruch team of Los Angeles on Saturday to the tune of 3 to 1 at the Tropic Municipal playgrounds. Marple allowed but three hits and struck out fifteen men. The Tropic boys are jubilant over their victory as the Haas Baruch team is considered one of the best in Los Angeles.

Miss Esther Piper of Los Angeles spent the week end with Miss Clara Provolt, 608 N. Central avenue, Tropic.

GLENDALE WILL WITNESS DAZZLING SUCCESSION OF FEATURES

We're going to be mighty proud of our big Festival parade. It is scheduled for 3 p. m. Saturday. The parade will include the historical coach owned by Mr. Hosea Steelman of moving picture fame; 40 to 50 mounted horsemen, from the cowboy to the English gentleman rider; the gala queen's float, decorated by the organization who has the successful queen candidate; florally decorated floats; business and civic entries of all sorts. There will be Fruit floats as well as floral ones. Mr. Clem Moore is in charge of the automobile section of the parade. Mr. J. W. Usilton is general chairman; Mr. Mattison B. Jones is grand marshal. The mounted horsemen division is in charge of Mr. W. E. Evans. The fraternal societies division is in charge of Mr. Archie Parker, and the school division in charge of Mr. Richardson D. White. The prize committee, consisting of Mr. Jasper McGillis, chairman; Mr. George Woodberry and Mr. H. A. Wilson, have secured valuable cash prizes for the best entries in all of the divisions. The line of march follows:

Formation on the side street, north of Broadway, near the city hall. Proceed west on Broadway to Orange street; north on Orange to First street; west on First to Central; south on Central to Riverdale drive; west on Riverdale drive to San Fernando road; south on San Fernando to Brand boulevard; north on Brand to Second street; east on Second to Adams street; south on Adams to Colorado; east on Colorado to Verdugo road; north on Verdugo road to Broadway; west on Broadway to Glendale avenue; south on Glendale avenue to Tropic avenue; west on Tropic avenue to Central avenue; north on Central avenue to Colorado street; east on Colorado street to the High School, where the parade will disband. Judges for the parade secured by Mr. Archie Parker, chairman, are: Mrs. Charles Stone, prominent Pasadena club woman; Dr. C. A. Billings, mayor of Arcadia, and Mr. Andrew E. Wilbur of San Gabriel.

At 7 o'clock between Orange street and Brand boulevard on Broadway the Elks' team will drill. The Glendale Elks' team is widely known for their excellent work. They will march to the grounds of the Union High school and there complete the drill, closing in time for the evening program. "The Minstrel Tea in a Flower Garden," a program of fun, beginning at 8 p. m. Watch the Glendale News for the complete program of the minstrel show.

BALL GAME LINEUP

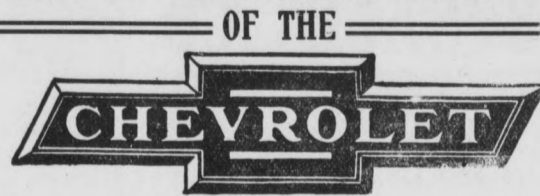

The lineup for last Saturday's baseball game between Alhambra and Glendale High, an account of which was given in yesterday's issue of the Evening News, was as follows:

McNutt, catcher; Bidwell, pitcher; Kolts, 1st base; Stauffacher, 2nd base; Livingston, short stop; Phillips, 3rd base; Coole, left field; Lattler, center field; Middleton, Nichols, Lukens, right field.

Glendale plays the championship of the league section game this afternoon at Baer field, Occidental, with South Pasadena. The league championship schedule starts Saturday. The score was 1 to 0 in favor of the local team.

EAGLE ROCK

Dr. John Willis Baer, president of Occidental college, has the honor of being appointed vice moderator of the Presbyterian general assembly held the past week at Rochester, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Cardee and daughter, Miss Lois, have returned from a week's visit at the San Diego exposition. They made the trip by auto.

A. A. House is putting in a very attractive retaining wall about Mr. Diddock's home on Colorado boulevard.

Memorial day exercises will be held in the M. E. church Sunday, May 30, and the Congregational and Presbyterian churches will unite with them. Special choir music, readings and addresses will make up the program and all old soldiers are looking forward to it with much pleasure.

Dr. Creswell's sermon Sunday morning was on "As Thou Sent Me, Even So Have I Also Sent Them." It was a greatly enjoyed subject. The sermon in the evening was on "The Psychological Effect of the Place Where Peter Was on Peter at the Time of Christ's Arrest."

The Epworth league is looking forward to Friday night when the "Cafeteria Social" will be given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vince on East Sycamore avenue. This promises to be very interesting as well as very unique and unusual.

The concert to be given by the choir members of the Congregational church this Friday evening promises to be very entertaining and several well known musicians will take part in the program besides the local talent.

Hazel Murdock celebrated her fourth birthday one day last week by entertaining a number of her friends at her home. A birthday cake with four little lighted candles delighted the little girls.

Little Laverne House of Palm street passed her third birthday last week on Wednesday. Her mother gave a family dinner in her honor. A large birthday cake with lighted candles was in evidence, as well as other good things. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Moe, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. House, little Laverne, Hazel and Helen House and Miss Olive Moe.

Mrs. Kinney, principal of the Eagle Rock school, addressed the Epworth league Sunday evening on "Are Children in Our Town Getting a Fair Chance? Physically, Mentally and Morally?" Her talk was very interesting and benefitting to all who heard her.

Gen. Sampson and wife and the latter's sister, Mrs. Cockrane of Ridgeway avenue are enjoying the San Francisco fair this week. They have spent several months at the home of their sister, Mrs. Beth, of Ridgeway avenue.

Mr. Moore and family, who recently came to this valley, are now living in the Kincheloe house on Peyton avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schleuter and daughter, Miss Dorothy, who spent almost two years on their ranch in the Imperial valley, have returned. Mrs. Schleuter has been ill at the hospital for some time and their daughter is staying at the home of

Rev. Kirke of Acacia avenue attended the general assembly of the Presbyterian church at Rochester, N. Y., as a delegate from the Los Angeles presbytery.

Frank Hammer of Los Angeles was in the city visiting relatives and friends Sunday. He was formerly a resident of Eagle Rock.

The Eagle Rock Epworth league went in a body Monday evening to the Fifth street mission and took charge of the meeting. Mr. Vince gave a very good talk. Little Miss Evalyn Vince sang a solo, "I'll be a Worker for Jesus," and Miss Moe and Mr. House sang "Somebody Cares." It proved to be a very beneficial meeting and an evening well spent. Other league members testified and the music numbers were given also by the Epworthians.

Sunday afternoon a number of the young ladies of Eagle Rock visited the County Hospital, taking with them flowers and good cheer for the inmates who greatly appreciated the thoughtfulness of these girls.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Miles of 914 Randolph street entertained as their guests Sunday Mr. Armbrrow and Mrs. Millon of Los Angeles, both of whom are well known in musical circles, and Miss Viola Yorba and Mr. E. Martinez of North Glendale. A very pleasant time was enjoyed during the afternoon with music and social conversation, the charming guests rendering several select solos to the delight of all who had the pleasure of enjoying the occasion.

Mrs. Menzo Williams of North Central avenue is entertaining as her house guest her sister, Mrs. John P. Jones, of Scranton, Pa., who will remain here several months visiting relatives and friends in this vicinity and nearby places and who will later tour California extensively.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence D. Williams of 1220 Burchett street entertained with a prettily appointed dinner Sunday evening in honor of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden avenue, who celebrated their wedding anniversary on that day. The various rooms of the attractive home were decorated with choice cut roses and the same beautiful blossoms graced the table where covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild, Mr. E. N. T. Burnett, who at present is the house guest of the Fairchilds, and Mr. and Mrs. Williams.

Mr. E. N. T. Burnett, the son of General H. L. Burnett, U. S. A. of New York, who is well known in the social circles of Glendale and who has been over-seeing the improvement of his extensive ranch property in Coachella valley, met with a severe accident very recently, having been bitten by a rattle snake which had coiled within ten feet of his house. While the injury is still painful, we are glad to announce that Mr. Burnett is out of danger and is now resting at the home of his friends, Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of 1321 Arden avenue, North Glendale.

Sunday morning almost before the break of day, Messrs. Reuben George, Edgar McSpadden, Allan Fairchild and John Rhind, all of Arden avenue, went over to the Griffith Park links and there enjoyed an excitable game of golf. Upon their return they with Mrs. Fairchild and Mrs. Rhind were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben George of 1225 Arden avenue at a waffle breakfast, a most enjoyable occasion indeed, according to the report of the favored guests.

GLENDALE HEIGHTS

Mr. Hail has leased Verdugo Park for the summer. There are no charges for entrance or small picnic parties, but a consideration will be asked for the exclusive use of tables, pavilion, etc.

Three organizations have picnicked at the park this month and the Ebell club of Los Angeles has made reservations for some time in the early part of June.

The bridge on Opechee way is open for traffic now.

Mr. Phillip Bernays, Jr., is planning to build a residence on Canada boulevard very soon. Mr. Bernays and wife are young people whom Glendale Heights will welcome heartily.

Late numbers of the Country Gentleman, Century magazine and Literary Digest are received regularly at the branch county library, which is proving to be a popular institution.

OUT-OF-TOWN ORGANIZATIONS TO EXHIBIT AT FESTIVAL FLOWER SHOW

It is indeed gratifying that so many out-of-town organizations are becoming interested in entering exhibits for the Flower Show. Towns from San Fernando on down the valley, through their Chambers of Commerce, will have displays of elegant fruits. And men are not the only ones interested. Already the following Women's clubs from away have signified their intention of competing for the elegant prize offered by Mrs. Mattison B. Jones for the best hanging basket of cut flowers from any club:

Eagle Rock Woman's club, Van Nuys Woman's club, San Fernando Ebell, Tropic Thursday Afternoon club, Montebello Woman's club, and the Monrovia Woman's club. Since this was a late addition to the festival entries many more clubs will undoubtedly be heard from. The prize for the best entry is a beautiful Janesville pottery jardiniere in pastel green and raised floral wreaths.

GLENDALE FESTIVAL OF FRUITS AND FLOWERS TO PRESENT PRODIGY

Terese Van Grove, child prodigy of Glendale, will appear in the queen's coronation program of Glendale's Festival of Fruits and Flowers May 27, and in the program of the Minstrel Tea on the evenings of May 28 and 29. Terese is only ten years old, and resides with her mother, Mrs. J. Van Grove, 430 Adams street, Glendale. Terese is known as the youngest student enrolled at the University of California, where she is studying under Miss Beulah Wright, dean of oratory. Terese has been on the professional stage for two years. At present she is corresponding with David Belasco. She recently cancelled an engagement to star in "The Bluebird." Dramatically talented by nature and from her studies, she is a pupil of Madame Scovell, who herself is conversant with Browning's and Shakespeare's works and has entertained noted stars with Shakespearean scenes.

At the queen's coronation program, May 27, Terese will give aesthetic dances in costume, "The Child of Nature," "The Child of Life" and "The California Poppy" dance. Terese will be seen in the latter dance at the Minstrel Tea programs of May 28 and 29. For the complete program of queen's coronation night see tomorrow's News.

ADVENTIST CONVENTION (Special)

ST. HELENA, Cal., May 25.—Leading educators in the Seventh-Day Adventist denomination from Washington, D. C., and all parts of North America will meet in convention at the Pacific Union college here June 4 to 14. Officers and practically all the prominent workers in the Young People's Society of Missionary Volunteers throughout the United States will join in this convention, the first of the kind the Adventists have held on the Pacific Coast. Previous gatherings of this sort have been held usually in the east, and it was first planned to hold this meeting at College View, Neb., three miles from Lincoln. The earnest efforts of Elder E. E. Andross of Los Angeles, president of the Pacific Union conference of the Seventh-day Adventists, and of Prof. M. E. Cady of Oakland, educational and young people's secretary for the states of California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona, brought it to the coast.

Elder A. G. Daniels of Washington, D. C., president of the general or world conference of the Adventists, is expected to be present at this council. He is now in China, having been for the past year making a tour of the Orient. He is expected to arrive in San Francisco early in June. Another well-known leader who will join in the convention will be Elder I. H. Evans of Washington, D. C., president of the North American Division Conference of the Adventists. Prof. Frederick Griggs, secretary of the educational department of the General Conference, is in charge of the arrangements. W. E. Howell, assistant secretary of the educational department for North America; M. E. Kern, secretary of the young people's work for the world; Meade MacGuire, of Loveland, Colo., field secretary of the young people's work in North America; and Prof. M. E. Cady of Oakland, are assisting in the plans for the success of the big gathering.

Among the topics for discussion will be the following: "How Shall We Promote Our Educational Lines?" "Our Denominational Young People's Problem," "Efficiency," "Growth of the Missionary Volunteer Work in the Last Eight Years," "The Social Instincts of Young People," "Sports and Games," "Sex Hygiene and Social Purity Instruction," "Personal Evangelism," "Christian Stewardship."

Some of the prominent speakers who will be present will be Prof. C. C. Lewis of Washington, D. C., secretary of the Fireside Correspondence School of the Seventh-day Adventists; C. L. Benson of Washington, D. C., assistant secretary of the young people's department for the world; B. G. Wilkinson of Washington, D. C., president of the Columbia Union Conference of the Adventists; Professor E. C. Kellogg of College place, Wash., president of Walla Walla college; W. W. Ruble of College View, Neb., secretary of the young people's department of the Central Union conference; J. J. Reiswig, Jamestown, N. Dak., superintendent of the educational department for the North Dakota Conference; Prof. N. W. Lawrence, College place, Wash., secretary educational and young people's departments North Pacific Union conference; Elder E. E. Farnsworth, Loveland, Colo., professor of Bible and science, Campion academy, Loveland, Colo.; E. E. Andross, president Pacific Union conference; Matilda Erickson, Washington, D. C.; Dr. O. R. Cooper, Berrean Springs, Mich.; Prof. C. W. Irwin, president Pacific Union college; Katherine B. Hale, O. J. Graf, B. F. Machlan, Mrs. R. D. Quinn, W. E. Howell.

WORLD'S RECORD FOR CONVEN- TIONS

Eight hundred and twenty-two conventions and congresses, whose subjects cover the activities of the world along industrial, commercial, professional and scientific lines, will meet in San Francisco and the bay cities in connection with the Panama-Pacific International exposition during the 288 days of its existence. This is more than double the number secured by any previous world exposition and to secure them practically all organizations of importance in the civilized nations of the world were thoroughly canvassed by James A. Barr, exposition director of congresses, and his assistants.

A careful estimate places the number of delegates and visitors which will be brought to California by the conventions and congresses at 600,000 in round numbers.

The attendance at each of the conventions and congresses will range from 100 to possibly 30,000 delegates and visitors. There will be an average of nine exposition conventions per day throughout the entire period. But few days are blank and on certain days during the summer months as many as 30 or 40 meetings of various kinds will be held.

Following are the classifications geographically, by month and by subject:

National conventions, 525; international congresses, 57; Pacific coast conventions, 68; California conventions, 172; total, 822.
By month—February, 16; March, 21; April, 53; May, 65; June, 77; July, 133; August, 249; September, 86; October, 73; November, 46; December, 3; total, 822.
By subject—Agricultural and horticultural, 34; business and commercial, 75; educational, 129; fraternal, 87; genealogical, 25; Greek letter societies, 56; governmental and civic, 52; historical and literary, 7; industrial, 22; insurance, 56; labor, 18; live stock, 38; religious, 9; press, 8; professional, 43; musical, 71; scientific, 54; social service, 38; total, 822.

Several important departures from the ordinary methods of handling conventions mark the work of the Panama-Pacific International exposition's labors. First may be mentioned the grouping plan, which is a splendid scheme for the convenience of the hundreds of thousands of delegates, and which has never before been attempted at any exposition.

In a large measure the 822 conventions have been grouped by subjects, which means simply that those having to do with related lines of work have been placed in the same week or month as far as was possible. Visitors and delegates interested in any specific line of investigation may attend a great many gatherings on that subject within a fortnight, thus saving the expense of a second or a third trip to the exposition. Among the periods under this novel grouping plan are those relating to education, social service, science, medicine and hygiene, economics, labor, engineering, agriculture, live stock, press, insurance, history, pharmacy and religion.

FIGHT TRADING STAMPS

Retail merchants of Illinois have revolted against the trading stamp custom and have introduced two measures in the legislature at Springfield designed to curb the activities of the trading stamp companies. The plan is to establish large license fees which must be paid by the stamp companies and all retailers giving stamps. It is charge that the stamp companies do a business of $100,000,000 annually, that this comes out of the pockets of the consumers, and contributes to the high cost of living.—Judicious Advertising.

forth by these gentlemen is that they receive no protection under this ordinance and they therefore should not be required to pay a yearly license of $3 each.

On motion the city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance which is to prohibit the driving of heavy trucks on Brand boulevard south of Sixth street, the claim being that the unimproved street is being badly cut up by the heavy traffic.

The demands that had been referred to the finance committee at a preceding meeting were favorably passed upon and warrants ordered drawn on the treasury.

Other demands allowed were:

LICK ASTRONOMER MEASURES STARLIGHT AND WINS MEDAL

"How bright is a star?" A university of California alumnus has at last found a way to answer that question accurately.

Dr. Joel Stebbins, former Fellow at the Lick Observatory, who took his Ph. D. at the University of California in 1903, has succeeded in measuring the light of the stars more accurately than anybody else ever before. And now, in honor of his important discoveries, the Draper gold medal in astrophysics has just been conferred upon him by the National Academy of Sciences. This followed close on the National Academy's award of the Watson medal to Professor A. O. Leuschner of the University of California for his discoveries of better methods of computing orbits.

It had always been a great puzzle to know how to measure accurately the relative brightness of the stars. More delicate methods were needed, in particular, for recording the changes in brightness of the variable stars—stars whose light waxes or wanes.

A key to the puzzle was wrought by Dr. Stebbins, with the metal selenium. While a Fellow at the famous Lick Observatory on Mount Hamilton, under Director W. W. Campbell, and while a graduate of the University of California, Dr. Stebbins spent several years experimenting on the construction of a selenium photometer—a device for measuring the light of a star by the aid of selenium. This metal has the remarkable property of changing in conductivity for an electric current when light falling on it grows stronger or dimmer. A tiny variation in the brightness of a star's light causes a corresponding variation in the quantity of electric current which will pass through selenium.

Other capable physicists had tried to make successful use of this principle in measuring starlight, but all had failed. But after several years of work at the Lick Observatory, Dr. Stebbins conquered a host of difficulties and made the selenium photometer the most sensitive and dependable instrument of its kind in the world.

Then, by using this device of placing a minute piece of selenium in the focus of a telescope so that the image of the star falls on it, and measuring with an exceedingly delicate electric meter the changing conductivity of the metal, Dr. Stebbins began to measure the shifting radiance of the most interesting variable stars. The unexampled delicacy and accuracy of his results has added much to man's knowledge of variable stars.

Now Dr. Stebbins is head of the department of astronomy of the University of Illinois, winner of the Draper medal, and one more example of the fact that the path to fame and station is to do some one thing better than anybody else in the world.

BUY TICKETS NOW

From present indications there are going to be some crowds at the evening entertainments to be given during the fiesta and those attending will find that it will facilitate matters to have their tickets purchased before the evening they wish to attend, and this will obviate the necessity of standing in line to purchase tickets at the door. Phone any of the following people for tickets:
