Rt. Hon. Walter Hume Long Says No Other Scheme For Solution of Problem Would Work Out Successfully; Allies Will Not Be Hoodwinked

London, Dec. 2 .- (Canadian Press Dispatch from Reuter's) -- Rt. Hon. Walter Hume Long, speaking at Bristol, disclosed the fact that he was a member of the committee mentioned by the Government on November 29, as having been appointed to consider the terms that should be demanded from Germany. Therefore, he could emphasize the fact that the Empire need have no anxiety on the ground of undu tenderness on the part of Great Britain and the Allies. Although he did not desire to enlarge the British Empire, he saw no alternative solution of the problem of the former German colonies other than their inclusion in the Empire. Where the natives had been consulted they overwhelmingly favored that course.

were expressed. A large proportion of the singers were Russians from the east end.

The meeting was the sequel of a quarrel between Laborites and the managers of the hall at a similar meeting held during Victory Week. The management cancelled the contract for Saturday night's meeting, which had been arranged a week ago, whereupon the electrical workers threatened to cut off the lights from the hall during the great victory ball. Wednesday night. The underground railway workers and taxicab men threatened to go on strike the same night, so the management decided to allow the contract for Saturday night's meeting to stand.

Resolutions.

Resolutions were adopted at the meeting demanding the immediate release of all political grisoners and calling the attention of President Willison to the "urgent need of justice" in the case of Thomas Mooney, the Labor leader, at San Francisco.

Another resolution adopted demanded the creation of a democratic league of peoples based on the abolition of conscription, disarmament, self-determination of all peoples, including ireland, and other "subject peoples in the British Empire;" the withdrawal of the Allied armies from Russia; the immediate restoration of the Workers' International, and the inclusion of an international labor charter in the peace terms.

REPLACE GASOLINE

Invented by U. S. War Department Officials; Being Made in Large Quantities

Washington. Dec. 2.—"Liberty fuel," vastly cheaper than gasoline and possessing many advantages over that product, has been invented by officials of the War Department and is now being produced in large quantities, it became known to-day.

The new fuel is the result of more than 500 experiments conducted by Major Zimmerman and Capt. Weinberger, of the research and development divisions of the general engineering department here.

The base of the new oil is keroscene, Major Zimmerman said. The other ingredients are of low cost and can readily be obtained. The process of manufacture is exceedingly simple.

"That no leaf was left unturned to check its practical suitability is shown by the fact that the fuel was used extensively in automobiles, motorcycles, trucks, tractors, stationary, engines and hydroaeroplanes in cold and warm weather, under violent variations of load," said Major Zimmerman.

He said that every single existing Government to-day, except the Czecko-Slovak, has not been chosen by a majority of the people, but exists by chance. This situation, he continued, becomes more radical, idealistic and impracticable because of the "offish" attitude of the conservative element. "The Prince urged the United States, if it sincerely desires the welfare of all nations both great and small, to study seriously the question of the formation of a "Central European States." He expressed the belief that whether Germany and Austria-Hungary are composed of few or many politically independent nations, some of them will be at war with each other within five years unless there are no tariff barriers to prevent Hungary from getting cest, Germany and Austria food and Bohemia machinery.

Logical States is in graver danger now than at any time during the war, because peace conferences are not always dominated by a spirit of justice and democracy, declared Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in an address here last night at a meeting of the American Alliance of Labor and Democracy. It had occurred before, he said, that people who had secured a certain amount of freedom in flight as the soldiers approach, cared a certain amount of freedom. Quickly Built Up cured a certain amount of freedom in their own countries were forced to yield voluntarily these rights at the peace First a Cold

WILHELM STILL TRIES TO DECEIVE WORLD

Attempts to Dodge Responsibility for War by Blaming Others

Copenhagen, Dec. 1.—(Via London, Dec. 2.)—(Associated Press)—Further revelations showing. that the former Kaiser of Germäny is seeking to escape responsibility for bringing on the war are contained in an article by Dr. George Wegener in The Cologne Gasette, recounting a conversation which the writer had with the former Kaiser just before he fell. In this interview the Kaiser attempted to shift the blame for the world conflict to the shoulders of Dr. von Behmann-Hollweg, former imperial Chanteellor, and von Jagow, former Minister of Foreign Affairs.

"Against my will, they sent me to Norway," Wilhelm is quoted as having said. "I did not wish to undertake the voyage because the gravity of the situation after the murder of Archduke Francis Ferdinand was clear at first sight." But the Chancellor said to me. "Your Majegix must take this voyage in order to maintain peace. If Your Majegiy must take this voyage, in order to maintain peace. If Your Majegiy mens war, and the world will lay to you responsibility for this war.

"Well, I then undertook the voyage. Buring all this time I received no reply from my Government concerning current events. Strictly speaking, I only learned from Norwegian newspapers of what was occurring in the world, and in this way I learned of the Russian mobilization measures. But when I heard that the British fleet had put to sea, I returned of my own accord. They had nearly caught me. On my orders the German ships returned at once to the security of Norwegian harbors. Later it would not have been possible for them to do so."

The ex-Kaiser then mentioned declarations of General Soukhomlinoff, who was Russian Minister of War, during the investigation which took place afterward, that he had not ordered real mobilization. but only readiness for mobilization, but only readiness for mobilization, but only readiness for mobilization, correctness of the first declaration, according to which the Czar had been caused by the Kaiser to recall his order for mobilization. He said that General Nicholas Janusch-keyttch, Unier of the Russian Imperial General Staff, deceived the Czar, and the order was carried out in spite of him. This mobilization, the ex-Kaiser would have it, was the final reason for the war.

would have it, was the final reason for the war.

The Russian war party at court, the ex-Kaiser continued, had already in the spring of 1914 compelled the Czar to make preparations for war. From that time Siberian regiments were drawn westwand. They were told that manoeuvres were the reason for these movements, and thus they marched on to the Volga River and farther westward until they reached Vilna, where they were suddenly handed cartridges, and told they were now going to fight in earnest.

"In fact," said the ex-Kaiser, in end-

The Commission feels this view commends itself to the majority of the British people.

HOW IT WILL RECOVER.

The end of the American Civil War found the United States with a debt of some $4,000,000,000. More than a million lives had been lost, and vast quantities of the national wealth had been destroyed. The human treasure lost, of course, was gone forever. The material loss could be made good, for the country possessed a great, undeveloped hinterland with all sorts of resources and opportunities, and set about developing them. It had no other recourse if it was to recover from the fearful conflict through which it had passed. So a great movement to the west of the Mississippi began, and in a few years there was tremendous development. Big cities sprang into being, immigrants by the millions came from all over the world and in an incredibly short time the republic was entirely free from the burdens imposed by the war. The mighty resources of the West had been called in to redress the economic balance of the East.

The situation which confronts the world to-day s very much the same as that which confronted the ·United States after its four years of internecine conflict. The war has consumed its surplus and made gaping holes in its capital. It is under a terrible load of debt. It must go far afield for its material means of recovery, to the countries almost all of whose wealth is in the ground. Canada is one of those countries and Western Canada particularly so. Australia is another. Russia is another, Africa and South America, Mexico, Mesopotamia are others. Canada possesses certain important advantages over the others. It is more conveniently reached, it is half-way between Europe and Asia and is part of a continent which has more than 125,000,000 people. The resources of Canada will play a big part in redressing the economic balance of the world provided it keeps itself in order and is able thus to guarantee security to investment and industrial activity. There is no province in the Dominion more richly endowed with the things the world must have for recouping its losses than British Columbia whose resources have been scarcely touched. There is no part of the Province with a greater variety and supply of these undeveloped necessaries than Vancouver Island whose advantages in this respect are reinforced by an unsurpassed climate and an ideal geographical situation. This is one of the new fields to which the world must turn to restore the margin to the right side of its balance

"PERE" JOFFRE.

France is proud of Foch, whom the world acclaims as the greatest soldier of his time and, per-haps, of any time, but she does not forget the man saved her in the hour of her greatest danger and but for whom Foch might not have had the opportunities he has so marvellously improved. The man of that hour was Joffre, the imperturbable, leonine leader whose indomitable determination and unerring judgment were just what that first terrible crisis called for.

It was Joffre who gave to France confidence and poise when she needed them most, for France entered the war with the shadow of 1870 still upon her, and when the Germans came plunging through Belgium and Luxemburg forcing the Allies before them, the outlook, superficially, was very black.

But France looked at Joffre and kept her head. The old chieftain told her nothing in words; he told nobody anything. "Let me alone," he is reextreme Socialists, the man he has hated for years ported to have said to some officials of Paris who urged him to give battle during the retreat, "and keep cool." France then understood that the real decisive struggle of the opening campaign had not been fought, that what was going on was merely a phase of the first battle, the opening round of which had been gained by the enemy, and that Joffre was keeping his trumps.

**Chief Crim ported to have said to some officials of Paris who urged him to give battle during the retreat, "and keep cool." France then understood that the real decisive struggle of the opening campaign had not been fought, that what was going on was merely a phase of the first battle, the opening round of Joffre was keeping his trump

It was realized afterwards that one of those was Manoury's army masked in Paris which descended upon von Kluck's flank and rear like a thunderbolt and then, after the battle of the Marne had been won, it was known that Joffre had determined from the first that the deciding combat should take place precisely where it did in order that he might be able to play that eard.

The army with which France met the German onslaught in 1914 was Joffre's army for he was largely the creator of it. He had been at work on its reorganization for a long time before the war broke out, although he had been handicapped by political agitation which seriously affected the army's equipment. More than that, the men who finally held the chief commands owed their places to Joffre's uncanny gift of selecting the right men for high responsibilities.

Foch, de Castelnau, Petain, D'Esperey, de Cary, Sarrail, Gouraud, Manoury were chosen by Joffre in the early days of the war, regardless of their rank, to take charge of operations of great importance. "Foch," said Joffre in 1914, "is the greatest strategist in Europe, and the humblest." It was Joffre who raised Colonel Petain to the command of the French forces at Verdun. Joffre thus is the outstanding figure in the war f defence in France. It was a role forced upon him by the developments of the time, for, like most French soldiers, he had been a life-long exponent of offensive strategy. But, as events showed, he ossessed in pre-eminent measure the quatties of superb defensive fighter and the occasion demanded him more than any other French soldier.

will not efface from the French mind the memory of that silent, serene and massive personality which radiated confidence and hope in the terrible, dark days of August and September, 1914, and organized the victory which changed the whole face of the war.

OTTAWA'S OPPORTUNITY.

Both the Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public Works, and the Hon. A. K. Maclean, Chairman of the Reconstruction Committee of the Cabinet, are urging the prosecution of public works throughout Canada as an important means of avoiding economic depression incidental to the period of transition from war to peace. A few days ago we suggested that the Dominion Government take this advice to itself in connection with the daysdock at Both the Hon. F. B. Carvell, Minister of Public advice to itself in connection with the drydock at city in financing the Johnson Street bridge project by making a suitable contribution to the cost of the work. The Dominion is a directly interested party in this undertaking. The terminals of its railroad, the Canadlan Northern, are to be on the former reserve and it is very much to its interests, therefore, that the best communication between that area and the city generally. Esquimalt. We suggest now that it also assist the tion between that area and the city generally should be established. This fact and the relation of public works, to the economic situation should call for the assumption by the Dominion of a considerable part of the cost of constructing the bridge. We hope the municipal authorities will press for this, with special reference to the advice tendered by Mr. Maclean a few days ago.

REAL, THIS TIME.

The German Government on Saturday issued a proclamation containing the abdication of William Hohenzollern as German Emperor and King of Prussia. What, then, was the document W. H. signed before leaving the Great General Headquarters at Spa for Holland? It was stated at the time that he had abdicated and that his action was followed by a similar one by F. W. Hohenzollern as German Crown Prince and Crown Prince of Subsequently, the young Hohenzollern declared that he had not seen or heard from his, sire for three weeks.

Has William been playing a deep game, pretending to abdicate to pull the wool over the Allies' eyes so that Germany might obtain easier peace terms? There is every reason to suspect that he was trying such a trick and that after peace was declared he hoped to resume his place as German Emperor. If this is so he showed a poor knowledge of history and human nature. An abdieation in a crisis, like a revolution, is the last kind of a game an Imperial autocrat should play. There are too many people ready to take it seriously, William's latest move perhaps is prompted by the discussion going on among the Allies concerning his fitting punishment, and he may assume that no more interest will attach to him as soon as it is definitely understood that he is Kaiser no longer. But he overlooks the salient fact that it is William Hohenzollern the Allies want, not the German Em-

If Interest be subordinated to Principle at the Peace Conference there will be no differences on the Allies' side because they fought for a Principle which was common to all. But if Principle be subordinated to Interest there likely will be differences because many conflicting interests are in-

Those people who are looking for differences at the peace conference over the question of "free-dom of the seas" should bear in mind that for more than a year the United States not only has been participating in the naval blockade of Germany but, through the embargoes it imposed upon goods going to the European neutrals, made that blockade still more drastie; also that Uncle Sam is going ahead with his $600,000,000 naval programme.

William Hohenzollern has suffered much humiliation during the last few weeks. His army has been decisively beaten. His navy has just made the greatest surrender in history. He has been fired from his throne and is a fugitive. But worse than all these, Dr. Liebknecht, leader of the extreme Socialists, the man he has hated for years and whom he put in jail early in the war, recently slept two nights in the late Imperial bed at Potsdam.

If it went before a jury composed of Canadian soldiers there would not be much uncertainty of what the verdict would be if the issue had to do with the utility of the weapon at the battlefront.

Certain people, after examining their atlases conclude that the end of the world is near because practically every part of the globe has been pene human agencies and the world now knows all about itself. As a matter of fact the world has just begun to discover what it does not know about A few centuries hence it will be laughing at much of our sayings and doings of to-day. There are incalculable millions who still believe that the earth is flat and many who believe that a potato carried in the pocket will cure rheumatism. The world is still in swaddling clothes.

There is some talk of cancelling the usual Christmas school holidays this year and opening the schools on Saturdays in an effort to "catch up" for the time lost by the schools during the last five weeks. We doubt if anything so foolish will be done. If something vital to the training of the pupils has been lost in that time—which we question—it will not be recovered by cramming the youthful minds in extra sessions, especially when those minds will be in a state of se minds will be in a state of revolt. Better stick to the normal processes and charge the last five weeks to educational profit and loss. The pupils will be just as far ahead in the end.

"By that argument," The Times continues, "a felon-caught in the act would escape punishment because there were other telons who had not yet been brought to justice, and neither law nor common sense would listen to such a plea.

"Besides, it is not purposed to punish the ex-Kalser alone. There are others, too, who will be placed on trial, but he is the chief, because the most highly placed criminal.

One Argument.

"The one argument against doing what we can to bring this arch-criminal to justice is that at present he is a mean and contemptible foreigner, hiding his head from the ruin he brought on his country and that if we prosecute him, we may somehow impart dignity to him.
"On the other hand, how can respect for international law in future be based on the immunity of the principal offender against its provisions in the past?"

Hindenburg's Proclamation.

Hindenburg's Proclamation.

Amsterdam, Dec. 1.—Via London, Dec. 2.—Field-Marshal von Hindenburg has issued a proclamation, according to The Cologne Volks Zeitung, declaring that conflicts with the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils will be averted. He requests at the same time that the central Government instruct the Councils to abstain from interfering with the army commanders. No offence will be taken at the display of the red flag, "if it is displayed in a worthy manner," says von Hindenburg, and the same attitude must be expected from the Soldiers' and Workmen's Councils toward troops' emblems.

In the opinion of the majority Socialists and the Bourgeoise, according to Die Freiheit, the date, February 16, fixed by the Council of People's Commissioners for holding ar election for a Constituent Assembly in Germany, is too early. It is maintained that more time is needed to put into office a pure Socialist policy.

time is needed to put into office a pure Socialist policy.

The Independent Socialists have stated that they have threatened separation of the Rhine provinces.

The Bourgeoise and Socialist newspapers agree that the Soldiers and Workmen's Congress, which will meet on December 16, will accept the election date, as the delegates to the Congress will be chosen in haphagard fashion.

The Berlin executive committee of the Soldiers' and Workmen's Council, which called the Congress, is said in some quarters to have little real authority outside of Berlin. The committee, it is declared, is not able to put into effect regulations which would be universally observed regarding the thority outside of Berlin. Into the kitchen he jumped and just then Uncle Wiggily found a red ear of corn.

"On't any one dare to move!" cried the bad old Pommeroon, "if you do I'll bit to you!"

"Ha! I guess you'll be the one to move!" cried brave Uncle Wiggily. Then he threw the red ear of corn straight at the Pommeroon, and it hit the bad creature on the face, and when he saw the red ear fail to the ground the Pommeroon cried:

"Oh, my nose is bleeding! My nose is bleeding! I guess I don't want any souse to-night!" Then, thinking the red ear of corn was his nose bleed, which it wasn't at all, away ran the Pommeroon, very much frisphered, and Uncle Wiggily and all the rest were safe and they had a fine time and lots to eat at the corn-husking bee.

AN ASSET.

A minister was assigned to a small parish not long ago and upon his arrival found his new field of labor all that could be desired, with the exception of old Bill Johnson.

Old Bill was addicted to looking upon the wine when it was red and the new minister announced his intention of bringing him to see the error of his ways.

Aftermath of the war, the return to Canada of many thousands of sick and wounded soldiers, will furnish the women who have contributed so splendidly to the victorious termination of the long struggle with further opportunity of patriotic service. The need for volunteers for service in the military hospitals during the coming months, when the constant arrival of patrents will tax the staffs of the various institutions to the uttermost, has given rise to the formation of a Woman's Aid Department.

Distinctive Afternoon and Dinner Gowns

Garments of Unusual Artistic Merit Provided for Women of Taste and Refinement

BRILLIANT in their newness, fascinating in their variations of ornate and simple designs, are the Afternoon and Dinner Gowns now on display in our showrooms.

The styles are legion-but worthy of special mention are plain and emroidered overskirts; embroidered crush girdles; wide, embroidered girdles; Mandarin sleeves; front and side drape effects on skirts; panels; fringes; and many other special features, equally desirable, but too numerous to give in detail.

The stamp of elegance is further emphasized by the many beautiful materials employed. Georgette, of course, being the most popular fabric, but other favorites are crepe meteor, tricolette, taffeta, charmeuse and duchess satin, in self, and numerous clever combinations with Georgette.

You are cordially invited to call and inspect these beautiful garments at your earliest convenience. The influenza ban having been raised, a new gown will be in order to wear at the numerous functions. A small deposit will reserve any garment for your convenience. Prices offer a wide range of choice-$25.00 to $100.00.

Legislative Chamber Is Scene of Impressive Celebration on Occasion of National Expression of Gratitude; Special Services in All City Churches

Canada's National Thanksgiving Celebration, which has been delayed for two weeks owing to the Spanish Influenza epidemic, was duly observed in every church in the city yesterday by the holding of special services during the day.

Every inch of space in the Legislative Chamber, the rotunda, the corridors and down the wide steps of the main entrance to the Parliament Buildings, was packed with people during the afternoon to take part in the public service of Thanksgiving for the cessation

It was an impressive sight to see the vast throng engaged in devout religious service amidst the magnificent settings so apprepriate to the occasion. For the time being the massive structure was never before had been heard within its walls.

There was no uncertainty about the feelings of the people of Victoria as expressed in the hearty singing of the beautiful hymns of Thanksgiving selected for the occasion, and it is doubtful if ever pefore in the history of Victoria congregational singing has been engaged in more lustily or with such sincerity.

Building Crowded.

The scene itself was one that appealed to the high sentiments of all. There could have been no more suitable or appropriate spot for the Thanksgiving celebration of the national services. For the deliverance of Paleston in the Holy Land, from the rule of the Thanksgiving celebration of the national destruction of militarism; the increased desire for justice and freedom in all relations of men; For all the support Thou hast given to the persecuted and oppressed; for cheer to the sorrowful; comfort to the bereaved; aid to the sick and wounded; Triendship to the prisoner; solace to the dying; For the deliverance of Thy people on land, from lawless domination, and especially for the deliverance of Paleston in the Holy Land, from the rule of the Company of the com

Building Crowded.

The scene itself was one that appealed to the high sentiments of all. There could have been no more suitable or appropriate spot for the Thanksgiving celebration of the nation's victory than in the Legislative Hall. The seats of the law-makers were packed with people and so crowded was the room that members of the rising generation were seated upon the private desks of the legislators.

As the time arrived for the service to begin the standard-bearers of the f. O. D. E. took up their positions to the right and left of the Speaker's dais, the rows of beautiful emblems forming a drapery of color across the wide chamber. Officers of the various naval and military units were in a group near the platform and representatives of the previous distinctions and of all public organizations were present.

The Fight at Cawnpore.

From Lucknow Mr. Robinson's regiment had a hurried forced march back to Cawnpore, where the Gawlior rebels had defeated the force of 500 men under Col. Windham. The S2nd Regiment in the Fifth Brigade, under Col. Inglis. and, with the Sixth Brigade, the Highland force, they took a long sweep around to the left and charged the rebel-right, the rebels having a force of 25,000 men resting with the centre on the town. There was some desperate fighting, there, the rebels being driven from mound to monnd with the bayonet, and, under a flerce artillery fire concentrated upon them by the rebels, they rushed the bridge across the Ganges Canal, and soon the Gwalior rebels, routed, were in flight, with the infantrymen following them up, and, Mr. Robinson recalls, bayoneting them as they ran.

Next he took part with his regiment in that hard fighting which was part of the storming and capture of Lucknow, and then they moved north, driving the rebels before them.

Until the end of the Mutiny Mr. Robinson took part in many unrecorded guerilla skrimishes with the natives. His valor in various engagements was marked more than once by decorations.

After ten years of this service he

The Relief of Lucknow.

Some time was spent at Calcutta awaiting the arrival of the other ships, then the brigade under Sir Colin Campbell moved forward. As they went up the Ganges the conditions when they saw were horrible. The people had been badly stricken by the troubles and a great deal of destitution prevailed. They reached Cawnpore, several months after the massacre, and from there, after driving away the rebels. Sir Colin Campbell moved to the second relief of Lucknow, Havelock, and his force having remained to assist in the defence of Lucknow.

The Fight at Cawnpore.

From Lucknow Mr. Robinson's regimples of the proceedings to the statement of an eye-witness, was about five feet seven inches in height, and stout in build, while his companion stood nearly six feet high. Though they were cleverly disguised, and had the flaps on their caps drawn over the upper portion of their faces, certain features of their dress will assist the police in their investigations. Both of the visitors were armed with blue steel revolvers, of about .32 calibre.

With these weapons they menaced the throng and roughly lined everyone up against the wall clearing a space in the middle of the room. One man covered the astonished immates, who stood with upraised hands, and kept an

Dr. Bryce is looking exceedingly well, although now in his seventy-fifth year, and talks with the old-time enthusiasm of the numerous activities of the literary, scientific and artistic societies with which his name has long been associated, and which have brought him in touch with the leading people of the world, whose names are household words everywhere. Of them he has many interesting anecdotes to relate, refreshed, as his memory now is by constant travel during the last nine years on various commissions and for personal reasons. Since 1909 when the Doctor retired he has been able to devote himself more and more to activities for these various societies, and has renewed acquaintance during the period of his retirement with many of the men whom he has met at congresses and conferences of these societies in past years.

Dr. Bryce has been connected for many years with the Commission of Conservation, and in referring to the resignation of its chairman, Sir Clifford Sifton, he forecasted some re-organization looking to the amalgamation of societies now proceeding along closely associated lines.

The Doctor is just as auxious as ever to be in the lecture field, and it will have been noticed that he has already accepted invitations to speak in Victoria. # CECIL B. DE MILLE'S SUPERB PRODUCTION

"We Can't Have Everything," is Attraction at Royal Victoria All Week

Imagine the proceedings of a divorce court recounted by a skilled novelist with a highly developed bump of satire and not a little sense of humor, instead of by a journalist, and you gain a faint idea of the character of Cecii B. De Mille's latest production, "We Can't Have Everything," which is the attraction at the Royal Victoria all this week. It is taken from one of Rupert Hughes's late novels, which ran serially in one of the popular magazines. As Alice's peep through the looking glass was so wonderfully fascinating to her, so will "We Can't Have Everything" appear before the picture audience. For, besides revelations concerning the spicy life of the highflying, we have glimpses of the interior of a motion picture studio.

It was quite a conglomeration of interior of a motion picture studio.

It was quite a consiomeration of incidents that Mr. Hughes put into his story, and while those who refuse to be entirely swept off, their feet by such an amazing spread of fiction will refuse to take it seriously, that same public which enjoyed the story, augmented by the thousands which determine the ratio of the picture to the printed page, will find much to delight them here. The society which revolves about the divorce court, the road house and the wife whose intellect is blonde, can be looked at on the screen with the same awe that it is looked at stepping out of a taxi-cab and floating into Sherry's. The production is lavish and includes a most realistic rainstorm.

physique in exquisite harmony with the tragic roles she portrays. In a recent interview Miss Frederick stated that she invariably seeks to feel the character she portrays, because, in her judgment, no characterization is artistic unless its subtlety has been probed to its depth and the various emotions it should evoke have been thoroughly mustered by the player.

"The various shades of human emotions which the story of 'Fedora' discloses," said Miss Frederick, "are of an extremely subtle nature, and their proper expression can be psychologically insured only after they have been deeply studied. These dark and light shades are especially conspituous in the csaracter of this Russian Princess, whose hopes for a happy marriage are wrecked when her fiance is murdered, as she believes, by anarchists, in revenge for the acts of his father, who is a chief of police. Yarrows kicked off and went right sown for a shot, which went wide. The Poundation players came right back, but Ord was in the way. Bell and Ord were kicking well, and the Foundation forward line found the going hard. The game settled down to a struggle with both teams on their mettle, and the forward lines testing the goalkeepers at every opportunity. The Foundation came, Baker ran out from Yarrows' goal, and saved what looked like a certainty, for the Foundation Co. Play went to the other end and the Foundation custodian tipped a labeled one over the bar. When half time was called Yarrows were working had and feeding their forward in great style. The game was end to end and keenly fought. Each side played hard clean ball. The Foundation opened the second half with a run down, and for a few minutes kept up a pressure that made Yarrows' supporters anxious. Baker cleared one dangerous shot, and another tipped the bar. Bell came to the rescue with a long kick relieving the pressure. Yarrows and ways now the pressure.

The left wing got in, but the fore. The left wing got in, but the goalts saved, and the game settled down again to an exchange of kicks between defence lines. The combination work of both forward lines raised the hopes of the supporters in turn, but he defence at either end was steady. For Yarrows Douglas, a new player on the team, showed up well. He is young, fast, tricky and above all unselfish, and with more first league experience will be hard to handle. The forward line played well, and are geting together better all the time. Six Members of Victoria Cricket Club Have Been Killed, and Many Others Wounded

The ranks of local cricketers have been sadly depleted as the result of their ready response to take up arms for their country in the great war, and those who have been carrying on since the summer of 1914 have been doing so in the absence of many of the players with whom they used to associate in keeping the greatest British game going in Canada. # CONVALESCENTS LEAD INTERMEDIATE SOCCER

Good Start

In the intermediate soccer lead the Victoria Military Hospital team, or the Bing Boys as a spectator, was calling them Saturday, placed themselves in the lead on the table by a decisive victory over the I. M. B. by seven goals to one. The Garrison also registered a couple of points at the expense of Yarrows, but failed to improve their position as the Foundation Company have an equal number of points with a game in hand.

The game between the Hospital and I. M. B. opened with the advantage in fawor of the Hospital team, who pressed from the start but were unable to score. After twenty minuts play the I. M. B. forwards broke away, and through a miss kick by the Hospital fullback registered, the first goal. An improvement followed and the Hospital cultured to law the field with a rush and scored through Gregson. A few minutes later Clarkson put the Hospital one ahead. The soldiers continued to have the advantage, and Furness succeeded in putting the Hospital one more shead. Shortly after Furness again scored half time, whistle being blown with the Hospital leading 4-1. The game opened in the second half with the I. M. B. pressing, but for thirty minutes was give and take play. The Hospital again warmed up, and Hawkes succeeded in motching the fifth goal. Three minutes later Gregson again scored from a melce in goal. Just before the final whistle blew Gregson put the Hospital further ahead, the final score being Hospital 7. I. M. B. L.

and Furness were the pick of the for-wards, while Reid and Robertson were the best of the halfbacks.

Hospital team—McMinu, Travis and Gutteridge; Robertson, Reid and West; Clarkson, Thomas, Gregson, Furness and Howkes.

SOLDIER'S PLATFORM BIBLE LECTURER IS AN INSULT TO PARTY REMARKABLY GIFTED

About Major Burde's Manifesto

Attendance only of East Coast and local delegates is given as the reason why the Conservative nominating convention held at Port Alberni on Wednesday evening last failed to come to any decision as to a candidate at the forthcoming by election.

The tenor of the meeting is described as in favor of Major Burde, M. C., who has already announced himself in the field as an independent—the choice of the returned soldier and many independent bodies.

The major says he is in the campaign without obligation to or affiliation with either political party, and at the moment neither "look good to him."

The Leader of the Opposition, who was present at the convention, was of the opinion it is understood that Major Burde was throwing away a grand opportunity in refusing the Conservative nomination.

Mr. Bowser likewise took the view

> This afternoon at the First Presbyterian church under the chairmanship of the Rev. J. G. Inkster, he took for his subject "Panoramic View of the Bible." and his subject for this evening will be the first of a course of study on the "Book of Romans," with the Rev. W. L. Clay. D.D., as chairman.

Dr. Evans has a pleasing personality, possessing dramatic powers in conjunction with concise forensic ability. He is remarkably gifted in being able to present to the minds of his hearers a continuity of constructive thought, fluently and without dogmatic shading.

Dr. Evans dealt yesterday at one service with the world war, setting forth in bold relief the German character in its brutal materialism and consequent weakness, the Kaiser's will to dominate and God's disposition of that will, the splendid sacrifice and fighting qualities of the Allied armies, together with the expressed thought of outstanding war leaders that after all the intervention of Almighty God saved the Allied cause in crucial moments.

Dr. Evans briefly spoke of the prophetic word in its relation to the Jews and the recent world war, setting forth the fact that diplomatic reasons prohibited and one of the Allied nations from turning over Palestine to the Jews. Then, in a few words the speaker showed how General Allied parmy had by its success opened up Palestine for Jewish occupation. He also cited the great importance attached to the victories in Palestine by the British leaders, who could see in them the significant trend of the war.

The opening of Dr. Evans's campaign

The opening of Dr. Evans's campaign was marked by a good attendance of Bible students.

Bible students.

In the evening at 7.30 the campaign preper was opened, the subject being the "Fascination of the Bible." In dealing with this subject the speaker first opened up to his hearers the material facts in connection with the bringing into book form of the Bible as compared with other books, such as the great number of years required, the remarkable number of its editions, its indestructibility, the number of its industructibility, the number of languages employed by its various authors, and its attractiveness to students.

Premier of Manitoba Says Rowell Speaks of Necessity of Prairie Provinces' Natural Resources Being Considered

Winnipeg, Dec. 2.—Hon. T. C. Norris, Premier, and Hon. Edward Brown, Provincial Treasurer of Manitoba, are back in their offices after attending the Inter-Provincial Conference at Ottawa.

Premier Norris gave out a preliminary statement as to the objects and the business accomplished at the Ottawa gathering. His statement is willing to hand over the natural resources to the prairie provinces if it can be done without antagonizing the interests of the eastern provinces. Premier Norris said:

"The first question discussed was the application of the prairie provinces for their natural resources, Our case having been laid before the Conference a statement was made by the Acting Prime Minister to the effect that the Dominion Government had decided that it would not be desirable to transfer the natural resources to the prairie provinces at this time. He also stated that the Canadian Government had no objection to the subsidy in lieu of lands remaining undisturbed as compensatios, for the protino of the force who wishes to return will be cleared up at an early date; but in any event any member of the force who wishes to return will be date of signing of the armistice."

EARTHQUAKE SHOCK.

Washington, was recorded this mornalize on the seismograph at Georgetown.

No Unanimity.

"The Federal Government, therefore, suggested that the provincial representatives confer. Such a conference thereupon took place, but no unanimous conclusions were reached because the eastern-provinces argued that if this policy should be followed with regard to the prairie provinces the others would become entitled to a readjustment and reconsideration of their financial relationship with the Federal Government.

Federal Government.

"The prairie provinces took strong ground against this, and submitted to the Conference a 2 document stating clearly the position taken by them, so as to preclude any possibility of misunderstanding in future.

"The Dominion Government has taken our application under advisement and has intimated that its proposals will be embodied in an Order-in-council and announced without undue delay."

As to land settlement, Premier Norris taid that provincial legislation is required to carry out these proposals. He intimated that at the next session of the Legislature a bill would be passed.

As to demobilization, the Federal Government had requested the cooperation of the various provinces, and this had met with a cordial response.

Suitable Employment. Under Consideration.

this had met with a cordial response.

Suitable Employment.

"It does not follow," Premier Norris said, "that the Provincial Governments are asked to assume any responsibility for the general work of demobilization. Their co-operation is particularly sought in connection with the finding of suitable employment for the demobilized soldiers."

In this connection the provinces were asked to consider a scheme of employment service, and the proposals will receive immediate attention at the hands of the various Provincial Governments.

REBELLIOUS TRIBES IN MOROCCO GIVE WAY TO FRENCH

Tangiers, Dec. 1.— (Via Paris, Dec. 2.)

— (Havas)—The news of the conclusion of the armistice and of the downfall of Germany spread rapidly in the rebellious regions of Morocco. It has caused everywhere a feeling of stupor, invariably followed by a movement of submission. In the region of Tadla numerous refractory tribes submitted when they learned of the defeat of Germany and the downfall; of the Kaiser. Throughout the religious zone of Morocco the tribes are now joining the Entente side and giving demonstrations of loyaity.

New Teeth For Xmas

you must have a new set of teeth altogether. It means that if you are having any trouble with your teeth-if they show any sign of decay, however slight-or if there is anything wrong with them, whatever-it would be wise to consult with Dr. Clarke at once, and let him correct any faults that may exist. He can give you new teeth for Christmas at small cost.

The quality of dental work done by Dr. Clarke is strictly high-grade. All plates, bridge-work and fillings receive his personal attention, thus he is able to guarantee that the service your teeth will render will be satisfactory in every way.

Great War Veterans See Him Concerning McInnes; No Statement Forthcoming

At the special request made by the delegation itself to Premier Oliver there will be no statement made public disclosing what happened at a meeting at the Parliament Buildings on Saturday last between six members of the local branch of the Great War Veterans' Association and the head of the Government. The subject matter of the interview was the appointment of W. H. McInnes to the position of Civil Service Commissioner and included in the delegation's quest was the inquiry as to the exact status in the Department of the Commissioner of John Albert Smith. The last named had represented himself to the President of the organization as "Assistant Commissioner," duly appointed by Order-In-Council, the information reaching the main body in special general meeting on Tuesday evening last while the proposal of the Government to appoint a returned man as an assistant to the Commissioner was under discussion. The matter dealt with in the letter from Acting Premier Farris, was dropped immediately and a delegation appointed to re-open the question with the Government from the new angle. Comrades J. H. Axom, convener, C. E. Brown, George Bryson, J. L. Miller, H. W. Hart and Morrison comprised the delegation, with Comrade Axom as the chief spokesman for the whole. The report of the interview will be considered at the regular general meeting of the Association to-morrow night. In the meantime Premier Oliver assured the delegation to-morrow night. # TELLS OF FIGHTING IN DAYS PRECEDING

Quite a Time Trying to Catch Fritz, Says Western Scot Officer

One of the many Western Scots who have won their promotion from the ranks to a commission as a result of a Military Medal for his gallant service in France. Extracts from his letter read as follows: Well Maggie, we are having some time just now, nothing but war, but as we are going the right way, why, we should worry. Fritz is doing most of the worrying these days. I don't think squealing will help him much the ways things are going at present. Up to the present our battalion has been in four advances, this last one being as good as any, and this kid taking the main part in it by forcing a bridge-head with a few men. Fritz didn't stop to argue the poin and we had quite a time trying to cat a up on hisn, but we did, at least some of them. My corporal and I took four een all at one time. Gee, you should have seen their hands go up, and the joke is they were not half so scared as we were. Anyway, we got away with it and just then a bunch of our men came up, so we turned the a over and proceeded in search of more.

Ready For a Rest. Their Hands Went Up.

Ready For a Rest.

Ready For a Rest.

Well, we are getting along jake, anyway, our only trouble is those little trawling things which we can't get rid of. Why it's a month now since we had a bath or change of clothes, so we wont be mad when we get out for a rest. I suppose the people in Canada think that there is nobody like the Canadians in this war. Anyway we have done our share and done it well by all arcounts.

Home Visions.

Now, how's everything over there? Anything doing at all? I see the firemen are on strike now. Gee, somebody ought to be shit over to France quick. Is the farm progressing favorably now? It seems to be, seeing you are making your own butter. Well, It be over seen and, I want some home.

Fremier John Oliver and the members of the Cabinet of British Columbia have been invited to attend, while the committee in charge of the general programme has sent a telegram to Sir Charles Tupper, of Vancouver, B. C. asking him to be the guest of the City of Seattle, and to speak at the mass meeting on Saturday night, at which the British and Canadian visitors will be the guests of honor.

Flying the Admiral's flag the Malaspina will take the delegation to the Sound City from Esquimalt, and as the ship glides into port at noon on Saturday all whistles on the water front will be blown at a signal of firing of bombs. Rear-Admiral J. H. Glennon, commanding the Thirteenth naval district, has been asked to meet the visiting naval officer with a warship in the bay- and extend the official welcome. The delegation will be met by a citizens committee, headed by Josiah Colins, and will be escorted to the Chamber of Commerce luncheon, which will be postponed from Friday until Saturday in honor of the decasion.

The World War Veterans' Association, an organization of men returned from the fighting ranks in Enrope, will show their strength in the parade which will mark the afternoon festivities. An appeal is being made in Secattle for a supply of British and Canadian flags under which the veterans may march; citizens are being asked to loan Union Jacks and Canadian ensigns.

ARMISTICE SIGNING CATTLE BREEDERS TO HOLD A STOCK SALE

Will Stage First Affair of Kind in Province at

ranks to a commission as a result of their sterling service in the firing line writes an interesting letter from France, showing the overwheiming defeat of the Hun in the last stages of the war, and the decisive route of the Germans in the days preceding the signing of the armistice. The letter is of the Caigary sale. The date of the signing of the armistice. The letter is of the Caigary sale being so far undecided, written by Lieutenant C. Stronach to his sister, Mrs. Mitchell, Asquith Road. Before his promotion to the commissioned ranks Lieutenant Stronach wan a Military Medal for his gallant service in France. Extracts from his letter will be held so that live stock membrane unable to procure the cattle desired in this province may attend the Calgary sale.

As the affair to be staged at Kamloops is the first of its kind to be held in the province, it is impossible to estimate the number of bulls which will be sold. The ranchers generally throughout the interior district have agreed to withhold their purchases of bulls until the sale of the B. C. organization, and moreover, to sell their animals in Kamloops. George C. Hay, secretary of the association, is at present listing buyers and sellers of bulls or of other live stock in preparation for the sale. The Department of Agriculture also is taking a keen in the terest in the sale and with the cooperation of the farmers and the public there is no doubt that a great deal will be done for the stock-rasing industry of Eritish Columbia.

The British Columbia Live Stock Show and Sales Association was formed on October 16 by some stock breeders who met in Kamloops and agreed upon certain works, which such an organization could profitably carry out. The obljects of the association are the furtherance of live stock breeders who met in Kamloops and agreed upon certain works, which such an organization could profitably carry out. The obljects of the association are the furtherance of live stock breeders who met in the number of the sale of the sale of the B. C. organization, and moreover.
