WHO ARE WE

Wiki World Heritage User Group is a Wikimedia affiliate initiated by wikimedians interested in the documentation of UNESCO World Heritage (Tangible and Intangible) around the world through Wikimedia projects.

It was officially recognized by the Wikimedia Affiliates Committee on 22 October 2020.

Scope:

1.154	629	432
World Heritage Sites	Intangible Cultural Heritage	Documentary heritage Memory of the World

Goals:

- Ensuring the full coverage of World Heritage on Wikimedia projects
- Catalyzing dynamic synergies around World Heritage

Map of World Heritage site colour coded by UNESCO inclusion criteria generated using the Wikidata Query Service

Mission:

Collaborative creation of free online content about UNESCO World Heritage, through projects based on :

- Participatory activities;

- Use of open platforms and tools,

- Sharing all content under free licences,

- Collaboration with local partners in the target countries of our projects.

Approach:

We design and implement our projects through a fully collaborative approach, through partnering with local Wikimedia affiliates or/and relevant organizations in the target countries.

Governance / Foundational work:

October 2020

Affiliate recognition

Brainstorming of the co-founders about potential activities and governance approach. Drafting orientations and preparation of the 1st meeting.

December 2020

1st members meeting

Discussion about potential projects in light of past/ongoing activities about WH, governance: board structure and election process, and next steps. [Meeting minutes]

January 2021

Board election

Organizing board election, based on what was agreed in the meeting and on the best practices within the Wikimedia movement. [Election   Meta   page]

February 2021

Advisors appointment

3 experienced Wikimedians were appointed by the board to support the decision-making in critical areas related to the scope of work and the multicultural aspect of the group [Advisors].

July 2021

By-laws adoption

By-laws were drafted by the board in concertation with the governance advisor, submitted to the members for feedback and enhancement, then finalized and adopted officially. [By-laws].

Governance /Implementing best practices:

Participatory drafting of the annual program:

In order to define the group activities for 2022 several communications have been exchanged between the members in order to involve them drafting the annual program and required budget.Two main communication channel are used by the group to communicate by the members: the Telegram group https://t.me/+vobrVj3fceMzODQ0 and the Mailing list wwh@lists.wikimedia.org .

Establishing a membership request form:

In order to define the members who are eligible to take part of any decision-making process (feedback, vote), it was important to establish a membership request that allows to set a list of official members of the   group. Furthermore, the form provided the board with better insight into the group level of diversity (countries of the members, spoken languages, etc.).

TOLD CITIES

WORLD HERITAGE CITIES

Stories from Harar Jugol, Antigua Guatemala, Trogir...

Asma'adin Gate, Harar Jugol, Ethiopia - By User:Bikoadem - CC-BY-SA-4.0

Told Cities / Scope

Told Cities is a project that aims to ensure a thorough documentation of cities and urban quarters listed as UNESCO World Heritage on several Wikimedia projects, through documenting their monuments, significant buildings and other components.

After launching the project in 2021, a second edition has been launched in 2022 with a focus on countries without affiliates.

Antigua Guatemala, Guatemala
Led by: Nassima Chahboun
Partner: Centro Regional De Patrimonio

Antigua Guatemala is the old capital of the Captaincy General of Guatemala from 1543 through 1773, listed as UNESCO World Heritage in 1979.

With the help of our partner we were able to organize train the trainer session on WIkipedia, Commons and Wikidata.

NB: there is no Wikimedia Affiliate in Guatemala.

Harar Jugol, Harar, Ethiopia
Led by: Nassima Chahboun
Partner: Heritage Watch Ethiopia

Harar Jugol is the old walled city of Harar listed as a World Heritage Site in 2006 by UNESCO in recognition of its cultural heritage.

With the help of our partner Heritage Watch Ethiopia we were able to organize Train-the-Trainer sessions on WIkipedia, Commons and Wikidata. A photowalk has been also organised by our partner and 347 photos have been uploaded to Commons.

After these sessions, our partner was able to collaborate with The Harari People Regional State Culture Heritage and Tourism Bureau, to organise local workshops and trainings.

NB: there is no Wikimedia Affiliate in Ethiopia.

Wikidata takes Trogir - By User:Yamen - CC-BY-SA-4.0

Trogir Historic Town, Trogir, Croatia
Led by: Nassima Chahboun

The historic city of Trogir is situated on a small island between the Croatian mainland and the island of Čiovo.It has been included in the UNESCO list of World Heritage Sites in 1997 for its Venetian architecture.

With the help of local wikimedians and thanks to group member User:Z.Blace we have been able to do a photowalk and organise a Wikidata workshop "Wikidata Takes Trogir".

More than 450 photos have been uploaded to Commons and more than 50 Wikidata items have been created and improved.

NB: there is no Wikimedia Affiliate in Croatia.

WHINDANGER
WORLD HERITAGE IN DANGER

Ksar Ouled Soltane, Tunisia - By User:Yamen, CC-BY-SA-4.0

WHindanger / Project scope:

Whindanger (WH in danger) aims to promote and raise awareness about UNESCO World Heritage Sites in danger, through the creation of an interactive website using Wikimedia projects and following a participatory creation process.
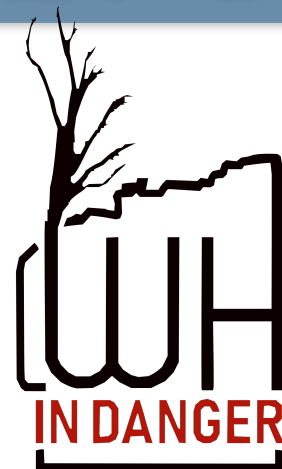

WHindanger /Activities:

This year we tried to document the world heritage sites in danger on Wikipedia with a special focus on African languages especially those in the incubator : Mooré (ISO 639: mos), Fante (ISO 639: fat) and Gurene (ISO 639: gur) in order to help them develop more content and be ready to be an official Wikipedia. Besides these 3 languages in the incubator, a collaboration has been done as well with the Dagbani community (ISO 639: dag) and the Twi community (ISO 639: twi).

Wikisource For World Heritage

First Wikisource Contest in arabic

WikiSource world heritage poster - By User:Nassima Chahboun, CC-BY-SA-4.0

WikisourceForWH/ Implemented activities and outcomes:

WikisourceForWH (Wikisource For World Heritage) aims to improve and add more content to Wikisource in relation to World Heritage. The project is composed of two phases:

1- a first phase that consists of organizing training sessions around the following topics :

- Wikisource,
- World Heritage and Memory of the World
- Open content and Creative Commons

2- a second phase that consists of a Wikisource contest which is the first contest on Wikisource in arabic. The content can be in relation to documents listed as Memory of the World or any document related to a World Heritage site or to a World Intangible Heritage.

In 2022 a pilot project and a contest led by NANöR and Nehaoua is initiated on the Arabic version of Wikisource but we hope to extend this project to other versions of Wikisource in the next years with the possibility to organize an in-person event gathering the community of Wikisource and archiving/heritage experts.

Wiki Heritage Hour - By Wiki World Heritage, CC-BY-3.0

Wiki Heritage Hour / Scope and Pilot projects

Wiki Heritage Hour (link on meta) project aims to reach out to emerging professionals, local NGOs, established institutions as well as expert professionals and create a platform for open discussions with them.

The key is to identify the challenges and find a way to overcome them and bring focus to at-risk heritage. The project aims to give a platform to youth and connect them to experts across the globe so that their heritage and voice are better represented.

The project's open discussion structure allowed each speaker to express their thoughts on the subject and produced an educational product. In order to address the diversity in the realm of heritage, each session concentrated on a different theme.

The second episode has been highlighted on the web site of the African Digital Heritage NGO: link.

Besides increasing the group visibility and helping us to reach out to new potential partners, we hope that from showing the potential of Wikidata to generate data visualizations (maps, timelines, graphs, etc ..) without having the technical skills, the web site will enable the main target audience of our content (Heritage professionals, students and activists) to join our movement.

During last year a new visual identity has been implemented on our web site and a new Logo has been adopted.

GRANT MANAGEMENT

SAPG management / Application and Fiscal Sponsorship:

In December 2021, we successfully applied for our second Annual Grant, for the period going from Feb 2022 to Feb 2023.

Fiscal sponsorship:

As a thematic user group having activities in several countries, it was very important for us to collaborate with an experienced fiscal sponsor, that has the ability to fund activities in different countries.

Therefore, we collaborated for our first grant with Kiwix organization, which besides sponsorship, has offered advice and assistance Following our fruitful and successful collaboration for the first grant we were very happy and grateful that we were able to collaborate again for our second grant.

Thank you again Kiwix! :)
