Province of the MASSACHUSETTS-BAY, in provincial Congress, CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 5, 1774.

Resolved, That the proceedings of the American Continental Congress, held at Philadelphia, on the 5th day of September last, and reported by the honourable Delegates from this Colony, have, with the deliberation due to their high importance, been considered by us, and the American Bill of Rights therein contained, appears to be formed with the greatest ability and judgment; to be founded on the immutable laws of nature and reason, the principles of the English constitution, and respective charters and constitutions of the Colonies, and to be worthy of their most vigorous support, as essentially necessary to liberty; likewise the ruinous and iniquitous measures, which in violation of these rights, at present convulse and threaten destruction to America, appear to be clearly pointed out, and judicious plans adopted for defeating them.

Resolved, THAT the most grateful acknowledgements are due to the truly honorable and patriotic Members of the Continental Congress, for their wise and able exertions in the cause of American Liberty; and this Congress in their own names, and in behalf of this Colony, do hereby, with the utmost sincerity, express the same.

Resolved, THAT the Hon. JOHN HANCOCK, Hon. THOMAS CUSHING, Esqrs. A CIRCULAR letter from the Agents William Bolla, Benjamin Franklin, and Arthur Lee, Esquires, directed to the Speakers of several Assemblies, Note.—All the Members attended except those marked thus °.

Assemblies and sundry papers therein referred to, were laid before the Congress and read, the letter is as follows:

London, February 5, 1775.

S I R,

OUR last letter informed you, that the King had declared his intentions of laying the Petition before his two Houses of Parliament. It has accordingly been laid before each House, but undistinguished among a variety of letters and other papers from America.

A motion made by Lord Chatham to withdraw the troops from Boston, as the first step towards a conciliating plan, was rejected, and the ministry have declared in both Houses the determination to enforce obedience to all the late laws. For this purpose we understand that three regiments of foot, one of dragoons, seven hundred marines, six sloops of war, and two frigates are now under orders for America.

We think it proper to inform you, that your cause was well defended by a considerable number of good and wise men in both Houses of Parliament, though far from being a majority: And that many of the commercial and manufacturing parts of the nation, concerned in the American trade, have presented, or as we understand, are preparing to present petitions to parliament, declaring their great concern for the present unhappy controversies with America, and praying expressly, or in effect, for healing healing measures, as the proper means of preserving their commerce now greatly suffering or endangered. But the treatment the petitions already presented have hitherto received is such, as, in our opinion, can afford you no reliance on the present relief, through their means.

As soon as we learnt that the Petition of the Congress was before the House of Commons, we thought it our duty to support it, if we might be permitted so to do, as there was no other opportunity for the numerous Inhabitants of the Colonies to be heard in defence of their rights: Accordingly we joined in a petition for that purpose. Sir George Saville kindly undertook to present it. But on previously opening the purport of it, as the order is, a debate arose on the propriety of receiving it, and on a division it was rejected by a great majority.

The following extract of a letter from General Coge to Lord Dartmouth, as laid before Parliament, we think it our duty to transmit, viz.

" Dec. 15, 1774. You Lordship's idea of disarming certain provinces would doubtless be consistent with prudence and safety, but it neither is nor has been practicable, without having recourse to force, and being masters of the country."

It was thrown out in debate by a principal member of administration, that it would be proper to alter the charters of Connecticut and Rhode-Island.

Inclosed

Inclosed we send you a copy of the Resolutions passed in a committee of the whole house on Thursday last, which are to be reported on Monday. It is said that these Resolutions are to be the foundation of several bills to be brought in, but the purport of those bills we have not yet learnt with sufficient certainty.

We send you likewise a copy of Lord Chatham's first motion in the House of Lords, and of his plan of a bill for settling the troubles between Great-Britain and the Colonies; both which were rejected on the first reading.

With great respect we are,

S I R,

Your most obedient humble Servants,

(Signed,)

WILLIAM BOLLAN,
BENJAMIN FRANKLIN,
ARTHUR LEE.

THE papers referred to in the foregoing letter being published in the news-papers, it is not necessary to insert them.

Mr. Hancock, laid before the Congress a letter from the Provincial Congress of Massachusetts-Bay, together with certain resolutions formed by said Congress, and a copy of a letter sent by said Congress to their Agent in England, and an Address to the inhabitants of Great-Britain, on the late engagement between the troops under General Gage and the inhabitants of Massachusetts-Bay;

setts-Bay; also a number of depositions duly attested, relative to the commencement of said hostilities, all which were read and are as follows.

In Provincial Congress, WATERTOWN, May 3, 1775.

To the honorable American Continental Congress, to be convened at Philadelphia, on the tenth of May, instant,

May it please your Honors,

THE Congress of this Colony, impressed with the deepest concern for their country under the present critical and alarming state of its public affairs, beg leave with the utmost submission, whilst acting in support of the cause of America, to request the direction and assistance of your respectable assembly.

The inclosed packet, containing the copies of depositions, which we have dispatched for London, also an address to the inhabitants of Great Britain, and a letter to our colony Agent, Benjamin Franklin, Esq; are humbly submitted to your consideration.

The sanguinary zeal of the ministerial army, to ruin and destroy the inhabitants of this Colony, in the opinion of this Congress, hath rendered the establishment of an army indispensibly necessary; we have accordingly passed an unanimous resolve for thirteen thousand six hundred men to be forthwith raised by this Colony, and proposals are made by us to the Congress of New-Hampshire, and governments of Rhode Island and Connecticut Colonies, for furnishing men in the same proportion.

The sudden exigency of our public affairs preclude the possibility of waiting for your direction in these important measures, more especially as a considerable reinforcement from Great-Britain is daily expected in this Colony, and we are now reduced to the sad alternative of defending ourselves by arms, or submitting to be slaughtered.

With the greatest deference, we beg leave to suggest, that a powerful army, on the side of America, hath been considered by this Congress, as the only means left to stem the rapid progress of a tyrannical ministry. Without a force superior to our enemies, we must reasonably expect to become the victims of their relentless fury. With such a force, we may still have hopes of seeing an immediate end put to the inhuman ravages of mercenary troops in America, and the wicked authors of our miseries brought to condign punishment, by the just indignation of our brethren in Great-Britain.

We hope that this colony will, at all times, be ready to spend and be spent in the cause of America. It is, nevertheless, a misfortune greatly operating to its disadvantage, that it has a great number of sea port towns exposed to the approach of the enemy by sea, from many of which the inhabitants have removed and are removing their families and effects, to avoid destruction from ships of war. These, we apprehend, will be generally distressed from want of subsistence, and disabled from contributing aid for supporting the forces of the Colony, but we have have the greatest confidence in the wisdom and ability of the Continent to support us, so far as it shall appear necessary for supporting the common cause of the American Colonies.

We also inclose several resolves for empowering and directing our receiver general to borrow the sum of one hundred thousand pounds, lawful money, and to issue his notes for the same, it being the only measures which we could have recourse to for supporting our forces; and we request your assistance in rendering our measures effectual, by giving our notes a currency through the Continent.

The papers inclosed and referred to in the above are as follows:—

In Provincial Congress, WATERTOWN, May 3, 1775.

Resolved, THAT the Receiver-General be, and hereby is empowered and directed, to borrow the sum of one hundred thousand pounds, lawful money, and issue colony security for the same, payable, with annual interest at six per cent, June 1st, 1777, and that the Continental Congress be desired to recommend to the several Colonies, to give a currency to such securities.

A true extract from the minutes,

SAMUEL FREEMAN, Secretary, P. T.

Resolved, THAT the securities given by the Receiver-General, for the monies borrowed by him, in pursuance of the foregoing resolve, be in the form following, viz.

1775.

“ S I R,

“ FROM the entire confidence we repose
in your faithfulness and abilities, we consider it
the happiness of this Colony, that the important trust of Agency for it, in this day of unequalled distress, is devolved on your hands, and we doubt not your attachment to the cause of the Liberties of mankind will make every possible exertion in our behalf a pleasure to you, altho'
our circumstances will compel us often to interrupt your repose by matters that will surely give you pain. A singular instance hereof is the occasion of the present letter. The contents of this packet will be our apology for troubling
you with it.

“ FROM these you will see how and by whom we are at last plunged into the horrors of a most unnatural war.

Resolved,

“ OUR enemies, we are told, have despatched to Great-Britain a falacious account of the tragedy they have begun; to prevent the operation of which to the public injury, we have engaged the vessel that convey's this to you, as a Packet in the service of this Colony, and we request your assistance in supplying Capt. Derby, who commands her, with such necessaries as he shall want, on the credit of your constituents in Massachusetts-Bay.

“ BUT we most ardently wish that the several papers herewith inclosed may be immediately printed and dispersed through every town in England, and especially communicated to the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and Council of the city of London, that they may take such order thereon as they may think proper. And we are confident your fidelity will make such improvement of them, as shall convince all who are not determined to be in everlasting blindness, that it is the united efforts of both Englands that can save either. But that whatever price our brethren in the one may be pleased to put on their constitutional Liberties, we are authorized to assure you, that the inhabitants of the other, with the greatest unanimity, are inflexibly resolved to sell their's only at the price of their lives.

THE Depositions relative to the commencement of Hostilities, are as follows :

Lexington, April 25, 1775.

" WE Solomon Brown, Jonathan Loring, and Elijah Sanderson, all of lawful age, and of Lexington, in the county of Middlesex, and Colony of the Massachusetts-Bay, in New-England, do testify and declare, that on the evening of the 18th of April, instant, being on the road between Concord and Lexington, and all of us mounted on horses, we were about ten of the clock, suddenly surprized by nine persons, whom we took to be regular Officers, who rode up to us, mounted and armed, each having a pistol in his hand, and after putting pistols to our breasts, and seizing the bridles of our horses, they swore if we stirred another step, we should be all dead men; upon which we surrendered ourselves. They detained us until two o'clock the next morning, in which time they searched and greatly abused us, having first enquired about the magazine at Concord, whether any guards were posted there, and whether the bridges were up, and said four or five regiments of regulars would be in possession of the stores soon. They then brought us back to Lexington, cut the horses bridles and girths, turned them loose, and then left us.

Lexington, April 25, 1775.

"I Elijab Sanderfon, abovenamed, do further testify and declare, that I was on Lexington Common the morning of the 19th of April aforesaid, having been dismissed by the Officers abovementioned, and saw a large body of regular troops advancing towards Lexington company, many of whom were then dispersing. I heard one of the regulars, whom I took to be an Officer, say, "damn them, we will have them," and immediately the regulars shouted aloud, run and fired on the Lexington company, which did not fire a gun before the regulars discharged on them. Eight of the Lexington company were killed while they were dispersing, and at a considerable distance from each other, and many wounded, and altho' a spectator, I narrowly escaped with my life.

Elijab Sanderfon."

"I Thomas Rice Willard, of lawful age, do testify and declare, that being in the house of Daniel Harrington, of said Lexington, on the 19th instant, in the morning, about half an hour before sun-rise, looked out at the window of said house, and saw (as I suppose) about four hundred regulars in one body, coming up the road and marched towards the North part of the common back of the meeting-house of said Lexington, and as soon as said regulars were against the east end of the meeting-house, the commanding Officer said something, what I know not, but upon that the regulars ran till they

 Lexington, peaceably and unarmed, about two miles and an half distant from the meetinghouse in said Lexington, he was met by a body of the King's regular troops, and being stopped by some Officers of said troops, was commanded to dismount, upon asking why he must dismount, he was obliged by force to quit his horse and ordered to march in the midst of the body, and being examined whether he had been warning the minute men, he answered no, but had been out and was then returning to his father's. Said Winship further testifies, that he marched with said troops till he came within about half a quarter of a mile of said meeting-house, where an Officer commanded the troops to halt, and then to prime and load, this being done the said troops marched on till they came within a few rods of Capt. Parker's company, who were partly collected on the place of parade, when said Winship observed an Officer at the head of said troops, flourishing his sword, and with a loud voice giving the word fire, fire, which was instantly followed by a discharge of arms from said regular troops, and said Winship is positive and in the most solemn manner declares, that there was no discharge of arms on either side till the word fire was given by said Officer as above.

Lexington, April 25, 1775.

" I John Parker, of lawful age, and commander of the militia in Lexington, do testify and declare, that on the 19th instant, in the morning, about one of the clock, being informed that there were a number of regular Officers riding up and down the road, stopping and insulting people as they passed the road; and also was informed that a number of regular troops were on their march from Boston, in order to take the province stores at Concord, ordered our militia to meet on the Common in said Lexington, to consult what to do, and concluded not to be discovered, nor meddle or make with said regular troops (if they should approach) unless they should insult or molest us;---and upon their sudden approach I immediately ordered our Militia to disperse and not

not to fire.---Immediately said troops made their appearance and rushed furiously, fired upon and killed eight of our party, without receiving any provocation theretor from us.

John Parker."

Lexington, April 24, 1775.

" I John Robins, being of lawful age, do testify and say, that on the 19th inst. the company under the command of Capt. John Parker, being drawn up (sometime before sun rise) on the green or common, and I being in the front rank, there suddenly appeared a number of the King's troops, about a thousand as I thought, at the distance of about 60 or 70 yards from us huzzaing, and on a quick pace towards us, with three officers in their front on horse-back and on full gallop towards us, the foremost of which cried, throw down your arms ye villains, ye rebels, upon which said company dispersing, the foremost of the three officers ordered their men, saying fire, by God fire, at which moment we received a very heavy and close fire from them, at which instant, being wounded I fell, and several of our men were shot dead by me. Capt. Parker's men I believe had not then fired a gun, and further the deponent saith not.

had detained and insulted the inhabitants passing the same; and also understanding that a body of regulars were marching from Bolton towards Concord, with intent (as it was supposed) to take the stores belonging to the colony in that town, we were alarmed, and having met at the place of our company's parade, were dismissed by our Captain, John Parker, for the present, with orders to be ready to attend at the beat of the drum. We further testify and declare, that about five o'clock in the morning, hearing our drum beat, we proceeded towards the parade, and soon found that a large body of troops were marching towards us: Some of our company were coming up to the parade, and others had reached it, at which time the company began to disperse: Whilst our backs were turned on the troops we were fired on by them, and a number of our men were instantly killed and wounded. Not a gun was fired by any person in our company on the regulars to our knowledge, before they fired on us, and they continued firing until we had all made our escape.

Parker (who commanded us) to disperse for the present, and to be ready to attend the beat of the drum, and accordingly the company went into houses near the place of parade. We further testify and say, that about five o'clock in the morning we attended the beat of our drum and were formed on the parade, we were faced towards the regulars then marching up to us, and some of our company were coming to the parade with their backs towards the troops, and others on the parade began to disperse when the regulars fired on the company before a gun was fired by any of our company on them. They killed eight of our company and wounded several, and continued their fire until we had all made our escape.

She being weak and unable to go out of her house, in order to secure herself and family, they all retired into the kitchen, in the back part of the house. She soon found the house surrounded with the King's troops; that upon observation made, at least seventy bullets were shot into the front part of the house; several bullets lodged in the kitchen where she was, and one pass'd through an easy chair she had just gone from. The door of the front part of the house was broke open; she did not see any soldiers in the house, but supposed, by the noise, they were in the front. " I James Marr, of lawful age, testify and say, that in the evening of the eighteenth instant, I received orders from George Hutchinson, Adjutant of the fourth regiment of the regular troops stationed at Boston, to prepare and march: To which order I attended, and marched to Concord, where I was ordered by an Officer with about one hundred men, to guard a certain bridge there; while attending that service, a number of people came along, in order, as I suppose, to cross said bridge, at which time a number of the regular troops first fired upon them.

Medford, April 25, 1775.

"I, Edward Thoreto Gould, of his Majesty's own regiment of foot, being of lawful age, do testify and declare, that on the evening of the eighteenth instant, under the orders of General Gage, I embarked with the light infantry and grenadiers of the line, commanded by Colonel Smith, and landed on the masses of Cambridge, from whence we proceeded to Lexington; on our arrival at that place, we saw a body of provincial troops armed to the number of about sixty or seventy men, on our approach they dispersed and soon after firing began, but which party fired first I cannot exactly say, as our troops rushed on shouting, and huzzaing, previous to the firing, which was continued by our troops so long as any of the provincials were to be seen. From thence we marched to Concord, on a hill near the entrance of the town, we saw another body of provincials assembled, the light infantry companies were ordered up the hill to disperse them; on our approach they retreated towards Concord; the grenadiers continued the road under the hill towards the town. Six companies of light infantry were ordered down to take possession of the bridge which the provincials retreated over; the company I commanded was one, three companies of the above detachment went forwards about two miles; in the mean time the provincial troops returned, to the number of about three or four hundred: We drew up on the Concord side of the bridge, the provincials came down upon us, upon which we engaged and gave the first fire; this was the first engagement after the one at Lexington; a

To the INHABITANTS of GREAT BRITAIN.

Friends and Fellow Subjects,

"HOSTILITIES are at length commenced in this Colony by the troops under the command of General Gage, and it being of the greatest importance, that an early, true, and authentic account of this inhuman proceeding should be known to you, the Congress of this Colony have transmitted the same, and from want of a session of the Hon. Continental Congress, think it proper to address you on the alarming occasion.

"By the clearest depositions relative to this transaction, it will appear that on the night preceding the nineteenth of April instant, a body of the King's troops, under the command of Colonel Smith, were secretly landed at Cambridge, with an apparent design to take or destroy the military and other stores provided for the defence of this Colony, and deposited at Concord. - That some inhabitants of the Colony, on the night aforesaid, whilst travelling peaceably on the road between Boston and Concord, were seized and greatly abused by armed men, who appeared to be Officers of General Gage's army, that the town of Lexington by these means was alarmed, and a company of the inhabitants mustered on the occasion—That the regular troops, on their way to Concord, marched into the said town of Lexington, and the said company on their approach began to disperse. That notwithstanding this, the regulars rushed on with great violence and first began hostilities, by firing on said Lexington company, whereby they killed eight and wounded several others. That the regulars continued their fire until those of said company, who were neither killed nor wounded, had made their escape. That Col. Smith with the detachment then marched to Concord, where a number of provincials were again fired on by the troops, two of them killed and several wounded. Before the provincials fired on them, and that their hostile measures of the troops produced an engagement that lasted through the day, in which many of the provincials, and more of the regular troops were killed and wounded.

“ To give a particular account of the ravages of the troops, as they retreated from Concord to Charlestown, would be very difficult, if not impracticable; let it suffice to say, that a great number of the houses on the road were plundered and rendered unfit for use; several were burnt; women in child bed were driven, by the soldiery, naked into the streets; old men peacefully in their houses were shot dead; and such scenes exhibited as would disgrace the annals of the most uncivilized nations.

“ THESE, Brethern, are marks of ministerial vengeance against this Colony, for refusing, with her sister Colonies, a submission to Slavery; but they have not yet detached us from our Royal Sovereign. We profess to be his loyal and dutiful subjects, subjects, and so hardly dealt with as we have been are still ready, with our lives and fortunes, to defend his person, family, crown and dignity. Nevertheless, to the Persecution and Tyranny of his cruel Ministry we will not tamely submit. Appealing to Heaven for the justice of our cause, we determine to die or be free.

“ We cannot think that the Honor, Wisdom and Virtue of Britains will suffer them to be long inactive spectators of measures, in which they themselves are so deeply interested—Measures pursued in opposition to the solemn protests of many noble Lords, and expressed sense of conspicuous Commoners, whose knowledge and virtue have long characterized them as some of the greatest men in the nation—Measures executing contrary to the interest, petitions and resolves of many large, respectable and opulent counties, cities and boroughs in Great-Britain—Measures highly incompatible with justice, but still pursued with a specious pretence of easing the nation of its burthens—Measures, which if successful, must end in the ruin and slavery of Britain, as well as the persecuted American Colonies.

“ We sincerely hope, that the Great Sovereign of the Universe, who hath so often appeared for the English Nation, will support you in every rational and manly exertion with these Colonies, for saving it from ruin, and that in a constitutional connection with the Mother

Country,

Country, we shall soon be altogether a free and happy people.

Ordered, THAT the Secretary have the above Depositions and the Address to the Inhabitants of Great-Britain published.

Resolved, N. C. D. THAT the Congress will on Monday next resolve itself into a Committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of America.

Ordered, THAT the letter from the Provincial Congress of Massachusetts-Bay be referred to that Committee.

Adjourned till to morrow at ten o'clock, and from thence to Saturday.

SATURDAY, May 13, 1775.

THE Congress met according to adjournment.

THE Congress being informed that Doctor LYMAN HALL attended at the door as a Delegate from the parish of St. John's, in the colony of Georgia, and desired to know whether as such he may be admitted to this Congress.

Agreed unanimously, THAT he be admitted as a Delegate from the parish of St. John's, in the colony colony of Georgia, subject to such regulations as the Congress shall determine, relative to his voting.

Mr. LYMAN HALL being accordingly admitted, produced his credentials, which were read and approved, and are as follows :

" To the honorable GENTLEMEN of the CONGRESS, designed to be held at Philadelphia on May, A. D. 1775.

" The Address of the Inhabitants of the Parish of St. John's, in the province of Georgia.

" GENTLEMEN,

" To give a particular detail of our many struggles in the cause of liberty, the many meetings thereby occasioned and held in this parish, the endeavours we have used to induce the rest of this province to concur with us, the attendance of our Committee on the provincial Conventions held at Savannah in this province, and particularly that of the 18th of January last, with their proceedings, and the reasons of our dissent from them, we think would be tedious to you, and therefore send a summary abstract, which, with the account, that may be given by LYMAN HALL Esq; appointed a Delegate to represent and act for this parish in the general Continental Congress, to be held in May next, and the testimonies of the honorable Delegates from South-Carolina, we hope will be satisfactory.

IMME-

“ IMMEDIATELY upon our being honored with an answer to the representation of our case, transmitted to the honorable Congress, which sat at Philadelphia last year, with a copy of the Association there entered into, we had a meeting, and our proceedings then and since that time, will in brief appear from the following abstracts of an Address from this parish to the Committee of Correspondence in Charles-Town, South-Carolina, which is as follows.

‘ Gentlemen,

‘ HEREWITH will be communicated to you, the several steps taken by this Parish in their endeavours to conform as near as possible to the Resolutions entered into by the other Colonies : and the particular measures now adopted, for carrying into execution the Continental Association, which we embraced the earliest opportunity of acceding to by subscribing it ; on condition that trade and commerce with the other colonies be continued to us the subscribers ; and thereupon should have immediately sent to you for your approbation and indulgence, but were delayed by a summons to attend a Provincial Congress in Savannah, on the 18th of January last, for the purpose, as we understood, of a general Association with the other Colonies, and chusing Delegates : At which time and place we attended, and acquainted the other parishes assembled on that occasion, that we had already acceded to the general Association, on condition, as abovementioned, and earnestly requested them to do the same. As we of this Parish are a body detached from the rest (i. e. of this province) by our resolutions, and sufficiently distinct by local situation, large enough for particular notice, adjoining a particular port, and in that respect, capable of conforming to the general Association, if connected with you, with the same fidelity as a distant parish of your own province; we must be considered as comprehended within the spirit and equitable meaning of the Continental Association, and hope you will not condemn the innocent with the guilty, especially when a due separation is made between them.

“ To which we received the following Answer :”

‘ Gentlemen,

‘ Your letter, accompanying sundry papers, having been laid before a very full Committee of this colony, and undergone the most mature deliberation : I am by their desire, to acquaint you, that they have the highest sense of your arduous struggles in favour of the common cause of America ; and most sincerely lament your present unhappy situation : But would recommend a continuance of your laudable exertions, and the laying a state of your case before the ensuing Continental Congress, as the only means of obtaining relief, and to put you in the situation you wish, which this Committee apprehend to be entirely out of their power to do, as it is their opinion, that the parish of St. John, being a part of the colony of Georgia (which, by not acceding to, has violated the Continental Association) falls under the 14th article of the said Association, no part of which any Committee can presume to do away, &c.’

“ Upon the receipt of this answer, it was seriously considered in what manner to conduct in the present situation ; and proposed whether we should immediately break off all connexion and commerce with Savannah and all other inhabitants of this province, who have not fully acceded to the continental Association.

“ It was considered, that as we were denied commerce with any other colony, and but one merchant among us considerable for dry goods had had signed our Association, and be insufficient for a present supply, and we utterly unable at present to procure materials or manufactures for cloathing among ourselves, we must, by such a resolution become extremely miserable; it was therefore concluded, that till we could obtain trade and commerce with some other colony, it is absolutely necessary to continue it in some respects with our own, and determined that it be carried on under the following regulations.

“ 1. THAT none of us shall directly or indirectly purchase any slave imported at Savannah, (large numbers of which we understand are there expected,) till the sense of the Congress shall be made known to us.

“ 2. THAT we will not trade at all with any merchant at Savannah or elsewhere, that will not join in our associating Agreement, otherwise than under the inspection of a Committee for that purpose appointed, and for such things only as they shall judge necessary, and when they shall think there are necessary reasons for so doing.

“ A COMMITTEE was then nominated and appointed to sit weekly on Thursdays, for the purposes aforesaid.

“ IT was then resolved that a Delegate be sent from this parish to the Congress, to be held at Philadelphia in May next, and that Tuesday the 21st of March be appointed for choosing one.

" On the said 21st of March, at a full meeting LYMAN HALL, Esq; was unanimously chosen to represent and act for the inhabitants of this parish, as a De'egate, at the general Congress to be held in Philadelphia in May next, who are determined faithfully to adhere to and abide by the determinations of him and the other honorable Members of the same.

Members of the Committee.

A PETITION from the county of Frederic, in Virginia, addressed to the Congress, was presented and read.

Adjourned till Monday at 9 o'clock.

MONDAY, May 15, 1775.

The Congress met according to adjournment.

BESIDES those who met at the opening of the Congress, the following Members attended, from New-York, Mr. JAY, Mr. WISNER, Mr. SCHUYLER,

SCHUYLER, Mr. CLINTON, Mr. MORRIS, and
Mr. R. R. LIVINGSTON; from Pennsylvania,
Mr. WILSON; from Maryland, Mr. STONE and Mr. GOLDSBOROUGH.

Upon motion, Agreed, THAT the Secretary be allowed to employ Timothy Matlack as a clerk, he having first taken an oath or affirmation to keep secret the transactions of the Congress,
that may be entrusted to him or may come to his knowledge.

THE city and county of New-York having,
through the Delegates of that province, applied to Congress for advice, how to conduct themselves with regard to the troops expected there,
the Congress took the matter into consideration.
During their deliberations, it became necessary
to take the opinion of the Congress by Colonies,
upon which a question arose, whether the Delegate from the parish of St. John's, in the Colony of Georgia, could be admitted to vote. After some debate on this question, the Delegate from that parish arose, and after observing, that the present distressed situation of American affairs had induced a necessity of this Congress, which was composed of Delegates representing whole Colonies; that as he did not represent a Colony, but only a part, he did not insist on giving a vote as a Colony, but was contented to hear and assist in the debates, and to give his vote
in all cases, except when the sentiments of the Congress were taken by Colonies.

THE Congress then resumed the consideration of the matter referred to them; during the debate SAMUEL WARD, Esq; one of the Delegates from Rhode-Island, appeared and produced his Credentials, which being read, were approved, and are as follows:

(L. S.) By the Honorable the General Assembly of the English Colony of Rhode-Island, and Providence Plantations, in New-England, in America.

To the Honorable STEPHEN HOPKINS, Esq; and the Honorable SAMUEL WARD, Esq;

Greeting,

WHEREAS the general Assembly of the Colony aforesaid, have nominated and appointed you, the said STEPHEN HOPKINS and SAMUEL WARD, to represent the people of this Colony in a General Congress of Representatives from this and the other Colonies, to be holden in the city of Philadelphia, and there in behalf of this Colony, to meet and join with the Commissioners or Delegates from the other Colonies, in consulting upon proper measures to obtain a repeal of the several acts of the British Parliament for levying taxes upon his Majesty's subjects in America without their consent, and upon proper measures, to establish the Rights and Liberties of the Colonies upon a just and solid foundation, agreeable to the instructions given you by the General Assembly.

By virtue of an Act of the General Assembly,
I, HENRY WARD, Esq; Secretary of the said Colony,

Colony, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of the said Colony, this seventh day of May, A. D. 1775, and in the fiftenth year of the reign of his most sacred Majesty George the Third, by the grace of God, King of Great-Britain, &c.

(Signed)

HENRY WARD.

THE matter under consideration being resumed, the Congress

Resolved, THAT it be recommended, for the present, to the inhabitants of New-York, that if the troops, which are expected, should arrive; the said Colony act on the defensive, so long as may be consistent with their safety and security; that the troops be permitted to remain in the barracks, so long as they behave peaceably and quietly, but that they be not suffered to erect fortifications, or take any steps for cutting off the communication between the town and country, and that if they commit hostilities or invade private property, the inhabitants should defend themselves and their property, and repel force by force; that the warlike stores be removed from the town; that places of retreat, in case of necessity, be provided for the women and children of New-York; and that a sufficient number of men be embodied, and kept in constant readinels for protecting the inhabitants from insult and injury.

Two memorials, one from Samuel Shoemaker, the other from James and Drinker, merchants of

of this city, respecting some cargoes purchased by them and intended for Newfoundland, but which are stopped by the Committee of this city, were laid before the Congress and read, and ordered to lie on the table.

Upon motion, Resolved, THAT Mr. Washington, Mr. Lynch, Mr. S. Adams, and the Delegates from New-York, be a Committee to consider what posts are necessary to be occupied in the Colony of New-York, and that they be desired to report as speedily as possible.

Resolved, THAT this Congress will to-morrow resolve itself into a Committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of America.

Adjourned to 9 o'clock to-morrow.

TUESDAY, May 16, 1775.

The Congress met according to adjournment.

A MEMORIAL from Robert and John Murray, of New-York, was laid before the Congress and read.

Ordered, To lie on the table.

AGREEABLE to the order of the day, the Congress resolved itself into a Committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of America, after some time spent therein, the President resumed the Chair, and Mr. Tilghman reported from the Committee, that they had taken the matter referred to them into consideration, tion, but not having come to any resolution, desired him to move for leave to sit again.

Resolved, THAT this Congress will to-morrow again resolve itself into a Committee of the whole, to take into their farther consideration the state of America.

Adjourned till to-morrow at 12 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY, May 17, 1775.

THE Congress met according to adjournment, and the order of the day being postponed till to-morrow;

Upon motion, Resolved unanimously, THAT all exportations to Quebec, Nova-Scotia, the island of St. John's, Newfoundland, Georgia, except the parish of St. John's, and to East and West Florida, immediately cease, and that no provision of any kind, or other necessaries be furnished to the British fisheries on the American coasts, until it be otherwise determined by the Congress.

Ordered, THAT this be published immediately.

The Congress met according to adjournment.

THE HON. STEPHEN HOPKIN, Esq, from Rhode-Island, and PATRICK HENRY, Esq, from Virginia, attended and took their seats in Congress.

Upon motion, Resolved, THAT the rules of conduct to be observed in debating and determining questions, laid down by the last Congress, be adopted and observed by the present Congress.

THE President laid before the Congress some important intelligence he received last night by express, relative to the surprizing and taking of Ticonderoga, by a detachment from Massachusetts-Bay and Connecticut, which was read.

Upon motion, Agreed, THAT Mr. Brown who brought the express be called in : After he withdrew, the Congress taking into consideration the letters and intelligence communicated to them,

THE Committee, appointed to consider what posts are necessary to be occupied in the Colony of New-York, and by what number of troops it will be proper they should be guarded, brought in their report, which being read, was referred to the Committee of the whole.

AGREEABLE to the order of the day the Congress resolved themselves into a Committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of America, and continued so to do from day to day till Wednesday, 24th, on which day the Hon. Peyton Randolph, President, being under a necessity of returning home, and having set out this morning early, the Chair was vacant, whereupon,

On motion. THE HON. JOHN HANCOCK, Esq; was unanimously chosen President.

THE Congress then resolved themselves into a committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of America, and repeated the same on the day following.

On FRIDAY, May 26, 1775.

THE Congress being met according to adjournment, one of the Delegates from New-Jersey laid before them a minute from the journals of the Assembly of that Colony, together with a resolution of the Commons of Great-Britain, which were read as follows:

 express purpose of securing and defending these Colonies, and preserving them in safety against all attempts to carry the said acts into execution by force of arms, these Colonies be immediately put into a state of defence.

BUT, as we most ardently wish for a restoration of the harmony formerly subsisting between our mother country and these Colonies, the interruption of which must, at all events, be exceedingly injurious to both countries, that with a sincere design of contributing by all the means in our power, not incompatible with a just

just regard for the undoubted rights and true interests of these Colonies, to the promotion of this most desirable reconciliation, an humble and dutiful petition be presented to his Majesty.

Resolved, THAT measures be entered into for opening a negotiation, in order to accommodate the unhappy disputes subsisting between Great-Britain and these Colonies, and that this be made a part of the petition to the King.

Resolved unanimously, THAT the militia of New-York be armed and trained, and in constant readiness to act at a moment's warning; and that a number of men be immediately embodied and kept in that city, and so disposed of as to give protection to the inhabitants, in case any insult should be offered by the troops, that may land there, and to prevent any attempts that may be made to gain possession of the city, and interrupt its intercourse with the country.

Resolved unanimously, THAT it be recommended to the provincial Convention at New-York, to persevere the more vigourously in preparing for their defence, as it is very uncertain whether the earnest endeavours of the Congress, to accommodate the unhappy differences between Great-Britain and the Colonies, by conciliatory measures, will be successful.

Upon motion, agreed, THAT Mr. Jay, Mr. S. Adams, and Mr. Deane, be a Committee to prepare and bring in a letter to the people of Canada.

Resolved,

Resolved, THAT this Congress will to-morrow again resolve itself into a Committee of the whole, to take into their farther consideration the state of America.

Adjourned till to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

Ordered, THAT he be introduced, which was done.

THE Committee appointed to draught a letter to the inhabitants of Canada, brought in the letter, which was read, and after some debate, re-committed to the same Committee.

Resolved, THAT where any person hath been or shall be adjudged by a Committee, to have violated the Continental Association, and such offender shall satisfy the Convention of the Colony, where the offence was or shall be committed, or the Committee of the parish of St. John's, in the colony of Georgia, if the offence be committed there, of his contrition for his offence, and sincere resolution to conform to the Association for the future, the said Convention or Committee, of the parish of St. John's aforesaid, may settle the terms; upon which he may be restored to the favour and forgiveness of the public, and that the terms be published.

Ordered, THAT this be made public.

Resolved, THAT the order of the day be postponed till monday.

MONDAY, May 29, 1775.

The Congress met according to adjournment.

THE Committee to whom the letter to the inhabitants of Canada was re-committed, brought in the same, was read and approved and is as follows:

To

To the oppressed INHABITANTS of C A N A D A.

FRIENDS and COUNTRYMEN,

ALARMED by the designs of an arbitrary Ministry to extirpate the rights and liberties of all America, a sense of common danger conspired with the dictates of humanity, in urging us to call your attention, by our late Address, to this very important object.

SINCE the conclusion of the late war, we have been happy in considering you as fellow subjects, and from the commencement of the present plan for subjugating the Continent, we have viewed you as fellow sufferers with us. As we were both entitled by the bounty of an indulgent Creator to freedom, and being both devoted, by the cruel edicts of a despotic Administration, to common ruin, we perceived the fate of the protestant and catholic Colonies to be strongly linked together, and therefore invited you to join with us in resolving to be free, and in rejecting, with disdain, the fetters of slavery, however artfully polished.

WE most sincerely condole with you on the arrival of that day, in the course of which, the sun could not shine on a single free-man in all your extensive dominion. Be assured that your unmerited degradation has engaged the most unfeigned pity of your sister Colonies; and we flatter ourselves you will not, by tamely bearing the yoke, suffer that pity to be supplanted by contempt.

I 2

WHEN

When hardy attempts are made to deprive men of it his blessing by the Almighty, when avenues are cut through the most solemn compacts for the admission of despotism, when the purified faith of government ceases to give security to loyal and dutiful subjects; and when the insidious strata ems and manœuvres of peace become more terrible than the sanguinary operations of war, it is high time for them to assert their rights, and, with honest indignation, oppose the torrent of oppression rushing in upon them.

By the introduction of your present form of government, or rather present form of tyranny, you and your wives and your children are made slaves. You have nothing that you can call your own, and all the fruits of your labour and industry may be taken from you, whenever an ambitious Governor and a rapacious Council may incline to demand them. You are liable by their edicts to be transported into foreign countries to fight battles, in which you have no interest, and to spill your blood in conflicts from which neither honor nor emolument can be derived: Nay, the enjoyment of your very religion, on the present system, depends on a legislature, in which you have no share, and over which you have no controul, and your Priests are exposed to expulsion, banishment and ruin, when ever their wealth and possessions furnish sufficient temptation. They cannot be sure that a virtuous Prince will always fill the Throne, and should a wicked or a careless King concur with a wicked Ministry in extracting the treasure

treasure and strength of your country, it is impossible to conceive to what variety and to what extremes of wretchedness you may, under the present establishment, be reduced.

WE are informed you have already been called upon to waste your lives in a contest with us. Should you, by complying in this instance, assent to your new establishment, and a war break out with France, your wealth and your sons may be sent to perish in expeditions against their islands in the West-Indies.

IT cannot be presumed that these considerations will have no weight with you, or that you are so lost to all sense of honor. We can never believe that the present race of Canadians are so degenerated as to profess neither the spirit, the gallantry, or the courage of their ancestors. You certainly will not permit the infamy and disgrace of such pusillanimity to rest on your own heads, and the consequences of it on your children forever.

WE for our parts are determined to live free or not at all, and are resolved that posterity shall never reproach us with having brought slaves into the world.

PERMIT us again to repeat that we are your friends, not your enemies, and be not impoted upon by those, who may endeavour to create animosities. The taking of the fort and military stores at Ticonderoga and Crown-Point, and the armed vessels on the lake, was dictated by

by the great law of Self preservation. They were intended to annoy us, and to cut off that friendly intercourse and communication, which has hitherto subsisted between you and us. We hope it has given you no uneasiness, and you may rely on our assurance, that these Colonies will pursue no measures whatever, but such as friendship and a regard for our mutual safety and interest may suggest.

As our concern for your welfare entitles us to your friendship, we presume you will not, by doing us injury, reduce us to the disagreeable necessity of treating you as enemies.

We yet entertain hopes of your uniting with us in the defence of our common liberty, and there is yet reason to believe, that should we join in imploring the attention of our Sovereign, to the unmerited and unparalleled oppressions of his American subjects, he will at length be undeceived, and forbid a licentious Ministry any longer to riot in the ruins of the rights of mankind.

Ordered, THAT the above letter be signed by the President.

Ordered, THAT Mr. Dickinson and Mr. Mifflin be a Committee to get the letter translated into the French language, and to have one thousand copies of it, so translated, printed, in order to be sent to Canada and dispersed among the inhabitants there.

Upen.

Upon motion, Resolved, THAT no provisions or necessaries of any kind be exported to the Island of Nantucket, except from the Colony of Massachusetts-Bay, the Convention of which Colony is desired to take measures for effectually providing the said Island, upon their application to purchase the same, with as much provision, as shall be necessary for its internal use and no more.

THE Congress deeming it of great importance to North America, that the British fishery should not be furnished with provisions from the Continent through Nantucket, earnestly recommend a vigilant execution of this resolve to all Committees.

Ordered, THAT the above resolve be immediately published.

As the present critical situation of the Colonies renders it highly necessary that ways and means should be devised for the speedy and secure conveyance of intelligence from one end of the Continent to the other,

Resolved, THAT Mr. Franklin, Mr. Lynch, Mr. Lee, Mr. Willing, Mr. S. Adams, and Mr. P. Livingston, be a Committee to consider the best means of establishing posts for conveying letters and intelligence through this continent.

Resolved, THAT the order of the day be postponed till to-morrow.

Adjourned till to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

TUESDAY,

Upon.

TUESDAY, May 30, 1775.

The Congress met according to adjournment.

A MEMBER informed the Congress, that a Gentleman just arrived from London, had bro't with him a paper, which he says he received from Lord North, and which was written, at the desire of his Lordship, by Mr. Gray Cooper, Under-Secretary to the Treasury, and as the Gentleman understood it to be his Lordship's desire that it should be communicated to the Congress, for that purpose he had put it into his hands. The Member farther observed, that he had shewn the paper to a Member near him, who was well acquainted with the hand writing of Mr. Cooper, and that he verily believes the paper was written by Mr. Cooper.

THE paper being read, is as follows :

THAT it is earnestly hoped by all the real friends of the Americans, that the terms expressed in the Resolution of the 20th of February last, will be accepted by all the Colonies, who have the least affection for their King and country, or a just sense of their own interest.

That these terms are honorable for Great Britain and safe for the Colonies,

That if the Colonies are not blinded by faction, these terms will remove every grievance relative to taxation, and be the basis of a compact between the Colonies and the Mother-Country.

That

That the people in America ought, on every consideration, to be satisfied with them.

That no further relaxation can be admitted.

The temper and spirit of the nation are so much against concessions, that if it were the intention of Administration, they could not carry the question.

But Administration have no such intention, as they are fully and firmly persuaded, that further concessions would be injurious to the Colonies as well as to Great-Britain.

That there is not the least probability of a change of Administration.

That they are perfectly united in opinion, and determined to pursue the most effectual measures, and to use the whole force of the kingdom, if it be found necessary, to reduce the rebellious and refractory Provinces and Colonies.

There is so great a spirit in the nation against the Congress, that the people will bear the temporary distresses of a stoppage of the American trade.

They may depend on this to be true.

Ordered, To lie on the table.

AGREABLE to the order of the day, the Congress resolved itself into a Committee of the whole, to take into consideration the state of America, and continued so to do the day following the Colonies, or make it their great study to establish such a form of government there, as shall not only promote their advantage, but the union and interest of all America."

Met according to adjournment.

THE Committee appointed to prepare a resolution for a Fast, brought in their report, which being read, was agreed to as follows:

As the Great Governor of the World, by his supreme and universal Providence, not only conducts the course of nature with unerring wisdom and rectitude, but frequently influences the minds of men to serve the wise and gracious purposes of his providential Government; and it being at all times our indispensable duty devoutly to acknowledge his superintending Providence, especially in times of impending danger and public calamity, to reverence and adore his immutable justice, as well as to implore his merciful interposition for our deliverance.

THIS Congress, therefore, considering the present critical, alarming and calamitous state of these Colonies, do earnestly recommend that Thursday, the 20th day of July next, be observed by the inhabitants of all the English Colonies on this continent, as a day of public Humiliation, Fasting and Prayer; that we may, with united hearts and voices, unfeignedly confess and deplore our many sins; and offer up our joint supplications to the all-wise, omnipotent and merciful disposer of all events, humbly beseeching him to forgive our iniquities, to remove our present calamities, to avert those desolating judgments, with which we are threatened, and to bless our rightful Sovereign King George the Third, and inspire him with wisdom to discern and pursue the true interest of his subjects, that a speedy end may be put to the civil discord between Great-Britain and the American Colonies without further effusion of blood: And that the British nation may be influenced to regard the things that belong to her peace, before they are hid from her eyes: That these Colonies may ever be under the care and protection of a kind Providence, and be prospered in all their interests: That the divine blessing may descend and rest upon all our civil rulers, and upon the representatives of the people in their several Assemblies and Conventions, that they may be directed to wise and effectual measures for preserving the union and securing the just rights and privileges of the Colonies: That virtue and true religion may revive and flourish throughout our land: And that all America may soon behold a gracious interposition of Heaven for the redress of her many grievances, the restoration of her invaded rights, a reconciliation with the parent state, on terms constitutional and honorable to both: And that her civil and religious privileges may be secured to the latest posterity.

AND it is recommended to Christians of all denominations to assemble for public worship, and to abstain from servile labour and recreation on said day.

Ordered, THAT a copy of the above be signed by the President, and attested by the Secretary, and published in the new-papers and in handbills.

A DECLARATION by the REPRESENTATIVES of the United Colonies of North-America. now met in Congress at Philadelphia, setting forth the causes and necessity of their taking up Arms.

If it was possible for men, who exercise their reason to believe, that the Divine Author of our existence intended a part of the human race to hold an absolute property in, and an unbounded power over others, marked out by his infinite goodness and wisdom, as the objects of a legal dominion never rightfully resistible, however severe and oppressive, the Inhabitants of these Colonies might at least require from the Parliament of Great-Britain some evidence, that this dreadful authority over them has been granted to that body. But a reverence for our great Creator, principles of humanity, and the dictates of common sense, must convince all those who reflect upon the subject, that government was instituted to promote the welfare of mankind, and ought to be administered for the attainment of that end. The legislature of Great-Britain, however, stimulated by an inordinate passion for a power not only unjustifiable, but which they know to be peculiarly reprobated by the very constitution of that kingdom, and desperate of success in any mode of contest, where regard should be had to truth, law, or right, have at length, deserting those, attempted to effect their cruel and impolitic purpose of enslaving these Colonies

Colonies by violence, and have thereby rendered it necessary for us to close with their last appeal from Reason to Arms---Yet, however blinded that assembly may be, by their intemperate rage for unlimited domination, so to slight justice and the opinion of mankind, we esteem ourselves bound by obligations of respect to the rest of the world, to make known the justice of our cause.

OUR forefathers, inhabitants of the island of Great-Britain, left their native land, to seek on these shores a residence for civil and religious freedom. At the expence of their blood, at the hazard of their fortunes, without the least charge to the country from which they removed, by unceasing labor and an unconquerable spirit, they effected settlements in the distant and inhospitable wilds of America, then filled with numerous and warlike nations of barbarians--- Societies or governments, vested with perfect legislatures, were formed under charters from the crown, and an harmonious intercourse was established between the colonies and the kingdom from which they derived their origin. The mutual benefits of this union became in a short time so extraordinary, as to excite astonishment. It is universally confessed, that the amazing increase of the wealth, strength and navigation of the realm, arose from this source; and the minister, who so wisely and successfully directed the measures of Great-Britain in the late war, publicly declared, that these colonies enabled her to triumph over her enemies---Towards the conclusion of that war, it pleased our sovereign to make make a change in his counsels.---From that fatal moment, the affairs of the British empire began to fall into confusion, and gradually sliding from the summit of glorious prosperity to which they had been advanced by the virtues and abilities of one man, are at length distracted by the convulsions, that now shake it to its deepest foundations.---The new ministry finding the brave foes of Britain, though frequently defeated, yet still contending, took up the unfortunate idea of granting them a hasty peace, and of then subduing her faithful friends.

THESE devoted Colonies were judged to be in such a state, as to present victories without bloodshed, and all the easy emoluments of statuteable plunder.---The uninterrupted tenor of their peaceable and respectful behaviour from the beginning of colonization, their dutiful, zealous and useful services during the war, tho' so recently and amply acknowledged in the most honorable manner by his Majesty, by the late King, and by Parliament, could not save them from the meditated innovations.---Parliament was influenced to adopt the pernicious project, and assuming a new power over them, have in the course of eleven years given such decisive specimens of the spirit and consequences attending this power, as to leave no doubt concerning the effects of acquiescence under it. They have undertaken to give and grant our money without our consent, though we have ever exercised an exclusive right to dispose of our own property; statutes have been passed for extending the jurisdiction of courts of Admiralty and Vice-Admiralty

priving us of the accustomed and inestimable privilege of trial by jury in cases affecting both life and property; for suspending the legislature of one of the colonies; for interdicting all commerce to the capital of another; and for altering fundamentally the form of government established by charter, and secured by acts of its own legislature solemnly confirmed by the crown; for exempting the "murderers" of colonists from legal trial, and in effect, from punishment; for erecting in a neighbouring province, acquired by the joint arms of Great-Britain and America, a despotism dangerous to our very existence; and for quartering soldiers upon the colonists in time of profound peace. It has also been resolved in parliament, that colonists charged with committing certain offences, shall be transported to England to be tried.

BUT why should we enumerate our injuries in detail? By one statute it is declared, that parliament can "of right make laws to bind us IN ALL CASES WHATSOEVER." What is to defend us against so enormous, so unlimited a power? Not a single man of those who assume it, is chosen by us; or is subject to our controul or influence; but on the contrary, they are all of them exempt from the operation of such laws,
and an American revenue, if not diverted from
the ostensible purposes for which it is raised,
would actually lighten their own burdens in proportion, as they increase ours. We saw the misery to which such despotism would reduce us.
We for ten years incessantly and ineffectually besieged

besieged the Throne as supplicants ; we reasoned, we remonstrated with parliament in the most mild and decent language.

ADMINISTRATION sensible that we should regard these oppressive measures as freemen ought to do, sent over fleets and armies to enforce them. The indignation of the Americans, was roused it is true ; but it was the indignation of a virtuous, loyal, and affectionate people. A Congress of Delegates from the united colonies was assembled at Philadelphia, on the first day of last September. We resolved again to offer an humble and dutiful petition to the King, and also addressed our fellow subjects of Great Britain. We have pursued every temperate, every respectful measure, we have even proceeded to break off our commercial intercourse with our fellow subjects, as the last peaceable admonition, that our attachment to no nation upon earth should supplant our attachment to liberty.— This, we flattered ourselves, was the ultimate step of the controversy : But subsequent events have shewn, how vain was this hope of finding moderation in our enemies.

SEVERAL threatening expressions against the Colonies were inserted in his Majesty's Speech ; our petition, though we were told it was a decent one, that his Majesty had been pleased to receive it graciously, and to promise laying it before his Parliament, was huddled into both houses among a bundle of American papers, and there neglected. The Lords and Commons in their address, in the month of February, said,

 to enforce due obedience to the laws and autho-

 commercial intercourfe of whole Colonies, with foreign countries, and with each other, was cut off by an act of Parliament; by another, feveral
 of them were intirely prohibited from the fisheries
 in the feas near their cofts, on which they always depended for their fufenance; and large re-inforcements of fhips and troops were imme-diftinguifhed Peers and Commoners, who nobly

 and ftrenuoufly asserted the juftice of our caufe,

 which thefe accumulated and unexampled outrages were hurried on.—Equally fruitless was the interference of the city of London, of Briffavour. Parliament adopted an infidious man-miserable rapacity, with the miserable indulgence left to us of raising, in our own mode, the prescribed tribute. What terms more rigid and humiliating could have been dictated by remorseless victors to conquered enemies? In our circumstances to accept them would be to deserve them.

Soon after the intelligence of these proceedings arrived on this continent, General Gage, who in the course of the last year, had taken possession of the town of Boston, in the province of Massachusetts-Bay, and still occupied it as a garrison, on the 19th day of April, sent out from that place a large detachment of his army, who made an unprovoked assault on the inhabitants of the said province, at the town of Lexington, as appears by the affidavits of a great number of persons, some of whom were officers and soldiers of that detachment, murdered eight of the inhabitants, and wounded many others. From thence the troops proceeded in warlike array to the town of Concord, where they set upon another party of the inhabitants of the same province, killing several and wounding more, until compelled to retreat by the country people suddenly assembled to repel this cruel aggression. Hostilities, thus commenced by the British troops, have been since prosecuted by them without regard to faith or reputation.---The inhabitants of Boston being confined within that town by the General their Governor, and having, in order to procure their dismissal, entered into a treaty with him, it was stipulated that the said inhabitants having deposited their arms

in open violation of honor, in defiance of the obligation of treaties, which even savage nations esteemed sacred, the Governor ordered the arms deposited as aforesaid, that they might be preserved for their owners, to be seized by a body of soldiers; detained the greatest part of the inhabitants in the town, and compelled the few who were permitted to retire, to leave their most valuable effects behind.

By this perfidy, wives are separated from their husbands, children from their parents, the aged and the sick from their relations and friends, who wish to attend and comfort them; and those who have been used to live in plenty, and even elegance, are reduced to deplorable distress.

THE General further emulating his ministerial masters, by a proclamation bearing date on the 12th day of June, after venting the grossest
falshoods and calumnies against the good people of these Colonies, proceeds to "declare them
" all either by name or description to be rebels

countrymen; have wantonly burnt Charlestown,

and he is exerting his utmost power to spread destruction and devastation around him.

We have received certain intelligence, that General Carleton, the Governor of Canada, is instigating the people of that province and the Indians to fall upon us; and we have but too much reason to apprehend, that schemes have been formed to excite domestic enemies against us. In brief, a part of these colonies now feel, and all of them are full of feeling, as far as the vengeance of administration can inflict them, the complicated calamities of fire, sword and famine.—We are reduced to the alternative of choosing an unconditional submission to the tyranny of irritated ministers, or resistance by force.—The latter is our choice.—We have counted the cost of this contest, and find nothing so dreadful as voluntary slavery.—Honor, justice, and humanity forbid us tamely to surrender that freedom which we received from our gallant ancestors, and which our innocent posterity have a right to receive from us. We cannot endure the infamy and guilt of resigning succeeding generations to that wretchedness which inevitably awaits them, if we basely entail hereditary bondage upon them.

Our cause is just. Our union is perfect. Our internal resources are great, and if necessary, foreign assistance is undoubtedly attainable.—We gratefully acknowledge, as signal instances of the Divine favour towards us, that his Providence would not permit us to be called into this severe controversy, until we were grown up to our present strength, had been previously exercised in warlike operation, and possessed of the means of defending ourselves.—With hearts fortified

WITH an humble confidence in the mercies of the supreme and impartial Judge and Ruler of the Universe, we most devoutly implore his divine goodness to protect us happily through this great conflict, to dispose our adversaries to reconciliation on reasonable terms, and thereby to relieve the empire from the calamities of civil war.

On a motion made, Resolved, THAT a letter be prepared to the Lord Mayor, Aldermen, and Livery of the city of London, expressing the thanks of this Congress, for their virtuous and spirited opposition to the oppressive and ruinous system of Colony Administration adopted by the British Ministry.

their permanency and encrease, that the wonder and envy of other nations were excited, while they beheld Great-Britain rising to a power the most extraordinary, the world had ever known.

Her rivals, observing that there was no probability of this happy connexion being broken by civil dissensions, and apprehending its future effects, if left any longer undisturbed, resolved to prevent her receiving such continual and formidable accessions of wealth and strength, by checking the growth of those settlements from which they were to be derived.

In the prosecution of this attempt, events so unfavourable to the design took place, that every friend to the interest of Great-Britain and these Colonies, entertained pleasing and reasonable expectations of seeing an additional force and exertion immediately given to the operations of the union hitherto experienced, by an enlargement of the dominions of the crown, and the removal of ancient and warlike enemies to a greater distance.

At the conclusion therefore of the late war, the most glorious and advantageous that ever had been carried on by British arms, your loyal Colonists, having contributed to its success, by such repeated and strenuous exertions, as frequently procured them the distinguished approbation of your Majesty, of the late King, and of Parliament, doubted not, but that they should be permitted, with the rest of the empire, to share in the blessings of peace, and the emoluments of victory and conquest.

WHILE these recent and honorable acknowledgements of their merits remained on record in the journals and acts of that august legislature, the Parliament, unafected by the imputation or even the suspicion of any offence, they were alarmed by a new system of statutes and regulations adopted for the administration of the Colonies, that filled their minds with the most painful fears and jealousies; and, to their inexpressible astonishment, perceived the danger of a foreign quarrel quickly succeeded by domestic danger, in their judgment of a more dreadful kind.

Nor were these anxieties alleviated by any tendency in this system to promote the welfare of their Mother Country. For though its effects were more immediately felt by them, yet its influence appeared to be injurious to the commerce and prosperity of Great-Britain.

We shall decline the ungrateful task of describing the irksome variety of artifices, practised by many of your Majesty's ministers, the delusive pretences, fruitless terrors, and unavailing severities, that have from time to time been dealt out by them, in their attempts to execute this impolitic plan, or of tracing through a series of years past the progress of the unhappy differences between Great-Britain and these Colonies, that have flowed from this fatal source.

Your Majesty's ministers, persevering in their measures, and proceeding to open hostilities for enforcing them, have compelled us to

arm

arm in our own defence, and have engaged us in a controversy so peculiarly abhorrent to the affections of your still faithful Colonists, that when we consider whom we must oppose in this contest, and if it continues, what may be the consequences, our own particular misfortunes are accounted by us only as parts of our distress.

KNOWING to what violent resentments and incurable animosities, civil discords are apt to exasperate and inflame the contending parties, we think ourselves required by indispensable obligations to Almighty God, to your Majesty, to our fellow-subjects, and to ourselves, immediately to use all the means in our power, not incompatible with our safety, for stopping the further effusion of blood, and for averting the impending calamities that threaten the British empire.

THUS called upon to address your Majesty on affairs of such moment to America, and probably to all your dominions, we are earnestly desirous of performing this office, with the utmost deference for your Majesty; and we therefore pray, that your Majesty's royal magnanimity and benevolence may make the most favourable constructions of our expressions on so uncommon an occasion. Could we represent, in their full force, the sentiments, that agitate the minds of us your dutiful subjects, we are persuaded, your Majesty would ascribe any seeming deviation from reverence in our language, and even in our conduct, not to any reprehensible intention, but to the impossibility of reconciling the usual appearances of respect, with a just attention to our own preservation against those artful and cruel enemies, who abuse your royal confidence and authority, for the purpose of effecting our destruction.

ATTACHED to your Majesty's person, family, and government, with all devotion that principle and affection can inspire, connected with Great Britain by the strongest ties that can unite societies, and deploring every event that tends in any degree to weaken them, we solemnly assure your Majesty, that we not only most ardently desire the former harmony between her and these Colonies may be restored, but that a concord may be established between them upon so firm a basis as to perpetuate its blessings uninterrupted by any future dissensions to succeeding generations in both countries, and to transmit your Majesty's name to posterity, adorned with that signal and lasting glory, that has attended the memory of those illustrious personages, whose virtues and abilities have extricated states from dangerous convulsions, and, by securing happiness to others, have erected the most noble and durable monuments to their own fame.

We beg leave farther to assure your Majesty, that notwithstanding the sufferings of your loyal Colonists, during the course of this present controversy, our breasts retain too tender a regard for the kingdom from which we derive our origin, to request such a reconciliation as might in any manner be inconsistent with her dignity or her welfare. These, related as we are to her, honor and duty as well as inclination induce us to support and advance; and the apprehensions, that now oppress our hearts with unspeakable grief, being once removed, your Majesty will find your faithful subjects on this continent ready and willing at all times, as they have ever been, with their lives and fortunes, to assert and maintain the rights and interests of your Majesty, and of our mother country.

We therefore beseech your Majesty, that your royal authority and influence may be graciously interposed to procure us relief from our afflicting fears and jealousies, occasioned by the system before mentioned, and to settle peace through every part of your dominions, with all humility submitting to your Majesty's wise consideration, whether it may not be expedient for facilitating those important purposes, that your Majesty be pleased to direct some mode, by which the united applications of your faithful Colonists to the Throne, in pursuance of their Common Councils, may be improved into a happy and permanent reconciliation; and that in the mean time measures may be taken for preventing the further destruction of the lives of your Majesty's subjects; and that such statutes as more immediately distress any of your Majesty's Colonies may be repealed.

For by such arrangements as your Majesty's wisdom can form for collecting the united sense of your American people, we are convinced, your Majesty would receive such satisfactory proofs of the disposition of the Colonists towards their their sovereign and the parent state, that the wished for opportunity would soon be restored to them, of evincing the sincerity of their professions, by every testimony of devotion becoming the most dutiful subjects and the most affectionate Colonists.

THAT your Majesty may enjoy a long and prosperous reign, and that your descendants may govern your dominions, with honor to themselves and happiness to their subjects, is our sincere prayer.

THE Committee appointed to prepare a letter to the Lord Mayor, &c. reported the same, which was read.

On motion, Resolved, THAT the same Committee prepare a letter to Richard Penn, Esq; and the Colony Agents by name in England.

THE Congress then resumed the consideration of the address to the inhabitants of Great-Britain, which being debated by paragraphs, was agreed to as follows :

The Twelve United Colonies by their Delegates in Congress, to the Inhabitants of Great-Britain.

Friends, Countrymen, and Brethren!

By these, and by every other appellation, that may designate the ties, which bind US to each other, we entreat your serious attention to this our second attempt to prevent their dissolution.

lution. Remembrance of former friendships, pride in the glorious achievements of our common ancestors and affection for the heirs of their virtues, have hitherto preserved our mutual connection; but when that friendship is violated by the grossest injuries; when the pride of ancestry becomes our reproach, and we are no otherwise allied than as tyrants and slaves; when reduced to the melancholy alternative of renouncing your favor, or our Freedom; can we hesitate about the choice? Let the spirit of Britons determine.

In a former Address, we asserted our Rights and stated the injuries we had then received. We hoped, that the mention of our wrongs would have roused that honest indignation, which has slept too long for your honor, or the welfare of the empire. But we have not been permitted to entertain this pleasing expectation. Every day brought an accumulation of injuries, and the invention of the ministry has been constantly exercised, in adding to the calamities of your American Brethren.

AFTER the most valuable right of legislation was infringed; when the powers, assumed by your parliament, in which we are not represented, and from our local and other circumstances cannot properly be represented, rendered our property precarious; after being denied that mode of trial, to which we have long been indebted for the safety of our Persons and the preservation of our Liberties; after being in many instances divested of those laws, which were transmitted transmitted to US by our common Ancestors, and subjected to an arbitrary code, compiled under the auspices of Roman tyrants; after those charters, which encouraged our predecessors to brave death and danger in every shape, on unknown seas, in deserts unexplored, amidst barbarous and inhospitable nations, were annulled; when, without the form of trial, without a public accusation, whole colonies were condemned; their trade destroyed, their inhabitants impoverished; when soldiers were encouraged to embrace their hands in the blood of Americans, by offers of impunity; when new modes of trial were instituted for the ruin of the accused, where the charge carried with it the horrors of conviction; when a despotic government was established in a neighbouring province, and its limits extended to every of our frontiers; we little imagined that any thing could be added to this black catalogue of unprovoked injuries: but we have unhappily been deceived; and the late measures of the British ministry fully convince us, that their object is the reduction of these colonies to slavery and ruin.

To confirm this assertion, let us recal your attention to the affairs of America, since our last address. Let us combat the calumnies of our enemies; and let us warn you of the dangers that threaten you, in our destruction. Many of your fellow subjects, whose situation deprived them of other support, drew their maintenance from the sea; but the deprivation of our Liberty being insufficient to satisfy the resentment of our enemies, the horrors of famine were super-added, added, and a British Parliament, who, in better times, were the protectors of innocence and the patrons of humanity, have, without distinction of age or sex, robbed thousands of the food, which they were accustomed to draw from that inexhaustible source, placed in their neighbourhood by the benevolent Creator.

ANOTHER act of your legislature shuts our ports and prohibits our trade with any but those States, from whom the great law of self-preservation renders it absolutely necessary we should at present withhold our commerce. But this act (whatever may have been its design) we consider rather as injurious to your opulence, than our interest. All our commerce terminates with you; and the wealth, we procure from other nations, is soon exchanged for your superfluities. Our remittances must then cease with our trade; and our refinements with our affluence. We trust however, that laws, which deprive us of every blessing, but a foil that teems with the necessaries of life and that Liberty which renders the enjoyment of them secure, will not relax our vigour in their defence.

We might here observe on the cruelty and inconsistency of those, who, while they publicly brand us with reproachful and unworthy epithets, endeavour to deprive us of the means of defence, by their interposition with foreign powers, and to deliver us to the lawless ravages of a merciless soldiery. But happily we are not without resources; and though the timid and humiliating applications of a British Ministry should seizing our ships, and depriving whole communities of their daily bread. Nor will a regard for your honor permit us to be silent, while British troops sully your glory, by actions, which the most inveterate enmity will not palliate among civilized nations, the wanton and unnecessary destruction of Charlestown, a large ancient, and once populous town, just before deserted by its inhabitants, who had fled to avoid the fury of your soldiery.

If you still retain those sentiments of compassion, by which Britons have ever been distinguished; if the humanity, which tempered the valour of our common ancestors, has not degenerated into cruelty, you will lament the miseries of their descendants.

To what are we to attribute this treatment? If to any secret principle of the constitution, let it be mentioned; let us learn, that the government, we have long revered, is not without its defects, and that while it gives freedom to a part, it necessarily enslaves the remainder of the empire. If such a principle exists; why for ages has it ceased to operate? Why at this time is it called into action? Can no reason be assigned for this conduct? Or must it be resolved into the wanton exercise of arbitrary power? And shall the descendants of Britons tamely submit to this—No Sirs! We never will, while we revere the memory of our gallant and virtuous ancestors, we never can surrender those glorious privileges, for which they fought, bled and conquered. WE know the force of your arms, and was it called forth in the cause of justice and your country, we might dread the exertion; but will Britons fight under the banners of tyranny? Will they counteract the labours, and disgrace the victories of their ancestors? Will they forge chains for their posterity? If they descend to this unworthy task, will their swords retain their edge, their arms their accustomed vigor? Our enemies charge us with sedition. In what does it consist? In our refusal to submit to unwarantable acts of injustice and cruelty? If so, shew us a period in your history, in which you have not been equally seditious?

WE are accused of aiming at Independence; but how is this accusation supported? By the allegations of your Ministers, not by our actions. Abused, insulted, and contemned, what steps have we pursued to obtain redress? We have carried our dutiful petitions to the Throne.— We have applied to your justice for relief. We have have retrenched our luxury and withheld our trade.

THE advantages of our commerce were designed as a compensation for your protection: When you ceased to protect, for what were we to compensate?

WHAT has been the success of our endeavours? The clemency of our sovereign is unhappily diverted; our petitions are treated with indignity; our prayers answered by insults. Our application to you remains unnoticed and leaves us the melancholy apprehension, of your wanting either the will, or the power, to assist us.

EVEN under these circumstances, what measures have we taken that betray a desire of Independence? Have we called in the aid of those foreign powers, who are the rivals of your grandeur? When your troops were few and defenceless, did we take advantage of their distresses and expel them our towns? Or have we permitted them to fortify, to receive new aid and to acquire additional strength?

LET not your enemies and ours persuade you, that in this we were influenced by fear or any other unworthy motive. The lives of Britons are still dear to us. They are the Children of our Parents, and an uninterrupted intercourse of mutual benefits had knit the bonds of friendship. When hostilities were commenced, when on a late occasion we were wantonly attacked by your troops, though we repelled their assaults and returned their blows; yet we lamented the wounds they obliged us to give; nor have we yet learned to rejoice at a victory over Englishmen.

As we wish not to colour our actions, or disguise our thoughts; we shall, in the simple language of truth, avow the measures we have pursued, the motives, upon which we have acted, and our future designs.

WHEN our late petition to the throne produced no other effect than fresh injuries, and votes of your legislature, calculated to justify every severity; when your fleets and your armies were prepared to wrest from us our property, to rob us of our liberties or our lives;
 when the hostile attempts of General Gage evinced his designs; we levied armies for our security and defence. When the powers, vested in the governor of Canada, gave us reason to apprehend danger from that quarter; and we had frequent intimations, that a cruel and savage enemy was to be let loose upon the defenceless inhabitants of our frontiers; we took such measures as prudence dictated, as necessity will justify. We possessed ourselves of Crown-Point and Ticonderoga. Yet give us leave most solemnly to assure you, that we have not yet lost sight of the object we have ever had in view, a reconciliation with you on constitutional principles, and a restoration of that friendly intercourse, which, to the advantage of both, we till lately maintained.

THE inhabitants of this country apply themselves chiefly to agriculture and commerce. As their fashions and manners are similar to yours, your markets must afford them the conveniences and luxuries, for which they exchange the produce of their labours. The wealth of this extended continent centers with you; and our trade is so regulated as to be subservient only to your interest. You are too reasonable to expect, that by taxes (in addition to this) we should contribute to your expence, to believe after diverting the fountain that the streams can flow with unabated force.

IT has been said, that we refuse to submit to the restrictions on our commerce. From whence is this inference drawn? Not from our words, we having repeatedly declared the contrary; and we again profess our submission to the several acts of trade and navigation passed before the year 1763, trusting nevertheless in the equity and justice of Parliament, that such of them as, upon cool and impartial consideration, shall appear to have imposed unnecessary or grievous restrictions, will, at some happier period, be repealed or altered. And we cheerfully consent to the operation of such acts of the British Parliament as shall be restrained to the regulation of our external commerce, for the purpose of securing the commercial advantages of the whole empire to the Mother-Country, and the commercial benefits of its respective members, excluding every idea of taxation internal or external, for raising a revenue on the subject in America without their consent.

It is alledged that we contribute nothing to the common defence. To this we answer, that the advantages, which Great-Britain receives from the monopoly of our trade, far exceed our proportion of the expence necessary for that purpose. But should these advantages be inadequate thereto, let the restrictions on our trade be removed, and we will cheerfully contribute such proportion when constitutionally required.

It is a fundamental principle of the British constitution, that every man should have at least a representative share in the formation of those laws, by which he is bound. Were it otherwise, the regulation of our internal police by a British Parliament, who are and ever will be unacquainted with our local circumstances, must be always inconvenient, and frequently oppressive: working our wrong, without yielding any possible advantage to you.

A PLAN of accommodation (as it has been absurdly called) has been proposed by your Ministers to our respective Assemblies. Were this proposal free from every other objection, but that which arises from the time of the offer, it would not be unexceptionable. Can men deliberate with the bayonet at their breast? Can they treat with freedom, while their towns are sacked; when daily instances of injustice and oppression disturb the slower operations of reason?

If this proposal is really such as you would offer and we accept, why was it delayed till the nation was put to useless expence, and we were reduced reduced to our present melancholy situation? If it holds forth nothing, why was it proposed? Unless indeed to deceive you into a belief, that we were unwilling to listen to any terms of accommodation? But what is submitted to our consideration? We contend for the disposal of our property. We are told that our demand is unreasonable, that our Assemblies may indeed collect our money, but that they must at the same time offer, not what your exigences or ours may require, but so much as shall be deemed sufficient to satisfy the desires of a Minister and enable him to provide for favorites and dependants. A recurrence to your own treasury will convince you how little of the money already extorted from us has been applied to the relief of your burthens. To suppose that we would thus grasp the shadow, and give up the substance is adding insult to injuries.

We have nevertheless again presented an humble and dutiful Petition to our Sovereign; and to remove every imputation of obstinacy, have requested his Majesty to direct some mode, by which the united applications of his faithful Colonists may be improved into a happy and permanent reconciliation. We are willing to treat on such terms as can alone render an accommodation lasting, and we flatter ourselves, that our pacific endeavours will be attended with a removal of ministerial troops, and a repeal of those laws, of the operation of which we complain, on the one part, and a disbanding of our army and a dissolution of our commercial associations, on the other.

YET conclude not from this, that we propose to surrender our property into the hands of your ministry, or vest your parliament with a power which may terminate in our destruction. The great bulwarks of our constitution we have desired to maintain by every temperate, by every practicable means; but your ministers (equal foes to British and American freedom) have added to their former oppressions an attempt to reduce us by the sword to a bare and abject submission. On the sword therefore we are compelled to rely for protection. Should victory declare in your favour, yet men trained to arms from their infancy and animated by the love of liberty will afford neither a cheap or easy conquest. Of this at least we are assured, that our struggle will be glorious, our success certain, since even in death we shall find that freedom, which in life you forbid us to enjoy.

LET us now ask what advantages are to attend our reduction? The trade of a ruined and desolate country is always inconsiderable, its revenue trifling; the expence of subjecting and retaining it in subjection certain and inevitable. What then remains but the gratification of an ill-judged pride, or the hope of rendering us subservient to designs on your Liberty.

SOLDIERS, who have sheathed their swords in the bowels of their American brethren, will not draw them with more reluctance against you. When too late you may lament the loss of that freedom, which we exhort you, while still in your power, to preserve.

ON

On the other hand, should you prove unsuccessful; should that connection, which we most ardently wish to maintain, be dissolved; should your Ministers exhaust your treasures and waste the blood of your countrymen in vain attempts on our Liberty; do they not deliver you, weak and defenceless, to your natural enemies.

SINCE then your Liberty must be the price of your victories; your ruin, of your defeat:—What blind fatality can urge you to a pursuit destructive of all that Britons hold dear?

If you have no regard to the connection that has for ages subsisted between us; if you have forgot the wounds we received fighting by your side, for the extension of the empire; if our commerce is not an object below your consideration; if justice and humanity have lost their influence on your hearts; still motives are not wanting, to excite your indignation at the measures now pursued: Your Wealth, your Honor, your Liberty are at stake.

NOTWITHSTANDING the distress to which we are reduced, we sometimes forget our own afflictions, to anticipate and sympathize in yours. We grieve, that rash and inconsiderate councils should precipitate the destruction of an empire, which has been the envy and admiration of ages, and call God to witness that we would part with our property, endanger our lives, and sacrifice every thing, but LIBERTY, to redeem you from ruin.

A CLOUD

A CLOUD hangs over your heads and ours; e'er this reaches you, it may probably burst upon us, let us then (before the remembrance of former kindness is obliterated) once more repeat those appellations which are ever grateful in our ears. Let us entreat Heaven to avert our ruin, and the destruction that threatens our friends, brethren, and countrymen, on the other side of the Atlantic.

Ordered, THAT the above Address be immediately printed, and sent by Mr. Penn to England.

THE letter to the Lord Mayor, Aldermen and Livery of London, being again read and debated, was agreed to as follows:

My LORD,

PERMIT the Delegates of the people of twelve ancient Colonies, to pay your Lordship and the very respectable body of which you are head, the just tribute of gratitude and thanks, for the virtuous and unsolicited resentment you have shewn to the violated rights of a free people. The city of London, my Lord, having, in all ages, approved itself the patron of Liberty and the support of just government, against lawless tyranny and oppression, cannot fail to make us accepy sensible of the powerful aid, our cause must receive from such advocates. A cause, my Lord, worthy the support of the first city in the world, as it involves the fate of a great Continent, and threatens to shake the foundations of a flourishing, and until lately, a happy empire.

A CLOUD

North-America, my Lord, wishes most ardently for a lasting connection with Great Britain on terms of just and equal Liberty, less than which generous minds will not offer, nor brave and free ones be willing to receive.

A cruel war has at length been opened against us, and whilst we prepare to defend ourselves like the descendants of Britons, we still hope that the mediation of wise and good citizens, will at length prevail over despotism; and restore harmony and peace, on permanent principles, to an oppressed and divided empire.

We have the honor to be,

My Lord,

With great esteem,

Your Lordship's

Faithful friends and fellow subjects.

Ordered, THAT the above be transcribed, and then signed by the President.

THE Committee appointed to prepare a letter to Mr. Penn and the Colony Agents, reported a draught, which was read and approved as follows:

Gentlemen,

THE perseverance of the British Ministry, in their unjust and cruel system of Colony Administration, has occasioned the meeting of another Congress.

which his Ministers meditate for his American subjects. This petition to his Majesty you will please, Gentlemen, to present to the King with all convenient expedition, after which we desire it may be given to the public. We likewise send you our second application to the equity and interest of our fellow subjects in Great Britain, and also a Declaration, setting forth the causes of our taking up Arms: Both which we wish may be immediately put to press, and communicated as universally as possible.

The Congress entertain the highest sense of the wise and worthy interposition of the Lord Mayor and Livery of London, in favour of injured America. They have expressed this their sense in a letter to his Lordship and the Livery, which we desire may be presented in the manner most agreeable to that respectable body.

You will oblige us, Gentlemen, by giving the most early information to the Congress, and to the Speakers of our respective Assemblies of your proceeding in this business, and such further intelligence as you may judge to be of importance to America in this great contest.

We are, with great regard,
Gentlemen, &c.

Ordered, That the above be fairly transcribed and then signed by the President, and by him sent under cover, together with the petition to the King and address to the inhabitants of Great-Britain, and the letter to the Lord Mayor, &c. to Richard Penn, Esq; and that the President request Mr. Penn, in behalf of the Congress, to

" AN address of Deputies from the different parishes of the Islands of Bermuda" to the Congress was presented and read.

Adjourned till to-morrow at 9 o'clock.

WEDNESDAY, July 12, 1775.

Met according to adjournment.

A GENTLEMAN from the province of Quebec was introduced and examined.

LETTERS from Governor Cooke and General Ward were read.

THE Congress then resumed the consideration of the report of the Committee on Indian affairs, and the same being gone through, was agreed to as follows:

THAT the securing and preserving the friendship of the Indian nations appears to be a subject of the utmost moment to these Colonies.

THAT there is too much reason to apprehend, that Administration will spare no pains to excite the several nations of Indians to take up arms against these Colonies; and that it becomes us to be very active and vigilant in exerting every prudent means to strengthen and confirm the friendly disposition towards these Colonies, which has long prevailed among the northern tribes, and which has been lately manifested by some of those to the southward.

As

As the Indians depend on the Colonists for arms, ammunition and cloathing, which are become necessary to their subsistence, that Commissioners be appointed by this Congress, to superintend Indian affairs in behalf of these Colonies.

THAT there be three departments of Indians, the northern, middle and southern. The northern to extend so far south as to include the whole of the Indians known by the name of the Six Nations, and all the Indians northward of those nations. The southern department to extend so far north as to include the Cherokees, and all the Indians to that may be to the southward of them. The middle to contain the Indian Nations that lie between the other two departments.

THAT five Commissioners be appointed for the southern department.

THAT for each of the other two departments there be appointed three Commissioners.

THAT the Commissioners have power to treat with the Indians in their respective departments, in the name and on behalf of the United Colonies, in order to preserve peace and friendship with the said Indians, and to prevent their taking any part in the present commotions.

THAT the Commissioners for the southern department receive from the Continental Treasury the sum of ten thousand Dollars; the Commissioners for the middle and northern department the departments, in order that the Colonies may be informed from time to time of every such matter as may concern them to know and avail themselves of, for the benefit of the common cause.

THAT as there is a Seminary for the instruction of Indian youth, which has been established under the care of Doctor Wheelock, on Connecticut river; and as there are nine or ten Indian youths at that school, chiefly from the tribes residing in Quebec: And as for want of a proper fund, there is danger that these youths may be sent back to their friends, which will probably excite jealousy and distrust, and be attended with bad consequences, the Commissioners for Indian affairs in the northern department be authorised to receive, out of the Continental Treasury, a sum not exceeding five hundred Dollars, to be applied by them for the support of said Indian youths.

On motion made, Resolved, THAT a Committee of five be appointed to devise ways and means to protect the trade of these Colonies.

THE following were chosen, Mr. Jay, Mr. Franklin, Mr. Gadsden, Mr. Deane, and Mr. Lee.

Adjourned till to morrow at 8 o'clock.

THURSDAY, July 13, 1775.

Met according to adjournment.

THE Committee appointed to prepare proper talks to the Indians, reported the same, which was agreed to as follows.

A SPEECH to the Six Confederate Nations,
 MOHAWKS, ONEIDAS, TUSCARORAS, O-NONDAGAS, CAYUGAS, SENEKAS, from the Twelve United Colonies, convened in Council at Philadelphia.

Brothers, Sachems and Warriors,

WE, the Delegates from the Twelve United Provinces, viz. New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay, Rhode-Island, Connecticut, New-York, New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, The three Lower Counties
 of Newcastle, Kent and Sussex, on Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina, and South-Carolina, now sitting in General Congress at Philadelphia, send this Talk to you our Brothers.
 We are sixty-five in number, chosen and appointed by the people throughout all these Provinces and Colonies, to meet and sit together in one great Council, to consult together for the common good of the land, and speak and act for them.

BROTHERS, in our consultation we have judged it proper and necessary to send you this Talk, as we are upon the same island, that you may be informed of the reasons of this great Council, the situation of our civil constitution,
 and our disposition towards you our Indian Brothers of the Six Nations and their allies.

Brothers

Brothers and Friends, now attend,

WHEN our fathers crossed the great water and came over to this land, the King of England gave them a Talk; assuring them that they and their children should be his children, and that if they would leave their native country and make settlements, and live here, and buy, and sell, and trade with their brethren beyond the water, they should still keep hold of the same covenant chain and enjoy peace—And it was covenanted, that the fields, houses, goods and possessions which our fathers should acquire, should remain to them as their own, and be their children's forever, and at their sole disposal.

TRUSTING that this covenant should never be broken, our fathers came a great distance beyond the great water, laid out their money here, built houses, cleared fields, raised crops, and through their own labour and industry grew tall and strong.

THEY have bought, sold and traded with England according to agreement, sending to them such things as they wanted, and taking in exchange such things as were wanted here.

THE King of England and his people kept the way open for more than one hundred years, and by our trade became richer, and by a union with us, greater and stronger than the other Kings and people who live beyond the water.

ALL

ALL this time they lived in great friendship with us, and we with them; for we are brothers— one blood.

WHENEVER they were struck, we instantly felt as though the blow had been given to us— their enemies were our enemies.

WHENEVER they went to war, we sent our men to stand by their side and fight for them, and our money to help them and make them strong.

THEY thanked us for our love and sent us good Talks, and renewed their promise to be one people forever.

Brothers and Friends, open a kind Ear!

WE will now tell you of the quarrel betwixt the Counsellors of King George and the Inhabitants and Colonies of America.

MANY of his Counsellors are proud and wicked men--They persuade the King to break the covenant chain, and not to send us any more goods Talks. A considerable number have prevailed upon him to enter into a new covenant against us, and have torn asunder and cast behind their backs the good old covenant which their ancestors and ours entered into and took strong hold of.

THEY now tell us they will slip their hand into our pocket without asking, as though it were their

their own ; and at their pleasure they will take from us our Charters or written civil Constitution which we love as our lives---also our plantations our houses and goods whenever they please, without asking our leave.-- That our vessels may go to this Island in the sea, but to this or that particular Island we shall not trade any more--- And in case of our non-compliance with these new orders, they shut up our harbours.

BROTHERS, this is our present situation--- thus have many of the King's Counsellors and Servants dealt with us---If we submit, or comply with their demands, you can easily perceive to what state we will be reduced---If our people labour on the field, they will not know who shall enjoy the crop---If they hunt in the woods, it will be uncertain who shall taste of the meat or have the skins---If they build houses they will not know whether they may sit round the fire, with their wives and children---They cannot be sure whether they shall be permitted to eat, drink, and wear the fruits of their own labour and industry.

Brothers and Friends of the Six Nations, attend,

We upon this Island have often spoke and intreated the King and his Servants the Counsellors, that peace and harmony might still continue between us---that we cannot part with or loose our hold of the old covenant chain which united our fathers and theirs---that we want to brighten this chain---and keep the way open as our fathers did ;

labour, trade, travel abroad, eat and drink
in peace. We have often asked them to love us and live in such friendship with us as their fathers did with ours.

We told them again that we judged we were exceedingly injured, that they might as well kill us, as take away our property and the necessaries of life.--We have asked why they treat us thus?--What has become of our repeated addresses and supplications to them? Who hath shut the ears of the King to the cries of his children in America? No soft answer--no pleasant voice from beyond the water has yet sounded in our ears.

BROTHERS, thus stands the matter betwixt
Old England and America. You Indians know how things are proportioned in a family---between the father and the son--the child carries a little pack--England we regard as the father
---this Island may be compared to the son.

The father has a numerous family---both at home and upon this Island.--He appoints a great number of Servants to assist him in the government of his family. In process of time,
some of his servants grow proud and ill-natured
---they were displeas'd to see the boy so alert and walk on so nimbly with his pack.--They tell the father and advise him to enlarge the child's pack
---they prevail--the pack is increased--the child takes it up again--as he thought it might be the father's pleasure---speaks but few words--- those

those very small--for he was loth to offend the father. Those proud and wicked servants finding they had prevailed, laughed to see the boy sweat and stagger under his increased load. By and by, they apply to the father to double the boy's pack, because they heard him complain--and without any reason said they--he is a cross child-- correct him if he complains any more.-- The boy intreats the father--addresses the great servants in a decent manner, that the pack might be lightened--he could not go any farther--humbly asks, if the old fathers, in any of their records, had described such a pack for the child--after all the tears and entreaties of the child--the pack is redoubled--the child stands a little, while staggering under the weight--ready to fall every moment.-- However he entreats the father once more, though so faint he could only lift out his last humble supplication--waits a while--his voice returns.-- The child concludes the father could not hear--those proud servants had intercepted his supplications, or stopped the ears of the father.--He therefore gives one struggle and throw off the pack, and says he cannot take it up again--such a weight will crush him down and kill him--and he can but die if he refuses.

UPON this, those servants are very wroth--and tell the father many false stories respecting the child--they bring a great cudgie to the father, asking him to take it in his hand and strike the child.

THIS may serve to illustrate the present condition of the King's American subjects or children.

AMIDST

AMIDST these oppressions we now and then heard a mollifying and reviving voice from some of the King's wise counsellors, who are our friends and feel for our distresses, when they heard our complaints and our cries, they applied to the King, also told those wicked servants, that this child in America was not a cross boy, it had sufficient reason for crying, and if the cause of its complaint was neglected, it would soon assume the voice of a man, plead for justice like a man, and defend its rights and support the old covenant chain of the fathers.

Brothers, listen!

NOTWITHSTANDING all our intreaties, we have but little hope the King will send us any more good talks, by reason of his evil counsellors; they have persuaded him to send an army of soldiers and many ships of war, to rob and destroy us. They have shut up many of our harbours, seized and taken into possession many of our vessels: The soldiers have struck the blow, killed some of our people, the blood now runs of the American children: They have also burned our houses and towns, and taken much of our goods.

BROTHERS! we are now necessitated to rise, and forced to fight, or give up our civil constitution, run-away and leave our farms and houses behind us. This must not be. Since the King's wicked counsellors will not open their ears, and consider our just complaints, and the cause of our weeping, and hath given the blow. We are determined to drive away the King's soldiers, and to kill and destroy all those wicked men we find in arms against the peace of the Twelve United Colonies upon this island. We think our cause is just; therefore, hope God will be on our side. We do not take up the hatchet and struggle for honor or conquest; but to maintain our civil constitution and religious privileges, the very same for which our forefathers left their native land and came to this country.

A a determined

AMIDST

Brothers, and Friends!

WE desire you will hear and receive what we have now told you, and that you will open a good ear and listen to what we are now going to say. This is a family quarrel between us and Old England. You Indians are not concerned in it. We don't wish you to take up the hatchet against the King's troops. We desire you to remain at home and not join either side; but keep the hatchet buried deep. In the name and behalf of all our people we ask and desire you to love peace and maintain it, and to love and sympathize with us in our troubles; that the path may be kept open with all our people and yours, to pass and repass, without molestation.

BROTHERS! we live upon the same ground with you. The same Island is our common birth-place. We desire to sit down under the same tree of peace with you: Let us water its roots and cherish its growth, till the large leaves and flourishing branches shall extend to the setting Sun, and reach the skies.

Brothers,

Brothers, observe well!

WHAT it is we have asked of you!-- Nothing but peace, notwithstanding our present disturbed situation --and if application should be made to you by any of the King's unwise and wicked ministers to join on their side-- We only advise you to deliberate with great caution, and in your wisdom look forward to the consequences of a compliance. For if the King's troops take away our property, and destroy us who are of the same blood with themselves --What can you, who are Indians, expect from them afterwards?

THEREFORE we say, Brothers, take care-- hold fast to your covenant chain.-- You now know our disposition towards you, the Six Nations of Indians and your allies-- Let this our good Talk remain at Onondaga, your central council house. We depend upon you to send and acquaint your allies to the northward, the seven tribes on the river St. Lawrence, that you have this Talk of ours at the great Council-Fire of the Six Nations. And when they return, we invite your great men to come and converse farther with us at Albany, where we intend to rekindle the Council-Fire, which your and our ancestors sat round in great friendship.

Brothers and Friends!

We greet you all,

Farewell.

(The large Belt of Intelligence and Declaration.)

Brothers,

Brothers!

Brothers!

WE have said we wish you Indians may continue in peace with one another, and with us the White People. Let us both be cautious in our behaviour towards each other at this critical state of affairs. This Island now trembles, the wind whistles from almost every quarter--let us fortify our minds and shut our ears against false rumours--let us be cautious what we receive for truth, unless spoken by wise and good men. If any thing disagreeable should ever fall out between us, the Twelve United Colonies, and you, the Six Nations, to wound our peace, let us immediately seek measures for healing the breach. From the present situation of our affairs, we judge it wise and expedient to kindle up a small Council-Fire at Albany, where we may hear each others voice, and disclose our minds more fully to one another.

(A small Eclt.)

Ordered, THAT a similar talk be prepared for the other Indian Nations, preserving the tenor of the above, and altering it so as to suit the Indians in the several departments.

THE Congress then proceeded to the choice of Commissioners for Indian affairs, and after some debate, agreed that the nomination of Commissioners for the southern department be postponed till Tuesday next.

WHERE in any colony a militia is already formed under regulations approved of by the Convention of such colony, or by such Assemblies as are annually elective, we refer to the discretion of such Convention or Assembly, either to adopt the foregoing regulations in the whole or in part, or to continue their former, as they, on consideration of all circumstances, shall think best.

WHOEVER attends to the conduct of those who have been entrusted with the administration of British affairs, during these last twelve years, will discover in it a deliberate plan to destroy, in every part of the empire, the free constitution, for which Britain has been so long and so justly famed. With a dexterity, artful and wicked, they have varied the modes of attack according to the different characters and circumstances of those whom they meant to reduce. In the East-Indies, where the effeminacy of the inhabitants promised an easy conquest, they thought it unnecessary to veil their tyrannic principles under the thinnest disguise. Without deigning even to pretend a justification of their conduct, they sacrificed the lives of millions to the gratification of their insatiable avarice and lust of power. In Britain, where the maxims of freedom were still known, but where luxury and dissipation had diminished the wonted reverence for them, the attack has been carried on in a more secret and indirect manner: Corruption has been employed to undermine them. The Americans are not enervated by effeminacy, like the inhabitants of India; nor debauched by luxury, like those of Great-Britain: It was therefore judged improper to assail them by bribery, or by undisguised force. Plausible systems were formed; specious pretences were made: All the arts of sophistry were tried to shew, that the British ministry had, by law, a right to enslave us. The first and best maxims of the constitution, venerable to Britons and to Americans, were perverted and profaned. The power of parliament derived from the people derived from the people

ple to bind the people, was extended over those from whom it was never derived. It is asserted, that a standing army may be constitutionally kept among us, without our consent. These principles, dishonorable to those who adopted them, and destructive to those, to whom they were applied, were nevertheless carried into execution by the foes of Liberty and of Mankind, acts of parliament, ruinous to America,
 and unserviceable to Britain, were made to bind us. Armies, maintained by the parliament, were sent over to secure their operation. The power,
 however, and the cunning of our adversaries, were alike unsuccessful. We refused to their parliaments an obedience, which our judgments disapproved of: We refused to their armies a submission, which (spirits) unaccustomed to slavery, could not brook.

But while we spurned a disgraceful subjection,
 we were far from running into rash or lewd measures of opposition. Filled with sentiments of loyalty to our Sovereign, and of affection and respect for our fellow subjects in Britain; we petitioned, we supplicated, we expostulated:--
 Our prayers were rejected:--Our remonstrances were disregarded:--Our grievances were accumulated. All this did not provoke us to violence.

An appeal to the justice and humanity of those, who had injured us and were bound to redress our injuries, was ineffectual; we next resolved to make an appeal to their interest;
 though by doing so we knew we must sacrifice

our own, and (which gave us equal uneasiness) that of our friends who had never offended us, and who were connected with us by a sympathy of feelings under oppressions similar to our own. We resolved to give up our commerce, that we might preserve our liberty. We flattered ourselves, that, when, by withdrawing our commercial intercourse with Britain, which we had an undoubted right either to withdraw or to continue, her trade should be diminished, her revenues impaired and her manufacturers unemployed, our ministerial foes would be induced by interest, or compelled by necessity, to depart from the plan of tyranny which they had so long pursued, and to substitute, in its place, a system more compatible with the freedom of America, and the justice of Britain. That this scheme of non importation and non-exportation might be productive of the desired effects, we were obliged to include the Islands in it. From this necessity, and from this necessity alone, has our conduct towards them proceeded. By converting your sugar plantations into fields of grain, you can supply yourselves with the necessaries of life: While the present unhappy struggle shall continue, we cannot do more.

But why should we make any apology to the patriotic Assembly of Jamaica, who know so well the value of Liberty; who are so sensible of the extreme danger to which ours is exposed; and who foresee how certainly the destruction of ours must be followed by the destruction of their own?

We receive uncommon pleasure from observing the principles of our righteous opposition distinguished by your approbation: We feel the warmest gratitude for your pathetic mediation in our behalf with the crown. It was indeed unavailing - but are you to blame? - Mournful experience tells us, that petitions are often rejected, while the sentiments and conduct of the petitioners entitle what they offer to a happier fate.

THAT our petitions have been treated with disdain is now become the smallest part of our complaint: Ministerial insolence is lost in ministerial barbarity. It has, by an exertion peculiarly ingenious, procured those very measures, which it laid us under the hard necessity of pursuing, to be stigmatized in parliament as rebellious: It has employed additional fleets and armies for the infamous purpose of compelling us to abandon them: It has plunged us in all the horrors and calamities of civil war: It has caused the treasure and the blood of Britons (formerly shed and expended for far other ends) to be spilt and wasted in the execrable design of spreading slavery over British America: It will not, however, accomplish its aim: In the worst of contingencies, a choice will still be left, which it never can prevent us from making.

THE peculiar situation of your Island forbids your assistance. But we have your good wishes. - From the good wishes of the friends of liberty and mankind we shall always derive consolation.

Ordered,

W:

Resolved, THAT a fair copy be made out, to be signed by the President, and transmitted by the first opportunity.

THE Congress then resuming the report of the Committee of the whole, came to the following Resolutions.

THE Address to the People of Ireland being again read by paragraphs, was agreed to as follows.

To the People of IRELAND. From the Delegates appointed by the United Colonies of New-Hampshire, Massachusetts-Bay, Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, Connecticut, New-York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, the Lower Counties on Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, North-Carolina, and South Carolina, in General Congress at Philadelphia, the 10th of May, 1775.

Friends and fellow Subjects!

As the important contest, into which we have been driven, is now become interesting to every European state, and particularly affects the members of the British Empire, we think it our duty to address you on the subject. We are desirous, as is natural to injured innocence, of possessing the good opinion of the virtuous and humane—We are peculiarly desirous of furnishing you with a true state of our motives and objects; the better to enable you to judge of our conduct with accuracy, and determine the merits of the controversy with impartiality and precision.

HOWEVER incredible it may appear, that, at this enlightned period, the leaders of a nation, which in every age has sacrificed hecatombs of her bravest patriots on the altar of liberty, should presume gravely to assert and, by force of arms, attempt to establish an arbitrary sway over the lives, liberties, and property of their fellow subjects in America; it is nevertheless a most deplorable and indisputable truth.

THESE Colonies have, from the time of their first settlement, for near two centuries, peaceably ably enjoyed those very rights, of which the Ministry have, for ten years past, endeavoured, by fraud and by violence to deprive them. At the conclusion of the last war the genius of England and the spirit of wisdom, as if offended at the ungrateful treatment of their sons, withdrew from the British councils and left that nation a prey to a race of ministers, with whom ancient English honesty and benevolence disdained to dwell. From that period, jealousy, discontent, oppression and discord have raged among all his Majesty's subjects; and filled every part of his dominions with distress and complaint.

Not content with our purchasing of Britain at her own price, cloathing and a thousand other articles used by near three millions of people on this vast Continent; not satisfied with the amazing profits arising from the monopoly of our trade, without giving us either time to breathe after a long though glorious war, or the least credit for the blood and treasure we have expended in it;—Notwithstanding the zeal we had manifested for the service of our Sovereign, and the warmest attachment to the constitution of Britain and the people of England, a black and horrid design was formed, to convert us from freemen into slaves, from subjects into vassals, and from friends into enemies.

TAXES, for the first time since we landed on the American shores, were, without our consent, imposed upon us; an unconstitutional edict to compel us to furnish necessaries for a standing army, my, that we wished to see disbanded, was issued; and the legislature of New-York suspended for refusing to comply with it. Our antient and inestimable right of trial by jury was, in many instances, abolished; and the common law of the land made to give place to Admiralty jurisdictions. Judges were rendered, by the tenure of their commissions, entirely dependent on the will of a Minister. New crimes were arbitrarily created; and new courts, unknown to the constitution, instituted. Wicked and insidious Governors have been set over us; and dutiful petitions for the removal of even the notoriously infamous Governor Hutchinson, were branded with the opprobrious appellation of scandalous and defamatory. Hardy attempts have been made under colour of parliamentary authority to seize Americans, and carry them to Great-Britain to be tried for offences committed in the colonies. Ancient charters have no longer remained sacred, that of the Massachusetts-Bay was violated; and their form of government essentially mutilated and transformed. On pretence of punishing a violation of some private property, committed by a few disguised individuals, the populous and flourishing town of Boston was surrounded by fleets and armies; its trade destroyed; its port blocked up; and thirty thousand citizens subjected to all the miseries attending to sudden a convulsion in their commercial metropolis; and to remove every obstacle to the rigorous execution of this system of oppression, an act of parliament was passed evidently calculated to indemnify those, who might, in the prosecution of it, even embroil their hands in the blood of the inhabitants.

THOUGH

Though pressed by such an accumulation of undeserved injuries America still remembered her duty to her sovereign. A Congress, consisting of Deputies from Twelve United Colonies assembled. They in the most respectful terms laid their grievances at the foot of the throne; and implored his Majesty's interposition in their behalf. They also agreed to suspend all trade with Great-Britain, Ireland and the West-Indies; hoping, by this peaceable mode of opposition, to obtain that justice from the British Ministry which had been so long solicited in vain — And here permit us to assure you, that it was with the utmost reluctance we could prevail upon ourselves, to cease our commercial connection with your Island. — Your Parliament had done us no wrong. — You had ever been friendly to the rights of mankind; and we acknowledge, with pleasure and gratitude, that your nation has produced Patriots, who have nobly distinguished themselves in the cause of humanity and America. On the other hand, we were not ignorant that the labor and manufactures of Ireland, like those of the silk-worm, were of little moment to herself; but served only to give luxury to those, who neither toil nor spin. — We perceived, that if we continued our commerce with you, our agreement not to import from Britain would be fruitless; and were therefore compelled to adopt a measure, to which nothing but absolute necessity would have reconciled us. — It gave us however, some consolation to reflect, that should it occasion much distress, the fertile regions of America would afford you a safe asylum from poverty, and in time from oppression also — an asylum.

asylum, in which many thousands of your countrymen, have found hospitality, peace and affluence; and become united to us by all the ties
 of consanguinity, mutual interest and affection
 --Nor did the Congress stop here--Flattered by a pleasing expectation, that the justice and humanity which had so long characterized the English nation, would, on proper application, afford us relief; they represented their grievances in an affectionate address to their brethren in Britain, and intreated their aid and interposition in behalf of these Colonies.

THE more fully to evince their respect for their Sovereign, the unhappy people of Boston were requested by the Congress to submit with patience to their fate; and all America united in a resolution to abstain from every species of violence--During this period that devoted town suffered unspeakably. Its inhabitants were in-sulted and their property violated. Still relying on the clemency and justice of his Majesty and the nation, they permitted a few regiments to take possession of their town; to surround it with fortifications; and to cut off all intercourse between them and their friends in the country.

WITH anxious expectation did all America
 wait the event of their petition--All America laments its fate--Their Prince was deaf to their complaints: And vain were all attempts to impress him with a sense of the sufferings of his American subjects; of the cruelty of their Tax-
Masters, and of the many Plagues which impended over his dominions. Instead of directions for a candid

candid enquiry into our grievances, insult was added to oppression, and our long forbearance rewarded with a representation of cowardice. Our trade with foreign states was prohibited; and an act of Parliament passed to prevent our even fishing on our own coasts---Our peaceable Assemblies, for the purpose of consulting the common safety, were declared seditious; and our asserting the very rights which placed the Crown of Great-Britain on the heads of the three successive Princes of the House of Hanover, stiled rebellion---Orders were given to reinforce the troops in America---The wild and barbarous savages of the wilderness have been solicited by gifts to take up the hatchet against us; and instigated to deluge our settlements with the blood of innocent and defenceless women and children---The whole country was moreover alarmed with the expected horrors of domestic insurrections---Refinements in parental cruelty, at which the genius of Britain must blush! Refinements which admit not of being even recited without horror, or praised without infamy! We should be happy, were these dark machinations the mere suggestions of suspicion---We are sorry to declare, that we are possessed of the most authentic and indubitable evidence of their reality.

The Ministry, bent on pulling down the pillars of the constitution, endeavoured to erect the standard of despotism in America; and if successful, Britain and Ireland may shudder at the consequences!

THREE of their most experienced Generals are sent to wage war with their fellow subjects; and

and America is amazed to find the name of Howe in the catalogue of her enemies---She loved his brother.

DESPAIRING of driving the Colonies to resistance by any other means, than a total hostility, a detachment of the army at Boston marched into the country in all the array of war; and unprovoked, fired upon, and killed several of the inhabitants---The neighbouring farmers suddenly assembled, and repelled the attack---From this, all communication between the town and country was intercepted---The citizens petitioned the General for permission to leave the town, and he promised on surrendering their arms, to permit them to depart with their other effects--- They accordingly surrendered their arms, and the General violated his faith---Under various pretences, passports were delayed and denied; and many thousands of the inhabitants are at this day confined in the town in the utmost wretchedness and want---The lame, the blind and the sick, have indeed been turned out into the neighbouring fields; and some, eluding the vigilance of the sentries, have escaped from the town, by swimming to the adjacent shores.

THE war having thus began on the part of General Gage's troops, the country armed and embodied. The re-inforcements from Ireland soon after arrived; a vigorous attack was then made upon the Provincials---In their march, the troops surrounded the town of Charlestown, consisting of about four hundred houses, then recently abandoned to escape the fury of a relentless less soldiery. Having plundered the houses, they set fire to the town, and reduced it to ashes --- To this wanton waste of property, unknown to civilized nations, they were prompted, the better to conceal their approach under cover of the smok. A shocking mixture of cowardice and cruelty, which then first tarnished the lustre of the British arms, when aimed at a brother's breast! --- But blessed be God, they were restrained from committing farther ravages, by the loss of a very considerable part of their army, including many of their most experienced officers --- The loss of the inhabitants was inconsiderable.

COMPELLED therefore to behold thousands of our Countrymen imprisoned, and men, women and children involved in promiscuous and unmerited misery --- When we find all faith at an end, and sacred treaties turned into tricks of state --- When we perceive our friends and kindsmen massacred, our habitations plundered, our houses in flames, and their once happy inhabitants fed only by the hand of charity --- Who can blame us for endeavouring to restrain the progress of desolation? Who can censure our repelling the attacks of such a barbarous band? Who, in such circumstances, would not obey the great, the universal, the divine law of self-preservation?

THOUGH vilified as wanting spirit, we are determined to behave like men --- Though insulted and abused, we wish for reconciliation --- Though defamed as seditious, we are ready to obey the laws --- And though charged with rebellion, will cheerfully cheerfully bleed in defence of our Sovereign in a righteous cause... What more can we say?--- What more can we offer?

BUT we forbear to trouble you with a tedious detail of the various and fruitless offers and applications we have repeatedly made, not for pensions, for wealth, or for honors, but for the humble boon of being permitted to possess the fruits of honest industry, and to enjoy that degree of Liberty, to which God and the Constitution have given us an undoubted right.

BLESSED with an indissoluble union with a variety of internal resources, and with a firm reliance on the justice of the supreme disposer of all human events, we have no doubt of rising superior to all the machinations of evil and abandoned Ministers. We already anticipate the golden period, when liberty, with all the gentle arts of peace and humanity, shall establish her mild dominion in this western world, and erect eternal monuments to the memory of those virtuous patriots and martyrs, who shall have fought and bled and suffered in her cause.

ACCEPT our most grateful acknowledgments for the friendly disposition you have always shewn towards us---We know that you are not without your grievances---We sympathize with you in your distress, and are pleased to find that the design of subjugating us, has persuaded Administration to dispense to Ireland, some vagrant rays of ministerial sunshine---Even the tender mercies of government have long been cruel towards wards you -- In the rich pastures of Ireland, many hungry paricides have fed, and grown strong to labour in its destruction. We hope the patient abiding of the meek may not always be forgotten; and God grant that the iniquitous schemes of extirpating LIBERTY from the British empire may be soon defeated. But we should be wanting to ourselves; we should be perfidious to posterity; we should be unworthy that ancestry from which we derive our descent, should we submit with folded arms to military butchery and depredation, to gratify the lordly ambition, or sate the avarice of a British Ministry. In defence of our persons and properties, under actual violation, we have taken up arms -- When that violence shall be removed, and hostilities cease on the part of the aggressors, they shall cease on our part also -- For the achievement of this happy event, we confide in the good offices of our fellow subjects beyond the Atlantic. Of their friendly disposition we do not yet despond; aware as they must be, that they have nothing more to expect from the same common enemy, than the humble favour of being last devoured.

THE Congress took into consideration the report of the Committee, on the resolve of the House of Commons, and the same being debated by paragraphs, was agreed to as follows.

THE several Assemblies of New-Jersey, Pennsylvania, and Virginia, having referred to the Congress a resolution of the House of Commons of Great-Britain, which resolution is in these words :

Luna, 20^o die Feb. 1775.

The House in a Committee on the American papers. Motion made, and question proposed.

That it is the opinion of this Committee, that when the General Council and Assembly, or General Court of any of his Majesty's provinces, or colonies in America, shall propose to make provision, according to the condition, circumstance, or situation of such province or colony, for contributing their proportion to the common defence (such proportion to be raised under the authority of the General Court, or General Assembly of such province or colony, lony, and disposable by Parliament) and shall engage to make provision also, for the support of the civil government, and the administration of justice in such province or colony, it will be proper if such proposal shall be approved by his Majesty and the two Houses of Parliament, and for so long as such provision shall be made according, to forbear in respect of such province or colony to lay any duty, tax, or assessment, or to impose any farther duty, tax, or assessment, except only such duties as it may be expedient to continue to levy or impose, for the regulation of commerce; the net produce of the duties last mentioned, to be carried to the account of such province or colony respectively.

THE Congress took the said resolution into consideration, and are thereupon of opinion.

THAT the colonies of America are entitled to the sole and exclusive privilege of giving and granting their own money : that this involves a right of deliberating whether they will make any gift, for what purposes it shall be made, and what shall be its amount; and that it is a high breach of this privilege for any body of men, extraneous to their constitutions, to prescribe the purposes for which money shall be levied on them, to take to themselves the authority of judging of their conditions, circumstances and situations, and of determining the amount of the contribution to be levied.

THAT as the colonies possess a right of appropriating their gifts, so are they entitled at all times to enquire into their application, to see that they be not wasted among the venal and corrupt for the purpose of undermining the civil rights of the givers, nor yet be diverted to the support of standing armies, inconsistent with their freedom and subversive of their quiet. To propose therefore, as this resolution does, that the monies given by the colonies shall be subject to the disposal of parliament alone, is to propose that they shall relinquish this right of enquiry, and put it in the power of others to render their gifts ruinous, in proportion as they are liberal.

THAT this privilege of giving or of withholding our monies, is an important barrier against the undue exertion of prerogative, which, if left altogether without controul, may be exercised to our great oppression; and all history shews how efficacious is its intercession for redress of grievances and re-establishment of rights, and how improvident it would be to part with so powerful a mediator.

WE are of opinion that the proposition contained in this resolution is unreasonable and insidious: unreasonable, because, if we declare we accede to it, we declare without reservation, we will purchase the favor of parliament, not knowing at the same time at what price they will please to estimate their favor; it is insidious, because, individual colonies, having bid and bidden again, till they find the avidity of the seller too great for all their powers to satisfy; are then to return into opposition, divided from their sister colonies whom the minister will have previously previously detached by a grant of easier terms, or by an artful procrastination of a definitive answer.

THAT the suspension of the exercise of their pretended power of taxation being expressly made commensurate with the continuance of our gifts, these must be perpetual to make that so. Whereas no experience has shewn that a gift of perpetual revenue secures a perpetual return of duty or of kind disposition. On the contrary, the Parliament itself, wisely attentive to this observation, are in the established practice of granting their supplies from year to year only.

DESIROUS and determined as we are to consider, in the most dispassionate view every seeming advance towards a reconciliation made by the British Parliament, let our brethren of Britain reflect what would have been the sacrifice to men of free spirits had even fair terms been proffered, as these insidious proposals were with circumstances of insult and defiance. A proposition to give our money, accompanied with large fleets and armies, seems addressed to our fears rather than to our freedom. With what patience would Britons have received articles of treaty from any power on earth when borne on the point of a bayonet by military plenipotentiaries?

We think the attempt unnecessary to raise upon us by force or by threats our proportional contributions to the common defence, when all know, and themselves acknowledge, we have fully fully contributed, whenever called upon to do so in the character of freemen.

We are of opinion it is not just that the colonies should be required to oblige themselves to other contributions, while Great-Britain possesses a monopoly of their trade. This of itself lays them under heavy contribution. To demand, therefore, additional aids in the form of a tax, is to demand the double of their equal proportion, if we are to contribute equally with the other parts of the empire, let us equally with them enjoy free commerce with the whole world. But while the restrictions on our trade shut to us the resources of wealth, is it just we should bear all other burthens equally with those to whom every resource is open?

We conceive that the British parliament has no right to intermeddle with our provisions for the support of civil government, or administration of justice. The provisions we have made are such as please ourselves, and are agreeable to our own circumstances: they answer the substantial purposes of government and of justice, and other purposes than these should not be answered. We do not mean that our people shall be burthened with oppressive taxes, to provide sinecures for the idle or the wicked, under colour of providing for a civil list. While parliament pursue their plan of civil government within their own jurisdiction, we also hope to pursue ours without molestation.

elites

We are of opinion the proposition is altogether unsatisfactory, because it imports only a suspension of the mode, not a renunciation of the pretended right to tax us : because too it does not propose to repeal the several Acts of Parliament passed for the purposes of restraining the trade and altering the form of government of one of our colonies ; extending the boundaries and changing the government of Quebec ; enlarging the jurisdiction of the courts of Admiralty and Vice Admiralty ; taking from us the rights of trial by a jury of the vicinage in cases affecting both life and property ; transporting us into other countries to be tried for criminal offences ; exempting by mock-trial the murderers of colonists from punishment ; and quartering soldiers on us in times of profound peace. Nor do they renounce the power of suspending our own legislatures, and of legislating for us themselves in all cases whatsoever. On the contrary, to shew they mean no discontinuance of injury, they pass acts, at the very time of holding out this proposition, for restraining the commerce and fisheries of the provinces of New-England, and for interdicting the trade of other colonies with all foreign nations and with each other. This proves unequivocally they mean not to relinquish the exercise of indiscriminate legislation over us.

Upon the whole, this proposition seems to have been held up to the world, to deceive it into a belief that there was nothing in dispute between us but the mode of levying taxes ; and that the Parliament having now been so good as to

called upon to do just that the colonies oblige themselves Great-Britain posside. This of itself contribution. To demands in the form of a le of their equal contribute equally empire, let us equal-mercer with the restrictions on our s of wealth, is it burthens equally ource is open ?

ish parliament has our provisions for nt, or administrations we have made and are agreeable they answer the nment and of justice these should not n that our people pressive taxes, to or the wicked, uncivil list. While of civil government, we also hope tation.

give up this, the Colonies are unreasonable if not perfectly satisfied: Whereas in truth, our adversaries still claim a right of demanding ad libitum, and of taxing us themselves to the full amount of their demand, if we do not comply with it. This leaves us without any thing we can call property. But, what is of more importance, and what in this proposal they keep out of sight, as if no such point was now in contest between us, they claim a right to alter our Charters and establish laws, and leave us without any security for our Lives or Liberties. The proposition seems also to have been calculated more particularly to lull into final security our well-affected fellow subjects on the other side the water, till time should be given for the operation of those aims, which a British Minister pronounced would instantaneously reduce the "cowardly" sons of America to wretched submission. But when the world reflects, how inadequate to justice are these vaunted terms; when it attends to the rapid and bold succession of injuries, which, during a course of eleven years, have been aimed at these Colonies; when it reviews the pacific and respectful expostulations, which, during that whole time, were the sole arms we opposed to them; when it observes that our complaints were either not heard at all, or were answered with new and accumulated injuries; when it recollects that the Minister himself on an early occasion declared, "that he would never treat with America, till he had brought her to his feet," and that an avowed partisan of Ministry has more lately denounced against us the dreadful sentence "delenda est Carthago," that that this was done in presence of a British senate, and being unreprieved by them, must be taken to be their own sentiment, (especially as the purpose has already in part been carried into execution, by their treatment of Bolton and burning of Charlestown;) when it considers the great armaments with which they have invaded us, and the circumstances of cruelty with which these have commenced and prosecuted hostilities; when these things, we say, are laid together and attentively considered, can the world be deceived into an opinion that we are unreasonable, or can it hesitate to believe with us, that nothing but our own exertions may defeat the Ministerial sentence of death or abject submission.

On motion made, Resolved, THAT Mr. Langdon, Mr. J. Adams, Mr. Hopkins, Mr. Deane, Mr. Clinton, Mr. Crane, Doctor Franklin, Mr. Rowley, Mr. Johnson, Mr. Henry, Mr. Hewes, Mr. Gadston, and Mr. Hall, be a Committee in the recess of Congress, to make enquiry in all the colonies after virgin lead and leaden ore, and the best methods of collecting, smelting and refining it.

Resolved, THAT the above named Gentlemen be a Committee, in the recess of the Congress, to enquire into the cheapest and easiest methods of making salt in these colonies.

AGREEABLE to the order of the day, the Congress took under consideration the state of trade after the Tenth of September, and after some debate, the same was postponed to a future day.

On motion, Resolved, THAT when the Congress adjourns for recess, it be adjourned to meet at Philadelphia.

Two petitions, one from sundry merchants in New York, and the other from sundry merchants in Philadelphia, respecting the sale of teas imported before the late association, were laid before the Congress,

Ordered, THAT the Delegates for Pennsylvania be a Committee to receive and count the above sum of 500,000 dollars, and forward the same

WHEREAS at a former Congress it was resolved that, if certain acts of Parliament, in the Continental Association enumerated and complained of, should not be repealed on or before the 10th day of September, 1775, the inhabitants of these United Colonies would not, directly or indirectly, export any merchandize or commodity

dry whatsoever to Great-Britain, Ireland or the West-Indies; and as some doubts have arisen with respect to the true spirit and construction of said Resolve: To the end that such doubts may be removed,

Resolved, THAT under the prohibition, in the said Association contained, to export to, or import from, the Islands of Great-Britain and Ireland, this Congress intends to comprize all exportation to, or importation from, the Islands of Jersey, Guernsey, Sark, Alderney and Mann, and every European Island and Settlement within the British dominions, and that under the denomination of the West-Indies, this Congress means to comprehend all the West India Islands, British and foreign, to whatever state, power, or prince belonging, or by whomsoever governed, and also the Summer Islands, Bahama Islands, Berbicia and Surinam on the Main, and every Island and Settlement within the latitude of the southern line of Georgia and the Equator.

The above is a Copy of the JOURNAL of the PROCEEDINGS of the CONGRESS, from their MEETING on the Tenth of May, to this time, except that some Resolutions, relative to MILITARY OPERATIONS, carrying on, are omitted.
