TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB MEMBERS ENTERTAIN THEIR HUSBANDS

Friday evening was "Husbands' Night" in the calendar of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and so good a time did the husbands have at the entertainment provided for them that they wished they might figure oftener in the functions of the organization. The festivities began with a 7 o'clock dinner deliciously cooked and well served, covers being laid for about 150 in the main auditorium of the Masonic Temple. The material feast was followed by a series of witty toasts. When the chairs were adjusted to face the center of the hall and the table at which the president, Mrs. A. W. Tower, was seated, she called the assembly to order, addressing "our husbands, brothers and friends," and saying: "We are glad to extend to you the courtesies of the club and we hope you are glad you came." She then introduced Mrs. Daniel Campbell as toastmistress of the evening. Mrs. Campbell in turn extended her greeting to "fellow members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and our sweethearts." Said she: "There is a saying: 'In the spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love,' but in my experience with my father—one of the dearest and best men God ever made, and with my husband, to me the best man God ever made, and experience with many men whom I have met in this beautiful land of my adoption, it is not only in the spring a man's fancy turns to thoughts of love but in the summer and autumn and the winter, for it is love that makes the world go round. Our husbands are so good to us their first, last and only thought is to make us happy. A year and four months ago we could not have had such a party as this because some of our sons were over in France and Italy and Russia and other distant places. People often say: 'I wonder why there are so many new houses building and so much buying of furniture.' It is because these boys and husbands have found out the real meaning of 'Home, Sweet Home.' It seems to me women have banded themselves together to love their husbands and husbands to love their wives and to tell them so; that war has brought husbands and wives closer together than ever before."

Mrs. Campbell then informed the husbands that the club has a secretary whose duty it is to write minutes of the meetings, and introduced Mrs. Walter Stamps as one who would tell about "Some Awful Minutes." Mrs. Stamps then described as an awful minute the occasion when she was first called upon to fill the office. (Continued on Page 6)

CHEMICAL EXPLOSION

Willard Roberts of 406 West Maple Street and Stillman Chase, of Riverdale Drive for some time have had a little chemical laboratory of their own. Willard made some wrong combinations Friday afternoon and had a little explosion which burned his face and eyes, but which fortunately did not damage his sight. His injuries, while not regarded as serious, are very painful.

GREEN, WHITE PARTY

MRS. GEORGE W. PIERCE ENTERTAINS MEMBERS OF PACIFIC CHAPTER, O. E. S.

Mrs. George W. Pierce of 209 E. Maple Avenue on Friday entertained ladies of the card club of which she is a member with a green and white luncheon which was served at 12:30 o'clock. The organization is known as the Pacific Chapter, O. E. S., and the ladies entertained were: Mesdames Cridland, Shorb, Miller, Broadhead, Norton, Potter, Haupt, Fisher, McDowell, Reid, Volbrecht and Mrs. Higgins of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Hallett of Glendale. A green and white floral scheme made beautiful the home of the hostess, the luncheon table being centered with a huge bowl of ferns and bridal wreath. The favors were miniature baskets filled with green candies. The luncheon was followed by an afternoon over the card tables. Mr. and Mrs. Pierce have recently returned to Glendale after an absence during which they have lived in Long Beach, and they are delighted to be here and to renew acquaintance with their Glendale friends.

MINIATURE ORCHARD

FIFTY-FIVE FRUIT AND NUT TREES ON ONE CITY LOT

E. E. Harrington and wife, who lived for several years at 541 South San Fernando Road, recently bought the P. E. Swanson place at 334 Howard Street. Mr. Swanson had owned the place for close to 10 years and had made of it the finest miniature orchard and rose garden in all the city. The lot is 50x150 with a 5-room house and a garage, also a good-sized poultry yard. On the remainder of the space are 54 fruit trees, one walnut tree, several gooseberry bushes and blackberry vines, and 64 rose bushes. There are oranges—navel, Valencia, blood and Mediterranean sweet; lemons—the common variety, also Eureka and ponderosa, pears, peaches, apricots, nectarines, Japanese persimmon, pomegranate, tangerines—King Mandarin (Chinese) and the small common variety, St. John's bread or carob tree, avocados—ten trees, three in full bearing; guavas—strawberry, pineapple, lemon and pear varieties, loquats and kumquats. All the trees, vines and bushes have a very thrifty appearance and the citrus trees are nearly all full of fruit and bloom. (Continued on Page 6)

MEDICAL CLUB

A meeting of physicians and surgeons of Glendale was held Wednesday evening at the office of Dr. Kammerling to take the initial steps in the organization of a medical club. Temporary officers were chosen and nominations were made for permanent officers. The profession was well represented and a meeting will be held next week in the same place to complete organization.

FOSTER BRIDGE CLUB

Members of the Foster Bridge Club were entertained Friday by Mrs. Helen Campbell at a mid-day luncheon, followed by an afternoon over the card tables. It was the first affair she has given since taking possession of her new home on East Harvard Street. The highest score of the day was made by Mrs. George Mitchell. Mesdames Douglas and Tresslar and Miss Annie MacIntyre were guests of the club.

WEDNESDAY CLUB

The Wednesday Club was entertained this week at the home of Mrs. H. Lee Clothworthy, at 915 South Brand Boulevard. A green and white color scheme was carried out not only in the floral decorations, favors, etc., of the luncheon table, but in the china as well, the effect being exceedingly pretty. The usual afternoon of needlework and social gossip followed the luncheon.

EASTWARD BOUND

Dr. Henry R. Harrower is leaving tonight for the East to be gone several weeks. His first stop will be in Salt Lake City, where he will address the Salt Lake Medical Society. From there he will go to Denver, Kansas City, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit, Cincinnati, Toledo and other cities in which he has engagements to speak before medical organizations. He will go as far east as New York City and will return via New Orleans, where he will attend the meeting of the American Medical Association, which will be held the latter part of April.

AFTER EFFECTS OF INFLUENZA

Horace Shugrue and wife, now living at 456 Palm Drive, have had an unusual experience with influenza. In the fall of 1918, when they were living at 1235 South Maryland Avenue, Mrs. Shugrue and the little son, Richard, took it. The boy soon recovered, but she was in bed seven months, the disease having affected her lungs. Her physician ordered her to a higher altitude, so they went to La Crescenta, where she gradually improved. But her husband took the disease there last fall and though he was not confined to his bed so long, his kidneys were affected and he was six and one-half months in recovering sufficiently to go back to his work with the General Petroleum Company. He weighed 250 pounds when he was stricken, but when he went to work a few days ago he tipped the beam at just 158. Mr. and Mrs. Shugrue are glad to be back in Glendale to live and expect to buy a home.

SENATOR NEWBERRY CONVICTED

FOUND GUILTY OF FRAUD IN OBTAINING HIS ELECTION IN 1918; TO BE SENTENCED TODAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 20.—Truman H. Newberry, U. S. Senator from Michigan, was today found guilty of fraud in obtaining his election in 1918. The jury in the United States District Court here returned the verdict. The jury reported at 11:20 o'clock after deliberating since 5 p. m. Thursday. Jurors found that Newberry conspired with his associates to cause the expenditure during the campaign of a sum of money in excess of the amount allowed under the federal corrupt practices act. The maximum penalty provided for the offense is two years' imprisonment and a fine of $10,000. Sixteen others were found guilty with Senator Newberry. They were all leading defendants. The remainder of the eighty-five defendants were acquitted of the charge of conspiring to violate the corrupt practices act. All of the defendants were found not guilty on the sixth count charging conspiracy to use the United States mails to defraud. Those found guilty will be sentenced this afternoon.

"Father will not resign from the U. S. Senate," Phelps Newberry, son of the convicted man, said. The senator said he would issue a formal statement late today.

FLORAL NATIVES

GLENDALE NATURE CLUB MEMBERS ENJOY LECTURE BY FRANCIS M. FULTZ

A most interesting, instructive and practical illustrated lecture upon California wild flowers was given by Francis M. Fultz, University of California Extension lecturer, under the auspices of the Glendale Nature Club at the Intermediate School Friday night. Mr. Fultz showed about one hundred varieties of wild flowers in one hundred and forty colored slides. Individual blooms were shown and field trails and hillsides rioting in masses of the same kind of flower. Mr. Fultz said—and he knows—that California has more varieties of wild flowers than any other state. He said that Southern California has more varieties than any other state and that Colorado ranks next. His effort is to introduce to people and familiarize them with the flowers in their own locality, their very own next door floral neighbors. As the pictures appeared upon the screen he told how he procured this one in Verdugo Canyon, this one in Eagle Rock hills, another just here in Glendale until it seemed as though enthusiasts in botany need not go far afield to find plenty of material to keep them busy a long time.

The Glendale Nature Club is devoting its energies to arousing interest in this and kindred important subjects. At 2 p. m. today, under the able guidance of Mr. Fultz, it is to undertake a hike for field work in the nearby territory.

ANNUAL L. A. CO. C. E. CONVENTION

The twenty-eighth annual county C. E. Convention now in session at Pasadena opened Friday evening with a lively song service, led by Bryan Burditt, of San Gabriel, followed by a hearty welcome from Mayor Hamilton and Dr. Jacques, pastor of the Baptist Church, of Pasadena, a response from Ralph Isabel representing the Endeavorers, Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris of San Diego then gave a heartfelt message on the subject, "The Name Above Every Name, Jesus."

There were a large number of Endeavorers from Glendale present, representing all the different churches of the valley, many of them going over last evening to stay the entire time. Others are going over today and tomorrow.

E. L. SCHUYLER RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

E. L. Schuyler of 330 Ivy is at the Glendale Sanitarium rapidly recovering from a very serious operation for hemorrhoids. He and his family recently took an auto trip to the San Joaquin Valley and Palo Verde region near Blythe, riding almost constantly for a week, and Mr. Schuyler was greatly exhausted by the trip and suffered so greatly that an operation was judged to be vitally necessary. He came through it successfully and expects to be up soon. He expected to invest largely in cotton acreage in the San Joaquin Valley, but his affliction made it necessary to postpone this for a year. His son, however, has rented 20 acres near McFarland, 20 miles north of Bakersfield, and will plant it to cotton this spring.

MINNESOTA FRIENDS ENTER-TAINED

Mrs. A. S. Chase of Riverdale Drive and her aunt, Miss Scott, entertained at luncheon on Friday ten friends from Faribault, Minn., who have either purchased homes in Los Angeles or Hollywood or are here for the winter. A special friend, Mrs. Katherine M. Gardener, will be their guest for the week-end. A green and white color scheme was carried out in place cards, favors, and floral decorations in which spirea and irises were used.

PRENUPTIAL SHOWER

A very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mrs. Harry T. Reid, 719 East Orange Grove Avenue, on Wednesday, March 17th, the occasion being a pre-nuptial shower in the honor of Miss Nora Ransier, whose marriage to Earl Davis, of Los Angeles, will take place in the very near future. Many useful presents were received by the bride-to-be. Those present were the Misses May Jepson, Alice Watson, Irene Wilkes, Frankie Wilkes and the Mesdames S. E. Wilkes, F. E. Wilkes, S. J. Reid, H. E. Reid, J. S. Settles, Jack Peoples, Goldie Hollingsworth and M. R. Lowe.

GLENDALE SANITARIUM

PLANS DRAFTED FOR ERECTION OF H. SHAPED BUILDING TO COST $200,000

For a good many months the community has understood in a general way that plans to rebuild were under consideration by the Glendale Sanitarium. That fact and the change of location which officials felt would be necessary to carry out such plans were the foundation of the offer made by the Sanitarium to sell its grounds for park purposes. It now appears that the lack of sewers in Glendale was the underlying reason for considering any change of location. When the park project was dropped and the question of a sewer system for this city was seriously discussed, the city council appropriating $500, for a survey and report by engineering experts, officials of the Sanitarium decided to retain their location and place their new buildings upon it, feeling assured that a sewer system would be available by the time they were ready for actual building operations.

At the quadrennial session of the Pacific Union Conference, held here in February, the decision of Sanitarium officials with regard to location was approved and they were authorized to secure plans and specifications for buildings which would be up to date in all respects and double the capacity of the institution. This they have done and have now reached a point where they are ready to undertake the preliminaries for the erection of such buildings. (Continued on Page 6)

JUNIOR DANCE ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

The Junior dance in the Gym last evening was attended by 75 or more couples and was a very successful event. The committee, composed of Ruby Stone, Helen Beach, Billie Gregg, Eva Green, Tom McNary, Carroll Parcher, Dean Culberson, Arthur Campbell, Neville Richardson and Tommy Lyons, had all arrangements made and they carried out the program to the letter. There were no fancy dances or special features. Music was furnished by a Hollywood orchestra of four pieces. Dancing ended at midnight.

THE ARMY COLONY

OFFICERS OF A. E. F. VISIT GLENDALE, LIKE IT, AND PURCHASE HOMES HERE.

Among the late arrivals in Glendale are Lieutenant and Mrs. E. W. Gilliland, who have purchased the property at 500 Patterson Avenue. Lieut. Gilliland served overseas as Regimental Scout officer, 364th Infantry (91st Division) where he was wounded during the Argonne offensive while leading a detachment on a scouting expedition inside the German lines. After spending several months in hospitals in France and at home he was ordered to duty at Camp Kearney, from which place he received his discharge late in 1919. Lieut. Gilliland is connected with the general offices of the Salt Lake Railroad, in Los Angeles.

Other former army people who have recently purchased homes in Glendale include Major and Mrs. Henry W. Edmonds, 423 Pioneer Drive; Captain and Mrs. Raymond Allen, 908 North Louise Street, both gentlemen being connected with the transportation department of the Pacific Electric Railway.

Major Edmonds commanded the Second Battalion, 362d Infantry (91st Division) from the time the regiment left Camp Lewis in June, 1918, until it was returned for demobilization in May, 1919, seeing heavy fighting in the Argonne and in Belgium. He was promoted major for "gallantry in action" in the attack of his regiment on Gesnes, France, September 29, 1918, in which the regiment suffered forty per cent casualties in less than three hours of fighting. From June to November, 1919, he was stationed at the Presidio.

Captain Allen went overseas with the 38th Division as a first lieutenant of infantry. Upon being promoted captain he was transferred to the Motor Transport Corps, where he saw a lot of hard service, getting supplies and ammunition up to the troops at the front.

All are greatly pleased with Glendale.

BIG MILEAGE RECORDS

"RECORD" RUN REPORTS ARE COMMON IN MILLER TIRE FACTORY

That advanced methods of tire mileage are conducive to long mileage is impressively shown in an incident that happened in the sales office of the Miller Rubber Company in Akron the other day.

A 38x7 Geared-to-the-Road Cord tire, used on a rear wheel of a South Sumner and Johnson Street bus in Akron, was turned in at the factory with a record of 21,500 miles of service.

Eventually the tire reached one of the offices in the sales department and a young man who chanced to be on duty there at the time—he had not been with the company long—went into ecstasy over the splendid performance of the tire.

He lost not a minute in calling up the Miller Experimental Department with the news of what he considered a record run. There was no undue excitement, however, at the other end of the telephone line. After the young man had explained how the tire had been used, and so on, he received this answer:

"Nothing unusual in that at all. The tire was run on fairly good pavements most of the time and any of our Cord tires should perform equally as well under similar circumstances."

"That just about sizes up the situation," said F. C. Millhoff, general sales manager of the Miller Company, when the affair was referred to him. "The time has come when the 20,000 mileage figure isn't at all abnormal or spectacular. As improvements are made in tire construction, the mileage figures grow larger and larger."

BUILDING A CAR "FIT FOR A KING"

That no less a personage than his majesty, the late King Edward of England, was responsible for the construction of the first six-cylinder Knight motor ever built, was the gist of an interesting interview given out a few days ago by Charles Y. Knight, famous inventor of the motor bearing his name.

During the winter months, when the Isle of Blight, is cold and dreary, the well known engine expert comes back to America and hibernates in Pasadena, Cal. But the warm sunshine of the Golden State isn't enough to make him forget his motor hobby sometimes, and then he will delve into the interesting history of Knight motor development, for the benefit of his friends.

It was just the time for such a story on this occasion when Messrs. O. J. Root and W. H. Van Dervoort, makers of the R. & V. Knight Six paid the worthy guest from England a visit. "Few people," said he, "have any conception of how the six-cylinder Knight motor came to be. They are familiar with the four-cylinder, perhaps, but have never realized that the Knight Six has reached a high stage of perfection. As a matter of fact, his majesty, the late King Edward of England, was responsible for it."

"During the winter of 1908 I was at the Daimler factory in England, and at that time they were building four-cylinder Knight motors exclusively. King Edward had been for some years a patron of this factory, and they were of course extremely anxious to retain their prestige as builders of motor cars for the royal family. King Edward, however, had become a thorough enthusiast for six-cylinder motors, and made it known to the Daimler factory that unless they could produce a six-cylinder Knight he would go elsewhere for cars.

"Naturally enough there was nothing for them to do but to build a six-cylinder Knight motor in order to please their royal 'prospect.' So they set to work. Once in production, they built a few more of the Knight Sixes for other patrons, and before many years the Knight Six was even more popular than their four. I believe today that Daimler is concentrating exclusively on two types of Knight motored sixes.

"It not only is true that King Edward VII was responsible for the development of the first Knight-Six, but King George has a 45 H. P. Daimler Knight-Six as his favorite car, and upon his return from his recent visit to America, the Prince of Wales bought a new car, and it, too, is a Knight-Six, a Daimler of 30 H. P.

"In America as in England the six-cylinder Knight motor car will find a popular field among motor car drivers. I congratulate America upon having combined the rugged smooth-running Knight motor with such a beautiful car as the R. & V. Knight."

According to Mr. Knight a very

SPEED TRAP VICTIM

"DAVE" LEWIS' IDENTITY IS REVEALED—MYSTERY STILL SHROUDS CAR

Word has been received by Chambers & Felts, local Hudson and Essex dealers, that a great deal of interest has been aroused in motor-wise Detroit by the appearance of "Dave" Lewis, the noted racing driver, in a new speed creation, the identity of which is shrouded in mystery.

Lewis, who holds all the world's track records from one to one hundred miles and is known as the most fearless of the younger generation of drivers, first appeared on the roads around Detroit three weeks ago.

For some days his identity was unknown, but the performance of the car he drove aroused so much curiosity that several factory testers set a trap, stationing a friendly traffic policeman on one of the roads entering the city which was used by the "mystery car." The policeman stopped Lewis, but let him go with a warning after obtaining his name. The identity of the car was not revealed.

Lewis first gained fame on the Indianapolis Speedway and later won much fame at Tacoma, Oklahoma City, Sheephead Bay and in the Santa Monica road race. Last December he drove the stock Essex chassis which set a new world's long distance endurance record on the Cincinnati Speedway by covering 3037 miles in 50 hours.

BATTERY TROUBLES

QUESTIONS ADDRESSED TO THIS DEPARTMENT WILL BE ANSWERED BY EXPERT

Automobile owners are invited to make use of this column, which is conducted by A. S. Knox, of the Autoletric Service Company. Mr. Knox will cheerfully answer any questions in regard to any trouble you may be having with the battery or electrical equipment of your machine.

Q.—My 1916 Hupmobile is hard to start, even with the engine warm. The battery apparently is in good order. Have just had my valves ground, so compression is good.

C. R. W.

A.—Your car is equipped with Atwater-Kent ignition, and very likely the contact points are set too wide apart. The proper space is .01 inch. Take out thin washers behind screw to adjust. Spark plug gaps should be spaced the thickness of a thin dime.

Q.—I have a 1917 Cadillac Eight. At times my starter pedal will not push down, and I have to crank the motor slightly to overcome this. Perhaps you can suggest the remedy.

A.—With the Delco system, turning the ignition switch to "On" should turn the motor-generator slowly, thus allowing the starter gears to mesh. Your trouble is due to either blackened generator commutator, worn brushes, or the generator over-running clutch not operating freely.

MORE STUDEBAKERS

ARRIVAL OF SEVEN NEW CARS OCCASION FOR DEMONSTRATION

Seven new Studebakers were received by the Packer & White Auto Company this week. They came with their usual accompaniment of noise. Some of us have learned that when we hear a racket that sounds like an old-fashioned political rally it means the arrival of a shipment of Studebakers. Others still think this unearthly honking means a fire or that war has been declared or some other frightful occurrence. Harry White says they will honk in a new key when the next shipment is received.

BIGGER TIRE YEAR THAN PREDICTED

Instead of a "nearly 50 per cent" increase in 1919 sales volume, compared with 1918, as predicted a few weeks ago by an official of the Miller Rubber Company of Akron, the actual figures, now available, show that company's selling growth to have been slightly more than 60 per cent over the 1918 mark, according to William H. Hooper of the White Supply Station, the local dealer.

Nineteen nineteen was easily the record Miller year. Whereas an approximately $5,000,000 increased business in 1918 over 1917 was the biggest showing up to that time in the history of the company, the 1919 growth over the previous year was close to $10,000,000.

A better car than the Studebaker

in its price-class may be built some day

- Astonishing progress is made in the world of invention and science year by year and we have ceased to be surprised at what the ingenuity of man brings forth.
- Up to the present time the Studebaker car for pleasure and business use has never been excelled by any medium priced car.
- A Studebaker attracts attention and admiration on the road, always. Its long, graceful body and its beautiful lines are so pleasing that this car is often compared with higher priced cars to the advantage of the Studebaker.
- The grace of the Studebaker, however, is not its only strong point, in fact the beauty of the car is the least of the appeal it makes to the owner or prospective owner.
- The Studebaker comes so near being mechanically perfect; its performance and endurance have never fallen down on any count claimed by the manufacturers and distributors. This is the point that makes the Studebaker popular.

The Rise of Maxwell Is Due To Its Metals

Fine soil makes fine wheat; fine feathers make a fine bird; and fine metals have made the Maxwell. They have given it:

For its metals are light in weight. Therein comes thriftiness.

But these metals are of extra strength. Therein comes long life.

Metallurgists—those who have made the study of metals a science—will tell you that such metals are costly, but they guarantee quality in a car and their generous employment in a Maxwell is by far the best evidence anyone may need to determine its quality.

They are almost alone responsible for the rapid rise of Maxwell, for the fact that nearly 400,000 now have been built, for that ever-growing friendliness to Maxwell the world over.

CHEMIN DES DAMES, FAMOUS FRENCH HIGHWAY, ENTIRELY OBLITERATED BY WAR

Chemin Des Dames, historic highway of France long before the Great War familiarized its quaint name to millions throughout the world, is now but a memory—a ghastly and shattered skeleton of the great highway that led over the heights of the Aisne.

The armies that battled over the lands through which the "Ladies' Highway" passed well-nigh obliterated this great roadway that was built in the days of Louis XV and received its name because it was constructed for the especial benefit of Louis' young daughters who journeyed over it visiting the ancient chateaux along its route that were the homes of the old nobility of pre-revolutionary France.

Not only is the road a thing of huge craters, broken stones and huge earth mounds, but all the countryside that was once a beautiful and romantic part of France is in ruins and so implanted with unexploded shells that the French government has decreed it too dangerous for cultivation and settlement by its former inhabitants.

SPOTLIGHTS FORBIDDEN IN CANADA

Canada now has a law providing a $50 fine for the transfer of a license from one car to another. If a car is sold the license must go with it. Another law provides a fine for having a spot or pivot light on an automobile in Canada.—Canadian Motorist.

The Madrigal Club, led by Mrs. Charles Parker, is very busy with rehearsals for the concert it is to give early in April.

Mrs. Martha Marriott and her sister, Mrs. Corby, will be the week-end guests of Mrs. J. M. Wright, of Ocean Park.

Mrs. William Goodridge of Hillside Drive, who was taken to the Westlake Hospital about two weeks ago for an operation, will probably be there two weeks longer. She is doing nicely.

Mrs. Alice Brown recently moved out from Los Angeles to 620 Vine Street so her son, Edgar, who works in the basket factory, and her daughter, Viola, who is a telephone operator, could be with her. She is a daughter of Mrs. Kate Bell, 414 Vine St.

J. H. Flowers took out a permit this morning for the ninth building he has erected in Glendale in the past few months, four on Howard, north of Doran, two on E. Eighth and three on E. Chestnut. This last one is at 1140 E. Chestnut. All were sold before completion except the last one, he said.

Mrs. E. Leslie Eames of Gardena Avenue on Friday entertained Mrs. W. W. Worley and her house guest, Mrs. Gilliland, at luncheon at the Orange Tea Shop in Los Angeles, and afterwards at the Orpheum. Mrs. Gilliland is leaving Glendale next week.

Miss Margaret Burchfield and Miss Stella Echols attended a banquet given Thursday evening at Christopher's under the auspices of the Los Angeles County Federation of Clubs, the Los Angeles Business Women's Club being the hostess. Among the prominent speakers were: Mrs. J. Humphreys, president of the hostess club; Miss Mary Foy, Miss Brainerd, Attorneys C. R. Kellogg and M. W. Willebrandt.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Clark of 346 North Louise Street entertained as dinner guests Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Lingo of Los Angeles. Tonight they are entertaining Mrs. Clark's uncles, Sims McCann and brother, who will leave Monday night for their home in Ohio, stopping en route at Salt Lake and Colorado points. They have had a royal time since coming to Southern California and have been entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Clark with many sightseeing trips.

Clarence E. Kimlin, business manager, and Dr. H. G. Westphal, medical superintendent, of the Glendale Sanitarium, Dr. Martin Keller, Dr. Julia A. White, Dr. W. J. Johnson, and Elder J. Adams Stevens are attending the convention in Loma Linda today, tomorrow and Monday, and all will have a part in the program. Another speaker known to Glendale people is Dr. D. D. Comstock, of Pasadena, who was formerly connected with the Sanitarium here.

FUNERAL OF EDWIN R. WILBUR

Funeral services for Edwin R. Wilbur who passed away Wednesday night, March 17, 1920, will be held at his late home, 506 West California Avenue, Monday afternoon with Pulliam & Kiefer in charge. His ashes will be buried in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur have been residents of Glendale for about fifteen years and last December celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary. He was a veteran of the civil war, but ill health prevented his very active participation in G. A. R. doings.

CLUB TEA BENEFIT

The Tuesday Club tea party which Mrs. G. D. Roach planned to give several weeks ago and postponed when the influenza epidemic became acute, came off Friday afternoon at her pretty home on West Lomita avenue, which had been charmingly decorated for the occasion with flowers in a green and white color scheme repeated in the refreshments and appointments of the refreshment table. A musical program was contributed by Mrs. R. A. Puffer who sang, and Mesdames J. A. Wright and Arthur Dibbern who gave piano numbers. The guest list included several unable to attend—Mrs. Gibson, Mrs. Alfred Muhleman, Mrs. Needham and Mrs. West. Those present were: Mesdames Charles Parker, J. A. Wright, J. F. Hearnshaw, Marguerita Angelica, F. M. Augustine, Walter Jones, R. A. Puffer, Frank Ayars, her house guest (Mrs. Alspaugh), Frank Hester, Haskell Lapham, J. S. Thompson, Charles J. Perkins, S. F. Worsley.

Rev. J. S. O'Neill submits the following good advice for girls which he quotes from Rev. Vaughan of England:

"Dress modestly. Bear yourself modestly. Create in a man a respect and a reverence for you, and have nothing to do with animal dances and animal dancers. The great mistake is to forget that false love is ephemeral, while pure love is everlasting. In the long run, vice can not compete with virtue. It is too heavily handicapped."

A Letter

Dear Sir:

"When I was home sick last week," said a well-known business man, "I had plenty of time to think. Some thoughts were pleasant and some were not. The thought that gave me most satisfaction was that if I didn't get down town again I had enough life insurance to pay my debts, leave my wife a comfortable monthly income and provide my children for their battle with the world."

"Still I wished it was more, but I remembered that while you can call the doctor and the undertaker after you get sick, you have to call the life insurance agent before you go to bed. Why don't we call him oftener?"

"I was rather tolerant of the chap who signed me up for life insurance—did it partly as a favor to him I thought. He tells me he makes the last call too as well as the first. After the doctor, the lawyer, the preacher and the undertaker, the inheritance tax collector have called, yes after the friends have called and left their flowers and words of sympathy for the widow, this life insurance chap calls and leaves the life insurance check that takes care of all the other callers' bills."

"There is an odd thing about those life insurance checks, he tells me; they are always worth one hundred cents on the dollar, spot cash. I see by today's paper that my Liberty bonds, the best stuff any American can buy would bring less than par. Your widow don't have to hunt a buyer or pay a commission or wait a while till the market gets better to get her life insurance money in full."

"Strange men don't load up more heavily with life insurance. Perhaps they think it costs too much. I thought I couldn't afford it till that chap showed me it was the one great necessity that hadn't gone up in price. That $1,000 costs less each year than a pair of shoes, said I couldn't afford to be without it. I guess he was right."

"As soon as the doctor says I may try again I am going to take $10,000 more."

Yours very truly,
Full information costs nothing. See

M. E. BROTHERHOOD

HOLD FATHER AND SON BANQUET AND ELECT OFFICERS

Last night at 6:45 the Brotherhood of the First Methodist Church of Glendale met in the social hall of the church and partook of an enjoyable supper, having as guests the boys of the classes of Elwood Ingledue and Kenneth Crist, and as a special guest, Rev. Ray C. Harker, D. D., pastor of the West Adams M. E. Church in Los Angeles.

After doing justice for an enjoyable hour to the varied repast, A. G. Lindley, the president, called the men together for the business meeting at which good reports of the past year's work were made and election of officers for the ensuing year was held.

A. G. Lindley was re-elected president. Other officers were filled as follows: First vice president, W. N. Bott; second vice president, W. F. Tower; third vice president, H. A. Wilson; fourth vice president, L. W. Babcock; secretary, E. S. Osgood; chaplain, Rev. S. B. Warner.

After some helpful remarks by the pastor, Dr. Clyde Crist, the evening's exercises were concluded by a practical and inspiring address on evangelism by Dr. Harker, who has done fine work among his men in Los Angeles. The visiting speaker was listened to with rapt attention by all. Among other things Dr. Harker said that when Joshua rebuked Moses for allowing Eldad and Medad to prophesy when they had not been specially selected, Moses silenced Joshua with the reply: "Would that all the Lord's people were prophets." The prophets of old foretold the times of Christ, but the work of the modern prophet is rather to witness to the Christ that has already come. It is the spirit of witnessing, the spirit of joy that we need—a spirit that should be among the laymen.

Laymen have made Christianity vital in all the stages of Christian history. Episcopal Dean Hodges of Yale University had roughly divided church periods into three—the Martyrs, the Monks, the Methodists.

A great spiritual battle is on and the laymen must fight. Judge Cleland of Chicago, after a survey in that city, said the weakness of the churches was in the work being limited to the few. The work was done by practically 23 per cent of the members, whereas all should be in line.

The Waldenses in the early days of Protestantism asked each man to win a new soul in seven days. The unit system, the win-one way, is the method with many Bible precedents.

A skeptical physician was won recently by a wise Christian worker. The physician admitted three facts, viz., first, the supreme thing is character; second, Jesus Christ is the supreme character; third, Jesus Christ's character is the incarnation of the truth of His teachings. The physician found that following Christ was the way to attain character.

Why Some People Do Not Patronize The Glendale Laundry

Because they have always done their laundry at home and think it shiftless to send it out. Because they don't know the relief that comes when this work is banished from the home. No matter how conveniently the home laundry may be arranged the weekly washing and ironing is always dreaded by the housewife. Some women don't know this weekly drudgery can be avoided.

Why not come out of the old rut?

by an appeal to argument but by the appeal to the heart. The head follows the heart.

Many are being won in Dr. Harker's church by the earnest, sympathetic work of the simplest disciples. The speaker closed with a thrilling illustration of the wreck of the Titanic in 1912. Though this floating palace was considered unsinkable the terrible time came when the men saw the women and children into the life boats. Captain Gracie had the scene so stamped in his mind that a year later, dying, he kept repeating: "The women and children into the life boats." And so our call should be "All people into the life boat of God." To get them in is our mission. That is our work.

CHAPTER B. A.

Chapter B. A. of the P. E. O. was entertained Friday at the attractive new Colonial home of Mrs. T. W. Preston at 330 North Jackson St. A delicious luncheon was served at noon, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Claud Case. Spring flowers were used with very pretty effect on the luncheon table and in the living rooms. The program was limited to a round table on favorite books conducted by Mrs. Charles H. Toll, assisted by four or five other members. Nearly the entire enrollment of the chapter was present and several guests.

STATE HIGHWAY COMMISSION AGREES TO CHANGES IN ARROYO SECO ROUTE

Definite action looking toward the construction of the Arroyo Seco road was taken last month by the California Highway Commission in agreeing to a revision of specifications suggested by the Bureau of Public Works, limiting the roadway to twenty-one feet width in cuts and twenty-four feet width in fills. The Bureau of Public Works has suggested that it would enter upon the construction of its portion of this scenic driveway, building the road to the widths noted above to the extent of available funds. The state commission acquiesced in this plan and agreed to lay out and construct from the point where the forest road will end, under the foregoing conditions, a state road, to the extent made possible by the allotment included in the $40,000,000 state highway bond issue for such purpose.

Among the Commission's activities last month was the awarding of contracts for a total of 66 miles of state highway construction. Of this mileage 8.3 miles will be in Imperial County on the route of the Imperial Valley-Los Angeles highway and 14.3 miles is a part of the same route lying in Riverside County.

Shasta County will get 21.2 miles of state highway under last month's awards, Tulare County will secure 4 miles of surfacing and Monterey will get 21 miles of improvement.

Bids were also asked on a total of $6.5 miles of state highway construction. The mileages and counties affected are as follows: Santa

TRUCK SALES IN MEXICO INCREASE

Within three years the sale of automobiles and motor trucks in Mexico has doubled. The mining companies are using trucks in large numbers and with a view to establishing regular motor transportation systems a truck train is being run into Mexico. Nearly all of the automobiles and motor trucks being sold in the northern part of the country are American made, there being a few French, Italian and German models.—Motor World.

268 AUTOS STOLEN IN DETROIT IN NOVEMBER

During the month of November, 1919, there were stolen in the City of Detroit 268 automobiles valued at $270,570. Accessories valued at $4400 were also reported stolen. Recovered machines numbered 197, worth $213,260, and accessories worth $1053. The amount of accessories reported stolen to the police department is really a drop in the bucket compared to the actual losses, as the average automobilist, when he loses a tire or robe, simply pockets his loss, as he usually has no adequate description or means of identifying his property.—Detroit Motor News.

CLUB BANQUET

face assigned her and had to mount and descend from the platform in a pair of squeaky shoes. Another awful minute came when she had to make notes of a lengthy motion to amend the constitution, an amendment to the motion and an amendment to the amendment. A third awful minute was when she had to record the titles of the compositions played by a professional musician. She closed with the request that hereafter musicians be instructed to choose pieces bearing titles of one syllable.

Mrs. Charles Parker, Chairman of the Music Section of the Club, was the next speaker who said she understood her subject to be "Music in Sections," but when she consulted the dictionary to discover the exact meaning of sections she found the word sometimes means "slices" she knew that would never do, neither could she think of music as applied to sleeping car sections after some of her experiences as a traveler. She finally decided to apply it in its singular form as "our music section," declaring if other clubs are as fortunate in their music sections, they are to be congratulated.

A. W. Tower then bashfully responded to the toast, "Mumps at Sixty." He explained that a few weeks ago while celebrating his sixtieth birthday with a few friends, the talk turned on some method of staying the hand of time or even of turning it back. Various compounds such as Tanlac, Beef Iron and Wine, Nux Iron, and even exercise, were suggested and finally one advised him to take some childish complaint for its rejuvenating effects, offering to lend him a case of mumps from her own family. He adopted the suggestion and challenged the audience to pronounce him more than 25 years old in appearance. During his illness he developed some of the properties of a ouija board which was operated by the president of the club, who propounded such questions as:

Q.—Who will be our next President? A.—A lady with well developed jaw muscles.

Q.—Why do some of our members never speak in our club discussions? A.—Because some members of the club talk all the time.

Q.—Are husband's nights a success? A.—Yes, if they do not have to talk.

Q.—Who do you consider the handsomest member of the club? A.—The vice president.

At this point the speaker declared, the president of the club slapped his face, tweaked his nose and the ouija board ceased to talk.

The toastmistress here referred to ways and means problems in the clubs and to the St. Patrick's Day tea at the home of Mrs. Toll, given by ten ladies of the Foothill Club and presented to Mrs. Temple, Chairman of Ways and Means, a fancy green box containing, she said, a check for $71, proceeds of the tea. Great applause followed this announcement.

Mrs. Charles Temple responded to the toast to "Ways and Means" by a clever poem as follows:

"My subject was to be: What Do You Mean, Ways and Means? Here's to the Ways and Means, which means ways without means!

We mean to get ways
Some money to raise.
With desire we're filled
A club house to build.

But the botheration is the location.
Some want it east, some want it west,
Some want it near their own little nest.

There are some who do balk
Because to club they can't walk.
There are some who do weep
Because car fare's so steep.
Some want it large and some want it small.

Some do not want any ground at all.
We'll get that real estate
Before it's too late.
Then to hubbies we'll go
To get the dough.
A club house we'll make
That will take the cake.
We will all be so proud
We'll forget any cloud.
There'll be joy and good cheer
Every day in the year.

In the unavoidable absence of Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, chairman of the Literary Section, Mrs. E. H. Willisford responded to the toast assigned to that department of the club. The literary section, she declared, covered the whole field of art, science, literature, religion and politics. Said she: "Why waste time seeking information in encyclopedias; try attend caucuses to learn who to nominate for office; why require legislators to wrangle over the settlement of the peace treaty problems? Ask the literary section. Do you want to know the religion of the Fiji Islanders or of North Glendale? Ask the literary section. Do you want to know the literary value of the Glendale News compared with Shakespeare? Ask the literary section. She closed with the refrain:

Come, come, come,
Everybody come to our Section.
Make yourselves to hum,
There's a place to check your chewing gum.
Come through that door,
You'll find more famous people than you ever met before.

Mrs. John Robert White, the club treasurer, who greeted her hearers as "Fellow members and accessories," said she supposed she was expected to talk of money; that speech was supposed to be free, but she had found it was not always so, as for instance when a club member approached her with a calendar scheme for the benefit of the club and wished her to choose a date on the calendar. She said she would take number 1 and that little speech cost her a dollar. Said she: "My little boy asked the other day: 'Where does all the money go to?' and a friend who was with us said: 'In some of the poker games it goes to the kittle.' Now the initials of the Tuesday Afternoon Club when reversed spell CAT, but we are going to be the kitties that get all the money. A judge ruled the other day that it is not stealing to take money from your husband's trousers pocket, so if we do not get money enough to build our club house it will not be our fault and it will not be the fault of the judge. Last night we had a caucus at the High School and nominated a lady for trustee. We are going to vote for her, our husbands, brothers, sisters and aunts are going to vote for Mrs. H. E. Bartlett, a member of our club." (great applause.)

Mrs. E. D. Yard, chairman of the Shakespeare Section, responded to the toast, "Shakespeare by the Yard," with an apt quotation from the immortal bard:

"Oh heaven! were man but constant he were perfect. That one error fills him with faults."

W. E. Evans made a most amusing response to the toast, "Non Compos Mentus," saying that he and his fellows had learned a great deal about the Tuesday Afternoon Club in the course of the evening. He greatly joshed the toastmistress and the spouse to whom she had paid tribute saying: "We have learned that we are supposed to do most of the hugging and kissing to be done in the club and I suppose we are here for that purpose (laughter). I certainly admire our toastmistress and am glad she had the temerity to say what she felt. I wish to say to her: If you should happen to shuffle off this mortal coil, your husband certainly will not have any trouble about getting married again. I hope my excellent better half and most important half will not leave me in such a predicament, but I have never seen anything yet that I coveted with so much envy as the reputation Dan Campbell bears."

Mrs. Campbell then surrendered her place to the president, Mrs. Tower, who closed this part of the evening's entertainment with the farewell:

"Dear sweethearts, we greet you,
It has been happiness to meet you.
May every blessing follow you."

The musical and other numbers of the special program arranged by Mrs. W. E. Evans, program chairman of the club, were then announced by her following a clever speech in which she amusingly set forth the difficulties and responsibilities of such a chairmanship. It led up to an appreciative introduction of the artists—Mr. and Mrs. Mattoon, both vocalists of rare charm, Mr. Mattoon being in addition a reader and impersonator who delighted the audience with his character sketches. The program included the following solo numbers by Mrs. Mattoon for which Miss Gertrude Champlain furnished the piano accompaniment:

"The Nightingale Has a Lyre of Gold" (Whelpy); "Values" (Frederick Vanderpool); "The Birth of Morn" (Leon); "Little Bit of Honey" (Carrie Jacobs Bond); "Mamie's Lullaby" (Jamison); "The Dear Little Girl."

Mr. Mattoon's vocal numbers, for which his wife furnished the accompaniment were: "Invictus," "The Armorer's Song," from Robin Hood, and "Slumber On, My Little Gypsy Sweetheart." His readings numbered two poems of James Whitcomb Riley—"I Chewed On," and "Jim and I." He also gave "An Englishman's Soliloquy" in the full dress and monocle of the London society man, closing his contributions with "If I Could Be by Her," a wonderful impersonation of a stammerer. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion, a small table centering the room set with jars of calendulas surrounding a palm. Down the long tables were placed vases filled with a flower new to many, a yellow mentzelia of Northern California, a floral dweller in wild places, its foliage suggesting the deserts and washes.

ings to cost approximately $200,000 to $250,000. The plans and elevations of the buildings are now in the hands of the secretary of the board of management, Clarence Kimlin, and he has been very happy in the prospect that they would be constructed in this city to which he has become greatly attached and which has long been advertised as the headquarters of the Pacific Union Conference.

Thursday evening officials of the Conference met members of the Board of City Trustees a short time before the regular meeting to discuss with them prospects for a sewer system, and secure some assurance that this improvement would be undertaken before starting building on the Glendale Sanitarium grounds. To their very great disappointment the Board declined to commit itself. Its reason for evading action was found in the fact that three of its members are retiring and do not feel disposed to say very much about a matter which will have to be handled by the new board to be organized after the election of April 12th.

The report of Engineers Olmstead and Gillelan is in the office of the City Manager and the Board deemed it best that the same be not filed until the new Board should have had time to go over it and decide upon a policy with regard to it. The report outlines a complete sewer system and plan of sewage disposal for the City of Glendale, with all necessary street mains and laterals at an estimated cost approximating $500,000. Half of that amount, it was estimated, would be secured through a bond issue to cover the cost of mains, interceptors and a disposal plant. The laterals, it was planned, would be paid for by assessments against abutting property, as is usually done.

In discussion with the Glendale Sanitarium representatives the Board of Trustees recognized the need of solving the sewer problem, particularly in the business district and expressed the hope that this would be one of the first matters to be given consideration by the new board. Their conviction that it is a matter which should be left to the consideration of the new board prevented members from speaking on the subject as freely as they might have done had conditions been different.

In view of this situation it would appear that Glendale Sanitarium officials have no real reason for discouragement, although they declare that they can ill afford to waste time. A strong demand for sewers has already been expressed by businessmen, the matter has been under consideration before civic bodies, and it is reasonable to expect that the pressure of public opinion will make it easy for the new board to follow what will probably be its natural inclination and take steps to provide the city with a sewer system.

The plans under consideration by Sanitarium officials provide for the erection of two large buildings east and west of the present sanitarium building, which can be wrecked as soon as these two are completed and the two new buildings will then be united by a passage or bridge which will give them the appearance of an H. The intervening space left vacant by the wrecking of the old building would then be parked.

there are three other trees, kinds the Evening News reporter had never heard of before. One is called the Golden Variegated or appetizer. It looks like a large orange and has a very thick, rough skin. This latter is ground up by the Mexicans, where the tree is native, and used as quinine, while the pulp is eaten like grape fruit. Another is called Flor de Bouquet and is a cross of grape fruit and tangerine, tasting more like the former. The third is a citron tree. Most of us have an idea that candied citron is made from a melon, but such is not the case. The citron grows on a tree, is shaped like an orange and colored like a lemon. The fruit grows to considerable size, as large as 5 inches in diameter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrington bought this place soon after their return from the East, where they had been spending several months, their home at 205 Burchett being leased. They left Glendale last July for their 12th trip back East in the 14 years they had lived in Glendale. They went by way of the Canadian Pacific and enjoyed the scenic wonders mightily. They stopped at St. Paul a day or two, then went down to Davenport, Iowa, Mrs. Harrington's old home, where she has a number of relatives. Her three brothers have a large paint and wall paper business there and they offered the strongest inducements possible to Mr. Harrington to stay with them and take an interest in the business. But both Mr. and Mrs. Harrington said they would rather shovel dirt in Glendale than be millionaires in Davenport. Mr. Harrington has not decided yet what business he will go into. He was on a fruit and vegetable route in Glendale for a number of years, making many friends.

OUIJA BOARD MUST GO

Coincident with the efforts of leading newspapers, public officials, and many ministers to curb the widespread mania for ouija board messages, Seventh-day Adventists throughout the Pacific Coast will spend the five days from March 23 to April 2 visiting the thousands of homes in California, Arizona, Nevada and Utah in a systematic endeavor to acquaint the people with the dangers of the "weege," and other forms of spiritistic phenomena.

Seventh-day Adventists declare that the supernatural power which leaves its devotees bereft of their reason is not from above, and furthermore, that it is not the striving of departed souls to communicate with the living, as spirit messages often pretend, but is a modern reproduction on a large scale of ancient necromancy.

Study of the Bible by Seventh-day Adventists, no less than the wonderful and powerful manifestations of the unseen, leads them to the conclusion that there are indeed spirit beings, but that these beings, instead of dead persons who have come to life, are in reality intelligences who have rebelled against Deity, and who, with subtle allurements, and a presentation of facts adulterated with falsehood, are seeking the ruin of mankind.

Seventh-day Adventists declare that Sir Oliver Lodge is not the apostle of a new crusade, but has merely stumbled upon the age-old phenomena of spirit manifestation. They believe the public should know the danger of yielding their minds to the influence of powerful and deceitful spirits, and that Christian people everywhere should, through the legitimate avenue of prayer, seek Divine protection from this evil miasma. Seventh-day Adventists are not materialists, for they believe the Bible teaches that there are spirit beings, both good and evil; the good being sent forth by a wise and merciful Providence to protect humankind from the wiles, deceptions and destructive designs of the evil.

The present campaign is an effort not only to show the danger of seeking after "wizards that peep and that mutter," but the thralldom of spirit rappings, spirit wireless, ouija messages, materializations, communications from apparitions, and all other forms of intercourse with pretended spirits of the dead.

16-WHEELED VEHICLE PATENTED

Hippolyte W. Romanoff, a Russian inventor, has been granted a U. S. patent on a 16-wheeled vehicle for which he claims greater riding comfort at high speed and greater economy of power than is obtained with four-wheeled vehicles. There are four four-wheeled trucks, one at each corner of the vehicle.—Motor.

INDUSTRIAL NEWS

Predict Record Building Operations

Building operations upon an unprecedented scale, despite top notch quotations for materials, is forecast for the early spring, the treasury announces.

Questionnaires returned by reserve bankers agree that high cost will not stop building activity to meet the nation-wide housing shortage. Progress in building may be slightly restricted by car shortage. The effect of this will restrict operations in some districts.

The nation is behind on construction work of all kinds and as the public begins to realize that costs of labor and material are not likely to fall to any extent for some years to come, building is going ahead at an unprecedented rate.

Western lumber is being used in all parts of the country and by its extensive use is becoming known far and wide as the cheapest building material to be had today. As a result the lumber industry which is the greatest employing industry in the west, is running at full speed and bringing prosperity to many communities.

Western Single Tax Goats

Oregon and California are singled out with initiative bills to try the single tax experiment.

The people are put to the expense and trouble to vote down a revolutionary system of raising revenues.

If the experiment should succeed at the polls in any western state the single tax system would prove ruinous.

Awaiting the outcome and effect on property and investments, the state adopting single tax would be shunned for years.

Single tax is essentially a scheme to soak the land owner and relieve from one-fourth to one-half of all other forms of property from taxes.

Large corporations and holders of securities and merchandise would be enriched by the land-only-tax system.

Those having holdings of stocks, bonds, automobiles, and the like would be exempt, as would owners of big herds and flocks.

The voters of Oregon and California have several times with increasing majorities downed single tax propositions and will do it again.

Wheat and Fruit Price Promoting

What is the difference between professional price promoting and profiteering? Farm products organizers must answer.

The Washington Wheat Growers' Association is accused of being a scheme to make big profits for the promoters and not the growers.

J. F. Adkisson of The Dalles, Oregon, and C. W. Booth of Seal Beach, California, show up the methods of promoters of wheat growers' associations, fishermen's associations and fruit growers' associations organized on a plan for controlling markets and driving prices beyond reason.

Adkisson says the wheat growers' association is a promotion scheme engineered for the enrichment of the promoters.

It is claimed the promoter gets a salary paid by the farmers and is to get $5000 for controlling the farmers' union convention.

B. T. Manchester, president of the Tri-state Terminal Company at Portland, Spokane, Baker and Lewiston, repudiates all connection with the promoters.

He says of the promoters: "They have arranged to secure large fees out of the wheat growers whether the plan succeeds or not."

"They have used the farmers' union to secure the farmers' support, and then stated that the farmers' union would be killed by their league."

The same methods of price promoting of fruit products has been employed according to statement of men in the fruit industry. The plan seems to be to drive the prices of small fruits, etc., to even higher figures than last year. Combinations such as this for the sole purpose of controlling food supplies and holding for exorbitant figures will fail.

A TRAINING SCHOOL IN SMYRNA

The Young Women's Christian Association has established a Service Center in Smyrna, according to a cable just received at headquarters in New York. This Center will include club rooms, recreation work, classes and all the other types of regular Y. W. C. A. work.

The plans for a Smyrna center include also a Social Service training class of educated young women, to prepare them for efficient work among the stricken people of their own land. The need for social workers in the Near East is infinitely greater than the number of foreign leaders available. Thousands of Armenian girls have been or are being released by government order from the Turkish harems, where they have been in captivity for three or four years. Many of them are quite alone in the world, as their families were killed in the massacres at the time they were captured by the Turks. Many of them have little children, though the mothers themselves are scarcely more than little girls. They are penniless, and without means of earning a living. The orphanages which offer them shelter are in great need of teachers and leaders to prepare these girls for life. Y. W. C. A. Secretaries are filling this need in four towns of the Near East, but many more workers are needed.

Smyrna has been chosen as a particularly suitable place for a Y. W. C. A. training school because of its Collegiate School for Girls, whose students and graduates are well fitted for such service, if they can have the special training the Y. W. C. A. will offer. It is expected that the course will prepare these young women to teach the girls in orphanages home-making, hygiene, the care of children, and some types of industrial work which will help them to be self-supporting. But aside from the more practical side of their education, these girls need to be taught to play. Their lives for the past few years have been so full of tragedy and wretchedness that they seem to have forgotten all they ever knew of fun. Recreation and organized play will receive due emphasis in the Y. W. C. A. course.

The Y. W. C. A. center at Smyrna is to be in charge of Miss Nancy E. McFarland, of New York City, and Miss Jean M. Christie, of Springfield, Massachusetts, who sailed in November for this province.

AUTO WAGES DOUBLED IN FOUR YEARS

Wages in the automobile industry increased from the average weekly individual wage of $13 in 1915 to $17.08 in 1916, $19.54 in 1917, $23.01 in 1918, and $25.74 in 1919, according to figures made public by the Federal Department of Labor.—Motor Age.

TIRE FAMINE IN FRANCE

A serious tire famine prevails in France, and is rendered more acute by illegal profiteering and wild speculation. War contracts have only recently been cleaned up, but tire manufacturers are far from being able to meet requirements. It is estimated that the shortage will continue for the whole of next year.—Automotive Industries.

$25,000 TRUCK OUTPUT IN 1920

According to reports from the truck manufacturers of the country, the output for 1920 will be a record one. No less than 225,000 trucks, including 530 odd models, will be built. These figures will be increased, as several new models will be shortly placed on the market.—The Automobilist.

In the annual endurance run held under the auspices of the Oakland Motorcycle Club, two entries equipped with side cars, riding on Good-year tire equipment, finished the exacting grind of the course with perfect scores. These were Lee Orwig and C. Newland, riding an Indian machine, and Dewey Jeffries and C. A. Drolette using an Excelsior mount. Despite the numerous bad places in the roads and the abuse to which the tires were subjected by the use of tire chains, no tire trouble was experienced. At the starting control coffee and sandwiches were furnished gratis to the riders through the courtesy of the Good-year Company.

SKATING PARTY

A party of Glendale young people, which numbered about seventy members and friends of the Epworth League of the First M. E. Church, motored to Alhambra Friday night in ten machines to skate in the rink there. The affair had been arranged by the fourth vice president of the league who expected a company of about thirty. The doubling of the party showed that it was a popular proposition. After an evening spent in gliding over the floor the young men and women adjourned to a local ice cream parlor where refreshments were enjoyed, and then motored home, reaching here about midnight.
