FLOODS IN ENGLAND ARE CAUSE OF SEVERAL DEATHS AND HEAVY PROPERTY LOSS

Much Livestock Destroyed; Severn River Twenty-two Feet Above Normal; Electric Lighting Service of Worcester Stopped; Midlands and Northern England Suffers Most

London, June 3.—Floods described as the worst in forty years have followed the recent heavy rains in England, the Midlands and the north of England suffering the most. Several persons are reported drowned, much livestock has been destroyed and the property damage is heavy. Many farms have been inundated. The forecasters hold out little hope for immediate relief, indicating more rain may be expected. Worcester has suffered badly from the flood. The Severn River is twenty-two feet above normal and the famous cricket grounds are completely submerged. The agricultural show which was being held at Worcester has been abandoned, the tops of the tents alone clearing the water. Scores of cottages are affected. The lower rooms in many of the houses have been rendered uninhabitable. The electric lighting works is stopped. CARRIED BY POLICE. A congregation leaving a church after service at Lancaster, Durham, had to be carried to high ground by police, so quickly did the flood become serious. At Darlington, Durham, the flood is the worst that has been experienced in forty years. Bodies of cattle mingle with big trees floating down the stream.

SEES HOPE FOR P.G.E. IN LAND SUBSIDY SCHEME

If Other Measures Fail Oliver Would Let Private Interests Extend Line Province Cannot Long Endure Present P.G.E. Burden, Premier Warns

Vancouver, June 3.—Completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway by private capital and development of British Columbia's inland empire was foreshadowed by Premier Oliver in speeches in Richmond riding last night. Willingness to grant private capital areas of agricultural lands in the Peace River belt in consideration of the Government being relieved of its $45,000,000 railway burden, was expressed by the Premier. While no reference was made to the known oil wealth of the northern region now controlled by the Government, and to the vast wealth of mine and forest and water power adjoining the P.G.E. line, the Premier let it be known that he was in favor of a subsidy of land to private interests if other measures failed in meeting the railway issue. A HEAVY LOAD. "At present our $46,000,000 capital obligation in connection with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway is, without," said the Premier, "the further loss of $2,500,000 a year in interest and upkeep is a load we can not bear for long. We shall continue to lose this sum every year until the road enters producing territory. I am not in favor of land subsidies as a rule. But if a land subsidy will make it possible for the people of British Columbia to be relieved of this burden then, if other measures fail I am prepared to consider this if necessary. I have had this plan in mind for some years but the time has not been propitious until now." (Concluded on page 2.)

CHICAGO YOUTHS FACE NEW CHARGES

Leopold and Loeb Accused of Murdering F. L. Tracy as Well as R. Franks Identified as Youths Who Maimed Charles Ream, a Taxicab Driver

Chicago, June 3.—A declaration that the bullet which killed Freeman Louis Tracy, a student, on November 25, fits one of the pistols found in the room of Nathan Leopold, who, with Richard Loeb, both sons of millionaires, have confessed the kidnaping and slaying of Robert Franks, fourteen, was made by Dr. Joseph Springer, coroner's physician, today. The physician's statement is the first clue the authorities have found to connect the kidnapers with the Tracy murder. The most mysterious slayings which ever confronted the police here. Leopold and Loeb, slayers of Young Franks, from whom they attempted to extort a ransom of $10,000, were identified yesterday as the attackers who maimed Charles Ream by an operation of mutilation on his five days after the killing of Tracy. Chicago, June 3.—Nathan E. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb, confessed slayers of Robert Franks, fourteen-year-old boy, spent the night in jail while prosecutors and detectives sought to connect them with at least one other murder and a maiming attack in further elaboration of their Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde existence—honorary graduates at the University of Chicago by day and seekers after thrills in the laboratory of life by night, thrills which satisfied their jaded appetites of nineteen years only with death. The youthful kidnapers-slayers. (Concluded on page 2.)

AMERICAN TRADE TO SUFFER SOME TEMPORARY CHECK

Such is Opinion of Businessmen Arriving on President Madison Belief Japan Will Not Proceed to Extreme Measures

There will be some discrimination against American residents in Japan, and against commodities manufactured in the United States, as a consequence of the Japanese Exclusion Bill just passed by the American Congress, in the opinion of passengers on the liner President Madison, which arrived this afternoon from the Orient. W. L. Farham, Oriental manager for the National City Company, of New York, who is accompanied by his family en route from Yokohama to New York, stated that based on long residence in the Orient he looked for the present agitation to be transitory, and that the Japanese government would not attempt a boycott of American manufactures. He agreed, however, that the "position of the Americans in Japan would be complicated, that there would be discrimination against them, and that." (Concluded on page 2.)

WORLD AVIATORS OF U.S. PREPARE TO FLY ACROSS CHINA SEA TO SHANGHAI

Kagoshima, Japan, June 3.—The United States aviators flying around the world, spent today in rest and in tuning up their planes after the strenuous flight from Kushimoto to this city yesterday. They hope to hop off for the flight to Shanghai tomorrow. On that jump of about 500 miles straight across the China Sea they will have the aid of a number of United States destroyers, if needed. The destroyers have been stationed in a line across the sea at intervals of about sixty miles. Nagasaki, Japan, June 3.—Captain Pelletier d'Osny, flying from Paris to Tokyo, made the jump from Mukden to Pingyang, in Northern Korea, in three and a half hours today. Hopping off from the Manchurian city at 3 a.m., he reached the ancient Korean city, about 275 miles distant, at 8:30 a.m. (Concluded on page 2.)

Muskrat Farm Near Winnipeg is U.S. Man's Desire

Winnipeg, June 3.—A home-stead near Winnipeg with a good-sized lake stocked with muskrats is the modest desire of an Auburn, Wisconsin, citizen, according to a letter received by the Board of Trade today. He desires to start a muskrat farm, and wishes to know if the Canadian Government offers a bonus for such an industry.

BUSINESSLIKE POLICIES ADVOCATED BY LIBERAL CANDIDATES IN VICTORIA

Health Insurance System Urged By Dr. Raynor; Drake Sees In Rate Fight Most Important Business Proposition Before Country To-day; Clearihue Defends Government Record, Vigorously Denying Beer Charges

"Greater even than our natural resources are our human resources—our boys and girls. It is our duty to develop them, to fit them to make the nation of the future." DR. M. RAYNOR. "To replace John Oliver to-day would be to say to Ottawa, 'we are not interested in the rate fight, and we cannot afford to say that. The rate fight is the most important consideration before the people of B.C. to-day.'" S. J. DRAKE. "Can any reasonable person think that the brewers are going to hand their profits over to the Liberal Party? Look over the politics of the brewers and you will see that most of them are Conservatives. The charge that the increase in the price of beer to the brewers was made for campaign fund purposes is a false charge, leveled for political purposes only." J. B. CLEARIHUE. Business-like policies which they will follow if they are elected were, outlined by the Liberal candidates in Victoria at a well-attended meeting in the North Ward School last night. While praising highly the Oliver Government's splendid record in the enactment of social legislation, Dr. M. Raynor declared himself emphatically in favor of further reforms in this direction. He vigorously advocated the establishment of an adequate system of health insurance. S. J. Drake appealed to the electors as a business man. He saw in the Oliver Government's freight rate fight the most important business proposition before the people of British Columbia, and added that if the Government were not returned the verdict of the voters would be tantamount to an admission that they did not care whether western transportation costs were reduced or not. After outlining a few of the reforms instituted by the Oliver Government and some of the things that it has done for Victoria, J. B. Clearihue voiced a vigorous denial of the charge that the Government raised the price of beer to the brewers recently in return for campaign fund contributions. This allegation, he declared, was absolutely false. FUTURE OF CHILDREN. "While we must develop our natural resources, greater than these are our human resources—our boys and girls, our men and women, Dr. Raynor declared. "The nation that will be great in the future is the nation which has strong men and strong women. With-out them, what use are our natural resources? My whole purpose in this campaign is to do something to aid the development of our human resources—to do what I can to give our boys and girls a chance." HUMAN RESOURCES. Dr. Raynor reviewed the efforts of the Oliver Government to cope with the development of human resources. These efforts, he remarked, contrasted strongly with the record of the Conservative Government which, during the last two years of the old regime, had not maintained a medical man at the head of health administration. The Liberal Government, he said, had established a splendid system of medical inspection in the schools, dental clinics, a school nursing system and a rural nursing system. The Government, he stated, had done much in child welfare work, established venereal clinics, aided hospitals more than other provincial governments. (Concluded on page 14.) SEATTLE STRIKE. Seattle, June 3.—An article on the first page of The Seattle Post-Intelligencer this morning headed "P. T. Publishes Undisturbed," said that a declaration from the union side of a strike which started Friday that the controversy is likely to become national.

He intends to stay at Epsom for the entire four-days of racing.

TWO NEW BARONETS BUT NO PEERAGES

Thirteen Knighthoods in the King's Birthday Honors List Announced To-day T. P. O'Connor Made Privy Councillor; Order of Merit For F. H. Bradley

London, June 3. (Canadian Press Cable)—No new peerages have been created on the occasion of the King's Birthday and the Labor Government's first honor list follows the general expectation in this regard. The other honors are largely in the way of rewards for service to the state in semi-diplomatic departments. The only Privy Councillorship in the list has been conferred on T. P. O'Connor, who has represented the Scotland Division of Liverpool in the House of Commons as a Nationalist since 1888 and is known internationally as a newspaper writer as well as legislator and orator. The honor has been conferred on Mr. O'Connor, it is recorded officially, "for political services, but there is little doubt the recognition really arises through his standing as a newspaperman and because of his present position as 'Father of the House of Commons.'" NEW BARONETS. Two baronetcies are in the list. Alexander Grant, chairman of McVittie & Price, biscuit manufacturer, Edinburgh and London, and Sir Humphrey Davy Rolleston, president of the College of Physicians of London, are so honored. Sir Humphrey is one of London's most distinguished medical men. NEW KNIGHTS. The list carries thirteen knights, including David Young Cameron, in recognition of his services as William Leigh, Lord Provost of Edinburgh, and Ralph A. Edgewood. (Concluded on page 2.)

BANK INSPECTION BILL IS PREPARED

Ottawa Paper Says Measure to be Laid Before Commons in Few Days

Supervisor of Banking at Head of Staff of Qualified Auditors

Ottawa, June 3.—The Government is expected to give notice within a few days of its proposed measure providing for bank inspection, states The Ottawa Citizen this afternoon. It is intended to select a qualified banker to supervise the inspection work and to provide him with a staff of auditors who will check up the internal and external audits now provided under the Bank Act and make whatever additional inquiries are considered necessary. The inspection would be confined to the head offices of the banks, experience showing that any failure in the past has been essentially due to transactions originating in or approved by the directors, the newspaper says. There is some unofficial gossip connecting the name of Sir William Stavert, formerly of the Bank of Montreal, with the position of Supervisor of Banking.

NEWSPAPERMEN OF TOKIO AND OSAKA CONDEMN U.S. JAPANESE EXCLUSION LAW

Resolution Passed By Them Declares They Will Not Permanently Accept Such Discrimination; Several Tokio Stores Sell No U.S. Goods; Public Service For Man Who Committed Suicide

Tokio, June 3.—A resolution condemning the Japanese exclusion clause of the new United States Immigration Law was passed to-night at a meeting of representatives of all the Tokio and Osaka newspapers. "The Japanese people may take a dignified and forbearing attitude in the matter of United States immigration," the resolution read, "but they will never permanently accept such discrimination. We, the spokesmen of our nation, declare grim determination not to abide by the decision of the United States Congress, which is a rash one, defying the traditional friendship of Japan and the United States. Several Tokio stores to-day are displaying signs which read: 'No American goods sold here.' A number of the vernacular newspapers assert the movement to boycott United States products, started as a protest against passage of the exclusion law, is gaining ground among the middle and lower classes despite the efforts of the Government to check the spread. PUBLIC SERVICE. The Kokuryukai, or "Black Dragon Society," a patriotic organization, had announced that a public memorial service will be held June 6 at Aoyama cemetery for the unknown Japanese who slew himself a few days ago as a protest against the new United States exclusion law.

BLUE AND GOLD TO BE DECORATIVE COLORS FOR FLEET

Many Societies Are to be Asked to Construct Arches

The decorations for the reception to the British Empire Special Service Squadron will be carried out in the naval colors, dark blue and gold. It is intended to arrange a series of festoons, and to appeal to the Dominion and Provincial authorities to decorate and illuminate the Post Office, and Parliament Buildings, respectively, in appropriate fashion. The decorations committee, which will hold a meeting late this afternoon, has received a tender from Hamilton to supply a large consignment of bunting, which could be disposed of later to various patriotic societies. This offer will be submitted to the executive committee which will hold a session to-morrow, at a figure of $500. Some of the organizations, which will be asked to erect arches on the line of the parade on June 23 are: The city, ex-service men's clubs, Pacific Club, fraternal societies, the Chinese colony, the Japanese colony, Hudson's Bay Company, David Spencer Limited, Canadian Pacific Railway, B.A. Paint Company, B.C. Electric Railway Company and others. The route of the parade to be suggested to Vice-Admiral Sir F. L. Field is as follows: Starting at the (Concluded on page 2.)

LINEMAN KILLED AT LANGFORD

M. Harger, of Colquitz, Succumbs to Injuries; Fellow Worker Hurt

One man was killed and another sustained injuries when an electric light pole supporting the two gave way at Langford this morning. M. Harger and T. R. Laundry, linemen for the B.C.E.R., had climbed the pole to prepare it for the removal of a transformer. The pole snapped at its base and crashed to the ground with the two men still clinging to it. M. Harger sustained a fractured skull and elapsed immediately into unconsciousness from which he failed to rally. Mr. Laundry was picked up much shaken but not seriously injured. The latter was able after a brief rest to return to his home. Every possible effort was made to save the life of the unfortunate victim of the tragedy. Dr. David Donald, Colwood, was called and did all that could be accomplished, finally ordering the removal of the injured man to St. Joseph's Hospital. Death intervened before the hospital was reached. Coroner Hart was notified, and decided to hold inquest at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The late M. Harger had been nine months in the employ of the British Columbia Electric Railway Company Limited, and resided at Colquitz with his mother and sister. A married sister lives in the city. PUBLIC RESPONSE AIDS Y.M.C.A. IN LIFTING DEBT

Generous Offer of Mortgage Holders Met by Last Minute Collections

Citizens Complimented on Achievement in Aid of Character Building

Responding generously to the untiring efforts of the Y.M.C.A. canvassers, public subscription has achieved one of the most earnestly sought developments in connection with that institution, namely, the removal of its indebtedness. Availing themselves of an offer of the controlling interests the Y.M.C.A. executives are now enabled to deposit a cheque for the full payment of the amount agreed upon, $50,000. By doing this the executive secures a settlement of the debt which really amounted to $59,000, of which $9,000 was interest on the mortgage of many years standing. The generous offer of the mortgage holders and the splendid response of the public brought the matter to a successful termination to-day. The burning of the mortgage will be the feature of an interesting ceremony to take place early next week, when the friends and supporters of the institution meet the members of the annual reunion. The directors and staff of the Y.M.C.A. are greatly relieved by the happy outcome of the event, and wish to acknowledge with grateful thanks the assistance of all workers and subscribers whose untiring response made for final success. EMPIRE MINING AND OIL DEVELOPMENT DISCUSSED AT CONGRESS IN LONDON

London, June 3. (Canadian Press Cable)—The Empire Mining and Metallurgical Congress, the first Empire congress of the kind to be held, opened to-day at the British Empire Exhibition. The object of the gathering is to discuss scientific, technical and economic problems connected with the development of the mining resources of the Empire. It is also hoped, as an outcome of the congress, that an Empire council of mining and metallurgical institutions may be formed. Referring to oil, Lord Long, who presided, said there was a very great potential source of oil in the Empire in large shale deposits and in torbanite, which was known, the yield of which would be similar to shale, that contained a much larger proportion of high grade oil. New South Wales, Lord Long said, contained the richest torbanite (Concluded on page 2.)

prosperity?

Get behind OLIVER'S FIGHT
for Equalized Freight Rates and Bigger Pay Rolls

ON June twentieth—Election Day—the Dominion Government, the Railway Corporations, and the Big Interests of Eastern Canada must be shown by the support that we accord the Honorable John Oliver that we are determined to grow and expand. Every vote for a Liberal Candidate is a vote for John Oliver, which is in effect an official message to Ottawa and the East that we in British Columbia are solidly behind the Oliver fight for conditions which are fundamental to the prosperity of every man, woman and child in this province.

Let us show them by our votes that British Columbia is in earnest; that we are determined to win this fight for equalized freight rates—equal charge for equal service throughout Canada; that we must have free and unrestricted use of the Panama Canal; that by natural heritage and moral right we are entitled to representation on national directorates; in short, that we demand the right of this Province to develop and grow.

John Oliver, with his great, homely common-sense and dogged fighting qualities, supported by his Liberal Government, has carried this fight to the interests which are retarding our growth and prosperity.

John Oliver and his Government made the first real fight for equalized freight rates; equal consideration in the expenditure of public monies for harbor improvement, with the resulting grain elevators, docks, etc., for British Columbia.

John Oliver and his Government are fighting for these fundamentals of prosperity which will ensure for us factory pay-rolls; a market for our agricultural products; the development of our natural resources; all of which will benefit every person in this Province.

John Oliver, the head of the Liberal Government in British Columbia, has the ear of the Honorable Mackenzie King, the head of the Liberal Government at Ottawa; and if the people of British Columbia demonstrate by their votes that they are in accord with John Oliver's fight, we in British Columbia will benefit to a far greater extent than we would if Mr. Bowser or General McRae were placed in power.

Disregard petty issues, disregard personal sentiment, and for the welfare of this Province and its economic development, and for your own best interests, return John Oliver and his Government to Victoria on June twentieth.

VOTE LIBERAL

MARCONI TO ATTEND TORONTO MEETINGS

Will be at Mathematicians' Congress and British Association Sessions

Toronto, June 3 (Canadian Press)—Guglielmo Marconi is among the European radio experts who have accepted invitations to take part in the sessions of the International Mathematical Congress and the British Association for the Advancement of Science, to be held here in August, according to a cable received from Prof. J. G. Fields, who is arranging affairs in Europe for the mathematicians' gathering.

G. W. O. Howe, chairman of the wireless section of the Institute of Electrical Engineers and a member of the Radio Research Board of Great Britain, who is regarded as one of the leaders in this aspect of physical research in the British Isles, will deliver an address at a session of the British Association as chairman of the section devoted to engineering. Prof. Howe is editor of The Radio Review and professor of electrical engineering in the University of Glasgow.

Richard Whiddington, Cavendish Professor of Physics in the University of Cambridge, wireless expert from Great Britain who will contribute to the conference. Dr. Whiddington conducted research on wireless communication for the Air Force and the Flying Corps during the Great War and is the author of publications in the field of wireless telegraphy of practical significance.

Senator Marconi is associated especially with the practical development of radio, as he was the first to incorporate the ideas of earlier scientific workers into an apparatus which was successful over an appreciable distance. Later, he was directly instrumental in inaugurating regular transatlantic service and communication with ships at sea.

To Marconi is due also a share of the credit for the perfection of the thermionic valve or "tube" now indispensable for transmission and reception of telephone, as he collaborated with Prof. Fleming in the development of this device.

Naval Treaty is Carried Out by Great Britain

London, June 3.—That Great Britain has incurred no naval expenditure contrary to the terms of the naval treaty for limitation of naval armaments was a statement made by Charles Ammon, Parliamentary Secretary to the Admiralty, in the House yesterday, in reply to a questioner who asked for the amounts spent by Great Britain, the United States, France, Japan and Italy since the treaty was signed, and whether such expenditure had been incurred contrary to the arrangements agreed upon at the Washington Conference.

FINANCIAL SAFETY

INDICATION of how the structure of British Columbia's finance has been carefully and soundly built up during the last eight years or so under the Hon. John Hart as Minister of Finance, is given in the sinking funds returns compiled by auditors of the Government's books.

Against the public debt of this Province, most of it a legacy from the McBride-Bowser squandermania period, Mr. Hart has built up a sinking fund which now totals $12,139,543.92. This represents money saved actually in the bank or in interest-bearing bonds. It works out at $23.14 for every person in British Columbia.

Table with columns: Province, Total Sinking Funds, Per Capita. Rows include Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, British Columbia.

The per capita of British Columbia sinking funds is therefore $1.19 per head greater than the combined sinking funds per capita of all the other Provinces of Canada.

Ontario's sinking fund provision is just over half what British Columbia's now amounts to, despite the fact that Ontario's fund has to provide for a debt four times as large as ours.

British Columbia has not yet forgotten what was the shocking and deplorable state of the Province's sinking funds in 1916.

The contrast of the situation to-day with what it was when Mr. Bowser was put out of power does not provide a happy augury for Mr. Bowser as he starts this afternoon on his speaking tour of the Island and Lower Mainland.

CANADIAN UNIONS DOING BETTER

THE recession in trade union membership in Canada, which has been noticeable since 1919, has apparently come to an end, according to the summary of conditions in the annual report of the Department of Labor for Canada which has just been issued.

The trade union system in Canada is composed of (1) local branches of international organizations, (2) non-international bodies and their local branches, (3) independent units, and (4) National and Catholic unions.

MR. MURDOCH AND HIS BANK DEPOSIT

HON. JAMES MURDOCK, Minister of Labor in the Dominion Government, put his money on deposit in the Home Bank. This is the bank which Sir Thomas White, as Minister of Finance in 1916, learned was insecure, but about which he did nothing to protect the depositors or the stockholders.

Mr. Murdoch has replied to the charge in the House of Commons, making no denial of the withdrawal in question, which he declared had been made in the ordinary course of business. But he announced to the House that inasmuch as he desired that no Home Bank depositor should lose anything through any action of his, he had undertaken to refund the amount, although he was not legally bound in any way to do so.

Mr. Murdoch has been quite frank about the whole incident which, through his desire to clear it up, has turned out unfortunate and costly to him. No one could any more accuse him of duplicity or wrongdoing than one could accuse Sir Thomas White of illegality in taking from the Home Bank the sum of $1,500 as fees for advising it what to do a few days before it closed down.

THE GENERAL'S SHIRT-SLEEVE APPEAL

AT least the Provincials must be credited with the best election joke to-date. No one has thought of anything so funny as their appeal to the working men of British Columbia to accept General A. D. McRae as a Heavensent saviour. And probably no one enjoys the quaint humor of that appeal more than the average working man.

Somehow the portrait of the General, with his sleeves rolled up, fighting the battles of labor, struggling heroically against the soulless corporations, fails to inspire the men he is trying to save. Some unwelcome and inartistic things like the Port Mann deal and some of the General's other exploitations keep showing their way into the pictures. It is most discouraging for the hard-working artists of the third party.

Conservative sixteen-piece platform reads as if the man who wrote it was afraid to say anything.

Toronto motorists are asking for "get-away" streets to relieve downtown traffic congestion. Victoria is not so big, but here we have our problem of "Get-away" pedestrians.

Mr. Bowser is now considered of so little importance that he fails to get on the front page of the morning paper even when he has a two-column cheering-up announcement to make.

The Methodist Church in the United States has lifted the ban on amusements. It is suggested that some of the ministers want to attend some of the political conventions now scheduled.

Advent of the motor tourist season is responsible for this expression of opinion: "Doubtless there is a girl who looks alluring in khaki knickers, but equally beyond peradventure these old eyes never have been gladdened by same."

ABOUT DUE From The Boston Transcript: What about an Anti-Don't Week, just for fun, some time?

BUT HE TALKS From The Indianapolis News: One of the hardest things for a candidate is for him to say anything.

THE CANADIAN FLAG From The Manitoba Free Press: A question asked The Free Press by a correspondent has been answered by an official statement appearing in our news columns.

TENNYSON'S COMPASSION It was from his mother that he gained his sense of observation of birds and nature, and it was to her that local gamekeepers should have complained by rights when they regularly found their traps sprung by her compassionate son.—Hugh L'Anson Fausset.

Dr. Frank Crane on "Peace in the World"

ARRENT hopes and prayers for peace will welcome the declarations of Mr. Trotsky of Russia and Mr. MacDonald of England.

The former says: We are for peace and brotherhood. The Red Army and Navy are weapons for the defence of the revolution upon which all other countries are continuously making attacks.

The latter says: The day of international peace which we celebrate in our May Day is assuredly coming. The nations, tired of conflict and disillusioned of their war hatreds and war mentality, are seeking new paths that make for friendship and security.

It is well known that the United States of America has never been in favor of wars of aggression, and it would take a great deal to induce us to indulge in any kind of war.

If these three nations are as honestly in favor of peace as they seem to be, it is difficult to conceive how there should break out, without them and opposed to them, another great war.

War, after all, is a matter of will power. Wars are undertaken when a nation feels that it is in physical trim for them; in other words, when it has money enough.

The causes of war are well known; they are the economic complex on the one hand and fear on the other.

When a nation is thoroughly shot through with the idea that it is superior to all others, or when it has developed a fear of any other, it is ripe for war as soon as its finances will permit it.

The best time for war in a country is a disposition to travel on the part of its inhabitants.

If travel they become acquainted with other nations and learn that they are human beings like themselves. They acquire the disposition to help and not to hinder.

If we can spread into every land a distaste for the war mentality we shall do much to carry out the wills of Premiers MacDonald and Trotsky.

The Fight of 1812 on Lake Champlain

THE War of 1812 provided many an instance of heroic enterprise on the part of the British and Canadian troops in that thin red line which guarded a thousand miles and more of wild frontier against greatly superior numbers, a frontier quite indefensible by all the rules of military science.

One such incident took place on June 3rd, 1813. The year before, when the war had opened, the Americans had ships enough on Lake Champlain to control it absolutely. Thus, with ease they brought their supplies for the invasion of Canada, both French and English, in and prepared for General Dearborn's triumphal march to Montreal, which, however, was ignominiously halted by Colonel De Salaberry with a handful of Canadians at La Colle.

In the Spring of 1813 the Americans had on Lake Champlain two armed vessels, sloops of war, the Growler and the Eagle, each carrying eleven guns and six smaller craft with one gun apiece. These patrolled the lake, which is almost entirely in United States territory and protected the large American base camp at Plattsburg. There was a British fortification at Isle-aux-Noix, an island a dozen miles or so north of the boundary, just where Lake Champlain narrows to its smallest width.

ON the morning of June 3 the American sloops came nosing up the river, no doubt on mischief bent, perhaps designing to run past the Isle-aux-Noix to test the Canadian border defence. Major George Taylor commanded the place with something over a hundred men. Quickly he assembled the little militia and placed aboard them Canadian militia with one gunner for each boat from the regulars. Other regulars he ordered into rowboats and the whole flotilla, manned by one hundred and eight of all ranks, moved against the enemy.

The little British force was elated at the conquest due to superior strategy and mobility. They could boast that the whole cost had been only three men wounded. The two American sloops were refitted and renamed and for a considerable time made the British masters of the lake. Two months later they carried a British expedition which raided Plattsburg and destroyed military buildings, stores, barracks and ordnance, went on to Swanton, then to Champlain and then to Burlington and passed the present head of a Scotchman, large numbers of American militia and regulars without molesting private property.

A LIBEL ON SCOTSMEN Victor Mitchell in Hearborn Independent: It has been said that all the peoples of the earth weep in the same language, but laugh in different languages. When one thinks this over, it seems to be true. A Frenchman will laugh at something which will leave a Scandinavian cold. An American will become hilarious over a joke which will make no humorous appeal to an Englishman.

As for a Scotsman, Sydney Smith is alleged to have said that if Scotland were allowed to get a joke into the head of a Scotchman, and this gibe at the Scottish race has been extensively quoted ever since.

But the truth of the matter is that no such statement was ever made by Sidney Smith.

BURDE'S NOMINATION

To the Editor:—My attention has been called to a statement contained in your issue of the 30th ult., purporting to relate the proceedings of the Liberal convention held here on the 20th ult.

As the report furnished you seems to have been made a matter of public interest, I feel impelled, as one who attended the convention, to state that your interpretation of the events is not only incomplete, but incorrect as well.

The convention did not in any degree endorse the candidature of Major Burde, the effect of the resolution quoted by you being only to relieve the convention from the difficulty of finding a suitable candidate at the moment to retain for the riding of the right of supporting any one of the three candidates in the field, and to maintain the party honor.

Your report is incomplete in that no account is given of the following resolution duly carried: "That the Liberals of the Alberni electoral district, in convention assembled, hereby reaffirm their belief in, and allegiance to, the great fundamental and historic principles of the Liberal party as sufficient where consistently maintained for the solution of all political problems."

"That we regret the prevailing confusion of thought and action in dealing with political questions, and proclaim our belief that the remedy lies in the selection everywhere of sound Liberals able to express and fulfil the party viewpoint."

"This convention regrets that owing to the insufficiency of time before election day, having due regard to giving a candidate a fair opportunity of visiting the riding, it will be inexpedient to make a nomination at this time."

"And that a copy of this resolution be sent to the organizer, urging his re-organization at as early a date as possible," which clearly indicates no preference for any candidate not of the Liberal party, and a definite intention that immediately following this election the district shall be reorganized for Liberalism.

There are Liberals at the convention who will support Major Burde, and others who will not. He does not enjoy the support of any united Liberalism in the district. It is the attempt to force the adoption of pseudo-Liberal pseudo-independent candidates which is wrecking the Liberal party in this district.

W. R. H. PRÉSCOTT, Alberni, B.C., June 1, 1924.

THOSE NOMINATION PAPERS.

To the Editor:—With your permission, I will try and state briefly why I failed to present my nomination papers to returning officer on Friday in time to be accepted, but before touching on this matter, I desire to thank you for a previous notice of my intentions to run as an independent candidate, also to those who made it possible for me to do so by signing papers, also to those whom I approached and could not sign for various reasons, all of whom met me in the kindest manner. However, much labor could have been saved in this connection if the election had been delayed till the King's Printer could have got out the official list.

I had to get about fifty names on my papers, for fear a number of the names I had on my list were not as recorded at office. As to my failure to record, let me state I was instructed to return my papers to Mr. Marchant on or before Friday at his office on the tenth floor, Pemberton Building. I called there and found the office where I got the papers closed. I inquired for Mr. Marchant. The lady in charge told me Mr. Marchant had gone to lunch. I told her "I desired to leave my nomination papers." She told me "I would have to take them to the Court House Building." I asked her what room? She answered "She did not know." I asked her if she had no written instructions in this connection. I proceeded to the Court House. Got there about 8 (eight) minutes past twelve. I met the elevator man and stated my business and inquired where the Returning Officer was holding session. He told me he did not know and took me to the recorder's office, Mr. Marchant. I inquired for Mr. Marchant. He told me Mr. Marchant's office was on Douglas Street. I told him I had just come from there. He told me to sit down as Mr. Marchant would be back soon. I still waited. The elevator man came in at twelve thirty and remarked, "you are still waiting patiently." I replied "no sir," very impatiently. I then turned to the man in charge of office and said, "have you no means of getting in touch with Mr. Marchant or Mr. Mabon?" I waited until one o'clock (1) and remarked "that surely must be a serious lunch party." I went half way down the stairs, the attendant said "here he is now." I met him (Mr. Mabon) and said "you are the most welcome guest I have seen here today." Where is the Returning Officer, Mr. Marchant? I have been waiting for Mr. Marchant out for you since 12.10." He did not answer, but seized my papers and ran upstairs and came down with two girls and we went into a room and he started them to re-examine the papers. He then brought a third girl. I said, "you will never get through in time. Where is the Returning officer?" He went out and returned in a minute. "Come this way," he said, and took me into the next room. I said, "here is Mr. Marchant." Mr. Marchant said "Mr. Marchant has my papers." Mr. Marchant: "the nominations are closed." I said "Why is Mr. Mabon working on my papers?" He did not answer me, but said "that is the law."

Drayton's Amendment For Committee of Commons Ruled Out of Order

Graham, Forke, Meighen, McBride and Others Expressed Views

Ottawa, June 2.—Estimates of the Canadian National Railways and suggestions that they be given to a committee of the House for consideration were discussed in the Commons last night. A motion made by Sir Henry Drayton, after lengthy discussion, was declared out of order shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. There was no vote.

that to this committee should be referred all questions involving new capital commitments and the disposition of properties and assets. He would give the committee powers of inquiry similar to those now possessed by the Public Accounts Committee.

The motion technically before the House was one to appoint a committee on the railways' estimates and Sir Henry's motion was an amendment thereto.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED
Hon. G. P. Graham, Minister of Railways, said the present was the first time in the history of the Canadian Parliament when a proposal had been made to refer estimates to a committee of the House. He was not in favor of giving a committee power to place the officials of the Canadian National on oath. If there was anything wrong, the charges could be investigated by the Public Accounts Committee.

He favored co-operation between the management of the railways and Parliament and he was prepared to accept a committee along certain lines. He then read a draft resolution providing for the creation of a committee on railways and shipping to which would be referred the estimates of the Canadian National Railways and the Canadian Government Merchant Marine. He proposed that nothing shall be construed to curtail in any way the full right of discussion in the committee of supply."

Mr. Graham said he did not put this forward as an amendment, because only on a motion to go into a committee of ways and means.

PRINCIPLES ASKED
Sir Henry Drayton said Premier King would be well advised to lay down definite principles governing the publishing or withholding from publication of information in regard to the C.N.R.

Sir Henry read exclusively from the correspondence which had been brought down to justify his demand for the appointment of a committee.

FORKE'S VIEWS
Robert Forke, leader of the Progressives, said there should be no animosity toward the C.P.R. Although the C.P.R. was a privately-owned road it had become a national institution. It must not be forgotten that the C.P.R. had done a great deal of good for Canada. It would be a national calamity if either of the great Canadian systems were to fail.

Mr. Forke expressed approval of the ideas in the speech of Sir Henry Drayton. However, he was opposed to the appointment of a select committee of the House, which would almost certainly be composed of a majority of Government members and be under Government control, which would be able to call members of the railway board as witnesses and elicit details of management and policy which ought not to be divulged.

Why could not the three parties in the House get together in say, a committee of three, to review the Drayton amendment so it would be satisfactory to all members of the House?

COMMITTEE TO ADVISE
He realized he was bringing no particular solution to the great problem of railway policy. But he also did not find in the Drayton amendment any solution either. There might be a standing committee of the House which could consult with the railway board on such questions as large expenditures and general details of management. This committee might be in an advisory capacity with the board of the railways.

MEIGHEN'S VIEWS
Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative leader, described the acquisition of the Scribe Hotel in Paris as a "misappropriation of funds." He asked Mr. Graham whether or not Aronovic, who negotiated the deal, was not in the employ of the Canadian National Railways when he took an option on the Paris hotel.

Mr. Graham replied that he had tabbed all the documents.

Mr. Meighen said a number of important documents were missing, among them the option which Aronovic had secured on the hotel.

The purchase was illegal from the very beginning," said Mr. Meighen.

For four years the Government of Canada had been trying to get quarters in London even at a cost of $1,000,000 and Mr. Meighen, then without consulting the Government the president of the Canadian National Railway had sunk double that sum in the Scribe Hotel.

A CHALLENGE
F. Maclean, Conservative, South York, Ont., challenged the Mount Royal group of Montreal to come out into the open and say they wanted to smash the Canadian National. If they did, that group would get "the worst smashing in their experience."

F. S. Cahill, Liberal, Pontiac, said Sir Henry Drayton's amendment proposed an investigation into the Canadian National conducted by C.P.R. officials.

Sir Henry intervened to declare Mr. Cahill had "absolutely not the slightest justification for that statement."

Mr. Cahill asked if Sir Henry had not proposed to bring C.P.R. officials before the committee.

AS WITNESSES
Sir Henry replied that he had stated that he had been committed against the Canadian people. He had said that if the Hotel Scribe had been offered to the Canadian Pacific for $1,000,000 Parliament ought to know it was for that purpose that he proposed to call C.P.R. officials.

Mr. Cahill replied that when Sir Henry got the committee he proposed to bring C.P.R. officials in to conduct the investigation, if the House wished to get the C.N.R. moved from politics, Sir Henry's amendment was in entirely the wrong direction.

WORRYING THORNTON
John Evans, Progressive, Saskatoon, spoke of the "pin pricks by politicians in the House" who have no other end in view than to worry Sir Henry Thornton.

F. G. McBride, Progressive, Carleton Place, looked on the Drayton amendment as likely, if adopted, to cause the loss of the president of the Canadian National. He believed it was up to the House to see that President Thornton had a free hand in the management of the Canadian National.

ELUSIVE MONKEYS LEAD WILD CHASE OVER ROOF TOPS

Maggie and Jiggs, Javanese Monkeys, Decide to Spend Day in Seeing Victoria

Maggie and Jiggs, two Javanese monkeys owned by the Bird and Pet Shop, Yates Street, provided an unrehearsed sensation yesterday evening just as the crowds were gathering to attend evening performances. The climax was reached when Maggie, frightened by the cries of children who gave chase in the street, bolted across Yates Street through the oil station near the Dominion Hotel, and ascended a drain pipe to the roof of St. Andrew's Cathedral.

Well-meaning hands stretched out to Maggie on the roof top but it only served to drive her further and higher. At last perched in the belfry of the steeple, 100 feet above the heads of gathering crowds below, Maggie was content to rest. She was still there this morning, though showing tentative signs of interest in food displayed by her owners.

Jiggs took a different route. A patch of brush in rear of the store and a neighbor's chicken house attracted his attention. Leaving Maggie to take a bird's-eye view of Victoria, Jiggs took to the roof in the interior of the chicken house and spent a peaceful night, undisturbed by the indignant cluckings of its feathered occupants. When day broke this morning Jiggs consented to discuss breakfast with his keeper, and was recaptured without further incident.

The monkeys, it is surmised, escaped over the tramway tracks when children left unfastened the door of their cage before closing time on Saturday. At 7 a.m. Sunday a city constable saw them loose in the store and notified the proprietors. Thirty minutes later the monkeys had gone, and spent the greater part of Sunday in seeing Victoria on their own.

Monday morning found both hungry and inclined to regret the freedom they had sought. Maggie, the more daring, paced up and down the sidewalk outside the store, but took fright when children gave chase and retired to the Cathedral belfry from which efforts are now made to dislodge her. Jiggs, recaptured, ate a hearty breakfast to-day and appeared to regard the outing in the nature of a celebration.

Overseas League—At the regular monthly meeting of the overseas League held yesterday afternoon in the private dining-room of the Hudson Bay Company it was decided to discontinue assembling for the month of July and August and to hold the next meeting on the first Wednesday in September owing to Labor Day falling on the regular date of meeting. A very interesting talk on "Forestry" was given by J. A. R. Sherwood. Mr. Hopkins of Sluggetts charmed the audience with pianoforte selections of his own composition. In a letter from Mrs. Lamborn and its importance. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to those who had taken part on the afternoon's programme.

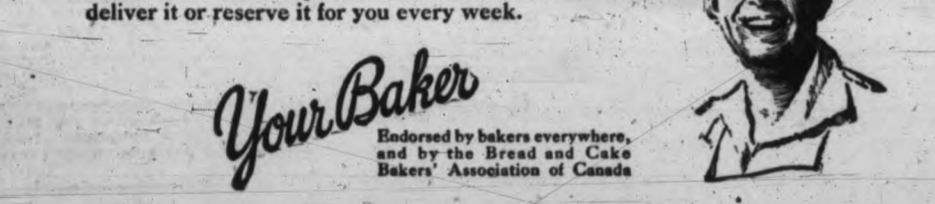

WINNIPEG VOTE
Winnipeg, June 2.—Winnipeg ratepayers will be asked to approve an expenditure of $750,000 for revival of the exhibition at a special poll on June 27, it was decided by the City Council last night.

Reader-Interest in Advertising Responds Unfailingly to Merchant-Enthusiasm in Advertising!

"If you intend to do any important advertising, do it now."

It has been shown, by an unbiased investigation, that retail stores of the country that have been advertised more than usual have been doing more than usual business. The same investigation revealed that the losses of business occurred in instances where the merchant had adopted a policy of retrenchment in newspaper advertising. These are facts, not theories.

"Measure for Measure." The merchant who shows lack of business confidence by curtailing his advertising will breed that same lack of confidence in the patrons of his store.

Aggressive advertising is always profitable. Aggressive advertising is a vital necessity to every merchant who desires to "Hold His Own," or to Show Progress.

Mickey Walker Is Still Champion Of The Welterweights

Retains His Title Against Lew Tender In Ferocious Ten-Round Bout

Walker Won Three Rounds, Tender Two, Five Even Ringside Opinion

Philadelphia, June 3.—Mickey Walker, of Elizabeth, N.J., world's welterweight champion, successfully defended his title against Lew Tender, Philadelphia, in a ferocious ten-round bout in the National League baseball stadium to-night.

The southpaw's long left bothered Walker to some extent, but when the champion got inside the challenger's guard, he scored heavily to Tender's body. The Philadelphia was game, however. He met Walker at every turn, showing for blows, carried the fight to the champion during the latter rounds and even forced the champion to cover by the fury of his attack.

Walker fought a crafty fight. He rushed Tender, swinging with both hands while Tender boxed for an opening to clinch. The challenger started off a bit awed by championship aspect of the bout, but gained courage as the battle progressed.

He opened up in the final rounds and rushed the titleholder, carrying the fight to him. Walker's lead in the early rounds was too great to overcome, however, and the decision went to the champion by vote of both judges.

Tender's showing against Walker was a distinct surprise to the crowd in the park, some of whom had favored Walker to win by a lopsided score. Tender started off stoutly, covering up at every turn and allowing Walker to do all of the leading. The seventh and eighth rounds saw changed blows at short range with Walker. During this brief mix-up the spectators were in a frenzy.

Despite this furor of blows neither showed any outward evidence of the fierce contest. The consensus of opinion at the ringside was that Walker won three rounds, Tender two and five were even.

Walker hit the welter limit of 147 pounds when he weighed in, while the challenger weighed 142 1/2. Slim Brennan, referee of the main bout, was stricken with an attack of appendicitis at the conclusion of the match and was taken to a local hospital. His condition is not thought serious.

After the title bout, the semi-final match was put on, with Jimmie Campbell, Canadian lightweight champion, decisively outpointing Joe Reno of Trenton, N.J.

Plenty of Fine Talent Shown at Annual Sports Staged Yesterday Afternoon

Before a large crowd of spectators the Victoria High School students held their annual track and field day yesterday afternoon on the large campus. The numerous events, under the able management of the officials, were run off expeditiously. All the events were keenly contested by the students, and many close finishes were witnessed.

In the boys' senior championship, Jones, the winner with nineteen points, was closely pressed by Oliver and Shanks, and it was only through winning the shot put, that he finally moved out these two, who each secured 15 points.

Hope Leeming, senior girls' champion, was also closely pressed, securing 19 points in beating Mabel Harris, last year's junior champion, by four points.

John Hocking, last year's winger of the girls' under-14 championship, this year succeeded in capturing the junior girls' championship, by a total of twenty-one points.

The championship boys' championship was won by S. Smith, who gave a wonderful display in the running events, winning first place in all, securing a total of 23 points.

The championship for boys under fourteen, was easily won by J. Smith, who had twenty-nine points to his credit, having secured six first, two second, and one third place.

Speaking at a luncheon on the eve of the Derby, last year, Lord Whistler said: "I am now 124 years of age, and my family have in vain tried—with only slight interregnum due to my uncle who loathed racing as he loathed the devil—to win the Derby. I remain to be seen whether I am to break the luck and win the Derby again." The result of last year's race was unfortunate for his Lordship's hopes, but, incidentally, Lord Derby's colors will be seen once again in the principal classic, on either Tom-Tell, Troth or Sansovino.

FIRST PICTURES OF FIGURES IN CHICAGO KIDNAPING MURDER

SHE WAS BASHFUL.—Looks like a charwoman resting from her scrubbing. But it isn't. She is a college girl, and she is being initiated into the Tau Beta Phi Sorority. But she was so ashamed of having to parade through the capital's thoroughfares in this garb that she absolutely would not tell the photographer her name.

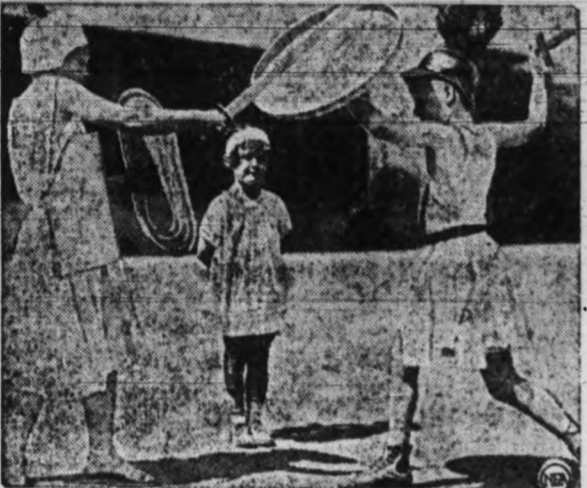

WHERE THE BODY WAS FOUND.—Detectives are seen examining the culvert into which Robert Frank's nude body had been jammed. It is in a swampy area along the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, near 118th Street, not far from the Calumet River. A passing workman discovered the body.

THE VICTIM.—Robert Franks (above), the thirteen-year-old son of Jacob Franks, millionaire retired watchmaker, was kidnapped as he left the fashionable private school he attended and then slain, detectives believe, in a struggle with his captors. His body was found in a culvert the following day.

INTRODUCED AT COURT.—Among Canadian ladies presented to Their Majesties the King and Queen at the Court of St. James last Tuesday were: Left, Mrs. Charles McCrea, wife of the Ontario Minister of Mines; in circle, Miss Arnetta Calverley of Oakville, Ont.; and right, Miss Mary Hendrie, daughter of Colonel Wm. Hendrie of Hamilton.

THEY LIKE HISTORY CLASS.—Then, up rose brave Horatius. Part of the Oakland (Calif.) schools' historical course is the enactment of various scenes by the pupils. Here is a lesson in Roman history. Horatius is defying the passage of the traitor Sertus. And back of them stands "Public Opinion."

TOOK LAURELS FROM EPINARD.—Sir Galahad III, ridden by Frank O'Neill, created a sensation when he won from Epinard, fastest on the French turf, taking the race at St. Cloud track, Paris, by a neck.

FISHER'S LUCK.—Pretty big catch for a small boy, you'd have to admit. But this is the time of year they get out after them up Vancouver Island.

SLAVE—AND PROUD OF IT!—Slave bracelets are the latest. Judith Anderson is wearing them in her latest show. Hers are set with emeralds and diamonds.

VICTIM'S FATHER.—Jacob Franks, father of murdered Robert Franks, had started from home with $10,000 ransom demanded in a telephone conversation before news reached him his son was dead. En route he forgot the address. He drove home again to get it, only to receive word the body had been found.

SERIAL STORY

The Black Gang

By CYRIL McNEILE, "Sapper"
Author of "Bull-dog Drummond," "No Man's Land," etc.

"That is just my daughter all over, Captain Drummond," beamed the Reverend Theodosius. "Never wasting her time, always doing something for the good of humanity." But at the moment it is to be regretted that Hugh was not worrying his head over the good of humanity. Inconceivable though it was, judged in the mere matter of appearance, the Reverend Theodosius was Carl Peterson, it was still more inconceivable that the wool knitter with the heart of gold could be Irma. Of course, Peterson might have changed his daughter—but if he hadn't, what then? What had he said to Peter Darrell when the girl, recognizing him all the time, was sitting in the next chair? How much had she overheard? And suddenly Hugh began to feel that he was floundering in deep waters. How many cards did the other side hold? And what was even more important, how many of his own cards had they placed correctly? And glancing up he found the reverend gentleman's blue eyes fixed on him and glinting with a certain quizzical humor. Suddenly, reflected Drummond, it was up to him to find out, and that as soon as possible, exactly how matters stood. The trouble was how to set about it. To greet the Reverend Theodosius as a long lost friend and ask him whether the disguise was donned to amuse the children would certainly precipitate affairs, but it would also throw one of his best cards on the table. And Carl Peterson was not a gentleman with whom it was advisable to weaken one's hand unnecessarily. So it all boiled down to a policy of waiting for the other side to play first, which, in view of the fact that he was getting distinctly peckish, seemed to Hugh to be an eminently sound decision.

He glanced at his watch and turned to Darrell. "Confound the girl, Peter! She's nearly forty minutes late." "Picked up a pal, old boy," said that worthy. "Picked up a pal and they're masticating a Bath bun somewhere. Why not leave a message at the door, and let's get on with it? I'm darned hungry." The Reverend Theodosius beamed from behind his spectacles. "It's over the same," he murmured gently. "But it is the prerogative of their sex."

"Well, let's toddle in and take nourishment," said Hugh, taking hold of the clergyman's arm with his hand and pushing towards the restaurant. "Jove! Mr. Longmoor—you've got some pretty useful biceps on you." The other smiled as if pleased with the compliment. "Nothing to you, Captain Drummond, to judge by your size, but I think I may say I'm a match for most men. My ministry has led me into some very rough corners, and I have often found that where gentle persuasion fails, force will succeed." "Quite so," murmured Drummond, eating at the menu. "Nothing like a good one straight on the point of the jaw for producing a devout manner of living in the recipient. Often found that out myself. By the way, what about the daughter? Isn't she going to honor us?" "Not to-day," answered the Reverend Theodosius. "She is lurching upstairs with the poor fellow I told you about, whose office was wrecked last night. He is sadly in need of comfort."

"I'll bet he is," agreed Hugh. "But if he put on one of those jolly little things she's knitting and trotted up and down Piccadilly he'd soon get all the money back for your chance steps. The man I'm sorry for is the poor devil who was found adhering to the wall." The Reverend Theodosius glanced at him thoughtfully, and Drummond realized he had made a slip. "You seem to know quite a lot about it, Captain Drummond," murmured the other, dissecting a sardine. "It's in the early editions of the evening papers," returned Hugh calmly. "Pictures and everything. The only thing they've left out is that reference to your little lump of dough."

"In such a dreadful thing as this, a trifle like that might well be overlooked," said the Reverend Theodosius. "But I understand from my poor friend that the police are satisfied with the condition of the wall." He glanced at his watch and turned to Darrell. "Dirty dogs," said Hugh frowning. "Now if all three had been found adhering to the furniture it might have reconciled you to the loss of those hundred acid drops." "In fact," continued the clergyman, helping himself to some fish, "the whole thing is very mysterious. However the police have every hope of laying their hands on the two others very shortly." "They're always optimistic, aren't they?" returned Hugh. "Pity no one saw these blighters running round and throwing bombs about the house."

"That is just the fortunate thing, Captain Drummond," said the other mildly. "Far be it from me to desire vengeance on any man, but in this case I feel it is deserved. The unfortunate clerk downstairs who was brutally assaulted by them has confided to his employer that he believes he knows who one of the other two was. A huge man, Captain Drummond, of enormous strength; a man—well, really, do you know?—a man I should imagine just like you, had a man, who, popular rumor has it, is the head of a mysterious body calling itself the Black Gang. So that should prove a valuable clue for the police when they hear of it."

Not by the flicker of an eyelid did Drummond's face change as he listened with polite attention to the clergyman's remarks. But now once again his brain was moving quickly as he took in this new information. One card at any rate was down on the table; his identity as leader of the Black Gang was known to Peterson. It was the girl who had found him out; that was obvious. The point was how did it affect matters? "An elusive person, I believe," he remarked quietly. "We've heard quite a lot of him in the papers recently. In fact, I was actually in Sir Bryan Johnstone's office when a gentleman of the name of Charles Latter came and demanded protection from the Black Gang."

For a moment a gleam of amazement shone in the other's eye. "You surprise me," he murmured. "I trust it was afforded him." Hugh waved a vast hand. "Do you doubt it, Mr. Longmoor? I personally accompanied him to a house-party to ensure his safety. But as I told you, I turned my head—that's Sir Bryan Johnstone. You know, a great pal of mine—nothing that I could do could avert the catastrophe. I prattled in him gently, but it was that. He had said, 'Mr. Longmoor, quite mad. The boredom of that house-party unhinged his brain. Have another chop?'"

"How very extraordinary!" remarked the clergyman. "And what did your friend—er—Tum-tum say when he heard of the results of your supervision?" "Well, quite unofficially, Mr. Longmoor, I think he was rather pleased. Latter was an unpleasant man, engaged in unpleasant work, and he does less harm when insane. A meretricious fellow, but I shall hope to have the pleasure of making his acquaintance some other day. And now if you will excuse me, I must run away. My correspondence at the moment with regard to the relief funds for destitute Austrians is very voluminous. A thousand thanks for the most enjoyable meal."

He bowed with a courteous smile, and threaded his way through the crowded restaurant towards the door. And it was not until he had finally disappeared from sight that Hugh turned to Peter Darrell with a thoughtful expression on his face. "Deuced interesting position of affairs, Peter," he remarked, lighting another cigarette. "He pushed his chair back, and I don't know I know it; I know he's Peterson, and he doesn't know I know it. I wonder how long it will be before the gloves come off."

Theodosius stared at his host in surprise. "One never knows, these days, does one?" said Hugh mildly. "A dreadful thing to get a nice little bunch of diamonds shot at one's head, and then find you've got stolen property. It puts the next fellow who pinches them rather on the velvet. A cup of coffee, won't you?" "Fortunately nothing of that sort exists in this case. Yes, thank you, I would like some coffee, if you please."

"Good, said Hugh, giving the order to the waiter. "So that all you've got to do—or rather your pal—is to tell the police that the office was blown up by the leader of the Black Gang, and that the diamonds were pinched by the leader of the Black Gang, and that you would like his head on a silver platter by Wednesday week. It seems too easy to me, Cigarette? Tuckish this side—gaspers the other."

"Thank you," The Reverend Theodosius helped himself from the case Hugh was holding out. "It certainly does seem easy, the way you put it." The only small trifle which seems to just cut from, in other words, clean cut, horizon is too ridiculous to worry about."

"Why—who is the leader of the Black Gang?" he asked. "A dreadful affair if they brought the wrong bird's head on a charger. No diamonds; no Bradbury; no nothing." "I don't anticipate that it should be so," said Hugh. "I shall hope to have the pleasure of making his acquaintance some other day. And now if you will excuse me, I must run away. My correspondence at the moment with regard to the relief funds for destitute Austrians is very voluminous. A thousand thanks for the most enjoyable meal."

He bowed with a courteous smile, and threaded his way through the crowded restaurant towards the door. And it was not until he had finally disappeared from sight that Hugh turned to Peter Darrell with a thoughtful expression on his face. "Deuced interesting position of affairs, Peter," he remarked, lighting another cigarette. "He pushed his chair back, and I don't know I know it; I know he's Peterson, and he doesn't know I know it. I wonder how long it will be before the gloves come off."

"Supposing he keeps out of it himself, and gives you away to the police," said Peter. "It'll be rather awkward, old son."

"Supposing he does, it would be, grinned Hugh. "I'd love to see Tum-tum's face. But my dear old Peter, hasn't your own brain grasped the one essential fact, that that is precisely what he can't do until he's certain I haven't got the diamonds? Apart altogether from a variety of very awkward disclosures about Number 5, Green Street—be, or his hunchback friend, would have to explain how they gained possession in the first place of those stones. I made a discreet inquiry this morning, Peter, and that rose-pink diamond was one of the Russian Crown jewels. Awkward—very."

He smiled and ordered two brandies. "Very, very awkward, Peter—but with distinct elements of humor. And I'm inclined to think the time is approaching when the seconds get out of the ring."

—Aberdeen, Wash., June 3.—Ted Krache of Hoquiam won a decision last night in the main bout of a boxing card here over George Lavigne, Los Angeles welterweight. Young Dempsey, Tacoma middleweight, knocked out Spark Plug Joe Boyd of Aberdeen in the third round of a scheduled six-round semi-final match.

M. B. Jackson and Hon. John Hart Speak At James Island

James Island, June 2.—M. B. Jackson, K.C., the Liberal member for the Islands for the past seven years, held a most successful meeting here last night which was very largely attended. R. H. Lyons occupied the chair. Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, was also present. His speech, which lasted over an hour, was very interesting and well worth hearing. A well arranged musical programme by some ladies from Sidney was much enjoyed by each item met with a hearty applause by the audience, who demanded an encore in every instance. The following ladies sang two songs each: Mrs. F. Wright, Mrs. E. McAdam, Miss Joan Wright and Miss Adeline Crossley. W. H. Dawes and Mr. and Mrs. Crossley of Sidney were also among the visitors. The singing of the National Anthem brought the meeting to a close.

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS CLUB
Special to The Times
Duncan, June 2.—The Players Club of the University of Victoria, under the direction of Mr. J. H. Dunlop for the first time on Saturday evening, and presented "The World and His Wife." There was quite a large attendance in the Agricultural Hall, and to judge by their reception, these players will be welcomed every year on their annual tour. Their acting was of a very high order, far better than many a professional company on the road. H. N. Cross (Don Julian) in his portrayal of a dying man was excellent and never over-acted in any way. Peter Palmer, as Don Ernesto, was exceptionally good. Tommy Taylor, as the Englishman, Captain Beauchamp, was another capable actor and, in fact, all filled their parts admirably. The play carries a moral as to the result of malicious scandal which was brought out in tragic fashion.

BURIED AT QUAMICHAN
Special to The Times
Cowan Station, June 2.—Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Walcott and their family in the sad loss they have sustained in the death of their eldest daughter, Edith, who passed away on Tuesday after a long illness. There was a large attendance of friends at the beautiful church and at St. Peter's, Quamichan, on Thursday. The Ven. Archdeacon Collier read the service and the hymns "Peace, Perfect Peace" and "The King of Love, My Shepherd in" were sung by the choir. The pallbearers were Messrs. Hannies Jones, Gibbs, Donald and Captain Gaisford. There were numbers of beautiful wreaths of flowers. A grand honor was formed by the 1st South Cowichan Girl Guides, Miss Denny, District Commissioner, and Miss Georgian, Captain 1st Cowichan girl Guides, were also present.

"Back was Very Painful I am now Well Again"

Mrs. Wm. Walker, Webbwood, Ont., writes:
"I was sick for several months with my stomach, I had pains in the back, and how I used to dread wash day, for my back would pain so that I couldn't lie down when night came. I also had gas on my stomach, and my appetite was so poor that sometimes I did not care whether I ate or not. The doctor gave me medicine, of which I took a number of bottles without benefit. At last I started to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and although I have only used three boxes, I am quite well again."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO TO-DAY

Victoria Times, June 3, 1899

Considerable discussion has taken place in connection with the reduction in the Esquimalt dock-fee, some of the marine interests arguing that it will compete with private enterprise.

J. A. Humbird and E. J. Palmer left Chemainus to-day for Victoria. The former is returning to his home at St. Paul, after an inspection of the Chemainus plant.

There was a big gathering last evening on lower Johnson Street when a building, known to old-timers as the Railroad Hotel, was burned to the ground. It occupied the site of the block to be erected by McCandless & Campbell.

HOSPITAL BOARD NOW INCLUDES CITY ALDERMEN

Immediate Advantage Taken of Power Acquired Last Year

The annual appointment of city representatives to the board of directors of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, made by the City Council last evening, brought out the fact to which allusion was made in The Times yesterday, that for the first time members of the council are eligible to serve.

As a result Alderman Ker, chairman of the health committee, and Alderman Harvey were elected. The poll was as follows, those with asterisks retiring: James Forster 9, *Mark W. Graham 9, Alderman Ker 8, *Alexander Stewart 6, Alderman Harvey 5, *James H. Hill 4, *Christian Stevens 4, *W. Bolden 0. The first five were elected.

DILAPIDATED BUILDINGS

There are a number of dilapidated buildings to be examined, and some condemned, according to a report from the city health officer, made to the city council last evening.

The council set Friday morning for the inspection. With the acting medical officer and the sanitary inspector.

CAUSEWAY FLATS

The prospects of the fire department doing much for the fireproofing of the flats on the James Bay Causeway flats, as suggested by a correspondent, are not good. It is stated they have not the necessary men, but would lend hand to qualified persons. It was added that the engineer will report to the council on the matter shortly.

Expressing appreciation of the services of the doctors and staff was voiced in a letter of K. T. Hughes to the City Council with regard to the isolation hospital, praising the treatment of his little daughter there. Dr. Cecil Hay's record, as a spry and his recent success, have induced the Vancouver Island Amateur Athletic Association to ask the council for a grant to send him to Montreal to take part in the Olympic trials. The cost is $200, and the council was asked to vote $75 towards the expenses, in the hope that Dr. Hay would have a place on the Canadian Olympic team. The matter was referred to the finance committee.

CONVENTIONS

An invitation was extended to the annual convention of the Canadian Good Roads Association to be held at St. Andrew's N.B. at the end of this month, but it had to be declined, as no funds had been appropriated for the purpose.

A. G. Price, city health officer, who is leaving for England, was appointed delegate to the congress of the Royal Sanitary Institute of England in Liverpool this summer. Dr. Price said he expected to be in England at the time of the congress.

HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. C. Denton Holmes, who is acting medical officer of health in the absence of Dr. A. G. Price, on leave, wrote to the council, accepting the appointment.

There were eighty-nine births, thirty-two marriages and thirty deaths in the month of May, the medical health officer reported.

A petition was received from residents protesting against dogs on Powderly Avenue. The matter was referred to the police chief.

Benefits of Massage Without Massage

You all know the splendid benefits of expert facial massage. But do you also know that if improperly done, or too frequently, it tends to loosen the skin, weaken the muscular foundation, producing sags and wrinkles?

If more women only knew it, all the good of massage, and more, with no harmful effect, may be had by applying a simple mixture of powdered tartarocresol to the face.

This, instead of making the face flabby, does the very opposite. Its action is directly asthenic. In your effort you see wrinkles, age lines and sagginess literally "ironed out." You can obtain an original package of powdered tartarocresol from any druggist, enough to bring the cost of each treatment down to three cents or less. It's the greatest thing yet discovered to make old-looking faces young looking.

Immigration Resolution of Chamber Held up For Week

Until the City Council has heard from the Trades and Labor Council, the council deferred adoption for a week of the immigration report, and the special immigration and land settlement committee of the Chamber of Commerce adopted by the directors of the chamber on Monday.

The motion said:

"Your committee believes there may be room for improvement in the Immigration Department, being strongly of the opinion that municipalities should not be asked to support unemployed immigrants but are adverse to the stopping of immigration as they believe it is entirely opposed to the best interests of the country. We strongly recommend that care be exercised by the Immigration Department so that undesirable shall be excluded."

The Chamber of Commerce had been asked by the council to express an opinion on a letter from Mayor Hiltz of Toronto, who had circulated the chief Canadian cities asking them to protest to Ottawa against a policy of immigration which would lead to the unemployment of new comers who came to Canada under false pretences of being readily employed. The letter cited the serious situations which arose in Toronto last winter.

In addition to these reforms, Dr. Raynor pointed out, the Government had pioneered in social legislation. Its system of workmen's compensation is the best in the world in North America. The Government's system of mothers' pensions, he asserted, was effecting wonderful results.

"A Government that has done as much as that for its people surely deserves to be returned to power," Dr. Raynor affirmed. "There is yet much work to be done. One of the most important pieces of legislation that will be brought down soon will provide for health insurance."

HEALTH INSURANCE

Discussed the necessity of health insurance, Dr. Raynor stated that the average income of a laboring man in British Columbia was $55 a month and on that basis it was impossible to maintain a family in times of sickness.

"We must have a sane way of dealing with the health problem. We must have a Government that will do the whole community as we do fire insurance."

Under an adequate system of health insurance, Dr. Raynor explained, the working man would receive proper nursing, medical attention, maternity and funeral expenses.

"We can't promise this all at once but if we are elected we shall do all in our power to get these reforms effected with the least possible delay."

WITHOUT STRINGS

"I am entering this contest under no obligation to any class, creed or clique, and if I am elected, I shall do as I think right regardless of what the Government may have done," declared "I am supporting the Oliver Government because I believe it is the only party in this Province worthy of support."

Mr. Drake, speaking as a business man, pointed out that British Columbia was the poorest of the world, that it had passed through the most strenuous years in its history. While the currencies of other nations were depressed, while their securities had depreciated, British Columbia's credit was high, its bonds were selling on the same basis as Dominion securities and at a higher price than are bonds and all but $5,000 had been repaid. It had paid out in relief funds $262,000 and aided soldiers' organizations by payments totaling $46,000. The Government, he said, had employed 717 returned men out of 992 male appointments since the war. In addition, the Government had established soldiers' settlements at Merville and Creston.

BEER INCREASE

Mr. Clearhue said he had inquired closely into the recent increase in the price of beer to the brewers. The charge that the Government was raising campaign funds in this way, he said, was absolutely untrue. The price increase, he asserted, was absolutely justified by present conditions and was much less than the brewers had demanded. With the increase British Columbia was getting its beer more cheaply than other Government controlled provinces.

"Can any reasonable person think that the brewers are going to hand their profits over to the Liberal Party?" Mr. Clearhue demanded. "Look over the politics of the brewers and you will see that most of them are Conservatives. The Silver Spring Brewery here is controlled by Harry Maynard. Fancy anyone thinking of Harry Maynard, a Conservative, handing over his profits to the Liberal Party?"

Mr. Clearhue showed how the Government met the demand of municipalities for financial assistance. For the year ending March 31, 1923, he said, the Government had paid out of the municipalities' taxes in taxes and given back $1,005,000 in liquor profits and grants

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Restored to Health by Taking "Fruit-a-lives"

Made of Fruit Juices and Tonics

The most convincing proof of the true worth of "Fruit-a-lives" as a medicine for women is found in the letters written by them to "Fruit-a-lives." For instance:

"I suffered with all the symptoms of female trouble, pains now down in the back and sides, constipation and constant headache. A doctor advised an operation. I started taking "Fruit-a-lives" and this fruit medicine completely relieved me of all my misery."

through numerous channels. In other words, the Government had given back to the municipalities $365,000 more than it had taken from them.

"Surely the Government has done well by the municipalities," Mr. Clearhue declared.

HEAVY COSTS

In British Columbia he went on, a greater proportion of the population lived outside municipalities than in other western provinces. For this reason the Government was faced with heavier costs in looking after the interests of the unorganized areas. Thus it was unfair to compare the aid extended by British Columbia to municipalities with the assistance granted by other provincial governments to their municipalities.

"But they cannot fully do what we do," Mr. Clearhue remarked. "To carry on to develop this country, we must spend money."

JUVENILE COURT

Mr. Clearhue declared himself emphatically in favor of a juvenile court here, and the Government, he said, had endorsed the proposal. The purpose of such a court, he said, was to save children instead of merely punishing them. The present juvenile court, he explained, did not provide full facilities for carrying out this important work.

"It is not the stand of the Liberal Party that has prevented the establishment of that court," Mr. Clearhue declared. "The party is behind that plan and I believe it is a matter of a distant date."

The speaker vigorously defended the Government's record in the handling of the returned soldier problem. He pointed out that the Government had established a settlement of 1000 men, had repaid $500,000 in relief funds, and aided soldiers' organizations by payments totaling $46,000.

"The Government here is controlled by Harry Maynard. Fancy anyone thinking of Harry Maynard, a Conservative, handing over his profits to the Liberal Party?"

Mr. Clearhue asserted, was developing British Columbia's natural and human resources—a sane economic C. H. O'HALLORAN

The two big issues of the present campaign, C. H. O'Halloran declared, were the freight rate fight and the character of the men who were at the head of the three chief parties.

John Oliver, W. J. Bowser and General McRae, Mr. O'Halloran went on, were outstanding dominant men. The only way to judge what these men would do in the future was to look over their records in the past. Looking over Mr. Bowser's record, Mr. O'Halloran accused him of being guilty of one of the worst acts of political treachery in the history of British Columbia when he shuffled aside his old leader, Sir Richard McBride. The Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the speaker went on, was the child of the Bowser regime. Mr. Bowser's leadership, too, had failed to unite the Conservative Party, which was badly split into factions. Dealing with General McRae's record, Mr. O'Halloran called the Provincial Party leader a "speculator on a large scale."

"Why is this shrewd business man spending some $40,000 in the organization of a political party?" Mr. O'Halloran demanded, leaving the conclusion to his audience.

Premier Oliver, the Liberal leader, the speaker asserted, was known throughout the length and breadth of Canada for his vigorous, dogged personality. The Premier, he said, possessed the characteristics of men to whom nations turned in times of crisis.

Turning to the freight rate fight, Mr. O'Halloran disputed the recent statement of Harold H. Robertson that rates came strictly under the direction of the Railway Commission and did not form a political issue. The speaker quoted from the Railway Act to show that the Federal Government had power to rescind or alter any decision of the Railway Board.

Miss K. Bradshaw, president of the University Women's Society, presided.
