EXCHANGE OF NOTES BETWEEN THE UNITED KINGDOM AND FRANCE AND RUSSIA MODIFYING ARTICLE 2 OF THE CONVENTION OF NOVEMBER 9, 1914, RELATING TO PRIZES CAPTURED DURING THE PRESENT WAR.

Article 2 of Convention of November 9, 1914 (Captures of Merchant Vessels belonging to the Allied Countries).

By exchange of notes (15th February-27th April, 1915) between His Majesty's

英吉利國法令

Government and the French Government it has been agreed that, where both vessel and cargo are proceeded against under Article 2 of the Convention of the 9th November, 1914, the provisions of paragraph 1 of that Article shall be held to apply in all cases. Where only the cargo of the vessel is concerned, however, it has been agreed that, in addition to the specific case provided for by Article 2, paragraph 2—viz., where the original destination of the vessel was an enemy port—the principles laid down in that paragraph shall apply also to cases of contraband consigned to a neutral port, and to cases of enemy property where the original destination was not a hostile port.

By exchange of notes (31st May, 1915—26th October, 1916) between His Majesty's Government and the Russian Government it has been agreed that a similar interpretation of Article 2 of the Convention shall be held to apply in the cases above referred to *

* By the Imperial Russian Ukase of the 10th/23rd August, 1915, it is decreed that enemy cargo found in Russian vessels, and equally in Allied vessels, which have been overtaken by the war in Russian ports or littoral waters, or which have entered therein during the war, is liable to confiscation on the order of the nearest Prize Court.

(一) 捕獲報酬金分配ニ關スル十月二十四日附改正令

(十月二十四日ロンドン・ガゼット)

At the Court at Buckingham Palace, the 24th day of October, 1916.

PRESENT.

The King's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the Naval Agency and Distribution Act, 1864, it is provided that money distributable among the Officers and Crews of any of His Majesty's Ships of War in respect of Awards made in the several cases therein mentioned, so far as full provision respecting the distribution thereof is not made by or under any Act of Parliament other than that Act, shall be distributed under the direction of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty in the shares in that behalf specified in any Royal Proclamation or Order in Council:

And whereas Her late Majesty Queen Victoria was graciously pleased, by Her Royal Proclamation of the 17th September, 1900, to regulate, according to the Scheme set forth therein or recognised thereby, the distribution of the net proceeds of prizes captured from the enemy, of captures and seizures under the several Acts of Parliament passed relating to the Revenues of Customs, and to Trade and Navigation, for the abolition of the Slave Trade, for the capture and destruction of Pirates and Piratical Vessels, and of the rewards conferred for the same, as also of the awards for all salvage granted to the Crews of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels of War, when not otherwise specially apportioned by the terms of the respective awards and allowances :

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the 28th August, 1914, His Majesty was pleased to cancel that part of the above-mentioned Proclamation which related to the distribution of the net proceeds of Prizes captured from the Enemy :

And whereas by an Order in Council dated the 29th February, 1916, His Majesty was pleased to declare that money distributable as Prize Bounty for the taking or destroying of any armed Ship of any of His Majesty's enemies should be distributed in the shares mentioned in the said Order :

And whereas it is expedient that certain modifications should be made with respect to the manner in which Commanders serving under Captains in His Majesty's Ships should share, and further that there should be one scale for the distribution of all net proceeds and awards distributable in the nature of Prize Money, arising from all Services as aforesaid, other than the distribution of the proceeds of the capture of Prize of War :

Now, therefore, His Majesty is pleased, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, to cancel the above-mentioned Proclamation of the 17th September, 1900, and the Order in Council of the 29th February, 1916, and to authorize the distribution under the direction of the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty of all Prize Bounty, also the net proceeds of Captures and Seizures under the several Acts of Parliament passed relating to the Revenues of Customs, and to Trade and Navigation, for the Abolition of the Slave Trade, for the Capture and Destruction of Pirates and Piratical Vessels, and of the Rewards conferred for the same, and also of the Awards for all Salvage granted to the Crews of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels of War, when not otherwise specially apportioned by the Terms of the respective Awards and Allowances, and all other Monies whatsoever granted to be shared among the Officers and Crews of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the manner of Prize Money, except those arising from Prize of War, in the shares and under the Regulations set forth below.

1. The Flag Officer or Officers to have one-thirtieth part of the net amount distributable according to the following conditions and modifications :—

When there is but one Flag Officer he shall have the entire one-thirtieth part ;

When two Flag Officers shall be sharing together the Chief shall have two-thirds and the other Flag Officer shall have the remaining one-third of the one-thirtieth part; and when there shall be more than two Flag Officers the Chief shall have half of the said one-thirtieth part and the remaining half shall be equally divided among the Junior Flag Officers.

Commodores of the First Class, including Captains of the Fleet, to share as Flag Officers.

Every Commodore having a Captain under him may be esteemed a Flag Officer whether he is Commanding-in-Chief or serving under Command.

No Flag Officer shall share in any distribution of Prize Bounty unless he was in fact on board one of His Majesty's Ships or Vessels of War actually present at the taking or destroying of the armed enemy Ship in question.

No Flag Officer, unless actually present at the capture or destruction of any Pirates or Piratical Ship, Vessel, or Boat, shall share in any distribution of the proceeds or bounty in respect of such Pirates, or of the Crews of such Piratical Ship, Vessel, or Boat.

No Flag Officer shall share in any remuneration or award conferred or awarded to the Crew of any of His Majesty's Ships or Vessels as salvage, unless he shall have been actually on board the Ship or Vessel to which the award shall be made, or have personally aided and assisted in the transaction at the time the service was rendered.

2. Any Officer on board any of His Majesty's Ships or Vessels of War actually present at the taking or destroying of any armed Ship of His Majesty's enemies or otherwise entitled to share in any award who shall have more Commissions than one shall be entitled only to share according to the share allotted to him by the above-mentioned distribution in respect to his superior Commission or Office.

3. Every Chief of the Staff not of Flag Rank shall share as Captain in Command or Captain not in Command as the case may be.

4. The officer or Officers actually in Command of His Majesty's Ships and the Commander next in command in Ships commanded by Captains may divide one-tenth part of the remainder, or, if there is no Flag Officer to share, one-tenth part of the whole amount distributable, in the following proportions:—

Where the Officer is in command of a Ship singly entitled to an award, and has not a Commander as Second in Command under him, he shall take the whole one-tenth part.

Where Commanding Officers of various Ranks, and Commanders serving under Captains as aforesaid share jointly, the one-tenth part shall be so divided into parts as to provide for each Captain Commanding receiving six parts, each Commander Commanding or Commander serving as Second in Command under a Captain, three parts, and each Lieutenant-Commander, Lieutenant, or other Officer, actually commanding, two parts.

5. After provision shall thus have been made for the Flag share (if any), and for the Commanding Officer or Officers, and others as above specified, the remainder of the net amount distributable shall be distributed in Classes, so that each Officer, Man, and Boy, composing the rest of the complements of His Majesty's Ships and Vessels of War, and actually present on board at the time of such Service, and every person present and assisting shall receive shares or a share according to his Class, as set forth in the following scale, the relative Ranks mentioned being those laid down in the Regulations and Instructions for the Government of His Majesty's Naval Service, the Instructions for the Government of the Coast-guard Service, and the Regulations for the Government of the various classes of the Reserves, or, if not so laid down, as determined by the Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty.

NEW PRIZE COURT RULE MADE IN BRITAIN

AMERICAN CLAIMANTS TO CARGOES ARE NOT COMPELLED TO ENGAGE

LEGAL AID IN ENGLAND.

LONDON, Dec. 29.—As the result of conferences between Sir Samuel T. Evans, President of the British Prize Court, and Robert P. Skinner, the American Consul General, an arrangement has been concluded under which American claimants to cargoes in the British Prize Court may make their appearance before the court without engaging local legal aid. It is announced that it will be necessary, however, for all claimants "to enter appearance," this being the formal action to notify the court of their intention to appear in defense of their interests, which may be done by an agent in London qualified to do so by power of attorney.

This power of attorney may be executed by the absent claimants in favor of the Consul General, who, if requested, it is announced, will take the necessary steps precedent to the submission of the affidavits. The cost of entering appearance is purely nominal, consisting of payment of two shillings for stamps. Sir Samuel Evans undertakes to see that the affidavits are read to the prize court.

As many cases are pending in which the value of the goods is so inconsiderable that the owners would not be justified in employing local attorneys, it is pointed out that the new arrangement will enable them to obtain judgment without any expense.

In discussing the new plan with The Associated Press, Mr. Skinner said that the prize laws of both England and the United States hold that the claimant must exhaust his legal rights before invoking diplomatic intervention and that consequently the arrangement will safeguard the claims of small owners who cannot afford the usual expenses of litigation. Mr. Skinner also pointed out that American claimants of detained shipments, by immediately supplying him with proofs of their innocence of their cargoes, may enable him to obtain the release of the goods before they actually reach the prize court.

WIDE AREA OF THE NORTH SEA IS DECLARED DANGEROUS • TO SHIPPING.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Important naval developments in the European war are pressed in an innocent-looking British Admiralty statement declaring an enlarged area of the North Sea dangerous to shipping on account of belligerent operations. The announcement of the Admiralty is forwarded here by the embassy at London.

Heretofore the principal area, banned as dangerous by the British authorities was a rectangular mined area extending from the mouth of the Scheldt River opposite Flushing to the Kentish Knock Lightship and Goodwin Sands Lightship, opposite the entrance to the Thames. This mine field was established to bar the entry of German naval forces into the Straits of Dover and the English Channel.

The new "dangerous area" is apparently designed to serve as a bulwark against the egress of the German fleet from the Kiel Canal and its various bases on the North Sea coast of Germany, for it is so delimited as to make a large area of water opposite these German bases dangerous to shipping, merchant Captains being warned not to enter this region except at their risk.

The new banned area starts about twenty miles east of Flamborough Head, on the British east coast, and spreads out in a fan-shaped form toward Jutland on the Danish coast and Terschelling bank, opposite the Island of Terschelling on the Dutch coast of Holland. Everything south and east of this area is also within the dangerous zone. The northwestern limits of the new danger zone pass through the Dogger Banks.

By this action the British Government, for military and naval reasons, has barred to merchant shipping virtually all that area of the North Sea east of the Dogger Banks, between a point high on the Danish coast to the point where the Dutch coast makes its wide bend eastward. The only waters within this area safe for shipping, are the Danish and Dutch territorial waters, that is the three-mile strip of water fringing the coasts of these two neutral nations, over which the British Government would have no jurisdiction.

How this area has been or will be rendered dangerous is not disclosed. It is believed that mines will be freely used here and that the British fleet will be so distributed as virtually to put a fighting cordon around the North Sea exits of Germany.

According to the views of American naval experts, the purposes of the British naval authorities are as follows :

First, to prevent the egress of German sea raiders, as well as the return of those recently, and perhaps still, roving the Atlantic.

Second, to enable the British fleet to deal better with the German high seas fleet, should it make another dash into the North Sea this Spring.

Third, to prevent German raiding forces from making dashes across the North Sea to attack the coast of England.

Fourth, to enable the British Navy to stop the voyages of the Deutschland and other German commercial submarines.

The British Admiralty's action was made public by the State Department this afternoon in the following announcement :

American Embassy, London, has received information from the British Government that on account of belligerent operations the undermentioned area in the North Sea is dangerous to shipping :

Area comprising all the waters, except Netherlands and Danish territorial waters, lying to the southwestward and eastward of a line commencing four miles from the coast of Jutland in latitude 56 degrees north, longitude 8 degrees east from Greenwich, and passing through the following positions : Latitude 56 degrees north, longitude 6 degrees east, latitude 54 degrees north, longitude 45 minutes east, thence to a position in latitude 53 degrees 37 minutes north, longitude 5 degrees east, seven miles off the coast of the Netherlands.

It is known here that the theory of the British Admiralty officials regarding the manner in which the Möwe and other German sea raiders managed to elude the British fleet is that these commerce destroyers came out of the Kiel Canal or Wilhelmshaven, followed the line of islands along the Danish coast to the stretch of waters between the Blaastrand lightship and the Lyngvig lightship, and then dashed under cover of bad weather or darkness into the upper reaches of the North Sea.

It is suspected that the position of the northern point of the line, which is to inclose the new danger area, means that steps are being taken to close up this exit for German raiders. This starting point, four miles from the coast of Jutland, is approximately the Lyngvig lightship, lying opposite the town of Ringkjøbing. From this point the line runs westward along the line or 56 degrees north to its intersection with the longitudinal line 6 degrees east of Greenwich. This line, if continued further westward, would intersect the Firth of Forth on the Scottish coast. From the point, 56 degrees north latitude, 6 degrees east longitude, the line, marking the northwestern limits of the new danger area runs southwestward to a point opposite Flamborough Head. From this point the line recrosses the North Sea, ending at a point which is 37 minutes long latitude and 5 degrees east longitude, only seven miles from the Island of Terschelling.

The North Sea has hitherto undergone five transformations owing to the naval exigencies of Great Britain and Germany. Now the British Government announces a sixth.

The first official announcement that the status of the North Sea had been changed was issued by the British Admiralty on Oct. 3, 1914. It began:

“The German policy of mine-laying, combined with their submarine activities, makes it necessary on military grounds for the Admiralty to adopt countermeasures.”

The order proceeded to mark out a mine zone “in order to reduce risks to non-combatants” between latitude 51 degrees 15 minutes and 51 degrees 40 minutes north and longitude 1 degree 35 minutes and 3.6 degrees east longitude. This was in the shape of a quadrilateral, covering the Thames mouth and the Belgian coast just north of Ostend, whence its line, due north, was just beyond the Dutch territorial waters at the mouths of the Scheldt.

On Jan. 2, 1915, the northern line was carried north 20 degrees to the fifty-second parallel, and in the following June it was extended northeast—still outside Dutch waters—to the 100-mile line between Harwich and the Hook of Holland.

Meanwhile, on Nov. 2, 1914, the British Admiralty had declared the North Sea to be a “military area,” which was announced to be an extension of the right of search without subjecting neutral vessels to the inconveniences of a formal blockade. Russia made a similar declaration in regard to the Baltic Sea.

On Feb. 4, 1915, Germany retaliated by the famous “war zone” decree, which was to go into effect on Feb. 18. This decree, aside from stating the limits of the zone, declared that after the date of promulgation every enemy merchant ship found therein was to be destroyed, “even if it is impossible to avert dangers which threaten crew and passengers,” and “also, neutral ships in the war zone are in danger.”

Since then the “military area” of the North Sea decreed by the British Admiralty on Nov. 2, 1914, has been so extended as to become an actual blockade.

New Area of Sea Danger Proclaimed by England.

Under the British Admiralty announcement all the area of waters within the lines extending eastward from near Flamborough Head is declared dangerous to shipping as are all the waters to the eastward, except the three-mile strip along the Danish and Dutch coasts.

ARMED MERCHANT SHIPS.

THE "IMMEMORIAL RIGHT" OF DEFENCE.

The Secretary of the Admiralty makes the following announcement:—

Efforts are being made in German Wireless Press messages to cast doubt upon the strictly defensive character of the armament carried by British merchant ships; and in support of this contention use is being made by the Germans of unofficial and unauthorized comments that appear from time to time in British newspapers. In this connexion the policy of his Majesty's Government is quite clear, and is defined in the following authoritative statement which was made by the First Lord of the Admiralty in the House of Commons on December 21 last:—

His Majesty's Government cannot admit any distinction between the rights of unarmed merchant ships and those armed for defensive purposes. It is no doubt the aim of the German Government to confuse defensive and offensive action with the object of inducing neutrals to treat defensively-armed vessels as if they were men-of-war. Our position is perfectly clear—that a merchant seaman enjoys the immemorial right of defending his vessel against attack or visit or search by the enemy by any means in his power, but that he must not seek out an enemy in order to attack him—that being a function reserved to commissioned men-of-war. So far as I am aware, all neutral Powers, without exception, take the same view, which is clearly indicated in the Prize Regulations of the Germans themselves.

NORWAY'S COAL SUPPLY IS CUT OFF BY BRITAIN.

CHRISTIANIA, Jan. 3, (via London.)—Only the British Legation here and the Norwegian fishing steamers which supply fish to England are exempted from the British Government's prohibition against the export of coal to Norway. Dissatisfaction with Norway's method of exporting ore and fish from this country and her failure to fulfill certain other provisions of the agreement with Great Britain are said to be responsible for the British Government's action.

It is feared that the British action may bring about a coal famine, and the Norwegian Cabinet is considering the next step in what is regarded as a serious situation. Several of the leading papers criticise the Radical Cabinet's methods and advocate that it be succeeded by a non-partisan body.

NOTE (1).—Under the Trading with the Enemy Proclamations of 25 June, and 10 November, 1915, all Proclamations relating to Trading with the Enemy apply to all persons or bodies of persons of enemy nationality, resident or carrying on business in Liberia, Persia, Morocco or Portuguese East Africa, and consequently it is an offence to trade with any person or body of persons of enemy nationality, resident or carrying on business in Liberia, Persia, Morocco or Portuguese East Africa, even though such person or body of persons is not included by name in the above List, and the omission of the name of any such person or body of persons from such List is not an authority or licence to trade with such person or body of persons.

NOTE (2).—Where a firm named in the List has more than one branch in the same country, all branches in that country are held to be included in the List even in cases where no address, or of several addresses one only is specifically mentioned.

NOTE (3).—The List for each country is sent by telegraph to His Majesty's Representative in that country, who will notify British Consular Officers, to whom persons abroad should apply for information as to names on the List; but firms in the United Kingdom with branches are advised to furnish such branches with copies of the Statutory List. The Lists for all countries in Central and South America are also telegraphed to His Majesty's Ambassador at Washington.

The Foreign Trade Department is prepared on application to inquire of His Majesty's Representatives abroad for the names of substitutes for any firm on the Statutory List. When the applicant wishes this done by telegraph he must undertake to pay the cost of the telegraphic correspondence. A considerable amount of information is, however, already available at the Foreign Trade Department, and it is hoped that it may be possible in many cases to suggest the names of satisfactory substitutes in response to inquiries, without the necessity of referring the matter abroad. It would greatly facilitate the work of this Department if applicants in making inquiries would specify the particular trade, or trades, for which substitutes are required.
