DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF GLENDALE

QUEEN'S CORONATION

BARBARA MITCHELL CROWNED MID DANCES AND SONGS OF CHILDREN AT HIGH SCHOOL

One of the most beautiful and pleasing of all the wonderful features of the Festival of Fruits and Flowers was the coronation ceremony in the auditorium of the Union High School last night. The ceremony was given twice for the purpose of suiting the convenience of the people.

When the curtain was drawn the stage displayed "Spring," in the charming personality of Harriet Barnes, asleep in winter slumber. Presently the Raindrops—Katherine Delgado, Willa Kubly, Charlotte Koverman, Margaret Willard, Eva Metcalf, Gertrude Ashton, Lucile Thompson, Georgiana Donecker, Julia Steelman and Gertrude Birch—danced around the sleeping beauty. The raindrops were draped in appropriate gray garments symbolical of their nature and as they weaved their mazy steps around and about the recumbent form Spring gradually wakened into life, chased away the Raindrops and, dancing with marvelous grace, called the Warm Zephyrs—Mildred Nichols, Tillie Klein, Marie Oliver, Nellie Rowe, Avis Thompson, Vivian Reybold, Iris Bannock, Elizabeth Mason and Marcella Mills—to dance with her. The delicate pink of Spring's costume was in unison with the pinks of the Zephyrs.

After a lively series of enchanting figures Spring and the Zephyrs disappeared and the Sun—Winifred Jones—pirouetted onto the stage in a gorgeous costume of orange and gold that looked like a veritable sunburst of golden glory. Winifred danced with charming ease and brought out the warmth and life-giving nature of the sun to perfection.

When the Sun had risen to the height of noonday perfection the sound of a triumphal march was heard and onto the stage there trooped "the procession of the Grass and Flowers. This was a beautiful scene. "Grass," in the person of Dean Lockwood was appropriately dressed in green, and the flowers—Lucille Nichols, Florence Melrose, Dorothy Dutton, Eleanor Barrows, Vivian Reybold, Beryl Caswell, Gladys Peckman, Tillie Klein, Marie Oliver, Charlotte Koverman, Lucille Thompson, Edna Lichenor, Iris Thompson, Margaret Wilson, Avis Bannock, Harriett Barnes, Gertrude Ashton, Marion Dunsmore, Marcella Miller, Katherine Delgado, Elizabeth Goodrich, Julia Steelman, Georgiana Donecker, Louise Dare, Ninna Caspary, Gerda Caspary, Rebecca Brant—were dressed in the costumes appropriate to their characters. They filed in to the music and took their places on the platform singing the chorus, "Hail to the Queen." The Herald, Aileen Barrows, appropriately attired in court dress, announced the coming of the queen and immediately the queen—Barbara Mitchell—appeared, with her trainbearers. The queen looked charming in her coronation dress and green velvet mantle lined with pale gold.

Knocking down on the coronation cushion, accompanied by her page, Dauphin Paine, the queen received her crown of flowers at the hands of Mrs. Dan Campbell, past grand worthy matron of the grand lodge of the Order of the Eastern Star. Mrs. Campbell, in a few appropriate words, announced the pleasure she had in crowning the successful candidate for royal honors.

Then followed a symbolic dance. The Herald opened the terpsichorean ceremony by picking a bouquet of flowers, placing them in a beautiful basket, which was then handed through the mazes of the dance and finally laid as a tribute at the feet of the queen. The queen on her throne looked the impersonation of gracious royalty and smiled benignly on the pretty pageant that celebrated her reign.

First there glided out on the front stage Lois Naudain to dance the solo dance, "The Shamrock." Trim and neat in a shamrock costume this little lady displayed great natural talent as a dancer. She has the gift by nature and her clever performance elicited long and hearty applause.

Katherine Delgado and Charlotte Koverman came on as "The Thistle" and the "Heather" and swung into a characteristic Scotch dance in which the many steps of the Highland Fling were cleverly woven in with fragments of strathspeys and reels, the whole making up a striking dance. Both children showed marked natural aptitude for dancing. Harriett Barnes, becomingly attired as a Cherry Blossom, danced the Cherry Blossom dance with an originality.

SCHOOL TRUSTEES MEET

TRANSACT WEEKLY BUSINESS OF GRAMMAR SCHOOLS OF CITY

The regular meeting of the school trustees was held last night in the Intermediate school, Third street. In the absence of the chairman, Dr. Eckels, Mr. L. E. Brockman occupied the chair. The clerk, Mr. J. Todd, reported that in the matter of the Verdugo Pipe and Reservoir company he had received a check for $42.75, the value of the stock in that company which belonged to the school district, and had deposited it with the city auditor.

Mrs. Annie A. Myton presented a petition in behalf of the patrons of the Doran street school asking that an additional teacher be given that school next year. The matter was taken under advisement.

The board agreed that Friday, June 4, be the closing day for the school term.

Mr. E. M. Polley was given permission to conduct a summer school in the Intermediate school building.

The question of teachers' salaries for next year was laid over pending the decision of a case now before Judge Wilbur, bearing on the right of a board of school trustees to make a salary schedule.

Miss Lucy K. Moore, music superintendent, tendered her resignation to take effect at the close of this term. The resignation was accepted.

JAMES MANNING

James Manning, father of Mrs. Earl Bond, passed away at her home, 1563 Vine St., Thursday afternoon, May 27, at the age of 76 years. Mr. Bond had been ailing for some months and three weeks ago was brought from Arizona to his daughter's home, where he gradually failed. He leaves surviving him a wife and nine children. Mr. Manning was born in Mobile, Alabama, but had lived in California for the past seventeen years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Pulliam Undertaking parlors.

FINE EXHIBITS

Glendale's exhibit of Fruits and Flowers was said by the judges to be the finest ever held in Southern California. Take time enough to make it of educational value to you. You will be surprised at the extent and beauty of Glendale's product. Don't fail to take any eastern friends you meet to see that exhibit.

Saturday afternoon at 1:30 p. m. is scheduled something unique on the whole Pacific coast. Never before has there been held a florally decorated baby cab parade. Don't fail to see it. We are having the first one; the Million club of Los Angeles have one scheduled for June 7. The baby parade is not limited to entrants in the Better Baby contest, but is free to all who will present their cabs florally decorated. A beautiful prize has been offered by the Juvenile shop for the best entry. The parade will proceed to the Union High school where the awarding of medals in the baby contest will take place, and a splendid program given. The prize for the best baby from 6 months to a year is a beautiful loving cup given by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Braly. One of the gold medal prizes for the best boy and best girl baby in the sweetest is given by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand, and the other by the ladies of Arden avenue. Mrs. Charles Toll gave one of the bronze medals, Mrs. William Ramsay another, and the ladies of the literary section gave the other two bronze medals.

Following is the program:
Dr. Wood Comstock, "Preparation for Parenthood."

Dr. Maud Wilde, "Better Babies."
Mrs. George Barry, editor Woman's Bulletin, "Child Welfare."
These speakers are all specialists in their line and no one should fail to hear them.

At 3:30 promptly is scheduled Glendale's big fiesta parade. This part of the festival is solely the work of the men of Glendale, and they will have something unusually fine as the result of their combined efforts. The parade will include the historic coach owned by Mr. Hosea Steelman of moving picture fame, the queen's float, other floral floats, fruit floats, mounted horsemen, business entries and industrial floats of all kinds.

Judges for the parade secured by Mr. Archie Parker are as follows: Mrs. Charles Stone, prominent Pasadena club woman; Dr. C. A. Billings, mayor of Arcadia, and Mr. Andrew E. Wilbur, San Gabriel. Beside fine cash prizes for the best float entered by a business.

8 to 9:30 p. m.—Minstrel tea in a Flower Garden, Union High school.

9:30 to midnight—grand street carnival.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

On May 26th, 1880, Rev. F. A. Field was married to Miss Clara May McDonald in San Diego, Calif. On Wednesday the thirty-fifth anniversary was quietly but pleasantly celebrated at 239 So. Kenwood street, Glendale.

The living room and den was decorated in bride and Cochet roses with fernery, while the dining room was in yellow and green.

The dining table was ornamented with a tall basket of Scotch broom and plumose ferns and a large butterfly bow of yellow satin ribbon at the top with ends drooping down to the table. Hand-painted place cards in California poppies marked covers for the guests. The favors were in the same color. Those invited were Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Osborne of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel P. Morse of Hollywood, Mr. Wm. Sadler of Berkeley, Mrs. Bella Morse of Oakland, and Mr. Frank Sanborn of Old Mexico. The evening passed quickly for the guests, who were engaged in a seed contest. The guests bid them goodnight, hoping to be invited to their golden wedding.

BROKE HIS ARM

An accident occurred yesterday on Broadway by which an eight-year-old boy broke his arm and otherwise injured himself. The details of the accident are not very clear, as Geo. Klamm, 235 E. Broadway, who was driving the delivery auto belonging to the Klamm ranch, asserts that he never knew the boy had got on to the car.

Klamm says that he stopped to take on Horace Lukens and Ralph Current and that at that time the boy, who is the son of Mrs. Howell, 425 Cedar street, must have jumped on the car without his knowledge. The Howell boy is rather seriously injured. He says the driver asked him to enter the car and then told him to get down and while he was getting down the car was speeded up throwing him to the street.

In Judge Whomes' court this morning the judge held that the whole affair was a matter for the civil courts.

ADVENTIST GRADUATES

Glendale Seventh Day Adventist church was crowded Wednesday evening to witness the graduation of six young ladies and to listen to the admirable program prepared for the occasion. Prof. I. C. Colcord presided. The graduates were Jessie Parritt, Mary Frank, Mary Colby, Dolores Marquez, Lucile Johnson and Winea Simpson.

PUBLICITY MEN COMING

DELEGATES TO CONVENTION OF AD MEN OF PACIFIC VISIT GLENDALE

One hundred automobiles carrying members of the Pacific Coast Ad Men's club, which is now holding a convention in Los Angeles, will pass through Glendale tomorrow at about 2:30 o'clock. Representatives of the City of Glendale and members of the chamber of commerce will meet the visitors at the south city limits, and all other citizens who can do so are invited to join in welcoming these visitors within our walls. The ladies in charge of the fiesta have invited the Ad men to divert their line of march through Glendale, coming up Central to Broadway, on Broadway to Brand and south on Brand to Colorado. This invitation was considered at the Ad men's convention this afternoon and accepted.

KENTS MAY MOVE MILL

It should be a matter of considerable interest to the people of Glendale to learn that one of the local industries is looking for a site outside the city for its business, being unable to get what it wants here. Glendale is not in a position to turn down any industry, yet Charles W. Kent & Son, builders and contractors, are reported to have made several applications for a site for building a mill on property belonging to the Salt Lake railroad and have been refused. They have become so convinced that there is no likelihood of their getting what they need in Glendale that they are preparing to go elsewhere.

RAIL BONDS STOLEN

Thirty rail wire bonds were stolen from the rails of the Glendale and Montrose railway last night. The theft, if it was a theft and not malicious mischief, was committed on the Eagle Rock branch of the railroad. It is thought that the removal of the wire bonds may have been the work of three Mexicans who were reported earlier in the evening as having disturbed the peace on the Eagle Rock car and later still with throwing rocks on the car line with a view to mischief. The police are investigating the matter.

SEVEN YEARS OLD

Little Wayne Yarik was made happy Thursday evening when seven of his neighboring friends came to his home to help him celebrate his seventh birthday. Games were played, after which all were called to the dining room to eat ice cream and help consume the wonderful birthday cake. A merry time was enjoyed by the following little tots: Helen White, Marjorie Frazee, Dorothy Van Dyke, Josephine Franklin, John Blake Franklin, Gordon McRae, Wilbur Read, Marjorie, Wayne and Burnell Yarik.

NEW SQUIRE IN TOWN

A strange squire rode into town two days ago and made his premier devoir to the civic power. Edward Kenneth Daniels, Jr., is the name in chivalry of this valiant defender of the right. This welcome candidate for knightly honor will have a long novitiate before he can hope to keep watch and ward over his sword and armor on the eve of his admission to the commandery. Meantime, his father, Sir E. K. Daniels, eminent commander of the Glendale Commandery Knights Templar, is justly proud of the recent addition to his family.

GET GOOD CONTRACT

CHARLES W. KENT & SON SECURE CONTRACT FOR BUILDING OWENSMOUTH SCHOOL

It has been practically settled that Charles W. Kent & Son will build the new Owensmouth school. The bids were opened the other day and it is known that the Kent bid was the lowest. Some matters of detail remain to be settled.

The other day a party from Owensmouth, consisting of Joseph Gerard, principal of Owensmouth school; Miss Clara Rooksby and Miss Ralph, teachers; Mr. Dennis Hewitt, architect; Mr. M. A. Gray, Mrs. Jackson Tweedy, M. B. F. Failor, Mr. Frank Goodall and Mr. John Haaf, trustees of Owensmouth school, visited Glendale Union High school.

The party was entertained by Principal Moyse. They went through the school buildings and examined with minute care the details of the work which was done by the Kent firm. As a result of this visit there is little doubt that Messrs. Kent & Son will soon be building the Owensmouth school. The Owensmouth trustees and the others appeared to be very much pleased with what they saw of the architecture and construction of the Union High School and it may be that some of the novel features in connection with the High School here may be adopted in Owensmouth, although their plans are already complete.

SOCIETY AT LITTLELANDS

Under the spreading oak trees in Manzanita Park at Littlendlands, May 24th, about twenty ladies gathered at a luncheon and linen shower given by Mrs. Herbert W. Crooks to her friend, Miss Loulou Barkley, a bride-elect for June.

The luncheon was the most unique affair ever given in the valley. The table was in yellow and white, in the center of which was a miniature rockery covered with ferns and rosebuds. Suspended from the overhanging branches of the trees hung tiny yellow butterflies. The place of each guest was marked with little golden baskets filled with rice which was used in showering the bride to be. A ribbon streamer was fastened to each lady and the guest of honor was asked to trace each one to its secret hiding place among the shrubbery where was found a dainty piece of linen.

Miss Loulou is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Barkley, former residents of Glendale, but now located at Littlendlands, and will become the bride of Mr. Earl Mauk June 24th at a public wedding at the Little Landers' clubhouse. Mr. Mauk was formerly engaged in the electrical business in Glendale, but is now a resident of Los Angeles.

LA CACHOTA CLUB

Mrs. W. H. Watson entertained the members of the La Cachota club Thursday afternoon at her home, 212 Verdugo road. Bouquets of pink Mammaon Cochet roses gave the rooms a festive air and the company that gathered was truly a merry one. The afternoon was spent in needle work as is the custom of the club, to the accompaniment of lively chatter, and the delicious light repast that the hostess served was indeed refreshing. The ladies who enjoyed the afternoon with this hospitable lady were Mesdames Claude Case, E. Osgood, Winters, W. M. McMillan, Squires, L. W. Sinclair, F. W. H. Dow, R. A. McCoy, Daniel Mallett, A. P. Knight, George Allen, Frank Campbell, L. D. Triol, E. A. Case, M. L. Watson, Misses Lillian Fielding Anna Triol and Carrie Mallett.

COLUMBUS AVE. P. T. A.

On Wednesday afternoon the Columbus Avenue P. T. A. held its last meeting of the year, the retiring executive board being the hostesses. The following officers were elected to serve during the next year:
President, Mrs. H. W. Yarik.
Vice president, Mrs. H. A. McPherson.
Secretary, Mrs. Alice Clisbee.
Treasurer, Mrs. A. R. Chapell.
Historian, Mrs. J. O. Elliot.
The president gave a short report of some of the interesting things she had heard at the state congress of mothers at San Francisco. The following program was rendered:
Violin solo, Mrs. A. L. Ferguson.
Reading, Mildred McKee.
Piano solo, Mrs. Eugene Murman.

The list of prize winners in the floral show will appear in tomorrow's issue of the Glendale News. There will be a complete list of every one who entered exhibits, and those designated who received first and second prizes, and also those who received honorable mention.

M. B. HARTMANN.

JOHN PAUL INJURED

Mr. John Paul of 525 South Orange street, while on his way home from work Tuesday evening, riding his bicycle, collided with a heavy wagon in Tropic, was hurled to the ground with terrific force, was picked up in an unconscious condition and hurried to the receiving hospital in Los Angeles, and later to the Crocker hospital. The exact nature of Mr. Paul's injuries have not as yet been determined. Aside from a general shakeup, various cuts and bruises, a serious condition exists in the region of the lower part of the vertebrae and right hip, in connection with which an X-ray is to be taken today.

Mr. Paul and family have been residents of Glendale for about ten years, having erected the home in which they have resided ever since they located here. Mr. Paul has been connected with the clerical force of the Southern Pacific freight yards in Los Angeles for the past sixteen years and has traveled thousands of miles as a commuter and by other various means of conveyance and this being his first mishap he considers that he has been quite fortunate.

MODERN CITY MANAGEMENT

While Glendale is struggling with the little problem of its civic life and finding difficulties in financing and supplying the civic needs of a town of less than 8000 inhabitants, there are single buildings in New York City that have to provide for needs equivalent to those of a city of 30,000 inhabitants. This problem they handle with ease and with economy. In the daily administration of such buildings as the Woolworth building with its sixty stories and its 792 feet of height more important problems are solved by the manager in a day than come up for solution within a year in a city like Glendale.

Through all this multiplicity of demands there runs a system of order that speedily disposes of all difficulties and facilitates the dispatch of business. The business of managing the diverse departments of a mammoth modern business building could never be carried on successfully were it not under a single head. The manager of such a building has the power to say to this man "Go," and he goeth; and to another "Come," and he cometh; and to this one, "Do this thing," and he doeth it. This is the perfection of organization.

Everything must have a head; otherwise it is dead. It can accomplish nothing. There must be a final head from which there is no appeal; otherwise there can be no progress. Imagine holding up the lighting department of such a human hive as the Woolworth building until a vote could be taken of all employes, because some one on the 25th floor did not like the color of the manager's hair or the manners of his stenographer. Think of a building that consumes nightly and daily 17 kilowatts—more light than is usually employed in lighting the streets of a city six times the size of Glendale; think of the army of window cleaners; the army of housemen; the army of engineers and electricians and other help that must be employed there, and then reflect that everything goes on without a hitch and that at the close of the year the balance sheet of the building is expected to show and does show a substantial profit; then reflect on the amount of trouble it takes to finance some of our modern cities into practical bankruptcy and the worry, annoyance and inefficient service that is obtained, and determine which system you prefer.

It surely would be better for cities to advocate a system by which experts could be trained for their service, especially in such positions as that of manager. Such a position needs not only a man of wide practical knowledge and experience in civic work, but also a man of tact and civility in dealing with the public.

If a private corporation like that which owns the Woolworth building can get efficient service of this nature it should be possible for a city to get it. The question is whether there are enough men of this kind to be had and whether minor cities could get them. The law of supply and demand governs here as elsewhere. If there is a demand for this class of man it will be supplied. Meanwhile, of course, corporations like the Woolworth building get the best men in the market, because they are willing to pay for them.

A CONTINENT WITHIN A CONTINENT

When Seward purchased Alaska from Russia for the insignificant sum of $7,000,000,000, and added that northern possession to the United States a howl of derision and accusation went up from that large section of the national legislature that is usually ignorant of everything outside the pork barrel. There was no limit to the ridicule that was poured out on the far-seeing secretary, whose name now graces a section of Alaska as large as some of the states which sent those protestors to the senate and house—Seward peninsula.

Seward's purchase was termed "Seward's Ice Chest," and other opprobrious titles were proposed for what those wisecracks were certain would prove, as they termed it, a "white elephant." It was many years before the discovery of gold in the Seward peninsula directed national attention to the possibilities of the new territory. Then, naturally, the attention of the country was drawn to the land, "the frozen north," as the commonplace paragrapher styles it.

Even then it was not recognized that the Alaskan continent had other merits than that attaching to so much icebound placer ground and most of those who went there in 1900 had no other idea in their minds than to get what they could out of the country and then shake its snow off their feet and return home. With such ideas it was little wonder that Alaska was but sparsely settled and had a population that shifted about as the years went on and, indeed, underwent an almost complete change every five years or even less.

These things are all changed nowadays. Alaska is the last American frontier country. With its 590,000 square miles of territory it presents opportunities to settlers that cannot be obtained elsewhere. Much of the land is susceptible of agricultural development. When barley and oats have been acclimated as they are in the north of Norway and Finland, which parts of Europe are as far north as Seward peninsula, those grains can be grown to perfection on the edge of the Arctic circle. That may seem strange, but it must be remembered that during the four months of summer there is perpetual sunshine and that it should be possible to ripen crops under such conditions.

As a matter of fact, all the common vegetables are grown easily in the city of Nome, and in the outlying creeks oats and barley can be seen to a height of eight and nine feet. It is true that the ears do not fill out, but that will come with acclimation. It probably has come even now. All vegetables like potatoes, radishes, beets, lettuce and many others grow to enormous sizes and round the hot springs crops of every kind are produced that need not fear comparison with the best products of California.

This country, comprising as much territory as amounts to about one-fifth of the whole territory of the United States, has been left undeveloped to a great extent simply on account of the difficulty of constructing railways and the lack of capital for development of all kinds. It must be remembered that Alaska has a coast line of 27,000 miles; that it has 50,000,000 acres of land suitable for stock raising and agricultural purposes. It can afford grazing for 5,000,000 reindeer, each worth about $70. Gold has been discovered everywhere throughout this magnificent territory, and of more value than all there are 850,000 acres of known coal fields, while the total coal area is not less than 16,000 square miles. Alaska has 100,000,000 acres of timber land and the waters of the ocean at its doors teem with fish of every kind.

The program of the government with reference to the development of this valuable territory is worthy of support. Two of those great coal fields, the Natinska and the Bering River fields, are being connected directly with tidewater by railways. The extension of the railways to the heart of the country will cause such a development of Alaska as will throw completely into the shade the "rush" days of the past.

President Wilson recently designated one of the main routes into the interior, a line from Seward to Fairbanks. Part of the line is the Alaska Northern railway, extending from Seward, some distance inland. This is to be purchased by the government and will be a part of the main line to Fairbanks.

The days of the old dog team and stage coach rides from Valdez to Fairbanks and from Fairbanks to Nome are rapidly coming to an end. Before long Alaska will have a population of several millions, instead of 40,000 whites as at present. Much natural wealth will be opened up; new gold fields will be discovered quite as rich as the first beach at Nome; and the wealth that has been taken out of Alaska up to this point will be very little in comparison with what will yet be taken from that wonderful land.

Many so-called "authorities," who should know better, sneer at such predictions, but those men are in Washington, 5000 miles away from Alaska, and they would think themselves condemned to something worse than penal servitude were they told to spend a winter in that country. Yet these prognostications are exact and their verifications will be seen by all who live for the next twenty years or even less.

Only 5% PLUS for the Best "Non-Skid"

PRACTICALLY all Non-Skid Tires that make serious claims to non-skid efficiency cost you 10% to 30% more than Plain Tread Tires of same brand and material. Goodrich Safety Tread Tires cost you only 5% more than our plain tread tires.

Here's how and Why!

Forty-five years of Rubber working (in what is now the World's largest Rubber Factory) has taught us a few Kinks and Short-cuts that are not common to the Trade.

One of these now comes to the help of your Pocket-book.

Through the simple process of Thinking Hard (and being Candid with ourselves) we have found a Short-cut to make the best Safety Tread ever put on a Tire cost us only about 5% more than it costs to make the Plain-Tread of similar quality.

Goodrich Safety Tread Tires cost you only 5% more than our own or any other plain tread tires.

See the following table of comparative prices on non-skid tires. Columns headed "A," "B," "C" and "D" represent four highly advertised tires:

Size	Goodrich Safety Tread	A	B	C	D
33 x 3	$9.25	10.55	$10.95	$16.35	$18.10
33 x 3 1/2	12.25	13.35	14.20	21.70	23.60

By testing out these Goodrich Safety-Tread Tires on a large number of Taxicabs (where they could be competitively observed and carefully checked up at the end of each day's use) and by comparing their actual performance with that of our own, and other Plain-Treads, of much higher price, we have had this fact forced upon us:

Viz:—That there is SURPRISINGLY more Mileage, in Goodrich Safety Tread Tires, than in our own, or any other, make of Plain-Tread Tires.

So MUCH more Mileage, for only 5% more Cost looked so good to us that we decided to give Car Owners the benefit.

Here's what we now offer you!

The best Non-Skid Safety Tread ever put on the market, and it costs you only 5% more than our best plain tread tire.

PERSONALS

Miss Marie Kirk, 718 W. Broadway, left Glendale, Thursday, May 25, for a few weeks' visit with friends on a ranch near Encinitas, San Diego county.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stine, 1614 W. Broadway, Friday morning at 5:20 o'clock twin boys. Instead of having one entrant at the Glendale Better Baby Show next year, Mr. and Mrs. Stine can have two lusty contestants. The weight of the twins was 4 1/2 and 5 1/2 lbs. respectively.

George H. Bentley of the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber Co. is a consistent booster for Glendale and that he is aiding in increasing the population of the city was proved when a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Bentley, 1310 Burchett St., Thursday evening at 11:45. The young lady, who has been christened Helen Louise, tips the scales at 10 lbs.

ness firm, for the best float entered by a Woman's club, for the best float entered by a public school, for the best float entered by a fraternal organization, and for the best float entered by a private citizen, numerous fine merchandise prizes have been secured for other divisions. The committee in charge of this work are: Mr. J. N. McGillis, chairman; Mr. G. B. Woodberry, Mr. H. A. Wilson and M. B. Hartmann.

From 5 to 8 p. m. a fine home cooked cafeteria dinner will be served by fifty of the ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club in Masonic Temple. Regular cafeteria prices.

At 7 o'clock the Elks' drill team will give a drill on Broadway between Orange street and Brand boulevard. They will then march to the High School grounds and complete their drill, closing in time for the evening Minstrel program in the High School auditorium. The Minstrel program put on by local club women of talent promises to be all kinds of fun. Don't fail to attend it. Prices, 25 and 35 cents. The Minstrel will be over at 9:30, and from then till midnight there will be a grand street carnival. Confetti and all kinds of fun. This will close the first Festival of Fruits and Flowers ever held in Glendale. Its success has been assured from the tireless efforts of everyone who assumed responsibility in it.

INTERMEDIATE P. T. A.

The regular meeting of the Parent Teacher association of the Intermediate school was held in the school last night. Dr. Jessie A. Russell presided. The routine business was got over quickly and the society received the report of the nominating committee at the hands of the chairman of that committee, Mrs. Ralph Hinckley. The following officers were accepted unanimously: Mrs. Fred Baker, president; Mrs. P. A. C. Moore, first vice president; Mrs. Nathaniel Green, second vice president; Prof. R. D. White, third vice president; Mrs. Vivian R. Webb, fourth vice president; Mrs. L. E. Brockman, fifth vice president; Mrs. Mary W. Edwards, recording secretary; Mrs. John H. Barrows, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Wilmot Parcher, auditor; Mrs. Clara Midealf, historian.

TROPICO

Four very interesting visitors arrived in Tropic the first of the week, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Lunn of Greenville, Michigan, and their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lunn of Chicago, who are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. George N. Lunn of Glendale avenue. Mr. W. P. Lunn and our fellow townsman, George M. Lunn, are brothers and the reunion of these two brothers and their families is a pleasure to all. After visiting all of the many places of interest in Southern California, including San Diego and its exposition, these visitors will leave for the northern part of the state and visit San Francisco, the exposition and other places of interest in the north.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lunn of Chicago will leave in advance of their parents, as Mr. Lunn is a delegate to the National Electrical convention, which convenes in San Francisco June 7. Yesterday Mrs. George N. Lunn and Miss Blanche L. Daventport accompanied these visitors on a delightful trip to Mt. Lowe.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Daniels of 1307 Lomita avenue are receiving the congratulations of their legion of friends upon the arrival of a fine bouncing baby boy at their home Tuesday night. Young Edward Kenneth, Jr., who weighs eleven and a half pounds, is very well pleased with his home and also enjoys the happiness he has brought to his adoring father and mother. One of the judges of the baby parade, which is to occur tomorrow, was overheard expressing her keenest regrets that the extreme youth of Edward Kenneth prevents him occupying a prominent place in the parade.

The citizens of Tropic are quite busy today and tomorrow dividing their time and attention between the Fruit and Flower Festival of Glendale and the pure food show that is being conducted by Mr. A. E. Coffey, who but recently purchased the grocery of Davis and Betten. The grand prize drawing contest occurs Saturday evening.

The teachers of the Cerritos school are arranging the program that is to be given Friday, June 4, by the Parent-Teacher association.

QUEEN'S CORONATION

nality that was highly creditable to her.

Then came a charming episode. Dorothy McGinnis sang and danced "My Baby Rose," apostrophizing a cluster of Cecile Brunner roses which she held in her hand. This was a remarkably pleasing and clever performance and the audience showed their appreciation of it by prolonged applause.

Not less pleasing in its own way was the dance of the Toadstools, given by Irving Reybold, Herbert Jackson, Lawrence Barrows, Leslie Reybold, Freeman Brant and Stanford Stalles. These boys entered with great abandon into the grotesque symbolism of their dance and brought down the house by some ludicrous tanglefoot impromptus.

As the Butterfly Helen McMullin developed a flitting and elusive air that was both charming and becoming. She showed thorough understanding of the part for which she was cast and interpreted the airy nature of the butterfly to perfection.

Terese Van Grove, the child dancing star of Glendale, was, naturally, the center of the scene when she appeared as the Poppy. In characteristic costume and with the grace and professional skill that she always displays Terese interpreted the Poppy's nature with warmth and expansive charm. She was loudly applauded.

The group that danced the Mignon dance excelled themselves and as the little ones threaded the mazes of the dance of the Fairies the audience showed by their applause their profound appreciation of the efforts that had been put forth by those who trained the children to make this performance a success.

The herald, Aileen Barrows, then announced the approach of Dawn, Shirley Chase. Dawn made her entrance to the "Song of the Flowers" and as the curtain began to descend the full chorus broke forth into the finale, "Flowers Must Hasten Away."

Mrs. Wayland Brown, who trained the children both in acting and singing and in dancing deserves the utmost credit. Her long and arduous labors were crowned with wonderful success and the children, especially at the second performance, acted with great confidence and with that utter absence of self-consciousness that is so charming a feature in child nature. Mrs. Brown deserves the thanks of the community for her excellent and unselfish work. Mrs. J. R. Barrows, who played the piano accompaniments and the dance music, has labored with Mrs. Brown all through the training period. This is a most exhausting work and deserves full appreciation.

Mrs. Mattison B. Jones opened the performance by a neat and appropriate speech congratulating Glendale on the success attending the Festival of Fruits and Flowers and thanking the ladies for their unremitting and unselfish services. She also specially thanked the members of the Eastern Star and of the Elks for their friendly contest for the election of the first queen of the first fiesta of Fruits and Flowers ever held in Glendale. Their friendly efforts had resulted, she said, in financial aid that would go far to help the committee defray the expense of the festival.

The candy committee was actively at work all through the evening selling the toothsome product of their own hands. Those who aided in this work were: Mrs. H. I. Campbell, chairman; Mrs. Harry Lynch, Mrs. LeRoy Bosserman and Mrs. Colin Cable. Mr. Harry Lynch also assisted.

The tickets and the door and the ushering were looked after by the following ladies of the Tuesday Afternoon club: Mrs. Grosvenor, Mrs. L. W. Sinclair, Mrs. J. W. Stauffacher, Mrs. McCoy, Mrs. Archer, Mrs. Julius Kranz and Mrs. McNutt.

ASKS $500 FOR LOSS

On the loss of a faded blue army uniform, a relic of the Civil war, Mrs. Mary Heintzelman, 73 years old, of Minneapolis, Minn., bases a claim for $500 against Hennepin county which she has already filed.

Five years ago Mrs. Heintzelman went to the Hennepin county poor farm. Her only possessions were packed in an old-fashioned trunk. In the top tray lay the old uniform and a packet of soldier's letters, written on the heavy blue stationery used in war times. They were the only links that bound the old woman's life to the highest happiness her life had known.

The uniform more than half a century ago had been worn to the war by George Heintzelman of the Forty-seventh Pennsylvania infantry. They had been betrothed, she and the young soldier, when he marched away to war. The memories of those days when he and she were young have been the only comforts in the old woman's life.

Three years later Heintzelman came back badly wounded. He recovered, but a bullet through his lung had impaired his health. They were married and moved west. The husband's health did not improve. A few years later he died.

Mrs. Heintzelman stored the old uniform and the letters in the trunk and set about to make her own way in the world. The years that followed were lonely and full of hard work and trouble. The treasures in the trunk were the only solaces in the woman's life.

Finally, too old to work longer, she went to the home. Every spring on the anniversary of the day that her lover had marched away Mrs. Heintzelman would take out the old uniform and hang it on the line to air. Softly she would caress the faded garment and read over the old letters and her sadness and loneliness would be lost in the flood of pleasant memories that floated back from her youth.

A week ago as the old uniform hung upon the line a cinder descended from a smoke stack. It smoldered for a moment in the garment, flared up, and Mrs. Heintzelman's last treasure was gone forever.

STREET DANCING

Monrovia is just now agitated by the question of whether dancing should or should not be allowed on the public streets, and the line of cleavage between the two opinions is becoming very strongly marked; advocates and opponents of the practice being very much in earnest, and determined in advocacy each of his or her own conviction, says the Monrovia News. There is no subject, except the subject of the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors upon which there is so much strongly opposing opinion among the people as upon the subject of public dancing. There is no pastime or amusement so universally practiced throughout the world as dancing, but also there is none more universally condemned by the evangelical church of all nations. For that reason the policy of the encouragement of promiscuous dancing in the public way should be approached with great care and circumspection by the general public. Christian people feel very strongly upon the subject and their opinions and feelings should be considered, and this is entirely irrespective of individual opinion. One may think public dancing a harmless and healthful species of entertainment for the masses, and be very eager to engage in it oneself, and yet be strongly opposed to fencing off and closing up a public street, ever so temporarily, for the use of the dancers. Such an one might defend such opposition on the ground that the streets are public property, that they have been dedicated to the use of the public at all times, and that the fencing off and closing up of a portion of them for the use of only a few of the people, contrary to the wishes of a considerable number of the general public, is against public policy and subversive of popular rights. That would be a very tenable argument, and quite in line with the general idea of the purposes of all public thoroughfares and of the rights of all persons who use them.

TO PREVENT AUTO ACCIDENTS

One hundred and twenty-eight lives were lost during the month of April as the result of automobile accidents. In commenting upon this the Cincinnati Enquirer says that an analysis of every automobile accident discloses that it might have been avoided, or the result mitigated, except for the deplorable recklessness or lack of knowledge on the part of the drivers. Reports come in increasing numbers of accidents to cars driven by recent purchasers, ignorant of their operation, their power and the laws of momentum. The Enquirer well says that such drivers imperil the lives, not only of those who ride with them, but even the lives of those who are in cars capably handled and safely driven. Continuing the Enquirer says:

"Legislation alone cannot be depended upon to bring about safety in the operation of motor cars, for in the very nature of their use it is impracticable, if not altogether impossible for minions of the law to observe the operations of all automobiles at all times, and in all places. It does lie within the province of the state, however, to prescribe qualifications for drivers of motor vehicles, and that enactment of statutes along that line cannot be done too quickly. The state will not permit the unsophisticated to run locomotives on steel-bound highways, and no more should it permit the ignorant to operate powerful motor vehicles upon the broad or narrow highways of the state free to travel of all sorts of vehicles and pedestrians.

"There should be such a warning, such a lesson in the ghastly figures for April, as to lead every operator of an automobile thoroughly to qualify himself in the first place, and in the second to take an inviolable oath always to operate his car within the bounds of reasonable safety and precaution.

"The automobile is no longer a luxury nor a mere convenience, but an absolute necessity. Automobile owners themselves can remove much of the tremendous peril in their operation by contributing individually and without coercion to that modicum of safe driving and carefulness upon which safety is predicated."
