SEPTIC TANKS ARE BARRED

CITY PUTS FOOT DOWN ON PRIVILEGE

Whole Question of Sewerage Extension to Be Taken Up at Once by Engineer

That the health of the community is endangered to a serious degree, owing to the existence of septic tanks in various parts of the city, was disclosed at a special meeting of the council last evening, when it was decided to refuse any further permission for the installation of these conveniences. Mayor Morley expressed the opinion that a curtailment of the permission would be necessary to minimize the danger of contagious disease breaking out through the open over-flow system.

He said that permission had been granted for these tanks in the Foul Bay district under the belief that there would be little building in that district. Now, however, numerous houses were springing up and the question of extending the general sewerage system there would have to be considered in the near future. The city engineer will be asked to make a report on the whole sewerage problem at the earliest date.

INCREASED FREIGHT RATES.

Washington, D. C., April 30.—A considerable increase in freight rates is expected at the present rates from western territory to the Atlantic seaboard will be filed with the interstate commerce commission, to become effective on June 1st. This is the first step taken by the railroads, which appears to indicate a purpose generally to increase freight rates throughout the country. The tariffs already filed with the commission are for all the roads in the western freight association territory, and the increase will become effective simultaneously on all of them.

SLAIN FROM AMBUSH.

Washington Rancher is Instantly Killed and Hired Man Wounded.

Spokane, Wash., April 30.—J. S. Boone, a rancher, living in the extreme southeastern part of the county, was shot down and instantly killed by unknown persons at 9 o'clock last night, the shots being fired from ambush. At the same time Arthur Rollen, a hired man, was wounded.

TAX RATE UNCHANGED.

St. John, April 30.—The assessment for the city was filed yesterday for 1910 and shows a total valuation of $23,922,000, an increase of $723,000. The tax rate is the same as last year and will remain the same for five years.

SUPPOSED PLOT TO ASSASSINATE TAFT

Man Who Killed Pastor Recently Believed to Have Confederates in Pittsburg

Pittsburg, Pa., April 30.—That Mike Shimko, the fanatic who recently killed Rev. Dr. Frank Skala, planned to assassinate President Taft on his arrival in Pittsburg, May 1st, is the belief of the police, based on writings found in private papers of Shimko. In Shimko's notebook were several allusions to Taft, also J. J. Hill and Edward Frederick Tenor, such as "President Taft because—" and "Tragedy of President Taft."

BLAZE AT WINNIPEG.

Winnipeg, April 30.—Fire, which broke out last night in the big six-story warehouse of Foley Bros. & Larson, wholesale grocers and manufacturers of biscuits and confectionery on Market street east, completely gutted the west half of the buildings and caused a loss of $125,000. The building is separated by a fire wall in the center and the brigade was able to confine the fire to the portion where the blaze started. The loss is fully covered by insurance.

THREATEN SUIT AGAINST CITY

MAKERS OF PUMPS WANT OFFICIAL TEST

Letter to Council Last Evening From Legal Firm Representing D'Olier Engineering Co.

At last evening's meeting of the city council a letter was read from Messrs. Rodwell & Lawson, solicitors for the D'Olier Manufacturing Company, of Philadelphia, which supplied the pumps for the salt water system, setting forth that it was impossible for the city electrician to condemn them, inasmuch as he had not made an official test of the same. The letter sets out that the test has not been applied for the reason that the city—although its contract so requires—has refused to deliver the quantity of dry steam required to make the tests.

It is further pointed out that if, after such test, it should be discovered that any of the alleged defects exist the contractors must be allowed an opportunity of making good any deficiency that may be shown on such a test. The letter concludes with a warning that any interference with the machinery by the city will be resisted by the company in a legal action. The communication was referred to the city assessor for report.

It was decided to proceed with but temporary repairs to upper Fort street to the Oak Bay road junction, pending the decision of the owners along lower Fort street regarding the widening of that thoroughfare.

A letter from the secretary of the board of trade again drew attention to the disgraceful condition of Bastion street, where a number of the wood blocks are so worn away as to cause mud holes in the pavement. The pavement had been laid for a period of seven years, and while repairs were urgently needed the owners claimed they could not be expected to bear the cost. It was decided to do the work as one of local improvement, in the same manner as was followed with Government street in the matter of repairs.

JOSEPH MARTIN ON POLITICAL SITUATION

Says Liberals Are Not Bringing Name of Sovereign Into the Party Arena

London, April 30.—Joseph Martin, M. P., has a lengthy letter in the Times. He submits that in view of the political situation the exercise of the royal prerogative cannot be kept out of party discussion, but such discussion does not bring the name of the sovereign into the domain of party politics because the sovereign acts on the advice of his ministers. The dismissal of a government with a majority of 124 only a few months after a general election would be almost an unusual and striking exercise of the royal prerogative as the creation of a large number of peers for a special object.

MINISTER AWAY ON HUNTING EXPEDITION

Dr. Young and Frank Kermode Stalking Grizzlies in Bella Coala Valley

It is expected that at least one or two fine grizzlies will be added to the present collection at the provincial museum as the result of the hunting trip of Dr. Young, provincial secretary and minister of education, who is out with Curator Kermode, of the museum. They went north to the district back from Bella Coala with rifles and cameras to make a typical Rooseveltian raid on the game of that country. The main difference, however, between this expedition and that of the former president of the United States is that while the American hunt was heralded with a blast of trumpets the local heroes crept away quietly and are depending upon their own unaided prowess to bring home some of the monsters of the British Columbia forests. That they will succeed is looked upon as a practical certainty.

PROROGATION ON WEDNESDAY

RAILWAY SUBSIDIES PASSED BY COMMONS

Naval Bill and Miller Anti-Gambling Bill Go Through the Senate

(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, April 30.—With a bare quorum present the Commons this morning automatically put through the railway subsidies for the year as provided for in the resolution brought down by Hon. Mr. Graham last week. There was practically no discussion. The subsidies total about $20,000,000, but of course only a portion of this will be earned this year. There were no new subsidies, the list containing simply renewals of subsidies provided for since 1906 and hitherto unearned.

CLUBS AND WATER SUBDUED RIOTERS

Honolulu, April 30.—Because of the arrest of four of their countrymen on the charge of inciting disorders, five hundred Russians surrounded the police station and demanded the release of the prisoners. This denied, they endeavored to break down the heavily barred doors using women and children as shields in front of them.

GOOD NEWS FOR THEATRE GOERS

JOHN CORT SECURES SHUBERT ATTRACTIONS

Agreement Just Entered Into is Regarded as Victory Over Theatrical "Trust"

(Times Leased Wire.)
New York, April 30.—The Shuberts formally announced today that they had completed an agreement with John Cort, who controls the theatres of the northwest and Pacific coast, whereby Shubert and Liebler & Co.'s attractions will hereafter appear in his houses instead of Klaw & Erlanger bookings. This announcement follows the news that Klaw & Erlanger revoked all their bookings for Cort's houses, numbering more than 150. Broadway does not yet fully understand the portend of these changes or what is behind them.

FENIAN VETERAN DEAD.

Brockville, Ont., April 30.—Peter Dwyer, a Fenian invasion veteran, died suddenly at his home here following an attack of heart failure. He was born in Newfoundland in 1830, and coming to Brockville four years later has resided here almost constantly since. For many years he was an engineer on the G.T.P. and C. P. R., retiring from active service in 1885. He leaves a widow and three children.

BATTLE RAGING IN ALBANIA

HUNDREDS KILLED IN HAND-TO-HAND CONFLICTS

Turkish Commander Refuses to Lead Loyalist Troops Against Revolutionists

(Times Leased Wire.)
Belgrade, Serbia, April 30.—The Turks are strengthening the garrisons in and around Constantinople in anticipation of a local uprising as a result of the revolt of the Albanians, according to today's dispatches.

The revolutionists are receiving reinforcements and funds from the people from Sandjak to Novitazar, and nearly the entire population is in sympathy with the insurgents.

Niazli Bey, among the most prominent Turkish military leaders, has refused to take command of a division of the loyalist army which is to be sent against the Albanians. Bey told the government war office officials that the position taken by the Young Turks is unjustifiable, and on this account he cannot fight against the rebels.

Niazli's prominence makes his attitude a serious obstacle for the government to overcome in its determination to suppress the revolution.

The outcome of the battle of Katchanik Pass has not been learned. There has been fighting in the pass for three days and nights, according to the reports, and hundreds on both sides have been slaughtered in hand-to-hand conflict.

The rebels have captured the towns of Hagliva, Djakovica and Ipek, and it is believed are still holding Priserand, one of the most important towns in the province.

Government officials at Constantinople are greatly alarmed on account of the action of the Austrian government in sending a cruiser and torpedo boat to the Albanian coast. The war vessels were dispatched ostensibly to protect Austrian interests in the revolting district, but the government fears that Austria intends to get Albania as she did Bosnia and Herzegovina.

For several months some of Austria's representatives have been accused of undue activity in stirring up trouble in Albania, and for several years, diplomats have whispered that Austria was desirous of getting possession of a slice of Turkish territory which would give Austria a more extended seaboard.

Losses Are Heavy.
Constantinople, April 30.—A desperate battle is being fought today between the Turkish forces and Albanians midway between Salonika and Ushak. The Turkish forces are engaged in a desperate struggle to deliver a crushing blow to the revolutionists.

The last dispatches received from the scene of the fight say that the Albanians are resisting valiantly. Hundreds already have been killed and wounded, and according to the reports, the losses have been the heaviest of any battle fought thus far in the campaign.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATOR ADMITS TAKING BRIBE

Says He Was Paid Two Thousand Dollars to Vote for Candidate for U. S. Senate

Chicago, April 30.—Charles A. White, Democratic representative in the Illinois legislature, has confessed that he accepted $2,000 for voting for Wm. Lorimer for the United States senate, and declares that he took the bribe in order that he might expose the rascality of the Illinois lawbreaking body.

White says he was given $1,000 in greenbacks by Leg. Browne, the Democratic leader, whom he met at the Briggs house in Chicago. At that time, White, Browne remarked that he could give White about that much more at a later date and subsequently when the session closed, White received $900, his share of the "jackpot."

PRIZE FIGHT PROVES FATAL

FRACTURED SKULL CAUSES DEATH OF MCCARTHY

Owen Moran and Other Principals in Contest Arrested at San Francisco

(Times Leased Wire.)
San Francisco, Cal., April 30.—After lingering in unconsciousness from the time he was struck down by Owen Moran, the fighter, Tommy McCarthy, died at 3:22 o'clock this morning of a fractured skull. McCarthy died at St. Mary's hospital.

He was felled by a blow on the jaw delivered by Moran in the sixteenth round of their fight last night at Dreamland rink.

Moran and others interested in the fight are under arrest.

When McCarthy struck the floor, he lay still for a second with his eyes wide open. Then a convulsion seized him; he straightened out and his eyes closed.

Doctors jumped into the ring, preceded by the boy's father. For half an hour they attempted to restore consciousness. Failing, an ambulance was called and the young man was taken to the hospital where it was ascertained that he had sustained a basal fracture of the skull.

McCarthy's body was taken to the morgue this forenoon, and Dr. C. A. Clover, the autopsy surgeon, immediately prepared to perform an autopsy. The inquest will be held Thursday.

Soon after McCarthy was removed to the hospital Owen Moran, and his second, Jeff Perry and Jimmie Carroll, and McCarthy's second, his brothers, William and Johnny McCarthy, and Bert Treanor, were arrested. They were charged with manslaughter when the police were informed of McCarthy's death.

A search for Spider Kelly, McCarthy's chief second, was made, but he had not been found up to 10:30 a. m. The police said that Kelly would be arrested as soon as he is found.

In the jail today Moran expressed the greatest sorrow over the death of his opponent.

"This is awful," he said, "I would not have had it occur for all the money in the world. I had been playing for the punch on the jaw for several rounds, and when the time came I put it through."

All those arrested were brought before Judge Conlan today. Johnny and Willie McCarthy, brothers of Tommy, were released on their own recognizance. The court directed that their father bring them to court Wednesday when the preliminary hearing will be held.

Later Tiv Kreling, Harry Foley and Jim Griffin telephoned the police that they would surrender at once.

Moran, Berry, Carroll and Bernard Palter were released on bail. Bail was fixed at $500 bonds or $100 cash.

Owen Moran broke down and wept openly in court. All through the night Moran prayed that the life of his game little opponent might be spared.

Oppose Championship Fight.
San Francisco, Cal., April 30.—Opposition to the Jeffries-Johnson fight to be held July 4th is crystallizing here today following the death of Fighter Tommy McCarthy.

EXPERT TESTIFIES AT DR. HYDE'S TRIAL
Believes Paralyzing Poison or a Combination of Poisons Caused Col. Swope's Death
(Kansas City, Mo., April 30.—) Professor Hekoten, the Chicago toxicologist who analyzed the viscera of Colonel Thomas H. Swope and Christian Swope, declared today on the witness stand, in the trial of Dr. B. Clark Hyde, that he found no evidence that disease of any kind ended Christian Swope's life. Answering the hypothetical question describing Christian Swope's death, Prof. Hekoten said: "If the patient has typhoid and manifested such symptoms as those described in the question, death may have been from a poison or from a combination of poisons. Upon the manifestation of such symptoms administration of strychnine is advisable."

DEVELOPING COAL AREAS OF MAINLAND

Victoria Company is About to Start Operations on Well Situated Property
With the railway development which is going on in this province there has come a boom in coal mining. The Canadian Northern interests have acquired the Dunsmuir properties, and the C. P. R., as is well known, are after the Western Fuel and Pacific Coast Coal Mines properties. The Northern Pacific and Great Northern have also been looking for Island mines. On the Mainland there is also much activity, and in no case more than in the development of the twenty-seven square miles of proven coal measures which constitute the holdings of the Canadian Northern Coal & Coke Co., Ltd., at and near the junction of the North Thompson and the Clearwater, 85 miles to the north of the city of Kamloops. The main line of the Canadian Northern is to traverse this property, in addition to which there are no other known coal deposits on the line from Yellowhead Pass through to Vancouver, so that the company will have as its business field the Mainland territory of the Canadian Northern in British Columbia—a most important field. The line of the G. T. P. from Tete Jaune Cache to the coast also passes through the properties held by the company, thus giving transportation by a second transcontinental railway. This is a Victorian company, composed of business men who are deeply interested in the opening up of industries. They include: M. B. Carlin, who fills the presidency of the coal company; D. W. Hanbury, vice-president; H. G. Ashby (of Frost & Ashby), secretary-treasurer; and S. McCleure, Henry Craft and A. G. McDonald, of Kamloops, who form the directors. As the company has been formed for business purposes solely, it is capitalized at the smallest amount deemed sufficient for adequate financing. The capital is $125,000, but only $50,000 is being raised, and the subscription lists are now open for this.

Prof. Hekoten testified that the brain of Colonel Swope was removed without injuring it. He stated positively that Colonel Swope did not die of apoplexy. Considering his advanced age, he said, Col. Swope's body was in very good condition. The examination made, he said, did not reveal evidences of death resulting from disease. Answering a hypothetical question, describing Colonel Swope's death as the earlier question had described Christian Swope's, Prof. Hekoten expressed the opinion that death was caused from a paralyzing poison, or a combination of poisons. Cyanide of potassium and strychnine, he said, were such poisons.

MORE EMPRESSES HER WITHIN TWO YEARS

Transference of Two From Atlantic to This Coast May Be Accomplished Fact Soon
Sir Thomas Shaughnessy has, according to a dispatch from Montreal, stated privately that his company would have two new Empresses running on the Atlantic within next two years. Two information was given to Jacob A. Johnston, president of the Halifax Board of Trade. Mr. Johnston was interviewing Sir Thomas on behalf of his board in regard to the possibility of having the C. P. R. extend their rails to Halifax. When Sir Thomas Shaughnessy was here not very long ago he stated that as soon as the company built new steamers for the Atlantic the ones now there would be transferred to this coast. The delay of the company in adding to its fleet has occasioned some uneasiness, but doubtless several poor years in the shipping business has not induced confidence on the part of the directors in the stability of that branch of the business. Now, however, it is a practical certainty that something will be done soon, and it may not be very long before the larger liners are on this coast. Several proposals have been made in regard to the development of the present white-liners when the new steamers come: the people of the Hawaiian Islands are very anxious to have more frequent communication with this port, and it is said that a line of steamers plying back and forth would pay well. Even in the Mexican waters which has developed considerably of late. Steamers from here could call at San Francisco each way, and there would be a great many passengers picked up from that port bound to Canada and to the Puget Sound cities. That the C. P. R. will let other companies take all the business on this coast is hardly to be expected, and there will be plenty of places to operate the steamers as soon as they are available.

ROOSEVELT AT THE HAGUE

(By a Staff Correspondent of the United Press.)
The Hague, April 30.—Former President Roosevelt and his party are the city's guests to-day. This is the first anniversary of the birth of the Princess Juliana, and in honor of the occasion Roosevelt is wearing a boutonniere of daisies. Enormous crowds have followed Roosevelt since he witnessed the school children's dance in the public square in behalf of the Princess. Roosevelt was afterward presented to the Queen's mother, Princess Emma. A reception will be given him at the American embassy to-night. To-morrow the Roosevelt party will leave for Rotterdam.

MURDERS HIS WIFE

Smiths Falls, Ont., April 30.—Mrs. Rufus Weedmark was choked to death this morning by her husband as the result of a quarrel. It is alleged the couple had lived unhappily for months and quarrels were frequent. Weedmark boasted of his crime, saying he had made a good job of his wife this time. He is 52 years of age.

TO HAVE AUDIT AT CITY HALL

VANCOUVER ACCOUNTANT IS SECURED BY CITY

J. F. Helliwell to Enter Upon His Duties of Investigation Early Next Week

J. F. Helliwell, the well known Vancouver accountant, has been selected by the city council to investigate civic methods of bookkeeping and, where possible, to make recommendations for improvement in the system. Mr. Helliwell was present at a special meeting of the council held last evening and was introduced by Mayor Morley, who insisted that such an investigation was imperative in the public interests. His worship went on to explain that the vote of $5,000, which had been included in the estimates for the purpose of engaging Griffith R. Hughes to act in this capacity still stood, and nothing remained but for the board to give sanction to the selection of another man to fill the position.

Mr. Helliwell, in explanation of what he purposed doing, said the audit to be a thorough one would occupy some six months, and during that time he or one of his assistants would be engaged in an investigation of present methods at the city hall. He hoped to be able to inaugurate such systems as would result in a great saving of money for the city.

In the civic estimates for the current year the sum of $5,000 was set aside for this audit, and while no fixed sum has been agreed upon in remuneration of Mr. Helliwell's services, it was decided last evening that it must not exceed that amount. The work of investigation will be commenced next week.

During the conference with Mr. Helliwell, the reporters were asked to withdraw, and therefore the public has no means of ascertaining what are the opinions of the individual members of the board regarding this proposal. It is known, however, that several members are opposed to securing the services of an outside accountant, it being contended that local talent is available for the purpose.

NATIVE SONS' DANCE BRILLIANT AFFAIR

Large and Fashionable Assemblage Attended Nineteenth Annual Ball

Every expectation was fulfilled in regard to the Native Sons' dance, held last evening in the Empress hotel. This was the nineteenth annual social event of the kind held under the auspices of Post No. 1, and it is no reflection on former dances given by the Native Sons to say that this was the most brilliant and most successful in every way.

There was a very large attendance, the floor and the music were perfect and all the arrangements were so well made that the result was the thorough enjoyment of the evening by everyone present.

Dancing took place in the rotunda, which had been transformed into a haven of loveliness. The floor had been specially and very carefully prepared and could not have been equalled anywhere as a dancing surface. The music was the finest in every way that has ever been heard at a Victoria dance. A combined orchestra of sixteen pieces, under the direction of Professor Turner, who has recently come from San Francisco, rendered a choice programme, many of the selections having been brought from New York for this occasion. The supper dances were played under the direction of Prof. Nagel, of the Grand Theatre orchestra. A commendable feature of the evening was the arrangement of the supper dances, which obviated any confusion.

The palm room was used for sitting-out purposes and was arranged with exquisite taste. Card tables were provided for those who wished to play. In the dining room a dainty buffet supper was served. Through the courtesy of A. T. Goward, local manager of the B. C. Electric Railway Company, cars left the causeway for all lines at 1 o'clock and again at the close of the dance, which was kept up till 3 o'clock.

To the committee general and well-deserved praise was given. The gentlemen forming these were: Reception committee: A. Lawson, chief factor; Dr. J. D. Helmecken, past chief factor; W. C. Moresby, past chief factor; Joseph E. Wilson, past chief factor; G. T. Fox, past chief factor; W. H. Langley, past chief factor; Jas. Fletcher, past chief factor; E. E. Wootton, past chief factor; J. Stuart Yates, past chief factor.

Floor committee: W. A. Lawson, F. M. J. White, Henry G. Dalby, H. C. Briggs, Chas. E. Wilson, Sydney Child, J. A. McTavish, Arthur E. Hayes.

Chairman, W. A. Lawson, past chief factor; secretary, F. M. J. White; treasurer, Henry G. Dalby.

Mrs. Downs, an Eccles, Eng. woman, hurrying downstairs to see a new bonnet which her husband had purchased for her, fell from the top to the bottom of the stairs, and died from her injuries.

CATARRH OF HEAD

Which Peruna Relieves in a Short Time

MISS SUSIE M. KINGSWORTH.

MISS SUSIE M. KINGSWORTH, 406 Quebec St., London, Ontario, writes: "I began using Peruna last January, when I had such a bad cold, and I could not get anything to help me. My nose and head were all stopped up, so that I could hardly get my breath. I thought at times that I would smother, especially at night. I have no trouble with that now. The noise in my head has all disappeared. I know Peruna will do just what you say it does. I cannot praise Peruna too highly, as it has done so much for me. I hope my letter will reach other sufferers."

Mrs. S. J. Kountz, 1015 Scovel street, Nashville, Tenn., writes: "I have had a very bad cough nearly all my life, and I am forty-five years old. I have taken almost every kind of cough medicine that has ever been made, but none did me much good. I would have spells of coughing that I thought I would cough myself to death. I took Peruna, and last winter and this winter I have had no cough and I know that Peruna cured me."

Hurst, E. M. Fletcher, G. Muir and A. Harrow. Suspended—The following men are suspended in accordance with the terms of R. O. No. 11, 1909, para. 1: Gunners A. R. Price and H. Kroger. Enlistments—The following men, having been duly attested, are taken on the strength, and will assume the regimental number opposite their names: No. 17, Gnr. W. G. Bradshaw; No. 150, Gnr. A. F. Stevens; No. 2, Gnr. I. A. Goddard.

Posted—The following man, having been passed by the adjutant, is posted to No. 2 company: Gnr. J. F. Thomas. Re-engaged—The following man, having been reattested, is taken on for a further term of three years: Gnr. L. McNaughton.

Parade—No. 3 company will parade on Monday, May 2nd, at the drill hall at 8 p.m., for inspection by the officer commanding. Dress: Drill order.

USING PURGATIVES INJURES HEALTH

What You Need in Spring is a Blood Building Tonic

A spring medicine is an actual necessity to most people. Nature demands it as an aid in carrying off the impurities that have accumulated in the blood during the indoor life of winter. But unfortunately thousands of people who do recognize the necessity of a spring medicine do not know what is best to take and dose themselves with harsh, gripping purgatives.

This is a serious mistake. Ask any doctor and he will tell you that the use of purgative medicine weakens the system, but does not cure disease. The spring medicine which builds up—purgatives cannot do this—they weaken you still more. The blood should be made rich, red and pure, and only a tonic medicine can do this. The best blood building, nerve restoring tonic medical science has yet discovered is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Every dose of this medicine actually creates new, rich blood. This new blood strengthens every organ, every nerve and every part of the body. This is why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure headaches and backaches, rheumatism and neuralgia, banish pimples and eruptions, and give a glow of health to the most sallow skin. Men, women and growing boys and girls who take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills eat well, sleep well, and feel bright, active and strong. If you need a medicine this spring—and most likely you do—try this great reviving tonic, and see the new life, new health and new strength it will put into you.

Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHAWNIGAN LAKE BALL ON THURSDAY NEXT

Double Train Service Arranged for Dancers—Tickets Are Selling Fast

On Thursday evening next the doors of the newly built Shawnigan Lake Athletic Association will be thrown open to the public, when that organization will hold its grand opening ball under the distinguished patronage of the Chief Justice and Mrs. Hunter. That the pick of Victoria social followers will make the trip for the gala opening is already evident, and one of the most select assemblages of the season is expected when the big event comes off. A double train service has been arranged to make the up-trip, and a special train will leave Shawnigan for Victoria at the conclusion of the ball, so that those making the trip will be able to return to the city.

Tickets have been selling fast, and there is but a limited number issued. When this supply has been exhausted, there will be no more put out, as the committee in charge do not wish to have the hall over-crowded.

Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. Koehn or Secretary Blake at Shawnigan Lake, or in this city from either member of local committee, Sidney J. Heald, John P. Sweeney or Alex. Peden. A buffet supper will be provided by Mrs. Koehn, and the music is to be in the hands of Bantley's orchestra.

O. H. Nelson Presented With Token of Appreciation by Former Associates in Times Office.

O. H. Nelson, formerly city editor of the Times, is leaving to-day with Mrs. Nelson and family for Prince Rupert, where he will reside in future. The Prince Rupert Journal, which will be Mr. Nelson's paper, is expected to make its initial appearance in about a fortnight.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. Nelson was the recipient of a token of appreciation from the members of the editorial staff and the management in the form of a suit case. The presentation was made by the editor-in-chief, who prefaced it by a short congratulatory speech, Mr. Nelson suitably replying.

Mr. Nelson's offices and home have already been erected by the Westholme Lumber Company, of this city, and his press and machinery are on the ground.

"OUR BOYS" TO-NIGHT

High School Alumni Present Well Known Comedy in A. O. U. W. HALL.

A full house is expected this evening, when the High School Alumni stage H. J. Byron's well known and popular play, "Our Boys," in the A. O. U. W. hall, Yates street.

The members of the cast are all graduates of the High school and have had a good deal of experience, some of them professionally. The production will, therefore, be well worth seeing. The stage setting will be good and some handsome gowns will be worn by the ladies of the cast. Between acts the Alumni Orchestra will render musical selections.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be devoted to the fund for furnishing the "alumni room" and providing a library for the new High school.

—Many people are looking forward to an enjoyable afternoon at Gorge park, to-morrow, when the grand opening of the Japanese Tea Gardens takes place. A band concert will add to the many attractions.

SALE OF WORK

The members of the St. Mary's Sodality are busily preparing for their annual "sale of work," to be held in Institute hall on Saturday afternoon and evening, May 7th, in aid of St. Andrew's Cathedral funds. They extend a cordial invitation to all their friends to attend.

Some of the young ladies have kindly offered to provide vocal and instrumental music during the afternoon and evening. Refreshments will be served. There will be a store of confections at the candy booth for the little ones. The fancy work booth will be well stocked with dainty, hand-made needlework at reasonable prices.

The following committees have been appointed and are working energetically to make the affair a success both socially and financially:

Fancy work booth—Misses M. Regan, V. Hagan, L. Gray, A. Mellon, F. Healy.

THIRD PAYMENT DUE FOR Y. M. C. A. BUILDING

Statements Have Been Sent to the Subscribers—Three Hundred Have Paid in Full

Officials of the Young Men's Christian Association are now calling for the third payment from subscribers to the new building fund. This falls due on May 1st. Carefully prepared statements have been made out and forwarded to every one who pledged a certain amount. These statements give credit for the number of payments made by each subscriber and the amount yet to be paid.

The officials have a gratifying report to make which they think worthy of record. Three hundred subscribers have made the work of these arduous men easier by paying up their subscriptions in full. Now that the contracts for the building have been let, and work on the new structure is to be pushed to completion, money will be absolutely necessary to save the association the expense of financing the payment. The site on which the building is to be erected has been paid for.

The second payment has nearly all been collected and the officers of the association are hoping that the third will come in as easily as the second did. The secretary will be greatly obliged if any subscriber, who did not receive a statement, will inform him at once, and one will be immediately forwarded.

The excavation work at the site has been begun, and the contractor is making part to be dug out being the space for the swimming tank. The contractor for the erection of the building is setting the material to be used on the ground so that he will be able to make an early start and rush the work rapidly. The contract calls for the basement and gymnasium being finished by November, so that the classes may be resumed at the regular time.

Preparations are now being made for going into camp. The seniors will establish their camping quarters at the Gorge, and the juniors will camp at Sidney. It is expected that they will pitch their tents about the beginning of June.

MAY DAY DANCE

The Socialists of Victoria and their friends turned out in numbers last night to the May Day dance and supper given by the Victoria local in the Broad street hall.

J. H. Hawthorthwaite, M. P. P., the leader of the party in the province, made an address and received a cordial welcome. Afterwards dancing was engaged in to the strains of Prof. Nagel's orchestra, and a dainty supper was served. Altogether a most enjoyable evening was spent.

ODD FELLOWS PARADE

The 51st anniversary of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be observed in Victoria to-morrow. Victoria, Columbia and Dominion lodges will unite in a church parade in the afternoon. The brethren will gather at the I. O. O. F. hall, Douglas street, at 2:45 p. m., and proceed to Christ Church cathedral, led by the Fifth Regiment band.

Service will commence at 3:30, Bishop Ferrin officiating and preaching the sermon. The anthem will be "Behold How Good and Joyful" the bass being taken by Percy Wollaston and the treble by George and Victor Pauline. As a voluntary the band will play Gounod's "Marche Romaine."

EASTERN SPORT NOTES

Bobby Kerr is in training. He will meet the New Yorker, Cloughen, on May 14th at Hamilton. In his effort to defeat the New Yorker and to take in the British championships at Stamford Bridge, Kerr has secured Dr. Caldwell of Dundee, to assist him in his work. The doctor is a veteran sprinter. Kerr will leave for England in the middle of May.

Eastern Canadian athletes who go to England this year beside Kerr, are the sprinters Tait and Cotter, and the oarsmen Scholes, Cosgrove and O'Neill. The Zingari Cricket Club will be touring the English provinces this year.

The Tecumseh Athletic Club will send their crack sprinter Charlie Watson, to the inter-scholastic games at Princeton, May 28th. The C. A. A. U. spring championships will be held at Woodstock May 24th.

Edward Gordon Hanlan, son of the old-time world's champion sculler, Ned Hanlan, will take to rowing this year. The boy is 18 years of age, 5 feet 10 inches tall, and weighs 150 pounds. He will be trained by James Rice of Toronto, the coach at Columbia. Rice committee. All entries will close on May 21st and are open to all registered amateurs of the B. C. A. A. U.

THE RING.
LANGFORD-KETCHEL FIGHT.
San Francisco, Cal., April 30.—A merry contest between Jas. J. Coffroth and Louis Blot, fight promoters, to secure a Langford-Ketchel fight for 20 rounds, either for May or June, is promised. Coffroth already has come to terms with Joe Woodman, Langford's manager, and he is now anxious to hear from Ketchel, who is in Philadelphia. Blot, of the Metropolitan Club, likewise, is considering a proposition to stage the fight. It is said that he has made tentative advances, but has not come out into the open field for the fight.

Blot has a representative in the east, however, who it is believed is working to secure the fight before Coffroth lands among the juniors, to put them through the various methods of saving a person from drowning, so that when the Royal Humane Society holds its examinations here the juniors will be able to pass them. A number of boys were present and they thought that it was a capital idea. The class will be formed shortly and members who may wish to try the examinations will be able to do so.

A resolution was passed thanking Ian St. Clair for his many efforts in promoting swimming in Victoria and showing their appreciation for the recovery of his eyesight.

The treasurer's report showed that there was $2.35 in the treasury left over from last year.

The officers for the ensuing year were: President, Roy Pomfret; vice-president, A. J. Bruce; secretary, F. Carner; treasurer, W. Long.

B. C. A. S. A. IS BADLY NEEDED IN VICTORIA

Members of Y. M. C. A. Swimming Club Think it Should Be Re-organized Immediately

That the British Columbia Amateur Swimming Association should be re-organized was the subject of a great deal of discussion at the annual swimming meeting of the Y.M.C.A. held in the association's quarters, Blanchard street, last evening. Last year the B. C. A. S. A. was affiliated with the B. C. A. U., but it has since been found out that there is not enough swimming men belonging to the latter organization to keep aquatic sports up to what they ought to be. After considerable talk it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of A. J. Bruce, secretary of the association, who will communicate with Vancouver and find out what they think about the question.

There was a large turn-out of members of the club at this meeting. It was decided to name it this year the Victoria Y. M. C. A. Swimming and Life Saving Club. The age limit for the club will be 18 years and the entrance fee will be nominal, 50 cents. Meetings of the club are to be held on the second and fourth Fridays of each month until the association goes into camp. At the next meeting the committee appointed to draw up the constitution and by-laws to govern the club, and which consisted of E. R. Pomfret, E. Crompton and G. Kiddie, will make its report.

A very important matter was taken up, that of forming a life saving class

ATHLETIC MEETING AT THE COAL CTY

Trophy List, With Cash Prizes or Merchandise, and Entry Blanks Issued

Victoria athletes are busy at the present time training for the athletic meets that will come off during the month of May at Nanaimo and this city respectively. At the Coal City on Empire Day a Victoria Day celebration will be held, in conjunction with which will be a field meet at which the best runners on the Island will compete. This day following the St. Andrew's societies will hold their annual games at Oak Bay park. Many of the local athletes are intending to compete in both meets.

Entry blanks for the Nanaimo meet may be had from the Victoria Sporting Goods Company, where they have been received from Secretary Hindmarsh, of the Nanaimo Celebration committee. All entries will close on May 21st and are open to all registered amateurs of the B. C. A. A. U.

NEWCASTLE IS WINNER OF THE ENGLISH CUP

Defeated Barnsley by Two Goals to Nil—Proud Position of the Losing Eleven

The English soccer championship has been won by Newcastle, which defeated Barnsley on Thursday at the Goodison park, by the score of 2 to 0. The match carries with it the English cup. There was no score in the first half. The winning team secured a goal at the commencement of the second half, and recorded the second goal just before the close of the game.

This is the first time this season that Barnsley has been scored against. The defeated team caused one of the greatest surprises in English football circles this year. Never before, in the history of the game, has a league team which has never been identified with the first division in their history, had the proud privilege of appearing in the last match for the English cup.

It is the unique distinction which Barnsley should cherish, because the club has never ranked higher than seventh in their class. They were admitted into the second division in 1898, when they finished eleventh, and the year they reached the seventh place was in 1905.

Every one of the Barnsley team is English, and these lads, few of whom are known far from Barnsley, have beaten Blackpool 4-0 after a 1-1 draw, Bristol Rovers 4-0, West Bromwich Albion 1-0, Queens Park Rangers 1-0, and Everton 3-0, after a goalless draw. The one defeat was in the final and the team's goal score for the season is 14 goals to 2.

SIR HIRAM MAXIM ON AERIAL FLIGHTS

London, April 30.—Faulhan's flight from London to Manchester has proved all the revenge the French aviator needs against the Wright brothers, according to Sir Hiram Maxim.

"The Wrights are now back numbers," declared Sir Hiram. "Faulhan's flight was epoch-making and I certainly hope England will appreciate him more than America did. Faulhan was virtually driven from America by the hostile spirit shown against him, particularly by the Wrights."

"Wilbur Wright's prophecy of trans-Atlantic airplane flights," Maxim declared, "is utterly absurd." Maxim declared, "No machine could be built, the inventor said, that could carry enough gasoline to make the trip."

Maxim recently invented an aeroplane for the war office, and is a student of aeronautics.

THE DEATH OF PRIZE FIGHTER

District Attorney of San Francisco Says Grand Jury Will Investigate

New York, April 30.—The following prize ring fatalities have occurred within the last eleven days:

April 19—Young George Cole, negro, Merchantville, N. J., died in Presbyterian hospital, Philadelphia, as the result of a prize fight with Stanley Rogers at Jack O'Brien's west end club. The fight was a slugfest, ending in a knockout.

April 23—Max Landy, Boston, died following a prize fight with Joe O'Brien, Cambridge, at Union Athletic Club the previous night. The fight had ended in a draw.

April 30—Tommy McCarthy, San Francisco, died in St. Mary's hospital, San Francisco, following a knockout in the sixteenth round of a fight with Owen Moran, of England, at Dreamland rink, San Francisco, the previous night.

San Francisco, Cal., April 30.—The grand jury will take up at once consideration of the circumstances surrounding the death of Tommy McCarthy, the fighter, said District Attorney Fickert today. "Whether a formal investigation into the death will be carried on by the jury will depend upon the report of the coroner's jury and the developments of the police court hearing of the men held as being responsible for his death."

"Attorney White, of Oakland, does not know what he is talking about when he accuses me and other officials of being responsible for the death of McCarthy."

"The referee should have stopped the fight or the police should have interfered when they saw that McCarthy was being beaten, if he was in the condition described in the newspapers. 'I think that the promoters and not the immediate participants should be held partly responsible for the fighter's death. Also there are many permits granted to clubs by the board of supervisors which never should be granted.'"

"It is hard to place the responsibility as the fight was held under a law passed by the legislature."

The death of Tommy McCarthy will in no way affect the plans of the promoters of the Jeffries-Johnson fight, according to Jack Gleason today. Gleason said that he looked upon McCarthy's death as an unfortunate incident in the world of sport, but that no more significance than deaths occurring in football, aviation or automobile racing.

"Had the death of McCarthy occurred even two weeks before the Jeffries-Johnson fight, it would not have affected one hair on the Jeffries-Johnson fight will be held under the law, according to law, and will not be prevented."

The general opinion here among sporting men is that McCarthy's death was unavoidable, and that no one could be legally held responsible.

Governor Gillett's Statement. Sacramento, Cal., April 30.—Governor Gillett this morning washed his hands of prize fighting in California. He does not believe it is the province of the governor to stop prize fighting, but he refused to make any positive statement as to what he might or might not do.

Although he is against prize fighting and prize fights, Governor Gillett this morning forcibly intimated that he sees no cause for the governor of the state to interfere in the present situation or to take any steps to stop the Jeffries-Johnson fight. In fact, Governor Gillett said plainly that if the state laws are being disregarded, complaint should be made to the district attorney instead of to the governor.

Governor Gillett said that the death of McCarthy is not a matter which interests him so far as it concerns prize fighting, and that he had as yet received no telegrams concerning the matter or asking him to stop the Jeffries-Johnson fight.

Campaign in Portland. Portland, Ore., April 30.—Prize fighting in Portland will be stopped if the efforts of the municipal league, which today set on foot a vigorous campaign against the sport, are successful.

Chairman Wilson, of the league, today swore to warrants for the arrest of Paddy Maher, a well-known sporting man, and several others, charging them with conducting a brutal prize fight, during which the contestants were badly beaten. The fight in question occurred January 30th.

Efforts heretofore to put a stop to boxing in the city have met with failure, owing to the refusal of the district attorney's office to interfere in what were declared to be "harmless boxing exhibitions."

Now, however, the Municipal League has taken a hand, and will bring the fight question before the courts for a decision as to the legality of boxing here.

Regular Customer.—There used to be two or three little bald spots on the crown of my head, away back. Are they there yet?

Barber.—No, sir; it ain't so bad as all that. Where those spots used to be, sir, there's only one now.—Chicago Tribune.

BRIBERY CHARGE IS BEING INVESTIGATED

Prosecuting Attorney of Chicago Will Inquire Into Statement by Legislator

Chicago, April 30.—Prosecutor Wayman today took official cognizance of a statement printed in the Chicago Tribune, purporting to be a statement by Charles A. White, a member of the lower house of the Illinois legislature, that he received $2,000 from Lee Browne, Democratic leader, for voting for William Lorimer, Republican, for the United States senate.

White also said he received $300 from Representative Robert E. Wilson, as his share of the fund, which was divided among certain members at the close of the last session.

Wayman sent for White to come to Chicago and if there is sufficient corroboration, the matter will be laid before the grand jury, which convenes Monday.

Governor Deneen and Attorney-General Stead have started an investigation of their own.

Senator Lorimer was seen at his country home this afternoon and asked about the charges in the alleged statement from White.

The charges, he said, were absolutely false. He refused, however, to discuss them at length, merely making a definite denial that they were true.

ANOTHER PUGILIST INJURED IN FIGHT

Knocked Out During Contest at Allentown, Pa., and is in a Critical Condition

(Times Leased Wire.)

Allentown, Pa., April 30.—Unconscious from concussion of the brain and a broken jaw, "Kid" Harrison, a local pugilist, is in a critical condition at a hospital here this afternoon.

Harrison was knocked out in a fight with a Waterbury, Conn., pugilist, known only as "Fighting Abe." The bout occurred at the Keystone Athletic Club Thursday night.

It was believed that Harrison was recovering until today, when he became unconscious. Physicians are now working over him and declare that he has a hard fight for life. No arrests have as yet been made.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

Tacoma, Wash., April 30.—The jury which will try Charles Wessler for the murder of his divorced wife's mother, Mrs. Fredericka Schulz, has been secured, and the taking of evidence was begun immediately. Wessler has already signed a confession, the police say.

Wessler's two children were brought to the county jail today to see their father. This privilege is accorded the prisoner by order of Judge Chapman, before whom Wessler is being tried.

STUDENTS EXPELLED

Stanford University, Cal., April 30.—As an aftermath to the episode last Friday night when E. M. Leaf was thrown into Lake Lagunitas by 150 students, Livingston E. Wilkerson, of Tacoma, and Ralph H. Reynolds, of Pasadena, were expelled from Stanford University by the faculty.

W. P. Fuller, Jr., of San Francisco, editor of the Daily Palo Alto, which contained an account of the night before Leaf's ducking, suggesting that he be punished, was deposed as editor.

MOVEMENTS OF LINERS

Liverpool, April 30.—Sailed, steamer Virginia for Quebec and Montreal, with over 1,600 passengers.

Montreal, April 30.—Allen liner Tunison, from St. John and Halifax, for Liverpool, was 131 miles west of Fastnet at 9 a. m. on April 29th.

Quebec, April 30.—Allen liner Corsican, Liverpool for Montreal, arrived at Quebec this morning. Arrived, Sicilian, from Glasgow.

PAULHAN RECEIVES PRIZE

London, April 30.—Louis Paulhan, the aviator, today received a cheque for $50,000 from the London Daily Mail as a prize for his successful airship flight from London to Manchester.

The Mail announced that another $50,000 prize would be posted for an aeroplane feat to be decided upon later.

FLY CASTING

Correct timing of the forward cast is one of the greatest factors in clean-cut fly casting. Do not start the forward cast too strenuously. The speed of the rod when passing through the arc of the forward cast should be greater toward the finish. At the end of the forward cast the rod should be just a little above parallel with the water.

In the matter of rod handling, then, the chief points for the fly-caster to observe are these: To hold the rod with the thumb extended along the upper surface of the hand-grasp; not to carry the rod too far back on the back cast; not to delay the back cast too long and to start it forcefully; to start the forward cast when the line first begins to pull on the rod, and to start it rather easily and finish strongly; and, finally, not to allow the rod to go too far down at the finish of the forward cast.

Learning to handle the line with the left hand is one of the most difficult things in fly-casting, but it is certainly more than worth the trouble; in fact, its advantages in various directions, both in casting and in manipulating the flies, are so numerous that they can merely be suggested in this article.—S. G. Camp, in the May Outlook.

INVESTMENT

In a Large, Undeveloped Coal Area Acquired at the First Cost With Exceptional Commercial Advantages Will Mean a Great Profit to Its Owners

In coal, British Columbia possesses one of its greatest assets. The commercial and industrial future is closely interwoven with this commodity. Coal has never been associated with the feverish romance of the more precious metals, owing to the fact that by development, the actual quantity of coal can be definitely determined and shares valued accordingly. Shares sold for a few cents in the original Crow's Nest Company. Development proved the value of the property and shares advanced to $500 a share.

Transportation Is One of the Essential Features

Coal to be profitable to the investor, must be in a position to reach the point of consumption at a minimum cost, or at any event to compete with other competitors.

The opening up of a new territory, through the recent railway legislation, brings into immediate value territory which heretofore was almost valueless, from a commercial standpoint.

Through business foresight, a local company has been organized to acquire at the first cost, a valuable coal area on the main line of the Canadian Northern Railway, the construction of which, as the reader knows, will commence within a specified time. This area consists of 27 square miles (17,280 acres), and is as far as known, the only available coal land on the main line between Yellow Head Pass and Vancouver.

The announcement has also been made that the location line of the G. T. P. from Tete Jaune Cache to the Coast has been filed with the Government. The railway passes right through the property, thus giving two lines of communication, not near the property, but through it.

The property is of a formation that will be excelled by no other for practical mining purposes, inasmuch as its geological construction is without what is termed faults.

The quality of the coal indicates its suitability for coking purposes, upon which the future mineral wealth of the province is largely dependent, as the oves require almost in their entirety to be smelted, and the rapidly increasing activity in mining development is creating a vast market for coke.

Before acquiring this property and expending money on exploration work, it was carefully examined and reported on by Charles A. Sandford, B.Sc., M.E., a qualified mining engineer of wide experience in coal mining.

Value of the Property

It is difficult to place an exact value on 17,280 acres of coal lands with the excellent transportation facilities available to this property.

One seam of coal six feet in thickness would give 103,680,000 tons of coal available.

Considerable development work was done on the property last summer, with satisfactory results.

The coal is a clean, hard bituminous of exceptional quality.

Low Capitalization Means Profit to the Shareholders

It is astonishing how seldom people inquire into the capitalization of a company, or realize what a high capitalization means when it comes to receiving dividends.

The capital of the Canadian Northern Coal & Coke Company is $125,000, of which it is estimated that only $90,000 will be required. This will acquire the property, consisting of 17,280 acres, pay all organization expenses, engineer's reports, government fees, and also provide the great expense of purchasing the machinery and development.

This means that you are buying an interest in an organized company backed by responsible men, who are capable of handling the property to the best advantage on a basis of $5 an acre. The possibilities of this investment should be appreciated by any man who can, from the study of present conditions, have any perception of the future.

Consider carefully the opportunity that is now offered you to obtain an interest in this enormous area of coal lands. Consider what is the meaning of twenty-seven square miles, and what its future value will be to those who own an interest at $90,000. Anyone who is acquainted with the future value of our natural resources recognizes in coal the most certain investment. The recent action of the world's greatest capitalists in this direction speaks for itself. Call at this office for further information.

OTIS SKINNER SCORES ANOTHER SUCCESS

His Acting is Superb in "Your Humble Servant"—Star Well Supported

Lovers of Dickens, who saw "Your Humble Servant" at the Victoria last evening must have been struck by the many points in common between Mr. Micawber and Lafayette Towers, the tragedian hero of the comedy which is serving as a vehicle for Otis Skinner's talents this season. There is the same cheery optimism and irresponsibility in financial matters, but Towers has the advantage of a resourcefulness which only experience in a touring repertoire company could teach.

Mr. Skinner has risen to his present pre-eminence in the profession by the same "secret" hard work which "Towers" describes when he declares that he would rather "paint a miniature exquisitely than a panorama indifferently." In his latest work the same faithful portraiture is in evidence. It was a delight to watch him build up the part and to see the infinite care, coupled with apparent lack of all effort, with which the construction went on. The play is not a particularly strong one in itself, and depends largely for its success upon Mr. Skinner's magnificent acting. Without the character of the barsterning tragedian of less happy days in the dramatic profession, as it is made live by Mr. Skinner, the play would be but a poor thing.

Miss Laetha Jewel is a young actress who undoubtedly has a great future. As she is a Portland girl Pacific coast players will watch her career with interest. In Margaret Druce she has a part which is not equal to her abilities but she makes of it all that can be made and won the hearts of her audience last night.

Of the support, mention should be made of the character work of Jessie Cromette, as a boarding-house landlady, and Edward Fielding's restrained but realistic tipsy scene.

The house would have been a fairly good one ordinarily but was nothing like what Mr. Skinner's reputation should have brought out. This, doubtless, was due to the Native Sons' dance and also the Shriners' meeting calling so many elsewhere.

During the next ten years or so France is to spend over $150,000,000 on her navy, according to her new naval programme. In a discussion on feeding stuffs at the meeting in London of the General and Associated Chambers of Agriculture, Mr. Weston told of a case in Buckinghamshire where pigs' food was found on analysis to consist of sawdust and plaster of Paris.

"LAND REGISTRY ACT"

To the Legal Representative of Paul Brezina, late of Port Simpson, deceased, the registered and assessed owner of L. 7, Block 2 of part of Section 9, Victoria District, Map No. 22. Take notice that an application has been made to Registrar Elisha Howe Anderson, of Victoria, as the owner in fee simple of the above land, under a Tax Sale Deed from the Assessor of the District of Victoria to him, dated the 31st day of March, 1907, and you are required to contest the claim of the said Elisha Howe Anderson within thirty days from the first publication hereof. Dated at the Land Registry Office, Victoria, British Columbia, this 28th day of March A. D. 1910. R. Y. WOOLTON, Registrar General.

McClary Gas Ranges advertisement. Has the easily cleaned white enamelled drip pans. Also the adjustable orifice. A flickering, yellow flame means you are burning too much gas and not enough air. If this occurs on a McClary Gas Range you can remedy it instantly. Simply adjust the orifice with wrench until enough air is being mixed with the gas to produce the steady, green flame which denotes proper combustion. By adding air you can often save as much as 25 per cent. gas and at same time increase the heat by one-quarter. Probably, you know from experience that it is really impossible to remove all the dirt and grease from ordinary drip pans. But you can wash and clean the smooth, white enamelled broiler and drip pans of McClary Gas Ranges just as thoroughly as you can an enamelled sauce pan. Are you not glad that you can now buy a strictly sanitary gas range? From our eight different styles of McClary Gas Ranges you can select a range that will exactly meet your requirements. Each style can be supplied with or without two burner extension, oven thermometer, water heater, reservoir, high shelf, high closet and canopy top. Can be changed from artificial to natural gas in a few minutes. Interesting booklet free.

MORE CAMPS MAY BE OPENED LUMBERING ACTIVE AT QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY

Compressor Drill to be Installed at Tasso Mine—New Oil Plant Started (Special Correspondence.) Queen Charlotte City, April 25.—The new stamp mill at Gold Harbor is now completed and will begin crushing gold ore about the first of next week. Morse Davis, consulting engineer of the Queen Charlotte Mines & Prospecting Co., is putting a lot of new men at work on the property at the Camshewa Inlet, where they will install a new concentrator in the near future. A compressor drill plan is on the way for the Tasso mines. The crew of 21 miners is still working day and night with best results, having been in solid ore for the last 250 feet. The new mine is down over 75 feet and is also in solid ore. The lumber industry is in full swing at Queen Charlotte City, where the Moresby Island Lumber Co. is making foreign shipments of clear spruce and hemlock and is scarcely able to supply the local demand. J. E. Corlett, general superintendent, is here making his regular tour of inspection and renewed energy will be devoted to the logging camps. If the present two camps will not supply the demand a third crew will be put in the woods. The new wharf is out over 500 feet and will be rushed to completion within the next ten days in order to accommodate the deep sea vessels now chartered for taking cargoes from this point to Australia. Messrs. John Sachs & Co. have just sold their general store to N. P. Moran of Port Essington. The new Terminal hotel will be ready for occupation within the next ten days. Two parties of engineers arrived on last boat to make locations for the diamond drills for immediate work. One of the heaviest storms of the season swept up the Hecate straits last week. The force of the sea broke the whistling buoy at the harbor entrance, causing loss from the moorings and drove it ashore at Law's Hill. A new oil plant has been started at Sand Spit Point, Moresby Island. This is a favorite ground for catching dogfish, and the present price and demand for the oil makes the business a profitable one in these waters. A horse belonging to the Moresby Island Lumber Co. was backed off the Queen Charlotte wharf by the driver last Thursday night, while attempting to turn a lumber truck around. The weight of the truck pulled the horse to the bottom. J. L. Barge, a mill mechanic, climbed down a ladder near by with a rope and trying to reach the horse, lost his hold, and not being able to swim, was unable to regain it. Fortunately a floating plank was within his reach when he arose and he was able to keep himself afloat until a boat was got to him. Land Surveyor Kelly is surveying timber limits on Moresby Island between Sand Spit and Copper Bay. He is working two crews.

pour-oh-a dressing made from two table-spoons of vinegar, three table-spoons of olive oil, a scant teaspoon of finely minced parsley, one-half level teaspoon of salt and a salt-spoon of pepper. Beat the dressing well before pouring it over the potato. Let stand half an hour before serving. German Potato Salad. Wash and boil six medium sized potatoes. When done, drain off the water and peel while still hot. Season with salt, pepper and celery salt, mixed with a little finely sliced onion. Beat one egg stiff, add to two table-spoons of melted butter, then drop in gradually one-half cup of vinegar sweetened with one teaspoonful of sugar. Pour this dressing over the potato, toss lightly, put into the salad bowl and garnish with parsley and sliced hard boiled eggs. Hamburg Steak With Tomato Sauce. Never buy your Hamburg steak already chopped, no matter how fresh and enticing it may look. Two often the most inferior grades of meat are used and then sprinkled with a preservative to give them a fresh appearance. Get a piece of lean meat from the ground not necessarily the tenderest portion, and have the butcher put it through the grinder while you are there. If you like onions with the steak chop one fine and add. Season with salt and pepper, shape into your frying pan hating hot and just lightly greased with a bit of suet, lay in the cakes. In ten seconds turn and in seconds more repeat. This gives a nice brown crust on each side of the cakes, and it will not be necessary to turn so often. Cook five minutes if desired rare; a little longer for well done. Serve with tomato sauce. Melt a table-spoonful of butter in a saucepan, add a table-spoonful of soup, a half-teaspoonful of salt and a dash of pepper. As soon as blended pour in little by little one cupful strained tomato with a few drops of onion juice, and cook three or four minutes and pour round the meat. Cress and Tomato Salad. Lettuce seems to form the nest for about eighty out of one hundred salads served at hotels, clubs and private tables. This is not because lettuce is so universally liked, but because to many persons it seems about the only thing suitable. Watercress is becoming a close second to lettuce and would be more generally appreciated if its merits were better known. The crisp green leaves offer as much contrast to the color of the ingredients of the salad itself as does lettuce. There is pungency in the little leaves which is particularly pleasing when used with tomatoes. Chill some potatoes, remove the pulp and mix with cress which has been cut in small pieces. Put the mixture in the tomato cups, cover the tops with mayonnaise and serve on a bed of cress.

General state of weather, fair with showers. IDENTIFICATION SETTLED. It was only a small point of law, but the two counsel were hammering at one another tooth and nail. They had been submitting this and that to his honor for twenty minutes, and growing more and more heated as they argued. At last: "You're an ass, sir," shrieked one. "And you're a liar, sir," roared the other. Then the judge woke up. "Now that counsel have identified each other," said he, "let us proceed to the disputed points."—Philadelphia Post. General Leonard Wood, at a dinner in Newport, praised a soufflé. "How cooking is a boon to mankind," the General said. "We should none of us feel above it—none of us, men or women. I am rather in sympathy with the bitterness of Scroggs." "Mrs. Scroggs," after a very unsatisfactory dinner, said, shrilly: "When you married one, young man, you didn't marry a cook." "Well," said Scroggs, and his tone was very bitter—"well, you needn't rub it in."—Washington Star.

AN ACROSTIC Sacred are your portals, euphonious is your name, And great and noble are the works which daily voice your fame, In the light of summer's sunshine, in the depth of winter's snow, Neglectful not of charity in alleviating woe, The poor and helpless mendicant who wanders to this town, Joyless, centless, friendless, oppressed and broken down— Oftentimes by waywardness, e'en vices dark and rare— Seeks not in vain your clemency, your shelter and your care, Enough for you to know he's got a precious soul to save— Perhaps it's steeped in wickedness, to sin it is a slave— His worldly kudos matters not, your efforts have no aim Save his speedy convalescence— it's the only fee you claim. Holding forth such kindness to God's creatures, one and all, Of every creed and country and standing, great or small: Society should bless your name and prize your grand career Pursued for half a century and brightened year by year, If anyone who reads this verse should fail to guess your name, To him I say, in confidence, his void is quite a shame; And if, perchance, he still can't see how proudly bright it shines, Let him spell the simple capitals along these hurried lines. GOOD FISHING NOW AT KOKSILAH RIVER Fly Fishermen Flocking Up the Island and Good Baskets Are Promised Remarkable catches of trout are reported from the up-land streams and lakes and already the anglers report that the wily ones are falling for the lure of the worm, fly and spoon. Fly fishing, the best of all, is most popular at this season of the year and many good baskets are being taken. W. C. Ferryhough, the well known angler at Koksilah, has been making great hauls with the fly, out of Koksilah stream. The well known fly fisherman at the popular island resort is a fond devotee to fly-fishing and these days is in his prime, making good catches daily. It is reported that never in the history of Koksilah river has fly fishing been so good as it has been in the last fortnight, and a great many waterfights are figuring on making the week end trip up the island.

MY FREE TRIAL TREATMENT MAY CURE YOU Dear Mrs. Currah—I feel so very much better after using the 15 days' treatment of ORANGE LILLY you were kind enough to send, that I will not require any more. In fact, I feel entirely well, and it is now a month since I stopped using the treatment. Similar letters to the above are not infrequent, though, of course, such cases are not of long standing. Most women who have suffered for any length of time will require to use ORANGE LILLY longer than the Trial Treatment in order to effect a complete cure, but in every case they will be perceptibly benefited. Further, the benefit will be permanent whether they continue to use ORANGE LILLY or not. It is not taken internally, and does not contain any alcohol or other stimulant. It is an applied treatment, and acts directly on the suffering organs. In all cases of women's disorders, these organs are congested, and to a greater or less extent, and as the action of ammonia or soap on soiled linen. It is a simple chemical problem, and the result is always the same, a step towards better health and complete cure. In order that every suffering woman may prove its good qualities, I will send enough of ORANGE LILLY for 15 days' treatment, absolutely free, to each lady who will send me her address. MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAN, WINDSOR, ONT., 19

ROBIN HOOD FLOUR IS DIFFERENT Every housewife who uses flour must be interested in ROBIN HOOD "the flour that is different." You hear it makes a bigger loaf, that the loaf is sweeter-flavored, more nutritious, more easily assimilated than bread made with other flours. We can tell you why ROBIN HOOD Flour makes that kind of a loaf, but what ought to interest you more than "why it does" is that "it does." You can prove that we say as true at no risk of loss to yourself. It is largely a matter of making up your mind to use "Robin Hood." The Saskatchewan Flour Mills Co., Ltd. Moose Jaw - Sask. P. CONSPIRACY ALLEGED BY COMMISSIONER

President of San Francisco Board Who is Under Indictment, Resigns Position

(Times Leased Wire.) San Francisco, Cal., April 29.—Harry P. Flannery, indicted yesterday afternoon for grand larceny by the Marin county grand jury, resigned as president of the San Francisco police commission early today.

As soon as his resignation was received by Mayor McCarthy it was accepted and Flannery so notified. In interviews Flannery has given since Abbott's alleged confession, he gave the impression that he intended to fight to the end and would not resign.

At midnight Flannery telephoned to McCarthy and said that he desired to resign. The mayor was unable to leave his home, but he sent his secretary, Elmore Leffingwell, to Flannery's home.

Half an hour later Leffingwell left the house with the written resignation, which he handed to Mayor McCarthy at 2 a. m.

In his resignation Flannery declares that he is innocent of the charges made against him and that his indictment was a result of an alleged conspiracy on the part of his political enemies in San Francisco.

FATALLY INJURED IN THEATRE. New York, April 29.—Fourteen-year-old Louis E. Loeger is dying at the Flower hospital from injuries sustained when he fell from the balcony of the Lincoln Square theatre into the orchestra pit, 30 feet below. The girl was walking down the aisle toward her seat in the first row of the balcony and stumbled. She fell against the brass balcony rail, which gave way and precipitated her into the body of the theatre.

NEAR END OF JOURNEY. Fishkill, on the Hudson, April 29.—Edward Payson Weston, the aged pedestrian, passed here early today on almost the final lap of his walk from Los Angeles to New York. He will arrive at Yonkers today and complete his walk into New York City on Monday at noon.

TAKE DRASTIC ACTION. New York, April 29.—Every alleged "bucket shop" in New York and New Jersey was put out of business today when agents of the department of justice cut the quotation wires. Frank Maser, of Morrison & Maser, charged with conspiracy by furnishing stolen quotations to the bucket shops.

MORE BAD CHEQUES PASSED YESTERDAY

Youth Buys Launch Without Money—Young Vagrant Sent to Jail for Month

In the police court this morning a young American named Loyal De McCredy was charged with issuing a false cheque to the amount of $425 yesterday to John Alexander Marshall, from whom he obtained a gasoline launch valued at $405 and $20 in cash. There is a second cheque in the hands of the police, claimed to have been issued by McCredy on T. M. Nagan & Co. for $25. The accused this morning elected a trial before the magistrate, and asked time to communicate with his people and obtain the money for which the cheques were drawn. He was not asked to plead and was remanded until Monday morning.

The accused is held to have drawn the cheque for $425 on the B. C. Permanent Loan Company and to have purchased the launch, after taking a trial of it round the harbor yesterday morning.

Frank Tolley, a youth with curls, who was formerly employed at the Empress and Dallas hotels as bell boy, was sent to jail for a month with hard labor, having been found guilty on a charge of vagrancy.

Sergt. Detective Perdue gave evidence that the boy hung around the streets making remarks about women as they passed. On one occasion a man had turned back and slapped the boy's face, having overheard the remarks. The detective referred to the boy as a "smart kid." Detective Heather said the youth had done no work for six weeks, had been sleeping on billiard room chairs and been joy-riding with women of bad character at all hours of the night. The boy said he had means of support but expected to go to work on Monday at the Empress hotel. Instead he will go to work at the jail.

Robert Black accompanied Talley to jail on a similar charge. He had been arrested by Detective Heather and thanked him for being allowed to go to jail overnight, as he had had nothing to eat for twenty-four hours.

OBITUARY RECORD

This morning the remains of the late Joseph W. Carey were laid in their last resting place in Ross Bay cemetery. The funeral took place at 10:30 o'clock from the residence, Douglas street. Rev. T. E. Henegau conducted a very impressive service over the remains, speaking of his sterling character and also of the lovable nature which made for him many friends. Among the old timers of this city Mr. Carey was well known and his demise is greatly regretted by them. He was also widely known by the younger folks of Victoria.

The attendance of friends at the funeral was large, many making it a point to be present and pay their last respects to a man who has done such a great deal for the city of Victoria. There was a large number of flowers, the casket and hearse being covered. The following gentlemen, who were intimate friends of the deceased, acted as pallbearers: A. W. Bridgman, ex-Mayor Chas. Hayward, ex-Mayor Noah Shakespeare, D. Doig, J. Bartlett and W. J. Dowler.

Interment of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Butcher was made in Ross Bay cemetery yesterday afternoon. The funeral took place from the family residence, 218 Wilson street, where Rev. A. E. Roberts conducted an impressive service. There was a large attendance of friends and many floral offerings were presented. The following acted as pallbearers: J. Gidley, F. Wallis, H. Jackson and J. C. Carey.

The funeral of the late Thomas William Speed, one of the old-timers of this city, took place yesterday afternoon from the B. C. Funeral Company's parlors. A very impressive and appropriate service was conducted at the chapel by Rev. T. E. Henegau, who also officiated at the graveside. The attendance of friends was large and the floral offerings numerous and beautiful. Members of the A. O. F., I. O. O. F., and A. O. U. W. attended in a body. The pallbearers were: A. Dowsnap, J. Maynard and L. C. McKay, of the A. O. F.; R. Lawson and W. McKay, of the I. O. O. F., and G. Smith, of the A. O. U. W.

The remains of the late Erasmus Tilley Leavell will be forwarded to San Francisco on Wednesday next for interment in the family plot at Oakland, Cal.

BIG BUSINESS WITH QUEEN CHARLOTTES

Cumshawa Mines Proving Very Rich—Windy City Mill Shipping Much Lumber

That there is considerable development work going on at the mines at Cumshawa Inlet, Moresby Island, is the word which was brought last night by the steamer Amur. The vessel took a consignment of 20,000 feet of lumber from Queen Charlotte to Cumshawa, and this is being used in connection with the development work which is going on. Very little is being said about this property, but it is understood that the ore is proving very rich, and that news of great strikes are to be expected from there in the near future. The Amur brought a number of cargoes while she was away. She took north a full mixed cargo to different northern British Columbia points. Then she loaded lumber at Queen Charlotte for Cumshawa. Another cargo of 50,000 feet of lumber was loaded at Queen Charlotte for Prince Rupert, and coming south 60,000 feet of fine spruce was loaded at Swanson Bay for Vancouver. These were in addition to the usual way freights carried by the steamer.

The steamer brought word from Rose Harbor that the erection of a new wharf is proceeding at a rapid pace. The new wharf is finished and the Amur was the first steamer to dock there. She loaded a quantity of lumber and other supplies from this port. Encouraging reports continue to arrive from Jedway in connection with the boring operations which are being conducted by the people who have bonded the property, and it is confidently expected that the deal will be through, and that the mine will be operated on a large scale. The Amur will load a full cargo and leave for the north Monday.

NAVAL OFFICER DROWNED

Submarine's Young Commander Swept From Conning Tower in the Darkness of Night

While submarine C37 was battling against tempestuous seas off the Lisard recently, Lieut. Alfred B. Prowse, her young commanding officer, was washed out of the conning-tower and drowned, without an attempt at rescue being possible. The C37 and C38 made a very fair passage down the Irish sea and St. George's Channel on the trip from Barrow in Furness to Portsmouth, but when they turned the Lisard and started to go up the English Channel they met the full force of a bitingly cold northeasterly gale. It was decided to keep going; but it was very uncomfortable aboard, and quantities of water continually reached the interiors of the little craft through the conning towers. The vessels were steaming on the surface, and their petrol engines were given them about ten knots speed. Sleep was impossible in such a gale, though the vessels behaved well and kept steady. Lieutenant Prowse remained in the conning tower for hours together, and it is believed the loss of his life was largely due to physical weakness caused by long hours of duty during a trying period, with only short snatches of sleep in the daytime.

At 2 a. m. with a strong gale still blowing and high seas running, he was in the conning tower with two blue-jackets, one of whom was at the wheel. Suddenly a huge sea swept over the glistering side of the vessel, encountering no resistance until it reached the steering platform upon which the three men stood. The protecting canopy was torn clean away, and Lieut. Prowse, who was badly situated, lost his hold and went overboard like a flash. The other men hung on to wheel and stanchions, and saved themselves.

Signal was made to C38 and to the attendant gunboat that there was a man overboard, and for half an hour the apt was carefully searched, but nothing was seen of the lieutenant. Lieut. Prowse was only about twenty-seven years of age, and had seen much service on submarines, being chosen for the work on account of his conspicuous attainments as an engineer and torpedoist.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE

Cables to Be Laid Connecting Glasgow and Paris. The British and French governments are each laying a long distance telephone cable of four wires to connect Glasgow and Paris. The British cable is ready to be laid. A great difficulty of such long distance telephoning has been overcome in these new cables. It lays in the fact that in thick wire cables such as those used for submarine laying, the electrical waves by which the sounds of the voice are conveyed are distorted, and thus speech is so modified or "disfigured" that it is practically impossible to understand it on the telephone. The distortion of speech is over-

SALE OF RARE BIBLES. There came up for sale at Sotheby's, London, the other day, the collection of rare Bibles which belonged to the late Dr. George Watson, of Tunbridge Wells. Dr. Watson brought together upwards of 2,000 editions of the Bible in various languages, chiefly English, and editions of the Book of Common Prayer and Metrical Psalms. There was an example of Coverdale's first edition of the Bible. It has 40 genuine leaves all in a sound condition. There was a good copy of Tyndale's Bible, revised by Beke in 1539. There were also several versions of the Geneva or Breche's Bible. The second edition of the Breche's Bible is remarkable for errors in the text. In Matthew v. there is the line, "Blessed are the place makers," and in Luke, "Christ condemneth the poor widows." A copy of the "Vinegar" Bible was sold for £2 5s. An immense Imperial Family Bible, 1848, which was knocked down for 5s., contained the signature, "Mary Bunyan, 1832"; this was the wife of the last male descendant of John Bunyan.

UNDESIRABLES AT ELLIS ISLAND

QUARTER MILLION EACH YEAR ENTER STATES

Congress Cannot Be Prevailed Upon to Stop This Indiscriminate Admission

(From New York Bureau United Press Association.)

New York, April 30.—More than 250,000 "undesirable immigrants" are cleared through the gates of Ellis Island yearly. Of this number only a small percentage become public charges within the three year period when they may be sent back at the expense of the steamship company that brings them here.

Some of those who are permitted to enter the country because they have money needed, and seemingly measure up to the requirement for admission, hardly know their own names, have forgotten the name of the town they come from and cannot name the day of the week.

Officials here declare there is no chance of securing Congressional action to "plug the leak." As soon as drastic measures are suggested, they claim, there arises a cry that an attempt is to be made to prevent "liberty seekers gaining a haven of refuge from European oppression."

Dr. Sidney D. Wilgus, chairman of the committee on immigration of the State Lunacy Commission, who has spent years investigating the matter, and admittedly one of the best posted American experts on the immigration problem, is authority for this. Discussing the subject to-day, he said: "There is no apparent cure for the great evil of immigration. If any attempt is made to hold up some of the most undesirable there comes a wave of protest from every quarter of the United States. We are told that we are trying to prevent people improving their condition, and newspapers unite in denouncing the officials, and many times raise money enough to get those held up into America."

"An educational test and an increase in the head tax might aid, but there is little chance that congress will act on this problem. The three-year period in which an immigrant who becomes a public charge is sent back at the expense of the steamship line bringing him, should be extended to five years, however. Statistics show most of the aliens who fall back on the communities for support do so within three to five years. If they get over the five year period they usually are all right."

Dr. Wilgus says that many aliens cannot remember where their names come from, or in some instances cannot recall their names, is not far-fetched. They have little idea of the division of time: one day is the same to them as another and they live and die here without improving mentally.

William Williams, commissioner of immigration of the port of New York, in many respects concurs in the views of Dr. Wilgus. The exclusion laws are easy going, he says, and even when strictly enforced keep out only the very bad portion of the foreign element.

"But between these elements and those that are a real benefit to the country," he said, "there lies a class who may be quite able to earn a living here, but who in doing so tend to pull down our standard of living. I am now concerned with the question whether or not laws can be framed which will correctly describe this undesirable class, and merely to emphasize what must be known to every thinking person, that this undesirable class is coming here in very considerable numbers and that we are making no effort to exclude it."

Wilgus and Williams, however, differ materially on the manner in which inspections should be made at Ellis Island. Wilgus insists that there is no adequate system of inspection which would tend to exclude the least desirable while Williams insists the examination is as severe as can be possible under existing laws.

PROSECUTION UNDER INTERDICTION LAW

Licensee of Regent Saloon Charged—Magisterial Judgment on Tuesday

W. A. Anderson, licensee of the Regent saloon, Johnson and Douglas streets, was charged in the police court yesterday afternoon, on remand, with selling liquor to a man who had been interdicted. J. A. Alkman prosecuted and Frank Higgins, D. S. Tait and J. S. Blandford appeared for the defense.

Two witnesses gave evidence that they had purchased beer for the man in the saloon on the night of Saturday, April 16th. Both were aware that he had been interdicted. They identified J. R. McKenzie as the barman who served them. The father gave evidence as to his son's drinking habits, and stated he had warned Anderson not to supply him with liquor.

This morning, at the request of Magistrate Jay, the interdiction was put in the box and confirmed the statement that he had been served with beer at the hotel the night in question. He received $4, his pension for service in the South African war, where he lost an arm, on the 4th of April. This money, with the exception of about $10, had been spent in Anderson's saloon.

Both J. R. McKenzie, the bar tender, and W. A. Anderson, the licensee, swore the man was not in the saloon on the night of April 16th, and that they had not served him with liquor. There were, however, fifty to seventy-five people there at a time that night. A barber, with premises next the saloon, said he had an appointment with the interdicted on the 4th April which had not been kept by the latter. He had not seen him in the saloon or about the place all day.

After hearing addresses for the prosecution and the defence, the magistrate reserved his decision until Tuesday morning.

BRITAIN'S NEW BATTLESHIP

COLOSSUS IS THE BIGGEST IN FLEET

First Ship of New Type Has Many Improvements on Original Dreadnought

The Colossus, Britain's biggest battleship, was launched at Greenock recently. She is the first of the Dreadnought type to be built on the Clyde, and from the time of the announcement of the placing of the contract, the people of Greenock—the town of James Watt, to which the Woolwich torpedo works are about to be transferred—have shown the liveliest interest in her, and this culminated in a great display of local enthusiasm. The occasion was observed as a holiday in the shipyards and engineering establishments in the burgh. The principal buildings and streets were decorated with flags, and bunting was flown by all the shipping in the harbor. Great crowds gathered from all parts of the town and district, and a special train conveyed some 500 specially-invited guests from Glasgow. These facts illustrate the importance attached to the launch of the greatest battleship of the world from the oldest shipyard in Britain, for Scott's Shipbuilding & Engineering Company enjoy that distinction.

The central feature, the great warship herself, was a blaze of color from stem to stern. The company which gathered on the platform at the bow of the ship was a representative one. At the King's behest Lady Colebrooke was present to perform the launching ceremony. The impressive religious service prescribed for use at the launching of ships of his Majesty's navy was conducted by Rev. W. J. Nichol, Service, of Greenock West Kirk, and thereafter Lady Colebrooke broke the customary bottle of wine on the ship's bow and cut the ribbon which released the keel, and set free the great battleship. Slowly at first, and then quicker as she gathered way in her descent, the Colossus, with flags flying, glided majestically into the water. The National Anthem was played by the band in attendance; the great crowd of many thousands cheered again and again, and shouts of ships and steamships of engines hooted and shrieked in joyous discord in proclamation of the successful launching of the greatest naval unit afloat. After the launch the Colossus was towed into the firm's basin, there to be completed.

The Colossus is the first ship of a new type, a marked improvement on the original Dreadnought, as she will be able to bring two more 12-in. guns, throwing projectiles of 850 lbs., to bear on either broadside. Yet she carries no more guns than her predecessors. The difference consists in the disposition of the armament. In the Dreadnought only eight guns are used simultaneously on starboard and port. In the Colossus, on whichever side the enemy may be, all her big guns can be brought into action at once.

The Colossus embodies many other improvements in design, and hence, whereas the first Dreadnought displaced 17,500 tons of water, the new vessel is of 22,500 tons. The tendency in all fleets is towards greater size. The progress in the past 20 years is revealed by the fact that the Royal Sovereigns were of 14,150 tons, the Formidables of 15,000 tons, the King Edwards, 16,500 tons, the Lord Nelsons, 18,500 tons, the step to the Dreadnoughts, of 17,000 tons, cannot be regarded as other than conforming to the law of progression. In the Bellerophons there was an advance to 18,000 tons; in the next class—the St. Vincents—to 19,250 tons; in the Neptunes, to 19,900 tons; and now, in the Colossus, the navy has reached 22,500 tons. Even this cannot be accepted as anything like the maximum.

In addition to the ten 12-in. guns, which are mounted in the Colossus in pairs in barbets, with revolving armoured hoods, there are a large number of 35-pounder guns disposed throughout the ship for effectively repelling torpedo-boat attack. The guns and vital parts of the ship are protected by armour ranging from 11 in. in thickness downwards. Water-tube boilers and Parsons turbine machinery to drive four shafts each will give the ship a speed of 21 knots, corresponding to that of the Dreadnought, notwithstanding the greater tonnage. The St. Vincent, engine by the Scott's Company, made 21½ knots, and a similar success may be looked for in the Colossus.

When this vessel is finished there will be thirteen Dreadnoughts in the water, including four Dreadnought-cruisers, and there have been ordered, and have still to be launched, five battleships and four battleship-cruisers, two of the latter being for New Zealand and Australia. Two years hence, when all these armoured ships are completed, we shall have twenty-two Dreadnought battleships and battleship-cruisers, excluding the Lord Nelson and Arampon.

At the luncheon which followed the launching ceremony, Charles C. Scott, chairman of Scott's Shipbuilding and Engineering Company, presided. Proposing success to the Colossus, he said that in the six days a hencoop was provided for the board's battleships. He could not find such a thing mentioned in the specifications for the modern Colossus. In one engagement of the second Colossus a shot smashed the hencoop, an old cock flew out, perched on the shoulders of the captain on the bridge, and began to crow. (Laughter.) The crew cheered the bird, and then went on with their fighting.

Admiral Beaufort, replying to the toast, said the cock-crowing incident was one of those things that could not occur again, as the Admiralty's refrigerating chamber had abolished the hencoop. (Laughter.) The builders of the latest Colossus were certainly to be congratulated on the expeditious way in which the ship had been brought to the launching stage, it being barely nine months since her keel was laid.

The chairman presented Lady Colebrooke with a silver casket containing the carpenter's chisel and maul with which she cut the ribbon. Lord Blyth-

OPERA BY WIRELESS

Wireless Telephone Transmits Music From Opera House Stage.

Mazarin Singing Carmen By Wireless Heard Miles Away.

Time Not Far Distant When Every Boat Will Hear New York or Paris Opera While Crossing the Atlantic.

You ask if the age of invention is passing. Why, it hasn't started yet. We don't know anything yet. Why, we don't even know what electricity is yet. How can we say that we've reached the limit of a force whose very nature we are ignorant of?—Thomas A. Edison.

By KENN HOMER.

We are living in an age of marvellous things. Scientists are no longer content when they make some wonderful discovery, but they must immediately turn it to commercial use and human advantage.

We had all heard, in a general way, of the wireless telephone, but few of us realized that it was already becoming a factor in the subtle refinements of our modern civilization until the news of the past two months caused us to "sit up and take notice," so to speak.

On January 13 music was transmitted direct from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House, New York, to over a score of wireless stations, some of them miles away, and the solos and duets of Caruso and Emmy Destinn in "Faggioli" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" were heard as far distant as Bridgeport, Conn., and at points nearer wherever wireless operators keyed their instruments up to the proper point to hear the sounds borne on Hertzian waves.

On many steamers in and out of the harbor the music of the grand opera was heard. Especially was the music appreciated on board the Royal Mail Packet Avon, when two hundred and sixty guests of Lloyd B. Sanderson, general manager of the Royal Mail in America, heard Caruso's voice reproduced.

Marooned Passengers Entertained

K. M. Turner's invention, the dictograph, was used to carry sound from the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House to a wireless plant on the roof of the opera house, whence it was sent out by Hertzian waves.

The tests made at the Hotel Breslin and in the laboratories of Mr. Turner and Dr. Lee DeForest were most successful.

Passengers marooned on ships over night at Quarantine heard the music through the wireless operators' receivers. In Mr. Dippel's office in the Metropolitan Opera House, well away from the stage, the dictograph, connected to a telephone wire, carried the music from the stage through a horn much like those used on phonographs. The horn, known as the multiphone, is also one of Mr. Turner's inventions.

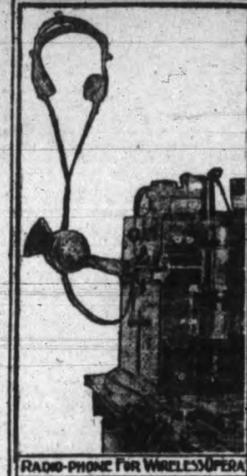

A remarkable thing about the tests was the strength of Caruso's voice, as compared with other voices. Not a note of Caruso was lost.

The veterans of the Metropolitan, who had in open-mouthed wonder as they listened to the first trial of DeForest wireless transmission of an opera performance in progress on the stage. The audience was interested, too. The experimental receiver at the front of the house delivered the voices like any talking machine.

Heard at World's Greatest Station

At the great wireless station of the Radio Telephone Company in the tower of the Metropolitan Life Building, New York, the exchange of messages with Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Key West was stopped long enough for a group of newspaper men to "listen in" and hear the performance. As the Metropolitan Tower contains the largest and best equipped wireless station in the world, reaching up 700 feet into the air above Madison Square, it was a very easy matter to hear the music in all its beauty and clearness of tone. The harsh notes of the orchestra became soft and waving like fairy music. The Hertzian waves carried sharp, flats and naturals through the atmosphere without hitch.

That such a thing never entered the wildest dreams of opera singers or producers of a generation ago, it is hardly necessary to state; but the wonders of electricity combined with the increasing knowledge and appreciation of atmospheric vibration has brought the seemingly impossible down to a business basis. The time is not far distant when a steamer departing from New York will have New York opera every evening until half way to Europe. Then the American music will be shut off, and that being given in London or Paris "picked up" by the wireless and continued until the vessel is docked.

Ship Concerts Doomed

It looks as if the usual concerts given aboard the great sea-going hotels would soon become a thing of the past. No one who travels abroad—unless he wished to see as well as hear—would prefer a cabin musicale to listening to a Caruso or a Sembrich.

Atmospheric grand opera is probably in its infancy; but the pace at which we live and invent and perfect things means that the merely thought-of today is the accomplished fact tomorrow. The combination of sound-reproducing machines with improved moving pictures may yet bring about an apparatus which will, in every sense of the term, bring grand opera to the music lover's home, hotel, or steamer cabin without the necessity of standing in line for tickets or purchasing boxes in advance. Anything to save time and increase our joys, even though they have to be taken on the fly.

When the wireless opera is as firmly established as the telephone itself, there will be only one important question worthy of the name before the producers of such operas. For though this latest invention does much, it is not to be thought that it can eradicate the human attribute that causes more musical upsets among human song birds than anything else—plain every day jealousy.

Mazarin Singing By Wireless.

The comment occasioned all over the world by this performance had hardly subsided before another test of the music-carrying qualities of the wireless telephone was made. Selections from "Carmen" were sung over the roofs of New York, on the afternoon of February 24th. The feat was performed by Mme. Mazarin, the brilliant new star of the Manhattan Opera Company, whose first American interpretation of "Elektra" has occasioned favorable, yet enthusiastic comment by the music loving world.

Mme. Mazarin sang into the wireless telephone at the laboratory of Dr. Lee DeForest, at 103 Park Avenue, New York. A small, but select, audience heard the notes on the roof of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Building and applauded the singer over a mile away. A selection from "Elektra" thrilled the distant hearers. It was a strange and weird performance. The audience that heard the opera was charmed by the singer's voice as well as the novelty of the performance.

Between the songs the wireless operator of the Newark, N. J., station of the Radio Telephone Company, conversed by wireless telephone with Dr. DeForest in New York. During the singing the employees of the factory all listened to the music.

Mme. Mazarin began her performance at 3:30 in the afternoon. She sang the Aria from "Carmen" first, then rested a few minutes before sending forth the terrific, crashing notes of "Elektra."

After the exhibition Mme. Mazarin and the audience at the Metropolitan station were taken to the very top of the 700 foot tower, where they could see away in the dim distance the wireless station of the inventor's laboratory from which the music had been transmitted.

First Wireless Telephone.

The wireless telephone which made possible the accomplishment of this feat is the invention of Dr. Lee DeForest, whom electrical men consider the very foremost wireless expert in America. His first successful demonstration of the wireless telephone was in May, 1907, when accounts of the wireless races at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, were reported over four miles away by means of the new invention. This first demonstration was so successful that, after of the sea, utilizing the motions of the thorough testing the United States Government equipped all of the battleships and industrial machines hundreds, if not of the great Atlantic fleet which was thousands, of miles away.

then preparing for its memorable voyage around the world. The inventor then went to Europe where he equipped several vessels of the Italian Navy and made a record test by sending distinguishable sounds by phonograph from the Eiffel Tower to a vessel off Marseilles.

This feat was followed by a thorough trial on the British Navy, where two vessels sixty miles apart maintained perfect communication.

New Noiseless Telegraph.

This invention Dr. DeForest calls the radio telephone. In February, 1909, the inventor of his new suppressed spark wireless telegraph with which he was able to send messages without any interference from surrounding stations. The first record made by this new "radiophone" wireless telegraph was the exchanging of messages between Key West and New York and its most notable triumph was the sending of two long radiograms from the Metropolitan Tower, New York to the Railway Exchange Building, Milwaukee, through all interference and during the most adverse weather conditions. A feat never before accomplished. The radiophone noiseless telegraph using only a 1-kilowatt generator communicates with Key West and Milwaukee, while the United States Government station at Key West requires a 35 kilowatt generator in order to send back its answer.

Truly the wonders of wireless are astounding, and yet the inventor tells us that the art is only in its infancy. The transmitting of a verbal wireless message from a Curtiss biplane to the ground at Fresno, Cal., was only the beginning of a practical use of the invention which will be as common in a few years as the wire telephone is today.

Talk Across Atlantic Next.

A trans-Atlantic wireless telephone seems to be the next step in the progress of communication between nations.

This ability to telephone without wires results from stirring certain wave movements in the ether, an element about which scientists admit they know little or nothing, and the nature of which they dimly comprehend.

The wireless telegraph established across the Atlantic only eight years ago is now a common adjunct of commerce, and while wireless telephony presents many more difficulties than the telegraph, it is just as practical and cannot doubt that its range will in time be just as great.

When Hertz discovered these etheric waves he never imagined that they could be used for telegraphy, much in America. His first successful demonstration of the wireless telephone was in May, 1907, when accounts of the wireless races at Put-in-Bay, Ohio, were reported over four miles away by means of the new invention. This first demonstration was so successful that, after of the sea, utilizing the motions of the thorough testing the United States Government equipped all of the battleships and industrial machines hundreds, if not of the great Atlantic fleet which was thousands, of miles away.

ALLEGED WHITE SLAVE TRADERS

Three Arrests in New York—Additional Warrants Will Be Issued.

New York, April 30.—Additional warrants will be issued to-day for men and women suspected of connection with the white-slave traffic, following the arrest of Bell Moore, a negro, here, last night; Harry Levinson, 20, white, and Alexander Anderson, a negro.

The warrants are the result of the investigation of the special grand jury of which John D. Rockefeller, Jr. is the foreman, and which has been investigating the white slave traffic.

The evidence warranting the arrests were secured by two college women, one 40 years of age, a graduate of Radcliffe, and the other a young graduate of Smith college. Their names have been withheld because their work has not yet been completed.

Both of these women will appear at the trials and testify against the alleged white slave. One of these women went to Alaska, the other to Seattle. They became friendly with the keepers of illegal resorts, pretending that they wanted to buy women for immoral purposes. They secured the names of alleged white slave dealers in New York. They returned to New York, and it is declared, actually bought several women.

The identity of the persons to be arrested to-day has been withheld, pending the arrests. The three persons arrested were arraigned to-day. They were denounced by the district attorney as the "most despicable criminals." They were all remanded to the Tombs in default of $15,000 bail required by Magistrate Green.

It was announced that no further arrests are to be made to-day.

AFRICAN LIONS.

A settler had come down to trade with the Masai during our absence. He ran into a large party of lions, killed two and wounded a lioness which escaped after mauling one of his gun bearers. The gun bearer rode into camp and the doctor treated his wounds. Next day Mearns was summoned to a masai kraal, sixteen miles off, to treat the wounds of two of the Masai. It appeared that a body of them had followed and killed the wounded lioness, but that two of their number had been much maltreated in the fight. One, especially, had been fearfully bitten, the lioness having pulled the flesh loose from the bones with her fixed teeth. The doctor attended to all three cases. The gun bearer recovered; both the Masai died, although the doctor did all in his power for the two gallant fellows. Their deaths did not hinder the Masai from sending to him all kinds of cases in which men or boys had met with accidents. He attended to them all, and gained a high reputation with the tribe; when the case was serious the patient's kinsfolk would usually present him with a sheep or war spear, or something else of value. He took a great fancy to the Masai, as indeed all of us did. They are a fine, manly set of savages, bold and independent in their bearing. They never eat vegetables, subsisting exclusively on milk, blood and flesh, and are remarkably hardy and enduring. From "African Game Trails," by Theodore Roosevelt, in the May Scribner.

Plain Talks to Women. Children's Skin Troubles, Cuts, Etc. Every healthy child gets them, and every mother has to "put something on." What do YOU put on? When you put an ointment on to a child's skin it gets into the blood through the pores just as surely as if you put it into the child's stomach. Did you ever think of that? How important, therefore, that the salve or balm should be pure! Zam-Buk is absolutely pure; contains no animal fat; no mineral coloring matter; no acid astringents; no burning antiseptics—yet it is antiseptic! It is purely herbal, and thus meets all the needs of the skin in that superior and all-powerful way in which nature alone provides. Children like Zam-Buk best because as soon as applied it stops the pain and the smarting of the injury or sore place. Healing then sets in immediately. All Druggists and Grocers, So.

MARINE IMPROVEMENTS BEING CARRIED OUT

Consistent Policy of Improvement of Aids to Navigation by Dominion Government

It is not generally known to the public that a general scheme of improvement of lighthouses and beacons is being carried out by the Dominion government throughout the waters of British Columbia. This is no catch-water movement but has been going steadily on for a long time and will be continued indefinitely. At the present time Gordon Halkett, the superintendent of lighthouses, is in company with James Davies, for the purpose of making arrangements for the establishment of a 31-day light on top of a beacon. The rock is uncovered at half tide.

Another work which is under the improvement of the lights in the neighborhood of Active-Pass. L. Collier, lighthouse erector for the government, is leaving on the steamer Troquois for Sidney for the purpose of putting in new lights at Active-Pass, Mayne Island, and Portlock Point, West Island.

Steamer Newington, Captain Barnes, is just leaving for the West Coast, taking supplies for the road construction parties and for the lighthouses, and later a new tower and light is to be placed at Point Atkinson.

Only one or two of the immediate works in hand, but they indicate the general policy which is being adopted. Engineer Killen, who is in charge of all the construction work, is a busy man these days.

INSPECTION CHANGES
British Certificates Will Be Good in Canadian Waters for Freighters for One Year.

British inspection will henceforth be allowed for freighters doing business between Canadian ports. The following order-in-council dealing with this matter is from the latest issue of the Canadian Gazette:

The order-in-council of the 23rd December, 1904, imposing the provisions of Canadian steamboat inspection on steamers registered elsewhere than in Canada when plying in Canadian waters and engaged in the carriage of freight, be repealed, and the following substituted therefor:

Steamboats registered elsewhere than in Canada and trading or plying from one port or place in Canada to another port or place in Canada (but not engaged in the carriage of passengers) shall, if holding a certificate of inspection from any of the following classification societies, namely: Committee of Lloyd's Register of British and Foreign Shipping, British Corporation for the Survey and Registry of Shipping, or Bureau Veritas, be exempt during the currency of such certificate from the annual steamboat inspection imposed under Part VII of the Canada Shipping Act; provided:

(a) Such inspection is made annually in the United Kingdom, and

(b) Such certificate is produced on demand to either the collector of customs or the steamboat inspector for the district in which such steamboat is trading or plying in Canada.

FREE FIGHT
Trouble Aboard Ship Charles E. Moody After Loading at Ladysmith.

The decks of the ship Charles E. Moody, one of the Alaska cannery fleet, which was towed to Port Townsend after loading coal at Ladysmith en route to Alaska, were the scene of a "near" mutiny to-day. Before leaving the British port the sailors obtained quantities of liquor, and continual fights occurred, it being impossible to maintain discipline. During the melee the mate beat up the cook and an arrival in port he was discharged and a new officer took his place. The cook and several of the sailors were paid off as a result of the fracas and new hands were signed on in their places.

ENCOUNTER WITH WOLVES.
Former Ottawa Man Has Exciting Experience Returning to Camp.

News of an exciting encounter with a pack of wolves, in the course of which James A. McDonald, formerly of Ottawa University, and a well known local athlete, shot two of them after being tamed for part of the night, has reached Ottawa from near La Tuque, Que. Mr. McDonald, who formerly played wing on the Ottawa College football team, is employed as time-keeper on railroad work near La Tuque.

While returning from their No. 2 camp, and within two miles of a camp at Manitouan River Crossing, he heard howls in the distance. Thinking that dogs were near, he paid little attention until, to his horror, he looked around to see four large timber wolves hot on his trail. McDonald immediately climbed a tree, and as he had a revolver with him he shot two of the wolves, which were making unsuccessful effort to get him by leaping. This somewhat discouraged the other two, and after a short while they departed.

McDonald arrived at the company's camp, greatly excited about 1 o'clock, and left early next morning to get the remaining wolf in order to receive the bounty.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST LAND REGULATIONS.

Any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 15 years of age, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader. Duties—Six months residence upon cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 30 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt a quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $10 per acre—Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra. A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption, may take a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $20 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $200. COAL—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years, renewable, at an annual rental of $1 per acre, not more than 2500 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. A royalty at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined. W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior. N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

MISTAKE OF WORKMAN MADE BLOTTING PAPER

Forgot the Sizing Material and it Was Thought to Be Useless

Blotting paper was discovered purely by accident. Some ordinary paper was being made one day at a mill in Berkshire when a careless workman forgot to put in the sizing material. It may be imagined what angry scenes would take place in that mill, as the whole of the paper made was regarded as being quite useless. The proprietor of the mill desired to write a note shortly afterward, and he took a piece of waste paper, thinking it was good enough for the purpose. To his intense annoyance the ink spread all over the paper. All of a sudden there flashed over his mind the thought that this paper would do instead of sand for drying ink, and he at once advertised his waste paper as "blotting." There was such a big demand that the mill ceased to make ordinary paper, and was soon occupied in making blotting only, the use of which spread to all countries. The result now is that the descendants of the discoverer own the largest mills in the world for the manufacture of this special kind of paper. The reason the paper is of use in drying ink is that really it is a mass of hairlike tubes, which suck up liquid by capillary attraction. If a very fine glass tube is put into water, the liquid will rise in it owing to capillary attraction. The art of manufacturing blotting paper has been carried to such a degree that the product has wonderful absorbent qualities.

All blotting paper is made from rags. The original blotting paper was of a pink color, due to the fact that red rags were used—rags which could not be used for making the ordinary paper, as the color could not be removed. Here was a method for using the apparently useless matter, and so for a long time pink was the predominant color. It is a matter for surprise what curious preferences are shown by various people with regard to the color of the blotting paper they use. Business men greatly prefer that of a buff color. This is preferred to white from the fact that it is more easily distinguished from the letters that are handled, while at the same time it is not sufficiently striking to seem out of place in an office. It is only in England that buff-colored blotting paper is the favorite. Countries which possess hot climates prefer green, and this preference can be understood readily when it is remembered that green is such a restful color to the eyes. The people on the Continent have quite a different taste with regard to the color of the paper; they prefer vivid colors, showing a special preference for deep pink. Ladies in all lands prefer more faintly colored, chiefly mauve. This colored blotting paper, by the way, was also accidentally produced in the first place; in this case some blue and red rags became mixed together, and so this color was produced.

There is an opinion which seems to be fairly prevalent that colored papers do not blot so well as white. As a matter of fact the color makes no difference at all to the absorbent quality of the paper, the particular taint depending purely upon the blending of the rags. Quite the reverse is the case. This is preferred by persons who do not wish anybody to see what has been written. If an ordinary piece of blotting paper, say white, has been used, it is quite easy to read what has been blotted simply by holding the paper up to a mirror. The black paper, however, absorbs the ink marks without showing them. In the case of the sovereign, any piece which has blotted His Majesty's signature is at once destroyed. As a matter of fact King Edward VII. always uses an extra thick white sheet of blotting paper, known technically as "Ford's 80-pound white," though until recently very thin pink paper was that preferred for official use.

It is a Gift to the British Museum and South Kensington.

Every now and again London is startled by the announcement of the death of some millionaire who has been living in it quietly and unknown for years. Such a one was "Chicago" Smith, who although the extent of his wealth was known in America, was unknown by sight even to all but a few Londoners. Such a one was Charles Morrison, who spent his life in a dingy city office and died leaving one of the greatest fortunes in England, and such a one was George Salting, who has just left the most wonderful art collection of modern times to the nation.

The value of Mr. Salting's bequest is estimated variously at from £2,000,000 to £20,000,000. Probably no one will ever know exactly how much it is worth, for it will never come under the hammer. It is certain that for more than 30 years Mr. Salting spent from £100,000 to £200,000 every year on the purchase of works of art and a great many of his purchases are enormously more valuable than when he acquired them.

Perhaps it is not quite fair to say that Mr. Salting was unknown to Londoners, for he was known to the people who frequent the art auction rooms and visitors to the British Museum and the South Kensington galleries must have noticed a case after case bearing the inscription "Left by George Salting." It is true, however, that apart from those who follow closely the course of the art sales no one suspected that Mr. Salting was many times a millionaire.

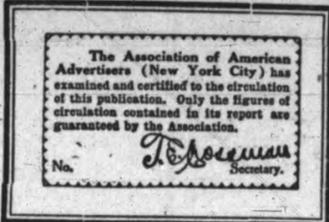

All his life he lived quietly in three rooms over the Thatched House club in St. James' street. He never married and it is doubtful if he spent more on himself than is spent by thousands of stockbrokers' clerks. In fact, now that he is dead, all sorts of stories are being told of his ridiculous economies, for while he was liberal and even prodigal in gratifying his taste for art, he was niggardly in spending on himself.

It is certain, however, that many a young clerk spends more every year on his clothes than did George Salting. He was always dressed in the plainest and even the cheapest manner, and his only extravagance in the way of dress was that he always wore white or light colored gloves, which were always scrupulously fresh. His long white colored gloves were familiar in every auction room in London. Another of his peculiarities was that he was impervious to the ordinary charitable appeal. Beggars might importune him on the street, and hospital secretaries might write begging letters to him until they got tired. He took no notice of either, but if someone he knew and trusted came to him with a genuine story of hard luck, or on behalf of a really deserving institution, George Salting always contributed generously, but on condition that he should remain anonymous, for he had a morbid horror of becoming known as a philanthropist.

PRICES OF FAMOUS VIOLINS

They Range in Value From $5,000 to $22,000 Apiece. Stradivarius fashioned his best instruments between the years 1700 and 1750, while the choicest were made between 1700 and 1715. Yoffi's violin is from 1704 and is valued at $15,000. The violin owned by the virtuoso H.-W. Ernst, but now the property of William Neruda Halle, cost Charles Halle $10,000. Franz Ries had one from 1710 which cost $15,000. One in the possession of Sarasate is dated 1713, and is owned by the Spaniard, which has loaned it to Sarasate for life. This is the one he usually plays upon. The other he owns himself, and is from the year 1724 and is a gift from Queen Isabella of Spain. The value is not less than $22,000. Joseph Joachim has three. The most famous is the one called "Pesthergeige," which the master uses frequently. It is from 1714 and cost $20,000. Another one from the same year was given to Joachim by friends in England, who paid $15,000. The third is played by Carl Halir. It is from the seventeenth century and has a small but brilliant tone. Joachim has loaned it to Halir for an indefinite time. B. Kneisel's violin was formerly owned by Prof. Grun of Vienna, and is also from 1714. The famous Rudolph Kreutzer's, now belonging to J. Winkler in Vienna, is from 1714, and is worth upward of $14,000. The Strad owned by the French virtuoso Alard is from 1715, and is offered for sale by his family in Glasgow. The violin owned by Vieuxtemps was sold from Hanna's in Stuttgart for $10,000. John Lauterbach's from 1715 was sold to Guillaume, the famous violin maker of Paris, for $5,000. Those owned by Hugo Heermann, Frankfurt on the Main, and August Wilhelm are both dated 1720 and are worth from $4,000 to $5,000. The last instrument known to have been made by the great master is the famous one known as "Schwanengesang," dated 1737. It belonged to Saint Sennoch, and was sold to the Hotel Drouot for $10,000. This instrument has an autograph by Stradivarius on which appears "danni 1737" that is the instrument was made when the master was 33 years old. General de Wet, the famous leader in the Boer war, and now a minister in the Orange government, called on a meeting of farmers to sing "God Save the King" as justice as they had just sung the hymn of the old Republic. "We are all loyal British subjects now," cried de Wet, leading the National Anthem.

The TIMES Granted Honor Marks in Circulation

THE TIMES HAS RECEIVED from the head office of the Association of American Advertisers, a handsome certificate, confirming and authenticating its circulation statement for the year just closed.

THE ASSOCIATION OF AMERICAN ADVERTISERS is composed of most of the national advertisers of this continent—firms which are interested above all others in ascertaining the exact number of subscribers served by each of the newspapers of America.

Alex. W. Costigan, one of the expert actuaries for the Association, visited Victoria the last week of the year, and spent two or three days in examining the circulation records in the Times Office. His exhaustive examination extended to press count, paper invoices, returns, etc., each being checked carefully and compared. As a result the Times has been accorded HONOR MARKS and a place among the limited number of daily newspapers whose circulation claims are verified and guaranteed by the A. A. A.

This certificate is accepted even before the sworn returns of publishers by the national advertisers, being made by experienced and thorough investigators, whose only object is to obtain the facts for their employers.

All advertising contracts made with the Times are based on this proved circulation in a constituency where the purchasing power of the unit is greater than anywhere else in Canada.

These $425 Lots Will Interest You

There is always a good demand for sites for workingmen's homes within walking distance of town where the building restrictions are not prohibitive. The lots shown below, in the block between Prior and Blackwood streets, are of this class.

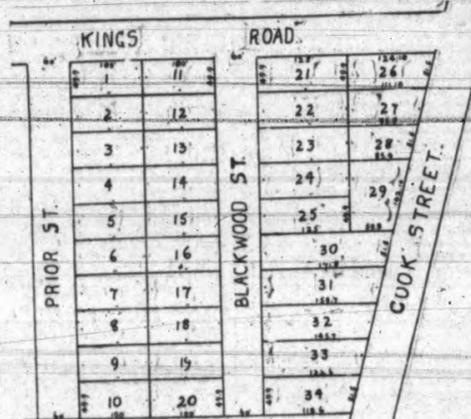

They are sizable lots, handy to town, and have everything a buyer has a right to expect in a lot at the price.

The building restriction is $1,200. We'd like to have you for a customer, but if you can't conform to this restriction, we'll have to ask you to build elsewhere. Any man earning steady wages in Victoria can afford a $1,200 house where he'll be assured of decent neighbors.

If you have anything like a clear idea of what you ought to get for $425, you'll be surprised at the value we can offer in these lots.

Our usual terms are one-quarter cash, balance over eighteen months, but in lots at this price we can meet any responsible buyer half way.

Pick your lot and then submit us your offer as to terms.

LITERATURE'S REWARDS

People never seemed to think of the Royal Literary fund when making their wills, said Sir A. Bateman in presiding over a meeting of the fund at Denison House, London. Nevertheless, he continued, the claims on the fund were very heavy, for there were more people engaged in literature than ever before, and he was bound to say that the remuneration was worse than it had ever been for the rank and file. In connection with another society he had heard of a case in which a publisher had offered £15 for a novel, not the author's first—and sought to bind the writer to supply nine more on onerous terms. It was impossible for men to live under such conditions.

The annual report, which stated that during 1909 the sum of £2,165 was granted to 45 applicants, and that the invested funds of the society on December 31st amounted to £28,525, was adopted.

WHERE IT FAILED.

"So he has lost faith in deep breathing?" "Yes; it wouldn't keep his hair from falling out."—Houston Chronicle.

"Likes to hear himself talk, doesn't he?" "Does he? Say, if he talked in his sleep he'd stay awake all night to listen."—Cleveland Leader.

EXTRACT FROM "BRITISH MEDICAL JOURNAL" March 22, 1909.

"A Most Valuable Food"

At a time when the preparation of artificial foodstuffs is receiving more attention than ever before, and when new forms of easily assimilable fat to take the place of cod liver oil are being frequently brought to the notice of the medical profession, it is desirable that some of the older forms of administering natural fats should not be lost sight of. Among natural fats, butter easily takes first place for nutritive value, and when combined with a suitable soluble carbohydrate, a most valuable food is produced.

The BUTTER-SCOTCH which Messrs. Callard & Bowser (Duke's Road, Euston Road, W. C.) have prepared for fifty years, is such an article, which has the great advantage of being palatable, so palatable, in fact, that children are more likely to need restraining from excess than any persuading to take it. This BUTTER-SCOTCH is stated to contain 11.7 per cent. of fat and 7.5 per cent. of sugar, and the results of an analysis which we have made recently of a specimen of the older form confirm these figures. Further chemical examination of the fat extracted showed it to be genuine butter fat. This confection can therefore be recommended not only as a harmless sweetmeat, but also as a very useful addition to the diet in suitable cases.

NO PESSIMISTS LEFT IN CITY OF VICTORIA

Realty Agents Very Busy—Suburban and Other Residential Property Selling Fast

"I sold three lots yesterday and that is the worst day I have had for some time past," said a busy real estate agent yesterday as he was jumping into his automobile to take another customer out to see some property. "We are very busy at the present time," he continued, as he fingered the lever of the big machine. "Big sales? No, none very big, but just any amount of residential stuff selling. That is the whole story with us. We have some good things that we are selling, and the public show they appreciate them by buying. There is nothing else to it. Good-bye," and a moment later there was no record of him left but what Capt. Wolley calls the "athik" of the car.

It is the same story everywhere. Those who are dealing in big things are keeping their own counsel. A number of farms have changed hands recently throughout Saanich district. Some of these will be broken up for the purpose of growing fruit, and others will be used for purely suburban residential purposes.

There are now no unbelievers or pessimists left in the city. All are agreed that investments made in realty now are bound to be good. Some are picking and choosing while others go to an agent whom they know they can trust and ask him to pick out something that will pay them. This, if they choose an honorable man for a confidant, usually turns out best.

Some of the new men who come to the island turn their attention to the neighborhood of Duncan, where a great many fine farm properties are found that are good value. Colwood and Metochin are also favorite districts with those who wish to be nearer the city while a great many are anticipating the building of the Canadian Northern railway by buying in Sooke or even as far away as Banfield.

The delay in the settlement of the Fort street widening scheme is having a detrimental effect in regard to properties on that street. Building is being retarded, and buyers are not very eager until some settlement has been arranged.

The Oak Bay avenue widening scheme which is well under way is improving that neighborhood to such an extent that the neighbors are looking with jealous eyes that way. The property on that avenue will be much more desirable once the project is completed, which will be within the next week or two. A few weeks ago there were several empty houses in that neighborhood but to-day all are filled and there is a constant inquiry for houses to rent there.

Does This Describe Your Case?—Then Read This Letter About

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

The accompanying letter describes so well the condition of a person whose nerves are weak and exhausted that little need be added.
The dangers of such a state of health is sometimes overlooked by persons who do not realize that the next step is some form of paralysis which leaves one helpless in mind and body.
Mrs. Edward Schwartz, Ladysmith, Que., writes: "It is a pleasure to let you know how I was benefited by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. I was run down and weak, unable to do any housework, was easily tired and exhausted, lacked energy and ambition, was very nervous, easily irritated, could not concentrate the thoughts, hands and feet were cold, I could not sleep, had frequent headaches and dizzy spells and palpitation of the heart."
"Nervous prostration was my trouble, but Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured it all and I cannot find words to express my thankfulness for this wonderful medicine."
The results achieved by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food are often more wonderful than words can tell. In cases such as this patient persistent treatment is necessary, but you are encouraged by steady and natural improvement until the cure is thorough and complete.
There is a satisfaction in knowing that each and every dose is bound to be of at least some benefit in rebuilding the wasted nervous system.

Mr. John Murray, speaking at the Canton restaurant, London, said there were now 5,000 soundings scattered over the North Atlantic in deep water. Over a hundred were in depths beyond three miles. They knew one place four and a half miles deep.

What Other People Think

DESERVE APPRECIATION.

To the Editor:—Permit me to publicly express my appreciation of the really fine rendering of the two cantatas by the Choral Society on Wednesday evening. They required distinct treatment and received it.
Mr. Hicks evidently knows that there is something else required besides singing in getting those who have been studying the works under his direction to get behind the mere crochets and quavers and give attention to the meaning and spirit of the words. I believe it is no more than justice to say that the choir succeeded in communicating to the minds and hearts of the hearers the various sentiments and passions expressed in the two totally different works. This was very marked in the "Pied Piper," where, as usual in his choral works, Sir Hubert has given plenty of scope for intelligent and pointed declamation. The attack and release, and the beautiful pianissimos, were features that challenged attention.
The citizens of Victoria are to be congratulated that there are a number of talented ladies and gentlemen willing to give time and money to the production of musical works of a high standard, and that they have a man of the calibre of Mr. Gibson Hicks to direct them. The great lack was, of course, an orchestra, but the society were fortunate in having in Miss Miles, an accompanist who put life into every movement.
I certainly hope we may have an opportunity of hearing both works again; next time with an orchestra.
H. J. FOLLARD.

POLICE INVESTIGATION.

To the Editor:—There could not be a much more damaging indictment against any police force than that contained in Judge Lampan's report, that the police were not sufficiently "inquisitive." In all well organized police establishments, the primary training of every recruit, orally and in print, is the constant practice of "bearing in mind" upon all his daily surroundings, "Inquisitiveness" could not be better defined than by this union of mind and eye. When a police force slides into such a state of listless ineptness, as civilians (who are not in the "know") begin to suspect something like "graft" or "knaveish tricks" can be brought home to some of the Mongul "commanders," who make the lot of the long suffering force "not a happy one." Why was the learned judge not supplied with more material to work upon? Every second man in the street will tell you it was because some of those mixed up in a "damning crime" in worldly wisdom in skimming the "scops" of the recent royal commission.
It has long been household words how the "Colonist" sneaked out of a difficulty in 1898, and how the Attorney-General did nothing, and saved his friend; how the police (good, easy men) sank into a slough of despond, and how no person could be found in all British Columbia invested with sufficient authority to spank the lot of "commanders" and make them "sit up." "Oh, my adopted country, you are not immaculate."
Speaking merely of the "effect" mentioned by the judge in his report, I say, with no fear of contradiction, that some persons have degraded our police—details unknown. Therefore it does not require that mythical gentleman, Sherlock Holmes, to "deduce" that "graft and knaveish tricks" are securely hidden away in some quarters which defies the efforts (?) of the present regime. I am sure you will overlook the fact that I am a Conservative, but not an admirer of the tactics of your contemporary, since 1898.
"SAVEY."

TRAMWAY SERVICE.

To the Editor:—Yesterday I came down in a Fort street car. The Beacon Hill was right ahead. There were two of us wanting to transfer to it. I asked the conductor if it were possible to catch it. He rang his bell, leaned out and held up two fingers and—the car slid on without us. Where does the apparent negligence lie—in the conductors, or have they their orders not to stop?
Another matter I do think they should attend to, and that is the watering, two, three or even four times if necessary, of all lines the cars run on. The Beacon Hill and Douglas street cars are in a filthy condition from the dust that is blown in, and it should be the aim of the tramway to cater to the public convenience.
—GEORGINA SEYMOUR KENT.
(The demands of our correspondent in regard to watering streets might be met by the electric sprinkler, like the "fish-man's" bird, could be in two or more places at once, or possessed the gift of multiplying itself. But it is only a single machine, of limited capacity. And, besides, its movements are governed by the will of the city council. We have no doubt the employees of the tramway company are actuated by a desire to make life as disagreeable as possible for patrons of the line; but most people find them as courteous and as desirous of accommodating the public as the rules governing the operation of cars will admit of.—Ed. Times.)
Modern ocean liners consume about one and one-half pounds of coal per horse power per hour.

MANY DROP FROM RACE.

Creel Accepts Position in Mexican Cabinet and Will Not Run for Vice-President.
Mexico City, April 30.—Enric Creel, former Mexican ambassador to the United States, has accepted the position of minister of foreign relations in the Diaz cabinet. Creel is a candidate for the vice-presidency. The appointment, it is believed, marks another change in the political situation here. Diaz has always regarded Creel as one of the men closest to him in administration of affairs. The announcement that Creel would be a candidate for the vice-presidency when it was generally known that Diaz desired that Ramon Corral be returned, created something of a surprise. It is known that President Diaz plans to retire before the end of his next term and so the centre of interest in the coming election is the vice-presidency. The proffer of a cabinet position to Creel and his acceptance is expected to be followed by the announcement that he will retire from the vice-presidential race.

FORT GEORGE

Is the centre, have a tremendous significance. All over the continent business men are putting forth every effort to utilize the natural waterways for transportation.

THE HUB

Of this magnificent water system is Fort George. Take a map of British Columbia. Locate Fort George, approximately at the centre, at the junction of the Nechaco and Fraser rivers.

A Thousand Miles

Of waters now known to be navigable converge from Fort George, and on every trip navigators are making greater distances than on the preceding one.

READY OPERATING FROM FORT GEORGE.

This great water system ramifies the richest agricultural, mining and timber country in the world.

There are some 50,000,000 acres of unvalued soil, much of it open, to which settlers are flocking by the thousand.

This country was the scene of the most profitable placer mining of the early days, and only needs the coming of the railway to electrify into activity not only the gold, but also the coal, copper, silver and other potential mining industries of this fabulously rich empire.

The Hudson's Bay Company

Located Fort George as the commercial centre of this great region two hundred years ago, just as they did in the case of Winnipeg or Calgary and of Edmonton in their respective districts. The logic of facts to-day shows that they looked far into the future.

The Fort George of to-day, of to-morrow and of all the future, by reason of its command of the waterways, also dominates the railway situation. The railways must follow the river valleys and must therefore come into Fort George.

It has the advantages of both rail and water transportation. By virtue of this it becomes the commercial centre; the depot for the inland empire's products, the distributing centre for its supplies, the manufacturing centre and the metropolis.

Weak Lungs

Seventy years of experience with Ayer's Cherry Pectoral have given us great confidence in it. We strongly recommend it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, weak throats, and weak lungs. It prevents. It cures. It soothes. It heals. Just the help nature needs.

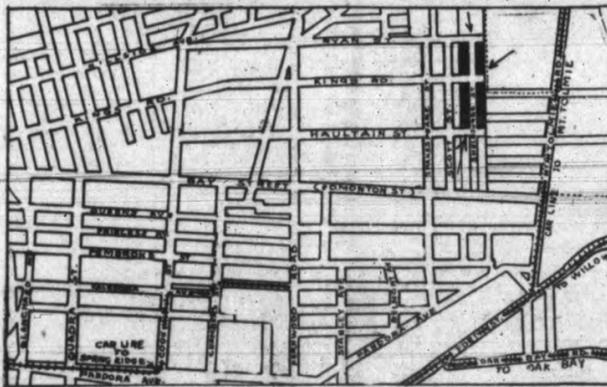

Ask your doctor to name the best family medicine for coughs, colds, bronchitis, weak lungs. Follow his advice.

LET ME TELL YOU ABOUT 8A

There is nothing startling, nothing sensational to tell about 8A; but you will kindly remember that it isn't the most sensational stories that have done you the most good. 8A is that strip of fertile level, and cultivated land running from Edmonton Road to Landsdowne Road and beyond. It is not far from town, the part I want to tell you about being on the one and a half mile circle. It is within a few minutes of the Willows car line and quite close to the Richmond avenue line. The arrows on the map herewith will give you a clearer idea as to the locality. The ground thereabouts is level as an artificial lawn. The soil is of the market garden variety, and city water is available.

In
8A

Now I have 20 lots in 8A which I would like to hold for a year if I could. But I'm a real estate agent and it's my business to sell real estate, not to hold it. I intend, therefore, to make a clean sweep of these twenty lots and I am allowing myself only four days to do it in. Let me tell you a little more about them

8A Is A Wage Earner's Proposition

By that I mean that it is the kind of place where a thrifty man and woman can make a garden go a long way toward keeping the wolf and the vegetable Chinaman off the piazza. It is not a wind-swept, but a sheltered place. It is the kind of place where a wage earner can secure a building site at so trifling an outlay that his home will ever after stand to him as one of his wisest economies. It will represent a saving of rent, a reduction of taxes, and at the same time will be an investment of ever increasing value.

For Quick Sales Give Me A Wage Earner's Subdivision

Every man who has made a study of real estate knows that a good working man's subdivision is one of the most satisfactory investments to be found. In the first place, there are more working men than there are business men, professional men, allowance men, loafers and parasites combined. In the second place, most working men want homes of their own. In the third place, they can generally pay for what they want. Sales are rapid and the turnover satisfactory in a working man's subdivision. These 20 lots, then, go at $295 each. Whether you are a working man in need of a home, an investor, or both, note that price.

$295

As to terms, almost anything will do, but I suggest $75 cash and $10 per month, a reasonable agreement

Cook in Comfort

You no longer need wear yourself out with the weakening heat of an intensely hot kitchen. You can cook in comfort. Here is a stove that gives no outside heat. All its heat is concentrated at the burners. An intense blue flame (hotter than either white or red) is thrown upwards but not around. All the heat is utilized in cooking—none in outside heating.

New Perfection Oil Cook-stove entirely removes the discomfort of cooking. Apply a match and immediately the stove is ready. Instantly an intense heat is projected upwards against the pot, pan, kettle or boiler, and yet there is no surrounding heat—no smell—no smoke.

Why? Because The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove is scientifically and practically perfect. You cannot use too much wick—it is automatically controlled. You get the maximum heat—no smoke. The burner is simple. One wipe with a cloth cleans it—consequently there is no smell.

The New Perfection Oil Cook-stove is wonderful for year-round use, but especially in summer. Its heat operates upward to pan, pot, or kettle, but not beyond or around. It is useless for heating a room.

It has a Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping plates and food hot. It has long turquoise-blue enamel chimneys. The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimney, makes the stove ornamental and attractive. Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

VISIT the finest hotels, the costliest homes, and you will find Alabastine walls. Alabastine is used in these palatial places, not because it is the most expensive wall-decoration, but because it is the most artistic and effective. An Alabastine wall is a delight to the eye—so soft, velvety and beautiful. It will not rub off of fade. Alabastine is cement, and hardens with age. Its beauty is permanent. It is the most sanitary and inexpensive wall coating known. Alabastine walls are now the general vogue, in cottage and mansion alike. Wall Paper is out of fashion. The sales of Alabastine in Canada have doubled in two years.

The Alabastine Co., Ltd., 40 Willow St., Paris, Ont.

The far west, and incidentally this city, is to see Henrietta Crossman in "Anti-Matrimony," after all. Maurice Campbell, her manager, has just arranged for Miss Crossman to play an engagement at the New Columbia theatre in San Francisco, and Miss Crossman has consented to play out to the Pacific coast and back again. She will be seen in Percy Mackaye's whimsical comedy "Anti-Matrimony."

Miss Crossman has not appeared on the Pacific coast for three years, and she is now in all the glory of her success. She seems to have reached the height of her career just now and her past two seasons in the east have been wonderfully successful. Miss Crossman will start west in May. San Francisco will be reached in July and from there Miss Crossman and her company will sail for Honolulu, where she will give a few performances of "Anti-Matrimony." The trip to Honolulu is really more for pleasure and rest than business. The tour will be resumed in September. From Denver Miss Crossman and her entire company will jump all the way to New York for their annual engagement there.

The Allen Players. The Allen Players will resume the occupation of the Victoria theatre this afternoon, and will also give a performance this evening. The bill in both instances being a dramatization of Ouida's famous story, "Under Two Flags." In this the company is seen at its best, the verdict being that it is the best production that it has presented. When it was shown on Monday and Tuesday evening good houses were given. In the cast for this play Miss Yvonne Peiton takes the part of Cigarette, the vivandiere, and the reception given her shows that she is fast becoming a favorite with local theatregoers.

On Monday they will present "Mrs. Dane's Defence," and this bill will also run for Tuesday night. On Wednesday and Thursday next another heavy bill will be on the boards, "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray." On Friday and Saturday, matinee and evening, the company is dumping back to comedy again, presenting "The Widow from Tokio," a farce comedy.

New Grand Theatre. The Wilton brothers, accompanied by triple horizontal bars and a large bounding net, will be the star attraction at the New Grand theatre next week, in a sterling athletic act that has been named the best athletic turn from both the athletic and amusement points, now on the road. The pair include a comedian and a straight bar athlete. The latter is very fast on the bars and he turns mid-air somersaults with lightning-like celerity. The comedian has an eccentric make-up and boggles the other's straight work, causing the audience to rock with laughter. Wilton brothers are named the greatest in their line from a sensational standpoint and with few equals for creating amusement.

The Longways will put on a musical, instrumental and singing act that should appeal specially to music lovers. Most of the songs which will be sung by them are of the popular variety, and the act is neatly dressed and is said to carry an air of refinement, being above the ordinary run of musical turns.

Smith and Arado, a duo of versatile artists, will show in a novelty "Just for Fun." There is a lot of juvenile entertainment in this act, some dancing and much comedy. Buffalo, Cleveland and Toronto theatres all hold this team as one of the best draws in the business this year.

Emil Chevriol, who has been absent on a European tour, where his violin playing won him renown, will be here Monday. Any way there is to play a violin that is unusual Chevriol will adopt, and among the things he will use as a low are a trying pan, a wash-board, slipper, rati, quill, cuff and pistol.

Thomas J. Price and the moving pictures will figure on the programme as usual, and there will be orchestral selections.

To-night the present bill, including Matt Keefe, the tenor singer; Musical Lowe, America's first exponent on the xylophone; Wood and Lawson, incomparable dancers, and the Wheelers with the original sketch, "Fun on the Boulevard," and the regular features, will be performed for the last time.

To-night's programme of motion pictures to be shown at the Romano is very good, including three dramas, two comedies and one illustrated song. "The New Partisan" is the feature of this excellent bill. It is a typical American drama, showing the greatest scene of strikers ever produced. The first part of the film deals with capital vs. labor, and many startling scenes are thrown on the screen. Then a love story is introduced with the young girl, a member of a family of the capitalist side, and the young man with the laborites. The climax is very exciting and one which will keep an audience spellbound.

A NEW HAND BAG

Softness of finish is the characteristic of all new leather articles, and delicate shades, moroccos and kids done in shades so fine they escape on pastel-effects are favorites. Blues and browns in varying tones undoubtedly are popular. Incidentally, this season a woman does not try to select a purse to match her gown. Instead she chooses a receptacle that will harmonize with any colored toilet.

As little metal as is practicable for strength or finish is seen on the newest purse bags, and rarely is the frame exposed. But when it is gold or gold finished metal is seen. Steel, brass and even silver do not count for elegance, and better no metal if gold cannot be used. Even when the rim is made of this gleaming metal the handle is of the same leather or kid as the bag and is flat rather than round.

With advancing seasons the size of purse bags has increased until now a fortune would be needed to fill one. So in place of money toilet articles are used. For example, one smart woman who bought a bag recently declared that the point which reconciled her to its size was that she could put into it a night-gown and tooth brush and go out of town for the night, and be comfortable without the other luggage.

In shape all bags are more square than oblong, depth from frame to bottom being a marked characteristic. The outside now rarely shows pockets or envelope effects, although this is sometimes seen in the softest of oose, the point being held down by a jeweled button. Such bags are for dress more than morning use.

Many of the frames are hinged, not only at the ends, but in the middle, so that when opened the top forms a square, from which it is easy to extract the contents. Even the simplest purse bags have some fittings done in the same leather, a small coin or bill purse and note book, with pencil being the most usual. Others are fitted with vanity boxes, card cases, mirrors, etc.

Gray although used for mourning, is so perishable in color it has been limited to afternoon or calling use, white is almost never seen, and the fad for delicate mauve has passed because it soils so quickly.

Chain bags in gold and silver, are even more fashionable than leather, but imitations are not used by well-dressed women.

YOUR BACKACHE WILL YIELD

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Rockland, Maine.—"I was troubled for a long time with pains in my back and side, and was miserable in every way. I doctored until I was discouraged, and thought I should never get well. I read a testimonial about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and thought I would try it. After taking three bottles I was cured, and never felt so well in all my life. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all my friends."—Mrs. WILL YOUNG, 6 Columbia Avenue, Rockland, Me.

Backache is a symptom of female weakness or derangement. If you have backache, don't neglect it. To get permanent relief you must reach the root of the trouble. Nothing we know of will do this so safely and surely as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Cure the cause of these distressing aches and pains and you will become well and strong.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has restored health to thousands of women.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge.

EGGS A LA MARTIN

Eggs a la Martin, named after the famous restaurant in New York, is a good luncheon or supper dish and easy of accomplishment.

Poach the desired number of eggs (one to each person) in muffin-rings; allow to get cold in the rings, then pour over them, into the rings, a strong chicken or beef stock and put on ice to harden.

Cut rounds of boiled ham the size of the muffin rings, and when the eggs are jellied remove the rings and place an egg on each round of ham, decorate across each with a narrow strip of either red or green pepper laid crosswise. Place in a bed of cress on each plate.

Baked rice is a great standby too, but the rice must be perfectly boiled to insure its success.

In the bottom of a baking dish put eight or ten bits of butter, then a layer of well-boiled rice, next a layer of butter, and so alternate rice and butter till the last layer is butter; then put in the oven and watch till the top rice is crisp and golden brown when it must be served hot.

Another dish which can be eaten for dinner as well as luncheon, and is said to hold all the nourishment necessary for the body is made of toast, tomatoes, rice and nuts. Each of these is easily digested, and gives strength and vigor to the blood and sinews.

It is made by covering the bottom of the baking dish with squares of toasted bread. Tomatoes are carefully peeled and cut into blocks and put over the bread. A layer of pecan nuts is put over the tomatoes, and these are in turn covered with a layer of rice which has been well boiled.

There is more rice wrongly cooked than well-cooked, and it seems difficult to teach the best cooks to prepare this tropical dish in the right way. After the rice has been spread over the puts it is covered with a layer of them in which are mixed tomatoes, and all is covered with squares of toasted bread. This is baked for half an hour and served hot.

Complicated as it sounds, it is simple to eat, the palate likes it, and the stomach takes care of it easily and quickly.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

A few days ago I read in the newspapers the story of how a beautiful young woman had come to the verge of starvation in the city of New York. Did it make my blood boil to think that such things could be in a civilized community? No, I was simply thoroughly indignant and disgusted with the young woman.

A queer way to feel? Not at all. For the young woman was Mabel Gilman Corey, the former chorus girl, now mistress of millions, and the starvation was self-inflicted and was for the purpose of maintaining the hipless, curvaceous, unnatural figure that is considered so indispensable nowadays.

Imagine being possessed of wealth and health to enjoy to the full all the pleasures that wealth could buy, and deliberately, destroying such great opportunities for happiness, simply in order to be thin.

Nor is Mabel Corey's case a very extraordinary one. Every now and then the papers chronicle the sickness of some society woman who has broken her health trying to be thin.

"Bones," said my dressmaker to me gravely, the other day, "are beautiful nowadays. The girl with the long, thin neck and the bones big enough to hang a hat on is in luck at these times."

"A thin slip of a girl like a new moon. Sure to be rounded into beauty soon," wrote Longfellow once on a time, of Agnes Surrey.

Doubtless if he had lived in these days some stylish dressmaker would have told him that he was writing nonsense—that if Agnes were a "thin slip of a thing," she was already at the acme of beauty, and that any "rounding," far from making her beautiful, would make her quite impossible.

And I think it's all perfect nonsense. Call bones and straight lines and absolutely figureless stylish if you will but don't try to persuade us that they are beautiful or artistic.

Health is the first requisite of beauty, and, business is not healthy. "The anxiety to lose weight for a fashionable figure is positively dangerous," said a prominent doctor lecturing at Harvard medical school the other day. "Some people think fatness is a disease that will go on and destroy the system, while on the contrary, it is generally the sign of health, nature's reserve, and is just as desirable as money in the bank."

Now I am not blowing the horn of the woman with a redundant figure. There is nothing I dislike any more than what the last generation used to term "a fine figure of a woman."

But I do maintain that reasonable curves and plumpness are just as beautiful to-day as they ever were, that this bone fad has gone on quite long enough, and that it is time the women of America revolted against it, and set up the normal figure again as the standard of beauty.

The New Woman

is one who enjoys perfect health, who is capable of doing her work, whether at the loom or in the kitchen, in the counting-house or taking her part at a social event, with unimpaired vim and vigor. That's the kind of women the nation needs.

Unfortunately, many women are physical wrecks, constantly under the cloud of ill-health, often the victims of high-strung nerves. The cause is not hard to find. Errors of diet, haste in eating, lack of exercise and inattention to certain bodily functions, all play their part. Once the germ of disease finds its lodgment, if left to do its work, it will quickly undermine the entire fabric of bodily tissue. Prevention is better than cure. Whoever has used Beecham's Pills

Appreciates the Effectiveness of their action. As a preventive they are wonderful, as a cure equally marvelous and efficient. Women should know of this remarkable remedy. For sick headache, nervousness, irregularities from whatever cause, debility and a host of other feminine ailments there is no better nor safer medicine. At the first symptom of pain or trouble, rout the enemy and put yourself on a pedestal of perfect health by using

A Great Welcome in Chicago.

I am sure that the extraordinary interest of the Chicago Christian public in their mission tour was a surprise to Dr. Torrey and Mr. Alexander. The city is cosmopolitan in its population, for there are, I believe, more foreigners in Chicago than native-born citizens. The evangelists had no sooner arrived than journalists hurried to the Bible Institute, and literally yards of matter respecting the tour began to appear in the daily papers. The climax of interest was reached in the mother meeting held in the auditorium. The police said they had never had to deal with such crowds since Mr. Roosevelt came in the height of his popularity to speak in the presidential campaign. Two hours before the meeting began, long lines of people were waiting for admittance to the hall. When the doors were opened, and I shall never forget the rush of the audience to every part of the great building. It seemed like a wave of humanity submerging the whole place with instantaneous force. When the great choir—the girls, chosen in white, rose and sang under Mr. Alexander's conductorship it was a stirring scene. Only a brief address of welcome from the chairman, and then Dr. Torrey rose to tell the story of the tour. In a tense silence unbroken by applause he related with graphic realism the varied experiences of Australia, the Far East, India and Great Britain. To me there was a special pathos in two groups in that magnificent hall. In a box sat Mrs. Alexander, the mother of the singing evangelist, hearing him sing for the first time to a great throng; and in another part of the hall were the members of Dr. Torrey's family, listening with close attention to his narrative. Incessantly at work.

One never sees Dr. Torrey at leisure, except on his rest days. At every other time he is busy. In the Bible Institute he kept a constant hand at the typewriter while he caught up the heavy arrears of correspondence or dictated some articles for a religious journal. In his room were some splendid portraits of Mr. Moody, and the spirit of the founder of the institute lingered in all the arrangements of the place. When Dr. Torrey was conducting a mission he never lost any opportunity of using the intervals between the services. His Sunday school notes were dictated at all available times. The correspondence which reached the evangelist from inquirers was very heavy, and Dr. Torrey took great trouble in replying. I have seen long letters covering carefully all the points raised by some perplexed soul, with a detailed reference to the Bible on the various subjects. The Bible is always the final court of appeal with Dr. Torrey.

Dr. Torrey as a Preacher.

Hundreds of thousands of people in this country have a very clear recollection of Dr. Torrey's sermons. The statuesque stillness of the man as he stood on the little elevated platform; the penetrating sentences; the telling illustrations drawn from actual life; and his final, manly appeal for devotion—all this will never be forgotten by the multitudes who attended the missions all over the country. Dr. Torrey was always fighting for a verdict. He never trilled with his listeners—they were made to feel that now was the accepted time, now was the hour, that he had nothing to lose but his sin, that he had no theory or scheme, that he painted terrible pictures of hell, that he was narrow in his outlook. I admit there was not much of the "wooling note" in those addresses, but the world needs a hammer, a trumpet and a sword—and Dr. Torrey wielded all three with power. His sermons may soothe the sinner, but his final appeal may shake the slumbering, called them to a nobler warfare with sin, and denounced the easy ways of the world. God has many varieties of workers, and we must thank Him for men of courage who can, like Dr. Torrey, reach millions of men, women and children in their own special way.

Dr. Torrey as a Pastor.

I had several opportunities of estimating Dr. Torrey as a pastor. Some of the same evangelists are failures in the ministry. They can perambulate about the country, but they cannot work at a centre. Dr. Torrey was a successful pastor long before he was "called to be an evangelist." Chicago Avenue Church is a big organization, full of activities, serving a wide area. It was the evangelists of many nations. So well organized was the church that everything went on smoothly during the three years of Dr. Torrey's absence. When he returned, he found his faithful people had been sustaining his hands by prayer and had been maintaining every part of the church's work. I saw the splendid Sunday-school and Bible classes; I attended the crowded services on Sunday—two overflowed services had to be held on the first evening; I met Dr. Torrey's leading helpers. Everywhere there was evidence of a strong man's impress. In the Bible Institute, close to the church, the superintendent, Dr. Torrey was justly called a potent for good. He was an evangelist, but as a pastor and tutor, Dr. Torrey had high gifts consecrated to the Master's service. He has filled his life to overflowing, he has told the Gospel story to countless thousands, and he has won the reward promised to those who turn many to righteousness.

A HINT TO YOUNG MOTHERS

Don't walk up and down the floor with a cross, restless child. Nothing can be more demoralizing to the little one and it is a serious tax upon the mother's strength and nerves. When a child is peevish and cross there is probably some little derangement of the stomach or bowels, and a dose of Baby's Own Tablets will remove the cause of the trouble and enable the mother to sleep soundly. Mrs. W. Bouffard, of Philadelphia, Pa., says: "I have found Baby's Own Tablets superior to all other remedies for curing constipation and making teething easy. They also promote healthful sleep, and I recommend them to other mothers." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Men Who Move the Masses

Reminiscences by David Williamson No. 6 DR. TORREY

It was at their opening service in Midway Conference hall, in January, 1903, that I heard Dr. Torrey and Mr. Alexander for the first time. It was a dreary day, and I was surprised to large a congregation assembled, for there had been very little public announcement of the services, and both men were strangers to England. I had spent many hours in the company of Mr. Alexander, but had not seen Dr. Torrey until he stepped on to the platform. A broad-shouldered, stout man, with a fine head well poised, large, piercing eyes, short beard turning grey, and a high-domed forehead—this was the picture of the American evangelist which seized one's interest before he uttered a word. When he began his address—the first of scores which I was destined to hear—his lucid logic and obviously full knowledge of his subject laid hold of one's close attention and kept one captive to the end.

A Strong Man.

If I were asked what has always impressed me most about Dr. Torrey, I should say his strength. Not simply his physical strength—which is abnormal, or he could never have conducted a campaign lasting five years—but his mental, spiritual and moral strength. First as to his physical powers. Here is a man who was fond of athletics from his youth—swimming, riding and playing outdoor games with interest. It was only ten years ago that he gave up playing baseball, and as for his walking powers, it would take a good walker to tire him out. Then as to mental strength. Dr. Torrey went through a full college course, and has been adding to his knowledge ever since. He heard Dana's lectures on geology at Yale University; learned rhetoric from Professor Northrop, and studied astronomy with Professor Newton. I believe the first time his name appeared in print was in connection with his study of the stars. He will surprise you with the extent of his reading, though it has been limited in recent years to theology and biography. With fiction Dr. Torrey has not much acquaintance. In the realm of theology he had the benefit, as a student, of studying under Timothy Dwight, and later (in Germany) of attending lectures by Deitzsch, Frank and Lahn. It makes one impatient to hear superficial criticisms of Dr. Torrey as being "only an evangelist," the suggestion being that he is not on a level with the ordinary Christian minister. I only wish the ministry were half as sound in their scholarship and as industrious in their present studies as Dr. Torrey. It takes a full reservoir of knowledge to provide the continuous streams which have flowed in Dr. Torrey's many years of Christian work.

His Moral Strength.

No one who has been much in his company will deny the strength of Dr. Torrey in his moral attitude. Nothing can move him when once his mind is made up about the right or wrong of anything. "There is only black or white—no grey tints—in that man's color scheme," said someone to me after hearing Dr. Torrey. If a thing is wrong, it must be denounced as a sin. If a thing is right, it must be advocated as a Christian duty. Again, and again I have heard him say how people have asked him if it is right for Christians to go to the theatre, if it is right for Christians to play cards, etc. He settles all such questions with the simple, conclusive answer: "Can you feel Christ is well-pleased with you when you are thus engaged?" Often I have heard him say to young people: "Christ will take nothing from you except what will hurt you. Christianity is not an incessant giving-up of pleasant things; it is an incessant receiving from God's hands of greater joys than ever the world could give us."

No Kill-Joy.

Dr. Torrey is no melancholy kill-joy. You have only to spend a "rest day" in his company—Saturdays he sets carefully apart during missions for a holiday—to discover what a genial, happy companion he is. I recollect several such experiences with pleasure. I went with him to Balmoral during his mission in Aberdeen, and it was one of the merriest parties you could have found that day. As an American, he was especially interested in Queen Victoria and her home. The great Queen's Christian character won the hearts of our cousins across the Atlantic, and no visitors to Balmoral or Windsor are more keen on seeing and hearing everything relating to the Queen than Americans. The photograph that was taken of our party under the shadow of the castle shows Dr. Torrey in his happiest mood. On the railway journey to and fro he kept on laughing over his stories of famous men in his country, and he was more like a school boy on a holiday than the world-renowned evangelist. "So that's Dr. Torrey, is it?" said one of the lodge-keepers. "Well, he's a bonny man." Yet, with all his relaxing of the boy, he was always ready to turn the conversation into a serious channel. Religion is the real interest of all his life.

Presiding at a Ship's Concert.

When I was crossing on the Minnehaha to America, Dr. Torrey and Mr. Alexander were at first regarded as "peculiar." The passengers knew they were the famous evangelists, and seemed to expect them to absent themselves from all the recreations on board. But soon they found that both men were "good fellows," and could hold their own in the deck sports with their fellow-passengers. Then came the question of getting up the customary concert which is held at the end of the voyage. A collection for the Seaman's Home is always a feature, and a good chairman is an essential element in the success of the affair. Well, Dr. Torrey was elected for this honor, and right well did he perform his duties. Members of the party worked the hardest to make the concert a success, and the general verdict was that the programme was first-class. A fraternal spirit was manifested towards the evangelists in the last day or two which was a marked contrast to the suspicious coolness at the beginning of the voyage.

Bible Reading on Board.

Dr. Torrey was asked by a few of the passengers if he would conduct a Bible reading on the Sunday. He consented immediately, and it was as surprising as it was delightful to find quite a large assembly in one of the saloons awaiting his arrival. He took as his subject John xiv, and the memory of his comments will linger for many a day. There was the steamer speeding across the ocean, and round the evangelist were gathered men and women who would never meet again, thrown together by what we probably call "chance," meditating on that marvelous chapter, with its words, "Whatsoever ye shall ask in my name, that will I do," and that glorious promise, "Because I live, ye shall live also." Who can tell how much comfort was given to the hearts of strangers at that Bible reading in mid-Atlantic?

Dr. Torrey in His Home.

The greatest trial that Dr. Torrey experienced in his long campaign was his prolonged absence from his home and children. Mrs. Torrey felt the separation from her children even more acutely, though she concealed her feelings bravely. When the steamer reached New York it was charming to witness the greetings between parents and children at the docks. Then, a few days afterwards, I was privileged to visit the family in their home. Dr. Torrey was as happy as a King to have his son and daughters with him, and we all rejoiced at the reunion. There was so much to say and hear. The son had gone to college, and since then had devoted himself to the ministry, like his father. The youngest daughter had his father. The youngest daughter had "grown out of knowledge" since Dr. and Mrs. Torrey had left Chicago for Australia three years before, and the Metropolitan.

Annual Business Meeting.—The annual business meeting of the joint official board of Metropolitan church was held last Wednesday evening. Owing to the illness of the pastor the Rev. A. E. Roberts presided. Before any business was undertaken a vote of sympathy with Mr. and Mrs. Holling was unanimously passed expressing regret at Mr. Holling's sickness and assuring him of the continued loyalty of the official members of the church. The financial report presented by the treasurer, J. A. Grant, showed that the church was in a healthy condition as regards money affairs. The Sunday schools both at Metropolitan church and Spring Ridge, presented splendid reports of growth and interest. Every department of the church was shown to be a flourishing condition. The pastor's supply committee was authorized to make arrangements for the Sunday services during the sickness of the pastor and it was decided to ask the Rev. A. E. Roberts to assume his duties as church secretary at once, instead of waiting until the last of June, as previously arranged. An office will be opened in the church vestry and Mr. Roberts will there every afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock, for the transaction of business and to receive reports of any cases of sickness, etc. It will give the attention of a pastor to the work of Metropolitan church, without unduly interfering with his duties at the Victoria West church. A Lee was elected delegate to the annual district meeting of the Methodist church, which is to be held in the west end church next Wednesday.

Society Representatives.—The board appointed Messrs. Lee and Currie, with Mr. Roberts, a committee to count the ballots in the election of seven members of the church to represent the congregation on the official district meeting of the church. The following were elected: Messrs. Lee, Currie, and Roberts. The committee met and counted the ballots with the names in alphabetical order. H. H. Birkholder, Miss Clara Jones, J. B. McCallum, H. McDonald, Mrs. W. J. Pendry, Isaac Walsh and E. E. Westcott.

Sunday Services.—The services to-morrow will be conducted by Rev. A. N. Miller in the evening.

Centennial.—The annual meeting of the Sunday school committee of management was held last Wednesday evening. There was a good attendance and much interest was taken in the work. The following officers were elected: Superintendent, W. C. Holt; assistant superintendent, W. N. Mitchell; secretary, W. A. Deaville; treasurer, Geo. Lowe; pianist, Mr. and Mrs. Davis; librarian, Geo. Holt; superintendent home department, N. Shakespear.

Anniversary Services.—The anniversary services in connection with the Sunday school will be held to-morrow. The preacher for the day will be Rev. T. Burnett. A large platform has been erected in the church and the children of the school will be given seats on this platform and will render several songs, etc. The members of the Adult Bible classes will also take part by singing choruses, etc., and the event promises to be most interesting. In the afternoon Mr. Burnett and the pastor, Rev. A. Henderson, will deliver addresses. The officers, teachers and scholars are all working heartily together to make this event a notable success and it is expected that the anniversary services will attract large congregations.

Leaders Meetings.—The annual meeting of the class leaders was held on Thursday evening and the following are the class leaders for the year: Young ladies class, Mrs. Holt; Sunday morning class, Mr. Talbot; Tuesday evening class, W. B. Deaville.

James Bay

League Meeting.—A very pleasant social evening was spent in connection with the Epworth League last Monday evening. The members of the league are expecting to meet with continued success in their gatherings, and are preparing a programme for the next six months which will prove of great interest.

Adult Bible Classes.—The members of the Men's class entertained the members of the Ladies' class last Thursday evening at a supper and concert. The programme and all details were arranged.

MONTREAL

British Columbia will take place next week in Vancouver. The sessions will be held in the magnificent new church at Mount Pleasant and will open on Wednesday evening next when the sermon will be preached by the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. Fraser of First church, Vancouver. The reports from the different departments will be read and discussed and the sessions will last until Saturday next. On Monday, May 2nd, the synodical conference will be held. This conference is for the discussion of theological and other subjects of interest to church workers and an attractive programme has been prepared. The Rev. Prof. D. J. Fraser, D. D., LL.D., of Montreal, will speak on "Recent Criticisms of the Epistle of James," and on "Authority in Religion." The Rev. M. G. Melvin will give an address on "Recent Archeological Researches," and Professor Pigeon of Westminster Hall, will speak on "Moral Conditions in Canada," and "The Church and Moral Reform." These meetings will be open to the public and will attract many. The ministers of this city will all attend the sessions, leaving on Wednesday afternoon's boat for Vancouver.

ANGLICAN

St. Paul's.
A Unique Record.—On Sunday evening last Mr. James Andrews closed what is probably a unique record as church organist. For forty years, almost ever since he came out from England to become organist at the Naval Hospital, Mr. Andrews has officiated at the organ in St. Paul's. In all those years he has not missed a half dozen Sundays. A thorough musician, Mr. Andrews' playing of the church music has been a feature of the services at this church always, and it was with the utmost regret that the members heard of his decision to give up the office. It is doubtful if there is another case of an organist, or any other church officer, who can point to such a splendid record of faithful and efficient work as can Mr. Andrews.

REFORMED EPISCOPAL

Church of Our Lord.
Sunday Services.—The Rev. T. W. Gladstone will preach to-morrow on the subject, "The Morning Psalm," and in the evening on "Children Crying in the Market Place." The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the morning service.

Young People's Association.—The meeting of the Young People's Association will be held on Monday evening next, "The Mission Band."

Ascension Day.—Thursday next being Ascension Day, service will be held at 11 a. m. with the sacramental service following.

CONGREGATIONAL

First Church.
Young People's Society.—The regular meeting of the Young People's Society will be held on Monday evening next. The subject will be, "Is Ours a Christian Nation," a discussion of home missionary problems. It is expected that every member will be ready to take an active part in the meeting and make the discussion interesting and profitable.

Men's Own.—Last Tuesday evening the lecture that was to have been given by Dr. Ernest Hall was postponed owing to Dr. Hall's inability to be present. The Rev. Wm. Stevenson gave an address on the breach and kindly addressed on "The Emmanuel Movement." The address led to a very healthy discussion which made the meeting one of the most profitable and interesting in the history of the club. A hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Stevenson.

BAPTIST

Emmanuel.
Sunday Services.—The pastor, Rev. William Stevenson, will preach to-morrow morning, "The Reach of the Unseen"; evening, "Trying to Undo the Wrong—Tolstoi's great story 'Resurrection.'"

B. Y. P. U.—Next Monday the B. Y. P. U. will hold their monthly devotional meeting when the pastor will give the address on "Temper in Christian Life and Service." Strangers welcomed.

Mission Band.—The mission band, consisting of girls of the congregation, met last Wednesday afternoon and formally organized with Mrs. Orr as president. There was a good attendance and much interest was taken in the proceedings. The name chosen for the band was "Cheerful Workers," and the endeavor will be to carry out the spirit of the name as the members work for missions and missionaries.

Knox.

Young People's Society.—On Monday evening last the regular meeting of the Young People's Society was held, which proved in every way a gratifying success. A large attendance of members and friends gave expression to their appreciation of the various numbers of an excellent programme which included vocal solos by Mrs. Ruth Wilson and Rev. Jos. McCoy, and Wm. Wilson and W. Lee, and a short paper on Canada by R. G. Howell, after which refreshments, cake and coffee was served, while pleasant social intercourse (one of the outstanding features in Knox church life at all times), completed the evening's engagement. It was decided to hold meetings every month during the summer at some one of the many seaside picnic resorts adjacent to Victoria, details of which are to be worked out by the executive committee, who are to be congratulated upon the very successful series of meetings held during the winter months, due in a large measure to the initiative of the president, S. J. Drake, and the ready support of the various programme committees.

Cantata Rehearsals.—All who are taking part in the study of Semper's cantata, "The Rolling Seasons," are invited to the next rehearsal on Monday evening next in the church at 8 o'clock sharp. Good progress was made on Tuesday evening last as well as at the regular choir practice last night.

ECZEMA ON LEGS AND ANKLES

Quickly Cured by D. D. D.

Mr. L. W. Corns, 21 Givens St., Toronto, writes of his experience with D. D. D.:
"I was a sufferer for about two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I tried three or four different doctors and none of them did me any good. I then went to a skin specialist and he was no better.
"I happened to see your ad, and am very thankful that I did. I sent for a sample bottle and it did me so much good I sent for a $1.00 bottle, also a cake of soap. That is all I used and I am perfectly well, and I don't think it will return. I have advised several others to use it and the results have been the same."
"Even if you've tried a score of remedies without benefit, D. D. D. doctors and specialists have failed to help you—D. D. D. will relieve that itching torment at once, and will cure you. Just give it a chance and D. D. D. will do for you what we know it has done for so many. C. H. Bowes & Co., Druggists.

Four minute Records for the Edison Phonograph

When Mr. Edison invented the Amberol Records he invented the longest Record ever made for a sound-reproducing machine. But the Amberol Record is not only longer; it is better. It is made from a new composition which makes a more perfect reproduction of music or the voice than any known method.

An Amberol Record in an Edison Phonograph is the most perfect reproduction of a song or a piece of instrumental music that you have ever heard.
But do not accept our statement. Go and hear it. There is a dealer near you. Hear the Edison Phonograph and compare it with other instruments before you decide. We will leave it to your judgment as to whether you can buy anything for the price that will give you so much real, genuine fun and pleasure as the Edison Phonograph.

U. S. SECRETARY OF INTERIOR TESTIFIES
WOMAN DENIES COMPLICITY IN MURDER

Ballinger Brands a Wilful Lie the Statement Made by Former Government Official

Washington, D. C., April 28.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger yesterday went upon the witness stand in the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy investigation.

Ballinger outlined his career in the state of Washington. He laid stress upon his acts as a public servant in the Puget Sound state, particularly with reference to his anti-vice crusade while he was mayor of Seattle.

"They knew that I intended to enforce the law and I did," was his comment on his own acts and the opposition of his political enemies.

Then Ballinger reviewed the circumstances attending his appointment as commissioner of the land office. He said that only repeated solicitation on the part of President Roosevelt, Secretary of the Interior Garfield and Senator Piles of Washington, caused him to become land commissioner.

The witness declared that he did not know there was any such group of claims as the Cunningham claims when he became land commissioner.

Subsequently, he said, he learned that several of his acquaintances were claimants, but added that he did not know Clarence Cunningham, that he had no interest in Alaska lands, directly or indirectly, and had none to do.

Continuing, Ballinger took up the testimony of Louis R. Glavis, former chief of the field division at Seattle. He said:

"Glavis made a deliberate, wilful misstatement when he testified that we had talked over the Alaskan cases in December, 1907 and that I had mentioned several persons. It was a wilful, deliberate lie. I merely talked of the general situation in Alaska."

Declares She Knew Nothing of the Murderer's Plans to Kill Her Husband

Tacoma, Wash., April 29.—Mrs. Martina Kvalshaug, on trial for complicity with Charles F. Newcomb in the murder of her husband, took the stand in her own behalf yesterday. She told the story of her relations with Newcomb, who has been sentenced to life for the murder, but declared that she knew nothing of his plans to kill her husband.

She swore that she had told Newcomb she would have no more to do with him, and that she was going to try to do what she ought to do. This made Newcomb furious, she said, and he declared he would blow her husband's head off. She said she did not think seriously of this threat at all, and further declared that she fired any of the shots that killed her husband.

J. J. HILL'S PREDICTION.

James J. Hill, perhaps the best authority on farming and railroading on this continent, has stated that within a very few years the United States will be compelled to import wheat and flour. He quotes statistics to show that the ratio of the population is increasing much faster than the production of foodstuffs, and draws the conclusion that in a very few years the United States will be importing wheat. He also states that Canada will be the great producing country of the 20th century, and that much of the grain and flour which the Americans will import will be supplied in the Canadian west. In this connection, it is interesting to notice that from 1900 to 1909, 200,000 American farmers are crossing into the Canadian west every year, and securing land, which will set grow wheat that is to supply their old neighbors to the south.

VANCOUVER FATALITY.
 Verdict of Coroner's Jury Which Investigated the Death of Boy.

Vancouver, April 29.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of little Andrew C. Miller, who was killed by a live wire, returned the following verdict:

"That Andrew Clarence Miller came to his death about 4 or 4.30 p. m. on April 25th, by coming in contact with wire of the B. C. Telephone Company, which was exposed to the public, with electricity owing to lines of both the B. C. Telephone company and the B. C. Electric Railway having been brought in contact through the falling of a tree, bringing them to the ground, at the corner of Nanaimo and Pandora streets on the portion of said streets in the townsite of Hastings. We find, according to the evidence, that the tree which caused the damage was liable at any time to fall across the wires. We find, according to the evidence, that owing to the fact that one hour elapsed between the time the wire was exposed to the public and the time the coroner's jury was called into session, the B. C. Electric Railway company and the B. C. Telephone company failed to immediately sending some party or parties to the spot in order to protect the lives of the public, and that such negligence is accounted for by a lack of system in the offices of the said company.

"We strongly recommend that in all cases of wires down reported to either the B. C. Electric Railway company or the B. C. Telephone company at once such company shall notify the police, who are furnished with means of getting to the spot immediately in order to make the wires safe against danger, as it is apparent from the evidence that the said company have no emergency means of offering the same protection. The B. C. Telephone company is included in this recommendation, as we find that in some places they make use of the same poles as the B. C. Electric Railway Company, and thus place their lines in a zone of danger.

"In our opinion the action of Mrs. Cameron in watching the danger zone for so long a period unaided by any one is highly to be commended."

EFFICIENCY OF CANADIAN WORKMEN.
 Canadian Industries Mark Great Advance.

How often one hears the remark, "Oh, we cannot make that in this country!" Without acknowledging the admission of weakness and faint-heartedness implied by such a remark, let us examine it to see what is really the case.

Patriotism, it is said, begins at home, but we can hardly expect that Canadians will buy an article simply because it is "Made in Canada." On the other hand, we do expect that, given an equal quality and price, Canadian-made goods will be purchased by Canadians. It is this mutual interchange that lies at the base of our whole commercial fabric. It is this attitude of "Buy at home but demand the quality" that makes for the development of our Canadian industries and the consequent development of the country as a whole.

If we take the total imports of bicycles and add the total Canadian production to find the total sales, we will discover that fully 80 per cent of the total annual consumption is supplied from the Canadian factories. Patriotism demands the quality. We see the truth of this remark when we recall that such well known wheels as the Cleveland, Massey-Harris, Perfecta, Bradford and Iveshoe are made in Toronto.

Experts estimate that the Canadian quarries, which supply almost the entire demand for lithographic stones, are good for two more centuries.

Ancient Damascus, a city more typically Eastern than Beirut or Constantinople, has its electric street car system and will install arc street lights.

"FRUIT-A-TIVES"
THE FAMOUS FRUIT MEDICINE

Performs Another Miraculous Cure in the City of Toronto

Mrs. Lizzie Baxter was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism. She Suffered tortures for a year in spite of the best medical treatment—Five boxes of "Fruit-a-tives" completely cured her.

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER
 for only by taking "Fruit-a-tives" can you cure yourself of Rheumatism. At all dealers. See a box for $2.50, or trial box 25¢ sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. 4 HOME PLACE, TORONTO, ONT., December 25th, 1909.

"I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism for nearly a year, and my right arm was swollen and the pain was fearful. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could hardly move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians but their medicine did me no good, and I tried numerous other remedies but received no benefit. I was simply a helpless cripple and suffered from Rheumatism all during last winter.

"I saw 'Fruit-a-tives' advertised in the Telegram and decided to try this remedy. After I had taken one box, I was much better and the pain much less, and I continued the treatment with good hopes. When I had taken three boxes, I was so well that I could use my arm again and the pain was practically gone, and after I had taken five boxes, I was entirely well again—no pain—no suffering—and now I am just as well as I ever was.

"The cure of my case by 'Fruit-a-tives' was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me of my suffering.

"For the sake of others who may suffer from this terrible disease, Rheumatism, I voluntarily give you permission to publish this statement."

MRS. LIZZIE BAXTER.

It may be stated, without hesitation, that "Fruit-a-tives" is the only remedy that will actually cure Rheumatism, Sciatica and Lumbago. "Fruit-a-tives" is made from fruit juices, and contains SALICINE obtained from oranges, owing to its marvelous action on the bowels, kidneys and skin—"Fruit-a-tives" prevents the formation of Uric Acid, which is the prime cause of Rheumatism. And with the stomach clean, the liver active, the bowels regular, the kidneys strong and the skin healthy, it is utterly impossible to have Rheumatism. "Fruit-a-tives" is the only medicine in the world that acts directly on all these organs and cures them. There is no other remedy "just the same" as "Fruit-a-tives" or "just as good as Fruit-a-tives" insist on having "Fruit-a-tives" good as Fruit-a-tives. At all dealers. See a box for $2.50, or trial box 25¢ sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa. The original of Mrs. Baxter's letter as well as the original of all other testimonials published by "Fruit-a-tives" may be seen at the office of Fruit-a-tives Limited, 228-230 Bank St., Ottawa, Ontario.

TRAMWAY PLANS.
 New Westminster, April 29.—General Manager R. H. Sperling, of the B. C. E. R., held a conference with Mayor Lee in his workshop's office, during which the latter presented the position of the City in regard to the demand for increased car service and other matters.

The general manager promised an improved car service, including more cars and the "rocking" of all streets where the tracks are above ground.

Among other things Mr. Sperling informed Mayor Lee that it was the intention of the B. C. E. R. to make this city the centre of the Interurban lines of the lower mainland and that the headquarters of the New Westminster-Vancouver, the Burnaby, Louisa Island, and Chilliwack lines would be placed at this city in the new depot building, the construction of which will start in the near future.

The mayor laid the views of the city on the "rocking" of all streets where the tracks are above ground before Mr. Sperling, and also brought up the matter of what would be practically a new agreement between New Westminster and the company in reference to running privileges in this city. Mr. Sperling said that the company was not prepared to remit any privileges granted by statute, but he seemed favorably impressed with the mayor's suggestion.

His workshop also drew attention to the need of a direct car line up the hill and across town necessitating the development of the city. Mr. Sperling promised to send a consulting engineer to New Westminster to go into the scheme to see if such proposed lines were feasible.

New York's newest skyscraper will be thirty-one stories high above the ground, will contain 1,000,000 cubic feet and will have a rentable area of 550,000 square feet.

In the last fiscal year the United States patent office received approximately 52,000 applications, an increase of 4,500 over the year before, and granted about 35,000 patents.

STEAM POWER CAUSES CRIME.
 Remarkable Statement by Italian Professor—Electricity as an Antidote.

Prof. Enrico Ferri, Lombroso's most illustrious disciple in criminal anthropology, in a lecture at Milan attributed the alarming growth of child crime in Italy to steam.

Discussing modern industrialism in relation to youthful crime, he expressed his conviction that the breaking up of family life, degeneracy of the male physique, the engulphment of women and children in "white slavery" and other evils were traceable to the use of steam power.

This appalling state of things, he said, was destined to disappear with the coming reign of electricity, which would be universal when, as science foresaw, man had discovered how to convert the heat of the sun by direct means into electrical energy.

He said that already in parts of the United States and Belgium sewing machine work in factories had been abolished, and women were able to work shorter hours in their own homes with machines driven by electricity.

Within a few years progressive governments would be able to shorten the working time of those employed in industrial occupations and, what was still more imperative from the criminological standpoint, to abolish night work.

Tobacco was grown on over 125 acres in Ireland last year, and the total quantity raised was 135,195 pounds. The largest grower was the Earl of Dunraven, who, on thirty acres of his estate at Adare, raised 2,235 pounds.
