SEARCHERS SAY SUBMARINE WITH CREW ABOARD ON BOTTOM NEAR SOUTH ENGLISH COAST

Position of M-1, Missing Since Yesterday Morning, Believed Discovered Twelve Miles From Start Point, Devonshire; In 240 Feet of Water; Regarded as Impossible to Save Any of Imprisoned Sailors.

Plymouth, Eng., Nov. 13—The giant British monitor-submarine M-1, with sixty-eight officers and men on board, is believed to be lying helplessly on the ocean bed southwest of Start Point, Devonshire, in 240 feet of water.

Word that the submarine, missing since early yesterday, had been found was received from the commander of the searching squadron.

The news carried heart-sinking significance, for it is believed rescue of the crew by divers or attempts to raise the great hull will be impossible because of the tremendous pressure at that depth.

Despite this the trade pact was a popular measure, states Mr. Crandall, and should lead to the development of new lines of trade between the two countries.

MANSON HEARD IN POINT GREY ABDUCTION CASE

Attorney-General Testified His Words Regarding Wong Wrongly Reported in Evidence Preceding His; Supported by Deputy Attorney-General; Verdict by Jury in Vancouver Soon on Charges Against Three Point Grey Police Officials.

Vancouver, Nov. 13—The case against H. O. McDonald, Point Grey police commissioner; John Murdoch, Point Grey chief of police, and Sergeant Percy Kirkham, charged with complicity in the abduction of Wong Foon Sing, Chinese, was given to the jury here at 2 p.m. today.

On his own behalf and that of his brother judges, Mr. Justice Morrison, when charging the jury, said no ulterior influence had been allowed to interfere with the proper discharge of his duty.

He said the trial should not be turned into a problem play. He instructed the jury that no citizen of this country could take the law into his own hands. He stated that if at any time circumstances should bring about a conflict between the duty of an Attorney-General as a servant of the public and his own interests, political or otherwise, the Attorney-General should resign.

The wrong charged in this case was a public wrong, he stated, and the example and evil tendency of such acts struck at the very foundation of the country's civil society.

Great throngs crowded for admission to the trial to-day and only a small proportion could be accommodated in the courtroom. People commenced to gather at 1 o'clock this morning and an hour before the doors opened long queues had been formed.

M. B. Jackson, K.C., was in attendance to-day, but was not called to give rebuttal evidence.

MANSON TESTIFIED

Vancouver, Nov. 13—Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney-General of British Columbia, and his deputy, W. D. Carter, K.C., gave rebuttal evidence for the prosecution this morning against the three Point Grey police officials, Commissioner H. O. McDonald, chief Constable John Murdoch and Detective-Sergeant Percy Kirkham, charged with complicity in the abduction on March 29 of Wong Foon Sing.

Commissioner McDonald's testimony that Mr. Manson, in a conversation in Victoria on April 30, had said: "I am in a very peculiar position. I have to stand on one side and Harry Senkler on the other," and "What about this fellow anyway? Does he want money?" and "Now go to Vancouver and forget that you ever saw me in Victoria," was denied by both Mr. Manson and Mr. Carter. Taking the witness stand at 10:30 o'clock, Mr. Manson, in answer to Prosecutor C. W. Craig, K.C., testified he recalled a conversation with Commissioner McDonald towards the end of April. The Attorney-General said Mr. Carter had come in at the beginning of the conversation after he, Mr. Manson, had telephoned for him.

"Mr. McDonald opened up the subject of the abduction," testified Mr. Manson, "and in substance he had something to say 'I can't say exactly what he said with regard to recovering the Chinaman. I told him we wanted the Chinaman and were prepared to offer a reward for his recovery. I had no idea where he was. I had a suspicion against Robinson. Mr. McDonald said something. He left the impression he was going to say something regarding the abduction.'"

"Confine the witness to what was said," remarked Mr. Justice Morrison to Mr. Craig.

B.C. SHOULD TEACH CHILDREN TO HATE WAR, SAYS MEMBER CITY COUNTERS OBJECTIONS TO EXPROPRIATION

Memorandum Explains Why Expropriation Validation Act Sought

Histories Used in Schools Should Tell of Misery and Profiteering, Says Neelands

In teaching history to its children British Columbia should give them some facts about the misery, suffering and profiteering of the Great War as well as a picture of its heroism. R. H. Neelands, Labor, South Vancouver, declared in the Legislature yesterday in an able speech outlining the ideals of Canadian labor.

"We are talking now of education reform and the history taught in our schools," he said. "Our children, in studying this history, should be told more about the 'Great War' and the suffering and its profiteering. Our children would derive some real advantage if they would just compare the promises made to the people who participated in this war with the treatment that they have received since. That would be history that would be of benefit to humanity as a whole. The promises made to the men who carried on the war have not been fulfilled. To-day we are faced with the spectacle of 'armaments in the newspaper asking even for clothes for our returned men and for other necessities.

"We rightly keep silence for two minutes a year to mark the memory of those who fell in the war. Out of that two minutes we should spare a few seconds to determine in ourselves that we would exert every influence in our power to prevent a recurrence of that event. In this way we would be building a more lasting monument to the men who fell, a monument of benefit to people of the world."

WANTS CAMPAIGN FACTS
 Mr. Neelands challenged the two old-line parties in the recent Federal election to publish an account of their campaign funds showing where they came from and where they were spent. The Labor Party, he said, would be glad to make public its campaign expenses. He wondered, and others wondered, he said, where the two old parties had secured the money so much in evidence in the election contest.

"GROSS BUNGLING"
 After declaring that someone had been guilty of "gross bungling" in handling the construction of the University of British Columbia, Mr. Neelands urged the Government to refuse to carry out such projects itself instead of handing them over to contractors. This plan, he said, would remove the possibility of error in expenditures to a large extent. He quoted records of public works in Britain to support this contention.

Mr. Neelands found nothing unusual in the Government's treatment of interior Doukhobors. The former Conservative Government, he said, had been guilty of the same kind of treatment in handling the Nanaimo strikers. While the Doukhobors had disobeyed the laws of the country the Nanaimo strikers, he said, had sought only to have the laws enforced.

"So far as we are concerned we could and do expect similar treatment from either party," he declared, adding that neither party was capable of government.

Mr. Neelands urged a law whereby motorists would be compelled to carry property insurance. He favored the printing of public school text books by the Government.

Mr. Neelands described the work of the Labor Party in British Columbia as part of a world-wide effort to usher in a new era of peace, contentment and equal treatment for all men.

Sooke
 Sooke Harbor, Nov. 13.—The Sooke Furber of Victoria, gave a very enjoyable evening entertainment on Armistice Day. The lounge hall at Paradise Inn was well filled by the children, their parents and friends. The programme opened with the singing of "Oh Canada" by Miss Johnson's classes, followed by several others. The "Whistling Song," a very interesting, both local and to the point. She acted as accompanist, after which Mr. Howard, the chairman, led his classes in the "Downward Races." In which latter P. Buckley took the soloist part, the rest joining in the chorus. In the second half, the exhibition and recital, given by Miss Forbes, proved very interesting, both local and to the point. She took the triangular trip by the C.N.R., starting from Vancouver, travelling via Prince Rupert, Jasper Park, Athabasca River and back to Vancouver. The slides gave an excellent idea of the province from various scenic points. The exhibition proved most delightful and instructive, and went without a hitch. The chairman on behalf of the audience tendered Miss Forbes a vote of thanks. All rising to the National Anthem ended the pleasant evening.

The Sooke schools took half the proceeds, which will help considerably towards their annual Christmas concert.

There will be basketball on Saturday, November 14, at Charters Hall, where the Sooke "A" team will stack up against Victoria College.

W. Fox has returned to his ranch after visiting in Victoria and Colwood.

To Stop a Cold in One Day
 Take Laxative BROMO QUININE Tablets. The Safe and Proven Remedy. (The First and Original—Cold and Grip Tablet) Signature of E. W. Grove on the box. 30c. Made in Canada. (Advt.)

Items in the said petition the following is submitted:
 Paragraph 2 of the said petition is premature in suggesting injury to adjoining municipalities which cannot reasonably object to paying less than one cent per 1,000 gallons in excess of actual cost to the city, less the cost of eventual replacements and other contingencies being borne by the city.

Paragraph 4 of the said petition, hence the rate of 10 cents to Saanich is reasonable.

Paragraph 5 of the said petition, if the city took 5,000,000 gallons per day from the Esquimalt Waterworks Company for a period of five years, as required by a statute, it would cost the city $547,500, which is approximately one-half of the net purchase price of the whole Esquimalt waterworks under-taking. After this expenditure of $547,000, the city would have absolutely nothing to show for the money.

Paragraph 6 of the said petition, in answer to paragraph seven of the said petition, the water used for city services and the estimated leakage in the distribution system has not been admitted, but has been in fact, in the cost of 9.05 cents per 1,000 gallons.

PRIVILEGES NOT ABUSED
 "In conclusion it is submitted that it is a sound principle of British law that rights and privileges granted by statute will not be violated or taken away unless the same are used in abuse of public rights. The City of Victoria has never abused any of its rights or privileges under the Waterworks Act, but on the contrary has dealt fairly and reasonably with all neighboring municipalities and all neighboring water consumers. It is the desire of the Water Commissioner and of the Mayor and City Council to foster and maintain the fairest and most amicable relations with the neighboring municipalities and other water consumers."

NON-SKID PARAFFIN FOR FILLING FACES
 Paris Beauty Doctors Injecting Coal-oil For Wrinkles

Paris, Nov. 12.—Non-skidding paraffin is the latest hope which Paris beauty doctors are holding out to house with old faces. Under the name of "face lifter" the demand for the new rejuvenated years ago is being met by injecting paraffin under the skin to fill up hollows and wrinkles. Many of the doctors who were once assumed their old-time look because the paraffin slipped, under the hand of a well known actress, the wife of the famous singer, had been forced to get a divorce from him. She said she looked too old when he appeared in public with her. She herself had been worked back into a seemingly young girl under the skillful methods of the beauty doctors. The paraffin was used to take out the seams and furrows of his face melted and ran downward, puffing out his cheeks and jaws.

As the man was well known in Paris, his case was a great tragedy for the "face lifter" because for the paraffin treatment to be work to discover a non-skid way. This they now affirm they have found.

REASONS FOR LEGISLATION
 The acquisition by the city of all the franchise rights of the company and the consolidation of the two water systems will do away with the possibility of any dispute that may arise in the future. These franchise rights cannot be acquired by any means except by legislation. Legislation is required to enable the water company to distribute its capital assets among its shareholders, otherwise it would be contrary to the company's act.

DESIRABILITY OF BARGAIN
 The capacity of the present Sooke Lake pipe line at the present rate of development will be reached within a period of fifteen years. If the city, or sooner, by necessary to the city to acquire other sources of supply (duplication of the existing pipe line from Sooke Lake to the city, apart from any additional headworks necessary, will cost $2,000,000; a sum greatly in excess of the present purchase price of the whole Esquimalt Waterworks undertaking.)

The undertaking of the water company has been acquired by the city at a cost of $1,450,000, which is $550,000 less than the valuation placed thereon by the water commissioner.

The terms of purchase are most reasonable, no immediate cash payment being required. The present revenues from the system are sufficient to provide for the cost of maintenance, interest on the mortgage and all other carrying charges.

VICTORIA WEST
 "The city at present does not and cannot supply Victoria West, a large area within the city limits. This area comes within the jurisdiction of the water company and includes the government-owned Songhees Reserve industrial district.

"The city has power, under its Waterworks Act, to give special low rates to manufacturers and other industries established or that may be established on the old Songhees Reserve.

The acquisition of the water company's undertaking will enable the city to maintain a high water pressure in all high level fire protection areas and other purposes.

"When more water is needed for Victoria and district than the present system will supply, the city can turn to Sooke Lake under the water shed of the Esquimalt Waterworks Company (the shortest route) at a saving in cost of $250,000. To bring to the city from Sooke Lake by means of pipe line an additional amount of water equivalent to the capacity of the present Esquimalt waterworks plant would cost, according to the estimate of the water commissioner, $1,750,000, all of which would require to be borrowed on debenture terms of the city. The acquisition of the waterworks company's undertaking, therefore, obviates the necessity of the foregoing expenditure of $1,750,000."

TIMBER SALE BENEFIT
 The city secures the benefit of a contract made by the waterworks company for the sale of timber on its watershed to produce a revenue of over $400,000. This leaves a net cost to the city of the said undertaking of a little over $1,000,000.

WATER CHARGES
 "The city has purchased the whole of its watershed lands at large expense from various previous owners. In 1924 the wholesale cost of water to the city was 9.05 cents per 1,000 gallons, but this cost does not include the cost of replacements, contingencies or reserve, nor any provision for enlargements of the water supply.

"By the Oak Bay Act, 1911, chapter 71, Oak Bay was authorized to charge Saanich 2 1/2 cents per 1,000 gallons in excess of the cost of water authorized to be acquired under the said Act.

Regarding comparative charges for water to consumers in Victoria and Saanich, the rates are less in Victoria, up to monthly bills for 15,000 gallons, for which $2.40 is charged in both municipalities. Above this amount the rate in Saanich is 12 cents per 1,000 gallons, and in Victoria 17.25 cents per 1,000 gallons.

In reference to the petition of the municipalities of the District of Saanich, the many of the points dealt with in the petition have been dealt with in the foregoing memorandum, but to deal more extensively with certain Statements that came out of yesterday's Public Accounts committee appearing to imply that the Lieutenant-Governor had refused to sanction an Order-in-Council for increased expenditure on the University of B.C. construction at Point Grey were cleared up this morning when Premier Oliver and the Hon. W. H. Sutherland, Minister of Public Works, were called before the committee.

H. F. Kerwin asked Dr. Sutherland whether he knew about the reported Order-in-Council for $50,000 or $50,000 and brought up the question of newspaper reports that His Honor refused this Order-in-Council and would not go further than authorizing the payment of more than $500,000. "There was a debate as to whether we should ask for a large or small amount," Dr. Sutherland replied. "But we decided on the smaller amount. The larger amount was never submitted to His Honor."

"There is a reference to His Honor refusing the Order-in-Council for the larger amount," said Mr. Kerwin, showing newspaper stories about yesterday's evidence.

"If His Honor had refused us anything we asked for then we would not be here," Dr. Sutherland replied. "If he did not take our advice, then we as his ministers would be out."

Dr. Sutherland in reply to other questions said that there had been debate as to the amount that should be asked for.

Mr. Pooley: The amount was changed from $50,000 to $250,000 on the same Order-in-Council.

Mr. Kerwin: But not upon any suggestion from His Honor.

Dr. Sutherland explained that there

In most cases, indigestion results from torpid liver and sluggish bowel action. Tablets for the stomach and aids to digestion fail in this chronic form of indigestion. You must get the filtering and excretory organs right before you can expect permanent relief and this is best accomplished by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Chronic indigestion is a very common condition. On this account many suffer for years not realizing that relief is at hand in the form of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Headaches, biliousness, spells of constipation and diarrhoea are among the accompanying ailments.

What a relief it would be to be free of this condition which makes one feel so miserable and it is so easy by using this well-known regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

was a discussion in the executive as to whether the whole amount should be asked for at once or just such sums as were due from time to time to pay accounts as they came in.

Mr. Hood demonstrated considerable heat when Dr. Sutherland's attention was drawn to an apparent conflict of evidence between Mr. Hood and the deputy minister.

Mr. Phillip had said that he knew nothing about certain Orders-in-Council. Mr. Hood had said he drafted them on orders of the deputy minister.

When Dr. Sutherland said to-day that Mr. Phillip had been out of town when one of the orders was drawn Mr. Hood intervened.

"I say that the records of our department are complete. I say they are complete," he exclaimed rising to his feet.

Chairman Ian Mackenzie asked him to keep cool and Dr. Sutherland made it clear that Mr. Hood could not draw the orders without authority of somebody higher up but it might have been himself or Mr. Phillip's assistant who acted when the deputy minister was away who actually transmitted the instruction.

E. A. Cleveland, of the Lands Department said that on Nov. 6 last he had drawn a memo for the Minister of Lands showing work contemplated on the townsite area of the university lands to cost $700,000. Dr. Sutherland said he had never seen or heard of this memo, but when Mr. Pooley asked if the Comptroller-General had not drawn his attention to it he said his memory might be faulty and he would check up the files.

H. F. Kerwin brought to the attention of the committee what he said were mis-statements in the story appearing in The Vancouver Daily Province last night about what had transpired at the Public Accounts Committee yesterday and which were featured in big headlines.

Mr. Kerwin asked the Premier about the headline statement that "Oliver got money from the bank" and handed over to the Premier a copy of the paper.

The Premier examined the paper and denied that he had ever received any money from the bank in this connection.

Other details of the report appearing in The Vancouver Province were brought up and this caused Ian Mackenzie, chairman, to say:

"I suggest that it is very regrettable that statements have come to the public absolutely misleading before this committee. The inferences in The Province are quite contrary to the facts."

Premier Oliver testified that just prior to the opening of the 1924 session of the Legislature, he asked the Public Works Department what the status of the University account was in order to see whether it was necessary to submit legislation to provide for it.

"I received a memo to the effect that we had approximately a half million less than $2,000,000 for expenditure," the Premier said. "I suggested that legislation was not necessary to increase the amount at that session."

MORE MONEY NECESSARY

"The next time the matter came to my attention was in May, when on my return from the East I was advised that more money was required for the University. A draft Order-in-Council was placed before me for a very large amount, $750,000 or $850,000. I was very much concerned over that information. When this order was placed before me, I directed attention to the conditions of the Audit Act and I asked for further information. In pursuit of that I called Mr. Hood, the chief clerk of the Public Works, and I asked him for an explanation."

"After questioning Mr. Hood I was unable to gather any information that would explain the facts, as Mr. Hood appeared to treat the matter very lightly, saying that it had been in accordance with practice in the department for years while work was being carried on. I told Mr. Hood thusiasm. George Olsen and Will Marshall team up like a pair of partners of long-standing headlining in big time vaudeville. It is a vivacious, bright show, far too good to miss, especially in view of the fact that in addition there is presented the first of the big series of pictures that have been booked for the Coliseum this winter.

A story of unusual merit, published in "The Saturday Evening Post" as "The Man From Ashauna," and later put forth as an extremely popular novel under the same name, is seen at the Coliseum Theatre, an Associated Arts production, "On the Stroke of Three."

Story, cast and direction make or unmake the motion picture drama, and "On the stroke of Three" has the advantage of superb material in all three.
A sterling group of players, headed by Madge Bellamy, Kenneth Harlan and Mary Carr, interpret the action, and F. Harmon Weight, who directed George Arliss in most of his successful pictures, has done brilliant work with the splendid opportunities offered him. The cast also includes such names as John Miljan, Eddie

MILTON SILLS HAS HIGH PRAISE FOR CANADIAN TREATMENT

Canada's woods are strangely quiet these days in the vicinity of Temiskaming, 150 miles north of Ottawa. The reason: the Earl Hudson unit of First National, which was in Canada for six weeks filming lumber scenes in "The Knockout," with Milton Sills in the stellar role, has returned to New York. Practically everybody in the section of Canada visited co-operated with the movie-makers, and anything wanted for the picture was provided without delay.

DIRECTORS STRIVE TO KEEP VISITORS AWAY FROM STUDIOS

One of the multitudinous reasons why motion picture directors object to having visitors on the sets while scenes are being shot, caused a delay in filming "Fifth Avenue Models," Universal-Jewel, in which Mary Philbin is starred in the Playhouse Theatre all the week.

One of the big scenes in the picture shows a style show in the atelier of a modiste and on the floor was laid a great oval mirror in which the mannequins paraded to show the beautiful gowns they wore, the reflection being virtually as clear as the real object.

The mirror was sunken a little from the main floor of the salon, the reflection made this unnoticeable and consequently a pon-

"THE WILD BULL'S LAIR" NOW SHOWING AT COLUMBIA-HERE

Fred Thomson and Silver King appear in "The Wild Bull's Lair," now showing at the Columbia Theatre. Fred Thomson and his world famous horse, Silver King, in a set of situations that would delight a dyspeptic and make even a Chinaman smile!

And with it all the most phenomenal fight ever screened, in which Thomson battles bare-handed against a wild bull crossed with the bison strain in a heroic display of brawn, speed and skill against maddened brute force.

STRIKING COSTUMES ARE DESIGNED BY MAE MURRAY FOR PICTURES

The dazzling and original costume creations of Mae Murray have established her as one of the best dressed women in America. Every picture in which the piquant actress appears brings forth new and lavish designs in dresses and gowns, most of which she designs herself. The peak of her artistic ability and originality is reached in her extensive wardrobe for "The Merry Widow," the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture directed by Erich von Stroheim, which plays at the Dominion Theatre all this week.

Set with all these lavish and exotic creations which she always wears before the camera, Mae Murray is quite a different person when she enters her home. Simplicity of dress and expression of self are the home because it is restful. In her personal wardrobe are many costumes of Japanese effects made of Chinese brocades.
The wedding dress and lingerie she wears in "The Merry Widow," for instance, are extremely frilly, frothy, and lavish affairs — she deserves special mention. The former contrary to present day trend is very full and falls almost to the ankle, being of a very exotic ivory color scheme. The underskirt of crepe de Chine hangs just below the knee and the lace bodice is piped with the same material.

SCHUBERT OPERETTA IS PRODUCTION OF UNUSUAL CHARACTER

What has already proven to be a musical event of very unusual order is the Messrs. Schubert's production, "Blossom Time," a musical play which is being produced by the engagement of three days at the Royal Theatre, commencing Thursday, with a Saturday matinee.

The book and lyrics of "Blossom Time" are by Dorothy Donnelly, adapted from the original by A. W. Willner and H. Reichert. The musical score is made up in great part from music melodies of Franz Schubert and H. Berle, adapted by Sigmund Remberg.

The story of "Blossom Time" deals with the incidents in the life of the famous Viennese composer, Franz Schubert. The original of the story was a semi-fiction which appeared shortly after the composer's death. All the three scenes of this musical play are laid in Vienna — in 1826. A singularly able singing and acting company will present "Blossom Time" for the extraordinary engagement. Among the important members of the cast will be Mary Powell, Arthur Huson, Lillian Wagner, Jeanne Denison, Allen Mathes, Joan Bernard, William Sellers, Dorris Miller, Ray Greene, Mary Stockwell, Sano Masovoy, Ruth Meyer, Hans Herbert, Donald Black, Erba Robinson, George Huntington and Don McLuskie.

And Comfort for Owners of Ford, Chevrolet, Star and Overland Cars With 30 x 3½ Rims

THERE'S a long, slippery, icy, rough road stretching ahead of you the next four or five months. Better start thinking now what Goodyear 31 x 4.40 Balloons will do for you and your car.

Ever skid on winter roads? Here's the famous All-Weather Tread, the world's finest anti-skid. And more of it — the full, broad tread of the balloon. Ever pitch and gallop over ruts and bumps of snow and ice? The Goodyear 31 x 4.40 flows over them — makes winter roads like summer pavements.

Better decide now for safety and comfort this winter.

Cost? Very little more than you're paying for ordinary cords. Wear? They're built from Goodyear SUPER-TWIST, the new, long-mileage cord fabric. Change your wheels? Not for these balloons — they go right on the wheels you're using. Have to buy four new tires? No — if you want to, get two for the rear wheels now, two for the front wheels later.

Where? From any Goodyear Selected Dealer.

Goodyear means Good Wear

P.S. — Goodyear Balloons in other sizes for other cars have all these advantages also.

WOODWARD ASKS HOUSE TO PUT P.G.E. INTO HANDS OF NON-POLITICAL COMMISSION

Vancouver Liberal Asks Legislature to Curb Government's "Wasteful, Extravagant and Insane" Administration of Railway; Suggests Controlling Body of Three Men, Headed by Present Manager and Urges Completion to Prince George; Problem Will Bankrupt B. C. if it is Not Solved, He Warns; House Rocks as He Flays Bungling in Quaint Language.

That the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, victim of the Oliver Government's "wasteful, extravagant and insane" administration, be placed immediately in the hands of an independent, non-political commission was the suggestion laid before the Legislature yesterday by Charles Woodward, after the senior Vancouver Liberal member had roundly condemned bungling in British Columbia's railway problem.

Mr. Woodward proposed that Thomas Kilpatrick, manager of the P.G.E., be made chairman of the new non-political commission and that two more members be appointed to support him. "With three men in this way we could get somewhere because we could pay proper salaries by the savings we could effect," he declared. "I hope the Government will take hold of the question energetically. This is not a political question. The question we face is whether we are going bankrupt or not. It will bankrupt us if we don't solve the P.G.E. problem." Mr. Woodward added that establishment of a P.G.E. commission was his own idea and he had not discussed it with anyone.

Mr. Woodward's proposal, which was unexpected enough to take the Legislature's breath away, came after the Vancouver member had rendered the House speechless with laughter a dozen times as he delved in picturesque language into British Columbia's troubles. "Time and time again the House was turned into pandemonium as Mr. Woodward quaintly informed the House that if he did his business along the lines adopted by the Government he would be in the asylum; that the Government's handling of the P.G.E. was "insane" and that while some people imagined the Government had "lost its nerve" in facing the P.G.E. situation he for his part could not imagine the Government losing its nerve at anything.

Many influential people favored scrapping the P.G.E., Mr. Woodward said, adding that he could not understand this attitude. Such a plan, he said, would work an extreme hardship on people living along the railway. Uncertainty about the line's future, he asserted, was injurious to the settlers and to the Government. BIG RESOURCES

He quoted Thomas Kilpatrick, manager of the P.G.E., as declaring that vast resources were tributary to the P.G.E. About 20,000,000,000 feet of timber were tributary to the line, he said, and without the railway, this could not be exploited. He calculated that 3,000,000 carloads of timber could be taken out of the P.G.E. country. This timber would be worth $20,000,000, he stated. Marketing of this timber in Canada was impeded, he said, because of the difficulty of taking freight from the P.G.E. line to transcontinental railroads. If the Government-owned line were built into Prince George and connected with the Canadian National Railways, however, interior B.C. products could be shipped along the P.G.E. and thence to any part of Canada.

BIG MINERAL WEALTH
Mr. Woodward told of mineral wealth in the P.G.E. country, urging that mineral prospects be developed. Freight rates on the P.G.E., said Mr. Woodward, are too high and stifle development.

"We're not encouraging people to stay in that country, we're driving them out," he said, urging a reduction of twenty-five per cent in P.G.E. rates. This would reduce Government revenue by only $75,000 a year and would increase business on the line very largely.

"Why isn't the Premier an advocate of lower freight rates?" asked H. D. Twiss, Conservative, Victoria.

"Certainly, and we know the results," Mr. Woodward retorted. "We in Vancouver know anyway—look at our elevators in Vancouver. You in Victoria would never have had any elevator without the Premier's fight." PLENTY OF NERVE

Mr. Woodward confessed that he could not understand why the Government had stopped building the P.G.E. before it was completed. A prominent Liberal, he said, had told him that the Government had "lost its nerve."

"Imagine this Government losing its nerve at anything," he explained. "The railway was greatest with the finest outburst of applause and desk thumping from all sides of the House."

"The business management in building the road was wasteful, extravagant and insane" Mr. Woodward went on when the laughter had subsided. "If you and I, Mr. Speaker, managed our business the way the Government did in the P.G.E. work we would be put in an asylum!"

Again pandemonium broke loose. HAS MANY FIGURES
Mr. Woodward presented exhaustive figures on the cost of building the P.G.E. into Prince George. These he had calculated from himself. "The Government can't run a railroad or be assessed as a commission to operate the P.G.E."

U.S. Newspaper Publishers Met

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Nov. 12.—With a unanimous vote to repeat the convention next year, probably in the Middle West, the first annual Fall meeting of the American Newspaper Publishers Association ended its three-day session here yesterday. Lafayette Young, publisher of The Des Moines Capital, presented the motion and his suggestion that some middle western city be chosen for next year's November meeting was taken under advisement by the board of directors.

"Better advertising" was the keynote of the final business meeting. It was urged by speakers that publishers take more care in aiding local merchants to prepare effective and typographically pleasing advertising copy. Among the speakers on the advertising topics were Don Bridge of The Indianapolis News, William Donohue of The Chicago Tribune, Louis Wiley of The New York Times and R. E. Lent of The Pacific Daily News. Mr. Wiley particularly emphasized the need for having department store advertising contain bona fide shopping news and urged publishers to encourage this feature in advertising.

A Radio Message from Santa Claus

Station X M S Polar Regions

Dear Children,—I am just about to commence my long journey from the land of ice and snow. On my way I shall call at the various trading posts belonging to the Hudson's Bay Company and so it will be a little time before I can reach my headquarters in Victoria. In the meantime ask mother to take you to see all the wonderful toys which I have sent in advance to Toytown at the Hudson's Bay Company's Store. Be on the look out for further messages from me. I shall soon be able to tell you exactly when I shall arrive in Victoria.

Yours for a Merry Christmas

TO-MORROW'S HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble. SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 14. This day may be memorable for a sudden visitation of a radical nature difficult to forecast. Under the solar trine to Uranus the unplanned and unexpected are liable to materialize, unconventional. With certain malefic influences from Mars and Mercury, it is enjoined that every care be taken to avoid rash and precipitate actions. Disputes and litigation might bring disaster, and change should be embraced cautiously. Those whose birthday it is may have a year of important events, but should act in all enterprises with deliberation and forethought. Avoid law and quarrels, and sign papers with care. A child born on this day is likely to be rash and impetuous, but should make strong friends of ready assistance. The sexes predict a sudden and romantic marriage for a female born on this day. Craigflower P.T.A.—A 500 card party will be held to-night at 8 p.m. at Craigflower School under the auspices of the Craigflower P.T.A. Good prizes will be given and refreshments served. Primrose Lodge—Primrose Lodge, Daughters and Maids of England, will meet this evening at Harmony Hall. Members are requested to bring their work for the coming bazaar.

NORTHERN HOTEL IS FINED $400 Proprietor Convicted of Selling Liquor on Thanksgiving Night Seth Chamberlain, proprietor of the Northern Hotel, was fined $400 and a stock of beer and other liquor was ordered confiscated by the magistrate in the city police court this morning. The evidence secured by Sergeant Bolton and police officers on Monday evening, when they raided the Northern Hotel, was sufficient to convict the proprietor of selling liquor. Chamberlain pleaded guilty through W. C. Moreby, who urged that a minimum fine be imposed. One of those found in the rooms of the hotel, a man named Wilson, was charged with drinking liquor in a room of the hotel. He was actually a registered guest of the place and his room was room 9. Unfortunately for him the police found him drinking in room 12. In order to hide the evidence Wilson drank what was left of his beer while police officers watched him. Mr. Moreby, following the imposing of the $400 fine, said that the court had no power to confiscate the liquor. He argued his point but Magistrate George Jay would not uphold him.

Twenty-Fifth Avenue house on the night of the removal of the Chinaman to the bush on Marine Drive, Mr. Craig asked: "If Wong was arrested there what use did you have for Norton? Norton accompanied Wong in the automobile and Norton said he held the Chinaman until the latter was taken in charge by Chief John Murdoch." "I can't answer that," said Commissioner McDonald. "I never heard of it," said the witness. "I never heard of it," said the witness. "I never heard of it," said the witness.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and Susie's Penny

Copyright, 1925, McClure Newspaper Syndicate (By Howard R. Garis)

Uncle Wiggily, with Sammie Little, the rabbit boy, Jingle, who was a little rabbit girl, and a nice old monkey gentleman were standing inside a hollow tree house...

"Oh, what do you suppose is going to happen?" cried Jingle. "I don't know," answered Uncle Wiggily. "On these adventures of mine you never can tell what will take place."

"If I could only blow this horn," puffed Sammie, making his cheeks look like balloons as he tried hard. "I could call the Police Dog and he could tell us what makes this woodshed act so funny."

"Never mind your old horn!" exclaimed Jingle. "I can tell you what is the matter, without blowing for the Police Dog."

"What is it, matter, my dear?" asked Uncle Wiggily, who was a bit worried lest his woodshed fall apart.

"It's the elephant," reported Jingle, looking out through the key-hole in the door, which was closed. "The circus elephant is rubbing up against this woodshed and he is making it shake and lift up off the ground."

"Poor fellow—I suppose he is cold," said Uncle Wiggily. "Elephants don't like winter, you know," he explained.

"I don't, either," chattered the old monkey gentleman. "I can't ask the elephant in," went on Mr. Longears, looking at the small size of the woodshed room.

"Then please ask him to go away and shiver somewhere else," suggested Jingle. "Ask him to shiver against the side of a hill—it won't matter if he shakes the hill."

"So Uncle Wiggily opened the door a little way, and politely twinkling his pink nose at the elephant the rabbit gentleman said:

"Would you mind kindly leaning up against a side-hill to shiver and shake? Besides, if you don't like it here, now that it is snowing, why don't you go down South where they have no winter? Why don't you?"

"Thanks, I will," spoke the elephant, "I never thought of that. I'll go to Palm Beach."

"Take me with you?" begged the monkey gentleman. "Right glad will I do that," said the elephant. So he lifted the monkey up on his back, by his trunk, and as they were starting off Sammie again tried to blow the horn.

"But it won't too!" said the little rabbit boy.

"Let me try," suggested the elephant. He took the horn in his trunk, and, putting one end in his mouth, he breathed hard and the horn went 'toot-toot'.

"It was just frozen up a bit," said the elephant. And truly enough, he blew out a lot of snowflakes. By this time the snow was blowing in the open door of the woodshed, and Uncle Wiggily said they had all better hurry to his bungalow to get warm.

So the elephant and the monkey said good-bye to their friends, and the three rabbits jumped across the snow, making funny marks in the white surface. Uncle Wiggily leading Sammie and Jingle.

Just as they reached the bungalow they saw Susie, who was Sammie's sister. She was hopping around in the snow crying.

"What's the matter?" kindly asked Sammie.

"I—now—I—lost my penny!" sobbed Susie.

"Never mind," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "I am going to buy a snow shovel. I'll toss away the snow and find your penny." Come on to the shovel store with me. They started off, hopping so fast that they were quite warm now, when all of a sudden, the two of them stumbled and fell and the next moment they felt themselves sliding rapidly along, going faster and faster, the wind whistling in their ears.

"Oh, now what is going to happen?" cried Susie.

"We shall just have to wait and see," answered Uncle Wiggily. And that is what you will have to do unless you can get the postman to bring you to-morrow's paper to-day—for to-morrow I shall tell you all about it.

Now what is going to happen?" cried Susie.

Nothing Spectacular In English Football

Sunderland Expected to Hold Top Place After Meeting Leicester City; Huddersfield and Aston Villa Should Provide Feature Match; St. Mirren Cutting Big Figure in Scottish Soccer as Well as Paisley and Motherwell

London, Nov. 13 (Canadian Press Cable)—Scheduled encounters in the First Division of the English Football League on Saturday are not of such nature as to unduly arouse the excitement of the fans, for in the main they bring the leading teams into conflict with those that are mediocre. For Sunderland, still enthroned in the place of honor, the task ought not to be difficult. They travel to Leicester for the first engagement of these teams this year. Leicester City arrived in the senior string from the Second Division this season. In this company they have not fulfilled all that was expected of them.

The leaders themselves have left much to be desired for it is all three weeks since they acquired full points. Arsenal have the advantage of locale in their tourney with Bury, and additional to this they find them selves traveling in good form. Their last two games have been won in decisive fashion, while out of the last seven played Bury have obtained the points in only one.

HOTSPURS HAVE HARD GAME

Tottenham Hotspurs are up against a hard proposition when they travel to the Tyne-side to engage Newcastle. Few would be surprised if the Spurs, who have been a trifle shaky for the last five weeks were to succumb to the Northumbrians.

A battle is slated for Villa Park when the home club take on Huddersfield Town.

Other Encounters
Manchester City at Bolton.
Sheffield United at Burnley.
Cardiff City at Leeds.
West Bromwich at Liverpool.
Birmingham at Manchester United.
Everton at Nottingham.
Blackburn Rovers at West Ham.

Second Division
Derby County at Fulham.
Barnsley at Middleborough.
Southampton at Oldham.
Luton Orient at Portsmouth.
Portvale at Preston.
Darlington at Sheffield Wednesday.

Glasgow, Nov. 13 (Canadian Press Cable).—Soccer fans here continue to watch the fortunes of St. Mirren, the dazzling play of the Paisley team being the feature of the entire season and indeed, coupled with the sparkling show of Motherwell, the biggest sensation of a number of seasons. The old drumming to "keep your eye on Paisley" is now applied to more than politics, for to all present appearances the Paisley club is headed straight for the Scottish League championship.

Saturday they play St. Johnstone, a task that should be effected with the utmost ease.
Motherwell Meet Hearts
Motherwell is more likely to stub their toe, for they go east to Edinburgh to pit themselves against Hearts, of Midlothian, at Tynecastle Park. Celtic, who seemed to have regained their stride, visit Kirkcaldy to fill their schedule engagement with Raith Rovers.

Other games are:
Falkirk at Clydebank.
Aberdeen at Dundee United.
Thornhill at Hamilton.
Queen's Park at Greenock Morton.
Kilmarnock at Partick.
Bradford City at South Shields.

Wednesday Soccer Loop Now Classified As Outlaw League

First Division Players Must Not Play With Mid-week Clubs, L.I.F.B. Rules

All First Division football players are warned not to play with any Wednesday League football team as the result of a ruling given out by the Lower League Football Board at their weekly meeting in the Y.M.C.A. on Wednesday night.

Arrangements of the Sons of England team in the Saturday League, was before the meeting for playing with Kirkhams in the mid-week loop. As he was ignorant of the rules he was dismissed with a cautioning. The Wednesday League is now an outlaw organization. It is not affiliated with the British Columbia Football Association. Several of the First Division players have been playing on the Wednesday League clubs, but this is the first time it has been brought to the notice of the League. The Sons of England, was also on the carpet for talking back to Referee Payne in the match with the United Services a couple of weeks ago. He was sent off the field by the referee for arguing. He was dismissed, but in future cases of this nature the board intends to take severe measures.

Edmonton Franchise Will Not Move; Ty Arbor Will Play With Vancouver Maroons

Pittsburg, Nov. 13.—The Pirates, professional hockey club, held their first workout of the season last night, with Alf Skinner and Berlinquette taking part. Skinner, who was in the Montreal Maroons, and Berlinquette, who was in the Montreal Canadiens, are the only players who were in the team at the time.

Edmonton, Nov. 13.—Edmonton will keep its professional hockey team this winter. The decision of Manager Ken MacKenzie to keep the team in Edmonton, instead of moving the team to Regina is contingent upon the sum of $10,000 being raised through the advance sale of tickets by noon on Saturday, but has already been pledged, the objective is practically certain to be realized.

An enthusiastic meeting of eight attended by between three and four hundred fans, a booster's club was formed.

Calgary, Nov. 12.—Ty Arbor will play professional hockey for Portland this winter. That was the belief of the Calgary yesterday evening. It was reported that Ty Arbor was to be boarded the train at Port Colborne, Ont., and return to Calgary for the winter.

Arbor played for a number of seasons with the Edmonton Eskimos, and last season performed for the Vancouver Club.

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Ty Arbor will play with the Vancouver Maroons this season, stated Frank Patrick, manager of the Maroons, in a dispatch that Arbor would play with Portland and Vancouver Rowing Club until the collegians have a bathhouse.

Sixty collegians are expected to turn out for a six-round bout between Vancouver Rowing Club and the collegians here for next year's competitions.

Services Will Make Their Rugby Debut

Combined Forces Will Take on Oak Bay at Willows to-morrow; Reported to Have Very Powerful Line-up; Oaks Think They Will Win League if They Can Stop Services; Three Intermediate Games

United Services made their first appearance of the season in the Senior Rugby League to-morrow afternoon. They are expected to meet the smart young fifteen which sports the colors of Oak Bay. The team will meet at the Willows and the kick-off will be at 3 o'clock.

The Services are reported to have a team that for weight and strength will make the other clubs fold up like concertinas. They have some fine forwards that knock the scales dizzy for 200 pounds apiece. They are backed up by a smart lot of three-quarter backs. They are also in good condition, as physical training happens to be part of the daily regimen of the men in the service.

The Oak Bays will have their little hands full handling this massive crowd. The Bays defeated the Maroons, but a telegram from Frank Patrick advised him to proceed to Portland for the same salary.

Arbor played for a number of seasons with the Edmonton Eskimos, and last season performed for the Vancouver Club.

Sixty collegians are expected to turn out for a six-round bout between Vancouver Rowing Club and the collegians here for next year's competitions.

Foley Begins His Quest of a Fight With Bantam King

Jack Allen Leaves For South With His Fine Little Boxer; Fight in Portland

Party Will Then Go To California To Seek Scrap With Best Men There

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Out of Vancouver Wednesday night the pride of local pugilism rolled on its way to a shot at the world's bantam title. The ship was piloted by John Taylor Allen and surrounding the Canadian title-holder, Vic Foley, were Bud Davies, Harvey Holliday and Jack Reddek. Until the snows of Winter and the hockey players are chased away by the sunshine and rains of Spring, this little party expects to seek the lucrative duet in the South and the East.

To each of the little group surrounding the champion is assigned a role. Allen will do the matchmaking and the collecting. Davies and Holliday will box with Foley and take what shots are offering, and Reddek has a new Chrysler car and a desire to keep moving. He has his own sparring partner and Allen will look after his interests too.

NATIONALISTA PASSES BOUT
It was understood that Foley would fight Nationalista at Portland on November 20, when that active young Filipino out-boxed Goldstein Tuesday night. But Joe Waterman, official match-maker for the Portland commission, informed Allen over the telephone yesterday that Nationalista positively declined to box Foley.

This young man was severely trounced by Foley not long since in Seattle. He isn't having any more, apparently.

Waterman offered Foley $1,000 to box Bud Riley over the ten-round bout instead. Allen can't see any real value in beating Riley again, but will take the shot, as the financial inducement is not bad.

There will be no more fights at the Arena until next Spring unless Allen succeeds in inducing Bobby Eber to come West.

Victoria Amateur Hockey League To Hold Annual Meet

Meeting Will Be Held at the Chamber of Commerce Monday Night

On Monday night at 8 o'clock the annual meeting of the Victoria Amateur Ice Hockey League will be held in the Chamber of Commerce, according to an announcement made this morning by President George I. Warren. The officers will be elected for the coming year and other important business will be discussed.

All amateur hockey players in the city are invited to attend and select their officers. Preliminary arrangements with the Arena officials have already been made by the retiring officers and they are favorable to the amateur league.

It is expected that the opening games of the season will be played the first week in December. At the meeting President Warren will give a report on the annual meeting of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association held in Vancouver recently. Considerable discussion took place at this gathering on a suggestion of international games between Canadian and American amateur clubs. Preliminary arrangements had already been made for a series of games between a Victoria team and a club from Portland but according to a ruling made by the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association it is understood that this gathering will be postponed.

McLarnin Stows Away Former Olympic King In Los Angeles Ring

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—Jackie Fields, former Olympic featherweight champion, was knocked out in the second round of a scheduled ten-round fight here last night by Jimmy McLarnin, Vancouver, B.C., bantamweight.

Fields made a good showing in the first round and even had an edge over his opponent in that session, but in the second McLarnin caught him with a right to the chin that spun him like a top and flopped him against the ropes.

Fields tried to continue the fight, but three more rights knocked him to the canvas and a fourth laid him cold for the count.

First Division Clubs Clash In Cup Series

Three Matches Scheduled To-morrow in Third Round of Combination Cup; Wests Meet James Island, Esquimalt Clash With Sons of England and United Services and Victoria United Tangle; Veterans Have Bye; One Junior Match; Esquimalt Juniors to Play Exhibition

With the Victoria Wests, United Services and Esquimalt tied for the leadership the third round of the Combination Cup series scheduled for to-morrow afternoon should prove interesting. Last week the Wests and United Services each suffered their initial defeat of the series, the former at the hands of the Sons of England, while Esquimalt accounted for the Services. Competition in this series is proving keen and the teams seem to be very evenly matched.

One Day—Two Aces

Lewis Scott Turns Unusual Golf Feat Out On Coast.

A cracking good match should be seen at Beacon Hill between Esquimalt vs. Sons of England at 12:30 o'clock. The Sons, jubilant over their victory last week over the Wests, are after another scalp. The Esquimaltians have a formidable club, composed of several youngsters and a number of veterans. Esquimalt will have their usual strong club out and they will be a tough proposition for the Sons to handle.

At the Central Park the Services and Victoria United will meet. The forces will have all their regular players back in the fold, including Coulter, who has been out of the game with a bad leg secured at James Island three weeks ago. The United hold James Island to a draw last Saturday, and now they are after their first victory of the series.

The teams will be as follows:
Victoria Wests—Lindsay Copas, Dinn, Paesroth, Thomas, Popham, Sherratt, Mulcahy, Wright, Ned and Butler.
Reserves, S. Sherratt, Baker and Lupton.
Esquimalt—James Island to a draw last Saturday, and now they are after their first victory of the series.

Esquimalt—Nicol J. Watt, Mesher, Hosmer, Lestley, Hay, Stewart, J. Watt, P. Watt, Warren and Davis.
Victoria United—Jillman, White, Newlands, Downs, Moulton, Williams, Saville, Auchinclove, Essler, Groves and Allen.

The Veterans have drawn a bye in this Pacific Coast Football League to-morrow. The redshirts will be secured their bye just when it was needed. At present six of their players are on the injured list. Noble Clark, McCormick, Edwards, Joe Clark and Preston, who received injuries last week in Vancouver against St. Saviour's, are all progressing well and will be in first-class condition after another week's rest.

One junior league soccer match will be played to-morrow between the Veterans and Saanich Thistles at Beacon Hill, upper grounds, commencing at 12:45 o'clock. In the last meeting these teams played to a draw.

The Esquimalt junior football eleven will play an exhibition match on Saturday afternoon against the Navy at the canton grounds, starting at 2:30 o'clock.

The Esquimalt team will be as follows: Banks, Sweeney, Warland, A. N. Oler, Cochran, Smith, Thompson, Rickards, Burnett, Bala and Chandler. Reserves, S. Smith and McParlane.

SAYS GROUP GAINS TREMENDOUS POWER IN FEDERAL HOUSE

Can Choose Country's Government, Says Woodsworth

Coming before a public meeting held in the New Thought Temple here last night, J. K. Woodsworth, member at Ottawa for Winnipeg, and one of the shining lights to the Labor Party in Canada to-day, asserted that at the last session of Federal House a little group of less than a dozen men was formed, and that with the present balance of power between the two great parties this group would virtually control the affairs of the nation.

It was known as the "Ginger Group," he said, and was composed of men who had broken away from party strongholds. This group was able, he claimed, to decide which of the greater parties would rule in the Parliament in the next few years.

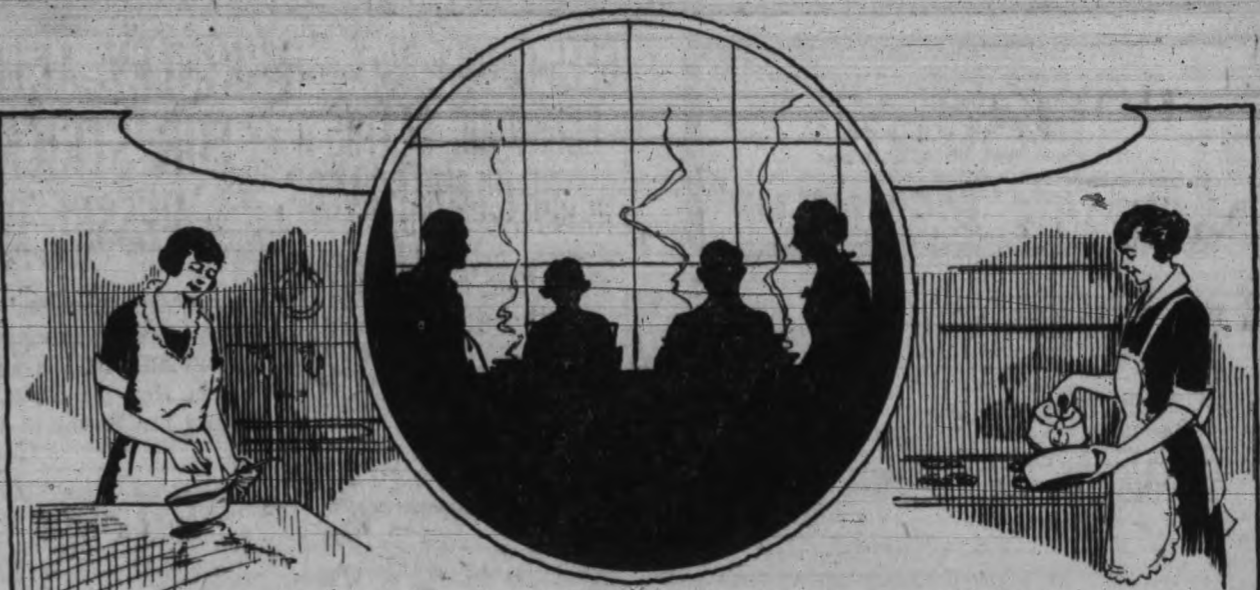

AN ADJUSTMENT
"The entire House of Commons," said Mr. Woodsworth, "should rule Canada."
For this reason the present situation was ridiculous, Mr. Woodsworth declared. It was time that an adjustment of Government machinery was absolutely essential.

"There's no use talking," he said, "we are getting away from realities. Governing the country, our present system of politics, is simply a game for power. That is not what it ought to be. The dominance of the old party machine is wrong. But I personally would like to see the Labor Party have a chance at governing Canada."

WILL GO BACK
Mr. Woodsworth pointed, at one juncture, to the political situation in Great Britain. The Labor Party had held office without power once, and they would go back again, he said, and would then have the power necessary to carry out the government of the country.

The Conservative party originated as a distinctly class representative organization. The Liberal Party originated amongst another class, the manufacturers and traders, in the same way. The Labor Party, he said, was representative of a class that has only had the franchise for a few generations, Mr. Woodsworth said.

FINANCIAL SITUATION
Mr. Woodsworth spoke for a long period on the financial question in Canada. He told of the lengthy discussion of the Bank Act three years ago in the House at Ottawa, and how this had been changed and revised as well as possible. He spoke of the functions of the banks, speaking of them as safety deposit places and as "high-class pawn brokers." They also controlled credit. But they had the power to starve the people in the country where they exist. There were four banks, he asserted, which did seventy per cent of the business that was, thirty years ago, divided amongst over thirty banks.

SOCIALISM
Socialism was a word that frightened some people, said Mr. Woodsworth, but in reality, he added, it was a principle or a theory, he asserted, which urged that the power of control of business and industry should be in the hands of the public, and not in the hands of the few.

The little store owners and manufacturers who were being forced to the wall under competition, were saying that they must band together and "smash" this combination. The laborer said the same thing when machinery came to take away the work he had done with his hands many years ago. "We will smash them," he said.

Both the laborer and the manufacturer who was being injured, and who wanted to "smash" that which hurt him, was wrong, said Mr. Woodsworth.

"Don't smash them," he said, "but control them."

UNITY OF WORLD
Concluding, Mr. Woodsworth said that the countries were becoming interdependent. In setting a breakfast table one needed the help of the world, he said. The individualistic community was no longer self-contained. The health of any one part was necessary for the continued health of the remainder.

Mr. Woodsworth scored the idea of a protective tariff on these grounds. Trade came through a passing in and out of commerce, he said. It was essential that this interchange of commodities between the countries of the world should continue.

The cause of conflict was economic, the speaker said. It was not one man who caused a war, until the present order of society was changed, and the rule was co-operation instead of competition, the world would not be right. The Labor Party would try to accomplish this.

Prince of Wales Expected to Visit Ireland in 1926

Dublin, Nov. 12.—The question as to when the Prince of Wales is likely to make his long contemplated visit to the Irish Free State has been revived here. The belief prevails that in all probability he may be expected early next year, although no official announcement has yet been made.

In connection with his visit, the question also is being discussed as to how far the services of the Prince may be utilized for international considerations. Apart from his prospective visit to Ireland it is thought here that if the Locarno pact is ratified the British Government may consider it advisable before a great while that he also should pay a visit to Germany.

MUCH SHOUTING AT MEETING OF K.K.K.

Klan's First Attempt in Vancouver Was Occasion of Frequent Heckling

Vancouver, Nov. 12.—Under surveillance of a small army of police, recruited from the city, municipal, Provincial, Federal and C.P.R. forces, the invisible Empire of Kanadian Knights of the Ku Klux Klan held a public lecture in the Hotel Vancouver last night.

Except for verbal interruptions which at times were made in such volume from the large audience of citizens who had gathered for a thrill that the chairman was delayed in his introductions of United States Klan speakers, the affair was uneventful. No hoods or gowns were in evidence and the speakers, chief among whom was Dr. K. K. Allen, of Portland, Oregon, avoided a direct appeal for membership and devoted themselves entirely to denial of charges that the Klan took the law into its own hands. Hecklers based their objections to

Eddie Hubbard Tells of Award on Arrival Last Night to Meet Ms. Aorangi

BANKRUPT SALE OF GROCERIES A gigantic sale of the entire stock of Groceries and fixtures of Acton Bros., 1317 Douglas Street

A general demand for a more costly mode of life with something of the luxury of western civilization has brought the Japanese to the position where labor costs are rising and the actual cost of necessities higher than ever before, according to L. W. Strawn, returning to-day on board the liner President McKinley after three years in the Far East.

Ten days out from Yokohama in the service of the Admiral Oriental line the liner President McKinley docked at 7.15 o'clock this morning to set ashore 270 tons, some passengers and mails here. Capt. Alvin O. Lustie reported a fine passage.

Mr. Hubbard arrived at 3 p.m. yesterday for a small parcel of mails from the R.M.S. Aorangi bound from the Antipodes, and with late U.S. mails for the C.P.S.S. Empire of Asia which arrived at 5 p.m. to clear for sea, in the Orient run.

While locked in the Arctic with a million-to-one chance of the ice opening to let her through to her home port, the S.S. Bychimo, northern trading tender of the Hudson Bay Company, had a stern fight to secure wireless attention, it was learned to-day.

Jazz music and election talks from all over the continent came in strong, while broadcast stations in England were also heard, but for weary hours the Bychimo's spark set jammed away at the air without response. It was not until the universally respected "S.O.S." call went on the air that the Bychimo was able to get in touch with her, and then an avalanche of responses followed.

Several aereal developments of major or minor significance are under way in the United States, states Mr. Hubbard. One is the proposed operation of the Chicago-New York day and night airway by interests as a commercial enterprise.

Such an event would have been of incalculable importance to the Siberian trade, which has been the Siberian coast.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Winnipeg, Nov. 13—Increased export trade proved to be the feature of the wheat market here to-day, although an early price advance of three cents was not maintained.

The strong cables brought buying orders at the opening, which were undoubtedly for exporters. Exporters stated that acceptances overnight had been large, but that the trade was mostly pool selling.

There was an excellent class of buying of barley to-day, credited to exporters and prices advanced substantially. The oats and rye markets were dull.

The cash wheat market was active. Tough wheat was also taken in good quantity.

AUSTRALIANS WELCOME NEW TRADE PACT

Winnipeg, Nov. 13 (By R. P. Clark & Co. Limited)—Wheat—Strong cables combined with a big export business and considerable short covering carried wheat prices up about three cents during the first part to-day, but the advance was too rapid and as the demand became satisfied prices came off and final figures were only 1c to 1 1/2c higher.

THE TIME-WORN TOWN

By J. S. Fletcher

"I am, sir," replied Krevin. "Every inch of it."
 "Just describe it to us, as if we knew nothing about it," continued the Coroner. "You know what I want, and what I mean."

"Certainly, sir," assented Krevin. "St. Lawrence Lane is a narrow thoroughfare, about eighty or ninety yards in length, which lies at the back of Mr. Mallett's house—I mean the bank premises, the Moot Hall, and Dr. Wellesley's house. Its north entrance, at the corner of the bank, is in Woolmarket; its south in Strand Lane. On its west side there is a back door to the bank house, another into Bunning's rooms in the basement of the Moot Hall, a third into the police office—also in that basement, a fourth into the rear of Dr. Wellesley's house. On the opposite side of the lane—the east—there is nothing but St. Lawrence's Church and churchyard. St. Lawrence's church tower and west end faces the back of the Moot Hall. There is a part of the churchyard opposite the bank premises; the rest of the churchyard faces Dr. Wellesley's house—the back of it, of course."

"No, sir, it is very little used. Except by tradesmen going to Mr. Mallett's or to Dr. Wellesley's back door, and by people going to the police office, it is scarcely used at all. On Sundays, of course, it is used by people going to the services at St. Lawrence's."

"Would it be likely to be quiet, unfrequented, at an evening?"
 "Emphatically yes."

"Do you think it likely that any person wishing to enter the Moot Hall unobserved and seeing Mrs. Bunning as she came from her rooms and round the corner to the Chancellor Vault—as we've just heard she did—could slip in unseen?"
 "Oh, to be sure," affirmed Krevin. "The easiest thing in the world! If I may suggest something—"

"Go on, go on!" said the Coroner, waving his spectacles. "Anything that helps. Suggest whatever you like."

"Well," said Krevin, slowly and thoughtfully, "if I may put in my own way, suppose that there is somebody in this town who is desirous of finding the late mayor alone in the Mayor's Parlor, being also cognizant of the fact (well known to many people) that the late Mr. Wallingford was to be found there every evening; suppose, too, that that person was well acquainted with the topography of St. Lawrence Lane and the Moot Hall; suppose, further, that he or she was familiar with the fact that Mrs. Bunning invariably went out every evening to fetch the supper beer from the Chancellor Vault;—such a person could easily enter the Bunning's back door with an absolute minimum risk of detection. The churchyard of St. Lawrence is edged with thick shrubs and trees. Anybody could easily hide amongst the shrubs—laurel, myrtle, ivy—watch for Mrs. Bunning's going out, and, when she had gone, slip across the lane (a very narrow one) and enter the door which, as she says, she left open. It would not take two minutes for any person who knew the place to pass from St. Lawrence churchyard to the Mayor's Parlor—or from the Mayor's Parlor to St. Lawrence churchyard."

"A murmur of comprehension and understanding ran round the court. Most of the people present knew St. Lawrence Lane and the Moot Hall, as well as Krevin Crood knew them. His suggestion appealed to their common sense. And Tansley, with a sudden start, turned to Brent.
 "That's done it!" he whispered.

"Everybody tumbles to that. We've been going off on all sorts of side tracks all the morning—now Wellesley, now Mrs. Mallett, and now here's another! Access to the Mayor's Parlor—there you are! Easy as winking—on Krevin Crood's theory. He thinks a trick is a-widening and Sookerave won't go any further."

Herein Tansley was quickly proved to be right. The Coroner was showing unmistakable symptoms of his satiety for the time being. He thanked Krevin Crood punctiliously for his assistance, and once again toying recklessly with his spectacles, turned to the jury, who, on their part, looked blank and doubtful.

"Well, gentlemen," he said, "it seems to me that the entire complexion of this matter is changed by the evidence we have heard since Mrs. Mallett broke in so unexpectedly upon what I was saying to you. I don't propose now to say any more as regards the evidence of either Dr. Wellesley or Mrs. Mallett. Since we heard what they had to say we have found to have more importance than we attach to it at present. As matters stand, the evidence of Mrs. Bunning is of supreme importance. There is no doubt whatever that there was easy means of access to the Mayor's Parlor during that half-hour wherein the Mayor met his death. The mystery of this whole affair has deepened considerably during to-day's proceedings, and instead of bringing this enquiry to a definite conclusion I feel that I must wait for more evidence, adjourn this inquest for a month from to-day."

The court cleared; the spectators filtered out into the Market-Place in various moods, and under different degrees of excitement. Some were openly disappointed that the jury had not been allowed to return a verdict; some were vehement in declaring that the jury never would return a verdict; but there were men who wagged their heads sagely and remarked with sinister smiles that they knew what they thought about it. But within the rapidly emptying court, Brent, Tansley, and Hawthwaite were grouped around Mooking. The barrister was indulgent in some private remarks upon the morning's proceedings, chiefly addressed to the Police Superintendent.

"There's no doubt about it, you know," he was saying. "The evidence of the Bunning woman, supplemented by what Krevin Crood said (which was a mere formal crystallizing of common knowledge), has altered the whole thing. Here's a back entrance to the Moot Hall left absolutely unprotected, unguarded, unwatched, whatever you like to call it—for half an hour, the critical half-hour. Of course the murderer got up to the Mayor's Parlor that way—and got away by the same means. You're as far off as ever, Hawthwaite, and it's a pity you wasted time on that jealousy business. I watched Wellesley closely, and I believe that he spoke the truth when he said that whatever there might have been, there was no jealousy about Mrs. Saumarez between him and Wallingford at the end. My own impression is that Wellesley was clear off with Mrs. Saumarez."

Hawthwaite, essentially a man of fixed ideas, looked sullen.
 "Well, it isn't mine, then," he growled.
 "From all I've learnt, and I've chances and opportunities that most folks haven't—my impression is that both men were after her, right up to the time Wallingford was murdered. I can tell you this, and I could have put it in evidence if I'd thought worth while: Wellesley used to go and see her on an evening constantly, up to a very recent date, though she was supposed to have broken off with him and to be on with the Mayor. Now then!"
 "Do you know that for a fact, Hawthwaite?" asked Tansley.

PSYCHIATRISTS ARE WARMLY CRITICIZED

New York, Nov. 13.—The clash between the scientific and religious interpretation of modern life flared into the foreground at the annual meeting of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene yesterday in the Pennsylvania Hotel, when the Rev.

Dr. Karl Relland, rector of St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, criticized many of the present psychiatrists in the United States attending the meeting for "ignoring the spiritual."
 Previous speakers had stressed the danger of inept practitioners setting themselves up as authorities on mental hygiene and declared the greatest need in this field of science was the training of more physicians. "I am not nearly so much concerned about the amateurs as I am about the experts," Dr. Relland said. "The experts are ignoring the spiritual to a dangerous degree. Experts in medicine will have to give greater attention to the connection between the psychological and the spiritual and recognize that there is a very great factor which meets here in the field of morals."

New Gross Revenue Tax to Replace Personal Property Levy, suggests MacLean

Minister Describes Drastic Change in B. C. Taxation Without Committing Himself to it; Abolition of Succession Duties Cannot be Entertained, He Declares; Facts of Industrial Department's Operations Are Bared; Province so Far Has Advanced $47,800,000 on P. G. E., House Learns as Financial Head of Government Gives Advance News of Budget Statement.

Some revelations and prognostications about provincial financing of a sort usually reserved for the Budget Speech were given to the Legislature yesterday by Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Finance, speaking in the Address in Reply to the Speech from the Throne.

Without committing himself, the Minister suggested as a possible alternative to the much criticized personal property tax that a tax on gross earnings be instituted. He called it a species of sales tax. A rate of perhaps one-tenth or one-fifth of one per cent was proposed with the suggestion that the rate might have to vary for different classes of business.

Other important statements made by the minister were: 1. That the increased taxation on Crown-granted timber would in two years pay the cost of the expensive Ryan-Hiberson cruise for the purpose of equalizing and increasing the assessment on such land.

2. That the total accrued loss on the $1,467,000 of industrial loans was only $211,000 or twelve per cent, and that allowing for a possible prospective loss of eight per cent, the total loss on this undertaking which had done so much to stimulate manufacturing in the Province would be only twenty per cent.

3. That elimination of amusement tax on tickets costing less than fifty cents can be considered as it would entail a loss of $150,000 revenue each year.

4. Abolition of succession duties can not be entertained as it would cost $700,000 a year in lost revenue.

5. That British Columbia's $60,000,000 mineral production this year is yielding the Province only $1,000,000 revenue, and that if the proposed reduction of the profits tax to the Ontario scale were adopted the Province would be justified in adopting the entire Ontario system which would take $1,500,000 from the mining industry instead of two-thirds that amount.

6. That the total moneys advanced by the Province on the P.G.E. were $47,800,000, of which $1,500,000 was the total operating loss since inception of the line and $13,000,000 was money paid out of consolidated revenue on interest, leaving $33,000,000 as the capital cost.

7. That a sinking fund which would retire $16,000,000 in twenty years had been inaugurated, and that a sinking fund for another $6,500,000 would be instituted this year. Sinking funds for the remaining $11,000,000 would be provided from time to time until the entire debt is covered.

INDUSTRIAL LOANS Discussing the industrial Department, Dr. MacLean said that seventy-four industries had been aided by loans, and that $421,135 had been repaid in interest and principal out of a total of loans and interest earned of $1,735,741. Of these sixteen loans were fully repaid, eight industries had closed permanently, seven were for sale and not operating, and five had been sold prior to 1924, making the total loss of $211,000. At the present the Department is interested in forty-three actively operating industries, he said. Losses in private industries started since 1923 would be greater than twenty per cent, lost by the Department on its loans, he claimed.

While the general policy was not to make new loans there had been loans of $121,000 made in 1924, of which there had been complete repayment of all but $22,000, which would be paid by January 1 next, he predicted.

WOULD-RAISE TAX Dealing with the request of the recent mining convention here that the Ontario profits tax be substituted for the British Columbia schedule, the Minister said that if the whole Ontario system were adopted here British Columbia would double its mining revenue, but that he did not propose at this time to scrap the whole B.C. Mineral Act. On the other hand, mining was a most important industry, and he said the Government was desirous of giving it the utmost measure of relief possible. He held out no definite suggestion of any change in taxation law this year. Too high a tax on income and profits, he said, would have the effect of causing people with capital to keep it tied up in bonds instead of using it in industrial enter-because one is carrying more stock than the other. Such a tax, he said, should be collected monthly, and would apply as a credit on income tax in the case of firms actually making a profit. The Minister said he was not yet prepared to make a decision as to the wisdom of the proposed course because in taxation matters it was necessary to be on exceedingly firm ground before taking action.

In dealing with the P.G.E. the MacLean set aside one erroneous impression when he stated that all interest payments were made out of consolidated revenue and not out of borrowed money.

MacLEAN PLANS BIG REFORMS IN SCHOOLS; NEW OFFICIALS TO BE NAMED IMMEDIATELY

Chief Inspector to be Appointed Now as First Step in Adoption of Survey Commission's Findings; Minister Endorses Middle School Plan to Guide Children Into Proper Channels; Normal Schools to be Improved; Asks Non-partisan Discussion.

Far-reaching reforms of British Columbia's school system along the lines laid down by the Education Survey Commission are about to be put into effect already, Hon. J. D. MacLean, Minister of Education, announced in the Legislature yesterday when he asked members to co-operate with the Government on a non-partisan basis in grappling with the Province's educational problems.

Changes in the education system which Dr. MacLean will ask the Legislature to approve at its present session include appointment of a new official, a Chief Inspector of Schools, who will act as a professional adviser to the Educational Department under the Deputy Minister. Appointment of a director of Domestic Science is proposed, and changes in the Normal School staffs and an increase in the number of Normal School instructors also will be carried out immediately, he stated.

All other provinces have chief school inspectors, he stated, in outlining these changes. The new official, he explained, will be a Director of Education under the Superintendent and also will act as Inspector of Normal Schools.

"The Normal School staff should be increased and strengthened and the number of inspectors should be increased in order that the rural schools may have more supervision and attention," the Minister declared. "I have long realized the advisability of these changes but the best economic means of effecting them is under consideration."

Dr. MacLean came out flatly in favor of the Education Commission's proposal that the school system be entirely changed by the creation of a middle school after their preliminary training. Here, he explained, they would be guided into suitable vocations, training for which would follow later in the high school.

"This is a most valuable suggestion and should be adopted," he said. "The theory is that the middle school should be a species of laboratory which all the children between the ages of twelve and fifteen should attend in order that their natural aptitudes should be determined and they should thus be guided into the industries and vocations of professions which their natural talents suit them for. This scheme will be expensive and it may be some time before we can start it. But it is an excellent idea."

ATTACKS OPPOSITION Dr. MacLean accused the Opposition of minor criticism in educational matters with no attempt to grapple with the educational problems of the country. "Not only had the Opposition failed to declare its stand on important educational issues, he said, but it had given false impressions about some of the facts, by accusing the Government of using fifteen school textbooks printed in the United States, for instance. Joshua Hincliffe, said Dr. MacLean, had not told the House that these were
