By DAVID LEWIS. Washington, Nov. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is a far cry from Geneva where the League of Nations is meeting, to the income tax division of the American treasury or the pocket-books of the American people, but entirely aside from the international politics of the occasion, the United States government is taking a deep interest in the effect of the league's meeting on the finances of Europe.

It will be a preliminary step to determining whether the commission will reverse its previous decision in declining to apply the Pittsburgh plus price to the steel in the Northwest, and in the view of those who have attended the sessions this week, it has made an impression on the members of the commission.

OFFICERS FOR JEWISH CLUB

Rabbi Lebendiger Will Modernize Hebrew School in Duluth.

Officers elected at a meeting of the Young Folks' club of the Duluth Jewish center last night were: Philip Altman, president; Miss Anna Laskowitz, vice president; Miss Sadie Kremen, secretary; and William Johnson, treasurer. A. N. Natelson was chosen honorary president. Members of the entertainment committee selected were: Frank Krupp, chairman; Esther Sakmanoff, Cecil Laskowitz, Miss Harriet Krupp and Harry Levin. The next meeting was set for Dec. 2.

Rabbi Israel Lebendiger, who was recently elected superintendent of the Hebrew school, announced that it would be his intention to modernize the school, promote Sunday school classes for the younger children, and organize classes for the study of Jewish history and philosophy. He also stated that he was planning a monthly religious service on Friday evenings.

The Jews have always been an invaluable factor in the growth and progress of their different adopted fatherlands," he said. "In the crew that came over with Columbus, two individuals, the physician and the interpreter, were Jews. It was a Jew by the name of Tymna Solomon who financed the American Revolution against England. In the late war, the Jewish quota in the army totaled 7 per cent of the enlisted forces although their population is only 2 per cent of the total population of the United States.

Dr. Lebendiger also called attention to the fact that nations that have persecuted the Jews have invariably met their downfall. The Jew is given strength, he said, by the conviction that is always struggling in his mind.

DIRECT PRIMARY IS FAVORED BY HUGHES

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 19.—Charles Evans Hughes advocated retention of the direct primary system in making party nominations for offices in state and lesser political units, in an address here last night before delegates to the convention of the National Municipal League, of which he is president.

Speaking on "the fate of the direct primary," Mr. Hughes said that it was the "essential complement of the short ballot" and that it would be a mistake to throw over the system in favor of a return to the old convention system of its predecessors.

He made plain that his remarks could apply only to political systems under state jurisdiction, it not being possible under the Constitution to provide for direct presidential primaries.

He said the primary system could be made an effective barometer of the will of the people only when primary laws provided for strict enrollment of voters, thus insuring that nominations be strictly along party lines and within the control of the members of the party in question. The open primary, in which citizens vote the ticket of whichever party they choose, he said, had been proven a failure.

The ideal method of making nominations, Mr. Hughes said, would be a convention to which delegates would be chosen by selections within the membership of the party. This convention, besides drawing a platform, should discuss likely candidates for office, making public their recommendations, and then voting, either directly or reversed in favor of other candidates by the voters at the polls on primary election.

Between halves of the contest, the Macquers club, under the direction of George Lamb, St. Paul, will stage burlesque stunts.

STILLWATER HAS ROOM FOR FEDERAL CONVICTS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 19.—Federal prisoners may be sent to Stillwater instead of Leavenworth or Alcatraz, a request the state board of control plans to make of Federal officials is granted. The population of the prison is decreasing so rapidly that the industrial life of the prison is threatened, officials said.

Although the number of prisoners at Stillwater is decreasing, the population of the state reformatory at St. Cloud is rapidly increasing with "convicts of fenders" found guilty of stealing or forging checks.

Result of Prohibition.

The abolition of the saloon is said to have caused a decrease at Stillwater while movies, war and novels are a few of the reasons given for boys being sent to St. Cloud.

The decrease at Stillwater has been steady since January 1, 1920, the date to July 1, 1920, it fell from 872 to 843 and on Nov. 1 it was down to 743 and prospects of a further decrease this month, records show.

On July 1, 1919, there were 350 prisoners in St. Cloud reformatory, while on Nov. 1, 1920, there were 428.

In the last fiscal year ended June 30, St. Cloud reformatory received 364 prisoners, all first offenders, between the ages of 15 and 30 years. Of these 264 men men no less than 205 were in for stealing. One hundred and seven were convicted of larceny, forty-four of forgery, thirty-three of burglary and twenty-five of robbery.

On July 1, 1919, there were 250 prisoners in St. Cloud reformatory, while on Nov. 1, 1920, there were 428.

In the last fiscal year ended June 30, St. Cloud reformatory received 214 prisoners, all first offenders, between the age of 15 and 30 years. Of these 204 men no less than 205 were in for stealing. One hundred and three were convicted of larceny, forty-four of forgery, thirty-three of burglary and twenty-five of robbery.

ITASCA COUNTY FAIR OWES BUT SMALL SUM

Grand Rapids, Minn., Nov. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—That the Itasca County Agricultural association which holds a fair here every fall is a struggling proposition was evidenced by reports presented at the annual meeting here this week. Figures showing that although the expenses for the year were $1,500 the deficit is only $154. While everything indicates that another year will see a bigger and better fair, it was decided to embark upon a systematic building campaign to get the grounds into fine condition. A campaign for membership will be started. The officers for the coming year are

WAGE SCALE BEING PROBED

Minimum Commission Holding Investigation Here to Fix Requirement.

Duluth employers and employees will have an opportunity to present their views on the minimum wage question at a public hearing to be conducted tonight at 8 o'clock at the Commercial club by the Minnesota minimum wage commission.

Following numerous hearings in the Twin Cities and in Duluth tonight the commission will go to Winona on Monday and St. Cloud on Wednesday and will then determine how much above the present minimum of $11 a week the new wage will be.

It is possible according to John F. Gardner state labor commissioner and chairman of the minimum wage commission, that following the public hearings the commission will exercise its prerogative authorized by the law and subpoena employers or employees or both and require the commission to give evidence which may be considered necessary to base and which is not volunteered at the public hearing.

New Wage Announced Soon.
It is expected that the new wage will be fixed some time this month, although Chairman Gardner was non-committal both with respect to the time when the decision would be announced and as to the probable figure at which it would be fixed.

"No matter how the matter is decided," said Mr. Gardner, "somebody is going to be dissatisfied. It is a labor commissioner, whoever he may be, should not be required to testify who should not be required to represent the general public should be a man impartial and who holds no other position. It is necessary that the work of the labor department to have the labor commissioner's commission. Labor is likely to be dissatisfied if the minimum wage is raised to a figure and employers are likely to protest if it is appreciably raised at all, so there you see."

Other Commissioners Members.
Besides Mr. Gardner, the other members of the commission who will conduct the hearing are Commissioner of Public Health Miss Olga P. Evans, secretary, who represents the employers, and C. W. Gordon of the Gordon-Peterson company of St. Paul, who is a representative employer.

In the Twin Cities separate hearings were conducted in some instances for employers and employees to get expressions of opinion on the subject. Testimony from the workers came just as instantly as the separate hearings were held at the public hearings, where both sides are represented.

The workers who testified refused to give their names. Mr. Gardner says that there should be no feeling of favoritism as the employer to date have taken no definite stand on the matter and are not contributing to the minimum wage as to living costs.

Public Will Pay.
Joseph Strong of Strong & Miller, wholesale milliners of St. Paul, has advised the commission not to set the minimum too high.

"The public will have to pay the raise anyway," he said. "The employer can't do business and make any profit if the wage is shoved up too high. He deplored the girls' tendency to invest in $200 fur coats and asked for a reasonable adjustment."

Miss Evans, secretary of the commission, has compiled a list of necessities which corresponds with one which has been adopted by the minimum wage commission in Massachusetts and which gives the absolute minimum of a girl employed in Minnesota as follows: Board and room, $2; clothing, $2.25; laundry, 50 cents; doctor and dentist, 50 cents; church, 10 cents; newspapers and magazines, 25 cents; vacation, 50 cents; recreation and education, 50 cents; insurance, 10 cents; contingent fund, 10 cents; incidentals, 25 cents; total, $15.50.

Chairman Gardner is anxious to have representative attendance at tonight's meeting and that the commission will have an opportunity to present first hand data on living costs upon which to base the new minimum wage scale. Anyone who has any views on the subject will be given a chance to express them at tonight's meeting.

GRIFFIN-SWANSTROM RECOUNT BRINGS LITTLE CHANGE

The result of the recount of the ballots cast for Walter Swanstrom and Earl Griffin in the election for members of the Third district, showed little change from the official count as reported by the election judges. As the count now stands, Griffin has cut down the lead of Swanstrom from twenty-two votes, according to Paul Quibley, one of the inspectors. There are twenty-eight ballots that will be referred to the court if the contest is brought into court, which is not a likely prospect, considering the result. Few changes were noted in any of the districts with the exception of the Sixty-eighth, where Griffin gained nineteen votes. On the straggling count there were nine ballots that were found for Griffin, while Swanstrom lost ten.

The official vote of the election judges was 3,128 for Griffin and 3,183 for Swanstrom.

The Herald prints today's news today.

High Proceedings Dismissed.
Jed Lake Falls, Minn., Nov. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge William Warts of the Lake Falls county district court has dismissed proceedings to establish judicial ditch No. 70, traversing Western Park, Pennington and Red Lake counties following a public hearing. Attorneys for various landowners whose lands would be affected by the establishment of the ditch contended that the benefits to be derived would not offset the damages and the judges sustained their contention.

Union to Meet in Old Synagogue.
Chicago, Nov. 19.—The new $60,000 home of the Electrical Workers' union, local 124, was ready for occupancy today. The former synagogue has been renovated the interior redecorated and improved with modern lights and conveniences. A $20,000 pipe organ was acquired with the new property of the union, strains from which will open the meetings of the organization.

Changes Mind About Going Away

"Five years ago doctors told me I would have to move my wife to another climate, as she suffered so with stomach and liver trouble and bloating. Also, that she would have to have an operation for gall stones. Our mail carrier told me of May's Wonderful Remedy and, on his advice, she has taken it and is now as well as ever in her life." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Boyce Drug Co., 331 West Superior street, and druggists everywhere.

FIRE DAMAGE CASES GROW

Eighteen Wrongful Death Actions Filed Against Railway Chiefs.

Eighteen wrongful death actions against the railroad administration, operating the Duluth, Missabe & Northern Railway company under wartime control, arising out of the Oct. 12, 1918, forest fire, were filed this morning in district court for trial at the January term. Damages aggregating approximately $135,000 are sought.

The various plaintiffs are: S. Norman, administrator of Car A. Norman estate; Mary Benson, administrator of Louis Benson estate; Oscar Johnson, administrator of Ralno Johnson estate; Ernest Klovsky, administrator of the estate of Anton and Amelia Klovsky; John N. Gray, administrator of the estate of Lily, Hazel and Donald Gray; Charles A. Jackson, administrator of the Louisa Jackson estate; Mathilda Graquist, administrator of the Anton Graquist estate; Johann Olson, administrator of the Hans Olson estate; Thorwald Rainp, administrator of the Nikolai A. Larsen estate; Lena Schilling, administrator of the Myrtle Ekstrand estate; Frank B. Makovsky, administrator of the estate of Frank B. Makovsky; Stella, Rowena and Harriet Makovsky.

At the trial of the Moose Lake group of fire cases this morning in district court only two witnesses were called by the plaintiffs. They were John Worum, who was a section hand for the Soo road, and T. A. Schesta, station agent for the Northern Pacific at Moose Lake on the day of the big forest fire in October, 1918.

OHIO STATE ON WAY TO CRUCIAL GAME OF YEAR

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 19.—Ohio State's football squad, twenty-eight strong, reached Danville, Ill., this morning on the first leg of its journey to Urbana, where tomorrow will be recorded the final results of the 1920 conference season.

Saturday's contest, the second in two consecutive years, in which Ohio State and Illinois have been contenders for championship honors, will, according to Coach Wiles, find the Buckeye players in as good condition as they have been at any time this season.

A general exodus of Ohio State plebeian fans continued throughout the day.

Either victory or a tie game tomorrow will bring the pennant to Columbus. The Buckeyes have won four games and lost none while the Illinois have won four and lost one. This year the teams appear to be of about the same strength with Ohio State averaging 179 pounds and Illinois 184 pounds.

TIME TO MAIL FOR OVERSEAS

Christmas Packages Will Take Some Time Getting There.

If you're sending Christmas gifts to Europe it's high time to mail them. "It takes three weeks or more to get parcels overseas," said Postmaster Thomas E. Constance today. "There is far more business of that sort than most people imagine. In a few weeks our postoffice will be crowded with gifts to Europe. The steamers carrying the parcels will be in even worse position, because they must carry such parcels from all over the country."

The United States Postal Service has established full postal communication with every country in Europe except Russia, Finland and Yugoslavia. Letters alone will be accepted for Russia, but their parcels will not be taken. With Finland and Yugoslavia there is a postal convention so that the parcels will be accepted, but the United States takes no responsibility for their delivery. A similar convention of Hungary was lifted this week.

This year the parcels of food, clothing and miscellaneous gifts going to Europe is exceeding all previous records. Postal orders and money orders are also being sent in unusual numbers.

SEVERE BREAKS IN GRAIN AT CHICAGO

Chicago, Nov. 18.—Grain prices smashed heavily downward today all along the line, with huge and proximate following. Corn and soybeans, notwithstanding that it was already lower than at any time in the year.

Expected greatly enlarged pressure of offerings from the new crop of corn appeared to be the chief factor in the sharp decline. The price of corn fell to 65¢, a low not reached since 1914. Soybeans fell to 1.15¢, a low not reached since 1914. Wheat fell to 1.15¢, a low not reached since 1914.

The severity of the new breaks in prices and the extent of the selling, resulting in a further decline in the value of grain, has not been out from 1914's level to less than the level of six months, whereas it was two years after the war was started before a similar drop could command an even dollar.

TWO WOMEN FINED $5 FOR REFUSING TO TAKE OFF HATS IN COURT

Chicago, Nov. 18.—"Bipolar" suffering for women means that they must not wear their hats when in the courtroom. Justice of the Peace P. P. Aring, declared yesterday when he fined two women $5 each for contempt of court when they refused to remove their hats.

The women paid.

When the justice called the court to order he said:

"Every body will please remove their hats."

Mrs. George McCann and Mrs. Frederick Ritter failed to so the court how they intended a moment, but the two continued to wear their hats.

"Five dollars and costs for contempt of court," the justice said.

"If women say they cannot suffer with men, they can also remove their hats in my courtroom."

EXTORTION IS CHARGED

Another Indictment Returned By Grand Jury Against Brindell.

New York, Nov. 19.—While the joint legislative committee investigating the "building trust" was hearing further testimony yesterday regarding alleged graft payments to Robert P. Brindell, president of the building trades council, the grand jury strengthened its indictment of Wednesday and added another, charging the labor leader with extortion.

After pleading not guilty to the amended indictment alleging attempted extortions of $25,000 and the new charge, Brindell was granted his liberty on the $100,000 bail furnished Wednesday.

Julius Sulzgen, before whom Brindell was arraigned, warned the defendant's counsel, Martin W. Littleton, that the "time might come when people would demand more security." Mr. Littleton said he "figured" there would be sufficient time between indictments to enable him "to go out and dig up hell if more is needed."

The new indictment charged Brindell with extortion in that he received $500 from Louis J. Cohen, a house-welder, on July 15, in connection with a demolition job.

Pay for Protection. While Brindell was pleading in the criminal courts building, the legislative committee in the city hall heard witnesses testify to the payment of more than $45,000 to the labor leader for working jobs and protection against labor troubles. Of these witnesses, Albert Hirszkowitz, head of the list, having declared he paid $25,000 to Brindell to prevent a "rumored strike."

George Atwell, one of the city's largest demolition contractors, said he had paid $17,500 for jobs and protection. Nieman Klompos, a housewelder, testified to giving Brindell $1,000 for "getting me men" and arranging for "protection from trouble."

He said he also paid $200 for "privilege cards" in order that his men could work. Later Klompos added, he gave $1,000 to a partner, B. Siegel, to be given Brindell to prevent interruption of work.

Joseph Goldblatt, building and sheet-metal contractor, testified he paid $2,000 to Brindell's agents at the request of the labor leader to have a strike called off on an alteration job.

FAILURE TO USE SHIPS COST $3,000,000 LOSS

New York, Nov. 19.—Failure of the tank steamer department of the United States shipping board to utilize its fleet of bulk oil carriers for the needs of shipping board vessels caused a loss to the government of $3,000,000 in one month, Martin J. Gillen testified here yesterday before the Walsh congressional committee inquiring into the shipping board transactions.

Gillen was special assistant to former Chairman John Larkin Fagan, last May, when he said the alleged dereliction occurred.

The tank steamer department had fifty-four vessels, he added. Of these, twenty were in the hands of private operators. It was discovered on May 26 last, that fifty-four vessels were tied up at a Southern port for lack of fuel oil, and in addition, 40 per cent of the operators were buying oil in the open market for $4 to $6 a barrel.

At the same time, he added, "60 per cent of the oil we were carrying in our ships was furnished at $2.07 a barrel."

Gillen further testified that this condition of affairs was disclosed through complaints of two operators. Capt. Paul Foley was then head of the tank steamer department, he said, and "it was ascertained he did not know that ships were compelled to buy oil at a higher price than it could have been furnished by the board."

Capt. Foley, he added, was later relieved of his duties as head of the tank steamer department. Gillen said Foley was now director of operation of the board's entire fleet of more than 1,100 ships, including the tankers.

A chart made of the tank steamer operations, Gillen testified, showed that thirty-three were in government service and others in semi-private and official work. Some were operated for the benefit of public utilities, and some in the service of supplying oil for shipping board fuel stations abroad.

ADMISSION OF GERMANY TO LEAGUE IS DEMANDED

(Continued from page 1.) It is studied carefully with a view to its clarification. Resolution of Council. Giuseppe Motta, president of Switzerland, raised the question of the admission of Germany to the League of Nations at the assembly. He held that the report of the council was not final and that the assembly should be asked to give an opinion on the matter. He gave as his view that the council and the assembly could not be regarded as bearing the relation to each other, for example of government and parliament, but rather that each had its own separate functions and tasks. President Motta alluded to the treaty regarding the League of Nations which was signed with the League, five were Swiss. "There will always be diplomacy, I will not say secret, but discreet," he said. Mr. Motta, who pleaded, however, for the most open diplomacy possible, said he will continue through the registration of all treaties.

Heads Reply From President. Geneva, Nov. 19.—(By the Associated Press.)—The heads of state of the League of Nations, Paul Hymans, the president, read a reply to President Wilson to the message sent to Washington by the assembly. A British delegate, Lord Curzon, a British delegate, then took the floor to begin discussion of the report of the council of the League. Mr. Hymans dwelt especially on the necessity of rendering assistance to the Armenians. "They are," he declared, "hemmed in by the British Bolsheviki on one side and by the British Bolsheviki on the other. The labor camps, being the most important part of the treaty of Versailles, Mr. Hymans predicted, "There can be no permanent peace," he said, "until there is industrial peace and there can be no industrial peace until labor gets a better share of the product of its efforts."

Must Have Support. He referred to the action of the League in the question of the Aland Islands in the Baltic. He said the League had been successful in its action, but he said he would not know why the council had not taken action as provided for in Article 21 of the League Covenant, to prevent the war which had been going on for a year between Poland and Soviet Russia. The British delegate held that it was quite possible for the League to do something to prevent a fresh outbreak of hostilities between Poland and Soviet Russia, which he declared was unmistakably threatening, in spite of the fact that the League had been successful in its action.

DISARMAMENT IS REMEDY FOR FINANCIAL PROBLEM

(Continued from page 1.) States to enter the League of Nations and the countries about it in the United States has for the moment prevented an understanding about disarmament, but irrespective of whether President-elect Harding decides that he wants America to remain a League of Nations, he has pledged himself to work for disarmament. The League of Nations has a special committee at work on the question of disarmament, but it is doubtful whether the movement will get much momentum until President-elect Harding throws the moral force of America behind it. Can Taxes Be Reduced? Practically every tax expert in Washington can work out a formula whereby taxes would be reduced and the entire world agreed to build any extensive armaments, but simply to maintain sufficient for national defense. Secretary Houston estimated, for instance, that the American government would need $1,000,000,000 in revenue during the coming year. There is a good deal of talk about extra-ordinary estimates, but when that $1,000,000,000 estimate is analyzed his figures are likely to be considered conservative. Of the $1,000,000,000 at least $100,000,000 must be set aside to pay the American people the interest on the Liberty bonds they hold. Another $100,000,000 will have to be set aside to guarantee to the railroads and other assistance provided for by the Reconstruction Congress during the last session in order to help the railroads out of the plight they were in when taken over by the government during the war. This leaves $200,000,000 for other purposes. President-elect Harding, maintenance of the military and naval establishment and other expenditures growing out of the war, together with the billion dollars that it used to cost to run the American government before 1914 consumes the remaining $200,000,000. More over, the government itself must buy would ordinarily have increased the government budget beyond the single billion even if there were no expense incident to the war.

Crucial Affect Main Items. The impression is that there will be much proving up expenditures during the coming year but that it cannot affect the main items like the sum of money to be spent for the railroads and the money to be spent for the soldiers and sailors and the Liberty bond holders. It is the general feeling, too, that the government will be doing well if it can cut its expenditures to $1,000,000,000 and raise that amount of revenue. Nobody knows just what the loss will be on the revenue from excess profits taxes. The slump in business will mean considerable reduction in revenue. The prospect is that there will be an insistence on a cut in army and navy appropriations and things in line with war making. Should Europe be able to do the same thing the outlook for lower taxes according to officials here would be bright indeed.

CONSTANTINE'S MOTHER NOW GREEK REGENT

(Continued from page 1.) Denny Coftis, an eminent authority on Greek affairs, says M. Jannart, "seems to me not only undesirable for the Allies, but quite impossible in return to the throne would mean that the great Greece of Venizelos would be placed at the service of Germany. It is the duty and duty of the protect- ing powers not to allow a Greece that is stronger than ever to become a vassal of Germany."

Expect Plebiscite Next Week. Rome, Nov. 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Greek brothers of Prince King Constantine stated to the Associated Press today that they believed the plebiscite for the purpose of deciding upon the occupant of the throne would be held next week. They declared it would be a demonstration in favor of Constantine that would eclipse that of the recent election in that country. "The present attitude of the Greek people," said Prince Andreas, "must not be considered as a condemnation of the foreign policy of former Premier Venizelos, but only as a repudiation of his dictatorial and reactionary systems of internal government."

Objected to Domestic Policy. A few weeks ago the opponents of a unionism to the Italian, French and British governments, emphasizing their support of the Greek for their policy as adopted by M. Venizelos, but insisting it was imperative to remove him from power because of his domestic policy, therefore, need not fear the return of Constantine to the Greek throne, as that would not mean any change in the country's foreign policy.

"The steel producers are classifying their customers and are charging them that is known to economists as 'class prices.' If competition was obtained among producers of steel in the Chicago district, they would compete vigorously for all the business in the territory named. They would be forcing the price down until it reached approximately the lowest price in any other territory. The price of steel would be fixed uniformly under the free play of competition and prices of all the steel supplied by the Chicago mills would be forced to a minimum." The hearing was adjourned until Dec. 5, when counsel for the United States Steel corporation and other respondent companies will present their side of the case.

MINISTER WILL BE TRIED FOR SHOOTING

Toronto, Nov. 19.—Through a decision announced by Attorney General Haney here yesterday, Rev. J. O. L. Spracklin, minister and license inspector, who killed Beverly Trumble during a rail on Trumble's hotel at Sand- wich, will have to stand trial for the shooting despite the fact that a coroner's jury decided the minister acted in self-defense. After a conference with Crown Attorney Rodd of Windsor, Mr. Haney said Trumble would probably be admitted to bail after a preliminary examination pending the opening of the Sandwich court, when he will be tried on a charge of "killing and slaying" Trumble.

Washington, Nov. 19.—Despite the loss of seventy-five members of the country's million-a-year income class, the taxable income of the United States increased in 1918 by more than $2,770,000,000 as compared with 1917, according to income statistics issued last night by the bureau of internal revenue. ANVIN developed her costumes of Czech-Slovak inspiration in the form of a long coat of overdress with a tight undershirt. Some of the costumes even had the loose hanging trousers of the rustic goat herders. There were few women who cared to accept such an extreme movement in dress, so these were soon replaced by a short, tight skirt falling below a long tunic. The tunic did not allow more than a few inches of the undershirt to show. A great deal still is made of skirts of this type. The peasant or chemise type of overdress graded at a low waistline has passed through many evolutions.

Honoring her house guest, Mrs. Donald Payne of Chicago, Mrs. Frederick W. Anderson, Rotary, W. J. Prince, Commercial club, and C. H. ## WOULD GIVE WOMEN CHANCE

Movement on Foot to Move Correctional Institution Out of City.

Mrs. H. J. Grannis, former president of the Women's Council, will head the committee that is working for a new home in the outskirts of the city for the women's correctional institution. This appointment was made by Mrs. Fred Sermon, chairman of the correctional institutions committee, who declares the committee will continue to work until the Women's Council is able to give the women who are sent to this institution an opportunity to start life over again in the right way.

The council has considered two different sites, one near Woodland and the other in the vicinity of the county poor farm. It is believed that a location such as either of these would be of great benefit to the women, who are being sent to an close confinement there as they would be in the city.

THE GUEST IN THE HOME.

"There's no use talking," I have heard women say, "guests are delightful from a standpoint of sociability, but they are a lot of trouble."

The woman who talks like that is a pessimist to my way of thinking. The optimistic woman says: "It pays me to have guests in more ways than that of enjoying their society; I always get so much done before a guest comes."

We all know how we fly around before the arrival of a guest. Doing numerous little things that we have long meant to do but neglected. Mrs. A. has a long list of things to be done before her mother-in-law comes to visit. Mrs. B. has been on the verge of waxing her hardwood floors for several days, but she does not "get around" to rehashing it until the night before her mother-in-law comes to visit. The Red Cross has conducted classes in home-nursing at Red Lake Falls, Okie and Plumber and financial aid was extended last winter at the time of the recurrence of the influenza epidemic. The balance on hand a year ago was $182.60. Receipts for the last year from various sources totaled $1,062.51. The Red Cross chapter for the fiscal year were $3,376.18. Total expenses for the year were $2,313.68, leaving a balance in the treasury of $962.51. NEW LYRIC—Those among the few who have not yet seen Shirley Mason in the Little Wanderer and Eddie Barry in the Christie comedy, "Mr. Fatima" have their last opportunity tonight. Tomorrow Eugene O'Brien comes in "The Wonderful Chance," a new sort of crook story. It is claimed that Eugene O'Brien's characterization of "Swagger" Barlow, a crook who would reform, and Lord Birmingham an English nobleman, are about the best things he has done on the screen. There is action galore, which begins when Barlow is released from Sing Sing, and the scenes run all the way from East side dives to Long Island country homes of the wealthy. It is when he swerves from his determination to "go straight," in order to help a friend, that his "wonderful chance" comes, and with it an exceedingly pretty romance.

ZELDA—It is not always advisable for a husband to wear his own eyes on certain of his acquaintances, even when he is quite sure there are good reasons why she should not be on familiar terms with them. It may prove embarrassing if the husband is not remembered as Leon in "Humoresque," Grace Studdiford, Vincent Serrano and George Fawcett in "The Ladder of Lies" is now showing.

This is the story of a girl who is forced to the very brink of the abyss from which she has escaped, and of what happens when her husband leaves her. According to the play she proudly indorse this play as one of the most pretentious Norma Palmade productions ever created, one which does honor to the star. Miss Palmade has many stinging words that will appeal to the feminine audience. The cast includes George Fawcett, George Fawcett, Vincent Serrano and Vincent Serrano and Vincent Serrano and Vincent Serrano.

NEW LYRIC—Those among the few who have not yet seen Shirley Mason in the Little Wanderer and Eddie Barry in the Christie comedy, "Mr. Fatima" have their last opportunity tonight. Tomorrow Eugene O'Brien comes in "The Wonderful Chance," a new sort of crook story. It is claimed that Eugene O'Brien's characterization of "Swagger" Barlow, a crook who would reform, and Lord Birmingham an English nobleman, are about the best things he has done on the screen. There is action galore, which begins when Barlow is released from Sing Sing, and the scenes run all the way from East side dives to Long Island country homes of the wealthy. It is when he swerves from his determination to "go straight," in order to help a friend, that his "wonderful chance" comes, and with it an exceedingly pretty romance.

ZELDA—It is not always advisable for a husband to wear his own eyes on certain of his acquaintances, even when he is quite sure there are good reasons why she should not be on familiar terms with them. It may prove embarrassing if the husband is not remembered as Leon in "Humoresque," Grace Studdiford, Vincent Serrano and George Fawcett in "The Ladder of Lies" is now showing.

STAND—Coming to the Strand Sunday, Norma Palmade will be seen in her latest production, "The Branded Woman," from her own play "Branded." This is the story of a girl who is forced to the very brink of the abyss from which she has escaped, and of what happens when her husband leaves her. According to the play she proudly indorse this play as one of the most pretentious Norma Palmade productions ever created, one which does honor to the star. Miss Palmade has many stinging words that will appeal to the feminine audience. The cast includes George Fawcett, George Fawcett, Vincent Serrano and Vincent Serrano and Vincent Serrano.

FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES INSURED

The First State Mutual Fire Insurance association, composed of twelve mutual fire insurance companies in the Northern part of the state, was granted a license Wednesday by the Minnesota Insurance department.

Its purpose is to insure the member companies so that severe fire and lightning losses will not fall too heavily on any one company. Individuals who carry insurance with any of these mutual companies are hereafter not to be liable for an assessment larger than 1 per cent. The losses, occasioned in the forest fires of 1918 necessitated an assessment of 6 per cent.

The total risks now assumed by the member companies are $7,713,000. This is the first time that mutual fire insurance companies have so organized for reinsurance.

The names and places of residence of the corporations forming the association are: Cass Lake Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, Cass Lake, Minn.; South Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, Wadena, Minn.; Finnish Local Fire Insurance company, Cloquet, Minn.; Five County Mutual Fire Insurance company, Ashov, Minn.; Itaska County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, Big Lake, Minn.; North Shore Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, Two Harbors, Minn.; Cook County Mutual Fire Insurance company, Heyland, Minn.; Atkin County Mutual Fire Insurance company, Atkin, Minn.; Tri-County Mutual Fire Insurance company, Mora, Minn.; The Farmers' Township Mutual Insurance company of Klonick, Deerwood, Minn.; St. Louis County Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance company, Duluth, Minn., and

SAVE LIFE OF EXHAUSTED MAN

Delay in starting their car due to loading a large buck enabled Ed Whalen and John McCarthy to save the life of E. Archibald of Lake City, Minn., a Civil war veteran, from death by exposure. Mr. Archibald, who is 75 years old, had gone out hunting, with his son Tuesday morning at 7 o'clock and was picked up at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday morning by Mr. Whalen and Mr. McCarthy, in a state of exhaustion.

According to the story told by Mr. Archibald, he had become lost from his son. The veteran wandered through the big swamp west of the Vermilion road and south of the gravel pit and tramped through the woods and swamps until he had come out on the Vermilion road only a few minutes before Mr. Whalen's automobile came along.

When the headlights of the machine lit up the highway Mr. Archibald threw up his hands and waved them to stop. He tossed his gun into the ditch. When the machine stopped he was unable to climb into the car and had to be assisted. He had lost his mittens some time during the evening and his hands were stiff from cold. He told Mr. Whalen that he was ready to lie down on a pile of timber alongside of the road when the car came.

Mr. Archibald was brought to the city and taken to a local hotel. After recovering from his cold he declared that he was able to again get out. He left the local hotel last night for Cloquet, from where he intended to get into communication with his son, at Rush Lake, from which point the two had been hunting.

While Mr. Archibald's home is at Lake City, he and his wife spend the winter months at the Old Soldiers' home at Minnehaha Falls.

THIS IS ONE REASON HE BET $1,000 SHE IS BEST MOTHER-IN-LAW IN THE WORLD

In John A. Burns we have at least one gallant defender of the much abused mother-in-law. This New York benedict has bet Edward Walsh, a next-door neighbor, $1,000 that his wife's mother has more common sense than the average mother-in-law. A jury of women, all of whom have acquired either sons or daughters-in-law, are to decide whether Burns is competent to discuss mother-in-laws. The above photograph shows one of the reasons that prompted Burns to bless the day he became the son-in-law of Mrs. Margaret Campbell.

A. Horv of the Stone-Ordean-Wells company; a letter speech proclamation by Lawrence Avoy of the eighth grade; a reply to the proclamation by Helen White, also of the eighth grade and the singing of "America" by the entire school.

LIONS BACK UP NEW CHIEF

Club Offers Its Support to Pugh to Make City Better.

Members of the Lions' club gave a unanimous vote of confidence to Maj. Warren E. Pugh, newly appointed chief of police for the city of Duluth, at their weekly luncheon at the Spaulding hotel today. The club adopted resolutions offering the support of the organization to the new police head along any line tending to make the city a better and safer place in which to live.

Headling P. Neff, vice president of the P. A. Patrick company, was the speaker of the day. He talked on "Our Individual Responsibilities." Co-operation, he said, is a great thing but there is need now for individual effort and individual activity and a disposition to not "pass the buck" and "let the other fellow do it."

Mr. Neff discussed the necessity for individual thought and action in bringing about concerted action on such projects as the lakes-to-ocean waterways which the West must put over.

BIG BROTHER BANQUET NOV. 23

Personnel of the Big Brothers committee of the Rotary club which will foster the "big brother" movement among young Duluth boys who are in need of some such influence to keep them on the right track has been announced by Chairman J. A. Smith as follows: Frank J. O'Donnell, Harry Butler, Rev. C. W. Ramsdew, Roger Weaver, B. A. Silberstein, Dr. R. A. Kent, Ben Winkelman, Ben Williams, S. Forsythe and Ed Paris.

The boys will meet their Big Brothers Rotarians at a big turkey dinner to be given at the Y. M. C. A. boys' department on Nov. 23. Quite an elaborate program of admission and entertainment for the youngsters has been arranged and every effort will be made to start the boys off on a new year of activity feeling right.

Every Rotarian who has a boy assigned to him will be held responsible in the matter of "following up" the case throughout the year. Most of the boys selected will be from homes where their mothers are widows and there are no men in the household to give them good wholesome advice.

JOHN'S NARROW ESCAPE.
Boston Transcript: When John McCormack was singing in grand opera, at Signor Foli, some years ago, he had on one occasion to sing from a stage balcony which was hardly strong enough to support as heavy a man. The stage manager told two assistants to hold it up from beneath, but before Signor Foli was more than half through one of the men below said: "Bejabbers, Moike, the Ottalika is mighty heavy."
"Let's drop him, Pat; he's only an Ottalika, after all."
"Voice of Signor Foli: "Will ye, ye devils, will ye?"
"Here on stands, Pat, but he's an Oriahman; hold him up for the loife of ye!"

WHERE JOHN WENT.
New York Globe: Sven had been nursing logs down the chute to the buzz saw for several hours when the boss came along.
"This bane too much fark for one man," Sven told him.
"All right," said the boss, "I'll send John down to help you."
An hour passed and the boss came past again. Sven made the same complaint.
"This bane too much work for one man."
"I sent John down to help you. Where is he?"
"John, he ain't bane here some time. He went down between two logs. I tank he quit his job."

SONS DISCIPLES OF FATHERS IN CHINA
 Moan Kwan in Asia: A Chinese son gets from his father, not praise or affection, but stern, grave teaching. Honor and reverence a Chinese son must pay to his parent almost to a ridiculous extent. And it was especially so between my father and me, for I was not only seen but also his disciple. When I was 11 years old he began his career as a teacher of a elementary school, and I was included among his pupils the next year, to learn from him the Confucian classics, which we had committed to memory during the four or five years of reading the engineers' school.

We had no arithmetic or geography or other courses then, as modern schools have now. So, after being eight years in school, I still did not know how to add or multiply, and neither did I know how large the earth is, or why it revolves.

My idea of the world was only our district. In fact, until I was 13 I did not know that there is a white race.

Any Chinese, if he is a follower of Confucius' teaching, has the sentiment of filial piety in his heart. It is perhaps that sentiment that has kept China from progressing to any material wealth or rising to high physical power. And it is perhaps that sentiment that will keep her from catching up with the other nations of the world.

For after all, material wealth and physical power are only the passing phenomena of life, but sentiment and spirit live forever. Babylon and Rome have risen and fallen, but the crumbling wall of China has existed for thousands of years, and no doubt will continue to stand the time toward the dining room. Then we went in to some smoke roof garden.

"What are you doing in New York?" I asked.

"I go to Miss Prim's school," she replied.

"Fine!" I shouted, taking out my flask of straight gin and filling her empty water glass at the same time (tossing across my cigarettes. We got along fine until we took a taxi going home.

"Stop," she said. "Stop or I'll get out and walk. You're crazy."
 "But I thought you said you came from Miss Prim's. I stuttered, dazed, or I know I've not played fair," she confessed. "I've deceived you. I don't go to Miss Prim's or Vassar or Smith or any girls' school. I'm just a poor chorus girl trying to be wild; but I'm out-classed."

JUNIORS AND SOPHOMORES WIN DENFELD CONTESTS
 The Junior and sophomore teams defeated the freshman and senior teams respectively yesterday in the first games of the interschool basketball tournament being held at Denfeld high school.

The Juniors defeated the freshman by a score of 3 to 6. The sophomores won a 18-to-10 victory over the seniors.
 The games showed some real good work by several of the players. All the teams showed a weakness in their inability to cage the ball. This was especially true of the sophomore machine, which worked the ball down the floor line and time again and then failed to shoot a basket. Yesterday's games gave the sophomores the odds on winning the tournament. Coach Monat has issued his call for candidates for the Denfeld team and ordered them to report for practice Monday night. It is expected that the largest squad in the history of the school will be out for the team this year.

GARY HUNTER SHOT WHILE OUT NEAR TWO HARBORS
 Arthur Hunter, aged 45, 910 House street, Gary, was shot by an unknown person, while out hunting with two companions near Two Harbors. The bullet went through Hunter's chest and was brought to Duluth on the Duluth & Iron Range train this forenoon and taken to the St. Luke's hospital.

GIRLS' CLUB WILL GIVE MOTHER-DAUGHTERS' BANQUET
 The Girls' Club of Denfeld high school will entertain tonight at a banquet for their mothers and daughters. The program includes a selection by the orchestra, "My Mother," by Dorothy Shaw; "Our Daughters," by Mrs. Smith; a vocal solo, "Mother of Mine," by Myrtle Taylor; "Home and the Girl," by Edwelyn Aron; "Farmhouses of the Girl," by Dorothy Harper; and "The Old Days," by Benita Cook. The officers of the Denfeld Girls' club are Dorothy Shaw, president; Benita Cook, vice president; and Edwelyn Aron, treasurer.

LESSON IN ARITHMETIC
 Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph: Arithmetic, according to the average small boy, was simply invented in order to give teachers a good excuse for punishing their unhappy pupils. And, certainly, little Tommy Smith found it the unpleasant feature of his young life.
 "Now, Tommy Smith," said the school teacher one morning during the usual hour of torture, "what is the 'which way, teacher?' asked the youngster cautiously.
 "Which way?" replied the astonished lady, "What do you mean?"

 "Well, on top or sideways, teacher?" said Tommy.
 "What difference does that make?" "Why?" Tommy explained, with a pitying air, "half of the top of eight is nought, but half of it sideways is three."

JUNIORS AND SOPHOMORES WIN DENFELD CONTESTS

The junior and sophomore teams defeated the freshman and senior teams respectively yesterday in the first games of the interschool basketball tournament being held at Denfeld high school.

The juniors defeated the freshman by a score of 9 to 6. The sophomores won a 18-to-10 victory over the seniors.

The games showed some real good work by several of the players. All the teams showed a weakness in their inability to stop the ball. This was especially true of the sophomore machine, which worked the ball down the floor time and time again and then failed to shoot a basket. Yesterday's games saw the sophomores the odds on winning the tournament. Coach Moxit has ordered his call for substitutes for the Denfeld team and ordered them to report for practice Monday night. It is expected that the largest squad in the history of the school will be out for the team this year.

GARY HENNER SHOT WHILE OUT NEAR TWO HARBORS

Arthur Henner, aged 45, 910 House street, Gary, was shot by an unknown hunter, while he was hunting with two companions north of Two Harbors. The hunter went through White's log cabin, was brought to Duluth on the Duluth and Iron Range trails this morning, and taken to the St. Luke's hospital.

GIRLS' CLUB WILL GIVE MOTHER-DAUGHTERS' BANQUET

The Girls' Club of Denfeld high school will entertain tonight at a mother and daughter banquet at the Denfeld school. The program includes a selection by the orchestra, "My Mother," by Dorothy Shaw; "Our Daughters," by Mrs. Smith; a vocal solo, "Mother of Mine," by Myrtle Taylor; "The Day of the Girl," by Myrtle Taylor; "Home and the Girl," by Erielyn Aman; "Remarks of the Girl," by Dorothy Harper; and "Relationships," by Benita Cook. The officers of the Denfeld girls club are Dorothy Shaw, president; Benita Cook, vice president; and Erielyn Johnson, treasurer.

LESSION IN ARITHMETIC

Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph: Arithmetic, according to the average small boy, was simply invented in order to give teachers a good excuse for punishing their unhappy pupils. And, certainly, little Tommy Smith found it the unpleasant feature of his young life.

"Now, Tommy Smith," said the school teacher one morning during the second hour of torture, "what is the half of eight?"

"Which way, teacher?" asked the youngster cautiously.

"Which way?" replied the astonished lady. "What do you mean?"

"Well, on top or sideways, teacher?" said Tommy.

"What difference does that make?"

"Why, Tommy explained with a pensive air, "half of the top of eight is eight, but half of it sideways is three."

LOAN SAVES THOUSANDS

Great Work Performed By National Lutheran Council in Poland.

New York, Nov. 19.—"How 500 villages were saved in Poland by the timely loan of $1,000,000 Polish marks to war refugees is one of the conspicuous results of the church's friendly work in Central Europe," said Dr. Lauri Larsen, secretary of the National Lutheran council, just returned from a three months' visit to countries in Europe where the council is giving systematic assistance to churches and their institutions. "When the thousands of people driven from their homes during the war began to trickle back, our commissioners, Dr. John A. Morehead and Prof. M. J. Stöber, were there to assist them. These farmers and villagers preferred loans to gifts and the funds we let them have were so carefully applied that at least 500 villages and a vast farm acreage were conserving when the recent campaigns in Poland brought a setback," continued Dr. Larsen. "This indicates how the philanthropy of America is neutralized by adverse political conditions. I saw this again and again."

Russia Extremely Unhappy.
"The Russian situation alone, until order comes about, would keep Europe from settling if there were no other disturbing factors. I only saw Russia from the outside but that country is extremely unhappy. That the present conditions can continue much longer seems impossible to me."

"What about the stocks of food, clothing and medicine?" Dr. Larsen was asked in view of occasional reports that all is well nearly so in Central Europe. His reply was spirited. "Anyone who makes such statements has not moved far from the hotels and has had lots of American money. To be sure, I was comfortable and had all I wanted at the Hotel Adlon in Berlin, but it is difficult to believe that the poor families I visited in congested sections of the city can outlive the winter that is upon them. Even in Vienna, I had enough to eat at best hotels, but a prominent pastor whom I visited had had a bit of meat about the size of two fingers on the 16th of August for the first time in months. He had brought no shoes for six years and did not know when he might have money to buy a pair."

Children Suffer Most.
"As always, the children suffer most. It is an endless story of pallid, underfed, underdressed, deformed children. What is most discouraging is that no end is in sight. The situation in general is very little better than last winter. The coming months will again be an open season for general unrest, riots, and probably revolutions."

When asked whether there seemed to be an organized effort to make capital of this unrest, Dr. Larsen said: "There are extremists at both the radical and conservative ends, but there is an increasing number of people who want quiet and order. If this sentiment were reinforced by the steady employment laborers and a more lively commerce, Germany at least would recover rapidly. This, of course, is a story so well known that it is almost forgotten. Bolshevism is discredited in almost all circles in Germany. The reports brought back by commissions started it, and the failure to take Warsaw put a probable coalition between Russian Bolshevism and extreme radicalism in Germany out of the question."

Suffering of Ministers.
"But returning to matters lying nearer to the purpose of my visit, let me say that the ministers of Central Europe generally are severe sufferers. They suffer physically. They suffer even more keenly from the lack of opportunity for study and general culture. There is not sufficient money to print books and articles that might be written. Pastors have not even money to buy the necessary literature any minister must have. Often I was asked whether it might not be possible to foster from American funds the publishing of essential books, pamphlets and church papers."

The National Lutheran council of which Dr. Larsen is secretary, has sent deputations to Europe since the armistice and has established permanent headquarters in Copenhagen with Rev.

Dr. John A. Morehead, former president of Rosemead college, Virginia, in charge. An extended organization has been effected in all countries where the need is greatest. In Poland the council has worked closely with the American Red Cross and American Relief organization.

The president of the council is Rev. H. G. Stub, D. D., of Minneapolis. It is a federation of ten Lutheran bodies for practical church activities at home and abroad. Its next annual meeting will be held on Dec. 7 in Chicago.

LOAN SAVES THOUSANDS

Great Work Performed By National Lutheran Council in Poland.

New York, Nov. 19.—"How 500 villages were saved in Poland by the timely loan of 21,000,000 Polish marks to war refugees is one of the conspicuous results of the church's friendly work in Central Europe," said Dr. Lauri Larsen, secretary of the National Lutheran council, just returned from a three-month visit to countries in Europe where the council is giving systematic assistance to churches and their institutions. "When the thousands of people driven from their homes during the war began to trickle back, our commissioners, Dr. John A. Morehead and Prof. M. J. Stoler, were there to assist them. These farmers and villagers preferred loans to gifts and the funds we let them have were so carefully applied that at least 500 villages and a vast farm acreage were saved when the recent campaigns in Poland brought a setback," continued Dr. Larsen. "This indicates how the philanthropy of America is neutralized by adverse political conditions. I saw this again and again."

Russia Extremely Unhappy.
"The Russian situation alone, until order comes about, would keep Europe from settling if there were no other disturbing factors. I only saw Russia from the outside but that country is extremely unhappy. That the present conditions can continue much longer seems impossible to me."

"What about the stocks of food, clothing and medicines?" Dr. Larsen was asked in view of occasional reports that all is well or nearly so in Central Europe. His reply was simple. "Anyone who makes such statements has not moved far from the best hotels and has had lots of American money. To be sure, I was comfortable and had all I wanted at the Hotel Adlon in Berlin, but it is difficult to believe that the poor families I visited in congested sections of the city can outlive the winter that is upon them. Even in Vienna I had enough to eat at best hotels, but a prominent pastor whom I visited had had a bit of meat about the size of two fingers on the 16th of August for the first time in months. He had bought no shoes for six years and did not know when he might have money to buy a pair."

Children Suffer Most.
"As always, the children suffer most. It is an endless story of pallid, underfed, underdressed, deformed children. What is most discouraging is that no end is in sight. The situation in general is very little better than last winter. The coming months will again be an open season for general unrest, riots, and probably revolutions."

When asked whether there seemed to be an organized effort to make capital of this unrest, Dr. Larsen said, "There are extremists at both the radical and conservative ends, but there is an increasing number of people who want quiet and order. If this sentiment were reinforced by the steady employment laborers and a more lively commerce, Germany at least would recover rapidly. This, of course, is a story so well known that it is almost forgotten. Bolshevism is discredited in almost all circles in Germany. The reports brought back by commissions started it, and the failure to take Warsaw put a probable coalition between Russian Bolshevism and extreme radicalism in Germany out of the question."

Suffering of Ministers.
"But returning to matters lying nearer to the purpose of my visit, let me say that the ministers of Central Europe generally are severe sufferers. They suffer physically. They suffer even more keenly from the lack of opportunity for study and general culture. There is not sufficient money to print books and articles that might be written. Pastors have not even money to buy the necessary literature any minister must have. Often I was asked whether it might not be possible to foster from American funds the publishing of essential books, pamphlets and church papers."

N. D. Pioneer Sale.
Fargo, N. D., Nov. 19.—J. D. Car-

enter, 60, pioneer North Dakota insurance man, committed suicide at Oak Grove park here Tuesday by shooting himself with a revolver. No reason is given other than that he had been in ill-health for the last few months.

Mr. Carpenter had been a resident of North Dakota for forty years, coming to Edgely in 1880. Twenty years ago he removed with his family to Fargo and had been engaged in the insurance business.

He is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Albert Birch of Fargo, and one son, Harry.

Large Bridge Completed.
Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 19.—Regarded as one of the largest bridges in the world and one of the engineering marvels of the country, the bridge over Deep creek on the Pacific Great Eastern railway, 1,200 feet long and 239 feet high, has reached completion. Throughout the course of construction not a single accident occurred.

Air Service Oil Fields.
Edmonton, Alta., Nov. 19.—Edmonton aviators are entering upon negotiations for the establishment of an aerial service from Edmonton to the oil fields of Fort Norman on the Mackenzie river. The proposed calls for the establishment of landing stages at intervals along the route and the transportation in the first instance before wiring of gasolines and other essentials for successful operation. As the Crow River, Fort Norman is situated 900 miles from this city.

IS WORLD'S MAINSTAY

President-Elect Harding Says America Is Sound and Secure.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 19.—Despite a "trying period in which national policy and aspiration have been misinterpreted and misjudged," the United States is "sound and secure" and the "world's mainstay and hope," President-elect Warren G. Harding declared to Balley Wells of Denver, president of the American Mining congress in a letter which was read last night at the annual convention of the congress.

He also declared that he was anxious to take counsel with such men as would attend the congress in outlining the policies of his administration.

Senator Harding's letter follows:

"Hon. Balkeley Wells, president American Mining congress, Denver, Colo. My dear Mr. Wells: I have to thank you for your invitation to the twenty-third annual convention of the American Mining congress and to express my regrets that it will be impossible for me to accept. My regrets are the more keen because your meeting will bring together a body of men with which I am anxious to take counsel in outlining the policies of the next administration. I am aware of the difficulties that confront the mining industry of the country, and would be glad of the opportunity to familiarize myself with them. Industrial depression is only momentary.

The World's Mainstay.

"Not only is our own country sound and secure, but it is the world's mainstay and hope. We have been through a trying period in which national policy and aspiration have been misinterpreted and misjudged. We have now had a convincing demonstration of the real attitude of the American people, and it will not fall to reassure both our own people and the rest of the world, which so greatly needs our steadfast support and aid. A mighty effort will be required of us to meet the demands that a recovering world will impose. In no direction will these demands be more pressing than in supplying those necessities of life and reconstruction that come from the richness of American mines. With wisdom and deliberation such as we hope to secure by dint of consulting the men who place our country and its industry once more on the high road of prosperity and success. To that end you may be assured that every energy and effort of the new administration will be directed.

"Please be good enough to convey to the congress and all its members the assurance of my pleasure in receiving your invitation, and of my wish to serve you in common with every other worthy American interest. Most sincerely yours,

"WARREN G. HARDING."

FRENCH TOWN HAD ONLY ONE CHAIR
Washington, Nov. 19.—For months the little city of Coulange, in the Alsace region of France, possessed but a single chair and it was the property of the mayor. It was officially known as "the chair" until the Junior Red Cross of America sent to that city a motor truck loaded with chairs and tables that had been made by the boys of America in their manual training schools. Last year thousands of these articles of furniture were sent to the devastated areas of France.

Col. H. S. Todd and Col. Bicknell of the Red Cross recently went to Chamery to adjust some difficulties that had arisen to block construction of the Quentin Roosevelt memorial fountain, the details of which had been entrusted to the American Red Cross by the late Former President Roosevelt. At Chamery they learned that the mayor resided in Coulange and when they located him there he apologized for having left the city's only chair at the town hall. All were forced to stand throughout the visit.

An exchange of views quickly adjusted matters pertaining to the memorial fountain, and as the Red Cross representatives departed for Paris they promised to relieve the solitude of that town chair. Soon afterward the vanload of Junior Red Cross furniture was sent to Coulange, and the next time Col. Todd visited the little city it was proudly pointed out that the entire company gathered to confer with him was seated, and gratitude was voiced to the American lads who had contributed the needed tables and chairs.

WOMEN'S SPHERE AT STOCK SHOW

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Not only for the farm woman were the features of the International Livestock exposition especially designed to arouse feminine interest created. Between city and country women there is a common interest. Housekeeping has been reduced to a science in recent years and it is interesting that character as time works along.

The International Livestock exposition at Chicago, Nov. 27 to Dec. 4, will afford an unprecedented opportunity for the wives and daughters to study domestic science. Skilled demonstrators will expound the principles of that essential art, solving vexed problems associated with living cost by the introduction of modern and efficient methods into domestic culinary operations. Go and see how the cheaper cuts of meats may be prepared to create palatable dishes; investigate other phases of this interesting study and add to your mental equipment for meeting new housekeeping problems.

In recent years the "International" has rapidly developed features of absorbing interest and educational value to the mothers, wives and daughters of the American family apart from the general attractions valuable in an educational and recreative sense to both sexes.

FARM IMPLEMENTS USED BY PIONEERS

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 19.—Implements used by the pioneers in the agricultural pursuits of the early days and tools used by the early settlers of the state in building their homes are on exhibit in the museum of the Minnesota Historical society building, St. Paul.

The exhibit of the agricultural implements is interesting in that it shows how the settlers of the state were compelled to carry on the work of the field by manual application. The ground was first turned over with crude plows, drawn by oxen, which required tedious work, the day's work starting with sunrise and continuing through until long after sun-down.

Where the present farmer turns over acres of land, these hardy tillers of the soil of the early days turned over a small portion. After seeding and planting the crop by hand the farmer was required to harvest the same in a similar crude manner. The cutting knives used for hay and grain are among the exhibit, and in a small way impresses the observer with the ardu-

Reputation-

Next to the test of years of service, values in plumbing equipment can be measured best by the REPUTATION of the manufacturer and the reputation of the local distributor.

Thomas Maddock was the first to make sanitary earthenware plumbing fixtures in America. The leadership then secured has been maintained throughout three generations of the Maddock family. And today the Maddock plant is the largest single factory in America devoted exclusively to the manufacture of earthenware plumbing fixtures.

This is the experience, the leadership and the facilities upon which the Thomas Maddock's Sons Company reputation was built. We know our reputation is in safe hands because we sell and recommend plumbing fixtures bearing the Maddock Anchor trade-mark.

Our display of this equipment is now ready. Come in and see how these modern fixtures will add to the convenience of your home.

TURKEYS IN FAIR SUPPLY

Prices Fairly Good; Other Poultry Plentiful; Delicacies Reaching Duluth.

Supplies of turkeys will be ample to take care of the Thanksgiving trade in the opinion of Duluth dealers. The price for dressed live birds will average up at around 45 cents a pound. Heavy turkeys are at a premium owing to the open weather and unfavorable conditions for fattening, and commission men have, therefore, been compelled to bring in supplies from more distant territory than had been ordinarily the case. Other lines of poultry, fowl, ducks and geese are abundant and their prices are in line with the market.

CUT THIS OUT OLD ENGLISH REMEDY FOR CATARRH, CATARRH, DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES

If you know of some one who is troubled with Catarrh, Deafness, Head Noises or ordinary Catarrh cut out this formula and hand it to them and you may have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. In England scientists for a long time past have recognized that Catarrh is a constitutional disease and necessarily requires constitutional treatment. Sprays, inhalers and nose douches are liable to irritate the delicate air passages and force the disease into the middle ear which frequently means total deafness, or else the disease may be driven down the air passages towards the lungs which is equally as dangerous. The following formula which is used extensively in the damp English climate is a constitutional treatment and should prove especially efficacious to sufferers here who live under more favorable climatic conditions.

Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parment (double strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar, stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and hearing improve as the inflammation in the external ear is reduced. Parment in this way acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system and has a tonic action that helps to obtain the desired results. The preparation is easy to make, needs little and is pleasant to take. Every person who has catarrh or head noises or is in danger of hearing should give this treatment a trial.—Advertisement.

Delicacies Plentiful.

That there is no lack of prosperity in this community is regarded by commission men as proven in the good inquiry coming to hand for all kinds of Thanksgiving delicacies in fruits and vegetables. With favorable shipping conditions, as compared with a year ago, no delays have been experienced in bringing shipments forward from California and Florida points. The first car of new Florida oranges for the season has been received on this market. They are being quoted wholesale at $7.50 a crate. Grapefruit is in abundant supply and prices are low. The crop of cranberries at Eastern producing points fell off this season owing to dry weather during the critical period of their growth, and their quotations have been advanced. The fruit is of excellent quality, however, and supplies are thought to be enough to take care of the demand for the season.

Michigan Kiefer pears are still being offered at the low basis of 22 a bushel wholesale and California winter Nollis pears of a good quality are also to be had fairly cheap.

Good Apple Sale.

Apples remain the outstanding feature in fruits. High grade New York apples are being offered wholesale at $8.00 a barrel and the fruit has been going out freely to grocers to stock their counters. A retail grocer that put on an apple sale a week ago, is reported to have had a good run of both medium grade and fancy stock. With the all-rail movement of apples beginning in about two weeks, prices will be advanced to the extent of the additional freight cost by the commission houses.

A full range of green vegetables from California has been listed and shipments are going out freely to dealers over the district. Heavy vegetables, including potatoes, cabbage and onions, are cheap and their movement from the country is being aided by mild weather conditions. Higher quotations in potatoes are looked for early in January when supplies of grown in home gardens and lots are expected to be about exhausted.

Butter Going Up.

Creamery butter prices have been marked up a cent at 59¢65 cents a pound wholesale. Fresh eggs are becoming increasingly scarce, but they are still being quoted at 62¢65 cents a dozen wholesale.

Stocks of both butter and eggs in Eastern warehouses are low this season owing to difficulty experienced by dealers in financing purchases during the summer.

THOUSAND TEN-EAR SAMPLES OF CORN

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 19.—A thousand ten-ear samples of corn will form a part of the big exhibit at the International Hay and Grain show in Chicago Nov. 27 to Dec. 31, at which prices totaling $10,000 will be awarded by the Chicago Board of Trade to encourage general crop improvement. A departure from the method followed last year has just been announced by Prof. G. J. Christie, director of experimental and extension work at Purdue university, who is managing

IF KIDNEYS ACT BAD TAKE SALTS

When you wake up with backache and dull misery in the kidney region it generally means you have been eating too much meat, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which overworks the kidneys in their effort to filter it from the blood and they become sort of paralyzed and lazy. When your kidneys get sluggish and clog you must relieve them, like you relieve your bowels; removing all the body's urinous wastes else you have backache, sick headache, dizzy spells; your stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, channels often get sore, water seals and you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night.

Says Backache Is Sign You Have Been Eating Too Much Meat.

Either consult a good, reliable physician at once or get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is a life saver for regular meat eaters. It is inexpensive, cannot injure and makes a delightful, effervescent lithia-water drink.—Advertisement.

SAYS AMERICA IS WONDERLAND

Paris, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Gen. Fayolle said upon his return recently from his three weeks' stay in the United States, "I have just discovered America and America has conquered me. It is a wonderland. It has been a hard fight, those three weeks in America, the severe work on with the usual humorous twinkle in his eye. I come back on the verge of collapse with spin dyspepsia holding me in its grip. Without taking back anything that I have said about American expeditionary force cooks being rank amateurs, I must take off my hat to American chefs. There were many langoustes, langoustes, I survived them all. To the suggestion that most of the chefs at the leading hotels were French, Gen. Fayolle replied: "They may be but they certainly have undergone an evolution for they had strange dishes of their own." "Did you miss your wine with your meals?" he was asked. "I never missed my wine," Fayolle replied. "Don't ask me to talk local American politics," Gen. Fayolle went on when requested to explain whether he meant to stay in his wine twice a day as is his custom or that he did not miss it temporarily.

FORMER KAISER NOT TO BE TRIED

London, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—It seems now to be finally settled that the former German emperor is not to be tried in continental court. The question was asked the other day of Premier Lloyd George in the house of commons by Charles Frodsham, whether, "in view of the fact that Holland has refused extradition of William Hoopzoelen, the supreme council would summon him for trial, and in the event of his non-appearance, would arrange that he shall be tried in his absence, so that the promise that he would be tried in London might be fulfilled."

DAY'S RECEIPTS TO BE INVESTED IN LOAN

"NOTHING IS SACRED FOR THESE AMERICANS"

Paris, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—Sadi Lecoq, the winner of the Gordon Bennett cup race for aviators was just ready to go up from the Rue aviation field the other day when an American woman stepped up and asked: "Won't you take me up?" "Surely," replied Sadi, "where do you want to go?" "To Gambia, I do wish to see that Landru villa." Sadi obliged, landing within 100 feet of the appearance of eleven women to whom Landru had promised marriage. When she left she carried away a souvenir in the shape of a piece of rabbit bone found in the yard. "Nothing is sacred for these Americans," Landru said when he heard of the occurrence.

Limit of Oil Leases.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 18.—The limit of lease for oil lands is to be placed at 1,920 acres, according to report. When the petroleum and gas acts were applied to the forest reserves, it was provided that half the profits should go to the crown, and that there was to be a definite limit to leaseholds. It is expected that similar provisions are to be made to apply to the land in the vicinity of Fort Norman, where the rich oil strike of 1,000 barrels per day was made by the Imperial Oil company.

HIGHER RATES ARE ORDERED

New York State Must Increase R. R. Tariffs, Says Commission.

Washington, Nov. 19.—In its first decision on the right of the Federal government under the transportation act to require railroad rates within a state to correspond to the higher levels of interstate tariffs, the interstate commerce commission yesterday ordered the railroads of New York to establish passenger and baggage rates on intrastate traffic conforming to advanced interstate schedules. Similar proceedings are pending affecting more than half the States in the Union.

On its order in August, the commission authorized in the New York case an increase of 40 per cent in freight rates, 20 per cent in passenger fares, excess baggage charges and rates on milk and cream, and also a surcharge of 50 per cent on Pullman accommodations. The New York public service commission granted the freight advance, except milk, but denied the other increases within the state, and the carriers appealed to the interstate commerce commission.

"The Federal law held that there was a general obligation resting on it to exercise control over intrastate commerce so far as it affects interstate commerce."

"The 'divisive' factor," the ruling says, "is whether the rates under consideration injuriously affect interstate commerce."

Commissioners decided that rates be allowed which would yield an aggregate return of from 6% to 8 per cent on the value of the railway properties, the commission stated.

Power of Congress.

"There can be no doubt of the power of Congress to devise and provide for carrying into effect a plan for assuring the nation's interstate railroads a fair return upon the value of their property, and the full control of Congress in this matter is not to be denied. On the grounds that the carriers' economic earnings are a commingling of interstate, foreign and interstate income."

"The annual earnings of the interstate carriers operating in New York are $1,000,000,000 and $1,000,000,000 less than they would be if the general level of rates and fares covered by the law became effective on interstate traffic, and to that extent the declared purpose of Congress is defeated by a preferential basis of rates and fare maintained by authority of the state of New York."

"It has not happened heretofore that we have had occasion to make such an extensive exercise of our authority as is now contemplated, and we could not be moved to do so save by the most cogent reasons. Such reasons have been supplied by the situation in which the transportation interests of the country were placed and the action taken by Congress to relieve that situation."

A dissenting opinion was handed down by Commissioner Eastman, who contended that the decision of the majority was beyond the lawful power of the commission.

MINNESOTA WILL FIGHT RAILING

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 19.—The ruling of the interstate commerce commission yesterday in the New York case undoubtedly means that the same ruling will apply to Minnesota's case, which is now awaiting decision of the commission along with those of many other states. O. P. H. Jacobson, chairman of the Minnesota state railroad and warehouse commission, said last night:

"Minnesota will fight such a ruling to the last," said Mr. Jacobson, "and the matter will be carried to the United States supreme court. Members of the Minnesota commission have concluded from the beginning that such a ruling is in direct conflict with state rights."

OIL RESOURCES OF WORLD ENORMOUS

Washington, Nov. 19.—An oil production sufficient to supply the world for several generations at least was forecast yesterday at the annual meeting here of the American Petroleum Institute.

Henry L. Doherty, of New York, Thomas A. O'Donnell, of Los Angeles, president of the institute, and R. P.

Denson, president of the Tidewater Oil company, declared that the petroleum resources of the world were nowhere near exhausted.

Mr. O'Donnell, however, attacked the navy department for its seizure of oil stocks on the Pacific coast. Producers there, he said, "feel that the navy department has not been fair," and added: "We believe this to be due to the extreme prejudice of the head of the department."

Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. Doherty both declared that government regulation of the petroleum industry was likely to jeopardize the world's future oil supply by discouraging development of new fields.

Mr. Doherty predicted that there would be sufficient gasoline for all automobiles requirements for generations to come. He said scientists undoubtedly would discover new fuel extracts, but was of the opinion that the probability of finding an artificial substitute for petroleum was remote.

When prices first went skyward during the war, quality of many things came down. As ever we bought the best obtainable and kept up our old unwritten guarantee. Everybody was earning big money then and purchased regardless of price.

The turn has come and people are looking for lower prices now. Be careful that the lowered prices are not attached to lower quality, for poorly made wearables are dear at any price.

FEDERATION OF MILLION

Thirty-Five States in American Farm Bureau Federation.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, announces that the federation has now over a million members and has thirty-five state organizations affiliated with it. The national federation took permanent form here last spring and established headquarters in Chicago this past summer.

Sketching the character of this new-comer among the national farm organizations, together with its program, Mr. Howard, himself an Iowa farmer, said:

"The federation is an alliance of county farm bureaus into state farm bureau federations and this in turn became federated into a national organization as the American Farm Bureau federation.

"Its purpose is to work for the economic, social and educational advancement of the farmers of the United States and for the general welfare of the nation. It is proposed to develop this work by means of bureaus.

Study Production Costs.

"Our bureau of agricultural economics and statistics has already been set up. It will make a study of costs of production of the principal agricultural products and will direct and compile statistics in co-operation with the departments of agriculture and the various state agencies. This work will give a much better insight into the supply and demand of agricultural products, will be thought that this will lead to more efficient marketing.

"Our bureau of transportation is making a study of necessary transportation facilities, both by land and by water, for the marketing of our farm products. The purpose of this bureau is to get at the real facts in the transportation problem and govern its actions accordingly. It purposes to establish rate and trade files, which have never yet been built up for agricultural products.

Supply and Demand.

"The bureau of trade relations will make a study of world supply and demand, as well as of our national supply and demand. This information, coupled with the work of the farm economics and statistics bureau, will give us accurate worldwide knowledge upon which to base our plans.

"We are already undertaking important investigation of co-operation enterprises in marketing, which looks toward the establishment of a bureau of co-operation. This will make a study in the country and abroad, with the thought that special industries interested in forming local or district co-operative organizations may profit by the experience of other people in similar enterprises before starting their undertaking.

Bureau of Education.

"The bureau of education which we have planned but which has not yet been started will present facts relative to the food supply and other necessities produced by agriculture to the daily users in order that there may be a more general understanding of agricultural production and a closer relationship between producer and consumer. This bureau will be a service to agricultural owners, presenting regional and national facts of particular interest to farm people and be of service to our own affiliated farm organizations, state and county.

"Our bureau of legislation, which is already in operation, is keeping a close record of bills introduced in congress and is working for the introduction of legislation which we consider essential to the proper development of a national agricultural policy."

EXPECT NEW MINE ON THE MENOMINEE

Iron River, Mich., Nov. 19.—(Special to The Herald.)—Residents of Iron

county and of the Menominee range expect that within a comparatively short time the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company will open another mine, as a result of recent discoveries of ore near Alpha, on section 12. The Oliver Iron Mining company owns a promising tract adjoining the one under control of the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron company, so that there is a possibility of the Oliver also developing a mine. Ben C. Neely, Jr., formerly of Negaunee, and for some years past living at Crystal Falls, and others, are the fee owners of the property that the Cleveland-Cliffs is exploring.

A drill has been at work on the property for several months. Four downright holes have been drilled close to the line of the Oliver Mining company's find. An underlay hole is now being driven so as to cut under the four downright holes. From indications it would seem that the underlay hole will be driven to a depth to test thoroughly what is lying away down.

This property was drilled about six years ago, at the time that the Oliver Iron Mining company drilled on the land it has under lease from the Ford interests. The findings were so good at the time that the company took a lease upon it and it was expected that the property would have been opened before this, but for some reason they decided to open the Spies mine at Iron River instead.

The property is owned in fee by Ben C. Neely of Crystal Falls and others.

STRIKE AGAINST BATH.

Brooklyn Eagle: The crew of the Italian steamer Polacky went on strike upon the arrival of the ship in Constantinople the other day because the health officers insisted that they take a bath before landing, as steerage passengers must do. The crew refused to bathe unless first-class passengers also were compelled to do this. The strike ended when first-class passengers agreed to this.

Crew, steerage and first-class passengers all entered the Bosphorus, took a sea bath and then returned to the ship, which proceeded to Naples.

POLAND IN DIRE NEED OF FOOD

New York, Nov. 19.—Numerous appeals in behalf of refugees and destitute adults along the Bolshevik frontier in Poland are being received by the American relief administration, of which Herbert Hoover is chairman. Unless assistance is forthcoming, it is predicted the coming winter will mean extreme suffering for the children and aged.

According to reports from relief administration representatives, Poland is in dire need of food. Thousands are reported starving. Fifty per cent of the operations of the children's relief in Poland this summer were within the soviet lines.

The driving back of the Russians to the natural frontiers has radically changed a situation that seriously threatened the continuation of the American relief administration child feeding program. Operations have been established and authorities estimate that help is needed for at least 50,000 babies under 3 years of age.

In the other four countries in Eastern and Central Europe which are served by the European children's fund 2,500,000 children must be fed until the next harvest through the generosity of Americans, Mr. Hoover estimates. More than 5,000 kitchens providing one meal a day to these starving little ones are now in operation.

FOR PROTECTION OF MOTHERS AND BABIES

Washington, Nov. 19.—For the protection of maternity and infancy last year the British ministry of health made grants totaling over $2,500,000, according to information received by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor.

Six years ago the necessity was recognized of providing medical and nursing care for mothers and babies in order to reduce the high death rates. The first year a small appropriation was granted but the results obtained were so encouraging that the appropriations have been greatly increased each year.

The funds are administered by the ministry of health in co-operation with local authorities. The local authorities appropriate a sum equal to the amount granted by the government. The service available includes instruction in midwifery and maternity nursing, and the hygiene of maternity and infancy hospital and maternity home care.

NIGHT RIDERS IN ARKANSAS

Strong Sentiment Against Intimidation of the Cotton Growers.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 19.—Responsible sentiment in this state is running strongly against night riding which has been undertaken in this and other cotton growing states to prevent the picking and marketing of cotton at the present low price. Representative planters, bankers and business men feel strongly that this lawlessness is giving the South a "black eye."

from Claude Fitzpatrick, president of the Arkansas Bankers' association. All the forces of the state and local governments in Arkansas are now co-operating to prevent further lawlessness in the cotton ginning centers.

Stopping Activities.
The counter movement is believed to be doing much to stop the activities of night riders. Mass meetings have been held in many towns and the co-operation of the citizens has been professed in maintaining order.

Acts of violence for which night riders have been given credit in Arkansas have taken various forms. In addition to the burning of gins, warehouses and other property, farmers who attempted to market their cotton have been threatened with death or severe punishment, and in some cases have been badly maltreated. Negro families have been intimidated and driven from their homes because they sought employment or worked as cotton pickers. Hundreds of cotton gins in various sections of the state have been looted with warnings against continuing to buy and gin cotton, the threatened penalties for not heeding the warnings including destruction of the plants and forfeiture of the lives of the owners.

In one county eight men now are awaiting action of the grand jury on a charge of setting fire to a gin, and in another section of the state three white farmers have been sentenced to a year's imprisonment and assessed heavy fines for intimidation of negro cotton pickers.

LAWS ASKED TO PROTECT HEALTH

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 19.—Minnesota is so gravely menaced by disease that the appropriation of special state funds aggregating $56,000 and the enactment of new laws to protect the health and lives of the 2,500,000 men, women and children in the rural and urban communities of the state will be urged upon the 1921 legislature through a state-wide appeal.

This was the announcement made here at the annual meeting this week of the Minnesota Public Health association, at the St. Paul Athletic club. A similar announcement was made at the annual meeting of the state sanitary conference of health officers at the Lowry building medical library, by Dr. C. L. Scofield of Benson.

Dr. Scofield is president of the Minnesota Public Health association, which with affiliated public health associations in every county in the state will direct the state-wide movement to bring the enactment of the legislation declared so vitally essential. These volunteer health agencies, through campaign managers in conference here, are completing plans for the annual Christmas seal sale, which starts Dec. 1 and which provides the funds with which to conduct public health work through education, demonstration, detection and treatment of disease and promotion of improved health legislation.

AMERICAN CUTLERY IS SOLD IN ENGLAND

New York, Nov. 19.—Shipping cutlery to England would seem like carrying coals to Newcastle, because of the importance of Sheffield in the manufacture of cutlery in the days before the war. Nevertheless England has been in recent years one of the best customers for American cutlery of all kinds, most of which finds its way to the large cities. According to statistics supplied by Consul Washington, imports of American cutlery into Liverpool amounted to $322,000 during the year 1918 and $273,000 during 1919. This shows that 30 per cent of all the cutlery imported into England goes through the big Mersey port. The total English annual purchase of American cutlery during the year of 1919 was valued at $1,258,000. Most of the imported cutlery consists of razors, but there is a fair demand also for American table cutlery, pocket knives, scissors and tailor shears in which the American industry has gained a great reputation in England as elsewhere.

GOOD FELLOWSHIP CLUB AND HOME FILL UNIQUE MISSION; TO OBSERVE THIRD ANNIVERSARY

As the Christmas holidays approach, the attention of everybody at Morgan Park is centered upon the Good Fellowship club and home, which are due to celebrate their third anniversary on Dec. 1. Officers of the club report that the work at this institution is growing by leaps and bounds and that it is gaining yearly in popularity and usefulness.

Reports of the work at the Good Fellowship club by various department heads show interest and enthusiasm to be at high pitch and activities being extended. These reports, which have just been compiled show this institution to be one of the most unique in the country. In setting forth the unique position of the club, an officer of the institution said:

Common Meeting Ground.

For years capital and labor have been striving to find a common meeting ground; a place where employer and employee could grasp each other by the hand and exchange courtesies; where each could get a glimpse of the other's position from his brother's point of view, and where each could be of mutual benefit to the other. The labor organizations have had their clubs for the promotion of social, educational and industrial advantages, and capital has had its clubs for the promotion of its interests, but the great problem has been to establish something that would bring the two together, engender friendly relations and make each more helpful to the other.

"Up to a few years ago all attempts to establish such an institution had been either total failures or big partial successes. Institutions established by labor had been partisan in spirit and operation, and those established by capital had failed to remove the weeds of the times and had lacked the spirit of democracy essential to enlist popular favor.

"The institution that can do most to remove the lines between capital and labor is the one that is neither paternalistic nor condescending in its attitude; it must inspire the feeling of cooperation. Perhaps the best work to describe this is good fellowship. When the Minnesota Steel company established its plant at Morgan Park, in the western part of the city of Duluth, the officials, with their keen business sense and foresight, sought to hit upon something that would enlist the friendship of their employees and make it possible for them to build up and maintain their efficiency. At the outset they recognized the fact that employees are men and women and not machines, that a human being is a four-square individual—that he has a physical, mental, spiritual and social nature. How could these qualities in their employees be best developed? In answering this important question, they worked on the theory that men and women are merely grown-up children and that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." In other words, work and play must be properly combined to make a man or woman efficient and of good character."

Club Is Established.

With these basic principles in mind, the Minnesota Steel company established the Good Fellowship club and home at Morgan Park for the employees of the steel plant, the Portland Cement company, the Morgan Park company, and the lakeview stores, all of which are kindred enterprises of the steel corporation.

Recognizing the fact that there must be adequate facilities for such an institution, a large sum of money was set aside for a modern and thoroughly up-to-date building to provide for the needs of the workman, his wife and his children. The beautiful clubhouse and home at Morgan Park was built in 1917, and the place was opened in December of that year. Since that time this institution has been steadily at work in all departments, making "four-square" men and women.

"This clubhouse and home has all the salient features of a Y. M. C. A. and a workman and business men's club, fitted to suit the needs of its own membership.

Membership In Thousands.

The popularity of the institution has been shown by the large number of its members. At the present time there are 3,201 members in the club and 3,124 members in the home. All departments are open from 7 a. m. to 11:35 p. m. during the entire week, including Sundays.

Membership in the club and home is open to all employees of these kindred industries, and fees of admission and regular dues are nominal. Membership in the home is but 50 cents a month per person and but $10 a year for a man and his entire family. The fee is but $5 a year for women. Single men are charged the same as married men. The home has an associate membership but the club has only regular members.

The wide range of activities covered by this association may readily be seen from the varied list of its departments. There are adequate facilities for developing men and women from all sides. Physical development may be obtained through various forms of recreation. There is a large, well-equipped gymnasium, handball court, bowling alley, swimming pool and tennis courts for the grown-ups, and for the junior members there are spacious rooms with a shuffle board, ping pong tables, pool tables and a croquet court.

For the purpose of promoting health and better physical condition among members, special incentives are offered to make the work attractive. The girls' baseball teams make up an important part of the physical work of the club.

The bowling league is made up of teams from the different departments. There are eight crack bowling teams in the league and a big tournament features the bowling activities each year. The girls have become skillful and enthusiastic baseball players and won the city championship last year. In winter the girls turn their activities to basket ball and in this line of sport excellent players have been developed.

Swimming is one of the finest features at the club, and men, women and children find recreation in the big pool. There are many opportunities offered for mental recreation and development. Reading rooms for men, women and children are open at all times and the best of literature is available free of charge.

Variety of Entertainment.

Entertainment is offered in wide variety and includes something for all seasons of the year. The large auditorium is an ideal place for the showing of motion pictures, dancing and various entertainments. Motion picture programs are given twice a week and many entertainments are given for the children.

It is the aim of the officers of the club to create good fellowship and friendship among the members and their families and numerous occasions are offered at which members may mingle and become well acquainted. The most important of these are the annual picnic and the annual indoor carnival, and the annual minstrel show. The indoor carnival is given every fall and lasts from three to four days. Events are staged all through the big building and booths and other features are open to the public. Hundreds of people at the Park come to these carnivals and mingle in the spirit of jollity. All the carnival activities are carefully supervised and perfect order is maintained.

The annual picnic is one of the most popular events of the year. All members and their families are invited and thousands attend every year. Everything is furnished free, including ice cream, sandwiches and other refreshments in the line of eats and drinks. Valuable and attractive prizes, also are provided free as an incentive to promote sports and games.

The minstrel show not only creates much enthusiasm at the Park but also draws patrons from all parts of the city. The minstrels are selected from the most talented entertainers in the club and the programs are always of interest.

Both the club and the home are governed by a board of directors, which is made up of the heads of the various departments of the industries represented. Six additional members are selected by members-at-large.

Officers are elected by the board for one year, and include a president, treasurer and general secretary, who acts as manager of the home. The general secretary attends all his time managing the affairs of the club. The other officers have departments at the plant to look after and spend only part of their time at the clubhouse.

With thousands of men employed at occupations more or less hazardous and with the same workmen engaged year in and year out, misfortune is bound to creep in and leave families in temporary distress. For this reason the club provides wise and efficient aid through its charity work.

Welfare Activities.

Two trained nurses whose services are paid by the club, are employed the year around. Reports on the physical condition of members are received from various department heads, and when any member of the club or any of his family is ill, one of the nurses pays a visit to the home and finds out if the family is in need of assistance. If the case is found worthy, a nurse is placed in the home as long as needed or temporary help is given as the case requires. All this work is done according to a doctor's orders. The nurses also give aid in case a workman is injured and is sent to his home for treatment.

In case of death, flowers are provided free and automobiles for the funeral.

In worthy cases where members or their families are temporarily in need, limited loans in money are made without interest. Such loans are granted under supervision of departments and upon recommendation of the board of directors. Sometimes the money given will be equally divided as a loan and a gift. Payments are made on these loans monthly.

Many loans are granted to prevent workmen being garnished for debts which they are unable to meet when due.

At Christmas time the club does everything possible to make the little folks happy and the entire place is turned over to Santa Claus, the children and their parents. Great Christmas trees are erected and loaded down with toys, candies, peanuts and other gifts. The children from the Orphan's and Children's home are invited and these little unfortunates are given an opportunity to enjoy the same privileges that other children enjoy.

Whatever You Do Don't Neglect Your Eyes, Says Dr. Lewis, Who Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eyestrain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other one thing. Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. A lady who used it says: 'The stitches seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses.' It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to any active drug store and get a bottle of Non-Opto tablets. Drop one Non-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two or four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Non-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its consistent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them." The manufacturer guarantees it is strengthens eyesight 50 per cent in two weeks' time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist, and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for emergency use in almost every family. It is sold in this city by all leading druggists, including W. A. Ahlbeck and S. F. Boyer.

THE COMMUNITY WELFARE BUDGET.

This, in many cities, is the season for filling the community welfare budget, out of which the community finances its many charity and welfare causes.

Half the newspapers that come to this office tell the story of the success of this experiment, and bring appeals for refilling the budget chest for another year.

We hear of no city that, having adopted this plan, has gone back to the old plan—which was no plan and no system at all.

On the other hand, we hear of causes that held out at first coming in now that they find their fears groundless, and we hear of contributors who fought shy of the idea in the beginning but now agree that it is the right idea and that no other plan is thinkable any more.

Cleveland, for instance, is raising four and a half million dollars for this purpose. It calls its budget the Community Chest.

The Plain Dealer of that city, in discussing the campaign, gives some arguments out of Cleveland's abundantly successful experience that should be interesting to Duluth, which is thinking of adopting this plan.

The "Community Chest" is happily named, for it represents a community fund gathered in the community to meet community needs. Mutual effort and mutual benefits are written through it from beginning to end. Everyone identified with the fund campaign is working for the common good.

The "chest" represents the easiest, safest and most adequate method of handling a great city's charities. Formerly it was the custom for each charitable organization to conduct its own appeal for funds. "Tag days" were frequent. No sooner was one appeal over than another was announced. The path of the busy citizen was beset by a host of new activities. In the main, were for meritorious projects.

With the advent of the "chest" idea all this changed. Tag days were abolished. Instead of many campaigns for funds, we have but one—the written campaign of the community chest. The public response has been magnificent. The old objects are accomplished with less friction and less expense. The new method is being used with increasing activity. This permitted which could not be undertaken before.

That is the story of the community welfare fund idea wherever it has been tried and under whatever name. There is no reason why it would not work as admirably in Duluth, given proper co-operation, as it has in other cities.

THE NEW CHIEF OF POLICE.

Commissioner Murrian has our congratulations on his appointment of Detective Warren F. Pugh to be chief of police.

First, because the appointment is from the police force, where it always should be made from if it is possible.

Second, because he has picked a man whose character and military record, as well as a satisfactory though brief experience as patrolman and detective, offer a lively hope that he is the man the police department so vitally needs.

Mr. Pugh has a very important and not at all easy responsibility before him. We hope that he will have the fullest loyalty and co-operation from every member of the police department, and from the public.

The community will wish him the greatest possible success in the conduct of an office which is so important to its welfare and peace of mind.

MAKING THE NEW ROAD LAW.

The people of Minnesota did a splendid thing in ratifying Amendment No. 1 by a smashing two-thirds vote, and now the legislature has a task to perform which it must handle with great care.

For while the good roads amendment created a state highway system and defined its routes, the legislature must create the law that makes it possible to change this paper system to a real system; and in doing this it has the delicate task of surrounding the process with as many safeguards as possible against error and waste without constricting the work so rigidly that those who execute it will be shackled with red tape.

Indeed, this next step is in many respects the most important of the series, and the legislature should take what time it needs to do it well, and should be on its guard against the importunities of sections or selfish interests.

The report from St. Paul that an unpaid and nonpartisan commission of five probably will be created to undertake the original responsibility for the work sounds like a good start. The state could have no better man than Commissioner Babcock to execute the great commission the people have just issued; but for his own protection he will no doubt welcome the help and advice of such a commission.

Remember this—that very little is needed to make a happy life.—Marcus Aurelius.

The legislature will have no more important business before it this winter than the enactment of the right kind of law to carry out the mandate of Amendment No. 1, and it should put its best men on the job and give it the best and most unselfish thought of every senator and representative.

VOLUNTEER FOR THE RED CROSS.

Perhaps it should be emphasized more clearly that there is no house-to-house canvass for Red Cross memberships this time.

Everybody is asked to volunteer. Heads of families are asked to send in checks covering memberships for the whole family.

Business houses are asked to give their employees an opportunity to join, for themselves and for their families if they will.

Your dollar is good; your membership is better. You want to have a share in this great work of mercy, and you will remember that there is need of mercy not only when there is war, but at all times.

Send your application and your dollar to J. W. Lyder, treasurer, in care of the Northern National bank.

DANGEROUS BUSINESS.

A police campaign to stop speeding with trucks in the business sections—anywhere else, for that matter—is timely and very much needed.

Yesterday a truck, driven too fast, had to turn into a curb and be wrecked to avoid running down a woman. Every day there are narrow escapes.

There is no need for any truck to exceed the legal speed limits, and such driving as has been common in Duluth is simple recklessness. The wonder is that more people have not been injured or killed.

Sharp punishment for a few caught exceeding the speed limit would be a wholesome thing, and perhaps the only effective remedy.

THE RICHEST INVESTMENT.

All of us freely admit the value of education; but do we really appreciate just how concrete and tangible its values are? We do not; else we would be more earnest in seeing that education gets its due proportion of the public funds so that, for instance, teachers can be paid proportionately to the importance of their work.

So it is worth while thinking of the actual concrete values of education to the individual; for its values to society, especially in a republic where success in self-government must always be in direct proportion to the state of public intelligence, are too obvious to require demonstration.

Banks think in figures, and probably that is why an Indianapolis bank has gathered the figures needed to demonstrate the point, which is that education is the richest material investment that can be made. Here are some of them:

Out of five million children without schooling, only thirty-one will attain distinction; and of course these thirty-one will be of that irreplaceable type whose qualities cannot be held down by any imaginable handicap.

Of thirty-three million with elementary schooling, eight hundred and eight will gain distinction. So even a little education, though a little knowledge is said to be a dangerous thing, will help.

But out of two million with high school training, 1,245 will distinguish themselves above the throng, while out of a million who go through college 5,768 will gain distinction in some walk of life. Reduced to percentages, you will note the contrast will become even more vivid, though it is vivid enough as it stands.

Less than one in a hundred of American men are college-trained, yet this small percentage has provided fifty-five per cent of the presidents, fifty-four per cent of the vice presidents, sixty-two per cent of the secretaries of state, fifty per cent of the secretaries of the treasury, sixty-two per cent of the attorneys general, and sixty-nine per cent of the justices of the supreme court.

Now here, more concretely still, is what these figures mean: that with a college education your child has one chance for distinction in 173; with a high school education he has one chance in 1,600; with elementary schooling only he has one chance in 40,841; and with no schooling at all he has but one chance in 161,260.

True, there are rare geniuses whom no lack of education can withhold from distinction, just as there are simpletons, not so rare, whom no amount of education can make anything of; but these are aside from the point. Their existence does not affect the fundamental facts disclosed by these illuminating figures.

Education is absolutely essential to the success of self-governing society, and the lack or shortage of it is an absolute menace to such a society. Education is absolutely essential to the success of the average individual, and the lack or shortage of it is the most fatal handicap imaginable.

These are axioms which ought to need no figures to support them. But the figures prove that, for society or for the individual, education is the richest material investment man can make.

Defends American Marriages

Interview in the New York Sun.

That much criticized institution—American marriage—has at last found a defender, and a defender of no ordinary order. Mr. L. George, British novelist, essayist and feminist, described as a literary Columbus bent on discovering Americans, asserted recently in an interview at the National Arts club that the American marriage appears to him to be happier than the English variety.

Mr. George's reasons, however, for asserting this superior felicity of the American marriage are not so flattering.

"I believe that American marriages are happier for two reasons," said Mr. George in mellifluous British accents. "One reason is that marriages are more easily dissolved in this country, so that two wretched people are not compelled by the law to remain together all their lives, as they are in England."

"The second reason is that woman's natural desire to possess things, clothes, furniture, ornaments and books, is more universally gratified in American husbands than by English husbands."

"I once made a study of 150 English marriages," he continued, "and I found that nine were very happy, five were very bad and 116 were moderate."

Mr. George has been in America about six weeks, and includes in his definition of the country, so far he has observed only two unhappy American marriages. He realizes that there may be more, but believes that, even if there were, they would not place the proportion of happy unions above the nine to 150 British rate.

"The American man, whom I have been able to observe," said Mr. George, "is so much absorbed in his business that he hasn't the time to spend his money. His wife spends the money of the family and a great many women are kept happy if they have enough to spend. The wife can go to the stores and indulge in social activities, and that distracts her mind. It's very important that she should be distracted."

George smiled a little slyly at this point. "This going to the shops provides a sort of dope for the wife," he said. "No, perhaps it would be better not to call it 'dope,' call it a 'saucer.'"

It developed later that what Mr. George really meant was something very different. "It may be striking a pessimistic note," he continued, "but my own attitude is that life is not a very comfortable thing. It requires saucers to make it bearable."

"The three principal saucers are love, art and philosophy. We know that for most people pleasure is not possible, either almost as many art means just as little and for most of us love lasts only a few years. Essentially it is the love of work."

"Therefore women have got to find something else to serve as a saucer for existence. And the sorts of things they find are things like fashion, the religion of the family and social entertainments. The American woman, having more money to spend than the English woman," he said, "probably has a better chance of getting those things that serve to distract her and so is more contented."

Mr. George, who has been an active campaigner for woman suffrage in England, is most interested in the suffrage situation in this country.

"Due to suffrage the American woman is a more intellectual being on an average than the English woman," he said. "Probably many American women do not want to be politically educated, nobody ever wants to be educated, but the woman who does want political education upon women now that they have suffrage, and this will result in an even more highly developed American woman of the future."

"The American woman of the future will react sharply against present conditions. She will be a more intelligent, more thoughtful, more noble and nobler of American women. The man seems to have a sort of radiant vision of a beneficial future, but he is not a man who is marrying him. There is a little idealism in this attitude, apparently."

"At least I sound very nice and a great many women would like it, but for my part I doubt if it goes quite as far as it sounds. As I go around I don't see women in superior positions, but I see a great many women who are in positions of inferiority. When a woman is given an important position a great deal of fuss is made about it, it is noted in the newspapers, her picture published and she is invited to women's luncheons. This means, of course, that it is unusual. If a man were given the same position it would be no news at all."

"I think the American women are beginning to find this out and that in the future they will be less and less contented with a tribute of words. They will continue to struggle for equality in the world of affairs, demanding that men recognize them as equals in their hearts, as well as politically."

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON.

The Impossible
I cannot talk worth fourteen cents, and so no spind I spring; and much I envy gifted geni who make the welkin ring. Chautauqua magnates ply their game, and promise bundles fine, if I'll but write my moral name upon the dotted line. And often I am tempted sore; then I hear conscience say, "What right have you, I ask, to bore an audience for pay? You know that every time you've tried to paint the welkin red, a lot of wilted eggs were shed; in anger, at your head. How much of boredom we'd avoid, how much of language blue, if fewer fellows were employed at work they cannot do." I'm wroth of that singer's screech who tracks the notes in pulp; I'm tired of hearing blacksmiths preach, and seeing farmers sculp. I'm glad that I have sense enough to know where I'm a frost, and so I dodge the platform stuff, though at a frightful cost; for there the easy money lies, and there the soft snuffs grow; the country's full of talking guys who trade hot air for dough. But as a speaker I am though, which cannot be denied; I'm glad that I have sense enough to let the welkin slice.

No Democratic Sabotage
Editorial in the New York World.

Pleading for and promising party government while his campaign was in progress, President-elect Harding, in denouncing partisanship and bitter personalities. The impulse that makes him over the good-will of his fellow-citizens and leads him to place his best efforts in their behalf is greatly to his credit. In that spirit most of our presidents have taken office.

There were any disposition on the part of Democrats and others politically opposed to Mr. Harding to thwart and discredit his administration at every turn, they would need only to follow the example set for them by the Republicans during the last two and one-half years. While we were still at war and the president was commander in chief, the president as commander of every American, the campaign of slander which culminated in the "Lynchburg" case, was organized and financed. It will not soon be forgotten that this vicious movement was addressed to every element of discontent in the country, not excepting those who sympathized with the enemy. Wherever anybody hostile to the administration was found, common cause was made with him.

In the one brief statement issued by Governor Cox since his defeat he characterized the attitude of the Republican in opposition with accuracy. "It is my hope and firm belief that the democracy of the nation will not attempt political sabotage," he said; "the country has seen quite enough of that. We are in the midst of emergency and the nation's every resource should be coordinated in behalf of the most helpful of the Republic; the leaders of both parties united in urging a truce the people generally may well congratulate themselves even the misdeeds of those who speak for quarrel."

We shall never have a respectable foreign policy or an honorable position in world affairs unless we are united in our purpose. The one can be made helpful. The other is simply destructive. Mr. Harding's one pledge on this point is that he will consult and be guided by the wisest leaders of the Democratic and Independent as well as Republican. No doubt, now that the election is over and the element of discontent in the country, not excepting those who sympathized with the enemy, he will find in his most trusted counselors a very appreciation of the respect that is due to the president of the United States.

Mr. Harding's plea for fair treatment by Democrats who have experienced nothing but misrepresentation and abuse will not be in vain. He will be criticized by those who will not be maligned. He will escape the calumnies heaped upon President Wilson for two years and more. There will be no Democratic sabotage. What may befall him in his own household we shall not undertake to say.

Health Talks

By William Brady, M. D.

The Beginning of Tuberculosis

How does tuberculosis of the lungs manifest itself in the incipient stage or beginning? With pain in the chest, cough, fever, loss of weight? Not as a rule. The onset of this very common disease is wayward in that respect. Like insanity, it is much more likely to develop in the case of an individual who does not fear or suspect he is ill; or putting it in the other way, tuberculosis, like insanity, rarely happens to him who fears he is developing it.

There are several characteristic modes of onset of tuberculosis which are familiar to physicians with an intelligent clientele. By intelligent clientele I mean patients with sense enough to consult the doctor in the early stages of health impairment instead of waiting until they feel convinced they are going to be disabled or die. Fifty or more years ago precious few patients had that much intelligence; it was the custom to call in the doctor only when the illness became serious enough to frighten everybody—and fifty years ago "consumption" was properly deemed a pretty hopeless condition. Today as many as 25 per cent of the lathy have enough sense to seek medical counsel immediately when health becomes impaired, and today tuberculosis is one of the most curable of all chronic diseases—curable by intelligent treatment and care, not by any specific medicine.

The most frequent mode of onset is with bronchitis, following what the unenlightened call a "neglected cold." The bronchitis does not get entirely well in the course of two or three weeks; some slight trouble persists, and then the careful physician—if he has the opportunity to see the patient—discovers evidence of tuberculosis. He can discover that evidence only by examining the sputum, but a careful physician will properly do not pretend to examine the chest through the clothing.

A second familiar mode of onset of tuberculosis is with an attack of what seems to be simple pleurisy, usually dry pleurisy. Instead, the occurrence of pleurisy is always suggestive of beginning tuberculosis, even rather more than half of all such cases prove to be non-tuberculous character. One who has lately had an attack of pleurisy should certainly have a careful chest examination as a matter of safety first.

A third mode of onset is with spitting of blood or blood from the lungs, and, of course, there are numerous other causes than tuberculosis for spitting up small amounts of blood, especially in children; but a sudden coughing up of blood in any case warrants careful investigation of the condition of the lungs.

Dyspnea, so-called, or a persistent or obstinate type, especially in children or youths who are anemic, frail and below the average in growth and development, strongly suggests beginning pulmonary tuberculosis, even though no chest or lung symptoms or cough be noticed.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Hair and Mentality.
A teacher advised a mother to have a little girl's hair cut, as she was "unable to concentrate." The child had very heavy long hair. After it was cut she quickly improved and became as bright as any. (P. C.)

Answer: After my hair began to fall I had to have my appendix cut out. Would the teacher attribute my intellect to falling hair? Being what I am, I gladly concede that brainy men have little hair and vice versa. But, seriously, there is no such relation, and I regret that the mother had the child's hair cut. Somebody is always taking the beauty out of life.

Revolt

E. V. Lucas in Life: I had been to the Metropolitan museum, looking at beautiful things and enjoying them very much. And then I had to catch a train and go far into the country.

As the light lessened and the brooding hour set in, I looked out of the window and reconstructed some of the lovely things I had seen—the sculptures and the paintings, the jewels and the porcelain, all the fine flowers of the arts through the ages.

It seemed marvelous beyond understanding that such things should exist. I thought how wonderful it must be to God and see His creatures rising now and again to such heights.

As I came to my station, from which I was returning to my home, I saw a man with a sullen, unwashed man at the door, who called respectfully to his wife within.

When she came she was a slattern, with disheveled hair and a soiled dress and apron, and she looked miserable and worn.

She prepared a meal which I could not eat, and when I went to pay for it I found her writing a note to her husband, with a kind of dumb despair at the day's washing up, still to do.

As I walked up and down the road and when I came to the car, I thought of this woman's earlier life when she was happy.

I thought of her in her country, when her husband loved her and she looked forward to marriage and he was tender and she was blithe.

They probably went to Coney Island together and laughed at the rest of the world. And it seemed iniquitous that such changes should come about and that merry girls should grow into slatterns and arrogant husbands should degenerate into unkempt hulks, and houses meant for happiness should decay, and marriage promises all be forgotten.

And I felt that if the world could not be better managed than that, I never wanted to see any of God's artistic darlings at the top of the world again, and the Metropolitan museum could go hang.

The Author of 'J'accuse'

When "J'accuse"—the most sensational attack of Kaiserism made during the war—was first published in 1915 there was much speculation as to its authorship. It was ascribed to several eminent writers who were bitterly opposed to the Hohenzollern regime. Many people still do not know that it was written by Dr. Richard Grelling, a leader of the German Liberals. During the war he was exiled to Switzerland, where he helped to prepare the plans for the German revolution. When his wife became known in Germany his property was confiscated and he was charged with high treason. After the revolution he returned to Germany, but he met with such outrageous treatment at the hands of the so-called "Revolutionists" in power that he is obliged to live in exile. German publishers refuse to print his books, and German audiences and newspapers deny him a hearing. His life was threatened during his visit, and several of his fellow workers have already been assassinated by imperialists in the uniform of the new republic army. The Yale Review for January will publish the first article from Dr. Grelling's pen to appear in America since the war. It is a powerful attack on the pseudo-revolutionary party now in the saddle, ending with a warning against the counter-revolution.

Meals and Efficiency

Ohio State Journal: Men and women in business know well that if breakfast is well prepared, well served and eaten under normal conditions, they may rise from the table knowing they are prepared for whatever the day may bring forth. And they know, equally well, that if breakfast is badly prepared, poorly served and eaten under unhealthy conditions, they go forth to a day of vexation, worry and turmoil. In many ways breakfast is the most important meal of the day. It helps us to begin the day well, it gives us the right start, it prepares us to meet with philosophy things that would worry us if we did not have the good start. If lunch is less important, and dinner—well, we are tired, hungry, through with the day and ready for a dinner, even if it is somewhat less than our tastes might have preferred.

Keeping Up With Minnesota Editors

Breezy Comments on Current Topics by State's Live Newspapers.

Both Nuisance and Menace

Dem. Pioneer: Speed maniacs are becoming too great and promiscuous a nuisance in this country. As we have remarked in these columns before, it is quite time to put an effective curb on their speeding and maiming and killing. The people they maim or kill are of use to society. They are not. If fines will not check them, jail sentences will. The only recourse left to the public is to put these fellows where they belong. One good jail sentence will do the work in this country. The sooner and will they make to cover and suddenly develop into remarkably good Indians.

Another Job for Landis

River Falls Tribune: We would most respectfully recommend the appointment of Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis for attorney general in President Harding's cabinet. If we could have Landis for attorney general we could get some real action. He would find the profiteers, name them, kill them there or in the penitentiary. He would be up at the top. They are grafting the public for millions per day. Will a Republican administration do something to help the producer and consumer and will they make an example of the profiteers? We hope so.

Americans Before Partisans

Stillwater Gazette: The American people are good sports. Lack the Democrats are as you like and they come around the next morning just as strong for America as they were on election day, when they are always sure of success. And the Republicans are of the same stuff, although not liked so often.

They Deserve What They Want

Palmer, Minn. Journal: North Dakota farmers after giving Townsendism a fair trial, decide they want more of it, and if that's the kind of government they want, that is the kind of government they ought to have.

Neither of the old parties has an organizer of Mr. Townsend's energy, endurance and resourcefulness. He is a man who has the kind that must be reckoned with in the future.

Neither, Just Selfishness

Redwood Gazette: Every Sunday human beings are told to be good and to love their neighbor. It is a good thing to be good, but it is a good thing to be selfish. God has given us a mind and a body and we come down to earth and refuse to give 50 cents or $1 or some such insignificant amount as that to help further the work of caring for other children of this same God, who may happen to be not quite so fortunate in some ways as we are. That may be a good thing, but it most certainly is not Christianity.

Experienced in Tribulation

St. Cloud Journal: President-elect Harding is told that he has a hard job to handle, when he becomes president. It might be hard for most folks, but Harding has had a lot of this sort of experience. He's a real sailor. After successfully publishing a daily paper, running the government will be a soft snap.

More of Him Is Needed

Winnebago City Enterprise: The man worth while is the man with a smile—the one who really smiles of friendship, and the hearty greeting and warm hand-clasp that goes with it. It is the smile of the man who is always glad to meet and greet the chap who dispels the clouds of gloom with the warm rays of optimism, faith and good cheer. May his name lead all the rest, and may his smile ever increase!

Perfectly Lovely

Ohio State Journal: What impressed us most yesterday in the course of the ten or fifteen minutes which we spent in our listening post, attentively overhearing the conversation of the neighbor woman, was the kind of a smile which she wore, the world being, which seems to apply to almost every woman from a zinnia to the star limb by a major operation.

CROATS, SLOVENS AND SERBS DID GOOD WORK

To the Editor of The Herald: In The Herald of Nov. 15 I read of the nations represented on the rolls of the service men of Minnesota, and find no mention given to the Croats, Slovaks or Serbians or in fact to any of the Duce-Slavs. I am sure these nationalities gave a large percentage of the soldiers in every state of the Union and especially Minnesota, where in some localities these nationalities predominate. Why, then, was there no mention made of them?

I feel that mention made of the Croats, Slovaks and Serbians, who are all of the British Isles, and several other instances. An Irishman does not give his nationality as an Englishman, nor a Pole that of a Russian, nor an old soldier and rubber. Some are scarcely called and a few coats that were hardly worn that would go to the Salvation Army.

Surely Nov. 11 ought to mean a great deal to us here, or is this another part of the deal that the boys got, similar to what was handed them when they came back expecting to step back in their old positions? DRY LAW ENFORCEMENT.

To the Editor of The Herald: That a law cannot be enforced contributes to a lack of action in making that law effective. Also, if not enforced, it develops a habit of indifference in the minds of the people. This indifference class is mostly composed of those who want clean government, but who fail to exert their influence for good and condemn public officials for failing to enforce the law, yet they rest in their belief that will get better results after some time. This indifference, however, is the real cause for the failure of many laws.

This is the real condition of the prohibition laws. Whole states are summed up in one word—inefficient. They stand back and say let Uncle Sam do it. The skeptic also says that it can't be done. Those coupled with those who don't want it done but contribute to the failure of enforcing these moral laws.

Many people don't believe in prohibition. Some are indifferent, but the majority do believe in it, and because of that indifference, it is written into the Federal Constitution.

If this law is right, we want it enforced. If it is not right, we demand its repeal. Some say that it is not right, because the easiest way to get rid of a bad law is to enforce it. The majority will soon demand a repeal.

To wipe out the indifference on the part of local and state officials to the enforcement of the prohibition laws, let it be urged that the legislature of his state pass a law making it mandatory upon the governor to remove from office any public official who is lax in strictly enforcing these laws, particularly the sheriff, mayor, chief of police, and all who are entrusted with the administration of the law. Failure of the governor to remove from office those who are negligent or lax in enforcing these laws will be a violation of his oath of office and sufficient cause for his removal.

Now there ought to be a law passed to have at least one officer to go into the attic of some of the rich people and search for old shoes and clothes. I know of old shoes and rubbers. ### TONNAGE TAX PROPOSITION CAN BE BEATEN BY UNITED ACTION

By R. W. Hitchcock, Representative, Sixtieth District.

Hibbing, Minn., Nov. 19.—It appears at this time that W. J. Nolan of Minneapolis, speaker of the house two years ago, will be elected speaker for the coming session. Although no caucus has been held Mr. Nolan has received enough assurances of support to make it certain that he will receive more than the fifty-six votes necessary to elect. He will probably receive in excess of 100 votes. There are other members-elect of the house whom former members would be glad to honor—Theodore Christanson of Dawson, Charles H. Warner of Atkin, Oscar Swenson of Nicolet, John J. Levin of St. Paul, but Nolan made such an extraordinarily good speaker two years ago that if he is a candidate "no others need apply." The Nonpartisan league minority, somewhat smaller than two years ago, will probably put forward as its candidate either Anthony Welch of McLeod county or George Nordlin of Ramsey, although this matter, like all other matters of league policy, will be decided at a secret caucus of the members. Nordlin is not a member of the Nonpartisan league, but is elected as a labor representative from St. Paul. Oscar Aasen, formerly of Chisholm, who has been clerk of the house at every session since 1911, has announced his candidacy and will probably be re-elected without opposition.

A conference of members of the house will be held tonight in St. Paul, Minn., to discuss the tonnage tax. It is my purpose to discuss in my letters before the opening of the session in January some of the issues of importance to Northern Minnesota. Among those which I shall try to very briefly outline will be the tonnage tax, legislation to make the good roads amendment effective, state compensation insurance, reorganization of primary election law changes, co-operative marketing.

Tonnage Tax.
The issue most immediately vital to the people of Northern Minnesota is the tonnage tax. It is announced that the advocates of this super tax on the business of mining iron ore will introduce a bill in the house early in the session whose essential provision will be a tax of 10 per cent of the net profits of every concern engaged in the business of mining iron ore. In estimating the net profits, most expenses, including money paid for royalties, will be deducted but no allowance will be made for administrative expenses (salaries of officers, etc.). This net profits, or income tax, is to be paid by mining companies in addition to the taxes now paid.

The business of mining iron ore now pays a higher tax than any other business or property in the state, dollar for dollar. The proposed tonnage, or net profits tax, will levy an additional tax upon the iron ore industry, a tax not levied upon any other industry or any other property in the state.

What will be the effect upon the people of Northern Minnesota? Little, if any, at once; but in the end it will undoubtedly have these effects:

Will Multiply Taxes.
First, it will double taxes and finally multiply many times the taxes of every worker, every business man, every farmer in Northeastern Minnesota. There are strong forces in Southern Minnesota which are looking forward to the time when they can divert all the taxes paid by the mines into the state treasury. They begin by a 10 per cent tonnage tax. Next they will reduce the present ad valorem assessment of iron ore from 50 per cent to 33 1/3 per cent. They are already advocating this step. The immediate result of such a step will be to raise the taxes of every man in St. Louis and adjoining counties one-half. If you decrease the assessment one-third, to obtain the same amount of taxes, you must increase the levy one-half. Will Southern Minnesota be satisfied with this? Never. Having tasted blood, it will never be satisfied until it has devoured the whole carcass. It will continually endeavor to raise the tonnage tax and to lower the ad valorem assessment of iron ore.

With every step the taxes of every person in Northeastern Minnesota will steadily increase. In the end, the tonnage tax will be like the present gross earnings tax—every cent of taxation from the iron mines will go to the state, now every cent of railroad taxes goes to the state. This is the real, hidden object of the tonnage tax. They are the thing they are really driving at while they so blantly tell you that they will not, no, not for worlds, do anything to hurt Northern Minnesota. What then of the committees and counties of Northern Minnesota? They will then have become other Proctors, humbly begging the legislature every two years for some small crumbs with which to eke out a bare existence. Every man who can get away will then have fled the iron range, our great schools will then be empty halls of learning save for a few rooms struggling with woefully insufficient funds to teach a handful where hundreds were wont to come, and the iron ranges, once thick with proudly prosperous towns and cities will then become nothing but a collection of ragged mining camps. Would you like to live under conditions which prevail at Proctor? Those very conditions, or worse, will be yours if the tonnage tax becomes a law.

A Blow to the Farmer.
Second—With the assessment of the iron mines steadily decreasing for local purposes, St. Louis and the adjoining counties will be unable to build the roads they are now building. Road building must inevitably and steadily decrease, and with it must decrease the development of the wonderful farm lands of our section of the state. The tonnage tax is a direct and mighty blow at the prosperity, the very livelihood, of every farmer of Northeastern Minnesota.

Third—The conditions which make labor on the range desirable—good schools, health supervision, clean streets, efficiently policed communities—will be swept away. Labor, instead of flocking to the Minnesota iron ranges will shun them. The range towns will no longer be desirable places to live and to rear a family.

Blow to Minnesota's Second Industry.
Fourth—Iron mining will finally be carried on under the most unfavorable conditions, labor will be hard to get and to keep; the cost of mining will be vastly increased, both by excessive taxes and the conditions of which I have spoken—with what result? With the result that men who want to mine iron ore will look for other and more favorable fields. They will take out of Minnesota its high-grade iron ore as rapidly as possible and they will then abandon all our enormous low-grade deposits. A tonnage tax—call it profits tax, income tax, or what you will; a skunk by any other name will stink the same—a tonnage tax will put a complete end to iron mining in Minnesota within a period of thirty to fifty years, where otherwise it might last for the next 2,000 years.

And for what do the tonnage taxers propose to visit all this devastation and ruin upon the people of Northern Minnesota and upon the state's second greatest industry? Why, so they say in every argument they make, because, forsooth, it will save every taxpayer in Southern Minnesota $5 a year. That's their reason!

Ever hear 'em talk about the justice of a tonnage tax? Well, hardly ever. But they never forget that $5. Fifty lures—five paity plunks of it—is their strong, convincing, conclusive argument.

Why do I say so much about the tonnage tax? Because bound up in it is prosperity or the ruin of the people—not the mining companies, of Northern Minnesota, and because we now have an opportunity to kill this thing, which, although honestly advocated by many sincere people, is the spawn of politicians who care only for their own future and nothing for the future of the state.

Tax Can Be Beaten.
The Nonpartisan league, with the tonnage tax as its principal issue, was decisively defeated—by, overwhelmed representation in the house is less than two years ago. The moral effect of the election is a blow to the tonnage tax propaganda. If the people of Northern Minnesota will quit whining that the tonnage tax cannot be beaten and get solidly behind the effort to beat it, it will be beaten.

There is no real desire in Southern Minnesota to injure the north. Southern Minnesota thinks that a tonnage tax will only squeeze the fat pocket-book of what they so unctuously call the "steel trust." Too many, far too many, of our own people think the same. They do not realize that the tonnage tax will only be a temporary embarrassment to the mining companies; they fail to see that in the end the people of Minnesota, will be the sole victims of the tonnage tax. If all of Northern Minnesota were making one great outcry against this thing, Southern Minnesota would pause and consider. The opportunity is here to avert this threatened danger. Shall we rise to the occasion and seize opportunity before it passes or shall we lie weakly down and allow the disaster to engulf us?

PHILIPPINE INDEPENDENCE

Filipinos Look for Fulfillment of the American Promise.

Washington, Nov. 19.—That the recent Republican victory is not in conflict with the Filipino expectation of independence, was the statement today by Jaime C. de Veyra, the senior resident commissioner from the Philippines to the United States. Commissioner de Veyra, who has sent a telegram of congratulation to President-elect Harding, points out that it was the Republican party which gave independence to Cuba, and declares that both McKinley and Taft as well as the entire American policy in the Philippines have been consistent in that they have from the very first officially held out the hope of independence to the Philippines.

"The Filipino people expect independence from the Republicans as confidently as they would have expected it from the Democrats," said Mr. de Veyra, "and we have this expectation on the Republican record in connection with the Philippines."

"The American promise of independence for the Philippines is not the exclusive patrimony of any political party. Both Republicans and Democrats are responsible for it. It is the policy of the American people."

Believe in Good Intentions.

"The Declaration of Independence declares that governments derive their just powers from the consent of the governed. To assume that the Republican party does not intend to keep inviolate this immortal principle of the American republic could justly be considered an insult to the memory of every great Republican leader. The Filipino people sincerely do not believe that the present leaders of that party are considering for a moment the wisdom of throwing the Declaration of Independence overboard or treating it as the proverbial scrap of paper. We insist before the whole world that we believe absolutely in the good intentions of America towards us. We will be the last to believe otherwise.

"There exists today the most friendly relations between the American and Filipino peoples. At no time since Admiral Dewey's arrival has American capital received the cordial welcome that it is receiving today in the Philippine islands. It is a common knowledge that this splendid feeling has been brought about by the passage of the Jones law which promises the Philippines its independence as soon as a stable government can be established. This measure was passed with the acquiescence, and even support, of the Republicans; in fact, as will be noted by the Congressional Record, the Jones law was passed without even a roll call. The Republican members of the committee of legislative affairs had announced that they were for the Jones law with the preamble in place of the Clarke amendment. The Jones law was accepted by the Filipino people as the solemn, unequivocal, and official pledge of the United States. It has never been contended that the Philippines are less deserving or less qualified for independence than the Cubans.

"It was Mr. Taft who announced the American policy of the Philippines for the Philippines," and in opening the Philippine assembly on Oct. 16, 1907, he declared that the policy of giving every possible Philippine position to Filipinos must inevitably restore and finally end the sovereignty of the United States in the islands.

"The Filipino people accepted the promise of independence given by America just as the Cubans accepted in good faith the promise of the United States to withdraw from their island as soon as a stable government had been established there. The Filipino people immediately began to set up the stable government demanded of them, and today the task is accomplished. There is now a stable government in the Philippines. That is not only the opinion of the Filipinos, but that is the verdict of America's own representative in the Philippines, the governor-general.

"It is the fervent hope of the Filipino people that this policy will be continued to a successful fruition. It matters little to them under whose auspices it is definitely and completely carried out. It was proclaimed by Congress under the Democratic administration, but it had received its inspiration from policies established under Republican auspices; and it would not be surprising or illogical should it be completed by the party under whose administration a free Cuba found her place in the concert of nations."

PRE-WAR PRICES LONG WAY AHEAD

New York, Nov. 19.—Prewar prices we may eventually see in the years to come. Prewar prices we may even see before very long for a brief period on a few commodities which are in excessive supply. But prewar prices, or anything like prewar prices, on most commodities—or for more than a brief period on any commodity—are a long way ahead of us, says the dry goods economist.

Consider textiles. Here prices have been cut so sharply that talk of a prewar level on textiles is especially common. But it ought not to take much thinking on the part of any reasonable person to show how impossible it is that such an expectation could be realized in the near future.

On cottons, for example, prices have been reduced in many instances to about the level reached after the armistice, although since that time wages have advanced 30 per cent and raw cotton has risen 4 or 5 cents a pound. These prices must be pretty close to production costs. To effect a further reduction would entail a lowering of production costs.

To bring production costs down to a prewar level would involve a cut of over 40 per cent in wages, 5 or 6 cents a pound from present prices of raw cotton, and corresponding reductions in fuel, transportation, dyeing and finishing materials and other lines. Such radical revisions are obviously a long way off.

ARMENIAN WOMEN SEND FLAG TO WOMEN OF U. S.

Washington, Nov. 19.—As a token of thanks and appreciation for services rendered by the women of America to the women of Armenia, the latter have sent a large and richly decorated Armenian flag to the women's committee of the Council of National Defense.

The flag has just been delivered to the state department after being en route from Armenia for nearly a year. The banner measures 46x56 inches and is completely bordered by a fringe of narrow gold. It is entirely hand made, even to the joining of the triangular stripes which are sewn together with stitches of almost invisible minuteness. On the reverse of the flag is a greeting, emblazoned in gold embroidered letters as follows: "To American Women from Armenian Women."

Accompanying the flag was a letter dated at Cairo on Nov. 28, 1919, from Dr. H. B. Ketchedian, president of the Armenian national council, to H. Gary, American consul general, Kasr-El-Joubarra, Cairo.

FUNNY MISTAKE OF TEXANS IN MEXICO

Mexico City, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—In the belief that they were graciously being extended the freedom of the city, several Texas excursionists in Mexico City recently halted a taxicab marked "libre" and ordered the driver to take them to the hotel. When presented with a rather large bill they protested, asserting to the driver that his car was labeled "free" and was, no doubt, provided for visitors by the local entertainment committee.

The bill was paid when the Americans were reliably informed that every taxicab that is "at liberty" or "ready to hire" is marked "libre."

BIG INCREASE IN AVERAGE EARNINGS

New York, Nov. 19.—Average earnings in this city's representative trades in September, 1920, were double what they were six years ago and, generally, $2 a week higher than they were a year ago, according to a report prepared by the industrial bureau of the Merchants' association. The report declares that, while the city's industrial activity has receded somewhat from the high-water mark established during the war, there is no indication of a general slump in manufacturing.

Charts giving the average weekly earnings of workmen, combining both office and shop employees, for September, 1914, 1919 and 1920, show for the above-named years, respectively: Stone, clay and glass products, $13.96, $26.58, $35.11; metals, machinery and conveyances, $14.50, $27.21, $30.67; wood manufacturers, $12.40, $24.29, $28.42; fur, leather and rubber goods, $11.77, $27.09, $29.43; chemicals, oils and paints, $13.67, $24.70, $27.71; printing and paper goods, $15.58, $27.36, $31.35; textiles, $9.72, $21.02, $24.70; clothing, millinery, laundry, etc., $12.40, $27.69, $26.46; food, liquors and tobacco, $11.60, $23.40, $26.91; water, light and power, $15.70, $30.91, $30.58.

The general average of these industries for the three years runs $13.06, $26.17 and $28.14.

Men, Women and Coffee

How women changed their minds about an "uncivil" masculine custom

WHEN coffee first became popular in England, two hundred and fifty years ago, it was considered a man's drink.

It was served only in coffee houses which no woman ever dreamed of entering. As the men spent more and more time in the coffee houses, the women became jealous of this new drink. They claimed it was "unsocial and uncivil."

And then came an innovation. The lonely maidens found they could make coffee at home!

Ever since that day, women have striven to make coffee that will satisfy men's idea of what coffee should be. The clever hostess knows that good coffee expresses the warmest, friendliest kind of hospitality.

When Yuban was first discovered it was decided to reserve it for the guests and friends of the greatest coffee merchant. But everyone who tasted Yuban wished to secure it for himself. The fame of it spread so quickly that at last Yuban was offered to the public.

Ever since that time, Yuban has been the most popular coffee wherever it has been introduced. Its beguiling aroma, its rich golden liquor, delight everyone who tastes it. Yuban is the most popular coffee in Chicago among both men and women.

If by chance you have never tasted Yuban, what a surprise awaits you! Your own grocer has it—you can drink Yuban tomorrow.

YUBAN

Good coffee is just as warmly appreciated today as formerly. The hostess that serves good coffee is always popular. The young wife strives to serve coffee that will meet his approval. Yuban has the flavor that men like. It answers their idea of what coffee should be.

PASS BUDGET BILL AT ONCE

Members of Present Congress Urged to Act in December.

New York, Nov. 19.—Members of the present congress have been asked in a letter from the Institute for Public Services, signed by Julius H. Barnes, chairman, to save one, perhaps two or even three years for the national budget reform which both parties have pledged, by passing a budget bill in December instead of waiting for the new congress to convene. The facts about the president's veto of the budget bill passed last spring, its repassage in corrected form by the house and the filibusters which prevented repassage in the senate were summarized as follows:

"Both houses of the present congress, without party division, have already passed a budget bill, the house in October, 1919, and the senate in April, 1920. The president has at different times urged a budget bill. There is therefore no difference of opinion as to the need for immediate action.

"President Wilson vetoed the budget bill June 4 last, he said regretfully, because it violated Article 2, section 2 of the Federal constitution which says that the president shall have power with the advice and consent of the senate to appoint all other officers of the United States whose appointments are not herewith otherwise provided for and which shall be constituted by law. There was no objection to the way in which this officer who is to make outside independent, financial and operative audits of government transactions was to be appointed, namely, by the president with the advice and consent of the senate. The president's objection was that the bill prevented the removal of the officer by the president at will which goes with the power to appoint. As the president said, the bill prevented removal 'except either by impeachment or concurrent resolution of congress.'

"Congress yielded to the president's contention because it was anxious to get a budget bill passed last spring. Attempt to pass the bill over the president's veto failed in the house. Some members insisted that the vetoed bill was not unconstitutional. Others insisted that it was unconstitutional. They stopped debating it because they wanted immediate action and believed that necessary changes can easily be made as the plan is tried. The house passed the corrected bill the very next day after it was returned June 5. The senate majority wanted to pass it as corrected but three minority senators filibustered or talked it out of its chance. The public was so engrossed in convention talk that these budget outcomes escaped general attention.

Bill Now Ready for Passage.
"The correction made to meet the president's objection leaves the appointment of the comptroller-general with the president upon the advice and consent of the senate. The term, instead of being five years, is during good behavior. Removal is left with the president by cutting out the original requirement that the comptroller might be removed by congress if inefficient, guilty of neglect of duty, malfeasance in office or involving moral turpitude, and in no other way except by impeachment. Thus, a budget bill agreeable to both houses of congress and the president is ready for immediate passage by the reconvening of congress next month. Its chief provisions are as follows:

"The Federal budget architect is to be made responsible for reviewing, revising and consolidating, reducing or otherwise changing any item in any department's estimates. He would work through a budget bureau in the treasury at the head of which would be a budget commissioner with two assistant commissioners and a staff at a cost at first of not more than $200,000 per annum. This budget bureau must study all the year round the needs of the various departments.

President's Program.
"After the secretary of the treasury has done his part the president may still further reduce or change or even regroup services to secure increased economy and efficiency, and he must submit to congress a work program, spending program and revenue raising program for 100 per cent of public business excluding only the cost of congress itself.

"After the president's budget program goes in to congress no officer or employe of any department or establishment may ask either congress or any committee or any member for an increase unless requested to do so by either house or by a committee having jurisdiction over appropriations or revenues. Congress is free to increase a budget if it wishes, but under the new plan no less than to meet the needs of necessary information to show that the original budget was large enough.

"The bookkeeping, accounting and auditing are taken away from the treasury and put on the hands of a comptroller-general over whose appointment the controversy arose that defeated the passage of the bill last spring.

The budget commissioner, the comptroller general and the bureau of efficiency, which under this bill will pass from the president to the house of representatives, are charged with the responsibility for telling where economies and increases of efficiency are possible. The comptroller-general must in every annual report or at special times, if congress requests, make recommendations looking to greater economy or efficiency in the public expenditures. The bureau of efficiency must conduct a continued investigation of the public expenditures and from time to time submit to congress a report of its investigations with recommendations looking to greater efficiency and economy in the conduct of the public business."

TRAFFIC PROBLEMS TO BE DISCUSSED

New York, Nov. 19.—Discussion of transportation problems affecting the country will hold the center of interest at the annual meeting of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers in this city Dec. 7-10. Transportation experts, headed by Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, will address the 2,500 members of the society who are expected to attend.

A statement issued by the society said that transportation is considered by the organization as the most pressing problem before the country. "The industry of the country is being seriously handicapped," said the statement. "From present indications, it will take several years for facilities to catch up with increased traffic and the normal development of the next few years."

In addition to purely railroad questions, the society members will consider water development and the greater use of motor vehicles for moving freight. A special report is expected on the St. Lawrence waterways project to make possible ocean traffic through to the Great Lakes.

DOCTOR SICK WHEAT BACK TO HEALTH

Moose Jaw, Sask., Nov. 19.—Doctoring sick wheat back to health is the special work of the government "hospital elevator" at Moose Jaw. Built in 1914, it has saved the farmers of Saskatchewan $1,250,000, according to a recent official estimate.

The wheat treated suffers from a mixture of dirt, sand, or weed seed. Much of it is damp and mildewed. The wheat that is mixed with soil or weed seeds is sifted and winnowed by fans until only the wheat kernels remain. The damp wheat is dried on great heaters, capable of handling 1,000 bushels an hour. When subjected to these curative processes and ready for shipment to market, the wheat is fit to be classed with the best of its grade.

The hospital elevator is the first of its kind in Canada west of the head of the lakes. Its present capacity is 3,500,000 bushels but it is so built that additional tanks can be constructed. As necessity arises, which will increase its capacity to 10,000,000 bushels. The efficiency of the treatment is shown by the fact that 5,000,000 bushels of the wheat that has undergone the cleaning process has been sold for seed.

BRILLIANT SPECTACLE

Striking Scene in the Palace Yard of King Alfonso.

Madrid, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—More color is to be seen in the palace yard of Madrid when King Alfonso is in residence than in to be found in any other part of Spain. The military spectacle alone is brilliant, with the striking uniforms of red and blue Hussars, the dark blue of the cavalry men and the red trousers and blue tunics of the infantry as the old and new regiments take each other at bay with the bayoneted rifles in the air. The customary brilliant sunshine makes up in color what is lacking in the clouds. The flash in the air as the various units carry out the smart military evolutions.

Thousands of civilians, mostly visitors from Madrid, gather around the palace to watch the spectacle. Numbers of them are from the Spanish provinces and their bright blue and green mixed with the more somber dress of the Madrileños form a fit setting to the bright picture. Further details are added by the frequent yodels of bands and hot little girls and other delicacies loved by the children, who under the eye of their parents in their picturesque costumes of varied hues run hither and thither.

Some times the King himself comes out on to the balcony to salute his subjects, and then all is hushed while he faces the tumultuous throng and after waving his hand raises his hand to his brow.

The picture is on view for about an hour every morning.

NATIONAL GRANGE HAS MANY MEMBERS

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Membership in the National Grange stands at approximately 150,000, S. J. Lowell of Fredonia, N. Y., master of the grange reported. In this period of active organization of farmers, Mr. Lowell thus briefly sketched the history of his society, one of the oldest and best known of the farmers' organizations.

The first grange was organized on April 15, 1848, in Fredonia, N. Y. It is a general order, similar to all secret orders in many respects, with a ritual supervised by none.

It is nonsectarian and nonpolitical and is devoted wholly to agriculture and agricultural interests.

"In line one distinction, that in all its meetings it has what is known as the 'business hour.' This hour is devoted to the solving of matters pertaining to the farm and the farmer, with minute regulations, etc., by the younger people. It has done more than any other one thing to build up and strengthen agricultural life.

The grange is now organized in sixty-three states, while in others, chiefly in the north, as many of the Southern states have no granges. The largest grange state is New York, which has a membership of 128,000.

A great deal of cooperative work is done. Insurance of farmers' buildings is probably the greatest financial enterprise. The amount credited in the insurance department runs into the hundreds of millions.

SKYSCRAPERS BEING BUILT IN MADRID

Madrid, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—A gigantic effort to settle the housing problem of the Spanish capital by the brush of thousands of country folk to the city, is in progress in the northern section adjacent to the suburb of Cuatro Caminos. A private concern has acquired an enormous tract of land and has begun building what for Madrid are skyscrapers of ten stories. Each of these buildings is to contain 400 beds and forty stores.

The new model suburb is to be in all respects modern. Engineers are now engaged in laying out a boulevard running through its center over half a mile long and 130 feet in width, with two carriageways and a central promenade lined with trees.

HORN OF RHINOCEROS DEDICATED TO MUSEUM

New York, Nov. 19.—The horn of an Indian rhinoceros, presented to Pope Gregory XIV in 1590 to protect him against poisoning by its putative medicinal properties, has been donated to the American Museum of Natural History in this city.

The horn, given to the pope by the prior and brothers of the monastery of St. Mary of Guadalupe in Spain, was credited with averting in the presence of poison, by way of warning, and if possessed and taken internally, with acting as an antidote.

The tip is missing. It was cut off in 1921 and administered to the pope in his last illness.

Then there is Alex. Louell, a brave fireman of Buffalo, who is glad to write as follows: "I had an old sore on my leg for many years. The best doctor I ever failed. ## PRICE + PURITY WAR DEPARTMENT CANNED MEATS

The United States Government, through the War Department, has launched another drive against the High Cost of Living. Millions of dollars' worth of canned meats—Roast Beef, Corned Beef, Corned Beef Hash, and Bacon—those meats which American soldiers, at home and overseas, consumed for months, and which hundreds of thousands of civilians in every section of the United States tested and found delicious during the initial drive, are again being offered to the public. These War Department Canned Meats will be put on the shelves of the dealers of the United States at such a low cost as to insure their introduction into the home of every American who appreciates a high grade of canned meats and who appreciates the value of saving a dollar.

Seven years ago you bought canned meats at what today are impossible prices—elsewhere. But the War Department is making it possible for you to purchase foodstuffs at figures even below those of pre-war days. The quality of War Department Canned Meats is unquestioned. For three months, now, these meats have been on the American market. That the thrifty American housewife appreciates their high standard is demonstrated by the fact that more than $10,000,000 worth have left War Department storage house for the consuming field.

Quality plus price will guarantee their resale. The dealer will purchase them at such a low figure that he will be able to re-sell them at a price far below that obtaining in the commercial field, and still make a reasonable profit. These meats are to be sold in the United States, and the American people, whose money through Liberty Bonds, taxes, etc., purchased them, are being enabled to reap a return by rebuying them. Not only will a big saving be effected, but the best grade of canned meats possible can be obtained. Compare the prices in the table below with a similar list obtainable from your dealer. You will be astounded at the difference. Test the quality of War Department Canned Meats. You will find them the equal of any. The War Department stands behind every can sold.
