ATTENTION: Labor Officer

1. Transmitted herewith is a copy of the revised manning table for Japanese employees of this organization.

2. The ceiling of 103 employees for this organization is adequate at the present time but it has necessitated the dismissal of some employees on the operational phase of Military Government to make space available for employees on the housekeeping phase. It has also necessitated the removal of guards from some of the isolated inhabited dependent houses in order to properly safeguard the uninhabited dependent houses.

3. It is felt by this headquarters that the ceiling of 103 cannot be further reduced without impairing the efficiency of this organization.

SUBJECT: Land Unsold Upon Completion of The Land Reform

THROUGH: Commanding Officer, Shikoku Mil Govt Region, APO 1060

TO : Commanding General, Eighth Army, APO 343
ATTENTION: Military Government Section

1. Surveillance of the land reform program in this prefecture reveals that Tokushima prefecture will have land, purchased under the land reform laws, left unsold upon completion of the program on 31 December 1948.

2. This matter was first brought to the attention of this headquarters on 23 September 1948 when the chief of the Tokushima Agricultural Land Section submitted a special report (see inclosure 1) stating that upon completion of the land reform 1,004 cho of land would be left unsold. This claim was investigated and found to be highly exaggerated, as shown by the following facts. A second report submitted by the Chief of the Agricultural Land Section (see inclosure 2) showed that the amount of land that would remain upon completion of the land reform had been reduced to 573 cho. This report inclosed copies of the Ministry of Agricultural and Forestry instructions (see inclosure 3 & 4) regarding the eligibility of purchasers. Due in a large part to the close surveillance and encouragement of this headquarters, land scheduled to remain unsold on 1 December 1948 has been reduced to 277 cho as evidenced by a report from the Chief of the Agricultural Land Section, dated 13 December 1948 (see inclosure 5).

3. The principle reasons that this land cannot be sold are: (1) A major portion of it is in one and two tan lots in isolated places such as mountain sides, hill tops, etc and nearby farmers are reluctant to purchase this land due to its inaccessibility, poor soil and high taxes. They figure that the land is not worth the trouble they would have to go through to make it pay. (2) Some of this unsold land has been damaged by salt water and will find no purchasers until such time as adequate safeguards are built to protect the land against the infrequent high tides that harass the coastal farmers of this prefecture.

— enclosure #1

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 17503

BASIC: Ltr, Hq Tokushima MG Team, APO 1050, dtd 14 Dec 48, subj: "Land unsold upon Completion of the Land Reform"

(3) During the war many small business men, shop keepers and others not normally engaged in agriculture tenanted one or two tan of land to augment their restricted war time diet. Under the land reform instructions from the Ministry of Agricultural and Forestry (see inclosure 4) it is stated that "and if exchange of land is impossible, a cultivation right of the tenant-farmer, who has been cultivating on the land purchased by the government, should not be taken away immediately." Apparently many of these past time tenant farmers do not wish to give up the extra food and money they can produce on this land and are hiding behind this "cultivation right."

4. This matter is brought to your attention because it is felt that this same problem will confront many other prefectures throughout Japan and that a clarification of the instructions from the Ministry of Agricultural and Forestry will be necessary before this land can be disposed of.

ATTENTION: Military Government Section

1. Routine surveillance discloses that there are two tanks in this prefecture which were formerly used for water storage during the war but, evidently, were originally intended for use as oil storage tanks. These two tanks are of the standard shape for oil storage tanks and both are in very good condition.

2. Dimensions

Length	26 ft
Diameter	8 ft 6 in
Capacity	10,000 gal

3. Above mentioned tanks are located at the former Tokushima Naval Airport on the portion previously released to the Japanese Home Ministry.

4. This headquarters recommends that these two tanks be placed on reparations if there is a need for that size tank as their removal would have no effect on the economy of Japan and it appears that they are very suitable for oil storage.

5. This headquarters has placed above mentioned tanks under local custody pending further instructions from higher headquarters.

1. During the past year, the below listed malfeasance on the part of Mutsuo Miyake, Chief of Fishing Section, Tokushima Prefectural Government, was noted by this headquarters.

a. False reports repeatedly submitted to this headquarters. Provost Court charges were placed on this official on or about 10 May 1947 but were later withdrawn as corrective action was promised regarding false reports.

b. False information repeatedly given to Military Government representitives during conferences.

c. A distinct lack of co-operation with Military Government.

d. Lack of co-operation with Central Government laws regarding fish distribution.

(1) At this date, there is no fish being distributed in the prefecture by coupon system notwithstanding the fact that coupons have been issued to consumers and all consumers are registered. When questioned as to why this phase was not being followed he answered that it involved too much work for the retailers and his section.

(2) Shipments of fresh fish to Osaka and Kobe at a time when there was no surplus within the prefecture and there was definitly a shortage in the prefecture. When asked as to why this was done he answered that the shipments were dried fish. On being confronted with the fact that Military Government were aware that they were fresh fish shipments he readily admitted that they were but stated that he had forgotten about it.

(3) Failure to enforce his section to issue shipping certificate for fish being shipped to retailers and ration boards.

2. On 6 Feb 48, the following listed United States Army property was confiscated as results of a search at the home of Kanajiro Takata, Sako-machi, 13 Chome, Tokushima City.

6 - hospital bathrobes
4 - sleeping bags
2 - overcoats
1 - battle jacket

3. Interrogation of Takata disclosed only that he obtained the goods from a Korean who used to live in his neighborhood before the war but he didn't know the Korean's name. Repeated interrogation disclosed no discrepancies in the original story.

4. Canvassing of Takata's former neighborhood disclosed that a Korean by the name of Masumoto, Chisho was the only Korean in that neighborhood at that time and Masumoto is reputed to be in the Geta business at Osaka at the present time.

5. The description of the Korean who gave Takata the goods and the description given by his former neighbors of Masumoto tally as both have claimed that the Korean they described was cock eyed. Mr. Takata has repeatedly denied that Masumoto was the man who gave him the goods.

1. In compliance with CD #70, 1947, subject report for December is hereby submitted.

2. There is no representative of the Economic Stabilization Board in this prefecture other than one member of the Economic Police which also an Economic Stabilization Board inspector. During the past month, many interviews have been held with the chief of the Economic Police regarding transportation controls. In this prefecture, each section of the Japanese government has the responsibility of issuing certificates for those commodities under their control and they have delegated this authority to every branch with the inevitable result that there is no control over the issuing of certificates and it is almost impossible to check them to find out if there have been any illegal shipments. The lack of violations of the law leads to the belief that certificates are being given out indiscriminately and the economic police agree with that theory. During the month of January, Military Government personnel will be working in conjunction with the Economic Police to check the issuing agencies. During the month of December, very little was actually accomplished on transportation controls but it is felt that as the personnel become more familiar with the provisions of the law results will be more apparent.

3. Three road blocks and one road check were made during December under the supervision of members of this team. A road block was set up 22 Dec at the Yoshino bridge, on Tokushima Prefectural route four, and no violations were found out of eleven trucks checked. Six different types of certificates were found, some numbered, others not. Local agricultural associations had issued the majority of certificates checked. A road check was made 22 Dec along the Tokushima-Kuramoto truck road and no violations were found out of twelve vehicles checked. Eighteen vehicles were checked at a road block set up 22 Dec at the Akui bridge, on Tokushima Prefectural routs six. One violation was found, consisting of a shipment of firewood cosigned by Inoue Tabami, Ano-Son, Myozai-Gun to the Muya Salt Industrial Co., Naruto City. This violation is undergoing investigation by the economic police division of the prefectural government. Of seventeen trucks checked at a road block in Tokushima City one loaded vehicle was found traveling without a transportation certificate. The vehicle was transporting approximately two tons of cement cosigned by the City Water Service Section, prefectural government to Kimeno Tadashi, Tokushima City. SUBJECT: Blackmarketing of Fish

TO : Commanding General, Eighth Army
ATTENTION: Military Government Section

1. During the past year, three concerted drives have been made by this team on the blackmarketing of fish in co-operation with the Economic Crime Section of the prefectural government. These drives included:

a. Close surveillance of the link oil system.
b. Encouragement speeches to fishing associations and groups of fishermen by both MG personnel and Japanese officials.
c. Meetings of heads of fishing associations at MG.
d. Patrols at sea by both BCOF and Japanese police.
e. Strict surveillance of fishing materials allocations.
f. Thorough blackmarket controls by Economic police.
g. Prefectural publicity on importance of turning in fish.

2. All of the above measures had a helpful immediate affect on the turning in of the fish but the affects were of short duration and the time and energy expended were not commensurable with the results.

3. Perusal of Japanese fishing laws disclosed the following in Fishing Law 58, promulgated 21 April 1910 and amendments thereto promulgated in 1933, 1938 and 1940.

Article 22

If a fishermen does not engage in fishing for one year after a license is granted or suspends business for two consecutive years the license may be cancelled.

Article 34

Prefectural Governors can issue the following ordinances for the purpose of fish breeding, protecting marine products or supervising fishing.

Req Central Files

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 17503

1. Restriction of prohibition on catching or collecting marine products.
2. Restriction or prohibition on selling or holding marine products or their processed goods.
3. Restriction or prohibition on fishing tackle or boats.
4. Restrictions on number or qualifications of fishermen.
5. Restriction or prohibition on abandoning or leaking materials harmful to marine products.
6. Restriction or prohibition on collecting or removing materials necessary for breeding and protection of marine products.
7. Restriction or prohibition on transferring marine products.

If competant ministers find it necessary to resort to the above restrictions or prohibitions he can stipulate it by ordinance.

In the ordinances mentioned in the above two clauses, they can stipulate by regulations the confiscation of catches, processed marine products. fishing tackles mentioned in phrases 1-7 of the 1st clause held or possessed by offenders and if this is impractical, fines can be imposed covering the value of the above mentioned items in whole or in part.

4. A liberal interpretation of this law would give the governor the authority he lacks at the present time to force the fishermen to turn in their catch. It is felt by this headquarters, that if a fisherman who has been granted a license does not turn in fish he is not a qualified fisherman unless due to illness or some other excuse he is unable to fish. Therefore, his license as a fisherman should be revoked or suspended and given to someone who will turn in his catch. Under provisions of the paragraph 4 of the 1st clause, the governor has the authority to restrict the qualifications of the fisherman providing he has the concurrance of the competent ministry. If this article could be construed in the liberal sense to mean the following, many of the blackmarket troubles in fishing would be eliminated.

"Any fisherman who does not turn in fish during a period of ninety days commensurate with fishing conditions and the amount of grar he has available, will cause to have his license suspended or revoked on order of the prefectural governor; excepting when he can prove that due to illness or other excuses he was unable to follow his occupation of fishing."

5. In case this law cannot be interpreted as above, it is felt that the passing of a similar type law would put some teeth into the enforcement program now being carried out throughout Japan.

6. Conversations with chiefs of fishing associations has revealed that fishermen are more afraid of losing their license to fish than any other action the government can take against them. There is such a large

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 17503

1. Most of the material contained in this report was obtained from conferences held with the Chief of the Foodstuff Office, Chief of Agricultural Affairs of the Prefectural Government, and the Chief of the Food Distribution for the Prefectural Government. It is felt that all figures given are reliable and this report presents a true picture of the food situation in this prefecture.

2. The amount of food available from the fall crops of 1947 is based on the assumption that the collection quotas will be filled; as of 10 Jan, 84.17 percent of the rice and 82.4 percent of the sweet-potatoes had been collected.

3. The figure used for the spring crops quota for 1948 is based on the supposition that a normal yield will result and the quota based on area planted will be much larger this year than last year. To arrive at this figure, the area planted was multiplied by the average yield and then the retention amount of last year was deducted. This left a figure of approximately 225,000 rice koku but it is felt that such an increase as that would be impossible to collect. Approximately 90 percent of the spring cereal crop in this prefecture consists of naked barley.

4. In order to convert food amounts to days of rations the equivalent amount in rice koku was used. e.g. sweet-potatoes 110 kan to 1 koku, naked barley 1.169 koku to rice koku, white-potatoes 160 kan to koku.

5. The normal ration requirement of this prefecture is 1800 koku per day. Whenever a sugar distribution is made, there is no staple food ration for that day.

6. During 1947, 12,000 tons of imported food was shipped to this prefecture and 14,000 koku of indigenous rice was shipped in from other prefecture.

7. Food situation in Tokushima prefecture for period 1 Nov 47 - 1 Nov 48.

a. Fall crops of 47.

Rice	245,000 koku	175 days
S. Potatoes	6,503,000 kan	44½ days
	Total	219½ days

b. Food on hand 1 Nov and allocated since (other than rice and s. potatoes)

Foodstuff control corp	7,916 koku	5½ days
Prefecture warehouse	3,500 koku	2½ days
Imported foods received and due to arrive	6,926 koku	4 days
Sugar	500 tons	2 days
	Total	14 days

c. Total food available from fall crops and that on hand is 233½ days.

d. Fall crops expended for other than rations after 1 Nov.

Rice (Rationed during Oct)	12,610 koku	9 days
S. Potatoes (Rationed during Oct)	1,510,470 kan	7½ days
S. Potatoes (Shipped to Osaka & Kobe)	1,400,000 kan	7 days
S. Potatoes (Allocated for Sake and uses other than food)	1,424,000 kan	7 days
	Total	30½ days

e. Subtracting D from C gives a total of 203 days or enough rations to supply the prefecture up to 20 May. Prefectural officials claim they must have a five day reserve to operate on so the date of 15 May is probably more exact.

f. Spring crops of 1948.

Naked barley, wheat and barley	200,000 koku	1½ days
S. Potatoes	1,500,000 kan	6 days
	Total	118 days

g. Total food available including spring crops is 351 days from 1 Nov or enough to last up to 15 Oct. Unfortunately, it can't be worked out that close as the ration of spring crops cannot start before the latter apart of June and there is a gap of one month between the end of the rice supplies and the start of the barley. If no sweet-potatoes had been shipped to Osaka and Kobe and none had been allocated for other uses there would almost have been enough food without any imports this year.

8. Conclusions and Recommendations

a. This prefecture is almost entirely self sufficient in a normal crop year. This is contrary to Japanese claims of being only 85 percent sufficient. In order to obtain this self sufficiency quotas must be kept high. The rice quota this year for this prefecture is 43,000 koku more than last year's record collection of 114.5 percent and the crops are comparably the same. This increase in the rice quota means that 6,700 tons of food less will have to be imported this year than last year.

b. Food will have to be imported into this prefecture this year to carry over the period during the latter part of May and the first part of June. However, it is felt that no more than one months supply should be sent to this prefecture this year and if necessary the prefecture could probably get along on two weeks supply.

c. The quota for the spring cereal crops should be approximately 200,000 koku for this prefecture even though it is a 67 percent increase over last year.

d. It is felt that if the prefecture does receive a months supply of food this year, it should be self sufficient during 1949 as the indigenous supplies in a normal year are enough to feed the prefecture once they get the ration and crop cycle co-ordinated. If the quota for the spring crops is 200,000 koku and the quota is filled, the supply of spring crops will last in ration channels until 15 Nov or just one month longer than in 1947. Therefore, the 48 fall crops will last in ration channels a month longer and the ration and crop cycle will be nearly co-ordinated.

1. The amount of food available from the fall crops of 47 is based on the assumption that the collection quotas will be filled; as of 10 Jan 84.7 percent of the rice and 82.4 percent of the sweet-potatoes had been collected.

2. The figure used for the spring crops collections for 48 is based on the supposition that a normal yield will result and the quota based on area planted will be much larger this year than last year. To arrive at this figure the area planted was multiplied by the average yield during the past five years and then the retention amount of last year was deducted.

3. In order to convert food amount into days of rations the equivalent amount in rice koku was used e.g. sweet-potatoes 140 kan to koku, dried sweet-potatoes 39 kan to koku, naked barley 1.109 koku to 1 rice koku, white potatoes 160 kan to koku.

4. The normal ration requirement of this prefecture is 1500 rice koku per day. Whenever a sugar distribution is made there is no ration distribution for that day.

5. It will be noticed that 1,000,000 kan of dried sweet-potatoes has been allocated by the Ministry of Agriculture and Forestry for uses other than staplefood. Converting that amount to imported food means that 3,850 tons of food will have to be imported to replace this amount. It is felt that this figure is out of proportion during this period of world food shortage and should be revised. It is estimated by the food office that there will have to be food imported during the latter part of May to carry the rationing over until the spring crops are collected.

DECLASSIFIED E.O. 12065 SECTION 3-402/NNDG NO. 17503

7. Total food available for rationing during period 1 Nov 47 to 1 Nov 48 is enough for 336 days or enough to last up to 2 Oct 48. According to these statistics, this prefecture is self sufficient regarding food providing: (a) the crop is normal (b) all of the food is used for staple food rationing. This is contrary to the Japanese statistices as they claim that this prefecture is .85 percent sufficient. It is felt by this headquarters that setting a high quota for all of the food crops raised in this prefecture would alleviate some of the imports that evidently were needless in the past.

Tokushima Military Government Team
November 1948, Narrative Report
Agricultural Cooperative Association Program

General

The consensus of opinion in this prefecture at present seems to indicate that few people are happy with the thought of having more than two federations; Credit and Business. It is argued by farmers, local cooperative officials and the federation officials themselves that the cost alone is prohibitive to joining the federations.

At a meeting held by this headquarters with federation officials and the Agricultural Cooperative Section of the Prefectural Government, the subject of several federations versus two was brought up for general discussion. Though it seems strange that any Japanese official would talk his way out of a job, this is precisely what happened. Of the nine directors and presidents present for the meeting all were unanimous in voicing their opinion that "More than two federations were an unnecessary burden on the all ready overburdened farmer."

One local cooperative visited by this headquarters listed capital assets of 20,000 yen of which 50,000 yen has been contributed to five federations in the form of initial fees and required stock purchases. This is out of proportion with what this cooperative can reasonably afford. It should be noted that although this cooperative is one of the smaller ones in the prefecture, it is forced to pay fees identical to larger cooperatives but the return on its investment is much smaller than the returns enjoyed by larger cooperatives.

Though all of the federations so far approved by central government have been promoted by the same fifty promoters, no evidence has yet been detected of intent to gain control of the Agricultural Cooperative Associations. This headquarters is at present conducting an investigation concerning the background of the promoters, directors and presidents of these federations.

During this reporting period, five new Cooperative Associations were approved by the governor bringing the total of cooperatives in this prefecture to 314.

The posters "Re-election of Officers" and "Increase of Investment and Savings" (Reference: Natural Resources Section Weekly Summary Number 169, 24-30 October 1948) have been received in the correct amount and distributed throughout the prefecture in accordance with the above mentioned instructions.

1. General

During reporting period, 3 General Agricultural Co-ops, 2 Sericultural Agricultural Co-ops, 12 Land Exploitation Co-ops, 6 Livestock Breeding Agricultural Co-ops and 2 Dairy Agricultural Co-ops were formed and inaugural meetings held. This brings the total of co-operatives in Tokushima Prefecture to 195 General Agricultural Co-ops, 66 Sericultural Agricultural Co-ops, 2 Manufacturing Agricultural Co-ops, 30 Land Exploitation Agricultural Co-ops, 11 Livestock Breeding Agricultural Co-ops and 2 Dairy Agricultural Co-ops for a total of 306 co-operatives in operation. (Adjusted figures). 102,619 or approximately 25% of the farmer households in Tokushima Prefecture are now members of at least one co-operative.

2. Inspections

Sawadani

The general membership meeting of the Sawadani Agricultural Co-op was held on 14 February 1948 and the financial report read and approved. The business plan and articles of incorporation which were drawn up at the preliminary organization meeting held 6 February 1948 was approved by the Governor on 15 July 1948. Business activities commenced on 14 August 1948. There seems to be little interest shown by the 198 members of this co-operative. This is due, according to the co-op officials, to a lack of understanding of the principles underlying the co-operative legislation. The officials of this co-op appear to have a genuine interest in their work and are working hard for a better understanding on the part of the members of the advantages of this new co-operative association.

Aihata

One Agricultural Co-op has been formed in this village with a membership of 762. At the preliminary organisational meeting held on 28 January 1948 and attended by 30 promoters and 97 members, the business plan and articles of incorporation were discussed. The general meeting, held on 24 February 1948, of the agricultural co-op was attended by 452 members who approved the articles of incorporation and business plan. Business activities commenced on 1 July 1948. Interest shown by the members and officials is good and the members interviewed in Aihata Village have a good knowledge of the co-operative legislation.

Sanagawamchi

Active support is being given the Agricultural Co-op in this village. At the general membership meeting attended by 455 local farmers, a property disposal board was elected and financial and inventory reports read and approved by the members. It was decided that a cash balance of Yen 26,267 be transfered to the new co-op. The preliminary organizational meeting was attended by 48 promoters and 306 farmers. The articles of incorporation and business plan were approved by 610 members at the general meeting held on 6 March 1948. Business activities commenced on 27 May 1948.

At present the assets of 30 former Nogyokai have been transfered to the new Co-ops. Material assets of 94 Nogyokai have been loaned to the new Co-ops to enable them to carry on business, while there remain 10 Nogyokai for which the disposal of assets has yet to be decided. Delay in decision is due to the fact that two or more Agricultural Co-ops are being formed from one Nogyokai. Prefecture agricultural officials estimate that all assets of the Nogyokai will have been transfered to the new Co-ops by the end of December 1948.
