Kagawa Prefecture In-Service Training Advisory Committee

The Kagawa Advisory Committee on teacher in-service training met on 4 June where the organizational plans and procedures were adopted. There are 10 committee members representing Kagawa University, the Teachers Union, the elementary, lower secondary and upper secondary schools' associations. The general aim is to make necessary suggestions for the improvement of the inservice training program which will more really meet the needs of education in the prefecture. The Guidance Section of the Prefectural Board of Education Secretariat will also attend the meetings in an unofficial capacity.

CE met with the members of the committee on 14 June for a discussion of suggested plans. The committee in general discussed general proposals for the inservice training program now planned without getting down to practical matters. CE steered the discussions into an appraisal of education needs in the schools at various levels and the use of university personnel available in giving instruction in fields where weaknesses now exist. Such fields included: secondary and elementary administration, guidance in the secondary schools, tests and measurements, evaluation of school work and vocational training in the secondary schools.

Re No. 149 Note of the Education Ministry

June
4th ~~May~~ 1951

I called four Board of Educations asking whether they received this note. Answers were as follows, and what they have done with it.

They all received it already.

About the contents of the note, the officials in Kagawa, Ehime and Tokushima talked at the conference. Kagawa--at the preparative conference; Ehime and Tokushima--at the Federation Conference.

Only Kochi distributed copies of the note to all of the unit PTAs.

Ehime official said that Ehime representatives who attended the delegates' conference in Tokyo on 18th May reported that at that time, the Ministry suggested them, seeing those representatives were not democratically elected, to have reelection in democratic method which they suggested.
