LOOTING IN NOVA SCOTIA STRIKE AREA

Sir William Petersen Died Suddenly In Federal Capital To-day

DEATH OF SIR W. PETERSEN ANNOUNCED SHORTLY AFTER SUBSIDY REPORT PUBLISHED Shipping Man Who Was to Have Operated Atlantic Steamships Under Agreement With Government of Canada Succumbed to Heart Attack in Ottawa To-day; Was in Canada in Connection With Inquiry.

Ottawa, June 12.—The death of Sir William Petersen was announced by Chairman Kay at a session of the Commons committee on agriculture this afternoon.

Sir William, who had been in Ottawa for the hearing of the special committee on ocean rates, was ill for only a few minutes. Death was due to a sudden heart attack.

Hon. T. A. Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, and Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, coming from his apartment at 535, confirmed the report that efforts of medical men to revive the shipping magnate had not been successful.

REPORT ON ATLANTIC SHIP RATES WAS LAID BEFORE COMMONS TO-DAY

Ottawa, June 12.—Recommending that "all members of the North Atlantic or other conferences trading into Canadian ports be required to file with the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada all conference agreements, freight rate schedules and such other information as may be desired and that the board be constituted a tribunal for the hearing of complaints and for the recommendation of maximum rates," the special committee of the Commons, which investigated Atlantic rates, presented its report to the House to-day.

The committee says that before attempting to pass judgment on the Government's ship subsidy contract with Sir William Petersen, it recommends a continuance of the expert investigation into the books of the North Atlantic Shipping Conference lines in Britain and elsewhere and the books of the Petersen Line.

Sir William should be given an opportunity of substantiating the claims made in respect of his ships, says the report. Tests should be made of the actual performance of these ships, and "Sir William should be given the opportunity to demonstrate the economies of his ships under conditions which will ensure freedom of competition in the obtaining of cargoes."

Although the committee does not specifically recommend abandonment of the plan of paying a subsidy to Sir William Petersen, that is the net result as the report is interpreted in political circles.

The probability is that the bill granting the subsidy will either be dropped or allowed to remain on the Order Paper until passed. When the bill was before the House Premier King emphasized that the putting in effect of the contract was dependent on the approval of Parliament, and with a view to investigation, the contract was referred to the special committee.

TO STUDY ACCOUNTS

The principal recommendations are: 1. That the examination into the books of the conference lines by Gordon A. Scott, C.A., be continued in Britain and elsewhere in order to determine whether the rates now charged are excessive, to explain discrepancies in operating costs to verify the figures submitted and, in short, to prepare an accurate representation of the North Atlantic shipping situation, the conference lines having declared their willingness to submit to such examination.

2. That he also be instructed to make a like examination into the books kept by or in connection with the ships of Sir William Petersen, who has declared a willingness, and that he should report his conclusions to the Government on both phases of this inquiry.

TO PROVE CLAIMS

3. That Sir William Petersen should be given an opportunity, if he so desires, of substantiating the claims made by him in respect to his ships.

4. That to this end tests should be made of the actual performance of the ships in the North Atlantic Canadian trade under careful and expert supervision, both of the earnings, operating costs, managerial expenses and performance at sea and in port of such ships.

15,000 WORKERS IN MILLS IN SHANGHAI WHO HAD GONE BACK TO TASKS ON STRIKE AGAIN

Shanghai, June 12.—Fifteen thousand Chinese millworkers here who struck and later returned to work walked out again to-night.

The recurrence of the strike was considered an immediate result of the sharp disorders at Hankow, interior port, where nearly a dozen persons were killed in a series of riots. Lesser outbreaks, principally directed against Japanese on the North Szechuen road, were reported to authorities of the Foreign Settlement to-night.

The shipping stevedores due to the strike, continued almost complete here to-night. Thirty-five vessels were idle. Others which normally would have called at Shanghai were reported diverted to other ports on account of the strike.

JAPANESE KILLED

A supplementary report received to-night by the Japanese consulate here from Hankow stated that previous to the use of machine guns by the British to-day in protection of the armory, six rioters in the Japanese concession had been killed after eight Japanese shops on Hupieh Street in the British concession adjacent to the native territory, had been reduced to kindling.

Barricades around the British concession, the report said, were being strengthened in anticipation of new attacks by the Chinese.

B.C. ASSURED OF BAN ON PRIVATE LIQUOR IMPORTS

Federal Government to Press Passage of Necessary Legislation Immediately

Oliver Denies Province Has Withdrawn Support of Move Against Bootlegger

British Columbia appears certain now of securing Federal legislation to halt the private importation of liquor into this Province and to put the present enormous liquor export traffic out of business. Reports from Ottawa received here to-day state that the Federal Government has no intention of withdrawing the bill drafted to effect this result, and the Provincial Government is still firm in its support of the measure.

Other reports that the provincial authorities have been lukewarm about the liquor bill and will not object if it is dropped in the last hours of the present parliamentary session are absolutely groundless, Premier Oliver declared emphatically this morning.

The legislation forbidding private importation was introduced by the Federal Government in Parliament at my personal instigation and no one has any ground for suggesting that the Provincial Government is not still in support of it," Premier Oliver asserted. "We want the bill passed and we anticipate no further difficulty about it. When I was in Ottawa, I personally went into the whole question with Premier Mackenzie King and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, and reached a satisfactory understanding on the matter, with them."

Other company stores were looted, shop fixtures damaged and thousands of dollars of foodstuffs and clothing taken or destroyed. The wash house at No. 12 colliery, New Waterford, was completely destroyed by fire shortly after 11 o'clock last night and this morning at 8 o'clock the engine house at the hub screening plant, New Aberdeen, was also destroyed.

Some time before midnight the Waterford plant was entered, switchboards were torn from the walls, instruments were destroyed and other damage of a serious nature was done.

WORK IS EXPECTED TO BE STARTED AGAIN IN NANAIMO MINES MONDAY

Nanaimo, B.C., June 12.—By granting complete immunity to all workers who took active part in the strike, the Western Fuel Corporation Ltd. has assured resumption of work in its mines on Monday.

The underground workers voted yesterday by a majority of 110 to resume work and accept the cut of sixty cents per day in the bonus, provided no discrimination was shown against the leaders of the strike.

The surface workers to-day are taking a vote to ascertain if the majority favor accepting the cut also, but the company is now making preparations for resumption of work Monday, anticipating a favorable reply from them also.

The pit ponies and mules, which have been enjoying themselves immensely since being brought to the surface, will probably be sent down to the underground workings to-morrow and everything got in readiness for Monday's start, company officials announced to-day.

OLIVER MAY GO TO OTTAWA AGAIN TO PRESS RATE FIGHT

Premier Preparing to Leave For Federal Capital To-morrow

Premier Oliver may start for Ottawa to-morrow to continue his fight for Federal legislation definitely fixing the rate on Western grain and flour on the same basis as the rate on those products moving Eastward. The Premier had not decided up to a late hour this afternoon whether he would go to the Capital again now or not, and he is still awaiting further advice on the matter before making up his mind definitely.

He plans to go to Vancouver to-day to confer with Vancouver members of the Legislature on the matter, but even if he decides to go East, he will come back to-morrow morning, by leaving to-morrow he would reach Ottawa about the time when the Government's rate legislation comes up in the House of Commons.

British Columbia stands to benefit heavily from the Federal Government's order to the Railway Board to equalize Canadian freight rates. The Premier declared in a written statement issued to-day. He made clear that while he objected to the Government's action in fixing a maximum rate on Eastbound grain and flour and not on the Westbound product, he believed that the lowering of rates on British Columbia products moving to the prairies would be of tremendous advantage to this Province.

The Premier's statement follows: "It would be a mistake to assume that the Freight Rate Bill, if passed, as it has been introduced, would not benefit British Columbia to a great degree. It would enable the Board of Railway Commissioners to do something which at present they are unable to do, namely, to remove the discriminatory 'Crow's Nest' Pass rates upon the eastward movement of green and fresh fruit, coal, oil, cordage and burden twine, agricultural implements of all kinds, iron, including plates, galvanized iron, pipe, pipe fittings, nails, spikes and horse shoes, all kinds of wire, window glass, building and roofing paper, felt for boxing, boxes and packing, paints and oils of all kinds, livestock, wooden ware and furniture."

"It is only in respect to the westward movement of grain and flour that I have taken issue with the Government on the legislation as proposed."

SOOKE MAN VICTIM OF TRAIN CRASH

Charles Finch, 20, Instantly Killed When Truck Struck Level Crossing

Inquest to be Held To-morrow at Sands Funeral Company Premises

Death with tragic suddenness overtook Charles Finch, twenty, in a level crossing accident at Sassex on the C.N.R. grade at 3.30 p.m. yesterday. The victim of the fatality, with a Chinese helper, Lee Sam, was driving a heavy logging trailer composed of two sixty-foot poles and had just straddled the rails when the southbound gasoline car of the Canadian National Railways struck the truck behind the driver's seat.

The weight of the poles anchored the rear part of the trailer, causing the front end with its human freight to be thrown a distance of several feet and overturned. Lee Sam saw the impending crash and jumped to safety, being picked up unconscious but virtually unharmed after the affair.

Charles Finch, the driver, was crushed under the weight of the truck and was dead when extricated a few moments later by the train crew and passengers. Dr. Richard Felton Sooke, examined the remains and pronounced life extinct. Lee Sam, after several stitches in a superficial gash in the head, was said to be out of danger.

and suspended store credits to 2,900 striking miners in the southern section. Negotiations for a return to work failed when the company insisted upon a wage cut of ten per cent and concessions in working conditions.

EFFECTIVE CONTROL

7. In order to ensure harmony in the control of shipping throughout the British Empire and that there be no shuffling of jurisdiction in the territorial waters of Canada shall be preserved beyond adventure, your committee recommends that the Merchant Shipping Act and the British North America Act should be amended so that the Government at an early date.

CERTIFICATE PLAN

8. It appeared in the course of your committee's investigation that a shipowner desiring to obtain British registry for his ships need only present a Lloyd's certificate of seaworthiness of his vessel, but that if he desires to obtain Canadian registry the ships must undergo an examination as well as by the Canadian Government as well as that conducted by Lloyd's or some similar institution. This is a very substantial and altogether unnecessary expense.

SPACE DEMANDS

"It would also appear that co-operative action among shippers to retain space would effect a considerable reduction in freight rates. This is exemplified in respect to gold storage for better. The conference lines, which charge almost as much to carry butter from Montreal to Liverpool, complain that their refrigerator space is made full use of, for only a comparatively short part of the season, and that they are assured adequate demands for their space, they could substantially cut the rate. It would appear that co-operation between shippers who could take a large portion of the refrigerator space offered would obviate the difficulty in which the lines find themselves, and should greatly ensure to the benefit of both parties. This solution would appear to be open to the produce exporters of this country were the necessary faith in each other essential to successful co-operation present."

PETERSEN CONTRACT

In particular reference to the Petersen contract the report after reviewing the evidence, says: "It would therefore appear wise to obtain further information as to the earnings of the conference lines and the advance of operation, as well as similar data concerning Sir William Petersen's ships, before attempting to pass judgment upon the contract referred to in this committee."

FIGURES UNVERIFIED

As to whether the rates charged by conference lines were higher than they should be, the report observes that upon figures submitted by the companies, and taking two years' operation together, "the earnings realized would not be sufficient to pay an adequate percentage on the capital invested, together with proper allowance for depreciation."

Colwood News

Special to The Times
Colwood—The regular monthly meeting of the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute was held in the Luxton Hall Tuesday afternoon, with a good attendance of members. The chair was taken by the president, Mrs. Brice, who was elected by the meeting to represent the institute at the provincial conference. Arrangements were made for a dance to be held in the Luxton Hall on Saturday, and a committee of three were appointed to take charge of same: Mrs. Scouler, convener, Mrs. Madder and Mrs. Brown; also plans were discussed for the flower show to be held on July 14.

An interesting address on "Education" was given by the Rev. H. Pearson, vicar of the parishes of Colwood and Langford, which was listened to with keen interest, and for which the speaker was accorded a very hearty vote of thanks. The institute will take part in entertaining the delegates to the Federal Conference of Women's Institutes to be held at the Women's Institutes—tea at the William Head quarantine station. Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. McManis, in view of the local interest in this matter, the members of the Colwood, Luxton and Happy Valley and Langford institutes have been invited to be the guests of the Metochosin Institute on this occasion, so that Dr. Wace may be assured of a large and attentive audience. Another special feature of this event will be a demonstration and distribution of B.C. products, samples having been supplied by many Victoria tradesmen. The stall will be in charge of Mrs. Amy B. Taylor and Mrs. McCraith. The Metochosin Women's Institute have decided to affiliate with the Oriental Exclusive League, the members having expressed themselves very strongly on the matter. Mrs. Amy B. Taylor, secretary of the branch, will attend the provincial conference as their representative.

Personally, said the young Oxford girl, "I'm going to have a go at literature, mater. No nonsense about giraffe heads. I'm going to write for money."
My dear, said her mother, "you've been doing that for years."

I.O.D.E.
The North Saanich Allies Chapter of the I.O.D.E. held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Peck, All Day, on Thursday afternoon. The recent Mrs. Campbell, was in the chair. There was a large attendance. Owing to the absence of the treasurer, Mrs. Belson read the financial report, which was adopted. Miss Wilkinson, educational secretary, announced the result of the essay competition on Capt. Cook, children from North Saanich, West Saanich, Keatings and Sidney competing. The winner was Daphne Clarke of West Saanich. Archibald Laycock kindly judged the essays. It was decided to send a donation of $125 to the I.O.D.E. war memorial. A donation was voted to the Sidney War Memorial Park towards putting railings around. A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Miss Wilkinson for her work as educational secretary, and from which she has had to resign, as she is now living in Victoria. She was then presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Other business was discussed, and the meeting adjourned after the singing of the National Anthem to meet again in October. Mrs. Peck then served tea.

Duncan News

Special to The Times
Duncan, June 12.—By kind permission of Mr. and Mrs. Weismiller Sr. who lent their spacious home for the occasion, the ladies of Gibbons Road provided a delightful entertainment on Wednesday evening in aid of the church funds. As June 19 will now be a memorable date in Canada, marking as it does the consummation of the union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational Churches, the Rev. Bruce Wallace for the Presbyterians, Rev. Hewitt Johnson for the Methodists and Mr. A. W. Johnson for the Congregationalists addressed those present.

Mrs. Wallace mentioned the fact that Mrs. Coverdale Watson was present, the mother of Dr. Watson of Duncan and widow of Rev. Coverdale Watson, one of the pioneer Methodist preachers in Victoria.

This union he claimed is one of the greatest movements since the Reformation, and will have far-reaching results.

The ladies had provided an excellent supper—the tables for which were most daintily decorated with red roses donated by Mr. T. J. Paull from his garden, after which a most delightful musical programme was rendered, arranged by and under the direction of Miss Monk. This consisted of songs by Mrs. Peter Campbell, Mrs. W. Dobson, Mrs. Wade, Messrs. C. A. Johnson and R. Malting, piano duet by Mrs. Hewitt and Miss Naylor, violin duet by Mrs. Wilkinson and Mr. Pollock, violin solo by Mr. Pollock and several other numbers by Mrs. Wilkinson and Mr. Pollock, first violins, Mrs. Watson, second violin, Mrs. E. THE ORDER-IN-COUNCIL

THE TIMES HAS BEEN asked to cite the authority upon which it bases its contention that the Dominion Government's Order-in-Council is a direction to the Board of Railway Commissioners to remove the present inequalities in the country's freight rate structure.

The following extracts from the document itself indicate quite clearly the object the Cabinet has in view:

The committee are further of the opinion that as the production and export of grain and flour forms one of the chief assets of the Dominion, and in order to encourage the further development of the great grain-growing provinces of the West, on which development the future of Canada in large measure depends, it is desirable that the maximum cost of the transportation of these products should be determined and known, and therefore are of opinion that the maximum established for rates on grain and flour, as at present in force under the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, should not be exceeded.

The committee advise that the board be directed to make a thorough investigation of the rate structures of railways and railway companies subject to the jurisdiction of parliament, with a view to the establishment of a fair and reasonable rate structure, which will, under substantially similar circumstances and conditions, be equal in its application to all persons and localities, so as to permit of the freest possible interchange of commodities between the various provinces and territories of the Dominion and the expansion of its trade, both foreign and domestic, having regard to the needs of its agricultural and other basic industries, and in particular:

(a) The direct and indirect effect of the Crow's Nest Pass Agreement, which is now to be wiped out. The Cabinet orders that this rate shall not be exceeded. In other words, the Board, by the provisions of the direction it has received, can not proceed with the business of equalization of rates in respect of grain and flour without using the maximum figure contained in the Crow's Nest Act as its basis.

It is also apparent to The Times that special reference to the development of western ports presupposes an eastern and western rate on grain and flour that shall not discriminate against the West. In the wider sense the direction to the Board is based solely on the idea of a new structure of a national, as against a sectional, character.

NOT SOUND

ONE OR TWO COMMENTATORS in this country argue that Great Britain can no longer view the affairs of continental Europe from a position of isolation.

They contend that the advent of the submarine and the aeroplane and the development of both, in a fighting sense, have completely altered the old conditions when the English Channel and the North Sea could be regarded as a definite form of bulwark.

The new condition by no means presupposes that Great Britain is likely to be attacked by a foreign power simply because mechanical contrivances simplify opportunity for physical combat. In a general sense no foreign country is now or ever will be, assuming that the world is not going to cure all its desire for fighting, in a better position to steal a march on Great Britain than any country has been during the last one hundred and fifty years. Britain's isolation from continental Europe in a political sense does not imply a disregard for what is going on across the Channel or the North Sea. There is no point in the argument that because France and Germany fight the shores of Albion would be any more insecure. Britain has not been invaded since modern methods of fighting were first adopted. She is surely likely to be attacked now, for surely it will be assumed that the Great War has taught the most militant of nations something.

On the other hand, if Great Britain ties herself up to any continental group, she will merely assume an obligation which must virtually turn over the determination of policy under certain conditions to people over whose actions she has not the slightest political control. These, in fact, are the alliances which have produced most of the wars of the past and will continue to produce trouble as long as nations group against nations—supposedly for peace.

HOSPITAL APPEAL

IN ORDER TO SWELL THE fund which is being raised for the purpose of erecting a new maternity wing the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital will appeal to the generosity of Victorians at the street corners to-morrow. It is not necessary to emphasize in detail the excellent work carried on by this well-known institution. In a much larger field than that in which it ministers it has established a reputation for itself of which it may well be proud. Many Victorians readily testify to the hospital's all-round efficiency and those who have had occasion to receive treatment at the hands of its thoroughly capable staff are voluntary advocates of the extension of its capacity for service. For these general reasons alone it may be supposed that the receptacles which the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary will jingle to-morrow will be heavily-laden before the day is very old.

OUR HEALTH

OUR MEDICAL HEALTH officer informs us that he knows of no disease in Victoria at the present time. He says there is no smallpox, chickenpox, diphtheria, typhoid, dysentery, and the only case of scarlet fever will be released from quarantine soon.

This is an interesting but by no means a surprising announcement. There is seldom any doubt about the general health of Victoria. It always has been uniformly good. But it is interesting to recall that only a short time ago there was a lively controversy as to what would have to be done if this community were to escape the ravages of a very objectionable disease. Unless most of the people took a definite course, the delicate hint was dropped that they would rue the day when they ignored professional advice.

We are not concerned about the controversy which advocates and opponents of vaccination waged with such vigor. But we do appreciate the satisfaction of being able to note that nothing at all serious happened—that Dr. Price, so soon after the alarms, is able to give the neighborhood such a clean bill of health.

RURAL PARTY IS NOW SUGGESTED BY LORD BEAVERBROOK

FROM LONDON COMES the suggestion that Lord Beaverbrook is about to form a new party in British politics on protectionist and Empire preference lines. An editorial in The Daily Express, which Lord Beaverbrook owns, is cited in support of the idea. It says that "the only hope for the farm-lies in the formation of a strong, independent, agricultural party in politics, fighting for a policy of imperial preference and using the overwhelming strength such a party would possess in the Conservative seats of the agricultural south to compel Conservatism to take up their cause." Sir Robert Home and Lord Birkenhead are mentioned as two leaders who might be induced to join such a proposed combination.

There is something comical about the very mention of a farmers' party in Great Britain as an Empire preference and protectionist party. We remember how the farmers and stockbreeders, most of them both, of Britain did their level best to convince the Finlay Commission that the removal of the embargo against the admission of Canadian cattle would almost put them out of business. On several occasions during the present year the organized farming industry has protested with considerable vigor against the Baldwin Government's proposal to donate $5,000,000 annually towards the marketing of Dominion produce in Britain. This was the "consolation prize" to the Dominion after the defeat of the imperial preference proposals. How on earth is this agricultural influence to compel Conservatism to take up the cause of the farmer by way of imperial preferences?

Canada is obviously interested in any Empire preference proposal. She would appreciate any concession of this kind that the Parliament and people of Britain are prepared to give to her. But she is too busy looking after her own affairs to depart from her traditional policy to make a campaign out of a demand for preferential treatment. Nor will she do anything but smile at suggestions, as Sir Robert Home suggested after Mr. Snowden had delivered his budget speech last year, that failure to obtain preference would be followed by secession from the Empire. She is waiting for a really honest declaration of the preference idea—as, of course, apart from the heads-I-win, tails-you-lose attitude of the stockbreeders and the rural elements which object to the marketing subsidy. Incidentally, Lord Beaverbrook should hesitate before starting another party, especially an agrarian party. He knows Canada and her political divisions.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON BOOKS

THERE are not many good books in the world. As a man gets older his books slough off, and his library grows smaller. At last he has very little left but his books of reference.

Nowadays the making of books is easy and almost every person knows how to do it. In any line, or thinks he has, will have no difficulty in compiling his memoirs or his theories into a volume. It is useless to attempt to keep up with the latest reading.

As one travels through the sea of literature he finds it very much like traveling through a foreign country. I once went down the Rhine and saw from the town of Bingen the statue of Germania in the distance. We looked at it, but knew not what it was. It was not until I remembered a seasoned traveler told me that I had missed the greatest view in Europe by not going up to see the statue of Germania.

In this way you will always find someone who has seen something that you have not seen. It is not that you do not know it, but that you have not seen it. The exceptions to this are the old classics, which are universal in their appeal. Time is the best critic, and a book that has lived twenty or a hundred years and is still popular is a book you ought to know and to read for it evidently has something of permanent human appeal.

How many there are who are anxious to know about the latest books, and how many who are still undiscovered!

It will do every young person good to go through the works of Hawthorne and Washington Irving and Dickens, to say nothing of foreign authors, and become acquainted with the character of these books. It is a long while and contains an element of education that is not in the modern volumes.

There is so much attention given to style and to fine writing in these days that it is rare to find an author who has something to say and who says it clearly and succinctly.

It is a good thing to grow up with books, to have them marked with a pencil and noted with your own notes, to have them full of ideas whose meanings have been explained to you with the progress of the years.

There are a dozen or so of these books and refers to them again and again in indeed fortunate. For education consists not in knowing a great many books, but in knowing a few of them very well.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

To the Editor:—I have carefully read your editorial in to-day's issue under the caption of "Unsound Criticism." I would like to know your authority for saying that the maximum rate for carrying grain and flour eastward is to be used by the Board of Railway Commissioners as a basis for a general equalization. I cannot possibly read anything of the kind into the Order-in-Council of June 6 or into any previous order or communication of which I have any knowledge.

I do not believe for a moment that the Order-in-Council you refer to will have the effect you claim for it, or that it is or was intended to have that effect. Just let me point out to you that many of the opinions of Vancouver business men that you refer to were hastily expressed in the absence of the receipt of the full text of the Order, and I have in my possession two letters, both written by the same person, which show the action of the Government, and a later one denouncing that action—in other words, some people spoke too soon. I am afraid that your editorial is assuming too much.

JOHN OLIVER, Victoria, June 9, 1925.

WEDNESDAY HALF-HOLIDAY

To the Editor:—The editorial in your newspaper the other evening was well timed, and let us hope will lead to a more adequate provision for shopping facilities so far as is practicable to the city of Victoria are concerned.

On the recent invitation trip of the Princess Kathleen to Seattle, she brought back on the return trip from the city of Seattle a very interesting story which happened on a Wednesday afternoon we had the same embarrassing incident of closed stores take place and it was very hard to explain to our visitors that Victoria was out to capture all the business possible from the tourist traffic.

Personally, I cannot understand the apathy which those who are sacrificing trade, and the whole question. Surely the storekeepers themselves can come to some fair arrangement whereby they can arrange for their clerks to have the half day sometime during the week without closing the store. For goodness sake let us get out of our present sordid condition and try to make a better condition in our community otherwise we will have none of our young citizens left with us.

Another point I might mention in this letter is the publicity getting behind the purchase of home products as far as possible.

The exception to this is the old classics, which are universal in their appeal. Time is the best critic, and a book that has lived twenty or a hundred years and is still popular is a book you ought to know and to read for it evidently has something of permanent human appeal.

HEALTH OF DISEASE TENNIS ELBOW

Following tennis, or some other strenuous labor such as striking a blow with a hammer, discomfort sometimes amounting to acute pain is felt in the elbow. There is slight tenderness on the outer side of the elbow and the pain is very persistent and constantly annoying. On lifting an object there is often a sense of weakness and pain running down the forearm and there is a tendency to drop articles from the hand.

Examination shows little more than the area of tenderness mentioned above and X-ray study is negative. The movements of the elbow joint are free, but if a fist is made and the hand bent forward on the forearm, the characteristic pain is produced.

The condition is due to inflammation in the small sac, which is so placed as to allow free play of the muscles over a prominent portion of one of the bones of the forearm.

In mild cases the particular strain causing the condition should be avoided and iodine may be used locally. In severe and persistent cases, cure has been secured by removing the small inflamed sac by operation.

BRITISH AIR CHIEF DRAWS DIRE PICTURE OF AERIAL WARFARE

Sir Hugh Trenchard Warns of Great Casualties Should War Come

Cambridge, Eng., June 12.—The assertion by Air Marshal Sir Hugh Trenchard, chief of the British Air Staff, that he would do away with aviation altogether if he could, has caused no end of comment throughout the country. Sir Hugh was speaking to the Cambridge University Aeronautical Society, and his contention was that as the good done through aviation commercially would not make up for the reign of terror and death which would be accomplished through this force if there should be another world war, when bombs and poisonous gases would be strewn upon almost helpless cities.

SPOKE FRANKLY

Sir Hugh reviewed the problem of the air defence of the British Empire and its potentialities during the next fifty years, speaking very frankly and plainly indeed upon the main principles which must guide the nation in its present and future use of aviation.

"I do not want you to think I look upon the air as a blessing altogether," asserted Sir Hugh. "Continuing the air to the detriment of his listeners. It may be more of a blessing for this Empire than for any other country in the world; but I feel that all the good it will do in civil life will be offset by the harm that may be done in war by it, and if I had the casting vote I would say abolish the air."

This part of the air chief's remarks has caused more newspaper comment than has any utterance of an official of his standing in years.

Relative to a European war in which Great Britain might be seriously attacked, the air chief said:

"The great problem to be faced is that in the first clash of the opposing forces the casualties would be very high, and the question of replacing the reserves would be difficult. In fact they would be almost insuperable, not only for this nation, but also for any other nation."

In the next war in a single day, the speaker said, he believed, more bombs could be dropped in this country than was done in the four years of the last great conflict. While the aeroplane was the most offensive weapon that had ever been invented, Sir Hugh said, it was a shockingly bad weapon of defence against the aeroplane itself. Still, he believed it was the only one that had yet been discovered, and even in these days of scientific improvements and inventions he had grave doubts whether any other weapon would take its place for another 100 years.

"Remember that nothing you can do or say will stop all the benefits of aviation, or all the horrors of it," he said.

I am sure the Empire is in the forefront of the nations of the world in the air."

AID OF UNIVERSITIES

The Royal Air Force would not be made the great weapon it must be without the backing of the nation, said the air chief, and he was convinced one of the most important means was through the larger seats of learning. For that reason the Government would like to start at Oxford and Cambridge air force units as a beginning, and the officials hoped to do the same at other universities at later dates.

"DEADWOOD COACH" IS CAPITOL FILM STARRING TOM MIX

A glance at the case of "The Deadwood Coach," which Tom Mix is appearing now at the Capitol Theatre, from Clarence Mulford's novel, "The Orphan," would indicate that another cinematic battle of the century is coming. Sid Jordan has been cast in the role of Need. And that means action!

"The Deadwood Coach" will mark the eighth time Jordan, who is a villain of first water, has had it out with Tom. And, according to Mix himself, Sid is getting tougher every time he tackles him. In "Eyes of the Forest," the last time they got together, it was a battle of battles. Tom has seven decisions over Jordan and "The Deadwood Coach" script calls for another, but there is no question about the fact that when the hero fleets the villain this time the fur will fly fast and furious.

FRANK MORTON AND LLOYD HAMILTON ARE FIRM FRIENDS

At the Playhouse this week, Lloyd Hamilton, in "A Self Made Failure" is the screen feature, with Frank Morton, in "Ching Ling Foo," as the stage attraction.

It is a coincidence that these two comedians started their career, almost at the same time, and in the same theatrical organization. Hamilton, later, appeared in musical comedy under the Morton banner, and for a number of seasons was

In the early days of pictures, Hamilton deserted the stage for the screen, enriching the field of the silent comedy. Throughout the years, the two have remained fast friends, with Morton spending many happy vacation days at the beautiful Hollywood home of the famous film star.

Both "Ching Ling Foo" and "A Self Made Failure" will be shown for the last time to-night and to-morrow, with the usual matinee to-morrow afternoon.

DOMINION SHOWING HAS SPECTACULAR SETTING IN COLOR

"So This Is Marriage," a spectacular commentary on married life, will be at the Dominion Theatre all this week. It is a Hobart Henley production from Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, and has a cast that includes Eleanor Boardman, Conrad Nagel, Lew Cody, Clyde Cook, Warner Oland, Mabel Julienne Scott, Edward Connelly, Miss DuPont, John Boles, John Patrick, Thelma Morgan, Claire de Loree, Shannon Day, Jack Edwards, and Estelle Clark.

One of the chief features of "So This Is Marriage" is an interlude filmed in natural color. The story was written by Carey Wilson and the script prepared by John Lynch and Alice D. G. Miller. John Arnold was chief photographer.

BARBARA LA MARR AND BERT LYTELL STAR IN "SANDRA"

Austin has been seen during the past year in the "Masked Dancer," "Let Not Man Put Asunder," "The Governor's Lady" and several episodes of the Yale University serial, "Chronicles of America." He has also been a featured player in a series of two-reel dramas compiled from the records of the New York state police.

He is well known to Broadway theatre-goers, having appeared in support of Ethel Barrymore in "Deceit," and was a featured player in "Rings o'Clock." He played two seasons in support of Madge

BROADWAY STAGE SUCCESS IS FILM NOW AT COLUMBIA

"Reckless Romance," Al Christie's hilarious feature farce opened last night at the Columbia Theatre. Harry Myers, T. Roy Barnes, Tully Marshall and Jack Duffy made the house rock with laughter.

Harry Myers does some of the best work of his career as the newlywed who, to please his old grandfather, must divorce his adored and adoring bride. T. Roy Barnes excels himself as the lovesick boy who is forced to become a co-respondent in order to win the girl of his heart. And he whistled Jack Duffy plays the old union-bust grandfater, in a way that delights the heart! Wanda Hawley tried her hand at comedy in "Reckless Romance," and Sylvia Breamer. Others who join in the spirit of fun are Tully Marshall who plays the cross old father, Lincoln Plumer and Morgan Wallace.

The play is taken from the Broadway stage success of a season ago, "What's Your Wife Doing?" and the picture is a funny situation have been preserved.

FIFTEEN GROUPS PLAN CHURCH WORK

Committees to Lay Reports Before General Council of United Church

Toronto, June 12.—Delegates to the General Council of the United Church of Canada continued this morning and gave attention to the great army of business facing that body in the reconstruction of the organization of the three great denominations. Committees were approved by which recommendations on matters at hand will be made to the council and some reports were considered. This afternoon the council will stand adjourned while the committees will have a free hand for their initial meetings, and to-night attention will be given to home missions.

The present programme calls for adjournment of the council on Wednesday next, but it will not be surprising if the sessions continue after that date. Much time is likely to be occupied with consideration of recommendations which committees can not make until next week.

FIFTEEN COMMITTEES
Fifteen committees of varying size from ten members to ninety-six were appointed by the council this morning to undertake work of preliminary organization in behalf of the new church. They all will meet this afternoon to elect their chairman and survey their duties and undertake their accomplishment. All committees must report later to the council.

A delegate pointed out that in almost all committees ministers outnumbered laymen. It was explained that in the membership of council of Presbyterians nominees there were far more ministers than laymen and it was impossible to hold the balance

From these 125 unionist minorities have withdrawn. ## Danish Beauty Blemishes

Skin eruptions are usually but manifestations of hidden forces at work below the surface. A good complexion comes from within, not from without. You must look after your liver and keep your system clear.

BEECHAM'S PILLS remove the surplus bile and bring back the natural color to the complexion; they expel the poisonous products of imperfect digestion and banish disorder, the cause of facial blemishes; they tone up the system and give the skin a healthful bloom.

COUNCIL OF LEAGUE FINISHES SESSIONS

Geneva, June 12.—The Council of the League of Nations adjourned yesterday after having settled a large number of questions connected with the economic and financial restoration of Europe, and some political matters which, if left unadjusted, threatened to grow into serious difficulties. The Council will reassemble in Geneva September 4. The Council disposed of two important problems by the adoption of a charter regulating future relations between Poland and the Free City of Danzig and by administering a warning to Lithuania that she was not fulfilling her minority obligation. The achievement of an accord between Great Britain and France relative to a basis for security negotiations with Germany and an agreement between Spain and France for united military action against the Rifians in Morocco indicate the Council meetings are being increasingly utilized for the settlement of Geneva of important European problems. The December session of the council will probably be held in Madrid, to which capital the Council has been invited by King Alfonso.

Grain Company Stock Outlawed

Indianapolis, Ind., June 12.—The Indiana Securities Commission yesterday denied the request of the Grain Marketing Corporation of Illinois for permission to sell $1,000,000 worth of stock at $250 a share in this state. Financial affairs of the company were held, in an opinion by Frederick E. Schortemier, secretary of state, acting as administrator of the securities law, to be unsound.

THREE MEN SET OUT TO CROSS CONTINENT IN 18-FOOT BOAT

Astoria, Ore., June 12.—Let the globe trotter talk of his round-the-world cruises. Let the tourist rattle his passports and talk glibly of Monte Carlo, Venice and Versailles. Let the bored rich man book passage for the Amazon, or board the Pacific Mail for the seas where the dawn is born. Here are three men who are taking 5000 miles of vacation on the great rivers and deep blue lakes of North America. In a stubby, 18-foot motor-boat they are crossing the continent on trails that ever new, were yet the highway of the pioneers. FROM SEA TO SEA They will battle the foaming torrents and glide down shadowy rivers; they will breast the breakers off Lake Michigan's sand dunes and slip along the sleepy canals of blue On- tario; they will follow the trail of Lewis and Clark at the start and end by gliding in the wake of Hendrick Hudson's sturdy old Half Moon; and when they reach New York they will know America from cover to cover. The three travelers are John Edwin Hoar, Val Woodbury and Frank S. Wilson, all of Los Angeles. They started from here up the Columbia River a few days ago on a voyagers will reach the Hudson River; and from their it is plain sailing all the way to New York City, where the trip will end. Two years of preparation went before the boat is sturdy, the navigators are experienced and they are untraded. A moving picture camera and several still cameras will record scenes along the way. So the voyage is begun—5000 miles of sailing by lake and river, down the mountain ranges and across the trip that could hardly be equaled anywhere else in the world. Up the Columbia they are going now, their four-cylinder outboard motor pushing the specially-built little boat against the tide. At the mouth of the Snake River they turn following this stream to the limit of navigation. Then comes the first and only portage—a jump of 250 miles when the boat must be trucked to the headwaters of the Missouri, at Livingston, Mont., near Yellowstone Park. From then on it is plain sailing. Down the lazy, brown Missouri the path leads across the yellow Dakota where the wheat stretches in vast waves to the farthest horizon. Down between Nebraska and Iowa, where the tall green corn grows, across Missouri, past St. Louis, and up the Mississippi for a short way. Then comes the Illinois River, sluggish and muddy. Against the current once more, the little boat is pushed on to the Chicago Canal. Then, under the lee of Chicago's towering skyscrapers, it will sail out into blue Lake Michigan. Now in place of the placid rivers comes the great openness of deep water, where tall combers roll and the big freighters mark their passage by distant smudges of smoke on the golden horizon. Up the trail of La Salle and Pere Marquette lies the little boat's path, past the yellow dunes on the Wisconsin shore, close to historic Mackinac Island, where Pontiac dreamed of a dusky empire, and across the upper neck of Lake Huron to the myriad lost islands that fringe Georgian Bay.

great plains, from western sea to eastern sea. They follow the trail that is marked in blue water.

Radio Telephone Plans in Mexico

Mexico City, June 12.—General Gustavo Salinas, chief of the army aviation department, with the aid of departmental experts, is putting the finishing touches to an invention which he believes will revolutionize radio communication. Starting with the idea of developing a method to place aeroplanes in their landing fields, he has developed his system enough to warrant the belief that telephone users in any city possessing a broadcasting station, by simply calling up that station, can communicate with any person in any city of the republic enjoying equal telephone and broadcasting facilities.

ITALIAN RAILWAY FIGURES ISSUED

DUECY LADS LOOK FORWARD TO TRIP TO TOURIST CAMP

Dad Will Bring the Whole Family For the Eagles' Convention

So Bright Young Lad Tells Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau

"My daddy is going to take mother and us boys to Victoria as soon as school closes," young George P. Duecy, of Everett, tells the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau in the course of a letter in which he asks for particulars of the city. "Dad is going to the Eagles' Convention. He is secretary of the Erie," he adds. "This enterprising young lad makes a deal with the Bureau after asking for particulars of auto camps.

"I would send you a two cent stamp if it is not too much trouble to mail a letter if you happened to be in the U.S.A. but maybe I can square it with you by telling the other boys what a fine place Victoria is and all about their parks."

"The life of the auto camp appeals to the Duecy boys," says George. "Brother and I would like to camp as it is so much more fun," says George.

"Will you please tell me if there are any good auto parks in or around your city. Last year dad took us to Vancouver and we stayed at the auto parks there and we had so much fun and it was so nice that we would all like to do the same in Victoria. We have never been there, that is my brother and I but mother and I have been there years ago when the auto was not so numerous and there were no auto parks like there are now in all big cities. I hope it is not too much trouble for you to please let me know and I sure would appreciate it."

HOME BUILDING TO FOLLOW AUCTION OF OAK BAY LOTS

Sale Will Bring Added Value to Property, Says Charles S. Austin

The auction sale of Oak Bay property on Wednesday, June 17, has created considerable interest, according to Charles S. Austin, the realty auctioneer, who is now in the city. This is because it marks an event of civic interest.

"Wider ownership spells wider investment," says Austin, "and good government." Mr. Austin said. "Ownership of land makes every man and woman a more substantial citizen. It fosters an interest in civic welfare. It makes builders and business out of people who formerly were content simply to be residents."

"It does more than that. It is a fact that every piece of property which finds a new owner at once gains an added value, and so does the land which adjoins it. A hundred lots owned by a hundred persons are worth indefinitely more than a same number of lots owned by one person, for a hundred owners mean eventually a hundred homes. The owner means all too often nothing but vacant improved land being held as an investment, land which can make its greatest increase in value only as its neighborhood builds up."

"A hundred lots in the hands of a hundred individuals are far more likely to have homes built on them, for this reason alone the forthcoming auction sale should be of considerable interest to Victorians."

MOUNTED OFFICERS CHARGE STRIKERS

Bullets Fly During Riots at Glace Bay

Officers in Hands of Mob Severely Beaten

Glacé Bay, June 12.—While some fifteen mounted officers charged a mob which was protesting against the Dominion Coal Company, an ambush was carried out successfully by the strikers on both sides to the rear.

Bullets flew wild and furious as the officers discharged their revolvers. The horses, unaccustomed to firing, became unmanageable by the less experienced horsemen. Some fell from their mounts into the hands of the mob and were severely beaten. It was during this first mixup that William Davis was shot to death.

The fall of the power plant took place a few minutes later. It was successfully stormed by hundreds of strikers.

H. J. McCann, general manager of the Dominion Coal Company, is safe. For several hours after yesterday's outbreak he was reported missing, but he returned to his home last night.

The departure of 500 troops from Halifax last night for Cape Breton makes the fourth occasion within the last sixteen years when military forces were advanced to quell disturbances in that part of the province to quell disturbances.

The fight at the Waterford Power Plant and the occurrences there, fell from their minds into the hands of the bloodiest battles in the history of Cape Breton mining.

Death of Petersen Was Not Expected

Ottawa, June 12.—The death of Sir William Petersen to-day came as a surprise to the people of Ottawa. Many expressions of regret were heard.

He proposed to operate a line of Atlantic shipping under a Canadian Government subsidy.

He was founder and director of the London and American Maritime Trading Company Limited, and a director of several other shipping companies.

He founded the Royal and Uranian passenger lines to Canada and the United States. He was chairman of the British committee of the International Shipping Registry.

Sir William was an honorary commander in the Royal Naval Reserve. He was proprietor of the Hebridean Island Elg. He was owner of 18,000 acres of land. He was the author of two books on "The Allen in the Midst" and "The Kiel Canal Problem," and also made numerous contributions to Standard Shipping and other magazines.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH IS JURY'S VERDICT

Inquest on Body of Man Killed at Port Renfrew

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury sitting at the inquest on the remains of Mike Dehouk at McCall Funeral Company premises this morning. Evidence presented by the Provincial Police and fellow workers of the deceased showed that Dehouk met death when a heavy log swung unexpectedly and pinned him between its butt and a tree stump. Death was immediate, it was stated, the bones of the chest being crushed by the force of the blow. The accident occurred during logging operations at the Cathels and Sorenson plant at Port Renfrew, the body reaching Victoria at 4 a.m. to-day.

DISTRIBUTION FROM ESTATE IS SUBJECT OF SUIT

Judgment Given in Two Appeals Yesterday, and Reversed in Third

Hearing in the appeal of the Raspberry Estate and Administration Act resumed before their lordships the Court of Appeal to-day. The appeal is one by Louise M. Grant, executrix of the estate of William Pollard Grant from an order of Chief Justice Hunter making a distribution of funds from the estate of Edward Patrick Raspberry to three beneficiaries.

Litigation over the Grant and Raspberry estates went through several actions in the courts with the result that the appeal is an involved one in which J. H. MacGill, for appellants, seeks to place together an account of tangled affairs to establish the claim of Mrs. Grant.

Robert Smith, for respondents, is yet to be heard. Hearing proceeded this morning with Mr. MacGill addressing himself to a concise recital of the events leading up to the appeal, with particular reference to the agreements in which appellants claim a share.

Imported Hardwoods Limited vs. Robertson, MacLeod and Co. vs. Robertson, Diment vs. Dixon Motors, and Loane vs. Black are on the peremptory list to follow the case at bar.

At the close of hearing yesterday afternoon judgment was reserved in the appeal of Wallinder vs. the Imperial Bank of Canada. In Cusack vs. Day, a mainland hearing, the appeal was allowed and costs apportioned between parties. In Adams vs. Burns the appeal was dismissed, Mr. Justice Martin dissenting.

LIBERAL PICNIC

All is in readiness for the big basket picnic of the Equimil Liberal Association to-day afternoon. The picnic grounds will be at Macaulay Point at the end of Fraser Street.

Counsel for the defence first placed J. McCall, proprietor of the deceased girl on the stand.

"I had an unusual experience to-day."

"What happened?"

"I upset an ink-bottle on a clean tablecloth."

"Nothing unusual about that?"

"Yes, there was; the bottle was empty."

as warriors, hyenas and wolves. It has been a sort of bad lands across which the Indian Government and the Bear that Walks Like a Man have made faces at each other. Most of its "miles on end," as Kipling said of another Himalayan state, and its climate has the habit of varying thirty degrees in the twenty-four hours.

Ralph Delahaye Paine, author of some thirty books, at least twenty of which have to do with the sea, has finished his writing career. He died suddenly in a hotel at Concord on April 29, at the early age of fifty-three. A journalist and author, he has left a host of newspaper and other writing friends to remember him, as well as friends in the navy, admirers of his athletic prowess when he was a great Yale oar, and literally a host of sea-loving readers. He had an interesting career, born in Lemont, Illinois, in 1871, he graduated from Yale in 1894 and was already a war correspondent at the time of the Cuban Rebellion and Spanish-American War. Next he was a war correspondent for New York newspapers in the Boer uprising, and in 1901 and 1902 was a special correspondent in England.

A man who had been at close quarters with the Spanish-American War must have been in a mood to do an excellent job of crusading against the beef trust, and Mr. Paine was employed by the New York Herald to head this work for the paper. By 1906 he was peacefully occupied as an associate editor of Outing, but the World War found him a special observer aboard various craft of the Allies. When the United States entered the war he was appointed a Federal Fuel Administrator.

From his earliest book, "The Praying Skipper," down through a long succession of volumes to "Lost Ships and Lonely Seta," "Comrades of the Rolling Ocean," "Privates of '75," and "Joshua Barney: A Forgeries Hero of Blue Water," by far the greater number were about the sea, and it is said that no skipper knows more about the sea than did Paine.

At a certain mansion notorious for its scanty fare, a man was inquiring of the gardener about a dog he had given to the laird some time before. The gardener showed him a lank greyhound.

"No, no," said the visitor; "the dog I gave your master was a mastiff, not a greyhound."

"Indeed, sir," replied the gardener, "my dog would soon be turned into a greyhound if it stopped lang here."

"So you and your wife eloped?"

"Yes, but I have since had reason to believe that her father bought the laird a used and placed it just where I couldn't help seeing it."

Sidney Too Fast For Capitals And Win Second Game

Victoria Stayed With League Leaders For Half Distance Then Wilted

Sidney Players in Good Shape; Sons of Canada Win Intermediate Game

Sidney made it two straight in the Victoria and District Lacrosse League last night by defeating the Victoria Capitals at Sidney before a big crowd last night. The score was 8-3. Sidney won the opening match of the season last week by defeating the United Services.

Sidney holds a big edge over the other clubs in the Senior League through having all their players in good shape. The Capitals stood the pace well for the first two periods but wilted in the last two cantos. Sidney running through goals very quickly.

There is no doubt but that the farmers will be given some tough games once the local clubs get into shape.

His Honor the Lieut.-Governor was not able to attend the match and face-off the ball, but Col. Cy Peck, V.C. member in the provincial house for the Islands, performed the act.

Sidney got away to a two-goal lead early in the first quarter on shots by Segelbra and Jenkins. Pascoe, the local goalie having no chance to block them. "Cotton" Brynjolfson put Victoria in the game by scoring on a hot shot just before the whistle.

In the third period there was a lot of smart lacrosse, but both goalies were in top form and picked out all the shots that were headed for the net.

The third period found the Capitals tiring under the hard grind and three goals in a row filtered past Pascoe. Jenkins nipped the first one and—Norton followed along with a pair. Just so that Victoria might figure a little in the going Angle McInnes burst through and laid the ball to rest in the Sidney net.

Allie McGregor scored Victoria's third goal at the start of the fourth quarter but Sidney came on again with a smarting rally which produced two goals. Steele scoring one and Manny Norton the other.

The teams were as follows:

Capitals: Sidney Pascoe, goal; Simpson, Nobbs, Kroeger, cover point; Burton, Popham, 1st defence; E. Norton, J. McGregor, 2nd defence; A. Stewart, McLean, 3rd defence; Jenkins, Johnstone, centre; Steele, Patterson, 4th defence; McInnes, 2nd home; Segelbra, Brynjolfson outside home; M. Norton, A. McGregor, inside home; Reid, Summary.

First quarter—Segelbra, 5.00; Jenkins, 1.50; Brynjolfson, 3.50. Second quarter—None. Third quarter—Jenkins, 1.50; M. Norton, 2.45; M. Norton, 1.00; McInnes, 3.00. Fourth quarter—A. McGregor, 2.45; Steele, 4.50; M. Norton, 3.30.

The intermediates staged their opening game at night at the Royal Athletic Park and the Sons of Canada were victorious defeating Esquimalt by 7-2. The game was very fast.

Gibson opened the scoring shortly after the first quarter commenced, when he found the net from close quarters. The Sons knocked four goals before the lockers were able to add one. Oliver netting out and John Taylor two. Plater, who played a fine game for Esquimalt at first home, scored both of his team's goals. John Taylor, Gibson and Smith scored before the final whistle sounded for the Sons. Stan Peck refereed.

Next Tuesday night Frayne will stack up against Peter Jackson, the colored lad from Tacoma, in a ten-round bout at the Armories. This will be the headline of a boxing card being arranged by Billy Davies.

Norbeck Is Anxious To Beat Zybszko In Order To Get Champ

To-morrow Night's Bout at Arena is Creating Much Interest; Expect Big Crowd

To-morrow night at the Arena Stanislaus Zybszko, European heavyweight champion wrestler and twice champion of the world, will measure his strength and mat skill against "Moose" Norbeck, of Oregon, recognized as the heavy champion of the Northwest. Zybszko and Norbeck are scheduled to wrestle to a finish, the best two falls out of three according to "catch-as-catch-can" style, the accepted rules of the Police Gazette to govern.

This is by far the most important mat engagement that has ever been scheduled for Victoria. It is hardly possible that the match would have been arranged had it not been that Zybszko was on tour of the North-west under the guidance of Billy Bishop. The latter is thus far much impressed with the financial success of the tour so far, and he hopes that Victorians will turn out liberally Saturday night.

Zybszko is slated to arrive from Aberdeen, Wash., at 12:45 Saturday afternoon. His assistant in that city, to-night against one of the best youngsters in the game. Zybszko's opponent will be Bob Kruse, the amateur heavyweight champion of the United States, who is looking upon as a champion in the making and one of the hardest fellows in the business to put to the canvas. Kruse is unusually strong.

"Moose" Norbeck is due to arrive to-night. Norbeck is in the best shape he has been in for some time. He believes he has a good chance to add one, Oliver netting out and John Taylor two. Plater, who played a fine game for Esquimalt at first home, scored both of his team's goals. John Taylor, Gibson and Smith scored before the final whistle sounded for the Sons. Stan Peck refereed.

The sale of tickets opened yesterday at Pilmley and Ritchie's, and at 2 Jacks. The manner in which the tickets were being sold indicates a good crowd at the Arena.

The arrival of Emil Klank, of Vancouver, and manager for Gobler, the Hindu, who made such a wonderful showing with Zybszko at Vancouver Tuesday night, adds much interest to the coming event as Klank is one of the best-known wrestling authorities in the game. He believes Moose Norbeck is going to surprise Zybszko.

Another of Nurmi's Records is Broken By Swedish Runner

Stockholm, Sweden, June 12.—Edvin Wide, Sweden's champion runner, yesterday established a new world's record for 2,000 metres. He covered the distance in 5 minutes 25 9/10 seconds, which is four-tenths of a second faster than Nurmi's time made in 1922.

John Galt Did Hole in One at Oak Bay To-day

Most golfers will call a hole in one a fluke.

"Of course, my shot was dead on the pin all the way; and I hit it well, you know; but a two would have satisfied me." This is usually the line of talk that follows.

Yet all the hole-in-ones are tickled pink when they see the little pill fly from the tee straight into the cup—and stick there.

That's just how John Galt, president of the Victoria Golf Club, an expert senior and a player who makes junior step, felt this morning when he did the trick at the short eighth at Oak Bay while playing with Phil Taylor.

He could say it was dead on the pin all the way, a well-hit ball, and all the rest of it; but there was a lot of satisfaction in discovering the necessity to do the hole-in-one attendant upon a hole in one.

Cowichan Enjoys Stand At Home In Cricket League

Albions Will Visit Duncan To-morrow For Match; Five C's Play Victoria Here

Cowichan is enjoying a few weeks' stand on their home grounds and have a great chance to improve their standing in the "A" division of Victoria and District Cricket League.

Last week they added two points to their total by defeating Five C's, and to-morrow they will entertain the Albions. The following Saturday they will have the Incogs as their guests. If they should win both these games they will climb pretty close to the top rung of the standings.

With the Albions journeying to Duncan it will leave but one senior match here to-morrow, the Five C's encountering the Victoria eleven at Beacon Hill. Victoria is at present leading the league with the Five C's in second place. If the Five C's can halt the leaders it will make an even race of it, especially with Cowichan coming up with a burst.

The Albions will take a strong team up-Island with them and hope to give Cowichan a thorough test.

Veteran Batsmen Hammered Ball In Yesterday's Games

Ken Williams of St. Louis Beats Boston Single-handed; Gets His 15th Homer

Athletics, Giants, Washington and Yanks All Lose; Cincinnati Reds Still Win

New York, June 12.—The twinkle of young baseball lights from the minors has brightened the play in the majors this year, but veteran stars are still shining. Cobb, Speaker, Collins, Wheat, Fournier and Williams each hit hard and timely yesterday for victories.

Babe Ruth with his first homer of the season matched similar clouting by Speaker in the New York-Cleveland game, but Babe's swat was after the game had been sewed up by Tris. Two runners were on the bases when Speaker hit the ball into stands and the three runs gave Cleveland victory, 4-1.

Williams, besides tying Bob Meusel, of the Yankees, for home run hitting honors by getting his fifteenth of the season, defeated the Red Sox almost single-handed for St. Louis 9-7. In addition to the homer he made a double and two singles in five times up.

Wheat and Fournier saved the Robins from a shutout at the hands of St. Louis by heavy hitting in the seventh. Fournier closed the rally with a home run which settled the contest, 7-5.

Cobb soaks 'em. With a triple and two doubles, Cobb led Detroit on a batting rampage before which the champion Senators succumbed seven to four, Walter Johnson being driven from the mound.

The Athletics were beaten by Chicago 6-5, the Sox knocking Rommel out of the box with a five-run rally in the third. Cincinnati ran its winning streak to seven straight by winning the fourth straight game from the Phillies yesterday 8-3, while Pittsburgh won from Boston 11-3, evening the series.

Chicago Cubs evened the series with the Giants by winning 7-4, despite Gowdy's homer with one on base.

Rommel and Robertson: both were driven from the hill in the third inning, but excellent relief hurling by Mike Cuyegros and Arthur Stokes brought a halt to the hitting and turned a slugging game into a hurling duel. Sheely's double struck a single by Fulk in the fourth inning scored the winning run.

MAKER OF GIRL TENNIS CHAMPIONS IS REGULAR "DUB" WHEN IT COMES TO PLAYING THE GAME

HELEN JACOBS HELEN WILLS

Berkeley, Cal., June 12.—"Pop" Fuller is a maker of tennis stars. But as a player he's a "dub." He has developed a long string of racket luminaries, headed by Helen Wills, national and Olympic women's singles champion, and Helen Jacobs, national junior champion, and Cranston Holman, national playground champ, and picked to win the national junior this season.

But when it comes to playing tennis himself—

"I'm a 'dub' player, and I know it," says "Pop" otherwise W. C. Fuller of the Berkeley Tennis Club. "I never play any of the youngsters I coach," he says. "It would lower my value as a teacher if they were to beat me—as most of them could do. And there is the danger, too, that they would begin to copy my faulty shots."

TAUGHT HELEN GAME But the tennis world owes a lot to this personage, who retired from business in Providence, R. I., a number of years ago to become active in tennis. He took charge of the junior section for the national tennis organization in 1911, and since then has been developing one star after another by his own methods.

"I heard of a little kid named Helen Wills, and the moment I saw her in action I picked her for a comer," says Fuller. "I got her into the Berkeley Tennis Club in 1919, and started in to try and develop a champion. To begin with, she had wonderful eyesight, a splendid disposition and a fine physique for the game."

"She was not of a speedy build, so I started to coach her for a strong, well-placed game, for which her speed was sufficient.

"We would work every day, using five or six dozen balls, which I would toss up. She learned placing by driving at a handkerchief placed on the line. She built up her net stroke by the same patient work. She made over 1,000 trials at the backhand return down the same line instead of across the court (her most famous shot). She worked just as hard at perfecting her footwork."

"Her perseverance won out, and as she developed, I matched her with better players. There would be suggestions coming out of every set played."

"SOFT SHOT" HARDEST "The so-called 'soft shot' was Miss Wills' hardest. I felt that with her speed of shot keeping opponents back—women have an inherent fear of the net, possibly for fear of being struck—she needed a soft shot close to the net so her opponent couldn't run in. This called for more work. But Miss Wills had a wonderful 'dink' shot now.

"After the strokes are developed, they must be taught strategy. It is not natural to show any great amount of strategy. It must be developed by play. I play them against others, watch closely, then make my criticisms later."

Fuller's fame has spread until tennis hopefuls are sent him from all over the Pacific Coast for development. He has a regular champion factory.

But—

"I'm an awful 'dub' player and I can't deny it," he insists.

DOGERS SWING ON CARDS St. Louis, June 12.—The Cardinals were defeated 7 to 5 in their fourth and final game with Brooklyn here yesterday after three victories.

The battling of Brooks, who got a single, double and home run, was a feature. Gowdy also got a home run.

Burlington's Best Ball Team Will Be In Game To-morrow

The exact line-up of the Commercial Travelers had not been decided upon this morning but practically all their regulars will be on the job. It is possible that they may have the assistance of one or two of the other stars in the league. Jack Noble will more than likely be on the mound shooting curves around the necks of the visitors.

AMUNDSEN AWAITS AMUNDSEN

Major Logan Says Lost Explorer Can Find Supplies On Ellsmere Island

Toronto, June 12.—Should Amundsen, reaching the North Pole in safety, find that weather conditions rendered a safe return to Spitzbergen difficult or impossible, it is probable that he may have decided to pass up the long hazardous flight across unknown territory to Alaska and make for one of the Canadian Mounted Police posts on Ellsmere Island.

At least such is the opinion advanced by Major R. A. Logan, formerly of the Canadian Air Force, and now connected with the Fairchild Aerial Survey Company.

Major Logan was the navigating officer of the Canadian expedition to Ellsmere Island in 1922 which established Canadian Mounted Police posts in that far northern land.

The farthest north post was established at Cape Sabine, 680 miles from the Pole.

"It would be fairly easy for Amundsen to reach Cape Columbia on the northern end of Ellsmere Island," says Major Logan. "The Cape is only about 350 miles from the Pole.

"From there it is 250 miles air-line to Cape Sabine where he would find a permanent police post with food supplies and in all probability a supply of gasoline.

"Should his planes be disabled at Cape Columbia he could march overland to Cape Sabine through a country where he would find enough game to keep him and his party alive. And the march overland is far easier than across the open sea, the ice being much smoother.

"Then he could wait at Cape Sabine until such time as a patrol could take him into Craig Harbor at the southern end of Ellsmere Island, the headquarters post of the police.

"At Craig Harbor the S. A. Arctic will arrive about the middle of July on her annual trip to supply the northern police post with provisions for the year. And through her radio, Amundsen would be able to communicate with the outside world.

"Should he arrive by plane at Craig Harbor he would find a suitable landing place which I surveyed there for the Canadian Government in 1922. There is also a large supply of gasoline kept there the year around.

"From Craig Harbor he would have an easy hop of 100 miles to Dundas Harbor, on North Devon Island, then

The other photo shows Major Logan with two girls, natives of Godhavn, Island of Disko, where the Amundsen would take her station as a base if it is decided to send the dirigible Shenandoah to seek the lost explorer.

"Then would come a long and hard jump. From Pond's Inlet to Cumberland Sound, the next post, is about 70 miles of barren and ice-covered land.

"Of course, Amundsen may have suffered disaster to his planes in 250 miles to Lake Harbor on Hudson Strait, at which point he would be able to get a ship almost any time at this period of the year.

OFFICERS OF U.S. FLEET ARE FETED

Were Guests at Picturesque Celebration in Hawaii Last Night

Honolulu, June 12.—Officers and men of the fleet were guests last night at the colorful and picturesque tableaux presentation on the steps of the former Iolani Palace by Hawaiian societies as a part of the celebration of Kamehameha Day.

Clad in vivid cloaks of ancient custom, the performers depicted five incidents in the life of the king who united the islands and ascended the throne 128 years ago yesterday.

Admiral Coontz and the senior officers of the fleet will be guests to-night at a banquet given by the Japanese consul-general, Arata Aoki.

SAYS GRAIN BOARD SHOULD HAVE FULL CONTROL OF RATES

Ottawa, June 12 (Canadian Press)—Control of storage rates at Montreal should be placed under the Board of Grain Commissioners, F. A. Heywood, president of the Montreal Corn Exchange, told the Commons Committee on Agriculture this forenoon.

When the committee took up the clause in the new Grain Act, which gives control of weighing at eastern port elevators, Mr. Heywood spoke of the difficulties experienced in Montreal because of the "danger" of an arbitrary increase in storage rates.

The present Harbor Board there was composed of very reasonable men, but the grain merchants had no guarantee that a future board might be the same, he said.

Conservation might occur at Montreal, probably for some reason outside control of any grain merchant, and the Harbor Board might be induced by interested parties to double the storage rate in order to force the grain out of the elevators.

CHARLOTTE BEING PREPARED FOR RUN TO NORTH WATERS

The Canadian Pacific coastwise steamer Princess Charlotte is at present at Yarrow's Limited being given a complete overhaul, cleaning and painting, prior to her departure in the company's northern service for the summer. She will be one of the several fine C.P.R. vessels running to the Alaskan waters with tourists this season and is being put into proper condition for this business by experts at Esquimalt now.

The Charlotte went out to the drydock yesterday and will be launched again to-morrow.

Yarrow's is also working on the Estevan, Prince Albert and Puako at present and work is progressing rapidly on all three.

New Line Will Operate Ships In Coast Work

Seattle, June 12.—The sale of six intercoastal lines to the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, it was explained here yesterday, means their transfer from the service of the Pacific Mail line of San Francisco which has been operating them.

The new concern, the Panama Mail Steamship Company of San Francisco, a statement by E. H. Brochgraven, of the city, Puget Sound manager of Grace and Company, disclosed, takes over vessels that the Pacific Mail has been operating from San Francisco to Central America and New York.

The statement in part follows: "The stockholders of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company accepted the offer to retire 150,000 shares of common stock and their entire indebtedness of $1,900,000 in exchange for the steamships Columbia, Escudador and Venezuela, operated in the intercoastal service between San Francisco and New York, and the motor ships City of San Francisco and City of Panama, and the steamships San Juan and Corinto, operating between San Francisco and Central America ports, together with certain assets and the good will of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company in connection with these two services.

"These vessels, which are all combined passenger and freight carriers, will continue in operation in their present services under a new company which has been organized as the Panama Mail Steamship Company. This is purely a San Francisco organization made up of the office of old Pacific Mail Steamship Company employees. The management of the company will be vested in Dauton Mann, general manager, and C. C. Mallory, assistant general manager.

"The Panama Mail Steamship Company will be established in new offices in San Francisco about July 1, and the new house flag will be first hoisted on the steamer Venezuela, which is now in port. The Panama Mail Steamship Company will immediately undertake to improve and augment the present passenger and freight service on both the New York and Central American routes."

Injured Hand Highly Valued

Captain Wooster Claiming $25,000 from Companies for Injury

New Westminster, June 12.—Capt. William S. Wooster, tugboat operator on the Fraser River, has entered suit for $25,000—in Supreme Court—against the Empire Stevedoring and Contracting Company and the Canadian Government Merchant Marine, for injuries to his hand, allegedly sustained through negligence of one of their employees.

The writ has been served, and the case will probably come up for hearing this fall.

Action Arising Out of Exporter Wreck Dismissed

Vancouver, June 12.—Rejecting all contentions of plaintiff, Western Assurance Company of Toronto and New York, Mr. Justice Murphy has dismissed the action of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine Limited to recover $44,000 for insurance which plaintiff paid to four consignees in Japan for cargo lost on the defendant's steamer Canadavia, Exporter, wrecked July 31, 1921, on Wilapa Bar, off the mouth of the Columbia River.

Similar claims pending against the C.Z.M.M. aggregated in all about $250,000.

Shriners Enjoy Visit at Great Mountain Resort

Lake Louise, June 12.—Five special trains bearing the Medinah Shriners of Chicago were resting on the Lake Louise siding yesterday 900 feet above sea level on the banks of famous glacier washed Lake Louise. One thousand Shriners there are enjoying the most pleasant time they have had since leaving Chicago, according to Arthur Vincent, potentate of Medinah Temple, Shriners are everywhere, red fezzes and turbans.

A patrol band gave a concert in front of chateau, Lake Louise, Thursday afternoon, while two noblemen who had some early training in Chicago's famous stockyards, did a wild Roman standing ride up and down the Esplanade, much to the amusement of their fellow travelers.

Another nobleman bribed a horse hand to get him a bucking brocho, and proceeded to stage a miniature Wild West show out on the campus.

After many fares of "daylight" and considerable leather pulling this contest ended in a draw, neither the horse or nobleman, Walter Bacon, having registered a fall.

While there is no confirmation for denial coming from principals it is rumored that a surprise wedding will be arranged Friday night at the big ball in the Banff Springs Hotel, Vancouver, traveling over the transcontinental line of the C.P.R. will leave Banff early Saturday morning for Chicago after having been two weeks en route to and from their pilgrimage to Los Angeles.

A cinema actress had married her sixth or seventh husband in Paris and then sailed for home on her honeymoon. When she arrived in America a customs officer said to her: "Have you anything to declare?" "Nothing," she said, "except that I still love Clarence!"

ENGINEER OF FERRY WAS AUTO VICTIM

T. Burgess of Seattle Killed Near Mount Vernon, Wash.; Man in Custody

Mount Vernon, Wash., June 12.—Thomas Burgess of Seattle, engineer of the ferry Mount Vernon, which plies between Anacortes and Sidney, B.C., was instantly killed early today when an automobile he was driving plunged off a bridge near Mount Vernon. J. H. Nall of Anacortes, a companion, escaped injury and was held in the county jail here. The car was submerged in five feet of water.

Nall said he met Burgess in Anacortes last night and had gone for a ride with him, to consider buying the automobile. When the car was salvaged a partly-filled bottle of liquor was found.

Similar claims pending against the C.Z.M.M. aggregated in all about $250,000.

SCHOOL TEACHERS SAILING TO EAST ON YOKOHAMA SOON

Big Japanese Ship Will Have Third Class Accommodation Filled by Ladies

A large number of Seattle lady school teachers will sail June 24 aboard the Yokohama Maru from this port for the Far East, returning about the middle of September.

From Seattle the teachers will sail to this city, and will say a farewell to the land of the white race when the big ship steams out from this port. From that time onward they will be strangers in a strange land, for even aboard ship they will be amongst Japanese, eating Japanese fare and seeing Japanese life. Calling at various Japanese ports, the party will eventually reach Hongkong and there will make land journeys to various points of interest.

Tokio, Yokohama and other big Japanese cities are on the itinerary of the party. Short trips inland from Japanese seaports have been arranged.

MOTORSHIP DUE

The new motorship Asuka Maru is due to reach this port one day before the Yokohama sails. On June 23 the new liner arrives here. She is a sister ship of the Atago Maru, and is one of the most modern ships on the Pacific. Well equipped and complete in every detail for the comfort of passengers and the rapid handling of freight this vessel is almost a replica of the Atago, which visited this port a few weeks ago.

The Asuka Maru will carry one of the biggest general cargo consignments which has been brought to this port by any vessel for some time by a vessel of the N.Y.K.—The Yokohama, too, when she sails, will have a heavy cargo, and all space has been reserved for her return trip to the Orient from Seattle and Victoria.

GRANT BROUGHT STRANGE CARGO

Beetles Will be Used to Combat Insect Pests in U.S.

In addition to the cargo of silk which the President Grant brought from the Orient when it docked here Wednesday, the vessel carried one of the most unique consignments which has ever entered this port.

Four tons of Japanese beetles, consigned to horticulturists of New York and New Jersey to be liberated to combat destructive insects, were included in the Grant's cargo. The beetles were forwarded by parcel post, and constitute one of the largest individual shipments handled through the Seattle Post Office.

Officials of the United States Department of Agriculture co-operated in trans-shipping the insects.

ALLAN CRAWFORD MEMORIAL PLANNED

Death of Young Torontonian on Wrangel Island Discussed in Commons

Ottawa, June 12.—The ill-fated Wrangel Island expedition which involved the death of Allan Crawford, the twenty-year-old commander, was discussed in the House when Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, made a statement respecting the Government's association with the expedition. Premier King said the moment the Government's attention was drawn to the fact that a young Canadian's life was in danger in the north country, there was no hesitation in granting money for the relief expedition. Allan Crawford's parents in Toronto were convinced that Government had not neglected to act promptly.

Mr. King read a letter from Mrs. Crawford stating Mr. Stefansson had told her the first relief expedition had not reached Wrangel because the Government had delayed in granting the money and the ship had departed a month too late. This, however, said Mrs. Crawford in her letter, had been denied by Capt. Bernard in a signed statement.

TABLET SUGGESTED
Premier King said there was no doubt Allan Crawford had been actuated by the highest motives. He suggested the heroism of this man and his companions should be commemorated by the placing of a tablet or something of that nature at some suitable place.

Mr. Maighen joined in the tribute to a young man of exceptional ability, he said, because no man of but twenty years could have commanded such an expedition unless he had extraordinary ability.

Robert Forke, Progressive leader, supported the proposal of a memorial to Crawford.

BRITISH-ISRAEL CONVENTION

Rev. W. Pascoe Goard, F.R.G.T., will speak again this evening in Christ Church Memorial Hall at 8 o'clock. His subject will be "The Redemption, and the Atonement."

Liberia Called On to Put an End To Gun-running

Geneva, June 12.—A protest from Liberia against being put into the prohibited arms zone went unheeded by the Arms Traffic Conference here yesterday, but a proposal was approved automatically releasing Liberia from the forbidden zone when she adopts legislation calculated to prevent gun-running into neighboring African districts.

A second incident at the session was a violent protest from Persia against inclusion of the Persian Gulf and the Sea of Oman in the forbidden maritime zone. The Earl of Onslow announced that if the Persian Gulf were excluded it would be a grave act and endanger the whole convention as far as Great Britain was concerned.

The conference adopted the British view and the Persian Gulf remains in the barred zone.

Chicago Policeman Fatally Wounded

Chicago, June 12.—Edward Dean, a veteran policeman, yesterday defended receipts of the Chicago Motor Coach Company totalling $9,999 probably at the cost of his life.

Struck in the stomach by slugs from a sawed-off shotgun and wounded in the leg by a revolver bullet, Dean chased four masked robbers from the company's office and fired six shots at them before he fainted from his wounds.

In another fight with robbers, James Maynard, a patrolman, killed a negro burglar just as the latter was about to fire on Maynard's police partner in the hallway of a South Side building.

Change in Rotary Rules is Asked

Cleveland, Ohio, June 12.—A request to have the rules of the Rotary International amended so members will not be disqualified by changing their business or their address from one city to another will be presented to the board of directors at its meeting here preliminary to the annual convention, which is to open Monday next.

F. J. Rosborough, a former Rotarian, arrived here from Oakland, Cal., yesterday to submit the request as the unofficial representative of nearly 100,000 former members. The directors, headed by Everett W. Hull of Oklahoma City, held their first meeting yesterday.

INCOME TAX CHANGE

Ottawa, June 12.—Third reading was given in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon to the bill providing for repeal of Section 25 of the Income Tax Act, 1917, as amended last year, under which the Government had a special lien and enjoyed priority in respect of unpaid income taxes.

AID FOR STRIKERS

Ottawa, June 12.—More than $300 in cash, in addition to more than $2,000 in cash and large quantities of food and clothing sent by the Quebec unit, with the assistance of private contributions, has been forwarded to the striking Nova Scotia miners by the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada. It was announced here by Capt. Harry Colbourne. The Montreal unit sent $500, Halifax $135, and Winnipeg $100. South Vancouver sent $50, and Victoria and Ladysmith, B.C., $25 each.

$50,000 FIRE IN QUEBEC

Quebec, June 12.—Fire yesterday destroyed Building No. 3 of the Canadian National Railway Shops at St. Malo, causing damage estimated at $50,000, and a large yard of lumber and machinery and paints that were stored there were destroyed.

FANNIE HURST RENEWS HER MARRIAGE CONTRACT

Noted Writer and Husband Live in Separate Apartments and Have Breakfast by Appointment

Fannie Hurst and Jacques Danielson

New York, June 12.—Ten years of her unique marital experiment and Fannie Hurst, noted woman writer, happy and convinced of the efficacy of the arrangement which created so much discussion a few years ago.

Upon their recent tenth anniversary the "marriage contract" between Miss Hurst and her husband, Jacques Danielson, prominent in the world of music, was renewed for five years during which will be continued the plan for twin-homes, twin-careers, twin-personalities and twin-points, with an unwritten understanding of mutual fealty and affection.

Thus Miss Hurst maintains her beautifully tapestried studio in New York's residence section; Mr. Danielson maintains his studio in Carnegie Hall and the dice together, lunch together, spend holidays together, travel together—but by appointment.

All of the customary causes of domestic squabbles and breaches are eliminated automatically. Does Mr. Danielson wish to attend a tea or dance upon Wednesday evening or again upon Saturday there is none to say him nay.

"What my husband does when he is not with me is none of my concern," announces Miss Hurst, whose name remains unchanged in both private and public life. "I have never felt that I had any lien upon my husband's activities."

And, of course, this attitude is mutual. Does Miss Hurst care to entertain without having her husband present that is her privilege, and if she is invited to a dinner or party she is under no obligation to have him along. As it works out, however, they are most likely to be together, but this is entirely optional upon the part of either.

This procedure could not be prescribed for everybody, which Miss Hurst would be the first to concede. Quite plainly there is involved a mental attitude which but a few could adhere to.

Also Miss Hurst hastens to give assurance that "free love" in no manner figures in the arrangement. Rather it is "free marriage."

"Though the public may be reluctant to see it," she points out, "we are neither faddists nor exponents of free love. We are two people, with good intelligences, attempting to remove the ordinary and unnecessary restrictions of marriage and, instead, to adapt marriage to our particular requirements."

Thus, she points out, is retained complete affection and an opportunity of unhindered following out a chosen career.

But does not the germ of suspicion ever enter?

"My husband has my implicit trust, and I know he trusts me."

She feels that locked gates offer a greater temptation to escape than open ones.

Both Miss Hurst and her husband have carefully watched the married life of friends and acquaintances and have concluded that there are unnatural restrictions and invasions of individual privileges, humdrum monotony, boredom, mediocrity in the everyday marital relationship.

Let the average married woman try to get a thrill of anticipation at the idea of lurching with her husband! Well, Miss Hurst does just that. And this after ten years of marriage.

Mix it Fresh for Every Meal

Have you these RECIPES?

ECONOMICAL MAYONNAISE

Take 4 tablespoonfuls olive oil, 4 tablespoonfuls fresh cream, 2 tablespoonfuls vinegar, 1 teaspoonful Colman's D.S.F. Mustard, sufficient salt and pepper to suit taste. Mix and beat quickly, the mixture will whiten in a few minutes, having the appearance of fine whipped cream, and the fineness of the best mayonnaise, besides having the advantage of requiring no eggs, never coagulating and being easily and quickly made.

HAM, TONGUE OR CHICKEN SANDWICHES

1 cup very finely chopped cold ham, tongue or chicken, 1/4 teaspoonful Colman's D.S.F. Mustard, 1 dessert-spoonful melted butter. Some onion juice, if agreeable, a little red tomato catsup, celery, salt, pepper to taste. Spread this on buttered slices of bread.

That's the only way to get the full flavour, and what is more important, the full benefit of mustard. Mix a little fresh for every meal—and mix it right!—use only cold water.

It is cold water alone that brings out the essential oils that make dry mustard one of the finest of all appetizers and one of the best of all aids to digestion.

COLMAN'S MUSTARD mixed fresh with cold water at each meal, adds savour and zest to every food with which it is used—makes the dish infinitely more appetizing.

Moreover, mustard stimulates the action of the salivary glands and promotes the flow of the gastric juices in the stomach, thus ensuring quick and easy digestion.

Serve COLMAN'S MUSTARD with every meal. Mix it fresh, and remember—cold water only and always.

FOUR THOUSAND AT MOOSE CONVENTION

Victoria Delegate Invites Members to Crystal Carnival

The recent convention of the Northwest Moose Association held at Spokane, Wash., June 4-5-6, was a huge success with an attendance of close upon 4,000 from lodges in British Columbia, Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

FIFTY LODGES

Lodges to the number of fifty were represented, the delegates numbering 240 and several officials of the supreme body on their way to the supreme convention at Baltimore were on hand and took part in the deliberations.

The opening session, which was a combined gathering of the Northwest Moose Association and the Women of Mooseheart Legion was held in the auditorium, the rest of the sessions being held in the Moose Temple, one of the finest in the Northwest.

Ritualistic competitions and a monster banquet took place in the five-million dollar Davenport Hotel, while the Legion Frolic, distribution of prizes and a farewell dance were staged in the state armories.

COMPETITION

Competitions were held for valuable cups by the bands, drum corps, drill teams, and marching clubs and a beauty contest won by Mrs. Goyle Ream of Seattle Chapter, Women of Mooseheart Legion was an outstanding feature.

The parade was held on Saturday afternoon through the principal streets of the city and many thousands of spectators viewed the splendid array and cheered to the echo.

TO MEET IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, B.C. was chosen as the convention city for 1926, the delegates evidently inspired by their visit to Victoria two years ago, staged a near riot in their endeavors to second the nomination, which was made unanimous.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were J. C. Bevens of Seattle, President; A. W. Jones of Portland first vice, E. O. Shepherd of Vancouver, B.C., second vice, Norton Wynn of Chehalis, Wash; third vice, with J. P. Pearce of Victoria B.C., re-elected by a large majority.

About twenty-five members of Victoria Lodge No. 1390 and Victoria Chapter, No. 25, Women of Mooseheart Legion, took part in the proceedings.

Dr. Clem Davies, who was a delegate, extended a special invitation to visit Victoria during the Crystal Garden Carnival.

BEDTIME STORY

Uncle Wiggily and the Water Lily

Copyright, 1925, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

(By Howard R. Garis)

Deep down in the black and slimy mud of the pond, where Bully and Bawley No. 2, the frog boys, played tag, grew a beautiful water lily with petals as white as snow, with a centre of golden yellow and with a sweet, spicy perfume like a gentle wind blowing over a grove of orange trees.

Now perhaps you think it strange for a beautiful white lily to grow in black, slimy mud, but I mean to say that only the roots of the flower were in the mud. From the roots grew up a long green stem, like a rubber pipe, and on the upper end of this stem there spread out, flat on the surface of the pond, the big, green lily pads, or leaves. And on part of this stem, between the green leaves, grew the beautiful white lily.

But soon after the bud of the lily formed and it began to blossom out into a flower, a mass of grass and sticks were blown by the wind across the pond, like a raft, and came to rest on top of the lily bulb. Feeling this raft of old sticks on her head, the lily bulb cried:

"Oh, how can I ever blossom out into a big flower with this weight on me? I shall be held down and stunted. Oh, if I could only get rid of the sticks and grass!" But, try as the lily did, she could not move the stuff and she was kept from blossoming forth.

One day Uncle Wiggily hopped past the frog pond. The bunny gentleman saw the raft of sticks on the lily blossom and, getting into a canoe he made from some of the broad, green leaves, the rabbit paddled with a stick out to the blossom. With his stick paddle he cleared an open place in the water around the flower.

"Oh, how the sun will shine on me, and I can spread out my white petals!" sang the water lily. "Thank you, Uncle Wiggily. It was a great favor you did me, and I hope I may do you a favor some day!"

"Fray! do not mention it!" spoke the bunny gentleman politely, as he bowed his pink, twinkling nose. Then he rowed his lily leaf boat to shore.

Well, the water lily continued to grow. Larger and larger it spread out, until she was a great flower that had ever grown in that pond.

Bully and Bawley No. 2, the frog boys, playing water polo near the blossom one day, croaked out:

"How did you grow so big?"

"Because Uncle Wiggily was kind to me," answered the flower. "He moved the raft of sticks off me so the sun could shine on me. But I have not seen the rabbit gentleman in many weeks. Please tell him to come out and look at me, for he helped me to grow."

So Bully and Bawley carried the flower's message to Mr. Longears, and he gave another twinkle to his pink nose and said:

"Yes, I will once more get into the lily leaf boat and row out to see my friend, the blossom." But as Uncle Wiggily rowed across the pond the Skillery Scallery Alligator, who had been down to Florida for the winter, happened to come by the flower. The bunny starting across the pond, the Gator opened his mouth in a wide smile and whispered:

"I'll swim under water until I get beneath his lily boat and then I will bob up, turn him over so he falls into the water and in that way I'll nibble his ears!"

Uncle Wiggily reached the beautiful lily flower, now almost as large as a wash tub, lying on the surface of the pond. He was telling the blossom how glad he was she had grown so large when the alligator came by.

"Quick, Uncle Wiggily! Jump out of your boat and right into the centre of my petals. The Alligator is under the water trying to tip over your boat and get you!"

Quickly the bunny jumped, and when he was in the middle of the lily the flower closed her white petals and her outer green leaves over him, shutting the rabbit up inside her perfumed bud, until not even the tip of his tail could be seen. Up bobbed the Gator. He looked all around, but he could not see Uncle Wiggily, who was safely hidden in the closed lily bud.

"Ho Hum!" bellowed the Gator.

THE BULL'S TURN.—Not always does the bull politely come to the matador to be killed with a quick thrust to the heart. Sometimes he catches his opponent off guard as in this picture from Madrid, and the matador is caught in the horns of the bull.

CANDIDATE NAMED

Edmonton, June 12.—At a Liberal nominating convention for the provincial constituency of Alexander held at Kitscoty yesterday afternoon

"Uncle Wiggily was here, for I see his boat. But I guess he fooled me and jumped to shore. I can't get him this time!" Then the Gator swam back to his den, and the lily opened its petals so the bunny could come out and row safely to shore, which he did, after thanking the blossom.

So it all happened for the best, you see, and if the bath room rug doesn't slide down into the parlor and splash water on the piano I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the girl bird.

DADDIES INTERVIEWS AN AVERAGE CITIZEN

NO. 2

I was lurching at a down-town cafe yesterday, and was about midway through my meal when a stranger entered the restaurant.

From his appearance I judged him to be a Victorian. I was all primed up to "pump" just such an average citizen on his views regarding the Carnival in general.

As he seated himself opposite to me I nodded. He acknowledged the salutation. But I waited until he had his mouth full of fish before I opened up.

"Are you interested in the forthcoming Crystal Garden Carnival?" I asked.

He looked up at me with fork in mid air. "Why, sure," he replied. "who isn't? It ought to be a great thing for Victoria."

I assented. "May I ask," I continued, "in what way you think it will benefit us?"

He looked thoughtful. "Well," he said, "the benefit with it should draw a whole flock of visitors to the city when Victoria looks its best, and climatic conditions are at their finest. They will probably be induced to stay over several days if the entertainment is good, and naturally during their stay they will be bound to spend money in the city. I personally, shall benefit. We all shall. Further, if the Carnival is as attractive as the present plans of the Carnival management would seem to indicate and, as I understand it, the Carnival will undoubtedly give a wonderful amount of publicity to the outside world of the inherent wealth of Victoria and its environments. Incidentally we will ourselves gain a great deal of real entertainment from it—have a good time generally."

"My fellow luncher had evidently given the underlying reasons for the Carnival a great deal of thought. Yet, in common with a large number of Victorians he had apparently neglected to consider its most important aspect, the fact that the Carnival could only be the success desired if every member of the community got behind it and worked hard. He regarded the scheme impersonally, as a species of vast entertainment to be provided by a few for the delectation of the remaining many members of the community. He approved of it because in addition he would be the gainer by it. He did not realize that primarily it was to be a show staged by the citizens of Victoria of which he was one, in which it was necessary for every single individual to provide for the entertainment of its visiting thousands."

I pointed this out to him.

"I have full confidence in the Carnival management," he replied.

"Such confidence is of course unnecessary," I responded, "but it is not sufficient. You and I and every solitary resident of Victoria have got to work, and work hard to put the Carnival over."

"I realize that in a way," he answered thoughtfully, "but how can I assist, in a practical way?"

"You can assist in a dozen practical ways. You can start talking about it to your friends, your customers. Learn all about it. Read about it in the press. Make suggestions. In writing to your friends outside the city make mention of it. You can enter a float or car or otherwise participate in the monster parade. You can buy and sell the Queen contest coupons, and thus assist the committee to finance the entertainments, which will be non-revenue producing. And above all you can help arouse the community spirit."

"My friend rose from the table. "I'm glad," he said, "that I had this chat with you. It has broadened my views on the question of the Carnival. But—may I inquire, how you yourself intend to help?"

"Certainly," I answered, "for one thing I shall publish our discussion verbatim in the press to-morrow."

"That's—just—just—the publicity end of it, eh?" he queried.

"Correct!" I said as I shook hands with him, "and my name is Daddies."

Irish Discussion Divorce Question

Dublin, June 12.—The Irish Free State Senate yesterday discussed the question of divorce.

Senator William Butler Yeats, the poet, in an impassioned speech against the Free State Government's refusal to provide means for disolving the marriage tie, said he objected to Ireland's taking her marriage law from Spain.

Separation without the possibility of remarriage, Mr. Yeats continued, lowered morality.

John Bagwell, who is manager of the Great Northern Railway, asserted facilities had existed for the Irish people to obtain divorce from the British Parliament and refusal by the Dail Senate to provide similar facilities would be regarded as an act of tyranny.

True pleasure and perfect freedom are nowhere to be found but in the practice of virtue.

Last Minute News on Stocks and Financial Affairs

New York, June 12 (By R. P. Clark and Co., Ltd.)—To-day's stock market was encouraging to those with confidence. Early demonstrations of strength in the oil group featured. The action of this group showed that recent selling pressure ascribed to foreigners had spent its force. There was some bullish demonstration in the oil industry again featured the news, lower production in Smackover influenced prices materially. The preliminary reports of rail traffic for June so far are of a very constructive order, which we expect to see further reflected in stock prices at any time.

New York, June 12 (By B.C. Bond Corporation's Direct Wall Street Wire)—The Wall Street market today showed indications that the market had been sold to a standstill on the professional drives earlier in the week. It became increasingly prominent in today's session. Traders with short positions in active industries were forced to cancel their contracts at rising prices in the absence of liquidation they had hoped to diagnose.

Although the recent prominence of the oil was considerably diminished, there was some activity and new highs on the movement were reached by General Petroleum, Standard Oil, New Jersey, Marland, Skelly, Phillips, Pacific Oil and other representatives.

Rails scored good recoveries from their recent lows, and speculation was directed into the copper group on an active scale for the first time in several weeks. With American Smelting, Anaconda and Kennecott in greatest favor.

Expansion of nearly $20,000,000 in bills rediscounted by the Federal Reserve, was not unexpected. There had been evidence during the past week that the local banks were being furnished with a low of 10 1/2 in the previous session.

General Railway Signal, which made its initial bow on the stock exchange at 144 on Thursday, opened at 152 and immediately jumped to 158. This company's current earnings are estimated at an annual rate of $24 a share.

Vigorous advances went ahead among the oils and the rails in the late morning. Petroleum stocks received further stimulation from another substantial falling off in Smackover production which dropped to 281,871 barrels in the twenty-four hours ending 7 o'clock this morning, against 280,000 on June 10, and 320,000 May 25. American Republics scored a sensational advance. This company's earnings in the first three months of the year are estimated at an annual rate of $24 a share.

TIMES CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Here are practically four little puzzles in one. They join at the corners and at the centre. This should make the puzzle so much easier to solve. Just take one at a time.

HOW TO SOLVE THE CROSS-WORD PUZZLE

Every number in the form represents the beginning of a word, reading either horizontally or vertically. If there is a black square to the left of the number, the word is horizontal; if above it, the word is vertical. The same number may of course begin both a horizontal and a vertical. The definitions for the correct words are given below, with numbers corresponding to those on the form. Run through the definitions till you find one that you recognize, and put it in its proper place on the form, one letter for each white square. This will furnish several cross-clues to the words linking with it at right angles. Continue in this manner till the form is completely filled. If you have solved the puzzle correctly it should read both horizontally and vertically with words corresponding to the definitions. The correct solution of to-day's puzzle will be printed in the next issue of The Times.

"The Steadfast Heart"

By Clarence Budington Kelland

They turned in at the printing office, and through the partition Craig could hear Wilkins's voice droning querulously—now and again rising sharp and thin. "Take it off, can't you? What you want to go sticking that type in my head for? Right there. Lines and lines of. . . . You did it—and Angus didn't stop you. He wasn't there. He. . . . Dave lay, propped against a stone, twisting and writhing and struggling in delirium, his head pillowed on the greasy overalls of Jake Schwartz. Doc Knipe knelt by his side striving to force a sedative between his lips—a fantastic figure of a physician in his customary warm weather costume of shirt-sleeves and a high silk hat. "Typhoid," he snapped. "Should 'a been in bed a week ago, the dum fool. . . . Now he's in for it. Here, you, hang onto him while I fix something to quiet him." Doc Knipe prepared his hypodermic. "Jerk up his sleeve," he rasped. "There, guess that'll keep still a bit. Now what're we goin' to do with him? Can't lay here on the floor a couple of months?" The doctor's tone was, as always, belligerent. He seemed to take illness as a personal affront. "He's goin' to need nussin' and care, but where 'n tucket he's goin' to get it, I don't know. A man that ain't got gumption enough to get married ain't got any business to get sick." From choice, perhaps from policy, the doctor spoke the language of his people.

Craig thought of the little room upstairs, dark, uncomfortable, a poor place to be well in and a fatal place to be sick in. "Mary'd do it," he said to himself, and it was in no effort to persuade himself of the fact that he spoke, but with real belief and confidence. "Doc, can he ride in a carriage as far as my house?" "Kin if he has to. Take him here, then. Mary would want me to send him."

Mary's foot stepped the doctor. "This ain't mumps. It's typhoid—typhoid—and there's months ahead of him. Don't go bitin' off more'n you kin chew."

"Dave's got to be saved."

"That's their customary though to balance a man's life against ten weeks of discomfort for somebody else."

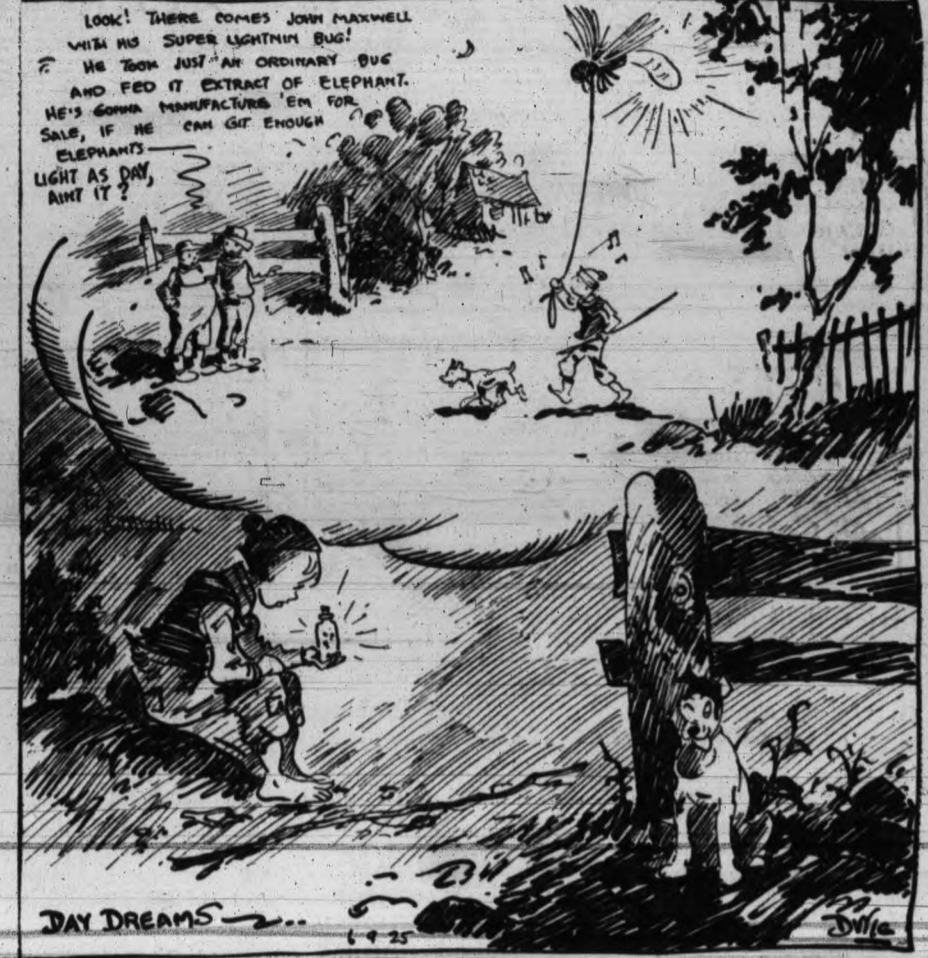

"Get a carriage, Bishwhang," directed Craig, and there the matter ended. Wilkins, burning with fever, twitching, tossing, muttering, was taken to Mary Browning, and Doc Knipe snorted when she said to Craig, "Of course you did right," and went about her arrangements for the sick man calmly, practically, without the least pretense of fuss or flurry or of doing an unusual thing. "Hurry nurse," cried Lydia Canfield. "I'll nurse Uncle Dave."

"You," said Doc Knipe in his most intolerant manner, "will wind your business and do as you're told."

Lydia stood for a moment, her arms stiff and straight at her sides, her hands gripped so that the knuckles showed white, and glared at the doctor's uncomely back. She had a temper, that young woman, and something of an estimate of her importance in the world. She looked like a furious fairy. Then, quivering with the fury of outraged dignity, she rushed out of the room and down the stairs. On a chair in the hall rested the doctor's high silk hat—it personalized him. To Lydia it was a part of him, to be hurt, humiliated, as he had humiliated her. The sight of it was a crooked finger on the trigger of her temper and she smote it with her palm so that it rolled and bounced across the floor. Vindictively she followed it and crushed it into shapelessness with her foot. . . .

Still at white heat she passed out of the house and marched up the street, cheeks blazing, chin aloft, and passed at intervals without recognizing them, no less than three intimate acquaintances.

SCHOOL DAYS By DWIG

Bishwhang and Jake Schwartz had been left standing on the sidewalk in front of the printing office watching the carriage disappear. They remained as they stood until the sound of its wheels could no longer be heard. It was as though they were manikins from which the springs had been removed, and this was, in a measure true, for Dave Wilkins was the mainspring of each of them.

"He's goin' to die," Bishwhang said chokingly.

"Shet up. . . . Hain't goin' to nuther."

Then, moved by a common impulse, they followed in the wake of the carriage.

"He never knowed me," said Bishwhang. "He never even knowed who I was."

"He was out of his head," said Jake.

"Do folks die of it?"

"Folks die of anythin' they set their minds to."

They walked to the house where Dave lay, passed it, turned again like sentinels and continued to trudge to and fro, waiting, waiting.

"Mebby they'll need us," said Bishwhang, uttering their common thought, so they held themselves near and ready.

When Lydia emerged after her encounter with the doctor's hat they followed her eagerly, but she went too swiftly for them, and they resumed their pacing for upwards of an hour when Doctor Knipe, holding ruefully in his hands the remains of his headgear, emerged. Bishwhang and Jake waylaid him at the step of his carriage.

"Look at that," he snorted. "Smashed. . . . Good's new, too. Hain't owned it more'n ten-twelve year. . . . He seemed suddenly to realize that he was talking to someone, and jerking back his head with an odd, intolerant gesture, he snapped out, "Well what do you want?"

"How is he?" asked Bishwhang.

"Doggone sick. . . . Likely to be sicker."

"He—he's been poorly quite a spell."

The doctor glared at Bishwhang. "I should say he had been poorly. Some folks never call a doctor till there hain't work for anybody but an undertaker—and I ain't such damned bad company, neither." With that he climbed into the buggy, snatched the reins from the crotch between whipocket and dash and clucked to his horse.

"Alive yit, hain't he? Anybody's got a chance till he's dead. . . . Who's goin' to get out the paper while he's laid up? You two?" Doctor Knipe emitted a crackling syllable of laughter so dry one would not have been surprised to see a cloud of dust arising from his throat. "G'dap!" He shook the reins over his horse's back and jogged away, bare-headed, coolless, a spectacle of professional dignity which would have shocked another community—but, withal, the best loved, most implicitly trusted individual in that county.

Bishwhang and Jake resumed their stony gait.

"Who is goin' to get out the dum sheet?" Jake asked testily.

"I dunno," said Bishwhang. "You'n me kin stick type, but we can't write no stuff. Now who 'n hell—"

"It's got to be got out. There'll be doctor's bills and med'cine and such—and leave, he hain't got nothin' else."

"Huh," Jake snorted, "kin you imagine me settin' down to write up the Methodist ice cream festival? . . . Here's that Canfield gal comin' back," said Bishwhang, and there was Lydia, the keen edge of her temper dulled by a long walk.

"Evenin'," said Jake. "We was waitin' for news about Dave."

"Why don't you go in and ask?"

"We—we didn't want to make no bother," Bishwhang stammered, "but—if you kin tell 'em—Jake and me—if we kin do anythin', or anythin' we'd admire to be told."

New York Times Discusses Claims To Arctic Islands

New York, June 12.—Editorially, The New York Times returns to discussion of Canadian claims to certain Polar territories, stating that Stewart, Canadian Minister of the Interior, in making his longitudes, claims too much, as longitude sixty cuts through West Greenland, thus depriving Denmark of considerable soil.

It continues: "Longitude 142 runs through Beaufort Sea north of the Yukon-Alaska boundary and in that expanse there is land not yet reported. Mr. Stewart presumes the United States would claim any lands discovered north of Alaska, but what if Capt. Amundsen returns to assert title for Norway to lands he had found in the 'unexplored region' on the map of John Bartholomew and Son."

The Times draws attention to expeditions other than British or Canadian which discovered and explored parts of that territory and concludes that "apparently a court of inquiry would have to determine title by 'right of discovery' to some of the islands between longitudes 60 and 142 claimed by the Canadian Minister of the Interior."

U.S. Rubber Makers Plan to Break British Monopoly

Akron, Ohio, June 12.—Definite steps to break the British monopoly on crude rubber, which has resulted in boosting the price of tires, was taken yesterday by the Rubber Association of America, Inc.

Action looking toward immediate temporary relief was included in the programme agreed upon and the foundation for permanent relief was laid.

Standardization of an rubber products, particularly balloon tire sizes, postponing taking Spring dating as temporary relief measures and investment of American capital with Dutch rubber growers as a permanent relief is the general plan.

The decision of the association to foster a campaign for increased rubber production on the island of Java and other Dutch possessions followed refusal of the British to rescind or modify the Stevenson restriction act which is blamed for forcing the price of rubber from 17 to 78 cents a pound within a year.

German Officials Issue Text of Proposal Allies Are Answering

Berlin, June 12.—The German Foreign Office last night published the official text of its memorandum of February 9 proposing a security pact which has been the subject of discussion during the past weeks. The official memorandum says the suggestion of a pact was not in the nature of an unexpected demarche on the part of Germany, but a logical sequel to the truce proposal launched by the Cuno Government in December, 1922, and subsequently renewed during the occupation of the Ruhr district.

In addition to suggesting the United States as custodian or trustee of such a pact, the German proposal also provided for the consummation of arbitration treaties. It specifically provided for recognition of the present Rhineland political frontier.

Ministers Give Promise to Finance Minister Pruning Will be Done

Caillaux Says Action Must be Taken to Retain World's Confidence

Paris, June 12.—Finance Minister Caillaux today urged a policy of economy in France at a meeting of the Cabinet.

The Minister promised him they would trim expenses to the utmost. M. Caillaux declared France must live within her income and must get that income by taxation if she expected the world to have confidence in French finance.

He gave out an extract from a letter he had sent Cabinet Ministers in which he told them he could not accept their estimates of expenditure for their departments for next year, that he would reduce all their budget increases to one-third of the requested amount, and would have his own staff revise the estimates he regarded as excessive.

The Minister having completed the outline of his fiscal reform bill before the finance committee of the Chamber of Deputies, announcement of the attitude of the Socialists in the forthcoming debate is awaited with keen interest. Much hinges upon their decision, as they form one of the principal groups in the Left cartel, upon whose votes in the Chamber the Government depends for its majority. The Matin says it understands the Socialists are divided.

EXPERT GIVES RULES OF SELF-PROTECTION IN THUNDERSTORMS

Milton, Mass., June 12.—About this season, as the old almanacs used to say, expect thunder storms. Inevitably they bring danger to human life, but the hazard can be diminished considerably if the advice of men who have made a thorough study of the electrical discharges of the atmosphere is followed.

One of these experts is Alexander G. MacAdie, director of the Blue Hill Observatory and professor of meteorology at Harvard University. In the little building on the wind-swept summit of Blue Hill, the highest point in eastern Massachusetts and in the midst of the Blue Hill Forest Reservation, he has spent many years in watching and analyzing the action of the elements. He has made a special study of thunder storms and some time ago he formulated a set of suggestions to help people take care of themselves during such disturbances. Since that time, he says, experience has borne out the value of these suggestions and science has not developed any new means of safeguarding a person against lightning discharges.

UNDER COVER
Get under cover, is his first rule. If you can't do that, lie down. About ten lightning flashes in 100 come down to earth in a straight line and the person who stands out in the open when such flashes are seen invites trouble. But getting under cover—doesn't mean seeking shelter beneath a tree, because that will bring a person in the direct line of discharge and Professor MacAdie says more people are killed by lightning in this way than probably any other. The doorway of a barn or a window near a chimney also are dangerous places to stand, because lightning follows to some extent any draft of air, especially warm air. When the flashes are heavy or numerous one should keep away from chimneys, trees, flagpoles or metal clotheslines, and cut out his radio.

One is safer indoors than out. The probability of a person in an ordinary residence building being struck, says Professor MacAdie, is very light, and dwelling houses in city blocks are virtually safe. He defends the lightning rod, once so popular but now largely fallen into disuse, asserting that if a house is provided with good lightning rods there is little to fear.

STAND ON GLASS
Going to bed doesn't do any particular good, but standing on glass, rubber, a woolen blanket or any other good insulator will give a person a little more security. The observatory director advises passengers in trolley cars to "sit still" if lightning comes in and burns the fuses because with the roar and blinding flash the danger is over. He urges that every effort be made to resuscitate a person struck by lightning. It seldom kills outright, usually stunning the victim in such a way that artificial respiration will restore him to consciousness.

For the protection of livestock, which often are killed by lightning while in pasture, he warns against tying them near a wire fence.

Colonial Secretary Now Becomes Secretary of State For Dominion Affairs

Premier Baldwin Says Work of Department Has Steadily Increased

London, June 12 (Canadian Press Cable).—In connection with the announcement in the House of Commons yesterday of the proposal to create the office of Secretary of State for Dominion Affairs and that of Under-Secretary of State for the Dominions, Premier Baldwin declared the officers would be part of the Government's proposed reorganization of the Colonial Office. The Premier stated the new parliamentary under-secretary would also be chairman of the Overseas Settlement Department, and there would also be a permanent under-secretary. For convenience the new secretaryship would continue to be vested in Right Hon. L. C. Amery, Secretary for the Colonies.

Premier Baldwin stated the existing organization was inadequate to cope with the extent and variety of work thrown upon it, falling short more particularly in distinguishing between work of consultation and co-operation with the Dominions and the administrative work of the protectorates.

Replying to Ramsay MacDonald as to whether the Dominions had agreed to the change, the Premier said the Government had been communicating with them throughout.

NEW PROPAGANDA IN BRITAIN OPPOSED

Canadian Immigration Department Attracting Right Class of Settlers

Robb Scores Those Who Belittle Opportunities in the Dominion

Ottawa, June 12 (Canadian Press)—"Canada has received a great deal of free advertising from whispers of death and lamentations of Jeremiahs out of office," said Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Immigration, last night when explaining to the House of Commons some of the difficulties met by his department in obtaining the right class of immigrants for Canada. It was a good thing to criticize the Government, Mr. Robb said, but criticism should stop short of running down the country. He stated there was propaganda against Canada in Britain which the department was doing its utmost to counteract.

The vote under consideration was one of $1,250,000 for immigration contingencies and general expenses. When it came up for consideration a motion for a reduction of $70,000 in the estimate was made by Hon. Ernest Lapointe. Mr. Robb explained the decrease was the result of a reduction in the number of temporary employees.

OTHERS OPTIMISTIC
Mr. Robb admitted that while other Dominions appeared to get more favorable publicity in the British press, it was also notable that the citizens of the other Dominions stood up consistently for their own country. PLASTERERS' UNION THREATENS STRIKE

$100,000,000 of Construction in United States and Canada Now Menaced

New York, June 12.—The second strike of union plasterers in as many months because of interunion strife is threatening a slump of $100,000,000 in building construction throughout the continent. Coincident with reports from Toronto of a boiling-over labor pot, walkouts occurred in New York, Chicago, Detroit and Washington.

The United States Department of Labor has failed to bring the warring factions together in this country and leading contractors now announce their intention of appealing to President Coolidge.

Edward J. McQuiver, president of the Plasterers' International Union, said he had called the strike because of the refusal of contractors to sign an agreement excluding bricklayers from sharing jurisdiction on plastering jobs.
