This flight was a direct support wission under the direction of a Communior Air Support Control Unit, who designated as the first target, gum positions located on the side of a ridge in the southwestern section of Senaga Shinn, an island just off the coast at Mahn. According to CASCU, the enemy used the caves located on this ridge to conceal their gums, which they relied out of the caves, fired, and then relied back in. In runs beginning at 5000' - 5500', all books were dropped on this target at 2500', but exact damage caused could not be observed. The next target also consisted of a group of caves on southern Chinema. Here, all reckets were fired in 30' dives and at a slant range of 1500 yards. Because of the very nature of the target, damage could not be observed.

No energy A/A was encountered.
