

PERFORMS THE WORKS

SCIENTISTS CONFORM THEIR LIVES TO THAT OF MASTER AND THE SIGNS FOLLOW

Editor News: In the fourteenth chapter of John it is recorded that Jesus said, "He that believeth on me the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do," thereby establishing for all time the test of a Christian whom Webster defines as "one who believes, or professes or is assumed to believe, in Jesus Christ, and the truth as taught by him." Again in the gospel of Mark, Jesus said some very pointed things about preaching the gospel and the signs that should "follow them that believe."

Now, Christian Scientists are proving day by day that these promises of the Master are not only true, but capable of fulfillment in this present day, but Evangelist Brown takes exception to this possibility, according to his remarks quoted in Wednesday evening's News, by stating that Christian Science was "born of the sign craze and fed by the dupes of fanatism and so-called scientific demonstration."

If the promises of Jesus are true, they must be demonstrably true, and therefore applicable to the solution of whatever problems present themselves to God's children throughout all time. If only a portion of the promises are true, something differing from the forms of theology have been trying to prove for some nineteen centuries, it is evidently difficult to establish the line of demarcation, and humanity is at last accepting very rapidly the first proposition and just as rapidly gaining its freedom.

Christian Scientists are striving to conform their lives to that of our Master, and even at the risk of being the "dupes of fanatism," are, to the extent of their understanding, performing the works he said his followers should do.

I thank you for giving space to this communication and remain sincerely yours,

CHAS. E. JARVIS,
Committee on Publication.

TROPICO WILL ENUMERATE HER POPULATION—GLENDALE MAY DO LIKEWISE

The Tropico board of trustees, through their president, D. Webster, have contracted with Fred Wilkinson, who is getting out the new city and business directory of Tropico, Glendale and Casa Verdugo, to take an enumeration of her population, in connection with his work, and his report will appear in the new directory. We understand that Mr. Wilkinson has made a similar proposition to the Glendale board of trustees, and we trust that it will meet with favorable consideration.

Other rapidly growing cities near us are having a census taken this spring, and such a report will be both interesting and valuable, coming as it does midway between the dates of the government census.

EFFICIENCY OF HOME TELEPHONE COMPANY

The efficiency of the Home Telephone company is recognized by all of its patrons. Since the Glendale Consolidated Water company has been taken over by the city, Arthur Campbell, who had been superintendent both of the water plant and of the San Fernando Valley Home Telephone company, is now required to devote his time exclusively to the superintendency of the Glendale telephone exchange. One of Mr. Campbell's characteristics is attention to details. His courtesy to all patrons and his carefulness in overcoming any defects in the service and promptness in looking after new phones are invaluable qualifications and beginning to be more and more appreciated by the public.

This is an age when nothing but the best in telephone service will be tolerated, and the rapidly increasing list of patrons of the Home company in the valley is the only recommendation needed as to the efficiency of the company.

WE WANT THE NEWS

A daily newspaper aids in building up a community just to the extent it receives the patronage of the people of the city in which it is published. Judging from the loyal support the people of Glendale and vicinity are giving the Evening News, they are interested in building up their home community. The citizens of this section of the San Fernando valley are not only subscribing for the Evening News, but they are also handing in or telephoning to the office accounts of happenings that play an important part in building up a clean, newsy sheet.

KEEP UP TO THE TIMES

THE NEWS AND THE NEWSPAPER—GOOD READING AS NECESSARY AS EDUCATION

We must eat, we must drink, we must sleep, if we would exist. We must do something besides eating, drinking and sleeping if we would live. There is a great big difference between merely existing and living. The tadpole exists, but he does not live in any high sense. Man must do more than exist if he would lift himself above the animal state.

It is difficult to designate, so as to be universally acceptable, the things which are of fundamental importance, beyond those which have to do only with existence. There is much which affects us intellectually and morally, but above most of it, and running close to education itself, is a knowledge of what is happening, as well as of what has happened.

All the book learning in the world and all the academic education possible for one to absorb, are of little value unless supplemented by a familiarity with what is going on, not only what is taking place directly about us, but the great movements of the times.

History deals with the past. Newspapers deal with the present.

History furnishes the foundation. Newspapers keep us up to the times.

I consider the habitual reading of a good newspaper as necessary as is education itself, and second only to those things without which we could not breathe and have our being.

I have no sympathy with those who condemn the newspapers because they occasionally—some of them frequently—misrepresent or refuse to confine themselves to facts.

The newspaper is not perfect, and it will not be until its readers have reached that state.

The publisher of the newspaper, as he runs, is as honest as is the average business man; and more so, I think; because his position gives him better opportunity to realize his responsibility to his constituency.

The editor, of course, has the average human faults, but he is a man of more than common integrity; and, intellectually, he ranks above the majority of his fellows. He makes mistakes. So does everybody else. He may overemphasize his news and occasionally allow bias to enter his editorials; but, take him as a whole, he is reliable, trustworthy and a man of integrity.

Notwithstanding the mistakes the newspapers make, the bulk of the news is reliable or is as true as human endeavor can make it.

I would, if I could, introduce the newspaper into the public schools, and employ specialists to teach the proper reading of it. It should be a part of the curriculum of every school above the lower grades.

The news, I believe, is an essential part of education. Without news we should return to the age of feudalism, and each set of people would be ignorant of the affairs of others, except of those within their immediate environment.

To condemn the newspapers because some of them are unreliable is as foolish as to refuse to eat bread because some flour is sour.

The news of the world is gathered with care. Most of it is written honestly by men who are capable of discrimination and who practice it.

Read the newspaper, young man, and young woman, too. If you do not, you cannot consider yourself educated.—Nathaniel C. Fowler, Jr.

BIG SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

There will be a big Brown and Curry Sunday school rally at the tabernacle, Maryland and Third street, tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

The separate Sunday schools will assemble at their respective meeting houses at 9:30 o'clock for the marking of records, etc., and will later march in their several groups to the tabernacle in good time for the opening of the big rally promptly at 10 o'clock.

HAWKEYES' RENDEZVOUS

MISS KENT HOSTESS

Friday evening the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Kent on Arden avenue was the scene of a merry party when Miss Evelyn Kent entertained informally a number of her Glendale friends and a few of her college friends from Occidental.

ROUSING TIME TONIGHT

A GENUINE DOWN-SOUTH, SUNSHINE CAMP MEETING IS NOW DUE

(By Publicity Com.)

Evangelist Brown's series on the Holy Spirit, now being delivered at the tabernacle, afternoons, has made a profound impression, especially among Bible students, and the helpfulness of these lectures to all who have been privileged to hear them is impossible to estimate.

At the afternoon session Friday, Bro. Soper of the Casa Verdugo M. E. church led in prayer with great spiritual fervor.

The general outline of Brother Brown's address is best displayed in three questions: What is the Holy Spirit's exact relationship to the believer? Why is the Holy Spirit given to the believer? What is the Holy Spirit's work in the life of the believer?

John 14:16-17 was quoted as an opening passage to the discussion.

In answering the first question it was clearly shown that the Holy Spirit is conceived to be not only with "us," but actually "in" us. "He shall be in you," not simply an external helper; he is the indwelling one.

Next in order it was seen that the Holy Spirit is not given for selfish purposes. Many ask for the blessing for the purpose of consuming the gifts on their lusts, that is, selfish desires. John 16:13-14 states the real purpose of the mission of the Holy Spirit: "He shall not speak of himself." The love, joy and peace, etc., shed abroad in our hearts are incidental to the one grand purpose of the exaltation of Jesus Christ.

Here the speaker dealt with some of the lost doctrines of the church, for there are "lost doctrines as well as lost arts." The doctrines of our Lord's return, the healing of the body and the spirit filled life, these vital teachings of the New Testament, have been stabled in the house of their ostensible friends. Fanatical movements make a hobby of the important teachings and ride them to destruction and bad repute.

To exalt Christ Jesus high over all is the balance wheel of our holy religion. "He shall glorify me."

The third and last question opened the discussion of the work of the Holy Spirit in the life of the individual. The familiar Gal. 5:22-23 was quoted. Each feature of the fruit of the spirit was dealt with in order. Fruit is here singular and to have the spirit is to have every virtue mentioned in the list.

In this meager and unsatisfactory report it is impossible even to begin to express the matchless manner in which Rev. Brown dealt with the features of the fruit of the spirit. For original illustrations and vivid word pictures the address of Friday afternoon could not be excelled. Who present will ever forget the description of the old family horse used to illustrate the virtue of gentleness; the word picture of the storm upon the lake when at the command of the Master "as he wiped the spray from his brow the angry waves fell back into their beds"; and as for the chicken story—"nuf sed." God bless Brother Brown; we love him even if he is "honest."

At the evening service Miss Anna MacLaren, formerly with Billy Sunday and now a member of the faculty of the Bible Institute, favored the congregation with one of her delightful solos, "When I See the King." Brother Smith of Tropico led in prayer.

The Tropico delegation turned up four hundred strong (many were sprinkled in the audience), led by their honorable mayor, Mr. Daniel Webster. It was a remarkable showing and Brethren Smith and Rider are to be congratulated on the results attained. There was also a goodly number from Long Beach.

The preacher delivered a powerful gospel message based on John 4:13-14.

After giving the setting of his text he declared that down in every human heart there are two thirsts, a thirst for the things of this world, "winged things that beat against the bars of the soul," and the thirst for God.

The thirsts for money, liquor, gambling, etc., were handled in the usual effective and convincing Brown method. The illustration of the eagle perched on the carcass which finally swept over Niagara will stick.

The happier side of the picture revealed the fountain of living water, where only can be quenched the thirsty soul.

The appeal was as strong as any so far delivered by the famous evangelist.

The response to the message of salvation was very gratifying. The interest taken in personal work by the advance guard points to a second

TIME GETTING SHORT

LETTER WRITERS FOR 1915 GENERAL COMMITTEE PRIZES MUST GET BUSY

The date for the closing of the prize letter writing contest inaugurated by the 1915 general committee is March 15. There is still plenty of time for sending in letters to the committee headquarters, 205 Chamber of Commerce building, Los Angeles, and the large number of prizes gives every contestant a chance.

There are fifty-four awards ranging from $5 to $100. The letters must not exceed two hundred words in length and must be written by some one in Los Angeles county to a person outside of California.

The entertainment plans are being worked out rapidly by the 1915 general committee. Los Angeles city and county band is organized under the direction of Adolph Tandler and will be on hand at all celebrations. Jack Sinclair, leader of the famous cowboy band that will accompany the three troops of Westerners now organized, is expected to arrive from Colorado next week.

Dates for the big rodeo are set for May 1 to 9. This will bring riders from all parts of the West.

MRS. J. E. MOSER

Hattie M. Moser, wife of J. E. Moser of 600 West Ninth street, died at Little Lands at 3:15 this morning, where she had been staying for several months in the hope of benefiting her health.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but services will be held from the Pulliam undertaking parlors Monday afternoon.

GLEN E. OTTMAN

Glen Eddy Ottman, aged five years and eight months, son of R. G. Ottman, passed away at Thornycroft hospital at 3 o'clock this morning, where he had been brought for treatment from his home at Coachella a few days ago. Intestinal obstruction was the cause of his death.

Funeral services will be held at the Pulliam undertaking parlors at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and burial will be in the family lot at Forest Lawn cemetery.

MR. E. B. BEACH

Mr. E. B. Beach, father of A. W. Beach of 333 North Brand boulevard, passed from this life Friday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Glendale sanitarium, where he had been stopping for a considerable time.

Mr. Beach was nearly seventy-eight years old. He was a native of Ohio, but spent most of his life in Montana, coming to California four years ago.

Funeral services will be held at the Seventh Day Adventist church Monday at 10 a. m., and interment will be in Evergreen cemetery, Los Angeles.

SUNDAY AUTO SERVICE TO GRIFFITH PARK

Griffith park is virtually at the very door of every citizen of Glendale and Tropico since Stoffel's auto service has instituted hourly service every Sunday to Griffith park at a popular price. All persons wishing to spend the day at Griffith park tomorrow are requested to phone Stoffel's auto service as early as possible before the time they wish to start.

CLARENCE CHANDLER

SHOT THROUGH HEAD WHILE ACTING BEFORE MOTION PICTURE CAMERA

Sad, indeed, was the news which reached Glendale Friday of the shooting of Clarence Chandler, who was instantly killed while taking part in a picture play on the Lasky ranch near San Fernando.

Chandler was shot through the head by a musket ball, but whether it was his own gun or that of one of his companions that was discharged is not known, and it is being investigated by the authorities. The film is to be seized by the sheriff in the endeavor to learn how the shooting occurred.

"Sonia's Captive" is the name of the play that the company was in the act of producing, Chandler being in the company of six other men, who formed an attacking party. Within the fort were M. A. Harris and a man by the name of Horwitz, who were resisting the attack. They were leaning against the door while those on the outside were trying to gain an entrance by beating the panels with the butt ends of their muskets.

Charge after charge was made by the attacking party and the door was almost in splinters when the report of a gun was heard. Mr. Chandler fell to the ground and an investigation showed that a ball had entered his forehead, piercing the brain and coming out on the back of his head.

Companions of the victim say that the fatal bullet came from his own gun. Hosie Steelman, a deputy sheriff, who was witnessing the scene, declared to Deputies Modie and Brewer, who started an investigation Friday night, that the bullet was discharged by the gun of one of Mr. Chandler's companions, but said he is of the opinion that the shooting was accidental.

The accident occurred at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon and the remains were conveyed to the Scovern-Letton-Frey undertaking parlors, 120 West Cypress avenue, Tropico, where the coroner's inquest was held, resulting in a verdict that the deceased had come to his death accidentally by a gunshot wound from the hands of a person unknown. It is supposed from the evidence brought out that it was Mr. Chandler's own gun that discharged the fatal shot.

The deceased was thirty years of age and a son of H. E. Chandler, 130 West Acacia avenue, Tropico. He had been residing with his wife and three little children at Edendale.

The many friends of the family here extend sincere sympathy to the family in their sudden and sad bereavement.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed, but the services will likely be held on Monday.

Mr. Chandler was not working with Mr. Melford's company, as was reported, but with Mr. DeMille.

INTER-CLASS DEBATES

The first series of inter-class debates were held at the high school on Friday morning. The freshman and sophomore class debate resulted in a unanimous victory for the "fresh" team.

The juniors had a harder time in defeating the seniors, however, and although they lost one debate, they had the small majority of five points in the judges' decisions. The debates will be concluded with the clash of the freshmen and juniors.

ENTERTAINS AT ALHAMBRA

Under the auspices of the Woman's club of Alhambra, Madam Norma Rockhold Robbins gave a recital in the Woman's clubhouse, Alhambra, Thursday evening, assisted by two members of the college of music faculty of the University of Southern California, Miss Esther Davidson, pianist, and Harold Walberg, violinist.

RETURN FROM EXPOSITION

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Addison, accompanied by their guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Addison, have returned from a pleasant motor trip to San Diego, where they spent two days enjoying the fair. They report that the buildings and grounds of the exposition are beautiful and that the people of San Diego have taken every precaution to make everything comfortable for the crowds that will attend the exposition this year. They especially enjoyed the beautiful landscape effects with which the grounds abound.

This party encountered some mud on the trip to San Diego, but returned by another route and found the roads fine.

Early shopping agitation has scarcely passed before the early shipping movement looms up as the question of the hour.

WESTON TO SHOW PICTURES BEFORE EXCLUSIVE CLUB

E. H. Weston, the photographer of Tropico, whose work is well known throughout the United States and Canada, has been invited by the Shakespeare club of Pasadena to give an exhibition of his pictures during the month of March in that city. The exhibit will be held at 220 South Los Robles avenue, Pasadena, and will be open to the public from 2 to 4 p. m. each Monday afternoon, beginning Monday, March 1.

RANDALL COMING HOME

Representative-elect Charles Randall, who has been in Washington for a few months visiting the sessions of congress with a view of getting onto some of the ropes before the beginning of his first term as congressman, is now on his way home to California with Mrs. Randall, who accompanied him to Washington.

While at the capitol Mr. Randall did some good work for his district. He interviewed the attorney-general in behalf of Attorney Mattison B. Jones for the federal judgeship and secured the co-operation of Secretary McAdoo in getting the president to take a motor trip through Southern California.

EVERYBODY EAT OLIVES

Everybody eat olives on March 31, which is California olive day. That is the slogan of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The local chamber is boosting the day for all it is worth.

"Southern California should be deeply interested in olive day," said Secretary Wiggins. "Why, we raise the finest olives in the world in this section of the state and lots of 'em, too, so it's up to us to get behind the movement."

Olive growers of Los Angeles and other parts of the South have written letters to Mr. Wiggins, declaring that they were enthusiastic over California olive day and would do everything possible to boost it.

During the day all cafes of the city will serve the olives, as well as the railroad dining cars. The olive growers of the North are working jointly with the growers of the South in the interest of the day.

SIMPLIFY THE PROCESS

President Hadley of Yale contends that only well-to-do men can afford to enter politics in this country. It is to be feared that there is too much literal truth in this contention, says the Pasadena Star. While theoretically the poorest and humblest man may go before the people for office—and he may, so far as the constitutional privilege of doing so is concerned—yet the fact remains that, to conduct a campaign for any office of consequence requires considerable outlay which seemingly is unavoidable under our prevailing system of political canvassing. Perhaps, in time, democratic (not Democratic party) sentiment will impel us to simplify and cheapen the process by which men are elected to public office. It is to be hoped so.

Free Bible Lecture

W. HOMER LEE
Will Lecture On
"RESURRECTION"

Sunday, February 28, 3 p. m., at
New Masonic Temple, Glendale.

It is reported that Mr. Lee, as a Bible lecturer, has gained great favor with thoughtful minds of various denominations, being recognized by many as one of the closest students of the Bible living on the Pacific coast. His clear language, easy delivery, years of study, being a man of broad experience in the world, and as a Christian, are potent factors in his deep and logical deductions.

We understand Mr. Lee purposes the discussion of many perplexing questions which he claims should be generally understood by the public, but ordinarily not discussed. For instance: "Why will there be a Judgment Day?" "What object could be obtained?"

Mr. Lee asserts that knowledge of the "Resurrection" is of vital importance to all, in that it embraces the plan of God as regards the human race, thus tracing the past, present and future of man in a most pleasing and harmonious manner, closely revealing God's love and wisdom in so great a plan.

Those having heard the speaker say it is not only a source of spiritual inspiration, but educational and elevating in the highest sense.

Concerning the importance of the subject and the kind of instruction one might reasonably expect, a full house is predicted.

For men, women and orderly children accompanied by parents.
Come and invite your friends.
Free admission.

A FREE READING ROOM

HOW ABOUT IT, MOTHER?

"A monologue is a conversation between husband and wife."
"I thought that was a dialogue?"

A pretty little affair was the yellow afternoon given by Mrs. George H. Herald of 1218 West Ninth street on Friday. Marigolds and acacia blossoms were used in profusion and lent a charming effect to the rooms. Needlework and conversation sped the afternoon and luncheon was served at 4:30 to the following guests: Mrs. Eugene Hall, Mrs. Geo. Meldo Harrison, Mrs. Grace Rottner, Mrs. Ward, Mrs. Stanley Lowry, Mrs. J. H. Polz and the hostess.

Harrison, 245 South Kenwood street, a son, named Howard Murray, Jr. The young gentleman started in life at the weight of eleven pounds and gives every indication of making a good native son for Southern California. Grandpa Harrison has been very busy at the bank meeting the demands upon his time and purse caused by the arrival.

Mrs. Bert Kennedy of Burbank entertained on Thursday in honor of her sister, Miss Gertrude Ward, who will become a nurse and is about to start training in the California hospital. Miss Ward is the daughter of Rev. S. L. Ward, formerly of Glendale. The affair was in the nature of a handkerchief shower; the house was prettily decorated with pink and white blossoms. Supper was served and a most enjoyable evening was spent by all. Among the Glendale guests present were Miss Ruth Byram, Miss May McIver, Miss Mina Robertshaw, Miss Vera Grant, Miss Leta McCoy, Miss Fern Porter, Miss Helen Tupper and Mrs. Wallace Tupper.

While Mr. K. K. Kelly of Oak and Adams streets was attending lodge at the I. O. O. F. hall Friday evening, his automobile was stolen from in front of the building. Mr. Kelly left the machine there with several others and did not think it necessary to lock it, but today he is regretting his trust in mankind, for when he came out of the building some time later his machine was gone, and the worst of it is, he had just had it overhauled and put in first-class condition.

Mrs. Harry Lynch of 216 Orange street entertained a number of her friends with a luncheon on Thursday. The color scheme was purple and gold, many violets and jonquils being used with charming effect. phase of the meetings. Soon we shall come rejoicing bringing our sheaves with us. With such preaching and gospel singing backed by the prayers and efforts of ten churches, something glorious is surely due to appear.

A union meeting of the young people of the vicinity will be held each Sunday evening during the tabernacle meetings at the First Baptist church at 6 o'clock. The Epworth Leagues of the different churches will have charge of the meeting Sunday evening, February 28th. Subject, "Win some to Win Some," Psa. 126, Acts 2:46-47. The Christian Endeavor societies will have charge of the meeting March 7th. Subject, "How to Make This a Happier World," Prov. 3:13-18. The meeting March 14th will be a final grand rally under the united leadership of all societies. Further announcement relative to the meeting will be made later. There will be special music and all young people are urged to be present and to take part in every meeting.

The grand Sunday school rally is announced for Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. The ten churches co-operating will line up the scholars for this mass meeting at the regular school session, commencing at 9:30, at which time records will be marked, etc., and then from the several churches the schools, led by their respective superintendents and teachers, will march to the huge tabernacle. The Sunday school rally will undoubtedly be one of the greatest meetings of the campaign.

SLEUTHING IN BOOK FASHION

For several days detectives have been seeking to find who took from a hotel certain jewels of great value. Singularly enough they seem to desire to find an actual, material, visible clue. This is all contrary to the rule laid down in the books. When Conan Doyle dived into ancient writing, dragged forth a creation that had served another author, refurbished it, gave it a few distinctive habits and named it Sherlock Holmes, he set the detective standard.

Sherlock had to have a foil, and so Dr. Watson was thrown in for good measure. Now everybody who writes a detective story has to have a Sherlock and a Watson, each of course supposed to be different from the Doyle patterns, but strangely and tediously the same.

Sherlock Holmes is out of it, having been mercifully though somewhat tardily smothered, but suppose that Craig Kennedy, one of his imitators, were on the jewel job? By this time the gauds would have been restored and the villains in jail. It is all so simple. This Kennedy—under consideration as a type—would not have felt the necessity of hunting evidence. He would have retired to the laboratory and made the evidence. Instead of asking questions he would have read minds. Truth, he would have tested by subtle acids, or by mechanisms more delicate than a conscience. There would have been no getting away from Kennedy. For him to squint into a microscope and see revealed not only character and motive and method, but the life history of the suspect, and the whereabouts of the loot, would have been almost too easy to have been interesting.

The real detective, not the figment working miracles in the printed page, is something else. He tries to use his common sense, and not invariably overstocked in this regard, sometimes blunders. Yet there is hope that he may succeed, his chance of this being greater when he deviates as far as possible from the sleuthing absurdities of light fiction.

IOWA'S POET-HISTORIAN ON HIS ANNUAL COAST VISIT

Three winters in Southern California have so impressed the romance of its history upon the mind of Maj. S. H. M. Byers, the Iowa poet, that he cannot resist the urge to tell the story of the old mission days in verse, and he is now here collecting historical and traditional material.

Maj. Byers is a veteran of the Civil war, noted for his adventures and a remarkable escape from Libby. He served on Gen. Sherman's staff and he wrote the song of "Sherman's March to the Sea" while a prisoner at Columbia. After the war he was in the diplomatic service for twenty years, holding the post of Consul-General in Italy and Switzerland. His works comprise many volumes of verse, tales and history.

Major Byers has been studying the "Mission Play" and McGroarty's historical chapters on the missions, and Friday he saw the play from behind the scenes.

ELECTROCUTE WOMEN SLAYERS

OSSINING, N. Y., Feb. 27.—Three men, all from New York City, were put to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison Friday for murdering women. Oscar Vogt stabbed Mme. Agnese Guth, a dressmaker, with whom he was infatuated. Vincenzo Campenella, a counterfeiter, shot his wife, after a prison term, because on his return he alleged he found her faithless. Robert Kane shot Anna Klein because, he said, she caused him to lose his wife's affections.

PROTEST AGAINST WAR

A mass meeting will be held at 2:15 o'clock this afternoon in the Majestic theater, Los Angeles, the object of which is to voice a protest against the European war and to tell the American Jews of their duties in this world crisis. The meeting is free to all and the general public is invited to attend.

One feature of the program will be the singing of 200 school children of the religious schools, who will give patriotic songs, accompanied by a full orchestra.

Hon. Nathan Straus will preside. Cantor Weinstock and his wife will render solos, and there will be interesting addresses by Dr. Sigmund Hecht, Dr. Isadore Myers and others.

Marco H. Hellman is chairman of the committee, and is assisted by Dr. D. W. Edelman, William B. Bearman, Hyman S. Wolfe of San Diego and S. H. Goldstein of Glendale.

PRAISE AND NOT CONDEMN

There is a little bit of human nature about the make-up of everybody and it seems to be in accordance with human nature for a person to live more agreeably under courteous treatment than under harsh treatment. Therefore, if there is anything good to say of a person, say it, and if a person has any faults, do not mention them, only in a private and kindly manner. Go to the man who dislikes you and tell him honestly of some of his good qualities and he will begin to count you as a friend. May it be possible for us to see more good and less bad in people.

However, if Turkey refuses to salute the flag, Italy can strike off some hero medals when the ships come home.

Jefferson and Lincoln were good politicians, so if President Wilson proves to be one, he'll have respectable company.

SPURIOUS ENOCH ARDENS

A man supposed to have been dead twenty years, his estate settled, and his widow married, calmly bobs up at San Diego, and so far none of the outraged relatives has hit him with a club. Desertion of a family is a pretty mean trick, although naturally it would relieve the family of an unwelcome presence. Reappearance long after desertion is far meaner. There ought to be a penalty attached. The spurious Enoch Arden is a very bad imitation. Had circumstances not to be controlled caused a separation, there would have been no offensiveness in coming back at the first opportunity. Yet having come back, observed that such a gap as created by departure had been filled, and that nothing but confusion and dismay could follow revelation of the return, the one and simple duty of Enoch must be to quietly sneak off again, say nothing, and saw wood. When a man has elected to sham death, it should be beyond his power to spoil the illusion. It is stated that in the present instance the supposed widow is guilty of bigamy, and if she desires to continue living with her present and real husband, will have to leave him, get a divorce from No. 1, and then be married again to No. 2. Perhaps this is the law. The old beadle in Dickens long ago said "the law is an ass," much having occurred since to verify the statement. Perhaps there is another way out. The courts had declared Enoch dead, and by every right, the privilege of regarding him as dead inhered in the mourners. In deporting themselves in accord with the theory of his deadness, they could not have been committing a wrong, and there is no justice in causing punishment to fall upon them for the ethical crimes of decedent. Let decedent take his medicine and keep right on being defunct. No matter if he has meat on his bones, he is a grisly ghost just the same and a ghost has no legal standing.—Long Beach Telegraph.

THE HOUSE OF THREES

The most peculiar house in the United Kingdom is probably the triangular one at Rushton in Northamptonshire. Its design is supposed to typify the trinity.

This singular building has three stories, and each story has three windows on each of the three sides, while each of the windows in two of the three stories is in the shape of a trefoil—the three leaved shamrock. In each of the other windows there are twelve panes, arranged in three fours, and the panes throughout are triangular.

Three gables rise on each side and from the center, where their roofs meet, a three sided chimney, surmounted by a triangular pyramid, terminates in a large trefoil. The smoke issues from three round holes on each of the three sides of the chimney.

Three Latin inscriptions, one on each side of the house, have each thirty letters, while over the door there is another Latin inscription of three words, the English of which is "There are three that bear record," and on each side are the carved figures of three angels bearing shields.

Inside the house each floor contains three three-sided apartments. The length of each of the walls by outside measurement is thirty-three feet four inches—that is, exactly thirty-three and one-third feet.—London Telegraph.

SOME FISH!

Announcement has been made by the state fish and game commission that a new trout hatchery is to be located in Southern California. The San Antonio canyon is the probable site of the new establishment. During the year 1914 over 37,325,000 trout and salmon were distributed by the various hatcheries in the rivers of the state.

Many Chicago politicians of the Bath House John type predicted that women voters would not go to the polls. Now these fellows realize that the prophecy was based on hope, and the hope groundless.

MIRACLES!

When the exposition opened at San Francisco the things that happened were not impressive at all except when seen with the eye of the imagination. At noon when all was ready President Wilson pressed a button and started the San Francisco exposition going by wireless. A mere spark through the ether, traversing the continent in an instant, opened the doors of the big exposition palaces, started all the machinery and fountains and set off the signals. At the close of the ceremonies President Moore telephoned across the continent to New York, a news interview apropos of the opening.

This is the first time in the history of the world that such a thing could have happened. Call from the shades the ghosts of all the dreamers of the past and tell them this miracle, and they will all agree that the fact surpasses their dreams. Not Aladdin with his lamp ever dared even wish for a thing like this, when wishing was having. Faust, when he sold his soul for the devil's miracles, could not even imagine anything so daring as this. And Satan, when he took the Master up on a mountain and showed him the kingdoms of the earth, was not resourceful enough to offer him a quiet chamber, wherein he could speak to the ends of the earth, or with one touch set off a spark which should fly around the world and set loose the engine power of a million men on the shores of the western ocean. The things we have wrought were beyond the imagination of man or devil until modern genius made them fact and modern commerce made them commonplace.—California Outlook.

TOURISTS COMING WEST

A train a mile long will start from Chicago in time to reach Los Angeles Thursday. This train of eight sections carrying 1200 passengers will run over the Santa Fe. Other trains carrying thousands of people from large cities in the East are scheduled to leave for California early in March. California is the attractive point of the civilized world for this year.
