

EVERYTHING READY FOR THE FIRST ANNUAL FLOWER SHOW ON SATURDAY

Interesting Prizes Offered—Experts to Judge

Narberth's first flower show will be held in the Community Room of the Y. M. C. A. Building on Saturday afternoon and evening of the present week, June 5th, from 3 o'clock until 10 P. M. All the details have been arranged and the only thing necessary to make the event a complete success is the hearty co-operation of all flower enthusiasts. Everyone is urged to submit an exhibit of some kind. The committee in charge of the show are anxious that not one of the residents of the Borough who may be interested in flowers will refrain from entering an exhibit from fear it may be lacking in merit. Experience has shown that prizes are most often won by those who have but a small number of a given kind of flower.

The prizes to be offered will be of much interest to those who have gardens, small or large, and except where otherwise noted, the prizes in each class will consist of a dozen growing plants or bulbs of such flowers as snap-dragon, asters, verbenas, zinnias, dahlias, gladiolus, marigolds, and similar flowers. Thus the good effect of the flower show will be perpetuated all summer long throughout the Borough.

Attention is called to the special classes. Of particular interest is the Children's Class, wherein a first prize of $5 in gold will be given for the best and most artistically arranged basket or vase of wild flowers to be submitted by children under the age of 16 years. For the second best exhibit in this class $2.50 in gold will be given. The children of the Borough are expected to show great interest in competing for these prizes. Another special class is that known as the Suffrage Class, in which a prize of two dozen growing plants is offered for the best and most artistically arranged exhibit of yellow flowers. Special prizes are also offered by the Henry F. Michell Company in two classes.

Here Are The Rules.

The following rules for the presentation of exhibits have been adopted:

1. All exhibits must be delivered at the Y. M. C. A. Building before 1 o'clock on Saturday, June 5th. After the exhibits have been received and arranged the doors will be closed and the exhibits judged.
2. Identification cards will be furnished for all the entries. These cards will be marked by the exhibitor with the number of the class attached to the exhibit.
3. The flowers will be on exhibition for general inspection from 3 o'clock until 10 o'clock P. M.

Everybody Invited.

All residents of Narberth, whether competing in the show or not, are requested to visit the Y. M. C. A. Building on Saturday afternoon or evening and see the flowers. This will give an opportunity to shake hands with one's neighbor and become better acquainted with the good people of our attractive little Borough.

A complete list of the classes for competition is as follows:

School Notes.

The members of the basket ball squads, boys and girls, were entertained by Principal and Mrs. Melchior last Thursday evening.

The Department of Public Speaking is attracting the attention of parents, and has been favorably commented upon and strongly endorsed by the mothers of the members of the graduating class. Few High School pupils have the natural ability, or experience, to speak in public, and yet this is one of the most desirable accomplishments. The work done along this line during the past season by Miss Mary Melchior, instructor in the Department of Public Speaking, is deserving of the highest praise. Members of the Freshman and Senior Classes have had weekly lessons throughout the season, and every day some members of the Sophomore, Junior and Senior Classes have appeared on the platform and taken part in the chapel exercises.

Two illustrated lectures were given before the student body during the past week. Professor Braden spoke on California and Miss Grace Nevin spoke on Yellowstone Park.

Principal Melchior spoke before the students of the First Pennsylvania Normal School at Millersburg, on Tuesday.

First grade Mothers' Day will be held on Wednesday, June 9, at the Y. M. C. A.

The Child Life Chapter of Narberth, an organization of mothers, will be the guest of our schools this Friday afternoon.

The new Narberth High School Alumni will hold its first re-union and public meeting, Tuesday evening, June 15, in the school auditorium. There will be a literary program from 8.15 to 9.30, to which the public is cordially invited. Afterwards there will be a business meeting and social hour.

Three Straight Victories

One Saturday and two Decoration Day—put Narberth in the lead in the Main Line League. It was a great week-end for local players and fans.

Keep up the good work, boys; you're playing real ball. You'll have the whole town out before the season's through.

WARNING TO FLOWER THIEVES.

The malicious practice of pilfering flowers from the yards of citizens has become noticeably frequent during the past week.

Residents on Forest, Woodside, Chestnut, Narberth and other avenues have reported partial or total loss of blooms.

On Forest avenue, three boys were seen making the depredations.

This form of petty theft is one of the most annoying, and the borough officials are determined to make an example of the first youth caught trespassing on any property, for the purpose of robbing it of flowers or fruit.

CHILDREN AND VETERANS UNITE IN MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES.

The Memorial Day exercises at the Narberth School on Friday afternoon were as interesting as anything of the kind ever held in the borough.

A notable feature was the presence of a number of Civil War veterans, all residents of Narberth, who lunched with the children, and occupied seats of honor on the platform. They were Captain W. S. McClellan, 17th., New York; Lieutenant Thomas Monroe, 28th., Penna.; Lieutenant Henry Russell, 72nd., Penna.; Lieutenant B. F. Boyer, 202nd., Penna.; Lieutenant Thomas G. Hall, 1st., engineers, New York; Samuel H. Fite, gunner, Keystone Battery; and R. H. Tyson, 129th., Penna.

Captain McClellan gave the children an interesting talk, and the various classes participated in the program with songs, etc. A quartette of the graduating class sang several selections.

The children went through various calisthenics under the direction of Miss McGowan, the physical instructor.

HOPE TO START ELECTRIC TRAINS BY JULY 1.

Narberth patrons of the Pennsylvania Railroad are anxiously awaiting the inauguration of the electric service to Philadelphia. The company announced some time ago that the service would be started on June 1st, but this was found to be impossible, owing to the great amount of work to be done east of the Girard avenue bridge.

From information received at the office of the Publicity Bureau at Broad street station, the company is bending every effort to have the work completed and electric trains in operation by July 1st.

All that remains to be done is the completion of the wiring from the West Philadelphia yards to the terminal. A large part of the wiring in the train shed at Broad street station has been finished, the cars have been completed and the train crews have all qualified for the electric service.

WOULD YOU LIKE TO JOIN?

All who are interested in making artistic, as well as useful gifts for Christmas during the Summer and Fall months should telephone to Mrs. Walter Dothard (Narberth 316 D) on or before Saturday, June 5th, and make inquiries regarding the class in basketry which is about to be started. This class is for beginners. No age limit.

INTERESTING EXERCISES MARK THE BEGINNING OF WORK ON NARBROOK

School Children and Band Assist In Celebration

It was a great day for Narberth—was last Saturday—and if you missed the exercises attending the breaking of ground for NARBROOK, the new model community residence center and public park, you missed something very worthy-while.

From the moment the parade of school children, headed by Mayor Blankenburg and the new Narberth band, came into sight, until the last spadeful of earth had been dug, the celebration was a success in every sense of the word.

A goodly number of the Borough's residents were on hand, quite a number of out-of-town guests were present, the band made good, Burgess Henry proved himself to be a first-class ground breaker, the Narberth School children gave just the needed touch of color and youthful enthusiasm and Mayor Blankenburg topped off the occasion with one of those fine, friendly, neighborly talks for which he has no rival within many miles of Philadelphia.

The platform for the speakers and guests, and the chairs for the spectators were set back about 50 feet from Windsor avenue, and a few minutes before four o'clock the signal was given that the Mayor, the band and the school children were coming. They marched from the Y. M. C. A. down Essex avenue to Windsor avenue and thence west to the park grounds.

The Mayor and Mrs. Blankenburg were escorted to the platform, and the school children, led by Principal Melchior and several of the teachers—each child carrying a small American flag, were banked to the right of the platform. They made a fine picture and their cheering for Mayor Blankenburg, Burgess Henry, and the new park, under the leadership of Mr. Melchior, and their singing of national songs were features of the celebration.

Mr. Henry, as president of the Civic Association opened the exercises by introducing A. J. Loos, chairman of the Park Development Committee, who in turn called on Rev. Emerson L. Swift, pastor of the Baptist Church, for the opening prayer.

Chairman Loos' Address.

Mr. Loos then spoke briefly, reviewing the history of NARBROOK from the inception of the idea up to the afternoon's exercises. He said:

"The ceremony celebrating the actual beginning of work on Narbrook would be incomplete without a brief allusion to the events that led up to it, and that marked an epoch in the history of our borough. This was the organization of The Narberth Civic Association, about one year ago, largely through the efforts of our Burgess, Mr. George M. Henry, then recently elected, Mrs. Henry, Mrs. Charles R. Blackall, Mr. and Mrs. W. Arthur Cole, Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Gara, and many other public spirited ladies and gentlemen.

What has been accomplished by The Civic Association in this brief time is still fresh in our memories. A town motto was selected—"NARBERTH, THE YEAR 'ROUND HOME TOWN." Clean-up Week was inaugurated; a beautiful historic pageant, extending over two days, was held last June; a local newspaper has been established; a Community Centre in connection with the local Y. M. C. A. was formed; a library and a brass band have been started. As a result, there has been a wonderful awakening of a community spirit among our residents. A beautiful example of this was a suggestion made by Mrs. Norman Jefferies, one of the directors of the Civic Association, that the citizens generally plant Japanese cherry trees, of the pink double flowering variety, so that we also, like Japan, may have a cherry blossom season in Narberth, that will attract visitors from every direction 'to witness an annual miracle of loveliness', as Mrs. Jefferies expressed it. This suggestion was promptly adopted by many residents, and next year we will have hundreds of these beautiful trees as evidence of the wonderful influence of just one idea. Another illustration was the timely suggestion of Mr. Alexander C. Shand, chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and one of the vice presidents of our association, who suggested dividing the borough into districts, each under the supervision of some one man or woman, to report monthly to the association any condition worthy of commendation or needing correction.

The Crowning Achievement.

"The crowning work of the association was the planning of the park, actual work on which begins to-day, and which is the event we have assembled to celebrate. In many ways this event is of deep significance. Its importance and influence are not confined within the limits of our little borough, nor measured by the comparatively small amount of capital involved. As the expression of a lofty conception of civic duty, of high ideals and public spirited citizenship, it is worthy of nation-wide attention and commendation.

It was Mr. George M. Henry, our Burgess, who conceived this idea, and presented it at a meeting of The Civic Association in the early days of its formation. It contemplated reclaiming an unattractive piece of land within our limits, developing building sites and laying out an attractive park, to be dedicated to the Borough and the enjoyment of its citizens, without cost to the tax-payer. The plan attracted immediate attention. It needed the co-operation of public spirited citizens, with a vision clear enough to see how much the success of the project meant to Narberth. To obtain this support, Mr. Henry devoted his time and energy in the most liberal and unselfish spirit. In this instance, to use a current phrase, the other members of the association were quite willing to "let George do it," and 'George' certainly did it well! It may easily be imagined how much detail it took to finance the proposition, to sell 42 building sites and to attend to the thousand and one other things in connection with such a project. The Civic Association, of which Mr. Henry is president, has, however, done much to help Mr. Henry in this work. As a result of these efforts, we are about to begin the actual work of developing this track of about 14 acres into a handsome park, bordered by 42 building sites. The sale of the lots has realized a sum sufficient to pay for the entire tract, with a liberal surplus for the cost of development, including the services of a town-planning architect of national reputation, Mr. Robert Anderson Pope, of New York city. The Park Development Committee, which has charge of the practical work, has also secured the services of Mr. David Knickerbacker Boyd, equally well-known, as supervising architect, which will insure a harmonious relation between the character of the residences and the nature of the landscape, under proper restrictions.

Praise Civic Spirit.

"While we may congratulate ourselves on the material results that will flow from these efforts within the next few years, it is the unseen influences and effects that are vastly more important. In the development of a civic consciousness, in rendering public service from unselfish motives, in training citizens to co-operate in work for the common good, and in the development of all the other qualities that make for good citizenship, will be found a much greater benefit to the community, than any material improvement. We conceive the requirements of good citizenship to include more than merely paying taxes, obeying the laws, and voting perhaps once in four years. We think a good citizen should give unselfishly of his time, energy and talent to make the community in which he lives, a better

EDITORIAL NOTES

"THE LAST CALL"

OUR TOWN will gladly print any news item about any subject that is of interest to Narberth folks, but in order to meet the printing schedule, all "copy" manuscripts—must reach the editors by 6 P. M. Monday each week.

WHAT YOU CAN DO?

Last week's issue of OUR TOWN was still warm from the presses when one of our readers called us up on the telephone. He has been a resident of Narberth for many years and is well informed on borough history as well as current affairs. He gave us a lot of interesting information about local affairs and incidents of past years, a knowledge of which every citizen ought to have in order to thoroughly understand just why certain things were done in the past, why certain things are being done now and why certain things can't be done at present.

Quite naturally we asked our friend to write us these matters and send them to OUR TOWN for publication. Don't misunderstand us. There was nothing startling or sensational about what he told us—just plain, but interesting and important, facts having to do with Narberth's borough and official history. But our friend laughed and said "Oh, I'm no letter writer; I couldn't write anything for you."

We weren't able to bring him around to our point of view at that time, but we may get him later. We hope so.

The incident is recorded in these columns, not because we are under any editorial delusion that it is amusing, nor are we trying to "fill space." OUR TOWN believes that the residents of Narberth will take an interest in local affairs in direct proportion to the knowledge they have of those affairs. They want to know the "why" and "wherefore" of things and they have a right to this information. If they don't get it they are sure to criticize, and unlightened criticism of borough affairs is bound to hurt and hinder borough progress.

So we make this plea to officials and just plain citizens to use OUR TOWN to discuss local affairs. If you have a viewpoint or an idea that you want to present to the residents of Narberth, this is the medium. If you have any information on borough matters that will throw any light on the subjects under discussion OUR TOWN will be glad to hear from you.

We're living here because we like Narberth, and liking the town, we should do our share to help solve its problems and make it an even better home town.

EXERCISES MARK BEGINNING OF WORK ON NARBROOK

community, and help make it clean, wholesome and attractive. It means to refrain from destructive criticism of those who conduct its affairs, and to help along every movement for its betterment. Such citizens so admirably typified by Rudolph Blankenburg, the honored Mayor of Philadelphia, and Martin G. Brumbaugh, our Governor, are well fitted for the larger activities of the State, the nation and the world—broadminded and patriotic in the best sense of the word."

Blankenburg's Fine Address.

Mayor Blankenburg entered thoroughly into the spirit of the occasion, and in the course of a short address, made an eloquent and forcible plea for the fulfillment by all citizens of their civic duties. He referred to the two great evils that interfered with this, the first being indifference. He drew a vivid picture of the man who is content with casting a vote once in four years, and never does his share of the many important things that must be done to make his home town better; the man who is perfectly willing to stay at home in his easy chair, and let the other fellow do it. The other great evil is cowardice—fear of a boss. This he said he happily did not have to contend with, as was the case in the large centres of population, where the bosses only populated what was for their own interests. The Mayor, with a twinkle in his eye, said that Mrs. Blankenburg was the only boss he acknowledged.

At this point, the noise of a passing train threatened to overwhelm the Mayor's voice, but he humorously remarked that it would take more than the lungs of a Pennsylvania Railroad locomotive to drown his voice when speaking for civic righteousness. He also touched on the beauty and value of co-operation, so well illustrated in the development of Narbrook, and referred to his efforts to have a similar work done in the development of the Kirkbride Asylum grounds, in Philadelphia, and to the difficulties in accomplishing it, in view of the many various conflicting interests and opinions prevailing in the city.

Talked to School Children.

A notable part of the Mayor's address was to the children of the public school, whom he highly commended for their part in the exercises. He told them the clean-up week in Philadelphia, which was fine, but which did not last beyond the week. As soon as it was over, the streets were again littered with paper, and ashes and rubbish accumulated as before. He earnestly asked them to have a clean-up week every week in the year; to be particular to pick up scraps of paper and rubbish, and do everything in their power to help keep Narberth spick and span. He said their sharp eyes would enable them to do this much better than the older people. He asked them to remember this as the advice of Mayor Blankenburg, and also to be careful not to pick flowers wantonly, as they die so soon, when plucked, and to protect the birds and their nests. He referred to his own youth, when children were careless about these things, because they did not know any better.

Mayor Blankenburg's address was made in a clear strong voice, and was interrupted by frequent and hearty applause. It was replete with the finest spirit of enthusiasm for all that is desirable in citizenship. He is a splendid example of what it really means to be a public-spirited citizen. Our town is to be congratulated on having him with us on this memorable occasion, and his address is sure to leave a deep impression on the minds of all who were fortunate enough to hear him.

Letter from Council President.

At the conclusion of Mayor Blankenburg's talk, Chairman Loos read the following letter from President Narrigan, of the Borough Council:

"I regret not being able to be present at the ceremonies marking the formal beginning of the park work to-day,

"However, this does not prevent me wishing you success in the final accomplishment of the task that you and your associates have before you. I would also mention the fact that after conversations with the various council members, I can assure you of their hearty support, individually, and their willingness to aid the movement as the present and future income of the Borough will permit.

"Again wishing you success for the future of Narbrook Park, I remain,

Yours very truly

(Signed) Harvey D. Narrigan,

President, Narberth Council.

The First Spadeful.

The actual breaking of the ground was started by Burgess Henry who drove the new spade deep into the earth. The implement was then passed to Mayor Blankenburg who laughingly remarked that he used to be a farmer and that breaking ground reminded him of old times. Others who participated in the ceremony of helping to "start" the park were: Chairman Loos, A. C. Shand, vice president of the Civic Association; Mrs. Blankenburg, Councilmen E. C. Stokes and William D. Smedley, D. Knickerbacker Boyd, consulting architect; and Mrs. C. R. Blackall.

The exercises closed with a prayer by Rev. John Van Ness, pastor of the Presbyterian Church.

GOOD NEWS ABOUT TICKETS FOR LOCAL COMMUTERS.

Of interest to all commuters, is the announcement of the Pennsylvania Railroad in connection with the recent order of the Public Service Commission regarding the limit of the 100-trip ticket. While the order extends the limit from six months to one year on all 100-trip tickets purchased hereafter, the company has gone a step further in the interest of its commuting patrons. As soon as necessary tariffs can be prepared, all 100-trip tickets sold since December 14th of last year will be good for one year from date of purchase, and the six months limit on tickets purchased since that date will be canceled.

The railroad is also revising its tariffs covering the first-class one-way tickets. At present, this class of ticket is good for passage only in the direction specified on its face. That is, a one-way ticket reading "Narberth to Philadelphia" has heretofore not been good for passage from Philadelphia to Narberth. The tariffs are now being revised so that these tickets will be good for passage between the stations named, regardless of the direction in which the holder is traveling.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE COURSE PLANNED FOR NEXT SEASON.

The mothers of the pupils of the High School who visited the school on Wednesday, had a very interesting meeting. Some of the pupils of the Sophomore class entertained them with an illustrated lecture and later Mr. Melchior invited and answered questions, and then spoke of his plans for next year.

I am sure every mother was impressed with Mr. Melchior's enthusiasm and earnestness and felt the lack of room to work out his plans satisfactorily, since two or three grades are obliged to use the one room, as conditions are now.

He also told of his wish to introduce a department of domestic science next year, for pupils of the upper grades, and says it can be done with comparatively little expense, and without any expense whatever to the school board.

An experienced grade teacher has been found who will teach domestic science as well, and by the new readjustment of classes contemplated next year, can do so without any detriment to the regular grade work.

Every mother, I feel sure, will appreciate the practical value of such a course and will want to co-operate with Mr. Melchior in establishing it.

As a means of getting the necessary funds, I would suggest that OUR TOWN take charge of a subscription for the purpose.

As a mother of one of the graduating class who has spent the entire period of her twelve years of school life in the Narberth school, I wish to take this opportunity to express my deep appreciation and gratitude to Mr. Melchior and the teachers for their interest and efforts.

(Mrs.) A. P. Redlfer.

Arrangements have been made with the weather man for glorious weather for the night of Friday, June 11, when the "Strawberry Festival" will be given on the lawn of the Justice property, Narberth avenue above Windsor avenue.

THE NEW BAND MAKES GOOD.

Just a few words about our new town band. It made its first public appearance last Saturday at the ceremonies marking the first work on NARBROOK, and what is equally important, it made good.

Leader Brooks and his fellow musicians are to be congratulated. In the few months that they have been rehearsing, they have made decided progress and are rapidly developing a first-class musical organization.

A year ago we had to go out of town to get a band. Now we have our own band and we are ready for any kind of a celebration—big or little.

Keep up the good work, Brother Brooks.

ELMWOOD WINS
OPENING GAME

But Loses Monday's Contest

The Elmwood Field Club opened its base ball season on Saturday at its new grounds on Sullivan Field, by defeating the Toomey A. C. of Philadelphia by the score of 15-6.

Martin Cummer, a local boy, pitched the first real game of his career, and his remarkable showing of having struck out sixteen men was very encouraging to the Elmwood Club. Then, on Monday, he held the strong Emmanuel A. A., of Kensington, to five hits in six innings, but our boys could do very little with Hearne, of the visitors, and lost by the close score of 2-1, although in the ninth inning, with but one out and two men on bases, it looked as though Ludovici's hit would at least tie the score. But a fine catch robbed our boys of their chance.

The batting of Lardie Davis, of the Elmwood team, was the feature of Saturday's game, while on Monday his playing at shortstop was almost phenomenal. Humphreys' work behind the bat was of the highest order, catching twelve men at second base in Saturday's and Monday's games.

Manager Jacobs is very well pleased with the excellent showing of his boys, and is hopeful that his team will at least equal its record of last year, of having won twenty-one games out of twenty-six played.

On Saturday the Elmwood Club plays the strong team of the mercantile house of the Standard Supply and Equipment Company.

The scores:

UNION SERVICE SERMON

Rev. Chris. G. Koppel Preaches Sermon on Present-Day Mission of the Church

Narberth is justly proud of the spirit of unity that exists among its local churches, and the union services held on the last Sunday evening of each month are always of great interest.

When possible, "Our Town" will hereafter print the sermons that are preached at these union services.

This week—by request of many of our subscribers—we start this new practice by printing a large part of the sermon preached by Rev. Chris. G. Koppel, pastor of the Methodist Church, at the union service in the Presbyterian Church last Sunday evening:

The Sermon.

"Also, day by day, the Lord added to their numbers those whom He was saving."—R. V. Acts 2: 47.

These words, few as they are, give us an inspiring picture of the early church. Would to God every church of Jesus Christ, of whatever name, might attain to that ideal.

Vital present day emphasis must be placed upon the idea that the church is literally an engine of progress. It must relate itself literally to the true and essential interests of the people, and a church that does not do this is not making progress toward the coming of the Kingdom of God upon earth. We should admire architectural beauty, crave inspirational preaching and music—but the church must turn aside from self-gratification and concentrate itself upon the great basic principle on which it was founded by the living God.

When Jesus set his face to go to Jerusalem He gave utterance to the great words of His earthly mission that "the Son of man had not come to destroy men's lives but to save them."

That was the vital principle of the church. And I like the way the Lord put it, for the business of the church was to be everlastingly the work of saving lives.

The emphasis has too long been put upon the idea of soul saving when it should be placed upon man saving. The idea of the saving of souls has had too wide a prevalence. Men's souls are different from the lives of men. The life of the church is, or ought to be, centered upon the idea of the salvation of the lives of men.

I am glad that Protestantism is putting more emphasis upon this point and also that it has awakened to the necessity of the saving of the lives of children.

The salvation of the child is at last coming to its own—thank God! Jesus wrote it into the Book of Life and we have been a terribly long time finding out that the little child was placed in the midst of the disciples. Methods in education are being continually revised to meet the demands of a growing knowledge of child nature and its needs. The twentieth century city, when it shall have been built, will be the children's city.

From every economic and social wrong the ultimate and helpless sufferer is the little child. The greatest destroyer of child life to-day in our nation is the saloon. Everything that the child is for the saloon is against. Think of New York City with its 12,000 saloons; Philadelphia with its 2,000, and one county alone—that of Schuylkill—in our State with 1,200 saloons.

We read with horror the ancient practices of sacrificing children on the altars of heathen gods. It seems to us that those who gave their children to the flaming arms of Moloch, were far, far beneath the level that would entitle them to be called civilized. But in this boasted Christian civilization, we find ourselves offering annually upon the altars of this sovereign—Devil of Rum—thousands of little children—and that for a price.

China Sets Example.

Two thousand two hundred and eighty-five years before Christ came to bless the world with His love a man in China invented an alcoholic drink from rice. The invention was considered so atrocious that the government banished him from the empire. And now in the twentieth century we are sending missionaries to enlighten the people of that country, while at home we honor the makers of rum and delegate a government official to be the honorary president of a great brewery exhibit. Not only do we exalt the princes of the goddess traffic, but we permit them to destroy our children for a price in revenue! Ten thousand babies for ninety million dollars. One baby for nine thousand dollars.

O, my country, that hastens to resent an insult to the flag on the part of a retarded and misguided member of a less favored race (Mexico)—that sends forth thy loyal sons to fight and die for the wrong's redress—go hide thy face in shame until thou hast washed from thy guilty hands the crying blood of the thousands of little ones whom thou hast sold for a price!

And the salvation of the adult is having a new emphasis. Rider Haggard recently said, "The old Methodist doctrine of regeneration is a vital one as ever in the history of the church."

Jesus Christ tasted death for every man. Let us re-emphasize it. Jesus Christ tasted death for every man, and no man has ever fallen so low that the saving power of Christ's love through the gospel cannot reach him.

And, brethren, the true social gospel has its inspiration in the gospel of Christ and that is the only true social service. The gospel is the power to save the world, and as the individual is regenerated by it, so only can the world be.

At this very moment the world is in the greatest crisis of its history. I am interested during this hour to discuss the question, "What is God's answer to this dreadful situation?" I make bold to give this response: The one great crying need of a modern stricken world is the teachings, the ideals, the spirit of Jesus Christ, the Son of God! This is the one question before us to-day.

Look heathenism squarely in the face. What a marred visage it is! Go through city after city throughout North Africa, look into the habits, customs and life of the people; no other thought will be present with you as that pungent saying, "Almighty God writes a plain hand."

One out of every four or five natives whom you will meet, men, women and children, bear in their faces the marks of the sin and degradation of heathenism. Never have you seen so many people with defective eyes, with placid countenances, with deformed bodies.

An Italian physician who has been practicing medicine in Tunis for more than twenty years bears testimony to the universal prevalence of diseases of the most loathsome character. There is, of course, much of that in lands where Christianity has had a chance; this in spite of and contrary to Christian religion; but in the so-called Christian lands there is a better side of life, which grows in numbers and influence with the years, and which is bound to prove the saving quality in advancing civilization. The degradation, the filth, the squalor, the corruption of life in heathen lands is appalling.

Turning our faces from North Africa towards Europe, coming over the water of the blue Mediterranean, there grows in us the conviction deeper than ever before, that the need of heathen worlds is Jesus Christ. They need His standard of righteousness, His conception of the meaning of life, the touch of His great spirit as a means of uplift toward better things.

In Europe To-day.

Arriving in Europe to-day this one conviction is confirmed again and again. Europe presents the most pathetic and tragic story in all history. Night after night, hour after hour, we see literally train loads of wounded soldiers—men with one leg shot off, with both arms missing, with an eye gone, with faces and forms horribly mutilated, womanhood and motherhood outraged. Every sensibility in us cries out in protest. Can it be that such scenes as these are being enacted in the opening years of the twentieth century? It seems like a horrible nightmare. We had believed that it was too late in the day for such barbarities. This war is a crime against the century in which we live.

And, beloved, it is just as clear as the sun in the heavens that the great need of Europe at this moment is the need of the spirit of Jesus Christ—His spirit of forgiveness, His spirit of love, His spirit of universal brotherhood. The real difficulty is the vaulting of ambition, of selfishness, of pride, of hatred.

"The Hymn of Hate," born in Germany and echoed in the life and heart of all the other fighting nations is a disgrace to our modern civilization. It is utterly contradictory to the teachings and spirit of our Lord.

The radical error is that the belligerents are in the wrong attitude of mind and heart toward the eternal principles of right. Militarism, whether of the German, the French, the Russian, the English, the Austrian, the Italian, the Turkish, or the American type, must be smashed by the Christian sentiment of the world.

The time has come for Christian men to speak out. The man who is interested to revive militarism in this day and age of the world's history is a menace to human progress and an enemy to the advance of civilization.

If the warring nations could only be bathed in the spirit of Jesus Christ, Son of God, Master of men, the Man of Nazareth, the war would come to a speedy end.

Down then, forever down with militarism of whatever sort—and on, forever on, with the ideal spirit of worldwide brotherhood in Jesus Christ.

America's Responsibilities.

Turning our face upon all our dear land, we find the conviction of the need of Jesus Christ driven even more deeply into mind and heart.

It was almost pathetic to note the interest of the various nations in the question as to what attitude America would take when war was declared. In every country almost the first question was, "What does America think about this war? What will she do to help in the situation? What attitude may we expect her to take at this time?" The eyes of the world are upon America to-day.

A perfectly tremendous responsibility rests upon our own government in these critical days. The destiny of the great nations and of countless millions depends upon our taking the right course. The future of democracy is largely with us.

I thank God for President Woodrow Wilson! I thank God he is for peace! No President of the Republic has borne such responsibilities since Lincoln. Indeed, it may be questioned whether ever in the history of our beloved land have such world-wide issues hung in the balance. Every man of whatsoever faith, who knows how to pray, ought to bear President Wilson and those associated with him in the discharge of these fearful responsibilities, long and often to the throne of God.

There are no other two State documents in all the world, so far as I know, which approximate so nearly the teachings and ideals of the gospel of Jesus Christ as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States.

The American Republic and the Kingdom of God are the sisters of modern progress.

Oh, that our national leaders may see our opportunity in this hour and guide all our affairs for the advance of the kingdom!

There is but one hand adequate to the task of guiding our ship of state through these troubled waters. It is the hand that was pierced for the world's redemption. America needs Jesus Christ as never before. If America heed not the spirit of the Supreme Teacher in this critical hour, there is imminent danger that civilization will recede, that the dial will be turned backward, which marks the progress of the world toward better and higher things.

Let us bring the thought still a little closer. I am not unmindful of that tendency in modern theology to minimize the work of Christ; of that presumption on the part of many to set aside the atoning work of the Son of God.

But where is the man with hands so clean and heart so pure that he dare stand in the shining light of the great white throne? No—we have all sinned and come short of the glory of God. Let us be honest with ourselves and frankly admit that every man, woman and child needs Jesus Christ. This is the way of personal safety and of largest service as well, to our stricken generation.

One thing affords us great encouragement. It has been demonstrated as never before, that the Kingdom of God on earth is an absolute necessity to the life of man and to national and international progress. Instead of asking the question, whether the church is needed any longer, I say, when was the church ever more needed? The church of Jesus Christ upon earth is an absolute necessity. It is needed to keep humanity from rotting. Its great mission to-day is to bring sinning men to repentance and to keep repeating the angels' song of peace on earth.

What was it that shocked the civilized world last summer? It was the interruption of the forces which were contributing slowly and yet surely to the growth of this kingdom of God, by the breaking loose over Europe of the kingdom of hell. The cry of the war devil struck terror to all hearts the wide world round.

It rests upon us to preach this kingdom of God with a new confidence in its necessity, and by every possible effort to secure its establishment among the nations.

Men with the teachings and ideals of the Son of God upon their lips and with His spirit in their hearts are the true empire builders.

The way of permanent peace is by the path of democracy and not despotism. So long as the world allows the Kaisers and the Kings, the Caesars and Napoleons to play with its destinies, there will be war.

Is it not time for Europe to be rid of the tyranny of ambitious rulers and scheming diplomats that democracy may have a chance?

For, after all, the Kingdom of God simply means the kingdom of the people—the government of good will, "by the people, of the people, for the people."

It was for the purpose of building such a kingdom that Jesus Christ came among men and died for them. "For there is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved."

In this day of trial the living God is calling upon His church to know the time of His visitation and to prepare the way of the Lord.

He is manifesting His power in all quarters of the earth. Men who, yesterday, were scoffers, are to-day seeking Him and His church.

In America, thousands are finding Him, and cities are being stirred by revival fires.

In France the goddess of reason no longer satisfies the hearts and consciences of the people.

In China whole cities are turning to the cross.

In India the multitudes are flocking to Christ in greater numbers than the church is prepared to receive.

The heathen nations need Christ; Europe needs Christ; America needs Christ; every man and every woman needs Christ.

The world's regeneration is committed to Jesus Christ. The failure of the church to carry the redemption message means the receding of civilization.

To save America and the world is the business of the church and the gospel of Jesus Christ.

AUTHOR OF NARBERTH PAGEANT TO PRODUCE GREEK DRAMA.

"The Unknown God," a Greek drama dealing with the Apostle Paul's visit to Athens, by L. Eastwood Seibold, author of the Narberth Pageant was presented last Thursday evening at the First Baptist Church of Philadelphia. The scenes are laid within and before the palace of Diomachus, the Areopagus, and are extensive as well as sumptuous in style.

Mr. Seibold being an ardent follower of all that is new in stagecraft is making many departures in the production along the lines used by such men as Granville Barker and Max Reinhardt. The symbolic significance of color in the schemes of both scenery and costumes to further interpret the lines, has been carefully worked out and proves to be an interesting feature of the production. Mr. Seibold's costumes are magnificent in color and material. Mrs. Henry J. Seibold has arranged special music to be used in the production. The drama was preceded by a group of tableaux on Paul's early life, under the direction of Miss Arline Langworthy.

The cast included members of the Bible School assisted by the Eastwood Players, who gave their initial performance last March before the Philomusian Club on "The Vigil," an old English miracle play by Clarke Smith, of St. Luke's School, Wayne, Pa.

Then the "Strawberry Dansant"—with the music that has been provided, you won't be able to make your feet behave. Everything to make the evening an enjoyable one. The lawn will be brilliantly illuminated, and nothing will be left undone to provide for the comfort and pleasure of those who attend and all of this for a good cause.

ARE YOU PLANNING ANY SUMMER HOUSE DECORATING?

Amateurs who would not attempt to paint furniture need not hesitate if they really want some decorated for the summer home. The old-fashioned process of transfer pictures, or decalcomania, is being put to use again by the person not afraid to attempt this simple method of decorating. White black or gray enamel bedroom sets or single pieces can be decorated by the application of small Dresden flower patterns. One may have to hunt long through the assortment of transfer pictures to find something that will not be too large or grotesque, for this sort of decoration should not be overdone.

In summer homes there are no end of things to be decorated in this way. The backs of desks and dressing tables, chairs, trays, screens, wooden candlesticks, picture frames, mirror frames, workboxes and bookracks can all be decorated with these pictures.

This transfer process is easily done and inexpensive. The materials needed are the pictures, a transfer cement and a rubber roller, the kind used for rolling down photographs.

The varnish-like transfer cement is applied thinly for the pattern, and allowed to dry for ten or fifteen minutes. The transfer is placed in the position desired, on a smoothly finished surface, and rolled down, then wet and rolled off again. After removing the paper the surplus varnish around the pattern and the gum deposit from the paper should be cleaned away with a sponge saturated with benzine. Then the transfer should be gone over again with a soft, dry cloth, to remove any benzine.

The piece should be allowed to stand two or three hours before being finally coated with varnish to give it a pretty gloss.—N. Y. Tribune.

POSTAL SAVINGS SERVICE EXTENDED.

Every person in the United States ten years old or over may open an account in a postal savings bank after July 1, according to an instructive leaflet on the postal savings system just issued by Postmaster General Burleson, a copy of which may be obtained from Postmaster Haws by any one interested. This important extension of the service will be made possible by permitting persons living in communities so sparsely settled as not to justify the designation of their local post offices as regular postal savings banks to open accounts by mail.

Postal savings receipts have broken all records the past year. During the eight months prior to April 1 there was a net gain in deposits of $19,000,000, as against a gain of $8,000,000 for the same months the year before. Thousands of new accounts have been opened and the millions made up largely of hidden savings have been turned back into the channels of trade just at a time when there was pressing demand for every dollar.

THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE.

The ladies of the Community Club on Friday night, June 11, will give a strawberry festival on the spacious lawn of the Justice property on Narberth avenue—just above Windsor avenue. The fun begins at 7 P. M. sharp. Luscious berries a la Delaware, with the most delicious ice-cream imaginable and cake, well, the kind your sweetheart served you (made by mother). The "Banana Girl," in costume, singing the na-

DON'T LET GO.

A community without co-operation is like a boatman who has lost his oar. You can't imagine a more helpless case. Unable to get anywhere, there is no course but to drift with the ebb and flow of circumstances. Once lost, it is hard, indeed, to recover the oar. But surely we don't have to get into the dangerous plight. It's our own fault if we do. Co-operation, like rowing a boat, must be studied and learned. And we can only learn it through practice. The practiced oarsman never lets go of the oar. And if we would keep from drifting we must practice co-operation. Let's get practice and keep in practice. Let us pull together in everything that means progress for our home town. It's a case of sink or swim "together."—Exchange.

THINGS WE SHOULD'NT DO.

(A short sermon about faults that widely prevail.)

No one who reads the newspapers, or magazines or listens to the small talk and gossip that passes current in society, can fail to have noticed how much more there is of criticism and condemnation of people, and what they do and say, than there is of commendation. It is difficult to understand why this should be so, unless it is due to an unlovely trait of human nature. La Rochefoucauld says that we derive a certain sort of satisfaction from the misfortunes of our friends, and it certainly appears on the surface, that we find it at least more entertaining to recount and dwell upon the faults and foibles of the people we talk about than to say anything of their good qualities and actions, or to discuss those of whom only good can be said. Why is it thought interesting and spicy to listen to a recital of discreditable or doubtful doings and sayings of our acquaintances, and of those in any way conspicuous in the public eye, when mention is rarely made of their good attributes or praiseworthy deeds, and then they receive little attention?—Cincinnati Inquirer.

A TIMELY WORD ABOUT TYPHOID

Typhoid fever is a sanitary crime. It exists almost wholly because some people practice careless and unclean habits of living, and it can be prevented by the enforcement of well-tried and well-known sanitary measures.

The fight against typhoid and similar communicable diseases, is a fight against filth and uncleanness. Insist upon absolute cleanliness in everything associated with your food and drink, not only after it enters your home, but at its original source and on its way to your home.

The sources of milk and water supply should be frequently and rigidly inspected and kept free from typhoid contamination. If this is not done, an epidemic will break out sooner or later in the most spotless town or home.

Screen your food and your house and keep it and its surroundings free from disease and insect-breeding filth of all kinds, and insist that your neighbors do the same. They have no more right to assassinate you with disease than they have with a knife or pistol.

NOW IS THE TIME.

First in order this season it was "Batter up!" and now it is "Paint up and Clean up!" Both slogans are infallible tokens of the coming of spring. The one is universally welcomed for its delectable implications; the other will not be quite so welcome to the multitudes but it is at least as important. The one stands for sport and amusement, the other for beauty and safety.

It is time to furbish and scrub, to paper and paint, to cart away rubbish and patch up the gaps in the back-yard fences. The premises once made spick-and-span with'n and without, there will ensue a sense of righteousness that will be its own reward. Get out the hammer and tinker with the window boxes. Geraniums will bloom at the windows until the late fall and they always add a becoming touch of color.

Thorough attention to sanitary precautions now will save a lot of bad smells, and possibly a good deal of ill health, hereafter. "Clean up and Paint up!"—Boston Herald.

NEWS OF THE LARGEST BIBLE CLASS.

The Little Church on the Hill has again proved its claim to being the largest bible class on the Main line. The large attendance at the recent meeting was a great inspiration and the discussions a great help. Messrs. Mullineaux, Aikes and McAuliffe caused the leader to bring the discussion to an end on account of the time limit. Abraham, Isaac, Ishrael, Hager and Sarah were the subjects discussed and very interesting subjects they proved.

Genesis is one of the most interesting subjects in the Scriptures and contains a corollary to most of the texts of the Bible, so the topic embraced most of the present day religion, science, etc., etc., that the various thoughts brought to bear upon the subject.

The class musical will be the most interesting and enjoyable event of the year, as the class is preparing to have some extra fine talent.

A card has been prepared which combines the element of humor, with a very pleasant invitation to attend the Bible Class. It will be worth while for you to get one. Ask any member of the class for one. They are printed in red and black. The White Team will be pleased to give you a black printed card and the Red Team, not to be outdone, wants to present you with the red-y-card.

NARBERTH IS PLAYING STRICTLY AMATEUR BALL.

No Paid Players on List.

It was persistently rumored about town during the past week that Narberth was paying one of its players, despite a league rule to the contrary, but this is not fact, and "Our Town" is glad to present authorized interviews from Fred Rose, president of the Main Line League, Robert McCoy, President Narberth Y. M. C. A. Base Ball Club, and Dr. R. C. Hoffman, treasurer of the local club, to substantiate the truth.

President Rose says that if any one will bring accusations against any player of any team, he will put the player under oath and enforce the league rule of forfeiting the game to the opponent wherever the case is proven. He invites the co-operation of every fan.

President Robert McCoy says that no player on the Narberth list has received a penny for his services other than bare traveling expenses—a matter of cents—and a legitimate practice for all.

Dr. Hoffman says that his books are open for the investigation of any interested party and that he has not been authorized to pay, nor has he paid, any player on the Narberth list one penny other than the traveling expenses mentioned by President McCoy.

President McCoy further said that Narberth will jealously guard its reputation for playing any game it enters as a contestant in a sportsman-like manner, of keeping any agreement it makes, even though others do not; that it is the intention of the present management to play strictly amateur ball—as agreed to by all Main Line League teams this year—just so long as the other teams keep faith and just as much longer as it consistently can do so.

CONGRESSMAN KELLY PRAISES NARBERTH'S CIVIC SPIRIT.

The lecture given by Congressman Kelly, at the Y. M. C. A., on Friday evening was regarded by those who heard it as a rare treat. After listening to him for one hour, no one was at a loss to understand why he is so much in demand. In his opening remarks, he paid quite a compliment to the town of Narberth for the evidences he saw as he wandered about the town of the fine civic spirit manifested on every hand.

He made a vigorous attack on the liquor business as the chief enemy of national progress. He argued that we have a two-fold task ahead of us; first, to put the liquor traffic out of the Government, and, secondly, to put the Government out of the liquor business.

Mr. Kelly has been accused of being an idealist, but his idealism is the kind that has been absolutely essential in all ages for constructive statesmanship of the highest order.

At the close of the lecture, Dr. George W. Morrow, of Michigan, one of the leaders of the Anti-Saloon League, in America, was introduced and presented the business end of the movement.

Beginning June 1st, Mr. Kelly has lecture engagements for every night until the middle of September and is under engagement with a lecture bureau for two civic sermons each Sunday during the Summer.

Remember the date—Friday night, June 11. Remember the place, Justice 'awn, Narberth avenue above Windsor avenue. The occasion is the "Strawberry Festival."

SATURDAY'S GAMES.

Narberth Champions defeated the Wayne "Speed Boys" on Saturday by the score of 7 to 4 in a fast and exciting game.

The feature of the game was the batting of Captain Fleck with three hits, and Shortstop Turner with two hits, one being a home run drive. The team as a whole, with the exception of Simpson and Humphreys had no trouble finding the ball.

Gilmore pitched a good game, fanning 10 of the visitors. The score:

MONDAY'S A. M. GAMES.

Edward Ensinger banged out a single in the 13th inning in the game with Gulph Mills on Decoration Day, scoring Eugene Davis with the winning run.

Bob Hood started to pitch the morning game and went along well until the ninth inning when the visitors secured two runs on successive hits, which tied up the score. Until that time Gulph Mills collected only five hits off of Hood, but "Bob" weakened and the score was tied.

Then Gilmore, our reliable, came to the rescue and held the visitors to one hit in the four innings he worked. Narberth threatened to score in the eleventh, but the pitching of Blindt kept the local boys in check until the thirteenth. Eugene Davis received a base on balls, stole second, and was advanced to third on Simpson's hit. Eddie Ensinger had just arrived from the Haverford School where he had been taking an examination, and jumping into a suit, lined out a single, scoring the winning run.

The game was replete with many spectacular plays. Lawless prevented a defeat in the early part of the game by grabbing a fly right off the right field fence. Simpson's catching was notable, while Davis' playing at first was very spectacular. Manager Walzer tried to bring home the bacon in the ninth, but failed by fanning, after fouling off several.

The hitting honors went to Singleton with four hits out of five times up, with B. Dickie, Stites and Simpson close followers.

Captain Fleck poled a home run in the first inning with Durbin on second. The score:
