

GandhijiCalmOn Netaji Correctly Assesses Gains & Losses Of Congress Chungking regime. That regime, as you may be aware, was regarded by the late Roosevelt's administration as the Government representing the bulk of the Chinese fighting Nippon. Many qualified ob-servers including General Stilwell protested from time to time that the strength t Simla Breakdown Working Committee In Participating In Simla Confab The failure of the Simla Conference does not seem to have surprised or disturbed Gandhiji in the least, justifying that time contributed by America to Chungking might be used in civil war against Sino-Communists, but the protest was not heeded, and Stilwell was shifted from China, to placate, Chiang Kaj-shek.

Yenan, that is to say, from leader. Kuomintang Government to the Communist Government. It is as a result of this swing-over ernment at Chungking to the neglect of the Communists whose headquarters in Way whose headquarters is Yenan. The question now naturally arises, what has brought about this change in the American policy in China? The answer boucy in chinar the New York as given by the New York Heraid-Tribune is interesting. It says that the change is due to an increasing fear in the American political circles that discrimination in favour of the Chungking regime against the Chinese Communists might in-volve America in dangerous controversy with Russia.

The Americans are today in a rather unenviable plight in China. They, along with the British, rushed to the rescue of the Chungking regime motivated by only one thing—the dream not to offend the Soviet Union is all the greater at this moment, because it is steadily dawning on their minds that that he was in correspondence Inspiring Songs To Be Presented with the Government of India on the subject. their war against Nippon 18 Addressing a public meeting in Lahore, Pandit Jawaharlal going to prove a vastly more I o Netaji At Grand Musical Rally ruinous adventure than they had imagined a few months Nehrn stated that the Simla ty of India." A Grand Variety Entertainment, to dedicate these two songs to the ago. Conference had not tackled the great leader. They will be played by Of course, nobody is in a posibig problems of India, but had only opened a little window sponsored by the Azad Hind Newstion to foretell what the future the Syonan Ongaku-Kyokai durpapers with the active support of the ing the function. Mr. Kakinomotohas in store in the Pacific. But through which the Congress could see some way of solving one thing is certain. The end of the Pacific war will not lead to the hegemony of the Americans in the Far East. Bither the indemiteble smill of Shichiro is at present connected with Hodobu, will be held at 7.30 in the evening at the Dai Toa Gekijo on the Hodobu here. those problems. Saturday, 21st. July. 2605, the occasion being the presentation of two songs Besides this there will be as few items consisting of Indian Dances, music etc. This will be followed by Earlier in Simla, according to the New York Times Correspondent Tillman Durdin, Pandit Bither the indomitable spirit of "Chalo Delhi" (Delhi-Shingun) and "Conquer with Divine Fire" (Scika-yuku) by Mr. Kakinomoto-Shichiro to the Nipponese people or , the a slide show of Netaji's bust and the Jawaharlal Nehru, commenting my information goes. interference of Russia is going ceremony of the laying of the foundaon the breakdown of the Simla to frustrate Uncle Sam's greedy Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose who has tion stone of the Memorial to the Undesigns on the Far East. President Truman may change Conference expressed the fear kindly consented to grace the occaknown Azad Hind Warrior and a few that demoralisation among the sion. of the latest posters. people, administrative break-downs and eventual revolts would result from continued Roosevelt's policy in China, but The evening's programme will be that will not avert this in-evitable fate that is awaiting the United States as well as ment of India on a popular Britain Inspired by the unbounded devotion concluded by a show of songs of Greater East Asia in pictures. (Continued on next page) several other beautiful songs, desires only.

the strength, by America to ght be used in ieaders of the Congress could be depended upon to keep a level head and not to be carried away by extremities of pessim-Ism or optimism. From the very placate Chiang Kaj-shek. But now the pendulum of American regard is beginning to swing over from Chungking to

While Rajagopalachariar and Bulabhai Desaj cried themas a result of this swing-over that General Chennault has had to give up his important post in China, according to the New York Herald-Tribune. Chen-nault, we are told, was one of those who have stood out for backing the Kuomintang gov-

So now after the total failure of the Simla negotiations. Gandhiji is not in the least worried about the so-called impasse that seems to bother other Congress leaders so much. A New Delhi report says that Gandhiji left Delhi for Ranjganj on Tuesday. Earljer in the day, Gandhiji paid a visit to the Harijan Colony in Delhj, where he assured workers that he would carry on his constructive programme. Not a word about the complete or partial success or failure of the Simla Conference!

Congressmen Addressed

Addressing a large crowd of Congressmen at the Delhi rail-Govt's Future Role formed by Lord Wavell. In order to obtain that support it is the truth that hurts, then of dominating China economic- Simla to Calcutta, Maulana no apology is due from me. from the parties concerned, Lord Wavell wanted to consult them Before entering upon our subally and politically as soon as the Nipponese are finished. But Abul Kalam Azad declared that lect, let us remember the backbefore deciding on the strength the Congress Working Com-mittee had done the right thing after lavishing for this purpose their resources, for years on Chiang Kai Shek and his clique. ground once again. The background once again. The back- and composition of the new the administration of ground of the Simla Conference Executive Council. The Simla the following words:was Lord Wavell's offer, which at the Simla Conference, accord-Conference was, therefore, held "It (i.e., his offer) is not a ing to their faith and convic-he broadcast over the radio on tion. The responsibility for the failure of the Conference, he asserted, lay with the British Government. Maulana Azad further displayed that action of self-government. both Uncle Sam and John Bull on the 25th June and on subseare now coming to feel that all this help might perhaps lead, not to any profit, but to a quent days, in order to enable Lord Wavell to consult the parties whose support he was clash with Chinese Communists and their powerful patrons, the Soviet Russians. The anxiety of the Americans

In his exhaustive review of the Viceroy's offer leading up to the Simla flasco Netaji Subhas Chandra Bose, Head of the Provisional Government of Azad Hind, in a radio address to India yesterday correctly and masterfully assesses the gains and losses of the Congress Working Committee in their congress to participate in the discussion of the formation of the Committee in their eagerness to participate in the discussions on the formation of the proposed Executive Council.

The following is the text of Netaji's broadcast:

Sisters and Brothers in India! Tonight I shall address you again on the lessons of the Simla Conference. The subject is so important and we have so much to learn from this experjence for our future guidance. that I do not apologise for referring to it again. As human beings, we are all liable to make mistakes. But only those who learn from their past mistakes and resolve to avoid them in future can progress and prosper in life. It is, therefore, necessary for all Congressmen to put aside feelings of vanity, pride and self-esteem—as well as bias and prejudice-and make an objective and dispassionate study of the recent action of the Congress Working Committee in accepting Lord Wavell's offer and participating in the Simla Conference.

Profitable Study

This study will be successful and profitable, only if Congressmen are liable to study and analyse themselves and their leaders, just as disinterested outsiders would. In my study of the lessons of the Simla Con-ference. I shall be as frank and honest as possible-otherwise such an attempt will be of no use to anybody. In what I shall hereafter say, in case I hurt the feelings of any of my friends at home, I am asking for his pardon in advance. But in case

General's Executive Council. The the formation of the new Exe-basis of that offer—or rather, cutive Council, accepted uncon-the condition precedent to an ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in acceptance of that offer—was a pledge of whole-hearted parti-in the formation of the new Exe-tionally Lord Wavell's offer in advance. Only in the case of pledge of whole-hearted parti-in the formation of the new Exe-basis of that offer—was a pledge of whole-hearted parti-in the formation of the new Exe-tionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditionally Lord Wavell's offer in the construction of the new Exe-ditional the construction of the construction of the construction of the cipation in Britain's future war in the Far East.

Both Lord Wavell, as we'll as His Majesty the King of Britain. referred to the motives behind the British Government's offer and to the task for which the and to the task for which the bathing in the new incomposition of the Indian people was being asked for. Wavell as to its formation. Lord Wavell referred to them It is necessary to remember, in the speech which he broad-cast on the 14th June and men-cast on the 14th June and men-therefore, that when the Con-gress representatives attended tioned three points. Firstly, prosecution of the war against Nippon. Secondly, tackling of the problems of post-war reconstruction in India. And thirdly, preparing for a long-term, or permanent, solution of the In-dian problem.

His Majesty the King of Bri-tain referred to Lord Wavell's offer and to the Simla Conference in his speech proroguing the British Parliament on the 15th June, 1945.

What Acceptance Means

The acceptance of Lord Wavell's offer by the Indian National Congress and by other parties meant that they should give their fullest support to the new Executive Council to be vinces. And thirdly, further In-dianisation of the Governor- to advising Lord Wavell about ance of Lord Wavell's offer was conditional-because he made it quite clear, in advance, that though he would attend the Simla Conference, he could not commit himself about participating in the new Executive Council, or about advising Lord > the Simia Conference, they had already committed themselves to unconditional acceptance of Lord Wavell's offer. But in today's talk, I shall not deal with Lord Wavell's offer—as I have already referred to it exhaustively several times during the last four weeks. I shall only repeat that, in my view. the real motive behind Lord Wavell's offer was a twofold one -firstly, to secure India's whole-hearted participation in the coming campaign in the Far East-and secondly, to make India a domestic issue of the British Empire and thereby prevent other friendly powers from espousing the cause of India's independence.

In his opening speech at the Simla Conference on the 25th June, Lord Wavell referred to his offer and to his future role in the administration of India in constitutional settlement; it is not a final solution of India's complex problems that is proposed, nor does the plan in any Government. Maulana Azad further disclosed that as the Simla negotiations had not solved the political deadlock, he was taking up the matter of the opular ministries in the pro-destrous of securing, destrous of securing, final issue; but if it succeeds. I am sure it will pave the way It goes without saying that bring it nearer.....You must accept my leadership for the until there is some present, until there is some agreed change in the constitution. I am responsible to His Majesty's Government for the good government and tranquili-Though the words used by Lord Wavell were carefully chosen, nevertheless, the substance of his speech was, in my view, highly objectionable-and even insulting. It is strange that no adverse comment was made on that speech from any responsible quarter-so far as Friends! I shall now plunge into a consideration of today's topic. It is a good thing that the Congress Working Committee at its last sitting tried to assess the losses and gains Admission to the hall is by tickets resulting from its participation

Page 2

AZAD HIND

561

Br. Troops "Tolerated But Not Welcomed"

American Journal On Chennault's Resignation

Lisbon, July 16 (Domei)--The "New York Herald Tribune," commenting on the resignation of Major-General Claire Chennault as Commander of the United States 14th Air Force in China, today expressed belief that Chennault's resignation was prompted differences among American toward Chungking, according to New York dispatch.

The influential American journal said that there are many speculations concerning Chennault's resignation such as that his departure was motivated "by disputes over the use of supply lines, his inability to obtain gasoline for planes, controversies over basic policy and by his relegation to an inferior position through the appointment of Stratemeyer."

The "New York Herald Tribune' was inclined, however, to believe that the American air commander's resignation was prompted more by other factors.

Chennault in his efforts in China, the paper said, was to work in close cooperation with the government of Chiang Kai-shek and to do everything possible to strengthen the Generalissimo's army.

Chennault's policy has been in keeping with what America has been doing in China since last year, it said. The journal indicated, however, that this policy recently has been opposed American officials who fear that by too close American identification with the Generalissimo's army might embroil the United States in a war with Russia in the event Chiang Kaishek's troops should engage Chinese Communist armies in a civil war.

"It is thus possible that Chennault's difficulties are closely related to differences over basic policy, although this is by no means certain," the "New York Herald Tribune" commented.

Enemy's Wanton Raid Over Shanghai Area

Shanghai, July 18 (Domei)--Approximately 60 enemy Liberators and Mitchell bombers, presumably operating from Okinawa bases, indiscriminately raided Shanghai around 1 p.m. yesterday, July 17, raining explosives from above the clouds on the eastern part of the city as well as the industrial area in the Pootung sector. As a result of the enemy's wanton air attack many casualties were caused among Chinese civilians.

Rejection Of "Sri Lanka Bill Strongly Protested

Lisbon, July 18 (Domei)-The Ceylon State Council today passed by 31 votes to seven the motion, protesting against British Colonial Secretary Colonel Oliver Stanley's rejection of the "Sri Lanka" Bill, which demands full self-government for Ceylon and the altering of the

Netaji Correctly Assesses Gains & Losses Of Congress Working Committee In Participating In Simla Confab

(Continued from previous page) in the Simla Conference. Nothing has been given out so far, as to what conclusions were drawn by the Congress Working Committee—but the All India Radio special correspondent said authorities over America's policy that in the view of some leada ing Congressmen, the positive gain that has resulted was the cultivation of mutual esteem and friendship between the ich Viceroy and top-ranking Congress leaders.

Let us now ask ourselves as to what the respective losses and gains have been. Firstly, for the British Government. The British Government has been able to create the impression throughout the world that it made a generous gesture to the Indian people. The British Gov-ernment has also been able to "controversies over basic policy" than create an impression in some other factors. The fundamental idea followed by not the British who are standing in the way of India's free-dom, but the Indian people themselves.

That the British Government has been able to achieve this moral gain has been due entirely to the fault of the Congress leaders. Firstly, the Congress leaders did not expose the hol-lowness of Lord Wavell's offer. Secondly, they did not point out secondly, they did not point out that a national cabinet could not possibly be formed on a religious and sectarian basis. Thirdly, they went out of their way to praise Lord Wavell's sincerity. And lastly, they de-clared their unconditional ac-ceptance of Lord Wavell's offer.

Congress Commitments

While declaring their unconditional acceptance, they made it clear that they were prepared to work under Lord Wavell's Indian leaders has 'tost for India leadership and that they were ready to co-operate with the British Government, even if the clear that are the good will of the Big Three-on the eve of their meeting at Potsdam." other parties did not do so. In view of all these commitments made by the Congress leaders and in view of their uncondi-tional acceptance of Lord Wavell's offer and their uncon-ditional surrender to Lord Wavell, they cannot now turn round and blame the British Government.

The Congress leaders would have been entitled to throw the blame on the British Government if they had, at the outset. either exposed the hollowness of Lord Wavell's offer, or had, at least, pointed out that the Executive Council could not be formed on the lines indicated by Lord Wavell. The Congress leaders cannot even attack Lord Wavell personally for letting down the Congress at the last moment, because they have already praised his sincerity so loudly.

I have already said that behind Lord wavell's offer there started aggressive propaganda all over the world that the Indian problem does not represent a conflict between India and Britain—but between the Indian parties themselves. Judging from the echoes coming from different parts of the world, I must confess that British propaganda has already borne fruit.

Leaving the British Press alone, one finds that the press of the United States of America has taken the cue from British propagandists in commenting on the failure of the Simla Con-ference. Lord Wavell is being depicted as a sincere man and as a well-wisher of India-while the British offer is being des-cribed as generous. India's demand for complete independence has automatically receded into the background. For this unfortunate development, the members of the Congress Workthe ing Committee are entirely responsible.

I shall here quote a Damascus paper, "Alfeba," on the failure of the Simla Conference-which is typical of the genera" reaction in friendly and neutral countries.

"Damascus, July 15th: Com-menting on the failure of the Simla Conference, the newspaper 'Alfeba" writes today that India has lost an excellent opportunity presented with great generosity by Britain.

"If India henceforth continues to lament her fate, this will be due to her leaders, who bear heavy responsibility for the failure of the Simla talks, the paper adds.

British Triumph

From what I have said above, it follows that for those who are engaged in world-propaganda in support of India's ganda in support of India's independence, the task has be-come more difficult after the Simla Conference. It is also clear that out of the wreckage of the Simla Conference, the British Government has emerged with its moral prestige greatly enhanced. It is narticularly unenhanced. It is particularly unfortunate for us that such a development should take place on the eve of the Big Three Meeting in Potsdam. It will require hard labour and much effort on the part of Indians at home and abroad to bring the Indian issue before the bar of world-opinion again-just as it was prior to the Simla Confer-that the Muslim League has not

has not failed altogether. Bri-tish propagandists have already sometimes necessary in political sometimes necessary in political bargaining, should be an objectlesson to the members of the Congress Working Committee. All in all, Mr. Jinnah showed himself that he was a strong man, who knew his own mind and had a resolute purpose. What a contrast with some of our other volatile, chatter-box politicians!

That Mr. Jinnah has emerged out of the Simla Conference with enhanced prestige has been due also to the short-sighted-ness of the Congress leaders. It is because the Congress leaders now look small as politicians that Mr. Jinnah appears great, by contrast. There is no doubt that if the Congress leaders had played the part that was ex-pected of them, they would have towered head and shoulders above Mr. Jinnah and would have dominated the scene com-pletely, throwing Mr. Jinnah into the shade. In 1942, when Sir Stafford Cripps was in India, that was the position, because the Congress leaders were then so strong. At that time Mr. Jinso strong. At that time Mi. Shi nah waited to see what the Con-gress would do. And when the Congress notified its rejection of Sir Stafford Cripps' offer, Mr. Jinnah also did the same.

Congress Deceived

The British Government, too, has contributed to the enhancement of Mr. Jinnah's prestige. For instance, if the British Gov-ernment had adopted a firm attitude and if Lord Wavell had proceeded to form his Executive Council without the Muslim League, then Mr. Jinnah and his colleagues would have gradually faded into insignificance. Evidently, this is what the Con-gress leaders expected Lord Wavell to do. But they were so bamboozled by Lord Wavell that they forgot completely, for the time being, the fundamental basis of Britain's policy in India since 1906. That policy is to back the Muslim League against the Congress. under all circumstances

If the Congress leaders had not, allowed themselves to be fooled by Lord Wavell, they would not have been so jubilant and enthusiastic over his offer they would not have accepted Lord Wavell's leadership and they would not have offered unconditional co-operation to him.

While the Congress leaders were completely misjudging Lord Wavell and were building castles in the air. Mr. Jinnah was standing on "terra firma." Either he had secret informa-tion, or his political instinct told him, that if he stood out, the Let us now turn to the Mus-lim League. There is no doubt proceed Zurich, July 17 Soomei)-The Red Star mouthpiece of the Soviet Army, today denied the charge made Army, today denied the charge mate-by Richard Dimbleby, B.B.C. corres-pondent, that the entry of British troops into Berlin was "toleraed but not welcomed" by the Russians, acording to a Moscow dispatch.

The journal admitted, however, that there were "some real but not in-vented problems," such as that connected with the disarmament of Germany, which are a source of dissatisfaction to the Russians.

The 'Red Star,' in this connection, charged that German troops in Schleswig had not surrendered all their arms and that the Germans in Norway also had not completely disarmed and were living on a higher standard than the Norwegians.

The Soviet journal also declared that in the American zone of occupation in Germany, "some Germans are receiving permission to spread Nazi propaganda."

Harry Truman Appeals For More Rail Workers

Lisbon, July 17 (Domei)-Declaring that a grave shortage of manpower threatens to delay the shipment of war supplies to the Pacific, American President Harry Truman, in an appeal from Potsdam, venue of the "Big Three" talks, has called on all American citizens who can do so to apply for work on railways in the Western part of the United States, according to Washington despatch today.

The American President said that these railways need 65,000 men at once and "need them badly." He asked those already on these railways to stick to their jobs.

Enemy Admits Loss Of 291 B-29's In Nippon

Lisbon, July 17 (Domei)-An Offiial Washington dispatch received here today admitted that 291 Marianabased B-29 aircraft so far have been lost in raids against the Nippon Mainland.

KingLeopoldCan'tResume Constitutional Functions

Lisbon, July 17 (Domei)-Owing to the Belgian King's consistent refusal to agree to demands for his abdication, the Belgian Chamber of Deputies tonight decided by a vote of 98 to six that King Leopold cannot resume his constitutional functions until both Houses of Parliament declared that he is no longer in a position which makes it impossible for him to reign, according to a Reuter dispatch from Brussels. Thirty-two members abstained from voting.

