Vol. V is already issued, containing the New Testament, which can be supplied for £6. The first four volumes will appear in course of time, containing the Old Testament; and the sixth will be published last, with critical notes, lists of alterations, etc. The immense superiority of this famous MS. to all the other early codices may be conceived from the admitted fact that it was written in the fourth century of the Christian era. FIRST SUBSCRIBERS and SECOND SUBSCRIBERS.

The First Subscribers are those 1500 gentlemen whose names stand first on the Society's Books.

The rest are Second Subscribers, receiving quite distinct publications; and from the List of these will be filled up the vacancies which occur in the List of First Subscribers.

A First Subscriber can pay a double subscription, and be thus both a First and Second Subscriber; and so obtain all the publications.

ASIATIC Society of BENGAL:

90 JOURNAL OF THE ASIATIC SOCIETY OF BENGAL, complete from the beginning in 1832 to 1866, being Vols. I-XXXV, with the PROCEEDINGS, separately for 1865-66, in 24 Nos. 8vo. with all the numerous plates and Tables of Contents, UN CUT, quite perfect, excessively rare, £48. Calcutta, 1832-66

Published in the following order:—Series I, 1832 to Dec. 1838, 84 Nos.; Series II, Jan. 1839 to Dec. 1846, 89 Nos. or Nos. 85 to 173, Old Series; Series III, (publishing at the present time), 1847 to 1868, in which the old numeration stopped short at No. 297, being the end of Vol. 33, 1864. In 1865 the Society commenced to issue the Journal in two divisions; I. History, Literature, etc.; II. Physical Science; and in this order it has continued to be published. In 1866, the Proceedings commenced to be published separately, a number every month. It is necessary to make this statement, in order to prevent any mistake arising from the manner in which the Journal is at present published, as, now that the two sub-divisions are made, the numeration is wholly destroyed when the volumes are bound.

All the early volumes are out of print in Calcutta, and sell there at exorbitant prices. The Bengal Journal is a continuation of the “Asiatic Researches,” it is a most valuable periodical, devoted to Oriental Literature, Science, Antiquities, Geography, Art, &c. No public library can do without this important work; it forms, with the Asiatic Researches, one of the noblest monuments of British dominion in the East.

91 GLEANINGS IN SCIENCE, a monthly periodical, in 3 vols. 8vo. numerous plates and woodcuts, £3. 12s Calcutta, 1829-31

These Gleanings, edited by PRINSEP, formed the forerunner of the Bengal Journal, and copies are now of the utmost degree of rarity.

- "This work, edited by the late Dr. Morrison, contains a great variety of valuable and curious papers."—MacCulloch.
- This periodical is of great importance to Oriental scholars ; its scarcity is so great that few of the public Libraries of England can boast of complete sets ; on the Continent the work is vainly sought after. Abel Remusat could never get sight of it ; and complains of it in his preface to his Chinese Grammar. China is a world of its own on this Globe ; so much independent thought and so many wonderful achievements in Arts, Literature, and Industry, are entirely peculiar to the Chinese, that European readers will derive the greatest interest and profit from the careful study of this "Chinese Repository," which embodies the most accurate information on the Celestial Empire.

"This most important publication consists exclusively of Historical Works never before printed. Its value, therefore, in a historical collection cannot be over-rated. The cost of its publication was enormous, and was defrayed by the State. The several volumes are of the greatest value to the politician, diplomatist, the antiquarian, and the civil and ecclesiastical historian, edited as they are with notes and illustrations by THIERRY, BARANTE, MICHEL, WEISS, MIGNET, GÉN. PELET, MICHELET, &c."

"Dom Rivet de la Grange was the principal author of the Literary History of France, of which he edited the first nine volumes. This is a most valuable and learned work, to which we have not as yet any sufficient good parallel in England. All the authors of France, with their works, are there classed and passed in review: and this too with a display of learning and candour infinitely creditable to the writers. Many brethren of the Benedictine order contributed to this work."—H. L. Jones.

- 527 ——— the same, Vols. 7—12, 4to. vellum, £7. 10s 1793-95
The above interesting collection of Periodical Writings is of the greatest rarity. Thorpe, in one of his Catalogues, states that a gentleman had assured him he could meet with but one copy in his travels through Spain, for which he was asked upwards of £30. Its rarity may be imagined from the fact that Bollaert (Antiq. Res. Peru. p. 141) states that it lasted three years, and consisted of nine volumes. He says, "this learned work met with great opposition, more especially from the church." It is generally found defective, and copies vary to a considerable degree. Some Nos. have been omitted, while the pagination remains correct; and sometimes there are two with the same No., although the text runs on correctly. The last part of Vol. XI is number 382, yet the first of Vol. XII. receives the number 583, from which the numeration proceeds to the end (No. 611), although nothing is deficient. The periodical seems to have been produced under great difficulties and discouragements; it was suppressed by the Spanish government, as the enlightened opinions which the French Revolution had first set afloat were winning popularity amongst the educated youths of Spanish Peru. There is a sort of indignant bitterness in the title of the last volume which is stated to be "dado a luz por uno de los individuos de la Sociedad."

- 635*— the same, Vol. III, roy. fol. containing the General Introduction and Indices, bds. 36s 1816

When the latter volumes, titles, indexes, etc. were put forth, but a very limited number were printed on Large Paper, and the early vols. being all of that description, copies too frequently present an unsightly combination. The vols. here are all, as they should be, uniform in size, and the copy possesses the leaf in the "Exon Domesday," which, when the work was about to be printed, was discovered to have been abstracted; not very long ago, after many years of absence, this leaf was accidentally found, miles away, among some family papers, and then printed. In every way this is a very desirable copy of "the most valuable piece of antiquity possessed by any nation."

Almost every page of Dugdale's Baronage may be referred to as evidence of the importance of this census to the Genealogist.

record of property possessed by any nation in Europe, whether we consider the extent, the variety or the importance of the information it contains. In this inestimable survey, the various manors are arranged under the names of the tenants in Capite, who were those who held of the King as the supreme lord of all the lands in England; thus exhibiting in the clearest manner the original distribution of property, at the time of the Conquest, throughout the kingdom; and presenting us with a view, which is nearly complete, of all the persons who, in the first twenty years after the Conquest, formed the Barons of England—the progenitors of those who, in subsequent times, were the active agents in wresting from King John the great Charter of our Liberties.”

- 643 ——— the same, Vols. I—XIV, 4to. Hugh Cuming's copy, half calf, contents lettered, £70. 1843-64

This work was introduced at the commencement of the year 1842, with a view of forming a complete illustrated encyclopædia of Shells; the undertaking being mainly stimulated by the vast amount of new and imperfectly known materials collected by Hugh Cuming, Esq., during two prolonged voyages of fourteen years duration, in both the old and new hemispheres. The zeal and excellent discrimination with which the researches of this eminent naturalist were prosecuted, especially in noting localities and circumstances of habitation, have added a value to his collection far beyond that of any hitherto formed; and the friendly interchange of specimens effected since his return to England, with various Museums and Collectors both in Europe and America, has furnished his cabinet with nearly all the desiderata, which either did not occur to him in his travels, or are inhabitants of those regions he had not the opportunity of visiting. The perfect condition in which Mr. Cuming's specimens are preserved, is another feature in the collection which renders it peculiarly serviceable for the purpose of illustration; and the author of the "Conchologia Ironica" has not failed to embrace this opportunity of presenting each species in its finest state of preservation, and of the natural size, excepting those which on account of their minuteness, require the assistance of the microscope.

Of the species hitherto published so large a proportion are new to science, and the number recorded under the head of each genus, exhibits so material an increase upon any former or contemporaneous list that the author might be supposed to have exercised more freedom in the introduction of new species than the nature of his materials permit; he however states, that every species underwent the test of a rigid comparison, and none is recorded as new, but those which seemed to have a character sufficiently permanent and unapproachable.

“Mr. Roach Smith has brought to his task a thorough and familiar acquaintance with the writings of Roman and Greek authors, which enables him to interpret at a glance the significance of isolated and otherwise inscrutable facts and illusions. But besides these acquirements he possesses an enthusiastic spirit which has neither been daunted by opposition, nor chilled by indifference ; and to this we owe the results recorded in his splendid volumes. How many thanks are due from all historical and antiquarian enquirers to Mr. Roach Smith for his public-spirited labours ! Fortunately, he needs no other memorial than this his greatest work, to attest his labours and services.”

The Spalding Club, which has done so much for Scottish Antiquities, has just completed a magnificent and valuable work, The Sculptured Stones of Scotland, under the able editorship or rather authorship of Mr. John Stuart, secretary of the Club and of the Society of Antiquaries of Scotland. This work, the first volume of which was issued in 1865, consists of an extensive series of lithographic plates, representing stones which exist in Scotland, as well as of illustrative specimens from the neighbouring districts of England. In addition to these are plates of ornamental metal work and of MS. decoration from the early Irish Books of the Gospels. A long and elaborate introduction by Mr. Stuart enters fully into many questions which originate in a consideration of the art and intention of these interesting memorials, and is characterized as well by learning and research, as by a thoroughly common-sense treatment of the subject.

"It is in this Pictish district of Scotland that the most interesting of the memorial-pillars, figured in The Sculptured Stones of Scotland, are found."

SPANISH Academy:

OBRA publicadas por la REAL ACADEMIA DE LA HISTORIA.

- 722 AJBAR MACHMUÂ (coleccion de Tradicones) Cronica anonima del Siglo XI, dada á luz por primera vez, en Arabigo y Español, anotada por Lafuente y Alcantara, impl. 8vo. pp. 265 and 165, sl. 14s Madrid, 1867

The Spanish transcription of the title somewhat disguises this valuable work, which would in France or England be called the 'Akhbâr Madjmû'a'. It contains a history of Musliman affairs in Africa and Spain from about the year 70 to 150 of the Hedjrah, and involves a mass of geographical and other matter, for which special appendices are annexed. The work was compiled in the eleventh century from the popular traditions and official authorities which related to the conquest of Spain, as well as the political and literary history of the conquerors.

Only one old copy of the original Manuscript is known, from which two transcripts were made in recent years. Don Emilio de Lafuente died a short while since; but this volume remains an ample testimony to his great learning and ripe scholarship.

It is published by the Spanish Royal Academy of History as the first volume of a "Coleccion de Obras Arábicas de Historia y Geografía."

- 723 ALFONSO EL SABIO (el Rey) Las Siete Partidas, cotejadas con varios codices antiguos, 3 vols. 4to. sd. 28s 6d Madrid, 1807

Best edition of this famous and remarkable code, with the variants at foot of each page. It is a monument of Language as well as of Legislation. See a long description in Purton Cooper's Catalogue of the Spanish Law books in Lincoln's Inn Library.
