The New-Orleans Bee.

NO. 1258. Vol. X.—NEW SERIES. Vol. XXIII—Whole No. 6307.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE ..... NEW-ORLEANS, TUESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 13, 1850.

MAGNE & WEISS, Proprietors, NO. 83 CHARTRES STREET.

TERMS OF THE BEE.

DAILY PAPER, one year in advance,) $12 00
DAILY PAPER, six months, } 7 00
DAILY PAPER, semi-weekly, one year, 5 00
Subscribers must give one week's notice before their paper can be allowed to discontinue.
WEEKLY PAPER, One Dollar for every TEN lines of Advertising, for the first insertion, and FIFTY CENTS for each subsequent insertion. No Advertisement to be taken for less than one dollar per insertion.
Advertisements not having the number of insertions marked on them, will be charged until forbid, and charged accordingly.
Advertisements not exceeding TEN lines will be charged as a square.
The Proprietors of the New-Orleans Daily and Weekly Bee, and General Advertisers, solicit the attention of Advertisers to the fact that the Bee is the largest paper published in New-Orleans, and in extent of one square every other paper published in the city.

One New-Orleans Daily Bee.

Official Journal for the State, General Council, First Municipality and Board of Liquidators.

Tuesday Morning, Aug. 13, 1850.

☞ The mail came through yesterday, with a full budget.

LEADERS OF THE DISUNIONISTS.

There is a blustering class of politicians in the South who seek for compensation by the fullness of their lungs for the emptiness of their brains, who brawl about dominion, mouth and rant concerning chivalry, and modestly appropriate to themselves the courage, the patriotism and the loyalty of the entire slave-holding community. These heroes of the pen and tongue are ever in the Cambyssean vein, brimfull of wrath and fury, as interesting in their ire, and as bombastic in their rage as Ancient Pistol. They think, or seem to think, that no man can be true to the South unless he is willing to break up the confederacy; and in the extravagance of the self-delusion they fancy that they are entitled to the appellation of "Southern-rights," and that every citizen of a slave-holding State who advocates the settlement of the Southern question by compromise, and the maintenance of the Union, is necessarily and invariably a Free Soiler.

We have on many occasions remarked the great prudence with which the dominion press of Carolina and Mississippi has attached the epithet of "Free Soilers" to the people of Louisiana, because they have steadfastly and unanimously sustained the Compromise bill, and have always entertained and denounced all efforts to create sectional strife. We have recently remarked these exhibitions of skill and prescience (we contemplate them as such, since the hate and the fear of Louisiana as a slave interest in slavery as South Carolina is all-sufficient and overwhelming refutation of the stupid slander that would impute to her the smallest sympathy with Free Soil principles. None but a mison-struck madman, who thoroughly coveted with the insane notions of South Carolina, could possibly harbor the thought that Louisiana is not as truly Southern in her feelings as any of her sister States; and we won't waste the dream of arguing to prove the fact. Those who would set to work to convince a man of sound mind that his senses would be subverted by using his eyes. If those who regard Louisiana with Free Soilism are not idiots, they are hypocrites or cowards. If they are neither idiots, hypocrites nor cowards, they are deliberate villifiers of their country, and as such are entitled to the execration of the people. The patriotic question may take which ever form of the common-place. Either will be the burnt quite as much in accomplish their purposes, whether knave without them equally well.

The first among the turbulents of our State, is a paper published at Natchez, called the "Free Trader." In view of its peculiar [illegible] we should rather be tyrannical "Slave-Trader." Its every paragraph is imbued with an [illegible] of the Union. New Orleans [illegible] is the object of its [illegible] and [illegible] with an [illegible] of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]