CHINA WILL YET LEAD THE WORLD

SAN FRANCISCO EDITOR IN OPTIMISTIC MOOD

Flowery Kingdom Will Have a Million Trained Soldiers
Within Few Years.

"To-day China has an army of 100,000 men, drilled in all the latest tactics of European nations and armed and equipped with everything of the latest in the military world. This army is being increased steadily both in numbers and efficiency, and in eight or nine years from now it will consist of a million men in the regular army, besides an immense reserve force which will be well drilled and ready to meet any foe." That was the opinion expressed by Ng Poon Chew, managing editor of the San Francisco Chinese daily newspaper, Chung Sai Yee Po.

Mr. Chew is an optimist of the most advanced type. He is a large man physically and a broad man mentally. He has a thorough grasp of the English language, speaking it very fluently, and has also a grasp of world politics, and the factors which make for the building up of a nation.

"In ten years from now," continued the editor, "China will be the most progressive nation upon earth, not one of the most progressive, but 'the most progressive.' The reason I am able to make this statement is because there are factors at work which are bound to bring about this result. China was at one time the most advanced and highly civilized nation on earth, and now that she is awakening she will again take the lead. There are at present something like 400,000 men, mostly youths, who are working to uplift China. They are willing to shed every drop of blood in their veins in order to bring about the desired result. The number devoting themselves to this object is fast increasing, and in ten years the country will be strong, virtuous, educated, armed and able to lead the world."

"We have 400,000,000 people in our country, and the land is still sparsely settled. Manchuria, which we expect to win back, is scarcely touched, and the land is among the most fertile in the world. China is not thickly settled. She has only 97 inhabitants to the square mile, whereas Belgium has 600 to the square mile.

"China's great hope is in education. Recently the educational system of the country has been re-organized. The old system has been discarded or modified to bring it into line with the rest of the world. We now have a system of examination of teachers and normal training without which no one is allowed to teach. This we expect will have a great effect on the regeneration of the country. Add to this the building of railways, of roads, of telegraph lines, so that communication may be opened up and the old dialects broken down, and with the young men devoting themselves to the building up of their country, and we have factors which are bound to bring great results."

NEW POST FOR LORD KITCHENER

Will Be Head of Organization to Have Special Care of Imperial Army.

London, Aug. 7.—Lord Kitchener, commander of the British forces in India, has been appointed to succeed the Duke of Connaught as inspector general of the Mediterranean forces, which post the Duke recently resigned on the ground of "the ineffective nature of the work and the useless expense to the nation involved therein."

Lord Kitchener will take the rank of field marshal, and also becomes a member of the committee of imperial defence. The inspector-general of Malta command of the garrisons at Malta and Gibraltar, and all the British troops in Egypt, the Sudan and Cyprus.

The appointment of Lord Kitchener is coincident with added importance being attached to the post. The Duke of Connaught, in an official announcement, said: "In view of new developments in the organization the Mediterranean command assumes increased importance, and will be taken up by Lord Kitchener with the object of giving it its proper place in the scheme of imperial defence."

It is understood that as a result of the imperial conference which is now sitting it is intended to co-ordinate all the military forces of the Empire and place Lord Kitchener at the head of an organization having the imperial army for its special care. As a preparation for this work, for which he has gained valuable experience in India on vacating the Indian command in September, Lord Kitchener will go to Japan to represent Great Britain at the Japanese grand maneuvers in November, afterwards making a tour of Canada, Australia and New Zealand to study the military organizations and consult with the colonial governments concerning them.

AN OPEN BRIDGE BUT BAD TERMS

E. & N. MAKES OFFER WHICH IS REJECTED

Company Desired City to Abandon Case Before Railway Commission.

The Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company has offered to allow citizens to use the bridge, but one condition it desires to impose was enough to ensure the prompt rejection of the offer. Mayor Hall read a letter at the streets committee last night which he had received from Superintendent Beasley. In it the company agrees, temporarily, to allow the use of the bridge if the city will build steps from Johnson street up to the footway, fence off the path so that pedestrians cannot get on the track, and put in a means of passing under the trestle on the reserve from the south side of the track to the old Cringlow road. The public are to understand that they go on the bridge at the city's invitation, not the company's. The swing would remain open after 7 p. m., unless the city made arrangements to keep the watchman there later. If this offer were accepted the company would expect the city to discontinue the application to the Railway Commission. It was understood that the city claimed a right of citizens to use the bridge; this the company positively denied. The company reserved also the right to cancel the privileges at any time.

His worship said that on receipt of this letter he thought it was not what the city wanted and he instructed the solicitor to reply that the offer could not be accepted.

The members of council, all of whom were present, unanimously endorsed his worship's action.

There was some pretty caustic comment from aldermen in regard to the lack of reciprocity shown by the company in view of the permission given to the company to lay its tracks on Store street. It was sarcastically suggested that the company would be closing Store street to the public next.

MOVING PICTURE RESULTS IN DIVORCE ACTION

Husband Thought Wife Was Visiting Spokane, But She Was in San Francisco.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Seattle, Aug. 7.—Frank W. Shire, an electrician, went to a five-cent theatre on Second avenue one night last September and what he saw there caused him to apply in the Superior court today for a divorce. The pictures represented San Francisco at that time. The Spokane boys were marching down Market street, while crowds packed the sidewalks. In the throng Shire saw two familiar faces. One was his wife, supposed to be visiting her sister in Spokane. The other was a man who formerly romped with the Shire home. They stood close together and laughed and gesticulated. Then the picture faded, the lights came on, and the show was over.

Three weeks after that Mrs. Shire returned home. She told with much elaboration of detail of the pleasant visit she had enjoyed with her sister in Spokane. Shire listened interestedly, but said nothing.

Finally, a month later, he accused her of her alleged perjury. A scene followed and she left home. The husband waited, in forgiving spirit, for his wife to come back, he says. But she never came and so today he is asking the courts to grant him a divorce.

CANADIAN RIFLEMEN WARMLY WELCOMED

Members of Bisley Team Arrive at Montreal—Blackburn's Shooting.

(Special to the Times.)
Montreal, Aug. 7.—Members of the Bisley team who arrived here last evening were given a great reception. Sergeant Russell, speaking of Blackburn, said:

"One of the most remarkable things of the whole competition was the wonderful shooting of Sergeant Blackburn, who went over unattached. His shooting was wonderful. The scores called show perhaps six bulls and magpies, but you have to be on the grounds to appreciate what this means, on a day when the air is misty, a wind blowing enough to deflect the bullet a foot, and other conditions too numerous to mention, which may or may not prove unfavorable. A man who can go on notching up bull after bull the way he did, is a wonder."

ADVERTISING REVELSTOKE

(Special to the Times.)
Revelstoke, Aug. 7.—As a result of a meeting of the Board of Trade with Mr. Robson, head of the C. P. R. advertising department, it has been decided to erect immediately a publicity building at the railway station in which will be exhibited products of the district and photographs of the principal scenic attractions.

TARIFF RATES NOT LOWERED

DEMOCRATIC LEADER ON THE PAYNE BILL

Declares Average Duties Are About 26 Cents Higher Than Dingley Rates.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—In discussing the Payne tariff bill, Champ Clark, Democratic leader of the House, stated that the attempt of the newspapers to prove that the tariff revision was downward could not succeed, as the average rates of the Payne bill are about 26 cents higher than the Dingley bill. Clark said that if the maximum rates allowed by the bill go into effect the last day of March, 1910, the average rates of the Payne tariff bill will be about 27 per cent above the average of the Dingley rates.

BRITISH ASSOCIATION

Members Who Will Attend Meeting at Winnipeg Are Beginning to Arrive.

(Special to the Times.)
Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Rev. Dr. Bryce, of Winnipeg, president of the Royal Society of Canada, was in the city yesterday on his return from England, where he has been in touch with officers of the British association, which will meet on the 25th of this month in Winnipeg. The attendance will probably reach 300 or 500 from across the Atlantic, and every ship that now arrives at Montreal brings a number of members who are making side trips on their way to Winnipeg.

MARITIME LAWS

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 6.—The Sailors' Union for the Pacific has endorsed the proposed conference for a revision of the maritime laws of various nations so that the penalty of imprisonment now imposed on sailors who desert their ships will be abolished.

The conference, which is to be held under the auspices of the International Transportation Workers' Federation, will take place in July, 1910, at Copenhagen.

FRENCHMAN BREAKS AEROPLANE RECORD

Reported to Have Remained in Air for Two Hours and Twenty-seven Minutes.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Paris, Aug. 7.—The aeroplane record for sustained flight was won today by Roger Somers, a Frenchman, if the flight credited to him at Mourselon-le-Grand proves authentic. It is reported that he remained in the air 2 hours 27 minutes and 15 seconds. This is eight minutes longer than the best official flight of Wilbur Wright, made at LeMans, France, on January 1st, of this year.

Somers maintained a height ranging from 60 to 100 feet above the ground during his flight. During the early part of the aerial voyage, his speed was much retarded by the sagging of a linen under-plane. This was finally cut by the propellers and the speed increased.

The machine with which the aviator made his record is of the Voisin type, and is one of the best aeroplanes yet seen in France.

When Somers began his flight at 3:14 a.m. the moon was shining brightly, and the movements of the aviator and his machine as it sped through the air were plainly visible to the scores of watchers standing below. As the time lengthened and Wright's record time for a sustained flight was neared, the crowd below cheered, and when it was announced that the record had been broken the crowd went wild with delight.

GREECE MUST NOT INTERFERE IN CRETE

The Porte Threatens to Break Off Diplomatic Relations if Demand is Refused.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Constantinople, Aug. 7.—The Porte has sent a note to Greece demanding a formal declaration by that country of non-interference in Cretan affairs. Diplomatic relations will be severed if Greece refuses.

The situation is to-day considered very grave.

POLICE SEARCH FOR "BLACK HAND"

GUARDS PROTECT HOME OF FORMER MAYOR

Another Threatening Letter is Received by Resident of Los Angeles.

(Times Leased Wire.)
Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 7.—Mysterious blackmailers, who recently sent threatening letters to three prominent citizens of Los Angeles, became active again last night and delivered another letter demanding money on penalty of death to former Mayor Wm. H. Workman.

The letter was barely legible, and like the previous ones, was written partly in German and partly in English. The foot of the grimy page was decorated with a crude drawing of the black hand. The communication, in part, reads as follows:

"The black hand—We expect the black hand $5,000 of you. You leave the money this month over Hollenbeck park, left side. Find you a hole on Boyle avenue where we come after the money.

"If you don't leave that money we will murder your family. You have two children and we are after those in particular. We will follow your wife day and night and will try to murder one of your family.

"Again, we are after your children and wife, and will get them if you don't leave the money in that hole near Hollenbeck park. We are after you for years to come.

(Sgd.) "Black Hand."

Murder was one of the least crimes threatened by the epistle in the event that its demand was not complied with. Residents of the Boyle Heights section, where Workman lives, are thoroughly frightened by the repeated threats that are being made by the blackmailers. Many appeals have been made to the police that additional protection be given the neighborhood.

EVIDENCE SHOWS HE LEFT COEUR D'ALENE STATION WITHOUT ORDERS

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 7.—The coroner's jury at Coeur d'Alene investigating the collision on the Coeur d'Alene and Spokane electric line last Saturday afternoon, when fifteen lives were lost and 100 injured, last night reached the following verdict:

"We find that the collision was caused by the running of special train No. 5 out of the Coeur d'Alene yards without orders on the time of the regular No. 29 from Spokane; by the failure of the conductor and motorman of special No. 5 to register on the schedule; by the failure of the conductor of the regular No. 29 from Spokane to register for the motorman, and in not requiring brakemen to be informed of the contents of train orders."

The testimony showed that while the extra had no right to leave the station at Coeur d'Alene until the east-bound regular had arrived, it pulled out, intending to wait on the "Y" at the edge of the yards. Motorman Campbell ran past the "Y" and the collision followed.

JAPANESE BEGIN WORK ON RAILWAY

Military Forces Will Prevent Any Interference by the Chinese.

(Times Leased Wire.)

London, Aug. 7.—The foreign office to-day received advices from Tokyo saying that the Japanese this morning began work on the reconstruction of the Antung-Mukden railroad, in accordance with the ultimatum sent to China yesterday.

Japanese military forces, previously dispatched to the scene, are guarding the work, and the Mikado's men are prepared to rebuff any attempt to interfere with the Chinese.

Days' Fighting.

(Times Leased Wire.)

He says that 35 officers and 150 men have fallen into the hands of the Moors, who tortured them before putting them to death.

Lieutenant Shackleton to Begin Lecture Tour Next March.

London, Aug. 7.—Lieutenant Ernest H. Shackleton, leader of the recent South Polar expedition, has undertaken an extensive lecture tour in the United States and Canada, beginning in March, 1910. The Daily Express reproaches the British government for its ingratitude in declining to contribute to the cost of Lieutenant Shackleton's expedition, though he was saddled with a big deficit, and thinks the British public will not permit or countenance such conduct.

LIPTON COMING TO CANADA.
St. John, N. B., Aug. 7.—Col. Hugh McLean, who arrived here from England yesterday, where he had been before the Privy Council, announced that while dining with Sir Thomas Lipton, that gentleman told him he would be in Canada this autumn. Sir Thomas expects to spend some time in Canada, visiting Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa and other western cities.

MOTORMAN RESPONSIBLE FOR FATAL WRECK

(Times Leased Wire.)

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 7.—The coroner's jury at Coeur d'Alene investigating the collision on the Coeur d'Alene and Spokane electric line last Saturday afternoon, when fifteen lives were lost and 100 injured, last night reached the following verdict:

CHANGES SEAT IN BOAT WITH USUAL RESULT

Frail Craft is Capsized and Woman Loses Her Life.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 7.—A sad drowning accident occurred yesterday at Navy bay, near the Royal Military College, whereby Mrs. Charles Steer, 1546 Broad street, aged 35, and the mother of five children, lost her life. She, her husband and Samuel Murray hired a boat at Bowman's and started for a row. They got over into Navy bay, and there Murray, who had been rowing, got up to change with Steer. As the men were standing up the frail craft upset, and all were thrown into the water. Murray was able to save himself. Mr. Steer was saved by Ernest Stanbridge. The body of Mrs. Steer had not been recovered.

Ottawa, Aug. 7.—Two sons of L. Beaudry, of 332 Montreal, were strangely drowned at St. Eugene. ## HILLSIDE AVE. OWNERS PROTEST

ALD. BISHOP WANTS AN INVESTIGATION

Re-opening of Water Main Trench a Live Subject—Meters Carelessly Laid.

"What this city needs is a waterworks engineer."
This statement of Ald. Ross, which his colleagues generally agreed when he made it at the meeting of the streets committee last night, is not only a bit of advice which will appeal to the taxpayers, but also explains to a large extent, if not entirely such engineering mismanagement as the re-opening of the trench on Hillside avenue and the repeated lowering of improperly-laid mains on Linden avenue, McClure street and Cross street.

It is a week since Mayor Hall termed the news story published by the Times, based on the complaints of residents, regarding Hillside avenue as "illy," "foul," "absurd," but the residents are still complaining and voiced their grievance through one of their representatives, Ald. Bishop, last night, fully bearing out the accuracy of the Times' story. It is a week since Water Commissioner Raymond, assistant press censor, gave the explanation that the trench was filled in for the public convenience. That the public is not convinced by the condition of things today was made plain.

"There are twenty-six openings on Hillside avenue in which the water department is making house connections," said Ald. Bishop, delaying the committee at the close of his business to make his complaint. "These are causing a lot of inconvenience to the residents, the street is in bad condition and it is sometimes impossible for people to get to their residences. A number of complaints have been made to me. Four streets leading across Hillside are blocked. I would like to have the engineer look over the street and make a report on its shameful condition. I would like, too, to have some explanation why the water-main was not tapped and house connections made before the trench was filled in at those points."

Ald. Hamber, the other representative of Ward II, added his entire acquiescence with Ald. Bishop's statement.

"I can give you the explanation," said Ald. Ross.

"He was asked by several aldermen at once to let them have it."

"What this city needs is a waterworks engineer," continued the junior member for Ward I, and his remark was greeted with approving nods and comments.

The Mayor smiled incredulously. "Why, it has been under an engineer, one of the best in the country. Mr. Adams," said he. "He was here to look after it."

"Well, I want some inquiries made to satisfy the people," said Ald. Bishop. "It is not right that the connections were not made at the time, and this expense saved."

C. E. CONVENTION FOR WINNIPEG

ARRANGEMENTS FOR GATHERING IN 1912

Rev. Herman Carson Has Returned From Visit to East.

Rev. Herman Carson, pastor of the First Congregational church, has returned to Victoria after a five weeks' holiday. He visited his old-home near Montreal and also paid a visit to New York.

On his way east, Mr. Carson attended the Christian Endeavor convention at St. Paul, where he had the pleasure of hearing some of the best orators of the day. He was greatly charmed with W. J. Bryan as a speaker, ranking him as one of the most impressive public speakers he has listened to.

Rev. Dr. W. F. Wilson, the Canadian speaker made a great impression at the convention, Mr. Carson says. He was given probably the best reception of all the speakers.

During the convention the fifty or more Canadian delegates were photographed together with Dr. Clark, the father of the Christian Endeavor movement, who is himself a Canadian. Steps were taken by the Canadians to have a grand convention in Winnipeg in 1912 at the time of the big exposition there.

Mr. Carson, on his way back, came through the Canadian prairies. The residents of those provinces were all highly elated over the prospect for the harvest. The crops were all well advanced and gave promise of a bountiful harvest. Showers throughout the summer had had the effect of keeping the fields green and a record crop is looked for.

COMPANY ANXIOUS TO AVOID STRIKE
Willing to Arbitrate Differences With Street Railway Employees.

(Times Lensed Wire.)
Chicago, Aug. 7.—At noon to-day President Mitten of the Chicago City Railway Company, issued a statement declaring that the railway company desired to avoid a strike and calling attention to the clause in the contract with the employees, providing for the arbitration of all disputes.

He explained that the company is willing to arbitrate all its differences with the men under the provisions of the contract. The statement outlined a wage scale, acceptable to the company, showing that the first year the men receive 25 cents per hour with increases until after six years they reach the maximum of 80 cents an hour. This, he said, would make an average wage of 28.24 cents per hour after the scale has been in operation six years, while the present average is 26.96 cents per hour.

Mitten strongly urged peace and reiterated his desire to arbitrate with the men and use every means within his power to avoid the strike. After the statement was made public a conference between Mitten and the presidents of the local unions was postponed until later in the day to give the labor leaders time to consider Mitten's remarks before entering the meeting.

Steamer Montague, which is due here to-day, was not reported at noon to-day. She left Yokohama on July 26th. She has 185 tons of silk and 1,500 tons of other overland cargo, as well as passengers.

The Newest of Gift Goods Is Deposart

The word is derived from "Deposit" and "Art," and this ware is so called because it consists of fine china and glass on which gold and silver are deposited in artistic designs. The precious metals are burned into the article in such a way as to become part of it, and will not scrape off.

Fancy a tea set of white china with a design in pure gold—silver ribbons on an emerald green glass claret jug—cream jug or white glass and silver, etc. They attract attention at once, they are new, and will prove most acceptable wedding presents.

FAVOR GOVERNMENT

BY THE PEOPLE

Japanese Noblemen Urge Number of Changes in Korea.

Tokio, Aug. 7.—The great Korean association, an association of Japanese noblemen, has passed a series of resolutions urging the following points: The using of the Korean police force to tranquillize the rebellious Koreans. The granting of the rank of honor to those who are public spirited and have done something to advance the Korean kingdom.

The compelling of all Japanese officials to be more courteous and kind towards both Japanese and natives. The taking of steps by the new resident general to bring about a government by the people in contradistinction to the plans of the late resident general to centralize the government in the king and his advisors.

PICKETS ARRESTED

AT GLACE BAY

Taken Into Custody on Charge of Loitering on Streets.

Glace Bay, N. S., Aug. 7.—Pickets for the U. M. W. may find that the law considers them to be mere loiterers. Thirty-four men were arrested at Number 2 mine Thursday night, charged with loitering on the streets. These men were at the time doing picket duty. In Glace Bay there is a by-law which prohibits loiterers on the streets after midnight. The Dominion coal police, who are county constables, gathered in the U. M. W. pickets at No. 2. The U. M. W. says the police committee had no authority to appoint the police who made the arrests. The thirty-four pickets will be tried on August 16th, when judgment will be delivered, an appeal perfected and the causes entered on the county court docket. The men are now out on bail.

Orders of ejectment against three of the Dominion Coal Company men were granted by Judge Finlayson. Ejectments may therefore be made within a day or two.

More men are reporting for work, but there is little change in conditions at the collieries.

WOMAN DECIDES TO WAVE EXTRADITION

Alleged Street Car Swindler Will Return to Seattle to Stand Trial.

Oakland, Cal., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Maud Johnson, the alleged street car swindler, stated yesterday that she will go north with the Seattle officers who arrive Monday, without compelling them to take out extradition papers.

When the woman is taken north to face the charge of swindling the Seattle Electric Company out of $600, which it is stated she got for fake injuries, her husband, Frank Johnson and his brother Luther, will be taken along. Mrs. Johnson is confined to her bed in the Merritt hospital and is said to be really sick. She was taken suddenly ill several days ago and probably will not be able to accompany the officers to Seattle for a week at least.

HELD FOR CRIME COMMITTED BY DOUBLE

Guilty Man Finally Arrested and is Given Term in Prison.

Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 7.—William Ranft, who has just been released from the city jail, when he had been confined for two days, realizes that there are pleasanter things in life than having a double.

Ranft was arrested on a warrant issued at the instance of Louis Cuvresau, and when he was arraigned in the police court he was identified by the complainant as the man who had stolen a quantity of launch tools. The prisoner declared that he was innocent and that he was satisfied that a man that looked like him was the guilty party. So earnestly did he talk that the police judge decided to give time for further investigation. Two detectives were detailed on the case and they arrested Wm. Lewis, finding some of the stolen property in his possession. The resemblance between the two men was most striking. Lewis was convicted yesterday and sent to jail, while his double walked from the court room in a dazed condition.

Signor Matteucci, director of the Vesuvius observatory, is dead. During the great eruption of 1868 he remained at his post in an atmosphere that was almost unbearable calmly recording his observations while villages on the side of the volcano were being buried under ashes.

A MOTHER'S LETTER.

Mrs. Samuelle Vigneau graphically describes the illness and the recovery of her daughter.

All Mothers Should Read.

DAUGHTER OF MRS. SAMUELLE VIGNEAU, MRS. SAMUELLE VIGNEAU, Amherst, Isle de La-Madalin, Can., writes:

"I write to tell you that I am perfectly well. I took only three bottles of your Feruna according to your advice and the directions in your book, and it restored my health. It also cured my daughter, who is 17 years old. She took one bottle according to directions. I assure you that no doctor is equal to your book and your advice. I have recommended your remedy to a number of persons."

A Woman's Remedy. Mrs. A. E. Stouffer, Capoma, Kansas, writes: "Feruna has given me health and strength; it is the best medicine that was ever made for women. My friends say they never saw such a change in a woman. I cannot say too much for Feruna."

NAVAL DEFENCE.

London, Aug. 7.—Sir Joseph G. Ward, premier of New Zealand, speaking at a luncheon yesterday tendered by the Imperial Co-operation League, said there were different conceptions of naval defence: Some considered it should be controlled by one central authority, while others considered that there should be local navies, but the value of such a conference as that upon which they were engaged was to consider all these points and evolve some final system which would be best in the interest of the Empire. He also alluded to the cheapening of cable communication as a means of bringing the people of New Zealand closer in touch with the Mother Country.

CENTRAL YARD IS MUCH NEEDED.

ALDERMEN TRYING TO SECURE A SITE

Condemnation of Yates Street Buildings Brings Matter to a Head.

The question of a central yard for the safe storage of civic property has been discussed more than once by the city council, but has become pressing since the fire chief warned the council that the condition of the buildings in the Yates street yard were a menace to both the valuable property of the city and about the pumping station and the adjoining property.

Prompt action was taken on this by the council nearly three weeks ago, by ordering the removal of the cause of complaint within seven days. The taking of the moss off the roofs, where its presence is in defiance of a by-law, and removing the forge of which Chief Davis complained, should be easy—but neither have yet been done. The point of difficulty, however, is the necessity of getting stabling for the horses now stalled at the yard. In view of this it is now necessary to have a committee consisting of Mayor Hall, Ald. Turner and City Engineer Topp have been looking at some sites and reported last night.

His worship stated that the committee had been offered the Worthington property on the waterfront, opposite the electric lighting station, for a reasonable sum. The property contained 268 feet by 120 feet frontage, and could be had for $35,000. There was a rental of $120 or $130 a month from the wharf and warehouse, which would still continue.

Ald. Stewart was emphatic against purchasing any restricted space, and insisted that a yard should be purchased where all civic material could be stored, apparatus properly housed and workshops built. He pointed out that watering carts for instance, stood out in the contractor's yard all winter exposed to the weather, and it was the same with other city property. Five acres was not too much, and this could certainly be obtained at a reasonable price at a convenient spot.

Ald. Raymond suggested that even on such an area as the Worthington property a stoutly built three-story warehouse would shelter all supplies and apparatus. Several suggestions were made by aldermen as to sites and the matter will be further looked into by the committee.

WILL NOT PAY $11 FOR BRICK

COUNCIL REFUSES TO CONSIDER TENDER

Brick for Sewers Will Be Bought in Open Market as Hitherto.

The city will go on purchasing brick in the open market. Whether it will continue to get that material for ten dollars a thousand is another question.

At the streets committee last night the purchasing agent and engineer reported on the three tenders for one million brick for sewer purposes which have been received. These were three in number—Sidney Island Brick Co., $11.25; Victoria Brick Co., $11; and Baker Bros., $11. It was recommended that the contract be divided between the two city firms, at $11 per thousand at the kilns.

Ald. Mable and Ald. McKeown moved and seconded the acceptance of the tenders.

In reply to Ald. Ross the excess of cost if concrete was used instead of brick was given as $25 for each one hundred feet.

Ald. Henderson and Ross proposed an amendment that no contract be entered into but that the city continue to buy at the same price as formerly from local brickmakers, month about.

There was some discussion as to whether the city would continue to get brick at the old price, seeing that when tenders were called for the price jumped $1. As Ald. Mable put it: "Which is the best business, get brick by contract at $11 or have to pay $12 later?" The vote on the amendment was as follows:

Aye—Henderson, Ross, Bishop, Humbert, Fullerton—5.
Nay—McKeown, Stewart, the mayor, Mable, Raymond—5.

Ald. Turner, as chairman, decided the tie by voting for the amendment.

This will be engrossed, and following the etiquette in regard to such matters, a copy will be submitted to His Excellency in advance.

BACK FROM TRIP

Victoria Party Returns From Tramp Along West Coast Vancouver Island.

Mrs. Lewis Hall, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Brown and Mr. R. Morrison returned on Thursday evening from their walking trip up the West Coast, having visited many points of interest, including Port Renfrew, Carmanah and Pacheia light house, Banfield, Toquaht, Wreck Bay, Long Beach, etc.

A visit to H. C. Brewster's cannery at Clayoquot, where there are over eighty men employed, was of great interest to the party, who watched the process of canning the salmon from the time they were taken off the scoops until the cans were sealed. In the streets committee last night the purchasing agent and engineer reported on the three tenders for one million brick for sewer purposes which have been received. These were three in number—Sidney Island Brick Co., $11.25; Victoria Brick Co., $11; and Baker Bros., $11. It was recommended that the contract be divided between the two city firms, at $11 per thousand at the kilns.

The scenery up the coast is said by the party to be on a very magnificent scale, and a climb of four miles to the top of San Juan mountain well repaid them for the exertion it entailed. Mrs. Lewis Hall and Mrs. J. G. Brown are the first white women who have ever gone over the trail and Mr. R. Morrison had the distinction of being the third white man.

Everywhere the pedestrians were received with the greatest kindness and hospitality and so far from being unduly fatigued enjoyed the trip immensely.

At Sechart the party enjoyed the unique experience of seeing the whaling station in full swing, five large whales having been caught the night before.

At Alberni, Mrs. Hall, Mr. Brown and Mr. Morrison assisted at a local concert which was largely attended, coming down next day to Nanaimo by automobile and reaching Victoria from thence by train, having enjoyed to the utmost every one of the sixteen days they were away.

The illustrated song, "I Never Knew I Loved You," is a good one, and will be sung by Miss Kneeshaw.

CATHEDRAL CHURCH TO BE PERMANENT

Resolution Passed at Vestry Meeting to Be Sent Canon Beanlands.

At a meeting of the vestry of Christ church held on Thursday night it was decided that steps should be taken to have the necessary legislation introduced into the legislature to constitute for all time Christ church as the cathedral for the diocese. This was done on the suggestion of Bishop Perrin who explained at length the situation. On December 7, 1885, Bishop Hills nominated Christ church as the cathedral of the diocese "until such time as he or his successor should find it necessary or expedient to make any other disposition." The time had come when it was felt that the church should be constituted the cathedral permanently.

With the concurrence of the vestry legislation would be also necessary. The bishop proposed that he should undertake the office of rector during the interval without emolument so that most careful arrangements might be made for preserving the rights of the parish and establishing a constitution for the cathedral.

The church wardens and the church committee, it was explained, were agreeable to the plan suggested. A resolution was passed on motion of A. P. Luxton and A. W. Jones, expressing the approval of the vestry to the plan. The bishop announced that he had appointed Rev. W. Barton, M. A., of Chemainus, to act as curate, and Rev. J. Grundy had expressed his readiness to give all the assistance in his power to the work. Mr. Barton hoped to be able to commence work on the first Sunday in September.

The question of the building of the new cathedral was discussed, but it was felt that it would be better to wait until the question of the cathedral had been settled before a general appeal was made for funds.

The resignation of Canon Beanlands was made the subject of a resolution proposed by E. H. Hiscocks, seconded by A. J. Hollier. It was as follows: "Resolved: That the parishioners of Christ church have heard with sorrow the letter addressed to them by their rector informing them of his resignation; that they sympathize most sincerely with him in his domestic affliction and hope that his brilliant powers will soon find their fullest exercise in new fields of work."

"It is no doubt true that no man ever leaves a vacancy which can not be adequately filled, but his parishioners fear that all the rare qualities which have endeared him to his congregation and made him so prominent a representative of the church in the eyes of the public, are not likely to be again combined."

"They feel that his work and his life here have left a mark upon the social life of the town which will not readily efface, but will rather deepen as their value is better realized."

His resignation, though apparently long contemplated by himself, has come rather as a surprise to the parish, and it is felt that with so great a distance parting their rector from his people no adequate expression of the deep feelings experienced by them can be made by any formal resolution.

"However, in the absence of the possibility of a personal meeting, the churchwardens and church committee as well on behalf of the parish as themselves, most heartily wish him God speed and the quiet enjoyment of many years of useful life."

At the conference many papers were read, in which he took a part in the discussion. Among them were: "How best to raise the standard of police efficiency in towns," by Chief Jamieson of Whiteby, Ont.

Another paper before the convention was "The main provision for a remedy for evils arising from the burlesquing of the police and police court proceedings by the press and the stage." The convention while not seeing any way to alter alleged conditions agreed that the press should always stand in, with and help the police.

KELOWNA WINS WITH KEOGH UP

CAPT. BURNETT BEATEN EASILY BY MILL SONG

Flavigny Disqualified and Loses Third Place to H. Rogers.

The break down of Capt. Burnett after the race, the second defeat of Philistina by Milpitas, Kelowna's superior in 7 furlongs, and the disqualification of Flavigny in the one and a quarter miles, were the principal events of yesterday's card at the Willows, which was run before the largest Friday attendance of the meeting.

Capt. Burnett, well backed by his owner and ridden by Lycurgus, went to the post a favorite over Mill Song in the mile and seventy yards. Lycurgus pushed the horse all the way and took too much out of him at the beginning, while Archibald judged his pace to a nicety and beat him on the home run, going easily while Burnett was laboring. Later a veterinary was sent for as the horse required attention from injuries sustained in his efforts to win.

Milpitas again beat Philistina over six furlongs, but the bad actor did not get away too well and was cut off coming into the turn and stumbled. Had she got a clear run it is probable she would have beaten Archibald. Five lengths to the bad at the back straight, Philistina made a strong late run and overhauled May Pink, and was but two lengths behind the winner at the finish.

Kelowna repeated his previous running this week and beat the field easily over six furlongs. With Keogh up the horse was made a favorite.

Miss Hotchkiss and Miss Ryan Defeat Miss McFadden and Miss E. Baillie.

(Times Leased Wire.) Tacoma, Wash., Aug. 7.—Walter Fitz and Sam Russell, the Seattle pair, won the Pacific northwest doubles championship yesterday afternoon by defeating Breeze, of Tacoma, and Gorrill, of Oakland, in a stubbornly fought match that when the full five sets, The scores were 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0.

Gorrill and Breeze tired in the last set and got only a half dozen points all told. Joe Tyler, of Spokane, went into the finals of the men's singles by winning from Dorman, the Tacoma man, 8-6, 7-5, in the prettiest match of the tournament. Dorman was within one point of winning the first set, at one time, and took the first four games in the second set. Tyler played magnificently when in danger and drew out of the hole. The Spokane player will meet Sam Russell, of Seattle, in the finals this afternoon.

Miss Hotchkiss and Miss Ryan won the women's doubles championship by defeating Miss McFadden and Miss E. Baillie, of Tacoma, without great difficulty. The scores yesterday were: Men's singles—Dorman (Tacoma) beat Rhodes (Vancouver), 6-0, 7-5; Tyler (Spokane) beat Dorman (Tacoma), 8-6, 7-5; Russell (Seattle) beat Gorrill (Oakland), 4-6, 6-4, 7-5. Women's singles—Miss Hotchkiss (Berkeley, Cal.) beat Miss Kerahaw (Tacoma), 6-0, 6-1; Miss Ryan (Santa Monica, Cal.) beat Miss McFadden (Tacoma), 6-1, 6-2.

Men's doubles—Russell and Fitz (Seattle) beat Breeze and Gorrill in the finals, 4-6, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 6-0. Mixed doubles—Miss Ryan and Tyler beat Miss McFadden and Dorman, 6-0, 6-4.

Women's doubles—Miss Hotchkiss and Miss Ryan beat Miss McFadden and Miss E. Baillie in the finals, 7-5, 6-1.

HOW BOXERS TRAIN FOR PRIZE FIGHTS

Moving Pictures Next Week Will Show Burns and Johnson.

If the shade of Ned Broughton, Tom Cribb, Jack Randall, or even Tom Sayers was to come back as a visitor to the training quarters of their modern prototypes, what would their comments be on the methods followed by up-to-date glove artists while preparing for a battle?

In days of old the pugilistic gladiator went through a gruelling process to harden him for his encounter, not the least essential feature of which was the pickling of his "maiwies" to fit them for the fray. The ancient fighter's training was guarded as jealously as state secrets, and he was usually housed in some isolated spot where visitors would not distract him from the serious business at hand.

But the twentieth century boxer spurns such self-mutilating practices. His training is conducted luxuriously in some accessible modern hotel where between hours devoted to exercises he can entertain admiring friends and lib. Tommy Burns and Jimmy Britt introduced to England the "Ladies Day" at training quarters—this being a weekly day set apart specially for those of the gentler sex who delight to see vigorous manhood in the course of making.

Burns in Australia advanced even on this innovation, as the pictures of the famous Burns-Johnson fight show. Burns' training operations are surrounded by bevy of beautifully dressed women who seem to take as much interest in the process as those of the manlier sex who gallantly line the background. But the climax of this social character, to a boxer's gymnasium life is reached when the pictures give us all the details of the garden party given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Burns by the guests of the Medlow Baths, a fashionable mountain resort for ease-loving Sydneyites. Here we see Burns and his wife arriving in their motor car and being received by a galaxy of beauty; escorted to tables where tea a la fresco is served to all. All these incidents take place while Burns is actually training for the most important contest of his career. One peep at such a scene would be enough to make Jim Belcher, in his day the Beau Brummel of the ring, or "Gentleman" Jackson turn in their graves. They had no moving pictures to preserve for posterity the rigors of their training, but if they had the contrast with the pictures of Burns and Johnson in training would reveal the higher social calibre of the modern pugilist and his greater refinement of surroundings.

BASEBALL PLAYERS TO GO EAST.

(Times Leased Wire.) Portland, Ore., Aug. 7.—Ed. Kinsella has been secured by the St. Louis American League team for delivery next spring. President Hedges and Scout Dick Padden picked the Northwestern pitcher and were so anxious to secure him that Judge McCredie agreed to the terms offered. According to the agreement reached between Hedges and McCredie, the Portland club is to receive $2,000 cash for Kinsella in the event that he makes good, and two players whether he does or not.

The New York American League team has secured the services of the Pacific Coast League slugger, Ote Johnson, Portland's third baseman and captain. The terms are not given out.

FRIDAYS AND WARDS DRAW.

The Frisbie and North Ward teams played a hard game last night at Beacon Hill. The final score was six runs each. The game was continued to try and find a winner until dark, but when the light failed the score still stood at the draw.

HUGH D. MCINTOSH. Who Promoted and Refered the Burns-Johnson Fight in Australia, Which is Being Presented by Moving Pictures at Victoria Theatre on Monday and Tuesday Evenings.

Keogh rode the horse to win as Cain wanted him to. Public opinion was that Keogh had ridden several favorites without wanting them to win. Keogh, however, rode a good race yesterday and won according to instructions. Harlan posted Kelowna at 8-5, while the others had the horse at 2-2. The final price was 9-5.

The one and a quarter miles was responsible for the second disqualification of the meeting. Flavigny, which ran third, was disqualified for interfering with Harry Rogers coming down the home stretch. He kept bothering Ogile's horse until fifty yards from home and was brought before the stewards present, who gave third money to Harry Rogers. The race went to Footloose, with Rama second. Archibald's mount ran into the lead too soon and had no the pace left to beat Footloose.

Ketchel was the one horse in the five furlongs and getting off well, won easily from Quality Street and Mr. Hove. Escalante beat David Boland and Beaver Dam Lad in the first five furlong race. The latter horse was claimed from the race by J. Krause, who will try to make a racer of him. P. Pink bid Ketchel up to $400 after the second race, but the owner out-bid him. Mr. Pink then claimed Quality Street from W. Durker for the selling price and the value of the purse.

Joseph Weber left last night for Helena, Mont., where he will start at a ten-day meeting. He will then return to British Columbia and assist E. Dwyer at the Vancouver meeting. After getting through there he will come to Victoria to start at the annual fair races for which he has been engaged.

Details of yesterday's races are:

First race—Five furlongs. Selling. Three-year-olds and upward. Value to first $150. Horse and Jockey. Op. Cl. LOU NORDYKE LEAVES VANCOUVER BEAVERS

Dickson Will Now Have Sole Charge of Baseball Team.

(Times Leased Wire.) Spokane, Wash., Aug. 7.—Lou Nordyke, manager of the Vancouver Beavers, who led the team to the championship of the Northwestern League in 1908, will be a member of the Spokane Indians after Sunday. He will go to the coast with the Indians Sunday night, and will wear a Spokane uniform in the game at Seattle Monday.

"Buck" Connors, the premier slugger of the league, who has been holding a bench job for the local team for the last few weeks, while Fred Weed has been playing first base in a sensational manner, will join the Vancouver team and leave with them Sunday night for the coast.

This trade was completed yesterday, and the release bids contracts placed in the hands of the respective managers. Dickson will take sole charge of the Vancouver club from now on.

Victoria the Aristocrat

(BY E. M'GAFFEY IN CANADIAN MAGAZINE.)

She waits beside her sunny sands,
Her flowered helms, her orchard trees,
A jewel of the western lands,
A sovereign city of the seas.

The Blue Pacific's pacing brine,
Eternal watch and vigil keeps
O'er Her, who seems in shade or shine,
Atlantis, risen from the deeps.

Victoria, Vancouver Island, is a city of kaleidoscopic changes. From one view-point it is a commercial city;
from still another it is a city of homes,
and from yet a third it appears as a great shipping port and gateway of commerce. But in one sense, and keenly individualistic one, it is only Victoria the Aristocrat.

Perhaps the very name itself, suggestive of the famous and well-beloved Queen, invests the city with more than an ordinary distinction. Or it may be that the location of the capital at Victoria, carries with it more or less usual sense of noblesse oblige. And it is quite probable that the presence among her citizens of scions of the old families, of retired army and navy officers, who have taken up their residence in the city,
adds perceptibly to the feeling of exclusiveness which invests her inner circle.

At any rate from the heights of Dunsmuir Castle to the vicinity of Gorge park, from the towering massi-veness of the Empress hotel to the far outlook from Beacon Hill, there is a Victoria which stands aloof, proud
as Lucifer, haughty as De Guiberti, Saxon and Norman in its heritage,
ancient and indomitable in its spirit
of reserve.

The very situation of Victoria argues a certain exclusiveness, isolated in by the ebb and flow of the Pacific, her gateway is the sea, and the stately ships that swing across her ocean threshold break the waters
of one of the loveliest of harbors.
Against the far sky-line loom the snow-crowned Olympics, white as though the foam of billowed centuries lay stranded on their steeps. Below,
the straits of Juan de Fuca shine,
gray-lined at times, with vagrant
white caps, but for the most part blue with the serenity of unruffled peace.

Over the straits the gulls dip, rise,
and follow the passing steamers, while myriad wild-fowl in rhythmic and rapid flight curve sharply to right or left as the boats go by. Always to the shores of the very Island itself,
be it the feeling of something set apart and imperial, a beauty beset and bejewelled with the unusual and the thrilling. An aristocracy of nature, lavish as sunshine, boundless as the billows, with sea and sky and smiling
fields to intensify the vision.

Where the broad ocean leans against the land, in the residence district famous Victoria alone, are the houses of which so much has been written, and which have in their surroundings so much of what is the essence of Victoria the aristocrat.
Here of a verity are old places that breathe the airs of Arcady, that have the dignity of ancestral acres, that present an environment and tone
all that might be sought for as ideal.

Walled in by battlements of granite,
or green-bulwarked with hedges
against the eyes of the idly curious,
these picturesque residences stand, with sea and mountain in the background,
pictures of home-likeness and loveliness. City by the sea, peace, and perfect spring day can their charm be imperfectly gleaned. They have too, in sharp-edged suggestiveness, the seal
of the aristocrat:

"That repose,
Which stamps the caste of Vere de Vere."

Laws that are velvety pages of emerald, written over by wandering sunbeams, chased with shimmering shades, silent in the surrounding silence, great trees cathedral under the noon-day skies, and hedges that divide beds and parterres of bewildering color, changing and sparkling in myriad dyes, blindingly brilliant in their diversified hues. Gay as a peacock in its plumage, the tulip cup out to the sun, white daffodils, lilies, pansies,
and a host of other blossoms and buds twinkle out from the edges of paths and arbors, making a veritable vision of delight.

A bird's song drops like a sudden pearl of a bell. Outside are the broad boulevards, gray with powdery
dust, stretching towards the bustling city; highways of progress and modernity, now scoured by the flight of a whizzing automobile, now echoing with the staccato sound of hurrying hoof-beats. Inside are the flowers and the brooding hedges, the sheen of close-cropped grasses and sun-inqui-etted tree-trunks, rest, peace, and sweet seclusion: There you may see the gleam of a child's dress, and hear occasionally the music of children's voices among the trees. And peeping over some high-barred gate you may see them playing among the paths
and around the lawns and flowers, themselves the rarest of all buds of promise:

"Do you love me, little children?
O sweet blossoms that are curled,
Life's tender morning-glories
Round the casement of the world."

And the presence of demure maidservant or following attendant proclaims that they are watched over and guarded carefully from any intrusion or molestation.

Many of these old houses have their names at the gates, and at some the house of the lodge-keeper stands inside the gates. If you would see the master of the household, you shall perforce pass the inspection of the lodge-keeper himself. No raucous ringing of jangling bells, no pressure of electric button, but sedately and seriously must you present your creentials, and not unless you are to the manner born, and duly accredited, and a friend of the family and expected, will the vigilant sentinel of the gates allow you to pass.

The Parliament buildings are one of the most important architectural adjuncts to aristocratic Victoria, both from their spaciousness and beauty,
and from their magnificent surroundings in the way of grounds. They remind the sightseer, from the United States of the noble outlines of the Capitol buildings at Washington, although their situation and environment are greatly superior.

From their front entrance a magnificent view is had, taking in the harbor, and beyond, the hill-tops
and mountains and country farther on. In these halls the elect and select of the aristocracy and electorate gather to discuss the destinies of the provinces, and the archives of the years rest securely within their keeping. Prominent among resident Victorians who assemble at the Parliament buildings is the Honorable Richard McBride, K.C., M.P.P., Premier and Minister of Mines. Able, tactful, and eloquent speaker and natural leader of men, the Premier exerts a far-reaching and salutary power over the affairs of the province and a corresponding influence on Canadian statesmanship.

The Empress hotel, the million-dollar C. P. R. hosiery overlooking the harbor, rises impressively among flower-studded surroundings. Its dining-room is one of the handsomest in the world and its rotunda one of the most sumptuous; its outlook,
commanding the varied scenery of sea
and mountain, gives it a uniqueness distinct in character among many noted Canadian stopping-places, and its register holds the signatures of many celebrated and famous men and women.

Dunsmuir Castle, lordly in its wide acreage of hill-tops and slopes, is ob-servable from all points of altitude in the city, and takes the imagination back to the castles of England and Scotland, the roses of York and Lancaster, and the golden days of chivalry and crusade. Nor is there lack of uniform and accoutrement in the atmosphere of Victoria to lend an aristocratic tinge to the ensemble. Khaki-clad soldiers meet you at the street corners, with waxed moustaches and squared shoulders, proud in their consciousness of being among the country's defenders.

Trim sailor-boys, laughing middies
and naval recruits may be seen occasionally, and every enthusiastic Victorian is counting the hours until the station at Esquimalt harbor, with blaze into its old brilliance, with men-o-war at their moorings, and the glitter and attraction of a full-fledged
naval power illuminating the shores.

At Point Macaulay, near to the splendid golf links, the heavy sieg
guns, watch-dogs of the coast line, sentinel the holding day and night. At Signal Hill and Red Hill defensive artillery crowns from the heights. The soldiers' barracks are visible from the city, and the combination of Tommy Atkins and Jack Tar, dear to all patriotic Englishmen, is so much a part and parcel of Victoria life that its exclusiveness distinguishes the city's social blend perceptibly.

And certain retired officers, men
who wear scars and have seen service,
are to be found now very amiably
enjoying the balmy sunshine, digging peacefully into divers flower-beds instead of into the enemy's vitals and infact, smoothing the grates of change of war with the harmless though necessary weapons of the garden-builder.

Victoria's parks are another angle of her aristocratic belongings. Neither Beacon Hill park nor Gorge park is at all comparable with any other places of this sort this world over.
From the hills at Beacon park you can see far and wide, and always with a haunting effect of beauty,
"space liberates the soul," and to look over the straits of Juan de Fuca
to the carved Titans of the Olympian Range, domed beneath a canopy of turquoise infinitude, is to find that saying true.

In the summer the Scotch broom breaks in gorgeous drifts of bright yellow, outshining the wealth of Crocus or the faded treasures of El Dorado. It vies with the blue of sea and sky, and strikes bold across the entire color-scheme of lavish nature in a panoramic splendor of its own. It grows luxuriously along the Beacon Park hills, skirting the green downs that roll in turfy undulations to the sea-shore.

Gorge park, just as nature left it,
is alive with nature's aristocratic beauty. Here the tides ebb and flow, the rocky dettle at one time being alive with rushing waters, and again with the lull and ripples of the resting ocean. Here the forest primeval still lingers, and the untarnished nobility of pristine woodlands is found in all its charm.

In its more material sense, even in the traditions of commerce and shipping, Victoria has its honored annals. Old houses that have traded with the Orient for generations, institutions which were here when barter with the natives for furs and game was the only business carried on, still flourish under the regime of the descendants of the hardy pioneers.
Here these establishments stand the hardy stock of a hardy race of pre-genitors, merchants and sailors whose names form an aristocracy of their own in this far-western community.

One other of Victoria's aristocratic accessories is its roads and drives.
These are wide, substantial, and extraordinarily beautiful in their surroundings. Here again you will find the straits and the snow-crowned peaks of the Olympics, the shingle and hand of the beaches, the rolling downs of greenest grass, down-dro-ping to the shore. But you will find here also, miles of aristocratic woodlands, lakes and rivers without number, fine waiynde hotels, gliding automobiles, bicycling groups, gay parties on horseback, and waiynde pedestrians with red or camera. These roads extend in many directions from Victoria, and are suitable to the automobile and his following.

And thus with its heritage of old-world family names, instincts and prejudices; with its setting of an almost marvellous beauty of sea, sky,
and mountain peaks; with its exclusive circles of naval, military and professional men; with its old-time traditional merchant class, some of them men who have earned and held high honors on the official roster of the Dominion; with its houses that are visions of loveliness, not matched or approached in other lands; with its aristocratic and rigorous climes, Victoria is a beautiful, Victoria, the Aristocrat, risen and etched
like a Gibraltar, the glory of the last and greatest West.

GERMANY'S NEW CHANCELLOR

LOGICAL SUCCESSOR TO PRINCE VON BUELOW

Dr. Von Bethmann Has Won Confidence as Honest Administrator.

The Kaiser's new chancellor is his boyhood's friend and college "chum."
That and the circumstance that Dr.
Theobald von Bethmann-Hollweg is of Teutonic origin, like the colonial secretary, Herr Dernburg, are the facts standing out most prominently in connection with his elevation to the office
hallowed with the memories and traditions of Bismarck. The appointment has not taken Germany by surprise.
As Prince Buelow's vice-chancellor and a known intimate of the Emperor of many years standing, Von Beth-mann-Hollweg has long been a logical candidate for the chancellorship, and his selection became a foregone conclusion from the moment Prince Buelow, in response to the Kaiser's invitation, nominated him as his successor,
writes a London correspondent.

Although the new steersman of Germany's imperial destinies has had a distinguished official career, and has risen by legitimate steps to prime ministerial rank, he is a little-known personality. The type of a Prussian bureaucrat, who began as assessor, rose to county supervisor, and finally to prince-bishop, then a Prussian minister, and later an imperial secretary of state, his advance through the stereotyped grades of German officialdom
has been altogether characteristic.

Modest of bearing and by temperament he has never intruded himself into the glare of public notice. His administrative career has been marked by a studious restriction to official duties. His speeches in the Prussian Deit and House of Lords and before the forum of the Reichstag have been distinguished for nothing but straightforwardness, sincerity and thoroughness. He has never once been known to electify the country or parliament.
But he has won a reputation in the governing set for honesty, conservatism and loyalty, and those are qualities which will go far to compensate the fatherland for the brilliancy of Prince Buelow.

Herr Von Bethmann-Hollweg's
official career has lain far remote from the paths of diplomacy and foreign affairs. He has been the prosaic problem of local government and home administration—fields in which he is almost without a peer among his countrymen. He approaches the task of directing Germany's Weltpolitik, therefore, practically a novice. That is a circumstance which leads Germans to conclude that the Kaiser will be very much his own chancellor—as Bismarck predicted—in so far, at least, as foreign affairs are concerned. Either that, or the fact that Germany's foreign secretary will for the first time become something more than a titular position. Von Bethmann-Hollweg will lean heavily on Baron von Schöner, who under the Buelow regime was hardly more than the chancellor's private secretary for foreign affairs.

The fifth chancellor is a born Bran-denburger, a native of Hohen-Finow,
a village in the Mark, three-quarters of an hour west of Berlin. He is 53 years old. His family, ennobled in 1840, is an old-time Frankfort merchant and banking dynasty, prominent in the commerce of South Germany for several centuries. Originally it consisted of two branches, Bethmann and Hol-weg, which became united under a single hyphenated name through intermarriage. The founder of the Beth-mann branch was driven from Holland
in the seventeenth century on account of his religion. Chancellor von Beth-mann-Hollweg's grandfather was the first of the family to identify himself with public life. An excellent lawyer, he became professor of Jurisprudence at Bonn university, receiving the patent of nobility as a mark of distinction for his learning. As a member of the Prussian legislature in the 'forties, he was in the thick of the constitutional struggles which had their culmination in 1848, and ten years later he became minister of education in a Liberal cabinet. From this hardy stock
a sterling mixture of traders, bankers, scholars and politicians, the Kaiser has chosen his new chancellor.

It was at Bonn, the celebrated university on the Rhine, where all the Hohenzollerns of later generations have studied, that Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg met and became the friend of Emperor William II.
Their real intimacy springs from membership of the famous Borussia student corps. Many of the young noblemen who had the honor of being Prince William's college comrades and "corps-brothers" at Bonn have risen to posts of eminence in the Fatherland's service, for one of the Kaiser's finest traits is a predilection for "taking care of his friends." After leaving the plain speaking and the wit that springs from brevity. Immensely tall and gaunt, with lofty forehead, bespecta-Kaiser and to check his impulses. Von Bethmann-Hollweg never falls to dominate when on his feet, though he commands attention not by the fire and force of his remarks so much as by their soundness and lucidity.

Prince Buelow has enjoyed the reputation of being able to sway the Kaiser and to check his impulses. Von Bethmann-Hollweg has been privileged to be his Majesty's intimate personal friend, and the assumption is reasonable that his influence in imperial quarters will be no less potent than Buelow's. He enters office as the heir of a humbling government defeat at the hands of the Conservative-Catholic oligarchy, which has seized the reins of parliamentary power in Germany.
As yet there is no evidence that the government will grudge itself for battle with its conquerors. But Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg—Bethmann (pronounced Bateman), as he will often be called—behind his amiable, philosophical mask, is an adept in the art of domestic politics; and the "black and white" alliance, which drove Buelow from power, may find it has risen in his place another chancellor of blood and iron.

HONORS COME HIGH.

Costa Money to Be London's Sheriff or Mayor.

An alderman's ambition is realized to the full when he becomes Lord Mayor, or, failing that, sheriff of London. Both are costly honors. The Lord Mayor receives an allowance of £4000, but his expenditure is far in excess of his salary.
A sheriff receives no emolument, and the post, which is widely sought after, entails an expenditure of more than $1000.
The fur-trimmed robe, with its conomiant gold and enameled chain, a gorgeous piece of commercialised art, costs £2000.
The state servants in liveries stiff with bullion, the carriage with its rich harness, add £400 to the bill. Then on the night of November the sheriff pays his quarter
share of the banquet at the Mansion House, and has in addition to help find funds for the sheriff's breakfast. A heavy team is the open table to be maintained for Old Bailey judges and officials
while the sessions ass on.

DEVELOPMENT OF LE ROI MINE

WILL BE DEEPEINED THOUSAND FEET

Extensive Plan of Exploration Force of Men to Be Largely Increased.

Roseland, Aug. 6.—A. J. McMillan, managing director of the Le Roi Mining Company, has returned from London. Mr. McMillan has been away from Roseland for about four months making financial arrangements to carry out a big plan of exploration and development in the Le Roi mine. In conversation with a representative of the Miner, Mr. McMillan said:

"The directors of the company have succeeded in making such financial arrangements as will enable a large and comprehensive scheme of exploration work to be carried on. Some of the details of the scheme have yet to be settled, but, speaking in general terms, it is the intention to sink the main shaft a few hundred feet further and to do a large amount of diamond drilling, so that the mine can be thoroughly prospected to a depth of about a thousand feet below the present 1,650-foot level. Work will also be carried on in other parts of the mine, but it is realized that future developments are of paramount importance. A number of men have already started work and more will be put on from time to time, when the preliminary work in getting the machinery in shape, and the shaft in working order permit of this."

FOSSILIZED PEACOCK IN ASPHALT BEDS

Does Not Resemble Gorgeous Representative of Family Now Extant.

Berkeley, Calif., Aug. 7.—This asphalt beds on the rancho La Drea have just produced another wonder to the scientific world in the shape of a fossilized peacock. The fossil is the first of its kind discovered on the American continent. Much interest in the discovery is being taken at the university, where Prof. Merriam has announced the finding of specimens of the ash-re-toothed tiger, and other primitive forms of animals that were caught in the death-trap when they strayed too close to the oil deposits thousands of years ago. At the same time the peacock became a victim to the black fluid mass.

The specimen belongs to a peculiar type and does not resemble the gorgeous representative of the family extant to-day. One distinction it possesses is a pair of huge spurs for defensive purposes. Its wings are large and must have been powerful. All the parts of the peacock have not been found. It is expected, however, that the entire specimen will be recovered within two days.

This fact was made plain yesterday in a statement issued by J. B. Ryder, general manager of the company. The company has until noon on Monday to answer the petition of the strikers presented Thursday.

TEMPORARY CHAPEL IN GREAT CATHEDRAL

New York's Fine Edifice Will Not Be Finished for Years.

New York, Aug. 7.—By Christmas it is hoped that New York will have open for worship on Morningside Heights a church which in dignity and capacity will not fall short of the finest examples of ecclesiastical architecture in the city. It will be many years yet before the Cathedral of St. John the Divine is finished, but by inclosing with temporary walls and roof the space between the colossal granite arches of the tower a church with room for a congregation of 2,000 will be provided.

The portion thus temporarily utilized is known technically as the crossing. Here the transepts cross the upper portion of the nave, and over it ultimately the tower will be erected. It is a rectangle 95 feet by 64 and is practically a continuation of the choir. Together they will form a church of considerable size, but, as in all cathedrals, there will be room in the choir for only the clergy and the singers, and the congregation will be accommodated entirely in the crossing.

In dignity, too, it will be in no way wanting. The lofty choir with its eight great granite pillars, its gilded rosettes, and carved stalls will be complete. There will be room for all the stately ritual of the Episcopal church, and the crossing, plain as its architecture is, has a dignity from its very simplicity and spaciousness.

The new part has been formed by filling up the great lower arches with heavy walls. They will be of concrete reinforced with iron bars, and are about a foot thick. Temporary as they are and destined to come down just as soon as the money is forthcoming to build the transepts and nave, they have been constructed with a care that they will stand almost as long as the granite arches themselves.

On this dome of brick is being built. The work is carried on entirely from the exterior. A mass of scaffolding has been erected on the top of the arches and ever-narrowing courses of bricks are laid so as to form a dome ninety-six feet in diameter.

The rosettes in already in position in the choir, and the pierced stone screen which connects it with the pillars on either side is in course of construction. The high altar is of white marble and stands twelve feet above the level of the cathedral. It is approached by three flights of stairs.

The rosettes in of very light cream-colored French limestone. It is of rectangular shape and is surrounded by a cross. In the centre panel will be a statue of Christ, standing with hands stretched forth in prayer. On the gospel side will be a statue of St. John the Baptist, with three small statues of apostles between it and the centre figure. On the epistle side will be a representation of Moses and three of the prophets. The statues are the work of Otto Johnson.

LOST IN FOREST.

Boy Found After Search Which Lasted Fifty-Two Hours.

Halifax, Aug. 7.—Earl Hines, a six-year-old boy who disappeared from a picnic crowd of the Park Street Presbyterian church Sunday school on Wednesday, was found by searchers yesterday afternoon. During Wednesday afternoon there was more or less searching, and at night a squad of Halifax police searched the woods with lanterns. Thursday it became more serious, and one hundred police, soldiers and citizens tramped the woods from morning until night, but found no trace of the child. It was felt that yesterday would be the crucial day, and yesterday morning hundreds of people went to the woods, while by yesterday afternoon it was estimated that more than a thousand men were engaged in the search, under command of Lt. Col. of the Royal Canadian Regiment. At a lookout yesterday afternoon a heavy downpour of rain came and still no trace of the youngster, but at 5 o'clock one of the squads of searchers a mile back in the woods from the picnic grounds saw a child seated on a rock eating blueberries. His face was smeared with them. He looked so contented that the man thought it could not be the lost child. "What is your name," he asked, as he came up to the child. "Earl Hines," he replied. The child's mouth was a little swollen and his face slightly scratched, but otherwise he was apparently all right. The searchers carried him out in triumph. There was great cheering on the roadside and then between 1,000 and 1,500 men started to return to Halifax, while doctors and the boy's father took charge of the wanderer, who for 52 hours had been alone in the forest.

The Galerie des Machines, erected for the last Paris exposition, and regarded as the largest vaulted roof building in the world, has been so far and will be demolished for the old metal it contains.

RACES AT DETROIT.

Annual Regatta of the M. A. A. O. Proves a Great Success—Canadian Wins.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 7.—Canada and the East shared winning honors yesterday in the opening events of the thirty-seventh annual regatta of the National Association of Amateur Oarsmen, which was held on the Detroit river under the auspices of the Detroit Boat Club.

The international senior four-oared shell event, which went to the New York Athletic Club, was the race of the day. The Ottawa Rowing Club, of Ottawa, Ont., jumped into the lead when the six shells were sent off, and for most of the course the plucky Canadianers held it with the Waretta Boat Club, of Fushing, N. Y., and the Vespers, of Philadelphia, close behind. Three of the shells crowded dangerously close together on the outer edge of the course when about half way down, and thus forced the New York Athletic Club to drop back to avoid being bumped. The New Yorkers fell in behind the leading crews, and when the pace had told on them, spurred ahead. New York men, however, won the race less than half a length, with their Baltimore rivals a few feet behind and the Ottawas not a length further back in third place.

The Argonauts, of Toronto, won the intermediate eight-oared event with comparative ease. The Canadians took the lead from the start and were never in danger.

In the intermediate double scull shells, the Arundel Boat Club's pair won easily by five good lengths after leading from the start. The Harlem Rowing Club's pair had a similarly cheap victory in the senior double sculls.

The Hamilton Rowing Club's four entirely outclassed the rest of the Detroit Boat Club in the intermediate four-oared shell event.

FIREMEN OVERCOME.

New York, Aug. 7.—Twenty-two firemen were dragged out unconscious and three others received serious injuries in the course of a forty-minute blaze which destroyed 4,000 men's hats and did $5,000 other damage in a shop on Fourth avenue last night. An explosion of illuminating gas occurred soon after the fire was discovered, and a dozen firemen were thrown into the street. After the fire was conquered several firemen worked among the debris, and were overcome by the escaping gas or hurt by falling timbers.

Two centuries ago, not one person in a hundred wore socks or stockings.

What Sunshine furnace does

Sunshine Furnace is designed and constructed to heat a house, church, school or store, and does this more satisfactorily than any other known furnace or other style of heating apparatus.

It does this more rapidly than the hot water boiler because, as soon as fire is started in Sunshine Furnace, heated air can be obtained for the rooms.

It does this better than other furnaces because, being made from exclusive patterns, it has more commendable features.

It does this more economically than the boiler because even air circulation keeps fuel bill low.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

It does this more conveniently than the hot water boiler, because it has no radiators to take up room, congregate dust and mar the paper and woodwork.

It does this more hygienically than the boiler because pure air is admitted to the furnace through a cold air pipe.

VANCOUVER MAN MISSING.

Vancouver, Aug. 6.—Mute evidences of a probable suicide were found this morning on the west end of the new C. P. R. pier by workmen who when they went to work saw piled together a man's coat, vest, shoes and old straw hat. The police were immediately notified. Investigation disclosed the fact that the clothing belonged to Samuel Thomas, a member of the United Carpenters and Joiners. The address given was 236 Georgia street, and an inquiry at that place by detectives elicited the information that Thomas had not spent the night there.

At first it was thought the circumstances indicated a hoax, but when it became known that Thomas had not been in his room all night, and was very dependent on account of sickness, it was decided it was a case of suicide.

In one of the vest pockets was found a short note, which may have been written on the spot before the man took the plunge into the murky water, or may have been written some time ago. It is a simple expression of thanks for the aid which the union last winter extended to him while he was sick and out of work.

Not a cent of money was found in the clothes left on the pier. There were a watch, eye-glasses, knife, pipe and odds and ends, but no letters by which anything of Thomas' antecedents could be learned. He came here last fall.

VICTORIA'S FUTURE SUBURB.

North Saanich

DEAL FOR SUBURBAN HOMES.

NORTH SAANICH has acquired that most contagious of municipal perturbations, the growing pains. With an area of 20 square miles, with broad and fertile acres, with a climate that of itself would populate the most barren lands, with scenery that unaided would attract the tourist, with all but perfect roads, with shipping facilities by rail and water, with a system of rural free delivery, with a low tax rate, with social conditions the most desirable, it has yet a population only slightly in excess of one thousand souls. To augment this population is the aim of progressive citizens. How shall this aim be accomplished? What inducements shall be offered the desired settlers? From what classes of men and women shall they be drawn? To answer these questions with some degree of adequacy is the purpose of this article.

The people to whom North Saanich most persuasively appeals fall naturally into two classes. Belonging to the first class are men of wealth seeking retirement; city dwellers in search of country homes; urban workers desirous of living out of working hours in the country—all those, indeed, who by temperament are especially open to the allurements of climate and scenery. To the second belong the doers of things. Stockmen, farmers, dairymen, poultry-raisers, fruit-growers, manufacturers, laborers, will find in North Saanich scope for their activities under admirable conditions of living.

Not by accident have climate and scenery been given first place in the foregoing list. The climate of Victoria, distant twelve miles from North Saanich, has been extolled by its newspapers, by its publicity associations, by travelers from every quarter of the globe, by writers of world-wide fame from Kipling down, till its virtues may well be taken for granted by those unable to enjoy its advantages. The city is favored by the tempering influence of the Japan currents of the Pacific which lap its shores; it is rarely exposed to cold winds from the north; it is protected from excessive rainfall by its relation geographically to the Olympic range, for these mountains rob the landward air currents of much of their moisture by causing precipitation before the southern shores of Vancouver Island are reached. The annual rainfall in Victoria is much less than that of the great cities of the Atlantic slope—little more than half that of Washington, for instance. The snowfall, seldom amounting to more than four inches in a year, is a negligible factor. Yet, undoubted though the climatic advantages of Victoria are, residents of North Saanich claim for their district superiority in every respect. Surrounded on three sides by salt water, with scarcely a point in its whole area more than two miles from the coast, it enjoys to the full the benefits derived from proximity to large bodies of water. Then, again, the prevailing winds in Victoria are southerly and south-westerly and from these North Saanich is protected by intervening elevations. The proof of the pudding is in the digestion. The present season has been in many respects an unusual one. Fruit-growers in Gordon Head and Happy Valley who for twenty years have been immune from damage by frost have suffered this year. The circumstance is entirely exceptional, yet the best test of any climate is that imposed by the unfavorable year. By such a test North Saanich appears to advantage. In a trip last week covering many miles and affording the opportunity of numerous interviews, no single instance was discovered of damage by frost. One resident who has spent a long life in the district was most emphatic in this connection. "We never," he declared, "have frosts, either early or late, to damage the most sensitive crop." His statement is amply borne out by the evenness and abundance of the fruit crops noted in every orchard where intelligent cultivation is in evidence.

A telling tribute to the virtues of the climate is found in the circumstance that Sidney, the principal town of the municipality, has been chosen as the site of a sanitarium to be conducted on lines approved by modern science. Let the founder of the institution, Dr. W. Gordon Cumming, tell in his own words the story of its inception: "After many a lengthy discussion with those whose opinions on such matters are worthy of consideration, it was decided to carry the idea of a sanitarium into effect. Naturally one of the earliest considerations was a site, and on this very important point many and long were the discussions, and many a journey taken before a decision was finally arrived at. It was agreed that the site must be readily accessible by road and rail—it must be quiet, with good surrounding country, good scenery, boating and bathing.

"The site finally chosen fills these requisites admirably, being on the sea front with a magnificent view of the Gulf of Georgia, the Islands and the distant mountain ranges. The railway station and post office are within 15 minutes' walk, while boating and bathing are easily obtainable. The B. C. Telephone Co.'s long-distance wire is also installed in the building.

"For all-round convenience and beauty of view and privacy this situation leaves little to be desired. The building, originally intended as a private country residence, is oblong, 40 x 44 feet, built of concrete blocks. This lent itself splendidly to the new idea, and another storey of shingles has been added and an extension kitchen built on. The building can be extended to twice or three times its present size with very little unnecessary expense.

"It is proposed to begin with eight bedrooms and to enlarge when such is deemed necessary. Water and sewage are already in order. There are three complete modern bathrooms—two upstairs and one down—and all told the building is very complete in its appointments.

"The bedrooms are of good size and well lit by large windows, all of which command a splendid view of the sea. The living and dining rooms are also facing the sea, and get the morning sun. The smoking room is on the south side. The lower storey also has doctor's headquarters, consisting of bedroom, bathroom and surgery.

"A verandah runs across the entire front of the building and offers a charming resting place on warm summer days. The kitchen and pantries are in the form of an extension to the north, thereby preventing any objectionable odors of cooking permeating the main building.

"The upper storey consists of eight bedrooms and two bathrooms—all with good dairy windows and splendid views.

"The grounds consist at present of something over seven acres, which are being laid out in walks and lawns, and will be decorated with ornamental shrubs, pees and flowers. One tennis lawn is already in shape and another will be prepared in the fall, when the climatic conditions are favorable.

a few words here. Let the doubter drive over its well-kept roads on a day when "the sky is all sunshine, the earth all verdure, the air all balm;" let him note the effects of water glimpsed through openings in the bordering oaks or firs, of wooded islands, of distant mountain ranges culminating in the lordly Baker; let him dwell on the effects closer at hand—tiled fields carved out of surrounding growths of timber, prosperous looking homes and tasteful gardens—and then let him say whether, with the single feature of its scenic charm, North Saanich

the year round for its uniform livability.

From the emphasis given in scenery and climate, it will be evident that North Saanich, in the opinion of the writer, is distinguished for its residential qualifications; it will be primarily a place of homes. The opinion is one that is shared by many clear-sighted and well-informed people. A sign of the coming conditions is found in the fact that landlords are already beginning to look on their waterfrontage as the most valuable part of their property. The fact has been elsewhere noted that along the shore at Gordon Head—near Victoria, but not otherwise more happily situated—land is priced at $1,000 an acre. The fact sufficiently indicates the value which every foot of waterfront property in the whole Saanich peninsula will come to have in the near future.

To bring that future nearer one great improvement on present conditions is necessary. That improvement is increased and modernized transportation facilities. Reference has already been made to the excellent wagon roads of the district, but they deserve more than passing mention. Developed, in many cases, from primitive Indian trails, they follow the lines of least resistance and wind picturesquely around every obstruction of hummock and hill. For years they have been improved, but not straightened, with the result that a complete system consisting of two trunk lines with cross roads is true, the convenience of passengers in the matter of speed is made subservient to the exigencies of freight traffic—a condition scarcely to be overcome in operating so short a line; the service rendered is one of incalculable benefit to the sections traversed.

In spite, however, of the means of communication already noted, the crying need of the whole peninsula at the present time is for improved rail connection with Victoria. Such connection, when it does come, must be by means of electric power. A loop line running the length of the peninsula, giving an hourly service, would do more for the upbuilding of the two Saanich municipalities than any other single improvement at all within the realm of present possibilities.

The prospects for such an innovation are fortunately no longer remote. The draft of the agreement between the British Columbia Electric Company and the city council of Victoria whereby the company will be in a position to proceed with the erection of a power plant at the Jordan river has advanced to such a stage that its ratification is daily expected. The moment an agreement is reached the company will be prepared, according to the reiterated statement of the local manager, to proceed with active construction. Plans and specifications for the work have long been ready. Within eighteen months the needed power will be at the disposal of the company and extensions of the local system will be immediately in order; and that one of the first of these extensions will serve the Saanich peninsula cannot be in no danger of deterioration through the evil results of direct grain selling. Slipshod, easy-going methods are in evidence on a number of farms, it is true; yet the reeve, Mr. George Sangster, is an excellent example. A farmer and breeder of thoroughbred stock, he sticks closely to his own line, interesting himself in other branches of agriculture only as they concern the progress and development of the municipality. His farm is a monument to twelve years of unremitting individual effort. In that time 130 acres have been reclaimed from the bush, at a cost which Mr. Sangster places at $60 to the acre. Others, it is well to add, from their own experience, have quoted figures considerably higher, running all the way to $250 an acre. On land for the first time brought under cultivation was seen a crop of corn that abundantly proved the fertility of the soil. Other fodder crops of peas and oats were also thriving, yet little can be gained at the present time by urging the capabilities of North Saanich for mixed farming, dairying, stock raising, or any branch of agriculture demanding large areas for its exercise. It would be easy to give authoritative figures showing that good returns are obtained in all these branches, easy to prove that market conditions are more likely to improve than to retrograde; yet to the intending settler these facts might be misleading. Large farms at prices at all enticing to the ordinary farmer, are practically no longer obtainable.

It is all to more intensive methods of cultivation that present tendencies incline; subdivide is the word to-day. The land, in the words of a 59er, will produce anything from peaches to peas. Its perfect immunity from damaging frosts has been demonstrated through an experience of forty years. With such conditions it is impossible to forego the belief that land which can produce in highest perfection apples, pears, prunes, cherries, peaches, grapes, strawberries, loganberries, currants, gooseberries, walnuts, filberts—crops which return from $500 to $1,000 an acre in the gross—it is impossible to forego the belief that such land cannot indefinitely continue to be devoted to the exclusive production of grain and hay. The man of wealth with a fancy for a country estate may retain possession of his large domain; but the landowner of moderate means will yield to the pressure of demand and gradually part with his land at prices to make a continuance of mixed farming an unprofitable policy.

The views of numerous residents were obtained this week by the writer. An interesting chat with William Townner brought out the possibilities of hop growing as a means of livelihood. Mr. Townner's card describes him as the pioneer hop grower of North Saanich, and the bracketed date, 1864, takes one back to the beginning of civilization on this island. He recalls the time when barley at six and hops at fifty cents a pound were imported by way of the Horn from New York state. The period of such prices is past, for the industry has fallen on evil days. Foreign hops of lower grade have flooded the market and forced the price down almost below the line of profit; yet the suitability of the soil for the production of hops equal even to those of the celebrated hopyards of Kent has been proved beyond dispute. A neighbor of Mr. Townner's still supplies an Ontario brewer the hops from which a special brand of ale, long favorably known throughout the East, has for decades been malted. It is as residential property, however, rather than agricultural or horticultural land, that Mr. Townner now expects to realize the best returns from his homestead.

The farm of Mr. Birch presents valuable lessons to the newcomer as to the best means of securing the highest returns from the soil. Grain and hay crops are grown for the feeding of the fine horses

"The aim of this sanitarium is to provide for those who—having run below par, whether from illness or the strain of city life—are in search of a restful, enjoyable seaside resort, where, should it be necessary, they may obtain medical advice and attention, or where such is not required, simply enjoy the quiet and restful life out of doors which this climate and countryside affords."

Of the scenery of North Saanich it is unnecessary to say more than has not ill-rewarded him for whatever toil or expense his journey may have cost him. Visitors are attracted in thousands to the Islands of the Georgian Bay, to the Muskoka lakes, to the Thousand Islands during the few months when the relaxed rigors of their climate permit; North Saanich and its adjacent islands will suffer nothing in comparison with any of these celebrated resorts at their best, but they boast at the same time a climate distinguished has been perfected. Their condition is admirable. At no point far distant from an accessible beach, they have been liberally treated with sea-washed gravel till, so far as vehicular traffic is concerned, they serve the municipality well. Neither are railroad facilities, though inadequate, entirely lacking. The Victoria and Sidney railroad connects the two towns which give it its name, and trains are run twice a day between the terminal points. On one trip each way, it prospect await the establishing of a new creamery or cheese factory. To these inquiries there is but one reply: The creameries at present established, although paying high prices, cannot procure nearly enough cream either to keep their plants fully employed or to supply the local demand.

With stock raising and dairying so much in vogue it is evident the farm lands of North Saanich are

Bute Inlet the Key to the Railway Situation in the Far West—An Expert's Opinion on Its Importance and Relation to Vancouver Island Development.

It is perhaps correct to say that the most important question confronting the people of Vancouver Island to-day is that of railway connection with the mainland; and while it is true that it has long been a matter for consideration by them, a new and increased interest has been aroused owing to the declaration of Hon. Wm. Pugsley, minister of public works, during the course of his speeches in Victoria a few weeks ago.

Agitate, Agitate.

The minister said, in effect, that the people of Vancouver Island ought first of all to make up their minds as to what they wanted and then press it upon the attention of the government with all their might—and if the prospect was found feasible, he had no doubt the government would be disposed to extend the necessary financial assistance.

Now if printers ink could build railways Vancouver Island would long ago have had connection by rail with the mainland and these lines need not have been written—for the newspapers have devoted hundreds, perhaps thousands, of columns to the question, to say nothing of the immense number of speeches delivered upon the same subject.

But printer's ink may again be called into requisition to set forth what the writer of this article believes will bring to Bute Inlet and connecting with Vancouver Island by ferry.

Freight Waiting.

"Eighty-five per cent of the timber used by the sawmills at Vancouver comes from the territory contiguous to Bute Inlet. And it is at great risk and great expense that the logs are towed down the coast to the sawmills. I feel safe in saying that where one dollar is paid out now for towage, the logs could be towed to mills situated on Bute Inlet for five cents. It is a well known fact that the sawmill operators at Vancouver are constantly in fear and trembling lest they should lose valuable booms of logs, so treacherous is the stretch of water to be traversed in the run down the coast from the neighborhood of Bute Inlet. It very frequently happens that a tugboat and its valuable tow will require to be belined a sheltering island for upwards of a week awaiting a period of favorable weather.

"It will thus be seen that the sawmills at Vancouver are disadvantageously placed in order to get hold of the raw material which they require, and it will now be in order to inquire what is the volume of business which a railway company might expect to handle had it a line of track to Bute Inlet.

Great Timber Areas.

"In the first place, in the neighbor-

A Steady Trade.

"Why, just consider the situation for a moment. To handle the wheat crop of the Northwest, the railway companies will go to tremendous expense in the opening up of branch lines—and this to get business which lasts only a few months each year. Such provision for the speedy transportation of the wheat is of course necessary; but how can you account for the delatorism displayed by the same railway companies in preparing to handle a vaster and richer crop—and, moreover, an 'unfailing' one—which is accessible at all seasons and which is practically inexhaustible—the timber of Vancouver Island and the territory contiguous to Bute Inlet?"

On being told that a committee of the Board of Trade, acting on Hon. Mr. Pugsley's advice, to "get down to business," has in course of preparation a memorial setting forth this argument, which will be presented to the Grand Trunk Railway Company, the writer ventured the opinion that the Grand Trunk Pacific people might be indisposed to entertain the proposition to build to Bute Inlet, as this would be tantamount to a confession that a mistake had been made in the selection of Prince Rupert as the terminus of that line.

Immediately commence to push its extensions on Vancouver Island.

"And with the Island given adequate transportation facilities, the time could not be far distant when iron and steel works would be established. Few countries in the world can boast of coal measures lying adjacent to iron-ore deposits. We have these prime raw resources on Vancouver Island; and with the growth of the demand from structural steel in Western America it is only a question of time when by the sheer pressure of events the mountains shall be made to yield of their long-expected treasure which will be needed in the building trade and the shipyards of the coast.

United Effort Needed.

"If my reasonings are logical," concluded the writer's informant, "and my study of the situation based on sound information, I would say to the people of Victoria and, in fact, to all the people of Vancouver Island, bury all local jealousies and unite in urging upon the Grand Trunk Pacific the building of a line of railway from a point on the main line to the shores of Bute Inlet. There is business offering for the company in such a project—and that is what all railway companies are after—business. I would say to the people of Victoria: 'Abandon all talk of this city being made the terminus of a transcontinental line and concentrate your efforts in the direction of hastening the construction of the Bute Inlet road.' Once you get a line of railway to that point, and connection with the Island and the development of the Island will follow as a matter of course."

It may be added, as has already been indicated, that a committee of the Victoria Board of Trade is preparing the case for the Bute Inlet project and that the same will shortly be presented to the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company.

The cost of playgrounds in the cities in which they have been established is large or small, according to the value of property in those centres of population. Many cities have gone ahead, and have purchased the land, and equipped the grounds, making special financial provision for the work. A recent report gives the cost of playgrounds to the individual citizens in these cities, thus: Los Angeles, 16; Chicago, 14.8; Pittsburgh, 13; Little Rock, 12.5; Boston, 10; New York, 8; Harrisburg, 8; Minneapolis, 7; Denver, 6.5; Lynn, 5.5; Dayton, 5; St. Paul, 4.8; Utica, 4.8; Louisville, 3.5; Providence, 2.

This is not a terrible tax, and one would think that the congestion which makes property yield more largely than under other circumstances would warrant the expenditure, and induce taxpayers to agree to it.

Toronto may well consider the desirability of entering into this type of municipal enterprise. The city is large enough, rich enough and crowded enough to make some such movement necessary.

found the only feasible solution of the question—and to relieve himself of any charge of presumption in making such a statement he hastens to explain that the argument herein set forth is not his own but that of one of the most competent and practical railway men in western Canada.

An Expert's View.

This gentleman—whose identity it is unnecessary to disclose—asserts that the people of Vancouver Island should concentrate all their efforts in the direction of securing the extension of one of the great transcontinental railway lines to the shores of Bute Inlet. And this contention is supported by such a mass of evidence as to its practicability as to be little short of a revelation, even to those who may have hitherto thought themselves fairly well informed upon the question.

The words of the gentleman to whom the writer is indebted for this information may here be quoted: "Why should one of the transcontinental railway lines be asked to build to Bute Inlet? So so; and it can, to my mind, be only because the matter has not been properly presented that the line has not ere this been built and placed in operation.

"Running a railway is purely a business proposition; and now let us see what business is offering a line run-hood of Bute Inlet (and including in that loose description Vancouver Island), and which can be 'tapped' from that point), is to be found the greatest quantity of marketable timber on the Pacific coast. The market for the manufactured product is to-day, and will so remain for years in constantly increasing magnitude, the prairie provinces. It is thus a simple business proposition to suggest that the timber products of British Columbia should be conveyed to their natural market by the most expeditious method and at the minimum of waste in unnecessary expense. In other words, the 'line of least resistance' should be followed. But it is not being followed at present, as I think those who have followed my argument thus far will admit.

Losing All Opportunity.

"At the present moment the big railway companies of Canada are engaged in a struggle for the possession of the south bank of the Fraser to enable them to gain entrance to Vancouver. It can be easily understood that the foremost business centre of the province should prove an almost irresistible magnet in the eyes of corporations which are rivals to the C. P. R., but I am firmly of the opinion that they are overlooking a much more golden opportunity for business at Bute Inlet.

Rupert will be a great and flourishing city in any event. The Grand Trunk Pacific are very advantageously situated there for the handling of trade with the Orient, and the 'control of business with Northern British Columbia, the Yukon and Alaska.

"The Grand Trunk Pacific," he continued, "ought to, in my opinion, build a branch line from Fort George to Bute Inlet, and I have every confidence that they will do so when the facts of the case are presented to them.

"I think the people of Vancouver Island have more to hope for from the Grand Trunk Pacific people in connection with the Bute Inlet project than from any other railway company—and for this reason: Once you get the Grand Trunk Pacific moving towards Vancouver Island, as you would in this project, the C.P.R., which is only 'marking time' on Vancouver Island now, would, vulgarly speaking, 'get a move on.' The C.P.R. seldom does anything in the way of new projects until it is forced to do so. It has its hands pretty full all the time with pressing business, though, of course, it has its plan of action mapped out for years ahead.

Crowding the C.P.R.

"Thus let the Grand Trunk Pacific once signify its intention of building to Bute Inlet and the C.P.R. would

Yet still we remember the bard from his grave,
As we gather together to echo its praise.

"Twas not for the moment he sang his sweet songs,
'Tis to time and the world that their music belongs;
And oft as their melodies fall on our ear,
They whisper to us that his spirit is near.

From the daisy beneath to the star in the sky,
Earth's charms they were scanned by his far-seeing eye;
And his pity he ever was ready to show
To each thing that suffered, no matter how low.

Where'er Oppression its proud head may rear,
His loud call on Freedom it ever must hear;
Not while in our bosoms love's thrill forms apart
Will the spell of his presence be torn from our heart.

A SQUARE-DEAL

Is assured you when you buy Dr. Pierce's family medicines—for all the ingredients entering into them are printed on the bottle-wrappers and these are attested under oath as being complete and correct. You know just what you are paying for and that the ingredients are gathered from Nature's laboratory, being selected from the most valuable native medicinal roots found growing in our American forests and while potent to cure are perfectly harmless—even to the most delicate women and children.

Not a drop of alcohol enters into their composition. A much better agent is used both for extracting and preserving the medicinal principles in them, viz.—pure triple-refined glycerine. This agent possesses intrinsic medicinal properties of its own, being a most valuable antiseptic and antiferment, nutritive and soothing demulcent.

Glycerine plays an important part in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia and weak stomach, attended by sour risings, heart-burn, foul breath, coated tongue, poor appetite, gnawing feeling in stomach, biliousness and kindred derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or other organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures even the worst cases.

In coughs and hoarseness caused by bronchial, throat and lung affections, except consumption, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a most efficient remedy, especially in those obstinate, hang-on-coughs caused by irritation and congestion of the bronchial mucous membranes. The "Discovery" is not so good for acute coughs arising from sudden colds, nor must it be expected to cure consumption in its advanced stages—no medicine will do that—but for all the obstinate, chronic coughs, which, if neglected, or badly treated, lead up to consumption, it is the best medicine that can be taken.

To find out more about the above mentioned diseases and all about the body in health and disease, get the Common Sense Medical Adviser—the People's Schoolmaster in Medicine—revised and up-to-date book of 1000 pages—which treats of diseased conditions and the practical, successful treatment thereof. ### MARGUERITE PETALS

Alfred Tennyson, the late English poet laureate, the centenary of whose birth was celebrated yesterday, held the rarest ideals of his age with regard to womanhood. None of his contemporaries held her in the same esteem. Into Wordsworth's poetry womanhood seldom intrudes, save as a part of that nature "which never did betray the heart that loved her." Byron represented woman as a creature, half tiger, half spaniel, seeming to regard her as either victim or oppressor. Burns, too, although he wrote many love songs, failed to appreciate the finer and purer qualities of womanhood.

The reason for Tennyson's appreciation of true womanhood is not far to seek. He had a good mother, and to him she was always the ideal woman. Writing of her he says:
"Yet was there one thro' whom I loved her, one Not learned, save in gracious household ways, Not perfect, nay, but full of tender wants. No angel, but a dearer being, all dipt In angel instincts breathing Paradise. Interpreter between the gods and men, Happy he With such a mother! faith in woman-kind Beats with his blood, and thro' in all Comes next to him, and trust he trip He shall not blend his soul with clay."
Tennyson sought, and found, in his wife, the same exquisite gentleness which he found so restful in his mother's character. Their home life was one of peace and seclusion, "a world of care shut out, a world of love shut in." The fame, and wealth, which crowned the poet's later years never altered the peaceful simplicity of the beautiful home at Farringford, Isle of Wight, or the serenity of Haslemere, Surrey. Lady Tennyson, like other happy women, "had no history," and all her hopes and aims were centred around her husband and children.

Tennyson's poetry is a mirror of his life. Although in a sense he lived the life of a recluse, he was in close touch and sympathy with the busy world outside. He expressed his hopes and fears, the aspirations and the pessimism of his time as none of his contemporaries tried to do. His viewpoint was broad, and therein lay his strength.

Tennyson lived at a time when a positive faith was not easy to attain, and like others, he had his dark hours of doubt. That faith was triumphant who have sure proof in "In Memoriam," that sublime story of a soul's progress from the City of Destruction to the vision of the star-domed City of God.

Tennyson's deep sense of the immortality of the soul led him to seek the abiding element in all human relationships. Truth and honor must be at the root of all friendships. He had always before him the picture of another life where love was renewed in a fairer form.
The poet's childhood was passed in an old world rectory, where the stained glass windows of the dining room made "butterfly-souls" to the boy's poetic imagination, when the sun shone through. His father was a gentleman and a scholar, with talent that approached genius; his mother was the gentlest and sweetest of women, and his brothers and sisters were romantic, imaginative children who played and studied happily together.

Throughout his college days Tennyson was loved and appreciated and he never at any time in his life suffered either from poverty or from being misunderstood, although like every other human soul, he had his hours of bitterness and sorrow. Just after his happy college days he lost his dearest friend, and his eyes were opened as they had never been before, to the realities of life and death. Then came ten sad, obscure years, when he was silent to the world, but growing stronger in character and perfecting the works which made his fame secure.

Tennyson had the true poetic heart; he was sensitive to every manifestation of beauty, swift to see and patient to realize his visions. The compelling force of his nature was the true artist's passion for perfection, his hunger and thirst for the ideal. The result is a volume of poetry which will always be remarkable for its consummate sweetness.

Tennyson's life was strangely rich and full, rare indeed in the annals of literature. To the end he could take pleasure in his chosen art, and when he died on the 6th of September, 1852, he passed away without a struggle, his family about him, and was buried in the Poet's Corner of Westminster Abbey.

BURR-McINTOSH.
Monthly for August an Excellent Number—Some Special Features.
The Burr McIntosh Monthly for August has just come to hand and, if possible, a more beautiful number than any of the preceding ones. Its colored engraving, a Japanese wood gatherer, is a very artistic bit of work, and the blue-toned illustrations of Warwickshire, Shakespeare's country, are in themselves well worth the price of the magazine. They are taken from an exhibition shown recently in one of the Carnegie art galleries by Alfred East, a well-known English landscape painter.

Several pages are devoted to reproductions of water colors shown at the forty-second annual exhibition of the American Water Color Society, which embrace a great variety of subjects. There is a very amusing illustrated article by Ellen M. Bout, on "The Gentle Art of Photographing Children," followed by a series of very beautiful sepia art studies, for which the Burr McIntosh Monthly is so justly famous, and a copiously illustrated article on "The Egypt of the West," goes to complete the making up of an exceptionally fine number.

The services will be: 8 a. m., holy communion; 11 matins and holy communion choral; and 7 o'clock and sermon. The anthem will be "Conquering Kings," by Arnold. The first services in connection with the Church of England mission in Victoria West were held just twenty-one years ago, under the Rev. W. W. ## FATHER PAT'S WORK IN THE KOOTENAYS Short Life of Great Missionary Has Been Written.

In 1859, by the generosity of Miss (afterwards Baronesse) Burdett-Coutts, the church in British Columbia began its organized life by the appointment of Dr. George Hills as the first Bishop of Columbia. The original diocese of Columbia has since been subdivided into four, Columbia, Caledonia, New Westminster, and Kootenay. This year, 1909, being the jubilee year of the church in British Columbia, Mrs. Jerome Mercier has published a short life of "Father Pat," one of the greatest missionary heroes of the church in the west, and the proceeds of this book, over expenses, will be devoted to the New Westminister mission funds. In this little book of one hundred pages we have the life story of the Rev. Henry Irwin, who won the hearts of miners and settlers in British Columbia, as few men ever did, says the Canadian Churchman. Born among the Wicklow mountains in Ireland in 1829, he was educated at St. Kilda college, Oxford, graduating in 1851, and later at Ely Theological college from which he was ordained. At Oxford he was called "Pat" on account of his Irish nationality and in his first curacy, this name was lengthened to "Father Pat," by which he was ever since known. After teaching a year and a half, he was curate at Rugby for two years, and in 1855 came to the Canadian West, a young man of 26, and the remainder of his life was for the most part spent in his Master's service in the diocese of New Westminster and its daughter Kootenay. It seems that a sermon turned his attention, as another sermon turned the attention of Bishop Bompas, to the needs of the Canadian West. Last year, on the visits of bishops and missionaries to the Old Land if in this way such trophies as Father Pat and Bishop Bompas may be won. Beginning his work at Kamloops, B. C., he soon won his way to the hearts of the miners, whom he called "the harders," and whose best hearted fellows sent the parson to ride "a buck-jumper," and although thrown repeatedly he was ready to mount again, but the miners declared that he had shown pluck enough. Father Pat served under two bishops in Canada, Bishop Sillito, whose domestic chaplain he became, and Bishop Dart, who wrote the introduction to Mrs. Mercier's memoir. Bishop Dart tells us that Father Pat, like Bishop Bompas, was ever ready on the advance of civilization to move on to bawyer and rougher fields. His life full of romance and peril, ready to help the bankrupt and distressed, and his venturing his life, at one time to rescue men entrapped by an avalanche, and another time routing, single-handed some miners who attempted to prevent him visiting a sick prospector, at another time fathering struggling miners to provide lodging and a sewing machine for a penniless prostitute who molested her. Hats, coats and trousers given to him, from time to time, would soon pass to others more needy than himself, and many a luckless creature was invited to share his shack while he lived there. The brightest period of his life was the year 1880, when he married and enjoyed the bliss of an ideal home, but before the year ended his wife and her still-born child were laid in their graves. This crushing sorrow impelled him to find relief in ceaseless strenuous labors for the good of his fellowmen. God greatly blessed his labors, and when the news of his pathetic death in January, 1902, reached the miners in the west they took steps at once to commemorate his self-denying life by fitting memorials. They purchased an ambulance for miners in and around Rossland, where Bishop Dart had rescued him, and in the town of his memory, serving as a lamp and fountain, and on this monument it is recorded that his "life was unselfishly devoted to the welfare of his fellowmen, irrespective of creed or class." CONGREGATIONALISM CELEBRATES JUBILEE Fifty Years Ago First Church Was Established in City.

An interesting anniversary for the Congregational church of this city takes place to-morrow. On August 8th, 1859, the Rev. W. F. Clarke and family arrived in Victoria from Ontario, to begin work for the Congregational church. Mr. Clarke was sent out by the Colonial Missionary Society of England for the purpose of looking into the prospects for the denomination, and on Sunday, August 11th, 1859, he preached the first sermons for his church in the colony. On August 15th he was present at and took part in the ceremony of laying the corner stone of the Pandora street Methodist church, and on the next day was present at the wedding of the pioneer missionary of the Methodist church, Dr. Ebenezer Robson. Mr. Clarke was successful in establishing a church in Victoria, and a rough board building was erected on the rocky prominence now known as Church Hill. For some time the cause flourished, but dissenters arose over the "race question." A large number of negro were in the city and the churches all found themselves facing difficulties, as the American civil war was then brewing, and there were a great many Americans in the city who had strong feelings regarding the negro question. Mr. Clarke found favor with the negroes and these all flocked to his church until the only white members in the congregation were members of his own family.

France May Propose Legislation Looking to Its Own Preservation.
It is probable that in the autumn session the French parliament will be asked to legislate in connection with the proposals now being put forward to increase the population. The schemes that have attracted the most attention are those drawn up by Professor Richeat, of the Academy of Medicine, and by M. Paul Leroy Beaujeu, the eminent economist. M. Richeat proposes that the state shall pay bonuses on every baby except the first-born. A second child would bring a payment of £20, and every succeeding one a bonus of £40. M. Richeat believes that under this system the number of births, which is now 750,000 per annum, would increase to one million. This would cost the state about £12,000,000 a year. The professor proposes to raise the money by imposing a heavy death duty of 50 per cent. on all collateral inheritances and on all estates left by parents to a single child.

Sunday School Lesson

(Copyrighted by Rev. C. S. Lincoln.)

August 15th, 1909.
Paul's Third Missionary Journey.—Ephesus. Lesson Acts xviii:23 to xlii:22.

Golden Text.—The name of the Lord Jesus was magnified. Acts xlii:17.
Verse 23.—Is a systematic "follow up system" as essential in Christian work as it is to successful business?
Are any so strong that we cannot derive "strengthening" from the prayers and the experience of others, and are any so weak that we may not "strengthen" others?
Verses 24-26.—What is the minimum of knowledge necessary in order that one may be a true child of God?
What are the minimum qualities essential to become a preacher of the gospel?

What good qualities for a preacher did this man Apollos possess? What did "the baptism of John" include, and what did it lack of full orbited Christianity?

What percentage of present day preachers will exceed Apollos (1) in their zeal and ability; (2) in their Christian knowledge; (3) in their personal experience of Christ's gospel?
If Apollos had been contented or anything less than a man of God, would he have submitted to teaching from a layman and his wife?
Verse 27.—Should laymen use the pen more frequently to help preachers, whom they know who are going to other towns?

Verse 28.—Why is it that God has conditioned all human progress and betterment, including a knowledge of the gospel, upon the zeal, ability and goodness of those who already enjoy its benefits?

Chap. xlii:17.—Were these twelve persons whom Paul found at Ephesus, actually the reconverted children of God at this time?
What proportion of present day Christians have practically the same experience as these twelve disciples had, when Paul met them?
Is the Holy Spirit, as spoken of in this lesson, generally received at or subsequent to conversion?

It is now the privilege of every Christian to receive the Holy Spirit, and to walk in Him thereafter, how may He be received?

Was the gift of tongues and prophesying then, or is it now, a necessary accompaniment of the baptism of the Holy Spirit? (See I Cor. 13: 4-11; 14: 26.)
Is there anything necessarily implied in receiving the Holy Spirit other than the constant realization that God dwells in us, to keep us holy, to guide us in all things, and to give us necessary power and wisdom to carry out God's purposes concerning us?

VERSE 8.—WHY OUGHT, OR OUGHT NOT, THE PULPIT NOW, AS PAUL DID THEN, TO "DISPUTE," OR ARGUE, AND BRING CONVINCING PROOFS, COMPELLING MEN'S REASONS, BY POWERFUL EVIDENCE, OF THE TRUTHS OF CHRISTIANITY, AND NOT BE CONTENT WITH SIMPLE DECLAMATION AS IS NOW SO COMMON? (THIS QUESTION MUST BE ANSWERED IN WRITING BY MEMBERS OF THE CLUB.)

Verses 9-12.—Apart from the miraculous power that Paul had, what was the secret of his success?
Verses 13-17.—Why do some to-day blasphame the name of God, and dare the power of God; and are they possessed with the devil?
Verses 18-23.—Does conversion always imply restitution, and the forsaking of every evil way?

Lesson for August 22, 1909.—Paul's Third Missionary Journey.—The Riot in Ephesus, Acts xlii:23-xxi.

BIG BEAR AGAIN ON THE WARPATH

Animal Chases Little Girl and Frightens Woman Into Faint.

Rossland, Aug. 6.—The Sheep Creek valley bear, with which Mrs. Gill and her children had an encounter a few weeks since, has again been in evidence, and this time left a woman in a dead faint on the trail, and then walked away. A few days since, Mrs. Beach, in company with a little girl, was going over the trail, down the valley, when she was suddenly confronted by a big bear, which stood erect, blowing the air in front of Mrs. Beach in a threatening manner. Mrs. Beach simply went to the ground in fear and lost consciousness for some minutes. When she recovered, the bear was gone. So was the child. But both, fortunately, and owing to the bear's solicitude for the safety of her cubs, escaped.

The woman and child came upon the bear just as it was emerging from the woods. The child, who was a little ahead of Mrs. Beach, uttered the most terrifying screams, and started to run, with the bear after her. After going about fifty feet, the cries of the cubs, who were still in the thicket, attracted the attention of the mother bear, and she gave up the chase and turned back to them. Then she continued on her journey and left the prostrate woman undisturbed. A systematic hunt for the bear is to be undertaken by the men of the valley.

HOW TO POP CORN

It is done in different ways, but the most approved method is to pop your corns in a pot of water. Put your corns in a pot for fair, and stay out too when removed by "Putnam's." Try this painless remedy yourself.

DOMINION PAROLE OFFICER.

W. R. Archibald Pays Visit to British Columbia Penitentiary.

New Westminster, Aug. 6.—The annual visit to this city of Dominion Parole Officer W. R. Archibald, gives an opportunity to the convicts at the British Columbia penitentiary to present their cases for revision so that they may enjoy the benefit of the parole system introduced into the Canadian penal system some ten years ago, and found to work with marked success.

Mr. Archibald collects all the information available, and the report of the wardens of the various penitentiaries and reports to the ministry of justice. Of 2,500 released under this system since the law was passed, only about fifty have resumed their criminal modes of life. About 700 are reported to the police now.

Mr. Archibald will stay a week in the city, then leave for Seattle to attend the International Prison Congress, when he will take part in the meetings. He will speak at a session on Sunday week in the interests of juvenile courts, as to the work among the young he has given much attention.

UNABLE TO ACCEPT POST AT NELSON

D. M. Eagle Forced to Decline Position as Principal of Public School.

Nelson, Aug. 6.—A telegram had been received by Dr. E. C. Arthur, secretary of the Nelson school board, to the effect that D. M. Eagle of Windsor, Ont., had now found it impossible to accept the principalship of the Nelson public school to which position he was recently appointed in succession to A. Sullivan, who was appointed to an inspectorate.

The reason that Mr. Eagle has now declined the appointment offered him by the local school board is that he has been unable to secure his release from the principalship of the Windsor school in time to commence his duties here on August 23rd.

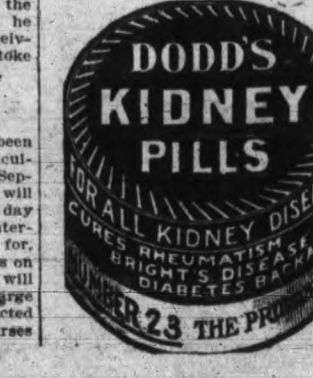

The school board on learning of Mr. Eagle's decision immediately wired another applicant offering him the position, but he, too, was compelled to refuse for the same reason. They have, however, wired four other competent teachers and will consider their replies at a special meeting of the board.

Miss Thom, who has been acting principal since the resignation of A. Sullivan, has signified her intention of leaving the school to accept a position as principal at the Trail public school. Her successor has not been appointed but it is thought probable that the vacancy will be filled from the staff.

THE FERNIE MINES.

Fernie, Aug. 6.—The coal company is at present carrying on extensive operations in opening up more mines. The company is reopening old No. 1 mine again, where a large coal area exists which has not been touched. Repairs are being made to the tunnel and new tracks are being laid. Seams are also being opened up on the opposite side of the valley and it is confidently expected that the tonnage will shortly be much increased.

The state railway authorities have decided to add a completely equipped first-class train to the Trail running through Fernie and Hesse. It will contain three coaches, an instrument case, and a complete dispensary.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CHARGES AT LADYSMITH

Rates Fixed at Meeting of City Council—Question of Day Service.

Ladysmith, Aug. 6.—At the last meeting of the city council the matter of the rate for electric light was discussed. The city electrician offered several suggestions, and it was finally decided to fix the rate at 16 cents k. w. up to 50, and above that 12 cents per k. w. a substantial discount to be allowed all those who had paid their light bills on or before the 20th of each month.

The electrical engineer pointed out the desirability of considering the profit that would accrue from making arrangements for a day load. Electrical devices had now become a household necessity. There could in all probability be 200 electric irons sold in the city. At $10 per year this would mean $2,000 in revenue to the city. Besides, there were many who would buy power to run small machines. This matter would have to be considered sooner or later.

The council had not considered the question, but may go into it later on.

BABY'S HOLD ON LIFE.

Baby's Own Tablets cost 25 cents a box. A box bought now may save baby's life. Summer complaints come suddenly, and carry away thousands of little ones every year. If the stomach and bowels are kept in order there is little danger of these troubles coming on. Baby's Own Tablets is the best medicine in the world for preventing and curing stomach and bowel troubles. They can be given with perfect safety to the new-born baby or to the well grown child. An occasional dose of the Tablets will regulate stomach and bowels and prevent summer complaints. SAWMILLS ON THE FRASER RIVER BUSY

Plants Running Full Blast—Large Orders are Coming From Prairies.

New Westminster, Aug. 6.—During July the lumber mills at New Westminster turned out a good average cut of lumber and already large orders are coming in from dealers in the prairie provinces on the strength of the prospects of a good harvest. The mills here are all running at full blast these hours a day. The cut of logs this year is as large or larger than ever and the market for New Westminster lumber is being extended to all parts of the world.

In the Fraser River mills, the cut during the month of July averaged about 370,000 feet per day. The cut at the Brunette mills during July was about 2,000,000 feet, and they also turned out about 4,000,000 shingles. Their average cut is about 80,000 feet per day of ten hours.

Small & Bucklin cut from 1,500,000 to 1,750,000 feet of lumber during July. Their average cut was between 60,000 and 80,000 feet per day. The Royal City planing mills have a lumber mill in connection with their planing mill and during July they cut about 60,000 feet of lumber.

The managers of the various mills are well satisfied with the business of the past month.

At a village near Le Mans the seven-year-old daughter of a farmer was sent into the field with her little sister, aged about three years. The sister fell and the baby to the cow's tail and then drove the cow all over the field. The baby was kicked to death.

TRAINED ANIMALS AT PANTAGES THEATRE

High Class Entertainment to Be Given Next Week.

Leon Morris & Co. in a "Society Circus" including trained ponies, dogs and monkeys; LaBelle Helene and her famous pack of leaping greyhounds; John Hedge and the wrestling ponies Banner and Madison, are all to be at the Pantages theatre next week. The combination positively represents the biggest and by far the best trained animal exhibition ever presented in a vaudeville theatre in America. While the above announcement will no doubt be a surprise to local amusement seekers, the big animal show will represent but a part of the great bill for next week, and there are more surprises in store for Pantages patrons.

The Temple City Quartette is another great feature for the new programme, which with the usual number of supporting acts, should easily make the best show that the Pantages has ever had.

COLD ON THE CHEST

Had Suffered for Weeks - Used Fourteen Different Remedies Without Effect.

Cured Quickly by "Nerviline."

No stronger proof of the wonderful merit of Nerviline could be produced than the letter of Miss Lucy Mosher, who for years has been a well-known resident of Windsor, N. S.

"I want to add my unsolicited testimonial to the efficacy of your wonderful fulfillment, 'Nerviline.' I consider it the best remedy for a cold, sore throat, wheezing, tightness in the chest, etc., and can state that for years our home has never been without Nerviline. I had a dreadful attack of cold that settled on my chest, that fourteen different remedies couldn't break up, I rubbed on Nerviline three times a day, used Nerviline as a gargle, and was completely restored. I have induced dozens of my friends to use Nerviline, and they are all delighted with its wonderful power over pain and sickness.

"You are at liberty to publish this signed letter, which I hope will show the way to health to many that need to use Nerviline."

(Signed) "LUCY MOSHER." All sorts of aches, pains and sufferings—internal and external—yield to Nerviline. Accept no substitute; 25c. per bottle, or five for $1.00. All dealers, or The Cataract Company, Kingston, Ont.

A BERENFORD STORY.

Lord Charles Berensford is one of the happiest of after-dinner speakers, and can generally be relied upon for some racy anecdote. Speaking on one occasion at a dinner of the Irish Association, he recalled an electioneering incident in Ireland, in which he played a prominent part. Unfortunately, he said, the election took place at a time when they were mending the roads, and one of the stones flying about happened to hit him on the back of the head. He said to one of his supporters, "I wish I could get hold of the fellow who threw that stone." "Oh; not at all," he replied, "for it was myself. Wasn't it a great stroke?"

SMALL DECREASE IN WHEAT AREA

FIGURES FOR THREE WESTERN PROVINCES

Saskatchewan, Which is in the Lead, Has 6,619,211 Acres Under Cultivation.

The western representative of the Toronto Globe writing from Winnipeg says: The official estimates of acreage under the various grains in the province of Alberta are now available, and it is possible to give the totals for the whole of the prairie country. The aggregate area under wheat is estimated at 5,559,608 acres, comprising 2,642,111 in Manitoba, 2,912,497 in Saskatchewan and 305,000 in Alberta. The area under oats is estimated at 4,058,000 acres, comprising 1,373,882 in Manitoba, 2,192,416 in Saskatchewan and 490,000 in Alberta. The area under barley is estimated at 936,471 acres, comprising 601,008 in Manitoba, 235,463 in Saskatchewan, and 100,000 in Alberta.

The total area under wheat in the three provinces last year was 6,871,728 acres, and there is a net decrease this season of 12,128 acres. The areas sown to oats and barley, respectively, show heavy increases, but other grains have barely held their own. The aggregate area sown to all grains was 12,161,948 acres this year, as compared with 11,492,548 in 1908, an increase of 669,400, or about six per cent. There is a decrease of 183,129 acres in the aggregate area in Manitoba, an increase of 648,370 in Saskatchewan and an increase of 68,793 in Alberta.

These estimates are issued by the various provincial departments of agriculture, and they are based on information supplied by hundreds of regular correspondents. Guesswork naturally enters into all estimates, but it is not unreasonable to suppose that these official guesses come as close to reflecting the actual state of affairs as do those issued by any other institution or individual. By an analysis of these statistics it is seen that Saskatchewan is easily the leading grain-producing province of the west, if not of the entire Dominion. Ontario is still to be reckoned with as a producer of cereals, in spite of the improvement in diversified farming there, and it is not likely that the older province will concede the palm to Saskatchewan without a "showdown." The total area under all grains in Saskatchewan this year is 6,419,211 acres, as compared with a total of 5,451,314 for both

Manitoba and Alberta. In respect to wheat the predominance is even more marked. The area under that grain in Saskatchewan is 2,912,497 acres, as compared with a total of 2,947,111 for both Manitoba and Alberta. Extent of territory under cultivation does not necessarily spell quantity or quality of grain produced, and the Manitoba farmer has some consolation in the fact that his land is still more productive. On the average it usually produces a better grade of grain as well, although the Saskatchewan government is aggressively pushing its campaign for better methods among the tillers of the soil in that province. The leadership of Manitoba in regard to yield per acre and grade of grain may not be long maintained. Saskatchewan has definitely assumed first position with regard to acreage, and doubtless the advantage in territory under cultivation will give her the superiority, so far as mere bushels are concerned, in totals of production from year to year. The figures from Alberta are rather disappointing, although it is encouraging to know that there is an increase in the aggregate acreage as compared with last year. The bulletin of the department of agriculture at Edmonton, in which the estimates of acreage for the various grains are given, also makes an estimate of the probable yield in each. The latter estimates are based on information available early in the present month (July), and are, of course, to be considered in conjunction with the possibilities of damage in the latter part of the growing season. The average yield of spring wheat for the whole province is estimated at 23 bushels per acre, of winter wheat at 20 bushels, of oats at 40 bushels, of barley at 25 bushels, and of flax at 8 1/2 bushels. The totals for the various grains are estimated as follows: Spring wheat, 5,200,000 bushels; oats, 19,600,000 bushels; barley, 2,500,000 bushels; and flax, 82,450 bushels. Small quantities of rye and speltz will bring the grand total of the grain production of the province up to 29,024,742 bushels, according to this official estimate. In round numbers 20,000,000 bushels will probably be thrashed in Alberta this year, of which about 55 per cent. will be in oats.

The bulletin of the department contains a brief but concise review of the agricultural season in the province, from which it may be learned that conditions have been far from favorable, especially in the case of winter wheat. "The acreage seeded to this grain last autumn," says the official publication, "was much greater than that in 1907, but this increased acreage will not compensate for the loss experienced during the winter and early spring." The loss, it appears, ranged from 25 to 50 per cent. of the crop over a large portion of southern Alberta, and in some districts it ran as high as 90 per cent. "Because of the winter killing," the bulletin states, "a considerable portion of the acreage sown to winter wheat in 1908 has been re-seeded to spring wheat, oats or barley, while a smaller proportion is being summer-fallowed. A good deal of what has been left standing is quite thin. The favorable weather in June over most of the province will cause this to thicken by stooling as well as increase the length of head, so that the average yield per acre, estimated early in July at 20 bushels, may prove at thrashing to be too low. . . . There has been a combination of circumstances producing a disappointing loss in this crop, but so great and uniform has been the success of preceding years that farmers are not discouraged. Preparations are being made for seeding a still greater acreage this year."

The department points out that a very large percentage of the winter wheat losses was caused by drought rather than frost. Many of the fields of new breaking were not properly handled to conserve moisture. This criticism is so well founded that it will find ready acceptance in all parts of the west. Much of the farming seems to have as its object the dissipation of a maximum amount of moisture, although an equal amount of labor, expended in another way, would probably result in the storing up of the dampness. The winter wheat in southern Alberta has had a severe trial during the past few months, and while it has not failed, it has made a poor showing. The farmers who were careful about conserving the moisture have, in the long run, achieved the greatest measure of success, and it is apparent that the future prosperity of the industry depends upon the adoption of intelligent methods on the part of those engaged in it.

MILLIONAIRE HAS STRUGGLE TO LIVE

Duke of Marlborough May Have to Suicide as Result of Budget.

It will come as a revelation to most people that, owing to increasing taxation, the Duke of Marlborough is growing weary of the struggle to live at all. This (according to the Observer) has been confided to an audience on Saturday at a Tariff Reform League garden party, held at Grove Lodge, Muswellhill, the residence of Mr. James Abraham. The speech was both amusing and convincing—convincing that ninety per cent. of Englishmen would like nothing better than to engage upon a similar struggle. When the duke has been driven to suicide he suggests that the fact of his successor having to pay a tax of 15 or 20 or 25 per cent. on his inheritance may drive him to desperation, and he will also take a plunge into another world. Now, if the successor pays 15 per cent. he will have inherited at least £1,000,000. The prospect of having to eke out an existence on such a pittance will not appeal those unaccustomed to handling millions. The duke began his speech by declaring that if ever there was a time when it was necessary to preserve the House of Lords it was now.

Dealing with the budget, he said he was asked to pay a shilling in the pound for a lot of money he did not get. He was now going to be asked to pay a paper-tax upon that money which he did not get. If he kept his land he was going to be asked to pay a penny in the pound if he did not develop it, and to pay 20 per cent. if he did develop it. If somebody else did that for him he had to pay 10 per cent. When he was thoroughly weary and exhausted with the struggle of trying to live at all, and when in desperation he threw himself out of a window, his successor would have the privilege of paying 15 or 20 per cent. or 25 per cent. for that right to retire into another world.

He would leave his successor with an impoverished and curtailed property to carry on under the same difficult and impossible conditions. He thought the result of the budget would be that land would have to be administered by public bodies. That would mean a bureaucracy, and those who lived on the soil would be very much worse off than under the good and kind rule of landlordism which existed to-day.

MAKES MORE BREAD AND BETTER BREAD

SOLD AT ALL GROCERS ASK FOR IT

PURITY FLOUR

PURITY FLOUR is not a cheap flour in price. But price is not all that is to be considered when buying flour. Like everything else the low-priced flour may be the most expensive in the end. A few cents more for a bag of flour that gives more loaves of bread—and bread of far better quality—is the best kind of economy.

It is for this last reason that we ask you to buy a bag of PURITY FLOUR and try it for yourself. Let it cost a few cents more per bag than some other flour you have used, if that is the case. PURITY FLOUR will give you more bread than the other. The bread will be of better flavor and color and will prove more nutritious. It will prove a saving to you in quantity, and in all-round satisfaction.

That is the basis on which we ask you to start using PURITY FLOUR. If it was not in every way worth the price it is sold for it would not command the enormous sale it has all over Canada. You will find, as so many thousands of others are finding every day, that PURITY FLOUR is the best flour for economy and for good results that you can use.

Buy a bag of PURITY FLOUR when next you need flour. Don't merely order "a bag of flour" and leave it to the grocer. You should be the one to decide what you will have. You are paying for it. Say to the grocer, "send me a bag of PURITY FLOUR," and get it.
