NOVA SCOTIA GENERAL ELECTION JUNE 25

Saskatchewan Indicates Outcome of Next Federal Election, Says King

CRYSTAL GARDEN WILL BE THROWN OPEN TO PUBLIC FOR BUSINESS NEXT MONDAY

Ivan W. Awde Has Management of Whole Enterprise; Sub-concessionaires Named; Canadian Pacific Railway Reserves Right to Control Rates for Admission

With the approval of Mr. D. C. Coleman, vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Basil Gardom, superintendent of construction of Western hotels, makes the announcement that the Crystal Garden swimming pool and promenade will be open to the public for business on June 8, and this building will be officially opened at the Grand Carnival Ball on June 26.

The Carnival committee has arranged with Mr. Gardom for swimming galas, dances, etc., during the Carnival week.

Mr. Gardom advises that Mr. Ivan W. Awde, of North Quadra Street, Victoria, B.C., was the first applicant for the lease of the Crystal Garden, and will be the chief concessionaire having management of the entire enterprise. Mr. Awde, who is a returned man, has had many years of banking experience. He is well known here through his connection with the Bank of Commerce, where he is now second vice-president, and his assistant, L. G. Herchner, as his assistant. So far the following sub-concessions have been arranged:

Picture Gallery—To the Arts and Crafts Society of Victoria, care represented by P. B. Pemberton.

Refreshments—W. H. Youden of Victoria, who has had experience in C.P.R. hotels, and will later be joined by his partner, U. Trepanier, now second waiter of the Banff Springs Hotel.

Hot Salt Water Baths—C. Penzer of the Empress beauty parlor and hairdresser, is to be concessionaire.

Sightseeing Auto and Empress Taxi and Sightseeing Company—Taxi service.

Orchestra and Dance Floors—Roy Trapp is supplying an orchestra with management of the dance floors. We understand that the Crystal Garden orchestra will be under the leadership of Bert Zala.

Other sub-concessions will shortly be arranged, including the supplying of excellent saddle horses and access to a riding school.

J. W. Awde, the concessionaire of the Crystal Garden, will make all future arrangements as to operation and sub-concessions; but the Canadian Pacific Railway Company reserves the right to control rates and supervise and inspect service.

On June 8 the following entrance charges will come into effect:

Swimming pool entrance, including pool and admission to promenade, 50c. per person, including towel, bathing suit and dressing-room.

Forty cents for children under fifteen years old, same as above.

Thirty-five cents for a resident member of the Crystal Garden, upon presentation of membership cards. Members use club locker rooms. Bathing suits and towels not included in this price.

LOCAL CHILDREN FAVORED Twenty-five cents girls' and boys' clubs and residents in Victoria, same as above, not including bathing suits and towels.

Fifteen cents for children between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Saturdays. Bathing suits and towels not supplied, and this ticket does not admit to promenades.

These popular charges have been discussed with Mayor Penderay and other leading citizens who express the hope that in spite of the tremendous expense of operation of this unusual venture, these prices will be sufficient to maintain necessary standards, so that the Crystal Garden may prove a unique attraction to visitors which all regard as its primary purpose.

The Crystal Garden management has been asked by the carnival committee not to make use of the dancing floors until the grand opening ball, June 26. Parties experienced in entertainment business will readily understand the postponement of previous arrangements means a daily loss until the night of June 26.

The executive of the carnival committee have approved a tentative programme for a carnival week submitted by Mr. Gardom, who has been assured by Mayor Penderay that everyone concerned is pleased with the arrangement, and will do their best to make the Crystal Garden a success.

WOMAN KILLED IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, June 3.—Miss Margaret Benson, sixty-five, a spinster and a pioneer resident of this city, said to have lived the life of a recluse at her Georgia Street home, was the victim of Vancouver's ninth automobile traffic fatality of the year, which occurred at Hastings and Nanaimo Streets last night.

Her body was found lying on the sidewalk this morning by a neighbor, Mrs. J. G. Robertson.

KING GEORGE V CELEBRATES HIS SIXTIETH BIRTHDAY

BIRTHDAY OF KING BROUGHT GOOD WISHES

Many Messages to Sovereign in London, Born Sixty Years Ago To-day

Interesting Ceremony in That City; Salutes Fired in Cities in Canada

Toronto, June 3.—The King's birthday was joyfully observed to-day throughout all Canada, although there was no general cessation of business, only banks, schools and exchanges closing.

A royal salute of twenty-one guns was fired at noon here and at garrison stations in Canada.

MANY MESSAGES London, June 3.—(Canadian Press Cable)—King George to-day celebrated his sixtieth birthday. The court came to London from Windsor yesterday for the occasion, which was marked by the customary congratulations from relatives, friends and foreign rulers and eulogistic articles in the newspapers.

The chief public celebration in London centred around the old military ceremonial, "Trooping the Colors," the annual parade and salute, by the Brigade of Guards in St. James Park.

SEEN BY THRONES This spectacle always draws crowds, but they were larger than ever this year, having an added attraction in the presence of Marshal Poch, who came here at the King's special invitation to participate in the parade.

The Allied generalissimo rode with the Duke of York, Prince Henry, the Duke of Connaught and Viscount Lascelles behind the King, at the head of the parade from the Palace to the review ground and back.

The yearly military pageant of Trooping the Colors has no counterpart in any other army in the world and it really constitutes a reaffirmation by the Brigade of Guards of their allegiance to the sovereign and their privilege of mounting guards in special places and on special occasions of particular ceremony.

At the Trooping of the Colors to-day, the mounted officers of the Grenadier Guards used the shillery presented by the Duke of Wellington to the Guards and the Life Guards appeared with the kettle drums given by William IV.

PINED AT PERTH Perth, West Australia, June 3.—Commander de Pinedo, Italian aviator flying from Rome to Australia and Japan, arrived here to-day from Carparano.

Elderly Logger in Vancouver Died

Vancouver, June 3.—The body of William Madden, sixty-five, a logger, was found lying this morning on the floor of a room he had occupied in the Bodega Hotel.

He came to the city on May 25, from Rock Bay.

SASKATCHEWAN ELECTION RESULT PROVES LIBERALISM GROWING, SAYS PREMIER KING

Regina, June 3.—At 1 p.m. to-day the standing of the parties as a result of the Saskatchewan provincial general election yesterday was: Liberals 47; Conservatives 3; Progressives 5; Independents 2; doubtful 4; deferred 2. Total 63.

Ottawa, June 3.—Premier King, commenting to-day on the result of the provincial general election in Saskatchewan yesterday, said:

"The result is, first and foremost, an emphatic expression of confidence in Premier Dunning and his Government, which throughout have stood four-square as a Liberal administration, promoting Liberal principles and policies in the Middle West. It is also an unmistakable evidence of the growth and present position of Liberalism in the most central of the Western provinces, and may well be regarded as prophetic of the results which will be attained when an appeal is made to the confidence of the Western electors in Liberal policies in the larger arena of Federal politics."

"It is not without significance that Mr. Dunning's sweeping victory should have 'synchronized' to use an expression emanating from Conservative sources, with the day Mr. Melchin selected to bring forward his resolution for increased protection and its defeat by a majority of 119 in the House of Commons."

DUNNING'S STATEMENT Regina, June 3.—Premier Charles A. Dunning to-day issued a statement here thanking the people of Saskatchewan for their confidence in the Government and promising continuation of "sound and efficient government."

"I declared he regretted the defeat in Regina of Attorney-General J. A. Cross as the result of what he termed a "campaign of slander and vilification."

"I am convinced the province needs the services of Colonel Cross," he said. "I intend to make every effort to ensure the province is not deprived of his services in this capacity."

COUNTING OF VOTES Regina, June 3.—(Canadian Press)—The Liberal Government of Saskatchewan headed by Premier Charles A. Dunning was returned to power in the general election held yesterday.

It is not expected the vote will be finally tallied from all the constituencies until late this afternoon.

In the last Legislature the opposition totaled fifteen, and of those only two were returned yesterday. They are J. Sakked, Moosomin, and G. Cockburn, Redberry.

The Government gained nine new seats, the opposition lost five that formerly were in the Government column.

Premier Dunning received one of the largest majorities recorded in the province and his opponent, J. Platkev, Progressive, lost his deposit.

All members of the Provincial Cabinet were returned with the exception of the Attorney-General.

The voting was not without sensational results, particularly in Regina and Saskatoon.

DRYS SCORED BY DR. N. M. BUTLER

New York, June 3.—Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, who has been under attack by prohibition leaders on several recent occasions because of his outspoken criticism of the Volstead Act, once again scored the dry law and similar restrictive laws in a commencement day address here to-day.

"Laws enacted through fanaticism or in crass ignorance bid fair to make lawbreaking a cardinal virtue," he declared. "Such laws are killing respect for law."

Judges, prosecuting officers and members of legislative bodies, both national and state, talk, act and vote one way and daily drink another."

Presbyterian Assembly To Begin To-night In Toronto

ROSS C. WATSON SENT BACK TO OAKALLA JAIL

Attorney-General Says He Will be Kept There Till Second Trial

Watson's Counsel Intimates He Expects Shortly to Apply For Bail

Vancouver, June 3.—Ross C. Watson arrived in Vancouver from Nanaimo on the steamer Princess Patricia this morning in custody of Provincial Police officers and was driven directly to Oakalla.

W. E. Burns, his counsel, arrived on the same boat and while he stated he had not yet decided upon any course of action, intimated he would probably shortly apply for bail, until Watson's retrial at the Fall Assizes on the charge of complicity in the Royal Bank robbery in Nanaimo last December.

Ross C. Watson, the ex-Seattle detective, whose name as a participant in the $42,000 Nanaimo Royal Bank robbery the jury at the Nanaimo Assizes disagreed last night, will remain at Oakalla Prison, to which he was sent immediately following the trial until next Fall, Attorney-General Mangon stated to-day.

He will, as is usual in the case of a disagreement of the jury, face the same charge again before a new jury. He will probably appear at the next Fall Assizes at Nanaimo, which are held about November, Mr. Mangon stated. "There will be no other charges made against Watson, but there is a possibility that the other men in Seattle under extradition may be on the Canadian soil to stand by Watson in the dock to answer charges next time the bank robbery hearing is called."

BRITISH CRUISERS CARRYING 1,500 SOLDIERS BEING SENT TO SHANGHAI FROM HONGKONG

Troops to Protect Britishers in Foreign Settlement Until Disorders Growing Out of Strikes in Shanghai Are Ended; City Described as Armed Camp

Shanghai, June 3.—It was reported here to-day that the British light cruisers Carlisle and Despatch are coming from Hongkong with 1,500 men of the Lancashire Infantry in connection with the disturbances growing out of the demonstrations by students.

Shanghai, June 3.—Shanghai was an armed camp to-day. Two outbreaks this morning caused police to open fire, resulting in the deaths of two persons and injuries to many.

Banks were closed, store fronts were boarded, food was being rationed out by shopkeepers, and hotels and stores were searched for arms, while troops of several nations attempted the task of restoring order after a series of uprisings which started last Saturday when Chinese students protested against the prosecution of strikers in Japanese-owned spinning mills here.

The Chinese students this afternoon retired to their area of the city to bury, with Confucian ceremonies, the bodies of several of their confederates, who fell in the riots.

After the funeral service student speakers in the Chinese section sounded a changed note. They urged the throng to avoid clashes with foreign defenders, pointing out the folly of inviting certain death by attacking, empty-handed, armed foreigners.

As an alternative the speakers counselled union in spreading the strike and ceasing intercourse with foreigners and blocking the delivery of food supplies of every character, thereby driving out their opponents.

SNIPERS HUNTED Members of the United States Volunteer Corps to-day took precautions to prevent a recurrence of sniper fire which yesterday hit Dr. Thomas McMartin and killed his horse while Dr. McMartin was on duty with the Volunteer Corps. The Americans to-day searched two leading restaurant stores, Wing On's and Sincere's, both of which have hotels connected with the merchandise establishments. It was feared snipers searching for points of vantage might occupy the upper stories of the hotels. Only one revolver was found in an empty room, however.

The Junior Chinese Constabulary was relieved of its weapons to-day, also.

United States sailors continue to guard the waterworks.

Upon the request of the Controller of Voluntary Services, the British Women's Association issued a call to-day to women of all nationalities.

The line of rum ships, twenty-two miles off the coast, has grown to twelve vessels. Seven of the eight identified ships fly the British flag and one is of French registry.

Berlin, June 3.—Unless the Allied Ambassadors in Berlin are given fresh instructions within the next thirty-six hours, the Berlin Government will be in formal possession of the long-expected note outlining Germany's failure to carry out disarmament as demanded by the Treaty of Versailles.

PERIOD OF CRISIS
Its arrival is expected to ring up the curtain for an era of turbulent international and foreign politics, in the opinion of Reichstag leaders. They point out that the disarmament note is obviously interlocked with such issues as the evacuation of the Cologne area and of the Ruhr district, and the question of a security pact for Western Europe.

Now the North has beckoned again. Amundsen, who played his trick at the South Pole, has gone to the top of the world. Will he come back? Minister Will be Appointed Soon, Says Premier King; Money is Voted

Ottawa, June 3.—The Canadian Government hopes to appoint a Canadian Minister to Washington very shortly, Premier King announced in the House last night, when a vote of $50,000 for Canadian representation in the United States was before the House for consideration. The Prime Minister said the Government had not found it easy to secure the person it wanted to represent Canada, and referred to the necessary personal expenses which went with such a post. After some discussion, during which the vote was opposed by Sir Henry Draxton, Conservative, South York, Ont., and approved by Hon. T. A. Crerar, Progressive, Marquette,

"King of Greeks" Dies Millionaire

New York, June 3.—The King of the Greeks is dead. He was Theodore Eckles. Coming to this country twenty-five years ago and penniless, he worked until he had enough to buy a push-cart from which he sold fruit. Then he went into the confectionery business. When he died he had more than $1,000,000 in the bank and owned more restaurants than any other man in town.

DEFENSIVE FIGHTING

Montreal, June 3.—A resolution fully recognizing "the right and Christian duty to take up arms in national defence, or to secure international justice as a last dreadful necessity," was adopted by the Montreal Methodist Conference, in session here, and will be referred to the United Church of Canada.

Railroad Line For Use of Motorists

Winnipeg, June 3.—A procession of tourists driving into the picturesque northland in their own family motor cars, fitted with flanged rims to grip the rails of the Hudson Bay line, is the ingenious scheme proposed by R. M. Haultain, a railway construction engineer of Winnipeg. Mr. Haultain believes such traffic over the Government railway would present no difficulties. To obviate any danger of accidents, he would discard the line to the effect that the odd days of the month would be reserved for northbound traffic and the even days for southbound. Each car would be required to carry a light derailing shoe, to provide for emergencies. The investment on the part of the railway company in flanged rims, trailers, steering gear locks, etc., would be negligible, declared Mr. Haultain, when compared with the increased revenue obtained from freighting cars to different points along the Hudson Bay line. Mr. Haultain has complete confidence in the feasibility of the scheme and maintains that the north country would ultimately become a mecca of sport lovers and attract tourists to the profitable advantage of the Canadian National system. The line could be placed in the revenue-producing class as the "world's most unique motor highway," he contends. Mr. Haultain proposes to submit his idea to the railway authorities.

Many Indians in Manitoba Died

Toronto, June 3.—Within the past year practically all the Indian children under two years of age in the Christian band on the reserve at Nelson House, in Northern Manitoba, have died, according to word received here in a letter from Rev. W. E. Huddy, missionary in charge of the post. Seventy-seven members of the band perished within the year, and the survivors are disheartened and feeble. Last August an epidemic of measles swept through the reserve and took a heavy toll of old and young. An outbreak of whooping cough lasted through the Christmas season and by New Year's Day the dead numbered fifty-one, mainly children and babies. At the end of January a form of influenza appeared to add to its ravages, and in a few days nearly every one was down. "For a while," wrote the missionary, "we could not bury our dead. Nearly all the babies born during the last two years are gone. A large number of older children and several women and some of our best men are gone."

NEW POPULAR MUSIC MUST FIT UKELELE

New York, June 3.—Most of the song composers pick out their tunes on the piano, fingering a run or two and then setting them down on paper. Jimmie Monaco, one of the well-known habitués of Tin Pan Alley, has been doing that for thirteen years, but he recently changed his system. "There are 2,000,000 ukeleles in the country," he says, "and unless your piece can be played on the uke it's no go. So now I have discarded the piano and pick out my airs on a uke. If it can be played on uke, it can be played on a piano, but it doesn't work the other way round."

FIRE DAMAGES TWO HOMES IN NANAIMO

House of Persons Visiting Victoria Wrecked in Absence

Nanaimo, June 3.—Fire early yesterday morning practically destroyed the residence of Mr. J. Weeks, Dixon Street. Mrs. Weeks is in Vancouver, and Mr. Weeks, who had retired but a short time before, made his escape in his nightclothing through a window. While the firemen were working with the hose stretched across Halliburton Street, a motorist dashed along the street at a fast speed and, disregarding all signs, crossed over the hose and faded into the darkness before his number could be secured.

The home of Mr. John Duggan, Strickland Street, outside the city limits, was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday night. Neighbors being able to save some of the furniture, but Mr. Duggan's loss is a serious one. Mr. and Mrs. Duggan were away in Victoria at the time and the origin of the fire is unknown.

SIDNEY'S TRIBUTE TO REV. GRIFFITHS

Illuminated Address Presented to Retiring Minister

Special to The Times
Sidney, June 3.—A very large crowd of the congregations of South Saanich and Sidney, also many friends gathered at St. Paul's Church on Monday evening to give a farewell social to their minister, the Rev. T. G. Griffiths and Mrs. Griffiths, who are leaving with their family on Thursday for North Vancouver after living in Sidney for five years. The evening opened with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." Then a prayer by the Rev. Franks of Wilkinson Road, who is a very old friend of Mr. Griffiths. The next item on the programme was a quartette by the South Saanich choir, Miss Gale, Mr. Barlow and Mr. Cowell sang solos.

The Rev. T. M. Hughes, rector of the Anglican churches of North Saanich and Sidney, and the Rev. Franks of Wilkinson Road next spoke in the most eulogistic terms, saying how Sidney would miss Mr. Griffiths. The "Faith of Our Fathers" was then sung, Mrs. H. F. Knight, Mr. Somerville and Mr. Loure sang solos. Mrs. Morrow was the organist, and played all accompaniments.

Alec MacDonald was the chairman for the evening. A presentation was then made by A. W. McClure and J. T. Taylor on behalf of the congregations of a very handsome silver tea set. Remarks were made by Capt. Gray, E. Blackburn and A. Dalley. With the tea set was the following illuminated address:

Sidney, June 1, 1925.
Dear Mr. Griffiths:—We the members and adherents of the Sidney and South Saanich Union Churches having learned with deep regret that you are about to be removed to another field of labor, desire most earnestly to express our very great appreciation of your work as our pastor during the time you have served amongst us in that capacity. We shall follow you with our prayers in your new field of labor for the Master, and trust that under His blessing you may have many souls for your hire and zeal unto your ministry. We shall never forget your helpfulness and kindness to us all, both as minister and citizen, and we particularly wish to include Mr. Griffiths in this, as she has been equally with yourself the life of our social gatherings, and our mainstay when there was work to be done. We trust you will accept the silver tea service with the wish that the pot may always be kept boiling, but never get you into hot water. Your cup of happiness be overflowing and the best of fortunes be sent for you in the grounds that the milk of human kindness may surround you and your path be sweetness with prosperity.

PREMIER DUNNING'S VICTORY

YESTERDAY'S GENERAL election in the Province of Saskatchewan is a signal triumph for Liberalism and a notable victory for the Dunning Government. Although there never was any doubt about the return of the Administration, with its majority at dissolution of nearly forty over all other parties in the Legislature combined, it might have been supposed that in the ordinary course of political events the Liberal strength would very probably undergo a loss. The reverse has happened. As compared with the forty-five members supporting Premier Dunning on May 1 of last year, the returns already give the Government forty-seven seats, while it is fairly certain that when the doubtful constituencies have been heard from the Ministry will hold fifty out of a total of sixty-three—a big margin that emphasizes the confidence which the electors have in the Prime Minister and his supporters.

One of the notable features of the campaign from its commencement to its end was what was advertised as a determined effort on the part of Conservatives and Progressives to defeat the Government at all costs. The extent to which these plans had been carried is reflected in the fact that there were only two acclamations, while attempts to split the vote to the detriment of the Government candidate were put forth in the shape of three-cornered contests. How poor was the generalship herein displayed may be estimated by the returns already beyond complete. They indicate beyond all doubt that the people of Saskatchewan are not influenced by party manoeuvres of this kind. They are apparently perfectly satisfied with the manner in which the Dunning Government has conducted their affairs and are not in the mood to exchange the stable political and economic condition which a strong government insures for a government by compromise.

With a Progressive representation of five and only two Conservatives in the next Legislature—these figures are taken from the known results in fifty-six out of the sixty-three seats—the fortunes of these two parties may be described as at the lowest possible ebb to which they could descend without disappearing from the political picture altogether. In provincial affairs at least the extremely poor showing which the Progressives made yesterday, notwithstanding a peculiar alliance with Conservatives in some constituencies, reflects a growing tendency on the part of the Saskatchewan electors to put an end to the third party movement. As for the Conservatives, their campaigns in Saskatchewan must be little short of political nightmares.

Incidentally, the defeat of Mr. Cross, the Attorney-General, is to be regretted. The eleven-hour tactics which undoubtedly contributed to it are no tribute to the honesty of the Government's opponents. As a local issue it had its effect. There was no time properly to refute the charge—one of illicit dealings in liquor by the law firm which Mr. Cross is associated—which had absolutely no foundation in fact. So that while he fell by the wayside, the people of the Province as a whole merely went ahead and increased the Government's majority. This was the real answer to such tactics.

ONLY 37 FOR IT MR. MEIGHEN'S MOTION in favor of a higher tariff yesterday secured the support of only thirty-seven members of the House of Commons out of a roll call of 184. The Majority against it thus being 110. It was an appeal designed solely in the cause of a small but powerful minority of interests in this country—a considerable proportion of whom have headquarters in the United States—at the expense of the great body of Canadian consumers. It involved also an indirect attack upon the British preferences, which Mr. Meighen would abolish altogether if he had his way. We are not surprised that only 37 out of 50 had the nerve to stay in the House to support their leader's motion for more restrictions in the way of international trade and heavier burdens upon Canadian buyers. A protective tariff is a statutory guarantee of extra profits for its beneficiaries at the expense of the local consumer, but it always is without any provision fixing reasonable prices for the products of the industries it protects and guaranteeing fair wages for their employees. Neither does it squeeze the water out of the stock of over-capitalized companies on which the buyer is taxed. It is a jug-handled proposition at best from which only a very few benefit.

Not so very long ago Dr. Tolmie told us that a wave of Conservatism was sweeping the country. It must have been the bubble which Liberalism has pricked everywhere. Premier Dunning's success, agriculturally and politically, ought to be an inspiration to many other young men in Britain who are cooling their heels at the door of the employment agency. He left England at the age of seventeen and became Premier of Saskatchewan at thirty-seven.

THE PETERSEN SHIP

YESTERDAY'S SITTING of the McMaster Committee at Ottawa produced some interesting information in respect of the efficiency of the corrugated ship—the ship invented by Sir William Petersen whose line of steamships the Government of Canada proposes to subsidize. In his capacity as Superintendent-Engineer of the Canadian Pacific Steamships, Mr. Walter C. Wolfe expressed the opinion that the Rio Dorado, a Petersen maiden vessel which he examined at Montreal, had perhaps as much as thirty per cent. advantage over most ships of her class in cost of fueling and efficiency, due in part, he believed, to the fact that she is equipped with superheated steam facilities, which had proved economical on new big liners where they had been installed.

No doubt technical information is required to understand the full purport of the testimony which Mr. Wolfe presented to the House of Commons Committee. This much is evident, however, that his own expert view of the class of ship which Sir William Petersen proposes to put into the Canadian passenger and freight trade under the provisions of the subsidy is one which has an advantage of thirty per cent. over other ships of that particular class. This rather disturbs the arguments which a number of the opponents of the King Government's proposal have continually advanced in respect of Sir William's ability to do what he says he can do. Even they would not feel like challenging the testimony of an expert in the employ of the most successful railway and steamship organization in the world.

FROM HIRED MAN TO PRIME MINISTER

A PART FROM THE sweeping victory of his Party, a notable reaffirmation of confidence in itself, Premier Dunning should be able to extract a considerable amount of personal satisfaction from the result of yesterday's contest in Saskatchewan. It was his first appeal to the electorate in his capacity as Prime Minister of the Province and he was endorsed by the voters of Moose Jaw County by one of the largest majorities ever recorded in the Province. This striking tribute to his personal popularity and unusual political record comes at the end of the second decade of Liberal administration in the great grain-growing Province, and it can be taken as another form of proof that, if anything, Saskatchewan is even more firmly rooted in the principles for which its Premier stands than at any time since Hon. Walter Scott led the first Liberal Government when the Province was formed twenty years ago.

Other young men in industrial Britain might well take note of the success which Premier Dunning has carved out for himself in the Province of his adoption and find inspiration in it. Twenty-three years ago he was a helper in a foundry in his native Leicestershire. He knew nothing about farming or farm life. In 1902 he came to Saskatchewan and began his lessons in the hard school of experience as a hired man. At the age of thirty-seven he relinquished the portfolio of Provincial Treasurer of the Province which gave him his first opportunity for public service to become its first Minister. Two months before his fortieth birthday the people have confirmed him in that position with such a large majority that his opponent may even lose his deposit. His progress should be an inspiration to all young Canadians.

King George is sixty years old to-day. British peoples throughout the world will wish him many happy returns and congratulate him upon his complete recovery from his recent illness. The people of Saskatchewan are doing a new crossword puzzle to-day. They have a seven-letter word relating to something which happens to the sun, beginning and ending with "e"—synonymous with the state of Progressivism and Conservatism in that Province.

DR. FRANK CRANE ON THOMAS JEFFERSON

ONE of the justly great names in the history of the United States is Thomas Jefferson. A movement is now on foot to raise money by public subscription in order that Monticello, his old home, should be cleared of debt and a suitable monument to his memory be erected.

The respect paid to great men of former times has been called the greatest document of modern times. He stood for religious freedom in an age of universal intolerance. He was one of the first men to see that the greatest block to national wrongs was democracy.

It is right and fitting that all the people of small as well as of great means should unite in giving to the United States honor their best services to his country.

I.O.D.E. LEARNS OF IMMIGRATION AND CHILD WELFARE

National Chapter Addressed By Miss Burnham and Miss Whitton

Ottawa, June 3 (Canadian Press Staff Correspondent)—"Canada stands first in its care for unaccompanied women entering the country," Miss Mary Burnham, head of the Women's Section of the Immigration Department, who addressed the National meeting of the I.O.D.E. in Ottawa, here this morning.

During the year 1924 girls came to Canada to be married. The cases were investigated in England, and their names were given to Dr. Helen Fare, Department of Child Welfare, who sends them health literature. Positions were guaranteed to all general servants.

Mrs. William G. Petrie, Quebec, reported for the immigration committee. I.O.D.E. members had represented the National Travellers Aid in places where that body had no representation. Parfumeries were made to transfer child immigrants.

Mrs. A. D. Malcolmson of St. Catharines, Ont., national director I.O.D.E. Girl Guides Companies, reported fifteen companies registered in Canada.

One of the most important reports was that of the child welfare committee by Miss Charlotte Whitton. Miss Whitton asked for the charter of the International Child Welfare Union in Geneva. She asked chapters to undertake a broader study of child welfare.

Miss Jean Arnold of Toronto, reported upon the completion during the year of the order of the Canadian Memorial to the Fallen of the South African War. The order's fund for the monument was $3,884. The income from the balance will be used for the relief of the children of the South African War. Gratitude was expressed to Capt. Edward Reading and Colonel George S. Victoria's Premier Store Announces the Opening of Another Important Department

To-morrow We Open a

Modern Fresh Meat Department

Equipped With the Most Modern Facilities and Up-to-date Refrigerating System in Western Canada

We are pleased to announce that, commencing to-morrow, we will be able to provide our customers with

High Grade Fresh Meats

This new department is equipped throughout with the most modern facilities, the refrigerating system being the most up-to-date of its kind in Western Canada

A Unique Feature

The display cases on the counters are entirely enclosed with plate glass (we believe this is the only fresh meat department in British Columbia having this most desirable feature). These cases are directly connected with the refrigerator which extends the full length of the space underneath. By means of nickel-plated grills in the thick marble slabs forming the counter, the cold air is thoroughly circulated in the cases ensuring perfect sanitation, hygiene and absolute protection against dust and dirt.

The large refrigerator at the back of the department is the last word in modern refrigerator construction, having a front of triple plate glass, the walls, ceiling and cement floor being heavily insulated with specially prepared cork slabs.

The whole of the refrigerator system has been installed by the Linde Canadian Refrigerator Company, using Canadian materials and Canadian labor.

Prices Particularly Reasonable

Only the best quality meats will be sold but our customers are assured that prices will be particularly reasonable.

Deliveries

The operating of our Meat Department will necessarily entail much additional work for our delivery service and we would therefore ask our customers to assist as much as possible by phoning in their orders the afternoon or evening before delivery is required.

Major Charles Bailey, Pacific Club, seeks the aid of the police in tracing the person or persons who poisoned his dog. The body of the dog was found in an empty house on the corner of the street. The dog had been carried to the house by the one who administered the poison. A veterinarian surgeon later confirmed the report that the dog had died from poisoning, and the police are asked to find the culprit. The dog was a valuable one, and a great pet.

CAR WRECKED: MAN HURT IN CRASH ON HIGHWAY AT COWICHAN

Nanaimo, June 3.—As a result of an automobile accident which occurred on Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of the Cowichan Road and the Island Highway, Laurier Highway, the Ramsay Machine Works received sufficient injuries to have him placed in the Truck General Hospital. Ramsay was driving a car and collided with a truck owned by the Hudson's Bay Company, which turned upside down, and although the car is a complete wreck, Ramsay escaped the only one injured, and is expected to recover.

Relics Recall the "Good Old Days" of Cariboo Rush

A relic of the olden days when the coddling of the criminal was unknown, has arrived at the headquarters of the Provincial Police for the provincial archives—leg-irons used in the days of Cariboo gold rush. The leg-irons, made of iron, are part of a set that once chained hands and feet together with continuous steel bar links with a weight of some twenty pounds. The bracelets and leg-irons themselves were locked with enormous independent padlocks. The old-fashioned manacles were used by the police at Barkerville in 1858 and again at Omineca in the '70s, going later to Fort George and thence to Prince George. The manacles to accompany police officers and heretofore the Stewart sold camps will be slim, self-locking, highly wrought steel affairs of a few ounces in weight.

ORPHANAGE WILL KEEP ABANDONED INFANT FOR MOTHER

Pathetic Letter and Five-dollar Bill Accompanied Little Infant in Basket

"Arthur," a two weeks' old baby boy left last night with a despairing mother and her last five-dollar bill on the doorstep of the Protestant Orphan Home, will be kept and well cared for by that institution. It was announced today that the baby was found in a basket warmly wrapped and with a bottle of warm milk, a few seconds after the door had been rung. When Mrs. Harris, the matron, responded his mother had gone, and what looked like a provision basket reposed on the step.

A healthy outcry issuing from the basket soon drew attention to the nature of its contents, and "Arthur" was brought into the warmth of the building and placed in a cot more to his liking. A pathetic letter with a five-dollar bill pinned to it, the mother's name—found in the basket. It read:

"Please please keep my dear little baby for me. I can't support him now for I have to earn my own living. But as soon as I am able to keep him I will come for him. Don't give him to anybody else, and I will be sure and come for him as soon as I get it.

"His name is Arthur. I don't want to give him up. But I can't keep him. If I can't keep him, please keep him for me. I'll come as soon as I can."

Attached to the letter was a card in which the word "Arthur" remaining on the portion sent to the orphanage. The other half of the card was retained by the mother who will produce it, she stated, when she goes to reclaim her child.

No police action will be taken in the affair. It was learned today from the police that a good home until his rightful mother has won her way out of her difficulties to more prosperous days. A large volume of public sympathy around in the pathetic circumstances is impotent to help as the identity of the child's mother cannot be ascertained.

The case recalls an action in a Victoria court in the Spring when a Victorian woman claimed her two children abandoned for seven years. In 1918 the mother left her two children on a doorstep in a Manitoba town, and came to the coast to seek work. It took her years to follow she kept in touch with her children without disclosing her identity, and this year, having achieved a modest success in her business, she returned to the courts. The reunion that took place was a touching one, but not without sad consequences as foster parents in the meantime had become greatly attached to the little waifs of abandoned humanity they had raised to be bonny children.

CARVEH VICTORIA BRINGS FIRST LEMMING

Explorer Arrives With News of Mysterious Migration of Myriad of Animals

Carveh Wells, noted explorer, world-traveler and lecturer, arrived in Victoria today bringing with him the first lemming that has ever come to this part of the world and the first news Victoria has received of the recent mysterious migration and destruction in the sea of 300,000,000 lemmings which he witnessed in Lapland.

The lemming is a little animal, like a medium-sized guinea-pig, with rich golden brown fur and gray under the jaws and neck. They decrease in number as they approach the hordes of millions, after eighteen years' absence. The Lapps say the lemmings suddenly come from heaven in a lemming year, myriads eat their way across Lapland only to swim to death in the sea.

Mr. Wells sailed from New York to Lapland last Summer, promising the director of the American Museum of Natural History that he would try to meet his request and bring back a lemming. As a member of the Explorer's Club he led the investigating party.

When I sailed, little did I think that within six weeks I should actually see a migration, the first to occur in Lapland in eighteen years. The lemming was very angry, for jumping up at my legs, snapping and snarling, he furiously attacked me. I retreated a few paces, and immediately the little chap calmed down and sat on the ground, looking at me as if he were waiting for me to see him. I was so hot up with excitement at seeing my first lemming that I shouted for my little motion-picture camera and took reels of film. In case it might be the only specimen in Lapland. For so small an animal, it proved to be extremely brave. As soon as it discovered that no fewer than five men were looking at its sacred spot of land, it began to attack each of us in turn, barking, fighting and jumping sometimes two feet into the air.

MOVE ON TEN FEET APART

The next day, as our journey continued, we saw several millions of lemmings. According to my estimate, they covered a strip of Lapland at least twenty miles wide. I had always pictured a lemming migration as vast swarms of animals packed closely together. Instead I found that each lemming claimed as its preserve an area measuring ten feet by ten feet. Left alone, the lemmings were content for the movement of its jaws while eating.

"All the natives could tell us that these animals suddenly appear in the country eating their way through the country into the lowlands. The highest mountains and the widest lakes are no obstacles. Eventually, sometimes after a steady journey lasting for two years, they reach the sea. Here they are crowded into a great mass. If one is pushed into the water he begins to swim. Blindly he follows the leader, and in a few minutes he is swimming away to destruction."

Mr. Wells said that these lemmings covered a strip of country sixty miles long by twenty-five miles wide. He estimated that there were altogether at least 300,000,000. A migration representing an abundance of food, attracts bears, wolves, hawks and foxes.

"But the inexplicable thing is where are the lemmings between migrations?" Mr. Wells added. "Every lemming or sled dog has studied the matter, but all agree that at the end of a migration not a single lemming will be seen for years, until suddenly millions appear, apparently from nowhere."

Mr. Wells has come here to fill a lecture engagement at the High School auditorium Friday evening when he will speak on "From Arctic Lapland to the South Sea Islands." He will show a moving picture of features of both places, including the birds, flowers, animals and fish, which he will show at his lecture here. He also will show a specimen of the mysterious lemming from Lapland.

JOINT CAMPAIGN OF ADVERTISING BROUGHT RESULTS

Traffic to Puget Sound Country Jumped 70 Per Cent Last Year

Advertising Was Dominant in Tourist Publicity

Tourist traffic from the territory covered by the 1924 campaign of the Puget Sound and British Columbia Associated, in which Victoria participates, was, according to Canadian immigration officials, between sixty per cent, and seventy per cent, greater than the corresponding time of the previous year, a report to subscribers received by the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau shows.

The campaign is financed by funds appropriated by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, $15,400; Tacoma Chamber of Commerce, $4,400; Vancouver Publicity Bureau, $4,800; Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, $2,200; and Bellingham Chamber of Commerce, $2,200.

In connection with the joint advertising campaign run last year, between April 1 and July 1, full-page advertisements were run in Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Sacramento, Fresno, Portland, Spokane, Sunset Magazine, Portland, and Touring Topics.

This advertising, which was the dominant tourist advertising appearing in California newspapers, attracted attention. Steamship and railroad companies co-operated wholeheartedly. For the first time the advantages and lure of the Puget Sound and British Columbia were presented in an adequate forceful way. Results proved that it was good policy for the Seattle Chamber of Commerce to have advertising had been spending sums individually in California to join in advertising the attractions of the five sister cities.

More than 10,000 letters were received in reply to the advertising. Victoria with the other four cities will again participate in the campaign this year when the advertising will contain an even wider appeal than last year.

WIDE EXPERIENCE

J. D. Galloway, now Provincial Mineralogist, held the position up to a few months ago.

Mr. Lay's technical education was received at the Royal School of Mines, London, England. He is a member of the Institution of Mining and Metallurgy, an associate member of the Institute of Chemistry, and a member of the Association of Professional Engineers of British Columbia.

Mr. Lay's practical experience extends over a period of twenty-five years, of which thirteen years were spent in British Columbia, and embracing mining, milling and constructional operations connected with various mining properties. His early experience was that of assayer, surveyor, mine foreman, etc., at different properties. From 1906 to 1915 he was manager of the Yan-Red Mining Company, during which time the property was developed from a prospect to a well-equipped mine with a concentrator and aerial tramway.

Owing to the war his professional career was interrupted. Enlisting under the Derby group scheme he was called to the colors, but subsequently by the Ministry of Munitions, and appointed engineer-chemist at H.M. factory, Queen's Ferry, where he remained until after the armistice.

From 1921 to 1923 he was manager of the Le Roi No. 2 mine at Rossland, when the property was sold. Since that time he has practiced as a consulting engineer.

GALLOWAY TO OVERSEE KAMLOOPS

With the appointment of Mr. Lay, comes the announcement that J. D. Galloway, Provincial Mineralogist, has been appointed Acting Resident Mining Engineer for Mineral Survey District No. 2, headquarters, Kamloops.

This action has been necessitated through the retirement of A. W. Davis on May 1, after nearly three years' service with the department. Mr. Davis is undertaking the supervision of the development of a mining property at Tahsta Lake and of promising prospects elsewhere in the Province.

YOUTH'S CHARGED WITH LIGHTING FIRE

Robert Watson, an eighteen-year-old youth, placed under arrest by plain clothes officers of the city police yesterday afternoon and will be arraigned before Magistrate Jay tomorrow. The youth is charged with setting fire to a pile of telephone poles that lay on the Songhees Reserve.

Fire broke out in the pile at 1:35 p.m. on Monday and was extinguished by the Department. Fire re-started in the poles at 4:55 p.m. and was quenched for the second time.

Watson was brought to this city police station by Deputy Fire Chief Alexander Munroe on Monday but was later released. Two women residing near the scene of the fire, assert they saw a man in the vicinity of the fire and one woman tells of a man who called at her home with a request that she turn in a call to the fire department, declining to use the telephone himself.

Despite its two outbreaks the fire did not cause any property damage, either occasion and was quenched by the city fire engines.

BOY SOPRANO WON MUCH ADMIRATION

Master Leighton Winter Pleased Audience at Cathedral Recital

An interested and appreciative audience listened with much pleasure to the recital given in Christ Church Cathedral last evening in aid of the choir music fund. BUSINESS LEADERS SHOW APPRECIATION OF CARNIVAL VALUE

Contribute Large Sums Toward Cost of Big Celebration

The manufacturing concerns of Victoria are strongly supporting the Crystal Garden Carnival, and many have already contributed handsomely towards the finances of the committee, according to reports presented today to the committee managing the Queen contest.

At a luncheon held at the Chamber of Commerce, attended by the Principals and their working committee, H. D. Twigg, J. Parfitt and other active workers reported many fine contributions, ranging from $1,000 by the city's brewing interests downwards to sums of $50 by individual concerns.

Disappointment was expressed by the committee as to the results which have as yet attended the appeal made to the various church organizations, but these were expected to add their strength to the Queen contest campaign before the close of the present week.

To avoid duplication of effort, arrangements were made for allocation of concerns and individuals to specific committees for interview, and plans were discussed whereby the hearty interest of the average citizen will be enlisted behind the campaign for sale of ballots.

Ruth and Meusel Help Yankees To Check Bad Slump

Four Veterans Banished From New York Lineup; Old Heroes Come Through

Hornsby's Team Wins Again; Dodgers Beat Giants; Washington Suffers Defeat

New York, June 3.—The New York Yankees have temporarily checked their worst slump in years by the comeback of two diamond heroes and the banishment of three others.

Lifted from the depths after five straight defeats by long clouts from the bats of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel, the Yanks yesterday shelled the champion Senators to defeat 8-3.

GIANTS LOSE ON FORCED RUN

The Brooklyn Dodgers took a 12-inning battle from the Giants, 4-5 when pitcher Art Nehf of the New York club forced over the winning run by issuing a pass to Hargrave.

The St. Louis Browns nosed Cleveland out of fourth place with a six-run rally in the eighth, but the 5-3 victory was costly.

Joe Genevich halted the slugger of the Phillies while his mates were helping themselves liberally to hits off the curves of three Quaker pitchers and the Braves topped a six-sided game 12-5.

Ninety Golfers Seeking U.S. Open Golf Championship at Worcester, Mass.

Either Hagen, Jones, Smith or Mehlforn Expected to Win Title This Year

Worcester, Mass., June 3.—More than ninety players from all parts of the country were on hand today for the start of the country's annual greatest thrill in golf—the two-day seventy-two-hole competition which determines the opening championship.

Popular belief is that the champion will be one of an outstanding quartette, who outshone the 440 ambitious competitors in the qualifying rounds just completed.

WALKER SHOTS WELL

The title is now held by Cyril Walker of Englewood, N.J., who showed that he has possibilities by doing a sixty-nine yesterday on the 6,000-yard course, the par of which is seventy.

Playing conditions were almost ideal as the first golfers got away today. The day was warm—almost oppressively so.

"Long" Jim Barnes was among the first of notables to tee off when he started with J. L. Booth of Putnam, Conn.

Of this number five qualified on the Pacific coast, twenty-nine won their right to compete in the Mid-Western play, decided not to compete yesterday as was a local St. Louis, Mo., professional.

PAR SHATTERED

Far was shattered several times yesterday—four times alone in the match in which the New York Metropolitan district team defeated a picked aggregation of amateurs outside by a score of 10 1-2 points to 4-1-2.

In this match Mike Brady of New York came within a stroke of the sixty-six by a sixty-eight shot by Walker, Hagen, Joe Purness, Ed Elmsford, N.Y., and Jack Hutchinson, going around in practice this morning Cyril Walker, despite his illness, shot a sixty-nine, par for the hole.

SECOND TRIAL ORDERED FOR ROSS C. WATSON

Jurors Disagreed on Charge He Shared in Big Nanaimo Bank Robbery

Judge Told Jury Chief Task Was to Decide Question of Identification

Nanaimo, June 3.—Ross C. Watson, ex-detective of Seattle, is to have a second trial on the charge of complicity in the $12,000 robbery of the Royal Bank branch in Nanaimo December 12 last. This is because the jurors who heard the evidence in the assize court here disagreed last night and were dismissed by Mr. Justice Morrison.

It is expected Watson's case will come up at the Fall assizes here in September next. In the meantime, unless bail is arranged, the prisoner will be confined in jail.

Such is the result of one of the most interesting cases heard in a Nanaimo assize court in many years.

The jurors retired to consider their verdict at 5.20 yesterday afternoon and reported disagreement at 7.55 p.m.

The judge's address to the jury lasted one hour, and each counsel addressed the jury for a little more than one hour.

RAIDS IN VANCOUVER

Vancouver, June 3.—Twenty-six Chinese and white men fell into the clutches of the police morality squad here last night and afternoon in three different raids on two gambling houses and one disorderly house.

JUDGE'S CHARGE

Mr. Justice Morrison, in summing up the evidence and charging the jury, presented the case of the prosecution in a very strong light. His presentation was strongly against the case of the defence, and came as a surprise to the crowded courtroom.

Commencing his charge, he stated he would not go over the facts, which had been exhaustively gone over by both counsel.

"But," he said, "you must bear with me, because it is an obligatory duty on my part.

"It is fundamentally requisite that the identity of the accused be established. You are to decide if this has been done."

He stated that in recent times a revolution had come about in the customs in the courtroom. At one time it had been the practice to make a butt or make fun of the poor policeman. Now it was rapidly becoming the custom of the defence to attack the Crown and its methods.

"There should be someone," he said, "to check them up. The Crown in this case has conducted it in a way which is not at all subject to criticism. I have never heard of a Crown prosecutor present a case more fairly than has Mr. Johnson today. I say this in fairness to Mr. Johnson, and say the presentation is a credit to him."

The judge then defined the necessity of establishing the credibility of witnesses. It was a matter for comment, he said, that the memory of Husband, the cashier of the bank, was such a blank, such a vacuity of what took place in the bank during the time of the robbery. Had he kept his wits he could have cleared up the situation in so far as the present case was concerned.

Speaking of Quennell, the judge said he was a witness who was not interested either way. He had received a bad scare, but he had remembered what he had seen. He had no interest in either the bank or the outcome of the trial except as a law-abiding citizen, and he said Watson was the man and identified him.

MRS. JARDINE'S EVIDENCE

Mrs. Jardine continued the judge was a woman who in the box seemed to have her wits about her. She was a woman of good mentality and was not "rattled" in the bank. Under those circumstances it was for the jury to say if they could not to a degree rely upon what she had said.

She had no ulterior motive. She must be taken on her merits, and if the jury believed she had held her head while she was in the bank it was not a case of her being mistaken in identification. It was a case of her telling what was not true.

Dealing a little further with Mrs. Jardine's evidence, the judge turned his attention to the witnesses for the defence, designating the majority of them as belonging to the classes of groups, the first consisting of old friends of the accused and the second of newer friends or acquaintances, the latter being some with whom he had become acquainted after having lost his position on the police force.

The jury must consider who these people were, and where they came from. The antecedents of all witnesses must be taken into account, their occupation and general bearing.

"CHECKED BACK"

The judge then took each Seattle witness in turn, after having practically expressed full confidence in the stories of the witnesses for the prosecution from Duncan and Victoria. The Seattle witnesses were in some cases, he said, acknowledged bootleggers. He used that name because it had been used throughout the trial. This was a case of establishing or judging credibility through occupation, although, His Lordship said, he did not want to suggest that a bootlegger could not tell the truth. One of the first witnesses in fixing the dates upon which he had been Watson used the words "checked back" and from then on it was a constant repetition of succeeding witnesses. They had all "checked back" and they had all reached the same conclusion as to dates.

MRS. BELL'S EVIDENCE

Mrs. Eric Bell, a milliner, was one of the last witnesses heard yesterday afternoon. She swore that on December 12 last, at 2.30 p.m., she had gone into the Nanaimo branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

"A man came," she said, "and spoke very nicely to me and asked me to go to the No. 2 teller's cage. I thought he was a detective. As I looked in the second wicket I noticed a man with a large roll-coilar on. He wore a cap, and was stooping over. As he looked up our eyes met and for a minute I got a great start, as I thought it was my brother Harry, there was such a great resemblance in the eyes. As soon as he stood up, however, I was relieved, as he was a short man and his eyes were on a level with mine. He was much smaller than Watson.

"I first saw Watson on Sunday last in Nanaimo. Watson was not in the bank on the day of the robbery." Witness then told of the men she had seen in the bank, accounting for seven altogether.

"Mrs. Jardine was at my right-hand side," she said. "Mrs. Jardine told a lady who had a child with her to sit down on the floor, as she was very excited. I was there by the wicket about twelve or fifteen minutes."

Cross-examined, the witness said: "Mrs. Jardine was there before I was. In Seattle I identified three men, Johnson and Bagley, also Castro."

IDENTIFIED PHOTO

At this point Mr. Johnson, prosecuting counsel, presented a group of photographs to the witness and she picked out the men she had identified in Seattle, and although Mr. Johnson evidently thought he had no photo of Burns, or Gambertoli, witness picked out one, and said it was the man at the wicket. The photo was that of Burns.

R. WILSON'S EVIDENCE

Robert Wilson was the next witness. He stated he was a merchant of Nanaimo and was in the bank when the robbery took place. He had gone in at five minutes to three, just as the robbers were leaving. He saw a man carrying a white sack speak to a big man. The man with the sack was short and stocky, about five feet four inches tall, and weighing about 140 pounds. Witness had never seen Watson.

At this point the judge asked Watson to stand up in the prisoner's box, and then asked witness if he was the man who was carrying the white sack. Witness asked that Watson step out on to the floor, where he could judge his height. Watson did so, standing sideways to the witness, as that was the position in which he said he had seen the robber.

Immediately witness said: "That is not the man. The other man was much shorter."

WATSON TALLER THAN BANDIT

The judge, who was evidently following this part of the evidence with great interest, called for a man sitting in the corner of the courtroom. It was Osborne, the mechanic from Seattle, who is a short stocky man, about five feet three inches. He was placed beside Watson and immediately witness said: "That man's figure is almost the same as that of the bandit. He is much more like him than Watson."

This ended evidence in the case, and Mr. Burns, defence counsel, addressed the jury.

PRISONERS FOILED IN ESCAPE EFFORT

Seattle, June 3.—Surprised in the act of sawing their way out of the specially constructed cell in the King County jail, Harry Stone and William Bagley, Nanaimo bank robbery suspects, were prevented yesterday morning from carrying out their asserted plans for delivery of themselves and associates.

The prisoners had completely sawed through three steel bars of one-half-inch thickness when Walter Allen Stark intercepted them. With Sheriff Matt Starwich, who was hastily called from the courthouse, the cell was searched, three backswags being found.

A heavy meshed screen which the prisoners previously had cut out was found to be held in place by cleverly concealed shoe laces.

Stone and Bagley, who are held awaiting the result of an appeal in extradition proceedings for trial in Nanaimo, were transferred to the "Black Hole."

LEGISLATIVE WORK

Four important reports were disposed of by the association at its second business session yesterday, and substantial progress was made in clearing up the various items on the program of the convention.

In reviewing the work of the legislative committee for the year, W. S. Morden, K.C., chairman, advanced the opinion that Canada's legislative bodies held too many sessions. He believed that with fewer sessions and more opportunity given to study legislation before its enactment, there would not be such a flood of bills pouring in each year.

Dealing with the Combines Investigation Act and the suggestion that Canada should legislate further along the lines of the anti-trust laws of the United States, he declared the experience there had been that, while many so-called combines had been dissolved, not much benefit to the consumers had resulted.

OLD BUILDING IN WINNIPEG REMOVED

Winnipeg, June 3.—Winnipeg's oldest building has been wiped out by the axe, hammer and by-law.

The famous old structure which till a few days ago stood on the east side of Fort Street, near Portage Avenue, was a survival of Winnipeg's first building boom more than sixty years ago. The boom was started by the free fur traders, the first of whom was the genial flounder of Hudson's Bay Company authority, Andrew McDermot. McDermot built a house and store on the banks of the Red River. There he was able to intercept the fur traders from the North and get the pick of their catch before they passed on to the "forks" and Fort Garry.

Fort Garry, standing half a mile or so away, was isolated from this busy little hamlet of trade on the site of the future heart of Winnipeg. So, somewhere about 1864 or 1865, the Hudson's Bay Company erected a branch store, near the present intersection of Portage Avenue and Main Street. That branch store with its barn front and quaint outside staircase, solidly built of logs and hand-somely clapboarded, was to remain a landmark of Winnipeg long after the last of the old free traders were in their graves.

The store stood cata-cornered on its handhewn "sleepers," until a housing-house-keeper bought it, hitched it to a logging chain and dragged it some fifty yards north-west. There it camped for the rest of its natural life, and saw Winnipeg grow to a thriving city. A brick wall shouldered it, but the pioneer held its place stoutly.

Here is its history in brief: Hudson's Bay Branch store, Dominion Government assistant receiver-general's office, private bank, provincial mounted police headquarters, printing office, Hudson's Bay standard, boarding house, carriage factory, blacksmith shop, billposter's mecca, derelict, eyecore, outcrop.

The landmark is to be replaced by a modern structure.
