

meta:Wikimedia Resource Center

Home

Contact and Questions

Ask a question
Emergency System
Connect to Wikimedians
Affiliations Committee

Skills Development

Evaluation tools and Resources
Programs reports and toolkits
Learning Patterns: Share lessons
Reporting and storytelling
Surveys and Programs Tools
IdeaLab and Inspire Campaigns
Community Capacity Development

Grants Support

Grants for individuals
Grants for organizations
Join a grant committee
Grants impact reports

Programs Support

Wikipedia Education Program
The Wikipedia Library
GLAM Initiatives

Product Development

Translate interface and documentation
Technical Collaboration Guidelines
Virtual and in-person events
Newsletters

Global Reach

Africa and the Middle East
Asia and Eastern Europe
Latin America and the Caribbean
Product and Research

Legal

Trademarks
Copyright
Governance
Transparency report
Public Policy

Communications

Storytelling and messaging
Press
Design and branding
Blog and Social Media
Audience research
Capacity building
Communications Resource Center
Communications Committee

Consultations Calendar

Wikimedia Community News

Welcome. We are here to help.

The Wikimedia Resource Center is intended as a single point of entry for all Wikimedia-related resources.

We want this to be a place where Wikimedians can exchange practices, and support one another in new and ongoing initiatives.

Who can submit resources to the Wikimedia Resource Center?

Anyone can! We started with a few resources that were frequently used across the movement, and we hope to expand with more resources developed by Wikimedia communities everywhere.

What resources would you like to add, and where?

What kind of resources will I find here?

From frequently asked questions, guides to plan and evaluate your program, grants, how to contribute with Tech and Product, information about copyright, and communications resources, and people that can coach you along the way.

All the support you need to do your work and expand the Wikimedia mission.

Explore the menu on the left to get a better idea!

The WRC is developed in Meta Wikimedia, where most of the cross-wiki work happens.

We want to be able to link to it from different language projects. If you would like to support this, please sign up below.